

Vet Land Program Now In 'Good Shape'

AUSTIN (AP)—The money and the minutes of the 100-million-dollar veterans land program are now in good shape and good hands, four state officials agreed last night.

The four—Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder, Veterans Land Board executive secretary Clark Diebel, State Auditor C. H. Cavness and Dept. of Public Safety Director Col. Homer Garrison Jr.—appeared before the House Special Investigating Committee.

Garrison, veteran head of the state police and of the Texas Rangers, noted that as yet no one has been brought to trial for abuse of the program. He said the investigations were "well in hand," but incomplete.

Investigations of the program by various state agencies and grand juries has produced hundreds of indictments against veterans, attorneys, land dealers and others. One of those indicted was former Land Commissioner Blayton Giles who headed the program from its inception in 1949 to Jan. 1 this year.

Giles is charged with theft, conspiracy to theft, and accepting a bribe. He refused to take the oath of office for his 10th two-year term on Jan. 7, about six weeks after the investigations began.

The program was set up to help veterans of World War II and the Korean war buy farms on low interest at long terms. Most of the irregularities uncovered by grand juries occurred when land dealers bought low and with greatly increased appraisals sold it to groups of veterans at tremendous profits.

Some of the veterans have testified that they did not know they were buying land in signing applications in the bloc deals. They thought, they said, that they were "signing up for a bonus."

Rudder, Diebel, Cavness and Garrison told of the irregularities among 16,000 loan accounts and—in particular—the circumstances when Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd ordered changes made in the minutes of about 80 land board meetings.

The land board, composed of the governor, attorney general and land commissioner, passed on appraisals and other routine matters in making the veterans' farm loans.

Rudder, World War II hero and rancher who on appointment by Shivers took over as land commissioner Jan. 4, told the committee he knew of no changes in the written minutes of the program.

Revisions were made in the records of 80 meetings between August 1949 and December 1954 by entering the changes in the minutes of the April 27 meeting and marking certain pages of the original minutes with a rubber stamp calling attention to the April 27 minutes, Rudder said.

Rudder emphasized the rubber stamp markings did not make the original minutes illegible. "You can read the original minutes just as they were written in the record," he told the committee.

Rep. Joe Burkett Jr., Kerrville, chairman of the committee, said Shivers and Shepperd would be called to testify later this week. Both were out of town last night.

Shivers was in Washington at the Democratic governors' conference and Shepperd left yesterday to attend the funeral of an aunt in Gladewater, Texas.

Rudder told the committee he felt the program was now operating satisfactorily and was not losing money for the taxpayers.

Real Siamese Twins Separated

Twin girls from Bangkok, Thailand, born Siamese and face to face, connected at the chest and abdomen by muscle tissue, prepare to leave the hospital in Chicago for home. Surgery separated the two, Napit Potpiyo, left, and her sister, Prissana. They are 23 months old and are held by Nurse Jirapon Karsamak, of Bangkok Women's Hospital. Surgery was performed at children's orthopedic unit of University of Chicago medical center.

Log Cabin Babies

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Leon Pier, who was born 78 years ago in a log cabin, decided to form an "exclusive club" of "babies" like himself. He doubted that more than a dozen Battle Creek residents could meet the membership requirement, but at the first meeting 18 men and women showed up.

Friar, Ruled Sane, Is Free Man Again

Henry Early Friar became a free man again Wednesday, his sanity legally restored.

A jury in 118th District Court here took only about 10 minutes to find the El Paso man is now sane. The verdict meant his release from the Rusk state hospital, where he had been since June 9, 1953.

Friar, a former student in Texas Western University at El Paso, had been in confinement for almost two years — since May 16, 1952, when he was charged with shooting Warren Mitchell, El Paso policeman. He had been in the Rusk hospital from June 9, 1953, until a few days ago when he was transferred to the Howard County jail to await the sanity hearing.

He exhibited no emotion on hearing the jury's verdict. He sat quietly until all jurors and spectators had left the courtroom, then clasped his mother's hand, as the two conferred with his attorney, Coyne M. Steward of El Paso. He secured his personal effects from the sheriff's department a few minutes later and left with his mother.

Dr. Charles W. Castner, superintendent of the Rusk hospital, was the principal witness in the hearing. He testified he is convinced Friar is "completely recovered" from the mental disorder he was found to be suffering at the time the policeman was killed.

Friar will not have to stand trial on the murder indictment, as the El Paso jury in 1953 found he was insane at the time Mitchell was killed. The officer was shot when he and other policemen went to Friar's home in El Paso to investigate a report Friar had fired a shot through the window of an ice cream stand.

Friar was a student of philosophy at Texas Western at the time. He said Wednesday he will not return to El Paso, however. His mother has disposed of her El Paso home and the tag will go to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit relatives and probably establish a new home, Friar said.

Attorneys for Friar called only one other witness in the hearing Wednesday. He was Dr. G. B. R. Woods, who was in charge of the "maximum security" ward in which Friar was confined at Rusk. His testimony confirmed that of Dr. Castner.

District Attorney Guilford Jones called six witnesses in presenting the state's side of the case.

L. L. Bosworth, instructor of psychology at Texas Western testified concerning his opinion of Friar's sanity when the latter was a student in 1953. Bosworth returned to the stand later in the day after a 30-minute interview with Friar, and declared the traits which had characterized Friar "seem to have disappeared."

He said he found Friar Wednesday to be attentive, with clear-cut plans for the future and with an understanding of his problem. "There is no indication that he is insane," Bosworth testified.

Other state witnesses were Sgt. Pete Clark of the El Paso Police Department, Rev. E. E. Diggs, El Paso Presbyterian minister, W. V. Campbell, operator of the ice cream stand into which a bullet was fired, Robert C. Kiker, who has been with Friar in the Howard County jail; and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, Big Spring Presbyterian minister.

Clark, Diggs and Campbell all testified concerning Friar's condition in 1953 and prior to the shooting incident. Kiker said he had observed Friar in the jail and that his actions sometimes were "strange." Dr. Lloyd told of two brief visits with Friar during which he "noticed nothing abnormal" about the man.

The jury, composed entirely of men, was charged with answering only one special issue — Friar's sanity at the present.

Mendes-France On Comeback Trail In Politics

PARIS (AP)—Ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France stepped out on the comeback trail today as the dominant voice in France's powerful Radical Socialist party. But his pledge to put it back in the forefront of leftist, non-Communist thinking threatened to split the organization.

His opponents accused him of seeking to lead the Radical Socialists into a working agreement with the Communists, a charge denied by the energetic former Premier.

Mendes-France won control of the party machinery last night at a stormy one-day special convention. He called for the Radical Socialists to turn to the left and agree on a specific program before next year's general election.

Once considered well to the left, the Radicals have become more and more conservative with the years and have acquired a reputation for vagueness of principle.

Mendes-France's triumph was assured when the 1,800 delegates voted by a show of hands to oust his chief rival, former Justice Minister Leon Martinand-Deplat, from the party's executive presidency.

In his place went a seven-man committee, which was heavily weighted in favor of the left wing. Among its members was Mendes-France.

This group was to be under the general supervision of three of the old Edouard Herriot, a former premier and perpetual president of the party; wartime Premier Edouard Daladier; and ex-Premier Henri Queuille.

Signs of trouble developed even before the final vote was taken. Queuille told the noisy delegates he could not accept the supervisory task. He criticized the proposed setup as unable to run the party efficiently and said it was too strongly opposed by many leaders.

Mendes-France's victory opened the way for the formation of what his supporters call a new left in France. This would involve close cooperation between the Radical Socialists and the Communists, who supported Mendes-France when he was in office as premier.

But Mendes-France said he did not want either communism or a popular front that would include communism.

Owners Fear Ship Seized By Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—Owners of the 2,257-ton cargo ship Incharan said today they feared she has been seized in the Formosa Strait. She was en route from Foochow to Shanghai with a cargo of timber for the Chinese Reds.

The owners, Williamson and Co., said the ship radioed yesterday that she was "being boarded" about 10 miles south of Nationalist-held White Dog Island near Foochow.

Her captain is a Briton, G. A. Angus, and she has three other British officers and a crew of 33 Asians.

College Tourney Opens In Athens

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—The Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament opened today with 144 entries from 28 schools competing for individual and team titles over the 6,741-yard par 72 Athens Country Club course.

Hillman Robbins of Memphis State, defending Southern champion and 1954 National Collegiate titleholder, is the top favorite.

The best practice round was a 65 turned in by Aubrey Rothrock of North Carolina's undefeated team.

Rothrock, Rex Baxter of University of Houston, and Florida's Doug Saunders and Pat Schwab look like good bets to dethrone Robbins.

One round of 18 holes is scheduled today and one tomorrow. The field will be trimmed to the low 36 scorers for the final 36 holes Saturday.

TV Hits High In Maturity In Field Of Drama

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Television again has demonstrated it comes closest to maturity in the field of drama. Monday night is NBC production of Sidney Kingsley's anti-Communist play "Darkness at Noon" was stark, realistic, adult. Lee J. Cobb as Rubashov, former people's commissar and old-line Bolshevik caught in the grip of the Frankenstein's monster he helped create, gave a moving performance. There were others, but Cobb's role dominated the play and he dominated the part with force and professional polish. Here was classic retribution. Rubashov, who had ruthlessly sacrificed and betrayed others, stood condemned by his own words. "For our purposes the individual doesn't exist," read the young fanatic Gletkin, played by David Wayne, as Rubashov heard his own death sentence accompany a quotation from a book he had written. If there was a major shortcoming, it was the lack of time on the air to develop sufficiently the process by which the Communists broke down Rubashov's will to remain silent, and his determination not to make a spurious confession. Ruth Roman gave a competent performance as Luba, the woman Rubashov both loved and betrayed.

Council Member

Raymond Evans has been named as a new member of the city council at Lamesa. He succeeds J.F. Leavelle, who resigned due to press of private business. Evans, who will fill place No. 1, is a pharmacist and has operated a drug store in Lamesa since 1946.

Irrigation Tank Becomes Swimming Center At Luther

LUTHER—Louis Underwood's irrigation venture here has turned into a sort of community center. In a way it has. Underwood worried. When he developed some wells on his place just opposite the Luther store and post office, he constructed a concrete reservoir so he could hold the water until he had sufficient volume to release for effective irrigation. The reservoir, being a structure 40 feet wide at one end, 20 at the other and 50 feet long with sloths from one foot to eight feet, became a community swimming hole. While this proved a coincidence, over which he was happy, Underwood did worry that he could not be around to watch children at all hours of the day or evening. He has been calling attention of people in that area to the fact the reservoir is unattended and he can't be responsible for the safety of anyone who might go in it.

Atom City Safe

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (U.S.)—This atomic city of 30,000 population yesterday completed a full year without a traffic death.

Atomic Unions Back To Work

ALBUQUERQUE (U.S.)—Twelve unions went back to work today at Sandia Base, ending for a month at least a strike against the firm operating the atomic center.

