"In the opinion of The Record the bill had better be killed entirely than to pass as now framed. To eliminate the engineering department and place it under the same board management as the school at Bryan means only a branch college, not worth much more than an experiment station. The Record opposes such a move and will not even advocate the locating of such an institution either in Colorado or Abilene."—Colorado Record.

"We too are displeased with the A. & M. Bill as now framed and pending before the House and Senate. Its mutilation was by reason of the efforts of the Bryan A. & M. College. Educational jealousy was at the bottom of the change in the bill. Dr. Blizzell of the Bryan A. & M. is a politician. He dictated these changes. The Bryan A. & M. College is so jealous of West Texas A. & M. or any other educational institution in Texas that they put their slimy hands into every educational project suggested. The Bryan A. & M. College should be clubbed out of politics in Texas. The way to do this is to cut off their appropriations until they keep their hands and fingers out of Texas educational affairs. If we were in the legislature, we would vote against every appropriation for the Bryan school until such time as they would retire from Texas politics. West Texas representatives should fight this bunch of Bryan dictators until they are as bloody as bulls, or until such time as they would keep out of the state's educational affairs. If it was not for the disgrace of the thing, we would run for the legislature ourselves next year for the sole purpose of help settling some things with this Bryan bunch of politicians. The way the West Texas A. & M. bill is drawn it is a cheap affair, and will not be of much material practical benefit to West Texas. Its actual worth will not be worth the cost of construction of the buildings. It is under the Bryan A. & M. board. This board will discriminate against the West Texas institution, will hold it down and keep it from reaching its proposed greatness. When we contemplate the rotten gall of this Bryan A. & M. bunch, it makes us so mad we want to go out and have a dozen fights at one time."—Lockney Beacon.

We had to read this amazing outburst twice before we would believe that our good friend, Editor Ben Smith, would allow such an unmentionable thing to appear in his editorial columns. Heretofore we have had a very high estimate of Editor Smith's common sense and sanity in all things.

To any one fortunate enough to know the real man, W. B. Blizzell, the statement that he is a "politician" and a jealous trouble-maker would be amusing were it not for the realization that many citizens of the state, who have no personal knowledge of the character of the man, may be misled into accepting the statement as fact. The editor of the Brand considers it one of the great privileges of his life to have been allowed to live on the college campus for a time and to have been a humble observer of the high ideals, exemplified in his daily family and official life, promulgated by the great president of the Agricultural & Mechanical College of Texas. There is just as much "politician" in President Blizzell as there is German blood in Marshal Foch of France.

The further statement that the A. & M. officials are jealous of the West Texas A. & M. and other educational institutions is not worthy of argument. Mr. Smith and men of his stripe, overlook the fact that due to the unsound financial basis upon which all our great educational institutions are at present founded, it becomes mandatory upon the heads of these institutions to devote a great deal of their time, sorely needed in their regular educational work, to begging the legislature of Texas for suitable appropriations. The trouble is in our system of financing these schools, not in the officials who are forced to lobby for funds under the system. The answer is a mill tax which would take educational matters out of the hands of the legislators at Austin.

Ordinarily we do not engage in editorial controversies and, so far as we are concerned, this one ends right here. But we could not refrain from saying a word in behalf of our Alma Mater and of the man who so splendidly directs its destinies. We are doubly sorry that it should have been a Panhandle editor who brought such grievously unjust and unwarranted accusations against a great school and a great man.

A CODE OF ETHICS

We do not believe a code of ethics generally has become a part of the working program of press associations. The constitutions of the Kansas Editorial Association, adopted many years ago, might be regarded as such and publishers and editors who adhere to it would not need additional restrictions to draw the respect of their fellows and of the public as well.

The Washington State Press Association, however, at its meeting at the University of Washington on January 15th adopted a specific code of ethics, which has just been issued in convenient form for distribution. If every editor in Washington conducts his paper in accordance with the provisions of the new code, Washington journalism will be respected not only by editors, publishers and advertisers, but by the general public whose connection with the newspapers of the state is as subscribers or readers.

For the information and benefit of other press associations and individual editors and publishers, The Auxiliary reproduces the Washington code in full:

CODE OF ETHICS

The members of the Washington State Press Association, believing in journalism as a profession and its opportunities for service to our state, do hereby establish the following code of rules and ethics for government of professional practice as obligatory on every member of the association.

To give due credit for all matter copied from other papers or magazines.

To investigate all questionable advertising and refuse space to misleading and illegitimate advertisements.

To use every endeavor to elevate the standards of journalism and to so conduct our papers that competitors may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate our example.

To strive for no circulation or success that is not founded on the highest justice and morality.

Not to publish or claim circulation in excess of actual figures.

Not to cut prices below published rates.

Not to speak disparagingly through editorial or news columns of competing papers or editors.

Not to engage help employed by a competitor without first informing the competitor and giving him an opportunity, if he wishes, to retain the employee.

Journalism as a whole in the state of Washington has attained a high standard, and the adoption of the code by the state press association only emphasizes the desire and aim of the newspaper men of the Sound country to preserve that high standard.—Publishers Auxiliary.

