City Carnival Will Again Have Midway

The familiar sounds of the Midway will dominate the scene in Hereford beginning Wednesday when the annual Lions Club Carnival gets underway at the Bull Barn grounds.

A. J. "Major" Schroeter, president of the Lions Club, said the carnival rides, presented by Golden Spread amusements, will include a larger number this year than in the past. Some 15 rides will be set up for the carnival, which will run from Wednesday until Aug. 1.

"The rides will probably be set up by next Wednesday," Schroeter said, "but the Lions Carnival booths will not open until Friday."

The Lions Club booths will include a doll rack, inside and outside concession stands, basketball pitch, glass pitch, number darts, balloon darts, cork gun, cigarette pitch, coke bottle pitch, golf ball roll, bingo stand and bear pitch.

As a special attraction to the carnival this year, the Amarillo Gunfighters will stage a three-night performance in the Bull Barn. Their performances will be free of charge the 28th, 29th and 30th at 7:30 p. m.

The Amarillo Gunfighters is a 20-member group of men who stage authentic western "shoot-outs" and "hangins". The group is headed by Howard Lundgreen, an ex-Hollywood stuntman who has taught members of the group to fall off buildings, cliffs and horses to add variety to the gunfighter tricks.

The group uses authentic Colt .45 revolvers, loaded with cartridges of black powder and fiberglass which disintegrate when fired.

As another part of the Western drama, one member of the group is "hung" before a group of spectators.

"The proceeds from the carnival have not been definitely organized," he said, "though there are several worthy opportunities we have considered at

Tierra Blanca School Wins Board Approval

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

The Hereford School Board formally accepted the ultra-modern Tierra Blanca Elementary School Tuesday night and called it "one of the finest finished works we've ever had."

The board authorized a $80,000 payment to the architect, leaving only about $7,500 to be paid, when final, minor items in the building are taken care of.

The school will open Aug. 24 with students coming generally from south of Tierra Blanca Creek. Students living in a triangular area between Holly Road, U. S. 69 and North Street also will attend the new school.

Pupils from the Labor Camp will continue to attend Northwest Elementary. All other schools will draw students from the same general areas as before, with slight changes. A map showing the boundaries will be printed in the Brand soon.

The board members accepted the school after touring through the eight-sided facility, which features bright colors and no windows. They then went to the school administration office to proceed with other business in their regular monthly session.

Hartman presented to the board an estimated 1970-71 budget of $3,515,000—which includes $2,943,490 for local maintenance, $123,500 for transportation, $448,700 for interest and sinking, and nothing for building.

The budget is $225,002 below that of the past year, but the budget a year ago included $650,000 for the building and furnishing of Tierra Blanca school. The interest and sinking fund is $14,377 less than a year ago and transportation is $1,030 less than a year ago. The local maintenance category—which includes salaries, teaching materials, insurance, health services, and most other items—is up by $439,805.

The school board earlier this year raised the percentage of property, to 45 from 40 per cent, to be used in figuring school taxes but had deferred setting the new rate.

After hearing the tentative budget, the board Tuesday established the rate at $1.99, compared with the old rate of $2.20 at 40 per cent. The change reflects an adjustment upward in taxes of 1.76 per cent. A person owning a $20,000 house will be paying $3.10 more in taxes. A person owning 150 acres of the best irrigated land in the county will pay $4.34 more in taxes.

The board set Aug. 11 as the day for the official budget hearing.

Among other highlights, Supt. Roy Hartman told the board of the school program of several 12-month special education programs that will allow the school to give extensive new help to area children, especially the mentally retarded.

The programs, all financed with state money, came by accident, Hartman said.

He was in Austin recently to make application in the special education program but was turned down because a prerequisite was that the school have at least three 12-month special education classes.

"We didn't even know they were available," Hartman said, and be quickly returned to the Texas Education Agency with requests for one class for the deaf, four for the educable mentally retarded, two for the trainable mentally retarded and one speech and hearing class, all to continue year around. All were accepted.

"This is a tremendous thing," Hartman said. "You take the trainable mentally retarded. If they miss just two days, over the weekend, they regress. You can imagine what happened to them over three months, during the summer. Some kids pay private tutors to get speech and hearing lessons, and there's no use in their doing this if we can provide it. We didn't have to have this and it means more work, but it's something we should do and I think it's worth it."

Bob Holman, assistant superintendent, said the additions give Hereford "one of the outstanding special education programs in the state for a school this size."

In another key development related to special education, the school board gave Hartman the authority to enter the Hereford school under a working relationship with the Human Development Center in Amarillo.

The local school will get money from the Texas Education Agency that will be turned over entirely to the Human Development Center for operation of the Satellite School in Hereford.

The Satellite School, for those mentally retarded children who are less than trainable, has already been in operation locally. But starting with the new school year, the state will be supplying money—through the school—for its operation. This means less local funds, from parents or through civic organizations, will be needed for its operation.

The school board approved the resignation of four teachers and hired 16 new teachers.

Swimmers Sign Up Tomorrow

Swim students will register tomorrow for the final session of Red Cross lessons.

Registration will begin at 9 a. m. for the third session of water safety instructions taught this summer at the municipal pool.

One hour lessons, at 10 a. m. and 11 a. m., will begin Monday, ending July 31.

Adult students will register during the first lesson at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Chamber To 'Wait And See'

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce decided in its board meeting Wednesday morning to see the full impact of a housing project now underway before moving ahead with any steps concerning housing problem.

The 138-unit family rental project will be constructed on a 16-acre tract of land on Irving and Whittier Street in northeast Hereford.

The project will be included in six separate brick buildings. The houses will include one, two, three or four bedroom apartments with on-side parking, a recreation area and a laundry room also available. The bedrooms will be on the second floor of each unit. Rent for the apartments will be under the low-income housing standards.

The Catholic diocese in Amarillo will operate the housing project, which will be constructed by Sproul Construction Company of Orange, Calif.

The Chamber of Commerce also considered the need for looking into, with the city and county, a program for housing of the retired and elderly people of the county. This project has been under consideration by the city for some time, but no immediate plans have been taken. The board of directors "accepted with great regret," the resignation of director Don Baugous, who will move to Lincoln, Neb. to join an insurance firm.

Dr. Joe Whitley was named to fill the unexpired term of Baugous, elected to move into the office of treasurer which was vacated by the move of Whitley to director.

Public Health Clinic Officials Meet Today With Volunteers

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

Persons interested in giving their volunteer services to the new Public Health Clinic will meet in the Community Room of the First National Bank at 2 p. m. today.

The auxiliary board of directors for the clinic expressed pleasure at early interest from persons throughout the community wanting to help and welcomed any other volunteer aid.

Volunteer workers will assist registering patients, transporting patients to and from the clinic, directing patients to the hospital for laboratory and x-ray services, obtaining family histories, babysitting, and any of several things that might aid the professional workers at the clinic.

