Witherspoon Hits Farm Bill

James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary and legal representative of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association Inc., reported that he has contacted Congressman Paul Findley of Illinois regarding legislation he has introduced and explaining to him that "payments to the farmers are not a subsidy to the farmer but to the consumer."

Witherspoon has reference to the Farm Bureau bill "to displace existing farm programs on wheat, feed grains and cotton, and substitute a land retirement scheme" which was introduced into the U. S. House of Representatives on March 17 by Findley, the Farm Bureau's chief spokesman in the body. Reportedly the bill provides that beginning in 1971, acreage controls, base acreages, the processing tax on wheat and direct payments to wheat, feed grain and cotton producers will be phased out at the rate of 20 per cent per year until eliminated.

Produce Co. Burglarized

The Dick Barrett Produce Inc., located on East New York St. was reported burglarized Monday morning, according to Hereford Police Department.

Netting the theft a $60 Royal Typewriter and a woman's coat, the burglary occurred sometime during the previous night.

Entry to the building was unknown, according to authorities, and the office was entered by breaking out the glass on the door.

Concert Officers Elected

Officers headed by Bill Thompson as president were elected for Hereford Community Concert Association at the annual membership meeting Monday evening, when seven new directors were also named. The election launches a third season for the association in Hereford.

Bill Devers was elected first vice president, M. S. Joe Reinauer second vice president, Mrs. Tom Burdett secretary and Jeff Carlile treasurer.

Thompson and Devers were re-elected as directors, while Mrs. J. C. McCracken, Mrs. Wesley Gulley, Mrs. Albert Ricketts, Fred Howard and W. C. Russell were added to the board.

They will serve with hold-over directors, Mrs. Wayne Thomas, retiring president; Mrs. C. T. Guseman, Mrs. Ed Line, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Lynton Allred, Mrs. Burdett and Carlile.

The Concert Association, affiliated with the nationwide Community Concerts, brings at least three programs by nationally noted artists to its members each year. Concerts are open only to members, and new members are enrolled only during one week each year.

The membership campaign for the 1969-70 season will be conducted during a week early in the fall. Two attractions have already been booked for the season, and one or perhaps two will be added at the close of the membership enrollment.

Assured by early booking are concerts by the two-piano team of Ferrante and Teicher, and by a company of musicians and dancers from Mexico who present entertainment with the blended Indian and Spanish flavor characteristic of that country.

Beginning in the 1971 crop year, loan rates on wheat, feed grains, cotton and soy beans would be set at not more than 85 per cent of the previous three-year average prices. The cost of wheat certificates to processors would be lowered to 80 per cent of the 1969 level in 1971, 60 per cent in 1972, 40 per cent in 1973, 20 per cent in 1974, and none in 1975.

Land retirement would be on a competitive bid basis at the rate of ten million acres per year for each of the years 1971 through 1975 with emphasis on retiring entire farms.

Witherspoon has written Findley that "the so-called subsidy payments under the farm program are, in fact, a subsidy to the consumer who purchases the food and fiber grown by the American farmer. It is not a farm subsidy when it does no more than barely keep the farmer—large or small—from facing bankruptcy or going out of business. It affords the consumer a cheap source of supply of food and fiber."

He felt Findley's legislation could have results opposite to what the Congressmen contemplates.

Witherspoon has asked, "Have you considered and do you have the figures of government expenditures for the free school lunches for school children, all charged to the farm agriculture program, as well as the many other consumer expenditures and foreign aid projects which go through the agriculture program, that are not payments to the farm producer?"

"However, the consuming public criticizes the farmer because they follow the critics who know better or should know better, but are interested more in advancing their political future by ignoring the actual facts."

Witherspoon asked that Rep. Findley consider the spread of prices received by the farmer against the cost of labor, taxes, interest and machinery. "On a comparative basis, this spread has been going downward for farm produce while going upward for everything the farm producer buys. Consider there was a time when farm produce was near a parity with other manufactured products and the farmer then (1947-49) received $2.50 for his wheat per bushel. In 1968 the price to the farmer was $1.23 per bushel."

He explained that the farmer has relatively few buyers to sell to, and that farmers compete with each other on this market.

"It is the opinion of many who understand the real situation," Witherspoon stated, "that it is a short-sighted view for this uninformed judgment to lead our country into a situation that will further cripple or even destroy."

At Monday Night Meeting

City Discusses Purchase Of Fire-Fighting Equipment

Discussion concerning bids for a new fire truck was the main item on the agenda Monday night at the regular meeting of the Hereford city council. This was the first official meeting for newly elected Mayor Jim Sears and councilmen Troys Carmichael and Don Baugous. Holdover commissioners at the meeting were Roland Barton and W. B. Dowell.

Although action on the proposed new fire-fighting equipment fire truck was tabled pending the return to the city of Fire Chief "Jap" Dickerson, bids of five companies were considered and discussed. Submitting bids were Howe Fire Apparatus Company, Anderson, Indiana; Boardman Company, Oklahoma City, Okla.; John Bean Fire Apparatus Company, Tipton, Indiana; Fire Apparatus Company of Texas, Wichita Falls, Texas and American La-France, Elmira, New York. Bids ranged from $26,900 to $32,587 with four of the companies submitting dual bids listing both a cab-over model truck and standard cab. Action on the bids should be taken at the next regular meeting of the council, pending review by Chief Dickerson.

In other action, the group also tabled bids on a new sprayer-duster for the city pending further investigation into the feasibility of repairing the old engine damaged in a fire at the city barn. City Manager Dudley Bayne reported to the council that workmen had taken the old engine apart and believed that it could be repaired, alleviating the necessity of purchasing a new engine. If the engine can be repaired, only a new sprayer will be needed, saving the city a considerable amount of money.

The council also approved a plat on 9.09 acres submitted by Paul Schroeter, located in the South Heights addition of Hereford, and upheld the ruling of the zoning commission by rejecting a petition for rezoning of property requested by A. Peterson, and approved the rezoning of a portion of the area in the Thunderbird addition.

The council tabled action on the naming of a replacement for Jim Sears on the Zoning Commission as well as the naming of two new members to the Board of Adjustments. Sears resigned from the Zoning Commission upon being elected mayor.

School Board Okays Program

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

After three newly-elected trustees were qualified and new officers were recognized Tuesday night, the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees approved a bilingual program, reported on a message from the Texas Education Agency regarding the four controversial 72-passenger buses, and heard a resolution pertaining to the taxing of cattle on feedlots made by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

County Clerk B. F. Cain, formerly a school board trustee for six years, officially swore in Olin Parris, Hugh Clearman and Lowell Sharp after their election to the posts here Saturday.

Elected president for the 1969-70 term by the seven trustees was Raymond C. White. Dr. A. T. Mills will serve as vice president and Ed Loerwald became secretary.

Bill Gentry, who left the board after serving in various offices for the past nine years, was presented a resolution in praise of his activities. Gentry remarked that it was Lowell Sharp who had first contacted him prior to his first election on the board encouraging him to become a trustee candidate. "Sharp is now replacing me here," he pointed out.

BILINGUAL CLASSES
In the absence of Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr., who is now on a tour of schools in the Scandinavian countries, Assistant Superintendent Roy Hartman reported that Central and Shirley elementary schools here have been selected by the PESO Education Service Center as two of the pilot schools for the Bilingual Program set to begin in September, subject to its final proposal being approved.

Concerning first graders at the two schools, the program is designed to teach Mexican-Americans the English language and Spanish to the Anglo. It entails a "cooperating teacher" who is to work with the regular teachers — as an outgrowth of programs developed during the past few years by the Texas Education Agency.

Upon discussion by the trustees, they agreed unanimously that it was a worthwhile project for both the Latin and Anglo student. Hartman said that a survey had been conducted which showed that Central first graders are approximately 90 per cent Latin and Shirley approximately 70 per cent. Out of seven units in the entire Panhandle (one each at Tulia, Hart and Friona and two in Amarillo), Hereford is to have two units. Moreover, a grant in the amount of $19,600 will be received for this program and teachers will be trained during the summer at West Texas State University for the project.

