

3 Arrested After $12,000 Robbery

Three Lubbock Negro men, charged with the strong-armed robbery of a Hereford man here Monday, remained in Deaf Smith County Jail late Wednesday under $20,000 bond each.

The trio was arrested by an Amarillo policeman about 2:10 p. m. Monday, approximately one hour after Dave Broadwell of 340 W. 3rd in Hereford said he was robbed of $12,000 in the 400 block of Mable Avenue.

Sheriff's deputies said Broadwell came into the sheriff's office at the courthouse at 1:20 p. m. Monday and reported that he had been robbed. Deputies immediately took Broadwell to the spot where the robbery took place and began to question him and persons in the immediate area.

Broadwell stated that he had gone to the location in his car with two colored men who said they had bought some stock and wanted to sell or cancel it out. When he failed to go through with the elaborate "pigeon drop" (confidence game) which had been set up by the men, they took the money from him by force.

Rev. E. W. Allen told deputies he had seen Broadwell sitting in his car with the two Negroes, and Mrs. Allen reported that she had seen a Negro man in a car sitting under a tree near her home about the same time. The car, she said, went west and then turned around and came back in front of the house. She gave deputies a description of the man and the car he was driving.

Descriptions of the three Negro men and the car they were believed to be driving at the time was radioed immediately to all area law enforcement agencies.

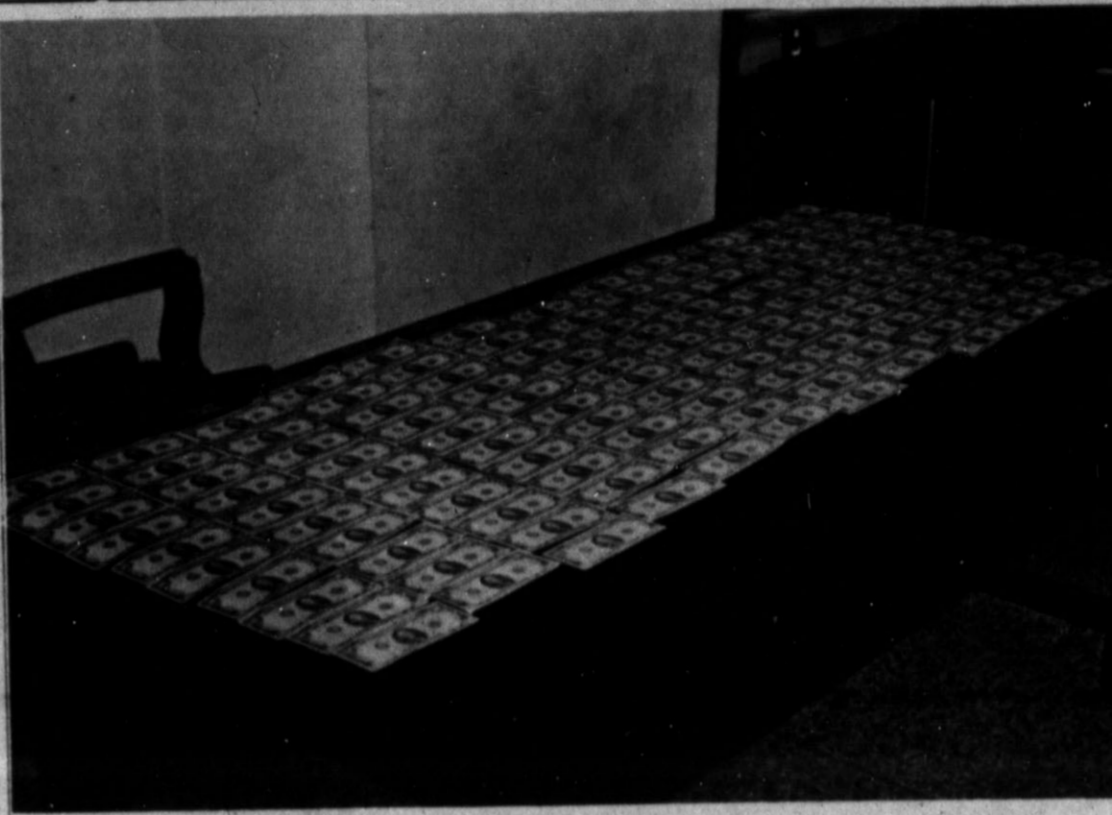

The Amarillo patrolman spotted a car fitting the description carrying three Negro subjects and attempted to stop it to make a check. The driver of the car immediately raced away from the police car, but finally was stopped between two police cars and their vehicle searched.

A total of $12,350 was found in a handkerchief under the front seat of the vehicle and the men were taken to the Amarillo Police station. Warrants were issued for their arrest by the local sheriff's office.

Broadwell was taken to Amarillo and identified three men from a line-up of five. They were brought back to Hereford, arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade, who set bond at $20,000 each and ordered them placed in jail in lieu of the bond.

The three men are William Lewis Jr., 25; James Hodges, 28, and Finner Lee Younger, 28.

Deputies theorized that the three men had a total of $350 on them to be used in the "pigeon drop." The currency included two $100 bills, a $20 bill and the rest were $1 bills. All of Broadwell's $12,000 was in new $100 bills.

$12,000 FROM ROBBERY — Shown here is the $12,000 taken from Dave Broadwell of Hereford Monday by three Negro men. The 120 $100 bills were laid out in this manner as Deaf Smith County Sheriff's deputies copied the serial numbers. See story for details.

Registration and classroom preparation is scheduled for Wednesday.

Overall school programs and policies will be presented to new staff members by Johnny Clark, superintendent, at 8 a. m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. A general faculty meeting supervised by Clark begins at 10 a. m. for all teachers.

Harvest Festival Dinner Today

Harvest Festival Dinner is today at the American Legion Post House inside the main gate at Veterans Memorial Park. The dinner begins at 11:30 a. m. and continues through 1:30 p. m.

The American Legion Auxiliary has invited everyone to attend. Past Harvest Festival Dinners have been rated as "real good eating" and many people are planning to return this year.

Adults may dine for $1.50 with children under 12 listed at 75 cents. Roast beef will be served, with as many homegrown vegetables as possible. The dessert will be cobbler. One of the specialties of the dinner will be the homemade bread.

The proceeds will go into the American Legion Auxiliary scholarship fund — which has already proven to be very important to four local girls in the past. The people who dine with the Auxiliary today will help make it possible to award future scholarships. It is entirely an aid for the future education of Deaf Smith County girls.

The girls who have received these scholarships during the past four years have been Joan Marnell (Minks), Retha Kelley, Cathy Rusher (Johnson) and Cynthia Hanna.

Teenagers are also invited to attend. The Junior Auxiliary girls will be present to help in the serving.

It was also reported that Harvest Festival Dinners have become noted here for the manner in which they promote locally grown products.

Bob Price Will Be Here Today

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa will be in Hereford Thursday afternoon.

A public reception for Rep. Price will be held at the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom from 5 to 6:30 p. m. Thursday. The public is invited.

Blaze Causes Heavy Damage

Fire Tuesday night at the Edward Allison farm at Westway resulted in $8,000 damage to a house being used by one of Allison's farm hands.

The blaze had broken through the roof by the time Hereford Volunteer Firemen reached the scene. The fire truck, called out at 10:18 p. m., was back by 1:10 a. m.

No one was in the house when the fire started. Firemen say the house was completely destroyed.

Jo Poarch, Lewis Win Rodeo Titles

Deaf Smith County has had two winners in the American Junior Rodeo Association this year.

Jo Poarch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Poarch, southeast of the city, has won the All-Around Champion Cowgirl Award for the third time in five years. Wade Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Lewis of 419 Western, Hereford, won the All-Around Champion Cowboy Award.

Lewis, who is 19 years old, won two trophies and became the possessor of the most points in any years. For All-Around Cowboy he won a fancy saddle and a $500 scholarship. He also won a second saddle for World Champion Calf Roping, and a third saddle for Bull Wrestling. For Calf Roping in the finals he was awarded a leather jacket. He also won a certificate that entitled him to other prizes.

Lewis, who previously attended South Plains Junior College at Levelland, will enter John Tarlton College at Stephenville this semester.

Miss Poarch, who is also 19, reported that the American Junior Rodeo Association was founded some 17 years ago by Alvin G. Davis of Levelland, for the purpose of giving young people interested in horses an opportunity to train and compete on their horses within a controlled age group.

She said it was an organization for girls and boys 19 years and younger and is open to worldwide competition. Some 200 to 300 kids travel from April through the world's finals in August each year to accumulate points toward the World Championship Awards presented at the end of the year.

"In our 16 to 19-year-old girls' group there are four championships to be won," she said, "the barrel racing, optional racing (poles and flags), the roping, and the coveted All-Around Championship Girl."

To win the All-Around award, they must win points in all events. To the All-Around Champion Girl goes a $500 scholarship and a traveling trophy. This trophy has been awarded

Airport Device Discussed By Commissioners

In a light business session Monday night, Hereford City Commissioners heard a request from the Aviation Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to purchase a radio homing device at the Hereford Municipal Airport.

Jim Sears, chairman of the Aviation Committee, detailed the benefits the city could receive from the low frequency, non-directional homing device. He pointed out that Childress and Dalhart have the last directional stations coming from the south and north, respectively, and many pilots have trouble finding the city on a dark day or night.

Sears also said Hereford is one of the few cities of its size which does not have some sort of homing device. The cost, said Sears, would be no more than $2,850, which would include the device, a monitoring system and a flight check by the Federal Aviation Agency.

Sears also stressed that he felt the homing device would bring more business to the local airport because many pilots would rather stop here than face the heavy traffic in Amarillo. Commissioners said the committee's request will be on the agenda for the next meeting.

Commissioners received a budget report on the first three months of the fiscal year from City Manager Dudley Bayne, voted to hold the next meeting Sept. 16 instead of Sept. 2 because of the holiday, and voted to attend a regional meeting for city councilmen Sept. 5 at the Cornado Inn at Amarillo.

since 1952. To retire the trophy a girl must win it three times in a row.

Miss Poarch has now won it three times but skipped a year in-between. Therefore she cannot retire it.

She is the only girl to ever win it three times.

This year at the finals, Miss Poarch won her 12th World Championship award. She started in 1964, won three that year; three in 1965; three in 1966; one and 2 reserves in 1967; and this year won all but the roping championship. This year's awards included the All-Around Cowgirl, the championship barrel racer and the optional racer.

She will receive a trophy saddle silver-laced and back-stitched, a belt buckle and the $500 scholarship to the college of her choice.

Jumping will begin at 9 a. m. and last until 7 p. m. on Saturday and on Sunday they will begin at 1 p. m. and last until 7 p. m. Admission for the meet will be $1 per car on each of the two days.

Also to be featured at the sky diving meet will be airplane rides and also the possibility of a helicopter demonstration.

The airport is located 11 miles south of Hereford at Farm Road 1055 and Farm Road 1057 intersection.

Football Is Here Again

Footballs, high spirits and sore lungs are filling the air once again as the 1968 football season got into full swing this week with the beginning of two-a-day workouts for the varsity gridsters.

Some 95 boys have turned out for the high school teams which began Monday with conditioning drills as coaches began working with them trying to get ready for the tough schedule they will face this season. Area schools were unable to participate in contact workouts prior to Monday due to the strict rules of the University Interscholastic League, but almost all of the players have been working out at Dameron Park every evening for the past week or two. The Interscholastic League also made it impossible for coaches to assist in any way in the evening workouts but now that the season is officially open, every one is giving a helping hand where it is needed.

Interscholastic scrimmages will not be allowed to begin until the first of next week, and the first game of the regular season for the Whitefaces will be Sept. 13 when they play host to the Pampa Harvesters.

Following the regular and traditional aspects of the game, the Hereford Whiteface Booster Club will once again take up where they left off last June as they hold their first meeting Monday, August 26th at the Community Center. Earl Stagner will serve as president for the coming year as the club will begin putting forth its usual supporting efforts during the athletic year. All persons are invited to attend the season's initial meeting which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Reserve season tickets sales for the five home games of the Whitefaces, now total 143 with just a short time left before the season begins, it was reported.

Mrs. Bobbie Kitchens, bookkeeper at the school's administration office, reported that there were still some 95 persons who had season tickets last season that have not as of yet requested renewal of their seats, and if this is not done before Sept. 1, they will go on sale to the general public. She also stated that if there is anyone who wishes to have their tickets mailed to them, to mail the money for the tickets to the administration office and they would gladly send them in the mail.

