A F S Students To Arrive

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Housing facilities are still needed for several of the 34 foreign exchange students who will spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Hereford, en route to Washington, D. C.

Their stop here, sponsored by the Hereford Kiwanis Club, is one of several throughout the United States. The students, part of a "pick up along the way" caravan, are expected to arrive in Hereford Friday afternoon around 4 p. m. at the high school cafeteria.

Scheduled for their three-day stop-over here is a trip to Palo Duro Canyon to watch the Amphitheatre production of "Texas" and a wiener roast and hayride. For the trip to the Amphitheatre, the students will arrive in Hereford, meet their host families, prepare for the production and return to the high school cafeteria where they will leave in a caravan for the canyon. Families hosting the students are urged to have them back at the cafeteria in time for their departure time of 7:30 p. m.

Friday has been designated as International Night at the Amphitheatre, and all of the students from Hereford and surrounding cities sponsoring them will be admitted free of charge, as will the host family. Several other buses from throughout the Panhandle will also converge on Palo Duro Canyon for the presentation of "Texas."

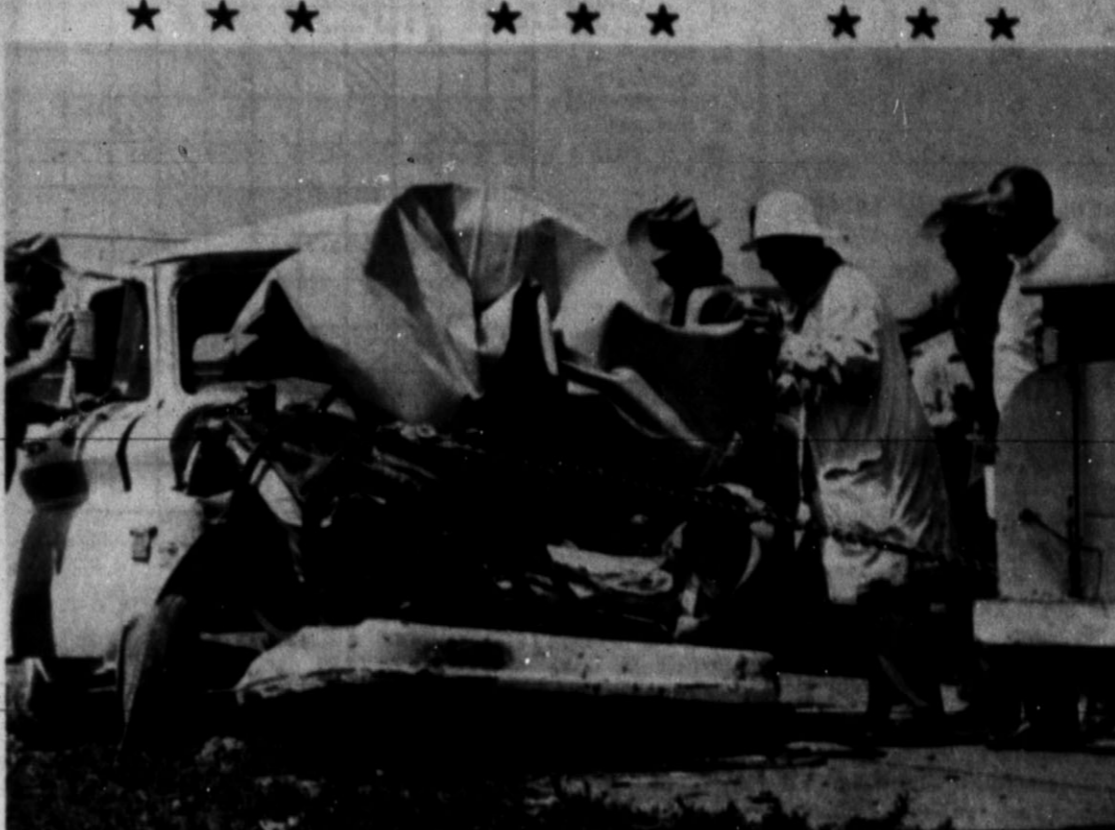

Bus number 16, bound for Hereford, is one of 75 touring buses enroute to Washington, D. C. where over 3,040 other American Field Service students will have a final meeting before returning to their own countries. The purpose of this trip is to expose the students to more of the nation than they would normally see while living as an exchange student in one community. Over 25,000 families in over 650 communities host bus trip students.

AFS conducts international scholarships for students 16 to 18 years of age from many foreign countries. In the past 21 years, over 47,000 students from 75 countries have participated in the American Field Service programs. AFS has 40 overseas offices and 3,000 volunteer chapters throughout the United States.

With no religious or political affiliations, the AFS is a non-profit organization that seeks to foster understanding of the differences and similarities which exist among peoples of the world. To accomplish this aim there are two American Field Service Programs: (1) students to the U. S. — In 1968-69, the organization has brought more than 3,000 students from 61 countries to live, study and join in community life in the United States, and (2), Americans Abroad — During the same time, 1400 students were sent to 45 foreign countries to gain like experiences.

Walter Byran and Tom Kendrick, heading up the housing for the visitors, urge all persons interested in housing one or two of the students, to contact one of the Kiwanians.

Death claimed the life of a Westway resident Friday afternoon when the 1964 Chevrolet pickup she and her four children were in collision with the rear of a highway department Hough Payloader.

Killed in the mishap was Mrs. John Lawrence Baird, Route 5, Hereford. The four children also received injuries in the accident.

The accident occurred five miles west and seven-tenths of a mile north of Hereford about 3:40 p.m. Friday. The Baird vehicle, traveling at an estimated 55 miles per hour, was headed south on Farm Road 1057 when it approached the Texas Highway Department Payloader, also traveling south.

C. L. Layman Jr., 31, highway department employee and driver of the Payloader at the time of the accident, told Department of Public Safety officers that seconds prior to the collision, he had turned around and saw that the pickup was traveling at a relatively fast speed. In an attempt to give the Baird vehicle more roadway, the driver stated that he had started to pull the Payloader to

Model T Begins Unusual Hobby

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

A collection of license plate tags dating back to 1925, beginning with his first auto, are the result of an unprecedented hobby of George W. Hund's. The tags are mounted and on display in his barn on the farm place 3 miles northeast of the city.

C. W. Hund, born in Kansas and moved to Wichita Falls at the age of two, has been a resident of Hereford since 1942. Since then the Hunds have farmed northeast of Hereford where they raised their four children, James Hund, Mrs. Raymond-Schlab, Mrs. Tony-Brerman, and Herman Hund. All have married and blessed Mr. and Mrs. Hund with seventeen grandchildren.

When asked how the collection of license tags began in 1925 and was kept this long, G.W. Hund had this to say: "Two or three years ago I just had them tied in a bundle under an old bench, then I nailed them on these boards. People heard about it since then and have come over to see them. The first one came off a Model-T and I hung it up on the wall; I don't know why. I had no idea I would keep it up this long. It was the first tag I bought, when I bought my first automobile. After that, why, every year I took another tag off the car and added it to the rest and forgot about it until the next year. Just craziness I guess, or maybe a hobby, I don't know."

Mr. Hund apologized for the rusted numbers on some of the earliest tags. He said "They're just old. That's all that's the matter with them."

Viewing the tags, Hund said, "Look at some of those large numbers around the 1930s. I guess the numbers got so high they decided to use letters. And the 1943-44 tags you will notice the small numbers on the small tags. They did that on account of the war. To save materials is what I heard. Gas ration was on then, too."

Mrs. Hund standing by remarked with a chuckle, "Boy, we never had two numbers alike, that's for sure."

With a twinkle in his eyes, Hund stated, "I guess I should have had my latest tag on there too — it's personalized!"

When asked if they plan to keep it up in the future, the Hunds said they "sure will now that it has gone this far," and when they have passed on their children will take it from there.

Lloyd Battey Funeral Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Lloyd A. Battey, 515 Star, who died at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday in Deaf Smith County Hospital, were held Friday in the First United Methodist Church of Bovina.

The Rev. J. B. Fowler, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Bovina Cemetery by Gilliland Funeral Home.

He was born Jan. 10, 1899 in Montgomery County and married Corda Sparks Dec. 25, 1921 at Floydada.

He came to Deaf Smith County from Parmer County in 1929.

He was a farmer and a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Keith of Bovina and Hurston of Abilene; brothers, David and Fred of Floydada; sisters, Mrs. Nina Willis of Floydada, Mrs. Linda Peel of Crosbyton and Mrs. Cinda Pratt of Ralls and five grandchildren.

Casketbearers for the services were Sam Sides, Monty Barrett, Buck Ellison, J. B. Barrett, I. W. Quicke and Frank Ball.

MOTHER DIES — Mrs. John Lawrence Baird, Westway resident and mother of four children, died in a two-vehicle accident Friday afternoon six miles west of Hereford. All four of the children were passengers in the pickup when the accident occurred and three of them sustained serious injuries. ## Benefit Barbecue Set By Shriners Oasis Shrine members are sponsoring their first annual Handicapped Benefit barbecue luncheon which is planned for Friday, July 4 at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Tickets for the feast are on sale and can be purchased from any Oasis Shrine member at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1 for children. The barbecue will be held between 12 noon and 2 p. m. on Independence Day.

Shriners, hoping to make the barbecue an annual event, are sponsoring the barbecue as a follow-up on their children's clinic which was held in May. Cost of this year's clinic — was near $3,000 and additional funds are needed for follow-ups on several of the cases.

the side of the road when the wreck occurred. Speed of the Payloader was estimated at approximately 15 miles per hour.