THE IDEAL PAPER

A countryman went crazy on hypnosis. He imagined he was the greatest hypnotist on earth. He was a powerful fellow and the officers knew he would put up a stiff fight. They were in a quandary about getting him to the asylum until, the local editor suggested a scheme. He told the crazy man there was a villain in the asylum who would unravel a thrilling scoop for the paper if he were hypnotized. The insane man consented to join the editorial staff and do the job.

On the train he drew about him a crowd and insisted on hypnotizing the editor. To keep him good natured the editor consented. After making a few passes with his hands in front of the editor's face, the insane man said:

"You are now hypnotized."

"I am," admitted the scribe.

"You are an editor!" declared the hypnotist.

"I am," was the answer.

"You don't smoke, chew, drink or swear at your delinquent subscribers!"

"I do not," admitted the editor.

"You never trade advertising for merchandise, never cutthroat your competitor's prices, never accept church sociable tickets for ice cream!"

"Never!"

"You do not accept pay for political advertising; you run your paper on a strictly cash, moral, religious basis. You never sass your rival across the street, take dried sweet corn on subscription or lie about your circulation!"

"All of which is true," declared the editor emphatically.

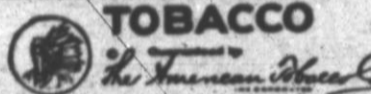

"Say," ejaculated the hypnotist, "what a fix you would be in if I failed to awaken you!"—Western Publisher, 1906.

The revolt against rent-paying is growing.

There is a wide-spread revival of the ideals of the early American settlers when every family owned the roof over its head.

The country is now beginning what is probably the greatest home-building movement in the history of the world.

ENTERTAINMENT OF VARIOUS NATURE IS FORT WORTH SHOW

DATES ARE SET FOR MARCH 1 TO 12—LIVESTOCK EXHIBITION CENTRAL FEATURE—OTHER ATTRACTIONS

Varied entertainment will be the watchword of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will be held at Fort Worth March 1 to 12. With an exhibition of blooded livestock that promises better than any made in past years as a nucleus and central feature, the show will be rounded out with numerous features that will provide entertainment for everybody.

M. Sansom Jr. and Ray H. McKinley again will be secretary-manager and assistant secretary-manager and they practically have the same efficient line-up that has assisted them in holding the show in previous years. John I. Burgess, prominent Tarrant county stockman, again will be director in charge of the livestock exhibition.

Eleventh-hour revision of the premium list gives the purebred herds about the same classification and money as at the 1919 show. Smaller premium classes hardly have witnessed any money reduction.

The cattle sales feature promises to be even more prominent than in the past. Added interest in this section has been aroused through the probability that numbers of Mexican stockmen, keen to secure first-class purebreds for the rebuilding of their shattered herds, will attend the stock show for this specific purpose.

The American Legion will take a leading part in the stock show, particularly on Tuesday, March 8, which has been set aside as American Legion Day. It is anticipated that 10,000 ex-service men from Texas and Oklahoma will be on hand that day and a special Legion program is being worked up.

Plans are being formulated to make the Rodeo features of the snappiest and most varied nature. Captain W. H. Furse, manager of the Horse Show features, is in communication with some of the leading stables of Oklahoma and other states and expects to have a first-class showing of equine beauties. In fact, he already has been assured of the participation of several large stables. He also expects to have a number of army entries from Fort Bliss, Okla. Other features of the Rodeo will consist of some of the most thrilling cowboy sports that ever have been staged in the United States.

The J. George Loos Carnival will be pitched on the Coliseum grounds. This splendid attraction has been held in connection with the stock show for several years but this time will be much larger and much different from previous performances. J. George Loos, the proprietor, has been busy all fall and winter lining up new attractions for the carnival, which will open its spring and summer campaign here. There will be many new and unique features that Texas carnivals have not yet presented.

For the first time, a splendid bench show will be held on the Coliseum grounds. This will be staged under the direction of the Fort Worth Kennel Club and one of the most creditable exhibitions of fine dogs ever made in Texas is anticipated.

The show will be inaugurated on the evening of March 5 with the usual splendid society event, a pageant that bids fair to eclipse any of past years. The event is under the direction of leading society women of Fort Worth and the scenery and costumes promise to be gorgeous.

It was evening and several callers were chatting in the parlor, when a patter of little feet was heard at the head of the stairs. Mrs. K. raised her head for slumber. "Hush, the children are going to deliver their good night message," she said softly. "It always gives me a feeling of reverence to hear them. They are so much nearer the Creator than we are, and they speak the love in their little hearts never so fully as when the dark has come. Listen!" There was a moment of tense silence. Then—"Mamma," came the message in a shrill whisper. "Willie found a bedbug."

The Frenchman did not like the looks of the barking dog barring his way. "It's all right," said the host, "don't you know the proverb, 'Barking dogs never bite?'" "Ah, yes," says the Frenchman, "I know the proverb, you know the proverb; but the dog—does he know the proverb?"

