PROPOSED TIERRA BLANCA DAM WOULD CREATE LARGE LAKE HERE

AROUND TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen

The man who told about one of his gun barrels filling with sand and the other with water—all at the same time—has nothing on Ed Boggus of Friona. Ed boasts that one of his old sows had eight pigs, all at the suckling age. To show how spotted the rain was Sunday night, Ed declares that all eight pigs were sucking when a shower came up. The back four were drowned, and the front four didn't even get wet.

J. A. Pitman and "Tuffy" Acker started out to Charley Williams place Thursday afternoon and got stuck on the way out. After remaining in the car all night, without cigarettes, food or warm clothing, they borrowed a car and came to town Friday morning. They were still complaining Friday when Pitty went back after his car—which had to be pulled clear into town with a tractor.

Three other men who had to do some tall explaining about where they were until late hours were Jim Clark, Allen Skelton and Dow Mercer. This trio went out to the northwest part of the county Saturday to look at the wheat. They got stuck and finally got back to town well after midnight.

Lee Ott of Jumbo community was telling John Olson about the hail at Jumbo. Lee figures, however, that some of his wheat was saved and that he may still cut a pretty fair amount.

Ernest Medkief plans to get out of the used car business and become a cattle man, according to an ad in The Brand this week. He priced the cars in terms of cattle—including one bull.

Nominating T. K. Wilson as one of the most consistent magazine readers in this section. T. K. reads practically every type of magazine—and probably more of them than any one else in town.

A bouquet for Miss Katherine Kirby and Miss Ruth Conkright, who recently started a story telling hour for boys and girls. Their next meeting will be held Wednesday morning, June 16, at 10 o'clock in Mother's Park. It means lots of fun for the children.

Bible School To Hold Exercises

Closing exercises Friday night, June 11, will be held for the Assembly of God Bible School, according to W. A. McCann, pastor, who said today the school this spring was the best ever sponsored by the local church.

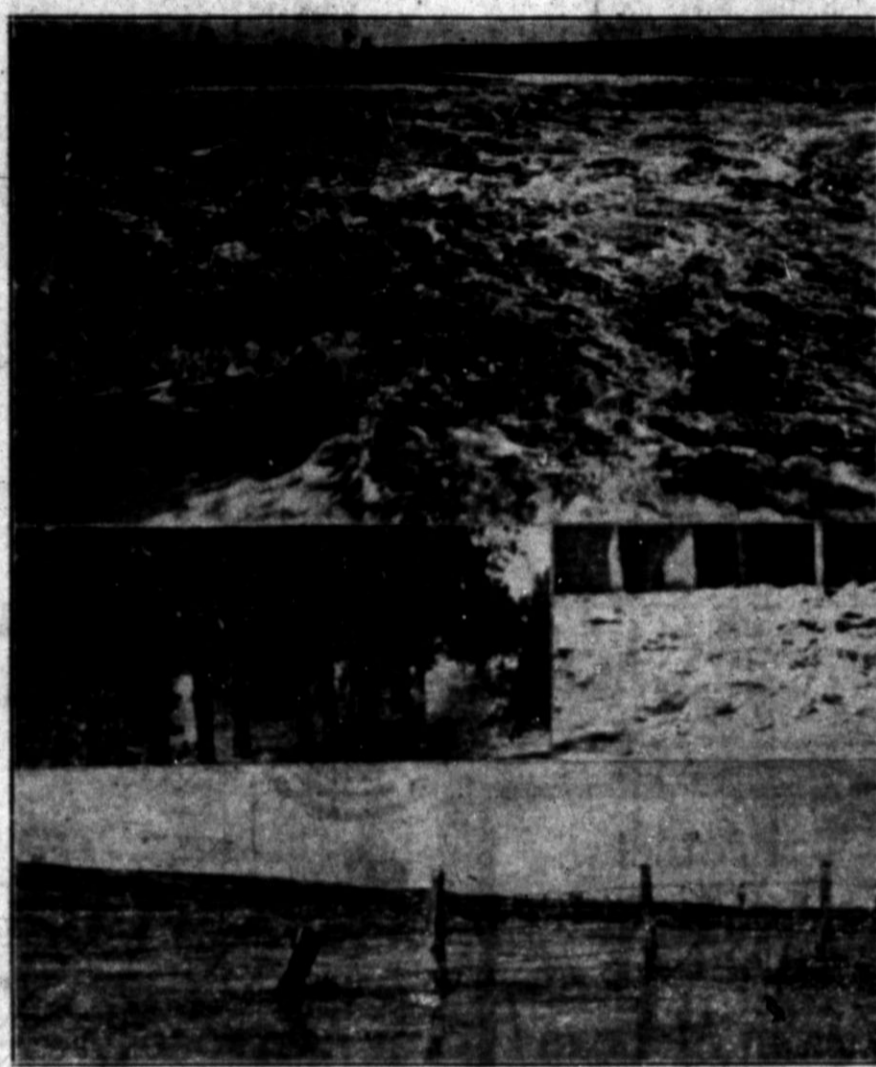

The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock and will be held at the church one block north of the high school. The school has been open here for the past two weeks and good interest has been shown during the entire session.

Brand Will Close $1 Offer Saturday

With only two more days remaining on the special subscription offer of "A Whole Year for Only $1," by The Hereford Brand, it was announced this week that the offer would definitely be closed Saturday, June 12.

While the special offer has attracted splendid response during the past month, sales showed a large increase during the past week, and a last minute rush is anticipated Friday and Saturday, the final two days of the offer. Mrs. Seth B. Holman, publisher, expressed her appreciation for

Water To Fill Hereford's Lake?

Rainfall Measures 10.71 Inches Here; Crop Hopes Climb

JUMBO AREA REPORTS SERIOUS DAMAGE FROM HAIL

A total of 10.71 inches of rain today was reported for this section during May and the first six days in June. The total moisture for May was 7.01, while 3.70 inches were recorded for June. The down-pour which fell in a few minutes Sunday afternoon totaled exactly one inch.

Warm weather this week, however, cheered most of the farmers and cattlemen in this section with prospects for some fair days which will mean "growing weather".

Hail damages were reported through the Jumbo area Monday, but generally speaking the prospects were improved over this area following the heavy rains. Much wheat which was considered lost was said to be coming out. Farmers are also anxious to begin planting on their row crops.

