Final Plans Are Made For Saturday's Water Hearing

Final arrangements have been completed for the West Texas water hearing in Hereford on Saturday.

People from all over West Texas who are interested in water resource development are expected to be at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn for the all-day meeting beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The purpose of the hearing, to be conducted by the Texas Legislative Water Study Committee, is, according to committee chairman Bill Clayton, "to find out how interested people in the area are in obtaining additional water supplies."

The water committee already has held public hearings on water problems in other areas of the State.

"The problem in West Texas," Clayton emphasized, "is how can West Texas maintain and expand its thriving economy in view of its dwindling underground water resources?"

The agenda of the hearing sets out problems concerning underground water, the cost of imported water, willingness of the area to pay for it, and the need for an agency to contract and distribute the water. In addition, the question is raised as to what territory should be included to receive imported water, and asks specifically, "should your county be included?"

Other items relate to water pollution problems and changes in law concerning water district formation.

On Friday, preceding the hearing date, the water study committee members will tour points of interest in the area related to water conservation and use. Included are visits to facilities of Water, Inc., the Underground Water District, and water research underway at Texas Tech.

Farming and agri-business industries will be surveyed from the air, as the committee flies around the area, lands in Plainview for lunch, and stops in Springlake to observe water conservation techniques.

"We cannot expect people in the rest of the state to help us get more water," commented Rep. Clayton, "unless we show them we are taking care of our presently available water supplies. Imported water will be expensive, and it behooves us to take great pains in conserving what water we have left here."

The committee will proceed by air to Amarillo for a conference at Trade-Wind airport, then to Friona for a tour of the new Missouri Packers' plant.

Final destination is Hereford for a reception and dinner Friday evening. Saturday morning before the hearing begins, the committee will tour the Holly sugar plant.

It is considered by Clayton that showing the committee members this area of the state is just one part of his selling job that West Texas has to accomplish.

Following the committee's final hearing in Austin during November, it will write its report and make recommendations to the next regular session of the Legislature.

Clayton urges West Texans "to take advantage of this hearing to place themselves on record in support of water development to meet the area's needs of the future. To say the least, West Texas has to be unified for water importation, and then in order for Texas to spend the kind of money we're talking about for this project, we are going to need a lot of down-state people on our side."

Some Classes Start In Adult Education

Adult Education Classes meeting tonight in the Hereford High School Building include Vocational Office Education, Room 120, Auto Mechanics, Room 127, and Welding, Room 133.

Any person desiring to enroll in one of these courses may do so by going to the room designated at 7 p. m. tonight.

The Vocational Office Education course will instruct persons in the use of electric typewriters, rotary calculators, printing calculators, 10-key and full key adding machines, mimeograph machines, ditto machines, and other duplicating machines, dictation equipment — as well as basic fundamentals of general office practices and procedures.

The Welding class is a beginning course in basic farm welding. It will instruct the farm laborer to do those basic welding chores that are so necessary on the farm and out in the field. On completion of this basic course if enough interest is indicated, an advance welding class will be offered.

The Auto Mechanics course will instruct individuals to completely tear down and put back together 6-cylinder and 8-cylinder engines in order to understand the basic principles of the gasoline engine. Auto Mechanics includes much more than this — it includes instruction in carburetion, transmission, tune-up, brake adjustment and repair, front-wheel alignment, and general electrical firing systems. This class will be beneficial to many people, especially young people who wish to enhance their job opportunities.

Classes meeting on Monday nights are as follows:

BASIC ENGLISH

This class is designed to teach people to understand, speak and read the English language. Enrollment in the class had necessitated dividing it in two sections — both meeting on Monday evening at Stanton Junior High School in Room 23, one at 6:30 p. m. and the other at 8 p. m. Any person desiring to enroll is encouraged to be present either at 6:30 or 8 p. m. on Monday. To date 37 persons have enrolled in this class.

TYPING I

This class meets in Room 109 of the High School Building at 6:30 p. m. with Maarki Beblis as instructor. Any one wishing to enroll may do so by going to Room 109 at this time. To date there are 24 persons enrolled.

BEGINNING SPANISH

This class will meet in Room 118 of the Hereford High School Building with Mrs. Joyce Morse teaching. To date there are 20 persons enrolled.

SPEED READING

This course will meet in Room 119 of the High School Building at 8 p. m. on Monday evenings. This is one of the most beneficial courses offered in Adult Education. It will be of great value to high school students who must do a great deal of reading to keep up with activities in their fields, to secretaries, housewives, lawyers, doctors, school teachers, farmers who would like to have time to read the many farm journals and reports — for anyone who wants to improve their reading skills so that they may read more rapidly and retain what they read. You may enroll by going to Room 119 Monday at 8 p. m.

25 Are Indicted By Grand Jury

A Deaf Smith County Grand Jury indicted 25 persons, no bailed four others and passed two more to the next session during a busy day Tuesday.

Indictments were returned against Robert Loyd Blasingsame, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense; Donald Lee Funk, forgery; Louis Crispin, DWI, second offense; Anastacio T. Navez, theft over $50; Rafael Henry Gomez, theft over $50; Bessie Bowen, swindle with a worthless check over $50, and William Lewis Jr., robbery by assault.

Also, James Falvin Hodge, robbery by assault; Leonard Lee Younger, robbery by assault; Guadalupe Ramon, DWI, second offense; Lionel Stevenson Taylor, conspiracy to commit a theft; Sidney Lee Walker, conspiracy to commit a theft; Jerrel Russell McCarter, conspiracy to commit a theft; Weldon Lester Wagner, DWI, second offense, and William Lloyd Folks, felony theft.

Also, Jesus Ybarra Huerta, assault with intent to murder; Damasio Luna Martinez, assault with intent to murder; Pete Encinas, DWI, second offense; Arseno M. Soto, damage and destruction over $100; Arseno M. Soto, felony theft; Charles Cave, DWI, second offense, and Angel Herrera, embezzlement.

Four of the persons indicted are still at large and therefore cannot be named.

Many Give Views During Hearing On School Bonds

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Views were expressed during the High School Cafeteria Tuesday night by each of the approximately 300 people who attended the opening hearing on the October 11 bond issue election for a new elementary school and football stadium here.

Hereford Independent School District Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. sat at the head table with trustees president Olin W. Parris, vice president Raymond White, secretary A. T. Mims, Ed Loerwald, Bill Gentry, Hugh Chearman and Hilrey Aven and listened to questions fired at them — mainly concerning the proposed location of the new school — by such people in the audience as Gerald Hamby, Dr. Kenneth McCrary, George Mims, so and David Hutchins.

At one point, Hamby examined individual trustees on their knowledge of migrant funds available to the schools from both federal and state agencies, but in the main questions were directed toward Clark and Parris. Although both questions and answers came at rapid-fire pace, the large group remained comparatively quiet throughout the 2-hour 35-minute session in order to fully understand each word spoken into the various microphones spaced throughout the cafeteria.

No one spoke in opposition to a new elementary school in Hereford, and only one person, voiced any objections to football stadium improvements (see separate story on sports page for these details.) However, on two occasions the trustees were approached by one man making a decision the site of the school, but were told each time by President Parris that this move would require a special meeting of the trustees, after they had been given the opportunity to discuss the findings reported in the current meeting, and promised it would be done prior to the bond election date.

Clark reported to the audience that the entire session was being tape recorded for play-back to the trustees, in order to help them reach a decision.

But Clark told them at the beginning of the meeting that "our number one responsibility is to our children." Many of the people in the audience rephrased his words as they began to speak — some were vocal in their "confidence in the administrators and trustees for their fairness and ability to make decisions" — but presented figures which they, in some cases, had gained from other sources in order to support their claims "for the school site."

Hereford City Manager Dudley Bayne was also called upon to give a report regarding the city's cash outlay for south Hereford improvements. However, Bayne began by saying, "I am here because Mayor Pool suggested that I be here tonight." His statement served to break the tension for a moment. But his second statement drew a wider response from the audience, when he related that the board and the Pope should review their past decisions and perhaps "you wouldn't have the problems you are having now" regarding the large migrant enrollment, it was believed — although he did not say so.

On the subject of South Hereford, Bayne did say that the city had spent $325,484 in getting water and sewer improvements there and had done so "because we thought South Hereford would grow." He said that the city had talked with the school board on the possibility of a school being constructed there. But he pointed out that South Hereford had been annexed by the city because of petitions having been presented by the residents there "and soon there might be eight more blocks annexed." But he concluded by saying that the construction of any school there was strictly the decision of the school trustees and that he "didn't believe the buck should be passed to the schools."

Near the end of the meeting, Parris demonstrated the complexity of the school site situation by asking for a standing vote "for location in South Hereford" and the same for "any other part of town." It was almost equally divided between the two sides.

After the meeting, one of the school trustees told the Brand that "such a decision for the right location is going to be awfully hard to make. As much as we don't want it to happen, some people are not going to be happy. But we are still going to have to do it for what we feel is in the best interests of the children." And one of the administrators said, "I wouldn't care if they decided to put the building on top of the courthouse! Just as long as we get a new elementary school here somewhere — we need the space!"

FACTS AND FIGURES
Superintendent Clark showed that enrollment as of Sept. 30 was 5,296, "excluding the kindergarten classes." Enrollment on the same date one year ago was 4,733. But he pointed out the increase in elementary enrollment since the opening of Bluebonnet Elementary School in 1965 "has been 1,030."

He also made it clear that the construction of both the new school and the stadium improvements will not mean a raise in taxes of any kind to the local taxpayer. He hoped that the new school would be ready by September 1969. His estimate, based on growth patterns of the past and without the increased figures for the future Wilson and Co. plant, expectations would be between 700 and 800 pupils at that time.

Queen Contest

Debra Walden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walden of 132 Ave. J, Hereford, has been selected to represent the Panhandle Pork Producers at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas as their candidate for queen Monday.

Debra reported that the state winner in Dallas will go to the national contest in March at Chicago.

She entered the West Texas Pork Producers contest for queen with eight other girls, but she received a call from the Panhandle group to represent them.

Debra is a senior at Hereford High School.

Don Lane Wins Football Contest

Don Lane, of 116 Hickory, proved to be the best predictor as he guessed 14 out of 16 games correctly, and getting the closest to the tie-breaker to win the Football Contest of the week.

Lane missed the tie-breaker by a mere eight points edging out Dovie Cherry who tied with the same number of correct guesses, but missed the tie-breaker by 10 points.

Winning the third place prize money was Bobby Barker who also guessed 14-16 correctly and missed the tie-breaker by 11 points. Lane received $8 for first place while Mrs. Cherry and Barker collected $4 and $2, respectively.

Due to the mix-up in the checking of the football winners Lane was not listed as the winner and Mrs. Cherry was, and Barker was listed as the second-place winner, on the office chart.

Building Permits Are Up Again

Building permits on new residences in Hereford picked up sharply during September as permits for 10 new homes were issued at City Hall.

Total for the month was $233,575, with $39,000 of that amount being in the commercial division for two new office buildings.

In the first nine months of 1968, permits in Hereford have totaled $2,580,200.

Local Lawmen Receive Praise

Members of law enforcement agencies in Deaf Smith County received a "pat on the back" Wednesday by the Hereford Lions Club, which has proclaimed October as a month to honor law enforcement officials.

During the noon luncheon Sheriff Ed Roberson introduced his staff of deputies. Also attending the meeting were 69th District Court Judge Archie McDonald, District Attorney Bill Hunter, Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade and Liquor Control Board agent Bill Austin.

Roberson received a "certificate of Appreciation" from Lions president Ray Moore, who said the recognition was being made "because of the adverse publicity toward law enforcement agencies across the country." Moore said the only way this problem could be solved was to recognize the efforts of "our own people."

During this month, certificates also will go to the Hereford Police Department and Highway Patrol. Also singled out for praise Wednesday were Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams and Corporation Court Judge J. D. Neill.

Shooting The Bull At HHS

By BETTY HODGES

As the first six weeks draws to a close, many reactions are being heard in the halls — to the seniors it's only eight more months until graduation; to the juniors it's only eight months until being a senior; and to the sophomores, it's an exasperated, "Oh, no! I just made by first 'F' in high school."

However, many people were just too busy to give any reaction. Extra curricular activities, social life, and mandatory homework do have a tendency to occupy one's time. By the way, six weeks tests are scheduled for odd tests on Wednesday and even test on Thursday of next week.

Spiritual Swingers ... popular group

Quickly becoming well known is one of the high school's singing groups, the Spiritual Swingers. Its members are Rosie Rogers, Janet Frye, Janene Sutte, Vicki Kendall, Donna Coker, Sammie Vinson, Sherry White, Janice Newsom, and the sponsor — Mrs. Ray Poland. Last Monday they provided the entertainment for the Confederation of Deaf Smith County Music Clubs, which met at the Community Center.

With one of its main interests as Hereford and the Deaf Smith community, FTA has planned a meeting with Sister Yvonne, principal of St. Joseph's, to discuss a project concerning the labor camp. FTA also sponsors the Teacher of the Month. The teacher for September was Mr. Bill Devers, choir director.

The "greenhands" of FFA are waiting for their doomsday, Oct. 21, which is the date set for initiation of new members. All new Ag boys will then have the pleasure of showing off their hands, which are soaked in a green dye solution. The officers for FFA this year are James Simpson, president; Joe Paetzold, vice-president; Jimmy Clark, reporter; Steve Olson, secretary; Jimmy Christ, treasurer; and Galan Jack, sentinel. This past Monday, several delegates attended the District I meeting at Palo Duro High School. The local delegate to district office was Steve Olson.

Busy, busy, busy — and that's the condition of the enthusiastic Key Club. Under the direction of its officers — John Stagner, president; Paul Hendon, vice-president; Marvin Readhimer, secretary; and Gary Crume, treasurer — they have already started on various projects. One of their projects (perhaps requiring the greatest amount of energy) is throwing footballs to the audience during half-time at the Friday night home games.

Bonds ...

debt, we ought to be able to justify it," he told the hearing. "The building cost for Bluebonnet was $440,000. But a year later, construction costs took an extreme rise — 20 per cent. If a new school is built on the same basis as Bluebonnet now (24 classrooms), the building and the furnishings will run about $600,000."

He reported that a total of $3,877,000 is the figure the School District is now indebted. "But we can very comfortably go into debt 7.5 per cent according to statistics. Our debt then could go up to $5,250,000. But we are not even thinking about exceeding this amount. And the taxpayer should always bear in mind, 'Always raise the rates, never values.' An increase in state and district values would lose state money. But we still have enough flexibility (to pay the bonds as the situation stands) without any increases in taxes."

Clark stipulated that the current 70 cents maximum from the tax money cannot be paid for any other item except on bonds, under the law. "This 70 cents is more than is necessary and we have collected it for some time — in order to build up the Interest and Sinking Fund, which was $30,000 in the red in 1965, to approximately $160,000 in the black by the end of this year. And this is an important factor in the rate of interest — just good business. It is also protection in case of hard times in order to pay our bonds. "We can maintain this balance ($160,000) and even add to it. As it is now invested, we will draw more interest on it than the bond would draw."

He said that the school system has "operated as economically as it could without impairing the students" over the past three years. (Clark became superintendent in 1965.) "This is the first year we have been able to operate the school without borrowing money — which is a saving to the taxpayers."

Clark reported that he and the trustees had personally visited new school buildings recently in San Angelo, Fort Worth, Plano and other places "in the hopes of getting ideas for construction here."

OPEN FORUM

President Parris welcomed the audience to ask any questions they desired pertaining to the school and stadium plans and bond issue. The first question was, "Where is the school to be located?"

Hamby presented petitions signed by residents of the city desiring that the school be constructed in South Hereford.

Clark was asked by a lady to give the total in the bond (which was issued in the past for two schools, yet only one was constructed) that had not been used. He said that approximately $90,000 — after explaining that rising costs had prevented them at the time from building a second school, and that the bond was never sold for the new vocational building — but this total had to be an approximate amount because "part of it is returned in state funds."

Another questioner brought out the problem of "45 per cent of the South Hereford school ratio would have a language problem. We think this is unfair to every child here. We wonder whether you can take a school of this ratio and have a standard of education comparable to the other schools in the city?"

Also brought up was the argument of busing the children from other schools. "We want and need a school and want to be fair. We will work for this new school. We are not racists, we are not bigots."

Parris explained that "we want to build in the right spot. We are here tonight to find out where you want it."

Another speaker said that "thinking of building a school for football boys, and the coaches would especially appreciate the support. A special activity this weekend will be the Send-Off Saturday, which will help send off the Varsity to a victory over Phillips."

Whiteface Homecoming is Nov. 1, when the Herd will stampede the Perryton Rangers.

School spirit isn't just yelling at a pep rally, buying pennants, or wearing maroon and white on game days. Yes, these are indications; but, a better indication is when you remain after the game to sing the school song.

Wheeler Sears

Savings Bonds Sales Increase Over County

According to a report received today from Wheeler Sears, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Savings Bonds Committee, the sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Deaf Smith county during the month of August totaled $6,836.

Sales during the first eight months totaled $60,491 and this is 50 per cent of the 1968 goal of $120,000.

Sales in Texas during the month of August totaled $14,390,295 which is an increase of 3.8 per cent over the same period of 1967. January-August sales reached a new high in the state totaling $121,220,421 — an increase of 8.2 per cent over January-August sales during 1967.

Nationally, sales of Series E and H Bonds and Freedom Shares were the best for any August in 13 years and total cash sales for the January-August period amounted to $3,430 million for 62.3 per cent of the National goal.

In South Hereford would be too detrimental, too unthinkable. A speaker for South Hereford interests pointed out that children "in the two-mile ratio can be transported by bus to other schools. I happen to know that it is up to the trustees to make this decision. State statute forbids it, but there are funds available for a solution to the problem."

Clark reported that "by state law we may transport a child if he lives outside the city limits or more than two miles from school. We must assign students to the nearest school first. If this school is filled, they may be assigned to others." But he said that he did not know of these funds for the problem solution. "However, if there is any change in transportation, it must be approved by the state."

Clark explained that they have put on another bus already. "The state hasn't approved it as yet, but we feel that they will." Transportation, he explained, is 100 per cent state financed.

When questioned, Dr. Mims said that he was "very skeptical of a lot of migrant funds. Any funds we take we try to see if we can get along if the fund is cut off."

