Council Approves Housing Plan; Limit Set At Thirty

Permission to move no more than 30 FHA (Federal Housing Administration) homes into Hereford was granted Monday night by City Commissioners.

The action came after commissioners were informed by Chamber of Commerce President Earnest Langley that FHA officials will sell 193 homes Friday in Amarillo. The homes have been reclaimed by FHA for various reasons, and will be sold to the highest bidder.

Langley, who is also attorney for the city, pointed out that the FHA would approve sale of the homes only if the city in which they are to be moved has agreed that they may be moved in.

During lengthy discussion, commissioners came to the conclusion that they would not be hurting the economy of Hereford if they accepted even as many as 100 houses, and could be doing something about the housing shortage in the city. They felt that 30 homes, if local persons should happen to get that many, would serve as a test since other homes will be sold soon by the FHA and the same procedure may occur.

Commissioners were told that the 193 homes to be sold Friday are of lesser quality than those which will be sold later, and local persons may not even want to bid on them. A minimum bid of $550 has been set by the FHA.

Local contractors and builders have indicated that they will purchase such homes, move them to Hereford and rebuild them for sale at approximately $8,000 to $10,000. This would allow persons in the lower income brackets to purchase their

Annual Banquet Is Set

Irv Wermont of Boston, Mass., described as a "man of many talents," will be featured speaker during the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet set for next Thursday (Feb. 13) in the County Bull Barn.

Also highlighting the banquet, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be naming of the "Citizen of the Year" by the Hereford Lions Club. Lions President Ray Moore will make the presentation.

Wermont, who currently is Public Relations Director of a large New England corporation, is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Law, and Emerson College, where he majored in speech.

Author of a book entitled "Here's How to Remember," Wermont has presented, in addition to his after-dinner talks, seminars on "Memory and Personality Development" to executives and supervisory personnel of the nation's largest corporations.

Wermont is described as "having thrilled audiences all over the country with his theory that people would live longer and have richer lives if they would change their worries for laughs." Theme for his talk here will be "Laughter... The Secret Weapon."

Catering the banquet will be G. D. Caison of the Caison House in Hereford, while dinner music will be provided by Elson Clark on the organ.

Retiring directors will be honored and the top membership salesman of the year recognized. Members of the Chamber have extended an invitation to their neighbors to join them in enjoying the banquet.

Tickets to the banquet are $5 per person, and may be obtained from any director or by calling the Chamber office in Hereford at 806-364-3333.

own home, commissioners decided.

Hereford residents wishing to bid on the Amarillo homes should call City Hall to get a letter which states they have permission to move the homes into Hereford, should they be low bidder.

In other action Monday night, several residents of the Green Acres Addition appeared before the commission to see what could be done about alley paving along Mimosa Street.

The men were told by the city that under city ordinance streets and alleys paved by developers must meet certain specifications set up by the city before the city will maintain them.

City Manager Dudley Bayne showed the men copies of letters sent last June and October to the paving contractor and developer stating that the alley had not met specifications and would not be accepted by the city.

After explanations as to what the city will and will not do in connection with the alley, the men said they would take the matter up further with the other parties involved. They also received explanations on the condition of Mimosa Street, being told that it would be maintained by the city.

In a recent special meeting, commissioners purchased several pieces of equipment for the Health Department. Included were a side loader type trash hauler with a Ford C-800 truck for a total of $14,771.43 from the Pak-More Company of San Antonio, and 80, four-yard trash containers for a total of $12,093.

The trash containers were bought with the agreement to buy 20 more if the city wants them. Bayne said the city has a five-year plan in which the new trash containers will be placed in residential alleys over much of Hereford and eliminate the trash cans.

Also purchased was a side lift trash hauler, which will be mounted on the present 20-cubic yard Pak-Mor body, for a total of $3,481. It will be used as a replacement.

During the special meeting, commissioners denied a request for a right of way easement by Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative to put a line on property at the airport. It was pointed out that the Federal Aviation Agency does not allow easements for poles near airports.

Approved was a replatting of two blocks in south Hereford by Paul Schroeter. The property is not yet in the city.

Commissioners also agreed to see COUNCIL, Page 2

Flu Epidemic Rises Absentee School Totals

The current flu epidemic has hit the Hereford schools with a high percentage of absentees, according to Hereford Schools Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. It has gone as high as 13.8 percent of the student body.

Clark reported that the absentee figures are being watched closely over the past eight school days in view of a possible temporary closing until the epidemic is passed.

However, Dr. A. T. Mims, who is also secretary of the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees, reported to the other trustees and administrators that he has talked the matter over with several Hereford Doctors with the conclusion that the illness affecting the children lasts in most cases no more than one or two days.

The high figure was reached Monday with a total of 669 absent from the Hereford schools. However, the figure — although still high — declined Tuesday and Wednesday to 624 and 504, respectively.

Beginning with Monday of last week, the total was 523. It then dropped to 455 on Tuesday, but Wednesday's absentees rose to 518, Thursday's to 562, and Friday reached 660.

PESTY ACCIDENT — One person was injured and damages totaled approximately $1,600 as the result of this accident Friday afternoon one mile west of Hereford on U.S. 60. Receiving a broken leg in the mishap was Arvie Gonca, an employee of the Loyal Pest Control company. He was dismissed from the hospital Tuesday afternoon. Driver of the car was Mrs.

Ruth Stevick of Friona. Both vehicles were going east, highway patrolman said, when Mrs. Stevick attempted to turn left and was struck from the rear by the panel truck. A citation was issued for failure to control speed. Volunteer firemen were called to wash down the pavement because of the gasoline. —Staff Photo

New School All Electric

The new elementary school building to be constructed in south Hereford will be all electric.

