Dean Neighbors Can Fresh Beef for Home Use

The home of J. J. Crawford, 25 miles northwest of town in the Dean community, was the scene Monday of the modernized community progress. Ten women and eight men gathered at the Crawford home to spend the day in the study and demonstration of butchering, cutting up and canning of meat. A 700 pound beef furnished the material with which to work and several hundred quart cans of fresh meat ready to be opened and served at any time during the next year was the result of their labors.

R. O. Dunkle, county agent, was in charge of the work, and Mrs. Clem Friemel and Mr. Crawford, from former experience in canning meats, directed the labors of the others.

Thus is the work of a county demonstration agent carried forward in Dean Smith county by those who have had contact with the work and are able to assist others in modern home practices that care for surpluses when they are available, to save them for a season when they will be a necessity. The county needs and appreciates that kind of people.

Mayor Names Bicentennial Committees

E. S. Ireland, Mayor, at the request of the United States Commission for the celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the birth of George Washington, has appointed a committee from Hereford to assist other representatives in promoting local programs celebrating the bi-centennial. The purpose of this committee is to sponsor celebrations throughout the year, ending with Thanksgiving day in November, and to cooperate with committees of civic and other organizations contemplating special programs celebrating this event during the year.

The United States Commission was organized by act of Congress by joint resolution approved December 2, 1924. As planned, the celebration is to be in keeping with the motive expressed by Congress, "That future generations of American citizens may live according to the example and precepts of his exalted life and character and thus perpetuate the American Republic."

The key theme or purpose is: "We cannot all be Washingtons, but our country will be immeasurably elevated and improved by having its citizens carry in their minds and hearts such a knowledge and appreciation of him that their daily lives will be actuated by his example."

The following were appointed by Mayor Ireland to represent the city: Mrs. Jno. P. Slaton, chairman; Mrs. Jas. W. Witherpoon, Miss Gladys Seigler, Judge Earl W. Wilson, Travis M. Dameron.

SEED AND FEED LOAN REPRESENTATIVE COMING

D. H. Sardidge, representing the Federal Government in making seed and feed loans will be in the office of R. O. Dunkle, county agent, all day next Saturday, February 13. The object of Mr. Sardidge's visit regards the seed and feed loans made here last year and he is also desirous of meeting all who are interested in making loans this year.

It is the opinion of those who have dealt with the problems of seed and feed distribution that loans will again be available this year to those who handled their accounts satisfactorily in that respect for 1931.

INFANT SON OF MR. AND MRS. ROY MANNING BURIED LAST SUNDAY

Russel LeRoy, the six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Manning, died at their home here Saturday noon and was laid to rest in Palo Duro cemetery Sunday afternoon, after funeral services at the family home.

Death came as the result of whooping cough which developed into pneumonia. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved young parents.

PHYSICAL CULTURE CLUB HAS INTERESTING START

The Hereford physical culture club is now a reality. It has weathered its first two public meetings and is prepared to enter a campaign of usefulness to members and perhaps the community as a whole. Thursday, January 28, the first meeting was held and prospective members were taught the first principles of right living—a smile. After purposes of the club were explained and exercises had been demonstrated, 17 persons joined, and the club was formally launched with 25 members, this including charter members.

February 4 at the city hall the first business meeting was held. After acceptance of new members, Mrs. Elmer Patterson was elected president, Dorothy Jo Harding, vice president; Nell Kester, secretary; Elmer Patterson, corresponding secretary. Meetings are held temporarily at the city hall each Thursday evening at 7:30.

VEGA TEST WELL PASSES 3500 FEET

Lee Denny, tool dresser of the Chambers No. 1-Herring test oil well drilling seven miles northeast of Vega, was in Hereford Wednesday afternoon and reported operations progressing exceptionally well. The bit was down 3520 feet, had passed through a lime and shale formation and was in hard lime. A good showing for oil was passed at 3370 feet, according to Mr. Denny, and indications were favorable for still better traces at 3750, 3890 and 4100.

A 10-inch hole at 3500 feet is standing up well, the contract calls for drilling to a depth of 4500 feet if necessary, and Mr. Denny stated it was expected to put the hole down to 6200, if need be, to make a thorough investigation of the oil and gas possibilities. He further said that no water had been encountered so far in the drilling of the test hole.

Seventh District Club President Here Saturday

The Deaf Smith County Federation of Clubs will meet at 2:20 p. m., February 13, in the Presbyterian church. On that day the women of Hereford and Deaf Smith county are to be honored with a visit from the president of the seventh district, Mrs. J. A. Hill, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Clyde C. Warwick, both of Canyon.

Mrs. Hill is making an effort to reach every club woman in the district before the general meeting in Pampa this spring. She especially requests that at the close of her talk Saturday, the women bring to her their club problems. There will be a box at the entrance and questions may be written and deposited in the box. This will be opened and Mrs. Hill will discuss the questions at the close of the program. She especially wants to learn of all club problems.

Mrs. Warwick will give a short talk on club ethics. All women of Deaf Smith and adjoining counties, as well as from Hereford, are given a cordial invitation to attend.

Mrs. Hill is the wife of Dr. J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, and Mrs. Warwick is the wife of Hon. Clyde Warwick, state representative from this district and editor and owner of the Randall County News at Canyon.

Sam H. Roberts, syndicate representative and attorney, is in Hereford this week looking after his company's interests in the Garcia Lake oil well territory.

Mrs. H. H. Marshall left last Thursday for Seymour to visit her parents.

County Health Activities

SPECIAL DENTAL CLINICS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

The dental hygiene program in the schools of Deaf Smith county is an important phase of the Health Education plans this year. The two local dentists, Drs. G. W. Heard and B. M. Wiltshire, have completed the examination of all the children in the rural and Hereford schools.

The dental honor roll has been instituted in all class rooms, the children who do not need dental corrective work won their places on this honor roll. Following the dentists' examination, all other children having corrective work done can win this credit.

To make it possible for more children to have dental defects corrected, the local dentists, Drs. Wiltshire and Heard, are to hold special clinics for all school children in Deaf Smith county, beginning Saturday, February 13, from 9:00 to 12:00, and from 1:00 to 3:00 at their respective offices, and continuing for four or more Saturdays until the work is completed.

Approximately one-half the usual fee will be charged for this work, as follows: All extractions, 75 cents; all fillings, $1.00; cleanings, $1.00. Do not forget the time and date of these clinics.

This service will only be extended over a certain period of time necessary to serve all school children in the county. This is an opportunity to improve the health of the school children. Dental decay and diseased gums are the causes of many diseases in children, and at least a child is not equal to his school duties when his health is impaired by faulty teeth.