About 2,600 workers, split between the AFL Metal Trades Council and AFL Office Employees local 251, returned to man the sprawling installation where atomic weapons are assembled and used for them are developed.

They ended their walkout, which began April 26, last night when they were told of a plea by the President's atomic labor-management relations panel. William F. Leverenz, president of the Metal Trades Council who conferred with the panel in Washington, reported to the strikers that the panel would make recommendations within 30 days after a hearing on strike issues in Albuquerque next week.

Sandia Corp., a subsidiary of Western Electric, runs Sandia. J. B. McCoy, a local labor leader, said, "this doesn't mean we're going to accept anything they're willing to hand out."

Involved are 29 issues. One of the union demands was that the firm be replaced by another to operate Sandia. The unions also object to a company proposal to cut vacations from 24 to 12 days with a raise in pay. The unions also claim the company has not recognized union representatives in collective bargaining, and they seek a 14-cent an hour wage increase across the board. Current wages are from $1.45 to $2.80 an hour.

Atomic Fury Scathes Doomed Survival City After Long Wait

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (U.S.)—Atomic fury at least one and a half times as powerful as the blast that leveled Hiroshima struck at this tiny test town in the desert today. It knocked out the 250 watt radio station located less than a mile from the heart of the great nuclear explosion, and probably caused extensive damage to the four homes along Doodson Drive only 4,700 feet from the blast tower.

The huge device packed a fireball lasting 25 seconds and a power of between 30 to 35 kilotons. The bombs that hit Hiroshima and Nagasaki contained 20 kilotons of power, the equal of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The full extent of the damage will be determined in a tour of battered Survival City tomorrow. The test organization announced that the 14th and final shot of the 1958 series—also from a 500-foot tower on Yucca Flat—might be detonated before dawn tomorrow. A weather evaluation meeting was set for today.

The tower for the final shot is located about seven miles east of today's blast and is not expected to have any effect on the test town. The shot, if it comes off, will be an advance of the Survival City tour.

The great white flash from the explosion was seen throughout the Southwest and 500 miles northwest at Klamath Falls, Ore. It also lit the sky across the Mexican border from San Diego, Calif., and was sighted in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Phoenix, Ariz. Although the illuminated Las Vegas, Nev., 75 miles away, brighter than the sun for an instant, no concussion was felt there. However, the burst jarred Henderson, near Las Vegas.

wide—within an hour and a quarter after the 5:10 a.m. blast. Army tanks started to roll forward, skirting the area some four minutes after the detonation. The 500-foot tower which had held the explosive was completely vaporized. Six women in a Civil Defense trench and two others in an Army trench, both at 3,500 yards, witnessed the blast. It was the first time women had been in trenches. Typical comment from the women, awed, excited and a bit frightened, was: "Oh that burst!" "My heart was pounding." "Gee, what a beautiful thing!"

The women, helmeted and goggled, kept in the dusty trench to demonstrate to other women that civilians can survive an atomic blast if they take proper precautions. Director Val Peterson of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, who viewed the test from a six-mile spot, lauded the demonstration as "a very profitable experience for all civilian defense people." He also took occasion to upbraid some who had been complaining about delays.

Peterson criticized "amateurs" who try to advise men who have set off more than 40 of these shots. "Today's televised detonation was the 14th of the 1958 series and the 45th in the continental U. S. It was the largest of the three open shots held here. The others were in 1952 and 1953.

Dust prevented observers from seeing whether there were any fires burning except the usual scattered flames in Joshua trees. Spectators and participants had dwindled from an original crowd of 5,000 to a little over 2,000 because of the many postponements of the Operation Cue Shot. Those who remained felt the stay was well worth it.

trenches only 2,600 yards from ground zero reported they got "a awful shake" and "a terrific flash." Capt. Karl E. Akin of Ft. Bliss, Tex., and Bloomfield, N.J., said "Even though I had my eyes closed, it seemed that I could see the rocks through my eyelids when the flash came. It was worse than two earthquakes I had been through in Japan."

"The blast wave seemed to squeeze me, expelling all the air from my lungs. It seemed like all I was breathing was dust." After four seconds, Capt. Akin and his trainees were able to look up at the fiery core of the explosion.

One tanker reported that "while the noise was pretty loud, we expected it to be much worse than it was. We felt no heat inside although the flash lit up the inside of our tank as bright as day." The atomic cloud rose to more than 43,000 feet and moved slowly northeast, toward Ely, Nev., 150 miles away. Dr. Alvin C. Graves, test chief, said it posed no radiation fallout hazard to any populated areas.

Thus Operation Cue came off successfully after nine days of delay and three previous false starts. The participants and observers were awed by the major test. More than 100 aircraft took part in the test. They made experimental and training flights and a squadron of 25 from nearby Indian Springs Air Force Base pursued the huge atomic cloud as it lengthened under the shearing effect of the winds and headed generally to the north. The huge cloud was tinted orange, pink and brown, largely from nitrogen oxides and partly from the rays of the sun.

New Trade Powers Given To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 73-13 Senate victory for President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill today assured him of the first new tariff-cutting powers granted a chief executive in 10 years.

The bill, passed by the Senate last night, now goes to conference with the House to resolve differences. But the two versions both contain the key provisions sought by the President.

Thus he is assured of a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act to June 30, 1958, plus new authority to reduce tariffs in 5 per cent stages in each year of the extension. These reductions are to be in return for trade concessions from other free world nations.

The Senate ran for 12 hours yesterday and last night to push the bill through after three days' debate. Eight amendments were beaten down. The measure passed almost exactly in the form recommended by the Finance Committee.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), floor manager of the bill, told a reporter today he believes the House conferees will agree to accept all the Senate changes in the bill except one.

The exception, he said, is an amendment to broaden grounds under which an industry can seek relief from import competition through the Tariff Commission under the escape clause.

This amendment is the only one adopted in the Senate without approval by the administration, Byrd noted. And even it would leave the President free to refer a Tariff Commission recommendation for relief if he so desires. Sen. George (D-Ga.) said the general effect of Senate changes is to pile more of a load on the President in administering the act and passing on pleas for protection.

"But he accepted most of them, so it is his responsibility," George commented.

Aside from the new escape clause language, the major changes in the bill made by the Senate were:

1. Added new authority for the President to curb imports if he finds they are reaching a level which harms an industry so as to threaten national security. This was a substitute for various proposals to give protection to specific commodities.
2. A change in the base date for the new tariff-cutting powers from the rates in effect on July 1, 1953, to those prevailing Jan. 1, 1955, so as to eliminate the possibility of double tariff cuts on items under negotiation in a trade agreement with Japan.
3. Elimination of authority for the President to make 50 per cent cuts in duties on items imported in negligible quantities.

Anything Else?

KNOXVILLE (AP)—This is the fifth day of the fifth month of 1955, and also the fifth day of the week. It's also Mr. and Mrs. George Boone's anniversary. They have five daughters, five grandsons and five granddaughters. Just to follow through, they plan to eat dinner today at 5:55 p.m.

End Of Stolen Car Chase

An auto police said was stolen rests upside down at the bottom of an 80-foot railway cut 15 miles south of Kansas City, Mo., after crashing off a cliff amid hail of police bullets at the end of a 100-mile-an-hour chase. The driver, identified as William F. Mitchell, 43, an ex-convict, lies on a blanket at the bottom of the picture. He was critically hurt. Police stopped a train just before it reached the crash scene.

Ike Statement Stills Congress Demands For Vaccine Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's promise that Salk polio vaccine "is going to be distributed equitably" stilled for a time today congressional demands that the government take on full supervision.

But Congress members, like the President, appeared ready to step in with mandatory controls if the voluntary system Eisenhower advocated should fail.

The President told his news conference yesterday that no child would be deprived of the vaccine "for want of ability to pay."

A later White House statement went further, saying:

"If a situation ever develops in this country where children are deprived of the vaccine because of inability to pay or maldistribution of the supply available, the President would immediately ask authority . . . to buy the entire output of the vaccine."

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) said he would introduce legislation today to give Eisenhower a "million-dollar fund to buy vaccine for needy children."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called for "severe penalties" against any person who violates the voluntary inoculation program being set up.

But Senators Hill (D-Ala.) and H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), chairman and senior Republican on the Senate Labor Committee, said that group will take no action this week.

They spoke after hearing from Surgeon General Leonard Scheele, head of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said the committee had been assured there is "no problem," and that vaccine supplies will be available by November.

In New York, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said it had authorized total shipments of 7,570,409 cubic centimeters of the vaccine for free use in the school program it is sponsoring. It said that meets most of its needs.

Meantime, West Virginia reported its first case of polio among the 106,840 children given their first shots in that state, and in New Orleans a child died of polio eight days after receiving the vaccine.

These were in addition to 33 post-inoculation cases which the Public Health Service said yesterday had been reported to it.

The health service said 29 of the 33 cases involved use of vaccine manufactured by Cutter Laboratories, of Berkeley, Calif. Supplies of that company's vaccine have been withdrawn for further testing. The four other cases involved supplies furnished by Eli Lilly & Co., of Indianapolis, on which no restriction has been placed.

Two previous deaths had been reported among 10 cases in Idaho. Dr. Carl Ecklund of the Public Health Service laboratory at Hamilton, Mont., said his study of the Idaho cases "points strongly to vaccine as the cause."

He said more laboratory tests would be necessary before he could say for sure.

BOUSTON (AP)—Connolly AFB won its first two games yesterday in the World Wide Air Force volleyball tournament, first downing West Palm Beach AFB 11-15, 15-11, 15-9 and then Iceland 15-6, 15-7.

Nationalists Dwell On Red China Buildup

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese reports today dwell on the Communist buildup near the offshore islands following the bustle day along the west coast front in weeks.

The first battle between planes of the two sides near the Matsu Islands occurred yesterday. Nationalist planes damaged three Red gunboats near Quemoy at the southern end of the coastal front.

Nationalist quarters reported an intensification of air base construction near the Matsu and charged the Communist countries in East Asia are forming a unified military command in Peiping to launch simultaneous attacks on Formosa, South Viet Nam and South Korea.

None of these reports could be confirmed, but the buildup is not new.

One press report said the Reds have set June 15 as the deadline for finishing the Fukien coastal airports opposite Formosa.

The official Chung Hwa (China) Daily News said the buildup has been pressed "with greatest vigor" since Red Premier Chou En-lai 12 days ago proposed talks with the United States to relax tension in the Formosa area.

Chou's offer was "designed to put the United States off guard while the Reds prepare for military action in the Formosa Strait, control of which they are determined to seize," charged the paper.

Yesterday's appearance of four MIG-15 50 miles north of Matsu and their clash with the same number of Nationalist propeller-driven planes was not unexpected here but was regarded as a concrete sign of danger to the offshore islands.

Jury Frees Ferrell Of Murder Charge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Arch Ferrell, prosecutor at Phenix City in the days of its lush rackets empire, is free of the charge that he murdered vice foe A. L. Patterson last June 18.

The 28-year-old Ferrell sat tense yesterday as a jury returned the verdict of acquittal after deliberating 13 hours and 11 minutes. The decision came after a 17-day trial.

