Joint Civic Club Meeting Attracts Crowd

For the second time within several weeks, the pros and cons of a proposed junior college district, contigent with the boundaries of the Hereford Independent School District, was discussed, this time at a Monday night meeting of all the civic clubs in Hereford.

Members of the Kiwanis, Kiwanis Breakfast, Noon Lions, Evening Lions and Rotary Clubs were on hand to hear Dr. Robert Clinton, assistant commissioner for the Development of Board, Texas College and University System, discuss the needs for a junior college.

He told the large gathering that he was firmly convinced, "that one of the answers to the many problems facing America in the next decade could be solved in junior colleges". He pointed out the number of students enrolled in colleges today and the look into the future. "There are 399,995 students enrolled in colleges today," he said, 'and only approximately 97,000 of this total is enrolled in junior colleges.

'It is predicted that in just a few short years, the total of students enrolled in all colleges will reach the astounding number of 707,800".

Seating for this huge increase in students is a threatening factor, he said. He pointed out the state's plan to establish some 40 junior colleges within the next few years to provide a place for higher education for students who will find it difficult to step into the life of a major university of college. "It is believed that within the next few years, the universities and colleges will begin limiting their enrollment of freshmen and we will be faced with a place to provide a higher education for these kids."

Dr. Clinton cited the "changing world" saying there is a man-power explosion occurring in this nation today and,whether we are ready for it or not, we are going to have to provide employment for these people. "Young workers between the ages of 24 and 35 are grapling for a role in management today," he said, "and it is expected that within the next couple of years an additional 9,000,000 more will be seeking the same positions, making the attempts to find adequate employment even worse".

In 1970 only five percent of the labor force of the United States will be unskilled he said and the junior colleges will, no doubt, be a major role in this field.

Dr. Clinton told the groups that industry is going to look to the man who works with his hands---one who knows a single skill well, and perhaps the only way a man will be qualified will be through the efforts of a junior college or vocational college.

'Why do we look down on people industry will be looking for."

Along this line he said, "we have over-emphasized obtaining a degree. We are so over-crowded with degrees today that it has gotten to the point where one makes no difference whatsoever."

"You will," he said, "first of all, vote to create a district here on April 4.

'If this is favorably accepted a board will be appointed to call a bond election and tax rate.

A fact sheet distributed to the persons present revealed that 1836 students in the high school and junior highs were surveyed.

Fifty-eight percent said they would attend if it were in existance today. Of some 3,600 adults surveyed, 1575 responded and over 1100 indicated they would take courses at such a school.

Also, as to what the cost of educating a student in a junior college and how it would be paid, the information given said that the cost per student per year is approximately $800. The state will pay $575, the in-district student will pay $100, and local tax support will be $125.

Much discussion was had on expanding the high school vocational training to train adults and graduates, and along this line, Dr. Clinton answered, "The high school is over-crowded. It cannot provide the adult or young adult atmosphere nor the prestige of a separate college campus. The junior college will probably save tax payers the cost of much of the vocational facility cost by contracting much of the shop training and lab work to junior college facilities and make present high school classrooms available for other uses.

About The Junior College

A "Can Do" Community...

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

Tom Burdett, one of two attorneys who are members of the steering committee for proposed Junior College for Hereford, states emphatically "I firmly believe this college will be built in Hereford as the people will vote in the junior college district and will pass the bond issue, as this is a yes, and can do' community."

Working closely with the steering committee, giving advise on legal procedures, Burdett feels strongly in favor of the college in that every young person should have an opportunity to attend college, and many presently do not have this opportunity to attend even the nearby schools, due to traveling expense in commuting or living in the college town.

Larger colleges tend to form graduate programs on the junior and senior levels. Lower classmen often have graduate assistants teaching, rather than receiving professor-student relationship. Closer rapport can be formed in smaller schools.

Burdett attended Sul Ross State College, Alpine, size about 1400 students, while he lived at home. He then finished at the University of Texas, which now has an enrollment of approximately 34,000 students, and feels that he had an advantage over students attending the University the first two years, sometimes gathering in classes of 500 students. Being a member of a family with three college students at one time, this hometown college was a 'financial lifesaver."

Parents of a student living at home reap untold benefits from the students as they absorb some of his educational atmosphere.

This college will afford adults of the area to keep abreast of the changes and new ideas. A number of farmers and professional people are already expressing interest in broadening their horizens with night courses. An example of this would be keeping up to date with tax laws through accounting courses.

Economic benefits for the city cannot be estimated. An educational institute often acts as a catalyst; growth pattern continues for years and years to come. College will bring student shoppers, and users of professional services and recreational facilities.

Contrary to some beliefs, the tax increase will not be so great as some people expect. It will bring local tax rate in line with some surrounding area school districts whose taxes are much higher already than the Hereford Independent School District.

"This will be a first class college, and not a "flunk out" school for less than average students" Burdett emphasizes. The broad range of subjects to be offered, include liberal arts, sciences, as well as vocational. All courses offered for college credits will be transferable to any four year institutions within the state. Upon completion, a diploma will be delivered to each student, and credits earned will be applicable at any time throughout individual's lifetime.

The purpose of the bond issue is to finance the purchase of land and construction of the college, an estimated cost of $3.25 million. Major costs of the students will be paid by the state, giving the area a chance for state funds to return home; that is, the college will receive $575 per student from the state.

Associated with the firm of Witherspoon, Aiken, Thomas and Langley, attorneys, Burdett and his wife, Carlie, came to Hereford in July 1967, and as of March 3 are parents for the first time.

Three Local Men Die In Wreck At Dumas

Turbulent weather which gripped the Panhandle area for several days earlier this week, was blamed in the death of three Hereford men when they were involved in a car-truck collision late Monday evening just north of Dumas.

Pronounced dead at the scene were Robert Edward Lee, 48, James Douglas Meeks, 50, and James Doyel Lee, 40. Identification of Meeks was not known until Tuesday due to his having no credentials on him at the time of the accident.

Weather conditions which have been blamed for numerous fatalities throughout this section of the country earlier this week, was pointed to as the cause of this fatality which occered a-this fatality which occured around 7:30 p.m. Monday. It was reported by witnesses that the car in which the three men were traveling was headed south on U.S. 287 and apparently went out of control and swerved into the path of the north-bound truck driven by James E. Trammell, 33. Trammell, an employee of Wilson Grain Company of Plainview, was injured.

A fire truck was summoned to the scene of the accident when it was discovered that the fuel line on the grain truck was broken.

The Lee brothers had operated an irrigation casing service here for the past five years.

Joint funeral services for the two brothers will be held today at 2 p.m. in Rose Chapel of Gililland Funeral Home with the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First United Methodist Church officiating.

Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

James Doyel Lee was born at Groom and moved to Hereford in 1955 from Pampa.

Survivors include his wife Jimmie, two sons, Mike and Tony, and two daughters, Kendra and Tam, all of the family home.

Robert Lee was born at Catauba, N.C. and moved to Hereford in 1964 from Fort Worth. He moved to Fritch in 1967.

Survivors include his wife, Myrtle, one daughter, Mrs. Geanie Taylor of Fort Worth; and three grandchildren.

They are also survived by their parents Mr and Mrs. R.E. Lee Sr., of Hereford; one brother, Hershel of Hereford; two sisters, Mrs. Cleo Todd of Lefrs and Mrs. Mary Jones of Hereford.

Mr. Meeks is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Joe Childress of Phillips, Mrs. Sybil Stevenson of Silverton and Mrs. Inez Ray of Deer Park; and one brother, Alvis of Creighton, S. D.

Spicer Funeral Home of Memphis will announce arrangements for Mr. Meeks.

Janie Reinart Wins At Leadership Conference

Janie Reinart, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinart of Route 3, won a first place plaque and medal at the Annual OEA Youth Leadership Conference held March 13 and 14 in Odessa.

A senior at Hereford High School, Janie placed with her individual student job manual and is now eligible to participate in state competition in Houston April 3 and 4. She will be competing with the first four place winners from the remaining three areas in Texas and other three winners from Area IV.

When asked how she felt at placing first in the district she said "I didn't believe it when I heard it and I can hardly believe it now but I hope I can do as well at state."

Miss Reinart was one of seven VOE students to represent Hereford in the contest. Others were Kelly Barber, business spelling and job application; Jamie Edmonson, machine trasscription and filing; Tina Flores, filing and production typewriting; Sandy Trevino business spelling; Prissy Crume ten-key adding machine; and Linda Vogel, tenkey adding machine and individual student job manual.

The contest consisted of 18 various categories to test students' proficiency in skills necessary for office occupations. Approximately 475 students of fifty schools throughout Texas attended the conference.

Miss Linda Vogel will accompany Miss Reinart to Houston as a voting delegate to the conference for state officers and teacher-coordinator Mrs. Pat McDonald will attend as sponsor. They will leave a chartered bus from Lubbock the morning of April 2 and return April 5

United Fund Officers Are Elected In Meeting

New officers for the United Fund Board of Directors were elected Tuesday morning at a breakfast meeting held at The Caison House. Serving for the coming year will be: Jerry Don George, president; Joe Shollenbarger, first vice-president; Ivan Block, second vice-president; Milton Durham, treasurer, and Mrs. H. H. Miller, executive secretary, (re-elected).

Retiring officers include: Calvin Goodin, president;Jerry Don George, first vice-president; Joe Shollenbarger, second vice-president; and Mrs. O.G.Hill, Sr., treasurer.

A detailed financial statement prepared by Mrs. Hill and presented by President Goodin, was reviewed and accepted by the members. Disbursements of funds to member agencies are being made according to schedule and pledges continue to come in as a result of last year's drive.

Milton Durham, chairman of the study committee concerning considerations for future drives, has set March 25 as meeting date for the committee. Possible activity of such a committee, recently appointed by Goodin, will include reviewing surrounding communities' tactics in coducting yearly drives for the United Fund, seeking improvements for future Deaf Smith County drives.

Appreciation to Goodin, Mrs. Hill, and immediate past drive chairman, Clete Corlis, was expressed by the new president, officers and other members attending: Harold Close, Edgar Lemons, Ed Loerwald, George Ochs, Rev. C. W. Allen, Tom Burdett, Mrs. James Higgins, Ivan Block, and Mrs. Werner Koelzer.

Drive chairman for 1970 will be selected at the next directors' meeting, April 13, 7 a.m. at The Caison House.

Miss Pageant Receives Boost From Newcomers

Advertisements for the Our Little Miss Pageant are being sold by the Newcomers Club, according to Mrs. Richard Otteson, president. The pageant will be held in Hereford April 25, with the local winners going to Dallas for the state contest.