FURR FOOD BUYING FARMERS' LIVESTOCK

Charles Tuell, manager of the Furr Food Store, has been paying Deaf Smith county livestock raisers good local prices for their fat butcher stock, to be used for slaughtering and sold at the markets of the Furr Food Stores. At one time last week 48 fat hogs were delivered to Mr. Tuell for this purpose and others have been received at prior times. C. P. McCollough, Clay Bowsher and J. L. Fuqua have been selling hogs and cattle to Mr. Tuell, some of the animals being extra select stock.

BUYS TRUCK LICENSE PLATES; LOSES THEM

H. D. Culpepper is diligently searching for the new truck license plates he bought Monday. Not stopping to put them on at the court house, they were put in his truck. When he reached the Consumers Fuel Association offices they were gone, and only the trailer license he had purchased at the same time could be found as he back-tracked to the court house. The plates were numbered 60-893.

W. I. VALENTINE HOME BURNS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The beautiful country home of W. I. Valentine on an acreage tract in South Hereford was apparently completely destroyed by fire just after dark Wednesday evening, and a number of out-buildings were lost at the same time. A close estimation of the extent of the loss could not be made this morning.

Stewart & Kerr Partners.

H. A. Stewart, who has been with the Amarillo office of the John Deere Plow Company for the past year, has become a partner of the Kerr Implement Company. Until a year ago Stewart was company superintendent of four counties.

R. A. Barhyte of Amarillo has moved to Hereford to take charge of the service department.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith of Canyon spent Wednesday night with her mother, Mrs. W. M. Megett.

Leonard Ricketts, former Hereford citizen and father of Buford Ricketts and Mrs. Louie LeGrand, has been critically ill at his home in Dimmitt during the past week.

Trade Extension Service Brings Satisfied Buyers

A careful check-up of the Trade Extension feature the Brand used two weeks ago with the cooperation of 23 Merit Merchants of Hereford, has shown the plan awakened interest in a larger circle of territory than the city has been serving completely for the past several years.

The Merit Merchants as a whole have expressed themselves as well pleased with the results obtained and anticipate the coming of the two Special Days week after next. A number were elated that they had given specials on items that proved extremely attractive to buyers two weeks ago, while others felt they would choose merchandise more in demand the next time; trade in their stores was excellent, but the items they had specially priced were not always specifically called for. Other merchants of the city who have not taken part as one of the Merits, were well pleased with trade they felt was brought to Hereford by the combined efforts of the Merit merchants, and plan to feature specials of their own the next time, to help do their part of the program.

Specific instances are given of people over 30 miles away in several directions who made buying trips to the city on Trade Extension Days to see if values really were as represented, and they were so well pleased that they again came to Hereford the past week end to do their shopping.

The Brand issued and mailed 450 extra copies two weeks ago, sending papers directly to everyone within a trade radius of Hereford who is not now a subscriber, and whose name could be secured. This feature will be given each month when the two days of special merchandising shall be used.

NEIGHBORS HELP R. J. KIBBE CELEBRATE 75th BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kibbe, north of town, were the happy recipients Sunday of the fellowship of neighbors and friends who brought a bounteous luncheon with them. The occasion was the celebration of Mr. Kibbe's 75th birthday, which occurred last Saturday, and also commemorated the 48th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Kibbe.

Association with this venerable couple is the joy and pride of their many friends. They came here in 1891, and still live on part of the land they originally homesteaded. They drove through to this locality from a Kansas point with wagon and team and have watched the coming of practically all of the modern accommodations local people now enjoy. The passing of the ox-cart days and advent of the automobile are now but incidents to them, and Mr. Kibbe had the pleasure several years ago of taking an airplane ride from his own land where the former T. A. T. landing field, now is.

EARLY CHICKS SHOWN AT WEST TEXAS FEED AND SEED STORE

There are 21 little chickens shown two weeks old right out the front window of the West Texas Feed and Seed Store that their owner, Jack Wright, takes great pride in possessing. They are from his prize winning flock of White Rocks, conceded to be among the best blooded on the whole Plains. The little chickens are not for sale.

It isn't advisable to think out loud that the slightly blue color of some of them is coal dust. Jack won't stand for it. Only the very choicest of White Rocks have the discoloration and that only when they are very young, and the smutty appearance is their guarantee of perfection. Those 21 are sturdy fellows and seem to be indifferent to the possibility of cold weather.

SLIGHT RAINS HERE DURING PAST FEW DAYS

Lowering clouds since the first of the week brought a driving rain from the west Wednesday afternoon and light rain fell after dark that evening but the precipitation was not enough to do much good except freshen vegetation and put a feeling of spring-time in the air.

Slightly cooler temperatures this morning are expected to again warm up during the day, as the day is bright and clear.

FEVER HEAT TO FREEZING IN A FEW STEPS

With its 47,000 egg incubator and his half car load capacity cold storage plant running from the same current within a few feet of each other, the Hillside Hatchery has two unusual temperatures in close proximity.

The incubator is as large as a room and is arranged for the attendant or visitor to move about within it. It is heated to 90 degrees, the atmosphere is kept at the saturation point and is damp and heavy, a big fan keeps the air stirring rapidly, and a visitor is immediately impressed with the idea he will die if he does not get out of there at once. However, the lungs soon adjust themselves to the condition and the oppressive feeling soon passes away, and a sane consideration of the surroundings can be given.

Two steps away from the incubator door a visitor walks into another room to receive a different shock. While the thermometer registers but 32 degrees, that is 68 degrees lower than the incubator, and coming as it does following the other temperature, the effect is worse than ordinary zero weather.

The cold storage plant of the Hillside Hatchery has been a busy place the past week, dressing capons and receiving those of club boys and poultry growers to hold for shipment to market. Over 500 dressed capons, weighing one and three-fourths tons, were shipped Wednesday, and it is estimated there will be that many more during the next few weeks.

While the price received for the birds has not been encouraging, it is in proportion to the values of other commodities, and the poultry raisers think they have done as well with capons as they could have with any other line of poultry at the present time.

LIONS CLUB TO PRESENT MINSTREL SHOW SOON

The Lions Club of Hereford at its regular weekly luncheon Wednesday noon voted to undertake the production of a local talent negro minstrel show to be given as soon as the cast can be selected and the complete program prepared for presentation. Those who have kept in touch with Lion club activities in the past are already making predictions that the minstrel will be attended by the usual success that has gone with other things the club has taken in charge.

Wednesday's luncheon was also marked by the final initiation ceremonies of J. C. Parker, and further instructions of new members in the proper use of a spoon and the time to say "Mister". Lion Acker was delegated to represent the Lions with other civic and community groups in planning features in keeping with the Washington bicentennial movement.

