

United Fund Is One-Third Gone

United Fund drive chairman Cleo Corlis reported at the first check-in meeting Tuesday morning that this year's $38,000 goal is 35.5 per cent complete with several of the rural majors' reports not yet available.

Total collected thus far is $13,501 including pledges, according to Joe Shollenbarger, U F vice president.

A breakdown from the various reporting majors indicated Commercial A had a $967.50 total (60 per cent of its goal collected), Commercial B $373.50 (52 per cent), Commercial C $382 (41 per cent), Schools $1,357 (42 per cent), Clubs $630 (21 per cent), and Banks $1,316 (20 per cent).

Rural majors reporting were Dawn $41, Milo Center $259, and Easter $105.

Advance collections reached $8,175.

Corlis said the next check-in will begin at 10 a.m. Friday in the Hereford State Bank board of directors room.

With the goal now a little more than one-third collected, U F president Calvin Goodin said that some of the contributions cannot be expected until after the first of the month in view of some of the payroll dates involved. Majors reported that various cards are still out pending this arrangement.

Commercial C major Hilrey Aven reported that those who are guilty of contributing only $1 fail to realize that the amount will be split among the eleven agencies (unless the contributor specifies otherwise) — which amounts to approximately 9 cents apiece.

"We go out for each member agency collectively on the same date," Aven said. "If we did not, it would mean that there would be eleven individual campaigns here each year. We are actually saving the people time. But I feel that the $1 contributor should realize he should plan a larger contribution so that it will mount up for these agencies."

Commercial A major Lynton Allred said, "If percentages are any factor, this division should exceed its goal."

Member agencies in the United Fund of Hereford are Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Council, Little League, Pony League, Cerebral Palsy, U S O, Council on Alcoholism, Salvation Army, Colt League, and Texas United Fund.

United Fund kickoff this year was on Sept. 17 with Texas Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes as speaker. Kickoff usually begins here in early October. Corlis and Goodin said earlier that they hoped to have the goal reached 70 per cent prior to the time the campaign had begun in other years.

Convention Of Farm Bureau Is Set Tonight

Deaf Smith and Oldham County Farm Bureau members are scheduled to conduct their annual convention today in the Hereford High School cafeteria, according to Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau president Bill Walden.

Banquet will be served at 7:30 p.m. with the business meeting slated to follow.

During the business meeting, Walden said county, state and national resolutions are to be submitted and voted upon by members.

He has urged all members of Farm Bureau to attend and vote on these policies.

Walden said policies which are to be voted upon at this convention will affect all the members in the coming year.

THE FUND BEGINS — Cleo Corlis, drive chairman for the 1969 United Fund campaign here, began marking the "major" percentage totals for collections Tuesday morning following the first check-in meeting. The campaign is already more than one-third on its way to $38,000 goal. Corlis' artwork may be seen on the lawn at the post office. —Staff Photo

Court Reporter To Undergo $ Study

Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court heard a report from Hereford attorney Ernest Langley during regular session Monday concerning the shortage of expense funds allotted to the district court reporter, due to increased court dockets.

Langley reported that he appeared before the commissioners at the request of District Attorney Jerry Tucker who had said that court reporter Ray Quillan had already used all the expense money allotted him for the year during the first seven months. Langley pointed out that the allowances from the six counties involved does not pay Quillan's expenses and entered the request that Deaf Smith County lead the other five counties in an adjustment of this allowance — to be followed in a like amount by the others in turn.

The court agreed to make a study of the court reporter's situation and would come up with "a fair figure" as soon as possible.

Chamber Fete Date Corrected

A mix-up in dates for the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet occurred in the Sunday Brand. The banquet will be held Friday, Jan. 9, 1970 instead of Jan. 7 as was reported in the paper.

Guest speaker for the annual event will be Dr. Charles Jarvis, a former dentist from San Marcos.

The fete will be held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. A starting time has not been set as of yet, chamber officials reported, but it will be released when it is decided.

Commissioners also agreed to pay the family of the late Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade for the entire month of September for office duties. Judge Wade died Sept. 14.

In another move, they raised the payment for Girlstown USA from $25 to $50 per month, in line with an equal amount being paid to Boys Ranch.

A special meeting date was set for Wednesday, Oct. 1, to meet with J. Robert Brown, director of Texas County and District Retirement System, to discuss such a plan for county employees. On this same date, salaries of county employees will also be discussed. The meeting is scheduled at 2 p.m.

The commissioners reported that the state retirement system, which has been in operation since July 31, 1968, has already been approved by 114 counties throughout the state — including Potter, Randall, Dallam, Sherman, Hartley, Carson, Swisher, Hale, Lamb, Hockley, and Lubbock counties in this area — and that they believed it would soon cover the entire state.

Commissioners approved the closing of specified lots near Summerfield upon request under the tract included in the "Town of Summerfield" which extends into Castro County.

County Judge H. C. Williams reported that the state has agreed to return an easement on certain property at Boardman corner (approximately 1 acre) which is to be turned over to the City of Hereford as the location of the homing device for Hereford Municipal Airport. Commissioners approved this move.

Fire report for the previous month was issued. It showed that there were 17 city fires and 9 in the county, with two additional fires at the city dump. Also revealed were a total of 9 auto fires in this amount.

CAC Gives Its Backing To Clinic And Day Care

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Hereford's Community Action Corporation board of directors agreed unanimously Monday night to endorse both the public health clinic and day care center projects for future local "realities" and to apply for the necessary grants as soon as the three separate boards can meet to iron out the details.

Moreover, Neighborhood Center Coordinator Ernest Castaneda reported that a building has been secured here for a neighborhood center, located at 108-10 Vera Cruz in the Buena Vista addition.

CAC board chairman Roland Barton could not head Monday night's meeting, due to his being called out of the city earlier in the day, and vice-chairman Rev. Gerald Mann could not attend through conflict of a prior speaking engagement. Therefore, the meeting was conducted by board member Virgil Dodson, who has been active for a number of years in the day care project and Hereford Migrant Ministry.

Texas Panhandle CAC executive director Argus Burnett, who spoke before the Hereford Rotary Club at noon Monday, returned from Amarillo for the night meeting here with Mrs. Kay Stanley, a registered nurse with the Bi-County Health Department who is now in charge of seven immunization clinics.

Burnett told the Brand that it was no secret to him that representatives of the Hereford doctors would appear for the CAC meeting because he had read the account of their discussion last week in the Sunday Brand. He said he had brought Mrs. Stanley to the meeting in order to fully answer all their questions.

George Parrish, coordinator of the Amarillo CAC who has been working closely with Castaneda recently, also appeared at the meeting.

Also present was Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson, not a member of any of the boards but who had been instrumental in the organizational beginnings of the Public Health Clinic and Day Care Center committees (both affiliated with the local chamber) and the Hereford CAC.

Representative spokesman for the Hereford medical profession was Mrs. Jo Solomon, head nurse for the Hereford Independent School District. Dodson spoke in behalf of the day care center.

Echoing the remarks of Dr. J. H. McCrary toward their committee meeting last Wednesday, Dodson told the CAC board Monday night that "we have made more progress tonight than we ever have before."

GRANT APPLICATIONS

Mrs. Solomon reviewed the plans of the local doctors toward the location of a public health clinic for Hereford, in that they are willing to donate their time in an effort to prevent possible epidemic outbreaks and toward proper health education standards, with the migrant and indigent families located here.

She stated that she and the doctors would "like a program to teach positive health, with a well-baby clinic, a pre-natal clinic, and planned parenthood studies" to be included in the clinic and "staffed with personnel who can teach health to both mothers and babies."

Mrs. Solomon reported one reason the doctors have not been able to secure this clinic in the past "is cost." She pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce committee has chartered themselves as a board of directors in order to assume the responsibility toward gaining the necessary grants.

She said a survey of families in the migrant and low income families would be needed so that these figures could be submitted with the grant applications. They have figures from the Texas Employment Commission and the schools but would need all the information they could gain in this line, she said.

Burnett told her that the Texas Panhandle CAC has a feasibility study now of all indigent patients in the 26-county area which he would place at their disposal.

Mrs. Solomon also pointed out that the clinic group could qualify for a federal grant for migrants. "We need to establish our priorities toward local health needs and securing a building for a clinic."

