

El Paso Lifts Public School Race Barrier

EL PASO (AP)—El Paso has become the first major Texas city to abolish racial segregation in public schools.

The school board voted 6-1 last night to end such segregation here. It ordered desegregation to be effected this fall in time for school opening.

Earlier, the West Texas town of Friona ordered desegregation. State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar said at Austin he thinks some independent school districts inside military reservations have desegregated their schools.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled racial segregation in public schools unconstitutional.

Of the El Paso action, Edgar said:

"All efforts at desegregation will be interesting to watch. I have a lot of respect for the El Paso board, and I am sure they know what they are doing."

"They do a good job, and I do not think they would go into this without considerable study, preparation and understanding of their local situation."

Edgar has advocated local school boards settle desegregation locally without imposition of rules by the state agency.

The school board member who voted against desegregation here was J. F. Hulise.

During the last school year there were 712 Negro pupils in El Paso public schools. There is one Negro school in this metropolitan area of more than 182,000 persons. It takes in all grades from kindergarten through high school.

Local Negro leaders have filed no suit here on segregation in public schools. A suit is pending before U. S. District Court seeking the admission of a Negro to the undergraduate division of Texas Western College here, a branch of the University of Texas.

Land Office Probe Ends In Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—An inquiry into Texas General Land Office operations in this area ended yesterday with more reports of state geophysical inspectors renting personal equipment to exploration companies.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William King said the inquiry team would return to Austin. He said a probe into the leasing of state land would be resumed tomorrow.

Assistants to state Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd spent two days here questioning witnesses in a court of inquiry conducted by Peace Justice W. A. Gilleland. The sessions ended after 21 geophysical inspectors were questioned.

Henry L. Smith of Yoakum testified he could not remember exactly how much money he received from exploration companies he was watching. He said he had rented a motor, barge and tractor for a considerable sum.

Demetrios Chionis of Galveston testified he made $12.50 a day renting pontoons and a motor. Several other inspectors testified earlier they received as much as $300 to $500 a month on equipment rental.

CAPITAL OUTLAYS

City Fathers Work On Bonds Problem

City commissioners hope to arrive at a decision next Tuesday on submission of various bond issues to finance capital improvements.

They expressed this view last night as they gathered informally for a combination business and social gathering at the home of Commissioner Roy Bruce, who presided as chef for an outdoor grilled steak dinner.

For some weeks, the city administration has studied the requirements for capital outlays on several fronts:

(1) Fire stations, which have been practically ordered as a "must" by the State Insurance Commission if the municipality is to hold equitable fire insurance rates;

(2) Park developments, including swimming pools on the North Side, long advocated by a large cross section of the citizenship;

(3) Jail and police building, to provide adequate quarters and permit re-arrangement of the present second-floor space in the City Hall;

(4) Provision for further water expansion, both for filtration capacity and larger and more mains;

(5) Street improvement, including resurfacing of downtown streets and opening various cross streets between Third and Fourth.

Tentatively, issues totaling $375,000 in tax bonds, plus $200,000 in revenue bonds (for the water improvements) have been under study. "Problem before the city fathers now is to see that adequate financing is provided for the various projects without pushing up tax rate requirements any more than is necessary."

The tentative breakdown calls for $175,000 for fire stations (one on the North side, one in the southeast section); $200,000 for jail and police building; and $150,000 for street improvements. An additional $200,000 in water revenue bonds is in the prospect.

Whether each of these items is sufficient within itself is the immediate matter of concern.

Commissioners said they hoped to have more definite cost estimates by next week, so as to arrive at a definite proposition to put before the taxpayers.

Just A Tempest In A Jap Teapot

TOKYO (AP)—Pour that stormy back through the tea leaves again, folks. Something was left out the first time.

A Tokyo dispatch June 14 said the Japanese are drinking more coffee than their traditional green tea.

Well, it's true enough—but only in the nation's booming coffee shops.

A new look at the figures shows this is just a "drop—well, maybe a spoonful—in the nation's teacup. Counting farm, home and coffee shops, here are the annual Japan totals in pounds:

Black tea: 2,400,000
Coffee: 5,000,000
Green tea: 120,000,000
That's a lotta tea.

Hunt Continues For 2 Missing Pilots; 2 Dead

By The Associated Press

A search for two missing pilots continued Wednesday following the deaths of at least two others in plane collisions Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a search for one missing plane resulted in the rescue of a fisherman in the Gulf and the recovery of his companion's body.

Two Air National Guardsmen were killed Tuesday night in a crash near Amarillo's Palo Duro Airport. The men, stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base, were: T. Sgt. Vincent Hansen, 30, Riverdale, Ill.; and S. Sgt. Donald Thomas, 23, Tucson, Ariz. Thomas was practicing landings and takeoffs.

One pilot parachuted to safety and another was missing after the crash of two Air Force jet trainers in an area called "The Wilderness," 25 miles northwest of Del Rio.

The pilot who came down safely from his T35 was 1st Lt. Rollin R. Lerch, 24, Fond du Lac, Wis. An Air Force spokesman said the other pilot, whose name was withheld, apparently parachuted because his "chute wasn't in the wreckage of his plane."

The Civil Air Patrol search that turned up the fisherman was looking for a missing Air Force fighter plane from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin.

The fisherman who was dead when pulled from the water by a crash boat crew from Matagorda Air Force Base was Harris Stagner, retired Victoria business man.

His companion, T. B. Clay, 61, a Victoria tourist court operator, is in Calhoun County Memorial Hospital at Port Lavaca. He suffered shock and exposure.

The pilot of the F4U jet fighter missing in the Gulf area was 1st Lt. Col. Alfred Hearne, 32, Austin, member of the 12th Strategic Fighter wing based at Bergstrom. He was reported missing on a gunnery mission after leaving Bergstrom at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. He was last seen near Matagorda Island, a thin strip that hugs the coast.

The fishermen were sighted in Espiritu Santo Bay, 10 miles west of Port O'Connor.

Clay told Calhoun County officers that he and Stagner had driven to the coast early Tuesday for a day's fishing and were about five miles offshore when a squall struck their skiff about noon.

Clay said the wind and rain squall capsize the skiff. He was able to come up under the boat and cling to it.

He said he did not see Stagner until after several hours of drifting in the shallow bay. Finally, he said, his feet touched bottom and he looked around to see Stagner's body floating nearby. He looped some fishline around it and tied it to the boat.

Steelworkers Union Awaits Wage Offer From Management

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The booming steel industry moved another step closer today to a definite wage offer which may determine whether 600,000 steelworkers will strike.

Three of the industry's top producers have promised a wage hike. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. scheduled resumption of wage talks today with the CIO United Steelworkers.

The three producers who committed themselves this week to pay increases are U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp.

The steelworkers, who now earn an average $2.33 hourly, will be free to strike at midnight June 30 if no agreement is reached.

Sheriff's Records Questioned During Habeas Corpus Hearing

Close questioning of Sheriff Jess Slaughter on keeping of his jail records and handling of prisoners and money collected for the sum developed in 118th District Court Wednesday morning during a habeas corpus proceeding.

The writ was filed by Leonard Howell, Midland attorney in behalf of Pedro Pantoja, who was convicted in county court here last December 23, and assessed a $100 fine and costs of $23.85 on a charge of aggravated assault.

Evidence introduced in the hearing showed that Pantoja's daughter, Mary Pantoja of San Antonio, has sent post office money orders in the amount of $123.85 to Slaughter under date of last January 11. It was further shown that Howell had written Slaughter on June 3, asking return of the fine money; and that Slaughter issued a check to Mary Pantoja for the sum and mailed it to Howell on June 7.

Then, it was shown, Slaughter Tuesday went to Midland and returned Pantoja to jail. This brought on the habeas corpus request.

Subsequent to his original confinement, Pantoja was released, the exact date being a question. Slaughter admitted on the stand that he let Pantoja out "because he had some sick folks in Lubbock," and further said "that he did this at the request of Pete Zuniga, who had promised to see that the prisoner was returned or the fine paid."

Slaughter insisted that Pantoja served "15 or 17 days," but a photostatic copy of the jail record introduced in evidence showed a release date of January 30 "1954."

When the witness and attorneys could not agree on certain entries on the copy, the original jail record was ordered into court. This showed a Jan. 30, 1955, date, and Slaughter was questioned by both Howell and District Attorney Gullford Jones, representing the state, as to changes in the jail records. Slaughter said "Well, we have to go back some time," but asserted "I didn't do nothing" to it, meaning this entry.

Slaughter kept insisting the prisoner had served 17 days, and said Pantoja told him this was the length of time he had served when he was released.

The sheriff then was questioned about receipt of the money orders from Mary Pantoja. He said he "did not know she was going to pay the fine and didn't know what to do with the money." He said that when the money orders

ON ATOM TESTS

U. S. Seeks To Reassure World

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United States "wants all countries to give the U. N. information on atomic tests so the world can see they are not a threat to human health if properly safeguarded."

If everyone agrees to this proposal, it would mean that the Soviet Union and Britain, the only other powers known to have conducted atomic tests, would turn in data on radiation and fall-out. Veteran observers at the U. N. speculated that even with the new Soviet policy of sweetness and cooperation Moscow is not yet likely to submit any important data on nuclear tests.

Results of the fall-out from nuclear tests over the Marshall Islands and in Nevada are known but nothing has been published by the Russians on their nuclear tests.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., permanent U. S. delegate to the U. N., started this latest move in the complicated atomic picture last night by issuing a statement. U. S. sources emphasized, the statement had no relation to the U. N. 10th anniversary celebration—in progress in San Francisco and no bearing on the Big Four conference next month in Geneva.

They said that after consultations with other governments, the United States had decided the time had come for such data to be submitted. It could not be put into effect until after the U. N. Assembly has taken action, if it does, at the next session beginning Sept. 20 in New York.

"Although the best scientific information known to us shows that properly safeguarded nuclear testing, in contrast with nuclear warfare, is not a threat to human health, there has been concern in several parts of the world over the problem of radiation from atomic tests and of its effect upon human health and safety," Lodge said.

'Personal' Reasons Given For Job Exit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert T. Stevens resigned today as secretary of the Army and President Eisenhower nominated Wilbur M. Brucker, general counsel of the Defense Department, to succeed him.

Stevens gave "compelling personal considerations" as his reason for quitting. He was a principal in last year's row between

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and top Pentagon officials, but neither he nor Eisenhower, who accepted the resignation today, made any reference to that spectacular event.

Brucker, a former governor of Michigan, has been general counsel at the Pentagon since April 1954. He will be 61 tomorrow. His home is in Detroit.

The White House announced Stevens' resignation and made public a letter in which the President accepted "with deep regret" just before Eisenhower left on a six-day tour of New England.

Stevens will leave the Pentagon about the end of July. He told Eisenhower he would work out the precise date with Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Wilson, Stevens and Brucker drove with the President from the White House to the airport.

Stevens' resignation came a year after his spectacular clash with McCarthy over the question of alleged subversion in the Army and of asserted favored treatment for a one-time McCarthy aide, Pvt. G. David Schine.

Previously the Army's general counsel, John G. Adams, quit his post in the aftermath of the hearings and so did McCarthy's top aide, Roy M. Cohn. Both Cohn and Adams were principals in the 1954 dispute.

Brucker was governor of Michigan from January, 1951, to the end of December, 1952. Previously he was Michigan's attorney general, and from 1923 to 1927 was prosecuting attorney of Michigan's Saginaw County.

A native of Saginaw, Brucker is a Republican. So is Stevens' classmate, who resigned in 1954.

In his letter of resignation Stevens said he first brought to the attention of the President "a few weeks ago" the personal considerations he said have dictated his decision to resign.

Stevens' letter continued: "I have conferred with Mr. Wilson and believe I can accomplish what you and he desire of me before the end of July."

"If this is satisfactory to you, I will be guided accordingly and work out the precise date of my resignation with Mr. Wilson who, I am sure, will keep you informed."

"I cannot submit my resignation without expressing my profound admiration of your leadership during these last two and a half years and my deep appreciation of the opportunity you accorded me to serve the country and your administration during this same period. I shall always be grateful for this chance to serve our great Army and for your never failing support."

"I leave with real regret. I would like to carry on as a member of your staff. Only personal considerations have decreed it otherwise. I am sure you know that I will always be willing to be of service to you, if the occasion should arise."

Accepting the resignation "with deep regret" Eisenhower said in a letter to Stevens he was "indeed sorry that you find it necessary at this time to return to private life." Eisenhower started his letter "Dear Bob."

The President said Stevens had made a "large personal sacrifice" in continuing as Army secretary, and went on to say:

"As secretary of the Army during the past two and one half years you have contributed extensively to the vital task of reshaping our military forces to conform to the conditions of our time. Secretary Wilson and I have been grateful for your devotion and strong support in carrying it through."

"As you return to private affairs, you carry with you my personal gratitude for your fine service along with every wish for your health and happiness in the years ahead."

Eisenhower signed the letter "With warm regard."

Stevens—his full name is Robert Ten Brock Stevens—is a grey, ruddy-faced man with a quick smile. He took over as boss of the Army on Feb. 2, 1953, right in the middle of the controversy over reported ammunition shortages in Korea.

He promptly flew to the Far East to find out the facts for himself and then he came back and rattled around the country visiting ammunition suppliers and jacking up production.

The ammunition shortage controversy, although it waxed hot for a time, was mild in comparison with Stevens' later controversy with McCarthy.

Summer Advice To Yanks: Just Sweat It Out

By BRUCE HENDERSON
The Associated Press

Summer has once again come to Texas. And for any newly arrived Yanks, this bit of advice: Don't try to fight it.

