

Locomotive Smokes Him Down

Fred Cloutier, 50, stands atop a railroad trestle in Auburn, Maine, as an old-fashioned steam Canadian National locomotive passes underneath belching smoke and cinders. Cloutier, who had threatened to jump into the Androscoggin River 60 feet below for two hours, later ran down the fire ladder at left after another dose of smoke. Members of the train crew watch at lower left. Cloutier, injured in jumping from the ladder, told police he climbed the trestle after hearing strange voices, but his brother said he had been drinking.

Jury Suggests Reprimand In Assault Case

A County Court jury Tuesday found a city policeman guilty of simple assault and recommended that he be reprimanded for carelessness in the handling of a gun. J. C. Walton also was fined $15 and court costs by the jury which found him guilty of committing the assault against Manuel Vega in northwest Big Spring last Nov. 28. Vega was struck in the shoulder by a bullet. Walton testified that he fired into the air in an effort to cause Vega to halt after he fled when he and two other Latin Americans were being questioned by the officer and Patrolman J. D. Campbell. The policeman said he was off balance when a second shot was fired. Others testifying in the case were Vega, Campbell and Felipe Lopez. The jury deliberated a little more than an hour on the case. After reporting the verdict, Foreman Henry Carpenter asked the judge if it would be "out of order" for the jury to recommend a reprimand. Other jurors were John W. Whiting, J. H. Denton, J. Alden Ryan, Marvin Hayworth and Rufus Davidson.

Six Prisoners Taken To Pen

Sheriff Jess Slaughter left this morning for Huntsville with six prisoners being transferred to the state penitentiary. To start serving their sentences are B. D. Stewart, who was assessed two years on a forgery conviction; Robert C. Kiker, also two years on forgery; Herbert L. Wilson, three years on forgery; Ben F. Tyson, one year on a second offense DWI conviction; Manuel Vega, three years on burglary; and Andrew Garcia Perez, two years on a theft conviction. Slaughter expected to reach Huntsville about 4 p.m. today and will return to Big Spring tomorrow. The sheriff and six prisoners made the trip by auto.

NIKE 'SAFE'

Army Reassures Nervous Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army, embarked on a billion-dollar program of building Nike sites, is seeking to reassure communities nervous over close-by installation of the deadly anti-aircraft missiles. Partly for this purpose, the Army yesterday took newsmen to a new Nike site at Lorton, Va., part of the anti-aircraft defenses of the capital, about 16 miles to the north. Maj. Gen. Gilman C. Mudgett, chief of Army information, told the newsmen the Nike "is being literally installed in the back yards of householders all over the nation." And Brig. Gen. R. R. Hendrix, commander of the Washington-Baltimore Nike defense area, said this "has touched off some knotty problems." As you may know," he said, "Army engineers have met with some strong resistance during the process of acquiring real estate for Nike sites. Some local communities have not been at all sympathetic with our program, par-

Reserves Buildup Bill Due House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's program to build up the military reserves was expected to pass the House intact today despite efforts to soften or kill it. Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted it would pass without major amendments, but only after a fight. Brooks leads House forces backing the legislation, which already falls somewhat short of original Pentagon requests. President Eisenhower is behind the measure to give the military limited authority to enforce reserve obligations and to provide a new plan for training up to one million teen-age volunteers in four years. In one key provision, the measure would authorize the Pentagon to recall for 45 days' active duty reservists who fail to maintain a minimum of 52 weekly drills and 15 days' summer training a year, or the equivalent. Involved are draftees and volunteers who since mid-1953 and are obligated for a total of five years' active and reserve service. The House Armed Services Committee softened the Pentagon's original proposal to make these reservists liable to a discharge other than honorable if they failed to keep up their training. But Brooks said he expected attempts to reduce the enforcement provision further. The measure would save 17-19 years old, would save 18 months from the two years of active duty required of draftees. But they would put in this time in reserve duty. Rep. Hardesty (D-NC) said he intends to offer a counterproposal that would permit students to fulfill their entire military obligation by taking three months' training each summer for four years. In a second key section, the measure would provide for up to 300,000 volunteers a year to be given six months' special training, followed by 74 years' active reserve duty. The volunteers, be-

THOSE THINGS WILL HAPPEN

You never can tell when an accident will happen. Not even if you're lying in bed, a Webb airman is convinced. The airman, not identified by the Air Force, was evacuated from Webb AFB at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, this morning for specialized treatment. He suffered a shoulder dislocation — when he fell out of bed.

Girl Injured As Several Traffic Accidents Occur

Kathleen Thomas, 14-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, 400 Washington, received minor injuries in an automobile accident last evening. She was not hospitalized but received first aid treatment at Big Spring Hospital. Miss Thomas was driver of an automobile which collided with a truck operated by John Albert Knott, Abilene. The accident was in the 2100 block of Main about 9:35 p.m. Police said that four other automobile accidents were reported Tuesday along with two this morning. Apparently none of the participants was injured. Milburn C. Mitchell, 1011 W. 3rd, and Travis D. Freeman, 1226 W. 3rd, were operators of cars which collided in the 1200 block of West Third yesterday. Rosco Vernon Gum, Big Spring Trailer Courts, and David Gilbert Hart, 308 Harding, were operating cars which were in an accident at Fourth and State streets Tuesday. Curtis Reynolds, 1200 Nolan, reported to police that his car was struck by another vehicle after he had parked it on the East Fourth Street Baptist Church lot. Accident was between 8 a.m. and noon Tuesday, he said. Annette Boykin, 101 Jefferson, told officers she was involved in an accident in the 1500 block of Main about 3:45 p.m. Tuesday, but that the other car was not damaged. Gloria Ann Byrd, 621 Ridgeway Dr., and Eliseo Jones Ochoa, Alhambra, Calif., were drivers involved in an accident at 8 a.m. this morning at Third and Johnson.

Assistant County Agent Due Monday

Bill Sims, who now is "in-training" as assistant farm agent at Waxahachie, is due here Monday to become assistant agricultural agent for Howard County. Sims is from Paint Rock, where he was active in 4-H Club work before going to Texas Tech for his degree in animal husbandry. He will be second man in the farm agent's office here. James P. Taylor took over duties last week as county agent succeeding D. W. Lewis who resigned April 15.

Record State Spending Bill Under Check

AUSTIN (AP)—A record-breaking state spending bill—a compromise of House and Senate proposals—was getting a close check by Texas lawmakers today. The senators and representatives were also studying the biggest tax increase ever proposed in Texas history, one aimed at halving the proposed spending. If the House and Senate agree on the 1 1/2 billion-dollar, two-year appropriation measure recommended yesterday by a joint conference committee, the Legislature is going to have to find at least 29 million dollars a year in new revenue. A tax bill recommended yesterday by a Senate state affairs subcommittee would raise that 29 million for general spending purposes, plus 24 million dollars a year earmarked specifically for highway improvement. That's a total of 53 million a year in new revenue. Some lawmakers think the bill would raise a lot more than that. Violent opposition to the tax bill was expressed, some senators and representatives going so far as to predict privately that the full Senate State Affairs Committee would not accept the report of its subcommittee. The full committee was scheduled to consider the measure this afternoon.

Strongest denunciation of the revenue raiser was aimed at the provisions for the levy of gross receipts taxes on earnings of department stores, hotels, motels, tourist courts, and manufacturers of any metal or liquid made by any chemical, metallurgical, or electroplating process, except for alcoholic beverages, oil, gasoline or other liquid hydrocarbons. Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillboro and Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, chairman of the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees, respectively said the 269-page appropriation bill worked out by the joint conference committee probably would not be considered in either house before late this week or possibly Monday. Calling for a total two-year expenditure of $1,525,739,532, the measure for state departments, colleges and universities, junior colleges, courts, and hospitals and special schools. The bill authorizes an additional 7 million dollars a year for public welfare agencies by joint state-legislative action, except for in-line with voter approval last November of a constitutional amendment raising the ceiling on such outlays from 35 to 42 million dollars a year. Agencies of higher education will be in line for $93,806,271 from the state's general revenue fund over the next two-year fiscal period if the Legislature approves the compromise spending proposal. That would be an increase of 13 1/2 million dollars over the current biennial appropriation. Despite the proposed boost, top officials of the University of Texas protested the appropriation measure would be inadequate.

Regent Chairman Tom-Sealy of Midland and university president Legare Wilson issued joint statements close to the heels of the conference committee's report. They said the Galveston Medical Branch is now "seriously handicapped" because of inadequate funds and would find it "necessary to reduce services even below the present level" under the proposed appropriation. They said the spending bill would "in effect place the university in a situation where it can (a) expand in size to accommodate increased enrollments only by lowering academic standards, or (b) maintain academic standards only by limiting further physical growth of the institution." Public junior colleges, whose fight for funds provoked one of the sharpest arguments between House and Senate committee conferees, would get $7,806,000 for the next two years. That is a hike in state aid of $2,530,000 over the current biennium. Abandoning the formula idea used in past years which said junior colleges would get so much per student, the bill authorizes a specific lump sum for each school's operation. That way, the schools will know definitely how much state aid they are going to receive from the outset rather than waiting to see how much their enrollment would entitle them to get.

Midland Voters Okay $2 Million Bond Issue

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A two-million-dollar bond issue was approved 658-45 yesterday by Midland Independent School District voters. It will finance a third junior high school and an addition to the high school.

Filibuster Delays State Water Plan

LATE BULLETIN

DALLAS (AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued a severe storm warning for a wide area centered around Abilene. The warning takes in a 100-mile radius. The bureau said there was a possibility of a few tornadoes in the stated zone, along with widely scattered severe thunderstorms.

Webb To Open Gates Saturday For Celebration

The gates of Webb Air Force Base will be thrown open Saturday for a mammoth celebration which is scheduled here for Armed Forces Day. Big Spring civilians are urged by Webb's commander, Col. Charles Young, to visit the base for the occasion. Open house is to be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tanks and guns, helicopters and jets, marching and fly-overs are all slated for the eventful program. The military at its best will be on display. Also celebrating Armed Forces Day will be the Social National Guardmen. The new armory, located on Farm Road 700 just east of the base, will be opened to the public for dedication ceremonies. Al Muldrow, secretary of state for Texas, will fly here from Austin to speak at Webb for the Armed Forces Day wing review. This will be at 10 a.m. During the progress of the review, aircraft will fly over the field. The crowd will be treated to some low-altitude acrobatics. Various branches of the service will provide displays on the flight ramp at 11 a.m. Included will be the National Guard, Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard. Fire-fighting demonstrations and jet engine changes are to be made at 1:30 p.m. Tanks, helicopters and artillery will be on display. Tours are slated for the entire day, and visitors are to be served on the base for the cost of a regular military meal.

Rains Wet Area, But Missed Here

A boisterous thunderstorm sent showers on a line from Lamesa to Snyder Tuesday night, but for the most part it only provided a show in Howard County. Heavy downpours in isolated localities did contribute enough runoff that Lake J. B. Thomas had come up 1.4 feet at 11 a.m. This accounted for about 6,000 acre feet of water or 2 billion gallons. Bull Creek was still running through the diversion channel into Lake Thomas at three feet deep. Earlier rumors of a five-inch rain on the headwaters of Bull Creek were discounted by mid-morning reports which said that Fluvanna, in northwest Scurry County, only received 1.5 inches. There was one isolated, small area in east of there which got five inches, but the flow goes into the Deep Creek shed. If there were any such heavy rains on upper reaches of Bull, no confirmed reports had been received of it. The creek is expected to be declining Wednesday noon. Lamesa, favored by recent showers, picked up another inch of moisture. Reports from outside of town were inconclusive, but there were indications that the southeast and the eastern parts of the county fared similarly well. The official gauge at Lamesa showed .43 of an inch, but on North 19th Street 1.1 inches were measured, and North 17th Street gauged 1.5 inches. The J. E. Bolinson place near the Army post of town and the Jim O'Brien place each had an inch. There was some hail, but Leroy Colgan, Dawson County agent, said it was insufficient for appreciable damage. Paul L. Wasson, who farms seven miles northeast of Ackerly, had 1.5 inches and had 160 acres of cotton to replant due to brisk hail. Right at Lake J. B. Thomas, up to 3 1/2 inches of moisture fell. Big Spring reported light showers. The Herald gauge had 1 of an inch, HCJC .06 and the Experiment Farm .04. Texas Electric Service had .13 at its switching station east of town. Snyder had 1.14 officially, although there were areas with heavier amounts. All the north half of Scurry County received from 1.2 to 1.5 inches, with a few spots having two inches. In the south part the amount was lighter except at Hermleigh, in the southeast part, where there was an inch.

