Luboff Choir To Appear Feb. 23

The Norman Luboff Choir, which will appear in concert here next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, in Hereford High School auditorium, is this season's featured attraction for the local Community Concert Association.

Admission to the program will be by CCA membership card only. The choir was engaged as the "hold" attraction, announced before the annual membership drive last fall.

The Norman Luboff singers are widely known through recordings and broadcasts, as well as numerous concert appearances. The choir began touring in live performances in the fall of 1963 with a schedule of 63 concerts, and in the years since then has averaged more than a 100 concerts a season.

The nucleus of the choir consists of 25 to 30 virtuoso professional singers with a repertoire which ranges from classical music to choral spectaculars based on popular tunes.

To be announced at the concert, the program for the matinee appearance here will be chosen from a list including sacred songs by Bach, Palestrina and other composers; secular songs such as Der Gluckliche by Mendelssohn and Cancao de Saudade by Villa-Lobos; folk songs of Israel, the West Indies, Wales and Hawaii; popular airs like There Is Nothin' Like a Dame and Jambalaya; and Negro spirituals, I Ain't Gonna Study War, Listen to the Lambs, and Great Day.

Young Farmers Schedule Film

Hereford Young Farmers have announced that the film "On the Square" will be shown Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford High School Agriculture building.

The film, distributed by KGN-TV, has previously been shown to many clubs and organizations throughout the Panhandle and Plains area. It is on the subject of communism.

The public is invited to attend.

Science Fair Will Begin This Week

Ray Barber, supervisor of the Fifth Annual Hereford Science Fair, reported that a record 600 entries have been made in the fair, which will begin Thursday and last through Saturday at the Bull Barn.

Breakdown of the entries show that St. Anthony's will have three, the elementary schools about 215, the junior highs about 300 and the high school about 300.

Due to the large number of entries, scheduling changes for placing exhibits had to be made so that the Bull Barn would not be too crowded Barber said. The elementary schools and La Plata Junior High will place their exhibits from 4:30 p. m. to 7 p. m. Wednesday and the high school, Stanton Junior High, Walcott and St. Anthony's will place their exhibits from 4:30 to 7 p. m. Thursday. Judging for the fair will be held Friday night and no admittance will be given the public until Saturday after the winners have been selected.

Plans call for entries to be placed in one of seven classification, including botany, medicine and health, zoology, chemistry and biochemistry, earth and space sciences, physics and mathematics.

Entrants will be placed according to grades with the Intermediate Division, consisting of grades 4, 5, and 6, having the boys and girls compete directly against each other while the Junior Division (grades 7, 8 and 9) and Senior Division (grades 10, 11 and 12) will see the boys compete against boys projects and girls against girls projects.

Qualifications for the annual event state that any boy or girl interested in science who attends one of the local schools and is in the fourth grade or above, may participate.

Sizes for the exhibits have been specified due to the limit of space available at the Bull Barn. Intermediate entries will be limited to a space two feet wide on a table 30 inches in depth; Junior entries will be limited to a space three feet wide on a table 30 inches in depth; and Senior entries will be limited to a space four feet wide on a table 30 inches in depth.

Poster space behind the table area to a height of five feet may be used and posters may be suspended from the front edge of the table down toward the floor to a maximum of 24 inches. Exhibits will be limited to a height of six feet above the table or, if to be shown as a floor exhibit, to an overall height of nine feet.

Exhibitors will be judged on a point scoring system which will award them 30 points for scientific thought; 30 points for creative ability; 10 points for thoroughness; 20 points for clarity and dramatic values; and 10 points for technical skill.

All entries in the Science Fair will receive an attractive certificate of participation and the winners of the local fair in each classification of each division will receive appropriate ribbons. First, second, third and fourth placings will be awarded in each of the divisions of competition.

Martin said that 100 fifth graders will present a musical program under music teacher Mrs. Judy McLarty, following a brief PTO meeting.

Afterward, he said that a tour of the rooms with the teachers will be conducted, with the student's parents invited to join in the activities and become acquainted with the Aikman personnel.

The room visitation should begin about 8 p. m., Martin estimated, and be concluded no later than nine.

650 Attend Chamber Banquet Success

Cowsert Named "Citizen of Year"

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Ray Cowsert, who served as Mayor of Hereford seven-and-a-half years and is credited with being instrumental toward the location of the Wilson and Co. plant here, was named Lions Club Citizen of the Year for 1968.

Cowsert, partner in the law firm of Cowsert and Bybee, resigned as Mayor last September. He said then that he was doing so to devote full time to his business but had "hesitated to do so until Wilson Packing Company had definitely decided to construct their plant in Hereford."

He and his wife Louella live at 1101 E. Grand Ave. Their daughter, Mrs. Harold Morton, also lives in Hereford.

Cowsert was unable to attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night, where the presentation was made. However, his wife and daughter attended the banquet and his daughter accepted the award in absence.

Lions president Ray Moore told the large audience at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn that the winner of the award was born at Junction, Texas, in 1906 and had moved with his parents to Castro County in 1909. A graduate of Dimmitt High School, he had continued his education at Texas Tech and the University of Texas. A past president of the Hereford Lions Club, he had helped organize Little League here, served on the City Commission, aided in many fund drives locally, and is a supporter of Boys Ranch and Girlstown.

Moore noted that this year's award marked the twentieth annual presentation of the Lions Club Citizen of the Year Award. The selections, balloted upon by a Lions Club committee, are held in confidence until the announcement at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquets. Recipients of the awards are honored for their outstanding contributions to the community.

Award recipient last year was John Douglas Pitman. Other winners over the years have been Dub Reeves, S. O. Wilson, Wayne Lawrence, D. C. Kinsey, Mrs. Earl Springer, Don Zimmerman, Mrs. Earl Plank, Mrs. Argen Draper, Father Raymond Gillis, Dr. Lena Edwards, J. W. Witherspoon, Wayne Evans, Dr. L. B. Barnett, Lyle Blanton, Miss Della Stagner and Clint Formby.

Hospital Fund Set For Youth

A fund for Royce Waldrip of Hereford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Waldrip, who is now in intensive care at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, has been set up at the First National Bank and Hereford State Bank for those who wish to contribute toward hospital expenses.

Young Waldrip became ill recently during a ski trip. No flowers will be accepted by the hospital at this time, but spokesman for the fund said that cards would be appreciated.

It was also announced that contributions to the fee can be made in two buckets set up at Sugarland Mall and one at Safeway.

His father is employed at Safeway here, and his mother is cashier at Duckwall's, the spokesman reported.

Heart Drive Date Changed

Due to conflicting schedules of the Community Concert Association's Feb. 23 concert and the Heart Drive Sunday, the Heart Fund drive has been set back one week to Sunday, March 2, Ray Todd, chairman, announced.

The month of February, has been designated at Heart Fund Month, and will reach its climax with the March 2 Heart Sunday drive.

A door-to-door campaign will be conducted on the Sunday of the drive, by Heart Fund workers, in an effort to afford each family in the community an opportunity to support their Heart Association. Envelopes will be left at doors when workers find no one at home, so that contributions may be mailed in.

The only voluntary health agency here devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart, and circulation, the Heart Fund Campaign will use the proceeds of the drive to support research, education and community service activities of the Texas Heart Association.

Statistics show that heart and circulation diseases are responsible for more than half of all deaths in this country. Also, more than 25 million Americans live with some form of heart and blood vessel disease, thus accounting for about 13 percent of the total population of the United States.

About 53.4 percent of all deaths in the United States is attributed to the complex disease during each year, making the total more than the number of deaths in battle of the nations armed forces since 1776.

It is important to remember that cardiovascular diseases are not an exclusive liability of the aged. They can, and often do, strike any member of the family. No one is immune.

Water Inc. To Meet Tuesday

The second annual meeting of Water Inc. will be held Tuesday at the Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium, it was announced recently.

Numerous noted speakers will highlight the six-hour meeting with registration beginning at 8:30 a. m. and lasting until 10. First speaker for the meeting will be Howard W. Crooke, retired executive director of the Orange County Water District.

The near-capacity crowd who attended the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Bull Barn Thursday night received many surprises, not only from the guest speaker who proved to be a wizard on memory feats but through the presentation of several awards for local achievements. And, for the first time, out-of-town guests were recipients of cakes.

Master of ceremonies was Chamber President Earnest Langley, beginning his second term in this office, who reported to his audience that many of the out-of-town guests had taken credit for bringing the much-needed rain with them but that unusual weather always went along with chamber banquets here. "And if you don't believe this rain is unusual, ask anyone who lives here in Hereford!"

Former Hereford Mayor Ray Cowsert became the Lions Club Citizen of the Year — and he was not present to accept the honor. Instead, Lions President Ray Moore made the presentation to Cowsert's daughter, Mrs. Harold Morton.

Virgil Marsh was given a gift certificate by the membership committee for enrolling 69 members into the local chamber during the past year and became the first recipient of an earned life membership. He was honored by Hereford Hustlers head Melvin Jayroe.

