

DWI, Assault Charges Filed

Marshall Padgett, former Hereford chief of police who was indicted a few months ago on charges of assault with intent to murder, has been jailed in the County jail on charges of driving while intoxicated and assaulting an officer.

Sheriff's office officials reported that a member of the local unit of the Highway Patrol observed Padgett driving irregularly along U. S. Highway 60 around 12:30 Saturday morning. The patrolman pulled Padgett over and when an officer from the sheriff's department arrived, Padgett assaulted both officers.

He was taken to the county jail and bond was set at $500 for each of the two counts. As of Saturday morning, he was still in jail.

Padgett was indicted by a grand jury here recently on charges of assault with intent to murder in connection with the Oct. 24 attack on Homer Maslin, a produce salesman.

The attack allegedly occurred at a local bar when Padgett, according to witnesses, drew a knife on Maslin.

Sheriff's office authorities had received a call around 1:50 p.m. indicating there had been a fight at the club.

When they arrived, they found Padgett being contained by several persons.

He had several gashes in his head and was bleeding badly. He was taken to the local hospital where he was treated then taken to the county jail.

Bond was set at $10,000 and Padgett posted it the following day.

Reports indicated that Padgett and Maslin had gotten into an argument and Padgett pulled a knife on him. Maslin, in an effort to protect himself, hit Padgett with a pool cue stick and it was then that several others at the club at the time grabbed Padgett.

Padgett served as chief of police for Hereford for seven years after coming here as an officer from the Amarillo police department. While he was with the Amarillo office, Padgett was assigned to the vice squad.

He received the appointment as chief of police here in 1962 following the resignation of Henry Aycock.

He resigned his position of police chief earlier this year.

Homer Thomas' Brother Dies

Funeral services for Grover C. Thomas, 59, of Amarillo, brother of Homer Thomas of Hereford, were conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday in Blackburn Shaw Martin Road Chapel of Amarillo. The Rev. Kent Kellogg, pastor of Grand Avenue Baptist Church, officiated.

Burial was in Palo Duro Cemetery at Wildorado.

Mr. Thomas was dead on arrival Thursday at Northwest Texas Hospital after suffering a heart attack at work.

Born in Randall County, he was assistant foreman at the American Smelting and Refining Co. He had lived in Amarillo 29 years.

Other survivors include his wife, Joyce; his mother, Mrs. Sarah Thomas of Hillhaven Rest Home; three other brothers, Sam of Tucumcari, N.M.; Alec of Clovis and Ralph of Lakin, Kan.; five sisters, Mrs. Edith Brewer of Amarillo, Mrs. Ima Shaffer of San Jon, N.M.; Mrs. Susie Vineyard of Mesa, Ariz.; Mrs. Emma Liles of Logan, N.M. and Mrs. Naomi Jobe of Adrian.

ROBERT L. CONRAD — To fly the first operational C-5 Galaxy, consisting of the most advanced technology in aviation history.

Robert Conrad Will Pilot World's Largest Aircraft

Flying the world's largest aircraft will soon be the daily job of Master Sergeant Frank R. Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Conrad, Northwest Drive, Hereford, Tex.

The first operational C-5 Galaxy, huge jet transport that experts say will revolutionize military air transportation, was delivered Dec. 17 to the Military Airlift Command (MAC) at Altus AFB, Okla., where Sergeant Conrad is in training to be a C-5 flight engineer.

He participated in the acceptance ceremonies that also commemorated the Dec. 17 anniversary of the first powered flight by Orville Wright at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903.

Gun Club Plans Turkey Shoot

Jim Lassiter, secretary of the Hereford Gun Club, announced that the organization will hold a Turkey Shoot today, beginning with practice rounds at 1 p.m.

Regulation shoot will begin at 2 p.m. with turkey-or-ham to be given away as prizes. Shot gun shells and refreshments will be available at the club's building and range, located just east of the airport.

The Galaxy is so large that the first time Sergeant Conrad walks the length of the cargo compartment, he will have traveled farther than Orville Wright flew on his historic first flight of 120 feet. The C-5's main cargo section is 121.1 feet long.

If asked to help move the giant jet into the center of an average open-end college football stadium, the sergeant would have to be very careful. Its 247-foot length would overlap the 10-yard lines, its 223-foot wing span would extend beyond the front row seats on both sidelines and the top of the 65-foot tail section would be above the eye level of upper deck fans.

Use of the Galaxy by MAC will mark the first time the Air Force will have the capability of airlifting Army units with all their combat equipment, including tanks, heavy equipment and vehicles. The C-5 is capable of transporting nearly 99 percent of the equipment of an Army division. For rapid deployment around the world, the Galaxy can carry 350 fully equipped troops and, with head division of a third deck, can double this number.

Incorporating some of the most advanced technology in aviation history, the C-5 has an automatic trouble-shooting system that monitors some 800 check points to forewarn of possible malfunction. It can be operated from short unimproved airfields. Landing gears on the 28-wheel aircraft can be retracted so that the plane can "kneel" in three different angles for easy cargo loading and unloading. An automatic terrain-following radar system permits "tree top level" flight to avoid enemy radar and assure safe approach to and departure from air drop and landing zones in rough terrain, even at night and in bad weather.

Powered by four gigantic new engines that produce a combined 44,450 pounds of thrust, compared with the 3,000 pounds thrust of early U. S. jet fighters, the Galaxy can carry a maximum payload of 132.5 tons, utilizing both upper and lower decks. It can speed 110 tons a distance of 3,000 nautical miles in seven hours or 56 tons, 5,500 miles in 12 and one-half hours. The C-5 has a cruising speed of more than 500 miles an hour and is capable of being refueled in flight.

Sergeant Conrad, a 1948 graduate of Dimmitt High School, is a veteran of the Korean War. His wife is the former Mary E. Hardy from England.

Late Donations Will Be Named At Later Date

For those who did not get their contributions in on Project Christmas Card by the deadline Saturday, the names will appear in a later issue of the Brand.

Arrests Made In Area Burglaries

Three men, all arrested Monday and Tuesday in Lubbock, either by local sheriff's department authorities and surrounding county officers or officers of the Lubbock sheriff's department, have been charged in connection with an estimated $25,000 worth of stolen herbicides and other merchandise in the Panhandle area.

Kervin Roper, sheriff's department deputy, along with an officer from Dumas and another from Hartley County, arrested Joe Pat Anders, 38, of Anton, Monday night and Eddie Ray Baker, 34, of Lubbock, in the early hours of Tuesday morning.

A third suspect, Douglas Ray Scott, 34, also of Lubbock, was arrested by Lubbock sheriff's department authorities Tuesday afternoon.

All three men have been charged with a series of herbicide burglaries and thefts in merchandise from a six-county area. In several of the instances, only two of the men were charged.

Local authorities reported that they became involved in the case when last May a number of burglaries began occurring around the area and in nearby counties. In May 40 cases of herbicides were taken at Dalhart and 16 from Deaf Smith County. In August over 50 cases were stolen from near Wildorado and then again in September 5 were again taken from around Wildorado. In early November, a theft was unsuccessful near the Ford community, but on November 19 50 cases of the chemicals were taken from near Farwell and the latest incident occurred on Dec. 19 and 18 cases were taken from Dalhart.

Anders, charged in several of the other burglaries, has been charged in connection with the burglaries in Deaf Smith County.

The case was busted wide open last week when over 200 cases of the herbicide were recovered at various locations in Castro County. A farm was checked out near Hart and 32 cases of the stolen chemical was found there. At another farm near Hart Monday morning, over 10 cases were recovered at another location near Hart and still another 100 cases were recovered at a gin.

Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace reported that the cases of chemicals found at the gin in Parmer County had had the labels blacked out by spray paint, but a few cartons, not painted, bore the names.

Additional cases of chemicals believed by officers to have been taken in the Moore County burglary were discovered Sunday night on a farm near Hart. The 125 cases of chemicals, called Atrazine, were valued at $11,650.

During several of the burglaries, trucks were stolen from the chemical dealer's location. Dumas, Dalhart, Farwell and Wildorado all reported stolen vehicles and officers reported that all of the trucks were recovered near Plainview, but had been unloaded and left vacant.

All three men were taken in to custody Monday and Tuesday in Lubbock and were arraigned on burglary charges in Moore County on specific charges 125 cases of the chemicals and a truck from north of Dumas.

Bond for Baker was set at $10,000 in Oldham County and $10,000 in Moore County while Scott's bond was set at $7,500 in Moore County. Baker was released when bond was posted and Scott was released when he posted bond in Lubbock.

Anders has not as yet posted bond.

Investigation into the case will continue, according to local law enforcement authorities, who also said that there might be "more than meets the eye."

Anders, along with the other two, should they be indicted by the grand jury, will be tried in each of the counties where the burglaries occurred.

Anders had been sentenced to 12 years in the 1967 theft of 50 cases of weed killer from a warehouse in Clay Corners in Parmer County, and his new trial is still pending.

Officers who participated in the investigation included Moore County Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Miller, Deaf Smith County Deputy Sheriff Kervin Roper, Parmer County Sheriff Lovelace, Dallam County Sheriff R. C. Johnson, Hartley County Sheriff Joe Thomas and Oldham County Sheriff Harold Wheeler.

Local Retail Sales Up 35 Cents In 4 Years

Some indication of the economic growth that has been taking place in Deaf Smith County in recent years comes from the government's new Census of Business.

The survey, which concerns itself primarily with retail business development since 1965, when the previous survey was conducted, shows that there was a 34.8 percent rise in sales locally in the subsequent four-year period.

The progress that was made in the direction exceeded expectation. It was believed that the war in Vietnam, the tensions on the domestic scene, the increase in taxes and the rising cost of living would have caused consumers to cut down appreciably on their spending. Nothing seems to have stopped them, however.

As a result, the sales volume in local retail stores rose $9,481,000 in the four years. Part of this increase was due, of course, to higher prices for merchandise.

Deaf Smith County's 34.8 percent rise compared favorably with the rise chalked up in many sections of the nation. In the United States it was 27.0 percent and in the West South Central States, 30.5 percent.

Related to the local population, the retail sales represented a spending rate of $9,192 per family. This was well above the figure elsewhere in the United States, $5,203 per family.

Nearly every phase of retail business participated in this growth as the consumer, encouraged by steady employment, rising wages, a record backlog of savings and pension and social security protection, gave free rein to his spending.

As a consequence, retail stores sold more and better clothing, finer furniture, more cars, household equipment, electrical appliances and food.

The bulk of this consumer demand was supplied through the 213 retail outlets listed in the local area.

The 1,025 men and women employed in these stores and the size of their payrolls kept pace with the increase in business.

The Census Bureau's figures show payrolls rose in the period to $3,690,000 from the former total of $2,511,000 per year.

Preliminary figures for 1969 indicate that the American economy is still on its upward course, but at a slower rate of growth than in 1968. The buying public appears to be waiting for a resolution of the Vietnam war and for a check on inflation.

Bank Sponsors Free Movie

The First National Bank is sponsoring a free movie Monday at the Star Theatre for the children of holiday shoppers.

There will be two showings of the feature, "North To Alaska," one at 9:45 a. m. and the afternoon showing at 2 p. m.

This mighty spectacle of Alaskan adventure stars John Wayne, Stewart Granger, Ernie Kovacs and Fabian.

Completion Near Cotton Yields Lower

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Finishing touches are now being applied to the job of stripping and ginning cotton in Deaf Smith County for the fall of 1969. A small acreage of late cotton is yet to be stripped but the biggest majority of the county crop is already harvested and baled.