AF Day Exhibit

Making arrangements for Webb AFB's big Open House Saturday, Major Robert G. Woda, project officer, looks over a cut-away of a jet engine that will be displayed for public inspection at the base's annual celebration for Armed Forces Day. The major has arranged for many fascinating and entertaining features for the day, including a 2,000-man Wing review, low level flying acrobatics, helicopter and heavy equipment demonstrations, and exhibits from all branches of the services.

Mrs. Hobby Gets Presidential Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today praised the way Secretary of Welfare Oretta Culp Hobby had handled the Salk polio vaccine program. He also said she might have to resign for personal reasons. Mrs. Hobby's husband, former governor William P. Hobby, has been ill. She flew to her home in Houston, Tex., yesterday to be with him. The President's statement was made at a news conference when he was told Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) had described Mrs. Hobby as guilty of "gross incompetency" in the vaccine program. Morse said she ought to be removed from office. Eisenhower said it would be a waste of time for him to take note of Morse's accusations. The President went on to say that Mrs. Hobby's record in the Cabinet has proved out what Eisenhower termed the good opinion in which she was held during the war as WAC commander. "Those good opinions are fully justified," Eisenhower said, adding that she has handled her job, including the vaccine program, in a highly efficient manner. Her counsel, Eisenhower said, has been eagerly sought. Asked about reports that Mrs. Hobby may resign soon, the President said she placed him on notice some months ago that for personal reasons it might become necessary for her to leave government service.

BLT NOT FOR US TAXPAYERS

DETROIT (AP)—Two more baby gorillas are coming to the Detroit Zoo after some fast red taping. The zoo wants them to keep from getting lonely. But zoo officials were balked in getting export permits from French Equatorial Africa. The zoo went to Mayor Albert E. Cobo. Cobo went to Sen. Potter (R-Mich). Potter went to Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles went to the U.S. ambassador in Paris. The ambassador went to the French government. Up came the permits. See HOBBY, Pg. 12, Col. 6.

Brady High And Dry Again After Heavy Downpours Flood Region

By The Associated Press
Rains of cloudburst proportion in the Brady area Tuesday night sent streams in that area on rapid rises. Four inches of rain were dumped on Brady. Streets were flooded, and water 3 to 4 inches deep coursed through the fire station. A department store was flooded to a depth of 5 inches. The Colorado River at Winchell, 25 miles northwest of Brady, was up 30.1 feet and still rising. It was up .44 feet at Ballinger. The Llano River at Llano at 7 a.m. was up 14 feet and still rising. San Saba reported the San Saba up 23 feet and still rising. At mid-morning, Brady was high and dry again, with the river well within its banks and the drainage overflow all gone. More than 4 inches fell at Brady Tuesday night, bringing to an estimated 10 inches the amount of rain that has fallen in McCulloch County the past week. For a while Tuesday night a gigantic rain cloud seemed to hover over most of McCulloch County in West Central Texas, 100 miles northwest of Austin.

Brady Creek went on a quick rise of 22 feet, but had receded 11 1/2 feet at 9 p.m. It almost equaled the flood of 1952 when waters reached within two feet of the top of the levee. Low sections of Richards Park at Brady were under 2 to 3 feet of water. Civil Defense workers were called out. The storm was accompanied by high winds and heavy hail. It stopped raining at 9 p.m. The lower Colorado River authority said the heavy rains on the Colorado watershed would bring a moderate rise to the chain of highland lakes above Austin. Tornado threats and recurring thunderstorms accompanied the downpours in some areas. Hail 3/4 half inch in diameter pummelled Austin during a 2 a.m. thunderclap that dimmed the din of filibuster in the capital city. Four hours later it was still raining in Austin, College Station, Dalhart and in the Fort Worth-Dallas region. Rain occurred during the wee hours of the morning at Abilene, Junction, Waco, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Amarillo. It was welcome everywhere as farmers and ranchers prayed for a buildup of subsoil moisture that could carry them through a long, hot summer. Forecasts indicated continued tornado-breeding thunderstorm activity over scattered areas of the state but most prevalent in the South Plains-Upper Pecos Valley region. Tornadoes threatened and blasted in West Texas for a third straight night Tuesday but again caused no injuries and did little damage. Most of their deadly whirlpools of wild wind were high in the air. Hail caused some minor damage in the South Plains. The hail covered the ground, as an eye-witness account said, in an area bounded by Hale Center, Flinloew and Olton. Bewildered cattle stood in deep patches of the white hail stones. Heavy rain and strong, gusty winds came with the hail. Tornado funnels were reported sighted east of Olton and northward near Channing in the Canadian River area. None of these storms touched the ground assembly.

Solon Scores Tax in Drought Bill As 'Unfair'

AUSTIN (AP)—A filibuster against a controversial tax plan for financing a statewide drought-fighting water program today continued to hold largely Senate business at a standstill. Aided by long questions from friendly colleagues, Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock passed the 21-hour mark in continuous debate at 11:05 a.m. and kept going. To set a new national record he would have to go beyond 6:11 p.m. He said he wanted to keep going until the House acted on the same conference committee report he is fighting in the Senate. Such action was expected sometime today. Legislators are drawing no pay now. The 120-day session was supposed to have ended last week and that's when their $25-a-day pay ended. They can stay in session as long as they want and draw no salary. Much of Corbin's night debate on the drought-aid program had pierced through the pounding of rain, hail and thunder outside. If the filibuster rolls on through the afternoon, it would likely delay Senate State Affairs Committee consideration of the controversial general tax bill that was scheduled for action today. Corbin has also directed criticism at the general tax measure. He criticized as "unfair" the House-Senate conference report on the proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize a property tax to support the $100,000,000 water program. He directed barbs also at Gov. Allan Shivers, who has backed the program, and at the Lubbock Appleche Journal. "We need another governor worse than anything else," argued the West Texas lawmaker who has bitterly assailed Shivers on numerous prior occasions. "He wears size 13 shoes and has had one planted on my neck the past several years." He charged the Lubbock newspaper with editorializing against him and claimed it would say he is "out to fight the water problem." "I'm for water conservation, but I'm not for taxes on my dry-land farmers," he argued. "Taxes are bad and when they fall on the wrong people they are onerous." Corbin slipped out of his shoes as he talked, ripped at a paper cup of cold water, and read frequently from "Lots of Land" by former Land Commissioner Bacon G. Giles. The Senate's fourth filibuster this session was directed at the water program plan proposed by the State Water Resources Committee set up by last session of the Legislature to study the state's water needs. Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo is chairman of that committee and the Senate sponsor of the proposed amendment. As approved by the conferees, the plan would authorize a property tax up to 3 cents per $100 valuation and set up a six-member board to be appointed by the governor for administering the program. The fund would be used to secure bonds to help finance dams and reservoirs throughout the state. Hardeman told the Senate at the outset of the debate that the measure is the "key" to a statewide water program. Corbin said his non-stop speech was aimed at serving notice to the House and the public that "it's a bad bill."

Seeing It Firsthand

Queen Seeks New Leader

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The first Dutch government crisis in nearly three years sent Queen Juliana searching today for a political leader to form a new cabinet. Premier Willem Drees submitted his coalition cabinet's resignation last night after losing a vote of confidence in Parliament's lower chamber 50-48. The vote came on a government bill to raise rent ceilings 10 per cent on about one third of Holland's rented homes. Because the rent issue is a major point of controversy between the country's two major parties, the Catholics and Drees' Laborites, political circles predicted a long crisis. Each party has 30 of the 100 seats in the second chamber. The Laborites deserted Drees to vote solidly against the rent bill. They said they would agree to it only if wages were raised simultaneously. Until a new government is formed, Socialist Drees' Cabinet will continue in office as caretakers.

Body Returned

MANILA (AP)—The body of Gene D. Symonds, United Press correspondent killed during riots in Singapore last week, left here last night by plane en route to Dayton, Ohio. It had arrived earlier by plane from Singapore.

15,000 Delegates Open Baptist Meet

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—About 15,000 messengers (delegates) from 30 states opened the Southern Baptist Convention today. They were ready to hear a report of rapid growth of Baptist mission work around the world despite restrictions allegedly imposed by Catholics and Jewish pressure in certain areas, and to nominate and possibly elect a successor to Dr. J. W. Storer of Tulsa, Okla., as president. Two strong candidates to succeed Dr. Storer are Dr. C. Mc. Warren of Charlotte, N. C., president of the convention's executive committee, and Dr. Ramoex Pollard of Knoxville, Tenn., chairman of the pastors conference. Dr. Storer has served two years and is ineligible for re-election. The missions report, to be read tonight, will be given by Dr. Baker James Cauthen, executive secretary of the denomination's foreign missions board. His report will show that 22,125 persons made professions of faith in Baptist missions, in 1954; that Baptists now have 2,268 mission churches with 209,346 members in foreign lands, served by 120 missionary pastors and 1,408 national ministers. Dr. Cauthen will report that a demonstration of interest in Protestantism during a revival meeting in Barcelona, Spain, in October brought stiffer restrictions from Catholic officials. His report will say that four Baptist chapels were closed and construction on two others halted. In addition, the report will charge mistreatment of Evangelical Christians in Catholic old age homes in Spain. Dr. Cauthen also will charge that Spanish government restrictions require all Evangelical Christian services to be held inside buildings in such a manner that they will not attract attention and that the restrictions limit opportunity to build adequate chapels to hold large crowds. The messengers will consider a cooperative program budget of 10 million dollars for missions and benevolences, an increase of 800 thousand over the 1955 budget. They also will be asked to renew the life of the film committee to work on plans for a major Baptist movie; consider an advertising campaign in daily and weekly newspapers to tell what Southern Baptists believe; decide whether to build a sixth seminary; and consider an increased emphasis on world missions between 1956 and 1964.

Egypt Blamed For Land Mine Blast

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has blamed an Egyptian land mine for the death yesterday of two Israeli soldiers and the wounding of three others. The Israelis complained to the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission. An Israeli army spokesman said the troops were on a routine patrol along the Israeli-Egyptian truce line adjoining the Gaza territory when their car exploded the mine.

Congress Gets Polio Fund Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bills to carry out the Eisenhower administration's polio vaccination program for poor children have been dropped in the congressional hopper—one by a Republican and the other by a Democrat. Early approval seemed assured as bipartisan support was voiced for the plan to put up 28 million dollars to make sure lack of money bars no child from getting the vaccine.

Government handling of the situation continued to draw criticism, however, Sen. Morse (D-Ore) told the Senate yesterday, he thinks Secretary of Welfare Hobby should be fired for "gross incompetence." Morse contended Mrs. Hobby's role in handling the distribution and safety testing of the Salk vaccine showed "bad administration that comes close to immorality."

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) rose to defend the secretary, saying she had shown herself to be "a great stateswoman and a fine leader." Mrs. Hobby had opposed moves by many Democrats and some Republicans to provide rigid federal controls for vaccine distribution. A voluntary distribution system was one of the points in a report she presented Monday to President Eisenhower.

The report, quickly endorsed by the President, proposed free vaccinations for those in the 1-19 age group unable to pay for them. Bills to put this recommendation into effect were introduced yesterday by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) and Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.).

Like The Old Rancher?

FREDONIA, Ky. (AP)—Two months ago this community launched a fund-raising campaign for a waterworks system. After raising almost $2,000 workers began drilling for water. Yesterday the drill went down 265 feet and hit oil. Experts said the well may be one of the best producers in western Kentucky. The search for water is still on.

