Local elections draw big turnout

Hereford and Deaf Smith County voters Saturday turned out in large numbers to reelect two incumbents to the Hereford City Commission, name one incumbent and two new trustees to the Hereford School Board, and select one incumbent and two new directors to the Deaf Smith Hospital Board.

The voter turnout in all three elections at the Community Center were larger than last year, with some increase probably due to the local option election which drew a record number of county voting precincts. Some of the voters may have skipped the local elections, however, due to long waits at the boxes in the Community Center.

John Fuston and Bill Townsend won election to the school board. Fuston led the field of four candidates with 1,302 votes, and Townsend won reelection with 1,096 votes. Bob Baker polled 993 votes, and incumbent P.C. Hoelscher trailed with 893.

The school district also had its first election in a newly-formed single-member district. Jo Garcia won that seat with 335 votes to 131 for Ronnie Nunley. The district was formed to include a majority of minority voters. The school reported a total of 2,587 ballots cast.

There were eight candidates seeking the three seats on the hospital board, and incumbent Frank Zinser Jr. led the way with 967 votes. Voters also picked John Gilliland (736) and Margie Ford (668). Incumbent Deward Roberston was next with 627. Others: Charles Threewit 451, Maureen Brown 360, Elaine Clark 360, and Lois Turpen 219. A total of 1,597 votes were cast, compared to 1,154 a year ago.

Two incumbents were returned to office for the city commission. Emory Brownlow retained the Place 4 seat by turning back challenger Dwayne Kimbell, 1,066 to 533. R.W. (Bud) Eades drew 1,302 votes running unopposed for Place 3. A total of 1,605 votes were cast in the city election, compared to 1,131 a year ago.

Grand Jury indicts 11

The Deaf Smith County grand jury indicted eleven persons when it met last week, two of whom are still at large. Charges of driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense, were returned against Alfred Abrego Casarez, Gordon Boyd Kerr and Jose Eliseo Ruiz.

Henry Casias was indicted on an aggravated robbery charge, while Michael Alanoin Hiltbrandt was charged with theft over $750 and under $20,000.

Also indicted for theft over $750 and under $20,000 were Juan Garcia and Francisco Rodriguez, while John Thomas Valdez and Freddy Valdez are accused of theft over $20 and under $200. That case was transferred to Deaf Smith County Court.

The district attorney's office did not release the names of the two persons still at large.

Seven burglaries cleared

At least seven burglaries were cleared up when Hereford police arrested three juveniles on Friday.

Lieutenant Vernon Hope, detective with the force, said the three boys, all 13 years of age, were arrested near a local bowling alley. He reported the boys confessed to the crimes and were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Hope said most of the thefts had occurred from cars, although one occurred at a locked storage building.

A surveillance was set up at the bowling alley on Friday night after several thefts were reported from cars at that location.

Hope said the boys were released to the custody of their parents.

Portable school signs illegal

Portable school signs which have been used on centerlines of two highways in Hereford are illegal and have been removed, it was reported Monday by City Mgr. Dudley Bayne.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation notified the city that portable school zone signs placed on U.S. 385 and Park Avenue are in violation of the Texas Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways.

"Portable school signs shall not be placed within the roadway at any time," is the reading from the manual. Since the manual is the law and legal authority, stated the department letter, "we must request the removal of the existing portable signs from the roadway."

Bayne said since the state has brought this law to the city's attention, the signs have been removed on US-385 at Moreman, FM-1085 (Park Avenue) at Knight Street, and FM-1085 in the vicinity of Campbell Avenue. The city will not use the portable signs on any streets, he added.

"We have been using them in the belief it made the school zones safer," said Bayne, "not realizing that it was in violation of the 1980 ruling."

Commissioners seek library grant with Amarillo consortium

BY O.G. NIEMAN

Deaf Smith County Commissioners moved through an 11-item agenda between 10 a.m. and noon Monday during a regular session of the court, and the action included:

--Approved the master plan of the Hereford Sesquicentennial Committee and appointed Bill Johnson as chairman.

--Approved Librarian Diane Pierson's request for the county to join in a Title 3 grant application to be submitted by the Harrington Library Consortium.

--Agreed to a Texas Historical Commission proposal that the proposed jail addition be approved with the stipulation that no future additions or structures would be built on the public square.

--Approved purchase of carpet for the Adult Probation Office at a cost of approximately $1,800.

In other business, the court agreed to consider a proposal from Clark Electric Co. of Lubbock for a shared savings program on reduction of energy costs; approved bills; and amended an order on the appointment of election judges and alternates.

Buffalo Lake board will replace Thomas

The Buffalo Lake Water District Board will discuss filling a vacancy on the board, when it meets tonight at 7:30 in the Potter County Commissioner's Courtroom.

The board determined at its March meeting that it would be best to find someone else to fill the spot when occupied by Garth Thomas of Hereford. Thomas has filed as a candidate for state representative and there was some question as to his eligibility to remain on the board.

The board will also hear a status report from the Bureau of Reclamation and meet with Ellis Klett, assistant regional director of the Southwest District of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The board expects to appoint a treasurer, establish a bank account and discuss a proposed budget during the regular monthly meeting.

supporting Hereford as a "commemorative" city and to approve Johnson as chairman for local celebration plans for the 1986 observance. The city will be asked to support the committee, also.

Johnson explained that the Sesquicentennial marks 150 years of independence for Texas. Plans are being made to have Hereford "twinned" with Bordertown, South Africa, as that nation also observes "Jubilee 150."

The need of new carpet for the adult probation office was previously discussed, and two local bids were received. Simmons Carpet had a bid of $1,867.20 and C&W Tile & Carpet bid $1,800 even. The court authorized the adult probation officer to make the selection.

The court and DA Roland Saul attended a meeting March 26 in Austin with the Texas Historical Commission to explain the jail expansion plans. The THC is charged with preserving courthouse architecture in the state. State Sen. Bill Sarpalius also attended the meeting.

