Wartes And His Whitefaces With A Bigger Task In 1970

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Winter has finally arrived, the bustling activities of the summer months are ceasing daily, and for Larry Wartes and his Whitefaces it's time to wipe the slate and start the design of the football team for the fall of 1970.

Material is abundant but the challenge is tremendous and for this reason it is never really too early to begin preparation and never enough time for it.

Classified now as a AAAA contender Hereford will probably not be hindered from the standpoint of waiting till August to start contact work in full pads. According to Wartes, they will most likely be involved with spring drills but they do want to wait till as late as possible.

Within the next two weeks the head coach will have his Herd concentrating their energy on expanding their muscles with weights and moving with more speed and co-ordination in agility drills.

They can't forget this past season, one of more good points than bad, but it is over and what matters now is the Whitefaces' next battle, the Pampa Harvesters.

Certain games such as the ones the Faces romped to victory by scores of 49-0 and 48-0 will not likely come around again. Next year's schedule includes some of the roughest teams in the state, several from Amarillo and Lubbock.

The Herd ended the season on a good note of eight wins and two losses. Their first loss was the second game against Plainview by a 21-3 margin. After this loss the Herd could not be turned or slowed in their forward march.

They downed Seminole, Phillips, and Dalhart before entering district. It was reported earlier that a flock of Eagles from the eastern city of Canyon were determined to upset the Faces in the first conference game.

The reason may have been primarily because of the 46-0 disgrace to Canyon handed them by Hereford the year before. This or whatever the incentive in mind was of no success. The Eagles did give the home crew a run for the money but they ended second in the race 19-0.

The next encounter which was with Perryton was thought to be a similar type game. It was. The Rangers drove everything they had at the Herd and in the last quarter pulled into the lead. Hereford came right back with an aerial show that favored them with six points. The final score was 9-8, the second time in two years the contest ended in a one point deficit.

Wartes and crew relaxed and coasted the next two weeks while playing Muleshoe and Tulia. These were their only two run away games of the campaign.

The only thing left was to beat Dumas but the Whitefaces were victims of the fire again. Wartes summed up the 20-6 tragedy to his team this way.

"We had thirteen passes intercepted this year and five of them were by Dumas. These interceptions were definitely the worst thing against us in the entire game."

"About the only thing we did well was mash their nose," he said referring to the running game established by his team which netted them two solid drives and a touchdown.

"We never dreamed we'd hold Laughey (Dumas quarterback) to 23 yards passing but we also didn't expect him to scramble as well and as much."

When questioned about the Demon ground attack which provided them a touchdown early in the first quarter, he said, "It didn't really surprise us that they ran right at us but we did not expect them to do it as much. Their best back was Gary Burks by far."

He's not the kind of guy that is extremely fast but he has the speed to make him the good contender he is.

As a whole we were satisfied with the entire season but of course we did not like the way it ended. The boys had a good attitude and the fans supported us well. We had a full house at the Canyon, Dumas, Pampa, and Plainview games.

We had an above average team. We were rated third in the area a few weeks ago behind Lubbock Estacado and Dumas."

Athletic director as well as head coach, Wartes was well pleased with the performance of all the teams. Out of the nine teams in the city, three in each junior high and three in high school, Hereford won 52 games, lost 15, and tied two.

Wartes was also content with the fact that seventeen different boys scored points this fall. Fourteen tallied themselves a touchdown and three came through on conversion attempts. "Our defense did well too by intercepting 14 passes, Jerry Tyler was the leader with four."

Statistics can tell a story as well as the score. The 1969 Whiteface squad rushed for 2,277 yard, second highest in the past ten years behind only the 1961 team with 2,312. This team was also second highest of the Whiteface teams in a decade in total yards offense with 2854. Three thousand and four yards is tops gained in 1965, a big passing year.

The Herd defense, praised time and again, has to be recognized one more time. They held the opposition for 73 points, all teams included. The last time a Hereford crew limited contenders for fewer than this would be around the year 1946. Only about nine games were played then.

Tailback Richard Lyons led the team in all departments as a rusher. He gained 621 yards, six touchdowns and a conversion to net him 38 points.

Next in rushing was Ricki Ward with 595 yards and Marsh Pitman with 246. Ward, Paul Loerwald, David Paetzold, and Pitman managed 18 points each.

Mike Wartes completed 23 passes for 315 yards to take honors in the aerial game.

"Santry Rush punted very well for us this year," said Wartes. "He had a 36.6 yard average and the average run back on his punts was less than two yards."

Next year will present a problem to the Whitefaces in many ways. They will loose almost their entire defensive team that has played a lot of ball. Training boys for big game competition is a chore but this year's offensive line had very little previous varsity experience.

Returning starters will be Ricki Ward, Gary Lemons, Dan Gorman, Jeff Loerwald, Alan Wagner, and Mike Wartes. Wartes hopes to have several prospects from the junior high and he could out of around 50 prospects.

The handicap of Hereford High in sports next year will be that it will be the mini-school of the district. They will match odds with schools such as Lubbock Monterey with 2,900 students, Lubbock Coronado with 1500, and Plainview that is a bit larger than Hereford. HHS itself has between 850 and 900 students.

All left to do now is wait until next year and see how the Hereford Whitefaces will stand with the big ones.

Civil Air Patrol Plans Anniversary Celebration

The local Civil Air Patrol Squadron, commanded by Major Milton Adams, will be hosting area squadrons in a party planned honoring the Civil Air Patrol's 28th anniversary.

Celebrations by the group which includes members of Squadrons from Hereford, Amarillo, Borger and the surrounding areas are scheduled for the evening of December 6, at the Country Club.

Governor Preston Smith has declared the week of December 1 through 6 as Civil Air Patrol Week in Texas, honoring the 28th year of the C. A. P.

This community has been extremely fortunate to have in its midst a band of dedicated citizens by flying search and rescue mission throughout the nation, cooperating with Civil Defense agencies at all levels of city, county, state and federal government in national emergency training, and flying mercy missions to relieve people and communities stricken by floods, hurricanes and other natural disasters.

Civil Air Patrol was organized during the dark days of World War II, when shipping lanes were being harassed by marauding enemy submarines. Volunteers, both men and women, licensed pilots and aircraft owners, voluntarily gave of their time, their services and their aircraft to patrol America's coastlines. C. A. P. pilots flew more than 24 million miles during this period and were credited with having bombed 27 U-boats or radioed the Army or Navy to make the attack. In filling other World War II missions C. A. P. personnel flew more than 500,000 hours. These WWII air operations claimed 64 lives of the C. A. P. membership.

C. A. P. has not rested on its splendid record. In the intervening years, it has grown and developed into a highly organized, efficient and potent force. Today, its trained and competent pilots stand ready to fly instant search and rescue missions; its nationwide communication network of more than 17,000 stations and teams of ground crews with some 3,000 surface vehicles all stand ready for call to duty.

The organization is unrivaled in its aerospace education program. Some 8,000 cadets and senior members were active in the summer encampments and special activities this year. Eighty-six cadets and senior members were awarded grants and scholarships during the year with a total dollar value exceeding $41,000. During 1969, C. A. P. scheduled 137 Aerospace Education Workshops at various college and universities throughout the nation and more than 20,000 teachers participated.

land to test the atomic bomb.

The small unproductive community of Dogpatch is chosen after massive air pollution arose in Las Vegas caused by a first atomic test.

The residents of Dogpatch are ignorant of the reason for sudden interest and are happy over the fact that they have been chosen for the scientific experiment.

Whether Dogpatch is absolutely worthless is a big mystery to the governmental officials throughout the play.

A Tams-Witmark Musical Library, Inc. production, the musical by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank is based on the characters created by Al Capp.

