Hoary Alibis Dug Up -- School Days Stare Kids In Face!

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT BEGINS SATURDAY; GRADES TUESDAY; TEACHERS ARRIVE

More Than 120 Students, Twelve of Them New, Already Enrolled In High School; Humble Back From European Tour; New Football Coach Has Athletes Hard At It and Hopes for Fast Eleven.

Faculty members of the Hereford city schools have been arriving for several days, preliminary high school enrollments have been coming in for the past week or more, buildings and grounds have been put in shape for the session just ahead, and, in general, everything that could be done in advance to make the opening of the schools smooth and effective has been handled early.

Formal enrollment of high school students will begin Saturday of this week, September 1. Grade school enrollment will start on Tuesday, September 4. The first five grades will report to the Central school and all others at the high school building.

Up to Tuesday night of this week 120 students had already enrolled in the high school. Twelve of these are new pupils.

Teachers Arriving. G. M. Hudson, high school principal, came in Sunday from his home at Honey Grove, Texas, accompanied by Mrs. Hudson and their small son, Prof. C. W. Humble, head of the Agricultural department, and Travis Dameron, former principal of the high school, returned last Friday from a most interesting trip abroad. Mr. Humble, perhaps as interested and popular a member of the faculty as Hereford has ever had, will bring to his work this year renewed and strengthened enthusiasm in his work from his studies of foreign school conditions.

Football Prospects. Much local interest is being evidenced this year in the outlook for a winning football eleven. The new coach, Tom C. McCollum, of Estelline, Texas, who will also teach mathematics in the school, arrived Monday, ready to look over the candidates for the 1928 fall campaign and lost no time in lining up his prospects. He held his first meeting and preliminary "once-over" on Tuesday afternoon, when twelve ambitious volunteer huskies met him at the school and prepared for their first workout. Daily accessions to the squad are expected from now on through next week, and it is believed that Hereford High will have plenty of men in training camp to make two full teams, and probably some over.

The early outlook is for a rather light but fast aggregation and a fighting one. The team lost rather heavily in letter men from the 1927 squad, but have a number of promising youngsters who look like comers and optimism for a successful campaign is already running high.

Big Luncheon Planned For Next Monday

Monday, September 3, will be Farmer-Merchant day at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Approximately one hundred of Deaf Smith county's leading farmers and stock raisers have been invited to be special guests of business men of this city. Reservations are being made for around 200, which will be held in the basement of the First Methodist church.

In addition to the get-together and good will feature of the luncheon, S. O. Wilson, prominent dairy-farmer will give a detailed report of his recent trip through

MILLER WINNER

Defeats I. L. West for Sheriff In Close Contest; Connally, Barry Miller, Marrs, Robinson Won In State Contests. One Box Out.

The outstanding feature of last Saturday's primary election, from a local standpoint, was the defeat of I. L. West for sheriff by John B. Miller. Mr. Miller received 544 votes and Mr. West 499. This does not include the Sims box, which had not been received up to Wednesday afternoon and will in all probability not be counted in the totals, under the law. The vote in that box, however, is small, and could not have changed the results.

Totals in other races in the primary were: Tom Connally, for United States Senator, 616, Mayfield 256; for Lieutenant Governor, Love 373, Miller 527; for Superintendent of Public Instruction, Garner 286, Marrs 615; for Commissioner of General Land Office, Robinson 552, Terrell 345.

In the state as a whole Connally defeated Mayfield for the Senate by over 50,000 majority; Robinson was an easy winner over Terrell; Barry Miller will be Lieutenant Governor; Marrs defeated Garner; Robinson was returned to the land office by a substantial vote over Terrell.

An unusual feature of the local election, as in other counties, was the fact that Tom Love received 373 votes for Lieutenant Governor, although he had withdrawn from the race and that fact had been published in the daily papers and twice in The Brand. But his name was on the ticket which had been printed before notice of his withdrawal was received.

Construction Work Continues Actively Here

Brick work on the new $65,000 First Baptist church has begun, and the hope is to have the building well on its way for occupancy by January 1. The site and beauty of the new structure is just beginning to be apparent to the observer.

The Beavers Bros. garage on East Third Street is about finished and the Dodge dealers should be in their new home by the first of the month.

H. B. Webb is erecting a new duplex house on his lots, corner Fourth and Ross Avenue. The apartments will be modern in all respects. Mr. Webb says the foundation work is finished and the walls are now going up.

Matt Gilliland's new three-apartment house in East Hereford will probably be ready for occupancy within a week or ten days. This is a big addition to that part of town and a notable improvement over the structure which formerly occupied the premises.

Fred Millard is completely remodeling his home on East Third and is adding a new front.

The old A. A. Foster home, which was purchased by Ralph Barnett and moved two blocks north on 25-Mile Avenue, has been divided into two residences, remodeled and will soon be ready for tenants.

The two new houses being erected by A. A. Foster, as well as the new home of Tom Carter nearby are all three practically completed and will be occupied around the first of the month.

Improvements continue to develop here almost daily and the town is steadily forging ahead in every direction.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Beyer of Amarillo came in Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Beyer and to attend the wedding of Miss Maurine Beyer, which took place Wednesday evening.

Judge Tatum's Charge to Jury Printed in Full

W. L. Shugart, charged with the killing of his wife, Jessie, at their farm home in the northeast part of this county on May 27, was found guilty by a jury in District Court Sunday and his punishment assessed at two years in the penitentiary. The jury had been out more than fifteen hours, and the verdict was returned at 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

It is understood that Shugart will accept his sentence and begin serving it at once. He was represented by Attorneys John P. Slaton and W. H. Russell, of Hereford, and Frank Tatum, of Dalhart. The State's case was handled by District Attorney Richards.

Shugart pleaded self defense, claiming that he was attacked by his wife and was so wounded by the struggle and his wounds that he was forced to shoot to save his life.

The jury which tried the case was composed of T. L. Vaughn, H. M. Benson, L. C. Moore, B. R. Jennings, D. R. Blassengame, Blain Poff, P. J. Rose, W. D. Kelleher, J. R. Robinson, J. H. Weems, Bob Wilson and H. R. Frits. C. F. Caldwell, who was at first accepted, was taken ill and excused.

