Wonder just how much a man like Dr. J. A. Hill of the North West State Teachers College, is really worth to a community, or section?

Men of his stripe are so rare that they are not usually appreciated at their full worth until after the last ceremony. We have been scared to death that some larger institution of learning might discover him and steal him away from the Panhandle. That would simply be a calamity for this part of the state. It would be a miracle if another man could be found to replace him who would so steadfastly preach "intelligence and character" in every day life, and live it himself, day by day, as an example. May his tribe increase!

POULTRY SHOW

Concerning that Poultry Show, the spring from which started forth the stream that is now furnishing the farmers of this community their daily running expenses:

Let's don't leave it all to the Hatchery officials to do! There seems to be a disposition to say: "Oh, well, the Hatchery folks are directly interested; they will attend to it."

All wrong. The Hatchery people are already busy doing their part—they will lead in the Show of course, but they need help, and lots of it. Dust off that old rooster and show him off December 10-11-12. Every chicken will count.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS

County Agent Dunkle and Prof. Humble of the Agriculture department of the High School are laying a permanent foundation in the minds and lives of the young folks of this community that will stand steadfastly in later years when put to the strain of life's vicissitudes and temptations. Just journey around with one of them to these Club meetings at the rural school houses and treat yourselves to a real surprise in the character of the work they are doing.

It's almost an impossibility to "teach an old dog new tricks," but let one of these boys or girls become immersed in the joys of studying how to raise good pigs, and chickens, and good calves, and good crops, and it's surprising how the "old folks" watch developments and (whisper this) unwittingly absorb a lot of good from the teachings themselves!

Ain't this weather the cat's whiskers? Boy! Boy! Come to the Plains!

First Snow Fall of Season Arrived Last Saturday

The first snowfall of the 1925 season visited here last Saturday. During the forenoon a driving, wet snow fell for several minutes, but it melted about as fast as it arrived and the total precipitation was very light, just enough to coat the top of the ground. To the north, around the Wildorado and Vega communities, it is reported the fall was heavier.

Since Saturday, however, Hereford has enjoyed the most delightful kind of weather, with bright, crisp days, little wind, and ideal weather for the farmers to gather their crops.

Home Made Philosophy

If you want your "prayer for widows and orphans" to be answered, take them food and other necessities of life. Don't bother the Lord with it; it's your job; don't "pass the buck" to the Lord—He's got enough to keep him busy looking after you.

"TIME RIPE FOR PAVING," SAYS BLACK; "LET'S PAVE THIRD AND FOURTH!"

"Canyon's four miles of paving is a thing of pride to the citizens of our town and an investment that we would not part with at all. At first we could not see how we could afford it—now we cannot understand how we could afford to do without it so long," said President J. A. Hill Monday at the luncheon of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Hill was making one of his thoughtful and beautiful talks and his subject was civic pride and progressiveness. He boosted his town like the town-builder that he is, and said that taxation for such purposes and for educational purposes is not an expense but a sound investment. He pointed out that the town with modern improvements is the town that is everywhere progressive, and the town whose citizens are afraid to spend money for public improvements does not progress, has little property valuation, and stagnates. The speaker said that what this country needs to stress in business, in education and in everyday life is "intelligence and character." "What is there in our lives after all," inquired the Doctor, "if we concentrate on the acquisition of riches and then prostitute our ideas, our characters, and our intelligence to this one thing alone to the neglect of the finer things of this life?"

Dr. Hill's speech was a masterpiece and left a profound impression upon his audience. His hearers were unanimous in the expression of the hope that they would have the privilege of hearing him again.

The high lights in the luncheon were the declaration of President Black that "there is a big boom coming for Hereford," and that he believed the time was ripe to put up to the citizens the question of paving Third and Fourth streets at once and the erection of a City Hall. A special committee consisting of Henry Wilkinson, chairman; A. O. Thompson and Seth B. Holman was named to push these projects, to which Mr. Black added himself. A meeting between the City Commission and this committee is planned for this week end when details will be discussed.

Dr. Overton made one of his famous orations, with G. A. F. Parker as the hero of the "Battle of Canyon", where in Varnon and Clarendon tried to get Rev. Haynes away from Hereford this year and Mr. Parker's valiant stand defeated them in this project.

County Agent Dunkle told briefly of the trip made by himself, Secretary Moss and Prof. Humble to Lubbock last week, when the Tech College was inspected and data secured from the State Experiment farm located there. He gave details which are shown in another column.

The meeting was held at the City Cafe. Next Monday the bunch will break bread together at the Hereford Hotel, and Secretary Moss announces that A. S. Stinnett of Amarillo, booster extraordinary, will deliver an address on the subject of "The Possibility of Piping Gas to Hereford!"

OBERTHIER BUILDING WILL HAVE TWO STORIES BUILT

The new brick building now under course of construction on West Third street by F. H. Oberthier is to have two stories instead of one, according to Mr. Oberthier himself. He was persuaded to make this addition to his original plans after a careful study of local conditions and the future outlook. He will cut up the up-stairs into offices, believing that there is enough demand here to make this venture profitable.

Contractors Buckner, Lambert & Hicks are now busy with the foundation work and actual brick laying will begin in a few days.

REPORTED HERE THAT BILL BOURN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Word has been received here that Bill Bourn, son of Mrs. J. D. Bourn of Hereford, was accidentally killed in California last week. No details are available as Mrs. Bourn is out of town. It is presumed he was electrocuted some way as he was employed by a big electrical concern, but this is mere conjecture. He was raised here and was well known.

Vega Outlaws to Face Town Eleven Thanksgiving Day

That Thanksgiving football game between the Hereford Town Team and the Vega Outlaws is stirring up a lot of interest among local gridiron fans. The more they think about the possibilities of that game the more they like the outlook. Vega has always turned out a fighting eleven and one that takes an awful lot of beating to lose. On the other hand Hereford is full of good talent from which to pick a winning aggregation.

Onals Carroll, who is promoting the contest, has a good list from which to choose. Among them are Glenn Witherspoon, center; Travis Dameron, Taylor Thurmond, Paul Jowell, Joe Bailey Elliston, Clayton Woolery, Ralph Smith, Charles Galbraith, Dallas George and Onals Carroll for the backfield work; and Kenneth Rayzor, Baker Womble, Wesley Higgins, John and Dave McDonald, Earl Wood, Daug Connell, Clarence Karr and C. M. Tepe for linemen.

This game ought to be a good one. It will also be the only attraction offered here on Thanksgiving. It will be played on the High School gridiron and play will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock. It is hoped that a good crowd will avail themselves of this rare opportunity for a good afternoon's sport and also help root for the local boys to trim those Outlaws.