The auxiliary board has set tentative hours for volunteers' services at between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., with each volunteer setting his or her own hours and days, depending on individual abilities and desires.

The clinic, scheduled to open for the first patients in approximately two weeks, will provide medical care for the area's migrant population and those in the permanent community employed in seasonal work who have in the past been unable to afford medical treatment.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has put $79,818 into the migrant health project, which will be supported by some $35,000 in contributed services of local doctors, volunteer workers, county-donated equipment and state-supplied services.

Mrs. James Higgins will serve as coordinator of the auxiliary's board of directors, with Mrs. Kenny Gearn as vice-coordinator, Mrs. Cameron Gault as secretary, Mrs. Bob Veigel and Mrs. Joe Soliz as registrars, and Mrs. Homer Garrison and Ms. Hugh McCrary as public relations chairmen.

Mrs. Lois Whitaker, projects director of the clinic, will be an ex-officio member of the auxiliary's board.

The clinic opening about Aug. 1, came after two years of concentrated efforts on the part of civic leaders and medical personnel of Hereford.

The clinic proved a necessity after extensive study revealed that Hereford has an estimated migrant population of 8,000 persons, often unable to afford medical care.

Dr. Gerald Payne was appointed medical director of the clinic. Members of the board of directors are Mrs. Jo Solomon, Marcus Latham, Joe Soto, Noe Salinas, Virgil Dodson, Robert Holman, George Masso, Jesse Diaz, and Dr. Clyde Rush.

BUTCHERS, BAKERS? — No, these are members of the board of directors of Santa Gertrudis Breeders International as they pause outside Wilson and Company Packing plant before their tour Monday morning. The group also toured Easley Feed lots and held a board meeting at the Country Club.

Limitation Hits Hard

In a surprise move the U.S. Senate has voted 40 to 35 in favor of a $20,000 limit on payments to individual farmers under federal cotton, wheat and feed grains programs for 1971.

It is impossible to assess the effects of a $20,000 payment, should it become law, on agricultural producers without first knowing to what sort of program and what rate of payments it would apply.

On the High Plains if one assumed program provisions and payment rates similar to those in effect for 1970, between 10 and 12 percent of the farmers would suffer reduced incomes, the total amount of payments made on the Plains would be reduced around 25 percent and a like percentage of agricultural production would be affected.

The vote came on an amendment to the annual agricultural appropriations bill and was a reversal of action last year when the Senate voted down an identical amendment by 53 to 34.

Sheds Shift Into Gear On Potatoes, Onions

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Vegetable processing and shipping sheds are looking for an average year on the potato and onion market after getting a look at the first loads coming in this week.

Early potatoes appear to be about average in their yields according to shed owners, but the onion crop looks to many as if it might be below the average yield. For the most part, the vegetable harvest season got underway here Monday morning with several sheds reporting their first loads. Though the first loads were not large ones, they indicated a good crop with good quality.

George Jones, manager of the E. C. Reinart & Sons shed, said that shed began receiving loads of potatoes Friday evening and said the "quality was real good" on the first loads. "Yields will probably be about average, depending a lot on the variety of potatoes," Jones said. The onion yields appear they will be down from that of last year although the shed has received yields from some fields considerably above what was expected, he added.

Because of the greenness of the early potatoes, the field crews are having to do most of their work between 5 and 10:30 a. m. and 6:30 and 9:30 p. m. each day. The hot of the day can "burn the green potatoes so crews are shut down during the hottest part of the day."

Colville & Wilson started processing potatoes late Monday afternoon and first indications are the crops will be "pretty good," Ed Wilson said.

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners modified the lines of its four precincts this week in keeping with a recent U. S. Supreme Court mandate that approximately the same number of persons be in each. The action came seven weeks after the same body declined, by a 3-2 vote, to even put the matter on the agenda.

The redistricting was accomplished by a simple, easy-to-define change that extended the precincts of Precincts 3 and 4 into Hereford by means of two one-mile-wide "corridors."

The two changes call for the part of Hereford west of Sunset Drive and between Harrison Highway and 15th Street to become part of Precinct 3 instead of Precinct 2; and for the part of Hereford north of Park Avenue, between U. S. 385 and Avenue H, to become part of Precinct 4 instead of Precinct 1. North of 15th Street, the area from Avenue H to Avenue K also will be in Precinct 4.

The new Precinct 3 area will stretch west for about 11 miles to connect with the land in the southeastern corner of the county that Commissioner Bruce Coleman has always been in charge of.

The new Precinct 4 area will stretch north for about 12 miles to join the other land under Commissioner Donald Hicks, which now covers approximately the entire one-third of the county.

The new precinct alignments go into effect Jan. 1, but the maintenance of all county See COUNTY, Page 2

The House-passed version of the appropriations bill for agriculture and related agencies carried no limitation of payments and authorized a total appropriation of $7.2 billion, about $900 million less than the bill passed in the Senate. The Senate increased the House appropriation for food stamps by $500 million and raised the amounts allocated to a few other programs.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains

Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, said there is hope "that the $20,000 per farmer limitation can be knocked out in the House-Senate Conference Committee before the House Agriculture Committee reports out a farm bill."

Johnson noted that Congressman Paul Findly (R. Ill.), a long-time advocate of a payment limit, already has advised House members he will move to have House conferees instructed to accept the Senate limitation amendment.

"And," Johnson continued, "considering that the House membership has twice in the past voted a $20,000 amendment to assume that Findley's motion to instruct conferees would carry."

Johnson explains that some House members who favor a ceiling on farm payments are now fearful that a farm bill may not reach the House floor this year, therefore depriving them of the opportunity to impose a limitation. "And with this in mind these House members would likely vote for limiting payments by way of an amendment to the appropriations bill to conference, the situation would be different.

The $20,000 limitation passed by the Senate, if made to stick, would apply to direct payments under cotton, wheat and feed grains programs for 1971. But as of now there are no 1971 programs that involve direct payments.

The permanent farm legislation that is on the books provides support for cotton, wheat and feed grain prices by means of non-recourse loans, not payment. So unless Congress acts to pass commodity programs that continue some form of di-

(Continued from Page 1) roads will remain the same. Precinct 1 Commissioner Earl Holt will continue to care for the roads in the area switching over to Precinct 4, and Precinct 2 Commissioner Marcus Latham will continue to care for the roads in the area switching over to Precinct 3.

Coleman and Hicks, the two members of the body who have consistently opposed redistricting, presented the proposed plan, and it met with quick approval of County Judge Hank Williams and the other two commissioners.

Both Coleman and Hicks said during Monday's meeting that they still disagree with the theory that county precincts should be drawn on the basis of population, but that since the nation's highest court had decreed that it be so, they had no choice.

"We believe we have followed the consensus of everyone's feelings in drawing up this plan," Coleman said.

