The group is presently on their annual concert tour on which they sing for high schools throughout the area. They are on tour from Dec. 3 to Dec. 5. During this four-day escapade, they will visit the high schools of Spearman, Perryton, Dumas, Dalhart, Hereford, Olton, and also be the entertainment for the Phoenix Club Banquet at WTSU and the Public Concert in Fine Arts Theatre, WTSU.

He holds the degree of Ph.D. in Music from the University of Southern California, where he sang and studied with the nationally renowned Dr. Charles C. Hirt.

Approximately 75 of his original compositions and arrangements are available from six well-known music publishers. He is a member of many outstanding professional associations, including the Texas League of Composers and the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers (ASCAP).

$15,000 HAUL — Members of the local sheriff's office and city police department discovered approximately $15,000 worth of uncut heroin here Wednesday night in a local motel room. A man and a woman were arrested and indicted by the Grand Jury for possession of narcotics. — Staff Photo.

A traffic violation and a futile attempt to conceal a key, resulted in the arrest of a former Hereford woman and a male companion and the discovery of an estimated $15,000 worth of uncut heroin here in the early hours Thursday morning.

Arrested by members of the City police department and the sheriff's department were Marcie Elavorio, 26, a former resident of Hereford, and Abraham Rodriguez, 38, of Phoenix, Arizona.

The couple had been under suspicion for some time by local authorities and it was through an arrest for a traffic violation that the police and sheriff's department discovered the heroin.

City police officer Paul Ramirez reportedly was on patrol late Wednesday night when he observed the duo violating a traffic law by driving irregularly. When he pulled the 1960 Pontiac stationwagon over, he discovered that the pair had been drinking, and in a "lightly drunken condition."

Ramirez called for assistance from the sheriff's office and when an officer arrived, they took the two to the sheriff's office for booking. As an officer and a matron attempted to search the two, the woman tried to hide a key in her dress but the matron took it from her. The key was discovered to fit a room at a local motel and when officers discovered this, they obtained a search warrant and went into the motel room listed on the key. They searched the room and discovered two rubber containers which contained what they thought to be about one-half pound of uncut heroin. The officers, having previously searched the vehicle in which the two were in, discovered the narcotic drug under the mattress of the bed, wrapped in a plastic bag.

The evidence was taken to Amarillo and preliminary tests indicated that the substance found in their motel room was a rough form of opium, in its uncut and unprocessed condition.

The pair arrested were indicted by the Grand Jury in their meeting Friday and bond was set at $20,000. Trial has not been set as yet.

The penalty for possession of this type of drug is not less than two years up to life imprisonment.

It was believed that the couple had intended to use the Hereford as an outlet for the narcotics, which, in the words of local law officials was "Probably one of the biggest 'naros' in the Panhandle area in quite some time."

Maupin Is Cited For Proficiency

AUSTIN — An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Pat Maupin Jr., plant operations specialist for the Hereford water department.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law required that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Maupin's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

Wheat Growers To Hold Convention In Amarillo

Youth Makes Robbery Attempt At Her Tex Mill

Tommy Joe Easton, 19, is being held at the county jail after breaking into the Her Tex Mill around midnight Thursday. Judge Jim Neil has set bond for the youth at $3,000.

According to police department officials, Charles Stone, manager of the Mill, drove up to the building around 12:30 a. m. and noticed the front glass had been broken. He immediately entered the building and called to report the incident to the police. After hanging up the phone, Stone discovered Easton still in the building, he apprehended him and discovered stolen merchandise in his possession.

Police report Easton has $5.30 worth of nickels, $2.90 in dimes, 50 pennies and a $10 bill. An electric razor valued at $30.00 which Stone identified as his was found on Easton who later admitted to breaking into the building.

Local authorities estimated damage to the front window at $15.00.

BERL HUFFMAN

Berl Huffman Is Guest Speaker For Local Club

Berl Huffman, assistant football coach at Texas Tech, will be guest speaker Monday at 7 p. m. for the Easter Lions Club — Ladies Night and Christmas party to be held in the Easter Club House.

Huffman once left Lubbock to coach at the University of New Mexico, served as Albuquerque's Chamber of Commerce manager, directed the State Economic Development Commission, and left that post to direct the Alamo Industrial Development Corp.

The love of coaching was too deeply embossed on his flesh, and when coach J. T. King beckoned to him, he responded. King was looking for a mat ur coach, one who could direct the freshmen and indoctrinate them in what the varsity expected. He also wanted a man who could be a "father confessor" to them, helping them over the difficult hurdles of their first year in college's demanding society.

Coach King was not unaware of Huffman's ability as a public speaker, but it's doubtful that even he realized when he hired Huffman that his investment was going to pay such rich dividends. Huffman no longer coaches the freshmen footballers, but he handles special coaching assignments and most of his spare time is spent on the banquet trail.

The veteran coach has a reservoir of jokes as deep as Milton Berle and a homespun philosophy of coaching and boys that comes only from his own vast experience. He is as much at home in a men's stag party as he is in a church social. When he tells a group about sports, the audience knows that he does not have to make up any stories.

The veteran coach has grown a little heavier than when he started his coaching career. His first coaching assignment followed letters in that White Deer in 1928. That spree sports at Trinity University, where he matriculated from his home in Grapevine.

Huffman coached at Lubbock High from 1931 until 1933, when he joined the Texas Tech coaching staff. His duties were freshman football coach, varsity basketball coach, and track coach. He interrupted his coaching duties for four years of duty in the Air Force and then returned to Red Raiderland. He left Lubbock in 1947 to coach New Mexico's Lobos, a post he held until 1952.

Then came the divorce from coaching. He threw himself enthusiastically into the work and made thousands of new friends. But when the chance to coach again was offered, he knew what the answer would be. He responded as eagerly as a drowning man will when offered a straw.

The new "marriage" has worked so well that Huffman still is on a honeymoon. He's one of the hardest workers on the entire coaching staff. He comes in early, leaves late, and he's never too busy to talk with an old friend or a young athlete asking for advice. To many, Berl Huffman is the greatest living example of the Texas Tech spirit that has made the big West Texas College the envy of many an older, more sophisticated campus.

Reports from the majors of the Drive show that even though a great number of people in the area have made contributions to the Fund, there is still a large amount of eligible participants who have not done so. This basic factor along with the usual pre-occupation of holiday shopping has slowed down the number of contributions to a near standstill.

The fund is less than $5,000 away from the $38,000 goal set by the organization. Drive majors realize that it would be a real tribute to Hereford and all the surrounding area "helpers" if the 1969 goal could be obtained.

Studies show that during the holiday seasons and Christmas, even though spending for gifts has to be allowed for, the average person still tends to be over-taken by a larger than average sense of generosity. If these statistics are accurate, officials will be expecting the next couple of weeks to show a great improvement in counts toward the Drive Fund goal.

The donations collected through the Fund Drive help to support groups which aid area residents and children in somewhat of a "round-about" way. Funds used to help organizations such as Boy Scouts, Little League, Pony League, Colt League, Camp Fire Girls, Salvation Army, U. S. O. Council for Alcoholism and research and studies toward Cerebral Palsy are provided by Drive collections.

UF Drives on the most part, show that generous contributions from the area residents usually lead to an outstanding finish for the local Drives.

Drive majors believe it is possible for this outstanding record to remain at such a high level with help from individuals who have not yet made their contributions.

Donations are still being accepted at either of the banks, or by any of the Drive Fund Majors.

In conclusion, officials confer that the old saying, "every penny counts" is certainly true in this case when it comes to giving financial assistance for any of the worth while groups sponsored through the United Fund.