One of the concerns of the THC was the potential danger that the jail facilities may expand periodically and encroach more and more upon the public square. The Jail Commission told THC that the new facility under discussion would serve for the next 25 to 30 years.

Commissioners also told the historical commission that they felt no more expansion on the site would be needed, and that alternate sites for jail expansion were ruled out because of economic reasons.

By a margin of 218 votes, 52 percent of the total votes cast, Hereford and most of Deaf Smith County apparently will have legal sale of alcoholic beverages for the first time in 83 years.

Voters made the decision Saturday in a local option election that drew a whopping 5,100 voters to the polls—about 58.7 percent of the registered voters in the county. At question was whether or not to allow the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only.

The unofficial tally was 2,659 for the issue, 2,441 against. The voter turnout indicated the great interest in the local option election, since about 20 to 30 percent usually turn out for a general election.

The vote totals are unofficial until Deaf Smith County commissioners certify the election. They have set Thursday at 10 a.m. to canvass the election returns, but this is expected to be a formality.

It was the first wet-dry election held in the county since 1956. Voters defeated the proposal to sell package liquor by a 2-1 margin at that time. A total of 2,802 votes were cast and the county was 1,903 against and only 872 for the issue. The county had a saloon prior to 1901, but voters prohibited the sale of liquor by 19 votes in the 1901 election. There was no record of the total votes cast.

A breakdown of the box totals indicates the wet forces claimed their margin in voting precincts 1, 2 and 5, as these three larger boxes favored the issue by 292 votes. The Commissioners' room (5) had a 167-vote margin for the wets; the Bull Barn (1) showed a 103 margin, and the Community Center (2) had a 22-vote margin.

La Plata had the biggest vote total with 1,108 voters, but the dry forces had only a 6-vote margin. Northwest Elementary (11) showed a 50-vote margin for the "drys," with a total of 446 votes cast in that box.

The election was held for Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 in Deaf Smith County, but it covers almost the entire county. Precincts 2, 3 and 4 are placed in about one and one-fourth sections of land in the northwest corner of the county.

Art Reinauer, local farmer and businessman, initiated the local option election when he and supporters obtained more than 1,570 petition signatures to call for an election. Reinauer, who is growing grapes, said he wanted to establish a winery in the county but it had to have legal sales before he could get a permit.

From the beginning, Reinauer maintained that "liquor is not the issue, it's ag economics." He claimed the proposal would help ag-related firms and bring the city needed tax revenues.

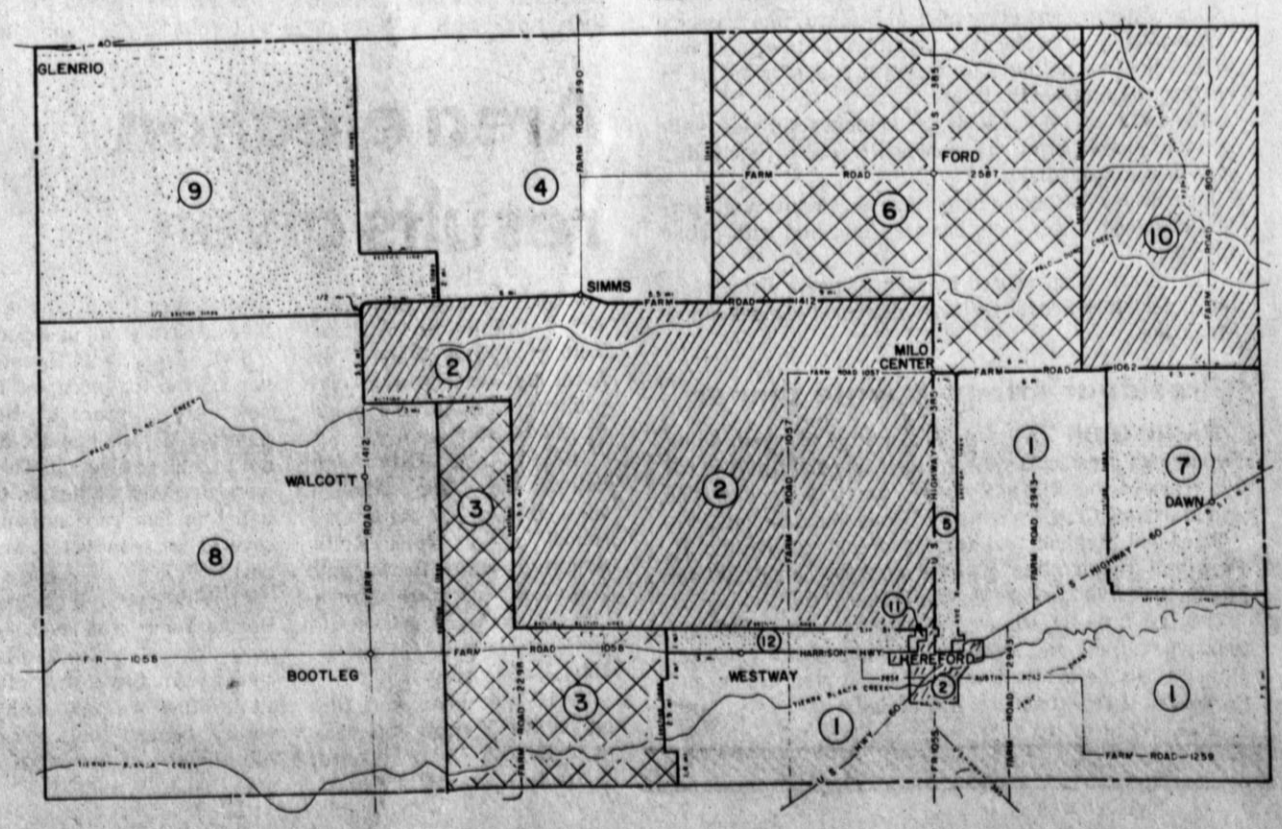

The Citizens Against Package Stores, headed by the Rev. Ron Cook, claimed in a public forum and in advertising that the talk of economic growth was a "smoke screen" created by the proponents. Cook said "alcoholism will be delivered" with the establishment of liquor stores. He said defeat of the measure would show "character, class and Christ-likeness" for the county.

