City Commission Seeks Approval For Criminal DA

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The city commission recommended Monday night to seek through state legislation, the creation of a criminal district attorney office to help eliminate the problems and delays caused by the size of the present 69th Judicial District.

City attorney Earnest Langley drew up a resolution to that effect to the commissioners, who in turn approved it and agreed to ask the county commissioners for their approval of the same recommendation.

The need for a criminal district attorney has been under discussion for some time in the past several weeks by both the county and city officials, but nothing had been done.

For the creation of a criminal district attorney for Deaf Smith County, special legislation would be required by the state. The Criminal District Attorney would replace both the county attorney and the district attorney, but only for Deaf Smith County.

The 69th Judicial District would remain the same and the District Judge would still handle the cases here.

Langley told the commissioners of two options that could possibly work here to solve the problem. One was the creation of the district attorney office and the other the creation of a new judicial district.

The creation of a new judicial district would also create the need for a new district judge and district attorney, Langley told the commissioners, but the creation of just a judicial district, in this case, would be hard because of the sparse population in adjoining counties.

"Several years ago the same situation came up just south of us involving Castro, Farmer, Lamb Hale Swisher, and Bailey counties and they asked the state to break it up and create two judicial districts," Langley said.

Legislation provided that Castro, Swisher and Hale counties be put together as one of the two judicial districts and the other three the other district. Langley said the creation of a new district here would just about have to take Castro County away from the 64th Judicial District in order to make another district large enough.

If a new judicial district were formed here, a new district attorney and district judge would be elected, but if a criminal district attorney were elected, the district would remain the same, but Jerry Tucker, the present District Attorney, would not handle the cases here in this county.

"Most of the complaints we hear come from Jerry Tucker who says he is really overloaded," Langley said. "The ideal solution I believe would be to get a criminal district attorney and take this county's share of what we pay Tucker and also eliminate the county attorney and get ourselves one man to do both jobs."

Langley, at the time, was under the impression the six counties in the 69th Judicial District pay the salary of both the district judge and district attorney. Tucker said Tuesday that the state pays the salary of both men and if the county decided to ask the state for a criminal district attorney, the county would be responsible for paying his salary.

The criminal district attorney would serve as prosecutor for both misdemeanor and felony charges in all courts.

"We have the case volume here to make it a full-time job, but I am sure it would take about $15,000 to attract someone to the job," city manager Dudley Bayne said.

Tucker, when contacted Tuesday at his office in Dumas, said he is "tremendously in favor" of the recommendation for either a criminal District Attorney or a new judicial district.

"I approached the county commissioners and other people there in Hereford and have tried to push the thing," he said.

Tucker said about half of his work load of the six-county 69th Smith County, but he said he just cannot devote half of his time in only one county.

"I wish someone would just get the ball rolling because I certainly would support a criminal district attorney for Deaf Smith County," he said.

District Judge Archie McDonald, who spends approximately two months out of the year handling cases in this county, was in full agreement with the resolution, but said he was not asking the change be made.

"As long as the bar association and attorneys in Deaf Smith County feel like they need a new criminal district attorney, I would be in full agreement with them, but I don't want people to think I am asking for a change," he said.

"Right now we are right on the edge where we've got too much for one man and really not enough for a new district," he said.

The commissioners were concerned with the effect a locally-based attorney would have on better communications between cases going to court and the arresting officers.

Langley brought up the recent situation where Chief of Police Don Brush became upset when Tucker accepted a guilty plea from Prehn Nanninga for the May burglary of Spangler's Diamonds, Ltd. and gave him an eight-year probation sentence.

"The thing we have to look at is the officers going out and making arrests and these people never going to trial. A police officer is just a prosecuting witness, but it would be a matter of courtesy to let the officers know what is being done with their cases," Langley said.

Langley said that is often the case with any attorney when he feels he might not have enough evidence to get a conviction and will go along with dismissal or probation just to get a guilty plea.

"If we have a man who lives here and knows he is going to have half a dozen police officers breathing down his neck about a case, there might be an effort made to make communications better between the attorney and the arresting officers," commissioner Roland Barton said.

Against Monterey Herd Seeks Miracle No. 2 Friday

By CHARLES RICHARDS

The Hereford Whitefaces, fresh from their first victory of the 1970 season, try to shoot down the Monterey Plainsmen and their perfect 8-0 season in a crucial District 4-AAAA game Friday night.

The game would have been just another game closer to the end of the season except for Hereford's stunning performance in running past the Plainview Bulldogs, 29-14, last week.

Now, despite just a 1-7 record, Hereford is in position to claim a share of the district championship if it can sideline Monterey.

"We hope it's not a problem to get them up for Hereford," Monterey Coach James Odom told the Brand. "We hope our boys realize the importance of this game. If we lose, there is a possibility of a three-way tie. I haven't noticed any letdown in our kids this week, and at this point I really don't think they are looking past Hereford to Coronado. Our goal all year has been to win 10 games and you can't win 10 without winning the ninth."

Hereford could wind up with a 3-1 record by finishing the season with victories over Monterey and Lubbock. An expected win by Monterey over Coronado in the last regular season game for those two teams would put Monterey at 3-1 also — and Coronado, too, if it gets past Plainview this Friday, as it is a heavy favorite to. In case of a two-way tie, the team which has beaten the other would advance to the playoffs. A three-way tie would be settled by a coin flip.

Monterey's eight straight victories this season comes on the heels of the best previous school record, 8-1-1 in 1969. The Plainsmen also bring to Hereford a record of 18 straight conquests on the road, dating back to 1967. Monterey showed a lot of toughness in chalking up its record. In five of the eight games, Monterey had to battle back. See HERD Page Two

Marching Band Cops UIL Superior Rating

The Hereford High School marching band, under the direction of Ben Gollehon, received a superior rating Tuesday at West Texas State University in University Interscholastic League competition.

The high school twirling trio of Sandi Calson, Brenda Formby and Teri Beth Line, in competition with approximately 100 other twirlers from school throughout the area, also received a Division I rating of superiority.

Each of the three twirlers received a 1 rating to combine for the overall superior rating.

The Division I rating is the first step in another try at a Sweepstakes award.

Some 2,500 junior and senior high bands students representing 35 Panhandle schools, performed in the chilly winds at West Texas State University. The same contest was postponed last week when wet ground at the football stadium left the field in too bad a condition for marching.

