Successor For Aikin Still In Doubt

County Talks To Shuval

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

County Attorney John Aikin is expected to resign early this week, and a search apparently is still on for a successor.

County commissioners talked with lawyer Andy Shuval about the job Thursday and set up an interview with one other attorney.

Rex Easterwood, who has been acting as county attorney for the past three and one-half weeks, was the anticipated choice to take over when Aikin terminated his three years in the position.

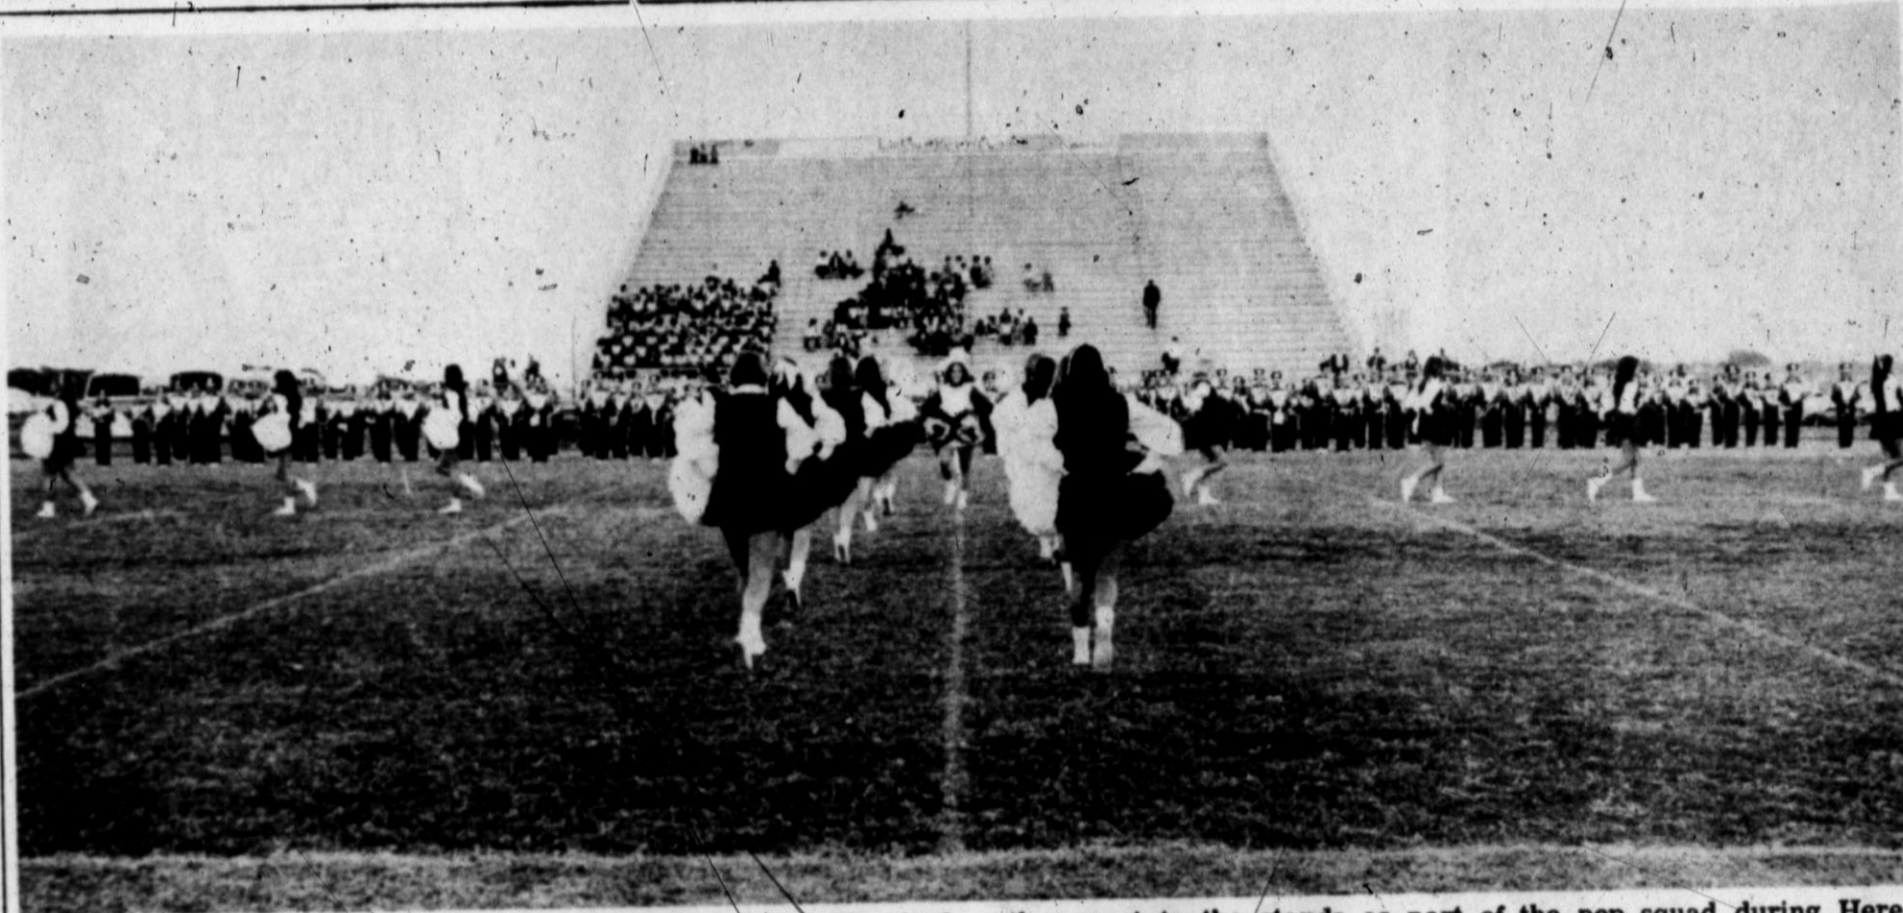

But Easterwood drew the ire of commissioners last Monday when he and his associate, Don Lowder, appeared before them and gave them an ultimatum of raising the salary to the maximum allowed by state law or find somebody else for the job.

"I don't like that a bit. He just talked himself out of a job," one commissioner said privately after the meeting.

Aikin announced to the commissioners on Sept. 14 his intention to resign "early next month" and Easterwood's conversation with the commissioners last week drew out the information that Aikin had set the probable resignation date as Oct. 5 or soon thereafter.

The county attorney's job is not overly attractive to local lawyers, partly because of the criminal practice they must give up to represent the state on every case. When Aikin made inquiries and found Easterwood willing to try the duties, two members of the same law firm Aikin is a partner in resigned as assistant county attorneys; Easterwood was appointed the assistant; and Aikin told Easterwood he would recommend the commissioners appoint him as the new county attorney upon his resignation.

Easterwood told the commissioners that he and Aikin agreed the salary was too low and that Aikin told him he would do what he could to get it raised. Accordingly, Aikin said at the time he announced he would resign that the wages were inadequate. See COUNTY Page Eight

Facility Is At Near Capacity

Program Will Stress Intellectual Aid To Tots

The new Day Care Center opens in Hereford Monday.

More than 40 children are registered for the center. It will provide educational guidance and care for children from the age of 6 months through 8 years whose mothers must work to earn or help earn a living or whose mothers are enrolled in school.

The center, under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Wilson, will be open from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. Monday through Friday.

The capacity of the Day Care Center is 50 children. Mothers who wish to have their child or children in the program may, until the limit has been reached, apply by going by the center at 215 Norton St. or telephoning it at 364-1293.

The center is 1/2 blocks west of K-Bobs Steak House.

Children at the center will receive a mid-morning snack, a balanced meal at noon and a mid-afternoon snack, as well as a planned child development program.

"This is not another government poverty program," Mrs. Wilson said. "If it had been, we would want no part of it. There are some children from middle class and high income families who need child care."

Teachers at the center will set about providing educational advancement to small children, something that once was considered nonsensical, Mrs. Wilson said.

"We have done something wrong in the past. When a kid reached 6 years old, we began to try to teach him things. Well, it has been proven a child is capable of learning more from the time he is 13 months until he is 22 months than in the rest of his life," she said.

Of the children enrolled so far, Mrs. Wilson said last week, four are Mexican-American, four are Negro and the remainder are Anglo. Three of the children come from families who are on welfare, she added.

The payments to the center for the children's care vary, depending on a formula based on the combined salary of the parents. The maximum fee is $3 per day per child. Only the director and the particular parents involved will know what one particular child's tuition is, whether $3, $1.50 or only 75 cents.

The center hopes to get money from local civic groups to sustain itself until it can get into operation for several weeks, get a license and qualify for a subsidy from the state.

Mrs. Wilson and those who will teach at the Day Care Center met two times a week for the past three weeks in a workshop-type of meeting to prepare for the center's opening, she said. Five of the seven have taken a first aid course given them by local volunteer firemen.

She has been "teaching" the seven teachers concerning the contents on two books on pre-school and child development, also, Mrs. Wilson added. Three of the teachers, she said, have had college courses in elementary and secondary education.

"We feel that this is the greatest program that can be had," she said.

To accommodate those who want their children in the center but find the limit of 50 children has already been reached, she will keep a waiting list, Mrs. Wilson said. If any child should drop out, the vacant spot will be offered to those on the list.

The building for the Day Care Center was decided over for that purpose by the First Baptist Church. Other donations, including appliances, have mounted $16,000 thus far to more than $16,000, Mrs. Wilson said.

State, Area Recognize Aims Of Cooperatives

The October observance for cooperatives in Deaf Smith County is being designated as a time for cooperatives to gather strength for the 70s, strength directed toward helping members build a better life for themselves, their community, and the nation.

The majority of the states will again this year have statewide committees of all types of cooperatives to plan activities for the month, called Cooperative Commitment Month for 1970.

On a national basis, representatives of the national cooperative organizations are working with Federal government officials on plans for activities.

These national groups are preparing background and support materials for State and local groups to use — all geared to the theme, "A Better Life In The Seventies — The Pledge of America's Cooperatives."

Kenneth D. Naden, executive vice president, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, is heading up rural cooperative activities; Stanley Dreyer, President, Cooperative League of the USA, those for urban cooperatives.

Farm Groups Protest CCC Release Of Grain

Four farm groups and the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce expressed their "disapproval and deep concern" in the announced policy by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to release Commodity Credit Corporation stocks of grain sorghum in this area during harvest time.

"Since CCC stocks are set up to relieve shortages in times of emergency, we feel that this policy of releasing stocks at harvest time serves only to defeat the practice of orderly marketing," the statement said.

It was jointly offered Friday by the Farm Bureau, National Farmers Farmer Organization, Farmers Union, Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce after a meeting in the Farm Bureau office.

The groups are trying to get a wave of protest rising from area farmers and businessmen to Cong. Bob Prite and to Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

"This CCC grain, which is owned by the government, is being put on the market at the same time ours is, and it kind of puts a ceiling on the price of grain sorghum," said Gerald McCathern, president of the NFO in this area.

"Somebody could go to CCC and get their grain probably at a cheaper price than they could buy it from us. Right now, $2.05 locally is the market price."

The CCC is a branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture that controls sales of government-owned stocks. Grain the CCC has taken over in past years under the farm program, and the law authorizes the CCC to sell its grain at any time, according to a formula set up under the law, or the price whichever is higher.

"We are not arguing with the policy of selling commodity grain but are arguing with the timing of the sales," McCathern said. "Commodity sales should be made at the end of the year, when farmers have already put all their commodities on the market at harvest time."

The CCC began selling its inventory Thursday. The government said the sales would carry these conditions: —the grain will be available for unrestricted sales, where located, for 3 1/4 cents above the county loan rate, or the market price whichever is higher;

—elevator out-charges will be added to the cost for the grain as priced in storage; any in-transit charges against it also will be added;

—the elevator in which the grain is stored has first refusal rights on all grain stored there before CCC will sell to someone else;

—sales for forward delivery will be charged commercial storage and interest at 8 per cent starting 10 days from date of contract.

The CCC said it would consider the local price situation, California prices less freight, Gulf prices less freight and any other relevant factors in determining the market price.

In an information report, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association said those who have waited until Oct. 1 to buy grain with the anticipation of buying government grain for about $1.95 per hundredweight "can forget it as long as the market prices are above this."

The GSPA said corn export prices "are ranging about 30 cents per hundred higher than milo, which means grain sorghum prices still have room for improving. Corn production estimates continue to drop; therefore, the total supply of grain continues to drop as world demand increases. . . Much of the corn that will be available will be poor quality."

The sorghum association continued that many feel that the CCC grain can be absorbed in export and domestic markets as partial replacement to the continued deterioration of the corn supply and have little effect upon market prices, at least for long range.

"GSPA has been working on this Oct. 1 sales policy for several months. We did receive a 7 cent per hundredweight increase in the CCC minimum resale price from the original announcement," the association's information report concluded.

Clovis Women Meet Trouble In Spree Of Local Stores

Two Clovis women are free on $2,000 bond each and two juvenile girls from the same city are in custody of their parents following the arrest of the four in Hereford Friday on suspicion of shoplifting.

