National 4-H Week Begins

Steven Olson, Leader In 4-H

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Every nationwide commerce or business in America has its own type of training program for interested youth. The nation's agriculture is no exception. One of the largest state and national agricultural organizations is the 4-H Club.

The 4-H Club, like any other organization, must have qualified and willing leaders to be a success. The Dawn branch of 4-H is proud of its fine president and leader which is Steven Olson.

Steve is the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Olson of Route 3, Hereford. A senior at Hereford High School, Steven has been a member of 4-H for a total of seven years. Each year of his membership he has entered livestock in the Beef Cattle contests throughout the state. He has been rewarded many times in the past few years for his participation in these contests by winning several awards. Steven began raising cattle as a club project in 1962 when he fed one steer. Progressing in number as well as knowledge

National 4-H Club Week begins today.

4-H has had clubs in Deaf Smith County since about 1935, when the county received its first permanent County Agricultural Agent, and, according to Argen Draper of County Extension Service, they "have been doing great ever since."

There are now six clubs in the county — Dawn 4-H, Ford 4-H, Willing Workers 4-H, Happy Husters 4-H, Merry Maidens 4-H and the 4-H Horse Club — which have a total of 105 members.

In this issue of the Sunday Brand there are stories and pictures of local 4-H members and their activities. Cooperation toward gaining this material was supplied by County Agricultural Agent Juston McBride, Mrs. Draper, assistant Home Demonstration Agent Rita Huckert, and secretary Kay Cockrum.

Mrs. Huckert explained that part of the work of the county agent and extension service "is with the youth — which includes 4-H."

4-H is a program for young people who take part in farming, homemaking, community service, personal improvement, and other activities. "4-H Club members learn by doing."

Three of the oldest length-of-service members here are Joette Hanna, Mike McCathern, and Jimmy Christie.

They can tell you that the 4-H motto is: Make the Best Better.

Actually, 4-H goes back nearly 70 years.

Various farm leaders began sponsoring "boys and girls agricultural clubs" about 1900. Several states began these informal educational groups at about the same time. Therefore, no state is regarded as the official starting place of 4-H Club work.

Corn, canning, and poultry clubs, organized mostly in central and southern states, gave farm boys and girls experience in "learning by doing." In 1902, A. B. Graham, a county superintendent of schools in Ohio, began one of the first clubs that resembled the present 4-H clubs. It followed a planned program, held regular meetings, and carried on agricultural projects.

As early as 1904, more than 8,000 Illinois farm boys exhibited their corn projects in the Palace of Agriculture of the Louisiana Purchase Centennial Exposition at St. Louis. About the same time, the Ohio State Federation of Rural Schools' Agricultural Clubs was organized.

Superintendent of Schools O. H. Benson began clubs in Wright County, Iowa, and Superintendent W. H. Smith began clubs in Holmes County, Mississippi. Girls' canning clubs began in South Carolina in 1910.

The United States Department of Agriculture encouraged the formation of these clubs. It appointed Seaman A. Knapp to direct special leaders who took charge of organizing boys' and girls' agricultural clubs. The Smith-Lever Act of 1914 provided for a national program of clubs, and authorized the federal government to give money to the states to help organize them.

Every state soon had a club department. By 1924, the name 4-H Club had become generally accepted. 4-H enrollment grew steadily during both World Wars.

Gov. Preston Smith in an official memorandum said, "Texas, 100,000 4-H members are observing National 4-H Club Week. The purpose of 4-H work is to give equal training to the Head, Heart, Hands, and Health of Texas young people and to help prepare them to be better leaders and citizens who will fit into society where their life's work may take them."

Gov. Smith continued, "4-H is a part of the educational program of the Texas A&M University Cooperative Extension Service and is supervised on the local level by county extension agents along with the help of 19,000 local volunteer 4-H leaders who are outstanding men and women in their local communities."

"Texas 4-H members, working with over 202,529 educational learn-by-doing projects, apply the latest research and scientific information to their work, keeping records, arranging exhibits and giving demonstrations as a means of passing information learned on to others."

"The leadership and citizenship which 4-H members receive is a valuable asset to our domestic way of life."

The governor has urged all citizens to support and encourage

Caye Clearman, Average 4-H'er

A progressive organization such as the 4-H Club must have two types of people in participation for success. These two varieties of members are the leaders which are made more publicly known and the average member which is considered the foundation of the club. Caye Clearman can be considered an average member who is outstanding in many ways. She is the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman of Hereford and is a sophomore at Hereford High School. Caye has been a member of 4-H for the last nine years, participating in activities ranging from dress reviews to calf showing.

Her father presently farms and is manager of Wac Seed Company. He is a school board trustee and former Deaf Smith County Agriculture Agent.

Caye's most wide spread demonstrations in 4-H have been in the department of livestock exhibiting. She has been raising calves for the last three years and during this time has shown six calves at several livestock contests. A good percentage of the time she has placed in the

United Fund -$23,294.75

United Fund drive chairman Cleo Corlis reported that an additional $5,486 had been turned in Thursday morning during the third 1969 campaign check-in meeting here, which boosts the total amount for the two-week period to $23,294.75 — or 61.3 per cent of the $38,000 goal.

UF president Calvin Goodin said that Deaf Smith County employers are "doing their part and more" and that they are still awaiting results from employees.

Also emphasized was the fact that employees have the opportunity to make pledges in the campaign whereby they can either pay the total amount at a later date or spread the pledge amount over a period of time.

UF vice president Joe Shol-lenberger issued the report that campaign division majors have collected from 26 per cent to 107 per cent of their individual goals through the first of the month.

Advance chairman Melvin Jayroe also produced $9,550 of his $10,000 goal and stated that he still has additional cards which "will certainly come in" and extend beyond the goal figure. His collections now represent 95.5 per cent of his goal.

Schools now have $2,093 collected for their $3,200 goal (65 per cent); Commercial A, $6,452.10 for $6,000 (107 per cent); Commercial B, $3,051 for $6,000 (51 per cent); Commercial C, $3,344 for $7,700 (43 per cent); City, county, state, federal, $1,367.50 for $3,000 (46 per cent); Utilities, banks and attorneys, $4,971.50 for $6,100 (81 per cent); and Rural, $1,536.25 for $6,000 (26 per cent).

In the rural districts individually, Westway has collected $50, Dawn $274.50, Easter $105, Milo Center $820.75, Walnut and Shims (combined) $356.

Corlis reported that United Fund's fourth check-in meeting is Thursday at 10 a. m. in the Hereford State Bank board room.

House Is Guttled By Fire Friday

Hereford volunteer firemen were summoned to a house fire six miles north of town on Progressive Road Friday shortly before 4 p. m. which gutted the house, causing some $7,000 damage.

Firemen received the call at about 12:45 p. m. and rushed to the scene of the fire. When they arrived the fire had already spread throughout the two-story dwelling, and high winds hindered their fighting throughout their hour-long fight.

Damage to the house, which is valued at $7,000, the house was owned by Les Lindsey of Canyon and was being lived in at the time by the Cliff Williamson family, who were in the process of moving out of the residence.

The fire was believed to have started by a fish aquarium heater for which was the only electrical device operating at the time the fire started.

Firemen were unable to fight the blaze efficiently because of the heavy winds, which kept shifting the fire throughout the house. They were forced to stop fighting the fire when the chimney collapsed and fell through the floor into the basement, making it impossible for them to enter the house.

Firemen fought the fire for almost an hour before bringing it under control.

Whitefaces Halt Rally In Late Minutes, Win 15-6

Plagued by a faulty passing game throughout the first half, the Hereford Whitefaces finally got their running game to produce Friday night as they clipped the visiting Phillips Blackhawks, 15-6.

Little Richard Lyons, the Whitefaces' 145-pound running back, accounted for both of the Whiteface scores, while Jerry Tyler was on the receiving end of a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Marsh Pittman and boomer Santry Rush added a point after kick.

Hereford, after losing the toss, kicked off to the Blackhawks and the locals defense held on three plays, forcing the visitors into a punting situation. For the following three possessions of both teams, the game ran near the same pattern of three plays and punt, until the Whitefaces finally got a drive going about midway through the quarter.

Following a fumble recovery by James Head, the Whitefaces marched from the Phillips 34 yard line to the 11 and a strong line defense by the Blackhawks halted the drive. On a fourth and five situation, Rush was called on for a field goal attempt, but the attempt was blocked.

At the end of the first quarter, the score still stood at 0-0, and two long drives by the Whitefaces ended in defeat during the second period when pass attempts by Pittman were picked off by Blackhawk defenders.

With just 11 left in the first half, the Whitefaces, after taking a Blackhawk punt on their own 37 and then moving it to the Phillips' nine, got on the board when Lyons notched his first TD. Rush added the point after for a 7-0 lead at the end of the first half.

In the third quarter, a Phillips drive was halted just six inches short of a first down deep in Whiteface territory, and from there, the locals drove to the Phillips' end of the field.

Disaster again struck against the Whitefaces when a crushing tackle on the Phillips' 34 jarred the ball loose from Ricky Ward and the visitors recovered.

Following a series of exchanging the ball, Phillips took a Whiteface punt at the midfield stripe, collected a first down by inches, then went for and got the bomb. The pass-scoring play, which covered 40 yards, cut the Whitefaces' lead to 7-6, and the Blackhawks elected to go for the two-point conversion, but failed, again by just inches.

A defensive struggle then took place in the final few minutes of the game, but Hereford managed to ice the game over good with just 15 seconds left on the clock when Lyons got another touchdown from 13 yards out. Pittman then went to the air for two points and hit Tyler, ending the scoring at 15-6.

Hereford School People In Child Migrant Workshop

More than 1,800 Texas school administrators and teachers — including 13 from the Hereford Independent School District — and visitors from 21 states will gather in McAllen in the Rio Grande Valley Oct. 13-15 for the seventh annual Child Migrant Workshop sponsored by the Texas Education Agency.

Hereford Superintendent Roy Hartman reported that the local system now has the second largest migrant program in the state and all expenses for this workshop are paid by the Migrant District at no expense to the Hereford ISD.

Along with Hartman, those attending are Mrs. Hartman, Robert Holman, Tom Harkey, Naomi Hopson, Joe Soto, Charlotte Smith, Patricia Wagner, Wanda Payne, Catherine Grapp, Kaye Matthews, Joyce Sellers and Geraldene Hodges.

Soto will chair four sessions during the workshop and Mrs. Hartman, formerly librarian at La Plata Junior High, will chair three. Hartman is chairman for "A Difference and What is Pre-School?" Holman, Mrs. Hopson, and Harkey are also scheduled to serve as chairmen.

Teachers in the workshop are from Central, Bluebonnet, Shirley, Northwest elementary, and La Plata Junior High. Hartman reported this workshop is considered of such local importance that the school board of trustees meeting date for this month was moved back one week, so as not to come into conflict.

"Next year (1970-71) semester), a migrant workshop will be held in Lubbock," Hartman said. "Therefore, it will become possible for all Hereford school people to attend." He pointed out that TEA now recognizes there are many migrants in the Panhandle area and stressed the importance of this program. "In the past, it was believed there were only migrants in the Rio Grande Valley."

Those participating in the workshop are "concerned with See SCHOOL, Page 2

Officer Charged In 1968 Beating

Paul Ramirez, Hereford city police officer, was charged last Wednesday in Amarillo by a federal grand jury on charges of beating, choking and striking a prisoner who was taken into custody on June 2, 1968 following an incident at the Red Onion Cafe here.

Ramirez, 26, who has been a member of the Hereford city police department for the past three years, was indicted by the grand jury which met in Lubbock last week. The jury, representing cases in the Amarillo Division of the Northern District of Texas, indicted Ramirez after hearing testimony concerning the case presented by Federal Bureau of Investigation officials from Amarillo.

The jury, which meets on alternating times at Lubbock or Amarillo, issued a warrant for the arrest of Ramirez through the U. S. district clerk's office in Amarillo. Ramirez appeared before the grand jury Tuesday to hear the charges filed by A. L. Weaver, a Negro man, in connection with the alleged beating last year.