Readers Are Asking . . .

IS DYSPEPSIA a real disease or is it a symptom of a stomach disorder?

Dyspepsia is derived from the Greek dys, meaning bad, and pepsin, meaning digestion. The word, therefore, applies to almost any stomach upset that is associated with a sense of fullness, nausea, vomiting and an acidic taste in the mouth.

The term, dyspepsia, is sometimes used as a substitute for acute indigestion, acid stomach, gastritis and upset stomach. These "short-term" stomach upsets are called by a variety of names, none of which differs markedly from the other.

To these has been added another vague term, "the twenty-four-hour virus," which has a certain kind of class distinction but which really presents much the same symptoms.

It is interesting to note that there are very few basic symptoms caused by disorders, inflammations and infections of the stomach and the upper intestine. It is for this reason that self-diagnosis of indigestion or dyspepsia, must not be made, especially if the condition occurs frequently.

The stomach is said to be a very good neighbor and makes the loudest noise when organs in its immediate vicinity become sick. Diseases of the gall bladder, the pancreas, the liver and the duodenum may make the stomach the loudest complainer with the identical symptoms of nausea, vomiting and heartburn.

It takes the discriminating judgment of a physician to distinguish by the history of the origin of the condition, the frequency with which it occurs and other clinical evidence, to come to a firm conclusion about the basic cause. This is most important because early treatment of the "vague dyspepsia" keeps the condition confined and uncomplicated.

Is it possible to look directly into the lung to find the cause of a chronic cough?

A procedure known as bronchoscopy is one that can be done either under local or general anesthesia. An instrument, the bronchoscope, is a rigid metal tube that comes in many lengths and widths, chosen according to the size and age of the patient. It is passed through the mouth, past the larynx and beyond the trachea, and into the lungs.

By this method almost all the bronchial tubes can be carefully examined for the possibility of chronic infection and growths. Cultures and sputum examinations can be made directly through the bronchoscope and can add valuable information for the diagnosis of complex lung conditions.

It is possible to instill a liquid dye through the bronchoscope, allowing it to trickle down even into more inaccessible areas. By X-ray, the dye is followed, and often reveals disease that might otherwise remain hidden.

Foreign bodies of every conceivable kind have been removed from the lungs through the bronchoscope. At the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital there are on display hundreds of objects removed from the lungs of children and adults. The hardware, like nails, screws, safety pins, bobby pins, dentures, springs and toys, are but a handful of those that stand as mute testimony to the indiscriminate swallower and to the success of bronchoscopy. A similar technique called esophagoscopy is used to examine the esophagus, the tube that leads from the mouth to the stomach. This, too, adds important diagnostic information.

Norwood Holds Grand Opening

Several out of town guests were included in the large number of people attending the Grand Opening of Dick Norwood Chevrolet Olds, located on N. Schley St.

Representatives from Chevrolet Motor Division made a special trip to Hereford to attend the open house. They were Leon C. Dorn, the Division zone manager from Oklahoma City and Jim Zuber the Division's district manager from Lubbock.

Norwood, who has been a Chevrolet dealer for 24 years, went into partnership with John Orsborn and bought the business in 1966. Norwood left Hereford in 1963 to be a Chevrolet dealer in Ardmore, Oklahoma, leaving Orsborn with the dealership here. Norwood returned in November to buy the company from his past partner, Orsborn.

Senator Tower Discusses Aspects Of Pending Bill

This week the Senate continued to debate and act on various aspects of the pending tax bill.

I discussed with you last week my general philosophy regarding federal taxation and outlined the test I am applying to each question regarding proposed changes in our current tax law.

I believe that before we change an existing tax law which provides an incentive for a certain section of our economy, we must determine whether the economic response which would be created by the proposed change is desirable; and second, we must determine whether the proposed change is indeed the best method for bringing about the desired economic response.

It would be extremely unwise for Congress to act on any question of taxation without full consideration of the overall impact upon our economy and thus the overall impact upon all our citizens.

An excellent example of how a proposed change, which may seem desirable in itself, but which could adversely affect the overall economic impact upon each individual taxpayer, was the proposal this past week to raise the personal exemption for individual taxpayers.

As we as individual taxpayers figure our federal income taxes we may look wistfully at the current $600 personal exemtion, wish it were higher and note that if it were, our own tax bite would be less.

But the hard fact is, that if the personal exemption is finally raised by Congress, we, as individuals may actually have less money in the long run with which to purchase good and services.

This is because increased exemptions may, actually fuel the inflation which has plagued our economy for so many years. Inflation is a tax for more cruel than actual income taxes. A rise in inflation means that our hard-earned dollars will buy less; and particularly for families which live on fixed incomes, such as retirement checks; a rise in inflation means a falling standard of living.

There is another factor which I believe should also be considered. Regardless of the reductions in our personal income taxes, the demands remain upon the government to provide its citizens with vital services. If the inflationary tendency of our economy has already been fanned by a tax reduction, then the government is forced to spend more of its money to provide its citizens with the same services. In the end, the government may have to raise more taxes, and it might very well resort to raising income tax rates to do so.

This is only one example of tax reform efforts which I believe would actually in the long run damage our overall economic well being.

Another example can be found in proposed changes in the taxation applicable to the oil and gas industry. Changes in this sector of our economy would affect all Texans because, as an oil-producing state, the Texas economy is tremendously affected by the oil and gas industry.

The Senate has voted to reduce the current 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance for oil to 23 per cent. The House had earlier approved a reduction to 20 per cent. When the Senate completes its action on the remainder of the tax bill, it will be up to a joint House-Senate conference committee to work out a compromise in the depletion allowance just as it will work out a compromise in all other aspects of the bill in which the House and Senate have not precisely agreed.

It is my opinion that action to reduce the allowance is a result of an eagerness to take vengeance on a sector of our economy which has been erroneously depicted as earning large sums at the expense of the average taxpayer.

I am frankly a little tired of this approach. The American citizen is by and large a risk-engaged in it.

The Treasury Department has estimated that if the depletion allowance were lowered to 20 per cent, an additional $60 million dollars in additional tax revenues would be gained. At the same time, there was ample testimony in Congressional hearings earlier this year that such a reduction would force a taking entrepreneur in the finest tradition of the free enterprise system. If he is successful it is often because he has ventured where others have feared to go. And he creates jobs and wealth for others in the process. Many oil men are not successful. The oil business is not an easy road to riches. If it were, many more of us would be raising in the retail price of gasoline of one cent a gallon. Last year some 85 billion gallons of gasoline were sold in the United States. That means that reducing the depletion allowance to 20 per cent would early 360 million dollars while it costs American automobile drivers an additional $40 million dollars. And this means a severe blow to our economy.

This is the kind of thing I have meant when I have talked of the need for Congress to consider the overall economic picture before tampering with federal tax laws.

We do need tax reform. But we need responsible reform which will not harm us in the long run so that we may enjoy short term benefits.

State's Traffic Plan Endorsed

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 — The Texas Safety Association today announced endorsement of the state's newly-created official traffic safety program.

In reporting recent action of the TSA Board of Directors endorsing the state program, Robert F. Miller, President, Trinity Universal Insurance Company, Dallas, and TSA Vice President, Trinity Universal Insurance Company, Dallas, and TSA Vice President for Traffic Safety, stated that Governor Smith's office had developed a sound, far-reaching traffic safety program that could put a check to the state's rising traffic crash toll.

"However," Mr. Miller said, "success will depend upon complete implementation of the program and this will demand whole-hearted cooperation from the legislature and local governments plus enthusiastic participation by the motoring public."

