Pacific storm moves inland

Winds, waves batter coast

By JOHN DANISZEWSKI
Associated Press Writer
More than 7,000 people fled flooded neighborhoods as heavy rain and high winds pounded California for a second straight day, battering oceanside houses, blocking roads with mudslides and sending a freak tornado through downtown Los Angeles.

The wind and rain stretched the length of the West Coast, from San Diego to Seattle, but the Golden State took the brunt of Tuesday's storm. Nine people were dead in weather-related accidents since the weekend; two other people were missing.

Winds gusted up to 84 mph, up to 10 inches of rain fell in places, power was knocked out to 210,000 homes and businesses and parts of the Sierra Nevada were smothered by 7 feet of new snow.

Meanwhile, two minor earthquakes rattled the Los Angeles area, adding to the confusion but causing no major damage.

"I understand March is supposed to roar in like a lion, but this is getting a little ridiculous," said Inglewood, Calif., police Lt. Dan Cooke.

The weather also delayed Queen Elizabeth II's progress up the California coast, as she canceled today's plans to cruise to San Francisco in the royal yacht in favor of a flight from Long Beach.

The queen and Prince Philip needed a four-wheel-drive vehicle for a steep climb up a flooded lane to reach President Reagan's mountaintop ranch in Santa Barbara on Tuesday for a lunch of enchiladas and tacos.

The storm was moving eastward today, with heavy snow forecast for the southern Rocky Mountains and rain expected for the rest of the nation's western third, the National Weather Service said.

"We're looking at continuing bad weather into Thursday," said Nolan Duke, of the National Weather Service's Severe Storms Center in Kansas City, Mo.

Swollen rivers and creeks routed more than 6,500 people in Northern California, including nearly 3,000 people from the Mobile Parks West trailer park in San Jose. In Southern California, more than 500 people had to be evacuated.

Reserve Officer Stuart Tiara was killed and two other police were seriously hurt when their helicopter patrolling a tornado-damaged section of south-central Los Angeles hit power lines and crashed Tuesday night.

And an airplane carrying two men disappeared from radar shortly after the pilot radioed he was experiencing problems with the weather, the Civil Air Patrol in Bridgeport, Calif., said.

Mudslides, floodwaters and falling redwood trees ravaged the narrow Palo Colorado Canyon on the Big Sur coast, smashing more than 20 homes and forcing several hundred residents to flee on foot. Army helicopters airlifted 28 people to safety using winches.

At Stinson Beach near San Francisco, fierce waves up to 25 feet high exploded against the coast, destroying eight homes and leaving at least 15 others "uninhabitable," officials said.

The Los Angeles tornado cut a three-mile scar of destruction in a 10-minute rampage that damaged about 100 homes and a hospital as it ripped down walls and roofs and tossed cars like leaves in the wind.

The twister "overturned huge trucks, tore telephone poles in half and twisted steel," said Los Angeles Police Chief Daryl Gates. "It looks like a war zone."

A second tornado hit Pasadena, 10 miles north of Los Angeles, lifting one car at least 15 feet into the air and injuring one driver.

"I saw this black twisting

Just In Time

Wallace Shelton (right) got his new flagpole installed by Fred Ruland (left) just in time to display his new Texas flag for State Flag Day today. Shelton's son-in-law, who works with the state ag department in Austin, gave Shelton the flag for Christmas with help from Sen. Bill Sarpius. The flag flew over the state capital last year. The unusually severe winter prevented Shelton from getting his standard bearer up until this week. (Brand Photo).

Pope John Paul II on way to Central America

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Pope John Paul II, en route to a nine-day tour of Central America, said today the first papal mission ever to the strife-torn region would be "a triumph of love, of concord, of peace."

While his plane from Rome refueled at Lisbon's Portela Airport, the pope told thousands of well-wishers that a successful tour would mean "peace among spirits, peace among men and peace among peoples."

High Vatican officials say this journey is among the Polish-born pontiff's most politically sensitive of his 17 trips overseas.

During his 10-minute address, John Paul, the leader of the world's Roman Catholics, indirectly referred to the violence that has plagued parts of Central America in recent years.

"My heart suffers with all the hearts that are wounded by the evil of violence in any part of the world," he said.

Thus, the pope said he was making the trip to meet "my brothers in countries very beloved to my heart" and show that "love is stronger than sin and stronger than death."

The pontiff thanked the people of Portugal for the warm welcome and called his visit last spring to the Portuguese shrine Our Lady of Fatima in this country "unforgettable."

During that trip, an estimated 1 million Portuguese attended an outdoor Mass he said in Lisbon and almost as many came to see the pontiff during the annual Fatima pilgrimage. That journey was marred when, from the throng, a Spanish renegade priest lunged at John Paul with a bayonet. The pontiff escaped injury.

The incident happened exactly a year after another unsuccessful assassination attempt was in St. Peter's Square on May 13, 1981 when a Turkish gunman shot and wounded him.

Among today's crowd was Portugal's President Antonio Ramalho Eanes and Prime Minister Francisco Pinto Balsemão.

The special Alitalia DC-10 carrying the pope and an entourage of Holy See officials, bodyguards and reporters left Rome's Leonardo da Vinci Airport at 8:22 a.m. (2:22 a.m. EST).

After the refueling stop, the plane lands next in San Jose, Costa Rica.

The 62-year-old pontiff, wearing a white overcoat over his white vestments and a white skull cap, was seen off by top Vatican prelates including Cardinal Carlo Confalonieri, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals and Cardinal Paolo Bertoli, who will be in charge of the Vatican during the pope's nine-day absence.

Legislators fear bill is 'too soft on crime'

AUSTIN (AP) — Two lawmakers want to limit the inmate population in Texas' prisons and set up halfway houses, but some legislators fear that would be too "soft on crime."

Reps. Ray Keller, R-Duncanville, and Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield, began a tough battle Tuesday to persuade their colleagues in the Texas House to take about $200 million from the propo-

Trooper's family receives cross

ALAMO, Texas (AP) — The family of a Department of Public Safety trooper who was killed in the line of duty by an allegedly drunken motorist has been presented the department's first Memorial Cross.

More than 500 people, nearly half of them wearing law enforcement uniforms, mourned the death of DPS trooper Ernesto Alanis at his funeral Tuesday. Alanis had been commended three times for his efforts to stop drunken driving in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Alanis, 26, was killed Sunday as he attempted to question another motorist suspected of being drunk, authorities said.

Before the afternoon service, Alanis' family was presented the Memorial Cross, an honor created by the department Jan. 1, 1982, "as a method of recognizing one of our officers killed in the line of duty," said Sgt. Stan Clark of McAllen.

His death was a "tragic irony," the Rev. Maurice Hime said during the brief funeral service at the Community Church of Alamo.

"While investigating a DWI, he was killed by a motorist who himself was intoxicated," Hime said.

"Ernie made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his community and state," he said. "He was a man whose job it was to keep our roads and our highways safe."

Law enforcement officers, said Hime, "often have to endure abuse, scorn and long hours... for a thankless job."

Alanis' death, said Hime, "is the result of living in a world full of sin."

REC meeting set Saturday

Capital Credit checks totaling about $200,000.00 will be paid back to those members of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative who purchased electricity during 1970, when members meet for the 45th Annual Membership Meeting.

The annual meeting, scheduled for 5 p.m. Saturday, will include eating, fun, business, and entertainment, at the Hereford Bull Barn.

A fish and chicken dinner will be served by the Fins and Hens of Lubbock. During the meal, entertainment will feature the "Tri-State Bluegrass Express" as appearing on radio and television. The business meeting will convene immediately following the serving of dinner.

A.W. Anthony Jr., president of the Board of Directors, will call the business meeting to order. Jerry Roberts, Secretary-Treasurer, will report on the number of members present; read the notice of the meeting, and present the minutes of last year's annual meeting for approval.

