HEREFORD ON NEW HIGHWAY JUST MAPPED

PASS ROUTE RUN- NING FROM KANSAS CITY TO BELEN

MEETING ON 16th

Representatives from Inter-ted Counties Called by City of Clovis

W. W. Curless, President, and D. W. ...
Secretary, of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce, were in Hereford
Friday and Saturday of last week.
Their mission was the marking of the Route Highway which will extend from Kansas City, Mo., to California, will follow the Santa Fe Railway
nearly all the way.

The Abo Pass, from which the route takes its name, is where the Belen cut off of the Santa Fe Ry. goes over the diagonal.

The markings of the high-way are red and yellow, with an arrow point at the end of the marking. The marking is so distinctive that it can be seen from a great distance. Red and yellow are the Indians' favorite colors, and the arrow point is a distinctive Indian marking.

The marking of the route through Hereford gives us two great high-ways,
the Postal and the Abo Pass, which means that thousands of people will pass through here of their way to and from California. D. L. McDonald and B. B. Baskin, together with three other delegates to be selected, will attend the Abo Pass convention to be held in Clovis, New Mexico, on August 16th.

Shrine Ceremony Postponed Owing Visi Potentate

The Brand was advised by wire Wednesday that the proposed Khiva Shrine Ceremonial at Amarillo on August 6 had been postponed until probably the first week in September, owing to the fact that the Imperial Potentate would be present at that time. The exact date of the Ceremonial will be announced shortly.

The postponement was due to the fact that Imperial Potentate Ellis Lewis is Garretson will be in Texas during the latter part of August and the first week in September. The Imperial potentate will deliver a charter August 26 to the Weo Shrine which has been under dispensation for a year. He will go from Weo to Wichita Falls to institute the recently acquired Shrine Temple in that city and is desirous of personally instituting Khiva Temple.
The Imperial potentate will also institute a Temple at Pueblo, Colo. The date of institution of Khiva Temple will probably be between September 1
and 6.

After a conference over the telephone between Frank C. Jones, imperial marshal of Houston, and Sam P.
Cochran, of Dallas, sovereign inspector general of Scottish Rite Masonry in Texas, Potentate George Stapleton, of Amarillo, was advised that Khiva's ceremonial should be postponed to conform to the desire of the Imperial potentate.

Christian Meet- ing Will Close On Sunday Next

Announcement is made that the big Christian revival service will close with next Sunday's services. The morning will be devoted to a Home Choir Service and Basket-dinner at noon.

Evangelist Cole will discuss vital subjects at each remaining service and Mrs. Cole will lead a double chorus and sing special music at each meeting.

During this strong revival meeting sessions to the church have been made. Twenty-four were baptized on Saturday evening of last week. There was a splendid crowd at the men's mass meeting at the Star Theatre, and also the women's mass meeting addressed by Mrs. Cole at the church.

It is hoped that the public generally will take advantage of the last three days of the meeting and assist in winding up a revival that will go down in local history as a most wonderful, one of a blaze of enthusiasm.

CAVALRYMEN OF TROOP C GO TO CAMP

TWENTY THREE MEN GET TRIP TO CAMP FOR TRAINING

BRADLY CAPTAIN

Roy Terry Top Sergeant; Is Shy Two Comissioned Lieutenants

Troop C, Texas National Guard, under command of Captain Wes Bradley, left Hereford on the morning train
Thursday for Camp Mabry, Austin, Texas, where they will undergo their annual fifteen days of training, as prescribed by the military authorities. The entire Texas Guard, with the exception of those now on guard duty at Galveston, will assemble at Austin for this period.

The local Troop numbers around fifty enlisted men, but many of them are scattered over the country, and a total of twenty-three made up the party which left Thursday. Captain Bradley is the only commissioned officer now with the troop, although recommendations for two additional officers have been submitted and will undoubtedly be acted upon while the troop is in training. Royal A. Terry is Top Sergeant.

The men were carried to Amarillo on the regular passenger train, but at that point will join the Amarillo and Lubbock troops and will go to Austin in special Pullman cars. Captain Bradley and Sergeant Terry were busy men Wednesday, outfitting the soldiers at the army over the Garrison Hardware Company. A complete equipment has been on hand for some time, and very few things will have to be drawn from the supply department at the camp. Those who left Thursday were:
Captain Wes Bradley, Top Sergeant
Royal A. Terry, Henry Angelo, Bonnie
E. Brumley, Harry H. Cannon, Emery
W. Clifton, Frances M. Crawford, Joe
B. Curtsinger, John W. Easter, J. L.
Fuqua, Jr., Clyde Hamilton, Harold Hanlan, Ed C. Houston, Oscar J. Hyatt,
John A. Johnson, Ben McBrayer, Roy
F. Melugin, Tom Metcalfe, Robert C.
Neeley, Robert H. Rice, Charlie R. Watson, Dewey Watson, Homer T. Wilson.

Hereford Citizen To Address Texas Farmers Congress

Judge L. Gough is to address the Texas Farmers Congress which meets at College Station, August 9, 10 and 11.
The Judge will deliver his address at the opening session, Monday, August 9. His subject: "Is it Time for a Change?"

The Congress is the annual "get-together" of Texas farmers, where they discuss their problems and have a neighborly good time, with plenty of music and entertainment along with the more serious work.

FEDERAL FARM ACT HAS MEANT MUCH TO FARMERS OF TEXAS

The Secretary of the Hereford National Farm Loan Association, J. Frank Potts, is just in receipt of a copy of the statement of the condition of the Federal Land Bank of Houston at the close of business, June 30th, 1926, which statement shows Farm Mortgages of said bank to be more than thirty-eight million, that is, this bank, since its organization a little over two years ago,
up to the time the Mortgage Bankers Association attacked the constitution-ality of this act, which is now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States, put in the hands of the farmers of the State of Texas more than thirty-eight millions of dollars, which amount figured at the "prevailing rates of interest now charged for farm loans by the brokers," means a saving of $1, 330,000.00 each year to the farmers of this State. "And this is not all, the Federal Land Banks, being purely cooperative institutions, the profits come back to the borrowers, and in addition to the above savings, the bank has,
since organization, paid in dividends, $77,168.62, and at the same time carried to Reserve Account, $56,200.00, leaving still in the Undivided Profits Account
on June 30, 1926, $261,312.87. This figure on June 30, 1926, the Capital Stock of the Houston bank, which is 5 percent on the face of loans held by the Farmers of Deaf Smith county, makes said stock worth about 15 percent above par.

Red Cross Would Establish Salvage Shops in Towns

Establishment of a Red Cross salvage shop in every city and town of the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross, which includes Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, is contemplated under a nation-wide plan for conservation that is being entered into by the national Red Cross organization according to an announcement received today from Southwestern divisional Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis.

The plan is a part of a comprehensive program of conservation being engaged in by the Red Cross in an attempt to stabilize the cost of living, induce thrift and prevent the wholesale waste of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of serviceable material that is annually discarded from American homes.

In brief it is proposed that the "Red Cross Shop" in each city or town shall become a salvage headquarters. Donations of clothing, furniture, books, papers, automobile tires tin foil and waste of all kinds regularly will be received, reclaimed and sold for the benefit of the Red Cross cause. The money derived from such sales will accrue directly to each local Red Cross chapter and is to be spent as they direct.

One of the principal activities of the proposed salvage shops will be the remaking of donated clothing into serviceable garments for use of refugees in the war-torn districts of Europe. Baby clothes will be specialized in. It is planned to reestablish on a somewhat smaller scale the sewing days that were a feature of Red Cross headquarters
throughout the country during the war.

