Proclaimed By Nixon Committee Members

Following is the text of President Richard M. Nixon's proclamation designating March as Red Cross Month, This was released through the press by the White House on February 26, 1970.

In a democracy like the United States of America, we learn early that each one of us has a responsibility not only to himself but to his fellow citizens and to the nation as a whole. As the world around us grows smaller, our sense of responsibility to mankind has extended until it includes the peoples of the entire earth.

Nowhere is the compassionate feeling for mankind and his welfare better exemplified than in the mission of the Red Cross. The humanitarian work of the Red Cross is recognized by all nations. For eighty-nine years the American Red Cross has served this nation and its people unselfishly, while constantly striving to do more.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Richard Nixon, President of the United States of America and Honorary Chairman of the American National Red Cross, do hereby designate March 1970 as Red Cross Month, a time when the organization will ask for your active support. I urge every American to do his utmost to secure the strength of the Red Cross by serving as a volunteer if possible and by contributing to his full ability.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-fifth day of February in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and seventy and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninetyfourth.

Wondering what to name the baby? You prefer not unusual names but more popular ones? The most common name in the world is Muhammed! Pottery nursers with pottery nipples were given weaning babies of ancient Greece. They were used for 2000 years! Many early Americans imported pewter nursers, although families in frontier cabins carved nursers and nipples from wood, hollow gourds or cows' horns!

Could modern-day infants tell about the history of their wearing apparel, they'd proba-bly coo "Cool," over the invention of Curity disposable diaper liners medicated to prevent diaper sash. Such precocious infants might also drool over the idea of Curity night diapers with special surgical gauze that's the doctor's answer to a full night's sleep.

If a baby playing with a rat-tle could explain it to you, the infant is actually "hard at work learning about the world." As Dr. Benjamin Spock further points out, a child loves his play net because it's easy but because it's hard! "He is striving each hour to graduate to more difficult achievements!"

Exchange Students View AFS Program

By Betty Koelzer Staff Writer

Elin Andersen, of Norway, and Dean Navigamool, of Thailand, Hereford's exchange students, have given numerous pro grams concerning their respective countries, but for a different approach, we now reveal their own personal opinions of the exchange student program, and learn how they came to be this year's students to Hereford High School,

Elin, having corresponded for some time with a girl in Florida, as well as having relatives in Florida and Canada, was somewhat familiar with America. Being a natural science major, she had a deep desire to view life in the United States, and although her family was at first reluctant to see her leave for a year, they were excited about her opportunities to boraden her world.

One of the ways that Elin first heard about the program was through a church youth magazine in her home town; also, "returnee" students spoke to the younger students regarding their experiences while living in America.

Dean expressed similiar instances of discovering the American Field Service program, in addition to hearing about it through the Peace Corps, who, incidently, were resonsible for the American name "Dean," derived from his Thai name, Chokedee (pronounced Chokedee), meaning "good luck."

Both students stressed that an important phase of being a "returnee" is to 'sell" the program to prospective AFS students. Most cities have chapters ready for her flight to the US in of these former, students, with main chapters in the capital cities. Annual conventions are

How many of you read the en- | every song. lightening revolting story in February 22 issue of the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe about today's and yesterday's rock and revolutionary music which is storming our nation. The article was written by Gary Allen, a film writer, journalist and contributing editor to American Opinion magazine.

"All across America," he said, "parents are throwing up their hands in exasperation and despair - the universal complaint being that they are unable to communicate with their teenage sons and daughters."

The kids go around with a blaring transistor radio plugged into one of their ears, listening to the latest revolutionary horrors on the "Top Forty." Should the parents "tune-in" and listen, however, they might learn why the generation gap is fast becoming an un-bridgeable can-

The lyrics of the Beatles' new hit about how great it is to be out of America and "Back In the U. S. S. R.," glorify the nation we spent $70 billion a year to defend ourselves against.

While revolution is a favorite theme of the rock-music groups, it is by no means the only one. The theme most often heard is that of drugs. Drug lyrics are a mystery to most adults because of the Aesopian language used by the singers but make no mistake - the teenagers are sop-

One can conjecture that many of these songs are written un-der the influence of drugs, as has admittedly been done on a number of occasions by the Beatles, Another example, the words of Airplane's "White Rabbit" are all too typical: One pill makes you larger, and one pill makes you smaller, And the es that mother gives you don't do anything at all. Go ask Alice when she's ten feet tall, And if you go chasing rabbits, and you know you're going to fall tell 'em a hooka-smoking caterpiller has given you the call. . . Feed your head, feed your head.

The Beatles, who are the Number One rock group, admitted they started using drugs at the beginning of their career together and they include mention of drug trips in just about

Gunshot Victim Is Satisfactory

Elvin Romero was listed in satisfactory condition Wedn e sday afternoon in Deaf Smith a gunshot wound early Wednesday morning.

Around 1:30 a. m. Wednesday, Romero's wife called his employer F. A. Marnell of 124 Aspen, stating her husband was acting out of his head, Marnell then called sheriff's officials who rushed to Romero's country residence. They report e d hearing various groans from the home on arrival.

After entering the home they found Romero lying on the floor of the northeast room, face down. They weren't sure if he was wounded at the time or drunk as the man had reportedly consumed approximately a pint of whiskey.

However they discovered a .22 chest which was believed to be self inflicted. Another hole was found in the man's back as the bullet had penetrated his body. Investigating officers then loaded Romero into the car and rushed him to Deaf Smith County Hospital for emergency care.

I hen, Lord, since we cannot live by less, let us pray the prayer of faith that will make of us Children of God. Help us to become totally resigned to Thee and to be worthy of Thy sacred trust. Good Lord, you have given us dominion over land, sea and air, but this is too much unless we have your company all the way. We are guilty of forgetting our church, our pastor and our friends, and please, Lord, never let us do this again. But for Thy strong arm, Lord, we know we would fail. So, right now, Lord, we petition Thee to mark, very plainly, the path Thou wouldst have us walk and demand from us an accounting of our finest stewardship. Give us wisdom and power to challenge those about us, to take up Thy Cross and follow all the way to a new life in Thee. Call us to regular worship in Thy church, and there, let us discover the secrets that will YOU IN THE CHURCH keep us ever close to Thee. This will surely be enough, THE CHURCH IN YOU Lord, when we learn to do Thy will.

Your home—and the things in it—face many hazards that even "fire and extended coverage" won't cover. A State Farm Homeowners policy provides broader coverage for your home and belongings and for you in case of lawsuits. Yet all this protection comes to you in a single policy at a rate that's 15% to 25% lower than the same coverages would cost under separate policies. Sound like the same good deal as our car insurance? You bet it is! See me today.