The only other witness to the accident, a farmer who happened to be in the field plowing at the time, told officers that he saw the pickup approaching the rear of the highway department vehicle, but he was too far away to tell anything.

Passersby, highway patrolmen and an ambulance crew spent 30 minutes attempting to free Mrs. Baird's body from the mangled wreckage, before pickups were finally used to pull the front of the pickup away from her.

Also injured in the collision was seven-year-old Cynthia Christine Baird, who was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where she underwent surgery Friday evening for lacerations of the head. Her condition was listed as serious Saturday morning.

Two of the other children, four-year-old Stephanie Baird and three-year-old Melinda Gay Baird, were taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital where they were both listed in serious condition Saturday morning.

The other child, 19-month-old Bruce, was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries.

Mrs. Baird's survivors include the children; her husband; her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thomas, of Plainview; six sisters, Helen Lephram of Floydada; Annie Odell, of Lubbock; Judy Martin, of Plainview; Lavon, Cathy and Connie Thomas, all of Plainview and three brothers, Vernon, Jesse and Carlos, also of Plainview.

Born November 1, 1942, in Tallihina, Okla., Mrs. Baird married John Lawrence Baird August 7, 1958 at San Hill, Tex. The family moved to Hereford in 1965 from Plainview.

Services will be Monday at 3 p. m. at the First Baptist Church and burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Tryouts Continue In Summer Play

Tryouts will continue this week for roles in Hereford Community Players' summer production, The House on Pooh Corner, a play primarily for children which will be presented by a cast of adults and teenagers.

First reading for parts was held Friday evening, and a second is scheduled for 8 p. m. next Friday at St. Thomas Episcopal Church. All interested persons are invited to try for parts, especially high school and college students who wish to participate in a play during the summer vacation.

Dates for presenting the play have been set tentatively at Aug. 21-23. It is a three-act comedy by A. A. Milne, one of his well-known stories of Winnie-the-Pooh which have amused adults as well as younger readers for many years.

Mrs. Fred Howard is the director who is conducting the casting tryouts. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Gilliland, and Orval Watson is production manager for the summer show.

July 4th Group Making Plans

The July 4th Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in the Caisson House, where reports from all committee members are to be given on the status of preparations — program, physical arrangements, etc. — for the annual July the Fourth program here, according to chairman Roy Hartman.

Wheat Harvest Tardy

"We are not hurt so far," Joe Bradley of the Texas Employment Commission reported in regard to the labor situation and the current wheat harvest, which may have had problems arising from the more-than-usual amount of rainfall this month.

"The harvest is not at its peak yet," Bradley said. "It usually starts between June 10 and 15. But due to the cool weather it hasn't ripened out as fast. If it goes ahead and dries out now, it will be alright. But another spell of rain could hurt us."

He reported that he had sent in his wheat report Friday, which said that the harvest would start this weekend — "weather permitting."

Some combines are now sitting, ready to go, Bradley said. Because of other commitments, some of the farm workers may have left the area, but the local situation is not critical. "However, there will probably be a need for combine operators."

In Hereford Thursday Anek Of Thailand Visits Shur-Gro

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Anek Boonyapakdi (whose surname is actually his first name) of Thailand visited Hereford Thursday, two days in advance of the six agricultural representatives from his neighboring Pakistan, for a look at the local Shur-Gro Liquid Feed Inc. plant.

Roland Barton, manager of Shur-Gro here, said that Anek is primarily interested in our industrial development. "We took him through all of our plant and offices. We tried to show him what a major role we play in the agri-industry."

Anek said afterward that he was "very pleased" with what he had seen here.

He is interested in the full scope of industrial development in the United States and was in Amarillo with his brother-in-law for a two-day visit. Henry Sears of the First National Bank in Hereford was able to make arrangements for him to see

Coordinator To Be Selected

Community Action Committee will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Hereford Community Center for decision on the employment of a coordinator and election of permanent officers on the committee, according to acting secretary Rita Huckert.

Applications for a coordinator are being accepted by Ted Swindle at Texas Employment Commission here.

Officer Speaks On Narcotics

An officer in the intelligence division of the American Police Department will speak on the subject of narcotics at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the county courtroom of the Deaf Smith County Court House for Boy Scouts Law Enforcement Post 133.

All members have been urged to attend the meeting and to bring a guest.

Sign Language

When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied: "We have a sign on our wall reading 'NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THEFT.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding on a sign's legal efficacy.

Thus, not only public policy but also the legitimacy and the position of a sign may affect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice"—and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "WET PAINT" sign on a park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see. A motorist drove through a stop street, colliding with an oncoming car. His excuse was that the stop sign was lying in a ditch, out of sight.

Yet, the motorist admitted he knew the neighborhood, and knew it was a stop street. Under these circumstances, even with the sign missing, the court said he should have obeyed its command.

Nor does a sign need elegance of phrasing to be effective—What counts is whether it gets its message across. Once a farmer, pestered by trespassers, posted this sign as a warning:

NOTIS

Trespassers will be persecuted to the full extent of 2 mean mungred dogs which aint never ben overly soshibil with strangers.

No doubt any court would hold that the farmer's sign made its point abundantly clear.

McAndrews Buys Nevada Ranch

Jim McAndrews of Hereford has reportedly purchased the historic Smith Creek Ranch from Jack Van Sickle in Nevada. Purchase price was not disclosed for the ranch which has approximately 2,000 deeded acres and utilizes a bureau of land management of over 100,000 acres in the Smith Creek and Edwards Creek valleys, Churchill and Lander counties, Nevada.

Sale was announced by James E. Priddy of Priddy and Hall Ranch Brokers in Reno.

Priddy reported that McAndrews, who has extensive real estate and cattle holdings in Texas and New Mexico, had expressed his desire to diversify these operations by coming to Nevada.

He said that McAndrews and his family plan to spend a considerable amount of time in Nevada following the purchase.

WSI Course In 3 Sessions

The Water Safety Instructor (WSI) updating course will be held Tuesday and Thursday and July 1.

WSI is described as a 9-hour course which is to be conducted at the City Pool from 7 to 10 p. m. each day. Mrs. Duane Williams of Amarillo is instructor. All current WSI are required to take the course.

Also, Session II of the Red Cross Swim Program will register Friday from 10 a. m. to noon at the City Pool. This program is for all levels of swimmers from beginners through swimmers.

Senior lifesaving will begin at 6:30 p. m. during the same session along with the adult classes.

It's a good idea to keep a pastry brush on hand for brushing meats with barbecue sauce when they're being cooked in the oven. A long-handled brush is necessary for outdoor barbecuing, but the regular short-handled pastry brush is fine for oven barbecuing.

Social Security

Persons receiving social security disability benefits must report improvement in their condition to the Social Security Administration. Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager stated that disability beneficiaries must also report a return to any kind of work.

Briggs made the announcement because of several recent cases in which beneficiaries were overpaid because these two events were not properly reported and benefits not due were continued. Overpayments have to be refunded and this can work a financial hardship on those having to repay benefits.

Briggs explained most overpayments in these cases occur because beneficiaries misunderstand the requirements of the law. Disability benefits can be paid only if an individual is so disabled he can't do any kind of a job, not just his regular job. Therefore, any improvement in the disabling condition has to be reported. Too, when a disabled worker does some work, even if it is sheltered or light work, it must be reported so that a determination can be made immediately about whether benefits should continue.

In some cases, disabled workers can get benefits up to nine months while they try out some job to see if they can do it, but their work still must be reported.

For more detailed information check with the Amarillo social security office at 1006 South Adams or see the representative who visits your area.

New officers are Lynton Allred, chairman; Don Chaney, vice chairman; Melvin Young, secretary and publicity chairman; Joel Hodges, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Jo Solomon, chairman of the treatment and service committee. Mrs. Jewel Smith will assist Mrs. Solomon.

The county chapter is part of the Texas Easter Seal Society which provides services for handicapped persons who cannot afford to pay all or part of the costs involved and who are not eligible for help from any other public or private resource. The society assists in paying for special diagnostic evaluations and for therapy prescribed by a medical doctor. The limit per person per year for therapy is $150. In unusual cases requiring special attention, the limit can be exceeded with the permission of the treatment and service committee.

If a person travels for treatment or evaluation, help to defray traveling expenses can be provided when the family is unable to meet the expenses.

Persons are often eligible for services from public or private agencies but do not know how to apply for help. The society helps families reach the right person or agency to receive help the society cannot provide.

Easter Seal helps purchase orthopedic equipment, such as wheelchairs, walkers, crutches and braces when prescribed by a medical doctor. Non-orthopedic and non-hearing items, such as glasses, contact lens, dentures and cosmetic devices, are not provided by the society.

Services do not include tuition, room or board in special schools or programs. School material, clothing, food, surgery, drugs, medication or hospitalization are not provided.

Rice, Peaches Are Plentiful

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

It's Peachy! The Department of Agriculture predicts an 80.8 million bushel peach crop has moved peaches to the featured spot on the plentiful foods list. Peach production is estimated to be eight percent above 1968 and 44 percent more than two years ago. We can hope the peach crop hasn't been ruined by the weather in the Panhandle and our supply of peaches comes from the Eastern Panhandle

My pantry has three small jars of peach preserves left so I'm ready to plan for some peaches. Your rice eaters can rejoice as the largest rice crop on record is sending high amounts of rough rice to the market.

