County Approves Increased Budget

Deaf Smith County Commissioners approved a budget at their Monday morning meeting for 1969 estimated at $46-million of valuation on the tax rolls.

The budget hearing, scheduled for 10 a. m., was delayed for 30 minutes for possible additional visitors. However, the only citizen present for the reading was Mrs. Andrew Kershen of 201 Ranger. Afterward, Mrs. Kershen reported her approval of the presentation and said she felt that more people in the county should show an interest in how money was being spent for the general upkeep.

The 1969 valuation was $500,000 more than the 1968 amended estimate. The budget estimate totaled $1,567,949.17 in receipts with disbursements of $1,573,609.41 — a figure of $5,660.24 over the receipts.

Increases over last year resulted in the Jury Fund, Road and Bridge Fund, Road and Bridge Warrant Fund, Hospital Maintenance Fund, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund 1963 bond issue, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund 1968 issue, Permanent Improvement Interest and Sinking Fund, Court-house Interest and Sinking Fund Jail Building Interest and Sinking Fund, Right of Way Interest and Sinking Fund, Road Bond Interest and Sinking Fund 1966 issue, and the Social Security Fund (due to past increases in salaries).

There were decreases for General Fund, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund (from $3,360 to nothing), Road Bond Interest and Sinking Fund 1949 issue, and County-Right of Way Fund (from $39,094.80 to $17,500).

Remaining the same were Officers Salary Fund, Lateral Road Fund and Law Library Fund.

The estimated January 1 balance has been set at $425,413.46. There were no requests from any county department for additional visitors. See COUNTY Page 7.

Collier Is Retiring From ASCS Office

Faust Collier, longtime manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Hereford, will retire at the end of this month. His plans are indefinite at this time, but he does plan to remain in Hereford.

Born in Dickens County, Texas, in 1908, Collier has been connected with ASCS since 1941. He first began work in this field at Dumas. He came to Hereford the following year where he has been manager ever since.

Under Collier's office management, the agency has been operated with the help of some 10 employees. It was established for the sole purpose of soil and water conservation practices. Committees have also been established to manage the different needs of the area farmer.

Collier has been lauded for his work in the Deaf Smith County area, for being both a man of knowledge and for his ability to take hold of the various situations with a strong personal interest.

He attended Southwestern University at Georgetown and continued his education at the University of Texas. He also attended the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, and is a veteran of both World Wars of 1917-18 and 1941-45.

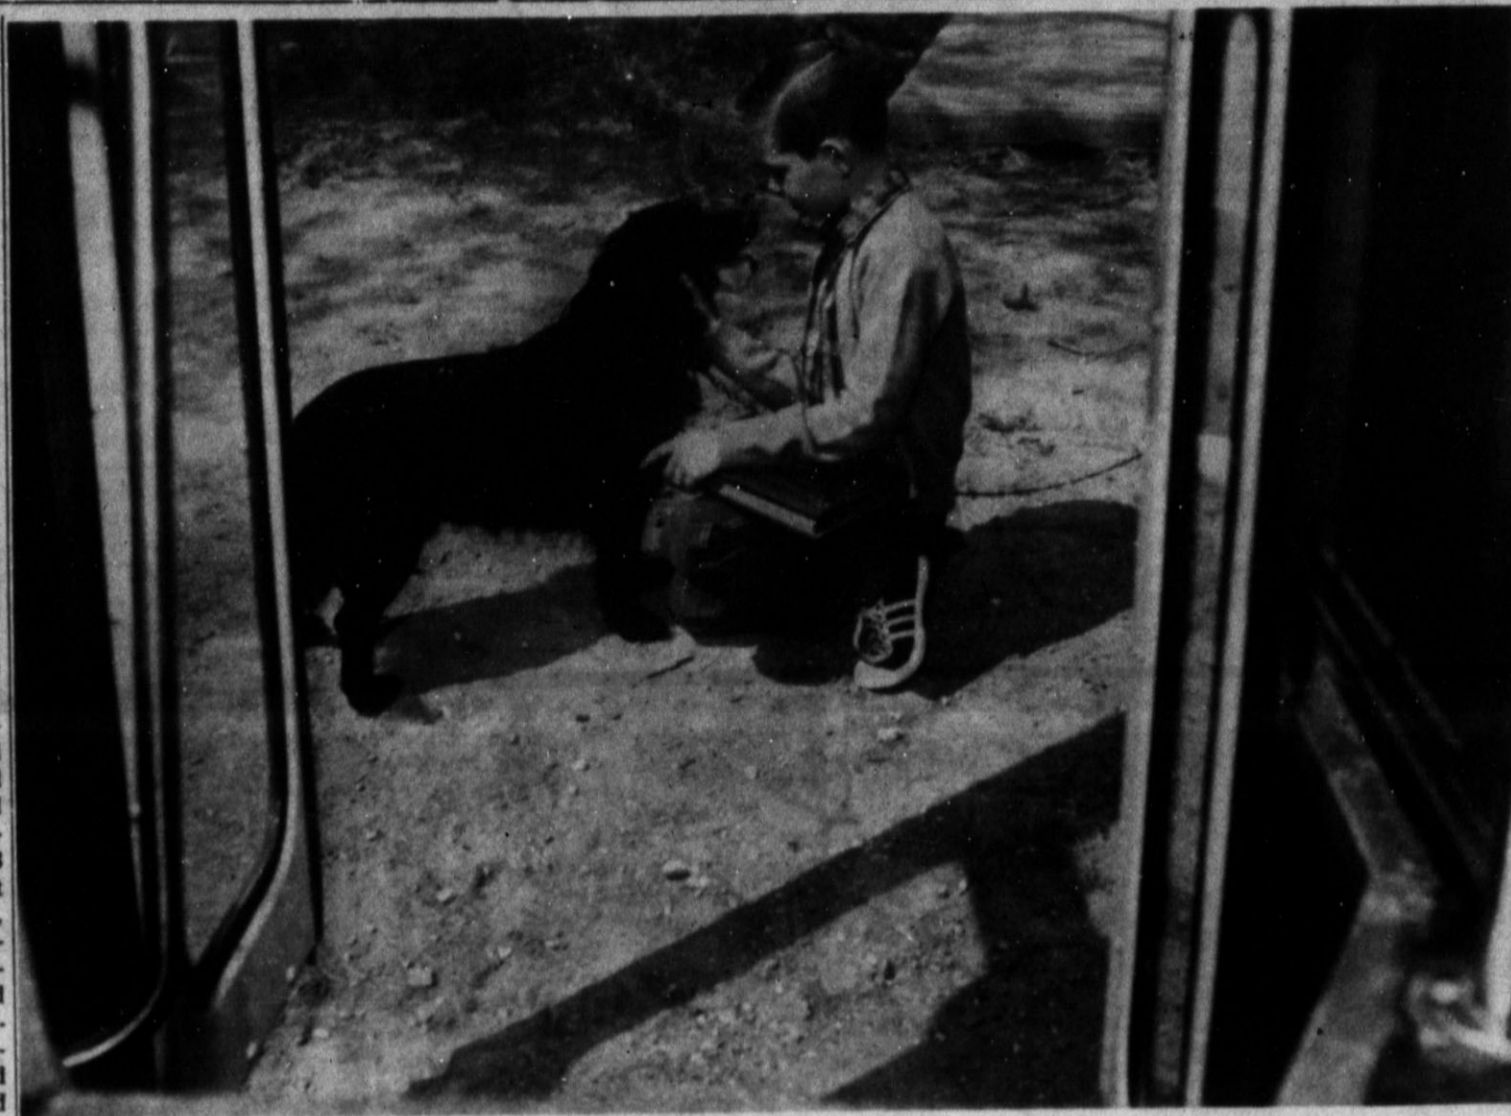

Collier has also been active in the local Civil Defense program.

He and his wife, Minibel, live on the Dimmitt Highway (south 385).

Charles W. Mayfield, who has been with ASCS in Hartley County, will assume the duties here on September 3.

Needs Are Many For City: Businessmen Present Some

By VICKIE INMAN Staff Writer

What does Hereford need? Seventeen businessmen, city and county leaders have definite ideas on the subject. When questioned, they came up with several important points and suggestions ranging from a day nursery to more tourist attractions.

Clint Formby, KPAN radio manager, was the most articulate of all the men questioned. "Hereford has more to offer than practically any other town our size, but this does not mean that we do not have needs," he said.

Formby mentioned six areas for improvement. Priority was given to housing for itinerant workers. "Our situation is not good in living conditions," he said. "We need to initiate some type of study in this area to see if we can alleviate the poor living conditions."

Second on his list was a day nursery. Formby said better housing and a day nursery should be community obligations since Hereford's economy is based on these two things.

Recreation facilities were mentioned next. "A 9-hole-golf course is not adequate to take care of the needs of a growing community expecting new industries," he said. "We need at least nine more holes."

Formby said there was a definite need for better park and picnic facilities. "I cannot understand why we do not have better parks and picnic facilities," he said. "We have an obvious location."

Solutions to increasing traffic congestion will be needed before long, Formby said. "The intersection at Park Avenue and U.

S. 385 is dangerous and probably equal to intersections in many cities," he said. "Intersections are going to present a great problem in the future."

Formby said he had heard elementary schools needed new playground equipment, "but I don't know for sure."

Johnny Clark, superintendent of schools, said playground equipment is not used any longer. "We use physical education equipment, but as far as playground equipment, elementary schools don't use it anymore."

City and county commissioners responded to the survey question, with the exception of one county commissioner who was out of town. Mayor Ray C. Swert, City Manager Dudley Bayne and County Judge H. C. Williams declined to answer.

Bill Thompson, Chamber of Commerce manager, thinks the biggest need is a solution to the human relations problem with Latin American workers. His suggestions included improving communications and understanding. "This is a very intangible thing, but that is what has to be done," he said.

D. C. Kinsey, city commissioner, also mentioned improving relations with Latin Americans. Every department in city government can always use some improvement, D. C. Barnard, city commissioner, said. Improvements are needed in streets, parks and the general appearance of the town, Barnard said. "As far as any pressing need, I don't think we have any," he said. "A lot of things carry priority and available money is put where it will do the most good."

Bartley Dowell, city commissioner, said that the most pressing need is a solution to the human relations problem with Latin American workers. His suggestions included improving communications and understanding. "This is a very intangible thing, but that is what has to be done," he said.

Movement light and expected to remain at this level account of market conditions and shipments from other competitive areas.

Friday Is Day For NFO Meet

The purposes of the National Farmers Organization will be explained to the area people at 9 p. m. Friday at the Hereford Community Center and also on Sept. 21.

The Sept. meeting, tagged, "Golden Dollars for the Golden Spread," will start at 9 p. m. in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Businessmen and all local residents are invited to attend the Friday meeting. NFO members will conduct a question and answer session concerning the organization.

The meeting on Sept. 21 is open to residents of the Panhandle, South Plains, Okla. Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico.

Pre-Schoolers Are Urged To Join Program

Pre-school kindergarten children of migrant families are strongly urged to enroll in the school located in their specific zone, assistant school superintendent Robert Holman reported.

This pre-school program is offered to 5- or 6-year-old children who were born on or before September 1, 1963.

The pre-school kindergarten program will be served by new portable classrooms. Two classrooms will be located at Central and Northwest schools, with one each at Shirley, Aikman and Bluebonnet.

The program is designed to aid the child who speaks little or no English, in preparation for regular school classes in the near future. Holman terms this preparatory work extremely important.

