

Museum To Feature New Displays and Expansion

With the signing of a proclamation designating May 30 through June 7 as Museum Days, the Deaf Smith County Museum will be open to the public from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m. during this period. Expansion and rearrangement are future improvements being planned for the museum.

Present displays will be rearranged into new exhibits in the interior of the museum. A general store is to be constructed at the north end of the main room.

The courtyard, at the rear of the museum, will be the site of a livery stable featuring the collection of Tape Wyche. This collection includes the clothing and gear of this pioneer cowboy.

The livery stable will also include an old car and other means of transportation and related items of the early 1900's.

A restored caboose will also be located on the museum grounds. The public will be allowed to climb aboard the old Santa Fe caboose that slept a crew of five, complete with iron stove and a coal bin.

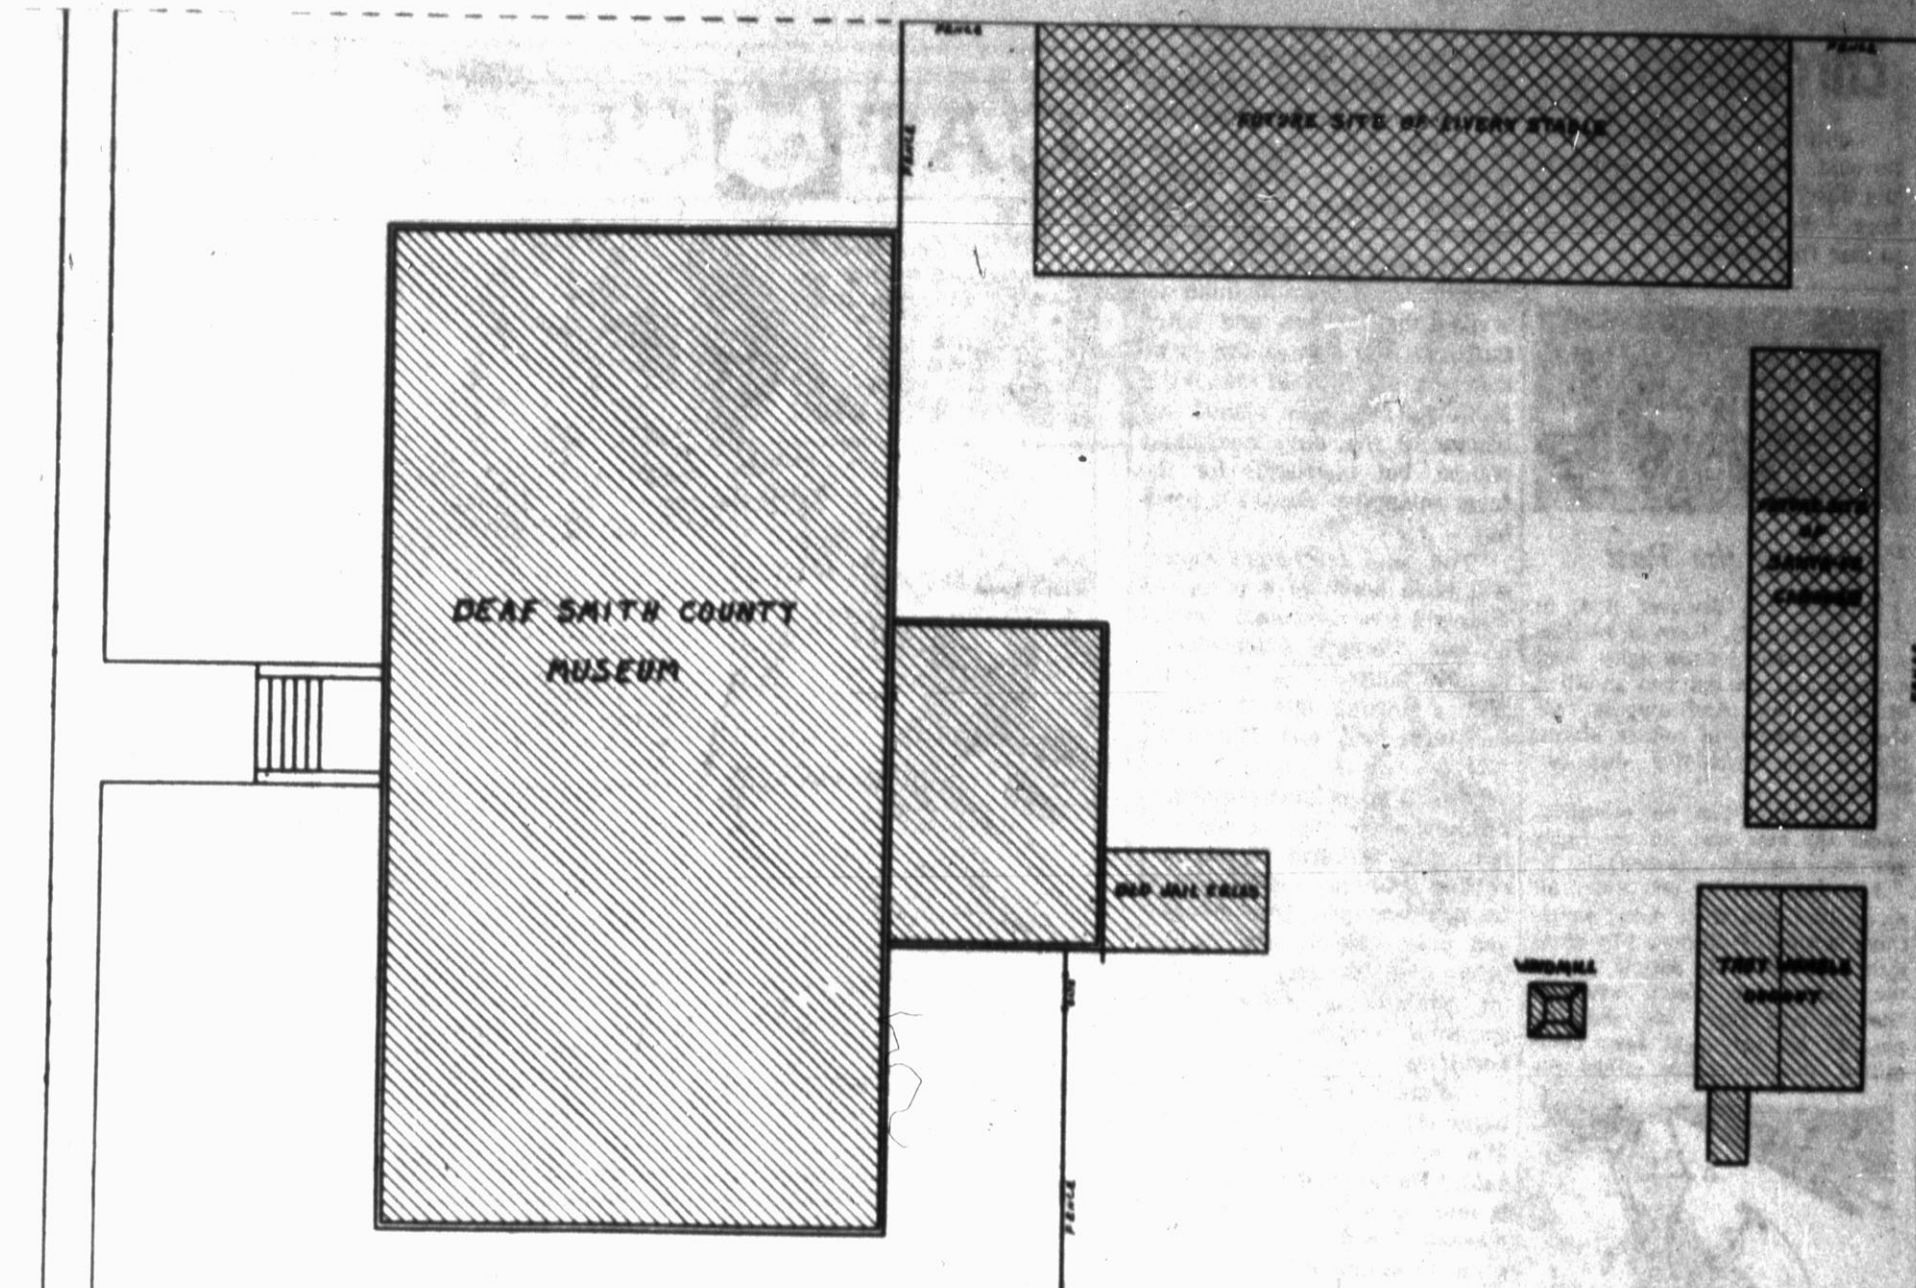

The public is urged to visit the museum during Museum Days. Regular hours for the museum are from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Pre-School Classes To Begin June 9th

Classes for pre-school children will begin in the school program, which will be held in Shirley Elementary school, last year. These classes are scheduled for Monday through Friday, Mrs. Naomi Hopson, supervisor.

The summer program will concentrate on the English language. It will be open to any child that will be six years of age or older before Sept. 1st of next year. Classes will be held one half day beginning in August and lasting through August 1st, according to Mrs. Hopson.

Buses will provide transportation to and from the school and children attending will be eligible for the breakfast program. Classes will be held from 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. for 3- and 4-year children.

Teaching the students this year will be Mrs. Leta Kaul and Mrs. Dotie Darden, both experienced public school teachers.

Mrs. Hopson also pointed out that summer school is also scheduled for children kindergarten through the sixth grade, who have missed since Jan. 1, 1967. These classes will begin at 8:30 a. m. and will conclude at 2:30 p. m. The only requirement that they fall in this class must meet is that their parents be connected with agriculture or own business.

Classes for this summer school will include: consultation for art, reading and language; swimming; taking trips; music; physical education.

At Mid-Plains Celebration Bess Werner Made "Pioneer Of Year"

The annual Mid-Plains Pioneer celebration on Memorial Day in Hereford saw between 600 and 700 people registered at noon in the Bull Barn along with the announcement of the Pioneer Citizen of the Year and other award recipients, and election of new officers of the Mid Plains Pioneer Association.

But mainly it was a day when old friends got together and chewed the fat. Outgoing president Claude Ricketts tried for some 15 minutes to halt this visitation so that the invocation could be delivered by the Rev. Ron Harpster.

Highlight of the meeting was the naming of the Pioneer of the Year, Clint Formby of Radio Station KPAN, who sponsors this award, announced that the Pioneer committee had selected Mrs. Bess Werner.

In her acceptance, Mrs. Werner expressed her gratitude for the nomination and asked the large crowd to visit the Deaf Smith County Museum, one of her local projects.

Formerly described Mrs. Werner, who lives in the Westway area of the county, as a pioneer who had moved here in 1909, had taught school and been a school board member, a farmer of note, artist, extremely active in church work and the museum, and once even received a citation from the Civil Defense.

Mrs. Werner, who has two sons and a daughter, is becoming the third recipient of the award, followed Ezra Norton in 1967 (who was present Friday) and the late J. H. Ostermer in 1968.

Oldest man present was announced as M. G. Layman, 91 and the oldest lady was 93-year-old Katie McGehee.

Those who had lived in Deaf Smith County the longest period of time were Vern Witherspoon since 1889 and Mrs. Ida Mae Vaughn, 1891.

Those who had traveled the longest distance to attend the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Ira A. Connell. The Connells said that they had registered a distance of 1,800 miles — from Portland, Oregon.

Door prizes were awarded to Darrel Harkins, Carlos Vaughn and Ira Connell.

Jimmie Allred of Hereford, who said that he had lived in Hereford all his life and was the third generation of the Allred family to be represented here — and his son was the fourth generation, delivered the welcoming address.

Rev. Roy Nunn, formerly of Hereford and now living at Childress, gave the response.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Lucille Olson, before a basket lunch was served at the Bull Barn.

