Hospital Outlines $500,000 Bond Needs

Tuesday is the date set for the voters here to cast their ballot on the $500,000 bond issue involving a 26-bed addition and other improvements at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Hospital administrator T. E. Seigler has reported that the bond issue will include space for 26 new beds — 16 for surgery and ten for obstetrics. Moreover, the hospital's present obstetrics department is to be converted into an 11-bed Medicare department for bedridden patients only.

To be located between the present east wing and nurse's home in a modern radial design, Seigler said plans are also to enlarge the kitchen, dietary department, laboratory, pharmacy, and central supply. Also in the planning is an additional emergency room and a larger lobby. The nurse's home will be converted into a maternity delivery area.

Passage of the bond issue will give the hospital a total of 91 beds.

Seigler also pointed out that construction on the new addition will actually result in the loss of four beds in semi-private rooms of the 1947 addition, but will have two additional beds upstairs. Instead of a gain of 26 beds, "there would be a net overall gain of 24 beds."

OVERCROWDING
The hospital administrator reported that he and the hospital board had underestimated the growth of Hereford since 1964, during construction of a new wing which was completed that year — in view of the fact that no statistics at that time projected the Wilson & Co. plant and other new businesses here.

"Our volume business has increased 117.75 per cent since 1964," Seigler said. "Now, 46 per cent of that has been in the past year alone. And so far, this year it has been 31 per cent above the same period in 1968. We had a much sharper up-trend here than was forecast."

He revealed that the hospital's business in 1968 totaled $786,673.54. In 1964, total business was less than half that amount — $361,258.87.

Seigler referred to the recent influenza epidemic in Deaf Smith County which created a situation of overcrowding where all private rooms "had to be doubled-up." Citing current population projections, he said that he was certain the overcrowding would increase accordingly here. "Furthermore, no large company will move into any location unless it has adequate hospital facilities."

Although he felt it "is a liberal figure," Seigler reported that some projections for Deaf Smith County have given a 100,000 population figure within the next ten years. "Hereford is bound to increase — but how much we don't know."

CONSTRUCTION
Seigler estimated that it will be at least a year before the new hospital addition is completed, should the voters approve the bond issue.

But he stressed one principal reason for the board's desire to go into the building project at this time as the sharp rise in construction costs.

"Under postponement," he said, "the building addition could very possibly cost the county much more — and we wouldn't want that to happen."

He cited the recent experiences of the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees with their bond passage for a new elementary school and football stadium improvements.

"Their $750,000 bond would have covered all construction costs at the time of its passage last October. But labor and materials became inflated in the meantime and all bids were over the total of the bond four months later. The accepted bid was still somewhat higher, even after the school administrators and trustees had pared various items from the original plan, ans, than the allotted bond total."

Seigler said that construction costs have indications that they will continue to inflate at this time.

Plans for the circular type of construction, Seigler said, are no more costly than the old type architecture. "Because of the convenience, we actually get more for our money," he said. "We are not trying to build a monument to anyone or anything. But at the same expense,

I believe we should build a wing which will best serve the comfort of the patient and offer the most convenience to the doctors and the staff."

TAX INCREASE

Although the Deaf Smith County Commissioners have not as yet had the opportunity to have the tax figure definitely "pinned down," they pointed out that taxes would increase approximately 7 per cent — and used this figure as the maximum under these circumstances.

"We have been told that there will be an approximate 7 per cent tax increase here upon passage of the bond issue," Seigler said. "But even so, the county tax rate is still much less than the city and school taxes that are paid here. I think that speaks highly of the county and its commissioners."

Seigler released figures from each of the three local governing agencies which showed that (with each of the three districts having the same property valuation) the percent of the valuation used by the school district is 46, the City of Hereford 45, and the county 22.

The school tax rate is $2.20, the city's $1.40, while the county's is 80 cents," Seigler pointed out.

He maintained that the hospital is not a tax burden here and that it has "paid its own way." He also illustrated that a local property evaluation of $22,850 "which paid a total county and state tax of $63.10, only $4.83 of it went to the hospital."

Seigler reported that "a seven per cent increase in total county taxes on this $22,850 property would amount to only $4.42 per year for the hospital."

But he also pointed out that he and the hospital board have "no quarrel" with any other local taxing agency. "We have an excellent city government and manager and excellent schools. These agencies are providing the services that the people of Hereford have asked for."

VOTERS TO POLLS

Seigler said that he and hospital board members have heard no opposition to their expansion plans. "But since there is no organized opposition, there is a possibility that people will think it isn't necessary for them to vote. Of course, this isn't the case. Certainly those who are opposed will go to the polls, and we need the others to go to the polls too."

But he said, "Frankly, whether they are for it or against it, we still want them to go out and vote. The recent city and school bond elections have shown voter strength here — which is impressive. We would like to see the same faith displayed at the hospital bond election. After all, a hospital issue is no less important to the community than the two former issues."

City and school elections for expansion and improvements during the past ten months both registered record votes, he pointed out. Each recorded over 1,000 voters.

"We are going to try to help this along," Seigler said. "We have asked the hospital staff to call as many people as possible and remind them of the election."

But he also reported that during the circulation of the 40 petitions asking the county commissioners to call the election they had received approximately 1,333 signatures — when they actually needed only 381 qualified names.

"We certainly appreciated the confidence that was evidenced in the large number of signatures on the petitions," Seigler said. "We would certainly like to have that number go to the polls."

Open House At 3 P.M.

Dedication Today At Baptist Church

In 1945, the First Baptist Church of Hereford established the A. O. Thompson Memorial Mission. A building was constructed in the Labor Camp area and the first concerted Baptist ministry to Mexican-Americans was begun here.

At 4 p.m. today the A. O. Thompson Baptist Temple will hold dedication services at their new location north of Sugarland Mall on 25 Mile Ave., at the site of the former Calvary Baptist Church.

The Baptist congregation had moved to 215 Norton in 1957. But by 1964 they discovered that the mission facilities were crowded, and a new search was begun for a means of expansion. After a search of four years, the First Baptist Church and the Mexican-American members of the mission congregation purchased the Calvary Baptist Church site.

Its pastor for the past four years, Rev. Herman V. Martinez, reported that the cost of the building and land is $45,000. "I have been walking on air ever since we got it," he said.

Open house is scheduled from 3 to 4 p.m. today, Rev. Martinez said. He has invited all area residents to view the premises.

The church is then to be dedicated with "We 'got here' through the leadership of God and the diligent efforts of dedicated Christian people. We feel that the most pertinent question is not, 'How did we get here?'; but rather, 'Where are we going?' This mission is dedicated not with a feeling of completion but with a feeling of beginning of a new era of ministry, which with God's help will one day bring light to many who grope in darkness."

Invocation is to be given by Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Martinez will introduce the guests, after which The Rev. Simeon Heine, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and president of the Hereford Ministerial Association, is to present a scripture reading.

Roberto Garcia of General Baptist Missions in Dallas will discuss The Shape of Christian Missions.

Originally scheduled was Dr. Dallas P. Lee. But Rev. Martinez reported that due to Dr. Lee's illness at this time he is unable to attend. However, Garcia is his top assistant at General Baptist Missions.

