

Grain Shortage May Bring Potatoes to Fore As Stock Feed; Experiments Show Spuds Make Good Ensilage

With a world shortage of grain already evident and a shortage of feed for livestock in prospect, local stockmen are showing interest in experiments recently conducted by the Texas A & M Extension service at the Lubbock Experiment station and elsewhere in the use of potato ensilage for feeding cattle and hogs.

Wider use of potatoes as a substitute for grain products is being urged by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson for human consumption, but the Lubbock experiments have demonstrated that potatoes may be used to relieve the shortage of feed for livestock as well.

Local potato growers indicate that a considerable quantity of culls will probably be available from this year's potato harvest at prices low enough to make their use for livestock feeding profitable.

Last year, an estimated 100 carloads of culls were dumped here, and were loaded by truckers and sold over the country as Deaf Smith No. 1 Potatoes. This practice not only hurt the local spud market and injured the growing reputation of Deaf Smith county potatoes, but robbed this area of a valuable source of feed for livestock.

Experiments with potatoes as livestock feed indicate that they can be used in raw state for cattle, or as ensilage, either raw or cooked, with or without mixture of forage crops, for both cattle, hogs, and poultry.

Ensilage, the experiment station reports, has been done usually by the addition of 2 to 5 percent of ground corn or barley to the chopped potatoes, or by placing chopped forage, such as alfalfa, grass, or corn fodder in alternate layers with chopped potatoes.

Potatoes can be fed to beef and dairy cattle, sheep, horses, swine and poultry. Cooking is highly desirable for swine and poultry.

Partly because of their bulk and partly because of the danger of animals going off feed and suffering from indigestion, authorities caution against suddenly changing the ration to a high level of potato feed or feeding excessively high levels of potatoes.

Apparently the potato silage can replace other silages in the rations of cattle and sheep also receiving normal amounts of hay and concentrate feed.

In the hog ration, half of the grain can be replaced by cooked potatoes. Poultry have been fed rations in which 30 percent of the feed was cooked potatoes.

For dairy cattle, potatoes can be successfully ensiled by washing off excess dirt, running them through a silage cutter along with 250 or 300 pounds of dry hay for each ton of potatoes, and storing in an ordinary type of tower silo or in a well drained trench silo.

Tower type silos should be well reinforced to withstand lateral pressure or they should be only partially filled.

Potato silage has a feeding value for dairy cattle a little less than corn silage. It may be fed in amounts up to 30 to 35 pounds per cow per day.

The cooking of potatoes by steam and their preservation as silage in pits or trenches is a European practice of long standing. Such preserved potatoes are particularly adapted for pigs and poultry, since these species do not do well on raw potatoes.

NEWCOMER

Dr. Milton C. Adams, optometrist, has taken over the office and practice of Dr. F. M. Kester. Dr. Adams, recently out of the Navy, is from Lubbock.

Further information regarding potato ensilage is available at the office of County Agent Hugh Clearman.

Tests Show Baking Qualities Of War Emergency Flour Now on Local Market

Since March 1, flour mills all over the United States have been required to convert to the production of a new type of flour—a type never before produced commercially—which is generally known as "Emergency" flour.

Both local mills are now producing "Emergency" flour, and it is now on sale at all local stores while the supply of pre-emergency white flour is rapidly disappearing. The government order under which it is produced is known as War Food Order 144.

Packard Mill is producing the new flour under the label "Packard's Eighty Emergency Flour" and Fraser Mill is producing it with the label "Fraser's War Emergency Flour."

Because the new program meant drastic changes in milling methods and many persons feared that it might also mean drastic changes in baking methods, the Wheat Flour Institute in Chicago has gathered samples of the flour from all over the United States and run baking tests.

"Much work continues, and will continue," the Institute advises, "but enough has been done to enable us to share with you what has been learned to date."

Emergency flour is slightly gray in color, or somewhat cream-gray or "off-white," due to the presence in the flour of some parts of the wheat kernel which naturally contain considerable amounts of plant pigment or color.