Georgia T. Holmes, 26, and Mary Helen Hunt, 21, were arraigned by Justice of the Peace Bill Rowland Friday on charges of larceny theft over $50. They pleaded innocent.

The county grand jury, which meets again on Wednesday, will consider the cases against them.

The two juveniles are to be returned to Hereford later to answer the charges against them.

City police stopped the car in which the four were riding, at the intersection of Fourth and Bennett, near 25 Mile Avenue. They appeared to be preparing to leave town. After obtaining a search warrant, officers looked through the car and found a large quantity of clothing believed to have come from stores in Hereford, Friona, Bovina, Clovis, Portales and Hobbs.

A local man called police to report he had seen some women shoplift items from Gibson's Discount Center and was following them as they went to several stores. Two police officers began watching the women go together in and out of several stores downtown, according to the police report on the incident.

"One officer saw them coming out of Perry's and observed them walking down the street. They were very bulky in appearance. They had stuff under their clothing," a police spokesman said.

The clothing found in the women's car was estimated at about $400. They were reported to have gone to every store in Sugarland Mall as well as many stores downtown.

"They used about all the tricks of trade of shoplifting," an officer said. "One or two would keep a clerk busy while the other two put stuff under their dresses, in the pockets of dresses, and in purses. They carried big handbags." The merchandise in their car was mostly clothing and costume jewelry.

State Commission Schedules Free Eye Clinic In Hereford Wednesday

A free eye clinic will be conducted in Hereford this week for persons, both young and old who feel they may have any type of eye disease.

The clinic Wednesday and Thursday is under the auspices of the State Commission for the Blind. It will be at the Public Health Clinic north of Deaf Smith County Hospital.

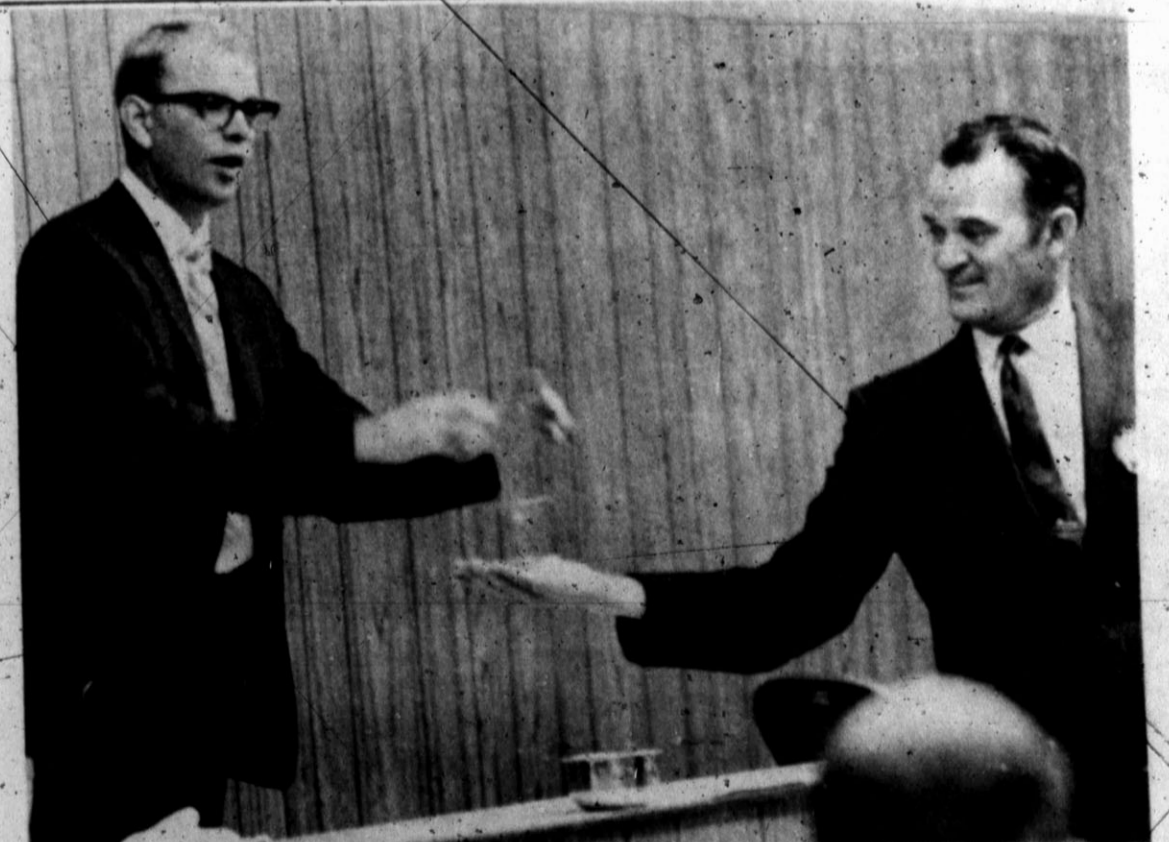

The eye clinic will be in operation from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday and from 2:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. Thursday.

The clinic Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted specifically to applications from those who believe they have an eye handicap. The commission will follow this up with a later clinic for actual treatment.

Persons needing transportation may call the Health Clinic at 364-2691.

"The persons we're aiming at are those who are in danger of losing their jobs and going on welfare because of loss of eyesight," said Myron Lasher, rehabilitation counselor for the State Commission of the Blind. "We hope to be able to get those now on the welfare rolls back into jobs and keep those who are now working, from going onto welfare."

be no more than an egg shell into the glass Bell was holding. But the egg shell turned out to have egg in it and the glass turned out not to have a bottom. —Photo by Betty Koelzer

Cotton Problem Declines With Weed Research

Controlling weeds has been one of the big production problems of narrow-row cotton, but that problem is about to be licked — thanks to a top notch weed control research program by Texas A&M University.

Texas A&M weed researchers have been working on chemical weed control for narrow-row cotton for several years and have come up with excellent solutions.

Dr. Dudley Smith, located at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, said "complete control of annual weeds in narrow-row cotton, looks highly promising at the present time. For years we relied on only one of several methods to control weeds in row crops, but now we can and are combining several weed control approaches for use in closely spaced cotton."

The researcher recently presented herbicide results in narrow-row cotton at the American Society of Agronomy meeting in Tucson, Ariz.

Preplant herbicides, such as Planavin and Treflan, have been developed in the past five years. When these chemicals were disk incorporated in weed tests in narrow-row plantings, excellent results were obtained on several soil types.

"However, we don't always get the 97 to 100 per cent weed control that is nearly essential in narrow-row cotton," adds Dr. Allen Wiese, who heads up Texas A&M's weed control research program at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center in Bushland.

Smith and Wiese work together in developing safe, effective herbicide programs for use in cotton. Their weed research is supported primarily by the Cotton Producers Institute, Memphis, Tenn., and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

October 4-10 Is Designated Fire Prevention Week

County Judge H. C. Williams Friday signed a proclamation designating Sunday through Saturday as Rural Fire Prevention Week in Deaf Smith County, as part of the observance of National Fire Prevention Week, which also falls on the same days.

Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau president Paul Lyons, and Fire Chief J. W. Dickerson presented the proclamation to Judge Williams.

Williams urged all rural citizens to be fire-safety-minded during this week and every other week and to use "utmost care in handling all petroleum products." He said all buildings should be properly protected from lightning and fire hazards should be removed.

"Many home fires are caused by faulty wiring, overloaded circuits, circuits overfused or perils behind fuses and appliances not properly grounded," Dickerson said.

"Rural fires usually are three to six times as destructive as city fires because of the time involved in getting to the fire," he said.

Lyons said the Farm Bureau, as its part in fire prevention in rural area, has presented graphic 45-minute programs on fire prevention demonstration. He said these demonstrations have been presented to schools, civic clubs and other groups and almost 25,000 fire extinguishers have been sold to Farm Bureau members as a continuing program of rural fire protection.

"The Texas Farm Bureau has been active in promoting fire prevention by sponsoring more than 150 graphic fire demonstrations to schools annually, by offering fire extinguishers to members at reduced rates, sponsoring some 100 volunteer firemen to the Firemen's Training School each year as well as paying a fire department $75 for answering fire calls involving Farm Bureau insured property," Lyons said.

23 Enroll In VOE At School

Twenty-three students enrolled in the Hereford schools this fall for the Vocational Office Education (VOE) program that provides them with on-the-job training each afternoon during the week.

Under the direction of Mrs. Pat McDonald, the students receive a reduced salary from various employers through Hereford while at the same time getting training in the area they are working.

The students get office education training in such places as banks, insurance offices, department stores, newspapers, radio stations, utility companies, clinics, church and school offices, finance and credit companies, and accounting firms.

Cynthia Boren is president of this year's VOE program. Sandy Trevino is vice president, Karen Kendrick secretary, Mary Garcia treasurer, Michelle Beckman reporter, Gay Womble historian and Lucy Perez parliamentarian.

Hereford TOPS Clubs Host Area Rally Day

From over the North Plains of Texas area, which extends southeast as far as Abilene, TOPS Club members converged in Hereford Saturday for their Fall Rally Day, with a program based on the theme, Make America Beautiful.

Skits and music varied the day's program, which featured a talk by Gil Lamb of Radio Station KMUL, Muleshoe, and presentation of awards to outstanding individuals and clubs.

Welcome from the two TOPS Clubs in Hereford hostesses for the rally, was voiced by Mrs. Tom Draper at the opening in Hereford High School auditorium. Earnest Langley gave the welcome from the city and Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Melvia Jayroe, president of Calorie Patrol TOPS, and Mrs. Woodie McDermitt, who heads Sugar Blues TOPS Clubs, led members in entertaining the visitors. Mrs. Leroy Williamson was co-chairman with Mrs. McDermitt of arrangements for the rally.

Mrs. Ricard Sims was chairman of awards, Mrs. Elmore Rains of program and Mrs. Glenn Watts of decoration. Mrs. Willis Duggan has served as corresponding secretary.

Lunch was served in the high school cafeteria at noon, with musical entertainment by the Caisson trio, Sandy, D'Ann and Rodney. Songs were led during the day by Mrs. Merlin Kaul with Mrs. Carl Wimerberly as pianist.

Climax of the program was the closing event, presentation of division awards by Mrs. Frank Short of Tulsa, International KOPS Queen who is a former member of Sugar Blues Club here, and the KOPS graduation directed by Mona Spencer of Plainview, area supervisor.

Mrs. Jayroe was one of the graduating KOPS members who have achieved the club goal to Keep Off Pounds Sensibly. The club name indicates its primary aim, Take Off Pounds Sensibly, while the title of KOPS signifies a further achievement.

Mrs. Short, who started on her route to the international award by becoming area queen while she was living here, received the honor at a convention in Houston. She will attend the next international meeting at Washington, D. C., this winter.

In frequent demand now as speaker at TOPS meetings and conventions, she will go from here to Chicago to a state rally. She has helped organize a number of clubs in Tulsa and other cities in Oklahoma.

With her husband and sons, Gary and Frank, she visited friends here several days before the rally.

Not all TOPS Club members are women; a man's club at Plainview was represented at the rally. Its members include Wemy Kope, only Texas man rated a KOP, and Eugene Davis past International King.

Some 70 adults have registered to take courses in one of six subjects to be offered soon in night classes at Hereford High School.

They will pay a tuition of $10 and attend classes for three hours, one night a week, for 20 weeks or more, in bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, welding, auto tuneup or conversational Spanish.

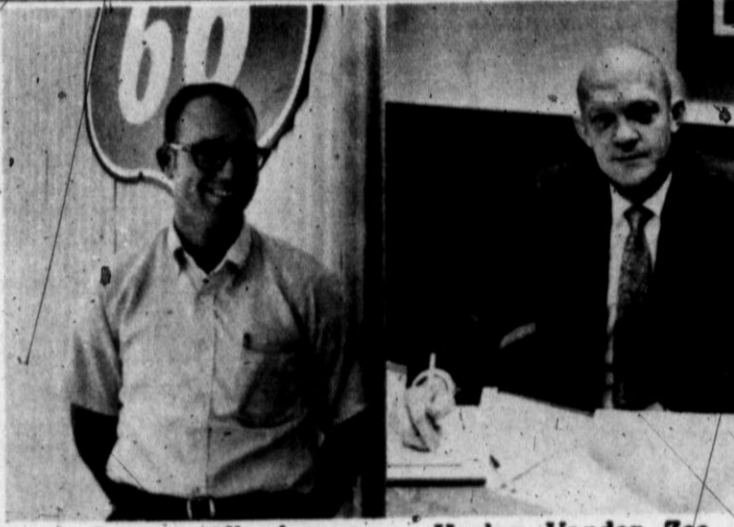

The classes originally were to have started Monday night but were postponed for one week, to Oct. 12.

A school official said a number of persons have signed up for bookkeeping, typing and Spanish but more are needed for the three other courses. There is a possibility shorthand, welding or auto tuneup may be cancelled if more don't register, the spokesman said.

The typing class has been set for Thursday nights. The others will meet initially on the night of Oct. 12 and the date for the remainder of the year will then be definitely set.

The $10 fee does not include any books necessary with the course.

Persons interested in enrolling should go by the school Administration Office at Union and Avenue F or telephone 364-0806.

