Hereford Leads Area In New Home Building

The construction surge in Hereford continued its upward swing last month with building permits of $327,000—most of it coming from the construction of new homes throughout the city.

Since the first of the year, some 169 permits have been issued for the building of residences in the city, making Hereford one of the top home-building cities in the West Texas area.

Dudley Bayne, city manager, said Monday that through the month of August of this year, 118 permits were issued for the construction of homes here. This total was second in West Texas only to Amarillo and surpassed such cities as Midland, Borger, Canyon and Lamesa.

The total through the end of August showed Hereford with 116 new homes, topped only by Amarillo's 123 through the same period.

Other cities, through the same period, were Canyon with 20, Dimmitt 12, Childress 9, Dalhart 17, Borger 4, Littlefield 4, Perryton 8, Friona 84, Lamesa 6, existing sub divisions, thus saving the city curbing and gutter expenses through the building of new subdivisions.

County Judge H. C. Williams said this week he plans to hold sessions in County Court four days a week, Monday through Thursday, until a backlog of cases can be cleared away.

"May we also dismiss the 40 cases that are older than that which also have not been arrested?" Shuval came back.

Sales Tax Money Boosts City Plans

Hereford probably will realize close to $60,000 in the current fiscal year from the one cent city sales tax that residents approved last April, City Manager Dudley Bayne said Monday.

Bayne said the city has several projects planned and will set about achieving them as money becomes available. He listed these:

—a new administration building for the Hereford Airport.

Water Drive Brings In 200

The Deaf Smith County Water Association is making an all-out effort to secure more new members and have a good showing of support when water importation feasibility studies are completed within the next year.

Statistics show it takes a city of 20,000 to support an 18-hole course, but Hereford is the only town in the county and this area is approaching that population, Bayne said.

The group, when it returned to Governor Smith, told him that the Texas Water Plan would be good for the state and recommended his approval and enactment.

The concert Saturday will start at 7:30 p. m. at Amarillo Caprock High School. The band members rehearse on Friday and Saturday, with Dr. Ray Luke of Oklahoma City University the clinician for the rehearsal.

The association also hosted districts throughout the state when they made a visit here in September. The Corps did an appraisal of the economies of the county and said they now recognize the need for importing water to this area.

The local band members competed with other bandsmen from Class AAA and Class AAAA bands throughout the area — Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Caprock, Tascosa, Palo Duro, Canyon, Perryton, Tulia and Dumas.

Everyone is urged to join," Pulliam said. "It can be an individual or a business and you don't have to own a farm or have ever cranked up an irrigation well."

Representing the Hereford band on the All-Region Band are Steve Barnes, Jeanie Coffin, Joe De La Garza, Catherine Emerson, Howard Fish, Angela Grubbs, David Henslee, Anita Hughes, Jeff Keyes, Gary London, Marilyn Monical, Laura Pierce, Alesia Ragsdale and Connie Walker.

Dues for the local association are $10 per year and for the state-wide organization of Water Inc. they are $25.

The next steps in competition for these band students will be area tryouts in January and state tryouts in February.

Local dues are used in the promotion of importing water to this area and part of the money from local dues goes to Water, Inc., Pulliam said.

Immunizations For Measles Come Tuesday

Chemist: LSD Is In Pills

Seventy pills taken in a raid of a local apartment last week contained a high concentration of LSD, according to a report Tuesday from an Amarillo chemist to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson.

The pills were found during a raid Thanksgiving Eve by police and sheriff's officers of the apartment of Joe and Shirley Baker at 112 Ave. H. The pills were sent to Amarillo for tests to determine definitely if they were LSD, as suspected.

Shuval had listed a worthless check case on his list of those ready for trial Tuesday but then requested in open court that the case be passed at this time, because it had been put on by mistake. The man has not been arrested yet, Shuval said.

Charges for possession of a dangerous drug were in the process of being prepared by County Attorney Andy Shuval, but that was changed to a felony charge of offering to sell dangerous drugs to a minor.

The group, when it returned to Governor Smith, told him that the Texas Water Plan would be good for the state and recommended his approval and enactment.

The couple, after obtaining the service of a Lubbock attorney, were arraigned in Lubbock, and their bond was set at $5,000 each for the felony charge.

The group, when it returned to Governor Smith, told him that the Texas Water Plan would be good for the state and recommended his approval and enactment.

The felony charge was filed after a minor signed a statement saying the couple had offered to sell a dangerous drug.

ber," Williams said, "So I imagine we'd better call the panel back on Dec. 15."

There were 15 cases listed for possible jury trial on Tuesday, but only three pleaded innocent and all waived jury trial. One case was passed, to be reset later; three cases were disposed of by guilty pleas; two cases were dismissed on the motion of the defense attorney, with the concurrence of the county attorney; four cases were set for a later date, at which time attorneys have indicated they will enter a plea; and two cases — the man who has not been arrested and a man for whom an attorney had to be appointed Tuesday — were reset for a later date.

The prospective jury list for the county court: Mrs. C. C. Ellis, Mrs. Luther Ellis, Roy Evans, Stanley Fry, Troy Gandy, Charles Gresham, Bobbie Griego, Joe Hacker, Johnnie Haney, Robert Harris, Mrs. Paul Harvey, Donald D. Henslee, Frank Hernandez, H. L. Higgins, Chindo Hill.

Also, Mrs. John H. Hunter, Joe Hunsinger, Vernon Inmon, Earl Jackson, Lee Kent, Doyle Vines, Mrs. E. J. Kirksey, Werner Koelzer, Mrs. W. A. Lamm, W. T. Thompson, John H. McIver, Don McNeese, Johnneese Means, Mrs. Pat Neal, Mrs. C. Palmer Norton, Mrs. Ruth Owen, Charles Skinner, Mrs. William Z. Penn, Wayne Phillips and Lester Rape.

In court Tuesday, the Judge dismissed one aggravated assault charge against Arthur Sanchez and another against Miguel Hinojosa because in both cases the complaining witnesses no longer wanted to prosecute.

The guilty pleas were from Don Moffatt, fined $10, plus court costs and restitution, on a $30 bad check; Joe G. Paiz, fined $1 and court costs for aggravated assault; and Gene Griffin, fined $50 and court costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail, with sentence probated for one year, and calling for Griffin to pay $10 per month for probation costs, for driving while intoxicated.

Various defense attorneys have said they will enter a plea on these dates for their clients: Lorenzo S. Mejia, Dec. 8, making alcoholic beverage available to a minor; Adolpho Villegas, Dec. 3, driving while intoxicated; Rosa Luna, Dec. 17, aggravated assault; and Jose Lu-music director, said the band and choir will perform Christmas favorites. Gollehon will direct the band and Jane Guley the choir.

na, Dec. 17, aggravated assault. Heriberto Medina's case for making alcoholic beverage available to a minor came up Tuesday but was reset for Feb. 9 because he had no attorney. The court was under the impression Medina was coming to court Tuesday with his own lawyer, but Medina said he was financially unable to get one.