A check with the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission office in Amarillo Monday revealed that applications for package store licenses will be accepted when the election is certified. Then it would take about a month before anyone has a license is approved, said the clerk.

Applicants must be residents of Texas for three years. If the applicant is a Texas corporation, officers must be residents for three years. Besides other factors to be scrutinized by the state, applicants must show they have an "adequate" building.

County Clerk David Ruland said Monday that the law requires one year passage of time before the same issue could be called for an election again.

Grandmothers freed from jail

SHERMAN, Texas (AP) — Two grandmothers who spent five days in jail for refusing to tell a county judge where another woman had hidden her money say they were standing up for what is right and would do it again.

Evelyn Hertzog and Dorothy Pauline Lindsay, both 65 and from nearby Denison, were sent to jail Wednesday after being held in contempt of court by County Judge Lloyd Perkins when they refused to tell where Mary Ellen Bader, 55, of Sherman, had hidden an estimated $45,000.

Mrs. Bader's son was declared temporary guardian of her estate after he convinced the judge that she was mentally incompetent.

Mrs. Hertzog is Mrs. Bader's sister. Mrs. Lindsay is a friend. They were released from jail Monday on the order of a federal judge.

"I feel my sister has not been justly treated," Mrs. Hertzog said after she was released. "... If it was just and right, I would do it again. I'm sorry, but they got up against someone that does what is right. I am not stubborn. I stand for the law of God."

U.S. District Judge William Steger in Tyler ordered the women released. They posted a $500 personal recognizance bond each and appeared before U.S. Magistrate Roger Sanders, who set an April 27 hearing on the case.

Few Mexican tourists expected

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Hard economic times are expected to keep most Mexican tourists at home during Holy Week this year and South Texas businesses will miss the thousands of shoppers and visitors who once made Texas their spring vacation retreat.

Devaluations of the peso, inflation and a campaign by the Mexican government to encourage citizens to spend the traditional holiday at Mexican resorts are expected to limit travel this spring for the third year in a row, local tourist officials said. Holy Week begins Sunday.

From the 1940s through 1982 Holy Week trade made a big impact on the Corpus Christi economy. Before the economic crisis in Mexico, between 6,000 and 8,000 Mexicans annually retreated to enjoy the sun, surf, fishing and shopping in Corpus Christi.

But tourists who could buy a dollar for 26 pesos during Holy Week 1981 must now have 175 pesos for the same dollar and most can no longer afford the luxury of a Texas vacation.

The local tourist bureau kept its budget for advertising to attract Mexican travelers to a minimum this year.

"We have just lost that market," said Larry Tucker, president of the tourist bureau. "We don't anticipate any big holiday exodus. It is just not business market for us now."

Judy Fort, the tourist bureau's executive staff director, said the board had considered spending advertising funds in the Mexico edition of Reader's Digest and in major Mexican newspapers if economic conditions improved. They didn't and no ads were placed.

Call Koontz, Chamber president, sounded a bit more optimistic.

"We are not looking for any big crowds. It may be better than last year, but I know it won't be anywhere near what it was three years ago," he said.

Cool, rainy weather predicted

Showers and thunderstorms developing in West Texas early today were expected to spread across the northern and eastern parts of the state by evening, with some severe activity possible in East Texas, forecasters predicted.

At dawn, scattered rain was reported between Wichita Falls and Abilene, set off by a complex frontal system that accompanied a surface low pressure area moving rapidly eastward across the state.

The National Weather Service reported early today the frontal system consisted of a warm front lying east-west across southern Oklahoma, and a cold front pushing southward over the High Plains and extending from the low center in the Panhandle southwestward to El Paso. In from the low center in the Panhandle southwestward to El Paso. In addition, the NWS said, a dry line reached southward from the low center into the Texas Hill Country. An intense upper-level disturbance also was crossing the Panhandle this morning, supporting the low, the weather service said.

Despite some low cloudiness and fog along the upper Texas coast, fair skies were reported across most of South and Central Texas, with variable cloudiness in West Texas.

West Texas: Clear tonight through Wednesday. Cool tonight, warmer Wednesday. Lows tonight mid-30s Panhandle to upper 40s Concho Valley and lower 50s Big Bend. Highs Wednesday mid-70s Panhandle to upper 80s upper Pecos Valley and mid-90s Big Bend Valleys.

Sisney receives honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan has given an apple to the teacher — a golden apple to Sherleen Sue Sisney, winner of the Teacher of the Year award.

In a Rose Garden ceremony Monday, Reagan told the teacher of history and economics at Ballard High School in Louisville, Ky., that she held "a critically important place in the life of our nation ... because you shape the future by shaping the adults of the future."

About 20 of Mrs. Sisney's students attended the ceremony and after its conclusion each received a presidential handshake.

Mrs. Sisney has been active in the development of a project designed to get local business involved with public schools.

The award is sponsored by Encyclopedia Britannica, the Chief State School Officers and Good Housekeeping Magazine.

President attend private dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's three living Republican presidents rubbed elbows for the first time in 2½ years at the 35th anniversary party of the Chowder and Marching Club — a society of House Republicans.

President Reagan and former presidents Gerald R. Ford and Richard Nixon all attended the private dinner Monday night at the Fort McNair Officers' Club.

The last time the three were together was in October 1981 when they and former President Jimmy Carter gathered at the White House before Carter, Nixon and Ford attended the funeral of Anwar Sadat.

With the narrowing of the potential sites in Texas to nine square miles, the ever present threat of the Panhandle becoming the site for the nation's first high level nuclear waste repository has taken another step toward becoming reality.

