

68TH YEAR — NO. 28

Date Extended Again!

In an unexpected move, starting date has been extended for a second time on the farm equipment mechanics class which was to have begun here Monday.

New starting date for the class is now August 18.

Texas Employment Commission manager Lester Rape reported that seven students have enrolled in the Management Development and Training Act-sponsored course out of the required 15 students necessary.

He said that he didn't believe it was possible to get another extension on the date but that the TEC with the Texas Education Agency "must have considered the need great enough for this class here for this extension."

Original date for the class was mid-June. It was then extended, along with the auto mechanics class, for July dates. Auto mechanics was begun Monday at Hereford High School with its 15 students.

"This now gives this office a little more than a month to complete the enrollment," Rape pointed out. "It looks promising."

He reported that the age requirement for enrollment is 18 years or older. "The enrollee must have had at least an eighth grade education. And in some cases, the enrollee will receive a training allowance too."

Dimmitt Youth Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for a Dimmitt youth, Richard Allen Smith, who died Sunday from the results of a gunshot wound in the head in a hunting accident Saturday, were held Tuesday morning in the First United Methodist Church at Dimmitt, with the Rev. Jim Pickens, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Castro Memorial Gardens by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Ricky was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glenn Smith of Dimmitt and the grandson of Mrs. Lurline Kendall of Hereford.

Casketbearers for the services were James Bradford, Huston Lust, Frank Wise, Kenneth Cleveland, Ed Moore, Goldman Dyer, Ed Hughes and Dale Wimoers.

The Smith youth was rabbit hunting with four companions about 15 miles southwest of Spearman at the time of the accident. He was taken first to Hanstord County Hospital in Spearman, then flown to Amarillo in a private aircraft.

He was born in Hereford May 9, 1950 and was a junior at Dimmitt High School.

Other survivors include a brother, Steven Douglas, of the home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Harbour of Stinet.

Mrs. Barker died Monday in Hollis Convalescent Home.

Survivors include daughters, Mrs. Oma Self and Mrs. Della Keller, both of Megargel, Tex.; Mrs. Beulah Woodruff of Hollis and Mrs. Mamie Brown and Mrs. Ella Mae Keller, both of Coos Bay, Ore.; three other sons, Jim of Pueblo, Colo. and Claude and Luke, both of Megargel; 54 grandchildren, 90 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Ag. Committee-Officials

Important Tour Is Slated For County

Eighteen members of the Agriculture Committee of Congress and top agriculture administration officials are slated for a tour of Deaf Smith County's agribusiness interests on Friday, July 18.

Planned as a two-day tour of the area, arrangements were made through U. S. Rep. Bob Price of the 18th Congressional District and Rep. W. R. "Bob" Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture. In the event that a Congressional session on this date should intervene, the tour will be postponed with the same schedule set for Sunday, July 20, it was reported.

Among the officials who contemplate the visit are Clarence Palmby, assistant Secretary of Agriculture; James Smith, national director of Farmers Home Administration; Kenneth Frick, national director of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service; Clyde Graham, state director of Soil Conservation Service; Len Futch, state director of FHA; and David McElwraith, executive director of the State ASCS.

These men will arrive in Hereford via bus from Dimmitt for a luncheon at the Country Club here. Afterward, they will tour local vegetable processing facilities and the Holly Sugar plant, and will leave for Pritchard at approximately 2:30 p. m. where they will board a plane for a return to their original destinations.

Frank Ford, county coordinator for the three local farming organizations, reported that at the president and vice-president of each organization will join the bus tour at Dimmitt. They are Gerald McCathern and Jerome Friemel of National Farmers Organization, Bill Walden and Bill Kahlick of Farm Bureau, and Leo Witkowski and Alfred Smith of Farmers Union.

Purpose of the tour is announced as an opportunity "to get these agriculture committee members and key administration officials more familiar with this area and the problems which farmers are encountering here."

Ford reported that a joint leadership group of the three local organizations has had four meetings wherein they have consolidated the farm problems. "We have worked up a brochure outlining these problems as the farmers see them. They will be presented to the members of the agriculture committee for their consideration in the development of forthcoming legislation."

He said that the dinner here,

Discuss Golf Course Parking Accepts Well Bid

City commissioners accepted a $5,372 bid from Walco Drilling Inc. to install a submersible pump in the well on South Main at their Monday night meeting. Installation is guaranteed within 21 days.

The commissioners accepted bids on emergency basis from three companies without advertising because of the city's urgent need for a well during the peak, summer season for water.

The well on South Main which caved in last fall was drilled also on an emergency basis more than 13 years ago. The city reworked the well but it went out again two months ago. A 45-gallon a minute submersible pump with 40-horsepower motor will be installed in the well.

Other bids received were from Big T Pump Co., $6,100 with installation guaranteed by September, and from McDonald Drilling Co., net cost of $6,510 with installation guaranteed within 21 days.

CAC To Select Coordinator Today

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Community Action Program committee has scheduled a meeting at 8:30 p. m. today in the Hereford Community Center for the selection of a Neighborhood Center Coordinator and possibly permanent officers and committee members, according to acting chairman Roland Barton.

Barton said, "It is absolutely vital to the success of the program (here) that the final board members be determined and installed and a Coordinator be hired immediately."

Community Action Program is one which is designed to fulfill the needs in respect to the underprivileged, poorly educated, unemployed and less fortunate people. "This program is not a welfare or giveaway program which is backed by the Federal Government," Barton stated. "Rather, the program is designed to develop the initiative of the recipients and exercise the desires of the interested people of the community to develop a better understanding and working relationship among the various citizens."

The board that is to be installed, according to the Office of Economic Opportunity, should consist of approximately 15 members with one-third each representing private businesses, public, office-holders, and the minority group "which is the primary target of the program."

Barton has stressed his invitation to include all interested parties here for this meeting.

"There have been two meetings of proposed board members and other interested parties with the purpose in mind of initiating this program in Hereford. The last meeting was held June 26 primarily to review applications for the position of Neighborhood Center Coordinator (which had a total of five applications for the bilingual position at that time.) Since this particular job is so vital to the success of the program, it was determined that a committee be designated to study the applications more fully, possibly interviewing the applicants in person, and proposing the choice applicants to the board at the next meeting."

Appointed to this committee were County Commissioner Marcus Latham, Rev. C. W. Allen of St. John Baptist Church, assistant school superintendent Roy Hartman, Alex Torres of the Texas Employment Commission, and assistant Home Demonstration Agent Rita Duckert along with City Commissioner Barton.

