

"Lost Wax Process" Used to Produce Works of Art

Merely because of its name, the "lost wax process" has an aura of mystery. It has the spooky sound of some legendary technique perfected by the ancients, then somehow lost in the dim past — and never recovered. In reality, the lost wax process is still with us, still the most widely used method of casting sculpture in molten metal, and still basically unchanged since the concept was developed in China 4000 years ago.

A new method of lost wax casting is being used in Hereford by Lindy Daniels, who for the past year, has worked and perfected the method to produce lovely and priceless works of art in bronze.

With an art gallery and foundry in Hereford and also one in the second leading art center of the world, Taos, New Mexico, Daniels has radically reduced the 4000 year old headaches of the lost wax process. The old process of 36 hours burning out the wax has been reduced to 15 minutes and the weight of the mold has been cut from 150 pounds to 15 pounds.

Lindy and his wife Athalene (he calls her his 100 per cent partner) live at 337 Stadium Drive with their three children, Pat, Kathy and Robert. Lindy's family has been in the construction business since the civil war days and until recently, he has been a building contractor here. They came here ten years ago from New York where he had also worked as a combination millwright and pattern maker. With this knowledge, Daniels began reading about and experimenting with the bronze casting, but it took 100 failures before he was successful in casting a perfect "bronze."

The first bronze Daniels cast, sculptured by the noted artist and sculptor Carl J. Smith of Amarillo, he sold for $600 to Lyndon Johnson who was then the president. He also sold one to the former Governor of Texas, John Connally, Arthur Godfrey and the King Ranch. These were all the Carl J. Smith series.

"Comanche," the bronze shown in the accompanying picture with Daniels, is a replica of the first one he cast by noted artist and sculptor James Ivy Edwards, that was bought by Henry Sears of Hereford. The art piece retails for $1800.

Six other bronzes went to Roy Edwards, president of Wilson & Co., Jimmy Witherspoon, Jerry Detwiler and Frank Ford.

The delicate and intricate process of making a bronze begins with the artists sculpture which receives a coat of shellac for protection during mold making. Placed on its back, the figure is surrounded by a clay partition line which will divide the two halves of the mold. The figure is then covered with wet paper toweling and then a layer of moist clay. The next step is a layer of plaster over the clay which is called a "mother" mold. It is made in sections so it can be taken apart later. When the "mother" mold is completed it is shellacked along the edges to keep the pieces from sticking together. The clay is then removed from the mold and replaced with liquid rubber. When solidified, the rubber mold is removed, then the original model. When the mold is reassembled, hot molten wax is poured in, then poured out again, depositing a layer on the inner walls of the rubber mold. When the wax shell cools and hardens in the mold, it forms a hot low cast of the original figure. It is then retouched by the artist, sprayed and vented and dipped in a silica compound numerous times. The layers deposited on the figure each time is called an investment. A core of investment is then poured inside the hollow figure, and placed in a kiln which burns out the wax, leaving a space (the exact shape of the figure) within the ceramic investment.

The hollow investment is then buried in a trough of sand which strengthens it enough for the molten bronze to be poured in. When the bronze cools and solidifies, the ceramic investment is broken away, thus revealing the metal figure in a brassy gold. It is then polished to a high gloss and a surface is brushed on for artificial aging, called patina. A dry color can be reproduced by painting.

The Daniels have wholesale outlets in Dallas, Houston, Austin, Taos and the La Plata Gallery here in Hereford for their art pieces. They enjoy traveling and this new and profitable business venture of theirs has opened new worlds for them.

Daniels is working with quite a handicap at this time with a cast on his leg. He was artifact hunting (which is a hobby of his) about two weeks ago when he broke the leg. He says he can't do much running around now, but wife Athalene (who is chief cook and bottle washer, girl Friday and his right hand man) handles all of the book work, runs the galleries and delivers the work.

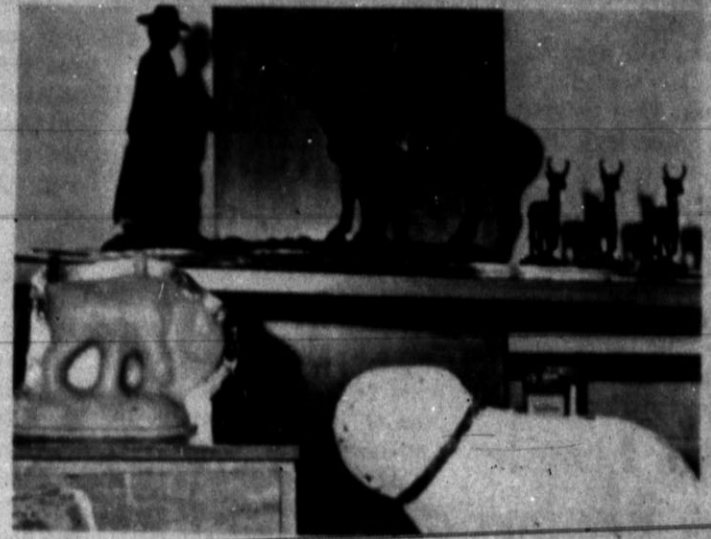

An artist from Hereford, whose work Daniels casts is Ray Reynolds, a local policeman. Reynolds first work is the horse and cowboy and deer in the accompanying picture. He shares Daniels' enthusiasm for the bronze casting and is continually helping him.

The new gallery and foundry the Daniels are putting in at Taos, are housed in a building next door to the Ben Museum. The museum was the home of the first governor of New Mexico who was killed by the Indians on his doorstep. The museum carries the name of Gov. Bent.

Since Daniels has gone out of the building business, he plans to devote all of his time to the bronze casting. They have acquired a home in Taos as well as their home in Hereford. They will divide their time between the two places.

COMANCHE — Lindy Daniels shows off his finished work of art cast in bronze. The art piece is called "Comanche" and the artist is Jame Ivy Edwards. It retails for $1800.

Trucker Dies In Crash

Kyle Barker Cauble, 50, became the first traffic fatality of the year for Deaf Smith County when he died in a one-vehicle crash Friday night, 4.1 miles west of Hereford on U. S. 60.

Cauble was working for Western Commercial Transport, Inc. of Fort Worth and was hauling liquid sugar from the local Holly Sugar Plant to El Paso. He had just delivered a load in El Paso and was returning for another load when the accident occurred.

Department of Public Safety officers who investigated the accident, which occurred about 8 p. m. Friday night, said that Cauble apparently went to sleep at the wheel of his 1968 Freightliner semi-trailer truck. An observer, who was traveling behind Cauble at the time of the accident, said that Cauble was traveling about 50 miles per hour when suddenly the truck swerved across the highway into the left lane and crashed head-on into a culvert, totally demolishing the truck. Cauble, who resided in Big Spring but was making temporary residence at the Grand Ave. Trailer Park on Grand Ave., was still alive when he was taken by ambulance to the Deaf Smith County Hospital but he was dead-on-arrival at the hospital.

The body was taken from the hospital to Gilliland Funeral Home and relatives arrived Saturday morning to take the body back to Big Spring where funeral services are pending.

Bus Issue Referred To State Agency

By EARL MOSELEY - Staff Writer

The matter of signing orders for four 72-passenger buses by the Deaf Smith County School Board to be operated by the Hereford Independent School District, which delayed here several days, was kicked back into the lap of the state at the County Board's special meeting Friday.

County Board Trustees and representatives who appeared from the Hereford schools both reported this presented the best move under the circumstances.

However, what action, if any, the state will take at this time — and if and when the controversial buses will be delivered — is now an open question.

Unanimously passed by the County Board was a single motion which stated that they "have delegated the operation of the transportation system to the local school district and relieved the County Board of this responsibility. Since we as a board have no knowledge of the transportation system operation, we feel that we can neither approve nor reject the requisitions of the four 72-passenger buses for the Hereford Independent School District."

The issue has centered on the fact that state law is not clear in its interpretation in involving the responsibility between the two school boards. County Board felt that they should have authority to accept or reject the bus orders here and not act as "rubber

Easter Week Services Set

The First Christian Church has scheduled special Easter Week services to be held in the sanctuary each evening, Monday through Thursday, at 7:30, according to the Rev. Gene Brink, pastor. Guest ministers in this community will speak each night.

Monday evening features Clifford Trotter from the First Methodist Church, Tuesday's speaker will be Gerald Mann of the First Baptist and Fred Howard of St. Thomas Episcopal will speak Wednesday.

Thursday evening will be the Maundy Thursday Communion Service.

Leading the music throughout the week will be Ben Golich.

A sunrise service will be held in the chapel on Easter Sunday at 6:30 a. m., directed by the young people. It will be followed by breakfast in the fellowship hall.

Morning worship services will be at 11 a. m. and the evening worship at 7 p. m.

Two City Commission posts and the mayor's position will be filled Tuesday when voters trek to the polls in the city election set at the Community Center beginning at 8 a. m. and closing at 7 p. m.

Seeking election to the commissioner's vacancies are Troys Carmichael and Bill Patton for Place 1 which was vacated by D.C. Kinsey who elected not to run again. Don Baugous, running for Place 2 which was left open when Dick Barnard declined to seek re-election, is running unopposed, and Jim Sears, is also running unopposed for the post of mayor. J. B. Pool, who was appointed mayor last September upon the resignation of former mayor Ray Cowser, is not seeking re-election.

Breeders Set Meet Tuesday

Hereford Breeders of Deaf Smith and surrounding counties are scheduled to meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Calson House in Hereford.

Although the meeting will include an election of officers, it was pointed out that it is primarily a family affair for all area breeders, their families and guests.

Dale Furr of Pantex will speak.

Oratorical Match Set By Optimists

Roy Boyer, member of the local Optimist Club and in charge of setting up the annual Boys' Oratorical Contest, announced that the contest will be held Tuesday, April 15 at the Community Center.

Contest rules state that all boys in public, private or parochial junior and senior high schools, who fulfill the requirements for contestants and who are sponsored by an Optimist Club, are eligible. It further states that boys entering the contest must not have reached their 16th birthday as of December 31, 1968 and also that any contestant who has won an Optimist International Oratorical Scholarship Award is ineligible for future competition.

All contestants to any Optimist oratorical contest must furnish an age verification record with their entry blanks before competing. Each contestant entered in a zone, district, or international preliminary contest, must present two copies of his oration in English, typewritten, double-spaced and identified with contestant's name and sponsoring club.

Designated as the official oratorical subject for this year's contest is "Respect for Law — Cornerstone of Citizenship," and all entrants must orate on the official oratorical subject.

Following the local contest, the winner will then advance to the Zone contest to be held in Amarillo, April 27 at Amarillo College. The winner will then advance to the State contest to be held in Amarillo, Texas. —Staff Photo

A difference of opinion continued to exist regarding the safety factors of the 72-passenger buses. Therefore, the County Board agreed to leave the matter up to the state. Clark and Harkey agreed with their proposal on the issue of the future status between the two factors in the matter.

BUS ROUTES

Also placed under discussion was the state law which renders a deadline for the County Board's approval of the school bus routes on June 1 each year. They pointed out that the Hereford Schools routes had not been received during the past two years for consideration until after that date.

Clark explained to them that he had previously talked to the state concerning the bus routes matter here and

Little League Sets Meeting

Art Stoy, president of the Little League baseball association, announced that there will be a meeting of the organization Monday at the Campfire Lodge beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Stoy urged all interested persons to attend the meeting and indicated those interested in serving as scorekeepers and umpires are particularly urged to attend.

they had given the school a leeway on the time factor "due to the impossibility of our being able to determine routes by that date because the way our area population fluctuates."

Clark further explained that there is not any problem concerning the buses and routes under discussion by the County Board that hasn't been presented a number of times by he and other administrators to the Texas Education Agency. The discussion centered on many of the local transportation problems during the Friday meeting in the County Commissioners Court room and both groups presented their viewpoints "sincerely."

It was brought out that Clark could not attend the special County Board meeting Tuesday due to his being in Austin for the Governors Committee Report session, which had to do with school district consolidation. He reported to them that, although it may be some time before it is brought out for legislation, it is still possible for the lawmakers to force district consolidations through "financial means."