As is usual in such cases, large crowds of the curious and morbid were attracted to the sessions and the court room was packed at all times. The trial was bitterly fought on both sides. The charge of the Court to the jury is given below in full, inasmuch as it is the first of its kind in this county under the new law, which eliminated manslaughter from consideration. Judge Reese Tatum's charge, together with a special charge requested by the defendant, reads in full as follows:

Earl Gough and Bride Visit With Old Friends

Earl Gough, son of Judge L. Gough, and former Hereford boy, drove into town Saturday with a surprise for his friends. The surprise is a bride, formerly Miss Margaret Boocius, of Fort Worth, a singer of note in that community.

The marriage took place about a month ago and since that time the young couple have been honeymooning in New Mexico, at the Grand Canyon, and other points of interest. While here they visited Mr. Gough's brother, Roy Gough, at Sulphur Park.

Earl is connected with the musical department of John Tarleton Junior College at Stephenville, and is enroute back to resume his work. He also maintains a studio in Ft. Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Gough were receiving the congratulations of his many friends here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fertsch and daughter, Pauline, arrived Tuesday from Boulder, Colorado, where Prof. Fertsch took special school work and his degree during the past summer. They are here visiting relatives and friends and will leave for their home in Austin in about a week.

Prof. Fertsch, former superintendent of Hereford's public school, has a host of friends here who are glad to greet this excellent family once more. Prof. Fertsch has charge of the mathematical department of all the Austin schools.

STARTED WELL

Hereford's First Trades Day Drew Large Crowd; Everybody Pleased; Second Day Will Be September 17; Those Given Presents.

Hereford's First Trades Day of 1928 was a decided success, according to the large crowd which gathered on Main Street between Second and Third Monday. To the merchants of Hereford, likewise, it was a success, so taken all in all the first Trades Day seems to be taken that Hereford will see some lively times on each Third Monday during the fall and winter months.

Due to the fact that the tickets had not arrived until a few days prior to the time set for Trades Day, as large number of tickets had not been passed out as will be the case hereafter.

After the large crowd had gathered in the middle of the street, completely blocking traffic, Secretary Arnold briefly outlined the purpose of Trades Day. It was also explained that in the future the Trades Days will be held each Third Monday of the month, the next one being Monday, September 17.

Another feature that is to be added to the regular Trades Day in the future is the auction sale, where any articles brought in will be sold at public auction before the hour of drawing. The auction sale will probably start about two o'clock and everyone is urged to bring in anything which they care to dispose of.

The next drawing will be held in the middle of Main Street between Third and Fourth Streets, September 17.

Awarded gifts and the winning numbers follow:

Mrs. E. M. Price, 024526, $25.00; Mrs. W. W. Megert, 022067, $15.00; Mrs. Erx Williams, 000205, $12.50; Miss Willie Thurmond, 021066, $10; Mrs. C. E. Cotton Gin Is Put In Shape to Handle Crop

The Guthrie Cotton Oil Co. started a special crew of men at work this week, completely overhauling the Hereford gin, remodeling it in places, replacing parts with new ones, and in general putting the plant in first class condition to handle the crop this fall. The company promises a first class gin in every respect and is going at it like they mean business.

The question of whether the Guthrie concern will operate the gin or lease it to experienced gin men has not yet been announced, but in any event the farmers in this community can be assured that their ginning will be handled efficiently, promptly and in their best interests.

NINE HUSTLING YOUNGSTERS TO FEED STEER CALVES FOR AMARILLO-FT. WORTH SHOWS

First State Bank Loans Them the Money; County Agent Dunkle Sponsors Move to Teach Boys Better Livestock Farming, Self Reliance and Modern Business Methods. A Big Step Forward for County.

Nine bright young boys, selected from the vocational agriculture classes of the Hereford high school and the 4-H Clubs of the county on their records of scholarship, aptitude and earnestness, are to undertake a baby beef feeding experiment this winter and fall, under direction of County Agent Dunkle. They are members of the newly organized Baby Beef Club of Deaf Smith county, another forward step in foundation agricultural work just taken by the county's quiet but effective County Agent.

Ralph Smith Is Named As Band Leader

The Band Commission recently appointed by the City Commissioners to handle all matters pertaining to the Municipal Band, have held their first organization meeting. J. L. Sharnan was elected chairman of the Commission and Miss Margarine Beyer secretary. It was voted to employ Ralph Smith as director of the Municipal band.

Mrs. Alvin C. Thompson, with some member of the band to be selected, will constitute the Music Selection Committee, having in charge preparation of concerts and purchase of necessary music.

County Fair Departments Getting Busy

Heads of various sections of the Women's Department of the Deaf Smith county fair met in the Chamber of Commerce offices Tuesday afternoon. Premium lists and prizes to be offered were checked over and the superintendents state the department this year bids fair to eclipse any efforts put forth in previous years.

The following superintendents have been selected and their departments named: Art, Mrs. Egbert Brady; flowers, Mrs. J. M. Ricketts; cooking, Mrs. Artie Daniels; canning, Mrs. R. O. Dunkle; sewing, Mrs. W. R. Arnold.

Each of these superintendents have requested that ladies desiring to enter articles get in communication with them at once and also ask those who would be willing to assist in the work to see them. The time is getting short they point out, and it will be impossible to call on every person to explain all the details to them. Complete information may be had from the catalogs which will be out this week, and many are making preparations to have their entries on hand September 13, the day on which the fair will open.

Messrs. Patton, Buchanan and Murchison, superintendents of community booth department, have mailed score cards and premium lists to residents in all rural communities and indications are that practically every community in the county will compete in this exhibit.

Chairmen Brunley and Lewis of the hog department state their department will be filled to overflowing, as does Egbert Brady of the beef cattle department.

Prominent School Paper Man Visiting Dillehay

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Avants and son of Fort Worth, left Wednesday for their home, after a trip over New Mexico and a short stop here with friends, Prof. and Mrs. O. H. Dillehay. Mr. Avants is advertising manager for the Texas Outlook, official paper of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The necessary co-operative spirit between local business men and farmers to make shrub ventures successful is finely illustrated in this experiment. The boys are being financed by the First State Bank, giving their notes at the bank for the purchase of two calves each. The boys are backed by their parents, but each one will handle his own paper. The object of the experiment is to not only teach these youngsters how to feed baby beves, handle a balanced ration, and to realize the necessity for thorough methods in stock farming, but also to teach them the art of financing their own business, how to deal with banks, and to develop self-reliance and confidence.