Sharon Watson -- Farewell

A Letter From Sharon Watson

I would like to thank every citizen of Hereford, Texas, for the wonderful year that I have spent here. Every smile or "hello" that I received, meant more to me than you can ever know, more so because I was 4,000 miles from my home, family and friends. Now I have a second home, and a second family and more friends and the time has come for me to say good-bye and thank you to them. "Thank-you" seems so inadequate for what I feel in my heart, but please believe me that my whole heart is in those two words.

One day I know I will return to Hereford and I will see each of you again. So until then, all my love and thanks,
Sharon Watson,
A. F. S. '68-'69.

Thanks to Mrs. Glenn Anderson for the Vinegar Cake Recipe. We passed it on to the person requesting it. Use cider vinegar in the recipe. I told you it was an old-fashioned recipe and when you see "shortening — size of an egg" you'll know I was correct. Compare the shortening in size to a medium egg. (With: Make it a graded egg) We have not gotten the recipe for the pie crust with crunchy cereal in it as of yet.

VINEGAR CAKE

1 C. milk
2 t. cocoa
1/2 t. salt
1 T. vinegar
shortening size of an egg
2 C. sifted flour
1 t. soda
1 t. vanilla
Cream sugar and shortening. Add dry ingredients sifted together and milk alternately. Add vinegar last and bake in loaf pan.

Cornmeal is made by grinding cleaned white or yellow corn to a fineness specified by federal standards. It can be used in hot breads, pancakes, desserts; for hot cereal or chilled, then sliced for frying; or as a coating when frying fish, chicken or vegetables.

Dress up canned green beans. Add a can of mushroom soup. Top with French fried onions rings and bake at 350 degrees F. about 15 minutes or until heated throughout.

Allow apricots and plums to ripen at room temperature, then

Lindsay--Down But Not Out!

The result of the Republican and Democratic primaries in New York City this past week has been viewed by some as a trend towards more conservative politics in this nation. We wouldn't bet on it however.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, who lost the support of the Republican organization to state Senator John Marchi, plans to be in the November race anyway as a Liberal Party candidate, where he will again face the conservative challenger Marchi plus the conservative Democratic nominee who is Mario E. Procaccino. Procaccino won an upset victory over a number of liberal democratic candidates including former Mayor Robert Wagner and it is probably due to this race that so many throughout the country are predicting a more conservative trend this fall. Some conservative candidates in other cities have been coming through well at the polls also.

New York City however, is a special case. The race for mayor is far from over and the results of the November general election will be interesting indeed. Mayor John V. Lindsay has indicated that he will be a candidate for the post in the general election under the Liberal party banner and he will be attempting to put together a coalition of minority groups that will again sweep him into office. Lindsay is wasting little time on preliminaries. He is already busy setting up an organization and is hitting the campaign trail. It appears also that he will have the support of some of the more powerful liberal Republicans from New York including Senators Jacob K. Javits and Charles E. Goodell. Both of these men made pre-primary commitments to back the Mayor in November and apparently they are sticking with them.

So even though the trend in other parts of the nation may be to "law and order" or conservative candidates, New York City probably will not follow the trend. The winner of the mayor's race in this mammoth city will be the man who can appeal to the largest number of the minority racial and ethnic groups, of which the city is richly blessed, as well as the moderates and ultra-liberals who often are found in the same camps. Mayor Lindsay has demonstrated his ability to do this before and in spite of what many are saying since the primaries, he may well do it again.

The Kansas Rebellion

Here and there over the nation in recent weeks, says the Associated Press, voters have turned down all sorts of projects that meant spending public funds for schools, swimming pools, parks and other things. The AP notes that voters are in a frame of mind to say no to many proposals that might cost them money.

Kansas was a hot spot of voter rebellion, turning down proposal after proposal. It should be of interest to take a look at the state.

According to the Wichita Eagle, five major school building proposals were on the state-wide ballot. Four failed to pass. A one-mill building levy for a new Colby Junior College was defeated by a vote of almost two to one.

Topeka voters said no to an $8.7 million expressway to the airport. So schools were not alone in tasting defeat.

Pittsburgh citizens turned thumbs down on a $2 million improvement program for the city's water plant. Garden City voters said the city could get along without a certain golf course and at Great Bend voters said a postponement of park improvements would have to wait. Mound Valley voted against a $1 increase in the water bill to help finance the police department. Concordians, the Eagle said, whipped a wheel tax of $10 per vehicle. Wamego voted against letting the city eliminate a limit on taxes, and in the Unified School District 466, voters decided to close the school at Modoc.

Some of the officials in Hereford were seriously concerned over this seemingly conservative trend towards voting bond issues for improvements recently when the local County Commissioners called a special tax bond issue to finance expansion at the local hospital. However, those who were interested in the project and realized the need, got behind the bond issue, leveled with the voters and it carried without a bobble. Perhaps there is a moral in this story, and if so, it would most certainly be that the voters, not only in Deaf Smith County but elsewhere, are a lot smarter than some public officials care to believe. You can fool them sometime, but the best policy always, is to put your cards on the table and play it straight. If the need is there, the voters will come through. If it isn't, then you had better get prepared to see your favorite issue defeated.

We will admit to having a progressive community in Hereford, but the approval of every bond issue that comes up is not necessarily progress. Nor could a community be considered "wise" or "frugal" just by turning thumbs-down on every bond issue. But the community and community leaders that can recognize the difference between "need" and "nonsense" need not worry about the passage of bond issues. They'll come through with flying colors every time.

Pay TV Controversy Still Hot After About 17 Years

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Congress has ducked a decision on subscription television with the result that only a successful court appeal by theatre owners can prevent pay TV from being made available to millions of Americans, perhaps as early as next year.

The pay TV controversy has raged for about 17 years. It has officially been before the Federal Communications Commission since 1955. A test in Hartford, Conn., lasted six and one-half years, until last January. FCC has now given pay TV a green light, within strict limitations.

Pay TV is coin-in-the-slot or billed-by-the-month video service. Instead of depending on advertising to pay the costs, the subscribers pay for those programs they choose to watch. Commercials are banned on subscription TV, which is regarded as a supplement to commercial broadcasting.

Initially at least, pay TV will not be available to rural communities remote from major cities. In order to get a pay TV channel, a city must have a minimum of four commercial TV stations in its market area, not counting educational stations. This would mean, for example, that no pay TV station could operate in Iowa, where no city has four commercial stations.

However, there are 89 markets in the U. S. which have enough commercial channels to qualify for pay TV, and 81 percent of the nation's homes are in these markets.

Theatres Fight Competition

While pay TV has numerous foes, the most active are the motion picture theatre owners. They have appealed the FCC order to the courts, and FCC has agreed to wait 60 days until after a ruling by the Court of Appeals before granting any pay TV authorizations. FCC also gave Congress six months to overrule its decision, but that period expired June 12. Of course, Congress could always pass a law.

Theatre interests have mounted a vast campaign to influence the public to "protest now or pay later." Their slogan is "save your free TV!" More than 2 million signatures have been obtained on petitions urging Congress to oppose the "monster." Ironically, the theatre men used to combat "free TV" until the new threat came along.

The reason why the movie men are so excited is that pay TV would feature first-run movies. As all viewers know, these new pictures are not often available on commercial TV because Hollywood prefers to force fans to pay at the box office. Pay TV would move the box office to the living room or den.

Backers of pay TV, principally Zenith Radio Corporation which conducted the Hartford test, foresee the possibility of 20 million people in several million homes which pay $1 each, watching a new film on a single night.

Public Would Decide

Pay TV is not guaranteed-in-advance to succeed. Its program fare would have to be significantly better than commercial TV, or few people would pay to get it. The installation fee, possibly $10, plus rental of the decoder to unscramble the picture and sound at about 75 cents a week, plus a fee of $1 to $5 per program, would require a superior service.

Nor would subscription TV be allowed to skim the cream off the top, by gaining exclusive rights to the baseball World Series or the football Super Bowl. FCC has ruled that sports events regularly seen on commercial TV during the past two years are out-of-bounds for pay TV. Another rule prevents the new medium from buying up established series, like Bonanza.

FCC envisions commercial TV and pay TV living and prospering side by side. If the court does not interfere, the public will make the ultimate decision.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

'EVANGELINE' IN TEXAS? — An old gravestone in Polk County's Damascus Cemetery bears an epitaph that suggests a modern version of "Evangeline," the tragic narrative poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The stone marks the grave of John Witcher, an educated Mississippian, who planned to marry his childhood sweetheart, Addie Sample. Then some community gossip about Witcher broke off the romance and he migrated to East Texas. He settled in the piney woods near Corrigan and became a hunter, trapper and recluse from society.

Unlike the hero of Longfellow's poem, however, this Texas "Gabriel" was not to be reunited with his "Evangeline" before death. When Witcher died in 1925, however, word somehow got back to Mississippi. Not long after, a gravestone arrived. An accompanying letter asked that it be placed on his grave. The epitaph reads:

JOHN WITCHER

Though separated on earth,
I hope to meet you in Heaven.

THE CHANGING TIMES — The Carousel Club, the sleazy burlesque joint that Jack Ruby operated in downtown Dallas, now is run by the Big D Police Association as a gymnasium for boys.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — A Houston artist's painting of a history-making airplane has resulted in the recovery of that plane from Greenland ice cap where it crashed 41 years ago.