UF To Elect Board Members

Eight new members of the Deaf Smith County United Fund board of directors are to be elected at a meeting of the board at 8 p.m. April 9 in Community Center, Genevieve Miller, secretary, announces.

One-third of the board members are replaced each year and directors serve overlapping three-year terms. Officers for the year are chosen by the board after the new directors take up their duties. Debs Knox is the current president.

Vote Rises As Deadline Set

"Business has been booming" was the report on absentee votes Friday afternoon from the Hereford Independent School District tax office.

Total absentee vote had bloomed to 74, they reported. They also pointed out that absentee deadline was 5 p.m.

Service Set At Bippus Church

A sunrise service at Bippus Community Church will be held at 6:30 a. m. on Easter Day, followed by a breakfast served by women of the church. The public is invited for the special Easter service.

It will be conducted by the Rev. Gene Brock, who serves the church as pastor. A similar service was held last year for the first time at the church. It is conducted outdoors, beginning just at sunrise, and then breakfast is served in the dining room of the church building.

Tuesday.

Election date is April 5 — one day prior to Easter Sunday. Larger-than-normal absentee votes were expected due to a number of qualified voters being out of the city over the holidays.

The election is for three positions on the Hereford school board — and there are four candidates in the race. Top three vote-getters will be seated as trustees.

On the ballot are incumbents Olin Parris and Hugh Clearman with Lowell Sharp and Wayne Phillips.

May 29 Set As Annual Lunch

Hereford Schools Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. reported that school will be dismissed on May 27 and 28 (Tuesday and Wednesday) at 2:30 p. m. May 29 at 11:30 a. m. is set as the time and date of the All-School Annual Luncheon.

There will be no school on this day (Thursday.) Clark said "It's just a workday for teachers."

Volleyballers Win Zone Title

Hereford's volleyball team clinched the South Zone district championship here Thursday evening as they downed the Muleshoe squad and will now face the winner of the North Zone to determine a district representative.

Muleshoe fell to the locals by scores of 14-6 and 15-8 as the volleyballers wound up with a perfect 4-0 district record. Their season record was 5-2 as they met defeat twice at the hands of the Phillips team.

Trustees Hear Schools' Progress Report, Future

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer
Annual School Board Banquet of the Hereford Independent School District held last Friday night in honor of past school board members revealed not only the financial but educational advancement in the schools here.

The banquet, held in the high school cafeteria, was attended by some 60 guests who were presented figures that the school tax evaluation had risen from $27,500,000 in 1958 to $67,000,000 in a ten-year period, and its operating budget-foundation from $847,145 to $2,483,954 in the same period. Federal funds other than for lunchrooms (received through the state) was $21,505 ten years ago but have blossomed to a $581,858 total in 1968. Building and furniture went from $551,000 to $750,000.

In the meantime, the report indicated that enrollment figures ten years ago were 2,506 students. In 1968, this figure reached 5,213.

Professional employees went from 117 to 267, auxiliary employees 58 to 132, vocational teachers 5 to fifteen, Special Education teachers two to 21.

Approved bus routes was 19 in 1958. Today there are 27. They have gone from 1, 562 miles per day to 2,412. While the number of students carried was 948 ten years ago, the number is now 1,495.

Number of lunches served per month increased from 27,000 to 70,000.

Program was called to order by Trustee President Olin Parris. Trustee Raymond White delivered the invocation. Summary report was presented by Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr.

EDUCATIONAL CHANGE

The report listed the new educational programs which have come into the Hereford school system, with the information that "many changes are taking place in our schools and colleges, and undoubtedly many more changes will be required and attempted in the near future."

Pointed out was "an urgent need to understand and structure the change process so that new educational programs can be developed on sound basis, diffused rapidly and thoroughly, and implemented effectively."

"Because of the pressing requirements of national defense, the growing mobility of society, and the increasing automation of the economy, education must meet and keep pace with the times now more than ever before. New problems are created almost daily for education to solve as change upon change sweeps the social, political, economic, technological, and religious sectors of our country. Educators must be prepared to respond unflinchingly to these pressures by revising current programs and by developing new programs and practices.

"How fortunate we are here in Hereford to have far-sighted community leaders who provide an atmosphere, the wherewithal, and workable provisions that allow the school board and administration the freedom to anticipate future problems and needs, and to plan, develop, disseminate, and implement necessary innovations.

"As educators we must find ways and means to introduce newly developed innovations into the schools where they are needed. We can no longer tolerate a policy of change characterized by waiting for crises to arise and then applying stop-gap, emergency measures."

Too often, it was stated, hastily applied "mending tape" solutions serve to mask a situation that will simply grow more serious.

"Fortunately, the present sense of urgency for change in education is being felt at a time when positive forces ranging from sympathetic discussions of educational problems to offers of assistance, to concrete programs designed to produce progress — are supporting the production of needed changes and educational progress. Men in all facets of life — the farmer, the rancher, the cattle feeder, the meat processor, the technologist, the engineer, the designer, the manufacturer — are vitally concerned with the rapid changes in all walks of life. They naturally sense the great need of change in educational practices."

It was reported that many private foundations, such as Ford, Carnegie and Rockefeller, and the U. S. Office of Education, the National Science Foundation, and other state and national acts, have assisted immensely in encouraging educators by allocating huge sums for educational research and development.

"Out of this research have come many outstanding programs and innovations that challenge the very thinking of teachers and professors. Education is more and more taking on the form of having a direct relation to daily living."

"All of us remember the days of education when miscellaneous fragments of information served the complex totality of life — information for the most part unrelated to the student's immediate and insistent needs. And this was true not only at the junior high or high school level."

And this was true not only at the junior high or high school level.

"Remember the necessity of acquiring such inapplicable data as 'Run, Spot, Run,' 'See Mother work, Work, mother, work, work, work,' in the first grade?"

"And the new research tells us that this is wrong, that there are better ways to teach and learn. And the tenets of this research have reached down to invade every classroom in Hereford!"

ENGLISH PROGRAMS

Hereford High School now has two new English programs in operation — Nebraska English Curriculum and the Carnegie-Mellon program.

"These two programs are the results of profound research conducted by the U. S. Office of Education. Also, the social studies department is working with programs that have recently been released to public schools after careful research. For the first time, Latin will be taught inductively, as a 'live' language, through a language laboratory approach. In the area of science, in elementary as well as secondary, we are experiencing such rapid changes that textbooks cannot keep up. We are working feverishly to keep abreast of the changes and to introduce those courses that we believe will best prepare the pupils for the environment they now live in and, we hope, the ones they will face tomorrow."

"And we are attempting to temper all new knowledge and new programs by injecting into each phase of the program the humanizing elements, those facets of the curriculum that will develop happier citizens and commendable personalities."

"We realize that greater knowledge is not the entire answer to education. Unless this knowledge is used for the welfare and benefit of mankind, then we have accomplished nothing; society would actually regress. For this reason and many others, we are charged with the responsibility of training and employing teachers who will know how to utilize a developed curriculum to develop ethical, moral, and social values. We are aware that we must greatly improve our ways of preparing, inspiring and rewarding those who teach and guide the new generation."

Plans in this program development "begin with the concept that the goal in education is not necessarily to increase the amount of knowledge, but to create the possibilities for a child to discover, to invent, to investigate, to compare. When we teach concepts and 'things' too fast we keep the child from inventing and discovering for himself. Teaching means creating situations where structures can be discovered and assimilated at nothing other than a verbal level. We must have programs and teaching strategies that motivate the pupil to want to learn, that actually involves him in the real act of learning, that more efficiently develop concepts, that teach problem-solving skills and critical thinking."

Programs that have been initiated here within the past two years were given:

AAAS Science in elementary schools (38 teachers were trained), Hilda Taba Social Studies (13 teachers trained), Multi-Media, Multi-System Approach in teaching Reading (migrant classes), Linguistic Approach to Teaching Reading to Spanish-speaking Children (13 classes), Interdisciplinary Approach to Teaching Social Studies (one migrant class, first and second grade), Linguistics in English (Transnational Generative Grammar in grades 1 through 6).

Mrs. Miller Reviews Book

Mrs. H. E. Miller reviewed her book, Junior Dear, Friday for pupils of Blue Ridge School near Canadian and members of three women's clubs, Tri-C, Mothers Club and Canadian Book Review Club. Tea was served afterward.

A group of boys in the school who had read Mrs. Miller's book, the story of a boy growing up in West Texas during the 1930's, showed her the clubhouse and cellar they had built after reading about one she described in her book, and in a brief program named it the Miller Clubhouse and presented her a plaque on which they had all written their names.

Mrs. Miller stopped at a Rouse of Kemp, Texas, last week reporting that she is well and would enjoy hearing from anyone from home. Mrs. Rouse is caring for a sister who is ill.

MINOR COLLISIONS

CAUSE NO INJURIES

A car-truck accident occurring Wednesday afternoon and a car-pickup collision which happened Friday morning, resulted in minor damage to the vehicles involved.

A 1964 Pontiac driven by Lena Tate Ramey of Dimmitt collided with a 1963 semi-truck and trailer driven by James Anthony Nussbaum of Amarillo when she apparently changed lanes. Both vehicles were going north on Hwy 385.

Damage to the Ramey car was estimated at $200.

A minor accident Friday morning at the intersection of E. 3rd and Schley involved a 1964 Oldsmobile driven by Larry John Brown and a 1967 pickup truck driven by Cyril Michal Diller.

Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $50.

No injuries were reported by investigating officers.

Texas Grain-Fed Beef Set

The most intensified promotional campaign in agricultural history has been opened by the Texas Department of Agriculture to make Texas grain-fed beef a household word.

"By the time the next two months are over, we hope that housewives will ask for Texas beef and not just beef," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said in announcing TAP would turn its attention to beef promotion in March and April.

"We are going to do everything short of tying a string around the finger of the housewife to help the consumer remember to watch for the TAP symbol," White said. The Department, with the help of private associations, will place more than 800 outdoor billboards across the major arteries of the state and will install more than 40,000 full color posters and case strips in 10,000 grocery stores.

The TAP Texas Agricultural Products program has proved very successful although still relatively new. It is being used throughout the state to promote home-grown products, with emphasis changed each two months.

Besides the billboard and grocery store displays, the Agriculture Department is providing inserts on Texas beef to be included in bank statements and utility bills.

The campaign was kicked off with a series of news briefings across the state, giving TAP officials a chance to explain the benefits of Texas beef and make available recipes on beef to food and agriculture editors.

Following the news briefings, the Department began a "Beef-A-Rama" series, using meat processing specialists and home economists to give students and teachers the latest in meat-cutting and food preparation.

It is all part of the department's program to promote Texas beef.

No Bid Accepted For New School!

No bid was accepted for the construction of the new Tierra Blanca Elementary School and football stadium improvements Thursday afternoon by the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees because, as president Olin Parris reported to the contractors following the decision, "We do not have enough money."

Parris had reference to the totals of the five base bids which had been received for consideration. They ranged from $77,800 to $167,634 more than the bond passed here last October in the amount of $750,000.

Also, new light was placed on the length of time it will require before the school will be ready for occupancy following the start of construction. It spread from 300 to 475 days. Trustees realized that a midterm date in 1970 is now virtually not possible.

However, the trustees authorized architect Herbert Brasher to "work with the three low bidders in the hopes of working something out" for the construction. Brasher reported later that two of them "appeared interested."

Trustees are meeting again at 8 p.m. Tuesday with lower figure prospects on their agenda. The October bond allotted $600,000 for the school and $150,000 for the stadium. In any event, they reported, "the school and stadium will be constructed."

Low bid of $827,800 was submitted by Claude Martin & Sons of Lubbock with a 340-day time limit. Under alternative number one (pre-stressed concrete) they will subtract $13,300 from the base amount.

Second low bid was Floyd W. Richards of Amarillo with $834,000, minus $13,358 for first alternate, plus $5,300 for second alternate (plywood paneling), plus $2,000 for alternate 3 (fiberglass panels), and minus $1,190 for alternate 4 (Nesbitt AC Units). Time was 300 days.