United Fund Drive Kicks Off Oct. 20

United Fund drive for 1970 will begin Oct. 20 with an early morning "kickoff meeting" to be followed by a parade through downtown Hereford.

Campaign workers will meet at 9 a. m. at the Community Center where drive chairman Melvin Jayroe and Debs Knox will deliver last minute instructions.

At 9:30, a parade will form at the center, proceeding down Main Street, marking the official beginning of the drive to reach the $39,500 goal set for this year.

The Hereford High School band will lead the procession, and will be followed by representatives of the agencies which receive yearly allotments from the local drive. Gene Brock will serve as parade marshal.

Included in the Deaf Smith County United Fund budget are the following agencies: Campfire Council, Children's Rehabilitation Center of Amarillo, Little League, Pony League, Colt League, Council on Alcoholism, Boy Scouts, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Texas United Fund, and U. S. O.

The drive will continue during the remainder of the month, coming to a close Oct. 31. Jayroe and Knox announced last week the first appointed "majors" for the campaign.

Harlan Vander Zee, president of the Hereford State Bank, will serve as "major" for advance industrial gifts. Vander Zee moved to Hereford 3 1/2 years ago from Tulsa, and has participated in previous UF drives.

Lynton Allred, vice-president of Allred Oil Company, who has lived in Hereford for the past five years, will serve as "major" for one of the commercial divisions. Allred, with past experience in local drives also, is vice-president of the Noon Lions Club.

Other majors assigned by the drive chairmen include B. F. Cain, Homer Garrison, Calvin Goodin, Roy Hartman and Bobby Owen.

Each major will select his own "captains," who in turn will choose workers to solicit donations. In an effort to involve more individuals in this community project, each worker will be required to make only three or four contacts.

Jerry Don George, president of the UF board of directors, will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Hereford State Bank, with the drive chairmen, and all majors and captains appointed by that time.

FFA Members Place High At Tri-State Fair

The Hereford Future Farmers of America chapter captured several places in the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Its educational booth at the fair placed in the first division. It concerned crossbreeding beef cattle.

Four local members were in the top 10 of the FFA Wheat King contest. Ray Schlabs, Dennis Beasley, Marvin Smith and Richard Schilling all were in the elite group, and Smith received a trophy and $50 prize after being crowned as Wheat King.

Kim Sealey exhibited a steer that graded good, and Ronald Vasek placed eighth in the farm mechanics contest with a set of car ramps.

Each major will select his own "captains," who in turn will choose workers to solicit donations. In an effort to involve more individuals in this community project, each worker will be required to make only three or four contacts.

Jerry Don George, president of the UF board of directors, will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Hereford State Bank, with the drive chairmen, and all majors and captains appointed by that time.

"THOSE CRAZY EPISCOPALIANS"

ARE THEY JUST "RELIGION SHOPPERS?"

Here in this area, you don't find many "native-born" Episcopalians. Just a lot of folks who shopped around till they found a church that satisfied some longing for something missing in their own religious experience.

Maybe that's why the Episcopal Church — along with its reputation for peculiarities — has long been known as sort of a "thinking-man's religion" hereabouts. Most of its members made up their own minds... then stopped shopping.

They lay no claims to having the "only religion" or even the right one. It's just the one that's right for them.

Episcopalians are a bit peculiar. They have "formal" services. They don't chit-chat much at church. They kneel at times. They read prayers from a book. And they offer guidelines — not blueprints — for Christian living. If you'd like to know the reasons why, your nearby Episcopal minister would be flattered to explain, without "twisting your arm."

One of a series presented by "Those Crazy Episcopalians" in your area.

Bilingual Teaching Commissioners Seek New County Attorney

May Be Required Over State Soon

Last year the Hereford school system was one of 66 in the United States which offered dual language teaching.

In Texas, the number was considerably less. But soon, every school system in the state may be required to provide the program if its Mexican-American enrollment is 5 per cent or more.

The Texas Education Agency is considering making dual language teaching mandatory, after receiving a five-point proposal from the 15-member State Advisory Council on Bilingual Education that would put the project high on the Texas public school priority list.

Hereford's past participation in the practice of teaching some subjects to Mexican-American students in their native language has been as a federal pilot project.

Hereford has 12 classes taught this way, for 340 first and second grade students. It involves two classes of first graders and two classes of second graders in Central, Shirley and Bluebonnet elementary schools.

The classes were funded by the federal government in Texas school districts, three regional education service centers, one educational television station and one state university.

In recommending that bilingual education be supported through the Minimum Foundation Program, the Advisory Council suggested that the state make bilingual teachers and other personnel eligible for special pay grade designations and provide bilingual teaching materials.

Key elements of the Council's guate and that the commissioners would "have to pay somebody more money."

In the period he has served as county attorney, Easterwood added, the job has required two-thirds of his time and one-third of Lowder's time.

"If you don't think the job deserves a raise, I'd suggest you'd better look elsewhere for a county attorney," Easterwood told the commissioners. "If you take that recommendation, I think it would have to be with-combined academic-financing set of recommendations include new standards for teacher education, state and local funding to supplement federal grants, revised accreditation standards for schools with 5 per cent or more Mexican-American students; revised testing methods for students who speak only Spanish when they enter school, and application of federal guidelines outlined in the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to all minority groups.

Easterwood and Lowder, who are partners in the firm of Tubbs, Lowder and Easterwood, took over the duties of the job Sept. 8 and Aikin and the two other two members of the Witherspoon, Aikin, Thomas and Langley firm — Hazen Woods and Tom Kendrick — got out of the picture. At the Sept. 14 meeting of the commissioners, the resignations and appointment in the assistant county attorney job were approved.

Aikin said over the weekend "I really don't know anything at this time" about when his resignation will come.

Easterwood — aware of the coolness with which commissioners met his appeal for approving allowances for an assistant county attorney and for secretarial help that would hike the salary from the straight figure of $5,500 to the vicinity of $10,000 — said he is leaning now toward taking himself out of the picture on Monday.

"That's probably about what will happen," he said. Even if Aikin should delay his resignation until later in the week, Easterwood said "I think my move is coming Monday. Of course it has to be accepted by the commission," he said, adding that he would continue to function in the job pending their decision.

One commissioner indicated the court plans a meeting at 1 p. m. Wednesday to discuss the situation. "But no predictions," he said. He confirmed the commissioners' meeting Thursday with Shuval about the possible vacancy and said one other lawyer didn't show up for a requested interview with them.

With the firms represented by Aikin and Easterwood — embracing 11 lawyers — supposedly out of the picture, only 6 of the city's 17 lawyers remain. There are Shuval, former County Attorney Bruce Miller, and four members of the Cowser and Bybee firm — Ray Cowser, O. L. Bybee, Ed Line and R. C. Heelscher.

"I would not be interested," Miller said about the job, adding that the commissioners had not approached him.

A spokesman for the Cowser and Bybee firm said that office has taken a position of "No comment" at this time, regarding the situation.

Shuval said he met at the courthouse with the commissioners at their request and "we visited about the county attorney job. I have not been offered any position. As far as I know, no position is open."

Shuval indicated there are conditions under which he would take the post.

"At such time the county commission, if it sees fit to offer me the job, I have informed the county commission what price I'd take it for," he said. At that, the figure he quoted is only a "guesstimate," he said, since he has never held the job and is uncertain what a reasonable fee for the job is.

Aikin took over the job as county attorney in October 1967 and filled the remaining year of Miller's term before winning election in 1968 to a four-year term. Miller was forced to vacate the office by a state law requiring automatic resignation when ever an office holder announced for election in another job prior to Jan. 1 of the year of election. Miller announced his candidacy for the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

Aikin said he decided to resign the post because the job takes too much of his time and that of younger members of his law firm who have been rotating in the job of assistant county attorney.

Besides taking more time than is worth the $6,500 salary and $2,650 allowance for the assistant, all eight members of the Witherspoon firm automatically were disqualified from representing clients in any criminal case, even if the client were one the firm had represented for years in civil cases.

The county attorney and his assistants also were often unable to commit themselves to represent clients even in civil cases because of the time requirements of the county attorney position.

2 Youths Held On Dope Charge

Two 18-year-old youths were in Castro County jail at Dimmitt under $25,000 bond after being arrested Wednesday by Castro and Deaf Smith County law officers on charges of illegal possession of dangerous drugs.

The two youths were identified as Jack Duncan Davis, who gave a Sanderson, Tex. address, and Richard Mooney Dodd who gave his address as Colorado Springs, Colo.

The boys were stopped just inside the Castro County line by a Deaf Smith County deputy sheriff, Gary Gillespie. Local officers had received a report from New Mexico that two youths, believed to have some 1,000 tablets of LSD, were headed toward Hereford.

An officer reported seeing a car of that description at a drive-in restaurant in Hereford. All units were alerted and Gillespie then saw the car while driving south on U. S. 385 toward Dimmitt.

Gillespie overtook it just inside the Castro County line. Police officers Ed Owsley, Paul Ramirez and Johnny Holbrooks accompanied by two units of the sheriff's office were also sent to the scene to assist Gillespie.

The Dimmitt sheriff's office was notified of the incident and summoned with a search warrant. When they arrived with the Castro county attorney they searched the car and found what was believed to be approximately 10 ounces of marijuana in four plastic bags, and 80 tablets believed to be LSD.

The two boys were taken to Castro County jail where they were booked and bond was set. The car was also taken to Dimmitt where it was searched further, but nothing else was discovered.

Police said Davis, who was driving the car, told them he had bought the drugs in Boulder, Colo. and had sold some of the tablets in Tucumcari Wednesday afternoon. He reportedly told police he did smoke the marijuana, but bought the tablets to sell.

Davis said they had intended to sell the tablets here but the police were following them around and they thought it was getting too hot, according to a police report.

The two youths told police officers they were on their way to the Odessa area when they were stopped.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
 Women's Editor

Recipe fans will be interested in the contents of a big envelope that came in the mail this morning from Avondale, La. If you don't know where that is, it's one of numerous small towns clustered on the west bank of the Mississippi just across from New Orleans.

ALL THIS AREA is included in "Greater New Orleans" and it has a newspaper called West Bank Guide, which recently had a recipe contest with a $100 prize for the winner. These things I know because they are explained in a letter from Barbara Ford which accompanied a copy of the Guide's recipe contest section.

Maybe you know Barbara; she uses to live here, in fact, says she is a native of Hereford. She reads the Brand and notices the recipes from cooks of this area which we publish each week, so thought some of you would be interested in seeing what the New Orleans women like to cook.

46-oz. can apricot nectar
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup cornstarch
 Cook nectar, sugar and cornstarch over low heat until it thickens. (It will not be as thick as pudding). Set aside to cool.

Break up cake into small pieces and put a layer in the bottom of a 6x13x2 inch pan. Pour a portion of the apricot sauce over the cake. Add another layer of cake and sauce, and repeat until all are used.

Cover with waxed paper, refrigerate overnight. Serve with whipped cream.

SOUNDS GOOD, doesn't it? So do the more complicated dishes and the whole collection makes good reading. Thank you, Barbara Ford!

THERE WAS A LOT of snow up in Colorado last weekend, say the Marlin Gillilands who were taking a trip to see the aspens and other fall beauties.

Immediately I can see they go in for gourmet (or maybe it's just normal New Orleans style) cookery.

THE PRIZE WINNING recipe is for Shrimp and Crab au Gratin and some of the ingredients are fresh mushrooms, artichoke hearts and Sauterne wine. Bet not many of you have those in your kitchen.

Naturally many of the entries call for the seafood for which the Gulf coast region is famous. Division winners in the contest include pickled shrimp among appetizers, shrimp marinade in salads.

The vegetable dish winner is stuffed artichoke hearts, the main dish, a savory sausage mixture stuffed in French bread. A man won the barbecue division with Grilled Potatoes in Foil, while the top teen cook gave the recipe for Football Season Special based on -- what else? -- hamburger. Among the exotic recipes was a simple one which won for desserts, and here it is: APRICOT CHERUB
 1 large angel food cake

and got instead a perfect winter scene.
 Ten inches of snow covered the ground in the mountains of the area around Denver. It fell in picture-book style, Eva Gilliland says, as she saw it when she woke at 2 a. m. and looked out at a country already white.

The Gillilands didn't mind that they found most of the aspens almost leafless after winds had hit them, since the snow made such spectacular sights.

They said, though, that there were plenty of gold aspen leaves in some places; as usual trees in some spots had already lost their leaves while others were in full color and others not yet turned. All depends on the protected or exposed locations, the wind, temperatures and other weather features.

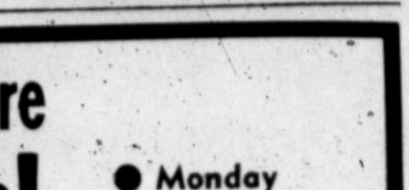

HOPE THERE ARE autumn leaves and winter mountains to see at Santa Fe and northward where I expect to be by Sunday. This is written as I get ready to leave with Atha McIver for a short vacation—but

Triple Role

Wife-Mother-Secretary

By JANIE REINART
Staff Photo

Wife of an attorney, mother of a 9-year-old daughter, and secretary-bookkeeper of Monsanto Agricultural Center, Mrs. Rex Easterwood finds little time for activities outside her home.

