Funeral Held For Mother Of Wm. McGehee

Mrs. Josephine Aiken McGehee, mother of Wm. McGehee, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. S. Kennedy in Olton, late last Thursday afternoon where she was visiting at the time of her death. Services were held in Plainview Saturday morning at Lemmons Funeral Home, Plainview, after which her body was taken to Ontario, Calif., and laid to rest beside her husband, J. H. McGehee, who preceded her in death nine years, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Kennedy, and Mrs. L. R. Nichols of Ontario.

Grandmother McGehee had visited in the home of her son in Hereford many times in the past five years and had many friends here that regret to hear her passing.

The McGehee family came to Floyd County early in 1890, where they made their home until about 23 years ago when they moved to Ontario, Calif., where they have resided since. Grandmother McGehee was born in Bell County, August 25, 1852, the daughter of the late Hermon Aiken, who came to Texas in 1833. She was of real pioneer stock and was proud of it. At the time of her death she was 88 years, six months and two days old. She retained a clear mind to the last and a keen interest in people and current events.

Besides the children above mentioned she is survived by Hilley McGehee of Ontario, and Mrs. Myrtle Page of Los Angeles, 19 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

about four miles northeast of Hereford on Highway 60. He and a helper, Lois Jarman, had gone there to change oil in the oil breakers. According to Jarman, Cummins first threw the switch open, making the whole structure "dead," then disconnected some wires. He then closed the switch, thus making part of the structure "hot" and part "dead." He then took off the oil pans, emptied the old oil, and replaced the pans. He was on the structure, about 12 feet above the ground, and was getting ready to take the new oil as Jarman handed it to him.

He raised up suddenly and got too close to a live wire and electricity arced from it into the lower back part of his right shoulder. He immediately fell to the ground.

In a matter of minutes he was brought to the hospital here by Glenn Witherspoon and Irvin Botsford, whom Jarman flagged down. All who knew him and those who worked with him were high in praise of his character, his reliability and his ability. His death was described as a tragic accident which occurred while he was on the job he was supposed to do.

Demonstration On Bedrooms At Walcott Club

The Bedroom Improvement demonstration scheduled for the Girls Clubs in January was repeated for the Walcott club at the home of the County Home Demonstration Agent on Saturday, March 8.

HABIT

(Note: The following material is presented by the Hereford Division of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, Inc.)

Will it annoy you if I say that we are all creatures of habit? I hope not, because I don't want to be rude, but I do want to tell you about certain habits that I think will save many lives. You see, good habits are mighty fine things: good habits indriving a car, in spending money, in eating and sleeping all add to your happiness and your health.

I am sure that the men who are listening to these brief remarks have many things they do so regularly that they may be called habits. They get up at a certain hour, they have lunch and dinner at regular times, they probably exercise on the same days each week. You meet installments at periodic intervals in the year. If you drive a car, you probably make it a practice to check the oil every thousand miles at least. And then once a week you may go to your club or your lodge or your union meeting.

Women are creatures of habit also. For instance, we know that by following a certain routine in cleaning the house we get things done more quickly. Then there is Church on Sunday, laundry on Monday, fish on Friday; the hairdresser we go to every two weeks and the bridge club or women's club with its regular meetings.

You may recall that a few seconds ago I spoke of good habits as adding to your happiness and health. Let's think of that matter of habits and health for a moment. What habits can we develop that will protect our physical well-being. Obviously this subject is too broad for me to cover in one brief talk so I am going to limit myself to a particular field of health, the fight against cancer. Many of you know of the work of the Women's Field Army of the Society for the Control of Cancer.

Well--here are some of the habits that the American Society for the Control of Cancer suggests we form; Health Habit number one is to enlist every April, that's the Cancer Control Month you know, in the Women's Field Army. Your enrollment fee is of importance in carrying on an educational program throughout the nation.

Health Habit number two is to see that the very useful information you receive from the Field Army reaches at least ten of your friends each year. Share with your neighbors the message "Early Cancer is Curable. Fight It With Knowledge."