Third low bid came from H. R. Bundock Inc. of Lubbock. Their base bid was $838,168, minus $21,300.10 (No. 1), plus $10,374 (No. 2) with no bid on 3 or 4. They set 350 days.

Two high bidders were Wiley Hicks Jr. of Amarillo and Raymond Jameson of Plainview. Hicks had a base of $917,634 at 380 days and Jameson had $889,750 at 475 days.

Over-the-top bids reportedly came as no surprise to the trustees. Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. presented them a survey on the sudden rise in construction and labor costs during their last regular board meeting. He pointed out that these conditions did not prevail during the fall when the bond issue total was calculated.

Tuesday's meeting is slated to be conducted in the board room at the School Administration Building.

The news from Promontory, Utah, on May 10, 1969, was that "The last rail is laid, the last spike driven. The Pacific railroad is completed."

Victor Ray Ray To Speak At Tulia F&U

County officials of Swisher County Farmers Union have announced that Victor Ray, director of public affairs for National Farmers Union in Washington, D.C., will address the annual Swisher County Farmers Union banquet on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Ezra Jones Memorial Cafeteria in Tulia.

Ray's subject will be "The Corporate Invasion of American Agriculture".

Woodrow Bice, president of the Swisher County farm organization, states that invitations have been extended to area farmers, ranchers and others interested in agriculture to attend the Tuesday night meeting.

Bice said, "We are fortunate to have here on the Plains one of the outstanding authorities in the country on corporation farming. We know there is considerable concern in Texas agriculture and among rural leaders as to what impact the movement of farming and ranching into the hands of large, conglomerate corporations might have on the agriculture in Texas and the rural community."

Ray is a prize winning editor of several weekly and daily newspapers. He edited a farm magazine while heading his own publishing company in Little Rock, Arkansas, before coming to National Farmers Union. He joined the staff of National Farmers Union on May 1, 1968.

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco will accompany Ray on his visit to Tulia and will introduce him at the banquet. Naman will also report on his recent visit with Secretary of Agriculture Hardin at the National Farmers Union Convention at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Tickets to the Swisher County Farmers Union banquet are available at $2.50 each from Woodrow Bice, Route N Tulia; Henry Boston, Route 1, Tulia; J. Ross O'Daniel, Route 1, Tulia; Mrs. Royal Crawford, Route 2, Tulia; and the Farmers Union Insurance office at Tulia, phone 995-2733, Bill Davis, service agent.

Clubs Receive District Honor

Rating as high point club in its class, two first-place awards and a second place were won by Pioneer Study Club of Hereford at the annual convention of Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in Dalhart Friday.

One of the Pioneer Club members, Mrs. Ray L. Johnson, had her landscape, Tide Pool, designated as judges' choice for best in show in the art exhibit after it had placed first in the oil painting division.

Mrs. Johnson is also a member of Summerfield Study Club, which won two second places in its class. Both the local clubs were cited as 100 percent subscribers for the TFWC magazine, The Texas Clubwoman.

Awards were made at the luncheon which closed the convention Friday. Mrs. Ralph McCullough of Hereford, district awards chairman, was in charge of the presentations.

Pioneer Club, in Class B, received first place on its yearbook, as it did last year. It also placed first in the musical Penny fund in the fine arts department and second in recreation and youth activities in the conservation department. It totaled 179 points as high point club.

In Class A, Summerfield Club was second on outstanding club programs and second for yearbook. It also received mention for outstanding work in the scholarship fund; no award was given.

Niland To Speak At Sports Event

John Niland, defensive guard for the Dallas Cowboys through the courtesy of Gifford-Hill Western, will be the featured speaker at the second annual All-Sports Banquet which is scheduled for April 28 at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

A native of New York State, Niland attended Iowa University where he played football and participated in the weightlifting program where he won honors as the heavyweight lifting champion of the Big Ten Conference.

Niland, 25, and married, lives in Dallas where, in the off-season, he is public relations man for Channel 39.

The banquet, the second of its kind and sponsored by the Whiteface Booster Club, is held in honor of the various athletes who participated in athletics during the year in representing Hereford in the University Interscholastic League. At last year's event, a capacity crowd of near 700 attended when Dan Reeves, running back for the Cowboys, was the guest speaker.

Also to be recognized at the banquet will be athletes chosen as outstanding in each of the seven sporting events. Radio station KPAN and the Hereford brand will present the News Service Awards to individuals in tennis, track, baseball, football, golf and volleyball, signifying outstanding performance in the field of athletics.

Tickets for the event will cost $2 per person and may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office, from Booster Club members, from mothers of the athletes, at the Hereford Bakery or from Earl Stagner at Orsborn Chevrolet-Olds. The Caison House will cater the event.

Stagner, president of the Booster Club, emphasized the fact that the banquet is not a money-making project and that attendance is the foremost objective of the event. He added that the banquet is to honor athletes and that the purchasing of tickets and not attending is not what the sponsors are asking.

Essay Awards

Winners in the essay contest under the title "What the Red Cross Means to Deaf Smith County" were released for junior high contestants at St. Anthony's School and the Hereford High School winners.

First place winner at St. Anthony's is seventh-grader Margaret Schilling, who received a $25 Savings Bond. Angela Spinhirne, another 7th-grader, received $10 for second place, and 8th-grader Wanda Paetzold $5 for third place.

Wayne Betzen, also a St. Anthony's 8th-grader, received honorable mention.

At Hereford High School, first place winner is Janis Tremble. Second place went to Tony Gorman and third place to Dianne Golden.

Honorable mention was accorded three students: Linda House, Anne Bennett, and Pam Campbell.

Although in another contest division, the high school students received the same prizes as the junior high students.

Madre Mia Club Hears Mrs. Nelson's Review

Review of a book by a Southwestern writer, Paul Horgan's One Red Rose for Christmas, was presented by Mrs. Bill Nelson for La Madre Mia Club at its meeting Thursday evening in Mrs. Ben Scott's home. Mrs. Charles Frye was co-hostess.

Mrs. Nelson told the story which has its setting in a Catholic orphanage and the theme of salvation through love. Horgan is a nationally-known novelist and short story writer whose home is in Roswell, N. M.

A new member, Mrs. Don Lane, was welcomed to the club. Plans were made for a visit by members to the West Texas State University campus May 1 as guests of the Opportunity Plan Office. Dr. Cabellero of the art department will present a program for the group. Mrs. Hershel Black presided for business.

EARLY GARDENERS — Hereford Garden Club members bought shrubs for basic planting in a two-year project of landscaping the grounds at the new Campfire Girls Lodge, and observed Arbor Day last Monday by getting the plants set. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. is chairman of the project, which will be the club's entry in competition for a community service award from the Sears Foundation.

Vickie Inman Is Honored

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Vickie Loretta Inman of 416 Star in Hereford is one of 22 journalism students at the University of Missouri-Columbia who will be initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship, on May 8 during Journalism Week in Columbia.

The fraternity requires a grade point average of 3.0 of a possible 4.0 for all course work. Graduate students must earn a minimum of 15 hours of "A" grades in graduate courses. No more than 10 per cent of the journalism students may be initiated. Miss Inman has previously been employed on the staff of the Hereford Brand.

Bridge League Changes Date

Mrs. Dick Gholson, a director of the American Contract Bridge League in Hereford, reported that the ACBL will meet hereafter on Tuesday nights instead of Thursday at the Hereford Community Center.

Those who wish to play in the ACBL should contact Mrs. Gholson at 364-0007.

three days in the local area as a part of an overseas farm program, studying the various phases of the agriculture industry here.

As guest of the County Agriculture Agency, Noorzi will spend about nine months in the Texas Panhandle where he will be working out of the Bushland Experiment Station. Prior to coming to the Panhandle, Noorzi arrived in the United States where he spent two weeks of briefing in Washington, D.C.

His study here will involve him primarily in corn, soy beans, sugar beets and vegetables, crops which farmers in Afghanistan are able to grow. He will leave Amarillo, where he will spend the next eight months, at the end of November and return to his homeland. Noorzi commented he liked the entire United States, but that he liked Texas the best.

TO THE VOTERS OF HEREFORD INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

If you plan to be out of the city over the Easter weekend, we urge you to go to the school tax office Monday or Tuesday and . . .

VOTE ABSENTEE

It is unfortunate that the school election should fall on Saturday before Easter, due to the fact that so many people will take advantage of the school holiday to leave the city; therefore it is important that you go to the tax office before the deadline and cast your ballot ABSENTEE. This is an important election and we believe that everyone should vote.

WE WOULD ALSO LIKE TO ASK FOR YOUR SUPPORT OF THE CANDIDACY OF

WAYNE PHILLIPS

FOR THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Wayne is a long time resident of Hereford and a graduate of Texas A&M College. He still has three children in school at this time and is sincerely interested in serving the school district for a continuation of the fine educational system that we have had in years past. He has no axes to grind, but is a hard working businessman who will adhere to business principles in the school system without sacrificing the academic needs of the schools. He will work hard to fulfill the duties of a school trustee if elected.

Ragan Reported As Satisfactory

Randy Ragan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claudie Ragan, was reported in satisfactory condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo following an accident on the local baseball field during a game Friday.

Laundry Is Burglarized

A burglary at the Sugarland Mall Laundry was reported Thursday shortly after 11 p. m. by owner Jim Boone.

Approximately $30 in change and merchandise was taken according to investigating officer James Tucker.

Entry was gained to the establishment by prying open the sliding windows in the front office.

The desk was reported rifled and keys to several vending machines were taken. Damage to two vending machines that were broken into was approximately $25.

CONFERENCE ENDS

Morning services today at Greenwood Baptist Church will mark the conclusion of its Missionary Conference this year, pastor Rev. Al Baum reported. Speaker is Rev. David Durr, missionary to Australia.

King's Quartet Here Tonight

The King's Quartet of Albuquerque will appear at the Grace Gospel Church at 7 p. m. today, according to its pastor, Rev. H. V. Fields.

The church is located at Ave. K and Thirteenth.

Rev. Fields said the quartet is widely accepted as outstanding gospel singers with many recording albums having been enjoyed by the public for a number of years.

The public is cordially invited to attend this time of inspiration, Rev. Fields said.

One of the King's Quartet members is slated to speak briefly following the song festival.

"Quail" Shoot Set For Today

A special "Quail Walk Trophy" shoot, sponsored by the Hereford Gun Club, will be held today at the range, east of the air port, beginning at 2 p. m.

Entry fee for the shoot has been set at $5 per person and each entrant will be required to shoot 50 rounds.

Shooters will have three traps from which a "bird" may be tossed, and will not know in what order the traps will be used. The person with the most number of hits will be declared the winner.

R. J. Cramer has donated the trophy.

The public is invited to attend and participate in the shoot which will begin with a practice session at 1 p. m. and the shoot at 2 p. m.

By MELVIN YOUNG

This is election week in Hereford and across the Golden Spread. Here in Hereford, we will be electing a new mayor and two new councilmen Tuesday, while Saturday, (the day before Easter Sunday) will be the date for the school trustee election. For mayor, Jim Sears is running unopposed, as is Don Baugous who will be seeking Place No. 2 on the council. However, Troys Carmichael and Bill Patton will be vying for Place No. 1 on the council. That's the post vacated by Dick Barnard who did not choose to run for re-election. D. C. Kinsey is the other retiring councilman, and Mayor J. B. Pool will be stepping down from his post. Pool was named to succeed former Mayor Ray Cowser when the latter submitted his resignation last September.

—HB—

Absentee balloting on the school election will close on the same day the city election is held and we would urge each and every one of you who might be leaving the city over the weekend, to go to the school tax office Monday or Tuesday and cast your ballot for the three candidates of your choice. This is an important election, and there happens to be four men running for the three vacancies. Be sure that you cast your vote.

Running for the school board this year are Wayne Phillips, a life-long resident of the city and a graduate of A&M College; Lowell Sharp, former Deaf Smith County Sheriff and now adult probation officer for the 69th Judicial District; incumbent Olin Parris, a local farmer and businessman, and incumbent Hugh Clearman, manager of WAC Seed Company.

