

Psychiatrist From Hereford Tells Of Vietnam's G. I. "Psychoses" Types

Major Franklin Del Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Jones of 218 Avenue A in Hereford, who is currently Assistant Psychiatric Consultant and stationed at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., has delivered a speech which has been evaluated in the Military Medical Bulletin.

Major Jones has also written an article for the same publication, which will appear in the Sunday issue of the Hereford Brand.

Both concern various psychological problems in connection with the war in Vietnam.

Jones, who graduated from Hereford High School in 1954 and received his medical training at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, his internship at Ireland Army Hospital at Fort Knox, Kentucky was assigned to the 25th Infantry Division which he accompanied to Vietnam. After approximately seven months with the division there, he was reassigned to the Third Field Hospital in Saigon — "to broaden his experience."

U. S. Medicine said: An Army psychiatrist has reported that psychological adjustments to a tour of duty in Vietnam begin long before arrival there.

But psychiatric patients are "especially apt" to be generated during the first few weeks after arrival of a new unit, according to Maj. Franklin D. Jones, MC, USA.

The speaker addressed the opening session at Walter Reed General Hospital for a two-day Medical Education for National Defense symposium arranged by Col. David M. Torney, MC, USA, MEND national coordinator, which attracted a record 240 medical students, plus faculty members, from 78 medical schools.

Other sessions were held at the Bethesda Naval Hospital and at Andrews Air Force Base, where the group witnessed the arrival of two C-141 Starliner aircraft with patients from Vietnam and European military hospitals.

Maj. Jones was assigned in late 1966 to the Third Field Hospital in Saigon, a center for incoming troops.

"About once a week," he said, "a supposedly psychotic patient would be brought in from nearby Tan Son Nhut Air Base."

"Whether he was agitated, fighting or panic stricken or mute and unresponsive, the story was generally the same. He had been normal until the airplane bringing him to Vietnam landed, but on the way to the truck or helicopter which was to take him to the 90th Replacement Center or his assignment station, he would suddenly faint or fall and thrash about or just sit down and not respond."

"This would produce a lot of excitement and his buddies would take him to a nearby dispensary or bring him directly to the 3rd Field emergency room," he said in a presentation at a meeting in Washington, D. C.

Maj. Jones is currently assistant psychiatric consultant to the Army surgeon general.

He reported a "peak incidence" during the first few weeks of problems with sleep-walking, bed-wetting, nightmares, anxiety and other symptoms aimed at environmental manipulation.

"A firm stand by the medical officer," Maj. Jones said, "perhaps coupled with the issuing of a rubber sheet or ordering of night duty, took care of these problems without further ado."

"I don't want to impugn the character of draft card burners," he added, "but even this behavior can be seen as a long-term avoidance maneuver."

Maj. Jones said the period immediately after arrival is "quite stressful to some soldiers."

"The fatigue of the long flight may be implicated but perhaps significant is the trans-Pacific time zone dislocation," he added. "The soldier who has flown through several time zones may find himself awake when other people are sleeping or vice-versa. It takes a while for his biological rhythms to adjust to a new time schedule."

Some elements of the American people can tolerate a society which does not depend on deodorants, but the average GI has no respect for a culture which commodes are a rarity.

Due to an inefficient garbage and sewage disposal system coupled with the heat and humidity, most populated areas are easily recognizable from a distance by the olfactory senses.

In addition, a soldier finds it very disquieting to see grown men walking down the street hand in hand, a common practice among Vietnamese.

Even the language has surprises. Based on a phonetic alphabet with Latin-like characters, the written language tempts the GI to pronounce names of towns shops or people. Since this is a tonal language, he is usually greeted by a blank stare or laughter.

Seeing long lines of emaciated but enterprising children lining the convey routes and begging for candy, chewing gum or cigarettes is hardly inspiring.

Jerry has called the initial period of three weeks to three months, which I have called the arrival period, that of apprehensive enthusiasm. The apprehensive relates to fear of death, separation to family and outside surroundings and expectation of a year of discomfort and deprivation. The enthusiasm is a reaction formation against these feelings.

Franklin Del Jones—When he was with Ireland Army Hospital at Fort Knox, Kentucky, 1961-62.

This immersion of an individual into a culture distinctly strange and foreign to his own has been termed "culture shock" by anthropologists. Certainly it is a real stress for most GIs.

Capt. Jerome J. Dowling, MC, USA, who like me, was both a division and later a hospital psychiatrist in Vietnam, has used a chronological classification of the stresses of life in Vietnam.

Since the usual tour lasts a year, I feel there is some validity to this breakdown and certainly the soldiers accept the idea implicitly in their relations with each other. New acquaintances quickly find out from each other how they stand timewise with regard to the twelve-month tour.

"Newcomers" are so named and people nearing the end of the tour are called "short timers." Everything occurs in the context of timeawareness.

Jerry has called the initial period of three weeks to three months, which I have called the arrival period, that of apprehensive enthusiasm. The apprehensive relates to fear of death, separation to family and outside surroundings and expectation of a year of discomfort and deprivation. The enthusiasm is a reaction formation against these feelings.

In my division there were optimistic comments related to "getting this little war over with." Somehow they were reminiscent of the first few months of the Korean Conflict after the Inchon landing.

The middle period, which lasts until about the last month of the tour, has been called that of resignation and has been described as a chronically depressed state.

I would tend to call this period the one of maximum productivity. Somehow the soldier has managed to become acclimated to the heat and dust, often with the help of PX-purchased fans and a locally purchased ice chest full of ice, soft

Screening Is Set Here Next Week

Total appointments made thus far in the children retardation screening program set for Monday and Tuesday are listed at 22 according to assistant superintendent of schools Robert Holman.

These examinations are free and must be made in advance of a Satellite Day Care Program in Hereford through the Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

Appointments will still be taken. Parents are urged to call Holman's office at 364-0607. Latino and Afro-American parents may also contact Jose Vasquez Jr. concerning appointments at 364-2503 (Casa de Amigos).

It is noted that all local individuals and agencies who are involved in the formation of the proposed satellite class are in no way connected with the state agency. However, they believe that it is important for the future welfare of the children and have generously donated their time to its service.

Friday Supper At Dawn Club

The Dawn Home Demonstration Club is sponsoring an ice cream supper Friday night at 8:30 in the Dawn Community House. They have invited all people to attend.

Austin Rose will give a program on water development and Mrs. Argen Draper will speak.

10 Are Indicted By Grand Jury; Members Chosen

Ten persons were indicted Monday by a Deaf Smith County Grand Jury. Their cases will be heard Sept. 9 in the District Court or sooner if the plea is changed to guilty.

Other action included the selection of new Grand Jury members who will serve on the panel for the next six months. The Grand Jury determines whether there is enough evidence in each criminal case to warrant bringing it to trial.

Indicted were Angelino Gonzales, burglary; Tito Arthur Cordova, burglary; Eugenio M. Garcia, burglary; Jose Angel Luna Perez, driving while intoxicated, second offense; William Waldo Hampton, DWI, second offense; Eloy Soliz, Robert Rodriguez and Frank Perales, theft over $50; Ignacio Padilla, burglary, three counts; and Ronnie Lynn Short, burglary.

Four persons not arrested as yet were also indicted. One other was not billed by the Grand Jury and two passed.

In District Court action, Danny Allen, indicted by the Grand Jury previously, received four years probation after pleading guilty to burglary. Short, Cardova and Gonzales each received four years probation after pleading guilty to the charges against them.

Grand Jury members selected Monday are Mrs. Roy Botkin, 100 Elm; Mrs. Louis Woodford, 216 Star; William Dowell, 132 Greenwood; Lynton Allred, 204 Douglas; Mrs. B. M. Wiltshire, 510 Star; Dale Young, 509 E. Fifth; Carl Straffuss, Dawn; Mrs. Millard Nobles, 111 Sunset; Gerald McCathern, Rt. 5; Dub Curtstinger, 501 W. Third; Bob Viergel, Dawn; and B. E. Cooper, 121 Centre. Foreman is Dowell.

They point out that it is now up to the parents.

The screenings are for children less than 6 years of age who are slow in development, children who have a history of head injuries or diseases affecting the central nervous system, preschool aged children from families who have members known to be mentally retarded, children with a history of poor achievement in school, children who show behavior disturbances.

Individuals past school age who are unable to adjust to community life, cannot hold a job because of limited ability, do not or cannot enter into social life, and individuals past school age with numerous involvements with the law enforcement agencies.

The purpose of this service is the early detection of learning disabilities and mental retardation. The earlier these disabilities are discovered, the State Center believes the more likely they are to be helped.

The former shame of mental retardation is gone. This is the day when it has been replaced by proper aid. It points the way toward their progress in the future. Nothing is more important.

Building Permits Up Considerably

Building permits for 1968 maintained a healthy lead over 1967 at the close of the first seven months. July permits issued at City Hall totaled $307,650, bringing the total for the year to $2,173,875 compared to $1,897,980 for the first seven months of 1967.

Of the $307,650 issued during July 1968, seven new residences accounted for more than half the total. Repairs, conversions, the addition to one commercial building and the addition to Kings Manor ($86,000) accounted for the remainder. A total of 14 permits were issued.

Although the total for 1968 is considerably under the record set in 1965, residential building is expected to boost the total following the beginning of construction of the Wilson & Co. facility anticipated for early September. Residential construction, following the installation of the Holly Sugar mill, accounted for a large portion of the total in 1965.

Esau Villegas In Vietnam

DI AN, VIETNAM — Army Specialist Five Esau Villegas, 22, son of Mrs. Gudeila Villegas, 245 Catalpa St., Hereford, Tex., was assigned July 12 as a teletype repairman in the 1st Signal Brigade near Di An, Vietnam.