Not all the clothing thus reclaimed will go to foreign fields. Some will be used by the local Red Cross home service sections in outfitting needy families. Some will be sold and a certain percentage will be held in reserve for rehabilitating families who have lost all worldly goods in future disasters.

Red Cross Meeting

There will be a "get-together" meeting of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross, Monday, at the County Court Room, at 3 o'clock. Let all the executive committee and other interested parties be present.

Have Promise more Grain Cars This Year Than Last

Dallas, Texas, July 30.—Diversions of 2500 grain cars to the Texas grain belt before August 3 followed by the rushing of cars to the Texas shipping points from the trunk line terminals of the East and North is promised by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the relief of Texas grain growers and shippers, according to a wire received from James Z. George, vice president and general manager of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, who is in Washington in company with J. S. Cullinan of Houston, president of the state chamber, and others, on behalf of Texas grain growers and shippers.

The Texas delegation was given assurance that everything possible would be done and that more cars would be allocated to Texas this year than last year at the close of a session which lasted several hours during which the problems of the Texas grain men were discussed in great detail.

A conference of Texas grain shippers and carriers has been called by the state chamber to meet in Dallas early next week for the purpose of discussing means of moving empty cars into the grain belt with all possible dispatch.

Promoter Flour Mill Gives City "The Once Over"

A gentleman by the name of Thorn-tree from Dallas, was in Hereford this week, looking into the possibility of establishing a flour mill at this point.
He conferred with the various business interests of the city and departed Wednesday. It is understood that nothing tangible came out of the conferences.

The plan proposed involved the taking of a large block of stock by local people. Opinions locally were divided as to the practicability of the plan and the success of such a venture. Experience has shown that the success of such ventures depends largely upon ample capital, experienced heads in charge,
and an established and efficient market and selling organization. It was doubted by many local citizens that these necessary requisites could be supplied in this instance, and the proposition was therefore postponed for the time.

Cotton Grown in Hereford Country Crop Very Fine

Everyone familiar with conditions in this section of the Panhandle country is aware that it is rapidly developing into a diversified farming country.
The great crops of wheat, oats, and the grain sorghums are not only taxing the railroads and elevator facilities at this place, but are keeping great fleets of trucks busy almost day and night delivering the grains from the farms to the elevators and railroad.
Forage crops of all kinds, including alfalfa on the irrigated farms, promises
abundance of feed for stock.

But it is probably not common knowledge that cotton, which the south has called the king of all crops, is being raised here this season in considerable quantity and gives promise of an excellent crop. In the Hereford country there is now growing between one and two hundred acres of cotton, all looking fine. The neighborhood of Farwell has over 2,000 acres, while around Clovis over 5,000 acres are growing. Following are some of the local cotton raisers:
Mr. Crowley, of near Bovina, 50 acres;
Bell and son, south of Summerfield, 25
acres; T. H. Buster, south of Hereford, in Castro county, 20 acres; J. E. Gyles, southwest of Hereford, 10 acres; D. L.
McDonald, north of town, 10 acres.
Most of these crops look good enough to make a bale to the acre. At present prices, a bale of cotton, including seed, is worth nearly $200, so if this year
proves that cotton can be grown here
profitably, it will be another milestone passed in putting the Panhandle on the map as a farming country.

Cotton was raised here years ago
with more or less success and a cotton-gin was here at one time, but in the boom days, when men from the corn and wheat growing section were coming here in numbers, it was difficult to create interest in cotton, so the gin was dismantled and moved away.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Patton, Oscar and Aray Fay Womack went to Willow Oklahoma last Monday to be gone about ten days or two weeks.

REPAIRS ON PAVING NOW POSSIBILITY

CONTRACTORS SEND MAN HERE TO STUDY SITUATION

LABOR TROUBLES

Company is Reliable, But is Faced with Material and Labor Shortage

A representative of the paving company which did the paving for the city
three years ago, was here last Monday
for the purpose of making an inspection of the paved streets and to learn its actual condition.

With members of the City Commission, he went all over the pavement and saw with his own eyes the actual condition.

He promised the Commission that men and material would be sent here within the next sixty days to repair all of the defective places.

He explained in detail that the company had no disposition to shirk any responsibility or to avoid any duty that it was under to repair the paving, but said that the delay had been caused on account of the unsettled conditions and the impossibility to get material, labor and transportation.

He explained that from his viewpoint the contractors in general had suffered more from the unsettled conditions than any other class of employers.

However, he assured the members of the Commission that this matter would receive attention just as soon as the contractor could possibly attend to it.

He said that it was probable that the material and equipment with which to make the repairs would be shipped here already prepared for use, with the exception of re-heating, and skilled men would also be sent to do the work.

Amarillo Trade Evangelists to be Here on Monday

The itinerary of the Trade Excursion to be run by the Board of City Development of Amarillo, August 9-10-11,
has been received in Hereford.

The train, consisting of one baggage car and five standard sleepers, with a minimum of 125 boosters aboard, will leave Amarillo at 7:00 a. m. Monday morning, August 9, and arrive at Umberger at 7:40, where a stop of fifteen minutes will be made. Hereford will be reached at 8:20, and a stop of one hour made while the Amarillo men get acquainted with the Hereford business men.

It is customary in such cases for the business men to meet the train and escort the visitors up town, and it is certain that the Hereford people will not fail in this courtesy Monday.

After leaving here the train will continue west to Clovis, and from that point south to Lubbock and Plainview.

ONE INCH OF RAIN WEDNESDAY-NIGHT GLADLY RECEIVED

Shortly before midnight Wednesday another good rain began falling in Hereford. The precipitation was unusually heavy for a time. The gage Thursday morning showed a total of one inch. The rain was accompanied by a heavy electrical and thunder demonstration, which appeared to be close to the ground. The extent of the rainfall was not ascertained before going to press, although it apparently was general.

This makes a total of one and six-tenths inches of rain in the city of Hereford
so far during the month of August.
The total for July was two and one quarter inches. These rains have been more or less spotted, and up to Wednesday night a strip running from northwest to southeast on either side of Hereford had had very little moisture. It is believed Thursday, however, that this strip received its share Wednesday night.

The clouds are still threatening and more rain is promised.

Mrs. J. C. McDermitt and Mrs. Carter Dibreil, of near Coleman, Texas, returned to their home last Tuesday morning. Mrs. McDermitt and Mrs.
Dibreil, while in Hereford, visited with Mrs. McDermitt's sister, Mrs. R. H.
Womack, and family.

HEREFORD NEEDS AN ICE PLANT!

There is one unsolved problem facing the citizens of Hereford just at this time which affects practically every home in the city and every pocket book as well.

That is the problem of an adequate supply of ICE.

For several years past the local ice dealers have struggled with the question of how to secure an adequate supply from Amarillo, Clovis, or Farwell, keep a sufficient supply on hand for local needs, and supply it at prices that are fair.

For the past few days it has been impossible to secure a reasonable supply at all, much less at a reasonable price. Messrs. Jones & McLean tell The Brand that they are doing everything humanly possible to secure a supply, spending large sums on telephonic and telegraphic appeals, securing promises without result, and are losing money steadily on what they do secure.

It seems that the ice plants in surrounding towns have a local demand for all their output at fancy figures, and are indifferent whether they ship out any ice at all. When they do the price is almost prohibitive.

This is a matter which affects everyone in Hereford and the surrounding country. It seems to The Brand that it is high time the citizens were getting together on this vital matter which touches the health and purse of the community as a whole.