Weaver contended that Ramirez, on the night of the incident, choked, struck and beat him at the county jail booking office. Weaver had been taken to the county jail for booking following a disturbance call received by local law enforcement authorities. Several members of the Texas Highway Patrol, Liquor Control Board and city police force were summoned to the scene of the disturbance on Virginia Street.

When the city police officers arrived, they found a large crowd standing outside the Red Onion Cafe and when they attempted to disperse them, they became unruly. The police officers then called for additional assistance at which time the Highway Patrol officers and Liquor Control Board agents arrived.

Officers took several persons to jail on the night of the disturbance, and Weaver was one of them. Weaver reported in the charges against Ramirez, who had been the one to take him to the county jail, that when they arrived at the booking room, Ramirez supposedly choked, beat and struck him.

Investigation into the incident was reportedly made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation through the request of the Civil Rights Division of the United States Justice Department sometime in August of this year.

The grand jury cited that, while acting under the laws of Texas as a patrolman, Ramirez, "did willfully beat, strike, choke and assault A. L. Weaver ... with the intent of punishing him summarily without due process of law and depriving him of rights secured and protected by the U. S. Constitution."

Ramirez, along with several other persons indicted on separate charges by the grand jury, will be arraigned Oct. 20, before the U. S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward, of Amarillo.

The trial, though not definite at the time, is expected to be held in Amarillo. In the Northern District of Texas, the trials to be heard are generally heard in Amarillo or Lubbock. O. M. Calhoun, attorney with Folley-Snodgrass-Calhoun, will be the defense attorney for Ramirez, according to city manager Dudley Bayne, who also reported that in a special meeting Thursday morning, the city commissioners voted to defend Ramirez. Ramirez was not relieved of duty, Bayne also stated.

 packing the short school year of traveling farm children brim full of learning."
 Sixty-eight consultants in areas ranging from oral language to how to run a library will teach 269 sessions at Central Elementary School in McAllen on Oct. 14-15. Their goal will be better classroom teaching tailored to the needs of some 50,000 migrant children attending school in 71 Texas districts from the Panhandle to the Valley.
 (Hereford will be represented while such districts in the area as Plainview, Muleshoe and Hart will not send representatives at all, in view of the fact that 13 per cent of their migrant funds were cut this year. Hartman explained that Hereford's funds were also cut in the same amount, but he believed the workshop was "too important to miss" and that "we will certainly benefit from it.")
 Dr. James Olivero, executive director of the Southwest Cooperative Educational Laboratory in Albuquerque will keynote the opening session on Oct. 13 at the McAllen Civic Center. He will be introduced by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, Leon R. Graham, TEA assistant commissioner of education, will preside. Other speakers will include Paul G. Greenwood of Harlingen, member of the State Board of Education, and Dr. Rodney Cathey, McAllen ISD superintendent.

 Dr. Nicholas Silvaroli, director of the reading center at Arizona State University, will be the main speaker at 8 a. m. general session Oct. 14 at the McAllen Civic Center. Lee Frasier, TEA director of the Texas child migrant program, will preside. Dr. Silvaroli will be introduced by Vidal Rivera, chief of the migrant section, U. S. Office of Education, John Mason, Lockney ISD superintendent, will give the invocation.
 Johnny Clark Jr., formerly superintendent here and now in Baytown, is to act as a consultant during the workshop.
 This year for the first time migrant children, who are the real reason for the workshop, will take star billing in a series of demonstration classes designed to make the problems and successes of teaching English as a second language as real as possible for the visiting teachers. Instructors well-schooled in oral language techniques from kindergarten through the ninth grade will bring the classroom to life for visiting teacher-students during the series at the Central Elementary School auditorium.
 Frasier will introduce the workshop consultants, a group which includes faculty members from The University of Texas at Austin, Texas A&M University, Tarrant County Junior College, Texas A&M University, West Texas State University, Texas Woman's University, University of Houston, Arizona State University, East Texas State University and El Centro College (Dallas).
 Other members of the consulting staff were drawn from public school districts including Austin, Sinton, Donna, McAllen, Pharr, Goose Creek (Baytown), Edcouch-Elsa, Edinburg, Poteet, San Marcos, Laredo, Mission, Lubbock, Harlingen, El Paso, and San Diego.

 Additional consultants will represent the Southwest Educational Development Laboratory in Austin, Region I Education Service Center in Edinburg, Region XVII ESC in Lubbock, Region XX ESC in San Antonio, Idaho State Department of Education, Good Samaritan Center in San Antonio, Hidalgo County Health Department, and the Texas Education Agency.
 Workshop sessions, which have grown from 70 in 1967 to nearly four times that number this year, will give teachers of migrant children a working view of classroom techniques from art to reading to physical education and science. There will also be special meetings for school nurses, librarians, reading specialists, administrators, and bilingual teachers.
 Texas began its migrant program in 1963 with 3,000 students from the independent school districts at Edinburg, McAllen, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, and San Benito. This year officials estimate there are some 80,000 children of migrant parents living in the state.
 Schools now participating in the program besides Hereford are located in Alice, Beeville, Brownfield, Brownsville, Carrizo Springs, Cotulla, Crystal City, Del Rio, Dilley, Dimmitt, Donna, Eagle Pass, Edcouch-Elsa, Edinburg, El Campo, Ennis, El Paso, Floydada, Georgetown, Gregory-Portland, Hale Center, Harlingen, Hart, Haskell, La Feria, La Joya, Lamesa, Lampasas, Laredo, Lasara, Levelland, Lockney, Los Fresnos, Lubbock, Layford, McAllen. Also, Mercedes, Midland, Mission, Muleshoe, Olton, Pearsall, Petersburg, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, Plainview, Poteet, Progreso, Raymondville, Rio Grande City, Rio Hondo, Robstown, Roma, San Antonio, San Benito, San Diego, San Felipe, San Marcos, San Saba, Santa Rosa, Sinton, Uvalde, Waelder, Weslaco, Whitharral, and Zapata.

 Each 4-H Club meets at least monthly. Each meeting generally has an educational feature, such as a lecture, discussion, demonstration, tour, or motion picture related to the club's projects. Singing, playing games, and other recreation usually makes up the rest of the meeting. Adult leaders counsel the club members and share in their fun and activities.
 Besides the regular meetings, clubs hold picnics, hikes, athletic contests, and festivals. Club members prepare exhibits at which they explain their projects. They have judging contests in which members learn to pick out good livestock, crops, and other products.
 4-H Club members compete for prizes and awards, and winners are honored in various ways.

Welcoming and Convention Committee of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce heard reports of progress at their meeting in the Hereford Country Club Thursday regarding the complimentary packets which are to be distributed by the chamber to local and county conventions and meetings.
 Within the coming few weeks, the Convention Committee reported they hope to supply 75 to 100 packets for distribution.
 It was reported that members of the committee will be contacting additional local and county businesses in a request for additional items for the packets. They request also that any merchant or civic club who desires to participate in this advertising program should contact Mrs. H. A. Cavness, chairwoman of the committee, at 364-3333.

Trustee Meet Tuesday At 8

Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees have scheduled a meeting Tuesday night at 8 in the Administration Building board room — one week in advance of the regularly scheduled night.
 Meeting date in October was moved back so that top Hereford school administrators and teachers could attend the Child Migrant Workshop in McAllen next week.

 over the years he has increased his herd to six feeder steers and four registered shorthorn cattle for breeding. In the past seven years he has shown a total of 29 steers at 23 livestock shows.
 Receiving the award for Grand Champion Angus in the 1966 Amarillo Livestock Show has been Steven's biggest achievement in the cattle department. Another honor which he has taken is owning the Reserve Champion Angus Steer in the 1965 Hereford Junior Livestock Show. He has also won the Top Showmanship Award on two occasions.
 Besides showing livestock, Steven has been judging them for five years. He has been a member of the judging team which placed first in the Hereford Junior Livestock Show in 1965.
 Steven finds most of her time consumed in school activities which are Theatians, Pep Squad, and girls choir.
 She said that she would like to attend the University of Texas after graduation from high school.

1967 and 1968.
 This team also obtained first place honors in the 1969 district judging show and were in the sixth place slot at the state contest this year.
 Livestock activities have not been the entire interest of Steven's 4-H career. He has conducted projects in field crops, soil and water conservation, and tractor maintenance. For his field crop projects he has harvested two crops of milo and one cotton crop.
 Steven was selected as top 4-H student for total achievement in Deaf Smith County this year. Because of this he has entered his 4-H Club Member's Record Book, which he has worked on since he has been a member of the organization, in state competition.
 The Shorthorn Breeding Show is the destination of Steven for his 4-H activities this weekend. He will take part in this event which will be held in Dallas by showing a bull and heifer. Two of his six steers will be judged in the State Fair at Dallas, October 13-17 while his other steers will be entered in the Spring Livestock Shows.
 President of the Dawn 4-H Club is not the entire roster of offices which Steven has held in the past seven years. He has held nearly all the offices in 4-H such as president of the County 4-H council and a delegate to the district council for the 68-69 and 69-70 terms. He was sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service when he attended the District Electric Camp at Cloud-Croft, New Mexico.

 Justin McBride, County Agent, said, "Over the past few years Steven has developed from an average 4-H member to a fine active leader. He has helped young members to become good leaders."
 Steven wrote a story in his 4-H Club Members Record Book which sums up the feeling he has toward his work in this club. Part of it read, "The 4-H has given me leadership talents and character which is essential to every boy or girl to become a good citizen. My goals now include to continue serving the 4-H through county and district councils, and to achieve the highest possible award with each of my projects."

October Slated As Toastmaster Month

The month of October has been proclaimed Toastmaster Month in the city by Mayor Jim Sears to honor the Toastmaster club here. Sears signed the Special Toastmasters Anniversary Month Proclamation Saturday morning at the First National Bank. Witnessing the signing were Robert Lohr, Toastmasters Club President and Connie Goeringer, Toastmaster Area Governor.

The club is composed of men who meet together each week to try and help each other improve their ability to speak before groups and organizations.

Affiliated with Toastmasters International, the club helps members learn to increase self-confidence in public speaking and to conduct meetings which develop leadership and executive potential.

Members also learn to listen as well as speak, think critically about what they hear, develop the ability to accept evaluation and accept the role of leadership in the club activities and personal business. Every member participates in each meeting. Usually four members will give scheduled speeches which their fellow-members evaluate and criticize.

In addition to these, the program includes a table topics session, during which members not on the formal speaking program are asked to speak briefly on topics of general interest.

All meetings are run by parliamentary procedure so members may gain experience in learning how to conduct a meeting properly. Other special activities include area, district and regional conferences and the annual international convention.

Toastmasters is a non-profit organization which has more than 3,500 clubs in 47 countries in the free world, and was founded 45 years ago in October, 1924. Persons interested in the Toastmaster program are invited to attend the meetings each Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Charrenal Restaurant.

With a hooked beak and a wingspread of up to five feet, the osprey is frequently mistaken for an eagle. Its breast, neck, and head are white; wings and back are glossy brown.

NRA Spokesman Stresses Need For Soldier's Rifle Training

Washington, D. C. — A spokesman for the National Rifle Association has urged Congress to restore funds in the military budget to continue the activities of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

Franklin L. Orth, NRA Executive Vice President, testified before the Senate Appropriation Subcommittee, emphasizing the need for rifle training for U. S. soldiers who fight 'brush wars' such as Korea and Vietnam.

Orth said: "The present engagement in Vietnam, our past involvement in Korea, and well-founded predictions by military strategists and other experts indicate that the stalemate of threatened nuclear powers will continue to result in so-called 'brush wars' rather than a confrontation of the international nuclear powers. Such wars, as has been repeatedly demonstrated, are basically wars in which the rifleman plays the key role. The primary aim of any marksmanship training sponsored for national defense purposes is to train potential combatants so that they may function effectively in the national interest in case of war. Unless the likelihood of armed conflict is eliminated, this requirement will persist."