Additional traffic safety legislation and adequate appropriations by the legislature will be necessary before many parts of the official traffic safety program can be activated.

Pointing out that the next regular session of the state legislature is more than a year away, Mr. Miller urged cities, counties and citizens' organizations to immediately take an active part in the program.

The Texas Safety Association is ready to help local governments in all parts of the state where safety councils are not now in operation," Mr. Miller said; and added, "we are eager to work with all citizens' groups in planning traffic safety activities. As we are cooperating completely with the Governor's traffic safety program, we are in a position to effectively coordinate safety programs in all sections of the state.

"Texas traffic casualties are now exceeding 18,000 a month and costing $80 million each 30 days. Clearly, traffic crashes with this kind of casualty toll and cost are our state's number one problem and deserve number one attention. This means full and enthusiastic support of the official Texas traffic safety program," Mr. Miller concluded.

The Texas Safety Association may be contacted at 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704.

Social Security

Q — My company plans to retire me at the end of this year. I will be 65 in January. When should I apply for my retirement insurance?

A — You may apply now for cash benefits and for Medicare. Even those persons who do not intend to retire at 65 should make claim during one of the three months before the month they are 65. This will assure the protection of Medicare at the beginning of the month they become age 65.

Q — Do I have to pay income taxes on my social security benefits?

A — No. Social security payments are not subject to income taxes.

Q — I am now receiving my social security. I understand earnings of $1600 or less in a year will not affect my check. If I should take a parttime job covered by social security, would I have to pay the social security tax on my wages?

A — Yes. Your wages would be subject to social security taxes.

Q — I saw in the paper where social security beneficiaries are going to get a raise in social security payments. How much will it be, and when does it start?

A — The President has recommended an increase for everyone, and Congressional leaders have said they favor it. However, the date and amount of an increase will not be known until a law is passed. At that time, it will be widely publicized.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

The Hereford Brand - Sunday
Hereford, Texas

By MELVIN YOUNG

The Christmas season is here and the annual round of Christmas parties has begun.

The Brand's was particularly enjoyable this year since our student employees, Jerry Odum and Janie Reinart, took over the task of planning and putting on the show. Their little skits poked fun at the boss as well as fellow employees and we thought they carried it off marvelously. It's always refreshing to watch these kids work and we very much enjoy the association with our student employees. In fact, they are probably responsible for keeping the rest of us from becoming old and crochety, which is one of the hazards of the newspaper professions.

However, we never could figure out the significance of one of their skits... the one about the fellow in the sun glasses, the fancy hat and carrying a golf club who said he was going to give Arnold Palmer a lesson?

—HB—

Well, the TV networks are at it again. They have spent so much time and film on the My Lai incident that we seriously doubt that the accused soldier, Lt. Calley, will ever be able to get a fair trial.

Someone once said that "war is hell," and no one knows that better than the soldier that has been on the firing line. War is mean, and dirty and... fatal. The only iron-clad rule that we ever heard when a soldier went into combat was to try to stay alive.

And who ever said that the enemy had a corner on all the atrocities? They happen on both sides and too many times the victims are the innocent by-stander rather than the soldier as is apparently the case in My Lai, but if your propaganda machine is well oiled and working, you're supposed to make the world believe that only the enemy is responsible for such happenings. That's part of the dirty game.

In the old days of World War II, a soldier responsible for such a massacre as has been alleged in the little South Vietnam hamlet of My Lai, would have been tried in a military court without all the fanfare of a Hollywood production. Many have been, and when found guilty, they were given their just due by the military courts, who can, by the way, be a lot tougher than civilian courts. But not so today. The TV networks are trying the man over the air before all the facts are in.

Perhaps he is guilty, and if so, he should certainly be punished. There is no excuse for mass annihilation of civilians, and this is certainly not representative of our fine military. But the man should have his day in court. He should not be tried over the air by a team of commentators. Besides that, we believe this nation's efforts to win a just peace in Vietnam has been seriously hampered by the adverse publicity over My Lai.

Which makes us wonder. Which side are the TV people on anyway?

—HB—

By the way, we would like to commend the local law of hearing you read "Winnie The Pooh"? That charming account of Edward Bear who was "that kind of bear" and who may have been called Winnie The Pooh because of the handicap he suffered when his balloon was shot down? Actually, there are many mysteries surrounding Winnie The Pooh.

Second... or "The House At Pooh Corner" wherein Christopher Robin is only incidental to the exciting adventures of Pooh and tiger and Roo?

Third... or "The Velvet Rabbit" & "The Skin Horse" reveals to the Rabbit this magic of love which is the basis of Reality.

And how many of you mommies and daddies and youngsters have lost yourselves in "Fairyland of Once Upon A Time" by A. A. Milne, who also wrote the Pooh books? As the author has said, "You will enjoy it — or you won't," but take a chance!!!

In this age of marvels when the word fantastic is used without significance there is a story of the fantastic told with tongue-in-cheek humor.

Junior Highs Post Victories

Basketball got under way this past Thursday evening for both La Plata and Stanton Junior High. The La Platans started the season in the manner most coaches say is the only way and that was by winning. The seventh, eighth, and ninth grades of the Maverick delegation all posted wins to their roster by victimizing on the Canyon gang. The Stanton freshman did likewise with their southern opponents, the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Mike Munnerlyn was accurate on fields goals five times and on free throws three times to slate a total number of thirteen points and lead the La Plata seventh to a 30-11 victory. Other high point men against Canyon were Marvin Harris with 12 and Doug Charest with three. This marks the second win of the season for the 7th grade.

The eighth grade did the same in their game but the outcome was of a narrower margin. James Harris was the high scorer for the eighth popping the net for ten points. Jerry Brock scored eight and Dan VanderZee, Jim Marsh, and James Waits honored themselves with six in the 36-31 contest.

Another Harris on the Maverick side by the name of Danny was the big contender in the ninth grade affair with sixteen points. This group of La Platans doubled the Canyon score of 25 by shooting the ball through the net for 53 points. Terry Champ was close behind Harris with 14 points while Larry McNutt was in the running with 10.

The Stanton Dogies were downed in their encounter with Dimmitt by the margin of 32-15 but a majority of the reason may have been that the Dogies were playing their first game and Dimmitt was in their third.

Hank Stringer and Van Dryden were tops in points with four while Rob Lomas, Bobby Fields, and Keith Gooch scored two.

In the eight grade Stanton fell short on the stick as well. Fourteen boys were in the game some time or another and according to the Stanton coach all made 110 percent effort. Micki Wand scored eight points, John Stoy with 5 and Chip Guseman and Randy Cook with one. The final score was 25-15.

Sixteen boys from Stanton saw action against Dimmitt and the majority of these scored. Keith Kitchens, a standout in football proved agility with the roundball Thursday night by dropping it through the net for seventeen points. Jimmy Yeagen was next in line with 11 and third was Wayne Molton scoring 6. The outcome at the end was 53-36 in favor of Stanton.

Hospital Holds Christmas Party

Wayne Thomas, who has re-20-year pin was awarded another Smith County Hospital board, was honored, along with several other employees at the hospital Christmas party held Thursday night at the Caison House.

Thomas was presented a plaque for his 16 years service with the local hospital while a signed his position on the Deaf member and several 10-year pins given.

Hospital administrator T. E. Seigler pointed out that the average years served by 28 of the 80 hospital employees was figured at 9 1/2 years. "This is very unusual," Seigler pointed out, "due to the fact that turnover at hospitals is usually very high."

For the 20 hospital employees who could not attend the party Thursday night, another has been set for today at the Caison House.

