Drive Result Disappoints UF Directors

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

A disappointed United Fund board Tuesday disbursed more than $29,000 in drive receipts to the 12 member agencies and tried to determine why the drive brought in only 75 per cent of the $35,000 goal.

The UF directors voted to allot each agency 75 per cent of the amount allocated earlier this year, with the provision that more money will be distributed later if later contributions push up the percentage.

The directors said this year's drive probably failed partly because majors and directors of the drive were less enthusiastic than they could have been during the drive; individual employees were not adequately presented the opportunity to give their "fair share" or one hour's pay per month; and other fund drives were in progress at or about the same time.

UF board president Jerry Don George paid tribute during the meeting to the "majors" working in the drive—Calvin Goodin, Harlen Vander Zee, Roy Hartman, Hazen Woods, B. F. Cain, Homer Garrison, Bobby Owen, Lynton Allred, Ray Simpson and Cleto Cortis. George also commended drive chairmen Melvin Jayroe and

VANTAGE POINT — At the Top Dollar Store on Main Street, shoplifters will be watched during the Christmas holidays through this two-way mirror. The mirror, placed high on the wall, allows a store employee to watch activities of shoppers without being seen. Other stores are taking similar precautions to cut into the heavy Yule shoplifting toll.

Holiday Season Brings On Shoplifting Problems

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

A young mother, with a child in a stroller, walks into a busy department store during the holiday rush. She browses through the items on the shelves, going from aisle to aisle before finally going to the check out counter, paying for a small purchase and walking out.

But when she walks out she walks out with much more than just one small item. The stroller, occupied by the baby, is a cache of items the woman has shoplifted.

ter to slip merchandise between the lining and the coat. Because of the bulkiness of the coat, the items often go unnoticed.

Cleto Cortis, manager of J.C. Penney Co. in Sugarland Mall, said shoplifting techniques used in his store vary, although they seldom have reached the sophistication of larger cities. Local shoplifters use such methods as taking several items into a dressing room and putting one under their own clothes and walking out of the store. Others, he said, put on coats and jackets and try the same thing.

THROUGHOUT THE year, kids rank as probably the biggest shoplifters. Adults take over the lead during Christmas. "Especially during Christmas, we find that it is not just the kids that do the shoplifting, but in most cases it is older ladies who take things like toys and lingerie," said Carter Reed, manager of Perry's in downtown Hereford.

Reed said the Christmas shoplifting has already started at his store and the stolen goods are expected to cost the store "in the hundreds of dollars," before the holiday season is over.

"PEOPLE DON'T seem to realize that they could help us and at the same time help themselves. What they don't realize is that in order to make up for these losses, we have to raise the prices of other items," he said.

Freddy Cooper, owner of Cooper City Drug, said his business is one of the less favorite spots of shoplifters mainly because he does not carry the variety of goods as do the department stores.

"I myself am not bothered as much as others, although I do

Lions Looking For Donations For Girlstown

The Lions Club of District 27-1, which includes the Hereford Lions Club, are making an all-out effort this week to collect donations that will go for providing girls at Girlstown with new coats and shoes at Christmas.

Lions president, Milton Adams said donations must be made by Thursday in order for the girls to get the shoes and coats.

"Any interested person interested in making a donation should send it to the Hereford Lions Club, Box 761, and it will be forwarded. Checks should be made out to "Girlstown Christmas Project," he said.

The goal for the entire district is $3,040 and this is based on a goal of $40 per girl for the 104 girls at Girlstown.

"There are a lot of people here who like to help with this project," Adams said, "and with $3-4-5 each, it all adds up."

Lorenzo Granado
CAA head

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency has received more than $1,300 in contributions since Lorenzo Granado took over the operation of the organization six months ago.

Granado assumed the office of coordinator of the center on June 1, and since that time, $350.75 has been contributed to the center in donations such as toys, clothing, furniture and other things. Volunteer contributions of time have amounted to $956.05 to the center.

Volunteer workers are not paid for their services, but the time they spend in helping the center goes toward the 20 per cent of operation expenses that the CAA must provide in order to get state aid.

The state pays for 80 per cent of the operational costs of the center only if the center can produce the remaining 20 per cent in either time donations or in-kind contributions.

"When I came here I was hoping for something in this neighborhood," Granado said, "but I really never anticipated the kind of help we have received from our volunteers."

The total received since June 1 does not include the $448 per month rent for the building where the center is located.

The volunteer help at the center is spread out over a series of programs including, arts and crafts, drivers education for bilingual people, housing projects, adult education classes, Little League baseball program, free eye clinic, planned parenthood clinic and others.

The center, since Granado took over, has worked with some 437 families. Before he came, only 75 families were worked with through the center. The center helps in finding work, giving references and helping people find housing.

The drivers education class at the center was conducted in September and the three-day course is scheduled again for January because of the seasonal timing of the last class. In the first class held, three persons received their driver's licenses through the course. A similar class is being conducted now with five persons enrolled and working to get their licenses.

The housing program, planned near Summerfield, is still in the talking and considering stages because of the difficulty the builders have had in providing adequate sewage disposal.

"The only thing holding us up at this point is the sewer disposal. The land sites and water have been approved, but the local FHA office will not approve of the use of septic tanks," Granado said.

Some 19 applications were made for the housing project when it was first brought up, Granado said, but many have been discouraged because of the delays. The builder will not construct any of the project until he is assured of at least 15 approved applicants.

The houses will be constructed of brick veneer. The size will vary from 936 to 1400 square feet, with three or four bedrooms and with or without garages. The price of the houses will range from $9,500 to $15,500 and the interest rate will vary

Shuval Reports No Backlog Now In County Court

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

County Attorney Andy Shuval said Thursday that "as of this date, there is no backlog in County Court."

Shuval — in a statement he issued after the disposition in court Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of several cases — said that including all cases in the files when he took office Oct. 9 and the 38 he has filed since he has been county attorney, only 28 cases remain to be tried.

Andy Shuval

Nine of those are on the County Court docket for Dec. 15.

"After that, we will have 19 cases left to try. At each setting, approximately nine cases are set for trial. Therefore, the 19 cases remaining to be tried can all be tried in a three-day setting in January and a three-day setting in February," Shuval said.

This excludes those cases which the state cannot bring to trial, because the accused is either unknown or inaccessible. All those which can be brought to trial are being disposed of in quick order, Shuval said.

Shuval said the timetable of three-day settings in January and February and 2 three-day settings in December to clear away the backlog was something he and County Judge H.C. Williams agreed upon in October, when Shuval took over as county attorney.

There have been dismissals, ly re-filed correctly, because of incorrect wording in the charge.

That accounts for 17 of the cases. Of the remaining 21, one person has not yet been arrested. The other 20 are yet to come to trial, although seven are included in the nine cases to be heard on Dec. 15.

Shuval said he feels most people have a mistaken impression about how quickly the state should be ready to go to trial, in its efforts to give the accused a speedy trial.

"It is important for the public to realize that it takes about two to three months to dispose of a case, because the defendant's attorney should be given the opportunity to prepare the defense, and the defendant should be given the opportunity to raise the money to pay his attorney," the county attorney added.

Shuval has set down guidelines to be met before a case can be filed, and he feels the new procedures have kept the files from becoming clogged with bad cases that help create a backlog because they are hard to bring to trial.

"In the past, for example, there have been problems with a husband beating up on his wife and she wants to file against him. The next day, she has changed her mind and doesn't want to file against him, but her husband has already been charged by then. What we say now is go home and think it over, give her kind of a cooling off period to decide," Shuval said.

He also has tightened the procedure that precedes the filing of a complaint for a bad check. Before his office will charge a person with writing a bad check, it will write the person on the county attorney's stationary and give the person 10 days to make restitution on the check before charges or filed.

"As a result, we have been collecting on hot checks without filing charges on them," Shuval said. He estimated the collection rate at "about 85 or 90 per cent" on checks his office writes a person about.

"I don't want this to sound boastful. It has been the cooperation of a lot of people that has made it possible to clear away the backlog," Shuval said.

"In particular, the sheriff's office, the police department and the highway patrol, the way they have cooperated in preparing the evidence and reports and visiting with us about the cases has been of tremendous value in this."

A General Educational Development class and an Adult Education class were conducted at the Neighborhood Center for people who have not completed their formal education. In the GED class, about 30 persons enrolled with an average class attendance of 12 and in the adult education class, 32 enrolled with an average attendance of about 15.

Only four people have received their high school diploma equivalent through the GED program, many have finished work on it but not taken the

Dimmitt Youth Admits Crimes

The theft of two automobiles and the attempted burglary of a Hereford grocery have been cleared by the arrest and questioning in Dimmitt of a youth.

The Castro County sheriff's office said a juvenile, Richard Castro, confessed to the crimes while talking to officers about a forgery and passing case which had been filed against him. He was committed to the state boy's reformatory in Gatesville, Tex.

The Castro youth admitted taking a 1956 Chevrolet belonging to Felipe Garcia, from in front of Garcia's home at 815 Knight, on Sept. 21 about 1 a. m. The car was recovered about 12 hours later near the cotton gin south of the Labor Camp.

He also confessed, Castro County officers said, to taking a 1969 Opel belonging to Janie Reinart on Sept. 30, about 2:30 p. m. from the parking lot of the Hereford Brand, where she works. The automobile was recovered two days later, on Oct. 2, at the A&P shed west of the city.

Also, on Sept. 30, personalized checks were taken from the glove compartments of automobiles belonging to Marshall Day and Lynn Brisendine from the same parking lot, and one of the checks on Brisendine subsequently was passed at a grocery store. The youth also admitted taking the checks.

The youth said it also was he who broke the lock on Baker's Grocery at Avenue K and First Street on Oct. 26. A cruising police car and on-the-scene inspection by an officer apparently scared off the would-be burglar in this incident.

DWI Guilty Plea Draws Fine, Probation

A 29-year-old Amarillo man pleaded guilty in County Court Thursday to driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail.

County Judge H. C. Williams assessed the punishment against Adolfo Villegas of 4430 S. Travis, Amarillo. The jail sentence was suspended for the man, who has six children, and Williams placed him on probation for one year.

A charge of making alcoholic beverages available to a minor was dismissed Thursday against Freddy Adelido Lucero, 23, of 601 Dayton, Labor Camp, Hereford. County Attorney Andy Shuval asked for the dismissal on grounds its evidence against Lucero was inadmissible in court. Lucero, represented by Mack Tubb, had pleaded innocent and waived a jury trial.

A driving while license suspended charge was scheduled for trial before Williams Thursday against Olegoria Serrano, 45, of 430 Barrett, Hereford, as a result of attorney Don Lowder's motion in court Tuesday to waive a jury trial and have Williams decide his client's guilt or innocence.