Bellview Section.
By Mrs. R. H. Johnston.
There has been no hail north and west of Bellview and some of the crops in this community are exceptionally good. The average here is expected to run from 10 to 20 bushels per acre on wheat, barley and oats are beginning to ripen, and much wheat which has already thought to have been dead is beginning to come out and looks like it will make a good late crop. Most farmers had expected to have to replant their row crops, but they are coming out so well that most of the crops will go ahead and produce.

Story Hour Will Be Sponsored At Mother's Park

Following the initial meeting of Children's Story Telling Hour at the court house Monday morning, it was announced today that the story hour will be held Wednesday morning of each week at 10 o'clock in Mother's Park. In case of bad weather the place will be changed to the county court room.

The story hour is being conducted by Miss Katherine Kirby and Miss Ruth Conkright, and is open to all children through the seventh grade. Divisions will be made next Wednesday and the children will be placed in separate groups according to their ages.

In addition to the story hour, supervised play will follow and the Children's Book Club will be conducted in connection with the story hour for those interested. Every boy and girl in the community is invited to take part in the story hour, play and summer book club, sponsors said.

Wilson Director In Conservation Work For Area

At a recent meeting of the nine-county soil conservation group in Amarillo, Judge Earl W. Wilson was named as one of the five directors of the organization for the coming year. At the meeting representatives also petitioned for a continuation of the work for 12 months, beginning July 1, 1937.

The nine counties which are being refunded state taxes to combat soil erosion are Deaf Smith, Oldham, Dallas, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Hansford, Cochran and Lipscomb.

Favors Lake

John McCarty, president of the Panhandle Water Conservation Association, Wednesday afternoon met with Hereford citizens and promised his assistance in securing a dam for Tierra Blanca Creek, south of Hereford.

Trine Starnes Will Conduct Meeting Here

Trine Starnes, evangelist, of Mineral Wells, will begin a meeting at the Church of Christ Tuesday night, June 15, and continue until June 27.

This young man comes to Hereford highly recommended as a sincere Bible student; one that will present a message of merit, and as a speaker of unusual ability. He attended Abilene Christian College where he gained renown as a debater and an orator seldom equaled, twice receiving national recognition.

He has conducted revivals in several of the larger cities of Texas, and is at present the regular minister of the church in Mineral Wells. Hereford is indeed fortunate to secure a man possessing the qualifications and abilities of this man to hold a gospel meeting, committee members said.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and hear Minister Starnes during the entire series of meetings. Services will be daily at 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ted Houston Visits Parents.

Mrs. Ted Houston and children, Teddy and Jane, of Boise, Idaho, arrived Monday to visit Mrs. Houston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Oberthier. Mr. Houston plans to join his wife here for a visit later on.

A Panhandle Pleasure Resort

Boasting some of the finest soil and located in the heart of the shallow-water district, Hereford is also bidding to become the pleasure resort of the Texas Panhandle.

Recently when raging waters swelled the banks of the Tierra Blanca and swept on a relentless march to spend its energy in Red River, it set the people of this section to thinking—exactly the same thing occurred here last year. Bridges were washed out, roads were damaged, and traffic was paralyzed. Civic-minded citizens thought how fine it would be to keep this water at home. They realized the numerous advantages which would result from a large lake. They are taking steps toward securing a large dam at the south end of Main Street.

The project is practical because there exists a natural location for a lake. Furthermore, the government is advocating just such lakes in the recent water conservation program. In addition to the possibility of recharging the underground water of the area, such a lake will establish Hereford as a pleasure resort. Fishing and boating should draw large numbers here from surrounding towns and cities. Hereford has an opportunity to become the play ground of the Panhandle.

A locating committee will be named and will consult with engineers regarding the most logical location of the dam. Discussion on this point can easily kill the project. No single organization or individual can secure the lake. Hereford is famed for its spirit of cooperation. It is upon the basis of a united front that the project can be secured, and for that reason leaders feel that the lake will become a reality.

Large Dam May Replace Main Street Bridge

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES PLAN AT SESSION WEDNESDAY

Plans to construct a large lake just south of Hereford on the Tierra Blanca took definite form today as the Chamber of Commerce made contracts with Texas Water Conservation officials. John McCarty, president of the Texas and New Mexico division of the conservation movement, met Wednesday afternoon with a delegation here and discussed the dam.

The Commissioners' Court announced that a temporary wooden bridge would be built over the Tierra Blanca at the south end of Main Street, where the old bridge washed out. The contract has already been let for the temporary bridge to Austin Bridge Co. at $2,300. Actual work is scheduled to begin July 1. The temporary bridge is being built in order that it may be removed with slight cost in case the dam is constructed.

Following the heavy rains which washed out the Main Street bridge public sentiment grew so strong in favor of a dam and lake at the point that the commissioners turned the project over to the Chamber of Commerce. In case the dam is not secured the county will build a permanent bridge in the old location.

"I see no reason why Hereford should not secure a dam," John McCarty told the delegation here Wednesday, and pledged his assistance in securing the project. He pointed out, however, that it will come through WPA and said that plans should be drawn and submitted immediately.

Judge Earl Wilson and Commissioner Jack Rose said that the county would sponsor the project if necessary, but that promotion would be left to a citizens committee, or some interested group. They also said that a bond issue may be necessary, depending upon PWA requirements.

Mr. McCarty stated that the $10,000,000 lake and dam program may be killed in the Senate, but indicated a strong belief that it

James Wilson Is Elected To Head Hartley Schools

James Wilson today announced his resignation from the faculty of the Hereford Schools to accept the position of superintendent in the Hartley schools.