Under the recommendation of architect Herbert Brasher of Lubbock — that the type building planned (hexagon) would be more feasibly operated with electric heating, refrigeration and cooking — the Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees passed on the motion unanimously at their special 6 a.m. meeting Tuesday at the Caison House.

Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. also reported that several stadiums and plans had been inspected in lieu of the football stadium improvements here. He said that Brasher would present additional plans at the regular trustee meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday night in the School Administration Building.

On behalf of the school location, Clark reported that he had discussed the Highway 395 school crossing at the Labor Camp entrance with representatives of the Texas Highway Department. While the department was not favorable toward an overpass ramp, he said that they did discuss the possibilities of a sidewalk alongside the highway and possibly a fence to aid in protection.

Children Six To 18 Must Be Enumerated Now

All parents who have children born after September 1, 1951, and before September 1, 1963, who have not included them in the school census in Hereford, are asked to call Mrs. Dorothy Mercer, census trustee, at either her office at 364-0606 or home 364-0118, as soon as possible.

Mrs. Mercer said that all children here in the 6 to 18 age bracket must be enumerated. She pointed out that all children born after Sept. 1, 1966, and those born prior to Sept. 1, 1951, are not included in the census.

Meeting Monday Is On Beef Cattle

The Deaf Smith County Livestock Committee will sponsor a Beef Cattle Producers Meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Main subject of the meeting will be improved pre-conditioning of beef cattle. The meeting is expected to last about two hours.

County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride explained that "one of the most serious problems of the industry has been the problem of getting cattle acclimated and preventing diseases that normally are associated with shipping and moving of cattle. Many thousands of dollars can be saved annually through improved pre-conditioning."

Following introductions and a discussion of objectives by McBride, the program will begin at 7:35 p. m. with Dr. C. E. Dyht, Clarendon veterinarian, who will discuss "Pre-conditioning — health aspects."

At 8:05 p. m., Dr. Lowell Schake, area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock, will discuss "Nutritional aspects of pre-conditioning" until 8:35 p. m. A 10-minute coffee break will follow.

Final speaker on the program will be Ed Garnett of Amarillo, area farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who will will speak on "Economics of pre-conditioning." From 9:15 until 9:30 p. m., the three speakers will make up a panel for a question and answer session.

The beef cattle feeding industry is one of the most rapidly growing industries on the High Plains, pointed out McBride, with around 300,000 head of beef cattle being fed in Deaf Smith County annually.

Especially invited to attend the meeting Monday night are feed lot operators and employes, as well as all beef cattle producers.

Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home. Mr. Cawthon was born Sept. 22, 1926, in Hereford. He was a veteran of military service in World War II, and a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Cawthon of Hereford; three brothers, J. W., C. W., and E. W., all of this city; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Ruth Ford of Amarillo, Mrs. Opal Jones of Littlefield, Mrs. Thama Pearson of Hobbs, N.M., and Mrs. Gladys Leach of Childress.

Television Set Stolen At Motel

Theft of a small television set from the Holiday Motor Motel on West Highway 60 was reported to Hereford Police Saturday afternoon.

Motel officials told police that sometime during the previous three nights, someone had broken into a motel room through a south rear window and took a small television set valued at $150.

The theft occurred on one of the nights between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., police were told.

Plan To Improve Hiways

Highways in Deaf Smith County and two adjoining counties are among those included in a $8,167,000 supplement to the 1969-1970 Consolidated Highway Program which will continue upgrading of Texas highways.

The following projects, according to District Engineer Charles W. Smith of Amarillo, will be done at an estimated cost of over $1 million. (See story inside for information on state projects.)

U. S. Highway 60, from the west city limit of Hereford southwest to the Castro County line, will be made into a four-lane divided highway at an estimated cost of $675,000.

The cost will include purchase of existing FM 1087 north and for a distance of 6.1 miles. "A short section of this highway was previously programmed for reconstruction and this allotment will complete the entire portion as noted," said Smith.

U. S. 385, from U. S. 66 in Vega to one mile south of the Deaf Smith County line, will be widened, reconstructed and resurfaced at an estimated cost of $391,800.

This project, which will cover a distance of 3.2 miles, also includes a short curb and gutter section in the city of Vega.

William V. York, supervisor resident engineer of the Texas Highway Department in the Hereford area, told the Brand Tuesday that the project on U. S. 385 southwest of Hereford possibly could start late this fall. He said several things, including purchasing of right of way, will vary the starting date.

York said the other project, which is mainly in Oldham County, probably will not start until early in 1970. The project, which includes a short curb and gutter section in the city of Vega, will be delayed until Vega has details of the work ready.

At the present time, York explained, work is continuing on roads in the northwest part of Deaf Smith County. One project — See PLAN Page 3

Developments Of Foundation Listed

Latest developments at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway were described by personnel of the Foundation during a meeting Tuesday night at the Hereford Community Center.

The meeting was called at the request of members of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation from Deaf Smith County, with special invitations being sent to key people who have been especially instrumental in the organization's growth. Approximately 25 persons were present.

Dr. Thomas C. Longnecker, executive vice president and director of the Foundation, pointed out that the High Plains Research Foundation came into existence as an agricultural research and educational institution for West Texas in September, 1956, following the purchase of 310 acres of irrigated land in the Halfway community, 15 miles west of Plainview.

The Foundation was organized and located in West Texas at the request of local agricultural leaders and businessmen who saw the need for a privately supported research and educational organization. The Foundation's operation is governed and controlled by more than 100 Trustees made up of farmers, businessmen and agricultural leaders of the Plains area.