In other action Monday, Williams took the innocent plea of John Ironmonger to driving while intoxicated and set a hearing for next Monday, at which time Ironmonger must appear with his attorney, Charles Fairweather of Amarillo, for the setting of a trial date. Ironmonger is free on $500 bond.

THE JUDGE arraigned Jose Ramirez Monday for driving while intoxicated, second offense, which is a felony, and set bond at $1,000. Ramirez was unable immediately to post bond and was returned to the county jail, where he was first placed Sunday night after his arrest. Ramirez' lawyer will be appointed when his case comes up in district court.

Williams said he plans to move along with his intention — announced last week — of setting trial dates on every case on the county court docket so the backlog of cases can be disposed of, either through conviction, acquittal or dismissal. He will go along with several recommended December trial dates Shuval had already prepared at the time of that announcement, the judge said.

Shuval is reported to be privately annoyed at the new procedure, because he feels he is better able to know when a case is ready for trial, because of his periodic communications with the various lawyers involved and his own individual work on the cases.

Price Applauds POW Camp Raid

Congressman Bob Price applauded the recent commando attempt to release Americans being held in North Vietnam, "even though it resulted in the cancellation of my second scheduled meeting with the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris Peace Talks."

In a speech prepared for delivery today at the Plainview Kiwanis Club, Price told of his September 11 meeting with the North Vietnamese and of his attempts of three days to reschedule a proposed November 23 meeting with Nguyen Minh Vy, Deputy Chief of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Peace Talks.

"I talked with Vy's secretary several times but was told each time that he was busy and that I should try to contact him later," Price said.

"At my September 11 meeting with Vy, I gave him a list of Texans and other Americans who are prisoners or have been listed as missing in action. I was quite hopeful of getting a report on these men at the second meeting we had agreed upon," he added.

"Vy's secretary was very polite during my telephone conversation with her last week and I believe that Vy would have seen me if his superiors would have allowed him to," Price said.

"I remain hopeful that I will be able to obtain some information with regard to American POW's in Vietnam at a later date. In the meantime, I was pleased to join with several of my colleagues in the House in sponsoring a resolution commending the officers and men involved in the commando raid," he added.

"The courage they displayed in this hazardous and humanitarian undertaking has, I am sure, lifted the hopes and spirits of our brave men imprisoned and fighting, as well as Americans everywhere," Price said.

oned Watts only briefly about the repairs of his car.

Don Hendrix, a member of the local highway patrol office, was the officer who first arrived at the scene of the accident and was the officer who administered the breath test to Flores.

Hendrix said Flores had signed a consent form to take the breath test and the results showed he had 0.19 per cent alcohol content. He said the Department of Public Safety's standard point where intoxication is definite is 0.10 and Flores was well above that percentage. "HE WAS definitely intoxicated," Hendrix said.

The prosecution then rested its case, without further questioning from Lowder.

Lowder called as his only witness, the defendant. In reply to Lowder's questions, Flores admitted he ran into the Watts car. He also admitted he had drunk about 12 beers prior to the accident.

Lowder, after Flores said he had been drinking beer before the accident, rested his defense for Flores.

School Asks Pupils About Drugs Here

By MARSHALL DAY Staff Writer

The Hereford school system, with the beginning of the 1971-72 school year, will teach drug education classes to students in grades five through 12.

The new program, its needs and student interest already are being studied at the high school here through the use of questionnaires filled out by students, and the results of these tests are expected to give administrators an insight on what can and should be done in teaching the new class.

Jerry Don George, high school principal, said the results of the questionnaires should be available for consideration by next week and at that time the results will be taken to the Panhandle Educational Service Organization (PESO) where they will be studied.

PESO held a workshop recently where teachers and school representatives from throughout the Panhandle, discussed the new class. Another workshop, where the results of the local test will be presented, will be conducted next week.

"What we are doing now is gathering this information where we might be of some help to PESO," George said. "We will find out what areas the kids think we need to study, what areas we need to gather more information, or if we even need this class at all."

Rodney Laubhan, Jo Solomon and one high school student attended the first workshop of PESO and after they attend the second meeting where all information will be compiled, they will return to see about setting up the local curriculum for drug education.

Last week, two students from each home room at the high school went to the school cafeteria for a student workshop. A local doctor addressed the group on drug education.

A program was presented Wednesday on drugs and on Thursday and Friday each of the two students selected from the home room returned to class to conduct another discussion session with the students. Each of the classes were divided between the two home room representatives and the discus-

W. C. Hromas Funeral Rites Held Monday

Funeral services for Willie Clyde (Bill) Hromas, 74, of 307 Sunset were conducted Monday afternoon in First United Methodist Church, of which he was a member, the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Glenn Cemetery at Bluffdale. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Serving as pall bearers were Bill Phipps, Dean Stallings, Glenn Watts, Jim Cherry, Grant Hanna and Roland Hairgrove.

Mr. Hromas died Saturday morning in an Amarillo hospital after an illness of several weeks. He had lived in Hereford since 1936, when he moved from Dimmitt, and was a retired builder.

A native of Kansas, he was born April 13, 1896 at Narka and came to Texas as a child. He was a veteran of military service in World War I.

He and Belle Harris were married June 18, 1941 at Bluffdale. Mrs. Hromas survives him, with three sisters, Mrs. Mary Duncan of Albany, Mrs. W. H. Tinsley and Mrs. Elsie Tinsley of Hico, and two brothers, Earnest and Joe, both of Bovina.

sion of drugs was recorded for use in determining what areas the students are most interested in.

"Some people have a misinterpretation as to what we are actually doing," George said. "Some seem to think we are already teaching the kids this drug education, but what we are actually doing is letting them discuss it themselves so we can learn from them what needs to be done."

The new class is a result of recent state legislation that requires all public schools in the state to teach some form of drug education. The legislation was passed during the last session of the legislature and becomes effective in every school throughout the state at the beginning of the next school year.

Rites Conducted Tuesday For Juan Orta, 18

Funeral services for Juan Orta, 18, who was killed Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile on a service road on U. S. 60 about a mile west of Canyon, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Francisco Madrigal of St. Joseph's Mission conducted the funeral mass. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery, directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

The Hereford youth was struck as he walked on a service road near the intersection with First Street, Canyon officers said. He was taking a tire to be repaired when the accident occurred about 6:30 p. m. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a Canyon hospital.

Born at Elsa, he came to Deaf Smith County from that city in 1960 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orenco Orta. The family

Simpson Family Holds Reunion

Including some former neighbors from the Jumbo community southeast of Hereford, the M. L. Simpson family mustered a crowd of 80 at a reunion and dinner Sunday in the IOOF Hall.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Simpson Sr. arranged the reunion, which was attended by relatives and friends from four states. M. L. Simpson Jr., Bill and Bob Simpson and their families, who live on the home place on the Dimmitt Highway and nearby farms, acted as hosts.