—HB—

We are indeed fortunate to have such a fine slate of candidates in the two elections, and we feel that everyone should go to the polls and vote. After all, any elected official appreciates a vote of confidence, whether he has an opponent or not.

—HB—

Meanwhile, up in the little city of Amarillo, the feuding and fussing continues. We noticed an ad in the Friday morning Amarillo paper in support of L. O'Brien Thompson, signed by Ex-Stroud supporters.

—HB—

Actually, we hope that the people of Amarillo can resolve their differences and elect a slate of candidates that will work for the benefit of Amarillo and the area. Although the citizens of Hereford have been treated rather unkindly by Amarillo's news media in years past concerning the pollution of Buffalo Lake, we doubt seriously that anyone here would want to see our neighboring city go through another term of bickering and back-biting within the ranks of the city commission as has been demonstrated over the past two years. It is utterly ridiculous.

In Hereford, we've been most fortunate in the selection of our governmental officials, including school, county and city. We have observed some boards down through the years that have been weaker than others, but don't believe we have ever witnessed a spectacle such as we've seen coming from Amarillo's city hall. We have had sincere, dedicated men elected to these important posts, and if we've ever had a "bad apple" in the group, there has been enough thinking men around to keep the situation in balance.

This is not to say that we have always agreed with their decisions, or that we will in the future. But it's awfully hard to criticize anyone who is sincerely trying to do a good job.

—HB—

And the North Bay (Ont.) Nugget says: The majority of honest, ordinary, hard-working people are now squares, of little use to society except to pay taxes. To get attention from government or sociologists, steal, riot, or let your hair grow and smoke pot. Then you are really with it.

Dinner Closes Players' Year

New directors of Hereford Community Players, Inc. introduced at the first annual membership meeting, a dinner in Hereford Country Club Friday evening, are Mrs. Earl Woods, Mrs. Clint Formby and the Rev. Fred Howard. They were elected by previous balloting by mail.

Approximately 60 members were present for the dinner, at which Mrs. Ima Link Rowley of the Amarillo Little Theatre was the speaker. Mrs. Rowley had spoken to the small group which met about a year ago to launch the organization in Hereford, and was invited back for the annual meeting.

Talking informally, she defined the chief purpose of a community dramatic group as "offering its members a chance to relax, have a good time, and entertain your friends."

Humorous skits by John Gilliland, Mary and Fred Howard completed the program, arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. George Warner. Miss Donna Johnson played piano selections.

Mrs. John Douglas Pitman was general chairman of dinner arrangements. Mrs. Ross Cooley was in charge of decorations, done in striking black and white and featuring Greek masques of tragedy and comedy arranged with paper flowers.

Mrs. Gilliland, president of the organization, announced a list of six plays chosen by a play-reading committee, from which directors will select three for presentation during next season. She also said the final play of the current season, Charlie's Aunt, will be staged in La Plata School auditorium May 1-3.

Membership in the Players' first year has grown to a total of 80, she announced.

The new directors will serve with six holdover directors: Orval Watson, board president, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Floyd Coleman, Chick Holbert, John Claypool and Gilliland.

Mrs. Guinn Is Honored By 3 U.S. Presidents

Mrs. Mildred Guinn of 105 Ave. B, Hereford, who has done various degrees of a r work on U. S. Presidents (some published in the Hereford Brand), has received notes of appreciation from representatives of the late Dwight D. Eisenhower, the late John Kennedy, and Lyndon Johnson.

Mrs. Guinn mailed sketches of the former presidents to those whom she had "captured" on paper.

Messages of appreciation were received from Johnson's Austin office, Eisenhower's (who died Friday) home at Gettysburg, Penn., and the Kennedy Memorial Library.

Mr. Mrs. Lloyd Smith reporter-historian, Mrs. Howard Hunter and Mrs. Jay Kerr will form the telephone committee.

Easter decorations were demonstrated on the program. Mrs. Henson showed how to make panorama eggs, decorated with sugar flowers, bunnies and borders, and open at one end to show tiny bunnies and chickens with gumdrop eggs. She made some of the small bunnies of icing.

Mrs. Leroy Edwards displayed molded sugar crosses, chickens and eggs, and Mrs. J. A. Crofford a cake decorated with lilies.

Also present were Mrs. David Brumley, Richard Fortberry, and Jay Kerr.

Section Two

HEREFORD, TEX., 79045, SUN., MAR. 30, 1969

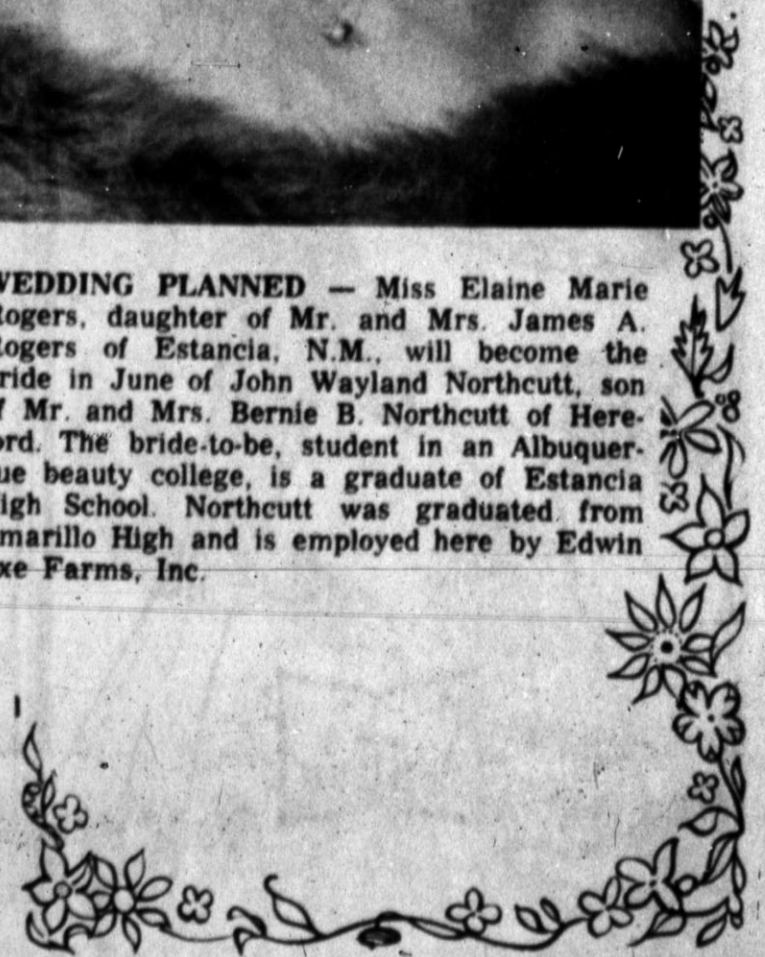

WEDDING PLANNED — Miss Elaine Marie Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rogers of Estancia, N.M., will become the bride in June of John Wayland Northcutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie B. Northcutt of Hereford. The bride-to-be, student in an Albuquerque beauty college, is a graduate of Estancia High School. Northcutt was graduated from Amarillo High and is employed here by Edwin Axe Farms, Inc.

ENGAGED COUPLE — Miss Twyla Dianne Barnett and John Waldon Scott, both of Houston, are to be married July 12 at Cokesbury Methodist Church in South Houston. They were guests here last weekend of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Moody, 301 South Texas. Miss Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert D. Barnett of South Houston attended Stephen F. Austin State College after graduation from South Houston High School, and is employed by Humble Oil Company. Scott is associate programmer for IBM at NASA, the space center at Houston. He was graduated from Hereford schools and received the BS degree from West Texas State College.

JUNE BRIDE-ELECT — Miss Teresa Lynne Boren's engagement to Bill Melvin Dutton, with plans for a wedding on June 13, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boren of Route 1. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Dutton, Route 5.

ARBOR DAY PLANTING — Despite chilly weather Monday, members of Hereford Garden Club and the Campfire Girls group which forms the Junior Garden Club observed Arbor Day by planting shrubs on grounds of the new Campfire Lodge in North Park. Club members huddle in their coats as two of the girls set a pyracantha bush, which will attract birds with its berries, north of the building.

London-Hubbard Vows To Be Spoken Today

The marriage of Miss Julia Gail London, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter London Jr. of 226 Ranger, and Paul Eugene Hubbard, son of Mr.

and Mrs. L. E. Hubbard of 815 South Lee, will be solemnized at 3 o'clock this afternoon in First Christian Church.

The couple and their parents will greet guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall after the ceremony. Misses Sharon Worthen and Janice Newsom will preside at the refreshment table and Miss Becky London, sister of the bride, at the guest book.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Kathy Hubbard, Misses Barbara and Belinda London of Amarillo will assist in serving the three-tiered wedding cake and punch. Covering the table, an illusion cloth will be swagged over white satin and caught with aqua bows and sprays of lily-of-the-valley. Paired triple-branched candelabra holding aqua tapers will be set on either side of the center arrangement of aqua carnations and English ivy.

For the wedding trip to Dallas, the bride has chosen a matched dress and coat of navy gabardine with touches of red and white in trim and accessories. She will wear a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After April 3 the couple will be at home in the Lynette Apartments. The bride is in the class which will graduate from Hereford High School in May and the bridegroom, who attended Hereford schools and Oklahoma State Tech, is employed by Barrett Produce.

Out-of-city guests expected at the wedding and reception include the Ted Myers and Ray London families and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ivey of Amarillo, the Jim Hendrick family of Granite, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dameron and children of Salida, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ballantine of Liberal, Kan., Dr. and Mrs. Irv Gaynor and children of Plainview, Miss Rita Mount and the Stanley Sigman family of Lubbock, the V. C. Hopson family of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Pierce and children of Dum-

VFW Auxiliary Hears Report On Convention

Mrs. Henry Murrell reported on a district meeting held in Amarillo last month, to members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Thursday evening in the VFW Clubhouse.

New officers for District 13 will be elected at the convention to be held in Dimmitt May 17 and 18, she said. Local officers for a new year are to be named Apr. 16.

A report on recent parties for patients in the Veterans Hospital at Amarillo, with Hereford VFW and Auxiliary members as hosts, was made by Mrs. Wayne Driskill. Plans were made for another party Apr. 4.

The Auxiliary voted a contribution to the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

For the program, Mrs. Murrell read the selection, I Am the Flag.

Kinsey Elected To Car Council

D. C. Kinsey of Kinsey Osborn Motors, Inc., was one of four men elected to the Oklahoma City Buick Zone Dealer Council for two-year terms.

The group was elected by fellow dealers to participate with Buick Motor Division representatives in the continuing program designed to foster close cooperation in matters of mutual interest on wholesale and retail levels.

Also elected were four first-alternate and four second-alternate members and one dealer for a one-year term.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Women's Editor

When you get a neatly hand-written invitation, in correct form, asking you to a special event, it makes you feel rather important. And that's how I feel about an invitation signed "The Third Grade, Central School."

IT'S A BID TO the musical circus those pupils will stage in the school cafeteria at 2:30 p. m. Monday and again at 1:30 Tuesday. Mrs. Bob Wert is directing and they promise clowns, lions and tamers, elephants, trained seals and all sorts of circus stars, plus a choir to provide music.

They are inviting families and friends to see the performance, and I wouldn't miss it!

AROUND AND ABOUT town: It's fun to be on the streets near the high school at dismissal time... even though nearly all the students head for cars on the parking lots, which is different from my pre-war high school days, a lot of things seem familiar.

... a boy trying to look nonchalant slouching along beside a girl with a self-conscious air; you can tell they aren't going steady yet.

... a girl with a bow in her hair, sweater slung across the arm that is carrying her books, Coke bottle with a straw in the other hand.

... younger boys heading down the street in a crowd, tripping and pushing each other.

... girls in chattering, giggling bunches — yes, some things still the same.

