

Wartes Says District May Hinge On Hereford-Dumas Game

By MARSHALL DAY
Sports Editor

Larry Wartes, head football coach and athletic director, looks rather optimistically toward the upcoming football season which gets underway Friday in Pampa, and believes that the outcome of a single game could determine the district's representative.

Wartes, in speaking of the Nov. 21 clash between the Whitefaces and the Dumas Demons, says that, though the game itself will not mean the winner will represent the district, it will have a significant bearing on the entire district race.

With 10 lettermen returning for the 1969 campaign, Wartes and his coaching staff feel that they have the material to be a competitor for the district crown. Though having lost their entire offensive team, the Whitefaces have several boys who saw action both ways on last year's district representative team which fell to Kermit in the district playoffs, and the boys are expected to be the nub which the coaching staff is setting their hopes around.

Our last game here, which is the Dumas game, is the one that could decide the outcome of the district," Wartes commented, "but take for example, if we lost a game in district and so did others at just the right time, it could still go down to that final game against Dumas. It could very easily come to a three, or even a four-way tie, but I don't think it will."

Dumas, posing the greatest threat to the Whiteface bid for a second straight shot as a district representative, returned eight offensive and seven defensive regulars from last year's poorest showing by a Dumas team in recent years.

Sporting an impressive 79-12-3 record since their debut in AAA football, the Demons have never been deprived of at least a share of the title crown. To make the picture even rosier this year, the Demons return their entire backfield which includes Bobby Laughry, one of the most talked-about quarterbacks in the country.

Laughry, who led the Demons in their 13-6 conquest of the Whitefaces in last year's title game, returns as a junior this year and has the backing to give the other teams in the district something to look out for. Backing him up will be half back Armando Casas who will be starting this third year as a Dumas back.

Hoping to counteract the Dumas drive, Wartes and his staff are putting a great deal of hope on the Whiteface defense which returns almost intact. Last season, the same bunch of boys allowed only 26 points to be scored against them in district warfare after suffering through five pre-conference games.

"We should be as good, on an equal basis, as we were a year ago," Wartes says, "but our strength this year will be in our number, depth, and size."

We even have depth in our backfield, which will be a great asset," he adds.

Where the defense proves itself out as far as size, strength and depth goes, Wartes is pessimistic about the speed which is lacking from the offense and defense. He feels that while size may be an asset, it could prove to be a liability this year and he is hoping that lack of quickness does not hinder the defense and keep it from being as solid as is expected. A staunch believer in defense being the key to a game, Wartes looks at a rather dim future unit which is lacking in experience. Only two of the defensive players saw action on offense last season, and the Whiteface mentors are having their problems finding proper fittings for the vacated holes. Several of the defensive players are expected to see action both ways this year in an offense which will be similar to the one used in the 1968 campaign.

"We will run the Wing T, but of course, we like to consider ourselves a multiple offense team," the head coach commented. "We will have to try ourselves first to see which type of offense we best adapt to, then settle down to using it. We will be going to the air more this year, though we don't have a quarterback that is well drilled in everything and don't have the time to develop one right now."

Injuries early in the season last year, which took a big chunk out of the team, are being sparred with rather lightly this year, Wartes explained, in that workouts are not being rushed as they were a year ago. And, as far as this season is going, injuries are down considerably over the past.

Another factor which is hoped will play an important role in the season is the new football stadium.

The stadium, which will seat over 5,000 people, is considered by many to be one of the most outstanding, and comfortable stadiums, in the Panhandle. Wartes hopes that it will have a great effect on football in the community and will ready the facilities for a better athletic program in the future, Wartes says.

In looking to the season's schedule, Wartes seems to think that each team the Whitefaces encounter this year will be an improved squad. Pampa, for instance, has had dry years since they went to AAAA classification, but this could be one of their better years as they come back with a solid number of boys who played for them last season.

When Pampa began the season last year, their coach was playing 11 players on offense and a completely different 11 on defense. Through this system, they will have a good many returnees with a year of experience, and Wartes feels that they will be a much better team this year.

"Pampa has a tradition," Wartes pointed out, "because not too many years ago, they were one of the better teams in the Panhandle. Now, their coach is trying to develop a winning attitude in a town that is down."

Changes in offense and defense will make a considerable amount of difference in this year's edition of the Harvesters. After a year of conditioning in the tough AAAA district, it will be hard to tell just what effect last year had on the players, but it is expected to be for the better. They are expected to throw the ball as they did last year against the Whitefaces, then add a little spice with a more improved running game.

Plainview, rated to take the South Zone title in the 4-AAA district then the district title itself, will be the second opponent of the year for the Whitefaces, and after smashing the locals 38-0 last year, they are expected to be even more powerful this year with 19 lettermen back. The 19 lettermen include seven offensive and seven defensive starters from last year's 7-3 squad and their entire awesome backfield will return in depth.

New "Ironside" Bus Rolls, So Do 72-Passenger Jobs

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

A 48-passenger bus designed especially for the orthopedic handicapped students of the Hereford Independent School District has been received and placed into service, according to administrative assistant Tom Harkey, who also revealed that the students who are riding this bus "are having a ball with it."

Harkey demonstrated the special education bus and its unusual "loading" feature at La Plata Junior High School Friday morning.

It has a hydraulic lift — similar to the one used by Raymond Burr on TV's "Ironside" — which is used for the entrance and exit of the four local students in wheelchairs. Other students are permitted to use the regular door beside it.

Ordered early this year along with four new 72-passenger buses — which were received by the schools at the beginning of the semester — the "Ironside" bus is an entirely new idea here.

Harkey said, "The kids who ride this bus are the ones who are accustomed to riding school buses throughout their scholastic careers — most of them have to ride in order to attend school. When this type of bus was recommended to the board of trustees, they agreed it was a good idea and approved the order. It has certainly made the kids happy — and we are all happy about it too."

He reported there are four other orthopedic handicapped students who do not now use the new bus, that they are transported to school in private conveyances. "But the four kids who do ride the bus really get a charge out of it!"

"Ironside" bus driver and attendant are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Roland — who are also enjoying its operation as much as the students, Harkey reported. Mrs. Roland stays inside and moves the students onto the lift. Roland then lowers the lift to ground level and moves the student into the building for classroom studies.

Car-Pedestrian Accident Claims Resident's Life

Emmett L. Pyka, 80, of 317 Ave. F, was killed in a car-pedestrian accident early Thursday morning near the intersection of Park Ave. and U.S. 385, bringing the total of traffic fatalities in Deaf Smith County to six for this year.

Pyka, a long-time resident of Hereford, was killed when he attempted to cross Highway 385 near the bowling lanes about 6:51 a.m. Thursday. He was struck by a car driven by Asencion Gonzales, 22, of 903 Grand Ave.

Gonzales has been charged with negligent homicide, second degree, and remains in Deaf Smith County Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Pyka, who came to Deaf Smith County in 1927 from St. Francis, Tex., was born in Bandera, Tex. March 26, 1889.

Funeral services were held Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church with Father Michael Graham officiating. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Pyka are his wife Lucy, of Albuquerque, one son, Lou, also of Albuquerque, and two brothers.

O. G. Hill, Jr., 102 Douglas, bought his first horses in 1948, four yearling fillies and one yearling stallion, breeding stock. He didn't show the first one until 1950 and soon after that he began raising his own.

Having won some 100 trophies proving grand champion and first place honors, along with many ribbons, during a 19-year time period, Hill attended horse shows all over the country. The most prominent of these shows being the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, New Mexico State Fair at Albuquerque, and the State Fair of Texas at Dallas. The most recent trophy won by Hill was at the National Western Livestock Show at Denver in 1967 with Caliente Hill.

Hill's biggest success in the horse business came with Showdown, P33178, bred by the King Ranch in South Texas. Showdown sired 14 AQHA (American Quarter Horse Association) Champions and his offspring account for over a thousand AQHA halter points accumulated

He explained one of their systems of operations is in the greasing of the buses. "They go by a chart on greasing. Thereby no one ever has to wonder whether a bus has been greased or not. They merely look at the chart — and the chart will cover the entire year."

On the drivers, Harkey said, "We also have a most competent driving staff this year. Our school board has seen fit to raise their salaries, and we have an opportunity to secure better employees."

He added, "We have many women who are excellent bus drivers, and we would like to have more of them. And men who have reached retirement age have accomplished a tremendous job for us."

Harkey said they are looking for additional drivers.

"We are trying to find people who have the time to drive a bus," he said. "Some of them may feel that they are too old to apply — but this is not so. We need more people who have reached the retirement age."

BUS ROUTE PROBLEMS

"We have certain problems in routing our buses," Harkey said. "Parents often feel the schools should accept all the responsibilities in getting their children to school — and we do too. But we have certain restrictions placed on us by the Texas Education Agency. We would also like to come to their front doors, but this would mean in many cases that we would have to pick up children at 6 a. m. because of the extra time needed."

A student eligible to ride the school buses must live a minimum of two miles from the school they attend. These bus routes are approved by the state for main roads only. "When a child lives three-quarters of a mile off the route, we are not allowed by the state to go to him to pick him up. And if we did it for one child, we would naturally do it for all."

Harkey also explained that a larger number of the students will usually live near the two-mile limit than out in the county — and there have been some complaints because some of the students will spend considerable time in transit.

"Some think we should reverse our routes in mid-year, so these kids won't have to stay on the buses such a long time. This would be great if our kids were equally distributed."

And he said, "We don't expect the kids to be completely content on taking the long rides. But cutting the number of students down for the remainder of the trip is for their benefit."

Harkey pointed out, "We get complaints and we appreciate it. It keeps us on our toes in trying to make transportation more comfortable and safe. There is a chance that we would not — if they didn't complain."

But he said that 99 per cent of the parents are aware of the school problems. "Their complaints are almost always legitimate. I don't mind them calling me. And I realize we have to be real cautious what we do or say — because it is their bus route. And I have never had a problem presented to me that hasn't been almost 100 per cent understood by the parents after I have had a chance to explain

"The thing that scares me about Plainview," Wartes says, "is that they are going to have a tremendous backfield. They are the kind of team that scares you to death every time they snap the ball, because they are capable of scoring every time they do."

Plainview is changing their offense somewhat over past years as they will be going from the Texas T which is a little different for their coach.

the situation to them."

Harkey explained, "Our prime concern is the safety of the kids."

BUS WORKSHOP

Saturday, Harkey reported, the Texas Education Agency Transportation Division of Austin, headed by Richard M. Cummins, in conjunction with the Texas Department of Public Safety, are to conduct a transportation workshop here.

"It will not only include our people," he pointed out, "but schools in the surrounding counties. We have sent 40 invitations and are expecting about 200 people in attendance."

He added, "The TEA Transportation Division has always been cooperative to the plans of the Hereford Schools, as they understand our plans. We want this cooperation to continue in the future — because this is one more advancement in the total school program."

Harkey was born and raised in Crystal City, in south Texas, and majored in ergonomics at Texas Tech in Lubbock, where he received his degree. After 18 months of Army service, he began teaching at Olton (junior high science and visiting teacher) under former Hereford superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. Afterward, he served as principal at the Wilson, Texas, elementary school, then returned with Clark to Hereford as assistant principal at Central before becoming an assistant administrator.

He also received his Master of Education Degree at West Texas State University in Canyon. "I've always been interested in kids," Harkey said. "This is my main reason for being in the school teaching business."

Wartes says, because he has always been a conservative coach and has always played good defensive ball and the old rough and tough type offense. It is reported that all 11 starters for the Bulldogs are capable of running a 5-second 40-yard dash, which is extremely good. Their speed will certainly be an excellent point for the team and they are expected to be very formidable foes if their backs jell.

Facing the Whitefaces in their third game this year will be the Seminole Indians from district 2-AAA.

"Seminole should be weaker than they were a year ago," according to Wartes, because they lost heavily. The thing that goes for Seminole is that it is a good football town, and the people are not going to be down like other teams."

Spearheading the Indian attack will be their quarterback from last season, Danny Whisenand who the coaches will attempt to build a team around. They will return very few players, and will be lacking in line speed and backfield size, but are expected to be as good a test for the Whitefaces as any other team to be faced this year.

The Phillips Blackhawks, who edged the Whitefaces in last year's game, lost their backfield due to graduation, but return one of the finest lines in the area. Reports indicate that the Blackhawks will have an outstanding offensive and defensive line. Tradition also plays an important part in the Phillips game as they have dominated their district for several years and have been contenders when not winners.

Dalhart, which is considered the winningest football team in the state because of past records, was the first victim of the Whitefaces last year and will be trying to save face this year.

The only problem Dalhart faces is that, like a lot of teams which must have a rebuilding year, they lost heavily and must now regroup for another year. The key to their success will likely hinge on the town's winning tradition.

Opening the district slate will be the Canyon game which will also be a tough one for the locals as the Eagles will be trying to redeem themselves after the 46-0 loss to the Whitefaces last year.

Wartes says that Canyon will be one of the most improved teams in the district and because of this, they will be the ones to contend with this year. At the beginning of the grid season this year, Canyon had about 100 kids out for football, which is a lot different from past years. They are, Wartes explained, getting their athletic program underway real well and have a lot of talent to go with it.

"Canyon will be one of the most improved teams on our entire schedule," Coach Wartes warns.

Perryton, rated number one in the state going into last year's game with the Whitefaces, left Whiteface Stadium battered and defeated and nowhere to go. The picture looks even bleaker this year as they have only two starters back, both on defense.