Rex, Shirley, Cynthia and LaFlet, the family's 4-year-old toy poodle, came to Hereford, in December of 1968 from San Antonio where Easterwood attended St. Mary's Law School for three years.

Mrs. Easterwood said the move was most difficult for Cynthia, a fourth grade student at Northwest Elementary.

"In San Antonio they had the ungraded school system. It took Cynthia about six weeks to get used to the system used here because she had to study harder to make her grades."

Her husband Rex is an attorney with the local Tubb, Lowder and Easterwood firm.

He attended high school in Dimmitt and graduated from West Texas State University before entering law school. His wife also attended high school in Dimmitt and studied for one year at WTSU.

Shirley took on the position at Monsanto's in April.

"The company here is a fertilizer division of the corporation which makes astro-turf, clothing, siding for houses, and other products," she said.

When she's not working at Monsanto's Mrs. Easterwood is busy sewing clothes for her self and daughter or cooking and baking.

"I really enjoy sewing and I love to cook and bake. My family will eat anything so we don't have any favorites," she said.

With football season in full swing the Easterwoods make sure they attend all the White-faces' home games. On Sunday afternoons you can find Easterwood propped in front of the television set watching as many football games as possible, according to his wife.

While Cynthia isn't interested in football, she is musically inclined and has taken piano lessons for three years.

She is a weekly student of Mrs. Bill Penn and practices approximately 30 minutes each day.

Cynthia also loves the water and has taken private swimming instructions from Charles Bell's daughters the past two summers. In San Antonio she took lessons at the YMCA but could not complete the year long course because of their move to Hereford.

Jake Yoder, Fort Wayne, Ind., division teams shoot 3000 totals, two short of the record 46 rolled in 1967.

Voters Face 7 Amendments In Nov. 3 General Election

Texas voters will soon be asked to go to the polls to approve or disapprove seven constitutional amendments. Because the amendment process is the major method of lawmaking in this state, THE BRAND urges all voters to study the amendments and the arguments for and against each statute carefully before casting your vote November 3.

Of prime interest in the rural areas is the plan to provide for legislative establishment of a uniform method of tax assessment on ranch farm, and forest lands. The new law would base value on the capability of the land to support the raising of livestock or production of farm or forest crops, rather than the value of the land and crops growing on them.

Then there is the controversial liquor-by-the-drink amendment which has been one of the major Texas issues since Governor John Connally endorsed it in 1967. The amendment now before the people would empower the Legislature to enact a law allowing local governments to legalize the sale of mixed drinks in their areas.

The principle of liquor-by-the-drink received popular approval by a 40,000-vote margin (out of 1.4-million votes) in a referendum during the 1968 party primary elections.

The other five amendments would enlarge the powers of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to censure and remove lower court judges, change the State Building Commission membership to appointive positions rather than elective, permit counties to issue road bonds up to one-fourth of their assessed real property value, raise town or city home-steads exempt from forced tax sale to $10,000 from the present figure of $5,000 and allow the legislature to provide for consolidating offices and governmental functions and for performing functions by contract between political subdivisions in any county.

Study these amendments and discuss them with your friends and neighbors, and remember to vote your feelings, November 3 when you go to the polls to select your public officials.

AMENDMENT NO. 1

This Amendment would enlarge the jurisdiction of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission and its powers on censure and removal from office of all state and local justices, judges and justices of the peace whose conduct is deemed inconsistent with the proper performance of the duties of the court. The present statute pertains only to appellate district, and criminal district judges and justices.

Proponents say that even judges in the lower courts should be liable for their actions and consequences of age. Opponents say such expansion might lead to "witch hunts" and discourage qualified persons from seeking the bench. Besides, they say, almost all lower court judges are elected and therefore answerable to the people.

AMENDMENT NO. 2

This Amendment would authorize the Legislature to enact a mixed beverage law regulating the sale of liquor-by-the-drink on a local option basis.

Proponents state that adoption of the proposal will not force mixed drinks liquor-by-the-bottle and therefore decrease alcohol consumption. They also believe that enabling legislation can be written to provide stricter control of liquor sales to minors. These facts would therefore cause a chain reaction of fewer traffic accidents, a reduced crime rate, and less family friction.

They also feel this legislation will end the hypocrisy and subterfuge of private clubs. They point out that the proposal will not force mixed drinks on any locality, since the Legislature must first pass enabling legislation and then each local government must approve the sale in their areas.

The opposition claims the amendment would make alcoholic beverages more readily available, and would lead to an increase in crime and traffic deaths.

Opponents also argue that revenue raised through taxation of mixed drinks would not offset resulting problems such as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, drunk-driving, and other crime.

AMENDMENT NO. 3

This Amendment would provide for establishment of a uniform method of assessment of ranch, farm and forest lands based on the capability of the lands to support livestock or to produce farm and forest crops, rather than on the value of the land plus the value of crops growing on the land.

Proponents point to the statistic that farm real estate taxes per acre have increased by more than 22 percent, and say owners of this property need tax relief. Included in this is one class of farmer and rancher who keeps using his land for agriculture, although its value has increased greatly due to its potential for other purposes, such as urban development. They also believe relief is necessary for timber farmers, who pay an ad valorem tax on his stand of timber each year, and don't recover any tax payments until the trees are harvested 20-50 years after planting.

Opponents emphasize that enabling legislation has not been drafted. So, they say, there is no telling what form the tax relief will take, or if it will actually be relief. It is argued that the proposal could result in a tax ceiling for rural lands, while urban Texans would have no such protection. They also feel that lower property valuations might reduce school, county, and taxing district revenues, handicapping governments in performing essential services.

AMENDMENT NO. 4

This Amendment would change the State Building Commission (now composed of the governor, attorney general, and chairman of the Board of Control) to a three-member commission appointed by the governor to oversee the Capitol Complex.

Those favoring the statute claim the three officials on the commission now have little time to do an effective job, and the governor feels the appointive commission would function more efficiently. Opponents say the large sums of public money should not be entrusted to an appointive group, especially since the six-year terms mentioned are much longer than the two-year terms for the governor and attorney general and could invite abuse in spending before expiration of terms would permit new appointments.

AMENDMENT NO. 5

This Amendment would authorize any county to issue road bonds worth up to one-fourth of the value of the real property in the county on a majority vote. The present statute restricts total bonded indebtedness to one-fourth the property value and require a two-thirds vote.

Proponents feel maintenance and construction of roadways has been hampered by the debt limit. They also feel the majority consent rule guards against a well-organized minority squelching plans of the majority.

The opposition claims the majority-vote requirement makes passage of a bond election too easy, because timing

John F. Kennedy Center-- Another White Elephant?

by Bert Mills
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Boon or boondoggle? That is the $66 million question being asked about John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, a massive structure now nearing completion on the banks of the Potomac River.

The Kennedy Center dates back to the 1960s when John Kennedy became President. The authorizing legislation was signed by President Eisenhower in 1958, with completion scheduled early in the 1960s. After the change to a memorial for the martyred President and innumerable delays, the opening is now planned for the fall of 1971.

Originally the center was to cost the taxpayers $15.5 million, with private donors matching that amount. As of now, the total cost has risen to $66 million. Congress has appropriated $23 million and promised $20 million more in loans. Private $66 million? Congress has repeatedly asked that question but in the end has always coughed up the wherewithal. Last year Congress laid out another $7.5 million in cash, plus $5 million in loans, although not without a fight. The project has been surrounded with controversy from the start, and the designation as a memorial to John Kennedy only added fuel to the fire.

Some Kennedy critics have been unkind enough to ask why the rich Kennedy family did not pay the bill. The Kennedys have supported the project but most of the money has come from the public through taxes or contributions.

CENTER IS 630 FEET LONG
Though unfinished, the Center is an imposing structure. It rises 100 feet from the river bank, and is 630 feet long. It is rectangular in shape and fund-raisers have collected $23 million in contributions and pledges.

Why should a theater cost faced with white marble. Its interior facilities are supposed to rival any in the world:

It is more than just a theater. It includes a 2,700-seat concert hall, a 2,300-seat opera house, a 1,100-seat drama theater, and a 500-seat film theater. There will also be an art gallery, plus a restaurant on the roof, and parking in the basement.

Where will all the people come from to fill all those seats regularly? Are there that many culture-seekers in Washington, a city only about one-tenth the size of New York and where residents are reluctant to venture out in the evening because of the crime problem? The skeptics in Congress say no, and even some professionals in the world of the theater are dubious.

Sponsors reply that the Kennedy Center will be a national institution, supported by Americans generally and not only by Washington residents. The 18 million tourists who visit the capital annually are expected to help fill the 6,600 seats in the four halls.

Many visitors to New York go there primarily to see the shows on and off Broadway. It is hoped that Washington will attract that type of visitor. At the moment, most D. C. visitors come to see the monuments and other government buildings, and are not interested in $10 opera tickets.

FUNDS TO BE NEEDED

Congress has already received the bad news that the Kennedy Center will not be self-supporting. Roger Stevens, who heads the board of directors of the Center, thinks further Federal support is not only necessary but desirable. He told a reporter recently: "The government is supposed to do things which may not be financially feasible but which benefit people nonetheless." The arts, he believes, deserve public support as much as the national parks.

In Europe, subsidizing culture has long been an accepted practice. But the idea is relatively new in the U. S. and the money comes hard from Congress. The congressman whose district never produced a single opera or ballet buff is likely to think a local sewer is more important than supporting the performing arts.

If the Kennedy Center should become a white elephant, it will be the second instance of the Kennedy name being associated with an artistic success but a financial flop. After the death of the late Attorney General, D. C. Stadium became Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. That is a fine home for the baseball Redskins but its income does not even meet the interest payments.

Talk of Texas

CHIVALRY, LONE STAR BRAND—The U. S. Constitution denies Americans the right to hereditary titles of nobility, but it's possible for some Texans to achieve knighthood any way.

It all started in 1843 when President Sam Houston of the Republic of Texas was irked because his ministers had no noble titles like those of the ambassadors and officials of other governments. So he wrote Ashbel Smith and William Dangerfield, Texas ministers to the English and French courts, and told them that he was making them Knights of San Jacinto by executive order.

When Texas became a state two years later, Houston's order was forgotten and the state's only two official noblemen eventually passed on. Then in 1939, the Sons of the Republic of Texas discovered Houston's original letter and decided to revive the Knights of San Jacinto. Since then, the Sons have granted knighthood to men whom they feel have performed outstanding service to the state or who have helped to preserve the heritage of Texas.

CITY OF WEALTHY—Galveston was the financial capital of Texas 110 years ago.

The 1860 census listed 11 residents of Galveston County as being worth more than $100,000. Harris County was runner-up with only seven while San Antonio and Bexar County boasted five.

TIME CHANGES EVERYTHING—When John Ireland was governor of Texas (Grover Cleveland was in the White House), San Antonio was the largest city in Texas with a population of 30,000.

Dallas ranked second with a little more than 27,000 residents, Galveston had 24,500, Houston was fourth with 23,137, Fort Worth boasted 22,000, Waco 17,000 and Austin just under 12,000. Amarillo was a little hamlet of 400 and Lubbock didn't even exist.

The year was 1886, and the population figures above were released recently by the Lumbermen's Association of Texas as a part of the observance of the founding that year of one of the oldest trade associations in the Southwest.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

While millions of Americans are deeply concerned about the flood of pornography and demand legislation to drive smut peddlers out of business, a presidential commission has recommended that all laws against pornography be repealed.

The 13-member commission (17 appointed by former President Johnson and one by President Nixon) proposed that the United States adopt laws as favorable as Denmark's. Today, Denmark is the capital of the smut trade. Pornographic books, films and materials are sold openly in shops on main streets and exported overseas.

The commission specifically recommended repeal of all federal, state and local laws against showing and selling of pornographic films, books and other material to adults. It said: "The commission is of the view that it is exceedingly unwise to attempt to legislate individual moral values and standards." No doubt the vast majority of decent citizens are shocked at the recommendations of the panel established by President Johnson and dismayed by its faulty logic.

Public authorities can't be concerned with public morality. The moral fiber of the nation is a legitimate public and governmental concern and always has been viewed in that light. If the commission's recommendations were approved, the Congress would be giving legislative sanction to immorality.

In defending its proposals, a member of the President's Commission on Pornography said sex crimes in Denmark declined 31 per cent after legalization of pornography. Whether this statistic is accurate, one cannot say. What is clear is that the people of Denmark have been exposed to a flood of sick and perverted material. The psychological impact of that material on Danes now growing to maturity is likely to be grave indeed.

No Western society, based on Christian values, has been exposed to pathological erotic material in such enormous quantities. It is questionable that Christian morality in Denmark can survive the legalization of morally depraved material.

Very properly, the U. S. Congress is indignant about the conclusions of the commission appointed by President Johnson. Only a few weeks ago, Congress gave overwhelming approval to a bill (H. R. 11032) designed "to prohibit the knowing deposit in the mail for transport in interstate commerce" of unsolicited salacious advertising. The penalty for this, as approved by Congress, is a fine of not more than $50,000.00 or imprisonment of not more than five years — on the first offense. Obviously, Congress is determined to crack down on smut peddlers.

In advocating passage of this bill, U. S. Rep. William E. Minshall (R-Ohio) told of the methods of the smut peddlers, saying: "The peddlers of pornography glean names from newspapers, magazines, school, club, and event church rosters."