Congress for many years has supported the programs of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, which are administered through the Army's Office of the Director of Civilian Marksmanship. Last year, however, funds for these activities were slashed, and Orth has urged their restoration.

No funds have been requested for fiscal 1970 for continuing the operation of the National Board. Orth quoted General Harold K. Johnson, former Army Chief of Staff, in reference to the Vietnam conflict, in support of his request. Johnson has said: "For the people involved in it, it is a very personal type of conflict — fought generally at rather close and intimate range where skill in the use of smallarms is often a decisive factor. It is, in short, a rifleman's war. There can be no question that a man who has been a shooter before he enters the Army is probably going to make a better military rifleman than his less experienced associates."

Orth pointed out that, with current consideration of the creation of an all-volunteer army, the programs of the National Board assume increasing importance. He emphasized that the marksmanship instructors who carry out the program are volunteers, and asked, "Where else will be found sufficient trained leaders and other experienced instructor personnel for the all-volunteer army which is now under consideration?"

Orth concluded: "To people who know first hand about guns and infantry combat, and who are deeply aware of the need for better marksmanship for the front line soldier, the present threat to our modest national program of civilian rifle marksmanship seems utterly incongruous. I earnestly hope that this Subcommittee will continue to recognize the importance of a citizenry trained in the use of military service rifle and reestablish an appropriation in the Department of Defense budget request for fiscal year 1970 adequate to continue operation of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice."

Lose 10 Lbs. In 10 Days On New Grapefruit Diet

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the one diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 10 pounds quickly and easily long after he had tried and even given up on his wartime weight of 145 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer or rye. If it is followed exactly the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 4 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly 'forbidden'. Such as big steaks trimmed with fat, southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters swimming in butter, bacon, fats, soups and scrambled eggs. You eat until you are full, and you don't count any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick Weight Loss" is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not form fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process. You stuff your yourself on the permitted foods listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and blood are gone you will cease to lose weight, and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to Kane Associates.

There is no need to pay a reminder. The new revised trim attractive figure of your youth, while still enjoying hearty meals, fruits, lunches and dinners. ### Local Women In Germany

Mrs. Jack Gilliland and Mrs. Howard Beasley of Hereford, arrived this morning at 10:15 in Frankfurt, Germany where they plan to attend the wedding of Mrs. Beasley's daughter, Brenda, and Captain Gary James Garner, U. S. Army. Vows will be exchanged Friday morning.

Mrs. Gilliland and Mrs. Beasley left Amarillo Saturday by plane.

Miss Beasley teaches third grade American children five miles from the army base at Pirmansaus, where Garner is stationed.

Following their marriage, they will live in Germany until next June when they will arrive back in the United States.

Mrs. Gilliland also plans to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Dennis and Maribeth Johnson. He is a Lieutenant in the Army, stationed about 70 miles from Pirmansaus.

Mrs. Gilliland and Mrs. Beasley will return home Oct. 25.

Five years ago, experts feared the El Molo tribe of Kenya would perish from malnutrition. The tribe had dwindled to about 150. The Kenya Government and private relief groups helped out and now the tribe numbers almost 300.

The origins of the El Molo tribe of Kenya are mysterious. Some anthropologists believe they were originally Masai, who later mixed with nearby Gela-ba, Rendile, and Samburu. This would explain their language, a dialect of Masai. Others believe the El Molo are the last survivors of an unknown people unrelated to any other Kenya tribe.

Homfeld Wins SWCD Election

Clinton Homfeld, a farmer in the northwest part of Deaf Smith County, was elected director and representative for Sub-division 1 of the Soil and Water Conservation Board. He won the election with the qualifications that he is a land owner in this district and over 21 years of age.

Homfeld has been dry land farming in the Walcott vicinity for approximately forty years. He is also involved in livestock operations.

County Agent Juston McBride pointed out the Soil and Water Conservation Districts are a sub division of the State of Texas and by law are charged with the responsibility of carrying out a soil and water conservation program in their district. Through them, such items as technical service, equipment, leadership in small watershed projects and many other services are provided to cooperating landowners.

Breakfast Club Holds Meeting

Paul Stanley, of Amarillo, new District Lieutenant of Kiwanis, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Whiteface Breakfast Kiwanis Club Friday morning at the Chaparral Restaurant.

Stanley, a long-time worker in Kiwanis, replaces outgoing Lieutenant Governor Dean Herrington of the noon Kiwanis Club of Hereford.

He is a man of action and challenged the Breakfast Club and its officers to carry out the goals which were set at the recent District Convention in Galveston. He brought out some of the accomplishments of the district officers for the past year which were outstanding, and promised that the new officers strive to do as well.

One of the principal projects for the coming year is "Operation Drug Alert." This is a program aimed at helping the teenagers and young people realize the danger of using drugs, many of which are sold over the counter. This is just one of the many projects carried out by Kiwanis Clubs.

The Breakfast Club also reminded sports fans that they have rain jackets and capes on

RABBI PRAISES GRAHAM

NEW YORK — An American Jewish Committee official, Rabbi Dr. March Tanenbaum, praises Evangelist Billy Graham for breaking down stereotyped attitudes about Baptists being interested only in "personal salvation" and not in social concerns.

The rabbi said that Graham, in his recent sermons, has demonstrated a keen concern for "social justice and for commitment to justice, poverty, war and the generation gap," and has helped remove a common caricature of Baptists.

Mrs. Bob Coker
homemaker, artist and realtor

Newcomers In Profile

Just Like Coming Home

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Women's Editor
"Being back in Hereford after a long absence is just like coming home," says Mrs. Bob Coker, who moved to 522 Ave. 1 from Dallas just a few weeks ago.
The Cokers, with their four children, formerly lived at Hereford and Friona and have been Dallas residents for three years.
Jean Coker is a combination of homemaker, artist and realtor. She works for Carmichael Real Estate, is quite an accomplished artist and still has time to be a homemaker. The Cokers have four children, two still living in Dallas. Jerry, 21 and Wade, 20, are attending college in Dallas. Philip, 17, is a junior in Hereford High School and Lora is ten and in the fourth grade at Aikman. Jean has always been interested in different kinds of art and has been working with oils for the past eight years. She has studied under Dr. Emmett Caballero, art director at West Texas State University, and is studying under Jeanne McGee here in Hereford.

She does mostly scenery but said she would enjoy portrait work. Other hobbies of Jean's include sewing and singing. She sews most of her own clothing and that of her daughter's and enjoys singing in the church choir.

The Cokers are Baptists and are planning to join the Baptist Church here when they can get the family all together again. Jean joined WMU this week and is enjoying meeting new friends.
The Cokers met during their school years when she lived at Friona and her husband at Hereford. He is in the custom combining business.

RUSSIAN BAPTISTS THRIVE
NEW YORK — "The vigorous growth of Baptist congregations in the Soviet Union, especially since World War II indicates the spiritual vitality of the movement," the Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Smith said on return from a visit there.
Dr. Smith, head of the New York office of the World Council of Churches, said the Russian Baptist movement "has survived and grown under pressures of anti-religious propaganda of the government."

ABC

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."
"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"
Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.
This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.
Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insignia is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."
At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.
Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.
Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.
What is an ABC figure?
It is our way of assuring you that you get full measure for your advertising dollar in this newspaper.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking . . .

DO ALL people who have recovered from a heart attack have to continue to take blood-thinning medicine?

A heart attack due to closure of the coronary artery that brings blood and oxygen to the heart muscle depends for recovery on reopening that vessel. Sometimes, with severe arteriosclerosis, slow closure of one of the coronary arteries may occur. At other times a clot may form within the vessel and inter-

Dr. Coleman refers with the life-bringing heart action.

Blockage of an artery or vein in other parts of the body, especially the brain, does damage in the same way.

About fifteen years ago, it was discovered that some drugs, known as anticoagulants, were able to prevent or delay the formation of blood clots within blood vessels. It was also felt that these drugs could help to reopen blood vessels by dissolving the clots within them.

Anticoagulant treatment is used by many doctors in well-chosen cases. There is no single law of medical practice that believes that anticoagulants should be used in every case. The judgment of the physician is the primary consideration in the choice of the anticoagulant after the decision has been made to use it. He must also determine how long this will continue. When anticoagulants are used, regular examination of the blood is made to study how effective the drug is. In this way a proper balance can be established between the use of the drug and the function it performs.

You can be certain that your physician knows exactly when and if these excellent drugs should be discontinued.

Are there any contagious diseases that can be caught from having cats in the house?

To avoid any question of bias in my answer, let me immediately say that I am exceedingly fond of cats and dogs.

There is a definite disease called "cat scratch fever," caused by a cat implanting a virus under your skin even during playful romping with him. The virus lies under his claws and can remain there for many months.

Cat scratch fever may appear any time after the skin has been broken, from one to eight weeks. Long after the scratch wound has healed, some small red swellings may appear which are rarely, if ever, traced to the scratch. Later, glands become enlarged in the groin or in the arm pit followed by redness and soreness of the eyes.

Occasionally these swellings may break and become infected with germs that lie on all normal skin. This secondary infection is treated with antibiotics, but the underlying virus is not affected by them. Fortunately, the disease is not a dangerous one and is usually uncomplicated.

It is wise to have the cat's claws cut short and kept clean. If the playful cat does scratch you, the wound should be cleaned with household soap and hot running water. A mild antiseptic may be of value and should be used. Anyone who has an attack of long-standing glandular enlargement should let his doctor know that a cat is in the household. This may lead him to an earlier diagnosis of cat scratch disease.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—Unless specifically recommended by the doctor, sunglasses worn as an affectation indoors and out may be injurious.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Cub Scouts Hold Meeting

Cub Scout Den 5, Pack 51, held its regular den meeting last week as they toured the Texsun Feedyards.

C. F. Newsom, employee at the lot, took the scouts through the yard, explaining the different types of operations, and also took them on a ride through the yards in the back of a pickup.

Boys attending the meeting and outing included Mike Axe, Calvin Baker, Kyle Craig, Dale Gibson, Donnie Johnson, Jim Knox, Mark Westbrook, Mike Westbrook and Mile Goforth.

Kyle Kraig served refreshment, along with Mrs. Art Baker, den mother and Mrs. R. G. Westbrook, assistant den mother.

here. Ranging from local scenery to portraits of local people, the exhibit will be on display for three weeks. They have been placed throughout the bank's display cases.

Mrs. Guinn, a member of the Texas Fine Arts Association in Amarillo and president of the Hereford Art Guild, has studied under well-known artist, Ben Konis of Amarillo and Leon Turner and Jeane McGee, also of Amarillo. The collection on display at the bank was done at various times in the past years, some in her art classes, some at home and others throughout the area.

BOUGHT HOLE

LEICESTER, England — The city of Leicester has bought a hole in the ground and now is wondering what to do with it.

British Railways, government owned, looked around its cupboard and found a 1,796-yard-long tunnel from Leicester to Glenfield, unused. The rail line through it has been abandoned for years.

So BR put it up for sale for five pounds (12 dollars). City council snapped it up.

Bertha Frye Funeral Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Miss Bertha Louise Frye, 77, who died Wednesday afternoon in Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt, were conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in the Immanuel Lutheran Church by the Rev. Herman Scheiter, pastor. Burial was in West Park Cemetery by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Miss Frye was born in New Minden, Ill. and came to Hereford in 1912. She was a Lutheran.

Survivors include brothers, Richard A. of Dawn and Reinhold of Vista, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Annie Cottneyer of St. Louis, Mo.

Now they don't know what to do with it. One taxpayer wrote in: "Fill it up and forget about it."

The Bishop of Chester, John Wilkins, worried in 1638 that spacemen might starve to death on the long flight to the moon which he believed might take half a year. "No inns to entertain passengers, nor any castles in the air to receive poor pilgrims," he lamented.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Legacies of Hate

"To my sister, one dollar and my curse."
 "To my son-in-law, a good stout rope with which to hang himself."
 "To my partner, my portrait of a viper."
 These hateful legacies are examples of a peculiar phenomenon in the field of wills. The maker of a will knows that his words will probably not come to light until after his death—when he is safe from retribution. Under this protection, as one expert put it: "Human nature removes its mask."
 Are such legacies valid? In making a will, is there a "right to be mean?"
 Generally speaking, the answer is yes. The law is reluctant to condemn the motives of someone who is not present to make explanations. No court can be sure what real grievances might have lain hidden in his heart.