Special music is set for presentation by Troy Gandy and possibly the Spiritual Swingers. Rev. Moses Padilla Jr. of Morton is scheduled as speaker of the dedicatory sermon.

The mission is named in honor of the late Alex O. Thompson, "a faithful servant of Jesus Christ, whose passionate concern for the spiritual needs of the Mexican-American people made him the single-most influence in mission outreach in Hereford."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLINIC
On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Thompson Baptist Mission is to conduct a Sunday School clinic, under the direction of Fermin Flores.

Flores is connected with Primera Iglesia Bautista de Dallas. Born and raised at Sonora, he has attended the University of Corpus Christi and Southwestern Seminary. Married to the former Mary Martinez of Itasca, they are parents of a son Steven.

Previously, Flores had pastored at Baptist Mission in Sweeny 1962-64, Baptist Mission at Killeen 1965-68, and became Minister of Education in his present assignment last year.

Pioneer Day Plans Still Progressing

Advance promotion for the annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration is being conducted throughout the Panhandle area, according to planners of the May 30 event.

Scheduled to begin with registration at the Bull Barn at 9:30 a.m. May 30, the celebration will be highlighted by the presentation of the "Pioneer of the Year" award to be presented by Clint Formby, manager of KP-AN radio.

Cultural and Wyche Home Demonstration Clubs will handle the greetings and provide information to visitors and the Pioneer Study Club will handle registration. Dues for the event will be collected by Louie Lo-Grand and the two Home Demonstration Clubs will also serve coffee and doughnuts to guests during the registration period.

The annual meeting will get underway at 10:30 a.m. with the call to order by Claude Ricketts president of the organization. The Rev. Ron Harpster will give the invocation and the Presentation of Colors will be conducted by Hereford Boy Scouts.

Jimmie Allred will present the welcome address and the Rev. Roy Nunn of Childress will give the response. Senior Citizens and persons traveling the greatest distance to attend the celebration will be recognized by Ricketts and will be followed by the presentation of the "Pioneer of the Year" award by Formby.

Reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report will be given by Lucille Olson and election of officers will be held just before the meeting breaks for the basket lunch at noon.

Pioneer Day planners announced that open house will be held at the Deaf Smith County Museum through the day, beginning at 10 a.m. and out of town guests are reminded that they need not bring basket lunches as they will be provided by Hereford pioneers.

TEC Needs Laborers

Texas Employment Commission reported that Deaf Smith County is currently experiencing its "greatest labor shortage, perhaps in its entire history."

TEC manager Lester Rape said there are now approximately 100 job openings available here. Needed are farm hands, truck drivers, tractor operators, waitresses, construction laborers, and packing plant workers (for Friona).

Rape has issued a distress call to all such workers who might be available here for these and other types of employment. He has asked them to report to the TEC office as soon as possible.

"The unemployment rate for Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties," he said, "is now at the lowest mark it has been in several years."

58 People See County Feedlots

Beef-Making Tour Is Local "First"

Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John White and Forrest Bassford, executive editor of the Western Livestock Journal, appeared in Hereford Friday with 58 members comprised of cattle feeders and producers from 17 states for a tour of Deaf Smith County feed lots.

Sponsored by the magazine as the Texas Beef-Making Tour, it marked the first time the annual event had seen Panhandle cattle operations.

White told the group that the "Texas Panhandle feedlot boom is the most exciting thing I've seen in my 20 years in Texas agriculture."

Bassford, who also is credited as organizer of the tour, reported that touring members were very impressed with the feedlots and packing operations in the Hereford area. "We are most happy that our tour was extended here," he said.

The nine-day tour started Friday in Amarillo. After their tour of the Hereford area, they spent Friday night in Lubbock in advance of a tour in that area Saturday and departed for the Abilene area for their tour today. White said, "Hereford is in the most progressive agriculture region in our state and probably the most progressive of any region in the nation. I am totally amazed every time I come up here and see the number of new feedlots under construction and the cattle on feed."

The agriculture commissioner

continued, "Economists tell me we do not see a great surplus of feed cattle at any time in the foreseeable future. These people here are converting their tremendous power to produce feed grains into the finished product of beef — the best beef that can be purchased."

In his discussion at the Hereford Country Club, White explained the state's efforts in developing the Texas Water Plan. "We are just beginning. The future is strong and stable as is the leadership in this part of the country."

Farr Better Feeds hosted the luncheon at the Country Club here and Sugarland Feed Yards hosted the reception.

Local Pastor-Congregation Visit Tonight

Guest speaker today at 7 p.m. at Greenwood Baptist Church is Rev. C. W. Allen, pastor of St. John Baptist Church in Hereford.

Congregation of the St. John Church is scheduled to join the Greenwood Church congregation for this service, according to Greenwood pastor Rev. Al Baum. A group from a Friona Baptist Church has also been invited.

Rev. Baum has issued an invitation to all area people to attend the service.

Activities for the two-day event are designed to herald the arrival of the pork industry on the Texas High Plains.

Texas Governor Preston Smith will be among guests present for the dedication ceremonies at the plant located northwest of Plainview on Highway 87. Master of ceremonies will be Jimmy Dean.

Dedication ceremonies will begin at 11 a. m. with Governor Smith cutting the ribbon and presenting the principal address.

Following the dedication, the Jimmy Dean Meat Company will be open for grand opening activities with tours to be conducted until 6 p. m.

Open house will continue Sunday from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m. with Jimmy Dean on hand to greet all visitors.

Participating with the meat company in arranging activities for the dedication and grand opening are members of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber's Women's Committee.

Miss Plainview, Viki Turner, and Sharyn Hemphill, Plainview's Miss Congeniality, will be among those greeting and registering the V. I. P. guests. Also in the line will be Chamber Redcoats, official Plainview greeters, and hostesses from the Women's Committee.

About the grand opening and dedication ceremonies, Jimmy Dean said, "My one dream since we began preparation for this plant almost a year ago, has been in anticipation of this day. We are proud of our new plant and the facilities that will offer the American public the best quality pork product on the market today."

"We are proud of this area and are proud to be a part of this growing agriculture empire. I am looking forward to seeing my friends and old acquaintances in this West Texas area and making new friends," he said.

The Jimmy Dean Company is the newest pork processing plant in the country and will utilize the most modern equipment to process Specific Pathogen Free hogs for Jimmy Dean Pure Pork SPF Sausage.

Primary plans call for marketing the product in the general West Texas area before spreading into other parts of the state and nation.

The meat company will process 600 head of hogs per eight-hour day. Dean said that the plant would not be limited to processing SPF hogs due to the demand for carcasses by pork processors in areas where a good supply of live hogs is not available.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Most of us have seen the picture of the girl holding up the reel of computer tape and showing that Internal Revenue's computer ends up with all of your business on a little less than one inch of magnetic tape. Even at the expense of boring you with reading about some more lightning fast statistics on Internal Revenue's National Computer Center at Martinsburg, West Virginia, here goes:

The Service Centers — like Austin for our area — send magnetic tapes with miles of tax information by air mail to the National Computer in Martinsburg. Only 237 people work at the Center, an around-the-clock, seven-days-a-week, operation. Only Christmas and Thanksgiving are holidays, and then skeleton crews are on duty. The world's fastest input and output computers are used. Data sent by Service Centers is put on master tapes at the rate of 680,000 characters per second.

