WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, expressing doubts about the legitimacy of Nicaragua's unelected government, says he would consider open support for that country's "freedom fighters" if no congressional restrictions were attached.

But, in comments to six reporters Wednesday, Reagan said he hopes the administration will be able to continue covert aid to Nicaragua's rebels despite signs of strong Democratic resistance.

Reagan's expression of skepticism about the legitimacy of Nicaragua's government because it is unelected added a new dimension to the administration's campaign against the Sandinista leadership.

The United States maintains relations — often friendly — with a number of governments whose leadership is unelected, including Yugoslavia, Guatemala, China, Chile, Haiti and a host of African nations.

Additionally, the United States has had an ambassador in Nicaragua almost continuously since the 1979 revolution.

Reagan indicated that his doubts about Nicaragua's government stemmed from its leaders' renegeing on promises to promote democracy. "Other than being in control of the capital ... and having a handle on all the levers, what makes them any more a legitimate government than the people of Nicaragua who are asking for a chance to vote for the kind of government they want?" Reagan asked.

Reagan drew a sharp distinction between the rebel movements in Nicaragua and El Salvador. In contrast to the "freedom fighters" of Nicaragua, the "guerrillas" of El Salvador are living in a free country and "are fighting for a restraint on freedom," he said.

The administration generally has refused comment on allegations that it is backing Nicaraguan counter-revolutionaries. But Reagan's comments Wednesday represented the most candid admission to date of American support for them.

He said if Congress wants "to tell us that we can ... do the same things we've been doing — money, giving, providing subsistence and so forth to these people directly and making it overt instead of covert — that's all right with me. I just don't want the restrictions put on that they might put on."

Reagan spoke a day after the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence voted to prohibit any further aid to the Nicaraguan rebels.

The party line vote of nine Democrats in favor and five Republicans against does not reflect the sentiments of a "great many" other Democrats, he said, adding he hopes the committee decision will not be upheld by the full Congress.

At the State Department, deputy spokesman Alan Romberg called the committee decision "most unwise."

"Nothing in the legislation is designed to influence Sandinista behavior," he said. "On the contrary, the legislation gives carte blanche to the continued use of Nicaraguan territory as a sanctuary for insurgents.... Taken as a whole, the committee action encourages continued Sandinista aggression against Nicaragua's neighbors."

Meanwhile, Vice President George Bush on Wednesday lashed out at Democratic criticism of Reagan's Central America policies and called for a restoration of bipartisanship in foreign affairs.

In a Washington speech, Bush contrasted Republican support for President Kennedy during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis to the instant Democratic challenge to the policies Reagan outlined in his speech to a joint session of Congress a week ago.

Although Bush did not mention him by name, his target was Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn. Bush complained that Dodd went on national television with a speech that was prepared even before the Democrats knew what Reagan was going to say.

Bush suggested that the

Texas Senate passes Buffalo Lake measure

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate has passed Senate Bill 1269, sponsored by Sen. Bill Sarpalus, which calls for the creation of the Buffalo Lake Water District. Sen. Sarpalus says the establishment of a water district will help get Buffalo Lake back on its feet.

The lake at one time was a refuge for wildlife and a recreational area which people of all ages enjoyed. Many people believe that it could become an aid to flood control, and that it could help improve water levels in wells near the lake.

The lake, which is located northeast of Hereford, is now almost dry. At one time, thousands of people could be found at Buffalo Lake, fishing and swimming. An estimated 500,000 people live within a two hour drive from Buffalo Lake.

The United States Department of Interior still owns the lake. But, federal officials closed the refuge in 1980 when the spillway was declared unstable. The dam has gone unrepaired, and by some opinions is considered unsafe in its present state.

Sen. Sarpalus says the Buffalo Lake Water District will serve as a funding vehicle in order to repair and maintain the dam. "The bill sets up a mechanism for the federal government to assist the water district in restoring the lake," according to Sen. Sarpalus.

The Buffalo Lake Water District, if approved by the voters, will consist of a nine member board. Three members will be selected from Deaf Smith County, three from Potter County and three from Randall County. The jurisdiction of the district will be the Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge.

Auto industry breaking slump

By The Associated Press

With the help of falling interest rates, the U.S. auto industry continued in April to inch toward recovery from its deep, four-year depression, analysts say.

