IS EDUCATIONAL

Designed Strictly to Promote Interest in Better
Live Stock, Farming

The Hereford Fair to be held on Friday and Saturday, October 15 and 16, promises to be the highest class live stock and agricultural exhibition ever staged in the Texas Panhandle.

The magnificent crops of wheat, oats, barley, rye, kafir, milo, sudan, alfalfa and garden products produced all over the Hereford country during the season of 1920 warrant a show which will be hard to excel anywhere.

The agricultural, Hereford, horse and poultry exhibits will be shown in the new $20,000 Sale Pavilion and Barn of the Hereford Breeders' Association, now nearing completion. This pavilion is the finest in the southwest and modern in every respect. While it will not be completed for the Fair, it will be weather proof enough to take care of all exhibits without fear from what the elements may do.

A unique feature of the Fair will be the six fine Percheron horses to be exhibited by Harvey Neal, of Dawn.
This string has captured nearly all the prizes now extant for this class of horse, and Mr. Neal has a big display of silver cups, trophies and ribbons of all sorts.

Hereford breeder have been preparing for the past year for this show.
Their cattle have been scientifically fed over a long period and will be in real show condition. Hereford cattle valued as high as $20,000, carrying the best blood lines of the American Herefords, will be here with their best clothes on and it is doubtful if a better Hereford show will be seen anywhere in the Southwest.

In addition to the local swine breeders some of the most progressive hog raisers in the Panhandle will be here with their show herds. A novel feature of the hog show is the arrangement of pens on the paved streets of Hereford.
This permits of perfect sanitary conditions, with plenty of pure, fresh city water to keep the extremely fat hogs cool and comfortable as well as ideal in arrangement for the inspection of the public.

Deaf Smith County's splendid Court House will be used for the merchants' booths, home economics and art displays, with the entrance to the basement tastefully decorated with an agricultural exhibit. Profuse patriotic street decorations will add to the live stock and agricultural features.

The Hereford Fair is being promoted strictly as an educational institution.
Its purpose is to encourage better homes and more attractive environment on the farms, better field needs, better methods of cultivation, greater yields and more and better live stock.

The entire exhibition will be within two blocks of the Santa Fe depot, and the Roundup grounds within half a dozen blocks of the depot. No admission fee will be charged to the agricultural, live stock, ladies and merchants' exhibitions. Admission charges will be assessed for the Roundup, ball games, etc.

Wheat Prizes
The Hereford grain dealers have hung up a neat prize for the best bushel of wheat exhibited, as follows: $100 for first prize, $40 for second prize, and $20 each for third, fourth, and fifth prizes. O. C. Aktell, of Castro county, who copped first money at Plainview, will go after this cash, as well as many other wheat growers from the surrounding territory. The Hereford Chamber of Commerce has offered a $50 prize for the best county exhibit to stimulate interest. The agricultural Department is in charge of A. O. Thompson, who will be glad to receive entries. Dr. F. E. Bove is in charge of the sub-committee on fruits and garden truck.

Herefords
Secretary W. E. Dameron of the Breeders Association will be in active charge of this division. At least forty-five fine fat specimens will be in the barn. It is useless to attempt to portray this exhibit—that it will be a big-dinger goes without question.

Horses
Harvey Neal, of Dawn, will exhibit his famous Percherons, with their car-

BARRETT TRIAL IS CONTINUED UNTIL MARCH TERM COURT

The trial of C. H. Barrett, charged by indictment with the killing of W. B.
Sowell, began, at Dalhart on Monday of this week, has been continued until the March term of the District Court.
The continuance was granted on motion of the defendant, an important witness for the defense being confined by illness to a hospital at Canadian.
Many local people had been summoned to Dalhart to appear in the case.

STAR THEATRE NOW HAS DAILY SHOW; NEW MANAGEMENT

The Star Theatre Wednesday night resumed its every-night schedule, and the management announces that the daily schedule will be maintained hereafter, provided the patronage justifies it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Johnson, of Clovis, have arrived here and assumed the management of the Star. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Mr. Hardwick, who will devote most of his attention hereafter to his Clovis interests.

the management. The new proprietor is A. H. Morrison, of Plainview. Mr.
Morrison has changed the name of the

R. K. BRUNER IS BUILDING MODERN BUNGALOW HOME

R. K. Bruner has begun the construction of a modern bungalow on Third street the total cost of which is estimated at $8,000. The house will be six stuccoed without.

MR. AND MRS. E. W. KINNEY DIS- TRIBUTE FAIR DOPE

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kinney departed in their car Wednesday for a trip of about ten days through Oklahoma and western Kansas. Mr. Kinney put a Hereford Fair banner on the back of his car and carried a liberal supply of Fair literature with him.

D. L. McDonald was probably the maddest man in Deaf Smith county Wednesday morning. There was a reason.

Mr. McDonald, who is president of the Abo Pass Route, had his camera all set to get a flash picture of Tony Chisum and his car as they passed here on their record-run against the passenger train.

Tony came tearing into view—Mc-Donald squinted into the camera—set himself—pressed the button just at the right time—when, lo and behold, a Ford suddenly rattled around McDonald's elbow from the rear and crossed the road!

The negative was an excellent blurred
did not show the Essex at all.

CITY FIRE RATES CHECKED UP FIRST TIME SINCE 1907

Three representatives of the State Fire Insurance Commission of Austin were in Hereford this week checking up the fire insurance rates for the entire city. They were D. B. DuGriest, J. A. Williamson and J. A. Carter.
Mesdames Williamson and DuPriest accompanied the party.

After their check the city is to be re-rated. While no information was given out by the gentlemen, it is believed that the rates will remain substantially as they are at present. The city has taken no steps that would entitle it to a better rate, but it is hoped that a higher rate can be avoided.
This will be the first time since 1907 that the fire rate check has been made here.

"IN WEST TEXAS"

*We're a mighty happy people
Out in West Texas,
Somehow we don't have Things to vex us.
It must be the atmosphere
Keeps us happy all the year,
Or just good old "Texas Cheer"
Out here in West Texas.*

*I can't tell you what it is
In West Texas,
Makes us feel a kind of bliss
That really perplexes,
I don't think it's all in climate,
But it's something—you can't define it,
You can't measure it, or time it,
It's just West Texas.*

*Old prosperity is humming
Out in West Texas,
The whole Universe is humming
"Go to West Texas."
Let them come—There's worlds of room
Out in West Texas for a boom;
Hallelujah time has come In fair Hereford, Texas.
—Kindness "Texas Emblems."*

FRIONA

Finest weather in the world for harvesting row crops, which in this locality are the finest ever, but the help being so scarce, many farmers are just cutting their crops and letting them lay until they are through cutting. Some are fortunate enough to have one man shocking.

The largest acreage of wheat ever planted in the Friona country will be planted this fall. Many farmers are already busy drilling wheat and some of it is up and growing nicely. A good fall rain like we usually have will put the wheat crop in excellent condition for winter.

The new grain elevator now being built by Giescher and Meade is rapidly nearing completion and these gentlemen expect soon to be ready and able to handle their share of the large quantity of grain being brought to Friona in a continuous stream by truck and wagon every since the threshing opened in the summer of 1919, and bids fair to continue to come for another year. The Santa Fe Grain Co.'s elevator, although enlarged to four times its original capacity, has at times been unable to accommodate the large quantity of grain which came in. It is hoped that the two elevators will be able to handle all the grain for the season. We also hope that next year's crop will make it necessary for a third elevator to be built to handle the crop.