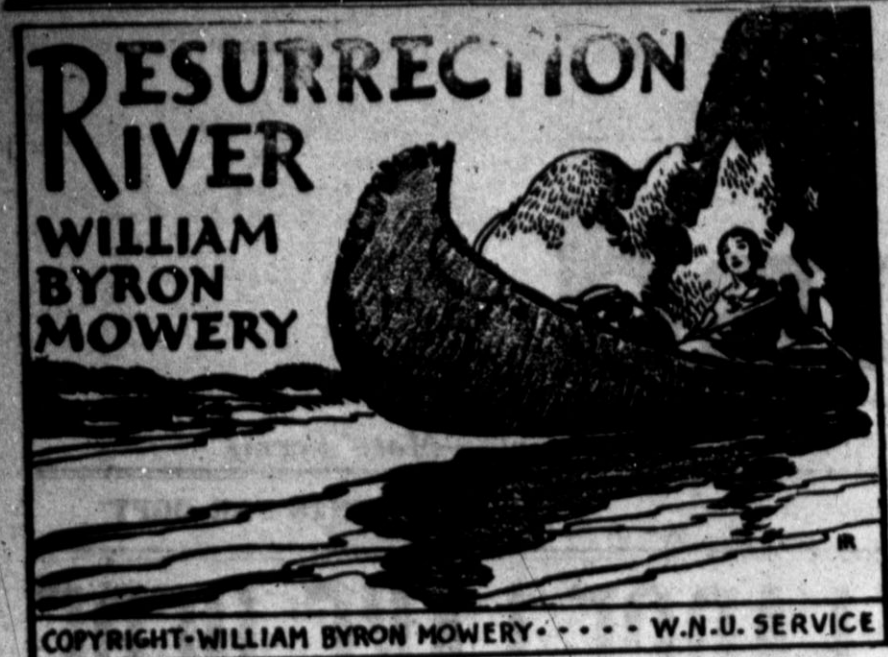

Since 1931 Mr. Wilson has been in the Hereford School system as mathematics instructor. He has also been coach of the basketball team and has served as assistant football coach. During the period Mr. Wilson has built up an enviable record as an instructor and coach.

Leaving last Wednesday for Wyoming, where he expected to attend school this summer, Mr. Wilson had to turn back because of flooded roads. He will attend school in Canyon, he reported this week.

It was a perfect summer day, lazily warm and golden. Butterflies flitted past the canoe, and over the water a legion of dragonflies were snapping up mosquitoes in their trapdoor jaws. Although late evening by clock time, the sun stood as high in the sky as at noon in Chicago. Patricia knew, rationally, that she was in the land of the midnight sun and that there would be no sunset for several weeks; but night had always been so infallible an event that she didn't quite believe it wasn't going to arrive. The canoe approached the north shore. Up the lake beach 300 yards was a cluster of large cabins—the wireless station, land office, Mounted Police buildings and Hudson Bay store. Poleon skinned the canoe deftly ashore, grounded it, handed Patricia out, and they walked up the bank. "Heavens, what a hodgepodge!" Patricia thought, as she glanced down through the camp. The whole place was a disorganized confusion of tents, smoldering fires, canoes and chained-up dog teams. In comparison with the two Ontario rushes which she had seen, this camp looked gone to seed. No paths, unsightly refuse everywhere, no organization, no esprit de corps. And the men moving about here and there seemed half-hearted, discouraged. Over the whole place hung an air of poverty and defeat. She asked Poleon: "Am I just imagining things or are these men in the dumps?" "You're dead right, Mees Pat; dese feller, dey are on de dumps. You see, dey been here at Dynamite Bay, mebbe two, mebbe four year, and all dat tam dey been have to scrape along on lectle or no money, 'cause dey have no opportunity to trap or trade. Dey're real men, dey're tough out-foot as you never saw, but dey're jus' about ready to give up." "Why don't they take time off and make some money and get back on their feet again?" They didn't dare take time off, Poleon explained. A man had to do 15 days work a year on each claim he held or it would revert to the Crown. Since most of the prospectors owned ten or more claims, it took constant labor and the hardest kind of sacrifice merely to hang on to their holdings. At the first tent they approached, a tall rawboned prospector was tossing whitefish to his team of huskies. He was in an undershirt and clumsily patched trousers, his hair was unkempt, his face heavily stubbled. "How you do, Sam," Poleon greeted. "Mees Pat, dis is Sam Honeywell. Sam, dis is Mees Wellington." Honeywell awkwardly bowed to Patricia and mumbled, "Pleased to meet you, ma'am." Lacking Poleon's huge social ease, he was redfaced with embarrassment. Presently she and Poleon went on down through the camp, Poleon kept introducing her to man after man, till finally she had to make him stop. All of them were painfully embarrassed: all stared at her breeches and cigarette; all were respectful in their rough, frontier way. The truth of Poleon's words, "dey's tough outfoot as you never saw," came forcibly home to her. For all their discouragement and raggedy clothes, here were men, real men, the pick of the North. All the weaklings had been weeded out.

"Pleased to Meet You, Ma'am."