Deaf Smith County Gin has baled a total of thirteen hundred bales so far this year, according to manager James "Red" Durham. The cotton left for us to take care of, will amount to only about two or three more bales.

Durham reported that the first bale of cotton was ginned on September 16. This bale, belonging to Vincent Friemel, a farmer in the Umbarger Community, was planted early and matured a lot quicker because it was dry land. It was also hand picked.

"The first stripped cotton came in on November 8," said Durham.

"The cotton crop as a whole was down this year. Grades were lower because of the early freeze, rain but the mike reading and ginning was fairly good. Freeze and excess rain hurt the crop yield about 50 percent. Farmers lost quite a bit of money on grade loss because the freeze was 30 days early."

Durham said that the percentage of turnout, a comparison of stripped cotton to baled cotton, was also good. How much the overall cotton crop has dropped from last year can be visualized by comparing the 1300 bales ginned this year to the 2700 in 1968 at Deaf Smith County Gin. This is an evident 50 percent cut.

Although a comparatively smaller count of bales, the level of cotton price has been sustained from last year. Price is averaging three to four hundred points over the loom. It is about as good as it was last year," he said.

Questioned about the level of grade and quality in the cotton this year Durham said, "It's also down quite a bit." One of the main reasons, he emphasized, is the use of the chemical hormone 2-4-D, a herbicide used in the area for weed control in maize.

He stated, "2-4-D is one chemical that will drift easily. A lot of it invaded the cotton crop and when it does this it will sometimes completely ruin it."

Instead of instantly wilting weeds, 2-4-D will actually grow the weed to death. In other words it is just a growth stimulant. Maize is susceptible to it but when it gets on a broadleaf plant it will damage it.

The way it damages the plant is that it will ruin the fruit. It will make it shed or completely kill it. There are very few patches in the county that I know of that weren't affected by it at all."

Durham pointed out that the most dangerous aspect of using a chemical such as 2-4-D is that it can drift such a great distance. It will drift as far as fifteen miles, sometimes. When it is applied to a field three or four miles from a cotton crop, the cotton will be invaded by the drift.

"Last year a grower yielded a bale per acre but this year his outcome was a half a bale to the acre because of 2-4-D," Durham said.

Durham said that this has been a problem for the past several years but seems to have gotten a little worse this year. He explained the legal side of the problem.

"A state law was passed a few years ago prohibiting the use of 2-4-D but it was left up to the county commissioners as to usage of this law in each county. Local commissioners did not act on the law in Deaf Smith when presented to them. Their reason was probably the vast acreage of milo in the area. In 1962 several farmers of the county studied the use of hormone type weed killers and made recommendations to the commissioners."

A few of the recommendations were (1) The farmers of Deaf Smith County educate and inform themselves concerning the use of hormone type weed killers so that they may be able to retain on a local level the right and privilege to using these weed killers. (2) Be sure that they know the General Requirements for use of hormone type weed killers that are prescribed in the STATE HERBICIDE LAW, and (3) a spray chart.

The spray chart reads when wind velocity is 0 to 3 mph be at least 1 mile downwind or 1/2 mile upwind, when 4 to 6 mph be at least two miles downwind or one eighth mile upwind, and when velocity is 7 to 10 mph be at least 4 miles downwind or 250 feet upwind.

All of these are general requirements of the Herbicide law. Durham also said, "In 1962 a petition for the proper use of 2-4-D was signed by numerous farmers but was turned down by the commissioners."

"Right now they are trying to outlaw the use of 2-4-D, a herbicide similar to 2-4-D. What we would like is for anyone to sit down and study its proper usage. There's nothing wrong with it when used in the correct manner."

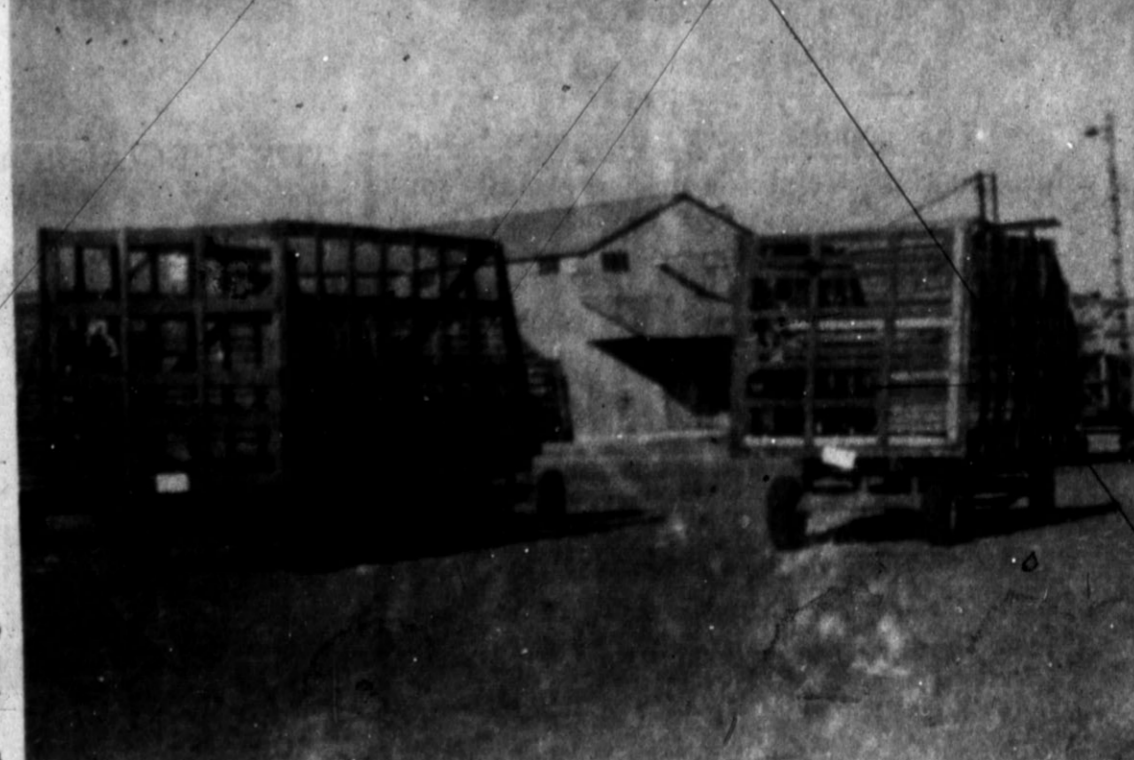

Durham commented that it is hard to predict how much money farmers lost this year due to 2-4-D but as he put it: "They lost a lot more money to it than they did to hail."

COTTON GROWING SLIMMER—

Cotton harvest for the fall of 1969 is basically finished except for a few small patches in the county. Deaf

Going Home For Holidays

By BARBARA DRYDEN
Society Editor

Mrs. Tommy Bowling, a recent newcomer to Hereford is busy preparing for the Christmas holidays when she will leave with her family for a trip "back home" to Turpin, Okla. where they have lived since their marriage.

The Bowlings moved here in August and were amazed how friendly the local people were. "Hereford doesn't have any strangers," Ann said, "and we just love it here."

Only one month after they moved here their young son, Trent, was born, joining three-and-a-half year-old Trinetta Ann.

Ann is enjoying her role as mother and homemaker throughly, and says she had much rather be at home with her family than work outside of the home. She taught school for two years when they lived at Turpin, working with elementary children at the neighboring town of Tyrone.

The Bowlings met during their college years at Panhandle State, Goodwell, Okla. and when Tommy moved to Turpin to be a teacher and coach, they were married.

He is now a counselor at Central and Bluebonnet Elementary Schools.

Ann's favorite past time is sewing and she makes all of her daughter's clothes and most of her own. When she isn't busy with the children or sewing, she enjoys reading and has recently joined the Newcomer's Club where she is meeting many new friends.

Since living in Hereford, they have attended both the First Christian Church and the Methodist, but are making plans to join the First Christian.

Mrs. Bowling says husband, Tommy, is a great sports fan and is never bored because he loves all sports and there is always one in season.

They are looking forward to their two-week holiday when they will visit her family at Turpin and his at Pryor.

Jim Northrup of the Detroit Tigers made six straight hits against the Oakland Athletics last Aug. 28.

Xi Epsilon Hosts Party

Members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held their annual Christmas party, featuring a salad supper, Tuesday evening in the Dean Hacker home.

Co-hostesses for the event were Mrs. C. D. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Olene Williams.

Following the social, members each gave a gift to be sent to Girlstown at Christmas.

Others attended were Mmes. Duke Powell, John Gilliland, Bill McDonald, and Jim Cramer.

The next meeting is scheduled at 8 p. m. Jan. 6 at the Community Center.

Needle Club Gives Donation For Girlstown

A cash donation was given to Girlstown for Christmas by members of Mothers Needle Club at their holiday party held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Earl Cole.

Gifts were exchanged by secret pals and names were drawn for next year. Hostesses for 1970 were also named.

A reading of poems was presented by Mrs. Ralph Paul and Mrs. Haskell Benson.

Refreshments of fruit cake, candies and cookies with coffee and spiced tea were served.

Others attending were Mmes. A. H. Cook, Luther Ellis, Adam Flower, Jewel Awtry, L. J. Jones, W. T. Gunstinson, J. L. Shriey, A. T. Jones, H. E. Lindley, C. N. McClure, Annie Springer and two guests, Mrs. Floyd Cole and Mrs. Ethel Wesson of Plainview, a former member.

Mrs. Cook will host the next meeting at 2:30 p. m. Jan. 15.

Loerwald Given Football Letter

Jim Loerwald, a 1969 graduate of Hereford High School, received a freshman award in football at Sul Ross State University, according to university officials.

Loerwald, who was selected all-district his senior year at the center position and also named to the All South Plains Dream Team, is attending Sul Ross on a football scholarship.

Mavericks Are Downed By High Scoring Gattis

Thursday was just one of those days for the La Plata seventh and eighth grade cagers as they were both stunned by the powerful Clovis Gattis Junior High squads.

The host seventh grade, despite good performances from all the players, were downed 34-19 by the visiting quintet.

Gattis held a slim 6-5 lead following the first quarter then held the locals to five points in the second period while collecting nine of their own for a 9-5 lead. The Mavericks were still in the game through the third period when they managed four points while giving up only three, but the visitors bused loose in the final stanza for 16 points to grab the game, 34-19.

In the scoring for the locals, Marvin Harris collected seven and Mike Munnerlyn got eight to lead while Doug Charest and James Arney got two each.

The loss evened the seventh grade's record to 2-2.

Things were about the same for the eighth grade as they fell to the Gattis team, 40-31.

Gattis jumped to a quick 14-9 lead in first quarter and held on to it until the third quarter when they were stymied by the eighth grade Mavericks who went ahead 25-23.

The lead was short-lived for the Mavericks as Gattis then surged ahead in the final period for 17 points and their final 40 points total. In that final period, the locals went cold and were held to only six points.

The loss took the eighth grade's record to 5 wins and two losses and the next game for the Mavericks, including all three teams, will be Jan. 8 when they host the Estacado teams from Lubbock.

Mrs. Palmer Entertains

Mrs. D. W. Palmer entertained at her home for Mrs. G. S. Solomon and a few friends.

Mrs. Solomon sang two groups of seasonal songs which included It Is No Secret (Hamblen), Christmas Story (Walsh), White Christmas (Berlin), The World Is Waiting For the Sunrise (Lockhart), and I'll Walk Beside You (Lockton).