High Market Rating For County Area

(Special to the Brand) NEW YORK, July 27 — A national study of business activity, just released, shows that Deaf Smith County stands out as a solid, vigorous market, with a level of income and spending above that found in most communities.

Significant gains were made in its trading area in the past year as local families, with more money at their command, indulged in large-scale buying. The facts and figures are contained in Sales Management's new "Survey of Buying Power." The copyrighted study gives comparable income and sales data for every section of the county.

Because consumer buying was at so high a rate, most retail stores in Deaf Smith County topped their records of the previous year. The sales total for the year amounted to more than $37,935,000 an increase over the 1966 figure of $33,811,000.

Solely from the standpoint of population, this was more than should have been expected. Reckoned on that basis, local retail business should have amounted to only 0099 percent of the national, since that is the proportion of the country's population in the local area.

Actually, however, it went beyond that, accounting for 0122 percent of the national total.

Although consumer spending was high, it was more selective than usual. There was greater emphasis on soft goods and services and less on hard goods.

The lack of a solution in Vietnam, the inflationary trends at home and the prospect of higher taxes all had an influence on how much people spent and what they spent it for.

From the standpoint of income, 1967 was a good year for most families.

Deaf Smith County residents had net earnings, after payment of taxes, of $40,880,000 a gain over the previous year's $36,085,000.

It amounted to $7,300 per household, an arithmetical average obtained by dividing the overall income by the number of households.

Just how one community compares with another with respect to purchasing power and business vitality is revealed in the survey through an "index of sales activity."

Deaf Smith County's index is given as 123, placing it 23 percent above the national average.

Hunger Survey Needs Heard By TAP Group

By VICKIE INMAN Staff Writer

Hunger in Deaf Smith County is getting a thorough examination by members of the Technical Action Panel who undertook the study at their June meeting to see if the county needed a food program.

In a meeting Monday at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, members heard Craig Simpson, VISTA volunteer, explain a survey he and others had conducted to measure hunger needs. Tentative plans are being made by the panel to question other people on the issue, possibly Father John Broderick at St. Joseph's Mission and Mrs. Jewel Smith at the welfare office.

The 16-family survey conducted primarily by Simpson indicated a badly balanced diet, rather than hunger. Simpson said three of the 16 families could be termed as starving in wintertime, he said the number would be higher. None of the families surveyed are on welfare, Simpson said. He said eight have tried presently or during the winter to get on welfare, but did not succeed. The exact reasons for the families mentioned not getting on welfare were not known by Simpson.

Simpson said the 16 Latin American and Negro families in the survey totalling 130 people, were not confined to any particular part of Hereford. Two live on South Schley, four are from the Labor Camp and two came from Buena Vista. One family each lives on Progressive Road, near a feed yard, on Raymond Street and on a rural farm inside the county.

Average Hereford residency is 4 1/2 years, ranging from one month to 19 years. Each has an average of six in the family and over five per family are under 18-years-old. Ninety-nine out of the 130 are under 18.

Ten husbands are heads of the family. Two of those 10 are now in jail. In two families, the daughter or son is the head of the household and in the other four families, the mother is the head.

Fourteen heads of the family are employed and in 10 families others work to supplement the income. Of the two not employed, one is in jail and the other is disabled. The average income per year of the families surveyed is $1,664, ranging from $4,000 per year to $960 per year. Simpson said the incomes were estimated.

One question on the survey asked if the family interviewed had enough to eat. "Every single one that replied felt at one time they did not have enough to eat," Simpson said.

Four felt they did not have enough to eat only a few times a year. Four other families said the time period was at least once a month, and five said once a week. One family said they did not have enough to eat every day and one gave no response.

The survey indicated two borrowed from neighbors when they were hungry. Five heads of family said they do without and give to their children when food becomes scarce. Seven go to other sources of food, such as Casa de Amigos, St. Joseph's Mission or other organizations. One family said they would rather starve than borrow.

The frequency that each family eats meat, fresh vegetables, milk, cheese, eggs and fruit was measured in the survey. During the summer, each family eats meat sometime every week. Five have milk once a week and five others do not have milk at all during the week. The milk consumed is not fresh, but powdered, Simpson said.

Six families do not eat cheese.

Easter Lions To Sponsor Supper

Leroy Botkin, member of the Easter Lions Club, has announced that the Easter club will host a Pancake Supper Saturday, August 3 at 7 p. m. in the Easter Community Center.

Botkin urged everyone to attend and said that tickets may be purchased either at the door or from any Easter Lions Club member. Price of the tickets is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Married in this city, she continued to live here for a time. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson moved to Amarillo about two years ago from Pennsylvania. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors in addition to her husband and her mother are two daughters, Mrs. Lillburn Hamilton of Amarillo and Mrs. Elvin Wilson of Friona; three sisters, Mrs. Louis Olson, of Hereford; Mrs. Golda Baker of Dallas and Mrs. Virgil Joiner of Lubbock; a brother, Homer Brumley of Hereford, and six grandchildren.

Santa Fe Holds Celebration Here

Santa Fe Railroad has celebrated their 100th anniversary this year and the 70th anniversary for Hereford.

The first railroad to come through Hereford was Santa Fe in 1898.

To celebrate Santa Fe's 100th anniversary, Edwin M. Wheeler, assistant to the president of Santa Fe Railroad, presented the Deaf Smith County Museum with a gold medal coin.

Wheeler, and public relations man George T. Grader, toured the museum several months ago while visiting in Hereford.

and five eat it once a week. Six said they do not have fresh vegetables, even during the summer. Three eat fresh vegetables once a week, and three, daily. Fruit is served once a week in six families, none in five families and daily in one family.

Of all the foods, eggs are eaten with the greatest frequency. See HUNGER, Page 2

Funeral Held For Longtime Local Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. George Robertson, 50, former Hereford resident and member of an oldtime family here, were conducted Monday afternoon in an Amarillo funeral chapel and burial was in Memorial Gardens Cemetery. The Rev. D. M. Newton, pastor of South Georgia Baptist Church in Amarillo, conducted the service.

Mrs. Robertson died early Saturday at her home in Rockwell Acres, south of Amarillo on the Canyon Highway.

She was the former Grace Brumley, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Brumley of Hereford and the late Mr. Brumley. Born in New Mexico while the family was living near San Jon, she came with her parents to Deaf Smith County in 1909 as a baby, grew up and attended school in Hereford.

Married in this city, she continued to live here for a time. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson moved to Amarillo about two years ago from Pennsylvania. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors in addition to her husband and her mother are two daughters, Mrs. Lillburn Hamilton of Amarillo and Mrs. Elvin Wilson of Friona; three sisters, Mrs. Louis Olson, of Hereford; Mrs. Golda Baker of Dallas and Mrs. Virgil Joiner of Lubbock; a brother, Homer Brumley of Hereford, and six grandchildren.

The artillery barrages at night no longer awaken him. His mail is coming in regularly and he watches a movie nightly. He has established a work routine which conforms to his superior's requirements and also doesn't tax him unduly. He takes his turn guarding the perimeter with some serenity, firing no more rounds at shadows and water buffalos than anyone else. His enemy now is boredom.

During this period the physician in the base camp finds himself alternately quite busy for a day treating battle casualties or he finds himself with nothing to do after taking morning sick call. This may last for several days at a time. He quickly adjusts to this routine of furious activity by sharpening his skills in treating trauma to a fine precision.

The intervals between produce problems. Only so much time can be spent on constructive activities such as preventive medicine programs.

Billets begin to take on distinctive features such as the center fold of Playboy Magazine showing Miss January or September with full view of her natural attractions. Weekly or monthly poker games become nightly. Mustaches begin to blossom and to be cultivated with meticulous care.

Perhaps as a reaction to this, many GIs shave their scalps. Battalion NCO and officers' clubs flourish and problems with alcoholism arise. The heat and lack of potable ice contribute to this since canned beverages including beer may be cooled with non-potable ice.

The dispensary physician begins seeing what might be called diseases of loneliness. Loss of appetite and weight loss is almost universal. So-called psychosomatic illnesses make their appearance, usually with vague abdominal complaints which are usually passed off as being due to sensitivity to chloroquine-primquine since this does happen to be a common producer of such symptoms.

Strangely enough, however, these symptoms respond not to withdrawal of the pill but to a sympathetic listener or to tranquilizers.

The alcoholism, seemingly a disease of dependency deprivation, has already been mentioned.

Even the general diseases may be thought of as diseases of loneliness when one considers how they are contracted. Such diseases of this sort are not peculiar to Vietnam. In World War II physicians describing maladaptation to loneliness and deprivation used to speak of the "Greenland Stare" or of soldiers and sailors having "combat ship exhaustion."

The final month, termed the period of anxious apprehension by Dr. Dowling, is marked by increasing anxiety.

I attribute this in part to lessening of group identification and withdrawal of investment in friends. The loss of group identification brings about a recognition by the individual of his own vulnerability, for only a group is potentially immortal. Sometimes there is even a hostile reaction to the impending separation and tempers flare between friends.

One group of symptoms and behavior recognized since Korea as the "Short Timer syndrome" is found in some form in almost everyone. It is most marked, however, in the combat infantryman. The "Short Timer's syndrome" consists of mild anxiety and some phobic feelings in the terminal weeks of a fixed tour. I usually saw it when seasoned and battle-proven soldiers would show a disinclination to go out on field maneuver for no apparent reason.

When questioned, he would complain of a conviction that "if I go out there again, I'll get it for sure."

This syndrome was given a kind of recognition by the practice of some commanders of keeping men out of combat or off ambush patrol during the last 30 days of their tour. Since this was not a uniform policy, it produced morale problems.

