

Whitefaces Travel to Pampa Friday

AUBREY RICHBURG
... doubtful starter

By BOB NIGH
Managing Editor
The Hereford Whitefaces will be out to prove something against the Pampa Harvesters when the 1981 football season gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Harvester Field. Pampa has been less than kind to the Herd the past two seasons, handing the 'Faces embarrassing defeats.
In fact, the Harvesters have outscored Hereford 42-7 the last two seasons, and gained a 20-7 win last year over a HHS team which was favored by as much as three touchdowns.

And, while the Hereford howitzers supposedly tower over the Pampa pop guns this time around, HHS coach Don Cumpton is not taking much stock in predictions when his team hits the field tomorrow.
"We were picked to win by three touchdowns the last two years, and look what happened," Cumpton said today. "I don't think too much about predictions."
Perhaps Cumpton is a bit edgy the day before the shootout; and he has a right to be. Super Team selection Aubrey Richburg, counted on to lead Hereford both offensively and defensively this year, has been sick in bed the past couple of days, fighting a severe case of tonsillitis.

"Aubrey felt real bad Wednesday and didn't work out," Cumpton reported. "I think he felt a little better Wednesday night, but as it is right now, I'm not even sure he'll play Friday."
Richburg's 6-2, 200-lb.

frame will certainly be missed if he has to sit out the opener, but Cumpton said the Herd will still "be all right."
"We'll just have to play a little harder," he said.
Besides Richburg, tackle Barry Josseland and end Kent Finch are among the walking wounded. Josseland suffered a slight shoulder pull in practice this week, and Finch is suffering from a hairline crack in a hand.
"They're both going to the doctor today, and it's another wait and see routine in both their cases," Cumpton said.

The Harvesters have problems of their own, however, with just one starter back from last year's 6-4 team, and their probable starting quarterback having moved to Portales during the summer.
"Their main strength is defense," Cumpton said. "Their noseguard is an excellent football player, and we're going to have to control him to win."
The Harvester noseguard is returning starter Harold Landers (5-10, 200), who was a second team all district selection last year. He will be joined in the defensive front wall by tackles Ted Cain (6-3, 225) and Joe Ryzman (5-10, 186).

"Pampa does a lot of things defensively, like not lining up in the same formation a lot," Cumpton said. "That causes some problems for the blockers, and we're going to have to be really alert."
Offensively the Harvesters have a bushel basketfull of question marks, including the quarterback spot, which Derek Bigham vacated following a good spring this year. Fighting for the signal-caller position are three juniors, David Owens, Dennis Dorney, and Randy Skaggs.

"The thing we've got to do is go over there and be ready to play up to our capabilities," Cumpton added. "We can't give them anything cheap and let them get some early momentum."

News Conference Ends 11-Hour Ordeal

Iowa Prisoners Release Hostages After Riot

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — Rampaging inmates, roaming the Iowa State Penitentiary while authorities negotiated for the freedom of 15 hostages, stabbed one prisoner to death and burned two buildings, state officials say.
The insurrection began Wednesday morning when five inmates with sawed-off shotguns and homemade knives seized Security Chief James Menke and three of his assistants in the cafeteria. It ended 11 hours later after inmates were allowed to hold a news conference to air their complaints about the 142-year-old prison.
The number of hostages jumped when eight guard trainees, who locked themselves in a room in the administration building when the incident began, were taken captive by a second group of inmates, said John McCarroll, a spokesman for Gov. Robert Ray. Two nurses and another woman corrections employee were also held hostage.

While prison officials negotiated by telephone for the freedom of the hostages, 100 of the institution's 600 inmates roamed the prison grounds unchecked. Inmates threatened to kill the hostages if the roaming prisoners were forced to return to their cells, McCarroll said. An estimated 140 state troopers surrounded the prison and National Guard units were placed on standby, but firefighters did not enter the prison until the hostages were freed and order was restored.
When prison officials regained control, they found the dead inmate in the kitchen of the cafeteria building and extensive fire damage in the administration building and a cellhouse.

No damage estimate was available, but Michael Reagan, commissioner of the Iowa Department of Social Services, said the cellhouse had to be evacuated. He said the uprising "appears to have been fairly spontaneous."

The dead inmate, who had his throat slit, was identified as 31-year-old Gary Eugene Tyson. He had been in the prison since 1968 on an aggravated robbery conviction.

Though the body was found in the building where the first hostages were held, authorities did not know if he took part in the uprising.
McCarroll said he did not know how the inmates got their weapons.
The first hostage was released at 2 p.m. and the three women and one man were released two hours later.
At 6 p.m. one more hostage was released for health reasons.
Two more hostages were released in connection with the news conference at 7 p.m., where three inmates complained to reporters about prison conditions.

"There are a lot of people in there who are crazy," said Martin Sheridan of KBKB radio in Fort Madison, who attended the news conference. "They want better trained guards and improved medical care, things like that."
"I'm a defensive person," Kenneth Ray Sheffey, an inmate convicted in the 1974 slaying of a teen-ager during a Davenport supermarket burglary, said at the news conference. "I don't want to hurt anybody. But I'm willing to die today."
Sheridan said he spoke to the security chief who was taken hostage. "Menke said they were in the dining hall and Sheffey came in and had a homemade shotgun. He told them to lay down and that was it."
The original group of hostage takers released their last two captives an hour after the news conference, leaving seven trainees still being held by the second group in the administration building. One of the eight trainees had already been freed.

Two were released at 8 p.m. and the remaining five were released 90 minutes later. Order was restored by late Wednesday night.

"Most of the key people have been located and are being interviewed," said Reagan.
Ray, who was at a meeting of the Midwest Governors Conference in Wisconsin when the insurrection began, returned to Des Moines and stayed in touch by telephone with officials at the prison, which is 160 miles southeast of the capital.

Says Bentsen

More Stringent Meat Inspection Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The revelation that at least one Australian meat packing plant has shipped horse meat labeled as beef to the United States has prompted Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, to renew his cry for tougher inspection of imported meat.
New laws are needed, he said, to prevent the possibility of Australian kangaroos or horses ending up as "beef" on U.S. grocery shelves, said Bentsen, who said Wednesday he plans to introduce a bill "within the next few weeks" requiring labeling and tougher inspections of imported meat.
All Australian beef now in this country has been impounded pending further testing. In the meantime, Australian inspectors report finding kangaroo meat at the same plant that shipped horse meat to the United States.
"Secretary of Agriculture John Block is to be commended for his decision to impound and test all Australian meat in this country and to halt all imports from this one plant," Bentsen said.
"The incident makes clear, though, the need for legislation to fully protect the U.S. consumer from unknowingly being sold meat that is not up to the high quality standards that we demand and expect to get in this country."

In addition to tightening up inspection procedures, his bill also will require that all imported meat products be labeled as such all the way to the ultimate consumer, Bentsen said.
Beef produced in the United States is subject to rigorous inspections.
Even state-inspected meat packing plants are subject to unannounced federal inspections and are shut down if they don't measure up, Bentsen said. Even so, the state-inspected plants, mostly small, family-owned businesses, are forbidden from shipping their product in interstate commerce.
"By contrast, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has only 17 inspectors to supervise some 1,159 foreign meat plants that are certified to export to the United States," said Bentsen. Some of the plants are inspected only once every two years, he complained.
"The meat produced in these foreign plants, which amounts to about seven percent of our total domestic

Reapportionment Work to Begin

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court voted today to hire Mark Turnbough, Southwest Polymetrics, to begin preliminary work on the county's reapportionment.
The preliminary work will be done at a cost of $30 an hour. After a statistical study of county population, Turnbough will present to the commissioner court a valid figure for the cost of drawing up new precincts.
According to Bob Bass, a Plainview attorney, statistical data gathering will begin immediately. He said the first portion of the job and a cost estimate should be done in three weeks to a month.

The second phase of the job will be graphing precincts and holding hearings in the county's population centers to get public approval of the plan. Designs for the precincts must be completed by Jan. 1.
Bass said the total cost of the reapportionment for Deaf Smith County should be between $2,000, what it cost Terry County, and $7,200, what it cost Hale County.

Insurance Rates Going Up Nov. 1

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Insurance Board has ordered a 16.3 percent average auto rate increase that will cost Texans an estimated $221 million a year.
New rates, the first in two years, will take effect with policies written or renewed on Nov. 1.
Typical premiums will rise in 39 of the 40 rating territories by amounts ranging from $6 in the Lower Rio Grande Valley to $78 in Rockwall County. Only Tom Green County gets a decrease — a $1 reduction for the average driver.
Drivers' premiums will vary widely, depending on where they live, their age and sex, the kind of cars they drive and the use they make of their autos.
Many companies offer rates lower than those set by the board.