Chamber Treasurer Ed Line awarded Mrs. Earnest Langley flowers in expression of the Chamber's appreciation "for being the wife of the president."

And Chamber Vice-President Dale Young told the guests that singer Teresa Brewer was not present but "if we knew you were coming, we'd of baked a cake" — and had Hereford Hustlers pass out cakes to guests at the banquet from Clovis, Dimmitt, Borger, Corona del Mar, Calif. (the farthest distance), Canyon, Lubbock, Oton, Dumas, Goodland, Kan.; Omaha, Neb.; McKinney, Vega, Friona, Amarillo and Midland.

First Baptist Church pastor Gerald Mann, who gave the invocation, also had his parents at the banquet, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Mann of Houston. The elder Mann is in the plumbing business there.

GUEST SPEAKER

Irv Wermont, a public relations man with a large firm in Boston, Mass. and credited as author, humorist and educator, not only amazed his audience by calling out names of some 200 people whom he had met in the Bull Barn earlier in the evening, gave numbers associated with them and described several pages of the current Look Magazine from memory, a also delivered many anecdotes which kept the approximately 650 people in laughter but delivered a serious point on the importance of each individual having a sense of humor.

Wermont said, "The human element will remain a factor. The individual will remain important. But human beings must live what they are, and above all else — be a man, get along with your fellowman. In vain we build the world, if the builder does not also grow.

Develop a sense of humor in meeting the frustrations of the day. We cannot have all we want from life — we need a sense of humor to offset it."

What is a sense of humor? he asked. "It's an attitude toward life. How does a sense of humor cause self-awareness? Who am I? What am I? What do I really want out of life? Must I pay a psychiatrist? There is only one way — facing up to the situations day after day. That way, you will understand yourself."

Wermont stated, however, that laughter wouldn't cure everything. "But what I sit without laughter? And money isn't everything — money doesn't bring an end to our problems."

Upon demonstration of his mental abilities, he said that he Rain!

One of the driest years on record in Deaf Smith County got a reprieve last week when moisture fell throughout the county, ranging from almost one-half inch in some places to snow in others.

Some 15 miles west and six miles north of town on the Phillips Miller farm, approximately .45 fell as of Friday morning with most of it coming Thursday night.

On the Leo Witkowski farm southeast of Hereford .32 fell and it was "slow and easy, and we sure need more of it."

Within the one mile distance of Easter Fertilizer and Community Garin, .30 was reported with some spots surrounding the two places receiving up to .40.

H. L. Harshey, who farms about 13 miles northeast of Hereford, reported that about 10 p. m. Thursday night, a slight amount of snow settled on the ground there and remained there until early Friday morning. Moisture registered about .30 of an inch along with the snow.

On the Johnny Townsend place located near Milo Center, .30 of an inch was reported with numerous small down pours occurring Thursday night over a short period.

Luther Lealy, also located at Milo Center, measured .50 of an inch of the "light drizzle" type probably experienced by most other parts of the county.

Knox And Clark Up For Awards

Debbis Knox and Johnny Clark Jr. will receive the Golden Rule Award from Texas United Funds.

Annual Conference of Texas United Funds will be held in San Antonio at the El Tropicano Motor Hotel on February 26. Pat Taggart, President, has announced that there are two most important items on the program. These are the recognition of Presidents and Campaign Chairmen with the Golden Rule Award and a discussion and vote on the proposed consolidation of Texas United Fund and Texas Social Welfare Association.

Taggart hailed the proposed consolidation as a move which will materially strengthen United Fund Raising and Planning in Texas. The consolidation plan has received the approval of the Executive Committee of Texas United Funds and the Board of Directors of Texas Social Welfare Association.

Program speakers will include Walter W. McAllister, Mayor of San Antonio; Maurice Acres, President, Acers Investment Company, Austin; and Tom Norfleet, Success Motivation Institute, Waco.

During a luncheon program the Golden Rule Awards will be presented. Taggart has invited all United Fund and Community Chest volunteers and executives to attend this important meeting.

Tax On Livestock Is Clarified Here

Tax on livestock has become an important subject to Deaf Smith County residents — and often a greatly misunderstood subject, according to Hereford Independent School District Tax Assessor-Collector Orpha Click. Click has offered clarification of the matter, saying, "While there is often a question as to the fairness, tax laws in the State of Texas are very definite as they pertain to livestock. Thus, we have no alternative but to adhere to the laws as they now exist."

Livestock is assessed for tax purposes according to its location on January 1. Click pointed ed out, regardless of the owners residence.

"All livestock in the Hereford School District on Jan. 1 then must be rendered by the owners or those in charge or possession. Click stated, "Texas will be due the following fall and payment should be made to this office in the Hereford School Administration building." He quoted the law regarding charge or possession:

Personal property in the charge of possession of someone other than the owner shall be assessed to the person having it in charge or possession. (Articles 7199 and 7152.)

"Therefore, if you have cattle on your property or if you are looking after someone else's cattle," he said, "you are responsible to this office for the owner's name and address and the number of cattle. And if ownership is not confirmed, then these may be charged to you."

Click added, "Since by law the rendering of property is the responsibility of the owner, it is hoped that livestock will be properly rendered to the Tax Office by all owners. A 100 percent count is expected. This will prevent inconvenience and liability for feedlot operators and others in charge."

He also pointed out another state law on rendition:

Whenever the taxpayer refuses to make rendition or to subscribe to the oath, the assessor shall proceed to assess the property of such taxpayer, and the assessment so made shall be as legal and binding as if rendered by the taxpayer. (Article 7193.)

Click said, "Our present valuation schedule on calves (weaned to one year old) is $20 per head. On yearlings (one to two years old or over 600 lbs.) it is $30 per head. With our present tax rate, this would make the amount due on calves approximately 44 cents and on yearlings approximately 67 cents each."

Wermont advised the people who wished to improve their memories to go to the libraries where there are many good books.

But sense of humor? "If . . ." he said. "You have this in abundance. It is 'like.' We all want to be 'like' that. But we cannot exceed ourselves, it is up to

Light Damage In Thursday Wreck

An accident near the intersection of U. S. Highway 60 and Progressive Road Thursday evening resulted in an estimated total damage to the two vehicles of $175.

The 1962 Studebaker driven by Wilbert Clemons sustained an estimated $125 damages and the 1968 Ford pickup driven by Lee Clark received about $50 damages.

Investigating officers said the accident occurred when the driver of one of the vehicles made a left turn off Progressive Road onto East First St. (Highway 60) and was struck by the other vehicle which had skidded on the wet pavement, hit the median and careened across the road.

Two Birthdays Celebrated At Club Meeting

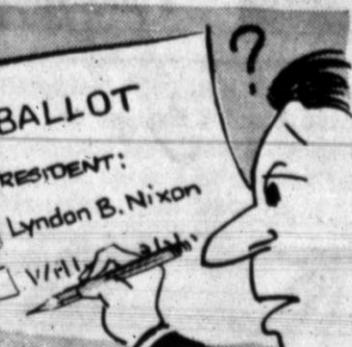

Birthdays of two members, Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mrs. Bob Hammock, were celebrated at a "Vote for Lyndon Bobby Nixon"

Back in the Twenties, when "Fighting Bob" La Follette was a power in American politics, some of his political enemies tried to get on the ballot under the name "La Follette State Party."

Names on the ballot are the subject of rules and regulations that vary considerably across the country. But generally the law seeks to prevent a candidate from getting a free ride on someone else's reputation. No doubt a candidate who changed his name to "Lyndon Bobby Nixon," just before this year's election, would have small chance of being listed that way.

Nor may a candidate, while retaining his own name, embellish it in a way that would give him an unfair advantage over his opponents.

For instance, most states won't allow the tacking on of a title. Thus a doctor failed in his efforts to be listed on the ballot with an "M.D." after his name—when that was not a qualification for the office he was seeking.

There are also various fair-play techniques as to the order in which the candidates' names are listed. The order may be determined alphabetically, or by lot, or by some sort of rotation system.

Even the printing of names may be prescribed by local statute. But ordinarily an election will not be nullified merely because of some minor printing error.

In one case the law specified that all names should be printed in capital letters. After an election, a defeated candidate named DeForest challenged the outcome on the ground that he had been listed as "DeFOREST"—with a small "e."

But the court let the election results stand, saying the mistake was just not weighty enough to frustrate the obvious will of the electorate.

What if the name of a write-in candidate is misspelled by the voter? In most states the ballot will be accepted if the voter's intention is reasonably clear.

But tolerance has its limits. When a voter wrote in "McMagr," the court decided this could not be tallied as a vote for a write-in candidate named McCreery. The court said it could not assume that the voter really did mean McCreery, when the only part he had right was the "Mc."

AF Sergeant In NATO Group

SPANGDAHLEM, Germany — U. S. Air Force Sergeant Terry D. Williams, whose wife, Jolene, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Betts of Adrian, participated in the massive NATO training exercise just concluded in West Germany.

