To Begin Monday

Cancer Crusade Planned

Monday has been set by the Deaf Smith County unit of the American Cancer Society as the key day for three important events in Hereford toward the prevention and cure of one of the world's leading killers, according to chairman Herman Ford.

Cancer information is to be distributed in the homes, contributions are to be collected, and cancer films are scheduled for showing to ladies only.

Two 15-minute subjects, "Time and Two Women" and "Breast Self-Examination," will begin at 10:30 a. m. at the Star Theatre where educational chairman John David Bryant reported the showings are to be followed by a question and answer period with local doctors in attendance. No admission is being charged for the showing and all women have been urged to attend.

At 5 p. m. on the same day, residential chairman Mrs. Brenda Thomas and a number of volunteers will meet at the Hereford State Bank for materials to be used and distributed in a house-to-house campaign, including both information on the seven warning signals of cancer and collection of donations for the American Cancer Association's fight to curb the killer.

The volunteer workers are to begin their canvass of the city at 5:30 p. m. Monday and then return to the Hereford State Bank when their assignments are completed.

Hereford Mayor Jim Sears has already signed a proclamation designating April as Cancer Control month here. John Aikin, advance campaign director for the drive who has mailed a number of letters requesting contributions, reported that the response has been good in this appeal and that mailed contributions are still being accepted.

The campaign has also received the cooperation of churches here through the Hereford Ministerial Association. Jeff Carlile, head of the drive campaign, has reported that church bulletins will include a cancer message throughout the month under the heading, "A Christian Concern for Cancer." Some local churches have begun this program today, while others — whose bulletins were already printed in advance of the availability of materials — are to use them as soon as possible.

"But whether any contribution is made or not, people receiving the information regarding cancer and following the warning signals between checkups is the most important part of the campaign," Jack Cromartie, district executive director of the American Cancer Society, has informed the chairman and volunteers here. He said the main purpose is the distribution of the educational material.

Material to be distributed will include an envelope which all members of the family can use to return confidential information to the Cancer Society office at Amarillo. The questionnaire does not require a signature but merely information to be checked in the proper box which will help them "plan an ever better educational program."

Pointed out was the little-known fact that 1,500,000 cancer patients are alive today. "People think more in terms of the cancer mortality figures than otherwise," Cromartie said. "But this figure shows progress. However, we want more progress — a larger number of patients who have survived."

Cancer is described as a disease which is characterized by abnormal growth and spreading of cells. It has been discovered that if this malignant process is not controlled or checked, the patient will die.

However, the American Cancer Society reports that many cancers can be cured if detected early in their development and treated by surgery or radiation. Cancer is treated by surgery, x-rays, radioactive substances, and various drugs, chemicals, and hormones.

Cancer can also be prevented. Research has proved that most lung cancers are caused by cigarette smoking, and skin cancers by frequent overexposure to direct sunlight. These can be prevented by avoiding their causes, the Society reports.

Also, certain cancers caused by occupational factors — particularly bladder cancer in the dye industry — have been prevented by eliminating the causative agents.

They also point out that cancer strikes at any age. It affects children as well as adults, but it strikes with increasing frequency with advancing age.

Irene McKinster, on the board of directors of the local unit who is also a service committee member, pointed out that the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, also has services available for cancer patients, which includes equipment for loan, dressings and comfort items, and expendable items, who have the written request of their physician.

These items include hospital beds, wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, gauze sponges, short hospital gowns, tapes, colostomy appliances and bags, bed pans, among several other services required by cancer patients.

Also pointed out was the fact that few American families have been touched by cancer. Local chairmen and volunteers have expressed their dedication toward Monday's drive and have already pointed out that the campaign is actually all-year-long. "Monday is merely the key day."

Red Cross Elects New Directors

New board of directors members announced for the Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross include Mrs. Jim Clark, Fred Fox, Mrs. Herman Ford, Roy Hartman, Bartley Dowell, Mrs. Glenn Anderson, and Mrs. Elmo Hall.

Mrs. Genevieve Miller, executive secretary, reported that they will serve for a 3-year period. Jerry Don George and Mrs. Clint Formby were elected to serve one-year terms on the board.

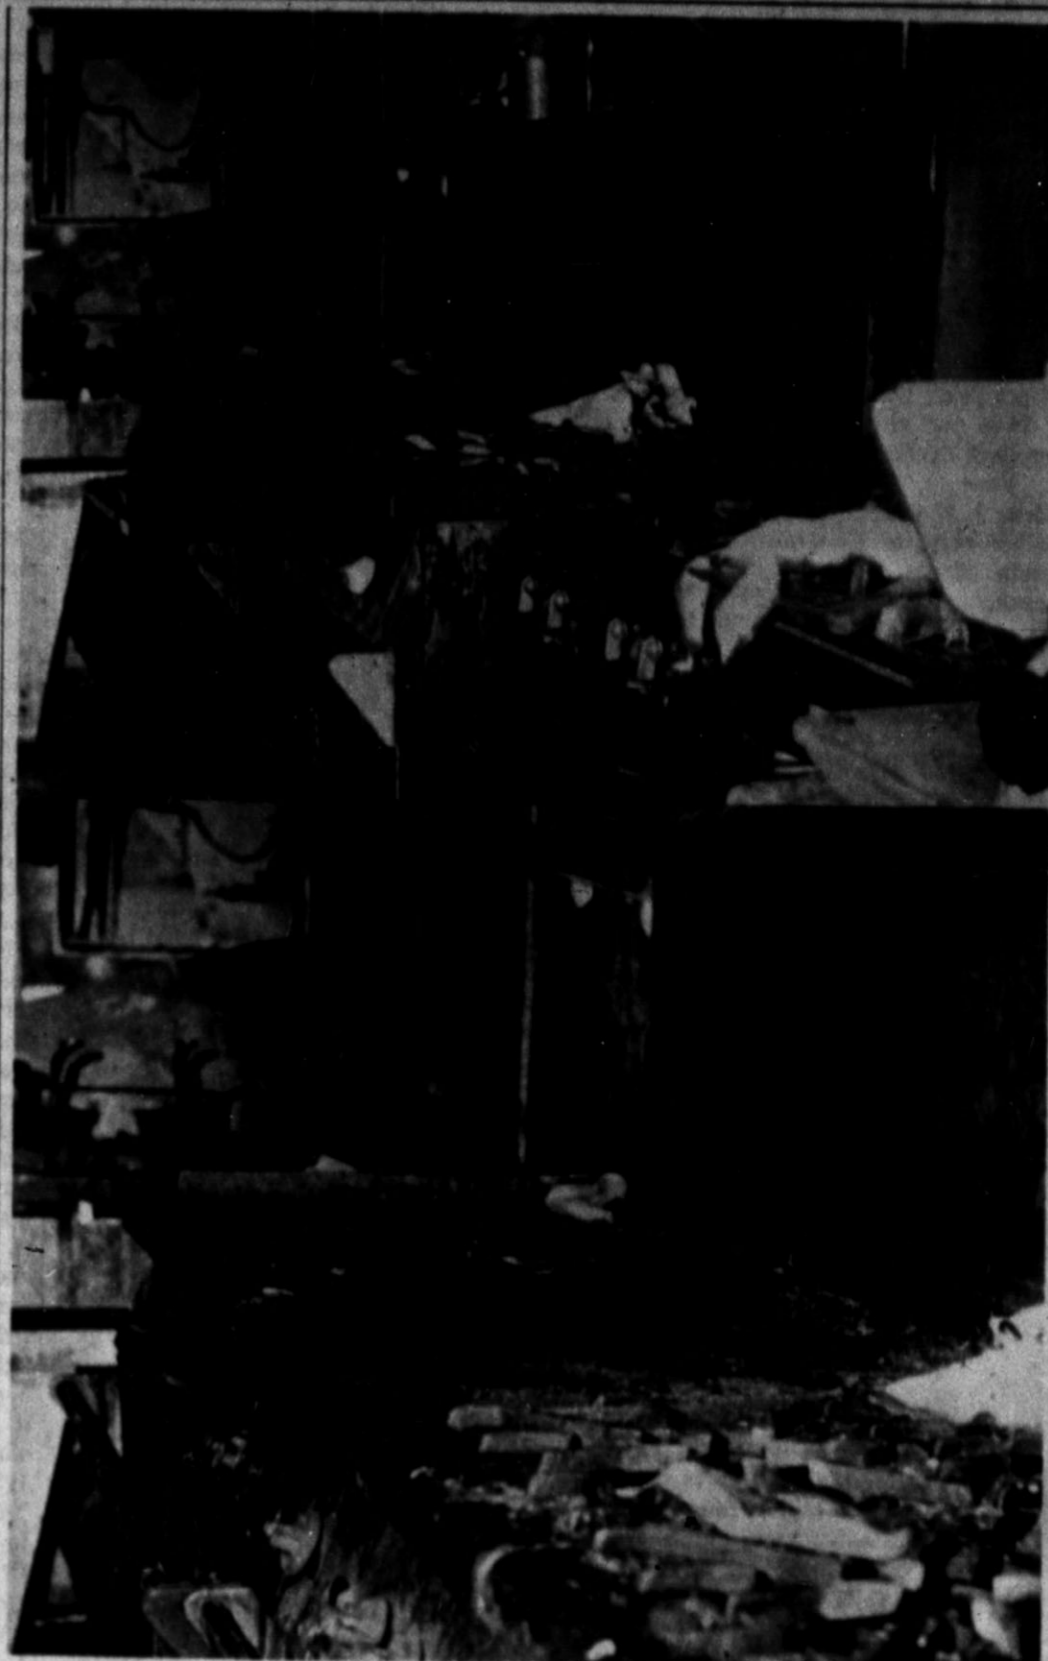

Election of officers is planned at the chapter's quarterly meeting on July 8.