Highway Work Gets Approval

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $315,500 for the betterment of the state highway system in Deaf Smith County during 1969.

District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo said that a total of 14.8 highway miles in Deaf Smith County will be involved in the annual program. This work will be under the supervision of W. V. York, Supervising Resident Engineer at Canyon. This work is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment for 1969.

The projects involved in this county are as follows:

On U. S. 60, from 4 miles southwest of U. S. 385 west, a distance of 1 mile, purchase right of way and construct two additional lanes at an estimated cost of $141,000. This project will provide a short section of four lane divided highway, in order to make possible a safer entrance at the new Wilson Company Packing Plant.

On U. S. 385, from 11 miles north of U. S. 60, north, a distance of 13.8 miles, additional financing of $174,500 for reconstruction of this previously authorized project.

Peeler and two other men, Elbert Harp of Abernathy and Frank Moore, received the lifetime award which was given this year for the first time.

The first founder of the organization in 1954, Peeler was also the group's president for the first three years. He has served on the executive board since that time.

True Picture Of Vietnam Is Given By War Veteran

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Oscar Martinez, now home on furlough from the Army after a tour of duty in Vietnam where he was awarded several medals for his performances in combat and for his wounds, told the Paisano Lions Club members at their Monday night meeting in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom that he could "tell you stories you don't see in the newspapers here" in the United States, which concerned what he described as "fast buck artists" in the American ranks in the southeast Asian country.

Appearing in uniform, Martinez said there were cases he knew in Vietnam where "a sergeant was caught selling guns to the Viet Cong. Another G. I. was caught selling American money to the enemy at one-and-a-half times the actual value. And near the DMZ, where the dampness of the climate caused many Marines to catch pneumonia — they caught pneumonia because they didn't have any ponchos to wear. Yet only a few miles from there, there were many crates of ponchos marked 'U. S.' They had been sold to civilians for a fast buck — while the Marines had pneumonia!"

The 21-year-old combat veteran who had been a machine gunner there — which he described as being almost constantly in advance positions — told the Paisano Lions that he was telling them this because "you will know" what is happening now in Vietnam. Earlier he had said, "The news media does not report all the news. But news is news to American people: They probably wouldn't pay much attention to it if they got all the news. What goes on in Vietnam must be too far from home for them. They probably would not start paying attention to it until it was happening to this country here."

Martinez stated that morale was low among the soldiers fighting in Vietnam now. "What can we do to get the morale up? Back them up. Not by gifts but support and appreciation" for the ones who are doing the fighting. He said later that "stories about Vietnam veterans in the newspapers — many of them are about those who haven't actually been in combat" and cannot actually tell what it is to face death daily. "Some of them are the ones who are selling out for a 'fast buck.'"

Scheduled to arrive at the meeting at 8, Martinez was an hour late because he has a job now in Canyon on a survey crew and his work detained him. But much interest was generated by his appearance. In the main, it consisted of a question and answer session and inquiries and statements flowed at a rapid pace for nearly an hour. It was conducted in both Spanish and English. At the conclusion, he received a standing ovation.

He had centered his appearance on the fact that "morale is down over there for what the people are doing here," making reference to the riots, demonstrations and assassinations in America while American men are dying in Vietnam. He had told the Brand earlier that "such people in this country are actually aiding the communists."

In Spanish, Martinez told many of the highlights from his story published in English in the August 15 issue of the Hereford Brand.

But in clearly defined English he maintained that the enemy is losing a lot of men — "and they are replacing them with kids."

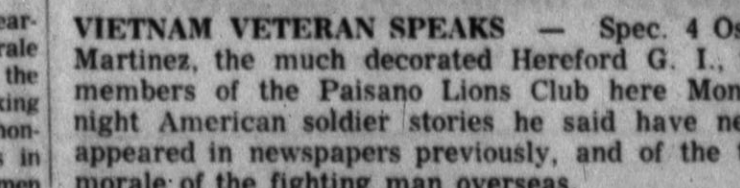

On the subject of children, he said that almost every G. I. pays a lot of attention to the South Vietnamese kids. "We carry candy around in our pockets for them. But it isn't unusual to be in a group of kids and suddenly see a grenade come rolling across the ground.

A lot of them are killed that way. But we don't do it that way."

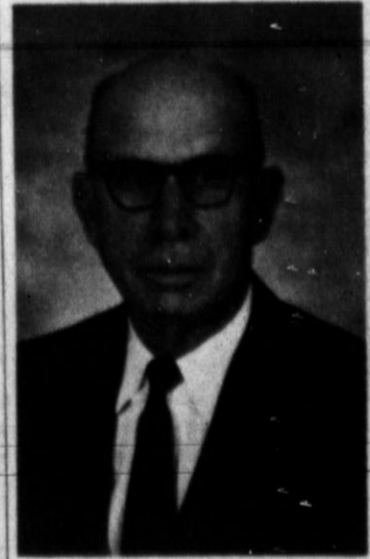

Martinez described how this country gives the enemy advance warning via helicopter prior to raids, enough time for the enemy to remove the women and children. "The enemy does not do that," he stated that the G. I. wanted to fight and follow the rules. "The enemy doesn't follow rules — but they want us to."

He said that the Viet Cong have some of their larger ammunition dumps in the middle of their towns and that the American G. I. has a choice: Either destroy these dumps and kill many women and children in the process or not destroy them

Thomas Back In Cast Of "Texas"

From Friday through the end of the season, a new actor will play the leading role of Calvin Armstrong in the 1968 season's production of "Texas," the historical musical drama which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon and Amarillo.

Eddie Thomas

William Angus Moore, II, is leaving the cast to attend the Army language school at Fort Bliss in El Paso, where he will be studying Vietnamese. His last appearance will be on Thursday, (today).

On Friday, Eddie Thomas will return to the production to complete the season. Eddie created the role of Calvin Armstrong and played it during the 1966 and 1967 seasons. He took a vacation during the first weeks of 1968, resting, traveling and writing with the agreement that he would return to the cast when Bill Moore had to leave for the army.

During 1968-69, Eddie will be teaching at El Centro Junior College in Dallas. He will also be involved in the theatrical life of SMU and the Dallas Theatre Center. He has made TV appearances on such programs as Gunsmoke, Alfred Hitchcock, Bachelor Father; he appeared with Una Hagan in Goethe's Faust and has had experience in the Little Theatre of the Rockies, the Pasadena Playhouse, the State Fair musicals and the Gateway Playhouse. During his years in Amarillo, he appeared in many productions on the West Texas Campus and at the Amarillo Little Theatre and won recognition throughout the state for his work in drama as a teacher at the Canyon High School.

Bill Moore came to the show with high honors in his work at the University of Michigan in the department of speech. He won election to Phi Beta Kappa, and a Best Actor award, a citation for Outstanding Work in Theatre and a degree With High Distinction. His work at the US Army Language School will count toward a graduate degree.

The 1968 season of the "Texas" production will run through September 2. 165,000 people have already seen "Texas." For tickets write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Garcia Is To Go To Vietnam

Army Pvt. E-2 Manuel D. Garcia of 121 Kibbe, Hereford, will begin his two-week leave Saturday prior to his assignment in Vietnam.

Pvt. Garcia's wife is employed by the City of Hereford as a meter maid.

Now stationed at Fort Ord, California, Garcia was chosen as Outstanding Soldier of the Month there in July. In the Army since April, he had received his basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas, and has been at Fort Ord for the past ten weeks.

Born in Friona, Garcia graduated from Springlake High School. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delgado, he had lived in Hereford two years prior to entering the Army and had been

2 Library Books On Sailing, Space

Novels about sailing and the United States space effort are among the new additions at the Deaf Smith County Library, librarians report.

In Leonard Holton's new book — A TOUCH OF JONAH — Father Bredder was invited to join the crew of the Fair Maid on the thrilling Transpac race from San Pedro, California, to Honolulu. Father Bredder, an eager blue water sailor, soon knew his way around the sailing craft. What he didn't know was that his skipper, Sir Harry Stockton, was one of those people who carry misfortune with them — people who are followed about the world by a spirit of malevolence which strikes at others around them while leaving themselves undisturbed.

Stockton's queer reputation as a Johah was to follow him on his Transpac race. Amid the thrills, the nautical maneuvering and general excitement of the tense rivalry, death was to strike, suddenly and without motive. Once again, as in earlier emergencies, Father Bredder plays his part as the quiet amateur who finds the secret and the solution of this tragic death.

Leonard Holton, author of many Father Bredder stories as well as several other best selling novels, is an experienced sailor and has actually competed in the races he describes.

Fiesta Plans Are Announced

Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Mission will have their election dance Saturday night at the Play House Skating Rink on West Highway 60 at 9.

The highlight of the dance will be the election of the queen for the Mexican Fiesta, slated for the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn on September 14, 15 and 16.

The three candidates for queen are Alvidia Torres, Elvira Ruiz and Nele Rodriguez. First place winner will be queen, second place winner will be princess, and third place winner will be duquesa.

They plan to have another meeting Labor Day for additional preparations in advance of the Fiesta.

Officers of the Holy Name Society are Ernesto Tijerina Sr., president; Frank Torres, vice-president; Trinidad Gomez Jr., treasurer; and Bernie Griego, secretary.

Those working together as a group for the Mexican Fiesta are Arturo Gonzales, Sammy Gonzales, Alfredo Barrera, Fortunato Tijerina, Antonio Esquivel, Frank Hernandez, Joe Ruiz Isabel Gonzales, Jessie Garcia, and Manuel Rodriguez.

visitors. However, the only citizen present for the reading was Mrs. Andrew Kershen of 201 Ranger. Afterward, Mrs. Kershen reported her approval of the presentation and said she felt that more people in the county should show an interest in how money was being spent for the general upkeep.

The 1969 valuation was $500,000 more than the 1968 amended estimate. The budget estimate totaled $1,567,949.17 in receipts with disbursements of $1,573,609.41 — a figure of $5,660.24 over the receipts.

Increases over last year resulted in the Jury Fund, Road and Bridge Fund, Road and Bridge Warrant Fund, Hospital Maintenance Fund, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund 1963 bond issue, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund 1968 issue, Permanent Improvement Interest and Sinking Fund, Court-house Interest and Sinking Fund Jail Building Interest and Sinking Fund, Right of Way Interest and Sinking Fund, Road Bond Interest and Sinking Fund 1966 issue, and the Social Security Fund (due to past increases in salaries).

There were decreases for General Fund, Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund (from $3,360 to nothing), Road Bond Interest and Sinking Fund 1949 issue, and County Right of Way Fund (from $39,094.80 to $17,500).

Remaining the same were Officers Salary Fund, Lateral Road Fund and Law Library Fund.

The estimated January 1 balance has been set at $425,413.46. There were no requests from any county department for additional study in this area to

Needs Are Many For City: Businessmen Present Some

By VICKIE INMAN Staff Writer

What does Hereford need? Seventeen businessmen, city and county leaders have definite ideas on the subject. When questioned, they came up with several important points and suggestions ranging from a day nursery to more tourist attractions.

Clint Formby, KPAN radio manager, was the most articulate of all the men questioned. "Hereford has more to offer than practically any other town our size, but this does not mean that we do not have needs," he said.

Formby mentioned six areas for improvement. Priority was given to housing for itinerant workers. "Our situation is not good in living conditions," he said. "We need to initiate some type of study in this area to see if we can alleviate the poor living conditions."