Sergeant Williams, a weapons mechanic, supported F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers from Holloman AFB, N.M., that took part in the largest overseas deployment of tactical aircraft for a training exercise in USAF history.

Jet fighters and aircrews from Holloman that left Europe last summer, but still NATO committed, will temporarily remain in the area for additional training.

Ninety-six Phantoms, which made the transoceanic flight with mid-air refueling, provided close air support for ground forces during the joint U. S. Air Force — Army maneuver involving 15,500 U. S. personnel. The exercise was the first in a projected series of annual exercises and was conducted as part of the U. S. contribution to increased NATO readiness.

The sergeant, a graduate of Adrian High School, attended Lubbock Christian College. He is the son of Mrs. Leonard Erwin.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
"To a boy who won't be back."
A boy died for me in Vietnam the other day. I didn't know him and he didn't know me. But he died for me just the same. I heard about it on the newscast. He was coming home at last — but not the way he had dreamed of going.
I watched the newscast as I ate a good, hot meal in my safe comfortable home.
The news was pretty much as usual. The war in Vietnam, college kids demonstrating against changes in the draft rules, screaming and mugging for the camera... more strikes.
After dinner I turned into a program on which a comic wisecracked sourly about the way the war was going — and probably got more money for doing it than this boy in Vietnam had been paid all the time he was in the service.
Then I went to bed, free from any fear that the house might be blown up by the enemy. The enemy is busy over in Vietnam.

But I could not get this boy off my mind. I wondered if he had been frightened. Of course he had. Who wouldn't be? Had he hated this war as much as I hate it?
Probably more. He was in it! But, somehow, those boys in the thick of it over there seem to understand more clearly than many of us just why they are there, and the dreadful alternative if they weren't.
How had he felt about these characters who are defying the government, calling our leaders murderers, tearing up draft cards and pulling down the American flag?
However he had felt, he had fought for that flag until he was killed.
It's too late now, of course, to try to thank this boy for what he did. But it's not too late to thank his buddies for what they are doing.
How do you thank someone for facing death for you?
How do you reassure him that as long as men like him are willing to die for freedom, freedom is worth dying for—even though it be abundantly used and abused by the very ones who disdain to fight for it?

So, you hope that the boys over there realize that dissent is loud and gets attention, but that gratitude is quiet and doesn't make the headlines.
You hope that they know that millions upon millions of Americans are with them all the way. I hope and pray that boy knew it as he died for me in Vietnam.

Mrs. George E. Brashear, 311 N. 25 Mile Ave. Hereford.
(Editor's note: Marine Lance Corporal E. G. Brashear, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brashear, is now stationed in Vietnam.)

New School By Any Other Name: Clark

With the selection of Tierra Blanca as the name of the new elementary school to be constructed this year in south Hereford, other names under consideration by the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees revealed "clever thinking on the part of the students in the schools who submitted them," according to both administrators and trustees.

The matter of the name suggestions for the new school was decided at a special board meeting two weeks ago, wherein students at the other schools portunity of submitting choices. Principals of six local schools canvassed their campuses and turned the suggestions over to trustees early last week.

Tierra Blanca was the winner. Trustees found it included on five of the six school lists. Only the Hereford High School list did not include Tierra Blanca.

HHS principal Bill Michael, however, did have a special notation on his school's list: "Incidentally, there were several 'Johnny Clark Elementary School' names submitted. Clark has been superintendent of the Hereford schools since 1965.

Other personal names submitted were Deaf Smith and John F. Kennedy. But all personal names were disqualified due to a school board ruling a few years ago, it was announced. This ruling did not come into effect until after Stanton Junior High, Alkman and Shirley received their names.

By individual schools, other name selections included: Shirley: Sugarland, Whiteface, Mockingbird, Alamo, LaPlata, Southwest, Southside and Jefferson.

Northwest: Southside, El Porvenir, Casa de Libro and North Tejas.

Central: Holly, Westway, South, Blue Lake, Los Palms, Clover, Lone Star, Golden Spread, Hillside, High Plains,

Homemaker Of Tomorrow Set At High School

Caroline Spinhrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spinhrne, has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Hereford High School. She achieved the highest score in a homemaking knowledge and attitude test which she took along with other senior girls on Dec. 3.

Miss Spinhrne was presented a special silver charm and a certificate by Dorothea Prowell, homemaker teacher at Hereford High School.

Her paper has been entered with those of other school winners in the state in competition for the title, State Homemaker of Tomorrow. The winner of this honor will be granted a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual program.

In April, first place winners from the 50 states and the District of Columbia, each accompanied by a school advisor, will be guests on an expense-paid tour of Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. The trip will be climaxed with the naming of the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was started in 1954-55 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. It marked its 15th anniversary this year with a record enrollment of 630,565 senior girls in 11,116 of the nation's schools. Total enrollment since the program started exceeds 6 million and more than $1.5 million has been granted in scholarships.

Miss Neal Of Clarendon Bride Of Hereford Man

Stephen Paul Coneway and his bride, the former Miss Nan Carol Neal of Clarendon, left after their marriage Friday evening on a New Mexico honeymoon, and will be at home in Hereford on their return.

Miss Neal was a student in West Texas State University at Canyon, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Neal of Clarendon. Mr. Coneway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Coneway, 104 Rio Vista.

The marriage vows were spoken in First Christian Church of Clarendon with the Rev. Paul Hancock, minister, conducting the double ring ceremony. A pair of brass urns holding white gladiolas and flanked by candelabra made the altar setting.

Miss Carrie Lee Neal was her sister's maid of honor and the bridegroom's brother, Clinton James Coneway, was best man. Mr. Neal gave his daughter in marriage.

She was dressed for the wedding in white silk brocade, street length, with all white accessories. Her headpiece was a large velvet bow holding a brief illusion veil and her bouquet was a white orchid circled with rosebuds, carried on a bridal Bible.

A reception and wedding supper in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Murphy of Clarendon, followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Coneway is a graduate of Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and attended Trinity University at San Antonio before enrolling at WTSU. She is a member of Delta Psi Omega and Sigma Phi Gamma, honorary scholastic fraternities.

The bridegroom holds a degree in agriculture-business from Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Valentine Party Given

The annual Valentine dinner honoring husbands of members was given by the Sunshine Club Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Clint Lundry. A salad supper was served, and games of 42 followed at tables gaily decorated in red and white.

Gifts of handkerchiefs were exchanged by club pals from a Valentine box.

A guest, was Mrs. Willie Burgess; club members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Mrs. George Miner, Clois Kemp, Elmer Fryar, Lundry, C. E. Watts and Mrs. Elmer Jones.

The Case of the Unbalanced Body

Did you know that you may experience back pain, without straining your back through excessive lifting or a sudden fall?

In cases like this, the pain is often caused by weak muscles in need of exercise. The body is equally balanced on both sides — or should be. If one side of the body is stronger than the other, the more powerful muscles pull on the spinal column. The result is that the spine may be pulled out of its natural alignment.

SOME QUESTIONS CONCERNING VIOLENCE

It can't be denied that young men in the military from the Hereford area are almost always unselfish, loyal, and courageous. But why must we train them to violence, to destroying and killing in order to prove it? Why?

Shouldn't we rather train them to ask questions, seek truth, build understanding, and produce life where there is fear, selfishness, and injury? Shouldn't we?

Or are we so pagan that we must save face at all costs?

It takes much love, honesty, loyalty, and courage for young men in the Hereford area to resist the draft and the military system which their parents and friends have always accepted uncritically. Shouldn't we encourage and help these young men?

If we did, perhaps our own local violence would subside.

H.D. CHATTER Pantsuits High Style

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

It is predicted that there will be more types of pantsuits for women. The designs will be stove-pipe legs, meaning the same width at knee as at the bottom. These will be the mildest in design and the most narrows are made of twill weave in row.

THE BELL-bottom and 100 and heel are popular. The pantsuits are made of twill weave in men's wear, heavy fabrics to organize vests, over sheer shirts. Also, voiles and dimities.

Bias cutting on blouses and sleeves will be popular. Sleeves will be very full, raglan and bias cut.

Spring colors are to be pastels but it is hard for me to think of soft shades and tints when winter colors are still so much in evidence here. The color forecast other than all pastels are bright yellow, red and grass green.

The prints will be small. 1968 was the year for men's fashions, so 1969 is the fashion year for women.

It is also predicted that fashions are stabilizing and the fashion experts say fashion is a barometer of the times. So according to these experts world affairs will stabilize. Don't you hope it is true??

AT THE THURSDAY session of the district meeting, 4-H clothing leaders from ten counties in the Panhandle attended. To hear these women tell why they are leaders is a very thrilling thing.

The summary of why leaders spend so much time and effort working with 4-H youth: I like kids; 4-H has a wonderful program; I'm an ex-4-H member; it is exciting to see young people develop their potential.