Williamson Is Chosen Park Board Chairman

Leroy Williamson is now the chairman of the combined American Legion-Veterans of Foreign Wars Park Board, which covers Veterans Memorial Park south of the city of Hereford. Benny L. Womble was elected to the Park Board last Wednesday night.

The second man on the board is C. L. Walker.

Womble replaced former chairman Ira W. Ott, with Williamson and Walker on the board at that time. Through their order of election, each board member serves a certain length of time and is replaced bottom to top.

Patriotic Group Will Sing Here

"The Flames for Freedom," some 45 young men and women from Amarillo, will present a patriotic program at 7:30 p. m. August 30 in the Hereford High School Auditorium.

Sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, the program will be free to the public. The singing group recently appeared on television and response to their singing has been "tremendous," said Lions Club President Ray Moore.

'69 ACP Funds Set Up For County

Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) funds allocated to Deaf Smith County for the 1969 program total $131,940, according to Frank J. Bezner, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The national program level authorized by Congress for 1969 is $195.5 million.

Continued emphasis for ACP in 1969 will be on (2) special aid to low-income farmers in combating erosion of their land and improving their food supply through conservation measures for home gardens, and (2) soil and water conserving practices that also help reduce air and water pollution, benefit wildlife, and improve the quality of our environment while conserving our soil and water resources.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, in announcing the 1969 program, called on farmer-committeemen to make a new effort in 1969 to get more "Low-income" farmers or ranchers — who usually have been doing little or no conservation work — to undertake a conservation project that will be helpful to them and their communities. Some of them will find it advantageous to take part in a group enterprise conservation project, or ACP pooling agreement, as well as carry out needed individual farm conservation practices.

As in previous years, farmer-elected ASC committees will administer the 1969 ACP with technical assistance from State and other Federal agencies in coordination with work plans of local soil and water conservation districts. Further information regarding the program is available at the County ASCS office.

COON TAKES OVER — A raccoon, which was captured by a Hereford policeman at 116 S. Centre

Monday night, nearly took over the station house as it found its way into just about everything.

When first brought in, the young animal wanted to do nothing but sleep. Then Brand photographer

Tyler Vance began snapping flashbulbs in his face, and the animal started nosing around. The policeman took the raccoon home with him for a pet.

Red Cross Group To Send Vietnam Soldiers Gift Bags

"Operation Shop Early" is in motion for Deaf Smith County. Sponsored by Red Cross, the program aims to provide gift bags at Christmas for every serviceman in Vietnam.

Hereford is only one city across the United States taking part in the national Red Cross project. The gaily colored ditty bags will be distributed at Christmas by Red Cross field workers in Vietnam combat areas.

The goal of Deaf Smith County Red Cross is 250 ditty bags filled with small gift articles, ranging from a dark washcloth to nuts and candy.

Red cotton material is available at the Red Cross office, 319 Sampson, to make the bags. Mrs. Hutson, local chairman, is looking for help from individuals or club and church groups to work on the project. Contributions of money or gift items are also welcome, she said.

Cultural Home Demonstration Club, which received a national citation for similar work last year, is already at work to make and fill 50 bags.

Those who make the bags are asked to fill them if possible. Others who cannot help with the sewing are asked to contribute some of the contents or money for their purchase.

Each bag will carry a holiday greeting card with names of contributors and the county Red Cross chapter. The bags must be in the Red Cross office early in October to be ready for shipping before Oct. 15.

Eight items suggested to fill the bags include small plastic snapshot holders, small tins of nuts or candy (vacuum packed), comb, plastic cigarette case, terry washcloth in dark color and mailing size voice tapes.

The list forbids gifts in breakable containers, food packed in non-vacuum containers, medicines, foot powder, insect repellent, alcoholic beverages, printed or advertising materials and reading materials.

An ample supply of paperbacks is available to servicemen a report from the Red Cross staff in Vietnam says.

Other suggested articles are nail clipper, plastic toothbrush holder, soap case, small address book, small package of writing paper with self-seal envelopes, windproof cigarette lighter with package of lighter flints, small pen knives.

Others are ballpoint pens, pen size flashlights with batteries, small plastic bags, pocket shoe polish, small decks of cards, chess, pocket calendars.

Persons wishing further information about the program may contact Mrs. Hutson or the Red Cross office. Mrs. Hutson is chairman of Service to Military Families in Deaf Smith County.

This is the fourth year Deaf Smith County Red Cross has joined others over the nation to work on "Operation Shop Early."

"Mix-Up" Games End Season For Fem Softballers

To officially close the Women's Softball League, the four teams divided into two groups consisting of two teams each. The two groups were tagged the Lemons and the Persimmons; and the four teams that comprised them were Nicky's Ninnies, the Flower Children, Mary Lou Perry's team and a team of nameless ones.

In the season finale, the nameless ones slaughtered the Flower Children to the tune of 23-4 on the strength of 11 runs in the first frame. Nena Mendez took on pitching duties for the Flower Children.

In the second game of the night, Nicky's Ninnies, who looked like refugees from Dogpatch, were victorious over Mary Lou Perry's squad by a 25-7 score.

Zula "Crockett" Arney pitched for the Ninnies and Loretta Ellerd for Mary Lou's team.

The Ninnies grabbed a 12-2 first inning lead with Zula Arney, Joy Morton, and Linda Flack blasting homers. From then on out, the game was in the bag as the Ninnies continued to score while holding the other team to a minimum.

Jo Ann Ferguson and Doris Perry hit homers for Mary Lou's team, and before the game was over, Joy Morton got her second circuit smash of the evening. Marion Gamertfelder also connected for another Ninnie homer.

Banquet Set For New Teachers

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Teachers Banquet is set for next Thursday night at the Country Club here, according to Chamber manager Bill Thompson.

Thompson said that this dinner — which is now in its sixth year — has become rated as one of the most accepted projects of the city. Invitations for the teacher dinner includes new teachers from both the public schools and St. Anthony's — which will number between 65 and 70 — in addition to their mates.

The program will feature special music by Mrs. Fred Howard, an introduction by Hereford School Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr., and an address by Chamber President Earnest Langley.

Thompson said that the dinner was "simply a welcome to new teachers, to help get them acquainted with Hereford — its history, traditions, etc."

The banquet has individual Chamber sponsors.

Hereford Man's Aunt Killed In Airplane Crash

Mrs. Charles Cooper, 29, an aunt of John Benny Cooper of 130 Ave. B, Hereford, was listed as one of the six persons killed early Monday in a plane crash at the Miami, Oklahoma airport.

Mrs. Cooper was a production line supervisor for a clothing manufacturing company at Commerce, Okla.

The light plane reportedly crashed shortly after take-off. An FFA examiner and flight surgeon said the plane apparently made a "power dive straight into the ground." He speculated that the pilot suffered vertigo in the pre-dawn darkness.

All passengers and crew aboard were killed.

Clovis To Amarillo Pipeline Is Dedicated By Santa Fe

CLOVIS, N.M. — Approximately 50 civic, air force and company officials were on hand today to dedicate Santa Fe Pipeline Co.'s 108 mile pipeline, built at a cost in excess of $2.5 million.

Karen Jan Maciolek, 19, of Albuquerque, recently crowned Miss New Mexico and the state's entry in the Miss America pageant next month, struggled prettily to open the big valve which sent the first gushing flow of jet fuel through the new pipeline from Amarillo, Tex., to Cannon Air Force Base, N.M.

Brand staffer Tyler Vance covered the event, and pictures will be in Sunday's Brand.

In a brief dedicatory address, John L. Stephens of Chicago, pipeline company president, told the throng the new, fully-automated pipeline will be operated by simply pushing buttons on a control panel in the red brick operations building a few yards away.

Stephens said construction of the pipeline, which is owned by the subsidiary of Santa Fe Railway, began at Clovis terminal Mar. 16. Work at the Amarillo terminal started a month later. Actual building of the line was performed by a number of construction companies supervised by the Dallas-based engineering consultant firm of Purvin & Gertz, Inc. The work was completed July 29.

Western terminus of the pipeline is located on a 14-acre tract a mile southeast of Clovis. The line itself generally follows the south side of the railroad right-of-way in New Mexico until it crosses under the tracks at Texico, N.M. It then parallels the north side of the Santa Fe tracks in Texas to a point three and one-half miles east of UMBARGER, Tex. From here it runs diagonally across country to its eastern terminus in the north west section of Amarillo.

The pipeline, which is 6-8 inches in diameter and is buried three to four feet deep, has a maximum capacity of 7,200 barrels a day, Stephens said, although its expected normal operating rate will be 5,400 barrels a day.

Two 35,000 barrel capacity jet fuel tanks, 80 feet in diameter and 40 feet high, and one 25,000 barrel Diesel fuel tank, 120 feet in diameter and 35 feet high, dominate the Clovis terminal. At Amarillo, there are two 20,000 barrel capacity tanks, 60 feet in diameter and 40 feet high, and one 5,000 barrel tank, 20 feet in diameter and 40 feet high.

According to the pipeline executive, there is "little limit" to the number of additional storage tanks that can be erected at the Clovis site. Stephens pointed out his company owns a total of 85 acres for expansion. He also revealed plans to install 10,000 barrel capacity Diesel fuel storage tanks at both Clovis and Amarillo "in the near future." He said this will insure "a very clean fuel" for Santa Fe's mechanical refrigerator cars and refrigerated meat hauling piggyback vans, as well as its locomotives. Stephens indicated the pipeline is a common carrier of petroleum products which his company hopes to expand to include various grades of gasolines, turbine as well as jet fuels. He frankly expressed the hope its successful operation to Cannon AFB would attract other commercial users.

The Amarillo manifold facilities (a geometric network of pipes jutting out of the ground at either terminus) connect to all refined petroleum products from the Diamond Shamrock Corp.'s refinery at Sharon, near Dumas, Tex., the Phillips Petroleum refinery at Borger, Tex., and the Texaco refinery at Amarillo, he said. The connection from the Santa Fe pipeline at Amarillo to these refineries is by the respective petroleum companies' own pipelines.

At a luncheon at the Holiday Inn immediately following the dedication, Col. Robert R. Scott of Cannon AFB, famed flying ace of the Vietnam war and now commanding the 832nd Air Division, hailed the completion of the new pipeline.

"It will have a number of direct benefits to the air base," he said, "including a reduction in costs and the number of men necessary to handle the jet fuel. Most of all, I am impressed by the closed piping system which eliminates much of the fire hazard, a constant threat in handling volatile fluids."

Col. Carleton G. Shead, director of Air Force-Aerospace Fuels, Kelly AFB, Tex., told the luncheon group "... this brings to 62 the number of air force bases now connected by pipeline to bulk supply facilities since 1954.

"It is a further step in a continuing program of Air Force-Aerospace Fuels Directorate to move large quantities of aviation fuels at reduced transportation costs," Col. Shead declared. "It also affords Cannon AFB improved logistics support through the availability of an all-weather delivery system."

John C. Davis, vice president-executive department of the Santa Fe at Chicago, joined in saluting Cannon AFB. He noted the transportation contract was awarded to the Santa Fe Pipeline Co.

Rites Held For Infant Girl

Funeral services for Elizabeth Martinez, 1-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Martinez of 304 Avenue B, and Jesse Martinez, were held at 10 a. m. Monday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Father Angelus Delahunt officiated. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral home.

The infant died Saturday morning while enroute by ambulance to an Amarillo hospital.

"The railroad has been engaged in such diverse activities as petroleum exploration and production, highway motor transport, lumbering and some jointly-owned pipeline for many years," he said, "but today marks the opening of our first wholly-owned pipeline."

Davis took a moment to comment briefly on the recent formation of Santa Fe Industries, Inc.

"This modification of our corporate structure will facilitate further diversification into non-railroad business. At the same time, we believe the railway system itself will become even stronger than it is today," he said.

The pipeline represents a new though small industry for Clovis. It is headed by George H. Brotherton, superintendent, who directs the activities of six employees.

Gilliland ambulance had picked up the infant at the home, stopped for treatment at the Deaf Smith County Hospital and then was enroute for Amarillo when the small girl died just east of Dawn. The ambulance then stopped at Neblett Hospital in Canyon.

An autopsy was ordered by the local Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade. Results were not back by press time Wednesday.

The child was born July 28, 1967, in Hereford.

Survivors include the parents, a sister, two brothers and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Flavin Crespin of Dimmitt.

