

Governors Meet With President On World Issues

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Governors of 45 states and five territories meet here Monday for a two-day look behind the scenes of world affairs.

President Eisenhower, who arranged the almost unprecedented conference to give the state and territorial executives a picture of the foreign problems facing this country and what is being done to cope with them, will greet the visitors personally at 9 a.m.

Then he'll call on top figures of his administration to outline the military, diplomatic, financial and other phases of the cold war in closed sessions ending at noon Tuesday.

The White House said today all the state governors have promised to attend with the exception of three—Dan McCarty of Florida and William B. Eminent of North Carolina, who are ill, and Gordon Persons of Alabama, who must present his executive budget to his state's Legislature Tuesday.

This will be the first White House conference of governors since Franklin D. Roosevelt met with the state chiefs to map plans for coping with the depression shortly after he took office in 1933.

Eisenhower's intention reportedly is to give the governors a sense of closer contact with the federal government as part of his announced program of improving federal-state relations. A general discussion of this program, led by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, will wind up the conference.

Vice President Nixon will preside at Monday morning's session, which will include a military briefing by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and an Intelligence summary by Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Following a period of questions and discussion, there will be talks on foreign policy by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and on foreign aid by Mutual Security Administrator Harold G. Stassen.

The governors, others taking part in the conference and all members of the Cabinet will be guests of the President at a White House luncheon Monday at noon.

In the afternoon the governors will see classified military movies—presumably involving secret U. S. weapons—in the basement projection room of the White House.

Sherman Adams, principal assistant to the President, will preside at the afternoon session, which will include talks on defense planning by acting Secretary of Defense Yves, internal security by Atty. Gen. Brownell, the National Security Council by Robert Cutler, special assistant to the President, and "Mobilizing U. S. Leadership" by another special assistant, C. D. Jackson.

Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

History—a disagreeable and painful sort of history—was made last week. For sustained violence and damage, the continuing sand and dust storms of the week were the worst in the memory of the oldest natives. There have been some with perhaps greater momentary intensity, such as March 17, 1952, but nothing like the recurring blow which continued all week.

Things reached a climax on Wednesday with gales up to 60 miles per hour. Visibility was cut so low that one private plane crashed within feet of a runway and killed four people here. Another plane miraculously got down safely. Winds of 45 miles per hour on Thursday just about administered the coup de grace. The week was our worst and everyone hopes the record holds for 100 years.

We barely escaped disaster, too. In the field of traffic, R. W. Webb was critically hurt when hit by a truck at 3rd and Gregg a week ago today. Jimmie Ray Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill, barely escaped when a hit-and-run driver clipped him on U.S. 80 just west of the city.

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce did things up right with its second annual banquet on Tuesday evening. Ellmore Johnston was named outstanding citizen for the year and Cecil Bridges was installed as president.

At this season of the year music seems to be in the air as well as dust. Jimmie Lee Pitts, young Negro contralto, scored a hit with her concert. So did the high school capella choir and its sub-units. Coming on Monday evening is the high school band concert, and this affair is counted upon to yield substantial funds for a proposed band trip to Enid, Okla. and tri-state contests.

Building for the month amounted to $100,000.

Tornado Damage. This is an air view of the destruction caused at Warner, Ga., by a tornado that struck just before dark Thursday. Fifteen persons were killed and 150 others were injured. Properly damaged was estimated in the millions. (AP Wirephoto).

Tornadoes Rip South As 28 Are Now Dead

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 2 (AP)—A destructive crop of spring tornadoes today battered the South, east for the third straight day, increasing the death toll to 28 and leaving hundreds of injured and property damage of many millions of dollars.

And the danger was not over as the Weather Bureau warned that the gigantic atmospheric conflicts might spawn more of the deadly storms before conditions stabilize.

The latest tornado hit Meigs County, Tennessee, in the early morning hours today, killing Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harmon and their daughter, Doris, 14, in the Pleasant Hills community near Decatur, Tenn.

Seven persons were killed and at least 12 injured as a tornadoes today battered the South, east for the third straight day, increasing the death toll to 28 and leaving hundreds of injured and property damage of many millions of dollars.

All of the dead and most of the injured in Alabama were members of three families living near Ashland where a cluster of houses was smashed.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. John Lovelady and Mrs. Lovelady's mother, Mrs. Becky Jones, 96; Esther Stubbs, 57, and her mother, Mrs. Sherman Stubbs, 87, and Mrs. Mary Falks, 84, and Sara Stevens, 60, Negro mother and daughter.

Two Alabama highway patrolmen watched a tornado form near Calera, 35 miles south of Birmingham. It injured a Negro mother and child and destroyed several houses.

Another storm hit Trussville, 17 miles northeast of Birmingham, causing estimated damage of $150,000 but no reported injuries.

Georgia Gov. Herman Talmadge appealed to President Eisenhower to declare Warner Robins and neighboring areas hit by Thursday's twilight tornado a disaster area.

That storm killed 18, injured more than 300 and caused damage of about 15 million dollars to the town and the huge Robins Air Force Base.

Remnants of the season's worst dust storm clouded sections of South and Southeast Texas late Saturday but the rest of the state was fair and warm.

Near sunset Lufkin had to two-mile visibility in the dusty haze. College Station was limited to two miles by a combination of dust and fog.

The thumping dust clouds also covered Victoria, Galveston, Houston and Austin, but were lifting rapidly.

Mid-afternoon temperatures ranged from 59 at Dalhart to 85 at Alice.

Jet Airliner Crash In India Kills At Least 40

British Comet Has 3 Yanks On Board

CALCUTTA, India, Sunday, May 3 (AP)—A Comet jet airliner with three Americans and a party of rubber-tin operators from Malaysia reported aboard crashed in a violent storm late Saturday within minutes after takeoff from Calcutta. The plane carried 40 to 42 persons.

The Singapore-to-London plane was lost for hours until village police reported today it had crashed 30 miles southeast of Calcutta.

There were no other details immediately. Since it was en route to New Delhi, to the northeast, indications were that it was forced off course by a near hurricane which swept the Calcutta city area last night.

The three, with no home addresses available, were identified in Singapore as Miss Jean S. Cohen and Miss Anita Whistler, on a round-the-world tour, and the Rev. Paul Sneed, Methodist missionary.

The girls visited the U. S. consulate in Singapore Friday and asked that their mail be forwarded to the U. S. Embassy, Tel Aviv, Israel.

Sneed, head of the Anglo-Chinese school at Ipoh, Malaysia, was en route to visit his two children in school at New Delhi and planned later to visit his wife at Colombo, Ceylon.

Six minutes later it made the routine report: "Climbing on track." Then there was silence and aviation officials have feared sudden disaster struck the four-jet airliner in flight.

These officials said lack of radio warning indicated a serious mishap struck the plane and predicted all aboard may be lost. The Comet's loss would be India's greatest aviation disaster.

Airline officers, plotting normal speed and climb, placed the Comet 35 miles from Calcutta at 5,000 to 6,000 feet when the last radio report was heard.

All airfields, railroad stations and police centers were alerted to start a search at dawn. Planes will also sweep the area.

BOAC has eight of the British-built Comets and they had carried 27,700 paying passengers in the past 12 months without death or injury to any of them in the first year's operations.

SEOUL, Sunday, May 3 (AP)—Chinese Reds shattered a week-long lull in the Korean War early today with a battalion attack that stalled in hand-to-hand fighting in U. N. main line trenches between the Hook and Little Gibraltar on the Western Front.

The attack by up to 750 Reds fell between the two outpost positions, 10 to 12 miles northeast of Panmunjom, where renewed armistice talks were in progress for the day. It brought the heaviest front-line fighting since ground action quitted last with the resumption of the truce talks last Sunday.

The Chinese and entrenched Allied troops traded heavy small arms, mortar and artillery fire during the clash.

The Reds touched off the attack with four probes of the U. N. main line northeast of Panmunjom a few minutes before midnight. They pulled back about 2 1/2 hours later.

Eighth Army said the only other action reported during the night was squad and platoon fighting between North and South Koreans on the Eastern Front.

The night ground flareup followed heavy Allied air thrusts at Communist road and rail junctions and troop and supply centers along the Western Front through out Saturday's clear day-light hours.

Sixteen B29 Superforts and hundreds of light bombers and fighter bombers straggled over the North Korean territory. The Superforts unloaded 160 tons of bombs on supply buildings and troop shelters at Taechon and Uchon, both west of Kaesong, headquarters of the Red armistice delegation. Returning pilots reported big fires in both areas.

Fighter-bombers blasted several rail and road junctions within 55 miles of the Western Front and attacked troops and supply areas around Haeju, Cheryong, Kaesong, Sun and Sibyon.

Interest Rates On US-Backed Home Loans Upped To 4 1/2 Pct.

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The government today upped the interest rates on most government-guaranteed and insured home loans to 4 1/2 per cent.

For World War II and Korean War veterans who have not used their GI home loan benefits, this means a jump of 1/2 per cent in the interest rate they will have to pay for families who plan to finance their home purchases with the aid of loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. The increase is only 1/2 per cent from the present 4 1/4 per cent rate. FHA loans also carry a charge of 1/2 per cent as a mortgage insurance premium. Thus the total carrying charge will be 5 per cent.

The increases do not apply to mortgages already in effect. They permit the lenders to charge the higher interest rates on new loans. The FHA increase is effective immediately. The VA rate takes effect Wednesday.

Officials said the move was needed to increase the supply of mortgage money. Many lenders were reported reluctant to lend at the old rates.

The move also appeared to be in line with the new administration's anti-inflation, or "hard money," policy.

A veteran who gets a typical $2,000, 20-year home loan will now have to pay $2.43 more each month in carrying charges.

A family which obtains a 20-year $10,000 FHA loan must now pay $1.30 a month more than it would need at the 4 1/4 per cent rate.

A spokesman for the National Association of Home Builders said: "We believe, and certainly hope, that the change will bring out more credit for veterans and other prospective home buyers."

Fight Looms On Civilian Control Of Defense Dept.

By HOUSTON HARTE

WASHINGTON May 2 — One of the big battles being staged in Washington today is the struggle going on in the Pentagon for the return of control of our Defense Department to civilian hands.

Since the early days of the second World War the chiefs of staff gradually have taken authority away from the civilian secretaries. Now the civilian heads have come to be looked upon by the top Army Navy and Air Force brass as little more than front men for their respective services.

President Eisenhower knows both sides of the struggle. He was once a chief of staff. He is now President. He has selected heads of the military services who have never been front men.

They are going to have something to say about the conduct of our military affairs. If the civilian secretaries want advice on top level decisions they expect to get it from the President. They do not like what they have found in the Pentagon.

Newspaper readers must be prepared to read one of the major propaganda campaigns of this generation in the fight as to whom is going to make the top level decisions relevant to our military strength.

Charles Edwin Wilson, the new secretary of Defense, is the current major target of those who are attempting to resist any change in Pentagon procedure.

You may not agree with the selection of Mr. Wilson as secretary of Defense. Many do not. But all agree that no man in our time has made a greater financial sacrifice to accept a Cabinet post. All will agree that he did not seek the job. His public relations may not have been the best. He came into a public job without any experience in taking the press and the public into his confidence.

People who profess to know him think he will not make these mistakes again. But they also feel that all who oppose a change in the military setup of the nation are after him. If he can be driven from public office it will have a terrific effect upon the Eisenhower administration.

Men who are familiar with Washington are watching for signs of the struggle. They believe Wilson and most of his secretaries want a real shake-up in the top echelons at the Pentagon. The President has many old friends there. He and Gen. Omar Bradley were close associates in World War II.

But there is a move to get an entirely new set of chiefs of staff. The new chiefs will get a new group of assistants. Most people believe the civilian heads of our services can't wait much longer in asking for changes in personnel in their departments.

President Eisenhower has another problem with the Navy. Many newspapermen here believe the costly and plush military living the services have enjoyed is best typified by the Navy. When the heat is put on the Navy is expected to raise the cry that the President is not fair to a rival branch of the military service.

In his speech before the members of the Associated Press last week George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, said military spending should be cut without endangering national defense. So far the only voice raised against military waste has been the unanimous reports of the old Johnson Watch Dog Committee.

What many fear is that if the heat is put on a reduction in spending by Secretary Wilson, the chiefs of staff will try to save money by eliminating expenditures for the most popular and necessary elements of our national defense.

They may try to chop off jet plane production, submarines or ammunition. They will count upon public demand to back these items in the program. Nothing will be said about the hundreds of public relations officers, the band leaders, the country club frills which have no more to do with the production of the life of the country than the 600 million dollars worth of airplanes the Navy purchased in fiscal year 1952-53 that were incapable of carrying a gun. The battle for economy is being resisted in the Pentagon just as skillfully and with the same determination as the fight against unification.

Texas and all the coastal states are getting a very poor press in the East as a result of the tidelands filibuster. Story after story is appearing in New York and Washington papers about the "steal of the national oil reserve."

Only in the last few days has the word filibuster been used and then only as a quoted word — indicating that there was some question as to whether it was a filibuster. President Eisenhower is being openly accused of having sold out the national resources of the nation for the electoral vote of Texas and California.

The tidelands filibuster although conducted by the Democrats with the assistance of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, is being used as one of the arguments for the charge of lack of leadership made against the President. The 30 days which this bill has been before the Senate has hampered legislation.

July 1 will soon roll around. There is little indication that the Eisenhower administration has had time to make a study of the budget requirements for the fiscal year 1953-54 in the little time it has been in office. What studies have been made have revealed that instead of the Truman budget being a padded budget, many items of contracted expense are not included.

The fiscal affairs of the nation are in a greater mess than was anticipated. Almost all voters realize we cannot go on financing public expenditures through deficit financing. Taxes must be levied to get a balanced budget.

Yet on June 30 the excess profit tax expires. In the next 12 months another 12 million dollars in present taxes expire. With government contracted expenditures more than revealed by the Truman budget, with a deficit of five to seven billion dollars for the current fiscal year, the possibility of tax reduction seems remote.

But with the filibuster going on in the Senate there is no way to discuss tax legislation. This is the only reason the excess profit tax has a chance of expiring.

Secretary Humphrey and others in the government want to adjust our expenditures and our taxes to what appears to be a changed international situation. We are moving from a cold war to a cold peace. This will mean that we must maintain an expensive department of national defense for a generation — but it must not be so expensive that it will cripple the country and break it from the inside.

The change of administration in Washington plus the sudden death of Joseph Stalin has put into action a new chain of events in world politics. Eisenhower enjoys world prestige. The new regime in Russia headed by Malenkov lacks the frenzied appeal enjoyed by the great dictator. Not only is he unknown to his own people but with the suppressed citizens of the satellite nations as well. It remains to be seen what hold the new Soviet leaders have on China's Mao.

No one in or out of the government to whom a newspaperman can talk, believes the ultimate aims of the Communists have been changed. However, there are few who do not feel that Malenkov & Co. has its hands full at home. At the same time no one overlooks the danger that, when a dictator gets in deep water, he may feel starting a war is his last hope to retain power.

All these new elements can't help but create in the mind of the people of the world a peculiar reaction as they watch the great United States Senate drone on day after day, with from five to six senators present, reading trips and talking about submerged oil lands upon which few barrels of oil have been produced.

The tidelands struggle is not a battle for oil — it is merely a play for votes.

GIs Abandoned By Red Captors, Aided By Others

TOKYO, May 2 (AP) — Wounded and helpless, five American soldiers were abandoned by their Chinese captors in a Korean hotbed behind the Red lines.

But other Chinese soldiers, Korean civilians, and a band of South Korean guerrillas kept the five men alive for the next 25 days by sharing their own meager food supplies.

Capt. John King, 29, one of the 600 who lay helpless in the little hut during bitter fighting on the Western Front two years ago, related the story today at Tokyo Army Hospital. He didn't name the other four men.

King learned April 15 he would be repatriated with other sick and wounded.

Famed Jet Test Pilot Addresses Webb Audience

An address by Tony Levier, chief Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, was heard by Webb Air Force Base jet instructors Friday. Levier discussed spin evaluation tests given the T-33 jet trainer, recently completed by the Lockheed Corporation.

The noted test pilot also gave a brief history of the development of the jet in America. "Lockheed had plans for the building of jet aircraft as early as 1941," said Mr. Levier. "The plans were sidetracked in favor of mass production of the P-38 fighter, however."

"In 1944, when it was learned that the Germans were about to introduce jet aircraft in the battle of Europe, the task of designing and building of a jet fighter for our Air Corps was given to Lockheed. The result was the F-80 'Shooting Star.' The war ended before we were able to get the F-80 into combat, however," he stated.

"In 1948 Lockheed designed and built, at their own expense, the T-33 jet trainer," Mr. Levier continued. "After demonstrating it to the Armed Forces, they were contracted to build them in number for the training of American jet pilots."

Mr. Levier is touring bases of the Training Air Force to lecture on the technical topics and performance of the T-33 to jet instructors.

Probe Is Sought Over Firings Of Career People

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP) — Rep. Broyhill (R-Va.) said today he will seek an investigation to determine whether holdover executives from the Truman administration are "deliberately firing career federal employees to embarrass the Eisenhower administration."

Broyhill declared President Eisenhower's policy in reducing the federal payroll is to let normally occurring vacancies go unfilled rather than to fire long-term career people.

"Unfortunately," he added, "indications exist that this established policy is being deliberately undermined by holdover appointees of former President Truman in executive position. Whether such sabotage is deliberately designed to embarrass the President is for responsible authorities to determine."

Broyhill, whose district embraces a nearby area where many government workers live, said he had been consulted about the problem by a score or more of career workers, some of them with as much as 25 and 30 years service. Mentioning no names, he said:

"They are victims of what they have reason to believe is 'Fair Deal' prejudice against the new administration. Their plight is that of loyal government workers without partisan political affiliation who have devoted the greatest and most important years of their lives to the service of their government and who now suddenly find themselves separated from their jobs without valid reason and in defiance of the Eisenhower policy of reducing federal employment by retirement and resignation."

Broyhill, elected to Congress in last November's Republican victory in normally Democratic Virginia, said he would offer a resolution within the next few days seeking a House investigation.

Pickup Is Stolen As Search Is Underway

A GMC pickup was stolen Saturday morning from Charles Etheridge, who lives about four miles north of Ackerly.

The tan pickup was taken about 9:30 a. m., and Etheridge told Sheriff Jess Slaughter that he saw the truck headed south toward Big Spring.

Sheriff's officials and police are still searching for the automobile, and a stolen report has been broadcast to area law enforcement officers.

Riding THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

A representative of the Soil Conservation Service said Friday morning that he didn't believe there was an acre of West Texas land, not solid rock, or not tied down tight with a cover crop, that wasn't blowing.

This means there hasn't been a single acre of West Texas land that has not been eroded in some degree from light to severely, Marion Edwards described the situation as the worst he has ever seen in this country.

The whole thing has been something in the nature of a bad dream—utterly unbelievable. Literally and actually conservation technicians and specialists have been shocked by it. They just simply didn't believe it could happen. They call it disheartening, distressing, discouraging, and say it will require a little time after the blowing stops for them to make even a faint estimate of the damage. They appear to be reluctant to even discuss the situation at any great length for fear the people will think they are exaggerating the picture, making it appear worse than it actually is.

The worst part of the picture isn't the sterile, non-productive land that is drifting but the amount of humus and organic matter from the soil that has been blown away. This humus or organic material is what nourishes plant life. Conservationists say the loss of this humus or organic matter has been heavier than in any comparable period in the history of this country. The symptoms of land sickness are quite similar to those that immediately preceded the Dust Bowl of a score of years ago. The conservationists are not now predicting what they think the inevitable consequences here in West Texas will be.

But Thursday while the blowing was at its worst for the day a prettier picture was taking its place in the lobby of the First National Bank here in Big Spring. This is the range grass display created and sponsored by the Texas Electric Service Company and displayed through cooperation with the bank, the Soil Conservation Service and the supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

This display, which it will do West Texans good to see, not just once but several times, is scheduled to remain in the First National Bank about two weeks after which it will be moved to the State National Bank for another two weeks—but don't delay seeing it.

There is no point in even thinking of abandoning the land. This area, now so badly blown, can be restored to the finest range land in the world with a little time and effort. This attractive grass display shows what can be done. All the grasses shown in the display are native perennials and were grown right here in this area this year and were put in the display after it was brought here.

The whole of this country can be restored to such grasses and after all there is no somber economy for West Texas than grass and livestock.

Apparently there isn't any difference of opinion on how much rain we need. We need all we can get. The difference of opinion seems to be on how late these rains can come this year to prevent worse conditions next year. The conservationists do agree that unless every possible acre is tied down with cover crops the blowing season of 1954 is going to be worse than the present one.

At the same time they point out the need for rain and an absence of winds, both over a long enough period of time to permit the planting of cover crops (grasses and others) and to permit these crops to gain enough growth so they can hold their own against high winds and blowing sand.

One of the things the conservationists fear the most just now is cotton acreage. That isn't any secret, and they're almost fearful of grain sorghums where the farmers can't resist the temptation to graze the stalks down to the ground. The great emphasis now is on grass and other cover crops, wind and rain permitting.

West Texas agriculture, they say, must start in and build from the hogan up. Over-production and over-grazing and the blowing, have almost depleted this land of its minerals, its organic matter and its natural defense against erosion.

The preponderance of the evidence, in the judgment of the conservationists, is that West Texas, irrigated and dryland areas alike, is not cotton or other row crop land, particularly where it is not cultivated in rotation with grass or legumes.

But the picture out here is far from hopeless and there is much evidence of this fact to be found other places.