The artist is Bob Carlin, an airline district manager who paints as a hobby. In September, 1967, he painted from old photographs the Stinson SM-1 that crashed in the Arctic on August 16, 1928, while trying to make the first flight to Europe via the Great Circle Route. When Carlin discovered that the plane's wreckage could still be seen on the ice cap, he decided to try and recover it for posterity.

Carlin's efforts attracted the aid of the Danish government and of Scandinavian Airlines. Last September 11, a helicopter finally managed to pick up the frozen fuselage. Now the plane will be restored and displayed at the Rockford, Illinois, airport — the spot where it began its historic flight.

WHISTLE STOP — The steam klaxon that called workers to their job in Texas' first oil refinery has been silent for 29 years now.

R. R. Hicks of Luling, Caldwell County, writes that he owns the steam whistle that sounded its first toot on December 24, 1898, when the first oil refinery west of the Mississippi began operations at Corsicana. In 1923, the old whistle was moved to a refinery at Luling and remained in service until that operation was closed in 1940.

65 YEARS AGO — 1904

The Clark Dairy and the Ideal Dairy this week united their forces and hereafter there will be only one dairy in Hereford, John Clark assuming control of both plants. This seems to be a good move in the right direction, for while two dairies can not both do well here, there is plenty of business to support one well; and it is not difficult to understand that one enterprise, well supported and properly managed, gives better service than two of the same kind but with scant patronage.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

About two years ago the Methodists of Hereford decided to erect a new church building. At that time there was paid into the treasury by some of their members and outside friends considerable cash and Liberty Bonds for the building. At this time they have in the treasury $7,160 in cash and bonds. The soldier boys are still drifting in and the local complement is now almost complete. Eleven of them have returned since last Saturday, as follows: Jack Jones, Wayne Wheeler, John Williams, Florian Sites, Jim Roberson, Odem Weems, Henry Wade, George LeGrand, Otto Olson, Walter London, and Jim Sain.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

More than 500 head of cattle have been bought in Deaf Smith County since the program started last week. Yesterday was the biggest day with more than 300 being purchased by the government in the relief program. Prices being paid range from $8 to $20 per head. This week's relief payroll will climb to almost $2,000, the highest it has been since CWA days, W. W. Chilton, administrator, announced last night.

20 YEARS AGO — 1949

County school trustees board members have been meeting this week to discuss arrangements for the Sims, Messinger and Walcott school districts, which as dormant districts must be assigned to one of the adjacent districts before the beginning of the 1949-50 term. Father's Day Special at the Star: Walt Disney's "So Dear To My Heart" starring Burt Ives, Beulah Bondi, Harry Carey, Luana Patten, and Bobby Driscoll.

5 YEARS AGO — 1964

Hereford School board Tuesday morning will move to activate the first part of its $1.4 million school expansion program when first contracts are let. Hereford schools' new chief, Darrell Williams, will take over the reins here July 1 and has arrived in Hereford with his family. When Andrew Kershner rose to his feet last October 17, and addressed a gathering of Deaf Smith County farmers and businessmen, few people thought that within a year Kershner's "dream" would become a reality, on his own farm at least. He constructed three concrete dams on his farm four miles west of Hereford.

Those Were The Days

The issues of youth are so serious these days that no one, much less the kids themselves, seem to have noticed that one traditional spring pastime has virtually disappeared — marbles.

There was a time when every vacant lot swarmed with youngsters crouching over their immies and aggies. There are not so many vacant lots nowadays, but even those that exist in the country and suburbs are not marked with rings and lagging lines. A boy can grow to manhood without knowing what a "taw" is or how to "knuckle down."

Of course, the times are so affluent that few boys, or girls either, would find much adventure in winning even a pocket full of aggies, or glassies, or immies or monnies, or whatever they were called in your neighborhood. But the game had its points that should appeal to today's activists: One could play for "keeps" without the risk of a bump on the head or a jail sentence. — The Oregonian

Recital Is Set Monday

A recital scheduled at 8 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Dolson Palmer, will feature voice pupils, Miss Susie Hickman, alto, and Miss Jane Lyons, mezzo soprano. Accompanying them at the piano and playing several solo selections will be Miss Becky Hickman, a piano pupil of Mrs. Joe Hacker.

Becky and Susie are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robe Hickman. Jane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lyons.

Selections chosen for the evening by Susie, include "My Task" by Ashford, "Dedication" by Franz, "Down in the Forest" by Ronald and "It might as Well be Spring" by Rogers.

Some of Jane's selections include "Just For Today" by Sever, "I Walked Where Jesus Walked" by Ohara, "Such Lovely Things" by North and "Summertime" by Gershwin.

Selections by Becky at the piano will be "Sonata in C Major" by Mozart and "Fountain

9 Local Campers In Camp Wigwam

All three young ladies are junior high students and are members of the school choir.

Susie won a first place award for solo in the University Interscholastic League Contest and has sung in recital in Amarillo.

Jane also was presented at recital in Amarillo and had the honor of being chosen "Student of the Six-Weeks" last year.

Becky has been a piano student for seven years and has received a "Superior" in Guild for six straight years.

An out-of-town guest for the recital will be Jane's grandmother, Mrs. Verna Lyons of Amarillo.

Camp Wigwam is a camp for mentally retarded children, located seven miles northeast of Amarillo.

Children from Hereford attending the camp are David Lee Legates, Royce Lee Legates, George Allen Lindsley, Alan Baugous, Cindy Vaughn, Melinda Simons, Karen Shore, Lee Lozoya, and Rodney Hutson. Adults attending the camp and serving as counselors for the week are Lanny Buck, Mary Ruth Weaver, Jane Witkowski, and Gene Brock.

The counselors left Saturday for preorientation of the camp. The campers will be leaving today to arrive at the camp. They will return to Hereford next Sunday.

The purpose of the camp is to provide these children with camp experiences which they might not have otherwise. It will be the endeavor of the camp to provide the children with all kinds of camp activities, and to give opportunity for social adjustment experiences with other children throughout the larger Panhandle area.

Camperships have been provided for these boys and girls through the contributions of civic organizations, church groups and individuals.

Brock said that he would like to express his deepest gratitude to all those who have responded to this need.

Brock also stated that if any one knows any of these children, please write them while they are in camp. A letter is a very meaningful experience to these campers. They may be addressed to the person, Camp

Auto Mechanics May Go; Farm Class In Push

Texas Employment Commission in Hereford reported that current prospects of beginning the auto mechanics class on July 7 with enough qualified students "looks good" at this time, but "the big push now will be for the farm equipment mechanics class" which has only two possible applicants.

Each class must have at least 90 per cent of the 15 scheduled for class enrollment by the starting date or the class will not begin, Ted Swindle said.

"We are not prepared to give figures at this time on the number of applicants in the auto mechanics class without checking with the TEC offices in Amarillo, Plainview and others," he said, "but at this time it appears that this class will begin on schedule."

Other area offices have been helping in securing the required enrollment for both classes, Swindle reported. "We are receiving help from such places as Vega and Bovina now with the farm equipment mechanics classes. There are still hopes it will be successful too."

Farm mechanics have a July 14 starting date.

"The labor market has gotten better for the applicant's consideration in both classes since June (the original date the classes were to have begun here)," he said. "We realize that it takes long-range planning for some of the men who may have families to consider making application. But the timing may be better for them now to fully consider such plans."

Under the Manpower Development and Training Act, it was explained that the applicant may qualify for a training allowance during the period of the course selected. However, the age requirement is 18 or over and the student must have had at least an eighth grade education.

Name-The-Horn-Toad Day Today

Vacation Bible School has been announced at the Greenwood Baptist Church for the first week in July and the naming of a "horned toad" is scheduled to-day at evening services by children who might be enrolled in the school later.

for Saturday, July 5, which will include a parade with police escort through the streets of the city. Balloons are also to be released from the church parking lot at Greenwood and Moreman streets. "First day of school is actually Monday, July 7," he said, "and will conclude on July 16." He said that class times will be announced later.

Rev. Al Baum, pastor of the Greenwood church, reported that a 3-foot paper mache replica of a Texas horned toad has been constructed and a contest has been arranged for the selection of its name. "The boy or girl who selects the winning name will have his or her picture in our new church pictorial directory, now being compiled, along with the toad," he said.

1969 Report Issued

Holly Sugar Story Becomes Sweeter

COLORADO SPRINGS — Holly Sugar Corporation and subsidiary highlights and annual report for the year ending March 31, 1969, showed that net sales totaled $101,821,000 compared to $98,262,000 in 1968. In a letter to Holly Sugar shareholders, it was stated that "considering the difficult conditions within the sugar industry, it was an excellent year for your company — a year of solid growth and development along planned lines."

lieve that our principal job, and our principal responsibility to you, is to manage and deploy the assets of this company for greatest effectiveness. To this end, we have set up two basic corporate objectives: "One: To do what is necessary to attain the highest possible profitability in our principal business — the production and marketing of beet sugar. It is an excellent business, and one which we have no intention of slighting in our long-term planning."

NAVAJO TONGUE TAUGHT GALLUP, N. M. — The University of New Mexico's Gallup branch is conducting a course in the difficult Navajo language. The course is an effort to bridge the gap between the Navajo and non-Navajo residents in the Gallup area, which is near the Navajo Reservation, largest in the United States. The class is being taken by lawyers, educators, doctors, missionaries, merchants and housewives.