Health Habit number three is perhaps the most important of all. Form the habit of having a regular complete physical examination by a competent physician.

How often should you have this examination? Well the American Society for the Control of Cancer recommends that women between the ages of thirty-five and fifty-five have an examination every six months. Everyone over thirty-five--man or woman--should certainly have an examination at least once a year. Pick a date for the examination and stick to it year in and year out--your birthday is a good time to select--and the doctor's verdict of "there's nothing wrong with you" will be a nice present. If there is something wrong you'll be glad to have discovered it early.

Cancer as you know starts with slight symptoms. We should learn some of these symptoms the so-called cancer danger signals and if they appear go to a physician or approved cancer clinic. But even the most alert of us cannot be as observant as the careful, trained family doc-

Guarding 'The Rock' From Sea and Air

A view from an accompanying British war plane high above Great Britain's Rock of Gibraltar, showing another plane on patrol duty, winging high over the harbor, wherein are several men o' war. All are on the alert against attack by German planes from the air and German troops that might be given a "corridor" down to southern Spain by the Fascist government. The Rock, which is one of the most formidable fortresses in the world, is Great Britain's effective western door to the Mediterranean, through which British commerce and warships flow from day to day.

A few weeds grow in every garden

Among the thousands of decent law-abiding beer retail establishments in America there may be a few disreputable "joints."

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell beer under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry is concerned about these undesirable places and wants them cleaned up.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger your right to enjoy good beer . . . and our right to make it.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger the 31,165 jobs and $22,076,182 payroll created by beer in Texas since re-legalization. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes in this state.

These benefits are worth preserving. You can help us, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the reputable, legal places that sell beer and by (2) reporting any law violations to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

WE ARE YOUR Neighbors

We are the Texas petroleum industry. There are nearly 225,000 of us, living in every section of the State.

With our families, we make up one million Texans, nearly one-sixth of the State's population.

Each of us has his job. Together we represent almost every type of worker.

Some of us live and work in your community. Our children go to school with your children. We trade in your stores, attend your church, pay taxes and vote--as you do--for the betterment of our community and State. We operate an industry which pays 75 million dollars a year in taxes to our State and local governments and our schools.

We are your neighbors.

Daly Warns On Spread of Crime Among Youth

Speaking on crime prevention and the tremendous costs of crime in this country, Father Jas. L. Daly, Dalhart, Wednesday told members of the Hereford Lions Club "We are going at this job backwards."

"A few years ago our prisons were inhabited with men between the ages of 40 to 45 years," he said. "Now they are overflowing with young kids."

Declaring this situation a real problem to each of us, he pointed to the tremendous cost of crime in this country today.

"Germany spent $15,000,000,000 a year and created a war machine which all the world fears," he said. "We are spending more than this amount to combat crime in the United States each year—and we are losing ground every year."

"Crime in the United States today is costing five times as much each year as we are spending for education," he continued. "By merely taking one-fifth of the amount spent on crime each year and placing it in our educational system we could more than double the salaries of every teacher in the United States, whether it be in elementary grades or in the largest colleges."

In connection with the spread of crime, Father Daly related experience stories of several prisons, including Sing-Sing, San Quentin, Huntsville, and Alcatraz.

"The biggest factor in the spread of crime is the buying of stolen goods from kids," he said. "The fact that they are allowed to stay out of public school is the second largest."

He also attacked the reform school system, saying, "When you send a boy to reform school you might as well kiss him good-bye. They should be called Crime Schools, not reform schools."

"We take an underprivileged boy, who already has two strikes called on him—and make him take his third strike in the dark."

He pointed to a deeper understanding of children, a need of more playgrounds and recreation as one means to combat crime, plus compulsory education. Elimination of buyers of stolen merchandise from kids was again mentioned as an important step.

The Texas Dairy Products Association will meet in Fort Worth April 9 and 10.

by pointing out that our own hands are not entirely clean, citing the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, and Cuba; he traced acquisitions, one after the other, proving that the United States can lay no claim to be a people of isolationists.