If you don't think that's fast, just imagine standing in the middle of Hereford and making a 360 degree turn, and unless it was a pretty fast turn, the computer could have checked most of the taxpayers within view — and that is quite a few.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Have you heard about the computer that refused to work until it was promised at least two circuit breaks a day?

Tuesday is the day for the $500,000 hospital bond election. This is one of the most important bond issues that we've had and let's all turn out to vote. Absentee voting was light, but we hope that means only that most of the voters will be in town Tuesday — no voter apathy.

We have one of the finest hospital systems in the country, but it's going to be pretty badly overcrowded if the city continues to grow unless the 26-bed expansion bond is approved. Let's give the hospital board and manager T. E. Seigler a vote of confidence Tuesday.

—HB—

School will be out soon and we're sure that mothers all over town are looking forward to the great day. Now they will have junior underfoot all day rather than just part of it. That's the nice thing about being a parent.

Seriously, most of us who have children in college will be looking forward to their return home, although some of them probably will not stay long. After the young men and women leave for college, their home stays become fewer and farther between. And we suppose that's the way it should be.

—HB—

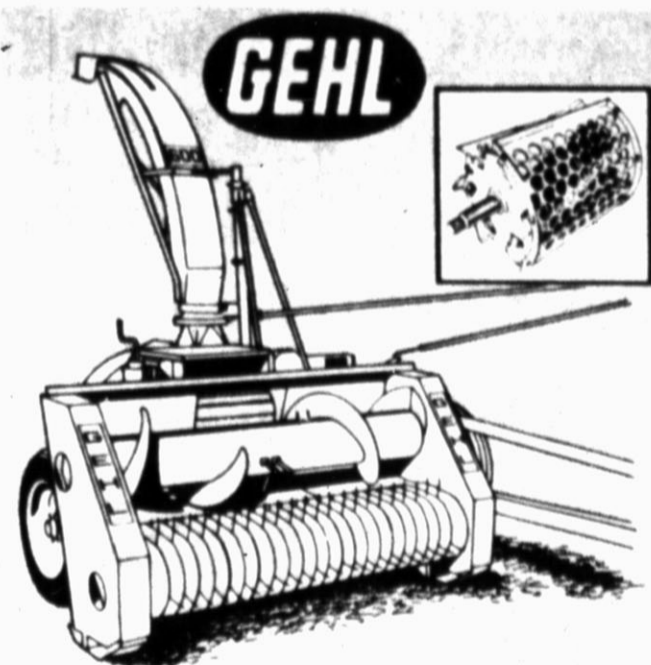

Julia Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis Jr., wants to know what's with this rain bit? Julia isn't old enough to remember the last time it rained like this in West Texas. There are a lot of other people whose memory won't go that far back also.

And our old friend Emmett Milburn, the sage of Sampson Street, suggest that surely there is some size hail other than "golf ball" size. Emmett allows that all he ever hears the commentators say is "golf ball" size hail. Golly, surely there's some hail the size of lima beans?

—HB—

And one sage has it, that when you make your mark in the world, watch out for the guys with erasers.

Concerning Veterans

Q — May a veteran receive Social Security retirement credit for military service during World War II?
A — Generally yes — a veteran may receive $160 wage credit for each month of World War II duty if he was released from service under other than dishonorable conditions and had at least 30 days of active service.

However, there are exceptions. The government will not give the veteran double credit. For example, if a veteran's World War II time is counted for military or civil service retirement he cannot also receive Social Security wage credit for the time. Your nearest Social Security office will be glad to answer any questions you may have.

Letter To The Editor

Dear editor:
Writing to inquire into a possible position for steady, year-round farm work. I have been in Texas before and have worked cattle, run farm equipment on an irrigation farm. I would prefer a cattle ranch or dairy farm but would consider any farm as long as there are facilities for my family.

Peter the Great tried to encourage sobriety among 18th-century Russians by insisting that men jailed for drunkenness had to wear a "medal for hard drinking" around their necks all the time they were incarcerated. The medal weighed 18 pounds.

Youth Begins Job Hunting

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

It is YES time again. Youth Employment Service which has served so well in the past few years to give employment to ambitious young people in the area.

AT A MEETING Friday afternoon in the office of the Farmers Home Administration plans to give opportunities to more people were formulated. Lester Rape, Texas Employment Service, is again this summer leading the way with the support of many persons to get the employees and employer together.

He says already applications are coming into his office; parents have called and college students have written inquiring of summer work. As well as local school students.

The Technical Action Panel which is made up of representatives of state and federal agencies are cooperating with the Key Club to give advantages to the persons wanting work. The main appeal is to families to remind them that these applicants will work from one hour to full time.

Some of the jobs in demand are fence painting, cleaning out basements and garages, housework, and it would surprise you how many women call and ask for some one to wash windows. There is quite an art in washing windows without streaks, as you well know.

Last summer 250 different persons were employed through YES. The point to the whole system of employment is that there is dignity in honest work.

WE ENJOYED A visit in the courtroom by Miss Bea Barrett's fifth grade class from Bluebonnet School. They were real excited about visiting the county courthouse, and we are always glad to see young people taking an interest in their local government.

THE MONTH OF MAY, when fresh spring vegetables start coming into their own, also provides a bonanza of savings in the can. That's especially true this year, as five canned and frozen items are honored on the USDA's May list of plentiful foods.

It is your opportunity to stock up. Make sure you will have enough canned goods on hand for quick and nutritious meals during this season of heightened outdoor activities.

There is an abundance of canned green beans, beets, sweet corn and tomatoes. Frozen beans and corn also will be plentiful. Each of these items will provide quick convenience. And, because the food industry wants to reduce its stocks, you'll be the winner with the extra savings.

Two non-canned foods also will be plentiful during May. These are turkeys and mature onions. Even though May marketings of turkeys likely will be 11 per cent less than a year ago, cold-storage holdings are well above normal. So, consider turkey salads, sandwiches and cold sliced, as well as roast turkey.

ONE FOOD company is test marketing a liquid margarine that comes in a polyethylene squeeze bottle. The spout of the squeeze bottle must be snipped off to release the margarine, which then comes out in ribbon form. Company officials say it is to early to know when or if the new product will be marketed nationally.

HERE'S A SALAD that will whet appetites. Section an orange or a grapefruit over a bowl of crisp salad greens, and toss with oil, salt and pepper. Dice a ripe avocado over the top, sprinkle lime or lemon juice over all, toss once lightly. Serve with chicken dinners.

An orange's size does not affect the quality. All sizes of oranges are satisfactory for slicing and juice. But, you get more for your money if you buy the size orange for the way you plan to use it. A pound of small oranges yields as much juice as a pound of large oranges. Small oranges often cost less.

Oranges are displayed in bulk and in bags, by weight or by unit. Bags are more convenient to the customer but loose oranges can be checked a little better in purchasing. Fresh oranges keep well in the refrigerator. The citrus fruit is laden with Vitamin C and adds color and versatility to early summer meals.

PINEAPPLE juice now has as much Vitamin C as orange

Two Films Set For CAP Meet

The Food and Drug Administration has granted permission to add the vitamin to Hawaiian pineapple juice.