The first number of the lyceum course, being furnished by the school was rendered in the school auditorium Friday night. Judging from the number of complimentary remarks made about this first entertainment, the large audience was fully satisfied. Many who had bought season tickets said they had received their money's worth, even if no other numbers should be given. This is very gratifying to those who were responsible for the coming of the lyceum, as it was their desire to secure for the people of Friona a series of entertainments that would be appreciated.

The house shortage in Friona is still a serious proposition with little prospect of relief. A few new farm houses are being built in the near vicinity of Friona. One is now being built one mile northeast of town, one a few miles west, and the prospects are good for a new house two miles southwest in the Goodwine pasture.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kingsley returned Tuesday of last week from a visit of two weeks with relatives and friends at Upper Sandusky, Ohio. They had a good time, but Reube says he would not live there again "a-tall."

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wentworth departed on Wednesday of last week for an automobile trip to southern California, where they expect to spend the winter traveling and camping. They will not return until next May.

A parcel post package was received at the Friona post office last Wednesday which created considerable interest among the people of the vicinity of the post office. The package consisted of a wooden box about 18x4x4 inches. The bottom was lined with Spanish moss and the top was covered with wire screening and it contained a baby alligator about 18 inches long. The little fellow had traveled by mail from Arcadia, Florida, and was sent to Fred White as a birthday present, from his cousin, Ernest White. This was quite a curiosity as many of our people had never seen an alligator. The little fellow is doing nicely and seems to be none the worse for his long journey.

BOVINA

T. O. Cuningham has gone for a visit to friends in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hecox have returned from their vacation trip; the former to Missouri, and the latter to Central Texas.

The Bovina school enrollment for the year is 72; 21 being enrolled in the Mexican school.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Bovina Methodist church will be held at Bovina Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This will be a meeting of considerable import, and a full attendance is expected.

D. M. Davis and family have vacated the Bovina hotel, and left Tuesday of this week for their new home in Hereford. We understand that they will conduct the Central Hotel there. The removal of this family is quite a loss to the community and their many friends wish them well in their new location. So far, no one has taken charge of the hotel here, and the town is without a place to care for her transients.

Last week we erred when we stated that there were two residences vacant in our town. H. L. Green is "batching" in the place recently vacated by J. W. Lovelady and family.

On Sept. 30, in a sanitarium in Hereford, Mrs. T. O. Cuningham passed away. She had been in failing health for some time, and until just a few days before her death had been able to do most of her work. She was 45 years, 8 months and 21 days old, and is survived by her husband and one son, Virgil Cuningham, who has for some time been connected with the Betts-Clark Drug Co., in Hereford. Mr. Cuningham and wife were among the earliest settlers of Bovina. Mr. Cuningham holding the position of Santa Fe pumper at this place. This good lady will be mourned by a host of friends, as she had been a blessing in administering to the sick and needy of the community. She will also be missed in church and Sunday School work, as she had been active in the work of her church, the Methodist, for a number of years. As a testimony of the high esteem in which she was held, one of the largest crowds ever seen at a public gathering here, was present to pay their last respects, people coming from Hereford, Texico and the surrounding country. The floral offering was large and beautiful. Funeral service were conducted from the Methodist church Saturday afternoon. Rev. B. Y. Dickinson, officiating. May the Great Comforter do his office work in the bereaved hearts in these sad hours.

Bay View Club

Owing to the postponement of its "Health Day" program, the Bay View club held a business session Thursday afternoon, that it might clear the way for uninterrupted study of the Othello programs which it begins this week. Mrs. Arch Collins has this play in charge and the club anticipates much pleasure and profit from the work as well as the necessity for careful study. A definite date for the health program will be announced later.

Entertain Classes

Mrs. R. A. Brand and Mrs. W. A. Ricketts were hostesses to the members of their Sunday School classes, at the home of Mrs. Brand, seventeen boys and girls enjoying the pleasant afternoon.

The shady lawn was most inviting and outdoor games proved the jolliest sort of entertainment, there being seemingly no limit to the variety of games nor to the fun they could furnish.

Delicious ice cream served with cake and lemonade added much to the pleasure of the youthful guests.

Sunday School Party

The primary department of the Christian Sunday School was given a delightful afternoon Saturday by Mrs. E. E. Ramsey primary superintendent assisted by Misses Lollie Shore and Agnes Elliston, teachers in this department.

The spacious Sunday School rooms were thrown open, furnishing abundance of room and ample facilities for entertaining the jolly party of boys and girls. The program to games included a great variety both new and old, all so cleverly arranged as to be especially enjoyed.

Lemonade and wafers were served.

Bridge Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilkinson was the scene of one of the very charming parties of the week, when Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gallagher entertained a large party of young people as a goodbye hospitality and appreciation of the many social courtesies that have been extended to them since their marriage a few months ago.

An exquisite arrangement of garden flowers, featuring vari-colored dahlias gave special attractiveness to the pretty receiving rooms and emphasized the spirit of genial hospitality so evident in the cordial welcome of the host and hostess.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening, seven tables of enthusiastic players putting into the game that animated interest expressive of genuine pleasure. High score was a tie and in the drawing, the prize went to Mr. Fred Oberthier, while the booby prize was awarded to Clifford Acker.

Two delightful readings by Miss Grace Smith were an added pleasure. Refreshments of brick cream and cake closed a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Week-End Party

A party of young people spent the week-end at the Stubbs ranch about eighteen miles northeast of town, going out Saturday and returning Sunday afternoon. They were guests of Mr. Arthur Lawrence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arley Bean.

With true hospitality, the big ranch home with all its possibilities for entertainment was placed at the disposal of the guests. Cantaloupes and water-melons, fried chicken and various other delicious edibles were added to the buffet supper the guests themselves, had provided. A hunting party furnished novel and most enjoyable pastime Saturday afternoon, while a bountiful ranch breakfast, followed by a kodaking party together with a picnic at the noon hour, made Sunday a day all too quickly spent.

Those who enjoyed the delightful outing were: Misses Bonnie Channess, Douglas Wilson, Vivienne Steckman, Mary Jane Fox, Clara Dunlap, Messrs. Fred Oberthier, Bobo McLean, Johnathan Pitman, Clifford Acker, Roy Jewell and Mr. and Mrs. John Williams.

Dinner Party

The hospitality of the H. L. Broadwell home on West Third Street was extended on Monday evening to a number of young people in honor of the two young men of the home, Messrs. Philip and David Broadwell, and their friend, Mr. Harry Seed, the occasion being a seven o'clock dinner party.

The attractiveness of this handsome home was intensified by decorations all in the deep rich tints of autumn that harmonized perfectly with the furnishings and emphasized the loveliness of great bouquets of dahlias in red and salmon that added their note of floral beauty.

The same flowers were used in the dining room, an exquisite table centerpiece being fashioned of their lovely blossoms. The table was wonderfully pretty, handsome napery, gleaming cut glass and silver, and dainty place cards making of it a real "festaal board." A three course dinner which included a fruit course, a meat and vegetable course, and a dessert of ice cream and angel food cake, was served.

Following the dinner, tables were placed for forty-two and the remainder of the evening was spent with this popular game and musical numbers furnished by Miss Elizabeth Tatman and Mr. Dick Kimmons.