Burnett told Mrs. Solomon that the Congress has not acted upon any Office of Economic Opportunity funds as yet. "However, they should be voted on very soon. The past and present administrations in Washington have backed comprehensive health services. We will work with you to build the necessary applications. Your committee needs to sit down and answer a number of questions, and then we will file your applications."

Burnett pointed out that the contracting would "be a joint effort" between the clinic committee and the local CAC, but that it would be operated by the clinic group when the grants are received. "As we have said before," Burnett informed them, "the beauty of the CAC program is that it is a 'local initiative' project."

Dodson stated that the day care center project had been in the works about eight years here, and that the need has been established for such a center "for everyone, not merely indigents. Those who can pay their way would pay. But we have no center here at all — there is no way for widowed mothers, etc., to take care of their children when they have to work."

Dodson reported the Day Care Center Committee has also chartered themselves here as a non-profit organization to act as its board of directors, in the same manner as the health clinic group.

Burnett said, "This is another account of OEO. It would have to be funded too. But everyone in the area has the same need. However, you will never get it if you don't apply for it."

He added, "The only way we ever got anything is by waiting for Congress to act. We have had to be patient, and some times we have had to begin on a meager budget. But it has grown. Someday we may miss getting a grant, but we haven't yet."

Mrs. Stanley reported that the immunization and planned parenthood programs could begin in here now. "A clinic room and an examination room is all that is needed."

Castaneda reported the neighborhood center building site had two areas measuring 24 x 24 and 24 x 36, and at this time they are in the process of "cleaning them up for future activities there." He said it would be called Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency.

They are now searching for two aides, Castaneda said — one to do "some typing." Under federal guidelines, both aides must be from local minority groups and are salaried employees.

Building arrangements, he said, were made through N. B. Bartlett, who agreed to the use of the buildings through the end of the year without charge. "However, other arrangements will have to be made to keep the buildings at the end of the year, under payments for insurance and other incidentals," he said.

Rowland Appointed Justice Of Peace

Bill Rowland, Chief Deputy for the sheriff's department for the past three years, has been named Justice of the Peace, effective Oct. 6, it was announced. Rowland fills the vacancy created by the death of Ernest Wade who died of an apparent heart attack Sept. 14. Wade had been JP since his appointment in 1966.

Ed Line, Hereford attorney, was appointed acting Justice of the Peace immediately following Wade's death and has served in that capacity until announcement was made of Rowland's appointment.

Born in San Antonio, where he lived but a very short time, Rowland moved to Mercedes with his parents and lived there until he moved to Donna. He worked with the Donna city department for about three-and-one-half years and then for Hidalgo County where he was with the sheriff's department for a short time.

Roland moved to Hereford in 1966 and has worked with the sheriff's office here since that time as a deputy. He was appointed Chief Deputy shortly after arriving here and has held that position until his recent appointment as Justice of the Peace was announced.

Beet Harvest Is Underway

Bob Ginn, Agriculture Manager of Holly Sugar's local plant, announced that early beet harvest began this week as the first loads started coming in Monday.

"The fields are awfully wet right now," Ginn reported, "and some are not able to go right now. Others, who didn't get enough rain to completely stop harvest operations, are expected to pick up when the fields become drier."

All early beet harvest operations are expected to be complete when the deadline arrives in two weeks. As soon as the early harvest is taken care of, the regular contracts will begin coming in and the mill will process these until it becomes necessary to start piling with the mid-November starting date.

Ginn reported that where 2,000 acres were harvested on a four-day deadline last year, this year's acreage total is considerably higher at 5,000, thus making it necessary for an extended time for the early harvest deadline.

The infant weighed 7 lbs. and 1 oz. and was named Shannon Renee.

The original astronaut may have been Menippus, whose adventures in outer space were chronicled by a second-century Greek writer, Lucian of Samos. Menippus used wings, and for him the moon was merely a stopover en route to Mount Olympus and a visit with Zeus.

Armyworms Are Reported Here

County Agriculture Agent Justin McBride has received reports of an outbreak of armyworms in the northwestern section of Deaf Smith County.

McBride said the armyworms have been found in grassland pasture and are moving into wheat. He has alerted farmers and warns them that best results toward eliminating the worms can be had by detecting them while they are small.

He reported there are three materials for armyworm treatment.

One is Carbaryl (Sevin) which is an 80 per cent wettable powder, for use at one or two lbs. per acre with no time limitation for use as forage in pasture.

Another is Methyl Parathion. This solution should be used three-fourths to one lb. per acre, McBride said. 'Allow fifteen days before grazing.'

With Toxaphene, use two to two-and-one-third quarts per acre. 'Do not feed treated forage to animals who are being finished for slaughter,' McBride said.

Wheat Program Study Is Urged

Farmers in Deaf Smith County who are planting their 1970 wheat crop should consider carefully the diversion features of the 1970 wheat program, according to Frank J. Bezner, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

"Producers should take a good look at one of the program's key features — the provision that allows them to divert up to 50 per cent of their wheat allotment to a conserving use and still earn diversion payments," the chairman emphasized.

This provision, which provides for a diversion payment based on 50 per cent of the county loan rate times the farm's projected yield, is aimed at avoiding production of 80 to 90 million bushels of unneeded wheat.

In view of mounting wheat surpluses in the world's major exporting nations because of large wheat crops in recent years, the U. S. cannot afford to continue producing excessive quantities of wheat, Bezner said.

"It seems to me this extra diversion provision again, in the 1970 program, is a good way for our farmers to make a contribution to improving the wheat situation and still maintain their income," the chairman said.

Signup for the 1970 program will be announced later. However, detailed program information is available at the Deaf Smith County ASCS Office.

Barley Is Part Of 1970 Program

Barley will be included in the 1970 feed grain program, it was announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Decision to include barley in the program follows the Sept. 10 crop report which indicates a record new national average yield of 44.4 bushels per acre.

Until 1960, annual barley yields since 1866 had averaged less than 30 bushels per acre. In 1960, the crop average was 30.9; in 1965, it was 35.1; in 1967, 40.6 and this year, 44.4. Although harvested acreage has been declining, the larger yields have resulted in production increases.

Currently, the 1969 crop of barley is indicated to be 416 million bushels. Carryover as of July 1 this year was 198 million bushels — up about 60 million bushels over a year earlier. The total supply would be 624 million bushels for 1969-70. Total utilization in 1968 was 368 million bushels. It appears a further increase in carryover is probable as of July 1, 1970.

Other provisions of the 1970 feed grain program will be announced in the near future.

Citation Issued In Wreck Here

A citation for failure to yield right of way at a stop intersection was issued by investigating officers following an accident Tuesday morning at the intersection of Third St. and Witherspoon.

Involved in the accident was a 1961 Pontiac driven by Richard Pruz, which sustained $500 damage and a 1969 Oldsmobile driven by Adelaide McCleskey, which received $300 damage.

The accident occurred when one of the cars, after stopping at a stop sign at the intersection, apparently did not observe the other vehicle approaching, and pulled into its path.

Four Local Men To Attend HUD, HEW Workshops

Mayor Jim Sears, Harlan VanderZee, Dudley Bayne, and Bill Thompson will spend one day in Dallas for an Urban Action Forum before continuing on to Washington D. C. for a two-day session consisting of HUD and HEW workshops.

Sponsored by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, the Oct. 2 meeting will examine four major problems of concern to every community — crime, education, housing, and manpower.

Thompson described it as a completely different type of meeting: no speeches, no sermons — everybody participates. "The Urban Action Forums are designed to provide an insight into approaches that communities may take in dealing with big problems. Tried and workable ways to meet such problems will be discussed, examined and evaluated by experts from throughout the nation."

On Oct. 3-4 in Washington, the four local men will hear discussions on the function and nature of grants, administrative procedures in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, administration procedures in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the Department of Transportation, and then attend workshops on these subjects. Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, reported that he and the other three men are attending these sessions because "Hereford is facing these problems now and we feel it vital to the community to participate in them at this time." VanderZee and Sears are local bankers. Bayne is Hereford city manager.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Have just returned from a weekend trip to the hill country where we attended a Texas Press Association advertising convention at San Marcos, and visited with our eldest daughter who is a sophomore journalism student at Southwest Texas State in that city.

The meeting was very informative, and we did enjoy the visit with Penny. Also celebrated my 48th birthday while there and was quite surprised when Penny took advantage of the final meeting of the press association to present me with a birthday present while the 100 or so publishers and their wives in attendance sang "Happy Birthday." The gift, incidentally, was a tie wide enough to be a serape and I haven't gotten up enough nerve to wear. But I will. Someday, I guarantee you, I will.