Many of the "pioneers" visited the Deaf Smith County Museum afterward — they had already been invited by officials prior to Mrs. Werner's invitation — and equally as many of them spent the remainder of the day as a continuation of the visitation they had started earlier.

At noontime, 54 senior citizens had registered who qualified for the 70-year ribbons. In the 60-year bracket, 178 had signed up. Those with 50-year ribbons numbered 93 citizens.

Forty-year ribbons had been presented to 68 people at lunch time and approximately 50 for the 30-year bracket.

Officers elected for the coming year were Homer Brumley, president, Earl Phillips, vice president, Corinne Neeley, secretary, treasurer, with Glenn Witherspoon, Ted Higgins, Lela Jowell, Nora Lawahon, Richard Jowell, Mrs. H. L. Hershey, Marie Sears, Ezra Norton and J. C. Ricketts as the steering committee.

Krazy Days Set At Mall Stores

Krazy Days are here again at Sugarland Mall as businesses throughout the Mall will celebrate with low prices and crazy costumes this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Employees of the Mall will dress in outlandish costumes for the three-day period vying for the prizes to be given away by the Sugarland Mall Merchants Association for the most unique get-up.

Kangaroo court for those employees who do not observe the three days with crazy costumes, will be held, and the "old horse tank" will await them.

Forrest Banquet Thursday

An appreciation banquet honoring Leo Forrest of Hereford is scheduled Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn and tickets are now on sale to the public for the event.

Forrest served as manager of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative for a quarter of a century and is credited with much progress here in agriculture and agribusness.

He also had much activity in rural electrification in Chile, in South America.

Price of the tickets is $1 each and may be purchased from any local REC director, the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce offices, or by writing Mrs. Kay Cockrum at P. O. Box 671, Hereford 79015.

Ticket sales are to close Monday.

Enrollment Lags With Mechanics

Texas Employment Commission manager Lester Rape reported that his office has not yet received "a qualified number of applicants" for the two mechanics classes which are scheduled to begin in Hereford this month.

Auto mechanics class scheduled to begin in the Hereford High School auto vocational shop on June 16, and the farm equipment mechanics class, scheduled for June 23 at 112 Roosevelt, are now in the process of enrolling 15 students each at the TEC offices here.

Rape reported that these classes cannot begin unless there is a qualified number enrolled, and that there is little chance that the starting dates can be postponed "too long" should they not be able to meet the required number.

Cooperative efforts of the Texas Education Agency's Vocational Division, Hereford Public Schools, and TEC, the two classes have an age requirement of 18 or above with at least an eighth grade education.

"Aside from the added skills and job opportunities, the operation of the classes here will mean an approximate $100,000 addition to the local economy," he said. "Actual costs and training allowances will run between $40,000 and $50,000."

However, Rape said that the lack of applicants "is probably caused in view of the circumstances that the original announcement was made during the last week of public schools and everyone has been extremely busy." He expected them to increase beginning Monday.

Texas Employment offices are located at Seventh and 25 Mile Ave.

These classes were originally scheduled for operation in Amarillo at the Air Force base. See ENROLLMENT Page 2

Teachers, Personnel Honored

Teachers and cafeteria personnel were honored at the All-Schools Luncheon in the high school cafeteria Thursday with service pins, five teachers were recognized upon retirement from the Hereford Public Schools system, and a resolution was read in memory of a teacher who recently passed away here.

Miss Lucille Park, who had 37 years total service as a teacher with 8 of them in the Hereford system; died May 18. She had taught sixth grade at Shirley Elementary School.

To an audience that numbered most of the Hereford Schools employes, Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. presented 10-year service pins (red) to Doris Rojek, Aikman; Marian Davis, Northwest; Lonidene Edmonson, Shirley; Joan Hopper, Shirley; Phillip Shook, Shirley; Margaret Bell, La Plata; Thelma Terry, Shirley cafeteria; Caroline Hagar, junior-senior high cafeteria; and Grace Sanders, junior-senior high cafeteria.

A 20-year service pin (green) was presented to Lucille Smith, Central.

Receiving her 25-year pin (diamond) was Hazel Bruner, one of the teachers who is retiring this year.

Other teachers who were honored upon retirement were Mrs. Caudie Oia Brown, 23 years in Hereford schools and a teaching total of 29 years; Erma Walker, 19 years in Hereford 37 years total; Gladys Setliff, 11 years in Hereford, 42 years total; and Madeline Bell, 45 years in Hereford out of 46 years of teaching.

Swimming Pool To Open Today

G. C. Graves, who is to manage the public swimming pool this summer, announced that the pool will open for the summer today, at 2:30 p. m.

The pool will close each day at 6:30 p. m. and Graves added that two qualified lifeguards will be on duty each day.

He added that the pool "is in excellent condition."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Punishing the Past

Suppose you discover that, in your community, there is no law against smashing street lights. And suppose you go out and smash a dozen or two. And suppose that the city fathers, in sudden alarm, pass a law forbidding such behavior.

Could you then be punished, under the new law, for the lights you have already smashed?

No—not even if you knew all along that you were doing something wrong. Punishment-by-hindsight is forbidden in Article One of the Constitution, which says that "no ex post facto law shall be passed." No act, legal when committed, may be made punishable afterward by pinning a criminal label on it.

This applies not only to creating new crimes but also to increasing the penalty on existing crimes. For example:

A state legislature decreed that convicted murderers, while awaiting execution, should be kept in solitary confinement. But a court ruled that the extra penalty, the solitary confinement, could not be imposed upon any murderer whose crime had already been committed.

On the other hand, a law easing the punishment may constitutionally apply to the past. Thus, lawmakers could reduce the death penalty to life imprisonment, and apply the change to murders committed while the death penalty was still on the books.

Moreover, the ex post facto rule applies to criminal penalties only. It does not protect you from assorted unpleasant consequences, other than criminal penalties, that may be based on your past misconduct.

In one case, an ex-convict who had served 10 years in jail wanted to practice medicine. But, according to a state law, no one who had been convicted of a felony could do so.

"This law is unconstitutional," the man charged in a court test. "True, I committed a felony. But I have already served my sentence for that. To prevent me now from practicing medicine would be to add an extra punishment, and that is ex post facto."

However, the court upheld the law, saying the legislature was not imposing a punishment but merely setting standards for the practice of medicine. The judge said:

"The physician is one whose relations to life and health are most intimate. Character is as important a qualification as knowledge. If a state may require good character as a condition of the practice of medicine, it may rightfully determine what shall be the evidences of that character."

Under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, each course is offered at no cost to the trainee. Moreover, if the trainee meets certain qualifications, he may draw a training allowance during instruction.

Hereford Schools assistant superintendent Robert Holman described the courses and listed the times the classes are to be in operation. He said that Bill McDowell has been named instructor of the auto mechanics course, but instructor for the farm equipment classes is pending.

"The auto mechanics course will have hours of 4 p. m. to midnight five days each week," he said. "Length of the classes is 1,520 hours — or 38 weeks. With a starting date of June 15 the term will end March 13, 1970."

The course includes training in all automobile engines, fuel systems, and carburetors, engine cooling systems, electrical and ignition systems, transmissions and power trains, suspension brake and steering systems, air conditioning and accessory systems, welding and special problems.

"Farm equipment mechanics classes are scheduled for 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.," Holman said, "However, if we find there is more of a demand for night classes, it will be changed to 4 p. m. to midnight."

Starting June 23, these classes will operate 34 weeks and end on February 20, 1970.

The course includes heavy farm equipment repair including International Harvester, Allis-Chalmers, John Deere, Ford, Massey-Ferguson, Oliver, and Minneapolis Moline equipment designs.

"Area vocational and the Texas Employment Commission will try to place all students on jobs when they have completed the courses," Holman said. "Such skills are now in demand."

Rape said, "If there is an employer in Deaf Smith County who has a special person on his payroll he would like to see trained as a mechanic, he is urged to contact us immediately."

He added that the recent LVN program which was begun here in cooperation with the local schools and Deaf Smith County Hospital had received "tremendous response" at the beginning of enrollment and that the class is continuing to operate successfully with its original students.

CRIME REPORT

LAHORE, West Pakistan (AP) — There were 16,000 murders in West Pakistan between 1963 and 1967, it was disclosed in the provincial assembly.

During the same period, 882 children — 470 of them boys — were kidnapped.

Social Security

Visit your social security office for help in filing your first claim for reimbursement under the Medical Insurance program, Travis Briggs social security district manager said today. He continued, "after a Medicare beneficiary has met the $50 deductible for the year, Medicare will pay 80 percent of all reasonable charges for covered expenses."

A visit to the district office permits the person there to explain the proper method of completing the Request for Payment Form. When the form is made faster.

Persons visiting the social security office for this assistance completed correctly, payment is should bring their Medicare cards and the itemized bills from doctors or suppliers with them. Payment may be made even if the bill is not paid; although it must be itemized.

Both those requesting Medicare payments for the first time and those needing assistance on subsequent claims, should visit our office, or meet our representative who visits your area regularly," Briggs stated.

The office is located at 1006 South Adams and is open from 8:15 am to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and until 6:30 p. m. on Thursdays. The telephone number is 376-5151.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space."

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

Mrs. Brown Retires...

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

After enriching the lives of "her children" for over a quarter of a century and getting enrichment from doing so, Mrs. Caudie Ola Brown, eighth and ninth grade English teacher at La Plata Junior High, has retired from the teaching profession.

Born in Summerfield and a graduate of Canyon High School, Mrs. Brown received her teaching certificate from West Texas State University. While she was enrolled at WT her freshman year, she got her start in the teaching profession in Hardeman County near Quanah.

Alternating at teaching and attending school, Mrs. Brown received her degree and married, then settled down to raising her family of three girls and one boy.

After her children were grown Mrs. Brown went back to the teaching field, this time toovina for 1 year then one to Canadian for another two years, teaching high school business and commercial work.

Mrs. Brown came to Hereford after her stay at Canadian and has been associated with the local system ever since. Her first assignment here was with the first junior high school which at that time was only a couple of old barracks brought from the old Prisoner of War camp and placed behind the old high school, ol, which is now Stanton Junior High.

That first year in Hereford Mrs. Brown taught a total of 79 eighth graders in the old barracks and the classes finally grew so that the new high school was built in 1954 and she and her classes were taken out of the old barracks and put into the present Stanton building. Mrs. Brown taught in the old high school building until 1966 when La Plata Junior High was built and she was sent there with the first faculty, and has been there until her retirement this year.

Building Permits Down For Month

Building permits for Hereford for the month of May totaled $193,700, somewhat lower than the total registered for the same month of 1968.

In May of 1968, the building permits totaled $258,700 — $65,000 higher than this year's receipts for the month.

A total of 19 permits were issued with the largest being for two, $30,000 residential constructions, while another permit for a residential construction was for $29,500.

There were ten residential construction permits issued and five for additions to present buildings. Others included addition of garages and moving of buildings.

"little something" to all of her students lives, Mrs. Brown has always expressed a special love for each and everyone of "her children," as she calls them. "I treat each child as I would want my own to be treated," she says.

"All-in-all, school teaching is very rewarding," she admits "and if I had my life to live over I would go right down the same line — to stimulate boys and girls to make men and women of themselves so that they might be an asset to our country."

Future plans for Mrs. Brown include substitute work at the local schools or maybe a part time job somewhere, she says, but anyone that knows the always-happy woman knows that teaching is what she would really prefer.

Larry Jones of the Denver Rockets was high scorer in the American Basketball Association last season with 2,133 points.

Telemobile Is Set Wednesday

Hereford residents will see the story of telephone service from Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone to the laser communications of tomorrow — when Telemobile arrives Wednesday.

Telemobile is Southwest Bell Telephone Company's exhibit trailer. It will be open to the public at the telephone company business office, 342 N. Miles Ave., from 8:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The exhibits show the story of progress made by the telephone industry since its beginning.

In the first section of the exhibit trailer, visitors will see early model telephones and learn how their development brought about today's vast telephone network.