Anyway, this terminal rest policy usually only caused "Short Timer's syndrome" to appear a month sooner.

Combat for the average GI is a fleeting and frustrating experience. It, nevertheless, must always be in the back of the soldier's mind.

Although I know of some units which stayed out in the field for six months continuously, the usual field mission lasts only a day or a few days, followed by a variable amount of time in the base camp.

Since combat, until recently in the Demilitarized Zone, mostly consists of brief skirmishes followed by rests in a haven, anxiety does not have a chance to build up. This undoubtedly is a main factor in the phenomenally low number of combat fatigue cases.

The tendency of some soldiers on the eve of combat who report to medical officers with hypochondriacal symptoms has been called the "pre-combat syndrome." Such persons report with minor complaints which they usually believe to be real and significant, such as headaches, toothaches, indigestion, and worry over healed or nearly healed wounds. Helmet headaches are also in this spectrum of reactions. On a more conscious level, some individuals report with broken spectacles self-inflicted wounds.

The treatment for combat fatigue or the combat reaction syndrome has been effective in every war in which these principles of treatment have been applied. Briefly, immediacy, recuperation and expectancy are the main elements.

By immediacy is meant treatment in the forward area, preferably by the battalion surgeon. Supposedly humane, but improper evacuation of transient situational reactions out of the combat area has resulted in chronic, disabling neuroses in past wars.

The term recuperation is intended to encompass the practice of allowing the soldier to rest after being fed a hot meal and possibly given a shower.

The third element of treatment, expectancy is probably the most important. This term is meant to express the sympathetic, reassuring attitude of the medical personnel

VACATION HINTS

July and August are perhaps the most popular months for vacationers. There is always some details attend to. The paper stopped, contact the milk man, have milk stopped, check all electric appliances, water the lawn THOROUGHLY, also the shrubs and flowers should have a SLOW application of water. Locks checked, car checked and redone for trip. Arrange for a light to burn while away, leave key with neighbors so that if an emergency arises they can be attended to. Also give potted plants extra care, so that they won't want for attention while gone, and brief children, and others who are planning to go on trip.

Children learn very quickly. Really the learning process starts from birth, beginning with a sense of love, and being wanted, their security, hunger, discomforts, and many other factors that become a part of their lives; therefore teach them of some of the hazards of things they may come in contact with. Some of the things they should be taught about are water safety measures, what to do in case of an accident, and to beware of certain plants, etc. which are poison.

Usually they will find verdant greenery, and so often it causes trouble. Safety experts are doing their best to publicize the dangers of the summertime flora. Poisons lurk among flowers and foliage, where the vegetation is rank, and also many other contacts are made with plants which are poison. Many of the plants are common in flower and vegetable gardens, in ornamental landscaping, as well as along the roadside or wooded areas. For example the poison ivy which climbs and grows so abundantly in the forest, is an enemy to those who touch or gather coupled with letting the soldier know definitely that it is expected that he will soon return to his same duty. Soon means within hours or at most a couple of days.

I don't know what overall impression I have given you about individual responses to being in Vietnam. I suspect that, being a doctor and a psychiatrist, I have overemphasized pathology rather than normality. I feel I should balance that impression with some impressive evidence of excellent adaptation on the part of almost all soldiers in Vietnam.

The neuropsychiatric casualty rate of less than 12 per 1,000 troops in Vietnam is less than a third of the rate in Korea and less than an eighth of the rate of some combat units in World War II. The stockade population rate of one per 1,000 troops is lower than in any major prior war.

I read recently that there have been a hundred thousand prisoners for Vietnam.

This evidence may not be conclusive but the least that one can say is that the average soldier adapts amazingly well to duty in Vietnam.

In the Sunday Brand, Maj. Jones' article concerning his experiences fresh out of Walter Reed Hospital as a psychiatrist will be published.

Children and adults alike should never touch or pick any of the lovely leaves, unless they know exactly what they are gathering. To have poison ivy on vacation would be most unpleasant for all concerned. It is such a temptation to pick the pretty leaves, especially if they are starting to change color.

The oleander shrub (trees in some locations) contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to digitalis. The toxin is so strong that a single leaf can kill a child. People also have been known to die from using sticks taken from the oleander bush for toasting marshmallows, or broiling steaks. The blossoms are lovely and come in many beautiful colors, they too must be picked and used with CAUTION. Many of these are found in the coastal area. They grow profusely around Corpus Christi.

The following are some of the plants that we should be very cautious about. Peach tree leaves contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known. I remember when I was a child my mother cautioned me about the peach leaves, and she also used them to bleach with. She would gather them, crush them a bit and place them in small cheesecloth sacks, this she would add to the boiler where she was to wash the sheets and other white linens. They were also used by many mothers with babies, as they were excellent when it came to bleaching the diapers. Yet they are poison, and our children should know this.

Here where we grow potatoes, everyone should know that the plant foliage contains alkaloid, which can cause severe digestive upset and create a nervous disorder if eaten. The foliage from the tomato plants contain the same poison, so do not ever eat a tomato leaf, or even put it about the mouth or eyes.

Castor bean seeds are deadly. They are grown in some areas commercially, and are used in landscaping for color and texture contrast. This spring or at planting time I had some spots that I wanted color and height so I purchased a package of mixed seed (castor bean seed) and planted them in the cutting garden. They are producing lush plants, and the colors are creating a nice contrast. They are also used in arranging, and in many instances the leaves are skeletonized so that they may be more effective. The foliage is not poison but the SEEDS are. Each seed contains enough ricin, a powerful blood poison, to kill a child.

Another plant which is grown for its beautiful foliage and also for food, that is very poisonous is rhubarb. In this instance it is the foliage that is poison. The stalk is the edible portion of the plant, and it is used in many ways. Especially in pies, cobblers, sauce, and punch. The color and taste is excellent. Warn children and others to not eat or use the leaves.

Mescal ben, or mountain laurel, is also dangerous. This is not grown here, but if vacationing in areas where it is grown (which is usually mountainous country) one should be warned about it. It blooms and produces beans, and it is the bean which is poison, it is very hard coated, however if it is chewed or crushed it can have very ill effects.

Some of the Philodendrons which we grow for house plants are very poisonous. Some of these are Philodendron ilsumanni, (it is a bi-colored leafed plant). Easily grown and nice to look at, but children and adults alike should be warned about it being poisonous. Another is the Split leaf philodendron. It too has the element of poison in the foliage. The elephant ear (Barringtonia) is also poison, this element is contained in the foliage. All of these are used extensively for potted plants, and in tropical areas, are used in the landscape design, they are especially adaptable to planters.

A flowering plant which had

Nine have eggs daily, five once a week, one none at all and one more than once a day.

The frequency rate of the foods listed on the survey falls sharply during the winter months when work is more scarce. Simpson interviewed 10 of the 16 families and he said he got the impression that the families had hardly any food at all during the winter.

Three have meat once a month and three have it once a week. Cheese is served once a month in one family, once a week in another family and none at all in still another family. Two said they have fresh vegetables once a month during the winter and one said once a week. One family has milk once a month, another once a week and one none at all.

Simpson said fruit was almost totally eliminated from the diet during the winter. One family said they had fruit twice a week. The exception was one family that had fruit twice a week. One family said they had fruit only at Christmas, Simpson said.

Simpson said Casa de Amigos has fed four families once this summer. This consisted of one box of groceries per family. Twelve families were fed during the winter by Casa de Amigos, he said. Food is donated to the organization, which in turn distributes it.

The panel bases authority for its investigation on a form letter from Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in response to a CBS program, "Hunger in the United States." Secretary Freeman called the television program erroneous and stressed the need to determine the effectiveness of present food programs.

During the meeting, members emphasized their group was investigative and had no authority or power to institute programs. Results of their investigation can be used by other groups for that purpose, James Gouldy, 111 Ranger, chairman, said.

The panel had two main questions after hearing the results of the survey: how hard is it to obtain welfare and who is responsible for visiting and determining families in extreme distress?

The general consensus was that families needing food but not receiving it possibly did not know where to go for help. Gouldy said the survey could indicate a breakdown in communications rather than need for another food program.

All members expressed their desire to help those people in need obtain food, with particular regard to children. Further investigation is needed, they said, to determine the best way of reaching that goal.

By MELVIN YOUNG
Building permits issued during July, totaling $307,000 and a total for the year of over $2,173,000 point up the fact that Hereford is still on the move. Residential construction accounted for more than half the July total, with the addition to one commercial building and the addition of Kings Manor accounting for about $100,000 of the total.

Building permits account for construction within the city limits only however, and many new homes have been built outside the corporate limits of the City of Hereford in the past few months. If these were added in, we're sure the total would be much higher.

Residential construction is always a good gauge for measuring a city's growth, and in this respect, Hereford has almost always led the field of the cities in the Golden Spread area. We assume, with continued progressive thinking and leadership, we will always be in the lead.

But with growth always comes problems. New schools must be provided, new parks are needed, additional medical facilities, and a host of other services need to expand along with the population. Most of these facilities are adequate with the possible exception of parks. Park planners recommend between 1.5 to 2 acres of developed lands for every 100 people in an urban area, and we doubt seriously that Hereford comes close to this figure. Also some of the park area that we now have is still in the development stage. North Park, between Avenue I and H at 15th street is one of the parks that will be excellent when the city gets the grass to growing. This is the location of the Hereford Campfire building as well as the Little League ball park and should get a lot of use when it is fully developed.