Director Rosalind Rush will be in Hereford for a meeting to be held Monday, 10 a.m., at the First Christian Church, for anyone interested in entering their daughter, neice, granddaughter, etc. in this event.

Twenty entries are required for this area, and thirteen of these have been received already, for the second such pageant to be held locally.

Two division swill compete for the titles of Our Little Miss. The La Petite group, ages 3 to 6, will appear twice, modeling sports clothes and party dresses. The girls from 6 to 12 will parade in the two types clothes and also present talent skits.

Last year's talent winner, D'ann Caison, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Caison, attained one of the top talent awards in the state contest and received, as well, best over all musician award in the World's Our Little Miss talent competition.

Estate Management To Be Shortcourse Theme

The first in a series of shortcourses on Estate Management is stated for tonight at 8 p. m. in the Hereford Community Center, announces Mrs. Gene Cope, chairman of the Family Living Committee. The theme of the shortcourse is "Estate Management-A Living Plan."

The courses are sponsored by the Family Living and County Program Building Committees, with a special management committee making the plans. This is a unified effort to aid families in improving their financial life.

An introduction to the program will be given by Mrs. Argen H. Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, who is serving as coordinator of the shortcourse.

Featured at the session will be "General Aspects of Estate Management" by Ed Garnett, with the Texas Agricultural Extension service. Garnett is a 1956 graduate of Texas Tech University and 1968 New Mexico State University, having previously worked with Extension Service in Portales, New Mexico. He assumed duties as Area Farm Management Specialist on August 1, 1968.

At the program tonight, there will be a preview of other programs and a panel discussion by each program participant who will be on the following programs.

Serving on the Special management committee with Mrs. Cope are Mrs. Bess Werner, Mrs. Claude McDougal, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. Rita Huckert Jack Wilcox, John Messenger, Herman Ford, Jeff Carlile and Wayne Thomas.

Everyone in the area is urged by Mrs. Cope to attend.

Mann Elected To Trustee Position

Gerald E. Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Hereford, has been elected to fill an unexpired term on the board of trustees of High Plains Hospital in Amarillo. The action came at the March meeting of the executive committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The hospital is operated by the 1.8 million member BGCT.

ON TO STATE — Janie Reinart, shown above with the first place plaque she won at the Leadership Conference held in Odessa last weekend, now becomes eligible for state competition in early April.

First National Gains Places

NEW YORK — The First National Bank of Hereford, which reported deposits of $25,342,750 on December 31st, gained 86 places in standing among the 2100 largest commercial banks in the United States during 1969 and now ranks as 2056 largest in size compared with 2142 place at the end of 1968.

Deposits of the banks totaled $23,259,396 a year ago. This is revealed in the 1970 Annual Roll Call of the 3000.

Largest Banks in the United States published by the daily American Banker of New York, which is the trade newspaper of the banking business. There are approximately 14,000 banks in the United States.

Commissioners' Business Light

In an early called meeting Monday night, the city commissioners handled a light agenda within a one-hour period so that members of the council could attend he joint civic club meeting on the proposed junior college.

A zoning request and annexation petition by W.F. Ponder was rejected as proposed. His zoning request was for changing a section from a Zone B to a D-1 trailer court zone. The annexation petition was rejected due to the rejection of the zoning request.

The city also accepted bids on a long wheel base pickup, a standard pickup, a truck with a bed and three trucks with cab and chasis. Dick Norwood submitted the low bids for the long wheel base pickup and the standard pickup while Oglesby Implement submitted the bid accepted for the truck with bed and the three trucks with cab and chasis.

Other bids were submitted by Orval Watson Ford, 'Jones Motor and Kinsey Osborn.

Changes were approved for the relocation of an alley located in northwest Hereford.The alley, located between Nueces and Oak Streets in Unit II of Green Acres Estates, was given approval for extension by the commission.

Preliminary approval was also granted to extend blocks 5 and 6 of the Stark Addition on eastward to Avenue I.

Authorization was given for the city to accept bids on three patrol cars.

Jr. Hi Students Show Concern

By BETTY KOELZER
Staff Writer

After making appearances at Noon Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Synanon representatives, Bill Lane and Dave Behar, during the past week, also presented assembly programs for La Plata and Stanton Junior High Schools, and were well received at both places.

La Plata students gave the speakers a standing ovation after prolonging the program into extended time with a multitude of questions showing their curiosity about drugs and addiction.

Stanton teachers detained the two for more than an hour after an equally long program, asking their own questions from the standpoint of teachers and parents.

Behar, in introducing the program, explained to the youngsters and teachers, that their purpose for being here was "to inform you about what happens when someone uses drugs" Such a person does not know how to cope with life and starts running from his problems. Behar stated that he "started running at 15½, doing so for 16 years." "Synanon taught me not to run, but to stand there and cope with life".

Lane expressed their desire to familiarize the audience with the problems of being an addict, and "strip the glamour from drugs". Starting on drugs at 13, Lane spent all of his teens stealing, burglarizing, running from the "fuzz", and putting in time in federal hospitals and pententiaries. When he was 20, Lane, through his family who had spent literally thousands trying to help him, discovered Synanon where he learned to become a whole being again. Now 28, he is making Synanon his life career in the public relations field.

An effective statement of Lane's was, "We don't know any old addicts. They die before old age from a noverdose, disease brought about by drugs, or from being shot while stealing to buy more drugs".

The questions asked by the students proved their interest into the present-day drugs situation, ranging from inquiries about withdrawal, how one becomes addicted, how addiction can be stopped, how heroin is cut, how Synanon operates compared to other institutions, to present attitudes about police, and yet, many questions were unanswered due to the lack of time.

One of questions at Stanton, "How much does a stick of marijuana cost?" was most impressively but simply answered by Behar, "It cost me sixteen years". This answer "struck home" with a number of the students, provoking considerable discussion after the protram.

According to Pat Hughes, assistant principal of La Plata, the rapport between the students and speakers was very bood, and the school officials are proud of the response from the students.

Lane and Behar will soon be returning to their Santa Monica, California, headquarters, after spending more than two months in Texas educating the public about drug problems and the foundation they represent, as well as soliciting donations of beef cattle from members of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, who for three years have been faithful donors toward feeding the 2000 residents of the Synanon Foundation.

Are you going to go through another year thinking you can't afford an Oldsmobile?

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars.

So why settle for the ordinary when you can step up to an Olds and all the value that an Olds represents.

Take this big, exciting Delta 88, for example. It starts out with a surprisingly modest price. Add to this the features that make it such an outstanding value—extras that are included in the modest price: ☐ Regular-gas Rocket V-8 ☐ Power Steering ☐ Power Brakes, front discs ☐ Nylon-loop carpeting ☐ Bias-Belted Tires ☐ Door Side-Guard Beams ☐ Hidden Radio Antenna ☐ Flo-Thru Ventilation ☐ Bigger, better riding 124" wheelbase. Check these extra values at your Olds dealer's today!

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. • 225-3706

The issue of welfare has been again raised in Congress. Last week the House Ways and Means Committee approved President Nixon's welfare reforms and has sent the proposals to the Full House for consideration. Since I will be called upon to vote on the reform proposals, I thought I would devote this newsletter to the subject, and hopefully obtain your reactions and comments.

In my mind, the present welfare system has been more than a failure, it has been a disaster of major proportions. It has rewarded laziness, fostered indifference, and destroyed work incentives. Vice President Agnew said it all when he delcared,

"The way our welfare system encourages idleness is a scandal. The way oru welfare system actually breaks up families is a scandal. The way our welfare system robs human beings of their dignity--binding succeeding generations in a lifetime of despair - is the worst scandal of all."

President Nixon is determined to end this deplorable state of affairs. He is striving ot reform a system that has failed the taxpayer, insulted the working poor, and placed fellow Americans on a treadmill of lifetime dependency. To accomplish thsi, he has proposed turning welfare into workfare. The House Ways and Means Committee approves of his proposals, only time will tell whether the Congress does likewise.

Basically, the President's proposals are aimed at destroying the traditional welfare system, a system by which a poor man who is working can look across the street at a family on welfare getting more for not working than he makes at his job. The President, as does most of us, wants to help the truly needy; that is, the elderly, the disabled, infant children of poor families, and working individ who because of lack of training or inadequate job skills, are unable to successfully compete in the job market.

To accomplish these goals, President Nixon has proposed that in order to be eligible for benefits, able-bodied adults would be required to sign up for work or work training. Employable adults would have to accept training or employment, or lose their benefits. The only allowable exceptions would be granted to persons who have pre-school children or sick adults to care for.

These work and training requirements will be coupled with a whole new approach to manpower training, an approach that does not cost more money, but will deliver more jobs. For example, in cities all across the a modern way to match available jobs to men who possess the training needed to handle those jobs. The need for such a job bank is evidenced by the fact that last year over 2 million jobs throughout the nation went unfilled because needed manpower and available jobs were in different locations.

Unfortunately, the President's workfare proposals will cost more money in the short run--current estimates run somewhere in the neighborhood of $4 billion. They will also add 2 million families to the welfare roles. However, the President maintains that if the old welfare system were retained, and if it continued to expand at its present rate, the cost to the taxpayer would exceed a billion dollars more than the proposed workfare program, and all of the faults in the present system would remain. In addition, as any businessman knows, when basic operational changes are made, there is often a "turn made, there is often a "turnabout" cost attached. According to the reform proposals the co to "turnabout" welfare to workfare must be borne if we expect to get people moving off welfare rolls and onto payrolls. Finally, with regard to the added number of recipients, the President contends that the only way to stop the present downhill slide toward a Welfare State is to reward the poor who are willing to work, and let their successes be an inspiration to all Americans.

In summary, President Nixon believes that the truly needy -- the elderly, the disabled, infant children of poor families, and the working poor -- should be assisted by our affluent society. I am sure most of us would agree with this. He has proposed a plan to assist the needy and restore some semblance of dignity to the working poor, while helping them become truly productive Americans. Regarding the non-working poor, the President is attempting to change the present system to make it more profitable for the to work than to loaf. He believes it is a choice between work incentives now, or handouts forever.

I invite your constructive comments and reactions.

Local Women Attend Meet

Several delegates from local garden clubs attended the 24th annual spring convention of District I, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. which convened in Midland Monday and Tuesday.

Delegates attending from Bud to Blossom Club were Mmes. Bill Gentry, Jess Robinson and A. L. Manjeot.

Representing Hereford Garden Club were Mmes. L. W. Norvell, R. L. Ethridge and Ray Johnson.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. and Mrs. Manjeot, members of the District executive board, took part in the program. Mrs. Gentry and Mrs. Ethridge entered flower arrangements in the show.