Other Coordinator applications were accepted through Monday of this week.

Hit-Run Victim In Critical Shape

A hit-and-run accident at 4:20 p. m. Sunday nine miles northeast of Hereford on a county dirt road has left a Hereford man in critical condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

John Hammett suffered neck and back injuries after the 1967 Sunbeam he was driving was hit in the back. Hammett's car turned over the top of the road and Hammett was thrown through the windshield and landed in a ditch.

Police officers at the scene said Hammett was paralyzed and could not move.

Police arrested Miguel Sanchez Rangel as the suspected driver of the hit-and-run vehicle. He is charged with two felonies: failure to stop and render aid and driving while intoxicated. Rangel is free on two bonds for $3,000 each.

A passenger in Hammett's car, Eva Escimilla Casarez, told policemen that the hit-and-run vehicle was blue. She was treated and released at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

A 1964 blue Ford Fairlane suspected by police as the hit-and-run vehicle was found four and seven-tenths miles east of the accident scene inside a farm barn.

Hereford Aero Inc. at the city airport aided policemen by flying over the area in search of the vehicle. Sgt. Bill Wells was in the plane.

Hammett's car was traveling north along the dirt road when it came to an intersection. The hit-and-run car, traveling east, came through the intersection and struck Hammett's car at the rear. Hammett's car was a total loss.

Hammett was taken by ambulance to Deaf Smith County Hospital and was transferred immediately to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Hospital officials in the intensive care ward listed his condition as critical Wednesday morning.

United Fund Meet

Members of the board of directors of the United Fund have set a breakfast meeting in the Cason House at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday, according to president Johnny Clark Jr.

Clark stated that it is important for all board members to attend.

Yet to be named here is a drive chairman for the coming campaign.

Clark, who is Hereford Public Schools superintendent, has also offered his resignation here with the prospect of becoming superintendent at Baytown. The local school board of trustees are to meet at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday to consider his resignation.

If the resignation is accepted, the subject of a replacement president for the United Fund will also be placed under discussion Wednesday morning.

TANK EXPLODES — Damage to a butane tank, pickup, barn and working shed on Elmer Reinart's farm was estimated as $1,500 by firemen after a butane tank caught fire Sunday night. Two boys were injured. —Staff Photos

Tank Explodes, Injures Two At Reinart Farm

Sparks from a cigarette or cigarette lighter caused a butane tank to explode at 9 p. m. Sunday at the Elmer Reinart farm two miles east and one and one-half miles south of the city.

Roy Reinart, 16, and David Spinhrne, 17, were filling the tank of a 1964 Chevrolet pickup up from a butane tank when sparks from a cigarette or cigarette lighter held by one of the boys caused the tank to explode.

Reinart and Spinhrne suffered second degree burns and were taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital. Reinart is listed in good condition and Spinhrne, who was more seriously injured, is in satisfactory condition.

Fire department officials say the fire destroyed the pickup, butane tank, barn and work shed. They estimated damages at $1,500.

Fireman had the blaze under control 45 minutes after they arrived.

New Telephone Directories To Be Mailed

Delivery of new telephone directories to Hereford customers is scheduled to begin July 16. Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said that approximately 7,176 directories will be mailed to Hereford customers.

The new book includes 33 pages of alphabetical listings and 136 pages of Yellow Page advertising.

Patrick suggested that before destroying old directories, customers check to make sure no important papers are left in the books.

Girlstown At Whiteface To Observe Anniversary

Mrs. Viola Williams, a member of the board of directors, will attend Open House at Girlstown U. S. A. at Whiteface Sunday, on the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the national home for girls and invites all friends of Girlstown to attend the festivities.

Mrs. Williams plans to go to Girlstown on Friday to help prepare for the event which begins at 2 p. m. with a program the crowning of a Girlstown Queen and a barbeque at 4 p. m.

Jim Bob Allison of Hereford is also a member of the board, which includes 22 members from Texas, Missouri and Arizona.

Girlstown was established by Amelia Anthony in 1949, to provide care for homeless girls of all ages.

Burnett B. Roberts, Levelland, is chairman of the board of directors which supervised the home at Whiteface and also a branch at Borger.

Mrs. Gus Wortham, Houston, is president of the board. Other officers are Sam Bell, Amarillo, vice-president; F. T. Bolen, Lubbock, treasurer; and Mrs.

Martha Nugent, Kermit, secretary.

Serving on the advisory board are R. S. Williams, Lubbock; James K. Golden, Eastland; Mrs. Bonnie Eubands, Grand Prairie; Mrs. June Woodrum Pierce, Midland; and Ed Wallace, Fort Worth.

Girlstown To Hold Annual Open House

Girlstown, U. S. A. will celebrate its 20th Anniversary by holding an annual Open House this Sunday.

A short program will follow tours of the facilities, conducted by the residents. During the program, Linda Metcalf, reigning Miss Girlstown, U. S. A., will relinquish her crown to her successor.

Candidates for the new title are Donna Stone, Big Spring; Billye Nairn, Texas City; Beatrice Moody, San Antonio; Linda White, Beaumont; and Patricia Weeks, Midland.

Girlstown, U. S. A. was founded in April of 1949, near Abilene. In July of that year, the late Tom Duggan of Lubbock donated the present site to the home.

Nine girls moved to the Whiteface location on July 13, 1949. Nearly 1,000 girls from throughout the United States have found a home at Girlstown since that time.

Many of the residents who made their home at Girlstown will be returning, bringing their families to this homecoming affair.

Everyone is invited to attend this 20th Anniversary Celebration. A barbeque will close out the day's activities at 4:30. The home is located nine miles south of Whiteface on Farm Road 1780.

Conserve Base Reminder

"Crop acreages are now being certified, and producers should bear in mind the need for compliance with the conserving base established for their farms," chairman Frank J. Bezner of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee reported.

The conserving base represents that acreage which must be devoted to conserving uses on the farm in addition to any acreage required to be diverted under applicable program provisions, the chairman explained.

"This means that if someone is participating in the wheat, feed grain or cotton program on his farm he must stay within his permitted acreage (the cotton allotment, the wheat allotment or feed grain base minus the signed intentions to divert acreage within such allotment or base), in addition to maintaining the farm conserving base," Bezner said.

"If he does not, he may lose all or a substantial part of the program benefits to which he would otherwise be entitled," he added.