Another possible park area is the 72 acre plot located west of the city along Tierra Blanca Creek. The city has been doing a considerable amount of clean up work here and this area could be developed into a rather nice park. Park Development however is expensive and a conservative city commission might look twice before jumping into an extensive park development program. Certainly, we appreciate their concern for the taxpayers' dollar, but still, parks do play an important role in a city's development and should be considered as an asset rather than a liability.

A tightwad, we understand, is a man who refuses to spend his money as other people want him to spend it.

Things have been pretty quiet lately but with the political conventions starting soon, action should step up considerably, we feel that most of it will just be hot air. For all practical purposes the candidate for each major political party has been chosen. Richard Nixon has the edge for the Republican and Hubert Humphrey will likely get the Demo nod. Both probably have enough delegate strength in their pockets right now to get the nominations. Who the vice presidential candidates will be is another story, but regardless of what they may say, there are probably a dozen in each party that would jump at the chance if offered.

What the outcome will be in November is something again. George Wallace, the American Party candidate, will figure heavily in the race and it is entirely possible that the final outcome will be decided in the House of Representatives. If this should happen, then we'll probably have a Democrat in the White House for another four years.

Some people are looking for an upset at the convention such as happened in 1952 when General Eisenhower took the nomination from Robert Taft. Taft thought he had the convention sewed-up at that time but apparently did not. This could happen this year, but in looking over the list of possible candidates, we fail to find one with the personal popularity of Ike. Consequently, we doubt that an upset will occur.

Pack 51 Has Swim Party

Boy Scout Pack 51 had a swimming party Tuesday in the City Pool from 7 to 9 p.m. The party was followed by a pack meeting and watermelon feast in Dameron Park.

The meeting was introduced by the Webelos. The flag was presented by flag-bearers, Wesley Wilson and John Mays. Everyone present recited the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mark Etheridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Etheridge, 115 Fir, was welcomed into the pack. He received the Bobcat Award, and since he is 10 years old, he automatically went into the Webelos.

Douglas Walterscheid and John Mays also have advanced into this Den.

H. D. Club 'Daughter' Is Honoree

The sixth birthday of Sandra Woody, small resident of Girlstown USA who is sponsored by North Hereford Home Demonstration Club, was the occasion for a party given by the club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Viola Williams.

Sandra and her seven-year-old sister, Donna, are guests in Mrs. Williams' home for a few days, as is Lisa Moore, a teenage Girlstown resident who assisted the hostesses at the party.

The honoree happily opened a collection of gaily-wrapped birthday gifts from club members. A merry-go-round cake set between rows of sunbonnet girl figurines holding pink candles, was the centerpiece on the refreshment table.

Several children of club members and neighbors were guests. Those present from the sponsoring club were Mmes. Paul Hoff, W. J. Lueb, C. L. Whitehead, Roger Williams, O. L. Williams, A. E. Hodges and Clinton Ward.

Rebels Are Knocked Out Of Lubbock Tournament

One quick five inning game and another which lasted 11 innings were all it took for the Hereford Rebels to fall from the tough-competition ranks of the Texas National Baseball Congress Tournament which was held in Lubbock over the past week-and-a-half.

In their opening game of the tournament, which was played Sunday night, the Rebs met the Longview Bulls and had the rug pulled from under them when the Bulls slapped them in five frames, 13-0.

Dickie Towers, who threw the perfect game last year in league play, hurled for the Bulls and shut the Rebels down on two hits. These were both singles and were collected by Berry Johnson and Terry Hill. The Bulls jumped on the local nine for six hits while scoring their 13 runs via numerous Rebel errors.

Leading off with a triple in the top of the first, the Longview player scored before the side could be retired and he then again scored in the third for the Bulls lead of two runs. All of a sudden, an outfield error triggered a series of miscues in the Rebel lineup which brought five more runs across the plate before the third frame was completed.

The Longview pitcher faced 18 batters in the five-inning game as he walked only one while striking out eight, and walking only one batter.

At their final at-bat, the Bulls tagged Rebel starter Ed Mims for a base-in-balls, an error, two singles and another base-on-balls as they added five more runs to their score. Mike Ranspot came in in the bottom of the fourth to see hurling duties for the locals, and halted the rally after the Bulls had scored two more runs for their final 13.

In the second game of the tournament for the Rebels, they met their old league rivals, the Amarillo Graham Plows and fell for the third time this season against them to the tune of 7-6.

Hereford jumped out front with the first score of the contest when in the second inning a balk scored a runner who had walked and advanced to third on a double. Amarillo then went ahead in the fourth when two runners scored on a triple after reaching base on an error and a single.

The Rebels tied the game up at 2-2 in the fifth when Terry Hill scooted around the circuit on a single by Kenny Hagar. The Rebels then re-took the lead in the eighth when they scored three runs as Gary Tucker, Robby Lemons and Ray Martinez accounted for these.

After the Graham Plows tied the game up at 6-6 at the end of nine frames, the game went for two more innings before the winner was decided as in the 11th the Plowboys managed the winning tally.

Frosty Peters, as a freshman at Montana State, kicked seven-teen field goals in one game against Billings Polytechnic.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Throughout the country the IRS District Directors for the various states or areas hand out a lot of good tax advice. Some of the best advice is — "Keep good records and save tax dollars."

Every year thousands of Texans resolve to stop costing themselves money and to keep good records at the beginning of the year or as soon as they start to worry about their income tax during the year. It is not too late to make a July resolution to go on top of the New Year's resolution and to at least do a good job of record keeping for the rest of the year. You may have missed some tax savings already, but maybe you can also make some tax savings during the rest of the year.

Kitty Stompers, Blue-Belles Win In Women's Softball League Play

To start the Women's Softball League action off this week, the Blue-Belles avenged an earlier loss by beating the Kitty Stompers 19-7 on Monday night, while on Tuesday the Kitty Stompers got their own revenge by blasting the Jolly Green Giants to the tune of 32-17.

In the Blue-Belles-Stompers game, Loretta Ellerd was the losing pitcher and Ruth Dobbs was on the mound for the winners.

The Blue-Belles jumped out to an early lead in the first inning as they racked up five scores to one for the Kitty Stompers. The Blue-Belles then picked up seven more runs in the next two innings for a 12-2 lead. Mary Shelton was the big gun for the Blue-Belles as she hit a homer.

In the final four innings, the Stompers picked up five more runs with Alease Bryant getting a homerun in the bottom of the seventh. The Blue-Belles picked up seven runs in the final four for their 19-7 victory.

Tuesday night the Kitty Stompers met the Jolly Green Giants for the second time this season and blasted them 32-17 for a bit of revenge of their own.

The game was close in every frame except the sixth, when the Stompers tallied 18 runs as the Giants committed error after error to allow the scores. After one inning of play, the Stompers had a 3-1 lead but the Giants then tied the score up at 7-7 after two frames.

The Stompers surged ahead 10-7 in the third only to have the Jollies fight back for a 10-10 deadlock in the fourth. At the end of five innings of play, the score was knotted at 14-14.

The sixth frame saw the Giants take a slim 16-14 lead in their turn at bat but hope was washed away in the bottom of that frame when the Stompers sent 18 runs across the plate to sew the win up.

Loretta Ellerd pitched for the Kitty Stompers while Joy Morton and Linda Pagett saw mound action for the Giants.

Award of the United States Civil Service for her work in the Public Information Office of the Chief, Army Reserves.

Former Resident Receives Award

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Mrs. William A. Dyess, the former Glenda Allison of Hereford, received the Outstanding Performance Award of the United States Civil Service in a ceremony conducted recently at the Pentagon. Formal presentation was made by Major General William J. Sutton, Chief of the U. S. Army Reserve.

Mrs. Dyess was cited for her work during the past year as a member of the Public Information Office of the Chief, Army Reserve. The citation read in part:

"Mrs. Dyess, without exception, performed a broad variety of tasks with a degree of professional competence, diligence, thoroughness and dispatch far in excess of that normally and reasonably to be expected. Her truly outstanding performance contributed immeasurably to the successful operation and accomplishment of the Information mission of the Chief, Army Reserve."

Mrs. Dyess is the daughter of Mrs. Daisy Allison, 107 Beech Street, Hereford. She attended Hereford High School where she graduated in 1960. She later attended West Texas State University and Baylor University.

Mrs. Dyess' husband, Captain William A. Dyess, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Dyess, Stratford, Tex. Captain Dyess received his law degree from Baylor University in 1964. He has served during the past two years in the Office of the Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army.

Captain and Mrs. Dyess will leave during the latter part of August for New Mexico where Captain Dyess has been re-designated as Deputy Staff Judge Advocate General at the Army's White Sands Missile Range.

Mrs. Henderson Finishes Course

Mrs. Jean B. Henderson, 420 Avenue I, Hereford, Texas has graduated from the International Accountants Society, Inc. of Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Henderson completed the Diploma Course in Advanced Accounting offered by IAS, the largest and oldest home study school in America teaching accounting and allied management subjects exclusively. Graduation requires passing a comprehensive final examination given in the student's home city under the supervision of a local Certified Public Accountant.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Traveler Finds Recipes

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

While she was on a recent visit to Arizona, a "trip into the past" taking her to places where she had lived and taught on Indian reservations a number of years ago, Corinne Jowell Neely pursued her hobby of collecting recipes from friends.

KNOWN TO MORE area residents for civic activities which won her the 1967 Citizen Of The Year award from Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Neely also likes to entertain relatives and friends at her home, 315 Ave. B, in groups small enough for good talk to go with the good food.

She recently had the house remodeled to expand the living room into former garage space, so it is large enough for her easel and painting materials when she works at another favorite hobby, perhaps with another painter for company.

Several of her own paintings hang on the walls. At present she is using her "summer paintings," scenes with cool blue and green shades predominating. In winter she exchanges these for some with tones of red and yellow for a warmer feeling.