Mrs. C. J. Collier Jr. of Houston was speaker for the District Judges meeting held Monday afternoon followed by a tea honoring the state president, Mrs Henry B. Horn and Mrs. R. L. Grubb, director of District I.

Other activities Monday were the pre-convention dinner held in the Hotel Scharbauer ballroom followed by the district board meeting.

"Oriental Contentment" was the program topic for the convention breakfast Tuesday morning.

Incoming presidents were honored at this time, followed by a business meeting and presentation of district awards.

Following lunch, the Artistic Division of a Program Flower Show was presented, "Moments of Discontent", coordinated by Mrs. J. W. McCart of Midland.

YHT Members Host Drug Team

Young Homemakers of Texas, sponsors of the Potter County 4-H Drug Abuse Team, held its open, regular meeting Monday evening at La Plata Junior High School.

Ronnie Roberts, assistant county agent from Amarillo presented five students to lead the program. Topics discussed were heroin and its effects, the harm in sniffing glue, and other types of narcotics.

Refreshments were served following the program.

Sandies Capitalize On Nine Herd Errors, 7-2

A week's absence of baseball practice could be marked as the number one reason for nine Hereford errors in a 7-2 defeat handed them by the Amarillo High Sandies Tuesday afternoon. Amarillo, as any Panhandle city on Tuesday, was cold and windy — ideal conditions for a miserable baseball game.

Through the course of the Amarillo-Hereford duel, the gust rose and became colder but surprisingly the game was excellent.

In the first inning the Herd was stung fatally, partly by their own accord of four throwing errors and one fieldinng, plus the addition of two Amarillo hits which all told was sufficient for four runs.

Hereford struck back in the second with a one run homer by first baseman Jeff Loerwald, his second of the season.

Through the fourth inning, Whiteface hurler Rudy Gonzales held the Sandies to little offensive action after recovering from the damage of their first inning surge. Then in the fifth Amarillo led off with a single. The runner took second on a pass ball and then scored, what is considered the first earned run by Amarillo, on another single.

Sandies' bats continued further in the fifth as they slammed a two run homer to boost the score to 7-1.

Hereford's bat in the sixth go round, tallied them only one run. It came when Loerwald walked, stole second, took third, on a pass ball, and scored on a sacrifice grounder by Alan Wagner.

Taking over chunking duties for the Herd in the sixth was junior Kevin LaFleur who accomplished his purpose of halting the Amarillo batting attack. But through the seventh inning, Hereford's scoring punch was also stopped, leaving them with one more loss to their credit, making it three for the season.

Going all the way for Amarillo on the mound was David Dodge who struck out 14 Whiteface sluggers. Hereford's pitching performance rated eight strike outs.

Hereford will be hoping for more of a spring atmosphere Thursday when they journey again to Amarillo to battle with the Palo Duro Dons---a game rescheduled for the second time. On Friday they will make their last road appearance in Plainview before returning home to tangle with Plainview again on Tuesday.

La Plata 8th And 9th Conquer Plainview Meet

By Jerry Odom
Staff Writer

La Plata Junior High's sprinters and field men proved an abundance of ability in track and field events Saturday in the Plainview Invitational meet. The freshman and eighth grade squads of La Plata took an overwhelming first place while the seventh grade finished fourth.

Scoring ahead of the seventh grade Mavericks were Plainview with 81 points, Clovis with 76, and Stanton with 74. La PLata scored 62 while Canyon and Tulia tallied 40.

Boys placing first from La Plata were Marvin Harris who hurled the discus 110 feet 11 inches, Steve Bryan racing the 70 yard high hurdles in a 11.3 time, and Harris again shot putting for 41 feet 3 inches.

Finishing second were Doug Charest, pole vaulting 7 feet 6 inches and Terry Yearby with a time of 61.9 in the 440 yard dash. Jay Williams of the Mavericks finished the 660 yard run in third spot.

Charest managed a fourth place in the 440 yard dash while Mike Crim ended the same with his discus throw. Maverick Robert Garcia sprinted the 50 yard dash for a fifth place honor. The La Plata eighth grade team in winning their division of the meet, scored a total of 150 point The next highest team made 71 points. The Maverick 440 relay team, consisting of Rosendo Condarco, Jim Marsh, Tommy Newton, and James Waits, rounded the track for first place in the event.

Wayne Schumacker boasted a first place in the 660 yard run while team mate Willie Glass placed third. Schumucker also placed fourth in the 70 yard high hurdles as James Harris was right behind for fifth.

In the 100 yard dash La Plata swept first and second places. Winning the event was Waits and receiving the consolation was Tommy Newton.

The sole competitor in the 440 yard dash from La Plata was Paul Rudd who grabbed fourth place. Condarco, Harris, and Schumacker took first, fifth, and sixth places respectively in the 110 yard low hurdles.

Placing second and sixth in the 50 yard dash were Newton and Condarco The 880 relay team of Harris, Rudd, Marsh, and Waits earned another first place for the Mavericks in the long distance event.

The La Plata eighth grade Mavs were successful also in the field division of the meet. In long jump competition, Harris, Waits, and Newton took first, second, and sixth places respectively. Keith Sandlin pole vaulted 8 feet 6 inches for second place while Jim Marsh shot putted 44 feet 9 inches for fifth place.

Marsh likewise placed in the discus contest finishing sixth. Rounding out eighth grade competition were Harris who finished first and Waits fourth in the high jump.

grade was a difficult show to

Though the La Plata eighth follow up, the freshman's performance was equally as sparkling. Not only did they grab first place as well bu t were 43 points ahead, at the finish, of the second place contender.

The La Plata ninth graders took their share of the first place honors, as did the eighth grade, leaving the second best, in many cases, for other schools. One of the Maverick's dominating victories was in the heated 440 relay where La Platans Alvin Ellerd, Danny Harris, Terry Champ, and Larry McNutt contested. Another was the 120 yard high hurdles which Harris was the honoree.

Champ took first in the 440 dash while McNutt did the same in th e 220 yard dash. La Plata's mile relay foursome of Ellerd, Harris, McNutt, and Champ, followed their 440 relay victory with another first in the mile relay In the 880 yard run Gary Kirkland came in third and Benny Kreighsausers finished sixth.

In field events Harris broad jumped 18 feet for first place while Champ went 17 feet 10 inches for third. Emilio Cantu was second in the pole vault.

Harris was second place in the shot put throw. In the last of the Maverick efforts, McNutt hurled the discus 136 feet 8 inches for second while team mate Danny Locke threw the object 19 feet for sixth place.

Friday the Mavericks of La Plata will see action at the Levelland track meet. Preliminaries are scheduled to begin at 4 p.m. and the final events to start at 6:30.

League Selects Bowler Of Week

Jean Watts, with 96 pins over her average, was named "Bowler of the Week" in Strike-Outs action recently.

Sunset Lanes collected the "High Team Three Games" with a score of 1960 while also taking the "High Team Game" with a score of 681. Jean Watts tied with Alice Lueb for the "High Individual Three Games" with 525 and Mrs. Watts grabbed the "High Individual Game" tokens with a 192.

Converting splits were Uldean Allen, 3-10; Barbie Ranspot, 3-10; Olive Welch, 3-10; Barbara Wheat, 3-10; Jean Ragan, 3-10; Margaret Byers, 5-6; Betty Stephan, 5-7; Daisy Nell Huntsinger, 4-5; Louis Turpen, 3-10; Mary Hall, 3-7; Geneva Kilpatrick, 3-10; Connie Ethridge, 2-7; Joy Bunch, 3-10; and Connie Levering, 2-7.

Standings to date show, Sunset Lanes, 53-35; Furr's, 48½-39½; One Hour Martinizing, 48-40; Hereford Flying Service, 47-41; Hi-Way 60 Truck Stop, 42½-45½; Clark's House of Flowers, 40-48; Merry Widows, 39-49; and and Texsun Feed Yards, 33-55.

STUDENT STRESSES

LONDON — Nearly one in five students at British universities need prolonged mental care and between one and two percent suffer from severe psychiatric illness requiring hospital treatment.

Stanton Places 2nd And 4th In First Track Meet

Stanton Junior High's seventh, eighth, and ninth grade track and field men tested their skills for the first time this season in heated competition Saturday in the Plainview Invitational Junior High track meet. The freshman and seventh grade crews ended the event with a second place honor while the eighth graders finished in fourth place.

Kenneth Cookey, Keith Kitchens, Robert Lee, and Sammie Rameriz, members of the freshman sprint relay team, snatched a 6th place for their efforts. In other freshman competition Robert Lee placed fourth in the 100 yard dash while Cooksey finished fifth in the 220.

The mile relay team of Reynaldo Mortona, Terry Scott, Wayne Moton, and Robert Lee finished in the fifth slot.

Kitchens was honoree for second place in the high hurdles while teammate Welsey High took fourth place In low hurdle competition, Kitchens and High stole the first two places respectively.

Sole competitor in the 440 yard dash from Stanton, Reynaldo Mortona, took third place while Sammie Ramerez finished fourth in the high jump.

Stanton boasted three places in the mile run as Ray Rameriz won first, Jimmy Henson took fifth, and Roland Perez finished sixth.

In field events, Wayne Moton hurled the discuss for first place and Allen Hare was good for third. Kitchens and High once again were at the top, this time in pole vaulting competition. High vaulted for first honors while Kitchens tied for second.

In eighth grade competition from Stanton were Rodney Jenkins and Micki Ward in fourth and fifth places in the 100 yard dash. All other contestants from Stanton who placed, finished in third.

They included Gerald Shipley in the high hurdles, Sonny Pena, in the low hurdles, David Varner heaving the discuss, and shot put.

The Stanton seventh grade, who finished in second along side the freshman, took first place in the sprint relay which consisted of Benny Griego, Roland Perez, Armando Hernandez, and Darrel Williams. Williams was also first in the 100 yard dash while Perez was fourth.

Trackmen Sixth In Lobo Relays

Three consecutive Saturdays of track competition, involving the trackmen of HHS have passed, each time leaving the Whitefaces in the middle ranks among their opponents. In their last meet, the Lobo Relays at Levelland on March 14, Hereford settled for a total 47 points and sixth place behind Levelland, Canyon, Tulia, Littlefield, and Brownfield.

The only first place taken by the locals was that attained by by senior Tony Gorman who hurled the discuss 142 feet 1 inch. He also managed a fourth place in the shot put throw.

Another senior, Mickey Brisendine, improved his sprinting performances from previous weeks, by finishing third in the 440 yard dash. George Fuller boasted a number three spot in the broad jump and came in sixth in the 220 yard dash.

James Waits high jumped 5 feet 10 inches for 4 fourth slot. Taking fifth place in team efforts were the HHS 440 relay squad of Ricki Ward, Waits, Rex Coleman, and Brisendine and the mile relay team consisting of Hector Rodriquez, Jay Henderson, Brisendine and Percy Mays.