Also You'll Never Walk Alone (Hammerstein), My Cup Runneth Over (Jones), and Goodnight My Someone (Willson).

The guests joined in singing carols and refreshments of hot tea and Christmas cookies were served by Mrs. Palmer.

Book Review Delicious Holiday Recipes Available

By Genevieve Miller

From Christian Book Store

What child or grown-up does not anticipate the holiday season with all the goodies that are expected to accompany it? Some of them, of course, are brought by Santa, but on the Advent calendars the tenth of December is the date designated as the time to begin baking the Christmas cookies. With thought of food in mind, cookbooks and recipes, new or inherited, are sure to be brought out and mulled over for inspiration.

The unusual "Catholic Cookbook" overflows with traditional feast and fastday recipes.

The Advent season is here, the Feast of St. Nicholas (Dec. 6) is past, but there is a recipe for Kletzenbrot (Austria) — bread made with dried fruits; and other recipes for Pfeffernuesse (cookies) and Marzipankartoffel and Schokoladekugeln (cookies) that are sure to tempt the palate of anyone! You don't have to pronounce it to enjoy eating it!

Various soup recipes — chiefly — are given to be made on Christmas Eve; but there are also recipes for Sturgeon with sour cream, roast capon with truffles and mole poblano (turkey casserole from Latin America).

For Epiphany, the season of enlightenment, there is "King's Cake."

Carnival — the season from Septuagesima Sunday to Ash Wednesday — features Salsiccia con peperoni from Italy and Faschingskrapfen (jelly donuts) from Austria.

The Feast of St. Michael, Archangel, September 29, is the occasion for Anitra al Cognac (branded duck). For days of fasting and abstinence there is Marseilles Fish Stew from France, Pain Dore (French Canada) and Frittata Napolitana (Neapolitan Omelet) from Italy.

For the festive holiday season and also for the casual fun get-togethers of the NOW people there is the "Fondue" book from om Gourmet International, published by Doubleday. Appetizers, beverages, entrees, crepes, pancakes, nintzes, desserts, all exciting to contemplate, all delightful to the palate! Try them for your favorite friends — or give them the cookbook!

"The Blender Cookbook" by Anne Seranne and Eileen Gaden makes it possible to make and serve literally any dish from dips to soups to roast beef to lasagne, cakes to cookies. Beverages may be taken for granted. Even the youngsters will find this method of food preparation interesting and gratifying.

"Chuck's or" was compiled and edited by the Kern County Cow Belles in California. It is a book devoted to the preparation of good beef to be served in various and tempting combinations — true western fare to please the most demanding He-man appetites.

Then, for those who love Mexican food, there is the Western Mexican Cookbook, by Alfonso C. Pain and Joe F. Carithers.

With red chili powder, tomatoes, onion, green pepper, cheese, eggs, beans, and various meats, one may serve entrees fit for an any charro. And, for dessert, try empanados, capirotada, natillas, almendrado or leche empedrada.

Have you a "leaning" to the stick-to-your-ribs meals of New England cookery? Try the recipes for creamed finnan haddie, red flannel hash, chicken fricassee, or roast turkey as given in by Lillian C. Ziegfeld and Frances H. Banta. Anadama bread, oatmeal gems, and cranberry muffins, creamed onions add variety to the menu and how do you respond to the idea of cherry slump or blueberry grunt for dessert?

"To Cook A Bachelor's Goose" by Ruth G. Stazman gives pertinent advice for catching a man with creative cooking and keeping him forever by the same means. There is a suggestion for almost every approach depending upon whether the prospect is amiable, bashful or cantankerous. No guarantees given but the mouth-watering recipes are sure to provide successful bait.

For those who have college kids or brides in the family, there is the "Original College Kid's Cookbook," which also contains menus along with the encouragement that "no brains are required!" It takes into consideration the need for specific direction and explanation and also the ever-constant lack of time required to prepare a nourishing meal for people who have to crowd 48 hours into twenty-four.

What lover of the culinary arts does not enjoy poring over an old cookbook? "The First Texas Cookbook" was first published in Houston, Texas in 1883. The "Receipts" were obtained from "the best housekeepers more

North Hereford H. D. Club Hosts Holiday Party

The home of Mrs. Auyben Hodges was the scene Thursday afternoon for a holiday party hosted by members of North Hereford Home Demonstration Club.

Following the exchange of secret pal gifts, members played games and drew names for next year's secret pals.

Refreshments of punch and coffee with cookies and candies were served to Mmes. Viola Williams, O. C. Williams, Roger Williams, W. J. Lueb, Tommy Hoffman, C. L. Whitehead, R. A. Fullwood, Clinton Ward, Otto Massey, Otto Olson and a guest Mrs. Carl Luke. They were joined after school hours by Misses Kiska and Debra Hodges.

During Holidays WTSU Calls Book Reviews

Officials at West Texas State University report that the college switchboard is closed during the Christmas "break" which began Friday with classes resuming on Monday, January 5.

Anyone wishing to contact the school for any purpose during working hours may do so by calling Tommy Bryant or "Cactus" Jack Donovan at 655-3388 in Canyon.

After working hours these men may be reached at their homes, Donovan at 655-3028 or Bryant at 373-6381.

Sluggo Willie Horton of the Detroit Tigers blasted three grand slam home runs in 1969.

Telephone Training For Students Of All Ages

She's not a teacher, she's not a student, but she is back in the classroom.

With her are a couple of thousand dollars worth of equipment, several films, booklets, posters and charts, and a wide assortment of reading materials.

She's Mrs. Johnnie Burleson, school consultant for Southwestern Bell. Her job is to provide teaching aids for local elementary and secondary schools and to show teachers how to use them.

"The telephone has a real place in the classroom — even for some of the older students," Mrs. Burleson explained, "and we have programs for all ages."

For the younger students, telephone company programs deal with the basic use of the telephone "Telezonia," for example, teaches students how to deal calls, how to practice courtesy and how to use the telephone to get help in an emergency.

Still another program, "Teletaining," is aimed at junior and senior high school classes. The program is designed to help students learn to communicate better and shows them practical applications of the telephone on the job.

In junior high school, the program is used primarily to help students improve diction, speech and use of the English language. In high school, it is used in business classes such as distributive education. Here, students get experience in using the telephone in realistic job situations — situations like handling irate or unpleasant customers.

"There are other practical applications for the telephone in the classroom," Mrs. Burleson explained. "For example, students can learn to make more efficient use of telephone in their social and school life."

In addition to the pamphlets, charts and films available to teachers, Mrs. Burleson also offers the use of a Teletainer, an electrically-powered device containing two working telephones and a control set which produces all the sounds — dial tone, busy signal and calling ring — of the real telephone.

"With the Teletainer, teachers have all the practical applications of daily telephone use at their disposal — yet under their complete control," Mrs. Burleson noted.

The School Consultant does not conduct the classroom training. She provides the materials and assistance to teachers to help youngsters learn to better use the phone.

Still another program under her supervision, is the Aids to High School Science Program which is directed to secondary physics, chemistry and biology classes. Science teachers are offered practical teaching aids developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, research and development unit of the Bell System. "Understanding Computers" is the subject of the current program.

"One reason I enjoy my work is because I'm always learning something new," said Mrs. Burleson. "That's why I enjoy working with schools. I get a chance to pass on all my new information."

BETTER QUARTERS ZANZIBAR. — The plan for a new town at Zanzibar to house 30,000 people has been approved by the First Vice-President, Mr. Abeid Karume.

The new town, which will replace the old thatched houses, will be built by the island government at a cost of 23,000,000. It will include a mosque for 4,000 people and Afro-Shirazi Party Youth League headquarters.

Greg Richards Receives College Football Letter

Greg Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Richards, 129 Ave. C, has received a football letter for the 1969 football season at Sam Houston University in Huntsville, Texas.

Richards, an animal science major, is a second team all-conference defensive back for the University's Bear Kats.

He was a member of the 1966 graduating class of Hereford High School prior to his college enrollment.

Cagers Striving To Get On Winning Road Again

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Lady Luck hasn't dropped in to visit the Hereford High basketballers frequently this season. Instead Mr. Hard Luck has been knocking at their door, much of the time with the purpose in mind to deduct a few points. It appears that the points he deducts happen to be the needed number to win a ball game.

Falling to the Dimmitt Bobcats earlier in the season, the Herd hasn't been able to get going with a ball of fire. In their next five games they were the victim of Snyder, Seminole, Phillips, and Estacado. Their single victory came over Littlefield.

In games such as the Snyder contest coach Ron Mayberry said, "We were in there all the way but we couldn't hit the basket quite enough." Marsh Pitman was the leading scorer in the game with thirteen points. Next in line was John Richard Sparks with eight. Tops in the rebound department for the Herd were Gary Lemons with four, and Sparks, Santry Rush, and Pitman with three each. The final score was 89-50.

Another losing cause for the locals resulted in a 59-52 loss to Seminole. Once again Pitman was honored as high point man, popping the next for four e e n points. Percy Mays and Pitman each rebounded four times. A heart breaking loss to Phillips by the Herd tallied the final score of 57-56. Sparks was the man of the hour this time with thirteen points and four rebounds while riding along side him was Mike Wartes with twelve points and five rebounds.

Hereford got back on their feet the next game by defeating Littlefield 68-54. Wartes netted twenty five points while Pitman rebounded nine times. Rush, Wartes, and Lemons rebounded for seven times.

Hopes and smiles fell soon after the Littlefield battle when the Estacado Matadors traveled to Hereford and stole the next show with a score of 67-60. Rush led in points with fifteen and Sparks in rebounds with fourteen.

Mayberry commented Saturday morning after the Estacado game that even after the Snyder tournament the entire team was down mentally. "We sat down and had a talk and decided to just play the games as they come. We decided we weren't going to worry about them," he said. "That's our big problem now. The boys are nervous and worried about the games.

I want to emphasize that I'm real proud of the boys and even though they are getting beat I'm not ashamed. The blame for our losing should be put on me and not them because they play just like I ask them. They're trying as hard as they can."

Mayberry feels that his team is getting good support from the students and fans. "We had the best crowd so far this season last night against Estacado. We would also like to have a good crowd at the Seminole game on December 30," he said. Seminole is the next opponent of the Herd and the game will be played in the La Plata Junior High gymnasium. The junior varsity game will begin at 6:15 with the varsity contest following.

Farm And Ranch Club Hosts Yule Luncheon

Members of the Farm And Ranch Club held a holiday luncheon and meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. W. W. Thomas.

The hostess presented the program, telling the meaning of Christmas carols and how they originated.

The serving table was decorated with a large candle arrangement surrounded by smaller individual candles.

Gifts were exchanged and the floating prize was won by Mrs. Wayne Johnson.

Others attending were Mmes Jack Weaver, W. B. Nunley, C. T. Douglas, Elton Sorrels, Phillip Miller, W. W. Gilbreath, John Hill, G. V. Hall and an associate member, Mrs. Paul Rudd.

Girls Fund Exceeds Goal

This Christmas there will be 85 happy girls in Whiteface, Texas, and Berger, Texas, because the generous people of the Texas Panhandle have made the "Girlstown Christmas Fund" a success.

District Governor Ed Flood of the Lions Clubs in District 2-T1 announced today that this project sponsored by the Lions Clubs to solicit public support for Girlstown has exceeded its goal.

Each of these girls will receive a new coat and pair of shoes valued at $40.00 and will be permitted to make their own selection.