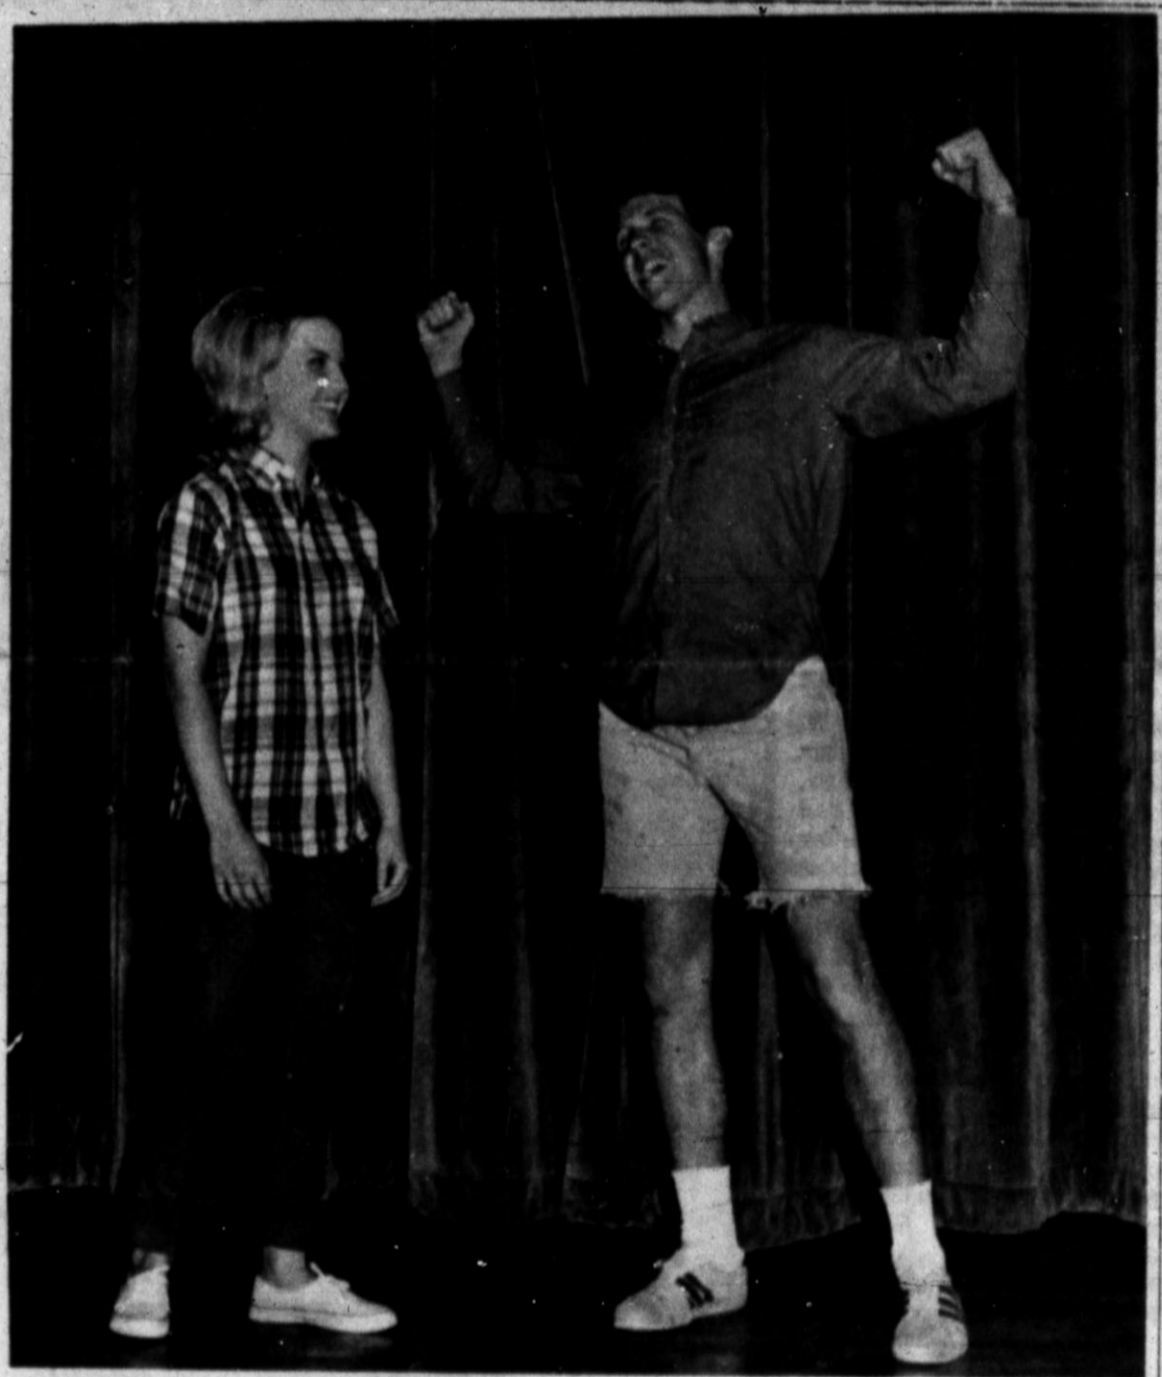

The handsome and muscle bound Li'l Abner will be portrayed by senior Santry Rush, Junior Sherry White, winner of several vocal awards, will play the part of the beautiful blond, Daisy Mae.

Other standout characters will be Souad Malouf, as Moonbeam McSwine, Pappy and Mamma Yokum by Chris Dziuk and Barbara Huckert, Stupefying Jones will be played by Rhoni Ragsdale and Bob Nelson will be seen as General Bullmoose. The parts of Earthquake McGoon and Murrin Sam will be played by Paul Hamilton and Steve Dziuk.

Entertaining almost any type organization in his Bill Cosby manner, Percy Mays will concentrate on the imitation of Dr. Rasmutin T. Finsdale in the musical. Around 80 other students will complete the cast and orchestra for the performance.

Directing Li'l Abner will be HHS choir director Bill Devers. Assisting him are Mrs. Wesley Guley as vocal assistant. She is the La Plata Junior High Choir teacher. Mrs. Maarki Bebb is the choreographer and Mr. Ben Gallehon is the orchestra leader. Technical directors are speech and drama teachers, John Claypool and Mal Manchee.

Tickets are $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for students.

IN HE-MAN STYLE — Santry Rush is shown rehearsing his portrayal of Li'l Abner in preparation for the original musical comedy to be presented by Hereford High School students December 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Daisy Mae (Sherry White) appears to be quite taken by Abner's brute stance.

Thomas Will Be Guest At Dinner

Hereford attorney Wayne Thomas who was just recently appointed by Governor Preston Smith to the State College Coordinating Board, will be among the guests at a dinner meeting at Canyon Dec. 12.

Dr. Bevington Reed, of Austin, commissioner of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, will be the principal speaker at the meeting which is sponsored by the Texas Association of College Teachers.

Dr. Hollis Cook, head of the mathematics department at West Texas State University and of TACT, said Saturday that Panhandle area legislators and members of the university Board of Regents have been invited.

The dinner is at 7 p.m. in the East Dining Hall on the university campus. Faculty members and friends of the university are invited with tickets $3 per person, Cook said.

HHS Music Department To Present Li'l Abner

Last year's success of the musical comedy "Oklahoma" has inspired the Hereford High music department to present "Li'l Abner" on December 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m. on the HHS auditorium stage. The comedy similar to the comic version in the newspaper, centers around the search for a worthless region of Permits Are Up!

November's building permits total, which hit over $300,000, hiked this year's total to almost $3.5 million through the permits issued.

The total of $302,700 was the third largest total for this year, surpassed only by the April total of $1,006,000, and the June total of $348,100.

Of the 19 permits issued, 14 were for the erection of residences one for erection of a car port, one for the altering of residence, one for erection of warehouse, and one for erection of a canopy.

The largest permit issued for the month of November was for $32,000 for the erection of a residence and another for $31,000, also for the erection of a residence.

Prior to the November permits total, the yearly total had reached $3,113,650 and with the addition of the November total, the figure now stands at $3,496,350.

Films Now Available

Three informative movie films on the effects of cancer will be shown by the local chapter of the American Cancer Society to the 7th and 8th grade classes of Walcott School tomorrow. They are entitled "Who Me," "The Bill Tallman Story," and "Is Smoking Worth It."

"The Bill Tallman Story" is the account of the tragic history of lung cancer which proved fatal for Tallman. He was the actor who played the defense attorney on the Perry Mason TV series. Tallman knew that his life was to be cut short because of the illness and therefore he wanted to leave something behind to inform people of the danger.

He commented, "Of all the cases that I lost on the show I would like to have won the case of my life." Tallman passed away two months after making the film.

Officers of the Hereford chapter of the American Cancer Society are Herman Ford, president, Mrs. Sue James who is in charge of the memorial fund, John David Bryant, educational supervisor, Ansel McDowell, co-chairman, Irene McKinstler, in charge of local cancer benefits, and Jeff Carlisle, chairman of the drive.

These and other members of the organization meet the third

Friday of each month in the Jim Hill Hotel.

Two weeks ago a film on self breast examination was presented by the ASC to various study clubs and Local Vocational Nurses of the community. The audience consisted of only women. Dr. Duffy McBrayer was the speaker who also answered several questions.

A spokesman for the society stated that another showing of this certain movie is scheduled sometime after the first of the year at the Star Theatre.

He also said, "Anyone interested in any program may call on John David Bryant, Herman Ford, or any of the other officers. We will try to show the film in at least two days after we are notified."

In past years the ACS has pointed out that one of the most important jobs of theirs is getting people to the doctor in time. The most successful way they believe to achieve this is to educate the people to the dangers of cancer and its symptoms.

ever, many cancers can be cured if detected early in their development and treated by surgery or radiation.

The fact that most lung cancers are caused by cigarette smoking and most skin cancers by frequent overexposure to direct sunlight has been proven by research. These can be prevented by avoiding their causes.

Also, certain cancers caused by occupational factors particularly bladder cancer, in the dye industry have been prevented by eliminating the caused agents.

Cancer strikes at any age. It affects children as well as adults, but it strikes with increasing frequency with advancing age.

Cancer can be spotted by its seven danger points. They are (1) hoarseness or cough, (2) indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, (3) change in a wart or mole, (4) change in bowel or bladder habits, (5) a sore that does not heal, (6) unusual bleeding or discharge, and (7) a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.

"These signals do not usually mean cancer but they are warnings; if one lasts more than two weeks, it is important to go to your doctor."

Company Buys Feedyard Here

Deaf Smith Feedyards, Inc., located in the northeast portion of the county, and Southwestern Investment Company of Amarillo, announced Friday that the two groups have reached agreement in principle for acquisition of the cattle feeding operations by the Amarillo firm.

Though lawyers are still working on legal matters for the transaction, the announcement was made Friday that the transaction will be an exchange of SIC common stock for all the outstanding Deaf Smith capital stock, with the maximum number of shares to be determined on the basis of the yard's earnings over a three-year period.

All personnel at the feedyard will remain there under the new ownership. President of the feedyard is William M. "Bill" Alexander of Amarillo and the feedlot manager is Chuck Critchlow, formerly of Tucson, Ariz.

The purchasing firm is a veteran business, having opened for business in 1930, and now has offices in nine near-by states. The firm has spread its operations into Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, South Dakota, Missouri, Colorado, California and Arizona. The company just recently purchased the NUBRO Corporation of Lubbock, a company which manufactures parts for the automotive parts rebuilding industry.

Located 13 miles southwest of Wildorado, Deaf Smith Feedyards began operations slightly over a year ago as a corporate structure when several businessmen and ranchers purchased the operations. Prior to the purchase by the businessmen and ranchers, the cattle operations was known as Hereford Cattle Feeders, Inc. and had a total head capacity of 17,000. Now, the total for the feedyard is 35,000.

In addition to being one of the finest cattle feeding operations in the area, the brick office for the yard is also considered one of the finest, having complete facilities for executive personnel, purchasing agents, electronic scale system and restaurant for visitors and employees.

Total assets of Deaf Smith Feedyards were listed as in excess of $3 million with sales for the 12-month period ending September 1969 totaling $5,460,000 and net earnings for that same period totaling $247,000.

Primarily an insurance and financial operation, SIC's purchase of Deaf Smith Feedyards is the second such move toward cattle and cattle feeding operations.

R. G. Lynch In Freak Accident

R. G. Lynch, a farming resident of the Westway community is listed in satisfactory condition by Deaf Smith County Hospital officials after suffering the loss of his right arm in a freak accident on his farm Tuesday.

Spokesman for the hospital said that Lynch got off the tractor, leaving the shredder running. After some unguided movement, Lynch apparently caught his glove in the shaft of the cutting machine, which continued to move over his arm and severed the limb.

Following the accident, Lynch managed to walk over one-half mile to his pickup and then drove five miles further to Simms Corner for help.

Upon arrival he was assisted by M. W. Blankenship, operator of the Simms Corner Grocery and Farm Supply. Blankenship transferred Lynch to his pickup and rushed him to town.

Blankenship reports even though Lynch was in very serious condition he remained rational and his endurance during the 30 mile drive to the hospital was remarkable.

Essay Contest Winners To Be Announced

Seventy Hereford High School students voiced opinions and spoke freely on the subject of "Freedom's Challenge," not through sit-ins or demonstrations but from essays entered in the annual Voice of Democracy Contest sponsored by the VFW Post No. 4818.

The writings were taped by KPAN and through the process of judging by Dr. Jack Walker and his speech class at West Texas State University 13 top finalists were chosen from the group of essays entered.

According to C. L. Walker, VFW chairman of the Voice of Democracy, three top winners of the finalists will be announced during a banquet on December 8 at 7 p. m. in the Chaparral Restaurant at Sugarland Mall.

Honored as special guests at the event will be the first, second and third place winners who will present their essays and receive their awards.

The student with the winning essay will receive a $25 bond, a trophy and a medal. Local second and third place winners will receive medals for their efforts.

The high award of first place entitles the essay to be sent up the ladder for more possible recognition. The winning writing will be transferred to the VFW District 13 for further judging, if chosen the next stop for rating would be state finals. The winner in state competition receives a trip to Washington, D. C. An essay winning at state also has the opportunity to compete in national finals.