It was brought out later that, although there is no way of knowing how much federal educational "money" is used with state funds ("All our applications are made to the state.") Funds will be cut from the budget occasionally and that school administrations must plan for this occurring. However, it was brought out that this has not been a serious problem as yet.

But Clark assured them that "this district this year has a favorable balance in all accounts. We will get $355,000 in migrant funds. This is probably more than all the school districts north and west of Abilene get. These funds just don't happen to a district. It is not totally to the discretion of the districts. We have to justify his and it has to be approved by the people from Austin (Texas Education Agency)."

However, Clark said that it is not illegal to transport students from one district to another — "except through state funds. We could run it at local expense, if the people so decide. But we have to know ahead of time. We don't know if there are any state or federal funds covering this, but we will check." But he pointed out that transportation is not based on gasoline alone.

The state must be reimbursed for all nonapproved bus trips.

Leo Harper of the Holly Sugar plant here reported that nearly 100 per cent of the Holly employees had signed petitions for the school to be located in

Texas Has Supplied 908 For Peace Corps, VISTA

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON — The Peace Corps and its domestic counterpart, Vista, have attracted a total of 908 volunteers from Texas to date.

Texas ranks 12th in the nation in number of Peace Corps Volunteers — 850 — but is 41st in the per capita rate for recruits among the states.

California has produced 4,979 Peace Corps volunteers. The Vistas-Volunteers in service to America are far fewer. There are 58 from Texas. So far, 177 Vistas have served in Texas programs, especially in South Texas and with migrant Mexican-Americans.

Of the Texans in the Peace Corps, 481 have finished their two-year service. Of that number, 218 were assigned to Latin American countries and 124 of the 306 Texans currently in the Corps also are in Latin America. Another 63 persons now are in training.

Other places Texans have served — Africa, 72 currently and 102 who have returned after two years; North Africa, the Near East and South Asia, 52 now and 90 returned, and the East Asia-Pacific region, 58 now and 71 returned.

The University of Texas ranks 20th in total number of Peace Corps volunteers who are its graduates. The University of California at Berkeley has produced the largest number of volunteers, 876.

Texas Tech claims 59 graduates who entered the Peace Corps, Baylor 49, North Texas State 42 and Southern Methodist 37.

Through August of 1968, a total of 1,389 persons trained for the Peace Corps in six Texas schools.

The University of Texas trained 876 of them to serve in Brazil, Afghanistan, India, Iraq, Morocco and Turkey. Texas Tech trained 198 for Latin America, Texas Christian 51 for Uruguay, Texas Western 108 for Colombia and Tanzania; Southwest Texas 106 for Costa Rica, and Baylor 50 for the Dominican Republic.

Three Texas high schools and the Texas Partners of the Alliance have joined in a cooperative program to help build five schools in communities served by Peace Corps volunteers.

The sponsor in the United States raises $1,000 with which an overseas community buys building materials to build the school. The Peace Corps volunteer serves as the link between the two groups.

So far, 500 schools have been built under the partnerships. The five built with help from Texans are: in Ilo and Challapampa, Peru, both from the Texas Partners of the Alliance; in Llicua, Peru, with help from Stephen F. Austin High School in Austin; Paldpye, Botswana, with help from Richfield High School in Waco, and another school in Botswana, with help from Andrews Junior High School in Andrews.

Committee To Hear Report By SWBT Official

Transportation and Communications Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce have scheduled a meeting at 7 a.m. today at the Caisson House, according to chairman Gene Parsley.

Bob Tarbet, manager of the local Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., is slated to make a report on telephone service expansion.

FACTS ABOUT CRIME PREVENTION

Keep ladders locked up, and second story windows as securely locked as those on the first floor.

A community can beef up its police department, use computers, and pass stiffer laws — but crime may still exist if we don't take safeguards!

The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice and the Eaton-Yale & Towne research division have defined the following areas of city and personal responsibility:

1. Police call boxes should be left open, and clearly marked.
2. Cities should have a single police emergency phone number.
3. Strict gun control laws should be passed in high-crime areas.
4. Better salaries and benefits would attract highly qualified lawmen.
5. Keep valuables in a safe deposit box.

Speed, Size Will Clash In Hereford-Phillips Contest

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

"A little 155-pound, running back will be the biggest thorn in our side when we play Phillips Saturday night," head football coach and athletic director, Larry Wartes said of the upcoming game.

"We've got to stop him or we are dead. He has played a couple of years for Phillips and is an outstanding athlete," he commented. Wartes feels that though this boy, Kelly Cook, will be a threat, he is hoping that things will be a little different as far as the outcome of the game in comparison to the three previous ones.

Offensively, the Blackhaws are what is considered a relatively small team averaging out to about 177 pounds per man on the line, whereas the Whiteface front is slightly larger. In the backfield of the offensive team, Phillips' backs are real small, averaging out to about 140 pounds each, but have quickness that offsets their size.

Past records show that Hereford has beaten Phillips only four times in the past 20 years that they have met. Hereford won in 1961 by a score of 30-12 for their most recent victory, then before that in 1960 at Phillips by a final score of 25-14. Prior to that game, it was way back in 1950 when the locals collected their last win and that was by a 35-9 score.

Through the 20 years that the two teams have met, Hereford has totaled 293 points against the Blackhaws while having 659 scored against them. The worst defeat to the locals came in 1955 when they were in AA competition and lost to the Phillips' team 73-27. This was one of only two losses that the locals suffered that year.

When the two teams got together back in 1942 for the first time, the Whitefaces defeated Phillips on penetrations, in a 7-7 game, and won regional that year with a 7-0-1 record. Then, in 1945, Phillips turned the tables and won the bi-district crown on penetrations after both teams had fought to a 14-14 standoff. The only other time that the Whitefaces and the Blackhaws met in bi-district action was in 1944 where Phillips won handily, 27-0.

In speaking of the game Saturday, Wartes said that, with this being their homecoming, and the dedication of the stadium in memory of Chester Walker, a long-time successful coach at Phillips, enthusiasm is going to be at its peak, and "they are going to have a lot going for them."

"Our one problem, and probably the biggest, is that we are going to have to adjust to the different type team that Phillips is," he said. "The others we have faced, have been good sized but kind of slow, but Phillips is just the opposite — small and quick."

Coach Wartes has told his boys that the first three games could be forgotten if they could win this encounter with Phillips, and feels that they have the chance to do just that. "We have improved tremendously over the past few weeks, and I think we will continue to improve," he added.

As far as injuries are concerned, James Head and Jerry Tyler are the only two players who are on the disabled list. Tyler is recuperating from sprained ankle and Head is mending a three-place crack in his arm. Both are expected to be able for the opening game of district competition, which is three weeks off.

Game time is 8 p. m. Saturday at Phillips.

Stadium Seating Is Discussed Tuesday

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

At the public meeting held Tuesday night concerning the proposed bond issue for improvements on the present football stadium, the school has had a tremendous amount of difficulty in the past few years scheduling schools of comparable size because they say that they will schedule Hereford only if they can not find anyone else. This, he said, is directed almost completely at the condition of the present seating at the stadium.

There has been, on occasion, Clark pointed out, gang fights at the stadium that resulted from the seating arrangement of having local fans sitting with out-of-town visitors. Also, he said, currently, the young people have a section that is on the visitors side along with the band.

Clark emphasized that if there is a continued growth in the enrollment, in the top four grades in Hereford, Hereford will enter class AAAA athletic competition within the next two years when the state board surveys the schools for reclassification. "We have had AAAA enrollment in our top four grades for the past three years," Clark stated, "and it was indicated to us that here will be little change if any in the classification scheduling. In order that a school be classified AAAA, they must maintain a daily average of 1,020 students per year in the top four grades, well, we have maintained around 1300 in our top four grades for the past three years."

State rulings on the facilities of stadiums include that a stadium should be fenced in, meaning the playing field, and only officials and players and coaches should be allowed within the fence. Clark said that this would also be included in the improvements. There is also proposed a different arrangement for the rest rooms along with an improvement in the press box, he pointed out.

Last year, Dumas complained to the state board of the difficulty they had when they were at the field filming the game, because of the inadequate press facilities. This was acted upon by the board and is now felt that there is a definite need for additional room in the present press box.

"The most important thing is the seating," he stated, "and what we do for the kids. School and athletics are for the kids, but we make no allowance for the seating of our kids here now. An improvement in the seating situation would generate enthusiasm as it would put kids, band and older fans in the same section."

Clark also explained the idea of possibly making a new type of track as the present one's maintenance work is exceedingly high. Chair-type seats have also been discussed in the proposed design which would be so on the reserve basis and an additional charge be imposed on these. These would eventually pay for themselves, he said.

The issue met little opposition at the meeting with the exception of one or two persons who felt that the stadium seating be paid for by people on a revenue bond.

The United States has 9,000 golf courses, collectively covering an area larger than the state of Rhode Island.

The bald eagle, national emblem of the United States, is protected from hunters by federal law.

Mav's 8th Grade Launches Season Today At Dumas

La Plata's eighth grade footballers, numbering around 50, will open their season today when they travel to Dumas to encounter their junior high squad at 4 p. m.

Grady Allen, coach for the Mavericks eighth grade team, said that the Dumas eighth grade team has more than likely already played one or maybe even two games and will have that under their belts when they meet the La Platans today. He said that Dumas probably has about the same size of players and about the same number of players out for the team as does La Plata.

Following this game with the Dumas team, the Maverick eighth grade team will lie idle for one week before opening district action against Tulia on the 15th. Their district games will include Dimmitt, Friona, Canyon and Stanton along with Tulia.

Boys out for the team this year include: ends, David Duval, Marc Herring, Gary Hicks, Wallace Hill, Tom Myers and Jim McNey; guards, Rocky Andrews, Emilio Cantu, Joe Coleman, Ricky Estrada, David Garcia, Dale Hairgrove, Dale Hollingsworth, David Hubbard, Roger Jesko, John Jorde, Gary Kirkland, Ricky Klein, Terry Lewis, Brad Lind, Rickey May, Alan Oney, Danny Paetzold, Randy Thompson and Roger Sanders; backs, Kenneth Aycock, Terry Champ, Sam Clemons, George Dake, Alvin Ellerd, Bill Godwin, Dennis Hickman, Marvin Kendrick, John Martin, Barry McNutt, Larry McNutt, Jay Noland, Walter Olson, Twig Rose, Joe Sheffy, Dewey Taylor and Jerry Ward; tacklers, Petro Cantu, James Davis, Steve Easley, Glen Harris, Ricky Locke and Johnny Worthan; and centers, Mark Busby and Bill Carrothers.

Players Of Week Are Recognized

"Players of the Week" for the battle against the Seminole Indians last week are Elgin Williams on offense, and Jim Loerwald on defense.

Williams, wearing number 40, tips the scales at 142 pounds but found his small size of little meaning Friday against the Indians as he ripped their defense apart. He carried 30 times, gained 119 yards for an average of 4.0 yards per carry. He scored the only touchdown, in the 7-6 heart-breaker to the Seminole team.

Loerwald, a two way player who weighs in at 188, was instrumental in a number of Whiteface defensive efforts against the Indians, but was the number one man as he intercepted an Indian pass and ran it back 15 yards, thus setting the ball up in the opposition's territory. Following his interception, the ball was carried over by Williams.

Loerwald was also credited with assisting eight tackles.

Shorthorns Smash Clovis Team, 32-6

Capitalizing on numerous Clovis miscues and a good deal of quickness on their own part, the Shorthorns chalked up their third straight victory of the season as they downed the Clovis team, 32-7, Saturday.

The game started out with both sides showing sturdiness on the line as neither team, though moved the ball real well, could not manage a score. On one occasion, the Shorthorns drove to the Clovis one-yard line but were held by the New Mexican defense.

On the second play of the second quarter, it seemed as if the straw that broke the camel's back was found as the locals erupted for 20 points in that period. Their first score came on a 19-yard scamper by Alan Wagner and the point after was added by kicker Paul Samaniego, giving them a 7-0 lead.

On the next series of plays that the Clovis team had possession of the ball, and snap on a fourth and punting situation, Wagner the punter to attempt a pitch-out that landed in the hands of Shorthorn John

Sparks who carried the ball into the end zone from 35 yards out.

Wagner again took the reigns after the locals had gained possession of the ball again, as he rambled 70 yards for another tally in the second period. He came back a few minutes later and scored again on a one-yard pounce before half-time registered on the scoreboard and the Shorthorns went in to the locker room holding a 26-0 lead.

Clovis finally got on the scoreboard in the third stanza as a runner broke a couple of tackles and scooted 35 yards for the TD. The pass for the extra point was good, and Clovis had seven points.

Wagner made the final touchdown of the game in the third quarter as he covered 32 yards for a score.

The fourth period saw no score added to the board and the game ended with the Shorthorns taking their third straight win.

The Shorthorns will next encounter Friona on home ground as the Chiefs play here tonight at 7:30.

Elgin Williams, offensive player of week.

Jim Loerwald, defensive player of week.

We're one-fifth Rambler, and all the rest is new.

There was a time when all we made were Ramblers.

And, those Ramblers made our image. With the predictable result that we got a reputation for building dependable, little cars that were high on economy and low on sex appeal.

We still make the Rambler. It's a smarter buy than it ever was. But it's no Javelin.

When American Motors can build a hot, sporty car that out-sports the other sporty cars, that's news.

So far, more than 45,000 sporty-car drivers have decided that the Javelin is a better car for the money.

The Ambassador SST 4-door sedan is our luxury car. It comes with standard air-conditioning, standard V-8, standard automatic transmission, optional velour seats, a long, long wheelbase for an elegant limousine ride, and an astonishingly low price for the package.

We also make the Rebel. The Rebel is the family car that dared to cross the treacherous Baja peninsula. Most of the specially equipped cars that start this trip never finish. The Rebel did. But, if anything changes our image, it will be the AMX, our two-seater sports car.

The AMX, specially equipped and modified, has set 106 American, national and international speed records.

At this point, it looks like our image will never survive.

DALLAS COWBOYS vs ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

Controversy Rises In Political Race

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for State Representative of the 72nd Judicial District, Monday accused his opponent, Democrat Bill Clayton, and his Hereford campaign chairman, R. C. (Dick) Godwin, of injecting politics into the affairs of the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

Ford's Deaf Smith County campaign co-chairmen, Arnie Husmann and Dean Stallings, told the Brand Monday that "there are many dues-paying members of the Water Association and Water, Inc. — including Frank Ford, — who do not feel as Mr. Godwin does about this campaign. And there are many people who were not happy with politics being injected at the noon meeting of the Crops Tour."

Howard Boswell, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, was featured speaker at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn on Sept. 20. While there was no "politics" mentioned as such at this meeting, the Ford chairman said, there were political ties in at least two of the newspapers in the District.

"Mr. Godwin had been asked by the Crop Tour people to keep politics out, and it didn't work out that way. We realize that Mr. Godwin has a difficult job in his dual role as Clayton's (Hereford) chairman and Water Association president, but we hope that this sort of thing can be avoided in the future."

Husmann reported that "anyone who has taken the trouble to talk to the people of this county knows that Frank Ford has overwhelming support in this county, including the rural precincts."

GODWIN ANSWERS

When contacted by the Brand Tuesday, Godwin said "I am shocked by the thinking of Mr. Ford and his campaign committee-men. Of course, all of us working on water importation for this area respect the political integrity of all individuals and parties, and we believe that all of us, regardless of party affiliation and political aspirations, are going to have to work together in making the import program successful."

"I also was amazed by Mr. Ford's press release recently condemning the import program as being too costly. Anybody who knows about this program is aware of the fact that our part of the country is doomed if we fail in this task and that the main part of our task is political in selling the idea to the Texas Legislature and to Congress. Perhaps Mr. Ford does not realize that there are many influential people in this county and other counties with the same party affiliation as his who are working very hard cooperatively in this venture to save our area."

"It has been and continues to be my hope that our critics will join with us in this task. However, should Mr. Ford request, I shall call immediately a meeting of the Board of Directors of Deaf Smith County Water Association to provide him the opportunity of presenting his case, and if the feeling of the Board so determines, I shall forthwith submit my resignation as President and a director of the organization."

"Meanwhile, I hope Mr. Ford attends the public hearing Saturday, because I believe he would be convinced that imported water will not be too costly, and that the benefits to be achieved would far outweigh the costs to our area, our state, and our nation. I think it would be wonderful for him to present testimony at the hearing supporting the project."

Convention Trip Report Is Given

A nominating committee to present a slate of 1969 officers for vote of Messenger Home Demonstration Club later this month, was selected at a recent meeting in Mrs. N. A. Brown's home. Mmes. S. N. Thweatt, Elmer Northcutt and H. D. Buse are members.

An informal report was given by Mrs. Northcutt on her trip to McAllen as a county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association.

Mrs. Thweatt presented the program on Driver Re-Education, stressing that extra care in driving is needed on curves or on side streets where children might play, and a driver must "think as much of stopping as of going."

Mrs. Bill Page, vice president, conducted the business meeting. The next meeting will be in Mrs. Thweatt's home Oct. 11 when Mrs. Gene Bradley will be program leader. Fresh pumpkin pie coffee and tea were served.

14,076 MAINSPRINGS — Kenneth Cowan of Cowan Jewelry was high bidder recently on 1173 dozen watch mainsprings. That counts out to 14,076 mainsprings for American and Swiss made timepieces. "They should last a little while," laughed Cowan, who usually orders the mainsprings by the half-dozen or dozen.

The trip to Abilene was enjoyable, interesting and profitable. I never quit marveling at the wonders of The Good Earth, and its limitless productivity.

Traveling on the hi-way, many lovely scenes were noted, one of which was the lush cotton fields, with a flowing oil well (one or more) in the center of the fields, and adjoining the same field the range with fine cattle grazing.

It is always interesting and satisfying to note, that in most instances, the homes have some plantings of flowers, shrubs and trees, which in its way adds to the beautification of any place.

Many of the towns and cities have projects of beautification, both in the business and residential areas. One which was most appealing was University Drive in Lubbock. We saw this drive at night under the soft rays of a golden autumn moon.

The instructors of the Symposium were excellent: Each of them gave five-hour lectures (we had breaks in between) and really, they were so well informed on their subjects and presented them in such an interesting and convincing manner that the time sped by.

Dr. Robert W. Berry, plant pathologist, from Texas A&M University Extension Service, discussed Nature and Control of Plant Diseases. This especially interested me, because I am often asked to diagnose plant disease, and then my plants need treatment many times. This lecture was very helpful.