There will be at least two new Lions to appear before the den as cubs at next week's luncheon.

Popular Store Redebrates.

Gaston Baer, general proprietor of the Popular Store, took to heart the Brand editorial about the coming of spring and preparations therefore, and has this week caused his place of business to blossom out with new paint on the awning in front and with a newly worded sign.

TEXAS MARKET GIVES FREE PICTURE SHOW

A treat for lovers of fine horses is promised by the Texas Market and Grocery tomorrow night when with the cooperation of the Star Theatre, Manager J. Wallace Robinson will give a free picture show to everybody who can come. The name of the presentation is "Men of Chance" and is a story of racing thoroughbreds.

Carlyle's Grocery Remodeled.

Carlyle's Grocery was remodeled this week to afford a more attractive display of the foods. Half the building was partitioned to serve as a supply room, while the remaining space makes possible a more convenient arrangement of shelving and counters.

NATIONAL PRESIDENT LEGION AUXILIARY TO VISIT THE PANHANDLE

The Panhandle of Texas will be honored this month by the visit of Mrs. Louise W. Williams, Tuckahoe, N. Y., national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, the largest women's organization in the United States. This is the first time that a national president of this organization has visited the Panhandle.

Mrs. Williams will arrive in Texas February 17. Mrs. Van W. Stewart, Perryton, state president of the Auxiliary, will meet Mrs. Williams in the Rio Grande Valley, going from there to Austin and Ft. Worth, and arriving in Amarillo Friday, February 19.

The national president will be the principal speaker at a meeting to be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening. This meeting is for all Legion and Auxiliary members and their families and the general public. This program will be followed by a reception and dance, with no admission charge.

Saturday noon, February 20, Mrs. Williams will be guest of honor at a luncheon at the Herring Hotel, tendered her by the Auxiliary women of the Panhandle.

GAS COMPANY MAIN LINE BLOWS OUT

The high pressure main line of the West Texas Gas Company blew out some time Sunday afternoon some 18 miles southwest of Hereford, and service was crippled in Friona that evening and night.

Because the gas main lines form a triangle from Canyon to Lubbock to Farwell as well as from Canyon through Hereford to Farwell, pressure for all towns west of Hereford was maintained without loss except at Friona. There being no gate-valve on the eastern side of Hereford, the gas had to be cut off on the west side, and service there suffered during the time repairs were being made.

A crew of service men experienced in heavy duty pipe work was rushed up from Lubbock Sunday evening, between 20 and 25 men working without interruption all night so that service in Friona could be resumed early the next morning.

A peculiarity of human nature was manifested in the attitude of spectators witnessing the spouting column of gas before the pressure was cut off. A guard was necessary to keep people with lighted cigarettes and cigars a safe distance away to prevent ignition of the immense volume of gas shooting out into the air at 250 pounds pressure per square inch.

P. T. A. Pageant of Washington, February 19th

Under auspices of the Hereford Parent-Teacher Association will be presented "Washington Returns," a pageant depicting the life and ideals of the Father of His Country, and their effect upon American life during the past 200 years, to be given in the high school auditorium Friday evening of next week, February 19.

There will be 175 persons taking part in the presentation, which portrays four episodes in the life of Washington: First, His youth and adventures; second, The man and his home; third, The general and his fame; fourth, the statesman and his immortality.

The presentation is expected to be one of the most spectacular of local talent productions ever attempted, with a street parade by the characters in costume, etc. A charge of 15 and 25 cents admission will be made. The cast of characters will be given in next week's Brand.

MRS. LULA ORR LEWIS HOME FROM MAYOS

Mrs. Lula Orr Lewis, who has been under hospital care for surgical treatment and a bone graft to relieve tuberculosis of the spine, returned home Monday. The operation and treatment were successful and it is expected her health will be rebuilt as convalescence progresses.

Mrs. Lewis has been able to walk a few steps, since her operation, for the first time in several years.

Influenza Peak Considered To Be Passed Here

Superintendent C. H. Dillehay of Hereford high school, reports this morning that the influenza epidemic over the city is apparently abating and more students are back in school today than for any time this week.

From a combined enrollment of 290 in the high school and high seventh grade there were 110 absent Monday, 142 Tuesday, 122 Wednesday, and today's absentees are less than those of Monday. This is taken as an indication that the peak has been passed and it is expected that if patients are careful, the greatest danger is over. There has been no pneumonia developed from any of the cases reported, most of the illness has been slight, and none have been dangerously sick, according to reports available.

Central school has had fewer cases in proportion to its enrollment than has the high school. This is also true of the departmental grades, the high school students seemingly being more affected than the younger pupils. With but 75 out of 380 absent today from Central school, as compared with 80 yesterday, it is thought the worst part of the epidemic has been passed there as well.

Five teachers were the greatest number absent at one time, although 11 have been out a part of the time through the week. Those were Misses Gwendolyn Spradley, Frances Fullingim, Mabel Gene Campbell, Irene Crawford, Tallie Bell, Madeline Bell, Ruth Dozier and Mary Bradley, and Messrs. James Wilson, T. E. McCollum and Ralph Smith.

Superintendent Dillehay advises that parents be very careful of children with colds or influenza, as it is easy to contract pneumonia when in their weakened condition. Children should be kept at home until fully recovered and not take any chances with a relapse, as it is often more serious than the first illness. A few have returned to school and were sent back home.

Star Theatre Will Operate Sunday Show

Next Sunday afternoon Hereford will have its first picture show, to keep up the procession set by other Panhandle towns some years ago. Hereford is the last one to join the ranks of those showing on Sunday.

The question has long been debated by Manager J. C. Parker of the Star Theatre whether Sunday pictures would be advisable in Hereford, taking into consideration not only the owner's standpoint, but also that of the community, in estimating the benefits to be derived.

Mr. Parker has left the question entirely up to the show patrons of Hereford. If the majority of sentiment is against the operation of the Star Theatre on Sunday afternoons, he will not conduct the show then. He says he will not hold shows at the time of any regular church or religious services, giving two performances each Sunday afternoon, one at 2:00 o'clock and the second at 4:00. Mr. Parker thinks a considerable amount of picture show entertainment money is going out of Hereford each Sunday afternoon because he does not operate, and those who have seen pictures elsewhere are loathe to spend money a second time, thus he is deprived of a just revenue to which he feels entitled because of his investment here.

He feels that those who wish to go to Sunday picture shows may be given the opportunity, and those who do not feel it best to go on Sunday afternoons need not go then.

The picture chosen for the first Sunday matinee is "Emma", portrayed by the accredited greatest screen personage of the past year, Marie Dressler. She has endeared herself to the American theatre goers by her depiction of roles that lay close to the human heart, parental love and understanding, mixed with a rich humor that transcends the vaudeville or slap stick variety.