Actually, I shouldn't be telling my age... almost no one would have guessed otherwise... but since I've let the cat out of the bag, I might mention also that upon arriving home Sunday evening, I found a bouquet of wilting weeds and something that resembled a hypodermic needle (king size), all of which looked like the last rose of summer. Attached was a birthday greeting from a couple of my golfing opponents, the Rev. Fred Howard and Dr. Duffy McBrayer. Apparently they were trying to tell me something.

But then, perhaps these "young bucks" are trying to get me disturbed before our next encounter on the links. Not that I play so well, but I have a knack for picking partners. That usually takes care of the situation.

Anyway, they say life begins at 40, but if it's any better than the past years, I can't stand it.

The Band Parents organization will have a meeting Thursday night, 7:30 p. m. in the High School auditorium, according to W. H. Davis Jr., current president. The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers for the coming year. All interested persons are urged to attend.

It isn't very often that printers receive recognition for good works from editors so we thought the following editorial by Dr. John J. Hurt in the Baptist Standard, September 24 edition, was worth repeating here. The editorial was called to our attention by Mrs. Carl Mountz.

PLEASANT ANNIVERSARY

Pardon us, please, but an anniversary requires that we violate an unwritten law that goes with our profession. The anniversary, as we explain quickly, is the first in our association with Southwest Offset, Inc., as printers of the Baptist Standard.

The unwritten law is that editors never say anything kind about printers. It requires blame for each mistake or a "typographical error." Failure also is assigned to either pressmen or the camera room if reproduction of poor pictures doesn't raise them to perfection.

It hasn't been that way for these 12 months with Southwest Offset. The relationship has been perfect. Production has been on schedule every week and usually ahead of contract provisions.

We are grateful to James M. Gillentine, president of Southwest Offset, which has offices in Dallas, Amarillo, and Hereford. We are appreciative of the fine service rendered by Jack Allmon, Dallas plant manager, and "Buz" Gillentine, who is responsible for turning copy into type.

Our gratitude extends to Mercantile Printing Co., which prints about fourscore special church pages each week.

We have been delighted with our first year of working together. We can't think of anything finer than many more anniversaries equally as pleasant. — Dr. John J. Hurt.

Southwest Offset, Inc., founded in Hereford some eight years ago, now has plants in both Dallas and Amarillo as well as the original plant in Hereford. At present time the organization is printing a large portion of the weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in the Texas Panhandle, plus the state publication of the Texas electric cooperatives and the state publication of the Texas Farm Bureau.

The local employees, by the way, like to refer to the Dallas plant as 'our Dallas branch office.'

The tragedy of the world, to small boys, is that the home team lost.

Veleda Study Club Hears Patriotic Program Topic

A program entitled "I am An American" was presented by Mrs. George Olson to members of the Veleda Study Club at a Tuesday evening meeting held in the home of Mrs. Glenn Watts.

In her patriotic topic, Mrs. Olson said "I Built America. I am many things — I am America." She named many things we find in our great country, "I spread from the Atlantic to the Pacific. I am forest, field, trees, desert — I am schools, churches and homes. I was conceived in freedom. I will be a beacon of hope to the world."

In a business meeting, with Mrs. George Ritter presiding, the date for the Oct. 14 meeting has been changed to Oct. 7 due to conflict with Community Concert. Mrs. Howard Birdwell and Mrs. James Trail were accepted into the club as new members.

Others attending were Mmes. Don Baugous, Bill Bradley, Gid Brown, Joe Frank Clark, Hugh Clearman, Red Durham, Armon Lauderback, Walter Owen, Allen Parson, Billy Wayne Sisson and Jerry Weidon.

Faulty Brakes Cause Wreck

Faulty brakes were cited as the cause of an accident which occurred Sunday night at the intersection of Eighth Avenue and North Street.

H.D. Council Schedules Scrap Drive

Plans for a scrap drive for materials, scheduled in October, were made and a report showing 100 ditty bags filled was given at a meeting of the Deaf-Smith County Council held Monday following a Home Demonstration luncheon at the Bull Barn.

Floyd Calvin Burke, driver of the 1960 Plymouth, which sustained $600 damage in the accident, told investigating officers that he was traveling north on Eighth Ave. when he reached the end of the deadend street. He applied the brakes, but they failed and the car crossed a ditch and went through a fence before coming to rest.

Opening exercise was a poem presented by Mrs. J. D. Gilbert of Progressive Club. Finance reports were presented and ways and means projects were discussed. Each club will sell spices and vanilla as a project.

All yearbook suggestions were requested before the next council meeting and an announcement was made by the North Hereford Club who will sponsor a film on cancer Oct. 2, inviting all clubs.

A nominating committee was named, consisting of Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. Paul Hoff and Mrs. J. E. Sorrells, to choose nominees for officers.

Others attending were Mmes. Louis Olson, Raymond Smith, Leroy Bodkin, E. C. Hewitt, F. D. Bryant, Wayne Sifford, C. F. Homfeld, Steve Meiwes, John Smith, S. N. Thweatt, N. A. Brown, Carl Schroeder, Judy Williams, George Bumpass, Thurman Atchley, M. W. Sumner.

Schmer Aboard Navy's Ranger

USS RANGER — Photographic Intelligenceman Third Class Donald W. Schmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Schmer of 224 Beach St., Hereford, is serving aboard the USS Ranger off the Southern California coast.

The ship recently participated in Operation Bell Express, a combined Navy-Marine exercise, preparing the units for conditions they will meet not only in Southeast Asia, but throughout the Western Pacific area.

The participating Fleet had to evade Navy aircraft acting as enemy surveillance planes as one of the many maneuvers included in the exercise. In one respect, Bell Express might be compared to a graduation exercise, since each unit was evaluated and graded on its performance.

ASC county and community committees handle local administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program, Cropland Adjustment Program, the feed grain, wheat and upland cotton diversion programs, the national wool program, the sugar program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, commodity loans, and storage facility loans.

YOU CAN'T BEAT AN ACE

EL PASO, Tex. — Here's a golfing oddity.

Dr. Grady Morrow holed out his second shot on a par-3, 175-yard hole from a sand trap. But, he still lost the hole.

University of Texas at El Paso head football coach Bobby Dobbs, one of the foursome, shot a hole-in-one on the same No. 7 hole at Coronado Country Club. It was his first ace.

Another member, Jim Morrow, had a three on the hole, and the fourth player, James Nace, had a four.

The scorecard showed a 1-2-3-4 for the hole.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

How long has it been since you checked your social security account? One year? Five years? Never?

"For most families, social security is one of their most valuable financial protections — too valuable to be taken for granted," says Travis Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office. Earnings credited under your number are the basis of payments made at retirement or disability, or to survivors in case of the worker's death. Also, Medicare benefits at age 65 have been added.

It's easy to check your record. A post card form, "Request for Statement of Earnings," can be obtained from your social security office or from the social security representative visiting your area. The request will get you a statement showing the total amount of earnings credited to you, with a year-to-year breakdown of the last three years. The statement will assure you that your record is correct and complete. If you find an error, report it promptly to the social security office so that action can be taken to correct your account.

"It's a good idea to check your record every three or four years," Briggs said. "If earnings were not reported, or were reported incorrectly, it is much easier to straighten them up if the correction is for recent years."

The Amarillo social security office is located at 1006 South Adams and is open Monday through Friday from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The telephone number is 376-5151.

FIND QUOTE
JERUSALEM — A 1,500-year-old quote from the Bible has been discovered on the sacred Western (Wailing) Wall of the Great Jewish temple.

A leading Israeli archaeologist says it proves Jews lived in and worshipped Jerusalem in 400 A.D.

Prof. Benyamin Mazar, heading excavations around the temple walls, said the sentence was from Isaiah, Chapter 66, verse 14:

"And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb."

Mazar said the inscription was written at the time Jerusalem was ruled by Roman Emperor Junial, who permitted the Jews to rebuild part of the temple destroyed by an earlier Roman conqueror.

"The inscription proves we were there at that time, and that we longed for Jerusalem even then," Mazar said.

Most archaeological finds in the wall area so far have been of Moslem nature.

REAL LIVE GHOST TOWN
GHOST TOWN, Ohio — This town is really on the state map. It's not listed among Ohio cities, incorporated or otherwise, but the name is in bright red letters a half-inch south of Findlay, Ohio.