The Nominating Committee met Jan. 4, and submitted the following names for election: Representing Deaf Smith County, Jerry Roberts and Mickey Wilson; representing Parmer County, A.W. Anthony Jr., and Donald Christian.

Also highlighting the evening will be drawing for door prizes and give-aways totaling over $1,000 including a micro-wave oven.

All sirens pass test

Hereford Fire Marshal and Civil Defense Coordinator Jay Spain has reported that all nine sirens in the local severe weather warning system functioned "perfectly" when a test of the system was made this morning.

Spain was elated at the performance of the system since, "we are in the tornado season now."

Spain added that the system will be tested again at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday, March 9 and at 9:30 a.m. the first Wednesday of every month after that.

The tests will be carried out, weather permitting.

Senators voted to prohibit swapping

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators have voted to prohibit candidate-swapping such as the Republicans did last year in an unsuccessful bid to win two statewide races.

The current law "is capable of being abused," said Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, the bill sponsor.

Last year, state GOP chairman Chet Upham picked poultry scientist Fred Thornberry as the party's substitute nominee for Waller rice farmer Don Hebert in the race for agriculture commissioner. Allen Clark Jr. replaced Millard Neptune in the state treasurer's race. Both Thornberry and Clark lost.

Caperton's bill, which was sent to the House on voice vote Tuesday, would prohibit such substitutions.

If, for example, a candidate declined the nomination 45 days or more before the general election, his or her name would be removed from the ballot.

If the candidate declined the nomination within 45 days of the general election, the name would remain on the ballot. If the name garnered more votes than other candidates, a special election would be held to fill the position.

Death row inmate improves in hospital

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Condemned murderer Charles Rumbaugh, who used a makeshift knife fashioned from a jail window latch to attack a federal official, will probably be dismissed to the care of Potter County sheriff's deputies later this week, officials say.

The condition of Rumbaugh, 25, has continued to improve at Northwest Texas Hospital since Thursday, when a deputy U.S. marshal shot him in the chest after Rumbaugh charged at him with the knife during a competency hearing.

Rumbaugh was admitted to the hospital last week in critical condition. Following surgery for a gunshot wound in the chest, the Texas Death Row inmate has remained under 24-hour guard by off-duty sheriff's deputies.

The hearing, requested by his parents, was ordered by a federal judge who granted Rumbaugh a stay of execution to determine whether the prisoner has the mental competence to waive his appeal rights. He has said he wants to be executed.

Rumbaugh has been sentenced to die for killing a jeweler during a 1975 robbery in Amarillo.

During the hearing, after Rumbaugh finished his testimony, he stood in the witness box, announced he had chosen his "own way to die," and — yelling "Shoot me!" — lunged at the marshal with a crude knife that had been fashioned from a window latch.

According to Potter County Sheriff T.L. Baker, Rumbaugh said he tore the latch off a window ledge in the recreation area of the Amarillo jail shortly after speaking to an area class of high school students about the need to obey the law.

He took the latch to his jail cell, sharpened one end by grinding it into the floor, then used a rubber band to attach the weapon to his body inside his undershorts, Rumbaugh told officers.

Two days later, during his courtroom appearance, he transferred the weapon to an inside coat pocket, then made his charge, Baker said.

Priest angered by slayings; wants guns

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — A Catholic priest is urging his parishioners to turn their guns over to him in the wake of two slayings here, according to a published report.

The Rev. Joseph H. Uecker, who says he will in turn give the weapons to police, is angered by last week's shootings, the San Angelo Standard-Times reported in a copyright story Tuesday.

Speaking to 250 mourners at a funeral for Roy Canava, one of the shooting victims, Uecker asked when such killings would stop. Uecker said five of 29 funerals held at his church last year were for gunshot victims.

Canava, 20, was shot in the heart at Glenmore Park Thursday evening. Earlier Thursday, Jessie Salazar, 41, was shot and killed on a San Angelo street in an apparently unrelated incident, police said.

"We see disrespect and no regard for the poor and helpless. We see abortion and so much lack of respect for life," Uecker, pastor of St. Mary's Church, said in his sermon to the mourners.

Uecker's eulogy called for an end to vengeance, hatred and anger in people's hearts. "We will become what Jesus tells us we are when and only when we put down our bottles and knives and our guns and say it, and mean it, that these things do not solve problems but create them," Uecker said.

In an article that will appear in next Sunday's church bulletin, Uecker asked, "How many people must die before we learn that problems are not solved with guns and knives?"

In an interview after Canava's funeral, Uecker said that "you look out and it looks awful, but then the Lord promises new life."

125 million watch final show

'M-A-S-H' audience largest ever

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An estimated 125 million viewers watched the final episode of "M-A-S-H," making the audience the largest for any single TV show ever broadcast, CBS said today.

CBS' estimate was based on a rating from the A.C. Nielsen Co. for the 2½-hour program broadcast Monday night of 60.3. That eclipsed by good measure the previous record of 53.3 for the "Who Shot J.R.?" episode of CBS' "Dallas," shown Nov. 21, 1980.

Further, nearly eight of every 10 TV sets in use nationwide during the broadcast of "M-A-S-H" — 77 percent — were tuned to CBS.

The "M-A-S-H" finale, for which advertisers paid as much as $450,000 for a 30-second commercial, attracted nearly 10 million homes more than "Who Shot J.R.?" — 50.3 million to 40.7 million. A single ratings point is worth 833,000 homes today, an increase from 763,000 in 1980. The audience estimate breaks the record for a single show of 111.5 million, NBC's calculation for Super Bowl XVII last Jan. 30.

ABC's recently broadcast "Winds of War" miniseries drew an estimated 140 million viewers, but that was for an 18-hour production carried over seven nights.

In ratings for the week ended Feb. 27, "9-to-5," a comedy about three secretaries and their chauvinistic boss, grabbed two places in the television ratings Top 10, one on CBS and one on ABC.

The original movie starring Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton was the No. 1 show on CBS. The ABC series, starring Valerie Curtin, Rita Moreno and Rachel Dennison, was in a three-way tie for seventh place.

The special movie presentation of the hit comedy film helped carry CBS to victory for the week.

CBS finished first in the national ratings with 20.1. ABC was second with 17.3 and NBC was third with 15.3. The networks say this means that in an average prime-time minute 20.1 percent of homes with television were tuned to CBS.

It was CBS' second straight victory in the February sweeps. It won the past two weeks after the ABC miniseries "The Winds of War" carried that network to the top during the first two weeks of February.

"Dallas," placed second in the ratings for the past week and the "M-A-S-H" episode preceding the final show was in fifth place. "60 Minutes" was third and "Magnum, P.I." was fourth. Both are on CBS. ABC's highest-rated show was "Three's Company," in sixth place.

ABC's "The Love Boat," the second part of the NBC miniseries "Rage of Angels" and the ABC series based on "9-to-5" all tied for seventh place. The Grammy Awards on CBS were tenth.

CBS' "The Dukes of Hazard," aided by the return of John Schneider and Tom Wopat, climbed to 13th place.

Here are the Top 10: CBS Special Movie Presentation, "9-to-5," a rating of 28.6 or 23.8 million households, CBS; "Dallas," 25.4 or 21.1 million, CBS; "60 Minutes," 23.7 or 19.7 million, CBS; "Magnum, P.I.," 23.6 or 19.6 million, CBS; "M-A-S-H," 23.1 or 19.2 million, CBS; "Three's Company," 23.0 or 19.1 million, ABC; ABC's "The Love Boat," NBC Monday Night Movie, "Rage of Angels," Part II, and ABC's "9-to-5," 22.1 or 18.4 million, three-way-tie; The Grammy Awards, 21.6 or 17.9 million, CBS.

dustry is particularly sensitive to interest rates, the one-month building boom offers hope for other sectors, he added.

But the government also reported Tuesday that preliminary figures showed industrial productivity rose at an annual rate of only 1 percent last year, less than the gain of 1981. The Bureau of Labor Statistics pointed to declining productivity in manufacturing and in heavy durable-goods industries.