He—"I think there is something dove-like about you."
She—"Not really!"
He—"Sure, you're pigeon-toed."

Approximately 4,320 acres of land were restored to the Government during the last fiscal year, as a result of land-claim cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor for the United States Department of Agriculture. The timber stand on this land is estimated at 22,235,000 feet, valued at $98,840.

Your Profits Depend on Your Farming Methods

A comparison of horse and tractor operating costs presents many startling facts for the progressive-business farmer of today. If you are a horse farmer it is difficult for you to fully appreciate the value of power farming for the simple reason that it is hard to visualize the added advantages to be derived from new methods.

It is hard for you to figure cost of operation. It is hard for you to see and reduce the advantages of deep, quick plowing, of rapid discing and planting and fast harvesting into dollars.

The Samson Model "M" tractor has lowered operating costs on thousands of farms during the last year. Samson farmers made a profit this last year even though market conditions are low at the present time. If they had operated their farms as in previous years with costly animal power they would have been more than discouraged.

It is easy to overlook inefficient and costly horse methods and at the same time to discount the tractor's many advantages. But this year the problem confronting you calls for a careful investigation of crop production costs.

It is up to you this minute to decide whether you are going to fortify yourself for the coming season, so that your labors will show a profit. Let us show you how you can do this with the Samson Model "M" tractor—low cost power for your field work—your belt work—wherever you need power on your farm.

You can no longer dodge the issue. It is either low cost efficient power farming or high cost slow horse methods.

THAT PLAINVIEW-COLORADO CUTOFF

Col. R. P. Smith, W. E. Risser and Secretary Jno. L. Boswell, of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce attended a highway meeting at Hereford Tuesday night which was attended by representatives from Plainview, Dimmitt, Hereford, Grady, Tucumcari, Logan and Gallegos, N. M. At the meeting a highway association was formed, which embodies a route from Plainview to Gallegos with a probable extension soon from both ends of the route.

E. W. Harrison of Hereford was elected president, J. W. Corn of Tucumcari, vice-president, Jno. L. Boswell, of Plainview, secretary-treasurer. The following were elected as directors: John F. Smithson of Grady, N. M., Efracio Gallegos of Gallegos, N. M., B. D. Woodlee of Dimmitt, W. E. Risser of Plainview and E. W. Harrison of Hereford.

D. L. McDonald, of Hereford, was appointed as chairman of a committee to draft by-laws and constitution for the highway association and adopt a mark for the route to be used in logging the road.

At present the territory covered is about the installation of half-million-dollar bridge across the Canadian river at Logan, N. M., a short ways above Tucumcari makes possible an extension into Raton, N. M., and on into the Colorado resorts. The end of the present route at Plainview may be easily extended to Ralls, Crosbyton, Spur and Stamford and on to the coast, which will shorten the distance from the summer resorts in Colorado to the points along the gulf considerable. This route, when completed, will be much shorter than the Colorado to Gulf Highway or the Puget Sound to Gulf.

The large bridge across the Canadian which is well under construction at present and which made this short route possible is the only bridge across the river between Amarillo to Santa Fe, N. M. It is probably the largest engineering feat in the middle-west and the association plans to hold their next meeting at this point.

At the time the association was organized a name was not chosen but several were suggested. Some of those suggested were "Mile-A-Minute," "Texas to Colorado," "T. N. C." and "P. D.

Q." and others. Names will be chosen soon, which will probably be in June at which time engineers in charge of the large bridge state it will be completed.

According to those who attended the meeting plans will be materialized as soon as possible in order to get the road in first class condition for at least the return travel from the summer resorts in Colorado.

While in Hereford all representatives attended a banquet given by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce which was an elaborate affair. It was attended by about sixty highway enthusiasts. Plainview Herald.

"You Can't Saw Wood With a Hammer"

There is a power behind this little sentence. Do you stop to think just what it means. It is a case wherein lies much in little and it deserves wholesome thought from everyone who has the interest of their home town at heart.

It means, in the fullest sense, that public movements, improvements and so forth, cannot be successful as long as there are a part of the people who use the hammer instead of the saw when the saw only is required.

In short it means that a concerted, united effort with good words on the part of every one can accomplish anything, any desired end, even to the overthrow a dynasty; while a divided people, with miscellaneous saws and hammers at work, only produce discord and chaos and in the end but reflect most on the hammer brigade.

"You can't saw wood with a hammer."

SOLD GOOD FERTILIZER AS JOHNSON GRASS ERADICATOR

Dr. G. S. Fraps, State Chemist, has received a letter from the county agent at Cuero, advising that there has recently been sold throughout that section to a number of farmers, a so-called Johnson grass eradicator, the formula recommended being nitrate of soda, 2 pounds; unslacked lime, 4 pounds, and water, 25 gallons.

Dr. Fraps replied, of course, that nitrate of soda is a good fertilizer and that mixture ought to make Johnson grass grow better than it did before. He also advised that there has never yet been any chemical Johnson grass eradicator that has proved successful, though, of course, there are chemicals which will kill the grass and the soil also, but their application has always been too expensive. He observes further, that "it is a peculiar thing that people will pay out money for information they can secure for nothing."