The five major American auto manufacturers reported Wednesday that sales in the final week of April rose 11.7 percent, led by a huge gain for American Motors Corp.

Sales for the full month — including those of the new Honda of America Manufacturing Co. Inc. — were up 16.3 percent. The daily sales rate was the highest for any April since 1979.

"April is really the first sign of spring, at least for the domestic manufacturers," said Harvey Heinbach, an analyst at Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc.

Declining interest rates are particularly good for the automakers since most cars are bought on credit. The high cost of borrowing in recent years was a key reason for sluggish sales. Interest rates have been falling irregularly for several months.

AMC, the biggest gainer in the April 21-30 period, reported a rise of 139.9 percent. The increase reflected the popularity of AMC's recently introduced Renault Alliance.

Chrysler's sales were up 63.6 percent in the 10-day period, General Motors Corp. gained 4.9 percent and Ford Motor Co. was up 2.6 percent. Volkswagen of America Inc. was the only loser, reporting a drop of 22.6 percent.

Separately, one of the country's largest collection agencies said its collection of commercial debts rose 6 percent in the first quarter. Bruhnke & Silver, which collects the debts of manufacturers for a fee, said the rise in collection orders from the previous three months is proof of a sluggish economy.

"This demonstrates that we're not out of the recession yet," said Daniel Silver, president of the company. "And enthusiasm about an economic recovery should be tempered with caution."

An increase in commercial collections means businesses are having trouble paying their bills, and thus can be considered a barometer of economic conditions.

Teacher pay raise heads to House

AUSTIN (AP) — The House went back to work on the 1984-85 budget today while Texas teachers kept an eye on planned attempts to get them a 24 percent pay raise.

The $30.8 billion budget worked up by the House Appropriations Committee includes only the automatic raises — up to 9.4 percent — required by law. But Rep. Betty Denton, D-Waco, said she would push for House approval of Gov. Mark White's 24 percent pay raise plan.

Mrs. Denton said she would not try to get the pay raise into the appropriations bill, which carries a rule requiring balanced amendments. To raise spending in one area, representatives must

PIK grain payoff $7.8 billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grain farmers will get an estimated $7.8 billion worth of free corn, wheat and sorghum — based on current market prices — for taking land out of production this year.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that corn producers will get about 1.76 billion bushels of grain as payment-in-kind to idle their land, an amount that has a current book value of $5.35 billion.

Wheat producers will get 548.6 million bushels of surplus PIK grain, which would be worth about $2 billion at current market prices.

Sorghum farmers will get 114.2 million hundredweight of grain worth an estimated $513.9 million on today's market.

The estimated values were computed from the latest USDA report showing market prices of corn at $3.04 per bushel nationally; wheat, $3.71 per bushel; and sorghum, $5.05 per 100 pounds.

Officials said corn producers will get $18.2 million bushels that they currently have under outstanding price support loans, and 946.2 million bushels from government inventories held by the Commodity Credit Corp.

Wheat farmers will get 233.1 million bushels they currently hold under loan, and 315.5 million bushels from CCC inventories.

Sorghum producers will get 48 million hundredweight now under loan, and 66.2 million from the CCC.

No figures were released for rice and cotton, and officials said those would be available later.

Reagan courts Texas Hispanics

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — President Reagan, courting Hispanics in preparation for a probable reelection bid, declared today that America is in for strong and sustained economic growth, but said his administration has not forgotten "those many people who are still waiting for the upturn to reach them."

At festivities celebrating Cinco de Mayo, a national Mexican holiday, Reagan added that "many of these people have always worked and what they've had to endure has been a shattering experience. Well, we're not forgetting them."

The president said that in the last decade some people thought "America's best days were behind her... that we should resign ourselves to a lower standard of living."

But America, he said, "is emerging from the economic troubles we inherited from the 1970s. We've taken the tough medicine, and we're in for strong and sustained economic growth."

Speaking in a border state troubled by the devaluation of the Mexican peso, Reagan announced he would appoint an inter-agency panel to recommend specific actions

"to alleviate some of the hardship caused by economic uncertainty on the other side of the border. This is not just your're problem; it's our problem and we'll meet it together."