Poultry Show is Being Pushed to Final Conclusion

Much interest is being manifested in the forthcoming Hereford Poultry Show, December 10-11-12. Many persons are asking for information, and special interest is shown in pet stock. Superintendent A. L. Biggs has completed the detailed rules and regulations for the Show, which are shown on another page of this issue.

Accommodations for pet stock and bantams will be provided but no cash or merchandise prizes offered for such entries, ribbons only being given. The committee will visit the merchants this week and secure a list of merchandise prizes for all winners. A big publicity drive is also planned. There never was and probably never will be a better time in which to hold a Poultry Show here. Poultry is a fair price, eggs are high and have brought a good price all the past summer, and prospects are that they will continue to be high in price. In the Show Room is a good place to start the poultry business.

S. D. Burton, raiser of high grade Rhode Island Red chickens at Canyon, is planning to bring some twelve or fifteen of his choice birds to the Show, according to County Agent Dunkle, who visited the Burton pens Monday.

Mr. Burton has been raising Rhode Island Red chickens for the past several years and is expected to furnish some strong competition at the Hereford Show. He has been a big winner at the Tri-State show at Amarillo for the past two or three years, but this will be his first time to show birds at Hereford. Plans are being made to make the local show a big one, and judging from the number of inquiries that are being made it promises to be a success both from the standpoint of quality and number of birds shown.

Paving Project Means Progress For Hereford

(An Editorial)

The announcement by President Black of the Chamber of Commerce that the time is here when paving is an actual necessity, and the appointment of a special committee to work out plans for a paving drive, is in opinion of The Brand, secondary in importance only to the effort to secure more people in the county and to disseminate information leading toward better seed selection and cultural methods in farming.

Upon the last two named projects depends the proper development of the rural communities. Upon the development of the paving project depends in a large measure the necessary civic pride, the "front", the incentive to progress in a municipal way, that is necessary to keep Hereford stepping forward in the front rank of Panhandle cities.

President Hill of the Normal placed his finger unerringly on the nubbin of the thing Monday when he said that investments in paving, high school buildings, courthouses, city halls and other municipal improvements, was not taxation but an investment. And that the community afraid to spend a few dollars for such things was a community doomed to a certain sleepiness and small-town rating.

The Brand believes with all its heart in the policy of more paving, better paving, under a carefully conceived plan of steady advancement and expansion. The special committee to work out such a plan will meet soon with the City Commission and will doubtless submit its findings as soon as possible to the property owners.

Think it over, Mr. Property Owner, Mr. Business Man, Mr. Town Builder. There will be opposition, of course. Anything worth while has to be fought for. There is usually little trouble in finding an argument, but it seems to us this is a project well worth fighting for, if necessary.

Postoffice Will Be Open For Time Thanksgiving a.m.

Postmaster J. A. Wear is planning to give the patrons of his office the best service possible on Thanksgiving Day, which is a legal holiday for postoffice employees.

In order to accommodate the city patrons, as well as the rural residents who may come in to get their mail, Mr. Wear will keep his windows open from 9:00 to 10:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day. The office will be closed for the remainder of the day.

GENERAL GOETHAL, FAMOUS ENGINEER, LOOKS US OVER

General Geo. W. Goethal, U. S. A. famous builder of the Panama Canal was brought to Hereford Thursday morning by an Amarillo party consisting of A. S. Stinnett, F. W. Hardin, City Engineer H. Ban's Jones, Harry Paul, J. N. Roney, J. L. Williams and Mr. Blake. General Goethal is checking up the water gas and natural gas resources of this country for a report that may mean millions in development capital for this section of the country.

Secretary Moss, G. A. F. Parker, J. E. Hill and other members of the Chamber of Commerce and D. L. McDonald in giving the distinguished visitor every available record and all possible assistance in securing data on the water and gas resources. The party went out to Mr. McDonald's irrigated farm, where a well was unleased for the General's benefit. The party returned to Amarillo Thursday afternoon after taking lunch here.

FARMERS WOULD MAKE MORE MONEY WITH SELECTED SEED AND CAREFUL CULTIVATION

"The success of the cotton industry in this section and, in fact, the future of the entire scheme of farming operations here, depends upon two vital things: (1) the selection of early maturing seed of selected breeding, and (2) proper methods in cultivation," declared County Agent R. O. Dunkle Monday at the luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce.

Canyon Eagles on Card at Hereford Friday Afternoon

Captain Artis Russell and his galloping Ponies are training this week as they have never trained before, because they realize that the supreme test will be upon them Friday of this week when they meet the fast Eagle aggregation from Canyon High School on the local gridiron.

"After being defeated by the fast flying Eagles early in the season on the Galloping Ponies over come the aerial attack and the trick work of the visitors and Gallop home to victory?" is the question that local fans are asking themselves. Coach Riggs and Captain Russell will not boast that the Ponies can do this, but both say that every man on the Whiteface eleven will fight until the last whistle in an effort to win this game.

Whiteface hopes were somewhat dimmed early in the week, when the attending physician ordered Sharp, hard hitting fullback, to stay out of practice until Friday, and said that the big line plunger might even have to stay out of Friday's game due to an injury received last week. If Sharp isn't able to start Coach Riggs will use Jno. L. Wilson in the backfield.

Local fans are hoping that every regular will be able to start, because if will take Hereford's strongest combination to overcome the aerial attack of the Flying Eagles from Canyon.

C. W. Humble, business manager, announced that the football squad will stage a "shirt tail" parade through the business section, Thursday evening and then will be given free entertainment at the Star Theatre by Manager Pickett. The "shirt tail" parade is a new form of advertising for the locals, but everything is being done here to get as many fans as possible to be out Friday for the game.

COGDELL LISTS CONTINGENTS FOR ADDITION TO THE CORDOVA

W. M. Cogdell, owner of the Cordova Hotel, announced this week that he had made all final preparations for the enlargement of the hotel and has actually let the contract to the Hancock construction company of Amarillo. Dirt will be broken before week is out and material will begin to arrive at once.

The new addition to the hotel will occupy a space 75x34 feet, two stories high and will include twenty additional rooms and a big lobby. Modern construction is contemplated throughout and when completed Mr. Cogdell believes he will be able to provide Hereford with all necessary hotel accommodations.

COMMUNITY LYCEUM COURSE BY PARENT TEACHER ASSN

The last number of the Community Lyceum Course will be put on by the Parent-Teacher Association, according to announcements made recently. Plans were first made to have the last given as a combination program by the Music Study Club, the Ladies and the Fellowship class of the First Christian church. The program will be given some time during the winter months, but the exact date has not been definitely decided.

This is the first year that the Lyceum Course has been put on by local talent and the idea is meeting with much approval among Hereford citizens. The first number was given recently by the Music Study Club and received much favorable comment.