The typewriter has been termed the "only left-handed machine in general use." The most frequently used keys are on the left.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE

By Red Hagan

One of the most popular dishes of the world is Spaghetti or pasta. Some believe that Marco Polo originally brought this food to Italy from China but others say it was mentioned in writing that dated from before his time. Pasta can be enjoyed in many different dishes and can be found in many shapes and sizes. Here are a few facts to know about this versatile food: Don't keep it too long on the shelf it is better when fresh and can lose flavor . . . Use a large pot to cook it in . . . 3 quarts of water to 8 oz. pasta . . . cook 1/2 to 1 cup of cooked to a person - 1 cup (4 oz.) uncooked equals 2 cups of cooked . . . 1 tablespoon of oil then add pasta to rapidly moving water - stir gently cook to taste test . . . Do not overcook or it will become mushy.

January Draft Call For State Is Hiked To 573

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 28 — The January draft call for Texas is 573, up from 456 for December, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, said Friday.

Colonel Schwartz said he had been instructed officially to delay allocation of the call to the state's local boards pending receipt of official instruction on the procedures of random selection. The induction period will be January 15 through 31.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examination in January is 5,800 men.

In filling this call, in addition to available men 19 to 28 years of age, all available men who will be 18 years and 6 to 11 months of age in January 1970 may be ordered for examination, as necessary to fill the call, with the oldest first.

The State Selective Service director announced that officials of his Youth Advisory Committee had been elected in an initial meeting of the group in Austin. The committee is composed of 17 young people whose purpose is to evaluate the draft law and its administration and offer advice.

Pioneer Gas Co. Acquires Plants

AMARILLO — Pioneer Natural Gas Company's acquisition of Elcor Chemical Corporation's interest in the Ringwood and Madill gas processing plants has been completed, according to an announcement made today by Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer. The purchase price has been announced to exceed four million dollars, and the effective date of the acquisition was made retroactive to November 1, 1969.

In connection with the acquisition of these plants, Smith announced that they would be owned by a newly-formed, wholly-owned subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Pioneer Gas Products Company. This new company will supervise the operation of the plants.

The officers named for the new Pioneer subsidiary are C. W. Pankratz, president; C. J. Ghoslon, J. J. Heitz and R. F. Spikes, vice presidents; B. F. Thigpen, treasurer; and Jerry Hopson, secretary.

The Ringwood plant is located near Ringwood in Major County, Oklahoma, and the Madill gasoline plant is located in Marshall County, Oklahoma. Both of these plants are modern oil absorption type plants with a total liquid products recovery capacity of about 155,000 gallons daily.

In an additional announcement, A. F. Cox, president of Pioneer's subsidiary Amarillo Minerals, Inc., said that Amarillo Minerals, together with other associates, has purchased 225,000 shares of the stock of National Resources Corporation.

National Resources Corporation is a Denver-based company, engaged in the exploration for uranium and other metals. The company has substantial land holdings in the Powder River Basin in Wyoming, as well as in several other Rocky Mountain States.

The purchase of this stock by Amarillo Minerals and associates has provided initial funds for use by National in its lease acquisition and exploration program.

National Resources Corporation is contemplating a public offering of its stock for additional funds at a later date.

Large Tax Turnover For County Railroads

Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies by Texas railroads in Deaf Smith County totaled $24,071, it is announced by the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the nearly $11,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other property.

The biggest railroad contribution was to the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the more than 30,000 railroad employees in Texas contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Deaf Smith County, own their own homes.

"We are very pleased that nearly half of the taxes paid by the railroads in Texas go to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "The future of our country depends to a great extent upon the education of our youth," he said.

"Recognizing this need for education, many of the railroads operating in Texas also continue to make scholarships available to a large number of students, every year."

Inflation Is Popular

If inflation were like the measles or chicken pox it could easily be curbed. For no one wants these diseases and everyone joins in the crusade to combat them. Inflation, on the other hand, is far from universally unpopular. While most persons agree that it is a menace, they personally enjoy it and suggest that any attack on it be confined to the other fellow's area.

The dangers of inflation would be eliminated, for instance, were we all to accept a cut in income, in business profits, and in prices to place the value of the dollar on a stable level. But who would expect a worker to yield to a reduction in his wage in the hope that eventually the cost of living would be cut proportionately? Or a manager to reduce the price of his product because his payroll may eventually be smaller?

The decline in the stock market is good medicine for inflation but it is a better pill for brokers and investors. Higher taxes are also prescribed as helpful in curbing inflation but they don't evoke applause from taxpayers. Now President Nixon has called for a 75 per cent cutback in new Federal construction, and while this is considered an effective device for curbing inflation it has been greeted with howls of anguish rather than a cheer. So long as they postpone federal construction in another state or district there will be no protest but once the cutback hits home it will come under heavy attack.

But the presidential order indicates a growing awareness of the futility of trying to combat inflation with an army of volunteers. Those wage-price guidelines promoted by President Kennedy and Johnson were nobly conceived but they proved useless because they could not be enforced. And every other attempt to curb inflation by voluntary acceptance of sacrifices has proved equally futile. It may not be pleasant to contemplate, but all evidence points to the compulsion of law as the only hope of effectively curbing inflation. This can take the form of wage-profit-price controls, a reduction of government spending, higher taxes, or any other enforceable restriction. For most people so enjoy basking in the euphoria of inflation that they will not take the medicine necessary to cure it. Hence, the prospect that desperation over me they have toram it down the ram in down their throats. Asbury Park (N.J.) Press

Agnew's Moratorium

Vice President Spiro Agnew has indicated he's ready to drop, at least for the time being, his war against the radio-TV networks and a handful of newspapers.

This we can applaud for some of us were beginning to wonder if he wasn't going to turn into the Nixon Administration's Westbrook Pegler.

He has made his point. He has opened the eyes of the public and the response has been overwhelmingly in his favor. Even the networks admit the mail has been very critical of some of the somnambules.

There are some indications the networks are taking stock of the situation. Just the other day, Walter Cronkite, of CBS, in switching to Paris said, in substance, "now to Paris for the thoughts" of the Paris commentator.

That noun THOUGHTS stood out like neon. One wonders if he would have qualified the upcoming commentary in that manner had not Spiro Agnew taken the networks to task.

But it is good to hear, through Herbert Thompson, his secretary, that Agnew is tapering off.

Give the networks time to assess the situation and to more carefully dig into the philosophies of the so-called commentators. Give them time to lay down some rules similar to what every legitimate and conscientious newspaperman goes by. Tell both sides and don't try to slant the news. Don't just select certain items for the newscasts because they appeal to the ideological views of the announcer.

We say to Spiro: give the networks a few months, and if they haven't cleaned up the so-called newscast, then don't let the matter drop. That's time enough.

A regular diet of criticism of radio-television would only hurt the cause and Agnew's place in the administration.

A Plan To Destroy Us

By making readily available drugs of various kinds, by giving the teenager alcohol, by praising his wildness, by stimulating him with sex literature and advertising to him or her practices as taught at the Sex Pol, the psycho-political operator can create the necessary attitude of chaos, idleness and worthlessness into which can be cast the solution which will give the teenage complete freedom everywhere.

If we could effectively kill the national pride and patriotism of just one generation we will have won that country. Therefore, there must be continual propaganda abroad to undermine the loyalty of — the teenager in particular.

That startling statement is made in the Soviet text on Psycho-Politics. The success of that propaganda can be seen all around us. The results are clearly outlined. It is high time that we awoke to the fact that licentiousness brings chaos and that our only real hope of stability and freedom is to return to sound morality and ethics. — Alliston (Ont.) Herald

Handling Noisy Birds

We don't know if Finance Commissioner Albert Christen is still bugged by noisy birds at the Capitol, but if so, here's a report from Austria that may interest the keeper of the grounds.