A spokesman for a major pineapple juice canner indicated that this move should allow pineapple juice to compete more favorably as a breakfast juice and in school lunch juice programs.

THREE "SOUTHERN" vegetables now are being distributed nationally by one food company. They are chopped mustard greens, yellow crook-neck squash and chopped turnip greens with diced turnips.

GRATED CARROT and raisin salad is a year-round favorite. For a special version, try this: plump raisins in hot water, drain and cool. Mold in lemon gelatin with grated carrot. Add a bit of finely chopped preserved ginger or candied citron.

The second film, "The Perception of Orientation," examines pilots' problems of perception as related to orientation. It depicts the nature of flight disorientation, its causes, effects, prevention, and counter measures. The film runs 37 minutes and was filmed in 1963 by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Burrow-Reinhart Vows Are Spoken In Church

Miss Donna Sue Burrow and David Allen Reinhart repeated wedding vows Saturday evening in a ceremony read by the Rev. John Van der Kuil at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

After a trip to South Texas, the couple will be at home here at the Lynette Apartments. The bridegroom farms in the Dawn community.

of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burrow, Route 5, and Reinhart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reinhart, Route 1. Her father gave her in marriage.

White gladioli on either side of the altar made a background for the wedding party, which included Miss Phyllis Reinhart as maid of honor and Rick Reinhart as best man. They are a sister and brother of the bridegroom.

Guests were ushered to the pews by Wait Burrow of Oklahoma City, brother of the bride, and Ray Berend. Wedding music was by Miss Linda Wreck of Amarillo, organist.

The bride and her mother designed and made her gown of bridal satin, with lace edging at the wrists, around the circle neckline and down front seamlines of the skirt to form a panel effect. A flat bow marked the high waistline in front, and a chapel train was attached in the back.

Her bouffant net veil was edged with similar lace and gathered to a cluster of seed pearl petals over her forehead. She carried blush carnations.

Her attendant was dressed in pink, a satin frock in the same pattern as the bride's and worn with a short veil of matching pink net. White carnations made her small bouquet.

At the reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall after the wedding, Miss Linda Manley served cake and Miss Sherri Jones ladled punch. Guests registered in the bride's book where Miss Oleta Brooks presided.

Pink and white peonies were arranged in vases about the room, and centered the table where the three-tiered wedding cake, white trimmed with pink roses, was a focal point.

For travel the bride changed to a sleeveless pink dress of whipped cream crepe with white collar, dropped waistline and pleted skirt.

She is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School. The bridegroom has attended West Texas State University after graduation from Hereford schools in 1964.

Guests from other cities for the wedding included Miss Shirley Sims of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Barrett of Amarillo.

Skit Presents North Hereford Club Message

A humorous skit with a practical lesson, The Worry Jar, was presented for North Hereford Home Demonstration Club at a meeting in Mrs. Viola Williams' home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. E. Hodges was in charge of the program on Family Health, stressing the damage done by worry to the person affected and to others in the family. Mrs. Roger Williams conducted business.

Other members attending were Miss Roberta Campbell, Mmes. Paul Hoff, W. J. Lueb, C. L. Whitehead, Clinton Ward, O. L. Williams, Otto Massie and R. A. Fullwood.

MYSTERY CHIEFTAINNESS SALISBURY, Rhodesia — Officials struggling to promote a government community development program have made a breakthrough to a mystery chieftainess who rules 20,000 tribesmen from a remote hilltop kraal (small village).

Chieftainess Charewa, an elderly woman who is Rhodesia's only chieftainess and never leaves her kraal in the Mtoko-Mtrewa district, has agreed to the formation of a community board among the Charewa people. A dispensary and a school are the first projects planned with dams, halls and clinics likely to follow.

Strict taboos are observed when the chieftainess has one of her rare meetings with government officials. Nothing metal or colored red is allowed in her presence and she may not be photographed.

Miss Lindeman Given Pre-Wedding Shower

Miss Charlene Lindeman, bride-elect of Ed Sanders, was the honoree at a shower Friday evening in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company. Miss Lindeman and her fiance are planning a June wedding.

With her in the receiving line for the shower were her mother, Mrs. F. E. Lindeman; Sanders' mother, Mrs. Howard Sanders, and Miss Cecilia Packard, who is to be maid of honor in the wedding party.

Miss Karen Lindeman, youngest sister of the honoree, registered the guests. Punch and cookies were served by Mrs. John Newton and Mrs. Connie Urbanczyk, two of the hostesses.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Roy Bell, Ed Bezner, Dorman Duggan, Ernest Flood, Mark Lindeman, Ralph Packard, Jackie Stallings and Mike Watts.

Decorations for the shower were in yellow and white, colors Miss Lindeman has selected for the wedding. White roses and a bell centered the table, and yellow streamers imprinted with

At The Library

Report On Food Inspection

Now at the Deaf Smith County Library you can find a documented account on food inspection and an adventurous novel set in the 18th century.

Have you had your poisons today? You may discover you have or have not had them when you read this book now in the Library. POISONS IN YOUR FOOD, by Ruth Winter.

When you sit down to eat a meal in your own home or in one of the $40,000 eating and drinking places in the United States, you take it for granted that the food is wholesome and nutritious. Unless you have access to special knowledge — medical data, reports of qualified investigators, and findings behind the "vital statistics" — it may not occur to you that it is now impossible for you to eat an ordinary meal or to give a child milk from a bottle, can, carton, or the breast that is not contaminated with pesticides or other poisons. But the experts know that the sausages, ham, hamburgers, or hot dogs we eat can be filled with hog blood, cereal, lungs, niacin, water, detergents and/or sodium sulfite. They know that even a baby's diet can be dangerous.

The bread you put in your mouth daily is literally embalmed to keep it feeling soft and fresh long after it isn't, and the dessert you eat may be colored with a cancer-causing agent.

The candy you put in the mouths of babies may not only be bad for their teeth but also dangerous because of contaminants such as wood splinters or rodent urine.

"Impossible!" you are probably saying to yourself. "Our food is inspected and protected by law!"

But do you know that most foods from catering establishments, intrastate processing plants, and vending machines are almost never inspected?

That only 10 percent of the foodstuffs adulterated with pesticides and chemicals or contaminated by insect filth and disease organisms is stopped by Food and Drug inspectors? The other 90 percent gets through to unwary customers.

Do you know that 89.3 percent of the fish — despite the fact that some of it is kept aboard boats from eight to sixteen days — is not inspected and that the 10.7 percent that is inspected is done on a purely voluntary basis by inspectors paid by the fishing industry?

Although the Food and Drug inspectors may be responsible for overseeing the health standards of thousands of restaurants, food and drug retail, wholesale, and manufacturing plants meat inspection and radiation hazards, some states; such as Maryland, have only three state Food and Drug inspectors, Ohio five, North Carolina and Idaho six, compared to Florida's 24.

In this meticulously documented account of the dangers you face and what you can do to protect yourself and your family, Ruth Winter, award-winning science editor of the Newark Star-Ledger, alert all Americans to potential personal and public catastrophes. She examines everything — raw foods and their processing, meats, packaged foods, water supply, vending machines, restaurants, ferti-

Shower Honors Miss Rogers

A late afternoon tea and shower complimenting Miss Rosi Rogers, June bride-to-be, was given in the home of Mrs. R. A. Frye Saturday afternoon. Miss Rogers and Steven Thornton are to be married June 7. Pink and white, colors to appear in wedding decorations, were used on the tea table, which was covered with a white organza and linen cloth. Pink carnations were arranged with silver candelabra in the center, and a silver punch bowl was set at one end.