Nine Boys

The nine youngsters who will undertake this work are Paul and Ezra Bagwell, of Dawn; G. C. and Edwin Hartman, Westway; Junior and Louis Sherman, Hereford; Jim Ricketts, Progressive; Harry Look- ingbill, Summerfield, and Tenard East, Hereford. They will work with a uniform bunch of steer calves, all sired by one bull, purchased from Carl Frye. Each boy will have two calves to look after. They will begin feeding September 1, using a self-feeder and pasture, running with their mothers. About October 1 the boys will take their calves home and begin a balanced ration consisting of milo chops, ground oats, bran and a little cotton seed meal. All of the boys will have their own home grown milo chops and oats.

The calves will be shown at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show and the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, both in March, at which rich prizes are offered. Amarillo alone hanging up purses in excess of $1,000. The calves will be exhibited as individuals and in carload lots. They will be sold at one place or the other. The calves now weigh about 475 pounds and it is hoped to add quite a bit to this figure before shipping time.

County Agent Dunkle is quietly enthused over his success in organizing this work, and especially in the fact that a co-operative spirit on the part of the business men in the work is being rapidly developed. Mr. Dunkle is doing a very splendid work for agricultural development in this county, perhaps not appreciated in some quarters as it should be, but a work that will eventually show its real meaning and reflect credit upon the skill and leadership behind it all.

International Sunday School Lesson for September 2

PAUL IN THESSALONICA

ACTS 17:1-12

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

Consternation filled the minds of the magistrates in Phillippi the morning after the jail delivery, when Paul and Silas were released by a miracle at the midnight hour. These rulers sent sergeants to instruct the jailer to release these prisoners. Then Paul stood on the dignity that was rightly his. He insisted that these chief men come in person and acquit him for they had already done great violence to their own law by beating a Roman citizen who, as yet, had not had a trial. Then the magistrates came with great fear and humbly asked Paul's pardon as they invited him to carry on his mission of preaching the Gospel elsewhere.

In rather easy stages of about thirty miles each, Paul went to Amphipolis, Apollonia, and Thessalonica, the modern Salonica where numerous events took place during the recent World War. There the custom was followed of beginning work in the Jewish synagogue, and he addressed audiences on three successive Sabbaths declaring the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, "whom I proclaim unto you." Many devout Greeks and not a few chief women believed. Then the Jews were aroused with jealousy lest their hold on their own community be lessened. They gathered "certain vile fellows of the rabble," and soon had plenty of trouble started by those who loved to have part in a fight. These fellows rushed to the house of Jason where Paul had lodged, intending to drag him out for very rough handling. Paul, however, was not there at the time so they laid hold on Jason to make him the object of their rage. A most high compliment was paid to the evangelists when the matter was presented to the rulers. It was declared: "These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also" and Jason was their host. The best that they could do was to bind Jason over to keep the peace and court was closed.

Paul was no sooner well started in successful work than he had to move on. The brethren now advised Paul and Silas to leave even that night for Berea, about forty-seven miles further on. The story is somewhat different in this new preaching station. The Bereans had a mind to learn if there was more of truth than they possessed. So they first listened to Paul and then turned to their Scriptures, our Old Testament, and examined the various prophecies concerning the coming of the Messiah that Paul indicated. After the most exact research they found that in Jesus Christ every reference was perfectly fulfilled. "Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek women of honorable estate, and of men, not a few." This word Berea has come to mean those who are careful Bible students and is familiar, especially in the literature of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

It was not long before those who had stirred up trouble for Paul in Thessalonica came to Berea and started another round of strife just by way of jealousy. Crowds were soon on the side of the misery lovers, and it again seemed wise for Paul to go forward. He left both Silas and Timothy there and called for Athens, in Greece. The Golden Text for this lesson, which should always be committed to memory, is "The opening of thy words giveth light," Psalms 119:136.

DEAR FRIENDS:

Another lady made happy!

She came in yesterday with a dress that she had worn in the rain. It looked like it had been through Johnstown Flood and she didn't see much prospect of saving it. But the boss did. And I wish you could have seen it this morning when it was ready for delivery.

Looked like a brand new dress. And she certainly was pleased.

"That's the fun of being in the cleaning business," says the boss. "I like to please 'em."

ENGLISH BACKGROUNDS IN 'SORRELL AND SON'

Many picturesque places in England were used by Herbert Brenon and his company as backgrounds for scenes in "Sorrell and Son," which film comes to the Star Theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week. After working for months in Hollywood, making interiors, the Brenon unit of the Joseph M. Schenck organization went abroad for the exterior shots. At historic old Marlow several scenes were made from the ancient Paper Mill Bridge, with Marlow church and bridge in the distance, showing "Molly Boland" (Mary Noland) and "Kit Sorrell"

(Nils Asther) in punting and romantic episodes. Crowds thronged the bridges and the river bank to watch the American motion picture company work. Especial interest by the English was evinced in the scenes along the towpath in which "Stephen Sorrell" (Norman Trevor) and "Kit Sorrell as a boy" (Mickey McBan) took part.

Warner and Trevor, Britons, renewed acquaintance with the spot where they had lived in riverside bungalows years before.

Director Brenon chose "The Compleat Angler" for his headquarters, where the news of the presence of the noted producer, who was born in Ireland and lived in England as a young man, as well as British members of his cast, quickly spread among the visitors and developed into an informal reception among old admirers of the players in their London days.

ney in the hospital in Hereford, Texas, and the alleged confessions contained in the notes alleged to have been written by the defendant Shugart, were introduced in evidence by the State, then the whole of the admissions or confessions are to be taken together, and the State is bound by them; unless they are shown to be untrue by other evidence.

NO. 536

In the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, July Term A. D. 1928.

The State of Texas

Gentlemen of the Jury:

The defendant, W. L. Shugart, stands charged in the indictment with the offense of the murder of Jessie Shugart by shooting her with a pistol. Said offense is alleged to have been committed in the county of Deaf Smith, and the State of Texas, on or about the 27th day of May, A. D. 1928. To which charge the defendant having been duly arraigned has pleaded not guilty. In order that you may understand the law applicable to and which you must be governed by in deciding this case, I instruct you as follows:

1. The statute of this State provides that "whoever shall voluntarily kill any person within this State shall be guilty of murder."