Guests of the occasion were: Misses Elizabeth Tatman, Essie Burrus, Ona Hammer, Jennie Wyche, Messrs. Byron Kimmons, Dick Kimmons, Harry Seed, Philip and David Broadwell and Mr. Mrs. Gilbert Fox, of Waxahachie.

The Misses Dameron Entertained

The brief home visit of Misses Bertha and Frances Dameron furnished inspiration for one of the largest and most delightful parties of the autumn on Tuesday of this week.

The pretty affair was given at the home of Mrs. A. M. Jones with Mrs. Jones and Mrs. W. E. Dameron as hostesses, and combined the dignity of the reception with the cheery informality of the forty-two party. The welcome extended at the door by Mrs. C. C. Ferguson found further expression in the lovely receiving rooms gay with bright-hued garden flowers that shared honors with handsome pot plants, while tiny crystal bud vases holding dainty rosebuds completed a charming decorative effect.

In the receiving line with the hostesses were Misses Bertha and Frances Dameron, Mrs. John Sherman, Mr. C. H. Dyer and Misses Robertson and O'Gwynne, of London, Ontario, who are house guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. E. McClurkin.

Fifteen tables pleasantly occupied the guests from three to five, animated interest in the always entertaining diversion being evidenced throughout the games.

A refreshment course consisting of pimento sandwiches, pickles, perfection salad and punch marked the close of the afternoon's pleasures.

Club Assists Nurse

The Parent-Teacher Association is lending its aid this week to the work of Miss Pearl N. Hyer, public health nurse, who, through the instrumentality of the board of education, is to spend the present month in health work among the children of the public schools.

Miss Hyer is sent out by the Texas Public Health Association at Austin and has spent the summer in a speaking tour over the state in an effort to awaken patrons and teachers to the importance of health work in the schools. Local physicians will work with Miss Hyer and a thorough physical examination will be given the children. Physical defects will be pointed out and parents shown how to remedy them.

Mrs. J. H. Pitman, the club president, has called a meeting for Friday afternoon at which time Miss Hyer will talk to the mothers along the line of her work and answer questions pertaining to any phase of public health work, child hygiene, etc. Mrs. Pitman has also arranged for a woman helper to be present each day during the examinations and assist in taking measurements, making records, and in other ways.

Miss Hyer hopes to meet the women of town once each week during her stay and to render the greatest possible service in the interest of the school children, by mutual co-operation with the mothers of the children.

The meetings will be held in the auditorium of the Central school building at 3:30 o'clock, this week's meeting to be on Friday.

YOU FARMERS

We're going to have the best Fair this year ever held in the Texas Panhandle. This is your Fair. It's up to you to help make it a winner. We fellows in town are working night and day right now and we want you boys in the country to get in the game and help.

If you have anything real good—and you ought to have this year—bring it in. A big pumpkin, big water melon, good kafir or maize, or any of the small grains. If you have a real top notch Hereford bull, bring him in—but remember, it is going to take a good one to win. A good colt—nice pair of mares—fine pair of mules—team of bang-up geldings—or a good milk cow—bring them along.

Send in a bushel of good wheat and win the $100 offer by the Hereford grain dealers. In addition to the $100 first prize, there are four other cash prizes on wheat. Forty dollars for second, and $20, third, fourth and fifth. This is worth going after.

Ask the women folks to bring their stuff too. Canned fruits and vegetables, fancy work, chickens, turkeys, and anything good out of the garden. We need it all.

Let's all pull together and make this a real Fair. We've got the stuff to do it—so why not?

GALLAGHER & SONS

PLAINS COUNTRY IS DESTINED FOREMOST WHEAT SECTION NORTH AMERICA.

20,000,000 BUSHEL'S PRODUCED OVER THIS AREA DURING THE YEAR 1920 IS BEST EVIDENCE TO BASE DEDUCTIONS

1,000,000 ACRES OF GOOD LAND

With Less Than 4,000 Population Means Lower Prices and More Profit for the Foresighted Man who Will Take Advantage of the Unusual Situation

(By D. L. McDonald)

That the great Plains country of Texas is destined to become the foremost wheat growing section of North America is the belief of a great many farmers who have been growing wheat in this district for the past ten years. Twenty million (20,000,000) bushels of wheat produced over this area during the year 1920 is the kind of evidence we are basing our ideas on. About the same amount of wheat grown during the year 1919 adds more evidence of the right sort. And back for a period of ten years the crop has been profitable and the real farmer who has stuck to wheat sanely has made plenty of money.

And it is not only the farmers who believe in wheat in this country. The grain dealers, some of the biggest and most successful in the land, are spending millions of dollars erecting elevators, mills and other equipment to take care of the excellent wheat crops grown here. The small elevator men are in the game with the big ones increasing their capacities to handle more wheat. The manufacturers of harvesting machinery look upon the Texas Panhandle as the great wheat granary of America and carry huge stocks of machinery right here on the ground. So the wheat idea is not merely the idle dream of a Texas Panhandle land booster. The wheat idea has developed into a real hard fact proved by years of profitable wheat yields and independent wheat farmers. Its opinion of good hard headed farmers, bankers, and business men all over the territory who have been bucking the wheat game for the past several years and forced to the conclusion thru big crops of wheat that the Plains country is a real wheat producer.

The particular section of the Plains country referred to in this article is the territory tributary to Hereford, Texas, the county seat of Deaf Smith county. This area comprises Deaf Smith, Castro, Farmer and Oldham counties. The land over this district is typical plains soil consisting of a deep chocolate colored loam with good drainage sub-soil and as smooth as a billiard table. Fully 90 per cent of this territory is easily tillable and ideal for the production of wheat.

The uniformly smooth surface free from timber, stumps, stones or in fact anything to interfere with easy preparation and cultivation of the soil renders it highly desirable for farming with power machinery. This enables the man who desires to operate in a large way to use tractors and tractor machinery and plant and harvest the crop at a minimum cost. On the other hand we have scores of small farmers who successfully grow wheat each year in addition to other crops and live stock. These men are winning and living examples of thrift, energy and success.

Thousands upon thousands of fertile acres in this territory await the man who will come here and farm it intelligently. Homes and success are here for the man who takes advantage of the present opportunity and strikes before it is too late. Land prices are lower here than in any section of equal merit in the whole Southwest. This territory is one of the last to be taken up by actual settlers. Deaf Smith county, with 1,000,000 acres of good land, has a population of less than four thousand people. The surrounding counties are as sparsely settled. This means lower prices and more profit for the man who takes advantage of present conditions.

To get down to actual figures so that you may know just what is being done on wheat: John Wagner, who lives near the center of Deaf Smith county, grew 40 1-2 bushels of wheat per acre on twenty-five acres in 1919 and averaged better than 20 bushels per acre on a larger tract. In 1920 Wagner averaged 18 bushels on 300 acres. Lloyd Brothers, who live in the Northern part of Deaf Smith county, made better than 20 bushels per acre on more than 1,000 acres. Ernest Freimel, located in the Eastern part of Deaf Smith county, got $37,000 from his 700 acres of wheat in 1919—had a fine crop in 1920. Carl Frey, living in the Northern part of Castro county, threshed 2700 bushels from ninety acres. Ramey Brothers, who live near the center of Castro county, have successfully grown wheat for years and averaged 17 bushels in 1920. John Cummings, near Hereford, is credited with 20 bushels per acre and D. R. Gass 1500 bushels from 60 acres in 1920. These figures may be verified by the men who grew the wheat and you will find them correct. Come to Hereford and investigate. If you like—and you will—buy land while it is cheap.