It was at the east side of the camp that the incident of Bill Fornier came crashing into her slumming expedition like a thunderbolt. She and Poleon had stopped to watch a group of men whom Lupe Chiwaughimi, the leader of Warren's six metis, had recruited from among the prospectors. They were rolling drums of airplane gas onto z skiff. Patricia soon noticed that one of the men, a stock, weather-beaten miner, was in bad trouble of some sort. He kept wiping the perspiration out of his eyes and occasionally a fierce gust of pain swept across his bulldog face. At once, as he started to push a drum up the skids he caved in completely and sank down in a heap on the sand. Poleon sprang in, rolled off the drum which had fallen on the man's legs, and slipped an arm under his head. "Steady, Bill, he soothed, as the man's eyes flickered open. "Everyting's fine-dandy. Dese drum, dey too much for you to wrastle. Lemme take you back to your tent." "You won't do not such thing!" the man refused. "I can stick it. Soon as this spell kicks over, I'll cut the mustard okay. I got to, Poleon." "Non, non, Bill! If you jus' got to have dat money, I'll take your place for de res' of dis job." Still shaking his head, the man slowly pulled himself together, got up, trudged over to the lake edge, soused water over his tousled hair, then came back to the gang and doggedly set to work again. "What's the matter with that fellow?" Patricia demanded, as Poleon rejoined her. "Is he drunk?" "Sacribien, non! He seech, poor Bill—a terrible seeck man. Mees Pat, it's inside of heem, here!" Poleon rubbed his stomach. "He can't get well, neva. Bimeby, in t'ree or four mont's he got to die." "But—but—" Patricia stammered, "a man who's as sick as that—My Lord, no person should work when he's so sick that he keels over!" "But Bill got to work, wedder he able or non," Poleon told her. In a few words he explained Fornier's plight. Formerly a free-trader over Norman way, Bill had been stricken with cancer two years ago. Knowing that his days were numbered, he had left home and come across to Dynamite Bay in hopes that he could make a good strike and so not leave his wife and two little girls penniless. He has staked five "fine dandy" silver claims, Poleon said; but now he was going to lose them, for he was flat broke, and his assessment for that year was not completed. He was trying to scrape a few dollars for grub so that he could go back to his claims and work off the assessment on at least one or two of them. That was why he had hired out to Lupe Chiwaughimi that afternoon. With wide eyes Patricia stared down at the landwash, at Bill Fornier, struggling with a drum of gas. Here was a man looking death in the face. Forced to do heavy labor with the pangs of death inside of him. Getting up from a faint, joking about it, and going back to work again when he could barely stumble around. It seemed a bit ghastly. She had never known that such a thing existed in the world. She suddenly hated the whole camp, wished she never had seen it. "Poleon!" she cried, whirling away. "Take me back across the river!" But then she stopped in her tracks. She could go back to her hammock and book, but she would carry with her the picture of a sick man pushing a drum of gas onto a skiff. She could flee, could shut her eyes, but that picture would still haunt her. She faltered, glanced again at Bill Fornier. An impulse shot into her mind. In that moment, without her knowing, she was stepping into a trap, was thrusting her foot into "the snage of juvibile, the cruel babische" of Poleon's song. "Go down there," she commanded Poleon. "Go down and stop that fellow. Make him quit working!" She gave the bewildered Poleon a shove. "Go on! Bring him up here to me! I want to talk to him." CHAPTER III In the dining tent around eleven o'clock that evening, Warren remarked over their wine and cigarettes: "Lupe Chiwaughimi told me that you gave a sum of money this afternoon, Patricia, to one of these prospectors across the river. If I may say so, indiscriminate charity like that is never wise." "Good heavens, that wasn't indiscriminate charity! He's in an awfully bad hole, Warren." "But when you give money, outright to an individual, dear, you break down his initiative." "Initiative be damned!" Patricia burst out with a touch of anger. "In two or three months, Bill Fornier will be dead, and what good will this initiative do him then? Besides, anybody who'll work when he can barely stand up, he's got all the initiative he needs!" Warren saw that she was angry, and he retreated tactfully. "Your act was very kind-hearted, dear, I'll admit. But my point is that a very large number of these men over there are in difficulties, and if you start to take that whole camp under your wing—" "Don't be silly. I don't want to ever see that crazy camp again. As a matter of fact, I'm thinking of going back home in a few days." She expected Warren to object strongly, but to her surprise he did not object at all. A few moments later, as he held a match to her cigarette, she asked abruptly: (Continued next week)

CALLED SPANISH SPY

Jose de Gregorio, former secretary at the Spanish embassy in Washington, whose name was mentioned by Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota when he said that Spanish spies in this country are seeking to "violate American neutrality." Senator Nye asked a congressional investigation.

Here's What They Say . . .

Upon hearing the title "Romeo and Juliet," which begins at the Star Sunday, you might form the hasty opinion that it will not be the type of entertainment that will interest you. However before you form that opinion it might be well to investigate the matter a little further and find out at least three things: namely, who plays in the picture, what the story is about and what those who have seen it think about it.

Now, the first investigation will reveal in short order that the cast is "tops" because the list is headed by Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard and very ably supported by John Barrymore, Edna Mae Oliver, Basil Rathbone, Andy Devine and Reginald Denny.

The story is one that gives you all the action, fighting adventure, thrills, suspense and romantic love that you could find in a modern setting or story. The tumult and pageantry of the rival houses of Verona are so cleverly portrayed that one unconsciously takes sides in the fray and watches the sword play in partisan spirit.

Irvin S. Cobb says that the family feud around which the story is woven is no different from the modern feuds of our Kentucky mountains.

The Hollywood Reporter says: "There can be no question about the fact that the combined love and feud stories in 'Romeo and Juliet' are the daddies of all modern tales to the same effect."

The Film Daily says: "It is one of the most important contributions to the screen since the inception of talking pictures."

Elsewhere in this same paper appear the comments of The National Board of Review, Walter Winchell, Robert Benchley, Anita Loos and other nationally known screen and radio commentators.

That heretofore, by written contract dated May 27, 1929, recorded in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Volume 75, page 594, and in Volume 64, page 446, the said John V. Farwell, Arthur L. Farwell and Francis C. Farwell contracted to sell to W. F. Nicholas the following land in Deaf Smith County, Texas, to-wit: the Northeast Quarter (NE $\frac{1}{4}$) of Section No. 21, of Township 3 North, Range 1 East, of a Capitol Syndicate Subdivision, as shown by plat of such subdivision of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas.

That said contract provided that the purchase price of said land is $2,200.00, payable on or before six years from November 1, 1929; that the vendee shall each year at the proper season sow at least 80 per cent of the land described in the contract to wheat; that the vendee shall, beginning with the year 1930, pay the taxes on the tract of land described in the contract before they become delinquent; that failure of the vendee to perform the covenants imposed upon him by such contract shall nullify the same and all payments made and all improvements placed on the land shall be kept by the vendors; that such contract is assignable. That plaintiffs have performed all of the covenants imposed upon them by the terms of such contract.

That no payments have been made on the purchase price of said land and the same was not sowed to wheat in the proper season in 1936, and taxes on the same for the years 1935 and 1936 were not paid by the defendants. That on account of the defendants' default in the payment of the purchase price of said land, and in the tilling of said land, and in the payment of said taxes as provided in said contract, the plaintiffs have declared the contract for the sale of said land at an end and are entitled to recover the title to and possession of said land from the defendants and each of them.

That the defendants Eida Nicholas, Minnie Law and her husband, Law, W. G. Harrell, Phillips Petroleum Company and Oliver Farm Equipment Sales Company, are claiming some interest in and to said land, the exact nature of which is not known by the plaintiffs, but whatever right, title or interest said defendants have in the land was acquired by virtue of the contract above mentioned, and is subordinate and inferior to plaintiffs' title and claim to the land.

Plaintiffs pray that defendants be cited to appear and answer their petition, and that the plaintiffs recover title to and possession of the land and improvements; that the contract for the sale of said land be declared at an end, and for general relief. You are hereby commanded to summon the defendants W. F. Nicholas, Eida Nicholas, Minnie Law and her husband, Law, and W. G. Harrell, and to serve this citation by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, but if there be no newspaper published in said county, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county in which a newspaper is published. Herein fail not, but have you before said Court on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at my office in the City of Hereford, Texas, this the 29th day of May, 1937. L. H. FOSTER, Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas. 28

Heavy Rains Delay Work On Highway

Contractors today estimated that work on surfacing Highway 90 should be completed September 1 to 15, since their contract specifies 90 working days from the present time.