The narrowing of the sites is the first of several actions by the Department of Energy which promises to make this a busy year for all of us. Though there are many pressing issues and activities to be discussed, three events are of immediate importance.

First, the Texas Department of Agriculture will be doing studies in Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties in coming weeks to assess the socio-economic impacts of a high level nuclear waste repository on these counties. Next week there will be a small, random sample telephone poll to determine the workability of the main questionnaire, which will then be taken by mail and telephone in the near future. Whether you are opposed to or in favor of the project, your cooperation with those conducting the study will be greatly appreciated.

Second, the Governor's Nuclear Waste Programs Office will be holding hearings in Hereford on April 26. The purpose of this hearing is to solicit comments from citizens on the narrowing of the potential sites in the Palo Duro Basin. The comments will assist the Governor's Office and the State of Texas in preparing the state's comments to the Department of Energy.

For further information and in preparation for this hearing the "supportive" document on site narrowing, "Identification of Sites Within the Palo Duro Basin Technical report Feb. 1984," is available in the library.

The third important event is an additional hearing to be conducted by the State Legislative Committee on Hazardous Waste. The hearing is to afford Panhandle residents the opportunity to express any and all concerns they have regarding the possibility of a high level nuclear waste repository being located in Texas.

This hearing will be held in Canyon, April 27th at 6:00 p.m. in the University's activity center ballroom. Unlike the DOE hearings, the state seems to be genuinely interested in listening and responding to our questions and apprehensions.

The DOE Batelle and State of Texas are not the only people who have been busy. POWER held its second annual board meeting, March 29th. The directors elected for this year's term are Tonya Kleuskens, president, Chip Formby, vice-president, Margaret Marshall, secretary, along with Linda Brown, treasurer; Carl Kleuskens, Ralph Diller and Georgia Auckerman. The directors and active members continue to present programs for local groups, prepare comments on DOE documents, provide educational materials, participate in an information network with the other states under consideration for the waste repository and have gone to Austin to establish contracts with our state legislature. An attorney hired by Margaret Marshall and STAND, Alice Stand, and technical consultant Dan Hancock continue to review DOE documents and monitor DOE activities to be prepared for any appropriate litigation. Due to the necessity of retaining legal council, POWER continues to solicit funds. Those interested or who have any questions are encouraged to contact one of the directors.

Defensive driving course scheduled

Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau members are encouraged to complete a defensive driving course to be offered later this month in Hereford.

Jane Hill, farm bureau secretary, said the classes will be held at 7 p.m. on April 25 and 26 in the county office, 1306 W. Park Ave. Only farm bureau members are eligible and the enrollment fee is $15.

The eight-topic course in the DDC program utilizes films and discussions in teaching accident prevention.

There are no age requirements and no test of driving is involved.

Those who complete the course may apply to their automobile insurance company for a 10 percent discount on bodily injury, property damage, medical payments and collision coverages where those coverages are afforded.

Hill said registrations are being taken in advance and there is limited enrollment. Call the FB office, 364-1070, for questions or to enroll.

COUNTY

ed a letter from the THC last week which stated the THC would approve the general idea of the project, "due to the fact that the present jail is a modern facility and the addition will be limited to the present proposed expansion."

A representative of Clark Electric of Lubbock presented a plan to reduce energy costs of county buildings with use of micro-processor switching. He said there would be no cost for installing equipment, and the county would sign a shared-savings program for six years. The company would receive half of the savings realized by the county. Commissioners wanted more information on the plan and the formula for figuring the savings. Clark Electric's representative will return in a month with a more complete study and estimate of savings that are projected.

To set the records straight on election judges and alternates, the court approved an amended order which showed Carl Straffus as alternate election judge for precinct 6; Mrs. H.D. Fowler as alternate judge for precinct 10, and Charles Watson, judge, and Theda Seiver, alternate, for box 12.

All four commissioners and judge were present for the meeting. Also attending were Alex Schroeter, auditor; Ophelia Estrada, Chip Formby, Troy Don Moore, and O.G. Nieman.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, April 10, the 101st day of 1984. There are 265 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On April 10, 1963, the nuclear-powered submarine Thresher failed to surface after a deep dive off Massachusetts' Cape Cod, and 129 lives were lost in the worst submarine disaster in U.S. history.

On this date: Ten years ago: Golda Meir announced her resignation as prime minister of Israel.

Thought for today: "The man who makes no mistakes does not usually make anything." — E.J. Phelps, American lawyer and diplomat (1822-1900).

McBride speaks to Rotary Club

Juston McBride, Democratic candidate for State Representative, 86th District, was guest speaker at the Hereford Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meeting Monday in the Community Center.

McBride, former longtime county agent, outlined his stand on some of the issues—including education, highways, nuclear waste dump, and a state water plan.

In other club business, President Aaron Hutto presented Mark Landrum with a plaque on being named "Rotarian of the Quarter." Students of the Nine Weeks from Hereford High were also recognized at the meeting.

"Surely there is some better place to put a high-level nuclear waste repository," McBride told Rotarians. "Our rich agricultural land and the underground water factor should not be placed in jeopardy."

"Thirty years of wrestling with ranching and rural real estate interests in three diverse Texas counties have convinced me of the need for a longrange water plan," said McBride.

As a former school teacher, McBride emphasizes the need for improvements in public education. "Texas school children deserve more quality teachers than our present salary schedule attracts to the profession," he stated. He thinks the next Legislature "must address the question of performance-based evaluation of educators."

He also urged listeners to guard against blindly "pushing all vocational programs out of the public school curriculum." McBride asserted that he is able "to devote 100 percent of my time, energy and experience to the job of representing District 86 folks."

LOCAL ROUNDUP

Chemical People to meet

"The Sensible Use of Medications" will be the topic for the April meeting of the local Chemical People chapter tonight at 7:30 in Hereford Community Center.