Mr. Dunkle's statement followed a special trip he made last week, at the request of President Black of the Chamber of Commerce, to the Lubbock Experiment Station, where he secured the Station's records on experiments they have been making for many years with cotton and the sorghum grain. Mr. Dunkle was accompanied by Prof. Humble of the High School Agricultural Vocational department and Secretary Moss of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Dunkle and the official board of the Chamber of Commerce are so profoundly impressed with the importance of this subject that a special committee has been formed to study it, to advertise it, and to systematize the drive for better seed and cultural methods. This committee is composed of Messrs. Dunkle, Humble, Moss, J. B. Jones and J. F. Ward. These men are enthusiastic over the project of injecting real business into local farming operations, and concrete suggestions toward this end may be expected this winter and spring. The local community is filled with men who have been heard to express themselves this fall that had they paid proper attention to seed selection the past year and handled their crops right they would now be in much better financial condition.

Next to "More People" there is no more vital question before the local land owners and farmers, and the matter is of too much importance to be passed lightly or allowed to remain unstudied and unorganized.

New School Will Be Opened With Musical Comedy

As the time for the completion of the new high school building draws near, many are asking about the opening of the auditorium. The work on the building has advanced to the point where all doubt as to the ability of the contractor to finish the building by the middle of December has been removed. This enables the school authorities to announce some definite plans that have been in the making for several weeks.

Soon after the opening of school, the high school teachers, asked for the privilege of giving the first entertainment in the new auditorium, the proceeds to be used for purchasing needed equipment. This request was granted and since that time a committee has been working on the matter. Recently, it has been found that the stage equipment will be ready before the holidays, and the committee is ready to make a preliminary announcement of the plans made.

In seeking to put on something that would be in harmony with the splendid building, the beautiful auditorium, and the effective stage scenery, the committee finally decided to offer a musical comedy. The one selected is, "Miss Cherryblossom, or a Maid of Tokyo", a Japanese comedy. The costumes of the play will be very attractive and will add very much to the interest and beauty of the production. The play will be under the direction of Miss Gladys Kilgore of the high school music faculty. It is her intention, and the intention of those working with her, to make it in every way a first-class production. The building in which it is to be given.

The formal opening of the building will doubtless be held the day on which school is opened after Christmas. At that time the entire building will be equipped and ready for work by the students, and also ready for inspection by the entire community.

PAUL BEFORE FELIX
Lesson Material Acts 23:1-24:27.
Printed Text: Acts 24:10-16, 22-25.
10. And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered.

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I cheerfully make my defence: 11. Seeing that thou canst take knowledge that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem: 12. And neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. 13. Neither can they prove to thee the things whereof they now accuse me. 14. But this I confess unto thee, that after the Way which they call a sect, so serve I the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets: 15. Having hope toward God, which these also themselves look for, that there shall be a resurrection both of the just and unjust. 16. Herein I also exercise myself to have a conscious void of offence toward God and men always.
22. But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying: When Lysias the chief captain shall come down I will determine your matter. 23. And he gave order to the centurion that he should be kept in charge and should have indulgence; and not to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

24. But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, his wife, who was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. 25. And as he reasoned of righteousness, and self-control, and the judgment to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time; and when I have a convenient season, I will call thee unto me.
Central thought: Acts 24:16. "I also exercise myself to have a conscience void of offense toward God and men always."

Connecting Links

In our last study we left Paul off the steps ready to speak to the mob that tried to murder him. And what a wonderful talk he makes to this angry multitude, as with all mobs this one had no reason, it refused to be quieted by Paul's words.

The soldiers threatened to scourge him, but he saves himself by revealing his identity as a Roman citizen.

Lysias, the chief captain, next presents him to the council and chief priests. Paul sized up the situation and decided his only hope was division within the ranks of his appointees. He declared he was a Pharisee. The Pharisees then became his friends. This divided the Sanhedrin and prevented them from reaching a decision on his case.

Forty Jews, when they saw, that the Sanhedrin had failed to convict him, made a vow that they would not eat or drink until they had killed Paul. Boys always know what is going on, so a nephew of Paul's overheard the plot. He went to Lysias and told him. Then the captain became very precaucious with his prisoner. At midnight under heavy guard, he sent him out of the city on a trip to the Roman Governor at Caesarea. He also sent a letter to Felix, the governor, vindicating Paul as far as the Roman law was concerned.

Paul's Defense

Some few days later the Jews came down from Jerusalem to continue their prosecution against Paul. They preferred charges through their lawyer, Tertullus. The governor was the judge, the lawyer the prosecution, and Paul was the defense. The prosecution made three charges. Then when Paul made his defense he denied the first two charges but admitted the third.

It has been charged that Paul in the opening of this defense resorted to flattery. He was rather complimentary, but he spoke no untrue words in praise of the governor. He treated him with respect due his position. No one can be a christian

PRESIDENT J. A. HILL OF CANYON ADDRESSES STUDENTS

The High School students were very much delighted Monday morning when Mr. Dillehay announced that President Hill of W. T. S. T. C. had consented to address the student body. Of course all were grieved when they learned they were to miss a class, but still they wanted to hear President Hill, who is always a popular speaker. The main theme of Mr. Hill's address was "Choosing a Vocation." His advice—for of course speakers are supposed to give advice from the platform—was that everyone should choose a vocation which would benefit the human race most and at the same time give him the greatest amount of pleasure. "Never choose a vocation from a purely selfish standpoint," said President Hill. The address was both serious and humorous—just the type of talk that students like to hear. Every one was interested in the talk, as was manifested by the close attention given to the speaker. We hope to have President Hill with us again in the near future.

THE DOMESTIC ART CLASS

The Domestic Art Girls are accomplishing a great deal this year under the direction of Miss Brown. They are learning to dress appropriately and economically. They are also learning how to make many practical garments for school wear. Three garments have already been completed, also the study of cotton and wool fibres and many other things which should be known. They take into consideration several things in selecting materials to sew on. The main things are: pattern, kind of material, color and the trimming. They also learn to cut their own patterns. Different problems are involved in every garment made, thus giving the girls thorough training. The Domestic Art Girls are ambitious to learn how to be good seamstresses. They feel that by the end of this school term they will have accomplished a great deal toward that end.

HILL GARRISON RETURNS EMPORIA

The departure of Hill Garrison, honorary member of the Senior Class, was a very sad affair to the students of H. H. S. Hill has many friends in Hereford, a fact shown by the crowd gathered to see him off. The entire Senior Class, chaperoned by Miss Clara Mae Glenn, was dismissed to go to the train.

Although we regret very much to have Hill leave, we know it is best and that he will return well and happy, ready to indulge in fun with us. To this day we are eagerly looking forward.