In other economic news: —The government reported it overspent its income by $9.6 billion in January, boosting the deficit for the first four months of the budget year to twice the 1982 level. The Treasury Department, in its monthly statement on spending, stuck to the Reagan administration's official forecast that the deficit for this budget year, which ends Sept. 30, will total a record $207.7 billion. Last year's total was $110.7 billion; the forecast for next year is $188.8 billion.

—Gold prices stabilized, rising as much as $12.50 an ounce after dropping by the largest amount in nearly three years the day before. The price of gold for current delivery on the Commodity Exchange in New York opened with a gain of $10.50, to $411.00, and climbed as high as $421 before closing at $412.40, an increase of $11.90 from the Monday close.

prison) the people think they're weak on crime." Rep. Tom Waldrop, D-Corsicana, said his constituents "feel they are not adequately protected from crime and criminals now" and might oppose the community corrections centers.

Rudd conceded that some Texans might view the program as "soft on crime."

Keller said, "If you think we're crazy, we'll go back and do something else."

Waldrop replied, "I think you're crazy."

James Hury, D-Galveston, told Rudd, "You're asking a lot on faith." Rudd said, "Do you want to build more prisons or do you want to try to find something else? Where do we stop? Where is the final point where we say, 'It ain't working.'?"

Composer scores with tune

AUSTIN (AP) — It's a rotten toe-tapper, wretched for sing-alongs and a hopeless candidate for the Top 40. But composer Barton McLean, master of the electronic music center at the University of Texas, is captivating audiences with a new tune. It's a haunting musical composition that is more likely to evoke tears than cheers.

"This piece is something no one ever forgets," McLean said. "It's been played at 10 or 12 concerts, and in several where I could see or hear the audience's reaction, I could actually see people crying." The work, entitled "The Last 10 Minutes," is McLean's musical interpretation of a nuclear holocaust, the final moments of humanity.

"It's a reflection of the agony of the human spirit," says the composer, who adds he is "not a political person." His music, McLean said, reflects "the horror and the terror, the poignancy and the sadness" of a nuclear war.

Nominations committee hears PUC nominee

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate Nominations Subcommittee takes up today the appointment of a Houston public relations executive for a second stint on the Public Utility Commission.

Al Erwin, 37, quit the commission in 1979 to write a novel, "The Power Exchange." The book is being made into a television movie.

Erwin and Peggy Rosson of El Paso were named to the commission Feb. 15 by Gov. Mark White after Commissioners George Cowden and T.G. Smith resigned.

Mrs. Rosson was confirmed Feb. 24 by the required two-thirds vote of the Senate. She had been recommended by the subcommittee earlier.

The subcommittee also approved without dissenting vote three Texas A&M regents named by White after the Senate had sent back three Clements nominees.

Barshop of San Antonio, head of La Quinta Motor Inns, was approved 7-0.

The Senate voted 16-15 to retain his appointment for consideration despite White's request that his name be returned for review.

Senators also voted to return Clements' appointments of former Gov. John Connally and Hilary Doran, a Clements aide.

Obituaries

JESS C. LONG Services for Jess C. Long, 88, the brother of Marguerite McGee of Hereford, were held Monday at Gaskill Funeral Chapel in Shawnee, Okla. Burial was at Resthaven Cemetery in Shawnee.

Mr. Long died Friday at Mission Hills Hospital in Shawnee. He was a retired farmer and had been a resident of that area all of his life. He had lived in Parkview Nursing Home for a number of years.

His wife, Edith, preceded him in death in 1978 and his youngest brother, Edward Long, died Feb. 15.

Other survivors include four sons, Wesley, Elmer, Don, and J.R.; three daughters, Pauline Blackwell, Viola Stogner, and Loretta Moser; and two sisters, Gladys Morgan of Shawnee and Bertha Williams of Bakersfield, Calif.

Library Family

The James Perkins family was named Family of the Year at the Friends of the Library annual business meeting Monday evening at Deaf Smith County Library. Perkins is currently a teacher at Hereford High School and his wife, Diane, has taught home economics at HHS. They have two children, Brooke, age 12, and Colby, age 9. Both boys are students at Shirley Elementary School. (Photo by Sandy Pankey).

Five reports filed

Five reports and a traffic arrest filled the police blotter Tuesday.

Charges for theft of gasoline were filed Tuesday on a suspect whom witnesses saw take the fuel from Sugarland Apartments.

Rear window blinds, valued at $120, were taken from a student's car, however the driver is not sure if the theft occurred in Hereford or at West Texas State University.

Police recovered a lawn tractor which was stolen in February and have a suspect in the incident.

A pistol stolen in Hereford was recovered in Amarillo and police have a suspect there in the case.

Police also have a suspect in a harassing phone call case.

One person was arrested for driving without a license and making an illegal turn.

Light Problem

The engine died and Eugenio Martinez Jr. lost control of the front-end loader he was driving this morning. Before he could stop it, the machine plowed into and knocked over a light pole at 808 West Park. Traffic was snagged shortly while the street was cleared of glass. The loader is owned by Jake Diel Construction. (Brand Photo)

Panel's ruling on Braniff slots delayed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Officials of Braniff International and Pacific Southwest Airlines waited today for three federal appeals judges to decide on the fate of a proposed operating agreement between the two carriers.

"We are obviously disappointed that there has not yet been a decision," said PSA spokesman Bill Hastings. "But we will back Wednesday for the decision."

A Tuesday deadline had been set by PSA officials, who said that they would abandon their plans for a division based at Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport if the agreement still awaited approval by the three-judge panel of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The panel on Monday ruled that U.S. District Judge Eldon Mahon of Fort Worth was within his jurisdiction in approving the package deal by which PSA would operate some of Braniff's planes and hire former employees of the grounded airline in a new Texas division.

Mort Rible, PSA general counsel, said Tuesday that the company would continue to wait until the ruling. PSA has said its deal with Braniff was off unless it could be closed in time for the new Texas division to be flying by June 15.

"We have already committed $1.5 million in costs to this venture," Rible said. "We spend that even if the deal falls through. So obviously we will have to continue to wait."

Still undecided by the federal panel is whether the package approved by Mahon would include "time slots" for landings and takeoffs once held by Braniff.

The Federal Aviation Administration argued that it alone has jurisdiction over the issuance of the slots and a federal judge cannot treat them as property to be conveyed by contract.

Judge Thomas Gibbs Gee of Austin said the panel would rule promptly on the issue of landing and takeoff slots.

PSA proposes to lease 30 of Braniff's 62 idle jets and hire about 2,000 people — most of them former Braniff employees — in extending its service to 16 other cities, including such major routes as Washington, Newark, Chicago and Miami.

Braniff collapsed under the weight of its $1 billion debt last spring and filed for protection from its creditors in federal bankruptcy court in Fort Worth.

A Fort Worth federal bankruptcy judge said that with the Pacific Southwest takeover, Braniff would be able to pay 12 cents on the dollar when liquidated — instead of the 9 cents that could be paid without additional revenue.

"It will take 90 days after the deal is closed to get into operation," Hastings said earlier.

If the time slots are not made part of the packet, the deal is off, Hastings said.

And, if 5th Circuit rulings are appealed to the high court and the justices stop the transaction pending a final decision, that would also scotch the deal.

"If there is a stay, the deal is dead," Hastings said.

American Airlines opposed the takeover, arguing that the U.S. District Court erred in getting into the case because only a federal bankruptcy court has jurisdiction in bankruptcy cases.

Department of Justice lawyer Eloise Davies said the government agreed that neither the law nor Supreme Court rulings ever intended to invalidate the primary jurisdiction given to federal district courts.

The FAA said about a quarter of Braniff's 450 slots were reallocated to other airlines so they could lay on new flights to cover the gap made by the airline's collapse.

So many lawyers for various parties involved attended the hearing they packed the big en banc courtroom's benches and stood around the walls.