Other Whitefaces in action were Coleman in the 220 yard dash and broad jump, Rosendo Gonzalez and Charles Ross in the discus event, Richard Sierra and Alberto Garza in the shot put, Lester Mays in the high jump and Billy Bob Taylor in the pole vault.

The Hereford tracksters are preparing themselves this week for their hosting meet, the Hereford Relays, to be held here Saturday. The meet will be divided into two divisions with two, three, and four A teams in the Panhadnle to appear.

To compete in division I will be Memphis, Morton, Friona, Wellington, Farwell, Dimmitt, the Amarillo High Junior Varsity, and Childress. Those in division II will be Clovis, Muleshoe, Tulia, Canyon, Levelland, Lamesa, Amarillo High, Slaton, and Hereford.

Directing the Hereford Relays will be Hereford athletic director Larry Wartes.

Thrifty Americans will soon enter the 30th year of U. S. Savings Bonds, with a record high of more than $52 billion in E and H Bonds and "Freedom Shares" salted away. The first E Bond was issued May 1, 1941.

Had another note from Lucy Martin who recently took us to task over the excessive ink on the paper. She says. . .

I wish I could remember all these things I see and hear. .
Because life is just too good to waste upon a tear.

We concur.

This has been a busy week for most Hereford residents. And that means a bunch of meetings for all of us to attend. Which really isn't too bad since we usually get to eat at each of them. On the other hand, this does contribute to our little problem of being overweight.

And even that, we suppose, is something to be thankful for. It isn't every nation that can enjoy the things that we take for granted here, such as an abundance of food.

—HB—

Charles Richards, recently with United Press International, and now News Editor of The Brand, has arrived in town and spent the day Wednesday getting acquainted. He's on the job today and reports that he's sincerely happy to get back to Texas. He and his wife and young daughter will be living in the Executive Apartments just as soon as their furniture arrives from Staten Island, N.Y.

We're happy to have Charles on the staff. We've known him for a number of years, first becoming acquainted when he worked on the Curry County Times, a weekly publication at Clovis, N.M., and later as he returned from a tour of duty with the Army and started working with UPI. He is a capable newsman and will be an asset to the community as well as our staff.

—HB—

The proposed Junior College District vote will be coming up April 4. This will be a vote to create a district only and not for building bonds as you may have heard. The district must be created, a board of regents named and the bond issue will come at a later date, that date to be set by the board.

There seems to be little opposition to the college, other than the increase in taxes, and certainly this will increase taxes. However, we were interested in the remarks this week of one gentleman who farms south of Hereford in the Dimmitt school district. He would be happy to move into the Hereford district and include a junior college on his tax bill. And after doing a little checking, we could see what he was talking about.

You can't tell much about percentage of taxation, or the rate levied, or the tax on valuation until you get all three together and figure out what your actual tax bill is on a piece of land. And that's what we have done. So here's the comparison. In the Dimmitt District, farmers are now paying $302.25 per year on 100 acres of the best farm land. The tab in the Hereford school district is $154.00. Add the junior college tax and you are still just above the $200 mark.

Incidentally, of the 13 districts on which we have figures, seven are considerably higher than the Hereford district, five others close, with only one district appreciably lower and that's the Lazbuddie district, which includes only 194 square miles of area. Other districts surveyed are Dimmitt, Friona, Tulia, Plainview, Olton, Floydada, Springlake, Muleshoe, Happy, Canyon and Bovina.

Victorian World Revealed In Novel

Available at the Deaf Smith County Library this week is the story of the complex Victorian world of the 1860's and 70's as compared to the reflecting modern man's image. The reflection is unique in every aspect. Look into it today.

THE FRENCH LIEUTENANT'S WOMAN
by John Fowles

Once again the seductive art of one of the great contemporary storytellers guides the reader into the labyrinthine world in which — reality and illusion slide interchangeably and gracefully across the mind. Beginning as a novel one of the Victorian novelists simply failed to write, The French Lieutenant's Woman opens the complex Victorian world of the 1860's and 70's to the perspective of time and imagination and allows us to see the image of modern man reflected in the past.

The technique employed enables the author to enter the story from the vantage point of the present and, looking back a hundred years, make first person commentaries on various salient aspects of the Victorian scene. . . politics, religion, science, economic conditions, social customs, sexual mores and moral attitudes. It is the mixture of superb storytelling with the illumination from the perspective of a century that makes The French Lieutenant's Woman so utterly compelling.

The scene is the village of Lyme Regis on Dorset's Lyme Bay. . . "the largest bite from the underside of England's outstretched southwestern leg." The major characters in the love-intrigue triangle are Charles Smithson, thirty-two, a gentleman of independent means and vaguely scientific bent;his fiancee, Ernestina Freeman, a pretty heiress daughter of a wealthy and pompous dry-goods merchant; and Sarah Woodruff, mysterious and fascinatingdeserted after a brief affair with a French naval officer a short time before the story begins. Obsessed with an irristible fascination for the enigmatic Sarah, Charles is hurtled by a moment of consummated lust to the brink of the existential void. Duty dictates must be broken as he goes forth once again to seek the woman who has captured his Victorian soul and gentleman's heart.

A PIECE OF RESISTANCE
by Clive Egleton

Tommorrow's headlines explode in a novel that combines the knife-edge tension of Seven Days in May wihh the post-1984 world.

It is the near future. England has been conquered and occupied by the Russians. A secret war developes between collaborators and the underground resistance, staffed primarily by former English soldiers. After the assassination of a government official, a highranking resistance fighter is captured by the Russians and imprisoned in a heavily armed fortress on the Isle of Wight.

Garnett, a tough, resourceful former officer who has escaped from the Russians more than once, is sent in an attempt to extricate the doomed man before the Russians can expose the entire underground network.

Bill Rowland Is Progressive Club Speaker

Justice of the Peace Bill Rowland was guest speaker for members of Progressive Home Demonstration Club at a meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. E. C. Hammett.

In the program on self defense for women, he demonstrated how to protect yourself if attacked by a man wielding a gun or knife and stressed the importance of concentrating on the discription of attacker for easy identification at a later date.

He said you should take note of the manner in which he escaped and if possible, get the license number of the escape vehicle.

Attending were Mmes. Floyd McGee, Taft McGee, A. B. Jacob, Dale Hallows, Tom Morgan, H. L. Hershey, Pete Carmichael, a new member, Mrs. C. R. Brandon and a guest, Mrs. L. J. Whitten.

The next meeting will be a luncheon on April 7 at the Caison House.

Lopez Rolls To Tourney Lead

Frank Lopez jumped into the lead by seven pins in the first annual Hereford Merchants Singles Classic Bowling Tournament now underway at Sunset Lanes as he rolled to a 1758 series.

Dr. McBrayer Is Speaker For American Legion Fete

Dr. D.E. McBrayer, local physician, presented a program on narcotics to members of American Legion and Auxiliary at a covered dish dinner Tuesday night in observance of the 51st birthday of the American Legion Organization.

Dr. McBrayer stated wide spread usage of drugs has made a definite impact upon all areas of society. It is a problem of immense importance and porportions which has implication on all.

Introducing the speaker was Melvin Young.

S. T. Wiseman was master of ceremonies.

Approximately 54 persons attending with guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brady and daughters of Claude. Brady is 18th District Commander.

He announced the 18th District Convention scheduled Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo.

Auxiliary delegates to the event are Mmes. Ira Ott, J. D. Love, Cecil Wilkins, Mabel Wagner and S. T. Wiseman.

Alternates are Mmes. Hazel Sparks, Leon Vinton, J. G. Gandy, J. E. Young and J. M. Dawson.

"I can't sit still and do nothing" says Eddie Albert, star of the television comedy series Green Acres. "Happiness to me is constant activity, so I'll try anything within reason."

Mrs. Summers To Head Alpha Alpha Chapter

Mrs. Larry Summers was elected to head the slate of officers of the Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in elections held Tuesday evening in the Dimmitt home of Mrs. James Shearer.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Margaret Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. Max Stipe, secretary; Mrs. Bill Kendall, treasurer; Mrs. Hicks Robertson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, civil defense and extension officer.

Elected to serve on the City Council were Mmes. R. J. Cramer, Ernest Wade, John Schneider, James Shearer and alternate, Mrs. Howard Gore.

Trading stamps were donated by members to assist in securing an airplane for Girlstown and "Turn The Key" charms were distributed to members for bracelets.

Attending were he above mentioned and Mmes. Harold Beauchamp and Charles Laing.

Mickey Warlick

Temple Baptist Slates Revival

Mickey Warlick, a Plainview evangelist, will be the preacher for special services at the Temple Baptist Church scheduled March 20-22 and 27-29.

Tommy Kenner, of Tulia, will direct the revival music.

Warlick is 29 years old. A native of Seminole, he played football in high school and at Howard Payne College. He has been preaching 12 years with 8½ of those years pastoring at Mason and Midland. He has been in full time evangelism two years. A group of Seminole laymen interested in winning souls have formed the Mickey Warlick Evangelistic Association.

Kenner is with the public school system of Tulia. He is formerly from Dimmitt where he directed music at the Lee Street Baptist Church.

Services will be held Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 p.m. and regular Sunday services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided for convenience.

J. L. Bozeman, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, invites everyone to hear these outstanding young men.

Highway Patrolmen To Check Driver Licences

Figures just released by the Texas Department of Public Safety reveal that many of the more serious accidents are involving unlicensed drivers. Highway Patrol Sergeant Bill Wells of Hereford stated today that all of the men under his command will be checking driver licenses while on routine patrol. He also stated that this is not meant to be harassment of the licensed legal driver and asks their understanding in this venture.

Patrolmen Hagood, Moore, and Samuels stationed in Deaf Smith County will become very familiar figures to many of the citizens that use the highways daily around this area. In addition to asking for divers to produce their driver license, the patrolmen stated they will be checking for compliance of the Motor Vehicle Inspection program.

Figures reveal that 9.6 per cent of persons involved in fatal accidents in the first six months of 1969 were unlicensed. Another startling statistic points out that one out of each seventeen Texas residents involved in motor vehicle accidents during this same period was not licensed. Approximately 400,000 unlicensed drivers are using the streets and highways in Texas at this time, according to Sergeant Wells.

Every branch of the Texas DPS, as well as local authorities, is working to protect the citizens of the State of Texas. Help is requested from everyone by persuading an unlicensed driver you may know to get a Texas Driver License as this could help save a life someday.

Schools will be held to aid those persons who need help to obtain a driver license. Sgt. Wells said that if persons needing help would call the DPS office, the time and location of the next school could be obtained.