The excess money received will be deposited in a bank and used toward the Girlstown Christmas Fund of 1970.

Ed Flood, in behalf of the Lions, expresses his sincere thanks to all the radio, television and newspaper media who covered the project and to all those who contributed to make some girl more fortunate this Christmas.

FIRST AGRICULTURAL CHAPLAIN

LINCOLN, England - Several dioceses of the Church of England now have industrial chaplains, but Bishop Kenneth Riches of Lincoln is the first to appoint an agricultural chaplain to work exclusively among farmers. The Rev. Alan Taylor, 36, vicar of Morton, near Gainsborough, has been given the job. He is to build up contacts with farmers' clubs, besides keeping clergy and laity of the diocese informed of farm problems in the mainly agricultural area.

Letter To The Editor

Editor:
All of us are aware of the fact that the underground water in our area is being depleted. We hate to admit this, but we know it is true, and further, we can foresee the day coming when our marvelous economy can no longer be supported, because it depends ultimately on our cattle and agriculture, which depend on closely-grown field crops, which depend on water, and so far our only dependable source of water is this underground supply we are rapidly depleting.

If we can bring in imported water, not only will we be able to maintain our extraordinary economy, but we will have the capacity to expand it even further. Certainly it is easy to realize the importance of imported water.

Another thing we all realize is that if we are going to get imported water, we will have to work for it, and that means ALL of us — a mass of people and a lot of money. Plainly, it's politics, and you know the competition we face in Congress — urban renewal programs, for example.

Clemson and North Carolina, two Atlantic Coast Conference members, figure to have some good football talent next season. Both schools turned in 5-0 freshman football records during 1969.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Silencing the Liar

Mother-in-law trouble sent Fred's young wife into court.

"That horrid woman has been telling my Fred some terrible tales about me," she complained. "I want a stop order against these lies. I want an injunction to keep her quiet from now on."

But the court refused to issue such an order. The judge said the wife would have to let the mother-in-law do her talking—and then sue her for defamation of character.

To the young woman, the judge's advice was scant comfort. And to anyone facing vilification by another person, an ounce of prevention is surely better than a pound of cure.

Yet, as a rule, courts will not forbid a falsehood in advance—mainly for fear of stifling the free speech guaranteed by the Constitution. The law's usual remedy, instead, is to let the lie come out in the open, and then make the liar suffer the consequences.

This applies not only to private disputes, as in the case of Fred's wife, but to public disputes as well. For example:

A man fired from a charitable organization began publicly accusing its officials of misconduct. The organization went to court for a stop order, on the ground that the accusations were false—and were sullied its good name.

But again the court refused to interfere, saying the organization would have to follow the slower path of a damage suit for defamation.

Nevertheless, a stop order may be used when, in addition to the lie itself, there is some extra element of financial injury—something more than mere personal discomfort. Thus:

A motorist, dissatisfied with his car, demanded a new one from a dealer near his home—even though he had bought the car somewhere else. When the dealer said no, the motorist painted a large white elephant on each side of his car and began cruising around near the dealer's showroom.

This time, when the auto dealer went to court, the judge did issue a stop order against the motorist. Not only was his "white elephant" message deceiving, said the court, but it also was an effort to force a new car out of the dealer by a sort of blackmail.

This release explains we hope, how the Deaf Smith County unit of Water, Inc. would be organized. We want to emphasize that Deaf Smith County Water Association is not being either dissolved or in any way giving up any of its sovereignty and its responsibility to the people of this county.

We know from past experience that we must have a strong local water group to look after the interests of this and surrounding counties. Also, we must work together with Water, Inc., which represents the entire area hoping to secure water. The latter reason is why we are forming the Water, Inc. county unit. The former reason is why we know it is true, and further, we ter association which is not subservient to rules and directives of Water, Inc. We can remember that not very long ago, we were excluded from the so-called "First Phase" of water import delivery, and that it was through the effort exerted by Deaf Smith County Water Association that our county and surrounding counties got included. The most important thing to emphasize is the group effort of this entire area. Water, Inc. is set up to provide this effort, so we must work with Water, Inc., and we must help to guide Water, Inc. in the direction we believe to be reasonable.

At the same time, we had better maintain the strength of Deaf Smith County Water Association, and all counties in the area should have their own county water associations for their own benefit.

Is it worth $10 a year for you to be a member of your county water association? We have practically no funds at this time, and there is a lot of work we need to do right now to maintain our local strength and to do our part in assisting Water, Inc. to take the proper direction. If you are not a current member, would you send us a check made payable to "DSC Water Assn." Dues are deductible. Yours for more water, The Officers of DSCWA: President: Deniz Pulliam Vice-President: W. P. Aze Secy./Treasurer: Joe Hodges Area Director: R. C. Godwin

IRS News

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — When will I get the forms I need to file my 1968 income tax return?

A — Taxpayers will receive their forms by mail around the 1st of the year. Extra copies of the forms and instructions will be available at most local banks and post offices and all IRS offices in January for those needing them.

Note that in the forms package you will receive in the mail are several additional forms besides the basic one-page Form 1040. These are provided for your convenience in case you need them.

We estimate that 31 million taxpayers will only need the one-page Form 1040, while 22 million other taxpayers will need to attach only one additional form.

Q — How do I go about raising my estimated tax declaration? The last few months business was better than I expected.

A — The adjustment can be figured on the worksheet you used to compute your initial estimated tax declaration and payment. If you have misplaced your copy, contact your local IRS office.

When you make the adjustment in your estimated tax liability, don't forget that the surcharge rate is 10 percent for 1968. The worksheet shows the surcharge rate as 5 percent, which was accurate when the forms were printed a year ago. After you have recomputed your estimate, your January 15 installment payment should be made for the increased amount.

Q — I'm having some dental work done before the end of the year. Can I deduct this as a medical expense on my 1968 return?

A — Items are generally deductible in the year they are paid. If you pay these dental expenses in 1968, then they are deductible on your 1968 tax return.

Q — Is the cost of fixing up the barn on my farm deductible?

A — Repair and maintenance to buildings and equipment used in farming are deductible farm business expenses. However, when expenses of this nature materially add to the value of the property or appreciably extend its life, they must be capitalized.

For example, if you repair the roof of your barn, the expense is deductible. If you replace the roof, the cost must be capitalized.

Q — If a baby is born in December, can the parents still claim the full $600 dependency exemption?

A — Yes, the full $600 exemption may be claimed for a child born in December, as long as the dependency tests are met. The $600 exemption is not pro-rated.

Q — I'm going to England soon and will stay several months. What should I do about my tax return?

A — The IRS has several offices overseas to help taxpayers, one of them in London. If you do not receive your 1968 return forms before you leave, the London office will be able to furnish them.

Keep in mind that taxpayers out of the country April 15, have an automatic extension until June 15, to file their returns. For additional information, send a post card to your District Director and ask for a copy of Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens Abroad.

BEES AMIVING

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — the buzzing noise in Mrs. R. F. Jones's disused kitchen chimney had been going on for years. It was only when she saw and heard the terrified screams of a butcher's deliveryman that she decided to do something about it. Bee keeper Raymond McDonald was called in. He discovered an outside bee hive in the chimney with honey combs up to 7 feet 6 inches long. "In 22 years of experience with bees, I have never seen combs as long as these. This could not be between 80 and 90 pounds of honey," he said.

Ken Weinbel is making his bow this season as Dartmouth's indoor track coach. He coached outdoor track and cross country in 1968.

Winning Speeches In VFW Contest

Editor's Note: Printed below are the second and third place winners in the VFW's Voice of Democracy essay contest announced Monday night. The first place winning essay, written by Steve Ray, was printed in the Thursday Brand.

The second place winning essay was written by 16-year-old David Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas. He is a junior student at Hereford High School and was presented a Voice of Democracy medal and patch with $10 cash.

"FREEDOM'S CHALLENGE"

By DAVID THOMAS

Citizens throughout the United States love, cherish, and value the concept of freedom. Americans treasure succinct, democratic freedoms, such as freedom of the press, freedom of religion, the right to petition, freedom of speech, the right to a trial by jury, and other clauses assuring specific liberties in the Constitution's Bill of Rights. The citizenry of our nation also strongly reveres the freedom of choice.

Accompanying this philosophy of pleasant and likable living is a powerful challenge — the challenge to defend and maintain a freedom. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes emphasized this as he stated, "Failure to defend the civil liberties of the least among us imperils the liberties of us all." We need to be ever aware of forces attempting to destroy our precious heritage, for as John Cunran declared in 1790, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." It is my conviction that through three essential means this challenge may be met.

Having a complete knowledge of current events is a prime requisite for defending our country's freedom. As thirteen colonies developed into a unified nation, the greatest menace to personal liberty was tyranny of government. Forefathers like Samuel B. Adams, Patrick Henry, and George Washington recognized this problem and were unafraid to rightfully revolt against King George III in England. Citizens need to be particularly alert during times of war or national crisis. In 1918, a Sedition

The famed French philosopher Voltaire once remarked, "I disagree entirely with everything you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." Voltaire obviously supports my contention that a widespread tolerance of differing opinions is vital in meeting the aforementioned challenge. Whenever filibusters cease to exist in Congress, whenever the loyal opposition falls, after a lengthy period of time, to secure a man at the residence of 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, our nation founded on democratic ideals is in perilous danger of forfeiting these fundamental cornerstones of individual freedom. Justice Holmes commented that "if there is any principle of the Constitution calls for attachment than any other, it is the principle of free thought — not free thought for those that agree with us, but freedom for the thought for those that agree with us, but freedom for the thought that we hate."

As a final method for defending freedom, I believe that preparing oneself to be a more effective citizen, and one that is worthy of the heritage bequeathed to him by his founding forefathers, is most necessary.

Participation in literary and oratorical contests sponsored by the Freedom's Foundation would be an excellent start towards a achieving this goal. A thorough knowledge of the formation of our government and its complex operations would also prove valuable in becoming a more worthwhile citizen of the United States.

This freedom's ultimate challenge, the opportunity and responsibility to defend and maintain it, may be met completely through a complete knowledge of current events, a widespread tolerance of differing opinions, and preparation for one to become a more effective citizen for our nation. As the heirs of a great and tremendous legacy, all Americans should have as a watchword, "Let Freedom Ring."

The third place essay winner in the contest sponsored by the VFW was written by 15-year-old Alicia Hubble who is a sophomore at Hereford High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hubble, 425 Ave. J. She received a Voice of Democracy medal and patch with $5 cash.

"FREEDOM'S CHALLENGE"

By ALICIA HUBBLE

Freedom's challenge is a goal-directed sense of responsibility and a choice of action in pursuit of one's belief. Possession of many privileges is a result of being a citizen of the United States. Numerous possibilities and opportunities exist regarding the outcome of freedom's challenge. To eventually realize a desired purpose, an analysis of forms of action is necessary.

In the beginning, when mankind first wandered the earth, the law of nature was the only law. He lived in a state of pure nature. This complete freedom challenged him to survive, for only by his own means could he provide for his existence. He must survive, for this is the law, this is the law of nature.

Then he formed villages, for survival would be much more possible in a group. This was the ideal situation for him. But then human nature took its course. Men got greedy and started stealing, for the law was survival. There was no other law that said he could not take what did not belong to him. But the person who was stolen from realized this could never be the only law. There must be organization, there must be a government.