Class Space Is Being Added

Construction of seven portable classrooms began this week at Hereford elementary schools, as administrative officials plan for a big increase in school enrollment.

In a talk before the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday, Bob Holman, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, said the portable classrooms will house approximately 150 migrant 5-year-old students who have troubles with reading and understanding English.

Holman said school officials were expecting a normal increase of over 300 students and some 300 more are expected to come from the Labor Camp

Market Reports Are Given As Harvest Is Nearing End

John Engle, officer-in-charge of the Fruit and Vegetable Market News office in Hereford, reported Monday that shipments of vegetables will now dip sharply as some shippers have completed harvesting operations and most others will finish shed operations this week.

Engle, in his report from the High Plains-Panhandle District of Texas, said the potato demand was described as fair and the market remained about unchanged. The supplies of round red varieties are very limited as the harvest nears completion. The few lots of reds available ranged from $2.25 to $2.50 for the U. S. No. 1 size A per hundred weight and the U. S. No. 2 grade reds sold at $1.75.

The Norgold Russet variety of potato was also in light supply this week and the U. S. No. Q Size A sold for $2.25 to $2.50. The 6-14 ounce size potato sold for $3.50 to $3.75 with a few lots of 10 ounce minimum selling at $3.50. The non-size A or the 4-8 ounce size at $1.75 to $2. The U. S. No. 2 Russet sold for $1.50 to $1.75, mostly $1.75.

The demand for dry onions was fair Monday with the market structure for the yellow varieties about steady and slightly weaker for the white onions. Sweet Spanish Jumbos ranged from $2.50 to $3, the large mediums and the prepack size sold for $1.40 to $1.75, mostly $1.50 to $1.60. The Jumbo white onions ranged from $3 to $3.25, the large mediums from $2.25 to $2.50 with a few sales higher and lower. Prepack size whites $2 to $2.25.

The carrot market remained static with the demand very light. The 48-one pound film bags of medium to large size carrots sold for $2.35 to $2.50 with an occasional sale lower. The loose jumbo size carrots in 50-pound mesh sacks sold for $1.50 to $1.75, mostly $1.50.

The cabbage market was bearish with light demand. Green cabbage in 50-pound mesh sacks sold for $1.25, with an occasional sale $1.35 to $1.40.

All interested bowlers are asked to attend as the league is to be organized and the rules discussed. The association meeting will be a general discussion of rules and it was also pointed out that anyone interested in being on one of the league's teams to contact either Mrs. Bertha Arnold at 364-4483 or Mrs. Jean Watts at 364-0245.

Officers for the coming season of the Women's Bowling Association, are: Mrs. Maggie Anderson, president; Mrs. Jean Henderson, first vice-president; Mrs. Pauline McDonald, second vice-president; Miss Alice Lueb, secretary; Mrs. Helen Arntt, treasurer; Mrs. Pat Burnett, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Bertha Arnold, parliamentarian; Mrs. Jean Watts, publicity.

Officers for the Sunset Keglers League include: Mrs. Bertha Arnold, president; Mrs. Joan Munnerlyn, vice-president; Mrs. Alice Lueb, treasurer; and Mrs. Pat Burnett, sergeant at arms.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

"EVENING REVERIE"
Another day has ended. Twilight is about to drop the star-studded curtain of night. A truck roars on its way across the bridge over the Honey River. A father, mother and child get into their boat on which is painted in gold lettering, CYNTHIA II. (The boat was named for the beautiful golden-haired child.)

The motor is started, they drift out from the dock. The child waves, and calls out, good-bye, we will be back soon. They cruise toward the north shore-line. A Blue & White speed boat streaks through the water, as with a cutting knife leaving a divided pathway of foaming white waves.

Art, Sis Emma and Myron, stroll slowly and quietly. A fish strikes occasionally. The catch is carefully placed in the wire fish basket.

There is a quietness — yet a business over the area. A black bird flashes his ebony wings against the evening sky on its homeward flight.

Another speeding boat races toward the dock. On its prow the USA Flag flies. The motion of the speeding boat and the air has it straightened out in full relief against the blue of the lake.

I feast my eyes on all of this beauty and action. . . yet it is thought provoking. The beauty of the emblematic flag causes me to say quietly under breath the Pledge of Allegiance. My desire being to make each word stand high and straight and pure. With awe and thanksgiving, in humbleness I breath a prayer, "God, please forgive our imperfections, and make of our nation and her people an honored and loyal people."

Darkness comes. The lights come on and twinkle in the windows of the homes, and around the lake, on the boats and cars. The traffic on the nearby highway rushes on into the night's darkness, the headlights lighting the way.

I come to with a start. A man has sat down beside me. It is Art. He fishes quietly. I continue to meditate, then he speaks, "You know what, I caught a fish. It was a channel cat, and I had never caught one on a spinner before." His had touched mine. We looked at and listened to the evening notes.

One of the first stops was at the resort, Fin and Feathers, which is near Tenkiller Dam, and a wonderful lake. Others stops were at Grand Lake, near Grove, Okla., Monkey Island, and Wichita, Kansas. Really our vacation was started off with a real high-note, as I was honored with a delightful luncheon at Amarillo.

Always when I go to Oklahoma, I am intrigued at the beautiful red soil. This time the beauty of the crepe myrtle, (fuscia colored) contrasted again as the red rich soil was very pretty. The crepe myrtles were in full bloom, in parks, home gardens, public grounds, and along the highway. I also found some in the woody areas and was made to wonder if they were native or had been planted by birds, or the wind. Concluded that it was one of the latter. One of the most outstanding ones which we saw was an all white. It was large in size and had an abundant bloom of the lovely white feathery blossoms. Was the loveliest white Crepe Myrtle I had ever seen.

When we vacation Art looks for streams, lakes, rivers, birds and wild animals. It is an interesting game to play, having each one to list their favorites, and see which can have the longest list. I am always amazed at the wealth of knowledge that Art has about nature. I find it dates back to his childhood where he learned many things as he roamed through the fields woods, fished the streams, hunted, skated, and swam, and worked in the fields and around the homeplace. Seven brothers can learn a lot, and they had fun together.

Since I am interested in civic projects, I always look in every town for evidences of Beautification or Civic Improvement (Development). One that I was impressed with was on the outskirts of Sayre, Okla., an automobile agency, where both new and used cars were sold, had very neat and attractive grounds. The new idea was the plantings which had been made around the electric, and telephone poles, on the frontage of their property. The grass was well cared for and the plantings around the poles were red and white Vinca (Periwinkle). Their lovely star-like flowers, and the glossy foliage was pretty. This is a plant which is used extensively in Oklahoma, because it is drought resistant, and does not need much care. Other flowering shrubs were the Altheas, (Rose o Sharon) and then petunias were used in many areas, as were dahlias. Plantings were made in gardens, and even along the highway right-o-way near homes. In the resort areas many of the cottages had well developed landscapes, and with the native trees and shrubs were most attractive.

Enroute to Ten-Killer, we made a brief stop with an aunt at Shawnee (Dot Owen Hunter). She has three huge pecan trees, in which many birds find refuge and a nesting place. Art found a number of lovely birds in her garden, and I thrilled at the lacy ferns, colorful begonias, & bright geraniums. Some were planted in hanging baskets, others in window boxes, and near the watering and feeding stations for the birds.

On nature trails some of the wild flowers in bloom were snow-on-the-mountain, iron weed thistles (lavendar) golden rod, sunflower, and broom weed. Many of these I have known from childhood. When a child, in our play-house, we always took great pride in a fine broom made of the broom weeds the tiny yellow florets also made pretty decorations for the chocolate mud cakes, and pies. Quite elaborate, if not so tasty.

In each of the states I soon saw that the Koshier weed was most prolific. Sometimes they would completely conceal the fence rows. This weed is indeed one of the bad enemies of the farmers. Seems a unified war is going to have to be waged against them. There was another weed which I noticed, did not learn its name. It was very pretty (if a weed can be pretty) and made a very attractive hedge. However, I do not believe it had been raised especially for such.

We spent some time in Winfield, Kansas. It is a very old town, and historically most interesting. Stories of Indians, and the bad-men are kept alive by the re-telling of them, museums, etc. The old part of town where there were many four storied homes, was attractive. The houses had been well preserved, and on many new paint glistened, and shutters framed the long windows. Many of the houses were framed by Elm trees, which were old as some of the stories told. As we left town we traveled down as shadowed street, over which the limbs of the trees made their spread and interlinked. So pretty and restful, only Art became so enthralled he drove through a red light. Glad the traffic was light. Since I was traveling with three who knew much about Kansas, I listened attentively to what was said relative to the historical events, and looked carefully at places or objects to which they called my attention. However was GLAD when we had some delicious peaches gathered from the orchards. They were so good I could have eaten them morning, noon and at night. Was told that Hays, Kansas is the capitol of the greatest peach producing area in the USA.

The rains came and cooled the earth, and made traveling and fishing much more enjoyable. Was GOOD to go, and will have many cherished memories which will be stored up to be relived on long winter evenings. BEST OF ALL was returning to 303 Westhaven Drive, which was really wonderfully BEAUTIFUL to us. . . it was HOME. Our hats are off, to Jimmie, Dorothy, Joe and neighbors for the care of everything while we were away. THANKS a Million.

Luncheon Honors Bride-Elect

A luncheon honoring Miss Laura Higgins was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hickman. Miss Higgins's marriage to Thomas Scott Geiser of Amarillo is set Aug. 31 at the First Presbyterian Church in Hereford.

Streamers of blue and violet with corsages at each place decorated the table.

Guests included the prospective bride's mother, Mrs. Jack Higgins, and her grandmother, Mrs. Laura Higgins. The prospective bridegroom's family was represented by his mother, Mrs. Paul Geiser of Amarillo, and his sister, Mrs. Raymond Moore of Hereford.

Also present were Miss Nancy Smith, the maid of honor, Mrs. Garland Solomon and Miss Diana Hickman.

closing in on the litterbug. Keep America Beautiful, Inc., the national anti-litter organization, reports that 35 states now have their own statewide litter-prevention programs, some sponsored by state governments and some by private groups. There were no such state organizations 15 years ago when KAB (Keep America Beautiful) was founded. Many of the nation's larger cities have their own anti-litter programs. KAB also works with 6,000 to 7,000 local groups, such as garden clubs, (The Hereford Garden Club has been active in this Anti-litter since its organization) women's and youth groups and civic, service and educational organizations, that conduct anti-litter projects at the community level in all 50 states. The village, city, county, state and national levels are waging an unprecedented campaign of public education to lessen littering. Allen H. Seed Jr., KAB's executive vice-president is high in his praise of the participating organizations.

As home-owner and citizens of one of the best hometowns in the nation, let us tighten up on our activities, and CUT THE WEEDS. There are weeds in town that are almost comparable in size to some of our trees. THIS should NOT be. Watch for and destroy the bag worms. They are especially bad on some of the evergreens and most of them can be picked and burned.

If you are planning to sow a new lawn, be sure that the soil has been properly prepared. That the weeds and other foreign growths have been killed. It is MOST important that the soil be kept moist after the seed has been sown. This will promote good germination and an abundant stand. Take care of the tiny new grass. . . it will need much care, but when one succeeds in having a pleasing lawn, they have made quite an accomplishment. The lawn is basic in the landscape design, and sets the background for other plantings, as well as framing the house. Water established lawns and other plants THOROUGHLY or not at all. Shallow watering or sprinkling brings roots to the surface and they dry out much quicker.

NEED A SCOOP? Take a plastic bottle, of whatever size you wish the scoop, cut around the handle of the bottle, and there you have it a useful garden gadget. For a continuous bloom on the annuals, keep all old dried blooms picked. If, however, you wish to save for seed — the mature seed pods, let only the best blossoms mature, and it is advisable to cover these with a plastic bag, puncture plastic, and when completion of maturity is reached cut the seed pod, with bag attached, and store for next year's planting.

This may be a bit late, but a horticulture friend says, that, "mildew can be controlled by dusting with sulphur every two weeks, beginning in mid-July. This is especially recommended for zinnias. Late zinnias can be planted in a protected area for late blooms. Plant shallow, and keep moist for quick growth." Keep smiling and others will be Glad.

By MELVIN YOUNG
Jay Boston, and his Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, has been quite active this year with a number of projects; two of particular interest.

Jay is trying to promote a series of dams along the Tierra Blanca Creek as well as trying to get some system of markings on the county roads. He is making progress on both projects.