SERVING for a number of years as executive secretary of Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter, Mrs. Neely still does volunteer work for that organization and is at present conducting weekly classes for orientation of new volunteers.

She is a member of a pioneer Hereford family, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff Jowell and granddaughter of the G. R. Jowells who came to this county in a covered wagon in 1887.

Of her Arizona recipe collecting, Mrs. Neely tells her own story:

"AT THE HOME of Helen Hill, a fellow teacher on the Navajo reservation in the late 1920's and now living at Show Low, Ariz., I found that her husband does most of the cooking except breakfast which she does.

"Her breakfasts are full and hearty meals, such as we ate in our childhood. This meal then will suffice, with perhaps a small snack at noon, until the evening meal, dinner.

"Her husband, Howard, claims that her wedding gift to him was a cook book. And since he comes from a family who likes to cook and she does not I do not doubt his statement!

"Herewith are two of Howard's specials:

HOT CINNAMON SAUCE FOR HOT APPLE PIE
8 ounces of cola (either coke or pepsi)

8 teaspoons of sugar
4 teaspoons cinnamon
6 teaspoons of flour
Juice of one lemon.
Mix dry ingredients, and add liquids, cook until ropery. Keep hot and serve on your favorite apple pie. (Left over sauce refrigerates well and can be reheated) Dribble sauce over pie and serve hot. It is good on bread-pudding and plain cakes.

BEEF-VEGETABLE STEW SPECIAL

Use your favorite beef and vegetable stew recipe and after begins to cook add a dash of mace, rosemary and cloves. You may thicken the gravy when done or cook down to desired consistency.

"MOST OF US West Texas people like plain rich beef and fresh garden vegetables as they are, and as a rule do not favor 'gilding the lily.' But this subtle extra spice flavor is acceptable.

"Friends of the Hills from Mesa, Ariz., brought this exceptionally good pumpkin bread (or cake). We ate with them on the river where they were camped in a house trailer.

PUMPKIN BREAD

Mix dry ingredients:
3½ cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 cups sugar

Then add:
1 small can pumpkin
two-thirds cup water
1 cup oil
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat with mixer until smooth. Bake in greased and floured loaf pans. This will make two large loaves or you can use a bun pan and a loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour or until tests done in center.

Glaze while still warm:

¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup butter
½ cup sugar

Bring to a boil and brush on cake at once.

"Later in the home of another friend, Alice Young, I learned these secrets, which they use in their motel-restaurant-gift shop. She has trained Navajo women to cook and their place is famous far and near for fruit two-crust pies and pancakes.

Herewith are recipes:

PIE CRUST

To your favorite pie crust dough for two-crusts add, 1 egg and 1 teaspoon of vinegar. Use your regular fruit filling and be ready for compliments.

PANCAKES

For the hotcake batter, use the Bisquick recipe on box and add extra egg and shortening for tender light cakes.

"They have had people from Florida ask for them on the word of friends who remembered.

"We had a laugh over this one; when I asked for the recipe she said, 'You gave it to lands' children and their families will be hosts.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

People who have company in crowds, and are always on the lookout for recipes a bit different, should be interested in the one Sue James is circulating after receiving it from an acquaintance downstate.

KNOWING THAT Betty Jowell is always eager to find a new recipe, she enthusiastically reported that this one was quite unusual, and would Betty try it out? For no reason she knows, except maybe woman's intuition, Betty cannily replied, "If the ingredients are available".

She was glad she had hedged her promise when she saw the name of the new dish, Elephant Stew. It goes like this:

TAKE 1 ELEPHANT, salt and pepper to taste, and 2 rabbits (optional). Cut elephant into small pieces; this should take about two months.

Add enough brown gravy to cover (approximately 500 g a lions). Cook over kerosene stove fire for about five weeks at 450 degrees.

This will serve 4,000 people. If more are expected, the rabbits may be added, but do this only if necessary as most people do not like to find hare in their stew.

Comment: Will freeze, if wrapped in bite-size packages.

ALMOST I'M tempted to describe this recipe as "most unique," an expression that has often cropped up lately in broadcasts and some newspapers — but I hope not this one.

Don't know why it has suddenly become a popular way to describe something unusual, but I remember the phrase distinctly as a horrible example of redundancy listed in a seventh-grade English textbook of my schooldays. It has always impressed me as a descriptive expression very much like "round circle."

And please don't someone remind me that it was used a short time ago in this column. It was quoted from another paper, you'll note, and that was one of the places where it has come to my attention.

WHILE OUR Midsummer weather sizzles, the John Douglas Pitmans took off this week for a cooling visit with Kathleen Palmer at her place up at the Canadian border. And I would guess, some fishing, since the place is on an island in one of the numerous lakes of that region.

Morning Guild Meeting Is Held

A delegate from St. Anthony's Guild to the lately-formed Parish Council Board, Mrs. Johnny Jesko was elected at a Guild meeting recently. It was another of the morning sessions being held this summer, with a coffee after mass.

Hostesses were Meses. Marvin Diller, Jim Pavlicek and Lucille Wilhelm and Miss Theresa Koelzer. The Rev. Angelus Delahunt, pastor, was the speaker, outlining plans for the parish school next term.

Hereford Night Set At Pageant

Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, reported that about 70 tickets for the playing of the "Texas" Pageant, had been sold as of Wednesday.

Tonight having been designated as "Hereford Night" at the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheatre for the showing of the production of the pageant, is the last day that tickets can be purchased from the local Chamber of Commerce, Thompson stated. They will be available up until the Chamber closes at 5 p. m. today.

Some 150 tickets are available at the office and are being sold on the first-come-first-serve basis. Thompson has urged that all persons planning to see the pageant this summer should make it a point to see it tonight as it is especially set aside for residents of Hereford. The center section of the Amphitheatre is reserved for Hereford residents and all persons from Hereford will set in that section and during the performance, will be recognized as an entire group. The performance begins at 8:55 p. m. and concludes at 11:30 p. m.

Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office for $2.25, which is the usual price.

Playing a part in the performance is Bill Devers, choir director at La Plata Junior High School. As a member of the cast, Devers sings several solos and is active in numerous scenes of the play.

Saturday Wreck Causes Injuries

An accident which occurred Saturday, July 27, resulted in $700 damages and sent two persons to the hospital with injuries.

A 1967 Chevrolet, driven by Benjamin M. Garcia, received $400 damages while $300 damages were incurred to the 1957 Chevrolet driven by Manuel I. Pacheco.

The accident occurred near the intersection of U. S. 60 and Dairy Road when the driver of one of the vehicles stopped at the stop sign on Dairy Road and proceeded into the intersection of U. S. 60 where the accident occurred.

Investigating officers issued a citation for failure to yield right of way.

valued at $110, an identification bracelet, valued at $15 and between $40 and $60 in cash. The total amount was near $281.

NEW INDIAN LAND PLAN

NEW DELHI (AP) — A revolutionary experiment in land-holding will be tried in Uttar Kashi district bordering Communist China ruled Tibet.

Under the inspiration of the land-gift movement leader, Acharya Vinoba Bhave, the entire untitled land will be owned by the villages for purposes of cultivation.

Uttar Kashi is the northwestern most district of India's most populous state, Uttar Pradesh. The spiritual heir of India's independence leader, Mohandas Gandhi, Bhave has been touring India collecting land for distribution among the landless.

The Uttar Kashi experiment of a whole district of 4,000 square miles is the first of its kind in India. "The key to the solution of poverty in Asia lies in the equitable distribution of land which like air and water is God-given and must be owned by the entire community in a cooperative way," Bhave says.

Fire At Troy Riddle Home On Beach Tuesday

A fire at the Troys Riddle home, 133 Beach St., caused approximately $900 damage Tuesday morning.

The alarm was called in at 10:56 a. m., by Mrs. Riddle. She said she saw smoke coming out of the upstairs bedroom window as she pulled into the driveway.

After trying to put the fire out, she called the fire department. The fire destroyed a mattress and box springs, and damaged the carpet of the bedroom. Cause of the fire was a movie light, which was allowed to become overheated while lying on the bed.

Theft Reported At Pitman Home

Mrs. John D. Pitman, of 515 Long Street, reported to police that sometime between July 21 and July 23, someone had taken numerous items from their home.

She stated that two pieces of luggage, valued at $96 was missing along with two hair pieces,

Future Growth Is Goal Of Arrowhead Drive-In Owner

A gathering spot for the younger set, a place for a last minute meal for the busy housewife's family, a place to see friends, and a general socializing spot in Hereford. Speaking of course of the Arrowhead Drive-In, it is these things and many more for all the people around Hereford.

Established as a member of a "chain" of drive-ins back in 1960, the Arrowhead Drive-In chain was started by Burlen Barnes and Dwayne Dillehonty in Yukon, Oklahoma. These two men started with one drive-in on this type and, as the progress began to show steady improvement, they built others throughout the Panhandles of Oklahoma and Texas.

After the partnership dissolved between these two men, Leon Turnbow took on the responsibility of keeping the business going and was, in turn, joined by his brother Gerald, a man from Lubbock who owned another of the same type of drive-in, and another partner, who each owned 25 per cent of the business. This four-way partnership ceased to exist when Gerald Turnbow bought the partnerships of all the other men out and took some possession of the business.

The building, which was built in the latter part of 1966, and began operations on December 1 of that year, was owned by the four men and, three months after the opening of it, the younger Turnbow bought the 25 per cent holdings of the man from Lubbock. Shortly thereafter, he finalized the complete ownership of the building and operations as he obtained the other 50 per cent from the other two partners.

Turnbow, born and reared in Drumright, Oklahoma, was involved in the horse trailer making business with another of his brothers prior to his becoming connected with the drive-in business. He parted from his brother's business and entered into the drive-in business a couple of months before the opening of the present one in Hereford now.