Baking Qualities

Emergency flour, the Institute reports, is best described as a "utility flour." It is not an all-purpose flour, in the sense that many white flours were "all-purpose," but since it is the only kind that will be available during the food emergency, it must serve all purposes.

In most baking and cooking tests performed to date, Emergency Flour has performed acceptably.

In baking, Emergency Flour is used just like enriched white flour. In making products leavened with baking powder, or with sour milk and soda, it seems advisable to use the minimum amount of mixing or stirring after flour and liquid have been combined. The rule for quick breads, "mix only until flour is moistened," is doubly important when using the new flour.

In making yeast-leavened products, it is well to handle batters and doughs lightly, especially after they have risen once letting them rise until they are just doubled, but not more than doubled, seems a good guiding rule.

Acceptable cakes of many kinds can be made with Emergency Flour, although the cakes are not so velvety and delicate as cakes made with flour. Good 2-egg cakes, chocolate cakes, and many other favorites can be made.

Thickening Qualities

For all practical household purposes, Emergency flour has the same thickening power as enriched white flour. It may be used in the usual proportions for gravies, sauces, pie and cake fillings.

The same recipes that homemakers have used with enriched white flour are suitable for use with Emergency flour.

Food Value

Emergency flour contains somewhat more thiamin, niacin, riboflavin, and iron than does plain white flour, but roughly only about half as much as enriched white flour. Conse-

Fire Destroyed Home and Turned Hobby to Business

When fire destroyed her home three years ago, Mrs. Bill Rice, Deaf Smith county farmwoman, turned a pleasant hobby into a profitable business.

In her home demonstration work, Mrs. Rice had learned to refinish furniture expertly, and had always regarded it as a pleasant hobby. But after the fire destroyed their home, Mr. and Mrs. Rice bought a new place and had to start from scratch.

With a home to equip and pay for, she turned her hobby of refinishing furniture into a business which has grown so rapidly that she has hired a helper and still has more orders than she can handle.

Despite the rapid growth of her business, she continues to keep up a full schedule of home tasks in caring for her two young sons. She also raises chickens on a full scale and does her full quota of gardening and canning.

quently most Emergency Flour is being enriched in accordance with the standards for enriched white flour.

It contains slightly more protein than enriched white flour, and is comparable to white flour in caloric value.

Keeping Qualities

Emergency flour will not keep so well as white flour. Like all flour, it keeps best when stored in a covered container in a cool, dry place. It is best to avoid storage on top shelves of pantries and cabinets, and to keep flour containers where air can circulate around them.

Toothache-less Flour Comes High in Miami

When Dr. Edward Taylor, Texas State Dental Health Officer, told diners at the Hereford Chamber of Commerce banquet recently that people here don't realize how famous Deaf Smith County is in other sections of the country, he wasn't kidding!

An advertisement in a recent issue of the Miami (Florida) Herald from Burdine's Fine Foods Shop lists Deaf Smith county flour, 5 pounds for $1... and Burdine's used two columns of space in the Herald to extoll the qualities of their expensive commodity.

The same flour advertised by Burdine's (Fraser's 100 per cent Whole Wheat) sells regularly at local groceries at the rate of 5 pounds for 35 cents!

In the same issue of the Miami newspaper, the Herald shopping editor devotes considerable space to the "Deaf Smith story" and "the town without a toothache."

The clippings were sent to The Brand by J. C. McLean of Black, relayed from Miami by his sister.

Doris Gilmore and Beth Rhodes, students at Colorado Women's College of Denver, were house guests here last week-end of Miss Beverley Fraser, who is also a CWS student.