"It will be necessary," they said, "to spread about 30,000 more yards of caliche before the topping is poured." They estimate that approximately $10,000 in extra work and materials will be necessary on the road east from Hereford to the Randall county line.

Since traffic has been routed over the highway during recent rains, much damage was reported on the roadbed and contractors estimate that it will have to be built up. At the present time they are half through with the six miles of caliche work west of town. The work is to be rushed to completion as soon as condition of the roads permit work.

Here's What They Say

"Romeo and Juliet," with Norma Shearer, the first lady of the screen, and Leslie Howard is the greatest love drama of all time and has now become the screen's mightiest entertainment of our time. "That's a broad statement," you will say. Yes, is a broad statement, but the statement of the nation's outstanding stars as the foundation upon which to base such a statement, and there they are:

The National Board of Reviews: "... a finished masterpiece of authentic and overy entertainment... a beautiful production that embodies the history of true love down through the centuries."

Walter Wichell: "Romeo and Juliet," beautifully interpreted and artfully directed, is something to embrace affectionately. List it among the screen's major achievements."

Jim Tully: "There was never such dialogue as in this film. The words leap at you like trout, now gay, now sad, now flashing in the sun... a far greater film than 'Mutiny On the Bounty.'"

Robert Benchley: "... Swept off my feet! For the first time I have seen the crowds, the fights, the cats in the alleys, the mothers with babies, and all the hundred and one little pic- tures of a life that have never been seen by modern generations... and for the first time I have seen Romeo as Juliet saw him, looking down from the balcony... and been made to elieve that these two young people were actually and irrevocably in love."

Anita Loos: "I think the modern girl has many things to learn from the Juliet of Norma Shearer, and I advise her to go about learning them right away, for, believe it or not, within a space of twenty minutes Juliet grabs off the best man in Verona, and does it at a time when he is singeing his fingers carrying a torch for another girl."

Photoplay Magazine: "A love story deep in the heart of the world forever, now giving enthralling life in such a picture as the screen has never known."

"Romeo and Juliet" will be shown at the STAR Theatre for two days beginning Sunday, June 13, with a preview Saturday night beginning at 12:15.

County Will Buy New Machinery For Dirt Roads

To better maintain and improve lateral roads in Deaf Smith county, two new road patrols will be purchased this month, announcements stated this week.

The county commissioners called for bids on the machinery by Saturday, June 19, specifying two 60 horsepower diesel or gas burning, single tandem, drive road maintainers or patrols. One of the present maintainers will be traded in for the new equipment, and the other county tractor will be taken over by the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion district. Bid specifications state that warrants will be issued in the maximum of $10,000 for the new maintainers, payable serially, with the last maturity not later than July 1, 1942.

Condition of lateral roads was cited as the cause for buying the new equipment, according to County Judge Earl W. Wilson, who said that many of the roads were seriously damaged through wind erosion and that practically none of them are in condition for rains like those seen here last week.

Following the arrival of the new equipment the county plans to get all lateral roads into first class shape and to keep them in good condition.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Bids will be received by Deaf Smith County, at the Court House at Hereford, Texas, until 10 o'clock a. m. on Saturday, June 19th, 1937, for the purchase of two 60 h. p. Diesel or gas burning single tandem drive road maintainers or patrols, and one No. 11 dual wheel gas maintainer to be taken as part payment, and notice is given that warrants will be issued in the maximum sum of $10,000.00, payable serially, last maturity not later than July 1st, 1942, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually.

The right is reserved to reject all bids.

County Judge, Deaf Smith County, Texas. 23c

FORD "60" OWNERS REPORT 22-27 MILES PER GALLON

The 60-horsepower Ford V-8 is writing remarkable mileage records on American roads. Private owners and fleet operators alike report averages of from 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can fill the tank of your Ford "60" and drive all day—300 to 400 miles—without stopping again for fuel. Besides costing less to run than any Ford car ever built, it sells at the lowest Ford price in years. That's double economy!

The "60" delivers V-8 smoothness and quiet at speeds up to 70 miles an hour. It is built into the same roomy body as the famous "35"—with the same modern features of comfort and dependability that make the 1937 Ford V-8 unquestionably THE QUALITY CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD.

led by the First Methodist church, First Christian church and First Presbyterian church. The First Baptist church will also unite, except on Sundays in which they have a visiting speaker. Most of the services will be held at the First Methodist church and the cooperating pastors will be Rev. H. M. Redford, Rev. T. C. Willett, and Rev. J. C. Thorns. The local preachers will conduct the services except at such times when religious leaders are brought from outside, and upon these occasions outstanding speakers will be secured when possible.

A LONG TIME AGO IN HEREFORD

(From The Hereford Brand, June 1, 1906.)

"When," remarked the editor, "land is capable of producing two to three times its actual value in crops in a single year, it must be a good investment." The editor then cited several instances in Deaf Smith and Castro counties in which that very thing had occurred, and wound up by inviting the people to come to the Panhandle.

The Amarillo Herald announced the intention of adding new machinery and converting the publication into a first class daily to be known as the Daily Panhandle.

"If," moaned the editor, "we can live through a week or two more of our present awful sanitary conditions, we may be able to get some relief, otherwise . . ." He added casually that Hereford had for six weeks been without scavenger service.

Messrs. Hill, Robinson and Deshler had arrived from Missouri, and were ready to set up a concrete block factory in Hereford, and do general concrete contracting.

Farmers were urged to insure their grain crops against loss by hail.

(From The Hereford Brand, June 1, 1916.)

The Van Sickle carnival was in town, and as usual was attracting large crowds and enticing many dollars out of town.

Two three-room houses on 25-Mile Avenue had burned. They belonged to R. R. Gressett.

High winds compelled those attending Memorial Day services to assemble in the Christian church instead of at the cemetery.

Announcement was made that the Christian church was to be completed at once.

E. S. Ireland had been here from Dimmitt, and was seen in a certain store "filling his car with the high cost of running".

E. B. Black Co. stepped out with a full page advertisement of their many furniture bargains. A feature of this ad was a description of the then famous and popular Hoosier kitchen cabinet.

For those planning vacations the Santa Fe advertised round trip tickets to popular resorts at one fare, plus $1.

day. We sure want to return the good time had by all Hereford members when they were entertained by the Clovis club," Frank Cogdell, chairman, said.