U.S. helicopter attacked

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem-Christian artillery battles in the hills overlooking Beirut engulfed the capital today, leaving five dead, 22 wounded and a helicopter carrying the U.S. Marine commander peppered with machine-gun fire in the fiercest action since Israel's invasion last summer.

The Christian Voice of Lebanon radio said in addition to the five dead casualties reported by police, three other people were killed as the shelling spread in mid-afternoon to cover a cluster of Christian towns along a 12-mile stretch of coast from Beirut to the port of Jounieh.

A motorcade carrying President Amin Gemayel made it back safely to the presidential palace from west Beirut during the shelling, but three machine-gun rounds tore through a U.S. Marine helicopter sent aloft with the Leatherneck commander, Col. James Mead. Both Mead and the pilot were unharmed.

Marine spokesman Maj. Fred Lash said the chopper, which went aloft after French peacekeeping positions were shelled, was hit in the underside, the crew door and the rotor blade over the Christian village of Souk al-Gharb, six miles southeast of Beirut. The Christians denied responsibility.

The French contingent said one French soldier was slightly wounded by shrapnel at the French military communications center next to French Ambassador Paul-Marc Henry's residence in suburban Baabda, five miles southeast of Beirut.

Gemayel, who was in west Beirut meeting with Moslem leaders when the shelling began, returned safely to the Baabda presidential palace. He was believed to have crossed to east Beirut along a road shelled in the early stages of the bombardment, but there was no indication he was a target of the attack.

Female DI broke mold

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Although new soldiers sometimes tower over Kathey Atchley, the 5-foot-3 drill sergeant — named one of the best in the nation — says she has little trouble commanding her mostly male recruits.

She just does everything better than they do.

"Most men are motivated when they see me doing the exact same things they have to do. There is nothing more intimidating than having a female drill sergeant out there running circles around you," said the seven-year Army veteran.

"We've had female drill sergeants here since 1978, and it's been a long hard road to prove ourselves," said Ms. Atchley, a staff sergeant who finished third in last week's national competition at Fort Monroe in Virginia and was named Fort Dix's drill sergeant of the year.

Ms. Atchley, who served in West Germany before coming to New Jersey, made the nationals after receiving high grades for her ability to mold young recruits into disciplined soldiers during basic training.

"It's sort of like taking children and raising them up in eight weeks," said Ms. Atchley, who is single. "You have to be very tough and still have the flexibility to be not so tough depending on the individual cases."

The 31-year-old from New Hope, Ala., said Wednesday she gave little thought to being selected post drill sergeant for 1983, an honor that had always gone to a man. And she didn't dream of finishing well in the national competition.

"I had sort of been told it was impossible and I started to believe it. I didn't expect to win at the post level," said Ms. Atchley, who was one of two women among the nine finalists.

Ms. Atchley, who has been a drill sergeant at Fort Dix for almost two years, is used to fighting off first impressions.

"The majority of my troops have been male," she said. "I'm only 5-3 and very slender and they look and say 'Wow, a female drill sergeant. This is going to be easy.' After about three days, they realize I'm in charge. I'm very stern and I tell them you need me to graduate."

Her reward for being selected the top Fort Dix drill sergeant is that she is no longer a drill sergeant.

With the honor come desk duties as the liaison between the post commander and other drill sergeants. Next year, when the 1984 drill sergeant of the year is selected, Ms. Atchley expects to return to the line of work for which she was trained — repairing communications teletype machines.

Yet, Ms. Atchley already is yearning for the time when she will return to the grueling 16-hour days of a boot camp leader.

"I'm sure I'll be a drill sergeant again some day," she said. "I can't wait. At first, it took a little getting used to, but it's one of the most challenging jobs I've ever had. It's like a natural high."

Artist thinks beard would help Reagan

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Legend has it that a little girl once told Abraham Lincoln he'd look better if he grew a beard. He did, and ended up in the White House. But what about President Reagan?

Artist Joe King thinks the nation's chief executive should also put some hair on his face, and he's painted a huge before-and-after poster to prove it.

The poster is plastered on the side of Harold's Tavern in Winston-Salem.

It shows two faces of the president — one as he is, and the other with a full, dark beard.

"I painted it and enlarged it to let everyone see how much younger he looks," said King.

The poster carries the caption, "Keep America Beautiful — Grow It!"