The second section shows how the telephone works, and illustrates the various methods of getting calls through to their destinations.

The last section provides a glimpse at what's in store for telephoning in the future — including demonstrations of the laser and Picturephone.

Also, recorded narrations and special lighting effects serve to emphasize certain parts of the exhibit message.

"Everyone is invited to the display, which is free of charge," said Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell. "The exhibit is both entertaining and educational. Less than 10 minutes is required to go through the exhibit."

When you are preparing fried scallops, you can cook and brown them in either shallow fat or deep hot fat.

Local Man Hits Parked Vehicle

Charges for improper observation and leaving the scene of an accident were filed Thursday against Arculano G. Cortinas, 433 Long St. after the car he was driving struck an automobile parked on Main Street.

Damage to the parked vehicle, owned by Dr. Roy J. Grubbs, 102 Rio Vista, was estimated at $100.

Damage to the Cortinas car was $125.

Accident Takes Life Of Local TV Shop Owner

Deaf Smith County's second traffic fatality of the year was recorded early Thursday morning when Marple L. Cline, 50, died in a one-vehicle turnover 8 of a mile east of Hereford.

Cline, owner of Cline's TV repair, was traveling west on U.S. Highway 60, en route home from Amarillo, when the 1968 Ford pickup he was driving overturned about 12:50 a. m. A passer-by, Roger Gregory, of Canyon, happened upon the accident and reported it to the local highway patrol office.

After his body was freed from the wreckage, Cline was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. His body was taken to Gilliland Funeral Home.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland's Funeral Home with burial in Rest Lawn Memorial Cemetery.

Born July 23, 1918 in Oklahoma, Cline came to Hereford in 1955 from Dimmitt. Survivors include two sons, Floyd, of Amarillo; Colin, of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. Joan Sprouse of Las Lunas, N. M.; his mother, Mrs. Nora Calahan of Clovis, N.M.; a brother, For-

POSTAL MILESTONE
NEW DELHI (AP) — Brahmapur, a sleepy little village in India's eastern state of Bihar, is in the official limelight. It now has a post office of its own. The Brahmapur post office is the 100,000th in the country, hence the excitement.

According to officials, there is now one post office for every 30-square-mile inhabited area in the country. There were 22,000 post offices in India at the time of independence in 1947.

CAP Schedules Meet Thursday

An open meeting has been set along with a meeting of the board of directors of Community Action Program at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Hereford Community Center.

Roland Barton is acting as chairman of the board. Mrs. Rita Huckert is secretary.

Legion Auxiliary Girls' State Set

More than 8,000 young Texans have been trained in city, county and state government and democratic processes in the 25-year history of Bluebonnet Girls' State, to be held this year June 11-20 at St. Edward's University. From the program's inception, except for two years, it has been headquartered in Austin.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, with some additional backing from various local civic clubs, Girls' State accepts young ladies who have completed their junior year of high school. These "citizens" then return to their home high schools to spread the beneficial knowledge they have gleaned from this two weeks' experience.

Miss Frances Goff, special projects supervisor for The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, is the volunteer director. She has served in this post since 1952.

Citizen representatives are selected by various approved procedures after being recommended by their schools on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship and physical fitness. The more than 450 girls who attend the '69 session will study and actively participate in the processes of city, county and state government, as these are structured through Texas by Texas statutes. The citizens are divided into two political parties in order that they may learn about the American democratic system.

After the citizens have chosen their form of city government they then file for city, county and state offices. Upon election the state officials are "inaugurated" at the Texas Capitol, where their real counterparts will escort them to their inaugution. City and county "officials" visit the Austin City Hall and the Travis County Courthouse. The entire assemblage will tour the State Legislative Chambers and the Governor's Mansion. During one day, the citizens will conduct their own legislative sessions within the Capitol chambers.

Outstanding speakers from local, state and national governmental posts will lecture to the citizens. In the past they have been addressed by such personages as Lady Bird Johnson, U. S. Senator John Tower, and Texas governors. The staff numbers 60, most of whom are former citizens. Mrs. T. J. Manning, counselor at Clear Creek High School, is associate Director (Administration), and Miss Virginia Kennedy, Houston political scientific research consultant, is associate director (Education).

In the '68 session Miss Sherry Clements of Plainview was elected governor, and Miss Sharon Flynt of Dimmitt the Lieutenant-Governor. Miss Marguerite Wilhelm of League City and Miss Beverly Fecell of Beaumont were selected representatives to Girls' Nation, in which national session both were appointed to Cabinet posts.

FRIGNA CLUB TO TOUR HOMES

The Frigna New Horizon Junior Study Club will host a home tour June 8 from 2 to 4 p.m. it was announced Thursday.

Homes to be toured include Delton Lewellen, Kenneth Moore, Lloyd Thompson, Steve Struve, Richard Collard and Bill Woolley.

Refreshments will be served at one of the houses.

Law Officers To Form Local Association

A local Law Enforcement Association is being formed here this week by members of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, Hereford City Police, the highway patrol, Liquor Control Board agent, and the game warden, who plan monthly meetings thereafter.

Deputy Sheriff Kirven Roper reported that the staffs of each law enforcement branch will meet in the commissioner's room at City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, when they will elect officers and appoint committees.

Roper said, "We feel this move is toward the betterment of the community with a closer working relationship existing between the different departments. Primarily, it is aimed toward the fellowship of all officers."

He said that to his knowledge "this is the first time that all local law enforcement agencies have gotten together. Each officer that I have talked with seemed eager for this to happen."

Friction has resulted in some of the law enforcement agencies throughout the United States in the past, Roper explained, and he and the others here believe that such a move will dispel any such image in Deaf Smith County.

"We have also planned a 15-minute radio program on KPAN to discuss with the people various subjects —to keep them informed on what the departments are doing," Roper said. "The public is not only entitled to know what the departments are doing but we feel that they will be in a better position to understand our problems."

Spotlight on HEALTH

HOPE FOR THE EMPHYSEMA PATIENT
BY STEPHEN M. AYRES, M.D.
Director, Cardiopulmonary Clinic
St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, N. Y.

Emphysema, a chronic disease of the lungs, once considered hopeless, can no longer be considered as such. We know a good deal more about the illness now than we did only a few years ago.

What is emphysema? It is a condition in which the walls of the millions of tiny air sacs, called alveoli, become stretched with "trapped" air which the patient cannot expel. In time, the strained walls of the alveoli weaken and the air flow in and out of the lungs is obstructed. This forces an increased burden on the heart which must pump blood through the damaged lung.

What actually causes emphysema is unknown. However, the evidence is gradually accumulating that it is related to airway irritants, and that people inhale these irritants either through tobacco smoking or through exposure to air pollutants. There is also an additional factor which is genetically predisposed.

The best way to treat emphysema is to prevent it. The ideal way is to stop smoking. Young people should be encouraged not to start. If you have a chronic cough, see your doctor. Respiratory infections can often be prevented by use of an appropriate antibiotic.

Change of atmosphere, if it is heavily polluted may be indicated for the emphysema patient. Some physicians advocate breathing exercises.

The use of a pocket-size nebulized bronchodilator such as the Isuprel Mistometer, which contains measured doses of isoproterenol, clears the airways of the lungs and alleviates the shortness of breath symptom. Most patients should also have a home unit for inhalation of warm, humidified isoproterenol. They are given careful instructions for proper use of each device.

Emphysema is not a hopeless disease. Although it cannot be cured, we can do a great deal to prevent the disease from becoming worse. Skillful intensive therapy can improve most patients.

Notion Of Gas Shortage Is Dispelled By Gas Official

NEW YORK — The nation's natural gas resources are sufficient to dispel any notion that "we are running out of gas."

So said W. Morton Jacobs, president of the American Gas Association, in putting the gas supply picture into perspective today for the New York Society of Security Analysts.

Although proved reserves declined two percent in the past year, "the potential supply of natural gas is many times the proved reserves," said Jacobs, who is also president of Southern California Gas Co., Los Angeles.

Operating from "a prodigious resource base," the gas industry is confident its long-range supply is adequate to meet growing demands, he said. Last year's slight drop in reserves, attributed principally to a continued decline in well drilling activity, was the first since annual industry reports began in 1945, although demand has almost matched additions to reserves in some recent years.

Proved reserves now stand at 287.4 trillion cubic feet and annual production climbed to a record 19.4 trillion cubic feet in 1968. This would indicate a "life index" of about 15 years, but Jacobs asserted there is no general agreement on what constitutes an optimum ratio. "It is important to remember that proved reserves data represent only an inventory on the shelf and do not relate to the potential supply of gas in the ground," he said. "Inventory on the shelf represents an economic cost, and I can't think of many industries that keep a 15-year supply in inventory."

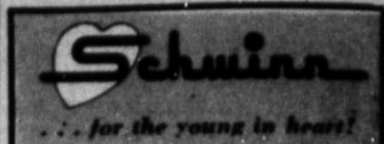

The gas industry is not "unduly concerned by the present ratio," Jacobs stated, "but we are not sitting by, idly. We are not, for one thing, relying only on conventional sources of gas for the future."

To indicate the industry's long-range planning, he cited current developments designed to augment gas supply, including:

"A project, in cooperation with the Federal government's Office of Coal Research, to produce pipeline quality gas from coal, with 1977 the target year

Mr. Jacobs added that "a modest price increase can be absorbed by the marketplace. The fact that we are discussing a supply problem today, and not a demand problem, should indicate that the opportunity for growth is strong. We intend to capitalize on that opportunity."

Safety Program Is Set At Pool

Boys and girls, ages 14 through 17, are reminded that the Red Cross Water Safety Aids Program is scheduled to begin Monday at the public swimming pool.

Classes will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 noon each day for a period of one week, and each boy and girl who participates in the program and passes all the required tests, will receive a certificate designating so.

In addition to the Water Safety Program, a new senior life-saving class will be taught beginning June 9. These classes will be held each morning for one week.

Adults who wish to assist in the summer swimming programs are also urged to take the courses offered.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Internal Revenue employees will tell you that it is a very common occurrence to have taxpayers say "I can't itemize my deductions — I have to take the standard deductions because I haven't got time to fool with keeping books and records."

A well-known trade secret is the fact that most major oil companies spend a great deal of time and money training service station operators to replace those operators who did a fine job of running the station, but didn't follow the company's system on keeping books and records.

You had better believe that the highly publicized million dollar a year income folks who don't pay any taxes kept their books and records.

You might do well to consider doing a little better job on those books and records yourself. You probably won't get out of paying all of your taxes, but every dollar helps.

John Cockerham Goes To Loyola

NEW ORLEANS — John Marion Cockerham, a senior at Hereford High School, has been selected to participate in an eight-week summer institute in chemistry, electronics and computer science at Loyola University.

Forty-eight outstanding students from 19 states and the Canal Zone will begin the National Science Foundation-supported project June 13.

The students will spend four days each week in lectures and laboratories and one day a week touring research facilities in the area.

Cockerham resides at 412 Avenue G in Hereford.

READY FOR TRAVEL — Four of five Hereford girls who will leave Wednesday on a student tour of Europe check passports and luggage as they make final preparations for the three-week trip. From left are Deborah Hodges, Connie Hoover, Kay Tucker and Kima Marsh. The party will also include Sabra Traweck.

They will fly first to Dallas, joining a number of other Texas students there to go to New York. The Air France tour will take them to Paris, then into Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy (with four days in Rome) and through England enroute back home.

Class of 1919 Has Reunion

Fifty years of memories were recalled by members of the Hereford High School senior class of 1919, when it met for its golden anniversary reunion Thursday evening and Friday. The class reunion was among the events of Mid-Plains Pioneer Day here.

Dinner was served at the Calson House Thursday evening, and the program feature Friday was a bus tour of the city's downtown and residential areas, farmlands and industrial plants near town.