The Dollar Tournament is for all golfers, par shooters and dubs alike. The players will be divided into flights of 16 players each, after the first nine holes in the morning. The first round will serve as qualifying rounds, all 36 holes will be counted in determining the winners in each flight.

The following prizes will be awarded in each flight:

First, golf shoes, second sweater, third, four Top-flight balls, fourth three Top-flight balls, fifth, 2 Top-flight balls, fifth one Top-flight ball.

The week of June 21-26 will be taken up with elimination play in the city tournament. This will be played 18 holes match play. All paid up members are eligible to compete and all who want to join for the next half are eligible if their dues of $5 are paid to A. A. Foster, secretary, by June 19. The finals of the city tournament will be held Sunday, June 27, and will be match play over the 36 hole route.

For the dinner tournament to be held June 27, the two finalists in the city tournament will choose sides from the list of the paid up members and these two teams will play matches of 18 holes. These matches will be match play for 18 holes, each match counting three points. The matching for these players will be the order in which the captains do their choosing.

The dinner June 30 is a smoker for the members and a business meeting of the club. At this time officers for another year will be elected and other business conducted.

Some of the stones were reported to have been as large as the average fist. Farms situated in the strip included the Dyers, Hunters, Adams, Stevens, Vinson, Leasure, Lynch, Wilburn, Axe, Simpson, Metcalf, C. C. Hunter, Hiltbrunner, Krjog, Flowers, Metcalf, Tiejian, Bairds and Pat Hardy.

Miss Bettie Rose Kerr Becomes Bride of Mr. Robert H. Birchfield Here

In a formal ceremony Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church Miss Bettie Rose Kerr, daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. F. Kerr, became the bride of Mr. Robert H. Birchfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Birchfield, of Wellington, Texas.

The Rev. J. C. Thorns read the sacred and beautiful words of the marriage rites as the couple stood beneath an arch garlanded with greenery and orange blossoms. Mounds of fern, orange blossoms and tall vases of coral-pink gladioli banked the altar which was lighted by white tapers in bronze candelabra.

Will S. Kerr, brother of the bride, sang "At Dawning," and Mrs. Bryan McDonald, a sister-in-law, of Ozona, sang "I Love You Truly" as pre-nuptial solos. They were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Ireland, the bride's cousin, who also played the wedding marches and softly played "A Wild Rose," by McDowell, during the ceremony.

Mr. Birchfield's best man was Bryan McDonald, of Ozona, brother of the bride. Groomsman were Reavis Kerr, another brother, and Ray McEntire of Chatsworth, California. Herbert Boardman and Ernest Kerr, a cousin, were ushers.

The bridesmaids, Miss Fannie Bettis of Shamrock, and Miss Mattie Devin of Tulsa, wore orchid and pink organza frocks made with long full skirts and puffed sleeves. They carried arm bouquets of pink rosebuds and orange blossoms tied with pink and white, and wore bandeaux of white gardenias in their hair.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Clay Ridgway, sister of the bride, wore a blue and white floor length dress of embroidered organza. Her arm bouquet matched those carried by the bridesmaids.

The little flower girl, Patricia Ann McDonald of Ozona, and a niece of the bride, wore a blue organdy frock and carried an ivory satin basket filled with pink rose petals.

The ring was carried on an ivory satin pillow by Master Billy Joe McDonald, the bride's nephew. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore an ivory satin gown made along princess lines with long sleeves and high neckline. The long skirt forming a train in the back. Her finger-tip-length veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses. Her ornaments were a necklace belonging to her mother and a gold bracelet, the gift of the groom.

Joe Edgar and Bill Pat Kerr, small nephews of the bride, were the ring boys. The reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, carried out

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a Section to be known as Section 51d, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51d. Subject to the limitations and restrictions herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions, and regulations as may be provided by law, the Legislature shall have the power to provide for assistance to destitute children under the age of fourteen (14) years; such assistance shall not exceed Eight Dollars ($8) per month for one child nor more than Twelve Dollars ($12) per month for such children of any one family; provided that the amount to be expended for such assistance out of State funds shall never exceed the sum of One Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,500,000) per year. MY OWN SUCCESS STORY

Giving people more mileage

I like people to know that I'm not just hired at my station. I'm the proprietor, making my living, all on my own. Naturally I'm choosy about anything I recommend, so no matter how close you might check whatever I say about mileage and performance, I can always look you square in the eye. And that goes double for my Conoco Germ Processed oil. It is the only kind that can Oil-Plate your engine. The patent Germ Process, you might say, gives this oil a real strong "yen" for metal. The oil actually joins up with every working part, always leaving a durable, slippery Oil-Plating that cannot run down, whether your car is stopped or hitting it up. Then you can start up a thousand times a day, or streak along from morning till night. But Oil-Plating will still be there, heading off wear, and letting you skip a lot of stops you used to make for oil. You'll be back here saying even more than me, about all your mileage and performance from Conoco Germ Processed oil.

Garcia Well Is Delayed
 Drilling on the Garcia Lake test well will not be resumed until local sponsors have raised their $1,250 quota, Elmer Dameron and John McLean said today. They reported $400 of the amount already raised. Present drilling specifications call for a depth of 6,000 feet, the well having been previously stopped at 4,500 feet.

 Those who attended the meeting were Frank Givans, Mayor C. J. Paddock, H. V. Hennen, George Muse, Judge J. P. Slaton, Mr. Alderson, Judge Wilson, Jack Rose, A. H. Streu, Jas. W. Witherspoon, Charles Brooks, Leonard Foster, Grant Fuller, Wilson Gyles and Alex O. Thompson.
 Alex O. Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that if present plans materialize a lake from one and one-half miles to two miles long will be created. The lake is expected to be about one-fourth mile across. The cost of the proposed structure is expected to run from $50,000 to $75,000. Its construction, local leaders believe, will fit in with the present water conservation program.

The dam, if constructed, will range from 12 to 20 feet in height from the creek bed, running parallel with the present banks of the stream. The water will spill over the dam at about the same height as the bed of the old bridge. When completed the dam will be spanned by a new bridge.
 When filled, the proposed lake will back up to the railroad bridge, according to present calculations. Despite the fact that such a lake will require moving the golf course to a new location, sponsors feel that it will add much to this section in that the lake will be stocked with fish, and that it will afford ample space for boating.
 A similar lake near Canyon is reported to have priority over other projects in this area, but sponsors stated this week that they believe the lake practical—and hope that it may be secured. Since most of the lake will be in the state park, very little expense is calculated in securing land to form the bed of the lake.