Put Through The

I am being asked so much about the Japanese-Chinese war and what I think the outcome will be, I am beginning to be suspicious that folks might think I am to blame for it. As far as I am concerned, I feel perfectly free in stating that the parties in conflict have not asked anything about it yet, nor do I really expect them to. The whole thing started without my knowing any of the circumstances, and I don't believe the Japanese or the Chinese would pay the least attention in the world to what I might choose to say now. I do believe that too many times folks take the solution of world problems on their shoulders when there is nothing but the height of the ridiculous gained by telling others what ought to be done about it. For my part, I can find plenty to do right here around our community, and the more I have time to do the better I feel about what I have done.

I do not believe our community is going to be greatly affected by what takes place between Japan and China. If they are going to have war, and of course I would rather they did not, nobody around here is going to be able to stop them, but the prices of some commodities will be raised by the war, such as wheat, cotton, etc., which will in turn cause laborers to be more in demand and at a better wage. That may be a hard way to look at the question, but it is out of our control and may have advantages we will find useful.

There is so little known about just what constitutes "American interests" in China that it is hard to know just why there should be much concern over what the Japanese do. I have an idea that should our country go to war with Japan, even in a very slight way, the cost would be tremendously more than the American interests there are over there. I cannot see how the present situation in the East can bring on a world-wide war, but I don't see how

Twenty-One Years Ago In Hereford

(Taken from Files of the Brand, February 17, 1911)

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Newell were moving to Los Angeles, California, to make their home. (Again it is proved that they always come back.)

There was a distinct difference in reporting visits to Amarillo in comparison with modern times, perhaps occasioned by the size of the place. In those days the Brand said folks were AT Amarillo, now it says they were IN Amarillo.

L. Gough had been attending a state meeting of the farmers at San Antonio.

The weather had warmed up enough to let gold fish be shipped in and the Corner Drug Store was giving two of them in a fish bowl with each purchase of a 25 cent bottle of White Pine and Tar cough syrup.

The Brand was calling on delinquent subscribers to "extend their reputation" by paying up. The modern practice of collecting in advance or not sending the paper keeps a "reputation" in good standing.

In an attempt to hold a commercial club meeting, counter attractions of a revival service, a dance, show in the opera house, and a picture show cut the expected attendance down to seven.

The popularity of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Garrison who were here from Blue Fields, Nicaragua, Central America, was attested to by honorary social festivities at the homes of Mrs. Orla and W. H. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lipcomb.

J. N. Thornton had begun the issuance of the Dimmitt Plainman, a paper devoted to the interest of Castro county and the environs of its metropolis.

An unusual rainfall, amounting to more than an inch, fell over the trade territory, the first of any consequence since the August before.

Mrs. E. E. Ramsey had delightfully entertained her Sunday school class at their rural home with a valentine party. One automobile and several buggies were used to take the guests to the Ramsey home.

er of the Star Theatre to have picture shows on Sunday afternoons can be commended in several ways. Hereford people have for several years past been going regularly to Amarillo, Canyon, Clovis, Dimmitt, Tulla, Friona, Plainview, etc., on Sunday afternoons to picture shows, and seldom get home until late that evening. If our young folks are going to picture shows on Sundays I would rather they went at home. If they don't go to Sunday picture shows, they won't go if there are shows here on Sunday.

Mr. Parker's decision to abide by the wishes of the people of Hereford as to whether or not he will conduct a Sunday show, is an evidence of the utmost sincerity. He pledges not to have any Sunday show except during afternoon hours, and will discontinue even those if the majority of sentiment is against the idea. He is right in feeling that he is losing his potential business by so many Hereford folks going away to see pictures on Sundays that he has been showing for less money on week days.

strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphan; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations".

The Deaf Smith county grand jury did its work in a rush for this term of district court, three days were enough to dispose of the duties of the body and they were dismissed. It is a usual custom to recess the grand jury subject to recall should the occasion justify, but apparently matters are so well in hand that it was thought unnecessary this time and the taxpayers were saved three dollars a day each grand juror gets for investigating law violations.

Beside the true bills reported, the grand jurors observe that sufficient evidence was lacking in other cases they had under investigation.

In the meantime, district court grinds away week after week, piling up costs for the taxpayers, with litigants who enjoy the privilege of using the courts to gain their ends, under no guaranteed responsibility of repaying the costs incurred.

the one in 1914 would, either. I am appending the comment of a smarter editor than I am, and think he expresses the opinion of Mr. Common Citizen, U. S. A., which leads me to believe we won't have any war:

1. That all congressmen and senators voting for war be given the choice of enlisting in the shock troops or being shot on the Capitol steps.

2. That each battleship, cruiser, destroyer and submarine shall carry as excess baggage one or more stockholders in battleship building concerns.

3. That all manufacturers of war supplies be hanged when their profits reach the million-dollar mark.

4. That all holy men who announce to their congregations that God is fighting with us be dispatched to interview God personally on the subject and find out.

5. That college professors be estopped from delving into history to prove that the enemy always was a low-down scoundrel, anyway.

6. That the secret service be restrained from the discovery of enemy plots every time somebody turns on a light in the parlor.

7. That the cause of the war shall be clearly stated to the nations as the reduction of unemployment, and not disguised as a holy war to save civilization.

Many more rules will be needed, but these will suffice for a start.—Los Angeles Record.

In grandad's time they called it "break-bone fever", when I was a kid it was known as "la grippe," and since the World War what I suspect is the same malady has been recognized as "influenza", better known as "flu". Anyway, Hereford has it, and public gatherings for the past week have been but poorly attended. The thoughtfulness that prompts folks to stay away from assemblies unless compelled to go, is worthy of commendation.

The grocers tell me they are selling more raw fruits and vegetables than for a long time past. Apparently, folks are taking better care of their physical being than they were ever known to. I have heard no expressions of undue alarm over the situation, a few in Hereford have been seriously ill, but the majority of the cases have been slight, and the patients careful not to take chances with the disease.

The Nation pauses tomorrow to pay tribute to the memory of one of its greatest sons. Not for one thing alone is Abraham Lincoln honored, but nearly American finds in him something admirable for emulation. From the humblest of beginnings to the highest honor in the gift of his nation, with a heart surcharged with a sympathy and understanding of the woes of his people that could not be comprehended, with the delicacy of touch or word to soothe spirits drooping under loads they thought unbearable, with a firmness to bring to accomplishment the greatest task that has ever been laid before an American citizen, with a clear insight that looked through the machinations of politicians who sought to bring his power to serve their unscrupulous ends, with forgiveness for the vile things that were heaped upon him, with fearlessness he faced selfish opposition and gave aid to suffering humanity, whether friend or foe.