Mrs. Corinne Neely was general chairman of arrangements for the reunion and George V. Stambaugh was in charge of the bus tour.

Because graduation for the class came in a wartime year, no yearbook was published so no class favorites were elected. That lack was remedied at the dinner when members were asked to vote on their favorites.

Frankie Mae Baker Nunn was chosen "best all-around girl" and Stambaugh "best all-around boy"; Corinne Jowell Neely and Stambaugh were awarded the titles of Mrs. and Mr. Personality; Olive Wilson Morris was voted most beautiful and Caldwell Hicks most handsome in the class.

No vote was taken to determine the "most intellectual," as that was determined by the fact that Mrs. Nunn was valedictorian and Dorothy Boardman Gray the salutatorian.

The class numbered approximately 25 after losing three boys to military service in World War I.

School's Out For Mrs. Hazel Bruner

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

School was out Thursday for Mrs. Hazel Bruner, reading teacher at Central Elementary School. Friday she moved to Lubbock.

She has retired from the teaching profession.

"I have mixed emotions about retirement," Mrs. Bruner said during her final day at Central — with no students present; the little student chairs were stacked neatly on the desk tables and the room was quiet.

"I lost my son last July. But during the last two or three months, I seem to have taken better hold of myself. I feel now that I could do so much."

Her son was Dr. John T. Cronin, professor of bio-chemistry at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Oklahoma.

"I would continue to teach," she said, "but that seems impossible now. So many schools have retirement plans."

Mrs. Bruner, a widow, has had 32 years in the teaching profession — all but four of them in Texas. She was born and reared in Hereford, and started teaching school in the early 1920s. Then she married and came back from Oklahoma, where she had been teaching at Texola and Sentinel, both in the Shamrock, Texas, area. She had also taught at Clovis, New Mexico. Mrs. Bruner began teaching at Dawn School in 1946 and remained there six years before returning to Hereford, where she has taught elementary grades at Aikman, Northwest, Shirley, and the past six years at Central.

"I was a first grade teacher, but I moved to Central as a third grade teacher. A new principal was coming into Central and he wanted someone with experience. I went there at his request."

Mr. Bruner died here in 1959. She has been living with one of his sons — Thurman Bruner — whom she said is "just like my own son." They are moving together to Lubbock, where her daughter Mrs. Rosemary Cronin Evans lives.

Her late son had two sons, Mrs. Evans has three daughters. Lubbock, she said, will be a

Shower Given Bride-elect

Preceding her wedding Saturday to Gary Royal, Mrs. Patricia Schilling of Houston was honored with a pre-nuptial shower at the First National Bank Wednesday evening.

Miss Lewis Is Honored

Miss Sharon Lewis, whose marriage to Max Brides is planned for June 6, was honored by former classmates Wednesday evening with an informal cook-out and shower at the home of Mrs. Joe Don Edleman, 206 Gough.

Charcoal hamburgers and home-made ice cream were served and a gift was presented to the honoree.

Attending the party were Mrs. Ronald Ott, J. W. White and Misses Linda Glenn, Sheila Rhodes, Joyce Jacobsen, Cecilia Pacuard, Susan White, Becky Elliot and Rema Coffin.

new experience. But her thoughts were centered mostly on teaching:

"I think it is a wonderful career," Mrs. Bruner spoke earnestly. "You can see a lot of accomplishments and progress. I love children and I see them as individuals. Of course, you have to treat them that way."

Mrs. Bruner praised the late superintendent C. H. Dillehay. "My success as a teacher was largely due to this man. Mr. Dillehay was stern, but he was fair."

And she pointed out the importance of the elementary teacher. "The foundation is in the first and primary grades. The future usefulness of the child begins there."

wer at the First National Bank Wednesday evening.

Hostesses for the occasion were Meses Bill Hutson, Bill Ott, Davis Sawyer, Fred Muller, C. B. Worthan, Cliff Hutson, Dale Roberts, Fred Boren, Virgil Justice, Joe Hysinger, Bryce Finley and W. P. Dutton.

The receiving line included Mrs. Schilling, Mr. Royal and his mother, Mrs. Ted Royal.

The refreshment table where Mrs. Ott served punch and coffee with tea cookies, was centered with an arrangement of yellow roses flanked by burning tapers. Crystal appointments were used.

Miss Laquita Robison, cousin of Mr. Royal, registered the guests.

Corsages presented to Mrs. Schilling and Mrs. Royal were of yellow pom-pom chrysantheums.

Frey Awaiting Transplant Now

Paul Frey of Amarillo, who demonstrated his kidney machine here early last month at a Hereford Lions Club meeting, is now in a Denver hospital awaiting a kidney transplant, according to his father-in-law Harry Taylor of Hereford.

Taylor reported that Frey's kidneys and a part of his spleen have already been removed. "They haven't located a kidney transplant as yet, but I am told he came out of the operation in good shape."

They will keep Frey in Denver until a suitable transplant can be located.

Frey's kidneys failed during an ulcer operation in June 1967. Since then he has used a special machine at his home two or three times per week in order to stay alive.

His wife is with him in Denver.

months ago, is returning to the KPAN staff this week, according to manager Clint Formby.

Formby said that Rose is scheduled to return to Hereford today and "will be back on the board by the middle of the week."

Fooks' Final Services

L. E. (Gene) Fooks is scheduled to preach his two final sermons today at Central Church of Christ in Hereford.

Fooks, who has been minister at the Church of Christ here for the past six years, will conduct both the morning and evening services.

Originally planned to conduct his final services June 15, he will instead attend a church meeting in Mississippi June 7 through 14 and the elders of the church felt that it would be pressing his time schedule for him to preach upon his return on such short notice.

Fooks, who is author of "Fellowship of Believers" and other books, is to become minister of Thirteenth and Hermosa Church of Christ at Artesia, New Mexico.

His home originally was Grady, N. M.

He reported that his new pastorate is unique in that they have their own children's home, with three cottages on a 10-acre tract. "Others may be added later," he said.

Fooks submitted his resignation at Central Church of Christ during the previous spring. As yet, no new minister has been announced here.

Big Job Still Ahead For Texas Legislative Body

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, TEX. — Texas lawmakers have written the record of the 61st regular session, but their toughest job — levying the taxes to pay for what they have ordered — remains to be done.

In adopting a $2.8 billion one-year state budget (for 1970), they invited a special session to complete appropriations for 1971 and to decide on the inevitable major tax bill. Legislative leaders, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher, claim the latter will be smaller if the finance showdown can be delayed until next year. Gov. Preston Smith, who holds the key to the timing of the special session, has made clear from the start that he feels the Legislature should face up to a biennial budget and the raising of needed revenue. He could veto the single-year bill and call another session immediately — or accept it and schedule the remaining financial work whenever he pleases.

Many all-time legislative records have topped at this session

Certainly, the 61st session passed more legislation than any before it, and it was committed in advance to spending more money.

A multitude of laudable ends were attained. Giant strides were made in the field of education. Teachers got a $61.9 million pay raise. Overhauls were ordered in the field of vocational and technical education. Three new medical schools, a dental school and two new nursing schools were authorized. Also, three new universities, plus an experimental upper level branch college in Laredo. Never have so many new higher educational facilities been launched in a single session.

A master water plan got all the legislative support it could expect. Workmen's compensation laws were updated. Sweeping controls were approved over air and water pollution. A constitutional amendment to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink was submitted, along with many other proposed changes in the constitution. State employees got a 6.8 percent pay raise.

Texas' 61st Legislature was a busy, productive session. It was a liberal-spending one with the bills yet to be paid.

"The citizenship of Texas will applaud our work at this session and give us their full support when we return to appropriate and finance the second year of the biennium," concluded Speaker Mutscher.

LAW ENFORCEMENT PLAN ADVANCED

Texas' new State Criminal Justice Council has recommended a comprehensive $1.1 million law enforcement plan that covers a wide scope of activities.

Governor Smith will analyze it before it goes to the U. S. Department of Justice for approval and funding under the Federal Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. Funds for a two-year operation must be committed by June 30. Texas received $234,000 for riot control and $830,350 in planning money six months ago.

Council voted priority funding to these programs: Prevention of juvenile delinquency, education and training in all elements of the criminal justice system, regional and statewide information and communication systems community relations programs, experimental and demonstration projects to test and evaluate new approaches to solving problems in criminal justice system.

Approved funds will be disbursed to 21 geographical planning regions of the state. Congress now is considering funding which would provide Texas more than $11 million in action money, plus planning aid for next year to develop a long-range plan and begin putting it into effect.

COURTS SPEAK

An order by the Midland District Court to jail nine union members for picketing the Texaco plant at Port Arthur was invalidated by the State Supreme Court. House of Representatives followed up in a matter of hours by passing a bill directing that lawsuits to halt picketing and strikes must be filed in the counties where the labor dispute arises.

Supreme Court ordered an Austin trial before August 1 of Clyde Durbin Jr. charged with killing two University of Texas students early this year.

Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a lower court condemnation awards of $247,536 against Austin in connection with Decker Lake and a park area east of the city.

BEAUTIFUL, BEAUTIFUL TEXAS

Governor Smith will keynote a one-day workshop June 11 to stimulate the preservation and enhancement of natural beauty in Texas. This second annual clean-up and beautification conference of the Beautify Texas Council will be held at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel in Austin. Other speakers will include O. P. Schnabel of San Antonio, president of the Council, DeWitt Greer, chairman of the State Highway Commission, R. H. (Dick) Hackendahl of Washington, D. C. director of the National Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Bureau, Mayor C. P. Waggoner of Grand Prairie, Earl Rudder, president of Texas A&M University and Reagan Brown, sociologist-community improvement specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Beautify Texas Council was organized in 1967 to combat the litter problem and to advise and act as a coordinating agency through which business and industry, government, public and private organizations may work together to solve the problems of Texas beautification.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

A person not registered as a voter is ineligible for election or appointment as an independent school district trustee. So advised Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin in ruling on a Spring Creek School election issue. A similar opinion was returned earlier following a Honey Grove controversy.

In other recent opinions, Martin held that:

"Texas Foundation School Fund Budget Committee must include cost estimates for the school program training all prison system inmates over a 21 year period in high school graduates."

"A bill providing for private road construction and maintenance in counties of 10,000 to 10,000 population is unconstitutional as a local and special bill."

"Bexar County is required to advertise for competitive bids on all purchases including road machinery, although some emergency buying is expected."

"State funds cannot be used for payment of group insurance policies for legislators and their dependents."

"An act to prohibit corporations from engaging in farming or ranching (allowing a 10-year period to sell interests) would be constitutional."

"State treasurer must publish information on unclaimed funds over $50 held and owing by life insurance companies."

Urgent Need For Farm Mechanics

COLLEGE STATION — Help wanted: 2,000 qualified farm machinery mechanics to begin work immediately.

That's the call from repair shops throughout Texas, a plea that will get louder because of an expected need for more than 7,000 farm machinery mechanics within the next five years, according to Dr. Earl S. Webb, professor of agricultural education at Texas A&M University.

"Unless steps are taken to meet this need, unrepaid farm machinery could cause a creeping paralysis of agricultural operations," Webb says.

A survey of farm machinery service department managers, just completed by Webb, verifies this shortage and outlines what is desired of individuals for employment as a machinery mechanic. Webb made the study to determine what should be taught to high school students as preparation for this career.

Two of the reasons Webb cites as causes for the current shortage of machinery mechanics have been the lack of a training program for the job and the increasing complexity of the equipment to be repaired.

Many farmers who previously doubled as machinery mechanics, providing a good source of workers, find it more difficult to perform repair on today's machinery. The limited source of mechanics has caused businesses to pirate employees from their competitors and the automobile industry to entice mechanics from farm machinery repair.

Wages for machinery mechanics average about $2.50 per hour statewide, below that of most skilled laborers, Webb pointed out. An average work week is 48 hours, ranging from 44 to 54 hours, and unskilled Miss Loerwald is a graduate of the 1967 class from Hereford High School and was the recipient of a scholarship from the local Medical Auxiliary.