Hill is very brave and one would never guess that he had been through so much by the sunny way he greets you and carries on the conversation. The students should write him, and we know they will because he is so loved by all that they enjoy writing to him.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture visited here a few weeks ago and commended the teacher, C. W. Humble, and the work he was doing. He also stated that we had more equipment in the shop than the school. "Aggies" are waiting with zeal time when the students will be led into the new school building rooms for class and lab. We will be together, with both us between. This will with me to instruct the boys. Knowledge at the same time, is very practically equipped boys are making. which go into this course and they are experienced the den of such work. THE WHITEFACE ANNUAL

The Seniors are having a drive this week to sell their year book, "Whiteface". They are all busy trying to see how much they can advertise it. The Seniors are setting the example by going one-hundred per cent, and all buying one. Many of the underclassmen, in fact all of them, are buying them. But no wonder every one is wanting one, for the Staff has promised so many interesting things for this book. The Staff has been working every day on their part, and the class has decided that they will publish something worth while. If you do not believe that every Senior is backing his Staff, just watch their colors at the Blind Auction Sale that they are giving Nov. 20, at the courthouse. The High School Orchestra will be there with them to furnish music before and after the big sale. There will be fun for every one, every minute. The Seniors are expecting a big help from all the business men, so if they call on you, please do your best for them.

UP AND DOWN THE HALLS

Urlin: "You surely do walk fast."
Dyalthia: "I walk faster when I'm by myself."
Urlin: "I'm glad I'm not walking with you when you're by yourself."

A thought for today: "How long did you study last night?"

Our school has decided that life is a gamble, and that the cards are stacked.

Love all, trust a few, do wrong to none.

There is no justice. If we do study our lessons the teachers won't call on us.

A student who does big things is too busy to talk about them. When the jaws really need exercise, chew gum.

The student who doesn't work needn't expect to pass.

Inez believes that it's easier to look wise than to talk wisdom to the teacher, especially if it's Mr. Riggs.

Today at noon Harvey and Margaret failed to walk down the hall together. Students are wondering what is the matter.

If you hear of any one's being frightened to death in the High School building, you will know that they have stepped on one of the many loose boards in the halls.

Some one must be going to start a tennis shoe store, as several pairs have strayed off on the wrong feet since school started.

There has been a great deal of gossip about the game Friday between Canyon and Hereford. This will be one of the closest games this season, and every Herefordite ought to be out to yell. As it will be the last game played on our field, every person is expected out.

SENIOR DAY FRIDAY

Since we are making a drive for the annual this week, the Seniors decided to wind up the week with Senior Day on Friday. At noon we shall have a lunch at the High School building and we shall have a good time, too. At this time we hope to make the announcement that all students have bought an annual. Fellow students, we can do this with your support.

Then in the afternoon comes the big game with Canyon at which some

Junior Red Cross Now Enrolls Over 5,000,000 Total

The Junior Red Cross now comprises over 5,000,000 American school boys and girls who are enrolled under its motto: "I Serve". No one has expressed better the purpose and ideals of the Juniors than Woodrow Wilson. In one of his messages to the school children while he was president, he said:

"our education will not be complete unless you learn how to be good citizens, and the Junior Red Cross teaches you simple lessons of citizenship and its activities. It will instruct you in ideals and habits of service, will show you how to be useful to your school, and how to aid the older people in your community in their efforts to promote the health and comfort of the people among whom you live. It is your generation which must carry on the work of our generation at home and abroad and you cannot begin too soon to train your minds and habits for this responsibility."

Through the international correspondence, the Juniors of America are constantly exchanging ideas and ideals with Juniors of other lands. Enmity between peoples of different nationalities can usually be traced to a lack of understanding. Through an exchange of portfolios and other correspondence Juniors are weaving bonds of friendship and laying the cornerstone of a permanent world peace.

The Ninth Annual Red Cross Roll Call will be held this year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Junior Red Cross activities are one phase of the Red Cross peace time program whose continuation together with that of other Red Cross services, depends on funds secured through the Annual Roll Call. Enroll in this humanitarian cause. Help the Juniors to make the world a safer and happier place in which to live.

without also being a gentleman. Paul realized that he was standing in the presence of him who had the power of life and death, but it in no way intimidated him. Paul was never afraid of anything—except doing wrong. He was not overawed by the majesty of the governor. He was an ambassador of the King of kings. His defense was brief and comprehensive. He denied the false charges, but very plainly admitted that he worshipped the God of his fathers.

A Good Conscience

This lesson is a study of conscience and character. How badly needed by all classes of people is a study of conscience. Is conscience always a true guide to action? The savage eats his brother with a clear conscience. Paul persecuted Christians with a clear conscience. It is like a compass, normally it points to the right place, but a strong magnet, or a great desire may pull it away from its true position. Conscience is a safe guide only when God is the guide.

Twice in this study Paul speaks of his good conscience, Acts 23:1 and 24-16. It is not by accident that Paul has a conscience void of offense toward God and men. He says he exercised himself to have a conscience. That means exercise. His conscience grew. Sacrifice, control, exercises were the price he paid. He learned how to restrain impulses, how to compel himself to do the right thing although it was difficult, and to avoid the wrong thing although it was easy.

Felix was one of the most corrupt rulers ever sent from Rome to Judea. Tacitus said that he "exercised the power of a king in the spirit of a slave." But Paul made an impression on his hardened heart. And for fear of a greater influence he dismissed him saying he would wait until Lysias came down from Jerusalem. This was just an excuse, and generally an excuse is a lie covered with the skin of truth. Duty may be pressing, but we can save our conscience by waiting for Lysias.

Lysias came, others came. Paul appeared before him at other times but Felix never determined his case. For two years he kept him a prisoner. Luke tells us he was in hopes he would receive money for his release. "Do not be blinded to the truth—that if you have no higher motive than your own personal interest, it means that your soul is for sale if the price be made sufficiently high."

Paul's second appearance before Felix is more important than the first. This time the governor has his unlawful wife with him. The bad things said about Felix and many more can be said about this voluptuous woman. What a dramatic situation. Paul, a prisoner, is standing in the presence of this royal couple preaching the unsearchable riches of Christ. The prisoner becomes the preacher and the judge, the governor and his wife become the audience and the prisoners, as Paul reasons of righteousness, self-control and of the judgment to come. These words reach the remnant of the conscience left in Felix and he was terrified. There is hope for a man who becomes alarmed over his sins; but the alarm means nothing unless it produces repentance.

With Felix the alarm did not produce repentance. He again made excuse by saying "a more convenient season I will call for thee." But it never came and it will never come to any one. T. MORGAN.