The prehistoric discovery of the FLAME was man's first step toward civilization; and from that ageless past to the present, the Flame has been keeping humanity warm, cooking its food and performing other services. However, no energy, even that of the FLAME, would be valuable to modern civilized society unless it would be capable of being controlled. It is interesting to note that it was this controllability that, early in our economic history, provided continued usefulness to the GAS FLAME—a usefulness that through the years has constantly widened and strengthened. Today this controllability reaches its highest point of development. And so, as in the past, the GAS FLAME will continue to release, even more effectively, its energy, remaining man's faithful servant for cooking, water heating, refrigeration and year 'round home comfort.

Home-Built Fertilizer Spreader is Developed By Extension Service; Plans at County Agent's Office

A home-built machine that can be used effectively in spreading commercial fertilizer has been developed by the Texas A&M College Extension service engineering department, according to County Agent Hugh Clearman.

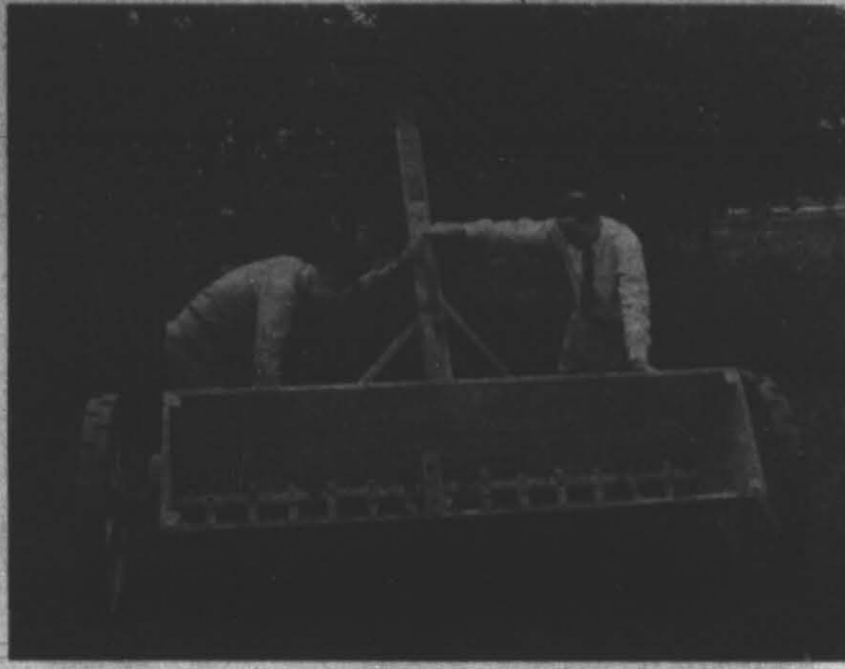

The spreader, illustrated here, is similar to commercial machines that are probably available now, but can be built on any farm. Wheels used in the illustrated model are from an old mower, but other suitable wheels might be used from some other old implement.

Paddles are attached to the axle to serve as agitators. These agitators should lie as near the bottom of the hopper as possible. The rate of distribution is regulated by a slide bar on the hopper bottom which permits the fertilizer to sift through square holes in the bottom.

Square holes seem to cause less clogging when putting out light applications, the experimenters say. The bottom of the hopper should be metal about 3-16 or 1-4 of an inch thick, and the holes should be not less than 3-4 of an inch square.

Experiments at the Lubbock Experiment Station during the past three years show that 600 pounds of 8-12-4 fertilizer is most profitable for that area, Clearman said. This, however, is not a common analysis fertilizer, and it is suggested that 600 pounds of a 6-8-4 fertilizer could be used. Thus should furnish the same amount of nitrogen, somewhat less phosphoric acid, and a slightly higher rate of potash.

Soils in different farms vary as to their fertilizer needs, and individual soil analyses are offered by local dealers, but in a complete fertilizer such as the 8-8-4, nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash are all supplied to overcome these variations.

Additional information and plans for constructing the home-made distributor are available at the County Agent's office.

Everything from Ladies' Shoes to False Teeth in Lost-Found Dept.

Have you forgotten something?

A lot of people have, judging from the collection of unclaimed lost and found articles which have accumulated at The Brand office, ranging from a pair of slightly-used ladies shoes to a three-tooth removable denture (false teeth to you).