Board chairman Bill Daves said the average increase would have been 21.9 percent if the board had not, for the first time in an auto rate case, directly recognized the income insurance companies earn on their investments.
Companies requested a 23.7 percent increase, which would have raised total premiums by $331 million.
Last year, the board refused to increase rates, citing the insurers' record investment profits.
Daves said the companies earned $11.9 billion last year but a rate increase is proper.

"Even though the overall net income figures for the industry look good, I am concerned that sustained high levels of long-term interest rates may subject the investment portfolio of companies to instability in the coming years," he said.
The board is about to start a $200,000, two-year study of investment income, and Daves called Wednesday's action "an interim step in the treatment of investment income in ratemaking."
Rates for all categories of auto coverage except bodily injury liability, which dropped 0.3 percent, were increased.

Average increases, by category, are:
— Property damage liability, 16.3 percent.
— "No-fault" personal injury protection, 12.7 percent.
— Medical payments, 23.3 percent.
— Uninsured motorist, 3.7 percent.
— Fire, theft and miscellaneous, 25.9 percent.
— Full coverage comprehensive, 13.2 percent.
— $50-deductible comprehensive, 24.3 percent.
— $100-deductible comprehensive, 26.8 percent.
— $50-deductible collision, 11.7 percent.
— $100-deductible collision, 19.3 percent.
— $200-deductible collision, 16.6 percent.
— $250-deductible collision, 36.8 percent.

The rate order contains bad news for young men under 21 who own automobiles or are the principal drivers of cars belonging to others. The "differential" between their rate and that of a driver over 25 will increase in all parts of the state. Age differentials for men between 21 and 25 will drop for liability insurance but rise for collision coverage.

O'Connor Foes Continue Battle

DALLAS (AP) — A coalition of conservative Christian groups will continue its battle against the expected confirmation of Sandra Day O'Connor's U.S. Supreme Court nomination with a series of rallies, the group's leader said.
Organizers predicted today's "Rally for Life," the first in the series of anti-abortion gatherings, would draw about 10,000 people to the Dallas Convention Center.
Religious Roundtable president Ed McAteer said four more pro-life rallies are planned later this year in Washington, Los Angeles, Memphis and Atlanta.
"If this thing goes as we think it will, she will be appointed to the Supreme Court," McAteer, organizer of the Dallas Convention Center rally, said. "But we will continue to inform people more and more about abortion and her record."

Coinciding with the Dallas rally will be a nationwide vigil and silent prayer for "victims of abortion" in state capitals and major cities at 3 p.m. EDT.
McAteer said state representatives of the Religious Roundtable will hold the vigils from steps of federal courthouses in each state capital.
He said the "catalyst" for the rallies was President Reagan's support of Mrs. O'Connor.
A rally spokesman said several of the 31 speakers scheduled for the Dallas rally will discuss O'Connor's nomination. They include Peter B. Gemma Jr., executive director of the National Pro-Life Political Action Committee.
But McAteer said there is little chance Mrs. O'Connor's

Reagan Urges Arms Limitations

CHICAGO (AP) — President Reagan, throwing a new chip on the table, is warning the Soviet Union to accept legitimate arms reduction or face "an arms race they can't win."
The United States will continue to urge the Soviets "to sit down with us in a program of realistic strategic arms reduction," Reagan told a reception for Illinois Republicans on Wednesday.
"But it will be the first time that we have ever sat down on our side of the table and let them know that there's a new chip on the table," Reagan said. "And that chip is: There will be legitimate arms reduction, verifiable arms reduction, or they will be in an arms race which they can't win."
Asked later, during a brief photo session with Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne, whether he was threatening Moscow with an arms race if it didn't agree to his terms, Reagan replied, "No, I just think it's one of the things that's been missing in the negotiations so far."

But Reagan said he couldn't be specific about what he meant by "verifiable arms reduction," explaining that he didn't know whether on-site inspection of missile silos would be required or whether the United States "has the technology to do it in other ways."
"But...if that's what's required, then I think that's what should be done," he said.
At his appearance before about 300 members of the Illinois Forum, who pay $1,200 a year to join the GOP organization, Reagan denied that he was retreating from his pledge to sharply increase defense spending.
He said the administration was not "retreating from the program we adopted of an annual 7 percent increase in defensive spending to restore our defensive capability and close that window of vulnerability that has been opened in recent years with

'Peanuts' Creator Has Heart Surgery

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Charles Schulz, whose "Peanuts" comic strip characters have captivated millions of fans, was listed in very good condition following quadruple bypass heart surgery.

The 57-year-old cartoonist underwent the four-hour surgery Wednesday at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital. Hospital spokeswoman Zanette Williams said Schulz was expected to spend two weeks at the hospital.

Pat Lytle, a secretary at Creative Associates, Schulz' business office, said the surgery had been planned.

"He's known there was a need," she said. "It was more or less elective. It wasn't anything sudden. He more or less went along with his doctors."

"All the reports are positive," she added.

The surgery is most often performed to relieve blockage of the heart's arteries, a condition that doctors believe can lead to heart attacks and can cause a painful condition called angina.

Next month marks the 31st birthday of the cartoon strip, which includes such characters as Charlie Brown, Snoopy the beagle, fussy-budget Lucy, and Linus, always seen clutching his security blanket.

Service For Thomas Draws Crowd Of Celebrities

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Norman Vincent Peale eulogized newscaster Lowell Thomas as "one of the most remarkable men of our time, or, indeed, of any time."

Thomas, 89, who had an evening news program on CBS radio for nearly 46 years, died of a heart attack

Saturday at his home in Pawling, N.Y. Another service was to be held at Christ Church there today, with burial near his home.

Among the 800 mourners at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church Wednesday were Vice President George Bush and his wife, Barbara; former President Gerald Ford and his wife, Betty; Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr.; Sen. John Glenn of Ohio; former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey; and former New York Mayor John Lindsay.

Fellow newsmen Walter Cronkite, Charles Collingwood, Douglas Edwards and Dallas Townsend appeared to pay tribute to the man who broadcast the first television news program on NBC.

Also attending the service were CBS Board Chairman William Paley, former CBS president Frank Stanton and Richard Salant, former news chief at CBS and now an NBC vice president.

Woman Remains In Critical Condition

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman who told her family she could not live without the children she lost in a custody battle remained in critical condition early today from a suspected drug overdose, hospital officials said.

Harriet Berne, 37, was rushed to a suburban hospital Tuesday when fire department paramedics found her lying unconscious with three empty pill bottles nearby. She was later transferred to Hermann Hospital.

Mrs. Berne brought her two sons, aged 7 and 11, to Houston two years ago after a New York court awarded custody to their father.

Houston Family Court Judge Bruce Wettman returned the custody of the children Tuesday to Dale Berne, 43, a Rochester, N.Y., high school principal.

Mrs. Berne's father, Al Zilber, said his daughter just said, "I can't live without my children."

"She was so depressed," said Zilber. "Obviously a woman who loves her children that much can't be

Migrant Center's Fate Rests With Official

HOPE, Ark. (AP) — A Washington office of the federal Labor Department has recommended that the Migrant Farm Labor Center at Hope be continued for another year.

Peg Crosby, chief of administration design for the department's Migrant and Seasonal Farm Workers Program, said Wednesday she doesn't know if the recommendation will be accepted.

The office hasn't received its appropriation for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 and Miss Crosby said she didn't know if Assistant Labor Secretary Albert Angrisani would approve the request.

More than 35,000 migrant farm workers stop at the center each year as they make their way from the Rio Grande Valley in Texas to farms in the Midwest and North for seasonal employment. The center is the only one in the country.

Center officials were told last week that the Labor Department was cutting off funds and the center would be closed permanently Sept. 15.

The Hope Employment Security Division contracts with the Arkansas Council of Farm Workers to operate the center. The Labor Department gives the council $175,000 each year for operations.

New Ice Capades Show Brings Along Innovative Concepts

In keeping with their standards of excellent entertainment, Ice Capades this year presents the hottest show on ice, "Let's celebrate," which brings to the ice some of the most innovative concepts in years.

Ice Capades runs Thursday, Sept. 24 through Sunday, Sept. 27 at the Amarillo Civic Center for six performances.

Combining the yesteryear classics of George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, and George M. Cohan with the explosion of today's music scene, Ice Capades audiences will be introduced to a brilliantly choreographed musical on ice.

The show's opening number, "Let's Celebrate," illuminates the ice with scenery and costumes of silver and pink, while performers Lori Benton and Bill Tilghman skate to music from the famed stageplay, "The Wiz."

For the young and young-at-heart, Ice Capades will have on hand television's most popular cartoon characters including Fred Flintstone, Yogi Bear, Scooby Doo, and introducing the new blue shark Jabber Jaws. In "The Magic Machine," these characters and more will watch in amazement as a mad professor transforms Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls into living figure skaters.