2. The word "voluntarily" as used in this charge and wherever used in this charge means an act done by design or intentionally without justification.

"Murder" is distinguishable from every other species of homicide by the absence of circumstances which reduces the offense to negligent homicide or which excuse or justify the homicide.

3. "Malice aforethought" includes all those states of mind under which a killing takes place without any cause which will in law justify, excuse or extenuate the homicide. It is a condition of mind which shows a heart regardless of social duty and fatally bent on mischief, the existence of which is inferred from acts committed or words spoken. "Malice" in its legal sense, denotes a wrongful act done intentionally without just cause.

4. In order to warrant a conviction for murder, the jury must be satisfied from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant in the commission of the offense, if any, if he did, was actuated by and acted upon his malice aforethought with the specific intent to kill and that unless from all the facts and circumstances in evidence a jury believes the defendant was prompted and acted with his malice aforethought they cannot assess the punishment of the defendant at a period longer than five years at confinement in the penitentiary.

PARAGRAPH NO. 6

Where the circumstances attending a homicide show that it was the design of the person offending to kill, he is deemed guilty of murder according to all the facts of the case, unless the killing is shown to have been done in self defense.

7. Now bearing in mind the definition of murder as defined in Paragraph 1 of this charge and the word voluntarily as defined in Paragraph 2 of this charge, and malice aforethought as defined in Paragraph 4 of this charge, if you find and believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant W. L. Shugart, in the County of Deaf Smith and the State of Texas on or about the 27th day of May A. D. 1928, as charged in the indictment and not in defense of himself, against an unlawful attack or a threatened attack made upon him by the said Jessie Shugart with his malice aforethought did unlawfully kill Jessie Shugart by then and there shooting her with a pistol you will find him guilty of murder and you will assess his punishment at death or confinement in the penitentiary for life or for any term of years not less than two.

8. I further instruct you that unless you find from all the facts and circumstances in evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant was prompted and acted with his malice aforethought in killing the said Jessie Shugart by shooting her with a pistol then you cannot assess his punishment at a period longer than five years at confinement in the penitentiary.

9. You are further instructed that homicide is permitted under the law of this state in defense of one's person from an unlawful attack made upon him by another and that the attack so made, if any, need not be real provided it reasonably appears to the defendant at the time of the homicide that he is in danger of being killed or receiving serious bodily injury; that it is not necessary that the defendant shall retreat in order to avoid the slaying of his assailant, but he has the right to stand his ground at all hazards and to use such force as is necessary to repel said attack even to taking the life of the assailant, and may continue to use such force until all danger or apparent danger has ceased as it may have appeared to the defendant at the time.

10. Now if you find from the evidence that the defendant W. L. Shugart, killed the said Jessie Shugart by shooting her with a pistol as alleged in the indictment, but you further find and believe from the evidence that at the time the defendant shot the said Jessie Shugart that she was making or about to make an unlawful attack upon the defendant, which from the manner and character of said attack, if any, was reasonably calculated to and did produce in the mind of the defendant the belief that she was about to make an attack upon him and that he was in danger of death or receiving serious bodily injury and so believing he shot and killed the deceased, you will acquit the defendant, or if you have a reasonable doubt as to these facts you will give the defendant the benefit of the doubt and acquit him and say by your verdict not guilty. In this connection you are further instructed that danger, if any, need not have been real in order to justify the defendant shooting the deceased, provided it reasonably appeared to defendant to be real. And in judging the situation at the time of the homicide you must view the same from the defendant's standpoint and from no other. And in determining this if you believe from the evidence that the act of the deceased, if any, before or at the time of the homicide was such under the circumstances as would reasonably produce upon the mind of the defendant the belief that he was about to be killed or receive serious bodily injury and that he so believed, shot and killed the deceased, then such killing would be justified, although in fact the danger was not real but was only apparent; and in determining this the question for you to decide is:

1) What was the state of the defendant's mind at the time of the homicide?
 (2) Did it reasonably appear to the defendant, taking into consideration the disposition of the deceased and her conduct towards him, if any, that he was about to be killed or receive serious bodily injury from the deceased?

If so you will acquit the defendant and say by your verdict not guilty, or if you have a reasonable doubt that it appeared to the defendant that he was about to be killed or receive serious bodily injury from the deceased, situated as the defendant was at the time of the homicide, you will give him the benefit of the doubt and acquit him and say by your verdict not guilty.

11. In order to warrant a conviction on circumstantial evidence each fact necessary to the conclusion sought to be established must be proved by competent evidence beyond a reasonable doubt; all the facts (that is, the facts necessary to the conclusion) must be consistent with each other and with the main fact sought to be proved; and the circumstances taken together must be of a conclusive nature leading on the whole, to a satisfactory conclusion and producing in effect a reasonable and moral certainty that the accused and no other person committed the offense charged. It is not sufficient that the circumstances coincide with, account for and therefore render probable the guilt of the defendant; they must exclude every other reasonable hypothesis, except that of the defendant's guilt and unless they do so beyond a reasonable doubt you will find the defendant not guilty.

12. You are further instructed that although you find and believe from the evidence that the defendant made the confession in writing which has been introduced in evidence and that said confession was voluntarily made by the defendant, yet if you find from the evidence that the defendant at the time that he made said confession was suffering from a nervous shock, and that said shock, if any, so incapacitated the defendant or impaired his mental capacity so that he did not have the mental capacity to make it and that he did not know or understand what he was making then you will disregard the confession and will not consider it as any evidence in this case against him.

13. If you find and believe from the evidence that the defendant was prompted and acted with malice aforethought in killing the deceased, and if you assess his punishment at death, the form of your verdict should be as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and we assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life."

If you do not assess the defendant's punishment at death, but in case you assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life, the form of your verdict should be as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and we assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life."

the form of your verdict should be as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and we assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for _____ years." You will fill in the blank with the period of time you assess the defendant's punishment at so it be not less than two years.