Dropping the horse trailer making-business for one of making hamburgers and other food, hasn't been the least bit unprofitable for Turnbow and his wife, Trisha, whom he married just a short time before moving to Hereford. He feels that he "left a good job to get into the drive-in business and it has paid off rather well."

Picking a spot for a drive-in was no easy chore for the investment from the very beginning as they had to find a town that had the right situation for one, a town that was growing, and numerous other things. The group looked at many towns throughout the Panhandle before they picked Hereford for the drive-in. They felt that it was growing fast enough and was a generally good enough town for one. All of this proved true to form as the first year the drive-in in Hereford was open, it did as well in volume sales as did any of the other six that are now in operation.

Another purpose of the Arrowhead Drive-In is a place for a "turn around" for the younger people's drag. This particular spot was chosen because the growth indication of the town leaned toward that particular part of town and because the location was one such that the place would provide a "north pole" for the drag.

With a total investment of approximately $38,000 in equipment, the drive-in is able to park 24 cars at a time on the lot. Twenty-four hamburgers can also be cooked at the same time on the grill while another machine is able to warm hamburger buns at the rate of 400 every hour. During the "peak" time of business, Turnbow states that they try to work one ticket every 60 seconds.

With the six Arrowhead Drive Ins now in operation, all are laid out the same in regard to structure. The chain has obtained two patented burgers and these are the Sweetheart and Thunder Burgers. The local drive-in has recently begun making "Char-Burgers" and the other five drive-ins of this type are waiting the results before they decide to try them. With the addition of this new type of hamburger meat, the Arrowhead has begun using larger meat patties with the hamburgers.

The running of the drive-in costs close to $18,000 a week including the payroll of some 19 employees. The list of employees include two shifts that are changed every day at 5 p. m. The morning shift goes to work around 10:30 and works until the evening shift arrives at 5. The evening shift then works until closing time which runs any where from 10:30 p. m. to 1 a. m., depending on the time of the year, the weather, and the amount of business.

During the day shift, Turnbow has two car-hops working the curbs, one fountain worker, two cooks and one person on make-up. The shift stays relatively the same when the night workers come on with the exception of the make-up worker, who does not work at night. The job of the make-up worker includes the cutting of lettuce onions and things of that nature while all the food is brought in daily, fresh from Furr's.

Turnbow, with the Hereford Arrowhead Drive-in prospering well, hopes, and has plans to enlarge on the chain of drive-ins in the future. Keeping the group in a 200-mile radius of Hereford, he plans to equip the future ones with inside dining facilities with modern surroundings and equipment. Speaking of the men who formerly owned the chain, Turnbow states, "I would like to pick up where they left off and keep the chain going."

With the drive-in taking much of he and his wife's time, Turnbow plans to hire an assistant manager during the night shift to relieve them the chore of over-seeing the business all of the time. Phillip Sciombato, assistant manager at Anthony's, will begin work there in that capacity some time in the near future, Turnbow announced.

In summing up the entire business, Turnbow said, "I hope that I will be able to continue the chain as myself and another man are presently working on the idea of starting them elsewhere throughout the Panhandle. The drive-in business is not like many of the other types of businesses where you can only go so far and stop. It is a business where continual expansion is always possible and that is what I hope to do."

Meeting In Plant Nutrition Today

LUBBOCK — A workshop set up to identify and solve specific problems in plant nutrition and fertilizer use will be held here at the South Plains Research and Extension Center today.

The day-long workshop, aimed at West Texas fertilizer dealers and agricultural leaders, will consist of two sessions and will begin at 9 a. m., announces Jim Valentine, area soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The morning session will deal with crop production considerations as related to fertilizer use. In the afternoon, participants will receive first-hand information on diagnosing nutrient deficiencies and related problems.

that trading was slow. Prices declined during the week and closed with yellow globe mediums at $1.50 — $1.75 and large $1.85 — $2. Shipments totalled approximately 110 carlot equivalents last week and are expected to be near the same level for the current week.

In Walla Walla section of Washington, onion trading was fair. The weekly price range was $2 — $2.25 for large. Light shipments to continue another week.

For carrots, the Salinas district in California reported prices slightly lower with 48 1-lb. film bags $3 — $3.10. Supplies moderate and expected to continue at the same level. Quality good and sizes mostly large.

Canadian Indians cross United States borders under an old law assuring them free access as native North Americans, then National Geographic says.

Notre Dame defeated St. Victor's 112-7 in a football game played in 1912.

Discussions on soil fertility, soil testing, weeds, education, research and coordination of the research-education effort will highlight the morning session.

Highlighting the afternoon portion will be a presentation on nutrient deficiency symptoms and herbicidal effects and how to identify these. Also on the agenda will be discussions on soil physical conditions and climate and diseases and nematodes. Demonstrations on tissue testing and on the effectiveness of soil testing will conclude the workshop.

A slate of noted speakers will headline the two sessions. They include such Texas A&M University officials as Dr. John E. Hutchison, extension director; Dr. Morris E. Bloodworth, head of the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences; and Dr. Charles Welch, Extension soil chemist.

Officials from the SPREC on the program include Dr. Arthur Onken, soil fertility researcher; Elmer Hudspeth, agricultural engineer; Dr. Robert Berry, Extension area plant pathologist; Dr. Charles Wendt, soil and water researcher; and Valentine.

Billy C. Gunter, Extension District 2 agricultural agent, will welcome the workshop participants. Chairmen for the two sessions will be W. W. Grisham, Jr., Extension District 1 agricultural agent, and Tom Beck, manager of agricultural chemical sales, Diamond Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp., Amarillo.

The workshop is being jointly sponsored by the Texas Plant Food Educational Society and Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service and Agricultural Experiment Station in support of the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) and the South Plains Development Program (SPD).

Helping the one cook are usually two car hops along with Turnbow and his wife who see to it that the operations go smoothly.

Cotton Crops Are Down For Season

AUSTIN, Texas (Sp.) — Texas cotton production was down 16.1 per cent during the 1967-68 season, the Cotton Economic Research office at the University of Texas reports.

Tabulations as of Jan. 16, 1968, showed 2,638,896 running bales ginned. At the same time in 1967 there were 3,149,925.

The estimated value of lint cotton and cottonseed produced in Texas was down more than $37 million from that of the previous season, the "Summary Report" said.

"The decrease in the value of production affects the entire economy of the state," the report explains, but hardest hit were segments of the industry other than the grower, primarily the gins, oil mills, compresses and warehouses.

And the cause of the decrease — that unpredictable Texas weather coupled with an increase in diverted acreage.

The report forecasts a brighter picture in 68-69:

"All indicators point to an increase in the planted acreage in Texas for the 1968-69 season, along with improved weather conditions, for increased production. New and improved varieties are being planted for improved cotton quality rather than for yield alone."

Single copies of the report are available free of charge from Cotton Economic Research, The University of Texas, Austin, Texas 78712.

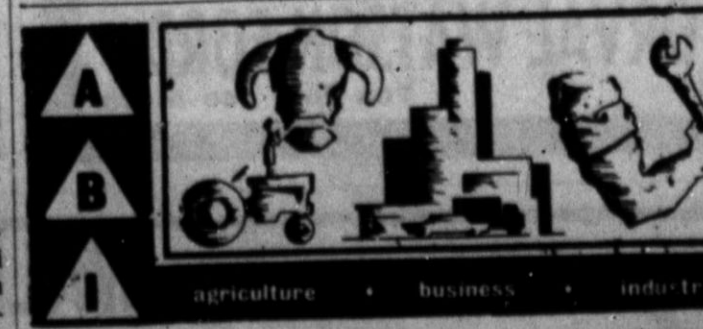

COTTON INSECTS WILL GET REPORTED — Cotton insect reporting areas for Texas have been announced for 1968. Cooperators in each cotton growing county will work with local county agents in collecting information on insect infestations. The county reports will be combined into an area report and released by the area Extension entomologists. Local county agents can supply detailed information on the insect reporting program.

Admendmentments To Be Voted On In November Election

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Campaigns will be shaping up soon on 14 more amendments to the state constitution. All 14 of the proposed changes in the state's basic laws will be voted on at the general election November 5. Some are far-reaching, others routine.

Here are the amendments in the order in which they will appear on the November 5 ballot:

1. Revising provisions for management and administration of the state employee's retirement system and permitting investment in securities other than government bonds.
2. Raising the state's welfare spending ceiling from $60 million to $75 million.
3. Permitting investment of the Permanent University Fund by UT regents in certain types of securities, within the "prudent man rule."
4. Allowing Dallas County to issue road bonds on vote of property taxpayers.
5. Authorizing a raise in state legislators' salary from $4,800 to $8,400 a year and extending the per diem expense allowance of legislators ($12 a day) to 140 days of a regular lawmaking session. (Present limit is 120 days.)
6. Allowing the legislature to exempt from property taxes equipment installed by industrialists to control air or water pollution.
7. Phasing out the state property tax after Dec. 31, 1976, beginning next year, except that portion for higher education institutions.
8. Eliminating the requirement that the governor, secretary of state and comptroller approve contracts for printing and paper.
9. Providing for contributions to the teacher retirement system on the basis of full salaries. (Contributions now are limited to $504 a year.)
10. Allowing the legislature to provide for refund of state tax on cigars and tobacco products sold at retail in Texarkana.
11. Authorizing the legislature to permit consolidation of offices and governmental functions in El Paso and Tarrant Counties.
12. Giving the legislature power to authorize cities and counties to issue revenue bonds for industrial development purposes and permit private concerns to operate plants thus financed.
13. Exempting from property tax certain property temporarily stored in public warehouses.
14. Spelling out that legislators will not be ineligible for other offices because their terms extend a few days into January.

serve on the convention platform and resolutions committee. Douglas R. DeCluit of Waco and Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin serve on the credentials committee; Jim Collins of Dallas and Mrs. Richard M. Sowell of McAllen, permanent organization; Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Basil E. Atkinson Jr. of Lufkin, rules and order of business.