Second on his list was a day nursery. Formby said better housing and a day nursery should be community obligations since Hereford's economy is based on these two things.

Recreation facilities were mentioned next. "A 9-hole-golf course is not adequate to take care of the needs of a growing community expecting new industries," he said. "We need at least nine more holes."

Formby said there was a definite need for better park and picnic facilities. "I cannot understand why we do not have better parks and picnic facilities," he said. "We have an obvious location."

Solutions to increasing traffic congestion will be needed before long, Formby said. "The intersection at Park Avenue and U.

S. 385 is dangerous and probably equal to intersections in many cities," he said. "Intersections are going to present a great problem in the future."

Formby said he had heard elementary schools needed new playground equipment, "but I don't know for sure," he said. Johnny Clark, superintendent of schools, said playground equipment is not used any longer. "We use physical education equipment, but as far as playground equipment, elementary schools don't use it anymore."

City and county commissioners responded to the survey question, with the exception of one county commissioner who was out of town. Mayor Ray Co-werser, City Manager Dudley Bayne and County Judge H. C. Williams declined to answer.

Bill Thompson, Chamber of Commerce manager, thinks the biggest need is a solution to the human relations problem with Latin American workers. His suggestions included improving communications and understanding. "This is a very intangible thing, but that is what has to be done," he said.

D. C. Kinsey, city commissioner, also mentioned improving relations with Latin Americans. Every department in city government can always use some improvement, D. C. Barnard, city commissioner, said. Improvements are needed in streets, parks and the general appearance of the town, Barnard said. "As far as any pressing need, I don't think we have any," he said. "A lot of things carry priority and available money is put where it will do the most good."

Friday Is Day For NFO Meet

The purposes of the National Farmers Organization will be explained to the area people at 9 p. m. Friday at the Hereford Community Center and also on Sept. 21.

The Sept. meeting, tagged, "Golden Dollars for the Golden Spread," will start at 9 p. m. in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Businessmen and all local residents are invited to attend the Friday meeting. NFO members will conduct a question and answer session concerning the organization.

The meeting on Sept. 21 is open to residents of the Panhandle, South Plains, Okla. Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico.

Pre-Schoolers Are Urged To Join Program

Pre-school kindergarten children of migrant families are strongly urged to enroll in the school located in their specific zone, assistant school superintendent Robert Holman reported.

This pre-school program is offered to 5- or 6-year-old children who were born on or before September 1, 1963.

The pre-school kindergarten program will be served by new portable classrooms. Two classrooms will be located at Central and Northwest schools, with one each at Shirley, Aikman and Bluebonnet.

The program is designed to aid the child who speaks little or no English in preparation for regular school classes in the near future. Holman terms this preparatory work extremely important.

Highway Work Gets Approval

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $315,500 for the betterment of the state highway system in Deaf Smith County during 1969.

District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo said that a total of 14.8 highway miles in Deaf Smith County will be involved in the annual program. This work will be under the supervision of W. V. York, Supervising Resident Engineer at Canyon. This work is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment for 1969.

The projects involved in this county are as follows: On U. S. 60, from 4 miles southwest of U. S. 385 west, a distance of 1 mile, purchase right of way and construct two additional lanes at an estimated cost of $141,000. This project will provide a short section of four lane divided highway, in order to make possible a safer entrance at the new Wilson Company Packing Plant.

On U. S. 385, from 11 miles north of U. S. 60, north, a distance of 13.8 miles, additional financing of $174,500 for reconstruction of this previously authorized project.

New Teachers To Be Honored

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce sixth annual Teachers Banquet will be held today at 7:30 p.m. at the Country Club. About 240 guests are expected.

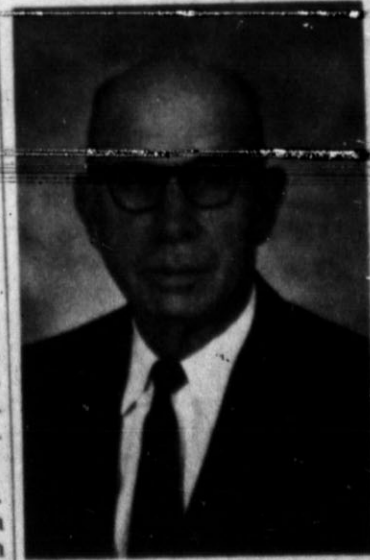

Bill Thompson, manager of the local C. of C. said that the banquet is a means for welcoming new teachers to Hereford and to help them get acquainted with the city.

Each teacher will be hosted by a Hereford businessman and his wife.

New teachers from both the Hereford School District and St. Anthony's Catholic School are included on the guest list. There are between 65 and 70 new teachers beginning here this year — and those who are married will also have their mates as guests.

Others present will be members of the Chamber Education Committee, the School Board of Trustees, Chamber of Commerce members and their wives.

The introduction will be given by Hereford Schools Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. An address will be given by C. of C. President Earnest Langley. The Rev. Fred Howard will give the invocation and a program of special music will be presented by Mrs. Howard. Master of ceremonies will be Leo Forrest, chairman of the Education Committee.

R. G. Peeler

Peeler Honored By GSPA Men

R. G. Peeler, 60, of 123 Texas, was made a lifetime Director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association last week at the group's quarterly meeting in Amarillo.

Peeler and two other men, Elbert Harp of Abernathy and Frank Moore, received the lifetime award which was given this year for the first time.

The first founder of the organization in 1954, Peeler was also the group's president for the first three years. He has served on the executive board since that time.

Peeler farms 10 miles southwest of Hereford.

Collier Is Retiring From ASCS Office

Faust Collier, longtime manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Hereford, will retire at the end of this month. His plans are indefinite at this time, but he does plan to remain in Hereford.

Born in Dickens County, Texas, in 1908, Collier has been connected with ASCS since 1941. He first began work in this field at Dumas. He came to Hereford the following year where he has been manager ever since.

Under Collier's office management, the agency has been operated with the help of some 10 employees. It was established for the sole purpose of soil and water conservation practices. Committees have also been established to manage the different needs of the area farmer.

Collier has been lauded for his work in the Deaf Smith County area, for being both a man of knowledge and for his ability to take hold of the various situations with a strong personal interest.

He attended Southwestern University at Georgetown and continued his education at the University of Texas. He also attended the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, and is a veteran of both World Wars of 1917-18 and 1941-45.

Collier has also been active in the local Civil Defense program.

He and his wife, Minibel, live on the Dimmitt Highway (south 385).

Charles W. Mayfield, who has been with ASCS in Hartley County, will assume the duties here on September 3.

Bar-B-Q Is Set At Milo Center

The fifth annual barbeque supper at Milo Center will begin at 6 p.m. Labor Day (Monday) at the Pitman Grain Company's elevators north of Hereford on U. S. 385.

There is no cost for the barbeque, which is sponsored by the residents of Milo Center. The public is invited to attend, especially those persons just returning from the annual Boys Ranch Rodeo.

General foreman for this year's event is Virgil Marsh, who has been proclaimed "Mayor of Milo Center" for the day.

True Picture Of Vietnam Is Given By War Veteran

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Oscar Martinez, now home on furlough from the Army after a tour of duty in Vietnam where he was awarded several medals for his performances in combat and for his wounds, told the Paisano Lions Club members at their Monday night meeting in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom that he could "tell you stories you don't see in the newspapers here" in the United States, which concerned what he described as "fast buck artists" in the American ranks in the southeast Asian country.

Appearing in uniform, Martinez said there were cases he knew in Vietnam where "a sergeant was caught selling guns to the Viet Cong. Another G. I. was caught selling American money to the enemy at one-and-a-half times the actual value. And near the DMZ, where the dampness of the climate caused many Marines to catch pneumonia — they caught pneumonia because they didn't have any ponchos to wear. Yet only a few miles from there, there were many crates of ponchos marked 'U. S.' They had been sold to civilians for a fast buck — while the Marines had pneumonia!"

The 21-year-old combat veteran who had been a machine gunner there — which he described as being almost constantly in advance positions — told the Paisano Lions that he was telling them this because "you will know" what is happening now in Vietnam. Earlier he had said, "The news media does not report all the news. But news is news to American people. They probably wouldn't pay much attention to it if they got all the news. What goes on in Vietnam must be too far from home for them. They probably would not start paying attention to it until it was happening to this country here."

Martinez stated that morale was low among the soldiers fighting in Vietnam now. "What can we do to get the morale up? Back them up. Not by gifts but support and appreciation" for the ones who are doing the fighting. He said later that "stories about Vietnam veterans in the newspapers — many of them are about those who haven't actually been in combat" and cannot actually tell what it is to face death daily. "Some of them are the ones who are selling out for a 'fast buck'."

Scheduled to arrive at the meeting at 8, Martinez was an hour late because he has a job now in Canyon on a survey crew and his work detained him. But much interest was generated by his appearance. In the main, it consisted of a question and answer session and inquiries and statements flowed at a rapid pace for nearly an hour. It was conducted in both Spanish and English. At the conclusion, he received a standing ovation.

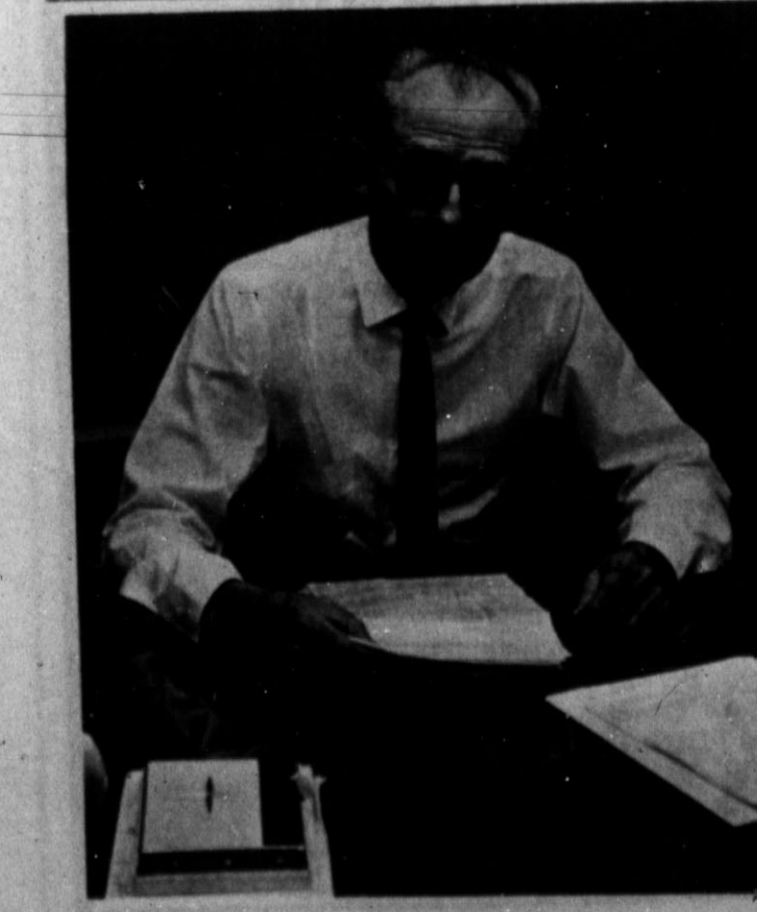

He had centered his appearance on the fact that "morale is down over there for what the people are doing here," making reference to the riots, demonstrations and assassinations in America while American men are dying in Vietnam. He had told the Brand earlier that "such people in this country are actually aiding the communists."