The young attorney, stripped of his office in the cleanup campaign which followed the Patterson slaying, had nothing to say to newsmen concerning his future plans.

Patterson was shot down outside his law office 17 days after he had been nominated as Alabama attorney general on a pledge to wipe out Phenix City's multimillion-dollar vice empire.

Ferrell was one of three men charged with the slaying. Albert Fuller, former chief deputy sheriff at Phenix City, was convicted and sentenced to life here March 11. Former Atty. Gen. St. Garrett is in a mental hospital in Galveston, Tex., and has not been tried.

The former prosecutor contended that he was talking with Garrett, who was in Birmingham, on the phone at the instant Patterson was slain. Garrett told the same story to Birmingham reporters the night of the killing. He was not here for the Ferrell trial.

Ferrell sat frozen in his chair after the verdict. His attractive brunette wife was tearful with joy.

Counsel for Ferrell had sought to postpone the trial at this time because a jury which acquitted Ferrell of vote fraud charges in March was criticized by two officials for that action.

The vote fraud, in which 900 votes were added here to the total for Patterson's opponent in a vain effort to change the outcome, figured largely in the murder case.

Special Prosecutor Cecil Deason told the murder jury Ferrell had tried to buy the attorney general's race with $25,000 from Phenix City gamblers.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

She Gives Attention To Eyebrows And Hair

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When Barbara Hale first came to Hollywood she was foot-loose and fancy-free, with nothing but her career to think about. Now she has a husband (Bill Williams) and three children to consider along with her picture work and I was curious to see how she was doing in the multiple role of wife, mother and actress.

When I visited Barbara on the set of "Unchained" at Warner Bros. she greeted me with the same boundless energy and enthusiasm I remembered. "I try to satisfy my husband's requirements for a good wife, not let my children down and be as perfect in my job as I can," she said, in answer to my question.

Jess Talkin'

by Jess Blair

William Moldenhauer, soil scientist at the Big Spring Experiment Station, is planning to run some experiments on grass reseeding by using fertilizer. On several plots at the station he intends to put hands of fertilizer below the grass seed and compare the growth with that where no fertilizer is used. He says this method is used successfully back east, but doesn't know what the results will be in an arid belt such as West Texas.

Moldenhauer, in checking some range plots, is not so sure pasture grasses are as completely gone as they appear to be. He says that while much of the grass may be dead, there still may be grass seed lying dormant in the dry pastures. Last spring the side oats grama grass in Midland County had disappeared from some ranges, but showers brought up new grass from seed. He says seed may lie dormant for years in dry soil and still germinate when they receive moisture.

In Midland the moisture didn't last long and ranchers grazed the seedling down until they died. He says new grass coming up should be grazed very, very lightly, and then not until it is well-rooted and has a good top growth.

The cutting horse contest is one of the newest and most popular to be shown in the rodeo arena. Cutting horses have been around since the days of the Longhorn, but they never appeared in rodeos until about ten years ago.

In 1946 several ranchers interested in cutting horses met in Fort Worth where they formed the National Cutting Horse Association, and began to promote the contest in Texas. Last year around 500 cutters competed in the contest, in which several hundred horses performed.

The winning cutter of 1954 was Marion's Girl, owned by Marjorie Hylton of Midland. She rolled up 12,438 points to become the world's champion.

The Howard County Farm Bureau is requesting that all farmers who will likely need tractors to come in now and make application. Each application must be sent to Dallas for approval from the Department of Labor, and this usually takes three or four days. After the application is approved, it is kept on file at the offices of the Howard County Farm Bureau, according to Cecil Leatherwood, manager. Then when the farmer needs laborers, all he has to do is notify Leatherwood and he will put in a phone call to himself.

Appliance Park represents the largest single investment in any one plant in the world, amounting to well over $250 million. It covers 942 acres of land, and has five manufacturing buildings containing more than 4 million square feet of floor space.

Local Lions Give $600 To Camp For Crippled Children

Payments to the Lions League of Texas for the Crippled Children's Camp have aggregated more than $600 from the Big Spring Lions Club.

This, together with about $200 more to be paid in by the end of the club fiscal year June 30 means the club's contribution to the camp will approximate $1,000 for the year.

Sheriff Hints Additional Charges In 'Kidnap' Case

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP)—Sheriff James Rose said radio and telephone transmitting equipment found in the Rush Springs home of Dr. William T. Gyles, 34, may result in additional charges against the physician today.

Gyles is held in the county jail on a charge of attempted burglary coming as an aftermath of a pre-dawn gunfight and automobile chase which ended in Texas yesterday.

Policeman Owen Sellers said he saw a man dash for a parked station wagon from the Central Airlines office at the airport here and gave chase. During the pursuit he radioed another police car operated by Douglas Hall.

The two officers said they exchanged shots with the driver of the station wagon.

Shortly before dawn Gyles appeared at Ringgold and told officers he was kidnaped near his Rush Springs home about 2 a.m. by a gunman who asked for narcotics. He said he was forced to ride with his abductor into Texas after being stripped of his clothing except shorts.

Gyles' station wagon was found abandoned near Ringgold, wrecked against a fence post. The two Duncan officers said they chased a station wagon to a point near Ringgold but gave up when out-

COTTON 'PRESS-WHEEL' Planting Attachment

Planter Attachment Tamps Cottonseed, May Hike Yield

The new Hudspeth Press-Wheel and Planting Attachment which gained wide favor on the South Plains last year now has an improved feature to assure an even planting depth.

The older model was developed by E. B. Hudspeth at the Lubbock Experiment Station in 1953, but did not always plant at the same depth. The newer model is claimed to have remedied this.

At the station they found that cotton often dried out when the seed was dropped into the loose trench made by the opening plow. The new equipment has a soft rubber-tired press wheel and presses the seed firmly down into the moist earth. It is then covered in the regulation manner.

In using the press wheel at the station, the early-planted cotton came up quicker to a good stand. Cotton planted May 11 made 105 pounds more seed cotton per acre where the press wheel was used, while that planted June 1 made a difference of about 40 pounds in favor of the press wheel. The average difference in yield on several plots at various planting times was 132 pounds more where the press wheel was used.

New Douglass Food Mart Plans Opening For Friday

Grand opening of the new Douglass Food Market, Eleventh and Johnson, is slated Friday and Saturday.

Fifty baskets of groceries and a number of special prizes are to be given away, said Dale Douglass, owner and operator. Hours of the celebration are to be from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day.

The food market, which is in reality one of the new "superettes" being built over the country, is located right at the point where Johnson Street dead-ends with Eleventh Place.

The building has just recently been completed, and Douglass moved into it last week from his old location just across the street. Several local dealers are now stocking the improved model, which is manufactured in Lubbock. The equipment is made by a number of concerns.

Plenty of parking space is available for customers and visitors, and car owners do not have to worry about placing money in meters. The store itself is spacious, with plenty of room for shopping around.

As a convenience for customers, the food market is completely air-conditioned. And the cool comfort for shoppers will be complemented by soft fluorescent lighting.

Quality meats will be featured at the Douglass Food Market, and visitors during the grand opening celebration will see an impressive display of choice cuts.

Douglass was associated with Swift and Company for 23 years, and he will tolerate nothing but the best selections in his cooler. "We don't let anyone say they have a better meat counter than ours," he said.

Marlin Bowers, the market manager, has been in the meat business for a number of years also, having operated one of the largest markets in the Southwest.

Another feature of the store is Sixton canned goods. Douglass is exclusive agent in Big Spring for the nationally recognized firm. Of course, all the other brand names of quality can be found on Douglass' shelves also.

Watson Hammond is the produce and merchandising manager at the new food market, and he sees that the shelves are filled with what the customer wants.

The "superette" has two large check-out counters for the convenience of customers, and push-baskets are available in quantity. Actually, Douglass now carries about twice as much stock as he did in the old location. The building is almost double the size of the old one, and there is room for many more facilities.

Two large frozen foods boxes, a dairy case, a huge luncheon meat display case, and a giant produce rack are part of the standard equipment. Pastries and bread of all kinds are handled. Magazines and school supplies are also plentiful.

Two delivery schedules are set up daily by Douglass, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 4 p.m. People can just call in, give their order, and wait for it to arrive. Only the best products are delivered under such circumstances, Douglass said.

Dale Douglass Experienced In Beef Business

Dale Douglass, owner and operator of the new Douglass Food Market at Eleventh and Johnson, is one of the most learned "beef" men in Big Spring.

His varied experience of 35 years in the marketing business has taught him just about everything there is to know concerning the processing and selling of meats.

Not only has he operated a market here for the past 11 years, but he was also an official of Swift and Company for 23 years prior to that.

Lately he has turned his hand to ranching, giving him an insight to another phase of the beef business.

Douglass, who was born and educated in Albany, has been in the meat business since he was 13. That was when he went to work for Swift and Company in Abilene, starting out as a salesman.

He was soon promoted to assistant manager at Fort Worth and later became manager in Oklahoma City. He was also district manager in El Paso and worked in Dallas before leaving the firm.

Eleven years ago he and Mrs. Douglass, the former Edith Wagner of Abilene, came to Big Spring. They purchased the grocery at Eleventh and Johnson and successfully operated it until now.

Friday will start still another adventure for Mr. and Mrs. Douglass, as that day marks the opening celebration for a bigger and better market across the street from the old location.

The Douglass family moved to Big Spring because of their two daughters—Barbara and Judy. It was felt that the two girls should have a permanent home "near" school.

Barbara had been born in Fort Worth and Judy in Oklahoma City. Both had moved around considerably with the family, and Douglass thought it was time to stop. The Big Spring store was the result.

Big Spring was chosen largely because Douglass' brother, the late Carl Douglass, operator of the Barrow-Douglass Furniture Company, lived here. They came to visit Darrel, bought the store, and stayed.

Nation Enjoys Spring Weather

There were some widely scattered thundershowers but generally fair and pleasant spring weather prevailed in most sections of the nation today.

The thundershowers were reported along a line from the eastern Great Lakes region, the lower Ohio Valley and into southeast New Mexico.

Cooler air from Canada moved southward and most of the Midwest cooled off after a brief spell of summerlike weather. But temperatures mostly were above normal in the eastern two thirds of the country. Readings yesterday were in the 80s and some 90s from the South west northeastward across the central part of the country into New England. It was 97 at Hobart, Okla., and a warm 93 at Elmira, N. Y. Boston's high was 86.

Temperatures early today ranged from 77 at Abilene, Tex., to 34 at International Falls, Minn.

Afghans Break With Pakistan

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—Afghanistan's government proclaimed a state of emergency last night and called its minister to neighboring Pakistan home.

Radio Kabul also announced mobilization of the army. It said the country was preparing to face aggression from outside, an obvious reference to Pakistan.

The Afghans and Pakistanis have been disputing for years over the rights of Pathan tribesmen living in a border area, as Pakistan along the border between the two nations. Afghanistan backs the warrior hill tribesmen's demands for independence in a new state.