In court Thursday, however, Lowder asked that the case be re-set on the docket for a later date, for trial by jury. He said his further investigation into his client's case showed justification for the violation and a jury would be subjected to less social pressure in deciding the case than the judge would.

Shuval objected, since Lowder had already waived the jury trial and a panel of prospective jurors had already been turned loose for two weeks. Williams re-set the case for Jan. 12, after admonishing Lowder to be ready for trial on that date.

Williams set nine cases for possible jury trial on Dec. 15-17—six cases of driving while intoxicated, two cases of aggravated assault and one case of making alcoholic beverages available to a minor.

Set to come up on Dec. 15 are:

—George H. Whitaker Jr., 56, 113 Lake, driving while intoxicated.

—Albert McDonald, 38, Vega, driving while intoxicated.

—Eugene Thyfault, 60, of 1619 Bonham, Amarillo, driving while intoxicated.

—Tomas Montemayor, 49, Austin Road, Hereford, driving while intoxicated.

—Joe Ignacio Barbosa, 22, 619

S. Arthur, Amarillo, driving while intoxicated.

—Jess Celaya, 43, Box 965, Hereford, driving while intoxicated.

—Roberto Guzman, 19, 431 B Bennett, Hereford, drunk, aggravated assault.

—Billy Dean Freel, 26, Chateau Inn, Hereford, aggravated assault on an officer.

—Jose Maria Hernandez, 21, 209 Catalpa, Hereford, making alcoholic beverages available to a minor.

Hereford Cagers Try Lobos Again

The Hereford Whitefaces seek to improve their basketball record at the expense of the Levelland Lobos again Monday night after only mixed success over the weekend in the Top O' Texas Tournament in Pampa.

The varsity game will be at 8 p. m. in the Levelland High School gymnasium, preceded at 6:15 p. m. by a junior varsity encounter.

Coach Ron Mayberry's squad put down the challenges of Canyon, 71-64, Thursday afternoon and the Pampa junior varsity, 73-50 Friday afternoon before being upended, 73-56, by Dumas Friday night.

The Whitefaces played Burk Burnett Saturday night for third place in the tournament, with Dumas and Pampa playing for the championship. The Herd took a 6-2 record into the battle for third place.

Dumas, whom Hereford had beaten 73-67 on Nov. 23, put up a tight zone defense that forced the Whitefaces to shoot from the outside. Hereford was off on its shooting game and the taller Demons monopolized the backboards.

Dumas led Hereford 16-12 after one quarter but quickly built a 19-point cushion, which the Whitefaces chipped away at until the halftime margin was only eight points, 41-33. From there on, however, Hereford simply could not catch up. It was 53-41 Dumas after three quarters.

Mike Wartes and Dana Rush both had 12 for Hereford against Dumas, which was led by Kim McClintock's 27. A pair of footballers who weren't with the club when it played Hereford — Bobby Laughry and Mickey Hartman — handled the guard positions Friday night for Dumas.

"Laughry and Hartman handled the ball out front and got the ball to their big boys in the middle. Their big boys scored well and rebounded well. When they were on defense, they wouldn't let us inside and they weren't giving us very good shots when we shot from outside," said Coach David Bornstein, who sat on the bench with the team at the game.

In the victory over Canyon, Bush led Hereford's scoring with 14 points, David Myers contributed 13 points, Keith Kitchens and Wartes 10 points each, John McNey and John Sparks 9 points each, and Blake Arnwine 4 points.

In the second round game, which started at 1:45 p. m. Friday, Sparks took scoring honors with 15 points. About four hours after that game ended, Hereford took the court against Dumas but were unable to extend their winning streak to five.

The three other semi-final teams — Dumas, Pampa and Perryton — had to play but one game Friday. Since 10 teams were entered in the tourney, Hereford and three other teams had to play one additional game.

Hereford's junior varsity was entered in the Vega Tournament with seven varsity teams. David Hicks scored 24 points and Larry Roberts 10 in the Longhorns' 63-27 victory Thursday over Happy.

Adrian beat the Hereford JV's, 45-34, Friday in the second round, however, and Coach Barry Arnwine's squad played Amarillo Alamo Catholic Saturday for third place in the tournament. Terry Champ led Hereford with 15 in the second

"The center has had some problems in getting these people to take the GED final tests because of no transportation to the nearest testing center, which is in Amarillo," Granada said. "However, Hereford is now authorized to administer the GED tests and according to Roy Hartman (school superintendent), we will be able to start these tests here around the first of the year." The school Board Tuesday will hear the final details of the GED program, game. Hereford JV's led Adrian, 22-21, at the half but scored only three points in the third quarter and fell behind, 31-25. For the game, Hereford's JV's made only six of 21 free throws.

(Continued From Page One) take the precaution of hiring an extra girl during Christmas time," he said. "I have also worked my merchandise around where now it is not as easily lifted as it was in the past."

The age of the shoplifters, he said, is not what most people believe it to be. He said the average age group of shoplifters he has caught is about 20 and "a lot of them have their kids with them."

"THIS IS real bad," Cooper said, "because these little kids see mother do it and naturally get the impression that if she does it, it is not bad."

Sugarland Mall, where stores are enclosed and closer together, provides a perfect spot for the shoplifter during the holidays. The controlled climate of the mall attracts people more so than other stores and with the protection of the large crowds, the shoplifter is safer.

Several of the busiest stores at the mall have taken the precautions of hiring additional help during the holidays to reduce the theft of goods.

Paul Harvey, manager of Anthony's in the mall, said he has hired "enough people to take care of everybody when they come into the store."

SOME OF the mall department stores, such as Penneys have gone to the extent of hiring plainclothes policemen to roam the aisles during the rush hours of business during the holidays. Others have uniformed officers stationed at certain points in the store.

Corlis, said J. C. Penney Co. has both uniformed and plainclothes policemen on duty during the holiday and anyone they catch shoplifting will be prosecuted.

"We will turn them over to the police and they are usually fined quite heavily," Corlis said.

He cited one incident where a lady caught taking a $12 dress was fined $200 and sentenced to 45 days in jail.

Community Action Meeting Tuesday

The Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency will hold a community meeting Tuesday at the CAA center to discuss and coordinate future beneficial programs and services.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the CAA center in the Labor Camp. "The programs, activities and services provided by the center are based on information provided by community members and concentrate on expressed needs and desires. Therefore, it is important that the community participate in the coordinated planning approach to strengthen future programs and activities operated for the betterment of the individuals and committees," said Lorenzo Granada, CAA coordinator. The Deaf Smith County CAA is one of several community centers under the direction of the Texas Panhandle Commu-ity Action Corporation that provides assistance, guidance and support for low-income people to help themselves through various programs. Such programs include education, health, housing, job training and referral, supportive services and numerous community service activities.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Tom Green wishes to express sincere thanks to all those who offered their sympathy in our time of grief. We deeply appreciate the visits, flowers, cards and other evidences of concern shown us by friends and neighbors.

Yule Dinner Fetes Husbands

Hereford Study Club members with their husbands as guests met for their annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange Thursday evening at Hereford Country Club, with Ben Gollehon posing as Santa Claus.

Tables were laid with red tablecloths and centered with red votive candles, angels and greenery.

Mrs. Garland Solomon served as hostess with Mmes. C. R. Winget, Labry Ballard and T.E. Braddy as co-hostesses.

Activities included the exchange of gifts by number and Santa's distribution of comical gifts for the husbands. Gollehon led the group in Christmas carols.

Mr. and Mrs. Gollehon were special guests at the dinner.

Couples in attendance were Messrs. and Mmes. Maurice Tannahill, Art Stoy, Solomon, Ballard, N. D. Bartlett, Braddy, S. L. Garrison, W. H. Gentry, O.Z. Golden, Noble Howard, Ed Wilson, C. R. Winget and R.N. Yarbro.

Also Mrs. Roy Hartman, Mrs. R. P. Conaway, honorary member and Miss Gladys Setliff.

Bridge Event Slated

Hereford Duplicate Bridge Club will hold a two-session Swiss Team event Sunday afternoon beginning at 1:30 in the Community Center. Entry fee will be $4 per person and will include dinner between sessions.

A Swiss team event is composed of four or five member teams. Two teams compete, scores are tallied according to a system similar to rubber bridge scoring, and the winning team is determined and matched against another team with a similar record of wins and losses.

Everyone is welcome to assemble a team. Individuals who are interested and do not have team may contact Mrs. Ed Schroeter at 364-1780.

Starting time for the night session will be announced at the afternoon session.

Santa Claus Attends Party at Westgate

Santa Claus took time out for a birthday party honoring five Westgate residents Wednesday afternoon at Westgate.

The Women's Society of Christian Service from Adrian United Methodist Church were hostesses for the party.

Honored on their birthdays were Lydia Willoughby, Glennie Hill, Sarah Bippus, Fred Hiltbrunner and Ona Hammer. The Rev. Don Travis, pastor of Adrian Methodist Church provided guitar accompaniment as the group sang Christmas carols, hymns, and birthday wishes.

Santa and his helper, Ivan Tipps, president of Sugarland Mall Merchants Association, distributed small Christmas stockings filled with candy. W. G. Harris of Westgate read the story, "Was The Night Before Christmas."

Gift Candy For Servicemen Is Packed By Clubs

Homemade candy was packed for gift shipment to men in military service at a joint meeting of the Waiting-Wives and Waiting Mothers Clubs Thursday in the Friendship Room of Hereford State Bank.

Plans were made for each member to write letters urging observance of international agreements in treatment of prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

Two new members were added to the Waiting Wives Club; Miss Nancy Artho, whose fiancé is in military service, and Mrs. Freddy Bubeck, wife of a serviceman.

January meetings were set for the Waiting Wives on Jan. 12 in the home of Mrs. Henry F. Neely, club sponsor, and for both groups in a joint session Jan. 28 at Mrs. Pete Curtis' home.

Holiday Dinner Given

Thirty-five persons attend ed the Newcomers Club Christmas dinner party Friday evening at the First Baptist Church, with Ted Acton as Santa.

Chuck Cary led the group in Christmas carols with the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Cary.

Santa distributed his-and-her comic gifts and in turn was presented a jar of peanut butter by other guests. It seems "Santa Action" hates peanut butter.

Winner of the door prize was Don Anderson.

Table decorations were provided by Mrs. Richard Ottesen, Mrs. Rick Reich and Clark's House of Flowers.

Mrs. Ottesen, hostess, was assisted by Mmes. Reich, Ben Larsen, R. W. Eades, Terry Bloxom, Carver Richards and Kenneth Klechak.

Student Tells Of German Yule

Gaby Lottner, student from Germany who attends Hereford High School in the American Field Service program this year, told of Christmas customs in her home city, the old town of Nuremberg, as she spoke to Wesleyan Service Guild of First United Methodist Church.