The new alignment will put about 1,200 more potential voters into Hicks' precinct and about 1,500 more into Coleman's precinct. In the 1968 General Election, 2,204 votes were cast in Precinct 1 (Holt), 1,747 in Precinct 2 (Latham), 122 in Precinct 3 (Coleman) and 303 in Precinct 4 (Hicks).

The most recent voter estimates available show about

6,400 registered voters. "With this plan, Bruce and I may now be overloaded a bit, but we'll have to wait until later to see," Hicks said. "If we are, it will be real easy to add another street or take away a street to make it fit."

Coleman emphasized that he has not wanted to redistrict, "and I still don't want to." But the Supreme Court said this is what we have to do and some local people have indicated they might take it to court to get it done. If we have to, this looks like a workable plan."

"There were two of us who represented people living in the rural areas and two who represented people living in town. They could still outvote us 3 to 2 if they wanted to. But now we don't have a balance of property and people."

Both Coleman and Hicks felt there would be no immediate change in the workings of the commission and the philosophies they reflect, but that the normal elective process will take care of that with most of the votes situated in Hereford, the two feel that future commissioners will have to be more responsive to desires of city residents than of farmers if they want to stay in office.

"Let's put in another way," Hicks said. "If you have one guy out here in the country running for commissioner, and another here in town running, who do you think's going to get elected? That's right, the one in town. We have problems in the rural areas that the city doesn't have, and I don't think city residents understand this, I think it's time the rural people and the city people set together and understand each others' problems."

"The city people are convinced the farmer is being subsidized. We're being offered a price for wheat that is below the 6,400 registered voters.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to write a few lines to express my appreciation for a fine newspaper and to say that I am proud to be a citizen of our growing community.

I have lived in Hereford for 17 years and I think it is tops. As a serviceman overseas, it is a real comfort to know that in these troubled times there still exists a solid, thriving community such as ours. It thrives and grows only because of the interest and active participation of its citizens.

I was very happy when my mother sent me a subscription to your fine newspaper for my birthday. In most papers we get here, all you read is racial, social, and military violence. It is really nice to think of production price. We're being allowed to stay in business, barely, by subsidies. But the question is, who is subsidizing whom?" Hicks said.

I graduated from HHS with the class of '60 and every day I learn to more fully appreciate the faculty and citizens who picked them. I look forward to continuing my education and in closing would like to say again, "I am proud to be a citizen of Hereford." A person just doesn't realize what he has while he's got it. Actively Support Water Programs, Speaker Pleads

One of the state's leading water spokesmen urged Hereford area residents Wednesday to put their influence, money and active support into efforts to improve the future water outlook for Texas.

David Brune, general manager of the Trinity River Authority, asked specifically that area residents join both Water, Inc., and the Texas Water Conservation Association to improve the power of both to get a higher priority for water resource needs.

Brune, the key speaker at Wednesday's Lions Club meeting, was introduced by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, director of Water, Inc.

He pointed out that about eight million acres were irrigated last year in Texas, "and this irrigated land is literally the backbone of the Texas agricultural economy. It accounts for more than 50 per cent of the cash receipts from farm marketing."

But the ground water supply will be less than one-half of its present quantity in 50 years, he said, at a time when the need for surface water will have increased by 800 per cent.

Last August the state suffered a "tremendous setback," he said, because of the defeat of the proposed amendment implementing a state water plan. The defeat made even worse a dangerous time factor this area is already faced with on the water situation, he said.

"Developing water resources used to be the No. 1 priority, but now it is far back. We have got to re-establish nationwide the importance of water resources. We are at the losing end right now," Brune added.

Water, Inc., is a regional group dedicated to getting the importation of water into the West Texas, and the Texas Water Conservation Association is a statewide organization, one that could use more people from this area to present this region's side of the story, he said.

He said area persons interested in improving the water situation can help by giving their active support to Clayton's efforts in the state legislature. "Flex your muscles, show you are behind him. We have to get people aroused. Get in the two groups (Water, Inc., and TWCA), attend meetings, put money in them, speak your piece," he said.

"And even if you don't join them, read the newspapers, take an interest in water and let everyone know, from the governor on down, that you think water is very important—as important as the ghetto or anything else."

Amarillo Studies Best Type Of Police Academy

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

About 50 persons representing half a dozen cities attended a meeting called by the City of Amarillo to decide whether to establish a regional police training facility operated by the Amarillo College, or the Amarillo Police Department.

The regional academies will be established in all 25 regions over the state of Texas in accordance with the recent law requiring any officer hired after Sept. 1, to hold 140 hours in basic training. Officers hired before that date will automatically become certified.

All men serving on the Hereford city forces are qualified officers, Police Chief Don Brush said, and the ones lacking in hours have been previously sent to West Texas State University.

The academy in Amarillo will be equipped with courses on traffic enforcement, narcotics, basic law, crime detection making reports, investigation of burglaries and murder, and firearm use.

Hereford officers have attended school both at Amarillo College and at the police department, and state various opinions.

"I think the college would be the best place," Brush said. "It has better facilities and training to offer the men."

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson feels a separate police academy would be the best thing.

"We would need firing ranges for one thing and police training is so involved that I don't think that either one could handle it," the sheriff said.

Representatives visited Hereford officers Monday to discuss the possibility of the county matching the money put up by the state for officer training.

"This is a good idea, although they may have some problems getting some countries to fork up the money. Questionnaires will also be sent out to county commissioners and to each department for a survey on where the training should be set up," McPherson added.

McPherson said that at one time, Amarillo have considered turning the old Air Force base into a police academy.

Hereford High School is trying to take care of registration of new students as soon as possible.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL BY VERN SANFORD

Austin, Tex.—Cold figures submitted in major agency budget proposals left top state officials and legislators little room for optimism about the amount of next year's tax bill.

The Texas Education Agency calculated public school operation during the next biennium will cost about $2.3 billion — $2 billion in state money alone. This is an increase of about $377.1 million over the present level.

Nobody was too surprised about that, but the Texas Public Welfare Department came up with a shocker.

Welfare staffers figure that the rising assistance rolls will require a budget of nearly $2 billion overall for the 1972-73 fiscal period. That represents an increase in state welfare funds of $300.4 million over the current biennium.

So, two vital functions of state government alone—public education and welfare—are seeking some $677.5 million in additional revenues. It is expected that most of the other agencies will request more than their present appropriations instead of less.

Welfare requests, as large as they are, do not take into consideration larger grants for the needy and ill.

However, a Senate committee has recommended the $80 million a year ceiling for state spending on categorical assistance be abolished and aid payments be matched to actual need. If enacted by the Legislature, this would mean millions more in welfare spending.

LI. Gov. Ben Barnes expressed grave doubts that legislators would accept tremendous increases in welfare spending without "substantial reform" for the entire welfare system.

Welfare officials note that assistance rolls continue to expand uncontrollably (due largely to federal court rulings and rising population).

COURTS SPEAK—Supreme Court upheld tough rules defining guests and required food service at private drinking clubs. In another decision involving the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the Court refused to outlaw the purchase of liquor by "agents" for the private lockers of members of dry area clubs.