We learned that many diseases are caused by different factors, some of which are: Fungi — products such as toad stools, moles, etc. Bacteria, which is often produced by too much moisture, especially wetness of the root system. Virus, which is common with many plants and it is transferable. (when he discussed this we almost wished for a thermometer to take plant temperature) Nematode, which causes knots to form on the roots. This is noticeable by its circle pattern, and especially so in fields or pastures where larger areas can be seen in the overall pattern. However, we do have this disease in many of our flower gardens, fields and vegetable gardens.

He not only explained how these diseases could be discerned, and diagnosed but the treatment and cure for them. In this discussion he cautioned and placed much emphasis, on safety measures connected with the use of the treatments. He said that the very first thing a person should do before application of treatment, was to READ VERY CAREFULLY THE DIRECTIONS ON THE CONTAINER. BEFORE OPENING, then to use exactly as prescribed. Some of the sprays, powders, and liquids recommended are deadly poison and MUST be used with this in mind.

He cited some examples of carelessness, one of which was how plants are often harmed by persons who smoke. Persons working where plants are grown for retail often handle the plants after they have smoked a cigarette, (should never smoke in or around the places where the plants are grown, and should WASH hands after EACH time they have smoked.) I remembered one summer when we had beautiful tomato plants, and Art would come home, from work, and go out to the garden and always visited the tomatoes, looking them over, watering and tending them, in the process he would often smoke. Our vines began to fade, wilt, and finally died without producing the tomatoes we had hoped for and looked forward to. Another friend of mine had the same thing happen to their tomatoes.

When Dr. Berry cited this, he also told of a lady gardener who had been extra careful to treat her plants, but careless about protecting herself from the sprays, etc. She is now in the hospital, and has been a patient for several weeks. Some are more susceptible to poisons than others. I have friends who never go into the garden to work with their plants without putting on long sleeved blouses, or coats, hats, rubber boots, dark glasses, and an appropriate head covering, along with long rubber gloves. When the treating time has been completed these outer garments are removed before going into the house, and the ladies take a bath before assuming household duties such as preparation of foods and care of children.

After I had listened to Dr. Berry, I started thinking of some of the troubles we had had here in recent years. One year practically all of the gardeners had trouble with their tomatoes, and another year trouble of wilt, and other things caused many to lose their petunia plants. The trouble could have been with the gardeners, the local salesmen, or the wholesale houses where the plants came from. At least this gives us something to think upon.

Mrs. J. C. Hardin, a national horticulturist, spoke five hours on "horticulture and the gardener." She was most interesting, and was certainly well informed; not from what she had read and studied primarily but from the grower herself. Her home town is noted for their growth of chrysanthemums, and she has been one of the ones who had been a leader in the project. Mixed in with her great store of knowledge was many rich experiences and a delightful sense of humor.

NOTE — More next week on gleanings from The Symposium. The chrysanthemums are making a fine showing in Hereford. Years ago the Hereford Garden Club had several years of intensive study on chrysanthemums, and the club ordered over 500 plants which were planted and grown, and then shown in the annual flower show. People who came from other localities (some as far away as New York State) marveled at the beauty of the blossoms and the diversity of the chrysanthemums shown. This year the three garden clubs will be showing some of the chrysanthemums grown this year. If one is interested, a survey of chrysanthemums now blooming would be interesting and inspiring. I have been out in various sections of the city this week, and have noted lovely showing of this favorite fall flower. There are some beautiful red garden variety mums growing on Plains Blvd., others have pinks, yellows, bronze, and white ones in bloom or in full bud. (Speaking of buds in last weeks Glad Garden, I said to pinch the terminal bud. That is WRONG; this is the one we are to leave, but should pinch the lower buds so that the cluster will be more perfect and larger.)

lovely. This is something that can be preserved for winter bouquets. Should be cut just before it reaches its prime, and it has been suggested that if the plumes are sprayed with clear spray or a good hair spray, then cut and carefully dried they will not shatter or lose their sheen. There is a lovely showing of this at the Roy Jowell home.

Another flower is showing beautifully and these also will be shown in some of the flower shows. Am referring to the African Violet. I am real excited and pleased with mine. Several of the plants that are doing so well, were given to me by Melissa Johnson. Holy Night is now in full bloom, and I have never seen such large blooms on any African Violet. They are at least 2 1/2 inches across, and the shape and pattern of markings are very beautiful. The color is a soft pink with lavender markings, and a very intricate center. Pretty, Pretty, Pretty; have had it on our snack bar for days, to enjoy it even while eating.

Another violet that has pleased me very much is the Black Cherry, which my friend Bessie Hill gave me. It has bloomed continuously since April. The blossoms are full, and a deep dark red-purple. Foliage nice, and plant formation very good. It is a great favorite.

Others that have bloomed almost constantly all summer are Pink Spark, a lovely double rose type, pink. The pattern of growth on this one is exceptional. When looking down on it with its profusion of blossoms and light green foliage, it is suggestive of a "tussie-mussie." Dainty, lovely and sweet.

Atomic Blaze is starting to bloom, and it has changed places with Holly Pink. (now it is on the snack bar. It is a single bloom, good size, intense lavender color and formation of bloom is interesting. Reminds me of the violets which grow in the woods, blossom much larger but the saucy shape and position of bloom stem is cute.

Leowais, a beautiful ruffled fringed two-tone (also a gift from Miss Melissa Johnson) is special the beautiful, thick textured, and ruffled foliage. Would sell it to any one, and then when it blooms it is breathtaking. Some of these will be going to the flower shows. I will start talking to them and grooming them for their showing. Oh, but it is fun and most rewarding to grow lovely African Violets.

Happiness is growing and sharing... GLAD

Speed, Size Will Clash In Hereford-Phillips Contest

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

"A little 135-pound, running back will be the biggest thorn in our side when we play Phillips, Saturday night," head football coach and athletic director, Larry Wartes said of the upcoming game.

"We've got to stop him or we are dead. He has played a couple of years for Phillips and is an outstanding athlete," he commented. Wartes feels that though this boy, Kelly Cook, will be a threat, he is hoping that things will be a little different as far as the outcome of the game in comparison to the three previous ones.

Offensively, the Blackhawks are what is considered a relatively small team averaging out to about 177 pounds per man on the line, whereas the Whiteface front is slightly larger. In the backfield of the offensive team, Phillips' backs are real small, averaging out to about 140 pounds each, but have quickness that offsets their size.

Past records show that Hereford has beaten Phillips only four times in the past 20 years that they have met. Hereford won in 1961 by a score of 30-12 for their most recent victory, then before that in 1960 at Phillips by a final score of 25-14. Prior to that game, it was way back in 1950 when the locals collected their last win and that was by a 35-9 score.

Through the 20 years that the two teams have met, Hereford has totaled 203 points while the Blackhawks while having 659 scored against them. The worst defeat to the locals came in 1955 when they were in AA competition and lost to the Phillips' team 73-27. This was one of only two losses that the locals suffered that year.

When the two teams got together back in 1942 for the first time, the Whitefaces defeated Phillips on penetrations, in a 7-7 game, and won regional that year with a 7-0 record. Then, in 1945, Phillips turned the tables and won the bi-district crown on penetrations after both teams had fought to a 14-14 standoff. The only other time that the Whitefaces and the Blackhawks met in bi-district action was in 1944 where Phillips won handily, 27-0.

In speaking of the game Saturday, Wartes said that, with this being their homecoming, and the dedication of the stadium in memory of Chester Walker, a long-time successful coach at Phillips, enthusiasm is going to be at its peak, and "they are going to have a lot going for them."

"Our one problem, and probably the biggest, is that we are going to have to adjust to the different type team that Phillips is," he said. "The others we have faced, have been good sized but kind of slow, but Phillips is just the opposite—small and quick."

Coach Wartes has told his boys that the first three games could be forgotten if they could win this encounter with Phillips, and feels that they have the chance to do just that. "We have improved tremendously over the past few weeks, and I think we will continue to improve," he added.

As far as injuries are concerned, James Head and Jerry Tyler are the only two players who are on the disabled list. Tyler is recuperating from sprained ankle and Head is mending a three-place crack in his arm. Both are expected to be able for the opening game of district competition, which is three weeks off.

Game time is 8 p. m. Saturday at Phillips.

Stadium Seating Is Discussed Tuesday

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

At the public meeting held Tuesday night concerning the proposed bond issue for improvements on the present stadium, the school has had a tremendous amount of difficulty in the past few years scheduling schools of comparable size because they say that they will schedule Hereford only if they can not find anyone else. This, he said, is directed almost completely at the condition of the present seating at the stadium.

There has been, on occasion, Clark pointed out, gang fights at the stadium that resulted from the seating arrangement of having local fans sitting with out-of-town visitors. Also, he said, currently, the young people have a section that is on the visitors side along with the band.

Clark emphasized that if there is a continued growth in the enrollment, in the top four grades in Hereford, Hereford will enter class AAAA athletic competition within the next two years when the state board surveys the schools for reclassification. "We have had AAAA enrollment in our top four grades for the past three years," Clark stated, "and it was indicated to us that here will be little change if any in the classification scheduling. In order that a school be classified AAAA, they must maintain a daily average of 1,020 students per year in the top four grades, well, we have maintained around 1300 in our top four grades for the past three years."

State rulings on the facilities of stadiums include that a stadium should be fenced in, meaning the playing field, and only officials and players and coaches should be allowed within the fence. Clark said that this would also be included in the improvements. There is also proposed a different arrangement for the rest rooms along with an improvement in the press box, he pointed out.

Last year, Dumas complained to the state board of the difficulty they had when they were at the field filming the game, because of the inadequate press facilities. This was acted upon

May's 8th Grade Launches Season Today At Dumas

La Plata's eighth grade footballers, numbering around 50, will open their season today when they travel to Dumas to encounter their junior high squad at 4 p.m.

Grady Allen, coach for the Mavericks eighth grade team,

said that the Dumas eighth grade team has more than likely already played one or maybe even two games and will have that under their belts when they meet the La Platans today. He said that Dumas probably has about the same size of players and about the same number of players out for the team as does La Plata.

Following this game with the Dumas' team, the Maverick eighth grade team will lie idle for one week before opening district action against Tulia on the 15th. Their district games will include Dimmitt, Friona, Canyon and Stanton along with Tulia.

Players Of Week Are Recognized

"Players of the Week" for the battle against the Seminole Indians last week are Elgin Williams on offense, and Jim Loerwald on defense.

Williams, wearing number 40, tips the scales at 142 pounds but found his small size of little meaning Friday against the Indians as he ripped their defense apart. He carried 30 times, gained 119 yards for an average of 4.0 yards per carry. He scored the only touchdown in the 7-6 heart-breaker to the Seminole team.

Loerwald, a two way player who weighs in at 188, was instrumental in a number of Whiteface defensive efforts against the Indians, but was the number one man as he intercepted an Indian pass and ran it back 15 yards, thus setting the ball up in the opposition's territory. Following his interception, the ball was carried over by Williams.

Loerwald was also credited with assisting eight tackles.

Boys out for the team this year include: ends, David Duval, Marc Herring, Gary Hicks, Wallace Hill, Tom Myers and Jim McNeey; guards, Rocky Andrews, Emilio Cantu, Joe Coleman, Ricky Estrada, David Garcia, Dale Haurgrove, Dale Hollingsworth, David Hubbard, Roger Jesko, John Jorde, Gary Kirkland, Ricky Klein, Terry Lewis, Brad Lind, Rickey May, Allen Oney, Danny Paetzold, Randy Thompson and Roger Sanders; backs, Kenneth Aycock, Terry Champ, Sam Clemons, George Dakel, Alvin Elford, Bill Godwin, Dennis Hickman, Marvin Kendrick, John Martin, Barry McNutt, Larry McNutt, Jay Noland, Walter Olson, Twig Rose, Joe Sheffy, Dewey Taylor and Jerry Ward; tackles, Petro Capitu, James Davis, Steve Easley, Glen Harris, Ricky Locke and Johnny Worthan; and centers, Mark Busby and Bill Carrothers.

Managers for the Mavericks eighth graders this year are: Brad Roberson, Wesley Owen, Gary Dillard and Terry Roberts.

Shorthorns Smash Clovis Team, 32-6

Capitalizing on numerous Clovis miscues and a good deal of quickness on their own part, the Shorthorns chalked up their third straight victory of the season as they downed the Clovis team, 32-7, Saturday.

The game started out with both sides showing sturdiness on the line as neither team, though moved the ball real well, could not manage a score. On one occasion, the Shorthorns drove to the Clovis one-yard line but were held by the New Mexican defense.

On the second play of the second quarter, it seemed as if the straw that broke the camel's back was found as the locals erupted for 26 points in that period. Their first score came on a 19-yard scamper by Alan Wagner and the point after was added by kicker Paul Samaniego, giving them a 7-0 lead.

On the next series of plays that the Clovis team had possession of the ball, a bad snap on a fourth and punting situation, caused the punter to attempt a pitch-out that landed in the hands of Shorthorn John

Sparks who carried the ball into the end zone from 35 yards out.

Wagner again took the reigns after the locals had gained possession of the ball again, as he rambled 70 yards, for another tally in the second period. He came back a few minutes later and scored again on a one-yard plunge before half-time registered on the scoreboard and the Shorthorns went in to the locker room holding a 26-0 lead.

Clovis finally got on the scoreboard in the third stanza as a runner broke a couple of tackles and scooted 35 yards for the TD. The pass for the extra point was good, and Clovis had seven points.

Wagner made the final touchdown of the game in the third quarter as he covered 32 yards for a score.

The fourth period saw no score added to the board and the game ended with the Shorthorns taking their third straight win.

The Shorthorns will next encounter Friona on home ground as the Chiefs play here, tonight at 7:00.

Elgin Williams... offensive player of week.

Jim Loerwald... defensive player of week.

We're one-fifth Rambler, and all the rest is new.

There was a time when all we made were Ramblers. And, these Ramblers made our image. With the predictable result that we got a reputation for building dependable, little cars that were high on economy and low on sex appeal.

We still make the Rambler. It's a smarter buy than it ever was. But it's no Javelin.

When American Motors can build a hot, sporty car that out-sports the other sporty cars, that's news.

So far, more than 45,000 sporty-car drivers have decided that the Javelin is a better car for the money.

The Ambassador SST 4-door sedan is our luxury car. It comes with standard air-conditioning, standard V-8, standard automatic transmission, optional velour seats, a long, long wheelbase for an elegant limousine ride, and an astonishingly low price for the package.

We also make the Rebel. The Rebel is the family car that dared to cross the treacherous Baja peninsula. Most of the specially equipped cars that start this trip never finish. The Rebel did. But, if anything changes our image, it will be the AMX, our two-seater sports car. The AMX, specially equipped and modified, has set 106 American, national and international speed records.

At this point, it looks like our image will never survive.

Controversy Rises In Political Race

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for State Representative of the 72nd Judicial District, Monday accused his opponent, Democrat Bill Clayton, and his Hereford campaign chairman, R. C. (Dick) Godwin, of injecting politics into the affairs of the Deaf Smith County Water Association.

Ford's Deaf Smith County campaign co-chairmen, Arnie Husmann and Dean Stallings, told the Brand Monday that "there are many dues-paying members of the Water Association and Water, Inc. — including Frank Ford, — who do not feel as Mr. Godwin does about this campaign. And there are many people who were not happy with politics being injected at the noon meeting of the Crops Tour."

Howard Boswell, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, was featured speaker at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn on Sept. 20. While there was no "politics" mentioned as such at this meeting, the Ford chairmen said, there were political tie-ins in at least two of the newspapers in the District.

"Mr. Godwin had been asked by the Crop Tour people to keep politics out, and it didn't work out that way. We realize that Mr. Godwin has a difficult job in his dual role as Clayton's (Hereford) chairman and Water Association president, but we hope that this sort of thing can be avoided in the future."

Husmann reported that "anyone who has taken the trouble to talk to the people of this county, knows that Frank Ford has overwhelming support in this county, including the rural precincts."

GODWIN ANSWERS

When contacted by the Brand Tuesday, Godwin said "I am shocked by the thinking of Mr. Ford and his campaign committee-men. Of course, all of us working on water importation for this area respect the political integrity of all individuals and parties, and we believe that all of us, regardless of party affiliation and political aspiration, are going to have to work together in making the import program successful."

"I also was amazed by Mr. Ford's press release recently condemning the import program as being too costly. Anybody who knows about this program is aware of the fact that our part of the country is doomed if we fail in this task and that the main part of our task is political in selling the idea to the Texas Legislature and to Congress. Perhaps Mr. Ford does not realize that there are many influential people in this county and other counties with the same party affiliation as his who are working very hard cooperatively in this venture to save our area."

"It has been and continues to be my hope that our critics will join with us in this task. However, should Mr. Ford request, I shall call immediately a meeting of the Board of Directors of Deaf Smith County Water Association to provide him the opportunity of presenting his case, and if the feeling of the Board so determines, I shall forthwith submit my resignation as President and a director of the organization."

"Meanwhile, I hope Mr. Ford attends the public hearing Saturday, because I believe he would be convinced that imported water will not be too costly, and that the benefits to be achieved would far outweigh the costs to our area, our state, and our nation. I think it would be wonderful for him to present testimony at the hearing supporting the project."

Convention Trip Report Is Given

A nominating committee to present a slate of 1969 officers for vote of Messenger Home Demonstration Club later this month, was selected at a recent meeting in Mrs. N. A. Brown's home. Meses. S. N. Thweatt, Elmer Northcutt and H. D. Buse are members.

An informal report was given by Mrs. Northcutt on her trip to McAllen as a county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association.

Mrs. Thweatt presented the program on Driver Re-Education, stressing that extra care in driving is needed on curves or on side streets where children might play, and a driver must "think as much of stopping as of going."

Mrs. Bill Page, vice president, conducted the business meeting. The next meeting will be in Mrs. Thweatt's home Oct. 11 when Mrs. Gene Bradley will be program leader. Fresh pumpkin pie coffee and tea were served.

14,076 MAINSPRINGS — Kenneth Cowan of Cowan Jewelry was high bidder recently on 1173 dozen watch mainsprings. That counts out to 14,076 mainsprings for American and Swiss made timepieces. "They should last a little while," laughed Cowan, who usually orders the mainsprings by the half-dozen or dozen.

The trip to Abilene was enjoyable, interesting and profitable. I never quit marveling at the wonders of The Good Earth, and its limitless productiveness.