The Dust Bowl area of the 1930's has been restored to some of the most luxurious and profitable grazing land in the world. The same thing can be accomplished here, quicker and easier, because the erosion isn't so bad here—yet. In another year or so the situation can be made much worse, however.

The reality of tragic wind erosion is something there is no use to try to duck, dodge or deny. It is something that must be faced with courage and determination. It can be overcome by applying common sense and technical knowledge to the ground instead of so much cotton seed. The agricultural economy of West Texas can be made a perpetual gamble with native perennial grasses and a farming pay-even greater things can be accomplished in West Texas.

The West Texas situation is bad—it is worse than it ever has been before—but it is far from hopeless. There are many ways it can be improved, and there are probably more ways that it can be made worse.

At this juncture the farmers and ranchers are probably going to learn that their two best friends outside the family circle are their bankers and the Soil Conservation Service's specialists.

Maybe it's time for conferences with these fellows.

And in connection with the proposition of rebuilding West Texas soil, up to 140 pounds of home-grown nitrogen per acre has been turned back into his land by E. E. O'Neal on his farm south of Midland. He did this by plowing under winter cover crops grown on irrigated cotton land in a co-operative trial with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

He first planted these crops on an SCD field day last September. They were plowed under soon after another field day, observed recently, for the purpose of allowing visitors to inspect the crops and hear the details of cultivation.

Clippings from sample plots on different crops indicated the nitrogen content of the growing crops ranged from 40 to 140 pounds per acre.

O'Neal shredded the growth with a rotary stalk shredder before plowing it in.

Most productive of the crops tried on the test cotton land was Austrian winter peas. The peas weighed amounted to 23,475 pounds of green tops per acre. Soil conservationists calculated from this that O'Neal returned approximately 4,700 pounds of air-dry organic material to the soil, containing approximately 140 pounds of nitrogen to the acre. This planting was made in the middles of the cotton crop with a Hancock row seeder of the type available to any farmer or rancher in Howard, Martin or Midland Counties, at a low rental, from the supervisors of this SCD. The peas were fertilized with 100 pounds of 0-45-0 to the acre. The seed were inoculated and the plants produced an abundance of nitrogen-fixing nodules on the roots.

Halry Vetch broadcast in the cotton rows and covered with a cultivator produced 5,385 pounds of green tops from the sample plot. This was considered the equivalent of 1,300 pounds of air-dry organic material per acre, containing 52 pounds of nitrogen. The vetch was also fertilized with 100 pounds of 0-45-0 superphosphate to the acre.

A mixture of rye and vetch planted with the Hancock seeder produced 8,400 pounds of green tops from the sample plot. This included 4,080 pounds of vetch and 4,320 pounds of rye, and was calculated as approximately 2,000 pounds of air-dry organic matter per acre. The nitrogen content of the vetch was figured at 40 pounds per acre. This planting was fertilized with 200 pounds of 16-20-0 to the acre.

O'Neal plans to plant cotton on the field this year which will provide a further test of the soil-improving effects of the cover crops.

$1,036 In Fines Is Collected By Nabors

A total of $1,036 was collected in fines during April through the office of Justice of the Peace Cecil Nabors. The fines came from 35 people found guilty of offenses.

Justice of the Peace, A. M. Sullivan did not record any cases or collect any fines.

Nabors said that five cases were dismissed in his court, and two others were suspended. He had one jury trial during the month.

Trash Pickup To Be Continued In Clean-Up Drive

Trash removal was progressing in high gear Saturday, but city trucks will require at least another week to complete their part in the annual clean-up campaign, R. V. (Skeet) Foreyth reported.

The volume of rubbish being hauled off is the greatest ever scraped up by Big Spring residents in a clean-up drive, the street superintendent said.

Between 350 and 400 loads of trash will have been hauled to the dump grounds by the city workmen complete the assignment. About 275 loads had been removed by Saturday night.

Foreyth said he expects to complete one sweep across the city by Wednesday night. Trucks then will double back to pick up trash residents hadn't put out prior to the clean-up deadline.

Workers hope to complete the second swing by next week end. On the heels of the spring cleaning job, Foreyth will put a new insecticide fogging machine into operation.

The street department superintendent Saturday estimated at least 100 loads of trash remain to be removed. That amount will push the total to nearly 400 loads, about 150 more than was hauled off during the 1952 clean-up.

23 Bills Scheduled For Public Hearing

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Only 23 bills are scheduled for public hearing next week.

Another bill taxing natural gas is scheduled by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee at 2:30 p. m. Monday.

Charles Hughes of Sherman, it would place an occupation levy of 11-20 of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas processed in Texas.

Hughes would levy an additional 9-20 of one cent is finally ruled invalid by the courts. The ultimate objective is to secure 40 million dollars a year in taxes not now available to the state.

Two bills, one providing for a presidential primary, the other for minimum price-fixing in the Panhandle gas field, are supposed to be heard by House committees Monday night, but the House has scheduled a session for the same time. The hearing probably will be postponed.

ABOUT ALCOHOLISM Signposts Point Out The Alcoholic's Path

By AN ALCOHOLIC (Second of a Series)

Any person, who having one drink can't predict with absolute certainty what his behavior is going to be is a problem drinker. If one drink invariably leads to countless more and behavior becomes harmful to self and others, such a person should stop drinking completely. If he cannot stop, in view of the record, he is an alcoholic.

To all people who live close to someone who drinks too much it is sound advice to be informed about alcoholism and the known signs which usually appear to warn of threatening alcoholism.

It is generally agreed that emotional conflicts play an important part in the development of alcoholism. An emotionally unstable person is a poor prospect to handle alcohol successfully or moderately. And such a person is likely to find in alcohol the answer to his sober inability to deal with reality. Some of these basic emotional disorders which generally stem from childhood are:

1. Childhood or infantile A person becomes adult in mind and body, but remains an infant emotionally. When disappointed, he acts like a baby.
 2. An extremely sensitive nervous system which reacts quickly and severely to alcohol.
 3. Feelings of inferiority — that one is not liked or loved, or is not wanted.
 4. Feelings of fear and guilt possibly finding root in childhood.
 5. Feelings of superiority growing out of a pampered childhood—all getting and no giving. Apt to become an adult who feels the world owes him a living.
 6. Despondency—feeling that life has no meaning.
- Once alcohol becomes a necessity for such people, the emotional troubles become greater and greater, and the need for more alcohol equally great.
- Why some people become alcoholics while others do not is still a major unsolved mystery to science. However, medical research over the past 10 years has given us much valuable information. From the thousands of medical case histories of recovered alcoholics it has been found that there are certain uniform trademarks.

Rent Control Office Told About Extension

Tom Adams, director of the area rent office, received official notification Saturday of the extension of rent controls.

The notification constitutes authority to continue operations indefinitely, he said, and work will go on just as it has in the past.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed a bill Thursday extending the controls until July 31. The bill has been passed by Congress the previous week. Adams received notification by telegram.

Dies From Injuries

SNYDER, May 2 (AP)—William Traxell, 35, died today from injuries received last night when his gas overturned 12 miles west of Snyder. He was believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel.

painful feelings of guilt. He begins to feel sorry for himself and withdraws from those close to him. More drinking becomes the formula for relief. It isn't long before he is a solitary drinker—drowning his sorrows in his own company—which he doesn't like either. He drinks to forget, but never can forget to drink.

Occasionally the victim will try to change his drinking ways. Some pressure finds its mark and he tries to control the drinking by stopping for a spell. Perhaps, he feels that a few bottles of beer at home, and then only in the company of others, will be the answer.

As the victim's condition gets worse, he will show a marked disregard for moral and ethical codes. His promises may come in quantity without quality, and his good intentions are a dime a dozen in abundance. The whole structure of his personality soon falls apart.

South Baptists Begin Houston Meeting Today

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, May 2 (AP)—Southern Baptists begin a busy eight-day schedule of activities tomorrow, giving Houston its largest convention in history.

Nearly 30,000 members from 28,865 churches are expected here for the Southern Baptist Convention. The convention proper opens Wednesday but 8,000 members of the Woman's Missionary Union begin a three-day meeting tomorrow. Some 4,000 ministers will be in a pastors' conference Monday night and Tuesday.

The Southern Baptist Convention is not a lawmaking body for its 7,834,493 members but its churches normally abide by its decisions. Messengers will vote as individuals and not as representatives of their respective churches.

Most important business matters are expected to reach the convention on Thursday and Friday. These include:

1. A recommendation that the executive committee's membership be increased from 31 to 48.
2. A proposal to limit the term of the convention president to one year instead of two years.
3. A request from the radio commission for authorization to continue to seek contributions from individuals, irrespective of denomination.
4. A constitutional amendment which would prevent a retiring board member returning to that board for three years. The restriction now is one year.
5. A controversial issue on establishment of Southern Baptist requirements for the God and country award of the Boy Scouts of America. Action was postponed from last year's Miami convention.
6. An expected recommendation for discontinuance of a committee on relations with other religious bodies.
7. An expected proposal for affiliation with the National Council of Churches, a proposal which previous conventions have rejected.

The convention will select a new president.

Dr. J. D. Grey of New Orleans is completing his second year as head of the convention.

Nine Drivers Fined After Disregarding Stop Signs

Nine drivers got caught snubbing stop signs and were fined a total of $80 for the violations during the past week.

Pleas of guilty to charges of running the signs were heard almost daily. Seven persons were fined $10 each, the other two received $5 assessments.

Traffic trials highlighted the week's activities in city court. Four persons were fined $25 apiece for driving without license. Four others were fined an aggregate of $45 for speeding.

A $10 fine was assessed against one man for driving on the wrong side of the street. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of "negligent collision" and was released on $100 bond. Jury will hear the case Tuesday.

Two $5 fines were assessed on pleas of guilty to running red lights, and another driver was fined $3 for making a prohibited left turn.

Twenty-four fines totalling $430 were assessed as a result of drunkenness charges. A $75 levy was made for vagrancy. Two persons were fined $25 when they pleaded guilty to theft charges.

Use of profane language cost another man $15.

Transferred from corporation to other courts were persons charged with driving while intoxicated, following too closely, and negligent collision.

Loopholes Reported In Laws On Treason

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) said today an analysis by the Library of Congress shows "some wide open loopholes" in the laws to safeguard the nation against treason, espionage, sabotage and sedition.

He made the statement in an introduction to a study made by the library at the request of a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee on Security Affairs, of which Wiley is chairman.

Wiley said that "Soviet Russia has demonstrated that techniques of internal destruction are integral parts of its foreign policy" and that the subcommittee is concerned with foreign policy aspects of this menace to free world nations.

He said he hoped the study, dealing with the adequacy of U. S. laws to cope with offenses against national security, would prove useful not only to this country but to other governments.

The study was prepared by Mary Louise Ramsey of the library's American law division and said that, because of a number of factors, hostile acts against the United States may escape punishment entirely in many instances.

Among the factors listed were short statutes of limitation, constitutional guarantees of a public trial and due process of law, restrictions on the admissibility of evidence, such as that obtained by wire tapping, the immunity of diplomatic representatives, the limited scope of extradition treaties, and the strict requirements for proof of treason.

Wiley, who is chairman of the full Foreign Relations Committee as well as its security affairs subcommittee, said the senators were not expressing their own views in making the document public.

He said, however, that even a cursory review of its contents "will amply demonstrate that there is indeed much to be desired in making more effective our security statutes."

The nation's legal protections against enemy agents, he said, have developed rather haphazardly and as a result there are many ambiguities as well as "some wide open loopholes" and certain "archaic concepts" in existing law.

Wiley said that Russia "has placed espionage on an assembly-line basis" seeking to subvert other governments, and added: "The very nature of communism, with its perpetual drive for global domination, its rapid change of pace through periods of peace offensives and then bold belligerence, would seem to require an adaptation of present statutes to clearly define acts endangering national security in these new circumstances."

Banker Fatally Shoots 2, Then Dies Himself

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 2 (AP)—A wealthy banker in lethal frenzy fatally shot two prominent attorneys in their offices today and then died from a bullet that either he or his dying second victim fired.

He was Maron W. Stenbridge, 65, whose murderous outbreak apparently stemmed from broodings over a series of criminal prosecutions.

His first victim was Marlon Ennis, 45, Baldwin County attorney and former legislator; his second, Stephen T. Bivins, 35, a graduate of Cornell University.

Sheriff Dennis Cox reported that Stenbridge, going suddenly berserk, went to Ennis' office and fired three bullets into the political leader with a .38-calibre pistol. Ennis died almost instantly.

Then, said the sheriff, the banker walked down a flight of stairs and through a Saturday throng of shoppers to the Bivins office in a building three or four doors away.

Bivins, reported Deputy John Hardy, was dictating to his stenographer. The maddened banker fired two shots into the lawyer and as the latter fell, said Hardy, he snatched a .45-calibre automatic from his desk and shot once.

Stenbridge fell dead and a coroner's jury was called to decide whether it was from Bivins' bullet or a self-inflicted wound.

Bivins died a few minutes later at Richard Binlon Hospital.

Associates said Stenbridge was bitter toward the two men for what he believed to be their part in legal actions against him. He felt, they added, that Bivins, acting for a client, was responsible for a perjury indictment returned against him last summer and docketed for trial in July.

One Man Booked Following Shooting

One Latin American was booked into city jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder Saturday while police questioned several others in connection with a shooting at 601 NW 8th Street.

Cosme Rodriguez, 27, was taken to Big Spring Hospital with a bullet wound in his left thigh as a result of the incident, officers said.

The shooting occurred about 2:15 a. m. Saturday. Juan Rodriguez, brother of Cosme Rodriguez, said a man entered the house where a party was in progress and fired a 22-caliber rifle.

Police arrested the man Rodriguez named, but had been unable to locate the rifle last Saturday.

Cosme Rodriguez' injury was considered painful but not serious. He still is in the hospital.

"How You Played the Game"

You In The Church The Church In You.
Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be Faithful! Be a Churchman.

YOU'RE SAFE! It was a great day for Religion when the Prophet Amos discovered that there is an Umpire who passes judgment in the affairs of men. Life is a great game, and we are all players. It is an interesting and thrilling game if we can be sure that we have a fair chance. We will play our best if we know the Umpire is impartial; but it takes the heart out of the best player if he suspects he was called "out" when he was safe at the base. It matters much "how we play the game." It makes a difference how the Cosmic Arbiter calls the play.

We have a fine tradition in the great game of American Baseball. Men of integrity and intelligence call the strikes; decide who is right when the play is close. So we rejoice that at the heart of the Universe, Justice is enthroned. Though onlookers may jeer or call the game against us . . . we rest assured that the Cosmic Umpire will understand and call our plays with fairness. The Judge of all the Earth will do right by His players. On the other side, we too must keep the rules of the game. We must play fairly. We must play with our mates in good teamwork! "When the one great Scorer comes to write against your name, it matters not if you won or lost—but how you played the game!"

May this brief message be a blessing to many is the Prayer of "The Business Men's Bible Class." May God always bless America—Her People and Her Churches. Attend your church today.

First French Pilot Graduates At Webb

Col. Wackwitz, Webb base commander, congratulates brand-new French Air Force Pilot Francois Danesi as Lt. Col. Jim Wilson, Pilot Training Group commander, looks on. Danesi was one of a group of four French student-pilots who received pilot's wings at Webb Friday in the graduation of Class 53-C. They are the first French pilots to graduate at Webb. (Official U. S. Air Force Photo).

First French Cadets Given Wings At Webb Ceremony

The strains of five national anthems filled Webb AFB's academic auditorium Friday at the graduation of Jet Pilot Class 53-C.

And among the 105 student pilots receiving wings, commissions, or both, were the first four French pilots to graduate at Webb.

Second part of the group, Class 53-C-2, which will graduate as pilots in two weeks, will include three more French pilots, one Italian (the first at Webb), as well as two from the Royal Danish Air Force and one Belgian pilot.

All in all, the class includes ten American student officers, one Belgian student officer, one Danish student officer, and 93 aviation cadets, mostly American.

Col. Mort Magoffin, an 8 1/2-victory World War II ace, delivered the commencement address to the class Friday.

"At times in the future," the colonel told the graduates, "you may think you should have had your head examined before volunteering to become a pilot. It's a lot of hard, exciting work that demands the best you have in you. But you will always have the satisfaction of knowing that no one is doing more for your country than each of you will be accomplishing. Yours will be a difficult, but exciting and satisfying task."

Famed Tony LeVier, chief test pilot for Lockheed Aircraft Co.

County Crews Try To Clear Roads Of Dust

Members of the Howard County road crew had their machines in high gear Friday and Saturday trying to clear roads damaged in this week's dust storms.

By Saturday night all roads not blown away had been conditioned for traffic, according to Joe Barbee, road superintendent.

Approximately six miles of roads were completely blown away. One stretch was south of E. H. Hatch's place, and the other south of Shirley Fryar's land north of town.

Although Barbee described all the roads as in "terrible" condition, he said the worst area was around the Moore Community and south of Knott.

Most of the damage was centered in the northwest part of the county, Barbee said. Roads in the southwest part also suffered. Those northeast came out in fairly good shape because of the ranch lands in the area, he added, and southeast roads were not damaged greatly.

Several roads were closed. The one west of Grub Broughton's land and another by B. B. Free's place had to be cleared of sand. One by Bud Leatherwood's place in the Moore Community was to have been opened Saturday evening.

Commissioner Arthur Stallings stated that a road by Horace Tubbs' farm in Hartwell's Community was partially closed, as was one south of Lomax by Charles Eberley's farm.

Ralph Proctor, commissioner Precinct 1, stated that sand had drifted up more this time than he has ever seen before. The roads have been in worse shape, he believes, but this is worse than any other time this year.

More than 400 cadets and guests attended the graduation ceremonies.

Bids for sale of AF Salvage Are Sought

Bids for sale of some salvage materials at Webb AFB will be received at the contracting office of the base to 2 p. m. on May 19.

Proposals are asked on 7,000 pounds of cooked grease (rough and spent frying fats), 15,000 pounds untreated trap grease, and 38,000 pounds of bones and meat trimmings, including cracklings resulting from kitchen rendering of fats.

Quantities are estimates from the period June 1, 1953 through May 31, 1954. Complete information may be had from Lt. Frank B. Boyd Jr., purchasing and contracting officer.

1953 Cotton Crop To Exceed That Of '52

MEMPHIS, May 2 (AP)—The Cotton Trade Journal gave today the results of a survey which indicated the 1953 cotton crop would be better than that of last year by more than a million bales.

The publication said its survey showed 27,049,000 acres would be planted to cotton this year compared with 26,460,000.

Basing its figure on average acreage yields for the past five years, the Journal estimated a 1953 crop of 16,235,000 bales. Last year's crop totaled 15,038,000.

Planters expect acreage controls in 1954 because of a probable cotton surplus. Many are planting more cotton this year, hoping to increase their chances for future higher cotton acreage allotments.

Two Plead Guilty To DWI Charges

Two men pleaded guilty in County Court Saturday to charges of driving while intoxicated. They were Jess Willard Kuykendall and John Latsko.

County Judge R. H. Weaver fined each of the two men $125. The fine was a little higher than usual because both men were involved in automobile mishaps.

Kuykendall was arrested by Highway Patrolman Jack Taylor after an auto collision at the entrance to Webb Air Force Base. Taylor said that Kuykendall side-swiped the car of Airman Ebnert N. Steele.

Sheriff's officials arrested Latsko, who is also stationed at the base. He told the judge he was involved in a collision.

40 More POWs Reach US Base

By G. K. HODENFIELD
 TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., May 2 (AP)—Forty more released U. S. prisoners of war arrived today from Korea and one of them declared they were "treated like dogs" by the Communists.

Another said they had received little or no medical care.

"When the peace talks started, we were just skin and bones," said Cpl. Tibor Rubin of Long Beach, Calif., who was liberated just eight years ago from a Nazi concentration camp in Austria.

"The treatment got better, but we did not live like kings."

"We were treated like dogs."

Cpl. Wendell H. Treffery of Terryville, Conn., told reporters that from a Yalu River prison camp he saw U. N. planes shoot down seven enemy MIGs and "three of them had Russian pilots." A newsmen asked him how he knew they were Russian. Treffery said "they parachuted and walked through our village. I never saw a North Korean with blond hair."

Cpl. Rubin said he lost more than 2,500 American "buddies" in Korean prison camps between September, 1950, and May, 1951.

"He spoke of all Americans as 'buddies,' whether he knew them or not, and said he hoped soon to be naturalized."

"The trouble mostly was bad food, dysentery, pneumonia and beri beri," he said. "If you have pneumonia, you just lie there and die or get better. One man who was reported sick with dysentery was told to 'drink plenty of hot water.'"

Rubin would not compare Red or Nazi concentration camps. But he said that as an American soldier he had expected better treatment.

In a Nazi camp he said he did not expect any better treatment than he got. He said he lost his mother, father and a sister in German camps.

Cpl. Jimenez-Onori Nicolas of Puerto Rico declared he had no medical treatment whatever during 25 long months of captivity. When captured he had a bullet wound in his left arm which was still stiff and sore.

A second plane with 20 aboard came through here last night after a secrecy-shrouded flight from Tokyo. One former POW was taken to Letterman General Hospital at San Francisco, and the rest were flown to Valley Forge Military Hospital at Phoenixville, Pa.

At the Pentagon an Air Force spokesman said security conditions had been placed on the flight because the men had been "victims of Communist propaganda."

Mother Greets POW Son

Mrs. Walford LeGay embraces her son, Army Cpl. Donald LeGay, 23, first New England prisoner released by the Communists in Korea, as her soldier son arrived at the Boston, Mass., airport. The mother and son had not seen each other for three years. A friend speaks to LeGay in the foreground, and the father, who was almost swept away, grins happily at upper right. The family is from Leominster, Mass. (AP Wirephoto).