On a brief shopping excursion, Mrs. Wesley Fisher with a green scarf holding her blonde hair against the wind, with her pretty daughter, coming out of a store... Donna Johnson inspecting some "special for today" items, looking bright as the season in a dress the color of the daffodils that are flourishing their blooms all over town.

SPEAKING OF daffodils, those on the postoffice lawn certainly light up that downtown corner... during our recent snow, I heard Mrs. M. L. Simpson and others talking about those already in blossom, weighted to the ground by snow but popping back up the minute it melted.

Genevieve Miller says hers were planted late, and the blooms aren't open yet.

A little late for crocus blooms, probably because they are on the north side of the house, those planted at random on the curb in front of the Gene Streuns' home add a gay note to that block on East Fourth.

Another sign of spring, Mrs. John Patton in her sunbonnet, out raking the front lawn... Roberta Campbell showing off a dozen Easter eggs that were laid, already colored, by a special breed of hens she is raising at her place just southeast of town.

they are in pastel tints of pink, blue and green, and she says some people want to try washing them to see if the color will come off. It won't, they are really in those tints naturally.

Miss Judy Hollingsworth
... in senior recital

Student To Be Heard In Recital

Miss Judy Hollingsworth will be presented in senior recital at 2:30 p. m. today in Avenue Baptist Church by her voice-teacher, Mrs. Allen Casler. The public is invited to the program, which is sponsored by Music Study Club.

In her first group of solos the young soprano will present Where E'er You Walk, Sure on This Shining Night (Barber) and Lass With the Delectable Air (Arne). Italian songs are included in the next group. A Resolve, Caro Mio Ben, Virgilio Tuto Amour and O Mio Babino Caro.

Songs in a lighter vein will be heard in the finale. He's Gone Away, Black Is the Color, This Is My Beloved from the musical comedy Kismet, and With a Song in My Heart. Between the song groups will be selections by the Woodwind Quintet from Hereford High School Band.

Miss Hillingsworth is a senior in HHS, a member of the A Cappello Choir and winner of numerous honors as a soloist in student competition. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hollingsworth.

Time Change In Services

Revival services begin today at Avenue Baptist Church, in Hereford with Rev. Seth E. Johnston, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Hawkins, as evangelist. Services will continue through next Sunday.

Rev. Ronald Harpster, pastor of the Avenue Church, reported that there has been a time change for the evening services. They have been rescheduled to begin at 7:45 p. m. However, there is no change in the morning services, to be conducted daily at 9:30 a. m.

Nursery is being made available for each service. Rev. Harpster said, and the public is invited to attend.

District HDA Convention Reports Given

Reports on the convention of District I, Texas Home Demonstration Association, were given to West Hereford H. D. Club Wednesday by Mrs. Carl Schroeder and Miss Mary Bradley, members who went to the convention in Amarillo Tuesday.

Mrs. Schroeder in the formal report, said Mrs. Sam Spier of Austin, state president, spoke on the topic, The Key Is In Your Hand, and Miss Claudia Williams, state H. D. Agent, on Broad Horizons. She mentioned that District I is one of the 12 districts of THDA, which was organized in 1926.

Report of the County H. D. Council meeting Monday was also presented by Mrs. Schroeder.

Demonstrations were given on making several types of bread. Miss Evelyn Bell made crunchy biscuits, Mrs. E. M. Cox, cool-rise cinnmon rolls, tomato bread and muffins. These and carrot bread were served with tuna salad for refreshments.

Miss Bradley, club president, was hostess in her home and presided for business. Mrs. Cox will be hostess Apr. 8, also in Miss Bradley's home.

Others present were Mmes. W. H. Awtrey Sr., Ulys

Mrs. Dale Millard with mother and daughters Kelly and Kaye

Newcomers In Profile

Iowa Is Former Home

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Born in Iowa, Mrs. Dale Millard lived in that midwestern state until a move to Hereford late last fall, and she says, "This is a different world, entirely!"

TREELESS PLAINS and snowless winters are a part of the difference she means, but she adds that "the climate, the things that grow here, even the people are different!"

Her husband is plant superintendent for Missouri Beef Packers at Friona, and the Millards moved here from Sioux City. They have three children, Kelly, 10, Bryan, 8, and kindergartner Kaye, 5.

They are getting acclimated to the new environment, exploring the Panhandle and learning that cottonwood trees grow along the Canadian River and in Palo Duro Canyon as well as in their native state, and getting acquainted with Hereford residents.

MRS. MILLARD is a bit amazed at the number of people she has met who have not lived here any longer than she has.

"There don't seem to be many people in Hereford who were born here," she notes as she takes in the idea of the town's obvious rapid growth. "They are just too much outnumbered by newcomers."

Blonde, blue-eyed Mrs. Millard was born in Elk Horn, "a very little town" and grew up in Denison, as did her husband. They were married soon after she was graduated from high school.

HER PARENTS, Mr. and Mrs. John Rattenborg, still make their home in Denison. They have been visiting in the Millard home the past week, on their way back to Iowa after spending the winter at Brownsville where they have a mobile home for residence during the cold months.

One of her favorite home-making hobbies is a matter of study for Mrs. Millard since her move. She enjoys growing flowers and having an attractive yard, and has been trying to learn before spring gardening time just what plants and varieties do best in this climate and when to plant them.

Living in a new house at 133 Cherokee, she must start from scratch with her gardening, and is looking forward to seeing what can be grown this summer.

THE PRETTY housewife likes to sew, knit and do almost any type of handwork. She makes most of her own and her daughters' dresses, she says, and reversing a familiar pattern, does considerable sewing for her mother.

She enjoys refinishing furniture, too, and has put an antique-type finish on an entire dining-room suite and on a quaint old rocker that sits beside the fireplace in the den.

Bridge is a new enthusiasm, and she has begun learning the game since moving to Hereford.

"It helps in getting acquainted," she explains, "and is lots of fun. My husband says I'm getting to be a real bridge shark!"

ZOO WANTS BRIDES

GAUHATI, India (AP) — Wanted: Brides for the inmates of the Gauhati Zoo.

This advertisement was sent in the form of an SOS by the zoo authorities to the Delhi Zoo. It has sought matches for a gray langur, capped langur, Capuchin monkey, Indian civet and binturong.

While the problem basically is of too many bachelors, the Gauhati Zoo had, for a change, also sought a male Japanese sikka deer for the female one it has.

Easter Seals Aid Handicapped

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and isn't getting it?" is the question being asked by J. A. Hodges, Jr., who is Deaf Smith County's Easter Seal Representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

The Easter Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives, Hodges said.

This is accomplished through direct treatment services, education, research, and cooperative efforts with all other health agencies, private, state and federal. The Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services, but strives to fill all unmet needs of the disabled, he added.

The Texas Easter Seal Society is carrying out its fortieth annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance a program of rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. Physical therapy and speech and hearing programs are offered to help the disabled make their lives fuller, despite their handicaps.

Hodges urged every person in Deaf Smith County to increase his or her support of the Texas Easter Seal Society and its program of services to the crippled children and adults.

He added that anyone who could benefit from rehabilitation services should contact him at the Hereford State Bank, Hereford, to request services from the Easter Seal Society.

Life On Ocean Floor Pictured In Club Talk

Picturing a world with ranches, factories, mines and cities on the bottom of the ocean, Mrs. Sue James discussed new ventures in oceanography for the Calliopean Study Club program Thursday evening. The meeting was in Mrs. E. W. Detman's home.

"Beautiful and dangerous, elegant and strong, bountiful and whimsical, the sea offers every man in the street the exciting opportunity to be a man in the sea," she said, adding that as in a military operation, man will master the sea only when he occupies it.

She projected the future of the earth's oceans as a source of food, water, minerals and as a recreation area.

Mrs. George Warner presided for a brief business meeting.

Also present for the program and refreshments in an Easter motif were Mrs. B. F. Cain, Clyde Cave, C. J. Crump, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, Emmett Milburn, and D. W. Palmer.

FUNK'S HYBRIDS

FUNK'S G-4333

G-4333 is a short season high-yielding, strong-standing, single cross which established top yield records in 1968. At Tullia 185 bushels per acre was chalked up and 147 bushels per acre made at Dimmitt. G-4333 is very attractive with uniform stalk and ear height. It responds to higher plant population and narrow rows where fertility and water make top yields possible and does unusually well under average conditions. G-4333 has outyielded competitors in this early maturing category. Be sure to plant G-4333 in 1969.

FUNK'S G-4697

G-4697 is a medium maturity high-yielding, strong-standing hybrid producing grain of excellent quality. Yields of 179.5, 175, 154, and 143 bushels per acre have been recorded in 1968 in Castro county. G-4697 produces uniform wide leaves and girthy ears. Excellent threshability is reported. Plant early for highest yields and superior standability.

FUNK'S G-711AA

G-711AA is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711AA was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, with 30-05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711AA tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planting for silage you should be planting G-711AA.

3-War Service Record

Mrs. Jettie Bicknell of 115 Catalpa in Hereford noted the lineage in her family regarding military service covering three wars.

Mrs. Bicknell's late husband, Robert Sr., who will be remembered as a patrolman at Shirley Elementary School here prior to his death on November 19, 1963, was a veteran of World War I.

Two sons, Robert Jr. and Waymon Bicknell, were veterans of World War II. But Mrs. Bicknell now has three grandsons in the service — all sons of Waymon and she is proud of the entire record.

Robert Roy Bicknell is now stationed at the Alameda Naval Air Station in California. Johnny Bicknell is stationed in Germany, and Larry is now posted at Fort Ord, California.

Price Supports Rural Phone Financing Bill

Panhandle Congressmen a Bob Price supported a rural telephone financing bill approved by the House Agriculture Committee. The legislation, if approved by the House and Senate, will establish a bank to provide new supplemental financing from private as well as Federal sources, for rural telephone systems.

The legislation is intended primarily to bring funds from the private money market into the rural telephone program to augment the present Rural Electrification Administration (REA) two percent loan money. Eligible private companies as well as cooperatives would obtain loans from the REA bank.

Before approving the measure, the committee adopted an amendment which would bar loan applicants from receiving direct (2 percent) REA loans if their net worth amounted to 20 percent of assets. It was argued that these companies did not need the direct loan, but should not be prohibited from participation in the REA program. Under other provisions of the bill, those borrowers could obtain loans from the REA bank at rates of not less than 4 percent.

Price voiced a hope that the measure would not meet the same fate as an almost identical bill which the committee approved last year. That bill, after winning a 23 to 5 passage in the Agriculture Committee, died in the House Rules Committee with the adjournment of the 90th Congress.

"While the Rules Committee held up the legislation last year," Price said, "I am hopeful that they will give it favorable consideration now and let it go to the House Floor for action."

Under the REA phone bill the government would furnish capital to the Telephone Bank at a rate of $30 million annually, which would come from repayments on outstanding loans, until the total reached $300 million. Eventually the borrowers themselves would become sole owners of the bank, as was the case regarding the Federal Land Banks.

The financial structure of the Telephone bank would include (1) the capital subscribed by the Government; (2) capital subscribed by borrowers and their member as investments; (3) funds received from sale of debentures, which shall not exceed eight times the capital subscribed by the Government.

Approximately two-thirds of the estimated 875 telephone companies now borrowing from the REA are privately-owned enterprises, the remainder cooperatives. Most of the pending loan applications propose improvements to existing systems by reducing the average number of parties on a single line and otherwise updating facilities.

Miss Hoffman Bride In Evening Ceremony

Marriage vows of Miss Loretta Ann Hoffman and David Neale Gass were exchanged in an evening ceremony Friday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, with the Rev. John Van der Kulk conducting the nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. M. Hoffman, 327 Star, and the late Mr. Hoffman. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gass of Amarillo.

White gladiolus decorated the church altar for the ceremony, in which Michael and Gerald Schulte served as acolytes. Dennis Hoffman of Amarillo gave his sister in marriage.

She was attended by Miss Dorothy Frerich of Canyon as maid of honor and Kenneth Thompson of Amarillo was best man. Stan Sigman and Terry Edwards were the ushers.