Why can't Hereford put in a small ice plant, sufficient to take care of all local needs, but not too large as to be a financial loss?
From the best information we can gather, a five ton plant, or less,
would amply suffice. Roughly speaking, this would cost around $12,000. Are there not enough public spirited men in Hereford to subscribe this small amount and solve this vexing and expensive public service problem?

Several business men have already indicated to The Brand their willingness to take stock in such an enterprise. How many more are willing to chip in and help solve this puzzle for all time?

RAILROAD RATES

The granting of increases in freight rates and fares which are expected to yield $1,500,000,000 additional revenue annually to American railroads marks the beginning of a new epoch in transportation in this country. The very fact that the people of the country are in a mood to accept such a revolutionary change in rates is in itself proof of a new spirit. The people are beginning to realize that they are not blameless for the condition of our transportation system today, and that whatever other causes have contributed to our present situation, one of the prime causes of it, if not the chief cause, has been the policy of over-regulation and constant insistence upon a minimum of rates which has marked the relations between the National and State governments during a period of more than twenty years. The disparity of the rate of expansion between the railroads and the business of the country has had the effect of awakening the people to the fundamental importance of the transportation system in relation to our prosperity, and as a result the prevailing mood of the public mind is to "give the railroads whatever they need" to restore the system to a standard in keeping with our industrial and agricultural development.

There is danger in this very mood, for having convinced themselves that the restoration of our transportation system is of sufficient importance to justify almost any cost, the people are likely to be impatient with any prolonged continuance of railroad inadequacy. And yet, in spite of the increases, our railroad problem is far from being solved. It was a recognition that investors would be slow to be attracted to railroad securities that provision was made for Government assistance in financing for a period of transition. But there is no way to bridge over the period of transition so far as the actual providing of transportation for the public is concerned. The new rates go into effect on Sept. 1. But we will still have a considerable period of inadequate transportation. Cars and equipment cannot be supplied by magic, and in consequence the people must pay increased rates without a corresponding improvement in the service for some time to come. But it was impossible to avoid that, for no improvement could be expected until the increased revenue had been provided.

The public, therefore, must be patient with the railroads during the period just ahead. The railroad executives have shown a willingness to get a maximum of performance out of roads with the present equipment, and, indeed, propose to do more than has ever been done before with such equipment. But at best the relief will be slow in coming, and we shall continue to have railroad troubles in the way of car shortages and inadequate service for some time to come. We must expect that and not look for miracles. On the other hand the management of the railroads of the country have been placed on trial. The people, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, have said to the executives: "We will do what you think necessary. Now show us." And it is up to the railroad executives to "show us." The vigor with which they push the program of rehabilitation will determine the extent of their right to public confidence in the future. Moreover, a joint responsibility will rest upon railroad employees both during the transition period and afterward, to cooperate to the limit to get a maximum of service out of the roads. A good portion of the increase—almost half of it, in fact—will go into increased wages, so that the public has a right to expect a new spirit among the men. There ought to be a period of security as regards labor troubles, for industrial peace on the railroads during the work of rehabilitation will be quite as important as any other factor. Both the executives and the men owe it to the public to work together for the common good without interruption from now on.

Of immediate importance to the country will be the effect of this increase upon the general financial and business situation. Had any prolonged controversy arisen over the question of additional revenue for the railroads, we do not hesitate to say that it would have resulted in industrial and financial disaster to the country as a whole. For the whole question of whether we were going to go forward or blow up resolved itself in a question of what we would do with the railroads. Had Congress tackled this question and settled it in the shortest possible time immediately after the armistice, we would be in immeasurably better shape now. But it does not come too late. We will have no panic now, in spite of the car shortage and other embarrassments. Henceforth conditions can be expected to improve gradually. The immediate solution of the car shortage, to be sure, is out of the question. There will be no sudden relief from the financial stringency on account of this decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission. But by the same token there will be no disaster. For we now have a better idea of where we are going. It is only a question of the rate of speed we find it possible to travel. But it is assured that we shall come "out of the woods" at last.—Ft. Worth Star Telegram.

AUTHORIZING ONE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT AD VALOREM TAX BY CITIES AND TOWNS OF FIVE THOUSAND OR LESS POPULATION
Senate Joint Resolution No. 12.

Proposing an amendment to Section 4 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by increasing the total tax rate that may be levied by cities and towns having a population of five thousand or less than one-fourth of one per cent to not exceeding one and one-half per cent, and making appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 4, Article XI of the Constitution be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 4. Cities and towns having a population of five thousand or less may be chartered alone by general law. They may levy, assess and collect such taxes as may be authorized by law, but no tax for any purpose shall ever be lawful for any one year which shall exceed one and one-half per cent of the taxable property of such city; and all taxes shall be collectible only in current money, and all licenses and occupation taxes levied, and all fines, forfeitures and penalties accruing to said cities and towns shall be collectible only in current money.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1920, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment of Section 4, Article XI of the Constitution increasing the total tax rate that may be levied by towns and cities having a population of five thousand or less from one-fourth of one per cent to not exceeding one and one-half per cent of any one year," and all voters opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment of Section 4, Article XI of the Constitution increasing the total tax rate that may be levied by towns and cities having a population of five thousand or less from one-fourth of one per cent to not exceeding one and one-half per cent of any one year."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. That the sum of Five Thousand Dollars, or so much thereof may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of publication and election.

CASTRO COUNTY

DIMMITT

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Another fine rain Monday afternoon and also at night, and indications are good for more. Some parts of the county were beginning to need a shower, where other parts had plenty, but of course, we enjoy plenty. Lakes around town are full which have been dry for months and this makes the country look more prosperous. Fine crops are almost an assured fact.

Dimmitt is to have one of the monuments being built on the Dixie Highway. Work has begun and will be completed as soon as possible. This will be quite a help to the country through which it passes. We are glad to see anything that will be for the good of our people.

Dr. Miller came home Monday, a few days earlier than expected, in response to a telegram sent by Mr. Ramey, who has a very sick child. Quite a bit of sickness is reported through the country.

Mrs. Lovelace and Miss Gettle are at home after a visit with Holt Lovelace in Plainview.

The young people were entertained in the home of Judge and Mrs. Kerr Friday evening.

Rev. Sharp delivered two splendid sermons Sunday afternoon and night. We are always glad to have him, for he brings us such good thoughts. Those who were absent surely missed a rare treat.

Mrs. Mark Cowsett is at home after spending several weeks in Plainview having an osteopath treat her infant daughter.

Mrs. B. B. Easier is home after a few days in the Hereford sanitarium.

The Hastings home was thrown open to the young people Saturday evening. All present enjoyed the occasion to the fullest.

It is reported that Bob Cox, who works at the garage, had the misfortune of breaking one of his legs by falling from a motorcycle going to Plainview Saturday or Sunday.

The Baptist meeting begins next Sunday. All are invited to attend. If all Christians would take part and have a union meeting, more good would be accomplished than to have two or three meetings. Especially in a small place like Dimmitt.

Our Sunday school is union, and is the liveliest organization in the county. One hundred and six were present on last Sunday. Let's get a few more next Sunday. We have room for two hundred. Boost the Sunday School.

Buys Castro Ranch

Otus Reeves of Plainview, has purchased the Red five section ranch consisting of three sections owned and two leased, located in Castro county five miles east of Dimmitt. This is said to be one of the best improved ranches in the country and the deal included considerable work stock, farming implements, crops, etc. The consideration was around $70,000.—Plainview News.

The Epworth League is planning a social for the near future.

Miss Jessie Davis has returned from Amarillo, where she worked during the past several weeks.