Valley Of Agony Brought Death To Many POWs

By STAN CARTER and WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 TOKYO, Sunday, May 3 (AP)—A total of 53 repatriated American war prisoners—the last of 149 sick and ailing exchanged by the Communists last week—awaited medical clearance today and for many the long flight home will begin within a few days.

Some of those still here reacted sharply to published reports that a group of released British repatriates, reaching home had denounced the Korean War as "stupid" and "useless."

Others told of their ordeal following their capture, of begging for food from their victors and of a "valley of agony" where the bitter cold brought death to many but saved the life of at least one man.

As for the British reports, Cpl. John King of San Antonio, Tex., and Orlando, Fla., said he didn't think much of the comments that the war was futile.

"We were here to stop aggression," he said. "Somebody had to stop the Communists. If they were not stopped in Korea they would just keep grabbing."

King said the statements attributed to some of the 22 British released at Lynham, England, yesterday were "just what the Communists want to hear."

He added that some of the British "did not like the Chinese at all and some seemed to get along with the Chinese better than they should have."

Marine Cpl. David P. Lang of Brooklyn, N. Y., said the British statements were "not true" and declared "I think they might have turned (Communist) a little bit."

The Americans and British lived together in the prison camps. Lang said he had been with the British so closely he had acquired a slight accent.

Marine Sgt. Donald A. Rose of Redlands, Calif., was asked whether he thought the British met in camp felt the same as the Britons who told of good treatment from the Reds and replied: "It would vary, you could perhaps get some Americans to say those same things."

Sgt. Harry A. Cutting of Belle Plaine, Ia., and Kansas City, Mo., who now calls Los Angeles his home said "I'll tell you, there wasn't much love lost between us and the British. I ran into a couple of good ones."

All four Americans emphasized that they believed most of the British disliked the Communists as much as they did.

(In London a War Office spokesman declined to say how many of the prisoners, in the official view, had been influenced by Communist indoctrination.)

"The War Office policy regarding any dis-identification considered necessary for any repatriated prisoners is to allow them to go to their homes as soon as they are fit, the hope that home influence... will give them a more balanced view."

(The U. S. Defense Department has said that American "victims of Communist propaganda" would be given psychiatric treatment at Valley Forge Army Hospital in Pennsylvania.)

Cpl. John L. Watters Jr., of Washington, D. C., told how he lay in a "valley of agony" for 34 hours with bullet wounds in his stomach, groin and leg following the battle at Kunu on Nov. 26, 1950. He credited the bitter cold with freezing his blood drenched clothes and partially clotting over his wounds.

"That kept me from bleeding to death," he said.

(Sgt. Orville Mullins of Corning, Tex., was a prisoner of the Communists in North Korea for 27 months. He is only 28, but looks older, had food and had treatment have left their mark. He walks with a limp. His legs are still weak from the machine-gun slaps that riddled them when he was captured on the Eastern Front near Heartbreak Ridge Aug. 27, 1951. He was a member of the 24th Regiment of the U. S. 2nd Division. Today, Mullins is en route to a hospital in the United States after being repatriated at Panmunjom with other sick or wounded Allied soldiers. He wanted to tell his story, and the story of his buddies, the prisoners who "died too much.")

"You can't play it too good much," he said. "It's the way those prison camps were. It's the way my buddies died. This is the story."

By SGT. ORVILLE R. MULLINS
 (As Told to Stan Carter)
 TOKYO, May 2 (AP)—Only God brought us through. The ones that were weak didn't make it.

It wasn't just the North Koreans who were cruel. The Chinese were, too. Conditions were a little better when I was turned over to the Chinese but they still weren't much good. I'll tell you that.

I'm not very religious, but I used to sit in Camp No. 3 and watch the Chinese carry the men who had died during the night over the hill, and I used to pray for them.

It was Aug. 27, 1951, when I was captured. I'll remember that date forever. It was just south of what they call Heartbreak Ridge now. We had two companies in blocking position to the north and east of our main lines. We were on a hill, and the North Koreans cut behind us, between us and the main lines.

We fought until we ran out of ammunition. Then we tried to run, but we couldn't run fast enough. They caught us. They caught 26 of us, and they killed the rest. They stopped me with machine-gun bullets in my legs.

It rained for four days and four nights. The North Koreans marched us 20 days to get to Pyongyang (North Korean capital). We doubled back along the front. I had to walk. It hurt. I lost so much blood in my legs I left a bloody streak on the ground. The blood would clot up in the bullet holes, but then the rain would dissolve the clot and I would start bleeding again. My legs were all swollen up. Little spots on my legs would swell up and then they couldn't swell any more, so they would burst open.

We rode one half of one night, on a little truck just big enough to hold about 10 men. There were 40 of us, with the guards. There wasn't any room for one guard to sit. He ordered us all to get out. I couldn't move on account of my legs. They were stretched out in front of me. He got mad at me for not moving and jumped up and down on my legs.

All of us got to Pyongyang on the energy we had stored up before we were captured. But it was beginning to wear out by the time we got there.

We met more prisoners in Pyongyang, and 162 of us started out from Pyongyang for the Yalu River. A year ago, I figured it up. There were 610 of us left alive out of the 162 that started that trip. A lot of them died at the side of the road. Some didn't die until they got to camp. But they died because of the things they went through on that trip.

One place we stopped on the way up, they threw 12 men with dysentery into a little room in a mud shack. They were so weak they couldn't leave the room. The guards brought a bowl of maize to the door. They wouldn't go inside. It was so dirty. Four of those 12 men died the first night we were there. The day we left, we found the eight others dead.

I couldn't walk after we left Pyongyang. I went about 500 yards and fell down. The guards pulled me up, and prodded me on with their rifles. But I kept falling down. Finally they put me in an ox cart.

One man would drop at the side of the road one night, and the next day, two or three would drop. I guess the civilians buried them. The guards wouldn't let us stop. We said a silent prayer for them as we went on.

At the prison camp, the Chinese Communists told us: "You are a student—not a prisoner."

They told us we weren't captured, but liberated. They spent most of their time trying to make us Communists. I guess they succeeded, with a few. They kept drumming this communism business into our heads. But most of us didn't listen to them.

I don't remember the number of men that died. One day one would drop. The next day it would be three more. After two months the food got better, and the deaths dropped to maybe one a week. In our camp, they wouldn't let us bury our own men! The Chinese took their clothes off, and carried them to a cemetery over the hill.

Now, the Communists let the boys into our heads. It was against the rules. Some of the guys had books of the Testaments in camp, that guys had brought with them when they were captured. Somebody who felt he was qualified would lead the services. The Chinese broke up a few of the services.

In six weeks that first winter, 40 Americans died in the hospital at Camp 3. Later, though, it got better. The Chinese got orders from somewhere to keep us alive.

The life was so bad I used to wake up in the mornings grabbing at my hair. Handfuls would come out by the roots. Malnutrition caused it, I suppose.

I weighed 180 pounds when I was captured. In two months I dropped to 80 pounds. I was a living skeleton. They fattened me up on rice and I was back up to 150 when I was liberated. But it was a rice gut.

I've been in the Army seven years. I'm going to stay in. I'm not through with those —

Arab Newsmen Is Killed Before Tunisian Vote

TUNIS, Tunisia, May 2 (AP)—Deputy Mayor Cheddi Kastally, 71, an Arab newspaper publisher generally considered pro-French, was shot to death here today on the eve of elections in which he was a candidate for return to the city council.

Fear of a recurrence of the Nationalist-inspired violence of 1952 developed in some sectors of the North African protectorate. A number of Tunisians who had campaigned for office in the 34 towns and villages choosing councilmen tomorrow were reported to have withdrawn.

A young machinegunner cut down Kastally as he was walking to work along a thoroughfare separating the European and Arab sections of Tunis. The killer fled into the Arab section.

Police announced tonight they had arrested three Tunisian youths at a house containing an arm cache and that one admitted the killing. The three were described officially as members of a terrorist gang.

The same outfit, police said, fired last night on Commerce Minister Ben Rais. Rais escaped injury, but one of his bodyguards was wounded. Independence-minded Nationalists regard the whole Tunisian cabinet as a puppet government manipulated by the French.

More Texans Are Reported Prisoners

By The Associated Press
 Four Texas soldiers Saturday were reported "in good shape" in a Communist prison camp in Korea and families of three fliers previously reported dead or missing heard that they, too, may be alive in enemy hands.

Sgt. Harry A. Cutting, Kansas City, listed five Texans among 75 POWs he said were with him before he was repatriated. The Texans are Leonard Scott, Joaquin, Carlton E. Slider, Jacksonville; Horace Broussard, Orange, and Henry M. Lyman, Gonzales.

Word of the three fliers—Lt. Col. Paul B. Miller, Austin; Lt. Thomas L. Eyles, Austin, and Capt. Chester A. Shaw Jr., Huntsville—was not so positive. Air Force telegrams informed the three men's families they had been reported seen in Communist camps.

An attendant at an all-night service station in Joaquin drove into the country to tell a sister of Leonard Scott that "The Associated Press had news of her brother."

The sister, Mrs. Myrtle Ritter, and her husband, Snap, hurried into town. "Didn't mind it a bit for this kind of news," said Mrs. Ritter. "My land, we're glad to hear from Leonard."

Mrs. Ritter said she's had two letters from her brother, 35, since he was captured New Year's Day, 1950. He also sent his daughter, Lynn, 6, a Christmas card. The little girl lives in Joaquin with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rains. Joaquin is a community near Center, in East Texas.

Co-operative telephone operators found a sister of Slider in Jacksonville. She is Bonnie Slider, 22, a telephone operator herself.

"Oh, this is wonderful," Bonnie sighed. "We had four letters from him last week—three written in December and one in January."

She said Slider was captured April 25, 1951.

H. A. Lyman, Gonzales, told the reporter who awakened him early today he had heard from his son three times recently. "But we sure are glad to hear from somebody else that he's in good shape," Lyman said.

Lyman said his son, 30, fought in Italy in World War II. The soldier's wife, Martha, lives in Olympia, Wash., he said.

In Orange, relatives of Broussard were not surprised to receive word of him. They said they've been getting letters from him now and then and the cheerful tone of his correspondence indicated he is not faking badly. A Negro infantryman, Broussard was captured in January, 1950.

The Air Force, reporting by telegram to the families of the three fliers, said in each case efforts were being made to establish positively that the men had been seen in prison camps.

Col. Miller was reported missing in action June 16, 1951, after he was shot down. The telegram was sent to his wife in Austin.

Eyles was reported missing in action in January, 1952. He was a veteran of World War II and was recalled to duty in November, 1950.

"Shaw had been reported killed in action May 17, 1952. He was shot down while flying a jet on his 55th mission."

His father, Dr. Chester A. Shaw, psychiatrist for the Texas Prison System, said he will make every effort to verify the report that his son is alive.

"If it is true," he said, "it will be the answer to our prayers."

Demos Welcome Strays From Ranks In '52

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 2 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell today asked former members of the party to return to the fold but warned that those who remain Republican in national politics can "hardly still claim to be Democrats in state affairs."

Mitchell, in an address prepared for delivery before North Carolina Young Democrats, obviously referred to defections from Democratic ranks which gave four Southern states to Eisenhower last year.

"The Democratic party stands ready to welcome back those few who strayed from the political faith of their fathers," he said.

"But those who do not accept our invitation to return, can hardly expect to continue to be Republicans in national affairs and still claim to be Democrats in state affairs."

"A man cannot have two faiths at the same time. And no man can in good conscience expect to reap the fruits of two political parties."

"But while we hold the church door open for these wanderers, they cannot expect to become deacons at once on passing through the door."

"They must show by their works that they are truly with us in spirit."

POW Lost His $10 Bet But Had Fun

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., May 2 (AP)—Cpl. Tibor Rubin of Long Beach, Calif., lost a $10 bet on the plane bringing repatriated POWs here today—but he had a wonderful time doing it.

Blonde and beautiful Lt. Margaret Riecken of 8101 First St., Everett, Wash., an air evacuation nurse, told of the bet.

She said Rubin wagered another exchanged POW that he would get a kiss either from her or the other nurse, Lt. Joyce Shepherd, a delicious looking brunette from Baggett, Mich.

Cpl. Rubin begged and pleaded most of the trip, saying please nurse, won't one of you give me a kiss so I can be happy and also make 10 bucks? Lt. Riecken told him yes.

Both nurses said they held out to the very last.

"But it must have been worth many times that 10 dollars to Cpl. Rubin because he kept the other meek roaring with laughter all the way over," Lt. Riecken commented.

Wheat Crop Prospects Worse Due To Dust

WICHITA FALLS, May 2 (AP)—Farmers say wheat crop prospects in this area have deteriorated seriously in 10 days due to drought, high winds and dust.

All benefits from recent light rains had vanished, farmers said. Up to 25 per cent abandonment was reported from the Wichita Falls, Olney and Haskell area.

From Quanah to Vernon benefits of last week's rain are evident, although offset by wind and dust. The only good wheat in this area was reported in a strip along the Red River and in parts of Archer, Baylor, Wilbarger and Knox counties.

Mrs. Whitefield notified police that somebody must have picked Penny up. Regardless of how she got away, James and Anna Kay want her back.

Burning Gas Well In Panhandle Out

WHITE DEER, Tex., May 2 (AP)—Firemen smothered a burning gas well with water and chemicals today.

The Cabot Carbon Company well four miles southeast of this Panhandle town, caught fire about 8 p. m. yesterday and burned more than 12 hours.

Flames leaped 40 feet at times. Firefighters threw up a dirt bank 10' wall off the fire. No wells were nearby.

The fire started as a rig was being moved in to clean the well. Workmen said they did not know what lit the gas.

Yugoslavs Enjoy Amarillo, Want To Stay In US

CHICAGO, May 2 (P)—Three Yugoslav aviation mechanics said today that respect shown to enlisted personnel at Amarillo AFB affected their decision to seek asylum in the U. S.

The three, Zivojn D. Mitich, 22, Pavel B. Pavlovich, 24, and Risto P. Djordjich, 25, arrived in Chicago yesterday to seek the assistance of the Serbian National Defense Council. They told their story in an interview through an interpreter.

Mitich was scheduled to sail Tuesday from New York for Yugoslavia. Instead he came to Chicago to join his two friends who were stationed at Chanute ABF in Illinois.

All three had completed a course in jet propulsion at Amarillo and had been ordered home. A five-month extra-curricular study of American civilian and service life, however, resulted in a mutual decision to renounce Marshal Tito's regime and ask U. S. government permission to begin new lives in America.

Their plans were laid weeks ago in Amarillo, they said. At secret conclaves they discussed reports of anti-Tito activities of the Serbian Defense Council, and compared notes on the contrast between life in this country and their own.

"There was a democratic and humane treatment of American enlisted men by their officers at the Amarillo base that we had never seen before," Djordjich said.

"In our country, the enlisted man is under constant watch; he is confined to his barracks most of the time and he rarely gets a chance to see his family. Also the separation between enlisted men and officers is much greater than here."

The three men all marveled at their off-duty life on the base. They said they played ping-pong in the recreation halls, attended free movies and variety shows, gained weight on Air Force food and sang at informal songfests with American Air Force men of Polish and Yugoslav extraction.

On visits to Amarillo they said they learned to dance with American girls, learned from authentic cowboys how to ride and stuffed themselves on turkey at a Christmas dinner in a private home.

"The hospitality of the people was unbelievable," said Djordjich.

At Least Four Injured In Flurry Of Accidents Here

At least four persons were hurt, not seriously, as accidents became almost the vogue in and around Big Spring late Friday and early Saturday.

Ten mishaps were reported for the 24-hour period starting at noon Friday.

Airman Warren Harvey suffered head lacerations about 3 a.m. Saturday when the car in which he was riding overturned on the Garden City Road south of Big Spring.

Jess W. Kuykendall, a civilian, received minor cuts and bruises Friday afternoon when his pickup truck crashed into an airman's vehicle at the main gate to Webb Air Force Base.

Burke Plant Jr., 14, of 507 Mesquite, was hospitalized with injuries received in a motor scooter accident Friday afternoon. Another youth was taken to the hospital, but proved to have suffered no injuries.

A small girl was struck by a car driven by her mother, also Friday afternoon, but police said she received only a scratch on her arm. Police still were investigating the mishap Saturday, attempting to determine why the mother left the child at home alone after the accident.

Neighbors notified officers of the accident, and were taking care of the two- or three-year-old girl when police reached the scene. Sgt. L. Rogers reported.

A-3c Leonard E. Gurtiss was driver of the car which overturned on the Garden City road near the Highway 87 intersection, authorities said. Passengers in the car, in addition to Harvey, were A-1c Jack Mallin and Lucille Maxwell.

Kuykendall's pickup collided with a car driven by A-1c Elbert N. Steele of WAFB. Steele was coming out the gate to the air base when his car and the truck collided. Kuykendall was thrown out of his vehicle and received first aid at the Webb dispensary.

Police had no report of the accident in which young Plant was injured. However, hospital authorities reported he had been involved in a scooter mishap.

Handlebar of the scooter apparently struck the boy's side, injuring the right kidney. His condition was not considered serious Saturday.

The series of accidents started shortly after noon Friday when cars driven by Monato Roman Holguin Jr., 510 N. Bell, and Marcario Vaca Gutierrez, 606 N. San Antonio, collided at Seventh and North Ayiford, police said.

Paula Lester Dotson, 100 Canyon, and Mary Lou Garcia, 416-NW 4th, were operators of vehicles which collided a few minutes later in front of the high school.

A car driven by Sophie Wojak Woda, 1008 Nolan, was in collision with a parked vehicle in the 1000 block of 11th Place, Friday afternoon, officers reported. Owner of the parked car was Mrs. Rose E. Harper, 1801 Main.

An unidentified motorist, drove his car through a fence at the Juan Flores place in northwest Big Spring about 11 p.m. Friday. He left the scene before Flores could determine his identity or secure a description.

A produce truck burned near Ackerly on the Lamesa highway about 1:30 a.m. Saturday. Highway Patrol officers from Lamesa investigated and no details of the accident were available here.

John Carter reported his pickup truck was run into and damaged Friday night while it was parked in the 200 block of West Second Street. He discovered the damage Saturday morning, police said.

IN BIG SPRING SURVEY Most Bar Members Approve Jury Wheel

Comments by several Big Spring lawyers indicates that most members of the bar here favor a jury wheel for selection of jury panels.

Five of six attorneys who commented on the subject said they believed it would be a good thing if Rep. Obie Bristow's bill providing for jury wheel use is approved by the state Legislature.

Bristow's bill would permit use of the jury wheel in counties with 15,000 population, or with a city of 5,000 or more. Under present law a county must have 38,000 population or a city with 20,000 or more, based on the last preceding Federal census.

Local attorneys who were asked about the proposal by a Herald reporter included Carroll Smith, R. H. Weaver, John Hall, Mack Rodgers, Harvey Hooser and Tom Adams.

Hall didn't commit himself. He simply answered, "Do you want thinking men or non-thinking men on the jury?"

At the present time a jury commission of five men is selected to draw jury panels for each term of court. They select jurymen from poll tax and tax rolls.

The law requires that a petit jurymen be a freeholder in the county or state. That is, he must own property or be married. To serve on the grand jury, a person must pay his poll tax.

If a jury wheel is used in Howard County, the names of all men eligible to serve will be placed in the wheel. Then when a panel is needed, the required number of names will be shuffled up and pulled out. After a name is pulled, it is not put back in the wheel until the next year.

The lawyers pointed out that a man can serve on a panel only once during the year with a wheel.

"As it is now, we see men serve time after time on jury panels," Smith said. "This results because members of jury commissions select panels from the people they are acquainted with and know."

A different jury commission is selected for each term of court. Consequently the commission members occasionally select a man on a panel that has already served after selection by the previous commission.

"The jury wheel is a fairer method to employ in a city and county the size of ours," Weaver said. He pointed out that both systems have their faults, but that the commission system is not so good as the other.

"With a jury wheel, we would be assured a broader cross-section of citizenry for jury service," Hooser said. "As it is now there are quite a few eligible people who have never set foot in a courthouse except to pay taxes."

Hooser pointed out that serving on the jury is a duty of every citizen. He said such service is also educational.

"A jury wheel would take all politics and personality out of the process of picking a jury panel," Rodgers said. "It is a much better way than the system we now have."

Adams pointed out that the jury wheel system has been followed in other states for years. These other jurisdictions have found it much more preferable than the personal selection method he said.

British Grain Buyers On Own, Seek Imports

LONDON, May 2 (P)—On their own after 12 1/2 years in government harness, the men who buy Britain's grain began securing the world this week to feed man and beast.

They have a tough assignment. The government ended its wartime system of bulk purchasing wheat, flour and animal feeding stuffs this week and told traders to use private enterprise channels to acquire the huge amount of grain Britain imports each year.

The big switchover came at a critical time. This nation has just walked out of the international wheat agreement, complaining the maximum price under the agreement of $2.05 a bushel is too high.

As a result, Britain—the world's largest importer of wheat—must shop in the free market, where prices are higher still.

The British government also announced all grain subsidies—except a payment to bakers for one grade of bread—will end at the next harvest. So any increase in grain costs will fall directly on consumers.

Private enterprise thus looks like it will take the rap for increased bread prices unless Britain can break the world market and set wheat prices tumbling.

World wheat inventories are building up and are expected here to hit new peacetime records in the U. S. and other exporting countries before 1953 is over.

Scholastic census for the Big Spring Independent School District has shown a three per cent gain.

Final check on the census showed a total of 5,246 scholastics in the district as compared with 5,084 for the final report last year. This is a gain of 162.