DEMOCRATS PREPARING TOO — Democrats are getting ready for their own big powwow in Chicago starting August 26.

Gov. Joh Connally, Texas delegation chairman and favorite son candidate for the presidency, announced these appointments to convention posts:

Secretary of State Roy Barera of San Antonio, delegation secretary; Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Roland Boyd of McKinney, resolutions and platform committee; Will D. Davis of Austin and Miss Claudia Brummett of Amarillo, credentials committee; Tom Gordon of Abilene and Miss Julianan Cowden of Alvarado, rules and order of business; Mrs. Horace Botsford of Corpus Christi and M. J. Anderson of Austin, committee on permanent convention organization. Also, Rhea Howard, Wichita Falls, committee to notify the presidential candidate of nomination; Mrs. Hilda B. Weinert of Seguin, committee to notify vice-presidential nominee; J. C. Looney of Edinburg, honorary convention vice-president; J. C. Martin of Laredo, honorary assistant vice-president; Ralph McCullough of Houston, honorary secretary; Hunter McLean of Fort Worth, honorary assistant secretary; and John Mobley of Austin, delegation sergeant-at-arms.

CONNALLY TRIMS BUDGET — Governor Connally trimmed the 1969 state budget enacted by the special legislative session $1.3 million and sternly lectured lawmakers for setting up $1.4 million in Agriculture Department appropriations as a lump sum item which he could not veto selectively.

Governor also vetoed seven controversial riders including those which sought to cut off funds for policing air pollution control by cotton gins and prevent use of state planes and helicopters to catch traffic law violators. Connally took veto axe to these spending items: $600,000 for temporary building to house the comptroller's department; $275,000 for two new elevators in the capitol; $187,500 for the Port Lavaca causeway state park; $90,000 for Somervell County State park land; $91,000 for legal clerks in 13 courts of civil appeals; $50,000 for insurance claim investigation; $200,000 for Blinn College to operate Old Washington State Park museum; $17,500 for a deputy administrator for the Liquor Control Board; $16,500 for assistant executive director of state board of control; and $13,000 for assistant director of auditing for LCB.

COURT SPEAKS — State Supreme Court refused to hear John Robert McClelland's suit to force Harris County GOP Chairman Mrs. W. M. Palm and State GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell to certify him as the Republican candidate for the House of Representatives in the November election.

McClelland got 6,659 votes to his closest opponent's 2,992 in the GOP primary race. But the county chairman refused to certify McClelland, claiming he would not have lived in the district for a full year prior to the November 5 election.

A Dallas golfer who injured his back when he was thrown from a golf cart at Dallas' Riverlake Country Club has won a new trial in his damage suit for $134,000 against the club.

High Court approved the move for George A. McRay after a Dallas court had ruled in favor of the club. McRay claims the club was negligent in allowing high grass to obscure a stump off the fairway on the 18th hole. Court McRay was riding hit this stump and McRay was thrown out.

Court refused to order Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to erase his forfeiture on a 5,524-acre West Texas sulphur lease claimed by Cobra Oil & Gas Corporation of Wichita Falls. When the court heard the case on April 17, the state claimed that Cobra not only waited months too long to pay the first rental, but waited 300 days after filing the lease with Culberson, Pecos and Reeves Counties to file with the Land Office and 100 days is the limit.

ACTION SPARKED — Faced with the January 1 deadline for a regulation prohibiting interstate shipments of cattle from counties having no certification for brucellosis control, several counties are hurrying into action to secure certification.

Animal Health Department reports three counties — Hemphill, Orange and Starr — qualified for certification during June. Cameron and Hidalgo Counties qualified for recertification.

Sixty-eight counties are in the process of testing initial certification.

SCREW WORM DANGER — State and federal animal health experts are becoming worried at the increase in screw worm infestation cases being filed this year. To date 1,125 cases have been reported in 1968.

After the sterile fly program was inaugurated in 1962, the screw worm count fell below 300 cases by 1964.

The rapid increase in cases this year is blamed on extremely wet weather in South and West Texas which has made a climate especially suited for the worms and their parent screw worm flies.

Ranchers are warned to perform surgical operations (dehorning and castration) only if maximum safety precautions are taken to prevent fly infestation.

NEW AIR ROUTES — Texas Aeronautics Commission has approved two new airlines for flights into Dallas.

Miller Aircraft won approval for flights between Waco and Dallas and Fleetway Airlines was approved for flight between Tyler and Dallas. Fleetway also won approval for flights between Texarkana and Longview.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-2706

An important educational bill passed by the House recently, the Vocational Education bill, was amended by the Senate and is now before a House-Senate Conference Committee where the differences will be resolved.

The House bill brushed aside Administration proposals which amounted to little more than a few administrative changes and passed a strong and meaningful bill which should be a long step toward training the nation's disadvantaged youth in our overcrowded and crime-ridden cities as well as in isolated rural areas where trained employees would help attract industry and stop the migration of young farm people to the over-crowded cities.

The critical shortcomings of our current vocational-technical education programs can readily be seen from the report, submitted in January of this year, by the Advisory Council on Vocational Education. It shows that, while only one out of six high school graduates achieve full college education, only one out of four high school students is enrolled in a vocational education program. In other words, approximately 60 percent of high school students enter the work-world unprepared to hold a job.

The Administration has a large and growing profusion of manpower programs which, unfortunately, add up to a sorry record of performance, and which reveal an extraordinary lack of any sense of priorities. For example, more Federal dollars are budgeted this year for the 40,000 enrollees in the Job Corps than for the support of vocational-technical education with 7-million enrollees.

In this connection, an excellent feature of the bill is the section directing the Commissioner of Education to study the means by which the existing Job Corps facilities and programs might be transferred to State or joint State-Federal operation in conjunction with the residential vocational schools programs.

Enactment of the present bill will be a good start in

Revival To End Here On Friday

Week-long services, "Revival Pro New Life," began Sunday at the San Pablo Methodist Church, 218 Kibbe, with Dr. Roberto M. Pedraza of Lubbock leading the services.

Dr. Pedraza, who is a native of Mexico and has received four degrees in the United States, is the pastor of the Latin American Methodist Church at 104 N. Ave. in Lubbock. He is a former Spanish instructor at Denver University and also former president of Lydia Patterson Institute of El Paso.

In 1966, Dr. Pedraza assisted in organizing and leading the Good Neighbor Club in Lubbock in an effort to strengthen relationships between Latin Americans and Anglos throughout the state.

Dr. Pedraza will speak each night during the week revival at 8 p. m. with revival to end Friday.

Export Meeting Is Set For Cotton

Lubbock, Texas — (Special) — Ways to increase raw cotton exports will be discussed by government and industry representatives at a joint meeting of the Special Export Committee of the National Cotton Council and the Executive Committee of the National Cotton Council and the Executive Committee of Cotton Council International at the Koko Inn and Palace here, August 13-14.

Roy B. Davis, Lubbock, president of the National Cotton Council, will be general chairman. Session chairmen will be Robert D. Pugh, Portland, Ark., president, Cotton Council International, and E. Hervey Evans, Laurinburg, N. C., CCI board chairman.

The August 13 session will be open to all interested persons, and will consist of the following presentations followed by question and answer periods:

Importance of International Trade to the United States and the Significance of Cotton Exports — Dr. Henry Hopp, Chief Fibers and Textile Division, Bureau of Economic Affairs, U. S. State Department.

Importance of cotton to the U. S. Agricultural Economy and the Need to Export Five to Six Million Bales Annually — Joseph A. Moss, Director, Cotton Policy Staff, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

USDA Programs to Expand Exports of U. S. Cotton — Kenneth K. Krogh, Assistant Administrator, Export Programs, Foreign Agricultural Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Export-Import Bank Credits for Cotton — John Jordan, Loan Officer, Export-Import Bank of the United States.

AG RULINGS — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says that the Supreme Court's ruling that a disputed 305 acres in the Athey Oil Field (near Fort Stockton) is state land will mean recovery of a million dollars for the Texas school fund.

In recent opinions, Martin concluded that: "Val Verde county commissioners can transfer Val Verde Memorial Hospital to county hospital authority."

"County hospitals can aid in mental health and mental retardation services."

meeting the need for a modern structure of occupational education which will satisfy the requirements on the total population in all parts of the country. We cannot permit millions of young Americans to grow into adulthood without salable skills, or preparation for additional training that will be needed in a fast-changing job market.

Vocational education in the Panhandle has assumed added importance in both high schools and junior colleges. The new Technical Institute planned for Amarillo Air Force Base will offer training in special and advanced skills.

The vocational bill will assist such schools to expand training opportunities for vocational educators, to help modernize vocational-technical curricula, to infuse the concept of "learning to earn" into elementary education, to greatly strengthen efforts to bring high-quality vocational-technical education to those who need it and to involve more citizens at the local, state, and Federal levels in assessing employment needs and the performance of our schools.

Westway Reunion Is Held Sunday

Around 85 persons were present at the Westway community reunion which was held Sunday, July 28.

The reunion began with a singsong at 11 a. m. and, after dinner, officers were elected to the reunion committee. Elected president was Guy Lawrence, of 415 Ave. F, Hereford, with Mrs. W. W. Thomas being elected secretary-treasurer. Those to serve on the committee with Mrs. Thomas include M. C. Kaul, Clarence Morrison and Homer Rudd.