Mrs. Allen Evers was organist and Larry Kuper the vocal soloist for wedding music. Selections included The Lord's Prayer, The Rosary, Beautiful Isle of Somewhere, Blessed Are the Pure in Heart and Ave Maria. Mrs. Evers played the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's opera, Lohengrin, as the processional, and the Rossini Recessional.

A slender gown of bride a white peau de sole with crescent waistline was worn by Miss Hoffman. Chantilly lace scallops with pearl embroidery circled the neckline and extended down the front. A looped bow secured the full-circle train which swept chapel length.

Her elbow-length veil of English silk was edged with lace scallops and caught to a headpiece of pearl-trimmed petals. Pink carnations with English Ivy, ribbon bows and streamers made her bouquet. The maid of honor wore powder pink chiffon designed with high-rise waistline and floor-length slim skirt, ornamented with Venice lace. She carried a single pink carnation.

At the reception after the ceremony, Mrs. George Bulard served cake and Mrs. Lee Chamlee of Odessa, sister of the bride, poured punch in St. Anthony's auditorium.

Mrs. J. D. Huckabee of Lubbock, the bridegroom's sister, registered guests. Mrs. Alvin Bezner and Mrs. Ed Bezner assisted in serving.

Pink and white carnations decorated the table, and the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bride-and-groom figurines, was circled with pink and white sugar roses.

The couple left on a trip to San Antonio, Mrs. Gass wearing a gold sculptured knit frock with roll collar and short sleeves. They plan to be at home by mid-week in the Lynette Apartments.

The bride, now a service representative with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, attended West Texas State University after graduation from Hereford High School. Gass is also an em-

Truman's Car Sidetracked

Former President Harry S. Truman's 1946 Presidential campaign railroad car will not appear in Hereford at this time.

According to Alexander J. Barket, chairman of the Civic Plaza National Bank of Kansas City, Mo., the special car was to have passed through Hereford via the Santa Fe Railroad at 11:15 p. m. Tuesday. But a check with local Santa Fe officials revealed that they knew nothing of the arrangement. Barket contacted the Brand again Thursday and reported that "due to rerouting, President Truman's campaign railroad car will not appear in Hereford as anticipated."

He said that its appearance could perhaps be scheduled for a future date.

Surplus Water Needed Here

Emergency steps are now being taken to safeguard people and property from floods that the Army Corps of Engineers say could swell into the worst in the history of the Midwest. Record snowfalls are expected to begin melting next week.

Sandbags are being packed and dikes reinforced as a 9-stage area covering a quarter of the country and affecting 6 million persons gets ready for the anticipated rush of water.

The flood situation throughout the Midwest this year could spell disaster for thousands of farmers located in the low-lying areas along the mighty Mississippi River.

Snow accumulations have reached a record peak this year in Northern Minnesota and along the Mississippi and Minnesota River basins. When this accumulation begins to melt, rivers along the way simply will not be able to handle the millions of gallons of water pouring into their channels. While a little further west, in the Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona regions, thousands of farmers would be willing to pay dearly for this same water for their thirsty crops. If the water importation dream could now be a reality, excess water from the Mississippi River could be moved into storage basins throughout the

A Capable Man For A Big Job!

The hiring of Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake as Executive Director of Water, Inc. has substantially strengthened the position of the high plains farmers seeking water importation into this area. Clayton is one of the hardest working men in the Texas legislature and is highly regarded by his colleagues in Austin. He knows the ins and outs of the legislature and has proven in recent years that he can get things done. Clayton also understands, as only a high plains farmer can, the seriousness of the situation. The underground supply of water will not last forever. Some authorities say that we will be in trouble in many areas of the high plains within 15 years, although some sections will probably have an ample supply of underground water for many more years than that. But it will take years to construct all the necessary canals, pumping stations, etc. to push the water up to our area even after funds have been approved and work started. We cannot afford to delay, and we feel that Clayton's addition to the Water, Inc. staff will help speed this most important project.

arid areas of these four states, averting the impending disaster along the mighty Mississippi, and furnishing millions of acre feet of water not only for crops but for additional recreation needs.

The price will be high, but the cost will really just be peanuts compared to the economic benefits realized in both areas. Certainly, we would hope that a spirit of cooperation and good sense will prevail among the legislators in all the states affected in order that in future years flooding along the Mississippi can be controlled, and citizens of this area can benefit from the surplus of water.

Profiteers Of Perdition

ANY TEXAN who still thinks the drug problem is something that can't happen here has not been paying attention. The drug menace has struck directly at dozens of North Texas families, whose agonizing dilemma has been detailed in articles by Fred Pass and other writers of The News.

But the Texas House of Representatives has moved to do something about it. The legislators passed a bill that could help dry up the source of drugs that are infecting the lives of many teenagers and young adults in this state.

The bill would substantially increase the minimum penalty for a adult dope pushers who give or sell narcotics to minors. The present minimum of two years' imprisonment would be raised to five years for the first conviction. For subsequent convictions, the pusher would face a minimum prison term of 10 years.

The House bill, which would apply to marijuana, heroin and other narcotics, also redefines the term "minor" to include anyone under 21.

Action against drug peddlers is clearly overdue. Marijuana and other drugs have become a major problem in cities and suburbs, among all races and in all income levels. And the worst feature of this poisonous trend is that drug use is growing fastest among the young.

The young, lacking the experience to recognize fully the dangers of addiction, are drawn into the drug culture on a dare, or to follow a fad or because "everybody is doing it."

The youthful combination of curiosity and a lack of knowledge is, in most activity, the driving force for growth and self-improvement. But when it leads to experimentation with drugs, the combination can wreck promising lives before they really have a chance.

For society, for families of addicts and for the addicts themselves this is a tragedy, a senseless waste of humanity itself.

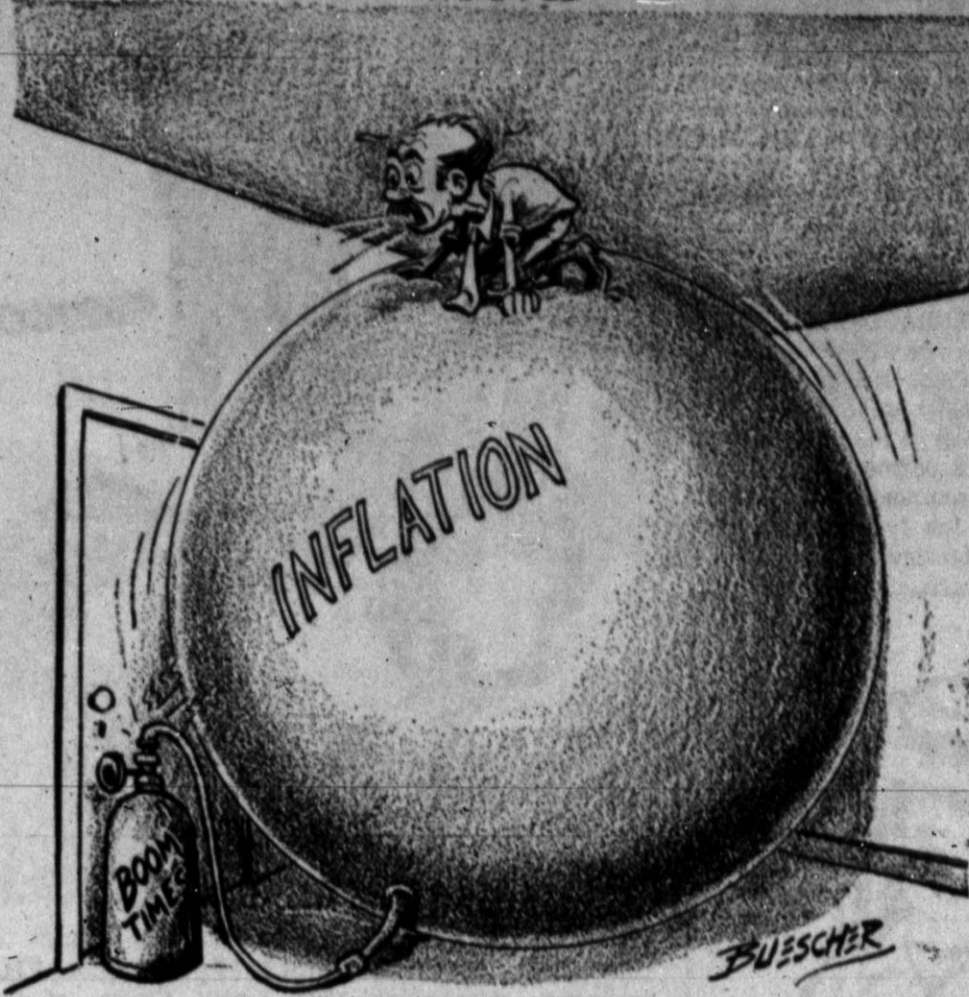

But for the pusher, it's just business as usual; his profits depend on the ruin of his customers' lives.

The pusher and his supplier must be recognized for what they are — men who murder on the installment plan. Their victims number in the hundreds and the slow death of narcotics addiction can spread its effects to others, in the bribery of public officials, in the despair of families, in the waves of crimes committed by desperate addicts.

If society is to defend itself from these profiteers of perdition, it must enlist the help of all who are threatened by the drug traffic; not only the law-enforcement agencies but the youths of the state, their parents and their schools. We must get the facts to the young people who need to know what addiction means. We must cooperate to fend off this menace, and the counterattack against dope must advance on many fronts.

But the first step must be to stop the merchandisers of misery who trade in the corruption of the young.

Visitors Flock To Capitol

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Spring officially reaches the Nation's Capitol on March 21 each year but unofficially it comes a bit later, when the cherry blossoms bloom and the tourists flock to town. Springtime visits to Washington are a national tradition. Many an adult recall seeing the sights of Washington for the first time as a high school senior on a graduating class excursion. Groups come from hundreds of miles away, usually by chartered bus.

This year's Cherry Blossom Festival begins April 8 and concludes April 13. There is to be some doubt whether the blossoms would be in bloom during the celebration but scientists have licked that problem with hormones. They can produce the blossoms on schedule although high winds make the showing brief. The cherry trees which rim the Tidal Basin near the Jefferson Memorial date back to 1912. The wife of President William Howard Taft planted the first Japanese cherry tree in Washington. Now there are over 2,000 of them. They are just the right height for picture-taking purposes, as millions of photograph albums will attest. Since 1934, there has been a Cherry Blossom Festival every year. The first Cherry Blossom Queen was Eleanor Roosevelt — not the then-First Lady but the daughter of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Henry Roosevelt. The Queen is not a beauty contest winner but a Princess representing a state or territory who is chosen by the spin of a wheel.

23 Events Scheduled

There are 23 events scheduled during Cherry Blossom Week, but it is a safe bet that nobody will make them all. Two balls and a luncheon are by invitation only, and one luncheon-fashion show costs $10 per ticket. However, admission is free to most events, including pageants, concerts, a parade, and even a rugby tournament.

Scores of high school bands will vie in an all-day contest, and more than 50 college units will participate in the National Intercollegiate Drill Team Championships. More than 5,000 band members will perform in a retreat Ceremony, staged in the shadow of the Washington Monument.

Most Washington visitors, even at Cherry Blossom time, have other things on their minds beside the official program of events. There are the monuments to be seen, and the scores of other attractions, including watching history in the making in Congress and the Supreme Court.

Nobody will want to leave Washington without at least a quick look at the White House. This year there will be many questions about Lafayette Park, across the street from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. It is now enclosed by a temporary fence, while a construction project is underway.

'68 RIOTS RECALLED

It was just after the Cherry Blossom Festival last year that Washington's worst riots occurred. Tourist business collapsed as a result. Even this year some members of Congress are advising their constituents not to come because of the high crime rate. However, the Washington Convention and Visitors Bureau expects tourism to be back to normal.

The burned-out blocks, still unrepaired from 1968, are only a mile or so from the tourist attractions but few visitors head in that direction.

Washington is a great place to visit, especially in spring. With the cooperation of Mother Nature, the areas' 23,000 hotel and motel rooms should be jammed to capacity this season.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnsgrass farm reports on a strange item he discovered out of Washington.