 Besides, the very idea of a will is to give the maker the right to pick and choose among the possible objects of his bounty, favoring one, rejecting another.

On the other hand, if a will is sufficiently unnatural, that may be some indication that the person who made it was either under undue influence or mentally incompetent.

For instance: a spinster's will left all her money to a niece, cutting off the brother she had long loved dearly. This was held sufficiently strange, along with other circumstances, to justify the conclusion that the woman had been subjected to undue influence by the niece.

Furthermore, unnatural provisions won't be upheld if they are contrary to state laws or in conflict with public policy. Thus, a court would not approve instructions to "Burn all my money" or "Hire a gunman to do away with my boss."

Fortunately, the average will does not reflect either venom or spite. Most people find something better to do with their last words than to leave a legacy of hate. Not many individuals care to be remembered that way.

 The Longhorns, or JV's as they are called, trounced the Dumas Junior Varsity to the tune of 36-6 while the Shorthorns gunned down the Friona "B" team, 27-6.

For the Longhorns, Danny Charest got things going in the first period when after the team had moved the ball into Dumas territory, he carried the pigskin 30 yards on a dive play for the score. Jeff Loerwald added the point after for a 6-0 lead at the end of the first period.

In the second period, both teams got on the scoreboard with Hereford's Eugene Suttle going eight yards on a sweep and quarterback Ruday Gonzales adding another TD on a quarterback sneak. Dumas got their only score of the game in the second period when they blocked a Longhorn punt, picked it up and carried it into the end zone.

In the third quarter, Suttle got his second touchdown of the night when he scurried across the stripe on a 40 yard sweep.

Charest tied the scoring package up with a 20-yard quick pitch play in the fourth quarter. Chris Dziuk caught the pass for the extra points, giving the Longhorns a 36-6 win.

For the defense, Loerwald intercepted two Dumas aeriand Dziuk followed with one for the night. John Sparks and Bruce Battey showed well on defense as linebackers, coaches pointed out.

The win over the Dumas team hiked the Longhorns' record to 2-1 for the season, their only loss being last week to the Hart varsity team, 19-18. Their other win was over the Amarillo High team, 18-14.

For the Shorthorns, they had little trouble doing away with the Friona "B" team, behind the quarterbacking of Charles Allison then relied on his arm again as they went for and got the two point conversion to Taylor Gates, with an 11-yard reception in the opening moments of the third quarter, widened the Shorthorn lead in the game to 20-0. The point-after try failed.

In the 4th period they scooted 35 yards on a draw and Mike Dawson converted for a final 27 pointed for the Shorthorns.

Friona, with only 10 seconds remaining on the clock, took the kickoff and returned it all the way for their only touchdown of the game.

The win boosted the Shorthorns' record to the 3-1 mark and they will next see action

Thursday as they enter a in the Clovis team in a 7:30 p. m. game. The Longhorns have an open date this week, but on Oct. 16, they travel to Dumas for a rematch.

Distinguished Speakers To Address Textile Symposium

Astronaut Frank Borman and Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell will head a distinguished panel of speakers who will be addressing the International Textile Symposium at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, October 30th and 31st.

Colonel Borman, Astronaut and Commander of Apollo 8, the first manned Apollo flight to orbit the moon, has accepted an invitation to speak to the International Symposium on Thursday, October 30th, according to an announcement by Dr. John R. Bradford, Director of the Textile Research Center and Dean of the College of Engineering at Texas Tech.

Dean Bradford stated, "As an astronaut for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and as the newly appointed Field Director, Space Station Task Group, at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Colonel Borman is extremely busy and we are most pleased that his schedule will allow him to participate in this International Textile Symposium. The success of the historic flight last Christmas, and the diplomatic assignments that have followed, have provided Colonel Borman with an excellent background for speaking to this international audience." Colonel Borman will address the luncheon meeting on 'Apollo and Space Stations.'

Colonel Borman will be introduced by Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the United States House of Representatives.

The Honorable J. Phil Campbell, Under Secretary of Agriculture, will address the world gathering on Friday, October 31st. Secretary Campbell, who takes great pride in his farm background, lived on his Georgia farm until moving to Washington to accept his current appointment. Secretary Campbell has a deep understanding of farm problems gained through many years experience. He is the son of a pioneer Agricultural family and while earning his degree from the College of Agriculture of the University of Georgia he operated a Grade A dairy and raised cotton on the family farm.

President Nixon appointed Mr. Campbell Under Secretary of Agriculture in January 1969. The President also appointed him to the board of the Commodity Credit Corporation, which approves and finances specific price support programs and determines basic policy for the purchase, sale, and storage of agricultural commodities. His subject 'Fiber Opportunities of Today and Tomorrow' will be of genuine interest to all.

Another highlight will be the formal dedication of the newly expanded Textile Research Center. This Center has undergone tremendous growth during the past three years and now encompasses over 50,000 square feet of floor space. When completed, the Textile Research Center will be capable of studying textile operations on a large commercial scale from fiber production through dyeing and finishing.

The keynote speech October 30th will be delivered by Mr. Julius H. Goldberg of New York City. Mr. Goldberg has a rich background in textile and chemical engineering and since 1953 has served as a consultant to fiber producers, chemical companies, textile mills, machinery and manufacturers, and allied industries. His subject will be, "Ceiling Zero - Visibility Unlimited."

"The International Aspects of the Cotton Industry" is the subject title assigned to Mr. Roy B. Davis of Lubbock. As Chairman of the Board of the National Cotton Council and a life long student of the cotton industry, no one could be better qualified to handle this delicate subject. Mr. Davis served on President Johnson's Cotton Advisory Committee, he is a past director of Texas A&M University, and in 1968 was selected by Texas A&M University to receive the Distinguished Alumnus Award. He is a past president of the National Cottonseed Products Association and is now serving on the Regional Export Expansion Council for the United States Department of Commerce. The many honors that he has received include Man of the Year selection by The Progressive Farmer magazine and Man of the Year designation by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The needs and demands of the consumer will get special treatment by Mr. Fred Fortess, Manager, Consumer Technical Relations, Celanese Fibers Marketing Company of New York. In his talk entitled "Engineering Man-Made Fibers for Fashion and Performance," Mr. Fortess will draw on his experience in creating new and improved textile products as a result of his contacts with Home Economists and other consumer organizations.

Presiding over this first morning's program will be Dr. Michel Cordelier Director of Foreign Relations, Institut Textile de France, Paris, France.

The moderator for the afternoon session will be Mr. Alejandro Yujico, Jr., Vice President, General Textiles Incorporated, Rizal, Republic of Philippines.

Afternoon speakers will include Mr. Felix Colangelo, President, Wool Bureau, Inc., New York, N. Y. Mr. Colangelo's topic will be "International Aspects of the Wool Industry." As President of the Wool Bureau and Director of the U. S. Branch of the International Wool Secretariat, Mr. Colangelo is in the unique position of knowing all aspects of wool, both at home and abroad. After a nine year stint in the wool textile manufacturing industry, Mr. Colangelo joined the Wool Bureau in 1953 as financial controller. In September of the same year he was appointed Secretary-Treasurer and in 1963 was elevated to U. S. Branch Director and given executive authority for all of the International Wool Secretariat activities in the United States.

Another Wool expert, Dr. Harold Lundgren, Chief USDA Wool and Mohair Laboratory, Western Utilization Research and Development Division, Albany, California, will follow Mr. Colangelo. Dr. Lundgren's subject "Physiological and Psychological Criteria in the Selection of Fabrics" will be of vital interest to producers and mill executives, alike. Dr. Lundgren's in-depth study of proteins, particularly as found in wool, lead to the development of the WURLAN process for easier care of wool products by the Western Utilization Research Laboratory. He is a member of various scientific and honorary societies and has participated in many national and international symposia. His many honors include the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Superior Service Medal, the Golden Fleece Award of the California Wool Growers Association, election to the Royal Swedish Academy of Engineering Science at Stockholm, and the Olney Medal from the American Association of Textile Chemist and Colorists.

Discussing "Opportunities in Apparel Manufacture with New Fabrics" will be Mr. Jerry A. Cogan, Jr., President, Deering Milliken Research Corp., Spartanburg, South Carolina. Mr. Cogan's rich background in textiles and textile research provides him with an insight to what the future holds for the textile industry.

"Chemical Finishing of Cotton" is the subject for the Friday morning speech by Dr. Leonard Smith, Director of Utilization Research, National Cotton Council, Washington, D. C. Completing the Friday morning program will be the address by Secretary Campbell and the dedication ceremonies.

Chairman for this final session will be Mr. Charles G. Scruggs, Editor, The Progressive Farmer, Dallas, Texas.

Of special interest during the International Symposium will be the Thursday evening banquet at the Lubbock Country Club. Dr. Willa V. Tinsley, Dean, College of Home Economics, Texas Tech University, will be Master of Ceremonies and Dr. Milton Harris Research Laboratories, will be the after dinner speaker on the subject of "Textile Science as Part of the Changing Science Scene." A colorful fashion show "The Fashion World of Tomorrow" will be coordinated and narrated by Mrs. Kim Dawson, Fashion Coordinator, The Apparel Mart, Dallas.

"This is the first International Textile Symposium, that includes all segments of the complex textile industry. We are very pleased to be sponsoring such an important event in Lubbock and on the campus of Texas Tech University." Dean Bradford said. Bradford continued, "We know that many textile executives are planning to attend from several countries overseas. It is hoped that U.S. interests, from the producer to the merchandiser, will afford themselves of the opportunity to attend also. It is open to the world."

Advanced registration is now being received by the Textile Research Center, P.O. Box 4150, Lubbock, Texas, 79409. USA. Interested persons are invited to write the Center for registration forms and the Symposium program.

First baseman Bob Bailey of the Montreal Expos came up as the Pittsburgh Pirate chain as a shortstop, starting with Asheville, N.C., in the Sally League.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18th DISTRICT TEXAS

1223 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 20546

THE FARM PROGRAM — PART I

The Secretary of Agriculture unveiled the Nixon Administration's long-anticipated agriculture proposals this week in hearings before the House Agriculture Committee. Secretary Hardin revealed, in broad strokes, the thrust of the Department's thinking on such issues as commodity programs and long-range land retirement. Specifics will have to be spelled out in future messages to Congress.

The Secretary's testimony ran to 14 pages with six additional pages of appendix. In order to report to you as fully as possible, I am going to divide his recommendations into two sections and report this week on commodity programs, saving until next week the issue of resource adjustment through land retirement and other means.

As you are no doubt aware, the present farm program expires December 31, 1970. New legislation must be approved by April of 1970 at the latest, to afford wheat producers and others a chance to study the program and make necessary decisions before planting time. If new legislation is not passed by the time the present act expires, net farm income will decline by about a billion dollars a year.

In trying to arrive at a workable farm program which farmers would support, Secretary Hardin and members of his staff traveled all over the country listening to farmers, commodity groups and farm organizations, weighed the testimony and conferred with House and Senate leaders of both parties. As the Secretary noted in his testimony, "... It is clear to us that farmers want to help to bring their incomes up to the level of the national average and that they want a bigger say in decision-making on their own farms."

It is also abundantly clear that neither the House Agriculture Committee, nor the Administration, nor the Republicans, nor the Democrats can pass a farm bill without the other's help.

Whatever program is decided upon, the Secretary reminded the Committee, there must be restraints on production that will permit satisfactory levels of price and income and will "neither inhibit the growth of markets nor place needless obstacles in the way of efficient farm operation." Neither should we concede world markets to our foreign competitors. He invited further comment and response by farm organizations, commodity and producer groups.