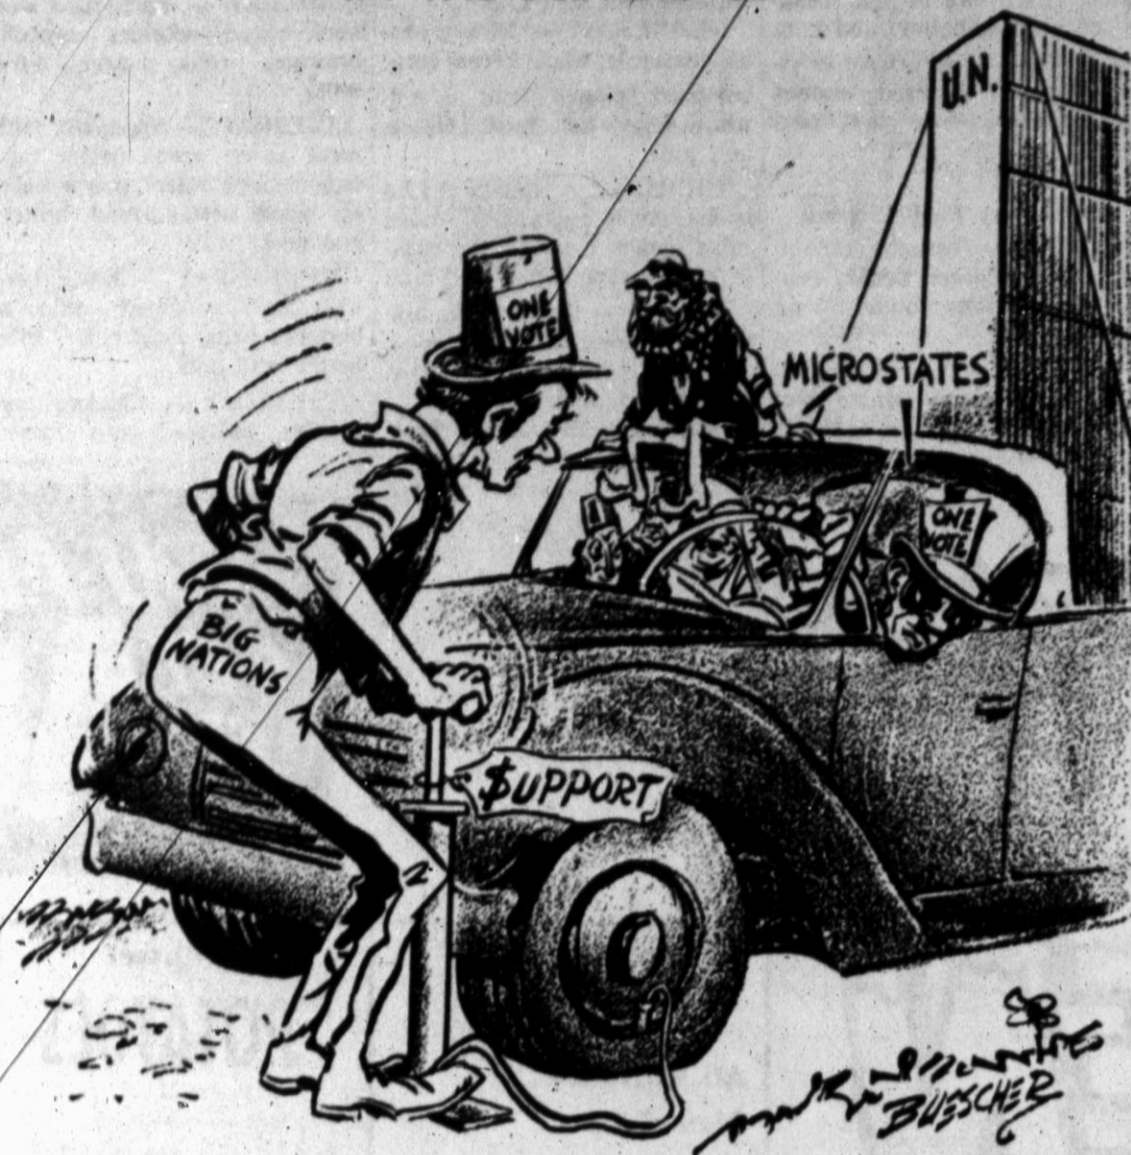

Starlings which visit Austria vineyards are being scared off by low-flying airplanes. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Austrian planes scare the birds along the border into Hungarian territory.

On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, Hungarian Air Force planes buzz the frontier and the birds flee back to Austria. This is known as the "Great Austro-Hungarian Wing War." — Lexington (Ky.) Herald

These are thrilling and challenging times, indeed. And there is an extra measure of satisfaction in the knowledge that the United States had led man from his limited terrestrial environment toward the infinity of the heavens. — Nashville Banner

Protesters Cause Stir; Flags Displayed More

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Protesters who march beneath the Viet Cong flag have caused a counter reaction among the "silent majority" who are now displaying the American flag as never before, on their car windows, in their lapels, and on flagstaves at home.

Members of the White House staff, during the week of the peace demonstration in Washington, began wearing small flags in their lapel, and the practice spread to Capitol Hill. A correspondent visiting a House committee office was given a lapel flag during a brief interlude to watch on television the launching of the Apollo 12 Astronauts on their trip to the moon. For Veterans' Day on November 11, the Veterans Administration issued a pamphlet on "How to Respect and Display Our Flag." The estimate as that 100,000 copies would be required, but more than 1 million requests were received in a three-week period. Old-fashioned patriotism seems to still be popular, at least among non-protesters.

The VA pamphlet, a four-page folder printed in red, white and blue, is based on a House resolution adopted in 1962. The folder is available free by writing committee, 810 Vermont Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C. 20420. Everybody who owns a flag should have this checklist of

"Do's" and "don'ts":

Daily Display Urged

Uncle Sam urges the American flag be flown daily, except when the weather is inclement. Normally the flag is displayed only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves. On special occasions, when desired for patriotic effect, the flag may be flown at night.

For homeowners who do not choose to fly their flag every day, the Veterans Administration suggests a display on national and state holidays, plus other days proclaimed by the President, such as Armed Forces Day celebrated on the third Saturday in May. On Memorial Day, May 30, the flag should be half-staffed until noon.

The flag should be displayed on or near the main building of every public institution, in or near every schoolhouse on school days, and in or near every polling place on election days. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

The flag should not be discarded as trash, when torn or dirtied and no longer suitable for public display. VA advises: "It should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning, privately."

Rule Is Keep To The Right

In general, the rules for flag display call for a keep-to-the-right practice. In a church or on a speaker's platform, the American flag is placed to the speaker's right. However, when the flag is displayed elsewhere than on the platform, the flag should be to the right of the audience, facing the platform, with any other flags on the left.

In a parade which includes one or more flags the American flag should be on the marching right (the flag's own right), or if there is a line of other emblems, in front of the center of that line. The flag should never be displayed from a parade float except from a staff, or so suspended that its folds fall free as though staffed.

When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately the same size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

When the American flag is hoisted or lowered or passes in parade, all persons should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. A man should remove his hat and hold it over his heart with his right hand. If hatless or a woman, the salute is made by placing the right hand over the heart.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — The Sweetgum, Yubadam and Yoo Hoo Railroad has to be one of the unique transportation enterprises in Texas history.

It began about 1889 as a narrow gauge line running from Hallsville, in Harrison County, to Yubadam, a now vanished village where Thomas F. Durham operated a sawmill. Durham built the line to haul lumber.