The Third Quarterly Conference of the Bovina Methodist church will be held at Sumnerfield Aug. 7 and 8.

Nice showers have fallen over the Bovina country of late, which will benefit row crops materially.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hastings are the proud parents of a little son, born Tuesday, July 27.

Bovina was the scene of a sad accident last Sunday afternoon. Everett Perryman, aged about 21 years, of Pampa, Texas, was here on a visit to friends, and missing the afternoon passenger train, decided to catch a through freight, and in this attempt he missed his footing in some manner and some part of one of the cars struck him on the back of the head, killing him instantly. The remains were taken in charge by an undertaking establishment and shipped to his old home in Indiana for interment.

Discovers Strange Animal

R. E. Kessie, editor of the Stratford Star went fishing some time previous to July 1, 1919, and the things he saw on that trip were too wonderful to contemplate. He saw an animal said to be a cross between a sheep and a hog, and every friend he has told the incident since has said that "there ain't no such animal". So Kessie wrote to Colonel Goodnight, the Panhandle animal Burbank to find out just what he did, or didn't see. Mr. Goodnight wrote him that he had crossed the sheep and the hog and produced an offspring, and he added that the cross is a common one in parts of old Mexico. The thing that Kessie saw was such an animal. The South Plains will be entirely out of the running if some more of the North Plains editors will now swing in line. RELATING TO TAXATION BY SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Senate Joint Resolution No. 17. Proposing an amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by exempting independent and common school districts from the limitation of a total tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution be so amended as hereafter to read as follows: (Creating a new Section 3.)

Section 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein named be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the state and the legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation; and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law may embrace parts of two or more counties. And the legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified tax-paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax not to exceed in any one year one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts, nor to independent or common school districts created by general or special law.

Sec. 2 The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1920, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the Amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the limitation upon the amount of school district tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation shall not apply to independent or common school districts created by general or special law," and all those opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, "Against the amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the limitation upon the amount of school district tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation shall not apply to independent or common school districts created by general or special law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. That the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election. (Attest—A true copy.) C. D. MIMS, Secretary of State.

COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved by Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Philpot of this place writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back. By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days. I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go. I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had the headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle. I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health. I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. E 78

Reception

Quite the most brilliant of the social functions of the week, was the charming "At Home" given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. W. E. Dameron, complimentary to her house guest, Miss Bess Snyder, of Kansas City, and also honoring Mrs. Cole, of Des Moines, Iowa, Mesdames Richard and Joe Collins, and Mrs. R. T. Evans.

The Dameron home, cheery and spacious and responding so beautifully as it does to the decorator's art, seems ideally adopted for entertaining, and, on Wednesday afternoon its welcoming hospitality found expression in a perfect harmony of program, decoration, and radiant personality of the dainty, girlish hostess.

The reception suite throughout was a bower of iridescent beauty. Great bowls of rainbow-tinted sweet peas smiled in unison with vases of garden flowers while from the colonnade, baskets of the fragrant blossoms were suspended with graceful hangings of maline in green and lavender, the drawn shades and effective lighting intensified the beauty of the scene.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. C. C. Ferguson and introduced to the receiving line by Mesdames D. C. Laird and B. F. Guthrie. Receiving with the hostess were: W. B. Dameron, W. C. Cole, R. T. Evans, Richard Collins, Joe Collins and R. H. Womack, and Miss Bess Snyder.

After greeting the honorees, the guests were ushered to the dining room by Mrs. Arch Collins and were there met by Mesdames Homer Wilkinson, D. L. McDonald and A. M. Jones. Misses Mabel Gass Douglas Wilson, Lura Gregg and Clara Dunlap served a delicious salad course, consisting of sandwiches, vegetable salad, pickles and iced tea. Dainty favors bestowed by Mesdames C. A. Skelton and Edgar Betts, consisted of tiny cards tied with bows of white satin ribbon bearing on one side the names of the honorees and on the other the name of the hostess.

The very enjoyable musical program was in charge of Mrs. H. L. Broadwell and was contributed to by Mesdames Carl Mountz, John Williams, Homer Fox and Elmer Dameron, and Misses Bonnie Chamness, Elizabeth Oberthier, Zena Owen and Elizabeth Black.

During the receiving hours which were from 3:30 to 6:30, about one hundred and fifty guests were welcomed.

Bay View Entertained

Nothing within the recent life of the Bay View Club has given more pleasure to its members than the Friday morning party given by Mrs. Arch Collins, furnishing as it did, an opportunity, not only for renewing associations among the present membership, but also, of welcoming two former members whose names are indissolubly linked with the life of the club: Mrs. B. S. Arnold, of Amarillo, and Mrs. R. T. Evans.

The receiving rooms were gay with golden glow, its gorgeous coloring adding an effective note to a simple decorative scheme of green and orange in perfect accord with the bright summer morning.

Tables were placed alternately for "forty-two" and the unique game of "cootie," continual outbursts of merriment and much animated conversation attesting the pleasurable interest in both games. Score cards cleverly designed by Mrs. Potts, showed a "large as life and twice as natural cootie," decorating the upper left hand corner. The hours sped all too quickly and at the close of the games delicious sherbet and angel food cake were served.

Watermelon Feast

A class party that furnished a delightful outing and provided just the sort of entertainment appreciated by boys, took the form of a watermelon feast at the Oberthier ranch, on Tuesday and was enjoyed by the boys of Mr. Oberthier's Sunday School class.

They were taken by Mr. Oberthier to his ranch east of town early in the afternoon and were given access to the many delightful things a big farm offers to boys in the way of fun. Not the least of these was a glorious swim in the big tank and later a feast of delicious watermelons. It was truly a jolly afternoon for this class of bright boys who make up in quality what they lack in numbers and which consists of J. C. Gildbreath, J. T. Gildbreath, Hollis Clark, Lloyd Tice, Jess Russell and R. V. Miller.

In Memory of Nellie Hubbert

(By her aunt, Mrs. C. B. Stevens, Gainesville, Texas.)

In the silent calm of morning,
In the twilight soft and sweet
God called our darling from us,
And our Nellie fell asleep.

Up there in Hereford Cemetery
There is now a new made mound,
And the form that was so cherished
Has been laid beneath the ground.

But up yonder in the portals,
Which are shining very fair,
Our Nellie will be sheltered
By the Savior's loving care.

Mrs. Donald Entertains

Mrs. Chas. Donald charmingly entertained a party of friends on Wednesday afternoon, the occasion honoring Mrs. W. B. Arnold, of Marshall, Mo., and Mrs. B. S. Arnold, of Amarillo.

Delightful informality marked the afternoon's program to which appreciated musical numbers furnished by Misses Elizabeth Black and Elizabeth Oberthier added much pleasure.

Out-of-town guests were: Mesdames Newbold and Neely, of Amarillo.

An ice course, consisting of brick cream and cake, was served to about forty guests.

LOCAL MEN PRESENT AT MEETING PANHANDLE BOOSTERS

Amarillo, Texas, July 28, 1920.—The meeting of the board of directors and representatives of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce that took place in the office of the headquarters yesterday afternoon, beyond the question of a doubt, established in the minds of the Panhandle people the usefulness of the organization and their desire that it be perpetuated.

That this organization is being instrumental in bettering the conditions of commercial life is attested by the following petition upon which Floydada raised its quota pending the meeting of the commissioners court in August:

"The undersigned subscribers hereby pay the amounts set opposite our respective names for the support of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, it being understood that a strict accounting for the moneys spent by said organization will be made in open meetings or meetings at a designated time. We realize that the above organization has been the instrument through which the people of Floyd County were able last year to get coal cars and that at least 80 percent of the cars obtained the last 12 months for grain shipments has come through the work of this organization."