Traveling on the hi-way, many lovely scenes were noted, one of which was the lush cotton fields, with a flowing oil well (one or more) in the center of the fields, and adjoining the same field the range with fine cattle grazing.

It is always interesting and satisfying to note, that in most instances, the homes have some plantings of flowers, shrubs and trees, which in its way adds to the beautification of any place.

Many of the towns and cities have projects of beautification, both in the business and residential areas. One which was most appealing was University Drive in Lubbock. We saw this drive at night under the soft rays of a golden autumn moon.

The instructors of the Symposium were excellent. Each of them gave five-hour lectures (we had breaks in between) and really, they were so well informed on their subjects and presented them in such an interesting and convincing manner that the time sped by.

Dr. Robert W. Berry, plant pathologist, from Texas A&M University Extension Service, discussed Nature and Control of Plant Diseases. This especially interested me, because I am often asked to diagnose plant disease, and then my plants need treatment many times. This lecture was very helpful.

We learned that many diseases are caused by different factors, some of which are: Fungi — products such as toad stools, moles, etc. Bacteria, which is often produced by too much moisture, especially wetness of the root system. Virus, which is common with many plants and it is transferable. (When he discussed this we almost wished for a thermometer to take plant temperature) Nematode, which causes knots to form on the roots. This is noticeable by its circle pattern, and especially so in fields or pastures where larger areas can be seen in the overall pattern. However, we do have this disease in many of our flower gardens, fields and vegetable gardens.

He not only explained how these diseases could be discerned, and diagnosed but the treatment and cure for them. In this discussion he cautioned and placed much emphasis, on safety measures connected with the use of the treatments. He said that the very first thing a person should do before application of treatment, was to READ VERY CAREFULLY THE DIRECTIONS ON THE CONTAINER. BEFORE OPENING, then to use exactly as prescribed. Some of the sprays, powders, and liquids recommended are deadly poison and MUST be used with this in mind.

He cited some examples of carelessness, one of which was how plants are often harmed by persons who smoke. Persons working where plants are grown for retail often handle the plants after they have smoked a cigarette, (should never smoke in or around the places where the plants are grown, and should WASH hands after EACH time they have smoked.) I remembered one summer when we had beautiful tomato plants, and Art would come home from work, and go out to the garden and always visited the tomatoes, looking them over, watering and tending them, in the process he would often smoke. Our vines began to fade, wilt, and finally died without producing the tomatoes we had hoped for and looked forward to. Another friend of mine had the same thing happen to their tomatoes.

When Dr. Berry cited this, he also told of a lady gardener who had been extra careful to treat her plants, but careless about protecting herself from the sprays, etc. She is now in the hospital, and has been a patient for several weeks. Some are more susceptible to poisons than others. I have friends who never go into the garden to work with their plants without putting on long sleeved blouses, or coats, hose, rubber boots, dark glasses, and an appropriate head covering, along with long rubber gloves. When the treating time has been completed these outer garments are removed before going into the house, and the ladies take a bath before assuming household duties such as preparation of foods and care of children.

After I had listened to Dr. Berry, I started thinking of some of the troubles we had had here in recent years. One year practically all of the gardeners had trouble with their tomatoes, and another year trouble of wilt, and other things caused many to lose their petunia plants. The trouble could have been with the gardeners, the local salesmen, or the wholesale houses where the plants came from. At least this gives us something to think upon.

Mrs. J. C. Hardin, a national horticulturist, spoke five hours on "horticulture and the gardener." She was most interesting, and was certainly well informed; not from what she had read and studied primarily but from the grower herself. Her home town is noted for their growth of chrysanthemums, and she has been one of the ones who had been a leader in the project. Mixed in with her great store of knowledge was many rich experiences and a delightful sense of humor.

NOTE — More next week on gleanings from The Symposium. The chrysanthemums are making a fine showing in Hereford. Years ago the Hereford Garden Club had several years of intensive study on chrysanthemums, and the club ordered over 500 plants which were planted and grown, and then shown in the annual flower show. People who came from other localities (some as far away as New York State) marveled at the beauty of the blossoms and the diversity of the chrysanthemums shown. This year the three garden clubs will be showing some of the chrysanthemums grown this year. If one is interested, a survey of chrysanthemums now blooming would be interesting and inspiring. I have been out in various sections of the city this week, and have noted lovely showing of this favorite fall flower. There are some beautiful red garden variety mums growing on Plains Blvd., others have pinks, yellows, bronze, and white ones in bloom or in full bud. (Speaking of buds in last weeks Glad Garden, I said to pinch the terminal bud. That is WRONG; this is the one we are to leave, but should pinch the lower buds so that the cluster will be more perfect and larger.)

Pampas Grass, is grown in many of the yards and it is

Mystery, How-To Books Are New

Two new books have found homes on the shelves of Deaf Smith County Library. One book deals with an exciting mystery set in England, and the other deals with how to teach babies to read.

A new mystery in the Library right now is THE EWE LAMB, by Margaret Erskine. Somewhere in the dark labyrinthine halls of Old House a terrible, nameless corruption lurked. Victoria Digby could feel it growing all around her, threatening and ugly — until suddenly she was overwhelmed by the realization of what it was. A few hours later, she met violent death beneath the wheels of a train.

Her young cousin, Kate, suspecting that Victoria's death was not an accident, applied for her job as a tourist guide through the historic old mansion. Kate soon came to know its owners, the Staveling family — handsome, debonaire Robert; his cool blonde wife, Edith; and their nephew, a disturbed boy who lived in his own fantasy world. But as Kate was drawn deeper into the tangled, mysterious affairs of the Staveling family, the shadow of her own doom was lengthening in the halls of Old House. The setting for this story is in England.

A new book being asked for and now on the Library shelf is GLENN DOMAN'S — HOW TO TEACH YOUR BABY TO READ. Written for parents, this exciting book presents a revolutionary idea: that children are far smarter than we give them credit for. In fact, we have been wasting our children's most important years by refusing to allow them to learn everything they can at a time when it is easiest for them to absorb new information.

Reading, says the author, is not a subject like geography, but a brain function like seeing and hearing. He shows clearly, and illustrates with fascinating case histories, just how easy it is to teach a young child to read — and what a great benefit early reading is to both the child and his mother.

Glenn Doman, who has been remarkably successful in making braindamaged children into well children, has discovered that we are wasting our brains — and particularly our children's brains — on a grand scale. His long and careful study of growing children has given us dramatic evidence that we have underestimated what they can do and learn while having fun.

Among other topics, HOW TO TEACH YOUR BABY TO READ shows that tiny children want to learn to read, that they can learn to read, that they are learning to read, and that they indeed should learn to read. It also discusses the controversies of early reading ("Who Has Problems, Readers, or Non-readers?") and presents, in detail, exactly how to go about teaching reading to a young child.

The author emphasizes throughout that the process is a joyous one. Indeed, as this inspiring book shows, learning to read — for toddlers — is not a chore, for either the mother or the child. It is an experience in fun, enjoyment, achievement and pride.

Drama Group Sets Meeting

A membership meeting of Hereford Community Players was set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at a meeting of the board of directors at the Caison House this week. Each member is asked to bring one or more prospective members to the Community Center.

Date of monthly board meetings will be the first Tuesday of each month, it was decided, and the November session will be in the home of Mrs. George Warner.

Plans for a fall production will be presented to members at the Tuesday evening meeting, and further programs for the season discussed.

Membership in the drama group is open to all interested persons and further information may be secured from Mrs. Gene Parsley, membership chairman; Mrs. John Gilliland, president of the Players or Orval Watson, chairman of the Board.

L. O. Wilder's Funeral Service Scheduled Today

Funeral services for Lucius Orlando Wilder, 89, resident of Deaf Smith County since 1922, will be conducted at 2:30 this afternoon in the Rosc Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home. His death occurred early Wednesday in Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mr. Wilder, a resident of Kings Manor Retirement Home in recent years, was a native Texan, born Apr. 27, 1878. He married Edna Lloyd Nev. 15, 1899, at Owensville and they came to this county from North Carolina in 1922. Mrs. Wilder died in 1951.

Survivors are four sisters, Mrs. L. F. Cox of Wichita Falls, Mrs. W. A. Knight of Rising Star, Mrs. B. T. Baxter of Franklin and Mrs. J. T. Davis of Beaumont.

The funeral will be conducted by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of First United Methodist Church. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

The family of Mr. Wilder requests that memorials be made to Kings Manor.

Post Office Is Seeking Helper

The Hereford Post Office has been authorized to hire one additional clerical employee for a period not to exceed six months. The hours of duty will be irregular and the duties will also include carrying mail.

An open competitive examination will be administered by the Civil Service Commission in Amarillo in the near future. All interested persons should contact the Hereford Post Office for additional details.

Wildorado Sets Political Supper

Wildorado PTA will have a "Know Your Candidate" pie supper Saturday night in the Wildorado School at 8.

Mrs. Wilbur Leeper, publicity chairman, reported that candidates, both Democrat and Republican have been invited from Deaf Smith, Oldham, Potter and Randall counties. Each candidate has been allotted three minutes to voice his political views.

Mrs. Leeper said that pies will be auctioned by the local personnel and proceeds will go to the PTA project of the year.

National Bank. Members of the board, including all officers and heads of committees, are asked to be present for this session by the county chairman, J. R. Johnson.

Dick Brown, candidate for Congress from the 18th Congressional District, will visit nine Panhandle cities with the third of a series of Voter Van Tours, in his, Take The Campaign To The People, Program on Saturday.

A chartered bus which will carry the candidate, his family, friends; a band and colorfully attired campaign workers will schedule stops at Bushland, 9:30 a. m. Wildorado, 10:30 a. m.; Vega 11:30 a. m. Hereford, 12:30 p. m. Friona, 2:30 p. m. Dimmitt, 4:45 p. m.; Nazareth, 5:45 p. m. and Umparger, 7 p. m.

During the brief stops, the voter van riders will present music, brief speeches and will distribute "Voice of Dick Brown" material.

"We hope to visit with as many people as possible and we invite everyone who is interested in sending a positive voice for the Panhandle to congress to join us as we visit this section of our district," Brown said. Adding that he intended to take the voter van to every one of the twenty-eight counties comprising his district.

Brown opposes Rep. Bob Price

Chamber Women Hear Reports On Committee Activities

Activity under way in committees of the recently-formed Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce were reported at the first membership meeting Tuesday, a luncheon at Hereford Country Club.

A nominating committee appointed by Mrs. M. C. Adams, president, to present a slate of officers for the 1969 calendar year, comprises Mrs. Ruth Knox, chairman, Mmes. Bill Lamb, Paul Hamrick, Clint Jackson and Ed Loerwald.

Two directors are to be elected, in addition to two vice presidents, a secretary-treasurer and a parliamentarian. The division president is named by the Chamber of Commerce.

Bill Thompson, Chamber manager, gave the program, showing a short film titled "It Takes More Than Coconut Cake". The film concerns women's responsibility as citizens and suggests training for involvement in public affairs.

Thompson urged the women to attend ground breaking ceremonies Oct. 23 for the Wilson & Co. plant here.

Twelve members have been added to the Women's Division since it was organized in the summer. Mrs. J. Blocker reported for the membership committee, said planting of shrubs is complete at the small park beside the Santa Fe station, and ground prepared for spring-blooming bulbs. She noted that the subcommittee headed by Mrs. Bruce Brown has chosen Beauty Spots of the Month each month.

The welcoming and convention committee will supply transportation from airport to city, and from motel headquarters to meetings, during the State Water Development Board meeting here next weekend. Mrs. Hamrick said in a report. Mrs. H. A. Cavness heads that committee.

Public Affairs committee members will help make a survey of adult education at West Texas State University. Mrs. Knox said. She made the report for Mrs. Hazen Woods, chairman.

It was announced that the telephone committee, with Mrs. Oliver Streu as chairman, has set up its schedule and is ready to function.

In Third Week Action

District Foes Still Battling

By MARSHALL DAY Staff Writer

Perryton and Canyon were the only district 1-AAA teams that were able to come out on top of their games during the third week of grid iron action, while others continued to fall.

Number one state ranked Perryton continued along their winning streak Friday as they slaughtered Pampa 33-14 rolling up 448 total offensive yards, with 354 of these coming on the ground attack. Perryton registered 24 first downs in their record books as compared to 13 for the Harvesters.

In statistics, Perryton led in every category except two and those were the number of penalties costing them 113 yards while Pampa had two penalties costing them 31 yards. In the air, Perryton gained only 94 yards on seven of 11 completions and Pampa totaled 118 yards on five of 12 connections.

Canyon registered their first win of the year as they clipped the Spearman Lynx 21-15 in the fading minutes of the fourth period.

Spearman threatened in the last minute of the game as they drove to the Canyon two-yard line, but had to relinquish possession of the ball as the Canyon team held the line.

The Muleshoe Mules suffered their third straight defeat as they fell at the hands of the Olton Mustangs, in an aerial bombardment of 49-7.

Behind the field generaling of

The box turtle of North America is able to support a weight 200 times its own. In man such a feat would mean supporting the weight of two large elephants.

Beginning in 1820 with Maria Hester Monroe, seven daughters of Presidents have been married in the White House. Grover Cleveland was the only President to marry there.

their quarterback, the Mustangs hauled in TD passes for five, eight, 15, 20 and 40 yards in rumbling to their victory over the class AAA Mules. Muleshoe's only tally came in the second stanza when they recovered a Mustang fumble in their own end zone.

Tulia kept up with the times as they again met disaster in their third non-conference loss to the score of 46-26 behind the Dalhart Wolves.

One player, Gary Moore by name, was the key to the Wolves victory as he raced for four touchdowns while rolling up 272 yards rushing. His tallies came on runs of four, 40, 41 and 61 yards as he tore the Hornet defense to shreds.

Dalhart is the next opponent for the Whitefaces following this Friday's game against the Phillips team. They have scored a total of 155 points in their first three outings as compared to the Whitefaces' 12, in keeping their record perfect at 3-0 while the locals are just the opposite.

Dumas, always a contender as the season wears along, put up a fine fight against the top state ranked AAAA Amarillo Tascosa 11, as they dropped the game by a slight eight points, 18-10.

Looking at the statistics, Tascosa should have just waltzed away with the contest, as they had 17 first downs as compared to the Demons' four, had 341 yards rushing to 34 of Dumas', and a total yardage of 365 to 101 of the Demons. The only advantages that the Demons had over the Rebels were in punting, least number of yards penalized and yards in the air.

Each of the five district foes of the Whitefaces will play two more games before they begin district action. Hereford will open their district play on Oct. 25 against Canyon at Buffalo Bowl; Dumas will go to Muleshoe for their opener on Oct. 25; and the other two 1-AAA teams, Perryton and Tulia, will clash at Perryton on the same date.

New Officers Installed In Rebekah Ceremony

Mrs. A. N. Hopson heads new officers installed for a six-month term Hereford Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening. The ceremony and a salad supper were held in IOOF Hall.

A member, Mrs. Roy Manning, who is district deputy president, conducted the installation, assisted by a staff from the Friona Rebekah Lodge. Mrs. Hopson succeeds Mrs. Guy Lawrence as noble grand of the lodge.

Convention Is Reported To Chapter

A "friendship box" project to raise funds was started in Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a meeting Tuesday evening in Community Center, and yearbooks listing the 1968-69 programs were distributed.

Tentative plans were made for a Halloween party later this month. Reports were heard from members who attended the recent area convention at Dumas, where the principal speaker was Jack Ross, head of the international organization of Beta Sigma Phi and son of the founder.

Alpha Alpha members who went to the convention were Mmes. Jim Cramer, Harold Beauchamp, Max Stipe, Katie Kendall and Bob Huddleston. Mrs. Kendall was hostess Tuesday evening, and served refreshments to those mentioned and Mmes. Carl Hollingsworth and Hicks Roberson.

Also installed were Mrs. Leonard Davis as vice grand; Mrs. Manning, right support to the noble grand; Mrs. Orpha Nicholson, left support; Mrs. Aubrey Rogers, warder; Mrs. Ola Hacker, conductress; Mrs. Archie Love, color bearer; A. R. Rogers, flag bearer.

Also Mrs. Naomi Murrell, chaplain; Mrs. Zelma Waller, inside guard; Mrs. James Vines, outside guard; Miss Mary Bradley, right support to the vice grand; Mrs. Wallace Shelton, left support, Mrs. A. R. Rogers, musician.

Friona members who assisted in the program were Juanita Reed, Geneva Williams, Pearl Patterson, Pat Farwell and Kate Smith.

Antique Show Is Scheduled

The Annual Antique Show, a fund raising project of the Amarillo Federation of Women's Club will be held Oct. 10-11-12 at the club's building at 2003 Civic Circle in Amarillo.

The building is open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tickets are $1 and are available at the door. Meals are served throughout the entire show.

The Heritage Club and Antique Collectanea Club serve as hostesses and members of the Federation help in serving, hosting, and giving out much needed information.

Approximately 24 antique dealers from Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, New Mexico and parts of Texas will be on hand for the show.

Representative Attempting To Expand State's Imports

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON — If some European countries changed regulations they use to restrict imports Texas would stand a better chance to expand its cattle and food markets, says Rep. Eligio de la Garza.

The Mission Democrat attended an agricultural seminar last spring in Madrid, Spain, to probe possibilities of opening new markets overseas.

In a followup study, de la Garza said the most significant trade barriers in the guise of food regulations are in Italy.

There are regulations on chemical additives, pesticides and animal health and other rules for dried fruit, fresh citrus, citrus juice and meat and poultry. The rules are rigidly enforced for imported products but not always applied to domestic products, de la Garza said.

He said the agricultural attaches in Italy says altered restrictions could open up markets for U. S. exports of fresh citrus, prepared meats, dairy products and breeding cattle.

Austria's rules on preservatives, coloring agents and labeling have created some problems in exporting fresh citrus and dried fruits, he said.

Food regulations in Finland, Sweden, Portugal and the United Kingdom generally have not affected the export trade, de la Garza said.

approved.

Mr. and Mrs. Farris Kromer and Bruce and Bobby Brown attended the Bodeo also. Bruce won first in alf roping and Bobby won third in bull riding.

Adrian P. T. O. meeting Monday night in the school cafeteria. The time is 7:30 and hostesses are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Enle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Guest.