Dear editor:
People are always talking about all the rules and regulations Washington is always thinking up for the people, so it was with considerable amazement I read in a newspaper last night that Washington has thought up some for itself.

The Attorney General's Department, out of force of habit I guess, has come up with a set of rules for the 1,200 lawyers it has in the Justice Department. Every lawyer must keep a log every fifteen minutes of every day of how he spent his time. What he did from 9 a. m. to 9:15 has to be entered, from 9:15 to 9:30, etc., right on through the entire day, five days a week.

What I want to know is, do you reckon there's any danger of this spreading?

Are we getting close to the time when Washington will require me for example to give a daily account of how I spent my time from sun-up to sun-down?

Since you never can tell and I like to be ahead of the hounds, so to speak, so long as the hounds are asleep, I decided to jot down what I did yesterday, just to see how it works.

- 6 a. m. to 6:30 studied about getting up.
- 6:40 got up.
- 7 to 7:30: waited for breakfast.
- 7:30 to 8: ate.
- 8 to 9: planned my day's work.
- 9 to 10: revised my plans.
- 10 to 11: can't remember.
- 11 to 12: too near lunch to start anything now.
- 12 to 12:30 ate.
- 12:30 to 1:30: nap.
- 1:30 to 3:30: went to town to get a tractor part.
- 3:30 to 4: discovered it didn't fit.
- 4 to 4:30: finally decided to try again tomorrow.
- 4:40 to 5: a man can't work all the time. Rested.
- 5 to 6: watched television's summary of the embattled world, got back to normal with a copy of The Brand.
- 6: threw the log away.

This is not to say however that those 1200 lawyers shouldn't keep it up. Any time spot checking on themselves is that much less time spent checking on you and me.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

THE CHANGING TIMES — After more than 50 years as a rite by which the Gulf coast welcomed the arrival of spring, the famous "Splash Days" of Galveston are no more.

The celebration began in 1911 as a bathing beauty contest. Later it expanded into a full-fledged pageant with a five-mile-long parade, golf tournaments, a charity ball and what not. And Texans by the tens of thousands trekked each April to Galveston for the fiesta.

In the 1960's, however, the crowds began to get unruly. The name was changed to "Splash Month" and the festivities spread out over four weeks. The mobs continued to congregate, however — mostly students that poured into the area, harassed other visitors and destroyed property. In 1964, Galveston decided that it had had enough and called off the holiday.

GAMES PEOPLE PLAY — The cakewalk, one of the favorite devices grandpa used to court grandma, is still going strong in Texas.

In the Dimmit County town of Carriso Springs, the old rural party game is so popular that a permanent cakewalk diagram has been painted on the pavement in front of the town square.

REMEMBER WHEN — Farmers brought milk into town in their wagons and peddled it door-to-door? Customers furnished their own pitchers while the milkman poured his unpasteurized product from a big can.

THE DISAPPEARING PAST — One of the oldest buildings in East Texas is rotting away four miles east of Crockett on State Highway 31, the old "El Camino Real."

It is the Rice Stage Coach Inn, built 141 years ago to serve travelers along "the King's Highway." Descendants of John Rice, who built the inn in 1828, leased the site to Houston County in 1962 with the understanding that it would be restored. It hasn't been.

The log hut was a home for the Rice family on the ground floor, with the second story reserved for way-fayers traveling the old Spanish Trail stages.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD — Lucinda Desha Robb, first granddaughter of former President Lyndon Johnson, was born in Maryland — but over Texas soil.

Lucinda was born in the U. S. Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Maryland, last October. But before she was born, her mother, Lynda Johnson Robb, made sure that the event would happen over pure Texas dirt.

Warren Woodward of Dallas, long-time Johnson family friend, had several pounds of rich Texas soil flown to Washington. Lynda had it placed under her bed in the room where Lucinda was delivered.

LEGENDS THAT LIE — It isn't true that the Texas jackrabbit can outrun a race horse, but he won't be left at the gate.

While a good nag can run about 34 miles an hour for a mile or so, the jackrabbit has been clocked at only 28 miles per hour. But leaping ten feet at a time and more than 200 leaps a minute, he has been known to hit 45 miles an hour on the straightaway.

That C. L. Tallmadge, with his large number of prospectors coming into this section, is helping Hereford in more ways than one is evidenced by the fact that a large number of Hereford eggs were eaten here by his first party of prospectors and they were so pleased with the quality and size of the same that the attention of the same was brought to the egg dealers of Chicago, who have, since that time, purchased over 300 dozen of this staple article, and would have purchased more had they been obtainable.

Deaf Smith County is at last officially "on the map" — so far as the State Highway Commission is concerned at any rate. At a meeting of the Commission at Austin on March 20 the route of State Highway No. 33 was officially designated as "Beginning at the point of the east boundary line of Wheeler County at the intersection of Oklahoma State Highway No. 12, thence west to Wheeler, Mobeetie, Panhandle, Amarillo, Canyon, Hereford, Farwell, thence across the State of New Mexico to join the previously designated part of the Texas State Highway No. 3, thence to El Paso and Mexico City."

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

Literally life-saving was the snow which fell here last Sunday in the opinion of every farmer and citizen of Deaf Smith County. Beginning around 8 a. m. and lasting until late Sunday night, the snow fell heavily all day long. Although the warm weather caused the snow to melt as it fell, the fall was conservatively estimated at 15 inches. It carried moisture in excess of 2 inches.

After meeting with several groups and inspecting irrigation farms in this community during the past weekend, George Yamauchi, an American-born Japanese, indicated that he may return here to make his home. Lt. William H. (Bill) Shore, nephew of L. H. Shore of Hereford, has been reported as missing in action since March 4 when he took part in a raid over France. Lt. Shore, who attended Hereford schools and lived here for several years, completed his education in Amarillo schools.

Little Sister Of YHT Is Presented At Party

The 1969 Little Sister of Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, is Diana Adams, whose identity was revealed at a Coke party Wednesday afternoon in the homemaking parlor of Hereford High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams.

All girls in the Future Homemakers of America were honored at the party, an event of FHA Week. A girl is chosen each year from FHA members to represent the YHT as Little Sister in a district contest. Choice is based on her record as a homemaker.

ing student and activity in the FHA.

Mrs. Jim Culpepper, chairman of the selection committee, presented Miss Adams to girls and their mothers who were party guests, and gave her a gift from the chapter. Mrs. Dorman Duggan and Mike Watts were also committee members.

Mrs. Charles Weatherford made another presentation, giving a check to Evelyn Kuper, representing the third-year homemaking class which planned recent redecoration of the parlor. The money will be used to buy an accessory to add to the room. Refreshments were served by Mmes. Don Howard, John Newton and Mike Ranspot from a table covered in pink and centered with pink roses.

Other YHT members who assisted in greeting and serving the girls, their mothers and the FHA sponsors, Mrs. Frank Prawell and Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith, were Mmes. Larry Dobbs, Leland Shelton and Layton Sawye.

DAD PLAYS BEST
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Jim English of Littleton, Colo., struck a blow for the older generation in advancing to the semi-finals of the Broadmoor Invitational Golf tournament. He beat his son, Jim Jr., 4 and 3, in the quarter-finals.

PRESENTATIONS — Diana Adams, center in top photo, is the Hereford High School FHA member chosen as 1969 Little Sister of the Young Homemakers of Texas here, and presented at an FHA Week Coke party in the homemaking parlor Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Jim Culpepper of the YHT chapter presents a gift to Miss Adams as her mother, Mrs. Don Adams looks on with a smile. Another presentation at the party was a check for $85, a gift from the YHT to be used in refurbishing of the homemaking parlor. Mrs. Charles Weatherford hands the check to Evelyn Kuper, lower photo.

LIGHTER GOLF CLUBS
CHICAGO — Golfers, who avidly seek new aids for their game, now are turning to aluminum-shafted clubs.

"And they love them," said Mark Cox, president of the PGA and Burke-Worthington, a subsidiary of Victor Comptometer Corp.

"Aluminum shafts have caused the greatest flurry in the pro shops in the past few decades. Everyone seems to want them."

The shafts are 1/2 ounce lighter than the steel shafts that replaced hickory shafts.

One-quarter ounce is added to the weight of the club head, so that the over-all club is 1/4 ounce lighter than previous clubs.

A PRODUCTIVE ACE
ST. PAUL, Minn. — Just before the Minnesota Classic, pro Mac McLendon bought three golf balls for $1 in a hole-in-one contest. He sank his second shot and won an automobile.

It was Mac's eighth ace. Before turning pro he scored three holes-in-one in a 20-day stretch.

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday afternoon in the fellowship room of Frio Baptist Church. A guest, Mrs. Weldon Sage of Lubbock, showed film slides of her trip in November and December to Europe and Asia. She began with the day they arrived at Nice and gave film and description of points they visited in Israel, India, Japan, the Philippines, Taiwan, and other stops in the area including Hawaii. They were away three weeks. Mr. Sage is a member of a farm group making the tour in the interest of the cotton industry.

try. Mrs. Herbert Bruns and Mrs. Annie Springer were hostesses. Others attending were Mmes. Harlan Barber, T.L. Sparkman Jr., Eugene Baldwin, Tommy Sparkman, Chesley Johnston, David Yandell, Charles Self, Olin Parris, Henry Andrews, Frank Robbins, E. E. Vogler, Owen Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews.

Mrs. H. M. Mobley visited Friday with Mrs. Lillian Fischer Sevier in Amarillo. Mrs. Sevier is a former resident of Mrs. Mobley's neighborhood and a very long time friend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson returned home Thursday of last week from a ten-day visit with their family and friends at Wellington. Their son, Robert, went after them. Visiting the Bill Warricks the last of the week was his mother, Mrs. Velman Warrick, Wellington. She also visited Mrs. J. E. Warrick and J. E. Jr.

The Edgar Vinson family visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Betts on the weekend of March 16 at Irving. Mrs. Betts is the former Ediana Vinson.

Visiting the Carlton Dobbins on Tuesday night were his sister-in-law, Mrs. D. A. Dobbins, her son, M. L. Dobbins and Mrs. M. U. Dobbins, all of Winters.

Visiting the Dobbins one day last week were Mrs. Roy Martin, Abernathy, and Mrs. Joe Scott, Dimmitt.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:
I read in the Boys Ranch news a short time ago that Boys Ranch had received or was about to receive $4-million which is mighty nice. It is wonderful that so many people are interested in the ranch and its boys, and to know that so many boys have been helped to make a new start in life.

And now that the ranch is getting so much help I hope it will give more people time to think about Grlstown, USA. Boys Ranch with all its popularity may never reach Easy Street where it can coast long on its own power, but it should be easier from now on. Grlstown still has a desperate struggle to survive.

Boys Ranch will help many a boy to keep from becoming another Pretty Boy Floyd, and Grlstown will help to keep some girl from being another Bonnie Parker. As bad as some boys need help I believe girls need even more.

It would be wonderful if they could receive a 50-50 consideration.

Ole T. Larson,

Sen. Tower Plans Fifth Tour Of Vietnam Area

Next Thursday I plan to begin a 10-day visit to Southeast Asia. It will be my fifth visit to South Vietnam and my first since November of 1967.

Since my last visit several developments have taken place: President Johnson imposed a halt in our bombing of North Vietnam. General Creighton Abrams has taken command of our forces in Vietnam. The work of upgrading the effectiveness of the ARVN troops — the Army of the Republic of Vietnam — is going forward. Negotiations in Paris have begun. The Communists have initiated another offensive. And, most recently, the South Vietnamese government indicated it is now ready to talk privately with the Viet Cong in Paris.

As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, it is important, I believe, for me to gain a first-hand impression of the effects of all these developments upon our military effort in Vietnam.