Anti-Pakistan rioting in which 47 persons were hurt broke out in Kabul in March after the Karachi government consolidated West Pakistan's half-dozen states—including the northwest frontier—into a single province of West Pakistan. Pakistan accused the Kabul government of fomenting the violence and ordered its diplomats families home.

Mother Accused Of Child Beating

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The mother of a 4-year-old boy is accused of child beating—and her son is under treatment for a possible blood clot on the brain, black eyes, bruises and burns of the hands feet and body.

A policeman found little John Haska near his home Tuesday night. Yesterday his mother Mrs. Pearl Chew was booked on suspicion of child beating.

Officers said she told them she knocked the boy down when he laughed at her while she was scolding him. "He's a good boy but I get mad when he laughs at me," she said.

Investigators said John told them his mother "made me sit on a stove." Mrs. Chew has two other children and is expecting a fourth.

Solon Hits TV Makeup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) asked Congress today to require political candidates to tell television audiences if they use prompting devices or facial makeup.

His aim, he said, is "to eliminate elements of the theatrical and the synthetic from our national political life."

The Neuberger bill would authorize the Federal Communications Commission to take action against any TV station which failed to comply with its terms.

"We require today that radio listeners be informed when they are hearing a recording or a transcription," Neuberger said. He said he sees no reason why TV viewers should not also be told when a candidate is reading his speech.

Prompting devices, he said, "are intended to deceive the TV viewer by voters into thinking that a candidate is speaking extemporaneously, when in fact he is reading from an artificial device like a television prompter or a pilot board."

He said his bill would not prevent use of facial makeup or prompters, but added: "A television audience should be told if artificial means are being used to conceal a candidate's jowls or bald spot or beard."

Atkinson Stops Big Springers Behind Colts

Lefty Raph Atkinson muffed the Big Spring power in hurling the San Angelo Colts to a 7-3 success over the Cosden Cops here Wednesday night.

The game was highlighted by the expulsion of Cop Manager Pepper Martin, who swarmed all over Plate Umpire Steve Sadowski in the eighth for a decision made on a pop fly back of second base.

The banishment, coupled with the loss by Big Spring, left the 406 paying customers in a surly mood.

Atkinson threw gopher pitches to Jim Zapp and Huck Doe. Otherwise, he would have escaped with a shutout. Zapp clubbed his fifth round tripper of the year with the bases empty in the seventh. Doe waited until the ninth to get his second of the campaign and it arrived with Frank Billings aboard.

Mike Rainey went all the way on the mound for Big Spring, despite the fact that he was tagged for 17 assorted hits, including a two-run homer in the seventh by Lefty Williams. He did surprisingly well in the clutch when tied in the late innings.

Sadowski summoned police to get Martin off the field after he had refused to leave. Pepper's temperature went up when Sadowski ruled that Jack Poppell, Big Spring's second baseman, had dropped a fly ball back of second base hit by Ronald Dacko. Both Poppell and Martin insisted that he was attempting to throw it when it left his hand.

San Angelo, which didn't break the ice until the fifth inning, closed out with a three-run, five-hit inning.

ROUNDING THE SACKS
Threatening weather kept the crowd down but the skies gave up only a few drops of rain and there was no wind. The home run by Zapp was his third in as many days. The San Angelo backstop, got in a rube run in the middle innings when Dacko insisted that the count on one Big Spring batter was 1-2 rather than two balls and two strikes. Every batter in the Angelo lineup hit safely at least once. Both Zapp and Williams hit their round trippers about 385 feet from home plate.

OWLS FINALLY WIN IN 28 INNINGS
The Gillesville Owls are definitely living up to the reputation of their feathered namesakes—nocturnal winners.

The Sooner State League entry from Texas finally beat the Seminole Oilers Wednesday night, 10-8, but it took them exactly 28 innings to gain a verdict. The teams played 13 innings Wednesday night and the night before had to call it quits after 15 innings with the score tied at 4-4.

LIPPY PULLED A ROCK; GIANTS WIN, ANYHOW
NEW YORK (AP)—It fell asleep on the bench that's the first time it did that.

Coming from the grips of Leo Durocher, often proclaimed as the most alert of all managers, that is a shocking statement.

"That's right," the manager of the New York Giants repeated. "I made a wrong decision because I lost track of the other team's lineup. Luckily, it didn't hurt us, but I pulled a rock."

Durocher then went on to explain his "rock," which didn't prevent the Giants from winning a 4-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs in 41 innings yesterday.

There was one out in the Cubs' half of the eighth inning with the score tied at 3-3 when Ernie Banks ratted a routine high fly to first baseman Willie Mays in a state of shock after seeing Willie Mays

Nine 3-Year-Olds Ready For Saturday's Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Preparations for the Big Kentucky Derby virtually were completed today with at least nine finely tuned 3-year-olds ready for the start.

The name of a tenth may well be dropped into the entry box before the deadline at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The horses themselves have completed their training with the exception of a blowout tomorrow and possibly speed sharpeners with two of the favorites—Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan and Rex Ellsworth's Swaps, Nashua, the 4-5 choice for William Woodward's Best stud, is as fit and ready as man can make him.

These three dominate the race almost to the exclusion of all others. Here and there could be found scattered supporters for the Cain Hoy Stable pair of Hazing Fool and Flying Fury.

But the early arrivals joined with the trainers of the Derby candidates in picking Nashua as the horse to beat—come rain or shine. And they say it'll be either Summer Tan or Swaps in the runner-up spot. Early odds quoted Summer Tan at 2-1 and Swaps at 6-1.

The weatherman's prediction calls for temperatures hovering around 60 degrees and a lightning fast track. Such conditions could well endanger Whirlaway's record of 2 minutes 14.4 seconds established in 1931.

DENNIS THE MENACE

When a baseball team scores all its runs on homers, beware. That's what Port Arthur did Wednesday night smashing Waco 8-1 in the Big State League. The victory helped shave the distance between second-place Port Arthur and league-leading Corpus Christi to one game.

Helping the Seahawks gain the full game was Corpus Christi's 10-3 loss to Tyler, Austin nipped Galveston 3-2, and cellar-bound Texas City edged Harlingen 2-1.

Here's the way Port Arthur beat Waco on the Pirates' home field: Carl Bellotti doubled in the fourth inning, and Jim Kirby hit a homer. Then Chigo Cabrera doubled, and Johnny Lucadello followed with another round-tripper.

Kirby hit a solo home run in the fifth inning. Three innings later Lucadello smashed a three-run homer.

At Tyler, the Tigers' victory over Corpus Christi was their fourth straight. Tyler used successive homers by Bob Cullins and Herman Charles to score three runs in the fourth, then tallied four more in the fifth.

Austin beat Galveston in the island city on a wild throw in the fifth inning. Earl Hoekstatter hit a grander to first. Whitecap first baseman Jodie Beeler threw wide, and Pioneer Mgr. George Hausmann streaked home.

Texas City, playing at Harlingen, beat the Capitols in the seventh inning when Pop Facetti singled and scored on John Vanderby's triple.

Galveston is in third place, four games behind Harlingen and Tyler. Waco is 2 1/2 games behind, Austin 9 and Texas City 10.

Missions Beaten Again By Buffs

The Associated Press

The Texas League pitchers may be pondering anew a nagging thought: How do you keep the batter from hitting the baseball?

Twenty-five hurries strode to the mounds in five games Wednesday night. The batters cut loose on them for 60 runs.

Out of all this activity, witnessed by 6,984 fans:

- Houston beat first-place San Antonio the second straight time. The score, 9-5.
- But the Missions stayed four games ahead of second-place Dallas because Dallas lost, too — 3-2 to Tulsa.
- Shreveport stomped Beaumont in both games of a doubleheader and grabbed fourth place all by itself. The first game score was 9-1, the second 13-10.
- Fort Worth dropped from a tie with Shreveport for fourth to the fifth spot by losing 4-1 to Oklahoma City.
- Houston is just one game behind Dallas, and Shreveport is 1/2 game behind Houston. Fort Worth is 7 1/2 games behind, Beaumont 9 1/2, Tulsa 10 and Oklahoma City 11.

Nylons Make Good Gift For Mother

By DOROTHY ROE
 Associated Press Staff

Anyone worrying about what to give Mom for Mothers Day can be safe with a gift of nylons. No woman ever had enough of them.

This year there are a number of new ideas in the stocking line. So you might impress Mom with your knowledge of the newest wrinkles in fashion.

If she is the frivolous type, who likes to wear those open shoes so popular this season, get her some of the new sheer seamless nylons. They are cobweb sheer, have no heel patches and look like a smooth, unimpaired second skin when worn. They'll flatter her, and she'll be surprised, too, at how long they wear.

Since the one-color look is important for summer, it's considered extremely fashionable to wear stockings which blend with the color of the costume.

There are color-coordinated stockings designed for wear with black, navy, brown and all the pastel tints. These make a mere shadow of color on the leg, but give a well-hung-together look to the ensemble.

Then if Mom is a practical type, she'll like some of the new stretch nylons.

TV Outlet Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Midland, Tex., businessmen, H. C. Avery Jr. and David H. Cole, asked the Communications Commission yesterday for a TV outlet in Laredo, Tex. There are no other applicants for Channel 8 in the border city. The firm does business as Vidicon Industries of America.

The West Virginia University basketball team traveled 9,620 miles last winter. The Mountaineers traveled 4,500 by automobile and 5,120 by air.

Just Natural

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Chief Judge Francis J. McCabe of the Rhode Island Juvenile Court says parents whose children wear outlandish attire and too much lipstick should treat the result as natural. He told a Parent-Teacher Assn. last night that the fancy dresses are only bidding for attention and if ignored perhaps would lose interest in showing off.

Marciano Floored By Spar Partner

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano was "properly nailed" and floored yesterday by a sparring mate's left hook to the jaw.

"It was a knockdown, no question about it," said Peter Wilson, of the Los Angeles Daily Mirror. Wilson was one of five British boxing writers watching Rocky work out with Toxic Hall, of Chicago, a 200-pounder.

There was no question, either, that the second knockdown in Rocky's career couldn't have come at a better time in the buildup for Marciano's May 16 title defense against British challenger Don Cockell in Kezar Stadium.

THE EVERLASTING NAY

defends a weak position so strongly he couldn't back down if he wanted to

The NAY is an advertiser who's made a mistake but can't bring himself to admit it.

He armors himself with false logic and counters all truths with a "nay!"

Fortunately the NAY is a rare creature.

Most advertisers realize they can't afford to pour good money after bad. If they've made a mistake or two, they're big enough to admit it.

Most of all they would never put themselves in a position of denying that newspapers are basic as an advertising medium.