A catered dinner was served at noon, then the afternoon was spent "just visiting."

In addition to the three sons, the senior Simpsons' daughters, Mrs. Joe Nelson of Dimmitt and Mrs. William Adams of Albuquerque, and members of their families were present.

Mrs. Simpson's brother, Finis Hunter, and Mrs. Hunter of Nevada, Mo., were among the visitors as were Mrs. Sam Hunter and family of Dalhart and Mrs. Carroll Hunter of Lubbock.

From still another state were Mr. and Mrs. Winston Adams of Oklahoma. Friends who were once neighbors of the Simpsons included the Clyde Renfro and Jim Elders of Dimmitt and Mrs. Lynn Axe. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Axe.

Use More Than 1 Tree Specie

Should a community feature only one kind of tree in its beautification plans?

Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist, reports that many Texas towns and communities are asking this question and his answer is the disadvantages outweigh the advantages.

The chief disadvantage, he notes, is the possibility of large scale losses due to disease or insect infestation. When 70 or 80 percent of the tree population is made up of a single specie, a community can get into trouble in a hurry, he warns.

Many northern communities have suffered serious elm tree losses from Dutch elm disease and several years ago towns in the northeast lost practically all of their chestnut trees to chestnut blight. In both cases, he points out, losses were especially serious because large tree populations were affected. Not only did it affect the aesthetic value of the communities, but there were serious financial difficulties involved. The cost of removing large numbers of trees at one time to prevent storm damage to utility lines and property became a serious burden to many community governing bodies.

Many authorities, says Janne, are currently recommending that a single tree specie represent no more than 15 percent of the total population in a given area. While this may be somewhat conservative, it does signify the concern for the need of diversifying tree species.

Examples of some of the better medium to large trees that should receive consideration for community plantings are listed by Janne. They include Thornless Honeylocust, sycamore, cedar, elm, live oak, Shumard oak, Texas oak, pecan, fruitless mulberry and many others. Among the small trees, consideration should be given to red-

Miss Short Is Honoree At Shower In Friona

Complimenting Miss Mary Short of Friona, whose marriage to Jerry Criswell of Fort Hood is planned for January, a shower was given recently in the home of Mrs. G. H. Goggans at Friona.

Miss Short and her parents, the Charles B. Shorts, are former residents of Hereford.

The bride-to-be, a senior student at West Texas State University, received guests at the shower with her mother, her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Jesse H. Criswell, and her grandmother, Mrs. B. B. Noyes of Hereford. Refreshments were served from a table covered with pink net draped and tied with satin bows over pink linen. Sweet peas formed the centerpiece.

Hostesses with Mrs. Goggans, who served in turn to pour tea and coffee, were Mmes. Hop Lewis, Bee Westbrook, L. R. Hand, C. W. Tannahill, Carl Flincker, Bill McLaughlin, Bud Ferguson, Elroy Wilson, Melvin Hassenpflug, E. H. Bradshaw, Vernon Roberts, B. P. Sims, Buck Followell and Buddy Stowers.

Guests included Mrs. Richard Kuper and Mrs. John Taylor of Hereford and Miss Linda Allen of Lubbock.

C Of C Women Told Of Needs

Needs still to be met in several community enterprises to which Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division has contributed, were reported at the December executive committee luncheon on Tuesday noon in Hereford Country Club.

Volunteers are needed to assist in the Satellite Center for retarded children, Doris Hardin announced, in either morning or afternoon sessions during the next three months.

Several items still needed in the new Day Care Center were mentioned as Mrs. Jimmie Gilentine reported on its progress, saying that high chairs and nursery chairs are in short supply and that cash scholarships are welcomed for children whose parents cannot pay even the small fees for their care at the Center.

Mrs. Hardin also reported increasing demands on the family planning program recently begun at the Public Health Clinic here, saying that it is now scheduled on two days each week and a second doctor is assisting Dr. Gerald Payne, who started the program.

Mrs. Jack McKinster, president, announced that membership in the Women's Division now totals 89. She appointed Mmes. Gilentine, Shep Townsend and Bill Lamm as a committee to nominate a first vice president and one director to be elected for a term starting in January.

A note of thanks from 50 members of the Lubbock Chamber Women's Division, who visited Hereford and toured Holly Sugar plant last month, was read by Mrs. M. C. Adams, chairman of tour arrangements. Mrs. Adams added that similar tours are planned for next spring.

Mrs. E. W. Young, chairman of decorations for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held in January, announced that Winter Wonderland is the theme selected, and asked for donations after Christmas of green or white flocked trees from which branches can be broken for use in the decorations.

Mrs. Lamm, who lately left the post of secretary in the Chamber of Commerce office after seven years of service, was presented a gift in appreciation for her aid to the Women's Division. Mrs. McKinster expressed thanks for the "over and above duty" services as she gave Mrs. Lamm a gold bracelet with one charm, a Hereford Bull's head.

Scouts Try To Keep Candle Lit

Den 4, Pack 51 of the Cub Scouts worked on den achievement awards Tuesday.

Meeting in the home of Nancy Noggler, den mother, they began a new practice called Surprise Disciplinary Candle. The candle is lit at the start of the den meeting and continues burning as long as the boys' behaviour is good.

If the Scouts misbehave, the candle is extinguished. A surprise will be given the boys whenever the candle is still burning at the end of a meeting.

Refreshments were served by Bobby Torres. Danny Romo closed the meeting with the Scout Promise. Other Cub Scouts at the meeting were Roger Torres, Barry Morgan, Gary Vogel, Steven Parsley and Kreig Gallagher.

By MELVIN YOUNG

The final census count for 1970 is in and the nation now has a total of 201,765,770 people. The final count also verified what most people already suspected — that the nation's population is moving from the heartland to the already over-populated coastal areas, and that the people are leaving the rural areas and migrating to the cities.

California, which has now become the most populous state in the nation, will pick up 5 seats in the house of representatives and Texas, now fourth in the nation, will have a net gain of 1 seat in the house. And that, when the reapportionment comes, will probably be added in the Houston area.

The 18th Congressional District, which had a net loss over the 1970 census, may gain a county or two — but certainly no more representation.

Actually, the Hereford-Friena-Dimmitt areas are about the only real increases shown in the 18th Congressional District if our memory hasn't failed us, and many of the towns and counties below the Caprock have had serious reverses.

Of course it is unfortunate that the population shift is going to the coastal areas and the cities since they are now experiencing so many problems, areas. In those rural areas where jobs are available, it has been due to the acquisition of industry as is the case in Hereford. Farmers and ranchers, now using modern equipment, no longer need the number of hands they did 30 years ago, and one farmer will cultivate 10 times as much land as he normally did during the thirties. Times have changed.