Just relax and perspire freely and make up your mind summer will be here for a while. It will stay until 1:42 p. m., Sept. 23.

"Adjust," as the psychiatrist say, if you don't, your throbbing blood pressure has only you to blame.

Summer slipped into Texas at 10:32 p. m. Tuesday under cover of roving thunderstorms. Two "thunderbustlers" hit Austin, disrupted power and causing minor wind and rain damage. The Austin Weather Bureau measured .40 inch, but as much as .80 inch was recorded at other points in the city.

Early Wednesday, thunderstorms which cooled big patches of Texas in recent days had become more isolated. Lubbock had a shower. And you could see winking lightning from Amarillo, Childress and Midland.

The Weather Bureau forecast more isolated showers but said a low barometric pressure center which spawned cloudburst rains had faded.

Overnight minimum temperatures ranged from 60 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart to Corpus Christi's 77.

Rainfall reported to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Dallas included: Victoria .47 of an inch, Houston .02 and Corpus Christi .01.

If Texas' 1955 summer holds true to form, things won't really start getting interesting until around the middle of July. That's when thermometers begin topping the 100-degree mark regularly, when folks who aren't too careful get too much sun and keel over.

Molotov Urges United Nations To Help 'Cement' World Peace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today called upon the United Nations to dedicate itself to the task of cementing world peace.

He declared the Soviet Union would do all it could to support the U. N. in his endeavor.

"We are now entering a new decade," Molotov said.

"The responsibility of the United Nations for the future of the nations, for peace and the welfare of mankind has never been greater."

"Every act of the United Nations should be imbued with the realization of that high responsibility," he declared.

"The United Nations should do all it can to put an end to existing international tension and to facilitate the achieving of mutual trust among the nations, an achievement which would meet the desires of the peoples for peace and for a tranquil and peaceful life."

Molotov, apparently seeking to avoid a controversy, did not make a specific demand for a formal peace declaration by the anniversary meeting. He had found Western opposition to any formal action.

Molotov spoke after Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, a former president of the U. N. General Assembly, urged the 60 nations to approve a peace pledge to be known as "the San Francisco Declaration."

As the session went into its third day, there appeared to be little doubt some form of peace declaration would be approved. The main problems were procedure and form.

In private talks, Molotov has said he wants the 60 nations to adopt a unanimous resolution urging all-out peace efforts.

Western diplomats call this a propaganda move. They have indicated, however, that they would agree to a declaration by Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens of the Netherlands, General Assembly president, saying that the delegations here unanimously support all peace attempts. This would not require a formal vote.

The question was: Would Molotov drop his demand for a formal action and agree to the Western suggestion for an informal approach? If so, the meeting would continue, to reflect the new atmosphere of apparently diminishing tension which was the keynote of its opening sessions.

Western diplomats were as much interested in the tone of Molotov's speech as in its content because of the significance it might have in relation to the summit meeting in Geneva next month.

President Eisenhower, in opening the U. N. meetings Monday, pledged that the United States would do everything possible to make the Big Four talks a success.

Molotov first brought up the peace resolution in a private meeting with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold last Sunday. Later he mentioned it to Van Kleffens. Both told him they did not feel that the San Francisco meeting was the place to adopt resolutions.

Scelba, Entire Cabinet Quit In Italian Crisis

ROME (U) — Premier Mario Scelba today turned in the resignation of the coalition government with which for 15 months he has battled Italian communism and backed the West.

Even as Scelba was closeted with President Giovanni Gronchi in the Quirinale Palace, a communique from this morning's heated Cabinet session said:

The Council of Ministers agreed unanimously on the presentation to the President of the resignations of the entire Cabinet.

Scelba remained in the presidential palace an hour. The tough little Sicilian Premier came out visibly moved.

"I have handed it in," he told reporters.

"I have done my duty. I leave with perfect serenity."

He expressed his hope that "the crisis may now be soon resolved."

As usual, there was no immediate word whether Gronchi would accept the resignation.

Scelba's government came to a crisis last night when his own big Christian Democrat party walked out on his coalition and one of his rebellious minor party allies refused to return to the fold.

The rift in the Christian Democrat party apparently was a fight for power between groups led by Scelba, party Secretary General Amintore Fanfani and former Premier Giuseppe Pella.

Pella and his group want to try a one-party Cabinet. Social Democrat Giuseppe Saragat, vice premier in Scelba's Cabinet, charged angrily that they had caused the crisis by making a deal with the Monarchist-Fascist Right.

If Gronchi refuses to accept the resignations, Scelba will face a test of confidence in Parliament immediately, with his own party split in a revolt against him.

His vice premier, Social Democrat Giuseppe Saragat, said splitting off Rightist groups of Christian Democrats had made a deal with the Monarchist-Fascist Right.

There was no indication when Gronchi might pick to attempt to form a new government. Presumably the nod will go to Scelba's own Christian Democrat party, by far largest single faction in Parliament. But the President must choose between the right and left wings, which are badly split.

Despite last-minute efforts to patch up his government by reshuffling some Cabinet posts, Scelba was doomed last night when his party's directorate announced "with regret" that the attempt had failed.

The Christian Democrat communique said the party high command held "that the reshuffle cannot be considered—at the present state of things—as a sufficient means for reconstituting the understanding between the parties of the Democratic coalition."

The party leaders officially blamed the failure on the refusal of the small Republican party to promise support for the government in a parliamentary confidence vote scheduled tomorrow.

But the key factor really was the split in the Christian Democratic ranks and especially the opposition to Scelba from the right wing.

With his party holding only 262 of the 590 Chamber of Deputies seats—far short of a majority—Scelba has relied on a coalition with three minor center parties for the votes necessary to put his policies over.

The Rightist Christian Democrats headed by ex-Premier Giuseppe Pella, want to do away with the coalition and form a Cabinet only from their own party, presumably relying on the 39 Monarchists in the Chamber for the needed votes. This group has been after Scelba's scalp for months.

Scelba's coalition also has been running into opposition from left-wing Christian Democrats, who favor an "opening toward the left"—a tieup with the fellow-traveling left-wing Socialists headed by Pietro Nenni.

President Gronchi is a member of this wing. There was some speculation that he might pick a Christian Democrat agreeing with his views as a premier-designate.

The announcement by the Christian Democrat directorate came as a surprise since Scelba had been considered to have a fair chance of succeeding in his attempt to strengthen his coalition.

The Republicans, with five Chamber seats, were the smallest of the center parties that lined up with Scelba when he became premier in March 1954. They split with the government three months ago on a land reform question. Scelba tried to woo them back but the party turned down his proposals last Sunday.

Scelba presumably could have survived tomorrow's vote without Republican support if his own party and the other coalition members stood firm behind him. This would have given him 299 votes to the combined opposition's 286.

But faced with mounting internal rebellion, the Christian Democrat directors deserted him in hopes of preserving party unity.

Powell Shifts, Accuses House Of 'Dishonest' Compromise

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Powell (D-NY), in a reversal of position, today accused House leaders of trying to force through a "dishonest" compromise, military reserve bill that would bypass his anti-segregation amendments.

Powell, whose amendments have stalled President Eisenhower's reserve program in the House, said he has withdrawn his previously announced support of compromise proposals and will fight them.

He said in an interview this switch was prompted by a prediction made by House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts. Leaving the White House yesterday, Martin said he expected the final reserve bill to come close to the measure originally asked by Eisenhower.

The President has publicly indicated his disapproval of the attaching of anti-segregation riders to such legislation as the reserve bill.

A compromise has been proposed by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.). Martin described Eisenhower yesterday as "not too pleased" with the Vinson bill.

Members of the House Armed Services Committee rebuffed Vinson, their chairman, yesterday and voted 16-14 to send the bill to a subcommittee for polishing. Vinson had urged the full committee to approve the compromise at once.

Interviewed after the weekly meeting of Republican congressional leaders with Eisenhower, Martin said the final version of the bill to strengthen the reserves would be worked out in separate House and Senate action, then in a conference of the two houses.

Martin also said the President wanted a bill providing for more reserve expansion than would come about under the Vinson bill.

Powell said Martin's outline of strategy meant that the final bill would contain features he is opposing—assignment of reservists to National Guard units and some provisions construed to contain elements of universal military training.

The month long House impasse was created by adoption of Powell's amendment to bar assignment of reservists to National Guard units practicing segregation. The Vinson compromise would eliminate all reference to the Guard. Powell originally hailed this as a "clear-cut victory for me."

Powell said he accepted the Vinson measure "as a sincere compromise. But if the Senate can take care of these features, this is nothing but a subterfuge and a dishonest attempt to win our votes" in the House.

Powell said he would fight all compromises unless given assurances the final bill will eliminate the National Guard and other provisions he is opposing. Because opponents of various elements of the reserve program are backing him, Powell's stand could be significant.

The Vinson bill would eliminate various provisions backed by Eisenhower, including a proposed

Sen. Johnson Promises Fight For U. S. Worker Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said today Senate Democratic conferees would fight to give the million rank-and-file federal employes an 8 per cent pay raise.

The half million postal workers already have been given a raise averaging 8 per cent.

Johnston, who heads the Senate conferees, commented in advance of a meeting of a Senate-House committee on the pay issue.

There were reports the White House was seeking to have the raise held to the 7 1/2 per cent vote by the House Monday. The Senate voted a 10 per cent pay raise.

Johnston tacitly conceded he did not expect anything more than 8 per cent. But he said:

"I do not see how it would be fair to give the classified employes less than we gave the postal employes. And I do not see how the President can veto an 8 per cent bill when he approved that amount for the postal workers."

A Republican senator who asked not to be named noted, however, that the 8 per cent for the postal employees was an average. Actually, each worker got at least 6 per cent. Then there was a job reclassification provision which meant 2 per cent additional, but this will be distributed unevenly so that some will get more than 8 per cent, others less.

"If we give all of the classified employes 8 per cent, then some of the postal workers who got less than that are going to be right back asking for more," said the Republican.

Oil Man Says Repressuring To Double Output In Scurry Field

The secondary recovery project in the Kelly Snyder oil field is expected to double production of the field in the next 40 years.

As put by Hicks Allen, general manager of the Scurry Area Canyon Reef Operators Committee, the operation will be the equivalent of the discovery of another Kelly Snyder field in the area. The field is near Lake J. B. Thomas in Scurry County and the Canyon Reef is being injected with water from the lake reservoir to keep bottom hole pressure up and the gas-oil ratio down.

Allen, speaking at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, said the SACROC project, which started pumping water into the reef on Jan. 21, 1954, already has "definitely stopped the decline" in gas pressure and oil production.

The SACROC manager traced the history of the unutilized repressuring project and told of plans to eventually recover around 1.4 billion barrels of the 2.3 the reef is believed to contain. He said that 99 per cent of owners and operators in the field are participating in the secondary recovery, which consists of replacing lost gas pressure with water (and gas).

At the present, Allen said, 215 former oil wells have been shut down in the field and are being used to inject water into the formation. By August, this number will be increased to 348 wells as the injection program is expanded. Production allowances of the wells have been transferred to other producers, with the various royalty owners and operators getting their interests as a percentage of the total production, Allen explained.

Water from Lake J. B. Thomas is being injected into the reef at the rate of 120,000 barrels per day. About 106,000 barrels of oil are being withdrawn daily; consequently, the injected water is taking the place of the oil with an excess of 14,000 barrels daily going to re-build pressures in the reef.

Allen showed results of bottom hole pressure surveys conducted at intervals since the Kelly-Snyder field was opened in 1948. The surveys showed bottom hole pressures declining steadily up to September of 1954 when the water injection operation stopped the decline and slowly started rebuilding the pressures.

Allen said that 348 owners, 81 operators and 3,000 royalty holders are represented by the SACROC.

The speaker was introduced by George Oldham, who said the program was arranged by E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District which owns Lake J. B. Thomas. Spence was unable to attend.

Other guests were Dewey Mark, Handley Driver and W. C. Blankenship Jr.

Allen, a San Angoleon now residing in Snyder, formerly was city manager at Corpus Christi and has worked in various capacities in the oil industry.

Wealthy Recluse Distributes Riches

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (U. S. — Ellen Cubbins was a rich recluse. People called her a miser.

She died at 80, leaving an estate worth $50,000 pounds ($2,380,000). And this is how she distributed the money:

40,000 pounds ($1,120,000), four houses and a small castle to her nurse, Jimima Campbell.

10,000 pounds ($238,000) to John Symonds, skipper of her 800-ton yacht.

The yacht itself to an orphanage along with 70,000 pounds ($196,000) to help train boys for the sea.

Her 15-room mansion to the city of Liverpool along with 80,000 pounds ($224,000) to make it a holiday home for children.

100,000 pounds ($238,000), to buy four lifeboats and a fire engine for the Isle of Man.

The rest will be split among friends and more than a score of charities—churches, museums and societies protecting children and animals.

All the bequests carry one condition: they must commemorate the name of her son Robert Colby Cubbins. He died two years ago at 47.

"A lot of unkind things were said about her," said nurse Campbell today. "People called her a miser. But she was one of the most generous women in the world. She gave away thousands of pounds before her death. And she always gave it anonymously."

AFROTC Cadets To Start Training

More than 100 ROTC cadets will get down to the business of training to be Air Force officers Thursday, and 24 of the students will get their first taste of flight training during the day.

The cadets, who arrived at Webb Air Force Base Sunday from eight colleges and universities in six different states, have spent the first part of the week getting acquainted with the base, taking physical examinations, and in other preliminary activities.