Tierra Blanca Creek has become quite a problem over the past 10 years and it's about time that we did something to correct it. No doubt you will remember the rhubarb created a couple of years ago by the State Water Quality Control Board concerning the pollution of Buffalo Lake. Of course the finger was pointing towards Hereford and Tierra Blanca Creek.

Although we got some unfair treatment during the fuss, it would hardly be sensible to stick our heads in the sand and deny that we have a problem along Tierra Blanca. The city fathers are doing their best to correct whatever situation might have existed — or perhaps still does — on the city's sewer farm, and the local feedlot operators and vegetable people have made a tremendous effort to correct their problems.

But pollution isn't the easiest thing to control and it's going to take a concerted effort on the part of all people. Mr. Boston points out however, that with a series of dams along the creek, much of the pollutants that might otherwise get to Buffalo Lake will settle along the creek or disappear completely in time. Water going over the top of the dams should be relatively free of pollutants.

Also, we could expect to have a few fish in the creek again. We keep thinking of Andy Kershen who put in three low-water dams a few years back and reports that he and his family have a big time fishing in the creek. Other land owners could enjoy the same.

If you like the idea, let Jay know and give him and his committee a little support. With enough people pushing, the job can be done.

Jay's committee is also looking into the possibility of naming, and marking, all the county roads. Of course this would be a big job and one that would probably have to be done by the county. Deaf Smith County covers a lot of territory and that's a tremendous number of road markers, so it's not something that can be done overnight.

Anyone who has ever gone to the country looking for a particular home and not being familiar with the country roads would certainly appreciate a little help from markers. It's a worthwhile project and we hope the group will get all the support they need.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

How To Feed A Crowd

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
Planning a meal for about 200 persons is no big task for Mrs. Ira Ott; she's used to it.

HER PART IN preparing the Harvest Dinner, annual benefit for the American Legion Auxiliary which is scheduled at noon today, is being repeated for the tenth time, as well as she can remember the starting date of the event.

Not only the Harvest Dinner, but other meals which Legion Auxiliary members serve to crowds as one way of supporting community service projects, are often cooked and served under her leadership to win a high reputation among area residents who like good home-cooked food.

Mrs. Ott has been a Legion Auxiliary member about 35 years, since soon after her marriage to a veteran of the famed Lafayette Escadrille of World War I. She has served in various local and district offices and for a number of years has been district chairman of service to hospitalized war veterans.

THAT IS HER chief interest at present, but she has always been an enthusiastic backer of the Legion and Auxiliary programs for youth. One of those, a scholarship fund, benefits from the Harvest Dinners.

Mrs. Ott is in charge of meat and bread for this year's dinner, working with Mrs. J. D. Love as co-chairman.

A big attraction at the meal, which features food produced in this area, is the homemade bread. Crusty loaves of white bread are coming out of Mrs. Ott's freezer today and cornbread will be baked during the dinner and served piping hot.

Freezing does no damage to the flavor of the lightbread, but as a Southerner Mrs. Ott believes in serving cornbread fresh from the oven. Hot and buttered, it is a tasty accompaniment to vegetables grown in this area and cooked in a variety of ways, which give the dinner its name.

MRS. OTT prepares cornbread mix the day before, using a recipe supplied by Mrs. Tom Draper from Texas Extension Service files, but adapting it to her own idea of good cornbread, a taste acquired as a West Texas farm girl.

The mix is then used to make small amounts of batter at a time, and demands from the diners keep one person busy mixing and baking the bread during the meal. Here is the recipe, useful for a family as well as for meals on a wholesale scale.

CORNBREAD MIX

- 9 cups cornmeal
- 3 cups white flour
- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 tb. salt
- 8 tb. baking powder

Mix these ingredients well and store until ready to use. Then prepare batter for cornbread for one meal:

- ¾ cups mix
- 1 egg
- 2 tb. shortening
- 1 cup milk

Stir well and cook in greased pan or muffin tins. Bake 30 minutes at 400 to 425 degrees. This amount makes one 7 x 7-inch panful.

MEAT FOR THE Harvest Dinner is traditionally roast beef, produced like the vegetables and most bread and dessert ingredients, in Deaf Smith County and its neighborhood.

The beef is cut in 10-pound roasts, de-boned, and Mrs. Ott cooks them the morning of the dinner. She simply salts the fresh meat, adds a few bay leaves for flavor, and puts it in a 325-degree oven early in the morning.

She allows 25 to 30 minutes per pound for cooking, but checks the meat and removes it from the oven before it is overcooked. Drippings are used to make delicious gravy just before the meal.

GROWING UP ON a farm in Childress County, Mrs. Ott was Pet Finch, one of a family of 10 girls and one boy. She attended school in Childress until her family moved to this area in 1929 and lived in the Wyche community.

She was married the next year, before her parents moved on to the South Plains. A former 4-H Club girl in her school days, she joined Wyche Home Demonstration Club as a young matron.

Filling offices in her own club and the County H. D. Council, she won the H. D. Woman of the Year Award and second year it was offered in Deaf Smith County.

IN ADDITION to the Legion Auxiliary, she is a member of its subsidiary, the 8 and 40, an honorary organization to which members are elected in recognition of special services. She is also in the Ladies Auxiliary of World War I Veterans here and is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

The Otts recently returned from a trip to the West Coast and attendance Aug. 1-3 at the convention of Lafayette Escadrille veterans. Pet Ott was one of five wives who attended 15 veterans of the dashing group which flew their flimsy planes in the first air war in history. The vets came from over the U. S., from Hawaii to New Hampshire, the Otts report.

Several pictures of teachers did not run with the stories in the back-to-school issue of Sunday's Hereford Brand and are included in today's paper.

They are G. C. Graves, Mrs. Rosemary Shackelford, Mrs. Julia Cassanda and Mrs. Mike King.

Graves, 51, will teach distributive education in high school. He received his BA in 1938 from Howard Payne and his ME in 1960 from Texas Tech.

Mrs. Shackelford, 21, will teach English at La Plata Junior High. She was graduated in 1968 from Abilene Christian College.

Mrs. Cassanda, 21, will teach in the third or fourth grade at Northwest Elementary. She received her BS in 1968 from West Texas State University.

Mrs. King will teach social studies at La Plata Junior High.

Adolescence for chimpanzees, as for humans, is a trying time, a National Geographic research project learned. With a male chimp, puberty begins at 7 or 8 years. At this age he starts to leave his mother for longer and longer periods, although throughout adolescence he frequently returns to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Garlitz announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Reena, to Sammy Branson Kennedy of Hereford, son of Mrs. Helen Johnson of Portales, N. M. The wedding is planned for September 21.

Two Parties Are Given For Bride

Parties complimenting Miss Tuesday in Amherst, home town of her fiancé, John Stokes, who included two the past week in other cities, one a tea-shower

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, Aug. 22 1968. The home of Mrs. Harvey Messamare at Amherst was the scene of the pretty tea, which had 26 friends of the Stokes family as hostesses. Mrs. Clara Stokes, mother of the prospective bridegroom, introduced Miss Gripp and her mother, Mrs. Spicer Gripp of Hereford, to callers.

Colors selected by Miss Gripp for her wedding appointed the table. A floral piece of pink gladiolas and tapers was set on the white linen cloth. Pink punch was served with cakes ornamented in bell motif. A luncheon Friday in the Gold Room of Hemphill-Wells store at Lubbock, where Miss Gripp has been a summer student in Texas Tech, had table decorations in the same colors, with carnations as the flowers. Mrs. Robb Harrison, grandmother of Miss Mary Sue Alkire, who will be maid of honor in the wedding, was hostess. Miss Gripp and Mr. Stokes are to be married here August 29, and will live in Mt. Vernon. The Marlboro Music Festival in Vermont will open its 18th season on July 6. Pablo Casals, renowned 91-year-old cellist and conductor, will be in residence for the eighth summer since 1960.

Hereford Flying And Agriculture

Flying Service Works To Benefit Farmers

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

In 1960, Gerald Martin came to work for Hereford Flying Service from Lubbock, working for them about five years as a pilot before he bought the organization and changed the name to Hereford Flying and Agricultural Service.

Field man Wylie Thomas Jr., or better known around the shop as "Peep", has been with the service for about a year and is a cousin of Martin. He usually looks after the field, checking for insects and also helps Martin in flagging when they are extremely busy spraying.

"Cotten," or J. M. Sturdivant, has been a commercial pilot with the company for over two years and another pilot Lynn McLarty, former band director at LaPlata Junior High, is spraying for the first time this year for Martin.

Martin and Sturdivant both have around the same years of experience in this business. Berton Brooks, an uncle of Martin, does everything and anything around the place. He is a pilot, but he helps mostly with field checking and keeping the airplanes maintained.

Tommy Coons is another full time worker for Martin. Coons isn't a pilot but spends most of his time mixing chemicals and doing repair work.

Runways and hangers are leased from Howard and Cameron Gault five miles west of town. This is where the planes and chemicals are kept. The office is in the home of Gerald Martin.

"Aerial spraying is a service to the farmer and a way of custom application of various chemicals in the form of insecticides and fungicides," explained Martin.

Spraying benefits a farmer in many ways, such as controlling the population of harmful insects in all kinds of crops in the Hereford area.

Application of chemicals in spraying is speedy and Hereford Flying has the equipment to make it just that. A plane can spray crops when it would be impossible for any other type of equipment to enter the field. Usually this means after a rain and a tractor couldn't do the job efficiently.

"The recent aphid infestation in milo that we have had in this area is an example," reflected Martin. "Speed was a factor, plus the fact that there was no compaction of ground or damage to the plant. It's a highly specialized field of endeavor and the flying part is some of the most difficult that there is. It consists of bringing the airplane within feet of the crop and avoiding the highlines, stand pipes, and other construction at the same time in order to apply the chemical to the crop properly."

In the business, the men use an aircraft made for aerial application. These airplanes usually roll out of the factory with one seat and a hopper for the chemical. The manufacturers are in constant search for new and improved ways to better a job and the new chemical formulations developed in this past year have been outstanding.

Chemical manufacturers aren't to be left behind in progress and are in constant search of newer and better chemicals to fight the various diseases and bugs.

An aerial application job is usually more difficult now than in times past because of diversification of crops. It is necessary for the applicator to have a good technical background to cope with the problems that arise.

Some of the equipment used at Hereford Flying Service consists of three planes, all Piper Pawnees called 235's. Two nurse tanks, called nurse tanks because they can be pulled behind a pickup or other truck. Two pickups are for general use such as flagging, pulling, or small errands.

"Keep in mind that this operation has to be flexible," comments Martin. "This means that we might be working in one field on beetles in one place, maybe north of town and on lettuce south of town. We have to be prepared."

The weather is a big factor in this business. It is necessary to have good weather for spraying. Just a little wind can knock off a job for a few days. It's also a big factor in controlling the population of insects. The insects depend of variable conditions, and if one insect depends on a hot dry summer and it's wet most of the time, this could deplete the population whereas the ones depending on damp weather will grow.

Normally, in spraying beetles, the common fungus, leaf spot, is sought, after. This fungus kills the leaves of the beetles and when the beet grows new leaves, it doesn't have any sugar supply. The chemical helps the beetles to hold their leaves as long as possible.

Lettuce generally is sprayed on a program, and for that matter, so are beets. Leaf hoppers are common insects that attack the lettuce or beet plants in the area of first growth. They actually transmit the disease to the plant. In beets, it is called curly top, and in lettuce, it's called aster yellows, but they are both caused by two different types of leaf hoppers.

"Finding cornear worms in lettuce is like finding a worm in an apple," stated Martin. "People don't usually like finding worms in their apples and what's worse if biting into an apple and finding half a worm."

The cornear worm wraps itself around the lettuce when it first begins to grow. As the head of lettuce grows, the worm ends up inside, then eats its way out. See FLYING SERVICE Page 2

Dedication ceremonies have been scheduled for Sunday, for the newly built Bovina Medical Clinic and will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The dedication address is to be given by Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith with open house to be from 4 to 7 p.m.

Bovina Community residents have extended invitations to everyone to attend the ceremonies.

County Agents To Attend Meet

County Agriculture Agent Justin McBride, Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper and assistant Home Demonstration Agent Rita Huckert will attend a state conference at Texas A & M University, August 26-30.

The occasion is for all employees of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to have a get-together with their families. Theme of the conference, said Extension Director John E. Hutchison noted that participants, including county as well as area and state-based specialists, would have an opportunity to select and attend three special program sessions.