Gee, in opening remarks, said that the case was almost sure to wind up at the Supreme Court. So the dispute was being moved along as fast as possible in order to reach the final word.

Interested in home sewing or just updating your wardrobe? There's something for everyone at the Sew Fair on Tuesday, March 8, at the Community Center.

There will be programs, exhibits, demonstrations, and food. The fair is sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Family Living Committee and Deaf Smith County Extension Service.

The program is as follows.

9:30 a.m. - Registration.
10 a.m. - "Use and Care of Your Sewing Machine" - C.L. Morgan, Bernina Sewing Studio, Amarillo

11 a.m. - "Sewing for Children" - Louise Walker, County Extension Agent, Deaf Smith County - Hereford.

12 noon - "Wardrobe Planning" - Marla Day, County Extension Agent, Randall County - Canyon.

1 p.m. - "Making Your Own Designer Jeans" - Kay Wells, County Extension Agent, Oldham County - Vega

2 p.m. - "Fashion Trends for Spring '83" - Becky Saunders, Extension Clothing Specialist, Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Amarillo.

3 p.m. - Go home after a perfect day.

Exhibits will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. for viewing. Exhibitors are Bernina Sewing Center, Monograms by Jan, McKnight Home Center, Senior Citizens, and Ann's Knit Shop. They will be showing such things as machine embroidery, hand quilting as well as merchandise available.

The fair is free of charge. Feel free to come and spend an hour or all day - whichever suits your needs. For further information contact Louise Walker, County Extension Agent, Deaf Smith County at 364-3573.

Employed homemakers are invited to come during their lunch hour. The Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council will have a concession all day. Their menu features homemade chicken salad and pimiento cheese sandwiches, chips, brownies, crispy cereal bars, coffee, tea, and soft drinks.

Ann Landers

Penal system a disgrace

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The person who suggested that the state should make drunks and petty thieves who are serving time pay for their keep refers to "free room and board, medical care and entertainment."

As a professor of criminal justice of St. Louis University, I can tell the writer that many jails do not supply medical care and most of it is substandard.

Among the so-called "benefits" the writer must include the threat of gang rape and other forms of degradation and physical abuse. He should also consider the possible loss of a job as well as privileges and benefits that result from a jail record.

The writer should be reminded that when a person goes behind bars, nothing is "free." In some states it costs $16,000 a year to keep a person in jail. New construction is running $55,000 per cell.

It seems reasonable to me that the victim should get some financial compensation from the individual who has perpetrated the crime against him. Victim restitution saves tax dollars, benefits the victim, and doesn't make the petty thief or drunk more angry, more violent and more vengeful as a result of the state's "benevolent" care. — James F. Gilsinan, Ph.D.

DEAR DR. GILSINAN: Thank you for suggesting an enlightened and civilized approach to criminal justice. For the leading country in the free world our penal system is a disgrace.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 19, married to a swell guy and we have a darling six-month-old baby. The trouble is my mother-in-law. Larry made a deal with her. She would take over his car payments of $185 a month, if he would do her banking and pick up her medicine at the drugstore once a week.

Now Larry has to drive her wherever she wants to go. He also has to take his bratty kid sister shopping, to concerts, music lessons and just about everywhere.

I have begged Larry to give the car to his mother and tell her to shove it. He says she would be mad at him for the rest of his life. Am I right or wrong? — Trouble in New York

DEAR TROUBLE: So long as your husband permits his mother to make his car payment, he is going to be obligated to run all over hell's half acre for her and chauffeur his sister in the bargain. I believe he would be better off if he gave her the car, but he should make no suggestions as to what she should do with it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night my wife and I attended a lovely wedding, followed by a sit-down supper. When the waiter passed the cigars, a 15-year-old boy at our table took one. I thought he would put it in his pocket and give it to his older brother later, but to my surprise he lit it up.

Within a few minutes his face turned green and he muttered, "I feel awful," and rushed to the men's room. After 10 minutes I went to check on him. He was sick as a dog. He told me he would never smoke again as long as he lives.

I believe if every young kid had this experience it would cut down on cigarette smoking to a major degree. What do you think? — Unk In Podunk

DEAR UNK: Not all kids get deathly sick. I believe the better way is early education in our schools about the killer weed and what it does to healthy bodies. If everyone who smokes stopped tomorrow, cancer deaths could drop by 30 percent.

3 homers decisive

Eagles rip Herd, 10-1

CANYON — Ron Bostick's grand slam in the last of the first solo homers by Dale Holligan and David White in the second proved more than enough as Canyon defeated Hereford, 10-1, in the team's high school baseball opener Tuesday afternoon here.

Holligan, who pitched the first six innings, and Bostick, who worked the seventh, combined to allow Hereford just two hits — infield singles by Mickey Stengel and Gary Ruckman.

After Bostick's grand slammer had given the Eagles a 4-0 cushion in the first, Holligan and White connected in the second inning to put the game virtually out of reach. The Eagles added single runs in the third and fourth, before pushing across two more in the fifth. The last four Canyon runs were unearned, coming as a result of Hereford errors.

Stengel went the first five innings for Hereford, allowing all 10 runs. Robert Martinez pitched a scoreless sixth inning.

"Basically, we played like a young ball club without too much confidence," Herd coach David Ashby said.

"We're going to have to hit better, too. Two hits a ball game won't win many. We'll have to get our bats going."

Holligan threw well for them. He struck out four and walked two. He hit the ball hard a few times, but when we did it was right at someone."

While Hereford managed two hits, the Eagles collected nine. Both teams were charged with three errors.

Hereford returns to action Saturday when it travels to Levelland for a doubleheader, beginning at 1 p.m. Ashby said Robert Martinez would likely pitch the first game, but was undecided about the starter for game two.

NBA talks break down

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations for a new contract between the National Basketball Association and its players association were broken off after the first meeting in more than two weeks lasted just 24 minutes and produced angry exchanges by both sides.

"The players are not prepared to address in any meaningful way the current problems of the league and said they were firm on an April 2 strike deadline," David Stern, the NBA's executive vice president for business and legal affairs, said following Tuesday's abbreviated session.

The commissioner, in a message to the league's Board of Governors, said he had opened the meeting by asking Larry Fleisher, the union's general counsel, to clarify his comments to the media regarding the strike deadline.

Malone NBA

player of month

NEW YORK (AP) — Moses Malone, the National Basketball Association's leading rebounder and its fifth-leading scorer, was named the NBA's player of the month for February.

The 6-foot-10 center of the 76ers led Philadelphia to an 11-1 record during the month, scoring more than 20 points in 11 of the 12 games and pulling down more than 20 rebounds four times.

Hogs eye Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton says he doesn't intimidate Southwest Conference basketball officials and those coaches who say he does are guilty of jealousy.

"I think there is a lot of jealousy in this league," Sutton said in a telephone interview Tuesday with Houston Radio Station KIKK sportscaster Mark Berman. "We have won the league championship five of the last six years and Houston never has won it. They were picked to win it last year and the didn't."

The Hogs are 100-6 under Sutton in home games played at Barnhill Arena, site of Thursday's Southwest Conference showdown against the No. 1 ranked Cougars.

SWC coaches have accused Sutton with intimidating officials, especially with the backing of a vocal home crowd.

"I don't think I get on the officials any harder than (Houston Coach) Guy (Lewis) does or (Texas Tech coach) Gerald Myers or several other coaches in our league," Sutton said. "I have coaches that go through and grade officials and we don't get any more good calls than bad ones."

Houston is 0-7 in games played at Fayetteville and Sutton thinks that record will be on the Cougar players' minds in Thursday's game.

"There have been times in the past when Houston should have beaten Arkansas here in Fayetteville," Sutton said. "But it got to the latter stages of the game, and I think deep in their hearts they said to themselves that they wanted to win but they thought 'we've got the hex and we can't win." An Arkansas victory would repay the Cougars a 1978 Houston victory in UH's Hofheinz Pavilion. The Razorbacks had just been named the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll and the Cougars upset the Hogs.