R. G. Peeler of Hereford is a vice president of the Foundation and Leo Witkowski of Hereford is a trustee on the Executive Committee. Members of the Board of Trustees include Steve Bavousett of Dawn, and Leo Forrest, Palmer Norton, Henry Sears, Peeler and Wit-

Funds for operation of the High Plains Research Foundation, pointed out Dr. Longnecker, are provided by farmers, ranchers and businessmen. Even though the Foundation receives no tax money, it is operated as a public service institution and is open to the public at all times. "The research program is coordinated with and designed to complement the research underway at state, federal and other research and educational organizations operating within the Plains area.

Three basic objectives of the research program are (1) increase yields of existing crops through improved varieties and production practices in fertilization, irrigation, weed control, land preparation, etc.; (2) finding new crops that can be added to the agricultural economy; and (3) determine ways and means of conserving and using more efficiently all available water supplies for the Plains.

During the early portion of his talk, Dr. Longnecker pointed out that the small farmer must find an additional source of income if he wants to survive.

According to Dr. Longnecker, raising swine offers a farmer the chance to make an additional $4,000 to $5,000 a year on a small tract of land without a great outlay of money.

The scientist urged those present to promote the swine industry, but he also stated that the pig farmer in his area hasn't learned the fundamentals of disease prevention.

Dr. Longnecker and his staff also showed results of their testing with cotton, wheat, soybeans, grain sorghum, and several other crops. New planting techniques and methods of irrigation also were outlined and shown with a series of slides.

Jacksons See Pakistan Riots

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson of Hereford, the couple from this area who was selected by Farmers and World Affairs to make a tour of Pakistan, have arrived there and notified the Brand of their initial experiences in the Far East.

"We arrived in Karachi on Saturday, January 18. We have met a lot of people and visited a lot of places. The Agriculture Research here is doing a good job, but the facilities are so limited. We met with the president of the Agriculture Development Bank and had a very informative visit. This bank deals with agriculture alone and has a good program. But due to the money exchange it is limited in its work.

"The colleges and technical training schools are needed badly, to be able to help the younger generation to build this country. The schools are all closed now due to riots and disturbances.

matter of a name over to Hereford school students, with a Monday deadline for their suggestions — in the same manner as the naming of La Plata Junior High School. Trustees will consider these suggestions at their Tuesday night meeting.

"Every school here requires a fee — no education is compulsory and none are free — therefore very few go to school and then very few on to higher education. A lot of the educated people here receive Master's and Doctor's degrees in the U. S. A.

"We went to Hyderabad, about 125 miles from Karachi, by auto. It took us 4½ hours. These roads are something to see — and travel over. People are everywhere — 3-million in Karachi. Transportation is by everything, bicycle, donkey, camel, horse, auto bikes, autos, carts and bullocks. Bullocks do most of the field work — a good pair can plow one acre a day — usually one sees at least 4 teams at a time, totaling 4 acres a day. So the work is slow.

"We visited a very modern dairy and saw a lot of machinery that had been contributed by UNICEF. (But) it is hard to get these people to use milk in their diets. We visited a very modern fish harbor that is a co-op. It was built with the help of A. I. D. The people appreciate the help the USA has given them, not only with PL 480 funds and A. I. D. but with advise and services.

"We went to the beach one day and did a little camel riding. It was fun. We've visited ruins, tombs and shrines — we've been invited to the very best of homes so far. People here like the program that we are with, say it is doing more good than ambassadors.

"We're in Dacca, East Pakistan today — arrived during the riots. We're under curfew. Did get out this morning, however, to meet the Secretary of Agriculture, but haven't been able to get passes for anything else yet. We are in no danger as long as we stay within the hotel courtyard. The army is patrolling the streets in front of the hotel — planes and helicopters flying over all the time.

"The people are disturbed by the unrest. We are supposed to be here in East Pakistan three weeks. The government here doesn't want anything to happen to us.

"It is almost as bad in Karachi.

"There are 65-million people in East Pakistan in an area of 55, 126 square miles. People are everywhere when there is a relaxed period in the curfew. It is unbelievable. It is still hard for us to realize we have seen so much and learned so much in such a short time.

"Best regards to the people at home."

Dr. Story Dies At Ft. Collins

Funeral services and burial of Dr. Charles Dean Story, 53, were conducted last Thursday in Ft. Collins, Colo., where he had lived since 1955. He was a former Hereford resident, a brother of Joseph G. Story of this city.

Dr. Story was on the faculty of Colorado State University for 13 years, the past two years on assignment to a university project in Nigeria and before that time, head of the animal science department and section chief of an agricultural experiment station.

He had previously managed a ranch, been a vocational agriculture instructor in New Mexico, and on the faculty of Iowa State University, from which he received masters and doctor's degrees after his graduation from West Texas State University. His high school work was done in Hereford.

Born Oct. 13, 1915 at Canton, Ill., he married Fae Wheeler June 15, 1940 in Amarillo. Dr. Story was a veteran of navy service in the South Pacific during World War II.

Survivors include his wife; Bruce A. Story of Boulder, Colo.; two brothers, Joseph G. Story and Donald Story of Linwood, N.J.; and a sister, Mrs. Helen Behrends of Dimmitt.

Fire Damages Car Saturday

A 1959 Volkswagen owned by Lynn Arnold of 110 Avenue G received an estimated $200 damage as the result of a fire which was discovered by a Hereford policeman early Saturday morning.

The officer stated in his report that he was on patrol and was returning to the police station about 6:30 a. m. when he smelled smoke in the vicinity of City Hall.

Investigation revealed the Volkswagen on fire at Schmuckers Garage, 216 Lee Street. The fire was found to be in the glove compartment and right rear hood, with the windshield on the right side having popped out because of the heat.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department was summoned to the scene and had the fire out in a few minutes. Cause of the fire, which started in the glove compartment, was not known.

Alice Barrera, 23, of 203-B Lawton, was slightly injured in the accident, but did not receive treatment.