Perryton has had its woes for the past two years, having won 18 of their past 20 games, but never getting out of district. This year, they come back with very few boys with any experience as most of them have had only junior high experience. But Wartes says, don't count Perryton out, because they have a lot of talent in the lower classes that could come along for them this year.

Muleshoe, in contrast to Perryton, has won only three games in the past two years, and their 1969 season does not look any better as they lost heavily through graduation also.

Tulia suffered pre-season injuries last year that hurt them but if they get by without too many this year, they too may be an improved team like Canyon. They will return several key men from last year's team, but they still do not have the material to make it interesting, unless getting rid of several tough opponents on their schedule will make them jell right.

So, whatever the outcome of the other games during the season, it still boils down to the fact that on Nov. 21, a winner of the district may still be decided by the flip of a coin, so Hereford had better make the best of the 1969 year, as it may be their last in AAA warfare.

The Beauty Beat

by Molook O'Donnell

DO YOU KNOW THE THREE TYPES OF HAIR PIECES?

Let's start with the "switch". It usually is used for putting all of your hair up or part of it up and part of it down. It could be worn loosely, braided, or coiled. It averages from ten to twenty three inches in length. Next comes the "Pastich" or "wiglet". This is hair woven into a net base. The hair comes in different length, short or long, and it can be combed in any direction. Usually it is curled and attached by a comb which is sewn into the base. The "Fall" may be short or long, averaging in length from eighteen to twenty-eight inches, with a wide net base similar to the wiglet. The difference is that the hair is woven to "fall" in one direction.

Candidates Named For ASC Election

Candidates have been named for elections of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committee members.

Nominees are: Community "A": Clarence A. Betzen, James H. Gentry, J. D. Gilbert, Jr., V. J. Owens, T. J. Parsons, Alfred Reinart, Ray Stewart, and Robert Strain. Community "B": S. A. Fangman, Roland H. Irigrove, Tony Hoffman, Gerald McCathern, Charles Schlaubs, W. W. Thomas, George Turrentine, Jack Williams, and Glenn Wilson. Community "C": E. I. Dred A. Brown, Richard Fortenberry, Bertram Jack, Jim Monroe, Elmer Northcutt, Billy Wayne Sisson, and J. E. Sorrells. Community "D": M. W. Blankenship, Oscar Bronniman, John Bromman, Leland C. Burns, Elmo Hall, Larry Harris, Terrell Hodges, and Jim Perrin. Community "E": Joe F. Bromman, George V. Cassetty, Bill Cleavinger, Billy B. Moore, Bennie Newbill, Wayne Richardson, and LaVerne Schenk.

To be elected in each community are a chairman, vice-chairman, regular member, and first and second alternates. The person receiving the most votes will be ASC community committee chairman, second highest will be vice-chairman, third highest will be the regular member, and fourth and fifth highest in votes will be first and second alternates.

First duty of the newly-elected chairman, vice-chairman, third highest will be the regular member, and fourth and fifth highest in votes will be first and second alternates.

First duty of the newly-elected chairman, vice-chairman, and member will be to serve as delegates to the county convention at which vacancies on the Deaf Smith County ASC Committee will be filled, according to County ASC Committee Chairman Frank J. Beizer. The county convention will be held September 24, 1969 at 8:00 p.m. in the Deaf Smith County ASCS Office.

In general, ASC community committees assist in carrying out farm program responsibilities assigned by the ASC county committee and in informing farmers of purposes and provisions of programs administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"The ASC community committee is a vital link between the farmer and the men in Washington who administer the farm programs passed by Congress," said Chairman Beizer. "I urge farmers to vote in their community committee elections for persons they believe will best represent them faithfully and responsibly and who are well-informed about our local and national agriculture."

Schools Report Transfers

Hereford Independent School District Superintendent Roy Hartman reported late Friday afternoon that 78 students had to be moved from Northwest Elementary School into Central "for better distribution" due to current crowding conditions, and that some are also being transferred from Bluebonnet into both Aikman and Shirley.

Due to these transfers, Hartman said that Friday's enrollment totals will not be complete until Monday. But Thursday's totals had 3,043 students in the five elementary schools, 1,206 in the two junior highs, and 926 at Hereford High School with an additional 144 in special education and 118 in kindergarten.

Football Ticket Deadline Given

Bobbie Kitchens, school bookkeeper, announced Friday that reserve season football tickets are still on sale, but the deadline for purchasing them has been set for Friday.

As of Friday, some 525 tickets had been sold as compared to last year's final total of 486, Mrs. Kitchens reported.

"There are still plenty of reserve tickets available," she said, "but persons wishing to purchase them must do so by Friday. They should pay a and pick them up before 5 p. m. Friday."

People who have already paid for their tickets will have theirs mailed to them, but those who have not paid will have to go by the School Administration Office to pick them up.

Reserve tickets are on sale for $7.50 per book, which allows the holder the same seat for the Ed Flood, District 3-T1 Lions Governor, will be in Hereford Wednesday, Sept. 17 to make an official visit, it was announced by local Lions Club president, Major A. J. Schroeter.

Flood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Flood of Hereford and his brother, Ernest, is a prominent farmer in the Hereford area.

President of Flood Service Company and owner of Ed Flood Oil Company, the District Governor is also an active member in five civic and business organizations. He is a director of the State Board of the Texas Oil Jobbers Association, member of the Stewardship Committee of the First Christian Church and is active in Shrine affairs.

Flood is a master keyholder and was voted the Outstanding Lion of the Year in both Pampa and Amarillo. He has worked on committees and has served as chairman of committees in the Lions Clubs of both of these communities and was vice president and president of the Pampa Club.

In 1964-65 he was elected Deputy District Governor at Large. At the present time, Flood and his wife, Ann, and one daughter live in Amarillo. The other daughter is married and lives with her husband in Shawnee, Okla.

For the rebuilding and rehabilitation, Moore estimated it would take 90 per cent of the $15 million the Red Cross has asked from its chapters throughout the country.

"They cannot use their United Fund money for this project because it would deplete them entirely," Moore stated. "It is therefore down to each RC chapter to raise the money."

Goodin said that no Red Cross money is to be used for the businesses that were destroyed in the hurricane — "only for the homes."

Red Cross hurricane relief quota for Deaf Smith County is $1,103.

United Fund goal for all eleven of their member agencies this year is $38,000.

Moore reported that advance contributions from clubs and civic organizations were coming along at this time with high expectations.

Corlis reminded the majors that kickoff speaker this year is Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, and that the drive will begin at the Community Center at 9:30 a. m. on Sept. 17. Barnes is scheduled to arrive at 10 for his kickoff speech, with a reception planned for him afterward.

Barnes was originally invited with plans that he would be an afternoon speaker, following an appearance at Amarillo. However, he switched these plans, according to his confirmation to KPAN owner-manager Clint Formby, and said that he would appear in Hereford ahead of the Amarillo luncheon date.

Publicity chairman Mrs. Naomi Hopson reported that Charlie Bell is now organizing a combo which will stage various events throughout the city on behalf of the United Fund. She said they have invited Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and others to join the combo in their appearances.

She also reported that Jon Birdsong has made stencils for use in place of United Fund posters on store buildings, and these stencils will be made available to the merchants.

Mrs. Hopson is also looking for local children to appear on radio tapes for the fund drive. She said she needs the names of these children at once — those who wish to cooperate — for interview.

Corlis reported that Industrial has been changed in title to Commercial C, with Hilrey Road, Commercial B will cover east of these streets, with Commercial C covering south of US 60.

Litter—A Growing Problem

Whoever thought up the slogan "every litter bit hurts" surely must have been looking over the streets and parks of Hereford at the time. And apparently we were not listening when the good folks behind the anti-litter campaign were talking — considering the condition of our streets and parks. Soft drink cups, beer cans and broken bottles seem to be the order of the day and poor old Tierra Blanca Creek is catching more than its share of the trash.

The City of Hereford is trying to do its part by sweeping the streets and trash containers are strategically located throughout the parks as well as along Main Street in Hereford but apparently all to no avail. The streets still are littered daily.

Perhaps its time that we started lending a hand to those who must clean up the mess by dropping our trash in the proper containers — not on the streets, along the highways and in the city's parks.

Every litter bit does hurt and we should all do our part to have a cleaner Hereford. After all, the problems originates with you and I and all the efforts of the sanitation department will be futile unless every citizen cooperates in that effort.

Political Lawyers

THE UPRISING of federal poverty and civil rights lawyers against the Nixon administration is billed as an exercise in professional integrity, but political blackmail would be a better name for it and wholesale firing would be the best corrective.

The poverty lawyers were the first over the protest line. They think Nixon ought to order a veto of California Gov. Ronald Reagan's opposition to certain legal programs administered by the Office of Economic Opportunity.

They call the veto — and a similar one in Florida — "politics." Nixon, they demand, must go right ahead and fund these programs anyway.

This is a typical bureaucratic reaction to any state's exercising its options to take or reject federal programs. But the poverty lawyers regard themselves as more than just civil servants.

They've even called a national convention and formed something called Poverty Lawyers for Effective Advocacy (PLEA) which is heavy on "integrity" rhetoric and very severe against enemies of the poor — whom they are prepared to defend against both Sacramento and the White House.

THE WORD evidently spread quickly in the profession. The civil rights lawyers in the Department of Justice followed with a meeting of their own in which they denounced a slowdown in school integration — citing the added time given Mississippi and scattered districts elsewhere because of educational and building problems.

What they didn't cite (though the civil rights section of HEW has done so) is the fact that double the integration of last year is expected in the South this fall — 40 per cent — which means there will be more integration there than in the North, where mixing is static or actually receding.

The Northern statistic doesn't bother the lawyers because they see no prejudice there, only residential patterns that slow mixing.

Neither do these protesters acknowledge that Nixon has shifted integration pressures from HEW to the Department of Justice and that the main burden of mixing will fall on lawyers there.

In both the uprisings, nothing less than an effort by civil servants to unmake policy made by superiors is in progress. Such an effort can be made — and validly. The lawyers are specialists: their administrative superiors normally aren't. But the proper procedure is to make recommendations privately and within a general context of loyalty to the department — and the president.

BUT ATTORNEYS in both cases have issued what amounts to public challenges. The poverty lawyers even set a deadline. The approach amounts to a political judgment hurled by underlings suffocating with a sense of their own importance.

Professional integrity has nothing to do with it. When an employe finds that his own notions of proper policy don't square with the official line and that he can't change them, he has the option of taking his integrity and conscience elsewhere.

He's welcome to his conscience but not on his own terms. Such blasts as the lawyers have issued are usually parting blasts — not silly ultimatums.

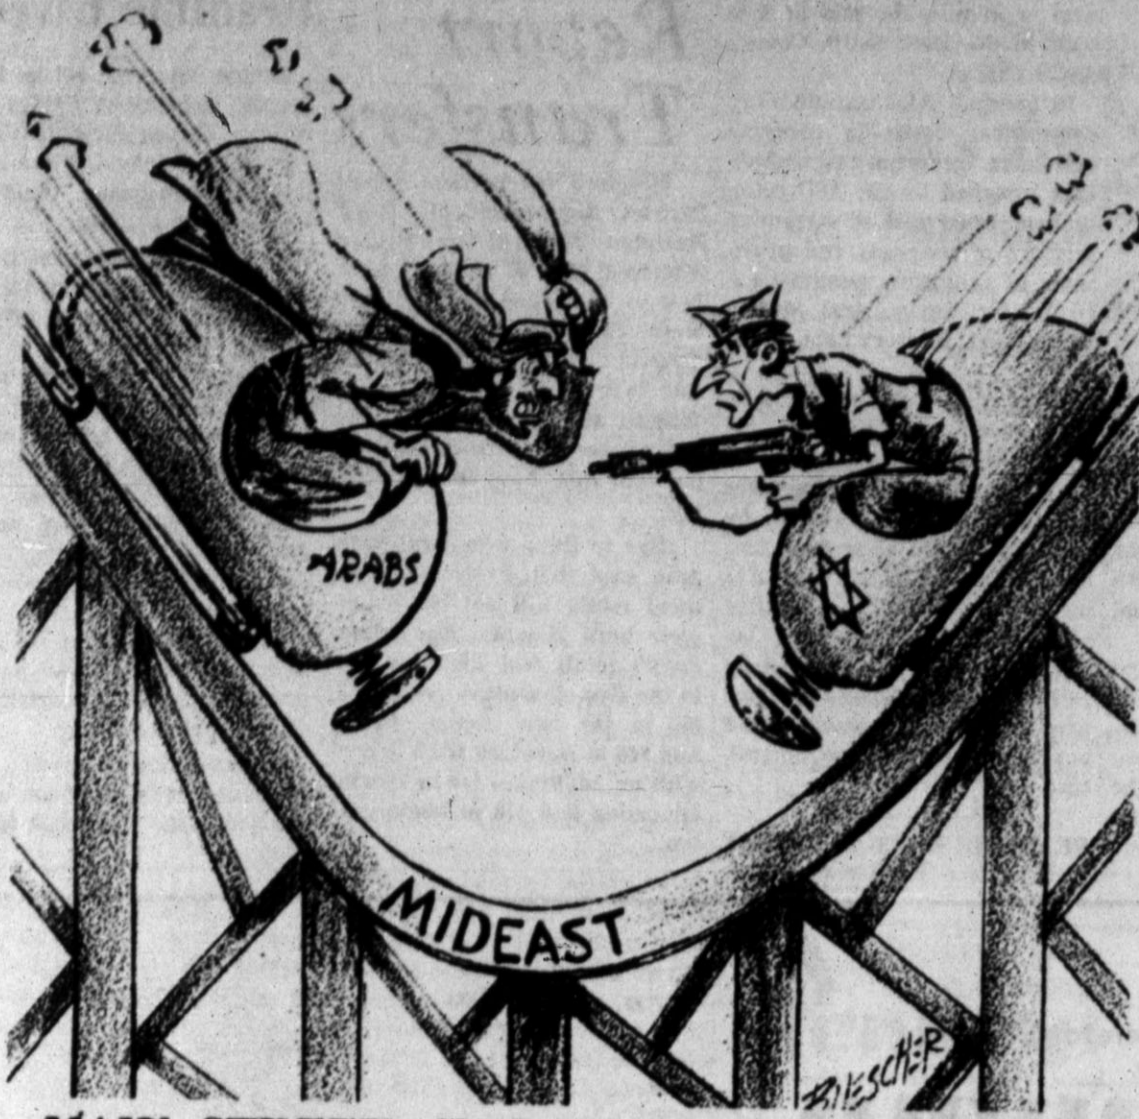

When professional opinions are made public, they become political and as such aren't worth a dime to the administration.