Governments were formed,

want. We can travel and see the magnificence and beauty of our great country. This freedom challenges us to keep our country magnificent and beautiful. We have the freedom to attend public schools and to choose our own religion so that we may pursue the greatest happiness. This freedom challenges us to grasp every thread of knowledge known to man. It challenges us to reach for our highest goals, and to strive for perfection. It challenges us to search for truths, and to accept what we cannot change. Freedom gives us the right to explore the vast domain of the unknown, and challenges us to, truly, reach the unreachable star.

This generation holds the leadership of tomorrow. We must strive to fulfill the hopes and ambitions of today, so that the generations before us will not have labored and suffered in vain, and so that the generations after us, will have something to look forward to.

PRAY TO WIN
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa — South Africans have always admitted rugby, the national sport, is almost a national religion. Lately, school teams in the outback Karoo region of Cape Province have taken to praying before they start their games. In a letter to a local newspaper, a commercial traveller said he first noted this when he saw one platteland (rural) fifteen going into a huddle before the match. He saw their lips moving and asked what was going on. "We are praying for victory," the captain replied. "We also find that when we pray before a match it becomes a better game and there is never any fighting."

ABC

What is the A.B.C.?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."

"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you:

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers.

Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulations of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insignia is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report published by ABC — the report literally tells us what our circulation is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinions.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in the quality and quantity of our circulation audience — the audience for your advertising messages.

Service Medal Awarded Local Youth In Vietnam

Twenty year old Richard L. Rickman has received the Navy Achievement Award (With Combat "V") from the Secretary of the Navy for heroic achievement on October 28, 1968. He is presently at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman of Austin Road after eighteen months active duty in Vietnam.

Rickman will be in Hereford one week before reporting to Albany, Georgia, on January 4.

He attended local schools prior to joining the Marine Corps in June of 1967.

The citation for his award read as follows:

"While serving as a Tank Mechanic with the First Tank Battalion, First Marine Division in connection with operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam, Lance Corporal Rickman performed his duties in an exemplary manner. On 28 October 1968, he was assigned to a team directed into the area of Hill 52 in Quang Na Province for the purpose of recovering a tank which was submerged near the banks of the Vu Gia River. Efforts to recover the vehicle on the first day were thwarted by the necessity of working in chest deep water without the aid of artificial breathing apparatus and the breakage of the main winch cable. Returning to the area on the following day, despite the increased possibility of North Vietnamese Army elements operating in the area, Lance Corporal Rickman once again set about attempting to recover the tank.

IRS News

Texas has community property laws and married couples living here who plan to file separate Federal income tax returns this year should find the free IRS publication, "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax," especially helpful. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said today.

Campbell said the IRS booklet features an illustrated worksheet showing the different treatment of income and deductions for a husband and wife filing a joint return as compared to separate returns.

In a community property state, the distinctions between what is community property or income and what is separate property or income become important when a couple files separate returns.

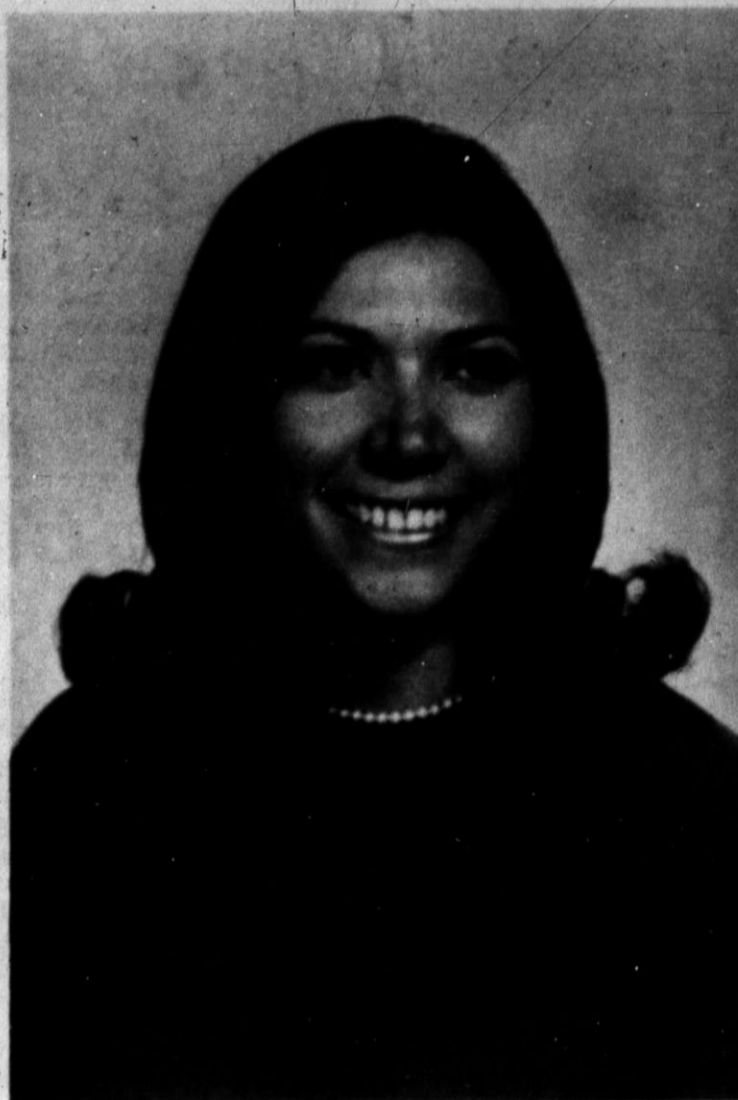

Generally, each spouse must take into account half of the community income and deductions and all his separate income and deductions to determine the proper tax on separate returns.

Campbell said taxpayers may obtain the publication, "Community Property and the Federal Income Tax," Publication 555, by sending a post card to Supply, Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

A 300-year-old oak in Hilt on Park, Wilmington, N. C., has the greatest limb spread of all known trees in the nation decorated for Christmas. Branches on the 99-foot tall tree span 110 feet. During the holidays it is festooned with 7,000 colored lights and six tons of Spanish moss.

Evilan Mercado, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Mercado of Waukegan, Ill., are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Torres of Garden City. Vows will be exchanged in the First Baptist Church of Sterling City. Miss Torres, a graduate of Garden City High School, is a Senior student at West Texas State University. Her fiance, a graduate of a Waukegan high school, is stationed with the U. S. Air Force at Beale Air Force Base in California.

Social Security

Q — I have just received a letter from my physician. He says that he will not accept assignment on the bills of Medicare patients in the future. Can he legally do this?

A — Yes. There are three ways for payment of doctor bills covered by Medicare. They are: (1) A doctor who is willing to accept assignment can make a claim and be paid directly. In that case, the patient would be responsible for paying the deductible plus 20 percent of the remainder to the doctor. This method is subject to the choice of the doctor; he is not required to accept assignment; (2) you may pay the bill, get an itemized receipt, and submit your own claim for reimbursement; (3) you may submit an unpaid itemized bill with your Medicare claim. When payment is received, you can pay the doctor.

Q — I have been getting my social security retirement checks for over two years. I have been offered a part-time job would like to know if I still have to pay the social security tax

A — Yes, you do. If you are working in covered employment under social security, you pay the social security tax regardless of your age and whether or not you are already receiving social security benefits.

Q — I have been receiving chiropractic treatments. Are those services covered by Medicare?

A — No, chiropractic services are not covered under the Medicare program.

Who is this lady?

A. Little Orphan Annie.
B. The Jolly Green Giantess.
C. The Statue of Liberty.
D. Mae West.

If you picked anything other than C, well, you're in a whole lot of trouble.

Sure, you probably picked the Statue of Liberty. Everybody knows who she is and what she stands for.

Or do they? It's amazing how many of us take this proud lady of the New York Harbor for granted.

We should know that her proper name is "Liberty Enlightening the World." That she symbolizes the triumph of freedom over tyranny. That she is a declaration of our independence.

Of course, we need more than statues to remind us of our freedom. We need action, by each and every one of us.

And that's where U. S. Savings Bonds come in. They help preserve that thing called freedom.

They help make this country of ours economically stronger to tackle some of the problems that face us.

And, buying Savings Bonds can be easy and automatic. All you have to do is join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. And then you can sit back and forget 'em while the money piles up.

So think about the freedoms we enjoy. And think about U. S. Savings Bonds as a way to keep us free.

As for Miss Liberty, well, when you're in New York go up and see her sometime.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Senator Tower Reviews Senates Achievements

The following is the text of Senator Tower's weekly report to Texans:

This will be my last report to Texans this year and I would like to take this opportunity to look back over 1969 and review some of the Senate's achievements which I believe most significant.

I believe the single most significant Senate action this year was our approval of the Safeguard Anti-Ballistic Missile System. Installation of the ABM system will protect our land-based nuclear deterrent force. Horrible as it is to contemplate, this nation's capability to devastate any aggressor nation which delivers nuclear attack upon us, does provide us with high degree of assurance that such an aggressor nation will refrain from launching any such attack. It may well be that our deterrent capability has already averted holocaust or that it may do so in the near future. This is why I believe it is crucial that we maintain our deterrence and that we protect it against any possible nuclear attack designed to neutralize it.

Because of my belief, I did everything within my power this year to assure Congressional approval of the Safeguard ABM system and to obtain funds with which to begin its installation. I was honored to have been asked to lead those of my party who supported ABM during the Senate debate on the authorization measure and I was gratified that we were successful on this significant though controversial matter.

Another significant action of Congress this year is that which enabled the Administration to put into effect an equitable and fair method of random selection of our young men for selective military service.

Congress is expected to consider comprehensive revision of our military draft laws next year; but this year's action enabled the President to institute by executive order all of the needed changes.

I was particularly pleased that the President is instituting a youngest first system which will no longer require our young men to be subject to the whims of selective service for seven long years. The uncertainty of military service over such a long period of time can frustrate a young man's best laid plans for his future.

I have worked for a youngest first selection system, similar to the one which the President is instituting, since I first introduced legislation in this regard on June 3rd of 1968, over a year and a half ago.

I am confident that any comprehensive draft reform legislation which Congress passes next year will include this youngest first concept. If Congress fails to pass draft reform legislation, however, our young men will still be eligible for selective service for only a 12-month period effective in 1972.

Now let me turn to the recent tax bill passed by the Senate. I voted against final passage of the bill because I felt that overall, the bill was extremely inflationary. I felt that the tax reductions, and the increase in social security which the bill was amended to provide, would actually soon be eaten up by the rising living costs which the legislation would foster. I felt that the apparent tax relief included in the bill as only illusory and that in the long run, the bill would spawn a new round of inflation and that the result would be an actual loss in the amount of goods and services and we as individuals would be able to purchase with our hardearned money.

There were however a few aspects of the tax bill which I had strongly supported and which I believe are needed. For example, I co-sponsored an amendment which would allow a tax credit of up to $325 for any taxpayer paying tuition and fees of a student at any college or university. This measure would not only greatly benefit the individual taxpayer suffering the financial burden of sending his children through college; but it would also constitute the channeling of funds into educational facilities without bureaucratic interference and red tape.

Another significant piece of legislation passed by the Senate this year was the Housing Act of 1969. As ranking Republican of the Senate's Housing and Urban Affairs subcommittee, I played a part in the formulation of that legislation. I believe that it was important that the Department of Housing and Urban Development would not be barred from the utilization of new technology being developed in the housing industry in the construction of federally-assisted, good quality, low cost housing. Only this past week HUD announced the finalists in a nationwide competition the department has been sponsoring designed to encourage the housing industry to come up with new and imaginative innovations which will facilitate the construction of a large amount of good-standard housing which is needed throughout our nation. This competition is called "Operation Breakthrough." I believe it is vital that the new technology encouraged by "Operation Breakthrough" actually be utilized and that is why I offered my amendment.