Originally the railroad was known as the T. M. & C. (Two Mules and a Car) because mules were used to pull the single car from the mill to Hallsville. It became, for reasons no one now can remember, the Sweetgum, Yubadam and Yoo Hoo when it acquired a wood-burning locomotive.

The line existed until the sawmill closed about the turn of the century.

SHOPPING NOTE — Chastity belts are among the souvenirs for sale at Houston's unique Weatherby Arms Museum. Inside the castle-like structure at 2516 Westledge, near the Astrodome, visitors listen to a recorded explanation of how life was lived when knighthood was in flower. Meanwhile figures clad in armor revolve about the room.

Also open to close scrutiny is the torture dungeon, where nefarious devices ranging from "iron maidens" to an authentic guillotine are on display. The museum is open daily, except Monday.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Perryton, Ochiltree County, brags that it's the "wheatheart of the nation." And with good reason.

Ochiltree produces more of the golden grain than any other Texas county, and is among the top wheat-growing areas in the U. S.

TOTEM POLE TOWN — Big Spring, Howard County, is the unofficial totem pole capital of Texas.

The town got its first authentic replica of this old Indian art in 1933 when Nat Shick became seriously ill and decided to take up wood-carving during his convalescence. When he got through whittling on a hefty pole that had been used to support a clothesline, he had his first totem.

In the 6 years since, Mr. Shick has averaged turning out about one totem pole each year. They range in size from miniatures to a few that tower more than 25 feet. Several are on permanent display in Big Spring, including one in the Shick front yard at Sixth and Gregg Streets.

DOWN MEMORY LANE — Hangar No. 9 at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, the only remaining World War I military aviation installation in the U. S. is being restored to its old elegance.

It was on Hangar 9's flight line that voice communication between instructor and student via a speaking tube was first introduced in the U. S. The first aircraft to be equipped for instrument (blind) flying also were housed in the historic old hangar.

65 YEARS AGO — 1904
Judge C. G. Witherspoon returned on Friday of last week from Kansas City where he went to confer with the Western Union Land Company about the right-of-way for the new railroad over their property in Hereford. As is usually the case when he goes after an enterprise, Judge Witherspoon brought back good news that said Western Union will donate land also. The Brand wishes to join heartily with W. H. Rayzor in his argument with the reference of providing some means of crossing the Frio and other streams south of town.

50 YEARS AGO — 1919
Horace Wofford's Dry Goods Store was burglarized Wednesday night and Mr. Wofford estimated a loss of $500. The recent settlement of the national strike situation has loosened up the local coal outlook considerably, although it will be some time before normal business can be resumed. Local coal dealers had several cars enroute when the stringent order of the Federal authorities went into effect, and their deliveries were held up, awaiting negotiations.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934
Topping of the mile of caliche on Highway 33 through the City is to be done under contract by the State Highway Department. Although he is powerfully busy at this time of year, Santa Claus has accepted the invitation of the Hereford Lions Club and businessmen to visit here for a short while Friday afternoon. What started out like an old-fashioned snow greeted Hereford Saturday morning. The fall started about 6 o'clock and continued for several hours with unabated fury.

20 YEARS AGO — 1949
Friona High School band will be here for the Santa Claus Parade Friday morning and one or two other bands may possible parade, according to Dick Lucas, junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas committee chairman. J. M. Par-tain, 40, received third degree burns Thursday afternoon and suffered slight shock when the equipment he was loading into a truck came in contact with the main 1,000 volt power line. Hereford Masonic Lodge 840 voted in their Monday night meeting to try and buy the old First Presbyterian Church building.

5 YEARS AGO — 1964
Ten indictment, including 12 persons, were returned Thursday by a 60th Judicial District grand jury which met in a lengthy day-long session. Agricultural income for Deaf Smith County farmers this year appears heading toward the 1963 peak of about $40 million, a survey indicated last week. Holly Sugar Corporation will for between 29,500 and 30,000 acres of sugar beets in 1965 for its Merrill E. Shoup plant here, it was revealed Friday.

THE LINK
By Robin Maughan
This rapidly engrossing suspense novel delves beneath the surface of James Steede's "return from the dead" to claim his inheritance and fictionally solve the riddle of the notorious Tichborne Case which so divided — and astounded — the Victorian world. This haunting new novel by the author of The Servant reveals, again, Robin Maughan's superb talent for illuminating the dark recesses of human passion, of man's self-deception and self-destruction.

cannily resembles him that the story takes a fantastic and dramatic turn which moves with terror and surprise to an unforgettable climax.

What is the "link"? What is the dark mystery behind this sinister relationship between two men whose identities are exchanged and whose fate and fortune depend upon the exchange? The Link is a spell-binding novel and a raw, bold revelation of the intricacies and strange variations of human relationships.

THE LAST OF THE BUSH PILOTS

By Harmon Helmericks
This is the first book by a bush pilot about the Alaskan bush pilots, the flying frontiersmen who will someday take their place in American folklore alongside the voyageur, the pony express rider, and the stagecoach driver — and its author is himself one of the most famous of that adventuresome breed.

His book is about America's Last Frontier. It is about the daring and ingenious pilots for whom wilderness adventure, strange cargoes (from electronic relays to corpses), and dangerous assignments are daily tasks: flying ice laden and blind through fogged-in passes, landing on pontoon on glaciers or setting down on lonely sandbars, hauling disassembled machinery into areas in which a "landing field" is where you make it. It is about "baling wire-mechanics" and "flying sourdoughs" like Sam White (the dean of them all) and the Bien brothers, who built an "impossible" airline — men who live with constant danger, flying the bush and an opening up Alaska and the Arctic frontier on wheels, skis, and pontoons. In this book you share their adventures, close calls, and acts beyond the call of duty; and you meet, with them, the hardy men of the Alaskan wilderness: trappers, Eskimos, prospectors, sportsmen, oil men, and trading-post operators.

With the spirit and the knowledge that only a bush pilot himself could bring to it, Harmon Helmericks' "The Last of the Bush Pilots" captures the full experience of a rugged profession that has transformed a wilderness.

Infielder-outfielder Bobby Murcer hit only .359 for the New York Yankees but he led the team in runs batted in with 82.

Food Stamp Changes Are Announced By Secretary

Following President Nixon's signing of the Agriculture Appropriations Act providing $610 million for the Food Stamp Program, Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin today announced a major expansion of the Program to take full advantage of the increased funds available for this fiscal year.

"These increased funds will enable us to make significant improvements in the Program," he said, "and to make major advances in our urgent drive to end hunger in the United States."

Secretary Hardin outlined the broad framework of a 4-point program of actions to be taken to improve the operation of the Food Stamp Program:

1. Coupon allotments under the Program will be changed to assure that low-income participating families will be able to purchase a more nutritionally adequate diet. This critically important step will be accomplished by providing each participating family enough food coupons to pay for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's "economy diet," adjusted to compensate for current increases in the level of retail food prices. Coupon allotments will be set at a uniform level nationally, eliminating the separate schedules now used for North and South. For a family of four this will amount to $106, compared with a current minimum of $58. Every participating family will get a stamp bonus, greater than or at least equal to the bonus for which it is now eligible. Bonuses to very low income families will more than double in many cases.

2. The amount that a family must pay for its stamp allotment will be reduced as far as possible within the law's present requirement that this payment must not be less than a family's normal food expenditure. The Department has restudied the relationship of purchase requirements to normal food expenditures, and has concluded that present payment schedules can and should be reduced substantially. Secretary Hardin emphasized that the reform legislation requested by the President will allow even further reductions in charges for stamps, when it is passed.