PERMANENT PRESS fabric is being improved with stronger fibers to resist knee scrapes and wear. The new polyester, the man-made fiber used in most permanent press products, now stretches the same as its cotton counterpart and will share the strain with cotton.

COLD-WATER detergents have passed their consumer acceptance test. According to home management specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, tests have shown that the fear of bacterial infection from cold water washing is unfounded.

Researchers agree tumble drying at standard 160 degrees F. kills as much or more than the hot-cycle washer does.

TO IMPROVE cleaning of heavily soiled items, Extension home management specialists recommend using the cold-water detergents in hot water. They work even better at higher temperatures.

ABC'S OF CARING for permanent press clothes are suggested by Extension home management specialists: wash small loads, select correct washer-cycle and water temperature (warm wash and cold rinse), use automatic dryer for best results, sort carefully and wash frequently.

HANDBAGS ARE big and boxy this spring, according to Extension Clothing Specialist Graham Hard. The box-bags may be square, oval, hat-like, treasure chest and elongated shapes for casual and for dressy afternoons.

For evening wear, designers have trimmed the box bags to mini size. Bags are styled as a satchel, shoulder bag and tote. Each may have striking details such as luggage handles and lock closings, outside pockets a stitching and buckles.

For springtime, many leather satchels are waxy, embossed, antique-shaded and grainy leathers, reports the Texas A&M specialist.

She says tote bags also look tailored.

Favorite spring shades will be rich browns, pale gray and taupe-beige.

HAVE YOUR CLOTHES been changing color? The cause may be due to abrasion or exposure to alkalis, according to Graham Hard, Extension Specialist.

The major cause of garment color changes due to alkalis has been the result of allowing cosmetic preparations, foodstuffs and perspiration to remain in a fabric.

Color changes from abrasion appear on cotton, wool or rayon that has been dyed and blended with a different colored synthetic fiber. Cotton, wool, and rayon have a much lower abrasion resistance than synthetic yarn, Dr. Hard points out.

Rubbing or friction during wear will wear away the softer yarn so only the synthetic yarns remain. Thus the fabric in the area where this abrasion has taken place assumes the color of the synthetic yarn rather than the blended color of two yarns. Often this looks like a stain.

Your dry cleaner cannot do anything about this kind of color changes, but he can do something about those caused by alkalis if he gets them soon enough, adds the specialist.

Easter Seal Drive Opens March 1

The 1969 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Deaf Smith County on Saturday, March 1, according to J. A. Hodges, Jr., who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county. Hodges said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about February 28.

As Easter Seal Representative Hodges is the person to contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Guest speaker for the annual Masonic Night supper of Hereford Order of Eastern Star was Hal Burnett of Alpine, deputy grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas. He was introduced by J. B. Noland, a member of the committee on work, the only elected committee in the Grand Lodge.

Approximately 80 persons were present for the supper and program Friday in the Masonic Hall. Husbands of OES members, Masons and their wives were the guests. Edw'n Ramey and Ira Brown of Dimmitt were out-of-town guests.

Theme of the program, which was directed by Mrs. Tom Draper, was Serving Through Fraternal Love.

Mmes. B. E. Roberson, Bill Hutson and Orpha Click were on the hostess committee and Mrs. Deward Roberson was in charge of decorations. Members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls assisted with hostess duties.

USDA Ends Base In Milk Order

U. S. Department of Agriculture has discontinued the base and excess plans for paying dairy farmers under the Lubbock-Plainview and Texas Panhandle federal milk marketing orders.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said under the plans, each dairy farmer had a base reflecting his average daily deliveries of milk to the market in some fall and winter months. Later on, in spring and summer months, when milk production increased, the farmer was paid a base price for milk delivered up to his base amount, and a lower price for any excess milk.

Milk Producers, Inc., representing 99 percent of the dairy farmers supplying the two markets, requested that the plans be dropped from the two orders, because of a conflict with its own Class I base plan for paying its members.

Notice of the termination action, as proposed, appeared in the Federal Register Jan. 2, but no one has opposed it.

I would like to express my appreciation to all of the fine young people of your city. Especially the local Methodist Youth Fellowship (MYF).

After three days on the road, trying to get back to my base camp, I stopped at the Salgon USO for a rest and read many of the cards the Fellowship sent.

I know most of them will go unanswered, but the G. I.'s that read and have read the cards appreciate the moral support, and have a warm spot in their hearts for your city.

Again, thanks. The cards have done a world of good. A special

Difference Of Opinion Is Seen On Viewing "Helga"

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Opinions on the subject of the sex education motion picture "Helga" have been offered by various local ministers and educators who saw the film at a special preview screening at the Star Theatre last week. And not all of them are in accord over the question that it should be viewed by the public.

"Helga," reviewed in the Feb. 6 issue of the Hereford Brand, was filmed in Munich, West Germany for the most part (except for an American-made prologue) on the subject of marital sex and childbirth. Actual color scenes of a childbirth are included, with most of the viewer's attention being taken up by off-screen narration over graphs and charts. The film itself has very little storyline.

Star manager Francis Hardwick, who will begin "Helga" today, has recommended that parents see the film with their teenaged children, with the stipulation that no child under the age of 14 will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents and they must sit with their parents.

Hardwick reported prior to the special screening that he realized the film's subject matter was controversial but felt that it was educational rather than sensual.

Rev. Fred Howard, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, said, "I thought it was a real good movie. I think every adult and teenager ought to see it. I hate to sound like an advertising buff, but it is in really good taste. I went (to the screening) expecting to see a typical 'Hollywood' sexy movie with a few educational factors thrown into it. I was surprised to find nothing provocative or obscene, and to find it a very good educational picture."

However, Mrs. Wilma Braddy, counselor at Hereford High School, reported, "I thought the factual part was good, but there were some parts of it that I didn't like the presentation. I think things of this nature should be shown as a part of the school setting—classroom situation—to have real meaning for the teenagers, instead of the way the movies do it. I prefer the classroom over the movie."

On the other hand, Rev. Ronald A. Harpster, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church, stated that in his opinion "it was the best sex education movie that I have seen. I would encourage parents to see it with their young people." He added that he supposed that there are some people who might "find something dirty about anything," but he thought the film was well presented.

But Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, reported that he had attended the screening with other members of his congregation. "One of our members was there and called me later, and said that it could not be recommended for mass showings. It was believed that there are better educational services otherwise." Rev. Schelter pointed out that he had attended with other members to secure such opinions.

Rev. C. W. Allen, pastor of St.

John Baptist Church, said that he thought the picture was "very educational, and I think some of my folks will be out to see it. Myself, I didn't care much about it—but I suppose a lot of others will like it." He said that he was not opposed to his congregation seeing it.

The Rev. Simeon Heine, S. A., pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, said, "I feel that it is a serious documentary on the life processes that is extremely well done. The presentation was dignified in accordance with the dignity of the beginning of human life. I feel no objection toward the upper teens and adults seeing this picture."

Sister Yvonne, principal and teacher at St. Joseph's Mission School, stated the opinion that "it is very well made for parents and children over 16. It says so many things that parents aren't able to say to their children, and this will give the parents every opportunity to explain it later."

Rev. Bill Ray, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, reported, "Actually, I didn't think it would be advisable for young people to see it together—mixed viewing. But it is not a Hollywood thing. But our church policy is not to endorse this type of a motion picture."

Other local pastors who had viewed the film at the special screening were not contacted prior to press time due to their being out of the city.

Also on the same program with "Helga" at the Star Theatre is a featurette titled "Planet of Life," described as similar to the main feature in content, but unavailable for advance screenings here.

Letter To Editor

May I make a comment on the handling of the fighting teenagers?

Judge Williams, "more power to you."

I believe we would have much less of this in the United States if a few more judges would follow your example.

You know, it occurred to me that this may be the first time any one cared enough about the outcome of these children to see to it that they learned a little bit about our God. They may not have ever set foot inside a church.

Would it be advisable to see to it, in their sentence that is, that these children learn the Ten Commandments and the story behind the Ten Commandments? How it came to be written and why. Also, the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

I do not mean strictly the Bible verses, simply because they are hard for a child to comprehend, but a commentary version. One written in such a way as to be understood by all.

Do we have any one here in our city who would do as the lady in Austin and complain if their child was taught the Bible? I don't think so.

Thank you for reading my opinion.
Mrs. Martin,
Hereford, Texas.

Lenten Service Set Wednesday

Immanuel Lutheran Church will begin Lenten services Wednesday on the subject of Christ's suffering and death. Rev. Herman Schelter, pastor, reported. Services will continue each Wednesday beginning at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Schelter reported that the Lutheran Pastoral Conference of the Texas District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod Circuits one and two, which includes Perryton, Borger, Pampa, Dumas, Amarillo, Canyon, Tulia, Littlefield, Hereford, Friona, and Lariat, met at Immanuel Lutheran here Tuesday. He said that these pastor's wives were also present, meeting together at the Lutheran parsonage.