Bay View Club

Continuing its study of Citizenship, the Bay View Club held a meeting of unusual pleasure and profit Thursday afternoon.

A paper, "Reasons for Organizing Political Parties," by Mrs. John McLean, contained much of value to the club, showing how party organization was the natural outgrowth of conditions and the only logical solution of national problems.

Another paper of equal merit, given by Mrs. Carl Cockrell was a "History of Political Parties." The leading tenets of the various parties with their outstanding differences were accurately outlined and a faithful picture of each presented.

The questions on lesson IV in American Citizenship closed the afternoon's study.

Y. P. S. C. E. Entertained

A valentine party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hastings, on Monday evening furnished delightful entertainment for the young people of the Y. P. S. C. E.

Crimson hearts provided the motif in a pretty decorative scheme that included all the receiving rooms, while progressive hearts furnished the evening's diversion.

J. M. Posey Entertains

A number of Boy Scouts with some of their girl friends were given a delightful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Posey on Friday evening.

An effective use of pot-plant lent special attractiveness to the pretty rooms where several tables of youthful players found much pleasure in the ever enjoyable games of forty-two and carom.

Following the games, fudge, divinity, and apples were served to the following young people: Misses Grace Ferguson, Eva Skelton, Elizabeth Stegall, Pauline Ray, Virginia Laird, Messrs. Carl Lester, Berlin Angelo, Johnny Higgs, Taylor Thurmond, Thurman Hines, Roger Corbett, Bernard Hicks, Egbert Bradley and J. M. Posey.

Teachers Honored

The entire school faculty, including both grade and high school teachers, were guests at one of the very pleasant functions of the week given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Laird with Mesdames Henry Hastings, J. Frank Potts and D. C. Laird as hostesses.

A charming decorative effect was obtained by the use of various valentine suggestions, deep red hearts being prominently featured. Progressive forty-two was the entertainment provided, the pleasure evinced in the games again proving the popularity of this favored pastime.

Marshmallow pudding with angel food cake constituted a most attractive and delicious refreshment course.

The occasion was enjoyed by: Supt. and Mrs. L. M. Fertsch, Misses Mill-cent Griffith, Velma Read, Ethel Williamson, Lucille Brand, Lamah Ellen James, Helen Sisk, Marie Haberer, Lucille Braudt, Gussie Christian, Elizabeth Corbett, Helen Frieble, Virginia Lowler, Mattie Swisher, Mahala Williamson, Mrs. James Lipscomb and Mrs. C. S. Garrison.

Celebrates Birthday

The sixteenth birthday of Miss Iida Barnes was the occasion of a delightful evening party at the home of her sister, Mrs. John B. Davis, Saturday evening.

Dainty decorations in lavender carried out the color scheme established in the invitations and added a pleasing note of festivity.

Games provided the entertainment, a gayly decorated "fortune basket," from whose contents the future of the guests was revealed, creating much merriment. Extinguishing the candles on a handsome birthday cake was an enjoyable feature that marked the close of a most entertaining program.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cinnamon rolls, doughnuts, and grape juice were served to about twenty guests.

Dinner Party Sunday

Messrs. W. S. Patton and R. T. Nunn were honor guests at a delightful dinner party given Sunday by members of the Witherspoon-Estes Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School at the home of Mr. Patton, the occasion celebrating the sixty-first birthday of both honor guests.

Immediately following the morning church services the company, sixty-five in number, assembled at the Patton home and arranged the magnificent dinner already prepared by members of the class. The table, extending almost the entire length of the dining room, was indeed a thing of beauty, appointed so handsomely and laden with a veritable feast of attractive and delicious dishes.

The afternoon was spent informally, chessy open fires, and a homelike atmosphere contrasting pleasantly with the intense cold of a genuine winter day. The absence of Mr. Nunn, occasioned by illness in his home, was the only feature that marred a day replete with the joys of kindred interests and loved associations.

Out-of-town guests who shared the day's pleasures were: Mr. and Mrs. Hicks Daniels and baby, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Read and daughter, Miss Mary Dee, and Mrs. Baker, all of Amarillo.

Sunday School Class Entertained

The members of the Sunday School Class taught by Mrs. E. F. Connell were given a jolly evening Friday, at the home of their teacher.

The class consists of twelve boys, each of whom was allowed to invite a girls friend. The big, roomy house was thrown open to the merry company in an "As you like it" party, the guests choosing the games they liked best and entertaining themselves according to their own fancy.

Refreshments of cake with brick cream, served by the hostess, closed the evening's pleasures.

Club Celebrates Washington's Birthday

In response to invitations issued by the K. K. K.'s a jolly company of young people spent a delightful evening at the home of Miss Mary Hicks, Monday evening.

The nature of the occasion was revealed in the wording of the invitations which read as follows: "We are all one body we, Come help us chop the cherry tree."

At the door the guests were presented with suggestive favors in the form of miniature hatchets, bearing a picture of Washington, and tied with cherry-colored ribbon.