Her talk featured the Guild's Christmas party Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. M. H. Richie. Introduced by Mrs. Rodney Laubhan, Miss Lottner spoke informally, showed colored slides and answered questions.

"Romantic" is the word American tourists apply to Nuremberg, she said as she showed pictures of castles, towers and homes dating from the middle ages. The city of a half million inhabitants has grown up around the ancient walled town.

Christmas is a big event for German families, the student said, and the Advent season of four weeks is observed in preparation for the day.

"Children try to be good and do good deeds so the Christ Child, who is our gift giver instead of Santa Claus, will bring them gifts. They set shoes out on Dec. 6, then family gifts are exchanged around the tree on Christmas."

Guild members brought staple food to the meeting for a Christmas basket to be delivered to a needy family here.

Holiday decorations brightened the meeting room and the table where refreshments were served to guests, Miss Lottner, Daisy Hunsinger, Mrs. Clifford Trotter and Mrs. Elmer Kimball; and members, Misses Hilda Havens and Judith Miller, Mmes. Tom Carter, Ernest Wade, Mike King, Irving Willoughby, Bartley Dowell, Caudie Ola Brown, Joel Hodges, Charles Bell, E. E. Doak, Hazel McCutchen, Jim Bookout, Floyd Coleman and Laubhan.

Corn Blight Will Return Next Year

LUBBOCK — Southern corn leaf blight which plagued corn producers throughout the Corn Belt this year will be back in 1971.

Although the epidemic did not penetrate the Texas High Plains where corn is becoming an increasingly important cash crop, corn blight was identified in late September in Bailey and Deaf Smith counties. So, producers should be on the lookout when the new crop season rolls around.

"High Plains producers can do two things to protect against losses from the disease," points out

Dr. Robert Berry, area plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "First of all, stubble management is important. Stubble should be turned under so that it will not be brought back up by land preparation or cultivation. Secondly, producers should plant as early as possible."

EARLY PLANTED corn seemed to sustain less damage throughout infected areas this past season, explains the plant pathologist. If the crop matures before large numbers of spores are produced by the disease-causing fungus, losses can be reduced substantially.

Planting blight resistant seed is also a possibility. Such seed will be available in limited quantities in 1971 and will be selling at a premium. Since there is only a slight chance that the disease will invade the area, planting good quality seed that is not resistant will be more economical as well as a "good risk," adds Berry.

What are the prospects for the disease epidemic to spread to corn fields in this area of the state?

"Southern corn leaf blight will probably reach into the High Plains again next year," says Berry. "However, chances are good that the infection will only be slight. The disease will have to enter a field from spores carried by the wind from infected areas. Also, warm, wet weather hastens infection and these conditions are usually rare on the High Plains. We expect most disease to develop late in the season due to rainy weather in September."

IN DESCRIBING the symptoms of the disease, the plant pathologist explains, that oblong lesions with tan centers and dark brown, reddish borders will appear on the plant leaves. A yellow halo often forms just outside the border. Leaf spots are one-half to three-fourths inch long and about one-fourth inch wide.

Similar spots also occur on husks, leaf sheaths and stalks. Infections may penetrate husk layers until the fungus reaches the kernels, thus destroying the quality of the grain. Ear shanks may also become infected and weakened so that ears fall from the plant. When this occurs, penetration continues up through the cob. Infected cobs become limp and break into several parts when squeezed or dropped. This complicates harvesting.

Stalk rots also occur when the fungus penetrates the surface. Under severe conditions, stalks may break and create a lodging problem.

"Several fungicides are cleared for use on corn which serve as protectants from the disease," points out Berry. "However, treatment costs are high, from three to four dollars per acre, and several applications are required to give satisfactory control. So, fungicide control should be considered only as a last resort on fields with high yield potentials when a damaging disease is occurring in the area."

PRODUCERS ON the High Plains may also be concerned about the disease possibly infecting grain sorghum. Says Berry, "There are no reports of the disease occurring on grain sorghum. We will continue to observe sorghum fields for all diseases, but we do not expect to find the corn blight fungus there."

The plant pathologist also points out that there is no evidence of corn blight or any of its by-products being injurious to human health. However, some people are allergic to breathing certain types of mold spores. Berry adds that livestock fed infected grain or forage have shown no adverse effects: Infected grain stores poorly, however, and may deteriorate from other fungi and bacteria that may be detrimental to livestock.

SOLUTIONS EMPHASIZED

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The Legislative Research Commission says its new study of Kentucky elementary and secondary education will emphasize solutions through innovation rather than more finances.

Project Christmas Card In Operation For 1970

Accounts at both Hereford banks, as well as canisters bright with Christmas colors, are open now to receive contributions to Operation Christmas Card, the annual drive sponsored by Hereford Medical Auxiliary to raise funds for needed equipment at Deaf Smith County Hospital, and provide a scholarship to a student nurse.

The decorated canisters have been placed in the hospital lobby and at supermarkets, with envelopes in which checks or cash may be enclosed and dropped through slots in the tops. Or deposits to the fund may be made at either bank.

Members of the Auxiliary, composed of wives of Hereford physicians and dentists with Mrs. Gerald G. Payne as president this year, have decorated the canisters and placed them in their station, and also made posters inviting contributions.

Since Christmas of 1957 the Auxiliary has carried out this project each year, and as a result numerous pieces of equipment needed at the hospital, but not available under the operating budget, have been financed. Last year the gift was equipment for the recovery room.

Residents of the area are asked to give to the project the amount of money they would spend for cards and postage to send holiday greetings to friends in this community. Instead, the Auxiliary sends these greetings on a full page in the Christmas edition of The Hereford Brand each year, listing the name of each contributor.

Presbyterian Women Install New Officers

Officers were installed at a regular monthly luncheon of the Presbyterian Women's Association Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Frye, retiring president, installing officer.

Installed were Mrs. Wilson Humphrey, president; Mrs. G. W. Good, vice president; Mrs. Kenny Gearn, secretary; Mrs. George Millard, treasurer; Mrs. Pat Webb, coordinator of studies; Mrs. Alvin Hewitt, coordinator of missions; and Mrs. M. L. Simpson, coordinator of involvement and action.

Mrs. Emil Dettman presented the program — the reading of a Christmas story.

Holiday Foods To Be Sold By Church Group

Christmas table treats of all kinds will be available at a bake sale to be held from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. next Saturday at the parish hall of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, sponsored by the women of the church.

In addition to cakes, breads, rolls, cookies and candy, all prepared with the holiday spirit in mind, there will be casseroles and other items frozen so they may be placed in the purchaser's freezer and kept until needed for a quick meal during the holidays.

Mrs. Don Lowder is chairman of arrangements for the sale. Mrs. Jack Wilcox is president of the Women of St. Thomas Church this year.

McKinneys Are Parents Of Girl

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKinney, 511 Schley, on Dec. 1 in a Canyon hospital, has been given the name Karen Kay.

She is the McKinney's first daughter and has two older brothers. Grandparents are the E. R. Powells of Muleshoe and the B. S. McKinneys of Tucumcari.

PLANS, THEN ACTION — Members of Hereford Medical Auxiliary, Mrs. J. H. McCrary, left and Mrs. H. A. Cavness discuss a point at a recent planning session for Project Christmas Card, the annual fund campaign staged before Christmas each year. Women of the Auxiliary have placed contribution boxes over the city and are asking residents to join in the project which finances needed equipment at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

In that way, friends of a contributor know that he has given the cost of their individual greetings to meet a community need, and the contributor knows he has not overlooked a person to whom he would like to send greetings since his message goes to all his local friends.

Whirlpool

APPLIANCE

Come on in and join the celebration!
We're whoopin' it up with the lowest prices ever. A tremendous selection.

so quiet, so convenient!

Reduce your trash problems to practically nothing

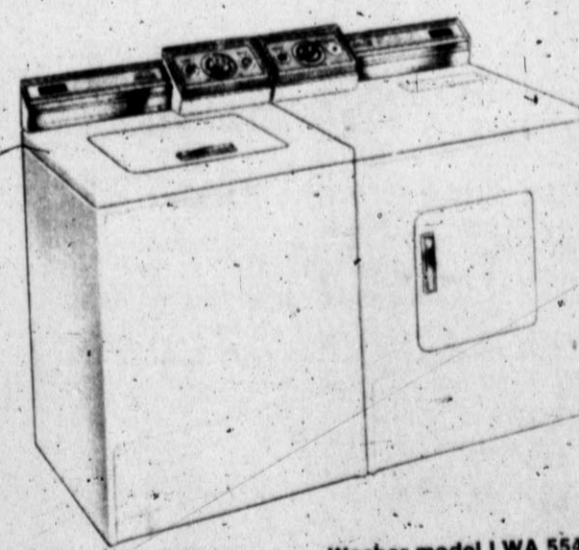

No need for unsightly litter blowing over your yard, or chasing garbage can lids down the street, or hauling trash cans back and forth, or the mess of cleaning them. The Whirlpool Trash Masher* compacts the equivalent of 2½ ordinary 20-gallon cans of normal trash into a sealed paper bag ready for pick up... even sprays a measured amount of deodorizer on each load to help control odor. Holds up to a week's worth of trash in a neat little bag.

Press the button that's all there is to it!

Instead of constantly filling a dirty waste basket under the sink, then taking it to a trash can in the garage, and finally dragging the clattering cans out to the curb for pickup, we offer you the Trash Masher Compactor. It automatically, at the push of a button, compacts the trash and garbage every time you discard it. Comes trash pickup day, you simply take one or two sealed, weather-proof paper bags out to the curb, instead of messy trash cans.

Swing-out panel on drawer makes bag removal more convenient. Lets you slide bag out instead of lifting straight up. Entire drawer removes for easy cleaning.

Chemical deodorizer automatically sprays a measured amount on each load of trash and garbage when drawer is closed to help control odor. Spray can is replaceable.

Acquaintance With City Couple Feted At Dinner, Brunch

Is Asset In C Of C Post

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A background of residence in Hereford most of the time since she entered high school, and office employment in a variety of businesses have fitted Doris Hardin well for the job she assumed two months ago, secretary in Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office.

SHE HAS FOUND that wide acquaintance in the county stands her in good stead and that a knowledge of practices in different types of business helps her in the office's services to Chamber members, who are local professional and business men, farmers and ranchers.

Mrs. Hardin finds little time for recreation between her jobs at home and in the office, but she enjoys family outings and with a son in the school band and a daughter in the choir, she is still involved as a spectator in student concerts, plays and games.

WHEN HER CHILDREN were younger she worked with Camp Fire Girls and Cub Scouts, and in Amarillo she was a teacher of children's church classes. Now she says she is "just an attending member" of the Church of Christ.