Misses Jeanine Suttle and Vickie Kendall served the refreshments and Miss Donna Coker was at the guest book.

Callers who were greeted at the door by Mrs. Frye were received by the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Joe Rogers; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. S. T. Thornton; her sisters, Mrs. Jim Ivy of Mesquite and Mrs. Bill Bookout, Misses Teresa McAndrews and Janet Frye, who are to be bridesmaids.

Hostesses included Meses, Tandy Legg, Albert Maxwell, Mary Carter, Wayne Higgins, G. P. Owen, John Sevier, Edgar Vinson, William Willis, Chares, Duval, Dub Hair, Sam Long, Foyd Coker, Raymond White, Virgil Justice, Paul Harvey, Lynn Kester, C. F. Newsom, Duha Curtisinger, J. R. County Clerk B. F. Cain reported late Friday afternoon — the deadline for absentee balloting on the $500,000 hospital bond issue — that 14 votes had been cast.

Local NFO Meet Had State Head

Deaf Smith County NFO held their monthly meeting in the Hereford Community Center Thursday night with president Gerald McCathern presiding. Reports were given by A. R. Dillard, grain committee chairman, Terry Creitz, beef committee; with McCathern presenting the vegetable committee report concerning a meeting he and C. P. Worthan attended in Corning, Iowa.

The reports were all concerned with the accomplishments and future plans toward aiding in marketing vegetable commodities.

McCathern announced the visit of Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin scheduled for Saturday at Bushland Experiment Station and encouraged all members to attend.

Featured speaker at the meeting was Donald Kimball, state NFO president. He told of the counties which have been chartered in Texas during the past month and expressed the need to keep working in this area toward getting the farmers united.

By using examples of commodities, he illustrated that farmers are often paying harvest crews merely to remove his crop from the fields. Kimball told of a farmer he visited on the Texas coastal area who had told him that he had raised some of the best watermelon in the state but was receiving only 50 cents per hundred for his melons — yet he was having to pay 55 cents to have them harvested.

A tape recording of a speech delivered by Bill Sellhorst, Nebraska NFO president, was presented. The speech had been delivered at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. At the time, Secretary of Agriculture Hardin was present.

Mrs. James Bullard received the ladies' door prize.

Lutherans Here Aid Servicemen

Members of Immanuel Lutheran Church, 100 Ave. B, believe that letting servicemen know the folks at home care should be more than just a matter of words.

That's why the congregation participated in a nationwide offering on Mother's Day, designed to raise $400,000 for the Armed Forces Commission of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

According to the Rev. Herman J. Schelter, pastor of Immanuel, the Synod's program for servicemen is one of the most extensive among American church bodies.

Besides supplying chaplains to the military services, the commission sends out literally tons of material each year to about 36,000 members of the Synod in mailings at least once a month.

Included are devotional materials, worship orders with hymns and meditations (in case the serviceman can't make it to a service), information on chaplains, times of services, and chit-chat from home.

The Missouri Synod also has more than 120 active-duty chaplains and over 400 civilian contact pastors who serve parishes near military installations. Nationally, Lutherans provide one of every 10 chaplains, even though only one of ever 20 Americans is Lutheran.

Special attention was focused on the work of the commission through the offering and special materials used in the service.

As members of the congregation bring their offerings they are reminded of the words of a fellow Lutheran returning from overseas who wrote, "I would

"Pat has made us all very proud while he has been at the Ranch and we know he will continue to do so as an Ex-Rancher," said Patterson.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

An item of history personified was a visitor in Summerfield this week. A grandson of the man for whom the town was named, the late Col. John Summerfield, stopped to see the community which shares his name and visit a bit with some of its residents.

THE VISITOR, who was reared in Dallas, lives now in Larchmont, N. Y. He mailed some letters home so they bear the Summerfield postmark, and on learning that Ray L. Johnson is the resident who has lived longest at Summerfield, paid a call to the Johnson home.

His grandfather, the colonel, was a well-known surveyor in the early years of Texas and I understand surveyed some of the XIT ranch land in this part of the Panhandle.

Anyway the Johnsons enjoyed the visit of the current Summerfield and hope he was pleased with the information he gleaned.

MRS. JOHNSON, who always has a yard full of bloom, says her roses are beauties now, and is especially proud of the Queen Elizabeth variety which bloom profusely. She says she has supplied all the decorations for a wedding from just four bushes.

This seems to be a good year for roses, and not only the choice new varieties. Don't know when I've seen so many blooms on the annual roses, both pink and yellow, and on the small greyish wild plant that we used to call prairie roses when I was a child.

Places where I've never noticed that there were annual roses (the old-fashioned thorny kind) have burst out in color lately, and the little wild roses are running riot on vacant lots and roadsides with carpets of coral-colored bloom.

JUST FOUND out this week that Sherry White won quite a distinction at the state FHA Co-

Cotton Office To Expand Soon

A new seasonal cotton classing office has been approved by the USDA, according to W. K. Palmer, Officer in Charge of the Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock.

Levelland will be the location of the new classing office which will be opened for business this season.

All gins in Hockley and Cochran Counties will be served by the Levelland Office as soon as the volume of cotton harvested in these two counties warrants opening the office. Together, these two counties traditionally produce approximately 200,000 bales of cotton.

The Levelland Office will be under the supervision of the Lubbock classing Office.

The figure included 5,788,209 men and 5,572,265 women, the government said, adding the entire population showed an increase of 1,508 from February 1.

One year ago the population was 11,202,130.

House Is Moved, Too

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Moving was not the same sort of experience for Mrs. Danny Vermillion when she came here in March, as it is for most housewives getting located in a new home. The Vermillions brought their house with them.

THE MOBILE home they bought about two years ago and had occupied in Amarillo, is still their home. They have located it on a lot they bought at 421 Ave. I, where they are beginning to feel like "old settlers." Just now their big problem is getting the lawn in shape.

Dark-eyed Linda Vermillion is enthusiastic about the movable house and its suitability to the couple's present needs in a home. A registered pharmacist, she is employed full-time, and she finds the house easy to keep in her limited time.

A lifelong resident of Pampa until after her marriage, she is the former Linda Belmont, a graduate of Pampa schools. It was watching her family druggist at work which gave her the idea of studying pharmacy, a vocation not often chosen by women.

"THE WORK intrigued me," she says, "and I started to college with the aim of becoming a pharmacist. Since I began working at it, I've discovered that it gives me the opportunity to meet many people, of all kinds, and that has been something I especially like."

Graduation from college, at Southwestern State in Weatherford, Okla., came about a year after the Vermillions' marriage. They lived at Lubbock, then two years in Amarillo, before he was transferred here this spring as manager of the new Firestone store.

As a student, Mrs. Vermillion was a member of Kappa Epsilon, women's pharmacy sorority; Rho Chi, a national honor society in pharmacy, and Gamma Delta Kappa, social sorority.