Dr. Duffy McBrayer and David Burns, pharmacist, will be the guest speakers for the program. In addition to the speakers, two members of the Deaf Smith County 4-H Club are to present a demonstration concerning drug abuse.

All interested persons are invited to attend. Chemical People is a national organization which is trying to prevent drug and alcohol abuse among young Americans.

Police make four arrests

Hereford police made four arrests for driving while intoxicated and two for public intoxication over the weekend. Two of those arrests may have resulted from a report of harassment made to the department by an 11-year-old girl.

The child told police on Saturday afternoon that two men in a yellow car tired to give she and a friend a ride and offered them beer. Police later that afternoon arrested two men who fit the girl's description, the driver for DWI and a passenger in his car for public intoxication.

Other arrests made since Friday include three for driving while license suspended and one for drunk in control of a motor vehicle. Police picked up two persons on outstanding warrants.

A bicycle was reported stolen from the high school on Saturday, while a family fight was broken up on Sunday. No charges were filed.

On Monday, police talked to a high school girl who said another young woman had threatened her and tried to start fights with her. No charges were filed in that case, nor in a domestic argument investigated Monday by police.

Hereford volunteer firemen had the weekend off, with no fires reported to the department since Friday night.

Meet Your Neighbor

By LINDA CAUDLE
Lifestyles Editor

Sam and Celeste Hagaman are enjoying the slower pace and leisurely lifestyle afforded by a smaller, agriculture-oriented town after residing in a city of approximately 250,000 for a number of years.

The couple and their two children moved here in February from Shreveport, La., where Sam had been stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

One of the first things the Hagamans noticed was that it wasn't necessary to leave 30 minutes early to go anywhere, and they also became aware that people generally had more time to visit.

"We like Hereford. The people seem interested in doing something for their town," noted Celeste. She has attended Hereford Newcomers Club and said that she was impressed by the friendliness of this organization, which seeks to help new residents get acquainted in the local community.

Sam is presently employed as a soil conservationist with the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service in Hereford. He likes the variety in his new position and enjoys working outdoors, having been raised on a farm near Bay City, Texas.

He was employed by Dow Chemical before going into the service, and spent one year of his military service in Korea. He earned degrees in agriculture chemistry and agriculture business from Wharton Junior College and Louisiana Tech University, and has also done work toward a master's degree.

Celeste, a native of Kenedy, Texas, was raised in Ohio and also in Marshall, Texas. She has a degree in speech therapy from East Texas State University and has done substitute teaching at the elementary school level.

"I'd like to go back and get my master's before I get back into teaching, but I want to wait until Marguerite is a little older," she stated.

Barnes tours with choir
Jeffrey Barnes, a junior from Hereford, took part in a recent six-state tour conducted by the MacMurray College Concert Choir of Jacksonville, Ill.

Barnes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes of 344 Douglas. He is majoring in music.

The annual spring tour included concerts at churches in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey. The 40 voice ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Richard Hansen, associate professor of music at the college, has performed in recent years before audiences in more than 35 states.

Marguerite, who is 3½ years old, goes to day school two days a week and her brother, Chesley, who is almost 6 years old, is in the kindergarten at Northwest School.

Celeste is involved in a women's study group at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, where her family attends. She has also been preparing to help instruct English at the School of Languages, part of the outreach program of the church.

She enjoys doing needlepoint and is hoping to make decorative covers for the kneelers at church, like those she made for her church in Shreveport.

Celeste also likes to cook, but admitted that her real hobby is the family's black Labrador retriever, Merlin.

She takes the dog for walks each morning and evening, enjoying the exercise this provides.

She and her children are enjoying their new home computer, which is a familiar instrument for Sam, who was a computer programmer in the service.

Send three to state regionals

HHS varsity girls place second in District 3-5A

Fatigued Runner

HHS sophomore Selma Moreno receives comfort from some of her teammates after running the 3,200-meter run. Moreno qualified for girls state track regionals by finishing second in both the 3,200 and 1,600-meter runs.

By STAN GODEK
Sports Editor

Amarillo High ran away with first place at Saturday's Girls District 3-5A Track meet and Palo Duro High ran out of a second-place finish.

The Lady Dons were disqualified in the 400-meter relay finals which enabled the Hereford girls to capture second in the team standings.

Palo Duro evidently passed the baton before the exchange zone and were disqualified out of 20 points and a first-place finish by officials.

"It's kind of a tough break for them (Palo Duro), especially in a district meet." It cost those girls a trip to the state regionals besides second place, according to HHS girls varsity coach Martha Emerson.

Final team totals indicate the Dons would have finished with some 98 points but Hereford's 88 is ten better than what PDHS ended up with.

Emerson said she was pleased with the way her tracksters competed as a team.

"I think our girls put out a super effort ... They tried very hard (even though) we knew realistically we couldn't catch Amarillo High.

The day meant more to the first two finishers in each event as they advance to the state regional meet April 18 and 19 in Lubbock.

Hereford will be sending three girls: Junior Lisa Redmon won in the 100 and 200-meter dashes; Bernice Thomas won the discus; and sophomore Selma Moreno came in second in the 1,600 and 3,200-meter runs.

Diana Devers missed a trip to regionals by less than six inches to Vanessa Wells of Palo Duro who passed Devers in the shot on her third and final attempt.

Two records were broke Saturday and both belong to Brenda Moore of Amarillo High. Moore broke the record in the 800-meter run (2:14.84) set by Sue Smith of Pampa (2:18.9) in 1977.

Miss Moore also ran a 5:21.35 1,600-meter run which broke the old mark of 5:26.9 set by Amarillo's Lori Scott in 1978.

"We can't be disappointed, we finished fifth in district last year," Emerson added.

HHS had two winners in the junior varsity division. Donann Cummings won the 100-meter hurdles and Nancy Moreno took first in the 800-meter run.