No Injuries Reported In Wreck Friday

No injuries were reported in a two-car accident Friday on US 385 at the intersection of Plains St.

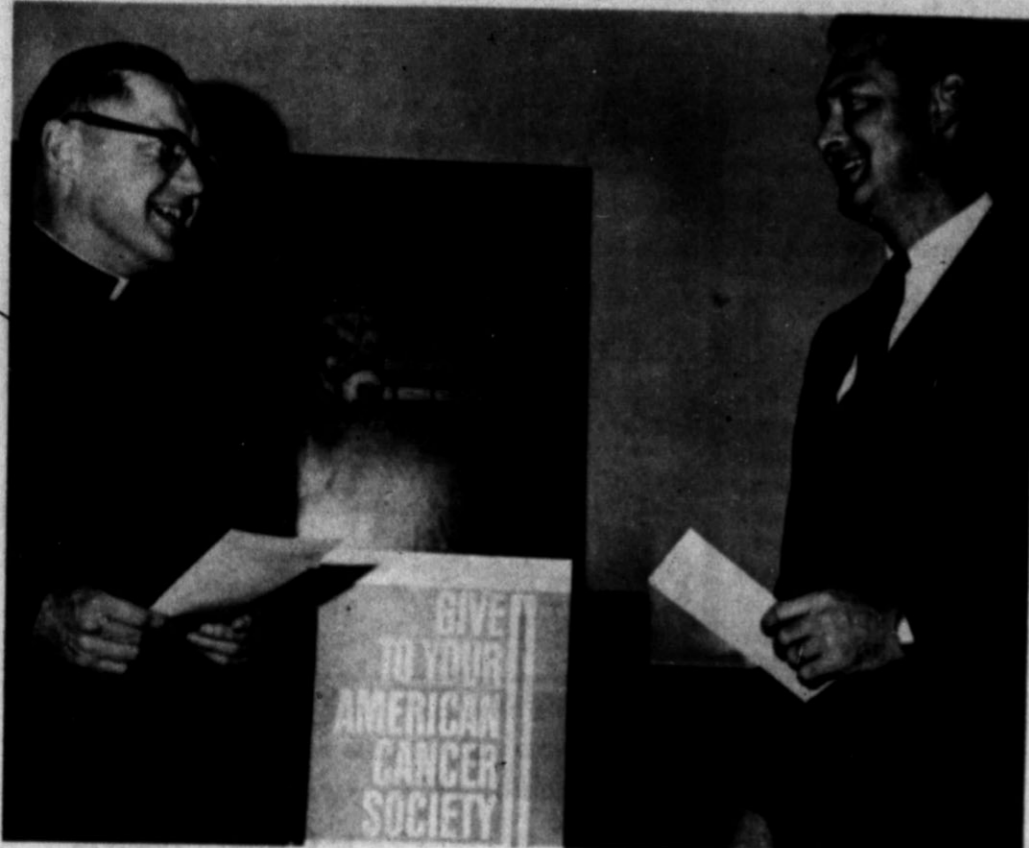

Cars driven by Jacob Perry Woodward of Friona and Frankie Carl Griffith of Wilford collided when the 1963 Ford driven by Woodward, stopped in a line of traffic and was struck from the rear by Griffith, driving a 1966 Ford.

Approximately $425 damage was reported to both vehicles, according to investigating officers Morgan and Martinez.

Bloomer was taken ill Wednesday while working at the store and taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital and then transferred to Amarillo. Mrs. Bloomer, who was at his bedside Saturday, said he would probably be released to the Hereford hospital today.

Rain Totals Spotty

Rainfall measurements recorded in the Deaf Smith County area Friday was reported as spotty. It ranged from one inch down to .03. Comments ranged from "it was real good, but it quit too quick" to "it was almost unmeasurable."

Hereford picked up .52 from a slow rain that continued throughout the day.

H. L. Hershey, 12 to 13 miles northeast of Hereford, and Mrs. Johnny Townsend on the Luther Lesly farm at Milo Center both reported .50 and said that it was "slow and wonderful." Bruce Coleman, one mile south of Bootleg Corner (24 miles west of Hereford), estimated a half-inch of rain.

At Easter, the report was exactly one inch!

Phillip Miller, 18 miles west and six miles north of Hereford, recorded .36 throughout Friday. However, Bill Ellis, 12½ miles north, only picked up .03. J. E. McCabe, east of Dawn, said that the rain had not been measured there but that he had "gotten some."

(Dick) Godwin, area director; Joel Hodges, secretary-treasurer; Jay Boston, membership committee chairman; Virgil Marsh, conservation chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jack-chairman.

Services For Mrs. Hall Held At Wellington

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Sybil Hall, 77, of 212 Western, were conducted Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Wellington, her former home. The Rev. W. R. Lawrence, pastor of First Baptist Church of Clarendon, officiated.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery at Wellington, directed by Kelson Funeral Home of that city. Local arrangements were in charge of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hall died in a hospital here early Thursday morning. She had lived in Hereford since 1958, when she came here from Collingsworth County. Born in Batesville, Ark., April 20, 1891, she came to Texas from Arkansas in 1927.

She married C. E. Hall at Monkstown, Tex., Nov. 23, 1919, and he preceded her in death March 2, 1956. Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Robison of Hereford and Mrs. Joe Thomas of El Paso, ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Rains Cause Cancellations

Due to the rain last Friday, several of the district sporting events which were scheduled for the weekend were cancelled and re-set for a later date.

The Hereford Junior High Track Meet, which was set for Friday, was cancelled and re-set for Tuesday, beginning at 3 p. m. Baseball's district opener was another victim of the moisture as their game with the Canyon Eagles was postponed until Saturday, May 10 when they will meet in a double header at Canyon.

Rain had little bearing on the district track meet which was held in Dumas Saturday as it went along as scheduled. Results were not available at press time, but will be carried, along with pictures, in the Thursday Brand.

The district tennis matches, which were to be held in Hereford for the first time, were rained out and had to be moved to the Canyon High School inside courts. This was done due to the fact that regional qualifiers had to be named by last Saturday night, according to UIL rulings.

In district tennis action, Sandi Lemons was the top contender for the Whitefaces as she won her first game over a girl from Canyon, 7-5 and 6-4, but she then fell to her opponent from Perryton, 6-0 and 6-1. The boys doubles team of John Stagner and Richard Dickson lost their matches to the Tulla team, 7-5 and 6-3 and David Cappel won his first game, 6-3 but was defeated 6-4 and 6-8 in the final two.

Elizabeth Gandy and Judy Roberson teamed up in the girls doubles class but lost to the Dumas girls, 6-0 and 6-0.

Pakistan Slides Slated

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson will be in charge of the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union open meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

The Jacksons, who have recently returned from a tour of Pakistan, are slated to show color slides photographed during the two months they were there. A description of the lives, religions, social culture, agricultural and industrial development will also be given, along with the problems facing the Pakistani people.

Farmers Union has invited all interested in this program to attend — including farmers, business and professional people.

Refreshments are to be served following the program.

Breakfast Club Plans Meeting

An organizational meeting for a new breakfast club will be held Friday at 6:45 a. m. at the Chaparral Restaurant at the Mall, according to Dean Herring.

Purpose of the meeting is to organize a morning club which will provide for the men who find it difficult to attend the various noon civic club luncheons.

Earl Stagner has been appointed temporary president for the club while Wayne Williams has been designated temporary treasurer and Coby Kitchens temporary secretary.

Anyone interested in joining the club may attend the meeting and if they find that attending may cause a conflict, they may contact any of the temporary officers or Herring.

Three Nabbed In Raid Here

Three Latin Americans, ranging between the ages of 16 and 22, were arrested by Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department authorities Thursday morning and charged with possession of marijuana.

Julio Contreras, 22, was arrested at Hereford Wrecking, where he was employed, and just a short time later, Harvey Gomez, 17, and a 16-year-old junior high student were arrested at 306 E. Third St.

Officers had been watching the residence on E. Third for some time and after a number of comings and goings Thursday, they presented a search warrant and found marijuana hidden in the stove.

Contreras, who was on five-year's probation for burglary, and Gomez were jailed pending court action. Contreras' bail was set at $10,000 and at $5,000 for Gomez. The juvenile was released through the juvenile court.

Possession of marijuana carries a penalty of from two years to life imprisonment for the first offense. State law also provides that a vehicle used in the transportation of narcotics can be seized under petition by the district court and sold. The money from the sale will go to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

TSTA Steak Fry Monday

Annual TSTA Steak Fry is scheduled at 7 p. m. Monday in the high school cafeteria, according to La Plata principal Jerry George.