Programs for wheat, cotton, and feed grains are the ones that affect most farmers. In addition to proposals already made by various farm organizations, the Secretary proposed a "set-aside" program or, as an alternative, domestic allotment and diversion. To quote from his testimony on the set-aside program, this would be "a domestic allotment of cotton and wheat and, in addition, a national feed grain base. The feed grain base would be similar to the present one. Price support loans would be offered participating producers who would be required to set-aside a crop acreage equivalent to perhaps 75 to 100 percent of the domestic cotton or wheat allotment and 30 to 50 percent of the feed grain base. No constraints on acreage or production would apply to any crop except the set-aside acreage, which would be in addition to the normal conserving base."

The program would be voluntary. Income support payments would be made to cotton and wheat producers on the normal production of their domestic allotment acreage and to feed grain producers on the normal production of half of their feed grain base. Rates of payment could vary over time and would affect the number of participants and, thus, the acreage in the set-aside. The amount of acreage to be allotted, size of the payment, amount of land to be diverted as a condition of eligibility for the payment, and the level of the loan would all have to be determined. The allotment would serve only as the basis for calculating the size of the payment and the amount of land to be diverted. After he had diverted the necessary number of acres, he would have full freedom to use the remainder of this land in any way he wished.

The other possible approach is by domestic allotment and diversion. This grants somewhat more freedom to the farmer than present approaches.

As in the set-aside, there would be an acreage allotted to each wheat and cotton producer, equal to his computed share of the domestic market. On this allotment he would receive payments. There would be no diversion required for cotton or wheat.

To quote further from Secretary Hardin's testimony: "Feed grains and wheat would be aggregated into a total grain base. There would be no domestic allotment for feed grain. There would be diversion payments to take the desired amount of land out of feed grains. A price-stabilizing loan would be available for participants. Grain producers would be eligible for loans if they produced within their total allotment."

"As in the set-aside, this program dispenses with marketing quotas. Wheat and cotton growers, of whom no diversion would be required, could plant whatever they wished on their tilled acreage. Feed grain growers who choose to participate in the program would be required to limit their plantings of feed grains to an acreage equivalent to their base minus the feed grain acreage diverted. Substitution between feed grains, including wheat for feed, would be allowed. Ordinarily the Commodity Credit Corporation would not expect to acquire stocks.

"The domestic allotment approach differs from the set-aside in that it requires no diversion for cotton or wheat. For the feed grains the chief difference is that in the domestic allotment plan the wheat base and the feed grain base are added together to give the new grain base."

Next week I will be reporting on the second part of the Administration's suggested farm program which focuses on Class I Base Plan for Dairy, Payment Limitations, Resource Adjustment Programs, Crop and Conversion, Town and Country Program, Easement Program, and Programs for Rural People. In the meantime, I would like to have your views on Secretary Hardin's proposals. It will be most helpful to me as your Representative and as a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

I was pleased to welcome to my office this week from the 18th District: Mr. Jake Hess, of McLean; Mr. Marshal Form-

Help Those Who Need Help?

If you are one of those who had hoped for a roll-back in governmental spending after the Nixon administration took over the reins of government, you probably have now come to the conclusion that it was "wishful thinking." Apparently the Nixon people, like their predecessors, plans to continue with the "tax and spend" programs as long as the American public will sit quietly by and let them. There have been, to be sure, a few worthwhile programs enacted over the years and many, particularly in the field of the aged and indigent, that must be continued, but it's a little hard for us to understand the thinking of anyone who would espouse a negative income tax-giving back to those who will not work, that which has been taken from the earnings of those who will work. It's sheer folly.

On the other hand, the President has proposed a raise for those now drawing social security benefits. The Social Security System, set up in 1935, has seen many major changes but in spite of the increases in the Social Security tax, and many increases in the benefits to the elderly, there is still a growing gap between the income of these people and their economic needs. This gap is now putting pressure on Congress to increase benefits. Increases may be made this year rather than in 1970, although traditionally Congress likes to enact Social Security legislation in election years. For obvious reasons.

The Social Security Act of 1935 set up a federal old-age insurance program financed by payroll taxes. From its inception, Social Security has been the major form of retirement insurance protecting the nations' workers. Persons receiving Social Security benefits or who would be eligible to do so if they retired, make up 92 per cent of the over-65 population, according to the Social Security Administration.

The 1935 Act established that a person was entitled at age 65 to a pension to be earned through payroll contributions over his entire working life. To finance increased benefits, Congress has raised the payroll tax and the wage base on which the tax is assessed.

Until 1949, combined payroll taxes for employers and employees were set at 2 per cent, computed on a wage base of $3,000. Combined payroll taxes are now 9.6 per cent, including 1.2 per cent for medical care, and are computed on a wage base of $7,800. The employer-employee tax rate is scheduled to rise in January 1971 to 19.4 per cent.

Yet, those who are now drawing the benefits of Social Security find it extremely hard to buy the necessities of life on the meager monthly checks they receive. On the other hand, the government continues to tax — in other areas — and dispense millions of dollars annually on wasteful programs, probably designed to garner additional votes at the next election rather than to help those who are really in need.

Employers all over the nation are begging for help — many maintain their own training programs even when governmental regulations force these employers to pay exorbitant wages for beginners, and still find that it is difficult to maintain an adequate work force.

The idea that we can all enjoy the benefits of governmental handouts without someone working is preposterous. Certainly we must continue to care for those who are unable to work, the aged and the ill, but it galls us to see handouts being given to those who are "healthy, but lazy."

Smoke--And Some Fire

If cigarette companies stop all advertising on television and radio by September, 1970, as they say they will, won't that be fine? Frankly we don't think so. And we say this without making any entry whatever into the cigarettes-lung cancer controversy. We are entirely willing for that to be settled on its merits.

Bear in mind, please, that the advertising stop-signal is the direct result of pressure from the United States government, and then ponder these questions:

—If the government can blackjack a legitimate industry into one surrender, can it not blackjack it into another?

—And if it can blackjack one industry, can it not blackjack any and all?

—And is there not danger of an endless chain reaction, with paternalism tic hand of government falling ever more heavily upon the affairs of men?

We think these questions are of paramount importance. They transcend by far, the immediate issue, which is the effect of cigarettes upon health. If a product is legitimate, its producers should be free to advertise it, and this freedom should not be abridged either by compulsion or euphemistic "agreement." Further, there should be freedom to advertise via any and all media. Why make exceptions of one or two?

To smoke or not to smoke is a question for the individual. It is not a question for government. May it not be assumed that a man or woman is capable of making his or her own decision, the advice of physicians being freely available? Some persons will smoke too much, just as some will eat or drink too much, even in the face of the strongest medical advice to the contrary. Others, with stronger wills, will cease, desist or cut down.

It is best to leave it that way, we think, especially since there is no discernible way of changing it. Let the ultimate issue be decided by facts, not fiat. Let the people work it out themselves. The odds are they will do a better job than government. — Johnson City (Tenn.) Press Chronicle

If the Arab states would give ironclad guarantees not to attack Israel, you'd expect that nation to be reasonable. — New York Daily News

It must be the Supreme Court Justices have been trying to keep up with the Joneses, too.

Live so that your life is an open book, but be careful of the book you select.

The dollars we hold are government promises that can be exchanged for necessities. Inflation, regardless of its rate, is a repudiation of those promises. —Cleveland (Tenn.) Daily Banner

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — When the railroads and the airlines got together 40 years ago to provide the first through travel service from coast to coast, the only Texas stop on the itinerary was Amarillo.

On July 7, 1929, transcontinental travel took a progressive step when a Pennsylvania Railroad train left New York for an overnight run to Columbus, Ohio. In Columbus, 20 passengers stepped off their Pullman and onto a lane of Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc. (now Trans-World Airlines). After stops in St. Louis and Kansas City, the plane reached Waynoka, Okla., about dusk.

There a Santa Fe train waited to take them for another overnight sleeper run to Clovis, N. M., with a stop in Amarillo. From Clovis, the travelers flew on to Los Angeles after refueling at Albuquerque, N. M.

Total time for the New York-Los Angeles trip was 48 hours — 52 hours faster than any transcontinental traveler had been able to make it before.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Best way to start an argument in Ector, Fannin County, is to take sides on how the town got its name.

Established in 1874 as Victor's Station, it was renamed Ector in 1886 when a post office was established. But the question that historians haven't settled is this: Was it named for Ector Owens, a pioneer civic leader, or for Matthew D. Ector, a Henderson resident who served as judge of Fannin County's district court?

Nobody knows for sure. And the argument still goes on.

COW CRIMES — Rustling is still big business in Texas. Last year, investigators hired by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association recovered an average of $1,079.93 worth of stolen cows and other property each day!

THE FORTUNES OF WAR — Only a few sagging barbed wire enclosures remain as reminders of how thousands of soldiers from German General Erwin Rommel's crack "Afrika Corps" sat out the last three years of World War II in a Robertson County pasture.

In 1943, the first 3,000 officers and men from the Nazi force with which Rommel hoped to win the battle of North Africa arrived by train in Hearne. Captured by Allied forces in the campaign, the war prisoners were assigned to the Hearne camp for the duration. Eventually 8,000 German soldiers were imprisoned there.

Those who desired to work were permitted to do so and farmers in the Brazos River valley hired many of the prisoners as field hands. They received 80 cents a day in credit at the camp store for each day they worked. Some made lasting friends and have returned in later years to visit their former employers.

THE UNCHANGING TIMES — If today's prices seem inflationary, take a look backward to the Texas of 1839.

Currency was worth from 20 to 30 cents on the dollar, flour was $80 per barrel and eggs were a rare delicacy at $2 a dozen.

For the past two months a number of our citizens have been unflinching in their efforts to secure a Gin for Hereford. While at times, they met discouragements which almost blocked the way, yet their purpose was prompted by pure motives and they were determined to carry it to completion: so with each difficulty to overcome, they worked with renewed and increased energy until the victory was won and the gin secured.

Nixon Praises Project In Obsolete Texas Community

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Corporate mergers are often deplored in government circles but on a recent acquisition has set off a chain of events which has led to creation of a new rural community in Texas which has been praised by President Nixon as the type of cooperative project he seeks to encourage.

Chapter One in the story was the acquisition by U. S. Plywood-Champion Papers, Inc. of a large sawmill 90 miles northeast of Houston, in Polk County, Texas. With the mill, U. S. Plywood also gained title to an obsolete company town of Camden, a collection of shacks spread over a two-mile square area.

The corporation did not want its mill workers to continue living in Camden, and began studying alternatives. One idea was a new trailer community. That was rejected, and a way sought to allow the workers to become home-owners instead of tenants. At that point Uncle Sam entered the picture.

Plywood went to the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the summer of 1968. At the Farmers Home Administration the corporate managers found the program they sought, and found the way to create a new community, combining three-bedroom homes for families with rental units for bachelors, widows and retired employees.

Company Invested $800,000

Displaying considerable altruism, Plywood invested more than $800,000 in the housing project. The company put in streets, water and sewer systems, and supplied supervision for the entire project. The homes are brick ramblers on half-acre lots, which the corporation will deed to the occupants after three years.

The new community, on rolling wooded land, has a potential of 156 living units and 52 families already live there, one year after construction began. Thirteen more houses are under construction; and a 36-unit rental development is under way. The subdivision is named Rayburn Hills, after the late Speaker of House of Representatives.

Home-buyers get a 6 1/2 percent interest rate on their loans, which average $10,000. Those with large families do even better by taking advantage of the subsidy provisions of the 1968 Housing Act. Low income families which pay 25 percent of their wages for interest on their mortgage are subsidized by the U. S. for any remaining charges.

Camden will be torn down as soon as the last residents are relocated in Rayburn Hills. Nobody will mourn the passing of this eyesore. Most of the mill workers acquiring a home have never owned property before. One-third of the families are Negroes.

Pattern May Be Followed

There are lots of other company towns around the U. S. that deserve the same fate as Camden. The case history of Rayburn Hills can be duplicated elsewhere, particularly in rural areas where housing costs are lower than in cities. Enlightened corporate management has to dig down for money to get the ball rolling, but the government will help greatly if given a chance.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin hailed the Texas Achievement as "an outstanding example of the constructive results that can flow from close cooperation between concerned private enterprise and the Federal government."