In a Texarkana-area case, the Court held that victims of uninsured drivers must prove there was no insurance coverage on the other motorist before he can collect on his own uninsured motorist policy.

A Houston nurse, who claimed purchases were charged against her on a bogus credit card, lost her appeal to the top court in her effort to collect damages from a discount house and bill collection service which persistently tried to make her pay.

EAGLE RULING NEAR—Railroad Commission soon will rule as to whether the famed Texas Eagle passenger train can be discontinued by the Missouri-Pacific Railroad.

Eagle is one of three passenger haulers now operating across the state.

M-P claims that the train is losing money and wants to cut it off. Railroad attorneys argued that the Commission has no right to force it to continue to lose money.

Contending that the train should be kept in service, the National Association of Railroad Passengers said if M-P tried hard it could sell more passenger service and make a profit.

The train runs from St. Louis to Laredo, through Texarkana, Palestine, Austin and San Antonio.

DRIVING SCHOOL—Drivers

who collect too many moving traffic violations may be going to night school to learn better behavior.

Thirty new sets of driver-training equipment will be provided to 20 regional education service centers over the state to teach students by day and adult traffic violators by night. This is in line with a new plan approved by the State Board of Education. National Highway Safety Bureau will pay $699,100 for simulator equipment and supplementary educational programs.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. Preston Smith has reappointed Francis A. Flynn of Austin to the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators and named Edward G. Fisch of Austin to the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners.

Manuel DeBusk of Dallas, Tom Sealy of Midland, Hunter McLean of Fort Worth and Harry Provence of Waco are members of a sub-committee to study problems of private colleges and universities.

Dr. Charles M. LeMaistre was designated as new chancellor of the University of Texas system.

Santos L. Garza, native of Mission and now of Austin, will be public health advisor at the regional Office of the Economic Opportunity headquarters here.

Mike V. Arrendondo of Bryan will be youth manpower specialist in the Youth Opportunity Development Program.

State Rep. John E. (Ned) Blaine of El Paso will become an assistant to House Speaker Gus Mutscher when he retires from the Legislature next January at 82.

Speaker Mutscher is naming a 100-member committee to evaluate jobs of lawmakers.

Among the larger districts named as not in compliance were Amarillo, Austin, Odessa, Lubbock, Midland, Port Arthur, Beaumont (South Park), Temple, Richardson and Wichita Falls.

State education agencies, federal authorities noted, have control over local districts in such vital matters as state aid, accreditation and textbook distribution.

INSURANCE HEARING DELAYED—A delayed hearing date on auto insurance rate-making in effect assures Texas car owners that any premium hikes won't be effective until around December. Raises were expected by September.

The insurance board put off the hearing slated for July 14 on whether investment income of companies should be considered in the rate base and at the same time postponed an Aug. 17 hearing on the rate itself.

Canyon Jury Convicts Man Of Bigamy

A 38-year-old farmer from Vega was convicted of bigamy Tuesday by a Canyon jury of four women and eight men in the 181st District Court, and was placed on five year's probation.

Marvin Paul "Wheels" Metcalf was assessed the sentence by the jury after 20 minutes of deliberation. Monday's testimony revealed that Metcalf had married Mrs. Eula Alene Brock of Amarillo on Jan. 29, 1969, while still married to Mrs. Lois Marie Moore Metcalf, whom he had married Dec. 15, 1959, at Potosi, N. M. Mrs. Brock was granted a annulment April 8 in 69th District Court at Vega.

Charles Fairweather, defense attorney, said it was undecided whether an appeal would be made.

Is this any way to treat your waterways?

Keep your home beautiful—keep America beautiful

You swim and fish and go boating on America's waterways. You live there—they're part of your home. Why litter your home? Why litter your America? Litter is ugly and unhealthy and dangerous. Cleaning it up costs millions in taxes you help pay. Every litter bit hurts you.

Litter doesn't throw itself away; litter doesn't just happen. People cause it—and only people can prevent it. "People" means you. Keep America Beautiful.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

Showing "we want money," 500 welfare mothers in Washington, D. C., stormed their way into the welfare headquarters in the nation's capital in June, smashing a heavy glass door and breaking window. These arrogant, lawless recipients of public charity also tossed rocks and scuffled with police.

It was an outrageous scene, but one that may help the tax-paying public understand that today relievers, when they hold out their hands, may have a rock to throw. The hand-out crowd has gotten to the point where it uses the methods of a stick-up artist.

TONGUE TWISTER

LINCOLN, England—The new Dean of Lincoln Cathedral is a direct descendant of Baron Twistleton-Wykeham-Fiennes, one of the barons who persuaded King John to sign the Magna Carta in 1215. But he's worried about the name. "I've been lumbered with it," says the Very Rev. Oliver Twistleton-Wykeham-Fiennes. "It causes a lot of difficulty. It's ridiculous trying to meet new people with a name like that." He wants to be called just Oliver Fiennes. And that Fiennes is pronounced Fines.

"YEAR OF EVANGELISM"

NEW YORK — Representatives of more than 70 Protestant denominations are working on plans to make 1973 a continent-wide "Year of Evangelism." "The conviction is growing that the time is ripe for a forceful, clear-sounding emphasis throughout the continent on the right meaning of the gospel in a concerted effort," says the Rev. Reynold Johnson, head of the evangelism commission of the Lutheran Church in America. He says it could stir "the thinking of the nation, to the glory of God."

ST. BONIFACE SHRINE BLESSED BY BISHOP

CREDTON, England — A national shrine to St. Boniface, apostle of Germany, has been blessed by Bishop Cyril Restieux of Plymouth at this Devon town where he was born. The Bishop also celebrated the first mass in a new 22,000 pounds ($52,800) church. Foundation stone for the church was sent by Bishop Bolte from Fulda, where the saint is buried. He was martyred at the age of 75.

This mob scene in the District of Columbia wasn't a spontaneous affair. That should be clearly understood. The Washington Post reported that demonstrators arrived in "charter" buses hired by the National Welfare Rights Organization. The welfare protesters moved to an assembly point before hurling rocks and a chair to shatter windows in the welfare office.

The mob of welfare mothers said that they wanted money to buy furniture. Earlier, members of the Washington chapter of the NWRO had been visiting welfare offices, insisting on checks with which to buy furniture.

Once upon a time, a relief recipient was thankful of public assistance for food. Nowadays, welfare militants think they have a right to demand anything they want. In fact, the U. S. Supreme Court has encouraged them in belief that welfare is a right, not a generous deed on the part of the community, state or federal government.

Welfare recipients have become privileged characters in many communities. Again, the federal courts can be held responsible, to a large degree. Earlier this year, the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington ruled in favor of the very organization whose members were involved in the mob scene at the District of Columbia Welfare office.

Judge J. Skelly Wright, one of the extreme liberal members of the Court of Appeals, signed a ruling that declared welfare recipients have a right to take part in hearings held by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to determine whether states are meeting federal payment standards.