3. The Department's Food and Nutrition Service will make every effort to expand the program to many new areas, including those now participating in the Commodity Distribution Program which wish to change to Food Stamps.

Emphasis is being put on efforts to reach the 307 counties in the country which do not now have either family food program to help their needy. Secretary

Hardin said he hopes that local officials in those areas will recognize what an excellent opportunity they now have to make a food program available.

4. "Outreach" efforts will be accelerated in counties and cities that are currently in the Food Stamp Program, to acquaint them with these major improvements in the Program in order to increase the participation level among those eligible to take part.

State Project For Xi Epsilon Is Girlstown

A memorial cottage for Girlstown was voted as state project by members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a meeting held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Nolan Grady.

In a brief business session, it was voted to have a bake sale Dec. 13 at Sugarland Mall and plans for the chapter's Christmas dance scheduled Dec. 13 were made.

Literature was distributed to members on the Texas State Convention slated at Houston in June.

Mrs. Bill McDonald presented the program entitled "An Experience" which dealt with extra sensory perception.

Others attending were Mmes. Jim Cramer, Melvin Fowler, John Gilliland, Dean Hacker, Harold Kide and Pat Parker.

Ren Lee Pledges UTA Fraternity

Ren Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lee of 304 Centre St. has accepted pledgeship of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity at the University of Texas at Arlington, where he presently a sophomore majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

Ren is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society, the Golf Team and the Senior Executive Council.

The exact details of the plans for expansion and new payment schedules are now being worked out and will be announced shortly, Secretary Hardin said. The plans for program expansion will be detailed to cooperating State agencies as soon as they are in final form. These State officials then will get the word to local officials in well over 1500 participating counties and cities, in the effort to bring as many persons as possible into the Food Stamp Program.

Secretary Hardin emphasized that these are significant but only interim changes. "To carry out our full plans," he said, "we need to make further improvements in the Program. The additional legislation that we need has been proposed to the Congress. We are taking these interim steps, while we await final passage of the additional modifications that we need to enable the Food Stamp Program to deliver on its full potential for helping to wipe out hunger in the United States."

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I have had a recent sharp rise in income. Is it too late to file an estimated return this year?

A — You have until January 15 to file a declaration of estimated tax if the change occurred after September 1. However, if you file your 1969 return and pay in full the balance due by February 2, 1970, you need not file the estimated declaration. To obtain a copy of Form 1040-ES, Declaration of Estimated Tax, send a post card to your District Director.

Q — Is a Christmas bonus taxable?

A — Yes, bonuses are taxable income and should be reported on your tax return. Employers are required to withhold income and Social Security taxes on bonuses as they do on other compensation paid employees.

Q — I've got a new maid who doesn't want me to take Social Security taxes out of her pay. What should I do?

A — Explain to your maid that unless these taxes are paid she will not receive credit towards future Social Security benefits. As her employer, you are legally responsible for seeing that the required Social Security taxes are paid. You may, however, pay her share of the tax for her.

Q — Will the fact that our daughter is getting married in December cause us to lose the exemption we claim for her?

A — If she decides to file a joint return with her husband then you may not claim her exemption. There is an exception to this rule, if neither your daughter nor her husband is required to file a return but they file a joint return to claim a refund of tax withheld. They may still claim an exemption for her if she otherwise qualifies as your dependent. If your daughter files a separate return, you may claim her exemption as long as she qualifies as your dependent.

Q — In my job I often have to take work home. What do I need to prove that part of my home is an office for tax purposes?

A — To qualify for deductions, you must establish that you are required to provide your own space and facilities as a condition of your employment and that you regularly use this space for business purposes. You must also be able to show the portion of your home used for this purpose and the time it is so used. For example, if the office space accounts for 10 percent of your total space, then you may take 10 percent of such items as rent, depreciation, heat, light, insurance, real estate taxes and mortgage interest. If you use the office portion only half the time for business purposes, then you may deduct only 5 percent of the expenses as a business deduction.

Q — I did some water conservation work on my farm this summer. How do I handle these expenses for tax purposes?

A — You may elect to deduct some of your costs while you must capitalize others. Your costs for structures or facilities that are subject to depreciation must be capitalized with the costs recovered through annual depreciation allowances. In this category would be items such as water wells, pipes, tiles and other than earthen dams. You may elect to deduct, within certain limitations, costs involved in the construction of drainage ditches, diversion channels, earthen dams and ponds along with certain other expenditures. You must make this election for the first tax year you pay or incur such expenses. For additional details, contact your local County Extension Agent or ask your IRS office for a free copy of the Farmer's Tax Guide, Publication 225.

A — If she decides to file a joint return with her husband then you may not claim her exemption. There is an exception to this rule, if neither your daughter nor her husband is required to file a return but they file a joint return to claim a refund of tax withheld. They may still claim an exemption for her if she otherwise qualifies as your dependent.

Q — In my job I often have to take work home. What do I need to prove that part of my home is an office for tax purposes?

A — To qualify for deductions, you must establish that you are required to provide your own space and facilities as a condition of your employment and that you regularly use this space for business purposes. You must also be able to show the portion of your home used for this purpose and the time it is so used.

Q — I did some water conservation work on my farm this summer. How do I handle these expenses for tax purposes?

A — You may elect to deduct some of your costs while you must capitalize others. Your costs for structures or facilities that are subject to depreciation must be capitalized with the costs recovered through annual depreciation allowances. In this category would be items such as water wells, pipes, tiles and other than earthen dams. You may elect to deduct, within certain limitations, costs involved in the construction of drainage ditches, diversion channels, earthen dams and ponds along with certain other expenditures. You must make this election for the first tax year you pay or incur such expenses. For additional details, contact your local County Extension Agent or ask your IRS office for a free copy of the Farmer's Tax Guide, Publication 225.

Golden Circle SS Class Gives Gift Donations

Plans were finalized for food donations to needy families as well as cash donations to Girlston and Buckners Children's Home by members of the Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Sam Sides.

Mrs. Coy Phillips was co-hostess for the meeting and Christmas party.

Members answered roll call with their favorite scriptures and Christmas stories were reviewed by Mrs. Earl Clark and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

Christmas refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mme B. F. Markham, John Hamby, Frank Ball, G. P. Owens, Roy Thompson, Jeff Roberson, Charles Hood and J. E. Young.

Unable to grow crops or graze animals on the parched, rocky soil, the El Molo tribesmen of Kenya have lived for centuries exclusively on fish caught in the alkaline waters. Their monotonous diet is sometimes varied with crocodile eggs or turtles.

Local Hunter Finds Rattlers Still Around

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Rattlesnakes are disappearing nowadays with the cold weather moving in and as a result a person must travel toward the southern section of the state to find any. That's just what Jud Nowotny of 122 Texas, Street did although he sounded as though rattlers weren't his intentional game.

He and his dad, L. F. Nowotny of San Antonio, Texas, took in some wild game hunting about two weeks ago in the area around Freer, Tex. Freer is located about 150 miles south of San Antonio.

The two Nowotny's main interest on the hunt was to drop some deer and wild turkey but along with this they killed something entirely different.

Jud commented on the incident this way. "We thought we saw a log lying across a jeep road. We looked closer and saw that it was a big rattlesnake." They of course killed the reptile.

The eldest Nowotny is a taxidermist in San Antonio. He made the 6 1/2 foot snake into a rug after tanning it, which his son has now.

Jud said, "We killed quail, coyotes, snakes, but no deer."

Besides the extra large 6 1/2 footer, they also got a rattler about five feet in length. The biggest one was about 12 inches around and weighed between 15 and 20 pounds.