FOR RECREATION, she enjoys with her husband the frequent trips they take in their camper, to lakes in this area or to the New Mexico mountains on weekend excursions, or longer camping and fishing trips.

She likes to fish but says her luck is variable. However, her role on fishing trips is in reverse to the one usually assigned the angler's wife; since she

MY CALENDAR is marked for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, when I surely want to hear the concert by the school strings class at Aikman Elementary music room. Students in this class, you know, are learning to play strings so they will be ready for a school orchestra when they get to high school.

Nadina Baird is the instructor and the program is in its third year. No use getting impatient for that high school orchestra; it takes seven or eight years to "bring up" a string section from scratch, and that's where started in the schools here, music supervisor Ben Goltehon reminds us.

There was no backlog of strings players available when plans were launched for an orchestra to go with the fine high school band and chorus already in operation here; no private teachers of violin and related instruments to supply pupils ready to play.

Longnecker Relates Seven-Points On Cotton Research

By T. C. LONGNECKER
Director

Several factors are operating to make it a necessity to reduce the cost of producing cotton, if cotton is to continue to be a profitable crop. These factors include: (1) increase in cost of labor, machinery, and other production items; (2) reduction in cotton exports; (3) loss of domestic market to synthetics; and (4) possibility of losing part or all of government subsidy payments during the next few years.

With production costs averaging 28 to 30 cents per pound of lint in the High Plains area, the potential profit in growing cotton is low under existing conditions. The only answers to this situation is to reduce the cost of cotton production to such an extent that cotton can still be produced profitably at world market prices.

There are two ways in which production costs of cotton can be reduced. These are increased yields and/or the elimination or reduction of certain production costs.

The High Plains Research Foundation has adopted the following 7-Point Cotton Research Program in 1968 to accomplish this reduction in cotton production costs.

One or more of these practices added to existing cotton production programs can be helpful but for maximum effect all seven practices would need to be combined in the over-all management program.

MINIMUM TILLAGE

Present production practices on cotton may include as many as eight or ten trips over the land before cotton is planted. Stalk shredding, disking, deep breaking or chiseling, disking, leveling, herbicide incorporation, bedding, fertilizing and bed shaping are the usual seed bed preparation procedures for cotton planting.

Tests are underway to determine if all these operations are necessary. Where cotton follows double-row grain sorghum or soybeans, a single-row of cotton will be planted on the old beds between the two rows of stubble with no seed bed preparation. A contact herbicide will be necessary at planting time for volunteer grain and weed control. Volunteer grain is not expected to be a problem since it will all be on top with unfavorable conditions for germination.

Two additional benefits of this method of planting are expected. The stubble will provide protection for the seedling cotton from wind and sand. Also, the residue on surface will reduce evaporation loss.

SEEDLING DISEASE PREVENTION

2. In order to mature a cotton crop under the climatic hazards of short growing season, cool summer nights and early frosts, it is necessary to plant cotton as early as possible. Many farmers become impatient and plant when the soil is too cold. Seedling cotton in a cold soil is an easy prey for seedling diseases such as rhizoctonia (sore shin) and fusarium and phythium which destroys the newly formed roots. Even though these diseases may not kill the cotton plant its recovery period may be so long that it will not mature as early as later planted cotton. In one test, 21 days difference in planting date resulted in only 3 days difference in first bloom date.

Long time temperature data showed that the last cold period (below 40 degrees F.) comes between April 25 and May 12. Rather than relying entirely on soil temperature to determine cotton planting date we need to make use of these weather patterns and plant as nearly as possible during this last cool period to take advantage of the rapid warm up that follows for quick seed germination. Monthly and weekly forecasts can be used to predict this fairly accurately when this last cool period will arrive.

Treated seed is also a necessity to reduce the possibility of seedling disease.

WIND AND SAND PROTECTION FOR SEEDLING COTTON

3. The greatest hazard for seedling cotton is wind and sand damage. This may vary from complete loss of stand to minor damage to the terminal buds which slows cotton growth and increases possibility of insect damage. If wind and sand damage can be eliminated, it could be the equivalent of adding 5 to 10 days to growing season. It would also insure against having to replant cotton at a later date with the resulting effect on yield and quality.

Two other methods of eliminating sand and wind damage will be tested in addition to the stubble planting described in number 1 above.

One method will be to plant cotton in herbicide killed wheat with the dead wheat providing protection. The other method would be applicable to skip-row planted cotton in which the skipped row is planted in corn at the same time the cotton is planted. Corn will germinate and come up ahead of the cotton so that by the time the cotton is in the seedling stage, the corn will be at least six inches high and provide the necessary protection. When the corn is 24 to 30 inches high, it will be undercut with a knife sweep at a depth of three inches so that the corn will die but still be left standing upright in the row. In this position, it will hold more heat on the soil surface and will not compete with the cotton for moisture or plant nutrients.

PHOSPHATE FERTILIZER PLACEMENT

4. A band of readily available starter fertilizer can help fill in the needs of young cotton plants until the soil warms and the young cotton plant roots occupy a larger soil area. This is particularly true of phosphate since cotton absorbs 75 percent of its total phosphate during the first 25 per cent of its growth. This band of phosphate is applied during seed bed preparation. Unless the applied phosphate is immediately available to the first-cotton-roots, early growth may suffer and cannot be compensated for by phosphate at a greater distance and assimilated later in the cotton's growth period.

Tests will be conducted in which the phosphate will be applied as a band at planting time within one inch of the seed. Field observations where this was done show improved quality and increased yields amounting to as much as $45 per acre with some varieties.

ECONOMICAL AND EFFECTIVE USE OF COTTON HERBICIDE

5. The most common method of applying cotton herbicides is broadcast application and tandem disk incorporation during later winter before listing. A tandem disk is not an efficient incorporation tool since it does not mix the soil and does not penetrate uniformly. Depending upon soil conditions a tandem disk may vary from one to four inches in penetration. This results in uneven depth of incorporation of herbicide.

Following incorporation the land is listed. Some farmers list to a depth of four inches while others go to six inches. This variation in listing depth results in varying depths of herbicide treated soil in the lister beds. At planting time, varying amounts of soil are pushed off the top of the bed in the planting operation.

As a result of all these variable affecting cotton herbicide, if applied and incorporated as outlined above, no one knows accurately where the cotton seed is planted with respect to the herbicide treated soil. This can vary from having all of the herbicide treated soil removed from the drill area to having as much as four inches of herbicide soil below the seed.

More precise methods of applying and incorporating cotton herbicide are needed. A machine is needed which will apply and incorporate herbicide just prior to planting after the beds are formed or during the planting operation. Another possibility is to apply and incorporate herbicide during the listing operation. Such a machine also needs to be able to incorporate herbicide to an exact depth so that precise placement of the cotton seed with respect to herbicide treated soil is possible.

Comparisons of incorporation with tandem disk, rolling cultivator, and power driven incorporators have been made at the Foundation over the last four years. Results of these studies indicate cotton yields can be reduced by disk incorporation prior to listing. Application of the herbicide after listing and incorporating with a rolling cultivator has given good results. Power driven band (14 to 20 inches) incorporators set for two inch incorporation during the planting operation have also been satisfactory. This reduces cost of herbicide as well as fewer trips over the land. These tests are being continued in 1969.