Two La Plata Teams Now Holding Conference Leads

Going into the final week of play in the High Plains Conference, the La Plata ninth and seventh graders find themselves holding down first places in their grade competition, while the eighth grade Mavericks share their lead with Dimmitt and Stanton.

The eighth grade La Plata team sport a 15-3 record for the season and the ninth has a 12-3 mark. The seventh grade cagers from La Plata own a 12-2 mark.

Stanton's eight grade round-balls carry a 9-3 record into the final week with the ninth grade holding a 7-8 and the seventh a 4-8 record.

In action Monday night, Stanton's eighth grade stayed in contention for the conference title by downing the Cornado of Plainview team, 50-30 while the ninth lost to the Plainview Red Pups, 59-53 and the seventh also suffered defeat, 38-30.

For La Plata, it was another typical night as all three of the teams wound up with wins under their belts, over the Boys Ranch teams.

The seventh grade Mavs breezed to their win, 40-28, over the Boys Ranch quint as Dan Vander Zee chipped in 18 points to lead the attack. Jim Marsh and James Walts were second in scoring with seven each while James Massie contributed six, Jerry Brock three, and Chris White one.

La Plata shut the Boys Ranchers out in the first period while getting nine points themselves. In the second period, La Plata's seventh graders connected for eight more points and the Boys Ranch team got on the board in that period for the first time in the game, getting seven tallies.

Second half action saw the locals get their big assist in the third quarter with 18 points being nailed down then. Fourth period action was limited for the seventh graders as they managed only five points, but their lead going into the final period was sufficient enough to secure them their win.

The eighth graders from La Plata also had an easy contest against the Boys Ranch team as they downed them to the tune of 54-23. As did the seventh grade, the eighth grade shut the host team out in the initial period while collecting 12 of their own points. The second quarter was a big one for the locals as they popped the nets for 16 points to Boys Ranch's six for a 28-6, halftime lead.

In the second half, La Plata's eighth grade cagers hit for 13 points in the third quarter and 13 more in the fourth quarter while Boys Ranch could get only 11 in the third and six in the final stanza, ending the game with the Mavs winners, 54-23.

High pointer for the eighth grade was Larry McNutt with 13 points and David Duval with 10 for the only two double figure finishers. Terry Champ added eight; Barry McNutt and Gary Hicks, seven each; Wallace Hill, six; and Brad Lind, four.

Billy Bob Taylor was the sting in the ninth grade attack as they swept past the Boys Ranch five Monday night, 55-34. Taylor hit for 20 points while Danny Charest, Cliff Herring and Charles Ross each had six. Ralph Walts had five, John Page and Bruce Barrett four each, and Larry Driver two.

Boys Ranch stayed nip-and-tuck with the Mavericks in the first period of play Monday as they netted 11 points to the locals 15. The second period was much the same as Boys Ranch got 10 more and La Plata's ninth graders also managed 10 for a slim 25-21 halftime lead. Third quarter action saw La Plata pour on the coal for 24 points while holding the host team to only five. The fourth quarter turned out to be a slow period for both teams as La Plata nabbed only six points and Boys Ranch only eight, for the final score of 55-34.

Conference action will continue for one more week for the local junior high schools as tonight La Plata will host the Canyon Purple team and Stanton is idle. Next week, Stanton and La Plata will meet for the second time this season on the courts at Stanton for the season finale in conference play. A follow-up for conference play will be the Hereford Tournament where nine teams will participate. Those scheduled for the tournament are Canyon White, Canyon Purple, Mile-shoe, Boys Ranch, Stanton, La Plata, Walcott seventh grade, Dimmitt and Alamo Catholic eighth and ninth.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

NEW INTRODUCTIONS
Good-morning! Come in, I want you to meet some of my new friends.

The first one I wish to present is the New Series of Commemorative postage stamps. They are very pretty, as you will see when you become acquainted with them, and use them on your letters. They picture parks, streets, and other public plantings which were done in the National Beautification program. I just love having them to grace my letters, they are so colorful. . . and remindful that there are yet many more things to be done to beautify America and Hereford.

And now as we sip our coffee and relax a bit, I want to present to you The New Flower Friends. The All-American Selections for 1969.

First I introduce to you Cherry Buttons Zinnia. She is very versatile in that she has many winning characteristics. The color is a rich cherry-red, the bloom uniformly double, small and petite, just right for a buttonhole. The plant is low and bushy (the new zinnias this year have a tendency to be low, and with an abundance of foliage.)

This lovely flower is especially recommended for border plantings, and is very beautiful when planted for mass effect. It is mildew resistant, which should be one of the very highest characteristics.

Another new flower winner is "Snow Ball Cornflower." It is also a low dwarf plant, which is entirely new from what we have grown all these years. The cornflower is an old-fashioned flower. The blue is one of the loveliest blues that we have grown in the garden. Though rather tedious, the flowerets make very pretty corsages.

One of the prettiest corsages I ever had was made of the two colors of blue, combined with green. It was made in a Dallas flower shop, and the Rainbow Girls gave it to me. They are very good keepers. I feel this new "Snow Ball" will be a favorite.

And now another Bronze winner, "Polka Dot Periwinkle." It is a creeping plant, and is drought resistant. The flowers are a clear white with a bright center (thus Polka Dot). The foliage is a rich green and a nice texture, is highly recommended as a ground cover. The spread per plant is estimated to be approximately 24 inches. The next introduction will be the twins. They too are of the Zinnia family. Their name are "Rosy Future" and "Torch." Both are Bronze winners. They will be very popular because of the lovely colors. "Rosy Future" is a radiant pink and "Torch" a rich orange color (tangerine maybe). They are not as well as some of the zinnias that we have previously grown and W. Atlee Burpee Co. recommends them very highly. They are the king of Zinnia hybridizing.