Martinez described how this country gives the enemy advance warning via helicopter prior to raids, enough time for the enemy to remove the women and children. "The enemy does not do that," he stated that the G. I. wanted to fight and follow the rules. "The enemy doesn't follow rules — but they want us to."

He said that the Viet Cong have some of their larger ammunition dumps in the middle of their towns, and that the American G. I. has a choice: Either destroy these dumps and kill many women and children in the process or not destroy them

sioner, emphasized the need for improvements at the airport. "If Wilson and other industries are coming into Hereford, we need a more up-to-date airport for them to use," he said. "I think this is as important as streets and highways."

Dowell said a new office building at the airport was needed, as well as improvements in facilities. He called such improvements long range plans.

Another home for senior citizens was suggested by Marcus Latham, county commissioner. "King's Manor is doing a fine job, but it is not adequate," Latham said. "It would be worthwhile to have another home."

"We forget our senior citizens sometimes," Latham said. We are living in a day and time when a lot of older people live on a fixed income and cannot provide for their own homes, he said.

James Witherspoon of Witherspoon, Alkin, Thomas & Langley law firm thinks Hereford should have more tourist attractions so people traveling through Hereford will stop to visit. "The museum is good, but we need two or three more attractions," he said. "Maybe we need to resurrect our own Billy the Kid."

County Commissioners Earl Holt and Bruce Coleman mentioned developing Veteran's Park. "If we get this park developed, that will be a real, big step toward recreation needs," Coleman said.

Coleman said another swimming pool, much larger, was needed. Another pool would meet the needs of the city and could also be used by the school system as part of their program, he said.

Presidents of both banks mentioned new businesses, provided such businesses are needed in Hereford.

Henry Sears, First National Bank, said possible new businesses should be geared to agriculture or feedlot industries. "There are several small industries that could be used here and I think will be coming in a short time," he said.

Harlan Vander Zee, Hereford State Bank, stipulated that new businesses should be needed, sound and well managed. "We should continue to expand and upgrade our business," Vander Zee said. "Most of all, I feel we need to assist and support the merchants who have made Hereford what it is today."

"Over-expansion can sometimes be just as dangerous to a community as failure to expand when needed," Vander Zee mentioned. New business should have a market in Hereford before they locate here, he said. "Nothing is more discouraging than to see a good, small business go under because of lack of volume necessary to maintain existence and reasonable growth."

Johnny Pool, city commissioner, said Hereford needs to pick up the loose ends left by rapid growth. He said continued improvements in street, traffic control and park facilities are needed. "We are doing real well in face of our growth, but we need to be a well rounded town in every department," he said.

Assistant Superintendent Bob Holman said attention should be given to the paving on the north part of town and more sup-

and be killed themselves.

But the point was brought up about the Vietnam war being not officially declared. Martinez said, "If we were to declare war, we would also be declaring war with all their supporters," which he included as being North Korea, Red China, and Cambodia among others. He felt that this would be unwise because it would increase the sphere of the war. But he admitted that it presented a "stand-still" in its present position.

On the ban of the bombing of the North Vietnam capital, Hanoi, he explained that it was a free port. "Should we bomb Hanoi, we would not only be bombing North Vietnam but other nations too. Other nations are free to bring their own ships into port there. You are going to be hurting the United States by bombing Hanoi."

But he did make an illustration — Hanoi has blamed this country for the B-52 bombing raids which they maintained have killed North Vietnamese children. "But when the Viet Cong bombs Saigon and kill the children there, nothing is ever said."

Martinez stated that the enemy will eventually be defeated — "because they are getting less and less (supplies and help). They can see that the South Vietnamese are living better."

But he agreed that the situation in Vietnam was very similar to the former situation in Korea — where the fighting in Korea was stopped at the 38th Parallel the fighting in Vietnam does not go beyond the DMZ. "It is the same," he said. "But we could win a lot faster, if they would let the military go!"

Martinez maintained that this country had better win the Vietnam war, otherwise there would be future circumstances perhaps worse than the sticky circumstances with Korea, where a truce was declared without gains.

He described the South Vietnamese as farmers engaged in agriculture. "The civilians there really don't care who wins as long as there is peace. But they do appreciate the Americans."

He said that the South Vietnamese civilian lives as though he were in the Stone Age. Asked about the South Vietnam soldier having it better there than the American G. I., he replied, "Yes, they do have it better. They have their families there — the G. I.'s do not have."

But he did disavow the past circumstances of the Vietnamese soldier shirking his duty and pushing the load onto the Americans. He stated that the current Vietnamese president has made quite a few changes in this former practice by executing several of his army officials for not doing their job, which has made the soldier there shoulder his own responsibility to fight for his own country. "Their president is making a lot of progress. And they are training wives to help their husbands in combat. The president's wife is one of them."

Martinez said that what the North Vietnamese wanted was "a solid country" which is now split into sections and "didn't care how they got it."

But returning to the home-front situation, he told the story of a G. I. who had returned to the United States at Oakland, California, following a tour of duty in Vietnam. An old lady had come up to him and said that she had had a son killed in Vietnam, pulled out a gun and shot him. "This is not the

Bob Jackson To Teach Indians

Bob Jackson, a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School, will teach third grade this fall at Toyei Boarding School in Ganado, Ariz. Most of his students will be from Navajo Indian Reservations in Arizona.

Jackson, 25, was graduated this August from North Texas State University in Denton with a Bachelor of Education. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson of Hereford.

Over 1,000 students will attend Toyei. Students who live too far to commute will board at the school. Housing facilities for teachers and government officials is about 150.

Jackson is employed by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Valdez Listed In Good Condition By Officials

A Hereford man shocked by an electric wire Wednesday morning at Hereford Grain Corp. was listed in good condition Wednesday afternoon by hospital officials.

Officials at Hereford Grain said Edivandro Valdez, 32, of 319 Ave. H, was trying to plug two electric wires together when he was shocked and blacked out. As he was coming to, he shouted for help and A. B. Carr, another employee at Hereford Grain found him.

Carr took Valdez to an office and called the ambulance that arrived minutes later. A witness at the scene said Valdez's hands were badly burned. Hospital officials said Valdez was in good condition and resting early Wednesday afternoon.

only shooting that has happened in California to our men."

And he said that he had been scheduled to land in California on his return to the states, but the plane he was on had been re-routed to Seattle, Washington, instead — and landed in a restricted area.

Spec. 4 Martinez, who had been suggested for the Congressional Medal of Honor for helping to extinguish a fire at an ammo dump in Vietnam, also verified the story of another G. I. who had been "put up" for the Congressional Medal (and had received the Distinguished Service Cross already) that had received letters from home which had stated that he was a murderer.

He took in a breath. "You are not a murderer when you are killing the enemy. You never have been."

Martinez, who lives at 211 Harrah, in Hereford, will leave his job in Canyon in time to report to Fort Ord, California on September 12.

The first national political convention in the United States was held in 1831 by the short-lived Anti-Mason Party.

Charges Filed In Traffic Death

Charges of negligent homicide, second degree, were filed Monday in Castro County Court against Wiley William Thomas Jr., 25, of Hereford.

The charges stem from an accident last Friday 5.6 miles southwest of Hereford in which Sanford Earl Cox, 59, of Route 4, was killed.

Highway Patrolman Ronnie Rainey, who investigated the accident, filed the charges. Bond for Thomas was set at $750.

Rainey said Thomas was going south on a county road and Mrs. Cox was driving east on another county road when the two pickups they were driving collided at an intersection on the old Prisoner of War Camp road.

Singers Are To Perform Friday

"The Flames for Freedom," a patriotic singing group, will present a program Friday night at 7:30 in the Hereford High School Auditorium.

The group is composed of some 45 young men and women from Amarillo and have recently appeared on television.

Ray Moore, president of the local Lions Club, which is sponsoring the event, reported that the response to their singing has been tremendous.

The program is free to the public.

The World Health Organization regards kwashiorkor as the world's most widespread dietary disease. Children who do not get enough protein develop this body-stunting disease.

It's that time of year again. School will be beginning Tuesday, and Monday is the last big holiday of the summer. And scheduled for Monday is the 5th Annual Milo Center barbecue, put on by members of the community for anyone who wants to come. The Milo Center group will begin serving at 6 p.m. so make your plans to be on time. Virgil Marsh is in charge of the operation this year; an honor,

Jim Freeman

Area Has New Safety Officer

Jim Freeman of Amarillo will replace Ed Richards of Amarillo in the Texas Highway Department as safety education service patrolman for the Amarillo district, which includes Hereford.

As safety education service patrolman, Freeman will be stationed in Amarillo but will spend a good bit of time in Hereford.

His duties are in the area of public relations mainly. He will handle all news releases out of Austin and give safety spots for newspapers, radio and television. In addition to law enforcement activities, he will be available to make safety programs and talks to civic clubs, schools, home demonstration clubs and any group that requests his services.

Freeman has been in Amarillo two years on the Texas Highway Department. Prior to that, he was in Muleshoe 11 years.

He and his wife will continue living in Amarillo. They have three children and two grandchildren.

by the way, that automatically makes him "mayor" of Milo Center.

It's also time to start thinking about your contribution to the annual United Fund Drive. The budget this year is a whopping $37,100.39 and will be distributed as follows:

- Camp Fire Girls, $6,369.25;
- Boy Scouts of America, $7,200;
- Pony League, $2,025;
- Little League, $2,581.14;
- Colt League, $1,250;
- Salvation Army, $4,200;
- Red Cross, $11,000;
- Cerebral Palsy Center, $100;
- Council on Alcoholism, $750;
- U.S.O., $475;
- and other, which we presume includes the campaign expenses and some pay for the secretary, $1,150.

It is interesting to note that approximately half of the budget (over $19,000) will be funneled directly into youth activities, rather than welfare.

We're going to need the support of every individual in Hereford and Deaf Smith County to make this goal. Make your plans now to help.

Registration Is Set At Levelland

LEVELLAND (Special) South Plains College will hold open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 8.

Six new buildings will be open and escorted tours will be made throughout. Also other buildings on campus may be visited. The six to be toured are Biological Science Building, Technical-Vocational, Fine Arts, Student Union, Texan Dome and Library.

South Plains College will begin official registration Sept. 12 and 13 and classes for the 1968-69 school year will begin Sept. 16.

The college personnel totals 124, which includes 83 administration and faculty members; 13 staff members; 20 custodians and eight dormitory matrons. An increased enrollment is expected this year.

will begin appearing in dealers showrooms late next month, and most dealers are now busy moving out all remaining 1968 models at bargain rates. The consumer can usually save a little money on his purchase this time of the year if he had just as soon have a 1968 model as the 1969.

The consumer can also save a little extra if he purchases his new auto before October 1, the date that the sales and use tax on motor vehicles goes from 2 percent to 3 percent. This tax is charged only on the "trading difference" on your new auto, but it will amount to a substantial sum in new revenue for the State of Texas. For instance, if the difference between your present car and the new one is $2000, your state tax will amount to $60, or $20 more than it is currently costing you. That's not a lot of money, but when you figure the number of autos sold in the State of Texas each year, you can readily see that it is a good source of income on the state level.