The group also elected to make the reunion an annual event to be held on the last Sunday of July.

Those who were at one time residents of the Westway Community but have since deceased, include: Mrs. J. A. Rose, Monte Roe, Mrs. A. C. Pierce, M. S. Roe, H. A. White, Jessie Ann Head Hicks, Laurie Lee Drake and R. M. Gunn. Others include Mrs. Ellen Bryant, Mrs. Pearl Harrison, Arthur Denney, Sandra and Janie Green, Earl Perter, Mrs. Grace Roberson, Mr. Carol Vaughn and Ann Higginbotham.

The oldest persons who attended the reunion were O. Wilder, 89, of Hereford, N. P. Sikes, 81, of Portales, New Mexico, P. H. Gilliland, 78, Amarillo, and G. C. Hartman, 82, of Friona. Those who traveled the farthest to attend the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherpoon and Niell, of Albuquerque, N. M. and Laura Gilliland, of Carpinteria, Calif.

T. Truxton Hare, guard for Penn State in the late 1800's, was named to the All-American team in 1897-98-99-1900.

RECENTLY WED — Mrs. Clint Dayle Summers is the former Miss Rose Ann Reynolds of Brady, who was married in that city July 20. Mr. Summers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Summers of Dimmitt and the grandson of Mrs. Annie Springer of Hereford. After a honeymoon in Mexico, the couple will reside in Houston.

Town & Country

Out of town and out of state relatives attending the funeral of Mabel L. Vaughn, wife of Carlos A. Vaughn, were Mrs. Myrtle Cody, a sister of Spring Grove, Minn.; Mrs. Barbara Pitel (a niece) and her children, Luann and Bobby Pitel, Mrs. Thelma Maybury of Compton, Calif., also a niece; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anthony all of Elida, New Mex.; Mr. and Mrs. Charley R. (Pete) Vaughn of Anthony, New Mex.; Mrs. Bill Vaughn and Mrs. W. T. Bothe, Jr., and children of Tustin, Calif.; Mrs. John I. Vaughn of San Bernardino, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vaughn and Dot of Colinga, Calif., who had been visiting the Vaughns of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Vaughn and Martha Earnest of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Higgins and Barbara Wilde of Amarillo. Myrtle Cody had been in the Vaughn home several days (staying with her sister prior to her death. Ida May Vaughn went to Elida to make her home with her daughter, Ruby Anthony. She will no longer be making her home in Hereford the Carlos Vaughn home. Also surviving is a brother, George Lyons, of Wilmington, Mass. who was unable to attend the funeral.

Frank Thomas, coach at Alabama up until 1947, sported a record of 108 wins, 20 losses, and 7 ties during his 15 years as head coach there. During these 15 years, he too the Crimson Tide to six Bowl games — three Rose, one Cotton, one Orange and one Sugar — and only once did his team fail to win.

THE FIG TREE

We have all been impressed with the pathetic story of the barren fig tree. It was destined to perennial barrenness. The owner found this wilted tree and ordered it cut down but his vine-keeper pled for it to have another chance. This is a good parable of the Grace of God. Our religion is essentially a religion of redemption. God gives everyone of us another chance. We have failed more than once but the Almighty has been patient, kind and forgiving. Perhaps Luke 15 is our truest picture of God. He is like a woman who seeks until she finds her lost coin; like the shepherd who left the ninety and nine to find the lost one; like the father who received his prodigal son. The lesson is plain. God gives another chance and He will gather all the ripe figs.

WORKSHOP LEADERS - Speakers at a workshop held Monday at St. Anthony's Church for leaders of the Council of Catholic Women from the Amarillo diocese are looking over a new handbook covering all phases of DCCW activities, which was presented at the meeting. It was compiled by Mrs. George Turrentine workshop director. From left are Mrs. D. M. Poundstone of Borger, Mrs. Nick Kramer of Plainview, Mrs. Turrentine, Mrs. J. E. Browning of Plainview, Mrs. Ed Loerwald and Mrs. Ed Paetzold of Hereford.

Training Session Held For Women Of Diocese

Seventy women from over the Panhandle-Plains, as far south as Lubbock and Slaton, registered at St. Anthony's Catholic Church Monday for the annual leadership training institute on organization, of the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.
 Mrs. George Turrentine, diocesan chairman of the organization service commission, was a leader.
 Speakers included Mrs. Ed Loerwald, diocesan president; Mrs. D. M. Poundstone of Borger, president-elect; Mrs. J. E. Browning and Mrs. Nick Kramer of Plainview and Mrs. Ed Paetzold, and the Rev. Angelus Delahunt, pastor of St. Anthony's.
 Hereford members served coffee and cookies during registration and a salad lunch at noon.

After the opening prayer, the host pastor spoke of current changes in the church and benefits to be derived from them. Mrs. Loerwald welcomed visitors and urged DCCW members to put work of the organization ahead of personal interests.
 Mrs. Turrentine outlined functions of the five organizations which make up the affiliation of Catholic women and said they can operate only through individual effort of their members. Mrs. Poundstone gave "how to" information on work of the service commission, and later discussed legislation.

Mrs. Paetzold's topic was parliamentary procedure and program planning. Mrs. Browning explained the use of funds from dues and Mrs. Kramer gave suggestions for interesting non-members.
 An invitation was extended for attendance at a Rural Life Day program in Vega Aug. 18.
 Hereford members attending including Mmes. Jimmy Jesko, Andrew Kersten, Gene Loerwald, Elmer Reinart, Leo Witkowski, Alfred Dziuk, A. C. Stengel, Larry Walterscheid, Paul Zinsler, William Gilleland, Walt Warren, Marcel Fishbacher, Tommy Albracht, Werner Koelzer, Buster Miller, A. H. Reinart, Lucille Wilhelm and Freddy Cooper.

Bride-Elect Is Honoree

Miss Abby Hefley, whose marriage to Bill Watts is planned for Aug. 16, was honored with a lingerie shower Monday evening with Mmes. Don Moke, Lou Ann Rule, Floyd Niell and Miss Bonnie Shubart as hostesses in Mrs. Moke's home.
 Close friends of the bride-to-be were invited for the informal party at which gift packages were presented and opened. Cakes and cookies were served from a table decorated with bridal figurines.

Miss Hefley, daughter of the B. R. Hefleys, is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School. Recent pre-nuptial courtesies included a miscellaneous shower Friday for a larger group of guests.

Miss Davis Is In Baptist Assembly

Sidney L. Davis is one of the 425 staff members at Gloriaeta Baptist Assembly in New Mexico this summer. Miss Davis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis. She is a sophomore at West Texas State University where she is majoring in social studies.
 While at Gloriaeta she is helping to serve the more than 2000 guests at the reservations desk.
 Gloriaeta is located 18 miles east of historic Santa Fe, covering a 2500 acre mountain site. Gloriaeta Baptist Assembly is owned and operated by the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.
 A twelve-week summer program emphasizes church conferences, youth weeks, mission activities, and leadership training sessions. During Gloriaeta's 16th season, the Assembly anticipates an attendance of 28,000 persons.

Seasick Woman Is Working For Oceanography Degree

EDITOR'S NOTE: Who says a seasick woman can't be an oceanographer? Miss Constance Karpinski, one of three women at Texas A & M working toward a Ph. D. in the subject, is out to prove it isn't so.

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Constance Karpinski is an attractive young woman who says she gets seasick. What makes this a particular problem for her is the fact that she's working for a Ph. D. degree in ocean-ography. Miss Karpinski is one of three women doctoral students in the Department of Oceanography at Texas A&M.

The others are Lela Jeffrey, a researcher in chemical oceanography, and Mrs. Linda Pequegnat, wife of oceanography professor, Dr. Willis Pequegnat. Miss Karpinski, 27, says oceanography attracts her because "I love science and I love to be outdoors at the same time."

But the former high school teacher has problems. "I get seasick," she said. "I nearly die the first day out but then it's all right. I've tried all the cures but I don't think anything works."

Miss Jeffrey has taken a number of cruises aboard the Texas A&M research vessel Alaminos. Miss Karpinski has completed two voyages. Mrs. Pequegnat stays on land most of the time because of her children but she helps her husband in biological research.

Life aboard an oceanographic research vessel isn't necessarily in the luxury liner class, the women say.

The 180-foot converted cargo ship A&M uses is crammed with scientific gear which needs constant monitoring. The women put in their hours on watch along with the other members of the crew.

"Frankly, I don't see any difference in working on a ship and in working in a laboratory," Miss Jeffrey said. "I know all the people and it's the same."

Miss Karpinski says she hasn't had any problems adapting to life on board the Alaminos.

"I guess a lot of men would object to a woman—they'd have to watch their language, but I haven't had any problems," she said. "There always seems to be someone looking after me."

Mrs. Pequegnat notes some work aboard ship is physically difficult, and that few American research vessels are equipped with women in mind. She says she is currently helping her husband with oceanographic research involving Panama. Miss Jeffrey notes the most interesting phase of her career has been the cruises to the Antarctic aboard the National Science Foundation ship Eltanin.

All the lady oceanographers agree their field is a particularly good one for women in biology and chemistry.

"You really feel like you're there for a purpose," Miss Karpinski said, "especially when you consider the ship you're on is costing $18 a minute to run."

STATE 4-H CLUB ROUNDUP

— One of the nation's oldest, regularly-scheduled statewide 4-H events, Texas 4-H Roundup, will be held on the campus of Texas A&M University June 4-5. Winners will be determined on June 5 in 31 different judging and team and individual demonstration contests. Some 1,600 4-H members from every section of the state will participate in the contests and other activities.