Though the Commission on Pornography wants to give smut peddlers a green light, the American people think otherwise. In the last two years, the U. S. Post Office Department has received 459,129 complaints from citizens who have been the target of the smut peddlers' mail advertising campaigns.

In a message to Congress, requesting action against pornographers, President Nixon said that "American homes are being bombarded with the largest volume of sex-oriented mail in history. . . . Mothers and fathers by the tens of thousands have written to the White House and the Congress. They resent the intrusion into their homes." President Nixon urged "a citizens' crusade against the obscene."

The Commission on Pornography showed gross insensitivity to moral considerations and to the quality of American life. It also showed appalling ignorance of the fact that a flood of erotic material is symptomatic of deterioration in a nation. We know from history that fall of the Roman Empire was marked by the spread of pornography. It would be intolerable if U. S. lawmakers turned permissive in their approach to pornography. Instead of facilitating distribution of such material, the need is for even tougher laws against those who produce and sell filthy

European Beet Growers Plan Friday Visit Here

A 36-member delegation from the International Confederation of European Beet Growers has scheduled Hereford as one of its stops during a tour of 26 sugar beet-producing states of this country.

The organization, known as the Confederation Internationale des Betteraviers Europeens, will include 30 men and six women who will arrive in Amarillo shortly after noon Friday. They will be transported to Hereford where they will be taken to the Red Carpet Inn and later that evening be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Witherspoon. Witherspoon is executive secretary and legal representative for the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association.

On Saturday, the group will tour points of interest in the Hereford area and will be hosted at an old fashioned barbecue noon meal at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Marsh, one of the directors of the Texas-New Mexico association.

Saturday evening, the group will be entertained at the Country Club and they will return to Amarillo early Sunday morning for their flight to Fargo, North Dakota.

The delegation will include representatives from Austria, Netherlands, Ireland, Italy, Spain, France, Germany and Switzerland.

The group is making the tour of the United States to see how sugar beet operations are handled here. They are coming to the Hereford area for investigation of the sugar beet industry and the cattle feeding industry.

J. Louwes of the Netherlands, who is a director in the Netherlands sugar beet grower organizations and also a member of Parliament in his country's government, did visit Hereford earlier this year, shortly before planting season, and was so impressed with the cattle feeding industry he found here, that he encouraged his friends in the adjoining countries to include Hereford on their itinerary.

The group will arrive in the U. S. today in San Francisco where they will spend several days before flying to Denver. From Denver they will travel to Hereford and then to Fargo. From Fargo they proceed to Washington, D. C. and then to Paris, France before returning to their respective homelands.

Voters Face Amendments...

of the election could affect the outcome. They also feel these liberalizations will lead to the squandering of tax money.

AMENDMENT NO. 6

This Amendment would increase the exemption from forced sale of a homestead located in a city, town, or village from $5,000 to $10,000.

Rural homesteads now are allowed a $200-acre exemption. Proponents of the amendment state that this is more than the $5,000 allowed for an urban homestead because of the rapid rise in property values. Since it has been 100 years since the $5,000 exemption was set, economic conditions demand a change to protect the home.

Opponents believe the homestead exemption is now abused by hoarding of assets from creditors, and the larger exemption will merely increase the abuse. Besides, they say, social security and welfare have lessened the need to protect the home.

AMENDMENT NO. 7

THIS AMENDMENT would authorize the legislature to provide for consolidation of offices and functions of government and for performance of governmental functions by contract between political subdivisions in any county.

Proponents of the statute say adoption of the proposed amendment would permit counties to do away with costly duplication of services by consolidation, with one governmental unit making assessments for all using an equal and fair assessment ratio, and thereby providing more equitable apportionment of ad valorem taxes. Such consolidation would also result in coordinated planning to meet the demands of growing metropolitan areas.

They point out that enabling legislation would be permissive, and all actions would be subject to the approval of voters in the affected areas. Opponents state that adoption would be the first step toward over-centralization of government at the county level. It could result in too much authority resting in a few hands. The opposition also fears the county-wide area could assume too much of the expense of various services in the cities, and unfairly increase the county-wide tax burden.

Frontier Life A Cherished Memory

Ever wondered what life was really like living in the "olden days" out on the frontier? This week at the Deaf Smith County Library you can find a book telling of frontier life, in its free, clean beauty. Also available is the story of the U-2 incident which began a new era in spying.

THRASHIN' TIME by Milton Shtraw

Thrashin' Time is a book for the child in all of us—the recollections of a childhood spent on the high plains of Montana near the turn of the century, when "frontier" was more than a word tossed around by historians and a boy could delight in the free, clean beauty of a land not far removed from wilderness.

Thrashin' Time is enriched by the warm humor of a family that wove itself together with love and laughter to face whole-souled and unafraid the frequent hardships of a land they had come to take from the wind.

Its cast of characters: young "Mick" himself, a towheaded mischief-maker with all the instincts of a transplanted Huck Finn; his father, a man who filled every room with the cool strength of his presence; his redheaded mother, strong-willed, yet capable of a love as large as her convictions; his brothers, sisters, relatives, neighbors, and friends—all remembered in these pages with the wit and compassion of a man who loved and cherished them in life as in memory.

Operation Overflight By Francis Gary Powers with Curt Gentry

For the first time since his release from a Russian prison in 1962, pilot Francis Gary Powers reveals the full story of what actually happened behind the scenes in the most sensational espionage case in Cold War history: the U-2 incident, which wrecked a Summit Conference, gave birth to the credibility gap, and inaugurated a new era in the ancient art of spying.

Francis Gary Powers' story, suppressed for eight years, begins with his recruitment by the CIA. It covers his secret training, the part he played in Operation Overflight, called "the most successful reconnaissance espionage project in history."

It gives details never before made public about his ill-fated May 1, 1960 flight over Russia, the "orange flash" that downed his U-2, and his capture by the Soviets.

Powers was interrogated by the KGB for sixty-one days and he now reveals the important information he successfully withheld from his captors.

He tells how Khrushchev set the famous trap that caught the American government in a series of damning lies and forced a U. S. President to make the unprecedented admission that he had authorized espionage as "a distasteful but vital necessity."

Drawing on a diary he kept while imprisoned, Powers discloses the details of his sensational trial, and of his life inside two of Russia's most infamous prisons, Lubyanka and Vladimir.

Finally he speaks of the events culminating in his dramatic exchange for Soviet spy, Rudolph Abel.

STRAY DOGS

DUBLIN, Ireland — The Irish Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which deals annually with 18,000 stray dogs, claims Ireland has the worst stray dog problem in the world. The society says Irish law is not helping the problem, either, for it requires that stray dogs be kept for seven days after they're rounded up, but provides no facilities for housing them.

publishing his own account of the U-2 incident. Containing much heretofore secret information, Francis Gary Powers' narrative is not only a tremendously exciting suspense story but also a moving human document of a man who was labeled a traitor by many of his fellow countrymen, but who could well prove to have been one of America's heroes.

Now Art Teacher

Painting Is Lifelong Interest Of Housewife

By SUE COLEMAN Women's Editor

Drawing, sketching, dabbling in colors were school-day pastimes of Barbara Schaffner, who grew up to paint the kind of scenes which win awards in regional shows, and to teach art in Stanton Junior High here.

THE TEACHING JOB is new for her and she is very busy getting into the routine of classes and adapting instruction to her young pupils. She had previously given lessons to adults.

Employment in the Hereford school system followed her graduation last spring from West Texas State University, where she majored in fine arts and art education.

Her college work was done in two sections, the first two years at the University of Wyoming before her marriage to Mark Schaffner, and the final two at WTSU after her third child was old enough to go to kindergarten.

MIKE IS SEVEN years old now and in second grade; his sister Julie is nine and older brother Tim is ten. All three attend Bluebonnet Elementary School just across the street from their home at 246-16th Street.

While the children were small, Mrs. Schaffner continued to paint as a hobby.

She had enjoyed painting by the time she was in grade school and had her first lessons in junior high. She had the same art teacher through high school and for her first year in college.

Her school years were spent in Torrington, Wyo., where she went with her family at the age of five. She was Barbara Williams, born in Cripple Creek, Colo., where her grandfather had been a miner in the gold rush times.

MANY OF THE PAINTINGS she does now are scenes reminiscent of her homes in the mountain states.

"Whenever I paint, it seems that I'm inclined to get around to mountains," she smiles, "but I like to paint the Plains country too."

"That calls for a different approach, because I must work for the effect of great distance, and that's done with the haze that keeps changing as the light changes; in about half an hour there is quite a different light from the one when you start."

THE PICTURE WHICH won her first place for acrylic landscapes at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last month is a mountain scene, titled The Beaver Pond.

Acrylic paint is a comparatively new medium for her; she has worked with it a little over a year. Another scene she recently completed in the medium is called Firefighters, and its vivid colors of a forest fire are a decided contrast with the quiet tones of the peaceful pond.

Mrs. Schaffner paints in oils, watercolors, pastels and tempera. She is interested in crafts also, has done weaving and says she is now "very excited over pottery," which she is just learning. She block-printed a design of lively dogs on a bedspread and curtains for her daughter's room, likes to sew for Julie and herself.

AS A FAMILY the schaffners enjoy outdoor sports, camping, fishing and water skiing.

They moved here in 1964 when Schaffner was transferred by Holly Sugar. He is an instrument technician at the plant here.

Barbara Schaffner became a member of Hereford Art Guild when she first moved here, has served as its president and in other offices, and exhibited work in its annual shows. She is a member of Texas Fine Arts association through its Amarillo branch.

BESIDES PAINTING, she makes pencil sketches and has done some portraits that she says "were pretty good, likenesses but not good portraits."

Her sketching led to a series of appearances on a television show while she still lived in Wyoming. She was the artist while poetry was read with organ music as a background.

"I had to complete a sketch in exactly three minutes," she explains, "and I really had to work beforehand; first taking my time, then doing the sketch in about 10 minutes, then cutting it down to three. It was fun!"

CHURCH ADVERTISING

LONDON—Modern display advertising in British newspapers since 1954 has produced more than 400,000 inquiries about a mail course on Roman Catholicism, London's Catholic Enquiry Center reported. In 16 years, 260,000 people have taken the full course of leaflets and booklets, which are issued free. No personal visits are made, said Father Michael J. Kirkham, director of the center.

Five citations to Hereford organizations and individuals were brought by Mrs. A. O. Thompson from a state board meeting of Texas Federation of Music Clubs which she attended at Abilene last week.

Mrs. Thompson later was notified of her appointment to a TFMC chairmanship.

Citations all were given for observance of National Music Week last May, sponsored by the Music Study Club of Hereford which itself received one.

Others went to the music department of Hereford Public Schools; Jim Hannaford, music minister of First Baptist Church The Hereford Brand; Radio Station KPAN and Darrell Rose, its news director. The latter two were for publicity concerning Music Week.

Mrs. Thompson has been named state chairman of insignia, to fill a vacancy on the board. She has previously been state chairman of choral music and state chairman of music in the community. She is a member of Music Study Club.

Indians have laid claim to 1,100-acre Fort Lawton, Seattle, which the U. S. Army is closing down, and have been evicted after setting up a teepee there. According to the National Geographic Society, they want to turn grounds into an Indian Cultural center, while Seattle wants to convert it into a city park.

Pie-Making Day Is Held By Club

Fried pies, the dessert served often by pioneer mothers and ranch cooks in early days of West Texas, were made by L' Allegra Club members Thursday afternoon and frozen, to appear on the menu of the club's annual Tasting Luncheon Oct. 29.

Theme of the luncheon this year is Pioneer Kitchen, and food typical of the old settler's fare will be served.

The work day was held in the kitchen at First United Methodist Church, where baking continued through the afternoon.

Mrs. Gene Cope and Mrs. J. H. McCrary were hostesses. Part of the time was spent in work on posters advertising the luncheon.

Another meeting devoted to preparation for the luncheon is set for Oct. 15, when Mrs. Alex Schroeter and Mrs. Bill Warrick will be hostesses at Hereford Country Club.

Plans were discussed as part of the business session. The luncheon will benefit the club's main project of this season, the Public Health Clinic.

Members voted to contribute to the American Field Service fund.

Those present included Meses. Bob Veigel, Vernon Swanson, Rudy Metz, Danny Martin, Gary McQuigg, Sam Lesly, David Gibson, Dale Furr, Dennis Farley, Jim Conkwright, Jeff Carlile, Jim Carnahan and Buddy Bloomer.

Dickerson, a Cadet Corporal, is among about 250 cadets in the Corps this year.

A Computer-Accounting major, Dickerson is a 1969 graduate of Hereford High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickerson, Jr., 131 Cheroke, Hereford.

Upon successful completion of ROTC at West Texas State University, Dickerson will be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the United States Army.

Youth Group Which Visited Here Shower Honors Debbie Walden Presses For Importation Of Water

A group of East Texas youth, who spent one day in Hereford looking into the area's water shortage problem and the proposed Texas Water Plan, has reported to the governor the state is running out of water and it is up to the people to fully investigate facts about the water plan.

The report by the youth committee was recently released in "A 2020 Vision." The study was financed by Readers' Digest, The D. K. Caldwell Foundation and the Texas Power and Light Company.