The Limited Sales Tax on other items will also be raised from 2 to 3 percent come October 1, and in those cities that passed a City Sales Tax law, it will be increased to 4 percent. There have been 274 cities in Texas adopting a 1 percent city sales tax. By the way, no changes were made in present exemptions applicable to groceries, animal feed, medicines, fertilizer, farm implements, etc. when the tax was raised.

Young Demos To Meet Friday

Don Teague, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Young Democrats, has announced that the county chapter will hold a meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in his home at 604 Ave. F.

The purpose of the meeting, which is to come one day after the Democratic Convention in Chicago, is to discuss the plans of the organization for the coming fall. Ice cream will also be served.

Teague and Steve McAndrews, co-chairman of the committee along with Teague, has invited all interested persons to attend the meeting.

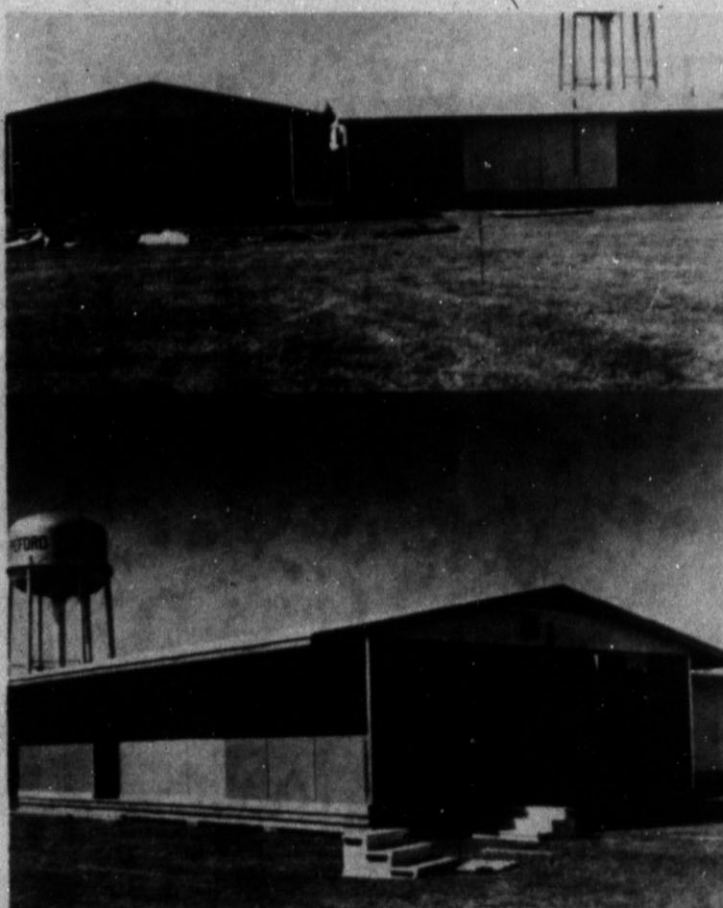

Senior Rings Are Available

The 1968-69 seniors at Hereford High may pick up their rings when they register for the new school term Thursday afternoon, Bill Michael, HHS principal, has announced.

Michael said the seniors should bring the remainder of the money owed on their ring in order to pick it up.

All seniors who have pre-registered will enroll from 1:30 to 4 p.m. today.

San Antonio's World's Fair is the first international exposition ever held in the southern half of the United States, National Geographic says. The $156 million fair seeks to combine the gaiety of a festival, the vigor and spontaneity of the frontier and the sophisticated adventure of Space Age technology.

PORTABLE CLASSROOMS — Migrant children will attend kindergarten in buildings such as the one above. Seven of the pre-constructed buildings will be erected near elementary schools, two at Central, two at Northwest and one each at Shirley, Aikman and Bluebonnet.

MUSIC STUDENT — Miss Joy McCathern is pictured as she practiced during the summer session at Interlochen National Music Camp in Michigan. She sat third chair oboe in both the top band and the top orchestra at the camp.

Famous Orchestra Includes City Girl

Opportunities to perform with Van Cliburn, world famous pianist, are rare, but that is what Miss Joy McCathern, 16, did this summer.

Miss McCathern was part of the World Youth Symphony Orchestra that accompanied Van Cliburn as he played Grieg's "Piano Concerto" in a benefit concert before an audience of 4,000 July 13 at Interlochen National Music Camp near Traverse City in Michigan.

During the eight-week summer session from June 18 to Aug. 18 at Interlochen, Miss McCathern traveled to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor as part of the Symphonic Band and to the Revenia Music Festival in Chicago as part of the World Youth Symphony Orchestra.

Two orchestras and two bands were included in the high school division at Interlochen. The top orchestra was World Youth and the top band, Symphonic. Miss McCathern sat third chair oboe in both.

Competition was rough, with students from over the United States as well as from Germany, France, Ireland and other countries. For several years, enrollment has been in excess of 1,500 students participating in the junior, intermediate, high school and university divisions of the camp.

Miss McCathern first heard about Interlochen from her oboe teacher in Canyon who had attended the National Music Camp 15 years ago. When the director of music at Interlochen was in Amarillo, Miss McCathern auditioned for a scholarship to the camp. After the audition, the director asked Miss McCathern to send him a tape of her playing and said he would find her a scholarship to attend Interlochen.

She received a $300 scholarship, with a $100 work scholarship included for serving in the cafeteria eight hours a week. Miss McCathern had to pay for the remainder of the $800 tuition.

Miss McCathern is a junior at Hereford High School and sits first chair oboe in the band. She started playing the oboe four years ago during the summer after she finished the sixth grade. Her music education began in the third grade with piano lessons.

Miss McCathern was influenced by her brother, Jerry, who was very active in band while in school and who was a member of the Band of the United States. Encouragement to play the oboe came from him and Ben Gollehon, high school band director. She attributes much of her progress to Gollehon.

Her immediate plans include returning to Interlochen next summer if possible. She has also been invited to tour Europe next summer with the World Youth Symphony Orchestra but has not yet decided if she will go. As for future work, Miss McCathern would like to play professionally in an orchestra and teach piano and oboe.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCathern Jr. of Westway.

Help Is Needed For TB Drive

The board of directors of the Top of Texas Tuberculosis Association will meet Saturday, September 7, at the Amarillo YMCA.

The YMCA building is located at 1006 S. Jackson, near the Times Publishing Co. building.

Executive director Charles McIntosh reported that the staff will be there from the Austin office, to give a board orientation program during the morning.

Mrs. Jewel Smith, in charge of the TOT TB Association in Hereford, reported that local women's civic clubs here have donated their services to mail new Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum from September 4 through 10 for ten performances. And, what better finale to a grand show than to show off the skill and beauty of the lovely Ice Capades stars, and, finally, when you think they can't possibly do anything else — rising up out of the center of the ice, twenty-five feet into the air — the most glamorous costume creation ever seen.

Intricate patterns and precision movements were choreographed by Associate Director, Rita Dallas Palmer, and woven into one of the most exciting ensemble demonstrations ever seen in an ice show.

It's a stirring, eye-filling, toe-tapping, ear-pleasing windup to an extraordinary evening of pleasure as the entire company takes to the ice in a final appearance by all the great Ice Capades stars, and, finally, when you think they can't possibly do anything else — rising up out of the center of the ice, twenty-five feet into the air — the most glamorous costume creation ever seen.

Tickets for Ice Capades are on sale at Civic Center Box Office (Johnson Street side of the complex) or the Sunset Plaza Mall. Mail orders are accepted by sending check or money order to Ice Capades Box Office, P. O. Box 1971, Amarillo, Texas. Prices are $2.50, 3.00, 3.50 and 4.00. Be sure to indicate performance and price desired.

Roadside Grape Stand Is Big Business For Gearn

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

Grapes are the thing around the W. A. Gearn Ranch Vineyard and clusters of grapes are loading the vines this year with New York Muscadine, table grapes, Thompson seedless, jelly grapes — Concord Carmen, and a fine quality of wine grapes.

As a hobby, and a delicious hobby at that, W. A. Gearn began raising grapes in the Ozarks in the 1920's, later raising a few in California. He visited State Experiment Stations, attended demonstrations, talks, read books and experimented himself in order to learn more about his hobby.

Coming to the Panhandle to farm, Gearn decided to continue his hobby in larger proportions, expanding vines, rows, and quality of his grapes. He explained that it takes three years for the vines to produce fruit. Ten years ago he started his grapes, each year gathering in a little more produce until all of his vines are now producing each year.

The biggest demand from the customer seems to be the jelly grape which is the Concord Carmen. This grape is bought frequently by housewives all around this area. There has been a larger demand for eating grapes this year which Gearn supplies in quantities along with his jelly and wine grapes.

"Wine makers from all over the country will hit at the end of the week," commented Gearn. "They usually wipe the out on wine grapes at the first buying spree. Wine is easy to make and even people around here have taken up the task of making wine at this time of year."

Any good grape is a good wine grape, Gearn explained, and most any grape is a good jelly grape.

"I don't find it hard to raise grapes in the Panhandle, but the difference between these grapes out here and the California grapes is noticeable by the customers. In the market, the California grape is much larger beside the Texas grapes and makes our grapes look puny. People buy by the looks and if it doesn't look good to them, they don't buy. Our grapes will only sell on a roadside stand and to the local people for jelly and wine."

"On the stand, they aren't up against anything that looks better than less people will taste them, consider them, most usually like them, and buy. We have to grow a variety of grapes also. The regular Concord grape isn't a commercial grape but other types are. Sometimes, the biggest problem in a vineyard is not raising enough varieties of grapes," he said.

To raise grapes, the grower may start from cuttings in the winter. (All vines have to be pruned in the winter when they are dormant) or buy a two-year-old vine from a nursery. From then on it takes around two years to get good grapes to begin and from the nursery stocks it takes a shorter time. Gearn begins most of his vines from the nursery stocks to give him more grapes in a shorter time.

Planting is done in March — anything in March. By the third year, you possibly have enough fruit to pay your expenses, the fourth year, you increase in volume, and by the sixth or seventh year, you should be producing your volume.

"A vineyard is good for a hundred years," exclaimed Gearn. "It's one of the longest living fruits growing. In European countries, they grow grapes a lot and in France they have what they call a vintage year. This is one year out of 10 that the conditions for growing grapes are exceptionally good and any wine made in that year costs three times what it usually would. This doesn't occur in our country. Our weather makes it possible for good grapes almost every year."

To set up the rows, posts are placed and two wires stretched across for the vines to grow on. When the limbs are pruned they are tied to the wires which keeps them in shape.

Insects aren't a big problem in grapes in our country either mainly because there aren't enough vineyards around for this to be present. In foreign countries where there are a lot of vineyards, diseases and insects have to be watched.

There is one small hitch to the grape-growing business, Gearn said, and that is our grapes don't look as good as the California grapes. Gearn explained this earlier and added that there are enough people around here to support a roadside stand.

"In Oklahoma City, I have a friend who raises grapes for wine and jelly. The housewives in Oklahoma City buy them for wine and jelly and I find this usually because, a lot of city housewives don't know how to make jelly," he explained.

The New York State Experiment Station is working on the muscadine grape trying to improve the quality and to produce them in large quantities for selling.

"I don't know how promising they will be, but they are good eating grapes," said Gearn.

Our climate is suitable for the European or California grapes to a certain extent. However, we have a disadvantage as the first time one of our zero below freezes comes along, the grape crop is lost. These type of grapes can't take the freezing weather. By extensive protection, grapes can be grown and saved from a sharp nip. During the winter, dirt is piled about a foot deep on the trunk which is layered on the ground. This gives a type of insulation to the vine. After the cold spells the trunk has to be raised again. This type of grape is not practical for commercial growing.