A report was given on the District 1-AAA contest held at Canyon on March 29 where Hereford gained third place. However, it was pointed out that only two points separated the local high school from first place (Muleshoe was first with 113 points, Canyon was second with 112, and Hereford received 111) and the school administration was well pleased with the results, from Hereford's first full team entrance in the contest for several years.

Trustees approved a letter of commendation for the teachers involved in the training of local contestants and instructed that copies be mailed to Mal Manchee, Kathryn Cope, Daisy Huntsinger, Floyd Payne, Pic Thompson, and Ann Warwick.

Assistant Superintendent Robert Holman reported on the projected changes in Social Studies courses, pending state and local text book approval, which will range over the next few years. Some of the changes in the offing includes teaching the subject in the elementary grades with an inter-disciplinary approach, beginning instruction on the U. S. Constitution in the seventh and eighth grades instead of high school, and the recommendation that post-Civil War history be emphasized with pre-Civil War history taught earlier.

Holman said that he had talked with the Texas Education Agency last week in regard to their acceptance of Government in place of World History. He said that they had approved it and that it would not disrupt the student's required credits toward graduation — that it would become interchangeable required either Government, American History or World History.

TRANSPORTATION
Administrators reported that they had received approval of the four 72-passenger buses which was in dispute last month here from the Texas Education Agency. However, there is still no guarantee that the buses will be delivered at the beginning of the semester in September.

JURORS SUMMONED
District Judge Archie McDonald reported that the petit jury should meet in the 69th Judicial Courtroom at the Deaf Smith County Court House at 9 a.m. today. He has issued a call for jury members to report.

Vote Is Light In County Bid

Totals of the vote in the Deaf Smith County School Board and Walcott School Trustees was light here Saturday, possibly due to the fact that there was no opposition officially for any candidate, other than write-ins.

In County Precinct 1, Robert Strain garnered 178 votes (16 from Dawn and 162 from Hereford) with Charles Weatherford, receiving one write-in vote.

In Precinct 2, there were three write-in votes (one each for Gary McQuigg, W. L. Davis Jr., and Kenneth Rudd), but candidate Grant Hanna received 140 votes.

In Precinct 4, L. J. Struffuss gained a total of 7 votes, with no write-ins.

On the Walcott board, Jim Monroe received 15 votes.

Board trustees tabled the signing of their approval of these buses during several meetings in March and finally sent the order back to Austin unsigned. They agreed that they had no responsibility toward the transportation arrangements in the Hereford Independent School District schools.

Coordinator of Special Services Tom Harkey told the trustees Tuesday night that the larger buses had safety features — such as an air brake system — that smaller buses do not have. He stated that it was his belief that the large buses were far less a

Holman States School Funds In Distress

Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees have been given information on possible legislation pertaining to school finances by assistant superintendent Robert Holman, who was in Austin last week during school legislation hearings. Holman said, "There is some talk going on among legislators and others relative to diverting the portion of the funds accruing to the permanent school fund in Texas, to be used for current expenses."

He continued, "The Governor and a number of legislators have indicated that they favor this since it would eliminate some of the need for new taxes. This poses a danger to public education in Texas, and should be strongly opposed by all people who are concerned with public education in the future."

"A great portion of the financial support for public education in Texas at the present time comes from taxable oil, gas, and mineral resources. Since these are depleting assets, we will not have this revenue forever. If the permanent school fund is allowed to remain as it is and continue to grow through the years, the income from this fund would hopefully offset loss of income from the depleted oil and gas reserves."

Holman stated that "school superintendents and boards of education in many of the school districts across the state are actively opposing this move. They are writing letters to legislators, the Governor, and the Education Committee. Many have formalized written resolutions opposing this action, and have forwarded copies to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, members of the Legislature from this area, and members of the various related committees."

Trustees indicated further discussion on issue at their next regular board meeting.

 danger than the problem of "overcrowding" students in them. His figures indicated that there are about 1,800 students who now ride the school buses which made an average of 68 students per bus. He also pointed out that 72-passenger buses will not seat that number of students. Although the buses are operated by the Hereford schools, Harley said, they are not actually local property. The size of the buses is recommended by TEA and they must approve all routes in Austin. Local schools must make a report which might involve any changes. School enrollment shows that there are now 4,870 pupils (including pre-schoolers) in the schools here — an increase of 35 over the past month. It was also shown that this is the first upturn in enrollment for this period of the year since 1964. Trustees approved the election of teachers Billie L. Birdwell, William H. Birdwell, John Claypool, Bobby Graves, James L. Holmes, Kathryn L. Holmes, Doris M. Hoke, Janet R. Stevick, Sandra Schmidt, Opal Landtroop, and Joyce M. Sellers. Resignations were accepted from Fred E. Mercer Jr., Sammie K. Caffey, Lu Sherman, Camellia Cassada, Lester Payne, Carolyn Robbins, Lou Ann Witkowski, Lynn McLarty, James H. Bradley, Imogene Anderson, and P. M. Miller Jr.

TAX OFFICE
 School Tax Assessor-Collector Orpha Click reported that "we are in real good shape in the collections." He said that comparing this year's totals with last year's averages, "we are up to July."

Click said that he had received a letter from the Texas Cattle Feeders Association Executive Secretary Lloyd J. Bergsma following a joint meeting last week for a discussion of the state law pertaining to tax on cattle.

Bergsma's letter indicated that the association's executive committee had approved a resolution "that commercial feedyards give full cooperation to tax assessors and collectors in the rendition of cattle held in the feedyard. It is suggested that the commercial feedyard provide customers information regarding cattle valuations and tax levies in the taxing units involved. It is also suggested that the commercial feedyards make available to customers authorized forms which, when signed, authorizes the 100 per cent number rendition of all cattle owned by the customers in the feedyard."

Click stated that he felt this was an important step forward in the greatly misunderstood state tax law regarding the cattle.

Trustees will attend a School Board Workshop at Canyon on May 10, they reported. One of the speakers announced is Dick Foster, superintendent of schools at Berkeley, Calif.

Due to the dates of the Conference on New Innovations in Education in May which will conflict with the local board meeting date, trustees agreed to change their next meeting to Monday, May 12, at 8:30 p. m. in the board room.

A motion was passed after long discussion "to dispose of the old football stadium bleachers as the administrators see fit." It was pointed out that this could mean "move, sell or use."

Action on the old bleachers must be taken as soon as possible, the trustees pointed out, to make way for construction of the new stadium. Starting dates on the stadium and new elementary school construction have not as yet been received from contractors, it was announced.

FOOTBALL SATURDAY
 Ex-Alumni spring football training is scheduled at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at West Texas State University in Canyon, which will include such Hereford players as John David Bryant and Ricky Fangman.

Also expected to appear is Mercury Morris.

 the agriculture system as we have known it. The consumer can only be the loser when the American farmer has to pass the production of food and fiber to large corporations."

Witherspoon also pointed out that "our present policy of administering a parity program to farmers is so far ahead of the practice of those countries where production is undertaken by the government itself that there is no comparison. Food must be produced. We cannot import our food."

He has called upon Rep. Findley to consult other Congressmen — from agriculture districts — and gain a picture of "the real condition."

CAP To Meet In Conference

Nearly 200 planes are expected to land at Greater Southwest, Arlington and Grand Prairie Airports as an Air Mobility Exercise is held in conjunction with the annual Civil Air Patrol Southwest Region Conference. Hereford CAP members are making plans to attend. Conference proceedings will be held at The Inn of The Six Flags in Arlington, over the weekend with Colonel Claude L. Chambers, CAP Southwest Region Commander, presiding and Texas the host wing, Bill Thompson reported.