Other high Hereford finishes for JV included Terry Valdez second in the 3,200-meter run; Ana Villegas second in the 100-meter hurdles; Cummings second in the high jump and Moreno third in the 200-meter dash.

As far as track practice for the HHS girls goes, Emerson said, it will continue but with fewer people.

Amarillo High wins 3-5A golf championship

Amarillo High wrapped up the girls District 3-5A golf championship here this past weekend.

The Sandies shot an 18-hole team total of 347 at Hereford Municipal Golf Course which gave AHS a final team total of 1466 for four district meets.

The Sandies dominated the district this year by qualifying both its A and B teams to the state regional tournament.

The AHS B team shot 399 Friday for a total of 1,627, beating Tascosa for second place on the season by 15 strokes.

The top two district medalists are Sandies. Nancy Avery shot 85 Friday to win the honor with a 348 score this season. Her teammate, Dee Davidson placed second (85, 359).

The Hereford girls low golfer was Whitney Drake who hit 94 Friday. Julie Velt followed with 99 and Debra Schroeter and Laura Moore added 109 and 110 apiece.

HHS finished seventh out of nine teams for Friday's 18 holes and did not fare too well in the final district team standings.

Friday's meet concluded the HHS girls season.

Major League roundup

A's win in late innings over Jays

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - The Toronto Blue Jays have the late-inning blues. Oakland A's Manager Steve Boros remembers the feeling well.

"We came from behind in a lot of games last season and let leads slip away," Boros recalled Monday night. "Now, we feel we can come from behind and then wrap the games up."

Carney Lansford hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning off Toronto's Dennis Lamp, and the A's beat Toronto 4-3 in the only American League game of the day. An error by second baseman Damaso Garcia got the Blue Jays in trouble.

It was the third come-from-behind victory for Boros' club, off to a 5-1 start and leading the Western Division. Lansford, missing from the A's lineup a year ago because of the death of an infant son, has collected seven runs batted in, including three game-winning RBIs, this year.

"These kind of games can give a club a lot of confidence," said Lansford, who singled home a run in the sixth off Toronto starter Jim Clancy.

The Blue Jays could use some rebuilding of confidence right now.

"We've played six great games and lost three of them, two in the eighth inning and one in the tenth," Manager Bobby Cox said. "That error tonight was the first we've made this season."

On Sunday in Anaheim, reliever Roy Lee Jackson tried to preserve a 3-1 lead for Toronto starter Jim Acker, but Reggie Jackson and Doug DeCinces belted homers in the eighth and the California Angels downed the Blue Jays 4-3.

On Monday night, Toronto pulled into a 2-2 tie when two runners scored on an infield single by Garcia in the seventh. George Bell greeted Oakland reliever Bill Caudill with a homer in the eighth and the Blue Jays led 3-2.

Caudill, who had 26 saves for Seattle in each of the last two seasons, earned saves his first two times out in an Oakland uniform.

"We know he can't do it every time out, but he's going to do it nine times out of ten," said Boros, who sent the hard-throwing right-hander in with an opportunity for a victory Monday night.

"Hopefully, on that tenth time when he doesn't come through, someone will come along and pick him up like Carney did tonight."

Caudill, 1-0, was most grateful, and he faced only three batters in the ninth, striking out pinch hitter Ernie Whitt to end the game.

"Bell got the better of me this time, but we've got guys with unlimited capabilities on this team," Caudill said. "We've got 25 guys picking each other up, the mark of a good team."

"I know it's awfully early to talk about, but I think we've got a chance to win a pennant. I've been saying that since the start of spring training."

But, as Manager Jim Frey put it, "If I hadn't read about it in the newspaper, I would have had no hint of it."

Reuss, making his first start of the season, scattered seven hits over 7 2-3 innings. He walked none and struck out four Monday night as the Dodgers snapped a three-game losing streak, 4-2.

"We've been hitting the ball well," Frey said, "but Reuss had good stuff, he shut us down."

In the only other National League game, Cincinnati beat Montreal 9-6.

Catcher Mike Scioscia, who broke a 1-1 tie with a bases-loaded single in the fourth inning, said his batterymate looked unchanged.

"I see no difference in the way Jerry Reuss is throwing the ball than the way he threw it the last couple of years," Scioscia said. "He threw hard for a long time. I'd say he proved to everyone he's 100 percent."

Reuss wouldn't say that, but he did say, "I got the ball where I wanted, and that's the key for me."

Reuss was lifted in the eighth inning after allowing an infield single to rookie outfielder Henry Cotto which scored Gary Woods, who had doubled.

Tom Niedenfuer took over, struck out two of the four batters he faced and got a double play ball to end the game and claim his first save of the season.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second on a double by former Dodger Ron Cey and a run-scoring single by Jody Davis. But the Dodgers tied it when Pedro Guerrero, just 1-17 to start the season, led off with a homer off Chuck Rainey, 1-1.

Scioscia's game-winner followed singles by Ken Landreaux and Mike Marshall and a walk to Bill Russell. Steve Sax singled, stole his second base of the game and scored on a seventh-inning single by Terry Whitfield.)

Reds 9, Expos 6
Nick Esasky drove in three runs and Duane Walker belted a two-run homer in his first at-bat of the season as Cincinnati hammered five Montreal pitchers for 14 hits.

The host Reds scored four runs in the first inning off Bill Gullickson, 0-2, with two outs. Esasky's double drove in two runs and Gullickson, 0-2.

Hereford to play baseball today

If Mother Nature allows it, the HHS boys varsity baseball team is scheduled to host District 3-5A leader Lubbock Monterey here at 4 p.m.

Monterey is 8-0 in the district race while Hereford is 5-3 after dropping a 9-6 decision to Plainview Saturday.

"We made so many mistakes that we had not been making... we did not hit the ball well," a disappointed varsity baseball coach Don Long said Saturday after the game.

back. This race has a long way from being over," Long said.