Gearn visited the State Agricultural College in California not long ago and noticed the different procedures used in growing. The college is equipped with a four-year course in growing and care of grapes, and a two-year course in wine making. Gearn said that the professors he talked with outlined a completely different way for growing the grapes and most of the uses are for wine making, for raisins and table grapes.

The Able Rodriguez family is all the help Gearn needs for the picking season, besides his two grandsons and a neighbor boy. The Rodriguez family, consists of the husband, wife and nine children. It takes about 15 minutes per vine for a person to strip. In a day, the work can be done.

There have been a few amusing incidents that came to pass on the roadside while peddling grapes. For example, Gearn related about one city-type lady who drove her Cadillac up to the stand and got out to examine the grapes. She looked at the grapes closely and then looked at Gearn with the question, "Are you sure that these are this year's crops?"

One girl on the hunt for grapes insisted on picking them herself to save money and get a discount on her purchase. Gearn handed her a box and a pair of clippers and directed her toward a heavy laden vine. After a few minutes of puzzlement, the girl looked at him and asked, "How do you detach them from the vine?"

Several people minus the wisdom of growing fruit have approached the stand late in the season missing the good buys and becoming very disappointed at the sight of an empty stand. Quite a few have even asked, "When does the second season come? I'll come back for that." Any farmer can tell you that there is only one season per year for certain crops. Especially grapes.

"A few years ago, we had a small patch of land that we rented to the Frye's and they grew cabbage on it," explained Gearn. "After not being able to sell the cabbage the Fryes offered us free cabbage whenever we wanted it. We took a truck in the field, loaded it up and took the cabbage back to sell at the stand with our grapes. Almost every car that went past bought some cabbage at 10 cent a head. If they didn't buy it then they would usually squeal the brakes further down the road and back up to take advantage of the bargain."

The Gearn's are selling cantaloupe this year along with the grapes. Not too long ago, the Gearn's let two neighbor boys sell their watermelons on the stand with them and the boys managed to sell enough of the delicious melons to buy them a car. Not a brand new one, but a car.

"Those were the best melons," said Gearn. "I used to come in

"LOOKS LIKE A GOOD BUNCH OF GRAPES" exclaimed W. A. Gearn, owner of the Gearn Ranch Vineyard west of town of Hwy. 60. Gearn has been raising grapes for 10 years in the panhandle.

FLOWER ARRANGING PLACEMENT

I hope that you noticed the picture of the arrangement made by Mrs. Newsom for the church altar which appeared in the Sunday Brand. It was a very nice arrangement and was made for a special placement.

After materials are selected, conditioned and groomed then it is time to assemble them for making the flower arrangement. A very important factor in flower arranging is where it is to be used, or the placement. The arranger should never lose sight of the reason for creating the arrangement and where it is to be used. For example, the arrangement which Mrs. Newsom made was for the church altar. There are some things which must be considered in arranging flowers for the church. There should be color harmony (when in doubt, white is always good) and size relationship is important. If the worship center is large, then materials which have size in accordance should be selected. Design should be selected that has dignity. Sometimes the best choice would be one of simplicity. Scale and proportion are essential for correct placement. In this the height and width of materials will be one of the first considerations, and the height should NEVER be higher than the placement of the Bible on the pulpit. It certainly should never interfere with the minister or the person presiding over the service. Recently I attended church, and the flower arrangement was very lovely and had been well executed, except for the height the tallest measurement of the flowers extended above the edges of the pulpit where the Bible was, and the minister was very short of stature, and as he preached, the floral material often concealed part of his face. It was so extreme it was really comical, if one should say such as related to worship service.

Never should the arranger make an arrangement extreme or showy. It should be kept in mind that it is to complete the setting and add a part of solemnity for the congregation. It is advisable for the arranger to contact the pastor and ascertain the subject of the sermon and make an arrangement which would contribute to the interpretation of the message or sermon. For example, if the text should have something in it relative to harvest, an arrangement using materials suggestive of harvest would be a good choice. Or perhaps the sermon text might be about Light, then a candle and candle stick with plant materials would be correct. Mrs. Kerr, who arranges flowers for the Presbyterian church, has made some very appropriate arrangements using these. One who makes arrangements for use in any way related to the ministry of the church is performing a merited work.

Only recently has flower arrangement begun to take its proper place as a decorative art in the western world. Before you challenge this assertion look back over the history of art.

Throughout the years plant forms have been an inspiration to artists. The lotus of Egypt, the acanthus of Greece and the rose of Persia have been exquisitely used in the architecture and ornament of many peoples. Grapes, pomegranates, olives, and lilies are cherished symbols of religious art. In medieval tapestries, flowers were worked in such flawless detail that they have become botanical records. Fruits and flowers cover the ceramics of the great French, German and English potters. China and Japan centuries ago started the art of flower arranging. Throughout the years artistic pursuit has been continuous. Is this not evidence that arrangements of flowers have long been an accepted form of artistic expression?

The contemporary flower arranger sees in materials something beyond just an ornament for her home, for a wedding or a shop window. The bounty of Nature offers constant challenge to create something which is in its essence a work of art. No longer are plants and blossoms simply a basis for another art form, but well designed, they present an art form of their own. If this then be true, they should so be used. Therefore the placement or purpose of the arrangement should be artistic and complete a picture if properly placed.

In making an arrangement it is very important that the setting be considered. The background, the accessories, the furnishing of the room and the period of these should be considered. For example if one is making an arrangement for a hall table in a modern home, then a simple design, preferably modern, should be used. The materials, color and overall effect should be one of welcome or happiness.

Do not make a vertical designed arrangement which stresses height for a luncheon table, or one which is asymmetrical in design and place it in the center of a dinner table. A symmetrical design is much better because it is to be viewed from all sides and accessories used for dining will be used in balance, thus the picture will be more beautiful.

Simplicity is something that we should always keep in mind. Overcrowding of materials, too many arrangements in one room or too many arrangements in the home tend to confuse or detract and beauty and harmony are lost. The Japanese have as one characteristic in using arrangements in their home, Simplicity. They seldom ever use more than one arrangement to the room, but it is well executed as to color harmony and correctness of design and PLACEMENT.

Use your cut flowers and other plant materials (often one of foliage is the very best selection), have pleasure out of using them and sharing them. Keep in mind that flower arranging is creative art, and when correctly used is decorative and beautiful.

Flower arranging is good therapy. . . very relaxing. I prescribe it for these summer days.

REMINDERS: The grasses are seeding rapidly and lawns should be checked. If foreign grasses are in your lawn, they should be killed. The dandelions are coming up (fast) and should be killed. Art has a small oil can which he has filled with gasoline, and each afternoon he seeks out the tiny new dandelions and gives each one a small dose of the gasoline. This kills them, and it is not too time consuming if done regularly.

Iris should be transplanted, or new plants planted. They should become well established before cold weather. If you are getting plants from friends or sharing plants, take a heavy marking pencil to the garden, and when you lift and divide the rizons, mark plainly on one of the leaves the name of the iris. Then when planted, a stationary marker can be placed. A homemade marker can be made by cutting strips from a tin can, name penciled on the strip and then placed in the soil by the planted iris or other plant which you may be transplanting.

Groom the roses and ready them for fall blooming. Care should be exercised in cutting the old or new blossom. Always use a sharp knife or clippers to cut the rose stems. In cutting stems, cut to the length of the stem where the bract (leaf-like growth) has six tiny leaves. It is not good for the plant to cut lower on the stem, and if cut in the right manner, the shape of the bush can be controlled and flowering strengthened. This also controls what is termed candelabrum formation, which is not characteristic of all roses but with some and makes an ugly shaped plant.

Be sure and include in your plans the planting of spring flowering bulbs. Now is the time to be ordering them. Call 364-1343 or any other member of the Pioneer Study Club, and they will be glad to take your order. In doing this you will have a share in their beautification projects.

Gardeners should also be selecting and purchasing their peonies. September or the very first part of October are the months to plant them. They do well in our area and certainly do add beauty to the garden.

Garden clubs are busy completing their year-books, plans and projects for their activities. Flower shows and Civic Development will be featured. The theme for one of the clubs is "Happiness IS." This is an intriguing title and surely will afford the members many challenges.

Being GLAD creates HAPPINESS.

46 Lives Will Be Lost On Highways

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the DPS estimates 46 persons may die in traffic accidents in Texas during the Labor Day weekend.

"This is the last holiday weekend of the summer, and thousands of motorists traditionally take to the highways for an outing," Speir said. "It is indeed tragic that so many men, women and children will become victims of motor vehicle accidents during an otherwise happy period," he added.

Speir said the Department of Public Safety will use all facilities and personnel at its disposal in an effort to reduce the predicted death toll. A special "Operation Motorcade" will be activated at 6 p.m. Friday, August 30, and continue through midnight Monday, September 2. During this period, all uniformed DPS officers and equipment will be used on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

"Many other groups such as local police and sheriff's department, the trucking industry, and the Jaycees will be cooperating in this effort to promote safe driving during the holiday," Speir noted.

For example, the Texas Motor Transportation Association and its Texas Council of Safety Supervisors will sponsor a holiday road patrol during the Labor Day weekend to assist stranded motorists.

Jack Bryan, TMTA safety director, said some 40 cars marked "Holiday Road Patrol" will be used in the program. These will be manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council. Personnel participating in the road patrol will work as volunteers.

The Jaycees will provide rest stops for motorists in many areas of the state. Texas Safety Association said W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate efforts of over 12,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members in operating some 200 "rest stops" for serving free coffee to fatigued drivers.

The Texas Highway Department has provided the news media with a bulletin listing all road construction areas in the state.

Disease Breaks Out In Horses

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association, citing findings by a veterinarian in West Texas, reports that equine (horse) encephalomyelitis has been discovered. The cases were reported in West Texas near Seminole by Dr. A. J. Mabry, a large animal practitioner in that area.

The disease, sometimes called sleeping sickness and Blind Staggers, is a virus perpetuated by small birds that carry a high concentration of the virus in their blood. The culex mosquito transmits the disease from the birds to horses and can also transmit it to man. Horses do not transmit the disease the Veterinary Medical Association says. Encephalomyelitis is often fatal and may cause permanent brain damage to surviving animals. The T. V. M. A. said horse owners should vaccinate their animals and take mosquito control measures. August and September are especially critical months for the disease in all of Texas since high mosquito population are found during these months. Vaccination of horses now and immediate mosquito control measures will help keep the disease from reaching epidemic proportions as was the case in 1967, the Veterinary Medical Association said.

Corn thrives below sea level on the Caspian Plain and as high as 12,000 feet in the Peruvian Andes.

Most creatures make do with what they are given by nature. The mole uses digging claws in place of a shovel; the beaver fells trees with teeth used as a saw.

Blood Disease Found In Cattle

Anaplasmosis, a severe blood disease in cattle, has been reported in wide-spread areas of Texas by veterinarians. Dr. Milton Risinger of Kaufman, near Dallas, and Dr. Joseph Bitter of Edna, on the Gulf Coast, both reported numerous cases in their area of the state.

Other veterinarians are seeing cases of anaplasmosis, including instances in east and central Texas counties, a Texas Veterinary Medical Association spokesman in Austin said.