President Nixon was interested enough in Rayburn Hills to send a White House aide to the recent dedication of the new subdivision. He's been preaching the free enterprise gospel for a long time, and advocating a role for government that helps people help themselves.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm seems to start out on one problem and wind up on another this week, but that's his problem.

Dear editor:

According to an article in a newspaper I found yesterday in a weed patch while I was hunting for a hoe I know I put there either the past spring or the one before, an expert in business management has come out with a plan to eliminate the traffic congestion in big cities, a problem which is about to choke the cities to death.

His idea is to establish a three-day work week. One shift works three 10-hour days in a plant, the other then takes over and works three more 10-hour days, thus giving everybody a four-day weekend.

The way traffic would be cut down, he explained, is that nobody would live in the city. Everybody would have a home in the country, as much as 350 miles away, and drive in for his three days of work, spending two nights in a rented room, which means he's going to have to get up 'mighty early the first morning to get there on time if he's 350 miles away.

This expert doesn't say, with everybody living off to himself a few hundred miles from his job, where he's going to put the schools. This may be a major hitch because, not thinking far enough ahead, most rural areas have now torn down their one-teacher school buildings. I argued against it at the time.

I admire this man for trying, but the problem of the cities is too big for him. In fact, it's too big for everybody, and is getting further out of hand all the time.

I was checking under my house out here on this Johnson grass farm the other day and discovered that the water pipes have, after 25 years, begun to rust out and will have to be replaced.

Have you ever stopped to think what a city the size of New York is going to do when it finds out its water pipes have rusted out and the entire plumbing system will have to be replaced?

There are some problems in this life too awful to contemplate.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Several Surprises

Bob Price Gets His Questions Answered

Rep. Bob Price has released the results of his recent poll of voters in the 18th Congressional District — including Deaf Smith County voters — on questions including such issues as Vietnam, inflation, taxes, crime, campus disorders, ABM, voting age, and farm programs, among other current national problems.

The congressman reported he mailed a questionnaire to every postal patron in his district.

He said, "A significant portion of the results of the poll which was conducted in July are now in. I think the response showed widespread interest in national issues, as well as very definite trends in the thinking of those who responded."

Price added that the results of his poll "will be most helpful to me in representing the thinking of my constituents."

But it was explained that not all percentages total 100 per cent — due to lack of response on the question. And several percentages were surprising.

On Vietnam, the questionnaire offered four choices: "Do you favor —"

1. All-out victory? (This scored 49 per cent of the men, 38 per cent of the women.)

2. Continuing Paris peace talks as they are? (Men only 8 per cent. Women also 8 per cent.)

3. Letting the South Vietnamese take over military effort gradually? (Men 32 per cent. Women 38 per cent.)

4. Immediate withdrawal of all U. S. troops? (Men 9 per cent. Women 11 per cent.)

On inflation, the first two questions involved the 10 per cent surtax:

1. (The surtax) should be continued. (Men 46 per cent. Women 57 per cent.)

2. Removed immediately. (Men 54 per cent. Women 43 per cent.)

The second pair of questions concerned the 7 per cent investment tax credits.

1. (Tax credits) should be continued. (Men 60 per cent. Women 63 per cent.)

2. Removed immediately. (Men 40 per cent. Women 37 per cent.)

With taxes, it was "Do you favor—?"

1. A federal income tax reduction (even at the cost of some domestic programs)? (Men, 75 per cent yes, 25 per cent no. Women, 68 per cent yes, 32 per cent no.)

2. Returning percentage of taxes to the states? (Men, 75 per cent yes, 25 per cent no. Women, 71 per cent yes, 29 per cent no.)

3. Tax incentives for rural businesses? (Men, 61 per cent yes, 39 per cent no. Women, 62 per cent yes, 38 per cent no.)

4. Tax exemption for non-profit organizations? (Men, 56 per cent yes, 44 per cent no. Women, 59 per cent yes, 41 per cent no.)

On crime, the six questions began, "Do you favor—?"

1. Wire tapping for crime control? (Men, 94 per cent yes, 6 per cent no. Women, 82 per cent yes, 18 per cent no.)

2. Repeat registration of guns and ammunition? (Men, 87 per cent yes, 13 per cent no. Women, 82 per cent yes, 18 per cent no.)

3. Federal training of law officers? (Men, 79 per cent yes, 21 per cent no. Women, 73 per cent yes, 27 per cent no.)

4. Tax exemption for non-profit organizations? (Men, 56 per cent yes, 44 per cent no. Women, 59 per cent yes, 41 per cent no.)

On ABM, it was "Which do you favor?"

1. Thin network? (Men 12 per cent, women 11 per cent.)

2. Complete ABM? (Men 54 per cent, women 41 per cent.)

3. No ABM system? (Men 9 per cent, women 17 per cent.)

4. More offensive capabilities? (Men 25 per cent, women 31 per cent.)

There was only one question on the voting age: "Do you favor lowering the voting age to 19?" (Men, 33 per cent yes, 67 per cent no. Women, 41 per cent yes, 59 per cent no.)

On Electoral College reform, there were four questions prefaced, "Which do you favor?"

1. Direct popular vote? (Men 66 per cent, women 61 per cent.)

2. Electors by districts? (Men 10 per cent, women 4 per cent.)

3. Popular electoral vote? (Men 12 per cent, women 17 per cent.)

4. No change? (Men 12 per cent, women 18 per cent.)

4. Appointment of more judges? (Men, 75 per cent yes, 25 per cent no. Women, 73 per cent yes, 27 per cent no.)

5. Stronger sentencing of the guilty and drug pushers? (Men, 98 per cent yes, 2 per cent no. Women, 95 per cent yes, 5 per cent no.)

6. National law enforcement academy? (Men, 77 per cent yes, 23 per cent no. Women, 74 per cent yes, 26 per cent no.)

On campus disorders, the six questions were also prefaced with "Do you favor—?"

1. Stricter enforcement of school regulations by school officials? (Men, 96 per cent yes, 4 per cent no. Women, 99 per cent yes, one per cent no.)

2. More student participation in college decision-making? (Men, 28 per cent yes, 72 per cent no. Women, 39 per cent yes, 61 per cent no.)

3. Withdrawal of federal grants from schools which do not maintain order? (Men, 94 per cent yes, 6 per cent no. Women, 98 per cent yes, 2 per cent no.)

4. Withdrawal of federal loans to students who participate in unlawful demonstrations. (Men, 96 per cent yes, 4 per cent no. Women, 99 per cent yes, one per cent no.)

5. Investigations of subversives who participate in school disorders? (Men, 98 per cent yes, 2 per cent no. Women, 99-1.)

6. Stricter control by parents of students? (Men, 98-2. Women, 99-1.)

On ABM, it was "Which do you favor?"

1. Thin network? (Men 12 per cent, women 11 per cent.)

2. Complete ABM? (Men 54 per cent, women 41 per cent.)

3. No ABM system? (Men 9 per cent, women 17 per cent.)

4. More offensive capabilities? (Men 25 per cent, women 31 per cent.)

There was only one question on the voting age: "Do you favor lowering the voting age to 19?" (Men, 33 per cent yes, 67 per cent no. Women, 41 per cent yes, 59 per cent no.)

On Electoral College reform, there were four questions prefaced, "Which do you favor?"

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I've signed up for courses in shorthand so I can get a secretarial job. Can I deduct this expense?

A — Tax law does not permit deductions for educational expenses which qualify you for a new trade or business or enable you to meet the minimum requirements in your present job. However, a deduction can be taken if the course is required by your present employer to keep the job you have or to maintain and improve the skills required on your present job.

For more details on education expenses, send a post card to your District Director and ask for Publication 508, Tax Information on Educational Expenses. The booklet is free.

Q — I filed the card form page form and this total includes most of the 19 million like yourself who filed the card form last year.

Q — My son is working his way through college. Will the amount he earns affect our exemption for him?

A — The amount of his earnings will not affect the dependency exemption if he is under 19 at year end or a full-time student during five months of the year. However, the other dependency tests must continue to be met.

Your son's earnings used for his support should be included in total support in determining whether you provided over half his support.

Q — Can you take a deduction for custom duties and on gifts bought in Europe?

A — No, custom duties are not deductible.

Q — Is there any Social Security tax on household help when you pay $50 a quarter but divide it between two people?

A — No, you are liable for the tax only when you pay one person $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter.

Q — I'm buying U. S. Savings Bonds to help pay for my son's education. Can I arrange this so that I don't have to pay tax on the interest?

A — The interest earned on a savings bond should be reported by the owner of the bond. If you purchase the bonds in your child's name as owner then any tax liability will be his. Unless the interest earned on the bonds and his other income amounts to $600 or more for the year, no return need be filed by him.

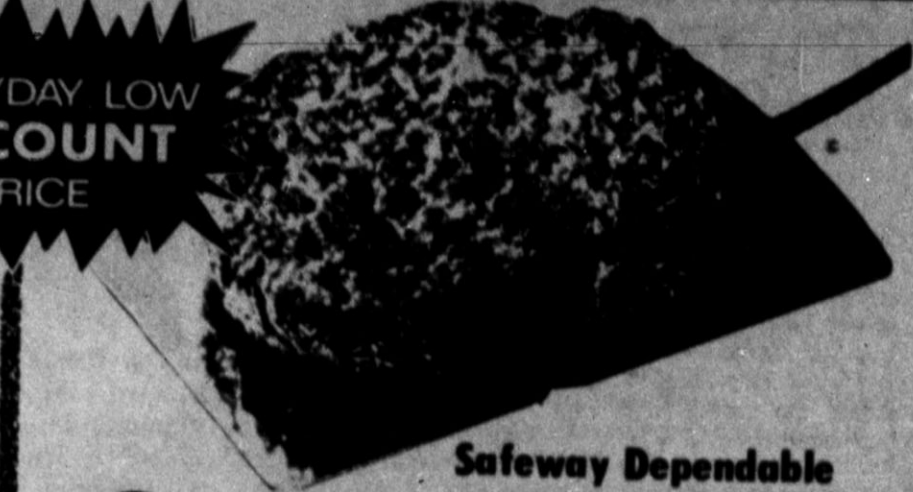

If you have your child elect to report the bond interest each year rather than wait until the year they are cashed in, then your child should file a return showing this bond interest the first year you start the plan. No further return will be required until the child has $600 or more income a year. Keep a copy of this first return to show that an election has been made to report the interest on a yearly basis.

This transaction is a gift to your son. If you give more than $3,000 to him during the year, you have to file a Federal gift tax return.

mons (seated right) demonstrates a scout-made electroscop to Bob Green (standing right). Peckenpaugh, Skipworth, and Simmons are employed by Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co., Inc. Parsons is with Sandia Corp., and Green is the Llano Estacado Council, BSA coordinator for the seminar.

Boy Scouts Plan 4-Week Seminar

Area Boy Scouts will soon take part in a four-week Atomic Energy Merit Badge Seminar which will be climaxed by a week-end trip to Los Alamos, New Mexico, the historic birth place of nuclear power.

Some 25 atomic scientists and engineers of Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co., Inc., and Sandia Corporation, all active scouts employed at the AEC Pantex Plant, are putting the finishing touches to the first such council wide Atomic Energy Merit Badge to be presented to the boy scouts of the Llano Estacado Council.

The four sessions will cover Atomic History, Detection of Radiation, Protection From Atomic Exposure, Reactors, the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Power, and Careers in Nuclear Energy. The scouts will also build electroscopes and model reactors, and grow plants from seeds exposed to atomic radiation. As part of their lab work the boys will work with cloud chambers and use Geiger counters to locate sources of radiation.

The scientists and engineers of Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co., Inc., led by Chester Canada, Les Myers, Leonard Parsons, and Herman Phillips will conduct the seminar with instructions, films, demonstrations, and patrol size lab sessions. Together with the boys' adult leaders, they will also serve as merit badge counselors, to help each scout qualify for this highly coveted Merit Badge.

The seminar will be conducted at the Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, for four Saturday mornings starting Oct. 18. Attendance will be limited to the first 300 scouts who register through their leaders at the Council Office.