A birthday party for Mrs. Lola Perry was held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. P. Doherty. The 42 Players were the hostesses. Among those attending were Mrs. Lena Guggell, Mrs. Elbert Whitten, Mrs. Nannie Fortenberry, Mrs. Nina O'Brien, Mrs. E. E. Allen, Mrs. W. C. Briggs, Mrs. Luther Warner, Mrs. T. L. Shubert, and Mrs. Calvin Jackson.

Farm Forum Is Set In Louisiana

Jay Boston, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee, reported that the 22nd annual Southern Farm Forum will be held at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans on January 23-24.

Ed Wilborn, editor of The Progressive Farmer and chairman of the Southwide Farm Forum Advisory Committee, told Boston that "the purpose of the farm forum is to offer members of all segments of Southern agriculture an opportunity to get together for a close look at common problems and opportunities."

"New Vistas in Southern Agriculture" has been announced as the theme of the forum. Other topics set for discussion are New Opportunities in Southern Agriculture, The Role of Agriculture in a Changing Southern Economy, Collective Bargaining Power for Farmers, Voluntary versus Government Land Use Planning, and Why Not Emancipation For the Southern Farmer?

The Farm Forum is sponsored by the Agricultural Committees of the Chambers of Commerce in New Orleans and Memphis.

Mosquito eggs need about two days to hatch into larvae, or "wigglers."

Party Plans For Chapter Discussed

Plans for a Halloween Party, tentatively set for Oct. 29, were discussed at the meeting of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday. Mrs. Jim Cramer was hostess at Community Center.

The program on kitchen planning, one of a series on furnishing and decorating the home, was given by Mrs. Pat Parker.

Mrs. John Gilliland reported events of the area BSP convention held in Dumas Sept. 21 and 22, which several members of the chapter attended. A rummage sale was scheduled for Oct. 12 to raise funds for this year's projects.

Also present were Mmes. C. D. Fitzgeard Jr., Howard Gore, Harold Kids, John Schneider and Larry Summers.

Patman also wants to have reprinted his 1947 report on fascism in action, based on an analysis of European events. He said he feels the Fascists, goals and tactics on the right wing are just as pertinent to study today as the similar actions of the left-fringe Communists. He has introduced a resolution to allow government printing of the 1947 study.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — My draft board has mailed me a classification questionnaire. Because of circumstances beyond my control, I can't possibly return it in the 10 days allowed for completion and return. May I receive more time?

A — Yes, if the reason for delay is valid, the local board may grant additional time.

Q — I've had my induction postponed. Before I'm again ordered to report for induction, doesn't the local board have to issue a new order?

A — No. The postponement didn't cancel the original order; it merely rendered invalid the first reporting date.

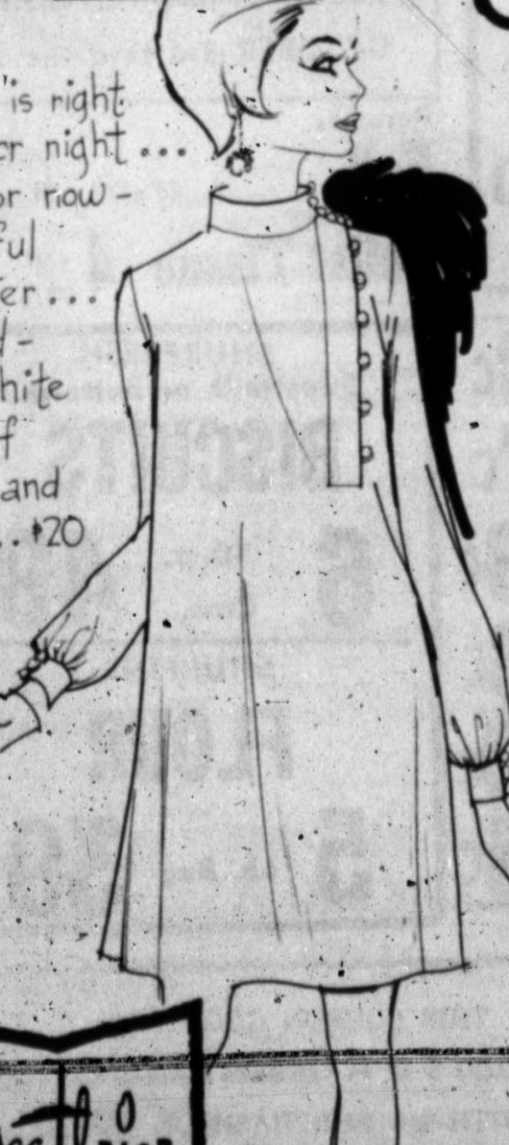

Q — I want to enlist in the National Guard. I took the physical examination directed by the draft board and was found qualified for military service. Can the results of this examination be made available to the Guard, or must I take another examination?

A — A second examination probably will not be necessary. Write your board and request it to furnish the Guard copies of all reports and questionnaires needed for your enlistment. In many cases this eliminates the expense of a second examination.

Q — I'm in the army and have a total hearing loss in one ear and perfect hearing in the other. Does this qualify me for a medical discharge?

A — See a medical officer, who can evaluate your case under provisions of chapter 3, section V, paragraph 10 of Army Regulation 40-501.

MEMORIAL GIFT — A western landscape painted by Paul Salisbury was presented to Hereford Community Center, where it hangs in the main assembly room, at a meeting of Deaf Smith Federation of Women's Clubs this week. Mayor Johnny Pool accepted the gift from the Rockwell Foundation as a memorial to Victoria Wilson Rockwell, former Hereford resident. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, center, made the presentation for a County Federation committee which included Mrs. J. C. McCracken, right, and Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, not pictured.

Gift Dedication As Part Of Federation Program

Panel discussion of the value of membership in women's clubs, and presentation of a memorial painting to Hereford Community Center featured the fall meeting of Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs Monday in the Center.

A gift from the Rockwell Foundation in memory of Victoria Wilson Rockwell, a landscape by Paul Salisbury, noted painter of western scenes and still life compositions, was presented to the City of Hereford to hang in Community Center.

Selection of the memorial gift was made by Meses, A.L. Manjeot, J. C. McCracken and W. T. Carmichael of the Federation, in consultation with City Manager Dudley Bayne and Charles Hughes of Amarillo. It is an autumn scene of trees, stream and mountains, the largest canvas the artist has done. Special lighting has been arranged for the picture on the north wall of the Center's assembly room. The artist, born in England, now resides in Provo, Utah.

Mrs. Rockwell was a native of Kentucky; came to Texas with her father, T. K. Wilson, and sisters; lived in Hereford and was graduated from high school here, then taught before her marriage to Cecil Rockwell. They spent most of their married life as Hereford residents and Mr. Rockwell still lives here.

She had a son, Tom Wilson, now of Eastland; one of his two daughters, Victoria, is named for her. Presentation of the painting

Supervisor To Be Elected At Dawn Meeting

The annual election of a supervisor for the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District will be held Monday evening, at Dawn.

Time of the election is to be 9:30 p. m. in the Dawn Community Center immediately following the Lion's Club meeting. Dawn is in subdivision No. 5 of the Tierra Blanca SWCD, and is located in a nine-mile wide stripe running north and south along the east end of Deaf Smith County.

Clarence Betzen is the present supervisor of Zone 5 and has served as chairman and Vice Chairman of the five member board of supervisors.

The farmer or rancher elected will serve a term of five years on the board. All landowners and their wives in Zone 5 are eligible voters and are urged to be at the election.

The Tierra Blanca SWCD is a legal subdivision of the Texas State government and is charged with the responsibility of governing the conservation activities in the conservation activities in the district.

The other members of the board of supervisors are Eldred Brown, Zone 1, F. L. Eicke, Zone 2, Virgil Marsh, Zone 3, and Gerald McCathern, Zone 4.

United Fund Workers Are Ready For Kickoff Monday

Like a snowball gaining momentum as it rolls down a hill, the 1968 Deaf Smith County United Fund campaign continues to grow as workers make last minute plans for the kickoff Monday.

Shooting to fill a record budget of $37,100, the light UF majors appointed by Drive Chairman Johnny Clark Jr. will receive their quotas during a noon luncheon and meeting today in the board room of the Administration Building. Debbs Knox, president of the UF this year, and Clark will preside.

The majors have the duty of organizing a segment of the community as to business and professional similarity. In doing so, they have appointed captains who in turn have appointed workers to aid in the drive. There will be no house to house canvassing.

Majors, who are detailed in separate stories in this issue, include Melvin Jayroe, advance solicitations; B. F. Cain, city, county, state and federal agencies, and clubs; Clete Corlis, Commercial "A" and the Latin American businesses; Charles Bell, Commercial "B"; Calvin Goodin, industrial firms; D. C. Martin, schools; Bill Gentry, utility companies, banks and attorneys.

A break-down of the budget which Deaf Smith County residents will be seeking to match — or surpass — shows $7,200 for Boy Scout work, same as in the previous budget; $6,369 for Camp Fire Girls, compared to $4,000 in the 1967 budget; Pony League summer baseball program, $2,025, with $1,490 having been allotted in the 1967 budget; the Colt League, $1,250 instead of $1,000 as they got for this year; and Little League, $481 more than the $2,100 they received for 1967.

Also to receive support from the UF and their amounts are USO (United Services Organization), $475 as compared to $225 the previous year, and Red Cross, $11,000, a total of $750 more than the 1967 amount of $10,250.

Council on Alcoholism will receive $750, and the Salvation Army $4,200. Both are the same amounts they got this past year. Smaller amounts go to the Cerebral Palsy Center in Amarillo, for local United Fund expenses and to the Texas United Fund.

"This is a community project, planned to raise funds for operation of community activities, and that makes it the responsibility of all of us," Clark has stated in describing the United Fund campaign.

The board of directors for United Fund has given some of the organizations permission to conduct fund raising campaigns this year because they did not get their budget requirements from UF, since last year's goal was not reached, Knox explained.

However, all of these groups have been screened as to needs and have been determined to be valid charity groups, working for necessary groups for people in this town and county.

The necessary budget, said Gene Fooks, chairman of the admissions committee, was arrived at only after long sessions which started early this summer between his committee and representatives of the groups seeking funds.

Clark pointed out that "most

Over 300 Individual Firms Are In Commercial "A" Section

United Fund Major Clete Corlis, who is in charge of Commercial "A" and Latin-American businesses for fund collection, has announced his 13 captains:

Dallas Phillips, Matt Matthews, O. Z. Golden, Paul Harvey, Ervin Ward, Bob Kite, Lyn-ton Allred, Don Chaney, H. A. Cavness, Hershel Black, Paul Abafis, Ray Seale and Jim Cherry.

Corlis reported that his section covers over 300 individual businesses here. "My captains have their work cut out for them. Therefore, they will choose their own workers to help them."

"The United Fund, in my opinion," Corlis said, "is the number one drive, helping more people in the broadest sense of the word — helping all the people. Not only helping the needy families but under-privileged children, both in sickness and in health. It's a campaign that everyone should feel that they should be an active participant. "And I think that anyone not connected with the United Fund — if they have a twinge of conscience — should contact one of the executives, captains or workers should they be accidentally overlooked for donations when the campaign has its kick-off on Monday."

Corlis said that he could be reached at J. C. Penney's Store in Sugarland Mall or, if more convenient for the businessman, he could contact Radio Station KPAN, should he be missed.

Calvin Goodin

Goodin To Head Industrial Group For Fund Drive

Calvin Goodin, industrial division major for the United Fund drive, which is to be launched Monday, has reminded all persons of the need for early donations because of the length of the drive. He said that from past experience that the drive must have a "real fast impact the first few days in order that the goal may be reached."

Assisting Goodwin will be four captains, Raymond White, G. S. "Mutt" Wheeler, Pete Nash and Neil Cooper, and these four men will each have three assistants working with them during the drive. Each captain along with one of his assistants will compose one team, and the remaining two workers will comprise another team, making the total of eight teams for the industrial division.

Goodin's work will be to see that the work of the captains and their teams are unified, to see that all efforts are coordinated, along with soliciting some of the industrial businesses himself.

Lions To Donate Wrestling Funds To UF Drive

The Hereford Lions Club will donate proceeds from Saturday night's wrestling at the Deaf Smith-County Bull Barn to this year's United Fund campaign.

Drive Chairman Johnny Clark Jr. urged residents of the county to make a special effort to attend the matches since that money would go to the campaign.

Cain Has Selected Many To Aid Drive

United Fund Major B. F. Cain in charge of organizing a team of workers to bring the campaign to city, county, state and federal agencies, and has appointed numerous captains to assist in this endeavor.

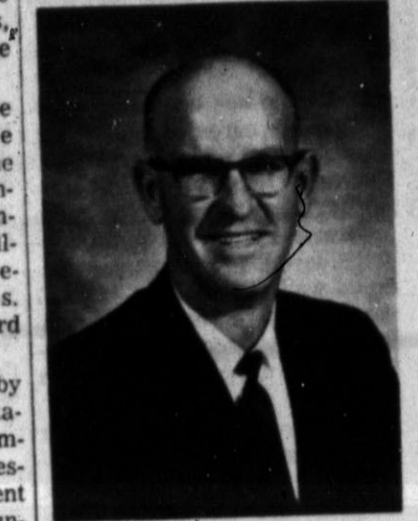

Handed a list of 44 clubs, Cain immediately appointed Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent, as captain. Mrs. Draper, in turn, delegated the help of four home demonstration club presidents, with each club being responsible for 10 other organizations.

The four women helping in the campaign and their clubs are Mrs. Louie Olson, Cultural Home Demonstration Club; Mrs. Richard Golden, Dawn Home Demonstration Club; Mrs. Betty Gilbreath, Progressive Home Demonstration Club, and Mrs. Blanche Hardin, West Hereford Home Demonstration Club.

Other captains appointed by Cain and their field of solicitation include Alwyn Jolly, Farmers Home Administration; Lester Rape, Texas Employment Commission; Deaf Smith County Courthouse employees, Nell Miller; county road employees, captured by their respective four county commissioners; Texas Highway Department, James Mercer; Federal Land Bank, Woody Wilson; Thompson Abstract Co., Major A. J. Schroeter; High Plains Water, Mrs. Tom Robinson; Hereford Post Office, Nolan Grady; city employees, Mrs. Mary Watts; Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, Dorothy Troxel; Soil Conservation Service office, Wilton Green, and

Selective Service, the captain not known at press time. "Several of these groups have been 100 per cent for the past several years," said Cain, "and I'm confident they will do so again."

Cain also expressed pride in his captains, saying "They all work real good at it, and all seem very interested."

Bill Gentry

Gentry Has 13 Captains To Aid In Campaign

Bill Gentry and 13 captains are responsible for the rural segment during the United Fund campaign, and show nothing but optimism in surpassing their budgeted amount.

Young People Aid In Drive

Young people have been active in the 1968 Deaf Smith County United Fund campaign.

Freshmen art students from La Plata Junior High, taught by Lottie Wertemberger, made posters advertising the campaign, and Mrs. Lewis Lea's Horizon Club distributed the posters in downtown Hereford and the Mall. Posters made up by Mrs. Jay Golden's Horizon Club and Willie Weaver's sixth grade class at Bluebonnet Elementary School also may be seen throughout the city.

Art students helping with the campaign include Dessy Tijerina, Joe Lucero, Antonio Campus, C. Cantu, Fidel Reyna Jr., Jose Lucero, Delia Bejaran, Rudy Vallejo, Lan Juan LaRosa, Linda Camarillo, Maria Gomez, Angie Barrera, Gloria Alvarez, Thomas Estrada, Reynaldo Rangel, Sylvia Soliz, Duane Warren, Ada Galvan, Rose Morales and Ricky Hawthorne.

Typing classes at Hereford High School also aided in the drive, by typing numerous forms for United Fund officials.

Melvin Jayroe

UF Officials To Give Programs

United Fund's program begins today in the IOOF Hall with a noon luncheon.

Actually the regular Kiwanis Club luncheon, they plan a 20 to 25-minute program using a band, which will have a dialogue and summary by Johnny Clark Jr. and Melvin Jayroe.

The program is scheduled to begin at 12:25.

On Monday at 10 a. m. the United Fund Kick-Off will be held at the Hereford Community Center. The band, directed by Ben Gollehon, is scheduled to play the overture and finale as the chairman and majors get the campaign underway.

Monday at noon in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom the band will perform for the Hereford Rotary Club with Clark and Jayroe presenting the dialogue and summary. It will be repeated at 8:30 p. m. with the Dawn Lions Club dinner in the Dawn Community Center.

On Wednesday, a five or six-minute summary will be given to the Hereford Lions Club at noon in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom.

Advance Money Is Due Monday In UF Drive

Advance solicitations from 21 Hereford businesses and clubs will be turned in during the kickoff Monday morning by Melvin Jayroe, major for that division of the United Fund campaign.

Captains for Jayroe — Bill Thompson, Lyn-ton Allred, Jeff Carille and Hershel Black — have been working since they received their solicitation cards and had collected about $4,000 by early Wednesday. There still were some businesses to contact, said Jayroe.

Jayroe also said he has been urging businesses in his division to be present during the meeting Monday morning to turn in their amounts personally.

Martin Assigns 10 Captains In Local Schools

D. C. Martin, who is principal at Aikman Elementary School, is also United Fund Major in charge of the Hereford school system.

Martin reported that a total of 10 captains have been assigned to the project, with an additional 14 acting as their lieutenants.

Named as captains are Tom Milligan, Aikman; Della Stagner, Bluebonnet; Don T. Martin, Stanton Jr. High; Bill Michael, high school; Jerry Don George, LaPlata Jr. High; Phillip Shook, Shirley; Ray Todd, Central; Charley Duvall, Northwest; Roy Hartman, school business and tax offices; and Tom Hickey, transportation and cafeteria school employees.

Lieutenants have not yet been named.

Alcoholism Council Supported By U-F

Gene Fooks, chairman of Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism, reported that the Council is a United Fund agency and is slated to receive $750 from the contributions in Hereford.

Fooks pointed out that none of this money goes toward salaries. Instead, it is used to buy literature on alcoholism which is distributed in this community. It also finances Information Week — slated for the latter part of November.

He said that the Council itself stays out of therapy (except, as in his case, where the member of the Council is also a minister and meets this need as a part of his spiritual affiliation) but works with industries with its problem of alcoholic employees by providing them with vital literature.