Keys lead the list of lost articles in point of numbers. In addition to four key cases (all containing keys), there are 18 odd single keys and 14 key rings of various types containing a total of 40 keys. One ring carries a miniature 1945 Texas license tag, BS4723, and three keys... two ignition and one door.

Gloves are next on the list... 18 of them, and not a pair among 'em. They cover the range of styles from wool mittens to fancy leather.

Is there a Delta Kappa Gamma alumnus in town? The Brand has a DK sorority pin. There are also two sets of plastic ear-rings and one odd imitation amethyst ear-screw, a Saint Christopher medal and a Rosary, complete with case; a 1930 Hereford High school class ring; and an envelope of snapshots bearing the name G. D. Jackson.

There's one pair of sun-glasses... not rose-colored... and an out-of-date War Ration Book No. 3 which bears the

WE'VE GOT PLENTY OF IT!

Oceans and oceans of oil—and all in this vast area—and our supply will last for years and years. We all know that our peacetime industrial growth will demand more and more oil and natural gas and our petroleum people are ready and eager to supply them. Even now, the Panhandle-Plains and Southeastern New Mexico is producing high octane gasoline, natural gasoline, synthetic rubber and carbon black.

Yes, the Panhandle-Plains and Pecos Valley have plenty of oil and natural gas and an abundant supply of low-cost, dependable electric power to operate large industrial plants which process these natural resources into finished products.

What Did "Mildred Pierce" Do?

Let's Face the Facts

About HOME BUILDING

In the confusion created about the shortage of homes in America, one point stands out clearly:

YOU CAN'T BUILD HOMES WITHOUT MATERIALS!

Lumber and building material dealers and contractors obviously have a vital interest in obtaining materials for home building.

They report, nevertheless, that such materials are not flowing through the yards; that they have not been able to get them. Therefore, the Government's HH priorities offered to enable veterans and others to obtain homes, are simply home hunting licenses—for materials in quantity are not available.

As long as OPA continues its wartime control policy rather than a policy of adjustment to aid reconversion, it will neither be able to prevent an inflation or a deflation; it will only be able to prevent reconversion by discouraging production of needed home building items.

Here, for example, is an instance of OPA action that has resulted in increased production. After 6 month's delay, OPA granted a 4% to 10% price adjustment that allowed 125 of 400-closed brick and tile plants to reopen. This price adjustment allowed these plants and 400 others that had been operating, to hire needed labor. As a result, in the next quarter production rose 35%.

But in hardwood flooring, siding, plywood, mill work, and construction lumber, OPA clings to its wartime formulas. Instead, OPA follows the unrealistic policy of allowing premium prices to mills for producing lumber for such things as export to foreign countries, and for items that were needed in wartime industry.

Today's question is not essentially one of price control—if there were plenty of homes, no price controls would be necessary. The important question is one of production and manpower.

So far, OPA and Government officialdom in general have contented themselves with controls, allocations and priority systems which at best can do nothing but juggle an insufficient supply of building materials—and at worst, delay and retard production and the employment of manpower.

Homes will not be built in the United States unless the Building Industry builds them. Whether they are labeled "Public Housing" or "Private Homes," the same labor, the same building industry will build them.

Production can be un-blocked by the removal or adjustment of OPA's wartime policies. But such a realistic approach cannot be attained as long as Government action is based on a philosophy of lack rather than a philosophy of abundant supply for peacetime prosperity.

The lumber dealers, builders and contractors stand ready to build or rebuild America. But it is up to the people to demand that the way be cleared for the production of materials for homes.

Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacles blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry.

Saunders-Haberer Wedding Is Held

In a candlelight ceremony on March 16, Miss Joy Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Saunders of Brownfield, became the bride of Roger Haberer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Haberer of Earth.

The vows were exchanged before an altar arrangement of greenery and calla lilies flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and white tapers in the Earth Baptist Church. Rev. C. T. Jordan, pastor, read the double ring service.