Jud Nowotny is presently the Minister of Education - Administration First Baptist Church.

He said that he and his dad go hunting quite a lot. "The hunting around Freer is real good."

Between Nov. 16 and Dec. 31 the season is open around Freer for deer and turkey. Since November Nowotny has been hunting there twice. Gerald Mann, Minister of the First Baptist Church and Neil Cooper went along on the second trip with Nowotny. Mann got a good sized buck and turkey and Cooper shot his first buck. Nowotny also killed a buck and turkey.

Nowotny gave the information on the time of the year for deer and turkey shooting but had the comment, "Rattlesnakes are open the year round." He plans to return to Freer for hunting during the Christmas holidays.

They were followed by the Spiritual Singers singing Winter Wonderland, White Christmas, Let It Snow and Silent Night. The hostesses served refreshments from a lovely table decorated in the traditional red, white and green. Attending were Meses. H. L. Benefield, Herman Ford, Howard Gault, W. J. Gilliland, Jimmie Gillentine, Francis Hardwick, Justin McBride, Ansel McDowell, R. B. Miller, Tom Sawyer, Carl Swanson and Jack Wilcox.

Department Of Health Advises Motorists To Drive Defensively

With winter weather coming on, motorists will have to be in a more watchful. More fatal traffic accidents occur during darkness — especially during the evening from 5 to 8 p. m. — than during the daylight hours, reports the Texas State Department of Health. This sobering fact should be kept in mind by motorists during winter when the hours of daylight are shorter, streets may be wet or icy, and fog and frost on windows may cloud a motorist's visibility. Better control of the car, reduction of speed and increased alertness are very necessary. The State Health Department and National Safety Council also advise motorists to drive defensively and to: — Pull into traffic more cautiously than in daytime. — Pass with care, making sure you have enough passing room. — Never trust your judgment in estimating speed of an approaching car by its headlights. — Stay well behind the car ahead of you and watch for his signals. — Watch for oncoming drivers who may be out of their lanes. — Be alert for vehicles stopped on the roadway with poor — or no lights. — Alert other drivers with flashes or lights if your car becomes disabled, and get it off the road. — Don't over-drive your headlights. At 60 miles an hour it will take you about 370 feet to stop. Yet, you see only about 200 feet ahead. — Put on directional signals well in advance of turning. — Don't use parking lights when in motion. — Make adjustments for bad weather, which further reduces your vision. — Keep your windshield and windows clean, inside and out. In night driving the glare of oncoming headlights diffused against the film may blind you or make you fail to see unlighted objects. — If an approaching driver fails to dim his lights, don't keep your bright lights on also. Slow down, dim your lights and keep your eyes on the shoulder of the road or the lane edge to guide you. By observing these rules of the road, you will have a much better chance of not becoming a traffic statistic, says the State Health Department. Species of mosquitoes vary in their favorite biting targets. Aedes aegypti, the dreaded yellow-fever carrier, prefers the body, while most other mosquitoes seem to favor the face and ankles.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man".

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

Summerfield Club Hears Book Review

A review of the book "New Country" by Allan Bosworth was presented by Mrs. Ted Panciera to members of Summerfield Study Club at their holiday luncheon meeting held Wednesday at the Chaparral Restaurant.

A native of Texas, the author of the book has written for many newspapers and magazines and has published several novels.

"New Country" is the heart warming story of Bosworth's large family who traveled through Texas from place to place in a covered wagon. Bosworth's wanderlust father, who as always in search of "New Country," spent his life searching in vain for something in life that he knew was just over the hill, and his gentle mother who finally found the home she had always dreamed of.

Mrs. L. C. Roots gave the invocation and roll call was answered by each member with a memorable story of "Christmas in Texas."

The luncheon table was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif.

The club project for December was sending gifts for inmates at the State Hospital at Wichita Falls.

Guests attending were Mrs. Panciera and Mmes. Jack Strain, David Hutchins, H. T. Fields and Miss Deborah Baker.

Other members attending were Mmes. R. B. Baker, Lee Curry, George DeLozier, J. R. Euler, Ray Johnson, Earl Lance, Sr., Earl Lance Jr., L. B. Lookingbill, L. H. Lookingbill, Clayton Sanders and Guy Walser.

In the final National League playoff game between the Atlanta Braves and New York Mets, Tommy Agee and Wayne Garrett of the Mets hit home runs on first pitches. Met Ken Boswell hit his homer on a 2-2 pitch.

Research Funds Made Available

Funds will be available again for castor bean research in the Texas High Plains during 1970, according to Agriculture Commissioner, John C. White and State Representative, Ralph Wayne of Plainview.

The joint announcement was made recently from Austin following a study of the appropriations bill passed by the Legislature this past summer. The amount will exceed $25,000, it was announced.

The High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, is recipient of these funds, Rep. Wayne announced. This is the third year the research foundation has received state funds for castor research. Rep. Wayne praised Commissioner White and the Texas Department of Agriculture for their continued support of this project in the High Plains area.

"Purpose of the study is to develop castor beans into a meaningful cash crop for High Plains farmers. The bean is used extensively for oil products and can become an important addition to the state agricultural scheme," Wayne said.

A second goal of the research is to learn effective means of controlling the production so that it will leave a "clean field" for another crop the following season. "Castor beans can be a good crop in the field one year and then a nuisance the next if the land is planted to cotton or feed," Commissioner White pointed out. "So we have to determine the most efficient and economical ways to grow it — and a good method of killing it."

Rep. Wayne noted that research also will be towards the usage of both "growth and control" chemicals, developing new uses for the bean, a study of best planting and harvesting periods, and a strengthening of castor bean varieties.

"Field work is conducted by Texas Department of Agriculture on a year-around basis. Information compiled will be of great benefit to the entire state," Wayne said.

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure"

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.

Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insignia is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of assuring you that you get full measure for your advertising dollar in this newspaper.

Miss Russell Marries In Ceremony At Church

In a candle light ceremony recently, Miss Carol Russell of Hereford and Robert L. Odom of El Paso, exchanged wedding vows in the Avenue Baptist Church here. The Rev. Don Larkin, pastor, conducted the service.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Roy Russell and the late Mr. Russell, and Mrs. Harry Borth and the late Mr. Dave Odom, both of Hereford.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the couple will be at home at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, where he is stationed with the United States Army. A large bouquet of chrysanthemums formed the background for the marriage ceremony with flanking candelabra holding tall white tapers.

A longtime family friend, Le-

Roy Burges, gave Miss Russell in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Poteet were the couple's attendants and ushers were Lawrence Burges, and Charles Russell, nephew of the bride.

Candle lighters were Diana Egbert and Arlene Lavy.

Mrs. Billy Wall presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Bobby Reed as she sang More and Wedding Prayer.

The bride wore a formal Victorian styled gown of champagne Chantilly lace fashioned with a figurine bodice scattered with pearls and sequins and long sleeves. Tiers of lace ruffles formed the full skirt which extended into a chapel train and her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a crown of rinstones and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds on a bridal Bible.

The feminine attendants wore blue gowns with a white overlay of lace and carried bouquets of white carnations with blue streamers.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall where wedding guests were registered by Miss Diana Egbert.

The three-tiered wedding cake decorated with blue rosebuds and surmounted by the traditional bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Leon Lavy and Mrs. LeRoy Burges.

For traveling the bride wore an eggshell crepe dress with blue accessories and a white resbud corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended schools in Hereford and Canyon and was employed by Dr. Weslie Owen, D. D. S. and Dr. J. M. Roden, D. D. S. in Friona.

Odom attended schools at Spur, Tex. and has been in the U. S. Army for 19 years.