"Responsibility for making certain that the conserving base requirement is met falls primarily on the farm operator. However, each producer on the farm has a vital interest in this matter because his benefits are reduced proportionately if total benefits for the farm are reduced," the chairman concluded.

Fish that live thousands of feet deep in the ocean must adapt to living in the dark.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

"To own a bit of ground, to scratch it with a hoe, to plant seeds, and watch the renewal of life — this is the commonest delight of the race, the most satisfactory thing a man can do." Charles Dudley Warner.

Do you really appreciate your garden? Do you walk its paths? Enjoy the beauty and perfume of the mingled flowers? Select flowers of rare beauty and study it?

While Lloyd Jr. (the grandson) was here, he and I took many strolls through the garden, and first and last and always he would go to the pansy bed and admire them. I was reminded of these lines of poetry.

Of all the bonny buds that I blow
In bright or cloudy weather,
Of all the flowers that come and go
The whole twelve months together,
These pretty purple pansies brings,
Thought of the sweetest, and the prettiest things.

Then Lloyd Jr. would pick a cluster of the pretty purple (always the purple because that is his favorite color) and take them into his mother.

Everyone has their favorite? What is yours??? There are a number of friends, and gardeners who think the iris is the very favorite flower of the entire garden. Some of these are Audrey (Aunt) Thompson, Don Baugous, Mrs. Julian Johnson, and many others. Well, now is the time to get the beds ready for planting or transplanting the iris.

For a bit of information, let us review a bit of the history of the iris. 350 years ago, Carolus Clausius described 28 varieties of tall bearded iris and wrote that "a long exposure has taught me that iris grown from seed vary in a wonderful way" (to grow iris by seed is very interesting and fascinating). His observation was but the beginning of an amazing increase in hybridizing, and it is today's gardeners who are reaping the benefit. The greatest concentration in this field has been devoted to the tall bearded iris — the one that most all people, even the casual admirer of flowers, can recognize.

Some of the other kinds of iris are Bearded, Crested, Japanese, Juno, Louisiana, Regelia, Reticulata, Siberian, and Spuria.

Many of these I have grown, and have derived much pleasure. Two that I am especially fond of are the Spuria and the Siberina.

The Spuria comes in colors, but my favorite is the white (off white). They are vigorous and easy to grow, although sometimes if transplanted or first planted they may not bloom for a year or two. When they do start blooming they are profuse bloomers, and one of the fine characteristics about them is that they are good keepers, both in the garden and for cut flowers. They are also very good for corsages. In fact, some have called them the poor man's orchid. The foliage is plentiful, and very attractive, not only as it enhances the plant but for flower arranging. One trait I like, is they bloom later than others.

A number of years ago, a friend of mine was moving from town, and she called and said, "Glady's, I have something I want to give you. Can you come down and get it?" I readily replied, "I will be right there in a few minutes." The gift was a large number of Siberian Iris, which she had grown for years.

We dug them, and I transplanted them. Many, many blossoms graced the lovely stems. They are beardless, have narrow falls, yet stand erect and proud as they grow. Foliage is more sparse than the spuria iris, yet it is dainty and pretty, really more grass like than other iris foliage. They bloom about the same time the large bearded iris bloom and many blossoms, dozens of them. They have different colors.

My favorite is the lovely dark blue (indigo) and they are a delight to arrange with, especially for small arrangements. They, too, like the spuria, are excellent for corsages. Oh, yes, while I mention corsages, do not neglect the sick friends in the hospital. Often they are enjoyed more than the large potted plants, or many cut flowers. It helps the patient, especially as they start recovering, to have the pretty bit of flowers and ribbon near them.

I learned by reading from Gordon Blackwell that The American Iris Society has recently awarded its coveted Hybridizer's Medal to Fred W. Cassebeer for his hybridizing of Siberian Iris. Some of those which he has introduced are "White Swirl," No. 939 (he can't think of a name suitable for this lovely one.) Blackwell describes it thus: "A ravishing beauty in waving rich lobelia blue petals, which suggest a Japanese brush painting of a water ripple." Others are "Clear Pond" and "Traviata." All of the Siberian Iris, when in bloom resemble a beautiful glowing bouquet. Do add some of the siberian iris to our garden.

A bit about the growing habits of the Siberian Iris. It performs best if planted in a spot that gets at least half a day of sunshine. Dig a deep hole in a loamy soil, add peat moss or compost to retain moisture. Like a slight acid soil and water if rainfall fails to add the needed moisture. In early spring it is wise to sprinkle a handful or more (depending on the size of the iris clump) around the clump in encourage growth and bloom. Avoid close cultivation since roots are shallow. It is not at all necessary to transplant the Siberian Iris for years — some may go as long as 8 or ten years. They are practically disease resistant, and seldom have rot.

Authorities consider the Siberian iris an outstanding plant for perennial borders. The foliage is a pleasing contrast to chrysanthemums, bleeding heart, monardas and lilliums. If you want to create a striking picture (not on canvas), plant some scarlet poppies among the dark blue Siberian Iris and enjoy the beautiful modern color scheme.

It is easy to grow Bearded Iris, and the fact that they are often found in many long neglected gardens attest to their rugged nature. I even found one growing from a rizon, which was casually resting up on top of the soil in the corner of the garden. I thought I had tossed it away with the waste materials.

To prepare the soil for the new rizons, or for the transplanted ones, be very sure the soil has been properly prepared. Dig the soil to a depth of ten inches and plant in well-rotted or dehydrated manure. Then mix in a 5-10-10 or 5-10-5, if the first named cannot be found. Add approximately a pound per square foot. Let the soil settle a week before planting. If possible, let it lay open longer, and cultivate the soil, that it may be rid of weeds or any other foreign growth. Water, kill or cut weeds, and turn the soil several times, then add the fertilizer to the soil, before planting.

Select the rizons of your favorite variety. Lift or remove from the clump trim the leaves in a peaked shape, then plant. Placing all the leaf fans in the same direction and space them from 6 to 8 inches apart. Place the rizons on a ridge of soil with the roots spread to either side (roots may be trimmed a bit out not strenuously.) Pull the soil to the rizons, pack around and cover the roots, making sure they are securely established in the soil. Do not cover too deeply. In winter it is good to mulch after Christmas or as the freezing weather starts in. This prevents heaving of the soil, and tends to keep soil of same temperature.