The town is just what the name implies — a collection of abandoned houses and business buildings. The 20 buildings of Ghost Town including a cobbler shop, a barber shop, fire house, newspaper office and a replica of Findlay's first oil derrick, all had a role in the history of northwest Ohio.

The village's historical atmosphere carries its restoration project up to the 1880's when discovery of rich oil and gas deposits made the area a thriving boom town.

The restoration project was started 10 years ago by Ed Galitza and has become a booming tourist attraction.

Potent Seminole Backfield Will Pose Enormous Threat

Seminole's potent backfield, which riddled the Whiteface defense in the two team's first meeting last year, returns with an almost intact formation this year and will be looking to duplicate the 1968 7-6 win over the locals when the two teams meet Friday night in Seminole.

Small but scrappy Lavern Bennett, who tips the scales at 131, returns this year for the Indians along with the talented field general, Danny Whisenhunt who directed the win last year. Bennett was the lone Indian to score against the Whitefaces in last year's encounter, and his score provided the point-after that eventually won the game for the Seminole squad.

Hereford coach Larry Wartes feels that with their backfield remaining in good shape this week, the Indians will be able to provide the fans with a lot of ground play while Whisenhunt, who the fans put a lot of store in, will provide the aerial-minded observers with additional fireworks.

Their (Seminole) backs are all pretty good," Wartes pointed out, "and they all have a lot of experience. This Bennett boy started last year as a sophomore and has developed into an excellent runner. "Whisenhunt, another starter last year, is a tremendous athlete," he added, "he can do a lot of things real well."

Expected to open the gaping holes for their backs will be the Indian front wall of Buddy Bailey, a 155-pound senior guard, and Bill Hearne, a 153-pound junior guard. Adding to the front line strength will be tackles Kenneth Byram, at 175 pounds and Don Jay Coffman, a 171-pound junior. Senior Tommy Harrell will fill the center slot as he weighs in at 158 pounds as a senior.

Seminole, lacking in depth, will be forced to send six of their players both ways in Friday night's contest. Those expected to see duty from both sides of the line will include Mike Walker, who will go from the offensive wingback slot and the defensive back position. Ricky Thornbury, an offensive end and defensive end; Frank Grady, senior offensive fullback and defensive linebacker; Harrell, who switches from his offensive center position to his defensive linebacker spot; Bennett from the left halfback to the defensive back slot; and Hearne, from the guard to defensive linebacker.

Youth is abundant in the Seminole starters as they will have four juniors starting on the offensive unit and one sophomore and four juniors starting on the defensive squad. The lone sophomore who will start is Ray, who is considered very much capable of filling in the shoes of Whisenhunt should the occasion arise.

Offensively, the Indians do not pose a threat with their size, but their lack of size is greatly offset by their quickness. In their season opener two weeks ago, the Indians proved their speed as they completely overpowered the Denver City team, and their speed is expected to be a great factor in Friday night's game.

Rated by many for no better than a fifth place finish in the powerful 2-AAA league, Seminole's district foes have begun to turn their heads and take notice of the somewhat underrated Indians. While the other district teams have been knocked off right and left, the Indians, though having played only one game this season, are steadily gaining respect and all of the coaches of the 2-AAA teams are beginning to feel Seminole will be a strong contender for the crown in their league.

For the Whitefaces, things will have to happen with their offense if they are expected to stay close to the Indians. Through the first two games of the season, the Whitefaces have been able to score only 16 points to their opponents' 30. Friday night, the offense will have to be extra tough in order to contend with the Indians.

Injuries for the Whitefaces have been considerably lighter this year, but the injury is expected to hurt the team a great deal and that is the knee injury to the Whitefaces' huge defender, Tony Gorman. Gorman injured his knee and is expected to be out of action for about four weeks.

Fruit Of The Spirit

Eagerly we await each new season and the crop of fruit from our trees. We know the harvest depends on the quality of those trees. The Good Book plainly tells us that good fruit comes only from good trees and bad fruit from bad trees.

A human life is like that. And the need is great for good people who will produce good fruit for the common good . . . fruit of the spirit!

Love, joy, peace, humility, temperance and a faith to live by.

We have too much immorality, licentiousness, enmity, strife, anger and selfishness already. These are the fruits of bad trees. One would do well not to allow too much of this harvest on his fruit-bowl.

Is your life producing fruit of the flesh because it is world-centered?

Or is your life God-centered and producing Fruit of the Spirit? The Apostle Paul reminds us that good fruit is expected from us. What is the quality of fruit in your fruit bowl.

What kind of tree are you?

By Adela Rogers St. Johns

At eighteen I must have been regarded as a woman, writes the author in this colorful memoir, for I was one of the first women reporters, maybe as an all-around police beat, sports, and society reporter the first in the world.

Taking up her life where Final Verdict, her biography of her father, left off, The Honeycomb traces Mrs. St. Johns' fifty years as a newspaper woman during which, as a star reporter and feature writer for the Hearst papers — under the over-all supervision of William Randolph Hearst — she covered the Lindbergh Kidnaping Trial, the romance of Edward III and Wallis Simpson, Huey Long saga, most of the other great American news stories of the twentieth century.

With revealing candor and a vivid style Mrs. St. Johns recalls her progress from her first involvement in the newspaper field with the Los Angeles Evening Herald, through her rising importance as a by-lined writer, her entry into the Hollywood writing stables, and her life amid the glamour of stars and celebrities.

Although she chose what was considered a man's career, she never forgot that she was a woman, and in her recollections she also finds time to discuss her youthful flirtations, her bittersweet marriage to Ike St. Johns, a profound love affair, her difficulties with being simultaneously a wife, mother and career woman, as well as more serious personal problems. The result is a blockbuster of a story which catches the reader up in its drama and excitement and involves him in a personal confrontation with the events.

Few books in publishing history have created such excitement in advance of publication as My Life with Jacqueline Kennedy. A small portion of the book appearing in serial form produced a wave of press speculation throughout the world and whetted the anticipation of readers everywhere for the whole story. And only by reading the complete book can the complexities of the former Jacqueline Kennedy's personality and life be understood.

Mary Gallagher was Jacqueline Kennedy's personal secretary from shortly after her marriage to Senator John F. Kennedy through the White House Years and afterward. She worked closely with Mrs. Kennedy in the family quarters and watched her brilliant refurbishing of the White House: she was with her on that fateful day in Dallas and returned to Washington in the plane with her.

This book reveals Jacqueline Kennedy as a real person — as a wife, as a mother, as a seeker of perfection in art and life.

For the light it sheds on crucial years in American History and on Jacqueline Kennedy, this book is unique. My Life with Jacqueline Kennedy takes us back to Camelot and shows the real woman beneath the goddess-figure the world's idolatry made her.

Though Interstate Highways account for only one percent of the Nation's streets and roads, they probably carry 20 percent of all traffic. Vacation and pleasure drivers alone usually roll up 50 billion miles of travel a year on the expressways.

Linda Pinnell Of Adrian Weds In Lubbock Rites

The announcement of the recent marriage of Miss Linda Jane Pinnell to Gregory Joseph Pohlmeier is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell of Adrian. Pohlmeier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pohlmeier of Nazareth.

Vows were exchanged in St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Lubbock with the Rev. Herbert Hoffman performing the double ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride's street-length A-line gown of candlelight silk featured a rolled neckline with three tear-drop eyelets on the upper bodice and bell sleeves. Her brief bouffant veil of bridal illusion fell from a beaded coil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, centered with a white gardenia with satin streamers.

Mrs. Dennis Gerber of Nazareth was matron of honor and Miss Sheri Lynn Scott of Pasadena was bridesmaid.

They wore identical A-line satin sheath dresses and brief matching veils in the bride's chosen colors of mint and willow green. They carried bouquets of shaded carnations.

Dennis Gerber of Nazareth served as best man and Walter Pohlmeier, brother of the bridegroom, was candlelighter and groomsman.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. George E. Dawson of Lubbock, organist.

Ushers were Lester Schulte of Nazareth and Edward Lee Pinnell of Channing, brother of the bride.

Among the large assemblage of out-of-town guests were the grandmother of the bridegroom Mrs. Elizabeth Birkenfield of Nazareth and Mrs. Petrunella Birkenfield of Des Moines, Iowa.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the banquet room of the Red Raider Inn where guests were registered by Mrs. Lester Schulte, sister of the bridegroom.