Warren Hints Ruling Due On Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren indicated today the supreme court will rule before recessing for the summer on how and when to end segregation of white and Negro pupils in the public schools. In the true sense of the word," he said. Urging better pay for federal probation officers, the chief justice said the importance of the probation system is too often lost sight of.

Warren said in an address prepared for the American Law Institute that despite an increase this year in the volume of Supreme Court work, the court has been keeping abreast of it, and he added: "This means that our work is on a 'current' basis and, as has been the practice for many years, action in all argued cases is expected to be announced prior to adjournment."

The court completed hearing arguments a month ago on the form of a decree to carry out its unanimous decision of May 17, 1954, holding that racial segregation in the public schools violates the Constitution.

There had been some informal speculation that a final decision might be postponed until fall. The court has tentatively fixed May 31 as its final opinion before its summer recess, but in past years it frequently has not met its adjournment target.

Warren reviewed the work status of the various federal courts and said the major problem at present is a congestion of cases in "too large a number of the U. S. district courts," particularly in populous areas.

"We cannot be content until these backlogs... are brought down to reasonable numbers because we know that until that is done litigants cannot have justice."

15 To Receive Diplomas At Forsan School

Four students, Johnny Baum, Mary Ann Fairchild, Harold Hicks and Nancy Storey will be featured in short addresses. Two members will be presented by the choir, and W. T. Harold Hicks will speak on "Character Building School Life." Nancy Storey will speak "In Defense of My Generation." Johnny Baum's valedictory, "The Exciting Atom," will follow the popular Rogers ballad, "You'll Never Walk Alone."

After Conger has announced the club awards, H. H. Storey, president of the Forsan Independent School District Board of trustees, will present diplomas. Joe T. Holaday, superintendent of schools, will announce the scholarship awards. J. R. Pike will pronounce the benediction.

Local Stations To Participate In 'Conelrad' Alert

The nationwide "Conelrad" alert scheduled on Wednesday, May 25, will be observed by local radio stations.

Andy Jones, engineer at KBST, stated that the alert is being held for the military forces of the United States to observe the effectiveness of the system.

It is not known at exactly what time the alert will be held, but KBST and KTXC will momentarily go off the air until the all-clear is sounded. The alert will probably be about 15 seconds, Jones said. "Conelrad" alerts are held to clear the airways. The idea is that in time of enemy attack, only certain stations should be on the air. Jones explained. Stations at 1240 and 640 on the radio dials are the official Conelrad broadcasting stations.

This means that Midland would be the official Conelrad station in this area. In case of a real Conelrad alert, people could learn what is going on by listening to Midland. Local stations would quit broadcasting altogether.

The alert Wednesday week will be for only a few seconds, however. The local station KBST will be notified by telephone from Midland of the correct time. KTXC monitors KBST and will shut down at the same time, in theory.

them off if continued for three or four consecutive days. Gardeners find that blackspot, mildew and other fungous growths will make their appearance after rains. Phlox, hollyhocks and roses are especially subject to such diseases, and it is easier to prevent these ailments than to cure them.

Any good fungicide, either dust or spray, will help in the prevention of diseases if it is applied weekly. Undersides of foliage should receive special attention to insure that the preparation reaches those parts, since that is where the infestation will start.

Now is the time to divide clumps of chrysanthemums or to plant new ones. Either way, be sure to give them a dusting of sulphur to guard them against rust. Snapdragon, snapdragons, and carnations, also will profit from receiving a sulphur bath.

Dulles Report Sees World Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is preparing for a top-level Big Four conference with Russia in a belief it may prove that a "new dawn" of peace is breaking over the world.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles made that clear last night in assessing—before television cameras—the meaning of recent shifts in Soviet policy, including the signing Sunday of an Austrian independence treaty. By that pact Russia is pledged to withdraw its troops from Austria.

Dulles predicted dramatic results from this pledge throughout Eastern Europe. Communist satellite countries like Czechoslovakia and Hungary will also want freedom, he said, adding that the joy of the Austrians over their freedom will be "contagious."

Dulles said that the acceptance of West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has dealt the Soviet Union its "greatest diplomatic defeat" since World War II. The explanation of Russia's changed behavior, he said, may lie in a Kremlin decision to stop trying to block such developments and "conform to some of the rules and practices of a civilized world community."

But whatever the explanation from Russia's side, he said, the important point is that a "policy of strength and firmness and the standard of moral principle" is beginning to pay off for the West. If the West sticks to that policy, he said, "we can face the future with confidence."

He cautioned both against relaxation of armed strength and against the great danger, as he called it, of expecting too much from the prospective Big Four talks between Eisenhower and the Prime Ministers of Russia, Britain and France.

Excessive hope now, he said, might result in disillusionment, dismay and even a war psychology later on.

Eisenhower, who interrupted Dulles' report to the nation from time to time with comments of his own, broke in to say he thought "the American people are pretty well aware of what is going on" and that they show "greater maturity" about negotiating with Russia than was expectable several years ago.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee later said he thought Dulles was "overcautious" and showed signs of "timidity" about the Big Four meeting.

"We will stay strong and we will stay vigilant," Eisenhower said, "but we are not to extinguish the hope that a new dawn may be coming even if the sun rises very, very slowly."

Dulles himself sounded a similar hopeful note at the outset of his half-hour broadcast with the President, saying: "I think now one can say that what happened (with respect to Germany and Austria) may really mark a turning point in the tide of history."

While the broadcast was aimed primarily at the American people, it was carried to all parts of the world, in many translations, by the government's Voice of America radio network.

The broadcast was the first television program from the President's oval office. Eisenhower sat behind his desk. Dulles sat on his right. On his left was a group of high government officials.

"Aides said Dulles and the President were no makeups. The occasion was Dulles' return from Paris and Vienna. In a historic 10-day period he had partici-ated in bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic Alliance, in signing an Austrian treaty, in working out a better understanding with France on support of an independent government in Viet Nam and in receiving from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Russia's acceptance of a bid from the Western Powers for a top-level Big Four meeting.

One of the great moments of the week, he said, came when he saw representatives of France and Germany sitting side by side as Allies at the NATO table in Paris.

"You felt a new page had been opened on European history," he told the President, "and the vision which so many people had for so many years of a unified Europe had actually started to come to pass."

Washington — Gal II Dulles (T) (Top Text)

In the same vein of acclaiming a triumph for the West, Dulles spoke of the Austrian Treaty signing. He said that when the treaty provisions are carried out it will be "the first time that a segment of the Red army will have turned around and started to go back."

Dulles said the Western World could not be quite sure why the Russians agreed to pull out of Austria "except we can be quite certain that the policies of strength and firmness which we are adopting with other free countries in Europe are beginning to pay off . . ."

But when he came to talk about the prospective Big Four meeting, Dulles spoke of the perils of too great expectation. He said he was speaking, not so much to the American people as to peoples in other lands.

Sen. George commented that Dulles seemed "a bit overcautious" and gave "an indication of timidity" not entirely warranted. Dulles, he said, "might well have disclosed more determination to approach these problems in a spirit of faith."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said, on the other hand, he was glad the secretary "emphasized that the top-level conference will not be one to resolve problems but to identify the problems that exist and the procedure to be taken in trying to solve them."

Grow That Corn Or Dig For Salt, Russ Farmers Told

MOSCOW (AP)—Strong orders went out today to Soviet farmers to end an "unbearable" delay in the planting of corn and get their quotas in the ground within the next three to five days.

The Kremlin command was made public last night only a few hours after announcement of the U. S. invitation for a delegation of about 30 Soviet farm experts to inspect Iowa farmers' ways with corn and hogs this summer.

The coincidence, however, did not appear by Soviet design. The Moscow and provincial papers have been packed for the past 10 days with denunciations of the farmers' failure to follow through on Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's demand in February that vastly more corn be grown for hog food.

The Russians are considered certain to accept the American invitation to visit Iowa. In exchange, a party of U. S. farm experts is slated to visit the Soviet Union. The American hosts yesterday asked how many should come and when.

Last night's blast from the Ministries of Agriculture and State Farms did not say how badly the corn planting was lagging, or how much was the goal. But it ordered directors of state and collective farms to draft all farm workers—and their families as well—for the sowing, and to keep them working every daylight hour.

FISHERMEN

Freedom Of Seas Controversy Rages

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—American fishing vessels today are engaged in a conflict over freedom of the seas.

Shots have been fired and one man, William Peck, 42, Seattle, Wash., seriously wounded.

The conflict is over the claim of Peru, Ecuador and Chile to sovereignty for 200 miles off their shores. It is complicated by increasing competition from Japan for the U. S. consumer market.

The American tuna vessels have extended their range to reach virgin fishing areas south of the Equator. Some have moved their base of operations to South America.

Eight vessels flying the U. S. flag have been seized by Peru and Ecuador. Their owners have been fined a total of more than $85,000 to obtain release of the ships.

The U. S. State Department has protested and Congress has reaffirmed this country's position that the sea's are free beyond three miles from shore.

Congress has also authorized reimbursement of the fines from the Federal Treasury and efforts to recover the amounts from the South American countries. This, as yet, has not been done.

Even more urgent demands of the tuna fishermen for tariff barriers to cut down the Japanese imports, which they declare are threatening them with ruin.

Mason Case, manager of the fishermen's cooperative at San Pedro, declared April 30:

"If the situation isn't corrected by the federal government, our lucrative fishing industry will collapse and this will throw 10,000 men out of work, tying up about 1,900 American tuna boats in Los Angeles and San Diego."

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce says the capacity tonnage of the American tuna clipper fleet, based almost entirely at San Diego and San Pedro, dropped from 44,800 in 1951 to the present 37,500. In addition, purse seiners with tuna permits have declined from 130 to 67 vessels.

During the same period, the Chamber said, frozen and canned tuna imports into the United States principally from Japan, have increased from 24 1/2 million pounds to 155 million.

The share of the domestic market supplied by the American fleet has dropped from 91.4 per cent to 55 per cent, the Chamber reported.

One company, Sun Pacific Inc., which has moved the base of its fleet operations from here to Peru says that was "the one way to meet the competition from Japan."

Catches are collected on refrigerated mother ships or plants ashore and shipped as frozen cargo to southern California canneries, or to one at Puerto Rico.

The move to Peru by Sun Pacific Inc., did not give its vessels immunity from the 200-mile sovereignty claim.

A clipper Sun Streak, operating with a Peruvian permit, was seized by Ecuador last year. The company paid a fine of $12,000 and was the first to apply for the federal refund. Its Sun Pacific was seized later.

Early this year, the refrigerated mother ship Tony B, operated by an Ecuadorian company organized by Nick Bez, of Seattle, was seized by Peru. The owner was fined $10,000. The Tony B later sank with a tuna cargo between Panama and Puerto Rico.

Peru has also seized vessels of the whaling fleet of Aristotle Onassis, a Greek, which was flying Panamanian and Honduran flags. He was fined three million dollars.

Peck, the Seattle man, was struck by an Ecuador patrol boat bullet March 26 when the Arctic Maid, refrigeration ship from Seattle, was seized.

"They shot me down like an 18th century Barbary Coast pirate," said the 42-year-old Peck after he returned home. The bullet passed through his right leg and shattered the thigh bone of the left leg.

He said the patrol boat fired "40 or 50 rounds" without warning and that he saw the man whose bullet hit him take careful aim from 50 yards away.

The Ecuadorian government has claimed the Arctic Maid attempted to flee, and was seized only after a 20-minute chase in which various "preventive shots" were fired.

Familiarity Will Breed Contempt, Judge Tells Women

CHICAGO (AP)—A 35-year-old woman told Circuit Judge Cornelius Harrington yesterday that she traveled 20 miles to attend church because Robert Metzler's organ music "sends me."

"I'm not interested in Mr. Metzler," Miss Harriet Davis said. "I'm interested in his music. It sends me. There's something about it different from the music in any other church."

Metzler, 50, is organist in a church in suburban Glencoe. He formerly was organist at a Northwest Side church, but he said he left that job to escape the attentions of Miss Davis and her mother Belle, 55.