He also said that the conference would be a large one. All 23 sessions will cover many major subject-matter areas and were planned not only to present new information in the various fields but also to illustrate a variety of Extension programming and educational techniques which have been successfully used.

The director said that all morning general sessions during the conference would be held at Sbisla Hall and would feature at least one outstanding speaker. See COUNTY Page 5

Older Persons Must Be Hired If They Qualify

COLLEGE STATION — Job discrimination against older persons (40 to 65 years) is outlawed. The Federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act went into effect June 12.

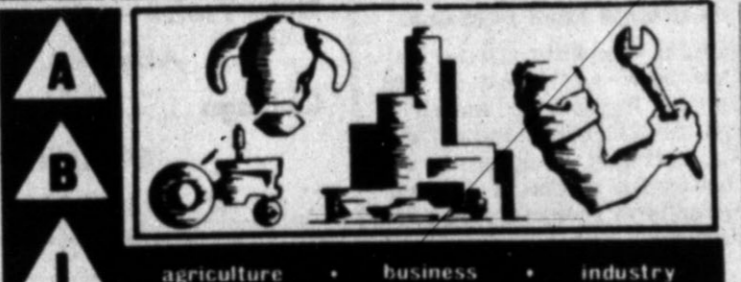

The law forbids employers in industry affecting interstate commerce to "fail or refuse to hire or to discharge or to otherwise discriminate against any individual with respect to his compensations, terms, conditions or privileges of employment because of such individual's age," says Minnie Bell, Extension family life specialist.

It also forbids employers to "limit, segregate or classify" workers because of age or "to reduce the wage rate of any employee in order to comply" with the law, according to the Texas A&M University specialist.

The few exceptions include a bona fide "occupational qualification required for normal business operation," or in existing or new seniority systems; in benefit programs and for discipline or discharge for a good reason.

In asking for the legislation, President Johnson said that $750 million a year went into unemployment insurance payments annually to workers 45 years and older. Thousands have found "themselves jobless because of arbitrary age discrimination."

Over 800,000 persons between the ages of 40 to 64 were unemployed at some time during 1967, reports Miss Bell.

Pesticide Misuse May Cause Woes

COLLEGE STATION — Contamination of food crops by pesticides may not always be the producer's fault, because of unknown residues left in the soil, Dr. H. Wyman Dorough, associate professor in the entomology department of Texas A & M University, says.

Chemical pesticides used on a crop such as cotton to control insects can show up in food crops later planted on the land. Many of the pesticides in the chlorinated hydrocarbon category, such as DDT, Endrin and Dieldrin, can remain in the soil for years and contaminate food crops if the soil is not thoroughly tested, he says.

"In most cases contamination of food crops can be traced back to misuse of pesticides by farmers, but often it can be a case of residue problems," the professor continues.

Food crops can take in pesticide residues in two ways — direct contact with soil-bound chemicals in such a crop as carrots, and uptake or translocation into the plant with a crop like soybeans.

The amount of residue and its possible availability depend on the type of chemical, the type of soil and the individual crop susceptibility, according to Dorough. Some of the chemicals are very stable, while others can be broken down easily by soil organisms, weathering and leaching.

Such crops as peanuts, soybeans and some vegetables are among the most susceptible, and soil chemical analysis, coupled with a thorough knowledge of the history of the farmland, are the best bets to avoid possible contamination and later seizure of the crop by authorities, he points out.

Forage crops contaminated by these chemicals can also be a problem, especially if fed to poultry or dairy animals. In fact, many livestock producers are now asking for certificates which guarantee the feed they are buying is free from pesticide residues, Dorough adds.

Computing Firm Names President

Agricultural Computing Company Board of Directors have named Don L. Wilson, a Dallas marketing and management expert, to the post of president.

Bill Nelson, chairman of the board made the announcement immediately after a special meeting of the stockholders and directors at the Southwest Public Service Company service center at 48th and Bell in Amarillo Saturday.

Agricultural Computing Company is the Amarillo based company recently formed to provide on-line, real-time, time-sharing computer service to feed lots, farm management offices and Plains and other commercial agricultural areas.

According to Nelson, Agricultural Computing Company is completing arrangements to purchase and has already expanded Computer Data Company, operated by Morris Easley at Hereford, and expects to make other similar acquisitions and establish other farm centered computing facilities.

NFO Members Plan Meetings

Two meetings are on the agenda of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization and are to be held in Hereford, members have announced.

The meetings, scheduled to take place on the 30th of August and the 21st of Sept., are for the purpose of better acquainting the area people of the purposes of the NFO. The first meeting will be held in the Hereford Community Center and is set to begin at 9 a.m. while the Sept. meeting will be held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn and will begin at the same time.

Businessmen and all local residents are invited to attend the August 30 meeting where NFO members plan to conduct a question and answer session concerning the organization.

The Sept. 21 meeting, having been tagged "Golden Dollar For the Golden Spread," is open to residents of the Panhandle, South Plains, Oklahoma Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico. At this meeting, there will be a free barbecue with beef, potatoes and beans to be provided by local farmers.

Also expected at the latter meeting is Erhard Phingston, vice-president of the National Farmers Organization, who will speak concerning the organization. NFO president, Oren Lee Stanley is reported to possibly be at the meeting also.

Now owning an approximate membership of around 100 persons, NFO is shooting to be the largest organization of any kind in the county and to help the farmers raise the prices of their products through collective bargaining.

Wilson, the newly elected President, for the past four years has been director of marketing for Frigiking Company, a division of Cummins Diesel Engine Company. During his tenure at Frigiking, Wilson is credited with leadership which pushed annual sales from $1,850,000 to over $6,000,000. In addition to Wilson's past achievements, Nelson said that "This is the kind of management and marketing experience we were looking for in a president. We are an 'agricultural' and a 'computing' company and our new officer claims no expertise in either, but both technologies are represented on ACC's broad based board and additional technology in both can be obtained through staff development under contract. It is "sound marketing and management" on which the new company and the service it can render hinges. "For this reason, we welcome Don L. Wilson to the management team."

In other action at the Agricultural Computing Company stockholders meeting on Saturday, permanent officers were named and the permanent board increased from three to 12 members. Officers named are Bill Nelson, Amarillo, chairman of the board; Keith LaFon, Amarillo, secretary; Tom Brooks, Dallas and Amarillo, treasurer. Nelson is Executive Vice President of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Brooks is chairman of the board of Data Automation Company and LaFon represents First Management Trust.

Other permanent members of the Board of Directors named are Sam A. Thomas, Jr., Walker H. Bateman, III, and Robert C. Hill, all of Amarillo; Virgil Marsh and Morris Easley of Hereford; Clare Brilhart of Perryton; Bruce Parr of Friona and Joe Harrison of Dallas.

Agriculture Briefs

QUOTABLE FACTS — Since the end of World War II, our population has grown by 55 million or 37 percent. Our gross national product went from $280 billion to more than $800 billion. More than 20 million people left the countryside for the city. A third of the total population left the city and settled in suburbia. Nearly 3 million farmers disappeared in the technological revolution that swept — and is still sweeping — through agriculture. Now 7 out of 20 Americans live on just 2 percent of the land and only 57 million people — less than 3 out of 10 — live on 98 percent of the land.

GRAIN SORGHUM HARVESTING HINTS — Weeds in grain sorghum may cause trouble at harvest time, says Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer. Wet weather has caused excessive growths of Johnsongrass and careless weeds in many fields. He says it may be necessary to operate the combine at a slower speed in order to handle the tough, high-moisture weeds. Closer attention to the care and maintenance of the combine is also suggested.

MORE ON FARM SITUATION — From 1960-67, the number of farms in the U. S. declined 23 percent. But, while total sales declined by 27 percent; those in the $2,500 to $4,999 sales category declined 42 percent and those in the $5,000 to $9,999 declined 32 percent during the period, those with farm sales of $10,000 to $20,000 decreased only 1 percent. And those with farm sales of $20,000 to $40,000 increased by 40 percent; and those with sales over $40,000 and more rose by 62 percent.

The USDA report said farms in the largest three categories accounted for only 31.5 percent of all farms in 1967, they accounted for 85.1 percent of cash receipts from farming, more than 75 percent of the realized net income from farming.

TEXAS CALF CROP UP — The Texas calf crop is expected to total 4,911,000 head. This compares with 4,876,000 head in 1967. The 1968 crop, says the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, will be the highest on record since estimates began in 1924. Cows and heifers 2 years old and older on January 1 numbered 5,710,000 or 1 percent more than a year earlier.

Style Show Will Be Held Tonight

Fashions for the coming year will be modeled during Gaston's fifth annual Back-to-School Style Show tonight at 7:30 in the Hereford High School auditorium.

Two themes of the style show sponsored jointly by Gaston's and Hereford High School are "Campus Thing" and "Bonnie and Clyde."

Tickets are being sold by cheerleaders at Gaston's locations downtown and Sugarland Mall. Price for adults is $1 and children, 50 cents. All proceeds will go into HHS activity fund. Clothes will be modeled by 75 high school girls in the junior division and 65 younger models in the children's division.

All background work for the show has been done by cheerleaders. Gaston's is furnishing back-to-school fashions for the show.

Crops Tour Set For Sept. 20

All day tour of crops and luncheon barbecue sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Crops and Conservation Committee is set for Sept. 20 in Hereford.

Numerous out-of-town guests are expected at the all-day affair, Justin McBride, county agriculture agent, said. McBride is urging all businessmen and farmers to attend part, if not all, of the field day and tour.

Events begin at 9:30 a.m. in the County Bull Barn. Most of the afternoon will be devoted to crop demonstrations as they relate to fertilizer, weed control and other phases of agriculture. Dinner speaker will be Howard Boswell, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board. He will speak on behalf of the local Water Inc. group about the Texas Water plan.

The survey, conducted in North Carolina, showed that the wife's job can subtract up to half her salary.

Extension home management specialists with Texas A&M University pointed to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture survey conducted to find out what expenses wives have in connection with employment and how their employment affects their home management practices.

The survey, conducted in North Carolina, showed that the wife's net income — her earnings minus direct and extra job-related expenses — amounted to about three-fifths of the original pay check for a family with school-age children the employed wives netted only about one-half of their pay check.

The extra expenses varied with city and country families, said the management specialists. The average directly related expenses totaled about $850. This includes taxes, transportation to and from work, meals and snacks at work, and gifts and donations at work.

Extra expenditures made by employed wives for paid services averaged about $350 for those with preschool-age children and about $120 for those with school-age children and about $27 for an all-adult household.

Extra clothing and personal care added to the figures. The specialists also pointed out that families with employed wives tended to use installment credit more liberally than those with unemployed wives.

A wife's employment brought no major change in eating-out practices in the survey but employed wives used more paid services for household tasks than unemployed wives.

NEBRASKA CATTLEMEN — Around 75 cattle feeders from Nebraska were in Hereford touring the Hereford Feed Yards Monday as part of two-day Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle tour. The purpose of the tour was to give the Nebraskans a better insight of the most rapidly developing cattle feeding area in the nation.

Texas Democrats To Cause Stir At Chicago Convention

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Texas Democratic party politics are in the national spotlight again — this time at Chicago during the national Demo convention.

Hearings were scheduled Wednesday (Aug. 21) before the convention credentials committee on a liberal group's demand that the Texas delegation led by Gov. John Connally be reconstituted to insure proportional representation of ethnic groups.

Texas Democrats for an Open Convention also asked for scrapping of the unit rule under which all the state's delegates are bound to vote as the majority determines. Delegates were instructed at the state convention in Dallas June 11 to vote for Connally as favorite son candidate for president until he releases them. After release, all 104 votes under unit rule probably will go to Hubert Humphrey.

TDCC in a brief filed with the credentials committee, demands 50 seats — 48 per cent of the delegation. Proportional representation is asked for Negroes, Mexican-Americans and non-conservative loyal Democrats who have always supported the party. Delegation now includes six Negro delegates and 11 alternates and five Mexican American delegates and five alternates. TDCC claims they are "unrepresentative of their communities."

Most active TDCC members are supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy for president. McCarthy backers also have filed challenges in Alabama, Connecticut, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Georgia and Washington.

Decision of the committee will not be known until next week, and challenges likely will go to the convention floor. Connally forces maintain the Texas delegation is representative and was selected at a fair state convention which they controlled 2,835 votes to 499.

TEXAS REPUBLICAN PARTY POLITICS — Despite the fact that only two Republican presidential nominees have ever carried Texas, Richard Nixon's chances appear to be as high as 50-50 — depending largely on whom the Democrats nominate.