George reported that the affair is for local Texas State Teachers Association members and guests and is not a business meeting. A barbershop quartet is to supply the entertainment.

Washington Report

From Congressman BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1322 LOHMEYER OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20535

Congressman Bob Price praised American Farm Bureau members for a "realistic" approach to the farm problem in remarks before a group of them here Friday morning.

Price quoted the late Henry Wallace, who was Vice President under Franklin D. Roosevelt, as saying that "the American farm problem was insolvable. Despite the best efforts of some of the country's most knowledgeable experts," Wallace contended, "nothing had been evolved to make agriculture a viable enterprise."

"And that is certainly true today," Price said, "when the economic situation of American farmers is the worst since the great depression." "But I believe," Price added, "that both President Nixon and Secretary of Agriculture Hardin understand the urgent and vital need of a substantial increase in farm income and that agriculture must be restored to a sound economic basis."

The bill sponsored by the Farm Bureau would phase out, during a 5-year transitional period, all acreage controls base acreages, marketing quotas, processing taxes, and direct payment for wheat, feed grains and cotton.

During the phase out period, direct payment for commodity programs would be reduced each year beginning in 1971 to 80 percent of the amount spent on 1969 crops and then drop another 20 percent each year.

The plan would continue the crop land adjustment program with amendments which would require the program to be operated on a competitive bid basis with emphasis on whole farms and would require retirement of at least 10 million acres per year for each of the five years of the program.

The Secretary of Agriculture would announce in advance the maximum acreage to be contracted each year and then if the allowed acreage was not bid in, higher bidders could be offered the opportunity to negotiate contracts at the accepted bid level.

Special provisions in the proposed plan would compensate farmers with lower incomes for acreage allotments and base acreages surrendered to the Secretary for permanent cancellation and also provide, retraining and adjustment assistance grants and loans to facilitate transition of eligible farmers to more gainful employment.

Price said he was not necessarily endorsing the Farm Bureau proposal but that he believed the House Agriculture Committee would be receptive to any program that could extend to farmers and the residents of farm communities the same degree of prosperity as is now enjoyed by people in business and industry, Government and the professions.

Price questioned the role of Government price supports, subsidies or acreage controls in "agriculture as it exists today."

Speaking to members of the Texas Grain and Feed Association Saturday morning at their annual convention in Dallas (Sheraton Hotel), Price reviewed the current wheat and feed grain situation in Texas and then turned to the question of legislation to replace the current farm program.

Price said Texas wheat and feed grain producers received almost $150 million in wheat certificates and feed grain price supports and diversion payments in 1968 in addition to market receipts from the sale of those crops. Nationwide, he said, 5 million acres are being diverted from grain production and total payments to farmers will exceed $3 billion. Price said there was general agreement that for the next 5 to 10 years at least, little if any of the acreage that was diverted in 1968 and 1969 will be needed.

In spite of lower exports to Japan from Australia, Price predicted a rising trend for U. S. grain sorghum and corn. Demand for U. S. feed grains has been growing at the rate of 3.5 percent a year, and is expected to continue, especially in view of worldwide demand for livestock products.

He pointed to recommendations made by the President of one of the largest banks in the country that "the time is now propitious to seek a farm program that is responsive to agriculture as it exists today and will become tomorrow."

Such a program, he said, must recognize the existing economic facts, and trends and be oriented toward elimination of Government from the agricultural market place "to the degree possible. . . . We will recognize that many facets of our current program are really consumer programs and we will treat them as such."

Price concluded that a new farm program to replace the existing program by 1971 must envision solutions to the problems that past programs have perpetuated. Such a program, Price believes, would include further retirement of 60 to 80 million acres of crop land, necessary policing for competitive marketing, elimination of unfair trade practices and accuracy in labeling and quality inspection. Such a program would also include research facilities and data collection services and Government support of a healthy international trade.

"The Commercial Farmer," Price said, "has emerged as an independent businessman running a highly mechanized factory in the field who neither needs — nor in most cases desires — price supports, subsidies or acreage controls."

Orphaned Colt Book Subject

A story of an orphaned colt and a novel with the wild west as its setting are two new books now available at the Deaf Smith County Library.

The only warning was the cracking of the bush. The big male lion landed, clashing ferociously, and his weight knocked the mare sideways off her feet. She screamed. The lion lunged again, fastening onto her throat and breaking her neck with a twist of his great paws. The mare's dying kick caught her young colt painfully on the ribs and sent him crashing head over heels into the undergrowth. He jumped up, trembling, and fled.

Instinct drives the orphaned colt forward, many miles into the African wilderness, into the paths of a three-legged hyena, desperate and hungry, and a pack of wild dogs. Only two hundred yards away rests his one slim hope of survival. Soon, drawn by the sweet mother-smell of the zebra who has recently lost her own foal, he attaches himself to a wandering band of zebras and is reared among them as one of their own.

Set in the veldt and forests of modern Africa, THE HORSE, by Siegfried Stander, is one of the great novels of man and animal of our time. In the tradition of the Incredible Journey and other classic novels of survival, it recounts in vivid, absorbing detail the adventures of a magnificent white stallion whose many narrow escapes from death make him a legend among the white and native hunters.

The Horse does savage battle with the leader of the zebra herd, and withstands the ravages of animal predators, floods and droughts, forest fires, and pestilence, until he is sighted by a group of elephant hunters who set out to track him. In spare and eloquent prose, Siegfried Stander captures the drama of the chase and the final duel between the horse and his pursuer, Niemand, the young white hunter. This outstanding animal story will appeal to adult and young adult readers alike.

Jack O'Conner grew up in Tempe, Arizona, in those days before World War I when a boy's own father had living memories of a truly "wild" West as you will read in his new book — HORSE AND BUGGY WEST

The West he knew in his own boyhood — and his delight in that boyhood is very catching — had shed the six-gun for the O'Conner mop and other civilizing frills and furbelows. People still used horses, mostly, but hitched now to a fancy rig — and shying at the sight of the few Reos and other sputtering monsters that were making their first appearance on the town squares. Small boys, in the new-fashioned black-ribbed stockings and knee britches, still got their knuckles chapped playing marbles on unpaved streets.

The Tempe Jack O'Conner recalls was already in the twentieth century, but the flavor of the frontier still permeated daily life. And he summons it up for the reader — the humors, the absurdities, the gaucheries, the pleasures of the horse and buggy West — with a sort of affectionate chuckle that seems to say, just a bit sadly, that the old-fashioned is after all faintly ridiculous. His book is peopled with grandfathers unforgettable, with black-sheep uncles, with a fine and varied collection of Western characters who bring back to us an America — and a childhood — we seem to remember no matter where we were raised.

Concerning Veterans

Vietnam veterans returning home may not be met by parades and bands but they are never overlooked by the mailman, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco.

These veterans should not overlook news they receive in the mail from VA about job opportunities, money for education, free medical care and other benefits, the VA official advised.

"Computers at Austin, Texas, are used to help bring information on veterans benefits to recently released servicemen at the time they are most likely to act on it," Coker said.

"Although veterans at this time are unsettled and likely to be moving about, they should not neglect to read their mail from VA," he added.

A copy of every discharge (Department of Defense Form 214) goes to VA's computer center in Austin. The computer takes note of the veteran's educational attainment and any disability and produces a letter to fit the circumstances, the VA Manager explained.

Currently, about 54,000 letters a month are going out to Vietnam veterans in every part of the United States. They give a VA telephone number where more information is available. A pre-addressed inquiry card is enclosed so that the man who wants help on a specific subject by mail has only to check the right box.

If he writes in his telephone number, a VA officer will call to set up an interview. In some cities with no VA office, special telephone circuits are provided so that veterans can call the nearest VA office in another city without paying for a long distance call.

For the veteran without a high school diploma who has not responded, there is still another letter. He is advised that an appointment has been made for him with a VA representative. If he can't make it, he is asked to select a more convenient time.

Coker urged that relatives and friends see to it that mail left with them for a veteran actually reaches the veteran.

"The Army Green"

By Sfc BERT PINALES
U. S. Army Recruiter

A few weeks ago, we wrote about some of the favorite marching songs of American soldiers. Several people asked us to mention titles of songs soldiers sang during the wars. So, here goes:

The favorites of World War I included "Over There," "K-K-K Katy," "When The Boys Come Home," "Hinky-Dinky, Parlez Vous," and two English favorites, "It's A Long Way To Tipperary," and "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag."

World War II favorites included "Ballad of Americans," "Praise The Lord and Pass The Ammunition," "The Ballad of Rodger Young," "Any Bonds Today?," "There's A Star-Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere," "The Marine Hymn," "Anchors Aweigh," "The Army Air Corps," and "The Field Artillery March," better known as "The Caissons Go Rolling Along."

We can think of only one Vietnam era song. It is, "The Ballad of The Green Beret."

CALLING COED JUNIORS

Girls in their junior year at college who would like to spend a "different," yet interesting, summer might consider the WAC Junior Program. You will spend 4 weeks at Fort McClellan, Ala. as guests of the Women's Army Corps.