Last February after Metzler saw them at the Glencoe church, he obtained an injunction against them. At that time he said the two women had maneuvered their car to block off his car as he was leaving the church.

They were in court yesterday to have the injunction set aside. Judge Harrington refused and said: "If you attend this Glencoe church, I will interpret it as an attempt to annoy Mr. Metzler, and I will hold you in contempt of court."

Opportunities So Far Unseen

It is certain we have to live with Europe and Asia, remote though they are geographically, and important as they are to our economic wellbeing; and involved with them in peace and war as we inextricably are and will be for a long time to come.

But we Americans are inclined to overlook or forget another part of the world that in the long reaches of history may be a great deal more vital to our well-being than the whole of Europe and Asia put together.

We speak of the countries we call Latin America, stretching from the Rio Grande del Norte to Tierra del Fuego. For the most part it is undeveloped country, though our Latin American neighbors have made great progress in recent years, and attained a degree of political stability never known before. If Europe and Asia should fall us as a rich market for our industrial goods, we could spend the next 500 years helping to develop Latin America and still not exhaust the possibilities.

In recent years Venezuela has become the wonder of the Western World by its sensational development thanks largely to petroleum. A brochure put out by the Creole Petroleum Corporation, which figures largely in the Venezuelan oil development, shows just how important that country is to North American exporters. The booklet lists hundreds of export items that have gone to Venezuela from all parts of the country, including Texas.

Almost a score of Texas industrial centers share in this export trade, but unfortunately only Borger figures in the scene from West Texas—a reflection of our limitations in an industrial sense. Of the exports from Texas to Venezuela, hundreds of items are found: plumbing fixtures, rubber products, heat exchangers, oil well equipment, petroleum products, rice, drilling bits, flour, industrial machinery, foodstuffs, chemical products and a host of others.

Texas is strategically situated to capitalize on the development of Latin America, and we should bend every energy in that direction.

Adenauer Solidifies Position

The upper chamber of the federal parliament of West Germany, called the Bundesrat, has a membership of 106, elected (like our United States senators) by the several states of the German republic.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer lacked a clear majority in the Bundesrat, and in consequence the various bits and pieces of legislation essential to the rearmament of West Germany faced possible defeat there, adding up to wreckage of the entire rearmament plan.

Then, Sunday last, the State of Rhineland-Palatinate held its Bundesrat election, and all four candidates of the Adenauer Christian Democratic Party were victorious. Thus Adenauer gained a clear majority of 51 votes in the upper house, assuming clear sailing for his rearmament legislation barring unexpected upsets.

The Socialists hold 36 seats and the right-wing Free Democrats count 13.

In the Rhineland-Palatinate election, not a single Communist or neo-Nazi survived the balloting.

Thus Adenauer has the strength to push through the necessary legislation, and he has promised to get on with the business as rapidly as possible. Before now files West Germany expects to have the groundwork of rearmament securely in place, though completion of the program may take two or three years.

West German solidarity behind rearmament has again been demonstrated. That is good news for the Western alliance, and not so good news for the Kremlin.

'New Europe' Has A Different Look

VIENNA — As so often in the remote past this city has once again the focus of the struggle between East and West. By negotiating a peace treaty after years of stubborn refusal Soviet Russia made the Austrians feel at least momentarily that they should be grateful to Moscow for their freedom.

More than two years ago, in his speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, President Eisenhower listed an Austrian peace treaty as one way in which Russia might demonstrate the sincerity of the Communists' continuous propaganda about their desire for peace. Repeatedly, Secretary of State Dulles and other policy-makers have put the same stress on an Austrian treaty. Now along with the treaty the Soviets have made various moves that add up to a dramatic peace offensive.

This action has come within a few weeks after the final ratification of the Western European agreement bringing France and Germany together in a common framework — an agreement which Moscow repeatedly warned would make any further negotiation impossible. So, once again, in their policy the Russians have accepted the reality and have adjusted to it with remarkable speed and flexibility.

Those Americans who know the Soviet Union best at first hand insist there is nothing mysterious or Machiavellian in this. It is no more nor less than a hard-boiled realization of the need to change the pitch; a recognition of Western firmness together with Russia's own serious internal difficulties.

While this is certainly not the moment to respond to the Russian overture by relaxing into the blissful ease of total peace, the Europe that is emerging — what some are already beginning to call "the new Europe" — has a very different look from the Europe contemplated in the Soviet's initial postwar policy. In fact, an extraordinary evolution has taken place since 1947.

U.S. Wonders: What Are Russians Up To?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American government doesn't know what the Russians are up to. That point stands out clearly in Secretary of State Dulles' talk to the nation. "Lately the Communists have been mild and to a degree cooperative. They let Austria have independence. They have agreed to talks among the Big Four powers—the United States, Britain, France, Russia — at the highest level. Why?"

Dulles doesn't know. He frankly expressed puzzlement by their motives in his broadcast last night from President Eisenhower's office. Although Eisenhower said a "new dawn may be coming," he and Dulles cautioned against expecting too much of the talks.

Dulles and Eisenhower, both of whom had been frigid for years to a top-level meeting with the Russians, will now both meet with the British. Neither man has shown much enthusiasm for the idea. Britain and France "persuaded Dulles to persuade Eisenhower to take part."

Dulles last night was very cautious about the meeting, perhaps because he doesn't know what the Russians have up their sleeves.

Since the Russians have them guessing, Eisenhower and Dulles will have to do their homework if they don't want to come out second best. Homework doesn't mean just remembering to stand for on every simple difference which has existed between Russia and the West for years.

This whole Russian performance may be phony. There's a chance it isn't that they really want peace and are willing to pay a price for it in the form of concessions they never would make before.

If they do back up a bit, the United States will have to be prepared to do the same if, by doing so, American safety and world peace are benefited. American rigidity might continue a cold war until it became hot.

But Dulles knows any American concessions by him or Eisenhower may bring down the wrath of some Republicans. Both men have vivid memories of Republican outcries for the past 10 years over concessions made by President Roosevelt at Yalta.

Yet, if the Russians yield but the United States yields nothing, this country endangers its alliances. Almost as if giving assurance beforehand that Eisenhower would get mixed up in no deal with the Russians — and therefore warding off criticism ahead of time — Dulles last night said:

Eisenhower and the other heads of government can't solve all the big problems in the three or four days they'll meet. "I think that will be a meeting which can be held safely without bringing in great risks and which may open up a new opportunity."

Dulles privately is reported to believe it will take many months, perhaps years, to work out agreements with the Soviet Union on great world issues.

Men, Arise! The Millennium Is Upon Us

NEW YORK (AP)—Would it help cut the divorce rate in America if every year we had a week dedicated to husband worship?

A hundred Hindu wives in India recently completed a five-day festival of husband worship. In one ceremony during the festival each wife washed her husband's feet, and a Hindu mystic expressed hope this rite "will end divorce."

Well, it was a heart-warming thought. But would it work here? Many foreigners accuse Americans of woman worship. They feel our high divorce rate stems from the fact the ladies have too much power in this country—that a wife less respect for a husband she can wear like a watchdog or dangle like a marionette.

Hummam. After all, we do celebrate things like National Dill Pickle Month. Why not set aside one measly week a year for husband worship? That would still leave us 51 weeks of wife worship—surely enough to keep any reasonable woman happy.

So, fired up with the heady prospects of launching America's first annual I Worship Your Husband Week, I broached the project to a guy I know whom everybody calls "the oldtimer." He is wise in the ways of marriage, a combat veteran scarred but unbroken by a 30-year tour of duty on the same matrimonial battlefield.

Somewhat to my surprise, the oldtimer, after listening to my proposal, immediately threw cold water on it.

"Son, I know it sounds like heaven," he said, "but that's why it won't work. You haven't thought this thing through. The wives would be fighting to show how much they worshipped their husbands. Every home soon would have a gilded bowl—something like the old shaving mug—inscribed, 'Dear Daddykins—His Toilette Bath.'

"Don't you think that's a bit overdrawn, oldtimer?"

"Not at all," he replied. "A Husband Worship Week would be one long hell. A man couldn't move. He'd be so smothered in feminine adulation he'd be like a fly in a barrel of molasses. And that's the way his wife would like to have him."

"Son, when you worship something, it becomes your prisoner. Nothing with any sense really likes being worshipped. That's why women enjoy it. I fought my wife for 20 years before I found out the secret of how to beat her—which was, to worship her."

"I quit being her slave the day I told her I worshipped her. I've been telling her that ever since. When you keep telling a woman you worship her, she has to let you have your own way—for fear you'll stop telling her. If there's a slave in the family now, well—it ain't me."

That TV Tower Can Get You Killed

There is a new TV menace on the horizon and it is not to radio of newspapers but to human life.

As recently as Sunday a TV antenna got away from its handlers and toppled into a high voltage power line. Luckily, those hoisting the pole turned loose of everything when the thing got out of hand. On May 6, a young man lending a helping hand to friends who were raising a TV antenna pole was electrocuted when the structure fell into the electric line.

A couple of years ago, if my memory serves me correctly, several people miraculously escaped death and a trailer house was severely damaged by fire when a TV tower was raised right into a power line. The disturbance from this touched off such a violent electrical display that people for miles around thought that there had been a big explosion.

The easy days of radio may have posed a similar problem, then people thought that the way to pick up radio waves was to get the highest possible poles and stretch a wire between them. Later, built-in antennas became standard equipment.

TV, with its theoretically straight line projection, makes it generally advisable to have elevated antennae.

Moreover, TV sets seem to function better in many instances when the antennae is above surrounding obstacles which might provide a measure of interference.

But, developments indicate that this is not exactly a job for amateurs. The three cases mentioned involved people erecting their own facilities, and in all events probably without sufficient mechanical equipment to handle the weight.

This is not to say that professionals are not immune. One case on record involved erection of an antenna in such proximity to the power line that when the operator straddled the conductor. Fortunately, the line and the antennae didn't do any wobbling before the condition was discovered and corrected.

What can be done about it? The first inclination is to say that there ought to be a law—an ordinance, I don't know exactly what such a code should or could specify. More important than that, I don't know that you can make people be careful by statute unless you are in a position to control operating conditions.

Perhaps, the best thing is to appeal to everyone concerned to think of TV antennae and power lines in the same thought; to regard the antenna not as an innocent pole but as a potential death-dealing weapon; to call on the power company to cut a circuit, if there is the remotest possibility of contact, while the pole is being erected and secured. That old slogan—"It's better to be safe than sorry"—is still a mighty good one.

Running Car Ranch Is Big Chore

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you think you have troubles getting your jalopy started in the morning, consider Jim Ruman's chore. He has 150 ancient autos in his car, ranging back to an 1888 horseless carriage.

Jim is the transportation head at 20th Century-Fox. That means he must supply movies with cars, both antiquated and brand new.

The new cars are a cinch. Like several other studios, 20th has a "bump with a major auto firm, which provides new cars for virtually nothing. The car company figures that having its produce seen in big pictures is well worth the expense.

Old cars are easy for 20th, too, because the studio owns one of the biggest collections of antique autos in the world.

"Says Jim: 'It all started about 11 years ago when I took over the department. I like antiques and I thought we ought to start a collection of old autos.'"

"It turned out to be a good idea from the start. When I was in the Midwest, a woman in Ohio called me and said she had a 1902 Columbus which she had owned for 40 years. It still had the original top and paint on it. I bought it and had it shipped to Hollywood.

"When I got back, I picked up the script of 'Captain Eddie,' the Eddie Rickenbacker story. One scene had him working on a car in a horseless carriage factory around the turn of the century. The Columbus, which was built by the Columbus Buggy Co. and Harvey Firestone Sr., fitted perfectly."

The cars are listed in a file according to vintage, with a crossfile providing a picture and details. Usually the correct auto can be found in the studio's log sheet that houses the old-timers. A file is kept of nearby cars that can be rented from private owners.

Bud Anheuser of the transportation department displayed some of the antiques. "Maintenance is our principal problem," said Bud. "We used to just take the cars off once a week and fill the tires with air. But when we came to use them in a picture we still had to overhaul them completely. So now we just let 'em gather dust."