Probably the greatest phrase he ever uttered affecting the life of the nation was his Gettysburg address, " . . . that government of the people, for the people and by the people should not perish from the earth", while the sentence that has most endeared him to the humanity of all nations closes his second inaugural address, and portrays the great heart of the man himself, "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us

JESUS AND THE MAN BORN BLIND

John 9:1-11, 30-38

1. And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth.

2. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who sinned, this man, or his parents, that he should be born blind?

3. Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4. We must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5. When I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed his eyes with the clay.

7. And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and perceived sight.

8. Others said, It is he: Others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he.

9. They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened?

10. He answered, The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight.

11. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened mine eyes.

12. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth.

32. Since the world began it was never heard that anyone opened the eyes of a man born blind.

33. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing.

34. They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

35. Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?

36. He answered said, And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him?

37. Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh with thee.

38. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

Golden Text: I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.—John 8:12.

Time: October 11-18, A. D. 29, the third year of Christ's ministry. Place: Jerusalem, probably near the temple. Also the Pool of Siloam.

Introduction. The Jews as a race believed that sin and suffering were always together; that no suffering came except as a direct result of some special, specific sin.

This very problem has been discussed fully in the Book of Job, with which every educated Jew was familiar. Unquestionably suffering was introduced into the world by sin; just as death came that way (Romans 5:12-14). But Jesus came to conquer death and sin, and with the conquest he destroys suffering finally. Jesus is come that he might take away the sting and terror of death and finally he is going to abolish it altogether (1 Cor. 15:26). When he comes the second time he is going to take away all pain, blindness, tears, heartaches, and fills of every kind (Rev. 21:4).

Why Was the Man Born Blind? Jesus says that the blind man was born blind "that the works of God should be made manifest in him." God knew from eternity that this man was to be born blind. He was to be in this particular spot. Jesus was to come just at this time and heal him. God wanted him for a witness to his Son in the city of Jerusalem.

None can take God by surprise. He knows every detail. He knows the present as it is in every life. He created all things and he knows how they are going. If we are right on the first chapter of Genesis it is a safe starting place. "In the Beginning God."

God knows all men, the good and the bad (Psalms 33:13-15). He knows their inner thoughts (Acts 15:8, Psalm 139:2). God knows our joys and our sorrows. He knows every human need (Matt 6:8). He knows the troubles which beset us. He knows when we face difficult problems. God knows everything (Psalm 56:8, 9; Heb. 4:13).

The Night Cometh. "The night (of death) cometh, when no man can work." "Once, only once, this splendid chance of using the world is given to each of us; and if the night comes on ere yet our proper life's work has begun, to say nothing of its being done, it must remain undone forever, our life a failure, our soul a wreck." "Many say that the night cometh when no man can work, but live as if the day would last forever."—Dr. Thomas Arnold of Rugby. "There is a legend how Satan, summoning his imperial court, promised a reward to that ingenious devil who should invent the most effective way to destroy the human soul. One proposed to teach men that there is no God; another that there is no hope of immortality; another, that the Bible is a lie.

But the devil who got the prize who offered to convince men that there is no God."—Dean George Hodges. "No higher recompense can I imagine than the inner consciousness of having wrought with the Eternal in establishing the kingdom of heaven."—Rev. J. Frank Smith, D. D.

The Pool of Siloam. The Pool of Siloam is in southeastern Jerusalem, south of the temple area. It is now a stone reservoir, 58 feet long, 18 broad and 10 feet deep, which receives the water from the Fountain of the Virgin above it, this water being conducted through a tunnel about a quarter of a mile long cut through the solid rock. The water from the pool, in turn, flows down to gardens in the Kidron valley and irrigates them.

Jesus Charged With Guilt. "Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day." It was unlawful to practice the medical art on the Sabbath, and Christ had worked this miracle of healing on that day. To be sure, he had only placed clay on the blind man's eyes and told him to wash it off, so that technically he had not broken the law; but the Pharisees made an investigation, hoping to get some charge to bring against Christ. They asked the cured man what he thought of Jesus, and received the conservative reply, "He is a prophet," that is, one of God's special ambassadors and representatives.

Unable to make anything out of the blind man, the Pharisees summoned his parents. They held to the three facts, that he was their son, that he had been born blind and that now he could see; but they did not venture an opinion in regard to Jesus, knowing that the Pharisees had determined to excommunicate anyone who confessed Jesus to be the Messiah. Therefore the parents said that their son was of age, and he could speak for himself.

One Thing I Know. Turning again to the cured man, the Pharisees solemnly bade him give glory to God, and speak the truth regarding Jesus. "We know," said these religious leaders of the people, "that this man is a sinner." But the man stuck to his guns: "Sinner or not, on thing I know: I was born blind and now I see." Trying to trip him up, they questioned him again about Christ's method of healing; but he had become justly impatient: "I have just told you; why are you so keen to hear it all over again? Do you too want to be his disciples?" The Pharisees were non-plussed, and fell back on their commonplace of orthodoxy: "We are disciples of Moses. God has spoken through Moses. As for the fellow, whose disciple you evidently are, we do not know even where he comes from."

Their boasts of Moses and his Lord, All could not change him by one word.

I know not what this man may be, Sinner or saint; but as for me, One thing I know, that I am he Who once was blind, and now I see."—John Hay.

Dost Thou Believe On the Son of God? "And finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?" "When he saw Christ coming, his whole heart leaped up with joy. He saw him with the new, strange, beautiful sight which he himself had given. And just then Jesus steps in and questions him; not, 'Are you glad and grateful?' but 'Dost thou believe on the Son of God?' It is a new view altogether. We can almost see the surprise and bewilderment creep over his glad face."—Phillip Brooks. "The inquiry is not, 'Is the man a church member?' but, 'Dost thou believe on the Son of God?'"—Rev. William W. Faris. "He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him?" Here is a soul all ready for belief, and needing only the word of his wonderful new friend.

Jesus Announces His Divinity. "Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh with thee." Nobody else but one poor, profligate Samaritan woman heard such words from his lips. "Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am He."—John 4:26.

"And he said, Lord, I believe." "And he worshipped him." He prostrated himself on the ground before him. "I would rather have been that man than to have been the high priest. I would rather have been that man than to have been Herod, or any of his court. I would rather have been that man than to have been Caesar, who was reigning at Rome."—Henry Ward Beecher.