Water Proposal Is Club Topic

Water to meet agricultural and industrial needs of the Plains area in future years was discussed on the program or Conservation for Hereford Garden Club Friday afternoon, with Tom Kendrick, local attorney, as guest speaker.

The meeting was in Mrs. E. T. Hale's home, with Mrs. R. L. Wilson and Mrs. L. W. Norvell as co-hostesses. The program guest told of proposals for diverting Mississippi River water to this section by a system of dams and canals to turn eastward-running rivers back in this direction.

He emphasized the fact that present underground water supplies are being exhausted and the demand for water is growing with the population. Unless plans are made and work started soon, he said, the area will face a crisis in water needs within a few years.

Mrs. Norvell was the other speaker, on Anti-Litter to Keep America Beautiful. She had looked up state and city laws concerning litter, and said if they were all enforced, there would be no litter problem.

Mrs. R. L. Johnson presided for the program and refreshments included Mmes. D. K. Brook, R. L. Ethridge, O. G.

Multiple Service Projects For Year Chosen In Cultural Club

Several projects for the coming year were adopted by Cultural Home Demonstration Club at its meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Ole T. Larson, with aid to the Satellite Day Care Center here as the major one.

Members also will sponsor a senior girl in Hereford High School, supplying needed school supplies and clothing; they will collect canned food and take it to Girltown U.S.A. at Whiteface; each will make and fill a ditty bag in the annual Red Cross project to send Christmas gifts to American men in Viet Nam military service; they will sponsor a county historical tour; they will act as chauffeurs for Kings Manor residents on shopping trips for one month.

Mrs. J. G. Gandy reported on a recent district meeting of the Texas H. D. Association at Perryton which she attended. Mrs. Louie Olson reported the latest meeting of the County H. D. Council.

Mrs. M. W. Sumner gave the program on Costume Accessories. She spoke of gloves for various occasions and said it is proper to wear gloves to complete a costume even when a hat is not worn. She also discussed hose suited to different costumes and fashionable colors of hose.

Mrs. Grady Parsons read a poem titled Today to open the program. A humorous skit was presented by Mmes. Thurman Deas, Ira Scott, Paul Corbett and Gandy.

Mrs. Art Baker was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. H. E. Houck of Dilla, Kan., as a guest. Mrs. Houck is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sumner.

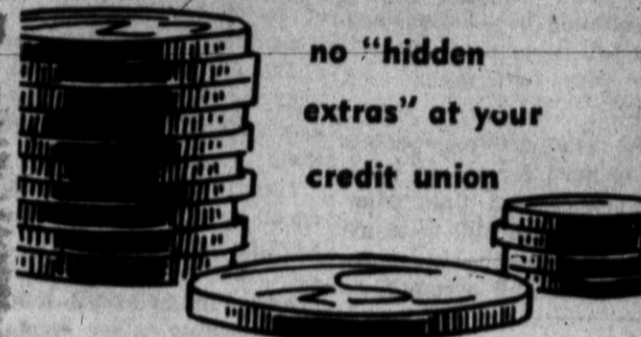

Other members present were Mmes. George Parker, Pat Robinson, P. M. Houser and Roy Thompson.

ANCIENT WALL FOUND
ROCHESTER, England — Archeological work in the north transept of Rochester Cathedral has disclosed a wall dating from before the Norman conquest of England (1066).
It formed part of a wall and pillar supporting an arch in a church of the 10th or early 11th century, experts say.
Little is known of the history of Rochester Cathedral before 1075, although it is established that a small stone Saxon cathedral stood on the site in 604.

Nelson Resigns As GSPA Executive

Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, has submitted his resignation from that post, according to Mr. A. W. Anthony, Jr., President of the organization.

Anthony said that the Association's Executive Committee has named Elbert Harp of Abernathy, past president and long time Association leader, to be Chief Executive Officer after Nelson's departure March 31 in order to assure continuity in the organization's work.

Nelson joined GSPA in September 1967 and during the past 1 1/2 years, he initiated and has administered the Association's widely recognized successful program of Research, Market Development and Service which has taken him into 24 foreign countries and virtually every state seeking better production practices and increased markets for grain sorghum.

In reviewing Nelson's service to the GSPA, Anthony said, "we farmers brought Bill out from Oklahoma State University where he was a grain marketing specialist, to assist us with our production and marketing problems as we switched from dry-land sorghum varieties to irrigated hybrids. Since that time, our production of grain sorghum has leaped from 204 million to 735 million bushels, exports from 22 million bushels to a high of 266 million, and domestic cattle and other livestock feed use from 178 million bushels to 620 million. But more specifically", Anthony said, "He has led us from a 'group of individuals with ideas' into an 'organization' with national and international influence".

As to his future plans, Nelson said that they are "very firm but premature to announce since others are involved, but I will be engaged in a new venture related to agricultural business development within the area and internationally. As Chairman of the Board of Agricultural Computing Company, I will also be having increasing responsibilities as that company continues to expand its service into on-line, real-time, time-sharing computer service to cattle feed yards, rural electric cooperatives and public accountants, with farm clients."

Airman David Kendall

David Kendall Sheppard Grad

WICHITA Fall, Tex. — Airman David L. Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kendall, 240 Elm, Hereford, has been graduated with honors at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the training course for U. S. Air Force medical specialists.

Airman Kendall, a graduate of Hereford High School, is remaining at Sheppard for further training.

The airman received his B.S. degree in pharmacy in 1968 from Southwestern State College.

insects, diseases, herbicides and water conservation become more important, and (2) involvement in farm labor policy and labor education, training and acquisition."

Nelson said that, as an independent businessman, he will continue his interest in and service to several agricultural organizations to which he holds elected or appointed offices including: Board of Trustees, High Plains Research Foundation; Regional Vice Chairman, Agri-business Council of U. S. Department of Commerce; Agricultural and Ranching Committee of the Wet Texas Chamber of Commerce; and the Farm and Ranch Council of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. Nelson and his wife, Allene, and daughters, Vikki — 11, and Tanya — 3, will continue to live at 5501 Bergett in Amarillo.

Elbert Harp has served GSPA as a member since its inception and as Secretary, Vice President, and President of the farmer-elected board. He is a graduate of the School of Business of Texas Tech. He has travelled in both South America and Europe for GSPA and the U. S. Feed Grains Council. Harp and his wife, Clara, live on their farm near Abernathy with their children David, Daryl and Carol.

Water Companies Being Discussed

The hundreds of small rural water companies set up on a nonprofit base to provide water for rural homes all over Texas would be exempt from taxation under a pair of proposals by Senator Murry Watson, J. of Mart.

SJR 6 is a proposal to let the voters of Texas decide whether they want to amend the constitution to give the nonprofit water supply companies an exemption from taxes on their lines and water systems. SB4 would carry the constitutional provision into effect if it is voted.

Under a program of the Farmers Home Administration, hundreds of loans have been made for construction of water systems in rural areas. The loans are being repaid out of Panhandle weather being what it is, the whole country may be frozen by the time this gets in print, but up to this particular minute I'll venture to agree with all the people who keep saying that we certainly are having a mild winter.

SOMEBODY ASKED me this week if I'd checked my orchard (consisting of one cherry and one pear tree) lately to see if it looked like the blooms might burst out soon. They probably will, to get killed in the March blizzard or the Easter spell which will come in April this year, but at any rate I've noticed that the Chinese elms seem almost ready to put out the chartreuse blooms which precede their first leaves.

The star-of-Bethlehem shrubs (or do you call them something else?) are covered with yellow blooms, and there is a gay bed of golden crocus in Mrs. C. R. Logan's front yard at 315 E. Fourth, where very few weeks of the year pass without showing some sort of flowers.

IT'S BEEN PROVED already that the Bull Barn, big as it is, can be decorated attractively, and it was for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night.

Members of Garden Beautiful Club made the giant paper roses in all shades of pink which covered trellises around the rowater sales. Organizers used the voluntary water company system rather than creating water districts which would have been exempt from property taxes because they are governmental agencies. They found that organizing costs were simpler, and it was not necessary to have elections and issue bonds.

But Watson said that in some areas county tax assessors are levying taxes on the water systems.

Lt. Governor Ben Barnes referred the proposed constitutional amendment to the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee, and the enabling bill to the State Affairs Committee.

oms and were ranged down the tables to hold pale pink candles. Part of the decoration at any banquet where women are present is in their dresses, which add color and sparkle to the whole room. That was true Thursday night of the women who had a part on the program, those acting as hostesses, those in the red jackets of the Hereford Hustlers and those seated at the tables.

WHEN DONNA MORTON accepted the Citizen of the Year award for her father, Ray Cowser, she was wearing a fur-collared grey suit; the C of C president's wife, Helen Langley, was all in white as she was presented a bouquet of red roses; Clara Gilentine, president of the Woman's Division and the only woman on the speaker's platform, wore leaf green and Virginia Adams, praised for her work as the first Woman's Division president, was in coral color.