Mrs. Dettman Hosts LaPlata Study Club

Members of La Plata Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Emil Dettman Tuesday evening to hear a program presented by Wayne Thomas.

His topic of marriage counseling discribed several areas of married life susceptible to trouble.

Membership Dinner Set By Community Players

Not only members of Here residents interested in joining the group or in its objective of presenting live drama with area talent, are invited to the annual membership dinner to begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Civic Club Center at Jim Hill Hotel.

Reports of the past year's activities and plans for coming months will be summarized briefly on the program, and entertainment arranged by Mary and Fred Howard will be presented.

The dinner will mark the start of the yearly membership drive, directed by John Aikin. Although membership is open at any time to residents of the Hereford area, a special effort is made each spring to enroll members for the next year which begins in June.

Tom Kendrick, president of the organization which is completing its second full season, announces that those who like to see plays staged locally, as well as those who like to take part in them onstage or backstage, will be welcomed at the dinner.

Tickets are on sale in advance by members, priced at $3 each. Mrs. George Warner is chairman of ticket sales.

The Community Players are preparing to present a three-act comedy, the Curious Savage, next month. Earlier this season another comedy, Mary, Mary, was given, and the Hereford actors appeared in a children's play at the end of last summer.

H. D. Members Plan Rally

Members of Messenger Home Demonstration club made plans for a political rally at 7:30 p.m. on April 18 at Walcott School, at a club meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. N. A. Brown.

Opening exercises was a game naming the states which was won by Mrs. Argen Draper.

A program on upholstry and buying furniture was given by Mrs. Draper and she distributed information on furnishing a first home, beginning with plans.

The hostess displayed an afghan she had crocheted and dresses which had been ordered.

The floating prize was won by Mrs. S. N. Tweatt and Lisa Page received a secret pal gift.

The next meeting is scheduled March 27 in the home of Mrs. Bill Page. Mrs. Page will present a program on decorated foods.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with a St. Patrick's Day theme.

Others attending were Mmes. Tom DeShazo, Elmer Northcutt, and guests, Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mrs. Eldred Brown.

Unusual bleeding or discharge may not mean cancer. But only your physician can tell for sure. If the condition continues for two weeks, see him, says the American Cancer Society.

SAFETY DEVICE

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The state Highway Department plan to add anti-roll bars to its mowing tractors next spring (1073). If the machine overturns, the workers, strapped into the driver's seat, won't be crushed.

Better Business Bureau Axes Vanity Publishers

Budding authors may pay a high price to see their books in print if they deal with unscrupulous "vanity press" publishers, Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, said today.

A vanity publisher, it was explained by the manager of the chamber, which is affiliated by membership with the National Better Business Bureau, is one who claims to provide all of the services involved in publishing, distributing and promoting a book — for a fee paid by the author.

Promotors who mislead amateur authors are not to be confused with legitimate subsidy publishers whose business is publishing materials of authors who knowingly agree to foot the bill.

The fee may range anywhere from $1,500 to $5,000, said the National Better Business Bureau.

Promises by vanity publishers attract authors turned down by conventional publishers, who pay for manuscripts and provide other remuneration based on sales.

The frustrated author can give up after making the rounds or he can publish his book at his own expense. In paying for publication, he may make his own arrangements for editing, printing, binding, promotion and distribution. Or he can go to a vanity publisher .

NBBB points out that in recent years, a number of vanity publishers have been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to halt misrepresentations.

One complaint concerned an author who had paid $1,500 in advance for what he believed would be 3,000 bound copies. He discovered, however ,that the contract did not obligate the firm to bind that many copies, only print them.

On being threatened by the author with legal action, the publisher agreed to bind 290 copies. The rest of the printing was sent to the author in flat sheets.

Before entering into a contract with a vanity publisher, an author should check on what bookstores, book reviewers and librarians in his community think about books published by the vanity press.

The author should investigate the cost of having his book edited, printed and bound locally and compare it with the price quoted by a vanity publisher.

If he is considering signing a contract with a vanity publisher, he should seek legal advice in determining the publisher's responsibilities on (1) binding the number to be printed; (2) whether the publisher will deliver at no extra cost the books left unsold at the expiration of the contract; (3) promoting the book.

Finally, the author should ask himself whether he can afford to stand the loss of his investment if only a few copes of the book are sold.

The price of literary immortality is high. For an author dealing with a vanity publisher who promises fame and fortune, says NBBB, the price is always in dollars and cents not in perfecting his art.

Barbians Visit Here Recently

The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Barbian and daughters, of Ft. Scott, Kansas, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Springer recently.

Mrs. Brbian and girls extended their visit for another week while the Rev. Barbian returned to Ft. Scott.

Mrs. Barbian is the former Sue Springer.

Square Dance Couples Meet

Approximately seventeen couples attended a square dance organizational meeting Thursday evening at the Civic Club Center, according to Mrs. Al Harris.

The group will take lessons for the next three meetings followed by the forming of a club. Caller for the group is Herrick Allen of Amarillo.

Anyone wishing to participate in the lessons may do so on March 18, April 8 and April 15 at the Civic Center, and after that date,anyone that joins must must be experienced.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend, Mrs. Harris said.

Team Number 1 Takes Honors

Team number one, in Kings and Queens Bowling action, rallied for top honors last week taking high game with 877 and high series with 2471. In the men's division, J.R. nines had high game with a 218 score and high three game series with a total 547.

For the women,Alice Lueb had high game of 193 while Stella Vaines took the high series scoring 536.

Historical Society Holds Annual Meet

Directors were elected, committee reports given and plans for past and future projects were told at the annual membership meeting of Deaf Smith County Historical Society held Sunday at the Museum.

The meeting was conducted by George Stambaugh in the absence of Palmer Norton, president.

A report from the nominating committee, led by Frank Ball, resulted in re-election of directors, Mmes. Juston McBride, Henry Sears and George Turrentine.

Elected as new director was Mrs. Colby Conkwright who is president of Bay View Study Club and will serve in an educational capacity.

In a membership committee report, Mrs. Turrentine said the results of membership nenewals were satisfactory and announced a membership campaign scheduled April 3 to be conducted by Mrs. H.L. Benefield.

Stations will be set up at both banks to obtain memberships.

Mrs. Juston McBride presented a report on past accomplishments, plans for future projects and expressed gratitude to Bill Hacker, Harry Lomas and John Turner for their active participation in museum activities during the past year.

Mr. Turner has made plans to dismantle the windmill and erect a more appropriate tower.

Discussions were made on future plans of rearranging the outside grounds and the northeast section of the main room where a country store will be built and all exhibits will be changed.

Because of authenticity, members decided not to duplicate a livery stable and the caboose will be placed within the fence as soon as possible.

It was announced that the Bay View Study Club will carry the educational program of the museum pertaining to tours.

An announcement was also made of a board meeting call on March 19.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Daen Stevens, of Albuquerque, N.M., announce the birth of a daughter, Deborah Leigh, born Monday in a hospital in Albuquerque.

The baby weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces.

Grandparents are Mrs. Irene Boardman and mrs. Ruby Stevens, both of Hereford.

Hereford Newcomers To Assist Cancer Crusade

Cancer Crusade workers were guests of the Hereford Newcomers Club at a luncheon held Tuesday at the Chaparral, discussing the crusade and showing a cancer film, The William Talman Story.

Presenting the program were Herman Ford, president of Deaf Smith County Unit of American Cancer Society; John David Bryant, education committee; Jim McDowell, downtow commercial committee; and Mrs. Jack McKinster, service committee.

Members of the Newcomers Club consented to sponsor the door to door canvass which is headed by Mrs. Bud Thomas. Mrs. R.C. Hoelscher is organizational representative and will work with Mrs Thomas.

The film shown to the group was made by Bill Talman, TV personality who played on the Perry Mason Show. Talman died of lung cancer a few months before the film was released.

Following the program, Mrs. Otteson conducted a business meeting where members voted to change their regular meeting time to the second Tuesday of each month.

They also voted to sell advertisements for the Our Little Miss Pageant scheduled April 25

The next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon on April 14 at the Community Center.

All newcomers are invited to

Wa Tah Ni Ki Girls Prepare Chicken Dinner

Members of the Wa Tah Ni Ki Camp Fire group prepared and served a chicken dinner to the Camp Fire group and two guests, Mrs. John Warren and Jeanette Holman.

Dinner was served by candlelight on a table centered with a beautiful bouquet of yellow flowers.

The seven girls preparing the meal were Elaine Albracht, Earnestine High, Renee King, Jane Hoffman, Helen Lesly, Tammy McIver, and Patrice Tomasi.

Group advisor is Mrs. J. A. McWhorter.

Kappa Iota Elects Slate Of Officers

Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert was re-elected as president of Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in elections Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Rudy Metz. Co-hostess was Mrs. Gary Bradden.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Huckert are Mrs. Curt Owsley, vice-president; Mrs. Tommy Buchannan, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Skaggs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gary Tyler, treasurer; Mrs. Gerald Turnbow, civil defense officer and Mrs. C. A. Parker, extension officer.

City Council representatives are Mmes. Kenny Ruland, Bill Barkley, Merle Goff and C. A. Parker.

"The Art of Thinking" was the program given by Mrs. Parker.

Members finalized plans for a bake sale scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on March 21 at Sugarland Mall.

They also discussed a future project, "Wings for Girlstown," to help secure an airplane for Girlstown.

STUFFED BAKED POTATOES—Use a food mill and you'll find it easy to mash the potato pulp before you pack it back into the shells.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Take-It-Easy Potatoes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Nothing tastes better with meat, poultry or fish than a homemade stuffed baked potato.

But recipes for the stuffed potatoes usually take it for granted that you are going to prepare them at the last minute and reheat them briefly in the oven.

We're all against this. Our way is to prepare the potatoes hours ahead, then reheat them in the oven for a generous length of time. No watching necessary. If this at-ease method appeals to you here are exact directions — and mighty good stuffed potatoes they make. So good in fact that we could contentedly eat them every night!

PREPARE-AHEAD STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

4 medium baking potatoes, about 1½ pounds
⅛ pound (½ stick) butter, room-temperature soft
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup finely grated cheddar cheese
Paprika

With a vegetable brush, scrub potatoes under cold running water; dry with paper toweling. Place on middle rack of a preheated 425-degree oven. Bake until potatoes feel soft when lightly squeezed (with fingers protected) or until centers feel soft when pierced with a fork — about 50 minutes.

Cut a thin lengthwise slice from the top of each potato. Scoop out pulp, reserving potato shells. Put pulp through a food mill placed over a mixing bowl.