A program of clever games gave much pleasure, one of the most favored being the "Tongue Dance" in which the boys fled out, with the girls' names, mock dance programs containing a list of fourteen conversation topics, the evident enjoyment of the spirited conversations which immediately followed, proving that tongues were indeed proficient in the art of dancing.

An enjoyable refreshment course consisted of marshmallow pudding served with whipped cream and cookies.

The evening was enjoyed by Misses Mary Belle Hamr, Emma Belle Elliott, Beulah Davis, Inez Hodges, Hazel Rainbo, Virginia Morgan, Nora Beams, Pearl Golden, Lelia Orr, Lela Roberson, Victoria Wilson, Mattie Mounts, Mary Hicks; Messrs. Charles Burkett, Howard Golden, Baker Womble, Jack Chandler, Daniel Bell, Emmett Albyn, Guy Gilliland, Paul Jowell, Vernon Curtis, Delma Rayzor, James McEntyre, Bob Axe, and Keith Stegall.

Miss Velma Read, sponsor for the club was guest of honor.

Birthday Dinner

Last Wednesday Mrs. R. J. Kibbe entertained a number of ladies at her home north of town with a most sumptuous birthday dinner. The guests were old friends, neighbors and members of her church, whose long residence in the county had brought them together in social and religious activities.

The dining room was very attractive with its long table covered with handsome linen and pretty china. The large white birthday cake contrasted vividly with the glowing crimson and green of the floral centerpiece.

Turkey, with all its accompaniments, cranberries, pickled cherries, creamed potatoes, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, slaw, salad, angel and gold cake, charlotte russe and coffee were among the good things enjoyed by the recipients of Mrs. Kibbe's hospitality. February, although the shortest month on the calendar, was found to be the birth-month of several of the guests, as well as that of the hostess.

A number of pretty gifts, among them handmade handkerchiefs, cut flowers and blooming plants, expressed the good feeling and appreciation of the guests.

Mrs. Kibbe is a pioneer resident of the county, having passed thirty years of her life here. She has seen great stretches of uninhabited country grow into farms, villages and towns, with railroads, telephones and all modern conveniences. Her success and experience in life, as well as the success of her birthday dinner, conclusively prove that February 23rd is not a "hoodoo day."

The ladies who enjoyed this delightful occasion were Mesdames Gough, Ferguson, Ramsey, Ricketts, Guthrie, Al Vaughn, Henry, Bowers, Daugherty, Coulson, C. R. Smith, Vanderburg, Gilbreath, Jowel and Asbell.

Road Consturction in 1920 Beseet With Difficulties

Every kind of road cost about twice as much to build in 1920 as it did in 1917, according to the Chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, and highway construction suffered more than any other class of work through railroad congestion, strikes, labor troubles, and material shortages.

After the war there was a great public demand for improved roads. Many roads had been seriously damaged by war traffic, and it appeared that the return of men from military service would provide an abundance of labor. The army of laborers which was expected to apply for the work did not, however, materialize.

In proportion to this demand there was also a pronounced scarcity of construction materials. Sand, gravel, stone, and cement and materials commonly used in road work increased in price between 1917 and 1920 from 50 to 100 per cent.

As funds available for road construction are largely limited by statute, or by the returns from taxation, a majority of the States this year have deliberately withheld work, the plans for which had been completed, until they could obtain a greater return for their expenditure.

erately withheld work, the plans for which had been completed, until they could obtain a greater return for their expenditure.

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Christian Church will be held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ramsey. The lesson subject is "Our Mission Work in the Congo" and the study will be directed by Mrs. J. E. Ferguson. A full attendance is urged as a president is to be elected at this meeting.

From the number and tenor of reforms already undertaken in the way of proposed health legislation, it is entirely within the pale of possibility that Texas women will soon be asking at government inspected shoe stores "statutory heels" or "legalized low cut" shoes, according to Dr. Mantou M. Carrick, State health officer, who advances the startling theory that if high heeled, sharp toed shoes continue to be worn, we may, in due process of evolution develop into a one-toed, or hoofed race, and perhaps in our seventh incarnation go clattering along in most ungainly fashion.
"Seriously," says Dr. Carrick, "while the French heel may add a little to the height and make a No. 6 look like a 3, it steals the freedom from the ankle motion, shifts the greater part of the body weight to the ball of the foot and cramps and crowds the toes so that a most unbecoming peglike gait is the result.
"Army records show a shamefully high percentage of rejections on account of painful feet, fallen arches and foot deformities among the Jims and Bills and Joes who never wore French heels in their lives," asserts the new health officer for Texas, whose service during the war as major in the medical corps, United States army, gave him every opportunity for observation along this line.
Dr. Carrick went on to say: "From the heel to the front the bones of the foot form an arch, which gives strength and springiness to the gait. A second shorter arch bows from one side to the other. The second arch is supported only on the outer side, the inner edge riding high and free, is responsible for the hollow space on the inner side of the normal foot. The bone arches are held in place by ligaments supported by muscles. When these muscles are weakened by protracted illness, disease or overstrain, the ligaments are apt to stretch and permit the arches to sink. This condition is called flat foot. The pull of the ligaments on the outer shell of the bones causes severe pain. In some instances flat foot causes little inconvenience; in the negro race it is almost a normal condition; but the condition known as painful feet, which results from muscular weakness, is not only distressing but a serious handicap. "Headaches from eye strain are familiar, nervous disturbances from constant foot strain are just as common, but not so generally understood.