Barber Was Help At Sweetwater's Big Auction Sale

"Your Texas breeders have accomplished the unusual. You have just had the best combination sale, to my knowledge, that has been held in America within five years." So stated Col. Fred Reppert of Decatur, Indiana, who enjoys an international reputation as an auctioneer, at the close of the Texas Hereford Association held at Sweetwater, Texas, Friday, Oct. 30th. Col. Reppert, ably assisted in the ring by Col. C. R. Barber of Hereford, did splendid work, as usual. Unquestionably the sale was a tremendous success and it served to demonstrate that better times have come for breeders of purebred beef cattle, as well as for those engaged in the commercial cattle business. Despite the extremely cold, unfavorable weather, the sale was well attended, not only by local cattlemen but many from far distant points within the State. Many came to buy who went away empty handed because there were either not enough cattle to go around or the prices were higher than they had expected. —The American Hereford Journal of Nov. 15th. The reputation of Hereford as a breeding ground for straight bred Anxietv 4th cattle was again demonstrated in this top notch sale.

Out of twenty nine head sold the nine top prices were paid for Herefords, four bulls and five females. The bulls sold averaged $471.25 and the females brought an average of $476.00. Another outstanding feature of the sale was the excellent price paid for the richly bred females as cows hardly ever sell for as much as the bulls.

This sale is a good index on the cattle industry of Texas. No sale anywhere in the United States this fall has averaged but little more than 50% of the prices paid for these well bred cattle consigned from Hereford.

In addition to the quality of Hereford cattle bred in the Hereford country a new asset to the business has developed in Col. C. R. Barber whose ability was very much in evidence at Sweetwater. With Cols. Reppert and Barber at the helm of a Hereford sale the cattle are sure to be well sold.

NOTICE OF SALE OF AN ESTRAY

Notice is hereby given that L. B. A. Witherspoon, city marshal of the City of Hereford, Texas, did take up and impound one Jersey milk cow, about seven years old.

Branded "bar under 5" on left hip, has had the bush pulled off her tail, has no other visible marks or brands.

Said cow was running at large within the corporate limits of the said city of Hereford; which is in violation of a certain city ordinance, which was then and is now in effect in said city.

Above mentioned ordinance is my authority for taking up said animal.

Notice is further given that I will on the thirtieth day of Nov., 1925, at my place on fifth street, between the hours of one and four o'clock proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash the above described cow, unless redeemed by the owner prior to date of sale.

Owner may have above mentioned cow any time before the date of sale by paying for taking up and expenses of keeping.

This the twelfth of Nov., 1925.

HIGH POWERED SEED SALES— MEN WILL FIND HARD GOING

High-power seed salesmen from other portions of Texas, most of whom have seed not at all adapted to this section, will find it hard to peddle their wares in Deaf Smith county since the Hereford Chamber of Commerce has taken definite steps against this practice.

President E. B. Black has just appointed a committee composed of R. O. Dunkle, county agent; C. W. Humble, Vocational Agriculture Instructor; J. F. Ward, farmer; J. B. Jones, local seed dealer, and T. D. Moss, secretary Hereford Chamber of Commerce, to inspect the various kinds of cotton that are being grown in this section so that the best varieties for this particular territory can be determined. The committee will inspect cotton in this county, together with a number of seed variety tests that are being made in this section.

NEIGHBORS

BY ROBERT STEAD

AUTHOR OF "THE COW PUNCHER,"
"THE HOMESTEADERS,"

"Yes. When I wrote him a recent treatise entitled 'An Incident in a Hay Field, or, How About a Check for a Hundred Pounds'—you will remember the time—I covered the ragged edge of my purpose with a dissertation upon the prairie climate. I told him that it consisted of a melange of everything from Naples at its best to Norway at its worst—from sleepy kittens purring in the sun to wild she-tigers raging through the jungle. From climate I moved to grass by easy stages and from grass to hay, and from that to a matter of one hundred pounds. O, the way I explained that this part of a country is not really in the chick belt, although occasionally one came in this far. So now I am commissioned to shoot for the governor a young brook. He thinks the skin would be a bit of all right on the library—don't you know?"

"And, of course, you will shoot one?"
"A request from one's immediate paternal ancestor, accompanied by a draft for a hundred pounds, is not to be lightly disregarded."
"Let me think," said Jack, and for a few moments we remained silent to give his mind elbow room.
"I have it!" he suddenly exclaimed. "Has your governor ever seen a badger?"
"Not likely except possibly at the zoo."

"We must take that chance. You must shoot a badger, Spoo!" which we will formally christen a chinook, and send it to your governor in time for Christmas."
"I think it is wickd to do that," said Jean, whose sympathies were always with the underdog. "No doubt Mr.—Mr. Spoo, senior, is a delightful old gentleman, and it isn't fair. Fancy someone from America visiting him and Mr. Spoo goes showing off the chinook which his son shot on the banks of the Saskatchewan. 'Chinook nothing!' says the visitor. 'That's a badger, as common as rabbits, almost, and I would describe your son as another prairie animal, smaller than a badger, with two stripes down its back.'"
"Oh, listen to Miss Prim!" Marjorie interrupted. "Who would think she had a letter from her mother asking if she was canning any buffalo beans?"

It was not until Spoo's tall form had dissolved out of view in the starlight that it occurred to me how skillfully he had changed the conversation from the subject of Mrs. Alton. It was something to think about.
"We did as Spoo suggested. Early the next afternoon we hitched Buck and Bright to the wagon and wended our slow way southwestward. Jack and I taking turns in the exclamatory exercises by means of which the oxen were kept in motion. The prairie now was very brown and bare, and only the more hardy gophers remained about to whistle saucily at our carry-all lumbering by. The dazzling sunshine seemed to have lost its force, and there was a presage of coming winter in the air.
We dropped into silence save for the noises of our locomotion.
"The world seems to have died," said Jean after a long period of thoughtfulness.
The expression was an appropriate one. The world was, actually, dead. Every blade of grass was a stark little corpse, swaying ghostly to the stir of the cold air. Soon the shroud of winter would be woven about them, flake by flake, mantling them all in its cold, white toub.
"But in the spring it will live again," Jean continued after a pause. "That is the life eternal!"
Jean was a strange girl. Her thoughts went on and on, reaching out, and out. She seemed to live always on the verge of the infinite.
At length we were at Brown's. The rickety shack, smaller than either of ours, presented a sad and forlorn appearance. Three little faces were crowded in a single window that covered our approach. Brown himself was busy building a stable of sods and succeeding very badly in his work. He could scarcely be distinguished from his building material, but when he saw us he shook himself, as a dog shakes off water, and came up, touching his cap.
"We are your neighbors from Fourteen" we announced ourselves. "May we go in?"
"You may, and welcome," he said. "The wife will be a bit fuddled, I'm not the most presentable myself."
Then Jean did a great thing; one of those wonderful things that no one but Jean seemed to think of. She clambered to the side of the wagon and held our her arms.
"I'm all dirt Miss," Brown protested. "I'm all earth and sand." But he came slowly forward to her outstretched arms, and when his hands reached hers he took her and gently helped her down.