Hereford's industry is agriculturally oriented and we certainly believe that to be good. Not only does it attract more people and supply jobs for more people, but it also helps to keep the local agricultural economy at a high level. We're most fortunate here, and if you don't believe it, just take a trip off the "Cap" and look over the situation there.

Incidentally, this hasn't "just happened." It has happened because of the far-sightedness of a lot of good people around Hereford who were willing to spend their time and money to keep the right kind of industry coming in. And it will take the same kind of thinking and hard work to keep our area moving forward.

The local United Fund effort has apparently fallen well short of its goal this year, and it may be a little difficult for some of the agencies to get by. Certainly, all will have to cut-back and "make-do." And we're sure that all will do so.

However, you parents who have daughters in the Camp Fire program, might be interested in knowing that the local Rotary Club has voted to contribute $1,000 to the organization this year to help with the problem. Camp Fire has grown rapidly here the past few years and the growth alone has caused many problems; not only financial but also with the volunteer help situation. The group is almost always in need of additional leaders and we understand that more groups could be handled if leaders were available. That problem, and money, seem to crop-up yearly, but in spite of it, the people who are working are doing a marvelous job with the girls. This is one of the finest programs available for young ladies.

The $1,000 donated by the Rotary Club will still leave the Council short of its budget, but we're betting that the group will make out with no disruption of the program. They've always come through with flying colors.

And we have another "hole-in-one" reported from the local links. Sam Long, salesman for Dick Norwood Chevrolet, aced No. 8 Sunday afternoon using a 7-iron. Long was in a foursome with Charles Skinner, Dr. Chaner and Roy Hartman.

Last week, Glyn Billbre, who also works at Dick Norwood Chevrolet, aced No. 2.

Post-Nuptial Shower For Mrs. Steven Lee Meyers

The home of Mrs. Warren Owen, 106 Elm, was the setting for a post-nuptial shower honoring Mrs. Steven Lee Meyers, the former Miss Judy Ruth Orsborn, Monday afternoon.

The couple was married Friday evening in Trinity Baptist Church by the Rev. Clarence Powell, pastor.

Following a weekend trip to Ruidoso the couple is at home at St. Vrain, N.M.

Co-hosting the shower with Mrs. Owen were Mes. Gene Poteet, Charlie Holt, Earl Stagner, Sam Long, Don T. Martin, and Howard Engle of Adrian.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Owen and received by the honoree, her mother, Mrs. John Orsborn, her husband's mother, Mrs. Cliff Cole of Dimmitt, and Mrs. Floyd Neill, who served as Mrs. Meyer's matron of honor.

Guests registered at a table centered with a bud vase holding a single red rose. Miss Elizabeth Candy and Mes. Dean Crawford, Mike McKinney and Coy Riggan alternated in registering and serving guests.

Cake squares in ivory and red rose decor were served from a table laid with an ivory linen cloth which Mrs. Owen brought back from a recent trip to Ireland.

A silver candelabra holding ivory candles amidst red roses centered the serving table.

Red baby rose corsages were worn by members of the house-party.

For the afternoon Mrs. Meyers chose a white dress, hemmed in gray, with white and gray striped jacket featuring a gray belt, and black accessories.

In the Middle Ages, the groom slipped a ring on his bride's ring finger in accordance with an ancient belief that this digit was connected directly to the heart, the seat of love.

Offices Filled For Short Term

Offices vacated in Sugar Blues TOPS Club by transfer of members to a new club at Vega, were filled in a special election at the meeting Monday evening in Community Center. The new officers will serve until the regular election in March.

Draper reporter. They will work with Mrs. Woody McDermitt, president, and Mrs. A. S. Batterman, vice president.

Mmes. Don Ferguson, Gene Fangman, Alfonso Bromann, Harry Bromann and Bob Brockman of the Vega community, who have been members of Sugar Blues group, are transferring to the recently-formed Vega TOPS Club.

Mrs. Paschel was declared winner of a 13-week contest which ended Monday, and was presented 14 books of trading stamps as a prize for showing the greatest weight loss in that period.

Mrs. Rains was runner-up. Mrs. Jimmy Lassiter and Mrs. George Landtroop were given honorable mention. Combined weight loss of the four totaled 56 pounds. A new contest, to close Jan. 4 was started.

Meeting time for the winter months was changed to 6:30 p. m. from the usual 7 p. m. The club meets at Community Center each Monday evening, and invites others to join who are interested in the objectives of TOPS - Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

Former Local Minister Buried

Funeral services were conducted Friday at Friona for Loyd C. Chapin, 78, a former Hereford resident whose survivors include a sister, Mrs. D.C. Allmon of this city.

A minister in Churches of Christ for many years, Mr. Chapin died Nov. 25 at the home of a son, Doyle Chapin, in Cassville, Mo. He was buried in the Friona Cemetery.

He had served as minister at Friona, Hereford, Adams, Okla. and Liberal, Kan., also at churches in Pennsylvania, New York, Arkansas and California, helping to build several church buildings.

Survivors include his wife, Lena Adcock Chapin; two daughters, Mrs. June Jones of Amarillo and Mrs. Jean Coley of Liberal, Kan.; two sons, T. C. Chapin of Grand Junction, Colo. and Doyle of Cassville, and the sister in Hereford.

Relatives Go To Attend Funeral

Two Hereford women and a sister from Amarillo left Sunday for Anaheim, Calif., where funeral arrangements were pending for their brother-in-law, Albert W. Blair. His death occurred suddenly late Saturday.

Mrs. J. W. McIver and Mrs. Delbert Ruland, with Mrs. Ansel Arden of Amarillo, all sisters of Mrs. Blair, went to Anaheim for the funeral.

In addition to his wife Mr. Blair is survived by a daughter and a son living in California, and another son in military service. He had once lived in Hereford for a time, and had visited here frequently.

Hereford Enters Pampa Cage Tournney Today

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces, fresh from back-to-back triumphs that required muscle in the closing minutes, carry their 4-1 record into the Top O' Texas basketball tournament at Pampa today.

Coach Ron Mayberry's squad opens at 3:45 p. m. today against Canyon. In other first round games today, Elk City plays the Pampa sophomores at 2 p. m., Dumas and Wichita Falls clash at 5:30 p. m., Woodward, Okla., and Pampa play at 7:15 p. m., and Burkburnett and Perryton play at 9 p. m.

The Hereford-Canyon winner will meet the winner of the Elk City-Pampa sophs match in a 1:45 p. m. game Friday, with the winner of that game then hitting the court at 7:15 p. m.

Friday — about four hours after the first game ends — against the Dumas-Wichita Falls victor. The Friday night winner then will advance into the 9 p. m. Saturday finals, with the loser playing a 7 p. m. game Saturday for third place.