Frances Borden Wins Cash Prize In Exposition Essay Contest

Notice this week from the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition listed Miss Frances Borden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Borden, as winner of fifth place in an essay contest sponsored by exposition officials. Her essay won a prize of $10. The essay is reproduced:

Why I Want to See the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition at Dallas. Being a patriot of my mother state and own nation, and having a desire to function individually as a "good neighbor" to my American brothers, I have a desire to visit the greatest host of the Southland, Dallas. For in Dallas is gathered the most encompassing knowledge and history of Texas, the Southwest and the two Americas, as has ever before been known in the history of man.

It has become an established fact in the world of education that eighty per cent of our learning comes through our eyes. In the city of the Southwest will be displayed a life time of education in natural, physical, commercial and geographical history. From the educational exhibits to the highest types of amusements will be displayed, the panorama of history of the Americas from the prehistoric ages to today.

No fundamentals nor minute detail has been omitted in the planning of this exposition. The Esplanade, the halls of science, art, and the exhibits of rare worth make this place compare with the "golden city of wealth," for which Cortez sought when he marched into these lands.

From what little reading matter as can be printed about the magnitude of this exposition, from the word of others who visited the Centennial Exposition in 1936, and with the promise that the Pan American Exposition is to be greater, even yet, I have already begun, in fancy of day dreams, to select the choice of its many wonders.

Little can the Texans and Americans realize their priceless heritage. The raw materials displayed today will become but moulding clay for our posterity. For those who visit the exposition, it promises to lift them out of a rut and stimulate their mental processes, and it will raise the cultural and fraternal standards of our American peoples.

I am of the opinion that a special invitation should be sent to all proverbial Scotchmen, for no where else on the face of mother earth can they obtain such a liberal education, indulge in the greatest forms of recreation, and feast their gullible vision for such a nominal sum.

Besides all the wonders and "colossals" for which I have so great a desire to see and study, there is one thing of utmost importance which draws me onward. Being a denizen of the drouth-stricken Fashandle area, I have a childish curiosity and desire to see a frog farm.

Section 1. That Article III, Section 52, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto another section to be known as Section 52d, which shall read as follows:

"Section 52d: Upon the vote of a majority of the resident qualified electors owning taxable property therein so authorizing, a county or road district may collect an annual tax for a period of not exceeding five (5) years to create a fund for constructing lasting and permanent roads and bridges or both. No contract involving the expenditure of any of such fund shall be valid unless, when it is made, money shall be on hand in such fund."

"At such election, the Commissioners' Court shall submit for adoption a road plan and designate the amount of special tax to be levied; the number of years said tax is to be levied; the location, description, and character of the roads and bridges; and the estimated cost thereof. The funds raised by such taxes shall not be used for purposes other than those specified in the plan submitted to the voters. Elections may be held from time to time to extend or discontinue said plan or to increase or diminish said tax. The Legislature shall enact laws prescribing the procedure hereunder.

"The provisions of this section shall apply only to Harris County and road districts therein."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State on the fourth Monday in August, 1937, at which election all voters favoring such proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the amendment to the Constitution providing that Harris County and any road district therein may upon a vote of the people therein adopt a road plan and levy taxes for road and bridge construction in lieu of the issuance of bonds"; those voters opposing said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "Against the amendment to the Constitution providing that Harris County and any road district therein may upon a vote of the people therein adopt a road plan and levy taxes for road and bridge construction in lieu of the issuance of bonds."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation.

Season Opens On Game Fish Here

Although recent rains stirred Tierra Blanca Creek to such an extent that fishermen were unable to take advantage of the opening of the fishing season on game fish and the use of artificial baits June 1, many sportsmen declare that they will generally improve fishing here this season. They cite as the chief improvement the fact that most of the moss and debris in the creek has been washed out.

Although sportsmen in other sections of the state have for the past month enjoyed the first 30 days of their open season, fishermen in this section have been delayed until June 1 on game fish, due to special restrictions.

A Frank Announcement About MARKED WOMEN

To every mother who fights her daughter's yearning for a gay night life; to every sister and sweetheart—and the men who love them—we believe "MARKED WOMAN" is the most significant drama of life, filmed since the advent of motion pictures.

Some women may be offended by the bold reality... some may be shocked by the honesty of a fearless story... "MARKED WOMAN," which comes to the Star Theatre Wednesday, June 23rd, preview Tuesday, June 22, is not a picture for children. Its utter directness compels us to restrict its showing to ADULTS ONLY.

"MARKED WOMAN" will open your eyes and show you the side of life you've read about but never known.

the 2nd day of August, 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 29 day of May, 1937, the file number of which is 2347, in which suit Frank F. Ferry, Kent Chandler and Farwell Winston, as Trustees, are plaintiffs, and W. F. Nicholas, Elda Nicholas, Minnie Law and her husband, Law, W. G. Harrell, Phillips Petroleum Company and Oliver Farm Equipment Sales Company are defendants, the nature of the Plaintiff's cause of action being alleged as follows:

That plaintiffs are Trustees under a Declaration of Trust dated December 23, 1933, recorded in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, and are assignees of the vendors under the contract hereinafter mentioned, which vendors were Francis C. Farwell and Frederick E. French, Trustees.

That heretofore, by written contract dated May 27, 1929, recorded in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Volume 64, page 142, the said Francis C. Farwell and Frederick E. French, as Trustees, contracted to sell to W. F. Nicholas the following described land in Deaf Smith County, Texas, to-wit: the Northwest Quarter (NW 1/4) of Section 22; the East half (E 1/2) of Section No. 27 and the North half (N 1/2) of section No. 34, all in Township No. 3 North of Range No. 1 East, of a Capitol Syndicate Subdivision in Deaf Smith County, Texas, as shown by plat of such subdivision of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas.

That said contract provides that the purchase price of said land is $16,800.00, payable on or before six years from November 1, 1929; that the vendee shall each year at the proper season sow at least 80 per cent of the land described in the contract to wheat; that the vendee shall, beginning with the year 1930, pay the taxes on the tract of land described in the contract before they become delinquent; that failure of the vendee to perform the covenants imposed upon him by such contract shall nullify the same and all payments made and all improvements placed on the land shall be kept by the vendors; that such contract is assignable. That plaintiffs have performed all of the covenants imposed upon them by the terms of such contract.