Although the Plainsmen may not be invincible, they have been one of the best high school baseball teams in the state of Texas the past 25 years.

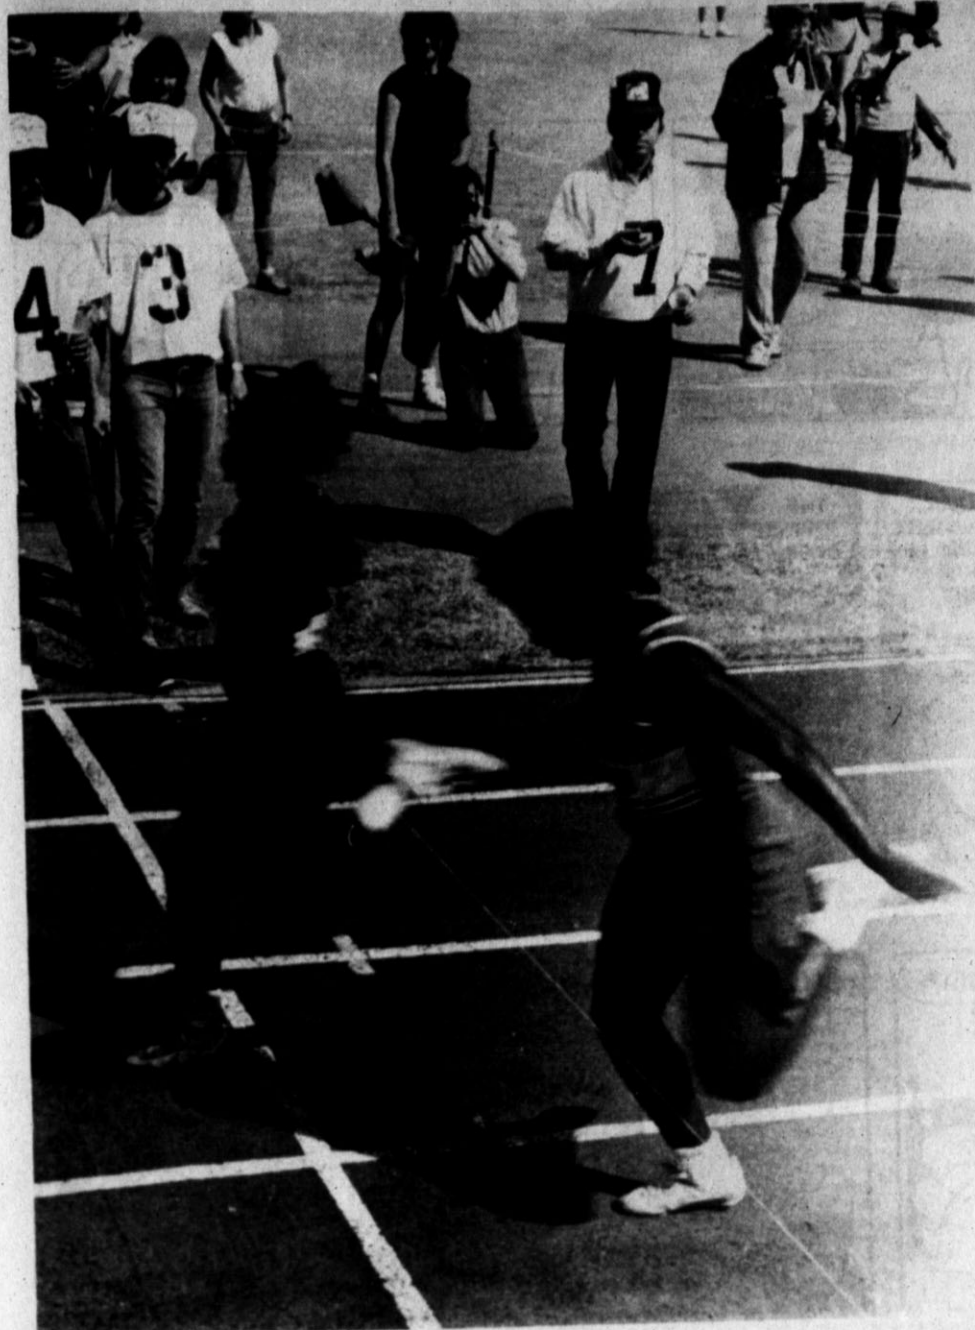

MHS coach Bobby Meagle has won about 80 percent of his games and 80 percent of the 3-5A district championships since he began coaching the Plainsmen 25 years ago.

Plainview, at 7-1, is now in sole possession of second place in the race to the playoffs. Lubbock Coronado is tied with Hereford for third place.

Long today's game against Monterey is a big one and the Herd can win the game if it plays excellent ball.

"People are starting to score on them (Monterey). They're not invincible. Some team just might sneak up and beat them, I hope it's us...We've got to bounce

When the Herd met Monterey earlier in the season, the Plainsmen shut down HHS 9-1 in Lubbock.

Fast As A Blur

Just six-hundredths of a second separate Hereford's Lisa Redmon (left lane) and Annie Heager of Palo Duro in Saturday's girls District 3-5A 100-yard dash finals.

Redmon is shown crossing the tape at 12.22 while Heager registered a time of 12.28 seconds. Both girls advance to state track regionals.

Rose wants to set hit record soon

CINCINNATI (AP) - Pete Rose, always the competitor, would have liked to top the 4,000-hit mark with a first-week hitting tear.

But opening week brought Rose just five of the necessary 10 hits, and the Montreal Expos star returned to his hometown Monday hoping for the next-best thing: reaching the lofty 4,000-hit mark in the city where his name became synonymous with baseball.

"First of all, I would have liked to have gotten it in our first two games in Houston," Rose said Monday, before getting hits number 3,996 and 3,997 in a 9-6 loss to the Cincinnati Reds. "Naturally, I'd like to get it here.

Coupe gives presentation to club

President Joyce Ritter presided over Veleda Study Club's meeting held recently in the home of Norma Walden.