Be sure that your selections are good ones. Those which do well here, named varieties. Plant so that the color harmony will be pleasing. Try some of the new introductions each year, but do not fail to grow the old favorites.

If rizons are properly planted and given a measure of attention, you will be repaid with beautiful flowers. Some basic control measures will include a clean-up of old iris leaves, other waste material removed. In early spring spray with Malathion after leaves are approximately 6 inches high. Do this until flowers appear. Look for borers and destroy, remove old rizons. Look for leaf spot, especially if there is a continued spell of wet weather. Cut off infected leaves below the lowest spots.

After the cleaning up process, pour a solution of Clorox (1/2 cup in equal parts of water) to keep down diseases and insects. Mix Malithion or another insecticide with Clorox, thus a two fold of protective measures are used.

In regions (such as ours) a light mulch should be placed around — but not directly over — the rizons. Pine needles or cotton hulls or some other light materials which won't hold water can be used.

CONGRATULATIONS to the winners in the Beauty Spot Awards. The red geraniums, with their lavish foliage blooms are very beautiful at the Thames Pharmacy. The gorgeous yellow day lilies (hemerocallis) are as golden rays of sunshine at the Ruth Kerr home.

NOTE: you say you cannot be a grower... well, at least you can keep things clean. And if Hereford isn't cleaned up, weeds cut, old cars, and other unsightly things removed we can no longer be called a city of beauty and cleanliness. A few people cannot do this alone. It takes a concerted effort.

Perhaps our readers will be interested in how the Beauty Spot is selected. Well several years ago, about 1925 I shared in plans and suggestions for beautifying Hereford. We did the original Beauty Award for the year, and each month selections were taken from various sections of the town and graded.

Work, share and keep your premises clean and neat. I am not familiar with all the points now used, but I am sure that many are the same or at least the objective is the same. Any home or Non-Residential place is eligible, and am sure the Beautification Committee would be greatly pleased if more and more people would co-operate.

ATTENTION SUSY: The "Baptist Plan" is growing, and I am glad. Next Week... What is your favorite Beauty Spot? Glad makes a survey.

Since I am more or less grounded (had a little accident) I give this quote: "Take time to read; it is the foundation of knowledge." GLAD

Lions Report On Tokyo Convention

TOKYO, JAPAN — Amid a standing ovation of more than 12,000 international delegates in the Nippon Budokan Convention Hall in Tokyo, Japan, David A. Evans of Texas City ended his travel-filled year as President of Lions International at noon Saturday.

Over 50,000 Lions and their families, including some 500 Texans, traveled to the 52nd Annual Convention of the world's largest service organization to salute Evans, the fifth Texan to lead the world Lions as their Chief Executive.

Attending from Hereford were A. J. Schroeter and M. C. Adams. Also, Ed Skypala who is a representative of Lions International.

Within a short 365 days, circling the globe, visiting with Heads of State, and guiding the affairs of the one-million-member Association, Evans has witnessed an astounding growth in Lionism. Nearly 150,000 new members have dedicated themselves to its Ideals and Objectives during his term of office. More than 1,300 new clubs have been formed, for an all-time record in the Association's history. With the aid of the Project-A-Month program, instituted by Evans to stimulate greater involvement in community and international service, over 25,000 new activities have been undertaken since June of 1968, in addition to the more than 500,000 annual Lions projects.

Texas, too, has experienced one of its greatest years during Evans administration. Some 85 new clubs and 9,000 new members have joined Multiple District 2 — Texas, making it the second largest district within the 145 countries and geographic areas in which Lions Clubs are located, with 1,000 clubs and 42,000 members. This year eight new Leo Clubs, the young people's counterpart to the Lions Clubs, have been established in Texas. Again this year, the Texas Lions will engage in an international youth exchange, Germany and Japan. And along with the countries of Sweden through the intercession of Lions International and Evans, negotiations are now taking place to arrange for the exchange of the Texas and Mexican flags captured at the battles of the Alamo and San Jacinto respectively, a task which has been tried unsuccessfully for the last 25 years by the governments of Texas and Mexico.

Before turning over his duties and responsibilities to his successor, W. R. Bryan of Doylestown, Ohio, Evans was asked to recall the most rewarding event of his Presidential year. Without hesitation, he recounted the role played by Lions International in effecting the release of the crew of the U. S. S. Pueblo.

As Immediate Past President, Evans will remain an International Officer and retain much of his involvement in the policy-making decisions of the Association. He will continue to travel as an official representative of Lions International and is already planning an extended tour of Lions projects in India, following the International Board of Directors Meeting in Spain this fall.

Battle Of Britain In Japan, Books

United Artists Corp. has announced that British royalty will attend the Tokyo premiere of "The Battle of Britain" and that a paperback book will be issued along with the picture, which used Gerald Martin of Hereford Flying and Agricultural Service for flying sequences filmed on location in Spain last year.

Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon will attend the Asian premiere of the picture in Tokyo, Japan on Sept. 25. The event will introduce "British Week" with members of the Japanese Imperial family and the British dignitaries at the charity showing on behalf of the Japanese Red Cross.

The motion picture has already been announced for a royal premiere in London on Battle of Britain Day, Sept. 15, and is set for simultaneous U. S. premieres in nearly every major city on Oct. 22. Francis Hardwick at the Star Theatre in Hereford reported that the picture is not booked as yet here but that he is trying for the earliest possible date.

United Artists reported that, in one of the biggest book promotions ever set for a motion picture, "Battle of Britain," a paperback book by Leonard Mosley, a best-selling author, will be published by Ballantine Books this fall, keyed to the world premiere of the film.

The initial edition of the paperback will be 150,000 to 200,000 copies, UA indicated. Illustrations will include 16 pages of color photographs from the film.

The motion picture relates the events of the battle from both the English and German viewpoints, and also deals with the personal stories of the people involved, on all levels of life. It has an all-star cast.

Martin appeared as a German Luftwaffe Messerschmidt 109 pilot (and flew English Spitfires also in longshots) and has shown color slides for various civic clubs in Hereford taken while in Spain.

"The Army Green"

By Sgt BERT PINALES
U. S. Army Recruiter

The Army is finding out that the dog is really man's best friend. The canine corps is growing in leaps and bounds with dogs being used for all types of assignments in Vietnam.

At present, there are five types of "Army Dogs": sentry, scout, tracker, contraband detector and mine-tunnel dogs.