"They used to say, 'Toes out,' parent, teacher, dancing master, the army and all. Then it was discovered that toeing out meant an extra strain on the supporting arches. Flat feet or painful feet are rare among straight toe walkers. So now the teaching is: Walk with your feet parallel—toes straight ahead.
"If you have painful feet, you naturally turn to your doctor for advice. He will tell you that the patent artificial devices for the correction of foot defects are for the most part unreliable and, as improperly fitting shoes have largely contributed to your condition, he will advise the right kind of shoes and special foot exercise. One of the Tait McKenzie exercises which has proven most valuable is to raise the heel about an inch from the ground and walk on the ball of the foot as if the heel were painful. This exercise should be practiced a number of times each day and for a hundred steps at a time. Proper shoeing and regular systematic foot exercise as prescribed by an experienced physician seldom fails to cure the condition known as painful

Be Sure It's a Rumely

Over 80 years ago—when the idea of power on the farm had hardly yet kindled—the Rumely ideal in power farming machinery building was born—the ideal to design and build farm power equipment so supremely good that it could not be surpassed.
And now for over 80 years every step in the process of designing and building Rumely products has been held firmly to this ideal. Years of hard farm service have proved the supremacy of Rumely design, and likewise the superiority of its construction.
Take the Rumely OilPull tractor, of which there are four sizes. It is the only tractor guaranteed to burn kerosene under all conditions at all loads up to its full brake horsepower. It has an unequalled record for long life—many of the first OilPulls built, over 12 years ago, are still working as steadily as ever. It is the only tractor possessing the distinct advantage of an oil-cooling system. It is the only tractor with a double lubrication system.
Then there is the Rumely Ideal separator, five different sizes. Like the OilPull tractor, it has exclusive and advanced features of construction. It threshes fast and clean and has a remarkable capacity.

The Rumely Universal steamer is built in three sizes. Built complete in the Rumely shops, unparalleled in the consumption of fuel and water, and known the world over for its steaming qualities, the Universal steamer holds the highest rank as the standard steamer of the world.
The new Rumely 1 1/2 ton farm truck is especially designed for farm conditions and is the result of a long period of experimentation and investigation by the Company's engineers. Every feature has been tried and found eminently satisfactory for farm truck use.
If on your farm you want power farming equipment that will do your work well, at an uncommonly low cost for fuel and upkeep, and will hold up under the strain of hard work year after year for an unusual number of years, then make your choice a Rumely. Let us help you make your selection.

Methodist Missionary Society
 The Methodist Missionary Society met in regular session at the church last Wednesday at 2:30. Our lesson from Bible and Missions was very interesting. Mrs. Heard gave us a splendid talk on Bible distribution and what the Bible meant to the people in prison, also in various parts of the world. In the absence of some of the speakers, the remainder of chapter four was discussed by several of the ladies, speaking of what the Bible meant to the soldiers, also the Pocket Testament League, its beginning and growth. The program was not completed and will be continued at a later date.

J. J. Phipps took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Glibbreath Monday.

Mrs. Ernest Jones is visiting her home folks in Hale Center, this week.

The Ladies Aid met to sew for Mrs. O. C. Axtell Thursday.

Mr. Cunningham of Childress, spent a day with his son at Spring Lake this week.

J. I. Phipps and family, Cecil Johnson and Mr. Fry attended the Literary at Cleo school house Saturday night. They certainly had an interesting programme and the music was of the best.

Obituary

The death angel came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleave Hamilton Tuesday morning and took from their loving embrace their sweet little darling Margie Mae, aged 4 years and 29 days. She had been ill for most three weeks with scarlet fever and took suddenly worse on Sunday and continued worse until she died. She was so patient and sweet all the time and a few moments before she died she waved her little hand heavenward and passed away without a struggle to that sweet haven of rest to be with Jesus, where there is no sickness, pain or death, and sorrow never comes. Oh, it was so hard to give her up, but the Heavenly Father had need of her in his beautiful home above, for he has said in his blessed word, "Suffer little children to come unto me for such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The parents are heart-broken and it seems that we cannot find words to express our heartfelt sympathy in this their sad bereavement, but will say we do know there is one who is ever ready and willing to let us lean on his everlasting arm and sustain us in our every trial, however, we will say all that could be done to lay the little one away beautifully, was done.

After a short and appropriate funeral service by Bro. McKenzie, the choir sang two beautiful songs, "Asleep in Jesus," and "Rock of Ages," after which we laid her to rest in the Spring Lake cemetery. The little grave was covered with a wonderful collection of lovely flowers.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in His Wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given;
And though our darling stumbers here,
Her soul is safe in Heaven.
A True Friend.