Sewing is another activity which she regards as recreation although it is a useful art as she makes dresses for herself and her daughters and such things as draperies for her home.

She is enthusiastic about her work with the Chamber of Commerce, and the numerous contacts with people of many types Ending pre-wedding parties associated with the Friday evening marriage of Miss Debbie Ogan and Marsh Pitman, were the rehearsal dinner Thursday and the bridesmaid's brunch Friday morning.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas Pitman were hosts Thursday Evening in Hereford Country Club, where a number of out-of-city guests were entertained with the wedding party.

The dining room was lighted entirely by tapers blooming in tree candelabra, their bases ornamented with pine twigs tied with coral bows. Lily-of-the-valley clusters were fastened with brown velvet ribbons to stems of the glasses and dessert dishes.

AARP To Meet

Deaf Smith County Chapter of American Association for retired Persons will meet for a covered dish supper at 6 p. m. Dec. 10 in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church.

Program will be given by Mrs. Wesley Gulley and her Hereford High School choir. Connie Goeringer, Toastmaster member, will be guest speaker.

All members are urged to attend. Any interested persons over 55 years are also invited.

CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, neighbors and friends for all the many acts of kindness and concern shown us during the time Joe I. Garcia was in the hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Hicks, Dr. Rush, employees of Deaf Smith County Electric Coop, and for all cards, flowers, calls and good wishes. Your wonderful friendship will not be forgotten.

Doris Hardin
... at home in new job

"We get involved in all sorts of things; I was surprised at the many different activities in this office," she says.

"FOR INSTANCE we were very busy last week making arrangements and selling tickets for a Class A quarterfinal football game that was played here. I'd never thought of football games in connection with this job!"

An important phase of her work is answering inquiries — all sorts, from near and far. In addition to relaying information about this area and its business opportunities in reply to written queries, Mrs. Hardin hears all kinds of questions from local people who assume that a Chamber of Commerce has just any fact at its fingertips.

Files of the Chamber can supply most of the answers and Mrs. Hardin's acquaintance in Hereford permits her to refer questions to the proper source in most instances, when the answer is not on file.

SHE IS THE DAUGHTER of Floyd McGees, who came to Hereford from Tuttle, Okla., when she was 14 years old. She was born at Shawnee and had gone to school at Tuttle.

After graduation from Hereford High School she was employed during the summer at the A. O. Thompson Abstract Co. to launch her office career, and says she learned a great deal in that first job. In the fall she enrolled in Abilene Christian College.

That year in college was followed by a course at Draughan's School of Business at Amarillo, as she had fixed on secretarial work as her career choice. She married at Amarillo and that city was the Hardins' home until 1960, when they moved to Hereford.

THE FAMILY INCLUDES two sons, Alan and Tony, and two younger daughters, Becky and Lynette. Alan is married and the father of Doris Hardin's grandson who is one of her hobbies, she says.

From the time her first child was born until the youngest started in school in 1964, Mrs. Hardin concentrated on her role as homemaker and mother, then she returned to office employment. Just before she took her present post, she was with a real estate and insurance agency for two years.

Ogan-Pitman Marriage Is Friday Event

Miss Deborah Sue Ogan, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Sam Ogan of Frio community, and Marsh McCormick Pitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas Pitman, 515 Long Street, exchanged vows Friday evening in a marriage ceremony conducted by her father in Frio Baptist Church, of which he is pastor.

The Rev. Fred Howard, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, assisted in the service as the bride's father gave her in marriage.

Patred spiral candelabra and three 15-branch candelabra twined with green pine foliage held scores of white tapers which lighted the white chrysanthemums and snapdragons backing the wedding scene. Votive candles in clusters of pine needles marked the white-carpeted aisle.

Preceding the bride in the procession was her sister, Mrs. Jackie Andrews, matron of honor; the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jaime Pitman, and Miss Dalta Eads of Oklahoma City, bridesmaids, and the small flower girls, Aprille and Kirsten Cooke, cousins of the bridegroom and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Cooke of Grand Island, N.Y.

Best man for his son was John Douglas Pitman, with Russell Phillips and the bride's brother, Sammy Ogan, as groomsmen. Rings were carried by Duncan Sensenich, son of the Terry Sensenichs of Trenton, Missouri.

Bill Cole, Steve Robbins, Tommy Stoy and Brent Caviness served as ushers.

Music as a prelude to the service was by Miss Claudia Chapman of Milwaukee, who sang One Hand One Heart and Eternal Life, and Mrs. Charles Jones, organist, who played accompaniments, then the wedding marches.

Miss Margena Murphy of Oklahoma City, reader, before the solos recited Chapter 13 of First Corinthians.

Bands of white fur trimmed the bride's satin brocade gown, which was cut on simple lines with empire waistline and skirt falling straight to the floor in front and rounded to a slight train in the back. The fur edged the hemline and circled wrists of the fitted sleeves.

A ring of fur caught the bouffant veil, its upper tiers floating over her shoulders and the lower tier extending past the skirt into a circular train.

Accenting the circular neckline of the gown, she wore a single long strand of pearls, which the bridegroom brought as a gift from Japan. Her bouquet of white roses and gardenias was carried on a bridal Bible.

Brown velvet dresses were worn by her attendants, who had bouquets of coral chrysanthemums tied with brown ribbons in loveknots. The foot-length empire gowns were styled with V necks outlined in gold braid, and there were touches of gold on the brown velvet roses in their headdresses.

After the ceremony the couple and their parents received guests in the church reception room, where Mrs. Gene Duvall of Amarillo was at the registry table. Mrs. Mike Davis, Miss Charlotte Hill and Miss Margaret Adams served refreshments.

A silver epergne held a spreading arrangement of tropicana roses and baby-breath on the narrow rectangular table set between round tables. From one the colanaded cake was served, and from the other, punch, using a silver service belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. J. L. McCormick of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitman are both students in Baylor University and will make their home at 3600 Waco Drive, Apartment C.

At the close of the present term they plan a delayed honeymoon trip to Aspen and the winter sports area of Colorado. Both are graduates of Hereford High School.

For her traveling costume the bride wore an ensemble in brown and beige shades.

Wedding guests from other cities included grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Tom Hatchett of Stephenville, Mrs. C. B. Emerick of Guthrie, Okla., and Mrs. McCormick.

Also Charlie Dowdy of Hico, Mrs. Parker Rampley of Silverton, Mrs. E. A. Emerick of Colorado Springs, the Sensenich family including Elaine, Barbara and Douglas, and the Cooke family.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson Jr. and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marsh and Kitty, Mr. and Mrs. Art McCune, Mrs. Mary Lou McCormick and Scott McCormick, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dameron of Salda, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dillard Jr. and Ryan of Wichita Falls.

Toy Dance Scheduled Thursday

The annual toy dance sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a part of the Toys for Tots program conducted each Christmas by Hereford members, is scheduled from 8 p. m. to midnight Thursday in the VFW Clubhouse at Veterans Park.

Admission to this dance, to which the public is invited, is one new toy per person, or $5 a couple. The toys will be added to those being collected by VFW members for distribution at Christmas to children in families which cannot afford toys.

Contribution of toys is welcomed by the VFW at the new building in Veterans Park, constructed as a workshop and storage room for the Christmas project. Used toys which can be repaired or repainted by the members are also collected, and a group is at work on this task each day at the workshop.

Music for this dance, and another on Dec. 19 when admission will be by cash only, will be supplied by Gerald Lindsey and his band.

L'Allegra Program Is 'Flower Power'

Mrs. Harry McCauley and Mrs. Ray Seale presented a program entitled Flower Power at L'Allegra Study Club meeting Thursday afternoon at Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. McCauley explained and showed steps in making corsages and gave ideas for using flowers during the holiday season.

Mrs. Seale made arrangements using holly, red carnations and a gold styrofoam boot, and artificial greenery with a blue and green candle in the center. She also demonstrated how to make an attractive door decoration using old newspapers.

Mrs. Calvin Garrett was welcomed as new member.

Mrs. Buddy Bloomer reminded the group that December is the month designated for their club to provide transportation for residents of Kings Manor.

Mrs. Jim Conkright and Cameron Gault were hostesses. Other members attending were Mrs. Gene Cope, Dennis Farley, Dale Furr, Sam Lesley, J. H. McCrary, Gary McQuigg, Danny Martin, Rudy Metz, Gerald Payne, John E. Smith, Bobby Veigel, Bill Warrick, Marshall Wilson and Jerry Weldon.

The date of the Christmas social has been changed to Dec. 15 so the group may hear a program by Dr. Harry Alban of Long Beach, California, entitled "USS Hope." They will meet in the J. H. McCrary home.

H.D. CHATTER Jolly Season Brings Letter

By Mrs. Argen Draper

'Tis the season to be jolly and nothing makes us more jolly than to hear from old friends and associates. A letter from the Lively Ones. When I saw the return on the envelope of the Lively Ones, I thought it was gayety of some proportion. A VERY PLEASANT letter from Jo Steels Lively at Lubbock commenting on the Master Cookie Mix that was in the column a few issues ago. Jo has varied the recipe and she was kind enough to share it with us. It makes a chewy cookie that could be called more cookies, as the family keeps calling for more. However, we are naming it Jo's cookies.

1 t. vanilla
3 individual instant cocoa mix
1 egg
1/4 cup milk
Mix well, drop by teaspoon on cookie sheet. Bake 375 degrees, 8 minutes. Remove from oven and before taking cookies off the sheet, hit the sheet a couple of times on the cabinet top. This causes them to "fall" and they are moist and chewy.

MILDRED GUINN reminded me of an old fashioned practice that makes very delicious holiday desserts. Mildred has been making mincemeat from hog's head. Try this for some tasty food, mincemeat plate pies, or fried pies. It will take some management to get all the in-

MINCEMEAT***
2 lbs. lean pork
4 lbs. apples
1 lb. suet
2 oranges
2 lbs. currants
1 lb. light raisins
2 lbs. dark raisins
1/2 lb. citron
6 cups brown sugar
2 t. nutmeg
1 T. allspice
1 T. cinnamon
1/4 t. ginger
1 t. cloves
1 T. salt
4 T. lemon juice
4 cups cider or grape juice
Cook pork until done. Cool. Chop pork and suet. Wash, core, pare and chop apples. Finely chop peel of 1 orange and pulp of 2. Mix all ingredients. Simmer 1 hour. Pack hot, into hot jars. Process pints and quarts 20 minutes at 12 pounds pressure or 1 1/2 hours in boiling water bath.

THINGS HAVE BEEN buzzing at the office. Kay Cockrum is moving from Hereford to Pueblo, where James has already gone. Before she leaves on the 15th, we are testing her ability to do all the work that needs to be completed.