All 10 places in the tournament will be decided, with each tournament team assured three games. Hereford will have to play four games to win the championship because of the way the pairings are arranged. Canyon was forced into overtime to beat Lockney, an 81-38 victim to Hereford in the first game of the season. But Canyon lost only 50-49 to Phillips Tuesday night. The night before, Hereford beat Phillips, in overtime, 64-57.

The Whitefaces added a 68-63 verdict over Levelland Tuesday night. Mayberry will go into the tournament with a starting line-up chosen from among these six players: guard Mike Wartes, guard Keith Kitchens, guard Dana Rush, center John McNey, forward Blake Arnwine and forward David Myers. All are seniors except Kitchens, a sophomore.

In reserve are John Sparks, Jeff Loerwald, Lester Mays, Harold Schmucker and Cliff Herring. Kitchens scored 18 points — 15 of them in the second half — to lead the point production against Phillips. McNey added 13.

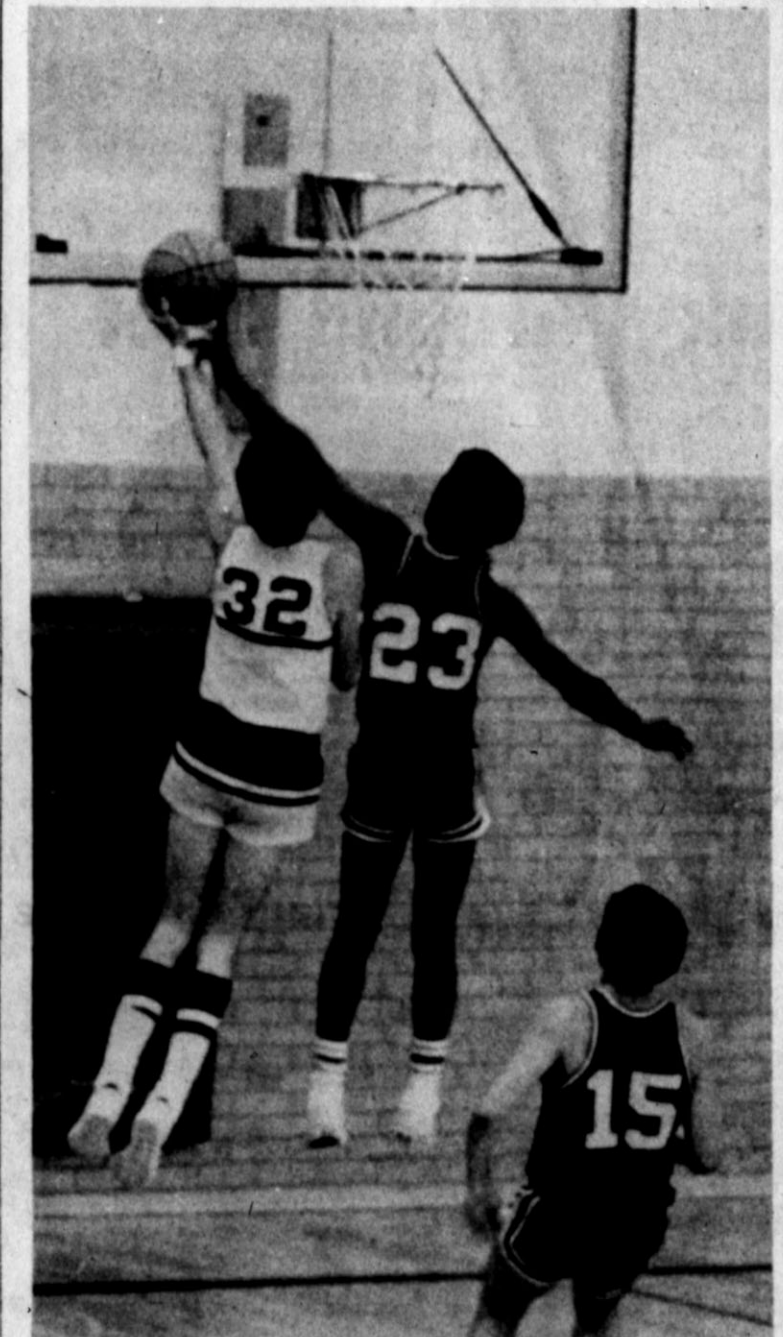

Wartes, who had 5 points against Phillips, tossed in 17 against Levelland's Lobos, with McNey contributing 16 and Kitchens 11.

DOWN TO THE WIRE — Phillips' Raymond Guest (54) pulls down the rebound on Mike Wartes' (15) missed free throw with 29 seconds remaining to keep alive the Blackhawk's chances against Hereford Monday night. Phillips scored a free throw with 18 seconds remaining to tie the game, but the Whitefaces won in overtime, 64-57.

The game was tied, 43-43, with 6:31 to play, but Sparks hit five straight free throws and followed up with a field goal after the one charity shot he missed to lead Hereford into a 50-47 edge. After Phillips hit a basket to close the game to 50-49, Kitchens hit two free throws and McNey one to raise the count to 53-49 and Kitchens scored from 8 feet out to put the Herd into a 55-49 advantage with just two minutes to play.

CONTESTED GOAL — Brake Arnwine (32) drives for a score in Hereford's 68-63 victory Tuesday night over Levelland. Pervis Bledsoe (23) tried to block the shot, with Levelland teammate Gary Richerson (15) trailing the play.

After Hereford lost the ball out of bounds, Phillips quickly scored again and when Sparks missed an under-the-basket shot, it was 55-54. Hereford with one minute left. Then Hereford rebounded a missed Phillips shot and called time out with 51 seconds to play, tried to stall a n

If you have some friends that you haven't seen lately, you are quite likely to run into them if you will just start out Christmas shopping. Seems like that's where everybody is these days — and high time, too.

MY SHOPPING WAS for something more prosaic (Well I figure on starting my Christmas chopping about Dec. 20, as usual) but the other day I saw Jennie Buckner for the first time in ages as we met at the door to the dime store, and then encountered Florence Traweek.

She was at the card counter, saying that she simply had to get her Christmas cards because she never liked to send one without writing at least a little note on it and she didn't have much time left.

Then I said "hello" quickly to Mae Fralin, who had her hands full of new merchandise that she was arranging on a shelf, and on up the street passed Carrie Mae Doak, saying that she has less time than usual "now that we are staying open at night"—a couple of views from the other side of the counter in the holiday rush.

Looking her usual serene self and not at all rushed, Eva Gilliland admitted that she was short of time too in this busy season. And aren't we all?

THE ARLIE DEANS returned on the weekend from a visit in Albuquerque with their daughter, Mrs. Mickey Miller, and her family. Intended as a pleasant Thanksgiving get-together, the trip was marred by the sudden death of Miller's mother while they were there.