"Thank you, Mr. Brown," she said. But Brown was looking at her and at us with eyes that had suddenly gone misty with a mist not of the sods or of the sands. Two little pools of water gathered and streaked a slow, dusty course across his grimy face.
Inside we found Mrs. Brown a bit fuddled, as her husband had predicted. At first she merely stood wringing her hands, but when Jean and Marjorie kissed her, and then kissed the little Browns, the veil suddenly lifted and she was all kindness and hospitality. What a day it was after we began to get acquainted! Marjorie and Jean had brought some homemade candy, and in a few minutes the little Browns were smeared and happy and slipping gently about looking into the faces of our girls as though they verily believed them angels.

It was dark and starry when we hitched the oxen to the wagon, and shook hands all round, and kissed the children all round, and the girls kissed Mrs. Brown and Mr. Brown forgot himself and kissed the girls and Jack and I almost kissed Mrs. Brown, and we drew slowly away waving our hands and watching the five figures framed in the doorway against the yellow light of the oil lamp on the opposite wall.

Our experience with the Browns encouraged us to cultivate the acquaintance of our other neighbors, and as the short, bright days of November wore by the low-hanging sun often saw our ox-wagon wending slowly across the prairies, and the north star and the great dipper were the silent witnesses of its return to Fourteen. Sometimes, too, the great magician of the North would light his mimic candles, and we would creak homeward in the weird light of their flickering battalions mingling on the stage of the universe. Smith, the Scotsman, and Burke, the American, received us with undivided hospitality and that strange sense of common interest which is the most priceless thing about pioneer life; one of the rich qualities of human nature which seems inevitably to dry up in the more complex civilizations. Ole Hansen entertained us for a full hour in the stable before his buxom Olga consented to admit us into the house. When at last we were granted that privilege there was evidence of hurried scrubbing of floors and faces.
"My wife bane all the time just on the yump," Ole explained apologetically. "Some time Ay tank by d-n we have too many kids, eh?" It appeared that Ole was beginning to harbor some modern ideas about the size of families. His opinion that six was "just a nice commence" was being shaken. The hoisting problem was coming home to him and bearing its inevitable fruit.
No such radicalism had yet filtered into the mind of the Russian, who for the sake of convenience, we continued to call Sneezit. He met us stolidly where the trail wound down the bank of the gully near to his dugout. He wore a long sheepskin coat, with the wool still on it, high boots drawn well up on the thigh, and a bushy, black beard. He regarded us in silence, and at length Jack spoke.

The General Conference is the law-making body of the Methodist Church, which meets every four years. The next session will be held next May. It is an honor, and a token of the confidence of a man's friends to be elected a delegate to that body. The Northwest Texas Conference has ten delegates to the General Conference, five preachers and five laymen. The clerical delegates elected at Canyon were Revs. A. L. Moore, of Stamford; R. A. Stewart, formerly of Sweetwater, now of Stamford; O. P. Clark, of Vernon; J. W. Hunt, of Abilene, and L. N. Stuckey, formerly of Abilene, now of Amarillo. The laymen elected were: Hon. Thos. F. Turner of Amarillo, J. H. Moore of Lubbock, G. W. Backus of Vernon, S. M. Shelton of Abilene, and J. L. South of Throckmorton.
The Conference took distinct advance steps along educational and Missionary lines. The two Conference schools, Charendon College, and McMurry College, have both been raised to the rank of "A Grade" Senior colleges. The Conference, realizing the financial needs of these two schools, asked each charge to raise one dollar per member to help maintain them, and plans to inaugurate in the near future a campaign to raise a half-million dollars as an endowment fund for them. A stirring missionary appeal was made to the Conference by Dr. Ruff of Nashville, and a special missionary offering pledged amounting to more than $24,000.
Many Hereford people attended the Conference on Sunday, taking lunch and spending the day. It was a high day, with a feast of good things spiritual as well as material. The off-time Methodist Love-feast, and the Bishop's sermon in the morning, the Memorial service in the afternoon, held in honor of the preachers and their wives who have died during the year, the preaching services by Dr. Hicks of S. Rev. Haymes Was Returned Here By M. E. Conference

The sixteenth session of the Northwest Texas Conference came to a close last Sunday night at Canyon. Bishop James E. Dickey of Waco presided over the Conference, and Rev. A. L. Moore, Presiding Elder of the Stamford District was secretary.
Canyon is the smallest town that has ever entertained this Conference, but it seemed to be the universal opinion of the delegates that they were never better entertained. All the churches of the city, as well as the College, co-operated in the entertainment.
The two outstanding interests of the Conference were the question of Unification and the election of delegates to the General Conference. The Plan of Unification, which is being voted upon by all the Conferences of Methodism, did not carry in this Conference, being voted down by 155 to 65. The Conference later passed unanimously a resolution stating that their vote on the present plan was not to be interpreted to mean that the Conference would not be favorable to unification under some suitable plan. The goal of the Unification movement is the merging into one organization of the Northern and Southern branches of Methodism.

the Amarillo District. J. O. Haymes was returned to Hereford for the second year.

G. A. F. Parker was a lay delegate to the Conference from the Plainview District.

The local Methodists sent up a fine report to the Conference. There were 105 additions to the Church during the year, there has been a gratifying growth of all the organizations of the Church, and the budget raised for all purposes was more than nine thousand dollars. The pastor and membership of the Church are optimistic, and expect an even more prosperous year this year than last.

offers you 3 major advantages in Quality, Price and Protected Investment

THE average man on the street today knows that through more efficient manufacture, standardization of parts, etc., all makers offer him more for his money than ever before.

All makers claim greater things for their product—and can prove them. All makers rest their case on more economical manufacturing due to quantity production under modern efficiency methods. All cars are fair value but there is a best value.

Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines—yet one-fourth of the cost of an automobile is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies—yet one-third of the cost of a car is in the body.

Only two makers have adequate facilities for making all bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings: Ford in the low-price field and Studebaker in the fine-car field.

One-Profit Value

Because of its unique manufacturing facilities, Studebaker eliminates profits which all other quality car manufacturers must pay to outside parts or body makers. Savings effected in this way run to hundreds of dollars on some models. Thus Studebaker is able to use finest steels, finest woods, finest engineering and superlative workmanship in its cars; then to add costly extras . . . and still charge no more than competing cars.