Add butter, milk, salt and pepper; mix thoroughly. Spoon back into potato shells. Draw the tip of a fork over each potato to ridge. Scatter a tablespoon of cheese over each potato. Sprinkle with paprika. Put potatoes on utility tray, cover with transparent plastic wrap and refrigerate for as long as 6 to 8 hours or overnight.

About an hour before serving time, preheat oven to 425 degrees. Place potatoes on a cookie sheet and bake until hot through and tops are brown and crusty — 30 to 40 minutes. Serve at once.

Makes 4 servings.

Note: Although the above recipe calls for only 4 potatoes, you can use it to prepare any number you need. Choose baking potatoes that are 4 to 5 inches long and about 2½ inches across; each potato will weigh 5 or 6 ounces (3 potatoes to about 1 pound). Use the above directions for preparation but for each potato, after you have put them through the food mill, add 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon milk, ¼ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Use 1 tablespoon of grated cheese for topping each stuffed potato.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA DRYDEN

An article which appeared in the Bradford (Pa.) Era, has given everyone around our office a few laughs and I thought my readers might enjoy it. On second thought, you may not think it is as funny as I did. Here 'tis. .

Newspaper editors are also people — we are told on good authority. If they sometimes appear cantankerous, there is a reason. A friend of ours in the business recently took time out to list some of those stock phrases he encounters every day which give him ulcers. Such as:

1. "Please use the story as I've given it to you. We want it for our group's scrapbook." (They'll do it every time.)

2. "How come it wasn't in the paper?" (In 95 per cent of the cases 'it' was in the paper — the reader just missed it.)

3. "You're invited. . . and bring your camera." (The greenest cub reporter knows better than to fall for this trap. Besides, a free rubber chicken dinner won't get you any more publicity.)

4. "Are you busy?" (No, we just put in a 60-hour week because we like our work so well.)

5. "I know it's Saturday, but would you. . . " (We like to work on Sunday even better.)

6. "We want you to be our publicity chairman and. . ' '(Oh no, we won't. You can grind your own axe.)

7. "My uncle is one of your big advertisers, and he'll. . . " (If he quits advertising, it'll hurt him more than the newspaper.)

8. "For $25, would you keep my name out of the police report?" (Sorry, we can't. If the editor gets pinched, his name will appear too.)

9. "You should have known about it." (No newspaper employs a mindreader. The city blows the fire whistle to alert firemen, and any newspaper needs advance notice, too.)

10. "Our publicity chairman sent you. ." (This is the oldest dodge in the book. What this means is that she forgot to send it in.)

Was delighted to see so many pretty and colorful forsythias in full bloom. Als othe daffodils are adding masses of color to many places in our town. Their lovely yellow faces soon lifted, and faced the sunshine, when the snow storm passed. Those blooming at the Post Office are especially pretty, as are the ones in the new planting at the court house. I also noticed that in the society events that many of the cut daffodils had graced tables, and been used for decorations.

In readiing some of the daily papers in Virginia, I was pleased and surprised (really) to find in a number of places whe the headlines of an event, stated that lovely cut flowers had been used, one headline (in bold black lettering) read 'Delegates Fete Speaker with Flowers, Cake and Song". Truly flowers have a universal appeal and a language all their own. Another healined article, stated in bold tpye, "Gardening Brings Joy."

It was our pleasure to visit Williamsburg, one of the most scenic and popular of gardens, and antiques in the USA. Had previously visited Williamsburg two or three times, but each time I get a new insight into its importance, and always enjoy immensly the beauty of the gardens, flowers, trees, and interesting and beautifully restored village, and other properties about the city.

Upon our avrival at the headquarters building, some of the first things I noticed were the schillas, snowdrops, and the blankets of crocus, in their myriad of colors. Many of these spring flowering bulbs had been used throughout the town and especially in the restored part.

Another item of interest to the gardener, is the beautiful flower arrangements which are used profusely throughout the Governor's Palace, and in many of the other restored homes and business houses. When there are no fresh flowers for cutting, then mass arrangements of native treated floral materials are use These arrangements are listed high on reasons for remembering Williamsburg, and for its popularity.

I don't think one would ever tire of going through the gardens at the Governor's Palace, and seeing the hostesses in their period dresses and customs, carried out as of yore.

The horticulturist always finds it a delight to walk the garden paths, and immediately attention is focused opon the many varities of boxwood used in the gardens. It is an object of much interest, concern and loving tender care.

One day while we were there, the Virginia State Garden Club came to Williamsburg, to conduct a study and workshop, with boxwood as the topic. In this workshop the gardeners learned the names and characteristics of many of the varieties growing in the gardens, also how to prune how to grow how to feed, and propogate boxwood. The workshop was conducted by Admn. Neill Phillips, president of American Boxwood Society, and Dr. J.T. Baldwin, professor in William and Mary College.

Admiral Neill Phillips, urged all to become members of the American Boxwood society, and explained that anyone who was interested, just write the American Boxwood Society at Boyce, Virginia, ask for information as to dues etc. They can soon be enrolled as a member. He travels extensively, lecturing, and demonstrating uses, the ty, and how to properly prune prune and care boxwoods.

Irvins Sprinkel, head gardener gave a demonstration of how to prune and create Topiary Specialisations. The Topiary boxwoods are used in great numbers in the formal gardens at the Governor's Palace. Along garden walks they are cut and shaped to add beauty.They were also used in the "Maze," which is one of the most interesting features of the great gardens of the Palace. Art and I had fun wandering and finding our way in and through the Maze, which is a feature carried on from early days of England.

I became so interested in the boxwood, that I decided that soon I would be a joiner of the American Boxwood Society. We can grow a number of varieties in our gardens (we have three or four varieties), and they are becoming more and more popular, there are few evergreens that are more attractive than the boxwoods.

The tour in Williamsburg was most interesting and am quick to say that questions from the grandson Lloyd and Beverly add added spice and information to our tour. The ever hungry young boy lead us to the Ginger Bread Kitchen, and of course soon we had a bag of the delicious old fashioned ginger cookies.

Also learned where many of the firsts started, in talking with Beverly, since she is studying Virginia History. While in the House of Wigs, we learned that Thomas Jefferson, was the first president to have ever worn a wig. Some questioned this, as they thought Washington would have been the first. Not so. . . .his lovely hair-do, was all of his own hair.

The more I visited, listened, looked, and read, the more I was convinced that much of our heritage of which we are proud, started in Virginia. (Am going to study Virnianian History and learn more) All of our people should have a refresher course in American Heritage, and more touring should be made in the places where so many of our heroes and heroines paved the way for our nation to become great. This not only refers to events as mentioned, but of many places in our wonderful USA . . . . . .such a movement I believe would be instrumental in erasing some of the bad feelings, riots, and discontent, that is prevelant now.

Lets' review a little. What do you know about Old Point Comfort? Who was imprisoned at Fort Monroe for months? How did he finally get his freedom? Where was the naval battle of the Merrimac and the Monitor fought? Results? How many firsts did President Jefferson start?

GARDEN TIPS: If warm weather continues, the first cutting of the lawn can be done. Don't cut it too short, however, this first is mainly for the purpose of removing the old grass and the early weeds. If you haven't pruned the roses, this may be done as the weather warms up. Plant the first Glads, on Good Friday, also replant and divide rhubarb. Put out onion plants, have garden plots well spaded, be sure and add some mulch material, such as peat moss, garden compost, or cocoa hulls, and or cotton seed bulbs.

Just as soon as we return from Midland, Garden Club Annual Convention, will be getting out the garden tools, and completing plans for the planting and garden chores at 303 West Haven Dr.

Am eager and will be--GLAD --to work a bit in the good earth.

Book Review

Highest Sign Of Friendship Is...

by Genevieve Miller

In THE MEANING OF GIFTS by Paul Tournier, the author says a gift may lift up or abase. Gifts cannot produce happiness if there is no feeling of gratitude and Tournier proceeds to elaborate upon the adventurous age of invention which was for the parent generation an exciting time of striving, seeking and possessing luxury, but for the youth of this time, the easy acquisition and provision of former luxuries is the expected thing and has left them without a valid purpose for life. They are left without a sense of gratitude and with a profound sense of unhappiness.

Tournier goes on to say that "the highest sign of friendship is that of giving another the privilege of sharing your inner thought. It is a personal gift in which there is self-commitment . . . To give is to signify one's self-commitment. . The supreme gift is the giving of oneself. . " The writer states that "the universal quest for gifts is nothing other than a seeking after God, by whatever name we may call Him. . . And, then, in time, we come to understand that of grace the whole world is a gift of God. . We see each flower, each drop of water, each minute of our life as a gift of God."

To read this book is to be awakened to a new appreciation of this life as a prelude to eternal life. "The same devine love which created this world now saves it from disintegration — the love of Jesus Christ."

Paul Tournier is also the author of THE MEANING OF PERSONS and GUILT AND GRACE. Both volumes are highly recommended as being helpful to one's understanding of other people and himself.

Just off the press is the fifth edition of Howard's Original TEXAS GUIDEBOOK, edited by F. M. McCarty. There are fifty-three pages devoted to "General Information" concerning history, resources, etc. Section II is entitled "Sightseeing Along Texas Highways" and the industries of Hereford are publicized in the reference to Highway 60.

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER is the enthusiastic and spirited account of 104 year-old teacher, newspaper woman, and former Methodist missionary, Layona Glenn, in cooperation with Charlotte Hale Smith. staff writer for the ATLANTA-JOURNAL CONSTITUTION MAGAZINE. For those who may be a bit world weary in their seventies and eighties, Miss Glenn should be a veritable inspiration. She says, "I'll never retire. At 103, I figure I'll just go on doing as I please, and the good Lord keeps showing me interesting things to do."

Many Homeowner Costs Deductible

By JOHN PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — About this time of year every homeowner begins to have tender feelings about his mortgaged castle, because hidden in it are a wealth of tax deductions his cliff-dwelling friend can't claim.

Every cent of interest included in the monthly mortgage payment is deductible, as are many state and local taxes. In addition to these — the major ones — there are dozens more that cover special situations. Try not to miss them, because the Internal Revenue Service wants you to take full advantage of every legal method of holding down your tax.

The same breaks aren't available to apartment dwellers, even though they pay property taxes indirectly in their rent.

Many homeowners are entitled to deductions for casualty or theft losses but fail to put in for them. They're deductible to the extent that they exceed $100 after subtracting insurance settlements, if any.

But the $100 rule must be applied to each such loss. You can't add up a year's losses and treat them as one.

The tax collectors define a casualty as partial or total destruction resulting from an "identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected or unusual nature."

Hurricanes, windstorms, flash floods, falling trees, runaway cars and riots all fit this category.

Theft losses are easy enough to understand. Homeowners have more and more expensive things to attract the larcenous, and they leave a lot of it outdoors — things like statuary and gadget-laden lawn equipment.