She will continue her work at St. Anthony's until mid-June when she will return to Hereford to work.

anical aptitude and who can work well with customers. Also on the list were the ability to read and interpret repair manuals, efficient use of tools and general knowledge of making repairs.

"In these times when machines are getting more expensive and more technical all the time and so few young men are pursuing this field of training, we desperately need a source of young men who are intelligent and who have... a basic knowledge of mechanics so that we have replacements for older men who are retiring or who cannot keep up with technical advances which are being made in farm equipment," replied one manager in Webb's survey.

"To meet the demand of qualified farm machinery mechanics, we are going to have to accelerate our training programs in the schools, or else the companies will have to set up their own programs," Webb concluded.

Connells Visit Hereford

By KATHY SKYPALA
Staff Writer

D. H. Connell, Mrs. Eddie Trussell, Ira Aten Connell and Mrs. Lula Bennett, children of the late Ed F. Connell, were in Hereford to celebrate Pioneer Day.

Ed Connell came to Deaf Smith County as a Texas Ranger and stayed to serve three terms as sheriff. He saw the promise of the country and eventually became a realtor and rancher. Douglas Hayden (D. H.) Connell was born Feb. 15, 1899 while his parents still lived at La Plata. He married Billy Hayslip in Fort Worth in 1923.

He was a rancher, farmer and was in the real estate business before leaving Hereford in 1935. They are retired and reside in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Connell have been back every year for the Pioneer Day celebration. Connell stated, "It seems like old time to us since we were all raised here."

Mrs. Eddie Trussell and her husband, Joe, are here for her 50th class reunion. Mrs. Trussell graduated from Hereford High School with the class of 1919.

After graduation, Mrs. Trussell went to Mary Hardin Baylor and married Joe Trussell in 1923. Trussell, originally from Arkansas, was attending the same school.

The Trussells have lived in Brownwood most of their married life. Mr. Trussell is an evangelistic singer and has been back to Hereford to sing at several revivals, but this is the first Pioneer Day celebration they have attended. The Trussells have one daughter who lives in Sinton, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Aten Connell make their home in Portland, Oregon. Ira Connell was born in 1904 and married Irene Turner of Canyon in 1925.

Ira worked for the Hereford Brand as a printer's devil for about 10 years, started when he was twelve-years-old.

Hereford in 1932 and returned in 1937. They leased the Whiteface Printing Company for about one year and then left Hereford again.

The Ira Connells have 2 daughters and 5 grandchildren.

When asked what he thought about Hereford after being gone for so long, Mr. Connell commented, "It really has improved."

Mrs. Lula Bennett, who has never quite lived down the fact that she was born in jail while her father was sheriff, is a resident of Houston.

Mrs. Bennett was born in 1909 and left Hereford in 1926.

The Connell brothers and sisters commented that this is the first time that they have all been together in their home town since before 1930.

They enjoyed their visit with each other, remembering the past when Hereford was a young town.

Sales Needed For Retarded Children

Special Education teacher Gene Brock reported that advance sales on the double feature showing at the Tower Drive-In Theatre for the Hereford Rotary Club's Tuesday night benefit performance "is not going too good" and has emphasized the need of $500 to send eleven children in Camp Wigwam.

Proceeds from the showing of Elvis Presley in "Wild in the Country" and Debbie Reynolds in "Goodbye, Charlie" at the outdoor theatre on West US 66 are slated for this project.

Brock said that it is hoped that a net of $500 is received from the showing. "Tickets are being sold by Rotary members," he said, "and it is possible that they have been so busy during the last week of school that they haven't had the time or opportunity to really push them. But there should be an upturn in sales starting tomorrow."

He reported that tickets are also on sale at the First National Bank, Hereford State Bank, and at High Plains Savings and Loan Co. Price is $1 per person.

Both features have had previous showings in the Hereford theatres and have had runs on television. However, it was pointed out that "purchase of a ticket is toward a good cause. If you have seen the pictures, present them as gifts to someone who hasn't seen them."

Brock explained that Camp Wigwam is a summer camp for mentally retarded boys and girls. It is a place where these children can spend a full week being happy and carefree, helping each other and learning new skills.

The camp is designed not only to provide recreation but to demonstrate that the retarded can learn to use their time constructively. The campers have an opportunity to live away from home and to share in a camping program designed and administrated especially for them.

The campsite, provided by the Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas, is located seven miles north of Amarillo, and one mile east of US 87.

Mentally retarded children aged 12 to 21 of any race may attend the camp.

Children are requested to provide the camp fee of $70. The Rotary Club project is aimed toward this fee, Brock explained.

Dates which Camp Wigwam will be open this year are June 22 through 29.

If you like your macaroni and cheese well seasoned, add dry mustard and Worcestershire sauce.

For an attractive and good tasting topping for cooked spinach, sprinkle with sieved hard-cooked egg and finely diced pimento. This topping is fine for plain seasoned spinach or the creamed variety.

SHOWING FOR CAUSE — Elvis Presley is pictured here as the star of "Wild in the Country" which is on a double feature program with "Goodbye, Charlie" at the Tower Drive-In Theatre Tuesday night as a Hereford Rotary Club project to finance sending 11 local retarded children to Camp Wigwam this summer. Gene Brock, who will go with three others as counselors, said that more ticket sales are needed.

A reception followed the installation, and guests were registered by Miss Cynthia Hanna, sister of the new worthy advisor. Misses Patricia Hale, Anna Johnson and Debi Walden were at the refreshment table which was centered with yellow roses, the flower chosen by Miss Hanna.

She selected yellow and gold as her colors, service as the theme of her administration and John 12:26 as the Bible verse. "If any man serve me, him will my Father honor."

A member of the Rainbow order five years, Miss Hanna more confidently be attributed to changes in management and other environmental factors.

Mary Zepeda Is Job Corps Grad

CLINTON, Iowa — Mary Lou Zepeda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Zepeda of Hereford, has graduated from the Job Corps in the vocational area — business and clerical.

During the month of May a total of 79 Corpswomen graduated from the Clinton Job Corps Center, Clinton, Iowa. These Corpswomen represented a total of 22 states.

Because the Clinton Center was on a list of Job Corps Centers throughout the United States to be closed July 1, graduations were held weekly during the month so that as many girls as possible could completed their programs. The regularly scheduled graduation on May 8 was the only formal ceremony. At this time, Dr. William A. Atkins, Jr., Center director, was the speaker.

Graduates received their diplomas in six vocational areas, Data Processing, Business and Clerical, Health Occupations, Modern Retailing, Child Care, and Cosmetology; two special study areas, Library Clerk and Closed Circuit Television and the General Education Development Department. (High school equivalency.)

On May 19, the Clinton Center received a three month extension, until Aug. 31. This will enable most of the girls at the Clinton Center to complete their program here.

Heifer Calves, You Understand Man Searches For 30 Sets Of Twins

In their day to day activities, county agents get many requests to help others and in most instances can comply.

County Agent Justin McBride says he has received a rather unusual request from a livestock researcher at the University of Wisconsin, and in turn needs an assist.

McBride said there wasn't much he could do for E. R. Hauser but there might be some one in the county who could. Hauser is looking for 30 sets of identical twin heifer calves — 15 sets of Herefords and 15 of Holsteins. He plans to use the twin calves to study nutritional levels, growth rates, feed efficiency, reproductive performance, milk production and other responses to environment.

Later, Holstein calves will be bred to Hereford bulls and Hereford twins to Holstein bulls. Birth weights, weaning weights, postweaning gains, feed efficiency and carcass traits of the offspring will also be studied.

The county agent reminds stockmen that all twin calves are not identical. Identical twins are the same in every body characteristic. They will have the same color patterns, body conformation and nose prints. Even the hair sworls will be in the same direction.

Identical twins have important advantages for livestock research, since they are genetically the same. Differences noted in productive performance can be attributed to changes in management and other environmental factors.

Only heifer calves born since January 1, 1969, can be used, the county agent said, and calves will be examined before a purchase is made.

If you have or know of such calves, McBride said he has the address and telephone number of Researcher Hauser.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I received a reminder notice on my estimated tax in stead of a bill. How much should I pay?

A — Figure your second installment payment using the estimated tax worksheet you received in February as part of your estimated tax package. Be sure to make your payment using preaddressed Voucher 2. The filled-out voucher should accompany your payment to assure proper crediting to your account.

A schedule on the worksheet can be used for adjusting your estimated tax if there have been changes in your tax situation. Q — It only took my neighbor 3 weeks to get his refund but mine hasn't come and it's been over a month since I sent in my return. Why should my refund take longer to issue than his?

A — The date the return was filed has a lot to do with how long it takes to issue a refund. Returns filed early can be processed and the check issued much more quickly than returns received just before the April 15 deadline.

Unless you made a mistake on your return you should be receiving your refund check within the next few weeks. However, if the refund, or a letter about it, doesn't come within ten weeks from the time you filed, write the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed. Give your name, address, social security number and the date you filed to help them trace it.

Q — I lined the property around my home with rose bushes. Can I deduct the cost for tax purposes?

A — Landscaping expenses can be capitalized and added to the cost of your property. Normal maintenance costs of your shrubs and lawn, however, are not deductible.

Q — Is there any difference between alimony and child support payments for tax purposes?

A — Alimony payments are deductible for the payer and are taxable income to the recipient. Child support payments are not deductible for the payer and are not taxable to the recipient.

Q — I'm earning money not covered by withholding. Should I file an estimated tax return now or wait until next year?

A — If you expect your 1969 tax liability to exceed your withholding by $40 or more you may have to file an estimated tax declaration. Forms and filing instructions are available from your local IRS office.

If you first meet the requirement for filing after April 1 and before June 2, the declaration should be filed by June 16.

Q — Does an extension of time to file excuse a taxpayer of interest charges on late payments?

A — No, interest at the rate of six percent a year must be added to taxes that are not paid by the filing deadline. However, no delinquent filing charge is added when the taxpayer has been granted an extension of time to file.

Q — Can Form 1040X be used to correct a mistake on a 1040-A.

A — Yes, Form 1040X (A corrected mistakes made by taxpayers filing either Form 1040 or 1040-A.) should be used to

It was also the first time an award had been given for battalion or the 8th group, according to his parents.

Collier has been in Vietnam since Nov. 27, 1968. He is slated to go for an E-5 classification next month and beginning today, he will be shipped to Da Nang for the rest of his stay in Vietnam.

"He writes that it has been pretty rough going over there, but he seems in good spirits," his parents reported. "He said tell all his friends at home hello and that he hopes to see them in six months."

Cabbage wedges, added to corned beef, taste best when they are not over-cooked. Add the cabbage about twenty minutes before the meat is done.

Here's Food For Barbecue

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Dust off the barbecue grill and join the swing to outdoor eating — America's number 1 pastime. Dad can show off his culinary talents and Mom can "live it up." Try making fish the main part of the meal. Why not try "Grilled Trout," "Barbecued Shrimp Kabobs," and "Flounder Dinner."

TO ROUND OUT an outdoor seafood barbecue, wrap potatoes and a favorite vegetable separately in heavy-duty foil, and cook them on the barbecue grill too. Serve with tossed green salad with tart dressing. Seafood is rich in protein to build and repair the body and niacin to regulate body processes.

GRILLED TROUT
6 pan-dressed trout or other small fish, fresh or frozen
1/4 cup French dressing
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Thaw frozen trout. Clean, wash and dry each fish. Combine remaining ingredients. Brush each fish inside and out with the sauce. Place fish in well greased hinged grills. Grill over moderate hot coals for 15 to 20 minutes. Turn and brush with sauce. Grill for 15 minutes longer or until the fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

FLOUNDER DINNER
2 pounds flounder fillets or other fish filets, fresh or frozen
2 green peppers, sliced
2 onions, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup butter or other fat, melted.