Not only will all expenses be paid, including round-trip transportation, but you will also be paid a little over $150 as salary, after deductions.

The entire purpose of the program is to familiarize young women with the Women's Army Corps. There is no obligation to enlist or serve in the WAC. However, young women who desire to serve become eligible to apply for the WAC Student Officer Program. Girls accepted will be paid $300 per month after social security and federal income tax deductions during their last year of college. Upon graduation, they become second lieutenants in the WAC and have to serve a period of two years active duty.

If you are interested in spending the four-week no-strings-attached visit with the Women's Army Corps, contact the WAC Counselor, Cpt. Volita White at 1308 West 8th, Amarillo, 79101 or call 373-2286 or our office 207 East 5th in Amarillo, 79101, or call 373-4214.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know — That the Army has approximately 291 education centers on Army installations around the world so that men and women in the service can take high school, college and vocational courses? Twenty of these centers are located in Vietnam.

— That the Veterans Administration has authorized an increase in the maximum guarantee of GI home loans from $7,500 to $12,500?

— That most Army posts have athletic facilities that rival those of the finest country clubs? Indoor and outdoor swimming pools, fully equipped gymnasiums, stadiums and golf courses are present at almost every location where servicemen and women are stationed.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What other benefits does the Army offer beyond basic pay?

The new single enlistee receives free meals, housing, medical and dental care and uniforms. As he progresses, the young soldier receives training in his job specialty which in civilian life would cost him thousands of dollars. He also has the opportunity to further his education with the Army helping him pay the tuition costs. The married man has other allowances.

Drop by the station or call 373-4214 in Amarillo for more complete information on pay and other benefits.

Wonder who was the fourth monkey?

Labor Disputes Should Be Settled Before The Walkout

Some 40,000 Chicago commuters are among the thousands of people affected by a rail strike that has tied up the railroad services in 14 states. The walkout crippled commuter transportation from the South Side of Chicago and ended all freight and passenger service of the line that stretches from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and calls itself the "Main Line of Mid-America."

Meanwhile, on the Gulf Coast, dock workers have just recently settled a strike that has cost area farmers millions of dollars in revenue, plus the loss of some long standing contracts with foreign countries that could eventually cost billions. These contracts were lost due to the fact that milo could not be shipped from our Gulf ports, and could not be delivered to the consumer. On the other end of the line, the consumers probably had to pay a higher price to have a comparable feed grain shipped from another country, or was forced to accept an inferior product in its place. Dock workers themselves, may never recover lost wages although they finally received a substantial wage increase.

We will be the first to admit that collective bargaining has raised the living standards of the working people throughout this country, but it is unfortunate that labor and management cannot find a mutual meeting ground somewhere between the asking price and the walkout. The rank and file union member may not realize what a strike does to the economy of this nation, to say nothing of the convenience to millions of people, nor does the hard-nosed businessman really profit in the end by being unreasonable.

The high plains farmers may eventually forget that the Gulf Coast dock workers prevented them from selling their products, but we doubt seriously that the 40,000 harrassed commuters will soon forget the traffic tie-ups caused by thousands of commuters driving their own cars into the windy city.

Bad News Is News, Too

Critics of the press often ask why editors seem to sensationalize the news. They wish to know why newspapers appear to accentuate the negative rather than the positive aspects of global, national and local events.

There is no simple answer. But the main problem is that the public — the average newspaper reader, that is — has a very real news sense. People buy newspapers not just to learn how much steel was produced during the past six months, or how well the farmers are faring — but to find out just where the action is.

It is a fallacy to pretend that editors seek out what critics would call "bad" news. Unfortunately, so-called "good" news rarely appeals to the reader who invariably buys many more newspapers whenever events of major importance occur.

The basis of the large black headlines that tend to stress bad or negative news is to a great extent economic. In a free society, a newspaper — particularly the important city newspapers — must sell their product daily in order to survive.

The editor who consistently buries on a back page news about the war in Vietnam, a bloody military uprising in a new African country, the revolt in the United States, or the challenge of Quebec to the rest of Canada soon would find himself without a job. He may believe earnestly that it is his duty to accentuate only "good" news about rising educational levels, greater food output, taller buildings and better roads.

His publisher, or the owner of the newspaper, however, demands that the product is acceptable to the buyer. And the idealistic editor finds also that his competitors do not share his unusual views.

The only press that can afford the luxury of ignoring bad news is the controlled press. Communist and military dictators can order their editors what to print on the front pages of national newspapers.

Until mankind reaches a stage of social enlightenment where each individual considers the fact that "bad" news should be happening at all a personal failure on his part, editors will tend to headline negative events. Only when the reader himself demands that papers print more good news, will any changes occur. — Swift Current (Sask.) Sun

GUARD WELL THE WORD

We who deal professionally with words and their meanings (written or spoken) have a sacred trust to keep. Words are fine tools handed down to us from antiquity by the generations who used them before us. Actually these tools do not belong to us. They are ours in trust for generations to come. So let us use them well and keep their meaning sharp.

Even when we coin a new expression our professional honor demands that we have a care lest we trample the toes of older meanings.

A case in point pops up in a recent advertisement for precision weighing instruments. Just push a button and the exact weight, in grams and milligrams, is "printed on the adhesive tape you see on telegrams," the copy states.

Our marketing director wanted to call this feature "Tell-a-gram but we hooted him down." Amen to that, say we. It's comforting to know that somewhere out there in the mad, mad world of advertising there are kindred souls, eager to help us poor news hacks guard the sanctity of words. — Denver Post

Leave-Taking Overdone

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — State funerals for national heroes are necessary and desirable but the prolonged ceremonies accorded the late Dwight Eisenhower over a five-day period raise the question whether a magnificent career is not cheapened a bit by overdoing the national farewell.

Ike died on a Friday and was finally buried the following Wednesday. His body was moved six times before finally reaching its resting place. The television cameras reported, at least four of the movements.

Ike approved his own funeral plans back in 1966 but it is suspected that he did no more than acquiesce in an outline prepared at the Pentagon. It would have been out of character for the hero of World War II to have sought such prolonged homage. Ike was a no-nonsense man, which is one reason he was so universally beloved.

Many television viewers must have felt that Mamie Eisenhower was subjected to too much public exposure during five-day ceremonies. A 72-year-old widow is entitled to a bit more privacy during her ordeal. It is a tribute to Mamie that she was able to bear up as well as she did.

The laborious train trip halfway across the continent to Abilene, Kansas, with mourners or curiosity-seekers all along the route, after all the doings in Washington, must have seemed to be the last straw to Mamie and other members of the family.

Ike Played Double Role

Dwight Eisenhower played a double role in life. Not only was he the man most responsible for his country's greatest military victory but he served two terms as President of the United States. His passing was therefore an unusual although not unprecedented event.

If he had been only a winning General, he would have been due the nation's highest honors. To have also served as President required that something special be done to pay homage to his memory. Nevertheless, the thought persists that the leave-taking was overdone.

The millions of us who revered Ike had about run out of tears by the time he was finally buried. The same must have been true of his family, although all of them bore up nobly under the most trying circumstances. Most next-of-kin are usually relieved when the funeral is finally over.

Normally a death calls for a funeral service and a burial service. Ike had what amounted to three funerals in Washington, plus the final services in Abilene, not counting the various processions, all closely covered by the networks' inevitable cameras.

Politics Always Intrudes

No national leader can pass from the scene without politics rearing its ugly head. It is ironic that non-politician Eisenhower's death should have pointed up that fact so markedly. One Senator even managed a special mention in the press because he did not use his VIP status to get a fast trip past the coffin in the Capitol Rotunda but stood in line for an hour, just like the common people.

Then there were the international mourners. Did the King come or send his Prime Minister to the funeral? Or did some nation assign the mourner's role to a mere Ambassador? These matters were watched and weighed in Washington.

Inevitably, state funerals lie ahead. Let's be reasonable and dispatch the departed with proper honor. But let's not overdo it lest our national sincerity be opened to proper question.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

THE BOY WITH THE X-RAY EYES — Guy Fenley, as a 13-year-old sixth grader, is credited with "discovering" one of Texas' greatest oil fields by using his uncanny ability to "see" through the ground.

As a youngster of eight, Fenley discovered that he could locate underground water through some sort of unusual vision. Farmers and ranchers in his native Zavala County gladly paid to have "the boy with the x-ray eyes" tell them where to dig their wells. The youth never failed.

In 1901, when a Uvalde oil company purchased some leases at Spindletop, near Beaumont, Guy Fenley was taken there to see if his strange powers also included finding oil. They did, and he picked almost the exact spot where the great gusher, Spindletop No. 1, later was brought in.

Mr. Fenley, who died a few months ago at La Pryor, always felt that he had a God-given gift which would be spoiled by selling it. It was. When his father began selling his services, Guy began to lose his strange vision. Throughout his adult life, he was never able to find either oil or water again.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — In 1850, a Comanche raiding party captured a white baby, decapitated it and placed its head atop a mountain in Llano County.

White settlers promptly named the peak Babyhead Mountain. Later a creek and a settlement founded nearby were given the same name.