OPTIMUM TIME OF IRRIGATION

6. With the necessity of reducing cotton production costs and reducing water usage it becomes imperative to know when to apply water for maximum effect on cotton production.

Contrary to common practice, it has been determined from Foundation research that the first irrigation (every other row) should be made as soon as the cotton starts squaring rather than waiting until first bloom. From 80 to 90 percent of the total cotton crop is produced from the first four weeks of blooming. Thus, if we can provide optimum moisture during the squaring stage more early squares will be set. This in turn will increase both yield and quality by setting more early squares with added time to mature. Earlier cut-off of irrigation water should also be practiced to prevent a late season crop from being produced and lowering the quality of the total crop.

EFFECT OF PLANT TO PROMOTE EARLIER AND HEAVIER FRUITING

7. Several observations have been reported concerning the beneficial effects of 2-4D on cotton if applied at the proper time and rate. It was observed in 1968 that an accidental application of Lithate (a non-volatile form of a 2-4D in the squaring stage varied in its effects from severe damage to increased yield of as much as 200 pounds of lint per acre. This variable effect was caused by the different amounts of Lithate the cotton received but it was not possible to determine the rate where the cotton yield increased. Different rates of Lithate will be applied on cotton in 1969 in an effort to determine the rate that can be used to set more early squares during the first 30 days when the 90 percent of our cotton crop is produced and to prevent shedding of fruit during the latter part of the growing season.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

At a time when student unrest in our nation has reached crisis proportions, it is encouraging to see the growing disapproval of the methods of dissenting students.

Bayard Rustin, a long-time activist in the Negro Civil Rights Movement, recently criticized students demanding so-called black studies courses for seeking the "easy way out." In one of the strongest blasts at campus protest by a Negro Leader, Rustin said:

"What the hell are soul courses worth in the real world? In the real world, no one gives a damn if you've taken soul courses. They want to know if you can do mathematics and write a correct sentence."

Also, President Nixon recently urged all college faculty members and administrators to have the "backbone" to stand up against dissenting students who terrorize teachers and other students who engage in violence and who carry weapons into the classroom.

Echoing the President's words, Attorney General John Mitchell called for "an end to patience. The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local law enforcement officers, and local courts apply the law."

I strongly endorse our Attorney General's stand. My position has always been that the appropriate form of discipline for violation of university rules is expulsion or suspension. Students ought to know that such discipline is going to be administered toughly and resolutely. College administrators must be determined to take immediate steps to protect the integrity of the college classroom from militant destructionists. On the other hand, we must not over-react and squelch academic freedom or fail to satisfy legitimate student complaints. Above all, being on a college campus or being part of a college community does not exempt people from obeying the law. They are subject to the same laws as all citizens. Moreover, parents should bear the responsibility for the illegal acts of their children on college campuses.

The real tragedy of student unrest is the disruption of classes, which results in less teaching and less learning. For most students, a higher education is the result of long hours of study and the expenditure of large sums of money to finance the schooling.

Attorney General Mitchell said the Justice Department had "substantial information confirming" that some major disturbances had "been incited by members of a small core of professional militants." We cannot tolerate the disruption of America's educational system by a small minority of professionals. Campus disorders can only be detrimental to the efforts of the vast majority of students who are making a conscientious effort to learn.

Discipline is a university responsibility; Government should not interfere in it. But when people may be injured, when personal property may be destroyed, and when chaos begins, the university official only aids lawlessness by procrastination and negotiation. I passionately join in the President's plea to all college faculty members and administrators to have the "backbone" and courage to stand up against the small core of professional destructionists.

Law and order must prevail on America's campuses.

MBP Financial Report

ROCKPORT, Mo. — The six-month interim report of Missouri Beef Packers Inc. through April 26 revealed that net sales of $102,897,643 resulted in an increase of 140 per cent over stakes for the similar period last year.

4-H News

Caye Clearman was elected president of the Willing Workers 4-H Club at a meeting held recently.

Other officers elected include Markie McBride, vice-president and council delegate; Susie Shirley, secretary-treasurer and reporter; Brenda Owen, song leader and Beverly Cole, drill leader.

Hostesses for the meeting were Susie Shirley and Twanaha Kendrick.

Discussion of sewing groups and the dress revue were held after the elections.

MBP's pre-tax earnings of $1,827,143 in comparison to $776,946 in 1968 showed an increase of 135 per cent. Net earnings increased 56 per cent over those of one year ago. Earnings per share were 71 cents compared to 56 per share in 1968, an increase of 25 per cent. Federal income taxes were reduced and net earnings increased in the first six months of 1968 by investment credit in the amount of $125,000 which was not available this year.

Robert E. Frye, president of Missouri Beef Packers, reported that common stock outstanding increased sales and earnings for the first 26 weeks of this fiscal year "are records for our company and were achieved despite adverse market conditions and a strike at the Friona division during the first quarter." Frye said that the plants are not operating efficiently with stable labor forces.

Holly's Report Shows Record Sale

COLORADO SPRINGS — Holly Sugar Corporation reported record sales and sugar production and higher net income for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1969.

According to John L. Loeb, Jr., chairman, and John B. Bunker, president, sales advanced to an all-time high of $161.8 million from $98.3 million last year.

Net income rose to $3.7 million or $2.38 a share, compared with $2.7 million or $1.63 a share in fiscal 1968.

Cash flow for 1969 was $7.2 million compared to $6.2 million for fiscal 1968. Cash flow per common share was $4.69 compared to $3.80 last year. Income before extraordinary items for fiscal 1969 was $3.5 million or $2.24 a share compared with $4.1 million or $2.50 a share for the same period last year. Without the Federal income tax surcharge, income per share for fiscal 1969 would have been $2.40.

Capital expenditures of $9.6 million was the largest annual amount ever spent by Holly for plant modernization in its 64-year history.

In commenting on Holly's modernization program, Loeb and Bunker pointed out that the full program, which will amount to $23 million, is expected to be completed by March, 1971, with the first improvements in operating results being reflected in fiscal 1970.

The redeployment of assets into more profitable areas included selling certain California properties and terminating cattle feeding operations.

With the acquisition during the year of three gourmet food companies and the formation of Holly World Foods, Inc. to operate them, Holly gained a well established entry into one of the country's fastest growing industries.

Holly is a large processor and supplier of food products. It conducts manufacturing, storage, distribution, research, and marketing operations throughout the western United States.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Where should I write about a missing refund? I filed my return months ago and so far have heard nothing from IRS about it.

A — If it has been more than 10 weeks since you filed your return and you have not received any information about it, write to the Internal Revenue Service Center where your return was filed. Give your name, address and social security number and the approximate date you sent in your return.

Q — What records should I keep on last year's taxes?

A — Keep the records and other information used to prepare the return. If your return is audited, your records will enable you to substantiate items listed on the return.

Q — I'm going to work this summer and will need a social security card. How do I get one?

A — Application for a social security number should be made on Form SS-5. This form is available at local Social Security and IRS offices. Return the completed application to your Social Security office and they will assign you a number.

Q — I am planning to sell my house this summer. Is there anything besides the broker's fee I can deduct as a selling expense in figuring the gain?

A — Advertising and legal fees paid in connection with the selling price in addition to the broker's fee and similar commissions.