Holly reported that they have successfully completed the first half of its $22-million modernization program. "This is the most ambitious (program) in Holly's 64-year history. It is unfortunate, but technologically inevitable, that the fruits of such a program cannot be instantly realized. Indeed, the weight of this major capital investment has affected this year's operations. However, with work proceeding on schedule and within budget, we expect to see improved performance and profit margins in the coming year and, to a greater degree, in the years beyond.

"When completed, by March 1971, the program should go a long way toward achieving our first objective — to provide Holly with a strategically located chain of production plants as modern and profitable as any in the world." Capital expenditures for modernization during the past year reached a total of $9,575,000 against $5,222,000 during 1968's shareholder report.

"In pursuit of our second objective — external growth — we have for some time been studying one specific segment of the food industry which readily meets the growth and profitability guidelines we have established for ourselves. Specialty foods, or gourmet foods, were virtually unknown in the United States at the close of World War II. In 1958, they represented a $200-million market at retail level. This year, the market exceeded $1-billion and is growing at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

World Foods is at its inception the fourth largest specialty food company in the industry and the leader in the development of self-contained gourmet centers in supermarkets." The report was issued by John L. Loeb Jr., chairman, and John B. Bunker, president of the Holly Sugar Corporation.

"Holly World Foods Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary, was created to operate these three companies under their own present management, which has been largely responsible for their success and growth. Holly World Foods is at its inception the fourth largest specialty food company in the industry and the leader in the development of self-contained gourmet centers in supermarkets."

The report was issued by John L. Loeb Jr., chairman, and John B. Bunker, president of the Holly Sugar Corporation.

Honor Degree Awarded To Rainbow Girls

Four girls and three sponsors of the Order of Rainbow for Girls in the Hereford assembly were awarded an honorary degree at the 46th Grand Assembly held in Fort Worth last week.

Misses Judy and Janet Lookingbill and their mother, Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Jr., Miss Annie Nunley and her mother, Mrs. Jack Nunley, Miss Joette Hanna, worthy advisor and Mrs. R. B. Hutson, mother advisor, received the honorary degree called "Grand Cross of Colors." The degree is granted for an outstanding service record in local assembly which includes attendance, willingness to serve in all capacities and support of all activities of the assembly.

A bus was chartered for the twenty-two girls and for women who attended the four-day event with money earned by the girls.

Following their registration Sunday, Miss Sharon Watson, Hereford's American Field Service exchange student, was interviewed by a reporter of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and Monday's newspaper carried a large picture and very nice story on Sharon's work in the Rainbow Assembly and her stay in Hereford the past year. Another sponsor attending was Mrs. O. H. Culpepper.

Secretaries To Go To Austin

Nine local school administration secretaries are set to attend the State Educational Secretary meeting in Austin beginning today and continuing through Wednesday, with Hereford Public Schools superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. scheduled to present the main address Monday.

Many statewide school secretaries are expected to attend the meeting. Local secretaries will represent positions in both the schools and the administration offices.

The meeting is being held at the Terrace Motel Hotel located south of downtown Austin.

Phillies struck out 161 times in 1968 yet had a .520 slugging average to finish second in the National League behind Willie McCovey's .545 for the San Francisco Giants.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

The Vacation Bible School, being held at Frio Baptist Church was closed with a Saturday afternoon session, and no Commencement was held, because of the muddy roads and also because several had gone on trips out of the community. About 110 were enrolled in the school, with Mrs. Weldon Stephens as principal.

Jana Cole left Sunday, from Amarillo Airport for Crystal Lake, near Chicago, for 10 weeks of work as a student summer missionary in Baptist work in that area. She will be a senior at Baylor U. this fall.

Rev. Gene Suttle, of Hereford, preached at Frio Sunday, both services, in the absence of the pastor Rev. Sam Ogan. Mrs. Suttle and children accompanied him for the evening service. The Ogan's left June 9 for a vacation and to attend the Southern Baptist Convention at New Orleans, the past week. They were to return home the first of this week. On Sunday, June 8, Rev. M. A. Pennington of Dimmitt preached for both services. Mrs. Pennington accompanied him.

Mrs. Leon Martin, Stephanie and Donyell, from Hawaii are visiting their relatives in the area. Mrs. Martin the former Glenda Robbins, plans to return home in a week or two and present plans are for the girls to remain for a longer visit. Martin, with the Navy, is in Vietnam, and has had duty there for many months. They hope to be able to return to stateside duty by fall.

Visiting the Lloyd Shultz home this week is Marilyn Pence, daughter of Mrs. June Pence of Lamesa. She came last Sunday to visit and Marilyn remained to spend the week. The other daughter, Karen, also was with Mrs. Pence Sunday.

Brenda White, daughter of the Wallace Whites, Bloxi, Miss., came last week to visit a couple of weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. N. B. Berryman, and with the Clark Andrews. She and Mrs. Berryman visited the first of the week with relatives in Amarillo, also.

The Charles Selfs were moving the last of the week to one of the Drudge farms, located three miles north of Tamayo Community or about 18 miles southwest of Frio. They plan to keep coming to Frio for church activities.

Mrs. B. H. Baldwin returned home Thursday from a three week trip visiting her children, the Ben Deans, Dallas, the Wesley Earps at Denton and with both families at Lake Texoma. She also was helping Mrs. Dean with drapes and with getting the new Dean home ready for moving into in a few weeks. Mrs. Baldwin went with the Homer Wests, who spent a couple of weeks of vacation at Lake Texoma and other points.

Rev. Darold Baldwin was accepted as pastor of the Baptist Church of Wilson Community, south of Lubbock and the family moved recently. They have been at Aspermont before this move. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin and Kristi of San Antonio

Tower Predicts IBM-MIRV Battle

The issue which is now shaping up to be one of the most hard fought in the Senate this year is whether to embark on a ballistic missile defense program to protect this nation from the threat of nuclear attack.

Newcomers Picnic Scheduled

A family picnic, scheduled for Saturday by the Newcomers Club, will be held at the Bob Hamman home at 207 Star, according to Mrs. Terry Bloxom, club president.

Time set for the event is 7:30 p. m. and Mrs. Bloxom said in case of rain, it will be postponed to a later date.

Each family is to bring a picnic lunch and they will be spread together.

Two Deaths In Miller Family

Mrs. R. B. Miller of 116 Beach reported that tragedy struck twice in her family during the past week, with the deaths of her brother last Saturday and her sister on Thursday.

First to pass away was "Judge" T. A. Hicks, 85, at Wichita Falls.

The Millers had returned from his funeral when they learned of the death of Mrs. D. W. Gregg, 83, at De-Queen, Ark.

Selective Service Looking For Two Hereford Youths

year, and cost an estimated total of 7.8 billion dollars overall.

I announced last March that I will support the President's request for implementation of his proposed Safeguard system. I believe that implementation will strengthen the credibility of our deterrent and enable us to lead from a position of strength at the negotiating table.

The administration is now laying the groundwork to re-open arms control talks with the Soviet Union, and I believe it imperative that we enter those talks with as much bargaining power as possible.

The Safeguard system recommended by the President calls for initial deployment of ABMs to protect our land-based retaliatory inter-continental ballistic missiles. Our ICBMs play a major role in our capability to deter the threat of an enemy nuclear-attack, by presenting an equal counter-threat of our own immediate and devastating retaliation.

The Soviet Union is now deploying a number of gigantic ICBMs called the SS-9. The size of these weapons indicates that they are designed to attack our ICBMs with the hope of neutralizing them inside their underground silos. The SS-9 is so huge that it would be wasteful to launch it against a populated area. A whole city can easily be wiped out with a much smaller weapon.

Senate debate on the ABM will begin in earnest sometime after the Independence Day weekend recess.

I believe the eventual Senate vote will endorse the President's request for the Safeguard system, but only by a narrow margin — maybe one or two votes. I believe the Senate endorsement will be followed in the House of Representatives by a much wider margin of victory.

There has been considerable discussion recently of another aspect of nuclear capability which is likely to gain much more attention during the ABM debate.

That is the Multiple Independently-targeted Re-entry Vehicle known by the acronym MIRV.

MIRV is a product of advanced technology which presents some extremely difficult issues. MIRV allows a single attack missile to deliver several nuclear bombs, one on each of several targets. The larger the missile, the more individually-targeted nuclear bombs could be delivered by the missile. When perfected, MIRV can be expected to increase the destructive capability of a nuclear attack several times over.

Also, MIRV tends to thwart intelligence estimates of an enemy's attack capability. As you know, the Soviets have long resisted our efforts to insure on-site inspections in connection with any arms control agreement. Our intelligence gathering capability has been rapidly increasing over the past several years, however, and I had hoped that these capabilities might soon reach the stage where on-site inspections would no longer be necessary.

But MIRV tends to thwart this capability. While we might be able to count the number of missiles standing on their launching pads from photos taken by satellite or other means, we cannot know how many targets are vulnerable to a single missile equipped with MIRV.

I believe we have no choice at this time but to continue our own development of a MIRV system, on the assumption that the Soviet Union is developing its own MIRV system. I have come to this conclusion on much the same basis as my conclusion that we must proceed with development of an ABM system.

Preserving our nuclear deterrent is currently the most effective means of preventing nuclear war. Deployment of ABMs to guard this deterrent, and keeping this deterrent capability viable through continued development of a MIRV system, are sound steps toward continued prevention of a nuclear exchange.

Opponents of continued arms development often contend that the costs of development are too great. They yearn to spend the same money to combat our domestic ills.