VFW officials report the public is cordially invited to attend the banquet honoring these students. Plates will be $1.50 and arrangements for reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Wayne Driskill at 364-3283 or by contacting the high school teachers who have aided in carrying out this years program. They include Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. Chas Bell and Mal Manchee.

Top 13 finalists presenting essays which are now in competition for the final three winners were written by: Charles Allison, Shera Anderson, Marian Betzen, Joann Hershey, Lori Hopson, Alicia Hubble, Sammy Ogan, Larry Roberts, Steve Ray, Marcia Tiefel, David Thomas, Kathy Shannon, and Roxann Schwertner.

When Rights Are Wrongs

The Bill of Rights of our federal constitution was designed some 200 years ago to protect the individual against tyranny: arbitrary search and seizure in one's home; imprisonment without habeas corpus; torture-extracted false confessions of guilt; denial of free assembly; religion, press, speech. Our constitution invokes against prosecution of anyone without due process of law. When enacted, our constitution became instant freedom — freedom written down, spelled out, law of the land. It assured minority rights down to a minority of one person. It enshrined the individual.

But what has happened? The minority-oriented concept of our basic law has become invasion of majority rights thus reversing the original purpose of our founding fathers. Every anti-social element of our society flowers under constitutional guarantee of minority rights to derogation of majority rights. Freedom of assembly has become riots; freedom of speech, license; freedom of press, pornography; freedom of religion, denial of religion (no prayers in public schools, crosses to be removed from public places). Fifth amendment has too long been a cloak of crime.

It is the interpretation of the constitution that is at fault, not the constitution. Freedom has been betrayed by judiciary from Supreme Court on down. May there be new hope in Chief Justice Warren Burger's court!

Today there is no greater enemy of freedom than communism... totalitarian, authoritarian, police state. This is socialism which can operate only as tyranny. Freedom of choice for the individual cannot be permitted in a socialist state, as this would disrupt state controlled economy.

Come now one Dorothy Healy and one Angela Davis, both acknowledged communists dedicated to uses of freedom to crust freedom... and at taxpayers' expense. Now they pervert minority rights to destroy democracy through communism.

For the past 20 years Dorothy Healy has been chairman of the Communist Party in Southern California. But she got fired. She didn't like Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and said so. This roused ire of communist hierarchy so she got fired. Now she's subsisting on our free enterprise tax dollars as she can't find a job — the unemployment service cannot place her in her category. As a party chairman, neither Republican nor Democratic Party seems to desire her services, not even George Wallace's American Independent Party.

Angela Davis is another case in point. We are paying this 25 year old professor $9,684 per year as an instructor in our University of California. Although dismissed by Board of Regents, she has been approved by Academic Senate and reinstated by court order so she may continue, at taxpayers' expense, to indoctrinate our youth in communism.

Must we sacrifice our youth to the snake of communism in Vietnam while warming this same snake to our bosom at home?

Miss Davis says, "I can't and won't keep my political ideas out of the classroom." Isn't that just dandy. Would the Soviet Union accept an exchange professor to indoctrinate in behalf of capitalism, free enterprise? I can hear of Kosygin's and Brezhnev's ical laughter. What matter it that Angela Davis teach for scholastic credit. The brainwashing is accomplished. And this woman has been an invited guest speaker at Orange County's University of California, Irvine.

The minority tail is wagging the majority dog. The pendulum has swung too far to the left. Without minority rights there can be no freedom, but when these rights impinge majority rights by force and violence and coddling by courts, then does freedom become supine before threat of dictatorship. When minorities are permitted to abuse their rights rights are wrongs. — Freeman Lusk, Orange County (Calif.) Illustrated

Indefensible Defenselessness

"Of all the institutions in our society, the university is the most nearly defenseless," said Massachusetts Institute of Technology President Howard Johnson in explaining to his faculty why he had sought a court injunction against violence on the campus.

He might have added that a university is especially defenseless when it is headed by a man who declines to defend it. That, unfortunately, describes Howard W. Johnson himself in recent days. Johnson went to court, he said, for an order enjoining groups and individuals "from employing force or violence, against persons or property."

The action was specifically directed against a group known as the November Action Coalition, which was seeking to halt Poseidon missile research in one of the university's laboratories. The university, since signing the Poseidon contract decided it would accept no further military work, but the joint student faculty MIT Commission agreed to permit current contracts to be completed.

Those participating in this work, Johnson said, "must be free to come and go without hindrance, they must be free from threats of bodily harm and their working tools and places must remain unharmed and at their disposition." Yet 350 demonstrators picketed the laboratory, two blocks off the main campus, and repulsed at least two workers who tried to enter it. Police later broke up the picket lines but on their own initiative MIT officials neither sought to employ the injunction or asked for police to enforce it.

The Coalition issued a statement of victory, describing the incident as "the first time that the movement had been able physically to prevent work from being done on a major war research project." By their own admission, then they committed the specific act the MIT President said must be prevented, and no university official acted to prevent it. We disagree with President Johnson's initial thesis as to the university's defenselessness; in the face of force and violence it is entitled to and should request the same police protection as any other institution. What's most indefensible at MIT is its president's lack of will to defend. — Tampa Tribune

Those far-sighted leaders of the past and those dreamers of the present, can realistically come to terms with the future if we but give and take in the interest of the common good. — Gaffney (S.C.) Ledger

There is always the danger, with the advent of a new administration, that hopes will be raised to a point that is impossible of immediate fulfillment. Instant transformations cannot be anticipated merely because a new hand is at the helm. Miracles, nowadays, takes a little time. — Washington Star

White House Is Now Serving As Church

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — The White House serves many purposes and President Nixon has added a new one by holding Sunday church services there when he is in town, and inviting 350 people to worship with him.

Your correspondent was privileged to attend recently, on the day following the massive Washington demonstration by 250,000 war protesters. One would never have known by what transpired inside the mansion that it had been an unusual weekend. It was business-as-usual at the White House.

The invitation had come by telephone from the White House Social Office, on the Monday preceding the event. A second call on Friday had warned of a military cordon to surround the White House and the need to check in with a guard two blocks outside the gate.

However, all was quiet by Sunday morning and there were no soldiers to be seen. Those whose names were on the guest list simply identified themselves to the police officer at the Southwest Gate and drove right in. Parking was provided on the curving road leading to the South entrance.

Early arrivals were invited to roam around the first floor rooms, including the library. It is usually closed to visitors because it is either being used or held ready for use by the President, members of his family, or the staff.

Service Is Short and Simple — President Nixon is a Quaker.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm joins the television controversy this week.

Dear editor:

After reading about it in the newspapers and listening to it on television — I'm talking about the big controversy stirred by Vice President Agnew over the way television handles the news — I've decided what this country needs is a Department of Humor with full cabinet status.

I mean, now you take Mr. Agnew's complaint about the way a panel of commentators handled President Nixon's speech a while back. As he reported, as soon as Mr. Nixon got through speaking, these commentators came on and sat around tearing his remarks apart and explaining what he said and didn't say and generally going on. Mr. Agnew objected to it, said they ought to let the public digest the speech on its own.

I hadn't thought of it that way. I didn't know those commentators were there to contribute anything or influence anybody. I thought they were there because television operates on an inflexible schedule, it never ends a program at say 10 minutes till 9, but always exactly on the hour or half-hour, and it was their job to fill out the 10 minutes left over from the President's speech. I didn't hear what they said because I left to get a drink of water, but I didn't suppose anybody paid any attention to what they were saying. I thought they were just killing time till the clock reached 9 and the regular patent medicine commercial could come on, although of course it could have been the one about false teeth.

A Department of Humor could be used to explain that the only people who take the commentators seriously are the commentators and that if say Gunsmoke ever ended 10 minutes short of the hour they'd be used to round out the clock with a discussion of the sociological-economic impact of Festus Hagen.

As for Mr. Agnew's complaint that television concentrates on the sensational, like focusing on a window smashing by a few marchers when 100,000 others are walking peacefully, or on 50 students throwing a dean out when 20,000 others are in their rooms studying or reading comic books, he's right, of course, but that's human nature for you.

There never was a football game so exciting that the fans' attention couldn't be drawn away, even during a tie-breaking touchdown run, by a fist fight in the stands between two drunks.

Of course, one fist fight right after another would finally become boring, and Mr. Agnew is right in sensing that the mob scenes are becoming tiresome.

By the way, I asked a man who watches the television news without fail every night what happened a few minutes after the show was over last night since I'd missed it and for the life of him he couldn't tell me.

A lot of things on television shouldn't be taken too seriously. Make that 95 per cent.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

NEVER THE TWAIN — Irish laborers worked alongside Chinese coolies to build early Texas railroads, but the two ethnic groups apparently kept themselves strictly segregated off the job.

Miss Marsha Jackson, a University of Texas archaeologist who has been exploring 11 campsites used by workers building the railroad through Val Verde County in the 1880's, has proof that the two races had little social contact. In salvaging artifacts from the campsites, the Chinese rice bowls she has unearthed were never found near Irish whiskey bottles.

The old construction campsites, several of which are remarkably well preserved after almost nine decades, are located along the Pecos River between Comstock and Langtry.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Seguin's old Nogales Post Office is believed to be the only building constructed of hand-made, sun-baked bricks still standing in Texas.

This kind of construction was used in Texas before adobe and the Nogales Post Office is probably 150 years old. Its known history dates back to 1822.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — China Spring, in McLennan County, can't trace its ancestry to anything Chinese.

Many years ago, a local spring was a water stop for stagecoaches. Around it, chinaberry trees grew in profusion. When settlers moved in, they called it China Spring.

GAMBLER'S CHOICE — Ben Thompson, gunslinger and city marshal of Austin during the 1880's, spent more time at saloon gaming tables than he did in enforcing the law. However, he failed to collect the most unique poker pot that he won in a lifetime of card-playing.

Once when he was engaging a tombstone salesman in a friendly game at an Austin saloon, the visitor ran out of cash. He had an ornate gravestone in his buggy, however, which he used as a sample when calling on prospective customers. He offered the marker as a bet.

Marshal Thompson won the tombstone, had his name engraved on it, then promptly forgot about it. When he finally met his end in a saloon shoot-out, he was buried in Austin's Oakwood Cemetery with only a simple white stone to mark his grave. The tombstone he had won at poker was found years later in the basement of an Austin building.

SOCIAL LIGHTS — When the Jules E. Schneiders decided to entertain their dance club at their Dallas home in the 1890's, they wanted to be sure that the place was all lit up.

They borrowed four mammoth headlights from Texas & Pacific Railway locomotives and located one on each corner of the lawn. From the trees above, they swung huge arc lights. It's no wonder that the party was, as one newspaper put it, "a triumph of illumination" that would "brighten the social horizon for all times."

TOURIST NOTE — Texas, which originated the idea of building little parks along its highways, still boasts more such rest stops than any other state.

No cash will be paid to relief clients who are chronic drinkers or gamblers, announces W. W. Clinton, county administrator. Persons who are addicted to liquor or gambling will be paid only in commodities for the work they do. If these clients refuse to work when they are paid in groceries and supplies instead of money, the administrator is instructed to bring charges of vagrancy against them. Word was received here this morning that buying of cattle will be done in this county next week. Dr. H. J. Wilson, bureau of animal industry veterinarian, will do the inspecting.