There has been other achievements of this Congress, but I feel that the ones I have mentioned here are of particular importance.

I will resume my weekly reports to Texans next year shortly after the Senate reconvenes from its brief Holiday recess.

But, until that time, this is your United States Senator, John Tower, urging you all to drive safely over the holiday season and wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and a very Happy and productive New Year.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

The good tax folks are concerned over the anxiety expressed by some taxpayers, that the new red, white and blue tax form makes life harder for the little 1040A card form user. As most of you know, Internal Revenue punched the 1040A card plum out of existence this year and gave taxpayers more space and a better arrangement on an improved form 1040, to claim all of their deductions and credits.

A check by IRS showed that there were just too many cases of little taxpayers cheating themselves by filing a little card form instead of using one page of the form 1040. For more years than we like to remember we have been advising you to read instructions and save yourself some money. This year you don't have any choice — you'll have to read the instructions, but you'll still find that it's beneficial, just like we told you it was about 10 years ago.

Dawn Recipes

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

The Home Demonstration clubs some time during the fall and winter have an achievement event. The Dawn Home Demonstration Club has a work day at the Community Center for making candy. Each club member demonstrates the making of her favorite candy or a new recipe. Here are some of the choice recipes that were made.

PINEAPPLE FUDGE

Mrs. T. J. Carter

- 3 C. sugar
- 1/2 C. drained crushed pineapple
- 2 T. butter
- 1 C. walnuts
- 1 T. light corn syrup
- 1/2 C. heavy cream
- 1/2 t. vanilla

Combine sugar, syrup, pineapple and cream in well-buttered heavy saucepan. Bring to a boil over low heat, stirring occasionally, until candy reaches soft-ball stage (236 degrees). Remove from heat; add butter. Do not stir. Cool until saucepan feels lukewarm. Add vanilla; beat until candy begins to thicken. Beat in nuts; pour candy into buttered 8x8x2 pan. Cool and cut. Makes 36 pieces.

LAZELLE'S CHOCOLATE LOG

Mrs. H. D. Fowler

- 1 pound box powdered sugar
- 1 C. chopped pecans

- 1 C. graham crackers
- 1 C. melted butter
- 1 C. flaked coconut
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/2 C. crunchy peanut butter

Dip: 2 blocks paraffin 1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate chips

Mix sugar, coconut, pecans, vanilla, cracker crumbs into peanut butter. Blend in melted butter. Shape into 2 x 1/2 inch logs. Dip into melted chocolate.

NUT ROLL

Mrs. Leroy Johnson

- 1-8 ounce chocolate chips
- One-third C. sweetened condensed milk
- 1/2 t. vanilla

Melt chips, add milk and nuts. Chill. Roll and mark with fork and roll in beaten egg whites. Press nuts on sides. Chill.

PEANUT CANDY CUPS

Mrs. Leroy Johnson

- 1 box powdered sugar
- 3 sticks butter
- 12 ounce peanut butter

Cream together. Press into paper candy cups or roll into balls. Dip in chocolate or caramel.

QUICK PENUCHE FROSTING

Mrs. Rea Cox

- Mix in sauce pan:
- 2 C. brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/2 C. butter

1/2 C. Top milk
1/4 t. salt
Stir over low heat until thoroughly blended. Then stir over high heat until mixture boils. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Beat until cold and good spreading consistency. Optional: 1 t. vanilla and 1/2 C. chopped nuts. Good frosting for 2 layer cake. This can be cooked longer and used for candy.

MAGIC COOKIE BARS

Mrs. Wallace Shelton

- 1/2 C. butter or margarine
- 1 C. walnuts, chopped
- 1 One-third C (3/4 oz) flaked coconut
- 1 1/2 C. sweetened condensed milk

1 1/2 C. graham cracker crumbs, 1 C. (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate or butterscotch morsels

Pour melted butter onto the bottom of a 13x9x2 inch pan. Sprinkle crumbs evenly over melted butter. Sprinkle chopped nuts evenly over crumbs. Scatter chocolate morsels over nuts. Sprinkle coconut evenly over morsels. Pour sweetened condensed milk evenly over coconut. Bake in moderate oven (35 degrees for 25 minutes or until lightly browned on top. Cool in pan 15 minutes, cut into bars.

Local Resident Attends Seminar

Gayle McCutchen, 836 Broadway, recently attended a special seminar held on the campus of Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Oklahoma. The University hosted some 400 guests at the invitational seminar held November 28-30. Featured speakers were President Oral Roberts and several of the ORU faculty members.

The seminar, one of a series held on the ORU campus during the year, brings an estimated 3,000 visitors to the campus which has been termed "space age" by many of the guests who view it for the first time.

During the seminar the guests were introduced to the physical facilities, educational media and philosophy of the school, which is in its fifth year of operation with an enrollment of over 600. The University is well-known in the academic circles for its innovations in the field of electronic teaching methods. It is the first institution of higher learning to install a complete audio-visual information-retrieval system. The 23 million dollar campus is located on a 420-acre tract in suburban Tulsa.

Respond!

Whether you're a prize-winning cook or a beginner still having trouble with fundamental sauces, your cooking will respond to a gas range. And, your family will love you for it.

The real secret of better cooking is fast, accurate heat control. And nine out of 10 professional chefs agree that only a gas range gives you the control needed for gourmet meals... that's why so many of them use gas.

A gas range gives you an infinite number of temperature settings, not just a few pre-set push buttons. You can see the blue flame, adjust it, always know how much heat you're getting. And, when you turn on a gas range the flame is there... no waiting for warm-up. Turn it off and the flame and the heat disappear immediately. Precision control for every phase of top-of-range cooking.

There are lots of extras you can get with a gas range, too. Like high-speed infrared broilers, the Burner-with-a-Brain that makes every pot and pan an automatic appliance, automatic controls that start and stop ovens at preselected times and hold food at serving temperature without over cooking, and ovens that clean themselves. All these things to give you greater kitchen freedom.

The fact is that a gas flame cooks better than an electric coil, and costs less too. So, whether you're a prize-winning cook or a beginner, respond to a gas range and your family will respond to you. See your gas appliance dealer.

Range Management

The wise use of range and pasture involves more than actual grazing. It also includes rest of the desirable grasses when seed is being produced and plant food is being stored. This is a must for maximum live-stock production.

Mechanical or chemical removal of weedy plants — especially woody plants — in addition to proper grazing and frequent rest periods may be desirable if the range is in poor or fair condition. Removal of these woody plants makes more moisture and nutrients available for the better forage plants.

Such chemical treatment has been carried out on the Mrs. N. A. Brown and Sons' ranch located 28 miles west of Hereford, near Bootleg Corner. Through the Great Plains Conservation Program, the Browns did some aerial spraying on one pasture which was badly infested with yucca. Since yucca is not edible for livestock, it was giving the more desirable grasses competition. The spraying was done last spring while the yucca was in bloom. After spraying, the pasture was deferred from grazing for one complete growing season. This allowed the better grasses to grow with vigor and helped to get a better kill on the yucca. The unwanted invaders such as the yucca were not allowing the good grasses to reseed themselves.

Getting rid of undesirable plants of course is only one of several things to be carried out in good grazing management. Another item is understanding how grass grows. It takes grass to grow grass. If more than half the forage is grazed off in a season, the rancher is taking a very serious risk. When this is done, the undesirable plants or invaders usually will come in. Also, overgrazing causes shallow roots causing the pasture to get in very poor condition during a drought.

Other practices needed in good management are limiting the number of grazing animals to the productive capacity of the pasture and rotation of animals. Moving cattle to other pastures, to the feedlot, or to market during periods of below normal moisture when grass plants are in danger, is a very necessary practice in good grazing management. Uniform grazing by proper placement of salt, water, and feed and fencing are other necessary practices.

Good range and pasture grasses pay off in better production and in dollars. Soil and water provides not only better vegetation for grazing animals, but protection and improvement of the land.

Baptist Group Is Entertained

The extension department workers of the First Baptist Church were entertained with a Christmas social Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jeff Robertson.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Sank Ramey and she led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Refreshments were served from a holiday decorated table by Mrs. Frank Ball. Others attending were Meses. Minnie Robertson, Blanch Moseley, W. W. Hill, Louie Olson, Robert Wagner, Abe Martin, R. E. Caddell and Mr. Ball.

Unemployment Tax To Drop Again In 1970

Almost all taxes go up these days, but the State unemployment insurance tax paid by Texas employers will go down again in 1970, for the third straight year, according to Commissioner W. S. Birdwell, Jr., Employer Representative on the Texas Employment Commission. Birdwell shares Commission membership with Mrs. Nancy Sayers, Chairman and Public Relations, Worker Representative. "This means that the tax rate of these employers will be reduced by 1.2 percentage points from the calculated experience rate on which the tax is based," says Birdwell. The decreased rates become effective January 1, 1970.

A statute provides that whenever the amount in the Unemployment Compensation Fund exceeds $300 million on any October 1 computation date, there is a reduction in the calculated experience rate.

On October 1, 1969 the Trust Fund total was slightly more than $355 million. It is estimated that the payroll tax paid by the Texas employers in 1970 will be about $23 million less than last year in which the Fund was less than $300 million — 1967.

Not all employers will benefit from the reduction. About 65 percent of them have already earned the minimum 0.1 percent rate because of their experience, but some 23,000 firms will pay a smaller payroll tax because of this factor. With the reduction in 1970, over 90 percent of all covered employers in Texas will pay the minimum rate of 0.1 percent.

There was a similar 0.3 percent reduction in the tax in 1969, and a reduction of 0.4 percent in 1968. The normal rate variation is from .01 percent to 2.7 percent.

The overall average tax rate for unemployment insurance paid by employers in Texas is about half the average for all states.

Each Texas employer will receive his individual tax rate about January 20, 1970.

PAPA PLAYS AT 31

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — Offensive guard Donald Abbott of New Mexico State is a bit upset about those who claim to be the oldest major college player.

Abbott, a 5-foot-9 212-pound senior from Anaheim, Calif., is 31 and the father of three children. They call him "Papa Aggie" and he is only six months younger than head coach Jim Wood.

Local Residents Attend Seminar

Several persons from Hereford were among those who attended a special seminar held on the campus of Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla. The University hosted some 400 guests at the invitational seminar held Nov. 28-30. Featured speakers were President Oral Roberts and several of the ORU faculty members.

Those from Hereford attending included Dianne London, 306 Western; Rhonda Fanning, 707 Irving; David Fanning, 707 Irving and Nova J. Goodin, 800 Union St.

The seminar, one of a series held on the ORU campus during the year, brings an estimated 3,000 visitors to the campus. The seminars are directed towards laymen, ministers and youth. In addition to the seminar visitors, some 30,000 additional people register annually for tours of the campus which has been termed "space age" by many of the guests who view it for the first time.

During the seminar the guests were introduced to the physical facilities, educational media and philosophy of the school, which is in its fifth year of operation with an enrollment of over 800. ## Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I am a World War I veteran. Am I eligible for a GI loan?

A — No, but any person who served on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States for not less than 90 days and was released or discharged under conditions other than dishonorable is eligible for a special type loan insured by FHA. Ask the VA about a "Certificate of Veteran's Status."

Q — I have been told that a veteran with a service-connected disability can apply for $10,000 worth of National Service Life Insurance. Is this true? A veteran with the service-connected disability must have been separated after April 24, 1951, and must apply within one year of the date that the VA informs needed disability.