The group, accompanied by Rep. Bill Clayton and another adult advisor of Gov. Preston Smith, spent several hours here looking at the water situation.

They visited several pecking sheds and farms in the area and were hosted for a luncheon at the Caison House.

The committee, designated "The Governor's Youth Committee on the Texas Water Plan," was composed of 12 youths who originally started out as the Smith County 4-H Club. Its investigations carried the youths throughout the state for first-hand inspections and for consultations with leading officials and authorities.

Setting the stage for the report, the introduction quotes a LIFE magazine article that pointed out that "Texas simply does not have enough water in the right places to support its fast growing population, industry and agriculture." Life published the statement 17 years ago.

"Throughout our studies of Texas and the current Water Plan, it was emphasized that in order to meet these water demands, full development and conservation of all Texas water reservoirs is essential," the report said.

During the study, members of the youth committee spent two days touring the High Plains as guests of Water, Inc., an educational organization dedicated to finding solutions to state water problems. The report cites the High Plains as one of the most productive sections of the state, but notes that West Texas is facing a future water shortage which could be averted with implementations of the water plan calling for importation of water from the east.

Among benefits to East Texas from the plan, the report lists the building of reservoirs to store water which otherwise would be lost, maintaining control over East Texas floods and the creation of new and more inviting recreation spots to attract tourists.

The report predicts that surplus water will be available from the Mississippi river and that Texas voters will have an opportunity to vote again in 1973 on a plan for financing the state's cost-share of the project. A similar proposal for financing implementation of the plan was defeated by a narrow margin at the polls last year.

The study was made by Larry Osborne, chairman, Donna Barron, Paula Cobb, Ronald Newland, David Payne, Penny Rodgers, Jennifer Wilson and Danny Wyatt, all of Tyler. Wilson Hall, also of Tyler, was adult advisor to the committee. The youth worked under the supervision of Smith County Associate Agricultural Agent Edward F. Fugger and Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Kathy Borchers.

A favorite spice, a recipe for using it and something for a bride's kitchen were brought by each guest to a shower for Miss Debbie Walden Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bob Hamman, 704 Plains.

Hostesses with Mrs. Hamman were Mrs. Ivan Tipps and Mrs. C. L. Craig. Miss Walden's marriage to Roger Owen is to take place here October 17.

The serving table was centered with a ceramic fruit arrangement and a cutwork tablecloth brought by Mrs. Hamman from Florence, Italy. French pastries, sandwiches, cookies and frosted grapes were served with

42-Yard Field Goal Is Difference

Herd Rally Falls Short, 17-14

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

For the second time this year, a field goal made the difference for the Whitefaces as they were nudged Friday night by the Dunbar Panthers, 17-14.

Hereford dropped its first game of the season by a 24-22 count to Pampa on a field goal in the final second of the game.

The winning boot for Dunbar came with 1:43 left in the first half when quarterback Glenn Davis kicked just barely cleared the cross bars from 42 yards out. At that point in the game, the visiting Panthers held a 10-0 lead after scoring in the early minutes of the second quarter.

Dunbar had built up a sizeable 17-0 lead about midway through the third quarter before the Whitefaces were able to scratch in paydirt. The Whitefaces put eight points on the board on a 13-yard pass from field general Mike Wartes to end Harold Schmucker with 20 seconds left in the third stanza.

The touchdown was the climax of a 66-yard drive that started on the Hereford 34 yard line and consisted of five straight passes. Wartes hit wingback Jeff Loerwald for an eight-yard gain and got nine more on a toss to end John Sparks.

With the ball resting on the Dunbar 49 yard line, Wartes faked a quick jump pass to the middle, then unloaded a bomb to Alan Railey at the Dunbar 14. On the next play he hit back Ricki Ward for a two-yard gainer, then tossed the TD pass to Schmucker.

Wartes then connected for his sixth straight pass, this time to Alan Wagner for the two-point conversion.

Hereford's only other score came in the fading minutes of the fourth quarter when Wagner went over from the four-yard line with 1:48 left in the game.

The score was set up by a fumble recovery by Danny Charest at the Dunbar 27. The Whitefaces combined a mixed running attack with a passing attack to push the ball down to the Dunbar four before Wagner went over for the score.

The two-point conversion pass attempt by Ward was no good and the Panthers held on for a 17-14 lead.

Dunbar's first score came with 9:54 remaining in the first quarter, with Davis going on a quarterback sneak for a fourth-and-one play, busted loose from the Hereford 17, cut to the outside and scooted into the end zone.

Davis added insult to injury by booting the point after for a 7-0 Dunbar lead.

Dunbar then added the field goal by way of Davis' foot and came back in the third quarter with a 14-yard touchdown scamper by back Kenneth Burrows with 5:33 left in the third quarter. Davis again booted the ball for the point after and a 17-0 lead for the visitors.

Davis' deciding field goal came after the Panthers had recovered a Hereford fumble on the Dunbar 16-yard line. The Panthers then drove for four first downs enroute to the deciding three-pointer.

A facemasking penalty against Hereford's Gary Lemons aided the Dunbar drive and put the ball down at the Hereford 41. From there the Dunbar team went to work for short gainers before being stopped at the 32 and being forced into the field goal situation.

Hereford had another opportunity to get on the scoreboard when Dunbar was forced to punt from its own 45 and the ball went up and came down seven yards from the line of scrimmage.

Wartes, who had gone into the series with six-of-six completions in the air, failed to get a drive going when he couldn't connect with his receivers.

He threw just out of reach of Railey then came back with a pass over the head of Schmucker. Wartes was then dropped for an eight-yard loss and the Whitefaces were forced to punt.

That possession was the last threatening one for the Whitefaces as the Panthers took over after the second Hereford touchdown and ran the clock down to just 24 seconds.

Wartes completed two quick passes for gains of 11 and nine yards, but the clock ran out with Dunbar the winner, 17-14.

On a play early in the first quarter, some questions were raised when Hereford was called on for clipping after a Dunbar fourth down punt.

Dunbar, facing a fourth and three situation, punted to Hereford. Wartes, because the punt was very short, let the ball roll, and while the ball was still on the ground, Donnie McDermitt was called for clipping a Dunbar player who had gone downfield to cover the play.

Dunbar was given the ball back, plus 15 yards from the line of scrimmage and a first down at the Hereford 44.

Hereford coach Larry Wartes said he wasn't sure about the call, but thought it correct.

"Anytime you receive a kick and don't play it, you don't have possession until the ball rolls dead or is blown dead by an official," he said, "so, the ball still belonged to Dunbar when the clipping penalty was called. We had not touched the ball and it was just like a fourth down play try for them and like we had gotten a penalty on a running play."

Wartes said if there is a violation of this type, the ball has to go back to the last play and since Dunbar had the ball, they retained it with the penalty.

Wagner was the leading rusher for the Whitefaces, carrying the ball nine times for 33 yards. Danny Harris, who was sidelined with a leg injury in the third quarter, picked up 16 yards on three carries.

Ward, who usually does the majority of the ball carrying for the Whitefaces, received the call only three times during the game, picking up six yards. However, he was the leading pass receiver with four catches for 54 yards.

Dunbar's Harold Gentry was the top carrier, juggling the ball 30 times for 85 yards. Davis carried for 18 tries and 47 yards and Burrows went eight times for 37 yards.

Harold Schmucker had three receptions for 33 yards, Sparks had three for 25 yards and Railey had one for 35 yards.

The Panthers Gary Howard had his teams only gain through the air with an 11-yard catch. Randy Morris caught one, but was hit for no gain.

OVER FOR THE SCORE — Alan Wagner plunged over for three yards for a touchdown that cut Dunbar's margin to 17-14 over Hereford with 1:48 left in the game. He isn't recognizable in the picture because of a wall of Hereford blockers around him. No. 83 is Harold Schmucker, No. 85 John Sparks, No. 72 Fidel Vigil, No. 19 Alan Railey and No. 78 Steve Clark. —Photo by Tommy Koelzer

La Plata Splits Two With Borger

The La Plata seventh graders defeated the Borger seventh graders Thursday, 16-8, but the Maverick eighth graders were not so lucky, dropping a close one to the Borger eighth, 12-6.

The La Plata seventh and eighth grades will host the Friona teams here Tuesday for their next games. The seventh grade clash is to begin at 5 p. m. and the eighth grade game at 6 p. m.

Dave Charest led the seventh grade with two touchdown scampers, one in the first quarter and another in the second. The try for the extra points on the first Charest TD failed, but Charest carried the ball himself for the two points on the second score.

Borger was held scoreless in the contest until the final quarter.

ter when they scored on a 65-yard punt return. The attempt for extra points failed.

Charest took outstanding offensive player laurels and Mike Crim was picked the outstanding defensive player.

For the eighth graders, Marvin Harris scored the only touchdown, that coming in the final quarter on a 70-yard run. Borger had built up a 12 point lead after scoring one touchdown in the first quarter and another in the second.

Terry Yerby, who led the team in tackles, Aljandre Martinez and Doug Charest were tagged the outstanding defensive players and Mike Munnerlyn and Harris shined for the offense.

Ward Leads Dogies Past Borger, 30-24

Stanton's Micki Ward rambled for two touchdowns and a two-point conversion Friday to lead the Stanton ninth grade Dogies to a 30-24 win over the Borger White team.

Ward scored on a 10-yard end sweep in the first quarter, added a two-point conversion after another touchdown in the third quarter, and then scored what proved to be the winning touchdown late in the final period.

The Dogies will play the Plainview White team Thursday in Plainview and the eighth grade will take on Dumas Tuesday. The seventh grade Dogies have not opened their season yet.

Borger scored early in the first quarter to take a 6-0 lead after its try for extra points failed.

Ward came back with his 10-yard sweep to tie the game at 6-6, and Albert Pena carried the ball across for the go-ahead two points.

Borger scored again in the first half on a 50-yard pass play and again its attempt at a two-point conversion failed, but they held a 12-8 halftime lead.

Pena opened up the second half with a Stanton touchdown as he went over from eight yards out. Ward converted the two points and the Dogies had the lead back for keeps.

Quarterback James Higgins threw a 55-yard touchdown pass to Mike Albiar in the third period and the try for the extra points failed.

The host team scored another touchdown in the final quarter on a 30-yard pass play to narrow the gap to 24-18, but Ward put on the icing with his 35-yard off-tackle score in the fourth quarter. Higgins ran for the conversion to make the score 30-18.

Borger came back with just over two minutes left in the game to score its final touchdown, but it was not enough as Stanton held on to win.

APPOINTED DEPUTY
LONDON — The Rev. Robert Jeffery, 51, has been appointed acting deputy to Bishop John Howe, Executive Officer of the Anglican Communion. The Rev. Jeffery, who will be based in London, has spent most of his ministry in the Province of the Church of South Africa. He is a canon of Capetown and has been Warden of Zonnebloem College since 1959.

DOING HIS THING — Tony Gorman (77), a starter on the Texas Tech freshman football team, bats down a pass during the team's first game of the season against New Mexico Military Institute. Gorman was an all-state selection as a senior at Hereford High School last year.

PANTHER ON THE PROWL — A Dunbar Panther side steps Whiteface Gary Lemons (63), and heads for daylight in Hereford's 17-14 Friday night loss to the Panthers. Charles Black (80), Eugene Suttle (42), and Bruce Battey (65) close in on the play.

JV's Edge Tascosa To Stay Undefeated

Hereford's junior varsity took an early lead on Terry Champ's 75-yard punt return and then held on late for a 26-20 victory over the Tascosa JV's in Amarillo Thursday afternoon.

Keith Kitchens hiked the lead with a one-yard quarterback sneak, and Bruce Barrett's second point-after-touchdown kick of the afternoon made it 14-0 for the Longhorns in the first quarter.

Kitchens combined with Barrett for a 25-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter and then sent Wesley High across from one yard away in the final period.

Tascosa managed a touchdown late in the second quarter on a 46-yard pass from Randy Fletcher to Tony Jackson, making the score 14-6 at the half.

When it looked like the Hereford junior varsity had the game safely tucked away, at 26-6 in the fourth quarter, Tascosa's junior Rebels battled back.

Jackson threw a pair of TD passes for Tascosa, first for 22 yards to Blair Biggers and then for 11 yards to Steve Spencer. The two-point pass try after the first one was successful but the next one was intercepted by Champ in the end zone.

Hereford's drives were propelled by the passing of Kitchens to Barrett and David Spain and the running of Spain and High.

The victory kept the Longhorns' perfect record intact at 3-0. For Tascosa, the decision evened its record at 2-2. After winning its first two games, Tascosa lost its third game to Lubbock Coronado JV's, 43-16.

The Hereford JV's play Caprock Thursday at Amarillo.

SOCCER TO ME — Footballers George Fuller (87), Jeff Loerwald (36), Harold Schmucker (83) and Chris Dziuk (20) tried to show their adeptness last week with a soccer ball. The ball is just off Schmucker's foot, on the way to somebody else to keep the ball in play.

USING HIS HEAD — The object was to keep the ball from touching the ground, using only the head or feet to hit the ball. Schmucker keeps it going here, and a record of almost 40 before the ball hit the ground soon was reported.