Upon satisfactory completion of the merit badge requirements, the scouts will be given the opportunity to visit Los Alamos (Nov. 14 & 15).

Plans for the week-end trip include an overnight stop at Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and a tour of the Sandia Corporation facilities there. This will be followed by a visit to the Atomic Energy Museum at Los Alamos and a scenic side trip to Bandelier National Monument.

Add dried dill to a cream sauce to be used with a cooked vegetable.

NO. IF THEY WENT THERE, THEY ARE DEAD.

WE WOULD HELP YOUR SEARCH, BUT WE FEAR THE HIGH LAND.

Olson-Hardin Vows Read In Home Ceremony Friday

The marriage of Miss Sheila Mae Olson and Alan Ray Hardin was solemnized Friday evening in the home of the bridegroom's parents, 113 Aspen St. Officiating for the double ring candlelight service was Bob Wear, Littlefield Church of Christ minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson, 127 Ranger Drive and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hardin.

Vows were exchanged before a white arch covered with white pompon chrysanthemums, greenery, flanked by candelabra holding blue tapers.

Steve Caviness played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mona Gale Gibson as she sang "More."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a form gown of silk shantung styled with a high neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was enhanced by seed pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a white gardenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight McGee, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, served as honor attendants for the couple. Miss Lynette Hardin, sister of the bridegroom, was candle lighter and Miss Penny Olson, sister of the bride, was ring bearer.

Blue crepe made the gown of the matron of honor and she carried a bouquet of white pompon chrysanthemums with blue streamers. Lynette wore a white blouse trimmed in lace.

The reception honoring the couple was held in the home immediately following the ceremony where wedding guests were registered by Mrs. David Bornstein.

White satin and net, trimmed with blue lace bells and blue satin ribbon draped the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of white pompon chrysanthemums in a blue vase. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue wedding bells, was surmounted by the traditional bride and groom.

Presiding at the table was Miss Becky Hardin, sister of the bridegroom.

Following a brief wedding trip the couple will be at home at 828 Bleivins. For traveling, the bride chose a brown and white velvet dress and matching accessories. Her gardenia corsage was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

La Plata Elevens Crush Opponents

La Plata's seventh, eighth and ninth grade teams all grabbed crushing wins over their opponents in last weeks action, with the seventh grade defeating the Canyon Purple, 44-22, the eighth grade demolishing the Canyon team, 34-22 and the ninth grade winning, 38-24 over the Friona squad.

For the ninth grade, it marked the third straight win of the season for them while it was the opening game of the season for the seventh and eighth grades.

In the ninth grade trouncing of Friona, the Mavericks and their hosts played defensive ball through the first quarter for no scores, and then the two teams exchanged scores in the second period.

Larry McNutt put the Mavericks on the scoreboard with a 56-yard scamper in the early moments of the second quarter and Danny Harris rolled over for the two point conversion. Friona tied the score at 8-8 in the same period and the score stood there until the second half.

Starting off the third period was all but a disaster for the Friona team as they allowed the Mavericks 16 points for the games' icing. McNutt scored one TD on a 9 yard run with Harris again adding the two point conversion and Terry Champ broke loose for a 60 yard touchdown run, with McNutt adding the extra points on the conversion.

Friona scored a touchdown in the third period and that was all they were allowed by the Maverick defense throughout the remainder of the game. La Plata produced 14 more points in the final quarter when Walter Olson plunged over from the three and Terry Poindexter added a one-point kick. Harris scored his TD of the night in the waning minutes of the game when he busted loose from 30 yards out for a score. Poindexter kicked again, and it score. Statistics for the game show La Plata managed 13 first downs while Friona could gather in only three. The Mavericks collected 357 yards with their rushing game and Friona was held almost yardless.

For the eighth grade team, Jim Marsh, James Waits, Wayne Schumacher and James Harris ending up with 16 points.

The ground game was the most successful for the eighth grade team because of their offensive blocking, which was headed by guard Bobby Bogard. Marsh quarterbacked the team with Waits, Harris and Schumacher bulling their ways through the Canyon Purple's defensive wall.

For the seventh grade team,

Doug Charest led the scoring with 14 points while full back Mike Munnerlyn collected eight, tailback Marvin Harris got six, Steve Bryan eight, Zane Mayfield two and Robert Garcia six.

Mayfield did alternating duties at quarterback with Bryan and Garcia subbed for Harris. The game against the Canyon team was the first game ever played by the boys who participated, and the coaches pointed out that Mike Crim did a fine job of blocking at guard while Terry Yerby did an outstanding job on defense.

The next game for the seventh and eighth grades will be Tuesday when they go to Friona for 5 and 7:30 p. m. games. The ninth grade will host the Canyon White team here Thursday.

Coronation At Temple Baptist

Using the theme, "America, My Witness," eleven young ladies of Girls' Auxiliary at Temple Baptist Church in Hereford were presented in coronation services last Sunday night. Those participating and the steps completed were:

Queens: Joan Waters with Richard Waters serving as crown bearer. Carmella Burges with Jeff O'Rand serving as crown bearer. Donna Watson with crown-bearer Kenneth Waters. Sharon Watson with crown-bearer David Watson. Lynne Inmon was Queen regent-in-service with crown bearer Robby Cook.

Princess was Karen Shore. Ladies-in-waiting were Jean Barber and Shannon Watson. Maidens were Amy Cox, Vivian Burges, and Sheryl Schmidt. Special music was provided by Mrs. Gerald Haak with Mrs. Albert Ricketts and Sally Kate Graves at the organ and piano. Mrs. Bill Lamm is president of Women's Missionary Union who sponsored the GA's and gave challenges to each girl as they were presented to the church.

Mrs. Glenn Williams, GA director, presented the program. Junior GA leader Mrs. Bill McKinney and Intermediate leader Mrs. Byron Grover gave awards to each girl and described some aspect of the completed work.

As the queens were recognized, they were crowned by their respective mothers. Ushers were Becky Cox, Debbie Slaughter, Kathy Digby, and Susan Watson.

According to a recent interim report by the U. S. Forest Service, commercial forest land in New York State has increased 13 percent since 1950.

Walter R. Brookins was the first aviator to fly to a height of a mile. Only July 9, 1901, he flew his Wright biplane to 6,175 feet over Atlantic City, N.J., to win that city's Aero Club prize of $5,000.

BOUGHT HOLE

LEICESTER, England — The city of Leicester has bought a hole in the ground and now is wondering what to do with it. British Railways, government owned, looked around its cupboard and found a 1,796-yard-wondering what to do with it. British Railways, government owned, looked around its cupboard and found a 1,796-yard-long tunnel from Leicester to Glenfield, unused. The rail line through it has been abandoned for years.

So BR put it up for sale for five pounds (12 dollars).

City council snapped it up. Now they don't know what to do with it. One taxpayer wrote in:

"Fill it up and forget about it."

Tower Discusses Vietnam Options

I believe all Americans are in full agreement that the Vietnam war should be brought to an honorable end at the earliest possible date. We are all seeking peace in Vietnam just as we seek peace worldwide.

I am concerned that in our search for peace we may become so frustrated that we grasp blindly towards our goal without considering an alternative which I believe is available and should be fully considered by the administration and by each of us as individual citizens.

We have tried many avenues toward peace. Each time we have found the way blocked by an attitude of intransigence on the part of the North Vietnamese government.

We have observed an extended moratorium on all bombing of North Vietnam. We have exhibited a great deal of patience with the negotiations in Paris. We have even withdrawn a number of our military forces in the hope that the Hanoi government would reciprocate.

I am fearful that we may grasp at continued withdrawal of our troops as a panacea. Some of my colleagues in the Senate have recently advocated passage of a resolution calling for complete and unilateral withdrawal of U. S. forces from Vietnam according to a specific timetable. Such a resolution would not have the force of law, but it would express the sentiment of a majority of members if passed. I do not believe such a resolution will pass but I am concerned that responsible legislators are considering this possibility.

I am unalterably opposed to any such resolution because I believe our government should be free to use any appropriate method which will actually attain peace. I do not want our administration to feel the only road to peace is unilateral withdrawal.

Any suggestion of complete unilateral withdrawal of our forces from Vietnam serves to fuel war, not promote peace. Should we set a time certain for withdrawal from South Vietnam, we would completely sabotage the negotiation which is currently going on in Paris. The enemy would be encouraged to continue the war beyond a point at which he might otherwise opt for peace.

Adoption of a policy of unilateral withdrawal in accordance with a firmly established timetable would, in reality, amount to capitulation. The credibility of the United States as a world leader would be destroyed and, ultimately, a power vacuum would develop which all forces would rush to fill.

This would be tragic in light of the fact that with the advent of a new policy by a new administration, there has been little complaint over the world about American posture on Vietnam. Privately, many heads of state encourage us to remain until we can get a satisfactory settlement which results in the arrest of Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

All of our conciliatory gestures and initiatives have not produced a favorable response from Hanoi. Their strategy is to

The United States regained the world record for payload-carrying July 30, 1939, when Maj. C. V. Haynes and Capt. W. D. Old flew a Boeing B-15 to 8,200 feet with a payload of 15 and one-half tons, at Wright Field, Ohio.

The inherent strength of wood is closely related to its weight of density. Selection for density requires, in addition to a specific rate of growth, a minimum of summer wood.

continue fighting until the United States wearies of the war and surrenders its goal of self-determination for the South Vietnamese people.

The intransigence of the Hanoi government is exhibited by that regime's unwillingness even to identify American servicemen now being held in their prisoner-of-war camps.

Recently, four Texas women traveled all the way to Paris simply to ask the Hanoi representatives there whether they were wives or widows. Finally, a Hanoi spokesman told them they would be informed later by mail whether their husbands were being held prisoner. Further, he said that other family members could make similar inquiries if they would travel to Paris as individuals.

Now such a policy could only have been calculated to increase the anguish being suffered here at home by the mothers, fathers, wives and children of men "ho are known only to be "missing in action."

I think the time is fast approaching when, in the light of North Vietnamese intransigence we must consider the exercise of additional military options which are available to us. Among these options are resumption of our bombing activities in the North, interdiction of enemy lines of communication and supply on a saturation basis and the closing of the port at Haiphong.

It becomes increasingly apparent to me that the intensification of military pressure on our enemies is the only thing that will bring them to terms and bring us to peace. I don't believe that we should regard victory as either an evil word or an unattainable goal. I believe that we can achieve military victory with no more of our resources than is already presently available. The policy of restraint, though honestly motivated and worthy of trial, has thus far been unsuccessful.

We should convince Hanoi of our resolve. They are not now convinced and the words of those who advocate unilateral withdrawal only gives them encouragement to keep on fighting.

Sen. John Tower.

4-H Week has started off with a bang in Hereford. The 4-H parents who met Tuesday night are very enthusiastic about club prospects for the next year. The hayride was fun and well attended. Also, the church service helped in giving recognition to 4-H members and leaders.

October 5-11 is National 4-H Club Week and it has so been proclaimed by Governor Preston Smith. In an official memorandum, he urges all citizens to support and encourage the work of the "Tom Make the Best Better" organization. Projects and activities are available under the 4-H program for urban and suburban, as well as the rural youth of Texas.

The homemakers have been asked for an expression of improvements in shopping the next five years. This is at least interesting.

Picture information phones, customer lounges, store hostesses, professional food consultants, roofed parking lots and no-wait check-out lines.

These are a few requests of consumers asked for in a recent series of panel discussions conducted across the country. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist, says the panels tried to discover what Mrs. Shopper wants in the supermarket of 1975.

She wants aisles free of stockers during rush hours, better price marking and larger merchandise selection.

In store interiors, she wants wider aisles, help finding products through store directories, rest rooms and snack areas.

But she doesn't want to shop for groceries via television. She wouldn't trust the long-distance appraisal of meat and vegetables and she fears losing contact with store personnel.

Consumer's also reacted negatively to credit cards for food purchases. The consumer doesn't trust herself to control spending, Mrs. Clyatt reports.