THE CASE OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN — Postal inspectors are still looking for the mysterious stranger who made a lot of farmers around Dublin and Hamilton happy by leaving $100 bills in their mail boxes.

Residents on rural routes began finding plain white envelopes containing a $100 bill in their mail boxes in September, 1965. Usually the money appeared after a man in an expensive white automobile drove past.

Nobody ever recognized the man, and the gifts stopped after awhile. The post office wants to find the stranger, however, because it's against the law to put anything in a mail box except properly stamped mail.

TEXAS BRAG — Baylor University at Waco houses the world's largest and most complete collection of the works and memorabilia of the English husband-and-wife poetry team of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning.

Notable Browning collections are owned by Oxford University in England, the British Museum, the Library of Congress and the New York Public Library. All of them combined, however, cannot match the contents of Baylor's Browning Library, put together over a lifetime by Professor A. Joseph Armstrong.

BUT NO HOT WATER? — At least one Texas home boasted the amenities of an indoor bathroom as early as 1854.

Enoch Jones, who built a two-story stone home at Van Army, Bexar County, 115 years ago included what is believed to be the first complete indoor plumbing system to be installed in a private house in Texas. The house is still in use as a residence.

65 YEARS AGO — 1904

Garner, Hay & Webb this week let the contract for the erection of a handsome brick building on their lot on the corner next to the Hereford Mercantile Company and Snyder & Lacey began breaking ground early Tuesday morning. The house is to be built of pressed brick, one hundred feet long and specially arranged as a grocery store. This, when completed, will be one of the best houses in Hereford and will add much to the substantially of the town.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

The 1918-1919 record for freakish weather still holds good. Here it is, April 10, and outdoors the landscape closely resembles what most people would picture as a typical Arctic scene in the dead of winter. Tuesday was a cold, windy, rainy day; and about 6 p. m. a blow from the north came up, bringing with it mixed sleet and snow which one local citizen described as a "regular wampus." The ground was soon covered with sleet, and during the night a heavy snow fell, followed by a lighter snow Wednesday morning.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

A last minute and well organized coup was executed in the election last Saturday of trustees to the Hereford school board, electing three unannounced candidates. Those chosen were Louis LeGrand, D. H. Alexander and Cliff Hicks. Seeking re-election and the only ones whose names were on the ballot were Wirt Phillips, Jeff Gilbreath and John Biggs.

25 YEARS AGO — 1944

Mrs. Pearl Boyer received word Monday that her son, Lt. William B. Boyer, was missing in action. The news came in a message from Lt. Boyer's wife, who lives in California, who stated that she had been informed by the war department that her husband was missing in action over Germany since March 25.

15 YEARS AGO — 1954

New school board officers were elected, approval was given for the purchase of three new school buses, and the decisions on buying furniture for the new high school were put off for two weeks at the regular school board meeting Monday night. Howard Gault was elected president of the board; Ira Scott was elected vice president; and Robert Wagoner secretary, all by acclamation. At the Star: 5 Days starting Friday. The winner of the coveted Academy Award for Best Picture of the Year, "From Here to Eternity" with Burt Lancaster, Montgomery Clift, Deborah Kerr, Frank Sinatra and Donna Reed.

10 YEARS AGO — 1959

The Hereford City Commission in a special called meeting Monday approved a $23,695 slash in expenses at building the proposed Hereford Community Center and let a $107,400 building contract to the Killingsworth Construction Co. of Dimmitt. Two new board members took office as the Hereford Rural High School District trustees considered a variety of topics Tuesday night. Dr. L. B. Barnett and Ivan Block were sworn in as trustees replacing Bert Bloomer and Marcus Latham on the board. In the election which followed, W. R. "Dub" Hair was named as new president, B. F. Cain as vice president and Dr. L. B. Barnett as secretary.

HPRF To Offer Guide for Cotton

Time is nearing when High Plains farmers will begin planting this year's cotton crops.

One of the most useful guides in planning this year's cotton farming program can be the 1968 Annual Research Report of the High Plains Research Foundation. Information contained in cotton research results can make the difference in profits for the farmer using proper management guides.

Presently most farmers are in the midst of the pre-plant irrigation schedules. According to Jim Valliant, Foundation soil scientist, the pre-plant irrigation is important to insure adequate moisture for seed germination and early plant growth. He added that research at the Foundation has shown irrigation water applied a month to three weeks ahead of planting date is most satisfactory.

Optimum planting date for maximum yield and highest quality cotton in the area is from April 25 to May 10.

Other tips in planting cotton, for optimum yields and quality, Valliant suggested planting of top quality seed in land with adequate seed-bed preparation. "Plans already should be made for adequate weed control," the scientist said.

Valliant said that optimum planting time for best yields is when the soil temperature has reached a 10-day average of at least 60 degrees at the eight-inch depth.

He also noted that farmers might consider results in past tests in which lint yields from cotton irrigated at the pre-square stage showed significant increases.

The 1968 report reveals that irrigating every other row at the pre-square stage of growth produced higher yields and returns than solid irrigation at pre-square or solid first bloom stage of growth.

The every other row irrigation produced 497 pounds of lint per acre compared to 402 pounds and 439 pounds of lint for the other two methods respectively. "Also tagging of the blooms showed that 88 to 93 per cent of the lint was produced from the first four weeks of blooming," Valliant pointed out.

This skip-row irrigation method at pre-square showed an increase in lint produced from the first two weeks of bloom. "The pre-square irrigated cotton produced 336 pounds of lint from the bloom set in the first two weeks while the first bloom irrigated cotton produced only 304 pounds during the same period," Valliant said.

He said lint from cotton blooming after the first four weeks of blooming showed rapid micronaire deterioration.

"The skip-row pre-square irrigation plus one late-summer watering yielded 487 pounds of lint per acre while the first bloom irrigation method produced 439 pounds per acre or a difference of $14 per acre profit," Valliant said.

The Hereford Kiwanis Club is beginning a drive to form another club in town, to meet at breakfast time. For years there has been a need for either an evening club or morning club since there are many, many people in town who would enjoy working with a civic organization but cannot do so because of the lunch hour conflict. The local Kiwanis Club has been one of the most active clubs in town, and it is fitting that this organization should take the lead in forming the "breakfast" club.

The Kiwanians started on a membership drive some two years ago and earned the reputation as the fastest growing club in town. Indeed, it has now become the second largest — and according to members — they try harder. However, they are finding that size is not necessarily the criteria for an active club, although it certainly helps when you have to chop firewood. Interest in the club and the community is the thing that keeps a club percolating. And the local Kiwanians have had that interest.

Although a member of another fine civic organization in Hereford, I still enjoy visiting with the Kiwanians and "watching" them work.

Anyway, we wish them well in their latest endeavor, and would bet dollars to doughnuts that they get the job done.

The folks over at McDowell Drug are in the process of remodeling the store and it should be nice when they finish. They have added carpet to areas around the front of the store, new gondolas have been placed in the store, and a general fix-up, clean-up campaign is now underway. Work should be completed by the end of next week, according to Jim McDowell, but it will probably take a little longer than that to get all the new shelves filled with merchandise.

—HB—

And out at Sugarland Mall, Joe Easley is planning to open the new Chaparral Restaurant Tuesday, bringing food service back to the Mall for the first time in several months. Preston "Red" Hagans will be the manager of the new organization. Preston has been in the cafe business in Hereford, and has lived in this area for many years.

The little rain that fell Friday was very refreshing. Although the moisture totals varied greatly in the county, and not too heavy anywhere, we are sincerely grateful for what did come. It will help.

LOPAT IS EXPO SCOUT

HILLSDALE, N. J. — The end of the baseball season meant nothing more than a stop at home for a change to fall clothing for Ed Lopat, former Yankee southpaw ace.

During the last six weeks of the season Lopat had scouted all National League teams except the Houston Astros for the Montreal Expos, one of the four expansion teams for 1969. The former manager and general manager of the Kansas City Athletics then went to Montreal to recommend players who might help the Expos.

AFS Student Speaks to Club

Calliopean Club members heard Theo ten Have, student from The Netherlands, talk about his home country, his family and school life, and his reactions to West Texas living, at a meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Sam Self.

Introduced by Mrs. George Warner, program chairman, the youth who is spending this year here and attending Hereford High School under the American Field Service program, showed pictures of his home city and other parts of Holland as he gave background information about its government, economy and society, then told specifically of his own experiences and answered questions informally. A nominating committee was appointed, with Mrs. Emil Dettman as chairman, to present a slate of officers for the 1969-70 term to be elected at the next meeting which will be held in Mrs. Cameron Gault's ranch home.

Members present included Mmes. Emmett Milburn, Alton Fraser, Tom Kendrick, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., M. W. Nobles, Dolson Palmer, Sue James, David Gibson, B.F. Cain and Dettman.

Gerald Warren of North Carolina State will be seeking his second kick-starting title in football this season. He scored 70 points last year.