If you are required as a condition of employment to use part of your home as a place of business, you may deduct an appropriate percentage of home maintenance costs such as heat, light, cleaning and decorating bills, as well as depreciation.

There are also tax angles to figure when you change homes.

Most sellers get more for their homes than they paid. The point to remember is that you'll have to pay taxes on this profit unless you invest it in another home costing at least as much within a year before or after the sale.

If the house is being built for you, and construction started either before the sale or not later than one year after, you have up to 18 months after the sale to move in.

It may be that when you decided to move you had your old place painted and had a carpenter in to make a few repairs in hopes of getting a better price.

Though not deducted in figuring the profit, these fixing-up expenses may be subtracted from the final sale price to yield the "adjusted sales price," the purchase price of your new home to find how much gain is to be taxed currently — if any.

But to be considered, repairs must be made within 90 days before the sale contract is signed, they must be paid for within 30 days after the sale, be nondeductible and not be permanent improvements. So if the carpenter is slow about billing you, go after him.

Of course, not everybody sells at a profit, but losses are not deductible.

But maybe the process of moving to the new residence will add to your list of deductions.

A deductible move has to be made at the worker's expense in connection with a new job or because of a transfer. And your new plane of employment must be at least 20 miles farther than your old home was from your old job.

For example, if you used to live 10 miles from work, you will meet the 20 mile test if your new place of work is at least 30 miles (20 plus 10) from your old home. The location of your new home doesn't enter into the calculations at all.

Once you get to your new area you must work full time for at least 39 weeks out of your first year there. It's permissible to change jobs, though, so long as you stay in the same general commuting area.

On a deductible move, expenses that qualify include all of the regular movers' charges plus such extras as the cost of shipping your automobile and pets. So by all means take Fido along.

IRS insists all expenses have to be reasonable, though.

Finally, you can deduct the expenses you run up getting from the old to the new home, including meals, lodging and transportation.

If you use your car instead of plane, train, bus or boat, you may either deduct 5 cents per mile or your actual out-of-pocket expenses. These would normally be limited to such items as gasoline, oil and repairs. Tolls and parking charges are deductible under either method.

Garden Club Appoints Convention Delegates

Delegates to the District One Garden Club Convention which was held Monday and Tuesday in Midland, were named and plans were made to attend the convention by members of the Hereford Garden Club at a meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Viola Williams.

Delegates were Mmes. L. W. Norvell, R. L. Ethridge, and Ray Johnson. Others who attended were Mmes. O.G. Hill Sr and A.L. Manjeot, both of whom are members of the District part in the program.

The conservation program, with topics on pesticides, litter, ground covers and small gardens, were presented by Mmes G. W. Newsom, Margaret Shown Ray Johnson and W. C .Hromas.

Mrs. Newsom read excerpts from an article taken from The National Council Gardener, stating that DDT had been one of the hard pesticieds removed from disbursements in the USA. She also placed special emphasis on the fact that all should be aware of the dangers of pesticides and insecticides. They are in the air, rain, water, streams, other bodies of water, on vegetables which are used on our tables and other things contaminated by them, she said.

Mrs. Shown gave many helpful suggestions for controlling litter. She said that if litter was controlled that it would be one of the most progressive steps made in conservation during modern times.

Plans were presented and discussed for controlling the laws pertaining to weeds, old car chasis, and debris.

They not only create unsightly situations but are also helath hazards, she said. For control, she added, it must start with the individual.

Mrs. Johnson stressed the fact that ground covers are not only useful in landscape plans, but also aids to conservation. If used on embankments or soil which will not produce other plant materials, ground covers can be used.

They are often used in rock gardens and in shady locations to keep down weeds or other foreign growths. She recommended several varieties which are not only used for foliage but also for beauty.

Nancy Smith In UTA Production

Nancy Smith, of Hereford, is among the students at the University of Texas at Arlington who will be presented in the play, "Summer and Smoke" at the University soon.

The play, by Tennessee Williams', will be staged by the University of Texas at Arlington's Little Theater group today, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

Big plans for little gardens were discussed by Mrs. Hromas Even the smallest garden can be beautiful and should have a design, she said. Small gardens are good for shut-ins and are easily maintained by the busy housewife.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Norvell, reports and summations were given by committee chairmen.

in the University Theater.

A former student who appeared on Broadway before returning to UTA to teach last fall will direct the play. Charles Proctor, who attended UTA in 1942 and 1945-46 when it was known as North Texas Agricultural College, acted in several Little Theater productions before transferring to Southern Methodist University where he received his BA degree. He was starring in the Margo Jones production "The Willow Tree" opposite Nancy Kelly and Walter Matthau when it was taken to Broadway.

Proctor appeared in some 50 live television productions for NBC, CBS, ABC and the DuMont network and worked as a radio announcer before returning to SMU where he earned his matser's degree.

Texas Is Number One In Industrial Development

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex. — With a total of 901 new plants, Texas has earned No. 1 rating among the states in industrial development for 1969 — first time in its history.

Gov. Preston Smith announced that Dun and Bradstreet Corporation, in a report published by the Fortune Magazine marketing research staff, bestowed the recognition.

Number of new plants in Texas last year exceeded California's by 42 per cent. California was in second place.

Texas is the only southwestern state to rank in the top ten of new industrial locations.

Only six other states now exceed Texas' overall total of 15,576 manufacturing plants. Number increased by six per cent during last year.

Smith credited the increase to efforts of the Texas Industrial Commission and "the close-knit alliance between local, regional and state development groups and the partnership of industry and government that we have in Texas to promote a better life for all citizens."

Top ten states invested $7.9 million in programs to attract industry last year. Texas spent only $385,570 — or less than five per cent of the total. State's share of the 3,813 new plants nationwide was 24 per cent.

"For an investment of one half the average, Texas has been able to accomplish nearly three times the results," Smith boasted.

Other states among the top ten were Georgia with 609, Illinois with 290, Alabama with 289, Indian with 240, Florida with 224, Minnesota with 224, Ohio with 212 and North Carolina with 189.

SAFE DRIVING PROGRAM PUSHED — Governor Smith pledged all the influence and prestige of the governor's office to curb highway traffic accidents.

His "Drive Friendly" program calls for:

*Operating vehicles responsibly.

*Obeying all traffic laws.

*Respecting state and local police officers.

*Being generous with the right of way.

*Keeping vehicles in good operating condition.

*Avoiding driving while unfit (particularly when drinking).

WELFARE — Social Security checks will increase April 1, but many will receive smaller state assistance payments and some will become ineligible for state aid.

Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney said Social Security Act amendments will have this effect on Old Age Assistance:

*About 138,500 qQAA recipients will receive smaller state checks, although with Social Security increase, income will go up about $4 a month.

*Another 95,500 will get $4 more in state Old Age Assistance.

*About 4,100 will no longer be eligible for state aid. These now receive relatively high social security benefits and token state bid.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court set April 8 to hear arguments on a test case involving the constitutionality of the state law providing tax exemptions for historic buildings and sites.

High Court refused to enjoin the State Democratic Executive Committee from placing Rep. C. L. Ray of Marshall on the ballot as a candidate for associate justice of Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals.

Supreme Court defined rules for paying natural gas production taxes where gas of several producers is collected by a central plant for processing, thus permitting Mobil Oil Corporation to recover nearly $350,000 in taxes paid under protest.

Third Court of Civil Appeals, reversing trial court, concluded that former State Securities Commissioner William King exceeded his authority in banning sales of cosmetics distributorships by Koscot Interplanetary Inc., a Florida-based concern.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty assessed a 21-year-old Corpus Christi man in the strangulation of an 83-year-old woman in 1965.

AG OPINIONS — A Williamson County judge was the proper official to receive the election petition and order an election to consolidate Round Rock County Line and Pond Springs Common County Line School districts, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In another recent opinion, Martin said the West Side Calhoun County Navigation District may designate an out-of-county bank depository in an adjoining county.

GRANTS APPROVED — Community Action (federal) grant of $280,779 has been approved for Community Council of Bee County in Beeville for the 12 months which started February 1.

A second $218,826 Community Action grant also was approved for Associated City-County Economic Development Corporation of Hidalgo County, Edinburg.

A $186,463 federal grant to Community Action Corporation of Wichita Falls and North Texas Area cleared earlier as did following:

*Dimmitt Independent School District, $47,954 child development grant.

*Harrison-Panola Counties Action Association Inc., Marshall, $27,000.

DEMOCRATS, GOPS CERTIFY BALLOT — Democrat and Republican executive committees certified candidates for their May 2 ballots and mapped plans for party conventions on September 15.

Republicans will take their 4,300-vote convention to Fort Worth. Democrats, with 5,541 delegates, will go to Dallas.

Democrats passed up suggestions to place referendums on busing of school children, daylight saving time and lowering the voting age on their ballot.

DISCRIMINATION — Title insurance companies operating in Texas have been ordered by the State Board of Insurance to revise their "chain of title" reports to make sure they are not violating the federal civil rights act.

Order requires title insurance policies, when referring to deed restrictions, to omit references to color, religion or national origin. Those restrictions have been held invalid by the courts.

APPOINTMENTS — A rash of legislative committees have been appointed by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Gus Mutscher. Among assignments were the following:

Study of a four-quarter program in schools — Reps. Jack Blanton of Carrollton, Dan Kuviak of Rockdale and Delwin L. Jones of Lubbock.

Agricultural Production Potential study — Sens. Bill Patliff of Stamford and J. P. Word of Meridian.

Mental Health and Mental Retardation Law Study — Sens. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, H.J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Joe Christie of El Paso.

Study of State-owned Aircraft —Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

Interim County Government Study — Reps. Joe Shannon and Jack McLaughlin of Fort Worth, Walter Knapp of Amarillo, Donald R. Uher of Bay City and E. L. Short of Tahoka.

Study of problems caused by surpluses of unskilled labor in some sections and labor shortages in others. — Reps. Honore Ligarde of Laredo, H. Tati Santiesteban of El Paso, Felix McDonald Of Edinburg, J. A. Garcia Jr. of Raymondville and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth.

SHORT SNORTS

New Texas Water Resources Study Committee held its first hearing in Mount Pleasant, will hold others in all parts of state.

Dairymen warned a legislative committee of laxity of milk inspection in some cities.

Parks and Wildlife Commission will hold its quarterly meeting here on March 25.

New report of Texas Advisory Committee to U. S Commission on Civil Rights recommends (among many other things) abolishing the Texas Rangers.

Bell Telephone Is Taking Part In Study For State

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has been asked by Governor Preston Smith to coordinate a comprehensive study of the total telecommunications needs for state government offices throughout Texas for the next 10 years, L. C. Bailey, vice president-Texas for the company, said today.