In the past, HEW policy has been one of dealing exclusively with the states in its compliance hearings. This policy was successfully challenged by the National Welfare Rights Organization, which sought to present evidence and witnesses and to cross-examine the witnesses put on by the states.

Judge Wright, in his ruling, said that welfare recipients "may serve the public interest in the maintenance of an efficient state-federal cooperative welfare system." Frankly, we don't believe sensible citizens will agree that the rock-throwing welfare mothers, shouting "we want money," serve the public interest in any way whatsoever.

The very existence of a National Welfare Rights Organization is cause for indignation on the part of taxpayers. "Welfare rights" are an absurd and outrageous notion. To say that an individual has a "right" to welfare is to say also that other individuals have a duty to provide welfare funds for non-workers. If working citizens are placed under an obligation to feed and house indigent persons, then the former are in a condition of involuntary servitude.

The cry in Washington for free furniture must rub raw the feelings of citizens who save their money or make time payments for furniture for their homes. Why should one family be given furniture on a charity basis when other families have to scrimp in order to outfit their homes? The answer, of course, is that responsible citizens should not have to aid those who want to freeload at taxpayer expense.

The nation, however, undoubtedly will continue to witness welfare melees, such as took place in Washington this summer, until the working majority of citizens demands and obtains an end to the giveaway system and giveaway philosophy. The arrogant cry of "we want money", voiced by non-workers, must be silenced by taxpayer protests.

How far are YOU willing to go? A little way? Half way? Completely around the world??? Have YOU ever heard His command, "Go ye into all the world..." Well, what are you doing about it? Have you answered that call? This is the moment of decision. It is a personal decision... a positive act of the will. It must be performed in the lonely solitude of your soul, in the presence of its Maker. Then, Choose YE this day. Decide right now just how far YOU are ready to go for Him. Gilder said, "As for me and my house, if Jesus Christ were a man and only a man, I say that of all mankind I would cleave to Him, and to Him would I cleave alway. But if Jesus Christ is God and the very God, I vow I will follow Him through Heaven and Hell, the Earth, and Sea, and Air!" How far will you go???

How to get along, as boy and man, with women: Be brief. Two words are enough. As a little boy, they are "Yes, mam." As a full grown man, they are "Yes, dear."

2 Local Men Will Attend Gas Seminar

Robert Buechner and Lee McDuff, supervising engineers for Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., will attend the 17th Middle Management Development program at Texas A & I University at Kingsville. The 12-day course, July 19-31, has drawn 39 employees from 16 states.

Buechner and McDuff will hear lectures designed to help gas industry members perform management duties, and take several field trips to South Texas gas installations as part of the course's plans for improvement of managerial positions.

Sponsored by the Southern Gas Association, the course is directed by Dr. Frank H. Dotterwich, A & I Engineering School dean and educational services director for the SGA.

For Women

Start Smart With Setting For Two

Some day, the newlywed promises herself, she'll be able to set a flawless table for twelve with the finest china and crystal. But now, when the honeymoon's hardly over and those first important dinners come up, what can she do?

Lenox, makers of fine china and crystal, believe she can still plan ahead before the wedding and insist on a dinner service to be proud of for a lifetime.

Instead of a cupboard-full of Dr. E. E. Mumma of the University of Oklahoma is associate director for the program.

Athletic man: The fellow who hires a small boy to cut the grass so he can play golf and get a little exercise.

second best, to be discarded at the first opportunity, the newlywed might start off with a handsome service for four, and add place settings as pay checks grow fatter. Then her very first formal dinner can be an impressive one, with fine china, silver and sparkling crystal.

How do you get off to a good start if a still-in-school budget permits only two place settings at present? It is suggested that the bride choose fine china in classic shape with filigreed gold banding, simple enough for breakfast for two, but fine enough for formal entertaining when graduate degrees pay off and additional place settings are easier to come by.

In the meantime, the young couple can use those two prized place settings plus wedding-gift silver to make every meal together a memory. Fine china is amazingly strong, and can withstand daily use.

For the very same reasons it is smart to invest in fine china and crystal, the bride will find that buying and using even a few place settings of sterling silver is sound economy.

Latest development in this area is the availability from one silversmith of two new patterns—one traditional, one contemporary—executed in sterling silver with stainless steel to match. This means the young marrieds can start off with a few place settings in sterling and fill in with stainless until more silver can be afforded. If wedding checks allow, however, the bride, can splurge on a silver service for six or eight for formal entertaining, and add a complement of stainless for large parties and buffets.

With a limited number of place settings, and a limited budget, how can the bride bring a finished and elegant look to her table? In addition to imaginative, low cost centerpieces (fruit, flower, candles), she can make her own color-coordinated table coverings, napkins and cloths—mixing solids with florals, pattern with pattern, and fabrics as well. New vinyl can be cut and used as is, since edges will not ravel.

So when the newlywed's "some day" arrives, she'll be able to entertain in splendid fashion, without having to start out all over again to suit her altered status. And all through the years ahead, as she lovingly adds each piece, she will be living with beauty.

FARSIGHTED BRIDE beginning on four, adding to it as paychecks grow fatter.

New Program Will Provide Training In Speech, Audio

LUBBOCK—Plans have been announced for launching a vocationally-oriented program at Texas Tech this fall aimed at preparing personnel, including Mexican Americans and Black Americans, for new careers in social and rehabilitation services within their own ethnic groups.

The program is designed to train workers for positions as aides in the areas of speech pathology, audiology and deaf education.

Immediate implementation was made possible by a $53,032 Health, Education and Welfare grant in support of the initial 12 months of the projected five-year program.

Approximately 150 aides are to be trained during the first year, beginning with recruitment next month.

Applicants should have at least some high school training, in addition to ties in the community with which they will work and a background which indicates the possibility of success as an aide.

Several levels of training will be available, ranging from an intensive six-week course for Aide I trainees to a year's training for those enrolled in the Aide II classification and a two-year program for students in the Aide III category.

Aide I trainees, who will receive stipends of $25 per week, will become employable immediately upon completion of the six-week course, enabling them to earn while they learn as they move forward into Phase II and Phase III of the program.

Classroom instruction will be at Tech, with clinical practice obtained either on campus at the university's Speech and Hearing Clinic or at one of the several cooperating centers for the handicapped in Lubbock and the South Plains area.

Cooperating groups include public schools which operate programs in speech and hearing therapy as well as state and federal rehabilitation centers serving persons of all ages. Many of the students will obtain their practical experience as interns in centers which will have future need of their services as para-professional employees, Dr. Yates predicted.

The program curriculum also will stress language development, the director said, particularly as it applies to the acquisition of English as a second language.

"One of the principal objectives of the program," he said, "is to improve skills in communication among minority groups, particularly those unique to the Southwest which has a large minority population of Spanish surnamed residents, many of whom speak only Spanish. The need for trained bilingual personnel was forcefully demonstrated, for example, during the immediate post-tornado period in Lubbock when language barriers greatly hampered rescue work among Mexican Americans."