"Finding old parts is impossible, so we make our own. Our greatest problem is tires. We used to get the old-style tires from England, but they don't make them anymore. So we are forced to use modern kinds."

Critical Cold War Stage Coming Up

PARIS.—The most crucial stage of the "cold war" is just beginning. It is a struggle for the control of the continent of Europe, and the chances of Soviet Russia winning out in the end and forcing the United States troops to go home look brighter to Moscow than they have been at any time since World War II ended.

This is because the East holds the trump cards that can result in a neutralizing of Germany. Once that is accomplished, there is no place for six divisions or more of American troops to be stationed on the continent.

To understand the realistic situation here one must brush aside wishful thinking and realize that Soviet Russia has neutralized Austria as a clever step in a long-range offensive. Too many people, not only in Europe but in America, have been proceeding on a false assumption—namely, that the Kremlin really has been planning a military attack. The truth is the Soviet regime, after scaring the daylights out of the West, has always had in mind that popular governments are vulnerable and that by infiltrating them the rearmament of Germany could be prevented. They tried first to persuade the French Parliament, by means of their partisans inside France, that the European Defense Community Agreement was a mistake. Now that "accord" has been reached, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Communists are unfolding their new strategy with all the astuteness and diplomatic energy they can command.

A sensational move to woo Tito and cut off Yugoslavia from the West or at least to neutralize that important link in the defense chain has just been revealed and is causing consternation in Europe.

There is a report current in Central Europe that Tito already has surrendered to the Communist-controlled satellites a number of Communist refugees who in recent years crossed into Yugoslavia when they broke with the Moscow regime. It is pointed out that this is exactly the way Stalin acted when he surrendered German refugees as a preliminary to a deal with Hitler.

Italy is in the midst of a new crisis from which the Communists hope to profit, especially if a coalition with the left-wingers is formed. Likewise, in Britain, although the Conservatives expect to win the election, the ascending role of the Bevanites in leading the Socialist opposition may make life uneasy for American diplomats in the years that lie ahead.

The latest tactics also call for a reduction of armament inside Europe. This appeals to the pacifist-minded peoples and legislators in all countries. So there will be plenty of debate about this, with no real restriction on arms in the end. But the people of Germany in both the eastern and western areas will become aware that they are the pawns in a great game of chess. The more they listen to the arguments, the more inclined they will become toward neutralization.

While Chancellor Adenauer is in good health, he can prevent such a defeat for the Western Alliance but, even as he remains in power, he may find it difficult to prevent his Socialist opposition from arising with a new nationalism that may sweep the country. After all, the Germans do not want to see their country another battle ground, and they do want reunification at almost any cost. Also, the Soviets can hold out the bait of a restoration of some of the territory that now is held by Poland. For to achieve a neutralized Germany would be worth almost any price to the Kremlin.

Then the big tactics will emerge. The Moscow regime may be expected to announce that it will not attack France or Britain or use atomic weapons at any time against either nation if both those governments agree not to let the United States use bases on their respective territories from which atomic weapons can be launched against Soviet Russia. In other words, after the neutralization of Germany, the Communist objective will be to obtain, if possible, a declaration of neutrality from Britain and France.

The Soviets may never have intended to wage a "hot war," especially as they have always had the notion since Lenin's day that infiltration was easier and less expensive.

How can this be countered? Certainly not by "preventive war." It is a curious thing, but the pro-Communist letter-writers to the newspapers here always make the accusation that anyone who doesn't agree with the appeasement doctrines of the hour is necessarily inclined toward "preventive war."

Actually there is a third way, and it has been brilliantly set forth in a memorandum submitted to President Eisenhower by David Sarnoff, formerly a brigadier general on Mr. Eisenhower's staff when the latter commanded the Normandy invasion. It involves the effective use of moral force and of an enlightened public opinion to win the people behind the Iron Curtain.

For, though the Soviet government may have no military objective, it can prove arrogant and aggressive and bring on incidents and episodes that can drag the world into a war against its wishes.

There is a certain despondency here among diplomats who take a long look at the future. The need is for a stepped-up program in the "cold war" to hold Western Europe against the insidious forces which seek to use the wobbly parliaments to do their bidding. The coming conference "at the summit" could furnish the opportunity for an assertion of American moral force. The meeting should not be permitted to become a tool in the Kremlin's mechanism for winning control of the European continent.

Bright Boy Breaks Through IQ Tests

CLEVELAND (AP)—The parents of 12-year-old John Francis Schivell have a problem. Psychologists told them their son's level of intelligence is so high it can't be measured by standardized tests and most public schools are inadequate for his intellectual gifts.

A strapping 130-pounder who stands 5 feet 6, John is wrapped up in physics and mathematics and says he wants to become a "research scientist."

He is a freckle-faced bespectacled eighth-grader at suburban Maple Heights High School, where he gets straight A's.

Two years ago, during routine testing by Kent State University psychologists, testers said John "broke through the top of the Stanford-Binet Intelligence test."

In tests by the department of psychology of Western Reserve University, John attained a perfect score in such areas as language development, memory, ability to compare and contrast ideas and concepts and recognition of words, according to Dr. Corinne F. Baker, assistant clinical professor there.

The boy spends his spare time reading technical publications, studying foreign languages, and is currently absorbed in a biography of the late Albert Einstein.

Dr. Baker said:

"It is easily seen that John is out of place among boys of his own age. He has adult reading habits and is bored with school, because there is insufficient challenge."

Dr. Baker said John recorded the highest possible score of 190 in a series of IQ tests in which average children register in a range from 85 to 114.

John's father, a layout inspector in a factory, applied for a scholarship for the boy at a private academy, but says he cannot afford the $800 yearly cost for the boy's room, board and books.

Formosa Planes Run Into Red Fire

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese planes ran into Red anti-aircraft fire from the mainland and from warships while on patrol over Loyuan Bay near the Matsu Islands before dawn today, air force headquarters announced.

An undisclosed number of planes used radar to bomb the Communist craft in the darkness, the communiqué said. Results were not observed.

Loyuan Bay is 15 miles north of the Matsu Islands which lie close to the Communist coast 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

On Monday two Communist MIG fighter planes exchanged fire with two Nationalist propeller planes in the same area. On Sunday, 50 miles farther north, four MIGs fought a brief dogfight with four Nationalist Thunderjets over the Taitshan Islands.

Air force headquarters said there would be air raid drills on Formosa and the Pescadorees soon involving mock air attacks, anti-aircraft target practice, simulated fires and fires at sea.

The air force said one of its planes dumped 2 1/2 tons of anti-aircraft Kwangtung provinces of mainland China last night without incident.

Solon For Putting Off Chou Till After Big Four Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today any discussion with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai about relaxing tensions in the Far East should await a forthcoming top-level Big Four meeting.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he still favors a meeting with Chou despite conditions laid down by the Red Chinese leader early yesterday in renewing his offer to negotiate directly with the United States on Formosa.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), a Foreign Relations committee member, predicted, "There will not be any talks with Chou under the conditions he has laid down."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), another committee member, said in a separate interview he hopes this country will insist on the release of imprisoned American fliers and detained U. S. civilians before it agrees to any meeting.

Chou has said the Communists would not sit down with representatives of the Chinese Nationalists and would not give up their claims to Formosa. He repeated his demand for a Red Chinese seat in the United Nations.

Despite this, George said he believes there might be profit in talking with the Chinese Reds. He said in any such talks the United States would be mindful of the interests of the Chinese Nationalists.

News While It's News

People in the Big Spring area are receiving better news service than ever before—news on the day it's news—no "pre-date" editions—through 6 special motor routes maintained by The Herald. In the small communities, in the oil camps, on the farms, they're finding in The Herald a newspaper that publishes news of interest to them. West Texas oil, West Texas farming and ranching, West Texas sports, West Texas women's activities, West Texas happenings. That's the reason more and more people on these routes and in this area are saying "Leave us The Herald."

THE PAYOFF TO ADVERTISERS

This daily delivery, right to area homes, is "money in the bank" for the merchant who uses Herald advertising. No other medium, of any kind, anywhere, can reach the same people who are looking for better values, who want a good place to shop, and who turn to The Herald for their shopping guide. This is real benefit to Big Spring merchants who have a sales story to tell to the people in this area. The rural daily delivery is, of course, in addition to the 50 city route carriers who put the Herald every day, right at the door of nearly 6,000 Big Spring homes.

Boy Dragged To Death By Horse

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—A young couple watched helplessly yesterday while their 4-year-old son was dragged to death by a scared horse on a ranch west of here.

Daryl Sutton, foreman for the Ute Mountain Indian tribe at its Nelson Ranch, said he was saddling a horse and had his larrikin attached to the saddle horn and looped on the ground. The horse "spooked" and ran away.

Sutton's son Daryl David had his foot in the rope loop and was dragged about two-tenths of a mile around the pasture before the horse stopped.

Thieves Wheel Off With Armory Items

A tire, tube and wheel ensemble was stolen from a Jeep parked at the National Guard armory over the weekend, police were told. B. L. Eggleston, warrant officer, stated the tire size was 800 by 16.

Also stolen, according to police reports, were two light green screen doors. They were taken from a house belonging to Mutual Construction Company, 803 Wyoming.

Crushed By Machine

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Douglas John Redmond, 24, construction worker from Redmond, Wis., was crushed to death near here yesterday when run over by a 75-ton crane.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A little of music written by Franz Schubert.

A 15-year-old boy said to his younger sister:

"Kathy, will you please take that record off? I've been hearing it ever since I woke up!"

"I don't see why you should mind so much," replied the sister. "I have only played it about five times."

There is a stage in life when children seem to "discover" music in a special sense. Often this comes at the start of the teens. Even if they object to hearing the same record five or six times in succession, they may enjoy hearing their favorites at least two or three times before going on to some other piece.

The favorite pieces of teen-age boys and girls seem to be love songs. Someone loves someone else very much. He may love truly or deeply or with all his heart. Songs of this sort keep streaming from composers of popular music. Usually a song loses public favor after a few days or a few weeks.

Now and then a song remains popular for many years, becoming a classic. Good examples of such songs are those of Stephen Foster. He wrote "Old Black Joe," "Oh Susanna," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Foks at Home," and "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair."

Another great writer of songs was Franz Schubert, an Austrian who lived in Vienna during the first quarter of the last century. He felt that piano music should play an equal part with the singing voice.

Describing the music which Schubert composed, one critic said that his works for the piano show "the murmur of the brook, the rustling of the linden tree leaves, the gentle splash of the oars, the humming of the spinning wheel, the soft twanging of the guitar, yearning, love."

Franz Schubert lived only 31 years, but in his short career he produced more than 600 songs, including creations of rare beauty. Among his songs are "Who Is Sylvia?" and "Gretchen at the Spinning Wheel," also the groups of songs which go under the name of "Winter Journey" and "The Fair Maid of the Mill."

French Not What They Used To Be

PARIS (AP)—First it was Pierre Mendes-France and milk. Now Premier Edgar Faure is considering a plan aimed at converting wine-loving Frenchmen to unfermented fruit juices.

A series of suggested decrees designed to cut France's abnormally high consumption of alcohol was set for Cabinet consideration today.

Mendes-France, Faure's predecessor, ran into overwhelming opposition when he tried to make milk the national drink.

Faure's proposed decrees would: Compel big factories to distribute fruit juices free to their employees during hot weather.

Forbid the sale of alcoholic beverages in or near factories.

Grant tax exemptions to bars converting to soft drink parlors.

Cancel the license of any bar that goes bankrupt.

Cut the production of apples and pears for making fruit brandy by about a third during the next three years.

Provide that all persons arrested for crimes and misdemeanors and all persons involved in auto accidents be subjected to blood tests for alcohol.

Son's Trouble Was Too Much

OYSTER BAY COVE, N. Y. (AP)—On Monday, Ernest Woolard, well-to-do interior decorator, visited a funeral parlor. He said he wanted to arrange for a funeral for a member of the family who was near death.