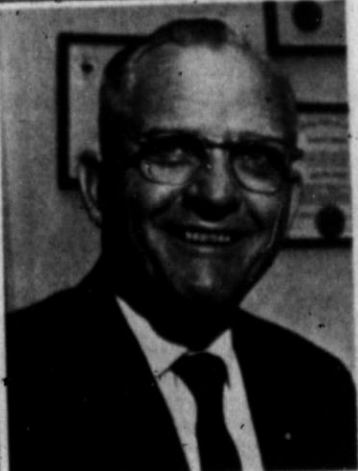

"Overall, the Council tries to provide the necessary 'education' toward the understanding of the alcoholic through the distribution of literature, and by referrals of alcoholics to the proper places where they may be aided toward overcoming their problem," Fooks said.

The Council has no connection with Alcoholics Anonymous but works closely with them. "We also send a person or persons to the State Convention on Alcoholism in Austin each year," he said. "This is important, in that the Council can gain knowledge of all aspects of the problem."

Fooks reported that Fred Howard of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, a Council member, attended the convention this summer. The Council paid only for Howard's meals, he said, because his diocese paid all other travel expenses. "But in most cases, we pay for the entire trip."

He reported that they also sent letters to all graduating seniors, giving them the facts about social drinking — including the alarming statistic that one out of every 14 "social drinker" becomes an alcoholic.

Leo Forrest

Plans Well Laid By Leo Forrest

Leo Forrest, who is United Fund major for the Hereford utilities, banks, savings and loan associations, lawyers and accountants, has announced his captains:

Banks: Jonny Cloud; Attorneys: Hazen Woods; Accountants: John Messenger, and Utilities: Bob Spaulding.

Forrest said that each captain would have lieutenants but that he was not certain at this time whom they would be — with the exception of Sam Morgan at Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative.

He did say, however, that Spaulding at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. had made plans for salary deductions with the employees there, which amounts to a small collection each week that adds up to a larger percentage in the long-run.

Goals for the other captains will be 100 per cent in their categories.

Jess Ford, an old-timer in the area, allows that Jim Black is absolutely right about that early day water wagon which we had in the paper recently. It was never used to fight fires. Its sole purpose was to carry water for watering down the dusty streets.

Jess, who has been here longer than he cares to remember, says that he remembers, when Hereford first had dirt sidewalks. Then the town grew more progressive and built some wooden sidewalks. Years later concrete walks were put in and then just three years ago, while the city was remodeling downtown, "we went back to the dirt walks."

Officers Installed

Officers were installed with Mrs. A. O. Thompson as president at the fall luncheon of the Past Matrons Club of Hereford Order of Eastern Star, and committees for the new year were named.

Mrs. B. E. Roberson, retiring president, installed Mrs. Thompson, also Mrs. Lee Curry, vice president, Mrs. Bill Hutson, secretary, and Mrs. H. L. Hershey, treasurer, the elected officers, and Mrs. Pat Lawhon, appointed as reporter.

Theme of the installation was the five star points of the order, fidelity, constancy, loyalty, hope and love. Mrs. Hutson, program chairman, read poems from her collection on the subject of love, friendship and understanding.

Mrs. Thompson outlined activities for the coming year and announced committee appointments: Mmes. Lawhon, Vern Witherspoon and Lee Cocanauer, telephone; Mrs. O. H. Culpepper and Mrs. Tom Draper, cheer committee for the first half-year, Mrs. Marjorie Cline and Mrs. Vivian Major for the last of the year.

Mrs. Art Lewis present worthy matron of the OES Chapter here, was a special guest. The next luncheon will be in December.

Indian History Traced In LAE Club Program

Ancient civilizations which flourished in Central and South America before the time of Columbus were described to La Aflatus Estadio Club members at a Tuesday afternoon meeting in Mrs. Louis Olson's home.

One of a series of programs on Cultures of the World, the topic was Early Americana. Mrs. B. F. Markham and Mrs. A. H. Cook were the speakers, using material from a book dealing with the Aztec Indians of Mexico and Central America and the Incas of Peru.

Mrs. Markham traced the history of Bolivar's conquest of Anyhow, Mr. Black, we stand corrected about that "early day fire wagon."

Controversy over the location of the next elementary school in Hereford could spell defeat for the upcoming bond election. There seems to be little question concerning the need for an additional elementary school at this time, with an increase in the past two years of well over 600 elementary students, but the matter of location is something again.

Actually, there are some good solid arguments for the location in either South Hereford or North Hereford and it appears that the local Board of Trustees may be in for trouble regardless of the location of the school.

However, the decision will have to be made, and we would suggest that it would be prudent to make that decision before the bond election.

There is another possible solution, suggested by a local business leader. Why not have a referendum vote and let the people decide? Is this feasible? Or is it best to leave the final selection of the location to the Trustees?

There appears also, to be taken opposition to the building of a new stadium, but we doubt that it will adversely affect the outcome of the election. One taxpayer however, suggested that we might try the "Revenue Bond" route for the stadium and let the folks who use it pay the tab. Again, this idea may not be practical, but however we get it, we do believe that Hereford needs a new stadium. To begin with, it's a shame to force the students attending the games to sit on the "crow's nest" at the end of the field. We believe that the students should be given better treatment than this. And as Superintendent Johnny Clark pointed out Tuesday night, we will surely be placed in the AAAA bracket in the near future which means we're going to be playing teams like Panama, Plainview and others regularly who will bring a raft of fans to see their boys play ball. As was evident during the Pampa game this year, we cannot possibly handle the crowds in the present stadium. We also need additional press box facilities and better restrooms. The present press box is far from adequate and the situation can only get worse as we move into competition with the larger schools.

Amusing Travel Incidents Told

Sidelights rather than highlights of European travel were enjoyed by La Plata Study Club members who heard two of their members report on summer trips Tuesday evening. The meeting was in Mrs. Louis Woodford's home.

Mrs. Emil Dettman, who was in 18 different countries on her tour, and Mrs. Merle Campbell, who visited in nine countries, each told small details, most of them amusing, of their travel experiences.

Difficulties of making an appointment at a beauty shop in a foreign language, giving orders at a cafe in sign language, catching trains in cities, and becoming accustomed to hot cakes and cold rolls, were some of the things mentioned.

Continued sponsorship of the Junior Historical Society here was voted, and a club member will be present at each meeting of the Society this year. A budget for the season was accepted and a report heard on a recent rummage sale.

Time of the next meeting was changed, and members will go to Amarillo Thursday, Oct. 17, for dinner and a style show afterward at Alexan der Shop.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN Women's Editor

Just because the rush of weddings seems to be over and you don't see pictures of brides on every page of the paper, don't think there won't be more this fall. Just wait until next week... and the next... and already there are rumors of more engagements. Just wait.

OF COURSE THERE are other things, too, to make up for the lull after a summer which produced more than its share of weddings. Club parties are cropping up and fall flower shows are scheduled right through October.

Don't forget the tour of homes tomorrow; so you get tickets at the door of any of the four open houses so it doesn't matter where you start your tour. Garden Beautiful Club is the sponsor.

Invitations are out to a dinner in the Country Club tomorrow evening honoring Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, with the James W. Witherspoons as hosts. Elizabeth Witherspoon has been sponsor of that sorority chapter for a number of years; she and her husband make a habit of entertaining for the members each year.

THEN THE NATIONAL Secretaries Association will have its Boss Night dinner Oct. 12, and El Llano Club has scheduled Husbands Night for Oct. 28 so these aren't going to be just parties for women.

Besides the Garden Club things which will put pennies into treasuries for use on assorted projects, L'Allegre Club's Sampling Luncheon is set for Nov. 21, as usual to benefit the club service project.

This year it's for a WTSU scholarship fund which will send a Hereford girl to college. And from past performances everybody knows what a good lunch you get when you "sample" the many dishes these young women put on the table.

THE NORBERT Skypalas and daughter, Kathy, with their married daughter, Mrs. Jim Marnell, and her two sons, went to Gruver last weekend to visit the third daughter, Mrs. David Sims, and her family at their farm home near Gruver. DIDN'T SEE ANYONE from Hereford except Kathlee Palmer at the violin concert which a young Israeli violinist, Sergiu Luca, gave in the WTSU Fine Arts auditorium Monday night.

The music was wonderful, with George Eason's accompaniment setting off the violin perfectly.

The program lists several coming events for the WTSU music department: Dr. Donald Todd, violinist, will be heard in a faculty recital at 2 p.m. Oct. 20; Elyse Hearn in a senior recital in flute at 4 p.m. Oct. 25; Brian Walton in a faculty recital of cello solos at 2 p.m. Nov. 3.

Announced as the fall production of the opera workshop is The Marriage of Figaro, Nov. 13-16 at 8:15 p.m. nightly.

AT THE CHAMBER of Commerce Women's Division luncheon Tuesday, Mary Jane Pitman was extremely smart in a plaid suit with the new longer jacket. Said her mother had been visiting her and the children while John Douglas Pitman was on a fishing trip in northwestern states and up the coast. Salmon, and he brought back enough for some tasty eating.

I am writing in regard to an editorial which was published in last week's Sunday Brand. The editorial concerned George C. Wallace and indicated that a vote for him in November would be a wasted vote. It is just the opposite, a vote for either Nixon or Humphrey would be a wasted vote.

Neither one of these major party candidates think like the American people. George Wallace speaks out on issues that he thinks that Americans want to hear and purposes plans by which he can solve these problems. This year both of the major party candidates sounded alike so Wallace decided to give the American people a choice that they have long waited for.

On November 5th a person can vote for Nixon or for Humphrey and waste his vote or he can vote for Wallace and together Wallace and the true Americans of this country will help restore some sanity to this country. It takes courage to be president, Wallace has it, do you?

Sincerely yours, Larry Payne Route 1

Moisture Slows Carrot, Lettuce Harvest In Area

The Texas Fruit and Vegetable Market News in Hereford has reported that harvesting over the High Plains-Panhandle District was light during the past week because of wet fields in the early part of the period.

"Rains varying from .02 to 1.5 inches in scattered area accompanied by light hail in a few isolated areas occurred," officials market said. "Some light damage was reported, but the effects believed to be minimal."

Supplies for the current week will increase moderately to approximately 30-40 carlot equivalents daily.

According to the report, carrot trading was light during the week, and the market structure remained about steady. In prices 48-1 pound film bags ranged from $2.25 to $2.50 with a few sales as high as $2.75. Offerings for the current week will continue at about 15 carlot equivalents daily.

Lettuce trading was very active during the week with the demand exceeding the available light supplies. The market closed strong and advanced $1.50 during the period. Cartons of 24 heads sold at $4 on Friday.

Millers Attend Lawyers Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller of 418 Star were in San Antonio over the weekend to attend the 22nd annual meeting of Texas Railroad Attorneys.

Miller, who represents Rock Island and Santa Fe in Deaf Smith County, attended the meeting Saturday. The couple also visited the HemisFair.

Report Given On Satellite Day Care

Mrs. Nedra Higginbotham, volunteer coordinator of the Satellite Day Care Program for retarded children, reported on the response of the volunteers and the additional need of supplies which she hopes will be donated by local parents.

Mrs. Higginbotham said, "We owe the people a thank you for the wonderful response to the call for volunteers for these classes. But I knew the people of Hereford would do it — they always have when the needs arise. They have filled all the class times and we have a waiting list now."

But she explained that this was only for a period of the first three months of the program. "There will still be a need for volunteers," she said, "at the end of this three-month period. I am still interested in hearing from other people."

Mrs. Higginbotham can be reached at 364-1545.

First classes began last Friday morning in space donated by the First Christian Church on Park Ave. Teacher is Mrs. Maxine Thompson of Hereford. Pupils include preschool and postschool-aged retardates for training in a state program through the Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

But Mrs. Higginbotham reported a need of supplies and equipment for the classes. Anyone who has such property for donation are asked to call Mrs. Luther Norvell, 203 Elm, at 364-4475.

For preschool or primary classes, rubber playground balls, colored plastic clothespins, play cars, kiddy in the keg, tricycles (2 or 3 of various sizes needed), balance beam, washable dolls and doll clothes, doll bed or cradle, play dishes, phonograph records, and a full-length mirror for wall.

For the postschool class, measuring spoons and cups, map colors, ironing boards, iron, sewing box with needles, pins, pin cushions, scissors, tape measures, hooks, eyes, snaps and assorted thread; dishes (service for 6), silverware, manicure set, phonograph records, sewing machine, material to be used in the sewing program, embroidery hoops, needles and thread; hammer, saw, sandpaper, screwdriver, hair dryer, and manicure equipment.

The State Center will supply all the other necessary items, it was reported.

Model Sorority Meeting Held

Eleven guests were present with members of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, to hear a guest speaker at a model meeting of the sorority group in Community Center Tuesday evening.

Two programs with the general theme, Knowing Yourself, were presented. To discuss her topic, Self Estimate, Mrs. J. D. Hamblen introduced her husband and the group heard a man's viewpoint from Dr. Hamblen.

Mrs. Gene Larsen discussed the other topic, Self Analysis. A short talk on the purpose and meaning of Beta Sigma Phi was given by Mrs. Bob Pugh. Informal reports were made by members who attended a recent area convention.

Membership committee members; Mmes. Rudy Metz, Jim Aldridge and Gary Braden, were hostesses who served refreshments after the program.

Guests in addition to the speaker were Mmes. Kenneth Ruland, Edward Allison, Gene Steers, Jerry Weldon, Gerold Turnbow, Joe Tubbs, Mike Ferguson, Joe Don Edelman, Pat Hughes and Miss Lynn Poarch.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

After-The-Game Treat

HEARTY SANDWICHES — A different way to serve beef sandwiches will make a hit with the crowd after a football game.

When the crowd makes an unexpected "touchdown" at your house after the football game, don't panic! Calmly brew a teasmized pot of coffee and put together a batch of hot, open Beef Sandwiches Continentale from left-over or delicatessen roast beef.

Rare, juicy roast beef sandwiches are an all-American favorite, but this variety has a delicious European touch. The beef gravy is blended with sour cream for richness, basil for seasoning, and a little strong coffee for a color-flavor accent.

This smooth, tasty sauce is reminiscent of the famous stroganoff and is marvelous combined with an accompaniment of mashed potatoes — instant or regular.

If it's a chilly autumn day, everyone may want to start warming up with cups of steaming coffee right away and keep on sipping through the meal. For excellent brewing results, use one approved coffee measure (equal to two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each six ounces of water per serving.

BEEF SANDWICHES CONTINENTALE
 1 tablespoon minced onion
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1 1/2 cups of left-over beef gravy
 1/2 cup sour cream
 2 tablespoons strong coffee beverage
 1/2 teaspoon basil
 Cold sliced roast beef toast
 These beef sandwiches would make the main dish for a family lunch or supper, too, and for vegetable which might be served alongside try a top-of-the-stove dish in which a touch of onion adds a savory flavor to yellow squash.

SQUASH SKILLET
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 small onion, sliced into thin rounds
 1 yellow squash (3/4 pound)
 1/4 cup boiling water
 1/2 teaspoon salt

In a 6-inch skillet over moderately low heat melt butter; add onion and cook, stirring often and separating into rings, until browned. Wash squash; cut away any blemishes; do not peel; discard ends and slice 1/4-inch thick.

Cut any very wide slices in half. Into a 10-inch skillet turn squash, water and salt; simmer, tightly covered but turning squash a few times, until slices look transparent — 8 to 10 minutes.

What Attracts The Mosquito To Some Persons? Answer Is Given

Some people may be bothered by mosquitoes more than others because their skins produce more lactic acid, U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists report.

Chemists Fred Acree, Jr., and Dr. Ralph B. Turner, while working with ARS entomologists Harry K. Gouck and technician Nelson Smith, at the ARS laboratory, Gainesville, Fla., recently identified the attractant after a 10-year search. Dr. Morton Beroza, ARS chemist stationed at Beltsville, Md., also participated in the study. Their findings are reported in today's issue of Science.

Drain off any liquid; mix in onion; reheat if necessary. Makes 3 servings.

Isolation and chemical identification of the attractant makes possible testing of its potential usefulness as a lure to draw mosquitoes five times more strongly than Dr. Turner isolated lactic acid from the arms of the Gainesville laboratory staff by washing their arms with acetone and making chemical analyses of the washings. The scientists found that staff members who had the most lactic acid on their skin also attracted the most mosquitoes. Carbon dioxide, which is also produced by the skin, is necessary for the lactic acid to be attractive but it is not itself attractive.

The effects of lactic acid on mosquitoes depended on its form: The L isomer attracted mosquito five times more strongly than did the D isomer, the scientists said. Very small quantities — 10 micrograms — of L-lactic acid (plus carbon dioxide) attracted up to 75 percent of caged yellow-fever mosquitoes within 3 minutes. The scientists said that lactic acid occurs on a person's skin as a natural constituent of sweat. It is an end product of animal muscle metabolism and is sometimes called sarcolactic acid. This work is part of a continuing program of ARS research on insects affecting man conducted in coordination with the Armed Forces Pest Control Board, U. S. Department of Defense.

The golf course near Dhahran, the American oil town in Saudi Arabia, has fairways and roughs of pure sand. The greens are sand on which oil has been poured. Red balls are used.

Chair Has Her Name

Reminders Of Busy Life Surrounds 87-Year-Old

By SUE COLEMAN
 Women's Editor

When she saw the listing in the catalog describing the hand-carved mahogany sewing chair as "Aunt Jodie's Rocker," Mrs. Jodie Darling decided she wanted the graceful piece of furniture, a copy of an antique.

NOW SHE PROUDLY shows the chair to visitors in her room at King's Manor retirement home, where she is surrounded with mementoes of a busy life, family photographs and paintings she has done. At 87, Mrs. Darling continues to paint, with plants and flowers as her favorite subjects.

She has lived at King's Manor two years, coming from her native Kansas. Born in Salina in 1881, she had lived for many years in Pratt. She chose the Hereford retirement home as her place of residence because her son, Si Darling, and his family live here.

She has a daughter in Palo Alto, Calif., and another in Albuquerque.

PAINTING IS A hobby she began in later years, and her first subjects were flowers she grew in her own yard. She prefers still life, and paints in oils, pastels and charcoal.

"I never had painting lessons, but when I saw some of President Eisenhower's work and learned that he just started painting without lessons, I decided to do the same thing," explains the ex-president's fellow Kansan.

Much of her work is given to friends and family members but she keeps favorite pictures, storing some in a closet while others are displayed on the walls of her room, and changing them when she tires of one.