Q — I receive a pension from the VA for nonservice-connected disabilities under the old or protected pension law. When I die, will my wife also be paid under the old law?

A — No. The surviving widow will have to apply for pension at the time of your death under the pension law in effect at that time.

Q — I enlisted in the Air Force in 1964 and served four years. I was separated honorably in October 1968. Am I entitled to 48 months of educational assistance?

A — No, unless you are, or were, also entitled to educational assistance under another VA law. In that case, you may receive a combined total of up to 48 months. Otherwise, your maximum entitlement is 36 months of educational assistance.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

Social Security

In the 26-county Panhandle area of Texas, 1825 disabled workers and their 1546 dependent wives and children received over a quarter of a million dollars in monthly social security checks as of the end of 1968, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Nearly everyone who works regularly in employment covered by social security is protected by this part of the law. Workers disabled before age 24 need credit for only 1 1/2 years of covered work in the 3-year period before onset of disability. Workers disabled at age 31 or later must be fully insured and have credit for 5 years of covered work in the last 10 years ending with the disability. Payments are computed just as though the worker had reached age 65 at time of onset.

When the disabled worker reaches age 65, his benefits are paid from the retirement fund without interruption. Death terminates the disability benefits, with possible survivor's payments due dependents.

The disability payments to the worker and his dependents stop when the disabling condition ends or the worker returns to work in spite of his condition. Social security continues the checks for a time when notified of recovery or return to work to be sure the worker is able to work. It is the responsibility of the worker to notify social security of recovery or return to work.

The Amarillo office will send a free booklet explaining disability benefits upon request. The office is located at 1606 Adams Street, telephone no. is 376-5151; office hours are from 8:15 am to 4:30 pm, Monday thru Friday.

Watch It Grow.....

The newly created Potter-Randall Regional Planning Commission is proving to be quite popular with officials in the two counties, not because of the merit of the organization apparently, but because it promises to supply a haven for worn-out politicians who envision an easy job and a substantial salary long after the voters have kicked them out of their respective offices.

The "education" process has already begun with the members of the nefarious committee studiously considering the need for a full time executive head. The "talk" will continue for a few months yet — probably until the political winds of next year's elections begin to blow and there has been time to determine which committee member may not be getting the favorable breeze of encouragement need to assure re-election.

If the usual prevails, that member of the committee will see an "opportunity to serve his neighbors" and will graciously accept the post of director of the planning committee at a sizable salary. Thus, the poor tax payer will be saddled with another public servant, who really serves only himself and certainly not the public. Of course that's only the beginning. As the group is able to secure additional funds, squeezed out of the tax paying public, there will surely be need for an assistant director and a staff of aides. Like a cancer, the organization will continue to grow.

And all this will be done without the approval of the people who pay the bills, for alas, the poor tax payer will not have an opportunity to vote on the need for a regional planning commission. Nor will he have anything to say about its functions. Big brother knows best. Six counties have now joined the organization and we can only assume that it will continue to grow. No organization ever votes itself out of existence just because it has no real reason to exist. That's wishful thinking.

Fortunately, the city and county officials locally have shown no interest in joining. But then, we have a little different type official here than in many areas. The local city council is composed of a group of young and successful business men, presided over by an energetic mayor whose business experience belie his youth. All serve for a token fee, and all could better use the time to further their own businesses were it not for a desire to serve and it is obvious also that none are interested in building a political base for future use. They serve out of a sincere desire to better the community in which they live and that is an attribute that's becoming hard to find in our fast moving, modern society.

On the county level, we are most fortunate to have a commissioner court of successful community leaders, headed by a county judge who has a proven record of success in the business world and who has a sincere respect for the trust the citizens of Deaf Smith County vested in him when they elected him to office.

Too often, the job of county judge goes to some down-and-out attorney who is either too lazy or too dumb to make his way in private practice — or worse — to good old "John Q. Bankrupt" who sure needs a job. Unfortunately, regional planning committees and other "pork barrel" parasite groups living out of the tax coffers have their beginning with such official bodies — the "can't do" looking for a soft spot to retire on the public payroll. It's sad but too often true.

Now watch the Potter-Randall group. It appears to be another of the usual.

Politics Of The Street Could Lead To Chaos

By encouraging the growth of the "politics of the street" certain Democratic senators are helping create a climate that could lead not only to violence but a period of unprecedented chaos in the federal government. They, in effect, are attempting to say that "anything goes," in the drive to force President Nixon to order an immediate pullout of all United States troops from South Vietnam.

They have vowed to give the President no respite from their daily attacks on him personally and on the war. They openly encourage the planners of the next national anti-war marches Nov. 13 and Nov. 14. They constantly feed information to news media that undermines the President's effort to bring about an orderly, honorable end to the war.

Thus the pattern for violent confrontation is being set, just as it was before the riot in Watts and in other major American cities, as radical and lawless group in the civil rights movement were encouraged to ignore the law. Do these Democratic senators, who are gleefully tearing Mr. Nixon and the war effort apart, fully realize the implications of their actions. They are pushing the nation toward an era where dissent is cast aside in favor of government by mob pressure.

But if "politics of the street" become the order of the day, there will be other marches of those with opposing views. And then marches in which opposing sides battle it out in the streets. For the precedent will have been set. No one can say only those who oppose the war or oppose President Nixon can march. There will be no stopping the Minutemen, the Students for a Democratic Society, the Ku Klux Klan, the Socialist Workers Party, the American Communist Party, the American Fascist Party, or any of thousands of groups from mobilizing for marches, if this is the way the Senators say that the vital issue of the nation are to be decided.

If this is to be the criterion, members of Congress might be obliged to call for a mobilization of supporters on every crucial issue, and then vote for the side able to mobilize and lead the biggest show of force in the streets. The precedent for "no holds barred" attacks on the President also is being set. If the present conduct of accepted practice, then no President from now on can expect anything but unrelieved attacks and insults by the opposition party from the day he enters office.

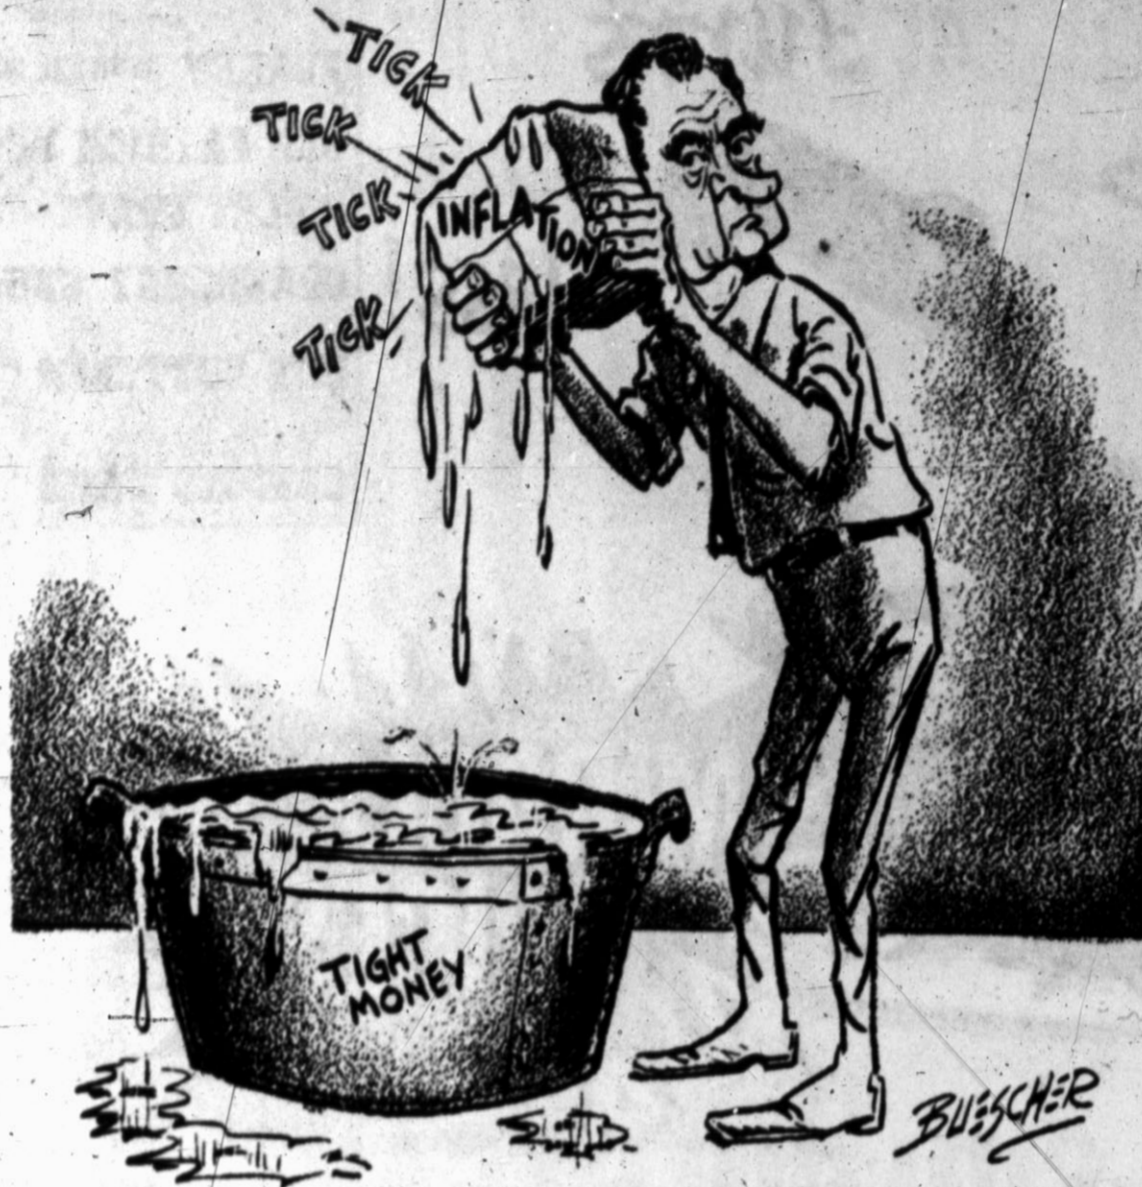

We would ask Senators McCarthy, McGovern, Kennedy, Fulbright and others who have been encouraging the movement to settle issue in the street to reconsider. The government they lose may be their own. — St. Louis Globe Democrat

The Youth Wage

Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans has endorsed the idea of special "Youth wage," indicating that at least a part of the Nixon administration understands the economic and social problems caused by the federal minimum wage. The proposal, as currently discussed, calls for setting a youth wage at a substantially lower level than the federal minimum wage of $1.60 — say at $1.20 or $1.25 an hour.

At this lower rate, a great many young people who have been priced out of the market by legislated minimum wages could be employed. By the time they reach 21 and the regular federal minimum would apply to them, they would have gained sufficient experience and skill to qualify them for the higher rate.

The effect of the federal minimum wage is to remove the bottom rung from the job ladder, making the step too high for many people. The proposed "youth wage" would help bridge the gap. We believe it should be adopted. — Arizona Republic

MAIN STREET, U. S. A.

Expanding Food Market Effects Are Being Felt

By BERT HILLS

Washington, D. C. — Americans spend $100 billion a year for food but only about one dollar out of every six dollars in take-home pay is left at the supermarket. Despite inflationary prices, the ratio between income and food spending has dropped from 22 percent in 1950 to about 17 percent now.