He wrote down the precise cost of each item. He chose a simple pine casket, and listed the prayers to be said. He ordered the burial in a Washington, D. C., cemetery.

Then he went home and wrote a note to an old friend, Police Lt. C. Russell Hatf. It said, "You will find my body in the jeep in the garage in the event my wife doesn't find me first."

Woolard's wife found the body yesterday. The jeep was covered with a canvas, and a hose was rigged to the exhaust. Police ruled the death a suicide from Carbon monoxide.

Police said Woolard, 54, was dependent over his 18-year-old married son John, who is in jail on a near charge.

The youth was arrested last month on complaint of Maryanne Joyce, a pretty 20-year-old red-head from nearby Glen Cove. She said young Woolard sped her in his car after their second date.

Young Woolard was released on $5,000 bail posted by his father. But two weeks ago, police said, the youth grabbed his mother by the hair and ordered her to cook his breakfast.

The elder Woolard hit him on the head with a coffee pot. Then he went to Nassau County Court in Mineola and revoked the bail. The youth was rearrested and jailed.

DATE DATA

Keeping Promises

"An acre of performance is worth the whole world of promise." So said James Howell.

I'm not one to mope for the good old days, probably because I wasn't around then, but I have heard that a time was when a promise was a pretty important contract between people.

I'd like to see a day come when that would hold true again, and a man's word would be as good as his bond. Maybe I'm drunk on folklore, but I know for a fact that people could be educated to place more value on what they say.

What do you suppose it would be like, fellows, if instead of saying, "I'll be ready at seven," for once Margie really was? Girls, how would it seem if you could know that once a boy made a date he would keep it?

Wouldn't it be a surprising new world if our friends, just once remembered to return the quarter which they borrowed last term, or show up at school with the book they promised to lend us?

Promises are not only made and broken with the greatest of glibness, but frequently when the promiser decides not to keep his (or her) end of the bargain we are not even told.

Maybe you've had the experience of standing for half an hour on first one foot and then the other waiting for a pal to meet you for lunch on Saturday, only to discover later that a better offer came along at the last minute and your pal changed plans.

Speculating on what you might do is one thing; giving your word that you will do it is quite another. Your word represents you. When you make a promise, you put up a piece of your character as security, much as a man might put up his car for security when he borrows money from the bank.

If you are a person of conscience and integrity, placing value on your words, you will keep your promise regardless of all circumstance except perhaps dire emergency.

If you change your mind and call a king's X on your promise you forfeit that piece of your character which was put up for security and henceforth your word is of no more value than a stack of Confederate dollars. It will mean no more to your friends than a cardboard car offered to a bank official as security for a loan.

Truly a man's word is his bond. The fact that counts, is not that your promise was silly or unwise, but that having made it, you will stand by it.

Virgil wrote of someone, "He utters empty words; he utters sound without mind." Is that someone you?

Ladies Night At BS Park

Tonight will be Ladies Night at Steer Park, at which time Midland goes for its second straight win over the Big Spring Cosden Cops. Game time is 8 o'clock.

All ladies will be admitted to the park free of charge, with or without escort. Manager Pepper Martin was uncertain whom he would send to the hill, as the Cops try to snap their four-game losing skid. It could be Mike Rainey, who has won two games for the Bobbies.

Billy Capps, manager of the Indians, may counter with Lefty Julio Ramos, former Big Spring ace.

Gulf Coast Talks Down Additions

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—The four-member Gulf Coast Conference isn't talking about expansion, at least for the present. Conference officials, meeting here yesterday, put off talk of expansion and refused to comment on possible new members. McMurry and Howard Payne of the Texas Conference have asked to enter the loop.

Gulf Coast members are North Texas State, Midwestern, Trinity and Abilene Christian.

Conference president Dr. D. L. Ligon, who is Midwestern's chief administrative officer, said he would appoint a committee to study the league constitution and recommend changes. Such recommendations would be considered at a December meeting in Dallas.

The conference decided to hold the spring sports meet for track, golf and tennis at Denton next May.

The conference also put off selecting a new name. Ligon said it decided to retain "Gulf Coast" printed bulletins and brochures for the coming year mentioning the Gulf Coast Conference.

Corpus Expands Lead In League

By The Associated Press
The Big State League got in a complete schedule, Tuesday night for a change but things were as usual—leading Corpus Christi won again.

The Clippers beat Hartlingen 7-2 to increase their lead over second-place Port Arthur to six games.

Tyler moved into a tie with Galveston for third place as the Tigers helped Corpus Christi with an 8-2 triumph over Port Arthur.

Texas City trimmed Galveston 3-3 as Elmer Post posted his fifth pitching victory against no defeats.

Waco edged Austin 4-3 with Herman Cortes smacking a double with the bases full to drive in three runs in the eighth.

Villains Have Hands Raised In Triumph

The villains, Chris Belkas and Frankie Hill Murdock, made quick work of Frank Faketty and Maurice LaChappelle. In last night's Australian tag wrestling match at the Howard County Fair building.

The meemies were lent an assist by Referee Gene Detton, who disqualified Faketty after 16 minutes and awarded the first fall to Murdock and Belkas.

Belkas decided that was enough help and proceeded to throw Faketty with a slam and a body block for the second fall in 28 minutes.

In preliminary matches, Murdock was disqualified in a match with LaChappelle after 18 minutes while Faketty and Belkas went to a 20-minute draw.

San Angelo Gets Lefty Epperson

SAN ANGELO (SC)—The San Angelo Colts have purchased the contract of Lefty Marshall Epperson from Lubbock of the WT-NM League.

Several years ago, Epperson was a 20-game winner in the Longhorn League. He later was with the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League.

Texas City Winner Of Attendance Cup

FORT WORTH (AP)—Texas City is winner of the Big State League's opening day attendance trophy.

Texas City, which waited more than a month to play at home, drew 4,130 to take the A. H. Kirksey Award.

Kirksey, a Waco man, annually awards a trophy to the club drawing the biggest opening attendance.

Corpus Christi was second with 3,487 with Austin third with 2,818. The opening attendance for the eight cities totaled 21,485 this year—a gain of more than $5,000 over last year.

Willie Pep Goes Against Cadilli

DETROIT (AP)—"Old Man" Willie Pep, trodding the downhill path after a 16-year career in the boxer ring, fights a rematch tonight with young Gil Cadilli, an up-and-coming scrapper from Los Angeles.

The bout will be televised nationally on CBS at 9 p. m. EST. The oddsmakers have established Pep as an 8-5 favorite despite a loss to the 23-year-old Cadilli March 30 at Parks Air Force Base in California.

Waco edged Austin 4-3 with Herman Cortes smacking a double with the bases full to drive in three runs in the eighth.

Teen-Age Group Meets Thursday

Officials of the Teen-Age Baseball Association have called a meeting of players and their parents for Thursday evening at the Junior High Gymnasium, at which time plans for the coming season will be discussed. The convales gets under way at 8 o'clock.

A league for 13 and 14 year-olds is assured, Perry Johnson of the committee announced Tuesday and it appears likely that one for the 15-16 year bracket will function.

Present plans call for practice to begin about June 1 and the league to kick off its season on or about June 15.

The association now has about $1,500 in the till, raised through donations, and still needs about $1,000 to insure operation for the 1955 season.

At the park site, located just west of the present Little League park, grass is growing on the diamond and a backstop has been erected. Construction of a fence will start later. Most of the light fixtures are in hand.

The four sponsors for the 13-14 year league, as announced by Johnson, are the TAP employees, Daily Herald, Optimist Club and Knights of Pythias.

Two sponsors—the American Business Club and Coahoma—have been lined up for the 15-16 year group. Two more are needed.

Greason Tames Tabbies, 6-1

By The Associated Press
As the weather gets hot and the old soup bones become unlimbered, the Texas League returns to its tradition of being a pitcher's league.

Tuesday night only two games were played but the hurriers featured with a couple of the finest exhibitions of the young season.

Bill Greason's 6-hitter that edged Houston within a game of league-leading but idle San Antonio and Arnie Atkins' 3-hitter that entrenched Shreveport in fourth place.

Coahoma Is 3-2 Winner

COAHOMA, (SC)—Coahoma took undisputed possession of first place in Coahoma Softball League standings by nosing out the Cosden Oilers, 3-2, here Tuesday night.

Roy Overturf and Jim Ward divided time on the mound for Coahoma. Overturf and George Ray scored fifth inning runs that enabled Coahoma to win.

In the other game, the Webb Dusters trounced 61st Maintenance, 4-1.

A&M And SMU Dominate All-SWC Baseball Team

By The Associated Press
Champion Texas A&M and runner-up Southern Methodist dominate the All-Southwest Conference baseball team selected by the coaches.

The Aggies placed five men on the squad while Southern Methodist came up with four. Baylor three, Texas two and Texas Christian one. Rice, the other member of the conference playing baseball, failed to land a man.

Jimmy Williams, catcher and Joe Hardgrove, pitcher, were unanimous choices from Texas A&M. Tommy Bowles, pitcher, and Danny Brown, second baseman, of Southern Methodist, got all the votes. The other unanimous pick was Les Mattinson, Texas Christian's brilliant outfielder.

The all-conference team: Jimmy Williams, A&M, catcher; Stuart Benson, Texas, catcher; Tommy Bowers, SMU, pitcher; Joe Hardgrove, A&M, pitcher; Tommy Jungman, Texas, pitcher; Jimmy Payne, SMU, first base; Danny Brown, SMU, second base; Jerry Dykeman, Baylor, third base; Joe Schero, A&M, third base; Wayne Connally, Baylor, shortstop; Bob Boggan, SMU, utility infielder; Les Mattinson, TCU,

Brull, Indians Win Over Cops, Art DiCesare

The Big Spring Cosden Cops got a route-going job out of a pitcher for the third time since May 4 last night at Steer Park but to no avail as Midland poured salt into the wounds of the locals in winning a 6-4 verdict.

Art DiCesare, up for Big Spring, perhaps deserved a better fate. His gates could get the best hits and scoring opportunities but again they fell down on the job of getting them across the plate.

In all, the Bobbies left 14 runners stranded, at least one in every inning but the fourth.

Ten of the Big Springers bit the dust as result of strikeouts and a double killing erased another threat.

Midland wasn't any great shakes as a clutch hitting club—the Warriors left 11 men stranded—but once they had to knuckle down, they did it.

Newton Blanchard's eighth triple with Al Jiminez and Rudy Briner aboard gave the Indians the runs they needed. Billy Capps added an insurance tally in the ninth when he clubbed a home run over the right field barrier.

DIAMOND DUST—The Cops sent two pinch hitters in to bat after Martin and Tom Costello had walked in the ninth but the first, Jim Barr, looked at a third strike, and the second, Mike Rainey, rolled out to the second baseman . . .

Bob Kennamer, the Cop shortstop, caught center fielder Don Deckman playing too shallow in the seventh and almost hit the ball over his head . . . Deckman made a long run to gather in the fly . . . The wind was frigid and sent many of the spectators hurrying home before the game ended . . . Each of the hurriers committed two wild pitches . . . DiCesare's won-lost record is now 4-3 . . . Billy Capps, the Midland hurler, had Julio Ramos down to pitch last night but Ramos said he didn't feel well.

The Big Spring Country Club will be the scene Thursday of a West Texas Pro-Am Tournament. C. A. DeWees will be the host pro.

Professional and amateur linksters from over a wide area are due to play here, provided the weather is decent.

The firing gets under way around 10 a.m. and will continue until about 2 p.m.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tammy Hart

Though attendance has been fairly substantial over the league, the Longhorn League has problems that could well 'do it' in its days of crisis are just ahead.

Two of the clubs in the circuit (the towns you'd consider least likely to pull the trick) haven't yet sent in their league tax and the organization's treasury is setting on 'empty.' Since umpires are paid out of the treasury, you couldn't expect the poor guys to work after pay day, unless some one puts something in the pot.

The league could use more vigorous leadership. Peck Cunningham, no doubt, is a fine fellow but whether he's the man for the job remains to be proved. To his credit, he didn't want the position in the first place. It was forced on him.