Total scholastics, after transfers in and out last year, stood at 5,157, or a net gain of 63.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said he anticipated a similar net gain this year.

Turn-over last year was terrific—roughly 30 per cent. A total of 1,575 new children came into the system, 1,448 were lost through moving, age, etc. This year's total shows 4,986 white, 260 Negroes. Last year it was 4,841 and 253.

Fair's Blow Helps Pale Hose To Win

Nine Pitchers Sent To Hill

By JERRY Liska
CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—Ferris Fair, American League batting champion the past two seasons, slammed one of his rare homers for three runs and a New York fielding error to produce a winning fourth run in a hectic ninth inning for an 8-7 Chicago White Sox victory over the first-place New York Yankees today.

The triumph which moved the Sox into second place only a game behind the Yankees was a pitching carnival which included five Chicago and four Yankee hurlers. Earl Harrist was the winner and Ray Scarborough the loser.

After Fair's dramatic ninth-inning three-run shot into the right field stands tied the score at 7-7. Scarborough came in and walked two batters Sox center fielder Jim Rivera then slashed a grounder to Gil McDougald at third. It appeared to be a potential inning-ending double-play ball.

But after McDougald whipped the ball to Billy Martin at second for a force-out of Sam Mele, Martin's throw to first went wide. Yankee first sacker Joe Collins scrambled for the ball, knocked over Umpire Bill Grieve in the process, and Minnie Minoso romped home from second base to win the game.

The heroic Sox homer by Fair was his first for the season and represented half of his 1952 production of two for the Philadelphia Athletics. It came off the third Yankee pitcher, Johnny Schmitz.

The victory which gave the Sox the rubber game in a three-game set with the Yankees seemed a certain decision for New York starter Eddie Lopat until he was chased in the eighth when two Chicago runs left the Yankees ahead 6-4.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Basketball workouts at Howard County Junior College will be conducted the week of May 11, Coach Harold Davis has announced. Bill Hinton, the former San Angelo cage menter who recently moved over to Howard Payne College, notified Davis he would be glad to take any one or all of the HCJC players of last season. In addition to the starters, Cecil Hoggard of the Hawks got an offer from Hinton. Hoggard is known more for his baseball ability than for his cage work, but he's no slouch at either, not by a long shot. The Big Spring High School football staff got an unexpected assist recently from Harry Plumley, who teaches singing at the local school. Plumley, whose offer to help with the spring drills was taken up by Carl Coleman, comes from a football playing family in Ysleta. His brother was second string quarterback at Texas Western. Carl Reynolds, Jr., son of the former major leaguer, is a player on the Rice Institute freshman nine. Joe Louis, the famed Brown Bomber and a confirmed Detroit Tiger fan, is utterly disgusted with the Bengals' showing this season. Says Joe: "they couldn't even win a fixed game." There are now 31 quarterhorse tracks in 11 states in this country and in only five of those states is pari-mutuel betting legalized. Kenneth Wineburg's decision to enter only one event in the Regional Meet recently to return to Angelo to play baseball cost the lad a trip to the State Meet. His mates, proud of the school's great track record, asked that he be dropped from the squad. The Calcutta-auction in the recent Las Vegas golf tournament, without any preliminary sale, hit $93,250.

Lamesa Doesn't Come In Until May 22

When Harold Webb was bounced from that baseball game in Lamesa the other night, he exited by walking all the way to the right field fence, climbed it and, before vanishing into the night, waved goodbye to one and all. What a show local fans are in for when Webb and our town's Hack Miller match strategy again. Regrettably the two clubs don't square off here until May 22. San Angelo has booked both Jackie Price and Max Patkin for appearances there this month. The two clowns are supposed to be the best in their trade. When Jay Haney's Midland club won the Longhorn League pennant last season, it was the first time Jay had been with a pennant winner in his 12 years in baseball. Jay was an outfielder for that great 1941 Big Spring team, which outdistanced everything in the WT-NM League, only to lose to Clovis in a seven-game series in the Shaughnessy finals. Three of the Longhorn League managers are catchers. Miller, Webb and San Angelo's Rudy Briner. Nearly half a hundred men (42 to be exact) have held managerial jobs in the Longhorn League in its seven-year history. Waco, which set some sort of a record by losing 118 games in Big State League play in 1952, copped seven of its first 12 starts this year.

Tony Traspuesto Now With Laredo

The Northern League doesn't open its season until May 6, which might have been about right for the Longhorn loop, considering the weather we've had lately. Tony Traspuesto, who wore the spangles of the Big Spring Bronco at one time, is now with Laredo of the Gulf Coast League, but is playing outfield, not catcher. Juan Medina, another ex-Caspe, is also with Laredo. The 30 runs scored by Roswell against Lamesa recently is by no means a Longhorn League record. Midland counted 40 runs against Del Rio back in 1948. One night after the Indians had denied the plate no less than 31 times against the Del Rioans. The all-time scoring record by two teams is held by Big Spring and Sweetwater, however. The Bronco battered the Sports, 27-21.

TIGERS OPPOSE MIDLAND TODAY

Ynez Yanez and his Big Spring Tigers open their 1953 baseball season at 2:30 p. m. today, meeting the Midland Hawks in a double header on a newly cleared field north of the Little League Park. Horace Yanez is serving as assistant manager of the Bengals while Eddie Lalo Subia will be the field captain. He plays outfield for the Tigers. The Bengals are Big Spring's oldest baseball team here, for a quarter of a century. Jack Rogers will probably hurl the first game for Big Spring. Elmer Chavez, Rose, or Frank Long will throw the slab in the second game. Johnny Hooper will receive the stans of the pitchers. If Hooper takes a fast, Billy Tubbs will don the catching harness. Others who will play for the Tigers include Earnest Donley, infielder; Alphonse LeBlanc, infielder; Ambrosio Sanchez, first sacker; George (Gig) Garcia, outfielder; Severo De La Garza, infielder; Gilbert (Pimpin) Martinez, outfielder; Eugene Vela, outfielder; Bill Trevino, outfielder and catcher; and Tommy McAdams, shortstop.

Vernon's Blast Beats Browns

ST. LOUIS, May 2 (AP)—Mickey Vernon's first home run of the season, a two-run job in the eighth inning, boosted the Washington Senators to a 5-4 victory today over the St. Louis Browns, who scored all their runs on homers by Vic Wertz and Bob Elliott. The victory was Frank (Spec) Shea's, who tossed five hit ball in win on his first start of the year. Rookie Don Larsen, giving up 10 hits, was the Browns' loser.

Dooley Is Placed On Retired List

CARLSBAD, N. M. — Marty Dooley, an infielder, has been placed on the voluntarily retired list by the Carlsbad Potashers. He formerly was with San Angelo. Cliff Gustafson has been sent to Pilsbush of the WT-NM League by the Potashers. Manny Tornay and David Lee Brien, both of whom had tryouts here, have been returned to the Victoria club of the Western International League.

Ten Is Obtained By Lamesa Lobos

LAMESA — Israel Ten, a 20-game winner for the Midland Indians last season, has been added to the roster of the Lamesa Lobos of the Longhorn League. He was sent down from Wichita Falls. Ten made his first start of the 1953 season Friday night, hurling the Lobos to an 8-5 victory over Carlsbad. Marty Engle, has been assigned to Jackson, Miss., by the Lobos. He is an infielder. Buzz Jackson, an outfielder formerly with Roswell, has been signed on by Manager Harold Webb. Jesus Zavala has drawn his release from the Lobos.

LITTLE SPORT

Guerra Bought By San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—Gil Guerra, who last year achieved a record of 10 wins for the Big Spring Bronco, has been purchased by the San Angelo Colts. He has been with Chattanooga of the Southern Association. Guerra, a right-hander, probably will make his initial start against Midland here Monday night. The purchase price was said to be $2,000. Gil, who lost 11 games in 1952, led the Longhorn League in strikeouts with 252. He appeared in 42 games. He had an earned-run average of 3.66. Guerra also gained credit for the victory in the 1952 all-star game which the East won for the first time.

Bowland Leads Loop Hitters

Art Bowland, Midland catcher, is leading Longhorn League regular players in hitting through games of last Wednesday with an average of .533, according to figures released by League Statistician George Hine. Bowland, at bat 15 times officially, had collected eight hits. Buddy Grimes, Roswell, is second with an even .500 average and John Margalier, San Angelo, third with .460. Roswell is leading in team hitting with a .312 mark, followed by Midland at .306 and San Angelo at .289. Big Spring is fifth with .266. In club fielding, San Angelo leads with .971, followed by Big Spring with .965. Averages of the Big Spring players: Pancho Perez, 1.000; Ray Machado, .500; Al Valdes, .350; Jess Jacinto, .348; Al Costa, .346; Jymie Fles, .333; Jerry Fetrow, .261; Mandy Dixie, .222; Joe Riney, .217; Jake McClain, .182; Gib Phillips, .150.

Bottlers Easily Win Loop Prize

Seven-Up Bottling Company easily won second half honors in the Women's Bowling League, with a record of 34 wins and 31 losses. Dibrell's was second with 24 victories against 19 reversals. City Plumbing was third with a 19-28½ won-lost record, followed by Cook's Package Store with 14-31. In concluding play this week, Cecil's nudged Dibrell's, 2-1, the same margin by which Seven-Up won over City Plumbing. Seven-Up led team scoring with 749-2116. Dibrell's had second highest single game with 692. City Plumbing boasted second best aggregate with 7985. Jesse Pearl Watson, Seven-Up, paced off scorers with 212-506. Geneva Brown of the same club had a 208 for next best single high. Mary Ruth Robertson, Dibrell's, posted a 493 for second high total.

Cup Matches Are Slated Oct. 24

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—The Texas Cup matches, in which a squad of amateurs tries to beat the best of the pro golfers, will be played over the Dallas Country Club course Oct. 24-25. The meeting was set by the Dallas Golf Association. The matches each year are for the benefit of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children. The matches were turned into a charity event last year and netted $5,000 to the foundation. The 12 amateurs will be selected through a vote of the state's golf writers. The top 12 will be made up of the 12 low scorers in the annual Texas PGA Tournament at Midland Oct. 15-18.

Ex-Bronc Signed By Driller Nine

ARTESIA — Frank Fernandez, who was with both Big Spring and Artesia in 1952, has been signed to a 1953 contract by the Driller Nine. Bob Garrett has been assigned to Artesia; Tyler of the Big State League.

Julius Boros Takes Ben Hogan's Side

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—National Open champion Julius Boros today defended Ben Hogan in passing up the charity "Tournament of Champions" at Las Vegas to get in practice rounds at Mexico City before the Pan American Tournament. Ben plays in only a few tournaments a year and it is certainly his privilege to play where he desires, said Boros, here for an exhibition. "If he played the tour regularly it would be a little different, but still he should be able to decide for himself when and where he wants to play."

Two Games Usher In Little League Season Monday

Pony Leaguers Open Tuesday

A new Little League season is at hand. Two games launch play Monday. Scene of action will be the new Little League park north of town. The first one, pitting American Legion against the Engineers is down for 6 p. m. The second finds the Eagles meeting the Oilers. Pony League play begins the following evening, at which time the Cargo Kings, representing Big Spring Motor, tangles with the Davids and the Rails meeting the Reporters. The schedule has been revised slightly, so that all Little League games will be played one night and all Pony League contests another.

PRO-AM TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED AT COUNTRY CLUB THIS WEEK

Golfers from all over West Texas are due to descend upon the Big Spring Country Club Thursday for the annual pro-amateur tournament. Each professional will team with three amateurs for team play. Prizes will go to the low pro, as well as to the victorious team. Pro Shirley Robbins said he was making plans to send as many as 75 or 100 golfers off the tee. Size of the field, of course, will be dependent on the weather. Ozona will send a sizeable delegation here, headed by W. E. Ramsey, one-time Big Spring resident and now the Ozona pro. Robbins said he would get the field away as quickly as possible. The first quartet will probably maneuver down the number one fairway as early as 9:30 a. m.

Bronchos Use Big Frame To Win, 7-3

Odessa's Bronchos used one big inning, the fourth, to defeat the Big Spring Steers, 7-3, in a District 3-AA baseball game played in perfect weather here Saturday afternoon. A single off the bat of Jackson with the bases loaded that went for four bases when it went through Center Fielder Ronnie Wooten provided the edge which the Hosses needed to grab the win. Odessa added an insurance run in the sixth when Jackson hit a one-baser and got home on an infield out. The Big Springers were held scoreless until the fourth, when Charley Rose and Bobby Hayworth raced to pay dirt, the former coming in on a walk to Ted Scott with the sacks loaded and the latter on an Odessa boot. Big Spring scored again in the seventh after Frank Long was struck with a pitch. Mel Murphy went in to run for him. He got home on a throw by Yellie Medlin and Tommy McAdams. Lefty Miles, Tuffy Wallace and Carl Schlemeyer divided time on the mound for Odessa, giving the Steers only four hits. Oakie Hagood started on the mound for Big Spring while Frank

Doris Hart Wins

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., May 2 (AP)—Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., won the British hard courts tennis title for the third successive year today with another victory over her close friend and traveling companion Shirley Fry, Akron, O., this time by scores of 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Cook's, Coahoma Entered In Colorado City League

Two Howard County teams, Cook's, Appliance Store of Big Spring and the Coahoma Maroons, are entered in the Colorado City Jay-Cee Softball League, which begins play Monday night. Cook's first game will be against Col-Tex at 9:15 p. m. Monday. Coahoma is not scheduled to swing into action until 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, at which time it plays Sun Oil. Six teams are entered in the league. The others are Col-Tex, China Grove, Cuthbert and Sun Oil. Cook's, managed by Pete Cook, replaced Vincent in the circuit.

Lake Gets Big Consignment

Another consignment of fish went into Lake J. B. Thomas on Saturday morning. E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that 120,000 big mouth black bass were put into the lake. The fish came from the Texas Game and Fish Commission hatchery at San Angelo. Together with 100,000 of the same kind put into the lake last Monday, they raised the fish population of the new lake by about a quarter of a million. The fish, of course, are a good but they are expected under good conditions, to be a pound plus a year hence when the season opens at the lake. Showers of two weeks ago replaced recent evaporation losses and late run-off contributed another foot and a half to raise the level to about the point it reached after a good shower which put in the initial water level September. There are approximately 2,500-acre feet of water backed up from the dam, but this is only a minor fraction of what the lake is expected to impound.

Bobcats Win Over Eagles

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats handed the Abilene Eagles their first defeat of the District 3-AA season here Saturday, 5-2. The Tabbies scored all their tallies in the first inning, using two hits and two errors. The big blow was a two-run double by Herb Biederman. Ralph Englert hurled shutout ball until the sixth, when a triple by Bob Oliver and a single by Jim Fry produced a run. Two Angelo errors contributed to the second Abilene run in the seventh. ABILENE . . . 000 001 1-2-4 2 SAN ANGELO . . . 300 000 x-3-6 4 Spradley and Oliver; Englert and Hartman.

Bartzen, Partner Win In Florence

FLORENCE, Italy, May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of California won the women's singles championship in the Florence Tennis Tournament today with a 7-5, 6-0 victory over the German women's champion, Dottie Zehden. In semifinals of the men's doubles, Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., teamed with the ex-Pole, Wladislaw Skonecki, to beat Armando Vieira of Brazil and Milan Matous of Italy, 3-6 6-4 6-3. The Bartzen-Skonecki team will meet the Italians, Rolando del Bello and Giuseppe Merlo.

BUSTAMANTE RELEASED

ODESSA — Dany Bustamante has been released outright by Odessa of the Longhorn League. Hitting appeared to have been the major ingredient to league leadership. Shreveport tops in club batting with .277, Dallas is second with .267 and San Antonio third with .264. Three pitchers have won three games and lost none. Wayne McLeland of Dallas, Harry Wilson of San Antonio and Meredith Murray of Tulsa. The strikeout pitchers are Floyd Woodbridge and Octavio Robert of Houston who pitched 23 and 22.

Quintana Shuts Out Cavuses By 6-0 Tally

MIDLAND — Ben Quintana put the Big Spring Bronco on a ration of four hits as he paced the Midland Indians to a 6-0 triumph here Friday night. The win was the third in four starts for the Warriors over Big Spring this season. Only one of the Broncos reached third, Manny Diaz, on his single, a balk and a fly-out in the eighth. But shortstop Scooter Hughes robbed the Bronco of a possible run when he tipped off a fielding gem as Oscar Reguera's slow grounder behind second base, throwing out the runner to retire the side. The Indians pecked at lower Reguera, who yielded eight hits for runs in five different frames. At the end of a string of three hits, Jim Prince singled in the first score in the first inning. Then in the fourth, a walk, Lou Dawson's double and Hayden White's grounder picked up two more runs. White came back to double for one score in the sixth. Art Bowland's fly-out got another in the seventh and Quintana Basco followed a second basemen's error. Tex Stephenson's stolen base with a run-producing single in the eighth. Quintana fanned three and walked two to Reguera's eight and four.

National Golf Day Scheduled

National Golf Day will be observed at both local courses Saturday, May 23. On that day, golfers will play 18 holes in competition with Julius Boros, the reigning National Open king. They'll be handicapped by their club pro. W. O. Maxwell Jr., will set the handicap at the Mundy Course. Shirley Robbins will do likewise at the Colorado City Club. Many entries will pay $1 as an entry fee, plus the green charge. Country Club members will ante up the $1 entry fee. All entry money will go into a national charity. The Golf Day is sponsored by Life Magazine and the United States Golf Association throughout the country. Those who defeat Boros will be given a medal signifying their feat by Life Magazine. Life estimates about 15 per cent of the entries will turn the trick. Last year, Ben Hogan played the field and thousands of entries used handicaps to win prizes.

Carson And Corbin In Links Finals

Wright Beaten In Semi-Finals

COLORADO CITY, May 2—Hezzie Carson of San Angelo and Art Corbin of Dallas moved into the finals of the Colorado City Invitational Golf Tournament here Saturday.

The two tangle in a 36-hole match at 9 a.m. today. Carson bested Bobby Wright, Big Spring, by a 5 and 4 margin Saturday afternoon to get to the finals. Corbin mastered Clayton Johnson, 1 up, in the semi-finals.

Johnson, a Houston product, is stationed at Webb Air Base in Big Spring.

In morning play, Carson ousted the tournament medalist, Jake Morgan of Big Spring, 4 and 3. Wright survived at the expense of James Pritchett of Colorado City, winning, 4 and 3.

Johnson edged Big Spring's Luke Thompson, 3 and 2, while Corbin scouted past Bill White, Lamesa, 7 and 6.

Carson led Wright, 3 up, at the turn.

The Carson-Johnson match was close all the way. Corbin led, 1 up, through nine. They halved the next three holes. Corbin got in trouble on the 13th and Johnson, who had a 300-yard tee shot, pulled even.

Corbin went back out in front with a birdie on the 14th, only to overshoot the green on the next hole and lose to Johnson's bird.

Corbin birdied the 18th to go one up and Johnson could do no better than halve the next two holes to lose out.

Compton Pritchett, Colorado City, won top honors in a senior tournament held in conjunction with the meet. Pritchett shot a 44 over nine holes, nine strokes over men's par. There were seven entries in the meet.

Billy Joe Kiser Fined, Suspended by BS

Hack Miller and his Big Spring Broncos return home Monday to open a three-game stand.

The Hoses' guests will be the Odessa Oilers, who led the league in regular play last season. The Oilers are managed by Bobby (Pepper) Martin, native Big Spring.

The two teams broke even in their first series, which was played last week in Odessa.

Bill Frank, general manager of the Broncos, said the club was still looking for that long ball hitter.

The Steeds, Frank stated, appear to have one of the better mound staffs in the league and appear to be adequate on defense but have been lacking in power.

Billy Joe Kiser, who signed on with the Broncos as an outfielder, has been fined $200 and suspended by the club, Frank said.

Kiser left for his home in San Angelo shortly before the season opened and said he would return for the opening of the season. He complained of a bad ankle. He never did return to the club and Frank said Kiser later asked for his release.

Frank said the outfielder had not acted in good faith.

Red Sox Tounce Cleveland, 5-1

CLEVELAND, May 2 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox won their fifth straight game today, a 5-1 victory over Cleveland. Hector Broussard's bid for his first major league shut-out was ruined by Dale Mitchell's homer with two out in the ninth.

Brown beat the Indians to seven hits, while the Sox hammered Bob Hooper and Bob Hooper for 12. One of Dick Gernert's three hits was a two-run single which turned the tide in the eighth. It was Feller's second defeat against one win.

After Gernert's single in the fifth, Sam White's punt went for a hit as Feller slipped and fell. Gene Stephens bunted, and this time it was first baseman Bill Glynm who slipped. Gernert scored as Tom Umphlett hit into a double play.

The Red Sox' last two runs were scored off Hooper in the ninth on a walk and singles by Milt Bolling, Brown and Jim Piersall.

Whites Edge Blues, 7-6, In Longhorn Scrimmage

Big Spring High School griders showed their best form to date in a furious 'give-no-quarter, ask-none' scrimmage, which took place in Steer Stadium Friday night.

Thanks to the accurate kicking toe of Billy Martin, who planted a conversion try squarely between the uprights, the Whites again defeated the Blues, 7-6.

Soto Handcuffs Broncs As Tribe Win 2nd in Row

MIFLAND—Big Spring dropped its second straight game to the Midland Indians here Saturday night, losing, 8-1.

Romario Soto carved out a masterful five-hitter. Soto struck out only four, but kept the Broncs off stride with beautiful control. He cut corners time and again as he forced the Broncs to go after pitched barely within reach.