Harold Cain, who runs the tavern and said he voted for Reagan in 1980, thinks a beard could help the president in the 1984 race if he decides to seek a second term. He said the beard makes the 72-year-old president look 20 years younger.

"People might worry about voting for somebody who looks so old," said Cain. "See, it covers up all those wrinkles on his neck and all."

Chinese airliner lands at U.S. base in Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The Defense Ministry said a Chinese airliner landed in South Korea today after the pilot indicated some of the people on board wished to defect.

Passengers and crew aboard the Soviet-made Tu-154 aircraft were safe and "under the protection" of authorities at a U.S. Air Force base east of Seoul, it said.

Defense Ministry spokesman Brig. Gen. Park Chong-Shik refused to disclose the name of the base or its exact location for security reasons.

South Korean newspapers indicated the Chinese plane may have been forced to land by hijackers. One account said a note had been sent off the plane asking for food for 104 people. Another said three armed men were aboard the plane.

The Korean Broadcasting System reported that it had been told two people were seen carried from the plane on stretchers and taken to an ambulance shortly after the landing.

In Peking, a spokesman for the Civil Aviation Administration of China said he had no information about a possible hijacking or defection and that said CAAC has no Tu-154 planes.

Apartment surrounded in search of killer

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police surrounded an east side apartment building early today after an anonymous telephone caller told authorities one of three people wanted for questioning in the shooting death of a police officer was hiding there. Police began to seal off the neighborhood before dawn and tactical officers tried to convince the man to surrender, Deputy Police Chief Bill Newman said.

A nationwide alert was issued earlier for a car and three "heavily armed" suspects in connection with the shooting death of Officer Ronald Baker, 24.

The suspects, two men and a woman, were traveling in a van before abandoning it in a wooded area of a ranch near Cayuga in Anderson County, police said.

Police issued the alert Wednesday for a red Pontiac Trans Am.

The van, the land where it was abandoned and the car belong to an acquaintance of one of the suspects, police said. However, investigators said the man is not a suspect in Baker's killing.

Baker was shot five times, then run over twice by a van in the parking lot of an apartment complex in the Pleasant Grove section, police said.

Hustlers Go Western

Ceremony held for new store opening here

West Texas Western Store was officially opened and welcomed to Hereford Wednesday by members of the Hustler organization of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Tracy and Beverly Martin are managers of the store and come here from Canyon, where his parents—Sandy and Buell Martin—started West Texas Western Store in 1973. The store started on the Canyon square, then moved to the old Pancake House on the Happy Highway in 1976.

More room was acquired next door in 1981, and the store had a grand opening to celebrate the expansion. Terry, another son, is now manager of the Canyon store while Sandy helps as bookkeeper and buyer. Buell has been a longtime representative of the Stetson Hat Co., and continues to travel in that position.

At the ribbon-cutting ceremony Thursday, Tracy said the Martins "feel privileged to be in the community and we will strive to provide quality merchandise at reasonable prices."

Tracy added that he and his wife "are pleased with the welcome we've received, and the community appears to be filled with friendly and outgoing people." The Hereford store is located on the Canyon highway.

Both parties claiming victory on nuke freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides claimed victory after the House passed by a hefty 129-vote margin a long-debated resolution calling for a "mutual and verifiable freeze" on U.S. and Soviet nuclear arsenals.

Republicans allied with President Reagan in opposing the measure said they won crucial language linking a freeze with weapons reductions. Freeze advocates, however, asserted that the basic aim of halting the superpower arms race had emerged unscathed.

"This is a unique instance in the history of arms control," declared House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., just before Wednesday's 278-149 final vote on the resolution, which had grown out of a grassroots freeze movement spreading nationwide from a handful of town meetings.

The vote — culminating more than 40 hours of debate over six days — came after GOP leaders seized on the announcement of a new Soviet arms reduction proposal, saying Moscow's offer showed the need for giving Reagan more negotiating flexibility.

The freeze resolution, which is non-binding and largely symbolic, now goes to the Republican-controlled Senate, where its fate is uncertain.

Freeze proponent Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., conceded that winning approval of similar legislation would involve "an uphill battle in the Senate."

"We may not win on the first vote. But this is an issue which we will bring back again and again and on which ultimately we will prevail," Kennedy said.