Thaw frozen fillets. Cut into serving-size portions. Place each portion of fish in the center of a 12-inch square of heavy-duty foil. Top with green pepper and onion. Combine, salt, pepper, paprika, lemon juice and butter. Pour over fish. Bring edges of foil together and seal tightly.

Place packets of fish on preheated barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals. Grill for one hour or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

BARBECUED SHRIMP KABOBS
3/4 pound cooked shrimp, fresh or frozen
12 slices bacon
1 can (13 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks, drained
1 can (4 ounces) but on mushrooms, drained
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
Thaw frozen cooked shrimp. Fry bacon slowly until cooked but not crisp. Cut each slice in half. Using long skewers, alternate shrimp, pineapple, mushrooms and bacon until skewers are filled. Combine soy sauce, salad oil, lemon juice, parsley, salt and pepper. Brush kabobs generously with sauce and place on preheated barbecue grill about 4 inches from moderately hot coals. Broil 3 minutes, turn and brush with sauce. Broil 3 minutes longer or until lightly browned. Serves 6.

DELICIOUS VANILLA ICE CREAM

6 eggs beaten light yellow
2 cups sugar
Heaping tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 can evaporated milk or one can condensed milk. With sweetened condensed milk, omit the sugar.
Continue beating while adding 11 ingredients. Pour into ice cream container and fill to freezer line with milk. Freeze.

Council still has some good flavoring for sale so if you need some, come to the office. It is the kind sold by club groups.

Ruby Lee Hickman added a variation to the Angel Flake Biscuits. (The recipe of May 11.) Ruby Lee makes the recipe for biscuits, rolls on floured board, cuts with do-nut cutter. Let rise 10-15 minutes and fry in deep fat. As soon as removed from fat, roll in granulated sugar and sprinkle with nutmeg. The time for biscuits to rise before baking is 10-15 minutes. The time of rising was left off of the recipe.

Sen. Tower Favors Supreme Court Justice Appointment

I believe President Nixon made a particularly wise choice when he nominated Judge Warren Burger of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. This weekend I would like to discuss that choice and the effect it is likely to have upon us all.

I agree with the President that the nomination of a chief justice is the most important nomination a president of the United States makes, and it is imperative that this nomination receive the Senate's most careful attention as it renders its advice and consent. But I believe the Senate will grant confirmation. My colleagues seem to me to be in general agreement that Judge Burger will make an excellent chief justice.

When President Nixon was campaigning for office last fall, he said that a justice of the Supreme Court has the duty to interpret the law, not to make the law, and he pledged to appoint members to the court who share that view.

Judge Burger, during his tenure on the court of appeals, has shown himself to be an advocate of judicial restraint and of strict construction of the Constitution.

His nomination is therefore in line with Mr. Nixon's campaign pledge and it has my support.

I believe the new appointment signals the beginning of a new era in Supreme Court history and an era that has, in my opinion, been too long in coming.

Retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren has followed a policy of judicial activism. In his enthusiasm for the social reforms which he has believed necessary for our nation, he has led the court into new judicial fields and the result has been that the Supreme Court has been in the forefront of change.

I do not argue that there is no appropriate need for change disagree with the view that it is the role of the Supreme Court to lead reform efforts.

The founders of our nation envisioned the Supreme Court as a force for conservatism. They believed that the Justices, who are appointed for life and are thus the least responsive to changing popular ideals, would be an appropriate conservative balance to the elected members of Congress and the President.

As a man who believes in judicial restraint, Judge Burger can be expected to provide the leadership, which is so sorely needed at this time in the court's history, to encourage the court to return to the role envisioned for it by our founding fathers.

Judge Burger cannot be expected to reverse immediately the philosophy of the entire court. He will have but one vote on the court, and although some Warren court decisions were 5 to 4, many others were heavily one-sided.

Also Burger himself may change. In the past, Justices who were thought to be liberals when they were appointed have sometimes proved to be conservative, and Justices thought to be conservative have sometimes turned liberal.

Burger, however, is probably more predictable. He has been a member of the Court of Appeals more than a dozen years. He has enjoyed a life-time appointment and a comfortable salary. There is no reason to believe that he has been a man other than his own.

A review of Judge Burger's written opinions and public addresses indicates a strong belief in law and order. He has said that appellate courts should see that criminal defendants receive fair trials, but he has argued that the recent trend has been to demand perfect trials. While I am personally gratified that Judge Burger has a strong reputation as a defender of law and order, it is even more important that he has exhibited the judicial restraint which I believe should be required of a Supreme Court justice.

The concept of judicial restraint involves the philosophy that appellate court decisions should remain from plowing new legal ground until the issues presented provide no alternative. I believe Judge Burger can be expected to have a substantial conservative effect on the future of the Supreme Court of the United States.

President Nixon will have some additional opportunities to appoint members of the Court. The recent resignation of Justice

Abe Fortas provides a vacancy which the President can be expected to fill within the next several weeks. It is unlikely that he will fill that vacancy until after the confirmation of Judge Burger as Chief Justice of the United States. Three other members of the court are already eligible for full retirement if they choose. So Nixon can change the character of the court.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Rain, Friday evening, varied from about an inch and a half along the county line, south of Hereford and tapering off to the south and west. About half inch fell at Buster Thomasons and E. F. Voglers, about three quarters inch at the Jim Brooks, an inch at the Carlton Dobbins and about one and three quarters at the H. E. Lindleys. Hard winds but no hail was reported most places.

Several from Frio Homemakers Club made a trip, Tuesday, to visit the Dorsey mansion, north of Roy, N. M. The mansion is now being restored by the Denton family, present owners, and is a product of artistic construction of a century ago. It was the fabulous ranch home of a wealthy land owner, who spared no effort or expense to build this mansion for his family. Those making the trip were Mesdames Dee Taylor, Eugene Baldwin, Chesley Johnston, D-waine Nelson, Annie Springer, Jim Brooks, Carlton Dobbins, Edgar Vinson and Joe Scott, of Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sparkman attended graduation exercises at Olton High School, Friday evening. Mrs. Sparkmans brother, Roland Livesay, was one of the seniors in the graduating class. He plans to work in a Friona packing plant, this summer. Howard, Mrs. Sparkman's other brother is spending part of the summer with the Sparkmans.

The Floyd Coles went to Belton after Jana, leaving Sunday night after Baccalaureate. Jana plans to spend part of the summer doing Student Summer Missionary work, in Illinois.

Darlene Sparkman came home from Baylor U., Tuesday and is returning this Sunday, to begin the first semester in summer school there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barber, Hutcheson, Kan. spent part of the weekend with his parents, the Harlan Barbers, Virgil Barber, Lubbock, was home for a few days before beginning summer work as an apprentice to Prof. Chevlier, Tech Landscape Architectural Instructor.

Visiting Mrs. J. E. Warrick and J. E. Jr., Tuesday, were her grandson, Dan Warrick and his fiancée Miss Donna Zenor, of Canadian. Dan was graduated from W. T. S. U., with this class and Miss Zenor will be a senior student this fall. The wedding is planned for July 12. The young couple plans to live in Hereford, where he will be with Messenger Accountant.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drager, Harry James Vogler and Curtis Drager, of Friona, went fishing near Springer, N. M. Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Haseloff, Vernon, visited the home of their niece, Mrs. Joe Andrews and family, Sunday night.

Mrs. Joe Andrews and children were hosts, Monday, to a party and ice cream supper, honoring Joe on his birthday. Mrs. George Zetsche baked the birthday cake, with a Black Angus cow motif as the featured decoration. Others attending were the Owen Andrews, the Clark Andrews, Herbert Bruns and George Zetsche families, the Tommy Sparkmans, the Eugene Baldwins, Mrs. Chesley Johnston and sons, Mrs. Mearle Fineley and children, Mrs. Elmer Jones, Howard Livesay, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman, Jr., Miss Alma Andrews, Wendell Clark, Mrs. Muriel Campbell and children.

Mrs. Robert Dobbins took her mother, Mrs. Eva Dement to Dumas, Tuesday. Mrs. Dement went with members of her family to Canon City, Colo. to attend funeral services for her sister.

LIVERY STABLE, 1969 — This stable, one of first in this county, is the model for the one to be built on the grounds of the Deaf Smith County Museum.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Griffith Lubbock, visited the Joe Andrews and the Fries, one day this week and picked up the children, who had been visiting her sister Mrs. Sid Perkins and Mr. Perkins in Amarillo.

Pvt. Hudson Visits Here

Pvt. Guymond (Bud) Hudson, grandson of Mrs. Bonnie Martin of 303 Ave. A., spent some time in Hereford with she and his uncle on his way to spend his leave at Erick, Okla., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hudson.

Pvt. Hudson recently finished basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso. He has been assigned to West Point for special duty.

RELIEF AID
LONDON — The British government is to contribute 90,000 pounds ($216,000) towards the Save the Children Fund's Nigerian relief work during 1969.

Oops—we goofed and the Brand was unable to repair the damage. Correction in the last news story — Mrs. Tommy Needham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Axe, not the W. P. Axes. The new baby son is the first grandchild of the Andy Axes. In case you missed it, he was born May 15 at Plainview and is named Gary Dwalne.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS LONDON - Unemployment benefits cost Britain more than 125,319,900 pounds ($300,765,000) last year, the government has announced.

Concerning Veterans In the past year, only one out of every 14 home-buying veterans paid more for his GI home than the Veterans Administration's appraisal price, VA said today.

This indicates that its reasonable value appraisal is fair for the builder or seller as well as for the veteran. The VA explained that Public Law 95-301, which went into effect May 7, 1968, gives veterans the right to pay more for a home than the VA's reasonable value appraisal. However, the VA requires that this difference be paid in cash.

In the first 10 months following enactment of PL 95-301, the VA guaranteed or insured a total of 196,814 home loans. Of this total, only 14,325 - or 7.3 percent - had a purchase price in excess of the VA's reasonable value appraisal.

Letter To The Editor Dear Hereford Brand,

We thank you for your time and effort to show us around We learned a lot of things we did not already know. Like the automatic type writer, I thought that was pretty neat. And so was that piece of metal that said "JOE ROY IS BAD".

Well, any way we thank you for your time. Yours truly, Mrs. Michael's Room, Bluebonnet School, Hereford.

Miss Langley Married In Evening Ceremony

Miss Barbara Lee Langley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Langley, 502 Star, and Kenneth Christy Todd of Lubbock, and the late Major Kenneth Todd, were married Saturday in a ceremony read by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, at First United Methodist Church. Sisters of the bride were her honor attendants, Mrs. Dan Wall the matron, Miss Camille Langley maid and Carolyn Langley maiden of honor.

Other bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronnie Gray and Mrs. Mike Barrett of Lubbock, Miss Cynthia Leasure, Miss Sidney Bayne, and the bride's cousin, Miss Cynthia Andrews of Albuquerque.

S. W. Todd of Milwaukee, the bridegroom's uncle, was his best man. Acting as groomsmen were Brad Dibrell of Jayton, Jay Stanley, Scott McKenzie and Mackey McKee of Lubbock, Dusty Reynolds of Midland and Richard Green of Dallas.

Ushers were Dan Dibrell and Bobby Lee Dibrell of Jayton, Phil Tucker, Terry Scarborough, Jeff Scott, Mike Stinson and Keller Smith of Lubbock.

Mr. Langley gave his daughter in marriage at the altar where an arrangement of spring flowers was flanked by spiral candelabra holding white tapers. The candles were lighted before the ceremony by Douglas Green of Sweetwater and David Thomas.

As a musical prelude, Ben Gollehon sang All the Things You Are (Kern) and O Perfect Love (Barnby, accompanied by Don Baugous, organist, who played French Carol as the bridal party entered, changing to the wedding march from Wagner's Lohengrin at the bride's entrance. During the ceremony the selection was Before Thine Altar (Deer), and Purcell's Trumpet Voluntary was played as the recessional.