Bailey said the study would be conducted in coordination with the independent telephone industry in Texas. Southwestern Bell was chosen to serve as coordinator because it serves the state capital and many of the exchanges where state offices are located. The study will be made at no cost or obligation to the state.

In asking his company to conduct the study, Bailey said the governor cited rapid growth in population and the tremendous strides in technology as major reasons for this new look at the state's total communication facilities.

A task force of telecommunications experts is being organized throughout the state to make plans to carry out the study's four main objectives, which are:

—To develop a communications resource to support the state in achieving its goals during the 1970's,

—To determine the needs in communications services by all state government users,

—To determine the trends in future communications requirements within the state government by examining the internal communications needs of all state agencies, and —To design a total telecommunications system assuring the state that its money spent on these services will provide the state maximum value.

"One purpose of the study will be to determine if a statewide telecommunications network that would encompass voice, data and educational communications services to the state would be feasible," Bailey said. 'Some 87 computer systems directly relating to state agencies will be included in the study."

Bailey stressed that as future telecommunications needs arise for the state, new-services recommended will be compatible with existing facilities.

One of the reasons for the study is the geographical size of the state. The state's government operations, employing some 91,000 people in 187 departments, are located in 300 separate offices in 58 cities scattered over 276,000 square miles.

The distances between some cities are equal to the distance between Washington, D. C., and St. Louis, Missouri, or New York City and Chicago. Texas has 15 cities which exceed 100,000 in population.

Total population of the state at present is almost 12 million and is expected to increase to more than 16 million by 1970. This growth is equal to the present combined population of Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Roswell Wells Completed By Walco Drilling

Despite several setbacks in working conditions, one of which cost the company $25,000, Walco Drilling, of Hereford, again established itself as a reliable representative of the Hereford area having just completed a contract with the city of Roswell, N. M.

Roswell, which had received a $1,144,000 grant from the Housing Urban Development committee for drilling of wells and laying of pipelines, let the contract for $148,600 to the local drilling company of Walco.

Walco, under the contract, was given 120 days to complete their part of the contract, that being the drilling of three Artesian well at a depth of 700 feet each, plus one explorer well at 2,195 feet. The explorer well as plugged back and completed in new water strata found by logging methods.

Water being taken from this well is now producing from 1050 to 1250 foot water strata.

Just as the job was getting underway, the first mishap of the contract struck the drilling crew. A fire, which was apparently started from the sparks of a cutting torch, which smoldered in lost circular material until the early hours of the morning, causing damage of $25,000 to the rig, and halting work for a month.

Due to the circumstances, the city of Roswell extended the original contract by 25 days, but Walco Drilling saw to it that the extension was unnecessary, finishing the job one day before the expiration of the original contract.

Work on the contract was satisfactory and all wells in water capacity were equal or above the expectations of the engineers and city officials.

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I am interested in purchasing a VA repossessed home Where may I obtain a list of brokers?

A — Any real estate broker licensed to do business in his state may submit a purchase offer on behalf of a purchaser to buy a VA property offered for sale. A list of offerings in a particular area may be obtained from the loan guaranty officer in the VA regional office serving the area in which the buyer is interested.

Q — I receive 40 percent compensation from the VA. Are my children eligible for educational assistance?

A — No. Only children whose parent is rated 100 per cent service-connected disabled, or who died from service connected injuries, are entitled to this special educational assistance known as War Orphan Educational Assistance.

Q — I understand that option one is a lump sum payment of government life insurance policy. Does this mean that the beneficiary must take the proceeds in a lump sum?

A — No. The lump sum payment is available if desired, but the beneficiary, for example, may take part of the proceeds in cash, and the balance in monthly installments if desired. Or, he may take all payments on a monthly basis.

Q — My husband served in the Vietnam conflict. Would I be eligible for medical treatment from the VA although I am not a veteran?

A — No, only veterans are eligible.

Mann Elected To Trustee Position

Gerald E. Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Hereford, has been elected to fill an unexpired term on the board of trustees of High Plains Hospital in Amarillo. The action came at the March meeting of the executive committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The hospital is operated by the 1.8 million member BGCT.

Largest university building in the world is the Lomonosov University south of Moscow, which stands 787 ft. tall, has 32 stories and contains 40,000 rooms. It was consturcted in 1949-53.

Senator Tower Discusses The Involvement In Laos

There has been much siad in recent days of our involvement in Laos, and so I would like to talk with you this weekend about this important topic.

We are not unfamiliar with Laos. We have heard much about this small landlocked nation in Southeast Asia for almost 20 years, I have been there several times, myself.

In the early 1950's, the Communist element in Laos, the Pathet Lao, rebeled against the established government. In 1954, the Geveva settlements ended the Indochina War and Laos was officially established as an neutralist state.

The Communists continued their activity however and North Vietnam began infiltration activities into Laos. By 1961, the volume and activities of North Vietnamese Communist forces in Lao shad become extremely serious; and in the following year, President Kennedy was felt compelled to order American combat troops into Laos.

The Geneva Accords of 1962, agreed to only two months after our troops entered Laos, again provided for the neutralization of Laos. We abided by the Accords and removed all our forces. But the Communists removed only a token force and some 6,000 of their troops remained.

Laos is a militarily significant country and it is in our own national interest to keep a watchful eye on the activities there.

The immediate reason for our concern for Laos is protection of our troops in Vietnam. These are being withdrawn in a responsible manner as the South Vietnamese become adequately prepared to do their own ground combat fighting. But we cannot leave the troops we still have in Vietnam without at least the protection provided by our bombing runs into Laos. These bombing sorties are designed to stem the flow of supplies carried to the Communist combat forces in South Vietnam along infiltration routes through load of fresh troops that is kept box of ammunition, every truckload of fresh troops that is kept from reaching its destination, provides just that much aid and protection for our GIs in the combat zones of South Vietnam.

It is also in our national interest to support the international agreements which we have pledged ourselves to uphold. This includes the 1962 Geneva Accords which are being so flagrantly violated by the Communists. We are therefore supporting the independence and neutrality of Laos.

Fear has been voiced here at home that our involvement in Laos may mushroom into "another Vietnam;" that we may find ourselves with large numbers of our young men again in combat. I can understand why many Americans might have that concern.

But I am confident that our support will not reach those proportions. It will not happen because we have learned from our experiences in South Vietnam how to take those steps which will meet our objectives without commiting large numbers of American ground combat troops.

We have been involved in Laos in a very limited way since it became apparent that the Communists were not observing the Geneva Accords. We have provided assistance only when asked by the neutralist Laotian government. Our goal continues to be a reduction of our involvement.

We have no ground combat troops fighting in Laos and we are not going to send any. This stance is consistent with our policy of Vietnamization. But we must provide the support, the supplies, and the air power necessary to enable the Laotian government troops to protect their country from a growing enemy troop strength that has reached some 67,000 North Vietnamese soldiers.

We have provided this support; but, of course we place ourselves and the Laotian government in an awkward diplomatic position when we broadcast our activities to the world. The Laotian government and the Communists have already made a few of the contacts which are necessary before peace negotiations can begin. If negotiations do get underway, the Laotian government will immediately be forced to admit that they are receiving some small assistance from the United States; while the Laotian Communists will argue that they are receiving no assistance from North Vietnam, even though large numbers of North Vietnamese combat troops are participating in the fighting.

Of course, our society is a free and open one in which every citizen properly has the right to know exactly what his elected government officials are doing. Indeed, the big issue facing us, and which has faced us for many years, is the defense of this free and open society against a force which seeks world domination and would take our free and open society from us if it could.

Our way of life sometimes poses a real dilemma when it is in our own national interset to take certain steps which must be kept secret to insure success or to improve our own diplomatic position.

In the Laotian situation, we have now decided to make the details of our involvement public. I support that decision, just as I support our activities in behalf of a neutralist government in Laos in accordance with the Geneva Accords.

Greenwood Baptists To Hear Israeli Citizen

Rev. Prentice D. Smith, pastor of Greenwood Baptist Church, announces a three day conference to be held this weekend, featuring Rev. Vendyl M. Jones, a native of Sudan, now a resident of Jerusalem.

Rev. Jones is president of the Judaic Christian Research Foundation, a duo-group effort in Jewish-Christian relations, working cooperatively with the Department of Inter-religious Cooperation of the A. D. L. of B'Nai B'Rith.

A student of Judaica for 13 years, Jones began Tulmud-Torah studies in 1956 and has been engaged in advanced Jewish studies in the Hebrew University, Yeshivah Chabad and the Kabballah in Jerusalem.

Jones lent civilian support for Israeli forces in the Six Day War, in as much, as his partial color blind condition makes camouflage unusually distinguishable, enabling him to locate four anti-personnel bunkers and 66 anti-tank bunkers ahead of the Israeli ground advance in the liberation of the West Bank.

Using Jones as a spotter, the Israelis quickly knocked out the guns and began the march that a day and a half later ended in the capture of Jerusalem's Old City.

Rev. Jones will speak Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 p. m., Sunday morning at 10:00 in Sunday School and during the 11;00 service.

Society Elects 4 New Members

Four new board members were elected by the Deaf Smith County Historical Society in their meeting held Sunday in the basement of the Museum.

Elected were Mrs. Justin McBride, Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. J. H. Sears and Mrs. Colby Conkwright.

Discussion of the meeting centered around future plans for the museum, including the rearranging of north side of the building in which material will be condensed and the chuck wagon moved outside the building.

Estate Management To Be Shortcourse Theme

The first in a series of shortcourses on Estate Management is stated for tonight at 8 p. m. in the Hereford Community Center, announces Mrs. Gene Cope, chairman of the Family Living Committee. The theme of the shortcourse is "Estate Management-A Living Plan."

The courses are sponsored by the Family Living and County Program Building Committees, with a special management committee making the plans. This is a unified effort to aid families in improving their financial life.

An introduction to the program will be given by Mrs. Argen H. Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, who is serving as coordinator of the shortcourse.

Featured at the session will be "General Aspects of Estate Management" by Ed Garnett, with the Texas Agricultural Extension service. Garnett is a 1956 graduate of Texas Tech University and 1968 New Mexico State University, having previously worked with Extension Service in Portales, New Mexico. He assumed duties as Area Farm Management Specialist on August 1, 1968.

At the program tonight, there will be a preview of other programs and a panel discussion by each program participant who will be on the following programs.

Serving on the Special management committee with Mrs. Cope are Mrs. Bess Werner, Mrs. Claude McDougal, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. Rita Huckert Jack Wilcox, John Messenger, Herman Ford, Jeff Carlile and Wayne Thomas.

Everyone in the area is urged by Mrs. Cope to attend.