It is an undisputed fact that there are more breeders of the pure blood registered Hereford cattle in Deaf Smith county than in any other county in the southwest. And while no statistics are available, it is believed that there are very few, if any, counties in any state in the union, boasting as many specialty breeders. A local census places the actual number of Deaf Smith county breeders at thirty-three. Of these, twenty-four are paid in members in good standing of the Hereford Breeders' Association of Hereford, Texas, a "going concern" which was born in March, 1919, out its teeth at a successful sale in April, 1920, is now engaged in erecting a modern nursery for itself at a cost of approximately $20,000, and proposes to attain man's estate in full next April at a "real, regular sale," as one of the members expresses it.

The town of Hereford derives its name from these famous cattle, the first herd being imported by G. E. (Rat) Jowell many years ago just as the town was in need of a christening. The predominating blood is the Anxiety 4th strain, one of the most famous in the world, and today Hereford is furnishing—beef bulls and choice breeding stock to discriminating buyers from every part of the United States. The Grand Champion Beau Randolph No. 418893, a Gudgell and Simpson bred bull was formerly at the head of the Jowell and Ivy Springvale Hereford Herd of Anxiety 4th matrons. He was sold by Springvale four years from date, bearing interest from date until paid at the rate of 7 percent per annum, interest payable quarter-annually; said note executed by the Defendants and payable to the order of Plaintiff; said note providing for a reasonable attorney fee in case suit is brought thereon. Plaintiff's petition alleging that the note is past due and no principal or interest has been paid thereon, except the interest has been paid to August 11, 1915, and further alleges that it became necessary to employ counsel to assist in the collection of said note, and on April 1, 1919, employed an attorney and agreed to pay the attorney the sum of $100.00 for his services, which the petition alleges was necessary and reasonable and that said attorney's fees, though due by reason of the petition, has not been paid.

Plaintiff also seeks by said petition to foreclose a Deed of Trust Lien on the E. 1-2 of the N. E. 1-4 of Section 87, Block K-4, Certificate number 133, containing eighty acres alleged to have been given to secure the payment of said note.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, A. O. Thompson, Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE SEAL OF SAID COURT, at office in Hereford, Texas, this, the 7th day of September, 1920.

Come to the Hereford Free Fair Oct. 15 and 16

Announcement

We are glad to announce we will give for the 1920 Hereford Free Fair, and annually thereafter, a cash prize of $100.00 for the best individual Hereford from our herd owned and exhibited by another breeder. In announcing this special premium, our purpose is to, in a measure, reward the owner of such animal for giving the thought and care necessary to properly develop and maintain a high standard of "Better Herefords," and to impress, if possible, that proper feed and care is necessary to achieve the greatest success.

We also hope the award will be made fairly and impartially to the best individual Hereford without regard to who the owner may be.

For 1920 the following animals will be eligible to compete for the cash premium of $100.00:

1. All animals sired by our herd bulls, or herd bulls formerly used in our herds by Jowell & Jowell or T. C. Ivey.
2. All animals sold from our herds either by us or the former owners, but not the produce of such animals unless sired by a present or former herd bull.
3. All Herefords coming within the above rule will be eligible regardless of sex or class.
4. The prize to be awarded to the winner by the judge of Hereford Cattle at the Fair, the award to be made after all classes have been judged.

We will show at the Hereford Free Fair eight head selected from our herd, including two of our herd bulls and some entries in the younger classes. We join the Fair Management and other Hereford Breeders in cordially inviting you to visit the Hereford exhibit October 15th and 16th. Look our cattle over—they will be there for that purpose.

We desire to, in every way, further the interest in "Better Herefords," and trust those interested in Anxiety 4th Herefords will call on us when we can in any way serve them.

COUNTY HOSPITAL
RANDALL COUNTY

At the meeting of the Randall County Commercial League Tuesday night the machinery was set in motion to locate in Canyon a County Hospital, costing about $30,000 together with necessary equipment amounting to about $10,000.00.

A committee is now circulating a petition which will be presented to the Commissioners Court at the meeting on October 11, asking that a special election be called for the purpose of voting bonds to build this hospital.—Randall Co. News.

HEREFORD BREEDERS ASSOCIATION VITAL FORCE IN FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

Farm to Mrs. H. M. Pegues and Sons, of Odessa, Texas for $7,000, who later refused $10,000 for him. Later on he changed hands several times at increasing valuations. Many of the off-spring of Beau Randolph are now found in the excellent herds of pure bred Hereford cattle surrounding the town of Hereford.

For years local breeders have been going to Amarillo and topping the sales of the Panhandle Breeders Association. Some of the Hereford, Texas blood has nearly always been in the money at Kansas City shows and at the big private auctions held over the middle west.

Last spring at the Sale the association members resolved to build themselves a modern barn home and sale pavilion that would care for the needs of the local breeders for years to come. It proved hard work and took pioneering of the nery brand, but the idea was pushed through to completion, and today the building is nearly completed. It is 90x140 feet over all. The Sale Pavillion is 90x55 and the barn proper is 90x85. The Pavillion has a seating capacity of 1200, and the stable will accommodate 100 head comfortably. Commodious storage facilities for hay, straw, grain, etc., have been allowed as well as sleeping quarters for attendants and office rooms for the management. There is a washroom for the men as well as for the cattle. When completed the structure will be as nearly fireproof as it can be made, with an asphalt roof and stucco exterior.

The building is located on a corner lot across from the passenger station in a very strategic position. Is the intention of the officers of the association to erect suitable signs, easily read from the passing trains, telling the world what the barn contains.

Every citizen of this county is proud of the barn and of the Breeders Association recognizing in it one of the greatest assets to the future development of this country that could possibly be imagined. The officers of the Association, who have been largely responsible for the punch and modern business methods injected into the organization, are W. T. Womble, President, C. O. Norton, vice president W. E. Dameron, secretary, and C. C. Bowman, J. C. Sander and G. H. Womble, executive committee.

Why Do Some Druggists Charge More for Compounding Prescriptions Than Others?

Some Druggists use inferior Drugs in compounding their orders. They can charge less because inferior drugs can be purchased for less. Some Druggists "THROW" the prescriptions together, "hit or miss." When you pay the Doctor for writing you a prescription, you should get JUST what the Dr. orders, in the very freshest, and most dependable Drugs, the Druggist SHOULD use the teaching he had, or ought to have had, in a first-class School of Pharmacy. Drugs cannot be just thrown together and give the exact result the Dr. wants his patient to receive when he writes the Prescription. The Modern Druggist has got out of the old "hit or miss" methods, and is a highly trained man, uses the very best materials, and practices Pharmacy as a real Art and a Science, which is as it should be.

Hereford Battles Farwell to Tie In Hard Battle

Hereford High and Farwell battled to a 13-13 tie on the local gridiron last Friday afternoon in the first game of the season for Hereford. The fact that they held Farwell to a tie in the first game is commendable, in view of the fact that Farwell is said to have already beaten both Clovis and Portales and were much better trained and had more confidence.