The Southwest Region is composed of Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. The Continental Air Command has recently requested major commands of the United States Air Force to indicate what assistance they would require from Civil Air Patrol in event of a National emergency. It is felt that in all probability airlift courier service, bomb assessment, surveillance of various areas and similar tasks will be assigned to CAP. The conduct of air mobility exercises will assist in determining what airlift support CAP will be able to provide in the event of an emergency.

All Wings within the Southwest Region will participate to the maximum extent possible as a test of the airlift capability of the Southwest Region.

Maximum realism will be stressed in this simulated mission. Crews will be debriefed upon arrival at one of the airposts and are expected to arrive prior to sundown Friday. All air crews will be backed by alternates to insure that aircraft will move and seats will be filled.

It is necessary to limit the number of aircraft participating in order to leave adequate air capabilities throughout the region in case an actual search should become necessary and requested by the Central Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center located at Richard-Gabauer AFB, Missouri.

Civil Air Patrol communications have been established at each of the airports being used for landing by Group 4 personnel in the Arlington-Irving-Oak Cliff area.

Air crews will be graded on completion of crew assignments en route as specifically assigned, effectiveness of pre-mission planning, promptness of reporting, flying safety, passenger miles flown, per cent of corporate-owned and member-owned aircraft utilized and airlift potential utilized.

Major General Walter B. Putnam, USAF, National Commander, and members of his staff are expected to arrive from Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. Colonel Luther C. Bogard, CAP Commander of the Texas Wing, advises that at least 60 Texas aircraft will participate in the Air Mobility Exercise. He reminds "all personnel concerned that the reputation and performance record of the Texas Wing, which is the highest in the Southwest Region and 3rd in the Nation, is on the line." He expects the assigned mission to be carried out.

Rogers Gets Insurance Certificate

BRYN MAWR, PA. Ken R. Rogers was one of 647 persons awarded the Insurance Institute of America Certificate in General Insurance as a result of the Institute's December, 1968 examinations. The Certificate in General Insurance is granted to persons who have completed a three-semester study program and three national examinations in property and liability insurance.

Rogers, partner in the Lone Star Agency, has lived in Hereford for the past 4½ years. Prior to that time he worked as a special agent for one of the leading insurance companies in Texas. Ken has been active in the insurance profession since graduation from Baylor University in 1961. He lives at 218 Centre St. with his wife Lucy and their two children, Melinda and Blair.

The Insurance Institute of America is a nationally recognized nonprofit educational organization supported by the insurance industry. IIA courses are widely used by insurance company personnel and are the authorized study programs of the nation's leading agent, adjuster and insurance broker organizations.

Serving America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty

By MELVIN YOUNG

Gerald Martin, the flying, crop-dusting, movie star, guitar player, etc. is also a pretty fair singer it seems. Gerald has recently returned from a brood where he participated in the filming of the movie, "The Battle of Britain" and has been showing slides to civic and veterans groups around the area. We might suggest that you ask him to play and sing also. You'll enjoy listening.

—HB—

Now we've heard of everything. Up at Ocean City, Md., the local police have trained dogs to sniff out marijuana. The Ocean City police chief has demonstrated the results of preliminary training with a selected 15-month-old German Sheppard who goes by the name of Poncho.

The dog was selected for high intelligence and a good sense of smell, and already has developed the ability to root out hidden parcels of the drug. The chief started day-by-day training by placing a parcel of marijuana under the dog's nose. Poncho now can "course" in room, much in the manner that a bird dog will course a field for quail, and find a "bag" previously hidden there.

Dogs such as Poncho can be used to detect hidden parcels of drugs in motel rooms where police may not be able to find them and we understand there is the possibility that they can use them in crowds.

Now how about that!!

—HB—

Noticed that the Boy Scouts have completed their dam on Tierra Blanca Creek. The Veterans organizations gave the Scouts some 20 acres of land last year to be used for whatever the Scouts need, and it appears that the first order of business has been to construct a concrete dam. The boys have also cleaned up the grounds and really have things ship-shape. Congratulations.

—HB—

It has been suggested a number of times, that small, low-water dams be located along the creek. There was some excellent fishing at one time in Tierra Blanca. With two or three dams such as the Scouts have constructed located down through the park, it would be possible to again have a fine fishing hole for the youngsters. That is, if it ever rains again.

—HB—

And the Virden (Man.) Empire-Advance says: Litterbugs rank as one of the leading pests. It is a pity that science has not come up with some sort of pesticide to eliminate, or at least control them.

—HB—

And speaking of litter, it has been particularly bad lately and it would appear that the patrons of some of our drive-ins could help a lot by putting their trash in the proper receptacles rather than throwing it on the street. Hereford has always been a clean town — let's keep it that way.

Ag Products On Display In Orient

AUSTIN, Texas — Texas agricultural products will be displayed throughout the Orient during a month-long market-searching sweep by two development specialists, State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced Tuesday.

Walter Meyer, marketing specialist with the Texas Department of Agriculture, and special consultant Bill Nelson will leave Friday for Tokyo, Japan, to exhibit Texas products in the International Trade Fair in an effort to improve marketing with the Far East.

White said all products will be promoted, but special exhibits of Texas grain-fed beef, poultry and poultry products and Ruby Red Grapefruit are scheduled. He said it will mark the first showing for the Ruby Reds in Japan.

The two specialists will appear at the trade show for nine days and then move their marketing efforts to Australia, Taiwan, Thailand and Hong Kong, returning to Texas on May 13.

"This marks the start of a new stage in our TAP program," White said in announcing the trip. "We have been very successful in the domestic market in promoting our Texas Agricultural Products and feel we can improve results in foreign markets.

"Japan is already the largest market Texas has for grain sorghum and cotton," White said. "There is no reason we can't expand that market to other Texas products."

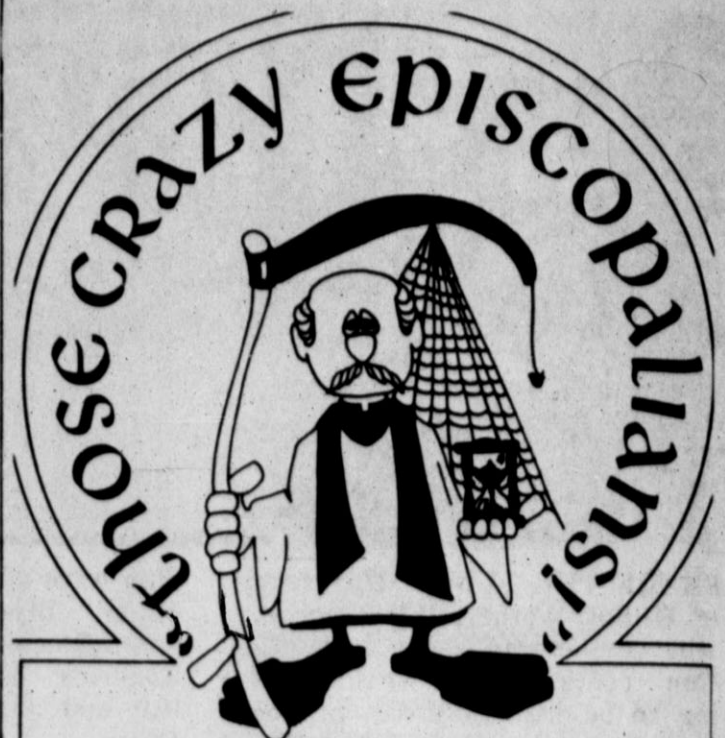

Meyer and Nelson will stop off in Alaska enroute to Japan to promote grapefruit and products that can not be grown in the far North area.

"Alaska can be a two-way street for marketing," White said. "Our growing times are different and each state has products with demand in the other." Meyer has had expensive experience in market development in Texas products in Europe, having introduced different Texas beef, Ruby Red Grapefruit, onions and other agricultural export items to that area.

Nelson has spent 12 years in developing foreign markets, working in 28 countries in promotion of Texas agriculture. He is presently with Geoponics International Corp. of Amarillo after serving with Grain Sorghum Producers Association for more than a decade.