When purchasing the seed, be sure and check if they are mildew resistant. The bright colors of these twins will truly add zest to our gardens and produce lovely flowers for cutting.

The coffee hour would not be complete if we did not meet the New Vegetable Family, at least the Bronze winner of AAS, 1969.

It is my pleasure to now present "Broccoli Green Comet." I predict that this winner will not only be popular with the home gardener, but that it too will become one of the commercial growers favorites. Since it matures early, has large tight heads, and fine quality buds. The plant grows to a height of approximately 17 inches, and some of the heads have been known to measure 9 inches across. The seed companies who are promoting the new winner, tempt our taste buds by saying it is delectable when properly prepared and attractively served. It is fast becoming one of the most popular of the green vegetables.

In this family, as in the Flower Family, there is a set of twins. And now let's meet "Miss Stonehead" and "Harvest Queen" of the cabbage family. "Stonehead" is an extra early maturing cabbage, very firm, and delicious in flavor. The commercial growers are already predicting this cabbage will be one of their favorites, since it is of medium size, and its firmness will tend to make it a good shipper.

"Harvest Queen" is also destined to become very popular with the commercial growers since it is of the processing type. This characteristic will make it good for kraut, not only for the canneries but for the homegardener who likes to make kraut for winter. (My husband Art will sure like this "Queen" because one of his favorite foods is kraut, and he also likes to make kraut.)

The vegetable family differs from the flower family in that it has two sets of twins. Now may I present the Squash Twins, "Kindred" and "St. Pat Scallop." "Kindred" has a short vine with golden fruit of buttercup shape, deep orange flesh and thin skin. Sounds like it would be a good type to bake. High in productivity, and the vines are relatively small.

"Kindred" is a winter squash and can be stored for winter use. It is favorable and can be used in many ways. I am sure that this type squash would make delicious pies. My grandmother used to make excellent pies out of the winter stored squash.

Thanks for coming in to meet the New Introductions. Next week please join me and we will see a parade of beauties.

Suggestions: If you would like a pretty potted plant of lovely textured foliage, plant some of the seed from your choice of grapefruits. Orange and lemon seed can also be planted. When selecting for planting be sure the seed are completely developed and select the largest. Dry out for several hours and plant in one of your potted plant pots about three inches deep. When the plant comes up, let it grow to a good size, then transplant to a pot all its own. I have a grapefruit plant which I have had for about five years. I do not let it grow to full size because I want to Bronsi it. Have enjoyed working with it. Its need now is a correct container for a Bonsai. Take time to make a pilgrimage all through your garden. Recall what was grown last year, that you wish to discard this growing season and also make a note of where you will plant some of the new introductions. Each year we should add new varieties and do some experimenting. Do not leave out the old true and tried favorites.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:
As a member of the cast of "Oklahoma," I would like to apologize for any obscene language or immoral acts by myself.

I would like to say though, that I was only portraying the part of an immoral, obscene peddler man.

I hope after I graduate this year, that I can come back later and laugh with another great audience like we had at another production of "Oklahoma."

Thank you,

"Helga" Is Shown To Local Pastors

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

"Helga," a motion picture which graphically depicts the actual birth of a baby, was screened at the Star Theatre in Hereford Tuesday afternoon, prior to its regular showing there on Feb. 16, 17 and 18.

Manager Francis Hardwick held this special showing for representatives of the local churches, schools and news media for their views on its subject matter. He told them that he had been advised by fellow theatre men "to run it on the basis of its sensationalism." But he said he felt that it had educational value.

After the screening, Hardwick reported that he received "absolutely no complaints from the church and school representatives that the picture will be shown to the general public. However, I am going to request that parents attend with all children under 16 — for reasons of their own discussions later."

However, no one will be allowed under 14 unless accompanied by their parents and will be required to sit with them due to the nature of the picture.

EDUCATIONAL FACTOR

"Helga" can perhaps best be described for what it is not. It is not a sex picture in the sensual vein. Aside from one short scene of a young man and woman shown laying in the grass in the daylight in a lover's embrace, there is no further premarital romance. The title character, Helga, is married and the film merely traces the stages of pregnancy and birth through her characterization.

Further, it is not an American-made picture. With the exception of the 8-minute prologue, it was actually filmed in West Germany. Therefore, Ruth Gassmann (who plays Helga) and all others in the cast who have speaking parts have had their voices dubbed into English — which means that at times the lip movement will not correspond with the speech. However, much of the picture is narrated (description over visual effects and scenes) and this technical difficulty is greatly bypassed.

Moreover, Germany has not been among the major movie-makers since the silent days, by all standards. It must be remembered that their major attractions will only compare with America's B-movies. On this plane, however, "Helga" has better than average color photography (including micro-filming of minute living organisms) and strong background music.

And because it is not a sensual sexy picture, it will fall into the category of "educational." To educate is to teach; therefore there are many charts and illustrations involved in the process of the unfolding the "facts" — in this case, the facts of life.

As it is with all educational subjects, there is no plot beyond the slender thread of Helga's birth experiences. Many characters are shown, but none are fully (and some even slightly) defined. With the exception of mother and child, there are absolutely no bedroom scenes.

Plainly, "Helga" is a sex picture. It relates the story of sex — as a parent is "supposedly" expected to relate it to a growing child. Only here it is done with pictures in 1 hour 17 minutes.

(The first eight minutes is a prologue filmed in the United States. It is used as an introduction — having a reporter with a microphone in the process of interviewing various people of various age-brackets and standards on the need for sex education.)

The subject of sex is discussed in every possible fashion — including the illustrations of the sexual processes of the male and female. There are nude scenes of actual people — usually mother and child or merely children.

And of course there is the actual birth scene.

Nothing whatever is hidden in the birth process — and that of after-birth.