The difference in the two teams rested mainly in the fact that Farwell has a regular coach, who had developed a good interference, while Hereford has been struggling along, coached part of the time by one man, part of the time by another, and not coached at all the rest of the time. The Hereford line was superior, and the backfields about evenly matched. Interference and better team play accounted for Farwell's scores, while the brilliant individual work of the Hereford lads saved their bacon.

Farwell pushed over a touchdown in the first quarter, following a series of costly fumbles by Hereford, a blocked kick, and several plunge through the line. Farwell failed to kick goal. Score, Farwell 6, Hereford 0.

The remainder of the quarter and the larger part of the second quarter was a battle royal. With most of the second quarter gone the Hereford backs began a succession of rapid and determined end runs and line plunges which finally pushed Paul Jowell across the coveted line with the tying score. Paul promptly kicked goal. Score, Hereford 7, Farwell 6. Both Jowell and Bill Terry did magnificent work in this march down the field.

Hereford came back strong in the third quarter and although Farwell braced near the line and fought savagely they could not hold the determined backs of the black and gold. Successive plunges by Jowell and Terry took the oval to the ten yard line. Then Paul hit the line four times in rapid succession before he inched the ball over on the last chance. He missed goal. Score, Hereford 13, Farwell 6. In the last quarter Farwell, apparently stung by their impending defeat, fought like demons. They began a hammer and tongs attack through the line and their backs kept up the desperate plunging until they finally pushed it over. Goal was kicked and the score tied.

The last six minute of play was fought to a finish, with neither side able to bring a decision.

The Hereford ends showed lack of training, and there was no interference to speak of. In spite of these handicaps, however, the individual work of the entire line and backfield was brilliant. The outstanding stars were Fullback Paul Jowell and Halfback Bill Terry. Both these boys not only showed themselves to be ground gainers with few equals, but they were equally effective on the defensive and repeatedly spilled the Farwell backs for losses.

The school children turned out in goodly numbers, and there was quite a sprinkling of grownups as well, though not as many as had been hoped for. The lineup:

Mrs. Mary Anna Cuning

Mrs. Mary Anna Cuning, who died in Hereford September 30, was laid to rest in the Bovina cemetery Sunday.

Mrs. Cuning, who was the mother of Virgil Cuning of this city, was 48 year of age. She was born in Modena, Mo. on January 8, 1872, and was married on October 25, 1891. She moved to Texas in 1901.

Mrs. Cuning is survived by her husband, T. O. Cuning, son, Virgil, mother and two brothers who reside in Missouri, and one sister and one brother who live in Washington.

Mr. Cuning and Fred C. Miller, one of her brothers, who came here for the funeral services, left for their home in Missouri Monday.

Information has been received here that R. E. Cook, a former resident of Hereford, died at Waco, Texas last Saturday. Mr. Cook has been in ill health for several years. He left here about six years ago.

Charles M. Stevens, of Stillwater, Minn., is visiting in the home of O. C. Schlenker this week. Mr. Stevens was formerly of Friona, Texas, and pastor of the Congregational Church at that place.

Clifford Acker's Brother Killed In Auto Accident

Telegram's to Clifford Acker and to G. A. F. Parker brought the information Sunday that Edwin B. Parker, Jr., only brother of Clifford Acker, nephew and adopted son of Judge Edwin B. Parker of Houston, was killed Friday night, October 1, in Southern California.

The accident was caused by a collision between an automobile and a motorcycle upon which he was riding. Clifford left Sunday for Houston, where the funeral will be held. Judge Parker, with his wife and Grandmother were in New York, but all left at once for Houston.

Edwin was born February 28, 1901. Ten days later his mother died, leaving her husband, James A. Acker, two little boys, George and Clifford, and the baby.

Judge Edwin B. Parker and his wife, having no children of their own, adopted the baby, and have given him their whole-hearted love and tender care. Hereford friends remember the bright, happy boy who has visited his brother, and his uncle's family here.

He was educated in the schools at Houston, later at Culver Institute, and for the last two years at Dartmouth College. Through the summer he did some special work at Leland Stanford University. At the recent Democratic National Convention in San Francisco he was one of the Sergeants at Arms. A romantic spirit of adventure led him into the oil fields in Southern California, and it was there he met his death. The elder brother, George, and the father, James A. Acker, have both passed away, and are buried in the Hereford Cemetery. Of the Acker family, only Clifford and his stepmother Mrs. Leila Acker, of Claude, are left.

TONY CHISUM WINS RACE AND PROVES ABO PASS IS FAST

Driving an Essex touring car, Tony Chisum, distributor of Amarillo, assisted by Dave Lewis, won a race with a Santa Fe passenger train to Belin and Albuquerque, New Mexico, Wednesday by two hours and twenty three minutes, all stops and all delays for the automobile being included. The test was made under the auspices of the Abo Pass Highway Association, of which D. L. McDonald, of Hereford, is president, and the Essex was checked out of Amarillo at exactly 5:25 o'clock, just as the passenger train was leaving the Santa Fe Station.

The route taken by the touring car was eighteen miles longer than that traversed by the train and recent rains had made some parts of the roads a trifle difficult to negotiate.

The average made by the Essex was a trifle less than 36 miles an hour, all unavoidable stops included. The total distance traversed by the automobile was 306 miles, the car checking in to the secretary of the Abo Pass Highway Association at Albuquerque at exactly 4:12 o'clock in the afternoon. The train reached Albuquerque at 6:35.

In this run, which is considered remarkable by automobile men, Mr. Chisum took with him a sealed envelope, in which was the number of the motor of the car, he was driving and the exact time of his departure, the statements being sworn to before a notary public.

It is indicated that an hour and seventeen minutes might be taken from the record made by this car adding to his actual average, driving miles per hour materially, and making his average driving mileage over forty-one miles for the entire day's work.

load of cups, trophies and ribbons, and will be chairman of the horse division.

Poultry
Lee Biggs, chairman of this division, urges everyone in this section that has good poultry, ducks, geese, turkeys and peafowl of any kind, to enter them for his division. Ramey Bros., of Castro county have promised to contribute three wild geese and a porcupine to the division. See Mr. Biggs for entry blanks.

Sheep
Jim Robinson will take care of the sheep division. There are some excellent blooded sheep here and it is believed this division will show a big increase in numbers and quality this year.

Grade Cattle
Ten pens of grade cattle will be shown, under the direction of C. C. Ferguson, chairman.

Hogs
Glen Snyder is chairman of the hog division. Hereofore the Berkshires have made a great showing due to the fact that D. L. McDonald brought in a large exhibit every year. This herd has been sold and scattered, but the animals are still here and it is hoped the new owners will show them this year.

Ladies' Department
The various clubs of the town have united to assist in presenting the textile, culinary and art exhibits. Mrs. F. W. Price is chairman, and a complete list of this department is shown elsewhere in this issue.

Merchants' Booths
The Scott Decorating Co., of Colorado, that dressed up the town and put in most of the merchants' booths last year, will again be with us. Mr. Scott and wife are expected to arrive in Hereford next Sunday to begin work. This exhibit, in the basement of the courthouse, was one of the nicest and most pleasing of the entire Fair last year, and it is hoped an even higher mark will be set this year.

Amusements
Sherm Williams is chairman of the parade division, and will pull off the big event Saturday afternoon, October 16. It is hoped to secure a representative number of good decorated floats. Scarcity of decorating material, however, has made this feature doubtful. In any event a live stock and school parade will be featured. The Chamber of Commerce has hung up a $50 prize for the best decorated float, and the Ford Garage another $50 for the best decorated Ford car, in case the float section can be put over.