Looking around from my seat I could see a good many unfamiliar faces which proved to belong to out-of-town visitors. Also, as heads moved here and there I could glimpse some attractive familiar faces — Donna Smith's with a smile as usual, Mrs. Shirley Garrison's very attentive to the speaker, Elizabeth Witherspoon's as the crowd stood at the close of the banquet, Mrs. Guy Lawrence's easily identified by her crown of snowy hair.

Then there was Mrs. Pete Caviness in gray with white touches, Mrs. H. A. Cavness in Irish green, Mrs. Ben Childers in blue with beaded decoration at the neckline, Mrs. Don Chaney in an off-white dress with accordion-pleated sheer brown sleeves and Mrs. Glenn Williams, one of the few who chose a dark dress for the dinner.

Sign-Up Program Being Conducted

The Chairman of the Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee today relayed to farmers a statement from the new Assistant Secretary of Agriculture concerning 1969 farm commodity programs.

In the message Assistant Secretary Clarence D. Palmby said a good sign-up in wheat, feed grains and cotton programs is desirable. "Enough grain acreage should be held out of production to accomplish some pull down in stocks and thus strengthen farm prices," Mr. Palmby said. He added the program participation "will help cotton farmers to maintain their incomes."

ASC County Chairman Frank J. Beizer said that sign-up in the three programs will be held simultaneously from February 3 through March 21. During this period producers who plan to participate in any of these three commodity programs should come to the county ASCS office to make their intentions known.

Mr. Palmby, whose duties include supervision of both commodity programs and international affairs, sent the statement to State and county ASC committees throughout the nation.

He said the change in Administration "does not alter the basic problem of agriculture... the capacity to overproduce." "The Congress," he said, "has laid down basic farm policy for this year by authorizing the commodity diversion programs to cope with overproduction problems."

"Regardless of future agriculture policy," Mr. Palmby told the ASC committees, "our job for now is to do the best we can in running these programs."

And dozens more, but there is a limit to this space.

grams to keep supplies from getting out of hand and to improve farm income.

"To successfully operate the programs, producers must be able to make intelligent decisions on participation. We must continue to do a good job of explaining the provisions to producers and see to it that each and every one has an opportunity to participate."

Mr. Palmby indicated that "something more" feed grain acreage should be diverted from production than the 32.4 million acres for 1968. "We hope to have production held at a level to permit a reduction of 3 to 5 million tons in feed grain stocks," he said.

"Wheat stocks also need to be reduced and producers this year for the first time since 1966 have an opportunity to earn diversion payments. To reduce the wheat carryover by 100 million bushels," Mr. Palmby said, "acreage should be about 5 percent less than the 1968 allotment."

HISTORIC BOOK ACQUIRED

EXETER, England — Dr. Robert Mortimer, Bishop of Exeter, has persuaded Sotheby's to withdraw from auction a historic book bearing the signatures of West Country clergy who signed the oath of allegiance to King Charles II after England's civil war in the 17th century.

The document, which it was feared might have been split up and sold page by page, has been bought by the Diocese of Exeter for a nominal 100 pounds ($240). It will not go into the diocesan archives.

Tax reform legislation will apparently be high on the Nixon legislative agenda. He had indicated that proposals for income and other tax reforms will be sent to Congress soon. The Chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee has already announced hearings to begin February 18 in tax reforms in general. That Committee jointly with the Senate Finance Committee has published, for information purposes only, the Tax Reform Studies and Proposals of the U. S. Treasury department.

The Revenue and Expenditures Control Act of 1968, which included the 10 percent surtax, also directed President Johnson to submit to Congress by January 1, 1969, his recommendations for tax reforms. Although President Johnson did not send such a report to Congress before he left office, the Treasury study is the one he ordered made but without his or President Nixon's recommendations. President Nixon says he is now reviewing the proposals and will make his recommendations shortly.

Included in the study is a recommendation for an increase in allowable deductions. Under the proposals — and they are only proposals — tax relief from the liberalization of the minimum standard deduction amounting to more than $1 billion would go to the lower incomes. More than 70 percent would go to the under $5,000 group and 18 percent would go to the $5,000 to $7,500 group. I have already introduced my own bill to increase from $500 to $1,200 the personal income tax exemptions of a taxpayer (including the exemption for a spouse, the exemptions for a dependent, and the additional exemptions for old age and blindness). My bill and others like it will be among the proposals considered during the Ways and Means Committee hearings.

Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage of the House Agriculture Committee announced that the first business of that Committee would increase and make permanent the authorizations for appropriations to finance distribution of milk to schools, nurseries and day care centers. The Committee also expects to discuss a resolution now before the Ways and Means Committee aimed at preventing a threatened drastic reduction through tax levies by European Common Market nations of American soybean products shipped to Europe. The Committee may adopt a resolution of its own in support of the Ways and Means resolution.

The Committee will also consider a Rural Telephone Bill introduced by Chairman Poage which is identical to one he sponsored in the 90th Congress.

That bill was approved by a 23-5 vote of the Committee but never reached the House floor. It is intended primarily to bring funds from the private money market into the rural telephone program but does not incorporate any provisions affecting rural electric system financing.

Although I will not be able to visit in Panhandle communities during the Lincoln Day recess because of minor surgery my doctor has recommended, I would like to reemphasize President Nixon's message to move "Forward Together" during these troubled times.

Although we are a nation severely divided on many fronts and confronted with a crime crisis, galloping inflation and many other critical problems, Abraham Lincoln faced a situation that almost defied solution — a nation torn apart by the war between the states, one of the longest and bloodiest in our history. So let us remember Lincoln's advice then which is timely on his birthday: "When an election is past, it is altogether fitting a free people, that until the next election they should be one people."

There are 363 fire protection districts in California with power to levy taxes and incur bonded indebtedness if approved by the voters.

The Black Sea is nearly landlocked, with only a narrow, shallow outlet entering the Mediterranean Sea.

Social Security Facts

One of the most important jobs Social Security has is to pay monthly benefits in the form of checks which are delivered to the beneficiary's address on the third of each month.

On about the fifth of the month, the social security people get several calls or visits from beneficiaries asking why their checks were not delivered. Usually, it is found that the beneficiary has changed his address, and social security was not notified in time to change the address on the check.

To make sure that checks are delivered on time, and to the correct address, Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo office, suggests that all beneficiaries notify social security of a change in address as soon as possible to permit them to correct their records.

All beneficiaries should ask the office for a card "Notice of New Mailing Address" if they do not already have one. The card is addressed to the local office and does not require postage. When social security receives the card, they will take the action necessary to make sure the checks come on time to the new address. If you do not use the card to change address, but write a letter, be sure your notice shows the name of the person entitled to checks, the old and new address and the claim number on which benefits are being paid. The Amarillo office is located at 1006 South Adams, phone number 376-5151, and is open Monday thru Friday from 8:15 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., staying open until 6:30 p.m. on Thursdays. Hudson County in New Jersey encompasses only 45 sq. miles.

Church Worker Arrives

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A job which is relatively new in Methodist churches, that of educational associate, is held in First United Methodist Church here by Mrs. Marie Chesshir, who came the first of this month from Brownfield, where she has been in a similar position.

AN OUTGROWTH of the church education director's job, the new designation was made to cover work of a broader scope.

"It is concerned with the total church program, and that's what I enjoy most about it, the work with all ages," explains the dark-eyed woman with the cordial manner.

Her work as a member of the church's professional staff grew from a long-time personal interest in the church and volunteer work for its organizations.

She became church secretary at First Methodist Church in Brownfield by consenting to fill a vacancy on what she expected to be a short-time basis, and the job stretched to six years.

THEN SHE WAS urged to take special training being offered at Perkins Seminary in Southern Methodist University at Dallas, to prepare her for the post of educational associate. Perkins is one of the few seminaries in the United States which give this course.

Mrs. Chesshir has attended three summer sessions of study and one more summer will complete the training offered. Meanwhile she has been putting her training to practice on the job.

She had attended business school immediately after graduation from high school at Meadow, in Terry County, long ago enough that she found the return to the classroom quite difficult.

"THAT FIRST summer nearly killed me!" she exclaims. "but I found it the most satisfying, as well as the most exhausting, experience in years. The summer courses are condensed, of course, and require much outside reading and research as well as longer class periods."

Mrs. Chesshir is a native of West Texas, born at Plainview. She started to school there before her family moved to Meadow.

She is the mother of two daughters, Mrs. Chris Addison of Brownfield and Mrs. Fred March of San Marcus and the proud grandmother of the four Addison children and two March children.

IT IS HARD for her to draw the line between her job and her personal life, she says, because much of her time outside the church office is spent with people with whom she is associated in her work, and much of the reading in which she finds relaxation is also related to the work.

"In this job I find that an effort must be made to keep up with friends who are not in the United Methodist Church, and to keep informed of civic affairs so that my interests do not become narrowed," she says.

For information on doings of the town and the world at large she depends upon newspapers, and says that they are her favorite reading material for pastime.

HER WORK IN the church here is defined as "work in the total program of the church school, with teachers and workers for a stronger and more effective Christian educational program."