An arrangement of fall flowers centered the silver and crystal appointed serving table. The two-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. R. C. Chism, sister of the bride and punch was ladled by Miss Theresa Pohlmeier, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride is a senior home economics major at Texas Tech and her husband is a sophomore student at South Plains Junior College at Levelland, majoring in agri-business.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 2903 3rd Place F34, Lubbock.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA SWIMMER

Once again, a bit of humor and a bit of wisdom, written by one who is anonymous, has been requested for a repeat performance. Here tis.

Supplication —

"Lord, thou knowest better than I, that I am growing older and will someday be old. Keep me from the fatal habit that I must say something on every occasion. Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs. Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy. With my vast source of knowledge, it seems a shame not to use it all — but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end."

"Keep me from reciting endless details — give me wind to get to the point. Seal my lips on my aches and pains. The desire to rehearse them is becoming greater as the years go by. I dare not ask for grace to enjoy the tales of other's pains but help me to endure them with patience."

"I dare not ask for an improved memory, but for more humility when my opinions seem to clash with others. Teach me the lesson that I may occasionally be wrong. Keep me reasonable sweet; I do not want to be a saint — some of them are too hard to live with. Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talent in unexpected people. Give me the grace to tell them so. Amen."

I talked to Mrs. H. E. Miller this week and she was just as proud as punkin' over a brand new grandchild — her sixteenth, she said, with much pride. The baby girl was born to the John Robert Millers who live in Scottsdale, Ariz., and formerly of Hereford.

She had just received a picture of the little tyke and said anyone who had a few hours to listen, she would be glad to tell them all about her. She was born Sept. 8 at Doctor's Hospital in Phoenix and weighed seven pounds and eight and one-half ounces.

They named her Alyson Celeste and are planning to call her by her middle name. She joins ten-year-old sisters, Vickie and Debbie.

Other grandparents included Mr. and Mrs. Grady Rogers of Scottsdale, formerly of Hereford.

Money may not rule the earth. But if you care to doubt it, And wish to know — If this be so — Just live a while without it...

Dawn H.D. Club Program Given On Cake Decorating

Mrs. Dale Henson, Mrs. Richard Sims and Mrs. J. A. Crawford, all members of the Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club of Hereford, presented a program on the art of cake decorating to members of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club at a meeting held Friday at the Dawn Community Building. Hostess for the meeting were Mrs. Richard Golden and Mrs. J. E. McCabe.

In the demonstration, Mrs. Henson, who was introduced by Mrs. Orvil Galley, stressed the importance of the temperature of the icing for good spreading consistency.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Mrs. Galley and Mrs. Mary Tucker was appointed to choose the officers for the coming year and ten ditty bags for the Red Cross were filled.

The next meeting is a luncheon scheduled Sept. 26 with the time and place to be announced later.

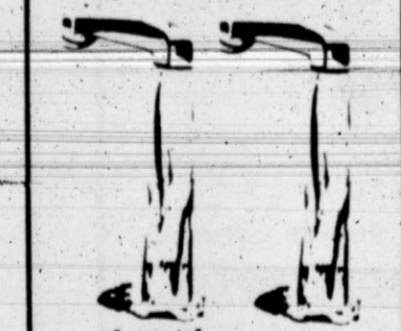

Others attending were Messrs. H. V. McCabe, Leroy Johnson and R. T. Stewart.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. 205-3706

In an historic act, the House this week voted to abolish the Electoral College and substitute the direct popular vote to elect the President and Vice President of the United States. This was the first time that the House has approved such a plan.

Of course, since this is a proposal to change the Constitution, the plan must also gain a two-thirds vote of the Senate and be approved by the legislatures of 3/4 of the states. Although the vote in the House indicated a generally very favorable attitude on the part of the members, I foresee a much more searching examination on the part of the various state legislatures. Constitutional changes are—as they should be—very rare and I believe there will be quite a bit of soul-searching on the part of state leaders before they acquiesce to change the Constitution and agree to permit the direct popular vote plan to stand.

There is little doubt that some reform of the system is necessary. I think all will agree that the certification by the Electoral College of a man who received the fewer amount of votes—a situation which is possible under the present system—rather than the man who receives the greater amount of popular votes is not good. It has happened though.

In the 46 presidential elections held to date under the electoral college system, three popular vote losers were elected President: John Quincy Adams, Rufus B. Hayes, and William Henry Harrison. Two presidents were selected by the House of Representatives: Jefferson and Adams, and one Vice President was chosen by the Senate: Richard Mentor Johnson in 1836.

In addition to the direct popular vote system which the House consented to, three other plans have been advanced. Briefly summarized they are:

- (1) The District Plan, which would preserve the electoral college system but would require electors to be chosen from single member districts within each state, with two electors running at large.
- (2) The Proportional Plan, which would allocate the electoral vote in each state in accordance with the popular vote cast in the state, and
- (3) The Automatic Electoral Vote Plan, which would abolish the office of elector but retain the electoral votes of each state. Under the plan, the electoral vote of each state would be automatically awarded to the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes for President in that state.

Of the four plans, I prefer the District Plan simply because this would provide a realistic and effective way of overhauling the electoral college system while retaining the traditional balance between the national government and the states.

I am hopeful that a meaningful Constitutional amendment can be enacted which will do away with the inequities of the present system, but I do not favor at the expense of the autonomy of the states. The present system binds the residents of each state more closely and results in campaigns which focus on regional, which is to say state issues. There is a community of interest expressed which is more readily understandable to the politician and more readily and easily expressed by the electorate. I think this is good.

If the direct plan is implemented by three quarters of the state legislatures, this unique feature of the American system will be lost. The question is now up to the Senate and the state legislatures to work their will on this amendment.

With food costs rising and the price of meat in the supermarkets escalating at a rate of nearly 12 percent a year, how is the farmer doing?

This question was asked by the financial columnist Sylvia Porter in one of her recent columns and her answer was: "Poorly."

Farmers and ranchers have known this for some time, but I was pleased to see that the fact is gaining recognition among the non-farm public. If this is misunderstood, it could do a lot of harm to the farmer in the form of farm programs stripped to the bare bones.

Of every food dollar we spend, only 41 cents goes to the farmer. For every dollar spent on milk, the farmer gets only 50 cents; for bread, just 14 cents; for oranges, just 22 cents; for onions, 27 cents; for potatoes, 33 cents; and for corn flakes, only nine cents.

If the farmer isn't getting it, then who is???

According to the Department of Agriculture, labor costs have risen 53 percent since 1957-1959.

Transportation is up 15 percent; advertising costs are up 67 percent; rent is up 35 percent; but, most importantly, corporate after-tax profits are up 71 percent!!!

All war is costly. The one in Southeast Asia is no exception. There were men walking this earth yesterday who are not here today; the best of American men. There were whole men yesterday, robust and healthy, who are no longer whole, some not fit to take care of their own needs for the remaining five decades of their lives.

There are others, presumably alive in the stockades of the enemy, somewhere in North Vietnam. We know less than nothing about them. Their wives and families here in the safety of America do not know if they are alive or dead. Contrary to the Geneva Conventions, the enemy will tell their families nothing.

At present there are more than 1,350 U. S. servicemen believed to be either prisoners of war or missing in action. More than 250 of them have been missing or prisoners more than 3 1/2 years. This is longer than any U. S. serviceman was held prisoner during World War II.

This situation is very personal to me. Three of the men I flew combat missions with in the Korean War are known prisoners of war; two others are officially listed as missing in action.

Believing that we must focus attention on this situation, I joined this week as a co-sponsor of a concurrent resolution on the inhumane treatment of prisoners of war of the North Vietnamese. Passage of the concurrent resolution may focus world attention on their action, and pressure the captors to provide news of their condition to their anxious families.

DPS Desperately Seeking Patrolmen

Due to the rising traffic deaths and crime rate, the Texas Legislature has authorized an additional increase of manpower in the uniformed ranks of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In carrying out this authorization a call was issued today by Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety in Lubbock, to young men to fill a 120-man training school beginning Oct. 21, 1969.

Major Bell states that two inducements have been authorized by the Legislature to help fill the uniformed ranks of the Texas D. P. S. First, the salary during training has increased to $525 per month; secondly, upon graduation the salary has increased to $630 per month.