As Dean Rusk once wrote the then-ambassador to India, John K. Gaillbraith, when the latter suggested that Red China be recognized: "To the extent that your proposal has any merit it has been studied and rejected."

That's what the OEO office and the Justice Department ought to send out to the attorneys — with or without pink slips — The Dallas Morning News

Tourists Visit Scotland

By BERT MILLS

(Editor's Note: Bert Mills, who usually reports from Washington, took a European trip during the Congressional recess. This is the first of a series of reports from cities in Europe.)

Edinburgh, Scotland — American tourists are discovering Scotland in increasing numbers, and a visit to this hospitable, historical and incredibly beautiful country is highly recommended.

Edinburgh, the Scottish capital, is considered by some experienced travelers to be the most interesting city in Europe. It is also the point of departure for some fantastic scenery in the highlands and lake country not far from the city. You can see a good bit of it on a one-day motor-coach tour.

Scotland is world famous for many things, including the thrifty habits of its natives, kilts, bagpipes, and highland flings, castles, palaces, whiskey and golf. A tourist can sample them all within a few days by visiting Edinburgh. And Edinburgh is only about one hour from London by non-stop plane.

Driving into town from Edinburgh airport, this traveler got a fast briefing from a friendly taxi driver. Noting a golf course, he remarked there were 19 in or near the city. The stone houses were all built before World War II, the art of stonemasonry no longer being attractive to young men and the veterans having died or retired. Newer houses are likely to be of stucco.

There are many hotels in Edinburgh, most of them old. Mine was on a remote side street near a park but only about ten minutes from the center by bus. The fare was three cents. My hotel was less than one-year old but had served as a private home for 140 years before that. Bed and breakfast, as the English say, cost $10 per person per night.

"New" Town Built in 18th Century
Edinburgh is divided into the Old Town, which dates back to time immemorial, and the New Town, built toward the end of the 18th century. The dividing line is Princes Street Gardens, a magnificent expanse of green and flowers which attracts natives and visitors alike. An unusual sight on a side hill is a flower clock which runs. The works are buried underground and the hands are covered with growing plants.

High above the gardens and center city is Edinburgh Castle. A three-hour motor coach tour of the Castle and many other attractions costs $1.80, 15 shillings. On a clear day, there is a magnificent view of city and countryside, including the Firth of Forth, a huge estuary of the North Sea.

Much of Scottish history is linked with The Royal Mile, which connects the Castle with Holyrood Palace, where the Queen of England resides when she visits Scotland and where the bedroom of Mary Queen of Scots is on public display. On the same tour is St. Giles' Cathedral, which is neither Catholic nor Episcopal but Presbyterian.

Where to eat dinner is always a problem for tourists in a strange land. When the guidebooks and a local bartender agree, the choice is usually a happy one. So it was at Restaurant des Ambassadors, in the George Hotel in downtown Edinburgh. It featured excellent food and drink and a floor show including a bagpiper and a group of six dancers in kilts and other native garb, performing the highland fling and other familiar dances.

Another night to remember was a delicious dinner at a country inn five miles outside the city. The 300-year-old village tavern, Cramond Inn and adjoining pub, is well worth the trip. A Scottish tycoon restored the place with loving care, and keeps the prices reasonable.

Golfers Flock to St. Andrews
Anybody who plays golf knows the game was born in St. Andrews, in County Fife, on the North Sea. It is difficult to reach without a car but scores of Americans overcome the difficulties every day in the summer. The Old Course, one of four parallel courses at St. Andrews, is open to the public and the fee is only 12 shillings sixpence, $1.50.

It is a memorable experience for even a duffer to play at the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, founded in 1754. One can rent the necessary equipment including shoes and clubs, at the Golf Shop, operated by Mrs. W. McAndrew, wife of the R. & A. professional, who doubles as a member of the city council.

Your correspondent was paired with a native of St. Andrews and a London shopkeeper, on holiday at R. & A. for the 28th straight year. They were most cordial companions and insisted on displaying their Scottish hospitality at the 19th hole. My other friend was a 73-year-old caddy, who kept me out of all the pot bunkers except one.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

HELP WANTED — The late Clint W. Murchison, Sr., liked to say that he became one of the world's richest men by "financin' and finaglin'." And he could finagle people as easily as he could an oil deal.

During World War I, Murchison got a contract to sell East Texas pine to the Army. There was a manpower shortage, however, and young Clint couldn't find any workers to cut the trees.

Undaunted, he went to San Antonio, chartered three railroad cars and had them switched to a siding. Then he went out on the streets and invited every loafer he saw to join him for free food and drink aboard his "private train."

They came, drank quantities of booze, ate lavishly and then fell asleep on the green cushions. When they awoke, they found that the railroad cars had been hooked onto a train during the night and they were all deep in the East Texas forests.

Murchison saw to it that they all got return train tickets home — after they had cut enough trees to pay their fares and permit him to meet his Army contract.

IT'S A FACT — Although little mention is made of it in history books, three Mexican citizens were among the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

They were Franco Ruiz, J. Antonio Navarro and Lorenzo de Zavala.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — History credits an Illinois farmer named Joseph F. Glidden with the invention of barbed wire. However, a Texan was making and using "the devil's necklace" 17 years before Glidden patented the idea.

He was John Grinninger (or Greninger), an European immigrant who worked for an Austin iron foundry. Grinninger had a small truck garden on Waller Creek near what is now the capital city's Town Lake.

To protect his garden, Grinninger strung two wires along the top of the fence surrounding his plot. These wires were twisted together with bits of hoop iron. Between the pieces of hoop iron, Grinninger placed sharpened pieces of wire with points projecting up and down.

Grinninger never tried to sell his idea, however. In 1862, he was murdered in Austin. Five years later, in 1867, the first patent on barbed wire was issued. Then, in 1874, Glidden patented his wire and founded a new industry.

POLICE STATE? — Texas has 254 sheriff's offices, more than 600 city police departments and city marshals, several hundred elected constables and a Department of Public Safety that blankets the state with highway patrolmen and a detachment of Texas Rangers.

Strangely, however, most of these crime prevention agencies operate completely autonomously, rarely cooperating or even communicating. This is especially true of county sheriffs and city police departments, where each agency usually operates its own jail and duplicates other services.

DO YOU REMEMBER? — When farmers driving open trucks used to make daily visits to almost every neighborhood to peddle fresh fruits and vegetables?

65 YEARS AGO — 1904

Announcement was made by the railway lines penetrating and which are interested in developing Texas and other western territory, that on Tuesdays, September 20th, and October 2nd and 18th, one-way tickets will be sold from Memphis, Tennessee, to points in Indian Territory and Oklahoma at the rate of $6.00, and to points in Texas between Fort Worth and Amarillo and Dalhart at rate of $8.50. This is a very unusual and liberal arrangement and in view of the fact that the farmers and realty owners of Northwest Texas will soon need more experienced cotton pickers than may be secured in South or Central Texas for harvesting our greatly increased crops, it is suggested that it would be well that those interested take advantage of the rates mentioned for bringing in the needed assistance, looking to Memphis and vicinity for supplies.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

Hereford's first spudding in party last Thursday, on the site of the Hereford Oil & Gas Company's well No. 1, turned out to be an almost unanimous affair, so far as attendance was concerned. It was simply a whale of a crowd. Hereford Public Schools opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 547 children present for duty. The manual training course seems quite popular with a large enrollment of boys and girls. The highest peak is reached, however, in History eight — a class of 54.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

One of the Panhandle's most peculiar and severest sandstorms in years was experienced here last Sunday evening. Like a vast drawn curtain, the storm, extending hundreds of feet into the air, swept down on Hereford from the southwest shortly after 6 p. m. The huge cloud was visible for 15 minutes before its arrival and its beauty was matched only by the intensity of the 60-mile wind that propelled it. The temperature dropped here in the course of an hour from 96 degrees to 52, due to the north wind. Fortunately the dust did not last long, although the wind stayed overnight and it was still unseasonably cool Monday.

20 YEARS AGO — 1949

Funeral services for J. E. (Jim) Hill, 70, were held Tuesday afternoon from the First Christian Church in Hereford, conducted by Roy Ford, pastor. He died at his home in Hereford Sunday following an illness of several months. A prominent farmer and rancher of this area, Mr. Hill was born July 11, 1879, in Montague County and, at the age of ten years, accompanied his parents to Armstrong County, where he grew to manhood and operated as a farmer-rancher prior to moving to Deaf Smith County.

5 YEARS AGO — 1964

Hereford's first grain sorghum of the season rolled to market here this past week and prospects are for an "excellent" yield for this county's major crop. ASCS says farmers in Deaf Smith County planted 244,356 acres in grain sorghum as their base acreage. First grain was sold to Hereford Grain Co. and brought $1.80, the same level as last year, grain men said. John David Bryant, former Hereford High School football great, was named as a freshman coach for the West Texas State University Buffalo football team by head coach Joe Kerbel. Community Players Will Present Film

A film will be presented at the September membership meeting of Hereford Community Players, at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Community Center. It will be the first of a series planned for meetings during the year, on phases of play production such as set design and construction, stage makeup, costumes and script selection.

Not only all members of the Players, but others interested in membership or in purposes of a community dramatic group are invited to the meeting, Thomas Kendrick, president, announced.

Kendrick will preside for a brief business session and a report on plans for the first production of a new season will be made by Kay Claypool, who has been designated to direct a three-act comedy for fall presentation.

The Community Players are beginning their second full season after staging a summer show for children, The House at Pooh Corner. During the first season they presented the Noel Coward comedy, Blithe Spirit, a night of one-acts, and in the spring, the period comedy, Charley's Aunt, each directed by a different member.

Membership is open to all interested persons, with annual dues at $5 for an individual, $7.50 for a couple and $10 for a family. Participation in plays, either as an actor or in backstage or committee work, is limited to members.

Major Bowlers Launch Season

The Men's Major League bowling association got under way last week for the fall season, and Ray Lueb snatched the spotlight by taking the High Individual Series and High Individual Game honors.

Lueb rolled a 586 to take the series tokens and a 236 for the single game honors. Taylor & Sons collected the High Team Series with a score of 2864, and the Ink Spot nabbed the High Team Game with a 998 total.

In game action, Taylor & Sons won 4 and lost 0; City Cab won 3 and lost 1; Boyd Machine won 3 and lost 1; Athletic Shirts won 3 and lost 1; Orval Watson Ford won 3 and lost 1; SIC won 3 and lost 1; Sunset Lanes won 2 and lost 2; Ink Spot won 2 and lost 2; Caviness Packing won 1 and lost 3; Overnite Freight won 1 and lost 3; Farr Better Feeds won 1 and lost 3; Sully's Vending won 1 and lost 3; Great Western Tire won 1 and lost 3; Deaf Smith County Electric won 1 and lost 4; Piggly Wiggly and Shur-Gro Feeds games were incomplete.

Grain Sorghum Referendum - Speakers Quizzed

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Dr. William E. Black went into detail at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn Wednesday night on the pros and cons involved in the upcoming grain sorghum referendum vote scheduled in the 29-county Texas Plains-Panhandle area in October which will include the question of an assessment on future crops and candidates for a 12-member board of grain producers.

Also offering comments were Y. F. Snodgrass, field representative for the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and GSPA secretary-treasurer Pat Northcutt.

Deaf Smith County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride introduced Dr. Black, who is an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A & M University, with the statement that "we want to supply information on the referendum, but we will not take sides on the questions."

Following the period of explanation, the approximately 25 area grain producers who were in attendance here posed a number of interesting questions which lengthened the session to more than two hours.

It was also brought out that the proposed 12-member board would tend to replace many of the present duties of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. But Dr. Black emphasized that the GSPA would still be needed in areas of the business which could not be touched under the law by the board.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association was responsible for the certification of the upcoming referendum before the Texas Commissioner of Agriculture.

Dr. Black explained that the Agricultural Check-off Act of 1969, which was adopted two years ago, now gives the legal authority to "levy an assessment upon themselves for research, disease, and insect control programs and education and promotion to encourage production, marketing and the use of commodities they produce, excluding rice, flax, boiler fryers and cattle."