Tech To Honor Four Top Alumni

The Texas Tech Ex-Students Association has announced it will recognize four former students of the university as "distinguished alumni" at a luncheon at noon Oct. 23. The four are Demetrio B. North American, Rockwell Corporation; Rear Admiral Felix P. Ballenger, commanding officer, National Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md.; and Charles A. Bucks of Los Angeles, senior vice president-marketing, Continental Airlines. Tickets to this fourth annual "distinguished alumnus" luncheon to be held in the ballroom of the University Center will be $4.00, according to an announcement by David Casey, president of the Ex-Students Association. It is the day before Texas Tech Homecoming and a football game with SMU.

HOMES TOUR PLANNED — Committees arranging the annual tour of homes sponsored by Garden Beautiful Club met recently in the home of Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, club president whose home will be one of four open on tour day, Oct. 16. Discussing one phase of the afternoon event, over their coffee cups, are Mrs. Ray Cowser left, publicity chairman, and Mrs.

Bruce Burney of the flower show committee which will supervise the placement of flower arrangements in all the homes to be visited. The ways and means committee, headed by Mrs. Don Robinson, is in charge of overall arrangements. This year the tour-show will be one event of the city's Fine Arts Festival of Oct. 16-18.

The public is invited to purchase tickets and attend. Tickets may be obtained from the Ex-Students Association Office and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Last year's recipients were Gov. and Mrs. Preston Smith. Casey said plans for the luncheon program have not been completed, but efforts are being made to have former recipients of the "distinguished alumnus" awards to make the presentations. Previous recipients, in addition to Gov. and Mrs. Smith, include Dr. W. W. Akers, Jack F. Maddox, Fred H. Moore and Jack Tippitt in 1967 and Waggoner Carr, Rear Admiral Donald D. Chapman, Porter P. Paris and Dan Thornton in 1968.

The distinguished alumnus program was established to recognize and honor Texas Tech ex-students who have made "significant contributions to society, and whose accomplishments and careers have brought credit" to the university. A committee of five persons, including the president of the Ex-Students Association and the president of the university, make the selection of recipients from nominations submitted to the association.

Jim Stefanich won six ABC tournament titles, more than any other bowler.

Library Present Prize

H. T. Goodwin, 800 Union, is the winner of a copy of A Time To Purpose, Chronicles of Carson County, at the Tri-State Fair this past week. The prize will be presented by the Deaf Smith County Library this week. Goodwin's name was one of five drawn from the area library booth box in the Better Living building at the fair. ### Feedyards Move Into Other Areas

AMARILLO — The president of ProChemco, Inc., says his firm and others foresaw the overcapacity problem in Texas Panhandle feedlots and acquired commercial feedlots elsewhere to geographically diversify its cattle feeding operations. "We pioneered in large-scale cattle feeding facilities in the Panhandle in 1961 by establishing our feedlot in Hereford which now has a capacity for 50,000 head," Paul Engler said. "After witnessing the proliferation of feedlots in this region, we began looking at surplus grain producing states with ample supplies of feeder cattle for establishing other feedlots and acquired the 20,000-head feedlot in Ohio, Nebraska." Engler made the statement to clarify ProChemco's position after an article in the Wall Street Journal cited Texas feedlots with more capacity than cattle to be fed coupled with tight credit and a cost-price squeeze. "These factors have little effect on our cattle operations, since we geographically diversify our cattle operations and integrate our custom cattle feeding with cattle ranching on 136,000 acres in Montana and 4,800 acres in Mississippi. This vertical integration gives us the flexibility to fatten our own cattle in one of the feedlots, sell from the range herd or hold steers on the ranches until market prices rise. "With this vertical structuring, variances in commodity supplies, market or weather will affect only a small part of our cattle operations." "With regard to loan repayments at high interest rates and managerial problems at other feedlots, Engler said, "ProChemco does not have any large debt repayment schedules on either of its feed yards, and our management has been in the cattle feeding business 20 years. We have an active management training program to circumvent any future difficulties in finding skilled managers. In addition, we retain feedlot consultants in animal nutrition to assure optimum performance.

"Since ProChemco has been well established in the cattle feeding business in Hereford, the facility could be profitably operated at levels lower than the current 70-75 percent of capacity."

He said most of the cattle fattened at ProChemco's custom feeding lots are owned by other businessmen, and ProChemco feeds them on a cost-plus basis. "Generally, 1970 has been a profitable year for the cattle-

Bible Versions Shown In Talk

Evolution of Bible translations from the beginning to Today were discussed by the Rev. Eugene Brink, minister of First Christian Church, who showed 13 different translations as he spoke to Bay View Study Club Thursday.

Mrs. Heriman Ford was club hostess in her home. Members were asked to join the discussion as the speaker pointed out the number of translations that exist today as they did in the early 1600's when the original King James version appeared.

He showed a copy of the title page of this much-loved version. "There could not long be a Bible if it did not change, as any living language constantly changes," Rev. Brink emphasized.

Financial aid to the American Field Service was voted in a business session with Mrs. Colby Conkright presiding. Members decided to continue tours of the county museum, and to act as hostesses the latter part of October.

Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine presented some needs of the Day Care Center and the members agreed to assist in this community project.

Bay View members will provide residents of Kings Manor transportation during November.

Refreshments were served with an accent on the Fall season.

Present were Meses. J. R. Allison, H. L. Benefield, Howard Gault, W. J. Gilliland, James T. Hull, W. S. Kerr, Earnest Langley, Tom Sawyer and Wilson Humprey.

Local Educators Plan To Attend Migrant Workshop

Four representatives of the Hereford school system will be in McAllen Oct. 12-14 for the eighth annual migrant workshop sponsored by the Texas Education Agency.

More than 2,000 teachers who specialize in packing regular school programs into short-term capsules of learning are expected to attend the workshop.

Those from Hereford who will attend are Roy Hartman, superintendent; Bob Holman, assistant superintendent; Tom Harkney, director of special services; and Maxine Hartman.

Holman and Mrs. Hartman will serve as consultants during the three-day workshop. Holman will consult with school administrators concerning the curriculum of the migrant child and Mrs. Hartman will serve as consultant for the library media segment of the workshop.

Hartman said there will be no large delegation going to the McAllen workshop because a large group of local teachers attended the migrant workshop held in Lubbock in August. He said the administrators felt the Lubbock workshop covered the migrant program well enough that a large number of local teachers would not have to make the trip to McAllen.

Some 71 consultants drawn from all phases of elementary and secondary education, including eight from the agency headquarters in Austin, will present 299 workshops during the three-day period at the McAllen Civic Center and Central Elementary School.

The goal of the workshop is to better classroom teaching keyed to the needs of some 55,000 migrant children attending school in 99 Texas towns from the Panhandle to the Valley.

Keyed to the workshop theme, "Migrant Education: Challenge of the 70's" the group session will range across a variety of topics from cultural awareness of the Mexican American child to involving parents in education and teaching oral English. Some 35 states will send representatives of their department of education to the McAllen workshop. Four, including Virginia, Ohio, Florida, and Michigan, will send groups of migrant teachers ranging from 15 to 25 specialists learning to work with the traveling children.

ON FEDERATION PROGRAM — Mrs. Herbert Dones, center, was the speaker at the recent fall luncheon of Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, telling of experiences in Libya while her husband served two tours of duty in the U.S. Air Force at Wheeling AF Base. Mrs. Frances Parker, seated, sang solos to complete the program. Mrs. C. D. Kelton, beginning a new term as president, conducted the business.

Exhibit Slated

Work of half a dozen Hereford women who are members of the Amarillis Club, which includes china-painting enthusiasts from over the Panhandle, will be a part of a display open to the public next Sunday afternoon at Amarillo.

It will be held in the Garden Center there from 2 to 5 p. m. Visitors are invited to see the exhibit at no charge.

Hereford members are Meses. O. H. Culpepper, W. C. Hromas, B. E. Roberson, L. H. Lookingbill, Joe Kendall and O. Wertemberger.

160 Bags Of Gifts Shipped

Fourteen cartons holding 160 ditty bags full of gifts for U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam were shipped from Hereford Thursday, the Deaf Smith County quota in a Red Cross program to supply small Christmas gifts to men in combat areas.

Genevieve Miller, executive secretary of the county Red Cross chapter, said shipping charges were paid by Red Cross Youth, and that group also paid for materials for the bags.

Work of making and filling the bags was done by two women's groups in First Baptist Church, First Christian Women's Fellowship, ten Home Demonstration Clubs, Rainbow Girls and Mon Amis Club.

Kevin Young Wins Praise On National Test

Kevin D. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young of Hereford, received a letter of commendation honoring him for his high performance on the 1970 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Young is one of 35,000 students in the U. S. who scored in the upper 2 per cent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1971. He is ranked just below the 14,750 semi-finalists announced in September by the NMSC.

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development," said Edward Smith, president of the NMSC.

The commended students' names are reported to certain scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the tests in February of this year. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students.

Social Honors Mrs. Bellar

Willing Workers Sunday School Class of Avenue Baptist Church honored Mrs. Herbert Bellar at a social Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Elzie Sealy, 603 Blevins.

Mrs. Bellar read the devotional on witnessing for Our Lord. Refreshments were served to Mrs. A. D. Parmer, teacher, and 11 members.

The two 299 games bowled in the 1970 ABC were rolled in the second game of doubles competition on the 8 a. m. shift.

Rev. Boniface Riedmann

Pastor Arrives At St. Anthony's

St. Anthony's new pastor arrived in Hereford last week and assumed duties immediately. Rev. Boniface Riedmann, replacing Rev. Simeon Heine who has served the Catholic parish since September 1968, spent the past year in Kinston, N. C., in a predominantly Negro populated area. Prior to the North Carolina assignment, Father Boniface served 15 years as student director in the Graymoor Friars' seminaries, and eight years on the "mission band," traveling about the US on preaching assignments. Father Boniface celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood on May 22, as did Rev. Aedan Davis, associate pastor of St. Anthony's, and seminary classmate of Rev. Riedman.

Concerning ecumenical communications in Hereford, Father Boniface says, "I must give tribute to Father Simeon. In the time I have been here, I have become aware of the fine relationship between the people of the parish and those of other religious persuasions. This is due to the zeal and enthusiasm of Father Simeon in trying to create an atmosphere of Christian friendliness and good will. My desire is to carry on in this context."

The two priests will be honored today in an ecumenical celebration of welcome and farewell. A 12 noon Folk Mass, conducted by the two honorees, will be followed by a dinner-reception hosted by the Parish Council of Catholic Women. The Public is invited to attend any or all of the events.

Father Simeon will return to Graymoor at Garrison, N. Y., this week to take up his newly appointed position in the development office.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

October's bright blue weather has arrived. Friday was a day one never forgets. The sky was azure blue, the soft white clouds silently floated across the blue sky, creating a picture of loveliness.

We of the Hi-Plains are especially blest. The bounteous grain crops (in a blend of reds) the fat cattle on the green pastures, verdant green of vegetables, and the myriad colors of the flowers. No need to look further for panoramic loveliness it is all around.

BEAUTY SPOTS

The markers for the month's Beauty Spots have been placed. This is a project which has been promoted in Hereford over a period of years.

The history relative to its beginning and continuance is most interesting.

I was honored by being asked to serve on the very first committee which started the idea of beautification in our county. Mrs. O. R. Dunkle, County Agent of Deaf Smith County, was the person who started the movement for beautifying Hereford and the surrounding area.

Throughout the years the interest has continued and much good has been accomplished.

The sponsoring organization now, is the Ladies Division of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Tom Carter is chairman of Project Beauty Spot, and it is she who places the markers each month. This is decided by a committee of five, (both male and female) appointed by Mrs. Carter, assisted by the president of the Ladies Chamber of Commerce.

The committee which selects the recipients of the awards survey the town; and search out the gardens and/or yards which might be eligible for awards. (The alleys are also checked.)

During the last week of the month several trips are made to the various places, and each are studied and evaluated either by individual members of the selection committee or by all. Member of the selection committee give their evaluation to the chairman of the committee and she in turn makes a summation of scoring, from which the winner is determined. She or he then makes a report to Mrs. Carter, and the markers are placed.

Some of the qualifications of Salvino, O. L. Williams, J. A. Crofford, and Miss Roberta Campbell.

The next meeting is set Oct. 15 in the home of Mrs. Paul Hoff. It will include a luncheon at 12:30 noon.

the members of the selection committee are: interest in civic beautification, personal civic pride, reliability, dependability, knowledge as to landscaping and gardening. They are also expected to be conscientious, honest and co-operative.

The following are the rules and score card which is given to each member of the selection committee. These were set up by the sponsoring organization.

1. Choose a home beauty spot of the month. First choice only.

2. Choose a non-residential beauty spot of the month. First choice only.

3. Each spot to be chosen for the following months: March through December.

4. Such choices to be within the county of Deaf Smith, but not confined to the city limits, it is recommended that at least one rural place or places be selected during the year.

5. That the group of five members, constituting the selection committee, try to meet together in a final selection and said places to be visited together if possible. Selected places must be seen more than once during the month.

6. The committee to be composed of five members and a co-ordinator, who is a member of the beautification committee of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

7. Same spot cannot be selected more often than every third year, except in the non-residential. This award can be given to the same when two years have elapsed (It is recommended that the awards be awarded to as many as possible and avoid any repetitions unless the scoring is extremely high.)