Rep. William Carney, R-N.Y., flatly predicted the measure would never make it through the Republican Senate. "It will never reach the president's desk. If it does, it would be vetoed," Carney told reporters.

At the White House, spokesman Anson Franklin said Wednesday night the administration planned to comment today on the House vote.

Final passage came shortly after freeze advocates suffered a major setback with the House's 221-203 approval of an administration-supported amendment stipulating that arms reductions should be achieved within "a reasonable, specified period of time" after a freeze went into effect.

Minority Leader Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., said adoption of this and earlier amendments made the resolution "infinitely better" than when it went to the House floor in March.

Israelis still cannot agree to Lebanon troop withdrawal plan

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israel radio report today quoted political sources as saying that Israel cannot agree to the Lebanon troop withdrawal plan worked out by Secretary of State George P. Shultz because of problems over the role of Maj. Saad Haddad and limits on Israeli troops in joint patrols with Lebanese soldiers.

An Israeli official who briefed reporters at the Foreign Ministry said, "Nothing is final yet. There is a need for more work, more clarifications, more answers to questions." Both the official and political sources quoted by Israel radio requested anonymity.

But the Israeli newspaper Yedioth Ahronoth said the government "is leaning toward approving the Lebanon agreements."

Another paper said Israel should accept the accord to place responsibility for the success or failure of the Shultz mission on Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Even if Israel accepts the plan, Syrian and PLO forces in Lebanon must also agree to leave before troop withdrawals can be carried out.

Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir and Defense Minister Moshe Arens joined top aides at the Foreign Ministry to review the proposal, approved by Lebanon on Wednesday. Shultz's two deputies, special envoys Philip C. Habib and Morris Draper, spent time with Israeli negotiators and returned to Shultz's hotel early in the afternoon.

Israel wants a major command role for Haddad, the former Lebanese army major who leads an Israeli-backed militia in southern Lebanon. It also wants Israel troops, in tandem with Lebanese soldiers, to patrol the border area to make sure the zone is free from Palestinian guerrillas and their leftist allies.

There has been no official word on the contents of the accord, but the leftist Beirut newspaper As-Safir said it would make Haddad a ceremonial deputy commander of Lebanese forces in the south, and let Israel have 50 troops to help oversee a withdrawal.

The paper said the draft also would allow Israel to maintain a liaison office in Lebanon and let U.N. troops patrol Palestinian refugee camps in the south. However, the Israelis are opposed to any security role for U.N. troops in southern Lebanon and insist on more than a ceremonial role for Haddad.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin's Cabinet is to meet Friday to decide whether to endorse the draft. Shamir said the Cabinet probably would be asked to take a yes-or-no vote, so there would be no opportunity for last-minute revisions.

Cuban missile crisis might have come out differently if Republicans had used the same tactic as Dodd did last week. That could have given the Russians the impression the United States was divided in its attitude toward the placement of missiles in Cuba, Bush said.

On El Salvador, the State Department expressed disappointment over a Salvadoran appeals court decision upholding the dismissal of charges against three persons implicated in the 1981 murders of two Americans advisers to the Salvadoran land reform program.

"You can rest assured that the government of El Salvador is in no doubt as to our views on this matter," the department said.

decrease an equal amount from another area.

The White plan would cost $960 million, said Mrs. Denton.

"Where are you going to find that kind of money?" she said, referring to the tightly-drawn appropriations bill.

Her plan is to amend Center Rep. Bill Haley's public school finance bill, which could be debated shortly after the appropriations debate ends. Haley's bill is a comprehensive program including teacher pay raises smaller than White's proposal.

In a separate bill, Haley proposed a half-cent increase in the state sales tax to pay for teacher pay. That bill is stalled in committee.

Mrs. Denton said a 24 percent pay hike can be accomplished without raising taxes.

"The governor has gone to an approach we haven't seen in many years, take care of the teachers first," she said.

But Speaker Gib Lewis expressed doubts.

"I would think any amendment added to any bill that creates increased funds would have a provision raising those funds," said Lewis, who opposes any tax hike.

White ventured into the House during Wednesday's debate. He spoke briefly with Lewis and then told reporters, "We talked about several matters on the fiscal side."

Haley and other legislators said White's aides were in the House pushing the teacher pay raise plan.