As the classifications indicate, they have a variety of duties. They warn their handlers of the presence of other persons, provide early silent warning of snipers and infiltrators, uncover mines and Viet Cong tunnels.

THE ARMY BAND
Adorned in new uniforms, the Army Band once again played at the Presidential inauguration this year, as it has done at every inauguration since that of President Coolidge.

Here are a few facts you might be interested in reading about this remarkable musical group:

The band is composed of 120 musicians and is considered one of the most diversified musical groups in the world. It can be broken down into numerous groups, including a concert orchestra, dance band, five-man combo, string sextet, trio and quartet. Not only does the Army Band play at many diplomatic and state functions in Washington, but it also gives concerts for the public throughout the summer months.

If you plan a trip to Washington this summer, check one of the D. C. newspapers for the time and date of the Army Band's concert. You'll be in for a musical treat.

ANYONE FOR THE

After reading this, we expect a flood of telephone calls from men interested in joining the artillery. We're ready.

Soldiers in C Battery, 319th Artillery in Vietnam never know what next to expect from the stoves of SSC Kazimierz Bryla, a Hungarian culinary whiz who is the unit chef. Among his specialties are cheese and onion omelettes, strawberry shortcake and apple turnovers.

Bryla, who has been a cook for 12 years, does some of his best work in the remote areas of Vietnam. As one veteran artilleryman said, "He almost makes you want to stay in the field."

If you'd like more information about the culinary and career opportunities offered in the artillery, call us at 364-1697 in Hereford on Tuesdays, or visit our recruiting station at 205 East 5th Ave. (Post Office Bldg.) in Amarillo.

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY
Did you know —That the Army has been commissioning men as nurses since 1955?

—That 78 Medals of Honor were presented to American servicemen during the Korean conflict?

—That June 6 marked the 25th anniversary of D-Day?
QUESTION OF THE WEEK
What kind of sports program does the Army have?

It is probably one of the most comprehensive found anywhere. Not only do Army posts and major units have varsity teams in most sports but just about every post has an intramural schedule of sports and all soldiers are encouraged to participate. Modern equipment is furnished by the Army. So you can leave your baseball glove home.

COMING WEEK
Hope I have a chance to see you the coming week. I plan to be in Canyon Post Office Monday morning 8:30 to 10:30, Dimmitt 12 to 3 p. m., Hereford on Tuesday all day at the Local Board. If you don't catch up with me at any of these places, you can always reach us at the office in Amarillo.

KENTUCKY HOSTS TOURISTS
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The tourist business brought an estimated 30 million visitors to Kentucky during 1968. They spent approximately $345 million in the Bluegrass state.

Mrs. Awtrey Returns Home

Mrs. Awtrey also visited her son and family in Ulysses, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtrey Jr.

MRS. SHEPPARD HOSTS VISITORS

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Edith Sheppard last weekend were Miss Cathelene Gentle and Virgil Hefley of Denton. Miss Gentle, who is a cousin of Mrs. Sheppard, also visited her uncle, Will Harris of Westgate.

The Potters are expecting a very important phone call.

In the years ahead, you'll be able to preset your telephone to transfer calls to the number where you're visiting. Electronic switching — using a sophisticated computer system — will make this and many other new services possible. For example, your phone will have a memory. By dialing just two digits of a frequently called number, you'll activate that memory, then the phone will dial the remaining digits automatically. Electronic switching is fact, not fiction. It's part of our program to plan today for tomorrow's communications needs. We may be the only phone company in town, but we try not to act like it.

Smith Writes ICT Workbook

Alvin Smith, Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) coordinator for the past two years at Hereford High School, has returned after spending a month at the University of Texas in Austin writing a study guide on the subject of furniture repair and upholstery.

Smith was one of 18 statewide ICT instructors selected to help in the writing of study guides for use in ICT and other vocational fields this year. He explained that the study guides are actually workbooks which will not only be placed into use in Hereford in some fields but throughout the United States. "Several universities will publish them," he said.

Among the workbooks written by others include courses on diesel mechanics, dental assistants, printing, medical records, physical therapist, and chef, Smith reported.

Prior to his becoming an ICT coordinator, Smith taught Industrial Arts for 18 years — ten years in Hereford. He also taught at Skellytown.

"Charly" To Show For Select Guests

Parents of the children enrolled here in the Satellite Day Care Program will be the guests of the Hereford Brand at showings of "Charly" at the Star Theatre Sunday, Monday or Tuesday.

"Charly" is a love story which begins with an incredible experiment between a less-than-ordinary man who is turned into a genius and the woman who is his teacher.

Charly Gordon is a mentally retarded worker in a bakery. In the evenings, he attends night school with the vague hope of somehow improving himself.

His teacher sees some hope for him through an operation that will improve his capabilities, and two doctors approve. Through experimental, the operation is a success and Charly develops Einstein-like abilities.

All is blissful for a while, until Charly discovers that the effects of the operation are temporary.

Charly is played by Cliff Robertson who received the Academy Award for Best Performance of an Actor for the role.

The role marked a drastic change of pace for Robertson, who previously starred as a young Lt. John F. Kennedy in the World War II biography film "PT 109."

Until playing "Charly," Robertson's acting career was often plagued with unusual circumstances — even with "PT 109." The Kennedy biography was originally released in late summer of 1963 and had only played a minimum of theatres throughout the country by November, when the President was assassinated in Dallas.

Valeda Coffee Is Held

An annual social event to punctuate the summer lull of the Valeda Study Club was a morning coffee held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Billy Wayne Sisson, 114 Liveoak.

Mrs. Dale Barkley and Mrs. Ron Harpster, club members who are moving away, were special honored guests. Other guests were Mrs. Gene Parsley, a former club member, and Mrs. James Trail.

Centering the prettily appointed serving table was a gold and crystal epergne holding antique fruit. Gaily decorated napkins and plates added to the decor. Assorted fruits and doughnuts with coffee and juices were served to Mrs. George Ritter, Joe Frank Clark, Bill Bradley, Armon Lauderback, Glenn Watts, Don Baugous and the guests.

Funeral Mass Tuesday For Blanco Infant

Funeral mass for Timothy Blanco, seven week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Baldomero Blanco of Route 1, Hereford, were read at 3 p. m. Tuesday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church by Father Michael Graham. Burial was at St. Anthony's Cemetery by Gilliland Funeral Home. The baby died Monday in Deaf Smith County Hospital following a brief illness.

The Seattle Pilots opened their American League season with a nine-man pitching staff that had a combined 40-37 major league record for 1968.