Sutton said he hoped officials would call a close game in Thursday's game.

"If they don't call a close game we have no chance to win," Sutton said.

"If it is a physical game, then Houston will win the game so I hope they keep both coaches on the bench. If I jump up, I hope they put me back with the team."

Boast 50-7 mark

76ers head toward best record in NBA history

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

The Philadelphia 76ers are winning so often that they could slow down their pace for the rest of the season and still finish with the best record in the history of the National Basketball Association.

Their 106-94 victory Tuesday night over the New York Knicks, who had been playing their best basketball in 10 years, gave the 76ers a 50-7 record, the fewest losses ever for a team with that many victories.

If Philadelphia wins at least 20 of its remaining 25 games, an 800 percentage compared its current winning average of .877, it will become the first NBA team to win 70 times, surpassing the 1971-72 Los Angeles Lakers' regular-season record of 69-13.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Boston 129, Kansas City 111; Atlanta 109, Indiana 106; Milwaukee 101, Washington 99; Los Angeles 114, Chicago 104; San Antonio 119, Seattle 111; Dallas 123, Houston 115; Utah 127, San Diego 105; Denver 132, Cleveland 121 and Detroit 114, Golden State 103.

Julius Erving, who has led the 76ers to the NBA finals three times since 1977, only to see them lose on each occasion, said this year's team "was not the best I've ever seen in training camp. But now it could begin to rate with the best I've ever played on."

"We want to play sound ball," Malone said. "If we have a chance (for the record) with 12 games to go, maybe we'll go for it. But now, we just want to keep playing the way we're playing."

"I'm not worried about what our record is," said Andrew Toney, who hit nine of 14 shots for 23 points and added nine assists against the Knicks. "We're just working to the ultimate goal, winning the NBA championship."

The 76ers led 58-47 at halftime after outscoring the Knicks 24-8 in the last 6:49 of the second quarter, then fought off several rallies in the third period. After New York got within four points, the 76ers scored six in a row, and a few minutes later, when the Knicks pulled within 68-66, the 76ers netted the next seven points.

The Knicks, who won 10 of 12 games in February for their best month since January 1973, were led by Bill Cartwright with 18 points and Bernard King with 17.

Sidney Moncrief scored 33 points, including Milwaukee's last nine, to lead the Bucks over Washington. Moncrief had six of his points in the last 31 seconds of the game to break a 95-95 tie. Jeff Ruland finished with 25 points for the Bullets.

Lakers 114, Bulls 111

Los Angeles broke a three-game losing streak as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 31 points and Jamaal Wilkes 26, including four baskets each down the stretch. Reggie Theus kept Chicago in the game with 27 points.

Spurs 119, Sonics 104

Mike Mitchell scored 33 points and George Gervin 25 to pace San Antonio over Seattle. Gervin and Mitchell both had 15 points in the first half as the Spurs raced to a 57-45 lead, and then Gervin scored six straight during a 10-0 run that put them ahead 85-63 late in the third quarter.

Cleveland. The victory put the Nuggets at the .500 mark for the first time since the second game of the season.

Mavericks 123, Rockets 115

Dallas outscored Houston 23-6 in the first five minutes of the second half and extended an 11-point halftime lead to 103-77 as Jay Vincent contributed 10 of his 27 points in the third period. The Rockets retaliated with a 35-12 spurt in the fourth quarter to cut the big deficit to 117-112, but that was as close as they could get.

Jazz 127, Clippers 105

Darrell Griffith scored 22 points and Rickey Green added 20 as Utah blitzed San Diego. The Jazz led by as many as 33 points in the fourth period before the Clippers narrowed the deficit.

Hawks 109, Pacers 106

Dominique Wilkins had 25 points and Eddie Johnson hit three free throws in the final nine seconds to keep Atlanta ahead of Indiana. It was the fourth victory in a row for the Hawks while the Pacers are winless in their last seven outings.

Pistons 114, Warriors 103

Kelly Tripucka and Vinnie Johnson led six Detroit players in double figures with 19 points each as Detroit handed Golden State its fourth straight loss. Tripucka contributed a three-point basket to a 9-0 streak by the Pistons after the game was tied 92-92. Joe Barry Carroll led all scorers with 27 points for the Warriors.

NBC bids $1 billion

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC Sports has issued a $1 billion challenge to its two network competitors that could land it exclusive rights to major league baseball games through 1988.

NBC and major league baseball announced jointly on Tuesday that the two had agreed to a five-year deal for half the broadcast rights extending from 1984-88. Sources placed the pricetag on the deal at $500 million.

And, the commissioner's office confirmed that NBC has offered to buy the other half of those rights, currently held by ABC. Sources placed that offer also at $500 million, for a grand total of $1 billion.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, in a prepared statement, said ABC would first be given a chance to match the NBC offer "as the present rights-holder and pursuant to its contract rights." If ABC is not interested, Kuhn said CBS would be approached before going back to NBC.

The four-year deals with NBC and ABC expire after the 1983 season.

Jim Spence, executive vice president of ABC Sports, said the network was considering the matter, but industry sources thought ABC might have been outbid. CBS was not considered a competitive bidder, thus it appeared NBC had a realistic opportunity to become baseball's sole network TV outlet.

Nelson H. Pilson, the president of CBS Sports, declined to speculate whether CBS would bid if ABC did not.

The NBC-baseball contract signed on Tuesday also guarantees the network exclusive rights to 30 Saturday games during each year of the contract. The commissioner's office said local stations would be prohibited from airing games to their viewing areas during the NBC time slots, but the deal will not affect cable or pay-TV outlets.

The deal gives NBC rights to the World Series in 1984, '86 and '88 and to both league championship series and the All-Star Game in 1985 and '87. If ABC buys the other half of baseball's broadcast rights, it will receive rights to these baseball plums in years not covered by the NBC deal.

In addition, NBC was given the right to exclusive broadcasts of two prime time games each year with an option for eight more in prime time and eight more during the afternoon.

Two of the prime incentives for NBC's $1 billion bid apparently were the plan by baseball's Executive Council to expand the playoffs from five to seven games and ABC's current exclusive rights to Monday night games. The expanded playoff format still must be approved by the players' union.

And, according to one report, baseball is looking at huge increases in revenue from accepting a $1 billion bid. Under NBC's proposal, each of baseball's 26 teams would receive $7.5 million per year compared to its current $1.9 million, the Chicago Sun-Times said.

Dimmitt rolls; Caprock falters

Dimmitt continued to roll, while Caprock saw its finest-ever basketball season come to an end Tuesday night in area high school playoff action.

The Bobcats made it 34 straight this season, and 42 in a row over the past two, by soundly beating Slaton, 82-46, in Levelland. It was the third win for Dimmitt over Slaton this season, and none was by fewer than 21 points.

Caprock, meanwhile, saw its hopes of reaching the Class 5A regional tournament this weekend dashed by El Paso Bel Air, 70-59, last night in Midland.

Turnovers spelled the difference, Caprock, which ended its season 17-14 (after reaching the playoffs as the runner-up team in District 3-5A), fell behind, 8-0, at the outset and never was able to make up that early deficit.

The Longhorns fell behind by as many as 12 points (18-6) in the first period, before closing to within five (20-15) by the end of the quarter.

They did get as close as three points (20-17) early in the second quarter, but could get no closer the rest of the way. Bel Air led by eight points (35-27) at the half, and by 33 (53-40) heading to the final stanza.

Troy Fry led Caprock with 23 points, while Phil Larkin and Zeak Williams each scored 18 for Bel Air, which improved its record to 27-2.

Dimmitt, meanwhile, was never headed. The Bobcats rolled to a 22-12 first period lead, and by halftime led, 42-21.

Kevin Cleveland scored 22 points to pace Dimmitt and John Smith added 17.