The disease causes extreme anemia and death, if not detected early. The most effective safe guard against anaplasmosis is immunization with a recently released vaccine. Veterinarians are also able to use medication and blood transfusions for severely affected animals, according to T. V. M. A.

Cattlemen are urged to inspect their herds and immunize all animals since the disease is transmissible from one animal to another and is spread by flies, mosquitos and ticks. Cattlemen are also warned that the vaccine must be used under completely sterile conditions to prevent spreading the disease.

Dawn Baptists Set Anniversary

The 25th anniversary of the Dawn Baptist Church will be observed on Sept. 22, Rev. Jerry Haley, pastor, has announced.

Plans call for regular services at 9:50 a.m. on that day and the morning services at 11. A meal will be spread at 12:30 p.m. and a special program will begin at 2 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the special day.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Peaches For Cobbler

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Not many people except professional nurserymen grow peaches from seed, but Mrs. Irma

Orr has a couple of trees in her backyard at 210 Whiteface which she started by planting seed from a neighbor's tree, and which bore a bountiful

Mrs. Irma Orr she grew tree from seed crop this summer.

THE FRUIT IS a cling peach of excellent quality, the type preferred for making peach pickles or preserves. Since Mrs. Orr's family has grown up and married she no longer makes those products so she gave away most of the crop, freezing a few for her own use and making cobbler by a "hurry-up" method she likes.

Other varieties of peaches may be used for the quick cobbler, or even other fruit.

Mrs. Orr says she has drastically changed her way of cooking, now that she lives alone, since the days when her three daughters and five sons were bringing hearty appetites to the table at every meal, and she makes the cobbler by the old fashioned system of adding ingredients "to taste" instead of by accurate measure.

A little experimenting, though will enable a cook to turn out a cobbler that just suits the tastes of her own family.

QUICK PEACH COBBLER
Slice peaches and cook a few minutes, just until fruit is tender. Put the peaches in a baking pan and sprinkle over them sugar to taste, into which a small amount of cornstarch or flour has been well mixed — just enough to thicken the juice. Dot well with butter.

Make a batter with biscuit mix and milk, adding a beaten egg. Use enough milk so the batter is thin enough to pour. Spread this over the sweetened fruit to almost cover. Bake in a moderately hot oven until the crust is brown.

Serve hot or cold, and for a deluxe touch serve with whipped cream or ice cream. A sprinkle of nutmeg over the peaches adds a spicy flavor.

THIS YEAR'S crop was the first from Mrs. Orr's seedlings, except for one peach which matured last summer. A yardman had discovered the single peach on the tree, and Mrs. Orr had been watching it carefully.

Just as it was about grown she became ill and had to spend some time in the hospital, so she supposed her peach "crop" was a loss. But when she got out to see about it the nicely ripened peach had just dropped into the grass so she could sample it and determine its quality.

There are two trees, both planted four years ago with seed from the same tree, cultivated just alike and set about 12 feet apart. But one is twice as big as the other and that circumstance puzzles Mrs. Orr.

SHE THEORIZES that the stunted tree is growing in a part of the yard where ashes from coal fires were dumped when that lot was a part of the grounds of the old Hereford Christian College.

The college building was to the west of Whiteface Street, and a dormitory was located about where the Orr house stands. Since heating was with coal or wood stoves, a good-sized spot in the backyard must have been covered with ashes; a neighbor's yard has a large section underlaid with ashes, where no deep-rooted plant will grow.

Planted first in a flower bed, the peach seeds were put in the ground in late fall so they spent a winter underground before sprouting the next spring. After a year the young trees were dug "with lots of dirt around the roots" and transplanted.

"I'M NO AUTHORITY on growing peach trees, but I knew that much from living in a part of the state where lots of peaches were grown in big commercial orchards — one near Jamesboro had 7,000 acres," Mrs. Orr says.

She was born and spent her childhood at Marshall, in the East Texas peach country. The former Irma Rogers, she came with her parents to Hereford in 1906 after her father, the late J. B. Rogers, came out and bought a home here.

She married Berry Orr, member of another oldtime family of the city, just before her parents moved back to East Texas. They lived for many years in a large two-story house on a farm just at the edge of Frio Draw southeast of Hereford. Mr. Orr, a farmer and rancher, was also a bookkeeper at a bank here and in county offices before his death.

Mrs. Orr's family now is scattered from New Orleans to the West Coast, with a daughter, Genevieve, Mrs. Wilton Lynn, in Borger and a son, Rogers Orr, in Lubbock living nearest.

Other daughters are Mrs. Vida Belle Creno of New Orleans and Mrs. Joan Griffin of Crockett; sons are Berry Orr Jr. of Dallas, Paul of Tyler and John B. of Sacramento. The latter she expects in September for a visit.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

When I read the letter from Mr. Albracht I had two initial reactions, the first being disbelief and the second joy. I could not believe that a Hereford resident would write about the situation here of the Latin American so succinctly and frankly as he did, and I was wholly thrilled to read the letter.

This is the fourth year that my husband and I have come to Hereford during the potato and carrot harvest. Each year we take home with us an increased awareness of the injustices wrought upon the migrant laborer — from denial of doctor and hospital facilities to exorbitant prices for filthy, disgusting dwellings, to bigoted attitudes among teachers, to volunteers who say that "they" just don't "appreciate" any help, to newspaper listings saying "white or "Spanish." (When their money is wanted, they suddenly become "Spanish" and not "Mexican.") Until my husband became associated with produce shipping I had never been aware of the sordid, saddening, disgusting situations of many working citizens — and most are citizens.

Each year, too, we take with us a deeper gratitude for our hometown. It has not moaned in protest that states' rights are dead because of Washington and the Supreme Court. Instead, as many humane communities have done, it has utilized the opportunities available through human and tax resources (federal as well as state and local) to build a migrant school program that is a paragon for those who see the need and rights of the less fortunate sorely abused. There are housing and medical facilities for those who cannot pay for them, and our experience has been that most of the underprivileged have a pride and a dignity that allows them to use these facilities only under severe circumstances. But still these and other local programs are there — not as charity but as help from friends.

The problems of our society, of Hereford and thousands of towns like it, are not the result of infringement upon states' rights. Rather they result from neglect and ignorance of states duties, from utter oblivion to all but petty personal acquisition.

Each person, whether or not he pays fewer taxes than the next one, does have civic rights as well as duties, rights which, in turn, allow him the pursuit of happiness. Wouldn't it be inspiring and, as Mr. Albracht elucidated, Christianly if the effort, time, money and self-righteous anger spent on the preservation of states' "rights" were re-directed, through the taking up of state and individual duties, to the loving unfolding of each individual's divine as well as constitutional rights?

Cordially,
Nita Rogers

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Admittedly no expert on the costume of a motorcyclist, I think of black leather jacket, boots and tight jeans in the outfit of the smart young rider. The other day I was surprised by one a bit different.

He had on regulation helmet and a dark red T-shirt or jersey, orthodox so far, but below the waist he was clad in shorts and he was barefooted!

THE LESLIE COMBS family got home early this week from a trip to northern California, which they enjoyed for a number of reasons. First, they went back to a former home and had time for reunions with friends they hadn't seen in 20 years or so.

Then they made the trip by train because son Brent had never had a long train ride and they figure he soon won't have the chance, with the rapid dropping of passenger service on most railroads. They found it a pleasant, restful way to get to California.

At Eureka, on the coast north of San Francisco, they visited Mrs. Combs' sister, fished in the Pacific, and spent a week up in the nearby mountains on a river where they fished some more. Fishing was good in both places, Ann says, and Brent proved the best angler in the party.

Ann says, and Brent proved the best angler in the party.

They spent a week in the San Francisco area, where Ann had fun prowling in antique and curio shops while the men played golf between sightseeing and visiting.

AT LEAST TWO families in the county have had weddings and Golden Wedding anniversaries sort of stacked up recently. Relatives who have come from out of town for one have stayed for the other.

The Coy Phillips are celebrating their 50th anniversary with a reception Sunday afternoon — an early celebration because the date is actually September 29, but they are having the party while relatives can be here before school starts.

One of the out-of-town kin is their daughter, Mrs. J. T. Higgins of Houston, and the Higgins will be here also for the Saturday wedding of Laura Higgins, who is to marry Thomas Geiser of Amarillo.

The Lester Galleys lately were honorees at an anniversary party just a few days before their grandson, Robert Galley, married Patricia Dorman of Fayetteville, Ark. That wedding was in the bride's home city, and family members who attended both the marriage and anniversary had to travel fast.

Mrs. E. O. Parsons Is 90th Birthday Honoree

Mrs. E. O. Parsons, who was 90 years old Wednesday, was honored at a family reunion on the weekend, climaxed with a dinner in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn at noon Sunday. Mrs. Parsons, of 227 Ave. I, has lived in this area since 1936.

Of her four children, 14 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren, all except two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren were here for the birthday celebration, with other relatives.

Her two sons, Grady and T. J. Parsons, are Hereford residents and her daughters are Mrs. Pauline Johnson of Amarillo and Mrs. Aubrey Talley of Halfway.

Born in Van Zandt County August 28, 1878, Mrs. Parsons grew up near Canton. The Parsons family lived at Alarood and Claude before moving to the Hereford area.

In addition to the T. J. Parsons and daughter, Doris, the Grady Parsons and children, Ella Mae and Jimmy, of Hereford, those present for the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Talley, the Lowellen Hoopers and Dewayne, Rhonda and Aubrey of Halfway, Mrs. Johnson of Amarillo.

Also from Amarillo, Mrs. Hazel Parsons; the D. A. Malsons, Matt and Denise; the Jack Greens, David, Mark, Dian and James; the Bobby Parsons, Lise

Kay and Joanna Sue, and the Jack Parsons, Andy and Jan.

Also the Lloyd Parsons, Neil and Mike; of Lubbock; the Donald Reeds, Donna, Stephanie, Robby and Margaret Ann of Spearman; the Jack Rileys of Wills Point; the Don Parsons and Loe Ann of Dallas; the Dan Evans, Kirk and Julie of Silverton.

Bahnar tribesmen of Vietnam believe that good souls go under the earth after death, but bodies remain above ground in their long coffins. Bad souls, taken into the sky, must live with daughters of evil spirits.

In most African tribes, a man is not allowed to counsel on important matters until he is a round 40 years old. From then on, his opinions carry weight.

Frio Baptists Begin Youth-Led Crusade Sept. 4

A youth-led Crusade for Christ will be conducted at Frio Baptist Church Sept. 4-8 by the Jim Burkett evangelistic team, the Rev. Sam Ogan, pastor, announces. The public is invited to services at 8 p. m. each day.

After each service a fellowship hour for young people, featuring such activities as a "laugh-in" is scheduled.

Burkett is a senior at Oklahoma Baptist University, majoring in religion, an honor roll student who has been Baptist Student Union president and was selected as a Broadhurst Scholar. In high school at Tulsa he was class president three years, received numerous student honors and was a track team letterman.

He is assisted in the Crusade services by Leonard Morris, song leader. Topics of the messages include "Sex, Love and God," "Marriage - A Heaven or a Hell" and "Is There Life After Birth?"

The team has conducted 50 revival crusades in churches throughout Oklahoma, in Texas, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois.

The sand tiger shark is a cannibal even before it is born, the National Geographic says. The eggs of the sand tiger hatch within the mother's uterus. The first baby to emerge feeds on its weaker brothers and sisters in turn. As there are two separate uteruses, two young sand tigers survive to be born.