As in years past, Ice

Capades contains strong comedy acts. The unforgettable antics of Bob Mac and Company along with the stylized humor of Brad Doud and Tommy Miller add to the show's depth in this area. For novelty, Don Dunfield performs some incredible feats of acrobatics in his high flying trampoline act.

"Latin Fire," considered by many critics to be one of the Ice Capades most progressive numbers, interprets Latin America's popular tradition of Flamenco dancing. Soloists Michael Tokar and Valerie McBroom are presented as well as the new and daring adagio team, Chuck and Sue Shaull. This colorful number also showcases the highly acclaimed flying ballet.

Fans of Gershwin, Berlin, and Cohan will appreciate the musical recreations of that era in "Music a La Carte." Highlighted are solos by new stars, 1980 National Ladies Bronze Medalist Sandy Lenz, Bill Tilghman and Valerie McBroom, along with a captivating performance by the pair extraordinary, U.S. Silver Medalists Gail Hamula and Frank Sweiding.

"Centennial Of Light" is a rousing tribute to Thomas Edison and brings the entire cast back to the spotlight, lit by over 9,000 tiny light bulbs in a memorable farewell.

Brown Says Reagan Partly to Blame If Medfly Infestation Spreads

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown has charged that President Reagan and other Californians in his administration must take some of the blame if the Mediterranean fruit fly spreads to other states.

Brown complained Wednesday about the U.S. Department of Agriculture's refusal to require fumigation of fruit and vegetables being shipped out of the medfly-infested areas of California.

"Somewhere there's a fly in the ointment," Brown said at a joint news conference with Florida Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner.

Asked what that fly was, he said: "Mr. Reagan is from California."

Brown said Reagan has appointed Californians to top positions in the USDA and elsewhere in his administration. "They have sided with California agricultural interests that have opposed fumigation, he said.

"We believe that his administration's integrity is at stake," Brown said. He was in Tallahassee as the featured speaker at the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' annual business conference.

Texas has so far succeeded in keeping the medfly out, but Florida officials have found five medflies in three places near Tampa. No new flies have been trapped there in the last 19 days, Conner said.

"We are optimistic, it looks good at this point," Conner said, but he added, "We have the threat of a new infestation as long as it's in the continental United States."

Conner said he is pushing for federal legislation to set up a panel of state agriculture officials that could force states and the USDA to take action to eradicate pests such as the medfly.

Federal courts have blocked moves by Florida, Texas and other states to quarantine the importation of produce from California. Conner said his quarantine would have been lifted anyway if California agreed to set up medfly traps at the rate of five per square mile to better determine whether the infestation was spreading and contain it if that was the case.

He said USDA officials have now assured him that trapping level has been achieved, but he said it would have been done six weeks earlier the legislation he is seeking had been in effect.

In Washington, meanwhile, the Justice Department again urged the Supreme Court Wednesday to bar five Southern states from either enforcing or reactivating their own quarantines against California produce.

The government filed a similar request in the medfly case July 24. There is no indication when the high court will act on California's bid to bar the individual state quarantines.

Of the five states, Texas and Florida have been barred by lower court orders from imposing their quarantines, while Alabama and South Carolina have voluntarily modified theirs to conform to a federal quarantine.

Georgia's own medfly restrictions remain in effect, however.

SLs Will Be Happy With IRS Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ailing savings and loan industry "will be happy" with the Internal Revenue Service's ruling on whether to allow high-interest investment incentives for the new tax-free All Savers Certificate, the Reagan administration says.

IRS Commissioner Roscoe L. Egger called a briefing to day to clarify his agency's stance on the investment incentives.

Without revealing the IRS ruling, White House spokesman David Gergen told reporters Wednesday, "I think the savings and loans will be happy with it."

Although the concept of an All Savers Certificate originally was opposed by the administration, Gergen told reporters aboard Air Force One that President Reagan has no intention of vetoing it by regulation.

The All Savers Certificate is designed to draw deposits into savings and loans associations. Many institutions are trying to lure depositors in advance of the Oct. 1 start-up date by offering higher interest rates on "repurchase agreements" that assume the funds will be transferred to the certificates.

In a statement Saturday, the IRS said Americans might jeopardize the tax-exempt status of the new certificates by investing in the high-interest lending.

The New York Times reported today that the IRS would ban interest packages that link the roll-over of the bonus interest into the new savings certificates and won't grant those packages tax-exempt status.

The savings and loans industry argues that the investment incentives — offering interest at annual rates of 30 percent or more — were not savings accounts and should not be considered part of any "all-savers" package for tax purposes.

But IRS said the certificate interest limit — 70 percent of the rate on one-year Treasury bills — might be effectively surpassed by institutions offering much higher rates on repurchase agreements rolled over into all-savers certificates Oct. 1.

The IRS had "substantial doubt as to the income tax consequences" of such investment packages, the statement said.

going." Cumpton reports that his team is improving in the one spot where he thought they looked bad in against the Clovis Wildcats in a scrimmage last week. "Our goal line defense has improved a lot," he said. "We know our assignments better, and are executing well."

The kicking game is another spot where the Whitefaces have been concentrating, and some players have earned spots there as well. Don Delozier will return to punt for HHS after leading the loop's punters last season.

Raymond Martinez will handle kickoff chores for the Herd, while John Phibbs will handle placekicking duties.

"Our kicking game has looked good this week, and we're confident that we'll be in excellent shape there as the season progresses," the coach said.

Probable starters for Hereford Friday include Alan Wartes (5-10, 160) at quarterback and Wayne High (5-11, 170) at tailback. Jeff Coupe (5-8, 150) will start at fullback, with Arnold Villegas (5-8, 160) at wingback.

Mike Mason (6-1, 175) and Rudy Hernandez (5-8, 150) will alternate at split end, while Delozier (6-2, 210) will start at tight end.

Tim Martin (6-0, 190) will anchor the offensive line at center, with either Richburg or Kevin Hamby (5-10, 165) at left guard and Mark Collier (5-9, 165) at right guard. Tackles will be Alex Valdez (5-10, 210) and Bob Hammond (6-4, 210).

Defensively, Cumpton will go with Robert Gonzales (6-4, 255) and either Josseland (6-0, 180) or Baldemar Reyna (5-9, 170) at tackle, and Bruce Clarke (6-0, 190) and Richburg or Kevin Huffacker (6-0, 160) at the ends.

Ken Cospser (5-1, 165) will call defensive signals at middle linebacker, with outside linebacking help from Freddy Garcia (5-10, 180) and Phibbs (5-10, 190).

The free safety will be Matt Collier (5-10, 155) with Mike Hill (5-10, 170) slated for strong safety. The cornerbacks will be Shannon Ritchie (5-11, 150) and Charles McDowell (5-11, 170).

"Our players are looking forward to playing," Cumpton said. "They're tired of practicing, and we need to play a game and see where we're at and what we need to work on."

consumption, is merely sampled when it enters this country and is then permitted to move freely in interstate commerce," Bentson said.

The only label the imported beef carries, the Texas Democrat pointed out, is "USDA inspected," the same label carried by American beef processed in federally inspected plants.

Bentson introduced similar legislation in the past that failed to win approval in the Senate.

"We have had a dramatic focusing of public attention on the problems of our meat import inspection system, and I would hope that those who have in the past dismissed these problems will take a second look."

But he acknowledged that the Pentagon will not be exempt from future budget cuts that will be made in an effort to further reduce spending and eliminate waste.

White House officials said earlier this week that Reagan would trim $20 billion to $30 billion from his planned military spending buildup in fiscal 1983 and 1984 in an effort to keep the federal budget in check.

In Honolulu, however, Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger told reporters Wednesday that no decisions have been made on reductions in the military budget and predicted flatly: "There won't be any defense cuts."

confirmation can be stopped. "Before the rally occurred, all our concerns had been affayed by statements from her, it would have turned out to be a joyous celebration for us," McAteer said. "But we have already won the debate about the O'Connor nomination. No one is making comments whether she in fact is pro-abortion, but rather if she has really changed her position since the time that she voted in the legislature."

He said his organization's evidence that O'Connor supported abortion bills "on at least two occasions" while a member of the Arizona Legislature is more devastating than that against previous Supreme Court appointees including Harold

Carswell. "She is just as much an abortionist as these people were in what they were criticized for," McAteer said. "In fact, she is even more so."

Speakers will include the Rev. Jerry Falwell of Moral Majority, former National Right to Life Committee president Dr. Carolyn Gerster, evangelist James Robison and Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis' wife, Karen.

Organizations cooperating in the rally include the Moral Majority, Right to Life, March for Life, National Pro-Life Political Action Committee and Concerned Women of America.

Between Heaven and Earth

When the Salvation Army disassociated itself from the World Council of Churches in mid-August it sent a shock wave through pulpits and pews around the world.

Many churches in the United States support the World Council, notably United Methodist, United Presbyterian, Christian Church Disciples, Episcopal Church and the American Lutheran Church.