Very easily, these sequences could have two different schools of thought by the viewer. One could be the pain and misery and horror of the experience. The other could be the awe of watching the miracle of life begin.

Possibly there are two other schools of thought — the difference in ideas of childbirth between a man and a woman.

"Helga" also goes into the controversial subjects of birth control and individual sex instruction. Less controversially, it touches upon "sidewalk sex education," which is usually a lot of lies.

However, "Helga" ends unlike most educational pictures — which usually have no dramatic climax due to lack of plot. Here you will see various stages of growth of the youngster following the birth, and there is little wonder why parents usually continue the process of parent-hood.

One of the more surprising aspects of the production is that it was arranged for release in the Western hemisphere by American International, the Hollywood studio noted for its productions of the Beach Party series, numerous motorcycle gang films, and horror pictures.

parents, the Leo Witkowskis, are hosts to Fernandez. Guerra is staying in the F. A. Marnell home. He is a business administration major in a Lima university, to start his third year in April, while Fernandez will be a freshman majoring in mechanical engineering. Both are members of the CAJP Club, the Peruvian equivalent of 4-H Clubs.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Maybe my generation has a distorted sense of values, but we do have values. The letter concerning the "corruption" of our musical was found by several citizens of Hereford High School to be fallacious and offensive. I would like to express my sympathy for anyone who may have found this play indecent, and I shamefully confess that I am proud of it.

Perhaps the other side of the story would be interesting to someone. The other side consists of men and women who are concerned about young people and are willing to sacrifice time and talent for them. They try to cultivate youthful talent and impress on students the importance of both work and leisure. For these people and this school system that provides for worthwhile activities, I am thankful. The sacrifice of the adults is matched only by the sincere determination, talent, understanding, and sense of humor of the students. I am proud to say that I know these people and was able to work with them in "Oklahoma."

Maybe my generation has a distorted sense of values, but I am proud to say that we have sense enough to ask the favor of our Heavenly Father before we perform on stage, and that is something of which we can all be proud.

Respectfully yours,
Bob Nelson Jr.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

National weeks for this and that are so common that nobody pays much attention to them, but we have received notice that there will be a new one this year, National Lawn and Garden Week, March 20-26.

OF COURSE we don't have to wait for that one to observe a special time; all of February is Frozen Potato Month, for instance, if you are in the mood to celebrate something.

Also, next week will be not only National Beauty Salon Week, but National Crime Prevention Week — an interesting juxtaposition if you consider some of the over-elaborate hair-dos that come out of some beauty salons, that aren't far from being a crime themselves.

BUT TO GET BACK to the subject, Lawn and Garden Week might have some sense to it, especially as it comes about the time of the usual Spring Clean-up Week. This year's motto might be "Clean it up and plant something on it."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture claims credit for thinking up this week, but garden clubs and other civic groups interested in beautification of towns and country, have joined in to sponsor it.

Statement of the goal starts out with, "Beauty of environment is more than a rich source of pleasure. It helps to shape our values, to mold our attitudes, to feed our spirit." then it gets very practical and adds, "Enhance the economy as well as the attractiveness of a community."

ALL OF WHICH I go along with, and hope the garden clubs home demonstration and 4-H Clubs and Chamber of Commerce beautification committee will join in promoting the week here.

Nothing that can be done by the average resident adds so much to the city's attractiveness as cleaned-up, well-kept yards, and almost anybody under the age of 80 can keep a yard neat if not parklike.

IT WOULD BE fine if many of the less attractive yards here were planted to vegetables instead of being cluttered with junk.

A productive garden can be grown in little space, as witness those of the Bruce Terrys, Mrs. B. E. Brunley and the Roy Mannings, who grow vegetables to eat, freeze and give away in small backyard plots.

Those aren't all the backyard gardeners, but the ones I think of offhand.

And now please excuse me while I give a lick or two to my yard before somebody sees it with pages of a Sunday paper blown into the flower beds, and think I don't practice what I preach.

Bride-To-Be Honored With Afternoon Shower

Honoring Miss Freda Joyce Fowler, who will be married to Jerry Don Whitaker today, a shower was given in the home of Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth Saturday afternoon. Both Miss Fowler and her fiancé are students in West Texas State University, and their marriage will take place in a campus chapel.

The bride-to-be received shower guests with her aunt, Mrs. Flora Corbin of Miami; her sister, Mrs. Mark Nichols of Amarillo; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Charles Laing, and his grandmother, Mrs. Roy Thompson.

Mrs. Clyde Whitaker was at the registry table. Miss Margaret Bruno of Canyon served coffee and Miss Janie Kirkland ladled punch.

Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Minnie Fitzgerald of Miami; Misses Starnie Parten and Doris Jefferies of Canyon, Mrs. Ida Davis and Mrs. Nora Russell.

Emerald green taffeta covered the refreshment table, decorated with four white bows across the front holding clusters of wedding bells. In the center was an arrangement of white carnations in a cut glass bowl and green candles.

Hostesses with Mrs. Hollingsworth were Meses. Margaret Johnson, John Schneider, Hicks

The far west part of Deaf Smith County, only a few miles from the New Mexico line, is home for Mrs. Bill Page now, and has been for most of her life. She lives in one of the ranch houses which are widely scattered along Harrison Highway in that section of the county.

HER BIRTHPLACE is "two miles down the road," she says, in another house where her parents, the Elmer Northcuts, still live. Except for three years in Hereford immediately after her marriage, she has spent her life in that community.

The area is now in the Walcott school district, but when she was in school she went to Grady, in New Mexico.

One of the younger members of Messenger Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Page started last month a term as president of that group after serving a year as vice president. She has been a member of the club during the three years she has lived in her present home.