The bands and twirlers were rated from 1 (superior) to 5 (poor) and they were judged against a standard instead of against each other.

Participants were judged on both appearance and musical performance.

Other AAAA schools receiving Division I ratings were Borgert and Palo Duro.

The superior rating by the Hereford band came in its first year a member of Class AAAA and continues a long line of superior ratings won as an AAA member.

Why, Sure Hereford Can Win Title, If...

Hereford's high school football team will be going into Friday night's game with Lubbock Monterey with much higher ambitions than just finishing out the season.

It's possible for the Whitefaces to tie for the district with Monterey and Lubbock Coronado, or even to win the title outright, although no one has been seen betting much money on it.

What most people think is likely is that Monterey, which has an 8-0 mark already, will beat Hereford and then cross-town opponent Coronado to win the district by itself and then take a perfect 10-0 slate into the state playoffs.

If you think it would be unusual for Hereford to win its two remaining games — against Monterey Friday and against Lubbock eight days later — and then represent the district with only a 3-7 record, consider the possibility the Whitefaces could with the right turn of events, including a winning coin flip, advance to the state playoffs with only two victories all season.

Right now, Coronado and Monterey are 2-0, Hereford is 1-1, Lubbock is 1-2 and Plainview is 0-3 in league action.

If Hereford should beat Monterey Friday and Plainview should upset Coronado, it would leave Coronado, Monterey and Hereford deadlocked with 2-1 marks. If Coronado and Monterey then were to tie the following Friday — Friday the 13th, and Hereford were to tie Lubbock the next day, on Saturday, the 14th, the three teams would have final 2-1-1 marks in league play and would flip to see who represented the district in the playoffs. The Whitefaces' season mark, in that case, would be 2-7-1.

And, of course, if that Coronado-Monterey game ended in a tie, Hereford would have the chance the next day to wrap up the undisputed championship with a 3-1 league mark, 3-7 season mark, by beating Lubbock High in Lubbock.

But isn't Coronado likely to turn Plainview every which way but loose Friday night in their game? Yes, certainly, and the Mustangs probably will. Which will mean the best Hereford should hope for is a tie for the conference lead, and be glad of it, win or lose the coin flip.

Hereford must beat Monterey Friday, of course, to keep the local dream alive. If the Whitefaces pull that off, they would actually be in a good position to tie for the title. That's if, if they pull off the Monterey win.

That would mean if Monterey were to beat Coronado the next Friday, as the Plainsmen are expected to do, and Hereford were to beat Lubbock, which by this time would certainly be no impossibility, the race would end in a deadlock among Monterey, Coronado and Hereford all with 3-1 league marks.

Isn't it marvelous what one victory, finally, can do to promote dreams and visions or miracles?

County Endorses Demo Candidates Opposes L-by-D

By CHARLES RICHARDS

Voters in Deaf Smith County went Democratic down the line in Tuesday's General Election, much the same as the rest of Texas, but differed sharply with the state outcome on the controversial liquor-by-the-drink question.

Democrat Lloyd Bentsen got 52.3 per cent of the vote in the county in his race against Republican George Bush for the U. S. Senate post being vacated by Ralph Yarborough.

In the two other "close" races, Gov. Preston Smith won 57.6 per cent of the vote here against his Republican challenger, Paul Eggers, and Max Sherman won 58 per cent of the vote in his contest with Republican Malouf Abraham for the State Senate.

Bentsen and Smith also won statewide, and Sherman defeated Abraham in the overall Panhandle vote for the Legislative job.

Some 3,345 persons voted in the election, just short of the 60 per cent prediction by County B. F. Cain. It was higher than the usual off-year election total, apparently because of the presence of the emotional amendment to repeal Texas' prohibition against the open saloon.

Although the heavy favorable vote for liquor by the drink in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and other metropolitan areas assured passage of the measure, voters in this county and many other rural areas opposed it.

The amendment was beaten down by almost a 2-10-1 vote here, with 34.2 per cent of the vote for liquor by the drink and 65.8 per cent against. The vote locally was 1,089 for, 2,096 against.

The Smith-Eggers race for governor drew more votes, 3,282, than any other, with Bentsen-Bush next with 3,248, Barnes-Fullerton with 3,208, Sherman-Abraham with 3,185, Amendment 2 with 3,185.

Voters here also voted against Amendments 3, 4 and 7, although of the three, only No. 3 — having to do with taxation of farm lands on the basis of productivity — failed statewide. On the other hand, local voters gave approval by a 1,513-1,258 vote to Amendment 5, having to do with issuance of road bonds, which went down in the rest of the state.

Texas voters passed all the seven amendments except for No. 3 and 5, and elected all the Democrat candidates on the state ticket.

The liquor-by-the-drink question went down in all 11 boxes and the absentee count. The closest it came to passing was in Precinct 6, at Ford school, where 52 voted for it and 57 against.

Whitefaces Take Aim At Monterey String

from a halftime deficit. "I think the things behind their ability to come back are, number one, their pride, and number two, that they don't panic," Odom said of his team. "They realize when they get behind that they still have to play our type of ball to win. I've been real pleased that they've not panicked and that they've developed a lot of self poise. A lot of teams-down 14 points might not have been able to do this, I don't think."

A typical game was the Monterey game in Plainview, the only time this season that Odom felt deep down inside that maybe his team was going to lose. "There, just for a minute, in Plainview I thought we might lose, when we were behind 14-0, late in the third quarter. We had moved the ball well against them but we were just unable to score. Then with two minutes to play in the third quarter we blocked a punt and scored."

Monterey scored 27 points in the last quarter and the last minute of the third quarter and came home with a 27-14 victory. Monterey beat Big Spring 21-0 and Wichita Falls Rider 14-12 in the first two games, leading all the way. They came back from halftime deficits to beat Midland 14-12, Tascosa 28-21, Carrollton Turner 14-7 and Plainview 27-14 before destroying Ysleta Bel Air 54-8 and then coming from behind again in last week's 16-6 decision over Lubbock High.

Odom's team is primarily a running attack, featuring a power-type offense. The Plainsmen run out of the I-formation. Hereford Coach Larry Wartes called another coach in the district over the weekend and asked him what he thought Hereford should try offensively against Monterey. "There was a long pause, almost embarrassing, as if the other coach was trying to think of something painless to say. 'Well,' the coach finally answered, 'I wouldn't waste too many downs tryin' to run right at 'em.'"