This petition was accompanied by a draft for $600.

Judge Paul, of Carson County, "I pledge Carson County and hand you my personal check, pending the action of our court for $500."

Judge Dinwiddie, of Tulla, Swisher County, "I pledge my county and will personally pay the amount in case the court fails to take the matter up. I will also go with representatives to other counties to put this matter over for the organization is worth the money."

A. B. Brown, of Lockney, "Draw on the First National Bank of Lockney for 600 and anything else you want."

Hand Made Saddles

If you need a new hand-made saddle, give us your order. We are located in Hereford to stay and make all our saddles here. We use the best trees obtainable, also the best California Leather. All saddles hand laced.

Taylor Bros. Saddlery

I. N. Edwards, of Booker, "Accept my personal check for $100 and my pledge to bring Lipscomb County into the organization either through the avenue of the Commissioners or by private subscription."

E. W. Harrison, of Hereford, "I pledge my county and if they don't pay it, I will." Mr. Parker, of Hereford, banker, was a happy and appreciated talker.

Telegrams were received from six other counties pledging support to this organization. Its future financially is assured and that its usefulness to the territory is felt and appreciated, is a matter of delight and satisfaction to the officers of the Chamber.

Judge Paul introduced a resolution which was adopted, "that the bankers and grain men of each county assume the responsibility of this proposition in each individual county and put it over."

Secretary-Manager.

BACKMAN-TINSCH TRAINED WILD ANIMAL SHOWS

Amusement lovers, particularly kiddies, will welcome the announcement of the coming of The Backman-Tinsch Big Trained Wild and Domestic Animal Shows to Hereford Wednesday, Aug. 11, for one day only. The big water proof tent will be pitched across from the new Methodist church. Every man, woman and child in Hereford and surrounding country should avail themselves of this opportunity to witness this highly educational exhibition of Wonderfully Trained Lions; one of which actually makes a balloon ascension, accompanied by a beautiful young lady trainer flying far into the lofty peaks of the mammoth canvas and while the Beauty and the Beast the enjoying their aerial flight a beautiful display of fireworks is turned loose while the ten la darkens. Positively the most inspiring, sensational, at the same time beautiful act, ever before attempted or accomplished by any other show in America.

Many other new and novel acts have been added to the Backman-Tinsch Shows one of which deserves special mention, that of Handsome Mike, the Marvelous Roller Skating Bear, who skates around the big elevated stage with all the grace of the human type.

Space will permit but slight mention of the many startling features to be presented by this mammoth collection of Animal Actors consisting of lions, leopards, tigers, bears, horses, ponies, monkeys, dogs, interspersed with many novelties by America's foremost lady and gentlemen artists of the tented world.

REMEMBER THE DATE, Wednesday, August 11th.

SANTA FE OFFICIAL ON CAR SITUATION

The Santa Fe and other western roads are not responsible for the car shortage," said W. B. Storey, President of the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, when in Topeka recently. "The Santa Fe," said Mr. Storey, "like all other roads, has its troubles these days, but our trouble is chiefly with the grain car shortage. The Santa Fe and other western roads are not responsible for it. It grew out of the mixup during Federal administration when our cars were taken away and scattered all over the eastern country. The eastern roads have our box cars and the western roads did have a large number of their coal cars."

"In June the western roads sidetracked all loaded cars and ran trains of empty coal cars east. They delivered over 40,000 coal cars to the eastern roads. Now if the eastern roads would reciprocate by sending our empty box cars home it would help wonderfully in taking care of the conditions in the harvest belt."

"A falling wheat market," continued Mr. Storey, "will bring a great amount of criticism from the wheat farmers because they will want cars to get their wheat to market at once. But if wheat should go up there will not be much anxiety on the part of the wheat farmers to get their wheat to market.

"The Santa Fe," added Mr. Storey, "is moving an enormous lot of grain now. But there is such a tremendous crop that the movement does not seem to make much impression. We hope to get the cars back and get the peak load of the wheat harvest off the farmers' hands within the next sixty days. If we can do that we can handle the rest of the crops and other traffic satisfactorily in the future."

Reward
Lee Satterwhite editor of the Panhandle Herald, is happy over Panhandle prosperity. He has just gathered the rewards of a year's wheat farming, and has also been re-elected to the legislature from his district. One forty-acre wheat field produced 26 bushels to the acre of 61-pound grain and sold for $2.65 per bushel, a return of $68.90 per acre. Lee has had old Hard Luck calling on him pretty regularly lately, and the clouds have hung heavy. But the clouds had a silver lining and the things are breaking his way. It is a pleasure to see Lee coming into his own.—Canadian Record.

The OilPull Never Overheats

INVESTIGATION has proved that one of the big troubles developed by the average tractor is the overheating of the engine due to the heavy work which the tractor is called upon to perform.

This is because the average tractor is cooled with water. The reason the OilPull never overheats, and is entirely free from all the ordinary cooling troubles, is because it is cooled with oil. This is an exclusive OilPull feature.

Unlike water—oil does not evaporate—there is no boiling in the hottest weather.

The temperature of the OilPull engine is held within correct limits at all times under all loads and climatic conditions. When the OilPull is working at top speed the oil is automatically kept cooler than when it is working at light load or running idle. There is absolutely no possibility of the OilPull overheating. And not only that, but the proper temperature for perfect kerosene combustion is maintained at all times.

Oil does not deposit scale or sediment—the OilPull circulating system is always open. Oil does not rust the system parts—the OilPull radiator will last the life of the tractor.

There are four sizes—12-20, 16-30, 20-40 and 30-60 H. P. Which do you need?

Methodist Missionary Society

The Methodist Missionary Society held their social and business meeting for July at the home of Mrs. Hattie Rutherford, with Mesdames Saltzman, H. H. Hawkins, McLean and Shepherd as hostesses. The president called the meeting to order and Hymn No. 65 was sung as the opening hymn. Mr. Crab and a friend of his from Salina, Texas were with us for this occasion and as Mr. Crab brought his violin with him the music was a real treat, and song after song was sung with enthusiasm and feeling. Miss Lula Edwards then led in prayer after which the reports of officers and committees were given in full. The reports were gratifying indeed and showed progress made in every department. Motion was made by Mrs. Spratt that reports be accepted as given and was carried. The Society decided to contribute $25.00 towards the "Girl's Camp" to be conducted in Amarillo Aug. 4th-11th, with Mrs. Tom Dealany, of Memphis, in charge. For the social hour Mr. Crab rendered several violin solos and Miss Elizabeth Black was good enough to give us not only a piano solo but several vocal selections as well. The hostesses then served a delicious ice course after which the society adjourned.

Starts Texas Farm Boys Special on Saturday, Aug. 7

Dallas, Texas, July 29.—The Texas Chamber of Commerce will conduct an extensive advertising campaign of Texas resources in connection with the Texas Farm Boy Special which will leave the A. & M. College, August 7, and run through Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ontario, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

A booklet descriptive of Texas has been printed and will be distributed by the thousands along the route. The unique visit of the farm boys to the numerous cities and towns along the route is attracting much press comment and offers an opportunity for wide-spread publicity of Texas resources. A publicity man from the state chamber will be aboard the train to greet the newspaper men along the route and "slip them the dope" upon the opportunities offered by the Lone Star State to home seekers and investors. Correspondents will be sent with the special train by several big Texas newspapers and magazines, including the Houston Chronicle, San Antonio Express, Dallas News, and the Progressive Farmer. These correspondents will help advertise Texas as well as send back the news of the Texas Farm Boy Special for the benefit of the parents and friends of the boys aboard the train.