Unit-Built Construction

One-Profit facilities result, too, in Unit-Built construction. In cars designed and built as units. The hundreds of parts used in a Studebaker car are Studebaker. They function together as a unit, resulting in longer life, greater riding comfort and higher resale value for you. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation thus are built into Studebaker cars. Records of more than one hundred thousand miles are not uncommon.

And "No-Yearly-Models"

As a natural outgrowth of those two factors, a third great advantage to the buyer is attained . . . "No-Yearly-Models." Because all phases of manufacture are directly under Studebaker control, Studebaker cars are constantly kept up-to-date. Improvements are continually made—not saved up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized. As an example of the value One-Profit manufacture makes possible, see the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Studebaker's Lowest Priced Sedan—but all quality

THE fine Studebaker Standard Six Sedan illustrated below is a real four-door sedan. It is upholstered in genuine wool cloth. Carpets are wool. Windows are real plate glass.

The equipment includes an 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, ash receiver, rear-vision mirror, stop light, dome light, safety lighting control on steering wheel, automatic windshield cleaner, coincidental lock to steering gear and ignition controlled by same key operating door and spare-tire locks, and full-size balloon tires. All instruments are grouped under glass on a silver-faced dial set in a beautiful walnut finished panel.

But the most important superiorities of this Sedan are concealed within the framework of the body and in the chassis.

Body pillars, for instance, are of northern white ash, cross-members of hard maple. We pay a premium for steels of extra toughness.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of its size and weight, according to the rating of the N. A. C. C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The motor is not built for excessive speed, but rather for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour. It is built for a long, quiet life—not for spectacular stunts.

We will gladly demonstrate this car and finance its purchase on Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan.

Service Xmas Day at Postoffices, Says Mr. New

There will be no service to patrons Uncle Sam's postoffice anywhere in the United States of America on Christmas Day this year, says Postmaster General Harry S. New, in an official communication just received from the local Postmaster, J. A. Wear. The reason for this change and the policy of the Postoffice Department in the matter is clearly defined in the letter, which is quoted in full below. Mr. New is very anxious to serve the patrons of his office in every possible way, and asks that the citizens here take note of the new ruling and MAIL CHRISTMAS PACKAGES EARLY:

While Christmas Day is a legal holiday, the exigencies of the Postal Service at this season of the year have been such that in years past it has been felt necessary to make deliveries of mail and give substantially the same service on Christmas Day as on other days. Two years ago the Department made an effort to break this custom as far as possible and set 12 o'clock noon as the time for cessation of business. The experiment worked reasonably well, and year ago the time for closing was moved to 11 o'clock in the forenoon. This permitted one street delivery in the morning, although no rural delivery.

It has been the hope of the Department that this year there might be no delivery by carriers and that the office might be put on a holiday basis on Christmas Day, and I direct that this be undertaken, although it must be understood to be in the nature of an experiment. It is the duty of the department to give reasonable postal service to the public. If the public, however, may be reasonably well satisfied with the service we can give without regular service on Christmas Day, it will be gratifying to me. For this purpose, in part, and also for the purpose of making certain of the delivery of all mail before Christmas Day, the department is now making this announcement and inaugurating a "Mail Early" campaign of publicity.

Postmasters are asked to secure as far as possible the cooperation of the newspapers, chamber of commerce, public school teachers, theatres, picture houses, and all other available agencies for publicity in this "Mail Early" campaign. The response of the public to this appeal and the success of the experiment will determine the policy of the future.

Postmasters will therefore suspend all work at 12 o'clock midnight, December 24, except to retain on duty on Christmas Day only such employees as are required to make the regular holiday dispatches of first class mail to trains and to receive, but not to work, incoming mail from the trains. There will be no city delivery, village delivery, or rural delivery on Christmas Day.

At 12 o'clock midnight, December 25, such activities as usually take place at that time may be put in operation and on the following morning activities should be resumed with vigor and enterprise in order that such mail as is left over in its destination very promptly.

This advance notice is to that postmasters may at once organize themselves and their operation of the public. This plan successful primer. It is realized that it is a great undertaking.

WHATS DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Furnished by West Texas Chamber of Commerce

Littlefield.—This town claims to have more membership in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce per capita than any town in West Texas. R. F. Bennett, who was here this week, secured sixty memberships here and was told to call again if that was not enough. Littlefield is awake to the benefits derived from loyal support of the organization and is unanimously behind the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Colorado.—R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will speak here on the evening of November 30. He is to make a campaign along the T.P. reaching as far as this campaign itinerary for the entire trip is: Hermington 4:30 p. m., Nov. 19; Roscoe, noon, Nov. 20; Lorraine, 3 p. m., Nov. 20; Colorado, 8 p. m., Nov. 20; Big Spring, noon, Nov. 21; Stanton, 8 p. m., Nov. 21; Big Spring, Sunday, Nov. 22, he will speak at the First Baptist Church; Lamesa, noon, Nov. 23; Midland, 8 p. m., Nov. 23; Barstow, 10 a. m., Nov. 24; Pecos, noon, Nov. 24; El Paso, Nov. 25. Mr. Lee may stop at Balmoreah Nov.

Coleman.—The Heart of Texas district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held here December 18, and preparations are already under way to make this the greatest district convention ever held. This district includes a number of counties in central west Texas and some unusual features will be staged during the convention.

Robert Lee.—A big irrigation meeting was held here Nov. 13. Eminent men in irrigation were here and high officials of the Orient Railroad were present to encourage the project. A. Lincoln Fellowes, head of the United States Reclamation Bureau, made the principal talk. West Texas Chamber of Commerce was represented by E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager of the organization. The project here is located on the Colorado River and is potentially one of the greatest projects in the country. It will be entirely located in Coke county.

Abilene.—Armistice Day was celebrated in appropriate manner all over West Texas. Many towns staged parades. Prominent figures of the state and nation spoke at various points over West Texas. Many cities enjoyed football games and athletic contests. The religious side of the holiday was not overlooked. Appropriate ceremonies being held in churches over the entire section. Practically every city of consequence in the section observed the holiday.

Midland.—The ordinary "pie" melon which grows wild throughout West Texas is the best medium known with which to poison rabbits. Experiments here have demonstrated this fact. Farmers of the Midland country are being urged to haul in and preserve these melons for use in fighting the pests. The melons ordinarily considered valueless are meeting with ready sale for this purpose.

Floydada.—A direct highway from Post through Floydada to Clarendon connecting the Glacier to Gulf with the Colorado to Gulf is now assured. Crosby county has let the contract for the road down the cap rock leading to Post. This road will be a great asset to Floydada as well as a convenience to tourists.

Clovis, N. M.—This city was able to greatly reduce city taxes by the sale of the water and light plant which has been municipally owned, to a private corporation. City taxation has been reduced from $64,050 to $33,400 as a result of the sale.