Lightning Strikes Benefield Home, $5,000 Damages

Lightning struck the home of Mark Benefield, 111 Apache Drive, Sunday night, causing an estimated $5,000 damage.

Firemen received the call at 10:30 p. m. and battled the smoldering fire in the steady rainfall and electrical disturbances until 2:30 a. m. Lightning struck the chimney, knocked off several bricks, then glanced off the chimney and inside the roof. Considerable damage was done under the roof to the rafters and ceiling joints on one side of the house. Furniture inside the house was damaged by smoke and water. Estimates place the damage at $5,000.

Firemen had the fire under control within 30 minutes after they arrived, but had to remain until 2:30 a. m. because the fire kept smoldering and flashing up in the construction of the sloping roof.

FREAK FIRE — Fire, smoke and water caused $5,000 damage Sunday night to Mark Benefield's home after lightning struck the chimney and glanced off the bricks and into the roof.

Linda Brooks Departs For Paris, France

Miss Linda Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Willydne Brooks, 404 Ave. J, left Amarillo Wednesday morning for Memphis, Tenn. where she joined a group of 180 workers who left there via a chartered jet for Paris, France.

Miss Brooks will be part of a chorus from Lubbock Christian College that will sing in a special evangelist campaign among the French people. She will also assist in the distribution of more than a million tracts and brochures by the evangelistic group. Home Bible studies are planned on a personal basis with the French people.

McDowell Will Get Teaching Certification

COLLEGE STATION — Benjamin F. McDowell of 814 Blewins, Hereford, is one of 119 vocational industrial education teachers who will complete requirements for public school certification Friday.

McDowell, a building trades instructor at Hereford High School, had to complete two summer schools at Texas A&M University.

The program is under the direction of A&M's Engineering Extension Service.

Instructor E. C. Fisher said most vocational industrial teachers come direct from industry. A&M's role is one of "preparing teachers to better instruct their pupils," Fisher said.

Plans have been formulated for turning Paris and Lille, France, and Brussels and Vervier, Belgium "upside down for Christ."

The campaign is to be known as Operation French World, Phase V.

Young and old, from many corners of the United States, will be participating in the campaign which is being conducted by the Churches of Christ.

The evangelistic party plans to return to the United States August 1.

Miss Brooks is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School. She is a member of the Central Church of Christ and plans to enroll in Lubbock Christian College in the fall as a sophomore student.

Job Corps Once More Enlisting

Texas Employment Commission has been instructed to resume the recruitment of Job Corps trainees.

TEC manager Lester Rape reported that the local office is now seeking ten boys and 3 girls between the ages of 16 and 21 who have not found it possible to complete their high school training for this volunteer program.

All recruitment had been stopped on this program for a time due to the closing of several Job Corps Centers throughout the nation, Rape said. However, the official order to further recruitment was received early in July here.

Purpose of the program, Rape pointed out, is for the young person to learn a trade. "While they are learning, they will receive $30 per month for personal expenses and an additional $50 per month which is placed in a bank for them for use when they complete the program. They can stay with Job Corps up to two years. Afterward, we help them find a job."

He also pointed out that several Hereford youths have already been successfully graduated in the Job Corps program.

INDIA'S TRAINS SCORED

NEW DELHI —Many tourists don't like to come to India because it takes so long to make a reservation on Indian trains, according to the Travel Agents Association of India.

Another reason for their skipping India, the association said, is the publicity given to the increasing number of rail accidents in India.

BURLEY QUALITY HIGH
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Most of the burley tobacco sold under the government loan or support price program during the 1968-69 marketing season was high quality.

This tobacco actually averaged about one per cent per pound more than the bulk of the crop which was sold at auction. Each of the more than 100 grades of burley carries a minimum price under the support program and tobacco which fails to bring the floor price may be consigned under loan. It is processed and eventually resold to manufacturers.

At The Library

Laugh, Cry, And Become Involved

This week at the Deaf Smith County Library are two enticing stories of our gentle land-America-and the beauty within a season.

COME GENTLE SPRING
By Jesse Stuart
Welcome to Jesse Stuart Country — or Appalachia. Mr. Stuart, as he has done in over thirty books, continues here with his masterly descriptions of the gentleness and ruggedness of the land he loves.

COME GENTLE SPRING is a quiet tour of the land and people he knows so well.

You will find more stories of the Powderday clan — about Uncle Bob, who worked his way up to being a country doctor, about the two grandfathers who tried to convince their grandson to take a different side in the Civil War. You will find hunting stories, of course — about Wiff Hendrix who had killed "513 squirrels, 61 ground-hogs, 510 rabbits, 116 possums, 20 raccoons, 482 quail, 73 doves, 35 grouse, 16 pheasants" — and how the people posted their land against the buckskin hunter; about the faithful dog "Black Boy" on his last hunt; about Shan Powderday going hunting on the coldest day of the year to prove he was a man.

There are also stories about the Big Sandy River, Crawhorn Lake, and a hilarious one about the red hen that crowed.

You will laugh, cry, and become totally involved with the characters Jesse Stuart depicts with such tenderness — as they go through meadows, mountains, rivers, cornfields. And you will end up feeling that this part of America — Jesse Stuart country — is really the universe.

HOMELAND
By Hal Borland
"What can a man believe in? I suppose it depends on what a man is looking for, but I know that if you watch a nesting bird and experience a mid-summer dawn you can't fail to believe in something. In life and time, if nothing else. Given those, amo-st anything is possible that a rational man might want."

That paragraph from the Foreword of this new book by Hal Borland tells what it is all about — one man's search for the substance of a belief and the ways in which he has found it and continues to find it.

For some years, Mr. Borland has been writing quarterly articles for The Progressive, and here he has assembled in chronological order twenty of these essays, each one treating a season of the year, the sequence covering the years 1964-1968. As always, Hal Borland makes us smell the woodsmoke in autumn, feel the snow in January, taste the sap in the buckets in early spring, glory in the perfection of a summer dawn, and hear with a feeling of mystery the honking of the wild geese in migration or the barking of a fox at midnight.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Old-Fashioned Cookies Made The Modern Way

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the best cakes ever to hit the American culinary scene is the old-fashioned one called 1, 2, 3, 4 Cake. It got its name for 1 cup of butter, 2 cups of sugar, 3 cups of flour and 4 eggs plus appropriate amounts of leavening, salt, milk and flavoring. The cake was extremely popular in the last century and still is.