Hereford downtown merchants will meet with the city commission at their next session and urge decreasing parking angles on Main Street to 30 or 35 degrees, thus widening the driving lanes downtown. John David Hamilton, 7, who had battled valiantly with cancer for several months, lost the fight early Saturday. He died at his home, 211 Fuller, at 1:30 Saturday morning. The youth, who was born in Hereford Jan. 15, 1957, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hamilton. He was a pupil in Shirley Elementary School and was a member of the First Methodist Church. Although he had been hopelessly ill for several months, he had attended school as late as Wednesday and seldom missed a service at his church. He had been in and out of hospitals for months. In observance of National Alcoholism Information Week, an informational program will be presented Thursday evening at 7:30, sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism. Gil Lamb, a Muleshoe radio executive, and the Rev. Allan Conley, Amarillo, will be the principal speakers.

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

PEACE OFFERING OF FLATTIES

The trouble with playing hookey from school when I was a kid was that you got a lickin' and went to bed without supper if you were caught. But every once in a while you couldn't help yourself — like the first warm, drowsy day of spring. You'd kind of feel it the night before, like the tug of a full moon, and you'd dig for a can of worms and slip your fishing rod and reel out of the house and hide it by the fence. Next day, you'd be off with pounding heart for your favorite fishing hole.

I still get the feeling on the first warm spring Saturday — when I should be seeding the lawn or changing the storms for the screens on the windows. And what's more; I give in to it, and never really get the dickens when I return home. My secret is flounder-fishing.

A sack of one and two-pound succulent winter flounders — you can yank in 20 or more when they're hitting — and deers undone are forgotten. The kids take the flounder from the back of the station wagon and we get busy cleaning and filleting. That night we feast on platters of fish and chips and the fillets we don't eat are consigned to the freezer.

With that sort of bribery on my mind, I eased the station wagon out of the garage early last Saturday and headed for Long Island and a favorite early season flounder station — Sag Harbor.

The morning was warm and promising an hour later as I parked in front of Dan McLane's Bayview Fishing Station. A whole day ahead of me — sandwiches, thermos of coffee, the small transistor radio to catch a few innings of baseball in the afternoon — and light tackle.

With light tackle, flounders give you big fish excitement, and I had Mitchell's mighty midget, the 400 spinning reel with 4-pound test mono and an ultra light 5-foot Comolon Gold rod, the 2121. The outboard motor turned over and I nosed the rented skiff out toward Cedar Point, traditionally a hot spot for early flounder-fishing. I tuned in the transistor briefly and the marine weather-forecast assured a continuing warm day with only light breezes in the afternoon.

Mine wasn't the first skiff on the scene. The early birds were out for a mile around, and after anchoring I got busy baiting my long shank Chestertown number 8 hook. I had with me a two-pound coffee can jammed with bank mussels — an hors d'oeuvre greatly favored by flounders.

I chose an egg sinker for my terminal rig because flounders are delicate nibblers and will pick your hook clean of bait unless you feel what's happening and set the hook. The line is threaded through the sinker and when the bait is touched you feel it right away.

Out across the flat water, I saw the other boats already were yanking them in. The nice thing about flounder is that there's usually plenty to go around. This curious platter-shaped fish with both eyes on the gray right side of its body runs in great numbers to the warm shoal bay and inlet waters in spring to the delight of myriad small boat men.

All morning long I yanked flatties, getting plenty of stout resistance on my light tackle. Occasionally, with such good hitting, I'd get careless and the bait would be stolen — an admonishment, and I'd be quick to serve a second course. By lunch time I had upwards of 15 fish.

Kathleen Diller Outstanding Young Woman Of America For '69

Miss Kathleen Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Diller of Route 1, has been selected as one of the Outstanding Young Women of America for 1969 and will appear in the annual biographical compilation, Outstanding Young Women of America.

She has been nationally honored for her outstanding achievements in community service, religious and political activities, and in professional endeavors.

Each year over 5,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations and college alumnae associations across the country. Miss Diller was nominated by Sacred Heart College at Wichita, Kansas.

From among those included in the annual compilation, fifty are selected each year, one from each state, for their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year Award.

TUNA ARE SCARCE

YARMOUTH, N. S. — When the fish aren't biting there's nothing you can do. For five days, 34 expert anglers failed to get even one strike in the 20th International Tuna Cup match off Nova Scotia.

Anglers from Spain, Italy, Canada, United States, British Caribbean and Mexico blamed the scarcity of tuna on hurricane Gerda whose 80-mile an hour winds churned up the seas in the area.

The weekend before the match six tuna were taken in three days. However, they failed to count in the standing and the Alton B. Sharp trophy was retained by Mexico, the 1968 winner.

Ranch Fund Is Now Underway

To make Christmas a memorable event for the nearly 350 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund is under way.

For many boys at the Ranch, a new suit for Christmas will be the first they have ever owned, and a long-cherished gift. The boys are allowed to select their own suits from Amarillo merchants who sell them at a special $25.00 rate. The new suits will replace worn ones that were outgrown months ago.

Ranch president Virgil Patterson stated, "These suits mean so much to the boys. They are more than just ordinary gifts because it is a demonstration of the faith and interest that so many people have in them." Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, P. O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79105, or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street, Amarillo.

Bell Telephone Has Mini-Circuit

Scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories have developed an "integrated circuit" that contributes significantly to the miniaturization of modern electronics.

An integrated circuit containing 20 or more tiny transistors and scores of other electronic components takes less space than one conventional transistor. And because the mini-circuit performs better, is more reliable and costs less than conventional electronic parts, more sophisticated telephone systems can be designed.

"The tiny size of these miniature solid state circuits gives telephone designers greater freedom in determining the size, weight and shape of new telephone Company." For example, the new circuit is used in the Trimline phone and the "electronic" telephone proposed for the 1970's.

He said designing the outside of a telephone to fit bulky internal parts is no longer necessary. Thus greater emphasis can be placed on the appearance, convenience, comfort and proper use of telephones — and telephone systems — in the future.

Southwestern Bell Instrumental In NASA Communication Lines

Building 47 at the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Texas, is not impressive to the visitor's eyes. The only distinguishing feature about it is that it has no windows. But to astronauts Alan Bean, Charles Conrad Jr., and Richard Gordon Jr., Building 47 is something special. It was their link to Mission Control, which handled the major data processing and is making the decisions that guide the trio to and from the moon during the successful Apollo 12 mission.

Building 47 houses the communications equipment that funneled all Apollo 12 information into and out of Mission Control and served as a vital link in a communications chain that spanned the globe. Stations around the world relayed data, voice and video transmissions between the spacecraft and the Houston site. This lifeline of communications employed every type of electric transmission — voice, data, video, telemetry, telephoto and teletypewriter — at some time during the Apollo 12 mission. The transmissions were sent from earth and space via undersea cable, microwave, satellites and long distance telephone lines.

Southwestern Bell and other operating units of the Bell System supplied the largest share of the Apollo 12 communications network. There were more than 600 Bell System communications lines in use, spanning half a million miles. The mileage is roughly equivalent to a round trip to the moon.

"The job of Southwestern Bell and other units of the Bell System was to transmit information, to keep information moving and to make sure the communications network was performing perfectly," Mike Patrick, telephone company manager explained.

"To make the system work" he said, "Southwestern Bell employees hovered over the equipment in Building 47 around the clock. Thousands of other Bell System workers maintained similar vigils across the country." The backup system so well known in other parts of the NASA space program was also employed in the communication system. The World wide network was arranged so if one path failed, its backup line carried the transmission without interruption in communications. The Bell System's part in the country's successful space program began nearly 10 years ago, three years before Project Mercury sent Col. John Glenn into three orbits around the earth.

In 1959, NASA asked Western Electric, the manufacturing arm of the Bell System, to head an industry team that built a worldwide communications network of 14 stations.

As more ambitious space missions were accomplished during the Gemini flights in the mid-60's and earlier Apollo projects, the initial communications network was enlarged and modified to its present magnitude.

Highway Plans For Construction

Contracts for highway construction in the Hereford area have been awarded by the Texas Highway Commission to Ivan Dement, Inc. of Deaf Smith County for construction, grading, structures, base and sur-

Developing Creativity With Multiple Sclerosis

By BARBARA DRYDEN
Society Editor

The crippling disease of Multiple Sclerosis has slowed Mrs. Jimmy Allred down, but with her artistic nature and the determination to keep going, she has developed a creativity in working with oil and China painting that gives her a feeling of great accomplishment.

Mary Allred was first diagnosed as being a Multiple Sclerosis victim in 1964 when she went to a neurologist in Lubbock after several months of apprehension and indecision after experiencing frightening symptoms.

"If telling my story will help to inform the public about MS, I am glad to do it," said Mrs. Allred, because I, like many others, knew nothing of the disease until I came in contact with it the hard way."

Mary had experienced periods of double vision and numbness at times before she went to the doctor, and knew there was something wrong. In confiding to a friend, she was told the symptoms sounded like MS and she had kept the thought in the back of her mind. "I guess that is what helped ease the shock when the diagnosis was made," she said, "because when you are just as healthy as the next person and come to a sudden stop like that, it is a hard thing to accept. But some things in life just have to be accepted and I try to keep myself busy."

For several weeks at a time, Mrs. Allred would go without any symptoms but with the gradual progress of the disease, the past year she has lost more activity than in the preceding years.

She reads some, and watches television but with the double vision at times, it becomes difficult. The double vision, however, is worse when she is in a large area or outside in the open.

Because the disease tires her so easily, she doesn't try to move around much, but always manages to fix lunch for herself and her husband, then rests most of the afternoon until supper time.

The Allreds took a four-day trip to the Bahama Islands in

Mrs. Tony Hoffman 11-21.

Mrs. Policarpio Hernandez
Mrs. Roy Beardain, Sammy Gonzales, Mendy Duggan, Kenneth Duncan, Shannon Morrison

Octo., she said, and really enjoyed it. She took a wheelchair along to enable her to get around better and was able to see all the sights.

The Allreds have three married children.

Records Should Be Up-To-Date

Changes in the number of acres being farmed can mean changes in farm records at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office. And that means whenever a farmer buys, sells, leases, rents, or otherwise acquires or disposes of farmland, he should drop by the County ASCS Office as soon as possible thereafter to set the records straight, according to County ASCS Committee Chairman, Frank J. Bezner.

Records are kept on farms participating in programs administered by ASC Major or ASCS programs in the county are: Wheat, cotton, feed grain, sugarbeets, and the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP).

The Chairman pointed out that the ASCS office must keep accurate records on total acreage of all farms where owners or operators participate in any ASCS-administered program. In addition to those named above, ASCS-administered farm program in Deaf Smith County include price-support loans on commodities such as grain sorghum, corn and cotton.

If a farm is constituted differently now than it was when the farmer began program participation — and if he hasn't yet reported the change — then he should drop by the County ASCS office on his very next trip to town to make the report, Mr. Bezner said.