"MY HUSBAND and I are both from the country," she says, "so we wanted to come back to the country although we enjoyed living in Hereford for a while." Their home is a two-story house with big, old-fashioned rooms and plenty of space for visiting relatives as well as the Pages.

They have a daughter, Lisa, two-and-a-half years old now, pretty and dimpled like her mother. There are also pets, cats and dogs which they could hardly keep on a city lot.

Mrs. Page says she never feels lonely without near neighbors, though she counts association with other members as one big advantage of membership in the H. D. Club.

IT IS A SOCIAL organization as well as a club for study and community service, and it has a program of family socials to go along with its study course every year.

The Pages like to go to school ball games and other sports events, too, and with a number of other adults in their far-spread "neighborhood" they play volleyball once a week at Walcott School. They attend church at the Church of Christ in Broadview, N. M.

Mrs. Page enjoys reading when she has time, and likes to try almost any type of crafts. Her housework is another thing she likes, except for ironing — she is happy that "somebody has found out how to make all these new fabrics that don't have to be ironed much."

COOKING IS an special pleasure and she likes to can or freeze extra produce from the garden that she cultivates. There are no fruit trees on the Page place but she buys fruit to make jelly, or gets wild plums from a relative's plum thicket. Jelly-making is her favorite phase of food preservation.

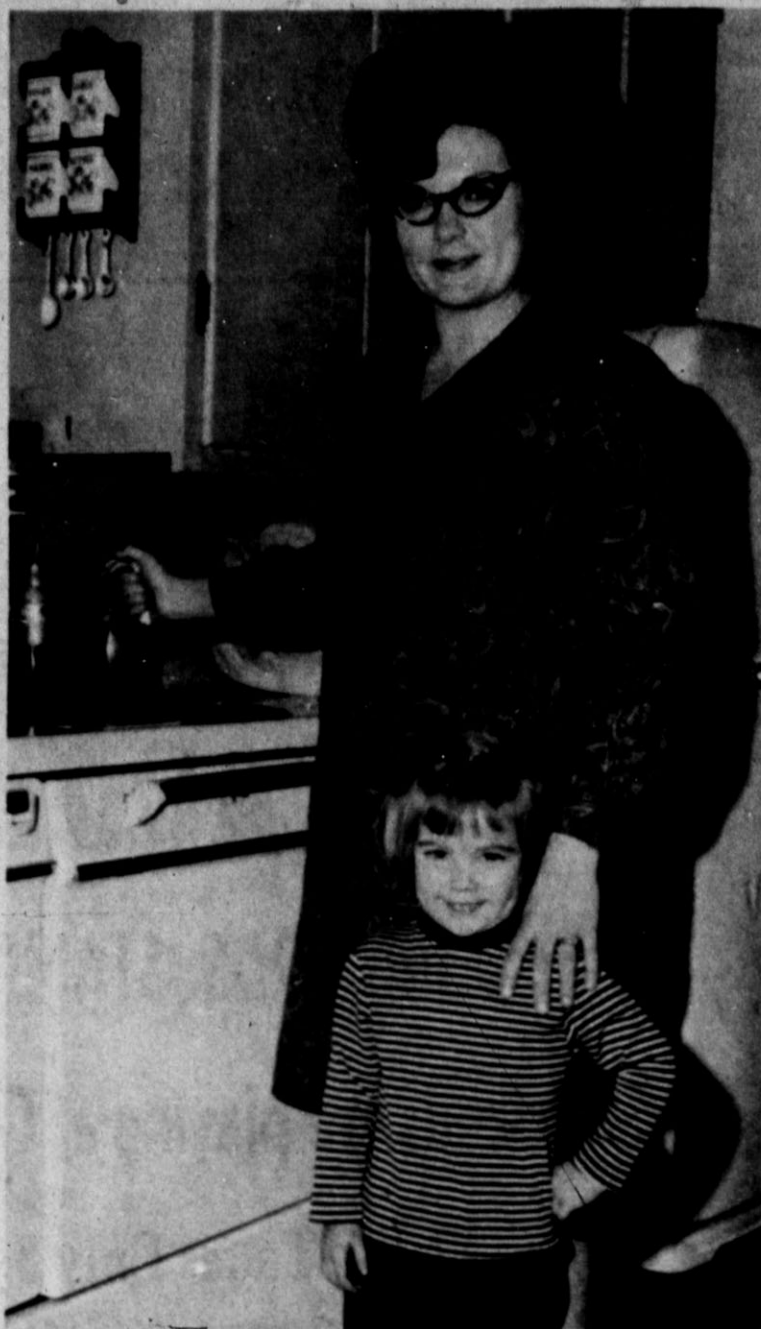

She likes to make fancy desserts and cakes, and has joined a new club here to practice cake decoration. Since her husband is not fond of desserts, she tries new recipes for guests and makes the few that he likes for home meals. One of them is this for a moist, tasty cake.

Ray Cowsert reports a sign on the outskirts of Amarillo which reads: 'Hong Kong flu is un-American. Catch something developed here.'

And speaking of Amarillo, there seems to be a raft of people coming out for city commission, including one private detective. This should be another interesting political year in our neighboring city.

We suppose that everyone has a few old Army stories to tell, but this one coming from J. R. "Monk" Johnson is a classic.

While in transit at one military post during World War II, Johnson ran into an old chum of his. The man was in charge of the mess hall so when Johnson was placed on KP, his friend assigned him to the task of directing the soldiers to their tables. You know, everything in the service must be done by an orderly process. A couple of days later, the men were called out and Johnson figured that he had a pretty good deal, so he volunteered for KP. You guessed it. His buddy was not on duty and "Monk" washed dishes all day.