QUALIFICATIONS
Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 35, a height of not less than 68 inches, a weight of not less than two pounds per inch of height or more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have completed high school or the equivalent. They must be a citizen of the United States and be of good moral character.

Those selected will take their basic training at the Texas D. P. S. Law Enforcement Academy in Austin. The training period is approximately four months in length. Upon graduation the patrolmen will be assigned to one of the four uniformed field services—Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Motor Vehicle Inspection, and Drivers License.

BENEFITS RECEIVED
Two weeks vacation annually, 12 or more holidays each year as provided by the Legislature, 12 days per year sick leave which may accumulate to a maximum of 36 days, $10 per month added to salary at the end of each five years of service, to a maximum of 25 years, a modern liberal retirement system based on age and/or years of service, social security benefits, traveling expenses when away from assigned station as prescribed by law, group hospitalization and life insurance valuated by Connie Goeringer. The next meeting of the club, which is today, will have Virgil Dodson as Toastmaster, Gilliam, Topic Master, and speeches by Goeringer, Shipley and Benson.

The club also announced that the Toastmasters International will celebrate its 45th anniversary in October and coming events will be announced.

plan available, uniforms and the necessary equipment to perform duties furnished.

TRAINING
The training of a patrolman is a test of an individual's intellectual, emotional, and physical stamina. It is also an educational process which prepares him for one of the most satisfying careers in public service—law enforcement.

During the course of their study at the Law Enforcement Academy student patrolmen are given intensive training in subjects such as Criminal and Traffic Laws, Accident Investigation, Court Procedures, Criminal Interrogation, Narcotics, Traffic Supervision, Profession Driving, Firearms Technique, and First Aid Training, or any one of the approximately 100 subjects that comprise the training program.

In addition to the classroom work they are taught self-protection by means of judo, boxing, wrestling, and various other police-protection methods.

REWARDING SERVICE
The very nature of police work is demanding on the patrolman, but it is also very rewarding. It deals with getting people to conform to the rules and regulations of society with a minimum of friction. The patrolman is taught to recognize and control situations that might arise from dealing with people under emotional stress. He is prepared for dealing with unusual situations under adverse conditions.

The patrolman's duties are as varied as the geography of the state in which he patrols. A day's duty may consist of tracking a tornado in the swirling sands of West Texas or rescuing a stranded citizen along a hurricane swept coastal area. It may involve the high speed pursuit and apprehension of a flagrant traffic law violator or wanted criminal.

His duties may also consist of accident investigation, direct-

Jess Sorrells Gets Link Win

Jess Sorrells played come-from-behind golf Sunday afternoon and over took and held a one-stroke lead to win the annual Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament held here last weekend.

Randall Rieger, who fired a 67 in Saturday's opening round, staggered on the final 18 Sunday with a 72, allowing Sorrells to take the tournament. Sorrells final two-day score was 138 as compared to Rieger's 139.

Skip Martz took the first flight laurels with a 36-hole total of 144 while one shot back was Dan Laxon and J. A. Butler and Don Martz followed with 149 and 150, respectively.

Second flight honors were taken by Dr. R. D. Barron as he won a playoff with Dr. B. J. Weaver and Charles Skinner. All three tied with final scores of 156. J. E. Ferguson followed with his total of 160.

Jobey Clayborn collected the win in the third flight with a score of 156. J. E. Ferguson followed with his total of 160.

Jobey Clayborn collected the win in the third flight with a score of 165, edging Jerry Hodges and Jack Kirkland who were both one back with 166's.

A 174 by Dennis Bohrer won the fourth flight with Larry Stomer second with 175. Gerald Payne and Dampier Weaver followed with 176 and 177, respectively.

ing traffic, regulating truck traffic, motor vehicle inspection, and testing applicants for a drivers license. Also, by his presence on the highways, the patrolman has the opportunity and duty of assisting motorists in distress, whether it be helping change a tire or rendering first aid to someone critically injured in an accident—this aid often being the difference between life and death.

Because of the short time remaining to test applicants, immediate inquiry is urged for young men to contact the nearest D. P. S. office or patrolman.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Crunch Can't Be Beat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to serve one of the best party desserts you can possibly dream up, try Greta Hilb's Company Crunch cake. This great cook Greta says:

"When I was in San Francisco, I would go blocks out of my way — even when it was raining — to get a certain delicious cake from a confectionery shop. The shop, of course, was not giving out the recipe. But through my friends and their friends I managed to track down the what and how. The cake itself is a most, rich, sponge cake. It's the topping that makes it different and memorable."

As it happens, this Crunch Cake is available here in New York City because the San Francisco shop Greta mentions has a branch here. But in New York the cake is made only on order. So we ordered ourselves one — truly out of this world. Then we made Greta's version — even more delicious.

This Crunch Cake recipe appears in a delightful cookbook, "For Goodness Sake!" by Greta Hilb and Lenora Mattingly Weber, but the book is temporarily out of print. So if you want to make this memorable Crunch Cake we urge you to clip this recipe. Just one note we'd like to add. If you bake the cake a day before serving, don't plaster the crunch on the whipped cream frosting until shortly before serving because the crunch has a tendency to get soft if it's left on the whipped cream for hours ahead.

GRETA HILB'S COMPANY

CRUNCH CAKE

6 egg yolks
½ cup cold water
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon or almond extract
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
6 egg whites
¾ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 pint whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Crunch (see recipe)

Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; add the water and continue beating until very thick. Gradually add the ½ cups sugar and the ½ teaspoon vanilla and lemon or almond extract. Fold in the flour sifted with salt, a little at a time. Beat egg whites until foamy; add the cream of tartar and beat until they form shiny peaks. Fold into egg yolk mixture. Do not stir or beat. Bake in a 10-inch ungreased angel-cake pan in a 325 degree oven for 1 hour. Invert pan to cool.

For serving, cut the sponge cake into 3 layers. Whip the cream with the 2 tablespoons sugar and the 1 teaspoon vanilla until quite stiff. Spread ¼ of it on the bottom layer. Add the second layer and do the same. Use the last half of the sweetened, flavored cream for the top and sides of the cake. Generously coat with the crunch pieces and crumbs, pressing them into the sides with your fingers (and licking them, of course). Refrigerate until served. If you have any crunch leftover keep it in a dry place and use to sprinkle over ice cream.

Serves about 14.

CRUNCH

(For Company Crunch Cake)
1½ cups sugar
¼ cup white corn syrup
¼ cup strong hot coffee
3 teaspoons sifted soda

Make the crunch ahead of time. In a saucepan stir the sugar, corn syrup, and hot strong coffee (1 rounded teaspoon instant coffee to the ¼ cup boiling water), and cook, stirring constantly. It will thicken up like molasses. Cook to 310 degrees on your candy thermometer, or until a few drops in cold water give a metallic snick against the side of the cup. Take off heat and add the soda (sifted, so there are no lumps) and stir it in well. While still foaming, pour onto an ungreased cookie sheet. Don't smooth out

Hereford Gun Club Announces Schedule For Fall Competition

A full schedule of events has been released by the Hereford Gun Club as the fall season gets underway this Sunday at the range east of the city near the air port.

Sunday, the All-Round Trophy, currently being held by Joe Lyons, will again be up for grabs when matches begin at 2 p. m. with practice rounds starting at 1 p. m.

On Oct. 5 the local gun club will hold a merchandise shoot, which will also begin at 2 p. m. with practice rounds prior to the start of the official match. The Quail Walk Trophy, also held by Lyons will be shot for on Oct. 12 and the starting time for this match will be 2 p. m.

Anyone interested in shooting in any of the matches are urged to attend, according to club secretary Jim Lassiter.