The Monterey defense is, as the other coach suggested, tough. It ranks, like the Monterey offense, as the best in the league. The Plainsmen defense has given up about 70 yards a game passing and about 160 yards a game on the ground.

The middle men in the Monterey defense are 200-pound junior Fred Bennett at nose-guard and 205 pound senior Joel Staley and 195-pound junior Mike Blackburn at the tackles. A pair of seniors, 180-pound Neil House and 160-pound Chuck Seaberg, are the ends.

There is more bulk at line-backing. Jim Upshaw, a 205-pound senior, is at one post and Robert Phillips, a 180-pound senior, at the other. Put it all together, and those seven defensive men average 180 pounds.

The Monterey secondary headed by sophomore sensation Glen Yarbrough and Dotty Hicks, have stolen more enemy passes by far this season than any other club in the district. Hicks has four interceptions to his credit.

The visitors' offensive line also averages 189, and the weight advantage Monterey has held on opponents there has helped open holes for the running backs, who have more than 500 more yards rushing this season than any of the four other teams in 4-AAAA.

In charge of the Monterey attack is senior quarterback Billy Sorrells, a 17-pounder who shook off an injury in the early part of the season to take over the reins. Sorrells and 155-pound senior halfback Troy Price rank among the top five rushers and scorers in the league.

Yarbrough, sensational at quarterback while Sorrells was hurt, is likely to see some action at quarterback despite his front-line duty in the Monterey defensive secondary. He ranks among the top rushers in the district on the basis of his play in the first three games.

Also in the Monterey backfield are halfback Jack Crawford, a 175-pound senior, and fullback Randy Barnett, a 200-pound senior.

In 21 years of coaching, Wartes has had only one losing season prior to the present campaign.

"But let me point this out," Wartes said with a big smile at the Booster Club meeting Monday night. "If we beat Monterey, this will be a winning season."

Hereford opened the season with a 24-22 loss to Pampa, on a 35-yard field goal in the final second; then lost to Palo Duro 42-14, Clovis 20-12, Dunbar 17-14, Amarillo 42-7, Dumas 14-2 and Coronado 30-20, before beating Plainview.

The passing of quarterback Mike Wartes, son of the coach, will probably determine the effectiveness of the Whitefaces' bid.

Wartes set an individual season record for the Whitefaces last week with his 175-yard passing performance in 10 of 17 completions. He now has 1,050 yards for the season, 60 more than the 999 of Steve Hodges five years ago, with two games still to play.

Harold Schmucker, who caught three passes for 53 yards, including one for a 23-yard touchdown, despite double coverage, is Wartes' primary target. As teams over-protect on Schmucker, however, Wartes has been able to throw effectively to tight end John Sparks, flanker Jeff Loerwald and fullback Ricki Loerwald caught four passes for 96 yards and two touchdowns last week. He also kicked a 24-yard field goal and booted two extra points in a 17-point night that earned him the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's Player-of-the-Week honors offensively over the South Plains last weekend.

Alan Wagner darted for 138 yards last weekend in a return to the explosive style of running he became known for before being injured last year. His performance on the ground last week made Plainview protect against the run and made the secondary more vulnerable to a passing attack.

Wagner won Offensive Player of the Week honors from the Hereford Brand for his efforts in the game, although Wartes and Loerwald also drew consideration.

Dan Gorman, who put heavy pressure on Plainview runners all evening, won Defensive PLAYERS OF WEEK — Alan Wagner (25) and Dan Gorman (77) played big roles in Hereford's 29-14 victory over Plainview in a District 4-AAAA football game Friday and were honored by being named the Hereford Brand's Players of the Week. Wagner, a running back, won the recognition on offense and Gorman, a defensive lineman, on defense.

3 Are Overcome By Asphyxiation

Three members of a Hammond, Okla. wheat harvest crew almost died over the weekend from asphyxiation. They were treated and released Sunday at Deaf Smith County Hospital after they were found unconscious from apparent carbon dioxide poisoning.

The three men, identified as Ray Matheny, 24, Glen Matheny 20, and Gene Ratliff, 17, were working at the J. M. Booth farm west of Hereford when the accident occurred.

They had gone to sleep Saturday night in a small 24-by-34 foot tin building with an open heater going. With the doors and windows closed, the heater burned up the oxygen in the building.

A co-worker, Kenneth Walker, went to wake the men for breakfast and discovered them unconscious about 7:30 a. m. Sunday. The men were taken by car to Deaf Smith County Hospital where they were treated and released.

SPONSOR NEW TRANSLATION

LONDON — The Welsh Council of Churches is sponsoring a new translation of the Bible into Welsh to replace the standard edition published 400 years ago. The work will be done by a team of 20 under the Rev. Bleddwyn Roberts, professor of Hebrew and Biblical Studies at the University College, Bangor. It is hoped the new testament revision can be completed in four to six years, but the old testament will take about 15 years.

Wartes Takes Over Lead In 4-A State

Hereford's Mike Wartes, who last week broke the school record of passing yardage, also passed his way into the district 4-A state lead as the senior quarterback threw for 173 yards against Plainview to up his season total to 1,045.

Hereford's Harold Schmucker, who caught three tosses last week, kept his comfortable lead in receptions, upping his total to 34, or 11 ahead of the next best receiver.

Wartes, despite a minus rushing yardage figure for the year, leads the pack in total offense by a mere five yards over second place Gary Olivo of Lubbock Coronado.

Olivo has 737 yards passing but has added to his total with an impressive 303 yards rushing.

Wartes has a 130.6 per game average and his five yards total above Olivo also gives him a slim lead in yards per game. Olivo has 130.0 yards per game.

Schmucker's 34 receptions for the year give him a total of 506 yards and he is followed by Joe Byrne of Coronado who has 23 catches for 487 yards and six touchdowns. Schmucker has two touchdown catches.

Hereford's Jeff Loerwald, who caught two touchdown passes in last week's win over Plainview, also entered into the reception list with 10 receptions for 214 yards and three TDs.

Hereford moved up a notch in total offense as a team, replacing Lubbock High in third place. The Whitefaces have gained 927 yards rushing and 1,135 passing for a 2,062 total in eight games.

This is the third best per game average at 257.9, behind Coronado, who is in second with 276.5, and Monterey, who is leading with 307.0 per game.