Included in her past experience, in addition to the nine years on the church staff at Brownfield, is service to the Brownfield District of the Methodist Church as director of children's work. She has been active in the Northwest Texas Conference youth program, leading in youth officers training and serving as counselor for youth convocation.

She is residing at 51 North Miles. A reception to introduce her to members of First United Methodist Church was held last Sunday evening after the church service, and she has become better acquainted with many through her work.

NEVER ON SUNDAY
CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Six days may you play rugby but the seventh is for rest, says "Kerkbode," published by South Africa's powerful Dutch Reformed Church. In its latest issue, the magazine noted with disapproval that the South African Rugby Board had allowed the touring British Lions team to travel from one match to another on a Sunday, though it expressed appreciation for the board's firm stand against the playing of rugby on Sundays.

Miss Ann Dziuk
Is Bride Of
J. A. Borthick

Miss Ann Rose Dziuk of San Antonio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Dziuk of Hereford, and James Anthony Borthick of Oklahoma City were married in an afternoon ceremony Saturday evening in St. Anthony's Catholic Church here.

The couple left for a honeymoon in New Orleans, and will be at home afterward in Oklahoma City.

Her father gave the bride in marriage in the service read by the Rev. John Vander Kuil, associate pastor at St. Anthony's. Miss Sharon Bumbera of Houston was the maid of honor and Mrs. Edward Dziuk Jr. matron of honor. Stephen Schagdal of Gary, Ind. attended Mr. Borthick as best man and Edward Dziuk Jr. was groomsmen.

Acting as ushers were Connie Urbanczyk, Charles Stengal and Robert Schmuicker, all cousins of the bride.

Miss Dziuk wore a gown in empire style with short sleeves, the bodice of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls and the modified A-line skirt of snowdrift organza over peau de soie.

Medallions of the lace adorned the skirt and the chapel train which flowed gracefully from the waistline. Her silk illusion veil was held by a bow of organza appliqued with lace and seed pearls.

She carried a single white orchid surrounded by stephanotis blossoms.

Both her attendants wore floor length dresses, empire style, in cranberry red. Their flowers were nosegays of red, pink and white carnations tied with long streamers, and they wore headpieces of the same flowers.

A reception in St. Anthony's School auditorium was held after the wedding, where the couple and their parents received guests.

The guests included, from other cities, Mrs. R. A. LaBrue of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Janacek Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dziuk, Margie and Edwin Dziuk, Miss Joyce Foegelle, Kenneth Moczygomba and Miss Elaine Moczygomba, all of Hobson; Miss Jackie Reit of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Kotara and other guests from White Deer.

A Valentine party followed their regular meeting Tuesday evening for members of the Rebekah Lodge. Hostesses for the informal social hour, who decorated the room in Valentine motif, were Mrs. Arthur Rogers, Mrs. C. E. Beauford and Miss Mary Bradley.

Sims-Drager Marriage
Solemnized In Church

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Glenda Darlene Sim and Earl Richard Drager Saturday afternoon, in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Herman Shelter, pastor, in Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sims, 112 Avenue I, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Drager, Route 3.

The bride's father gave her in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Miss Linda Sims, as maid of honor and Mrs. Charles Thomas, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmatron.

Charles Thomas acted as best man and Gene Herzog, a cousin of the bridegroom, as groomsman.

Wedding songs were sung by the congregation with Misses Sherry and Sharon Herzog as organists. Selections included O Father All-Creating and O Perfect Love.

The bride chose a white brocaded satin gown with tear-droop sleeves edged in lace. The lace trim was also at the neckline and down the center back and front of the gown. Her veil floated floor-length from a seed pearl coronet.

She carried white carnations on a prayer book, her own heirloom piece, and as the groom's wedding ring set.

The bridesmaids were dressed in pink satin brocade, street length, and carried nosegays of pink carnations with matching streamers.

The reception was held in the church social hall, where Miss Ara Voyles served the cake, Misses Vivian Voyles and Ruth Koelzer the punch. Miss Mary Ann Vogler registered guests.

Also in the houseparty were Mrs. Kenneth Gooch, Mrs. John Gooch and Mrs. Roy Gene Landry of Turkey, Tex.

A lace cloth over pink covered the refreshment table, where the principal decoration was the three-tiered wedding cake frosted in pink and white, with bride-and-groom figurines on the top layer.

As the couple left for a short trip, Mrs. Drager was dressed in a pink knit suit. After Feb. 17 they will be at home on Route 3.

The bride completed one semester of study at West Texas State University after graduation from Hereford High School in 1968. The bridegroom, who farms southeast of Hereford, was graduated with the HHS class of 1965.

Out-of-city guests here for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Voyles of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Voyles of Dimmitt, Roy Gene Landry of Turkey; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones of Childress; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Chandler of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Herzog of Wilson.

He handed over his diocese in Tanzania to an African bishop because "I felt the time had come to do this." But he adds: "I wanted to bury my bones there."

Charlie's Aunt, first planned for an HCP summer production but postponed because of casting difficulties during the vacation period, is a comedy which has been successful on stages of America and England since the 1890's. It concerns two college boys who, needing a chaperone so their sweethearts can accept an invitation to tea in their rooms, assure the girl that Charlie's aunt, a wealthy widow from

An Excellent Choice

Although there have been many local citizens who might well have been "Citizen of the Year," the selection of former Mayor Ray Cowser certainly comes as no surprise to those who have worked closely with him over the past years.

He has been an outstanding citizen every year.

Cowser served as Mayor of Hereford during the rapid population expansion following the construction of the Holly Sugar mill west of the city and through his efforts and his firm leadership, the City of Hereford met the challenge and kept things on an even keel.

Cowser has always shied away from the limelight and his desire for as little publicity as possible opportunity held true Thursday evening.

But that really doesn't matter. What is important is that the citizens of this community recognize the outstanding job that Cowser has done over the years and are grateful for it.

To Mr. Cowser, we say congratulations. We appreciate the work you have done. To the Lions Club committee that made the selection, we have only praise for your efforts.

Quote, Unquote Computer Threat?

Misquotations are among the bane of an editor's existence, yet many of them slip into the news columns.

Writers are always attributing to Mark Twain the comment that "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," yet no such statement can be found in any of his works.

A more damaging misquote is to say that President Herbert Hoover called Prohibition "a noble experiment." What he actually said was that it was "an experiment noble in motive" which is quite a different thing.

The superbly edited Wall Street Journal found itself chided recently by a Burbank reader, Jay Johnson, for permitting a similar distortion to appear in one of its columns.

Well, back to the old proofroom. There have been several comments lately designed to assure humans that they will remain in control of computers rather than the other way around.

Another possibility, however, is presented by Merman Kahn and Anthony J. Weiner of the Hudson Institute in their book, "The Year 2000."

They don't claim computers will resemble the human brain, but that their output will equal or exceed that of the brain in many functions we now regard as aspects of intelligence, or even uniquely human.

Why Thieu Shuns V. C.

President Thieu, of South Vietnam, has his reasons for not wanting to mingle too freely with the Viet Cong, or the National Front for the Liberation of South Vietnam.

He doesn't want anyone or any country to get the idea that South Vietnam is in anyway giving recognition to the NLF which would under any circumstances open up prospects of a coalition government being suggested at Paris, or anywhere else.

President Thieu has a lot of background information on the NLF which outside sources may not have. He has drawn from public statements of Hanoi's Lao Dong (Communist) Party, an assortment of documents and also gathered information from Viet Cong defectors.

Here is a quick rundown of some of the information, as reported by the State Department:

The NLF is in no way independent, purely indigenous representative organization it claims to be. It is a Communist-controlled front inspired by and acting under orders from Hanoi.

The Front has not succeeded in attracting support from any of the politically influential groups in South Vietnam despite that country's period of instability.