The Light of the World. "When I am in the world, I am the light of the world." "Christ is the light of the world because of the fact that his religion opposes and conquers the darkness of sin, which is so dark because it includes ignorance and prejudice, and woe, and more than all, death."—Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, D. D. "A plant, shut up in a dark cellar all winter, will lean lovingly toward some chink or crevice in the wall through which a tiny ray of sunlight struggles, to kiss its waning energies. Why does the plant turn toward the light? Because the sun is its life. It gladly hails its faintest touch; without the light it must die. So Christ is the soul's life. Without his light, bringing warmth and vitality, it dies. Then let us, silently, lovingly, weave into the soul the rays that fall from him."—Rev. Francis E. Marsten, D. D. "Light of the World! thy beauty Steals into every heart, And glorifies with duty Life's poorest, humbles part; Thou robest in thy splendor The simple ways of men, And helpest them to render Light back to thee again."—John S. B. Mansell.

METHODIST MISSIONARY ZONE MEETING

Zone No. 2 of the Amarillo district met at Dimmitt in the Methodist church on Thursday, February 4, with Mrs. Roy Ezell, Bovina, zone leader presiding. After the opening song, Rev. S. A. Thomas of Dimmitt led the morning devotional, using Acts 3, and stressing giving our best in the Master's service, lest we die spiritually. He closed the message with a fervent prayer.

Mrs. T. V. Weaver of Dimmitt, gave all present a hearty welcome to their city and church, and a joyful response was given by Mrs. Annis, Friona.

An impressive duet, An Evening Prayer, was rendered by Mmes. H. H. Hawkins and J. B. Jones, Hereford, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Walls.

Group meetings of the various officers were called and their problems and joys were discussed, refreshing each official for their task.

The afternoon session was opened with a devotional presented by Mrs. Ansel Lynn of Bovina. Her scripture was For the joy of the Lord is your strength, making each one present realize anew the joy of service to the best of one's ability. A few moments were devoted to a testimonial service in which a number bore witness to their joy in Christ. A touching reading, No Room in the Cottage, was given by Miss Stringer of Dimmitt. Mrs. B. I. Graves read the parable of the talents as related in Matt. 25. She urged all in her quiet, sincere way to use at least one talent to the best advantage for the work of the Kingdom of God. Rev. Ansel Lynn of Bovina brought a message that was informative and stirring, on Kingdom Extension work. He closed with a prayer for world peace.

Mrs. S. H. Peach of Oklahoma Lane made each lady present feel a personal responsibility for the future state of prohibition in her message on the Temperance Unions. The grand old song, Land Where We'll Never Grow Old, was beautifully rendered by the Friona ladies. Mrs. H. H. Hawkins of Hereford discussed the standard of excellence and how to attain the honor roll. Mrs. Ansel Lynn sang sweetly, O Zion Hasten.

BUSY BEE SEWING CLUB HAS MEETING

The Busy Bee Sewing club met in the home of Mrs. Henry Williamson on January 28. The afternoon was spent in piecing a quilt for the hostess. Delicious refreshments were served to the following:

Mmes. Allen Hughes, O. L. Rutherford, Garret Smith, J. J. Kropff, J. W. Kropff, W. A. Long, Henry Williamson, Fred Welch and Joe Paetzold. Visitors were Mmes. R. O. Douglas, I. A. Long and Miss Mildred Rutherford.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. D. Blythe, Thursday, February 11. Let's have a 100 per cent attendance this time. Since we have Master Thurman Williamson as our able helper in piecing quilts, much work is being accomplished.

THELMA M'MINN PRESENTS PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

A unique studio recital was given by Miss Thelma McMinn last Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock in her home on F Avenue, in which several of her students in piano were presented.

Valentine colors were carried out in soft lights with potted plants to make a lovely background. Only immediate families of the pupils were present, making about fifty guests. The numbers were varied, consisting of piano solos, duets, trios and quartets, and a vocal duet with piano accompaniment.

Those participating in the program were Margaret Ruth Kucker, Alma Cox, Betty Joe Kendall, Clydene Kendall, LaNelle Scheibagen, Helen Seed, Beatrice Lawrence, LaYada Cox, Christine Atchley, Mrs. Bernard Roberson, Christine Chapman, Otho Noland and Everett Story.

Three other pupils, Helen Oglesby, Geraldine Huntley and Eva Greeson, were unable to be present because of illness.

Seen On the Screen at the Star

The last showing of "Way Back Home", the picture made famous by Seth Parker and his radio stars, is given at the Star Theatre tonight, and if last night's enthusiasm is an indication, folks will be there from all over the country to see the favorites they have listened to so long over their radios. As its name implies, the picture is not of tempestuous love affairs, raging wars or far-fetched imagines of wickedness, but is of the everyday life of rural folks, their pleasures and their trials. Friday's picture is free by virtue of the generosity of the Texas Market and Grocery, under whose sponsorship the Star is presenting "Men of Chance", a race horse theme with Mary Astor playing the leading lady's role. Miss Astor is an actress with a style found too seldom on the movie screen, it is possible to be a great actress and still present the deportment, language, mannerisms, gentleness and other beautiful qualities of a lady. There should be more like Miss Astor. Ken Maynard comes Saturday in "Branded Men", which shows at both the matinee and evening performances. Marie Dressler will come Monday and Tuesday in "Emma" as well as opening the first Sunday afternoon matinee the Star has ever presented.

Community Bible Class

While there is quite a bit of sickness, last Sunday there was a good attendance when the class met at the Star theatre at 9:30. Quite a bit of interest and enthusiasm is manifested in the lectures on Job, which the leader by repeated requests has been asked to continue. All men not in Sunday school elsewhere are cordially invited to visit the class and listen to these lectures.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Alston returned Wednesday night from Merkel and Sweetwater where they visited their parents.

EDITORIAL

(By a Staff Editor)
The school board doesn't realize it, but one of the most trying needs of Hereford high school is more room. That is, outside room. The school grounds are very cramped. One the east side of the building is a fence, while on the west side, nearly as close, is a road. At noon, being as there is no other place to stand, the pupils stand the street in front of the school house, giving way to accidents. Some minor accidents have occurred here, but it is not too far for a serious accident. If the school board would acquire the land adjacent to the school building on the west it would give students a safe place of conversing, fresh air and spacious attractive ground, thus adding to our civic pride.

February 25.

Of the coming events in Hereford high school we want every junior and senior to remember this one—the Junior-Senior Banquet. The committees are working hard on the banquet and we want every junior and senior present. Be there—and the rest will take care of itself. The credit for the banquet doesn't belong to the juniors, but to our mothers. We are greatly indebted to every mother who has made the banquet possible. This will be the only occasion we will all be together and we want every junior to share in honoring the seniors.