She was Mrs. Myra Miller, a resident of Albuquerque for 52 years and an active club-woman. The Hereford couple attended funeral services before they came home.

Mrs. Mickey Miller is the former Louise Dean of Hereford. The Millers are the parents of three daughters; one was at home from Portales, where she attends Eastern New Mexico University, another is in high school and the third a student in the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque.

THIS WEEK I saw some people who saw Mary Jo and Dick Godwin when they paid a too-brief visit to friends last week. They were here from their new home in Phoenix for parties given Linda and Glenn Toomey while that couple visited Kathlee Palmer from Seattle.

FAMILY VISITS during the Thanksgiving holidays were too numerous to mention. But to mention one or two, Ann and Ralph McCullough had their children and families, the James Killians and Julia from Clovis and the Pat McCulloughs and sons, Clay and Don, from Houston. The latter family also were guests of the J. C. McCrackens.

To the Stan Knox home came the Marvin Berrys from Fort Worth and the two Knox sons, Steve and Bryan, from Texas Tech. The men went hunting to round out the week, and there was a quail dinner Sunday.

During normal times, more than two and a half trillion gallons of water annually tumble over Great Falls, 10 miles south of Washington, D. C.

Early Inventions Had No Patents

LUBBOCK — The first man to rub two sticks together to start a fire had a good invention — but no patents to protect it. The inventor of the wheel did as well and suffered the same fate.

The inventor's tale in a technological age is a different story. Just ask Dr. Harry W. Parker of Texas Tech University's chemical engineering faculty.

Parker has more than 70 patents, and the only thing he has in common with the inventors of fire and the wheel is the creativity to dream up solutions only wished for by others.

Parker believes creativity is a talent, but one he said that could be developed or at least "improved upon."

There are two ways to approach invention creatively, according to Parker.

"You either have a problem and look for ways to solve it," he said, "or you recognize a peculiar phenomenon and then find a problem it can solve."

There are dry spells, he said, remembering one Saturday afternoon when he came up with three patentable ideas and one three-month period when the idea wellspring went as dry as old bones.

Creativity is just the beginning of the line for the inventor, however.

There still are successful private inventors-by-profession, and those who have succeeded with once-in-a-lifetime inventions, but Parker pointed out some of their problems.

The independent inventor, he said, has to add to creativity the financial resources to support himself while he's problem-solving as well as the funds to promote and sell the invention once it's patented.

In a technological age, too, patentable ideas often are extensions of complicated industrial processes with which the private inventor could have no opportunity to work.

Most of Parker's patents were obtained before he came to Texas Tech, when he was working for the Phillips Petroleum Company.

He was a research group leader in the Production Research Branch of the Research and Development Department at Bartlesville, Okla.

Most inventors today, he explained, apply creativity to a storehouse of technological training. Within a company, the inventor is furnished a good environment — facilities and management encouragement. He is given time, and a separate group of people to handle licensing and sales for his inventions.

Although a university provides some of this, most of the "creative work comes out in research papers instead of patents," he said. The papers written on research investigations are freely exchanged at scholarly meetings and in publications.

Most of Parker's inventions relate to oil production. One, for instance, was a method using natural heat convection currents to recover oil from oil shale after the shale had been crushed by an underground nuclear explosion.

To meet the U. S. Patent Office's standard of creativity, an idea must be one "not obvious to one skilled in the art," but to the creative person, the idea doesn't necessarily have to go through the patent office.

"There is creativity in teaching," Parker has found, and at home his own creative talent is expressed in furniture design and building.

"Some people like to start with plans," he said, "but I want to start from scratch and make my own plans."

That allows for more creativity.

Early Inventions Had No Patents

LUBBOCK — The first man to rub two sticks together to start a fire had a good invention — but no patents to protect it. The inventor of the wheel did as well and suffered the same fate.

The inventor's tale in a technological age is a different story. Just ask Dr. Harry W. Parker of Texas Tech University's chemical engineering faculty.

Parker has more than 70 patents, and the only thing he has in common with the inventors of fire and the wheel is the creativity to dream up solutions only wished for by others.

Parker believes creativity is a talent, but one he said that could be developed or at least "improved upon."

There are two ways to approach invention creatively, according to Parker. "You either have a problem and look for ways to solve it," he said, "or you recognize a peculiar phenomenon and then find a problem it can solve."

There are dry spells, he said, remembering one Saturday afternoon when he came up with three patentable ideas and one three-month period when the idea wellspring went as dry as old bones.

Creativity is just the beginning of the line for the inventor, however.

There still are successful private inventors-by-profession, and those who have succeeded with once-in-a-lifetime inventions, but Parker pointed out some of their problems.

The independent inventor, he said, has to add to creativity the financial resources to support himself while he's problem-solving as well as the funds to promote and sell the invention once it's patented.

In a technological age, too, patentable ideas often are extensions of complicated industrial processes with which the private inventor could have no opportunity to work.

Most of Parker's patents were obtained before he came to Texas Tech, when he was working for the Phillips Petroleum Company.

pany. He was a research group leader in the Production Research Branch of the Research and Development Department at Bartlesville, Okla.

Most inventors today, he explained, apply creativity to a storehouse of technological training. Within a company, the inventor is furnished a good environment — facilities and management encouragement. He is given time, and a separate group of people to handle licensing and sales for his inventions.

Although a university provides some of this, most of the "creative work comes out in research papers instead of patents," he said. The papers written on research investigations are freely exchanged at scholarly meetings and in publications.

Most of Parker's inventions relate to oil production. One, for instance, was a method using natural heat convection currents to recover oil from oil shale after the shale had been crushed by an underground nuclear explosion.

To meet the U. S. Patent Office's standard of creativity, an idea must be one "not obvious to one skilled in the art," but to the creative person, the idea doesn't necessarily have to go through the patent office.

"There is creativity in teaching," Parker has found, and at home his own creative talent is expressed in furniture design and building.

That allows for more creativity.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Recipes 'Can't Fail'

BY JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

With homemade recipes for enchiladas and chili and beans that "can't fail," Mrs. Albert Pena is her family's favorite cook, spending most of her time in the kitchen when she's at home.

"I USED TO BAKE a lot until my daughter started to. Now I leave the baking to her," said Mrs. Pena.

Mrs. Pena's cooking is enjoyed not only by her family but by friends and neighbors who willingly supply the ingredients and ask her to prepare the enchiladas for them.

Here's her "never failing" enchilada recipe:

ENCHILADAS

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 pkg. corn tortillas
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon cominos seeds
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon chili powder

Brown meat and add the spices.

In hot grease place tortillas. Take out when soft and roll with meat inside tortilla. Place enchiladas in baking pan covering top of them with shredded cheese and diced onions.

Put in oven for 20 to 25 minutes at 300 degrees.

Serves 8.