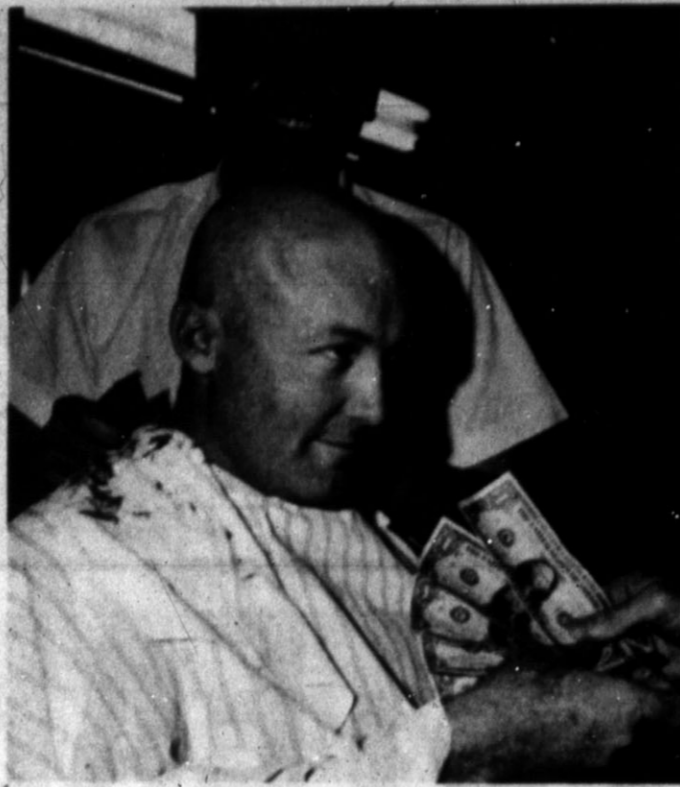

Member Added At Club Meet

Mrs. Charlie Williams became a member of Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club at its meeting Friday morning in Mrs. M. D. Henson's home. Mrs. Richard Sims presided for business and reminded members that new officers will be installed at the next meeting.

In a work period, members piped a many-colored hobo sketch on large rectangular cakes, directed by Mrs. Henson and Mrs. Sims. The former had a completed hobo cake on display, and Mrs. J. A. Crofford showed decorated sugar mold Easter eggs.

Also present were Mmes. Leroy Edwards, Howard Hunter, Richard Fortenberry Jay Kerr, Lloyd Smith and Lynn Pittard.

Keypunch Of Amarillo Set

AMARILLO — Keypunch of Amarillo will begin its first classes Tuesday, according to co-owners T. M. Brooks of Dallas and Keith Adams of Amarillo. Located at 2011 S. Georgia, it is a franchised school of Keypunch Inc. of Grand Prairie near Dallas.

Adams, who is news director of KGNC radio and television, reported that "this is a separate venture not connected with KGNC" and will continue his employment there in addition to the school.

A training course designed to teach the operation of all types of IBM Keypunch machines, Adams said the course can be completed in four to six weeks by attending class 4 hours per day 5 days per week. "Morning, afternoon and night classes are now being filled," he reported, "and classes will be starting continuously with each student progressing at his or her own rate."

Adams said that Keypunch of Amarillo offers its graduates a free placement assistance service.

Letter To Editor

Dear editor:

I'm writing this letter to express my opinion that the judge, school officials and sheriff's department have done a good job and we appreciate it. I should be the last person to be giving my thanks to these people, because I neither like nor respect them. However, the fact remains that this town's youth has been denouncing them for a long time, and I think someone should extend our gratitude when they accomplish something which benefits the community and especially the young people.

Narcotics, dope, drugs, whatever you want to call it, is not acceptable to our society, religion, or laws. Narcotics have never done anything except ruin the people who use it. Dope is degrading to the school, your health, your religion, your morals and the community, whether it is habit-forming or not.

I will be highly hypocritical in pointing out the most important reason not to use drugs. The law. I have no respect for the law, just the punishment you receive if you are caught breaking it. But the fact remains, and neither the people who use drugs nor I can change it, that mankind cannot exist in a civilized state without these laws. I think the majority has the right to set out standards and make our laws. We can all thank God that the majority is against the use of drugs.

Don't throw stones. I can't condemn these drug users. I don't know if I would take dope or not. None of us can say we have the strength and will to refuse until the prospect has presented itself. In short, if you haven't made the choice between being cool, not being a square, being one of the crowd, or being what society expects you to be, you have no business feeling superior to the person who has made the decision and lost. I am just plain chicken. I have no desire to make this decision.

The people and organizations who have caught high school students involved with narcotics this past week have done us a great favor. They have expelled a disease from the community which most people didn't know existed. The important thing for the young people is to have the strength to refuse when this problem comes knocking on the front door again.

Prehn Nanninga,
Student,
Hereford High School.

Dear Editor:

Your editorial "It's Time to Pull Together" has been on our bulletin board since it was published and has received most favorable comments. Don Kimball, our State President from Amarillo, was in the office and asked that we express our thanks to you for the excellent article. Deaf Smith County has certainly made phenomenal progress in getting representatives of the farm organizations to work together to help the farmer. Other areas are using our county as an example that it can be done! We take just pride in this fact and having your influence to help us, we feel that the farm outlook is very optimistic.

Sincerely,
Edna Marnell

Principals On West Coast

Hereford Schools assistant superintendent Roy Hartman reported that Charles Duvall, principal at Northwest; Ray Todd, principal at Central; Phillip Shook, principal at Shirley; and assistant superintendent Robert Holman left Friday to attend the National Elementary Principals Association meeting at Las Vegas, Nevada.

Hartman said that these men will tour the Fountain Valley Elementary School at Los Angeles on Monday. This school is "one of the truly non-graded continuous progress schools in the United States," he said.

D. C. Martin, principal at Alkman, will join the other principals on Tuesday in Las Vegas. They will return to Hereford Saturday.

Della Stagner, principal at Bluebonnet, attended the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association meeting at San Antonio Wednesday through Saturday and was unable to make the Las Vegas meeting due to the date conflict.

FUNKS' HYBRIDS

FUNK'S G-4333

G-4333 is a short season, high-yielding, strong-standing, single cross which established top yield records in 1968. At Tullia 185 bushels per acre was chalked up and 147 bushels per acre made at Dimmitt. G-4333 is very attractive with uniform stalk and ear height. It responds to higher plant population and narrow rows where fertility and water make top yields possible and does unusually well under average conditions. G-4333 has outyielded competitors in this early maturing category. Be sure to plant G-4333 in 1969.

FUNK'S G-4697

G-4697 is a medium maturity high-yielding, strong-standing hybrid producing grain of excellent quality. Yields of 179.5, 175, 154, and 143 bushels per acre have been recorded in 1968 in Castro county. G-4697 produces uniform wide leaves and girthy ears. Excellent threshability is reported. Plant early for highest yields and superior standability.

G-711AA is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711AA was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway; with 30-05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711AA tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planting for silage you should be planting G-711AA.

Summer Bloom Is Club Topic

Because her new home is in a section of Hereford where paving has not been completed, and the all-day rain Friday made streets muddy, Mrs. N. D. Bartlett played hostess to Garden Beautiful Club at Community Center that afternoon instead of at home.

Mrs. W. E. Young was co-hostess. Mrs. Leo Witkowski gave the program, discussing Planning For Blooms All Summer. She spoke of planting and cultivation to be done in gardens now, in order to have a succession of summer flowers.

Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. presided for business. Members planned to make gifts of rose bushes to women who were hostesses for the club's tour of homes last fall.

Announcement was made of the spring luncheon of Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, with which Garden Beautiful Club is affiliated, to be held April 29 in Community Center. The annual fine arts program is scheduled.

Members were also reminded of a film showing sponsored by the county chapter of the American Cancer Society, at the Star Theater Monday at 10:30 a. m.

Present were Mesdames T. E. Seigler, Charlie Hood, Louis Woodford, Tom Carter, B. E. Roberson, Deward Roberson and Ray Cowsett.

Work Day In Community Church Is Held By Bippus' H. D. Club

Turning painters and decorators for the afternoon, members of Bippus Home Demonstration Club held a work session Wednesday at Bippus Community Church and spent several hours painting the interior and preparing curtains for hanging.

Redecoration of the church building, which is used as a center for community activities in that part of the county, is the major project of the club this year.

Satin pillowcases will be sold to raise funds for the project, and have been received and distributed to members who will be the saleswomen.

Members chose Mrs. Charlie Burk as the club nominee for a county delegate to the Texas H. D. Association convention on this spring. The next meeting was announced for May 14 in the home of Mrs. Wayne Sifford.

Those present to join in the work Wednesday were Mesdames J. V. Perrin, C. T. Douglas, C. F. Homfeld, Jimmie Bradley, John Hill, G. V. Hall, Sifford and Burk.

Style Show Scheduled For Newcomers Club

A spring style show, scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:30, is to be presented to members and guests of the Newcomers Club at the First National Bank, according to the club president, Mrs. Terry Bloxom.

The parade of spring styles is being presented by The Pants Cage and Sweetbriar Shops Inc.

Mrs. Mack Kemp will be narrator for the show with Mrs. Fred Schmidt in charge of arrangements.