But somehow or other an excellent 1, 2, 3, 4 Cookie got lost in the shuffle of recipes. We found a rule for it in "The Boston Cook Book" by Mary J. Lincoln, first published in 1863 and long out of print. Mrs. Lincoln was the first principal of The Boston Cooking School, which Fannie Farmer attended and eventually directed.

When we tried the 1, 2, 3, 4 Cookie, we thought it was worth resuscitating. So here's the recipe just as Mrs. Lincoln gave it except for a few details. In the original recipe the eggs were separated and the whites beaten before they were added; in testing, we found the return. Now on the trail of beauty, there I round me, with it I return. Now on the trail of beauty, there I

1, 2, 3, 4 COOKIES
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
½ pound (2 sticks) butter
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and pumpkin pie spice were the same when the eggs were added without separating and beating the whites. The original recipe called for 1 teaspoonful spice; we use that useful present-day mix-pumpkin pie spice. And still another innovation: for dropping the cookies we like a modern stainless steel cookie dropper — a good gadget to have in the spice.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. If dough is very soft, cover and refrigerate about 1 hour.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls, a few inches apart, onto lightly greased or teflon cookie sheets. If using a cookie dropper, scoop up dough, filling dropper about half way.

Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until lightly browned around the edges — about 10 minutes. With a wide spatula, remove to wire racks to cool. Store in a tightly covered tin box. Makes about 8 dozen.

OLD-FASHIONED COOKIES — Made the modern way with pumpkin pie spice and a convenient cookie dropper.

Chamber Explains Land Sales Act

Companies offering land for sale through the mails are now required to provide prospects with a full rundown about the land and its surroundings, Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, has advised residents.

The requirement is part of the new Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act, which went into effect April 1, Thompson said.

He explained that the purpose of the law is to prevent deception and fraud in mail order land sales which were frequent.

He brought to the attention of the public in recent years by the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership.

NBBB has pointed out that, while many areas have been successfully developed in this manner by responsible, adequately financed companies, some promoters touted "cities" in the desert, retirement home sites in swamps, and "lake resort living" miles from any lake.

U. S. Department of Justice brought indictments against more than 100 unscrupulous promoters, and convictions now number in the scores.

NBBB pioneered in encouraging self-regulation among land sellers and published in 1963 standards for land advertising, since adopted by several states as their guide.

During hearings by a U. S. Senate subcommittee on wasteland wildcaters, NBBB was asked on two occasions to give testimony, and conferred with the subcommittee staff on equitable provisions of proposed legislation.

The rules and regulations governing interstate land sales are administered by the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration.

The rules apply to subdivisions of 30 or more lots with a lot size of less than five acres. Developers are required to list full details of each subdivision in a property report, which must be provided the buyer. The information includes:

- The distance to nearby communities over paved or unpaved roads.
- Existence of liens on the property.
- Whether contract payments will be placed in escrow.
- Existing and proposed utility services and charges.
- The number of homes currently occupied.
- Soil and other foundation problems in construction.
- The type of title the buyer will receive.
- The buyer can cancel a contract or leasing of a lot in a subdivision covered by the law if he is not given a copy of the property report before signing. He also may cancel a contract if the report was delivered to him in less than 48 hours before he signed.
- The law applies to anyone selling or leasing 50 or more unimproved lots in interstate commerce.

MATCHLESS

in power is God. How generously He deals with His world. All of our physical necessities are miraculously supplied by Him. He planned it so all wild creatures could live in abundance. He pointed us human beings to faith in God and challenged us strongly by citing the birds, "Your Father feedeth them." Then pause by the clear stream, take in the fresh air, examine the fruits of His fields and "Be Still and know that He is God." Just who among us would doubt that He gave us the soil, the seed and the sea???

He gave His church for congregating and praising The Lord. It is here He quickens our spirits by the revelation of truth and goodness and feeds our deeper needs with His love and grace. He is the matchless beneficent.

Concerning Veterans

The average World War II veteran, now 49.3 years of age, is fast approaching the higher premium hurdle of 50 if he still retains his GI term insurance, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said today.

In most cases the higher insurance cash outlay at age 50 can be eased in a number of ways, he pointed out.

One way is a modified life plan. If purchased at age 50, it will have a constant monthly premium of $15.90 for a $10,000 policy. However, when the insured reaches the age of 65, the face value of the policy is automatically reduced in half, but the premium remains unchanged.

Coker explained that many people find their insurance needs decline at or near the age of 65. However, the insured who wishes to continue the full $10,000 of his policy may do so without medical examination by paying an additional $5.15 per $1,000 at the age of 65. Thus, for the added $5,000 protection total monthly premiums would be $41.65.

Some 211,000 eligible veterans have taken advantage of this plan since it was made available in 1965. Another popular plan is the ordinary life (663,000 policies) where at the age of 50 the monthly premium would be $31.20 for $10,000 worth of protection. But with the annual dividend paid by NSLI the cost of the premium would be reduced to about $24 a month, Coker said. And, to make it even more convenient to convert from term insurance, the VA Manager reminded veterans that if it is not possible to change the full amount of the policy a portion may be converted now and the remainder continued as term insurance, with the privilege of full conversion later on.

Also, available to NSLI term policy holders are 20- and 30-payment life, 20-year endowment, and endowments that mature when the insured reaches the age of 60 or 65.

Information on policy conversion may be obtained at the VA insurance office where the veteran mails his premiums. The insurance policy number and the veteran's full name and address should be included in all correspondence, Coker said.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - I understand that a law has recently passed which increases the amount of a direct loan which the Veterans Administration can make to a veteran. If so, what is the new amount?

A - Under a law signed by President Nixon on June 6, 1969, the VA may now make direct loans up to a maximum of $21,000. The old limit was $17,500.

Q - My father is permanently and totally disabled due to a service-connected disability incurred in World War II. I am 19 years old and married. Am I eligible for educational assistance from the Veterans Administration?

A - Yes. Marriage does not affect your eligibility to VA educational assistance if you are otherwise entitled under the War Orphans and Widows Educational Assistance Law.

Q - I have a 10 per cent service-connected disability incurred in 1963. I am receiving $18 a month. Why don't I receive $23. A - Your disability was incurred during a peacetime period, so you are paid the authorized peacetime rate, which is 80 per cent (to the nearest dollar) of the wartime rate. The period from Feb. 1, 1955, thru Aug. 4, 1964, is considered peacetime. The Vietnam era, from Aug. 5, 1964, to some future date, is considered wartime.