Our nation's largest protestant denomination, Southern Baptists, do not support the World Council—for the same reason that the Salvation Army has pulled out.

Churches are divided as never before between heaven and earth, between here and hereafter, between a spiritual gospel and a social gospel.

Simply, the World Council of Churches is dedicated to social reform. Or, as the Salvation Army says, "to putting politics above the Gospel."

The Salvation Army was one of the founders of the World Council in 1948. It was after the state-controlled Russian Orthodox Church was admitted to membership that critics said the WWC became "a left wing political organization operating from behind a facade of religion."

This year the WWC Central Committee met in Communist East Germany, issued a resolution demanding a halt to the production of neutron weapons.

A WWC team in Australia embarrassed that government with a scathing 91-page report charging that aborigines that are victims of massive deprivation and injustice.

In Africa, the World Council of Churches actually finances revolutionaries.

The WWC gave $85,000 to African guerrillas waging war against the government of Zimbabwe and has pledged aid to guerrillas seeking to overthrow South-West Africa.

The pattern clearly aligns the World Council with Marxists and Communists in many countries.

Two to three million dollars of the World Council's $45 million annual budget is siphoned from the collection plates in American churches, members of which may imagine that their tithes and gifts are going to spread the gospel and feed the hungry.

World Council spokespersons will insist that the organization supports only "humanitarian work."

There is no organization which has been more selflessly dedicated to "humanitarian work" than the Salvation Army.

For the Army, painfully and at the risk of alienating some of its own supporters, to withdraw from the World Council clearly defines the line between do-gooders and good-doers.

The Salvation Army is not a timid Army. I've seen Salvationists standing at the back door of hell with the Gospel in one hand a cup of cold water in the other.

But no guns.

Skilled Artist

Bill Lyles is pictured above in his home where he does stained glass work as a hobby. He will be one of the many featured artists and craftsmen at the Wesley's Fall Festival of Arts and Crafts Saturday, Sept. 12 at the Community Center. There will also be entertainment by local and area groups outside the Community Center.

Arts, Crafts, Entertainment
On Schedule for Festival

Wesley's Fall Festival of Arts and Crafts to be held Saturday, Sept. 12, will feature the work of numerous artists and craftsmen from the panhandle and surrounding areas.

Local artist, Bill Lyles, will be attending the festival and displaying stained glass. Lyles has been doing stained glass work for two years. His hobby began because of an interest in arts and crafts in general. He claims he could not draw or paint but liked some stained glass pieces he had seen. He took some lessons in night classes and really enjoyed it. Since then with reading, experimenting, and practice he is developing his ability and creativity.

Wesley's Fall Festival will be only Lyle's second show, as many of the pieces he has done have been gifts or special orders. He finds it a lot of fun to visit with people interested in arts and crafts. It is still very much a hobby for him. He does his work on a table he built in his kitchen.

By profession, Lyles is sales manager at George Warner Seed Co. He says he loves the seed business and will not give that up, but finds glass cutting very relaxing after a day in the office.

While travelling he takes patterns and small pieces of glass with him to work on at night instead of watching television in the motel.

There will be concessions available and clowns with balloons for the young ones.

Admission is free and all area citizens are invited to visit Hereford and the festival of arts and crafts.

Love of Teaching, Music Fills Life of 'Newcomer'

BY GWEN LONDON
Family News Editor

"If I have a philosophy about my work, it is that teaching is very important, a job that should not be taken lightly, and I enjoy it very much."

This statement comes from a new teacher, but not really a newcomer to Hereford. Donna Kendall, fifth-grade teacher at Shirley elementary school, has lived in Hereford all her life, except for college, and now she says she enjoys making her home here.

After spending four years at West Texas State University earning a teaching degree, she chose to live in Hereford for several reasons. Some of the factors are the people, the school system, the sense of progress here and the town that "has been good to me."

Donna loves music, especially contemporary religious music, and she loves to sing. Teaching and music, quite naturally, are listed as her two great loves.

Hoping to develop her musical ability even more is one of her goals. She plans to sing whenever and wherever possible.

This is her first year to teach school. After she saw the need for good, qualified people who enjoy teaching and love kids, Donna said she decided to earn a teaching degree, and try to be a good teacher.

Donna lives at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kendall. Fried chicken and peanut butter cups are her favorite foods.

A good movie that "makes me cry and one that leaves me feeling all warm inside," is her favorite form of entertainment. She likes nothing better than being with people or going to someone's house and just visiting.

The Amazon pours 64 billion gallons of water into the sea every second.

Regina, capital of Saskatchewan province in Canada, once bore a less majestic name — Pile of Bones. The city was named in 1882 for Victoria Regina, Queen of England.

Navy Airman Recruit Tony K. Minchew, son of Charles E. and Linda N. Minchew of 137 Ironwood, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1981 graduate of Hereford High School, he joined the Navy in 1981.

Bob Wear

By BOB WEAR
WE MAY BE downcast, now and then, but we cannot afford to let this feeling linger with us; because we cannot afford its damaging effects.

THE DOWNCAST FEELING can be caused by faulty attitudes toward our work; our house; our clothing; our car; or ourself. This is most unfortunate, because we probably have everything we need; or could do better, if we tried. We may not be as high-ranking as some other folk; however, we can be happy; productive of good; and altogether desirable people. The point is that we must be very grateful for what we have; not downcast because of what we have not.

WE LIVE in a climate that is essentially materialistic and secularistic, and there is evidence that we have become overly concerned with status symbols and the accumulation of things. Out of this grows the harmful and bitter fruit of a feeling of failure where there is no failure. We may be disappointed, but not downcast.

IT IS RIGHT, of course, for us to continue to improve our self and our situation; but we cannot have any success unless we pursue the task with hope and good cheer.

A FAULTY value system will eventually bring us to a point of being dejected. This will be produced by following inferior guidelines; by the misuse of time, opportunity and life; and by the general misconception that causes an imbalance in one's life structure. The resulting discontent will cause us to be cast down in the spirit. On the other hand, contented people are not going to be downcast.

"THE FOUNTAIN of contentment must spring up in the mind, and he who has so little knowledge of human nature as to see happiness by changing anything but his own disposition, will waste his life in fruitless efforts, and multiply the griefs which he proposes to remove." - Johnson. We realize that this is true, and should understand that it places us in control so that we can make our own choice. We can control our disposition, or we can learn to do so.

THE DEJECTED, downcast view of self is one of the most self-destructive views. Making the situation worse, this view of self will usually be our outlook on life; because, in general, we see life, not as it is, but as we are.

THE BETTER VIEW we have of ourselves, the better life seems to be; and the better it seems, the better it is for us.

-Bob Wear

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

This column could be entitled, confessions of a child entering school for the first time who according to adults "has nothing to worry about."

My name is Donald and I don't know anything. I have new underwear, a new sweater, a loose tooth and I didn't sleep last night. I am worried.

What if the school bus jerks after I get on and I lose my balance and my pants rip and everyone laughs?

What if I have to go to the bathroom before we get to school?

What if a bell rings and everyone goes into a door and a man yells, "Where do you belong?" and I don't know?

What if my shoestring comes untied and someone says, "Your shoestring is untied. We'll watch while you tie it?"

What if the trays in the cafeteria are too tall for me to reach?

What if the thermos lid on my soup is on too tight and when I try to open it, breaks?

What if my loose tooth wants to come out when we're supposed to have our heads down and be quiet?

What if teacher tells the class to go the bathroom and I can't go?

What if I get hot and want to take my sweater off and someone steals it?

What if I splash water on my name tag and my name disappears and no one will know who I am?

What if they send us out to play and all the swings are taken? What do I do?

What if the wind blows all the important papers out of my hands that I'm supposed to take home?

What if they mispronounce my last name and everyone laughs?

What if my teacher doesn't make her D's like Mom taught me?

What if I spend the whole day without a friend?

What if the teacher gives a seat to everyone and I'm left over?

What if the windows in the bus steam up and I won't be able to tell when I get to my stop?

I'm just a little kid but maybe I'm smarter than I think I am. At least I know better than to tell a five-year-old with a loose tooth who has never been out of the yard by himself before that he has "nothing to worry about."

Four Generation Teacher

Mrs. Ruby Mulkey is beginning her 38th year of teaching. She said she has taught "doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs and teachers." Shown with her are four generations of one family which she has taught in Hereford School system. From left to right are Paul Haggar, (1938-1939), grandfather of Kelby; Kelby, 11, (1981-82) a student in Mrs. Mulkey's sixth grade class at Shirley School; Mrs. Mulkey; Mrs. Kenny Watson Haggar, (1960-61), Kelby's mother; and Mrs. Kay Haggar Williams, (1964-65), Kelby's aunt.