The chili and beans recipe sounds just as delicious:

CHILI AND BEANS

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cominos seeds
- 1 can whole tomatoes
- 3 cups pinto beans, cooked
- 2 tablespoons chili powder
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar

Brown meat in skillet then add spices, tomatoes and beans.

Simmer for 25 minutes. Serves 8.

CONTINENTAL GRAIN Company brought the Penas to Hereford in May of 1963, from Bastrop, 26 miles on the other side of Austin. In 1968 Pena suffered a heart attack and following nine months convalescence, he took the offer of Johnny Clark, superintendent of the Hereford Public School System at that time, of a job as attendance or "truant" officer for the Hereford school district and as bus driver.

Clark and Pena grew up together in Magnolia, near Houston, since the second grade and part of college until Pena went into military service. In 1965, after 25 years of absence, they were reunited in Hereford.

THE PENA FAMILY plans to visit Mrs. Pena's sister in Rosenberg this Christmas season and drive over to see Clark in Baytown, 90 miles from Rosenberg.

When Clark moved from Hereford two years ago, the Penas were asked to move and take on a new position in Baytown but Pena decided not to leave. His family liked Hereford better than any town where they had previously lived and he enjoyed his job too much to leave it behind.

The Pena's eldest daughter, Geneva, 21, attends West Texas State University three nights a week and is majoring in secondary social studies education. She began this week as teacher's aide at Northwest Elementary.

ALBERT, JR., 19, IS A senior at Hereford High School and Rosie, 10, and Ricky, 8, attend Shirley. The Pena family attends St. Joseph's Catholic mission. They reside at 311 Irving.

Mrs. Pena's favorite pastime is quilting.

"Usually two or three of my friends get together at one of our homes and we quilt and talk, quilt and talk," said Mrs. Pena. "Last winter we made 16 quilts. We quilt in the winter because it is too cold to be outside. It's too hot to quilt in the summer."

Mrs. Pena cleans house for regular patrons each week and is also a professional seam-

Drug Abuse Gets Priority At 4-H Meet

Over the years drugs have stress.

"I first learned to sew doll clothes when I was ten then I started sewing for my little sister," she said. She sewed furniture upholstery for six years while living in Bastrop.

been associated with health, health and the well-being of people. Today the word frequently has a new, distasteful and frightening meaning for the parents of young people.

It is not surprising then that youth organizations such as 4-H are giving high priority to drug education programs. Neither is it surprising that 4-H has enlisted the assistance of its national 4-H health sponsor, Eli Lilly and Company, in the development and execution of a drug education program.

"Knowing the facts about drugs, the consequences of experimentation and addiction must receive major attention in a program of drug education," says Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee. "And a program designed to prevent tragedy must draw from a broad base of knowledge, utilize a wide range of methods and enlist the support of qualified people everywhere. That is the kind of program we are working on in 4-H," Mindrum said.

He noted the response of young people to a training course established by 4-H and the Cooperative Extension Service in Amarillo, which enlisted the assistance of the police. After the training, the youths themselves passed on information to other teens. Equally effective programs are underway in many states including: West Virginia, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Tennessee and Iowa the 4-H spokesman reported.

At the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, that started Sunday and continued through Wednesday, drug abuse received the attention of 1,600 of America's top 4-H'ers. The topic will fit into the Congress theme "We Care" and hopefully motivate this group of young leaders to carry on educational programs in their local communities.

Eli Lilly and Company which has supported the national 4-H health program for 15 years will take an active part. The company will have an exhibit about drug abuse on display and show a movie, "Students Look at Drugs," which has been previewed by numerous 4-H groups. Moderator of the youth panel featured in the film, Dr. Ivan Bennett, staff psychiatrist at Lilly, will conduct an informal discussion with 4-H Congress delegates.

The company also will award seven $600 scholarships to national 4-H health program winners and host a recognition event for some 50 state winners at the national 4-H event.

In further reference to 4-H education efforts Mindrum points out that leaders and parents of 4-H members generally are confident that their youngsters will resist temptation to experiment with drugs. He notes, however, that complacency has no place in fighting the problems of drug addiction. "Telling it like it is" continues to be the core of our education program, Mindrum stressed.

The National Institute of Mental Health recently estimated that more than 500,000 people are obtaining drugs illegally and depend upon them to get through the day. The illicit market in barbiturates — called "downers" and amphetamines — "uppers" is a major concern of society, the 4-H Service Committee director related.

"As a responsive, concerned and viable organization representing a cross-section of society, 4-H accepts its responsibility in providing a strong drug education program. 4-H appreciates the support it is receiving from Eli Lilly and Company and others in mounting a strong educational effort," Mindrum concluded.

Corn Leaf Blight Could Get Worse

The Southern Corn Leaf Blight situation, talk of the country for many weeks, will probably be big news again in 1971.

Losses in Texas due to Southern Corn Leaf Blight were minimal during 1970, with serious infections in only a few fields. Dr. C. Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M, says. He adds, however, that there is a good chance of having more serious infestations during 1971.

"Hybrids susceptible to the blight will have to be grown again in 1971 because sufficient quantities of resistant seed lots aren't yet available," Horne said. "Corn breeders are doing everything they can to insure a sufficient quantity of resistant seed stock for 1972, but there is no way for sufficient quantities to be made available for the 1971 season."

The disease spreads rapidly in a field once it begins to occur, and although fungicides may be used to control the disease, they are usually impractical because of the high cost involved.

What can the farmer do?
"If he plans to plant this 1971 crop on the same land as his 1970 crop, the stubble should be turned under deeply to remove as much of the fungus as possible, assuming that the disease occurred during 1970," Horne said. "He should also learn as much about the disease as possible so that production techniques can be adjusted to reduce damage."

If a resistant hybrid is available, it is suggested that the farmer plant as much as he can obtain to fill his crop needs, and to take other suggested steps to lessen potential damage to susceptible hybrids from the disease.

Belief
Guides His Hands

When Dr. Christiann N. Barnard transplants the heart of one person into another person, he gives a part of his own heart to both patients. For Dr. Barnard of Cape Town, South Africa, the world's most famous heart transplant surgeon, believes that life itself is God's greatest gift to His image on earth. Son of a Dutch Reformed missionary, tall, lean, personable Dr. Barnard lives the legacy left him by his parents... a sense of deep responsibility to others and to himself.

"A Higher Force gives us His support when we need it most," the famous surgeon says. "God shares His knowledge with us, when we share it with others." Dr. Barnard prays every day, but not for impossible things like a perfect world. He asks God to help him realize his full capacity to help others. Above all else, Dr. Barnard believes in self discipline to help achieve the "impossible." He says that today's heart transplants are just one step in the inexorable march of surgical science toward undreamed of possibilities. He believes that all human beings are essentially good until they go out of their way to prove themselves bad.