ARE they LIVING in the past?

Outwardly, Episcopalians are pretty steeped in tradition. But in their relations with the world about them, they're a "today" sort of bunch.

They're usually among the first to address a compassionate ministry to "people problems" wherever those problems crop up.

Take alcoholism. It's no accident that one of the founders of Alcoholics Anonymous was a sympathetic Episcopal minister, Sam Shoemaker... and some folks, today, make jokes about "Whiskeypalians."

It's true that this denomination is a bit more tolerant than some. They nourish a strange belief in guidelines — not straight-jackets — for a Christian life. They're not interested in condemning... but in helping people.

It isn't really a new idea. Just a timely one.

Episcopalians believe they have good reasons for many of their views. Maybe some of the reasons would make sense to you, too. It costs you nothing to contact the nearest Episcopal minister and find out. He won't even twist your arm.

Tea Celebrates Club Birthday

Several hundred callers congratulated Pioneer Study Club members on the 60th anniversary of their organization, one of the oldest women's groups in the city, at a birthday tea in Community Center ballroom Tuesday afternoon.

Wearing costumes of pioneer days, some of them authentic dresses worn during the period of the club's formation, the members greeted guests from other women's clubs whom they had invited for the anniversary celebration.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough, chairman of tea arrangements, received callers at the door. In the receiving line were Mrs. Delmar Sigle, club president; Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, the only charter member still active in the club; Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, president of the Top of Texas District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Also past presidents of the district Federation, with which Pioneer Club has been affiliated since 1910: Mrs. Raymond Harrah of Pampa, Mrs. Robert R. Lindsay of Borger, Mrs. R. T. Lindsay of Canyon and Mrs. H. P. Munday of Shamrock.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. poured tea the first hour at opposite ends of a long table, and were followed in turn by Mrs. Ray L. Johnson and Mrs. Art Manjeot. All are past presidents of the club.

Club colors, purple and white, appeared in the central table decoration, a tall pyramid of carnations, hyacinths and Dutch iris. The cloth was sheer white, reaching to the floor, bordered with applique scrolls and a center front applique of the figure 60.

Bouquets of daffodils and Easter lilies were placed on tables around the room. Mmes. W. C. Hromas, R. L. Wilson, Manjeot and Hill were on the decorations committee.

Assisting in serving were Mmes. Ted Panciera, J. V. Pickens, John Patton, Herman Ford, Mary Seigler, Frank Ball, N. E. Gass, C. L. Craig, P. B. Sowell, Paul Rudd, William Wimberley and Miss Roberta Campbell.

Guests were registered by Mmes. Bess Werner, Burl France, Allen Bell and E. S. Ireland. Mmes. Henry Hastings, Wirt Phillips and M. L. Simpson were in charge of a display of club yearbooks and scrapbooks, while Mmes.

Fred Barrett, H. E. Miller, Bob Hammon, B. E. Brumley and Frank Ball arranged a table with pictures of club members as children.

Mrs. Johnson introduced program guests who presented musical selections at intervals during the afternoon. Mrs. R. C. Godwin sang, with Mrs. J. C. McCracken as piano accompanist. Larry Kuper played guitar accompaniment as he and Randy Martin sang duets. The Spiritual Swingers, religious singing group, presented several songs.

Announcement was made of cash gifts from L'Allegre, Lone Star Study, Summerfield Study and Hereford Garden Clubs to a fund for purchase of a marker at Mothers Park, the park established as Pioneer Club's first community project and still maintained by the club.

Congratulatory letters, cards and telegrams from many cities were on display. Out-of-city guests included Mrs. Sam Adams of Wellington, district TFWC treasurer; Mrs. George Benson of Clarendon, Mrs. Harold Clouse of Lubbock, Mrs. James Murphy White of Canyon and Mrs. P. C. Andrew of Richmond, Mo.

Cancer Group Sets Drive

Deaf Smith County will participate in the American Cancer Society's Five-Year Educational Survey held in conjunction with the annual residential Crusade here Monday evening. "We are pleased to be a part of this state-wide educational survey," Herman Ford, Crusade Chairman for the Deaf Smith County Unit said. "This is the third year the Society has conducted the survey in Texas." Ford said, "ACS residential crusaders have been asked to request each household — preferably both husband and wife in each home — to answer a brief questionnaire. The confidential questionnaire, without any name or identifying mark, may be mailed in a return envelope provided by the Society. The questionnaire, including eight questions for women and six for men, asks such questions as 'Did you have a complete physical examination in the past year?' and 'Did you stop smoking?' Answers to these questions will help the ACS evaluate and plan educational programs more effectively. John David Bryant, Chairman of the County Educational Unit said, "We must reach more people with our educational messages, and we must determine which messages are really changing people's health habits. I urge full cooperation by our citizens to help the American Cancer Society complete this important survey."

Price And Yarborough In Tribute To Eisenhower

As a final tribute to Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Nixon compared the General with George Washington. Mr. Nixon said that President Eisenhower was "a great leader, a great friend, and a great man."

The Washington press was more than generous to a man to whom the news media had not always been friendly during his two terms as President.

An interview on the occasion of General Eisenhower's 75th birthday by White House reporter Merriman Smith had not been published before his death. His words as recorded on that occasion offer a further insight into the true measure of a great man. Following are excerpts from that interview:

"I look at sort of three classes of people. Some people are so complacent or so stand-patish that they don't admit there are any real social problems in the country. They just say well, we're sitting pretty, now let it alone. Well, those people I just think are stupid.

"Now there's other people that see everything as wrong. Oh, no matter whether you're pretty contented, they'll come along and make you think you're not contented — you're just not doing as well as you could — and so they'll do something for you and they'll do it in Washington; use all of Washington's money, power, moral and social leadership that you can muster. That, I think, is finally the negation of self-government.

"Now, I like to see people admit the problem, recognize the problem, and then try to figure something out in accordance with what we like to think have been the great virtues... the individual self-reliance, self-dependence, a man with a considerable patriotism and dedication. And out of that, with that feeling, take a look at this problem and see what is a good way to do it.

"Now this is — I don't care whether you call people right, left, center of the road, or what — but I get annoyed at these people who think the word compromise as being a weak word.

"Compromise except in the two fields, only, of morals and of exact science, is necessary in every human action, even in the individual. Maybe you'd like to wear 750 suits. Well, you say now let's see what my income is and whether I can afford 750 suits. Life is constantly making a compromise... there has to be compromise in order to get progress.

"So I believe that rather than classify people we should say that every possibility of solving a problem that falls within the limits of common sense — they should be tried out, and I don't care whether I'm called a liberal, a conservative, or anything else. Now this is what I try to preach and teach and talk.

"And what I believe is this: I still have a tremendous confidence and belief in my country. Just remember this one thing: No matter what we try to do in the world there is only one place from which you can do it — a firm, sound base. That firm, sound base is the strength of the United States. And, the United States' strength is not just its military might, indeed it's not just its economic might, it's also its principal or its moral might.

"Now I'd like to think that we live by such words as decency and fairness and, well, you might say realization that each of us is a member of the proudest nation in the world and then act that way.

"I believe that we've got to think a little bit more about good citizenship."

BOB PRICE
Member of Congress

This has been a sad week for the nation. The death of Dwight David Eisenhower, one of the most beloved leaders in our country's history, touched us all. No leader in modern times has been so universally loved and respected as was Dwight Eisenhower. People may have disagreed with him at times, but this did not dim their affection for him.

Like many of my fellow Texans, I had the privilege, honor and duty to serve under General Eisenhower in the Crusade in Europe in World War II. I was a staff officer of the 97th Infantry Division in that war, through France and through Germany; we were advancing in Czechoslovakia on the road to Pilsen when V. E. Day came and the mightiest army ever assembled stilled its guns. That was the Liberation Army commanded by Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Dwight Eisenhower was a man of all the nation, but he had close ties with two states — Texas, where he was born, and Kansas, where he spent most of his boyhood.