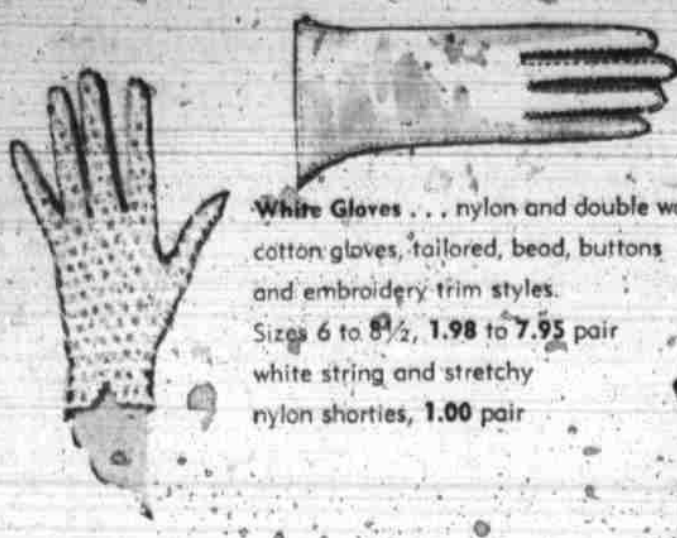

Simply because nearly everybody reads a newspaper. Despite all the activities competing for people's time and favor, newspapers rack up greater circulations each year — up now to an all-time high of more than 55 million copies a day!

A newspaper campaign reaches practically all your prospective customers. It impresses your dealers and distributors. It generates immediate sales.

What more can you ask of any advertising medium?

All business is local... and so are all newspapers!

Chances For Quick Austria Peace Treaty Look Better
VIENNA, Austria — Chances for quick signing of the Austrian independence treaty looked better today as the Russians dropped their controversial demands on reparations and eased insistence on armament restrictions. But the Soviets and the West must still agree on the tough issues of prewar foreign oil investments and of a declaration guaranteeing Austrian neutrality before the pact will be ready for signing by the Big Four foreign ministers. Diplomats attending yesterday's meeting of the four powers' ambassadors and Austria's foreign minister said the picture brightened considerably when Soviet Envoy Ivan I. Iyichev accepted a Western-backed, Austrian proposal to drop the treaty article on reparations and to raise limits on Austrian rearmament. The disputed Article 16 would have allowed Soviet repatriation teams to enter Austria once it had won independence—to quiz refugees from communism. Western diplomats had feared this would enable the Reds to spread propaganda inside Austria while the nation was supposed to be neutral. Article 17, also bitterly disputed, would have imposed a 53,000-man ceiling on Austria's armed forces, limited the air force to 90 planes and barred Austria from building or taking over certain categories of equipment. Diplomats said the Russians had agreed to raise the limits to levels which were not disclosed.
Dry Land Meet Closes

Delegates at the International Arid Lands Conference approved a resolution which provisions the time when scientific research can be used for peaceful purposes. Tone of the meetings, which started April 25 in Albuquerque, was friendly throughout with no major disagreements between nations.

C-C Record Said Basis For Judging What It Can Do
What a Chamber of Commerce has done is a good criterion of what it can do, E. H. Weaver told the Lions Club Wednesday at Settles.
Judge Weaver was speaking on the occasion of the observance of Chamber of Commerce Week in Texas. Number of accomplishments were listed in which the Chamber figured prominently here, including airport development parks and recreation, education facility advancement, highways, the VA and State hospitals, Webb AFB, industrial growth.
With an ambitious program laid out, the Chamber deserves the support of everyone in Big Spring and Howard County, Judge Weaver said.
Gil Jones, President, announced Wayne Bartlett, Lou Carothers, Dr. C. W. Deats, Avery Falkner, Cliff Fisher, Ludwig Grau, B. M. Keese, Dr. Dick Lane, C. W. ... Joe Pohl, Bill Sweet and J. Fred Stitzel as recipients of the 400 per cent attendance awards.
Members were urged to attend the ice cream supper being given Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the fire station for Soap Box Derby entrants.

How Do You Keep A Fisherman Happy?

By DION HENDERSON The Associated Press

How do you keep a fisherman happy? Provide him with a fish, naturally. Not in a package, but in lake or creek or pond, where he can catch it. Or try, anyway.

ponds and a great many troubling headaches for conservation officials from border to border and coast to coast. The basic problem is about the same everywhere: putting enough fish of the right kind in waters that can support them and are accessible to fishermen.

side fisherman likes to dream about after a little day on a crowded paddle, has difficulties. With plenty of water and generally plenty of fish, the territory finds accessibility a pressing problem.

Industrial and city pollution and lack of watershed management threatens water at the source. Last year, for instance, lake and stream beds dried up all over Arkansas in the third year of a great drought. They may never come back.

the muskies and smallmouth bass of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota getting much attention, less famed fish species aren't fished enough and get out of balance.

Building Activity Shows Big Slump

Building in Big Spring, unlike that on a statewide level, is down considerably from this time last year.

Construction authorized in this city during the first four months of the year totaled only $387,443. This is a drop of approximately 40 per cent from the million dollar mark set in the same period of 1954.

Through April of last year the Big Spring building total had reached $1,024,255.

Despite the low figure listed so far this year, indications are that construction is on an upswing. In April alone, more than a quarter of a million dollars in building was authorized.

During the first quarter — January, February and March — construction totaled only $330,962. The April figure of $256,480 came close to doubling the amount.

Exact statewide building figures are not available for the first four months of the year, but tabulations made at the end of the first quarter indicated a 37 per cent increase in building.

This is exactly opposite to the program in Big Spring.

Through March the authorized building in Texas stood at the top level mark of $277 million. During the same 1954 period the construction stood at only $248 million.

Total building in Texas last fall showed a 29 per cent increase in new homes. In this respect Big Spring better the state average.

Seventy-one per cent of the building here, dollarwise, has been in new residential units. Of the $387,443 authorized so far this year, $419,330 was for homes.

New construction of non-residential units has been quite a bit lower, with only $64,430 tagged for this purpose. The remainder of authorized construction — $103,695 — has been for alterations, additions and repairs. Emphasis on house construction in Big Spring was not so pronounced last year at this time.

During the first four months of 1954 most of the building — $341,365 — was of commercial units. Only $348,160 was devoted to residences while $134,830 went for repairs, etc.

Actually home building during the first four months of this year is 17 per cent higher than it was during the same period last year.

Home building is the only gain registered in Big Spring so far, however, as water construction is down considerably.

Indications are that quite a few other homes will be built here this year. Two new additions are being planned now, and several established additions are scheduled for expansion.

The Bureau of Business Research at The University of Texas released a bulletin indicating that one out of every 10 people plan to buy new homes during 1955. Construction in this state, according to the bulletin, is expected to furnish the second largest number of new jobs this year, topped only by retailers.

A breakdown on authorized construction here during the first four months of the year follows:

January — residential, $40,850; non-residential, $13,760; additions, repairs, and alterations, $12,715; total, $67,325. February — residential $100,275; non-residential, $11,210; additions, repairs, and alterations, $32,665; total, $144,150. March — residential $77,995; non-residential, $11,560; additions, repairs and alterations, $29,935; total, $119,490. April — residential $200,200; non-residential, $27,900; and additions, repairs and alterations, $28,380; total $256,480.

There were seven Liquor Control Board cases pending March 1 and still that many pending at the end of the month for Howard County. In the entire district covered by local LCB agents, there were 49 cases pending at the beginning of the month and 63 pending at the end.

Throughout the month of March, the agents filed 78 criminal cases which resulted in fines of $7,724.70. There were 58 convictions, 13 jail terms, and six dismissals.

There were ten non-criminal cases filed in the district and one of them was filed in Howard County.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Prince of Wales playing tennis 300 years ago.

Among modern games, tennis has the strangest system of scoring. The scores run love, 15, 30, 40 and game. If there is a tie at forty-forty (that is, three points apiece) there is "deuce. Then comes "advantage" for "ad" for one side or the other. If the side with the advantage wins the next point, there is "setpoint" for that side.

The word "deuce" came from the French language, and the meaning is "two." Two points in succession must be won by the same side after the deuce score before there can be victory.

Some facts about the early history of tennis have been lost, but it seems plain that the game used to be played by striking the ball with the palm of the hand. The old French name for the game was "jeu de paume," meaning "game of the palm."

One early form of tennis seems to have been a kind of handball. With the ball being knocked against an indoor wall. In another early form, the ball was knocked back and forth by players who stood on opposite sides of a bank or hedge. Later came the use of the net.

About 500 years ago one type of tennis in France came to be called by a name meaning "game of the long palm." A racket was used, and in a sense, it added to the length of the palm or arm.

The origin of the word "tennis" is in some doubt. It may have come from the name of an Egyptian city, Tennis or Tinnis, which was an important center for the export of a cloth used in making early style tennis balls. Only after the discovery of the New World, and its rubber trees, could rubber be used in making balls for this game. Another suggestion is that the name of tennis arose from a French word, "tennis," which was in common use to start the contest. In any case the name of tennis was adopted in England, and later was used in the United States and Canada. Now it is employed even in France!

Tomorrow: More About Tennis.

Tax Bill Still Will Take Lot Of Argument

AUSTIN — A lot of talk and many suggested amendments stand between the general tax bill and final passage this session.

The Senate State Affairs Committee headed by Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, is holding public hearings on the tax measure. Then it will go to a subcommittee with suggested amendments for re-writing.

When it comes out of the committee and to the floor of the Senate its troubles may be just beginning.

Sen. Kimer Corbin of Lubbock, a sharp critic of the Shivers' administration, promises a lot of "deliberation" and a strong effort to amend the bill drastically.

Corbin says he'll offer one amendment which would raise the production tax on crude oil to the same level as that on natural gas — a levy he says would bring in $50 million a year. He has another amendment which would tax the salt water chemical industries on the coast. Another would hike the sulphur tax.

Some other senators also have amendments ready to offer on the floor, the Lubbock lawmaker said. "House Bill 600 (the tax bill) is backwards," Corbin declares. "They approached this thing from the wrong direction. They put the tax on the little man."

Rep. Anderson Seeks Support On Amendment

AUSTIN — Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland will be looking hard the next few days for 14 votes. That's how many more he needs to pass out of the House a constitutional amendment which would permit a county to force commissioner courts to give more equitable representation to a county's population.

Anderson got only 85 votes for 42 against as his proposed amendment, HJR 36, passed second reading. A proposed constitutional amendment must have 100 votes to pass the House. There were 22 members who did not vote on second reading. He'll get another chance next Tuesday, constitutional amendment day. Then it would go to the Senate.