Elsewhere, Vega earned a trip to this weekend's Class 1A regional tournament in Levelland by defeating Phillips, 41-35.

Borger and Pampa gained victories Tuesday, setting up a Class 4A showdown this weekend to gain a trip to the state meet at Austin.

The Bulldogs, winners of District 1-4A, eked out a 63-62 victory over Wichita Falls Hirschi, while Pampa tripped Mansfield, 58-46.

The regional finals clash, the third meeting this season between the two rivals, likely will be played Saturday in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

Borger already has defeated Pampa twice this season.

Softball meeting Tuesday

The Hereford Amateur Softball Association will conduct an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Anthony's in Sugarland Mall. All teams interested in playing in the city softball league this summer must have a representative there to receive pertinent information about the league.

The starting date for the league, league rules, and entry fees will be discussed at the meeting.

Those needing additional information may contact Jerry Smith at Anthony's by calling 364-4547.

Tucson Open due change

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Joe Garagiola Tucson Open will become the Seiko Tucson Match Play Championships next year, according to sponsors who plan to increase a $300,000 purse to $1 million and adopt match-play competition.

The Tucson Conquistadores said Tuesday that Seiko Time Corp. will co-sponsor the tournament, to be held Jan. 2-8 at Randolph North Golf Course.

The format calls for members of the PGA Tour and the new PGA Senior Tour to compete in separate events, officials said.

Match play, based on hole-by-hole competition, will begin Jan. 2 and end Jan. 8 with a one-day break on Jan. 5 for the celebrity pro-am.

Although the celebrity program is being retained, sports broadcaster Joe Garagiola said he no longer will be associated with the tournament.

Details regarding prize money, the field and other details remain to be worked out by Seiko, the PGA Tour and the Conquistadores, officials said.

Horner passes first test

Steinbrenner indicates silence may be only temporary

By The Associated Press

Owner George Steinbrenner, who has promised to remain silent even if the New York Yankees lose every exhibition game, has indicated it may be different once the season starts.

"If Billy Martin can't win with this team, we can never win," Steinbrenner said Tuesday at the Yankees' spring training camp in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Steinbrenner said he would "have to shoulder some of the blame for our poor showing last season," referring to the Yankees' finish one game out of last place in the American League East. "I probably demanded and meddled too much."

"I think from the top down the whole team is embarrassed and disgraced by the performance. I get the feeling that all the guys are eager to redeem themselves. I sense a different attitude out there. Guys like Goose Gosage, John Mayberry and others coming in with their weights down. They're all businesslike and working hard. Personally I think this team has as much all-around talent as the 1977 (world championship) team, which I have considered our best — maybe even more."

Meanwhile, in West Palm Beach, Fla., Atlanta's Bob Horner passed his first test as a left fielder and showed that no matter what position he plays he can still hit. Horner had only one chance defensively in an intrasquad game and handled it flawlessly. At the plate, he smacked a home run — off Phil Niekro — and triple in two at-bats.

"I didn't feel bad in left," Horner said. "After I had played two or three innings it wasn't that big a deal. It's just so completely different from third base, which is a razor's edge on every play. I'm much more relaxed in the outfield."

At Winter Haven, Fla., the Boston Red Sox welcomed 43-year-old Carl Yastrzemski to camp for his 23rd major league season. Yastrzemski, who says he will retire after this season, said that move could come sooner if he can't contribute.

"If I can't help the ballclub win a pennant, there's no possible way I'm going to hang on," he said. "There's no way I can sit on the bench and pinch hit once in a while, no way. What I've done in 22 years I'm not going to tear down in one year or two months or three months."

Tuesday was second baseman Manny Trillo's first full day with the Cleveland Indians and he said he could feel the spotlight on him.

"It was strange. I got everybody's attention," said Trillo, who was acquired from Philadelphia in an off-season trade. "It's not like the first day with the Phillies. Everyone was with Pete (Rose) or Mike (Schmidt)."

The trade of five Phillies for outfielder Von Hayes still bothers Trillo, for more than one reason.

"Right now, for us it is really a good deal," he said. "It would have been a good deal, me for him (Hayes), straight up, one on one. I really think I got thrown out with the trash. I still consider myself a good ballplayer. At least four of us should make the team."

Also, Trillo indicated he is concerned about the Indians' ability to sign him once he becomes a free agent at the end of the season.

"I would like to play in Cleveland if the money is there," he said. "If I don't sign by the end of spring training, then I won't be bothered during the season."

Elsewhere, several teams still had key players missing. Joe Rudi and Carney Lansford were absent from the Oakland A's camp. Rudi has had an Achilles tendon problem and Lansford was house-hunting. Both were excused by Manager Steve Boros.

At the Sun City, Ariz., training site of the American League champion Milwaukee Brewers, first baseman Cecil Cooper and designated hitter Roy Howell were no-shows. Cooper had permission to be late and Howell's son was ill.

At the Chicago Cubs' camp, third baseman Ron Cey, after his first full workout with his new club, issued some parting salvos at his former employers, the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Cey, acquired in a Jan. 20 trade for two minor leaguers, said the Dodgers would suffer this season for losing veterans like himself and first baseman Steve Garvey, who signed a lucrative free-agent contract with San Diego.

"That was their fault," Cey said. "They made it plain and clear early that they wanted to make some moves."

They were moving in a new direction, changing faces, bringing in new people.

"If they had played their cards differently, I'm sure they could have got somebody they wanted. But as it turned out, they got some bodies who are going to help them down the road. That says nothing for me. You look at a ballclub that has been successful there and you start naming the people who were responsible for that, and there's none of them there any more."

"That tells you right there that the ballclub is going to be in a state of paying the price for losing the players who have been successful and put them on top. We brought the attendance up from 2.2 (million) to 3.6 (million), and when it was our turn to get rewarded they let us out the back door. With the Dodgers, it's time to move on when you reach a certain salary figure."

'Hog Man' returns for Cougar clash Thursday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Look! There on the basketball floor! Houston may have beaten Arkansas earlier this season, but they didn't have to contend with anything like this!

"Hog Man" is back. The guy in the basketball uniform, red cape and plastic hog hat is to make his second appearance ever Thursday when the fifth-ranked Razorbacks take on No. 1 Houston at Barnhill Arena. Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton has said the game may be the biggest in Southwest Conference history.

"I've just had so many people come up to me and ask if we'd bring him back that I finally said, 'Okay we'll do it,'" Jim Robken, who directs the Arkansas Hogwild Band, said Tuesday of Hog Man.

Hog Man's premier was at last year's Arkansas-Texas basketball game. Robken said he "got put in a fire" over that; "There were some people who felt like Hog Man was just a little too much."

But he has no apprehensions about bringing back music major Jose Diaz of Chicago as Hog Man for the Houston game, probably during a first-half timeout. "I feel like since we haven't gone overboard with it, this one time it will be fine."

Other than that, the spirit-boosting activities for the game will be pretty routine, he said, except there may be some extra signs hanging in the band's corner of Barnhill

Arena.

Also, Robken said, 9,000 wallet-size cards with the words to the song, "Hard To Be Humble" will be passed out. The song ends, "Oh Lord it's hard to be humble when you're a Razorback fan."

"I just hope we get to use them," Robken said.

The Hogwild Band will play its most famous tune, the William Tell Overture, either when Arkansas scores two unanswered baskets or if the Razorbacks are three or four points down and "can't seem to get over the hump," Robken said.

"Things will be wild enough that we don't need to get the crowd too worked up too soon," he said. "It'll be madness in here"

Missouri clinches Big 8 title

No. 18 Syracuse upsets No. 4 Villanova, 79-70

By The Associated Press
Syracuse's Erich Santifer stole a ballgame for the Syracuse Orangemen — literally.
Santifer not only scored his team's last basket after his sixth steal of the game, but twice connected on a pair of clutch free throws in the last 79 seconds as 18th-ranked Syracuse, playing at home, upset fourth-ranked Villanova 79-70 in a Big East Conference basketball game Tuesday night.