Also, if a farm has changed owners or operators in that period, a report should be made to the county office, he said.

The ASC Committee Chairman emphasized that changes need to be reported by farmers participating in one or more farm programs administered by ASCS.

BRAZIL'S NON-CATHOLICS INCREASE

LONDON — The number of non-Roman Catholic Christians in Brazil rose from 1,920,000 in 1960 to 2,902,000 by 1968, the South American Missionary Society was told during recent celebrations here of the 125th anniversary of its foundation. Ernest Oliver, secretary of the Evangelical Missionary Alliance and executive secretary of the Regions Beyond Missionary Union, said the increase meant a growth of eight per cent in the number of protestant churches in Brazil. The population of Brazil is about 85 million.

St. Anthony's Seventh Graders Win Rebel Spirit Day Award

Seventh graders of St. Anthony's School produced the winning skit at the "Rebel Spirit Day" assembly Wednesday. Under the direction of Sister Catherine Abeyta, the class created and performed a take-off from TV's Laugh In entitled "The Spirit's In." Each class, 1-8, was presented a "Fickle Finger of Fate" award for actions harmful to school spirit.

Fifth graders received honorable-mention for their performance "This is School Spirit, Charlie Brown."

SOPRANO SINGS FROM CHAIR

GENEVA — Brooklynborn soprano Gloria Davy will sing in Poulenc's "Dialogues of the Carmelites" from a wheelchair in performances at the Grand Theater in Geneva, Switzerland, beginning Oct. 28.

While she recuperates from a recent auto accident, Miss Davy will commute from her Geneva home to the theater in an ambulance.

She expects to meet all her scheduled engagements, including performances in "Dido and Aeneas" in Parma, Italy, in January and an American tour with the Buffalo Philharmonic.

Judging the performances for the skit best proclaiming school spirit were Sister Francis Alonzo, Mrs. Suzette Dziuk, and Father Aedan Davis, with Father Simeon Heine presenting the award to the winning class.

Following the assembly the seventh grade boys topped the eighth graders in a basketball game with a score of 23 to 14, making "Rebel Spirit Day" quite successful.

CONFISCATE GOODS

BOMBAY, India — Bombay officials expect to confiscate a record amount of smuggled goods this year customs sources said. In 1968 an estimated $15.5 million worth of gold, silver and luxury articles were seized. In the first six months of this year, close to $8 million worth of contraband was confiscated.

Powerful Nation Is Dominated

At the Deaf Smith County Library this week you can find the detailed story of the real world of movie-making and broadcasting, and what happens to actresses and actors when one man becomes a Wheeler-dealer in the business.

THE INHERITORS
by Harold Robbins

They are a new breed of world conquerors — jet soaring buccaners who have carved the youngest and wealthiest empire in the world today, the communications industry of America.

Though their imperial domain is still in its infancy, it already wields influence so vast and commands riches so staggering that it has come to dominate a proud and powerful nation.

Harold Robbins takes you behind the imposing corporate altars on which careers, reputations, and even lives are sacrificed.

Stephen Gaunt, a good family, reared in New England gentility, but possessed of a will of steel, the instincts of a riverboat gambler, and the guts of a Roman gladiator. With a sheer nerve and intuition he took Sinclair Television from the cellar of broadcasting and transformed it into a fabulous corporate structure.

Sam Benjamin, international wizard of movie-making, Son of a Bronx tailor, small and almost as broad as he was tall, he rose to become a wheeler-dealer in tens of millions of dollars.

Marilyn Barzini, beautiful Sicilian movie queen, who was determined to win a role that would gain her the recognition she deserved as an actress. And to land it, she had mastered every trick and technique of erotic art but one... how to feel.

Jack Savitt, fast-talking, hard-driving, completely honest, he was the most brilliant ten percent in the business. But curiously, there was one commodity which Savitt would never peddle—friendship.

Marianne Darling, an actress whose most memorable public appearance was as a go-go girl, clad only in gobs of whipped cream and chocolate syrup, at a will and swinging rock-and-reefer orgy.

Barbara Sinclair, born a patrician with all the security of wealth and privilege, but terrified of her father... warm, responsive, full of grace, but uncontrollably sensual and savagely direct in the intimacies.

And Spencer Sinclair III, Barbara's father. His wife, his daughter, Gaunt himself—no one left Spencer Sinclair unless he wanted them to. They thought him crafty and manipulative, that all he cared about was control. But Sinclair was utterly dedicated to his own monument, the greatest medium the world would ever know.

These, then, are The Inheri-tors. They live their pulsating drama against a background that whirls you headlong from the fabled private room at Twenty-One, to the posh California sanatorium where jet-set heroin addicts take "the cure" from film locations where world-famous directors employ an ingeniously simple method for capturing the look of love's afterglow, to secluded top-notch executive offices hung with original Picassos and equipped with private saunas, bedrooms, and secretaries who anticipate every need.

Enter their careening, tumultuous world... a world of Oscars and "bennies"... a world caught up in the "ratings" rat race, where a falling Nielsen causes more anguish than the loss of a child, where the right price can turn an enemy into an ally, and the wrong word transform a friend into a life-long foe. Step into the world of The Inheritors... you'll never forget it.

Rebekah Lodge Hosts Thanksgiving Dinner

Members of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge hosted a Thanksgiving dinner for their families with Odd Fellows and their families as guests Tuesday evening at the IOOF Temple.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. A. N. Hopson, Bruen

Sowell and James Vines. They were assisted by Mmes. Roy Manning, Jim Loving, Ross Lomenick and Ada Hollabaugh.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by the Spiritual Swingers and Harold Manning. Approximately 75 attended.

History Of Thanksgiving Is Told To Study Club

Miss Gladys Setliff spoke on "Thanksgiving," giving a brief history, to members of the Hereford Study Club at a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. S. L. Garrison, with Mrs. Tommy Braddy as co-hostess.

The meeting was changed from the previous Thursday because of conflict with another meeting.

In her topic, Miss Setliff, who was introduced by Mrs. Bill Gentry, program chairman, said Lincoln was the first president to issue a national holiday for Thanksgiving. She then reviewed the book, "Wide Meadows" by Jean Bell Moseley. It was a humorous story of farm childhood around the turn of the century.

The author is a Missouri journalist and has had many stories published in the Farm Journal and Ladies Home Journal.

A notable quote given by Miss Setliff was "It is the little everyday joys put together that make one big picture of happiness and contentment."

The next meeting will be a Christmas party at 7:30 p. m. Dec. 18 at the Community Center.

The dinner and gift exchange will include husbands as guests.

FUNDS FOR SEMINARY UNIT

DAYTON, Ohio — The American Association of Theological Schools, an interdenominational organization made up of 174 seminaries in the country has received a grant of $450,000 from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation to further the association's program of accreditation, research and raising seminary standards.

Annual Bazaar Scheduled Dec. 6

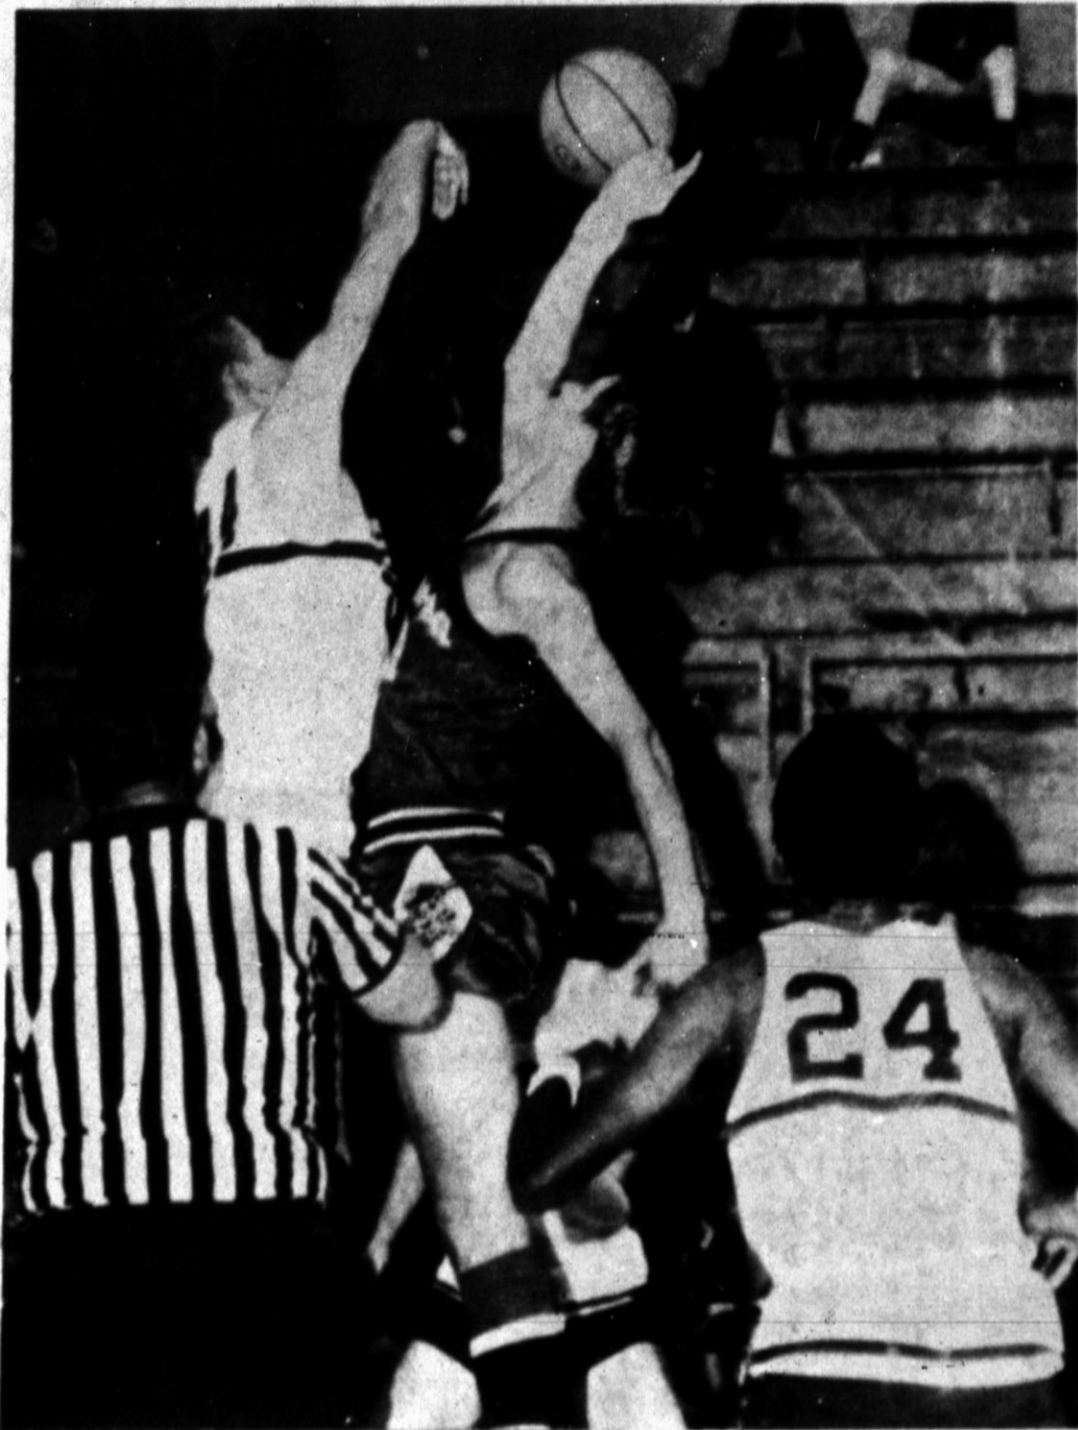

St. Thomas Episcopal Church women's twelfth annual Christmas bazaar is scheduled Dec. 6 from 10 a. m. - 4 p. m. at the church.