I further instruct you that in determining whether the defendant acted with malice aforethought at the time of the commission of the homicide you may take into consideration all the facts and the circumstances surrounding the killing and the previous relationship existing between the defendant and the deceased, showing if any, or going to show the condition of the mind of the defendant at the time of the homicide, and unless you find from all the facts and circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant at the time of the commission of the homicide acted with his malice aforethought you cannot assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for a longer period than five years.

15. I further instruct you unless you find from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant acted with his malice aforethought in killing the deceased you cannot assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for a longer period than five years.

16. If you do not assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for more than five years, the form of your verdict should be as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and assess his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for _____." You will fill in the blank with the period of time you assess the defendant's punishment at so it be not for a longer period than five years. If you find the defendant not guilty the form of your verdict should be as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty." Whichever form of verdict you agree upon, you will have your foreman to sign it and return it into open court.

17. I further instruct you that while you are deliberating upon your verdict you will not mention, refer to or take into consideration by mental reservation or otherwise any matter except the testimony that has been produced upon the witness stand and the law as given you in charge by the Court, all of which I instruct you, you must strictly observe and obey.

18. In all criminal cases the burden of proof is upon the state to prove the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, and if the State has failed to prove the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt you will acquit him and so say by your verdict, "not guilty."

18%. You are the exclusive judges of the facts proven, and of the credibility of the witnesses and the weight to be given to their testimony, but the law of the case you must receive from the Court as given you in this charge and be governed thereby.

Mississippi and Tennessee where he accompanied leading dairymen and bankers of other West Texas towns. Financing of condensaries, milk plants, cheese factories, etc., were studied by members of this tour, which was staged by the F. W. & D. railroad, through its agricultural agent, M. B. Oates, of Wichita Falls.

The problem of proper marketing facilities for the county's large dairy production is receiving attention of the local Chamber of Commerce at this time. Figures recently compiled by cream stations of this city showed more than $1,200 paid for dairy products in a single day.

Secretary Arnold, of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, says: "Give us the facilities for handling all dairy products that can be brought to Hereford and we can induce dairy-farmers living in outlying territory to bring their products to Hereford. We can double the cream checks being paid out in Hereford, if we will awake to the situation. This means more money for the dairymen and more business for Hereford merchants."

Every business man in the city is being urged to attend the luncheon Monday, as he has been assigned a guest and a general good will meeting is the order of the day. Letters are also being mailed to rural residents notifying them who their host is, according to the secretary.

Farm Sale Dates

Tom Majors announces a farm sale at his farm seventeen miles south of Hereford on Tuesday, September 11. Mr. Majors will sell his complete farm equipment consisting of live stock and machinery.

The offering in this sale will be far above the average—good implements, horses, chickens, hogs and a very select herd of Jersey milk cows. Ray Barber will auction this sale.

R. L. Elliott will have a general farm sale Tuesday, September 4, at his place one and one-half miles south and six miles east of Hereford, near Wyche school. This sale begins at 1:00 p. m. Heavy list of fine milk cows features this sale, also hogs, machinery, etc. W. S. Williams is the auctioneer.

Beauty Contest Will Soon Be Up to Judging Work

It is only a few more days until our town will be inspected by the judges who are to determine which of the two towns, Hereford or Canyon, will win in the contest for a better and cleaner town.

This contest is being sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce. The committee, after a very close inspection, was gratified to see as much of the town being cleaned as there is and charged to see so many places yet untouched.

While the contest is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the City Commission and the committee in charge are doing everything they can to put this over in a way that will be a credit to Hereford. Yet the responsibility rests upon the individual to see that the premises he or she is responsible for are made ready for judging.

The Chamber of Commerce designates from Monday, September 3, to Tuesday, September 13, for the final period in which to clean up Hereford for judging which will be done on the 14 and 15.

It is highly possible that the names of the judges will be in the hands of The Brand in time for next week.

CHARTERS GRANTED IN STATE

AUSTIN.—Charters to operate in Texas were granted to 214 corporations during July, according to Bernard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

Mr. Nichols says: "This figure is larger than that of either June, 1928, or July, 1927. Most of the companies were small however; in fact a number of them were capitalized at only $1,000. Total capitalization amounted to $9,085,000, against $102,907,000 in June and $58,314,000 in July of last year."

"Permits were granted to forty-five outside companies to operate in the state. Twenty manufacturing companies were chartered, against fifteen in June, and ten financial institutions were organized. The gain in manufacturing companies is an encouraging feature."

Dimmitt Goes Down Before Whiteface Team

In a rattling good baseball game last Sunday at West End Park the Whitefaces again beat Dimmitt by a score of 6 to 4. As is allways the case, the Castro county boys put up a stubborn battle from gong to gong. But Carmichael had the edge in pitching, fanning twelve batsmen, and Hereford's hits were more timely. The Dimmitt infield flashed two lightning plays that held down the score and Onias Carroll again killed the ball, getting four hits out of five trips to the platter.

An odd feature of the game was the fact that none of the three Hereford outfielders had a put-out. Incidentally this game made twenty-four consecutive innings that Carroll has played in which he has not had a single fielding chance.

Next Sunday the Nazareth team will tackle the Whitefaces at Hereford and another thrilling struggle may be counted upon.

P.-P. Exhibits Draw Crowds In Other States

Products of Deaf Smith, along with twenty other counties of the Panhandle, are being shown to record crowds in Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas, according to reports. Three separate exhibits have been arranged to be shown in each of the states, and literature covering all possibilities of the Panhandle-Plains section along agricultural lines is being distributed to farmers in those states.

The exhibits are being shown at six state and district fairs in each of the states, and carry two men with each exhibit. One of these men arranges and sets up the exhibit to show to the best advantage and the other tells interested prospectus of West Texas, and hands out literature referred to above. Lists of people who are able to buy lands and who are interested in this country are entered in registry books and these names in turn sent to the head office of the Panhandle-Plains Incorporated at Amarillo. The lists will then be mailed to the chamber of commerce offices of the several towns and will be distributed among real estate men.

In Nebraska, playing fairs of that state, Frank R. Brown is exhibit man and Dr. O. H. Lloyd of Vega is dispensing knowledge of the potential possibilities of the Plains country.

In Iowa, Bob Anglin of Tulla is exhibit man and Matt A. Cram of Plainview tells the public his ideas of the productiveness of the Panhandle-Plains soil.