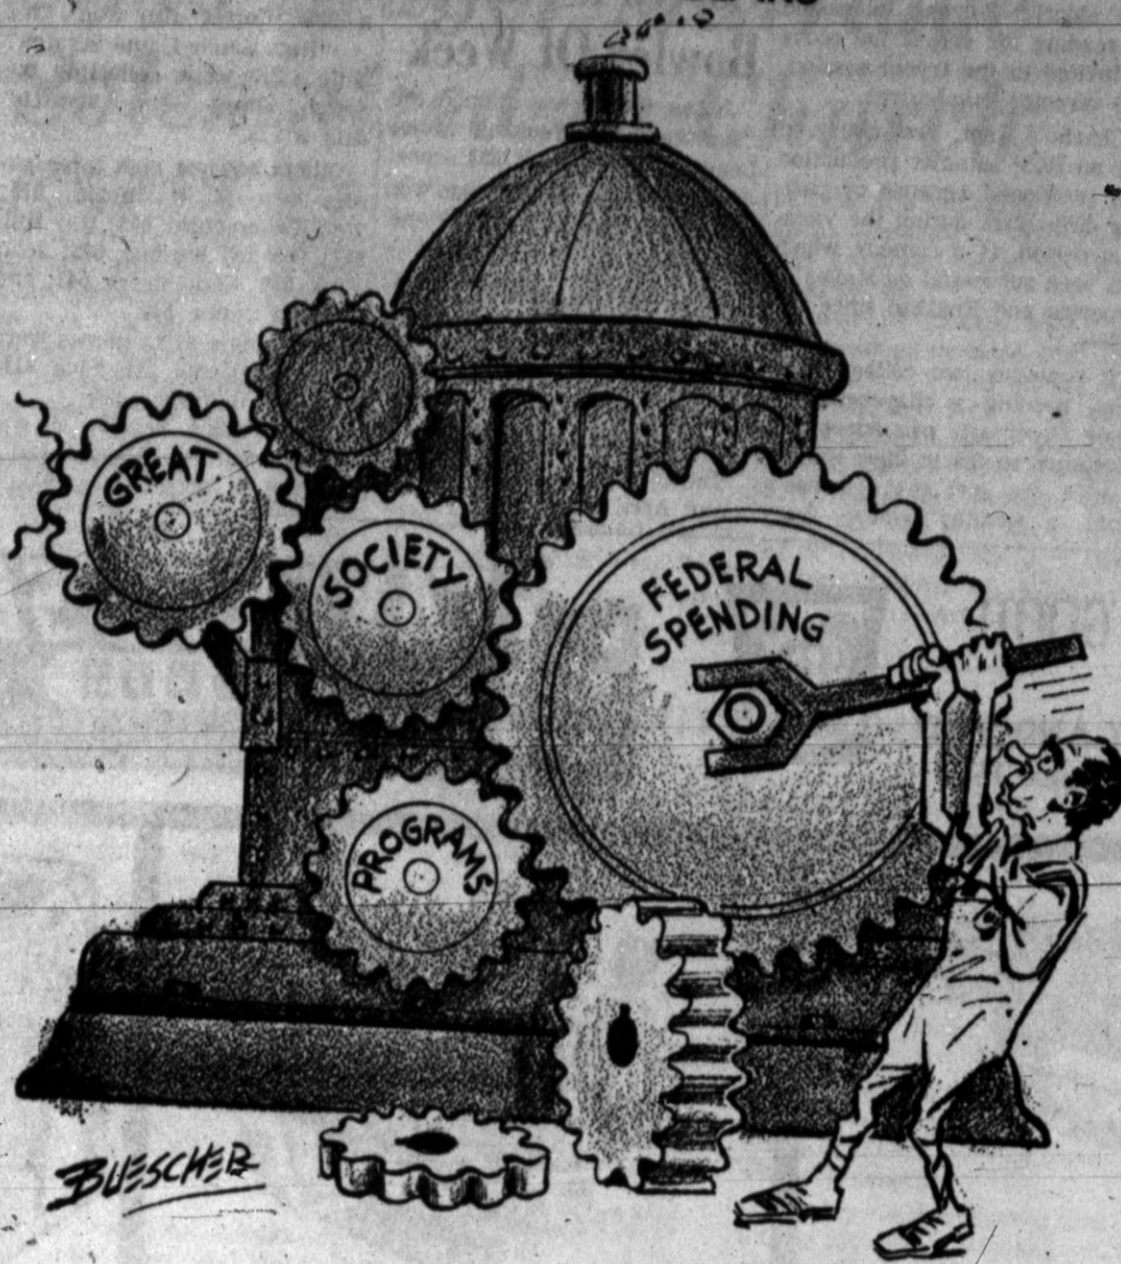

One of the major pre-occupations of the NLF is to improve its international image. The Front has sent nearly 30 goodwill delegations to Asian and African countries since its formation in its efforts to secure a sympathetic hearing for its cause and to acquire international support and recognition.

One of the Apollo astronauts has likened the surface of the moon to "dirty sand," but at least the place is free of beer cans and candy wrappers.

Nixon Gets High Score

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Experienced President-watchers are giving Richard Nixon high marks for his conduct during his first few weeks on the job which is generally regarded as the most difficult in the world.

President Nixon has barely begun his term and most of his actions to date have been in the nature of preliminary planning. He has appointed so many study groups that one of his top White House aides confessed he did not even know about one committee of which he is the chairman.

Planning or not, most observers agree Nixon has made a lot of good moves since he reached the White House. He has visited Capitol Hill and touched the bases which will control whether he can get a legislative program through a Congress dominated by the opposite party. Pat Nixon has rejoined the group of Congressional wives which works for the Red Cross.

President Nixon has also visited the Cabinet departments, addressing the civil servants who really run the government. At the Department of Agriculture, for example, he ingratiated himself with the assembled bureaucrats by telling them: "We realize that our successes in administration will depend upon what you can do."

At the Department of Housing and Urban Development, he shook hands with career men who had not even met the two men who headed the department in the past. Now these careerists have not only met HUD Secretary George Romney but the President as well.

Press Pleased So Far Richard Nixon has had his troubles with the communication media in the past but so far he is getting along swimmingly with those of the fourth estate. His first two full-scale, live television press conferences were acclaimed as triumphs.

He even managed to fit both sessions into a half-hour segment of broadcast time, thus impressing the broadcasters, and at the same time pleasing the editors of major dailies because they were able to publish his complete text on a single page.

Most Presidents usually enjoy a honeymoon with the press during their early days in office. This was true in the administrations of both John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Particularly in the case of Johnson, relations later worsened, and this may be in prospect for Nixon as time goes on.

President Nixon seems to be particularly pleased with his Cabinet, and intends to use its members fully. He has given Cabinet members maximum exposure by letting them make their announcements at the White House, with the President on hand to add a few words of his own.

For example, when the decision was reached to take the appointment of Postmasters out of politics, Postmaster General Witton Blount made the announcement at the White House, rather than from his own office. This enabled Nixon to be present and to praise the new managers of the postal service.

D. C. Crime Program Praised One of Nixon's first acts was to unveil a crime program for the District of Columbia - a first step toward fulfilling a campaign pledge. While there was little new in the program, the mere fact that the President was sufficiently interested to take personal action won praise for him.

Nixon also dared to visit a Negro district in Washington which had been devastated by last spring's rioting. HE announced the rubble will be cleared swiftly and a park built in its place. The ghetto community was impressed, even though about 90 percent of the Negro vote went against Nixon in the last election.

The President has also made plans for a European trip thus indicating his concern for international matters. He may not succeed in his wooing of de Gaulle and other world leaders, but at least he will earn an "A" for effort.

All in all, it has been a good first act for Nixon thus far.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

SHORT LINE - A feud between two competing plaster companies gave Texas its shortest common carrier railroad.

It was known for 29 years as the Acme Tap Railroad Company, and its 1.51 miles of track began and ended in the Hardeman County town of Acme. For several years the town had been the site of two plants that made plaster. One had access to the tracks of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway; the other did not.

In order for the railroad to run a spur track to the other plant it had to cross land owned by the rival company and the latter refused to grant an easement. However, owners of the second plant solved the problem in 1909 by organizing the Acme Tap Railroad as a common carrier. They then proceeded to condemn their competitor's land for the necessary right-of-way, built the track and leased it to the Fort Worth and Denver.

The Acme Tap Railroad continued to operate until 1938 when the plaster plant crossed and the line no longer was needed.

TRAVELING TEXAS - There is supposed to be a fortune in lost gold on the ranch near Benjamin. So many trespassers kept showing up to look for the treasure that the owners decided to let them search for a charge.

For $1 per day anybody can buy a special "Prospector's Pass."

ONE WAY OUT - Once when a Texas congressman disagreed with a ruling by the Speaker, he showed his displeasure by kicking out a door in the House of Representatives.

It happened in January, 1890, when Speaker Thomas B. Reed of Maine ordered all doors locked to keep members of the House in their places during a vote. Representative Constantine Buckley Kilgore of Wills Point responded by announcing that he intended to leave the chamber anyway.

When he found the exit from the House not only locked but with a guard barring the way, he pushed the guard aside, kicked out the door panels and left. Since then the House rules have been rewritten so that any member who defies the Speaker can be arrested by the sergeant-at-arms.

CIVIC SCULPTURE - Texas towns are likely to raise a monument to almost anything.

In Muleshoe, a fiberglass mule graces the town square. Since 1937, a cement statue of Popeye, the spinach-eating cartoon character, has stood in Crystal City, "spinach capital of the world." Seguin honors the pecan with a monument and Snyder boasts a huge white buffalo on its courthouse square.

Poteet, "the strawberry capital of Texas," has a 1,500-pound red concrete replica of the fruit in front of its fire station. And Windthorst, in Archer County, has a life-size Holstein milk cow in the center of town.

TWO OF A KIND - Austin's Weldon Hart, who collects courthouse lore, points out that two counties have look-alike capitals.

Except for minor differences, the Ellis County courthouse at Waxahachie and the Wise County courthouse in Decatur look as if they might have been built from the same drawings. Both were completed in 1896.