There are agricultural guidelines, plan of work, home demonstration yearbooks, and work with the tri-county program to be held in January. Also, training for club leaders on Parents on Trial, by David Wilkerson.

So you see what we have been doing. Anyway, Kay has done a good job and we're working her but trying to be reasonable about it. Kay, don't forget us, and come back to visit real often.

A DELICIOUS SALAD was brought to a salad supper by Alice Lueb. She shared the recipe with us. It is yummy good.

CHEESE & PINEAPPLE SALAD
1 T. (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup crushed pineapple (drained)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup pineapple syrup
1 cup grated American cheese

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve sugar in pineapple syrup over low heat; add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Chill until partially set; add pineapple and cheese. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into 1 quart mold. Chill until firm. Makes 6-8 servings.

La Plata 9th Axes Dimmitt

The La Plata ninth grade basketballers, after the seventh and eighth grades had lost to their Dimmitt opponents, bounced back to take the only Maverick win Monday as the junior high basketball program got underway.

ed by Mike Crim with four. Davil Ford, Lance Martin and Mike Hull all had two points.

The ninth grade team defeated the Dimmitt team, 44-24. The eighth grade lost 25-13 and the seventh grade lost 36-16.

Parrack Named Bowler Of Week

James Harris and Dan Vander Zee hit in the double figure column for the ninth grade to lead the win. Harris got 11 points and Vander Zee 12.

Gary Parrack, with 646 handicap, was named Bowler of the Week in Major League action.

Wayne Schumacher had 8, James Waits 7 and Jim Marsh 6 to round out the scoring for the Mavericks.

Parrack had the high single game scratch of 228 and the high three game scratch of 541. Worley and Robb rolled a 1019 for the high single game team honors and Sunset Lanes had the high three game team tokens with a 2912.

The ninth graders led 17-4 at the end of the first quarter, 25-6 at the half, and 30-16 at the end of the third quarter.

In play last week, Sulleys Vending won four from the Athletic Shirts, Sunset Lanes won four from Team No. 6, Piggly Wiggly won three from Orval Watson Ford, Worley and Robb won three from Missouri Beef No. 1, The Ink Spot and Missouri Beef No. 2 split with two each and Boyd Machine Shop and E-Z-Way Grocery split with two each.

Three of the eighth grade cagers tallied four points each and another got one point in their loss to the Dimmitt eighth. Marvin Harris, Lynn Tarr, and Doug Charest all got four points and Barry Allen got one.

Standings have Sunset Lanes, 39-12; Sulleys Vending, 38-14; E-Z-Way Grocery, 32-20; Piggly Wiggly, 31-21; Athletic Shirts, 30-22; Worley and Robb, 26-26; Orval Watson Ford, 24-28; Team No. 6, 22 1/2-29; Missouri Beef No. 1, 21-31; Boyd Machine Shop, 19-33; Ink Spot, 17-35; and Missouri Beef No. 2, 11-41.

Dave Charest tallied six points to lead the losing seventh grade effort and he was followed by Mike Crim with four.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Writer

Wonder if garage sales have cleared out all the outgrown highchairs in Hereford homes, or if the chairs are being saved for grandchildren?

IT WAS SURPRISING to me to learn that highchairs are in short supply at the Hereford Day Care Center; I was sure a number of families had them stored away in a corner of the garage or in an attic, and would be happy to give them to the Center.

Other furniture was received as gifts, but the Center still needs highchairs and nursery chairs, Anna Jo Wilson has reported. If you come across either while you're rummaging the Christmas decorations out of the back shelves, how about calling her?

THAT WOULDN'T come under the head of Christmas giving, I suppose, but there are demands for other things of a more Christmas nature, such as usable toys for the VFW Toys for Tots project. I say "usable" because they don't need junk, although many worn and trampled toys can be repaired by the experienced hands in the VFW.

You might inquire about what could be used — maybe they need a broken tricycle to get a wheel for another broken tricycle — and I'm sure you could find out by phoning Kenneth Gott or Wayne Driskill.

ALSO LOOKING for Christmas presents for children and older girls, Viola Williams plans to take a load of packages to Girlstown the middle of the week, and hopes a few more will be added to those she has collected.

All sizes of girls there need gifts, from a six-month-old baby to college coeds. The Girlstown Christmas party will be on Dec.

20; Viola and other friends of the girls' home hope there will be plenty of gifts for all 70 odd residents.

THEN THERE IS Project Christmas Card: Hereford residents have been familiar with that for the past 14 Christmases.

Women in the Medical Auxiliary are working as hard as usual to collect contributions which buy equipment for Deaf Smith County Hospital which you may be very glad for the hospital to have in case you or some of your family is a patient there and needs it.

KAREN PAYNE, president of the Auxiliary this year, maybe went beyond the call of duty when she posed for some publicity photos this week to boost the project. Not many women would be happy to have a picture taken with a blister on the tip of their nose.

She just grinned and hoped it wouldn't show in the picture — and it didn't. Why a blister on the end of the nose? Well, she was cooking some quail that a hunting member of the family had brought in, and the grease popped. Any cook can finish the story.

And I keep hearing something about good bags from quail hunts; the birds must be very plentiful this fall, or the hunters must have good eyes.

ANOTHER MINOR affliction that I ran across this week and sympathize with, is Ann Sawyer's cough. Due to introduce a special club program, she had to get a substitute because the pesky cough begins when she talks, she says, and then she has trouble stopping the whoops. A sinus disturbance of some kind, and a nuisance.

Winners In Voice Of Democracy Contest To Be Named At Dinner

The public is invited to a banquet at 7 p. m. Monday, when county winners of the 1970 Voice of Democracy contest will be announced. The nine Hereford High School students who are entrants in this annual event will be honored at the dinner at Big Daddy's Cafe.

Reservations may be made by notifying Mrs. Wayne Driskell, 364-3283, or Mrs. Charles Bell. Tickets are priced at $1.85.

Sponsoring the contest are the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary, in cooperation with national and state Association of Broadcasters. Mrs. Bell was faculty sponsor here, assisted by three other high school teachers.

The entrants are among the 150 high school students here who wrote essays on the contest subject. Each of the nine read his essay for a taped recording, and these were judged to determine a winner and two runners-up.

First prize in the county is a $25 government bond and a trophy. Second prize is $10 and third $5, with a medal for each. The winning tape will be judged in a district contest for an award of a $100 bond, and winners there will compete for state and national awards totaling $22,000 in scholarships.

Banquet honorees are Kevin Young, Sharon Stone, Richard Schilling, Susan Rudd, Neil McAndrews, Wayne Koenig, Susie Henderson, Brent Combs and Kaylanette Battenfield.

Funeral Service For Farm Owner Held Saturday

Funeral services for Sam Venturella, 74, who died late Wednesday night in a hospital here, were conducted Saturday morning in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by the Rev. Michael Graham, associate pastor. Burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Venturella, who lived five miles southwest of Hereford, was a farm owner who came to Deaf Smith County in 1948 from Friona.

He was born Dec. 9, 1895, at Carlsbad, N.M., and married Rosa Philipello April 2, 1921 at Bryan.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Carl Sciumbato, and four grandchildren, all of Hereford.

Schlabs To Head Area Vegetable Research Group

Charles Schlabs of Hereford has been named president of a regional committee that will tackle the problems facing the West Texas vegetable industry.

Two other Hereford men—Ray Frye and Bill Reinauer—were among the 19 persons representing vegetable growers, packers, canners and other processors, suppliers and agri-businesses and services who attended the organizational meeting of the group at Texas Tech last week.

The West Texas Vegetable Research Advisory Committee will aid Texas Tech University agricultural scientists in working toward solutions to problems facing that segment of agriculture.

The advisory committee will aid Tech agricultural scientists in "identifying, defining, evaluating and assigning priority to the many problems facing the vegetable industry" in the West Texas producing region. Tech Vice President for Research Orlo E. Childs expressed appreciation for the aid such groups render in designing and evaluating the industry's research programs which he emphasized are "problem oriented."

Dr. William F. Bennett, interim assistant dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences, presided over the organizational meeting.

Schlabs of Route 2, Hereford, was named president of the committee; James Smith of Route 2, Munday, vice president; Dr. John D. Downes of Tech's College of Agricultural Sciences, secretary, and Charlie Flynn of Gateway Produce Company, Bovina, treasurer.

In reporting on the scope of vegetable research, Dr. Downes told of 13 projects devoted specifically to vegetable crops involving 15 staff members and 10 graduate students and technicians in five of the eight departments in the College of Agricultural Sciences.

Among those attending the organizational meeting were Boyd Meers of Goree; Lonnie Offutt, Clifton Patterson, James Smith, Garon B. Tidwell and Hugh Beatty of the Munday area; Donald W. Clark of Amarillo; Frye, Reinauer, and Schlabs of the Hereford area; Flynn; and Charles Holmes of Floydada.

Also in attendance were John

Charles Schlabs heads new committee

Klemm and Preston Walker of Plainview; Elvan Devaney and McLeroy of Dimmitt; L. L. Ray and Irvin Lee of Hale Center; Bill Turner of Plainview and Tech Agricultural Sciences representatives.

Persons who have agreed to serve on the committee but who were not in attendance at the meeting are Walter Hobgood of Anton, Joe Roberts of Munday, Buddy Angle of Knox City, Bill Hart, Harry Earl of Dallas and Floyd R. Butler of San Angelo.

The 13 West Texas vegetable research projects at Texas Tech are:

- Water and energy relationships under vegetable production;
- Fertilizer requirements for maximizing vegetable yield and quality;
- Use of herbicides for weed control in vegetable crops;
- Development and bolting in onions in West Texas;
- Development of systems to maximize returns to vegetable producers;
- Contents and distribution of herbicidal residues in plants and soils in relation to vegetable production and crop utilization;

— Varieties, cultural practices and other important economic factors in vegetable production on the Rolling Plains;

— Development of mechanized systems for vegetable production and harvesting in semi-arid areas;

— Economic organization of West Texas vegetable markets;

— Flouride content of selected vegetables produced and processed in West Texas;

— Quality testing of West Texas potatoes and development of new potato products;

— Investigations of insect pests attacking vegetable crops and their control in West Texas;

— Evaluation of vegetable varieties for the High Plains of Texas.

Friona Focuses Attention On Letters To Hanoi

FRIONA — The Friona Young Homemakers organization recently became interested in the letters to Hanoi campaign, and as a result the organization has received backing from the City of Friona, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions clubs and interested citizens.

Friona mayor R. L. Fleming has proclaimed the week of December 6-12 as "Sign a Letter to Hanoi Week" in Friona. It is expected that 4,500 letters plus several petitions will be signed by citizens of Friona and Farmer County.