Ann Landers

Hard on the Ego

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been job-hunting for seven weeks and am getting discouraged and depressed. I must be doing something wrong. I can't describe what it does to a person's ego to answer ad after ad, pound the pavement, write letters (that don't get answered) and be told after an interview, "We will let you know if anything opens up." (A polite way of saying, "Sorry, you just don't fit in around here.")

I had two years of college before switching to secretarial school. I am 24, female, hard-working and competent. Several weeks ago I was laid off. (I worked in a typing pool, although I am qualified to be a top-notch secretary.) Why can't I get a break? I'd work my tail off in the right job for the right company. Any suggestions?—Willing And Able But Unemployed In Ohio

DEAR W. AND A.: I ran across a book that could turn your life around. It is "Marj's Magic Formula for Getting the Right Job." Phyllis Martin is the author.

This book tells male and female job-seekers where the jobs are, how to write an attention-getting letter of application, how to prepare (and dress) for an interview, what to say and what NOT to say during an interview. It even lists 45 of the worst words that are sure to turn off personnel directors.

The paperback costs $5.95, plus $1 for postage and handling. Write to St. Martin's Press, 175 Fifth Ave., N.Y., N.Y. 10010. You'll get your money's worth for sure and maybe a job.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After five years of bitterness and struggling my parents finally divorced. I love them both dearly.

My problem is this: Last weekend I visited my father and discovered, for the first time, that he is dating a woman. (Her name is Jill.) This didn't bother me, except Jill was with us every minute. She even spent the last night (in a separate room).

Now I wonder if I might be getting in the way. I also know my mother still loves my father. Should I tell her about Jill? I feel guilty keeping this from her, yet I'm not sure I should say anything. Please advise me. I am—Sixteen And Troubled

DEAR TROUBLED: Say nothing to your mother about Jill. The less information passed on to either parent about the other, the better.

You do not indicate if you are a boy or a girl. In either case you are probably somewhat competitive with Jill for your father's time and attention. If she becomes a frequent guest, I hope you will accept her presence graciously.

I don't feel, however, that it is appropriate for Jill to spend the night in your father's apartment when you are there. This says something about her judgment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I loved reading about the 22-year-old man in Irvine, Calif., who loved swings but was embarrassed to put one up for fear people would think he was childish.

I am 69 years young. Just last year my husband put up a swing for me on the branch of one of our big trees. (We live in Bristol, Conn.)

All my life I have loved swings and used the adult size whenever I got near a park. It is such a happy feeling to swing and feel the breeze in your face.

Tell Irvine to go ahead. He will have lots of company he never dreamed of!—Another

One DEAR ONE: I came within an ace of not printing that letter — thought it might be too dull. But the load of mail from adult "swingers" was astonishing! Thanks to all who wrote.

Focus On Creative Teaching Skills

COLLEGE STATION -- Creative teaching skills will be the focus of the third annual 4-H Forum—Food and Nutrition Leader Training, Sept. 8-13, at the National 4-H

Center in Washington, D.C.

The forum, supported by Campbell Soup Co., will involve 103 volunteer leaders and Extension Service staff from 42 states and the District of Columbia.

Texas participants include Mrs. Polly Terry of Dumas, Mrs. Sheila Bletz of Bridge City, Mrs. Ann Norwood of Campbell and Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten of College Station, food and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This team of volunteers and Extension professionals will plan and conduct the 1982 4-H Food and Nutrition Leader Training Workshop at the Texas 4-H Center next August, points out Preston Sides, Extension 4-H and youth specialist.

Another Texan, Mrs. Patsy Neal of Dike, is serving on the overall planning committee for the national forum. She attended the forum as a Texas delegate in 1979 and was appointed to the committee by the National 4-H Council.

The forum program features sessions on nutritional concerns of youth, motivation and new directions in 4-H foods and nutrition programs. In addition, participants will attend in-depth workshops on nutrition and physical fitness, do-it-yourself resources, turning young people on to nutrition, influencing consumer choices, involving the disabed, measuring impact, and involving parents and family.

A highlight of the forum is a one-day field trip to Campbell Soup Co., in Camden, N.J., to consult with company officials, visit test kitchens and explore career potentials for youth.

Leaders also will share ideas at a 4-H Fair and prepare plans of action to strengthen 4-H programs in their communities, notes Sides.

New Public Hours

LUBBOCK--The Museum of Texas Tech University will have new public hours beginning Sept. 1.

The museum will be open year-round 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday; until 8:30 p.m. Thursday; and 1-4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. James A. Goss, museum director, said the new hours reflect times when the museum draws more people. He said the museum is growing and needs to have regular, permanent hours that can be recognized by the public.

In addition to the new hours, a museum holiday schedule has been announced. The museum will be closed for Labor Day, for the Thanksgiving Holiday, the afternoon of Nov. 25 and all day Nov. 26; Dec. 24 and 25 for Christmas, and Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 for the New Year's holidays.

A brand new way to earn high interest and save taxes.

Starting October 1st, Security Federal Savings can offer you an exciting new way to earn big interest and save taxes, too! We're 100% behind the new federal regulations which let you earn tax-free interest.

Security Federal's All-Savers C.D.

Our new All-Savers one-year certificate lets you earn high interest based on one-year T-Bill rates. Then the interest you earn is TAX FREE up to $1,000, or $2,000 if you file a joint return. And you can get started for as little as $500!

Here's An Example Of Our All-Savers Tax Advantage:

Let's say the All-Savers rate on October 1st is 11.75%. For a family earning $25,000 per year, our example rate of 11.75% is equivalent to a taxable rate of 17.28%! Why? Because you won't pay taxes on the All-Savers interest.

Oil Production Boosts Soviet Economy

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — New U.S. intelligence information shows that Soviet oil production is booming but that growing military expenditures are a drag on the rest of Russia's economy.

military spending. The testimony was given by officials of the Defense Intelligence Agency at a July 8 closed session of the Congressional Joint Economic Committee's international trade subcommittee. The DIA officials said the Soviet leadership "has apparently opted for further growth in military strength as the standard of living of the population stagnates and even declines in some areas."

They said "continued growth in energy production is one of the few bright prospects in the Soviet economic future." The intelligence officials said Soviet oil production is expected to continue to experience slow growth until about 1985 and then level off. The Soviet Union has an estimated 80 billion to 85 billion barrels of accessible oil reserves, compared with an estimate of 75 billion barrels made in 1977, they said.

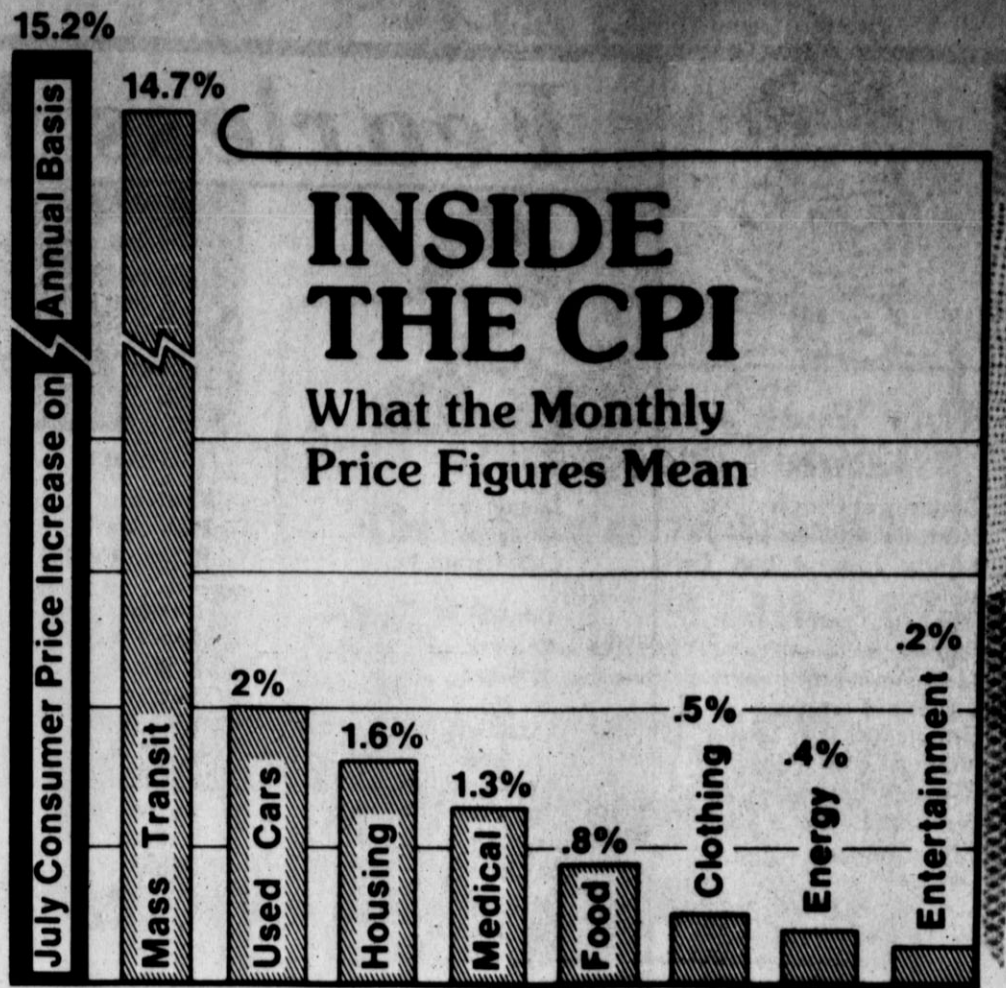

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the subcommittee chairman, said, "The Soviet Union is not running out of oil, contrary to earlier predictions from within the intelligence community." Testifying for the intelligence agency were its deputy director, Maj. Gen. Richard K. Larkin, and its vice director for foreign intelligence, Edward M. Collins. They said China's oil industry "is antiquated, poorly managed, and presently incapable of increasing production to levels necessary to support demands at home and export contracts."