Jean Rutherford introduced Joan Coupe from the Hereford Travel Center, who gave a slide presentation on New Zealand and took members on a "tour" beginning at the northern end of the island and traveling south.

Ms. Coupe explained that New Zealand is comprised of two islands and has a population of only 3.2 million. It was first settled by the Maori people and is the home of the largest Polynesian colony today. The country has many geysers and volcanoes, and many of the land formations are due to the actions of glaciers, she said.

After completing the picture tour, Ms. Coupe answered questions about tours to other locations and told how a travel agency assists in making plans and reservations.

During the business session, Donna Lindeman, Jean Rutherford and Marcella McLain were appointed to serve on the nominating committee by Ms. Ritter. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and the treasurer gave a report.

The club collect was recited and members answered roll call with helpful packing tips. The club discussed moving the meeting night to the first and third Monday. A vote will be taken at the next meeting. The April 16 meeting was moved to Marjorie Lasiter's home and the installation supper is to be held in the home of Donna Lindeman.

The hostess served refreshments to Marcella Brady, Juanita Brown, Janice Brownlow, Francis Crume, Betty Gilbert, Patricia Weldon, Margaret Zinser, and Mrs. Lasiter, Lindeman, McLain, Ritter and Rutherford.

Ann Landers

Obligation fulfilled

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please consider publishing this letter for the benefit of all the parents who have grown children and are expected to continue to help them financially all through college into adulthood and marriage. My husband and I looked forward to the time when our children would be on their own. We postponed trips we longed to take, didn't redecorate our home or refurbish and passed up many luxuries because we felt we should spend the money on our children, instead.

and married. All three need houses, cars and better clothes. Cars and better clothes. Unless we help they won't be able to have these things.

I am afraid one day we will be too old and not have the health or energy to do the things we have always wanted to do.

Is it right for us to take the attitude, "Someday your time will come—today belongs to us?" Or should we give up our dreams and try to help them achieve theirs?—Anonymous in Atlanta

If you and your husband sacrifice your dreams in order to give your adult children homes, cars and clothes, you are foolish. Dreams should be earned. You have earned yours. Now let your children earn theirs.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was dumbfounded to read the following line in your column: "When the girl you kiss goodnight after the first date gives you as good a kiss as you gave her, you were not the first one there, Mister." That is as sexist a remark as I have seen in print in 10 years.

Obviously you believe it is OK for a male to be worldly and experienced, but a woman had better not be (or should hide the fact that she is), lest she be considered damaged merchandise.

Don't you believe it's time women were permitted the same sexual freedom men have been enjoying for centuries?—Outraged in Virginia

DEAR OUT: You would not believe the volume of angry mail generated by that line. In retrospect it was about as funny as a five-alarm fire in an old folks' home. My apologies to all who were offended.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has always traveled a lot due to his job. I'm sure he has been seeing a woman in another state for quite some time. Since August he has been away from home 10 days out of every month. I have reason to believe he has married her. Will you answer the following questions?

Am I his legal wife or is she? Can he be prosecuted by the law? Am I legally responsible for any bills they may run up together?

Please reply in the newspaper. Our children have no idea what has been going on, and I don't want to risk a letter in the mail.—Worried in The Rockies pastimes and join the many thousands of 4-H'ers who are already enjoying the sport of bike camping and 4-H bicycle clubs.

DEAR ROCK: A man who takes a second wife while still married to the first is a bigamist. See a lawyer at once.

These young 4-H outdoorsmen have discovered a new, inexpensive and pleasant way to see the country. Riding a bicycle over familiar routes will undoubtedly reveal sights continually missed at 55 miles per hour in an automobile. Thanks to the bicycle's low speed, you will enjoy scenery you never noticed before.

Bicycling allows a whole new panorama to flow leisurely past. From a bike's "saddle," backroads which you may have been avoiding with your car can become the most pleasant of sightseeing routes. Chances are that you will find more pleasure in a 20-mile bike ride than in a 500-mile auto trip at high speed.

So, for fun and adventure, saddle up that two-wheeler and go on a family picnic or afternoon ride.

More information on the 4-H bicycle program is available at the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Other members present were Marge Bell, Charla Edwards, Jackie Fangman, Debbie Foerster, Jill Gallagher, Nancy George, Connie Matthews, Ruby Sanders, Ginger Wallace, Debbie Black, Beckie Fry, Cindy Garth, and Jan Ramaekers.

Some people wind down at day's end, but most of us have the feeling our mainsprings have broken. Whether March goes out like a lamb or lion is not nearly so important as that it goes, quickly.

COMFORTABLE CLEAN, AND CHARMING

HOME DESIGN
by Larry Farnsworth

Simplicity and practical design have made this basic house plan a long time favorite with homeowners and builders. It's clean, straight exterior lines produce a popular long low look enhanced by the attached oversized double garage. Model 1541 has 1541 square feet.

Step inside the front door to the central entry which manages to channel traffic smoothly and efficiently to all parts of the house, never intruding upon the main area of the living room or of any other room.

Now note how the country type kitchen has convenient access to the garage through the utility room and laundry. The advantages of this arrangement are multiple. Other portions of the house are protected from the most damaging type of "wear and tear" and the location of the main and second baths in a core saves plumbing installation costs.

Note too the kitchen's numerous cabinets and counter areas. There is a dining counter too, and also plenty of open, well-windowed space for table dining and other activities as desired. Space is more than generous.

The straight lines used for this design's walls, closets and cabinets, combined with other economy techniques, produce nicely low construction costs at no sacrifice whatsoever to living comfort.

Check this design thoroughly inside and out. If 1541 square feet and plenty of practical features that insure maximum living comfort are what is wanted, this plan is an excellent and happy choice indeed. Basement optional with this plan.

Call 1(800)634-3401 if interested in House Plans...or send a post card with name, address and phone number to Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89125.