AUTO COLLISION CAUSES ONE DEATH

Marshall Phelps, who has been a citizen of Hale county for the past several years, was instantly killed and Mrs. E. Y. Brown suffered minor external injuries yesterday afternoon when cars they were driving collided.

There are conflicting reports as to how the accident occurred and Mrs. Brown is unable to state the details. W. J. Epsay, who had gone with Mr. Phelps north of Plainview on some road-work, was about a mile behind the cars, although he did not see the accident. He states that apparently the two cars were on the left side of the road, as that was the smooth side, and that Mr. Phelps was trying to pass the car Mrs. Brown was driving, going to the right. It seems that another car was coming on the left side of the road and that Mr. Phelps did not see it and Mrs. Brown, not knowing that Mr. Phelps was so close turned out of the road to the right about the same time, the two cars colliding. The car Mr. Phelps was in turned over several times and he was instantly killed. Mrs. Brown was thrown from her seat and was between the two seats of her car which was overturned when she was found.—Plainview Herald.

REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label. Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods. And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

Now Remember—Always Use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk—that's all you use. You never have to re-bake. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence. Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Columbian Muffin Recipe
—4 cups sifted flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2 cups of sweet milk. Then mix in the regular way.

Poultry Pointers

"Raising thorough-bred or high grade chickens pays better in money and in satisfaction," says Mrs. D. E. Turrentine, who is raising a fine grade of pure-bred Barred Plymouth Rocks.

"Farmers do not need or want fancy show birds, but a good utility chicken, well bred. And there has been a great advance in the raising of pure-bred chickens here in the last few years. When I came here, ten years ago, a hen was only a hen and sold for a quarter.

"I hope to see pure-breds instead of mongrels on every farm in Deaf Smith and Castro counties within the next few years. A Poultry Association and more interest and exhibits for the County Fair are needed. I think a few cash prizes would help.

"I have furnished breeding stock to quite a number of folks this season and some of them say they are going to beat me in the Poultry Show at the Fair. Here's hoping they do—if they can."

The Poultry House

The importance of providing a comfortable, cheery home for the hen can not be overemphasized, for, when you figure it out it is plain that the hen spends over half of her time inside the house. Comparing the hen to the cow we can see why so many fall at the poultry business. Many are discarding the old way of housing the hen, thank goodness, but we still find too many making the poultry house the last and least of all else. Most of the cow stables are cleaned daily. It is not left for a rainy day or is cleaned annually or semi-annually, as is the case too often with the hen house.

A thousand-pound cow breathes less than 3,000 cubic feet of air in twenty-four hours, and her normal temperature is 100 to 102. A thousand pounds of hens breathe over 8,000 cubic feet of air in twenty-four hours and the normal temperature is 106 to 107.5. So now we can see the importance of plenty of fresh air in the hen house. There must be a constant supply of fresh air coming in, but without draft on the hens. Too many houses are not properly ventilated. They have ventilators near the top of the house, and that lets out the pure and warmed air. The foul air is always the heaviest and is found near the floor. The best way to supply fresh air without drafts and to keep out rain and snow also, is made like the ventilators on cupolas or the kind we see in the old-time dwellings, setting at a 45 degree angle is about right! I set this ventilator window two feet from the floor. This drives the fresh air upward as it enters, and as it strikes the warm air it expands and drives the foul air out at the little door where the hen enters or goes out. I have a wire door at this place and never shut this with a solid shutter.

To every ten square feet of floor space I use one square foot of glass. I hinge windows at the top to open outward, and to hold windows open I use a hook made of heavy wire. These windows are kept open most of the time. They can be left open in stormy weather, and as they open outward no snow or rain can enter to spoil the litter. For ventilators I allow about one square foot to every fifteen square feet of floor space. I use 1-inch mesh netting over all windows and ventilators latched on inside of house. This will keep out sparrows and other enemies of poultry.

I build all my houses facing south. That way I get more sunshine in the houses, and sunshine is nature's disinfectant. I place my houses on high ground so I will have no mudholes nor sour heavy soil, as that is hard to keep sanitary. And the air drainage is important. A low swamp or hole, for a hen house, where the fog hangs, is a miserably poor place for a poultry house. This is what brings on roup, coids and other diseases, and the best kind of house would not overbalance such. I keep six or eight inches of litter on the floors all the time. I find a house with litter is more dry than one without, and a dry house is warmer than a damp one. So litter works for two purposes; it absorbs moisture and furnishes exercise for the hen. With this kind of housing I am never bothered with damp litter or roup cases.—James E. White, in American Poultry Journal.

Advertising in the Country Weekly

Advertising in the country weekly is the most valuable advertising in the world. Expert advertisers say it is not only the most valuable, but the most scientific advertising in the world. Advertising in the magazines has to be general for the reason that the average magazine that you receive today was set in type several weeks ago, and the advertising copy was prepared several weeks before that. This means that advertisers in magazines have to anticipate conditions several weeks in advance of the time the copy is prepared.