Any significant improvement is probably five to 10 years away, they said in a statement submitted to the committee. The officials said Chinese leaders "have recognized there are no easy solutions to their (economic) problems and that the civilian sectors have precedence over the military."

"It can be expected that, given the limited resources and competing demands throughout the Chinese economy, military modernization will be a long and slow process," the statement said. The defense officials said the Soviets spent $175 billion on military activities last year, compared with $115 billion spent by the United States. They said less than 1 percent of the Soviet spending was due to increased costs brought about by the Red Army intervention in Afghanistan.

They said figures available to them indicated that military spending might increase as much as 10 percent each year for the next five years while spending on factories, machinery and equipment was increasing less than 20 percent for the entire period.

Safety matches were invented about 1885. They cannot be lighted unless they are struck against a sandpaper surface treated with a special chemical.

The bad economic news from Washington is that the Consumer Price Index is up again. The seasonally adjusted figure for July shows a 1.2 percent increase over the previous month. Projected for an entire year, that would mean a compounded 15.2 percent inflation rate, compared with June's 8.8 percent projected annual rate which raised hopes inflation might be relaxing its grip on the economy. The CPI is composed of seasonally adjusted measurements of price changes in a number of key categories. Chart shows actual July percentage increases for the most important of these. In deriving the CPI, categories are weighted according to their importance in average consumer expenditures. Food and housing, for example, are given much more weight in the combined index figure than items such as mass transit that are not primary budget items for the entire population. The sharp July transit increase was the result of fare increases in a few major cities.

ducer. "It's too late for gun control; we seem to have lost ethical control."

Half the households in the United States own one or more guns, and more than a quarter million of them were stolen just last year, said Bradley. "Up to 80 percent of all guns used in crimes are stolen."

Dr. Saul Niedorf, director of mental health for Los Angeles' juvenile halls, says youthful criminals may commit violent crimes because they were abused or abandoned, felt they had no stake in society or were outraged by the unattainable wealth and fame they see depicted in the mass media.

He also doesn't discount the sheer impact of violence on TV. "By 16 years of age, a kid would have witnessed 18,000 murders on television."

NEW YORK (AP) — Tonight's CBS Reports, "Murder Teen-age Style," is not one of those dismaying documentaries that can be watched in a detached manner and virtually ignored by much of the television au-

The show's message is clear: Indiscriminate killing with guns is increasing, and the criminals are getting younger. Its warning is clear, too. "We know there are guns in the suburbs," said Irina Posner, the program's pro-

Two armed youths enter a market in broad daylight, demanding cash. Sound and pictures are captured by the store's security system. The man behind the counter quickly complies, but shots are fired anyway. The cry of "Oh, God," and the muffled pop-pop-pop of gunfire are gut-wrenching. The cashier lies dead.

"The indiscriminate murder of the cashier, even as he handed over the money, is brutal evidence of a trend," says Ed Bradley, the show's correspondent. He says there were about 2,300 murders in Los Angeles in 1980, and 25 percent of the killers were teen-agers.

They're doing it with easily accessible guns. "Kids, the one segment of the population that is gun controlled, are now using guns at will," said Bradley.

A young girl, seemingly too wise beyond her years, says: "Well most of my friends they got nine millimeters, baby 12 gauges and silver .38s." Asked how they got them, the girl answers: "I don't think they quite buy them."

Redistricting Board Tackles Boundaries

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — It's back to the maps and computers today as five top state officials try to come up with boundary lines for the 150 House and 31 Senate districts.

the full 60 days, but it will take a good deal of time," Speaker Bill Clayton said Wednesday.

Clements vetoed the Senate plan, complaining that it did not guarantee the election of a minority Senator from Dallas County. The plan he rejected would have paired only two senators, Dallas County Republicans Dee Travis and John Leedom.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, also a board member, has said the Senate plan was fair and constitutional. However, at the board's organizational meeting on Sunday, Hobby steered clear of saying the board would simply approve the plan that Clements rejected.

The Legislature thought it took care of the politically bloody redistricting task during this year's regular session. Those maps went out the window thanks to a Gov. Bill Clements' veto of the Senate plan and a court rejection of the House plan.

That leaves it up to the all-Democratic Legislative Redistricting Board, which was scheduled to go to work in the Capitol today.

McEnroe May Learn Of Sanctions Today

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEnroe's defense of his U.S. Open crown is still being haunted by his antics at Wimbledon two months ago. McEnroe, seeking his third successive Open title this week, was to have learned today of any sanctions placed against him by the Men's International Professional Tennis Council for his behavior at Wimbledon last July.

Hall of Famer Jack Kramer, a member of the nine-man council, said the Council had reviewed tapes of McEnroe's matches at Wimbledon when they met Wednesday but they did not reach a decision and the meeting was to resume today.

McEnroe's father, John Sr., who is an attorney, and two other lawyers attended Wednesday's Council session, Kramer said.

Kramer said he believed the Council might withhold any announcement until after the completion of the Open.

"It would appear to me that if it was to go against John and say they wanted to levy a pretty good fine or whatever the rules allow...it can go up year's suspension which is, of course...anything that might be detrimental to John's ability to play his best in defending his (U.S.) championship, I'm sure would be taken into consideration."

However, Phillip Chatrier, also a member of the men's tour's governing body, said a communique concerning any action against McEnroe could be expected sometime today.

The New York Times reported in its Thursday edition that an official source of the ITA said McEnroe had been fined $5,000.

The fine, according to the Times' story, was recommended by Marshall Happer, Council administrator, after he had received testimony from all parties concerned.

Wimbledon officials had asked for a $10,000 fine to be levied.

Chatrier pointed out that since the meeting was not adjourned, no fine had been levied against the New York native, and word of any action against him would come in a statement after the Council's meeting was over.

McEnroe has already been fined by the All-England Tennis Club for his behavior at Wimbledon where he participated in repeated clashes with match officials.

Kramer intimated that would have some effect on the Council's decision.

"The Council and the game have a big stake in this," Kramer said. "On one side you have the Wimbledon folks who are the strongest tournament in world and a great force and have supported good things in tennis. And on the other side there's a very, very prominent, exciting player who is saying, if anything happens to me, I may never play for you fellows again. So the stakes are pretty high and quite frankly it's not settled yet."

Herd JV Opens Play

Coaches David Ashby and Randy Pool lead the Hereford junior varsity into the season opener at 7 p.m. today against Pampa, hoping to equal or improve on a fine 8-2 JV record posted a year ago.

Jeff Streun is slated to start at quarterback for the HHS JV, with running backs Larry Jimenez and Kenneth Coggins joining him in the backfield, along with wingback Robert Martinez. Opening the holes in the Harvester defense will be Ricky Valdez and Victor Soliz at tackle, guards David Zuniga and Robert Marquez, and Kyle Williams at center.

Streun will be aiming aerials at ends Tony Yosten and Jesse Moreno as well.

Defensively, Hereford will start Fidencio Garcia and David Lofton at tackle, and Steve Beene and Moreno at the end spots. Linebackers include Alan Ritchie, Earnest Villalobos, and Coggins. Charlie Garza will start at strong safety for the JV, while Roy Salinas will be the free safety, and Robert Abalos and Armando Rodriguez will start at cornerback.

While the JV gets the campaign underway tonight, the HHS sophomores will have to wait a while after their game at Levelland Saturday has been cancelled.

Atlanta Wins, 3-2

Miller's Running Downs Phillies

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

After he singled home the tying run in the bottom of the ninth inning, Eddie Miller thought he knew what was expected of him next — use his legs to score the winning run.

Moments later, after he stole second and third base for his second and third steals of the night, Miller dashed home with the winning run on a 200-foot foul fly by Jerry Royster to give the Atlanta Braves a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night.