However, Hereford is still at the bottom in total team defense having given up 1,575 yards for an average of 306.4 per game.

Alan Wagner, who had an outstanding game against Plainview last week, is second best in the conference in the average gain per carry department, but he has carried the ball only 44 times for 219 yards and two touchdowns.

Ricki Ward is just ahead of Wagner, but only in carries with 59. He has 213 yards for a 3.6 average and one score.

Wagner is also tied for fourth in pass interceptions with three.

Harmon Goes With Texas

The battle for the top spot in our national rankings is the closest we've had in many years. Ohio State held it for four weeks, and Texas grabbed it after the Buckeyes had some trouble with Illinois two weeks ago.

The Longhorns just held on again this week to nose out Notre Dame. Texas is 118.9, the Irish, 118.3. Ohio State is a hot breath behind in third, and Nebraska, fourth, is moving closer every week.

Notre Dame plays host to Pittsburgh Saturday, but the Panthers will have to reach super heights to untrack the Irish. Notre Dame will win by 38. Texas should breeze by Baylor by 36 points.

Three teams remain in Ohio State's path to the Rose Bowl, and Wisconsin is first on the list. No trouble here, the Badgers will fall by 24 points. Nebraska continues to power its way to the Big Eight title and a certain bowl bid. Iowa State is this week's victim, the Cyclones will lose to the cornhuskers by 33 points.

Louisiana State, ranked No. 9, faces a major test in its quest for the Southeast Conference championship. And though 14th-rated Alabama has already been beaten three times, we're picking the Crimson Tide to upset LSU by two points.

Still not out of the woods, but with the smell of roses getting stronger, sixth-rated Stanford meets tough Washington. The Huskies, another three-time loser, aren't about to plant a rose-bush in honor of the Indians, but Stanford is favored by 12 points.

Eighth-ranked Arkansas will keep pace with Texas in the Southwest Conference race. The Razorbacks will beat Rice by 22 points Saturday.

Fifth-ranked Tennessee and seventh-ranked Michigan should hold onto their lofty ratings with victories this week. The Volunteers will whip South Carolina by 27 points while the Wolverines will beat charged-up Illinois. The difference will be 28 points.

And for a real coronary-provoker, we'll pick the Houston-Mississippi struggle. They just might set an all-time scoring record! We'll venture a forecast in what could be a wild one: 11th-ranked Mississippi over Houston by four points.

Still undefeated (barely), the high-flying Air Force, rated 13th, will notch win No. 9 Saturday. The Oregon Ducks won't be easy, but the Falcons should win by 7.

Special Class Aims Explained

Plans for still another effort to adjust the local school curriculum to individual pupil needs were explained to members of La Plata Study Club at its meeting in the home of Mrs. Ray Seale Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Tom Sawyer, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Wendell Clark who was in charge of the program entitled Somewhere — the Child.

Mrs. Sawyer teaches in the special education program in Hereford Public Schools and spoke on The Emotionally Disturbed Child. Having represented the local schools in a special workshop last summer, her assignment is to work toward the development of classes for those children so emotionally disturbed as to be unable to adjust to normal classroom procedure.

in need of such help, the child is given a series of tests, with the degree and consistency of his emotional problems noted.

"No child can be placed in special education without the parents' consent; usually in determining what is best for the child the administration, teacher, and parents work as a team. If they have a truly disturbed child, most parents welcome help," Mrs. Sawyer concluded.

Plans for the annual Thanksgiving dinner honoring husband and friends were completed during the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Tom Harkey, president. It will be held at Hereford Country Club at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 17.

Members voted to contribute $25 to the scholarship fund for the Hereford Day Care Center.

Attending were Meses. Jack Brown, J. C. Brown, Wendell Clark, Emil Dettman, Pat Hughes, J. D. Neil, Elmer Patterson, Frank Prowell, M. H. Richie, A.J. Schroeter, John Thames, Harlan VanderZee, Raymond White, Urlin Streu, Alex Glass and Jack Moreman.

Hereford Climbs In Rating. But Still Picked Underdog

The Hereford Whitefaces are considered three points better than they were last week in the Harris Rating System, but still face a tough challenge. They are tagged as 23-point underdogs to the powerful Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen when the two teams battle Friday in Hereford.

Hereford was rated 170th in AAAA last week prior to the Plainview game, and were picked as underdogs by three points to the Bulldogs. The locals thrashed the host Bulldogs, 29-14 and moved up 19 spots in the poll to 160 with a power rating of 116.2.

Monterey, despite a come-from-behind 16-6 win over Lubbock High, remained in the No. 23 spot in the state in AAAA ball clubs with a power rating of 139.6.

Plainview, which was 154 last week, fell to 170 by way of the loss to the Whitefaces and Lubbock High, which was 129 last week, climbed to 123 because of the battle they put up against the Plainsmen.

Lubbock Coronado, by virtue of a convincing win over Dallas Bishop Lynch, went up from the 58th spot of last week to No. 50 this week.

Coronado meets Plainview tomorrow night for another crucial test.

The Mustangs are expected to up their district record to 3-0 and beat the Bulldogs by 19 points.

Lubbock High will be meeting Dallas Spruce in a non-conference game and the Westerners are picked by five points.

In district 3-AAAA, where a tumbling of top teams has caused a four-way tie for the conference lead, three crucial games are on tap.

Amarillo High plays Tascosa, Palo Duro meets Pampa and Borger meets surprising Caprock.

Predicted winners are: Tascosa over Amarillo High by three points.

Palo Duro over Pampa by 10 points.

Borger over Caprock by two points.

Ann Cummings Is Bowler Of Week

Ann Cummings, with a 478, was named Bowler of the Week in the Strike Outs League. She also had the high individual game with the same score while Connie Levering had a 179 for the high individual game. Converting splits were Lois Turpen, and Maxine Lewis, who both converted the 3-10.

In play last week, Weatherford Gin lost four to One Hour Martinizing; Hereford Flying Service won three from Deaf Smith REC; and K&B Contractors won three from Earl's Cafe.