TWO THOUSAND JACK RABBITS SLAIN AT ROSCOE

Early this week a drive was made in the Roscoe community, of the Jack Rabbits, and as a result about two thousand rabbits were rounded up and driven into a net wire pen and slain by citizens of that town. Rabbits in that section have become very numerous and do much damage to crops in portions of the country.—Lubbock Avalanche.

TUCUMCARI ROUND-UP IS FOUR DAYS

Tucumcari, N. Mex., July 30, 1920.—The Tucumcari Round-Up Association, which will hold their Fifth Annual Re-Union at Tucumcari August 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, and have succeeded in arranging with Tex Austin, worlds' greatest producer of cowboy sports, to personally direct their Round-Up this year. Mr. Austin has just finished staging the Worlds Championship Cowboy Contest, in Grant Park, Chicago, Ill., with a cost of approximately $150,000.00, having a seating capacity of 25,000 people, staging two shows daily from July 3rd to 11th, 1920, during the Elks National Convention. Over $25,000.00 was hung up in cash prizes, and nearly all of the best known riders and ropers were there to compete and to protect their championship titles.

Mr. Austin stated when interviewed at his headquarters in Chicago that his business would compel him to abandon the idea of directing the Tucumcari Round-Up, but U. S. Devor, Chairman of the Round-Up Association would not take "no" for an answer, so Mr. Austin was finally persuaded to assist the home folks this year.

Mr. F. C. Beebe, Mr. Austin's publicity director, left Chicago last Saturday for Tucumcari, and will begin work immediately on the advertising propaganda for the big show.

Mr. Austin further stated that he would use the same noted outlaw horses that were used at Cheyenne last year and also at the World's Championship contest at Chicago; these horses he stated, were about the best bucking horses to be found anywhere in the West, and they certainly lived up to their reputation in Chicago, crippling over twenty of the best riders in the contest game this year.

Hereofore Tucumcari has always played a three-day showing, but due to the magnitude of the contest this year, the committee was compelled to add an additional day, making the dates now, August 18th to 21st.

RELATING TO THE MANNER OF COMPENSATION OF PUBLIC OFFICIALS

House Joint Resolution No. 7.
A joint resolution of the Legislature of the State of Texas, proposing an amendment to the constitution of the State by adding to Article 16 thereof a new section, to be known as Section 60; providing for the compensation of public officials.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That there is hereby added to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, a new section to be known as Section 60 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, which shall read as follows:

Section 60. Compensation of Public Officials: All State, district, county and precinct officers within this State shall receive as compensation for their services a salary, the amount of which, the terms and method of payment and the fund out of which such payments shall be made, shall be ascertained, declared and fixed by the Legislature from time to time; provided that the Legislature may make such exceptions as it may deem advisable.
This section shall supersede all other provisions of this constitution fixing and declaring the compensation of officers by salary, fees or otherwise and all provisions for salaries or other compensation for public officials, executive, legislative or judicial.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1920, at which election this amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the constitution and laws of the State. Said election to be held under and in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters, the following words:

"Official Ballot" "For the amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, adding thereto Section 60, providing for compensation of public officials." "Against the amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, adding thereto Section 60, providing for compensation of public officials."

Those voters who favor such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "Against the amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing compensation for public officials." Those who oppose such amendment shall erase by marking a line through the words "For the amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing compensation for public officials." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election.

Sec. 3 The sum of Five Thousand Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of this amendment and the election to be held hereunder.

GOOD YEAR

MYSTERY OF HARTLEY HOUSE

Copyright by George H. Doran Co.

Just Then I Was Blinded by the Light of an Electric Flashlight Hitting Me Full in the Eyes.

disappeared suddenly. I was in doubt whether the man's feet had gone out from under him, or whether he had jumped.

In disappearing he left the place where he had been, charged with the mystery which his presence had indicated. His disappearance intensified, thickened, the atmosphere which his presence had created. While his head was above the wall, the sensation was one of nervous astonishment. When his head disappeared, the suggestion of terror was added. So long as we saw him, it was something unexplained but embodied; when he dropped out of sight, it was as if a person going down a hall in his house by candlelight at night were to come upon a startling sight, and—at the moment when his perceptions and reason were struggling to explain the object and its presence and to sustain his courage—the candlelight should go out in a gust of wind and leave him blind, facing a thing he had not explained and now could no longer see.

Then, with cause, may the hairs crowning even a head with a thinking brain rise in sheer fright. The person's plight is that of black ignorance, in which superstition and childish fears ascend and dominate.

Jed took a step forward as if in pursuit, but stopped with that one movement. It broke the situation down and made it possible for me to return to animation. Seemingly my powers of movement and speech had been suspended. I looked at Jed, who was as pitifully frightened as a child in the dark. He made every demonstration of fright except wailing. Then he braced himself, recovered his courage and without saying anything went into the house to join Mr. Sidney.

CHAPTER VIII.

When I saw Mr. Sidney that evening he made a remark in joke that Jed was ill and needed my attention.

"I have not had the usual satisfaction of my wine," he said, "and I know it is because Jed is not in condition."

"I'm not well, Mr. Sidney," said Jed. "I didn't want to say anything about it, because I didn't want to interfere with your evening, but since you mention it, I'll admit it."

"Go on along then, Jed," said Mr. Sidney. "Go and have the doctor look you over."

"I'm not sick," said Jed almost angrily, "but I know I'm bad company. I'll go to bed."

"There's something wrong with the man," I said as Jed left, "but it isn't physical."

"So I imagined," said Mr. Sidney. "He's as strong as an ox. He's got the constitution of an ox. However, he's not himself tonight, and that's all there is to that. Will you read to me?"

It was eleven o'clock when I went to my room. I was glad of my release, although it had been a pleasant evening. For a dead or a dying man—for a living and live man, for that matter—Mr. Sidney had extraordinary manners and great charm. He gave a dignity and worth to life by his very manner of leaving it. In going from it, he proved it to be worth while—which, I suspect, is the highest accomplishment of the real gentleman.

After I had gone to my room, I found myself restless and thought I might find rest in a walk. I expected to be joined by my friends the mastiffs and Alredales as soon as I was outside, but not a dog appeared. This was enough to be noticed, but not enough, at the time, to be given significance. I walked about for a while and re-entered the house with quieter nerves.

I found that I was tired. Ordinarily I liked at least an hour's reading just before bed, but this night I wanted sleep.

I was grateful for the mood and the opportunity, and I yawned once or twice as I got into my pajamas.

I do not know when I went to sleep or how soon thereafter I awakened. It was possibly only two hours later. I did not look at my watch, for the very good reason that other things at the time were more important. A bright moonlight was shining, and whatever had awakened me, the moonlight showed me good cause to be awake. In a window which the moonlight touched with full, illuminating force, was a face recognizable as that of the Spanish sailor.

Again only his head was visible, but this time he was in my bedroom window and seemingly trying for entrance into my room. This may seem a more ghastly proceeding than his appearance above the wall early in the evening, but really it was not. I had the shock of unpleasant astonishment, but I felt, to my satisfaction, the ability to handle the situation. I was not frightened by the appearance of the head in my window. I suppose it is because the appearance suggested burglars, and burglars are conventional.

I lay quietly in bed and wondered how much more than the head I would not impose upon Mrs. Sidney of her daughter except in extremity. You are here, a rational human being and interested, I am informed, in the fortunes of this family. Therefore I have come to you.