He lost his shut out in the seventh inning on an error he committed himself. With the bases loaded via back to back singles by Jerry Fetrow and Al Valdes and an error by Second Baseman Roger Dalia Betta, Al Costa hit a hot grounder to Soto, who fumbled the ball, permitting Fetrow to score.

It was a tremendous victory for Dark Star and his owner, Harry F. Guggenheim of New York, former ambassador to Cuba, and a stunning reversal for the big grey Alfred Vanderbilt was depending upon for his first Derby victory.

Dark Star, a brown son of the Australian sire, Royal Gem II, was one of the long shots in the field of 11 three-year-olds. A roar went up when they posted the price of $51.80 for each $2 in the upset victory. He paid $13.60 to place and $7.00 to show.

Native Dancer was five lengths ahead of the third horse, the Saxon Stable's Invigorator, but that was no solace to the Dancer backers.

Native Dancer had won all nine of his races last year as a juvenile, and took both his starts this season; the Gotham Stakes and Wood Memorial, the latter a week ago at Jamaica.

But he reached the crossroads this warm, sunny afternoon at ancient Churchill Downs and Vanderbilt's dreams of years went down the drain in the span of just a little over two minutes.

Dark Star won the Derby Trial here last Tuesday by four lengths in 1 minute, 36 seconds flat—close to the track record. Native Dancer wasn't in that race, but his reputation had shored most of the other horses out of consideration for the Derby run.

Time for the winner, a son of the mare Isalde, was 2 minutes and 2 seconds. This compares with the Derby and track record of 1:57.85 for Whirlaway, winner of the race in 1941. Whirlaway died recently in France where he was in the stud.

Native Dancer, who went to the post the odds-on favorite at 3 to 5 with his stablemate, Social Outcast, returned $3.20 and $2.80. Invigorator paid $9.40 to show.

Dark Star had finished third to Native Dancer when the latter took the rich Futurity at Belmont Park last fall. But this time he had his number.

Correspondent, the California Gubernator owned by Mrs. Gordon Guberson of La Jolla and second choice in the mutuels at 8 to 1, ran second for the first mile, then tired under Eddie Arcaro and finished fifth.

Native Dancer Is Upset In Louisville Classic

By JOHN CHANDLER LOUISVILLE, May 2 (AP)—Dark Star from the Cain Hoy Stable pulled one of racing's greatest upsets today by winning the 7th Kentucky Derby in a slam-bang finish that ended the unbeaten record of Native Dancer.

Jockey Henry Moreno put Dark Star on the front end soon after the colorful mile and one-quarter racing classic got underway. He held it to the end as Native Dancer closed with a steady drive in the stretch, only to be beaten by the margin of the winner's sleek brown head.

It was a tremendous victory for Dark Star and his owner, Harry F. Guggenheim of New York, former ambassador to Cuba, and a stunning reversal for the big grey Alfred Vanderbilt was depending upon for his first Derby victory.

Ben Hogan Takes Lead In Pan-Am Links Tourney

MEXICO CITY, May 2 (AP)—Ben Hogan hurtled to first place in today's third round of the $15,000 Pan American Open Golf Tournament with a blistering four-under-par 68—his best day yet.

His improvement—his best day with the fast greens—made him a strong favorite to clinch first prize money as he begins tomorrow's finals with a sub-par 212, four points better than his closest rival.

Dave Douglas and Art Wall, who were tied for first when play started today, went well over par on the 7,400-yard Mexico Golf Club Course for the first time.

Douglas shot a 72, which was good enough to put him in a tie for second with Fred Haas, whose sensational 68 equaled Hogan's for the day's best score. Douglas and Haas now have even-par 218.

Wall shot a 77, giving him a 218 and a tie for fourth with Bob Linn and a tie for fifth with Bob Linn, who retired in a 69.

Clayton Johnson, 1 up, in the semi-finals. Johnson, a Houston product, is stationed at Webb Air Base in Big Spring.

In morning play, Carson ousted the tournament medalist, Jake Morgan of Big Spring, 4 and 3. Wright survived at the expense of James Pritchett of Colorado City, winning, 4 and 3.

Johnson edged Big Spring's Luke Thompson, 3 and 2, while Corbin scouted past Bill White, Lamesa, 7 and 6.

Carson led Wright, 3 up, at the turn.

The Carson-Johnson match was close all the way. Corbin led, 1 up, through nine. They halved the next three holes. Corbin got in trouble on the 13th and Johnson, who had a 300-yard tee shot, pulled even.

Corbin went back out in front with a birdie on the 14th, only to overshoot the green on the next hole and lose to Johnson's bird.

Corbin birdied the 18th to go one up and Johnson could do no better than halve the next two holes to lose out.

Compton Pritchett, Colorado City, won top honors in a senior tournament held in conjunction with the meet. Pritchett shot a 44 over nine holes, nine strokes over men's par. There were seven entries in the meet.

Methodists Retain Conference Lead

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—SMU won another baseball game today, but still the Texas Longhorns pursued it.

Scoring seven runs in the first inning, SMU's wild Mustangs rushed on to a 12-4 victory over Baylor while Texas bested TCU again at Fort Worth, 7 to 4.

The league leading Methodists and the second place Longhorns meet here Monday in a show-down battle. SMU now has 11 wins and 2 losses and only a lone game with Texas Christian ahead after the Texas game. The Longhorns stand 7-2 and will have five chances to be dropped up after Monday.

Coach Alex Hooks said Hollis Morton, a right-hander who defeated the Steers once last season and again in this campaign, would start against Texas. Coach Bibb Falk is expected to counter with Boyd Linker, who has won three games and lost one. Morton has a 2-1 record in league play.

Bobby Holick, who faced the Mustangs today, never had a chance. Mac Gresham came to his rescue to retire the last batsman in the first inning and hurled creditably the rest of the way, but he arrived on the scene too late.

Tommy Bowers, the soph curve-baller, had a comfortable afternoon and added a home-run over the left field fence to his pitching contribution.

Steady Eddie Merrins, the sowed-off shot-maker from LSU, sank a 15-inch putt on the last hole to win the 16th Southern Intercollegiate Golf Championship by one stroke today.

The 5-foot, 6-inch junior from Meridian, Miss., had to keep fighting back to stay even with the 35-36-72 par course. He edged out North Texas State's Stan Mosel and Memphis State's Hillman Robbins. Robbins also tied for runner-up here last year.

Merrins, the National Intercollegiate runner-up for 1952, had a 72-70-72-286, two under par. Mosel had 70-78-71-287. Robbins had 71-77-70-287.

It was a four-way race at the finish with Robbins, Mosel and LSU's Cecil Calhoun pressing Merrins, who had a two-stroke lead at the start of the final round.

Mosel roared back to take a two-stroke lead over Merrins on the 17th hole. He went one over on 17 and 18, while Merrins picked up a birdie on No. 16. Calhoun shot rounds of 72 and 71 in today's 36-hole finals to finish fourth at 288.

Gay Brewer, Kentucky, Southern Amateur champion, had 74-70 for 201 and a tie for fifth with Tom Morrow, another LSU ace, and Mason Rudolph, Tennessee. Morrow had 72-74, Rudolph had 72-73.

Fort Worth 7th Round: 1. Tulsa 68, Ben Abbott 1. Oklahoma City 8. Houston 4. Dallas 3. Shreveport 8.

Martin Handcuffs Detroiters, 4-1

DETROIT, May 2 (AP)—Lefty Morrie Martin, making his first appearance since suffering a broken finger last May 10, tossed a neat three-hitter today to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 4-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Allie Clark gave Martin all the runs he needed in the first inning with a three-run homer into the left field stands. Clark's 350-foot smash followed two walks and sent Ted Gray, another southpaw, down to his second straight defeat.

The A's picked up their fourth run in the third inning on Eddie Joost's double into the left field corner and Eddie Robinson's line single to center.

The Tigers scored their run in the fourth inning. Billy Hitchcock singled to center and scored when Bob Nieman drove a double against the screen in left center field. It was Nieman's seventh double of the season.

Jackets Oppose Lamesans Today

The Big Spring Jackets, a youth-led Negro nine managed by Dilmon Jackson, host the Lamesa Black Lobos at 3 p.m. today. Scene of action in Steer Park.

Allen Gilbert will probably hurl for the locals. Curtis Stokes and Billy Weatherall will divide catching chores.

The Jackets own two wins over Colorado City in their only starts to date. They beat Colorado City by counts of 20-4 and 13-0.

Jackson is trying to book a full schedule for his club and is ready to take on all comers.

Carlos Bernier Ties A Record

PITTSBURGH, May 2 (AP)—Carlos Bernier, Pittsburgh's Puerto Rican rookie outfielder, tied a modern major league record today by hitting three triples in a game against Cincinnati.

The modern record was held jointly by 10 other players. The all-time record is four, set by William Joyce of the Giants in 1907.

On both attack and defense—the Blues' attack dizzied with his quick-breaking thrusts out of the White secondary into the Blue Line. He has improved over last season and, in 1952, he was good enough to rate All-District honors.

The Whites scored first, going over in the second quarter. Martin and Armistead alternated at lugging the ball down to the five from which point Armistead barreled over.

The Blues scored early in the third. Louis Stripp (a tackle) churning across after taking a lateral from Letty Don Reynolds. The Blues tried passing for the extra point and missed.

The Blues charged right back down the field following a punt, only to lose the ball on a fumble down inside the ten.

In the fourth, Augustead was sprung past the line, and appeared to be long-gone, only to be overhauled by Johnson, who nimbly side-stepped a blocker to get at him.

Jimmy Ellison, back in action after an ankle sprain, played tremendous ball for the Blues.

Possibly the outstanding line-man for the Whites was Teddy Bear Slats, who time and again charged through to throw the opposing ball carriers for losses.

Don Switney, Carlisle Robinson, Jimmy Porter, Frank Long, Bob Angel and Roger Browning were a few of the other outstanding boys on the field.

To their credit, none of the boys ever showed temperment on the field and none suffered injured, a tip-off on the line condition they're in.

The workouts end May 14.

Jayhawk Tracksters Leave Today For Meet At Denton

Seven strong, the Howard County Junior College track and field team takes off for Denton and the State Meet today.

Preliminaries will be run in the track circus Monday, finals on Tuesday.

Though the Big Springers are none too strong in the weights and the pole vault, they rate as good a chance as any to finish at the top.

In all, 11 teams are entered in the meet.

H&JC recently won the West Zone meet easily, scoring more than three times as many points as Clarendon, the only other school which fielded a team.

Amarillo may send a team to Denton, however, and both Odessa and Frank Phillips, other Zone members, are eligible. A team does not have to qualify in Zone to go to State.

Jayhawks who will make the trip with Coach Marvin Baker are Bibby Baker, Robert Cobb, Maple Avery, Weidon McKelreath, Carl Preston, Ben Hill and Jack Gilbert.

John Hillary Brown, only Negro on the team, will not get to make the trip. He won points for the Hawks, both at the West Texas Relays and in the Zone Meet.

Bureau Reports On Scurry Pool

AMARILLO — A comprehensive investigation of reservoir conditions in the Scurry reef oil fields of Texas is listed as a highlight in a report of last year's petroleum and natural gas research by the Bureau of Mines.

The report was released Friday by J. J. Forbes, director of the Bureau of Mines, an agency within the Department of the Interior.

Dr. C. W. Seibel, regional director of the Bureau's Region VI with headquarters in Amarillo, said that the Scurry Reef project has materially increased the amount of petroleum that can be recovered from the largest reservoir in the United States.

Outlining the varied oil-and-gas research carried on by the Bureau in the 1952 fiscal year, the report was prepared by R. A. Cateil, chief, and other members of the Bureau's Petroleum and Natural Gas Branch. It is available, in mimeographed form as Information Circular 7629.

The Scurry Reef investigations indicated that injecting gas or water underground to maintain pressure will increase ultimate recovery from this large reservoir. Exhaustive tests on carefully selected wells throughout the fields and an engineering study of the reservoir provided basic information which helped the operators in deciding to work the fields as a unit to obtain maximum conservation and recovery.

Adding to the sum of knowledge on stimulative methods of oil production, the Bureau, in 1952, published a two-volume survey of water-flooding projects in Oklahoma, and its first report on fluid injection projects in California. Reports were issued also on detailed studies of selected fields in Oklahoma, Texas, and West Virginia.

Guynes Gets Promotion

The appointment of John E. Guynes as Purchasing Agent of Magnolia Petroleum Company and its subsidiary, Magnolia Pipe Line Company, has been announced by J. E. Latimer, company president.

Guynes succeeds John P. David, who will continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

John Guynes was born in Chatfield, Texas, and has spent his entire business career with Magnolia except for a brief period when he worked on a drilling rig following his graduation from Texas A&M College in 1922. He joined the Magnolia organization as a payroll accountant in the company's general offices in Dallas in March, 1923. Later that year he was transferred to the Shop Department at Electra, Texas. After service there and at Healdton, Oklahoma, he was moved back to Magnolia's Dallas offices as a member of the Purchasing Department in July, 1931. On January 1, 1950, Guynes was appointed assistant purchasing agent of the company.

During World War II John Guynes was on leave of absence from Magnolia for service with the Petroleum Administration for War in Washington, D. C.

Independents Ask Allowables Hike As Import Offset

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Texas independent oil production leaders have called on the Railroad Commission to fix future oil allowances so the state can recover much of the "400,000 barrel daily production lost to foreign imports."

The executive committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association praised the commission for "holding the line against further reductions" at its April meeting.

"Allowable cutbacks in Texas as a result of excessive imports are costing the state economy more than a million dollars a day," said M. D. Bryant of San Angelo, association president. He included what he termed a "$400,000-a-day loss in state revenue alone."

Bryant said this hurts every Texas citizen and that the oil industry pays 88 per cent of the state's business taxes.

Norsworthy Stakes Location For Deep Glasscock Venture

C. L. Norsworthy Jr. of Dallas has staked location for his No. 1 L. S. McDowell in northwest Glasscock County.

Location for the 11,000-foot wildcat has been pegged at 660 from the south and 1,980 from the west lines of section 29-34-3s, T&P, which is about 11 miles northwest of Garden City.

This puts it 5 1/2 south and 2 1/2 miles east of the Sinclair No. 1 Hall, which had some interesting shows but did not complete as a producer; 2 1/2 miles west and 1/2 miles south of the Phillips No. 1 McDowell which went to 10,915 in 1945 and had some shows but failed to produce. It also is five miles southeast of the Cities Service No. 1 Cross, a recent deep abandonment which also had shows.

Norsworthy No. 1 McDowell, interestingly, is a mile and a half northwest of the location of the old General Oil No. 1 McDowell, which focused attention on this area in 1920 when it became one of the first tests in the Permian Basin to produce any oil.

Sinclair No. 1 Cox, a wildcat four miles southeast of Garden City, plugged back to 2,525 in San Andres after falling in the Ellenburger. Cable tools will be moved in to test some shows encountered in the San Andres around that level. Location is 660 from the south and east lines of section 32-32-4s, T&P.

Largest Line Dedication Set

HOUSTON, May 2 (AP)—The largest crude oil pipe line in North America will be dedicated May 12 at Colorado City.

Officials of the 26-inch, 578-mile West Texas Gulf Pipe Line held today of plans for the dedication at a pumping station 12 miles north of Colorado City.

J. H. Russell of Houston, president, will be master of ceremonies. Speakers will be Ernest Thompson, who in June completes 20 years as a member of the Railroad Commission, and L. S. Westcott, president of Pure Oil Company and chairman of the American Petroleum Institute.

The line has a capacity of 440,000 barrels of crude daily and is owned jointly by the Gulf, Sun Pipe Line Co., Cities Service, Standard of Ohio and Pure Oil.

The 26-inch line runs from Colorado City to Nederland and has a 112-mile spur of 20-inch line from Wortham to Longview. At Nederland, Gulf has a spur to its Port Arthur refinery, while Cities Service has a spur to its Sour Lake tank farm. Cities Service told this week of the opening of a new line from Sour Lake to its Lake Charles, La., refinery.

The Wortham-Longview spur connects with lines to midwestern areas.

Duncan Plans Garza Test

Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring has staked location for a wildcat test in Garza County.

It will be the No. 1-A Kirkpatrick "A" Lease. Location is to be 330 from the south and 3,170 from the east lines of section 8-2, G&H survey, five miles south of Post and two miles northwest of the No. 1 Kirkpatrick, an active test in section 1, block 2. This prospect will go to 8,500 with rotary in search of Clear Fork pay. Elevation is 2,501 feet.

NEW RURAL DIRECTORY

Work will start in Howard County Monday on a new 9-county Rural Directory. It will include such information as:

- Land owner's name, tenant's name, number of miles and direction from town, and amount of land owned or rented. There will be a supplement of all advertising mailed out to the rural homes.
- Soliciting will be done here by W. H. Pavillard, representative of the W. J. Winters Publications of Amarillo, Texas.

Lightning Explodes Oil Tank

Firemen play streams of water on sections of an oil storage tank at Kilgore, Texas, which exploded and burned when lightning hit the tank during a thunderstorm. The tank section was blown about 50 feet from its original site, which is engulfed in smoke and flame in the background. The tank was in a Negro residential district. Five persons were burned to death, a second storage tank was set afire, and several houses were burned. The area is dotted with oil well derricks, but no oil wells caught fire. (AP Wire-photo).

Industry Spurs Conservation Plan Despite Ruling Reversal

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—The Railroad Commission met partial defeat in court last week in its latest move to prevent wasteful gas flaring, but an industry step-in conservation efforts remains likely.

Irked by failure of oil and gas men to put an end to the daily waste of 220 million cubic feet of gas in the sprawling Spraberry Field in West Texas, the commission cracked the whip March 25.

It ordered an April 1 shutdown of the entire field until steps were taken to halt waste of gas produced incidental to the flow of oil.

The order applied to all operators, regardless of whether they were flaring gas or putting it to beneficial use.

This was the most far-reaching policy ever announced by the commission in its battle to keep millions of dollars worth of gas from being dissipated into the air.

Judge Charles Betts said the commission went too far. He said he had to agree with past decisions of the state Supreme Court that the commission can shut down flaring operators, but he found no justification for such action against operators who put their gas to beneficial use.

Notice of appeal to the Supreme Court has been given. The prospect that the high court might reverse the trial court and uphold the commission's power to order field-wide shutdowns may spur industry efforts to install the transmission lines needed to care for the vast gas supply.

Though the District Court refused to recognize the extensive authority claimed by the commission, the decision did allow the regulatory agency to close all flaring wells.

Chairman Ernest Thompson said on the witness stand the reason the commission issued a field-wide order was two-fold: To prevent waste and to protect the right of all operators to recover their proportionate share of the oil.

There was conflicting testimony as to whether complete shut-in would achieve the latter objective of protecting property rights.

Disagreement centered on whether or not some operators might recover more than their share of the oil through the natural underground migration or drainage of oil.

Regardless of the final outcome, the commission has indicated it will put on increasing pressure to close the valve on flaring in all fields.

Giant strides in gas conservation have been taken since 1948 when the Supreme Court upheld the commission's right to prohibit wasteful flaring or venting of gas used to bring oil out of the ground.

A cross-examining attorney said last week about one billion cubic feet of gas per day still is being flared in Texas. He wanted to know why the commission was acting to stop flaring only in the Spraberry.

Thompson, a commissioner since 1932, said action was taken in the Spraberry because such tremendous quantities of gas were being wasted there despite repeated warnings to the operators to do something about it.

"I apologize to this court and the people of Texas for allowing 220 million cubic feet of gas to be burned up each day (in the Spraberry)," Thompson told the judge. "If I burned that much in front of this court house, they would put me in the bug house."

Field-wide curtailment of production, he explained, was attempted because "it's wonderful what operation we have when the whole field is shut down."

He pictured the commission order as "a new assault on waste gas frontal attack." Past orders shutting in only flaring operators were mere "flanking movements."

"I think we go through an evolutionary process of learning how to prevent waste," Thompson said. "Providence put the oil there. xxx. We can save the gas until the pipeline gets there."

Drilling Pace In Permian Basin Holds Fairly Steady

Lea County, New Mexico, continued to lead all other counties in the Permian Basin areas of Southeast New Mexico and West Texas in number of active rotary rigs, according to the semi-monthly Reed-Rohrer Bit Company survey of activity ended April 25.

Although Lea was 11 rigs off of the record total of 144 reported for the area on April 10, the county still lead all others with 133 units in operation.

Andrews County remained the leader in West Texas with 35 rotary rigs drilling, compared to second place Gaines County's 25.

Overall total for the area on the last tally was 504 as compared to the 509 drilling on April 10.

One year ago, on April 25, there were 749 units in operations. There were 23 Spraberry tests compared to 28 two weeks ago.

Counties reported in the right column on April 25 are, with April 10 totals shown in parentheses:

Oil Hunt In '52 Is Most Costly

The hunt for new oil reserves in the United States last year proved to be the most costly in the oil industry's history, according to H. J. Struth, Petroleum Consultant, writing in the May issue of THE PETROLEUM ENGINEER.

The oil industry spent nearly two billion dollars for exploration in 1952, representing about 40 per cent of the gross working interest value of all the crude oil produced in the nation. The cost of finding each barrel of oil in place, before development and before bringing the oil to the surface, was 98 cents, an increase over 1950 of 49 per cent.

"The production of crude oil is not as profitable as many believe," Struth states, "since the combined average cost of finding, developing and producing oil last year averaged $2.35 per barrel of production, for which the average operator receives $2.56. The net return on the average oil well is only $87.5." Exploration in the nation's newest oil boom area, the Williston Basin, North Dakota, is stated to be the most expensive undertaking ever experienced by the oil industry. The oil found "thus far in that area is shown to have involved expenditures of at least $175 million, or an average of $2.41 for every barrel of proved reserves in the ground.