The bride's gown was of angel wing peau de soie in empire silhouette, the cowl neckline accented with lace, seed pearls and sequins. The circular chapel train, overlaid with folds of the illusion veil, was edged with lace embroidered with seed pearls. A pearled tiara held the veil, which was bordered with a wide band of the lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of white phalaenopsis orchids centered with catleya orchids, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Ice blue satin pants dresses were worn by the attendants, with sleeveless tunics and white organdy blouses. Cumberbunds of emerald green circled their waists. They carried arm bouquets of spring garden flowers. Guests were received after the wedding by the couple and their parents at Hereford Country Club. Miss Gayle Newell, Misses Diane King and Delores McKee of Dallas were at the guest book.

The tiered wedding cake, set between white china candelabra, was cut and served by Miss Claudia Welch of Lubbock, Misses Susan Boone and Kathy McKissack of Dallas, Mrs. Lynn Cook and Mrs. Roger Albracht poured the punch.

Decor at the club was in spring colors and the table was centered with a sunburst arrangement of May flowers.

A wedding trip to Denver will end when the couple goes to Lubbock to make a home. For travel Mrs. Todd wore a beige linen coat dress with matching accessories. Her orchid corsage was from her bridal bouquet.

She is to receive her degree in art education from Texas Tech in August. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and was rush chairman last year, also a member of Angel Flight, President's Hostesses and the home economics honorary society, Phi Upsilon Omicron. She was graduated from Hereford High School.

Todd received his B. A. degree in history last January at Tech, where he was a supreme court justice, a student senator, and a member of Phi Alpha Theta history honorary. He was selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and served as president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. He was a 1964 graduate of Monterrey High School in Lubbock. Wedding guests from other cities were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Todd of Milwaukee, Mrs. Nancy Scott of Dallas, Buddy Fulgham of Little Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reynolds of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richter and Mrs. Chris Benn of Abernathy.

A bridesmaids brunch was given by Mrs. Dudley Bayne and Miss Sidney Bayne in the patio and backyard of their home, 514 Star. Guests there were Mrs. Dan Wall, Misses Camille and Carolyn Langley, sisters of the bride; her mother, Mrs. Ernest Langley; Mrs. Ronnie Gray and Mrs. Mike Barrett of Lubbock, Miss Cynthia Andrews of Albuquerque and Miss Cynthia Leasure.

A groomsmen's lunch at Hereford Country Club honored Todd, with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. was served to the bridegroom, the bride's father, and Dan Dibrell, Bobby Lee Dibrell and Brad Dibrell of Jayton.

Also Phil Tucker, Terry Scarborough, Jeff Scott, Mike Stinson, Keller Smith, Jay Stanley, Scott McKenzie and Mackey McKee of Lubbock; S. W. Todd of Milwaukee, Dusty Reynolds of Midland, Richard Green of Dallas, Douglas Green of Sweetwater and David Thomas. Mrs. V. K. Todd of Lubbock, mother of the bridegroom, was hostess for the rehearsal dinner at the country club Friday evening, with members of the wedding party and friends as guests.

In addition to parties here, several have been given in Lubbock by friends including the bride's fellow students in Texas Tech. Most recent was a dinner in the Lubbock Club for the couple, given by the Joe A. Stanleys and the Jay Stanleys.

Places were marked for the honorees and the Tuckers, Barretts, Scarboroughs, Lieut. and Mrs. Dan Wall, Mrs. V. K. Todd and the Earnest Langleys.

Friends at Tech were guests for a lingerie shower, with Mrs. Barrett, Miss Nancy Hicks and Miss Leasure as hostesses in the home of the former. A white straw basket filled with fresh garden flowers centered the table, which was decorated in the blue and green shades chosen by the bride for her wedding.

The home of Mrs. M. B. McKee was the scene of a gift coffee and other hostesses were Mrs. R. C. Mack, March Schwab, C. J. Wheat, Ben Hutchinson, Blair Adams, M. B. McKee Jr. and G. R. Billingsley.

Yard flowers in large arrangements were placed in the den and on the patio where the gifts were displayed. The serving table, covered in white linen, had a crystal epergne in the center holding bridal wreath and baby-breath blossoms.

Mrs. Gray and Miss Leasure entertained with a spice-and-rice party in Mrs. Gray's home, for college friends. Special guests were mothers of the honoree and her fiancé.

LOVE FINDS A WAY

GORAKHPUR, India — His love for a Dom girl drove a Brahmin youth to renounce his high caste and join the Dom community.

The leaders of the Dom community thought over the issue for three days and nights, and after the Brahmin gave a feast of pork and rice, gave their approval.

No conversion was necessary for Doms are also Hindus — albeit of the lowest caste.

Bride-elect Is Honored At Shower

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Bona Schindelle of Amarillo, bride-elect of Kenneth Homfeld of the Bippus Community, was held recently at the Bippus Community Church.

Mrs. R. L. Pinnell greeted the guests and presided at the registry. In the receiving line were the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Muriel Royall of Borger, and Mrs. C. F. Homfeld, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Tables in the auditorium held the gifts on display.

As the guests entered the dining room they were requested to autograph a tablecloth for the honoree to embroider.

Coffee and punch were served by Misses Mary Ruth Weaver and Beverly Bradley.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Mrs. Elmo Hall, Jim Perrin, Jake Fortenberry, Oscar Bronniman, J. V. Perrin, Jack Weaver, Doris Pinnell, G. V. Hall, John E. Hill, R. L. Pinnell, Jim Bradley, J. G. Fortenberry, C. R. Higgins, Inman Larson and Charlie Burk.

In Tribute To A Leader

In every community there are individuals who get involved in community activities and do their bit for their neighbors through this avenue of service, and in every city there are those business leaders who leave their mark on the community through their efforts in their own individual businesses and through their leadership in these businesses. Leo Forrest, former manager of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc., has done both.

Forrest, a former school teacher, took over the reins of the local cooperative 24 years ago when the fledgling organization was just beginning to move and during the quarter of a century that he served as manager, the cooperative has enjoyed unprecedented growth, bringing rural electrification to thousands of farm families throughout a four county area. This fact alone has probably contributed more to the farm economy of Deaf Smith, Parmer, Bailey and Castro Counties than any other single growth factor. The benefits garnered from rural electrification cannot be measured in dollars and cents alone however, since the conveniences enjoyed by rural families today are many — thanks to electricity.

Forrest has been a dedicated supporter of the rural electrification program, realizing both opportunities afforded by rural electrification, and appreciating the limitations of a business organized solely for the purpose of serving the members who own it.

But Forrest has been something more than just a business leader in Hereford. He has been very active in both civic and church work locally as well as serving on many area, state and national committees. He has also been influential in setting policy for the REC. Forrest has also traveled to South America with the REA in its effort to link the continent together through electrification. His activities have been many and varied.

There is to be an appreciation banquet held Thursday, June 5, to honor Mr. Forrest, sponsored by the people he has served for so many years. We believe that this is a fitting tribute to a man who has dedicated so many years of his life to the service of others, and would take this opportunity to salute him for a "job well done".

expected to restrain their fire, however, unless the criticized Justices and their friends stop posturing as wronged virgins. No one defended Justice Fortas' actions, of course, but some of his sympathizers were quick to suggest he had somehow been wronged by Attorney General Mitchell. Yet the Administration's part in the episode obviously contributed to its being resolved favorably and with a minimum of damaging publicity. Given the touchy circumstances as they arose, we cannot imagine what the Attorney General could have done differently.

Some of Justice Douglas' friends, apparently under the impression they are doing him a favor, have now released private correspondence in which he says an Internal Revenue Service investigation of the Parvin Foundation is a "manufactured case," and that "the strategy is to force me off the Court." IRS investigation is three years old, it's not exactly clear who the Justice thinks is conspiring against him. What is abundantly clear is that a Supreme Court Justice has offered his advance opinion that an incipient legal controversy rests on a "manufactured case."

This is not the sort of revelation likely to cool the controversy, and the real sorrow is that the further embroilment it may create is so gratuitous. The lesson is not that Justice Douglas had any wrong intentions in offering his opinion. It is that such questionable occurrences happen naturally once a Judge attaches himself to outside interests. And Justice Douglas has already accepted this lesson by resigning from his post with the foundation.

The same thing is true of the whole problem of judicial conflicts of interest. The lessons are plain to see, and the Judicial Conference will no doubt turn them into formal rules. Congress may want to consult with the judges on legislation to give the Judicial Conference rules more binding force. Many of us would feel relieved if, as Senator Mansfield has suggested, the legislators also considered new conflict-of-interest standards applying to all high-level government employees, in the Executive, Congress and Judiciary alike.

We do not see a need, meanwhile, for any sort of Congressional investigation or legislation singling out the Judiciary. Under the Chief Justice's leadership, the Federal Judges are already moving to put their own house in order. They only need the appropriate time, and the appropriate public atmosphere, to complete the job they have started. — Wall Street Journal

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Congress Tries To Solve Problems Of Cable T V

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Congress is taking another stab at solving the multiple problems of cable television, an infant industry which has come out of the rural hills to serve 14 million Americans but which has been held back by restrictions imposed by the Federal Communications Commission.

CATV has a vast potential and poses a serious threat to the entrenched interests in broadcasting. These facts are part of the many-sided problem. The potential has attracted other powerful interests to the field and at the same time has alerted the networks to fight to protect their domination of the airwaves.

Up to now, Congress has failed to enact any legislation to tell FCC how to regulate cable television. Two efforts in a past years came to nought and there is little optimism that the current hearings of a House Interstate Commerce Committee subcommittee will result in passage of a law. CATV is a mare's nest, with problems within problems, making legislation difficult.

The hearings have produced one concrete result, and pessimists fear it may be the only one. Chairman Torbert McDonald (D., Mass.) did succeed in gaining release of a suppressed report by a White House Task Force on Telecommunications Policy. The report was submitted to President Johnson last December and he put it on the shelf. President Nixon had not gotten around to the matter until Rep. McDonald insisted the report was needed for his CATV hearings. One chapter in the 450-page report deals with CATV.

CATV Virtually Frozen Now

Last December, FCC adopted so-called "interim procedures" which cable television interests regard as so stringent as to amount to a virtual freeze on CATV development. The National Cable Television Association is so unhappy with the situation that it has urged regulation of its industry be taken away from FCC and assigned to the Department of Commerce.

Cable spokesman Frederick W. Ford, a former Chairman of FCC, said, "The CATV industry has no confidence in the desire, willingness or the ability of (FCC), as presently constituted, to conduct a fair and impartial hearing on cable television or to regulate in the public interest."

FCC Chairman Rosel Hyde, who like Ford is in his final months in his present job, defended the December order as only a proposal. A key part of that decision requires CATV operators to obtain "retransmission consent" of copyright owners of program material picked up by CATV operators. Ford testified that this is "a device to eliminate any growth of cable television."

Rep. McDonald and his colleagues do not appear to have any pat answers. Several bills pending before the subcommittee have been mentioned only in passing. The subcommittee appears to be unhappy with FCC actions on CATV but unwilling or unable to write a law settling all the knotty problems. Some of them involve the aspect of unfair competition with existing broadcasting stations, the connection between CATV and subscription television, and whether cable systems should originate programs and sell advertising.

Public Seeks Good Service From the standpoint of the public, CATV has been a blessing to many and could be to millions more if the regulators in Washington would make up their minds and pursue a firm course. CATV has proved it can do more than bring network TV's regular fare to homes in the hills beyond the reach of metropolitan stations.

It can also erase the shadows caused by tall buildings in cities, can provide local informational services in communities too small to have their own station, and can give listeners a choice of as many as 40 channels. The fact that CATV can give local politicians a purely local audience is a factor in the situation.