First successful Republican in Texas was Herbert Hoover in 1928, carrying the state by 367,000 votes to 341,000 Dwight Eisenhower was the only other GOPer to win a majority of Texans, in 1952 and 1956.

However, there are several factors which could shake up Texas' habit of going with the Democrat. One is the fact that, in 1960, Nixon missed carrying the state by a slim 46,000 votes — and with Lyndon Johnson the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

And since Hubert Humphrey — almost certain to be the Democratic nominee — is known as being even more liberal than John F. Kennedy and Johnson.

There are approximately 1,800 thunderstorms raging around the world at any given moment.

Texas' traditionally conservative-to-moderate voters could easily find Nixon more attractive.

This should be especially true since Nixon picked Maryl and Gov. Spiro Agnew for the No. 2 spot on his ticket, and the two appear to be running a "law and order campaign" to offset the influence of American Party Candidate George Wallace.

Also of course, Nixon will have the challenger's advantage of being able to attack the incumbent administration on touchy issues — in this case, the war in Vietnam, the monetary crisis and the racial situation in big cities.

On the other hand, Humphrey will have several pluses in his column when Texans go to vote in November. One could be his vice-presidential pick, who many people think Governor Connally has a good shot at.

Another will be Wallace's candidacy. As an extreme right-winger, Wallace will probably draw considerably more votes away from Nixon than from Humphrey, and some estimates of Wallace's vote are as high as 50 per cent in West and East Texas and 30 per cent in Central Texas.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally named Judge Tom Reavley of Austin to fill out the term of Associate Justice James R. Norvell on the Texas Supreme Court. Norvell, who did not seek re-election, resigned effective October 10, so Reavley can begin his work at the start of the new fall term. Reavley is the unopposed Democratic nominee for the high court post.

Connally appointed Abilene Attorney Tom Gordon to succeed W. D. (Bill) Noel of Odessa as chairman of the State Liquor Control Board.

William Neal Blanton Jr. of Houston is Connally's selection to serve out the unexpired term of the late Judge Ben Moorhead on the 11th district court in Harris County. Blanton is the Democratic nominee for the job and unopposed.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee to chair an interim committee to study the relationship between vending-machine operators and taverns. Legislation may be needed to control the takeover of liquor establishments by money-lending vendors, he said.

Barnes also appointed a special committee to study the legal, ethical and moral aspects of human-organ transplants with an eye to recommending changes in Texas law. Members are Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston chair man; Dr. Robert D. Bloodwell of Houston; Philip R. Overton, Austin; Dr. Charles A. LeMaistre, Austin; Wyatt H. Heard, Houston; and State Reps. Lamoine Holland, San Antonio; D. C. Howard, Uvalde; Fred Orr of DeSoto and Carl A. Parker, Port Arthur.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Senate's failure during special session to confirm appointment of J. C. Looney, Edinburg, to the Public Safety Commission did not invalidate his appointment, Attr. Gen. Crawford Martin has held, Martin said. Looney remains a member of the body, since the Senate didn't act one way or another on the governor's selection.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: —Rio Grande City Independent School District can issue tax bonds to finance part, but not all, of a new assembly hall-library-classroom-clinic complex with federal Economic Development Administration aid.

— Property owners can't cut the fence of another to gain access to an alleged county road unused for 20 years, except where egress and ingress have been denied to one living in an enclosure of fencing. Public roads remain as such although unused, unless rights of public are cut off by county commissioners court, adverse possession by land owner or common law abandonment.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT — Railroad Commission again cut oil allowable, to 41.3 per cent of potential for September.

Factor will permit maximum production of 3,213,193 barrels daily, compared with 3,414,999 in August under 44.8 per cent allowable. Eight of 14 major purchasers of Texas crude requested less oil next month than in August. Four asked no change. Two requested increase.

VOCATIONAL ED COMMITTEE MEETS — A Senate vocational-technical education study committee heard testimony that industry needs workers who are skilled with tools but who also have sound academic education.

Committee is formulating its recommendations to the next legislature.

Meanwhile, Texas Research League has advised that vocational rehabilitation service and management remain in Texas Education Agency framework rather than a separate agency.

SEWAGE - TREATMENT GRANTS — Eighty-five Texas cities have filed applications totaling $12,235,000 for $10 million worth of federal grants to help local governments build sewage-treatment facilities.

Most of the grants will be for 33 per cent of the total project price, with the local governments furnishing the remainder of the funds.

Texas Water Quality Board administers the program for the U.S.

COMMUNITY ACTION AGENCIES — U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity will continue to recognize the seven local Community-action agencies which Attorney General Martin says are illegally constituted until legal action is taken to disqualify them.

County commissioners courts participated in the organization of the seven agencies and Martin's opinion said Texas law would not allow counties to take official part in such activities.

OBSCENITY LAW STANDS — U. S. District Judge Adrian A. Spears has held valid the Texas anti-obscenity law, which uses the "contemporary community standards" of "the average person."

Attorney General Martin, whose office defended in the San Antonio suit, said he will ask the next Legislature to strengthen the law, removing exceptions for foreign films and films in interstate commerce. He also wants authority to get injunctions to stop the showing of films which might be offensive.

This ruins the lettuce completely.

Destructive cabbage loopers also eat inside. They eat the leaves of cabbage or lettuce making it a lower grade.

Leaf miners are another type of insects that attack small plants, causing it to die or damp off and causing a loss of crop.

Chinzo bugs attack grass and grain crops. They are destructive to wheat and milo and most harmful when the plant starts grainling out.

The grain midge attacks heads of grain or milo and depletes the number of grain in the head and reduces the yield of grain. "The insect world is a story in itself," stated Martin. "I hate to get to far off in the insect world but those are a few of the fungi and bugs that we spray for in this area."

Chemicals used in fighting these insects can be divided in classes. They would come as carbohydrates, phosphates, herbicides, and fungicides.

Carbohydrates are used for worms. It has a stomach poison that the insect eats and it kills them internally.

Organic phosphages kill the insects in several ways by contact and giving off fumes. Occasionally it's used as a sto-

Diocesan Rural Life Day Draws Large Crowd To Vega

Approximately 90 persons attended the Diocesan Rural Life Day held Sunday afternoon in the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall and the supper that followed.

In his talk on "Water Development For West Texas," Andrew Kershen of Hereford said, "West Texas is too great a farming region to let it go dry. It is the largest continuous irrigation area in the world, and some day, the nation, the world will need the food we produce."

Continuing, Kershen related, "At the present time West Texas has a larger income from farm products than 45 other states, with only 5 1/2 million acres under irrigation. With imported water we will have nearly three times that many irrigated acres, and we have the farmers who can handle this increase, with know-how and willingness to work."

Kershen explained, by use of a map, where the water would come from. "Some 500 million acre feet of water a year now flows into the Gulf of Mexico, near New Orleans, and we only need 15 million acre feet — a two weeks flow, so there is plenty of water available in lower Louisiana, and East Texas, that we will probably not have to use water from the Mississippi River itself."

"It is no longer a dream to bring water to West Texas, it is only a matter of time. It is important that we complete this mac poison.

Herbicides are weed killers and fungicides are designed to combat fungus diseases.

Chemicals are highly dangerous to handle and possible the worst is the organic phosphates. Operators try to use all the safety precautions necessary in handling them.

project by 1960." All were invited to attend the Deaf Smith County Crop Tour Day on Sept. 20 and the water meeting on Oct. 5.

Orval Williams, a representative of Farmland Industries from Waco, who substituted for Leonard Willems, spoke on "Co-operatives." In 1929, the first Cooperative was organized by six or seven companies forming the old Union Oil Co. He traced the progress from the beginning in 1929, to the present day operations of "Farmland Industries."

In 39 years, the cooperatives have expanded from its modest beginning into a $365 million industry, and have returned $98 million to their farmer-members. "Are Cooperatives Big Business?" The answer is "Yes, but not as big as it can be."

"A Bright Future For The Farms And Cities Of Rural America —" Migration of farm families, to the cities, is on. By the thousands, people are leaving the fresh air, peace and tranquility of rural america for the strife and unrest and the air pollution of the cities."

"Fear that the family farm is falling encompasses many people," said Msgr. Edward O'Rourke, Executive Director of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, "and this is the critical period—1968 and the years to come."

Congressman Bob Price has color films on Vietnam and man's first walk in space available for group showings.

"Four Days in Gemini 4" is a 30 minute documentary of the record-breaking space flight by James A. McDivitt and the late Edward H. White.

The other film is one of a trip to Vietnam by Price and other members of a Congressional committee last January. The Vietnam film includes tours of several bases, helicopter scenes of combat zones and visits with Vietnam and Thailand villagers.

Either of the films, 16 mm sound-color, may be obtained for showing through the Amarillo Office of Congressman Price, Room 310 Post Office Building, Phone Drake 6-5151, Ext. 381.

Aerospace Science To Be Offered At HHS This Year

By VICKIE INMAN
Staff Writer

Aerospace science, a course leading into all facets of aviation, will be offered in high school this fall. Hereford High School is the only school in the Panhandle teaching the advanced course.

The additional science course is expected to open the way to careers in the expanding area of aerospace.

In connection with the course, the Hereford school district is attempting to buy a plane for $350 through the Army surplus. The plane will be used mainly as a teaching model.

Students serious about an aerospace education and career will have excellent opportunities through the Civil Air Patrol for special activities, including visits to the NASA program in Houston. CAP's foreign air cadet exchange allows such students to spend one summer month in a foreign country.

Other special activities are available through CAP, such as jet orientation, FAA orientation, free powered or glider training leading to a private pilot license and many college scholarships.

The beginning course covers 10 phases to be studied during the school year. Included are units in aviation history, aerodynamics, aircraft systems, meteorology, navigation, air traffic control, communications and federal aviation regulations, physiology of flight, rockets and missiles, problems of aerospace power and careers in aerospace.

Elective special projects will be provided for students with an above average interest in aerospace science. Such activities could include constructing models of aircraft, rockets, missiles, control towers, wind tunnels or airports.

Students may elect to construct an operational radio kit with transmitter, receiver and transceiver. They may learn the Morse code, memorize the international phonetic alphabet or learn hand signals for taxing aircraft for extra credit. Another direction may include making forecasts from weather observations.

Cost of the aerospace science course will be relatively small. Much of the equipment and many training aids will be obtained from Army and Air Force surplus, Robert Holman, assistant superintendent said.

Under the National Defense Education Act, text materials can be purchased at a lower cost. A vast library of free loan aviation and aerospace films is available through FAA, USAF, NASA and various aviation companies, Holman said.

Course costs for the first year of aerospace science in Burges High School, El Paso, including books, teaching aids, classroom and student equipment was approximately $900 for about 100 students, he said.

In a letter to the school district in March requesting approval of the science course, Holman wrote, "Within the next 10 years, it appears likely that aerospace education will be as common in our larger high schools as driver education. By Hereford getting an early start, we may have access to greater and varied quantities of surplus materials and equipment."

QUESTION: I want to make a dry well near my house. I plan on placing drain tiles from the house to the well. How far should the well be from the house?

ANSWER: At least 8 feet, preferably 15 feet.

QUESTION: The cold water pipes running along the ceiling of my basement drip from condensation every summer. Will an exhaust fan, placed in one of the basement windows, prevent the condensation?

ANSWER: A movement of air always helps to prevent condensation. But you could still have some trouble on a few days during the summer when the outside humidity is what we sometimes call "unbearable." Why not buy and apply one of the various types of coverings around the cold water pipes? Or, at least, consider this possibility if the exhaust fan doesn't fill the bill.

QUESTION: In a recent story about ceramic tiles, the term "trim units" was used. What does it mean?

ANSWER: Trim units are specially shaped pieces of tile that round off edges and turn corners. They are furnished by manufacturers to match their regular line of glazed wall, ceramic mosaic, quarry or paver tiles.

QUESTION: In selecting a paint roller, should I get one with a long or a short nap?

ANSWER: It depends on how it is being used. Use rollers with short naps for most walls, ceilings, woodwork and smooth concrete. Use rollers with long naps for brick, stucco, wire fences and other irregular surfaces.

HOW TO KEEP COOL ... M. THOMPSON

1. DRESS YOUR HOUSE UP FOR SUMMER WITH AWNINGS, ROOF OVERHANGS AND OTHER DEVICES WHICH PROTECT EXPOSED GLASS TO REDUCE THE AMOUNT OF HEAT FROM THE SUN THAT ENTERS YOUR HOME. REMEMBER, TOO, THAT ADEQUATE INSULATION NOT ONLY HELPS KEEP YOU WARM IN WINTER, BUT COOL IN SUMMER, AS WELL.