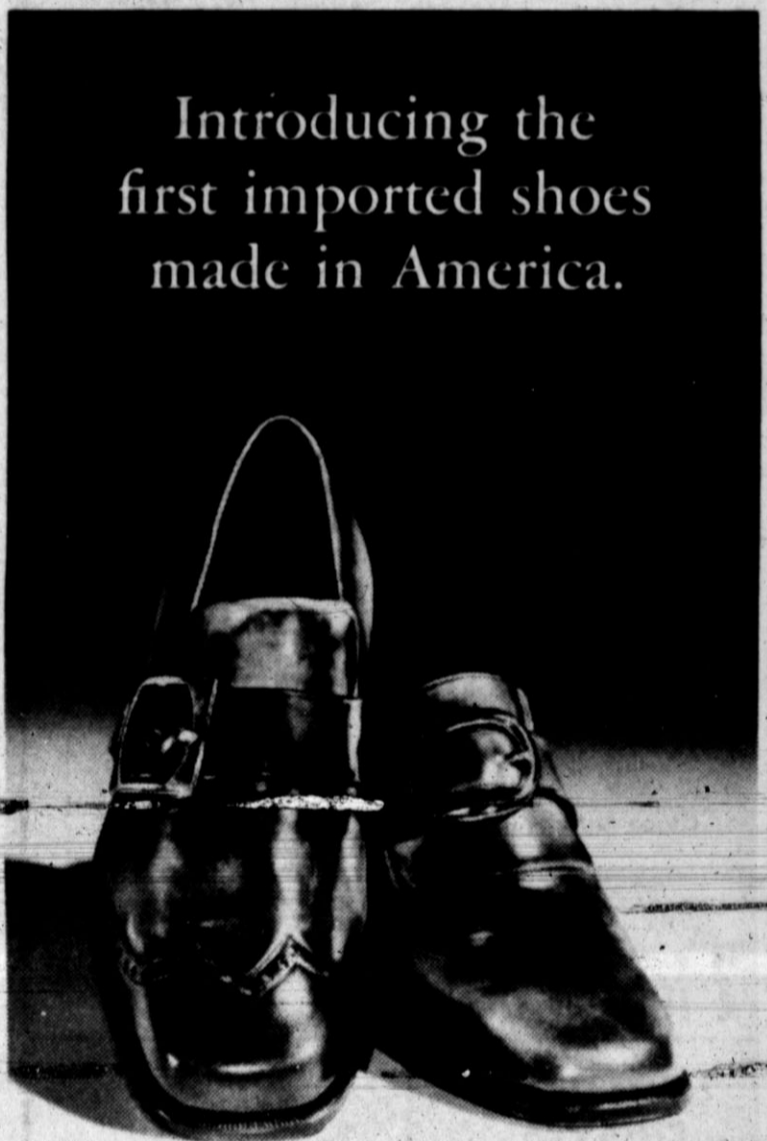

The club has also scheduled a shoot for Oct. 26 when the coveted R. J. Cramer Trophy will be shot for. The trophy was last shot for and won by Lynn Barclay and if he or any other shooter is able to win it three times in a row, it will become their permanent property.

November 2 will see another merchandise shoot held at the range and again all shooters are invited to participate. On November 9 there will be Team Shooting and the high team will award a trophy to the team members who shoot that day.

The club also reported that due to the Thanksgiving holidays being only two weeks away from the Nov. 16 and 23 shooting days, Ham and Turkey Shoots will be conducted at the range. These two shoots, like all others, are open to the public and the Hereford Gun Club extends an invitation to anyone who wishes to participate.

HEREFORD WHITEFACES

1968 RECORD 5 WINS 6 LOSSES

Friday, September 26th

GAME TIME 8:00 P.M.

Holding a 1-1 record this season, the Herd will be looking for a big win Friday night when they travel to Seminole to tangle with the so far unbeaten Indians. After dropping last week's game to Plainview, the Whitefaces will be trying to mobilize their offense which was held to three points by the Bulldogs. Hereford probably will be relying on tailback Alan Wagner, offensive player of the week, to rack up the yardage with the pigskin.

Defensive player of the week, John Frank Martin, will attempt to repeat his performance as the defense will try to halt the experienced Seminole backfield.

Bufs Will Battle Powerful Illinois

CANYON — West Texas State University's Buffaloes, smarting from a season opening football loss to Northern Arizona, host high-scoring Northern Illinois at 8 p. m. Saturday. The Buffaloes fell 21-20 to the Arizona club Saturday night, while Northern Illinois is ripping the University of Idaho, 47-30, out Monday to correct flaws in his club's offensive and defensive units. Buffalo coach Joe Kerbel set For the second straight week the Buffaloes will be facing a dangerous passing quarterback. Northern Illinois' Steve Parker hit on 13 of 22 passes against Idaho for 173 yards. Bobby Stewart threw for 210 yards against the Bufs Saturday night. Kerbel was pleased with the opening game performance of quarterback Clarence Red i c.

The former Odessa Ector all-stater hit eight of 14 passes for 118 yards and one touchdown and added 24 yards on the ground. All-America candidate full-back Duane Thomas crushed the Arizona line for 86 yards in 21 efforts to pace the Buffalo attack in the first game. Olan

Thompson had 67 rushing yards and carried three pass receptions 65 yards. "We expect Northern Illinois to have even a more potent offense than the one we faced against Northern Arizona," said Kerbel. "Parker is not only a great passer, but he can scramble for the long gainer."

Running backs Bruce Bray and John LaLonde provide the Huskies with a solid ground game. LaLonde rushed for over 100 yards in five games last fall. Northern Illinois, under new coach Richard Ulrich, opened its season by falling to powerful North Dakota State, 28-0. The offense which was lacking in that clash came to the front Saturday against Idaho.

The Huskies grabbed off six Idaho passes during the clash to help their cause.

West Texas has faced Northern Illinois once previously and the game was a thriller. The Buffaloes came out of the clash with a 17-10 victory. That was in 1967 at DeKalb, Ill.

Saturday will be "Amarillo Night" at Buffalo Bowl and the halftime show will again feature over 2,000 Kids Incorporated football players. The youngsters will perform several drills, play scrimmage games and at one time release 4,000 balloons skyward.

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

EXPERTS PESSIMISTIC OVER HO'S SUCCESSOR | NO CHANGE EXPECTED IN VIETNAM PATTERN

WASHINGTON When the death of Ho Chi Minh was first announced, the initial reaction in Washington was that it would have no effect on the progress of the war in Vietnam, nor on the peace discussions in Paris. A little later there was a divergence of opinion with some observers believing the vent provided the possibility of a new peace incentive, and others believing that it in fact inhibited moves toward a resolution of the fighting.

Now, with some few days having passed, the experts in Washington, and elsewhere, are more inclined to admit that the divergent views which have found their way into print resulted from an inability to provide any firm reading on what Ho's death portends for the future. There is, however, an apparent effort to pull back from the idea that the Red leader's death can in any way open new avenues toward solutions of the fighting, either in South Vietnam or in Paris.

On the contrary, there seems to be a crystallization of the viewpoint that the ruling clique in Hanoi will make it more difficult to obtain any change in direction or momentum in solving the fighting. This is largely so because government by committee is cumbersome, and more to the point in this instance, there are four ambitious politicians who must be thinking in terms of assuring their own political future by enhancing it, or by thwarting efforts of their counterparts to enhance theirs.

It may well be true that Ho is the only major Communist leader who has been able to pick his successors, but it is yet to be determined whether the Hanoi quadriga, in fact, what Ho had in mind, or whether it represents some kind of compromise among the various forces and factions that he left behind.

HAYNSWORTH PARALLEL. The furor over the nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. reminds some lawyers and historians of a strikingly similar nomination by President Hoover in 1930 which was defeated by a coalition of labor and civil rights forces.

Hoover had appointed John J. Parker, chief justice of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, to the high court but the Senate voted 41 justice to 39 to defeat it, after a no-holds-barred brawl. Haynsworth holds the judgeship that Parker held, and his nomination has likewise aroused the opposition of labor and civil rights advocates. Haynsworth was with Parker when the latter suffered a fatal heart attack in the lobby of a Washington, D.C., hotel in 1958.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manieot

This last week has really been a busy one. One of the biggest thrills of the week was my visit with the Farm and Ranch Club in the home of Mrs. J. V. Perin.

The countryside is so very lovely. The pastures are like lawns. The cattle fat, sleek and satisfied. Some wildflowers complete the picture.

Nice, attractive farm homes, with the crops, most of them, ready for the harvest. The soybeans in their golden hue full to bursting in the pods; the corn standing straight, bearing proudly the fine firm ears of yellow or white, and the maize red heads outlined against the blue autumn sky. All really made one wish they could paint with oil on a large palette the beauty pictured.

I just about decided if I couldn't be a member of a garden club then my next choice would be a farm and ranch club. The gracious hospitality of the hostess, the delicious food (home cooked and some home grown), the clever table arrangement which was made in a select container, floral materials were irizons, interestingly cut and placed on the soil, which were ready for planting. Accessories, the hand garden tools harmonizing with the bowl and other materials.