Their encampment here will consume four weeks, during which they will receive both academic and flight training, along with drill in strictly military subjects.

The academic instruction will be held to a minimum this year, according to Lt. Elden Clayton, information officer for the camp. Instead of spending their time in classrooms, the cadets will be conducted to all sections of the base where they will learn by observing actual operations.

Twenty-four of the cadets will receive their first flights Thursday in T28's. Before the encampment is ended, all of the students will receive indoctrination flights in both the T28 and T33 planes at Webb. Those applying and qualifying physically for flight training probably will become regular Air Force cadets in from four to six weeks.

Successful completion of their ROTC training at Webb will qualify the cadets for reserve commissions in the Air Force if they already have finished their college work. Most of those in the group, however, still lack a year of school.

A western barbecue is on tap for the cadets Saturday at the ranch of Lee Hanson, Big Spring. Next Tuesday the entire group will go to Reese AFB, Lubbock, to see a demonstration of formation flying proficiency by the Thunderbirds, Air Training Command flying team which has performed at Webb several times.

Five permanent officers at Webb and a number of officers in charge of ROTC detachments at the various colleges are in charge of the encampment.

The officer staff includes Lt. Col. Gerard Rooney, WAFB, commandant; Lt. Carlton R. Virden, WAFB, assistant; Maj. Bradford E. Dalton, University of New Mexico, ROTC, tactical officer; Lt. L. W. Cone, St. Louis University, adjutant; Capt. Frederick H. Knarr, Miami, O., University, tactical officer; Capt. Floyd A. Creech, University of Tulsa, tactical officer; Lt. Oliver E. Schmoker, WAFB, supply officer; Lt. Theodore M. Ball, WAFB, tactical officer; and Lt. Clayton, information officer.

Cadet officers will be appointed from the group on the basis of their performance while at Webb. The cadet staff will be changed each week, with new officers taking over each Monday.

Schools represented by the cadets are Notre Dame, Purdue, University of Detroit, Tulane, Michigan State, Bradley Tech, Western Kentucky State, and Colorado State.

Right Man But Wrong Name

PETERSBURG, Va. (U. S. — Police admitted here today there was a case of mistaken identity in last week's arrest of a man for stopping at a red light that wasn't there.

At the time, police identified a driver who stopped at a non-existent traffic light as Charles Henry Turner, 22, of Moberly, Mo. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days for drunk driving.

Police Chief W. E. Traylor said today, however, he has received a letter from a Charles Henry Turner in Moberly, Mo., in which Turner said his car and credentials were stolen there early in May. He said he had been embarrassed because of publicity given the stop-light incident.

Traylor said the man arrested here now has given his name as James M. O'Connor of Chicago. He has been charged with suspicion of a felony and his case turned over to the FBI.

Operator Is The Most Deadly

That was a poignant little story from Richmond, Va., over the weekend, the bare bones of which ran like this: Three sisters aged 87, 85 and 75 had motored down to Dunn, N. C., to attend the wedding of one sister's granddaughter to an Air Force lieutenant last Saturday. Near the end of one of the happiest days of their lives, and within minutes of home on the return journey, their car collided with a tractor-trailer and all three were killed.

A traffic accident is no respecter of persons. It can overtake anybody almost anywhere in the proverbial "twinkling of an eye."

A simple "little jaunt in the car" has become a project, a major expedition, these days, with disaster lying in wait for those who travel. And as often as not the victims have had nothing to do with the errors of judgment, the carelessness and the recklessness that killed or crippled them.

Keeping the car in good mechanical order may be a matter of life or death. A stitch in time may save nine lives. Keeping a motor vehicle in good mechanical order, from tires to transmission, from headlight to taillight should be what the military calls SOP—standard operating procedure.

Yet mechanical failures figure in accidents seldom. It is the person at the wheel and how well he does his job that counts in the scales of safe operation. A split second of inattention at the wheel can add up to tragedy. Obeying the rules can and does save lives and property. The rules are of two kinds (1) those made into law for the protection of everyone, and (2) those of common sense which operate at all times even when the cop isn't looking.

Driving too fast for conditions is the biggest killer of them all. Just because the law says 60 miles is legal doesn't mean it is safe if the road is crowded or the pavement wet and slippery. That is when the law of common sense says to slow down—and live.

The operator of a motor vehicle is in charge of a deadly weapon unless he handles it properly and carefully. That is largely up to him and his conscience. He has a moral as well as a legal responsibility for his acts.

Newspaper People Not Exactly Nuts

The annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors was told at its recent Washington conference that "forward-looking newspapers are employing personnel directors and giving intelligence tests to prospective employees."

The St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times went even further. It had its entire editorial staff psychoanalyzed. It was found that while editors scored higher than reporters in skill with words, the reporters laid the higher editorial brass in the shade when it came to social aggressiveness, whatever that is. Some were found to be misanthropes in the editorial department, but gave promise of being good mechanics. These, we take it, make up the upper ten per cent of the staff, for really good mechanics don't grow on trees.

But for the consolation of editorial workers generally, the tests proved they were not "screwballs," but "more normal than what is accounted as normal." Of course, some people might be tempted to lift an eyebrow and say, "Oh, yeah?" with that certain rising inflection, but after years of association with editorial workers of both sexes we have no doubt this is a fair assessment of their quality. In the matter of loyalty and faithfulness to trust, we'd put them somewhere near the top.

In no profession do the faults of sloppy or careless work show up with more relentless inevitability, for reporters operate in what amounts to a goldfish bowl, under high pressure, and with a lively sense of responsibility. Because he must work under pressure of time, and within the limitations of space, some of his worst goods are traceable to his sources of information which he hasn't the time to verify in all respects.

Molotov's Duplicity Recalled At Parley

SAN FRANCISCO — We sat here ten years ago — many of the same writers, many of the same statesmen, when the United Nations was born of a great hope that mankind might develop a conscience and abandon bloodshed as a means of settling international disputes.

We are here again but this time there are some empty chairs — some of them we shall not miss and some have left an indelible impression. And there is one chair some of us wish were empty for it is occupied by an international figure whose record as a master of intrigue and duplicity in the last twenty-five years has no parallel in history.

But, first, the men we miss — the late Arthur Vandenberg, and Anthony Eden, then Foreign Secretary but now Prime Minister of Great Britain. It was the kindly, thoughtful, practical, unpartisan senator from Michigan who managed to contribute to the charter of the United Nations its most useful article whereby any dispute anywhere in the world may be brought up for discussion at any time — an indispensable instrument for the mobilization of moral force.

Then there was the private chats some of us had with Anthony Eden who today is absent because he has become Prime Minister of Great Britain. One night he talked eloquently about American leadership and sounded a warning that we must not let down our guard where Soviet Russia was concerned. How prophetic were his confidential comments!

The late Edward R. Stettinius was our Secretary of State — a conscientious, earnest, loyal but glib man who, when he died, still had not learned the whole story of the faithfulness of Alger Hiss — his right-hand man here.

But as a record of intrigue in world affairs is examined, it is Molotov who takes the prize as the archconspirator of all times. When he presided here ten years ago as one of the co-chairmen of the first United Nations meeting he already had double-crossed friendly governments and allies. Since 1945 he has played an even more treacherous game.

Many people have forgotten the record of the man with whom the foreign ministers of Great Britain, France and the United States will again attempt to do business this very week.

Through the spring and summer of 1939, Molotov kidded Eden along about the possibility of making a mutual defense treaty between Britain and Soviet Russia, but at the same time the Soviet conspirator was secretly negotiating with Hitler. The Soviet alliance with Hitler made it possible for the Nazis to turn toward the West in September 1939.

The Molotov strategy, however, was not to honor the agreement with Hitler, but to grab off chunks of territory — Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania — with which countries the Soviet Union also had non-aggression treaties. Molotov wanted territory from Finland and under Stalin's guidance, was reaching into the Balkans for more territory when Hitler couldn't stand it any longer and decided to defend himself against a faithless ally.

Molotov and Stalin went into the war in 1939 to enlarge the Soviet empire, and joined the Western Powers in 1941 only to defeat Hitler in order to get an even greater sphere of influence in both Europe and Asia.

The doublecrosses by Molotov in the period since the close of World War II are too recent to dwell on here. The record shows that in diplomacy he is unscrupulous, that his pledges are meaningless and that he reflects accurately the Communist philosophy which justifies deceit and treachery as a means to an end. His chair should long ago have been declared empty — and the United Nations then would today stand for a great moral principle instead of a frustrated hope.

Science To Simplify The Kitchen

NEW YORK — The food industry plans to take still more of the drudgery out of kitchen work. It counts on using the atom to make better food and automation to provide cheaper food.

Americans will spend for food about 65 billion dollars this year — four times as much as before the war. Even allowing for dollar devaluation, that's still twice as much as 15 years ago.

Leaders of The Grocery Manufacturers of America, say these things are in store for us:

Lower prices can be achieved through greater production. They believe new machinery and new methods should boost production by cutting present high costs.

The revolution in the kitchen is to continue and may be speeded up in the near future. What the industry calls convenience foods have brought about the revolution. Packaged foods that eliminate the kitchen drudgery by preparing vegetables and fruit and even meats ahead of time are to be increased in number and volume.

Since World War II processed foods have increased 45 per cent — while population climbed 15 per cent.

Research is going to be the watchword of the industry from now, in the opinion of GMA's president, Paul S. Willis. He describes some of the projects under consideration now as "breathtaking."

Atomic radiation is expected to play a double role. First, it's believed that in the years ahead radio activity will show the farmer how to produce better food stuffs, and more cheaply. It is also counted upon to combat the insects and disease that plague the farmer now. Second, atomic science is expected to have a major impact on food processing.

There is a good chance that soon manufacturers will be exposing various foods to atomic radiation to eliminate bacteria and thereby greatly increase shelf life of their products.

Crash Sequel

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Writer Perry Covert submitted an idea for a magazine article, "I Survived Three Air Crashes."

Next day he flew to nearby Escondido, Mexico, crashed, and lay in a coma for a week.

Released from the hospital after 14 weeks, Covert wrote to the magazine again. This time his story title idea was: "I Survived Four Air Crashes."

Competition Management's Weak Spot

WASHINGTON — Walter Reuther made the auto giants squirm by tackling them separately. They're so competitive they'd probably rather continue to squirm separately than work together to block Reuther.

Henry Ford II suggested this week the auto makers should force Reuther into industrywide bargaining so he'd have to deal with them all at the same time.

General Motors made no comment but reportedly is opposed to Ford's idea. Reuther, the CIO auto workers' president, said his union was against it.

If the auto makers, under Ford's industrywide bargaining plan, balked at some future demand of Reuther and his union struck, all plants would be shut down simultaneously with no company having a competitive advantage over another.

As it is now, with company-by-company bargaining, one after the other, Reuther can play off one against the other. He has done it consistently, and again this year in his negotiations with Ford and GM.

He put the heat on Ford first. Ford, in the greatest race of its history, to outsell GM's Chevrolet, could ill afford a strike while GM was left free to pump out Chevrolet. Ford suggested this. This put GM over a competitive barrel.

If it balked at Reuther's demands—the same ones he made on Ford—and forced a strike, it would not only lose out in the Chevrolet race against Ford but would lose on the sales of its other cars. It signed up in short order.

The most sensational issue in the two negotiations was the guaranteed layoff pay, which Reuther calls a guaranteed wage, and which the companies themselves refer to as supplemental pay for laid-off workers.

The companies agreed to give any of their employees thrown out of work some pay for a maximum of 26 weeks to supplement state unemployment benefits.

It's just possible—judging from what GM's Vice President Harry W. Anderson said, although his words were ambiguous—that GM might have balked at the guaranteed layoff pay, even if it meant a strike, if Ford hadn't first agreed to it.

After the GM negotiations Anderson told Reuther: "Walter, we had a lot of disagreements in there... but I do want to congratulate you on your judgment in going somewhere else (to Ford) first to get it (the guaranteed layoff pay)." GM might have struggled harder to give less than Ford agreed to, but probably not hard enough to cause a strike. What they gave Reuther was far less than he demanded.

Girl Learns Meaning Of Life—And Death

LONG VALLEY, N. J. — It was an ordinary Sunday outside the big cool dairy barn. The dressed up people from the city enjoyed the sunny countryside.

Inside the big cool dairy barn it was even more of an ordinary day. Cows have no Sunday. The daily drama of life and death among the herd went on unchanged except for one thing.

There was a young girl who saw the drama for the first time. The events of the day changed her. I am sure, forever.

The three cows involved were numbered 204 and 140 and 219—and the first was old and through, the second was young and having her first calf, and the third was middle-aged and having maybe her third or fourth calf.

No. 204 was at the head of the barn and lying, too weary to get up, with her head in its stanchion. She was 14, very old for a cow. Her milk had nourished a thousand distant children she had never seen. But now she lay there, unprotestingly, waiting for the slaughterer's truck to come and take her away.

During the morning No. 140, the young heifer, delivered her first calf after a rugged ordeal. Worn out by the struggle and oblivious to the responsibilities of motherhood, she wandered away from her sprawling weak tan calf.

A group of summer residents who came down to see the calf found that No. 219, the middle-aged cow, had taken up the duties of the confused young mother. She was carefully and methodically cleaning the sprawling calf with her tongue, as animals do.

Suddenly it became apparent the middle-aged cow's own ordeal of maternity was at hand. One of the men turned to a young girl, his niece, and said:

"If you're going to get back to the city before the traffic ties you up, you'd better leave now."

"I've never seen anything born before," she said. "I want to stay."