The Black population faces a similar challenge, he pointed out, in that "Black language is a definite entity into itself for many southern Blacks. This program, as applied to the Black American, is aimed at an enhancement and enrichment of the linguistic background by producing persons trained in the English language."

Ultimately, a fourth, or professional, level of training will be available to trainees who are qualified and wish to pursue a degree program in speech and hearing therapy at Tech. Tailored especially to their needs, the degree program will enable trainees to deal professionally with language problems encountered by the Black and Spanish surnamed segments of the population.

Additional information about the new training program may be obtained by calling 743-2155, or by writing to Dr. James T.

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

With Hereford on the grow, the general feeling of local citizens seems to be that an addition of nine more holes to the local golf course is a "must" if the city is to continue its upward swing.

However, the availability of funds to finance such a project also is considered a major factor as to whether the city should place a great deal of emphasis on the addition of nine more holes for the course.

Of six persons interviewed, all agreed that an 18-hole golf course would be an asset to the city and all also agreed this project should be undertaken only if city funds are available.

Joe Davenport, owner of Sunny's Mister Shop, makes it to the golf course about twice a week. He said he is definitely in favor of nine more holes, but they should be owned and operated by the city.

"The addition of nine more holes would sure help from the business standpoint because people moving here would consider recreation such as a good golf course," he said.

Sam Nunnally, one of the first men to get the present golf course started in 1947, has not played golf since 1951 when he won the first city championship. He hung up his clubs then, but is solidly behind the expansion of the golf course to an 18-hole operation.

"We should have had 18 holes for the past 10 years," Nunnally said.

"The city does have quite a budget load and I think the commission will be able to decide when we can afford nine more holes," he said.

Even the non-golfers seem to share the opinion that the city would benefit from an 18-hole golf course.

Lynton Allred who does not play golf, said golf is "a real good sport because it is good physical therapy for people."

"It would be a fine addition if it is economically possible because I think a golf course is an asset to any community. I would like to see Hereford get an 18-hole course because I like to see Hereford with the best of everything," he said.

Again though, the financial position of the city is something to be considered, Allred said. He felt the other nine holes should be added at "such a time the city can reasonably afford it. A golf course is good, but I think a good golf course is even better."

Jeff Carlile, vice president at the Hereford State Bank, said there is no doubt the city needs an 18-hole golf course, and possibly even "another nine holes."

Carlile, who does not get out to the golf course very often, said the city needs an 18-hole course as quickly as possible, but he is aware of the city's financial position at this time.

"I think it is something the city needs, but I know they don't have the money right now," he said. "There are other things that we need more, but another nine holes would certainly be good."

"An 18-hole golf course is a must for any city that wants to grow," said Irving Alexander, another occasional golfer.

"Recreation is one of the first things a new firm that is looking for a location, looks for because recreation is a big thing these days," he said.

Gaston Baer, owner of Gaston's, is not a golfer, but feels there is a "need for recreation although some things come first." With the city in the financial position it is in now, if it waits until "things get better" than another nine holes for the course would be good, he added.

The city has for some time considered the idea of adding nine additional holes to the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course, but financially it has found it is unable to at this time. The city commissioners have said another nine holes is not far in the future though but limited funds make it improbable at the present time.

Girlstown Hosts Area Visitors

Betty Fore from Haakell, Tex., was crowned Sunday as Miss Girlstown over four other contestants for the honor. The ceremonies followed Open House and a barbecue at Girlstown in Whiteface.

To qualify for honor, five girls are selected on the basis of their grades, personality, appearance, poise, and congeniality. After the nominees are chosen, all girls vote for a candidate.

Miss Fore was crowned by ex-queen Donna Stone.

"We had a real nice crowd from Hereford," said Mrs. Ola Williams, Hereford board member, who estimated the crowd at about 700.

THORNY TWIG

KNYSNA, South Africa — Golfer Max Hulet thought a snake had wriggled into his pants when something sharp stabbed his leg. Caddies gawked as he pulled off his trousers and jumped four feet away. The shirt-tailed golfer thumped the pants with a stick. Nothing moved inside. He inspected the trouser leg and found a thorny twig stuck inside it.

Miss Brenda Tietjen Weds Robert Reinauer

Mrs. Robert Marshall Reinauer
... nee Brenda Joyce Tietjen

Miss Brenda Joyce Tietjen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egon E. Tietjen of Schulenburg, Tex. became the bride of Robert Marshall Reinauer, U. S. N., at St. Austin's Catholic Church in Austin. Father Edward Lundy officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 p. m. Sunday.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Reinauer Sr. of Hereford.

Mrs. William Hazard provided the wedding music and accompanied Leslie Blume who sang "Ava Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegant Christos of Galena brush train bridal gown fashioned of antique silk chiffon with a D'Alencon lace empire bodice. The gown featured a Victorian lace neckline, sleeveless, with lace cape effect, and a slightly gathered skirt. The bodice was enhanced with tiny gleaming seed pearls and larger frosted pearls. The gown was complimented by a flowing detachable chapel length train.

A matching pearl embellished band held the bouffant train length veil of imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and roses.

Mrs. Hugo Hollas Jr. of Houston was her sister's matron of honor. Maid of honor was another sister, Miss Glynis Tietjen of Schulenburg. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Harlan Schroeder of Houston and Miss Cecelia Reinauer of Hereford, cousin of the bridegroom.

Their identical gowns of navy-blue satin iced with silk chiffon featured an empire sleeveless bodice fashioned like the bride's. Strands of gleaming white pearls accented the high neckline and chiffon headpiece. They carried bouquets of long stemmed red roses.

Lt. James Reinauer of Coronado, Calif. served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Joe Jr. and Art Reinauer, also brothers of the bridegroom and Lt. J-g John Conly of San Antonio.

Performing usher duties were Darryl Tietjen, of Schulenburg, brother of the bride; Hugo Hollas Jr. of Houston, Lt. J-g Scott M. Crandall of Beeville, Lt. J-g James J. Lordowski of Meridian, Miss. and Lt. Alvin E. Cowan Jr. of Austin.

Military sword bearers were Lt. J-g Conly, Lt. J-g Crandall, Lt. J-g Lordowski, Lt. Reinauer and Lt. Cowan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tietjen selected a blue brocade dress and coat ensemble Glimmering silver-tone beads collared the A-line styled dress and encircled the coat sleeves. A matching hat and beaded bag completed her attire.

Mrs. Reinauer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue silk dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white orchids.

The reception honoring the bride and groom was held in the Club Caravan of the Villa Capri Hotel.

Guests were registered at a satin draped table complimented by silver candelabra and a white tree tied with navy-blue rice bags. Miss Diann Moon of Austin registered the guests.