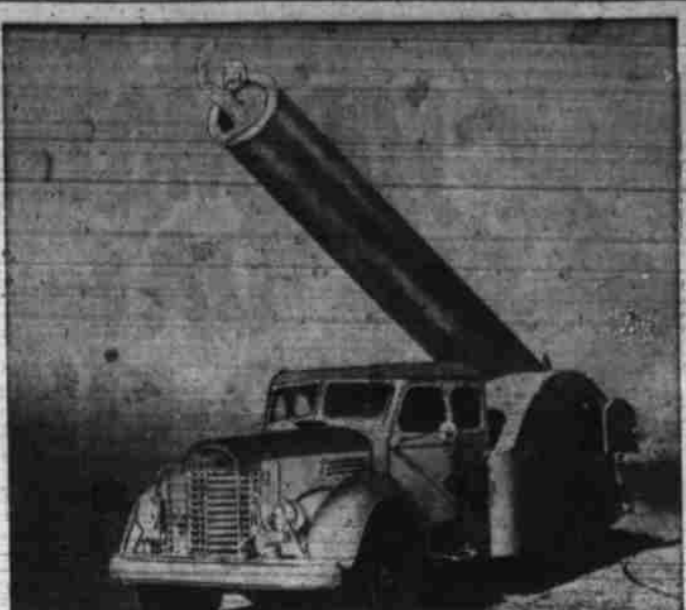

The Midland lawmaker is bucking powerful opposition as he attempts to get his measure through the House, opposition from the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas. That group, generally, wants to keep things as they are. It is possible under present laws for a county to re-district its commissioner precincts, but there's nothing to compel this action. Net result is that in about half the counties of the state there is inequitable representation on the commissioner courts.

Anderson's proposal is to provide that 10 percent of the voters could file a "permissive" petition for an election on redistricting precincts. If the election carried, the county would be divided so that one precinct would have not less than 10 nor more than 40 per cent of the population.

Commissioners or judges representing Midland, Huhns and Tom Green counties have appeared in Austin against the proposal, either at committee hearings or in private conversations with members.

West Texans voting against the measure were Allison, Briscoe, Cloud, Kirkin and Stroman. Not voting were Burnett, Chambers and Bristow. Others from West Texas supported it.

Harry Gaughan, motor car dealer and fireman, displayed the right spirit the other day.

Chicago's New Sheriff Was Once Sociology Prof

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph D. Lohman, 45, Chicago's new sheriff, was once a professor of sociology. But there's nothing academic about the impact of his first two months as chief law enforcement officer of Cook County, the 954-square-mile territory which includes Chicago and claims more than 4 1/2 million residents.

Lohman's revamped county police force has been hitting hard at gambling in the sprawling unincorporated areas which are his domain. They have impounded some 100 slot machines and much other gaming equipment.

He has fired from the big county jail several guards he says were uncooperative or unsuited. He has persuaded the county commissioners to hire a criminologist and sociologist, and he has these specialists working on plans to deal with juvenile delinquency, narcotics traffic, and other evils.

Lohman, a Democrat, holds the office long conceded the county's richest political plum. He contends it can be dispensed through the patronage system. But, he says, his political jobholders will not play politics on the job.

If there is anything incongruous about the articulate, soft-spoken Lohman running the sheriff's office, it is not his appearance.

He is medium heavy-set, with smooth, dark features including a thick growth of neatly combed, jet black hair. His glance through heavy-rimmed spectacles is direct and alert. He wears double-breasted, blue-gray suits meticulously. In short, he looks like any successful lawyer one might see in the county building.

Sheriff Lohman has an outstanding reputation as a consultant in education, sociology, criminology and labor relations, was elected Nov. 2 on a primary plank that he would "clean up the county."

He says, "We can get the lid on gambling and clamp it there."

Few people who know Lohman doubt his high integrity and determination to make a record for honest, enlightened administration. He says his aim is "to set a record of good public service which will be bound to influence the conduct of my successor."

Some aspects of Lohman's policy could pose problems in achieving his aim. One is his frankly expressed intention to be a loyal Democratic organization man.

"I've accepted the patronage system of filling jobs," he said. "But it's on the strict understanding that candidates must be screened by their sponsors, and that I will rescind them, supervise them, and, if they fail in their duty, oust them."

"Patronage is a reality. It implies responsibility of the man who runs an office."

Lohman's practical education in criminology began in 1931, while he was preparing his master's dissertation on 100 life-terms in the Wisconsin State Penitentiary at Waupun.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Denver in 1930, a master's at the University of Wisconsin, and studied at the University of Chicago as a graduate fellow.

While a research criminologist in 1932 and 1933, Lohman lived with his wife Fern in a near North Side Chicago slum, where they mingled freely with underworld habits.

He served as a research sociologist with the state of Illinois from 1934 to 1935, uncovering early juvenile delinquency treatment and prevention programs in Chicago. He was instructor and associate professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, and has been a member of the University of Chicago and University of Wisconsin faculties since 1947.

He has also served as a visiting professor at Washington University, the University of Michigan, the University of Denver, and American University, Washington, D.C.

He has served as adviser on police problems to Chicago, Denver, Louisville, St. Paul, Washington, D.C., Gary, Pittsburgh and New Orleans. He is the author of widely used textbooks on police work. Lohman and his wife live with their daughter Barbara Susan, 17, in a house in the South Side Woodlawn section.

'Isolationism' - In Action

You probably read the little story the other day about the four California teenagers who were dissatisfied with the world and tried to withdraw from it.

There would be no arguments, according to the constitution's authors. Everyone would carry arms, however. But if anyone did violate the "law," there would be no harsh treatment or punishment.

One of the most important provisions was that nobody would talk back to the governor.

The boys said eight others were to join them on the island after things got to operating. Girls also were to come, but they would be "imported" since none were allowed to join the expedition.

Which sounds like a lot of the talk you read about from the big time political circles these days. Perhaps a trip to juvenile court for an explanation of the follies of too much isolationism would help some of our lawmakers.

Indian Envoy's Assignment Is Bad News

PARIS — Announcement that Krishna Menon has been invited to Peiping by Chou En-lai to arrange for talks with the United States on the Formosa question is bad news for America.

Curiously enough, Britain has indicated that, if there is a cease-fire around the offshore islands, she will join in some kind of "neutral" statement urging that force shall not be used.

It is not, they must have their minds stuck as deeply in the sand as they desire to bury the national welfare.

When Menon appeared at Geneva last year during the big conference on Indochina, he was frequently in the company of Chou En-lai.

It is perhaps too early to predict "sell-out" to a new Munich, but anything in which Menon is engaged could easily wind up that way as far as the United States is concerned.

Labor Secretary Stands Up For His Man

WASHINGTON — A salamu to Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. He stuck to his man, Ewan Clague, over the opposition of Sen. Edward H. Martin (Rep. Pa.).

In August, 1954, Mitchell named Clague to a third term as Commissioner of Labor Statistics. Sen. Martin objected. He considered Clague unsympathetic to the views of the administration.

Clague is a Democratic holdover. He took office in 1946 when Lewis Schwellenbach was Secretary of Labor and was appointed by Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin under President Truman.

Martin indicated to Mitchell he'd fight the nomination on the Senate floor. Since Clague's legal residence is Pennsylvania, that would be blackball. Under senatorial courtesy rules, the Senate wouldn't confirm.

Clague's name was withdrawn; Mitchell named Arneson Joy Westens, assistant commissioner, to be acting commissioner, and kept Clague on as a special assistant at a reduced salary.

Meanwhile, the news got out that Clague's appointment was stymied by Martin and Sen. James H. Duff, junior senator from Pennsylvania, who hadn't opposed Clague, heard from their corporate constituents—Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Aluminum Co. of America, the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, and others.

As Commissioner of Labor Statistics, Clague had presided over the world-famous Consumers' Price Index. This index determines whether the weekly pay of 2,000,000 automobile, aircraft, textile, aluminum and other workers goes up or down.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson put the index in pay envelopes when he was president of General Motors. He sold Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, an escalator clause in the

Veto Only One Block To China UN Bid

WASHINGTON — What will the United States position be if Red China plans to take a position on a cease-fire around Formosa, and then wants to get into the United Nations?

American opposition to U. N. membership for them might change. One stumbling block to Red China's admittance—although not necessarily the final one—would be removed if the veto power of the Security Council on new members was added.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., American ambassador to the U. N., this week suggested dropping the veto power on new members held by the Big Five powers—the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Nationalist China.

Under the present U. N. Charter, admittance of a new member hinges on what happens in the Security Council. Russia for her part has used the veto to block membership for 17 other non-Communist nations.

Lodge made it plain, in testimony to a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee, that he was speaking of an individual and was not expressing the views of the country's Nationalist China. There were never seven votes for admittance. Russia for her part has used the veto to block membership for 17 other non-Communist nations.

It's possible that, with removal of the veto, Red China still couldn't get seven votes that would carry her in. Russia has proposed U. N. membership for Red China several times.

No veto was necessary by this country's Nationalist China. There were never seven votes for admittance. Russia for her part has used the veto to block membership for 17 other non-Communist nations.

Service To Fellow Texans

Two Texas newspaper people this week won Pulitzer Prizes in the field of reporting, a Pulitzer Prize being the American equivalent of a Nobel Prize.

Mrs. Caro Brown, courthouse reporter of the Alice Daily Echo, won a Pulitzer award for local reporting to meet edition deadlines, a roundabout way of saying the works for a daily.

He had studied soil conservation in college, while Mrs. Brown had started in the business office of the Alice Daily Echo and worked up through the women's department into general reporting.

Texas Journalism will salute the Pulitzer-prizewinners ungrudgingly, though perhaps with a feeling of well-earned humility.

Their triumph confirms a feeling this writer has held a long time: A good reporter is the heart and soul of any newspaper. And he need not be brilliant, bold and brassy, just diligent and determined.

The Home Mould Is Strongest

On any given week during the year you can find a list of special weeks as long as your arm. Most of them have to do with the promotion of some product or industry and can be appraised in light of commercial advancement.

So much has been said about the family as a fundamental of our democracy that to speak of the subject brings instantly a parade of trite and hackneyed expressions.

cooperation, adjustment and compromise to maintain a fair degree of happiness and satisfaction; the very loyalties that common bonds create—all these make it inevitable that the home exercises an indelible influence on the individuals within it.

You may take a warped product of twisted home life and by tedious processes straighten it to operate smoothly within society. Too often it is like the bit of warped or twisted metal which is bent, beaten or pecked back into a fair semblance of its original shape.

U. S. Industry Overexpanded?

NEW YORK — All that talk about American industry being overexpanded—is it outdated already?

Some top industrialists are saying so and calling for further increases in the capacity of mills and factories to keep in step with the increased consumer demand they foresee.

Just one year ago it was fashionable in some circles to say that the great postwar spurt of building new plants and buying new equipment had given the United States a production capacity well in excess of current civilian consumer demand.

It would be quite some time, they said, before civilian demand—if unsupported by an additional huge defense production—would catch up.

But how plans for future expansion are being announced by the corporate leaders in many industries. The basic industry steel is a good example.

Between 1950 and 1954 it increased its capacity by one fourth. Last year industry leaders were saying that present capacity of 124,300,000 tons would be enough for at least five years more.

This week the nation's steel mills are set to turn out 2,328,000 tons, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. This would top the record set in March 1953. And today at least five of the top mill in the industry are on record as saying another round of building more mills and upgrading old equipment must be started.

The reason: the steady increase in the nation's population and more importantly—the increase in the standard of living. Steelmen believe Americans will be buying more cars, more appliances, building more offices, stores and homes, more bridges, schools and highways.