Small town America has a special stake in CATV because potentially the resident of the smallest community can enjoy the same TV programs available in the largest cities. But the powers-that-be in Washington will have to get on with regulatory job and reach some basic decisions. Technology has out-paced administration up to now.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm explores what he calls a new taxing system this week.

Dear editor:

I was out here on this Johnsongrass farm sitting in the middle of Spring and not in the mood for doing much of anything but as the day wore on I finally got my ambition up enough to pull a newspaper out of my back pocket where I'd been saving it for a couple of days and I'm now glad I did.

I have discovered a new principle of taxation, a sort of guideline for the nation, and I'm going to do all in my power to get it adopted.

According to an article in the paper, a Congressman, on being sounded out about an increase in taxes to provide some additional service some group was demanding, none of them luckily from his district said no, and gave as his reason: "I don't think the country is in a mood for more taxes."

That's the principle I'm talking about. That's the guideline.

If Congress will adopt the idea that it can raise all the taxes it wants to so long as the country's in the mood for it, you won't hear me complaining.

When Congress hears a groundswell of demand, a roaring clamor rolling up out of the countryside and sweeping through the towns and cities and on to Washington where it becomes a deafening shout to act and up the rates, even if it meant voting itself another raise to keep the surplus from spilling out of the treasury.

Now naturally this mood method would work both ways, and when Congress heard another groundswell — I guess you can hear a groundswell, I've never seen one close at hand, maybe a few off in the distance but never close enough to tell much about them — this time demanding that taxes be lowered, then naturally the Supreme Court, if we still have one by then, would rule that under the new Mood Guidelines Congress has no choice but to start hacking.

If you see such a groundswell heading Northeast toward Washington, get out of the way and let it roll.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

A Job For The Judges

Chief Justice Warren obviously would like to see strict new standards of judicial conduct promulgated before he retires next month. The ambition is an entirely commendable one, deserving complete cooperation from all parties to the various controversies surrounding the Court.

The Chief Justice has already convened the appropriate committee of the Judicial Conference of the United States, a policy-making body for the whole Federal court system. Its recommendations will be proposed to the entire conference. The standards under discussion reportedly go so far as to ban all outside employment for judges except for lecturing, teaching and writing on legal subjects.

There seems to be, in short, every indication that the judiciary can resolve the conflict-of-interest problems emphasized by Justice Fortas' resignation, and by the criticism of Justice Douglas connections with the Parvin Foundation. If the judges can do this themselves they will limit, if indeed not start to repair, the damage the episode has done to the prestige of the judiciary.

If this task is to be done with proper dignity, though, both sides of the dispute over the Court will need to start cooling their talk.

The critics of the Court need to call off the hounds. Those who have fought the Court in recent years no doubt feel vindicated in their opposition to Justice Fortas' elevation to Chief Justice. They are also grateful for the opportunity to have President Nixon appoint more relatively conservative Justices. But if they get greedy, if they keep kicking the Court now that it's down, they will not only damage a valued institution but will detract from their own cause by giving it the earmarks of a vendetta.

The Court's critics can scarcely be

TIME MARCHES ON — When Caldwell County built its new courthouse at Lockhart in 1893-94, it made no provision for amenities such as restrooms. They would have been useless anyway since the town had no sewer system.

A few years later, however, Lockhart installed a modern water plant and sewers. The county commissioners followed suit and ordered the courthouse broom closets turned into proper facilities for men and women.

Weldon Hart of Austin, Texas' leading courthouse historian, says that the first month's water bill was so high after the toilets were installed that the county judge padlocked the restrooms to reduce expenses!

TEXANS AT WORK — On a unique, unadvertised and hard-to-find 13 acres in the Sam Houston National Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill raise more than 1,700 varieties of herbs.

Their Hilltop Herb Farm, located on Farm Road 1725 not far from the Austin County town of Cleveland, welcomes visitors to a kind of bucolic life that exists in few other places in the U. S. Their farm even includes an old-fashioned store where dried herbs and various goodies made from them are for sale.

Although the Hills do not operate a restaurant at the farm, they do serve meals — when reservations are made in advance.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Old-timers in Guthrie still call the big stone King County calaboose the "Friday night jail."

The nickname goes back to the days when Guthrie, which sits astride the 206,000-acre 6666 Ranch, used to be the only "wet" town in a wide area where the prohibition of all alcoholic beverages was the rule. As a result, the town became the Friday night rendezvous of cowboys for miles around, and the jail was the last stop for many of them.

ONLY IN TEXAS — An athlete interested in training for the pentathlon, the most grueling track and field event ever devised, can do so only at one place in the U. S. — San Antonio's Fort Sam Houston.

To win the pentathlon in the recent Olympic Games, an athlete had to ride horseback over an obstacle course, out-fence an opponent with a dueling sword, fire 20 shots from a pistol at a moving target, swim 300 meters free-style and run 4,000 meters cross country.

Not many athletes have either the desire or the ability to compete in the pentathlon, and most Americans who do join the military. The Fort Sam Houston training center also welcomes civilians interested in the event, however.

DO YOU REMEMBER —When a "trolley" date was a favorite Sunday pastime?

The young folks boarded the streetcar right after lunch, usually for a ride to an amusement park operated by the trolley company. Some of the old parks (like Woodlake, between Denison and Sherman) offered boating, swimming, free picnic grounds and sometimes even a Ferris wheel.

Tomorrow (Saturday) is the time for the next regular meeting of the Farmers Institute and it is earnestly hoped that there is a good attendance as there are a number of important questions to be considered. The Hereford Light and Irrigation Company will have a representative present to make a statement to the meeting.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

"The valuable man in any business, is the man who will cooperate with other men. The foreman who opposes the introduction of a new man into an institution, and fights every innovation which he himself does not suggest, is doomed to a gradual and creeping defeat. Men succeed only as they utilize the services and ideas of other men. Cooperate!" — Elbert Hubbard. On a two-column boxed feature on the front page of the June 6, 1919, issue of the Hereford Brand.)

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

This did not happen in Deaf Smith County — it has to do with rain. It happened Saturday afternoon at the farm of Walter Graham, 20 miles southeast of Hereford. A cloudburst took place over in that country — the name of the county cannot be mentioned because they are seeking drought relief. Anyhow, the cloudburst drowned three head of Mr. Graham's fine whiteface cattle. An explanation as to how the rain killed the cattle has not been obtained. The opinion that they were scared to death has been advanced as a possible explanation.

Officials of the Holly Sugar Corporation announced this week that the crops in Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer, Gray, and other counties in Texas and New Mexico are "looking superior at this moment to those found in any other beet producing area in the United States." . . . Ronnie Duncan, president of the Hereford High School Student Council this year, was named as the outstanding senior student at commencement exercises Friday night.

Gene Sparks, Bride To Make Amarillo Home

An early afternoon ceremony today will unite in marriage Miss Anita Emily Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Cameron of Nazareth, and Gene Sparks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sparks. The Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor, will conduct the wedding in First Baptist Church here.

The couple will be at home after a trip to Colorado Springs, at 1904 Howard, Apartment 3, Amarillo. The bridegroom is employed in that city and both plan to continue studies in West Texas State University at Canyon next fall.

Huckert-Davis Wedding To Be Afternoon Event

A mid-afternoon exchange of wedding vows in St. Anthony's Catholic Church today is planned by Miss Mary Ellen Huckert and Donald Leon Davis, with the Rev. John Van der Kull officiating.

Miss Huckert is the daughter of Joe Huckert, 900 South Main, and Mrs. George Pope of 225 George Street. Davis' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ragsdale of Maryville, Tenn.

The bride is to be given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Janice Edwards as maid of honor, her cousin, Miss Barbara Huckert, and Miss Donna Coker as bridesmaids.

Larry Young of Dimmitt will be the best man, Butch Bror-man and another cousin of the bride, David Huckert, the groomsmen, and Don Spearman usher.

Solos to be sung by Mrs. Joe Reinauer with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Vincent Gallagher are Because, Wedding Prayer and How I Love Three. Miss Sue Shirley will be the organist for traditional marches.

The bride will wear a gown in Victorian period design, of Chantilly lace with rows of wide cascading ruffles forming the skirt which dips at the back in a sweeping train. Each tier is trimmed with sequins and seed pearls, which also outline the Sabrina neckline of the long-sleeved figurine bodice.

Her illusion veil, waist length, will be attached to a crown of seed pearls and crystals. Her bouquet is of yellow roses with green foliage.

Bridesmaids will all wear yellow satin frocks with velvet ribbon circling the empire waist and the softly-pleated skirts floor length. Brief veils will be held to their hair with yellow skirts bows. Shoes and gloves will be white, and each will carry a white carnation with yellow streamers.

DO THE REDS HAVE A LOCK ON AMERICAN SURVIVAL?

While Communist nations gird themselves with nuclear arms for the "inevitable final conflict" with the Free World, their agents in America sow doubt, division and defeatism among their intended victims.

Through the skillful use of propaganda, and a network of fronts, the Communist Party of the United States is mobilizing massive opposition to the President's plan for the defense of our Nation.

So effective is their program that they have been able to delude well meaning persons—persons who do not realize that they are jeopardizing not only the survival of America, but that of the entire Free World.

The Soviet Union and its satellites are armed camps. They maintain large standing armies with full corps devoted to rocketry, the most modern fleet of missile-equipped naval ships, and an advanced air force of gigantic proportions. They stand ready to rain atomic destruction across the United States the minute we lose the capacity or the will to defend ourselves.

Meanwhile, their cities in Russia are protected by rings of anti-ballistic missile systems—the same systems they oppose our having to defend ourselves!

The situation is serious . . . your survival is at stake, along with that of your nation. Already, Congressmen report mail running as high as 15 to 1 against the "Safeguard" anti-missile defense system.

Only prompt action by you, and other concerned citizens, can conserve this defense of our lives, our children, our homes.

Write to your congressman and senators today. Tell them you want to be neither Red nor Dead. Tell them you want all the protection our technology can devise. Our wealth, our liberty and our lives depend on the action we take now.

Happy Ending Returns To Book

Once again there is a new book at the Deaf Smith County Library with a happy ending along with a suspense thriller.

The difficulties of living with a domineering mother-in-law confront Meg Brand, a young and beautiful war widow, in Raith Baldwin's sixty-third novel, THE VELVET HAMMER... one of her most engrossing and delightful to date.

In accordance with the wishes of her husband, who was killed in the Viet Nam war, Meg arrives in Melton a small New England town, to have her baby. The young woman has to live with her husband's strong willed and imperious mother, the rich Cornelia Brand, who is used to having things her own way. After the birth of the baby, Meg takes a job at Brand Hospital, where she meets handsome Dr. Charles Scott and falls in love with him — and he with her.

With her love for Charles deepening everyday, Meg is not prepared for the sudden, intense opposition to their relationship from Mrs. Brand — an opposition which stems from a bitter, mysterious feud between the Brands and the Scotts that has gone on for years. As it becomes increasingly apparent that Mrs. Brand is trying to destroy her new love, Meg searches for the cause of the division between the two families. She finds unexpected help from Charles' mother who, at the very last minute, reveals an ace in the hole that brings a-

... about the wonderful conclusion to this inspiring story.

The continuing adventures of that fascinating, resourceful British agent, Edmund Trothe, and several other characters who were introduced to the world in Richard Llewellyn's first spy novel, The End of The Rug are now met again in his new novel, BUT WE DIDN'T GET THE FOX.

Now, in this new story, Trothe, executive director of a huge Angol-Arabian corporation, is off on another high level espionage adventure triggered by a bomb explosion, a kidnapping, and the theft of some secret information. The reader is whisked from great country houses, to desert hideaways, to palazzi, to grand luxe hotels in Paris, Geneva, London, Rome, Madrid, Cairo, Stockholm, Libya and Beirut. He sniffs the smell of danger, of risk, of fear in a heady world of high finance, big business, and international trickery; and he witnesses some of the most amazing espionage gimmickry ever devised in this kind of fiction.

Like The End of The Rug, this