Lunch will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Mrs. Gene Parsley and Mrs. Jack Wilcox are in charge of gift items and Mrs. Virgil Hennen is chairman for baked goods.

Chairman for the lunch committee are Mrs. George Masso and Rudy Metz.

The bazaar will also feature a white elephant sale and door prizes.

I'LL GET IT — Senior center Dennis Hicks seems to insist that he use that basketball but it appears closed to a Tascosa Rebel, as this action took place in the La Plata Junior High gym Tuesday night. The Rebels stole the game by a score of 91-48. —Staff Photo

Santa Fe Railway Announces Changes To Begin In January

Santa Fe Railway today posted notices in railroad stations and aboard trains involved that it intends to further restructure its transcontinental passenger service between Chicago and California on January 5, 1970. The plan contemplates re-routing trains 1-2, the San Francisco Chief, to operate between Chicago and Los Angeles rather than Chicago and San Francisco. The proposed plan does not affect the Super Chief, El Capitan or the Texas Chief. However, coach trains 23-24 which now provide predominantly local service on the run between Chicago and Los Angeles will be discontinued.

The new service between Chicago and Los Angeles will include high-level chair cars, sleeping cars, dining and dome-lounge facilities. It will operate over the railroad's southern route via Amarillo, Tex., with the present schedule being revised only slightly between Chicago and Barstow, Calif. West of Barstow, the trains will operate to Los Angeles via San Bernardino, Riverside and Fullerton.

Santa Fe cited declining patronage and annual loss of about $7 million incurred in the present operation of the two pairs of trains as the precipitating cause for this change. The railway noted the proposed changes will not only save about $5 million and eliminate costly duplicate service, but will also enable it to concentrate its premium service efforts on the southern California area. Both Southern Pacific and Western Pacific currently operate transcontinental passenger trains between Chicago and the San Francisco Bay area. Arrival and departure times of Santa Fe trains 1-2 at Los Angeles will be scheduled to provide convenient connections with Southern Pacific trains to and from northern California. The Super Chief-El Capitan will continue to offer a premium sleeping car and high-level chair car service over the road's northern route via La Junta, Colo., while trains 1-2, operating over the southern route via Amarillo, will be scheduled to maintain a balance between local service and limited stops. The railroad pointed out the effective date of the changes was deliberately delayed until after the first of the year to avoid possible disruption of holiday travel plans.

Sen. Tower Gives Views On Remaining Tax Bill

The Senate is now turning in to the home stretch with only a few weeks left in this year's session. The single major piece of legislation still before us is the tax bill which affects every American and every facet of our nation's economy.

Very few of the provisions in the new tax bill will act in a vacuum, just as very few of the sections in the present tax code act alone. Our tax structure must be viewed as a delicate multi-faceted machine, designed however imperfectly, to collect the revenues necessary to support our federal government. This highly complex machine has many levers, pulleys and gears, each of which serves to encourage or discourage a specific response from one or more segments of the economy. It is rare that one part of this machine can be adjusted without a reaction in another part, and it is equally rare that a change in the tax treatment accorded one economic group can be made without affecting another.

Therefore, I am hopeful that, in our zeal to correct what appears to be inequities which allow some wealthy individuals to avoid taxes, my colleagues will be careful not to throw the machine so out of balance as to adversely affect the remaining millions of men and women who pay full taxes.

Our real purpose as federal legislators is to analyze the existing tax structure and approve changes designed to more equitably distribute the tax burden in accordance with overall economic needs.

I view with concern the statements of those who claim that the sole purpose of the tax bill must be to close so-called "loopholes." While such statements are attractive at first glance, I believe it is important to remember that a tax law viewed by one man as a loophole represents for another man a reasonable tax incentive. Tax incentives do not exist so that a few individuals can unjustly enrich themselves. On the contrary, they are carefully designed by a Congressional majority in an attempt to elicit a specific economic response essential to our national economic health. I will gladly join in efforts to eliminate tax incentives which are no longer needed, and I will also join efforts to close loopholes which have been so abused as to pervert their original intent. But where a tax incentive of our economy, I will not attack it merely because it is popular to do so.

In examining a tax incentive, I believe the test for retaining it must be two-fold: First, we must determine whether the economic response to be encouraged is desirable; and second, we must determine whether the tax advantage in question is the best method for bringing about the desired economic response.

If the net gain to the economy exceeds the tax revenue lost as the result of granting the tax advantage by a great enough margin, then it should not be abolished simply because a few individuals profit from it.

I do not believe that this test has been correctly applied in many of the provisions of tax law dealt with in the bill now before the Senate and I am sponsoring several amendments to remedy this.

The bill as reported from the Senate Finance Committee is a significant improvement, in my opinion, over the bill as approved by the House of Representatives. But I cannot support the bill as it is now written.

In earlier reports, I have made my position clear on certain tax provisions for the oil and gas industry and in the handling of municipal bonds. The Senate Finance Committee acted to continue the existing tax exemption on interest on state and municipal bonds and I have applauded that action. The Committee also voted to cut the existing 27½ percent depletion allowance for oil to 23 percent. This was an improvement over the reduction of 20 per cent inflicted by the House, but the fact is that the oil industry needs continuation of the full 27½ per cent and I will support an amendment for that consideration.

I will also support amendments in some additional areas of the tax bill.

I am co-sponsoring an amendment to provide a tax credit of up to $325 for every taxpayer who is paying the tuition and fees of a student at a college or university. This would be the most efficient means of providing federal assistance to higher education. It would provide this federal assistance while leaving control in the hands of the individual taxpayer. His money would not be sent to Washington and then only partially returned to the schools with federal strings attached.

I am also sponsoring an amendment to help small businessmen. Under current law, the basic corporate tax for businesses is 22 per cent. In addition, there is a 26 per cent corporate surtax for corporations whose income is over $25,000. My amendment would raise to $100,000 the amount of income a business could earn before being assessed the additional 26 per cent surtax.

Social Security

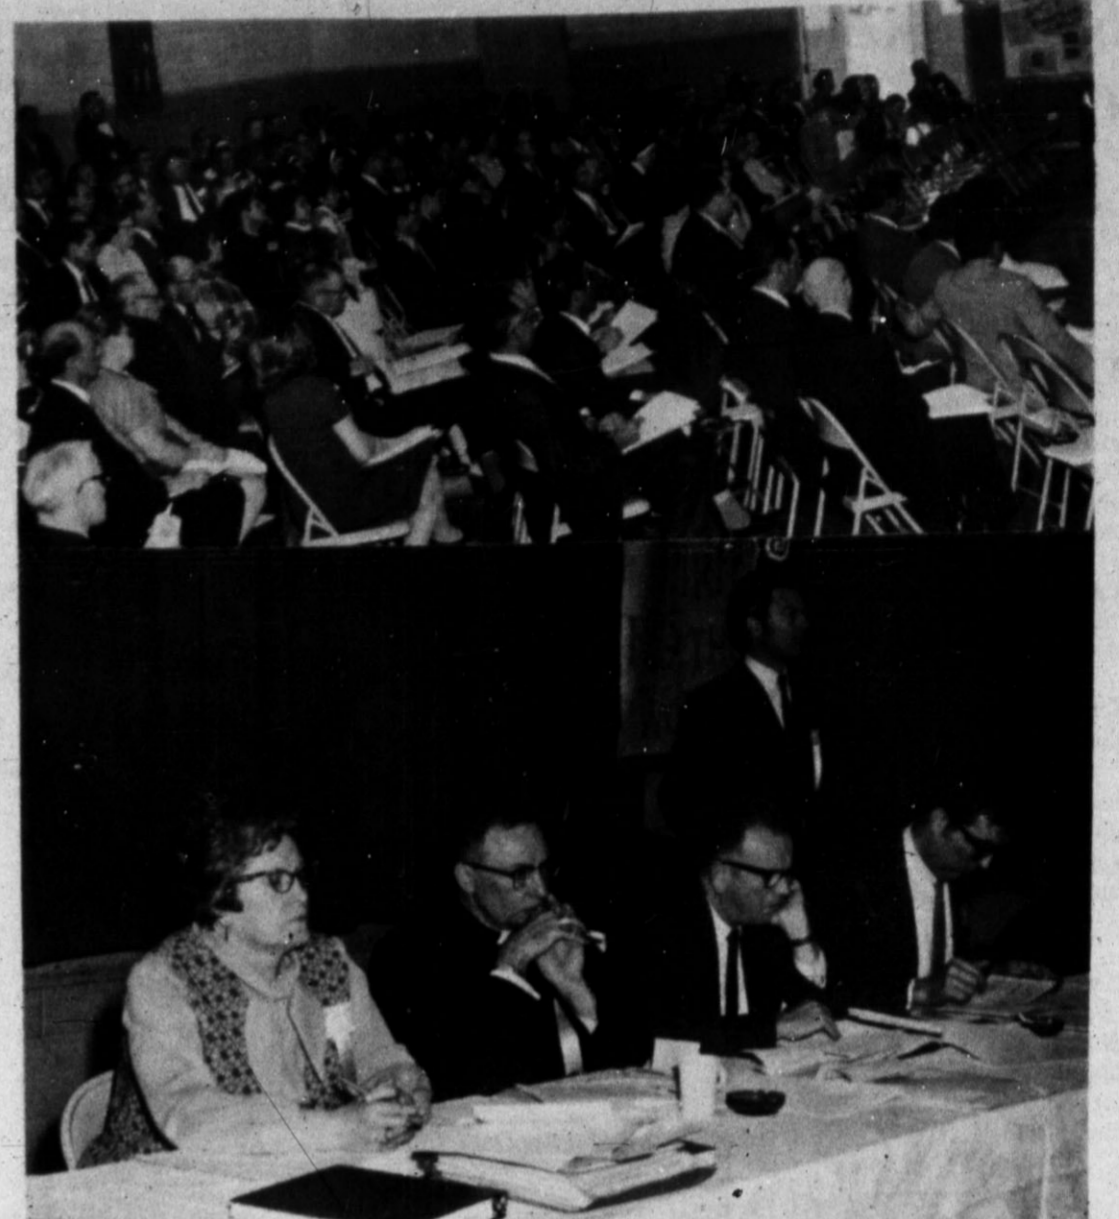

Q — I have employed a maid in my home for many years. I pay her $25 a week wages. I just learned I had to report her wages for social security. How far back do I go?