He reported the check-off system in the past did not work and that grain producers worked under a handicap. "It was not palatable then, but now it is. The Check-off Act is not compulsory. It is an enabling act. It's up to the producer to develop a program that conforms to the Act's requirements, follow a prescribed procedure, and approve the adoption of the program in open referendum. It is designed to let you create, operate and design your own program."

But Dr. Black stipulated the program drafted "must have industry-wide support. Now, only about 20 per cent of the farmers supported GSPA by paying dues, while the other 80 per cent rode the shirkails of the 20 per cent. Under this program, you can correct a part of the shirkail rider. You can get them to pay — but it is still not altogether foolproof because they can get their money back."

Any producer, he explained, may obtain refund of paid-in assessments by making a written request within 60 days after the payment date on a form designed and furnished by the board.

GSPA gained certification to have a 12-man Producers Commodity Board, Dr. Black pointed out. One-third of its members will have a 2-year term of office, one-third a 4-year term, and one-third a 6-year term, to be determined by drawing lots. (Successors will hold office with terms of six years.) This method was explained as a "staggering" action, so that all members would not leave the board at the same time.

Dr. Black said, "GSPA has got to identify the maximum rate of assessment on the ballot — which they have agreed should be up to 5 cents per ton. And the Producers Commodity Board will run this program if you vote it in. Now, they may not decide to use all of the 5 cents. But if they find that 5 cents is not enough to operate the program, they are required to hold another referendum before they could raise the amount to a higher figure."

Candidates for the board must be grain sorghum producers, it was emphasized. (Deadline for filing was Saturday.) The candidate's application must be signed not only by the candidate but by at least ten fellow grain sorghum producers.

Eligible voters are all producers, including farm owners (anywhere in the state who have property in the 29-county area) or tenants and sharecroppers — except their wives, unless they own separate farm property from their husband.

"You must show your production figure on your ballot," Dr. Black pointed out. "If the voter overstates his production by more than 10 per cent, his vote will not be counted." However, there is no penalty for underrating, he said later. "But ballots which show no production figure at all will be disqualified." Base year for the figure is 1968.

Election is under the supervision of the Commissioner of Agriculture. In order to carry, vote will have to total two-thirds majority. Counting of the vote will be done by the president of the agriculture commissioner's office, a county judge, and a member of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "But the tellers can be expanded. In case there is organized opposition to the referendum, the leader of this opposition could be named a teller."

Since the Producers Commodity Board cannot engage in legislative action under the law, "it appears that the GSPA is phased out. But it is important to remember there are other functions of the GSPA. They do have the power to become involved in legislative action."

In the assessment payment to the board, processors will collect the assessment at a point and in the manner determined by the board. Amounts deducted shall be shown on the producer's sales invoice or a similar document. Processors are required to remit check-offs monthly, within ten days after the end of the collection month. Assessments are to be received by the secretary-treasurer who will be elected from the board by board members.

The budget must be approved by the agriculture commissioner before any of the money can be spent, Dr. Black said.

"It is also easier to terminate the program than to vote it in," he indicated. "Only one-half of the majority can terminate, while it will take two-thirds to put it in operation."

OTHER SPEAKERS
Snodgrass reviewed the progress of grain sorghum in the area. "I was in the Bull Barn here back in 1956 when the GSPA was organized in Deaf Smith County. Ten or twelve years ago, there were practically no feed yards in the area — and practically no grain sorghum markets. It wasn't a fast thing, but grain sorghum began to mushroom. Then there was the struggle to get the packing plants — and I know we will see more of them in the future. But we know what the battle has been."

Snodgrass stated that area farmers can either double the cattle feeder industry production now or look at the pork industry. After feeding the present number of cattle we could still feed 10 million hogs." He said there are many facets here.

He said the field is "wide open" in research needs, and mentioned green bugs, spider mites, etc. "Speaking for myself, I know when these problems arise, the first thing I want to know is, what can I do to cure this?" He favored this portion in the research offered through the referendum vote.

"If you do not receive your ballot in the mail by Oct. 6," Snodgrass pointed out, "you may get your ballot at the county agent's office."

Northcutt encouraged a nomination of a farmer from this area for possible election to the commodity board.

The questions from the audience included one which sought an answer to the reason that the referendum only covered a 29-county area. Snodgrass answered, "We are having it in this section because GSPA is known here. This Act does not exclude the blackland farmer and other areas, but we felt this was the area where he should start."

Billy Frank And Bride To Make Amarillo Home

The First United Methodist Church of Friona was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Diana Kay Wilson and Billy Frank with Bill Morgan, pastor of the Friona 6th St. Church of Christ, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Wilson of Friona. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Frank 134 Country Club Drive, Hereford, are parents of the bridegroom.

The double ring vows were exchanged at 8 p.m. before an altar setting of a spiral candelabra and four pair of branched candelabra, entwined with palms of Woodwardia illuminating bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and gold pom-poms. In the center, was an archway of greenery with three tiered candelabra and gold kneeling bench. Gold satin bows with greenery marked the family pews.

After the exchange of vows the couple lighted a Memory Candle.

An impressive program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Roy Miller, organist; and Mrs. Lee Witten, pianist, both of Friona. They accompanied Misses Kathy Cook and Paula Fortenberry of Friona and Mrs. Bill Weatherly of Amarillo as they sang "One Hand One Heart", "Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Miss Jan Welch was maid of honor and best man was Gary Goodin of Hereford. Bridesmaid-ds were Mrs. Bob Tague of Dalhart, and Misses Patti and Charlotte Hamilton of Amarillo, cousins of the bride.

Groomsmen were Mike Cox and Milton Meharg, Amarillo; and Verl Taylor of Denver, Colo. Serving as ushers were Mickey Wilson, Friona; Bing Bingham, Wildorado; and Eddie Singleterry of Amarillo.

Doddie Singleterry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Singleterry of Lubbock was flower girl and ring bearer was Trace Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Taylor of Denver. Lynn Welch of Friona was candle lighter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a beautiful picture in her formal gown of candlelight satin and Venice lace with a circular chapel train. The empire bodice of Venice lace was styled with Camelot sleeves and mandarin collar. A camelot cap of Alencon lace encrusted with pearls and crystals held her elbow length veil of English nylon illusion.

Her only jewelry was an opal ring belonging to her mother and a diamond pendant made from her mother's first engagement ring.

The feminine attendants wore formal satin gowns with soft rolled collars cut to a V in the back with long sleeves. The gathered column skirts and slightly raised waists were self belted, accented in the back with a bow. The maid of honor's gown was gold and the bridesmaids wore avocado. Their veils of nylon illusion fell from satin coils of leaves and rosettes.

A reception honoring the bride and groom was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlor.

The bride's bouquet centered the serving table laid with candlelight satin with a net overlay. Squigged bells and flowers were applied on the cloth which was banded with satin.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with gold rosebuds with moss green leaves, was surmounted by wedding bells. Completing the table decoration was a four-tiered silver candelabra.

Mrs. Mickey Wilson, sister-in-law of the bride, served the cake and Miss Rena Hamilton of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, ladled punch.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Bing Bingham of Wildorado, sister of the bride.

Other members of the household were Misses Terri Cimmings, and Kathy Renner and Mrs. Louis Webb, all of Friona.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Amarillo where he is employed by Amarillo Imports. The bride is a graduate of

Fruit Season Arrives Here

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The fall fruit is better flavored than ever and also more beautiful! The Thurman Atchley's brought us some lovely peaches. I guessed they were one of the Hale varieties.

Mrs. J. G. Gandy has Italian peaches, freestone. These were from a tree which grew from a seed Mrs. Gandy and her mother, Mrs. J. D. Love, planted. They nurtured the tree until it is now in production.

A fig tree in Hereford? Yes, and it is doing well, thank you. The H. M. Boozers have this tree that has produced a good crop. Mrs. Clyde Cocanougher has wanted some hints on fig raising so Mrs. Boozer can give a good testimonial. Fig preserves can now be added to the American Legion Auxiliary Harvest Dinner. Isn't this a great agricultural country?

Raymond Bean is boasting of some exceptional grapes he has raised. A bunch of the beautiful white fruit weighed 2 3/4 pounds. They are Lady Fingers and this is the first year for them to produce. You will drool at the picture.

A helpful hint: Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hershey had Blue Damson plums from the John Patton orchard in New Mexico. They had the idea of putting them through the cherry pitter and they report it works fine.

Peach honey recipe was sent to professional people are eligible to become members of the TSTA and NEA through application.

by Juanita Hershey, who is always good to help. Hope this is what Mrs. Roy Kelley wanted. She had made peach honey and a niece remembered how delicious it was and wrote for the recipe. Give us a report if it is O-so-good.

PEACH HONEY

1 pint peach juice
Juice of 1/2 lemon
1 pint apple juice
3 C. sugar
Combine and cook until sheets from spoon.

Mrs. R. A. Fullwood gave us a good recipe she got from Dorothy Noland. Don't know where Dorothy got it, but than everyone who had a part. Its "Orange Julius" for an electric blender, and it is good.

ORANGE JULIUS

1 can frozen orange juice
2 cups water
One-third cup powdered milk
One-third cup sugar
8 ice cubes
Blend in electric blender.

Mrs. Louie Olson is doing a lot toward getting the ditty bags filled for the servicemen. She brought ditty bags to Wyche Home Demonstration Club and ask the members to cooperate in filling them. The members of Cultural Club made the ditty bags and each member of Wyche took at least one to fill and voted to furnish enough articles for more. Either Mrs. Louie Olson or Mrs. LeRoy Bodkin will give you information if you want to help. They will accept articles or money or help. But, you'll have to hurry if you get in on this project for 1969. Also, there is a list of articles needed for ditty bags at the Office.

Thursday at the Wyche Home Demonstration Club Meeting, we had a very wonderful feeling of pride and appreciation when we realized with Mrs. Olson visiting there were four genera-

There are a few things read had about being so busy. One function we hated to miss was the award party for Edwin "Goose" Ramey at Dimmitt. Local Teachers Unanimous In Both TSTA, NEA

All 286 teachers and professional people in the Hereford Independent School District are members of both the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Agency, according to officers of the organizations.

Local TSTA president Robert Holman, superintendent of schools, said, "This is quite an accomplishment. We had 100 percent membership two days after school started."

Holman pointed out that "this shows a real professional attitude in our school people."

Robert Thompson, counselor at Hereford High School and publicity chairman for the local TSTA, said that all school pro-

TOTAL Hereford Winning Scores _____

By MELVIN YOUNG

A lot of Hereford residents thought they were seeing some astronomical phenomenal Friday night when they observed the glowing light and cloud in the southwestern sky, but Uncle Sam's army men at White Sands Missile Base in New Mexico said "It's only us."

The army fired a rocket into the upper atmosphere at 8:54 p. m. Friday, releasing barium and creating a harmless cloud formation at 600,000 feet. The test was to aid in the investigation of ionospheric winds and associated electromagnetic fields.

The "cloud" (visible as far away as Mississippi) was tracked by radar and cameras which were "measuring the drift" according to officials of the White Sands Missile Base.

A number of people called our home Friday night trying to get some information on the "cloud" before television stations flashed the news that it was merely a test rocket from the New Mexico base. Needless to say, they got very little information. We understand that the police station received a number of calls as well. The "cloud" at least created a little excitement in the city for a couple of hours. One sage even suggested that the Texas Legislature might have passed a tax bill and was sending up smoke signals to halt their victory. But no such luck.

By the way, the testing at White Sands will continue through tonight so you may have another opportunity to view the weird light and gas cloud.

—HB—
And speaking of the Texas Legislature, it appears that the House and Senate (and the Governor as well) are still playing politics with the tax bill and naturally old John Q. Public will be the loser in the end. Some have suggested that we might have a complete turn over at the next election, but doubtless most of the men will have manufactured a pretty good story to tell the electorate by campaign time.

The House and Senate remind us of a couple of sand lot ball teams arguing about who is going to bat first.

—HB—
The first football game of the season is coming up Friday as the Whitefaces meet the Pampa Harvesters at Pampa. The following week the Herd will come home to play and the fans will have an opportunity to use the new Whiteface stadium. It should be a great football season for team and fans alike and we're hoping that the Herd can equal or better their past season record.