"But, it may be hours," he said. "You can't tell."

"Just for a little while," she pleaded. "Then I'll be off."

Her uncle and the others left and the young girl was alone in the filtered light of the barn, sweet with the deep rich scent of hay and animal bodies. Old cow No. 204, a factory worn out, glanced at her with the idle and placid non-interest of age.

The young girl knelt beside No. 219. The miracle of approaching birth made the two one. She knit her fingers and tugged at them tensely in unconscious rhythm with the laboring cow.

"Please," she whispered. "Try again, Harder."

All at once they were three—or almost three. The calf was half-born. Then something was wrong.

"Please, please, please!" cried the girl. She heard a noise. Two dairy hands had come into the far end of the dairy barn.

"Quick!" she cried. "The calf is strangling!"

The two men ran up. One grabbed a rope. With it they completed the rough obstetrics of the farm, and the calf was delivered, its forehooves raised to his muzzle in the posture of prayer.

The calf lay there—warm, wet and motionless. One workman bent and wiped its muzzle to clear the nostrils, then massaged its ribs in an attempt at artificial respiration. The calf lay still.

"But I saw its eyes move," said the girl. "If I could have called you in time..."

The rough workmen looked up at her, puzzled. A calf is $20, more or less, and they come often on a big dairy farm.

"I don't think so," said one of the men, not unkindly. "These things happen, you know."

As one of the men dragged the dead calf away, mother cow No. 219 let out a bellow of anguish that had a human ring of despair in it, and crashed into a chain barrier. She wandered about wildly for a moment, then lowered her head and again began licking the living calf of cow No. 140, the bewildered young heifer who hadn't yet risen to the chores of motherhood.

The young girl got into her car. "But I saw its eyes move," she said, half crying. "If I could have just..."

She turned the car and headed it toward the city. She had seen the sadness of death taking life at the portal of birth, and she would always remember this Sunday, just another ordinary day on a busy farm.

Delay To Make Parks More Costly

Let me quote from an article in Christian Science Monitor by Jane Loyal. Writing from Washington, she pointed out that the days of conquering the wilderness were past, that "today Americans must plan carefully to conserve the open spaces, woods and parks, for their outdoor recreation... the cities and suburbs are closing in on us fast."

Continuing, she pointed out how some localities and states were setting aside areas for future development even though it was impossible to attend to their improvement now.

"As population pressures vastly extend the American cities and suburbs, systematic advance 'set-asides' of recreational areas are an urgent necessity," she concluded. "Only thus will tomorrow's citizens have sufficient breathing space in the great outdoors."

Although she was speaking nationally, she has put her finger on a pressing local need.

We do not have adequate park facilities for Big Spring. There was a brief period a number of years ago when we came abreast of demands, but since then population and leisure time have increased sharply. Parks have not.

It is my personal and fervent plea that something be done toward providing more capital funds for park location and development. I think that one very concrete possibility is to include the matter of parks in the list of proposed items on which the public will be asked to pass in a forthcoming municipal bond election. I think that such an issue goes hand in hand with other improvements. They are necessary and vital; I think that parks are equally as necessary and vital.

The City Park is taxed to capacity — and then some. Birdwell or Memorial Park, north of 10th between Goliad and State, is being brought into use, but oh so slowly, due to lack of funds. The North Side Park, in northwest Big Spring, doesn't have a whole lot to entitle it to that designation. Resources are limited at the West Side playground. Need of one of two swimming pools in the northern part of town is being talked; actually the south side could stand another. As the city spreads, there will be need of more parks and playgrounds.

If we cannot now afford to acquire sites, even on a "set-aside" basis, when there is nothing on the land, how much more impossible will it be to secure sites when they are covered with improvements?

Unfortunately, parks are one of those services which do not provide revenue, at least in a direct sense or in appreciable amount. Hence, it is too easy to look upon them as luxuries. Well, so are yards with trees and grass, but who wants a community without them?

Not all this is the responsibility of Big Spring, but undoubtedly there are some spots in Howard County which would lend themselves ideally to improvements for park purposes. These would be more accessible to rural residents; they would prove popular with urban dwellers, too. This is something that may be explored more at leisure than the situation within the city's sphere. For those of us in the town the problem has a touch of urgency. I have a feeling that if the people are not given an opportunity now to pass on parks along with other civic improvements, our parks will lag inexorably further and further behind the need.

Marquis Childs

Memphis Mad At Ike Over Dixon-Yates

(While Marquis Childs is on vacation, his column will be replaced by that of Washington columnist Thomas L. Stokes.)

WASHINGTON — Thus far in his two and a half years in the White House, President Eisenhower has avoided a real scrap such as most Presidents encounter.

It looks as if he's headed for one now, and with an antagonist that is unique. In his case, it is a city that sits along the bluffs of the Mississippi way down South. Memphis is full of a lot of folks who are mad at the President — and so, in fact, is the whole state of Tennessee that stretches to the east of Memphis.

The trouble involves what the President calls his "partnership power program," which he explains as a partnership between the Federal government, on one hand, and local government or local private interests, on the other, to develop water resources. The mistake, so far as the folks in Memphis are concerned, is in the "local" partners who enjoy the President's favor.

They are a couple of gentlemen out of New Jersey well connected with Wall Street by name of Edgar H. Dixon, president of Middle South Utilities, and Eugene A. Yates, president of the Southern Company. You will recognize here the famous Dixon-Yates team which, in some mysterious way still unexplained, was commissioned by the government through the Budget Bureau and the Atomic Energy Commission for this circuitous piece of private enterprise: to build a power plant in West Memphis, in Arkansas, to produce electricity which would then be transmitted across the Mississippi River and fed into the TVA system at Memphis — which has been served by TVA for years — so that the TVA then, in turn, can divert power it formerly supplied to Memphis to an AEC installation at Paducah, Ky.

A "local interest" here is Memphis, Tenn., and the folks who live there. It is they whom the President has ignored and affronted. They can see no reason whatever for this strange arrangement. They don't want Dixon-Yates coming into Memphis. They voted the private utilities out 16 years ago, back in 1929, in a referendum that went 18 to 1, to get electricity from TVA.

But now the House of Representatives here has voted $64 million for the transmission line to bring power from the middle of the Mississippi River into Memphis, thus completing a line from the projected Dixon-Yates plant in Arkansas. Democrats in the House lost in their attempt to eliminate this transmission line from the Public Works Appropriation bill and use the funds instead for an additional TVA steam plant at Fulton, Tenn.

If the Public Works Appropriation Bill is submitted to the Senate with the transmission line still in it and without funds for additional TVA facilities, then the City of Memphis will announce that she will build her own steam plant. Memphis means business. Already the legislature has authorized the city to issue bonds for this purpose. City officials would hope that the Memphis plant would be an integral part of TVA, which may require further action by the legislature; but, if this is not worked out, then she will operate it as an independent plant which would mean a bigger and more expensive plant than if it were integrated with TVA. A Memphis plant would stop any Dixon-Yates invasion of Tennessee and the TVA.

A few weeks ago at a news conference, the President said it was all right with him if Memphis built her own plant. It is unlikely that he believed then that the city would, for subsequently he called orders to force the Dixon-Yates scheme on Memphis.

Hollywood Review

Liberace Becomes A Lover On The Screen

HOLLYWOOD — Liberace has met the challenge of big-screen movies, kissing scenes and all.

So far in his professional career, the candelabra king hasn't been allowed much more affection than kissing his mother on the forehead. But now he's making his first starring movie, "Sincerely Yours," and you know how Hollywood can change things.

Oh, he's getting the romance, all right. His amours in the film are brown-haired beauty Joanne Dru and Dorothy Malone, the shapely blonde who sizzled the screens in "Battle Cry."

His first screen kiss was with Miss Malone, and it was a lulu.

"We had to hold it while the camera panned over to William Demarest and Joanne," he said. "Then the camera panned back to us, still kissing. Wow!"

But his kiss with Joanne was even more notable.

"For three days, her neck had been out of joint and she had been having massages for it," he related. "When I grabbed her and kissed her, I heard a strange noise — you can even hear it on the sound track. It turned out I had put her neck back in joint."

How some of Liberace's possessive fans go for all this smooching remains to be seen. But at least they will be satisfied in seeing a lot of him in the picture.

Liberace plays a popular pianist, but not really Liberace. At least Mom is missing. George, too. The story shows him afflicted with partial deafness, at the beginning of the picture. Toward the end, he faces an operation that will either restore his hearing or make him completely deaf. You can guess how it turns out.

Oh, yes, he also garners Miss Dru at the fadeout, having managed to elude Miss Malone.

Director Gordon Douglas reported that Liberace's performance is going to surprise a lot of people.

"I had him do two weeks of piano scenes," the director remarked. "I thought it would be a good way of breaking in. His performance had been remarkable. He had one crying scene that is terrific."

The Tarzan Marketing Association is giving its annual barbecue at 5:00. Besides the food, there will be an election of some new directors and a dash of hillbilly music.

The TMA started a few years ago when some returning G. I. farmers decided to form an organization to secure bracero labor. Since then the association has grown both in numbers and power until it is one of the most efficient farm groups in Texas. They not only transport their own labor, but they buy fertilizers, insecticides and planting seed direct from wholesalers. As a result of this working together on farm problems, the group is now possibly raising more cotton to the acre than any groups of farmers in West Texas.

A swing through Luther and Vealmoor communities shows a pattern of varying crop conditions. Most of Luther is still dry, while Vealmoor has been getting more rain than they needed. The feed crop is better in the latter community, but there is not much difference in the cotton.

As Luther J. W. Kilpatrick says the cotton on the low spots is making some growth, but that on the rest of the land is barely holding its own.

"It's been a peculiar year," he said. "After every little shower, we've got to cultivate or scratch the cotton land to hold down blowing."

Dawson County possibly has a better crop than either Howard or Martin County. Most of the land in the central and east side is planted and the cotton up. Ewell Scott at Sparenburg says that community is in better shape than at any time since the drought. They held most of their cotton and have enough moisture to carry them for awhile.

Jack rabbits are beginning to work on the cotton and feed crops in Martin County. Troy Pierce of Tarzan says they come out of the ranch pastures at night and fill up on cotton. They cut the top of the plant. Mostly they have worked on young cotton, and haven't hurt him too much, Pierce said.

The county agent, Jack Davis, has ordered poisoned grain which farmers may use to stop the rabbits. The grain will cost about 33 cents a pound, but a few pounds is enough to stop an army of bunnies.

Joe Calverley says he hasn't had much rain on his ranch northwest of Garden City, but there has

Scientists Seek Ocean Monster

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Scientists here are planning a giant marine trap to snare a monster from the ocean depths of Cook Strait.

They do not know exactly what they will catch.

"The possibilities are fascinating," says Prof. L. R. Richardson, head of the zoology department at Victoria University College, Wellington.

Sworn statements by experienced mariners indicate that there are at least four types of giant ocean creatures still unknown to man. Some people call them sea serpents.

There are reports, going back to the 1870s of occasional strandings along the shores of Cook Strait of giant squid, fearsome creatures with plate-sized eyes, bodies 10 feet across with 10 tentacles up to 25 feet long.

With echo soundings taken a few years ago, the probable home of these giant squid was charted. This is a 6,000-foot-deep canyon connecting the Palliser Bay end of the strait with the Pacific Ocean.

Cook Strait is the turbulent stretch of water between the north and south islands of New Zealand.

30,000 Hear Graham Sermon

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Billy Graham's revival series in Germany got off to a flying start last night before a crowd of 30,000 in a Frankfurt football stadium.

An estimated 1,500 persons—including some American servicemen—answered the American evangelist's call for "decisions for Christ."

The arena was one third full. The crowd was considerably smaller than those which attended open-air meetings Graham held earlier this year in Scotland and England, but huge compared to those who turned out for his recent one-week series in Paris.

Pastor Martin Niemoller, famous German evangelical leader interned by Hitler during the war for defying nazism, closed the meeting with a prayer.

Graham told his audience, "We listen to politicians. We listen to diplomats. We listen to philosophers. Now let's listen to Christ."

He urged his listeners to spend more time reading the Bible and thinking more about religion.

"Don't go away thinking of Billy Graham," he said. "Go away thinking of Jesus Christ."

been enough to get grass started. He is rather lightly stocked and hasn't been feeding for the last few weeks.

Bitterweed covers much of the ranch, though he has two pastures where it has never got started. He puts his sheep into these pastures whenever the bitterweed first comes up, and has had no losses.

The cotton on the Louis Underwood farm at Luther has three and four squares to the stalk. Dry weather doesn't bother him so much since he got his four little irrigation wells. This year he is watering 60 acres of cotton, in addition to supplying water for an oil drilling company.

Underwood thinks small wells in this area will pay off, even if a farmer is not fortunate enough to sell water to the oil companies. None of his wells will make much over 100 gallons an hour, and the average is less. The wells cost only about a dollar a day each for electricity, and he doesn't have to hire any outside labor to keep up with the irrigation. The main thing in using a small well, he says, is to put every drop on the cotton and not waste it in an open ditch.

His four wells are all hooked onto an underground pipe and there is no waste at all. He made a bale and a quarter to the acre last year, and his present crop looks equally as good at this time of the year.

Thrips and aphids are beginning to work in some of the irrigated cotton and some of the older dry-land cotton, says Bert Badger, local pink bollworm inspector.

The most trouble so far has been in the St. Lawrence community, where farmers are poisoning their cotton. These insects are fairly easy to handle, he said, but should be stopped if they build up in large numbers.