In Kansas H. L. Luna is exhibit man and J. E. Hill of this city is the information bureau. Reports from Mr. Hill state that the exhibit is showing to capacity crowds and many Kansas farmers are showing their interest by asking many questions and seeking the literature which is being handed out.

The manner in which the work of the Panhandle-Plains Incorporated has been organized and every section of the country represented by both product exhibits and literature will, in the opinion of those who have given the matter much study, secure many farmers of the right sort for all sections of the great Plains of Texas.

Best Secure License, Says Game Warden

S. D. Turner, district game warden, with Amarillo headquarters, Box 2810, paid The Brand a call Tuesday and asked that attention of local sportsmen be called to a few facts that may save some of them a few dollars and a lot of embarrassment.

Mr. Turner said that hunting and fishing licenses could be obtained at the Streu Hardware and the Dunlap Hardware. These licenses are good up to August 31, 1929. The cost of the lure license is $1.10. Hunting licenses are $2.00, good over Texas in any county. No license to hunt in your home county is necessary.

Mr. Turner said he believed in "Safety First" at all times, and strongly advised local hunters and fishermen to obtain the necessary licenses, as he intended to see that the law was strictly enforced. The fine for hunting and fishing without license ranges from $10.00 to $100.00.

New Officers Installed By Golfers' Club

At a special called meeting of the Hereford Golf Club Tuesday night, held at the office of the R. B. R. Implement Company, a reorganization of the club was decided upon and carried through. Old officers tendered their resignations and a new executive committee named as follows: H. L. Rice, president; Frank Marrs, vice president; Doug Fox, secretary-treasurer, and S. P. Rosson, chairman of the greens committee.

A special vote of thanks was unanimously tendered Dow Mercer, retiring chairman of the greens committee, for the very splendid interest and devoted work he has given the club from the start in building the present fine course and its general supervision. The sentiment was expressed that without this fine work of Mr. Mercer the present golf course would not have been a possibility here for several years.

The new officers have many problems on their hands, and will work them out as rapidly as possible. Special committees for special work will be appointed by President Rice as rapidly as he can find suitable material.

Sawdust Arm, Waxen Hand!

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Brooklyn's great murder mystery has petered out.

Detectives discovered that the "human arm and hand" found buried in a lot were as false as Chaplin's mustache.

The arm was found to be stuffed with sawdust and the severed hand was declared to be of wax. And so the detectives called it a day!

BRANDS GETS FREE FLOWERS

Mrs. Clarence Smith who lives on the South Side, presented The Brand with some of the most gorgeous Xenias ever seen in this community. The colors were gorgeous and the remarkable point about them was the depth of the flowers, some being three inches deep. There was one especially that stood out—golden background with each petal touched with scarlet.

Mrs. Smith has been growing Xenias for many years and is very proud of her flower garden.

When a Mule Hits An Automobile!

WICHITA FALLS.—James Yeager of this city was traveling near Childress when his automobile collided with a mule.

The collision was of such force that the mule was thrown upon the radiator and carried for several yards. The mule climbed down and scampered away when the car was stopped.

The car had to be towed into Childress. Inspection revealed so many repairs that it was necessary to leave the car there several days.

INTERSCHOLASTIC FOOTBALL

AUSTIN.—Rules in football for the 1928 interscholastic league contests have been announced by the University League Bureau, according to Roy Bedcheck, chief of the Bureau.

"Although the closing date for high schools to sign up for participation in football this year is October 1," Bedcheck said, "two hundred schools have already filed acceptances. The early enrollment figures indicate a good total registration. There were 823 schools in the league last year."

Only one new rule has been added to the football plan, according to Mr. Bedcheck. That rule, number 21, refer to the collection of five percent of the interdistrict receipts by the state office to maintain a fund for investigating eligibility questions and to supplement printing, salary, and office appropriations relating to football.

The state has also been divided into new districts, Mr. Bedcheck said, and it is very important that each school acquaint itself with the new lines of division.

San Angelo.—Construction on a new school for Angelo Heights, Westland Park and adjoining subdivisions starts soon.

Hicks-Beyer Wedding Celebrated Wednesday

The twilight hour was chosen for one of the most beautiful weddings of the season when the marriage of Miss Maurine Beyer and William Harold Hicks was solemnized on Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the First Methodist church.

The altar and chancel rail were decorated with ferns and garden flowers in the pastel shades. A fern-entwined trellis and a semi-circle of lovely baskets of flowers formed a beautiful background for the impressive ring ceremony which was read by the Rev. E. B. Bowen.

Immediately following the nuptial solo which was sung by Mrs. Carl Mounts, the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mr. Ernal Beyer, brother of the bride, heralded the approach of the wedding party.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Grace Ferguson, as maid of honor, was lovely in a bouffant frock of orchid tulle. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds tied with orchid and pink streamers. She was followed by the little Misses Bonnie Jean Beyer, niece of the bride, and Doris Elaine Dillehay, as flower girls, who scattered rose petals in the pathway which led to the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a princess model of white georgette embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. Her veil of white tulle caught with orange blossoms, was fitted about her head in Queen Elizabeth fashion. She carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds and valley lilies.

The groom was attended by his brother, O. C. Hicks, of this city.

Following a reception at the home of the bride for relatives and out-of-town guests, the young couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado. They will be at home after September 15 at Hereford.

County Agent Dunkle and Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Arnold will visit the Ford community social Friday night in interest of the fair.

She attended Baylor College for women at Belton and the Southern Methodist University and had special music work in Columbia University. For the past two years she has been music instructor in the Hereford schools.

Misses Kathleen Hawkins and Eva Skelton at the home of Miss Hawkins.

A color scheme of pink and white was effectively used in the receiving rooms.

Six tables of players enjoyed the round of games and at the conclusion Miss Margaret Gilliland was given the prize for high score and in the cut for low, Miss Beyer was lucky and received a lovely prize.

Just as the refreshments were to be served Miss Hawkins, in her most charming manner, presented the shower of gifts to the honoree. It proved to be a complete surprise and caused much merriment.

In the refreshments served, all white was the color used in the cream and cake, each individual cake being decorated with tiny white brides and white clematis and pink sweet pears were used as plate favors.