But we must continue to keep this basic point clearly in mind: We shall be able to do nothing to benefit any of our citizens if a nuclear exchange destroys this nation as a viable society. Realizing that our enemies prefer victory to peace, I believe that we must first provide for national defense, so that we may continue to work to improve living conditions within our society for all Americans in a climate of freedom and security.

Police Charge Oregon Woman In Friday Wreck

A Cave Junction, Ore., woman was charged with failing to heed a red light in a three-car collision at 5:27 p. m. Friday at Park Avenue and Harrison Highway. No serious injuries were reported.

Involved in the accident were cars driven by Mrs. Jewel Edith Fincher, Cave Junction, Ore.; Clayton Sims, 112 Ave. I, and Ramiro Torrez Ramirez, 120 Main.

Sims was attempting to turn left at the intersection when the light changed. The car driven by Mrs. Fincher failed to stop and skidded into the intersection, colliding with Sims' car and knocking it into Ramirez's car.

Mrs. Fincher and Mrs. Mabel E. Reeves, Dalhart, a passenger in Mrs. Fincher's car, were taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital, treated and released.

Two boys in Sims's car, Mike Williams and Jimmy Jobe, both 130 Ave. E., were also treated and released at the hospital.

Damage to Mrs. Fincher's car was estimated at $2,300, to Sims's car at $600 and to Ramirez's car at $350.

SCS Reports New Total

More Farmers In Conservation

Over twenty percent of the land in Deaf Smith County has received treatment through the Great Plains Conservation Program.

District Conservationist J. C. Brown states that this is better than 209,000 acres. The local Soil Conservation Service office has the responsibility of administering this program.

Currently there are fifty-nine active participants carrying out Great Plains Conservation Programs on farms and ranches throughout the county.

This year nine new participants have entered the Great Plains Conservation Program to carry out needed conservation practices on cropland and rangeland. These new participants are Sam Teague, W. J. Bryant Jr., Mrs. Ella Kinsley, Alton Kemp, R. H. Cowan Jr., Bobby J. Ridley, Robert Zetsche, Layton Sawyer, and Mrs. N. A. Brown and sons.

Some of these landowners have already started installing conservation practices. These range from diversions and parallel terraces on dry cropland farms to irrigation pipeline on irrigated places.

Brown says the Great Plains Program provides assistance to landowners and operators to speed up needed conservation on the land.

Eighty percent cost-share assistance is available on such items as waterway shaping and seeding, range seeding of native grasses, and pasture planting of improved grasses such as tall fescue, tall wheatgrass, and other cool season grasses.

Practices cost-shared on a seventy percent basis are diversions, parallel terraces, and erosion control structures. Cost-sharing is offered on a fifty percent basis on irrigation pipeline, irrigation land leveling, ponds, wells, permanent troughs and pipelines for livestock water, fencing, and aerial spraying of competitive shrubs and brush.

Soil Conservation Service personnel are available to provide technical assistance in planning and applying practices offered through the Great Plains Program. Consider the conservation problems you have, and consider how the Great Plains Conservation Program might also help you.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

Traffic Toll Up; Survey To Begin

AUSTIN — Motorists are advised by the Texas Safety Association not to become complacent because traffic deaths are down slightly.

"There were 6,749 more accidents and 1,748 more persons injured in them during the first four months of this year," George W. Perry, Dallas, President, Texas Safety Association, said. "We are very pleased that 74 fewer persons were killed during this period but the fact that the total number of accidents and injuries increased is a clear indication that the overall traffic safety picture is not improving.

"Costs of traffic accidents are steadily increasing. The price of replacing a front door on a best-selling car in Dallas is $15 more than it was a year ago. On this same model, it now costs $5 more to replace the windshield and $12 more to replace the front fender. The cost of a front bumper is up $9.

"With injuries, accidents and their costs on the increase, it is time for Texas motorists to decide to drive defensively and to insist that all traffic laws be firmly and fairly enforced.

"The new breath test law which becomes effective September 1st offers great hope for a reduction in the number of traffic accidents, but this hope can only be realized if all Texans see to it that the new law is properly enforced. The bill for traffic accidents will continue to grow if a sincere and determined effort is not made by most motorists, Mr. Perry concluded.

The Texas Safety Association, with a financial assist from the Governor's Committee on Aging, is going to find out why accidents are the most common cause of hospitalization for the state's senior citizens.

On July 1st, the Safety Association will begin a year-long study of the involvement of older Texans in injury accidents of all types.

"We, and all other persons interested in the safety of our state's senior citizens, need to know how, where, and why the older person is involved in accidents, as well as the type of accidents causing injury or death," Perry said in announcing the research project. "The number of older Texans is steadily increasing and apparently their involvement in disabling accidents is also on the upswing. This fact is why it is imperative that the accident study be begun immediately."

To be known as the Texas Senior Citizens Accident Study, the research project will study accidents in at least 200 Texas counties. Basic information covering 15 broad subject areas will be developed on each injury accident involving a senior citizen in these counties.

Statistical information will be obtained from cooperating physicians, hospitals, and clinics. Survey teams will gather similar information from senior citizens who did not receive medical attention for their injuries.

Project Director for the Texas Senior Citizens Accident Study is Lloyd F. Palmer, TSA general manager, who predicted that the results of the research project would form the basis for effective national as well as state accident reducing programs of the future and could well become the foundation for in-depth studies of problems disclosed by the project. The total cost of the research project has been estimated at per cent underwritten by the Governor's Committee on Aging slightly less than $40,000, with 75 ing and 25 percent by TSA.

PEARL BACK IN PICTURES

NEW YORK — Pearl Bailey returns to motion pictures with a costarring role in "The Landlord," a comedy which goes into production in New York in June. It will be Miss Bailey's first screen appearance in almost a decade. She will continue starring on Broadway in "Hello Dolly!" during the shooting of the film. Beau Bridges, son of actor Lloyd Bridges, will play the title role in the movie.

By MELVIN YOUNG Members of the local Oasis Shrine Club of Hereford are now busy selling tickets for a crippled children's benefit to be sponsored on Friday, July 4th. We believe that the annual July 4th celebration at the courthouse will be in progress also, so there should be plenty to do over the holiday. Anyhow, if you haven't gotten your barbecue tickets yet, contact one of the Shriners. The money from this project will be used to defray some of the cost of patient follow-up after the recent annual Shriner's Crippled Children Clinic. This is one of the most worthwhile projects handled by any organization in Hereford and it behooves us all to get behind the Shriners and help.

And this is an easy way to do it. You not only get plenty to eat but the community certainly benefits from the price of the ticket.

Owen Seamands, 147 N. Texas, got a hole-in-one on the local golf course Friday. Seamandsaced No. 5.

With the recent rain water runoff into Lake Meredith, we wonder if the taste of the water has changed any. A recent photo in the Amarillo Daily News showed a two-foot wall of water rushing over the spillway at Ute Lake near Logan, N.M. Surely all that rain water will improve the quality of the lake.

Louie Hendricks, executive administrator of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, was in Hereford Thursday noon and Friday morning presenting a program of slides and excerpts from speeches made by the late Cal Farley. Hendricks presented the program to the noon Kiwanis Club Thursday and to the breakfast Kiwanis Club Friday morning.

Hendricks tells us that some of the ranch's best support comes from the Hereford area and he always enjoys coming down here. Incidentally, for the benefit of other clubs and church organizations, the program is one of the best we have seen on the Ranch and will be well worth the trouble to secure it. It's probably not anything new to those of you who have been here and knew Mr. Farley, but there are now a lot of newcomers in the area who haven't heard the Boys Ranch story.

There must be something to reincarnation, judging from the way people come back to life at quitting time.

1968 Buff Film Is Now Available

CANYON, Tex. — An 15-minute color film, complete with sound, on the West Texas State University football team is available for showings in the Panhandle area.

The film, which was produced by Bill Rhew and narrated by Dick Risenhoover, both of Amarillo, features the top runs of Eugene "Mercury" Morris during his record-breaking 1968 season.

Duane Thomas, the 220-pounder coach Joe Kerbel says could be the nation's top full-back this fall, is also shown during some of his top moments. Kerbel discusses the 1969 prospects and talks of the five-game home schedule, which opens Sept. 20 against Northern Arizona.

Other home games are against Northern Illinois University, San Diego State, New Mexico State and Bowling Green.

The film is available free of charge to any groups in the area. Interested persons should write to Tommy Bryant, Sports Information Director, P. O. Box 235, W. T. Station in Canyon to reserve the film.

LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON NEARS END — Friday will mark the close of another season for some two-hundred Hereford Little Leaguers in the major and minor leagues. Games played four evenings each week have provided an outlet for youthful vigor and vitality as well as providing entertainment for many Hereford fans. Thanks and appreciation is in the offing for the many coaches, umpires, mothers and others who have relinquished their time and patience to work with the youngsters.

Miss Elaine Kelly Weds In Afternoon Ceremony

The Temple Baptist Church was the setting Saturday afternoon for one of June's loveliest weddings when Miss Elaine Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelly, Route 2, became the bride of Jimmy Lee Johnson of Hale Center. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie F. Johnson of Hale Center.

Pews for the family were marked by large white satin bows. Miss Sandra Willis, organist, played the traditional wedding march and accompanied Mrs. Billy Don Teeter of Hale Center, as she sang "Because," "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer."