There are light infestations in Martin County, but few farmers have poisoned yet. Jack David, county agent, said they might not have to use insecticides at all. He says it's not a good idea to poison for anything within a month of boll worm season unless it is absolutely necessary.

When cotton is poisoned, he said, the beneficial insects are also killed, such as lady bugs, lacewings, flies, hooded beetles and flower bugs. These help keep down boll worms, and if they are present, the worms will have a harder time building up to damaging numbers.

Short Pants For Air Force

The Air Force approved a new silver-tan summer uniform to take the place of the khakis worn since 1947. Three officers model the different items which make up the uniform—choice of shorts or long trousers; a sleeveless shirt which can be worn with or without necktie; knee length stockings; bush jacket and pith helmets which will be authorized by local commanders for tropical areas. The new uniform will not be available this year and it does not become mandatory until July 1, 1959.

4-Year-Old Boy Sued For Battery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four-year-old Teddy Levy, called by his parents "The Terror," is the youngest defendant ever sued for battery in Superior Court here. His grandmother, Mrs. Ann Rubin, claiming she suffered two fractured vertebrae after baby sitting with Teddy, asked $150,000 damages yesterday. She named the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Levy, and an insurance company, as codefendants.

Mrs. Rubin said she spent several weeks in a hospital after Teddy vaulted the davenport and landed on her. Teddy's parents said they called their son "The Terror" because of the zest which he portrays Superman, Dick Tracy and Davy Crockett as fancy strikes him.

Mrs. Mesta Spurns Woman For President

TOKYO (AP)—Mrs. Perle Mesta, former U.S. minister to Luxembourg, said today, "The United States is not ready to have a female president."

Mrs. Mesta, in a speech to the Foreign Correspondents Club, reported on other women:

Russian—"Amazons, big-boned, doing all the heavy work."

Japanese—"Wonderful, gay, charming; lovely."

Cop Takes His Prize, Won't Risk Double

NEW YORK (AP)—Policeman Redmond O'Hanlon deferred to his responsibilities as a family man and took $16,000 in TV quiz show winnings rather than risk it trying for $32,000.

O'Hanlon, 39, a spare-time Shakespeare scholar, had run up his winnings with correct answers to questions on the CBS TV program The $64,000 Question.

Last night the New York City police officer was given a chance to double his money by taking a crack at another question. Had he missed, he would have lost the money but would have gotten an expensive automobile as a consolation prize. Had he known the answer, he would have won $32,000 and a chance to try for $64,000 next week.

He decided to be satisfied with $16,000. Later he told newsmen, "If I was a single man, I would have gone all the way."

To the studio audience he explained that his dilemma was that of "the egotism of a scholar vs. the conservatism of the father of five children."

After the program, his wife commented, "I feel wonderful" and her husband said he had no regrets about his decision.

"We did not want to become rich out of this," he added. "We just wanted to be able to do things for the comfort and education of the children." The five youngsters range in age from 6 months to 10 years.

O'Hanlon has degrees from Fordham and Drew universities and has long made a hobby of Shakespeare. When he first appeared on the show he chose to be quizzed about the playwright and his works and all following questions were in that category. He lost nine pounds during the two weeks of the contest.

MRS. ORVAL DWIGHT MOORE

Miss Carr Is Wed To Mr. Moore In Lamesa

LAMESA — Friendship Baptist Church was the scene Friday night, June 17, when Earnestine Carr and Orval Dwight Moore were united in marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earnest G. Carr, Rt. A, Lamesa, and Mrs. Eva Lee Moore, 1003 S. 6th St.

Before a double trellis entwined with huckleberry fern and white carnations and an arch that simulated a tree topped with blue tapers, the Rev. L. Bingham read the double ring ceremony.

Accompanied by Mrs. L. D. Payne of Fort Worth, sister of the bride, at the organ, Mrs. Milton Ray of Lubbock, also a sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over net and taffeta. Designed with a Queen Ann collar, the fitted bodice was fashioned with long sleeves that came to points over the hands. The chapel length skirt was cut on circular lines and extended into a cathedral train.

Her veil of silk illusion was

Duke Sets Off Royal Scare

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh touched off a scare today when his helicopter failed to keep a rendezvous with the royal train. Later it was learned he made a safe landing near Edinburgh.

Bad weather forced his aircraft down.

He took off from Turnhouse Airport at Edinburgh to meet Queen Elizabeth 40 miles away, aboard the royal train at Uddingston, just outside Glasgow.

The train waited but no helicopter landed at the field alongside the track. Frantic police calls went out to all stations along his flight path.

The air-minded Duke was found safe. He had landed outside Edinburgh shortly after taking off. He sent a message to the Queen saying he would complete the journey in a police car. The Queen's train went on into Glasgow to pick him up.

An experienced airplane pilot himself, the Duke was flying as a passenger in a Royal Air Force Dragonfly helicopter piloted by an RAF officer.

The royal couple are making a series of appearances in Scotland before leaving on the royal yacht Britannia tonight for a three-day state visit to Oslo, Norway.

Miner's Son Nurses For Doctor Career

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A nurse's paychecks are paving the way into medical school for Stephen J. Prevost, 25. And Prevost himself is the nurse.

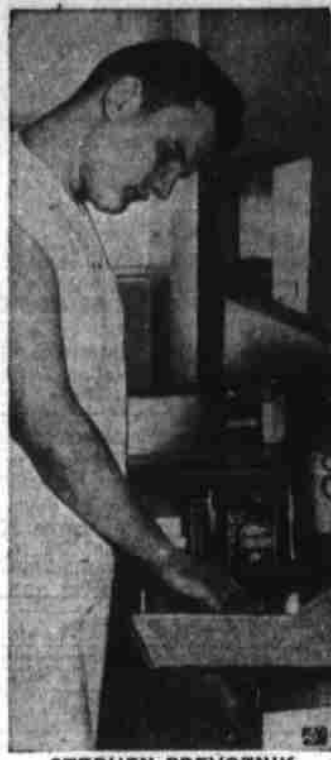

He'll get a premedical degree at Notre Dame in June. For four years he has worked the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift 40 hours a week in local hospitals. His present assignment is the orthopedic ward.

"Sometimes those youngsters really keep you on the move," he says. He hopes to continue working as a nurse, at least part time, when he moves on to the University of Pennsylvania medical school. But there is nothing part time about his present job.

He carries a full schedule of classes. In the afternoon and evening he studies and sleeps. At 11 o'clock he goes back to his 20 to 50 patients in the ward. Besides, he's president of the hospital nursing staff, chairman of Notre Dame Red Cross activities and a member of the university honor society.

His father is a miner in McDade, Pa. It was there, in high school, that he decided nursing might be the answer to lack of money for a medical education. He trained for three years with a predominantly feminine class of nurses in Philadelphia and moved on to Notre Dame. The plan was suggested by a physician when Prevost's sister was sick and he was helping to take care of her.

His father will see the Notre

Yanks Sought In Italy Not Wanted In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City police say four men and a girl sought in Italy are not wanted here in connection with the $305,243 holdup of the Woodside, Queens, branch of the Chase Manhattan Bank last April 6.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen of Queens said yesterday he had become interested in at least some members of the group because of "certain information and rumors."

They have been investigated, he added, and "we have come to the conclusion that they are practically cleared of suspicion."

Cullen, who did not name the individuals, said one man is a respected Queens businessman, another is a New York City civil servant and a third is a federal employee.

Cullen told newsmen that he knows little about the fourth man or the girl, who might have joined the others in Canada or on board a ship.

Deputy Police Commissioner Richard A. Dougherty said twice yesterday in response to queries that the Police Department had made no request to any authorities about the five in Italy. Three of them originated from New York City.

Word came from Rome that police had spread a net throughout Italy for the five in connection with the Queens holdup — the biggest cash haul in a bank robbery in U. S. history.

In Italy the five were identified as:

Giuseppe Michael de Tacco, also known as John di Tacco, 37, New York.

John Timothy O'Connell, 35, New York.

Daniel William MacGuire, 28, New York.

Peter Jerome Kirdam, 34, Manchester, England.

Janette Forest, 27, Montreal, Canada.

Lightning Proves Damaging Enemy

WHITNEY POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Augie Tappan was sitting at home watching television, when an electrical storm broke yesterday. A lightning bolt struck the house, damaged several timbers in the attic and blacked out the TV set.

Two minutes later Tappan received a phone call informing him that a concession stand he owned, about 15 miles from his home, had been smashed by another shaft of lightning and had blown away.

Even Flower Of Love Must Knuckle Under In Red China

TOKYO (AP) — As it must to all mankind, love has come to the youth of Red China. And the Communists are pretty unhappy about it.

China Youth, a Communist magazine, growls at the way "part of our youth devote themselves to love and throw themselves into a frenzy of lovemaking."

This is called "detrimental to the national interests."

Some love is okay, the magazine concedes, but you've got to look at it from "the right angle." Here is the right angle:

"We must succeed in one thing: that is to place love in a secondary position in one's life. . . ."

"That means we must not allow lovemaking or the vexation arising therefrom to affect our political and labor ardor, much less to become pessimistic and to sacrifice oneself for the sake of love."

Some young engineers up in Manchuria, home of most of Red China's big factories, just about expire from love and can't "devote themselves to work," the paper said.

But all is not bleak. There was the young hero who was sent out West and pined for his girl. So he went back to Shanghai and played around for six months.

Then he turned his face resolutely and patriotically to the West once more. As China Youth reported, "He learned that if the flower of love did not bloom on the foundation of socialist construction, it would fade very soon."

General Awarded Korean Medal

SEOUL (AP) — Lt. Gen. Claude E. Ferenbaugh, retiring deputy commander of the 8th Army in Korea, today received the military order of merit, Taeguk, with silver star from President Rhee.

Ferenbaugh was cited for his service as commander of the 7th Division at Heartbreak Ridge, Punchbowl, and other sectors in the Korean War and his recent service with the 8th Army.

McCarthy Admits Demand May Fail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) conceded today he has "no chance of success" in efforts to win Senate approval of a resolution aimed at forcing discussion of Russia's satellite states at the Big Four talks.

A 14-0 vote by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last night to recommend rejection of the proposal apparently foreshadowed an overwhelming tally against it on the Senate floor. It had the united opposition of the administration and of Republican and Democratic leaders in the Senate.

Committee members generally agreed adoption of the resolution might tend to tie the President Eisenhower's hands in talks with the premiers of Great Britain, France and Russia opening July 18 at Geneva.

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.), a member, said approval of the resolution would leave Eisenhower "with both hands tied behind his back and his tongue locked in his teeth."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, denounced the resolution as an effort to "place a loaded gun at the President's temple." The Republican leader, Sen. Knowland of California, told McCarthy he was seeking to intrude on "an executive function." McCarthy replied that the Senate has a right to advise the President.

McCarthy told newsmen in advance of debate the committee decision was "disappointing" and a "great blow to the peoples in the satellite states" of Eastern Europe, North Korea and elsewhere. His resolution would express as the sentiment of the Senate that the United States should get prior approval of liberation in the satellite nations. Barring such approval the resolution would in effect put the Senate on record as opposed to any Big Four conference.

McCarthy said, however, that "maybe we could get a resolution that didn't appear to the President Eisenhower's hands but would express the sense of the Senate."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have repeatedly indicated they will attempt to bring the question of "liberation" of the satellite areas into the Big Four conference.

Argentine Troops Go Back To Barracks

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (U.S.—Troops guarding the Argentine capital's public buildings and churches since last Thursday's revolt were ordered back to their barracks today. A communique again reported the country "absolutely calm."

The announcement was issued by Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, the army minister President Juan Peron named "commander in chief of the forces of repression" after the brief but bloody uprising by navy and Marine personnel.

Peron apparently resumed his normal routine yesterday in improvised offices in his residence in suburban Palermo. After the bombing of Government House during the revolt, the President set up temporary offices in Lucero's War Ministry. Peron had remained in comparative seclusion at his home Sunday and Monday, while the local newspapers gave much attention to Lucero and almost none to the President.

There was no announcement of any change in the government, despite widespread speculation that it would be reorganized. Nor was there any confirmation of rumors abroad that Peron's administration would be replaced by a governing junta.

Authoritative sources specifically denied one rumor that Peron's Cabinet had resigned.

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subject to censorship since the army put down the rebellion.)

The army announcement said that with the entire country completely normal, several groups of troops returned to their quarters from guard duty last night. The rest were ordered to follow today.

The presidential office reported that Peron saw Lucero and several civilian Cabinet ministers yesterday in separate meetings. He also met with some of his closest political associates and leaders of both the men and women's Peronista parties.

The continuing prominence of Lucero in the postrevolution period was emphasized again when the press secretariat revised a previous announcement of the President's call, putting himself at the top of the list.

In his communique, Lucero advised the public to beware of rumor mongering. He in effect denied there were any disagreements inside the armed forces or between the existing state of siege—a form of martial law. The police are also under Lucero's command.

The Ministry of Finance said it had instructed national banks to make loans for the repair of damage without affecting normal credit lines.

Most of the damage from the revolt itself was suffered by buildings in the area of Government House, on the central Plaza de Mayo. But Roman Catholic Church properties in the downtown section suffered vast damage from fires set by street mobs after the fighting was over.

Police announced the arrest of two men charged with setting fire to a Roman Catholic church in a Buenos Aires suburb. They also reported an attempt was made to burn a Catholic school at Mar del Plata. Authorities said that several men they identified as Communists were arrested after an exchange of gunfire between police and a group fleeing the Mar del Plata School.