"My philosophy can be summed in the words of this little poem," he says: "Life's battle doesn't always go to the stronger and faster man. Sooner or later the man who wins, is the fellow who thinks he can." You'll find many of Dr. Barnard's beliefs at the church where you worship this week.

FILM OF SALT — Just a glance at an area of land southeast of Hereford produces a likeness to the barren moon surface. Evaporating basins at the Hereford Salt plant, which many persons are unaware exists, extend over several acres with low dikes separating the pools where the brine dries and leaves a film of salt. —Photo by Sue Coleman

India Is Scene In Rare Novel

Prince Jagat and his family, a modern princely family of the New India, are the center of a rare novel written by Pearl Buck. Check it out today at Deaf Smith County Library.

MANDALA
By Pearl S. Buck
Mandala is one of Pearl S. Buck's rare novels about India. Centering her story around a modern princely family of the New India, she explores the mysticism that prevades everyday life there.

Extrasensory preception, reincarnation, and spirits are very real concerns of the Maharaja Prince Jagat and his family. Prince Jagat is the virile descendant of a warrior people. For the first forty years of his life, he has been content to expand his passion on tiger hunts. Political events strip him of his titles and most of his wealth, but not of his sense of responsibility to the local villagers.

As the novel opens, he is embarking upon a scheme to turn an opulent but ghost-ridden lake palace into a luxury hotel for foreign tourists. When news reaches him that his only son, Jai, has been killed by the Chinese in a border skirmish, his life changes even more. Convinced that Jai's spirit lives, Jagat's wife, Moti, will not rest until he sets off to find their son. The journey is a fateful one, for it involves Jagat with a beautiful and mysterious young American woman, Brooke Westley.

Brooke's determination to avoid antipathies and follow her sympathies - a philosophical legacy from her dead grandmother - has led her to India, to Jagat, and to an unexpected meeting with a figure from her grandmother's past. The fatal attraction between East and West, man's search for completion, and the awareness of Time affect all the characters in Mandala - Moti, whose ingrained passivity deserts her when she encounters the compelling presence of an English priest; Father Francis Paul, whose zealous missionary work among the low-caste Bhils does not prevent him from concerning himself with the soul of the fascinating Maharani.

Veera, Jagat and Moti's daughter, flirts with the idea of refusing the marriage arranged for her, but cannot decide between tradition and emancipation; Bert Osgood, brash young American businessman understands just how much he should expect to give and take from India, yet cannot resist the charms of his employer's exquisite daughter, and Rodriguez, the old Goan servant whose loyalty to the house of Jagat affects the futures of all its members.

Pearl Buck brings to Mandala her unique knowledge and sympathy with Eastern peoples. With a sure touch, she evokes the sense of mystery and never-ending life in the mother-country of ancient Asia.

Southwestern Bell Makes Holiday Phone Calls Easier

Six additional overseas telephone circuits added during the past year will make it easier for more servicemen to talk with their families in the United States this Christmas season.

Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said a total of 16 circuits are available to Vietnam. He pointed out, however, that due to the volume of calls generated by holiday calling, persons wishing to reach servicemen in Vietnam should plan ahead for the rush.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Patrick. "This is because servicemen can call the U. S. from Saigon, Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang. Calls originating from the U. S. can be placed only to Saigon."

He added that it is more difficult to reach a serviceman in Saigon unless the caller knows the serviceman's unit, APO, and telephone number where he can be reached.

"Although servicemen place calls from Vietnam on a first-come-first-served basis, it usually only takes a few minutes to reach the states once he gets access to a phone at one of the Vietnam telephone centers," Patrick said.

He also reminded residents of the 14-hour time difference between the U. S. and Saigon. For example, when it is 11 a. m. on December 25 in Texas, it is 1 a. m. on December 26 in Saigon.

Calling rates to Vietnam will be the same as last year with the first three minutes of a station-to-station call costing $9, while a person-to-person call for the same time costs $12. Each additional minute for both kinds of calls cost $3.

Computers Play Increasing Role

Computers will never replace the family physician or health professional, but the Texas State Department of Health is using the electronic marvel to simplify record keeping and to provide better services for its different divisions and the people of Texas.

One of the most obvious advantages of a computer is its space saving for records. Bulky paper or card files can be transformed into relatively small magnetic tapes or disks for simple filing and easy access for future recall of information.

Speed is a major factor involved in computer use. Searching of records, once reports have been designed, programmed and stored, can be accomplished quickly. After mounting the proper tape reel or disk pack on the computer, the information is researched in seconds and placed on paper by a high speed printer.

W. E. Barrington Jr., director of the office of Data Processing is highly skilled in his job and is recognized throughout the profession. He is a former president of the Austin Chapter of Data Processing Management Association and has served as international director.

In the State Health Department's computer data bank are millions of hits of data on diseases, immunizations, vital statistics (birth, deaths, marriages, divorces, etc.) venereal disease and tuberculosis cases, cancer patients, accounting, budgets, personnel, migrant health, air and water pollutants and many more necessary areas.

"The storage capacity and speed of access to information is one of the big advantages of using computers, together with the flexibility of storage and the printed output potential," Barrington said.

As an example, he said a full year's birth records - more than 200,000 now in Texas - are put on one reel of magnetic tape.

Necessity for such service has paralleled the growth of the State Health Department and its extension of services to more and more people. The office of Data Processing, formerly Machine Tabulation, emerged after World War II and the first computer was obtained in 1965. Records and reports which formerly were put on punched cards were switched to the computers. Use of computerized information, and the need for such data, has grown tremendously, and will continue to expand. One of the first uses was to replace the punch card accounting machine.

The Data Processing office has two components, systems and programming, and operations.

The most time-consuming part is in programming. "You can't just push a button and expect to get needed information," said Barrington. "You have to do a lot of planning and work to tell the computer how to handle the data once it is put into the machine." He said computer programming is a technical, highly specialized field.

best selling novelist and historian, shows in this new novel, as she did earlier in The Little War Doll, that she possesses a remarkable talent for suspense.

A carefully detailed portrait of Victorian England serves as the background for the ultimately tragic story of a family whose young daughters are taking their first eager and awkward steps into womanhood.

Their dominating father seeks only to stifle their youthful exuberance and nascent passion, and from this inevitable conflict comes at first frustration and finally, mental breakdown and murder.

Here is romantic suspense at its finest, a stunning and engrossing work full of chilling twists and surprises quite literally from the first page to the closing sentence.

OFFICE GIVE-AWAY

LONDON — The businessman's desk is more than a place to sit and write, according to a report by anthropologist Anthony Christie.

The desk gives an insight into a man's character. If it is neat, the boss is a military type, a desk cluttered with plant pots and flowers shows he is a keen gardener, and if papers are strewn all over the place, it usually means his marriage is on the rocks.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Janice Constantine does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Janice Constantine and 9 out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.