Mrs. Miller Is Honoree On Birthday

Mrs. John B. Miller was a birthday honoree Sunday when her daughter, Mrs. Jack Cartwright of Dimmitt, was hostess for dinner in the Cartwright home. Mrs. Miller resides in Lynette Apartments.

In addition to the daughter and her husband, guests included Mrs. Miller's four sons and their families, the Bill Millers, Jan and D'Ann of Hereford; the R. V. Millers, John G. Millers and Robert S. Millers and children, Mike, Denny, Ricky and Debbie of Amarillo.

Also Tom Miller of Amarillo, D'Ann Allen of Hereford, and the Cartwright children: Mrs. Jackie Clark, with her daughters Pam and K Dawn, of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. Keith Lowe, Mr. Lov and children, Kirk and Bridget, of Idalou, Edwin and Jerry Cartwright of Dimmitt.

Mrs. Lowe baked and decorated the cake for her grandmother's birthday celebration.

Walcott PTO Has Meeting

In a meeting at Walcott School last Friday afternoon, the Walcott PTO selected their yearbook committee and scheduled their meetings for the coming year.

Elected to the committee were Kay Hall, chairman, Betty Monroe and Lois Brown. At the meeting, the group lected to meet Tuesday, Sept. 17 at 8 p. m. in order that the new teachers may get acquainted with the parents. Also, the group decided to meet on Tuesdays this year in order that anyone wishing to attend the Hereford football games may do so. In previous years, the group met on Friday nights and people were unable to attend the games.

Coffee and donuts will be served at the meeting.

man's work

Christ made the laboring man a great promise. The proclaiming of Labor Day as a national holiday might not be a coincidence after all. In St. Matthew, the Lord promised rest to all those who labor and are heavy laden. Thus the National Holiday was set aside in respect to all those who work together to make our nation strong and free. God is on the side of the working man, but He has no use for the nonproducers — the drones — the sluggards — the usurpers. In Corinthians, He makes it very plain that every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labor. Then, let us not gloat over past accomplishments. Let us put our shoulders to the wheel for greater achievements. As we honor our working women and men, let us reflect on all the good fortunes of every American laborer. And may we reverently think on God as we celebrate, as we pay our respects, for we know, a man's work is born with him.

Boys Ranch Is Expecting Big Rodeo Crowds

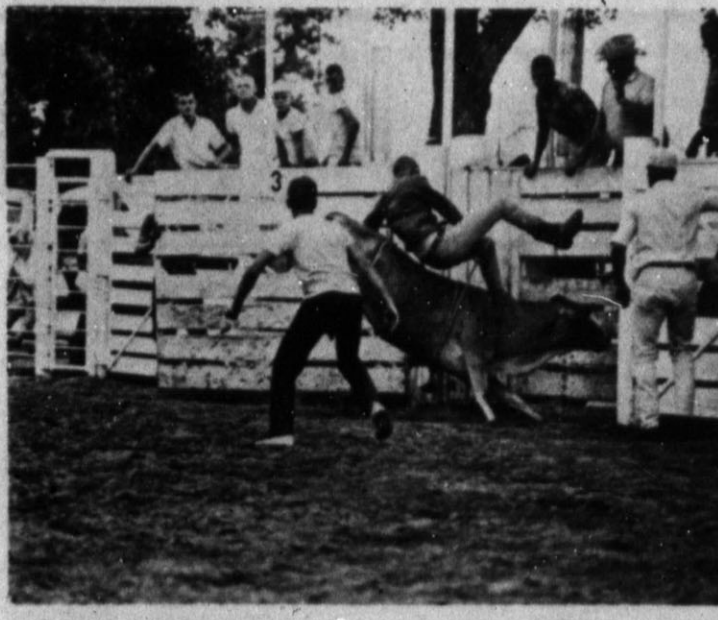

A new attendance record is expected at the 24th annual Cal Farley's Boys Ranch rodeo over the Labor Day weekend.

Last year over 9,000 people turned out to see almost 200 Boys Ranchers perform in what is the only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which boys are the only contestants riding professional rodeo stock under RCA rules.

Each of the 348 boys who live at the Ranch will have a part in the rodeo with those who do not ride serving as parking attendants, helping at the chutes, selling soda pop and popcorn, and helping to prepare the giant sized barbecue beef sandwiches which will be offered to visitors who arrive early to picnic for only $1.

Eight former Hereford boys and 36 in Bk. 3, Westhaven Addition.

Raymond Trivinio Quintana and Judy Lee Barela-August 22.
Allen Loye Cruz and Lela Rose Look-August 22.
Oscar Rivera and Ermencia Celaya-August 26.

ACTION APLENTY — Payl Kienle, 15, a former El Paso boy, prepares for a soft landing during a practice session in preparation for the 24th annual Boys Ranch rodeo, Sept. 1 and 2.

When the moon is full in the month of Vaisakha, millions of Buddhists in southern Asia celebrate a great festival of light. The holiday — called Wesak — commemorates the birth, enlightenment and death of Gautama Buddha.

They are Chuck Cogdell, Mike Coy, Dan Hardy, Steve McCarty, Pat Torbit, Walter Edmondson, Steve Metcal, and Kenneth Pearce.

Tickets for the two rodeo performances, at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday, September 1st and 2nd, may be obtained in advance from the Boys Ranch office, Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas or by calling 374-4676. Box seats are $2.50 general admission is $1.50, and children and servicemen in uniform will be admitted for 75 cents.

"Good News" Set For Tuesday

Good News, a musical production by Hereford youth, will be presented at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The drama with music by soloists and a chorus is described as "The young person's way of expressing his feeling about Christianity." It is directed by Bill Devers, assisted by Bob Reed.

The musical is an original work first presented last summer at a Baptist youth camp at Glorieta, N. M. The local cast consists of young people from various churches, including some from neighboring towns.

Narrators will be Jerry Sublett, Steve Robbins and Percy

Mays. Accompaniment is by Andrea Axe, piano; Gwen Davis and Chip Formby, electric guitars, and Rick Lee, electric bass.

Choral songs are featured as well as solos by Rosie Rogers, Sherry White, Larry Kuper, Randy Martin, Janet Frye, Terri Beth Line, Laurel Davis, Mona Gail Gibson and Jeanette Perry, also Carolyn Brown and Larry Smith of Friond.

Writers of the musical are Bob Oldenburg of the Texas Baptist Music Department and Eddie Lunn, a student at Baylor University.

Establishment of public schools for girls began in Saudi Arabia in 1960.

Town & Country

By MRS. T. B. THOMAS Brand Correspondent

Mrs. W. H. Awtry Sr. accompanied Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ward and granddaughter Kathy to Tijuana to visit their brother Gene Bryant who was there for medical treatment. He returned to Anchorage, Alaska, on Saturday, and the Texas relatives started on their trip home. They drove 2,500 miles without a flat and Mrs. Awtry reported that the countryside was pretty and green from lots of rain.

Dr. Don Davidson was guest speaker for the Mother's Needle Club at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. L. J. Jones Sr. Refreshments of cookies and coffee and punch were served to Mrs. H. E. Lyndley, Mrs. Annie Springer, Mrs. Adam Flowers, Mrs. E. N. McClure, Mrs. Nell Alston, Mrs. Haskell Benson, Mrs. J. L. Shirley, Mrs. Earl Cole and Mrs. A. T. Jones.

Recent guests in the M. C. Kaul home were Harold Stoner, of Hiawatha, Kans. brother of Mrs. Kaul, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kaul of Sabetha, Kans., brother of Mr. Kaul. The families drove to Austin to visit Spl. Arlen Kaul who is stationed at Bergstrom Air Force Base there. They left Austin on Sunday for the HemisFair and returned home on Tuesday. On Wednesday Mrs. Kaul and Harold Stoner visited in Clovis with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCracken and boys, and the Kauls visited in Friona with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph

GUARANTEE AGAINST FAILURE
Penneys guarantees every Foremost® tire against all failures in use — this guarantee lasts for the entire guarantee period stated for each tire. If the tire fails during the guarantee period, return it with your guarantee certificate and Penneys will, at its option: (1) repair the tire, (2) replace it with a new tire, or (3) give you an immediate refund. If we replace the tire during the free replacement period, there is no charge; if we replace the tire after the free replacement period, you pay 50% or 25% less than the current selling price of the tire including the Federal Excise Tax (see guarantee against failure chart for details).

GUARANTEE AGAINST TREAD WEAROUT
Penneys guarantees every Foremost® tire (except the 72 series) against tread wearout for the entire guarantee period. You benefit as follows: if your tire wears out during the first half of the guarantee period, return it with your guarantee certificate and Penneys will replace your tire with a new tire (the charge for this replacement is 50% of the current selling price including Federal Excise Tax); if your tire wears out during the second half, the charge will be 75% of the current selling price including Federal Excise Tax.
These guarantees do not apply to commercial use of tires.
Here's how your guarantee against failure works:

Judy McNeil Is Honoree At Pre-Wedding Shower

A courtesy for a bride-to-be whose marriage is planned for Sept. 7, a shower for Miss Judy McNeil entertained a large group of guests in the home of Mrs. Joe Kendall Saturday afternoon.

Miss McNeil, who is to marry John A. Mann of Pampa, received callers who were greeted at the door by Mrs. Kendall. With her in the receiving line were her mother, Mrs. James A. McNeil, her fiancé's mother, xon of Dalhart, Mrs. Ethel Lewis and Mrs. Dean Nicholas of Canyon.

Hostesses with Mrs. Kendall were Mmes. Earl Jackson, David Dowell, Bartley Dowell, Mack Canler, Preston Hagans and James A. Brown.

The Supreme Court siffs nearly 3,000 petitions a year and selects between 150 and 170 to hear.

Dartmouth was founded to educate Indian youth. The Dartmouth charter, as granted by the province of New Hampshire in 1769, still provides for free tuition for Indians.

Miss Betty Drager, whose marriage to Charles Thomas is to take place in September, was complimented with a shower Monday afternoon when Mmes. Arthur Tiefel, Welo Groneman, Connie Goeringer, Earl Springer, Glen Osborn, A. H. Jansen, Hubert Stoerner and Herbert Bruns were hostesses.

Fall Bride-Elect Feted At Shower

They entertained in the Community Room of First National Bank, where guests were received informally by the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. R. E. Drager, and her grandmother, Mrs. Will Kellnske.

Miss Mary Ann Vogler invited callers to register in the bride's book. Refreshments were served by Miss Linda Sims, who is to be Miss Drager's maid of honor, and Miss Glenda Sims.

White asters centered the table, and the cloth was white lace. Accents of emerald and royal blue, colors Miss Drager has chosen for the wedding, appeared in napkins and other appointments.

The honoree wore an emerald knit suit with a corsage of yellow gladiolas. Members of the houseparty had chrysanthemum corsages.

Crops Tour To Be Sept. 20

September 20 is the date set in Hereford for an all-day tour of crops and a luncheon barbecue sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Crops and Conservation Committee.

County Agriculture Agent Justin McBride has urged all businessmen to attend part, if not all, of the field day and tour. He said that numerous out-of-town guests are expected.

The program will begin at 9:30 a. m. at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

McBride said that most of the afternoon would be devoted to crop demonstrations as they relate to fertilizer, weed control and other phases of agriculture.

Howard Boswell, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, will be the dinner speaker. His topic will be the Texas Water Plan, on behalf of the local Water Inc. group.