"It was a special win; it gives us a little momentum for the end of the season and it's important to have momentum going into the Big East tournament," Santifer said.

In the only other contest involving a member of The Associated Press Top Twenty, Jon Sundvold scored 22 points, including a game-winning 20-footer with one second left, as No. 13 Missouri staved off an upset bid and clinched its fourth straight Big Eight title with a 49-47 victory over Kansas State.

The Syracuse victory ended a frustrating string of losses for the Orangemen against three of their key conference rivals — Villanova, St. John's and Georgetown. Syracuse improved its record to 19-6 overall and 9-5 in the conference and kept Villanova, 21-5 overall and 12-3 in the Big East, from clinching the title.

Villanova's John Pinone led all scorers with 23 points, but Syracuse took a 63-55 lead with 5:02 remaining when Santifer, who paced his team with 21 points, stole the ball from guard Gary McLain and drove for a slam dunk. That was the last basket for the Orangemen, who connected on 16 of 21 from the free-throw line down the stretch.

"Down the stretch, a different guy made the key play every time; but Erich was the difference," said Syracuse Coach Jim Boehelm.

At Manhattan, Kan., Sundvold's bucket capped a second half in which there were eight lead changes and seven ties. Kansas State's last lead was 47-45 with 4:43 to play on a Tyrone Jackson jump shot.
Sundvold tied the score 47-47 with a 20-footer with 1:47 remaining, and Missouri, 22-6, regained possession for the winning shot when Kansas State guard Jim Roder threw the ball out of bounds with 51 seconds left.

Auburn was in control the whole way, bursting to an 11-0 lead as Mostdler scored seven points and Barkley the other four. Auburn's biggest lead of the night was 80-52 with 1:23 left.
At New York, Randy Cozzens scored 26 points, including 19 to lead a second-half surge, as Army upset Manhattan 74-69 in the opening round of the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference playoffs.

At South Orange, N.J., Earl Kelley scored 25 points to lead Connecticut over Seton Hall 78-67 in a Big East game.
At Birmingham, Ala., freshman Anthony Gordon scored 16 points and pulled down seven rebounds to help Alabama-Birmingham nip crosstown rival Samford 66-65.
At Rutherford, N.J., Myles McPartland scored a career-high 22 points, including 16 in the second half, to lead Hofstra, 18-7, to a 75-60 victory over Fairleigh Dickinson.

$160 in prizes up for grabs

Activities set for halftime of Bucketeer game

Details of the halftime drawing activities for the YMCA's presentation of Meadowlark Lemon and his Bucketeers next Tuesday have been finalized, with $160 in prizes set to be up for grabs to the lucky winners.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor free throw activities featuring three persons from the crowd whose names are drawn from the hopper. Those three will shoot four free tosses each, pocketing $5 in Deaf Smith County Bucks for each shot they make.

In addition, The Hereford Brand will sponsor a special drawing. The winner of that drawing will get the chance to make a basket from half court, with a successful attempt earning the "shooter" a cool $100 in county bucks.

Fans attending the game will get the chance to participate in the drawings by placing their ticket stubs in a hopper as they enter the La Plata gym the night of the game. Those not wishing to get the chance at the bucks simply need not put their stubs in the hopper.

The Bucketeers will be playing the California Coasters as part of their regular performance, and will face a local team for a short match at halftime as well.

Tickets for the Bucketeers' performance are priced at $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. Tickets for the game are on sale at both local banks, the credit union, the Sports Stop, the chamber office, and the YM-CA office at Sugarland Mall.

McKay, Madden capture Emmys

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim McKay and John Madden won Emmys for their sportscasting Tuesday night as the Academy of Television Arts & Sciences presented its awards for the 1981-82 season.
With NBC withdrawing from the competition because of objections to the way the categories were apportioned, ABC and CBS divided the awards nearly evenly. ABC won 11, CBS won 10 and three went to syndicated shows.
McKay, the host of ABC's Wide World of Sports, won his 10th Emmy in the category that includes both hosts and play-by-play announcers.
Madden, the former coach of the Oakland Raiders and the prime analyst in CBS' coverage of the National Football League, was named the best analyst.

winners:
Live sports special: CBS' coverage of the 1982 NCAA basketball final.
Live sports series: CBS' coverage of the 1981 NFL season.
Edited sports series or anthology: ABC's The American Sportsman (its third such award in the last four years.)
Outstanding edited sports special: ABC's coverage of last year's Indianapolis 500 auto race, which won four Emmys in all.
In addition, ABC's "Sport-beat," hosted by Howard Cosell, and the syndicated show "The Baseball Bunch" won special outstanding achievement awards.

March is Texas book month

BY DIANNE PIERSON
County Librarian

This March has been designated as Texas Book Month by Governor Mark White in a ceremony at the Texas State Library and Archives in Austin. Texas citizens are being given a unique opportunity to demonstrate support for their local public libraries during this month.

One hundred thousand books by Texans or about Texas for Texas libraries is the goal of Texas Book Month. Wales Madden, III, Amarillo businessman, has been named statewide chairman of the month-long celebration. During the month Texans are urged to make gifts, either of money or of Texas books to their local libraries.

Selection of the books can be made from a list prepared under the direction of Dr. Dorman Winfrey, State Librarian. This list is available at the Deaf Smith County Library. Before you purchase a book on Texas for the library, you may want to contact Dianne Pierson, the Librarian, to make sure the library does not already have a copy of that book.

The Deaf Smith County Library has also been named a Texas Heritage Resource Center by the Texas Heritage Project of the Texas Historical Foundation. The Deaf Smith County Library has a special Texas History section in the library, and also, has one of the most valuable local history files available. The local history file was established by Lorene Newman, a former Librarian, and has proved to be invaluable in research. Many patrons have researched the founding of the XIT ranch and the Prisoner of War Camp which was located in Hereford.

The Texas Heritage Project has initiated the establishment of Texas Heritage Resource Centers across the state to provide Texas history teachers, students, and the general public with easy access to books and material about the state. The local Texas Heritage Project representative is Dianne Pierson, County Librarian. If you have any questions, please call the library at 364-1206.

Books on Display

In observance of Texas Book month, Dianne Pierson, Deaf Smith County librarian, is shown with a special display of books at the library. The library has been named a Texas Heritage Resource Center by the Texas Heritage Project of the Texas Historical Foundation.

Hollinger presents program

Gary Hollinger, director of nursing at Deaf Smith General Hospital, demonstrated the use of the "Thumper" which is used for emergency CPR treatment, to members of La Madre Mia Study Club. The group met Thursday in the home of Betty Lady with Debbie Tardy serving as co-hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by club president,

Mary Beth White. Priscilla Power was welcomed as a guest by those present. They included Joyce Allred, Carolyn Baxter, Frances Berry, Jeri Bezner, Beverly Bryant, Sarah Hazelrigg, Mary Herring, Betty Lady.

Music Festival scheduled here

The Texas and National Federation of Music Clubs will sponsor the Section 1, First District Junior Music Festival in Hereford on Monday.

Local coordinators are the Hereford Music Study Club and the Dawn Music Club. Mrs. Joe Reinauer, Sr. is chairman of the festival. Others who will be helping include Helen Caraway and Corene Smith from the Dawn Club and Mary Thomas, Sue Sims, Ann Meyer, and Cheryl Betzen from the Hereford Club.

Arrangements have been made with the superintendent of the Hereford schools for students to be excused from class for the time required to participate in the festival. Parents of entrants are requested to send a note to their child's teacher.

Piano and vocal students and ensembles will be participating in the Junior Music Festival. They represent the studios of Mrs. JoElla Cansler, Mrs. Evelyn Hacker, Mrs. Susan Shaw, Mrs. Kathlee Palmer, Miss Thelma McMinn, and Mrs. Ruby Wimberly of Dawn.

A dutch treat luncheon is being planned to honor the three judges. Teachers, parents and other interested persons are invited to participate.