The club asks that if you are a guest in Friona during the week that you sign a letter while you are in town. Also, they urge people in other communities to organize an effort in their cities if one is not currently underway.

Any inquiries may be addressed to Mrs. Calvin Dozier, Box 239, Friona, or call one of the following members: Mrs. Dozier, (806) 247-2842; Mrs. Roy O'Brian, 265-3247; or Mrs. Danny Black, 247-3524.

An airmail letter to North Vietnam costs 25 cents and one to the Paris peace delegation costs 20 cents.

The letters should be addressed to:

His Excellency, The President Democratic Republic of Vietnam

Hanoi, North Vietnam and Minjster Xuan Thuy Delegation of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam Paris, France.

Turkey Shoot Is Set For Today

The Hereford Evening Lions Club will sponsor a Turkey and Ham Shoot today at the Hereford Gun Club range east of the airport.

The shoot will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until everyone has completed the matches. Matches will be 16-yard handicapped, quail walk, buddy shoot and will be divided into categories for the men, women and teenagers.

Ammunitions and refreshments will be available at the club house.

Some 450,000 gray squirrels marched across Wisconsin in 1842, "devouring on their way everything that is suited to their taste," an observer wrote.

TEXAS STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

by MELVIN YOUNG

Back in July, 1969, the Hereford City Commission entered into an agreement with the local American Legion organization, and in the deal acquired a number of acres of land in what has been called Veteran's Park. The City paid for part of the property and the remainder was donated by the Legionnaires with the stipulation that the entire area would be developed into a city park. A portion of the acreage will eventually be used for an additional 9-hole golf course, or at least an extension of the present course making an 18-holer.

City Manager Dudley Bayne indicated Monday that when the new portion is added, there is a very good possibility that the greens will be artificial, helping to lower the cost of maintenance.

Mr. Bayne also listed other items of importance to the citizens that will be accomplished in the next couple of years providing sufficient funds are returned to the city from the local sales tax. All are long past due and would probably have been done long ago had funds been available. The City Council has not wished to raise taxes and we suspect that a lot of local citizens will go along with that. Actually though, they have done rather well in this department and we certainly appreciate it.

We hope that all these projects can be accomplished soon, but we would like to offer one suggestion concerning the park area and the golf course. Certainly, for those who play golf, there's no better time than the present to get started on the additional nine, but there is more to the project than just that.

The golf course is just a part of it. The overall park itself is the important part, and we would hope that the City Council will take the time and money necessary to secure the services of a professional park planner so that upon completion, we'll have a park and golf course — that will be the pride of the area.

In the letter to the American Legion members, the Council stated their intentions to include picnic areas in the park and possibly a small dam to impound water for a fishing pond for children. In general, they wanted to have a nice family recreation area in part of the park. Obviously that will need to be separate from the portion that is to be used for the golf course, but this will not be difficult with the amount of land available. It can all work well — if planned well.

The city fathers also indicated they would use their own men and equipment at times during the year for some of the actual construction and help to keep the overall cost down in this way. But we still think the deal needs professional planning first — and then, the construction can be handled bit by bit as money is available. The golfers will be happy to cooperate, and we feel that the county might also cooperate on the project. It ought to be a joint effort of the city and county anyway...and we're betting that a couple of civic clubs will also get behind it to help move it along.

The hiring of a professional to plan the park may cost a little money, but we believe that the area would benefit from his services. After all, we're building for the future and if we want to keep our town moving along then we need to take care of some of the recreational needs of its people.

The Cotton Bowl tickets have arrived so the winners in the Brand's annual contest may pick them up anytime. We always worry until the tickets are in hand. We've had a couple of close calls over the years and have had to wire the Cotton Bowl officials "pleading" for tickets. Fortunately it has always worked out but every time there is a potential for a sellout it scares us.

CHRISTMAS BALL

Wayne Phillips, club president, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Close

GLOWING RED poinsettias set the color note for a Christmas dance at Hereford Country Club Friday evening, the annual fall party at which members are entertained by directors and their wives. Tiny lights, each backed by a poinsettia bloom, supplied the only decoration for the big tree on the orchestra platform and also for topiary trees at the ballroom entrance. The big red blossoms of growing plants set on three levels centered the buffet table and small poinsettias studded the border of holly around the room at ceiling height and over the windows. Country club members crowded the rooms for a gala evening of dancing.

MR. PRESIDENT

AGRI-BUSINESS, "IS YOUR BUSINESS"!

The Truth Is...

MR. PRESIDENT,
Your campaign promises of 1968 stated "and let this be definitely understood, 74% of parity is intolerable in my books, farmers deserve better". Mr. President, according to latest USDA reports, agriculture now stands at 67% of parity, 5% below when you took office, and the lowest since December 1933, during the heart of the depression.
Congress has just passed a farm bill which contains most of your administration requests. The bill gives your Secretary of Agriculture more powers than any secretary has ever possessed in history. If you are sincere in your statements that farmers deserve better, you now have the power to return prosperity to American agriculture. But you also have the power to destroy American agriculture if you continue the apparent "cheap-food at all costs" policy.
The responsibility now rests entirely upon your shoulders, Mr. President. Farmers and Agri-businessmen of the nation will watch very closely your decisions for the next two years and will voice their approval or disapproval at the polls in 1972.
Rural America is demanding your campaign promises now be fulfilled.
The Agriculture Watchdog Committee is non-partisan, and dedicated to a prosperous agricultural community, and will not hesitate to use its influence to inform Rural America of any actions, designed to lower agricultural prices at the producer level.

Builder Pat Parker has combined outstanding design with tasteful appointments to create this attractive three bedroom, two bath brick home at 211 Texas. The exterior is of light colored brick with white trim. The circular drive and the large, two car garage sitting at a slight angle add a unique note of visual interest to this home's appearance.

Moving inside we find 2,570 square feet of living space, and all of it, except the two baths, is carpeted. The entry features multi-colored carpeting with walls a combination of paper and paneling. In the living room the carpeting is green and the walls are painted white.

All activities in this home are bound to center around the combination family-kitchen-dining room. It has a beamed ceiling, large fireplace made of beautiful copper ore stone, and white paneled walls. Family fun will be the order of the day here.

The corridor style kitchen is a homemaker's delight. The abundant cabinets are custom designed with a rock maple finish. There is even carpeting here! And yet, why not? After all, here is where the homemaker walks countless miles preparing meals for her family. All three bedrooms are carpeted in white shag. Two bedrooms, including the master bedroom, has a large walk-in closet, while the other bedroom has three smaller closets. All have white painted walls.

Rounding out this masterpiece by Mr. Parker is a large basement designed to double as a game room, a sub-irrigated lawn with automatic sensors to turn water on and off, and an intercom system throughout the house.

Be sure you see this lovely home today. To see it is to want to own it.

"BLUE FLAME HOME" MEANS IT'S AN ALL-GAS HOME WITH YEAR 'ROUND GAS AIR CONDITIONING. The fortunate family who lives here will enjoy the many benefits of Gas, including trouble-free service. And, it means they will save $10,000 in utility costs over a 25-year mortgage period.

Realism On Red China

Though the United Nations has once again rejected a proposal to admit Red China, support for Peking's entry obviously is growing. What, exactly should the U. S. do about it?

The general answer is that the U. S. should look at the world as it is and then act in its national interest. Realism is an essential element of reasonable foreign policy.

Whatever the U. S. may think about it, the fact is that Peking controls a vast nation of 700 million people, a nation that has gained nuclear capability. At the moment the Red Chinese are forging diplomatic ties with a number of other nations, and they appear to want membership in the UN.

Peking's real motives are unknown and could well be devious, but that's no reason the overtures should be flatly rebuffed. Increased communication with the Red Chinese would at least give the rest of the world more chances to learn what they're up to.

Increased UN sentiment for Peking's admission is leading some U. S. officials to argue that this country should go along, to avoid the appearance of a glaring U. S. defeat in the UN. That sort of reasoning, however, is itself a bit unrealistic.

No matter how much this country may maneuver, it isn't going to persuade many people that it is always the leader of world opinion. This nation's interests won't always coincide even with those of relatively friendly countries, and in such cases the U. S. should stand its own ground.

Peking, after all, appears interested in UN membership only if it's coupled with expulsion of Taiwan. Red China's position is that Taiwan is merely a province, with no right to exist on its own.

The fact is, however, that Taiwan not only exists but is both viable and prosperous. Even if the U. S. had no responsibilities toward Taiwan, and it does, it should not ignore the nation's reality.

A reasonable answer would appear to be some form of "two Chinas" policy. On the same principle the U. S. could encourage UN admission for other de facto governments—Rhodesia, North and South Korea, North and South Vietnam.

While there's no early likelihood that such a policy would win wide acceptance, that does not mean that the U. S. should reject the approach. Others may continue to see the world as they want it to be, but the U. S. at least should see things as they are.

One reason for the UN's history of difficulties and disappointments is that so many people still profess to see the organization as a sort of moral uplift society. At best it remains a handy forum for airing differences and perhaps occasionally arranging cooperation when national interests happen to coincide.

A meeting place for nations plainly is more useful if the major nations meet there. There's no assurance at all that Red China's entry would advance world peace, but the U. S., for its part, might well consider the two-Chinas principle as a pragmatic policy.

In 92nd Congress You Can Find All Kinds Of People

By BERT MILLS
Washington, D. C. — Congress is made up of all kinds of people, including a former professional football player, a flamboyant crusader for women's rights, an ordained Jesuit priest, and a merchant whose business is selling mud. People answering these descriptions are among the 50 newly elected members of the House who will serve in the 92nd Congress when it convenes in January. All are freshmen making their debut in national office.

The ex-football hero is Jack F. Kemp (R., N. Y.). He played pro ball for 13 years, in both the American and National Football Leagues, most recently as quarterback for the Buffalo Bills. Since then he has been a radio and TV newscaster. Originally from California, his adopted home is in Hamburg, a suburb of Buffalo. He is 35.

Mrs. Bella Abzug (D., N. Y.) is the lady crusader. She helped found the Women's Strike for Peace, has picketed the White House and Congress, and has been described as combining "the qualities of a Jewish mother and a prizefighter." She is married to a stockbroker-author, has two daughters, and is a lawyer. She is 50.

Father Robert F. Drinan (D., Mass.) is not only a priest but a Licentiate of Sacred Theology. He is also a lawyer, author and editor. Since 1956 he has been Dean of the Boston College Law School. He is also 50.

The mud merchant is Harold L. Runnels (D., N. Mex.). He is the owner of the Runnels Mud Co. in New Mexico. Mud is used to fill crevices in oil wells. Runnels is 47 and has been a state senator since 1960.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is having gadget trouble, his letter this week indicates. Who doesn't?