"I had to get in position to score," Miller said of his daring baserunning.

Miller had stolen second after entering the game as a pinch-runner in the seventh, and the three thefts tied an Atlanta record held by nine other players, including Miller himself.

In other National League games, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 5-2, Cincinnati blanked Montreal 7-0, Houston shut out New York 8-0, San Diego edged Chicago 5-4 in 10 innings and Los Angeles tripped Pittsburgh

6-2. With the Braves trailing 2-1, Glenn Hubbard opened the Atlanta ninth with a triple to right and scored the tying run on Miller's line drive to center.

Miller stole second on Philadelphia reliever Warren Brusstar, 0-1, and then went to third with one out while another reliever, Tug McGraw, faced Royster.

Royster's pop fly would have fallen foul some 200 feet down the line, but right fielder George Vecukovich made the catch and fired home too late to get Miller.

Philadelphia took a 2-1 lead in the ninth when Pete Rose's third single scored pinch-runner Ryne Sandberg.

Luis Aguayo scored the Phillies' first run after being hit by a Tommy Boggs' pitch in the second. Aguayo stole second, moved to third on a groundout and scored when pitcher Dickie Noles hit a ball that caromed off second base into left field for a single.

Atlanta tied it in the third when Brett Butler walked, moved to second on a balk by Noles and scored on a single by Bob Horner.

At one time this season, Miller was the Braves' regular left fielder. But he injured a leg before the players' strike, and Rufino Linares took over in left.

Then after the strike was over, the Braves called up Butler from their Richmond farm club and Miller was relegated to pinch-hitting and pinch-running in late innings.

Cardinals 5, Giants 2
Keith Hernandez knocked in two runs and Bruce Sutter picked up his 18th save in relief of Larry Sorensen as St. Louis broke San Francisco's five-game winning streak.

Hernandez hit an RBI single to give the Cardinals a 2-0 lead in the third and he added a run-scoring grounder in the eighth.

Sorensen, 7-5, picked up the victory, allowing seven hits in seven innings.

Atros 8, Mets 0

Bob Knepper pitched his fifth shutout of the season and lowered his earned run average to 1.80 with a three-hitter over New York.

Knepper, 7-3, who struck out nine and walked only one got plenty of offensive support from his teammates, who banged out a season-high 16 hits, including four each by Alan Ashby and Tony Scott.

Ashby knocked in three runs with a two-run homer and a run-scoring single.

Howser a Hit in KC

By LARRY SIDMONS AP Sports Writer

It hasn't taken long for Dick Howser to make his mark with the Kansas City Royals. In just two days as manager, Howser has awakened the club from a season-long slumber and moved them into first place in the American League West.

They took over the top spot Wednesday night with just the style of play Howser had promised, scoring the winning run on an infield ground ball with two outs in the ninth inning for a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

"You just keep battling, and things will happen," said Howser, who vowed to get the Royals running again when he was named Monday to succeed the fired Jim Frey. "Yeah, I thought the game was going to go another inning, but you never know."

U.I. Washington scored the winner when George Brett bounced to third base. Brewers third baseman Ed Romero threw to second for an attempted forceout, but Jim Gantner was off the bag and his relay to first was too late.

Kansas City, last season's division winner which beat the Howser-managed New York Yankees for the league championship, moved above the .500 level, at 12-11 for the second half-season.

It wasn't until long after their own game was over, however, that the Royals took over sole position of first. Cleveland's sweep of a double header with Oakland, 2-0 and 10-4, and California's 3-1 loss to Boston did the trick.

In other American League games, it was Texas 4, Toronto 1; Detroit 5, Chicago 4 in 10 innings; Baltimore 3, Seattle 2 in 11 innings, and Minnesota 4, New York 3.

The Royals' winning spurt began with a one-out single by Darryl Motley and a double by Washington, Willie Wilson was walked intentionally to load the bases and Motley was forced at the plate on Frank White's grounder before Brett's bouncer to third.

lead on White's three-run homer in the fifth, but the Brewers tied the game in the top of the ninth with three consecutive one-out singles. Robin Yount started the rally with a hit to center, then pinch-hitters Ben Oglivie and Ted Simmons followed.

Royals reliever Dan Quisenberry picked up his first victory of the year.

Indians 2-0, A's 0-4
John Denny pitched a four hitter and Jerry Dybzinski cracked a bases-loaded single to score both runs as Cleveland won the opener of a two-night double header against Oakland.

In the nightcap, Mike Hargrove keyed a seven-run Indian seventh inning with a bases-loaded single. Hargrove, who almost sat out the second game with injuries, later slammed a two-run homer.

The Indians have won seven of their last eight games.

Red Sox 3, Angels 1
Dave Stapleton's two-run homer in the fourth inning provided the margin of victory for Boston's rookie left-hander, Bob Ojeda.

It came after the Red Sox's Carney Lansford was hit on the batting helmet by a pitch from the Angels' rookie right-hander, Mike Witt. Doctors said Lansford appeared to be OK, but he was removed from the game and taken to a hospital for precautionary X-rays.

Summerall, Brookshier Given New Partners

By BRUCE LOWITT
Sports Writer

It's sort of like seeing a theatre marquee listing the comedy team of Dean Martin and Lou Costello. Or maybe the dancing team of Ginger Rogers and Gene Kelly.

Somehow, it just ain't right. CBS has gone and broken up its best football broadcasting team, Tom Brookshier and Pat Summerall. Put each of 'em with a new partner.

Outrageous. Brookshier, the ex-

Philadelphia Eagles defensive back, switches from color commentary (and there haven't been many guys in front of a microphone more colorful than Tom) to play-by-play this season. He'll be booted on Sunday with Johnny Morris, the former Bears flanker, in Chicago.

"I think I may hit him with a forearm across the chops once in a while," said the irrepressible Brookshier. "Just a reflexive action, you understand."

Summerall, the more low-key member of the former duo, will spend the first two Sundays of the season at the U.S. Open tennis championships, then will hook up first with Hank Stram, the dapper ex-coach, and then with John Madden, the not-so-dapper ex-coach.

There's no doubting that Brookshier and Summerall are going to miss each other as much as we're going to miss them. And it's equally clear that neither is happy with this corporate decision.

"The Sundays are going to be OK," Brookshier said with a cackle, "but the Saturday nights are going to be pretty dull."

"I don't think that's true at all, and I don't think Tom really feels that way," Summerall responded. "I don't think the Sundays are going to be all that OK."

Brookshier believes Terry O'Neil, executive director of CBS Sports, "is sort of going to move people around for a while, maybe three or four weeks at a time, until he settles on teams."

"Pat and I were talking about this (the split) the other day. We didn't have any choice. I just thought, 'Well, I've been the former player long enough. Maybe it's time for me to move over and become the stabilizing guy in the booth, doing the play-by-play. I'm just going to have to do things like watch the clock more, things I used to take for granted."

Whether the rambunctious Brookshier can work as well with Morris ("He's kind of quiet compared to me," Tom said, ignoring the fact that most of the world is quiet compared to him) remains to be seen. But it's for sure we won't be hearing the free-association Brookshier-Summerall dialogue which, on plenty of occasions, drifted far and wide of the action on the field before them.

What CBS is trying to do, of course, is make two good teams out of one. What they just might end up with is none.

"Pat and I would rather have stayed together and I feel most people feel that way," Brookshier said. And Summerall added: "As I've said over and over and over again, if I had my druthers, I'd have left it the way it was."

Southeast Conference Splits on TV Package

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Following a surprise move by the Big Eight, the focus of the struggle between the NCAA and the College Football Association shifts to the Southeastern Conference.

The Big Eight adjourned a five-hour meeting Wednesday in Kansas City by urging the NCAA to call a special convention by Nov. 15 to reorganize its top division.

At the same time, Big Eight presidents withheld endorsement of either the CFA or NCAA television packages until the NCAA has addressed the fundamental questions of reorganization.

CFA schools are nearing their Sept. 10 deadline for reconsideration of a vote that ratified a four-year television agreement with NBC and set up a confrontation between the CFA and NCAA.

At a special meeting in Atlanta Aug. 21, the CFA voted 33-20 to adopt its NBC plan. Five CFA schools abstained and three could not vote because of improper credentials.

The NCAA, which has reached agreement with ABC and CBS for the same period, 1982-85, has said CFA schools opting for the NBC package would be subject to severe disciplinary action and possible expulsion.

The Big Eight voted 6-2 in Atlanta in favor of the CFA package, but the Southeastern Conference was reported split almost 50-50. On that basis, many observers believe the SEC might announce today an action similar to that taken by the Big Eight.

If a large enough number of CFA schools attempt to go with their own television deal, there is a good possibility they would have to pull out of the NCAA and set up a national organization of their own.