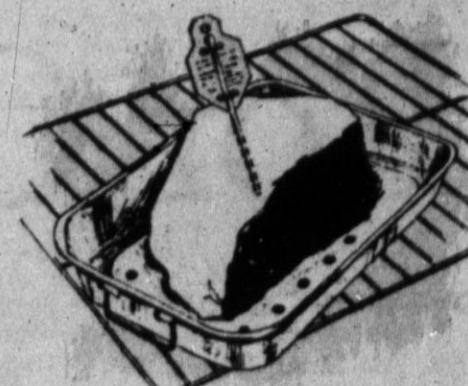

2. THE TEMPERATURE INSIDE YOUR HOME SHOULD BE KEPT SOMEWHERE BETWEEN 71° WITH 70% RELATIVE HUMIDITY AND 83½° WITH 30% RELATIVE HUMIDITY—WITH AIR VELOCITIES BETWEEN 15-35 FEET PER SECOND. STUDIES SHOW THAT THESE ARE THE TEMPERATURES AT WHICH PEOPLE ARE MOST COMFORTABLE AND DO THEIR BEST WORK.

3. TO KEEP YOUR HOME'S TEMPERATURE AS YOU WANT IT, THE COOLEST IDEA IN AIR CONDITIONING IS A GE TOP DISCHARGE, PRE-CHARGED UNIT WHICH COMBINES THE FLEXIBILITY OF THE SPLIT SYSTEM WITH THE ADVANTAGES OF A FACTORY-SEALED SINGLE PACKING UNIT. ADDED TO AN ADEQUATE WARM AIR SYSTEM, THE UNIT CAN BE INSTALLED WITH GE'S FACTORY-MADE "QUICK ATTACH" REFRIGERANT TUBING TO PROVIDE QUICK COOL COMFORT.

4. YOU CAN KEEP YOURSELF COOL—IN DOORS AND OUT—THIS SUMMER BY MOVING AND LIVING SLOWLY, WEAR LIGHTER WEIGHT, LIGHTER COLOR CLOTHING, CUT DOWN ON HEAVY MEALS, TAKE MORE REST BREAKS AND AVOID EMOTIONAL EXTREMES—ESPECIALLY WORRY AND ANGER. PROTECT YOURSELF FROM OLD MAN SOL WITH A BROAD-BRIMMED HAT IF YOU'RE GOING TO BE OUT-DOORS FOR ANY LENGTH OF TIME.

— was it yours? Did you know that your footprint identifies you almost as well as your fingerprint. The law uses it to trap the lawless. God uses it to show you where you were when you became conscience smitten. Your tracks tell on you... they give you away. You were where you should not have been and your tracks prove it. Your son was following your tracks when he got into serious trouble. Mr., you write either a good story or a bad one by the tracks you make. Why not resolve to walk toward the church next Sunday... any church... for they are all better than you. Every church in this community offers you a place to work, an opportunity to help others, and the privilege to make tracks for God. Then why not turn your tracks into a testimonial for the Lord, to be read of men, by printing them on the way that leads to church every Sunday.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q— Where may a person volunteer for induction?
A— A registered man may volunteer only at his own local board. If not registered, he may register, then volunteer, but only at the board having jurisdiction over his place of residence. He must be at least age 17.
Q— As a college senior, I hope to attend graduate school.

May I take my armed forces physical exam prior to graduation to determine acceptability so I can make plans accordingly?
A— If induction may occur shortly, the board may order you for the examination; such action is not mandatory, however. The board's first concern is to fill current and imminent calls from those classified as available for service. If time, space, and funds are available, the board may comply with your request. You should check with your own local board for a decision.

Q— If there is a substantial increase in calls from the Department of Defense, will those in class I-A be reclassified before those in III-A, or vice versa?
A— Neither. There is no prescribed sequence for review of classification. It is observed, however, that classification in class II-A is limited to one year. At the time of expiration, the case will be reopened and considered anew. The II-A may be continued if circumstances warrant, or a new classification given, if appropriate.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Miss Betty Ella Drager and Charles Thomas are to be married in September, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Drager Route 3, announce. Miss Drager was a Hereford High School graduate with the 1968 class and is employed at Oma Lee's House of Beauty. Mr. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Thomas of Dimmitt, is an employe of Boyd Machine and Supply here. He attended Dimmitt schools.

Sharon Seay Married At Littlefield

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Bagby Jr. are at home in Cleburne after their recent marriage in Littlefield and a short trip. Mrs. Bagby was Miss Sharon Ann Seay, a former Hereford resident, daughter of Mr. Bernard F. Seay of Littlefield and the late Rev. Bernard F. Seay.

The family lived here several years while Rev. Seay was pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, and Miss Seay attended Hereford schools. She has frequently visited friends since they moved from this city. The Vance Crume and Joe Merrill families of Hereford were among guests at the wedding.

First Methodist Church at Littlefield was the place of the service, read by the Rev. Wallace H. Kirby, pastor. The bride's cousin, Ray L. Savage of Arlington gave her in marriage and her sister, Miss Dona Seay, was her maid of honor.

The bridesmatron was Mrs. E. L. Dickens of Huntsville. R. E. Bagby of Tahoka attended his son as best man and Wendell Inman of Tahoka was groomsmen. Ushers were Eddie Barns of Denver City and Derrall Weaver of Lubbock; candles were lighted by Brent and Bryant Steward of Lubbock.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Rhea Bradley, vocalist, and Miss Pat Hinds, organist.

The bride wore an empire gown of white peau de soie with wide border of lace at the hemline and a lace train attached at the shoulder line. Her short veil was held by a butterfly bow of lace and she carried a white orchid and carnations on a bridal Bible.

Mrs. Bagby is a graduate of Littlefield High School and a business college, and has been employed in the personnel department of Methodist Hospital at Lubbock. Mr. Bagby, whose parents live in Tahoka, was graduated from high school there and from a Houston college of mortuary science. He is with the city police department at Cleburne.

ONE OF MY NEIGHBORS, Mrs. Joe Hamilton, spends a lot of time working in her yard, and not long ago I saw her early one morning sitting flat on the ground pulling weeds from the lawn. In contrast, she exemplified the other side of gardening when she stood a few days later on her shady front porch, carefully arranging blossoms in a tall vase.

Annual Ricketts Reunion Marks 62nd Anniversary

The annual Ricketts family reunion, held in the County Bull Barn Sunday, brought about 75 relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts and a number of friends together to honor the couple preceding their 62nd wedding anniversary.

The actual anniversary date is August 26; Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts were married on that day in 1906 and now number their descendants by the score, including 62 great-grandchildren. They are longtime residents of Hereford, living at 521 Ave. J since retirement from farming.

Five of the couple's children, with their wives and husbands, and one daughter-in-law were at the reunion. They are Messrs. and Mmes. Archie Daugherty of Clovis, N.M., Luke McBrayer of Dalhart, Howard Higgins of Texline, Clyde Russell of Hereford, Glenn Ricketts of Artesia, N.M., and Mrs. Mary Ella Ricketts of Portales.

Grandchildren and other relatives and their families present included the Don Kresge and Noel Daugherty families of Melrose, N.M.; the C. W. Daniels of Grady, N.M.; Don Treas family of Clovis, Bob Thurman family of Portales, Mark and Douglas Ricketts of Artesia.

Also the David Johnson and Jim Hall families of Dalhart, Loyd Milan and Eldredge Dixon families and Miss Jonnie Sue Higgins of Texline, Mrs. Doris Neely and children of Houston, the C. W. Fitzgeralds of Dimmitt, Albert Ricketts and Fred Mercer families and Claude Ricketts of Hereford.

You can make a delicious sandwich filling using flaked tuna, chopped or mashed hard-cooked eggs, sliced ripe olives, cut-up anchovy fillets and mayonnaise. Serve this sophisticated sandwich with chilled cucumber soup when guests come to lunch.

For summertime use you can team cooked frozen Brussels sprouts with canned whole water-packed chestnuts. Butter, salt, and pepper are the only seasonings needed.

New Amarillo-Clovis pipeline starting operations this week adds another dimension to Santa Fe's marketing and distribution arm.

The Santa Fe Pipeline Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Santa Fe Railway, has completed construction of a new 108-mile common carrier pipeline to handle jet fuel for Cannon Air Force Base at Clovis, as well as petroleum products for commercial users.

This multi-million dollar facility will have a maximum pipeline capacity of 7,200 barrels per day with storage at Clovis for 55,000 barrels of diesel fuel and 70,000 barrels of jet fuel. Amarillo will have storage for 20,000 barrels of diesel fuel and 20,000 barrels of jet fuel.

This new pipeline will provide more economical transportation for the marketing of petroleum in the busy areas of the southwest served by the distribution centers of Amarillo and Clovis.

Santa Fe has more than 8,750 huge 100-ton covered hopper cars (left photo). Each one can be loaded or unloaded in minutes, providing a fast, economical way to move mountains of bulk commodities such as grain, potash, cement, to market or manufacturing plant.

(Right photo) Containers now move from Santa Fe flat cars to and from ships to speed import and export traffic. You can reach Hawaii and the Orient faster through California ports because of more frequent sailings connecting with our fleet of fast freight trains.

Please don't think of us as just another railroad...

Santa Fe is the moving part of your marketing arm.

Santa Fe is moving:
 ... with new ideas, new equipment, new schedules and new transportation methods to make distribution and marketing easier.
 ... with new ways to help your planning staff gear Santa Fe facilities to your manufacturing and assembly line systems.

 ... we're moving faster to help you reach world markets more easily, by linking your plant with frequent sailings from busy California and Texas ports.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — The place where I eat lunch was closed recently for failing to pay taxes. Where do you get the authority to do something like that?

A — Congress has authorized various legal steps that can be taken when taxpayers do not meet their obligations. Drastic steps such as closing a business or levying on wages are taken only as a last resort after the taxpayer has repeatedly failed to make satisfactory arrangements to pay the tax.

Cases like the one you mentioned usually involve employers who fail to turn over to the Government the money they have withheld from their employees' wages for income and social security taxes.

Q — My son is working part-time in a gas station this summer. If he earns over $600 will we lose our exemption for him?

A — If he is under 19 at year end or is a full-time student his earnings will not affect your dependency exemption. However, the other dependency tests such as furnishing over half his support must still be met.

Remind your son to keep records of the money he earns. If his total earnings reach $600 he will have to file a tax return. If his earnings are less than that but taxes were withheld from his wages, he will have to file a return to obtain a refund.

Q — My wife and I just sold our house and plan to move into a retirement community. Is it true that people 65 and over don't have to pay tax on profits from home sales?

A — There are special tax benefits for those 65 and over on the profits from the sale of their home. In some circumstances the entire profit may be tax-free while in others only a portion of the profit is taxable.

For details on these and other tax benefits, send a post card to your district office and ask for a free copy of Tax Benefits for Older Americans, Document No. 5559.

Q — My store has a booth at the county fair. Is the cost for this deductible?

A — Yes, expenses connected with a fair exhibit may be deducted as a business expense.

Q — My maid doesn't want me to report Social Security taxes on her wages. What should I do?

A — As her employer, you are legally responsible for paying the Social Security taxes due if you pay her cash wages of $50 or more in any calendar quarter.

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, Aug. 22 1966

Explain to your maid that unless these taxes are paid she will not be receiving proper credit toward benefits provided under Social Security.

Q — I just bought a power boat and the man who sold it to me said I get a refund of 2 cents on every gallon of gas I buy for it. Is that right?

A — Yes. A credit of two cents for each gallon of gasoline you use in operating a motor boat, airplane or power lawn mower may be taken when you file your income tax return.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
A lot of folks talk about Internal Revenue putting you in jail for cheating on your income tax. However, there's not a large number of people who actually end up behind bars as a result of tax fraud. This doesn't mean that it has become advisable to start cheating on your income tax. Internal Revenue does not undertake the investigation of fraud against a taxpayer lightly. Before they present a tax fraud case to the Justice Department and finally to the Grand Jury, and the Judge and the Jury, they must be able to prove that the taxpayer was guilty of cheating on his taxes, and that there was a deliberate intent or malice aforethought involved. It's not unusual to read that the jury found, after trial of a taxpayer, that he was not guilty of criminal fraud. However this taxpayer still must pay his taxes and civil fraud penalties, and interest. Those taxpayers who manage to escape detection even though Internal Revenue has all types of records and sources available to them often with that they had paid the additional tax, so they could stop worrying about the tax man finding them out.