Dear editor:

My television set wouldn't work, a tube was out in my radio, another light bulb had just burned out, the washing machine went haywire and put six inches of water on the floor, and my car wouldn't start, so I shut myself up in the living room and started reading a newspaper I'd been saving to wrap around an exposed hydrant.

I hadn't gotten far when I ran across an article that said there are now over 45,000 scientists and engineers unemployed in this country, due to cut-backs in the space program and other reasons nobody is certain about.

Now what really caught my attention was the answer to this problem, suggested by a Washington expert. He wants a sort of new "WPA" for these unemployed scientists, wants a government-financed program going to keep them busy so their minds won't get rusty. "There are plenty of new ideas and things needing developing," he said.

I got to thinking. No, I told myself, I've got a better idea. Don't put them to work on something new, put them to work on what we've already got.

Put those 45,000 scientists and engineers to work on a tail pipe that'll last longer than one year, a washing machine that's guaranteed for 10 years or 50,000 diapers, whichever comes first; a television tube that'll last through the last bowl game, an air-conditioner that'll last as long as an old-style electric fan, a lawn mower that starts every time, a plumbing system you can hand down from one generation to the next, a paved street that'll last longer than the tax bonds it took to pay for it, an auto fender that snaps back into place when dented, and, well I could go on but you get the idea. You probably have your own list.

Let those 45,000 scientists hold up, turn around and start perfecting what they've already turned loose on.

For a while there it took a lifetime of work to buy all the gadgets a man thinks he needs, but now it takes that plus a lifetime of moonlighting to keep them going.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

According to the West Texas Utilities Company, "There is a land where there are no income taxes, no property taxes, no sale taxes and no taxes of any kind, and the per capita income of the people is $6,000 a year—about double that of the U. S. All medical expenses are paid for all citizens by the state and there is a hospital bed for every 110 persons—the highest ratio in the world. The government pays all education costs including lunch, transportation and clothing. A $200 bonus goes to each passing student. If you are in the upper 80 percent of your high school class, you may enroll in any university in the world all expenses paid, with $3,160 a year pocket money and other bonuses for good grades. Where is it? It stretches for 100 miles along the northern shore of the Persian gulf, and it is the oil-rich little Arab nation of Kuwait. But who wants to go to Kuwait?"

E. J. Mishan, professor at the American University and the London School of Economics notes, "If enough of us could be persuaded to want it, we could have quiet skies, clean air, pure water, traffic-free cities, an unspoiled countryside, a smaller population, an easing of tempo and tension. A hundred thousand academics would have to abandon their hopes of status and recognition. A million executives and bureaucrats would have to watch their little empires dwindle."

Speaking of the rail industry, Mr. William J. Quin, chairman of The Milwaukee Road, said: "The development of competitive modes of transportation has cast us in a role different from that of our earlier years. Although still the largest single factor in the movement of the nation's goods, we are today only a part of a vast transportation industry much larger, far more efficient and infinitely more complex than anything that could have been imagined in the early days of the railroads."

Hereford Keeps Moving On

Who says activity has slowed in Hereford?

A report made Monday by City Manager Dudley Bayne indicates just the opposite, and Hereford is still leading the West Texas Area in home building permits, second only to metropolitan Amarillo. The only other town in the area that has shown such growth has been Friona, which had a total of 84 building permits issued at the late report. Friona has recently gone into a governmental financed housing project which accounts for a great number of the above starts.

We realize that many area residents have been more careful this year with their spending, due primarily to the poor crops experienced last year and the concern over the national economy and what effect it might have locally. Because of this, it may have been a little more difficult for local merchants to keep their sales volume up and many have had to become a little more frugal in their operations, but again this is to their credit. They have demonstrated their good business judgment by not getting "out on a limb" and because of it will probably finish the year with a nice net profit. And that's the name of the game.

All is not well, however, and will not be until the farm income situation improves.

TOWER OF BABEL

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE
WHAT'S OUR NAME? — Residents of this state have been known in print as Texans, Texians, Texonians, Texasians, Texicans, Texanos and a half dozen other descriptive terms.

Today "Texan" probably is the word most used to identify a citizen of the Lone Star State, although "Texian" still crops up in print. The late J. Frank Dobie was among those who insisted that "Texian" was the only correct word.

It certainly was one of the earliest used. R. Henderson Shuffler, director of the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio, says that "Texian" was invented by an editorial writer on the New Orleans Bee, in 1835. The writer decided that it was time that somebody picked one word for general use.

Writing in "Riding Line," newsletter of the Texas Historical Association, Historian Shuffler says that "Texian" was generally used in referring to citizens of the Republic of Texas. Once Texas became a state, the "i" was dropped and we have been "Texans" since.

TRAVELING TEXAS — James Lemmon, once a messenger boy for George Washington, is buried in a Dallas County cemetery.

Lemmon, who was 89 when he died on July 4, 1858, was a veteran of Valley Forge. He migrated to Texas in 1845.

BELIEVE-IT-OR-NOT — One of the shortest state highways in the U. S. is located near downtown Austin. It is State Highway 165, and it is only .8 of a mile in length. It is located wholly within the State Cemetery in the capital city.

State 165 also was the first Texas highway to be named for a living person. Known as "Lou Kemp Drive," it honors the man responsible for locating the graves of many prominent Texans and arranging to have their bodies reburied in the State Cemetery.

THE LAW IN LOVING — Sheriff Elgin R. Jones is one of the few lawmen in Texas who doesn't have any trouble keeping good help.

As sheriff of Loving County, which has fewer than 150 residents in its 647 square miles, Mr. Jones has no deputies and doesn't need them. The county has never had a serious crime!

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

The sign outside the college campus read "Help Us Advance Zero Growth For America." It was a shocker for a traveler who had grown up in the 1930's and remembered a time when the growth of the American economy was virtually zero. The traveler thought: what innocents are the collegiate sign-painters, insulated from reality by present-day affluence.

Zero growth in the 1930's meant breadlines and unsuccessful searches for work. It meant fine, old-line companies that went under almost overnight. It meant desperation for fathers and mothers with sick or hungry children.

Now, in the 1970's, spoiled darlings in universities say that the nation must turn away from technological development. They demand a halt to construction of nuclear and fossil fuel power plants and express horror at the expansion of steel mills and other basic industrial operations. Some of the back-to-nature types urge a return to wilderness conditions and establish primitive communes in remote areas of the Southwest.

There's an air of unreality about these demands and moves. Certainly, thoughtful citizens are aware of the problems of pollution and want public agencies to take steps to abate smoke and fumes and to clean up industrial wastes before they enter rivers and streams. But that's a very different proposition from supporting "Zero Growth."

Industrial development can't be halted without depriving the American people of necessities and comforts, without turning the United States into a backward nation. The people who want to ban the automobile because of pollution forget that not much more than a generation ago many Americans were tragically lacking in mobility. They couldn't get to jobs outside their localities. The automobile and the highway, especially the interstate highway system, created jobs and opportunities and people gained new perspective.

The electric power generating plants are a favorite target of the "Zero Growth" exponents. But the American way of life would be impossible without steady increases in power generating capacity. While a handful of communitarians may be willing to return to the use of candles and kerosene lamps, it is ludicrous to expect the American people to do without electric lights or air-conditioners. Those who crusade against new power plants could bring on a real tragedy for entire communities—critical power shortages.

One wonders: would the proponents of "Zero Growth" extend this concept to medical science and health care? If so, how would they divorce this form of technological development from other forms? Progress in chemistry, for example, has made possible the survival of countless youngsters in the last quarter-century. Growing up before the era of "wonder drugs" meant experiencing terrible dangers from infection and communicable disease. Medical technology has made possible open-heart surgery and progress in the treatment of cancer. These advances are directly linked to overall progress in other forms of science and engineering and to the success of industrial operations.

Ironically, the modern college and university facilities which often house the "Zero Growth" enthusiasts, are the result of the expansion of the U. S. industrial base since the early 1940's. Without highly profitable industry, capable of paying corporate taxes, the country today would be without the libraries and classrooms of academic institutions. If industry were throttled as a result of hysteria directed at economic growth, one can be sure that there wouldn't be any new universities.

It's sad but true: American society is being condemned for its successes—the very successes that are the envy of other nations and peoples. If the U. S. public understands this, the "Zero Growth" movement is likely to fade into the obscurity which is its proper fate!

More Water Would Boost Cow Feeding

LUBBOCK — Research by two members of the Texas Tech University Department of Agricultural Economics shows that enough grain sorghum is produced in the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico to feed about four million head of cattle annually.

Research on grain sorghum market structure of the High Plains conducted by Prof. Richard J. Foote of agricultural economics, and research associate Jesse Carter Snodgrass, was financed through a special item of Research in Agriculture in the Texas Legislative Budget.

The report concluded that if surplus water were brought in, grain production and cattle feeding could increase substantially.

"If supplemental water supplies are not obtained, area now in cotton and vegetable production could be shifted to feed grains, if it would be the most profitable use for this land and water," said Foote.

"Improved technology could result in expanded feed production with no expansion in land or water resources.

"The study," he said, "was made to determine the major characteristics of the current market structure for grains. It may suggest ways to develop a more efficient marketing system, thus enabling the High Plains to realize the full economic potential of both grain sorghum production and cattle feeding."

The study determined flows of feed grains produced on the High Plains through various market channels, especially to local feedlots, and obtained in-

Season's Music Has New Sound

Christmas music featuring an instrument popular four or five centuries ago but seldom heard today was presented for the annual guest day program of Bay View Study Club Thursday afternoon in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church.

Guest musicians were Robert M. Wert, minister of music in that church, Mrs. Wert and Misses Suzanne Smith and Melinda Watts. Wert spoke briefly to introduce the unusual instrument, the recorder, sometimes called the flageolet and mentioned by Shakespeare and other authors as early as the 14th century.

Made of wood, and the older the wood the better tone, Wert said, the recorder somewhat resembles the clarinet but is simpler and is easier to learn. It may vary in size from the soprano recorder, 10 or 12 inches long, to the yard-long contrabass.

Wert played soprano and tenor recorders and Miss Watts the alto. Mrs. Wert was the vocal soloist and Miss Smith pianist for selections varying from such familiar carols as Away in a Manger to an oratorio aria, And He Shall Feed His Flock.

Mrs. Tom Harkey, pianist, played popular Christmas songs during the tea hour.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Tom Sawyer and the musicians were introduced by Mrs. Colby Conkright, club president, who also welcomed guests among the listeners. Hostesses were social committee members, Mmes. Si Darling, Bruce Burney, Ansel McDowell, Homer Powell and Jack Wilcox.

Mrs. Herman Ford poured coffee at the oval table which was covered with a gay red Christmas cloth scalloped around the edge and appliqued with Santa and snowman cutouts. The centerpiece was an Advent wreath with four green candles burning.