The Hereford Band, augmented by several out of town musicians, will furnish music throughout the two days and nights. An effort is being made to secure a Merry-Go-Round for the kiddies, but the Carnival idea is not a popular one, apparently. Two football games will be staged, one on Friday between Hereford High and Amarillo High, and another on Saturday between the recently organized Town Team and the strong eleven from Canyon Normal.

The Roundup will be in charge of C. S. Purcell and Truman Hines. That bunch of bucking Chihuahuas steers are in better shape than ever to hold their own with the rough riders, and an interesting two days' performance is expected.

The young people have arranged for a dance each night. This is not part of the official entertainment program, but is promoted by individuals.

Taken all in all, the amusement program promises a good time for all and something of enjoyment for all kinds of people with different tastes.

The Minister Calls

By Edgar A. Guest

My Paw says that it used to be

Whenever the minister came to tea

'At they sat up straight in their chairs

at night

An' put all the common things out of sight,

An' nobody cracked a joke or grinned,

But they talked o' the way that people

sinned

An' the burnin' fires that would cook

you sure

When you come to die, if you wasn't pure—

'Twas a gloomy affair that used to be

Whenever the minister came to tea.

But now when the minister comes to call

I get him out for a game of ball,

And you'd never know if you'd see him

bat,

Without any coat or vest or hat,

That he is a minister, no siren!

He looks like a regular man to me.

An' he knows how to go into the dirt

For the grounders hot without getting hurt—

An' when supper's ready, both him and me

Have to git washed up again for tea.

He's played all the games that the feller play

When he was in college. An' one big day

He came to bat with the score a tie

An' the pitcher slipped him one, shoulder high,

An' he walloped it over the fence for fair

An' won that ball game right then and there!

An' my Pa knows that it's true, cos he Wus up in the grand stand where he could see.

Once in a football game he played,

An' the winnin' touchdown alone he made—

My Paw says whenever he got the ball,

He could run so fast that he'd beat them all.

He say that the feller who'll just play

fair

Is fit for heaven or anywhere.

An' fun's all right if your hands are clean

An' you never cheat an' you don't get mean,

He says that he never has understood

Why a feller can't play an' still be good.

An' my Paw says that he's just the kind

Of a minister that he likes to find—

So I'm always tickled as I can be

Whenever our minister comes for tea.

The Big Church with a Big Welcome.

Mystery of Hartley House

By CLIFFORD S. RAYMOND

Illustrated by Irwin Myers

"My father put us out to school together, and this suited Richard's purpose admirably. How I hated this thing that bore my name and my blood! It became an indomitable hate. It exists to this day. No human being ever was so hated by another as my brother Richard was by me—and is—to this moment and will be hated while a breath remains in my body.

"When I was eighteen my father died, and Richard and I inherited the estate under a trusteeship to continue until I was twenty-one. Richard was then twenty. In another year he attained his majority. He was profligate and wild, a heavy drinker, a coarse, cruel boor, a licentious young ruffian who had suffered twice in actions brought by weak and unfortunate girls.

"It irritated him beyond expression that he had to wait the slow process of my coming of age before he could come into his share of the property. His constant demeanor toward me was violent. Several times I tried to establish the reasonable relations which ought, in convention, to exist between brothers. It was quite hopeless, and my hate for this boor came to be an insane passion. It remains as a passion now.

"I may not be able to satisfy anyone that this was the inevitable consequence of the treatment given me, but I could if I were to elaborate the details—or merely state them! However, my purpose is not so much to indict my brother as to record my own triumph—to assist the commission of a crime which has been of intense satisfaction to me, a crime in which I have maintained my culpability with joy and from which Richard has suffered and is suffering.

"He is a broken old man. He is in a penitentiary."

Here followed a section of the manuscript from which, as I recognized, the page Drayada had taken was missing. Then it continued:

"I became a little more assertive of my rights and dignity, with the result that our quarrels were more violent. I tried to fit myself physically to meet Richard, but he was very sturdy, and his profligate habits had not yet undermined his health. When I resisted him physically he had the better of me. Three times he knocked me unconscious. Once I was ill in bed a week as the result of a beating he gave me. Frequently he threatened that he would kill me. He said this often and openly, with every evidence of earnestness and determination. Later that counted against him.

"I was not cowed, and with the great hatred firmly rooted in me was willing to accept the unequal struggle with him. It was a joy to hate him, fight him, even to be beaten by him. I had regained enough courage to seek sociability. It was difficult, because his refined sense of cruelty led him to search me out, wherever I might be with my friends, and to humiliate me, if possible, before them.

"One night I had been at a tavern in the village with some boys of my acquaintance when Richard, being drunk and very violent, found me, and there was a scene in which he made loud threats that he intended to kill me.

"One of my friends persuaded me to go home. At Hartley house we walked the distance from the house to the village in those days. I set out alone, but Richard, breaking away from the young men who would have detained him, pursued me. He caught up with me, and we abused each other as we walked, being overheard by several persons along the way.

"When we came to a pool by the river near the house, he became insanely violent, cried that he was sick of seeing me on earth and would visit himself of the sight of me. He attacked me with a heavy stick he carried, succeeded in breaking down my guard and knocked me unconscious. Our cries, while he was attacking, were heard by a farmer living across the road. Richard was hunched drunk. He intended to kill me and thought he had done so. He left the spot, disturbed, probably, by the thought of physical consequences but, I am sure, not by any spiritual misgivings.

"I do not know how long I remained unconscious or when I awoke. It may have been ten, forty or sixty minutes. It may have been an hour or two. When it was, consciousness brought an aching head and a dawning determination.

"Life with Richard at Hartley house had become impossible. I could no longer control him, I could no longer endure him.

"A chance of escape and of revenge was possible. I was, in Richard's understanding, dead. He had tried to kill me. He might be made to think he had. I had considerable money with me. Richard, of course, had not touched it. Each of us had been given, that morning, five hundred dollars by trustees. That had been the occasion of Richard's murderous debauch. It is strange—or is it?—that I never think of him as, or ever called him, Dick.

"I arranged the spot as well as I could in the details to suggest that my drunken and brutal brother had not only killed me but had disposed of my body in the river. When I had done this, relying for success on his uncertain memory of the act which already had terrified him, I left Hartley house—all its painful memories and brutal experiences, the unhappiness I had experienced there, the miserable childhood, the wretched boyhood and the young manhood, come to this furtive, malevolent end. And I there resolved that if I got safely away and if my design worked out successfully, I should return to the selfsame spot some time to live a jovial life where life had been so drear.

"My plans were not perfect; my resources and my intelligence for this sudden meeting of the world were slender; but my success was beyond expectation.

"First I had the satisfaction of knowing that my brother was taken for my murder. Circumstances were all against him, and he was convinced in his own heart that he had not only killed me as he so often had wished to do, but that he had disposed of my body.

"In arranging the spot to indicate a murder I had thrown my hat, which was broken and bloody, down the bank. It had caught on a projecting rock. I had taken a ring off my finger and had thrown that into the pool. I also had thrown in my coat. It had blood on the collar and shoulders. All this seemed to me to afford inconclusive evidence, but there were obvious difficulties in finding a body which might increase Richard's troubles.