White said he was pleased with Comptroller Bob Bullock's announcement

Wednesday that no revenue estimate decrease is needed now.

"Nothing has happened in our state economy over the past 30 days to cause me to raise or lower the estimate," said Bullock.

The pay-as-you-go provision of the Texas Constitution says lawmakers cannot spend more than the comptroller estimates will come in. In a series of revenue estimate revisions this year, Bullock has cut $2.5 billion from his forecast. He blamed declining oil prices and slumping sales tax collections.

White said Bullock's announcement "permits us to now make some firm decisions on the budget."

The House Appropriations Committee version of the budget differs from the $30.9 billion plan approved in the Senate last week. Senators also approved an additional $2.1 million in spending that is contingent upon House approval of a tax bill.

A House-Senate conference committee will have final say on the two-year budget.

Among the budget amendments approved Wednesday was Weatherford Rep. Bill Coody's $1.1 million change to build a fence at the Gainesville State School, who resides at the school as being a "fairly easy time walking away" from the facility for juvenile delinquents.

Coody took the money from executive salaries at the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council — an agency he said "couldn't find a quart of oil in an Exxon station."

The amendment was approved on voice vote.

to Texas in a week. He attended a fund-raiser for Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, in Houston last Friday.

Republican prospects for winning the vote-rich state in 1984 dimmed considerably last November when the Republican governor, William Clements, was ousted by a Democrat, Mark White.

In the process, White's campaign signed up an estimated 100,000 Hispanic voters, a key minority group, for the Democrats.

Reagan will be on the ground in San Antonio for 2 hours and 15 minutes to attend the Cinco de Mayo — fifth of May — festivities in Plaza Neuva.

Cinco de Mayo commemorates the 1862 victory at the Battle of Puebla, in which Gen. Ignacio Zaragoza led 2,000 Mexicans against 6,000 French troops who were heading for the Mexican capital.

Tickets for the outdoor event have been distributed by local city organizations and the Mexican consular-general's office. Reagan was expected to mention that he has appointed 130 Hispanics to positions in his administration.

Ed Rollins, the president's political adviser, said in a telephone interview that "there's no question the Hispanic vote is a very important vote. It's a growing population in this country."

Rollins said Reagan received 35 percent to 40 percent of the Hispanic vote in 1980.

Police checking theft complaints

Hereford police are investigating several theft, criminal mischief and burglary complaints reported Wednesday.

Police also arrested one person on a driving-while-intoxicated charge and another for public intoxication. Officers issued 14 traffic citations Wednesday.

Criminal mischief cases were reported at Blue Water Gardens, where the rear window of a vehicle was broken; at Tierra Blanca Motel, where the rear tire of a vehicle was slashed.

Two juveniles were apprehended inside a house

In the Sonoran Desert of Arizona they say the soil is so rich that with moisture it will grow anything. "Drop a seed on the ground, spit on it and jump back!"

But the dream of making the desert bloom with cotton and rain is not going to be realized anytime soon. A quarter of Arizona's farmland of a decade ago is now out of production as ground water in depleted and residual water becomes increasingly saline.

Nevertheless, even without water, the American desert grows some hardy weeds with agribusness potential.

Cotton needs five feet of water a year; jojoba can thrive in five inches. And jojoba beans produce a high-quality oil; 25,000 acres are presently commercially planted.

Guayule, as an alternative source of rubber, is being farmed by Gila river Indians for the Department of Defense.

Euphorbia lathyris once promised to produce 10 to 20 barrels of crude oil per acre, but hasn't yet.

A gumweed, grindelia, is being tested for its resin potential.

A Christian Science Monitor survey in 1980 revealed many hard-boiled desert crops with profit potential though none at that time had yet become a real money-maker.

The Aztecs 500 years ago harvested food from desert plants; we are just now relearning what they knew.

The grain, amaranth, can be popped like corn, ground into flour and the leaves eaten as a salad.

The Aztecs also ate the pods of the mesquite.

The buffalo gourd is a promising source of cooking oil and root starch.

Amaranth, tepary beans and screwbeans (mesquite pods) are already on the market and sell well in health food stores.

If we can learn to grow and harvest these crops commercially we can teach many arid nations to feed themselves.

Farmer Lamar Golding out of Round Rock, Texas, is harvesting a weed, marketing it in Europe.