RISING FOAM

WELLINGTON, New Zealand - New Zealanders drank 24.3 gallons of beer per capita in 1968, reports the government statistician.

This compared with the 24.2 gallons in 1967 and 23.6 gallons in 1966. The increase maintains New Zealand's position as one of the world's most vigorous beer-drinking nations.

BAD HABIT VIENNA - The habit of using his hand in a Napoleon-like pose led to the arrest of a man wanted for robbery. The victim of the robbery remembered that one of the culprits constantly placed his hand between the buttons of his jacket and police had little trouble finding the man nicknamed "Napoleon" by his friends.

Wheat Value Rises On Certificates

Domestic marketing certificates for eligible 1969-crop wheat will be worth $1.52 per bushel, 14 cents per bushel more than for the 1968-crop certificate value. The certificates are based on wheat parity price as of July 1, 1969.

Payments totaling about $800 million will be made over the next three months to approximately 980,000 farmers participating in the 1969 wheat program. This will be about $70 million more than the 1968 crop certificate value.

The payments will be made around harvest time in the various producing states. For instance, some farmers in the Texas-Oklahoma region, who have completed program qualification, may start receiving their payments next week at County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices.

The certificate value is based on the difference between July 1, 1969 wheat parity price of $2.77 per bushel and the 1969 crop national average 10 a n rate of $1.25 per bushel. Certificate payments to farmers are based on projected production on 43 percent of 1969 wheat acreage allotments.

For 1968-crop wheat, certificates worth $1.38 per bushel were issued on 40 percent of the projected production of the allotted acres.

Certificate payments add substantially to the income farmers receive from marketing their 1969 wheat crop. The $800 million in certificate payments when related to estimated production on the 45 million acres of allotment on participating farms reflects an income, as a national average, of 62 cents on each bushel produced by co-operators, as compared to 55 cents on eligible 1968 crop wheat.

In determining total return per bushel for wheat, co-operators divide their certificate payment by their total production to get an average per bushel payment. By adding this to the price they receive in the market, participants in the program find their total return per bushel.

Wheat marketing certificates are authorized by the two-price wheat provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. Under this law, farmers participating in the wheat program are guaranteed 100 percent of wheat parity price for their share of wheat used for domestic food. This substantially bolsters farm income for wheat while permitting support of market prices through loans at levels more competitive in world trade channels.

Millers and others purchase wheat marketing certificates at 75 cents per bushel to cover the quantities of wheat processed for domestic food use. The remainder of the certificate payment is made up by the Government.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA SWIMMER

The first 814 of 25,000 United States troops being withdrawn from Vietnam arrived at the McChord Air Force Base, Washington, Tuesday for a traditional welcome featuring band music, pretty girls, dignitaries, a parade and a salmon bake.

This was nothing new for the men of McChord because about 40,000 pass through there every month, returning from Vietnam or on their way there. What made this flight special is the hope expressed by President Nixon and other top U. S. officials, buoyed by reports of North Vietnamese military setbacks, that it may be the vanguard of greater U. S. troop withdrawals to come.

Speaking of servicemen, I found a poem written by a loved one of a soldier overseas and I thought for those who are waiting for their soldier boys to come home, it might be good reading.

Loving a soldier is not very gay, You know your heart is the price you must pay. It's mostly to have and not to hold. Of loving young and feeling old. It's sending a letter with stamp upside down, To a faraway town. Being in love with only your dreams, To bring thoughts of heaven when lovelight gleams.

You wish it were possible for him to phone, You want him to tell you he's coming home, It's laughter together, Unconscious of the people, the time and the weather.

It is knowing the whisper of his love for you, and whispering softly that you love him, too. Then comes the kiss, that promise of love, Knowing you're watched by the Father above.

It's waving goodbye to him on a plane. Not knowing when you will see him again. Reluctantly, painfully letting him go. When inside you're crying and wanting him so.

You wait for a word that he is well, Days go by and you cannot tell. When his letters come you tremble with joy. Acting like a child with a shiny new toy.

Loving a soldier is unfound tears, Crying so much for those two long years. It's going to church to kneel and pray. And loving him more and more each day.

Being proud of the job he is doing so true, And he's ready to die for his country and you. Loving a soldier is bitterness, tears; it's loneliness, sadness for two long years.

Yes, loving a soldier is really no fun, But it's worth the waiting when the service is done.

If you see a kid running around with a cast on his arm with a hook hanging out the end of it, it's just Van son, better known around our house now as Captain Hook. What really happened, was that he tried to rig him up a scratcher out of a coat hanger and it was a great relief as a scratcher for a time, until he tried to pull it out. That's right, It hung and he not only has a cast on the broken wing, he also has a dandy little hook on the end of it.

Did you hear about the woman who overheard her small son talking to a friend about his baby sister? "She has some teeth, but her words haven't come in yet."

Insecticide Strip Danger Issued

Insecticide strips containing DDVP should not be hung in rooms where infants or ill and aged people are confined, the U. S. Department of Agriculture warned.

Marketed under several brands, the strips are designed to be hung in a room where the insecticide vaporizes continuously to kill flying insects.

To provide greater protection to consumers, USDA's Agricultural Research Service requires inclusion of the following caution statement on labels of the insecticide strips marketed after February 1969: "Do not use in nurseries or rooms where infants, ill, or aged persons are confined."

The Department has determined that substantial supplies of the strips, still available to the public, do not carry the additional caution statement. This public warning is issued to protect consumers who have products in their possession or who obtain a supply without the caution statement.

ARS' Pesticides Regulation Division has notified Shell

Chemical Co., primary producer of the product under the name "No-Pest Strip Insecticide," that this public warning is being issued. The chemical company has been notified to stop distribution of the strips that do not carry the additional caution statement and to take necessary steps to bring products now in distribution channels, including retail outlets, into compliance.

Shell Chemical Co. has advised the Department that a stop shipment order has been issued to their warehouses and to warehouses of their customers.

Part of the supplies of the insecticide strips now available in the market carry the proper caution statement; others do not.

CHAIN REACTION
TRINIDAD, Colo. — In clearing pinion trees from 400 acres of ranch lands in southern Colorado, a contractor attached a 450-foot anchor chain to tow heavy tractors which dragged the chain through the tree stands. Each link of the chain weighed about 65 pounds.