ANNIVERSARY

PIONEER STUDY CLUB celebrated the 60th anniversary of its organization in the spring of 1909, with a tea in Community Center Tuesday to which members of other women's clubs in the county were invited. Wearing costumes suggestive of the city's early years, members greeted scores of callers during the afternoon.

RECEIVING CALLERS, from right are Mrs. Delmar Sigle, club president; Mrs. J. M. Gililand, only charter member still active in the club; Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, president of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of

Break Away For Spring

By Mrs. Arger Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Spring '69 is the season to break away from the tired ideas of winter. Let's cast off the traditional ways of dressing this spring in favor of new Proportions and Freedom of Choice.

A RETURN TO feminine, closer-to-the-body clothes is the style for spring '69. This feminine mood will be complemented by pale, subtle colors, a trend to neutrals and toned-down combinations.

Newest in colors will be pale peach, apricot and coral. Also in the pale range, setting the feminine mood this spring will be silvery greys, lilac, iris, and pinks and greens with a yellowish cast. Pales will be combined with neutrals rather than other pales.

Semi-bright colors, too — not as bright as last season's — will be in vogue. The new medium brights will have a subtle quality: clear blues and greens and sunny yellow.

SPRING COLORS will carry over into summer, perhaps going a little brighter. One of the biggest looks for summer will be the favorite red-white-blue combination. It will be featured in every type of fabric in prints, yarn dyes and jacquards.

Of course, traditional dark tones will be shown for "transition" apparel. Liney brown, dark green, navy and red in sheer fabrics will be popular in summer and fall fashion.

Like color, there is a dramatic change in prints for spring. They're going feminine — small to medium florals, precisely drawn, and wallpaper stripes.

AS FOR TEXTURE — fascinating blends of fibers offer a variety of effects. Flocking will be popular, especially in sheers, for the sweet, innocent look.

In the limelight this year will be clip spots, voiles, lenos, and woven patterns in sheers. Heavier fabrics including poplin, covert and clinging crepes, provide a wide choice in spring fashion.

In sum, spring will mark a change from the bold, chic fashion of '67 and '68 to a soft, all-woman look.

ONE OF THE NICE things about spring is strawberries.

It's that time of year again. So, picture a colorful bowl of large, plump and juicy berries and cream.

Few foods tickle the palate more flavorably. But, because strawberries are so delicate and delicious, they also are subject to weather, shipping and marketing hazards.

You'll find your best berries near home — in your own or neighbors' garden. Next-best is berries from nearby commercial areas like Louisiana, South or East Texas, Arkansas and, later in the season, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. California berries have a reputation for providing a dependable supply.

BECAUSE THE season is so short, you have to catch them at your market when they arrive. Most stores will feature strawberries in season. Watch for local ads. Then, enjoy them to the fullest.

Market news offices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture do not predict the volume of berries that will be available. But it's evident they're on their way. A few Louisiana and South Texas berries already are being picked. There'll be more.

If strawberries and cream is your type of warm-weather dish, you are "at home" with millions of other Americans.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service recommends berries with a full red color, a bright luster, firm flesh, and those with the cap stem still attached. The best berries are dry and clean. The juice should be inside.

For a special treat, have you ever tried sour cream and strawberries? Try this a few times — thick, creamy and ice-cold sour cream, instead of usual sweet or whipped cream. It will give variety to your enjoyment.

STRAWBERRY BAVARIAN CREAM

- 1 T. unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 C. hot water
- 3/4 C. Confectioner's sugar
- 2 small cartons commercial sour cream
- 1/2 C. cold water
- 1 C. sliced strawberries
- 1 T. lemon juice

Whole strawberries
Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot water. Chill until partially set. Beat until frothy. Add sweetened crushed strawberries and lemon juice; mix well. Fold in sour cream. Chill in large mold lined with crushed vanilla wafers or graham crackers, until set. Garnish with whole berries.

Strawberry flavored gelatin could be used, if you like that much fruit flavor.

I CAN HARDLY wait to see Pet Ott, Vivian Burk and Bill Ellis to get even with them by bragging on a nephew. They are always telling me smart things their nieces and nephews do.

Anyway, our nephew Marion Neal, a senior at Roswell High recently earned the top score on the Twentieth Annual Mathematics Examination, at RHS.

In the four high school classes, 140 students took the test. A sophomore student was second in the scoring. We are very proud of him and also glad to learn he has been accepted for admission to New Mexico State at Las Cruces.

AFS STUDENTS HONORED TODAY—Gillian MacArthur, a Hereford exchange student in 1962-63, shown here with Mrs. A. B. (Hap) Higgins, with whom she made her home during her stay here, will be a special guest today at a tea to be held in honor of all area Foreign Exchange Students and friends. Hosted by the American Field Service Chapter of Hereford, the tea will be held at the Community Center from 3-5 p.m. Hailing from Edinburgh, Scotland, Miss MacArthur arrived in Hereford last week and will stay here for a three week visit. Some 17 exchange students from throughout the Panhandle will be honored including the two students in Hereford this year, Sharon Watson and Theoden Have. —Staff Photo

"The Lettermen" — At Canyon Wednesday

Lettermen At WTSU Soon

The Lettermen, a trio of popular recording artists, are booked for an appearance at West Texas State University in Canyon at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Ticket price range is announced as $3, and $2.25 for students of WTSU presenting their identification cards.

The trio, consisting of Tony Butala, Gary Pike and Jim Pike, are noted for their unique sound, one described as listenable, creative and responsible. Since their creation in 1961, they have appeared at more than 1,200 colleges throughout the country and are currently on their twentieth cross-country tour. Their first single record,

"The Way You Look Tonight," has sold more than a million copies to date. Their second and third singles, "When I Fall In Love" and "Come Back, Silly Girl," sold almost 2-million copies. Their first LP, "A Song For Young Love," was a number-one best-seller, remaining on the music trade charts for 58 straight weeks. Their Christmas album, "For Christmas This Year," remains the number-two best-selling holiday album in release.

In 1966, their total album sales reached the incredible mark of more than 840,000.

The Lettermen were first spotted by comedian George Burns who took them on tour with them. When Jack Benny saw them with Burns, he signed them for an additional tour.

In addition to their college circuit, The Lettermen are an attraction in Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe, Reno, Chicago, Los Angeles, Miami, New York — in the more adult and sophisticated hotels and night clubs.

Poisoning Hazards Topic For Club Talk

Household cleaners and insecticides add to the hazards of poisoning in the home today, Mrs. T. B. Thomas told members of Westway Home Demonstration Club as she gave the program Thursday, and these as well as medicines should be kept in safe places, out of reach of children.

Mrs. Eugene Fangman was hostess in her home. Mrs. Thomas spoke of common plants which are also poisonous, saying that leaves of peach and oleander may be dangerous.

Mrs. Albert Lamb demonstrated the making of tomato bread as another part of the program, and sandwiches made with this bread were served as refreshments.

Mrs. Thomas was selected as the club's nominee for a county delegate to the Texas State H. D. Association convention.

PTO Meet Is Postponed

No PTO meeting is planned at Northwest Elementary School here Tuesday night. The meeting has been postponed due to the fact that principal Charles Duvall will be out of the city at that time.

Duvall is scheduled to attend the National Elementary Principals Meeting at Las Vegas and tour schools in and near Los Angeles.

Date of the next Northwest PTO meeting is not definitely set, Duvall reported.

Andy Coe, a star linebacker for the past two seasons, will captain Yale's 1969 football team. He is a 195-pounder from Wilmette, Ill.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Only a few years ago club-women's hats were a sure-fire subject of jokes, and a cartoonist would identify a character as the ladies' club president by drawing her with an overelaborate chapeau.

TIMES HAVE changed; at the biggest gathering of club-women in the county this season, Pioneer Club's anniversary tea Tuesday, many of the guests wore no hats at all and of course the hostesses were hatless. Still, there were some pretty spring bonnets in evidence.

Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, the district Federated Club president who was in the receiving line, wore a close-fitting toque of shiny material with an ornament dangling over her forehead in front. Mrs. Dolson Palmer's hair was all covered with the mass of pink flowers that formed her wig-like hat, and Mrs. W. E. Dameron was a smart sight in a white suit and a white straw sailor with big green and white roses circling the crown.

DRESSES IN styles suggestive of pioneer days in Hereford were worn by hostess club members. Mrs. William Wimberley's was an authentic one of 1909, the year the club was organized, a sheer white cotton frock with lace-edged square collar.

Mrs. John Patton, like several other members, chose a trim white shirtwaist and black skirt typical of that period, and she lifted her skirt to show an heirloom item in her costume, a petticoat with a wide border of hand-crocheted lace.

All the Pioneer Club members were asked to stand together while Mary Jo Godwin sang to them, her own version of a song popular a few years ago which she rendered as "Ain't They Sweet?"

WHO SHOULD stand with them but Marlin Gilliland, who insists that he is a charter member of the club. Anyway, he says he was present at its first meeting and he goes to all its anniversary parties.

His mother, Mrs. J. M. Gilliland is really the charter member, the only one still active in the club, and as a child he did accompany her to the meeting that resulted in the club organization. Guess that makes him at least an honorary charter member.