FRENCH LACE ADORNS GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a lovely picture in her formal gown of bridal satin and French lace. Bands of re-embroidered French lace extended from the empire bodice to the hemline of the A-line skirt. The lace was repeated on the long sleeves and cameo neckline. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a cluster of organza rosettes accented with seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations centered with a cattleya orchid.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia Hale served her close friend as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Ann Priddy and Annie Nunley.

Best man was Tommy Jack Hooper and groomsmen were Ronald Groves and Harold Bufe, all of Hale Center. Serving Dimmitt and Dale Gruhkey of Adrian.

The feminine attendants were attired in formal A-line silhouette gowns fashioned identical to the bride's, in hot pink with soft pink lace trim. They wore matching shoes and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS IN CHURCH PARLOR

The reception followed in the reception hall of the church where the bride's table was draped with white satin and held a sterling candelabra holding lighted tapers surrounding by the bridesmaids' bouquets. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated in two shades of pink and surmounted by a cluster of wedding bells. Miss Billie Goettsch served the cake and Miss Judy Yarbro ladled punch. Presiding at the guest book was Miss Deann Hooper of Hale Center.

For her bridal trip to San Angelo, the bride's traveling ensemble was a purple princess style coat-dress with white accessories. Her white orchid corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Following the brief honeymoon, the couple will be at home at Hale Center.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lemmie Connel of Anadarko, Okla. and other relatives and friends from Hale Center, Dimmitt, Adrian and Lubbock.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening at the Cais on House. Approximately twenty members of the wedding party attended.

The bride is a recent spring graduate of Hereford High School.

The bridegroom was graduated from Dimmitt High School and attended West Texas State University.

1929 Graduates To Meet Today

Members of Hereford High School graduating class of 1929 will stage their 40th anniversary reunion today with a luncheon at the Chaparral Restaurant beginning 12:30 and continuing through 3 p. m.

Invitations have been issued to approximately 44 exes for the event, with ten of them from Hereford.

George Herd of Amarillo, who has been in charge of arrangements, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Graduates who still live in Hereford include Liston Wilson, Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, Mrs. Owen Andrews, Fred Axe, Mrs. Frank Cogdell, Charles Noland, Mrs. J. O. Clark, George Jewell, Miss Augustine Gregory and Miss Vida Hicks.

Any interested persons who would like to visit with the exes are cordially invited to come out and see them following the noon luncheon.

Wed Recently In Amarillo

In a ceremony solemnized recently in the chapel of the Original First Baptist Church of Amarillo, Buna Lea Schindele, daughter of Mrs. Muriel Royall of Borger, became the bride of Kenneth Dale Homfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Homfeld of the Bippus Community. The Rev. Winfred Moore, pastor, officiated at the double ring service.

Johnnie Bruce Royall gave his sister in marriage. She wore a soft blue silk street-length dress fashioned with a rounding neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of nylon net hung from a crown and she carried a bridal bouquet of white and yellow daisies on a bridal Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Homfeld of Dalhart, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served the couple as attendants. Junior bridesmaids were Sharon Schindele and Jo Ann Borth, both of Amarillo.

Groomsmen were Jerry Homfeld and Bill Schindele and serving as ushers were John Schindele and Mike Borth.

Tonya Cleavor and Carla Royall who were dressed identical in yellow frocks, served as flower girls and carried umbrella baskets filled with yellow rose petals.

Ring-bearers were Berry Cleavor and Jeff Royall.

Mrs. Mike Borth, organist, presented a program of nuptial music as well as the traditional wedding marches.

A reception followed in the XIT Room of the Herring Hotel. The couple will be at home in the Bippus Community following their wedding trip.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple

The home of Mrs. Opal Hutcheson, 421 McKinley, was the setting for the lovely wedding of her daughter, Kathy Lynn, to James Harold Davis, Route 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of Lockney, Tex. The Rev. Ron Harpster, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring service Saturday afternoon.

Marking the place of the ceremony in the living room were cathedral-tapers burning in cascading candelabra with arrangements of gladiolas and carnations.

The bride's street-length dress was fashioned of pink batiste enhanced with appliques of lace and embroidery. She wore matching shoes and a pink velvet bow in her hair. Her bridal bouquet was pink rosebuds and carnations. Her only jewelry was a pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Carolyn Hutcheson was her sister's maid of honor and

Sports Both Fun And Dangerous

Two new exciting books telling of the dangerous sport of auto racing and the hilarity of a family camping trip, can now be found at the Deaf Smith County Library.

THEY CALL ME MISTER 500. By Anthony (Andy) Granatelli: Football is fine; horse racing provides a pleasant afternoon's entertainment; baseball and basketball are big in their way. But the last of America's pure, unpasteurized, two-fisted enterprises is automobile racing. And inside that rugged, scary sport, the last of the wild young men, the bold ones, is Anthony (Andy) Granatelli.

Granatelli is now at the top, a success in a business where the criterion is often more survival. And Andy made it the tough way: through a life dedicated to speed, to the perils of hot-rod racing, of careening across the Utah salt flats in stock cars; as a race promoter, ever posing for a time as "Antonio" the Great, World Famous Italian Speed Ace in His Magic Rocket Car; through terrible crashes that left him battered and scarred for life.

At the Indianapolis 500, that grand old racing institution, Andy Granatelli now wears Badge No. 500, and the number in a way tells his story. He has raced, fought, struggled and battled through Indy; crashed monumentally there and survived; fought the hidebound old Indy racing establishment for the right to race inventive new cars — Indy is still shaken by Andy's STP Turbocars. And through it all Andy Granatelli has led the world in car and engine design to the point where those who know him think of him as the racing figure.

His life story — what really happened, what made him the most controversial figure in the field today — is an incredible saga. "I would have called it War and Peace," he says, "but Tolstoy already had the title." Instead, Granatelli, in the most intimate, inside, hard-hitting m-

THE TWO-TON ALBATROSS By William Anderson Across a Trans-Continent Highway in a Travel Trailer with Two Kids, Two Guppies, a Miniature Orange Tree, a Lobster Named Hud, a St. Bernard Dog, and a Claustrophobic Wife

Have you ever longed to voyage across country in a travel trailer? Camp under the stars? Barbecue your meals in the shadow of magnificent mountains? See the wonders of Canada? Fish wild northern waters? The Family Anderson did — some of them, anyway. But they all tried it.

The result was a bonafide cockamamie odyssey for Andy, Dortha, Scott, Holly, and their marvelous menagerie — from Washington, D. C., where Colonel Anderson worked in the Pentagon, up the eastern seaboard through Nova Scotia, all the way across Canada along the extraordinary new Trans-Canada Highway, and then down through Las Vegas to Los Angeles. It begins with a hilarious trailer warming, and you won't stop laughing for over 5,000 miles.

Former Resident Dies At Silsbee

Funeral services for Mrs. May Gough Heffner, 73, pioneer resident of Hereford who lived at Silsbee, Tex., were held June 11 in that city.

Mrs. Gough died June 9 in St. Elizabeth Hospital in Beaumont following a three-week illness.

She was the daughter of Judge L. and Mrs. Gough, Hereford pioneers.

The Heffners attended the annual pioneer reunion in Hereford in 1963 and had made plans to attend this year, when she became ill.

She is survived by her husband, Oliver D. Heffner of Silsbee; two daughters, Mrs. Robert F. Ford of Silsbee and Mrs. R. A. Murphy of Houston; one son, John L. Heffner of Dallas; this irresistible family will delight not only all camping buffs and armchair travelers but just about everyone who loves a zesty and terribly funny family tale like THE EGG AND I, or a warm and detailed travel account like TRAVELS WITH CHARLEY.

Women's Editor
"My family and basketball are my hobbies, in that order," says back-eyed Mrs. Ron Mayberry, who lived in Hereford for three short weeks. They moved here from Van, Tex., near Tyler, where Mr. Mayberry held the position of head basketball coach, which he has accepted at Hereford High School.
"My husband and five-month-old daughter Kim, are my first interests," she says, "then basketball. I guess I get more excited at ballgames than he does." Mrs. Mayberry says she had reservations about being a coach's wife, and was expecting the worst when she married him, but enjoys it and says she is his most ardent fan.

She came to Hereford ahead of her husband to look for a place to live, and says she has never seen so many wonderful people eager to go out of their way to help someone.
The Mayberrys are both originally from Amarillo where he attended Amarillo High and she Tascosa. Their marriage stems from a ten-year courtship "off and on," she said, with a twinkle in her eyes.
Mayberry's first coaching job, after graduating from Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, was at near-by Adrian, where he stayed for one year. He then coached at Midland and Albany, before going to Van.
Following her graduation from Texas Tech, Mrs. Mayberry taught school at Dallas and Cedar Hill, then taught the first year they were married at Van.
The Mayberry's home is filled with furniture which has been beautifully antiques by Mrs. Mayberry. Another of her hobbies, she says she loves antiquing and enjoys reading.

When school starts in the fall, she will be teaching ninth grade English at LaPlata Junior High School. "I have found a sitter for young Kim, and I feel she will be in capable hands during my working hours," Mrs. Mayberry said.

Homemakers Schedule Demonstration

Mrs. Louise Wilson and Miss Marilyn Bradley, home service advisors for Southwestern Public Service Company, will present a demonstration on "Low Calorie Cookery" at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in the High School Homemaking Department.

Each girl enrolled in the summer homemaking program is urged to attend and bring a guest.

Anyone who is interested in this type of food preparation is cordially invited to attend.

Two Vocational Teachers Now At Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Two Hereford high school teachers are taking part in the 22nd annual summer school for vocational industrial education teachers at Texas A&M.