The success of the oil industry's exploration program is cited by the fact that for every 100 barrels of production, replacements in underground reserves amount to 131 barrels. The author concludes, however, that today's oil profits are being made from oil which formerly cost only 15 or 20 per cent of today's replacement costs.

E. L. Kimrey, manager of Shell Oil Company's southern production division with headquarters in Odessa, has taken his retirement after 23 years of service. Here he discusses plans with his successor, J. E. R. Sheeler, formerly the division exploitation engineer at Odessa. Kimrey's career began in August 1929 as a roustabout in Jennings, Okla. Later he went to Louisiana and Arkansas and then to Olney, Texas in 1925. Since that time he has been in the West Texas area.

No Sign Of Tax Bill To Raise Funds For Teacher Pay Hike

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Texas teachers who asked the state to boost their base pay are right back where they started Jan. 21 when the $600 a year salary raise bill was introduced.

A wisecrack was making the rounds of the capitol corridors about it this week: "The teachers asked for $600 or nothing and got both."

But it wasn't funny for teachers who wanted the money or legislators whose political futures might hinge on how they voted.

The wisecrack stemmed from the teachers' "no compromise" stand on the $600 raise. Opponents had offered $300 on the basis it would be easier to raise 33 million dollars in new taxes than 66 million.

The comptroller red-tagged the pay bill and sent it back to the Senate where it started. He said no money was in sight to pay for it. Here's what could happen to the bill now:

1. The Legislature could finally adjourn and do nothing.
2. The bill could be passed on a deficit financing basis. That would require a four-fifths vote in both houses, a remote possibility.
3. The House could get busy on a tax bill but there were few signs of that.
4. There could be a compromise involving a lower annual base pay figure.

A drive to end the session May 12 was gathering steam. Both houses were busy clearing their calendars of pet local bills. Activity was stepped up on some of the governor's proposals, such as judicial redistricting.

Election code revision was in the debate stage, but the constitutional amendment to finance local water savings projects was blocked again in the Senate.

Gov. Shivers signed the general appropriations bill, noting that funds for operating new state mental hospitals had been left out. That would call for something between $500,000 and one million dollars more but no suggestions had been made on where to get it.

A lobbyist control act was killed in House committee and the House refused to revive it. A constitutional amendment to channel surplus Confederate pension money into a state building fund was put up to the voters in 1954.

Backers of bills to curb loan sharks said they would put on a whirlwind fight to get their measure up for debate before time ran out.

State Hospital Sets Open House To Note 'Week'

National Mental Health Week, which starts tomorrow, will be featured in Big Spring by daily open-house programs at the local State Hospital.

Open house will be held from 1 to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday. All residents of the area are invited to visit the institution during those hours. Dr. Roy Sloan, acting superintendent, has announced.

Mrs. Grover C. Winslow and Robert Budd, members of the staff, will conduct tours of the various buildings and departments, telling visitors of some of the work performed and problems faced at the hospital.

No other events are planned in Howard County as part of the Mental Health Week observance, according to J. G. Webb, county chairman.

Letters of invitation have been sent to county chairmen throughout the area, informing them of the open-house program, Dr. Sloan said.

A national feature of the "week" will be the ringing of the Mental Health Bell, which has been cast of material formerly employed in the construction of shackles for the mentally ill.

Chief purpose of the nation-wide program is to call attention to the fact that giant strides are being made in the treatment and prevention of various mental illnesses, and that the entire problem has received an entirely different approach from the shackles-and-prison methods of the past.

Debt Suit Transferred To County

A suit for collection of a $43,091.65 note from Charles Eberley and wife, Annie Belle Eberley, has been transferred from Midland County to Howard County.

The suit was transferred to 118th District Court here after Charles Eberley filed a plea of privilege to be sued in the county of his residence.

E. B. Dickenson, who alleges the defendants gave him a promissory note for the money in August, 1952, is the man bringing the suit. He is from Midland.

Transfer of the suit was authorized by Judge R. W. Hamilton of the 70th Judicial District, Wednesday. It was filed here Saturday.

Dickenson alleges that Mr. and Mrs. Eberley have made no payments on the note despite a demand to do so. The note, according to the petition, calls for six per cent interest per year and 10 per cent of the principal if collected by attorneys.

Dickenson alleges he has been injured for the total amount of $50,244.05.

William L. Kerr of Midland is Dickenson's attorney, and the firm of Thomas, Thomas, and Jones represent Eberley.

Judge R. H. Weaver stated that both civil and criminal cases will be tried. The judge will call the civil docket Monday to determine which cases will be tried.

The list of criminal cases set will also be announced Monday.

Mrs. Hila Weathers Injured In Mishap

STANTON—Mr. Hila Weathers, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is convalescing at the Martin County Memorial Hospital from injuries sustained in a car mishap Thursday.

She suffered a fractured collar bone and three cracked ribs when partially thrown from a car by impact of a collision.

Mrs. Weathers was in a car driven by James Eiland and in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Rousche and Mrs. Bida Holt of Fort Stockton. They were on U. S. 90 about four miles west of Stanton when another car, driven by Malcolm O. Roberts, Comnga, entered the highway from the side. Others were shaken, but Mrs. Weathers was partially thrown from the car when the rear door on her side sprung open.

Debt Suit Is Filed In District Court

The firm of Thomas and Thomas, attorneys, filed suit for $750 debt in 118th District Court today against Cruz Aguirre of Martin County.

The petition alleges that Aguirre gave the firm a promissory note on April 18, 1952. It is further alleged that Aguirre gave a lien on lots 7 through 12, block 97, Stanton, to Gil Jones, as trustee.

The attorneys request that the lien be foreclosed.

High Schools Name Their Favorites

The school term is drawing toward its close, to ring down the curtain on another year of student activities. As the final days of the term roll around, one sure mark of Spring on the campus is the appearance of the "annuals," the student yearbooks which record all that went on at the old school.

Among the many sections of the annuals, one of the most popular is that in which the pictures of the "favorites" appear. Nearly always elected by popular vote of the entire student body, the all-school favorites are stand-outs in personality, prestige and achievement among their fellows.

Among those honored for the year 1952-'53 are the young people pictured here, favorites from the West Texas high schools of Coahoma, Stanton, Garden City, Knott and Forsan.

MR. AND MRS. BENNETT BROOKE AND CHILDREN

Newcomers Are Just Average, They Say

"Just say that we are an average American family," Mrs. Bennett Brooke, 430 Edwards Blvd., said. "And they are."

Mr. and Mrs. Brooke, living 14 months, and Butch, 7, moved here a short time ago from Belton. Brooke is a partner in and the pharmacist at the Big Spring Drug. The Brookes were married nine years ago in Jefferson, their home town. That was while Brooke was serving in the Naval Air Force.

After World War II, the couple moved to Austin in order that he might finish his work toward a degree in the University's School of Pharmacy.

"We had the best times in Austin," Mrs. Brooke remembered. "Everybody was in the same boat, looking toward the first of the month when the GI subsistence checks would come in," she added laughingly.

Mrs. Brooke, an attractive brown-eyed, brunette, lists her hobby as collecting antique glassware.

"But I don't work at it," she said.

Jefferson is the fifth oldest town in Texas and Mrs. Brooke believes that her interest in glassware is a result of having lived there.

The couple likes to fish and Brooke has always enjoyed working with the Boy Scouts. He is serving as district chairman of the Explorers here.

Butch, who is in the second grade, isn't old enough for Cub Scouts yet.

"But that's next on the agenda," his mother smiled.

Cliftons To Make Home In Big Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clifton are making their home in Big Lake following their recent marriage here.

The bride is the former Betty Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Allen of Big Spring. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Clifton of Big Spring.

The Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of the E. 4th Baptist Church, performed the informal, single ring ceremony at his home.

The bride was attired in a light blue tulle suit. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Patton and Mrs. Dick Clifton all of Big Spring.

Following the ceremony, the couple left on a wedding trip to Lubbock and Hobbs, N. M. The bride is a graduate of Big Lake High School and her husband is a graduate of the local schools. He is a distributor for a power company in Big Lake.

C-City To Be Home Of Newlyweds

The bride is the former Margaret Winn Key, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Key of Colorado City. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson also of Colorado City.

Wedding vows were said in the First Methodist Church, before a candlelit altar, flanked with palms and white gladiolas. The Rev. Herschel Thurston read the vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of pale orchid linen, trimmed in white medallions, a hat with matching medallions and rhinestones and white accessories. Marianna Key, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a blue linen dress with white accessories. Her bouquets were a nosegay of elfe roses.

Billy Shoemaker of Colorado City served as best man and the ushers were Charles Currie and Philip Conway of Colorado City.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Fellowship Hall. The couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and their attendants.

The table was covered with a cutwork linen cloth, decorated with white candles in crystal holders, and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and fern. The three-tiered cake was topped with miniature bride and groom.

Guests were present from Roscoe, Snyder, McCamey, Plainview, and Sweetwater.

The bride, a graduate of Colorado City High School, attended North Texas State College, Denton, and is now employed by Caddell Transit Co.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

By Lydia Lane

HOLLYWOOD — Audrey Hepburn, who starred in the stage play "Gigi," has just finished the picture "Roman Holiday" in Italy for director William Wyler. Her success has brought her a long-term contract for Paramount.

I met Audrey last week for tea at a Beverly Hills hotel, and I asked her if she liked making motion pictures better than working on the stage.

"I like both, and I hope to be able to continue doing both," she said, "although, curiously enough, my first love was the ballet."

She confessed that she is grateful she has directed her to acting because a dancing career is more demanding and less versatile.

"What is the biggest thing you've had to overcome?"

"The most difficult thing to achieve for me," Audrey replied in her rich, distinctive voice, "is speech. I have never naturally spoken any one language. I was born in Brussels, Belgium, of English and Dutch parents so I was speaking French outside my home and English at home."

"But when I was ten I went to Holland. The Germans overran the country and during my most impressionable years I spoke Dutch."

"Then you are tri-lingual," I commented.

"Yes," Audrey agreed, "but due to the circumstances under which I have learned these languages my ear is attune to too many intonations. This has given me a way of talking which has been called 'curious.' I have worked hard on clarity, and I am still working."

In 1948 Audrey was one of ten girls chosen from nearly three thousand applicants for the London production of "High Button Shoes." And three years later she was a star on Broadway in Anita Loos' "Gigi."

"Tell me your formula for success," I asked eagerly.

"I haven't any great technique but the one thing I have done is to take every single opportunity to improve. When I was chosen for 'High Button Shoes,' I didn't know one synepated beal from another, so I had to work much harder than the other girls."

"When I was in the musical 'Sauce Tartare' we gave two performances a night and for six weeks at Christmas time I worked every day in pantomime for children so that I had twenty-one shows a week. But I got my first part in pictures through the director of the pantomime."

"I told Audrey no one could call her lazy as I asked for her top beauty secret."

"Proper diet," Miss Hepburn said instantly. "In Holland I went as long as three days without food and most of the time we existed on starvation rations. For months breakfast was hot water and one slice of bread made from brown beans. Bread for lunch was made with one potato and there was no milk, sugar, cereals or meat of any kind. I became underweight and ill from lack of nourishment."

"When I could afford it I went to a doctor and he told me I was very anemic and must eat a pound of red meat a day. Very soon I began to feel and look like a different person. I have great respect for how closely your appearance and vitality are related to diet."

"I suppose then you've never had a problem with overweight?"

"Yes, I did. In London I had a craving for sweets and I ate too much between meals and I didn't feel comfortable in my clothes. I think it's good to find out the weight where you feel the best and to maintain it."

FRIENDS, LET ME ASK YOU A SIMPLE QUESTION...

Are you too fat because you eat too much? Would you like to lose fat but you just can't control your appetite and like to eat too much of the wrong kind of food? Do you like sweets, candy, coffee and are you a real glutton when it comes to butter, gravy, potatoes? COUNTERACTS HUNGER
Just recently a well known scientist predicted a new way exists that combines not one but ALL THE BEST NUTRIENT proven aids to reducing he found in all the advertised products offered today. It contains the concentrated protein you've read and heard about. It combines the vitamins and minerals often just when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it hits your stomach to give the feeling of a full stomach. Yet these new capsules contain not one but ALL the digestive enzymes that are needed to actually automatically make you eat less without conscious effort and like all in fact these new capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

It's absolutely nothing unless you grow, slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health. ALL-IN-ONE Capsules are yours to try a full week on this no risk plan. Go to your drug store. A BOX OF ALL-IN-ONE Capsules is only $1.50 as you can see. Don't be fooled by the "miraculous" claims of other "miraculous" pills. You must be satisfied with the weight you've lost with the very first package of return to the store where purchased for money back. So start now and continue taking off fat and continue with ALL-IN-ONE Capsules until you've cut down on the weight and figure you want. Don't be fat. Take off fat with the new major safe capsule ever. FOR EASIER REDUCING TODAY!

AT LAST! A CAPSULE THAT EQUALS A MEAL OF VITAMINS, MINERALS AND BULK
Called ALL-IN-ONE Easy Reducing Pills, so new they're just now in drug stores. You just take small ALL-IN-ONE Capsules as directed before meals and at bedtime. Then eat the food you choose, eat as much as you need to satisfy your hunger and appetite. You'll find you actually need to eat as much, you won't have that craving for big meals of rich, fattening food because ALL-IN-ONE CAPSULES help counteract the need and craving for these meals. You don't cut out potatoes, rice, etc. You just cut down. So, for easier reducing, get ALL-IN-ONE CAPSULES today.

WELL-BRED NUMBER

This Gay Sports Ensemble
Will Enhance Any Figure

Toni Owen, who designs gay sports clothes, gives us her famous middy and shorts outfit. No one could ever be over-dressed in this well-bred number. The middy, slashed almost to the waistline, reveals the camisole, cut to fit without being boned. The unbandied shorts, interfaced at the waistline, spot tiny release plates, and the bias sash can be wrapped around the outside of the middy for a tight fit. With or without the sash, this delightful ensemble will enhance any figure.

In selecting your pattern size, please use the guide below which represents body measurements used by this designer:

Size 10, bust 33, waist 25, hip 34; below normal waistline) 34; size 12, bust 34, waist 26, hip 35; size 14, bust 35½, waist 27½, hip 37½; size 16, bust 37, waist 29, hip 39; size 18, bust 38½, waist 30½, hip 41.

Size 12 requires 2¼ yards 36" material for the middy; 2¼ yards 36" material for the shorts and the bias sash. Originally made in crinkly cotton, it would be equally good in linen and denim. To order, Pat, 1145, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. 164, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1. Air mail handling 25 cents, Pamphlets 7 and 8 available at 15 cents each.

Mrs. Ada Clendenen To Attend Review Club

A rancher's wife who was so determined to be a writer she parted with her home and her children, Mrs. Ada Clendenen, will be the featured author at the Thursday Review Club next week.

Mrs. Dud Pettit will review "The Earth Story" by Ada Clendenen, Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Howard County Junior College auditorium.

Mrs. Clendenen, who modeled her life after herself, will also be present.

Graduates Are Honored At Banquet

High school seniors at the First Baptist Church and their guests were honored at a graduation banquet by the WMU at the church Friday.

Table decorations followed a graduation theme and included diploma replicas and dolls dressed in caps and gowns. Black and gold, school colors, and spring flowers were used.

The Rev. Maple Avery, pastor of the E. 4th Baptist Church, was the guest speaker. James Lee Underwood and Percy Clements sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Nell Frazier.

Lt. Russell Nelson of Webb Air Force Base played the piano during the dinner hour.

Mrs. Clyde Angel was general chairman for the dinner. Other chairmen were Mrs. Gaylon Cochran, program; Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, decorations; and Mrs. Alton Underwood, food.

After her marriage she lived on ranches in Tom Green, Tipton and Crockett Counties. The writing of the book started in 1949 when Mrs. Clendenen began commuting to the nearest college for a short course in journalism.

The author gets part of her inspiration for her writing from the people who patronize the antique shop she has owned in Ozona for the past two years.

Her books are written for the average reader, she says. She is an intent woman with a great sense of humor.

She is a widow and has three sons and a daughter and five grandchildren.

She had to be written," Mrs. Clendenen says. "It's the character that she is—held a big stick over my head until the book was finished."

Tickets for the review are on sale by members of the Junior Woman's Forum, sponsor of the Review Club, for 60 cents. They may also be bought at the door.

Love That Animal

Your cat may be a good mousetrap and perhaps your dog is the best watch-dog in the world, but little animals need affection. Pet your animals as often as possible, make sure they have good food, water and milk. Don't depend on them to protect your interests unless you are willing to offer something to them.

Broken Pipes, Leaks Are Cause For High Water Use

By WAYLAND YATES

Something the customer nearly always gets more of than he pays for is water.

There's usually a little water going through city meters without being measured, according to Lee Nuckels, superintendent of the Big Spring water distribution system. Dripping faucets, for instance, often waste water the customer is never charged for. If the drip or other leak is slow enough, the waste won't be registered on the meter.

But for larger volumes of water, city meters are never more than two per cent in error. And that error is more than apt to be in the customer's favor.

If the rate of withdrawal exceeds 25 gallons per minute, the meter may register only 960 or 970 gallons when 1,000 has flown through the line.

Nearly always, though, you can't get more than 25 gpm through your meter, so Nuckels considers all the measuring instruments at least 98 per cent accurate.

New meters are guaranteed by manufacturers to register within two per cent of perfect. After a meter is set and a customer complains that his bill is too high, the water department can test the instrument and make repairs and adjustments, if needed.

Usually, however, there's nothing wrong with the meter, Nuckels says. Almost always the customer is using more water than he thinks or some is being wasted through leaky plumbing or a defective commode valve.

Reginald Castle, foreman of the water meter section, estimates broken pipes or leaking commodes are found to be responsible in at least 50 per cent of the cases where customers complain their water bills are too high.

In many other instances, the meter man is able to show the dissatisfied customer where his water is going. One example Castle cites involved an air conditioner which was using "only" a quart of water per minute. In a month's time, the cooler alone was consuming about 12,000 gallons of water.

The city has meters in service on taps ranging from five-eighths of an inch to four inches in diameter. Practically all residential meters are of the three-quarters size which are designed to accurately gauge flow of water up to 25 gallons per minute.

The water department maintains a meter repair and testing shop to keep the instruments in top working condition. Repairman is Jim Allison, who can show you what makes a meter tick.

Virtually all of the home and business water meters measure volume on the displacement principle. A specific volume of water will turn a rotating piston one revolution. Each time the piston makes a revolution it turns a small gear that actuates a clock-like mechanism. The mechanism, in turn, rotates the hands on a group of small dials, showing the volume of water consumed. If anything happens to the mechanism it simply stops; the customer goes on getting his water but isn't charged for it.

It's seldom that anything happens to foul up a meter, however. Nuckels reports a number of the instruments have been in service for 10 or 12 years without giving trouble.

When trouble occurs it usually is due to a small quantity of sand which has found its way into water lines and the meter. This also works in the customer's favor, slowing down the rotating piston so that some water slips by without being measured.

Whenever something goes wrong with a water meter, it is taken to the shop for a complete overhaul and testing. Allison disassembles the instrument, gives its parts a cleaning in an acid bath, replaces worn or broken units and puts it back together for the test.

The meter is hooked to water lines on the test bench and a measured quantity of water—anywhere from a quart to 100 gallons—is put through the instrument at various speeds. If the meter doesn't register the correct amount of water, it is adjusted until it does.

The property owner also gets a bargain when he has a meter in stalled. For a $17.50 tap fee, he gets a $20 meter, a $4 meter box, $3 worth of valves and fittings, and $7 or $8 worth of labor. There's also a $10 deposit to be

Confusion Noted Here In Texas Marriage Rules

A good many men stationed at Webb Air Force Base have been getting tangled up in the red tape of Texas marriage procedures here lately.

And some of them have found it necessary to postpone their marriages several days as a result, according to Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk.

She explained that most of the citizens get confused on the first step of preparations—obtaining a physician's examination certificate and laboratory test.

"We can't issue the marriage license unless the certificate and laboratory report are in order," she said. "And a good many of the certificates from other states do not meet the requirements."

It was explained that a good many of the girls marrying Webb airmen come directly from other states. They usually obtain laboratory tests in their own states and present them here.

Such out-of-state test reports must be accompanied by certificates that the laboratory is approved in the state administered, Mrs. Petty said. Also the laboratory director must sign an affidavit showing state approval.

Mrs. Petty pointed out the marriage license must be obtained and marriage must take place within 15 days after the laboratory test is made. Many times girls coming here to marry boys do not meet the time limit, she said.

Many people right here in Big Spring are confused on procedures (See MARRIAGE, PG. 2, Col. 4) that the meters would perform at the slower rates of flow.

About 1932 the present meter shop was set up in the back of the main fire station at city hall. The modern test bench subsequently was installed and the department now is staffed and equipped to accurately gauge the volume of water leaving the distribution system at any point.

Personnel keep a record of each meter put into service, where it is located, what repairs, if any, it has had, and other pertinent information. And meter readers always check the meter serial number against the one listed on the billing form, so one person won't be charged for his neighbor's reading.

The city now has more than 6,000 meters in service and new installations and replacements occur at the rate of about 25 per month. Either stocks at the warehouse or a shipment enroute keep Nuckels' department supplied.

Other personnel in the department include five meter readers, Gerald Walker, Hawleigh McCullough, Ralph Thorp, L. F. McEltham and Dell-R. Wilhelm.