"I waited in New York, carefully concealed, many months, reading of the progress of my murder trial in the newspapers. It gained some celebrity. The prosecuting zeal was tremendous, and public interest, I gathered, acute. My ring was dredged up and was regarded as important evidence. The dredge also brought up some bones which, as I read in the papers, were regarded as fish-bibbed remains of me.

"Much legalistic argument ensued. I became a case of importance, involving principles of evidence. The superficial facts were all against Richard. His confession faced him. The evidence I had arranged damned him. Our relationship in hate and his threats against me arose against him. He thought he had killed me. He knew he had. There were many witnesses against him.

"The only thing helping him was the lack of a clearly identified body. But there were vestiges of something which, in the circumstances, were accepted as parts of the corpus delicti. I think the prosecution and the jury, convinced that I was dead and my remains swept away, were anxious to meet technically the requirements of law.

"The story of our lives together, as I read it in the testimony of witnesses who knew more of its terrors than I thought anyone knew, was terrific. It would have damned any aggressor in the opinion of any body of men. Everyone who knew anything of the case, Richard himself included, was convinced that I had been murdered. The doubt which remained merely served to get Richard a life sentence instead of the gallows. Popular psychology condemned him. The lack of essential evidence was ignored.

"I waited until I knew what his fate was, and then, rejoicing, I left the country. I had no prospects and few plans, but my inclination was to go to South America, and I followed it.

"My hatred never cooled. It grew as a passion, at first a disturbing one, later a satisfactory one. I wanted this man to suffer. Nothing that he can suffer will properly pay him—at least it will not pay my score.

"Some day, I know, for I have the determination, I shall return to Hartley house as its owner, although esteemed an alien, with a false name, a false life and a great joy. What is a family that I should not enjoy my perfect revenge upon this brute who made fifteen years and more of my life, in its most impressionable form, an undesirable thing when it was most desired?

"I shall go back to Hartley house, and if life and health be spared me, I shall make it and life in it jovial, and if strength be spared my will, the knowledge that my brother Richard is suffering for the murder of a dead live man shall be the cosy north wind in the caves below which burns my cheerful fires.

"This is my crime, and if it causes no one dear to me later to suffer, I want it known. Some day I shall go back as a man wholly unknown to people who knew the Dobsons. I shall be what I have been, Homer Sidney. I shall buy the old place. I shall know that Richard Dobson is suffering a most equitable but illegal punishment in a penitentiary close to the place where I shall live in the circumstances which a great deal of money will en-

CHAPTER XVII.

Jed came into the room again as I finished reading, and put another log on the fire. Then he sat down in a rocking chair by the fire.

"They met that night, you know," he said after he had rocked a while.

"They?" I said.

"Arthur and Richard Dobson," said Jed. "Mr. Sidney and his brother, who is over there in the penitentiary."

"They met what night?" I asked.

Jed was patient.

"They met the night last fall," he explained, "when you found Mr. Sidney leaving the house, the night I found you outside, the night we pretended I was sick, the night he came in here and had us call the penitentiary to say a convict had escaped. That night he met his brother. His brother was the convict."

Jed was rocking and talking to the fire.

"Mr. Sidney—Arthur Dobson—" he said, "went out to see the pool on every anniversary of his murder. He found the strength out of some reservoir of will. The reaction was almost disastrous. I imagine he might have lived another year or two if he had not had the experience, he had this fall.

"I know it was a great hate that was keeping Mr. Sidney alive," he continued. "Such a hate as he had! I don't know that I understand it now. It was so unprofitable. Or was it? I do not know. It had a great value in his life. I think the hate he cherished warmed and colored his life."

"He went to the pool every year the night of his murder. He did not know that I went with him. It was such an abnormal abuse of his strength. I was afraid for him."

"Your prospects depended upon him," I suggested.

He allowed a moment to pass in

He Became Insanely Violent.

"It was as if he permitted ventilation before we again entered the room of common thought and emotion. He did not look pained or hurt in any fashion. There was no display about it. He just refrained for a moment from talking. It was as if he were opening the windows for that moment. When the air was cleared of the odors of my testy remark, he went on as if I had said nothing. The old rascal was very difficult to deal with.

"The night I am reminding you of he met Richard Dobson at the pool and recognized him. The poor old fool, Dick, had walked out of the penitentiary. He had every opportunity to do so. The warden would have let him out if he had asked to go. He was helpless outside. He did not have a place to get a rag or a crust. But he wanted to escape.

"There must have been something in his mind about this night and this place. Arthur Dobson found his brother standing by the pool. I was 50 feet away, hidden by the bushes. I could see the two old men in the moonlight, and when Arthur Dobson began to speak, I could hear distinctly.

"Well, Richard," said Mr. Sidney, "we are here again."

"Richard Dobson quavered in a weak, senile tone, almost a falsetto: 'Who are you?'

"I'm your brother Arthur," said Mr. Sidney. "What are you doing here?"

"Richard Dobson must have felt that he was confronted by a ghost. He made a shrill little sound, as an old woman might. I was palsied. The situation was tremendous. I didn't know what would happen, and I didn't know what to do. Mr. Sidney was calm as an oyster.

"I am your brother Arthur, Richard," he said, "and I am not dead. I haven't been dead. You didn't kill me. I have been living in the old place comfortably while you have been in prison. No one would believe you if you told that. You are old and half crazy. If you were out of prison, you would die of starvation and exposure in 24 hours. I am not a ghost, Richard; I am your living brother."

"There was a lot of malevolence in Mr. Sidney's tone, a tremendous amount of hate. Richard Dobson uttered the quivering, quavering little cry again and started to run. As he got under way, he shrieked. It sounded like an old woman's shriek.

"Mr. Sidney started after him. He had that cane you saw him take out of this room. That was the one he was beaten down with.

"I think for a moment he wanted to kill Richard. He flourished the stick and yelled. Richard, being in a frenzy of fright, was stronger on his legs than his brother. He was off into the bush. Mr. Sidney stumbled and fell. He got up rather slowly, as if he were either hurt or as if his strength were leaving him. I could hear Richard shrieking farther off in the bush.

"When Mr. Sidney got up, he turned toward the house, and I ran to beat him here and found you."

Jed rocked a while, and I did not say anything.

"I am decidedly shaken," he said after a while. "I was very fond of him, and I am a useless old man, an alcoholic of no account except to him, and he is dead."

"There is only one thing to do," I said. "Richard Dobson must be on his way to freedom tomorrow. We shall have to see to that."

Jed aroused himself for an instant. "You copy-book moralist!" he said.

"When he is dead and your scruples have become important. You ought to shake. Let the brute Dick Dobson rot in prison. It's his desert."

"It can't be done, Jed," I said. "Tomorrow we'll go to Alwrick prison and explain."

"For me to act without telling Mrs. Sidney was impossible, and it was almost impossible for me to take the subject up with her. I saw her only for a moment, told her that, being acquainted with the facts, I thought I knew what the conscience of the house would require.

Her world had been destroyed; her light had gone out. She had no pride for herself; she shrank from the possibility of a hurt to Isobel, but I had judged the conscience of the house correctly. She would have protected Mr. Sidney against all the equities and justice in the world—that was her sin in her own esteem. But now he was dead; justice could be done.

I did not want to act without Isobel's knowing what I was doing. I hoped she would approve of what I intended to do, though I intended to do it whether she did or not. I had to tell the story.

"You are right, John," she said. "But how magnificent father was! He was stark Nemesis, the cleanest, purest justice there is!"