White satin draped the bride's table, decorated with red roses and silver candelabra entwined with garlands of ivy and smilax. The 4-tiered wedding cake was decorated with clusters of red roses and topped with bells. The German chocolate bridegroom's cake held clusters of blue and gold frosted grapes. It was nested in a bed of green foliage. Completing the table arrangement was the bridegroom's sword, used to cut the cake.

A rectangular buffet table held assorted hors d'oeuvres. Champagne was served from a brass champagne fountain.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Henry Babylon Jr., and Jerome Hasterok and Misses Candi Kasperek, Diann Moon and Janet Wobus, all of Austin. Mrs. James R. Reinauer of Coronado, Calif.; Mrs. Tim Gearn of Hereford, Miss Judy Logan of Houston and Mmes. Donald Brandt and Herbert Diers of LaGrange.

Dinner music was provided by Blume's Orchestra.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy-blue and white silk crepe dress with matching coat. She wore red accessories and a white orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Meridian, Miss. Ensign Reinauer, a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, is enrolled in the Naval Aviation Flight Program there. The bride, also a graduate of the University, is working on her CPA.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinauer, parents of the bridegroom, hosted a rehearsal dinner Saturday evening at the Officer's Club at Bergstrum Air Force Base for members of the wedding party. The bride and groom exchanged gifts and presented gifts to their attendants.

The Cruel Love Affair Of Beautiful Regina

Available at the Deaf Smith County Library this week is the sensitive and carefully investigated story of a woman's cruel, passionate, poignant, and urgent love for a married man and how she purposely jeopardizes his career and social standing. Also available is the comical story of a family moving across country as forty million Americans do each year. Check into them today.

HUNGER TRACE

by Adrienne Clarkson
"It is one thing to have an affair with a married man, but it is another to love a married man and to have him love you. Romantics and idealists might say that it is impossible for a happily married man to love anyone other than his wife, but all of us others, know that that is simply not true; it is only the happily married man who can afford the chaos and let the order eventually consume it. With Tiercel, I was determined not to let order control me. I wanted Tiercel to love me to the point of anguish; I wanted it to be difficult for him; I wanted to hurt him. And if he gave me up, I wanted it to be after a long, hard struggle, from which he would emerge scarred and scarcely whole."

And so begins the story of Regina, a beautiful, intelligent and totally feminine woman, who never concerned herself with propriety and was not about to start. Her love for Tiercel, a politically prominent man, not only puts a brilliant career in jeopardy, but threatens many innocent people.

Here is the truth about a love affair—sensitive and carefully investigated. And the truth about woman's love—poignant, passionate, yet cruel in its urgency.

ROLL UP THE WALLPAPER, WE'RE MOVING

by William C. Anderson
Forty million Americans move from one home to another every year. The Andersons moved, too—the hard (and humorous!) way. From the decision to move to the choice of a new location; from the pioneering desire to build their own A-frame and live on the shores of Lake Arrowhead to the finished home and readjustment to the new community—you'll laugh and you'll cry with the lovable family that took you across country with them in their hilarious Two-Ton Albatross.

They all suffer the "blue migratoria," a "disease" that especially afflicts the children—and there a couple of thousand delicious problems involved in readjusting to their new life. There are dramatic and moving moments, too—as when young Scott leaves home—and scores of readers will see themselves caught up in the Andersons' dilemmas.

'Roll Up the Wallpaper, We're Moving!' is a timely story of restless Americans seeking greener worlds: it's warm, delightfully funny, and full of practical (?) tips for your next move. If you're brave enough.

When your child is cross and troublesome: Give him soap, water pipe and let him bubble-some.

Returned From Trip To Odessa

Mrs. H. E. Miller recently returned from Odessa where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jed Miller, formerly of Hereford. While in Odessa Mrs. Miller's granddaughter, Bonnie Jean, competed in the Miss West Texas Pageant and won Miss Congeniality and Miss Bathing Suit trophies.

Mrs. Miller was accompanied to Odessa by her daughter, Mrs. Herb Dones and three children. The Dones are formerly of Libya, Africa, where Dones was in the service.

He is now stationed at Castle Air Force Base, Calif. In fifteen months he will have completed 20 years service. Mrs. Dones and children will live in Hereford until that time.

NEW RECORD

GRAHAMSTOWN, South Africa — Two Rhodes University students claim they eclipsed the world record for eating cheese dry. Miss Anne Wiles, 17, ate one pound, 2.1 ounces of cheese in 30 minutes. Bernie Cohen, 19, consumed one pound 4.5 ounces in the same time. The former record was said to be one pound, two ounces in half an hour. Contestants were not allowed to drink anything during the competition.

ation is being used as an hors d'oeuvre; medium-size tomatoes serve well when the combination is to make a salad. The spread may also be used as a stuffing for small wedges of celery; here again the stuffed celery may be used as an appetizer or, with lettuce, as a salad.

And a fourth way to use the spread is in a bacon-and-tomato sandwich. These hearty sandwiches make a fine main course for lunch or Sunday-night supper.

OLIVE CHEESE SPREAD

1 package (8 ounces) cheddar cheese, grated medium-fine (2 cups packed down slightly) one-third cup chopped (medium-fine) pimiento-stuffed green olives
1/2 cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon bottled white horseradish

Into a medium mixing bowl turn the cheese, olives, walnuts, mayonnaise, mustard and horseradish. Mix well. Makes about 2 cups.

From DAVE MC REYNOLDS, The Stratford Star: We have a clipping "The Missing Day," this week which we would like to share with our readers. It concerns a missing day in time discovered and related by Harold Hill, president of the Curtis Engine Company in Baltimore, and a consultant in the space program.

Mr. Hill stated that he thought one of the most amazing things that God has for us today happened to our astronauts and space scientists at Green Belt, Md. They were trying to determine the position of the sun, moon and planets 100 years and 1,000 years from now. In order to do this, they had to plot the orbits through past centuries.

Frank L. Pinckert

Pioneer Resident Succumbs

Funeral services for pioneer resident Frank Lewis Pinckert, 88, who died at 5:20 a. m. Monday in Deaf Smith County Hospital after a long illness, were conducted at 4 p. m. Wednesday in First United Methodist Church where he was a member.

The Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, officiated. Burial was in West Park Cemetery by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Pinckert was born March 3, 1882 in Ohio and came to Hereford in 1918 from Longville, Minn. He married Miss Lottie N. Carver on Oct. 10, 1903 in Cass County, Minn. She died Sept. 22, 1968.

He was a salesman for Osgood Monument Company of Amarillo.

Survivors include two sons, Chester "Chub" of Hereford and Robert Lee of Ignacio, Colo.; one daughter, Mrs. Buddy Taylor of Canyon; 13 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers for the service were Bill Hacker, John Paetzold, Brit Boyd, Ned Neely, James "Bud" Underwood and Sam Perkins.

Area old-timers served as honorary pallbearers.