President Eisenhower was born in Denison in Grayson County Texas on October 14, 1890. He left at the age of two, but he never forgot his Texas birthplace. The Eisenhower home in Denison had been designated the Eisenhower Birthplace State Park, and President Eisenhower had visited it.

Dwight Eisenhower had another reason for having fond memories of Texas. It was while he was stationed at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio as a young lieutenant that he met Mamie Geneva Doud who was to become his wife. In Texas he wooed and won her. In Texas he fell in love with his future wife. He never forgot Texas, and Texas will never forget him.

While President Eisenhower had reasons to remember

Texas, Texans had many, many more reasons to remember Eisenhower. Just a few years after leading the Allied Forces to victory in Europe in World War II President Eisenhower went back to Europe to build the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Texans remember that these forces preserved an uneasy peace without the world having to fight a third world war.

Texans are also thankful for President Eisenhower as an elected President using the power of that office to help bring about a settlement to the war in Korea. As President, Eisenhower resisted attempts by others to get us engaged in a massive land war in Asia.

President Eisenhower was a general at war, but a man of peace. He wanted to end wars and to prevent wars. All Americans have a special place in their hearts for President Eisenhower. This special place was earned not just by the deeds of the man, but by the character of the man. President Eisenhower left his imprint on history and in the hearts of his fellow man.

As a representative of you, the people of Texas and of the United States Senate, in my official capacity, I attended the State Ceremony in the U. S. Capitol where President Nixon spoke on Sunday, March 30, and I attended the Great State Funeral in the National Cathedral on Monday, March 31. Now he rests.

—Small Talk—

Spring holidays in schools and colleges brought guests to many Hereford homes, or took residents away on visits for the Easter weekend.

THERE WERE numerous family reunions but not many boasted guests from so far away as Thailand, the home of one visitor at a Bezner family gathering Sunday.

The Bezners are accustomed to getting the family together often they try to make it at least three times a year, but they aren't accustomed, either, to someone from Thailand dropping in.

Their faraway guest didn't literally come all the way from his home city of Bangkok for this occasion; he is a classmate of Mike Betzen at the University of Dallas and came up with him for the weekend. His name is Rong Petron.

ANOTHER OF Mike's friends, a former schoolmate in New York, was in the crowd, too. He is Jim Duran of Lebanon, N. J.

The Frank Bezners and their children were hosts for this reunion, which followed a family pattern of dinner, then games and visiting.

Those present included the Gene Fangman family of Vega, Mrs. Lynn Crabtree and family of Canyon, the Teddy Fangmans and son of Black.

From the Hereford neighborhood were the Ed Bezners and daughters, the Jim Marnells and sons and the families of S. A. Fangman, Mike Betzen, Jimmy Fangman, Walter Paetzold, Arnold Fangman, Melvin Kalka and Jim Paetzold; also Charles Fangman and Ron Matthews.

be staged April 22-26 and April 29-May 3, with reservations now available.

It is especially interesting here on two counts — Hereford students are in the cast, Joe Ella Cansler in the leading role of Laurey and Kenneth Eastman one of the singers; also this is the same musical which the high school chorus and band later presented here and comparisons are in order.

THE RECITALS may not be of so wide an interest, but for those who like them, for the remainder of this month they are scheduled like this:

Next Sunday at 4 p. m., senior recital in piano by Johnlyn Mitchell.

Apr. 21, at 4 p. m., senior recital in voice by Wayne White in Room 201.

Sunday, Apr. 27 at 2 p. m., faculty piano trio.

Apr. 28, 4 p. m., senior recital by Rick Smith, oboe, and Carl Williams, saxophone.

Apr. 28, 8:15 p. m., faculty recital by Brian Walton, cello.

Apr. 19, 4 p. m., senior recital by Kathy Greenley, string bass.

All programs are held in the theater of the Fine Arts Building except where noted.

MEET POSTPONED

Principal Charles Duvall reported that the Northwest Elementary School PTO meeting scheduled next week has been postponed due to his being out of the city at the National Elementary Principals' Meeting.

Duvall said that the PTO meeting date is to be announced later.

Volley Ball Party Slated For YHT-YFT

A volley ball party sponsored by the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, is scheduled at 7 p. m. Saturday evening in the Little Bull Barn, to include the Young Farmers of Texas chapter.

Members of the two organizations, with their respective husbands and wives are invited for the evening of games. They may also invite friends as guests.

Local Men Define "Love" As Following "Brotherly"

By EARL MOSELEY / Staff Writer

The "love" portion of "brotherly love" was raised as a question prior to and since the feature survey "Brotherly Love.?" appeared on the front page of the Easter Sunday Brand.

Pointed out was the sad fact that "love" has become interpreted (or misinterpreted, as the case may be) from recent national quotes through demonstrations by groups known as hippies, flower children, and various love-in incidences.

Clear was the purpose of Sunday's story. Several Hereford people replied through interview that "brotherly love" — found in the Bible — is not being practiced as it should be and "what better day to revitalize this movement than on the day of celebration of Christ's resurrection — Easter."

But the puzzle remained as to whether people — mainly the younger ones — actually know what "brotherly love" means?

On the face of this puzzle, the Brand conducted additional interviews on the subject in order to clarify the meaning. And it was discovered that the persons picked at random to be questioned had no immediate answer — all had to give it several moments' thought.

Webster's New International Dictionary, it was explained to them, defines "brotherly" as an adjective "of or pertaining to brothers; natural for brothers; becoming to brothers; kind; affectionate; as, brotherly love."

They were then told: "However, the word 'love' has taken on many definitions and forms, and cannot be clearly defined in some quarters now."

Then the question: "Therefore, what is your definition of 'brotherly love'?"

District Scout Executive George Ochs considered it and replied, "In the Boy Scout oath it says to help other people at all times. Brotherly love is exemplified in the Scout oath."

KPAN's Don Chaney, who is vice president of the Hereford Lions Club and connected with the Big Brothers of America, said, "When I think of brotherly love, I think of respect — or love that you would have for a blood relation brother. There is nothing complicated about brotherly love — there is nothing complicated about love. The Modern Generation has changed the meaning somewhat — but just because it has been used wrong a few times does not change the actual meaning. Check the Bible for the true meaning when in doubt."

Ira W. Ott, a retired farmer is described as very active in veteran affairs. These include visits to hospitals and homes for personal contact with its patients almost weekly without fail over a long period of time. He answered that he wasn't sure he could define brotherly love. "I imagine it means 'love thy neighbor'."

Ott, who is a World War I veteran of the famed Lafayette Escadrille, was questioned on the prospect that visiting the sick constituted brotherly love? "It's a rewarding experience, I know that. But I thought I was supposed to do that."

Last month the Brand published a story under the headline "Student Love Teacher? Important, Holman Says" — which pointed out that love and respect for a teacher often motivates the student's future life. Therefore, assistant superintendent Robert Holman was approached for his definition of brotherly love.

"My definition of brotherly love is more or less a Christian approach, in that it means deep concern of one person to his fellowman," Holman answered. "To me, it involves deep respect and a concern for his brother's welfare. The greatest exemplification of this would be our donations to individuals in times of need — Christmas baskets, toys for children, sitting up with a sick person or his family. That is what I call brotherly love. It is the same with the connection of teacher and student-love through respect."

Roy Hartman, also an assistant superintendent of the Hereford schools, recently returned from the National School Principals Association meeting which was held at San Francisco — a city described as the melting pot of the hippie movement. On this occasion, he reported that he saw issues of the hippie movement's underground press and found them to be "complete filth."

Hartman said, "Brotherly love is a feeling of kindness, a feeling of empathy, a feeling of concern toward your fellowman."

After viewing the hippie's published ideals toward love, Hartman was asked if he believed their approach was correct?