Student Elopes With Teacher

CHESTERFIELD, England (U.S.—Norman Birchmshaw, a 17-year-old high school student, has eloped—with the prettiest teacher in his school.

He disappeared a week ago with Cella Timmins, 23, a physical training instructor. They left letters saying they were heading for Scotland to marry.

The last trace of the couple was at a hotel near the Scottish border. They stayed the night in separate rooms, then headed north in her car.

Scotland is the usual destination for runaway young English lovers. After 21 days over the border, minors can marry without the parental permission England requires.

Friends said Norman and Cella had been planning to elope for some time.

"She is very pretty — prettiest schoolmarm I've seen," one boy said.

Common-Law Couple Wed

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (U.S.—A former milkman and his common-law wife were married, spent a few minutes together, then went back to separate cells yesterday.

The ceremony uniting Raymond S. Speed, 48, and Virginia Brammer Speed, 34, was performed in the living room of the Boyd County jailer's quarters.

"The first marriage of two people under prison sentence we ever had here," said Jailer Haskell Estep.

The couple, now awaiting transfer to prison for two-year terms, was convicted on charges stemming from robbery of a poolroom operator.

They had lived together about a year in Ohio, where common-law marriages are recognized.

Famed Almanac Admits It's Not Only Weather Oracle At Work

LANCASTER, Pa. (U.S.—The famed John Baer Almanac, whose say-so is devoured as fact by a multitude of devotees, graciously conceded today that it isn't quite the only weather oracle in the game.

The 131st annual issue of the all-purpose guidebook gives the first hint in all those years that some other agency also could play the seer. In a limited way, of course.

The 1956 edition shatters tradition first by recognizing the existence of the U. S. Weather Bureau. What's more, it even suggests that the bureau be given more money to improve its services. Heretofore, the almanac has looked upon the Weather Bureau's activities as amusing but futile.

In giving ground slightly a second time, the almanac forsakes science for fancy. It tells readers to go looking for toads—the right kind may be a weather sign. If the toad is rusty brown, dry weather is in store. If it is very dark and mottled, get ready for a wet spell.

The most ardent of the almanac's partisans quickly dissociated themselves from what they termed a sign of weakness on Olympus.

The sturdy Pennsylvania Dutch of this rich farm belt derided all the talk about weather bureaus and toads, and stood pat on the almanac. As the almanac foresees it, the early months of 1956 will be unusually cold, with high winds and plenty of snow in the North. And here is the book's forecast for August of next year, when the two major political conventions will be held: high winds, squalls, tornadoes over wide areas.

Long-time residents of this southern region of Pennsylvania say that thousands of farmers and others live by the almanac, planting by the moon as it suggests, and taking its exalted counsel in many other ways.

As 1956 is Leap Year, the masterwork comes through with sharp advice to girls on how to make the most of the opportunity. One tip: Be demure, but roll the eyes, using subtlety.

Let romance be withered, the book exhorts. "Eliminate that onion breath." And how? "Just don't eat onions."

Women who have landed husbands are told how to keep them. They are told also how to take care of their homes, their clothes. A suggestion: If the veil of your hat becomes limp and lifeless, press it between sheets of waxed paper. Better than that, get your husband to buy you a new hat.

Published in Lancaster, picturesque heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch country, Baer's almanac has an international distribution. Total circulation, it was reported, may run to 250,000.

Wallet With $1,100 Found

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U.S.—A wallet containing more than $1,100 lay unnoticed in a telephone booth 4 1/2 hours before the owner called for it.

After returning to his hotel, Guy B. Harris, Owensboro, discovered the wallet was gone and notified police.

A half hour later, he called again to say that George Grady, bartender at the establishment where he had used the telephone, found the money. As a reward, Grady received $50.

except for a hole which opens to the surface. Then the force of the downward stream makes the water spurt upward. It is likely to gush almost, but not quite, to the height of the pool from which it started to flow.

Sometimes the underground water fails to make a fountain. Flowing downward on a very gentle slant, it comes from a hillside with little force. Then it appears as a spring.

In past times, springs were in common use for drinking water. People still use them, and some supply excellent water. Other springs, however, have water which is dangerous to drink, sometimes because of the decaying bodies of dead animals. "Know your spring!" is a good rule, the same as "Know your well!"

Natural fountains have been decorated in various ways. Stone or metal basins have been prepared for them. In many cases the statues of gods or goddesses have been placed under, or near, the falling water.

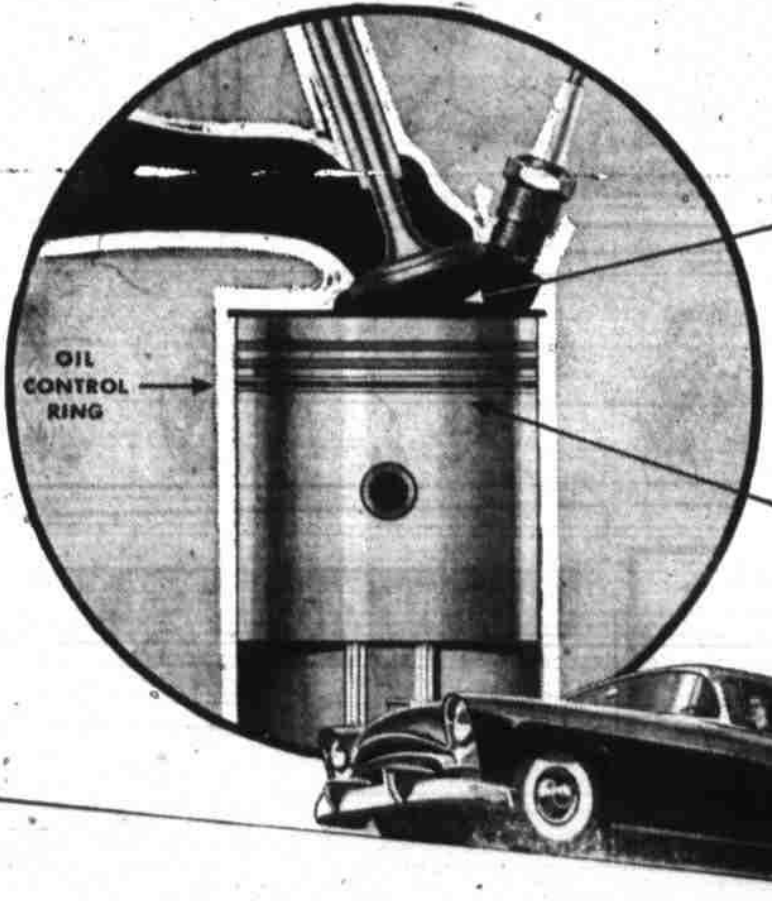

It has become common to use artificial methods to make the water rise in the air. This is easy when the water is put under pressure. Tomorrow: Mirages.

Water always seeks its own level, how does it happen that natural fountains exist? Why does water gush up from the earth at certain places?

To people of the Stone Age a natural fountain must have seemed to be a wonder. Even to those who live today, it is a marvel until the reason behind it is discovered.

The truth about a natural fountain is that it is produced by water from a higher level. Flowing downward through a crack or other opening in the rock, the water may run only a few feet below the sloping side of a hill. At the bottom of the hill, the water may be blocked

Why Trop-Artic Cuts Oil Consumption

Ordinary oil that gets thin when it heats up may escape past the oil control rings and be burned away with the exploding gasoline.

Trop-Artic Oil resists thinning at high temperatures. It tends to stay below the control rings so it doesn't burn away!

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

There's one way to find out how much Trop-Artic will lower your oil consumption. Try it in your own car. It's performance that counts—and you can count on Trop-Artic for super performance!

Trop-Artic flows easily at low temperatures, and it resists thinning at high temperatures. This not only saves oil; it explains why Trop-Artic prevents wear so effectively. Compared to older types of oils modern Trop-Artic can even double engine life.

And remember, Trop-Artic is the first all-weather type oil to meet the highest standard ever established for automobile motor oils—the Mil-O-2104 Supplement 1 Test. But prove the top performance of Trop-Artic in your own car. Get it today from your neighborly Phillips 66 Dealer.

Ike Plans Tour To Fish, Mend Fences

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower leaves today on a six-day speaking and fishing tour. GOP leaders hope will heal some Republican differences in New England.

He flies first to Rutland, Vt., to speak at the National Dairy Festival.

He will spend the night at a mountain resort at Chittenden, conferring there with Vermont Republican leaders at breakfast tomorrow morning. Later will go on to New Hampshire and then to Maine for two days of fishing at Kennebago.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said in an interview that if anything could heal a Republican split in the state it would be Eisenhower's candidacy for a second term next year.

He said Eisenhower's decision to visit New England bolstered his own belief the President will run. "I am satisfied he will run because he has to run," Flanders said. "The reason he has to run is because he cannot drop the responsibility for leadership either in the nation or the world."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said every element of the GOP will be represented when Eisenhower makes three stops for speeches in New Hampshire. He plans also to visit briefly at Lincoln, the home town of White House chief of staff Sherman Adams.

Bridges, who doesn't see eye to eye with Adams on some political matters, will introduce the President for one talk. Sen. Cotton (R-NH) will officiate at another and Gov. Lane Dwinell at a third.

All this apparently was planned to promote party harmony in a state where the Democrats bid strongly for the 1st Congressional District seat in 1954, losing by 468 votes out of 107,636.

Sen. Payne (R-Maine), who plans to dip a line with the President at Kennebago, said he thinks Eisenhower's visit will "stimulate" the party organization in Maine.

"We've got a big job ahead of us to win back the governorship from the Democrats," Payne said.

"The fact that the President is visiting Maine shows his interest in our state and should stimulate the Republicans there."

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), who recently expressed some doubts that the President would agree to run again, will introduce Eisenhower when he speaks at Skowhegan.

Last year's campaign for state offices in Vermont was marked by some dissension within GOP ranks. Some Republicans apparently deserted Gov. Joseph B. Johnson in his successful race as Democrats made their strongest showing in recent years.

THE WILLARD SMITH PLACE
Smiths Have Improved Their Moore Farm

MYSTERY FARM Smith Place Among Earliest At Moore

By JESS BLAIR

Last week's mystery farm—the Willard Smith place—is one of the three oldest farms in the Moore community northwest of Big Spring.

Now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith, who have lived here since 1943, the farm was originally settled by a Mr. Roland back in 1905. He had bought the land from the Skidmore Ranch and immediately broke out 60 acres of cropland. The remaining 85 acres of cultivated land on the quarter section was broken out the next few years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith bought the farm in 1943 from Mack Thomas and began to remodel and build until they have the beautiful home that stands there today. Since that time they have added a bathroom, back porch, a garage and the white picket fence that encloses the yard.

Inside the house is just as lovely as it is on the outside, with every modern convenience. Just back of the house, within easy diving distance in case of tornadoes, they have one of the largest storm cellars in the community.

"We use it too," said Mrs. Smith. "With tornadoes becoming so common in West Texas, that storm cellar is quite a comfort to us when storm warnings are sent out."

The Smiths not only have everything that a family in town enjoys, but there are a few extras. And it's those extras, they say, which make country life so enjoyable.

First, they have a big deep freeze which is filled with home-grown beef and vegetables. Also they keep 200 hens so they can have plenty of fresh eggs, and there is a Jersey milk cow. All this probably helps reduce the grocery bill, though they say living in the country is a lot more expensive than it once was.

Smith farms 145 acres of cropland and the rest is in a mesquite covered pasture which protects the house on two sides from sandstorms. His main crops are cotton, grain sorghums and sudan for pasture. Since he has been there, some years have been good, but two of the last three were far below average.

Last year he made 41 bales of cotton on 69 acres, but in 1953 the yield was only 22 bales. The driest year he has had was in 1952 when not a seed was planted on the entire farm.

The Smiths say that farming is one of the most pleasant occupations they have found, though not always the most profitable. In the spring there is a flurry of work, then for about two months of the summer there is time for loafing and fishing. After the fall harvest, comes another few months when farm life rolls along at a slow pace.

They attend the Temple Baptist Church in Big Spring, where Mrs. Smith teaches a class of senior girls. Occasionally, however, they attend church at the nearby Fairview Baptist Church.

Their main hobby is fishing. They have a boat which they quite often take to the city lakes or to the lakes near San Angelo. Mrs. Smith claims she has found one place at Moss Creek Lake where she always catches fish, and last week came home from there with a nice string of bass.

They moved to the farm in 1943, but Smith continued to work in town while operating the farm. After 20 years service with the Big Spring Motor Company, where he did everything from "sweeping the floor to signing the pay roll," he quit his job in 1950 and since then has concentrated on farming. Now he farms altogether, while Mrs. Smith works at a local dress shop.

She came from Louisiana originally, but her husband has been in

Cool Air Moves Across Nation

By The Associated Press

Cool Canadian air pushed southward through the central part of the nation today, although summer is officially under way.

The cool air continued to move southward into the northern and central plains, the Mississippi Valley, over the Great Lakes and as far south as southern Illinois.

Thunderstorms were reported overnight at many points in the plains, along the East Coast and in northern Michigan. Amounts mostly were light.

Most farming changes have been for the better, he says. Tractors and household appliances have taken the hard labor out of farming. And with good roads, automobiles and telephones, the farm family no longer lives in isolation and loneliness.

They might have made more money at something else, they say, but for good old everyday living there is nothing that can equal life on a farm.

Cyprus Partisans Explode 2 Bombs

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Pro-Greek Cypriots exploded bombs at two points on this British colonial island in the eastern Mediterranean last night. It was the second successive night of such attacks.