Standings have Weatherford Gin, 24-8; Hereford Flying Service, 22½-8½; One Hour Martinizing, 15½-16½; K&B Contractor 14-18; Deaf Smith REC, 12-20; and Earl's Cafe, 8-24.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Kupers Use Lebanese Dishes To Entertain Dinner Guests

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

When Roy and Renee Kuper entertain guests for dinner, Renee is sure to serve two or three Lebanese foods, which always delight her company, or she feels something is missing. Her mother, Mrs. Hanna Malouf, prepares Lebanese food everyday for her family. Mrs. Kuper says "I have to get my husband used to it little by little. His favorite is meat and potatoes but he likes Lebanese bread better than American and he really likes Kibbeh and Tabbouleh." Kibbeh and Tabbouleh are the main foods of Lebanon and although not all the ingredients can be purchased locally, they can be ordered from Anton's Imports, 807 Taft Street, Houston. Crushed wheat costs 25 cents per pound.

KIBBEH
½ cup crushed wheat
2 lbs ground beef — no fat
1 medium onion finely chopped
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mint leaf, diced finely
Salt to taste
½ cup pine nuts if desired (also may be ordered from Houston)
½ stick margarine, soft.

Soak wheat in water to cover while mixing other ingredients. Squeeze water out of wheat with hands real well and mix with meat mixture. Set aside. Wheat should stand in water for approximately 30 minutes, until tender. Sauté remaining onion in butter. Add rest of meat and pine nuts and cook until redness of meat is gone. Divide first mixture in half. Grease 9 x 9 pan placing one layer of wheat mixture with all meat on top and rest of wheat mixture on top of that with rest of uncooked mixture on very top. Cut in squares and dot with margarine. Bake at 150 degrees for one hour. Serves 6. Mrs. Kuper says this recipe is quite simple and doesn't take very long, actually.

Tabbouleh, a salad, was served at the Kupers' wedding reception and was enjoyed by all.

TABBOULEH
½ cup crushed wheat soaked in water for 30 minutes.
½ cup juice of fresh lemon
1½ tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
1½ cup finely diced fresh parsley.
½ - ¾ cup fresh mint leaves or ¼ cup dried crushed mint leaves

1-1½ cup finely chopped onion
4 diced tomatoes
½ cup olive or salad oil
Squeeze water off crushed wheat as for Kibbeh. Mix all ingredients except oil, which is poured over salad at time of serving. Will keep for one week. Serve with lettuce or grape leaf.

Mrs. Kuper said the quantity of ingredients may vary according to a person's taste.

Renee learned to cook at age 10 and at 17 began collecting recipes. "Lebanese girls are required to keep house and cook at a very young age," she said.

She hopes to learn some Greek dishes from her Grecian sister-in-law to be. "She is a fantastic cook! She's in college at Tech and after she and George (Renee's brother) are married in December, we hope they will live here," said Renee. They plan to marry and honeymoon in Greece. George is owner of Sales Department Store of Hereford.

Mrs. Kuper, eldest of 13 children, was born in Jerusalem and reared in Lebanon. She came with her family to Texas at age 15, knowing no English at all. Sign language was necessary for them to communicate. Renee now speaks English, Lebanese, French and Spanish. She is teased often for her accent and misuse of words.

One time I went to buy a refrigerator and I told the man I would like to "insult" my husband first! I meant "consult." That man looked at me so funny and laughed so loud. Thirty minutes later I realized what I had said!

Of her husband's teasing Renee says she doesn't mind. "It is something we can laugh about. Another time when the weather looked bad I told him it looked like we were going to have a "lizzard" instead of a "blizzard," she laughed.

On the serious side of her life Mrs. Kuper worries about raising a good family in an era of so much violence and drug usage.

"I want my children to grow up respecting and wanting to attend church and college," she said. They are members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

"I could never handle as big a family as mother has. She's unique. I really envy her for all she can take and has gone through.

"I don't want my children to be neglected either. When I hear a baby died because the parents neglected it, I cry. I wish I would have known so I could go get that baby before it was too late," she said.

Mrs. Kuper's family, the Hanna Maloufs, lived in Lubbock for two years on the advice of her maternal grandfather when they first came over from Lebanon. They set up their business, a clothing store, and a home in Lockney the next two years and moved the business to Muleshoe the following year. They moved both home and bus-

Bell Attends Dallas School

Charles Bell, Jr., representative in Hereford for Southwestern Life Insurance Company, was in Dallas recently attending a special business and tax insurance review school in the company's home office.

The four-day school provides advanced training for the company's career agents. It reviews fundamentals of both the business and tax insurance fields and presents new concepts in the use of life insurance for business and tax purposes.

Southwestern Life ranks as one of the nation's leading life insurance companies, providing more than $5 billion of protection on the lives of its hundreds of thousands of policyowners.

The shoot will begin at 1 p.m. and will be divided into three different categories, one each for men, women and teenagers. Shooting will be from the 18-yard line, handicap, quail walk and buddy shoots.

Prizes will be awarded as they are won and refreshment and ammunition will be available at the club house.

Anyone wishing to participate in the shoot may do so.

ness to Hereford five years ago and have since opened a business in Friona.

Making up the family are Mr. and Mrs. Malouf, Renee, Marie (Mrs. Bob Swayden of Amarillo), George 23, Tony 21 (attend University of Texas at Austin), Carmen 19 (attends Tech) Souad 17, Georgette 15, Amal 13, Sylvia 11, Joseph 9, Jiselle 7, Richard 5, and Peter 1½.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuper were married two years ago and have one son, Paul, 4 months. Kuper farms at Westway.

Interior decorating, sewing draperies for their home, caring for her husband and son and preparing meals that make her husband happy, are Mrs. Kupers' favorite pastimes.

She will take a home decorating course soon and re-decorate their home at 601 Avenue G next month for the third time.

AIR SPRAYING

NEW YORK — The spraying of pesticides from airplanes has become common practice among farmers across the United States. The nation's first application of this nature was made by Mississippians in a cotton dusting project near Leland in 1927.

Schroeter Gets Howard Trigg's Survey Papers

A. J. "Major" Schroeter, county surveyor of Deaf Smith County, has acquired all of the surveying papers of the late Howard T. Trigg covering a period of some 70 years of boundary surveying in the panhandle of Texas.

Trigg died last November. He came to Amarillo at the age of 7 with his parents in 1887. A surveyor, he worked for the Rock Island line when it came to Amarillo. He surveyed Palo Trigg's work consists of some 10,000 plats and maps based upon some 800 field books used during his life span. As soon as the work can be gone over and systematically indexed and studied, contents will be made available to other land surveyors in the Panhandle to aid in the perpetuation of original surveying monuments.