And Clint Formby tells a story about his days at Ft. Sill. It seems that his group (most just out of basic) were transferred into Ft. Sill's transit barracks awaiting assignment and while there, they were put to work. The first day out the drill Sgt. asked for all those soldiers who had a degree from college to step forward. Form-

Crooke Will Give Lead-Off Address

Water, Inc. President John Kendrick of Brownfield announced that Howard W. Crooke, Executive Director of the Orange County Water District in California, will give the lead-off address at its second Annual Meeting, Tuesday, February 18, in the new Civic Center in Amarillo.

Crooke has been active and participated many years in the major water planning in California.

Crooke will be followed on the program by other outstanding water authorities from Texas: Howard Boswell, Executive Director for the Texas Water Development Board, Harry P. Burleigh, Area Engineer from Austin for the Bureau of Reclamation and John Simmons, Executive Vice-President and General Manager of the Sabine River Authority from Orange, Texas. Attendance is expected to be larger than the large turnout last year in Plainview which exceeded 800.

After the catered lunch is served in the Civic Center, John Kendrick will give the President's Report. The election of Directors and officers will immediately follow President Kendrick's report.

Walcott Cagers Split Contests

District competition will continue today for Walcott cagers as they travel to Bushland for games beginning at 6 p. m.

In district games Monday night, the Walcott girls dropped their game to the Vega girls 27-13, while the Walcott boys were beating Vega 32-25.

Walcott girls will take a 6-3 won-lost record into today's game, while the boys stand at 4-5. The two teams will host Sudan at Walcott for games beginning at 5:30 p. m. Monday.

Top sports awards will be presented during the annual Walcott banquet Saturday night at the Calson House in Hereford. See separate story for details.

long in the Army, the Sgt. sent them back to the barracks to study their General Orders. The college graduates were marched off to KP duty, and all the others were put on some type of work detail. "We spent three days in the barracks studying our General Orders", Formby said, "and had a ball."

That, we would say, is a typical Army maneuver.

And speaking of college, Corinne Neeley, who has done a number of stories for The Brand over the years, has signed up for a course in Journalism at Oklahoma University. We presume it's by correspondence course.

Corinne worked for this newspaper at one time and since retiring has been writing freelance articles, many of which

Santa Fe Seeks New Pipeline Agreements

Santa Fe Railway, through its subsidiary Santa Fe Pipeline Company, is currently seeking sufficient throughput agreements from the petroleum industry to justify construction of an independent common carrier pipeline to transmit natural gas liquids from West Texas-New Mexico to the Gulf Coast.

The proposed project — Chaparral Pipeline — would serve both the petroleum industry seeking an outlet for its products and the petrochemical industry seeking a new source of raw material. It would transport a variety of light hydrocarbon liquids, ethane, propane and natural gasoline and would be of specific design to handle large quantities of ethane.

Chaparral proposes to gather products from existing and new plants in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico, transport them to the vicinity of Houston, fractionate and redeliver them to the shipper. Interconnections would be established at Houston, with major transmission pipeline systems to other parts of the country as well as to pipelines serving the petrochemical industry. It is also anticipated that Santa Fe, through an affiliate, would offer to purchase ethane from various West Texas plants for movement through the line and resale in the Gulf Coast area.

A minimum commitment of 40,000 barrels of product per day has been established as a target.

Don't forget to get your tickets for the big Chamber of Commerce banquet coming up next week. Thursday, February 13 is the day. You'll enjoy it.

Sen. Hightower Appoints New Assistant

AUSTIN — Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon, who recently was named to head the senatorial Contingent Expense Committee, has named Lee H. McMurtry, II, of Texline as his administrative assistant.

Hightower also is vice-chairman of the Constitutional Amendments Committee and holds seats on 10 other senate committees of concern to North Texas. A former member of the Texas House of Representatives, he is beginning his third session in the Senate.

McMurtry, a candidate for a bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Texas at Austin, will be staff aide and will work with committee assignments. He served as assistant sergeant-at-arm in the Senate during the Special Session last year.

McMurtry also is active in student government as a member of the UT House of Delegates and serves as advisor to the Council of the College of Business Administration. He was salutatorian of Texline High School in 1964 and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee McMurtry of Texline.

Field Service Elects Officers

Members of the local American Field Service Committee held a meeting Tuesday at Hereford High School, where they elected new officers to serve for the 1969-70 school year.

Elected were Mrs. Leo Witkowski, president; Ray Moore, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Prowell, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Gid Brown and Mrs. J. J. Durham, home adjustments; Mrs. Trow Mims and Mrs. Grant Hanna, Americans abroad; Mrs. Dean Herring and Mrs. H. A. Cavness, projects; and Ray Moore, publicity.

The committee also discussed up-coming events pertaining to the program for the remainder of the current school year. Another meeting will be held by the committee March 4th in the Future Homemaking Department at the high school.

MEETING CANCELED

Hereford Duplicate Club will not have its usual weekly meeting this evening, but will resume meetings on its regular schedule next week. The club meets at Community Center at 7:30 p. m. each Thursday, and invites all interested bridge players of this area to join the games.

NEW Armstrong CEILINGS!

Crestmont. Boasts a handsome embossed design—the latest decorating advance in ceilings. Excitement is the mood Crestmont gives to any room. Georgian Cushiontone. Smart elegance with a subtle texture. When installed, the tiny acoustical perforations are practically invisible. Textured Fashiontone. Ideal for high-style decorating and sound conditioning. Popular with interior designers. The square edges fit snugly together creating a virtually seamless ceiling. Incombustible for fire-safety, too. Georgian Temlok. A non-acoustical ceiling in the same pebbled design as Georgian Cushiontone. Perfect for brightening rooms where excessive noise is not a problem. Golden Spray. Shimmering golden strands run through this bright white ceiling. You can install it yourself or one of our trained installation mechanics will do it for you. Visit our showroom and see the complete line of Armstrong Ceilings on display.