Baird.—Callahan county now has a county farm demonstration agent. Farmers and townspeople of the entire county joined in petitioning the commissioners' court of the county to appropriate the necessary funds to secure the work and the court allowed the petition. Callahan county is making great strides agriculturally.

Sagerton.—The Southwest precinct of Haskell county voted bonds in the sum of $100,000 for hard surfacing the highway through this corner of the county.

I see where some of the Foreign Nations say they are going to FUND their debt to America, and all the Papers are all excited about it. But the BULL'S EYE is a Paper that never misleads our readers (either one of them). FUNDING a debt means about the same thing as having a fellow that has owed you for years, come to you and say "I am going to make arrangements to take up that loan I owe you just as soon as I can collect it from some fellows who owe me." So don't by any means get FUNDING mixed up with PAYING. The Foreign Nations are just stalling until another War comes along and the first thing you know our debt will be four Wars behind. We have enough saved up to pay, but they are using it to enforce Prohibition.
BULL DURHAM forgot to mention that it's what the Foreign Nations are paying us in. The BULL DURHAM without

COMMUNITY NEWS FROM THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

NORTH EAST CORNER (Fairview-Union Schools)

We all realized Saturday morning that winter was here in real earnest. The snow was falling at a rapid rate all day but melted mostly as it fell. The threshing that was to begin Monday morning will be delayed a day or two.

Some of our folks attended the wrestling match at Hereford last Thursday night and they say it was good and enjoyed by all.

W. J. McClain and wife made a business trip to Amarillo last Thursday. Mrs. Earl Phillips of Hereford visited a few days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Phillips here.

Jesse Bowen had lots of fun with his old Ford last Sunday night as she positively refused to go even after his engine was running perfectly. Jesse says that the man who wrote about a Ford always rearing to go must have been talking about some of this one's ancestors, but anyway Jesse proved himself a gentleman for the language he used was perfectly fit for both ladies and gentlemen. Mrs. W. B. Phillips of Hereford is here visiting her son, C. O. Phillips.

Mortgage Financing of Our Farms Is Being Studied

A study of farm mortgage financing in Texas has just been completed by Dr. V. P. Lee, Professor of Agricultural Economics, A & M College in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Information supplied by 177 financial institutions and insurance companies which make farm mortgage loans in Texas, has been analyzed and presented with pertinent discussion in Texas Station Bulletin No. 330, which is available for free distribution with those making requests to Dr. B. Youngblood, Director, College Station, Texas. The 177 banks and companies stud-led have a total of $252,448,122 in first mortgages on Texas farms and $1,727,382 in second mortgages, which amounts represent probably one-half of all the farm mortgages in the State. The farms mortgaged as security for these loans are in most cases valued at more than twice the amount of the loan. The average interest rate charged on first mortgages by those institutions ranges from 5.5 per cent by the Federal Land Bank to 8.45 by the commercial banks. Mortgage loans made by commercial banks run one to five years; by farm mortgage companies, insurance companies, and trust companies, five and ten years; and by Federal and joint stock land banks more than thirty years. A very large part of the loans made by farm mortgages, insurance, and trust companies, as well as by the commercial banks, are paid off in a lump sum at the end of the given period of the loan. All loans of Federal and joint stock land banks are paid on the amortization plan, or at the will of the borrower after five years. Fifteen per cent of the loans of farm mortgage companies are made on the amortization plan. More than half the loans of farm mortgage and trust companies are used for the immediate purpose of purchasing land and making improvements; but in the case of insurance companies and the Federal and joint stock land banks 53 to 78 per cent of the current loans are used to pay off old land mortgages. A number of the institutions studied consider that the Texas homestead law tends to increase the interest rates paid by farmers and often prevents borrowing when funds could be used to the economic advantage of the borrower.

THOR JENSEN THROWS MAN. TELL: TO WRESTLE FARLEY
Thor Jensen won two falls out of three from Dutch Mantell at the Star Theatre last Thursday night in a hot wrestling match. Each won a fall and then Mantell lowered his head and charged Jensen. The latter simply stepped out of the way. Mantell rammed his head against the wall and, while he was wondering what made little birdies sing Jensen pinned him and took the long end of the pot. A fair crowd witnessed the bout, which was rough in spots and very fast.
Jensen will wrestle Cal Farley at Amarillo Friday night.

The animal maintained a pace of forty miles per hour for ten miles before being finally run down by Mr. Hill. Miss Lura was the executioner.

RALPH SMITH'S MERCHANTS BAND IN FINE RECITAL
Director Ralph Smith and his Merchants Band gave a rattling good concert in the District Court room Thursday night. The crowd was not what it should have been, and did not compliment so excellent a musical organization as Mr. Smith presented to them, but those fortunate enough to attend were given an evening of genuine musical enjoyment and Mr. Smith and his boys received warm applause for their efforts.
The band is growing steadily, and improving with every public appearance. It deserves better backing than it is getting. Next time they should have "standing room only" for their concert.

PROGRESSIVE COMMUNITY'S LIVE-AT-HOME DRIVE GOOD
The live at home plan seems to have been perfected in the Progressive Community in Deaf Smith county by the organization of the Community Canning Club. Twelve families are included in the organization and during the past season over 6,000 quarts of meats and garden products have been canned. Meats, pumpkin, potatoes, etc., will be canned this winter.
The organization has a 100 quart pressure cooker and a canning house. Each member paid in $10 as an entry fee, and then sold enough canned stuff in advance to pay for the rest of the equipment. All the canning work was done co-operatively; that is all the members of the club worked regardless of whose products were being canned.
The season's work included 1463 cans of corn, with Mrs. Ray Hershey the big individual contributor with 300 quarts; 760 cans of beans and peas with Mrs. Ray Hershey again ahead with 125 quarts; 346 cans of tomatoes, with Mrs. Ira Ricketts in the lead with 76 quarts; 775 cans of peaches and pears with Mrs. G. W. Lewis ahead with 100 quarts; 435 cans of sweet potatoes with Mrs. G. F. Lewis again in the lead with 75 cans; 426 cans of beef and pork with Mrs.

Chas. Hodges leading with 80 quarts; 150 cans of pumpkin with Mrs. Chas. Hodges ahead with 30 quarts. Some 775 cans of products have been put up for people outside of the community by the organization.
Figuring the cost of the 6,000 quarts at twenty cents each if purchased on the market, these ladies have saved over $12,000. Practically all the stuff canned would have otherwise been wasted. Practically all the was done during their spare time. Every member of the club will have a surplus of canned stuff after a year is over. The live at home plan as is being practiced in this community will be copied by other communities in Deaf Smith county, according to County Agent R. O. D. It is receiving favorable comment over this entire section.