"For what purpose?" I asked.

He smiled as if to apologize for having any purpose, and pulled at the cuffs of his coat.

"I'll be frank," he said. "I hardly know the purpose clearly myself. My client is a sailor. My practice lies considerably along the water front in the city. It has not made me rich. I have lost a good deal of egotism and have become pragmatic. I have to get along and to deal with facts. There are people dependent upon me, and I have not been much to depend upon."

"The condition of your finances or your morals cannot be of interest to me," I said. "What have you that is of interest?"

He smiled as if he was used frequently to rebut.

"What I have, I assure you, humiliates me to present, because I realize that if I succeed for my client, I shall be in the way of blackmailing Mr. Sidney. My consolation is that I am only an agent and I am sure that I shall be a more considerate and honest one than any other this ignorant sailor would find. It has been necessary for me to know many languages to make my small living. My Spanish client does not know much if any English. He has been a man of precarious manner of living, and it seems that several years ago he was in the employ of Mr. Sidney."

"Where was that?" I asked.

The little man pulled at his coat cuffs and smiled again.

"My client being Spanish and Mr. Sidney having lived many years in Montevideo, it might be assumed that it was there," he said. "It was there, and my client came into possession of a document—by dishonest means, I thought to punish or discharge him. He had gone to the village in the early afternoon on an assigned mission for the house. He had used the opportunity to drink a few glasses of beer, for which proceeding no one would blame him in Hartley house. It seems that he drank two or three glasses more than he intended to and, even beer being in a fashion intoxicating, got into a condition which made him amiable to the approach of a stranger who succeeded in interesting him in the immediate prospects of life, which then to him were chiefly alcoholic.

He and the stranger had much talk and many drinks. The stableman lost all sense of responsibility, which was not strange, and proceeded from beer to strong liquor, forgetting all his duties to the house. In consequence he did not get home that night, and the dogs were not loose.

Naturally one drew a direct line from this performance to the appearance of the Spaniard at my window, and there was natural wonder as to what kind of confederate the Spaniard could have so effectually to prepare the way for him.

The Spaniard had a confederate who was ingenious and resourceful; that was evident. He had made a deliberate play to get the dogs out of the way the night the sailor made his attempt to get into Jed's room, and had succeeded in almost getting into mine.

Two days after the strange appearance of the Spaniard, I was asked for and was told that a gentleman desired to see me. I went to the office of the house and saw a man who instantly suggested the one who had entertained the stableman so successfully.

He was so easily described that it was a crime for even a drunken stableman to have missed his distinguishing characteristics, but at that, the stableman had made identification possible. The moment I saw the fellow I thought we were nearer the solution of the mystery of Hartley house.

He was a significantly insignificant-looking man; that was his identifying mark. He seemed timid and insecure of himself, apologetic for his intrusion upon me and withal determined to do whatever it was that was in his program. I wondered how so shrinking an individual had played a joyful part in a village, tavern with yokels at drink. His card indicated him to be a lawyer and gave his name as Philletus M. Brown. He came directly to his subject—for which I thanked him—as soon as he had made a brief preliminary of commonplaces of introduction and greeting.

"I have asked for you, doctor, because I know of no one else here who will serve. I do not wish to approach Mr. Sidney directly and cannot trust the factotum you know as Jed."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Surest Thing in the World

Two and two have always made four. There would not be more than three million five hundred thousand Ford cars in daily service—which is just about one-half of all the automobiles in America—if the Ford, as a reliable motor car, did not meet the demands of all classes of people everywhere and under all circumstances.

Two and two have always made four. If the material, the iron and the marvelous Vanadium steel used in the construction of the Ford chassis, were not of the highest quality known to the science of Metallurgy, then the Ford car could not have won its world-wide reputation for reliability.

Two and two have always made four. suspect—of which he now retains only one page. I wish to leave a copy of this page with you, and later to find out to what extent it interests Mr. Sidney.

"You mean—to find out if he will submit to blackmail," I said. "I anticipated your remark," he said. "I look at the matter differently. If Mr. Sidney has something to conceal, we shall be glad to help him to conceal it. I will leave a copy of the page from the document with you, and with your permission will see you later."

He handed me a long envelope and with a bow asked to be shown to the door. Jedd, not suspecting that the little man had any connection with the matter, showed him out.

I went to my room to examine the paper which had been left with me. It was accompanied by an explanatory statement by Attorney Philetus M. Brown. "I will give the explanatory statement first.

"Memoranda for Dr. Michelson: The accompanying typewritten sheet is a part of a document stolen from Mr. Sidney in Montevideo ten years ago by Alejandro Dravada, then a servant in the capacity of porter. Dravada preserves the original, of which I have had several typewritten copies made. Dravada had the complete document in his hands, but only for a short while. He had discovered, in the course of several years' service under Mr. Sidney in Montevideo, that a strong box in Mr. Sidney's room was particularly guarded. He supposed it contained jewels. He is, I should judge, a person of small moral character and great cupidity. He determined to steal the box, hoping that its contents would enable him to get married and set himself up in a small business.

"He succeeded in getting the box, by entering Mr. Sidney's room, but before he could make his escape he was unfortunate enough to be discovered by another servant, known to you as Jedd. Jedd leveled a revolver at my client and made him surrender the box.

"I can only conjecture here—frequently this case has caused me to conjecture; but I think that the man Jedd, although he knew something valuable was contained in the box, thought, as did my Spanish client, that it was personal property; and, unlike my client, he was not careless of property rights. This conjecture may not interest you, but I imagine you asking: 'Why did not Jedd steal the box afterward took from my client?'

It was, I think, because the man Jedd was by nature honest, and it was only when his inhibitions had been broken down by the sight of another man committing a crime which had been easier for him to commit, that he lost control of his morals.

"The man Jedd took the box. My client, desperate at finding himself robbed of his loot, armed himself immediately and broke into Jedd's room shortly thereafter. He found Jedd consolately looking at a mass of papers, which was all the supposed jewel casket contained.

"In this disappointing occupation Jedd was aroused by the stealthy entrance of my client through a window, but there was no conflict. Jedd pointed to the papers and laughed. My client was shrewd enough to read Jedd's emotions. He knew that the treasure trove had proved a soap bubble. He is a man of violent temper. In his double disappointment he sprang at Jedd, stabbed him in the shoulder, seized the papers, scattered them about the room and jumped out of the window.

"If this had been all, I should have no client in this case. But in his rage Dravada, when he was throwing the papers about, had unconsciously retained one sheet in his clenched fist. He found it in his fist when he came out of his senseless and inordinate rage later; and then, his natural cupidity and cunning reasserted, he realized that something was being guarded in the box; that something being only papers, it must follow that the papers were valuable. He reproached himself that his anger had defeated his judgment when it was possible for him to take the entire contents of the box. He did not dare go back; he had stabbed Jedd; the house might be alarmed. He had only a single sheet of the guarded manuscript. It is a copy of that sheet which you find here.

"I said I would give you my conjectures. You will ask first why I am so candid in committing to writing a communication of this nature. It is because: first, I prefer to write it, owing to a physical timidity in conversation; and second, but equally important, because I know the last thing Mr. Sidney or any true friend of Mr. Sidney's, desires is to have the story, of which this is a page, made public.

"I do not know what this story is, but I know who does know what it is. That person is the man Jedd—now, as before, a servant of Mr. Sidney. I have made sufficient inquiry as to the position of Jedd in the household of Mr. Sidney to know that he retains the manuscript found in the box, or if he does not retain it, knows its contents.