"It certainly is not!" Hartman stated. "They have their definition of love. But it is not really a true feeling of concern. Perhaps they do have concern — but a different kind. Their concern is more of an immoral nature. They have twisted love to make it what they want to make it. They just have the wrong conception of what we believe brotherly love is."

Hereford insurance representative Don Baugous, who is on the city commission and county school board, said, "I think it is pretty simple. Brotherly love is doing unto others as you would have them do unto you. It is so simple that people lose sight, actually. We should simply follow the Golden Rule."

So it has been defined by only a few of the many Hereford men who unquestionably could offer equally "personal" definitions.

And each of them are curious. How would you define "brotherly love?"

Highlights And Sidelights

Governor's Tax Program Fares Unexpectedly Well

AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. Preston Smith's first-state tax program fared unexpectedly well in its initial legislative test.

Anguished cries were raised at a House Revenue and Tax Committee hearing by beer, cigarette, coin-operated laundry and cable television interests at sections of a $175 million revenue bill directly affecting them.

Of the four, however, the coin laundries appeared to make the most impression on the Committee.

Surprisingly, not a witness appeared against Smith's proposal, contained in a separate bill, to place a $10 state sur-tax on moving traffic violations. He estimated that would raise $38.5 million.

Also, it was a surprise that regular laundry, cleaning, dyeing, parking, repair and machinery rental concerns remained silent. This since they, too, would go under the three percent state sales tax if Smith has his way. Naturally, this may or may not indicate consent.

Extending the sales tax to include them would raise an additional $57.8 million during the next two years.

Cigarette distributors claimed that the $71 million bite they would suffer, if the per-pack tax is raised another four cents to a total of 15 cents, would drive away smokers and might result in a loss of state revenue. They also claimed that Smith's $6 million tax addition for cigars and other tobacco products would lower consumption and virtually kill the Texas cigar business.

Beer industry spokesmen centered their attack on the fact that they already pay $4.30 a barrel in state taxes, which is far more than most big beer-producing states charge.

Coin laundries argued they had no way to collect a sales tax in their washing machines' nickel, dime and quarter slots and therefore would have to have their machines revamped, at great cost, to take in pennies.

Cable TV spokesmen made no impression at all with their argument of discrimination.

Smith's proposed one-half of one percent chemical products tax is expected to draw heavy fire from that industry in an April 16 hearing.

Floor vote on the tax bill is expected to be delayed about three weeks.

WELFARE DEMANDS GROW

Texans will be asked again — and again and again, if necessary — to increase or do away with the constitutional ceiling on state public-assistance grants to the needy, commonly called "welfare."

And they'll get their chance sooner than they think. Speaker Gus Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes have agreed to ask the Legislature to call a special election for Aug. 5 to vote on at least five proposed constitutional amendments, and possibly eight.

In addition to expressing their views on increasing welfare funds, voters would give their views on providing death and disability benefits to volunteer firemen; the 3.5 billion Texas Water Plan; removing the constitutional interest-rate maximum on five types of bonds; and authorizing $200 million more in bonds to finance the Texas Opportunity Plan of college-student loans.

Prime emergency is in the "welfare" situation. Texas' program of minimal assistance to families with dependent children is growing thinner and thinner because of the constitutional spending limit of $60 million.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) now gets $6.15 million of that $60 million. But grants to individual families are going down because of increases in the number of families applying.

These increases are due to court decisions broadening the program; a Medicaid requirement that applicants for that program be on welfare; and poverty workers informing poor people of their right to AFDC.

In September, the Department of Public Welfare had to cut maximum grants for a family with four or more dependent children from $135 a month to $123. Another cut scheduled for May will reduce the benefits paid 8,243 families and will eliminate from the program another 2,470.

In 1967, the Legislature proposed raising the ceiling from $60 million to $75 million, but the voters defeated the proposition.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS COST

An argument often offered by a legislator trying to defeat a proposed constitutional amendment is the "high cost" of advertising it to enlighten voters.

According to records in the office of the Secretary of State, the total cost of advertising 14 constitutional amendments proposed to Texas voters on the 1968 general election ballot in 243 newspapers was $247,346. That averages out at only $17,667 per amendment, or $72.70 per newspaper.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRESS

Legislative pace slowed last week as lawmakers devoted Monday to eulogizing the late President Eisenhower, and took off at mid-week for an Easter holiday.

Highlight of the week was final passage of the $3.5 billion water revenue bond constitutional amendment which will go on the statewide election ballot August 5 along with several other proposals.

House also approved a resolution for an August vote on removing obsolete provisions from the State's constitution. Later, representatives passed a bill to create a University of Texas at Dallas.

Senate again took the work-load prize. Among 45 bills it passed in a single day was a controversial measure to restore union bargaining rights of city bus company employees when taken under municipal control. Senate also advanced key measures to implement water development plans, voted to raise retirement benefits of elective state official 50 percent and provided procedures for prosecution of corporations as water-polluters.

Governor Smith signed into law numerous measures, including state aid for relocating property owners displaced by highway right-of-way buying, expanding home-state tuition benefits for dependents of military personnel and establishing a separate commission for vocational rehabilitation services.

Senate education committee approved a $220 million teacher pay raise bill. But the same measure was defeated to a House education sub-committee after hearings which drew the largest attendance of session.

APPOINTMENTS

Dewitt C. Greer, who retired last year as chief highway engineer and was appointed to the Texas Highway Commission by Governor Smith, has been named chairman.

Mrs. Anne B. Marley of Austin is Texas' new poet laureate. Mrs. Robby Koons Mitchell will take over the job next year.

Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville took the oath of office as a member of the Liquor Control Board.

E. G. Schuhart of Dalhart has been designated a member of Texas Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

Smith named 43 to membership on Interstate Oil Compact Commission Committee and announced creation of a 1-member Governor's Advisory Council on Lifetime Sports. Latter will promote such sports as tennis, badminton, archery, golf and bowling.

SULPHUR, PIPELINES EYED

In one-two order, the Legislature passed two significant mineral bills.

One would authorize Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to order unitization agreements in the sulphur development in West Texas. School Land Board would have to approve the agreements if they involve royalty interests on school or other public lands.

Another gives the Railroad Commission power to enforce minimum safety standards for all natural-gas pipelines in Texas not controlled by the Federal Power Commission. Thirty-three other states have similar programs.

COURTS SPEAK

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld use by police of a "reverse polarization trap" device for tracing obscene telephone calls in a Jefferson County case. A one year jail sentence and a $1,000 fine were affirmed.

Supreme Court, overturning lower courts, awarded $70,000 and interest to the City of Fort Worth in a suit against a former land agent and title company. Agent was accused of getting city clearance of a price to be paid for land purchased, then settling with the seller for a lesser amount and pocketing the difference.

Supreme Court set an April 23 hearing on a case in which a woman claimed injuries from falling backward over a power lawn mower in a department store.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin refused to reconsider his earlier opinion holding no income from leasing of state-owned submerged land can be diverted to current school spending. Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas and Don Cavness of Austin asked him to change his mind.

Martin held that Texas A. & I. University of Kingsville can establish upper-division (junior-senior) facilities in Laredo without special legislation.

D. P. S. DIVERSIFIES

Department of Public Safety has announced that it is expanding its two-machine helicopter force to seven, with some help from a federal law-enforcement grant.

These five new copters will be based in the Lubbock, Dallas and Austin areas and will be used for all types of law-enforcement activity, including mercy missions, traffic surveys, riot control and normal pursuit of accused felons.

PARK DEVELOPMENT

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department signed a sales contract to buy an additional 892 acres for Dinosaur Valley State Park, west of Glen Rose in Somervell County.

Purchase will bring the park to 1,274 acres. Total cost is $281,925. Park will be the first site purchased with funds from the $75 million park bond issue approved by voters in November of 1967.

Dinosaur tracks made in the area 100 million years ago and fossil evidence of life on earth as far back as the Cretaceous period are contained in the area. National Registry of Natural Landmarks of the Department of Interior includes the listing of Dinosaur Valley Park.