BUSY BEE NEEDLE CLUB.

The Busy Bee Needle club gave a social last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Otto Massie, honoring one of their members, Mrs. Barrett Sowell. The rooms were beautiful with cut flowers and pot plants.

The afternoon was spent in needle work and pleasant conversation. Two readings were given by Mrs. Claude Wall, after which a delicious salad course was served.

BRIDGE PARTY AT HICKS HOME

Misses Gladys and Lucile Hicks were the charming hostesses for a lovely party Friday afternoon honoring Miss Maurine Beyer, bride-elect of their brother, William Harold Hicks, and their sister, Mrs. J. D. Raymond of Panhandle, who is here to attend the wedding.

The spacious W. E. Hicks home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers. Six tables were placed for bridge and at the conclusion of the games dainty prizes were given the honorees.

A tempting salad course was served by the hostesses, assisted by their mother, Mrs. W. E. Hicks.

Friana Will Put On Parmer County Fair

Friana is planning to hold the Parmer County Fair at that place on September 21-22. The enterprising citizens of Friana are now having printed a splendid catalog and premium list, and plan to have a county fair second to none in the Panhandle.

Constitution Week Is Set for September 16-22

Constitution Week, September 16-22, is to be observed all over the nation by the Sons of the American Revolution. It commemorates the One Hundred and Forty-First anniversary of the completion and signing of the Constitution. R. W. Humphries of Galveston is president of the Texas Chapter of the society. Luncheon clubs, chambers of commerce, ministers of the Gospel, newspapers and all other public agencies are being asked to broadcast the item and to urge observance of this Week.

Presbyterian Revival Grows from Day to Day

As this paper goes to press, the services at the Presbyterian church have just passed the ten-day stage, and there are many encouraging things to be said about it. The services are being well attended, and the pastor, Rev. Jas. T. Ross, who is preaching twice daily except on Mondays and Saturdays, is showing by his earnestness and buoyant spirit an unmistakable and incurable conviction that one of Hereford's greatest revivals is taking root and that something is bound to happen.

Miss Claire Baker is delighting the audiences with specials at each service. She is training a junior choir which is to be heard for the first time tonight in the services. A young people's prayer service is also being held just preceding the evening service.

No announcements have yet been made regarding the continuance of the series of services. An anonymous rumor which had it that the services were closed last Sunday was quickly nipped one night this week by the pastor and means were at once taken to bring the fact of the services more prominently before those who were not attending.

Next Sunday morning Miss Baker will again bring an extraordinary message in song. While The Brand has not been given more definite information about this, it has been assured by the pastor, Rev. Ross, that it will be richly worth hearing.

Another extraordinary feature of next Sunday morning's services consists of the fact that it is the third anniversary of the coming of Mr. Ross to this pastorate. Mr. Ross, when interviewed regarding this fact, just remarked that "he was glad to be a citizen of such a community as Hereford," and that he had held before him since coming here the vision of a greater Hereford, great in its community satisfactions and great in lofty spiritual achievements.

S. O. Wilson Is Having a Great Time On Tour

S. O. Wilson, Deaf Smith county dairyman who is inspecting dairy work and development in Louisiana, Mississippi and other states, as a member of the special bankers, business men and farmers party recently sent out by Panhandle counties, has written County Agent Dunkle and sent newspaper clippings which show that he is making the most of his opportunity and will bring back to Hereford real facts and new ideas of interest to every dairyman in this section. He writes Mr. Dunkle from Starksville, Miss., in part as follows:

"This is a dairy country. They have milk plants, cheese plants and condensers all over this part of the state. We are having some real work now. The Chamber of Commerce, county agents and business men have received us with open arms. We are having a wonderful trip. Had no rain or car trouble. We have a jolly bunch of good fellows in our party of nine. We are traveling in a 14-passenger bus. Best wishes to all."

Upon his return, Mr. Wilson will report in detail upon his experience and conclusions reached after examining first hand the dairy developments in the territory over which the party is passing. His report is being eagerly awaited by everyone interested in this phase of community development here.

THE TIGER TRAIL

By Edison Marshall

"I don't see why you can't go, Long, if you want," the inspector said. "You were just a guest here—though I will say that you came at a propitious time—and, besides, both of the Southley's vouch for you. Vilas says you're innocent, and they say that you were in the library when the crime was committed. Of course, you must tell us where we can get you on a moment's notice."

I told them and asked them to wait until I got my bag. It was all packed and ready. And as I came down from my room I met Josephine in the hall.

She started back at the sight of me. I couldn't read the look that leaped to her face, except that it was a hurt look, almost a look of pleading. It was a surprise to me. Evidently she felt that she would miss whatever support I had been in these last nights of trial.

"You're going after all," she said. She didn't put it as a question. She spoke as if it were some unbelievable circumstance.

"Of course I'm going. I'm afraid I do not surpass as a detective. Besides—I've got to get back to my practice. Probably a hundred little fevered hands stretching to me—"

But her eyes arrested me and stopped the flow of my silly words. "Perhaps you have forgotten—but we promised frankness. The first night at Southley Downs."

"I had forgotten. Forgive me. And how long ago it was."

"And how much has happened since."

"How much—and this is the end."

I stretched out my hand and she gave me hers. I had always wondered at that hand. It was so yielding, seemingly so tender. But I dropped it quickly, wondering at the tremor of her lips.

"Good-by, Miss Southley."

"May I walk with you down to the boat?"

"If you wish. But you remember—what is in the boat?"

"I'm past all horror of that. She led the way out of the great door and down the path. What a slight, slim creature she was! And I suppose there is nothing that I can tell you that would make you stay?"

"You've already been very kind and sweet," I said. "I'm glad that you cared at all. But I don't see any use of keeping up the sorry game any longer. I can't help but come to unhappiness in the end. I want you to have all happiness."

I could scarcely hear her answer the tone was so low—hardly more than a whisper. Perhaps it was just a little tremulous.

"I don't think you are very kind, doctor," the words came back. "You don't understand."

"Unkind because I wish you happiness? At least I can do that—with propriety. There has been enough between us that I can do that. The walks we had—they will be very beautiful to think about."

"I wish you'd not say any more." But I went on remorselessly.