One bomb, dropped in a police station mail box in Nicosia, killed a Greek bystander and wounded 15 other persons—3 Greeks, 9 Turks and 2 Armenians. The police station was damaged extensively.

A bomb explosion outside the home of a British brigadier did slight damage.

Runaway Mower

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (AP)—Otis Morley's power mower got away from him and went chugging across a highway all by itself. Morley said a motorist narrowly missed hitting the wandering mower, then reacted in the fashion of annoyed motorists around the globe. He honked his horn at it.

Drop by today for a demonstration drive in one of our big, beautiful Plymouths! Here's what you'll discover:

Most beautiful car of the low-price 3! Practically everyone rates Plymouth first for beauty. Charm, a leading fashion magazine, selected Plymouth "beauty buy of the year." Thousands picked Plymouth best-looking of "all 3" low-price cars in a nation-wide survey.

Most economical car of the low-price 3! When it comes to powerplants, there's really no match for either of Plymouth's 2 great engines. Try the 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117, the all-time champ for economy, reliability and performance. Or try the high-flying V-8—with the highest standard horsepower of the low-price 3.

WHY PAY UP TO $500 MORE FOR A CAR SMALLER THAN PLYMOUTH? Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much less, and gives you more car for your money!

Just Another Hazard Of The Atomic Age

PASADENA, Calif. PLYMOUTH

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A wealthy San Angelo party reportedly has offered the Longhorn League $15,000 to replenish its empty treasury, if they'll name him its president.

The league directors, hard pressed for money to pay the umpires and other help, could take him up on the offer at their meeting in Carlsbad today, although Judge C. Roy Anderson still has the inside track for the position.

It's going to take a miracle man to pull the circuit through, since several clubs haven't been able to free themselves from the shackles of debt.

An umpire who would prefer to remain anonymous for obvious reasons, says Odessa is the hardest town in which to work in the Longhorn League.

Further, he says that a prominent minority of the fans there are harder on Negro and Cuban players than anywhere else around the circuit.

Discrimination, whether it is practiced in Odessa or Big Spring, isn't a very flattering compliment to a city.

There is nothing as enheartening as applause for a visiting player here, no matter what color his skin.

Big Spring is in far better shape, as far as its station in the league is concerned, than many another club around the baseball map.

Hornell of the Pony League copped only nine of its first 42 games. Theford Mines of the Provincial lost 30 times in its first 39 tries. Ogden of the Pioneer League was playing only 256 after 41 games, having won only 11 times. Grand Forks of the Northern League recorded only nine wins in 42 starts.

There is still plenty of time for the Cops to return to contention for a first division berth, if they can muster the strength.

Observers around Central Texas add fuel to the talk that a re-organization of professional baseball leagues in Texas may come before 1956.

Howard Green, who wants to keep his job as president of a Class B league, looks fondly to the re-organization, since his present circuit, the Big State League, is in trouble and may have difficulty lasting out the year.

Austin, it is told, is looking forward to obtaining a Texas League franchise (Beumont's). Corpus Christi is leading the Big State League in attendance but Corpus' park seats only 3,500, whereas the one at Austin will take care of a crowd of 6,500. Too, over the years, Austin has outdrawn Corpus—the latter city has never drawn as many as 100,000 paying customers in any one season.

Green, they say, would go with an alignment consisting of Waco, Corpus Christi, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo, Lubbock, and, possibly Midland and Fort Arthur or Tyler.

Such a re-organization would probably mean that the Longhorn and WT-NM Leagues would have to quit business.

Such a circuit would call for the teams to travel thousands of miles during the season but the ambitious Green might sell the operators on the idea they could go Class A and pay their way.

The year of decision definitely is at hand for professional baseball in the Southwest but the odds are against such a league ever taking shape. It's more likely that the better cities in the Longhorn and WT-NM League will merge into one circuit.

Sponsor Is Needed For Teen-Age Team

The 15-16-17-year-old bracket of the Teen-age Baseball Association will probably start play here at the end of the week.

So far, three teams have been set through drawings held last Monday night. The teams are ABC, Ted Field's Cardinals and the Orphans. Presently, the Orphans need a daddy. Anyone interested in sponsoring this team can call Frank Neill at 4-5676.

This will be a four-team league and Coahoma is being counted on to enter a team to complete the league. The teams are working out at 5:30 each afternoon at the Salvation Army diamond at West Fifth and San Antonio.

Ken Clark, manager of the ABC team, announced the following boys who drew successfully for positions on this team: Ronnie Phillips, Jerry Barron, Jarrell Shortes, Bill R. er, Charles Johnson, Leon Clark, Lewis DePorto, Donnie McClary, Lloyd Harrison, Harry Musick, Steven Hernandez, Robert Allen, T. J. Kinder, Lizzie Quintana, and Roy Brown.

Ted Field's Cardinals: Leroy LeFevre, Eugene Hall, Buddy Meeks, Julian Nunez, Jerry White, Ellison Paraz, Bob Suggs, M. D. Harta, Joe Fields, David Abree, Bill Bluhm, B. F. Newton, George Peacock, Ricky Terry, Felix Nunez, Max Williams.

Babe To Be Idle At Least 90 Days

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Athlete Babe Didrikson Zaharias will be out of golf at least three months following spinal surgery, her physician said yesterday.

Mrs. Zaharias will undergo surgery to correct a ruptured disc "within a very few days," Dr. S. R. Snodgrass said. The operation will be at John Sealy Hospital by the professor of neurosurgery at the Medical Branch of the University of Texas.

Snodgrass said X-rays have been completed and Mrs. Zaharias has agreed to the operation. She believed to have hurt her back when she tried to push her car after it got stuck in sand in South Texas about three months ago.

Dr. Snodgrass emphasized the injury has nothing to do with the successful cancer operation the Babe underwent two years ago.

He said, "If only the removal of the ruptured disc is necessary, it will take about three months before she will be back on the greens. But if it is necessary to make a spinal fusion (taking bones from the adjacent area of the hip and putting it across where the disc is ruptured to keep it immobile) it will be six months before she can take part in sports."

Dr. Snodgrass said the Babe was "very, very uncomfortable."

Pampa Holds Onto Lead In Circuit

Pampa barely held its West Texas-New Mexico League lead Tuesday night when Abilene beat the Oilers 5-1 and Plainview trounced Lubbock 17-11.

Plainview moved to within three points of Pampa.

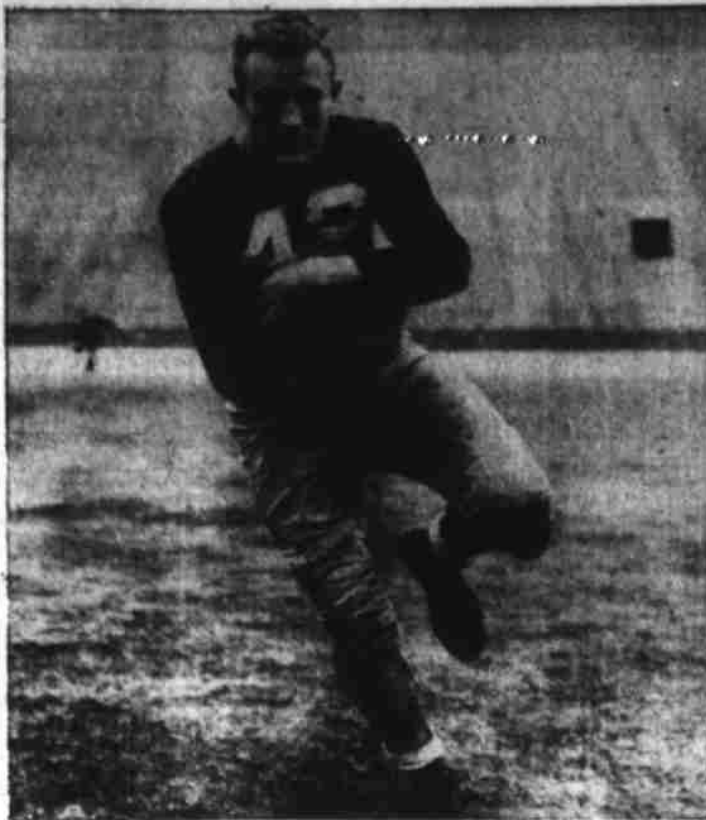

Amarillo beat Albuquerque 8-5 and El Paso decisioned Clovis 11-10.

A triple play pulled Maurice Owen out of trouble at Abilene. He held Pampa to three hits in taking the victory.

Plainview and Lubbock slammed 25 hits, and every regular in Plainview's lineup hit at least once and drove in at least one run.

Tummy Lane and Taft Wright homered in the fourth and fifth respectively at Amarillo, each with two aboard.

At Clovis, Jim Ballascel drove in the winning run for El Paso in the top of the ninth. He brought in Jerry McClary.

In Training Here

Joe Heap, famed Notre Dame football player, is one of us for 30 days. Heap, a native of Abita Springs, La., who graduated from Notre Dame this month, will receive his reserve commission in the Air Force Reserves upon completion of ROTC summer encampment at Webb Air Base on July 15. He's one of several well-known athletes now at WAFB. Joe is shown in Notre Dame football gear.

Morrow Enters Boulder Meet

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Bobby Morrow, who has turned in some fantastic times in the so-called "bushes" of college track, goes against the best this week and his coach thinks he'll win.

At Boulder, Colo., Friday and Saturday, the Abilene Christian College freshman has the chance to show if he's a big time sprinter. In the field facing him in the National AAU will be such worthies as Jim Golliday of Northwestern, who has done 9.3 in the 100 to tie the world's record, and Art Bragg, former Morgan State star, who defends his championships in both sprints.

Golliday may not be up to snuff, however. The great Midwestern sprinter pulled a thigh muscle in the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference meet yesterday.

But there will be plenty of fellows capable of shaving the 100 time close to the fabulous 9.3 Mel Patton hung up as the world's record.

Morrow has run the 100 in 9.1, 9.3, 9.4 and 9.5 but was aided by the wind in both the 9.1 and 9.3 efforts. He also has run 220 yards in 20.5 and 20.6 around a turn, both with a favoring wind, and 20.7 without it. That he can run them fast without benefit of the wind was shown by his 9.4 and 9.5 100's and a 21.3 in the Texas AAU bucking a 6-mile wind. He also ran 100 in 9.7 against it.

The tall, muscular young man hasn't lost a race in two years. He has won 37 straight 100's and never jumped the gun.

Williams Giving Hurlers Fits In American League

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If Ted Williams doesn't call it quits for good this season, the Boston Red Sox management is going to be in one heckuva pickle—how can you give a raise to a guy already making a hundred grand?

A player in that salary bracket (which means Williams, although he's getting a scaled-down check because of his late start) doesn't figure to get a bonus no matter what he does. But he is worth $100,000 to the Red Sox and baseball, at the gate alone, just by putting on a uniform.

Take last night. The Red Sox made it 12 out of 14 by beating the fourth-place Detroit Tigers 5-4. It was Williams' home run with two on in the eighth that did it.

When Williams came back May 28, Boston was 17-24 for the season. They won seven of the next 13 with Williams, still getting into shape, appearing only infrequently.

Then, 10 games ago, Williams took over left field as a regular. Boston has won 8 of the 10, pulling up to 500 at 32-32. Ted has hammered seven home runs, driven in 14 and batted .429 for the 10 games.

The homer last night was on a 3-0 pitch by Ned Garver. Ellis Kinder, another old pro like Williams, came on in relief in the ninth to preserve Tom Hurd's victory.

In New York's Yankee Stadium Mickey Mantle blasted a 456-foot homer as the Yankees beat Kansas City 6-2. It was one of the longest balls ever belted in the stadium.

The second-place Chicago White Sox beat Washington 6-1 and third-place Cleveland trimmed Baltimore 3-1.

In the National, Brooklyn boosted its lead to 12 games over Chicago as Don Newcombe won his 12th by beating the Cubs 7-2 in 11 innings. Milwaukee moved to within 1 1/2 games of the runner-up Cubs by trimming Pittsburgh 6-4.

And Cincinnati gave the sliding New York Giants another shot 10-1. Philadelphia dumped St. Louis 10-8.

Alex Kellner, losing his seventh straight to the Yanks, was the victim of Mantle's blast with none on in the first. He left in a four-run Yank fourth. Tommy Byrne won his fifth.

Washington gave the White Sox three unearned runs and Chicago took it from there. Bob Porterfield was the loser while Virgil Trucks won his eighth.

Bob Lemon, retiring with a leg injury after seven innings, became the first American League hurler to win 10 this season. Al Smith's two-run homer in the fifth supplied the edge against the Orioles and loser Jim Wilson.

Newcombe was sent into overtime for his 12th triumph in 13 decisions after being tagged for a homer by Ernie Banks in the seventh that knotted it at 2-all.

The Brooks broke out for five runs in the 11th, chasing Warren Hacker as Roy Campanella led off with his fourth hit, a double. Newk drove in two runs.

Bob Buhl tossed a six-hitter for the Braves and Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock homered to put it away. The Pirates got their first hit off the right-hander in the fourth, after Buhl had retired nine in order.

Little Jackie Collum dumped the world champs to their sixth straight defeat as the Redlegs finally beat Johnny Antonelli. Willie Mays was back for the Giants, but was hitless in four trips.

Back-to-back homers by Richie Ashburn and Gran Hamner gave the Phils three runs in the ninth to beat the Cards.

Youngster Breaks Two-Mile Record

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A skinny kid from Southern California, who runs well when he feels good was in the best of health last night as he shattered the U.S. collegiate 2-mile record in the 14th annual Pacific Coast Conference-Big Ten intersectional track meet.