"The visit of Mr. Sidney and his family to Montevideo this winter betrayed Jedd's whereabouts to Dravada. He came north after they had sailed. His cupidity has determination. I think your man Jedd appreciates that. I think from what Dravada has told me, in his simple boasting fashion, that Jedd was dismayed to see him again in Montevideo.

"My client's first impulse, having followed Jedd to the United States, was to get at this secret by force or theft, but he sees the physical difficulties in the way; and being, except in his violent moments, a reasonable man, he has had recourse to an attorney to obtain such settlement as his knowledge may be worth.

"I do not wish to defend my course in the matter. I suggest merely that Mr. Sidney and all concerned will fare the better for having a man of consideration and discretion, such as I flatter myself I am, intervening between them and a man of the moral complexion indicated by my client. I shall be at your disposal, doctor, within any reasonable time. I leave it to your judgment to handle the matter within Hartley house.

The copy of manuscript which accompanied the letter was as follows: '... would be fatal to the success of what I have done and intend to do if this confession were to be found. It might be asked, then, why expose myself and my happiness to the chance of discovery of things which I may lock forever by simply forgetting. It is sufficient answer to that question to admit that for me I could not be content unless it were certain that what I have done should be known. I want the record of it known. It increases my satisfaction to know that I shall cause moralists to be indignant. I want to be known as a criminal. I want my crime to be talked about. I want it remembered. That is the savor of my life. It would be impossible for me to obtain a sufficient satisfaction unless I made it possible for the story of a crime to be known some time. So long as I live, I shall need and seek concealment; but I should not be happy unless I could anticipate disclosure. My crime

That was all. Several persons—two at least; Dravada and Attorney Brown—knew as much as I had read. Three persons, in the house, Mr. Sidney, Mrs. Sidney and Jedd, knew the story completely. It was this knowledge which had given Jedd his control in the case Mrs. Sidney her unhappiness and Mr. Sidney some of his

The search for a solvent of the Hartley house mysteries was insistent. Alcott's incidental remark came back to me: "It might have been Montevideo."

I felt uncomfortable to recall this, ashamed and abashed, as if in recalling it I had done something to lower myself in my self-respect. I had to go to Mrs. Sidney with the information and insinuations Attorney Philetus M. Brown had given me. My desire was to protect her from precisely this kind of trouble; my necessity was to carry the trouble to her. I had to know how to act.

By way of preliminary I told her of the three appearances of the Spaniard and then of the appearances of the lawyer. When I offered her the sheet of paper containing a transcript of a page of Mr. Sidney's diary, her hands trembled, but she took the sheet resolutely. She was greatly alarmed but regained her composure.

"She read the page hurriedly and then more carefully and, it seemed, with relief. 'I have to deal with these men,' I said, 'and I must know how to do it. They can be dealt with by criminal law if there is no reason why protection should not be sought in that fashion.'

"There is," said Mrs. Sidney; "and I cannot tell you the reason."

"You know that I do not ask for it," I said.

"You know there is something very strange about this house?" "That was evident in twenty-four hours," I said, "but it means nothing to me. I am not curious. I merely want to know how to deal with these men."

"It is not a lack of confidence in you that keeps me from telling what is wrong here," said Mrs. Sidney. "It would be a relief to do so. It has been hard to stand it all alone, John."

I was glad, for the first time consciously, that my name was John. It had an honest, straightforward sound, suggesting the plain, honest dealing that might be needed in this house.

Baby Drowns

Little Andrew Charles, eight months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Stokes of four miles northwest of town, was drowned in a tub of water early Sunday morning.

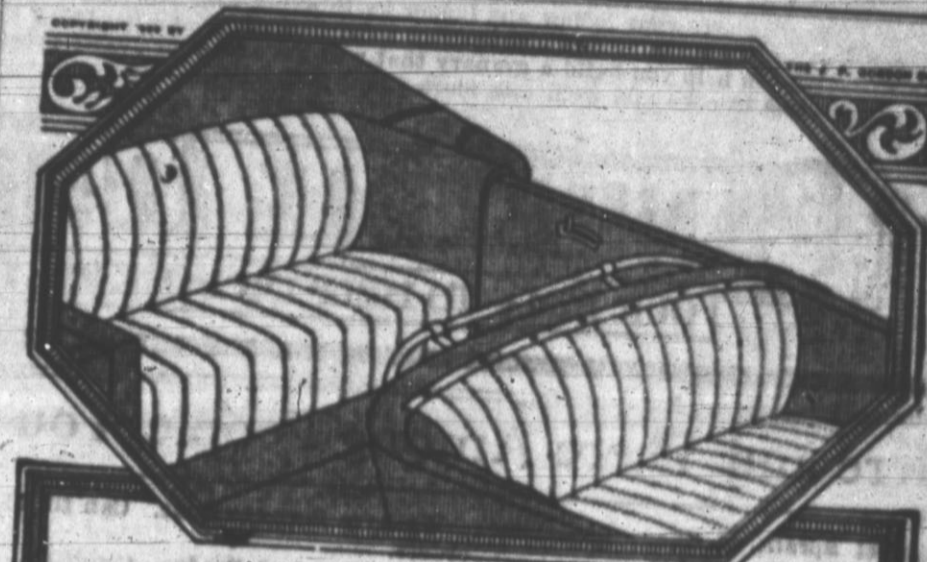

A tub almost full of water had been left in one of the bedrooms and while the mother was cooking breakfast and Mr. Stokes was at the barn feeding the stock, the little one, who was just learning to walk, made his way to the tub, fell into the water and was drowned. He was found within a few minutes, but all efforts to revive him were without success.

The funeral was held in the Nazarene church at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, S. R. Jones officiating. Interment in Hill Crest Cemetery immediately afterward.—McLean News.

Adam made a date with Eve to meet her under a coconut palm. That was the first mandate.

Let's see: were we fighting to make this the last war, or merely to make this one last?—Baltimore Sun.

The wetness of New Jersey will keep a lot of people from going to Europe to see the ruins.

Washable Cushion Slips--On In A Jiffy --Off Just As Quickly!

The dust and grime that clings to auto seats—the hidden dirt—means soiled, and often ruined clothes.

Here's the way to end the trouble: Gordon Jiffy Cushion Slips—removable, washable and inexpensive. They keep your clothes clean and give style and dressiness to the interior of your car.

Gordon Jiffy Cushion Slips

can be easily washed—with absolutely no danger of shrinking. On and off in a jiffy. When laundered, you simply button-hole them back onto your car like any simple garment. We furnish the special button-heads with the slips—and any one can button them on quickly.

See these simple, stylish covers. Stop in today. You will surely want a set. We have them in stock in handsome colors and patterns—and the price is only $3.40 to $8.15 Per Seat.

Gordon Easy-on Tire Covers

for your spare tires, save many a dollar of your tire money. They protect the tires from the hot sun, dirt, oil and dampness which robs them of mileage faster than the road. A neat attractive money-saving accessory. Prices, $2.30 and up.

LIKE A BANK For your Grain

There is little difference between a dollar in money and a dollar's worth of grain. Yet many farmers who keep their money in massive stone banks where they know it will be safe, keep their grain in old and wasteful granaries. Did you ever stop to think that every golden grain of wheat, oats, barley, or corn mean so much toward your income? Don't waste your money any longer by thinking that you can store small grains in a crib built for ear corn. Your granary must have tight walls and floors and be strong and durable. We can help you build a granary that will increase your yearly profits. Come in soon and we'll talk more about granaries.