The purpose of this banquet is to express our appreciation for the seniors. Maybe they will give us some idea as to being seniors next year. The banquet is not to be principally a dress occasion—if you think you have nothing to wear, just wear your best gingham dress come. Help the black and gold to honor the red and white.

Track Practice Starts.

In the last few days some of the track prospects have started training. They are seen every fair afternoon going around the track loosening their muscles and getting ready to start off with a boom when track season opens. From the looks of those men, Hereford should have a good track season.

The Seniors Will Win.

The seniors are still expecting to win that football game this spring. They are giving several points to that effect. The coach's squad will be hard to stop but the seniors can do it. But no wonder the seniors will win. Just look at that senior group behind them, 100 per cent strong.

Just look at these seniors of '32 players and you'll decide, too, that they are the ones who can get the job done.

You cannot believe in honor until you have achieved it. Better keep yourself clean and bright; you are the window through which you must see the world.—George Bernard Shaw.

Basketball.

Tuesday night the Whiteface basketball team went to Canyon and played the Canyon Eagles two real games of ball. The girls' game was played first and it was very exciting from start to finish. The Canyon team won with a score of 25-27.

The boys' game proved to be very exciting also. The locals put up a hard scrap, but could not stop those flashy Canyon forwards. The game ended in the Eagles' favor with a score of 23-30.

Theorem

To prove: That a freshman is an affliction:
Proof:
1. A freshie is new
2. New means not old.
3. Not old means not stale
4. Not stale means fresh
5. Fresh means smart
6. Smart means pain
7. Pain means affliction
Therefore, a freshie is an affliction.

We stated recently that boys who attended the Conference in Wichita Falls were eager for a Girls' Reserve club. Now we have further evidence, for Leslie Culwell voted favoring such an organization, by using both hands.

This is to notify the instructors in high school why the three Jacks and Climer slept during classes last Thursday. Jack Cartwright says they went to his home beyond Dimmitt for some stuff. The story goes that the gas line froze.

Have you had your chlorine today? Miss Wrenn dispensed chlorine last week in an attempt to prevent the spread of influenza.

Are you expecting a Valentine? Misses Wrenn and Carlisle spent two afternoons cutting out red cardboard hearts. Do they believe in 'tis more blessed to give than to receive, or to him that hath it shall be given?

Looking back over the total enrollment of the year we find that the total enrollment is approximately 296 students in high school not including the high seventh. A count last week reveals that now there are only 261. Where are they all? Some have moved away from Hereford and are now attending other schools, but there are others who have stopped for various reasons; failures, lack of interest and other circumstances are blamed for this.

A look into the files shows that at the end of January, 1931, there were 241 students in high school and the total enrollment was 320. Thus in spite of a loss of 35 students this past semester there are still more in school this year than last.

Miss Veazey: The first date in history was about 4000 B. C.
L. W.: Who had it?

Mr. Wilson (trying to explain parallels): What are two straight lines side by side, even spaced?
Reaford: Parking spaces.

Even his best friends would not tell him—so he flunked the examination.

Melvin: Do you feel like an ice cream soda?
Louise J.: Course not; do I look like one?

Mr. Hopkins: Why don't you answer me?
James Lusk: I did; I shook my head.

M. H.: You don't expect me to hear it rattle away up here, do you?

A lunatic in an asylum yard happened to see the newly appointed superintendent of the institution. Who are you? he inquired.
Why, I'm the new superintendent, was the smiling reply.
Oh, it won't take them long to knock that out of you, asserted the lunatic with confidence. I was Napoleon when I came here.

If all the lads of the world would choose to be sailor-boys, with their barques they would make a splendid bridge over all the seas. If all the girls of the world would join hands in friendly wise, they could dance pretty round all about the world.

So then, there would be a ring, right around the earth, if all the folks of all the world would just take hands.—From the French of Paul Fort and used by Belgian Girls' Reserve.

Ardelle: I was terribly embarrassed at the party, your handkerchief hung out from under your coat all evening.
Sherman: Well, set your mind at ease. That wasn't my handkerchief, it was only my shirt tail.

Mr. White's Squad Defeats Jumbo.

Last Friday afternoon Mr. White's basketball team defeated the Jumbo team in the local gymnasium. These boys displayed excellent playing and promises for the future team seem to be very prospective. That team under the coaching of Mr. White, practices every morning at 6:30 and are working to make next year's team better. The lineup was J. D. Clayton and Pleas Baker, forwards; Charles Jones, Roger Brunley and Wilbur Womble, guards, and G. Hagar, center.

Milton: How do folks keep from falling off the earth when it is upside down?
Miss Wrenn: Don't you remember the law of gravity?
Milton: Well, what did they do before that law was passed?

Charles Jones says: A monolog is a conversation with the instructor whose course you are flunking.

Mr. F.: What's this sixty on your card?
Frank: I don't know unless it's the temperature of the room.

Mr. Hudson: Jack, your brother phoned and said you would not be able to come to school as you were ill. How does it happen you have been in school these three periods?
Jack: Oh, he wasn't supposed to do that until tomorrow.

Miss Carlisle: W. J., you mean to say that you can't name all the presidents we have had? When I was your age I could name them.
W. J.: Yes, but there were only a few then.

Obedience to constituted authority in a republic is just as essential as freedom of speech and of religion.—J. T. Hill.

Hereford's New Mascot.

Here is something, folks, that you really ought to know: when the Whiteface basketball team went to Dimmitt this little incident took place: The coach walked into the gym first and right behind him was W. J. Fellers, who was carrying a basket ball and a medicine kit. One of the girls from the stands pointed in W. J.'s direction and said, "I see Hereford has brought their mascot with them." Classy stuff, eh?

What a Girl Says It Means to Be a Girl Reserve.

One might well ask the meaning of golden bittersweet on a hillside in October as to ask the meaning of Girl Reserves. The bittersweet can be dissected; its parts can be labeled accurately, and all sorts of information concerning it can be accumulated. But still one does not know the meaning of the golden bittersweet in October. Its true significance lies in the feeling it awakens in the person who beholds it, a splash of color amid the glories of autumn.

And so it is with the Girl Reserves. It is easy to explain to people that the blue triangle within the circle is the particular symbol of the Girl Reserve movement, and that the three sides of the triangle represent body, mind and spirit. It is easy to explain the Girl Reserve code embodies those ideals of service and love and right living that helps a girl to make her life a lovely and worthwhile one. It is easy to tell of the good times, of meetings and suppers and hikes, of summers at camp and winters in club work.

Yet the deeper meaning of Girl Reserves is there too. It is something more difficult to see. It is a bigger something, made up of all these things, surrounding and underlying them all. The meaning of Girl Reserves lies in this bigger thing, which takes root in a girl's heart and grows into what is called "The Girl Reserve Spirit," which makes her look up and love and laugh and lift.—By an American high school girl reserve.