That no payments have been made on the purchase price of said land and the same was not sowed to wheat in the proper season in 1936, and taxes on the same for the years 1935 and 1936 were not paid by the defendants. That on account of the defendants' default in the payment of the purchase price of said land and in the filing of said land, and in the payment of taxes as provided in said contract, the plaintiffs have declared the contract for the sale of said land at an end and are entitled to recover the title to and possession of said land from the defendants and each of them.

That the defendants, Elda Nicholas, Minnie Law and her husband, Law, W. G. Harrell, Phillips Petroleum Company and Oliver Farm Equipment Sales Company, are claiming some interest in and to said land, the exact nature of which is not known by the plaintiffs, but whatever right, title or interest said defendants have in the land was acquired by virtue of the contract above mentioned, and is subordinate and inferior to plaintiffs' title and claim to the land.

Plaintiffs pray that defendants be cited to appear and answer their petition, and that the plaintiffs recover title to and possession of the land and improvements; that the contract for the sale of said land be declared at an end, and for general relief.

You are hereby commanded to summon the defendants W. F. Nicholas, Elda Nicholas, Minnie

Law and her husband, Law, and W. G. Harrell, and to serve this citation by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, but if there be no newspaper published in said county, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county in which a newspaper is published.

Herein fall not, but have you before said Court on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at my office in the City of Hereford, Texas, this the 29 day of May, 1937.

(Seal) L. H. FOSTER, Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas. Issued: This the 29 day of May, 1937.

Egg, Size of Football, Found In Madagascar and Sold for $10,000

New York.—The existence of a prehistoric bird which laid 24-pound eggs the size of a football, towered to a height of ten feet and, in flight, possibly gave rise to the legend of the "Great Roc" described in "The Arabian Nights," which is recalled in Time Magazine, which reports the sale in the United States of a huge egg of the ornithological terror which, known as "the elephant bird," roamed the island of Madagascar at approximately the end of the Glacial period.

Bought by a San Francisco collector at a reputed price of $10,000, the egg, found by a herdsman of the savage Tandroy tribe of Madagascar a quarter of a century ago, is about a foot long and ten inches across, and although it now has shrunk to a weight of six pounds, probably weighed 24 pounds when the mother bird laid it. Milton Smith Ray of San Francisco, purchaser of the rare egg, adds it to a collection of 75,000 eggs and sufficed birds which he already enjoys in his San Francisco home, the Time article states. The original price of the egg, sold by its discoverer to a native merchant at Madagascar, was five head of cattle.

Found by Herdsman.—A quarter-century ago in the southern part of Madagascar, a herdsman of the savage Tandroy tribe was tending his cattle on the banks of a river swollen by the torrential rains of late December and January. The tribesman caught sight of an object bobbing lightly on the turbid water, which he would have described, had he chanced to be a U. S. college man, as a soiled white football. When he fished it out he saw that it was an egg, and its great size recalled to his mind the stories he had heard around village fires of a mighty bird that once roamed the island. Wrapping the prize in his loincloth, he ran with it to the chief of his village. Word of the find sped from hut to drowsy hut, and after sundown the natives jubilantly shouted and danced the war dance which they call the herida. "The chief did not know that the egg was thousands of years old, that heavy rains had washed it out of a protecting alluvial deposit, but he did suspect that the white man in the town of Ambovombe might value it for their own curious reasons. That night the chief and a few companions carried the egg to Ambovombe. After hours of haggling, a merchant gave them five head of cattle for it. This man recognized the egg as that of the extinct Aepyornis titan or elephant bird, a long-necked creature with massive legs on which it stood ten feet high. From his hands the egg passed to the French administrator of the district; to another merchant, to a missionary named Gunerius Torvic. Last month Missionary Torvic reached Minnesota on leave, got in touch with an enthusiastic and learned egg collector of San Francisco named Milton Smith Ray. A deal was arranged. In San Francisco recently Ray treacherously unwrapped a package shipped by express, consisting of 12 boxes, one inside another, each one wrapped in connot. From the innermost box, Mr. Ray removed the Aepyornis titan egg—intact. Price of $10,000?

Mr. Ray would not say what he paid for the egg, but a fair guess is $10,000, Time continues. "It is about a foot long, about ten inches across, ivory colored, pockmarked by sand and insects. Much bigger than the dinosaur eggs found in the Gobi by Explorer Roy Chapman Andrews, its shell is one-eighth inch thick, weighs six pounds and must have weighed 24 pounds when the mother bird laid it. Aepyornis titan did not become extinct until after the Glacial age which is almost yesterday as geological time goes. Little is known of its habits, except that it ate vegetable matter, probably snakes and lizards, too. In Madagascar during the past century, several nearly complete skeletons and many fragments have been found. Scholars suspect that Aepyornis titan must have given rise to the legend of a great bird called the roc, which is told in the Arabian Nights."

FARMERS AND RANCHMEN CONSTRUCT SMALL DAMS AND EARTHEN TANKS

Construction of small dams and earthen tanks under the provisions of the range conservation section of the agricultural conservation program are of special interest to Northwest Texas farmers, as indicated by request for such help piling into the offices of county agricultural agents.

During the past month, dams were measured on six ranches in Hemphill county and other dams are now in process of construction. Ranchmen here feel that getting the small dams well established and distributed will enable them, over a period of time, to construct larger dams that will aid in putting up a reserve water supply on the ranch.

In cooperation with a machinery company, two tanks digging demonstrations were held in Taylor county recently and were attended by 285 farmers and ranchmen. They were demonstrations of digging tanks with a power shovel.

The first location for a farm pond or dam to be built in Moore county under the 1937 program was recently checked on the land of A. A. Stewart. The assistant county agricultural agent pointed out that the location was desirable because it provided the recommended number of acres in the watershed in relation to the amount of water that the dam will hold. Also the watershed was contour furrowed which will produce enough grass to check the run-off water and prevent washing and filling of the dam with silt and top soil.

In the spring of 1936, Stewart did the first pasture furrowing in Moore county. The pasture furrows were run the contour and retained the rain to such an extent that the contoured pasture produced about twice as much grass as the adjoining pasture which was not treated.

Change At Once.

It is wise to change the bed linen in the guest room immediately upon the departure of a guest even if she has been kind enough to make up the bed before leaving. You know then the bed is in readiness for another guest and no apologies are necessary for the hasty making of the bed.