Look for a football resurgence at Vernon.

The school board there is sparing no expense to give the Lions the best coaching talent and the Quarterback Club is building a record membership, profiting by the experience gained here, which showed once again that a live-wire following can do much to improve the incentive of the boys themselves.

As a matter of fact, the local Quarterback Club is serving as a model for quite a few booster organizations in the area.

Praise comes after appraisal because, to date, there has been no evidence of head-hunting in the ranks of the Quarterbackers. May its aims and ambitions always be as unselfish.

The Big Spring High School footballers couldn't have picked two better boys to lead them next fall than Jerry Graves and Jerry Barron.

The pair will set the example by 'doing.' Both have great 'desire.' They respect training rules. Each is a splendid athlete. And, obviously, each is popular with his teammates.

Good-natured Jerry Graves takes a lot of ribbing from his buddies. When the chips are down, though, they count on him. He has a great talent for 'smelling out a play,' as the saying goes, and arriving at the right place at precisely the right time.

Jerry Barron is dead serious every minute he's on a football field. He doesn't have the crunching power of a Prosty Robison but, to make up for it, he cuts on a dime and keeps those legs moving like pistons.

More important still, perhaps, he 'hits someone' every time on his blocking assignment, even if he is being used as a decoy. And there is no more tenacious defensive player to be found than Barron.

No football team in the Southeastern Conference can boast of a current winning streak of more than seven straight games.

The hole-in-one made by Porky Blocker last week was not only his first but the first ever made on Stanton's Country Club links.

As happens many times, Blocker thought he had lost the ball and looked in the hole as a last resort.

Only two favorites (Citation in 1948 and Hill Gall in 1952) have won the Kentucky Derby in the past dozen years and Ben Jones trained both of those.

Now Jones is quitting the game to work on his farm near Parnell, Mo.

It's no trade secret that George S. May runs his fabulous Tam O'Shanter golf tournament in Chicago to promote his business, which is business engineering.

As May puts it, he "helps American business secure greater profits."

May's points with pride to the fact that since 1925 business men have paid his company over $74 millions for "counsel and action."

Seven different businesses in Big Spring have been clients of the fellow who stages the world's richest golf tournament annually.

If the Big Spring Couden Corp. continue at their present rate, they're apt to set a new Longhorn League record for strikeouts.

Local players have looked at third strikes three times as frequently as Hobbs' athletes.

Right now, 17 pitchers have won four or more (a year ago there were 13) and they've had help from the rest to give the majors a total of 39 shutouts to date. In each of the past three seasons there were only 35 scoreless performances on record at this stage.

Thirty-two pitchers have figured in the whitesashings, and 13 shutouts have come in the past week—including Don Newcombe's one-hitter at Chicago and Sad Sam Jones' no-hitter against Pittsburgh.

There were three shutouts last night. Rookie Larry Jackson put the collar on National League leading Brooklyn at St. Louis in a 3-0 Cardinal victory. In the American League, Alex Kellner gave the Kansas City Athletics a 3-0 triumph for the New York Yankees against the Chicago White Sox.

Only two other National League games were played. Milwaukee took over second place, eight games behind the Brooks, by beating New York's Giants 9-4. Cincinnati made it six straight defeats for Pittsburgh 9-2. Cold weather s h e l v e d Philadelphia's game at Chicago.

In the American, Boston knocked off Cleveland 10-3 and Baltimore beat Detroit 3-2.

Jackson's no-run job on Brooklyn gave St. Louis its third white-wash victory in four games. The Brooks tagged the young right-hander for 10 hits, but when the chips were down, Jackson went to a curve ball and found the answer.

Home runs by Red Schoendienst and Ken Boyer gave it to the Cards, who got nine hits off Carl Erskine, losing his first in six decisions, and Jim Hughes. The Cards moved up from fifth into a two-percentage-point edge over the fourth-place Giants.

At New York, Ford duelled with Billy Pierce for seven innings before claiming his third shutout of the season and fifth victory. Pierce blew it in the sixth when he walked Mickey Mantle and Mel Berra. After a double steal attempt that moved Mantle to third but nipped Yost at second, Pierce walked Elston Howard. Then Eddie Robinson's infield grounder brought the run home without a hit.

Kansas City managed just six hits off Maury McDermott, but got home in front on the Washington lefty's lone walk, a sacrifice and a single by Kellner in the fifth.

Fry Fallica, the ex-Brooklyn right-hander, gave up six hits to the Tigers, but not more than one in any inning. Billy Cox, another former Dodger, homered for the Orioles.

At Milwaukee, the Giants' Don Mueller saw his 24-game hitting streak stopped, settling for a tie for the club's record.

LAMESA LL Play Is Curtailed

LAMESA — The Lamesa Little League season got under way on schedule here last night, but the weatherman won the second game.

Lions defeated the Rotary 13-1 in the opening round after County Judge Aubrey Boswell had tossed out the first ball. Jaycees and Kiwanis-sponsored teams had hardly got going in the second game when rain called a halt.

British Fans' Cry Of Foul One Sad Feature Of Fight

NEW YORK — The one sad feature of an otherwise surprisingly fine heavyweight fight is the fact that Rocky Marciano is being portrayed to British fans as a "dirty fighter" who employed back-alley tactics to defeat their game champion Don Cockell.

Did they wish to be completely honest with their public, the dozen war correspondents who accompanied Cockell from London to San Francisco could have cabled home that the world champion fought a rough fight, as he always does. To say that the Rock is a dirty fighter is to distort the truth, or to display a vast ignorance of the boxing game.

Over a long period we have known and watched more than a few fighters who were mean, ornery and crafty, both inside and outside the ring. A few of them might have been described as vicious. Marciano is none of these. He is a gentleman of impeccable habits, who wants to win a fight as quickly and decisively as possible.

But for his rushing, crowding, ever-swinging style, Rocky never could have been a champion. With his short arms and lack of height, the boy from Brockton was never cut out to be a fancy dan. He had to get in where he could maul an opponent ceaselessly and never permit him to rest an instant and eventually slug him silly.

By the very nature of his head-on attack, the Rock is almost certain to fracture a small rib now and then, as he did against the bulbous Briton. But no one who has been around the modest champ for more than five minutes, and wishes to be entirely fair, is going to accuse him of deliberately cutting the corners to achieve a victory. If the British people come out of this believing their man was done in by foul tactics, they deserve better.

Gainey Signed To Attend UT

COLORADO CITY — Hollis (Hoss) Gainey, 19-year-old Colorado City flash, has signed a letter of intent with the University of Texas for a four-year track scholarship.

Gainey took first place in the 100 and 220 dashes at the state meet in Austin this year.

Gainey was all-district and all-state in football during the '54 grid season, scoring 150 points and averaging 9.3 yards per carry during twelve games — which included two playoff games. He does not expect to play football at Texas.

With Gainey will go Billy Williams, all-district quarterback of the 1954 squad. Williams does not go on an athletic scholarship, but says he plans to try out for baseball. The two Colorado City boys plan to be roommates at the university.

Bulldogs Meet Eagles Today

ABILENE (SC) — The bi-district schoolboy baseball championship will be determined at 3 o'clock here this afternoon, when Midland of 3-AA taglies with Abilene of 4-AA.

Abilene opened the series by blanking Midland Tuesday, 4-0, behind the three-hit hurling of H. P. Hawkins.

Midland had defeated Abilene earlier in Midland, 3-0.

The third game was billed for last night but rain moved in and caused the postponement.

Big Leaguers Authorize A Survey Of Own Problems

NEW YORK — Major league baseball, figuring it may be too close to the woods to see the trees, has turned to a private research firm to get the lowdown on what's going on in its own back yard.

Commissioner Ford Frick announced a plan yesterday which will survey baseball's current problems for the purpose of "keeping up with the times and getting our house in order."

As outlined by Frick, the research firm, Stephen Fitzgerald Co., Inc., of New York, will analyze such pressing problems as radio-television, major-minor league relations, the feasibility of expanding falling game attendance, unpopular legislation, relations between front office and player and front office and the press.

Frick said a preliminary report may be ready for the club owners' summer meeting in July.

"There has been a lot of loose talk," said Frick, "regarding the effect radio-TV has had on baseball attendance, both in the majors and the minors. There has been all sorts of guesswork regarding the length of games. Do the fans prefer shorter games? What effect do long games have on attendance? What about television? Nobody really knows the answers. Now, for the first time, we are making a concentrated effort to get the facts so we can establish policies."

Host Pro

C. A. DeWees (above) will be the host pro at Thursday's pro-am golf tournament, scheduled to be held at the Big Spring Country Club, starting at 10 a.m. The meet is expected to attract linksters from throughout the area.

Pitchers May Take Charge In Big Show

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

From the looks of the past seven days, this may turn out to be a pitcher's year in the major leagues — their first since 1951.

It's been four years since the pitchers got together and confronted the hitters with as many as 15 guys who won 20 or more. Since then the hurlers with the whammy have fallen off to six in '52, eight in '53 and six again last season.

Right now, 17 pitchers have won four or more (a year ago there were 13) and they've had help from the rest to give the majors a total of 39 shutouts to date. In each of the past three seasons there were only 35 scoreless performances on record at this stage.

Fans Mix It Up As Aggies Defeat Texas Longhorns

The Southwest Conference baseball race was at an end Wednesday with Texas A&M holding the championship and a decision being made on when its playoff with Arizona for an NCAA tournament spot will start.

The Aggies wound up with 13 victories against only two losses in conference play Tuesday as they best Texas 7-4. A&M also made its season record 19 victories against only five defeats.

Del Morgan, Rice baseball coach who is chairman of the district NCAA selection committee, said arrangements would be made Wednesday for the playoff with Arizona, Border Conference champion.

They had to call the cops at Austin to put down fist fights among the fans while the Aggies were beating arch rival Texas in the closing game. There were 6,000 fans present and tempers were on edge.

On the field, however, the boys just played baseball, the Aggies doing it a little better than the Longhorns. A 5-run blast in the seventh gave the Aggies their victory.

Inheritance Tax Bill Would Hit 4 Big Estates

AUSTIN — Four big estates will have to pay the state a total of $54,231 inheritance tax under an amendment Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene put on an exemption bill now in the House.

The bill would exempt from inheritance taxes the money will be used for charitable, relief and educational organizations. As passed by the Senate, it is retroactive to except those estates which have been assessed but where the tax has not been paid.

Latimer said the four big estates in this category and the amount of tax involved are the estates of the late Thomas E. Braniff of Dallas, $196,247; Bess Thurman Braniff, Dallas, $192,639; Godchaux A. C. Hall, Bexar County, $215,439; and Ellamse Kilpatrick, Bexar, $49,844.

Latimer argued in presenting his amendment that the retroactive proposition is unconstitutional and that it was not right to deprive the state of this income.

Five Airmen Hurt In Wreck Still Are Hospitalized

Condition of five Webb airmen injured in wreck early this week was unchanged at Air Force hospitals in San Antonio, San Angelo and Big Spring today.

Two of the men, air evacuated from San Angelo to the Lackland hospital at San Antonio, are in critical shape. They are Antonio Duenas and Donald L. Sesholt.

Rains Create New Jobs Here

The re-occurrence of moisture in the area has stimulated the employment situation, according to Leon Kinney, the manager of the Texas Employment Commission office said he had more positions open than he had qualified job applicants.

There are several positions open for farm families, Kinney said, and especially those with experience. One local concern is looking for a guard, but the applicant must be a disabled veteran with a "ten-point" preference.

Other positions open are for insurance salesmen, stenographers, salesladies, a telephone solicitor, housekeepers, an experienced bookkeeper-typist, and waitresses, carboys, and soda fountain help.

Howard County Junior College and high school graduates should stop by the office, too, Kinney said. Many positions are available for them.

Back From Outing

Roy Black and Dick Clifton have returned from a three-day outing at Concha Lake near Tucuman, N. M. They were guests of the Prudential Life Insurance Company by reason of both having won the rating of outstanding production for April in the President's Campaign.