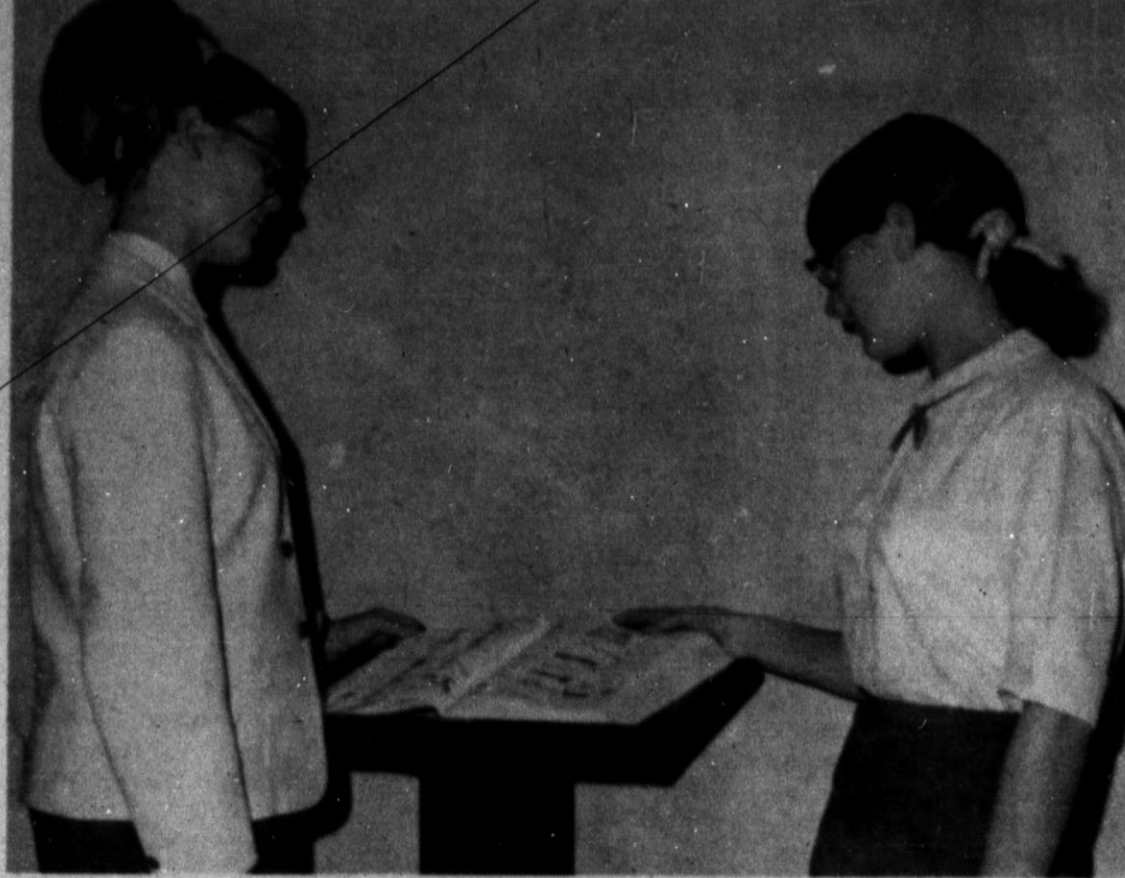

—HB—
Hereford is still growing and housing is becoming quite a problem. Many of the newcomers report that it is almost impossible to find an apartment or house to rent and most of them (usually young people just getting started) cannot afford to build or buy at this time.

However, thinking back on the situation, it seems to us that it has always been difficult to find a place to rent in Hereford and we hope that the situation is so because we are growing. We know of a few towns in the area where you can find plenty of houses to rent — but not many economic advantages are to be had in these places.

—HB—
We sincerely hope that Hereford always has "growing pains" and never begins to slide in the other direction.

—HB—
We have had reports of "rats" in the Buena Vista district "as big as a cat." The lady calling in reported seeing one crossing the road and also seeing a dog carrying another in his mouth.

This is the first time in a number of years that we have had any reports of the king-size rodents in our city. It

Horizon Club Hosts Museum In September

The Horizon Club, an organization of approximately fifty high school age girls, is a "high school extension of Camp Fire Girls" according to Mrs. Ernest Langley, club sponsor.

During the month of September the members are acting as hostesses at the Deaf Smith County Museum as a public service.

The museum is open from 2-5 p.m. each Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Tacky Party Is First Meet For Study Club

A Tacky Party in the home of Mrs. W. H. Gentry opened the new season for Hereford Study Club. The Thursday evening meet was co-hosted by Mrs. R. N. Yarbro and Mrs. Labry Ballard.

All members were dressed to suit the tacky theme and winners of the tackiest costumes were Mrs. S. L. Garrison and Mrs. Maurice Tannahill.

Each member brought a salad and the meal was served buffet style from quartet tables decorated with red and white checked cloths centered with dried weed arrangements.

Mrs. W. H. Gentry, president, conducted a brief business meeting and welcomed two new members, Mrs. Bob Poston and Mrs. O. Z. Golden.

Mrs. W. H. Gentry, chairman of the yearbook committee, distributed new books for the coming year and plans were discussed for money raising projects in the near future.

The next meeting, originally scheduled in the home of Mrs. Garland Solomon, will be hosted by Mrs. Ed Wilson. Meeting time is 8 p. m. Sept. 8.

Others attending were: Mmes. T. E. Braddy, Noble Howard, Don Robinson, Art Stoy, Richard Winget, J. W. Witherspoon, R. P. Coneway and Miss Gladys Setliff.

Miss Penni Dona Jones Weds Roger Curtis Owens

In one of early September's loveliest weddings, Miss Penni Dona Jones and Roger Curtis Owens pledged their nuptial vows Saturday evening at First Christian Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Jones and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Owen.

The Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated for the 8 p. m. ceremony amid a soft candlelight setting.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with spiral candelabra holding white cathedral tapers flanked by sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and poinsettias placed on white Grecian pedestals. The family pews were marked by greenery and votive candles with white satin bows and streamers.

Don Baugous, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Ben Golehon as he sang "Whither Thou Goest," "With This Ring," "Till" and "Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk peau de soie and re-embroidered lace designed with an empire bodice overlaid with lace and long tapered sleeves. A stand-up scalloped ruffle complemented the neckline. Her detachable chapel train fell from a self fabric bow and was banded with a scalloped lace ruffle. Her cathedral mantilla of bridal illusion was edged in matching re-embroidered lace. She carried a cascade bridal bouquet of white roses.

As the bride was escorted to the altar she presented her mother with a long stemmed white rose and as she was escorted away by the bridegroom she presented his mother with the same token.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gerry Gore and Miss Cindy Jones, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry Curry of Canyon and Miss Betty Nickell, Dallas.

Groomsmen were Ed Mims, Gary Stagner and Wynn Buck. Serving as ushers were Gary Crume, Gary Moates, Randy Jones, Dean Jones, Frank Cain, Mike Harvey and Jimmy Young.

Carie Sue and Sheri Lynn Jones, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jones, were flower girl and ring bearer.

The bride's attendants wore formal white chiffon gowns designed with a satin Victorian-standup collar and full chiffon sleeves. A satin back panel fell from the neckline and cascaded to the hemline of the A-line skirt. They wore velvet coils with bouffant veils and carried a single long stemmed wine rose.

A reception honoring the bride and groom was held immediately following the ceremony at the Hereford Country Club, where wedding guests were registered by Miss Ann Warwick.

The bride's cake, topped with wedding rings and bells, was served by Mrs. Dean Jones. The bridegroom's chocolate cake, surmounted by a golfer, was served by Miss Becky Owen. Punch and coffee were served by Mrs. Ronald Griffith of Lubbock and Miss Susan Benson, Dimmitt.

During the reception, rice bags of wine and white net tied with white lace were distributed to wedding guests by Sheri and Carie Jones and Sandi Warwick.

For a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the bride's traveling ensemble was a white wool dress and coat with wine accessories and a corsage of wine rosebuds.

Arriving in Hereford the following Sunday Mrs. Franz and Peter were shown various points of interest in Hereford including the Holly Sugar Plant, Sugarland Mall, and feed yards.

During the Franz's six weeks stay in the United States, the Kesters took them on a 10-day trip to Carlsbad; El Paso; Juarez; the Grand Canyon in Arizona; Santa Fe; Las Vegas, New Mexico; Colorado's Royal Gorge and Pike's Peak; and a visit to Conchas Lake.

After resting a week from that trip they once again left to Little Rock, Arkansas where they enjoyed 6 days of camping, boating, and water skiing.

Other trips taking Mrs. Franz out of Germany have been to Switzerland, France, and Austria. She said she enjoyed her stay in Hereford very much; "the people are wonderful, very hospitable."

They left from Amarillo Thursday and from there flew to Dallas and on to New York again before going back to Germany.

La Madre Mia Hosts Couples Party

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club entertained their husbands with a supper, held Thursday evening in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Theme for the party was "Moon Landing" and guests dressed in moon landing costumes. Entertainment was a moon quiz.

Hosting the event were Mmes. W. E. Sparks, Carl Carlile and Wayne Lady.

Others attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Lynton Allred, Waldo Baxter, Hershel Black, Charles Fry, James Gentry, Dean Herring, David Honea, Ray Don King, G. C. Merritt Jr., Bobby Owen, Walker Parris, Harvey Penncr, John Smith, Dwayne Adams, Richard Ward, Jerry Don Glover and Charles Watson.

The club's opening breakfast is scheduled at 9 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Gerald Martin.

Wilhelm Infant Graveside Rites Held Thursday

Graveside services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard John Wilhelm of Umbarger, who died shortly after birth Wednesday in Neblett Memorial Hospital at Canyon, were conducted Thursday in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Msgr. Matthew Schaffer, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, officiated.

Survivors include his parents; brothers, Andrew, Lloyd, Daniel, Wade, Gerald, Edwin and Timothy, all of the family home; sisters, Janet, Judy and Joyce, of the home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Friemel of Umbarger and Mrs. Henry Wilhelm of Hereford.

School Scout Night Briefing Set Tuesday

Briefing meeting for School Night for Scouting is to be conducted Tuesday beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center, District Scout Executive George Ochs reported.

Purpose of the meeting — for all local adult Scout personnel — is to make plans for the School Night for Scouting which will be held on Sept. 22 in the Hereford Elementary Schools.

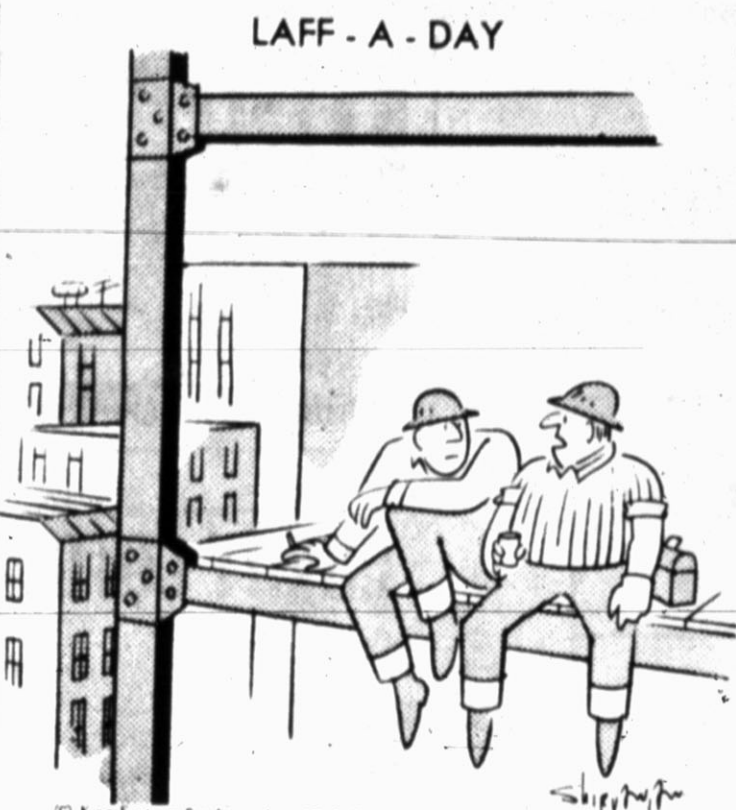

Ochs said all boys and their parents who wish to join Boy Scouting will have the opportunity to go to their nearest elementary school to be assigned to a unit on Sept. 22 following the Tuesday briefing meeting.

Scout leaders will then be present to explain the Scouting program and enroll the boys in a unit nearest their homes.

Chairman for the Tierra District School Night for Scouting is Robert Holman. Coordinators are Charles Duvall, Northwest; Paul Abalos, Central; Nolan Grady, St. Anthony's; Nolan Brown, Shirley; Rodney Laubhan, Bluebonnet; and Tommy Bowling, Alkman.

Briefings are to be conducted on the same nights in Friona, Vega, and Adrian. Ochs has also urged leaders in these locations to attend.

A DISASTROUS SEASON
DENVER — The basketball team at the University of Denver won only two games against 24 losses in the 1968-69 season. This gave the Pioneers' new coach, Stan Albeck, his first losing season in 13 years of college coaching. He had 11 winning seasons at Northern Michigan and one successful season at Adrian, Mich., College.

Adventures In Food

By CORINNE J. NEELY

We have been admonished not to eat the daisies by an author of a book of that name, but nothing was said about eating day lilies. It was Bettye Turpen, avid nature student, who told me about cooking day lily buds.

This year I had an abundance of these flowers so I decided to try cooking them. Being a cut flower for the house/enthusiast I found a way to have my flowers and eat them too.

Once a day lily is cut, only one full bloom will open; so I used them in a bouquet one day. Then, the next morning, cut off the remaining buds and placed them in a cellophane bag in the vegetable drawer of the refrigerator over night.

Just a few minutes before you serve your meal, bring these buds, which have been separated and washed, to a boil in a little salted water. Drain, add butter, salt and pepper and serve as you would fresh asparagus. They do not taste the same but both have the fresh spring-like green flavor.

Garden club members may regard you as a cannibal of a sort. However the Chinese people have been eating these for hundreds of years and they know a good thing when they eat one.

Speaking of Chinese, a visiting sister and I once found in Phoenix at a Chinese restaurant a food we had not tried before. Even yet in this area you seldom see it on a menu.

We ordered curried chicken and rice. When the food was brought to us it was as yellow as sun flower petals. This indicated, we were soon to learn, that a large amount of curry had been used. And in this amount it can be as hot as chili but we liked it.