Trigg started his career with W. D. Twitchell, a licensed state land surveyor, who laid off the boundaries for the XIT in 1884 and made many resurveys of blocks in West Texas.

Twitchell and Trigg worked together in resurveying blocks K-4, K-5, K-6, K-7, K-8, K-10 and K-11 and others, not to mention the original town of Hereford, Mabry, Welsh and Whitehead Additions.

Miss Yolanda Sorensen And Olen Nelson Wed

Miss Yolanda Sorensen of Salt Lake City and Thomas Olen Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Glen Nelson of 511 Avenue J, exchanged marriage vows in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at Kearns 14th Ward Chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Salt Lake City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeMaun Sorensen of 212 Monterey Drive, St. George, Utah. Her uncle, Bishop Phillip Petersen of Salt Lake City, officiated for the wedding in which Mr. Sorensen gave his daughter in marriage.

She was attended by Miss Susan Larsen of Helena, Montana, as maid of honor and her sisters, Misses Mauna Kae and Sidnee Sorensen, as bridesmaids.

Best man was Jerry McCoy of Amarillo and groomsmen Bob Shackelford of Pampa.

White crepe made the bride's floor-length gown, with empire waistline, high neck and lace bishop sleeves inset with velvet ribbon.

Her bouffant veil of white net was held to her blonde hair by a large rose made of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis twined with orchid and purple ribbon.

Dresses of her attendants were of purple velveteen in fitted A-line style, street length. Their bouquets were nosegays of white carnations accented with orchid ribbons.

After the ceremony, a luncheon for the wedding party and guests was held in the church hall. Hostesses were the bride's mother and her sisters, Mrs. Phillip Petersen, Ralph Bassett, Shirley Van Ausdal and Jillean Ainsworth of Salt Lake City.

A reception with the bride's parents as hosts will honor the couple the evening of Nov. 7, at South Ward Seminary in St. George.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Plute High School at Antimony, Utah, attended the college of Southern Utah and has been employed in Salt Lake by the State of Utah.

The bridegroom is a member of a musical group called The Pryde, booking out of Burbank, Calif. He attended West Texas State University three years after graduation from Hereford High School, and is a member of KKY music fraternity.

His parents went to the wedding, and other out-of-city guests in addition to the bride's family were Mr. and Mrs. Masiel Jolley of Antimony.

DISTINGUISHED CADET—Cadet Larry G. Stoerner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Stoerner of Route 1 Hereford, is awarded the Distinguished Air Force ROTC Badge by Col. Haynes M. By MELVIN YOUNG There were few, if any, surprises in the general elections Tuesday and the Republicans, although not getting a majority in either the Senate or the House, probably did better than any party has done on an off year election since FDR's day. It appears now that the Republican party will have picked up two senators — they wanted four — and have lost probably a half-dozen representatives. In past years the party in power has generally lost from 30 to 35 house seats and several senate seats. The administration has effectively "purged" Senator Goodell with conservative James Buckley winning in New York, and also ousted liberal democrat Gore in Tennessee. Texans for the most part went along with the democrats, re-electing Governor Preston Smith by a 54-46 per cent majority and naming conservative democrat Lloyd Bentsen to the senate over George Bush. And although the president apparently wanted a Bush victory in Texas, he can hardly complain about Lloyd Bentsen who appears to be the more conservative of the two candidates. Of course, a Bush win, along with a couple more would have allowed the republicans to organize the senate and get to name the chairman of the various committees. —HB—

And now the federal government is going to put the pressure on employers who wish to advertise for certain sex personnel or certain age personnel. Wage-Hour Administrator Robert D. Moran says field personnel have been instructed to conduct careful audits of all media sources for advertising which violates the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1968. Establishments placing such ads will be contacted to obtain voluntary correction of the practice. Advertisers who fail to discontinue such discriminatory advertising are subject to legal action. Under terms of the law, ads may not be placed which use such terms as "boy," "girl," "young man," "persons under 40," or any other words or phrases which indicate exclusion of applicants between the ages of 40 and 65. —HB—

We're reminded of the old rancher who was told by the local newspaper that he could not specify "male" in an ad for a ranch hand so he handled the situation very effectively otherwise. His advertisement read: "Ranch hand wanted. Must share bunk house with nine cowboys." —HB—

Tour Host Duty, Drive For Members Planned

A tour and luncheon for 50 members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Women's Division was planned for next Tuesday, and cooperation in a membership drive of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce was agreed upon by the Women's Division of the latter organization at the executive board lunch Tuesday.

Several members of the local Women's Division will act as hostesses to the Lubbock women at 10:30 a. m. for the tour of Holly Sugar plant, and other members will join the group at 11:30 for luncheon at Hereford Country Club. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. M. C. Adams.

The annual Chamber membership drive will be a contest this year, in response to a challenge from the Dumas C of C which lost a similar contest to Hereford in 1963. It will be based on the dollar increase in membership, and its theme will be a western cattle drive.

Mrs. Jack McKinster, president of the Women's Division, will be one of three persons serving as "ramrods" under leadership of the "trail boss", Roy Faubion. The three will recruit "foremen" and "wranglers" to conduct the campaign; prizes topped by a live yearling will be given the leading recruiters.

Reports were made on several recent activities of the Division. Featured was a report by Mrs. Homer Garrison, public relations chairman for the County Health Center Auxiliary, thanking the Division for a cash gift and telling of the work such gifts pay for.

She said more than 500 patients have been seen at the clinic in its two and a half months operation, in addition to more than 2,000 children in the immunization clinic. A recent eye clinic conducted by the State Committee for the Blind was attended by 112, many of whom received treatment or corrective glasses.

When the family planning clinic began last week, about half a dozen patients were expected and 22 were there. Ten surgical cases, diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, home visits by nurses, and plans for a venereal disease clinic conducted by a representative of the state, were among other work listed.

Mrs. Garrison added that federal funds pay for the clinic's work with migrants, but most patients are residents and contributions are needed for their care, including medication.

Mrs. E. W. Young, chairman of arrangements for the annual C of C banquet, announced that table decorations are being planned and will be made by members.

Mrs. McKinster reported on open house Sunday at the Day Care Center, to which the Division has contributed. She also thanked the fine arts committee and the leaders, Mrs. Bruce Brown and Mrs. O. H. Cüpper, who directed the recent Community Fine Arts Festival.