HOBBY

Hobby flew to Houston earlier this week to be with him.

The President also dealt with these other topics:

VA CINE SUPPLY — Eisenhower said his information is that the supply of Salk vaccine on hand or in sight is enough to take care of the program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. That program is to provide vaccine free to first and second graders.

Eisenhower said that if the first and second shots for these children cannot be completed by the time school lets out, arrangements probably will be made for inoculations during their summer vacation.

BIG FOUR — The President said some item of good might result if he could sit down and talk at the proposed top-level Big Four conference with Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Russia's defense minister. Eisenhower and Zhukov developed a personal friendly relationship when they headed occupation forces in Berlin at the end of World War II.

In reply to a question, the President said he did not know whether Zhukov would be a member of the Russian delegation.

Eisenhower indicated he certainly would not suggest that Zhukov be included because of the protocol in the situation.

Premier Bulganin would represent Russia at a top level Big Four meeting.

The President disclosed, at a recent news conference, that he and Zhukov had been in private correspondence. Eisenhower said at the time it held some slim hope of leading to better relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said today there has been no further exchange of correspondence between him and Zhukov. And in reply to a question, he said he had no plans at the moment for writing Zhukov again.

Restricting Bill Fails By 4 Votes

AUSTIN — The precinct redistricting amendment failed again in the House Tuesday by four votes. It received 96 when it had to have 100 to pass the House on final reading. Thirty-eight votes against it. The other 62 voted which would have the same as a "ballot."

Rep. Louis Anderson, its author, and Reps. Truett Latimer of Abilene and J. W. Cooper of Corpus Christi, leaders in the long and futile fight for the reform measure, may keep it alive, but hope for it this session has just about faded.

Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo, who has been the most active foe of the measure during repeated debates on it, took the lead again Tuesday and made three speeches against it during the hour and half it was under consideration.

The redistricting proposal was watered down considerably during the morning in an effort to make it more attractive to the minority which has been blocking passage.

Cooper offered and Anderson accepted an amendment which would require 25 per cent of the voters in the last general election would have to petition for an election on redistricting. Originally that figure was 10 per cent. Anderson said he accepted this so a few "soreheads" couldn't force an election.

Another Cooper amendment provided the distribution of population within precincts would be from 10 to 30 per cent. Originally it was to be 40 per cent. This would mean, Cooper said, would help overcome the objection that "city folks wanted to run things."

The West Texas vote on the final passage was as it was before. All West Texans supported it except Stroman, Cloud of Rule, Briscoe of Uvalde, Allison of Mineral Wells and Burkett of Kerrville.

Rep. Jerry Sadler of Hickory Grove joined Stroman, speaking repeatedly against amendments and against the bill as a whole. Both Sadler and Stroman waved telegrams they said were from Anderson's home town, Midland, against the amendment. Sadler named writers of some of the opposition telegrams as Roy Park, Leonard Proctor, Clarence Scarbauer and other Midland folk.

Road-E-O Tests Set For Thursday

Jack Everett, driver education teacher, will give the tests at Junior High, and Sgt. Charles Marshall will give the Webb tests.

Tests at the Chamber office are to be at 4:30 p.m. and high school students are to join junior college applicants for the test.

Audit Of City's Records Starts

The review of the city's financial record began about a week ago, and it should be completed this month. Price which the City Commission agreed to pay for the audit is $5 per hour for a C.P.A. per hour for an assistant accountant, and $3 per hour for other assistants.

Those assisting Hilliard in the task are Bernie E. Freeman and William Wharton.

Salvation Army Girl Auxiliary Marks 39th Anniversary Here

Girl Guides, a young adjunct to the Salvation Army, are observing their 39th anniversary with a round of activities this week. Starting with the wearing of the official uniform Monday and consideration of the Guides' gift to the Salvation Army leper colony in India, the girls will be engaged in specific assignments through Sunday when they will have charge of all SA-worship services. The Guides came into being in England and spread to America and thence into other countries of the world. The (Mohawk) troop here consists of 29 members plus leaders, and a Sunbeam group that has 20 girls of 6 to 10 years. Membership is open to any girl with the only requirement she attend some church regularly. Tuesday was given over to visitation of invalids and absentees. Wednesday was center on letter writing to Guides in foreign lands to promote international friendship. Thursday will see the girls planting flowers around the Dora Roberts Citadel. Friday they will go to Buffalo Lakes southeast of Lubbock to join with those from Lubbock, Littlefield, and Plainview in a camp-out and hike. Upon return here Saturday they will write cards to missionaries over the world. Beverly McNew, patrol leader and who also serves as the Sunbeam leader, will be in charge of the Sunday school. Mrs. Georgia Halford will supervise the holiness meeting at 11 a.m. Theme of the meeting will be "What Art We Like?" At 6:45 p.m. Nella Morrell will be in charge of the young people's meeting and the topic will be "My Jesus I Love Thee." Peggy Hart will be in charge of the open air meeting at Walgreen Drug at 7:30 p.m., speaking on "Service." Josie Moore, troop chaplain, will lead in the 8 p.m. citadel service, "Linking the World to the Cross."

Theme for the week is "Trails to Service" and promotes the idea of service in the troop, home, school, community, country, church and world. All girl leaders are first class Guards and Miss Moore holds the General's Award, second highest available. Lt. Elaine Hall is troop leader, and assisting are Mrs. Beryl Kirby, Mrs. Georgia Halford. Examiners are Mrs. Ella Moore and Mrs. Elsie Weeks. A week hence the Guides will go in a body to junior high graduation since two troop members are candidates.

4 U. S. Thunderjets Land After Record Long Flight

NEW CASTLE, Australia (U.P.)—Four U. S. Thunderjets landed here today, completing a record nonstop Tokyo-to-Australia flight in 12 hours 2 minutes. The speedy single-engine fighters each capable of carrying an atomic bomb, refueled in the air three times during their 4,840-mile hop—over Guam, Manus Island and Townsville, Australia. The flight, part of a U. S. Air Force good will mission to Australia, extended the nonstop over-water record for single-engine jets by 335 miles. Col. David Shilling set the previous mark of 4,485 miles in 1953 on a flight from Turner Air Force Base, Ga., to North Africa. The F84s set down at the Royal Australian Air Force Base here at 5:32 p.m. Australian time. Newcastle is 60 miles north of Sydney, on Australia's southwest coast. The flight had left Yokota air base, near Tokyo, in balmy spring weather, but landed here in the Southern Hemisphere's May autumn. The flight was led by Col. Harold M. McClelland, Avon Park, Fla. He was the first man to land. The other three pilots, in order of landing, were 1st Lt. Gerald J. Robinson, Carbondale, Pa.; Lt. Col. Virgil K. Moroney, Pine Bluff, Ark.; and 1st Lt. William E. Miller, Columbus, Ohio. Lt. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, commander of the 5th U. S. Air Force in Japan, said the flight "shows the U. S. Air Force's capability to move its jet fighters both for concentration and attack." There were originally six planes including two alternates in case of trouble, when the flight left Yokota. One, piloted by 1st Lt. Wilford R. Ladd, Georgetown, Ky., put back after it developed fuel trouble about 100 miles out. Ladd parachuted safely from his plane before it crashed near Nagoya, Japan. Japan's Kyodo news agency said he was hospitalized by Japanese authorities although he was not seriously hurt.

Seamen Leave Crippled Ship

LONDON (U.P.)—Eleven Dutch seamen jumped to safety today from the plunging deck of a crippled freighter as blinding May gales lashed the English Channel and the North Sea. Dozens of small ships scuttled for shelter in the channel ports. The liner Queen Mary docked 12 hours late from New York after finding at anchor throughout the night. The Ramsgate lifeboat rescued the 11 Dutchmen from the 300-ton coaster Urmajo as it wallowed aground on the treacherous Goodwin Sands. One man, buried against a scalding steam pipe in the storm, was burned badly on the hands. Island driving rain, snow blizzards and biting winds brought wretched conditions to much of Britain.

Ad Executive Wins GOP Mayoralty Bid

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—W. Thacher Longstreth, a 34-year-old advertising executive, won the four-sided Republican mayoralty nomination battle in Philadelphia yesterday in Pennsylvania's relatively quiet primary election. The 6-foot-6, bespectacled former naval intelligence officer will run in November against veteran campaigner Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic nominee. This is Longstreth's first try for public office. Dilworth, an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate five years ago and former district attorney, had an easy time defeating William A. Paschall, wholesale meat dealer who ran with no visible means of political support. Democratic incumbent Joseph S. Clark Jr., a potential senatorial candidate next year, declined to run again. Longstreth scored an 8.5 victory over his nearest opponent George P. Williams III, a 35-year-old former deputy attorney general. Magistrate James J. Clothier and Oscar H. Newman trailed. The lack of a race of statewide interest kept the primary vote down to an estimated 35 to 40 per cent of the 274,322 Republicans and 2,110,648 Democrats eligible to vote. Complete unofficial returns gave Longstreth 81,485; Williams 53,728; Clothier 44,177 and Newman 6,557. Dilworth received 83,617 and Paschall 5,815. The voting was the first step in the buildup for the 1956 presidential campaign. Observers noted with interest the endorsement by GOP National Chairman Leonard

Hall of Longstreth as the first step in GOP efforts to return Philadelphia and Pennsylvania to the party fold after the Democratic sweep of state offices last November. The balloting gave no indication of a trend of approval or opposition to the first four months of Democratic Gov. George M. Leader's state administration. Elsewhere in the state the organization-slanted candidates came through as expected with few exceptions.

Really Got His Teeth Into It

OKLAHOMA CITY (U.P.)—Mrs. Loretta Bonner, a teacher at Taft Junior High School, noticed one of her students struggling with a piece of candy he was chewing. "Either swallow the candy or toss it in the wastepaper basket," she advised the youth. "Can't," said the lad. "The candy is stuck between my teeth." Jokingly Mrs. Bonner told the youngster: "Well, fess your teeth in the basket with the candy." The boy took out his teeth and threw them into the basket. He had a complete upper plate.

A Little On The Cool Side

By The Associated Press
 It was little on the cool side for mid-May today with frost threatened for many northern areas from New England westward across New York state and the Great Lakes. Temperatures in the cool belt were in the 30s over wide areas and below freezing in some sections. Generally fair weather prevailed and some warming was in prospect. Wet weather continued during the night over the Great Plains from Texas north to Nebraska. Heaviest rain fell in Nebraska and western Kansas, with more than 1 1/2 inches at Dodge City, Kan. A heavy downpour struck 30 miles north of Lubbock, Tex., and dumped an unofficial 6 inches of rain. Hail and tornado winds hit areas in Texas and Kansas yesterday but no injuries were reported. Damage was light. Only other wet spots early today were in the Southeast, which reported scattered showers, and in the Central Plateau region, where light rain fell.

Pinch-Penny Nevada Is Taught Lesson

RENO, Nev. (U.P.)—The state of Nevada, which thinks it knows how to pinch pennies, got a lesson from wealthy New York yesterday. Letters received by the Nevada Tax Commission from the New York Department of Taxation and Finance were enclosed in envelopes printed nearly a quarter of a century ago. They still listed Alfred E. Smith as governor, although he left office in 1928.

Bomb Threat Cools

SPOKANE, Wash. (U.P.)—Police hurriedly evacuated 1,300 persons from the 470-room Danpen Hotel Spokane's largest, last night after an anonymous bomb threat. The guests were allowed to return to the hotel about an hour later when no bomb was found.

Twister Didn't Phaze This Man

CHILLICOTHE, Tex. (U.P.)—Police Chief Henry Bunch said a small twister overturned a car on a rural road near here last night but that nobody was injured. Said Bunch: "The man, I don't know who he was, just drove his car out of the field and went on his way."

To Be Readmitted

TITUSVILLE, Pa. (U.P.)—The School Board has agreed to let 17-year-old Mrs. Nancy L'Hullier Sutton, expelled from school because of her marriage, earn her diploma. She'll be allowed to take final examinations, although not attending classes, and will get her diploma if she passes. Her parents have threatened to take court action to permit her to graduate.