I use far less of this spicy condiment when I prepare curried foods. A favorite dish of mine is curried celery to serve with chicken. Left over roasts of pork, beef, lamb and chicken make good curry dishes. But in foreign countries they always start with fresh meats. Curry dishes with rice are enhanced by small side dishes of salted mixed nuts, soft fresh raisins, flaked coconut — fresh or canned, and chutney. Serve these as you would dressings with salad.

Our second find there was at a hotel coffee shop. It was a crisp brown waffle topped with whipped cream and sugared fresh strawberries.

For a heartier dish, which most men will prefer over the use of a waffle, my sister uses French Toast. To make a good French Toast use a thick batter of beaten eggs and very little milk. Dip day-old, or older, bread in the batter and brown in butter on a griddle. Then top with whipped cream, berries or even sliced peaches for an excellent late or special breakfast.

At another time and place, Kansas City, my husband and I dubbed the town, The Corned Beef Capital. The corned beef there is like no other and is by no means related to the canned kind which most of us know.

Nearly all restaurants there served it in some form but I never saw it teamed with cabbage. One day at noon we ate at a place which specialized in it. The place was full of prosperous looking men and few women. It seems to be a man's dish. There is no way to describe it, you just have to eat it to know its worth.

My three efforts to cook corned beef later at home were perhaps the costliest and the worst failures I ever had. It always came out as tough as a boot and had to be thrown away.

Even the Muehlebach Hotel served the best corned beef hash in their basement club-like dining room. It was both delicious and popular.

L'Allegra Opens New Year

Glad To Get Settled

By BARBARA SIMMER Women's Editor

Mrs. Suzanne Samuels, lovely and vivacious wife of Highway Patrolman Don Samuels, who moved here around the first of August, says she is tired of moving and very glad to get settled in Hereford.

The Samuels, with their lovely ten-month-old son Donnie, started their move from Dallas, via Lubbock, where they lived for a month during which time Samuels began his career as a patrolman for Department of Public Safety.

Before their move to Lubbock, the Samuels lived at Dallas where they both worked for an electronics company. This is where they met and after a four-month courtship, were married.

When Samuels decided to become a patrolman, Suzanne and little Donnie stayed with her parents at Dallas for a 17 week period while he attended DPS Academy at Austin.

She says she is just glad to light somewhere after moving around a lot and now are enjoying Hereford to the fullest. Young Donnie, who has just begun to walk recently, is a full-time job and hobby, says Mrs. Samuels, with a pert smile, but an enjoyable one.

The Samuels have a white toy poodle named Olive, that is a great pal to Donnie and they play together a great deal.

Mrs. Samuels was reared at Dallas and attended schools there. She says she likes the West Texas weather better than around Dallas but local thunderstorms seem to frighten her because Samuels works nights so much of the time.

She loves her role as homemaker and mother and enjoys cooking and sewing.

They love doing things as a family and enjoy camping, fishing and picnicing when they can find time.

They are looking forward to getting started to church, she says, but since living here, Samuels has had to work Sundays most of the time.

ROBBER-PROOF GLASGOW, Scotland — Customers at a new robber-proof bank that recently opened here never see the teller, just a picture of him on a closed-circuit television screen.

If a robber tries to get past TV screen, an electronic beam automatically locks the door behind him.

DEADLINE FOR HAPPINESS HYDERABAD, India — Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai has predicted that India will be among the happiest countries within 20 years.

"We have all the requirements of achieving happiness," he told a civic reception meeting. "Let us not be oblivious of the country's foundation, which is inner contentment."

TFB Opposes Oil Depletion Reduction Idea

WACO — A reduction in the oil depletion allowance will result in an increase in farmers' production costs, the Texas Farm Bureau says.

TFB President Sidney Dean of Victoria requested members of the Texas delegation to Congress to oppose all efforts to reduce the allowance. The House of Representatives recently passed a "tax reform" bill reducing the allowance from 27.5 percent to 20 percent. Senate action is expected soon. In a letter to Texas Congressmen, Dean said any decrease in the allowance will have one major effect — increasing the price of oil products to the consumer.

"You are already aware," Dean told them, "that agriculture is the largest purchaser and user of petroleum products. Any increase in the price of petroleum products will materially add to agricultural costs of production, adding fuel to the fire of the cost-price squeeze which farmers and ranchers continue to battle," he said.

The TFB leader said a major side effect of any increase in the cost of petroleum products would be increased competition from oil imports "which already poses a major problem for the oil industry."

Cake Decoration Is H. D. Club Program

Mrs. Leroy Edwards presented a program on cake decorating for the first meeting and luncheon of the season of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Paul Hoff.

Attending were Mrs. W. J. Lueb, Otto Olson, R. A. Fullerwood, A. A. Hare, A. E. Hodges, Otto Massey, C. L. Whitehead, O. L. Williams, Fred Barrett, Robert Cambell, Thelma Salvino, Roger Williams and H. D. agent, Mrs. Argen Draper.

The next meeting is scheduled September 18 in the home of Mrs. Tony Hoffman.

Garden Beautiful Club Hosts Morning Coffee

A Friday morning coffee in the home of Mrs. Homer Newton opened the season for Garden Beautiful Club with Mrs. Leo Witkowski and Mrs. Ray Cowser as co-hostesses.

New yearbooks were distributed and reviewed and each member told of their summer activities.

In a brief business session, it was decided to postpone the annual tour of homes until sometime in the spring.

Others attending were Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Roger Brumbley, Tom Carter, Herman Ford, Charlie Hood, L. H. Lookingbill, Charlie Noland, Don Robinson, Roy Smith and G. S. Solomon.

The next meeting is scheduled Oct. 3 in the home of Mrs. Bartlett.

Season Now On For Cool Grass

Cool season grasses should be planted during the month of September, if possible, or early October, according to Soil Conservation Service.

The most desirable grasses for this area are Tall Wheat, Tall Fescue, Smooth Brome, and Orchardgrass. "These grasses do good under irrigation," Ed Blackwell said. They are not recommended for dryland conditions.

Blackwell reported that these grasses can be planted now and be grazed by next March. "Since they are permanent-type perennial grasses, they need to be deferred from grazing until the root system is well established," he said.

Some grazing can be expected from these grasses every month except June, July, and August. They should be grazed very little during these months.

In planting these grasses, they may be planted in mixtures or as pure stands. Pure stands, however, are usually easier managed. A total mixture of approximately fourteen pounds per acre is a desirable seeding rate, Blackwell pointed out.

As in planting anything, a good seedbed is important, he continued. Prepare a seedbed that is free of weeds. Necessary items to consider in the management of any grasses are deferment until established, weed control, fertilization, irrigation, and fencing.

"These are must items in any successful pasture operation," Blackwell pointed out.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — What is the difference between going to school under the new educational act and the vocational training act?

A — Any veteran who served at least 180 days any part of which was after January 31, 1955, is eligible to attend school under the new educational act provided his release from service was other than dishonorable. Only certain service-connected disabled veterans can qualify under the vocational rehabilitation act.

Q — My U. S. Government Life Insurance is paid up but my wife has just died. I have no children and no near relatives. I really only need enough insurance to bury me. Also I owe money that I would like to pay off. Can I change my management of any grasses are deferment until established, weed control, fertilization, irrigation, and fencing.

insurance to meet this situation?

A — Yes. You may borrow against your insurance or you may wish to cash part of it in, retaining the amount of protection you consider necessary. You may also wish to revise your beneficiary designation.

Q — I am a patient in a VA Hospital and am 100 percent disabled due to service-connected disability. I am receiving additional compensation for my daughter who will be 18 soon. If she continues in school will benefits continue for her?

A — If your daughter is in school and unmarried, your additional compensation will continue until she is 23. Also, she may be entitled to educational assistance, regardless of marital status, at the rate of $130 per month after high school as the child of a totally disabled veteran. Application should be submitted for this benefit.

Q — How can a veteran selling his home be relieved of liability on a VA guaranteed loan?

A — One method is to require the purchaser to pay off the GI loan with his own resources or to obtain a new loan. Another method is to have an approved purchase assume all the veterans' liabilities on the home and have the VA approve the assumption agreement and specifically release the veteran from further liability to the VA.

Michael Kemp Presented At Recital Today

Michael C. Kemp, tenor, will be presented at recital by his voice instructor, Mrs. Frances L. Parker, at 4 p.m. at the Avenue Baptist Church today.

The occasion is open to the public and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Kemp's selections for the day include I Believe (Drake), Beside Still Waters (Hamblen), How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings (Liddle), The Green Cathedral (Hahn), None But The Lonely Heart (Tschalkowsky), May Day Carol (Taylor), Deep River (traditional), Nobody Knows The Trouble I've Seen (traditional), Mah Lindy Lou (Strickland), and The Impossible Dream (Leigh).

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Kemp, Michael was a spring graduate of Hereford High School where he was a band student for four years.

He will enter West Texas State University this fall with a four year voice scholarship which will lead to an applied music degree.

"Mah Lindy Lou" was the selection with which he auditioned to win the scholarship.

The Frontier Life: A Constant Danger

At The Deaf Smith County Library this week are two exciting, adventurous Indian stories and a tale concerning the role of importance nature and wilderness play in the life of a young boy. Look into them today.

DARK HILLS TO WESTWARD

By Harry M. Caudill

In 1789 Jennie Wiley was carried off from her cabin by a band of marauding Indians. She did not return to her husband until she made good her escape a year later. DARK HILLS TO WESTWARD: THE SAGA OF JENNIE WILEY is the story, fictionalized but based on fact, of one woman's remarkable endurance and of frontier life in the rich, beautiful and teeming hills of Appalachia.

At the time of George Washington's Presidency the American frontier reached only as far as western Virginia. The backwoods people lived in constant danger of ferocious Indian raids. Jennie Wiley, a young married woman, lived with her husband on a farm they had wrested from the forest. Enraged by defeat at the hands of a group of white hunters, a band of Indians broke into the Wiley cabin, murdered Jennie's children and her brother, and carried her and her baby away as captives into the Kentucky wilderness.

There followed a year of incredible hardships and danger. The baby that Jennie carried with her was murdered and scalped. She was pregnant at the time of her capture and bore a child in the wilderness. The child failed to pass the test of courage to which it was put by its Indian captors, and was slain.

During the next months, the war party which held Jennie captive made incessant raids on settlements and river boats and tortured at least one captive to death, in the most brutal way, while Jennie watched. Throughout, her ability to survive the horrors and hardships is a striking commentary on the resilience and toughness of the human spirit.

INDIAN HATER

By Glenn R. Vernam
Exiled by his wealthy uncle to a raw, primitive trading post on the upper Missouri River, young Jim Falconer used his fortunes could not sink much lower. Accustomed to the civilized life and sophisticated pleasures of cosmopolitan Philadelphia in the early nineteenth century, he despised his uncle for banishing him to a world of backwoods and savages, and lived only for the day he would return to his friends, beautiful Elizabeth Bailey in particular, and the glittering world of high society in general.

But his capture by the Sioux and the precariousness of his day-to-day existence made a mockery of his daydreams. Treated as a slave, beaten for his mistakes, and humiliated for his inability to do the simplest tasks, Jim kept his sanity only through a burning hatred for the savages and a stubborn will to survive. In the long months after his capture, however, Jim was forced to outwardly become more and more like an Indian, and as he did so he was unaware of the subtle changes in his attitudes and character, changes which became suddenly clear when he was given a chance to escape.

This is a colorful novel of life among the plains Indians in the early eighteenth century. It is also an interesting study of two conflicting cultures, Indian and white, in which white civilization dramatically appears less "civilized" than we would like to think.

THE WOLFLING

By Sterling North
More than one million readers, here and abroad, laughed and wept as they relived Sterling North's boyhood as related in his best-selling memoir Rascal. Now they will enjoy an enchanting story of a boy and his wolf set in the American midwest of one hundred years ago.

It was a time when the clear streams were alive with fish. Great wedges of wild geese, ducks, and millions of passenger pigeons filled the air with the rush of their wings. A few timber wolves still prowled the woods. Occasionally a boy like Robbie Trent, who loved the wilderness, had the courage to crawl into a wolf den to take for himself a wolf whelp that he would raise with loving care.

Those were the days when the McGuffey readers were considered second only to the Bible, when kerosene lamps were beginning to replace bayberry candles, and when quilting bees, house-raising and cornhusking provided the basis for a community spirit that is largely forgotten today.

Beyond the rail fence of his family's farm lay the deep woods, always beckoning to Robbie Trent. But a boy owed his full time and labor to his father until he was twenty-one years of age. It took great resourcefulness on the part of a young man to "buy his time." After schooling beyond eighth grade was considered a luxury and a priceless privilege.

Within the story, Sterling North introduces as Robbie's loyal ally the figure of Thure Kumlien (1819-1888), who lived in a log cabin in the woods across the fence and shared his rich knowledge of nature with the boy. This great Swedish-American naturalist, who should be ranked with Thoreau and Muir, knew every bird, beast, flower and insect. He comes authentically alive in this sensitive and nostalgic novel.

Social Security

Have you a question about social security? Address it to: Travis C. Briggs, District Manager, Social Security Administration, 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo, Texas. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.

By TRAVIS C. BRIGGS
Q. My accountant did not include in my gross earnings for 1968 the rental value of the parsonage and utilities furnished to me by the church. Is this optional? Minister.

A. No, it is not. The value of utilities and the rental value of the home furnished to the minister must be included as income in computing minister's net earnings for social security purposes. They are not included, however, in computing the amount subject to income tax.