The meter readers took over the repair and test work about 1930. They reasoned that 10 gallons of water used at the rate of a quart per minute cost the city just as much as water withdrawn at a faster rate, so they set out to see

Laughlin Dispute Is Thought To Be Local

AUSTIN — Disposition to regard proposed ouster of District Judge Woodrow Laughlin as an internal or local dispute stands as a formidable obstacle to legislative action.

The Texas Senate already has voted to investigate charges contained in a resolution which would ask that Laughlin be removed as judge in turbulent Duval and Jim Wells Counties. This puts it to the House for concurrence.

Two votes have been taken in the Senate, and each time the margin grows slimmer. The first, on whether to consider evidence before voting on whether to consider the resolution, was by a 19-8 margin. Then Thursday, when the vote came on whether to consider the resolution, the margin was 15-11.

Several senators have indicated that they feel that Judge Laughlin is guilty of official misconduct.

that he should be impeached. Any 10 lawyers who had ever practiced in his court, regardless of whether they live in his district, now, could petition for the impeachment. This would put the judge on trial before the Supreme Court.

"It is the judiciary's business to try people and cases," said one senator. "The Senate's function is legislative."

There is a feeling among some that the Texas Bar Association has tossed a hot potato to the legislators. Another senator, noting the bar's charges of unethical conduct against Laughlin, asked, "Why don't they (lawyers) dishar him?"

But perhaps the most formidable psychology working in favor of Judge Laughlin and the South Texas machine which successfully backed him for election is that the issue is viewed among many as a local one.

They reason like this: If we remove this judge by address, we will be constantly besieged by requests for similar action by people who perhaps want a forum like the Legislature to window dress their political disputes.

At the other end of the scale is the warning voiced by some leading South Texans, both in and outside the circle of immediate influence of the powerful Parr machine, to the effect that the situation is getting worse—not better.

In the face of exposure and widespread publicity, the machine has grown bolder. Violence has flared; the son of an opposition leader, Jake Floyd, has been assassinated. The sphere of influence is widening and political guns at least are pointed toward larger cities in South Texas. If these fall under domination of the machine,

A&M Club To Sponsor Scholarship

At a called meeting Friday night the Big Spring A&M Club voted unanimously to award a $500 scholarship to Texas A&M College to an outstanding and deserving high school graduate from this area.

Selection will be made from the following high schools: Big Spring, Coshoma, Ackerly, Knott, Flower Grove, Grady, Stanton, Forsan, Garden City, and Sterling City. Basis for the award will be scholarship, leadership, extra-curricular activities, and a need of outside financial aid.

Members of the club will visit all high schools within the next week and explain the scholarship to graduating senior boys and will have application blanks available. Applications must be turned in to the scholarship selection committee by May 15, and it is hoped that the winner may be chosen in time for recognition at the graduation exercises of his high school. The scholarship is for one year and is renewable at the option of the club.

Special mention was made of the fact that 241 Opportunity Award Scholarships are being offered this year by A&M College and friends of A&M. Boys interested in these awards should contact their principal, county agent, or 4-H Club supervisor for application blanks.

35 Measles Cases Diagnosed In Area

Measles was the only contagious disease noticed here on a very extensive scale during the past week, as prevalence of tonsillitis, bronchitis, and other respiratory infections declined.

There were 35 cases of measles diagnosed by Big Spring doctors, the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit reported. Other infections and the number of cases of each reported were mumps, five; pneumonia, seven; bronchitis, six; whooping cough, three; chicken pox, five; and strep throat, tonsillitis and gonorrhea, one case each.

chief, they warn; balance of power in almost any Texas election will be within its grasp. Pressures from both sides are mounting on the Legislature. This week will be one of the most interesting if not crucial of the entire session.

Administration Forces Pulled Fast One In Teacher Pay Issue

AUSTIN — Did you ever push with all your might against a door only to have someone jerk it open just as you made it bud?

That's what happened to the teacher pay bill last week. Opponents of the $600 increase for beginning teachers had finally been beaten down in efforts to block the bill from getting to the House floor. Supporters were ready to vote it out whenever ready.

But there is a catch. The Legislature can vote an appropriation bill, but unless the state comptroller certifies that there are ample revenues in sight to meet it, the bill doesn't go to the governor. In that event, the measure is returned to the house of origin with the status of one that has never been voted upon.

Thus, instead of ramming the pay increase through, backers of the teacher pay maintained pressure on the door and turned to bring up a tax bill to finance the pay hike. The strategy was to get the revenue raised through so that when the teacher pay bill did reach the comptroller, he would certify it.

Wednesday morning, however, administration forces pulled a coup. Bright and early Rep. Fred Neiman of Yoakum was at his desk, the microphone pulled up neatly beside him. As a matter of legislative courtesy, this meant that he would be the first to have the privileges of the floor when the House was called to order. Neiman was quietly working, dictating letters to his secretary, and no one seemed to pay him any mind. Meanwhile Rep. Joe Kilgore and Rep. Salty Hull and others who have held the line for the administration got the word around.

No sooner had the chaplain's prayer been completed than Speaker Reuben Senterfitt laid out the teacher pay bill for consideration. Neiman moved the previous question, which, under parliamentary rules, shut off all amendments and debate and called for a vote.

Supporters of the pay increase didn't want to be caught in the position of voting against their own bill. Opponents jumped aboard to assure its certain passage.

The door had been jerked open. Valiantly, Rep. Lamar Zivley tried to halt the lunge by moving adjournment, then recess—anything which would give time to rally his forces. But it was too late. The $600 hike plunged over the threshold and fell flat on its face in the floor.

All of which provoked a capitol was to observe of Charles Tennyson, the Texas State Teacher Association executive secretary and a power behind the throne on the drive for the increase: "Tennyson said he wanted $600 or nothing. And he got both!"

Every hospital in Big Spring, including that at the base, are on the approved list to give blood tests. When the laboratory technician submits his report; it does not have the test result on it.

The report has the name of the test, the date, name and address of physician to whom the report is sent, and the name and address of the person tested. The physician then makes a certificate. Both the report and certificate must be presented at the County Clerk's office for a license.

The certificate must show that the person examined is free of any infectious condition of syphilis or a marriage license cannot be issued.

There is one way to get around the laboratory blood test. The County or District Judge can, on joint application from the two parties, waive requirements for a medical examination and laboratory test.

However, according to Texas law, the judges have to be "satisfied by proof" that sufficient cause exists. The judges also have to be assured that the "public health and welfare will not be injuriously affected."

Mrs. Petty pointed out that anyone failing to comply with the laws on the marriage act are subject to from $250 to $500 fines.

After the license has been obtained, marriages can be performed by the District Judge, County Judge, Justice of the Peace, or any minister of the gospel.

Temple Seeking One Of Most Powerful Television Stations

TEMPLE (AP) — One of the most powerful television stations in Texas may be built near here.

The Bell Publishing Co., which publishes the Temple Telegram, has applied for a 100,000 watt transmitter permit, says president Frank W. Mayborn.

The transmitter would be built about 15 miles north of Temple near Eddy. It would have a range of 100 air miles.

Mayborn said station KCEN-TV hopes to be on the air Oct. 1.

Foodhandlers School Opens Here Monday

Licenses of 220 Big Spring foodhandlers expire Monday. Like Fox city-county sanitarian, reported Saturday.

The 220 are persons who received temporary licenses during the past year after passing written tests on foodhandling practices and requirements.

City ordinance states such temporary licenses may be granted only such time as a Health Department Foodhandlers School is conducted. Permanent health certificates can be granted only after the foodhandlers successfully complete the course, said Fox.

The annual Foodhandlers School will open at 10 a.m. Monday at the Municipal Auditorium. It will continue through Friday.

Two classes will be held daily for the convenience of workers. One class starts at 10 a.m., the other at 2:30 p.m. The individual may attend whichever class best fits his schedule, according to the sanitarian.

Instructor will be C. B. Breedlove, of the State Health Department, Austin.

The sanitarian said all foodhandlers now hold the temporary licenses are advised to attend the school. He called attention to city ordinance which specifies that in order to work as a foodhandler in Big Spring, a person must possess a license issued by the health officer.

The local health unit has mailed cards to managers of all food dispensing establishments asking that names of temporary license holders be reported to the unit in order that they may be enrolled in the school. Fox Saturday asked that all cards be returned by Monday morning.

The sanitarian also listed some of the practices which foodhandlers are required to adhere to in compliance with the city ordinance:

1. Have a registered health card in good standing posted in establishment as required by state law.
2. Exercise good personal hygiene.
3. In dispensing or serving food, drink, ice and the handling of eating and drinking utensils, keep hands out of direct contact with food and that portion of dishes and utensils it touches.
4. Avoid contamination of clean, sanitized utensils.
5. Protect food from exposure to filth.
6. Protect perishable foods.
7. Avoid smoking in rooms where food or drink is prepared.
8. Avoid working with a common cold or any other communicable disease in an infectious stage.

Whitneys Leave For Corpus Christi Meet

City Manager and Mrs. H. W. Whitney left Saturday for Corpus Christi where they will attend annual spring meeting of the Texas City Managers Association.

The convention will open Sunday evening and continue through Tuesday. The Whitneys will return Wednesday.

Regular Tuesday city commission meeting probably will be postponed until the city manager can attend, officials said Saturday.

to be followed for marriage also, she said.

"For instance, many people think there is a three-day waiting period in Texas before a couple can be married. There is no such thing," she said.

The three days usually comes in between the time the blood test is taken and the time it is ready. This makes people think there is a three-day waiting period.

"There have been quite a few people who think they can obtain the blood test in a few hours," Mrs. Petty said.

Every hospital in Big Spring, including that at the base, are on the approved list to give blood tests. When the laboratory technician submits his report; it does not have the test result on it.

ARE THE CLOUDS BREAKING?

No one doubts that we are living in troubled times. Few generations have faced such a constant threat of war; none has known such appalling weapons of destruction. A storm of terror threatens to engulf the world.

Yet, there are some who see signs that the clouds may be breaking. They point to crowded churches . . . Sunday Schools with record enrollment . . . tremendous demand for the new translation of the Bible. They reason that such concern for the spiritual realities of life is certain to have effect on the course of our history.

Whether we share their optimism or not, there is no denying the premise on which it is based. Though we cannot read the future, we can read the past. Man's hope of peace and happiness, in national and in personal life, has always rested upon spiritual foundations.

People who want the peace of God must turn to God to find it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Laughlin Inquiry Is Most Vital To The Integrity Of Our Courts

One very vital responsibility that the Texas Legislature should discharge, in the interest of public welfare and integrity in government is to conduct a most complete inquiry into the official conduct of Judge Woodrow Laughlin of the 79th Judicial District.

Judge Laughlin has said that he wants nothing except a fair hearing, that he certainly should have.

But any hearing conducted should at the same time be thorough to the utmost. If can be scrupulously fair, and at the same time it can be utterly complete, regardless of political repercussions.

If there is one fundamental that most Texans stand by steadfastly, it is that the courts must be kept beyond all suspicion at any cost. All Americans stand as equals under the law, and the law is usefully personified by the judge. If and when the people lose confidence in their courts, one of their basic faiths in American democracy is undermined or destroyed. The wellsprings of decent and impartial justice must be kept as pure as human ingenuity and the vigilance of authority can insure.

Serious charges have been brought against Judge Laughlin, who is the judge of that district composed of four South Texas counties under the political domination of George Parr of Duval County.

Even before he took office a grand jury indicted him on a charge that he misrepresented the value of his law library when he sold it to the county of which he was county judge for $2,185.70. As soon as he took office he dismissed the grand jury that had returned this indictment. However, a few hours before he was to face trial he paid the county clerk $2,185.70 and asked for his books returned.

Later a grand jury from Laughlin's district asked Gov. Shivers to investigate certain charges that the judge had impeded the grand jury's investigation of the Buddy Floyd murder case, a political assassination this was shocking to the denizens of all Texas.

Just recently a committee of the State Bar Association won admiration over Texas when it approved by a vote of 18 to 5 a report that said Judge Laughlin's conduct as judge showed partisanship in the political affairs of the 79th District. The bar association group asserted that these numerous and serious charges should not stand.

It is up to the Legislature to do this. The charges against Judge Laughlin cannot be dismissed as a rather disagreeable "local affair." Events in Duval County and in that area have progressed to such a point that every Texan interested in good government feels he has a personal stake in the final outcome of the political situation in South Texas.

All liberty, in this and in every other state, hinges upon a just handling of this matter. Legislators should stand ready to guard the fair name of Texas.

Mutual Funds Rely On 'Sense' Of 'New Investor' In A Slump

Joseph E. Welch believes in mutual funds — heart, soul and always — in good and bad markets. That's easy to understand.

Mutual funds are his life work. He's executive vice-president of the 250-million-dollar Wellington Fund and chairman of the Committee on Investment Companies of the National Association of Securities Dealers, which sees to it that investment trusts don't overstep their wares.

Welch is disturbed by the suggestion that mutual funds might have trouble in a bear market — that investors would cash in shares, forcing mutual funds, in turn, to dump blocks of Amerasia Petroleum, Standard Oil (N. J.), Continental Oil, International Paper, Goodrich, General Electric, General Motors, and other popular stocks, thereby breaking their own market.

Welch has no such qualms. Here's his case:

1. Mutual funds do not create new securities. They invest funds of shareholders in existing stocks and bonds. Redemption by their shareholders would not affect general market prices any more, and probably a lot less, than if these shareholders were liquidating individual securities. One seller causes less trouble than thousands of sellers.
2. Mutual fund shares are owned — by and large — by new class of investor. This investor does not buy on margin or concern himself greatly with intermediate market swings. He is interested primarily in a long-range investment program for life and growth.
3. Actual experience disproves statements that sales by mutual funds could cause drastic market declines. During the market breaks of 1933-38, 1941-42, and 1948, mutual funds met all redemptions without any serious effect on the market. Immediately after Korea, mutual funds were a stabilizing influence. A survey of 64 large funds, comprising 96 per cent of the assets of the industry, showed redemptions of $3,181,000 as against sales of $8,953,000. These 64 funds purchased $13,822,000 of stocks in the market and sold only $6,228,000.
4. Many persons invest in mutual funds under monthly or quarterly plans. This provides a steady flow of new money and is a bulwark against redemptions.
5. If, despite all of the foregoing points, funds were forced to raise cash to meet redemptions they could sell portions of large blocks of stocks rather than the entire blocks. Or they might sell large blocks through secondary offerings, such as the 250,000 shares of American Visco a few days ago.

Welch's arguments cannot be dismissed. The mutual fund has uncovered a new type of investor. Yet, it is impossible to predict how this new investor will act in a bear market. He's an inflation baby, largely postwar.

Mutual funds attained their great growth in the long, intermittent upswing, which started in 1942. At that time, total assets of 110 funds amounted to $400,000,000. At the end of 1949, assets totaled $1,300,000,000. Today they amount to four billion. In the 1937, 1941 and 1946 bear markets, mutual funds did not possess nearly the selling power they do today — as the above figures indicate.

The nut of the issue is this. In a stock market crash, no stock is really liquid. Sales of General Motors, Standard Oil, or American Telephone, or mutual funds — sales of the strongest securities — have to be made. If they must be made, at a sacrifice, bidders are scarce. Secondary offerings would be hard to put across. Most mutual funds allow for this. By laws of charters provide for suspension of the redemption privilege during a stock market "emergency."

But mutual fund managers, being professional, presumably won't be panicky. They'll ride out the break. And if they have cash — if redemptions don't exceed sales — they may even pick up some cheap stocks. All depends on how sensible and on how well-sold this new class of investor is.

Spotlighting A Week Of News If Treatment Of UN Prisoners Is Any Criterion, Reds Are Not Peaceful

By FRED GREENE

American prisoners of war began the long trek home from the Far East this week and as the veterans landed on American soil once more, new tales of Communist terror and mistreatment were made public.

Cpl. Wendell H. Treffery, of Terryville, Conn., revealed that he is one of less than 40 survivors out of 350 infantrymen captured by the Chinese south of Changlin Reservoir on Nov. 30, 1950. His feet froze, the flesh fell off his toes and a Red nurse snipped off eight of his toes with a garden shears, Treffery said.

The disabled veteran also reported he suffered attacks of dysentery and his weight dropped from 150 to 60 pounds.

Treffery also revealed that his unit's commander had secured an agreement with the Reds to send UN wounded back to allied lines if the able-bodied men would surrender. The promise was not kept by a Red Chinese.

The wounded, about 130 of them, reportedly were left to die in the frozen wastes. Treffery said he saw these bodies after the Reds first marched them away, then back to the scene where UN units were ambushed.

Long death marches and bayonet jabbing by Red guards were among the tortures inflicted on Allied prisoners.

Some returning repatriates brought with them lists of Allied soldiers who remain in enemy hands. One, Cpl. Eyerett Rittenour, of Woodstock, Va., wrote down the names of 81 troops, most of whom were "in pretty good shape."

The majority of those named by Rittenour were on the official prisoner list turned over to the United Nations by the Chinese in 1951.

Another unidentified source gave Army officials a list (from memory) of 50 U. S. soldiers heretofore listed as missing or dead, but who actually were held in Red prison camps. The Army did not reveal the names.

In still another report, Sgt. James F. Daniel, Alameda, Calif., said he had access to Red medical records in North Korea and learned that 2,538 captive Allied soldiers had died of starvation and disease in less than a year.

Daniel reported that 931 Allies died in 2 1/2 months at the now infamous "Death Valley." Another 1,607 died at Pyoktong's Camp No. 5 on the Yalu River.

Other tales of Red atrocities were slowly being revealed. In many instances, returnees refused interviews; they had been besieged upon release by reporters and photographers. Others had been too sick to talk, and still more repatriates were kept from interviews by Army authorities. All veterans had only one thought, though, and that was to get home fast.

The truce talks dragged on with the negotiators getting nowhere in their attempts to settle upon a neutral status as caretaker for some 48,000 able-bodied Reds who refuse to go home.

The UN, noting Red hedging, also accused the Communists of a holdout of Allied sick and wounded. The truce talks, told the Reds that failure to hand over 375 disabled soldiers "we know you are holding" leaves "no choice but to question your sincerity" in full truce talks.

The UN Command, trying to get agreement on a neutral state, suggested Sweden on Eriday. The Reds previously had rejected Switzerland and declined to proffer their own choice. There had been reports that the Reds may nominate India.

The war in Indochina continues to gain attention, particularly since Vietnam Red troops invaded the tiny French Union state of Laos. The invaders, headed by Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, have taken over a third of Laos since crossing from neighboring Viet Nam.

The Vietnam troops are only 60 miles from Thailand and 160 miles from Burma, both of which have sizable Red elements.

The French plan a last ditch stand at Luang Prabang, 12 miles from where Communist troops were reported on Friday. An airlift was speeding French UN troops and American-supplied water goods to this Laotian capital.

The battle over ownership of submerged off-shore lands continued. State ownership forces finally broke the obvious filibuster that was going on in the Senate and a vote on the so-called Tidelands bill has been set for 1 p. m. on Tuesday.

Opponents of the bill, who want federal ownership to submerged lands or who seek further restrictions to the proposed measure, agreed to the May 5 vote after Sen. Taft, Republican floor leader, ordered 24-hour sessions in an attempt to halt the talkathon.

Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore) last week end broke the Senate record for continuous talking. He spoke 22 hours and 26 minutes to pass the old mark of about 18 hours held by Sen. Robert La Follette of Wisconsin.

Since the agreement to a vote by opponents of the bill, votes on amendments have been going on, with state ownership adherents winning every time. These amendments would have restricted the distance seaward, put income into a fund for federal aid to schools among other things.

The present bill would give states ownership of submerged lands within their historic boundaries. In the case of most states affected, this would be three miles. In the case of Texas and Florida, the distance is 10 1/2 miles.

Weather also hogged the Spotlight this week as the South and Southwest took a battering from the elements. In Georgia, a rip-roaring tornado blasted a small town in the middle of the state, causing at least 15 deaths by Friday. More than 250 were reported injured and property damage amounted in the millions of dollars.

All kinds of weather belted Texas. Four tornadoes and heavy sand and rain storms covered the state. Four deaths were caused when a light plane crashed during a sandstorm at Webb Air Force Base. Woods and lightning caused other deaths, including five at Kilgore when an oil tank exploded after being hit by lightning.

Another plane crash, possibly attributable to Texas weather, occurred near San Antonio Wednesday when a B-29 bomber crashed, causing 10 deaths.

Sunday Talk: Scientist Writes

Several months ago, I spoke of the "heavy carbon clock." This "clock" is a method which some scientists now use to decide the age of various objects found in layers of rock and elsewhere.

Interesting letters about this subject have come to me, one of them from Dr. A. V. Grossé, who wrote:

"One of the advantages of the carbon dating method is the fact that it permits, for the first time, archeology on this continent to be placed on a sound, scientific basis. "An example of what has been done is the discovery of one of the oldest articles made by human hands in North or South America. This is a pair of straw sandals beautifully made, dug out of a cave in Oregon. With the radio-actively measured of the carbon clock, these sandals were shown to be 9,200 years old! "The C-14 radio-activity method may err on the younger side because other material, added to the original object, may be of lesser age. The real age of the sandals may be more than 9,200 years, certainly not less."

Thank you, Dr. Grossé, for the interesting note about those sandals. If the carbon clock is correct, they were made long before the Great Pyramid of Gizeh was built! Men of science are trusting more and more to this method of judging the age of objects left by early residents of North America.