Guests for the afternoon were Mmes. Bob Wilson, George Turrentine, Juan Ribas, Floyd Coleman, Glenn Watts, Marguerite Thompson of Vega and Nancy Hudson.

Members present were Mmes. Ansel McDowell, Jack Wilcox, W. S. Kerr, R. W. Eades, W. J. Gilliland, H. L. Benefield, Juston McBride, James Hull, E. J. McMillan and J. E. Shipley.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Worthan of Route 5 announce the marriage of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Richard Lynn Rickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman Jr. of Route 3. Vows were solemnized Thursday in the C. F. Powell home, 830 Ave K., with the Rev. Powell Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church officiating. Following a brief wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M. Rickman will return to Albany, Georgia where he will be stationed in the U.S. Marine Corp until June 14. The bride will reside with her parents. She is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School and is employed by Cyanamid Farm Supply. Rickman attended Hereford schools and has served more than three years in the service including two tours in Vietnam.

Rebekah Lodge Elects Officers

Rebekah Lodge members met Tuesday evening for election of officers to serve in 1971.

Mrs. Jim Loving was elected noble grand; Mrs. George Green, vice grand; Mrs. Clarence Beauford, correspondent; Mrs. Ross Lomenick, financial secretary; and Mrs. Clarence Hollabough, treasurer.

These officers, along with appointed officers, will be installed Jan. 5.

Rebekahs will hold their Christmas party Dec. 15 with an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Guy Lawrence was hostess for the social hour.

Golden Circle SS Class Meets

Mrs. Elma Hamby gave the devotion, Happiness and Reality of Heaven, at a meeting of First Baptist Golden Circle Sunday School class Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. B. Miles.

Roll call was answered by scripture readings. Mrs. Jeff Roberson read opening prayer.

Eleven members were present for the business session at which time plans were made to prepare a Christmas basket for a needy family.

formation on current market practices.

"In recent years, substantial increases have taken place in both the quantity of grain sorghum produced and the number of cattle fed," said Foote.

"The semi-arid climate of the High Plains and relatively warm winter temperatures are factors that have encouraged cattle feeding."

Cattle feeding is carried on to some extent in virtually all sectors of the area, he said, with the largest concentration in the central and northern portions. Another area of high concentration is the western part of the area in Chaves County, N. M.

"Cattle feeding has been expanded in all parts of the study area, primarily due to the surplus of grain in Texas and Oklahoma," Foote said. "This surplus grain has given feeders a lower feed cost than experienced in other sections of the U. S."

Study results show grain sorghum was used in larger quantities than any other feed grain by feedlots. It represented 95 per cent of the total grain used and 97 per cent of the purchases made.

"About half of the grain storage capacity in the area was held by 10 per cent of the firms with a capacity of three million bushels or more per firm," Foote said.

"About 90 per cent of the feed grains handled by elevators was sorghum grain and for a third of the elevators, this was the only grain received."

In the north, the study revealed, 38 per cent of the pur-

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manieot

We have turned another leaf in our calendars, and are now in the happy month of December. To most of us December is a month of gaiety, giving, receiving, spreading happiness, and making preparations for observing the Saviour's birthday.

Indoors and outdoors Christmas lights gleam in the darkness, and eyes brighten at their loveliness. Homes are made gay with Christmas decorations, and the aroma of goodies, being baked, prevails the air.

To make the decorations show off properly, and to aid in giving a hospitable look to the premises, make sure that you have completed the general clean-up of your garden. All flower beds should be cleaned out. Collected debris, and old and faded blossoms removed from the rose bushes. While the weather is still nice and warm enough to enjoy being outdoors get all the grounds, lawns presentable for the holiday season. If the clean-up job is completed carefully it will aid in eliminating insects, and disease problems that could cause trouble and harm in the springtime.

Check and see if all the spring flowering bulbs have been planted (don't let them go to waste). Tulips are the last ones usually planted, so be sure and get them tucked away in the warm dark earth. In planting them don't just make straight rows, but rather for nicer effect place in groups of at least a half-dozen bulbs of the same variety and color, to get the best show when flowering.

Don't let these warm days, while you are working outside give you the urge to do major pruning. Shape plants as needed, if broken branches or limbs are present, and there are some which would cause hazards. Rubbing on fences, walls or overlapping walk-ways remove these.

If major pruning is done it will stimulate a flush growth that may be killed by cold weather. Delay pruning until much later when all plants are thoroughly dormant. If plants start growth now, a hard freeze could kill the new growth and harm the plant.

Mulch, by covering with straw or other recommended protection, the plants which are likely to heave. After Christmas don't burn or throw the Christmas tree away, but cut the boughs off and use them for use in protecting plants, where the heaving and soil blowing may harm them.

Living Christmas Tree
When considering the purchase of a Christmas tree, think it over very carefully. Why not consider the purchase of a living Christmas tree this year?

When Christmas is over, you can plant the tree outdoors or use it as a potted plant at the entrance area, in the green house or in the den. We have used live Christmas trees for the past two or three years, and now we have some very nice evergreens growing in the backyard. No matter how you may decide to use yours, it will add beauty to your property or to the living areas in the home.

Some of the types used are Upright Junipers, pyramid Chinese Junipers, Red Cedars, long leaf pines, and both the blue and green spruce trees. To be really exotic, select a broad-leaf evergreen such as holly, or boxwood. The nurseryman if you counsel with him, may have other suggestions. One year we lifted the Bottle Bush from the yard (they winter kill) and used it for a potted plant and also for our Christmas tree, it was very pretty.

If you purchase early, the tree should be placed in a sheltered place outdoors until ready for use. If potted use the container in which it is purchased, if not potted then pot or have it placed in a plastic container, and if it is properly watered and protected it will grow and keep well until you take it into the house for Christmas time.

Use care in selection of lights to be used on the living Christmas tree. Use the small ones, so that too much heat will not be on the tree. Or the Christmas tree could be spot-lighted, which is very effective.

A colorful Christmas
Enjoy additional color in your fireplace during the holidays. Treat the material to be burned with chemicals. Logs can be made of tightly rolled and tied newspapers, treat them as you would wood.

To produce orange-colored flames, use copper chloride; blue, potassium chloride; carmine, lithium chloride; and emerald green, copper sulfate. These chemicals would be available from farm chemical supply stores, or at the nurseries.

To prepare for use, dissolve thoroughly, one pound of chemical in a gallon of water contained in a plastic or enameled pail. Place the cones or chips, or small logs, and or wrapped paper logs in an open-mesh sack and immerse in the solution. Be sure that all is well covered and soaked for at least 10 minutes.

SHARING FOR CHRISTMAS — Girls of A-Ki-Zu-Ya Camp Fire Group brought outgrown toys to their meeting this week, to be given to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for renovation and distribution at Christmas to less fortunate children of this community. Putting some of the toys into a box are Staci Payne, left, group secretary, and Geni Welty, president. Mrs. Marvin Welty is leader of this group.

After soaking materials for burning, place the treated materials where they will dry. Lay them on old newspapers or other waste paper. After they are dried they are ready for use.

If by chance you do not have a burning fireplace, and do have gas logs, keep some of the trimmings cut from the tree and drop small pieces into the flame and a sweet aroma will be created as they burn. Remember you can also trim from the evergreen plants outdoors, as this is the time of year when they are to be shed, both in decorations and for the fireplace.

Some of the most popular ever-greens for decorations are mistletoe, holly, boxwood, privet, cunoyunous, pine and spruce.

Suggestions for keeping them fresh and colorful: Holly, cut on an angle cleanse thoroughly, then place stems in one quart of hot water, to which has been added 1 cup of corn syrup

At The Library

Murderer Claims First Victims At Age Eight

Available at Deaf Smith County Library this week is the story of a man more dangerous than Billy the Kid, John Wesley Hardin or Sam Bass. This man, Jim Miller, claims he murdered 51 persons, beginning at age eight with the killing of his grandparents, in cold blood, and all for one reason - money. Check into it today.

SHOTGUN FOR HIRE
(The story of "Deacon" Jim Miller, Killer of Pat Garrett)

By Glenn Shirley
Jim Miller was probably the most dangerous man in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico during the declining years of western frontier violence.

Compared to him, the notorious John Wesley Hardin and Billy the Kid were merely sensational gunfighters, and outlaws like Sam Bass were common thieves.

Miller was more than just an out - he was a cold-blooded murderer who would kill any man for money. From the time he was eight years old, when he murdered his own grandparents, to 1909, when he was lynched by a mob in Ada, Okla., Miller killed at least eighteen men, not counting an unknown number of sheepmen and farmers on the ranges of New Mexico and Texas.

A partial list of his victims includes the lawman Pat Garrett, killer of Billy the Kid; Bud Grazer, former sheriff of Reeves County, Texas; and Ben Collins, deputy United States marshal and Indian policeman. Miller himself claimed the total was fifty-one.

Miller was a frontier enigma. He was neither too cowardly to face an opponent in an open six-gun duel, nor too honorable to cut down a victim with a shotgun blast from the cover of darkness.

He was a church-going man who dressed well, had charming manners, and neither smoked nor drank, yet he made no secret of the fact that his shotgun was for hire to any man willing to meet his price—whether $150 or $2,000.

Miller's story is fully told here for the first time. In it, Glenn Shirley reconstructs the personality of this relatively unknown killer, brings to light many facts surrounding the murders he committed, and describes the conditions of warfare among cattlemen, sheepmen, and farmers on the rapidly shrinking range which influenced Miller's deadly vocation.

WHITEWATER

By Paul Horgan

Paul Horgan's new novel - his thirteenth—is laid in the far plains country in a time of youth, when action is all, and hope is defined as escape from home. But behind action a certain mystery often persists, even when seen through the eyes of mature memory and understanding, as here.

The past and present of a whole outland town provide the subject as well as the setting of the story and its discoveries. Some of these are tragic and final, some liberating, among the young people whose heedless drive toward self-realization seems so often like betrayal to their elders.

Many dimensions are implicit between the lines of Horgan's story, which clothes universal questions in the mingled stuff of comedy, homely charm, social satire and tragedy.

The Plains people in their longings, some randy and reckless, others farsighted, hopeful and selfless, weave together their lives, both public and secret. Horgan writes of a particular place and time—the American Southwest at mid-century; but like every true novel, it is about us all.

The planet Saturn has ten known moons swinging around it in orbit. They range from tiny Phoebe, 100 miles in diameter, to Titan, nearly as large as Mars. Titan is the only moon in this solar system known to have an atmosphere, believed to be deadly methane.

STATEMENT OF NON-DISCRIMINATION

"West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op, Inc. has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization. "Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D. C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 90 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations."