Other wants of Mrs. Shopper include more personnel to serve shoppers better, less confusion about prices by checkers, trained baggers who know proper handling of products, improved methods of bagging, easy-to-read and conveniently placed cash register window showing price of item checked, better way to get purchase from store to car and larger car spaces with angled parking.

The A. C. Nielson Company conducted the panels.

Does your life insurance policy pay an annual dividend? What is a dividend? What can be done with it?

Dividends are refunds, in a way, explains Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist. They represent the difference between what is paid in a year and what the insurance company has found to be the actual cost of insuring a life.

The specialist suggests several ways dividends can be used:

Use them to increase insurance coverage... by using them as the premium for additional amount of permanent coverage on which a physical examination need not be taken.

Ask the insurance company to apply dividends to present premiums, thus reducing the policy's annual cost.

Leave dividend with the insurance company where it gathers interest.

Use the dividend to pay back a loan which may have been taken out against the policy.

Use it to buy a one-year term insurance policy, or take the dividend in cash.

The choice, says Miss Jacobsen, should depend on family needs.

Between seasons is a good time to clean out closets and drawers.

Useful colorful washable plastic coated paper to line dresser drawers. It protects against possible spills and is easy to keep clean.

As you really intend to wear one earring??

BRAVE BOY

GERMISTON, South Africa — Flippie Fouché found five masked African thieves moving the furniture out of his home when he entered through the back door. Running to his father's bedroom, he grabbed a loaded revolver but used two karate blows instead to disarm and put into flight a knife-wielding African who attacked him.

Gun in hand, he forced one of the Africans to carry back into the house all the furniture which had been piled on the verandah. When the other four blacks plucked up courage and charged the house, he held them off with the revolver. Eventually all the Africans fled.

Flippie then put the gun away and went to play with his friends. His mother only discovered the would-be theft when she asked why the furniture was out of place. Flippie is ten.

Status Of Women Is Bay View Club Topic

The Status of Women of Our Time was the topic for an interesting program presented by Mrs. Jimmy Gillentine, to Bay View Study Club members at a Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. Herman Ford.

Her discussion opened with "What are the potentials of a woman in today's society?" Mrs. Gillentine stated that a woman's investment in education qualifies her to go into the thick of political and social action. They are trained to be people with broad humanistic viewpoints.

In her discussion, she said women should take a happy shouldering of responsibility in the community, but should not be so compulsive that you don't have time of your own. Women should seek to have a true balanced role in society, she said.

In a brief business session preceding the program, it was announced that Mrs. Tom Swanson would present the program for the next meeting scheduled Oct. 16 in the home of Mrs. W. S. Kerr. She will present recordings by Carl Sandburg.

Others attending were Mmes. H. L. Benefield, Colby Conkright, Howard Gault, W. J. Gilliland, R. B. Miller and Carl Swanson.

Scholarships And Bonds From 4-H

Two outstanding 4-H members—a top ranking young woman and a top-ranking young man—will receive scholarships for good citizenship at the 48th National 4-H Congress in Chicago late this fall.

The 1969 national citizenship winners will receive their $600 scholarships in memory of Thomas E. Wilson, long-time president of the National 4-H Service Committee, Inc. The awards also provide for expense-paid trips to the Congress for the two national winners.

The purpose of this awards program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, is to encourage good citizenship activities among 4-H members. These activities increase interest, understanding and knowledge of the responsibilities of a good citizen. They emphasize the concern of "good citizens" for the welfare of others through acts of community service as well as participation in community, county and state groups.

State 4-H winners must be at least 14 years of age, but no more than 19 on Jan. 1, 1969. They also must have completed at least three years of 4-H work.

Last year's winners were Carl Anne Smayda, Trenton, N.J., and Michael Bullock, Glasgow, Va.

The awards will be presented to the 1969 winners at The Conrad Hilton Hotel during the National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4.

Participants in the 1969 National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest have been given added incentives, $1,500 in the U.S. Savings Bonds.

Provided for the first time by Elanco Products Company, a Division of Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, the bonds range in maturity value from $500 each downward to $100. The awards will recognize the five young judges scoring highest in the contest to be held Nov. 28, in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago.

The judging contest is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. Robert L. McGuire, extension animal husbandry specialist, North Carolina State University is in charge.

Last year, about 125 4-H members from 31 states participated in the judging contest. Each placed several classes of beef, swine and sheep and justified his placings with oral reasons. The 1969 contest is expected to draw a similar number of participants.

Livestock judging activities improve the decision-making and communication abilities of young people, say the contest sponsors. They also point out that youths gain increased appreciation of quality livestock and become more knowledgeable of consumer demands.

Each of the young livestock judges will have survived numerous elimination contests before judging in the national event.

The National 4-H Service Committee arranged for the awards sponsored by Elanco Products Company.

A former 4-H boy and a former 4-H girl, currently students at a college of veterinary medicine in the U. S., will be awarded $80 scholarships this fall.

Named for the canine television star, the Lassie—4-H Veterinary Medicine College Scholarships are offered for the second year by The Wrather Corporation, Los Angeles, Calif., and Campbell Soup Company, Camden, N. J.

Announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, the awards also include expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for the two winners.

The scholarships will be presented at the opening of the national 4-H event, Sunday, Nov. 30.

Designed to encourage youth to specialize in the field of veterinary medicine, the scholarship program is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Applications are available from deans of the 18 colleges of veterinary medicine in the U.S. and at all State 4-H offices.

In 1968, two veterinary college juniors were the recipients of the scholarships jointly given by Lassie's owner and producer of the television series, The Wrather Corporation, and the series' sponsor, Campbell Soup Company. Kenneth E. Reynolds, 22, Arapahoe, Colo., a student at Colorado State University's College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Science, claimed one of the grants. Patricia M. Schultz, 22, Faribault, Minn., College of Veterinary Medicine student at the University of Minnesota earned the other scholarship.

A national judging committee will select the final winners in mid-November. Selection will be based upon information given in the application form, financial need and scholarly record of the applicant.

Water Inc. Opens Unit Recognition

LUBBOCK — Directors of Water, Inc. opened the way for full recognition of county units, launched a membership campaign, and heard a status report on the engineering of the Texas Water Plan from the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation Friday in Lubbock.

Sweeping by-laws changes ordered by the board give official recognition to county units of Water, Inc. and provide a means for the counties to have director representation on the parent organization's board.

County units have already been organized in about a dozen counties in anticipation of the change.

The board action clears the way for broadening the base of membership through the county units which will work in the fields of membership cultivation and public education, and will serve as a sounding board for local needs and desires.

Any county in which at least 100 members of Water, Inc. reside, and in which a county unit has been formed, may petition Water, Inc. for district status and a district director.

In launching an "Every Member Get a Member" campaign, each of the directors attending the meeting pledged to sign up Jimmie Roberts might well be called "the traveling appliance salesman," since he has just racked up another all-expense paid trip through a company sales contest. The Roberts, (Jim and Betty), will be leaving for Rome November 1 for an eight day excursion complements of the Amarillo District of RCA Victor and Whirlpool. Roberts won the trip in a sales competition just completed.

But this really isn't anything new to the Roberts. In years past Jimmie has won three trips to Nassau, one trip to the New York World's Fair, a trip to Mexico City, one to Acapulco, two trips to the Hawaiian Islands, two to Las Vegas, one trip to Lake Tahoe and two trips to the company's factory.

By the way, this isn't Jim's first trip to Rome, although it is the first time Betty has gone. Jim won an all-expense trip back in the early '40s but found that his reception was not to cordial. Accommodations were not the best either, but after they pushed out some of the unwelcome guests from Germany, things got a little better. It took him quite a time to get home from that one.

Anyway, congratulations. We hope you enjoy this trip.

The Hereford Whitefaces, plagued with injuries, came through Friday night to defeat the tough Phillips Blackhawks and next Friday will travel to Dalhart to do battle with the Dalhart Wolves. Dalhart was defeated last week by the hapless Tullia Hornest, who garnered their first win since 1967. Now that's a long dry spell.

Actually, we think Hereford has done rather well in spite of the fact that a number of boys are on the injured list and we're hoping that they can rack up an excellent conference record this year. However it's going to be tough all the way.

And, if you haven't been to a home game this year, you're missing something. The new stadium is a dandy and certainly should enhance the attendance record. There are no "bad" seats in the stadium, and you don't have to worry about being so far towards the end zone that you need binoculars if the teams happen to be on the other end of the field.

October 5-11 is Fire Prevention Week, and perhaps an excuse for us to say a few words about our fine Volunteer Fire Department — the finest in the state. These fellows do more than their share to prevent the loss of property and life from fire. You can help too.

In the United States and Canada, more than 1,850 homes are destroyed or damaged by fire each day, in many instances with tragic loss of life. Fire strikes about 500 industrial and commercial places each day, and in addition to the waste of physical resources, there are incalculable costs in temporary or permanent loss of jobs and frequent business failures.

We have an unfortunate habit of dismissing most fires as "accidents," as sort of visitations of bad luck which somehow are unavoidable. But how unavoidable — or predictable — is the fire started by a carelessly discarded cigarette, or overloaded and defective electric wiring, or poorly maintained heating and cooking equipment? As shown by National Fire Protection Association studies, these and similar, uncomplicated causes are responsible for the great majority of fires.

We need to acknowledge the fact that fires are not only wasteful but avoidable, then to go on to reform the habits and remove the hazards which cause them. When each of us as an individual has done this, we will no longer risk our lives, jobs and possessions to the destructive forces of

County Farmers Gross $40,356,000

NEW YORK — How did the average farmer in Deaf Smith County make out in the past year?

How much progress has he made, in terms of gross income, in the last five years?

Compared with the earnings of farmers and ranchers in other parts of the country, his returns have been relatively good.

The figures for the period are from a national survey released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows that farm receipts in the local area were $7,088,000 larger in 1968 than they were five years earlier.

The increase was due, in part, to better yields per acre. Farmers will produce more than in former years, despite the cutback in the amount of land under cultivation, by pouring on more fertilizer, by using more mechanical equipment and by improved tillage practices.

At the same time, the demand for farm products was on the rise and the prices paid for them somewhat higher. Even though the farmer received only a fraction of this additional revenue — most of it going to the middle man — it was of some benefit.

In Deaf Smith County, the figures show, gross farm income in the past year came to $40,356,000, as against the $33,268,000 reported five years ago.

Those were the gross amounts, before any deductions for operating expenses.

The increase in the period, 21 percent, compares favorably with that in farm and ranch areas generally throughout the country.

Locally, the major part of the income in the past year consisted of cash receipts from the sale of farm produce and livestock. Added to this were government payments and the value of the home-grown products that were consumed on the farm.

Of the amount that was realized by Deaf Smith County farmers from their marketings, approximately 59 percent of it came from the sale of crops and 41 percent from livestock, dairy products and poultry.

Although 1968 was a record year for the American farmer from the standpoint of revenue, with receipts of $51.1 billion, it was also a record year for expenses $36.3 billion.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If you are one of the more than 100,000 freshmen or sophomores in college this fall — or even if you are one of the several hundred thousand seniors in high school — you probably have not chosen your career.

You may want to consider the tax field.

There are many interesting specialties. More than 450,000 professional accountants, including 13,000 in the Internal Revenue Service, work in the tax field. Many thousands of lawyers specialize in tax work exclusively. Other attorneys usually devote a part of their pracice to some tax work.

In addition to the professionally qualified there are many other tax practitioners that spend their full time preparing tax work. This group of an estimated one million people who spend full time in technical tax work are supported by a large group of stenographers, typists, bookkeepers and others that earn their living from determining how much tax their clients owe to the Federal, state and local governments.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue, often tells young men and women that he feels after 37 years of working in the tax field that there is no other work as interesting.

He says, "When you become an Internal Revenue Agent, first you go to the IRS school, then you go out and call on the president of the company.

en that he feels after 37 years of working in the tax field that there is no other work as interesting. He says, "When you become an Internal Revenue Agent, first you go to the IRS school, then you go out and call on the president of the company.