FURNITURE FROM her home was brought to her room here, along with decorative items and what-nots which fill several shelves. Some are gifts and some she has collected on travels through the years.

With her late husband, she took many trips over the United States, and she has also traveled in Europe, staying for a time at Leipzig where her younger daughter, now a music teacher in Palo Alto, studied music.

Some of her furniture is antique, so her new rocking chair blends nicely with it, and its gold brocade upholstery lends another spot of color to the cheerful room to match the mood of the petite occupant whom her friends at King's Manor often call "Little Darling."

NAMESAKE CHAIR — Partly because it was listed as "Aunt Jodie's Rocker" in the firm's catalog, Mrs. Jodie Darling wanted the mahogany chair with brocade upholstery which now occupies a prominent place in her room at Kings Manor. Mrs. Darling hung one of her own paintings, of a cotton stalk, near the chair "because it came from Georgia and that's where cotton grows". The painting at right is also hers.

Early-Day City Resident Buried

Burial of Mrs. Alice Garrison Outwater of Oakland, Calif., member of the Hill Garrison family which lived in Hereford during early years of this century, was made in West Lawn cemetery here Saturday by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Outwater, 93, died Sept. 13 after an illness of several years. Her body was cremated and the ashes brought here for burial beside the body of her husband, whose death occurred before the family left Hereford.

The Garrison family has lived in California since 1915. Its members included Willard Garrison and Anna Garrison Moulthrop. Both attended Hereford schools and Mrs. Moulthrop taught in the school system here.

For God So Loved The World

MIRACLE of light

Just who among us can fathom the miracle of light? The ministries of the sun are many. A single ray can be concentrated to explosive intensity. The sun gives off a burning heat we could not do without. Light, warmth, growth, health and healing are daily ministries of the sun. The earth becomes sour and barren without it. In this same manner man limits his strength and usefulness when he turns away from God. Let us wait and pray in the sanctuary of His church, for in such waiting and worship, God promises to bless man's soul as does the sunlight bless the earth. We should strive to capture the rays from God like the prism does the sunlight, and direct it to good and wholesome uses. Then, they who wait upon the Lord may run and not grow weary. They may walk and not faint (Isaiah 40:31).

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — What are the various reasons for classification in I-Y?

A — There are too many to enumerate. There are physical, mental, and sometimes, moral reasons. Men so classified are deemed qualified for military service in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress.

Q — I'm 27 years old. Earlier, I had my liability extended to age 35. Is there a chance of my being inducted?

A — If more men are needed, you may be called. At present, with the exception of physicians and those declared delinquent, only men who have not reached age 26 are being ordered for induction.

Q — When must my appeal be forwarded by my local board to the appeal board?

A — Your file must be sent to the appeal board no later than five days after expiration of the period you were given to request appeal.

Q — I went to college two years, then my board deferred me in II-A for two years while in the Peace Corps. Now I want to finish college. Am I still eligible for II-S deferment?

A — Yes, provided you're still under 24 years of age. A man re-entering school to work on a baccalaureate degree who has been classified in either II-A or IV-D since his last full-time attendance must not be considered to have failed to meet the requirements pertaining to "satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction. You're eligible until you get the degree, fail in your full-time course, or reach age 24, whichever occurs first.

Boll Weevils Are Found In Caprock

LUBBOCK—Favored by weather conditions the past few months, boll weevils are more abundant this fall in areas below the caprock and have actually moved up on the High Plains in southern sectors, namely Borden, Lynn and Dawson counties. The movement of the weevils into this area has brought immediate action by officials of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program. Plans have been made to begin spraying the immediate "hot spots" (some 35,000 acres) by about the first of October, reports Lyndon K. Almand, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A second spraying will come about the middle of the month, with perhaps some 30,000 additional acres being included. Additional sprayings will follow if conditions warrant.

Many cotton fields in the newly penetrated area have infestations of up to 60 percent, points out the entomologist. Most of the adult weevils are still in the reproductive stage and increased populations continue to be a possible threat.

Farmers can be a big help in making the spraying program more effective by taking certain steps themselves in conjunction with their harvesting operation, explains Almand. First and foremost, cotton should be harvested as soon as it reaches maturity. A desiccant or defoliant should be used, and at the same time, an insecticide applied to kill weevils in the field and to prevent them from moving to other fields or into hibernation. One-half pound of methyl parathion or one-fourth pound of Guthion per acre will give effective control of the weevils, points out the entomologist. These materials mix well with arsenic acid or phosphate-type harvest-aid chemicals but should not be used with chlorate defoliants or desiccants.

After harvesting their crop, farmers can further reduce weevil populations by shredding and plowing under stalks and by destroying any green bolls that are left. This action will deprive the weevils of a food supply which is necessary for their overwintering, explains Almand, and kills weevils in the green bolls. The green bolls can be destroyed by burning, plowing under or any other means available to the farmer.

In other areas of the original control zone of the diapause program, spraying is continuing as scheduled, says the entomologist. Phase I of the program was recently completed. This calls for three applications of ultra-low-volume malathion at 12 ounces per acre at five-day intervals. Phase II has just got underway with 16 ounces of the insecticide being sprayed at 10-day intervals until the first frost. This usually amounts to three or four applications, says Almand.

Counties in the original control zone are Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby, Garza, Hall, Motley, Dickens and Kent. The diapause control program, administered by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and the Plant Pest Control Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, was initiated in September, 1964, to halt the migration of boll weevils onto the High Plains of Texas; the heartland for the state's cotton production.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Presidential Campaign Is At Full Speed Over Texas

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Presidential Campaign 1968 is starting to roll full speed in Texas.

Democrat Hubert Humphrey's official state organization — a political patchwork of two committees representing varying factions — was formed just six weeks before the November 5 election.

Former State Democratic Chairman Will Davis of Austin and Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth head Texas Democrats for Humphrey-Muskie. Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi is executive director and National Democratic Committeeman Robert Strauss of Dallas is finance chairman.

At its initial meeting in Fort Worth, the group — made up predominantly of Gov. John Connally's and President Johnson's friends — declared the election is yet to be won, and Humphrey has a chance of carrying the state.

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, leader of Texas liberals, heads a separate Texas Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie, and has formed a 137-member executive committee which met here Monday.

Yarborough will work with traditional Democrats, ethnic minorities, independents, Republicans and "former supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Sen. George McGovern, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy."

Republican candidate Richard Nixon and American Party candidate George Wallace have had the benefit of months of spadework on behalf of their election efforts.

A recent Texas poll calculated Nixon and Humphrey are running close together (with about a third of the state's votes each) and Wallace is third with a fourth of the votes.

Nixon was seen as having "the best potential for carrying the state." Most observers regarded that as an understatement as of now, although Humphrey's campaign could change the picture dramatically during the next five weeks.

Opinions vary widely as to Wallace's effect on the outcome of the hardfought state contest.

Democrats claim presence of the former Alabama governor on the ballot is hurting Nixon most. Wallace campaign leaders say they are cutting more deeply into traditional Democratic votes that normally would go to Humphrey.

Nixon's Texas campaign director, John Hurd of Laredo, sizes up the Wallace candidacy as having "equal impact" on Nixon and Humphrey.

Both the GOP and organized labor (backing Humphrey) are mounting special campaigns aimed at winning back from Wallace votes for Nixon and Humphrey. Success of these efforts might spell the difference on November 5.

UNIVERSITY OF THE NORTH — Staff of the higher-education Coordinating Board has recommended "a multi-campus urban university" for the Dallas-Fort Worth-Denton area to include — at first — North Texas State University, Texas Women's University and the University of Texas at Arlington.

These schools would be put under a new board of regents for the area and would be joined in a system later by other state-supported colleges and schools to form a university system designed specifically for the area.

Board itself will hold a hearing on the proposal October 11, along with UT's own plan for uniting some of its institutions in the area.

HOMESTEAD CHANGE URGED — Constitutional Revision Commission has suggested tightening the homestead debt exemptions following a member's charge that the present basis state law provides a "haven for swindlers."

In its semi-final meeting, the panel agreed to a ceiling on a homestead exemption from foreclosure for debt should be limited to $25,000. Present constitution provides exemption for rural homesteads of up to 200 acres and urban homesteads of any value on lots of up to $5,000 maximum valuation.

PARK BONDS SOLD — $5.75 million of a $75 million parks improvement bond issue has been sold at favorable interest rate.

Lehman Brothers and Associates of New York headed an investment syndicate which submitted 3.8846 per cent net interest rate bid, lowest of 16. American National Bank of Austin was selected paying agent for the bonds.

Initial developments are expected to be a 120-mile range of the state's 10 largest population centers. A $1 per car entrance fee at 30 existing parks and 50 cents per car charge at six others will pay off the bonds.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLANS — Texas' 40 public junior colleges have been given a new and expanded role in the state's educational processes, and now they're going back to the state for help in paying for it.

Long-range master plan of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says junior colleges should concentrate on (1) preparing some students for transfer to senior colleges and universities for their last two years, (2) setting up badly needed technical and vocational programs and (3) continuing education and cultural and public-service programs.

Now, junior colleges get state aid in two forms — a line-item appropriation for each school for direct academic instructional costs ($26,530,325 this year) plus another $6,476,000 distributed by the Texas Education Agency for technical-vocational programs.

For the two-year period beginning Sept. 1, 1969, the junior colleges are asking a strong increase in the first figure — $35,490,803 in 1970 and $37,577,190 for 1971 — and a change, along with an increase, in the second.

They want their vocational-technical money allocated via a line item — the same as the academic figure is computed — and increased to $15,025,375 for fiscal 1970 and $18,292,142 for 1971.

ANTIPOLLUTION EXEMPTION CAMPAIGN — Houston Rep. Rex Braun plans a one-man campaign against proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 6, to be voted on November 5, to exempt from all property taxes pollution control equipment installed by industry.

Braun says the state shouldn't subsidize the pollution-law breakers and, besides, other states have found that the exemption costs money and does not encourage the installation of anti-pollution equipment.

He estimates the amendment would cost Texas $500 million over a five-year period.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS — Legislature has no authority to restrict purchase of Department of Public Safety aircraft to rescue work only (and rule out their use for traffic law enforcement), Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

At the same time, Martin indicated that Governor Connally has no power to veto the restriction (as he did July 20). In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

"Commissioners Court of Dallas County can repair, maintain and operate the courthouse either with its own employees or by contracting with an independent contractor."

"State Board of Dental Examiners employees may receive merit salary increases during the current fiscal year."

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Former State Sen. Franklin S. Spears of San Antonio has been named judge of the 57th District Court of Bexar County to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Judge Solomon Casseb Jr. Spears is the unopposed Democratic nominee for the post. Connally selected Judge Peter M. Curry of the 166th district court in San Antonio to take over Casseb's extra duties as judge of the fourth administrative district.

On October 1, Harley Pershing, Fort Worth Star-Telegram reporter, took over new duties as research-information specialist at Texas Liquor Control Board.

Dallas Police Capt. Jack Revill was picked as chief of criminal law enforcement division at Department of Public Safety.

Harris County District Attorney Carol Vance is the new executive director of the Texas Law Enforcement Legislative Council succeeding Lewis Berry of Austin.

A resident of Hereford all her life, Miss Skypala is a senior at HHS. Her future plans are to attend college, not knowing where as of yet.

Drivers Manual Is In Spanish

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that a revised Spanish language edition of the Texas Drivers Handbook is now available.

The booklet was produced as a public service by Humble Oil & Refining Company in cooperation with the DPS and the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, said translated by the Good Neighbor Commission staff, it incorporates changes made in the Drivers Handbook since the first officially approved Spanish language printing in 1963.

Speir pointed out that due to the limited supply, only those persons who have difficulty reading English should request the new Spanish edition. Copies will be available from DPS driver license testing stations throughout Texas.

Humble will also distribute the handbooks through its Touring Service in Houston, its Mexico Travel Services offices in Laredo, McAllen, Brownsville, El Paso, Eagle Pass and San Antonio, and through a limited number of service stations in areas with large numbers of Spanish-speaking people.

Glenn Garrett, director of the Good Neighbor Commission, said the handbook will help fill a need among the Spanish-speaking people of Texas, and should make a significant contribution toward safer operation of motor vehicles in the state.

The Spanish language edition includes a glossary of terms for quick translation from English to Spanish.

Number Of Roadside Parks Impresses Texas Motorists

AUSTIN — One of the features that most impresses motorists in Texas is the abundance of roadside parks along the 68.5-thousand mile highway system.

Small wonder, since one of every seven rest areas in the entire United States is in Texas. Of 6,756 roadside parks counted in a recent US Bureau of Public Roads survey, 984 were found along Texas highways. This count included only those with parking facilities for three or more vehicles, and Texas has numerous smaller parks and scenic turnouts that were not included in the BPR figure.

The first invitation to Texas travelers to stop, rest and relax was issued by the Texas Highway Department back in the early '30's when the first roadside park greeted motorists on State Highway 71 in Fayette County.

Within a few years, nearly 500 parks were built by the Department, and the number passed the 900 mark with post-World War II construction. Then the emphasis shifted to improvement and maintenance, and new facilities were built where needed when relocated highways and new routes were established.

The first Interstate safety rest area — which consists of two large parks, one on each side of the divided Interstate highway — was dedicated in May 1963. Four years later, the first one incorporating rest rooms and travel information display units was completed on Interstate 35. Eventually there will be a safety rest area on each side of the Interstate lanes an average of every 37 miles, and where water is available rest room facilities will be provided.

The roadside facilities are individually designed to complement their surroundings — whether they be scenic East Texas forests or rugged West Texas mountains.

Picnic arbors may resemble Indian teepees or oil derricks, or they may be chimneyed fieldstone structures nestled among evergreens, but all facilities are carefully designed for the comfort and convenience of the motorist. All contain shaded picnic tables and benches, fireplaces for cookouts, trash disposal units, and ample parking areas. Beauty is not ignored. The Department follows two guidelines to beautify the parks: preservation of native trees, shrubs and flowers, and additional systematic planting to enhance each site.

Whatever their style, Texas roadside parks have only one purpose: to provide a safe place in attractive surroundings where a motorist may stop to relax, for a few minutes or for a leisurely lunch, and then drive on refreshed. A rested driver is an alert driver, one less likely to be involved in an accident. Roadside parks, therefore, play an important role in the Highway Department's crusade for highway safety.

The traveler's high opinion of Texas roadside parks — and they appear particularly impressive to out-of-state visitors — starts with the realization that he is never far from one. A glance at the Official State Highway Map issued annually by the Department reveals green dots — the symbol denoting location of roadside parks, safety rest areas, scenic turnouts — along every State-maintained highway. There are enough of these green dots to assure every motorist a pleasant stopping place along his way.

The convenient safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts along Texas highways are pleasant reminders during Highway Week — and throughout the year — that "Highways Are For People."

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE SEVENTH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 205-2706

The Republican Task Force on Crime on which I serve has analyzed the recently released F. B. I. Uniform Crime Reports.

In my opinion, the incidence of violent crimes is the most meaningful indicator of the trend of criminal behavior in America. The figures cited in the following analysis are, I believe, much more significant than the 88 percent overall increase to which there has heretofore been wide reference.

Some criminologists have taken issue with the validity of the F. B. I. Crime Index as an indicator of nationwide crime increases. Property crimes, i.e., burglary, larceny and auto theft, year after year comprise the great preponderance of index offenses and they say that, for a variety of reasons, increases in property-crimes do not truly reflect the trend in criminal behavior. As the Index pertains to violent crimes, however, there is virtually no dispute. Most, if not all, agree that increases or decreases in murders, rapes, robberies and aggravated assaults from year to year present the most accurate measure of the overall crime picture. Moreover, and perhaps more important, it is universally recognized that it is precisely the violent crimes about which the people are most concerned. When one talks of escalating crime rates it should be borne in mind that it is principally the escalation of violent crimes that is truly a cause for concern.

The F. B. I. Crime index figures for 1967 and the preliminary report for the first six months of 1968 (released September 20) contain some startling revelations concerning the incidence of violent crime in America. Riots and civil disorders have no relation to the evaluation of these crimes and some interesting comparisons can be made with earlier years.

During 1967, violent crimes as a group increased by 16 percent over the previous year. During January-June 1968, violent crimes as a group increased an additional 21 percent over the same period in 1967. If this rate remains constant until the end of 1968, violent crimes as a group will have increased by 40 percent in just two years.

During the full eight years of the Eisenhower-Nixon Administration, 1953 to 1960, violent crimes as a group have already increased by 73 percent and if the last half of 1968 matches the first half, the increase for the comparable eight year period will be 109 percent.

In the separate categories of violent crimes: Murder has increased by 34 percent during 1961 to 1967 and will show an eight year increase of 58 percent by the end of 1968. During 1953 to 1960, murder increased by 9 percent.

Forcible rape has increased by 61 percent during 1961 and 1967 and will show an eight year increase of 85 percent by the end of 1968. During 1953 to 1960, rape increased by 51 percent.

Aggravated assault has increased by 67 percent during 1961 to 1967 and will show an eight year increase of 90 percent by the end of 1968. During 1953 to 1960, aggravated assault increased by 29 percent.

Well-Known Sheriff Speaks On His Philosophy Of Law

ODESSA — Ector County Sheriff A. M. "Slim" Gabrel is voicing no pleasure with those who express displeasure at the way Chicago police dealt with the hippies and the yuppies at the Democratic National Convention.

The president of the Sheriff's Association of Texas says, "They're going to blame us if we let those kooks (demonstrators) come in and take over and they blame us if we knock them over the head."

Gabrel's reaction to the scenes of rioting in the Democratic convention city reflect a part of his philosophy of law enforcement.

"It's better to over-react than to under-react," said the sheriff in his office in this West Texas city.

Gabrel pointed out there was not a single death connected with demonstrations.

"Mayor Daley is to be commended to the high heavens for the work he did up there," Gabrel said. "What about gun registration? 'It's ridiculous. What would it accomplish? If you think gun registration is going to eliminate the nuts, forget it,'" said Gabrel. "You're going to start a black market for guns."

On recent Supreme Court decisions decided in favor of individual rights:

"There ought to be a mean somewhere bridging the gap where you know the man is guilty and you have to release him on a mere technicality. I don't think that's justice," Gabrel said.

"The rights of society vs. the rights of the criminal are just completely out of balance. I don't like to see murderers and arsonists and rapists get away."

"And I'm not for self-incrimination, either," added the Ector County officer. "There's got to be some deep thinking."