A — All the way back to 1951, if she has been with you that long. Sometimes reported wages are not uncovered until the worker claims social security or dies, and employers often face a big delinquent tax bill.

Q — Are retirement payments based on just the last five years' work prior to retirement?

A — No. Generally, payments are based on the best earnings years during a person's working life. The number of years used depends on the year you reach retirement age.

Q — I just broke my leg and my doctor says I will be off work about 5 months. Can I receive disability insurance

Nancy Danos Of Dallas Marries Craig Griffith

West Baton Rouge Presbyterian Church in Port Allen, La. was the setting for the marriage of Miss Nancy Lynn Danos and Craig Wesley Griffith, both of Dallas, on Saturday morning, Nov. 29. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gerald Danos of Port Allen. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winget 211 Ave. J, Hereford.

The Rev. Max Lee, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Port Allen officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Tall white tapers burning in candelabra formed the background for baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and pom-poms with palms. In the center was the kneeling bench where the couple knelt while the Lord's Prayer was sung by Charles Henderson.

GOWN OF SATIN VENICE LACE

Escorted down the aisle by her uncle, A. H. Alford, and given in marriage by her mother, the young bride was a lovely picture in a formal gown of ivory peau satin and Venice lace enhanced by satin ribbon. The elegant traditional styling featured a high neckline of lace and ribbon, with long sleeves.

Vertical bands of lace traced the empire bodice and formal length A-line skirt. The same trim adorned the voluminous detachable chapel train which unfolded from a cluster of tiny gathers from beneath a row of Venice lace. Her veil of silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of ivory Venice lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses centered by a white orchid.

Presenting the program of nuptial music were Miss Mickey LeBlanc, Port Allen, organist; and Mr. Henderson of Denham Springs, La., vocalist. Principal selections included Blessed Be This Day and Because.

Miss Maidi Jean Miller was maid of honor and Mrs. Marvin Peak was matron of honor, both cousins of the bride from Baton Rouge. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Shirley Littell, Miss Pam Winget, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Kenneth Wells, Mrs. Everette Hall, and Miss Mary Barberio.

Serving as groomsmen were Greg Combs, Terry Schmidt, Glen Koch, Jerry Simonton, Lee Kimbell and Newt White. Ushers were Virgil Reed, Leon Oliver, Steve McWhorter and Wayne Winget, brother of the bride.

Denise McGlothlin, daughter of Mrs. Glynn McGlothlin, Baton Rouge, was flower girl and ring bearer was Donnie Witty Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Witty, Port Allen.

The feminine attendants were gowned in green and gold formal length empire dresses fashioned of velveteen and chiffon. The chiffon bodice was featured a Victorian collar and matching tie.

The flower girl was also dressed in a gold velveteen frock, and carried a basket of matching flowers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Danos was attired in a burgandy alaskine dress with gray accessories.

Mrs. Winget, mother of the bridegroom, chose an aqua dress and matching shoes.

bride and groom was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the gold and green motif was repeated.

The punch table was draped with a floor length organdy cloth trimmed with lace, centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums in a silver container. Flanking the centerpiece was sterling punch bowls. The four-tiered bride's cake, decorated in green and gold and surmounted by the traditional wedding bells, was arranged on a circular table laid with an organdy cloth caught at the corner with garlands of matching ribbon. The groom's cake was circular with heartshaped tiers inscribed with the bride and groom's names.

The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Stuart Miller and the groom's cake was served by Mrs. Ruby Townsend, both aunts of the bride.

Serving punch and coffee were Mrs. Robert Lewins, and Mrs. A. H. Alford, aunts of the bride; and Mrs. Clarence Lalande and Mrs. Stanley Barnette, cousins of the bride.

Others assisting were Larraine Dawson, Tracy Witty, Travis Hunt, and Vickie, Carol and Ann Barnette.

Mrs. Glynn McGlothlin, cousin of the bride, registered the wedding guests.

The bride's traveling ensemble was a purple knit dress accented with a gray lapel, collar and belt. Her accessories were gray and she wore an orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds will be at home at 1111 N. O'Connor, Irving, Tex. where he is employed by a commercial refrigerator company.

Public Hearings Set On Sugarbeet Crops

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced on November 12, 1969, a series of public hearings on wage rates and prices for the 1970 crop of sugarbeets.

The hearings will be held between December 1 and December 12, 1969, in the following cities within the major producing and labor supply regions of the sugarbeet area:

RESERVE POLICE BRONKHORSTSPRUIT, South Africa — The South African police can supplement its permanent force of 34,000 men by more than 17,000 reservists, Police Minister Lourens Mulier said here. Of the 17,480 reservists listed at the end of July 7, 685 are men who can help the police in their free time in cases of emergency or large scale crime. Reservists paid to do short periods of full time duty number 5,784 and another 3,028 are employees of local authorities required to guard key industries. The remaining 783 assist police in cases of unrest in country areas.

CROSS NOW JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A local newspaper commentator says "the prophets of gloom forecast that by 1973 there will be so many cars on Johannesburg's streets that pedestrians who want to cross over are advised to do so now."

RITUAL MURDERS JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — An authority on African customs, Dr. Peter Becker, said ritual murder by Africans cannot be stamped out but "must burn itself out like a veld (grass) fire. In education and religion lie the most powerful antidotes." During a period of six months in 1968, six whites and Africans were murdered in South Africa so that parts of their bodies could be used for "muti" (witchcraft medicine).

Kay James-Paul Catoe Vows Spoken At Church

Miss Kathryn Kay James became the bride of Paul Nathan Catoe in a double ring ceremony solemnized at 8 p.m. Saturday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Father Simeon Heine officiated and was celebrant of the nuptial Mass.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. C.W. James, 118 Bradley. Mrs. Catoe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Catoe of Dimmitt.

The nuptial music was presented by Mrs. James Cramer, organist, and she accompanied Ben Gollehon as he sang More, Twelfth of Never, One Hand, One Heart, Prayer, and Mother At Thy Feet We're Kneeling.

Centering the altar area was an arch of candles entwined with English ivy and wedding bells with white votive lights. Tall tapers burning in spiral candelabra flanked the nuptial setting. Single votive lights with white satin bows and greenery were attached to the pew ends along the center aisle.

Miss Marilyn James was her sister's maid of honor and Larry Hobrantsch of Lubbock served as best man.

Ushers were Alex Catoe of Ft. Worth, the bridegroom's brother; Mike Bruegel, Lubbock; Bill James, brother of the bride and John Bagley of Amarillo, the bride's cousin.

Little Miss Tina Rene Hund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hund, was flower girl and carried a white lace and satin basket of yellow pompon chrysanthemums with green streamers.

The ring bearer, Master Gary Bryan Acker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Acker, carried the bride's ring to the altar on a white satin and lace pillow.

Escorted down the white bridal aisle by her father, the bride was lovely in her formal gown of peau de sole designed with empire silhouette complimented by Alencon lace. The lace bodice featured a high-rise neckline accented by sequins and long sleeves. Band of Alencon lace were repeated on the formal hemline of the skirt and on the detachable Watteau train. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a peau de sole bow encrusted with seed pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of white pompon chrysanthemums centered with white glameillas.

Carrying out the traditional "old, new, borrowed and blue" the bride wore a Camco ring, borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Herman Hund, that had belonged to their grandmother, Mrs. Joe Jesko; she carried a lace handkerchief given her by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jesko, Michigan, City, Ind.; wore a heart shaped locket borrowed from Miss Margaret Chan, Raetihi, New Zealand, a blue garter worn by her mother and sister at their weddings and a sixpence in her slipper.

The maid of honor wore a formal gown of moss green tuckered organza over taffeta. The empire bodice was designed with a Victorian collar and full sleeves flowing from a short fitted sleeve and caught at the wrist with a deep cuff. The A-line skirt swept to back fullness and was accented at the center back with a self-fabric bow with floor-length streamers. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow glameillas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. James chose a beige two-piece suit and a corsage of yellow glameillas. Mrs. Catoe, mother of the bridegroom, wore a green dress and white glameilla corsage. A reception honoring the bride and groom was held immediately following the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus Hall where wedding guests were registered by the bride's sister, Mrs. Hund.

White lace over moss green draped the service table which was centered with the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with yellow and green flowers topped with swans surrounded by yellow netting and flowers. Presiding at the table were Mrs. J. Pat Feery, Albuquerque; Miss Margaret Chan, Raetihi, New Zealand; and Mrs. Bill James, sister-in-law of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride's traveling ensemble was an orange dress complimented by scallops on the front and repeated on the cuffs of the long sleeves. She wore beige shoes and a corsage of glameillas lifted from her bridal bouquet.

They will be at home after Dec. 7 at 806 Ave. W in Lubbock where she is a student at Texas Tech and he attends Commercial College of Lubbock. He is currently assistant manger of Goodwill Industries. Out-of-town guests were Miss Chan of Raetihi, New Zealand,

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Do Kennedy and Children of Lubbock.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Melissa Peannes Lehr, to Timothy Leo Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoffman of Sentinel, Okla., formerly of Hereford, is announced by their parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Lehr, Alva, Okla. Vows will be exchanged at 7 p.m. Dec. 27 in the First United Methodist Church of Alva. Miss Lehr graduated from Alva High School in 1968 and is now a sophomore student at Northwestern State College majoring in English. She has been listed on the President's and Dean's honor rolls and is a member of the Student Education Association. Hoffman received his BA degree from Northwestern this past summer with majors in economics and history. He has been listed on both the President's and Dean's honor roll and is presently completing requirements for a teaching certificate in Social Science.

HEARTY DRINK
CALCUTTA, India — Tea is good for the heart says the latest issue of Tea World, a magazine published by the Tea Board. An article said "unknown constituents" in tea check the hardening of the coronary artery which leads to heart attacks. The magazine said this might explain why there is such a low incidence of heart disease among the Chinese, whose fondness for tea is well known.

Department Announces '70 Farming Information

Marketing quotas, farm allotments, price-support loan and payment rates, small farm provisions, and other features of the 1970-crop upland cotton program have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Frank J. Bezner, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

This information is being provided cotton producers prior to the mail referendum, December 1-5 on 1970 crop cotton marketing quotas.

If more than one-third of those voting disapprove quotas, the only cotton program would be price-support loans at 50 percent of parity for growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments.

If at least two-thirds of the Nation's upland cotton growers voting approve marketing quotas, the 1970 cotton program would go into effect. Mr. Bezner said features of this cotton program would be as follows:

Allotments, Quotas and Yields: The national upland cotton allotment for 1970 is 17 million acres plus a 150,000 acre national reserve for establishment of minimum farm allotments. The Deaf Smith County allotment is 9,422 acres.

The national marketing quota has been set at 16,009,333 bales. Individual farm quotas would be that amount of cotton produced on acreage planted within the allotment.

Price Support Loans and Payments: The national average price-support loan rate on Middling 1-inch cotton at average location has been set at 20.25 cents a pound for the 1970 crop, the same rate as for 1969.