Benjamin F. Fairless, in his swan song as he steps down from the chairmanship of the board of U. S. Steel, says his company to keep in step must add more than one million tons of new capacity each year.

Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, says his company should add eight million tons of capacity in the next 10 years.

E. T. Weir, chairman of National Steel, says the industry is using all of its first-class equipment today and now faces the problem of further development.

W. W. Sebald, president of Arco Steel and Avery C. Adams, chairman of Pittsburgh Steel, join in the call for another round of expansion.

This expansion of basic steel production capacity will be accompanied by upgrading facilities for making finished products.

Hollywood Review

James Dean Amused By Gossip

HOLLYWOOD — What kind of a guy is James Dean?

Film fans who saw "East of Eden" have been asking that. In this first important film, he emerged as a star of first magnitude. No other debut of a virtual unknown in recent years has appeared so auspicious.

A great deal has been written about Dean since his rise to fame, and much of it has been spurious. The real Dean was observed at close range on the location of "Rebel Without a Cause," his second starring film. He was emoting at the Griffith Park Observatory, which overlooks Los Angeles.

At first he doesn't seem too impressive in person. He's not so tall as most leading men. He dresses casually and mingles with the other young actors who are portraying juvenile delinquents in the film. He generally wears hornrimmed glasses, with clip-on dark lenses when he's in the sun. He has a handsome, expressive face with a shock of blond hair.

He is somewhat amused by the legends that have already sprung up about him. "Some of the things that have been printed about me are fantastic," he said. "One night I was supposed to have been in Clio's, and I was also reported to be in two other places. How could I be in three places at once?"

"I probably should have a press agent. But I don't care what people write about me. I'll talk to the ones I like; the others can print whatever they please." This attitude has been expressed by other new stars; how long it lasts remains to be seen.

The comparison to Marion Brando has been pointed out by most reviewers. How does he feel about it?

"It doesn't bother me," he declared. "When a new actor comes along, he's always compared to someone else. Brando was compared to Cliff. Cliff to someone else. Barrymore to Booth and so forth."

Dog With A Smile

Hungry Meter

CANTON, Ohio — Most of the time, a nickel in a parking meter gives parking time. But when Mrs. Joanne Wenzel, 21, put a nickel in one recently, it toppled over, whacked her in the snuffle for a hospital-grade injury and tipped over one of her nylon stockings. By the time she got back from the hospital, she needed another nickel for the meter, fixed by city employees.

Delinquency? Poverty's No Excuse

NEW YORK — The parents of what is believed to be the nation's largest all-boy family don't see why poverty should cause juvenile delinquency.

Emory and Thelma Harrison, a farm couple who live near Johnson City, Tenn., have 13 sons ranging in stepdier style down from 21-year-old Guy to Ivan, an infant of 3 weeks.

"Money poor all his life, Harrison said his children "never caused us a speck of trouble," and explained why.

"It's the way we raised them. We raised them to obey us, never to bother anybody, and never to pick up anything that belonged to anybody else.

"If they need a spanking, they get it. But they don't need it often. Each has his chores—one feeds the hogs, corn, one feeds the sheep, one does the milking. Some dry the dishes, some cut wood, some carry it in."

"They all help each other. The big boys are just as crazy about the new baby as my wife and me are.

"There never was a child born but what there was a bite made to fill its mouth with—but there have been fathers and mothers too trifling to fill a child's mouth.

"When we had one child we just lived. When we had six children we lived. Now we got 13—and we're still living."

Cake Topping Job Is Real Success Story

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — A brother and sister are making an idea for packaged cake decorations pay off. Mrs. Louise Crawford and her brother, Bobby Jones, who had been in the bakery business, developed the idea and she took it to New York.

"Within 24 hours it was sold to one of the nation's largest variety store chains, but the trouble was we were suddenly in business with an order for 150 dozen packages of something we didn't have, weren't set up to produce and actually had no idea how to start making."

"Things were pretty frantic for a while but they finally worked out the production and a year later moved out of the kitchen into a plant downtown."

"Production now is around 500 dozen packages a week. Each pedal and leaf is handmade and attached to a piece of cardboard. It is easily removable for transfer to a cake."

Sunday brunch will be something to look forward to if you serve thin French pancakes rolled around cream cheese that has been beaten until fluffy with a little cream and topped with a fresh strawberry sauce.

Toddlers Have Definite Ideas About What's Good

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Toddlers have definite ideas about food. By the time youngsters are two years old they don't mind registering their feelings in no uncertain terms. Make sure you respect your youngest generation! There's no reason why adults should be the only ones entitled to likes and dislikes; preschoolers have the right to discriminate, too.

If your youngster doesn't like one vegetable, don't try to make him eat it. Serve him other vegetables that he does like. There are lots from which to choose.

When you offer the junior foods that come in convenient containers, all ready to eat, give them a grown-up look. Toddlers are definitely out of the babyhood stage and they like Mom to appreciate their new stage of development.

Runabouts usually like "meat pies" served in individual casseroles, and they are easy for Mother to prepare. Just line the bottom of an individual baking dish — a big custard cup does fine — with mashed potato and add a layer of junior meat. A topping of mashed potato, a few dots of butter or margarine, and into a moderate oven the dish goes until it is hot and temptingly browned. Sometimes junior vegetables may be mixed with the meat.

Toddlers love to pour their own milk from a small pitcher. They also take kindly to milk shakes. Make the milk drink by beating egg, milk and strained fruit dessert together. The strained fruit dessert is a mixture of apricots, pineapple juice, orange juice and sugar. Tapioca thickening helps make it a pleasant consistency. Baby-food strained apricot-apple sauce is another good flavor for a milk shake.

Every notice how much toddlers like colorful food? The golden color of the strained fruit dessert or the apricot-apple sauce appeals to them. So does milk colored pink. And odd as it may be to an adult, small fry often go for mashed potatoes that are colored green. One nursery school serves green mashed potatoes — got too violent a shade, please! — in little nests that are filled with creamed ham.

Go slow when you are introducing a toddler to a new food. One new food at a time should be the rule. And use a little guile! Introduce the new food on a menu that's made up of old standbys that the youngster particularly likes.

Youngsters always appreciate custard pudding that has raisin eyes, a prune nose and a cherry mouth. They love animal cutouts made from slices of bread. The cutouts can be toasted and floated in a bowl of soup; or they can be buttered and spread with junior applesauce and brown sugar.

Snacks are important to toddlers.

Cupcakes Are Party Dishes

Light as a feather, lemon- or chocolate-filled with sugared wings, these butterfly cupcakes will fly away when you serve them to the family.

BUTTERFLY CUPCAKES

4 eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder

Beat eggs until very light and thick; beat in salt, sugar and vanilla. Combine milk and butter in saucepan; heat to boiling point; beat into sugar mixture. Mix and sift flour and baking powder; beat in. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., 20 to 25 minutes. Cool; remove from pans to wire cake rack. When cold, slice off top, and scoop out a very little of lower half. Fill with chocolate or lemon filling. Cut top slices in half; dust heavily with confectioners' sugar; set upright on filling to resemble butterfly wings. Yield 12-18.

Crisp vegetables to eat out of hand and small glasses of tomato juice they can pour themselves are fine for mid-mornings. A few plain crackers spread with peanut butter or cottage cheese mixed with chopped raisins may also be offered. An afternoon tea party might include a mold of gelatin served with strained fruit dessert as a sauce and milk to drink. Make servings small for toddlers. A plate heaped with food is discouraging. It's better to let them ask for seconds.

Depends On How You Look At It

Mrs. E. J. Neeley, right, can't quite decide just how she feels about cheese and Mrs. C. L. Gill, center, has known for a long time, but Mrs. J. R. Herd of Coahoma gets a dreamy expression on her face at the thought of how wonderful that bite is going to taste.

'Cheese It' Can Be More Than Words For 'Run' Or 'Scram'

This is a real cheesy story. Some people get real dreamy when they think of all the wonderful types that are available, others can't think of anything to be ecstatic about and then there is the third type that gives it a lot of thought.

Any way you look at cheese, it's an interesting food.

No one knows the exact date of the appearance of cheese but records of the Near and Far East mention it as a familiar food as far back as 2000 B. C.

Historians believe both cheese and butter were developed shortly after the domestication of the cow which is estimated about 9000 B. C.

While some of the cheese on the market today smells like it might be some of the original batch, it seems this idea of making different types was developed by various tribes and probably influenced by the climate.

From earliest records, cheese has been considered a food of unusual sustaining powers and the early Greeks believed it to have a divine origin: if the boy David had not been sent to camp with ten cheeses for the captain of the Philistines, he wouldn't have been on hand to slay Goliath. Even old Genghis Khan used this food as a ba-ration for his soldiers in their sweeping march across the world.

There are eighteen distinct varieties of cheeses and they are started by either the rennet or lactic acid method. In case you are interested these great basic families are: Brick, Casu Marzu, Camembert, Cheddar, Cottage, Dry, Edam, Emmentaler, Gouda, Hand Holstein, Limburger, Neuchâtel, Parmesan, Roquefort, Sapsago, Stanno and Trappist. Cheese can be made from the milk of any milk-giving animal.

Some valuable secrets were brought back to Europe by the Crusaders about the manufacture of cheese and from that time the art of cheesemaking spread rapidly on the continent. Throughout the depths of the Dark Ages, cheesemaking was carried on under the protection of the church. Secret formulas for making certain rare cheese varieties were held as a part of the priceless total wealth of monasteries.

cheese that is one of the oldest types and is best used grated. It has a 'winey' odor. The biggest seller locally is Wisconsin. The aging gives it the degree of sharpness and it is labeled as mild, medium or sharp.

Even if you think you don't like this dairy food, you should give it a try. The manufacturers have thought of about everything to tempt the taste buds as far as combinations are concerned.

Cheese is packaged now, flavored with garlic, hickory, onion, jalapeño, onion, olive, caraway seed, chive, pimiento, and pineapple.

In the line of appetizers you can't miss. There are cheese pillows, rice cheese, blue cheese pretzels, just plain cheese pretzels, cheese nips and twists, straws and crisps.

It's a far cry from the Asian traveler who mugs than likely started this cheese ball rolling, but here's a little recipe thought up by the people who make a cream type cheese. It's a good quick way to make lemon tarts. Beat 3 eggs in the top of a double boiler until thick and fluffy. Continue beating while gradually adding 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lemon juice, and 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the custard is thick and smooth. Cool it.

Soften one 8-ounce package of cream cheese in a bowl at room temperature and gradually blend in the custard mixture. Fill baked tart shells with the lemon custard.

Among the cheese-producing countries the United States is the newest. The modern grocery store handles an amazing variety of the food and the market managers are quick to say they do not attempt to keep a tenth of the kinds that are available to them.

Limburger, for instance, is a very slow seller in Texas, being more popular in the Northern and Eastern states. Sapsago is a hard-

New Shortening Is Distinctively Golden

An entirely new, golden colored, all-purpose shortening, golden Fluffo, has been put into wide distribution in Big Spring. The result of 16 years of research, this Procter and Gamble product is a completely new blend of shortening ingredients which are combined in a special way to assure home-makers a special kind of golden-brown, more appetizing baked and fried foods.