Texas Congressmen Hoping Voters Select President

By PEGGY SIMPSON
WASHINGTON — Texas Congressmen overwhelmingly reject plans to commit themselves on how they would vote if the presidential election were thrown into the House of Representatives.

They're hoping the agonizing decision won't be theirs. Many add, however, that there seems to be more likelihood of such an event than in more than a century.

To win the presidency, a candidate must get a majority of Electoral College votes regardless of his margin of popular votes. If there is an Electoral College impasse, the House chooses the president and the Senate the vice president with state delegations casting one vote for each official.

No Texans are among the more than 50 representatives and 6 senators who have aligned themselves with a committee sponsored by Reps. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., and Charles Goodell, R-N. Y. They seek pledges that members will vote for the presidential candidate with the highest popular vote in case no one wins by the Electoral College count.

The motive is to circumvent any potential bargaining by the forces of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace who looks to many politicians like a formidable third-party foe.

Rep. Omar Burleson, Anson Democrat, thinks a plan of advance pledges "would be unwieldy, unworkable and probably unconstitutional."

"Above all," he said, "I think it would be just what Wallace would like. He could point at it and say to the people, 'You see what they're trying to do to me?'"

Texas delegation in the House at this point has 20 Democrats and two Republicans with one vacancy due to the death of Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas.

Many Democrats said that regardless of how the popular vote went, they'd vote for their party's candidate.

"Just suppose Texas goes for the Republican but 20 Democratic congressmen are elected?" said Rep. Olin Teague of College Station. "What a contradiction it would be. I think you ought to vote how your district did but if I'm elected as a Democrat, I'm going to vote for a Democrat. I'm not going to say this is final but this is how I feel now."

"I would be considerably persuaded by what the vote is in my district," said Rep. John Young of Corpus Christi. "But if my district went for Wallace I'm not sure I'd vote for Wallace. I'd also be influenced by the closeness of the vote. I think our district will go Democratic but if it went Republican by a few votes, I'd probably vote Democratic. I hope we won't have this situation but it's beginning to look more like it all the time."

Rep. George Bush, Houston Republican, said he felt the representatives should reflect the vote in their district or their state. "It would be a great mistake for the politicians, not the people, to decide who should be president."

But there's also the danger, Bush said, of making a martyr out of Wallace through a plan as proposed by Udall and Goodell.

The other Texas Republican in the House, Rep. Bob Price of Pampa, said he doesn't plan to commit himself "and I think the odds of this election going into the House are quite unlikely."

Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston said he doesn't see anything constitutionally restrictive about members of Congress or the political parties agreeing in advance to support the man getting the most popular votes.

"But should choice be the popular vote or the Electoral College vote? If one candidate gets the plurality of Electoral College votes but not the most popular votes, or vice versa, the ultimate choice is destined for a passle of controversy," Eckhardt said.

Both Eckhardt and Rep. J. J. Pickle of Austin pointed out that the traditional goal has been to use Electoral College votes for victory. To switch the rules at this late date with an agreement that the winner with the most popular votes would get the House votes if the Electoral College vote is not decisive would be branded as foul play, they said.

Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney said the current liberals, skirmish to secure commitments in advance is reminiscent of a fight by conservatives years ago for a constitutional amendment spelling out procedures in such an emergency. Rep. Ed Gossett of Texas and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts led the fight then.

"All I'm going to do is support the Democrat nominee," Roberts said.

Reps. W. R. Poage of Waco, Earle Cabell of Dallas and O. C. Fisher of College Station said they believe the way their district votes would influence their vote.

Reps. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and Richard White of El Paso said their districts vote might be a factor but they almost certainly vote Democratic.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock said he wouldn't consider any advance commitment because he feels it implicit "to leave myself free to do what seems right under the circumstances."

Mahon said he thought the spectre of a deal with the Wallace forces had been blown out of proportion.

"I don't see how there could be much undercover bargaining if the House actions are all out in the open. I think that idea has been exaggerated," Mahon said.

Other Texans said they either had not considered the Udall-Goodell plan or did not want to comment on the entire subject

Men have used artificial devices to keep cool for centuries, the National Geographic Society says. Ancient Egyptians soaked the walls of their homes with water; Roman slaves brought down mountain snow to pack in the hollow outer walls of their masters' villas.

Some 6,000 athletes from about 70 nations are expected to compete in the 1968 Summer Olympic Games in Mexico City.

Potential tornadoes are photographed every 15 minutes during daylight hours by a camera aboard National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Applications Technology Satellite III.

Summer Of Work Turns Former Barracks Into Gay Studio Hall

Originally barracks, then used several years as the local American Legion hall, the building where young Hereford residents will learn ballet and ballroom dance steps this fall will not resemble either when Lewis Larrymore completes his summer project of redecorating.

Larrymore, who has conducted dancing classes here several years, has leased the building vacated when the Legion and Auxiliary moved to new quarters just to the north in Veterans Park.

Because the move was in view the building had not been kept in tip-top repair and a good deal of refurbishing was needed. Larrymore decided to go all-out and turn the bleak halls into studios which would appeal to children with bright colors and gay motif.

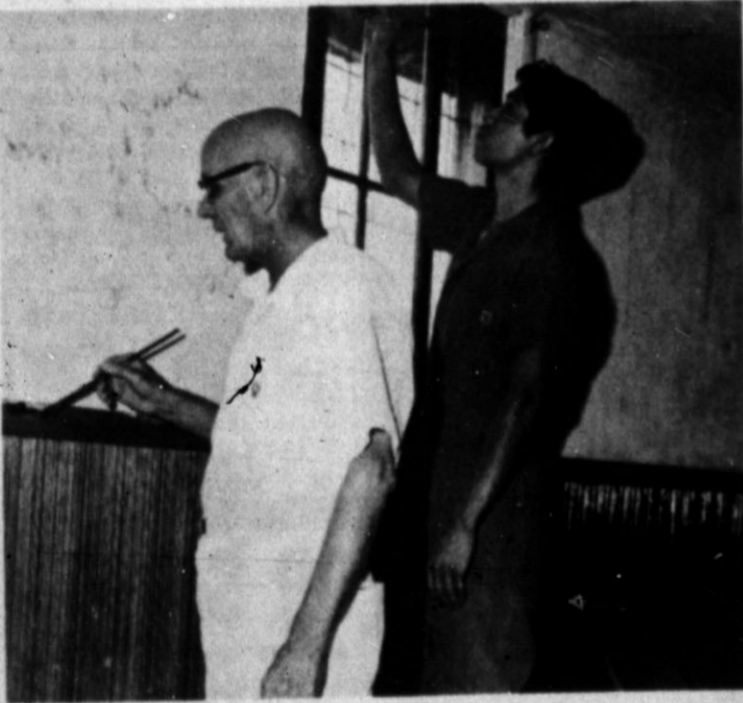

Moving partitions, nailing up sagging ceilings and repainting the entire interior were tasks that did not phase the slight dance instructor, and he has the work well on the way to completion now.

Past experience assured Larrymore that he could do the work; he built his own studios, of adobe in Spanish-colonial style, at Lubbock when he taught there several years ago.

The building is formed of two barracks which came from the World War II prisoner-of-war camp here. There are two large halls which will be dance studios, a kitchen area, rest rooms and at the back, storage space and rooms Larrymore is preparing for his own apartment.

Off-white walls and ceiling sparkled with gold, glossy black wainscot and scarlet woodwork make a striking room where ballet classes will be held, and the end wall will have a huge mirror. The other large studio, where the Junior Cotillion will meet will be in psychedelic colors.

A strip of fuschia carpet brightens the foyer and the ladies lounge which has walls of a lighter lilac hue. Metal chairs, the ordinary folding kind, have been enameled in a variety of brilliant shades to add more color.

Thomas Back In Cast Of "Texas"

From Friday through the end of the season, a new actor will play the leading role of Calvin Armstrong in the 1968 season's production of "Texas," the historical musical drama which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon and Amarillo.

William Angus Moore, II, is leaving the cast to attend the Army language school at Fort Bliss in El Paso, where he will be studying Vietnamese. His last appearance will be on Thursday, (today).

On Friday, Eddie Thomas will return to the production to complete the season. Eddie created the role of Calvin Armstrong and played it during the 1966 and 1967 seasons. He took a vacation during the first weeks of 1968, resting, traveling and writing with the agreement that he would return to the cast when Bill Moore had to leave for the army.

During 1968-69, Eddie will be teaching at El Centro Junior College in Dallas. He will also be involved in the theatrical life of SMU and the Dallas Theatre Center. He has made TV appearances on such programs as Gunsmoke, Alfred Hitchcock, Bachelor Father; he appeared with Una Hagan in Goethe's Faust and has had experience in the Little Theatre of the Rockies, the Pasadena Playhouse, the State Fair musicals and the Gateway Playhouse. During his years in Amarillo, he appeared in many productions on the West Texas Campus and at the Amarillo Little Theatre and won recognition throughout the state for his work in drama as a teacher at the Canyon High School.

Bill Moore came to the show with high honors in his work at the University of Michigan in the department of speech. He won election to Phi Beta Kappa, and a Best Actor award, a citation for Outstanding Work in Theatre and a degree With High Distinction. His work at the US Army Language School will count toward a graduate degree.

The 1968 season of the "Texas" production will run through September 2. 165,000 people have already seen "Texas." For tickets write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Garcia Is To Go To Vietnam

Army Pvt. E-2 Manuel D. Garcia of 121 Kibbe, Hereford, will begin his two-week leave Saturday prior to his assignment in Vietnam.

Pvt. Garcia's wife is employed by the City of Hereford as a meter maid.

Now stationed at Fort Ord, California, Garcia was chosen as Outstanding Soldier of the Month there in July. In the Army since April, he had received his basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, and has been at Fort Ord for the past ten weeks.

Born in Friona, Garcia graduated from Springlake High School. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delgado, he had lived in Hereford two years prior to entering the Army and had been

2 Library Books On Sailing, Space

Novels about sailing and the United States space effort are among the new additions at the Deaf Smith County Library, librarians report.

In Leonard Holton's new book — A TOUCH OF JONAH — Father Bredder was invited to join the crew of the Fair Maid on the thrilling Transpac race from San Pedro, California, to Honolulu. Father Bredder, an eager blue water sailor, soon knew his way around the sailing craft. What he didn't know was that his skipper, Sir Harry Stockton, was one of those people who carry misfortune with them — people who are followed about the world by a spirit of malevolence which strikes at others around them while leaving themselves undisturbed.

Stockton's queer reputation as a Johah was to follow him on his Transpac race. Amid the thrills, the nautical maneuvering and general excitement of the tense rivalry, death was to strike, suddenly and without motive. Once again, as in earlier emergencies, Father Bredder plays his part as the quiet amateur who finds the secret and the solution of this tragic death.

Leonard Holton, author of many Father Bredder stories as well as several other best selling novels, is an experienced sailor and has actually competed in the races he describes.

MURDER ON PAD 34, by

Pvt. E-2 Manuel D. Garcia employed by Carl McCaslin Lumber Company since Jan. 1, 1967. Garcia is 24 years old.

ERIC BERGAUST, is an outspoken, no-holds-barred report on the entire U. S. space effort and the tragic Apollo disaster that dares ask: Were astronauts-Grissom, Chaffee, and White innocent victims of America's headlong race into space?

Here is the shocking truth about America's space program, a complete rundown on muddled decisions, inept planning, sloppy workmanship, and faulted missions that culminated in the fiery disaster on Pad 34 — and a full Congressional inquiry. Erik Bergaust provides the full story of America's space race buildup and discloses the attitude of scientists, legislative leaders, and space officials — many of whom knowingly cut corners and sanctioned makeshift time-savers in order to carry out the Presidential objective: Beat Russia to the Moon!

Bergaust's section on the inner workings of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration — a "silent, untouchable government" — cloaked in scientific immunity — makes a book in itself. He documents the heated debate regarding adequate safety measures and "stunt" programs, the slipups on previous launches that, given a different roll of the dice, could have ended like Apollo.

Many of Bergaust's conclusions are only now beginning to be recognized by Congress and NASA. Many others — such as Russia's real aims in space — are certain to raise a storm of public debate and controversy.