It was nice to see Mrs. R. L. Wilson at the tea, and have a short chat with her. She has been staying in, obedient to her doctor's advice, taking it easy. It's good to know she felt well enough to spend an hour helping play hostess. And she was on the decoration committee, aiding Mrs. W. C. Hromas in making the beautiful tablecloth.

LOOKING THROUGH the spring calendar of cultural events in Texas issued by the Texas Fine Arts Commission, I see that the play listed perhaps most often in the Theater section is Charley's Aunt, which Hereford Community Players are to stage here May 1-3.

In fact, I think it's in a tie

Bride-Elect Is Honoree At Shower

While she was visiting in her parents' home at Post during the Easter vacation, Miss Sammie Kay Caffey, bride-elect, was complimented with a shower in the Community Room of First National Bank in that city.

Miss Caffey, a teacher in Hereford schools, is to be married May 31 to Herb Gerner of Post.

She and her mother, Mrs. W. C. Caffey Jr., were in the receiving line at the evening shower with Mrs. Alton D. Taylor of Lubbock, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Floyd A. Hodges, one of the hostesses.

Others of the hostess group presided in turn at the refreshment table, which was covered with a blue cloth and centered with white iris and chrysanthemums arranged with white tapers. Mrs. Don Robinson of Justiceburg at the bride's book where callers registered.

Housing Problem Subject Of Sen. Tower's Report

There is no country in the world whose citizens are better housed than those in the United States.

That fact stands as a testimonial to the effectiveness of the free enterprise approach production — and to the skill and ingenuity of the housing industry.

But there is still much to be done. Our population has grown rapidly. Much of our existing housing has deteriorated. There is a large and increasing demand for safe, sanitary housing, large enough to adequately serve family needs. Low-income families particularly are short of decent housing.

The federal government properly has the role of assisting and encouraging private enterprise to meet the housing needs of low-income families.

Today there is an unprecedented demand for housing. Some estimate the need for 26 million new housing starts over the next 10 years. Providing new housing in such a large quantity presents a tremendous task for the housing industry. Last year, some 1.5 million new housing units were begun. The year before, the figure was 1.3 million.

The 1.3 million is only one-half the annual production this country may have to produce annually over the next decade.

Whatever production is achieved, logically will depend on the resources available to do the job — specifically land, labor materials and money.

High costs of materials and high interest rates on borrowed money, particularly may act as a drag on our housing production in future years.

The National Association of Home Builders estimates that lumber costs account for about 20 percent of the total construction cost of a single-family dwelling.

Recent hearings before the Senate Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee, of which I am ranking Republican member, showed that during the last year, lumber prices have skyrocketed. Plywood prices doubled during the year and costs of softwood lumber jumped 50 percent. It was estimated that rising lumber costs added about $1,300 to the construction cost of a typical home.

President Nixon has already taken two steps aimed at reducing lumber prices by increasing our lumber supplies. He has ordered an increase in sales of timber on federal lands, and imposed restrictions on the amount of lumber which can be purchased by the Defense Department.

I support both these steps. Interest rates on borrowed money are already at their highest point in history. This alone has priced many families out of the homeownership picture.

Rising interest rates are the result of the inflation in which this country seems ensnared. Inflation has come as the cumulative effect of too many years of deficit spending and misguided fiscal and monetary policies by the federal government.

President Nixon is moving inflation on two main fronts. He is attempting to bring the federal budget more into balance; and he has asked Congress to extend the 10 percent surcharge on federal income taxes. I am supporting both actions.

This nation's home building effort has a big plus on its side in the form of the 1968 Housing Act which was signed into law last August 1st.

Enactment took two years of concerted bi-partisan effort, much of it by the Housing Subcommittee. It provides the Administration with an excellent tool to provide incentive to the free enterprise housing industry.

Its most significant provision offers assistance in enabling low-income families to experience the benefits of homeownership.

The greatest promise of the 1968 Housing Act is its extension of federal assistance when such assistance is truly needed and proper justification is shown. Only those families who demonstrate that they cannot afford to pay for the cost of their housing on the private market should be considered for government subsidy of their housing needs.

Housing and Urban Development

Secretary George Romney has expressed doubts that a construction goal of 26 million new homes in the next decade can actually be met.

The Secretary is a realistic man. I feel that it would be a disservice to indulge in unfulfillable promise making. The approach the Administration is taking in the housing field is, I feel, very correct. Existing programs and available resources are now being evaluated and priorities are being set. The top priority programs will be funded and I feel certain homeownership for low-income families will be in the priority category.

Football teams in the Big Ten averaged 21.7 points per game during 1968.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I've moved and the address is wrong on the label on my return. Should I still use the label?

A — Yes. Correct the information on the label and send it back with your return when you file.

Use of the label has helped reduce the number of refunds delayed in processing because of missing or inaccurate Social Security numbers.

Q — The man I worked for last spring has gone out of business and I can't get a W-2 from him. What should I do?

A — Check to see if you have any pay stubs from this job which would enable you to determine your income and tax withholding from this source. Attach a note to your return showing the employer's name and explain why this income is not covered by a W-2. Indicate how you arrived at the income and withheld tax figures entered for this employment.

Q — My tax came to more than I thought it would. Can I pay half now and the rest in a couple of months?

A — No. The tax must be paid in full by the due date of the return.

To avoid a similar situation next year, arrange with your employer to increase withholding tax or file an estimated tax declaration and make installment payments of the tax due. If you did not receive an estimated tax declaration in the mail, the forms and instructions may be obtained from local IRS offices.

Q — Is money from Social Security ever taxable?

A — No. All Social Security benefits are tax exempt.

Q — I have to pay tax on both my 1968 return and my 1969 declaration. Can I just write one check for the whole amount?

A — It is advisable to write separate checks or money orders for the two taxes to make sure your payments are properly credited. Identify each check with your name and social security number and indicate the tax the payment covers.

The reason for making separate payments is that separate processing operations are involved for the tax return and for the estimated declaration. When one payment is made to cover two liabilities, it is possible that the entire amount could be credited to just one tax. This results in a refund on one tax and bill for additional tax on the other.

Q — My wife's missing signature is holding up our refund. Why is this so important?

A — Tax returns are legal documents and have to be signed to be complete.

On joint returns, the signature of both taxpayers are required and both are legally responsible for the accuracy of the return and the tax that may be due.

Q — Where do you report profits from the sale of a home?

A — This should be reported on Schedule D which is available at local IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices. The instructions that go with this form tell how to figure these gains and when they are taxable.

Q — I'm taking my return to a man and having him make it out for me. Should I give him my form with the label on it?

A — Yes, you should file the return with the pre-addressed label. It will speed processing and avoid delays. Be sure to check your return over before signing it

DPS Looking For Trainees

Specialized training in an elite field and a rewarding career are the opportunities being offered by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

A call was issued today for applicants to fill a 120-man class beginning May 6 in Austin. Because of the short time remaining to test applicants, immediate inquiry is urged for area young men interested in becoming a member of the Texas DPS.

Applicants must be between 20 and 35 years old, at least 68 inches tall, weigh not less than two pounds or more than 3 1/2 lbs. per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have a high school education or the equivalent and their record must be able to stand a rigid examination pertaining to character and citizenship.

Those selected will take their training at the Texas DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin. This training period will last for an approximate period of four months. Upon graduation, the patrolman will be assigned to one of the four field services — Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection and Drivers License.

For complete information concerning the position of patrolman, training and benefits, young men are encouraged to contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office. Hurry — for the time is short before the start of the May 6 training school.

and sending it in. The taxpayer is responsible for the accuracy of his return even if someone else helped him prepare it.

Q — My father has been living with us since he retired. Will this Social Security pension have to be taken into account in determining whether we can claim him as a dependent?

A — Social Security benefits are counted in determining whether you provided more than half your father's support. These benefits are not counted, however, towards the $600 gross income test. Check page 4 of the 1040 instructions for additional details.

Q — My husband is on duty with the Army in Vietnam. What should I do about our tax return?

A — A wife of a serviceman in Vietnam has several choices regarding their tax return. She may file a joint return now, file a separate return now if she had any income and amend it to a joint return when her husband returns or postpone the filing of a return until her husband leaves Vietnam and meets filing requirements. Usually a returning servicemen must file returns required for previous tax years 180 days after leaving a combat zone.

If you file a joint return while your husband is in Vietnam, indicate in the place for his signature that he is serving in a combat zone.

TRADITIONALLY NEW... FIELD TO FEEDLOT

NOW... A CYLINDER CHOPPER that merits the Gehl name!

A cylinder cutterhead is the heart of this new Gehl "300" chopper. Nine knives whirl at 1000 RPM to cut and throw material with each razor sharp slice. Stand and tungsten carbide faced knives and cutterbar built in knife sharpener. No feeder apron. Crop attachments pivot with the feed in mechanism. The opening is always perfectly aligned with feed rolls, providing steady, even bites to the knives. Three attachments available: hay pick-up, one row, and a two-row that handles both wide and narrow rows.

 Look at it this way:
 your dreams may not have come true, but neither have your nightmares.
 Our friend's daughter agreed not to marry unpaid for.