Q. My brother, upon whom I was dependent, died in 1960. Can I get his social security?

A. No monthly benefits are payable to a dependent brother or sister. The Social Security Act provides survivor payments for only children, widows, dependent parents of a worker.

Q. My 20 year-old son was hurt in a car wreck and the doctor says he will be bedfast for 18 months. Can he be entitled to any social security benefits based on two years of work?

A. It's possible. Since he is under age 24, he needs only one and one-half years of work in the past three years to meet the work requirements.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I made an error on my 1968 income tax return and the IRS has just billed me for an additional $22, plus interest charges. Why do I have to pay any interest since it was an honest mistake and I filed my return before the deadline?

A — Under the law, interest is required to be charged on unpaid tax liabilities at the rate of 6 percent per annum. The interest charge is computed at that rate from the due date of the return, April 15, until the tax is paid.

Q — On the tickets I bought to a charity concert there was a note listing the amount I could take for a charitable contribution. Why was this amount less than the price of the ticket?

A — A tax deduction for a charitable contribution may be taken only for the amount in excess of what you normally would have paid to attend a similar concert. The difference between what you paid for the tickets and the amount allowable as charitable contribution reflects the value of the concert.

Q — I have a sales job that requires me to use my car several days a week. Since my boss doesn't pay me for the use of my car, can I deduct these expenses on my tax return?

A — If you have to use your car on business then the costs can be deducted. However, the costs of getting to and from your job are personal and not deductible.

You may deduct the actual expense including depreciation, or if you prefer, a standard rate of 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 cents a mile thereafter. Business related parking fees and tolls may be deducted in addition to the standard mileage rate.

Marguerita Jo Kershen Weds Micheal M. Daniel

St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church of Dallas was the setting for the impressive wedding of Miss Marguerita Jo Kershen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Kershen, Route 4, Hereford to Michael M. Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Daniel of Dallas.

Officiating for the 6:30 p.m. double ring vows on Saturday was Father Thomas O'Conner, pastor.

Large baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and gold pom-poms with greenery formed the background for the candlelight ceremony.

Miss Betty Kinney of Dallas, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and played the organ.

Q — Our 16-year-old daughter has a part-time job after school, but we still provide over half her total support. Since she is our dependent should she take a withholding exemption for herself on her job?

A — Your daughter may claim her own exemption for withholding purposes even though she is your dependent. She is also entitled to claim an exemption for herself when she files her income tax return, if she is required to file a return. She must file a return to claim any refund of income tax withheld.

traditional wedding marches. Maid of honor was Miss Denise Smyth of Philadelphia, Pa. and best man was Lawrence Colgin of Dallas.

Miss Lois Kershen served her sister as bridesmaid and groomsmen were Christopher Bird of Dallas.

Ushers were James Driscoll, John Donahue and Roger Landress, all of Dallas.

Candlelight peau de soie made the bride's formal gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice of patterned lace and long petal point sleeves. Pearl traced appliques of lace adorned the full skirt and her chapel length lace mantilla fell from a pearl tiara.

Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant worn on the high roll collar, which was a gift from her mother. Her bridal bouquet was white roses and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants wore formal royal blue peau de soie gowns with empire waistline and long sleeves. Gold pom-poms entwined with satin ribbon made their headpieces.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents where wedding guests were registered by Miss Kaye Kershen of Clovis, sister of the bride.

The serving table was draped with candlelight satin and caught at the corners with gold and yellow pom-pom mums and centered with an arrangement of gold chrysanthemums with fern. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow rosebuds, was topped with the traditional bride and groom.

Cake was served by Mrs. Ronald Kershen of Little Rock, Ark., sister-in-law of the bride and punch was ladled by Miss Linda Madden of Dallas.

Other members of the houseparty included Mrs. Herman Jasper and Miss Cindy Jones, both of Dallas.

Following a brief wedding trip the couple will live at Austin where they are students at University of Texas.

For traveling, the bride wore a brown and white double knit suit with beige accessories and her orchid corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Sonotone Hearing Aid Consultant will be in Hereford Tuesday, September 9, 1969 at the Jim Hill Hotel from 9:00 a.m. till 12:00 noon. Batteries and Service for all makes and models of Hearing Aids. Also Free Audiometric Tests and Analysis of your hearing.

3 out of 5 With Hearing Losses Do NOT Need Hearing Aids!

Why worry needlessly?
Come in, let Sonotone relieve your mind.
Medical authorities estimate there are up to 15 million Americans with hearing losses — but only up to 6 million need hearing aids. So, even if your hearing isn't as good as it was, the odds are 3 to 2 in your favor that you don't need a hearing aid.
Why worry needlessly? Come in and let a Sonotone hearing test relieve your mind.

If you don't need a hearing aid, Sonotone will be pleased to tell you so.
Our test—takes just a few minutes, gives you a complete "picture" of your hearing. You see the chart, you know the score — then you decide. There's no charge for the test, of course. Call for an appointment today and end your hearing worries.

A majority of American marine producers expect an increase during 1969 in premium volume for import cargo insurance, according to a nationwide survey by Marine Office of America. At present, foreign interests now control 70 percent of this insurance.

Homing pigeons carried the names of Greek Olympic victors to their home cities. The Roman naturalist Pliny marveled at the immense price and prestige commanded by pigeons: "Nay, they are come to this pass, that they can reckon up their pedigree and race."

Soybean Producer Seeks Referendum

AUSTIN — Texas soybean producers have petitioned for a hearing before Agriculture Commissioner John C. White on Sept. 15, seeking certification to hold a referendum under Texas' new "Commodity Check-Off" legislation.

The producers plan to include a twenty-three county area of northwest, northeast, and southeast Texas, which accounts for about 85 percent of state soybean production.

A public hearing has been set for 10:30 a. m., Monday, Sept. 15, 1969, to consider certification of the Texas Soybean Producers Association of Plainview as the authorized organization to conduct the referendum. Certification will be contingent on evidence presented at this hearing.

"The soybean producers' petition also proposes a nine-man commodity producers board to administer programs with funds collected if the assessment is authorized by referendum vote," White said.

Counties included in the petition are Deaf Smith, Parmar, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Lubbock, Crosby, Bowie, Red River, Lamar, Delta, Fannin, Orange, Jefferson, Chambers, Liberty, Hardin, Harris, and Galveston.

The 1970 National Airlines Open golf tournament will be held at the Country Club of Miami next March 26-29.

ProChemco Sets Earnings Record

AMARILLO, Texas — ProChemco, Inc., has achieved record high revenues and earnings for the nine months ended July 31, with gross revenues increasing 33 percent over the same nine months last year, according to Paul F. Engler, chairman of the board, and J. B. Watkins, president.

Gross revenues for the first nine months of Fiscal 1969 rose to $11,791,086 against $8,862,077 for the same period last year. Earnings per share were up 20 percent to 71 cents for the nine months against 55 cents per share the previous year, based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding for the two periods.

Net earnings increased to $718,454 during the nine months, compared to $534,411 last year. Cash flow through the third quarter of Fiscal 1969 rose to $1,246,815 against $1,012,019 for the same nine months the previous year.

ProChemco completed its first public offering of 350,000 shares of common stock in early July, which raised additional revenues of approximately $4,010,500. The Amarillo-based company

A THREE WOOD ACE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — The first hole-in-one ever scored on the second hole of the Lakeside course was registered here this spring by W. T. (Wee) Keenan, manager of the Greenbrier.

Playing in a threesome with E. Howard Harvey and John Londis, Keenan used a No. 3 wood for his 179-yard ace. It was his first hole-in-one in 26 years of golfing.

Miss Short Of Friona Weds Wayne Javan Pate

In a lovely September 1 wedding, amid a soft garden setting, Miss Lola Marie Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Short of Friona, became the bride of Wayne Javan Pate, son of Mrs. Malcolm Pate of Denver City and the late M.R. Pate. Vows were exchanged before a massive willow tree with the Rev. Russell McAnally, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Petersburg, officiating for the double ring service.

Miss Lynn Short served her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Janis Goggans.

Best man was Buddy Yates of Denton and Charles Dennis Short, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Serving as ushers were Glen Goggans, Nicky Hand, of Friona, and Bill Gunn and Dennis White of Canyon. Misses Kelli Jan Short and Corena Pate were flower girls.

Mrs. John Taylor of Canyon, pianist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Linda Archer of Canyon, as she sang "More" and "Love I Come To Thee."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal slimline gown of caudle light peau de sole with a white crystalline organza cage. The gown, designed and sewn by the bride, was fashioned with high rise neckline and short scalloped Chantilly lace sleeves. The lace was repeated on the formal hemline of the skirt. A crown of Chantilly lace held her veil of bridal illusion which flowed to chapel length and she carried a nosegay of daisies and yellow rosebuds.

The bridal attendants wore formal mint green empire gowns of peau de sole and chiffon and carried nosegays of daisies and yellow rosebuds.

A reception was held in the garden immediately following the ceremony where wedding guests were registered by the bride's sister, Miss Jena Kay Short.

The bride's bouquet centered the serving table where the three tiered all white wedding cake, which was made by the bridegroom's mother, was surmounted by the traditional bride and groom.

Presiding at the table were Miss Connie Schlinker, Mrs. Gary Hand, and Mrs. Dennis Paul Watkins of Lubbock. White, all of Canyon and Mrs. For a wedding trip to East

Texas, the bride's traveling ensemble was a beige double knit coat dress, designed by her mother, and a corsage of gardenias.

Marie was born in Hereford and attended schools here and in Friona where she was graduated. The bridegroom attended school at Denver City and both have attended North Texas State University at Denton. They are now at home at Denton where they will continue their education.

Special wedding guests from Hereford were Mrs. B. B. Noyes, grandmother of the bride; her great aunt, Mrs. Annie Parvin; and her cousin, Dale Noyes.

Other out-of-town guests were

Mrs. Bill Klawetter, Calvert, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. George Short, Cayanosa, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ragland, Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noyes, Dalhart; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Kenner, Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Quinney, Dallas; Bill Gunn, Rosanna Mathis, Canyon; Brenda Kenner, Mrs. Richard Bull, Hereford;

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Yates, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watkins, Miss Sue Smith, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Demmon Pate, Mrs. Malcolm Pate, Tillery Rendon, Denver City; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kuepper, Burlington, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Merrdeth, Roswell and Mrs. Lynn Phipps, Corpus Christi.

WHAT IS EVERYDAY LOW DISCOUNT PRICE?
True discount pricing is making your EVERYDAY grocery needs available at a LOWER TOTAL cost. Safeway does not have "sales" because every item is on "sale" everyday of the week. There is no need to wait for any food item to go on "special" before you can purchase it. Safeway's prices are available everyday of the week. Cutting prices for weekend "specials" necessitates making up the loss by higher prices on other items... Compare Safeway's EVERYDAY LOW DISCOUNT PRICES and you'll be convinced that Safeway Discount is the place to shop and save.

WATCH FOR OUR SUPER SAVERS
When we make an exceptional purchase, we pass the saving right along to you. Similar price reductions are also made possible by promotional allowances given by manufacturers. Because there are temporary extra savings, we mark them SUPER SAVER. Stack up while these extra savings are in effect.

HARD WATER and SOFT WATER may look alike...

but they are DIFFERENT!

Here's how to know if you have hard water

- Do you have a ring around your bathtub?
- Use harsh detergents?
- Fabric softeners?
- Use packaged water conditioners? Bleaches?
- Do you wear rubber gloves to do dishes?
- Is your hair "dull" after you shampoo it?
- Is your skin dry and scaly after you bathe?

DIK BROWNE

BUZ SAWYER Featuring His Pal Rosco Sweeney by ROY CRANE

WELL, HE GAVE SAMSON A TRYOUT AS SORT OF A JOKE. BOY, COULD THAT KID SNAG PASSES! COULD HE DODGE! COULD HE RUN! WHY, HE DID THE 100 IN 9.2 ZIGZAGGING!

MANY'S THE GAME MIGHTY SAMMY WON FOR US WITHOUT ONCE BEING TACKLED. THEN, IN OUR GAME FOR THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP, THE MIGHTY BEARS SCORED TO GO AHEAD OF US IN THE FINAL SECONDS.