Mrs. Lynn Kester was returned to her post as first vice president for another year; other officers are at midpoint of two-year terms. They include Mrs. John Blocker as second vice president and Mrs. Rex Lee as secretary.

Holly President Reports Hike In Sugar Sales

The sugar beet harvest in the Hereford area is "considerably better than last year," the president of Holly Sugar said in a recent report to stockholders.

Harvest in the Rocky Mountain and Texas areas is progressing on schedule with sugar content and yield about average - considerably better than last year," said John B. Bunker in Colorado Springs. He said economic conditions for the corporation during the first six months of its fiscal year were favorable and that increased volume and dollar sales were achieved for sugar, by-products and gourmet food.

Increased sales for the six-month period ending Sept. 30 amounted to $5.5 million, Bunker said. Consolidated net sales increased to $58,202,000 from $52,610,000 for the same period last year.

He attributed the sales boost to improved sugar prices, an increase in national sugar consumption and an apparent build-up of inventories of processed foods and beverages containing sugar.

At The Library

Communist China

Communists have had control of China for three decades and during that time the Chinese outlook on the rest of the world has turned.

At the Deaf Smith County Library this week is a novel which tells of the strange life in China, due to communism. Check into it today.

CHINA AS I SEE IT
by Pearl S. Buck

With Communist control of China in its third decade, Pearl Buck takes a long view of a country that measures its history by millennia.

China as I See It is made up of a selection of Pearl Buck's writings and speeches beginning in the 1930's with a long final chapter newly written to summarize the Communist takeover, its background and its consequences. She says:

"China is more than a part of me. She is in my heart and soul and mind. My first conscious memories are of her people and her landscapes. They formed my childhood world, they shaped my adolescent years, they brought me to my maturity.

"Chinese in education and feeling, I knew I was American on the day I nearly lost my life at the hands of a Communist army which invaded the city where I lived.

"I have never returned to China since and it may be that I never shall. But through the years of exile from China I have continued to learn everything I could about the strange new life that is going on there.

"From time to time I have written of China and her people hoping to make my American people to understand the Chinese better, as somehow we must. These papers have been gathered together in this book.

"After 1951 I ceased abruptly to write on Chinese subjects because no reliable information came to me from China. But I have continued to read, especially the writings of Europeans who could go to China, and while I myself have no direct correspondence with old friends there, I do hear from Chinese friends in the United States who are in desultory and secret correspondence with their relatives in China. Hence, in the concluding chapter I have written what I have been able to gather from such sources.

"The book is timely, for soon we shall see changes in Chinese attitudes toward the outer world, or so I believe, and we must be ready.

"Even old tigers like Mao Tse-tung and Chiang Kai-shek cannot live forever. There is always a tomorrow."

WARHEAD
by Noel B. Geson

The Hawk was the prototype of a highly advanced class of nuclear submarines, the first to combine hunter-killer and missile-bearing capabilities.

Less than an hour after word of her loss reached Warren Noyes, the new operating head of the company who made her, he had given his division supervisors the top-priority assignment of re-evaluating the systems under their responsibility, notified the V-N employees' next of kin, sent friends to be with the hysterical widow of the Hawk's skipper, called a press conference and started his security chief investigating the very real possibility of sabotage.

Noyes is immediately subjected to almost unbearable pressures, within "The Company" and without. Admiral Waldemar Borogonin, Rickover's successor as head of the Navy's undersea program, is unshakably convinced that human error and not mechanical malfunction was responsible.

Together with a senator who has close ties with the military-industrial complex, he threatens Noyes with the cancellation of all his company's government contracts, if Noyes investigation delays the launching of the Hawk's sister ship, the urgently needed Falcon, by so much as one day.

And making matters worse, a vociferous pacifist group from a nearby university is capitalizing on the tragedy and attracting far more than its share of public attention. But in his toughest critic Noyes finds his staunchest ally—Liz Walker, a bright and beautiful woman reporter on the local paper.

These are the ingredients of Warhead, a novel that describes what might take place tomorrow or may have already.

Breakfast Honors Sorority Rushees

Rushees who are to become pledges of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, this month were honored with the preferential breakfast Saturday at the Caison House.

Mmes. Fred Ruland, Gary Gore, Arvel Williams, Freddie Well and Delbert Laing are the five who have been accepted for membership, and will be formally pledged at fall rituals of the sorority Tuesday evening.

Each was presented a yellow rosebud, the Beta Sigma Phi flower, after a welcome from Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert, Kappa Iota president, at the breakfast. The party was in casual style, with an hour of conversation.

Mrs. Kirk Owsley, vice president and membership chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

Others present to welcome the rushees were Mmes. Gary Tyler, Tom LeGate, Merle Goff, Carl Skaggs, Kenneth Ruland, Gerald Burney, C. A. Parker, Jim Aldridge and Tom Buchanan.

Pedro Galan Participant In Army Deployment Exercise To Germany

Army Specialist Four Pedro Galan, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andres Galan, 330 Ave. E, Hereford, was among the 11,000 troops of the 1st Infantry Division who left Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 4-10 to be airlifted to Germany to participate in exercise Reforger II.

The Big Red One soldiers departed from Forbes Air Force Base in Topeka, Kan. and landed at one of three West German airfields, Rhein Main, Ramstein or Echterdingen.

A few hours later, the troops picked up weapons, tanks and armored personnel carriers which had been pre-positioned in Europe and departed to the exercise site near the Czechoslovakian border.

During the five-day training exercise, the Division opposed aggressor forces from the 3rd Infantry Division, regularly stationed in Germany, and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Reforger II was designed to test U. S. Army deployment from stateside bases in defending Western Europe with NATO forces. A similar exercise, Reforger I, was held in Germany in January 1969.

Members of the 1st Division are scheduled to return to Ft. Riley in late October or early November.

Spec. Galan is a member of Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion of the Division's 63rd Armor.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Not just All-American Boys, but sometimes American girls hold as a lifelong dream they wish to attend a World Series ballgame.

THAT HAS BEEN one of her suppressed desires for years, Ruth Bartlett confesses, and this year her wish came true.

She got home Sunday evening from a visit with friends in Washington, D. C., and Baltimore — and the high spot of her vacation was attendance at two games of the recent baseball classic.

Weather was perfect and the games were as exciting as she had pictured them, she says. The friends who had tickets for her to join the hometown crowd of the champion Baltimore Oriles couldn't have entertained her more royally.