They ran the computer measurement back and forth over the centuries and suddenly it came to a halt. The computer signaled that there was something wrong either with the information fed into it or with the results compared to the standards. They called in the service department to check it out and found nothing technically wrong. The computer still came out that a day was missing in space in elapsed time. The scientists were dumfounded. There was no answer.

One of the team remembered a reference to the sun standing still in the Bible. Upon checking they found in the Book of Joshua a pretty "ridiculous" statement for anybody who has "common sense." According to the Scripture, Joshua was concerned because he was surrounded by the enemy and if darkness fell they would overpower him, so Joshua asked the Lord to make the sun stand still.

"So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day" (Joshua 10:13). There was the missing day!

They checked the computers going back to the time it was written and found it was close but not close enough. The elapsed time that was missing back in Joshua's day was 23 hours and 20 minutes... not a whole day. They again read the passage and there it said "About (approximately) a whole day." This still did not account for the other missing 40 minutes.

The 40 minutes had to be found because in projecting special orbits it would be multiplied many times over. Again, man remembered somewhere in the Bible that it said the sun went backwards. In 2nd Kings, Chapter 20, Hezekiah, on his death bed, was visited by the prophet Isaiah who told him that he was not going to die.

Hezekiah did not believe him and asked for sign as proof. Isaiah said "shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?"

Hezekiah replied, "It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees; nay, but let the shadow return backward ten degrees" (2nd Kings 20: 9-10). Ten degrees is exactly 40 minutes!

Twenty-three hours and twenty minutes in Joshua, plus 40 minutes in 2nd Kings make the missing 24 hours the space travelers had to log in the log book as being the missing day in the universe.

From The Perryton Herald: An alfalfa hay terminal facility to serve the growing feedlot industry has been announced for Ochiltree County. The terminal will handle upwards of 50,000 tons of alfalfa annually. With the development of the feedlot industry in this area, and the growing use of alfalfa hay as a feed rather than ensilage, the demand for alfalfa has grown tremendously. At the present time, great quantities of hay are being trucked in from as far away as Colorado and Nebraska. With establishment of a hayterminal, with complete facilities for grinding, storing and hauling, farmers in this area will be assured of a strong cash crop for their alfalfa.

From the Andrews County News:

The Andrews Chamber of Commerce board Tuesday discussed continued efforts in city beautification, a display for the oil show, the possibilities of a local oil display for tourists and plans for fall retail promotions. The chamber also heard a report that some donations had been made toward landscaping the entrances to town. The board also heard a report that there are a number of houses in Andrews that should be removed for safety reasons as well as appearances and endorsed a letter to the board that offered free removal and clearance of property where these houses are standing.

From the Lamb County Leader-News:

Hot, dry weather was blamed as a major cause of the plane crash that killed Lewis Douglas Hafley, 48, Wednesday evening. The operator of the Littlefield Municipal Airport was spraying parathion on the Ollie Davis farm six and one half miles north of Littlefield and had made a turn and was coming back north when the Callar C-9 lost air speed in the turn. A Yoakum of Fieldton said he first noticed the plane had lost air speed in the turn a quarter of a mile from the trees that figured in the crash. Yoakum said Hafley dropped the nose of the plane to pick up air speed, then when he thought he had his air speed up, apparently noticed the trees he had to clear and pulled the plane back up. On a hot day like Wednesday a plane has lots of problems—especially with a load—Yoakum said, and "he stalled out. There is no doubt at all."

Cattle Breeders Hold Meet Here

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

The board of directors of Santa Gertrudis Breeders Internationals out of Kingsville met in Hereford Monday for its quarterly board meeting and the 50th anniversary of the Bull (Monkey) who began the first breed of cattle ever to come out of the Americas.

Some 29 men from all over the United States flew in to discuss the adaptability to the new breed and the feeding efficiency in Texas panhandle lots.

The Santa Gertrudis, a cross between a Brahma and a Shorthorn, was discovered in 1920 by associates of King Ranch.

Jim Easley, owner of Easley Feedlots which has handled close to 4,000 of the company's cattle, escorted the members and their wives on a chartered bus tour of the lots during the morning and later accompanied them on a tour through Wilson and company Beef and Lamb Packing Plant.

After meeting for a luncheon at the Caison House, the board members dismissed for a 2 p.m. meeting at the Country Club.

"We like to hold our meetings in places of interest," board president Frates Seelingson said.

"This way, the members can take a look at the cattle in the yards and see how well they have progressed."

Seelingson, who owns a number of head in the Easley lots, said that research which discovered the new breed began when ranchers saw a definite need for cattle that would exist in the rougher areas of the United States and one which was able to convert to the feed efficiently because of the rising number of lots around the country.

"The last few years, breeders have begun to feed more and more of their cattle in the Panhandle area," said Belton K. Johnson, vice-president.

The cattle can exist in a dry or cold climate, Johnson said, but they flourish better in a hot climate. The cattle have done well outside the United States, especially in the tropics or subtropics, he added. The cattle are bred in some 42 countries.

"Another reason these cattle will do good here," said Johnson, "is because the typical green lands for raising cattle are too expensive. We have to find a place, such as feed lots, to take the place of the wide open spaces, and now that feeders have gotten past the of being leary of this steer, they will be placed in more Panhandle areas."

Ceremony Here Will Recognize 'The Windmill'

An official Texas Historical Marker for "The Windmill" will be dedicated at 10 a. m., Friday, according to Mrs. A. B. Higgins, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Historical Survey Committee.

The historical marker will be dedicated at Windmill Park at the corner of U. S. 60 and South Main.

The marker, made of cast aluminum with Swedish steel effect, is 14 inches by 24 inches and is sponsored by the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The inscription on the marker reads: "Pioneer Windmill. A wind-driven machine for pumping water. Its use made gardening easier and led to irrigated farming on arid high plains. With barbed wire, it enabled settlers and stockmen to penetrate region in 1870s. Town had name "Windmill City" because of some 400 towers once on landscape."

The name and location of the present marker will appear in the next issue of the "Guide To Official Texas Historical Markers" in order to stimulate tourist travel in this area, to arouse interest in historical tours and to acquaint the people of this locale with their unique heritage.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies.

Group Attends Muenster Rites

Four Hereford residents attended funeral services for a relative in Muenster last week.

Mrs. Elbert Vance, Mary Ann Vance, Meinard Koelzer and Werner Koelzer attended services Saturday for an aunt, Mrs. Werner Endres.

Mrs. Endres, 80, who succumbed Thursday evening after a lengthy illness, was preceded in death by her husband in 1966.

A brother, Carl Luke, who resides in Hereford, was unable to attend the services.

Mrs. Endres is also survived by four sons and three daughters, numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Tiefel, Hammon Attending Camp

Cadets Mark Tiefel of Hereford and Gary Hammonds of Vega, are now undergoing six weeks practical application in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps' advanced summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla.

They are two of approximately 17,000 men expected to attend ROTC advanced summer camps at various military installations throughout the nation.