Although it is golden in color, this new shortening is not designed or intended for use as a table spread, its makers state. It is an all-purpose shortening for baking and frying.

Lydia Cooley, director of home economics for Procter and Gamble, points out that Fluffo has special blending and mixing advantages: You are able to see, she points out, when all cake or pastry ingredients have been completely blended, because the golden color serves as a guide.

The home economist says the product is ideal for shallow or deep fat frying or sautéing. When used this way it imparts an appetizing golden-brown result. Fluffo keeps clear and does not darken, and so can be re-used many times. It also has excellent keeping qualities, stays creamy and doesn't need refrigeration.

Here is a recommended recipe making use of the new golden Fluffo:

MASHED POTATO DOUGHNUTS
2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup nutmeg
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted golden Fluffo
1/2 cup mashed potatoes

Mix together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and nutmeg. Combine egg, milk and golden Fluffo, add to dry ingredients with mashed potatoes. Mix until smooth. Roll out 1/2 dough on lightly floured board to 1/2" thickness; cut with doughnut cutter. Fry in deep hot golden Fluffo heated to 365 degrees turning to brown both sides 3-5 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. If desired, roll in confectioners' sugar or a mixture of granulated sugar and cinnamon. Makes 18-20.

World Propaganda Battle Much In Doubt

The Associated Press

The most deadly weapons in this age of the undropped bomb and the unfired gun are the spoken word and the expressed idea.

Who is winning the battle for men's minds?

According to a survey by Associated Press bureaus throughout Europe and the Far East, the issue is very much in doubt. Each side has made sharp gains and suffered severe losses.

Russia has tremendously stepped up her propaganda campaign. Propaganda radio broadcasts by Russia and her satellites have increased during the past six years from 512 to 1,435 hours per week.

The Soviet offensive has also been extended to industrial fairs, athletic fields, cultural activities and every other stage which can be used to promote the Russian point of view.

How effective is such propaganda?

No one pretends to know the exact answer. People cross boundaries, accept new ways of life for reasons too varied, often too intangible for measurement. But certain new trends in the flow of refugees in and out of the Iron Curtain have been noted.

For example, 6,000 to 7,000 persons now leave democratic West Germany to settle in Communist East Germany every month. Last December, 9,028 came West and 7,000 went East. But in mid-1955, only 1,000 a month were going East. The figures are from the West German ministry at Bonn.

Over the past four years an estimated 10,000 Chinese school students have abandoned democratic zones of the Far East, leaving their homes and families to live in Red China.

Both of these areas, of course, have been prime targets in the Soviet propaganda offensive. But the ideological war is worldwide, and the United States itself has become a direct target.

A total of 168 hours of propaganda is beamed to this country by short-wave transmitters each week. Tons of Communist books, pamphlets and magazines pour in at every port of entry, creating a massive problem for postal officials.

The Reds' global assault has brought expressions of concern from many observers that this failed to meet the challenge.

These sources call attention to the fact that the Voice of America, pinched by economy measures, has had to cut its broadcasts from a peak of 349 hours in 1951 to 222 hours a week last January.

The United States Information Agency (USIA), which operates the Voice of America, admits that it is having the toughest sort of battle, despite extensive assistance from private agencies in its program of promoting American ideas abroad.

For one thing, the USIA must

Extortion Try Admitted

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Glenn Colgan, 26, who said he needed the money because he was sick and out of work, admitted yesterday trying to extort $10,000, police reported.

He was trapped by chemicals which had been placed on a dummy package, Chief of Police James Purcell said. These chemicals glow under a special light. Colgan admitted the extortion attempt when his hands glowed in the test, Purcell said.

Purcell quoted him as saying he telephoned the offices of Fred Meyer, Inc., a grocery and variety chain, Monday threatening that one of the stores would be bombed unless $10,000 was left in a package at a suburban street intersection.

A package filled with cut paper was left as directed. Somehow Colgan managed to pick it up and get through a line of police who had surrounded the area, Purcell reported.

Colgan, fearing one of the police had seen him at the scene, walked into the police station yesterday, hoping he could explain away his presence in the area, Purcell said.

He quoted Colgan as saying his car had run out of gas.

But after six hours of questioning, Colgan broke down and admitted he had telephoned the extortion demand, picked up the package and burned the contents when he found it was only paper, Purcell said.

McMurry Exes Form Club Here

A club composed of ex-students of McMurry College has been organized and now officials are interested in contacting all former students residing in this area.

At the initial meeting Sunday afternoon at Howitt County Junior College, Mrs. Paulene Morris Talton was named president; Lucille Hester vice president; and Barney Hines, secretary.

All former McMurry students are urged to contact Hines at 1803 Kentucky Way or phone him at 4-628 so that the rolls may be enlarged. When a sufficient number have been contacted, a second meeting will be called.

Turkey's Ruler Runs Country As 1-Man Show

ISTANBUL (U)—Prime Minister Adnan Menderes is an expert politician who runs Turkey as virtually a one-man show. He is extremely sensitive to criticism. He explains it's all right for his enemies to say his government is dragging Turkey to the brink of ruin.

"But the law will be invoked against those who say these infamous and treacherous people are dragging the country to ruin," he says.

He means that such same calling will invoke stringent press laws, which he holds necessary to protect the dignity and honor of the nation. A number of editors have gone to jail for various reasons over the last year or two.

Menderes' country has received about two billion postwar dollars from the United States, mostly as military aid. Just now he is engaged in a vast building program; one of the local papers calls him Adnan the Builder.

Since his party swept to power five years ago, Menderes has pushed an unprecedented program of industrialization.

The development program now takes nearly 25 per cent of the government's budget. Turkey is constructing seven big dams and power stations, costing from 35 to 50 million dollars each, and improving seven ports at a cost of 10 to 20 millions each.

Roads and grain silos are going in all over the country. The government is building sugar, cement and textile factories. Processing plants for meat, fish, wheat, macaroni and canned goods are going up in more than 30 areas. There will be new assembly plants for tractors and trucks.

Menderes' backers say his bold program to lift Turkey from a stagnant subsistence economy will

UNION MERGER

John L. Lewis Is Mystery Man As Labor Unity Pushed

WASHINGTON (U)—John L. Lewis is the mystery man of American labor today, standing on the sidelines while the AFL and CIO push forward with plans to merge their ranks in history with great Turkish heroes. His critics think otherwise. Some assert the Menderes program is catch-as-catch-can, without a master plan, and thus far a fiasco. They say foreign investors are afraid to put money into Turkey. They complain some of the new factories had to shut down because Turkey's shortage of foreign exchange prohibits import of needed raw materials. They charge that the accelerated expansion has caused inflation.

Evidently Menderes is taking a calculated risk based on two premises:

1. The future will take care of itself through increased production, which will pay off expansion debts. Menderes says the turn will come in two or three years when new factories go into production.
2. The United States, which has poured millions into postwar Turkey as a bulwark against communism—75 per cent in military assistance—will have to bail Turkey out of trouble if necessary.

There seems little doubt U.S. diplomats here recognize this latter facet in Turkish official thinking. Coupled with this is an attempt to put the brakes on Turkey's expansion, to make any bailing out cost the American taxpayer as little as possible. American missions in the country are discouraging new expansion plans unless they directly aid the military effort.

Menderes argues that an expanding economy is necessary to support a vast military establishment: a divide of troops for every million people.

15 million members into one giant federation.

The shaggy-browed chief of the United Mine Workers of America remains uncommitted and enigmatic. He declines to give a hint as to whether he will eventually make peace with the AFL-CIO chiefs and give organized labor virtually a solid front in pushing for expansion and political power.

But there are signs aplenty he doesn't intend to at least not right now.

The best hint as to Lewis' thinking comes from his old friend and long-time lieutenant Thomas Kennedy, UMWA vice president, whose statements usually can be taken as an accurate reflection of Lewis' own views.

Kennedy said in reply to a list of questions that organized labor could boost its present membership of 16 million (this includes the AFL, CIO and independents) to more than 26 million members under certain conditions.

Then he added: "These conditions would include, first, a unified labor movement with a militant leadership that is capable of standing up for labor's rights and with the ability to see beyond the end of a Stillson wrench."

The implication is inescapable that Kennedy doesn't think that kind of leadership will be present in George Meany, AFL president who will head the merger and with whom Lewis has been at odds for years.

Kennedy had "no comment" when asked if he could foresee a time when the miners would join the merger and under what conditions such a move might be made.

Kennedy indicated that Lewis and the UMWA believe the AFL and CIO are moving too deeply into politics before consolidating their strength by an organizing drive.

On this score, Kennedy said: "The American labor movement is now and always has been es-entially an economic movement in contrast to the European labor movement, which has been basically a political movement.

"The UMWA foresees the greatest advances for labor to be gained through organizing the unorganized. It would appear obvious that as long as there are approximately 60 million Americans in the work force and only 16 million of them belong to unions, that organized labor still has a tremendous job of organizing to do.

"It stands to reason that political action is not the No. 1 job of organized labor, but is secondary to the basic job of organizing the unorganized. Votes are what count in political action, and unless labor is able to convince the politicians that it can deliver the votes, the politicians are not going to pay much attention to the leadership of labor when that leadership proposes legislation of a favorable nature."

Kennedy thinks labor's greatest achievement in the past 20 years was the organization of the basic mass production industries such as steel, automobiles, electric manufacturing, etc.—and Lewis' success in winning the first industrywide wages and retirement fund for his miners.

What, then, has been labor's greatest failure?

Kennedy said: "The greatest failure has been the failure to spread organization into unorganized fields, particularly in the southern states. This has been partly due to the lack of unity in the labor movement and partly due to restrictive legislation."

Where will John L. Lewis go? No man can say except Lewis, whose shaggy eyebrows are growing gray with age. But at 77, he remains a labor power and there never can be a truly united labor front without him.

World's Largest Flag Ready To Fly Again

DETROIT (U)—The world's largest flag is ready for its annual appearance on Flag Day, June 14. The huge flag weighs three quarters of a ton and measures 235 by 105 feet, roughly half the size of a football field. The J. L. Hudson Co. department store had it made for once-a-year display on the front of its 14-story downtown store.

Mayor Takes Office, But It Isn't There

KILL DEVIL HILL, N. C. (U)—Mrs. Emily Mastian, elected mayor of Kill Devil Hill yesterday, would take office today—but today this town ceases to be a town. Voters, while electing a mayor, repealed their town charter. Property owners, peeved because tax rates had jumped 200 per cent since incorporation in 1953, led the fight to kill the charter.

Keep Cabbage Green

Want to keep cabbage green when you are cooking it? Steam the shredded vegetable in only enough water to keep it from sticking. There should be practically no liquid left in the pan by the time it is tender-crisp. Cover the saucepan while you are cooking the cabbage, but lift the cover several times; this uncovering the pan will help retain the green color.