Chapel Talk by Health Nurse.

Miss Buzzell, county health nurse, gave an interesting talk in assembly Friday morning on the present influenza epidemic and how to prevent it. The epidemic at present is well under way in nearby towns but not so in Hereford. She asked how good a citizen are you? She went further to say that all good citizens practiced health habits. Prevention is better than cure and less expensive. She also gave us some health rules. First, cleanliness should be stressed at this time, especially of the hands, nose, throat and mouth. A good antiseptic will help greatly. Soda and salt solution, mixed or separate is a good antiseptic.

Sufficient rest and sleep will go a long way in building up the body to ward off influenza. If your health is run down and if you have not sufficient strength to overcome the germs you are sure to take influenza, says Miss Buzzell, in so many words.

Proper body elimination is essential. Eat more vegetables, drink plenty of water and take plenty of exercise. Some people think they do all of these, but it is important that we check up on ourselves each day.

Miss Buzzell suggested to us that we go home when we feel sick. This is to prevent the spread of the disease. The city health officer told her to stress that we get plenty of rest.

Other contagious diseases she mentioned were sore eyes and the whooping cough. It is essential that the sore eye victim use separate towels, washing places, etc., she reminded us of the state law on whooping cough, which states that when exposed one should stay at home two weeks. She closed by saying that we should play fair, make this an individual responsibility and prevent this epidemic.

Notice.

The drinking of this school is becoming simply preposterous. For the benefit of those ignorant ones I mean milk. It really seems a shame that one can't leave a quart of unsuspecting milk in one's car (unguarded) for just a little while. More shameful still, when its disappearance robs an innocent two-year-old of his daily rations. Again, I insist it is shameful, shameful!

In conclusion I wish to ask: Why is Reaford so hazy of late? Because of too much milk? You really couldn't say? Well, just ask me.

To Whom It May Concern.

Somewhere in my ramblings on January 29, a ring was misplaced. As it was a very valuable ring, I naturally hated to lose it. The ring was of yellow gold, and on it were the initials P. B. I am offering a substantial reward, so if you happen to run across it, see me at the office of the Whiteface Roundup and claim your reward. JUNE ALLRED.

What on earth is a metaphor? Johnnie W.: For cows to graze on.

Porter: The train goes to Amarillo and points east.
Burl A.: Just so I get to Amarillo, I don't care which way it points.

Beatrice B.: Am I a little pale?
Jimmie: No, you are a big tub.

Mr. Hopkins: Jack, why do you have on so many coats?
Jack C.: Well you told me to paint this box, and the directions said to get best results put on at least three coats.

Zalma Ruth: What would you give for a voice like mine?
Jack R.: Chloroform.

Mother: Roth-a-bye-baby in the tree top.
Baby: Say, for the love Mike, be quiet, I want to go to sleep.

Jimmie C.: I wish we had a car to ride around in like this all the time.
T. L. W.: I hope you don't expect me to marry him for your benefit.

At Hi-Y meeting in Wichita Falls Mr. Hudson stamped his toe while looking at a tall building, but nothing was hurt, for he fell forward and rolled back on his feet.

Pupil (in Sunday school class): Oh, mama, we had the nicest Sunday school song, all about "Gladly."
Mother: Why, who was gladly?
Pupil: You know, the cross-eyed bear, we sang all about him.

His mother remembered the song, "Gladly His Cross I'd Bear."

B. Climer: Why are you running that steam roller over your field?
E. Holland: I'm raising mashed potatoes this year.

Jack G.: I don't think I should get zero in this exam.
Miss Rigler: I don't either, but it is the lowest mark there is.

Virginia Ann: The Garbage man is here, daddy.
Mr. Dillehay (in deep thought): My, my, tell him I don't want any.

Miss Carlisle: Give for one year the number of tons of coal shipped out of the U. S.
W. J. Fellers: 1492, none.

Miss Rigler: What was the occasion for the quotation, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?"
Melvin: John Aiden was trying to fix up a blind date for his roommate, Miles Standish.

We have all heard of the three bakers, now we will hear of the four bakers. Last Wednesday night the four bakers took a business trip to Dimmitt. After transacting business all night in the Dimmitt bakery they journeyed home at 7 a. m. They are Jack Cartwright, Jack G., Jack Russell and Brunell Climer. A good time was had by all.

Just an example: Parents often wonder if pupils write notes in school and if they do of what nature are the notes. The following is a note from Jack Gilliland to Wilma Jo Jones. "Wilma Jo, you seem to think that I asked you for a date last night so that I could stand you up." I don't know whether Jack R. got a date just to stand Zelma Ruth up or not, but I don't think he did because he wanted me to get a date. If you really think that I did, I am sorry, because I did not have it in mind and if you would like to take a chance for tomorrow night I will sure be there on time. J. G." Parents, this is terrible, but this is the exact note, the whole truth. I just thought I'd let you know of at least one note, parents, now don't get angry.

A bachelor is a guy who didn't have a car when he was young.

Degree of comparison of bad: bad, very sick, dead.

Miss Westbrook: What is drawing?
Margaret B.: It's thinking and marking around the think with a pencil.

Can you imagine anything worse than a giraffe with a sore throat?
Yes, a centipede with corns.

The Meat Boys Four.
I never sausage eyes as thine, And if you'll butcher hand in mine And liver round me every day We'll meat life's frown with life's caress, And cleaver road to happiness.

I hear you and Louise had some words.
James Cloyd: Yes, I still have mine. I didn't get a chance to use them."

It's easy enough to be pleasant when life runs along like a lark; but the man worth while is the man who can smile, when he steps on a tack in the dark.

Brotherhood of Foolish Farmers.
First head farmer and chief hog-caller, Silas Habermacher; second head farmer, Ezra Henson; chief bookkeeper, Hank Bartley; chief cook for the hands, Fanny Foster; other members, Cynthia Ann Marrs, Sophia Fulwood, Molly Barnett, Liza Jones, Josh Noland, Jerrimah Morgan, Hiram Allred, Juniper Newell, Jed Witherspoon, Abner Womble and Ebenezer Wilson. This organization is made up of members of the economic class only. The organization expects to do some wonderful work during the rest of this year.

Miss Carlisle: What must a man be to be buried with military honors?
Cow West: Dead.

They tell me that I'm lazy; but this I do insist, that I'll never be so lazy that I'll throw my girl a kiss.

The dog fills an empty space in the life of men, especially hot-dogs.

Climer: I couldn't get my trousers pressed.
Jack C.: Why?
Everywhere I went a sign said "Trousers pressed inside" and I wanted mine pressed outside.