Young Fernando Ledesma sped around the baked-clay track of Edwards Stadium in 8 minutes, 57.7 seconds as the West Coasters swamped the Midwesterners, 75-57, for their ninth triumph in the series. The time, which will be submitted for official recognition, was three-tenths of a second faster than the collegiate record of 8 minutes, 58 seconds set a year ago by Wes Santee of Kansas in a triangular meet at Lawrence, Kan.

Harrist's Homer Sinks Angeloans

By The Associated Press

Fred Harrist slugged a homer in the fifth Tuesday night, handing Odessa a 3-2 decision over San Angelo in the Longhorn League.

Big Spring beat Midland 3-2, Hobbs out lasted Carlsbad 18-14, Roswell at Artesia was postponed by rain.

At Odessa, Jerry Tucker was the winning pitcher, giving up eight hits. Odessa catcher Ed Peacock doubled home two runs. Tom Costello banded two homers leading Big Spring to victory.

Rainey Tames Tribe Behind Bobbies, 3-2

Costello Clubs Two Home Runs

Mike Rainey and Tom Costello teamed up to pace the Big Spring Cosden Cops to a 3-2 victory over the Midland Indians here Tuesday night.

Rainey reached the heights to which he was accustomed last season in setting the Warriors down with seven hits. He hurled shutout ball after the first round, at which time the Indians put together a single by Don Deckman, a double by Glenn Burns and a one-baser by Rudy Briner to count their runs.

Big Mike, who fanned nine and issued only one walk, had to share the spotlight with young Tommy Costello, who seemed to get his home runs in clusters.

The speedy rightfielder from Newcastle, Pennsylvania, drove over his 11th and 12th four-masters of the year, both with the sacks deserted.

Tom got his first one in the third and followed with the game clincher in the fifth. Each time he was the leadoff man in the inning.

DIAMOND DUST—Don Deckman and Eny Wilcox were the only Indians to get to Rainey for more than one hit. Each had two singles. With the tying run at second base in the ninth inning, Rainey bore down to fan Pickens and end the contest. The game was played in the unusually fast time of an hour and 57 minutes.

Jim Zapp, Cop first sacker, made a fine stop of Newton Blanchard's sizzler in the first inning and beat Blanchard to the bag. Floyd Martin turned in a nice running catch of Wayne Carter's dying quail in the second. Rudy Briner, who started at third base for Midland and wound up catching, broke his bat while swinging in the third and had to get another. Nick Cappelli earned credit for a single in the third when his ground ball bounced up and hit Rainey, who was legging it to second base.

Rainey's won-lost record is now 5-7. Pickens, who needed relief in the eighth, has won six and lost six.

Versatile Performer

Luis Caballero, a Cuban speedster and one of the most popular players ever to wear Big Spring baseball flannels, is now playing third base for the Cosden Cops. He has played every position for the Big Spring team. He's in his second year of baseball.

JAY LeFEVRE PITCHES NO-HITTER FOR YANKS

The Yankees crowded both their runs across the plate in the final innings in defeating the Owls, 2-0, as Jay LeFevre made victory certain by pitching a no-hit game in National Little League play here Tuesday night.

The contest was unrec'd at Steer Park as a preliminary to the Big Spring-Midland Longhorn League engagement.

LeFevre walked four batters, the only Owls to reach base on him, and fanned 16 of the opposition.

Kepny Griffin matched LeFevre almost pitch for pitch until the final inning, when Red Schwarzenbach singled with one out, Jay LeFevre hit a one-baser and Jeff Brown followed with a single. An error permitted the second run to come home.

In the evening's other contest, played at the Little League park, the Gold Sox mauled the VFW, 15-6.

The Vets outlit the Sox, 10-8, but the Goldies benefited from walks and a rash of enemy errors.

Ronald Hubbard of the VFW paced the game's hitters with three singles.

COPS SEEK 5TH STRAIGHT WIN

Big Spring goes for its fifth straight win and its second in its series with Midland in an 8:15 o'clock contest at Steer Park this evening.

Kosse Hill will probably go to the mound for the Cops, unless Manager Pepper Martin decides Apa Baca is ready.

Billy Capps, Midland boss, has indicated he will counter with his ace of aces, Bob Swanson, whose record is now 10-2.

Richards Feuding With Greenberg

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who didn't want to become involved in the first place, was called on today to arbitrate the budding feud between Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles and General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians.

Coahoma And Cosden Win In Softball League Play

COAHOMA, (SC)—Coahoma blanked T&P, 8-0, and Cosden nosed out Piggy-Wiggly, 2-1, in Coahoma Softball League play here Tuesday night.

Roy Overturf buried the win for Coahoma, scattering five hits, all of which were singles. He fanned 11 and walked five.

Derryberry and Watzel divided time on the mound for the losers. Derryberry fanned one and walked two in three innings. Watzel hurled the last three rounds, passing five and striking out seven.

The Maroons scored their first three runs in the third. Rube Baker and George Ray walked in succession. Overturf singled to bring home Baker and both Ray and Overturf scored on the same passed ball.

In the fifth, Jack Morrison reached base for Coahoma on an error. Overturf drove him home with a double and came home himself on a single.

In the sixth, David Hodnett singled and Dudley Armit reached base on a misplay. Bruce Leander walked to load the sacks.

Baker sacrificed in a run and Ray singled home the other two tallies.

Speck Franklin buried a no-hit game for Cosden against Piggy-Wiggly. Cotton Mize, Piggy-Wiggly pitcher, gave up only one safety. Both of Cosden's runs were unearned.

Wedding Gifts Mounting Up

The list of gifts and givers for Huck Doe's "wedding party" at Steer Park Thursday night is growing.

The popular Big Spring catcher will be married to Miss Emma Stevens of Garden City in an 8 o'clock ceremony at home plate.

Thus far, the following concerns and individuals have announced plans for showering the couple with gifts:

Hilburn's Appliance Co., set of dishes.

Ideal Laundry, $5 in cleaning.

National Art Studios, 11 x 14 oil painting.

Muller's Store, for the groom.

Hester's Office Supply, gift for the couple.

Gregg Street Furniture Store, lamp.

Westex Oil Company, 100 gallons gasoline.

Milady's Accessories, gift for the bride.

Wheat Furniture Store No. 1, gift for the couple.

Wheat Furniture Store No. 2, lamp table.

Clay's No-D-Lay, $5 in cleaning.

Read Grocery and Market, two steaks.

Barr's Studios, 8 x 10 wedding portrait.

Settles Beauty Shop, hair styling for the bride.

Jesse Kelley's Service Station, automobile service.

Settles Barber Shop, "wedding" haircut.

Settles Hotel, bridal suite.

Men's Store, gift for groom.

Lee Hanson's, gift for groom.

Settles Drug, gift for couple.

Soth G. Lacy Electric Company, two foam rubber pillows.

Bell's Pharmacy, household appliance.

Jorgenson Winner In Feather Bout

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Featherweight Paul Jorgenson of Houston outpointed Kid Campeche of Mexico City in a 10-round main event last night.

Jorgenson weighed 126½, Campeche 126.

Moore Favored Over Olson

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Agnes Arella Moore gambled his light heavyweight crown and his hopes for a heavyweight championship fight this fall when he faces ambitious Carl (Boo) Olson, the middleweight ruler, in a 15-round title fight tonight at the Polo Grounds.

A loss to the 160-pound titleholder not only would cost the 35-year-old Moore his crown but would ruin forever his chances of getting a whack at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. Even a close victory could prove fatal to Moore's prospects of moving up.

The 175-pound king will be 39 in December and if Al Weill, Marciano's manager, has his way, Archie will be eligible for social security before Rocky is permitted to fight him.

So why is Moore on the threshold of achieving his long-sought goal, risking all against the lighter Olson?

The answer is money and supreme confidence. Moore figures to gross around $50,000 from a probable gross gate of around $225,000 plus the $100,000 radio-television money. And the old Gypsy of the ring firmly believes that he can whip any fighter around today.

Bob McClish Proves A Real Slugger

By The Associated Press

When most valuable player awards are considered for the Sooner State Baseball League, Shawnee is sure to nominate Bob McClish, who plays first base for McAlester.

McClish turned on the power against Muskogee Tuesday night to topple the front runners into second place.

Shawnee defeated Ardmore 3-2 and now leads the league.

Paris had an interesting contest going with Lawton until a 10th inning filled with errors handed the game to the Braves, 6-4. Ponca City beat Seminole 8-4.

Churchill Statue Features Torso Of Pro-German

LONDON (AP)—That's the former Prime Minister's head on London's new statue of Sir Winston Churchill but the body belongs to a man interned as pro-German during both world wars.

Gerald Hamilton, 67, and also an author, disclosed today that he was the stand-in model for the bigger-than-life, seated bronze of the 80-year-old statesman unveiled in London's Guildhall yesterday.

"I must say the situation did strike me as a little strange," Hamilton told reporters. "But I was only the body. The statue is me only from the head down."

The model explained he has roughly the same measurements as Churchill, and even the famous stoop. Since the former Prime Minister's time was precious (and his patience on the short side), sculptor Oscar Nemon asked Hamilton to pose for the 60-odd sittings in which he worked on the body.

Hamilton was interned in World War I as a friend of Sir Roger Casement, the Irishman hanged for dealing with the Germans in the interests of Irish independence. The government put Hamilton under wraps again in 1941 for trying to organize a separate peace with the Germans.

Ike Friend Elected Mayor Of Denver In Close Vote

DENVER (AP)—Will F. Nicholson, 54-year-old Republican state senator and friend of President Eisenhower, was elected Denver mayor by a margin of only 766 votes in the Colorado capital's first runoff election yesterday.

The 6-foot-4 winner officially polled 60,505 votes to 59,739 for his opponent Dist. Atty. Bert Keating.

Keating, a Democrat, conceded the hairline decision three hours after polls closed. He specified it was a conditional concession. "I want to check and see that the returns are correct," he said.

The runoff was made necessary when neither Nicholson nor Keating, who emerged topmost in a six-man mayoralty field in a May 17 election, polled a required majority.

Absentee ballots turned the balance in the nonpartisan election. Those who actually visited the polls in the city's 407 precincts gave Keating an advantage of 34 votes.

DATE DATA

Dating Taboos

Sally is an attractive girl. Her figure is good, her face is pretty, and her clothes are chic. Her personality radiates warmth. Nevertheless, she has her dating problems.

Boys like her instantly and waste no time getting her phone number. In fact, her name has probably been written into and scratched out of more little black books, than that of any other girl in the country.

Sally has honed up on the major dating do's without paying much attention to the equally important dating don'ts. Is ignorance of the dating taboos keeping you a wallflower?

Don't telephone a boy unless you've got urgent, can't-wait business. Then make it brief.

Don't be the one to ask for a date. If he can't get the car or is without a license and your family car is available, forget it. Waiting is better than undermining his ego.

Never let your girlfriend take his on a date. Steer cautiously away from those "dutch treat" occasions, too. Keep him thinking of you as something special and not bargain basement. Babs.

So you're a champ tennis player. If it's common knowledge, you can't very well deny it. Better counteract its effects on his masculine pride by remembering and discussing the things you cannot do. It won't hurt him to know you can't swim worth two cents and are terrified of snakes and worms.

If you're super gifted, hide your trophies and scrapbooks. When embarrassing praise comes your way in his presence, accept it modestly and soon thereafter o-ow and ah-h over some asset of his.

Aladdin had a magic lamp to polish. You'll do just as well if you shine up your date's ego. Men like to feel strong and masculine. The girl who plays a good supporting part for her leading man will quickly gain her place as leading lady.

Hung Jury

SANDUSKY, Mich. (AP)—Refusal of a woman juror to join in a guilty verdict resulted in a hung jury last night in the trial of Harry Smith, former superintendent of schools. The foreman reported the jury after deliberating 23 hours had voted to convict Smith of embezzling $25,000. But defense counsel demanded the jury be polled. Mrs. Charlotte Murray said she could not make up her mind. The jury was discharged after it deliberated two more hours.

New Chicago School

CHICAGO (AP)—A 98-year-old grade school on Chicago's West Side with many distinguished alumni is being replaced by a new school. Among those who attended the Brown School were Abraham Lincoln's son Tad, actress Lillian Russell and producer Flo Ziegfeld.

Newspapers Must 'Dig' Constantly

AUSTIN (AP)—When a newspaper has to "crusade," it hasn't done its job from day to day, Mrs. Caro Brown, reporter for the Alice Daily Echo and Pulitzer Prize winner, told newsmen attending the University of Texas yesterday.

"Duvall County is the horrible example of what happens when newspapers don't stay on the job," Mrs. Brown said.

Mrs. Brown's Pulitzer Prize was awarded for her stories on Duvall County and its political boss, George Parr.

"Had the newspapers been doing their job for the last 40 years, there would be 'no Duvall story,'" she said.

Kenneth Towery, Texas' other Pulitzer Prize winner for "breaking" the veterans' land scandal, story told the conference that a reporter's duty is to "dig" beneath the surface to find the real story.

Towery, managing editor of the Cuero Record, said one of the big problems facing reporters on daily papers was deadlines.

"In the rush to keep up with the deadlines," he said, "there is little time for digging."

Towery told the reporters that they should "protect their tipsters"—the persons who give them information.

Towery was upheld last week by a district judge in Cuero when Towery refused to divulge sources of information of some of his stories.

Car Out Of Control

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—John Flato, 37, lost control of his car yesterday. It crashed through a plate glass window at Van's Marine Service and towed over four boats. Flato suffered a possible back injury.