The five-year-old CFA is made up of 61 major and would-be major football schools, including titans such as Alabama, Oklahoma and Texas as well as nationally insignificant programs such as Rice, Vanderbilt and Virginia Tech. The Big Ten and Pac-10 are not CFA members.

At least 800 different languages and several times as many dialects are spoken by the estimated 347 million people of the African continent.

Legal Notices

PUBLIC NOTICE ON REGISTERING LIVESTOCK BRANDS

The attorney general is reminding every citizen who has registered a brand prior to Aug. 30, 1981 that citizens must re-register each brand with the county clerk within six months in order to protect their right to it. If everyone follows the registration schedule set out by the law, county clerks will have a correct, revised set of records every ten years, and there should be no dispute about the correct ownership of livestock.

To register or re-register marks and brands, the livestock owner may obtain forms either by mail or in person from his or her county clerk's office. There will be blank spaces on the form in which to describe the mark or brand and the location on the animal where the brand is recorded.

The forms should then be mailed or delivered in person to the county clerk, who will keep the forms in an indexed bound volume or on microfilm for easy reference. B.F. CAIN, County Clerk Deaf Smith County 40-29

The Commissioners of Deaf Smith County will open bids at 10 A.M. September 14, 1981 in the Courthouse for the following:

3 cars for the Sheriff's Department; a used tractor for Precinct 3 to be purchased with Revenue Sharing funds. Specifications may be picked up at 242 E. 3rd in Hereford. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids. 38-10c

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Problem is motivation

DEAR DR. LAMB - I weigh 175 pounds. I have read that you can lose inches and not lose weight. Is that true? I know exercise is good for you but I don't have much time to run. By the time I finish my work I am tired. I do lots of walking some days. I don't walk slow but fast. What do you think of walking?

DEAR READER - People usually make time to do the things they really want to do. Your problem is motivation and you are not alone.

Since your main goal seems to be to lose weight you don't need to run or jog. You can walk. To lose calories, distance is the most important factor. You don't need to walk fast and be uncomfortable either. If you walk a mile fast or slow you will use about 60 calories more than you would if you were sitting still. Since you weigh more than 150 pounds you will lose a little more. It doesn't matter much if you walk four miles an hour or only two. Use distance, not time, as your guide.

Yes, you can lose inches and not lose pounds. Why? Because pounds are pounds of everything you put on the scales, whether it is body water, fluid, fat or muscle. When a person exercises and improves the size of the muscles, the muscle weight increases. If he is using more calories than he consumes he will lose fat. As muscles increase and fat decreases the waistline may shrink as the arms or legs increase, changing a person's proportions but not the weight on the scales.

A pound of lean muscle contains only about 600 calories because it is more than 70 percent water but a pound of fat contains about 3,500 calories. So you could gain weight while losing calories simply by growing muscles while losing fat.

Almost everyone can walk. You can use your pulse as a guide to how much you are doing. Also you can break it up into short walks. I believe if everyone would walk just four miles a day we would have far fewer health problems.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I was reading a book and found that the character in the book used isometrics to increase his muscle size and density. I was wondering if you could tell me anything about isometrics and the different kinds.

DEAR READER - Hold your arm out in front of you. Now tense all the muscles in your arm so that your muscles are contracting against each other. As long as the opposing muscle groups are contracting against each other, without moving, that is an isometric exercise.

By contrast, an isotonic exercise involves moving the muscles through their normal range of contraction and relaxation. Straining against a stationary object is an isometric exercise but running is an isotonic exercise.

Any time you work a muscle against resistance it will be stimulated to grow. The resistance may be a weight or a machine that loads the muscles. An isometric exercise just uses your own muscles to provide the resistance to movement.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Fisher

Grout won't whiten

DEAR POLLY - The grout between the ceramic tiles in my bathroom is no longer white. I've tried using my regular bathroom cleaners on it, but while they leave the tile bright and shiny, they don't whiten the grout. Do you know how to clean it? - MAY

DEAR MAY - The best thing to use for cleaning the grout between bathroom tiles is regular chlorine bleach. Use it full strength and scrub it on with a toothbrush. Rinse thoroughly with plenty of clear water. This will whiten the grout, and kill mildew, which is usually a major reason for the darkening. There are commercial products available that will clean the grout, but their main active ingredient is chlorine bleach. Straight bleach will do the job inexpensively and quickly. Do wear rubber gloves to protect your hands. - POLLY

DEAR V.H. - The trick with the water, the lid and the fried eggs is an excellent one. The eggs cook more thoroughly, quickly and gently without getting too hard or rubbery. When making scrambled eggs, substituting plain water for milk is also nice for a change. It makes the eggs a bit lighter and more yellow - not as creamy as when you use milk. Generally I use milk when I'm making scrambled eggs and water when I'm making an omelet. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - To remove severe stains from non-stick coated pans, mix a solution of one part baking soda, two parts chlorine bleach and four parts water; pour into the pan and boil for 10 minutes. The pan will need washing and rinsing after this treatment, and then a light wiping with vegetable oil. - T.P.

person who has been through the program. Congratulations on your effort.

Of course, I would like to see all alcoholics use programs such as AA that help them. And I am sure that Al-Anon, which is for the families and friends of alcoholics, will advise anyone who comes to them how to best get their relative or friend involved with AA. Both organizations are useful.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I was reading a book and found that the character in the book used isometrics to increase his muscle size and density. I was wondering if you could tell me anything about isometrics and the different kinds.

Reagan May Face New Decisions on Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF
Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — An economic trap snares even the most adroitly planned economic decisions these days, and leaves individuals, industry and the president of the United States at a loss to do anything about it.

It is likely to force on President Reagan the unpleasant alternatives of reducing the size of military buildup he promised or renegeing on his promise to balance the federal budget.

And force on the Federal Reserve the painful alternatives of a tight money policy that could force many bankruptcies, or easing up and thus risking the possibility that inflation will roar out of control.

Carmakers have similar dilemmas, as demonstrated by their actions in announcing price increases on 1982 models, even while watching current sales shrivel because potential buyers feel they cannot afford cars.

Individuals know about nasty choices. Would-be homebuyers must decide whether to buy now, and face payments beyond their means, or delay and possibly watch prices grow faster than their paychecks.

Automobile owners in growing numbers face a difficult choice. To trade in the old car for a new one would mean big monthly installments. To retain the old car might mean budget-wrecking repair bills.

Small-business proprietors are increasingly confronted with the no-win decision of whether to absorb growing costs in order to keep customers, or raise prices and watch customers flee to the nearby chainstore.

They are often faced with a particularly difficult personnel decision too: forced to pay 25 percent interest rates for inventories, they must consider laying off old-time employees that have almost become family.

Big business has to decide whether to borrow at record-high rates for improvements that will make them competitive tomorrow; or save costs, concentrate on looking good now, and let tomorrow take care of itself.

With the federal government less inclined to finance state projects, and with states unable to finance some local services, elected officials are forced to cut workers — a great danger to re-election.

Throughout the economy, the alternatives are nasty, but perhaps nowhere are they more sharply delineated than

In the White House.

President Reagan suddenly appears to be faced with a brand-new set of decisions, none of which can be made without some damage. Consider:

—To cut projections for military spending would appear to be contrary to a fundamental position of his administration, which is to rebuild the American military.

—Not to cut would endanger his promises of balancing the budget. To forgo hopes for budget balance would be to abandon a position at least as fundamental as a stronger military.

He is faced with still another potential conflict — with the Federal Reserve Board. The Fed is dug in and determined to fight inflation to the end, whatever that might bring. For Reagan is could be bad news.

Bad news, for example, if the Fed lost control of the reins and let the economy fall into a ditch — into a recession so bad that the Fed would have little choice but to desperately re-inflate.

Either way — if the economy were restrained so badly that federal revenues shrank below expectations, or if the Fed were forced to re-inflate — the Reagan program could be seriously disrupted.

Suddenly, there seem to be no clear-cut options in which everyone comes out looking good. All the alternatives are nasty ones. All the decisions seem to have potential for damaging someone or something.

400 'Cousins' Seek Cut of Hughes' Estate

HOUSTON (AP) — An attorney for about 400 distant cousins of Howard Hughes laying claim to a share of the billionaire's fortune abruptly rested his case after calling just nine of the 40 witnesses he had scheduled.

Attorney George Parnum said Wednesday his case had been eroded by a lack of documented evidence to support the claims of the 400 second, third and fourth cousins who are challenging the bloodlink of five Hughes paternal first cousins in the bitter estate feud.

Ollie Blan, the lawyer for about 100 other distant relatives contesting the estate claims of the first cousins, said Wednesday he might rest his case today without calling any witnesses.

Lawyers said the six-member jury could begin its deliberations on Friday.

In order to share in the estate, the 400 distant relatives must prove that Elspeth Hughes Lapp was not the true daughter of Hughes' uncle Rupert.