If you think an always-hungry teenager eats a ton of food, or year, you may be right. Per capita consumption for all Americans is three-quarters of a ton annually. That means a typical family of four requires three tons. There has been only a 5 percent increase in average consumption in two decades.

Three out of every 10 working Americans are employed in the food industry. There were 226,000 grocery stores in the nation at last count, but three-fourths of the volume was handled by about 34,000 supermarkets. The corner grocery is not yet obsolete but the trend continues to favor the larger stores.

A century ago, there were only about 1,000 food products on the market. Now a single supermarket may stock as many as 10,000 items, and no store can possibly carry everything that is offered for sale. Every day more products are introduced, and half the items available now were not on the shelves a decade ago.

Eating Habits Change Convenience foods have made great changes in American eating habits. Last year consumption of meat, poultry and packaged fruits and vegetables rose, while sales of eggs, cereals, dairy products, and fresh fruits and vegetables declined. Snack foods continue to increase in popularity as their number and variety grow.

A housewife no longer needs to be a good cook to prepare a tasty meal. Food manufacturers and processors are constantly finding ways of making it easier and quicker to put meals on the table. Convenience foods often cost extra but many housewives are willing to pay the price to save time and trouble.

One new item is canned pudding. Others on the horizon, as the result of new freezing techniques, include frozen lettuce and salad mixes. The puffing process — "food shot from a gun" — is being applied to fresh carrots, apple slices, blueberries and beets.

Edible pouches will add a new dimension to packages. They are now technically feasible for instant coffee, tea, and soup mixes. For a bowl of soup, you dissolve the package, which serves as a thickening agent.

Imitation foods are making headway in the marketplace, price being the advantage. Oleomargarine was an early example but non-meat bacon can now be purchased, made from soybeans. The familiar aroma has been added to the substitute version.

Half Do Not Eat Properly Despite general affluence, only about half of Americans eat a proper diet. Those in the poverty class have an excuse but malnutrition is not confined to the ghetto. Studies show that 9 percent of those in the $10,000 income class have diets that are nutritionally deficient, often lacking Vitamin A and iron.

Some Americans eat as often as six times a day. That is no necessarily bad so long as snacks do not replace well-balanced meals. Coffee breaks are frowned on by the experts because too often java and a bun take the place of a good breakfast.

These facts are gleaned from "Food For Us All," the 1969 Yearbook of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Some members of Congress have copies of this 366-page book for free distribution to constituent, but the volume can also be obtained by sending $3.50 to the Superintendent of Documents Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

OLDEST CHRISTMAS TREE? — A large oak still stands in the yard of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Panna Maria was one of the first Christmas trees in Texas.

On Christmas eve, 1854, founders of the first all-Polish settlement in the United States gathered beneath the oak and celebrated midnight mass. The mass was on of thanksgiving for the 80 souls who had survived the ten-week trip from Upper Silesia to their new home in Texas. It was also a petition for strength to meet the rigors of life in an alien land. The Karnes County town, named Panna Maria because it means "Mother Mary" in Polish, survived that first Christmas and became a prosperous farming community.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Cass County had a difficult time over the years deciding what it wanted to be named.

When it was created in 1846, the county took the name of Lewis Cass, the U. S. senator from Michigan who had advocated the annexation of Texas. When it turned out later that Senator Cass opposed secession, the good rebels of Cass decided to rename their county after Jefferson Davis, the revered president of the Confederacy.

After the Civil War, however, Cass countians had a change of heart and decided that Senator Cass deserved the honor after all. It has borne his name since.

SANTA IN TROUBLE? — St. Nick would be wise to keep a sharp eye out for the Highway Patrol when he makes his Texas rounds this week. Otherwise he may end up with a traffic ticket.

It's all because of his lead reindeer, Rudolph, and the latter's bright red nose. Strictly speaking, Rudolph's scarlet proboscis is a violation of Article 877A of the Texas Penal Code which reserves the display of such red lights to emergency vehicles only.

MOVING DAY — Shortly after the Civil War, when Dr. Benjamin Humphrey decided to move his practice from the Guadalupe County village of Prairie Lea to the bustling county seat, Seguin, he decided to take his house with him.

It wasn't easy. He had the two-story house moved off its foundations, cut into three sections and set on wooden wheels. Teams of oxen then pulled the sections 30 miles to Seguin where the house was put together again.

The Humphrey house still stands in Seguin where it is a local tourist attraction.

SPLIT PERSONALITY — Yoakum is one of several Texas towns that has to put with two county governments.

The town straddles the DeWitt and Lavaca County lines — a geographic oversight that gives it representation in the affairs of both counties. It is not the seat of either county.

... from the Brand's files

65 YEARS AGO — 1904

Our good friend and citizen, W. G. Ross is going on his crutch at present as a result of having been shot on his recent prospecting trip in Old Mexico. Just at this stage of our development, we are in the need of a live and wide-awake commercial club to promote the various enterprises which are knocking at our doors. We have a Board of Trade, but since that body never meets, some organization should be perfected to take its place. What think our local readers about it?

50 YEARS AGO — 1919

The usual Christmas rush for mailing packages at the postoffice has been in full swing the past ten days. It is the big mystery of the ages to the Brand why people will pay from $250 to $400 an acre for land that has been worked for years in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri when they can come to Hereford, buy shallow water land for less than a fourth of this price, insure their crops with an irrigated well, and make more money.

35 YEARS AGO — 1934

Swearing-in of county officials will be Hereford's biggest event for New Year's Day. For the first time in the memory of those who remember such things, automobiles will not be required to wear automobile tags when the new year rolls around. Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Gilliland, aged couple from Oklahoma City, were released from the hospital last night after being there since Saturday. They suffered minor injuries in an accident several miles east of Hereford Saturday morning.

20 YEARS AGO — 1948

Fire, which had partially destroyed the roof before firemen arrived and which was still burning Wednesday morning, wiped out one of the oldest landmarks in the Hereford area Thursday. Owners reported faulty wiring as the cause of the blaze that destroyed Summerfield's Lookingbill General Store. A west bound freight train crashed into a pickup truck which had stalled on the track intersection near the stockyards about a miles east of Hereford about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

5 YEARS AGO — 1964

Growth, growth and more growth appeared the order of the year for Hereford in 1964 as residents witnessed an expansion of the city in the past two months that had never been seen before. State Draft Board Number 18, which has jurisdiction over Deaf Smith, Farmer, Randall and Castro counties, has announced a tougher policy regarding men that register late. United Fund officials are still working to push the 1964 drive as close to the $29,222 goal as possible.

Mental Illness A Trying Experience

The Deaf Smith County Library has a new story for those with a sense of humor. If you have read Please Don't Eat The Daisies you will enjoy this also. Look into it today.

COUNTERCLOCKWISE
by Mary Jane Ward
Mary Jane Ward's treatment of Susan Wood's gradual recovery is a moving and perceptive account of the loneliness mental illness occasions and of the many trials and few triumphs along the way. This remarkably sensitive novel is an account of a journey of a mind, in all its doubt, humor, seeking, and eventual fulfillment.

Just what is mental illness — to those who suffer from it? When Susan Wood, author of a bestselling novel, Hideaway, and inveterate campaigner for proper hospital treatment of the mentally sick, suffers a relapse and is returned to the hospital, she experiences all the uncertainty and distress mental illness entails.

However, in place of the awful state hospital she was incarcerated in when first she fell ill, Susan Wood this time is sent to Lawton Psychiatric in Chicago. There, she gradually recovers her health despite several setbacks both amusing and tragic but not before Mary Jane Ward has provided yet another dramatic and entirely sympathetic study of the levels of sanity and of the people, both staff and inmates, at a large, modern mental institution.

As Susan Wood wavers between insanity and mental health, the reader is confronted with the reality of much that mental instability means and, from an inmate's point of view, with a picture of a progressive mental institution that, despite its failures, is doing as much as it can perhaps be expected to do to deal with mental illness.

COWAN JEWELERS

by Edith Jane Bahr
A sense of humor and a determination for survival for all have seen Edith Jane Bahr happily through seventeen years of bringing up four children. She shares her method here. Once you get the knack it is easy. For instance:

Vacations: Anything involving children cannot be called a vacation. Face it. Friends: Don't try to make any while your children are young. Like that trip to Europe, there'll be time for that later.

Sickness: A privilege reserved for fathers, babysitters, and cleaning ladies.

Everyone who enjoyed Please Don't Eat The Daisies or Life Among the Savages will welcome Edith Jane Bahr to the ranks of such humorists as Jean Kerr and Shirley Jackson.

The Marquis de Lafayette, hero of both American and French revolutions, sent the key to the Bastille to his friend George Washington, who hung it up in his house at Mount Vernon. It is still there today.

Bippus Club Party Held At Sifford Home

The Wayne Sifford home was the setting recently for the Bippus Home Demonstration Club's Annual Christmas party.

Homemade gifts were exchanged and holiday refreshments were served to Meses. C. F. Homfeld, Julian Perrin, Enman Larsen, Charlie Burk, Jim Bradley, C. P. Douglas and G. V. Hall. Mrs. Argen Draper was a guest.

The next meeting is scheduled Jan. 14 in the Homfeld home.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Higgins, Route 3 Hereford, are announcing the arrival of their first grandchild born December 12, at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Parents of the six pound, nine ounce baby girl are Mr. and Mrs. Kent Black of Paducah, who chose to name their new daughter Carrie Paige.

Mrs. Black is the former Lu Anne Higgins. She was a member of the 1961 graduating class of Hereford High School.

GOOD FOOD IS MY LINE

To most people, onions are just plain onions, and that's that, but not to anyone who knows good food. He knows that there are red onions, Spanish onions, Bermuda onions, pearl onions and yellow onions, and the cook who cares knows just what to use and when to use it. A conscientious cook will also know about the other delicious and full-flavored members of the onion family—the leek which can be served like asparagus, aromatically scented garlic which adds so much to meat dishes, the subtle-flavored shallot of European fame, the scallion which lends itself deliciously to being French-fried in batter, and the humble chive whose presence in a salad makes such delectable difference.

CAPTAIN, I'M HERE TO INSPECT AND ARRANGE A LEASE ON THE NADUWA CAVES —

YES, HEADQUARTERS INSTRUCTED ME TO CO-OPERATE WITH YOU, MR. THATCHER —

I REPRESENT A COMPANY THAT PRESERVES AND STORES RECORDS —

STORAGE IN NADUWA? WE CAN'T OFFER MUCH SECURITY!

OH, THEY AREN'T MILITARY OR EVEN BUSINESS SECRETS — JUST DUPLICATE BUSINESS RECORDS!

I UNDERSTAND — IT HAS TO DO WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF ATOMIC DISASTER — RIGHT?

UNFORTUNATELY, YES — THE RECORDS ARE VALUABLE, BUT ONLY TO THE PEOPLE WHO MADE THEM —

WE DON'T PLAN TO SET UP CANNON OR MACHINE GUNS TO GUARD THE CAVES —

IF THAT WERE THE CASE YOU WOULD HAVE TO LOOK FOR CAVES ELSEWHERE, MISTER THATCHER!

TIM, YOU KNOW THE CAVES AS WELL AS ANYBODY — GIVE HIM THE GRAND TOUR —

YES, SIR —

NADUWA CAVES ARE SPECTACULAR, THATCHER — YOU'RE DUE FOR A SURPRISE —

I KNOW SOMETHING ABOUT THEM, TYLER, OR I WOULDN'T BE HERE!