It certainly does pay to have friends in the right places, especially at World Series time.

PEOPLE WHO ORDERED bulbs from Pioneer Study Club this year are receiving them this week, and it isn't too late to plant them even if you do have a book that says to put them in the ground in October.

Gardening books are sold on written for this country, where the ground doesn't freeze except for maybe a day or two during a blizzard, and planting instructions usually take into consideration a ground that will be frozen all winter.

The other day somebody was worrying because she hadn't yet planted bulbs, and Betty Battey comforted her by saying that she herself had been busy and forgotten to plant tulips last fall, left the bulbs in the refrigerator all winter and then planted them in early spring.

THEY BLOOMED ANYHOW, she concluded, so you just need not worry at all about bulb-planting in Hereford.

That might not work a second time, so I'm going to make a big effort to plant mine this month.

It was nice to have Mrs. John Patton, one of the "Pioneers", drop over to bring those I ordered from the club — she is a neighbor of The Brand, just across on Miles Street. She was looking mighty smart, too, for a neighborly call, wearing a dress checked in fuschia and a light brown that would brighten up any winter day.

LAST SUNDAY WAS the middle of three weekends designed up at Canadian for the fall foliage tour out of that city, along the Canadian River and up to Lake Marvin, where the big cottonwoods were shining bright gold even if it was a cloudy, drizzly day.

It wasn't the kind of day you'd ordinarily pick for a foliage tour, but it was fun to drive through a few miles of heavily falling snow around Pampa. At least we thought it was fun because we went from Amarillo with the Ansel Ardens, and he did the driving.

From the time the highway began running alongside the river, near Miami, the trees furnished a continuous show. We came back by way of Wheeler and Shamrock, with a detour over to Lake McLellan near Alanreed, and kept seeing patches of yellow cottonwood and the orange-russet-and-brown shimmer.

They will still be pretty this

Waiting Wives, Mothers Set Coming Dates

Dates were fixed for two coming events in the Waiting Wives and Waiting Mothers Clubs, at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. W. B. Nunley.

New members were welcomed in both groups, composed of the wives and mothers of men in military service, as the clubs formed again after several members dropped out because their husbands or sons have returned home.

An invitation was drafted to Mrs. Jimmy Jesko, asking her weekend, barring a too-bad wind, but the earlier leaves including the red sumac are about gone already. You can't ever find them all pretty at once.

to become an honorary member of the Waiting Mothers Club as a Gold Star mother.

Waiting Wives are to have their next meeting Nov. 10 in the home of Mrs. Henry Neely, coordinator. A joint meeting of the two groups is set for Dec. 3 to make Christmas candy for mailing to servicemen. The place will be announced by Mrs. E. W. Lee, hostess.

The new members were Mrs. Marvin Batenhorst and Mrs. David R. Davis in Waiting Wives and Mrs. Pete Curtis in Waiting Mothers.

...the world is full of them. National symbols, political symbols, religious symbols for most every type, race, creed, organization or business. It's getting so that we automatically judge a person by the symbol he wears. "See that man with the Star of David? He's a Jew. The one with the Cross is a Christian. Look at that guy wearing flowers, ...he's a hippie. Those with clinched fists are black power advocates. Donkeys are for Democrats, elephants for Republicans." Everyone knows that. Yes, but what if the symbols were to disappear? Ah, there's the rub. Then, just how could we know what a person really is? Even more important, would we know?

Check your life today...right now. Are you depending on symbols to identify you, to get you through? Do your actions read well? For sake of the record, just what manner of man are you? In the final analysis, only your actions, your life will tell. Attend church this week. It'll make a big difference.

Diversion Terraces Help Problem

It Doesn't Rain Much Here But We Still Have Erosion

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The Great Plains Conservation Program is assisting A. C. Hays Jr. to rid his land of gaping gullies that have appeared in recent years because of uncontrolled running water.

On his 3949 acres of grass land northeast of Hereford, Hays is letting the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District use its equipment, on a cost-share program, to fill the large gullies and construct diversion terraces to take the runoff water to land that is more level.

"You wouldn't think, with as little rain as we get out here, that we would need this type of practice done," Hays said, "but just in recent years the land has gotten in terrible shape because of this runoff."

THE SOIL Conservation Service has laid out the plans for building the diversion terraces and have been working on them for about two weeks now with another week expected to be needed before the job is complete.

The terraces are scattered across two sections of land on the northern part of Hays' land and will divert the running water away from the gullies, around to more level land and into a natural lake.

The gullies were all filled in prior to the construction of the terraces.

Ed Blackwell, of the Soil Conservation Service who is helping with the project, said there are several other areas on the near-4,000-acre farm where other practices will be put into operation.

THE CONSERVATION service also is building a waterway to take care of some outside water going onto the land at a spot further south of the diversion terrace area. Pipeline will be put into the ground from a well in the south part of the farm and run north to carry livestock water to two storage facilities, Hays presently does not have enough livestock water on the north pasture.

"This will give better distribution of grazing and allow the grass to grow better," Blackwell said, "because the cattle will be moving about more when water is available in more than one place."

In another section of the farm, operated by Buster Sublett, the conservation service will put about 400 acres into seed grass where weeds have taken over and grazing is no good.

COST OF the terraces will run Hays about 16 cents per cubic yard and the Great Plains Conservation Program will pay about 70 per cent of the cost. On the waterways the cost will be split 80-20 and on the livestock water pipeline, about 50-50.

When completed, the farm will have about two miles of diversion terraces.

"You wouldn't think of erosion on rangeland like you would on cropland, but these gullies show that it can happen. Besides being ugly, they are also damaging to your rangeland," Blackwell said.

ELIMINATING EROSION — A. C. Hays, left, and Tom Hargrave and Buster Sublett look over the work being done on Hays' ranch land that is expected to help in curtailing the erosion problem. A number of diversion terraces have been constructed on the 4,000 acre ranch in the northeastern portion of the county.

DE STUDENT OF THE WEEK — Tammy Laughlin, who plans to become an airline hostess following her graduation from Hereford High School, has been chosen Distributive Education Student this week. Miss Laughlin is employed by Gene Campbell and Jim Cramer at Campbell-Cramer Real Estate where she is receptionist. She is the daughter of Jody Laughlin, 524 Avenue J.