Pre-nuptial music was given by Miss Colleen Myers and Miss Betty Hinson accompanied by Mrs. Russell Haberer, sang "Because". Miss Hinson played the traditional wedding marches. Candles were lighted by Hortense Hudnall and Edith Newman.

Miss Gay Saunders, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Betty Haberer, sister of the bride-groom was bridesmaid. They wore blue and pink taffeta dresses respectively, and carried bouquets of pink carnations. Kay Haberer was ring-bearer and Theresa and Carolyn Dunagan were flower girls. Ushers were Russell Haberer, Clifford Layman, Jerry Kelly and Ted Haberer.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white wedding gown of slipper satin made with tight fitting sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her finger-tip veil was of illusion and she carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haberer. Mrs. Wynell Sides of Lubbock presided at the silver coffee service at the refreshment table which held a centerpiece of pastel shaded sweet peas and lighted tapers. Miss Jo Winders served the wedding cake.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride-groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Haberer of Hereford.

Mrs. Haberer graduated from Roosevelt High School and attended Texas Technological College. For the past two years she has taught in the Spring Lake school.

Mr. Haberer also attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and served four years in the Army Air Corps, 18 months in the European Theater of War.

After a short wedding trip the couple has returned to their farm home near Earth.

Guest Artist is Complimented at Tea

Sarah Thomas, lyric-coloratura soprano, who appeared in concert at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, was honored at an informal reception following the concert at the home of Mrs. H. L. Broadwell.

The guest artist, whose program was timed nicely with the spring and Easter season, was given enthusiastic response as with sparkling spontaneity she presented a program divided between serious concert music and frankly popular material. She was assisted by Carol Kelley, pianist and accompanist, who was also warmly acclaimed.

Receiving Line

The receiving line was made up of Mrs. Broadwell, the artist and her husband, L. N. Thomas, Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McMath, Miss Thelma McMin, Mrs. Glenn Snyder, Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, Mrs. Ellis Coombes, Diane Jowell, and T-Sgt. Stanley A. Szypek.

Others in the house party were Patricia Loving, Connie Hopson, Mary Helen McGilvray, Billee Ray Johnson, Katherine Ridgway, Reba Dones, and Joan Beams, all members of the Voco Club.

Those assisting in the dining room were Mesdames A. O. Thompson, J. B. Jones, R. P. Conaway, C. R. Smith, C. H. Dyar and C. C. Ferguson.

Mrs. J. R. Allison presided at the refreshment table.

A buffet-supper was served from a table centered with cherry, plum and peach blossoms. Small tables laid for four were centered with Easter nests filled with candy eggs which formed holders for single candles.

Guest prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Roberson high and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Dishman low. High score awards for the club went to Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue and low to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendall.

Members of the club and guests attending the pre-Easter party were Messrs. and Mesdames; Joe Kendall, R. G. Blue, Jack Grady, Geo. Benson, P. L. Dishman, D. C. Kinsey, T. W. Roberson, Boyd London, Elmo Lawhon and the hosts.

Help Get More Soaps, BRING IN USED FATS!

This country is short of industrial fats, mighty short. The supply is so low that the government must decide how much fat can be released to make soap; how much for other peacetime goods. The shortage would be even worse without the wonderful help American housewives are giving by turning in used fats.

Keep saving to tide us over this emergency. It will help you get more soaps and other products you want so much.

OKAY, UNCLE SAM, IF SAVING USED FATS HELPS MAKE MORE SOAPS COUNT ME IN!

BRING USED FATS TO ME JUST AS SOON AS YOU HAVE A CANFUL.

LOTS MORE FAT SCRAPS TO MELT DOWN, NOW. JIMMY, NOW THE SALVAGE CAN FILLS UP THESE DAYS!

AND THE BUTCHER GIVES ME 4¢ FOR EVERY POUND I BRING IN!

Where there's fat—there's soap