SHORT SNORTS

Selective Service headquarters announces that the May draft call for Texas is 1,453 men, down from 1,737 for April. Another 8,234 men are scheduled to be given pre-induction physical and mental examinations during the month for future calls.

Department of Public Safety warns that April 15 is the absolute deadline for auto inspections.

Charter applications have been filed for Security Bank and Trust of Garland and Union State Bank of Beaumont.

Paced by the $15.9 million Dallas Cowboys "Texas Stadium" in Irving, Texas, building continues its upward spiral statewide, says UT's Bureau of Business Research.

College Coordinating Board rescinded a decision to shut down the law school at predominantly-Negro Texas Southern University in Houston in 1973.

Senate Constitutional Amendment Committee approved the proposal by Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio to divide Texas into two states.

West Hereford Program Given By Mrs. Hood

Dangers from poisons in the home were pointed out to West Hereford Home Demonstration Club members in their program Tuesday afternoon, given by Mrs. N. D. Hood in Miss Mary Bradley's home where Mrs. E. M. Cox was hostess.

She stressed quick action in case of poisoning, advising a call to a physician first, and taking the victim to a hospital if possible.

"Take the container from which the poison was taken, so the doctor can check the contents and know at once what treatment to use," she added. The speaker said many cases of fatal poisoning, especially in children, could have been avoided by keeping drugs, cleaning agents, pesticides and other chemicals in a safe place.

Members were asked to bring scraps of fabric for quilts to the next meeting, Apr. 22, in Mrs. D. R. Grimes' home.

Present were Meses. Ulys Pierce, Robert Boyd, Roy Boyd, John Jacobsen Sr., Blanche Hardin, Grimes, Wes Bradley, Carl Schroeder and Miss Evelyn Bell.

Mark Tiefel Scholarship Recipient

CANYON — Mark A. Tiefel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tiefel of 231 C Ave. Hereford, was among eight students at West Texas State University who were awarded two-year Army ROTC sophomore scholarships.

These students will receive full fees and tuition, all textbooks and $50 per month for living expenses at college.

Selection was made on the basis of Army test scores, military grades and officer potential. Candidates were interviewed by a board including both military and academic faculty members at WTSU.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

Congratulations to The Pioneer Study Club on their sixtieth anniversary. The accomplishments and services rendered to the community have been many. Hereford is a much prettier town because of their contributions in beautification.

Right now, in numerous places in town, there is beauty because of the bulbs that were sold by the club. The park on North Main is the club's property and they see that it is well kept and that there is something pretty and attractive growing in the park the year 'round. Their history reads like a story book.

The wheatfields are beautiful. It seems that the color is the richest that I ever remember seeing it. Several afternoons Art and I have driven out into the country to see a lush wheat field with the late afternoon sun on it; and the fat contented cattle with the bouncing new calves with their clean white faces is a delightful sight. Makes me wish that I could paint with oils or water colors.

If you haven't been out into the country, do go soon. The fresh soil turned, the small onion plants taking root for their new homes in the good soil, all is so interesting and charming to me.

Art and I spent several hours at Art's corner spraying the grass and watering the tulips and daffodils. And we also killed a few weeds and some foreign grasses. The daffodils have been beautiful, and in a few days the Emperor tulips will be a delightful splash of fire red.

There is nothing so relaxing as to work with the good earth, and to watch the falling water give new life to the grass. Oh, yes, the rhubarb is growing like 'topsy,' and soon we will be having a pie or sauce. This is spring time.

There are many beauty spots almost any direction one drives from town. The extra tall and luxurious lawn at the Reinauer's — the golden daffodils at the Hersey's. I just stood and looked and looked. They were so pretty and so many of them. As we approached the houses, the lovely yellow blossoms seemed to frame the house, and the taller blossoms waving in the breeze reminded me of flitting yellow butterflies.

The red Emperor tulips, the grape hyacinths, the daffodils are lovely. Have you seen the beautiful flowers at The Hereford Insurance? Pretty! . . . pretty! These daffodils and tulips have been planted about three years and the profusion of blossoms is unusually good, and there are many more buds to blossom.

The crocus have been very lovely at the R. W. Mitchell home, the nice background of the boxwood really makes them show off to good advantage. The hyacinths at Mrs. Obe Roberson's have been extra pretty. In fact, there are so many pretties that it is very difficult to remember them, and to decide which showed the most care and beauty.

Speaking of beauty, one of the loveliest yards in town is at the Marvin May home, 401 Westhaven Drive. The grass is as near perfect as I have ever seen. The color, texture and quality as a whole is wonderful. It looks like a picture. The lawn in the backyard is just as beautiful as that in the front. All of it receives tender, loving, continuous care.

APRIL MEANS ACTION FOR THE GARDENER. Good-Friday has come and gone, and on this day many gardeners start their garden activities in a big way. For the first time in years I failed to get my Gladiolas planted. "Glad" corms can be planted now. If you wish to have a continuous bloom, space the plantings at least two weeks apart, and plant throughout the summer months, until the 15th of July. This last planting will give pretty blossoms for fall. The colors are usually nicer and a more complete spike of florets.

Corms should be set five or six inches deep and six or seven inches apart. It is necessary to plant them deep because of the wind, which we have almost the year 'round. The depth gives them a food footing and a stronger plant.

If you haven't planted any of the miniature glads, do so this year. They are real pretty and are good for arranging as well as making excellent corsage materials. There is also a fragrant glad that is planted the same time the spring bulbs are planted (early fall) and they bloom early. I have grown these several times, but have not planted them the last three years. Colors and florets are as pretty as the summer glads.

Does your hedge need rejuvenation? If so, it should have attention now. Clip and trim away all the ragged overgrown materials and shape carefully so that the new growth will be directed correctly. The following kinds respond to a complete cut-back: privet, mulberry, elm, honey-suckle, barberry, spiera, caragana, currant, & evergreen.

I have noticed several of the evergreen hedges in town the last few weeks. By evergreen I am referring to the cedar family.

Don't neglect the peonies. Now is a good time to spray fungicide on emerging peony shoots and the ground around them — this prevents botrytis blight which is the main disease that attracts the peonies. A bordeaux mixture is recommended, also ferbam, zineb. After they have been sprayed, then dig a small trench around the entire growth, and fill this with plant food.

I am a bit old fashioned as I still like to use bone-meal. I have found that it is very good for peonies, as well as the spring flowering bulbs. Water thoroughly.

The perennials will improve if they are divided now. Some of these are chrysanthemums, phlox, shasta daisies, achilleas, hostas, sedums, asters, and almost any clump-forming kind will bring more satisfaction if they are divided. When dividing, be sure and clean out the debris that has accumulated during the dormant months, and spray for insects that have been making their winter home in it. One of my favorite sprays is malithion or Black Flag. I have found them to be good as a general spray for most anything that I grow.

Now is feeding time: On most of our plants a general balanced fertilizer such as 10-10-10 is good. However, for acid loving plants use packaged foods which are recommended for such. If you plant your potted azaleas outside, they are acid loving and will need some food.

Be sure and include vegetables in your plantings. If you do not have a special plot for vegetables, then use some of them as border plantings. Beets, carrots, and radishes make very nice borders. Tomatoes on attractive trellis. Add a spot of color and interest to most any of the flower plantings. On the other hand, if you have a large vegetable garden and lack space for cutting flowers, plant some of them in with the vegetables. I planted candy-tuff last year and had an adjoining row of beets. It made a very pretty spot in the garden. Onions with their lovely grey-green coloring make an attractive background for pinks, or most any of the low flowering plants.

What do you know about The Blue Moon??? Do you remember having heard the old adage, "Once in a Blue Moon" More about this later.

Glad has really been happy and glad the last week, as she was given a very wonderful set of Garden Books, 15 volumes many of

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

AUSTIN — The May draft call for Texas is 1,453, down from 1,737 for April, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Thursday.