The writer of that letter was mentioned when I wrote this paragraph about the heavy carbon clock: "A Pennsylvania scientist, Dr. A. V. Grossé, is honored for an idea which helped to lead to it. More than 15 years ago, he figured that cosmic rays must be making one or more new elements. With the help of Dr. W. S. Libby of the University of Chicago, Dr. Grossé made many tests and proved that cosmic rays produce in plants and animals what is called 'heavy carbon,' or Carbon 14."

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

The town of Wharton received its incorporation on this day in 1873, but its history dates back to at least thirty years earlier. In 1843, a widow from Mississippi, Mrs. Lulu Flowers, came to the site of the town bringing with her a hundred slaves and started a plantation. Other early settlers were nearly all Southerners who also brought slaves and planted cotton as their major crop. When Wharton County was formally established with the same name by 1850, the county had a population of nearly eighteen hundred people, of whom only about five hundred were white.

The town saw some rather stormy days during and immediately after the Civil War as a result of its unequal racial distribution. The White Man's Association, organized to combat these difficulties, eventually became an important factor in county politics. Again in the late 1880's Wharton saw violence when the Jaybird-Woodpecker War in adjacent Fort Bend County spilled over into Wharton. At least one man was murdered on the streets of the town before state militia quelled the disturbance. After things calmed down in the vicinity a number of Swedish, German and Czech immigrants settled in Wharton.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible "verse" is found in the 13th chapter of First Corinthians and, as translated by Dr. Moffatt, reads: "Love is very patient, very kind. Love knows no jealousy; love makes no parade, gives itself up airs, is never rude, never selfish, never irritated, never resentful; love is never glad when others go wrong, love is gladdened by goodness, always slow to expose, always eager to believe the best, always hopeful, always patient. Love never disappears."

This I can never read without being convicted of the shoddiness of my own contribution both in the family circle and in the wider relationships where good will is basic. Only one who lives close to God and draws on His power could possibly achieve this. But what if we could! How different homes and communities would be!

Some People Criticize Weather, And Others Belittle The Women

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

In all my life (well, never mind how many) years as a weather-scarred West Texan, I have tried to be patriotically loyal to my native heath.

I have tried to dismiss the weather, I have tried to defend it, I have tried to defeat it with tall tales, but I have never tried to run from it.

After this past week, I'm not so sure. Got to talking with a fellow and mused about the judgment of a person who would stay around in these storms of his own free will, and the fellow said he guessed there were worse places.

He mentioned the swampy country, where every time you step out of the house you sink down to your knees, and where you have to carry a machete to clear your path between home and town. Where the mosquitoes are so big and so numerous that people have to wear screens on their car windows or wear space helmets all the time, where the rust is so bad that auto fenders drop off after the second day, and the mildew is so bad that the stores sell clothes to you packed in lead boxes.

"Where is this place?" I ask the man. "I dunno," he said, "but it would be worse than this country."

Speaking of Mother Nature's handwork — except that I have not been on speaking terms with her this past week — somebody has dug up a little literary gem that appeared in a volume called "Dr. Gunn's Household Physician."

This piece had to do with the glories one would witness if one would get up early enough in the morning. It said: "There is no time equal in beauty and freshness of the morning, when nature has just parted with the gloomy mantle which night had flung over her, and stands before us like a young bride from whose face the veil which covered her loveliness has been withdrawn. The husbandman is up at his labor, the forest leaves sparkle with drops of crystal dew, the flowers raise their rejoicing heads toward the sun, the birds pour forth their anthems of gladness, and the wide face of nature itself seems as if awakened and refreshed by a mighty slumber."

Now that is downright purty. A morn'g makes me want to get out of bed early in the morning. I said almost.

Among people I would not want to be is a citizen of England named W. T. McGill. He is the man who had the poor judgment to say that a pretty woman is just a myth. He said that she is just all decorated up with fancy clothes and accessories, cosmetics, hair-dos and jewelry and such ornamental attractions, and underneath this she is just dowdy.

Mr. McGill is (a) talking through his hat; (b) very non-observant; (c) going out after publicity; (d) a bold and brazen man; or (e) nuts.

Discussion of ornaments takes us next to the fire fly, although don't ask me why. I just happened to read that the luminous ornaments this creature carries has been well analyzed by scientists at Johns Hopkins. They have found that the fire fly is practically nothing at all but a bunch of chemicals. He carries a heavy cargo, aft of his mid-section, of adenosine triphosphate, luciferin, oxygen, magnesium and luciferase. These are bound together by a potent enzyme or chemical controller.

The thing about this mixture is that it remains inert, doing nothing, as long as the chemicals are together. But suppose it gets dark. Up in the forward compartment something pushes a button connected with a nerve. The nerve stimulation releases another chemical, inorganic pyrophosphate, which breaks the bond holding the other five. And they flash. That's just what they do — flash.

I am not knowing about a glow worm, but I guess the same thing happens to him, only slower. This is all enlightening, don't you think? Well, it is to the fire fly, — BOB WHIPKEY.

Washington Calling — Marquis Childs

Decisions On NATO, Aid, Other Issues Are Up To The Congress

WASHINGTON — The sessions of the North Atlantic Council bear some resemblance to the day when Junior brings home his report card for scrutiny by father. If Junior's marks are not up to scratch, father may cut down his allowance or even stop it altogether.

In the meeting just ended in Paris Secretary of State John Foster Dulles played the stern father. What he said privately and publicly was that the European members of NATO had better get down to ratifying the European Defense Community and bringing a united force into being. The threat in the background, if they failed, was a Congress hell bent on economy.

Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen came back prepared to recommend a budget nearly $2 billion less than the $7.5 billion recommended in the Truman budget. But they say optimistically that this will still leave room to build the NATO defense force up to a 30 per cent increase in strength in 1953.

They base their optimism on what they insist is a more realistic use of smaller amounts of aid. There will be no more direct aid such as has been injected into the French and British budgets. The aid will instead be extended in the form of contracts to make weapons in Western Europe. American dollars also will go to build military installations in Europe considered essential to sustain the NATO force. Even the amounts to be given in this way will be less than what France and Britain had anticipated in direct assistance.

For France there will be two kinds of compensation to balance these reductions. First, direct assistance in arms and supplies to Indochina will be on a greatly increased scale. The urgent need to speed these shipments is pointed up by headlines that tell of the Communist invasion of the Indochinese state of Laos. Such help would enable the French to "make substantial cuts in the cost of the Indochina war, which has been at the rate of more than a billion dollars a year.

Second, the French have been promised a loan or grant — probably the former — for immediate help in stabilizing the franc. The franc is just now buffering one of those period attacks of the shakes that plagued the French economy in the years between the wars. An advance of somewhere between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 will, it is believed, firm up the currency.

These decisions could hardly be more tentative. They depend entirely on what Congress does or does not do in the weeks ahead. And no predictions on this score are worth venturing.

One can foresee, however, pretty rough going. Because of the inevitable delay in submitting revised budgetary estimates, the mood of Congress promises to be increasingly one of frustration.

Those who do the spade work in important congressional committees see other forces making for a feeling of being boxed in. The House is chopping big sums out of appropriation bills, with the goal of a balanced budget firmly in view. The interests affected by these cuts will go to work to get them restored by the Senate or in conference.

The pressures will be great. The attempt to balance the budget will look more and more dubious. And always there will be passionate hope that if only the budget can be brought into balance, then taxes may be reduced.

As these frustrations accumulate and the summer heat descends on Washington, the foreign-aid bill will look more and more like a sacrificial lamb ready for slaughter. No powerful lobby will be on the doorstep to cry out against crippling cuts.

What is equally important, the administration has yet to demonstrate that it knows how to carry through a campaign for a policy considered essential. This point was raised by a knowledgeable specialist on Capitol Hill who foresees trouble ahead for the foreign aid appropriation. "To put over the amount that Dulles and Stassen consider on present estimates necessary will take a lot more effort applied directly to Congress than has been evident."

The recent NATO council meeting ended in a series of statements saying little. The final announcement was preceded by a lively discussion between military and civilian officials as to whether the actual force in being — that is, the number of divisions and so on — should be announced. This was pulled out on the word of General Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, on the ground it would furnish too much information to the Soviets.

The strength built thus far is substantial. But no one can say with assurance whether it will go up or down from here on out.

MISTER BREGER

"Does this train HAPTA stop for a half-hour every time we eat...?"

Mystery Thriller

Cesar Romero and Lois Maxwell are shown making a "getaway" in a scene from "Scotland Yard Inspector," which will show at the State Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The movie concerns an American who is suspected of committing a London murder. Consequently he sets out to solve the crime—Yankee style. He bucks the entire London underworld in his attempts but finds the support of Miss Maxwell.

Musical Romance

Dick Haymes and Jody Lawrence are shown above in a scene from Columbia's "All Ashore," which is scheduled at the State Theatre today and Monday. Mickey Rooney, Peggy Ryan and Ray McDonald are also starred in the Technicolor production. It concerns a group of sailors who get shore leave and set about to have a good time. Song-and-dance routines are spiced throughout the movie.

Young Love

Richard Jaeckel and Terry Moore are shown in a love scene from the movie, "Come Back, Little Sheba," which will show at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Burt Lancaster and Shirley Booth have the lead parts as a frustrated middle-aged couple with whom Miss Moore lives. Miss Moore's youthful beauty drives Lancaster to drink, and a rift develops in the marriage of the older couple.

Arabian Knights

Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie are shown in a scene from "Son of Ali Baba," a Technicolor movie set at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. Curtis plays Ali Baba's son and the leader of the sons of the forty thieves. Miss Laurie plays a princess with whom Curtis falls in love. Victor Jory appears as the evil Caliph of Bagdad who wages war against Ali Baba.

Shirley Booth Stars In New Ritz Movie

The movie version of the smash Broadway stage hit, "Come Back, Little Sheba," will be shown at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Shirley Booth, who was the Broadway star, has the lead feminine part. Burt Lancaster has the role of her husband, Terry Moore and Richard Jaeckel have top supporting parts. The movie deals with the shattered dreams and frustrations of a middle-aged couple. Miss Booth plays the wife who lives on memories of her youth, and she constantly reminds her husband of his. Despairing of a wasted life, Lancaster becomes an alcoholic. The fact that he had to marry Miss Booth and give up a promising career makes Lancaster nobody and unhappy. Then Miss Moore, a college girl, moves in with them to board while attending school. A college athlete — Jaeckel — starts going with Miss Moore. And Lancaster suspects an illicit romance between the two. The attraction between the two young people serves to accept the lack of romance in the lives of the married couple. Lancaster drinks so much that he goes into a frenzied rage, accuses his wife of "encouraging" an affair between the college students, and then menaces Miss Booth with a kitchen knife. The climax of the drama reportedly is one of the most emotion-stirring passages filmed in recent years. The unconventional movie is designed for adult audiences.

"MYSTERY THEATRE"

A gunman's ex-wife, now a secretary in a bank, is a prime suspect in "The Case of the Silent Paffner," the thriller for the Wednesday, May 6, broadcast of Mystery Theatre, heard on KBST at 7 p.m. After a bank robbery involving a murder, Inspector Mark Saber of the Homicide Squad and Sergeant Tim Maloney get into the case. Things look black for the gunman's ex-wife, particularly when $10,000 of the stolen money is found in her purse, but Saber is no man to make a snap judgment. His clever sleuthing recovers the money, frees the innocent and unmask the guilty.

"BIG JON AND SPARKIE"

Big Jon and Sparkie go on vacation, are offered a chance at fame and witness a surprise in cab-driver Ukey Butcha's laboratory in the episodes of Big Jon and Sparkie during the week beginning Monday, May 4. The program is heard over KBST via ABC Mondays through Fridays from 5 to 6:15 p.m.

Joseph Cotten, Teresa Wright in "Steel Trap"

Joseph Cotten, Teresa Wright In 'Steel Trap'

Joseph Cotten and Teresa Wright co-star in "The Steel Trap," movie scheduled at the Lyric Theatre today and Monday.

The movie concerns a plan by a bank vice president—Cotten—to make off with a million dollars in cash. He decides to set his plan in motion over a week end so he will have three days to escape.

He figures he and his wife—Miss Wright—can be in Brazil by the time the money is missed. There can be no extradition to the United States from Brazil.

The complete drama centers around a man on the run. He sets his plan in motion, barely missing capture at every turn. Suspense runs throughout the production. Miss Wright does not know her husband carries a million dollars in his suitcase. She thinks they are going on a week's trip to South America.

Emotional and romantic complications ensue when Miss Wright learns of her husband's plan. She discovers it as they are boarding the plane on the last leg of their journey to Brazil.

The conclusion of the movie only adds to the suspense, but it is also surprising. "The Steel Trap" of the title is a Los Angeles bank vault.

'Quiet Man' To Be At Terrace Starting Today

The story of a retired prize-fighter and his attempts to find peace and love will be shown at the Terrace Theatre tonight and Monday night.

"The Quiet Man" is the movie. John Wayne has the part of the fighter, and Maureen O'Hara is the girl whom he loves.

Barry Fitzgerald, Ward Bond, Victor McLaglen and Mildred Natwick head the cast of supporting actors.

Story opens with Wayne, a quiet man with an easy smile, arriving in Ireland and the city of his birth. He has retired from the American boxing circles.

He meets Fitzgerald, who is a marriage-broker and book-maker for the races. Through Fitzgerald, he meets Miss O'Hara, an "aging" spinster of 27 who supposedly has the fiercest temper in town.

McLaglen, Miss O'Hara's brother in the movie, refuses to let the two get married. So a fight ensues with McLaglen and Wayne slugging it out over field and meadow, stream and town.

Bond has the part of the village priest who isn't above a bit of conniving if it means promoting a little happiness. Miss Natwick plays a widow in love with McLaglen.

Fred MacMurray Stars In Adventure, Piracy Story

Piracy and adventure on the high seas is the theme of "Fair Wind to Java," the Thursday through Saturday selection at the Ritz. Starring Fred MacMurray and Vera Ralston, the Technicolor production has a large list of supporting actors.

Robert Douglas, Victor McLaglen, John Russell, Buddy Baer, Claude Jarman Jr., and Grant Withers have top parts.

The story revolves around MacMurray's trading operations as skipper of a ship out of Boston. His activities bring him into association with a half-caste girl, Miss Ralston.

The girl puts him on the trail of a cache of diamonds which is supposed to be huge. Douglas, a pirate, is also after the diamonds. The two race for the spoils.

MacMurray is hindered by a mutiny led by his first mate, Russell. After the mutiny, everyone is captured by the pirates. It is then discovered that Douglas is a respected Boston merchant as well as being a pirate. In addition to diamonds, Douglas has his eyes on Miss Ralston.

An escape follows, and the climax comes when both ships race for the diamonds and a South Seas volcano erupts, causing a tidal wave.

McLaglen eventually becomes MacMurray's first mate. Baer plays the giant Chinese bodyguard of Douglas.

The two finally renounce all wealth for a life together. First, however, they outsmart the blackmailers.

'Scarlet Angel' Plays At Jet

Romance is mixed with adventure when Rock Hudson and Yvonne De Carlo team up in "Scarlet Angel." The movie is scheduled at the Jet tonight and Monday night.

The Technicolor movie concerns life on the West Coast during the days right after the Civil War. Miss De Carlo plays a dance-hall gal turned respectable, and Hudson has the part of a ship captain. Hudson starts chasing Miss De Carlo right after the story opens. Reason for the chase is that Miss De Carlo "rolls" him of all his money.

She uses the money to crash society, but Hudson finds her. He threatens to blackmail her if she does not pay off. However, when he finds that some others are blackmailing her, he changes sides.

The two finally renounce all wealth for a life together. First, however, they outsmart the blackmailers.

Improved Auto Body Styles By Fisher May Be Seen In Exhibit

Fisher Body engineers believe that for 1953 they have produced a series of body styles for General Motors five passenger cars which represent a new peak in safety, durability, comfort and beauty. Each of them exemplifies the skilled craftsmanship of a tradition that is more than 40 years old. From major improvements to the many smaller auxiliary items, Body by Fisher for 1953 will add much to the pleasure of driving a new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick or Cadillac.

The major improvements as developed in this craft will be shown to Texans when the General Motors Motorama will be in Dallas

May 15 through 24. This will be a major exhibit of all improvements and research projects in the General Motors lines. From drawing board conception to the finished product, these 1953 designs have been tested and re-tested, checked and re-checked, for Fisher is now stressing more than ever before the importance of careful research in each new development in automobile body styles. As a result, experimental models are subjected to every imaginable stress and strain before going into actual production. In one typical test, conducted by Fisher Body engineers at the Experimental and Development Section in Detroit, an automobile body is bolted to a torsion device called the "shake rig." While the front end of the car is held rigid, the rear is oscillated to simulate the twisting motion encountered on the road. This machine is used to test body strength and flexibility, for modern body construction is closely allied with chassis design. In another test, used to measure stiffness, probable maximum passenger loads are placed in the front and rear seats, and the amount of bending or deflection is measured at all points along the length of the car. The checking of body sealing is a representative year around research project. At the Proving Ground, experimental models are driven through a 1,000-foot "bathtub" of water at 60 miles an hour; then checked minutely by engineers for signs of water inside the body. In another "four minute" sealing test, designed to duplicate road conditions encountered at high speeds, high pressure jets dash 500 gallons of water at the body from all directions. A comparable water test is used in all Fisher Body plants to check the sealing of each body coming off the assembly line. A "dust test" is also used by Experimental and Development to check body sealing. Powdered chalk dust is blown into a specially constructed chamber. A suction hose creates a partial vacuum inside the car to draw the chalk in through any openings. Apertures smaller than a pin can be revealed by this means. Information used in the study of road noise is obtained in a laboratory set-up which duplicates car speeds up to 70 miles an hour. Front or rear wheels of the car to be tested are placed between revolving rollers that may be interchanged to simulate different road surfaces. A record of the road noise is then transcribed on a tape recorder, and evaluated by Fisher Body engineers to check the efficiency of various sound absorbing materials. Riding comfort, a top priority in all General Motors cars with Body by Fisher, is another subject of constant research. Among the testing devices recently developed for this purpose is a delicate vibration meter, so sensitive that it can measure a person's heart-beat. Theoretically, when a pin drops, the earth moves a little to meet it, but because the earth is so much bigger than the pin, the movement of the earth is so small it cannot be measured.

Freedom Crusade Committee For Texas Selected

A state executive committee to direct the Texas Crusade for Freedom has been completed by E. M. (Ted) Dealey of Dallas, state campaign chairman. A number of West Texans are on the committee. The Crusade is being held throughout Texas during May and June. Its goal is $250,000, which will be used to build "Texas' own" radio transmitter in Europe to broadcast the truth to enslaved people behind the Iron Curtain. The Texas station will become a weapon in the fight which Radio Free Europe is waging against Communism. The executive committee in-

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
By Harold R. Foster

Synopsis: ALL BRITAIN WAITED IN DREAD AS THE SAXON INVADERS SWARMED ASHORE IN CORNWALL AIDED BY THE FIVE CELTIC KINGS, THEY GATHERED THEIR STRENGTH UNOPPOSED. THEN A RAGGED MINSTREL APPEARED AMONGST THEM AND SOWED THE SEEDS OF DISTRUST SO WELL THAT THE SAXONS TURNED UPON THEIR ALLIES AND SLEW ONE OF THE KINGS!

"AND NOW, SIRE," CONCLUDES VAL, "THE REMAINING KINGS HAVE THE CHOICE OF FIGHTING ON OUR SIDE OR WEARING THE SAXON'S CHAINS!"

"NOW THAT THE SAXON MUST CONQUER CORNWALL, HE WILL PROBABLY MAKE RESTORMEL HIS STRONG POINT AND WINTER HIS GREAT FLEET OF SHIPS IN FOWEY BAY. IF I PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY, I WOULD LIKE TO DESTROY THAT FLEET!" "OH, FRAY DEE!" ANSWERS THE KING CARELESSLY, "IT WILL KEEP YOU OUT OF MY CHIEF FOR A WHILE."

EVEN AS VAL PREDICTED, THE SAXONS STRENGTHEN RESTORMEL, DEEPENING THE DITCH AND BUILDING THE LATTER WORKS WITH A WALL OF STONE.

AND THE CELTIC KINGS COME TO TINTAGEL TO JOIN FORCES WITH ARTHUR, AND AVOID THE DOOM THAT THREATENS THEM.

AN OMINOUS QUIET SETTLES OVER CORNWALL AS EACH SIDE PREPARES FOR A LIFE-AND-DEATH STRUGGLE... AND VAL'S STRANGE FLEET CREEPS UP THE COAST TO GATHER IN THE SHELTER OF TACMOUTH BAY.

AT LAST THE SAXON IS ON THE MARCH. HORN'S SIGNAL FROM HILL TO HILL AND SWIFT MESSENGERS SPEED OUT FROM TINTAGEL TO SET THE BATTLE PLANS IN MOTION.

NEXT WEEK - The Fire Ships.

"WON'T BE LONG NOW," CREEL MURNURED AS THE WATER ROSE HIGHER-- BUT TARZAN DID NOT WASTE TIME IN LAMENT. HE SWAM DOWNWARD, SEARCHING FOR SOME WAY--

AND THEN HE MADE AN INCREDIBLE DISCOVERY. THERE WAS A GRATING IN THE BOTTOM, A DRAIN! STRAINING, TUGGING, HE LIFTED IT FREE--

AND NOW QUICKLY, HE SLAMMED IT AGAINST THE SIDE. WATER IMPEDED HIS EFFORTS, BUT NOT ENOUGH TO PREVENT HIM FROM CRACKING THE GLASS!

SOON THE WEAKENED GLASS COLLAPSED FROM INWARD WATER PRESSURE, SHATTERING THE TANK! CHAOS ENGUEED AS THE ROOM FLOODED, SWAMPING THE OCCUPANTS!