This is not so with advertising in the country weekly, for the country weekly has the advantage over the magazine in that the weekly circulates in a comparatively small territory and the name of the merchant or the business man who is selling the goods can be placed in the advertisement. This is impossible in magazine advertising, which covers sometimes the whole nation.

The weekly newspaper also is considered the best advertising medium in the world by expert advertisers for the reason that it has more intimate association with the family than a magazine or a daily newspaper.

No local merchant can afford not to advertise in weekly newspapers of the better class. It is said commentary upon small town business men that they don't see the advantage of carrying an advertisement in the small town paper every single week. Such an advertisement is the cheapest salesman that the merchant can employ. The money spent in advertising in the better class of weekly newspapers is an investment and not an expense; and it is the best paying investment that the merchant can make; but not one in a thousand publishers of the weekly newspapers is compensated anywhere near what he is worth to the merchants and to the community in which he dedicates his life. Every editor of a weekly newspaper is constantly working in behalf of every merchant in his community, whether that merchant patronizes the local paper or not; but every merchant of every community unfortunately does not have the business foresight to see that it is to his own personal advantage to help support the country editor by advertising—telling the people in the newspaper what he has, how it can be used and what it costs.—Newark, (New York) Union-Gazette.

KEPT MUCH CASE
HIDDEN IN ROOM

This morning, about 10 o'clock, Daniel Lynn, aged 60, died at the Morgan-Carlicker Hospital from the effects of injuries suffered during the Bybee fire Monday morning. Dan had a room in the northwest corner of the two-story Scott building adjoining the burning building on the north. Some of the firemen knew that Dan was staying in this room and looked in soon after the fire was discovered but failed to see him. It was later decided to break into the room and look more carefully and Dan was found lying under his bed in an unconscious condition. He was carried to a doctor's office and given first aid, which revived him. He was then taken to the hospital for further treatment.

During the forenoon of Monday deceased was conscious, telling Mayor Mitchell where some money would be found in his room. A search was made and resulted in recovering fourteen $100 bills, four $50 bills and some smaller bills, making a total less than $1700. This was found in three different places in his room. In addition, it is said that Dan had other funds amounting in all to several thousand dollars. Tuesday morning his condition grew worse and, seeing he was apt to die, the suffering man called his friend, Roy Coffey, and had his will made out, donating all his property to an orphan's home in New Orleans and the Salvation Army. The orphan's home is said to be an institution that raised Dan until he was able to care for himself.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced, except that they will occur sometime Thursday.—Childress Post.

A bill has been offered in the Kansas legislature which provides that a wife may assume the status of an employee in her home, which would permit her to recover damages for injuries sustained while performing household duties, under the State workman's compensation law. The husband, in the role of employer, would have to pay such damages.

Auction Sale
OF
Registered and High Grade
JERSEYS

(New Sale Pavilion)
HEREFORD, TEXAS
Wednesday, March 2nd, 1921
1:00 O'clock

At the solicitation of some of the Purebred Breeders of Hereford, who are interested in better Dairy Stock, we are selling two car loads of Real DAIRY COWS on the above date. This choicely selected offering of REGISTERED JERSEYS of Popular Blood lines, and a few High-Grade Jersey Cows, many of them full-bloods but not registered. Almost the entire offering are FRESH or HEAVY SPRINGERS and ready to go to work.

Now this is not a "good, bad and indifferent bunch;" but we have selected them with but one object—"Take good ones or none." There are no culls in the bunch, and, while they are still wearing their winter coat and only in medium flesh, we believe you will agree with us that they are the kind that will make you money and make friends for the Jersey Breed.

Our Way of Selling
A plain statement will be made on each animal when brought into the ring. And on the Registered ones, Pedigrees will be read from the stand. Every animal will be Guaranteed a breeder and as represented. Every animal offered will be sold regardless of price, without by-bids or Protection of any kind. In other words, "YOU SET THE PRICE." If you need a milk cow either Registered or High Grade, you can't afford to miss this sale. We are saving you your express bill by bringing them to your door. They have been Tuberculin Tested, you run no risks.

We will bring one or two well bred Young Bulls good enough to head any herd.
Sale RAIN or SHINE. Don't let the weather keep you away. The worse the weather the better bargains you will be able to secure.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. Riley Green, owners of "Red Roof Stock Farm" Wolfe City, Texas, will be in Hereford on day before sale and will be glad to meet all people who are interested in better Jersey Cattle. They consider THIS one of the greatest offerings ever shipped from "Red Roof."

GREATEST HORSE NOW MUNCHES BLUEGRASS

Man o' War, the greatest horse ever bred, has stepped his last mile in competition. The other day at Lexington (Ky) track, before thousands of admiring eyes, he plowed his way through mud in long easy strides, his last exhibition. Now his owner, S. N. Riddle of Philadelphia, has retired him for breeding purposes on a Kentucky stock farm. Man o' War, in beating the 1920 champion, Sir Barton, by more than seven lengths in a matched race at Windsor last fall, set a record for winning never attained by a horse before—nearly a quarter million dollars. His record of 1 35 3-5 for the mile was made when "held up" for a sixteenth of the way by his jockey. He has never yet been "let out."