This is the state's share of a national quota of 27,600 men, 25,600 for the Army and 2,000 for the Marine Corps.

A total of 8,234 men is scheduled to be forwarded for armed forces pre-induction physical and mental examination in May to prepare for future calls, Colonel Schwartz said.

A total of 10,210 is scheduled for this purpose in April. In early March, a quota of 7,293 was announced for this purpose, but this was increased in mid-March.

The state received a reduction in its current call for doctors of medicine from 18 during the period July 1969 - January 1970 to 9, brought about by revised personal needs from the Department of Defense.

The call for two optometrists in January 1970 was reduced to one, and the quota for one doctor of osteopathy in the last half of 1969 was not changed for Texas, despite a reduction in the national quota.

The order of selection to fill draft calls through May may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26 in the sequence in which they have volunteered, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, oldest first, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character—Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Judas, the traitorous, perfidious, faithless Apostle who, under the semblance of friendship, betrayed Christ. How many good, sound, fair appearing persons do you have on your friendship list who are not friends at all but are worthless, deceptive characters... not to be trusted. How many Judases do you know?

What a chance this man had for greatness! What an opportunity for service to a world in urgent need! One of twelve to walk with the Son of God along life's pathway! What would we not give for his opportunity to do and to be! But Judas "blackened out." He failed and wrote his own name in "DEEP BLACK" across the pages of history for all time. He preferred thirty pieces of silver to the fellowship and blessing of Jesus; he failed to appreciate beauty and goodness and gracious companionship with the highest. His "sights" were low... his interests selfish.

Other men counted it an honor to carry a cross for the Master; JUDAS sent Him to Calvary to die in shameful agony. JUDAS might have followed Christ to the end and shared a martyr's death, but he preferred a disgraceful grave in the field of the nameless or shameless dead.

We have but one life to live, and that one life is too precious to be wasted. "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his life?" What is it to lose? What is it to gain? Jesus was thought to have lost, but in that self-sacrifice He saved a world of dying men. This man Judas gloated over his gain, but generations have wept for him as a lost soul. Are you and I really winning, or are we losing? Truly we have but one life to give... shall we not write it credibly on the pages of history for ourselves and for humanity? Shall we not hold it high for the service of men and for the worship of God? Attend your church; be faithful. Don't be a JUDAS.

Escape From Urban Living

The story of the hard work and financial struggle which goes into making a dream come true and a novel of the problems of New England family life through many generations have been placed on the shelves of the Deaf Smith County Library.

Letter To Editor

Dear editor:
 Just a few lines in regards to item in last Thursday's Hereford Brand, "6 Boys Told God Is Not Dead." I want to say that I am glad that we have a County Judge like Mr. H. C. Williams who can and will handle these juvenile problems the way he does. I am not glad that the boys got in bad, but I hope and pray that it may be a lesson that will cause them to realize that they can't do wrong and get by. It is embarrassing to the boys and certainly for their parents. The parents may not always do as good a job in training their children what is right and wrong, but even if they do, the children may and do forget the warnings and advise of their parents.
 Children and teenagers may do what don't look so bad but turns out worse than expected. I know what I am talking about. I had good Christian parents who tried to teach me what was right, but that didn't keep me from making mistakes that didn't miss much getting in trouble with the law — but so close there certainly wasn't any fun in it.
 Embarrassment is just as bad outside the jail as inside sometimes.
 The Bible says if you train up a child in the way he should go, when he is old he will not depart from it. To be early caught the battle is easier fought.
 Things may be done as innocent fun, but what is wrong is still wrong and the results are the same.
 Ole T. Larson,

 Hereford.

ONCE UPON AN ISLAND by David Conover, is the story of how one couple literally made a dream come true — a real saga, like Robinson Crusoe. Longing to get away from the pressures of urban living, despite countless warnings and dire predictions, the Conovers spent all they had — and went into

This account of their earnest but amateurish efforts at plumbing, carpentry, and building, of their frighteningly narrow escapes from tragedy, of their financial struggles, told sensitively and with considerable humor and philosophy, will have a wide appeal.
 Once upon an Island should help satisfy the romantic dreams so many stay-at-homes have of an island of their own — without the hard work, headaches, and the heartaches the Conovers encountered.

CODDLED APPLES — Use them for shortcake made with rich biscuit dough and top with whipped cream.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

New Ways For Apples

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Old-fashioned cooks often coddled apples. It's a shame that more modern cooks don't follow suit. Coddled apples make one of the most delicious and versatile desserts.

And "coddled" is just the name for this dish. According to Webster, the word has a couple of meanings. One of them is "to cook in liquid slowly and gently just below the boiling point." Another: "to treat with extreme care." Well, you follow both procedures when you prepare coddled apples, because if you don't cook the fruit gently and with care, it may lose its shape. And that must never happen; if it does, the apples won't be "coddled."

One way to use coddled apples is for shortcake, sandwiching the apples for their small amount of syrup between layers of rich baking powder biscuit (made from scratch or a mix) and topping with whipped cream. Or, if you prefer, you can use squares of sponge cake instead of the biscuit.

Another way to serve the apples is with soft custard sauce. If you want to take a shortcut, you can make the sauce from packaged vanilla pudding.

And still another way to serve the apples is topped with vanilla ice cream. The combination, take it from us, is great.

When we tested this recipe, we used yellow Delicious apples of medium size. These apples have a delectable flavor when cooked and they hold their shape well. But Winesap or Jonathan apples are also perfectly suitable to use.

CODDLED APPLES
6 medium-size (about 1 1/2 pounds) yellow Delicious apples

1 cup sugar
2 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 sticks cinnamon
2 slices lemon
Wash, peel, quarter and core apples; cut each quarter in half lengthwise.

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat stir together the sugar, water, salt, cinnamon and lemon until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Add apples. Cover and simmer, stirring once or twice and being not careful not to break up apples, until slices are tender but still hold their shape — about 10 minutes. Turn off heat; allow apples to stand, covered, for 5 minutes.

With a slotted spoon, remove apples from syrup. Gently boil syrup to reduce and thicken — about 5 minutes. Pour syrup over apples. Serve hot, warm or cold.

GARDEN BEAUTIFUL CLUB

Postponed from last week, the April meeting of Garden Beautiful Club will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in the new home of Mrs. N. D. Bartlett at 537 West 15th.

Couple Speaks Wedding Vows

Miss Linda Kay Watson and Clyde Davie Sorrells repeated marriage vows Saturday evening in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church, in the Gilliland Rose Chapel.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Rachel Watson of Sweetwater and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sorrells who reside on the Harrison Highway west of Hereford. The bride has ma-

A background of greenery was arranged for the wedding party, which included the bride's sister, Mrs. Lyn Simmons of Odessa, as matron of honor, Bill Jack Gilliland as best man, little Tina Watson as flower girl and the bride's nephew, John Lane Watson of Monahans, as ring bearer.

A piano prelude and the marches were played by Miss Debbie Williams.

Beige satin with a white lace overdress was worn by the bride, who carried a bouquet of beige orchids. Her dress was street length, simply cut with long sleeves and roll collar.

A reception in the Charles Watson home followed the ceremony. Mrs. Dennis Johnson and Miss Renae Ferguson

New Home Is Reason For Party

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward were surprised with a housewarming in their new home at 201 Douglas Friday evening.

Couples hosting the gathering of friends were Mr. and Mrs. James Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Cassels.

Refreshments and games of party bridge were enjoyed by those present as well as the opening of gifts and touring the new home.

Others present were Messrs. and Mmes. Roger Williams, Joe Lambert, Charles Brown, Walker Parris and Lynton Allred, also Kristi Cassels.

son served the two-tiered wedding cake, which was ornamented with apricot flowers. White spring blossoms made the centerpiece on the table. Mrs. Watson was assisted with hostess duties by Mrs. Marlin Gilliland and Mrs.

Jack Gilliland. After a weekend trip the couple is at home in the Thunderbird Apartments.