Further information on this subject is contained in Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — Where can I get more copies of the tax forms I need to deposit taxes withheld from employee wages? I can't find the forms I got this quarter.

A — Additional forms can be obtained by contacting your regional IRS Service Center, when you request the forms, give your name, address, employer identification number, type of tax, the tax period to which the deposits relate, and the number of forms you need. Ask for Form 991.

Engineers are very resourceful people. They couldn't open a Pullman window, so they air-conditioned the train.

Acquaintance: a person whom we know well enough to borrow from, but not well enough to lend to.

Then there was the hippie wife who told a surprise guest, "Next time phone before you come, so I can have a chance to mess up the house."

A man owes it to himself to become successful — after that he owes it to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

We owe you our full attention to your housing needs, and that's what we promise at Justice Realtors.

"FRINGE BENEFITS"

WE HAVE RECEIVED FROM OUR WORK SUCH AS THIS MAKES US TRY HARDER

memo
MIDLAND, TEXAS

TO: Dr. Hicks and the wonderful Nurses at the Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford:

We hope you realize you are the best doctor and the best nursing staff in the entire world.

Thanks many, many times for the wonderful things you did for Daddy () while he spent 22 days in the hospital. You certainly made his stay a most pleasant one for him, for Mama, and for the "whole bloomin'" family!

We think a lot of you and your professional work.

Sincerely,

After all the hospitals that we've come in contact with this past years and a half we feel qualified to judge the efficiency of such an operation as Deaf Smith County Hospital and we have nothing but praise. We wholeheartedly recommend our local hospital and are thankful that such a facility exists.

I have enjoyed my Watch Word game and also I enjoyed the films.

Love

May God continue His blessings upon your merciful works of healing and relief of pain.

With Christian Love.

Mrs. Seigler

Would you tell all nurses for me special THANK YOU you where all so WONDERFUL NICE KIND HAPPY you all made me very much at home. God Bless you all for fine job you are doing

Now we know why "Angels" are said to be dressed in white.

Thank You.

Medical Facilities Tops

Thanks so much for being so "understanding" and helpful.

Dear Mrs. Seigler and The Nurses of Station 2:

For all the loving care given to our Dad, we would like to express our gratitude. The smiles, the words of encouragement, and the extra tasks each of you performed for his comfort were appreciated not only by him, but also by us — his family.

If at times we seemed overly concerned in caring for him to the detriment of your efficiency, we pray your forgiveness, for it is never easy to see a loved one endure discomfort.

May God continue to bless you in your ministry to others

Sincerely,
The Family

Alvin, Texas
Jan 11th.

To All Personnel —

Since I have spent a great part of my life in hospitals, visiting and working, I feel you should know what a pleasure it is to be treated so nicely, so willingly by all of your staff. Dr. Mims never once passed me in the hall that he didn't tell us something about my beloved uncle and the nurses and aids were so accomodating in everyway. The entire association with all of you renewed my faith in human beings AGAIN!

Thanking you.

Sincerely,
Mrs.

TO THE PEOPLE WHOM WE SERVE

We have many letters and notes such as these in our files from former patients and members of their families. Such thoughtfulness as this makes us proud and at the same time humble. It makes us feel that the time we spend and the work we do in trying to serve our community is worth while after all.

During the past days we have tried to present our story to you as sincerely and honestly as we could. We truly believe that if we did not make the effort to expand NOW we would be doing a disservice to those of you who are depending on us to see that you have the proper facilities for health care when it is needed. It is true that our patient load will fluctuate and at times we will have ample beds but in the Winter, Fall, and early Spring months our load is usually heavy and, since it will take several months to complete this proposed new facility, we feel that our present rate of growth will cause us to be seriously overcrowded by the time the construction is complete.

We feel our request is modest, reasonable and completely justified. We are not asking for frills, fancy offices or anything we do not feel is actually needed. We do want the facilities to be bright, cheerful, comfortable, and with all of the modern appliances that make your stay more pleasant and helps us render a better service to you.

WE WANT YOU TO BE PROUD OF IT.

The decision is now yours. On May 20, you will go to the polls and decide for us if we are to continue developing with the Community. We will abide by your decision. If you should decide we shall not have it, we will continue doing the very best we know how to serve you. We hope you will agree with us.

We would like to say this to those of you who may be planning on voting against this bond issue. Why? Perhaps it is because you dislike a certain Doctor. Perhaps you feel that one of the hospital employees has been rude to you. Perhaps you feel that you do not like someone on the Board.

Please remember this:
NOT ONE SINGLE DOCTOR, HOSPITAL EMPLOYEE OR BOARD MEMBER OWNS ONE MORE FOOT OF THE HOSPITAL THAN YOU DO.

This hospital will be serving our people long after all of us now connected with it are gone.

If you have other reasons, that is your right. Thankfully, we still live in a Country where the people can vote freely their convictions.

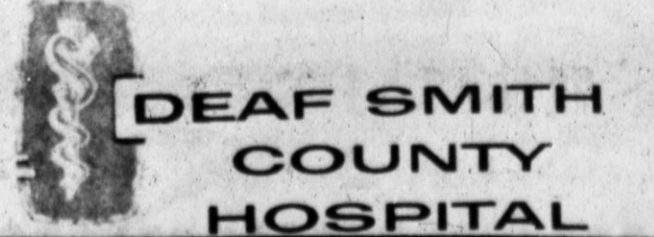

IT IS NOW UP TO YOU!

WE ASK YOU TO VOTE "YES" ON THE BALLOT MAY 20.

Your Board of Managers,
Deaf Smith County Hospital.

- John D. Pitman,
- C. S. Perrin,
- Harlan Vander Zee,
- Wayne E. Thomas,
- L. J. Strafuss,
- J. H. McCrary, M. D.,
- M. W. Nobles, M. D.

"WHERE THE LIGHTS ARE NEVER OFF"

A word or two of thanks for the kind treatment I received while in the hospital. The doctor, nurses and employees all were most kind and considerate — show me a hospital more efficient.

Carlsbad, New Mexico

Dear T. E. & Fellow workers

Your hospital and service is probably the best I have ever received—Here, Mexico City & others. Thank you and all your Staff for me.

Sincerely,

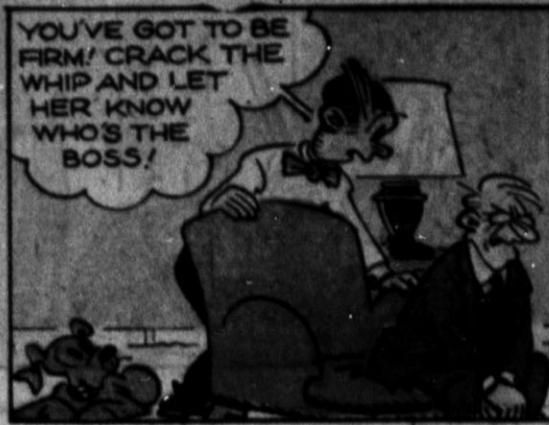

To all the Nurses at Station No. 2

You will never know how much I appreciate your wonderful care and thoughts while I was in the hospital. I sincerely Thank You from the bottom of my heart. I could never have had better care and consideration from anyone as well as all of you were to me.

Thanks again.