In my flower garden scoring, I would have gladly placed a blue ribbon and given it a real high grade. Meeting old friends, making the acquaintance of new friends, and having an opportunity to talk a bit about making home grounds more beautiful with spring flowering bulbs. (I sold some too.)

All in all, it was a happy, happy day. It made me almost wish I lived in the country to enjoy the beauties of nature and the other activities related to ranching or farming.

UNUSUAL CROP
We have just mentioned some of the crops grown in our area, so now I want to tell you of a different cultivated crop. In some of my garden materials I learned that Cornell researchers are cultivating an unusual crop — ragweed. The acreage is large, and thirteen areas of North America are being used. Why such a crop? I am sure this would be one of the first questions of the hayfever sufferers, to whom ragweed really sets them wild with sneezing, etc.

The answer is, the aim is to better control the plant and ease hayfever suffering.

The experiment of treating the growing ragweeds with herbicides before June 1 is to eliminate much of the crop and thwart the pollen allergy factors. One of the controls other than the application of the herbicides in early June is to treat the ragweed between June and early August. Cornell reports that ragweed seed germinates most freely in April and May and almost ceases by June 1.

Cool nights and warm days start a good crop. Still another control is to cultivate the soil before June 1 to kill the ragweed in the fields (this applies to local crop in our area.) The pollen is contained in the flowers of the ragweed and their flowering period is usually completed by early August.

Another evil or hindrance of the ragweed is that it steals water from more desirable crops. This has been going on in North American fields or otherwise, for more than 1,200 years. Probably originated, so scientists have said, in the Sonora Desert along the Mexican border. It is an enemy to approximately 20 per cent of the North American population.

In and around Hereford we have ragweeds, and they are not only bad for the hayfever sufferers but they take nutrition from our crops. A cooperative effort could well help us to rid our area of this weed.

COMPOST
It is certainly not too soon to start planning for the making of a compost pile. The leaves will soon be falling, and our flower beds and vegetable gardens will have to be cleaned out. All these along with scraps (which do not have fats) from our tables and food preparations make good compost.

I assure you it is not an easy job to rake and collect the leaves and other materials, but if collected and made into compost, your garden will be much better next year. Some of the new lawn mowers have sweepers and they would make it easier to assemble materials.

Select the place you wish to have your compost pile. It is advisable to have either a metal or wooden frame, and into this you layer the leaves, etc. On each layer add fertilizer or an element which will aid in the deterioration. Sprinkle lightly (very lightly with water) and it is also good to have a pipe centered in the middle of the heap, reaching from the ground to the top and above the pile of materials. This is for the purpose of taking care of odors.

Remember as time goes by you can add other layers, until you have the space filled which you have prepared for the compost.

Next year at planting time you will be proud of the compost. It will be a rich gleaming black, moist substance, and when added to the flower or vegetable gardens, it more than pays off or trouble gone too, to produce the fertilizer compost.

BEAUTY SPOTS
While trying to sell bulbs for the Pioneer Study Club, I have done much driving about the city. In my rounds I saw all of the school grounds, the church grounds and other public building plants, flowering and otherwise. At Stanton J.R. High School, the old-fashioned garden they have (between the buildings) is very colorful. The celosia is rich in texture and brilliant in color. There are a number of varieties, and to some gardeners they call it prince-feather.

I have seen celosia growing and blooming in many towns in our area, as well as here at home, and I believe that Mrs. Kate Graham in Amarillo, her quality, colors, and plants were the best.

By the way, she welcomes visitors to her garden (at Plains and Western.) However, it is wise to make arrangements for a visit, as she is a very busy gardener. It is especially beautiful in June and in the fall.

Other plants that I have noticed which appealed to me were the scented and trailing geraniums. I have grown the trailing geraniums for many years and they are pretty for ground cover or for hanging baskets. The foliage is especially nice for arranging. The texture and color is so adaptable. The scented geraniums I have not grown, but I have eaten foods seasoned with the various varieties. The lemon is very good in pound cake, and the spicy varieties are delicious in cookies, jelly, or fruit cakes.

Some of these were being grown outside at the Amarillo

Exit German Measles ---

(Editor's note — This is the first of a series of four articles to appear in the Hereford Brand each week on German measles and their dangers to our society, furnished by the Texas State Department of Health.)

On June 10, 1969, an event took place which gave promise of finally correcting a medical emergency that became apparent in 1941. A vaccine for rubella was licensed in 1969; but Garden Center.

The maple trees are especially pretty on Westhaven Drive and adjoining streets. The yellow coloring and the interesting shape of the leaves etched against the blue, or evening sky, are picturesque. The two at the Oscar Easley home on Centre are especially colorful. On one side it looks like frost has already touched the leaves with its brush of gorgeous fall colors.

To be glad and happy is a delightful two-some.

the urgent need for it became clear in 1941 when an Australian ophthalmologist, Dr. Norman Gregg, suddenly found that a large number of infants with cataracts were being brought to him. They had been born that way. Normally, Dr. Gregg might see one or two babies with congenital cataracts at one time. He examined the cases and found that they had one thing in common. Less than a year earlier an epidemic of rubella, or German measles, had struck the area. "Did you have the German measles during the epidemic?" Dr. Gregg asked each mother of a baby with cataracts. Yes, the mothers recalled, they had a little rash and fever, some aching of the joints — nothing serious. Even though some mothers could remember no illness, it appeared evident that they had such a light case of the disease that it went undetected.

Dr. Gregg felt that he was on to something — something that had never been documented before. Finally, he found evidence of 78 infants with congenital cataracts throughout Australia. In 67 of the 78 cases a history was obtained of the mothers having had rubella during the first three months of pregnancy or just before conception. At last it was a matter of medical record. Rubella causes birth defects! In addition, Dr. Gregg learned, the infants born of mothers who contracted rubella early in pregnancy, often were underweight, had high incidence of heart damage, and other anomalies, and showed a high mortality rate.

We now have a weapon to stop rubella, the killer and crippler of unborn babies. As with all weapons, however, the new vaccine can only be effective when put to use. The rubella vaccine must be used to immunize millions of children before the disease is finished.

La Plata, Stanton With Victories

As the La Plata Mavericks were tromping the Plainview Blue Pups at Whiteface Stadium Thursday night in a freshman contest the Stanton Junior High Dogies were edging Dumas in Lemon Land. The La Plata Plainview contest resulted with the Mavericks running away with the score 32-6. The Dumas-Stanton game ended in a 24-14 victory.

La Plata hurriedly jumped out in front of the Blue Pups by racking up 13 points in the first quarter. The first touchdown came on a 60 yard run by half-back Danny Harris. The conversion attempt was successful. The second TD was a four yard scamper by Larry McNutt with the extra point attempt unsuccessful. After a scoreless second quarter La Plata scored again on a twenty-yard pass to Terry Champ.

Plainview finally got into the scoring bracket with six points in the fourth quarter but failed to keep the Mavericks out. Harris bulldozed over again this time from two yards out while McNutt repeated his performance by racing for seventy yards and pay dirt.

Stanton's victory over Dumas was just as exciting a contest. The Demons reached the goal line first halfway through the first quarter. They gambled on the two point conversion as it paid off to make the score 8-0. Toward the end of the first quarter the Dogies tied the game on a 35 yard pass from Keith Kitchens to Ray Rameriz and two extra points with a pass from Kitchens to Alan Cornelius.

Stanton broke the tie midway through the second quarter on pass from Kitchens to Sammy Clemons which covered 8 yards. Kitchens connected to Clemons again for the extra points. Dumas, down by 16-8, got into the scoring bracket again in the third quarter but missed the conversion.

With five minutes left in the game Kitchens' golden arm was accurate once more as he hit Wesley High for a forty yard scoring play.

Receiving mention as outstanding offensive players were Wesley High, Ray Ramirez, and Keith Kitchens. Leading the defense were Wesley High, Wynn Short, and Donald Davidson.

FOOD IS MY LINE

By Red Hagan

Probably one of the most famous steak houses in the country is Chicago's Stock Yard Inn. It was originally built to take care of the cattleman who brought their herds to the stockyard. The outstanding feature of the Inn is the "Steak Throne". On this throne, resting on a bed of ice, are the choicest steaks in the world. The customer can choose his own steak, brand it, and have it served to him sizzling hot with the brand still showing upon it. These branding irons are held in braziers which keep them hot and constantly ready for use. Try the Chaparral milt fed beef your next mall shopping trip.