The teachers and their trades are Vanna B. Thurlow, cosmetology, and Benjamin F. McDowell, building trades.

The teachers are part of nearly 300 instructors from across the state enrolled in the program. They represent teachers with specialties ranging from cosmetology to electronics and welding.

"Our role is not one of teaching trades," said A&M instructor E. C. Fisher. "Rather we are interested in preparing teachers to better instruct their pupils."

He described A&M's role as one of teaching methods and techniques.

Pointing out that most vocational industrial teachers come direct from industry, Fisher added the summer school helps them prepare to teach what they already know as a trade.

Fisher said the problem of meeting industry's demands is a growing one, and that public schools are "doing their share to meet the demand."

He added approximately 18,000 boys are enrolled in the public school programs and about 4,000 girls in the personal service trades.

There are currently 822 vocational industrial teachers in the state, he said.

Recently Honored

A coke party honoring Miss Genell Mathews, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Matt Mathews, was given Thursday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watts.

Genell, who now makes her home in Lubbock, is visiting her friend Melinda Watts for a week.

Present at the party were honoree, Genell Mathews; hostess, Melinda Watts; and old friends Marcia Trotter, Jeina Hunter, Delores Abalos, and Lynnette Cawthon.

Detroit Tiger infielder Dave Campbell had only one major league hit in 1968. It was a home run. He went to bat eight times.

Man To Visit Here In Relics Search

SAN ANTONIO — No rocking chair and gold-headed cane for 77-year-old Grover Cleveland Ramsey.

He has a purpose in life. Although he retired 12 years ago, he still works every day.

Currently he is on a month-long trip for the Institute of Texas Cultures of San Antonio. He's making the first systematic survey ever conducted by the Institute in the Panhandle and South Plains in search of new and unusual artifacts for display.

Ramsey, a consultant to the research department, is a dynamo of energy. He is a retired school principal from Chicago. This near-octogenarian moved to Texas 12 years ago and now lives in a 50-foot trailer house in San Antonio.

He was born in 1892 and named for Grover Cleveland whom the Democrats had just nominated for a third term as president.

In the course of his current travels, Ramsey will visit the following county seats: Lubbock, Amarillo, Hereford, Matador, Dalhart, Claude, Childress, Crosbyton, Dickens, Floydada, Plainview, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Farwell, Dimmitt, Tulia, Silverton, Canyon, Vega, Panhandle, Stinnett, Dumas, Channing, Stratford, Spearman, Perryton, Lipscomb, Canadian, Miami, Pampa, Wheeler, Wellington, Clarendon and Memphis.

From the Tsa Mo Ga Memorial Museum in Plains, Ramsey has obtained an unbreakable Anglo-American brass-headed doll, an early Danish telephone & an Anglo-American, combined apple peeler, corer and slicer.

In Andrews, he located a rare French bustle bench about the size of a love seat. Dating from the 1850's, it provides room for one bustle-clad woman to sit.

Near Midland, he discovered an unusual double metate used by Mexican Texans to grind corn for making tortillas. Lamesa provided him with an Anglo-American, combination silver sugar bowl and spoon holder, circa 1890.

For the Indian section of the Institute, Ramsey got a pair of buffalo horns from the last buffalo killed in Borden County in the early 1890's. This item is from the Borden County Museum in Gail.

From the ranch of Gene Haley near Kermit, he found an oil painting of Sitting Bull by the Indian artist, L. Ship Shee. The West of the Pecos Museum in Pecos provided Ramsey with a man's coat made of buffalo skin for loan to the Institute of Texas Cultures.

A wedding dress dating from 1862 comes from the Odessa College Museum.

Ramsey has visited in Pecos, Monahans, Mentone, Kermit, Odessa, Midland, Stanton, Andrews, Seminole, Lamesa, Gail, Post, Brownfield, and Leveland.

As a topping for broiled fish, you may use a quarter cup of butter blended with a tablespoon of prepared mustard.

Baby-food prunes are fine to use when you are making a prune whip and the recipe calls for prune pulp.

Hereford, Texas 79045

New Holland's 1880 Self Propelled forage harvester is specially built to meet heavy demands of custom men and big farm operations. It bites, chews and chops up to 65 tons per hour! Hydrostatic drive lets you easily adjust ground speed to crop conditions without losing power or speed in the cutterhead.

Nine knives chop corn, forage grain or alfalfa as fine as 1/8". You can now put eight tons where you used to find room only for five. Standard equipment includes power steering and hydraulically positioned spout. You can get two or three row corn heads, a direct-cutting sicklebar or a super-sweep windrow pickup.

This 1880 is as tough and durable as they come. It can handle today's 30 and 40-ton per acre silage crops with ease. And it's backed by parts and service facilities that have made New Holland the west's leader in hay and forage equipment.

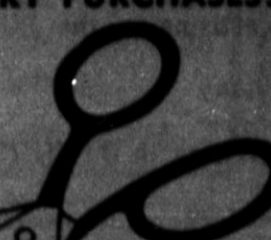

Drop in soon to look over the 1880 or pull-type 880. This is the machine you have been waiting for.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — It's been 3 months since I filed and my refund still hasn't come. What should I do?
 A — Write your regional IRS service center or telephone your local IRS office. Be sure to give your Social Security number, name, address, and when your return was filed. This information is needed to trace your return.

Most refund claims have already been processed and the checks mailed out.

Q — The agent examining my return wouldn't allow all the contributions I'd claimed. Is there anybody else at IRS I can talk to about this?
 A — You may request a district conference to discuss the disallowed deductions. Procedures for doing this are explained on the notice you received.

Brashear Now On Okinawa

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brashear of 311 N. 25 Mile Ave. reported that they received an overseas telephone call from their son, Marine Lance Cpl. Gene Brashear, from the Pacific Island of Okinawa about 1 a. m. Thursday.

L. Cpl. Brashear, who reported that he had been on the island three days for new supplies and equipment, has been on Vietnam duty since January. He said that he would remain on Okinawa from 7 to ten days, and would return to Vietnam then.

His mother said that his parents here did not "mind at all" receiving the call in the early morning hours. "Have you ever felt like you had just received all the money in the world!" she said.

She said she has learned that her son is now up for promotion to corporal.

Mrs. Brashear also reported that he is currently taking correspondent courses in American History from Texas Technological University and plans to take an English course later — "as many hours as he can."

IDAHO VISITOR

Francis "Scoop" Elliston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byrle Elliston of 615 Grand Ave., and his wife are visiting here from their home at Wallace, Idaho.

Raised in Hereford, the younger Elliston is reported as being one of the first Eagle Scouts here.

THANK GOODNESS!

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — While John Bockey was in the den writing checks to pay a batch of bills, the doorbell rang and it was answered by his daughter, Mary.

She came back and announced that a man wanted to see him.

"What's he got, a bill?" sighed the harassed Bockey.
 "No," replied his daughter, "He's just got a plain old nose."

enanced conferee, who is not associated with the audit group that examined his return.
 Q — Is any tax deduction allowed for expenses connected with duty in the military reserve?
 A — The cost of your uniforms in excess of clothing allowance and their care and maintenance are deductible. Travel costs to evening reserve meetings are not deductible unless you worked at your regular job the day of the meeting. Then you can deduct cost of a direct one-way trip from your job to the meeting, even though you may go home for dinner first.

Q — We are having a teenager stay with us this summer. Can we claim him as a dependent?

A — If he will be with you for just the summer no dependency exemption may be taken. To qualify as a dependent, a person not related to you must be a member of your household and live with you the entire year, in addition to meeting the other tests.

Q — When is a student taxed on what he makes working summers?
 A — When earnings for the year reach $600, a return must be filed. However, with the taxpayer's personal exemption and the minimum standard deduction, there will be no tax to pay until income reaches $600. Don't forget that if tax is withheld from your earnings, a return must be filed to obtain any refund that may be due.

 Q — Do summer employees have to be included in a self-employed retirement plan?
 A — No, part-time and summer employees may usually be excluded from these plans.
 Details on these plans are continued in IRS Publication 560, "Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals." Send a postcard to your IRS district office to obtain a free copy.

WALT DISNEY'S MICKEY MOUSE

I WONDER WHERE MORTY DISAPPEARED TO?

HE COULD BE HELPING WITH ALL THESE CHORES!

MORTY!

MORTY! WHERE IS THAT KID?

WHEW! ALL THROUGH! TIME FOR LUNCH!

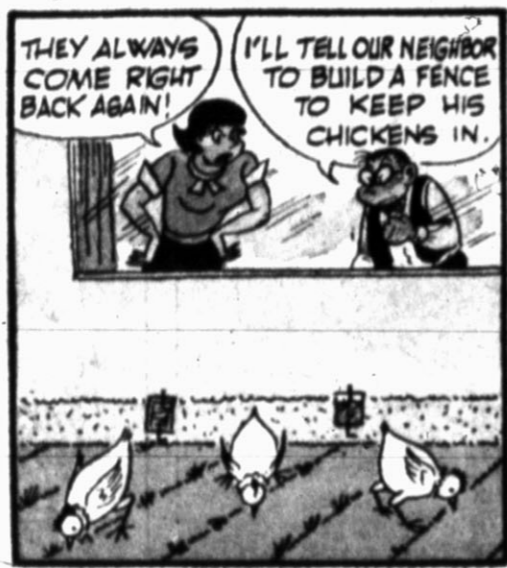

DID YOU SAY LUNCH, UNCA MICKEY?