To gauge these effects, I will take time to talk privately and informally with many of our troops in the field as well as with our military and civilian leaders. I plan to visit Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine enlisted men in the four major combat zones — the Mekong Delta, around Saigon, the central highlands and the area just south of the de-militarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Among our military and civilian leaders with whom I plan to meet are our ambassador to South Vietnam, Ellisworth Bunker; our ambassador to Thailand, Leonard Unger; General Abrams; and the commander of our 25th Infantry Division, Major General Ellis W. Williamson; our 4th Infantry Division, Brig. General Donn R. Pepke; and our 1st Air Cavalry, Major General George I. Forsythe.

I know that the Vietnam war is the issue uppermost in your minds. The war has already gone on for a much longer time than any of us would have liked. And the peace negotiations in Paris are progressing very slowly. Apparently the North Vietnamese government is following the traditional Communist strategy of slowing down negotiations while intensifying their combat activities in the hope that we will become frustrated and settle for far less than our original goals.

Our original goals, however, were not unrealistic and it is my belief that we should not settle for less.

Let us recall just what it is that we seek through our military activities in South Vietnam and at the negotiations in Paris.

We seek first and foremost an honorable, just and lasting peace for all of Southeast Asia.

We seek a chance for the South Vietnamese people to freely develop their economy, freely choose their form of government, and freely develop stable political institutions.

We seek to make credible to our enemies in this world, our determination — our ability to resist aggression — and our willingness to fulfill our obligations under our treaty commitments.

And we seek eventually to help develop Southeast Asian regional organizations through which those countries can undertake effective self-help programs.

These are our goals. They are just, reasonable and clear. And it is imperative to our own national interest that these goals be achieved.

I do not know exactly what I will find in Vietnam. I hope that when I return I will be able to report that the training of the ARVN troops is going along so well that it will be possible in the near future to reduce our own troop commitment in South Vietnam. But this is only a hope. It is not an expectation.

I have always hoped for an early end to the war in Vietnam, but at the same time I have strongly opposed any action on our part which might show a lack of resolve to our enemies — which might bolster their claim that the United States is a "paper tiger." We cannot afford to become impatient in our efforts to seek to find a just, honorable and lasting peace in Southeast Asia. A peace settlement which can be interpreted as a "pull-out" on our part, will only encourage our enemies to continue their aggressive activities elsewhere. Such a settlement would not ensure peace for our nation but would only insure another war. We must remain firm in our resolve to contain the communists and keep them as far as possible from our shores. When I return from my Vietnam trip, I will make a full report to the Armed Services Committee and then meet with the press to make a public report. I hope that I will have good news to report to you in my first broadcast after my return.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — If a tax expert prepares your tax return isn't he responsible for mistakes?

A — No. You are legally responsible for the accuracy of your return. For this reason, check it over before sending it in to make certain there are no errors.

To help avoid delays in processing your return, have your tax expert fill out the pre-addressed tax form you received in the mail. This form contains your name, address and social security number just as they appear in IRS files. If any of this information is wrong, correct it and send it back with your return.

Q — It's been more than six weeks since I sent in my return. Shouldn't I have my refund by now?

A — Yes, most refund claims filed early can be processed in five to six weeks. However, if there is a mistake on the return, the refund will be delayed until it is corrected.

Practically all taxpayers have either received their refund or a letter about it within 10 weeks from the time they filed their return. Therefore, taxpayers should wait at least 10 weeks before inquiring about their refund.

Q — When I took my present job I was reimbursed for my moving expenses. Is that considered income?

A — Whether the reimbursement is taxable depends on the nature of the moving expenses you were reimbursed for. Certain distance and length of employment tests also have to be met. Page 6 of the 1040 instructions explains this in greater detail.

Q — Do you have to be 65 to claim the retirement income credit? I retired at 62 and the credit would help me.

A — If you received a pension or annuity under a public retirement system (one established by the Federal Government, a state, county, city, etc.) you may be entitled to a retirement income credit even though you are not 65. This credit, which is computed on Schedule B (Form 1040), is discussed on page B-3 of the instructions.

Copies of the form and instructions may be obtained from your local IRS office or, in many cases, your post office or bank.

Q — I don't think I will have all the information I need to file my return by April 15. How can I get more time to file?

A — Send Form 2688, Application for Extension of Time to File U. S. Individual Income Tax Return, or a letter to the IRS office where the return would be filed.

Each item of Form 2688 should be completed. If you write a letter, it should contain your reasons for requesting an extension, whether you filed returns on time for the 3 prior years and if you were required to file an estimated tax return for the tax year for which the extension is requested. If an estimate was filed give details on amounts and dates paid.

The application must be submitted well before the due date of the return so that your return can be filed on time if the request for extension is granted.

Q — I lost the envelope that came with my tax forms. Where should I send my return?

A — Look on page 9 of the 1040 tax instructions for the address to use.

Q — I was divorced last month and my ex-husband wants me to file a joint return with him so he can save on his taxes. Is that alright?

A — If you were married on the last day of 1968 then you can legally file a joint return with your husband for that year.

Whether filing a joint return will be to your advantage is something you should consider. Keep in mind that if you file a joint return with your ex-husband you will be legally responsible as he is for any tax that may be due on the return.

Rodriguez Is In Ft. Polk

FT. POLK, LA. — Army Private Gregory Rodriguez, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cipriano Rodriguez, 235 Avenue F, Hereford, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training March 7 at Ft. Polk. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for 115 days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Danny Vermillion Is New Firestone Store Manager

Danny Vermillion has been named manager of the new Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. store at 105 N. Main in Hereford.

Although the grand opening celebration of the Firestone Home and Auto Safety Center is not scheduled until Monday, April 7, Vermillion reported that it is now open for business.

Vermillion was graduated in 1961 from the Chickasha, Oklahoma, High School and attended Southwestern State College at Weatherford. Upon graduation in 1965, he received degrees in Business Administration, Accounting and Economics.

He was an active member of Phi Beta Kappa national business fraternity.

Vermillion has been employed by Firestone for the past four years. He took his training with them at Pampa, Lubbock and Amarillo. Married, his wife Linda graduated with a degree in Pharmacy at SSC in Oklahoma and is employed here at Gibson's Pharmacy.

Game Officer Jobs Now Open

SAN ANGELO — Applications are being accepted from now until May 22 for the position of game management officer, a career opportunity in wildlife conservation and law enforcement, according to enforcement supervisor N. E. Glover of San Angelo.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Box 1500, San Angelo, has application forms that will be mailed upon request to men between the ages of 21 and 40 inclusive provided they meet certain qualifications.

An applicant must be at least a high school graduate or have an equivalency, at least 5 feet 8 inches tall without shoes, and must weigh at least 2 pounds and not more than 3 pounds per inch of height. He must be a citizen of the United States, a resident of Texas for at least one year prior to the date of appointment, and will be required to pass a physical examination.

Regional Director Henry Burkett advises that applicants who complete the application form and qualify will be notified when and where to report for a written and oral examination. A background investigation of each successful candidate will be made. Those who rank highest in examinations will be called for an oral interview at regional level before being assigned to the 24th Annual Game Management Officer Training School at Texas A&M University.

Once called game wardens, the game management officers selected will complete the training school before being assigned a district of their own in Texas. The application forms will be mailed promptly upon receipt of requests to the above address.

WINS THIRD PENNANT
 LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Vern Rapp is the first manager to win two baseball pennants here. When his Arkansas Travelers won the 1968 Texas League flag it marked his third TL crown in four efforts. Rapp's Tulsa team won in 1965. He repeated with the Travs in 1966 when the team was shifted to Little Rock. His 1967 club finished fifth. The Little Rock team has a working agreement with the St. Louis Cardinals. Read The Classifieds Today. B-4-31-tfc

The Light Touch
by RALPH OWENS

Brides have it easy these days - all they have to do to keep a groom happy is to cook better than a mess sergeant.

A man hopes that his lean years are behind him - a woman hopes hers are ahead.

Where there's a will, there's a lawsuit.

Temper: the only thing that improves the more you don't use it.

Friend of ours went to Las Vegas to get away from it all. Unfortunately, it all got away from him!

Next time, before leaving, he intends to spend a mite at Justice Realtors for an option on the ideal home we'll find for him.

H.D. CHATTER
Turkey Good For Easter
By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Turkey is one of the foods in peak supply during the spring months. At one time turkey was considered seasonal food, but the poultry industry has made turkey available throughout the year. Turkey would be very good for Easter dinner. It could be cooked on outdoor grill or oven barbecued.

OVEN BARBECUED TURKEY
Place turkey quarters or halves, skin side up, in roasting or broiling pan and add Southern Style Sauce to depth of one-half to one inch. Bake uncovered in slow 325 degree oven. Turn occasionally and baste each time, leaving sauce in rib cages when halves are turned up.

As turkey cooks, sauce will thicken into rich gravy. If sauce becomes too thick, add hot water. Cook 2 to 2 1/2 hours, depending upon size. Turn heat to 450 degrees to brown the last 2 or 3 minutes.

To prepare Southern Style Sauce for 12 pounds of raw, unboned turkey, use the following ingredients:
1 1/2 pounds grated onion
2 T. brown sugar
1/4 cups dry mustard
1/4 cup salt
1 T. black pepper
1 1/2 T. cayenne
4 1/2 cups water
2 5 oz. bottles steak sauce
12 cups tomato juice
1 Qt. (plus 3/4 cup) distilled vinegar
3/4 pound butter or margarine or 1 1/2 cups salad oil

THE AGENTS OF THE district were given training in food preservation this week. We learned that: (1) canning of vegetables and fruits has increased 36 percent the last three years. (2) The life of a glass jar is from 13 to 17 years. (3) It takes temperature of 240 degrees to kill the botulism organism. (4) Look on the seed package for the percent of acidity of the tomato. The acidity of the tomato determines the amount of processing time for canning. High acidity tomatoes are processed 35 minutes in the water bath and 15 minutes added for tomatoes of low acidity. In other words, low acidity tomatoes should be processed in the water bath for 50 minutes. (5) Pickles are processed in the water bath to prevent spoilage in case the vinegar is not of high acid or the vegetables are not pickled. (6) Tempered jars are the ones with the name on the side. The trade name is on the bottom, but the name has to be on the side for it to be tempered. (7) In making syrup to cover fruit for canning or freezing, boil the sugar and water for five minutes. This makes a sweeter syrup.

SOME OF THE latest research when canning cauliflower, turnips, parsnips and cabbage, add citric acid or ascorbic acid to prevent darkening. Too, it seems to improve the flavor.

Last summer there were some calls for instructions for drying fruits and vegetables. I wonder why the interest; I have thought people didn't can or freeze enough. It is an old fashioned method and it is a lot of work simply for novelty.

WHEN THE HOME demonstration agents attend the state meeting in Amarillo in August, a four for the husbands and other visitors has been planned. It is the Golden Spread Agricultural Tour.

RICKERD IS WINNER — There was a lot of sorghum grown by these five men in 1968. They are five of the six growers in the DeKalb Sorghum Masters Club who harvested official yields of more than 10,000 lbs. per acre. Left to right, they are Victor Kostelak, Deming, N.M., 10,325 lbs.; Hal Keeler, Deming, 10,791 lbs.; Charles Rickerd, Hereford, 10,267 lbs.; Ralph Wheeler, Edmondson, 10,783 lbs.; and Royce Gene Welch, Friona, 10,302 lbs. There were 15 states represented in the Sorghum Masters program.

Calendar

The Community Calendar, which includes major events which will be of interest to

I am chairman for the Association and we have tried to pack a lot of things into a seven-hour day. A bus has been chartered and a good time planned. Would anyone else like to make the trip?

AS CHAIRMAN of the Clean-up Committee, I will gladly accept suggestions for the committee's consideration. With a few spring days, individuals cleanup campaign will begin. The formal date for the campaign is April 28 through May 3.

Hereford and residents of the immediate area, will run in each issue of the Brand. The calendar will include events for the coming six months, and all individuals and organizations are urged to write or mail their event for inclusion.

APRIL
3 — Schools dismiss for Easter holidays.
8 — Classes resume at school following Easter holidays.

26 — "Our Little Miss" pageant in High School Auditorium, Saturday evening.

MAY
25 — Baccalaureate services are tentatively scheduled for graduating seniors.