Gabrel, 47, took office after defeating eight other candidates in 1956. As far back as he can remember, he has wanted to be a law enforcement officer.

A native of Haskell County, he moved to Ector County when he was 13 years old and started as a deputy when he was 18.

His law enforcement career was interrupted by a tour of duty with the Marines. After trying a couple of other jobs, he went to work for the Odessa Police Department.

Later Gabrel became an inspector in the motor carrier division of the Texas Railroad Commission and when that division merged with the Department of Public Safety in 1950 he was an inspector of licenses and weights.

Gabrel credits much of his training to the DPS. "At that time, I decided if I wanted to be sheriff I had better know my job."

He ran for Ector County sheriff in 1954, lost, and then won two years later.

He said when he assumed his office it was run on the "hip pocket" system, in which a deputy investigating a complaint would take notes and simply file his note pad away in his pocket, neglecting to keep adequate records on file.

"Regardless of what you've done, you haven't done a darned thing unless you keep a record," said the sheriff. "We have been told we have the third or fourth largest record system in the state. And that includes all police departments and all sheriff's departments."

Gabrel credited his chief deputy of criminal investigation, Don Reeves, for the new extensive records system.

"If a man has been to the penitentiary in the last 20 years, we have him in our files, pictures and fingerprints," said the tall, grey-haired Texan.

Gabrel's files produced one of the first pictures of Richard Speck, accused and later convicted in the slaying of eight student nurses in Chicago.

Gabrel, who admits law enforcement has lost some of its prestige and glamour, has some ideas about how the field can be improved.

"People in it (law enforcement) are going to have to set an example, have higher morals and become better educated," he said.

Gabrel believes one way to do it is to get up a Texas police academy. "It should be centrally located... a general law enforcement academy for people who want to make a career," Gabrel suggested.

He said lawmen are going to have to be a "sharper than ever" in dealing with criminals. "We are going to have to quit griping about the Supreme Court. I'm not happy about some of the laws, but just look what they had to go on in the way of cases."

In Sheriff Gabrel's eyes, there is a lot wrong with law enforcement today, but there is also a lot that can be done to improve it.

"If there is a better idea or solution, try it," he said.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — My husband was killed while on active duty during World War II. Is it too late for me to buy a home with a loan guaranteed by the VA?

A — It is not. You still have nearly two years, until July 25, 1970, to obtain a G. I. loan.

Q — My husband, who served in the Army just before World War II, is now very ill. If he dies, is he eligible for the VA burial allowance and the flag for his casket?

A — Since he is not a wartime veteran, he would not qualify for the $250 burial allowance unless he receives compensation for a service-connected injury or was discharged for disabilities received in line of duty. However, if he served at least one enlistment and was honorably discharged during peacetime he is eligible for a burial flag to drape his casket.

Q — When does the time expire for seriously disabled veterans to apply for an allowance for an automobile?

A — There is no longer any time limit; the previous limitation has been removed. Your nearest VA office can provide the proper form to apply for the VA payment (not to exceed $1,600) for veterans who have lost — or permanently lost the use of — one or both hands or feet, or suffered severe permanent impairment of vision of both eyes. But one word of caution: Do not agree to the purchase of any automobile before you have received VA's written approval.

Q — I understand that the guaranteed portion of G. I. home loans has been raised. Is this true?

A — Yes. It has been increased to $12,500.

Q — I have read references to Viet-Nam era service. What does this mean?

A — Active duty service on or after Aug. 5, 1964, is considered Viet-Nam era service.

What Do Young Get From SS?

(Ed. Note: This is the 2nd of a series of 3 articles on the cost and value of today's social security prepared by Travis C. Briggs, Amarillo District Manager for the Social Security Administration)

The preceding article covered the person reaching 65 at the end of this year and retiring after maximum taxes.

What about the young person aged 22, just starting his career of 43 years of work or self-employment before reaching age 65? What will he invest in social security and what will it bring him in return?

Using the current and projected tax rates, the employee will pay in $16,490 toward his retirement benefit at age 65 (or $39,700 if you add 3-1/2 percent compound interest on the assumption he would otherwise have invested that $16,490 as the months went by). With the average male life expectancy of 13 years at age 65, and with a wife also 65 (1 percent of men reaching 65 are married), the retirement benefits due him and his wife would total $42,960 — $3,160 more than the value of his social security contribution.

Actuaries state that under the schedule of contributions now in the law, the young worker will get social security retirement benefits worth from 15-20 percent more than their own contributions plus an interest allowance. It appears rather certain they will get even more, for as wage levels continue to rise income to the social security system increases at a rate faster than corresponding benefit liabilities. Future benefits can therefore be raised without further increasing the taxes.

What else do you buy with your social security taxes? See the third article, soon appearing in this newspaper.

Charles Brownlow

Brownlow Will Join Hoff At Patrol School

Charles E. Brownlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Brownlow of 107 Northwest Drive, has received a letter saying that he has been selected to attend the Recruit School for Patrolmen, Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Recruit School will begin next Wednesday in the Law Enforcement Academy building in Austin. The Recruit School is the beginning training for men who will eventually become Highway Patrolmen, Drivers License Patrolmen, License and Weight Patrolmen and Motor Vehicle Inspection Patrolmen.

Brownlow has successfully completed the written and oral examinations and has been tentatively selected for training in the Recruit School.

Training in the Recruit School will last 13 weeks, which will be followed by a short but intensive advanced training period. The entire length of the training period will be about 17 weeks.

Already at the school is Paul Hoff Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoff Sr., of 113 Fuller, who began his training Aug. 27, with completion around the 21st of Dec.

Both men are graduates of Hereford High School.

Robbery has increased by 88 percent during 1961 to 1967 and will show an eight year increase of 125 percent by the end of 1968. During 1953 to 1960, robbery increased by 33 percent.

Chamber Warns Businessmen To Beware Of "Labor" Advertising

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce today advised businessmen to be wary of high-pressure operators soliciting advertising for bogus "labor" publications.

Bill Thompson, Manager of the Chamber, said "boiler-room" operators soliciting advertising for bogus labor papers continue to drain millions of dollars from American business.

In long-distance telephone calls, the solicitor usually makes exaggerated claims to the businessman for his "labor" publication and in some instances makes veiled threats about "labor trouble" if the businessman offers resistance.

The National Better Business Bureau, with which the Local Chamber is affiliated, through membership, has repeatedly denounced the tactics of these bogus labor publications, as has the legitimate labor press, which solicits advertising on its merits.

In a recent statement to NBBB, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, expressed regret that it was necessary for trade union newspapers to accept advertising to survive since "advertising in the labor press is particularly vulnerable to abuses of one kind or another."

"I have always felt," said Mr. Meany, "that we in the labor movement should be willing and able to support our organs of internal communications without seeking assistance from the business community, no matter how legitimate." He added: "However, I also recognize the realities. In many states and communities, the choice is between a labor paper with advertising or no labor paper at all."

"Our museum and exhibits will be a major point of interest," Smith reported. "There will be a wonderful display. The United States Army will again have a big exhibit and everyone is urged to bring something to display in the museum."

Smith said that he would help with the necessary reservations here.

Marvin H. Watts, chairman of the executive committee of the 90th Division Association, pointed out that there will be no long programs during the reunion and "that we will only have a limited number of reunions in the future."

The National Bureau, in urging businessmen to help stamp out the bogus labor publications, suggested that they contact NBBB if they have any doubts about a labor publication or its method of solicitation.

NBBB also advised businessmen threatened by a solicitor with "labor trouble" to notify the appropriate law enforcement agency at once.

Education Is Key Issue, Says Ford

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for State Representative, this week named education as one of the key issues of his campaign.

"In 1960," said Ford, "Texas ranked 33rd among the states in per-child funds for education. We have since dropped to 38th. In 1960 we ranked 40th in literacy, and have since dropped to 44th. This is not a record to be proud of, as education is the most important function of state government, and accounts for 45 percent of state expenditures."

"Anyone who has observed the little children at work and play in our schools across this district," Ford continued, "knows that the light of hope shines in their faces - black, brown and white, and that this hope is the hope of our nation. If the adults in our big cities had the same feeling of brotherhood and understanding as these little children do, America would truly be on the road to greatness."

"The question that our generation has to answer, then, is whether these hopes and dreams are going to be fulfilled, or whether they are doomed to be broken in frustration and dependency. Jobs for the unskilled are disappearing fast, and if many of these children are going to know the dignity of productive work, the time for action in Texas is now."

"We must increase our attention to primary education and the development of basic skills, give additional help to children with specific learning disabilities, increase pre-school opportunities and bi-lingual education where needed. Instructional practices and programs must be up-dated constantly, and technical and vocational training increased, with emphasis on job training by private industry. These actions would constitute the best investment we ever made in our future."

Ford is a candidate in the 72nd Legislative District.

Baptists To Host Special Singer

Howard Jewell, a tenor soloist from Riverside, Calif., will sing each night along with preaching by Rev. Gordon Lincoln at the Greenwood Baptist Church beginning Sunday for one week, according to Rev. Al Baum, pastor of the church on Moreman at Greenwood.

Rev. Baum reported that Jewell has traveled extensively throughout the United States as one of the foremost gospel singers of today. His presentation of the gospel song is said to be unique.

Early in his musical travels Jewell became known as the singing evangelist. His career began as a boy singing with his preacher father in rugged pioneer Salvation Army work. Admired for his talent, his fame spread across the country. He has been the featured soloist for many notables and numerous citywide campaigns and crusades.

Jewell is a talented, experienced musician. The gospel as he presents it in song is spirit-filled. His popularity with teenagers stems from a keen sense of humor and radiant personality Rev. Baum said.

Local Couple Honored On Silver Anniversary

The Silver Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gilleland was celebrated Sunday, when an afternoon reception was held and Mrs. Carl McFaul sang at an anniversary high mass for the couple in St. Anthony's Church that morning.

Hostesses for the reception in the American Legion Hall were Mmes. Jacob King Jr., Leon Bell, N. W. Culp, S. T. Wiseman, Ira Ott, Hazel Sparks and McFaul.

With the Gillelands in the receiving line were their daughter, Nina; Mrs. Gilleland's mother, Mrs. Effie Charlton of Long Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gray of McDonald, N. M.

Mr. Gray served as best man when Mr. Gilleland and Alice Charlton were married Sept. 29, 1943. The two men were friends in military service, stationed on Long Island during World War II.

Mrs. David Sadler was at the guest book, and hostesses served in turn at the refreshment table. Punch was poured from a cut glass bowl which Mrs. Gilleland inherited from her grandmother.

The anniversary cake, topped with bride-and-groom figurines, was ornamented with mint green icing and silver leaves. The tablecloth was in mint shade, of satin with a white net overskirt.

Mrs. Gilleland wore a white dress with silver leaves, and a silver heart given her by her husband and daughter.

Out-of-city guests included Wanda Leith of Canyon, Messrs. and Mmes. H. J. Battenhorst, Lawrence Jentzen and Irving Pancoast of Vega; the E. L. Hammers of Panhandle, the Richard Culp of Amarillo, the David Sadlers of Lubbock and J. R. Stevens of Tulsa.

Kiwanians Set Pancake Supper

Nov. 5 has been set as date for the annual Kiwanis Club Election Day Pancake Supper. Kiwanian President Ray Todd has announced.

Last year, said Todd, some 1100 persons were served. Proceeds from the supper are used in various community projects by the Kiwanians.

The three-day session, designed especially for commercial bankers, will be held in the Texas A&M University Memorial Student Center.

Program chairman Tom Prater of the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department said that some of the topics for discussion will be foreign trade alliances, cash flow and agricultural financing, agricultural policy, new deals in cattle, land and trust handling, farm corporations, contract pricing, credit sources real estate, loans, and investment requirements for full employment in agriculture.

Chairman of the Agriculture Committee is Tommie E. Stuart of the First National Bank in Fort Worth.

WWI Veterans Plan Reunion In Oklahoma

W. J. (Bill) Smith of 513 Ave. J, Hereford, has received information concerning the 90th Division (World War I veterans) annual reunion scheduled at Lake Texoma State Lodge in Kingston, Okla. on Nov. 7-10.

Smith is trying to contact all veterans of the 90th Division in the Deaf Smith County area who would be interested in attending the reunion. He has asked that these veterans call him at 364-4775.

Marvin H. Watts, chairman of the executive committee of the 90th Division Association, pointed out that there will be no long programs during the reunion and "that we will only have a limited number of reunions in the future."

World War I officially ended almost fifty years ago - on Nov. 11, 1918.

"Our museum and exhibits will be a major point of interest," Smith reported. "There will be a wonderful display. The United States Army will again have a big exhibit and everyone is urged to bring something to display in the museum."

Smith said that he would help with the necessary reservations here.

Casa de Amigos

By CRAIG SIMPSON
VISTA Worker

For the past five months I have served as a VISTA volunteer in Hereford's migrant labor camp. I have enjoyed working here and upon leaving I would like to make a few suggestions which I feel would help the low-income families of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

DAY CARE CENTERS
A group of day care centers would allow working mothers to leave their children in safe hands during the day. This would provide a more healthy enrollment for the child than in a barracks or in a car and also allow more members of the family to work.

TUTORING OR TEACHER'S AIDS:
Is needed to give the slow learners a chance of personal development through dialogue and individual attention and also give the tutor a chance to experience poverty first hand.

DEVELOPMENT OF FACILITIES IN THE LOW-INCOME AREAS:
A. Labor camp: An extension of the public library could be set up at the Casa de Amigos maybe twice a week, allowing borrowing of books and an area to study without disturbance.

At the Casa, the employment commission could set up office and reach out to the hard-core unemployed, especially during the winter when jobs are scarce and difficult to come by.
The development of the large field in front of Casa de Amigos where a baseball diamond has been set up and has been used every day since. A backstop, a pitchers mound, and some benches are greatly needed to develop this fine field.
B. Buena Vista — The development of the open fields for soccer or baseball might prove profitable. One entire building could be turned into a community center with ping pong tables and pool tables, with space for community meetings, informal get-togethers, job interviews, classes in adult education, club meetings, or possibly even a small day care center.
This community center could also be used for showing health films and distributing health material.
C. In other poverty pockets — Development of community centers for the poor throughout the city from old houses or old unused buildings would be a great benefit to the poor and to Hereford.

—For helping the underprivileged youth of Hereford I have many suggestions:

A. The city-wide sponsorship of a four-day camp for underprivileged kids similar to one held for the Amarillo youth at Ceta Glen Camp this past summer. It was sponsored by OEO and the First Christian Church in that city and proved very successful.

B. The development of a Police Athletic League to promote better relations between the poor and the law. This could include athletics, sponsorship of law enforcement and investigation explorer posts, fire fighting training, and outings with the policemen themselves. This would attempt to promote better relations and more understanding between the people and the law.

C. The establishment of a well-structured summer program for low income youths and migrant trips, sing-etao shr cmf ,eta laborers providing trips, singing, crafts, recreation, films and maybe even swimming with whose main purpose would be to develop good character citizens and also keep kids off the streets and out of mischief. It could be run at the Casa de Amigos or community centers and could be run by local volunteers or summer VISTAS.

FOOD DISTRIBUTION:
Food distribution during the winter especially is very important. It could offer a center where needy families could come and get food at reduced prices or for nothing at all.

OTHER IMMEDIATE SUGGESTIONS:

The organization of clubs for youth and adults for the development and the cleaning up of their communities as a group effort. Also, the increase of low income Cub, Boy Scout, and Camp Fire groups to include most every youngster. Teen groups are strongly suggested for low income youth, to promote better values and a greater interest in education and citizenship.

These are only a few of the suggestions I have and there are many more which you or friends may possess. These are merely suggestions in the hope that more will be done for the low-income families in the very progressive community of Hereford. Thank you for providing me the opportunity of serving them.

Academies Are To Give Exams

New applicants for the Army, Air Force and Navy academies still have time to take the Civil Service exams scheduled for early October and November, according to Congressman Bob Price.

Price said that vacancies exist in the classes beginning in June, 1969 for West Point, Annapolis, Air Force and Merchant Marine.

Exams are scheduled in Amarillo and other Panhandle communities on Saturday and Nov. 9.

"Those nominated as a result of the Civil Service exams will then compete in a battery of

Local Couple Are Dormitory Parents

MAGNOLIA, Ark. — Southern State College has initiated a new departure in campus living — an honor dormitory for upperclass women students, — and a Hereford, Tex. woman will play a part in the experiment.

Fifty junior and senior coeds whose grade averages are 2.50 or above out of a possible 4.00 and who have shown leadership and service to the college have been invited to live in Cross Hall on the campus here.

The dormitory was formerly used to house Southern State men athletes but was renovated and redecorated for the women this summer.

The girls will have complete responsibility for setting and keeping their own rules and in addition to colorful and comfortable quarters, each coed will have a key to the front door. Nanette M. Walden, daughter of Mrs. W. P. McMinn of Summerfield, a Hereford High School graduate and senior business education major at Southern State, will also live in Cross Hall with her husband, Robert Walden of Dallas, who received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Southern State this summer.

Mrs. Walden, who is herself eligible to live in the dormitory, says: "We are not there as house parents — these women are on a self-governing basis — but we're there because it's a place to live and in case any emergency arises."

Mrs. Walden expects to earn her B.S.E. degree next spring.

Special Event In Littlefield To Honor Clayton

A gala event honoring State Representative Bill Clayton is being planned for Oct. 14th by Democratic party members from 72nd Legislative District. More than 1,000 residents of the district, as well as various points over the state, are expected to attend the Clayton Appreciation Banquet slated for the Junior High Gymnasium in Littlefield.

Tickets are already being sold at $10.00 per person, and general ticket sales chairman, Frank Cummings of Littlefield is expecting a sell-out crowd early.

Henry Sears is chairman of ticket sales for Deaf Smith County while R. C. (Dick) Godwin is in charge of ticket sales for Hereford.

General Chairman of the banquet is Bill Armistead of Littlefield.

Rep. Randy Pendleton of Andrews is working with Plainview's Rep. Ralph Wayne coor-and Walden is taking further courses in business preparatory to attending graduate school next year.

The gray whale's breeding place is Mexico's lonely Scammon Lagoon, halfway down the Pacific coast of Baja California.

The insect boasts three pair of jaws. Some jaws are tipped with taste buds that enable the insect to taste foods before putting them into its mouth.

Barbados, with 246,000 people has a population density of 1,450 persons to the square mile, the highest in the West Indies.