8. The members of the selection committee shall be known to the beautification committee and not given to the public (to prevent harassment of such members by the public).

9. The December awards are given to encourage good landscaping, including plantings for winter beauty, and also to encourage cleanliness and well kept grounds.

10. That the following score be used for selecting these Beauty Spots:

I. General Appearance, 50 points.

a. Neatness and cleanliness, 20 points.

b. Relationship of plantings, 10 points.

c. Balance and unity, 20 points.

II. Harmony of the Overall Picture, 25 points.

a. Color, harmony, 15 points.

b. Harmony and relationship of landscape design with architecture, 10 points.

II. Beauty, Attractiveness, 25 points.

a. Eye appeal, 15 points.

b. Effectiveness of overall completeness, 10 points.

Total points 100.

The rules are for guidelines, but bear in mind that the contribution of each place to the attractiveness, cleanliness, sani-

McDermitt Wins Senior Presidency

Donny McDermitt is the president for the senior class at Hereford High School.

He was elected recently in class elections, along with Wendall Albracht, the vice president, and Sara Bell, the secretary.

Thespians Plan Activities For 1970-71 Year

Carol Turrentine will head the high school Thespians, an organization dealing with stage performances, in its activities this year.

In addition to naming Miss Turrentine as president, the group elected Sammy Ogan as vice president, Raul Valdez as secretary-treasurer and Sharon Pullia as point keeper. They began serving this fall, although the election itself was last spring.

A point keeper keeps tab on the number of points earned by various students through acting in a play, working on the stage crew or helping in other ways. A student must earn 10 points to become eligible for the Thespians.

The Thespians have scheduled a three-act play for next February. They will stage two one-act plays for presentation during assemblies.

The class named John Sparks, Kima Marsh, Chip Formby, David Myers, Gwen Davis, Judy Cargo, Diane Smith and Ginger Godin to the float committee for Homecoming.

On the financial committee, to handle class money, are Art Reinauer, Sharon Reidhimer, Souad Malouf, Nancy Fisher, Carol Scott, David Henslee and Kevin Young.

The seniors will sponsor a supper before the Homecoming football game Oct. 23 against Lubbock Coronado. Also during Homecoming Week, seniors will sell chrysanthemums.

Plans were made for a concession stand at the festival and at the festival and the club voted to participate in the national and state councils of garden clubs. They will sell national council calendars and state council stationary.

Reports were given by various members on the recent Federation luncheon.

THING OF THE FUTURE — Southwestern Bell Science Demonstrator Roy Wickerham demonstrates the laser beam which is expected some day to carry all the telephone conversations, television pictures and computer data now being carried by existing transmission systems.

Students See Demonstration Of Phones Of The Future

A music-playing laser beam and a telephone system that will follow you around highlighted a program by Southwestern Bell Science Demonstrator Roy Wickerham at Tuesday's assembly at Hereford High School.

The program, entitled "Innovation in Three Acts," features innovations developed by Bell System scientists and engineers.

Wickerham told the group that laser beams will be used in the future to carry music or voice signals, television programs, computer data and other types of communications.

To demonstrate the laser's capability, he used a tape recorder and a speaker connected by a laser beam. When the tape recorder was turned on, music travelled across the laser beam, coming out of the speaker.

Wickerham also passed telephones out in the audience to demonstrate future telephone services. He showed how you will be able to transfer calls to another number by dialing a code number.

"With this service, you will be able to have your calls follow you whenever you leave your home or office," Wickerham said.

Future telephones will also take over at the sound of a busy signal and complete your call when the busy-party hangs up. Wickerham explained that it will also be possible to add parties to a conversation by dialing additional numbers without hanging up.

The program also included a lens made out of gas and a television system which flashed the audience's image on a screen.

"Mr. Wickerham travels the western half of Texas demonstrating Bell System innovations," said Mike Patrick, Southwestern Bell manager for Hereford. "His 14 years of technical experience and his periodic visits to Bell Laboratories make him well-qualified to discuss what's happening in Bell System technology today."

The Amazon River has 50,000 miles of navigable waterways.

An ocean-going freighter can sail 2,300 miles upriver and in some places find water beneath its keel deep enough to cover a 10-story building.

Texas has 115 colleges and universities.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
The Robert Dobbins were getting their house repainted and some floor covering replaced as well as other major cleaning and repairing. The house was damaged on Sept. 23 from a fire which started in the kitchen. An accumulation of gas from a leak was thought to have been the cause. Although fire trucks from both Hereford and Dimmitt came to help, Dobbins had the fire under control by the time they arrived.

Home.
Weldon Stephan and Charles Self went from Frio Church to attend a W. M. U. Workshop at First Baptist Church, Muleshoe, on Thursday.

Mrs. Willie Stewart was honored at a stork shower Friday afternoon in the Earl Harkins home. Other hostesses were Mmes. Eugene Baldwin, Tommy Sparkman, Clark Andrews, Floyd Cole, Charles Self and Ronnie Andrews. Others attending were Mesdames Buster Thomas on, Weldon Stephan, James Dobbins, Frank Robbins, Owen Andrews, Fred Walt on, Owen Andrews, Don Tindell and T. L. Sparkman, Jr.

Visiting the Harland Fryes, Thursday, were friends, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Leftwich, of Duncan, Okla.

W. H. Andrews spent the weekend with relatives at Marlowe, Okla. On Tuesday he and Mrs. Laura Littrell went to Clovis to visit their sister, Mrs. Bell Hart, in a Convalescent Home.

The Clark Andrews spent the weekend in the New Mexico mountains and also visiting aunt and uncle of Mrs. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Franks, at Albuquerque, Mr. Franks is seriously ill in the Veterans hospital. They live in Amarillo.

districts planning to add flight training to their curriculum will probably contract with a local flying school for instruction and equipment.

Instructors for the first year program must hold at least a private pilot's license or certification as a ground school instructor, or six semester hours in aerospace aviation courses. Second year instructors must also be qualified in air traffic control and/or as aircraft flight crew members.

Besides Hereford, first year courses are now offered at high schools in Andrews, Arlington, Austin, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, League City, La Marque, San Antonio, Sherman, Vernon, and Waco.

by MELVIN YOUNG Since the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court has failed to hike the County Attorney's salary, we now understand that Rex W. Easterwood, who has been serving as Assistant County Attorney since the 8th of September, will submit his resignation on Monday, Easterwood, a partner with the firm of Tub, Lowder and Easterwood, told the commissioners last Monday that he would not take the job of County Attorney, when and if John Alkin resigns, unless the present salary is raised. Easterwood had agreed to serve as Assistant District Attorney until October 5, the date Alkin is expected to resign, and it was understood that he would then be appointed County Attorney.

We understand also that the Court is now considering offering the job to another local attorney, Andrew J. Shuvall. When contacted Friday, Shuvall said the commissioners had discussed the deal with him, but they have not officially offered him the job and he declined to say whether he would accept if offered. Further action concerning the matter will probably be made next Wednesday afternoon.

Alkin, in telling the Commissioners Sept. 14 of his intention to resign, said the office was a "costing me more money every month. You're going to have to pay somebody more." Last Monday, Easterwood said he could take no less than the maximum annual salary allowed by the state of $6,500, plus a $2,650 allowable provision for an assistant, plus a secretarial allowance that would raise the overall total over the $10,000 mark.

And since the county attorney job is no longer a "part-time" endeavor but now demands the full attention of one man, or the equivalent from any law firm that chooses to take over the load, the above salary does not seem unreasonable. But it appears that the firm of Tub, Lowder and Easterwood has miffed the honorable court and rather than raising the salary to a decent level, they're looking elsewhere for an attorney who is willing to accept a lower figure.

Speaking of salaries, it has always been our contention that this county would be much better off financially if the county were operated under a "manager" system of government, much as the city is today. For instance, a capable county manager could be hired for much less than the $30,000 that is now being paid to the four county commissioners ($7,750 each, each including expenses). A county manager with a degree in engineering could be found for around $20,000 and since the commissioners would no longer have to handle road work, it is reasonable to expect that qualified businessmen would agree to serve on the court for a token fee. It has worked in other counties and it will work here.

Actually, the present county governmental system is archaic and should have gone out with the horse and buggy. It is time for a change.

The 1 per cent city sales tax has now gone into effect, and city officials expect the additional revenue to ease the burden on the budget and make funds available for some needed work on streets, parks, etc. About $140,000 additional revenue is expected annually at the current retail sales figure. This should help considerably.

It's good to see that some progress is going to be made on the widening of U.S. 60 to Summerfield, and eventually, we hope, all the way to the state line. U.S. 60 is carrying a tremendous amount of traffic now, partly due to the cattle feeding and meat packing industries located in this area, but primarily because it has become a main artery from coast-to-coast. Highway 60 is now one of the better highways to travel, especially since the area around the Salt River in Arizona has been widened. Traffic will continue to increase along this route and the widening project comes none too soon.

Open to all interested groups and individuals in the Panhandle, the Symposium offers speakers from across the state to handle the presentation of various areas of child care and development, including the 4-C program of Community Coordinated Child Care of the state and federal governments.

Hosting the Texas Panhandle Child Care Symposium will be the Potter-Randall Family and Child Welfare Council, Larry Milner, President of the Council, extended an invitation to all persons in the Texas Panhandle area who are involved in Child Care and development or who are interested in this field. Both private agencies and governmental units are welcome and urged to attend.

Symposium On Child Care Is Set For Oct. 17

Child care and development in the Texas Panhandle, its problems and possibilities, is the subject of the Texas Panhandle Child Care Symposium set for Saturday, October 17, in Amarillo.

Miner emphasized that the Symposium constituted the Council's effort to acquaint interested persons and agencies in possibilities and programs available in the field of child care and development. An interesting portion of the Symposium program will be a discussion by the audience as to what, if any, concerted action should be taken by those in the Texas Panhandle interested in Child care and development.

Featured speakers for the Symposium include Dr. Lewis Fairchild, Killgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital; Dr. Emmett Smith, Vice-President, West Texas State University; Pat Murphy, Community Specialist for Children's Programs and David Chapa, Program Inspection Officer of the Office of Child Development, both of Dallas, and Burt Adams, Texas Child Welfare Department, Austin.

The Symposium will convene Saturday, Oct. 17, at 9 a.m. in the auditorium of the Killgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital. The program is divided into five sessions, ending at noon.

Mr. Milner expressed the hope that the Symposium would attract attendance from the entire area and that it would mark the beginning of joint effort by interested groups toward the goal of providing the best possible child care by utilizing all the opportunities and assistance available.

Local Draft Board Clarifies Policy

The executive secretary of the local draft board said this week some young men picked in the random selection lottery for 1970 who miss induction this year will be kept in the top priority list for the draft through the first three months of 1971.

Cleta O. Allshie said in compliance with an executive order announced by the White House recently, all registrants who hold the highest reached number in the lottery or a number below that and who were not inducted for any reason will be carried over until the end of next March.

Registrants who held numbers above the highest reached lottery number of the Hereford draft board will be placed in a lower draft priority group on Jan. 1.

Local boards have been told by the state Selective Service director to go no higher than sequence No. 195 in inducting young men.

Locally, however, random selection No. 141 is the highest lottery selection number reached this year.

The local draft board spokesman said it may be necessary to go to a higher random selection in order to satisfy the remaining 1970 draft calls.

The clarification of policy came because of confusion concerning those young men with low lottery numbers who enter the 1970 draft pool too late to be inducted before the end of the year. Those men, under the clarification, will be called ahead of members of the 1971 draft pool during January, February and March.

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, state Selective Service Director, said relatively small numbers of registrants will be affected.

"The regulations have always been clear that some men will be carried over from 1970 into 1971," Tarr said. "The new regulations define the carryover group more precisely and also introduce a three-month limitation on the length of the extension."

Tarr said the carryovers will be registrants who would have been called earlier in 1970 when their number was reached by their local board but who could not then be called because they were either in a deferred status or were exercising various

Speedy Back Leads Pampa To 28-20 Win Over Sophs

Pampa's Richard McCampbell burst for touchdowns of 55, 50, 65 and 85 yards, Thursday night and handed his sophomore team a 28-20 victory over Hereford's sophomore team.

The big halfback made all four scores on identical runs. He took a wide pitchout, turned downfield and simply outdistanced Hereford's defenders. He was never touched on any of the four.

Larry McNutt took a pitchout and went 23 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter to cut the margin to 7-6 but a pass attempt for a two-point conversion failed. McNutt then went 85 yards on a draw play later in the same period and, after another pass try for the extra points failed, the score stood 14-12 Pampa at the half.

Quarterback Barry McNutt, twin brother to Larry, found Alon Cornelius in the open behind the Pampa secondary to give the Shorthorns a 38-yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter that cut the margin to 21-18. The same combination was good for the PAT and made it 21-20.

Just after the ensuing kickoff, however, McCampbell broke loose again to put the game away for the Harvester: sophomore.

The Hereford sophomores now are 2-2 for the season. They beat the Nazareth varsity and Canyon sophomore team before losing to the Clovis sophomores a week ago Saturday.

Pampa - McCampbell 85 run (Musgrave kick)
Hereford - Alan Cornelius 38 pass from Barry McNutt (Cornelius pass from Barry McNutt)