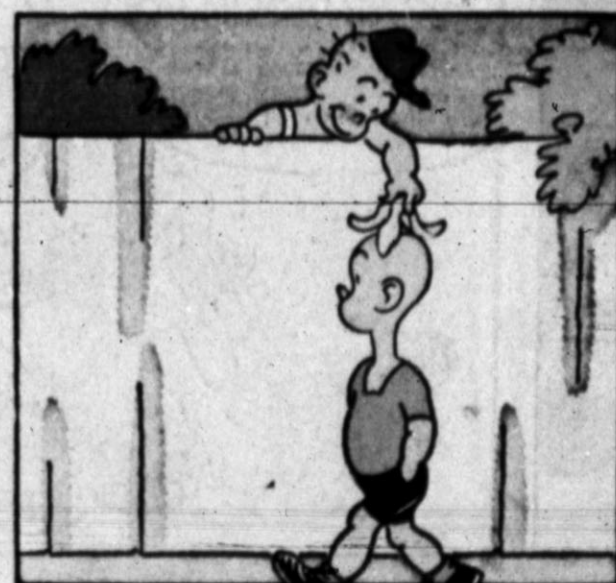

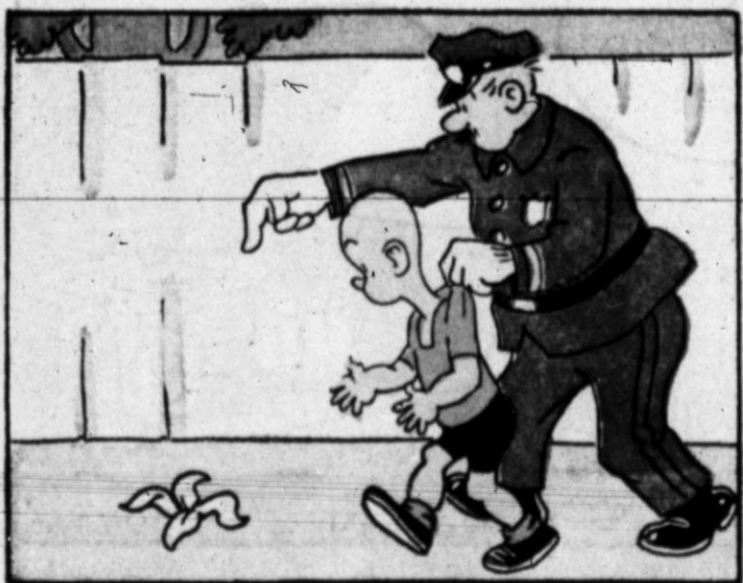

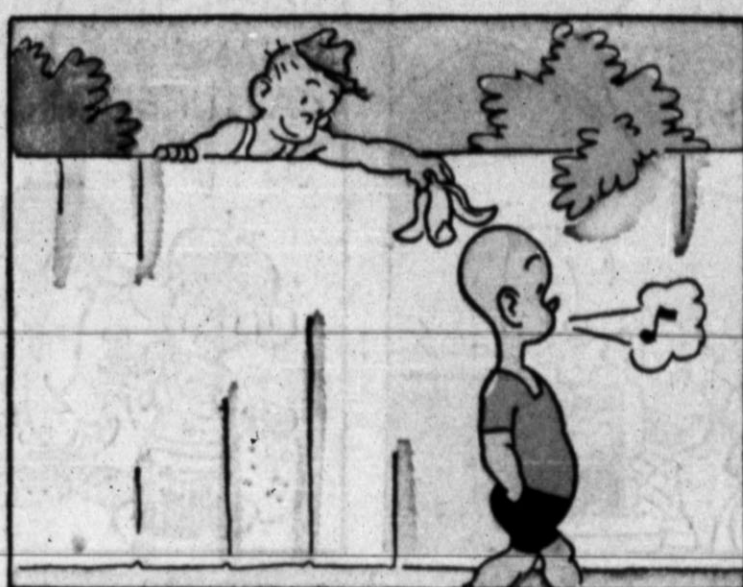

IT WAS OUR ONLY CHANCE. MIGHTY SAMMY TOOK THE KICKOFF, UP THE FIELD HE WENT... TO THE 20... TO THE 30... TO THE 40... THEN...

WHEN THE DUST CLEARED, THIS SHOE WAS ALL THEY COULD FIND. POOR LITTLE SAMMY—SNIFF—IF HE HAD ONLY EATEN HIS SPINACH AND WEIGHED ANOTHER 100 LBS.!

GOOD. EVERYONE'S ASLEEP. I MIGHT AS WELL PUT OUT THE LIGHTS

SWISH!

PLOM!

ALL RIGHT! WHO PUT THAT BANANA PEEL FOR ME TO SLIP ON?

WON'T CONFESS, HUH? WELL, NEVER MIND! I'LL FIND OUT WHICH ONE OF YOU DID IT!!

ALL I HAVE TO DO IS CHECK FOR STIFLED LAUGHTER

FLASH GORDON

THE WORLD SPACE CONTROL WAR ROOM...

OUR SATELLITE DEFENSE RING IS ALL BUT DEAD, DR. ZARKOV! HOW COULD THAT HAPPEN?

THEY'RE BEING JAMMED BY TRANSMITTERS PLANTED BY THE ALIENS, GENERAL!

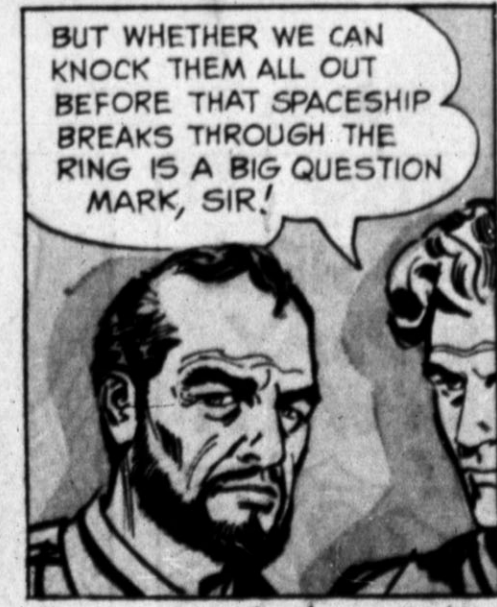

CAN'T THEY BE FOUND AND KNOCKED OUT?

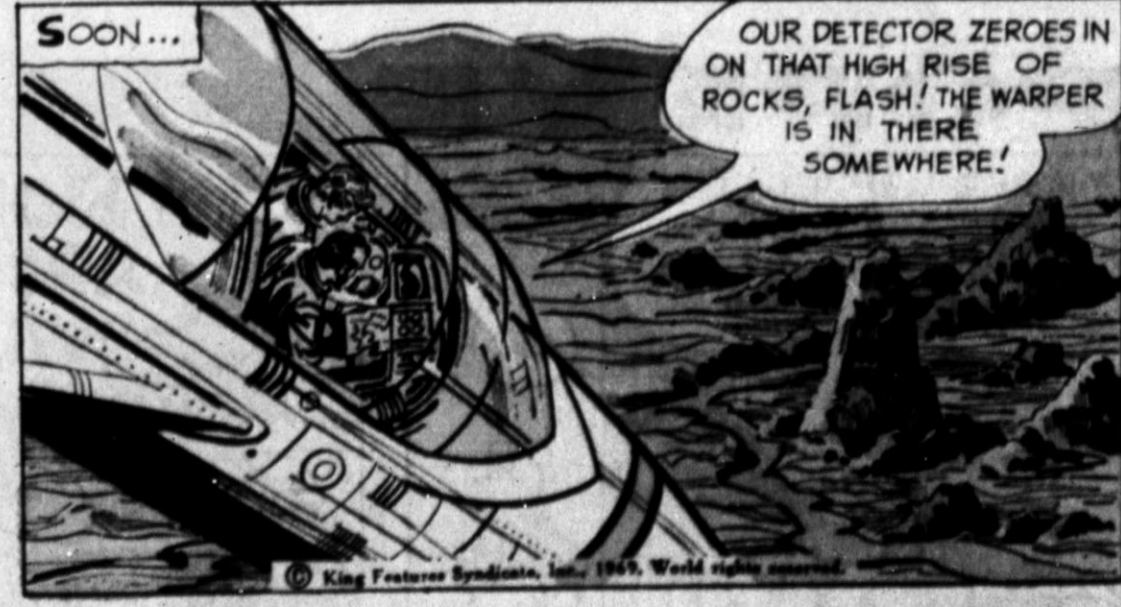

AN ALIEN INVASION CRAFT IS APPROACHING EARTH! AND OUR DEFENSE RING IS NOT FUNCTIONING!

FLASH AND I WILL FIND THE REST OF THE ALIEN TRANSMITTERS, GENERAL...

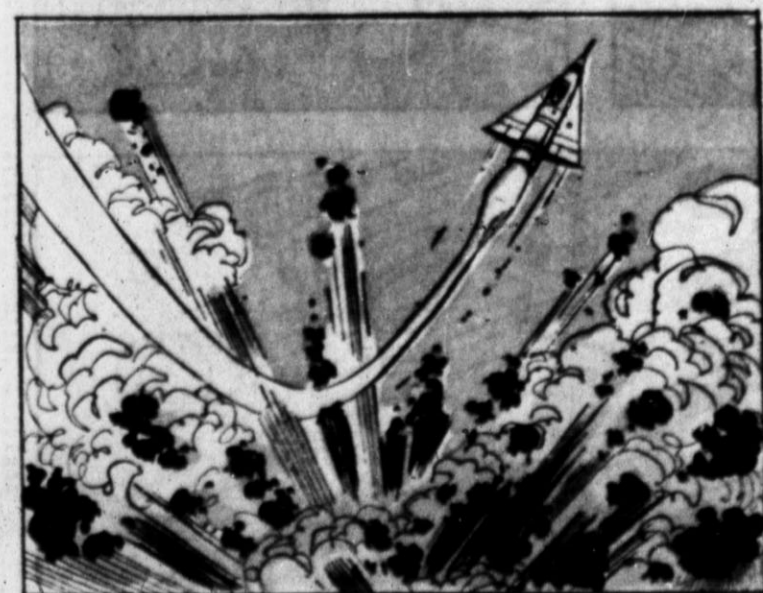

BUT WHETHER WE CAN KNOCK THEM ALL OUT BEFORE THAT SPACESHIP BREAKS THROUGH THE RING IS A BIG QUESTION MARK, SIR!

SOON...

OUR DETECTOR ZEROES IN ON THAT HIGH RISE OF ROCKS, FLASH! THE WARPERS IS IN THERE SOMEWHERE!

YOU DID IT, FLASH — THE JAMMING SIGNAL HAS STOPPED... TWO DEAD... FIVE TO GO! NEXT.. THE UMATILLA FOREST IN OREGON!

IS THERE TIME?!

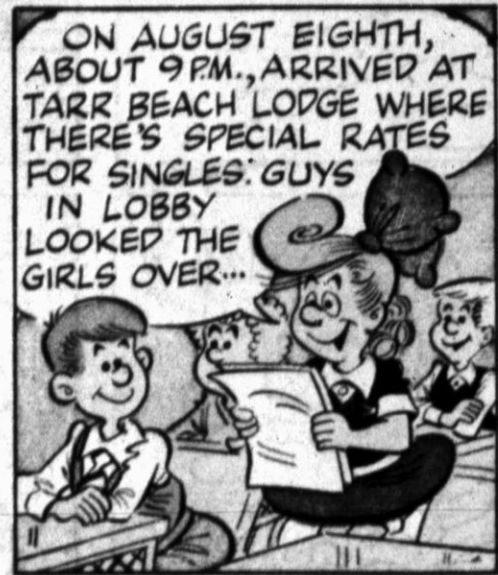

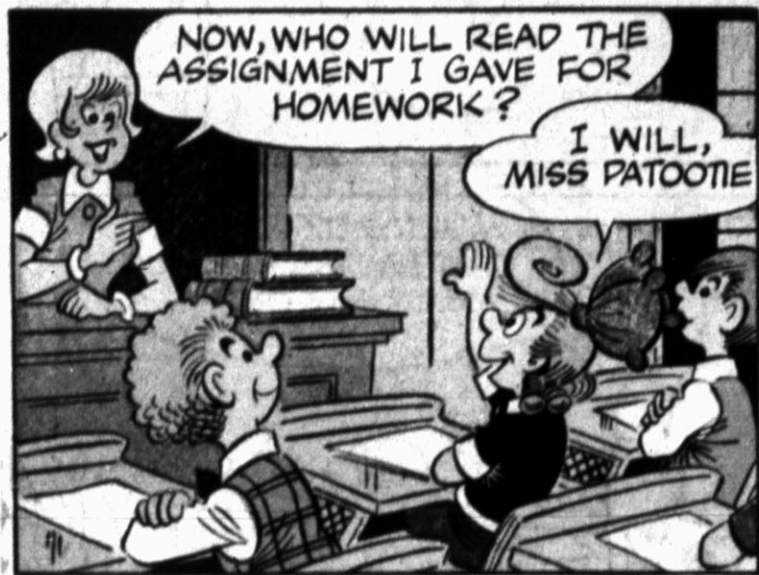

WHILE, AT THE OUTER RING OF EARTH'S DEFENSE SATELLITES...

ALIEN SPACECRAFT APPROACHING EARTH.. AND OUR GUNS NOT FUNCTIONING! EMPLOY SECONDARY DEFENSES!

AS PEDRO TRIES STEALING AWAY FROM THE OUTLAWS' CAMP, SUDDENLY...

LET ME GO!

WE'LL LET YOU GO WHEN YOUR OLD MAN LIPS THE REWARD HE'S OFFERING FOR YOUR RETURN FROM ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS TO--TEN!

R-REWARD? FOR ME? YOU ARE MISTAKEN!

WE'VE SEEN A POSTER ON YOU! YOU'RE A MEXICAN GOVERNOR'S SON!

IF THEY KNOW NOW THEY'LL NEVER LET ME ESCAPE!

MOOING... RIDERS COMING FROM TOWN! THIS COULD BE THE BANK ROBBERS' TRAIL! LET'S FIND OUT!

KEMO SABAY, LOOK HERE!

SOON... SMOKE! DISMOUNT! WE'LL GO ON FOOT FROM HERE!

WE FIND-UM! BUT GETTING PEDRO AWAY UNHARMED WILL NOT BE EASY! WE HAVE A CHANCE AS LONG AS THEY DON'T SEE US!

SAY, WHAT IS SPOOKING THOSE CRITTERS?