"I wish you were going to be bitter. Women have always sacrificed for the men they loved—everything they had to sacrifice. No man can blame them if he is one of the sacrifices, as I was—in the end—last night."

She stopped as if I had struck her.

"You mean that you think I renounced you last night, that I let you fall when I could have saved you, because I loved Vilas Hayward?"

"I would sooner attribute it to that than to some less worthy reason. At least it showed me that your love for him was everything—that nothing in the world could stand in its way."

"Then there is no use in pleading with you any more, Dr. Long. Some time you may understand—and maybe be a little sorry. If you'd only stay, that time might be sooner, before it is too late."

We could say no more. We had reached the boat. I shook hands with the Southleys, and even as I said good-by, two strange impressions were knocking at the doors of my consciousness. They were not distinct. One of them was that old Robin was gazing at me with what was almost a look of abject bewilderment on his face; the other was that Josephine was whispering to Inspector Freeman—a hurried, urgent message.

When I looked at them they had moved to opposite sides of the group. His lean face was very thoughtful. I gave my bag to the negro and started to step on the boat.

"Wait just a minute, Dr. Long," the inspector commanded. I turned to him.

"What is it?"

"I've just been thinking that I really haven't a right to let you go. I have learned that you had a scene with the elder Hayward—words and all that—on the night he was killed. It puts a different face on the situation; so I guess I'll have to command you to stay here until I know it is safe for me to let you go, doctor."

All the while occupants of Southley Downs, and that of course included the brown-skinned Ahmad, whose race is the root and source of the whole Ayran breed—met in the library immediately after the motor boat's departure. All of us took chairs and Inspector Freeman stood in the center.

"This isn't a third degree or anything like it," he explained. "I'm simply in search of explanations. I want to know who's who and who knows what."

He called on Vilas Hayward first.

"Where were you on the night of the crime?" he asked.

"I went to bed at midnight."

"You were present in the den, in which you were insulted by Dr. Long?"

"Yes, sir. But I'm willing to forget that."

What a Thrill When Your Goodies Parade!

WHAT a thrill for the housewife when course after course of the foods she has prepared in the kitchen parade onto the dining table—and family and guests lavish their praise. But how sad and how unfair, if the kitchen range doesn't do its part—and how unnecessary! For you can have a Quick Meal Gas Range and know your cookery will parade with pride on every occasion.

The QUICK MEAL Gas Range

There's no bad luck with the Quick Meal Range because there's no trusting to luck or to guessing. The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator takes the guess work out of cookery.

The Radiant Broiler produces white hot radiated heat that instantly penetrates through and through. Steaks, and fish and fowl that melt in your mouth—toast golden brown in an instant.

Quick Meal Gas Ranges are porcelain enameled, beautiful and sanitary, and so easy to clean. Unsightly bolts, hinges and piping are hidden from sight. Quick Meal Ranges have Top Burners which cannot clog, rust or corrode. The cooking top is porcelain enameled.

It is well worth making a special trip to our store to see these wonderful owners for improvements other than curb 4.10. Total rate per front foot to be assessed against property owners 4.60.

BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED THAT A full and fair hearing be had as provided herein; that part of the cost of said improvements shall be assessed against property owners on streets so improved and owners thereof and that the total cost of said improvements shall be apportioned and paid as follows:

(a) The City of Hereford shall pay the whole cost of excavation and one-tenth of the cost of the remainder of the improvements exclusive of the property owners curb.

(b) The owners of property abutting upon said streets named to be improved shall pay the remainder of said cost of the improvement of said streets, after there has been deducted the amount payable by the City of Hereford under Section (a) above, provided, however, that in no event shall more than nine-tenths (9-10) of the entire cost of such improvements, exclusive of curbs, be assessed against such property owners and their property.

(c) That the portion of the said cost to be paid by the City of Hereford shall be payable upon estimates made by the City Engineer during the construction of said work, on the first day of each month, after the beginning thereof, payable on the fifth day of each month, ten per cent (10%) of said estimate being held back and reserved and payable to the Contractor to whom the work may be let, upon the completion of same and acceptance by the City.

The assessment shall constitute a personal liability against the owners of property and the lien upon their property as fixed by said assessment shall be enforced as provided by Chapter 9, Title 28, of the Revised Statutes of Texas of 1925, and amendments thereto, by the sale of said property as for ad valorem taxes of the City, or by suit in any Court having jurisdiction, together with all costs and reasonable Attorney's fees, if incurred, and after such assessment the City Commission shall cause to be issued to the Contractor doing the work assignable certificates in accordance with said Chapter 9, Title 28, of the Revised Statutes of Texas of 1925, and amendments thereto, setting forth the amount assessed against each owner and his property, and the terms and time of payment thereof.

BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF HEREFORD, TEXAS, that a hearing shall be given to said owners, or their agents and attorneys, and all persons interested in the said matter as to said assessments and as to the amounts to be assessed against each owner and their property by reason of such improvements, and that they shall be given a right to contest the regularity of the proceedings with reference to the improvement and the benefits of said improvement to their property, and any other matter with reference thereto, which hearing shall be held at the City Hall in the City of Hereford, Texas, on the 10th day of September, 1928, at 10:00 o'clock, at which time all of said owners, their agents or attorneys, or persons interested in said property are notified to appear and be heard; at said hearing said owners or other persons may appear by counsel or in person and may offer evidence and said hearing shall be adjourned from day to day until fully accomplished.

The City Secretary is hereby directed to give notice of said hearing by inserting a copy of this ordinance at least three times in some newspaper published in the aforesaid City, the first publication to be made at least fifteen days before the date of the hearing. The City Secretary is also directed to give further notice of said hearing by mailing to said owners, their agents or attorneys, a copy hereof, whenever the address of said owners, agent or attorney is available on the tax records of said city, provided, however, that the notice provided for herein by mailing shall be cumulative of the notice by advertisement.

The fact that the aforesaid work has progressed to such an extent that it is now advisable to make immediate arrangements for the hearing required by law creates an emergency and imperative public necessity that the rule requiring ordinances to be read at three several meetings be suspended, and that this ordinance take effect from and after its passage, and it is so ordained.

ALL ORDINANCES or resolutions, or parts of ordinances or resolutions, in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed insofar as they are in conflict herewith.