Revival To Be Held This Week At Westway

The Westway Baptist Church is holding revival services beginning tomorrow and lasting through the 7th of December at 7 p. m. each evening.

Evangelist for the services is Hugh Jack Norwood with Sammy Nicholes singing.

Following the services Friday evening there will be a fellowship. The public is cordially invited to attend.

They also visited her grandson, Jody, at Phoenix, then made a trip to Las Vegas, Nev.

On her trip home, Mrs. Miller stopped at Andrews to visit a former Hereford resident, Mrs. Goldie Criswell.

The price support payment rate has been established at 16.80 cents a pound, compared to 1969's rate of 14.73 cents a pound. The payment would be made to cooperators on acreage planted within the domestic allotment, which is 65 percent of the total farm allotment. The price support loans would also be available to cooperators in the cotton program.

Small Farm Provisions: Farms with allotments of 10 acres or less or with projected production (allotment times projected yield) of 3,600 pounds or less could receive a payment of 11.95 cents per pound on the projected yield of 35 percent of the farm allotment in addition to the price-support payment on planted acreage up to the domestic allotment.

National Export Market Acreage: The 1970 export acreage reserve has been set at 62,5000 acres. All cotton produced on farms receiving any export acreage reserve would have to be exported. Price support to a national program payments would not be available for any of the cotton produced on the farm or on any other farm in which the operator with export market acreage had a substantial or controlling interest. Applications for export acreage must be filed by growers at county ASCS offices before the end of 1969.

Skip Row Rules: The skip-row rules which were in effect for the 1969 crop would be applicable to the 1970 crop. In general, only the land actually planted to cotton would be counted as cotton land in determining compliance with program provisions.

Lease and Sale of Allotments: Final date for filing applications for transfer of cotton allotments is December 31, 1969. Producers in 381 cotton producing counties have approved for 1970 the transfer of allotments to farms outside the county. Allotments can not be transferred from one State to another.

No Acreage Diversion Provisions: No payments would be offered in 1970 for diverting acreage from cotton, since the carry-over of upland cotton is expected to fall to the lowest level since 1953.

Payment Limitations: Payments under the 1970 crop upland cotton program would be subject to any limitation that might be required by Congress in the U. S. Department of Agriculture appropriations.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE WITH DISTRICT NEWS

1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 20540

This week the House of Representatives debated and voted upon three important measures.

The House passed the fiscal year 1970 appropriations for the Department of Transportation and related agencies. With the passage of the appropriations bill, the Transportation Department will soon have the current operating funds needed to continue the development of our nation's transportation systems. I supported the appropriations because I believe we need to improve our transportation system and promote highway and air traffic safety.

Foreign Aid — The Foreign Assistance Act appropriating foreign aid for this fiscal year was narrowly approved by the House last week. In a floor statement I pointed out that I was voting against foreign aid again this year for two reasons.

In my view, the main problem with our foreign aid program is that we are using a shotgun instead of a rifle approach. By this I mean we should provide aid only to promote the economic health and well-being of nations that are either firm allies or potential allies of the United States and that are willing to help themselves.

In addition to making basic changes in our philosophy and practice of foreign aid, we need to spend the $19 billion which has been appropriated but not spent. This means with the passage of this bill there will be more than $21 billion in the foreign aid pipeline.

Gun Control — since my election to Congress I have vigorously opposed gun registration in principle and in fact. Early this year I introduced a bill to repeal the Gun Control Act in its entirety.

Part of this goal was accomplished last week when the House approved the Senate-passed Interest Equalization Tax bill. The Senate has added an amendment to the bill repealing the section of the Gun Control Act requiring dealers to keep records on the name, address and age of persons purchasing shotgun and rifle ammunition. This amendment is essentially the same as a bill I introduced earlier in the year. I hope that this action marks the beginning of serious Congressional examination of the purpose and operation of the Gun Control Act.

In my opinion, few evils in American society today provide cause for more wide-spread alarm than does the ever increasing flood of obscene materials that is engulfing communities across the land. An indication of the magnitude of this menace is seen in the fact that the smut industry is publishing obscene materials whose sale will gross $500 million and $2 billion this year. Contrast this, if you will, to the sales of the chief public publishing house, the Government Printing Office. It will only sell an estimated $17 million worth of printed materials this year.

"The public reaction to the rising tide of obscenity is demonstrated by the growing numbers of citizens throughout the nation who are turning to the federal government for relief. In fiscal year 1968, the Post Office Department received over 167,000 complaints about obscene mail. During the first eleven months of fiscal year 1969, the Department received more than 200,000 such complaints. The Post Office also reports that while over 200 firms are engaged in peddling smut, it is estimated that over 95 percent of all obscenity complaints received by the Department result from the direct mail advertising of perhaps 16 major promoters. These unscrupulous purveyors of filth have adopted mass mailing techniques, and obtained mailing lists from such innocent sources as postal patrons lists and high school honor rolls.

"Mr. Chairman, the most tragic aspect of this problem is the effect that it is having on our nation's youth. More than one year ago, J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned that, 'It is impossible to estimate the amount of harm to impressionable teenagers and to assess the volume of sex crimes attributable to pornography, but its influence is extensive. In this connection, FBI statistics show that sexual violence is increasing at an alarming pace. Mr. Hoover also reports that pornography in all its forms is a major cause of sex crimes, sexual aberrations, and sex perversions. More recently, the Senate Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, as a part of its continuing investigation into the causes of youth criminality, reported that, 'The moral fiber of the country is being undermined by a deluge of vile and filthy books, pictures and other pornographic materials. Worst of all, up to 75 percent of it falls into the hands of minors.'

"I believe that Congress has the clear responsibility and duty to enact legislation to halt the flow of obscene materials into the homes of America. In my view, the best way to accomplish this is by closing the mails and facilities of interstate commerce to smut peddlers. If the mails and facilities of interstate commerce are closed to them, they will no longer be able to distribute enough material to make their operations profitable.

"In an effort to rectify this deplorable situation, I have introduced bills which are pending before the House Subcommittee on Postal Operations as well as this Committee. The thrust of these bills is simple. They stop smut merchants from sending unsolicited obscene materials through the mails, they give minors new protection from obscene materials, and they provide stiff fines and prison sentences for offenders.

"I believe that the individual, family, and community problems created by unbridled obscenity are of such significance that the Congress can not afford to defer action. For this reason, I urge my colleagues on the Committee to carefully analyze the various proposals before it, and recommend the prompt passage of strongly and tightly written legislation which will

Nunley-Ruland Are Wed Tuesday In Home Rites

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Thomas-Noland

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nunley, 502 E. 4th, was the setting for the lovely wedding of their daughter, Annie Lee, to Rodger Neal Ruland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ruland, 223 Ave. B. The Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, impressively officiated for the 5 p.m. ceremony Tuesday.

Marking the place of ceremony in the living room, with a background of a bay window, was an arch of tall white tapers burning in candelabra entwined with garland of greenery.

COUPLE'S PARENTS ARE ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Nunley served her daughter as matron of honor and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ruland, was bridesmatron. Best man was the bridegroom's father, Mr. Ruland and Mr. Nunley, father of the bride, served as groomsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ruland of Clovis, N.M., brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers.

The bride entered the room to the strains of "To A Wild Rose," (McDowell) played at the organ by Mrs. Tom Harkney. Other selections presented by Mrs. Harkney were "Traumerel" (Schumann) and "O Perfect Love" (Barnby). She accompanied Ben Gollehon as he sang "Whither Thou Goest" during the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as a wedding benediction.

The bride wore a street length gown of white satin worn under a full Chantilly lace cape bordered with wide lace bands. The empire bodice featured a high-pearl collar enhanced by seed pearls, and long Bishop sleeves bordered with lace.

Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a cluster of daisies with three pearl traced petals extending over her forehead. Her bridal bouquet was a Cattleya orchid atop her white Rainbow Bible.

She also carried out the tradition of "old, new, borrowed and blue" and a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Nunley chose for her daughter's wedding, a purple knit dress styled with a long waistline and circular skirt. Her accessories were black patent and she wore a white carnation corsage.

The reception followed the ceremony where the bride's sister, Miss Leta Nunley, registered the guests.

White satin overlaid with net caught at the corners with orchid flowers covered the bride's table.

An orchid candle secured in a silver container, surrounded with small orchid flowers, centered the table. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with orchid flowers, was topped with satin bells encircled by hearts of seed pearls and two satin doves.

Refreshments were served from crystal and silver appointments by Mrs. Douglas Ruland

The First United Methodist Church was the setting for the Friday evening wedding of Miss Deborah Thomas and Larry Noland with the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, officiating.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Noland of Summerfield.

The double ring vows were exchanged at 7:30 p.m. before an altar setting of spiral candelabra holding tall white tapers. Completing the nuptial decor were baskets of greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the young bride was a lovely picture in her formal A-line gown of white silk-peau de soie, fashioned with lace bell sleeves. Her matching lace veil, falling from a pearl comb, extended to a chapel length train and she carried a nosegay of white feathered pom-pom and Miss Vicky Ruland, sister of the bridegroom.

Other members of the house-party were Mrs. Tom Harkney and Mrs. W. C. Davis.

The couple will be at home after Nov. 28 at Canyon where they are both attending West Texas State University.

For traveling the bride wore an A-line striped purple cress complimented by white collar and cuffs edged in lace. She wore black patent accessories and an orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ruland and children of Clovis.

chrysanthemums centered with a white Cattleya orchid. Her only jewelry was a matching pearl necklace and earrings.

Mrs. John Bob Drake was her sister's matron of honor and best man was Tommy Deas.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Brad Johnson and Miss Judith Morrison, aunt of the bride. Groomsmen were Dan Thomas, brother of the bride and John Walden. Serving as ushers were Joe Shultz, Nelson Kendall, Wade Lewis and Tommy Vaughn.

A program of nuptial music as presented by Mrs. Joe Shultz, organist, and she accompanied Gene Streun as he sang "O Perfect Love."

The feminine attendants wore crepe gowns fashioned with empire bodices in colors of dark brown, avocado green and orange with champagne skirts. Mrs. Drake wore brown, Mrs. Johnson's bodice was green and Miss Morrison, orange.

They wore matching headpieces and carried amber votive lights with greenery and matching streamers.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall where guests registered by Miss Jennifer Higgins, niece of the bridegroom.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth, decorated with white tapers and chrysanthemums in a silver candelabra. The all-white four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with rosebuds.

Draped with a green cloth, the groom's table was centered with a white horseshoe shaped fruit cake flanked by green tapers. Glittered satin streamers extended from the horseshoe.

Presiding at the serving tables were Mrs. Houston Over-turf of Snyder, Mrs. Paul Higgins of Dallas, Mrs. Jerry Kemp of Lubbock, Mrs. John Nix of Midland and Mrs. J. C. Morrison.

Following a brief wedding trip, the newlyweds will be at home at Summerfield where he is engaged in ranching.

The bride's traveling ensemble was a navy blue silk dress complimented by white collar and cuffs. Her accessories were platinum and she wore an or-