Judges include Dr. Sylvia Curry Coats of Amarillo, Mrs. Eva Miller of Friona, and Mrs. Linda Kay Murphree of Friona.

Dr. Coats, who earned a bachelor's and master's degree in music from Texas Tech University and a doctor of musical arts from the University of Colorado in Boulder, frequently judges piano competitions and festivals in Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico.

She has given many lectures and demonstrations on piano pedagogy, and has given numerous solo and chamber music recitals. She was formerly on the music faculty at the University of Oklahoma and Texas A&I University and presently maintains a private piano studio in Amarillo, teaching a continuing education course in piano at Amarillo College.

Mrs. Miller began teaching piano in Friona in 1947 and taught organ and voice as well until her retirement. She has been affiliated with the Federated Music Clubs since she began teaching and has also been associated with the National Guild for 10 years.

She has been organist and pianist at the First Baptist Church in Friona for 37 years and directed a girls' ensemble, the Trebleaires, for 25 years.

Mrs. Murphree received her bachelor of arts degree from Wayland Baptist University. She was a member of the International Choir at Wayland and also a small singing group. She taught five years in secondary public schools and the last six years she has taught private voice lessons in Friona.

She has judged festival voice competition and has served as judge for FHA area choir try-outs in Lubbock as well as junior high and high school talent competitions in the Panhandle area.

Mrs. Murphree currently directs a high school girls' ensemble, the Trebleaires, which performs for community and area functions. She is a member of the adult choir at First Baptist Church of Friona and directs a children's choir there.

Guest speaks on 'Women in Contemporary Music'

Young Mothers Study Club met Monday night at the Hereford State Bank. A special program created and arranged especially for the club was presented by the Rev. Darrell Cluck, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

The program, entitled, "Women in Contemporary Music," consisted of record and tape cuts by women artists. Included were Charleen (I've Never Been to Me), Joni Mitchell (Love), Pat Benatar (Hell is for Children), Tammy Wynette (What's it Like to be a Woman?), and Juice Newton (Love's Been a Little Bit Hard on Me).

Cluck's presentation touched on and dealt with many issues being addressed by today's women through music. He also stressed the importance of women in their families' lives and the imporance of being who you are and proud of what you do as women's roles change in these busy times.

After the program, refreshments were served by hostesses, Alice Lockmiller and Carla Hollinger. Members and guests present were Karla Vase, Georgia Auckerman, Lisa Blakely, Janey Poland, Jeanne Lomas, Dee Dee Coker and Sherry Wilson.

Upcoming events announced at council business session

Following the appreciation luncheon held at the Bull Barn Monday, members of the Extension Homemakers Council met in regular session with Cindy Norvell, chairman, presiding.

Mary Bass and Hazel Stewart were recognized as visitors. Ten clubs were represented - eight with 100 percent attendance.

Bertha Dettmann, treasurer, gave the financial report. Bills were presented and approved. Standing committee reports were given by Johnnie Messer, education; Gayle Carter, yearbook; Ms. Dettmann, finance; and Carol Odum, recreation.

Ms. Messer, corresponding secretary, read a letter of invitation to the luncheon at West Texas State University on April 16 honoring outstanding women of the Panhandle.

Louise Walker, county extension agent, thanked club women for their support and listed a number of meetings for March and April. She outlined the five programs to be given at the Sew Fair, scheduled March 8 at the Community Center from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. The fair is open to the public.

Mrs. Walker will be a guest on the Bedford Forrest Show at noon on March 7. She will give a program at the Heritage Room of the library at noon on March 9.

On March 14, a new club will be organized at the Camp Fire Lodge for a group meeting at noon.

On April 19, Eva Kennedy will give a program at 2 p.m. at the Reddy Room. Joy Gibson will make a return visit on April 27 for a spring program at the Energas Flame Room. She will give the same program at 2 p.m. and again at 7 p.m.

Penny Reinart, assistant county extension agent, said clubs wishing to host a program by 4-H members will be contacted. Forty-five girls attended a workshop on dough baskets and she expects to have as many for a workshop on cake decorating on March 9.

Following adjournment, Anna Messer, Texas Extension Homemakers Association chairman, held an election to choose delegates to the district meeting in Borger in April.

Delegates named were Mary Carter, Ford; Carol Odum, Wyche; Anna Messer; Draper; first alternate, Gayle Carter, Palo Duro; second alternate, Bertha Dettmann, Cultural; and third alternate, Sandy Martin, Bippus.

Chili supper set Saturday

WTSU jazz quintet to perform here on Sunday

The Hereford Music Study Club and the West Texas State University Foundation of Fine Arts will co-sponsor a concert by Quintessence, a musical quintet from WTSU, on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library.

The public is invited to the concert and to a reception which will follow. Through the efforts of the music club and the foundation, there will be no admission charge.

Two local residents, Mrs. Jo Ella Canler and Dr. Duffy McBrayer, are members of the board of directors of the WTSU Foundation of Fine Arts, an area-wide association of people who share a common interest in the arts and who support fine arts both on the WTSU campus and off, through a scholarship program and by sponsoring the "Artist-in-Residence" program and other area performances.

Under the direction of Dr. George Eason, WTSU professor of music, Quintessence will present a variety of jazz including Africa, rag, blues, boogie, Dixie, ballad, swing, bebop, cool Latin, soul gospel influence, fusion and avant-garde.

Between numbers, members of the group will explain some of the history of jazz in America. The Hereford Music Study Club is studying America music this year, and the concert is their March program.

Members of Quintessence include Eason, playing the piano; Carlos Casso, senior music business major from San Juan, saxophone; Ray Dillard, graduate music student from Dalhart, percussion; Greg Williams, senior computer information systems major from Pampa, bass; and Marvin Perry, senior music education major from Azle, trombone.

The safety razor was invented in 1895.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, March 2, the 61st day of 1983. There are 304 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On March 2, 1836, Texas declared its independence from Mexico.

On this date:

In 1776, American Marines fought their first battle, capturing a British fort in the Bahamas during the Revolutionary War.

In 1801, the War of the Oranges between Spain and Portugal began.

In 1949, a U.S. B-50 plane landed in Fort Worth, Texas, after completing the first non-stop flight around the world.

And, in 1956, France recognized Morocco's independence.

Ten years ago: Arab gunmen holding the Saudi Arabian embassy in the Sudan killed U.S. Ambassador Cleo Noel and charge d'affaires George Moore.

Five years ago: Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith and three black leaders announced an agreement for an interim government that would place the nation under black-majority rule by the end of 1978.

One year ago: The U.S. Senate adopted a measure to virtually eliminate busing as a tool for integrating schools.

Today's birthdays: Television producer Desi Arnaz is 66. Actress Jennifer Jones is 64.

Thought for today: "Undoubtedly, the desire for food has been, and still is, one of the main causes of great political events." — Bertrand Russell, English mathematician-philosopher (1872-1970).

Members meet for supper Monday

Members of the Deaf Smith County Lapidary Club met Monday evening in the Flame Room for a bean supper. President Jack Nunley conducted a business meeting following the meal.

The club decided to sign up for membership in the Friends of the Library. Members discussed ordering caps and jackets with the club logo and then heard reports on the Plainview Rock and Gem Show.

Two trips were discussed: one to Copper Breaks State Park and one to Big Bend National Park. Members discussed the display which the rock club will have at the library in May.

Betty Rice presented the club with a display case to be used for shows.

Thirty-three members and four visitors, including Clint and Dorothy Lundry, Melvin Shaw, and Tim Pankey were present.

Ezell and Verba Sadler will give a program on their recent trip to the Mount St. Helen's area at the next regular meeting on March 28 in the Flame Room. The program for the April meeting will be a slide show about the basics of making cabs.

The International Ladies Garment Workers Union was founded in 1900 in New York to fight the 70-hour work week and a 30-cents-a-day pay scale for women sewing at home.