She was a bit ecstatic. They teach young ladies too many generalizations. I thought. There was no rhapsody in this; it was ugly.

Jed had one more flash of spirit as he started for the penitentiary.

"moralist!" he said. "Why don't your insignificant conscience be satisfied without doing a lot of damage to be good and? Hang you moralists! You wreck life. Richard Dobson can't live outside the penitentiary. He has no money, no way of making any, no place to go, no friends. You are going to throw him out of his home. You are going to torture him with the knowledge that his life was wasted in prison when he was a free man in law. You are going to destroy the Sidney family."

"Richard Dobson saw his brother," I said, "that night at the pool."

"He saw a ghost," asserted Jed. "Or if he didn't see a ghost, he must want to stay in the penitentiary. If he knew it was his brother, why didn't he demand an inquiry and his freedom? Either because he saw a ghost or he does not want his freedom. You can have it either way you want. You are going to force him out of the only place he has to live, and you are going to give him the tragedy of knowing that his life was wrecked."

"He is a rich man," I said. "Half the old Dobson estate is his. All of it is his. His brother was legally and is now actually dead."

"You are a worse man than I was," said Jed. "I never interfered with Mr. Sidney's scheme of punishment. You are trying to. His scheme was just."

"What's the use of this debate?" I exclaimed. "You are morally incapable of right doing."

"And you are a foolish collection of pious axioms," said Jed.

When we came to the penitentiary entrance, we encountered Morgan of the Metropolitan agency. He stopped me.

"You had me fooled," he said. "I really thought you didn't know."

"I did not know," I said.

"Didn't you?" he exclaimed. "You are here to see Richard Dobson. I followed my hunch. I have the answer to the thing. I know why this man Dobson because you are representing Arthur Dobson."

About Prices Tumbling

A lot is being said about an immediate slump in the price of everything. We fear that this will cause some people to get the wrong impression and conclude that all merchants have been marking up everything while prices were higher.

As a matter of fact, this Store has always had unusual facilities for buying at a very close margin, and we have always sold on the same basis. We have never priced anything sold here at a figure above a small margin of profit, and the customer has always had advantage of our close buying.

We have always quoted from the lowest price and not from the highest. We have never marked goods up to 100 percent in order to make a big discount in selling.

So you may rest assured that the big stock of everything that enters into the wearing apparel of everybody in the average home, carried in this store, has always been sold at a price that was fair to you and fair to us.

Whenever we could make any reduction at all we have promptly passed it on to YOU. And, following this custom, we are now offering you a TEN PERCENT discount on practically everything in this Store, this discount is to be taken from our regular selling prices, and not from any inflated values. For instance, we offer:

J. C. Joy, Plaintiff.
VS.
W. P. Lupton, Defendant.
No. 1188

WHEREAS, by virtue of an order of sale issued out of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 19th day of May, 1919, in favor of the said J. C. Joy and against the said W. P. Lupton, for the sum of $4,180.12, with interest thereon from May 19, 1919, at the rate of 7 percent per annum and costs of suit, and on which judgment there was paid and credited, on July 5, 1919, by the said Lupton, the sum of $600.00, No. 1188 on the docket of said court, commanding me, as Sheriff of said County and State, to seize and sell the following described property as under execution, as the property of the said W. P. Lupton, to-wit: situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and being all of the S. W. 1-4 of Survey No. 75, Certificate No. 921, Original Grantee A. B. & M., in Blk. K-3, containing 160 acres, which said land is located about four miles north of Hereford, Texas.

AND WHEREAS, on the 1st day of October, 1920, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., as Sheriff of said County, I levied said order of sale upon the above described tract of land as the property of the said W. P. Lupton; and on the 2nd day of November, 1920, the same being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of 10:00 o'clock a. m. and 4:00 o'clock p. m., on said day, at the court house door of said County, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, all the right title and interest of the said W. P. Lupton in and to said property.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand on this, the 1st day of October, 1920.

C. S. PURCELL,
Sheriff of Deaf Smith County, Texas.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To The Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County—GREETING:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED,
That you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Deaf Smith if there be a newspaper published therein; but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 69th judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 69th judicial district, for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, Carl Lorenz and R. L. Lorenz who are non-residents of the State of Texas to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Deaf Smith at the Court House thereof, in the City of Hereford on the 1st day of November, 1920, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 4th day of October A. D. 1920, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1208, wherein F. P. McCormick is plaintiff and Carl Lorenz and R. L. Lorenz are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit:

The Plaintiff sues the Defendant, Carl Lorenz, on a special street paving assessment certificate for the sum of $98.50 with 8 percent interest thereon from Nov. 6, 1917, and for $100.00 attorney's fees and for a foreclosure of a Lien securing said paving certificate on Lot No. 17, Blk. No. 11, of the Town of Hereford, in Deaf Smith County, Texas and for costs of suit.

Plaintiff charges that the said certificate was duly and legally issued to the Plaintiff by the City of Hereford, a municipal corporation in Deaf Smith County, Texas, on Oct. 11, 1917.

That the certificate is payable in three equal installments, the first due 30 days after Oct. 6, 1917, and the second and third installments due on or before one and two years from said date, respectively; and that each installment bears int. at the rate of 8 percent per annum from Nov. 6, 1917. That said certificate provides that failure to pay either of said installments shall, at the option of the holder, mature all of said indebtedness, and that on account of the failure to pay the two said first installments, when due, Plaintiff has declared all of said installments due and payable.

That said certificate provides for reasonable attorney's fees to be added in case default is made in the payment of either installment.

That on account of said default, it has become necessary for Plaintiff to employ an attorney to assist him in the collection of said certificate and did employ such attorney and agreed to pay him a reasonable attorney's fees for his services, which Plaintiff charges is $100.00.

That said certificate was issued by the City Commission of the City of Hereford, pursuant to an ordinance passed and adopted by said commission for the purpose of making certain street improvements and was, by said commission, fixed as a Lien against above described property, and a debt and liability against the Defendant, Carl Lorenz, the owner of said property.

That Defendant, R. L. Lorenz, is claiming some right, title or interest in said property, the nature and character of which is unknown to Plaintiff. Plaintiff prays for judgment, for the amount of said certificate, with interest thereon, and for attorney's fees of $100.00 and for foreclosure of said Lien on said property and costs of suit.

HEREIN FAIL NOT. And have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND SEAL OF SAID COURT, at office in Hereford this, the 29th day of Sept., A. D. 1920.
(SEAL) A. O. THOMPSON,
Clerk District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas.

Announcement

We are glad to announce to our customers that we purchased our fall stock of goods last week—since the prices have declined—and are, therefore, in position to sell goods cheaper than those merchants who bought and received their goods earlier in the season. We, therefore, request that before buying anything in the dry goods and clothing line for men, women or children, you come and look at our stock and get our prices. We know that we can save you money now on every article you purchase from us. Our prices are less than many merchants, who are stocked up on high priced goods, are getting for the same merchandise in their special reduction sales. Our prices will make you think that pre-war times have returned. We guarantee to meet any and all price competition. For example we are selling the very best grades of dress gingham made at 35c and 37½c per yard—these formerly sold at 50c per yard. Heavy outings that formerly sold for 50c per yard are now selling at 37½c. These instances will give you an idea about how our prices are now. Can you beat it? Come and investigate before buying.