The "blessed milk thistle," Carduus marianus, is harvested, combined, and the seed sold by thousands of pounds of organic pharmaceuticals firms in West Germany.

From part of the husk they produce a drug called Legalon 70 for treating cirrhosis of the liver. (Legalon 70 is not yet approved by our FDA for sale in the USA.)

Farmer Golding harvests 2,000 acres of these six-foot-high weeds each spring.

In Payson, Arizona, an enterprising boy of 12, Shawn Proskow, gathers dried weeds growing wild along roadsides, bundles and sells them to florists. He can also afford to pay classmates 15 cents a bundle for the weeds he then sells for 25 cents.

Weeds have been an expensive nuisance to farmers. Weeds and their eradication costs Idaho farmers and ranchers $500 million a year, more than the combined value of their potato, wheat and sheep crops. Those farmers, also, may soon be making friends of some old enemies.

Homes usually reflect the particular background or lifestyle of the inhabitants, and when you walk into Larry and Marlene Hendershot's house on Aspen St. you almost feel a bit of their native Kansas in the simple yet graceful antique furniture, quilts and coverlets, and other furnishings.

Even their split-level house, with basement and upper floor, is more typical of homes in Kansas than the one floor ranch style dwellings most often found in this part of the country.

The Hendershots lived in Kansas until after they were married and since then have lived in Missouri and Michigan before moving to Hereford almost two years ago.

"We were very pleased to find a house that our furniture fit in so well," smiles Marlene. "We had to leave some pieces behind because they are so heavy - made of oak."

Most of the antiques were purchased at auctions in Kansas and Missouri. The very first piece they obtained is a cabinet which holds colored Depression Glass given to Marlene by her mother.

"We really aren't collecting any antiques now," adds Marlene, "because we have enough and don't want the house to get cluttered."

One of Marlene's hobbies is sewing, and her newest adventure has been to make several jackets and nylon bags from kits. She says it's something she's really enjoying and that it's a challenge to make the items look like ready-made coats and bags that are purchased in a store.

Larry is employed at Arrowhead Mills as quality assurance manager. He had previously worked at Krause Mill in St. Joseph, Mo., and for Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Mich.

A native of Hutchinson, Kan., he earned his bachelor's degree in biology and his master's in grain science from Kansas State University in Manhattan. Marlene, who grew up in Manhattan, received a bachelor's degree in early childhood education from KSU.

She worked in a day care center there and a Christian preschool and day care in St. Joseph before her children were born.

The Hendershots' two sons are Matthew, who is celebrating his fourth birthday today, and Christopher, who was 2 years old in February.

Marlene is still keeping up her involvement with preschool children, not only through her own sons, but by teaching a 2 and 3-year-old Sunday school class at Community Church, where the family attends. "We plan to take the children to visit Westgate for Mother's Day," she smiles.

Marlene also helps out with other activities at church whenever she is needed. She and Larry currently host a "Cell Group," or small Bible study - share group, in their home each week.

The couple got involved in church very quickly after moving here, as they always do when moving to a new place. "That's how we've always gotten acquainted in a new community," comments Marlene. "We always develop a lot of close friendships within the church - ones that last even after we move on."

"We were warned that when we moved up north it would be more difficult to get acquainted and make friends, but we didn't find it so. We have really enjoyed all the places we've lived."

Marlene notes that they like Hereford, the smallest town they've ever lived in, and that people here are interested in them and easy to get to know. She adds that Larry enjoys his work at Arrowhead and that his job is challenging.

Her interest in his work carries over into how she cooks and bakes. "I cook as naturally as I can," she states. "I don't use sugar, but sweeten with honey, and when I use flour, I use whole wheat flour."

And contrary to what some mothers report, Marlene says that her children accept this way of eating very well.

"My mother likes natural foods too. She thinks the best thing that's happened to her is having a son-in-law working at Arrowhead Mills," laughs Marlene.

Also important are fresh vegetables and fruits. Larry and Marlene are planting a raised bed garden, and with intensive gardening techniques, they hope to grow a lot in a little bit of space.

"I try to can a lot of our foods for use in the winter," says Marlene.

She submits two cool spring and summer salad recipes which use plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables. The first is from "The Living Cookbook," which was written by Yvonne Turnbull, whose husband, Bob, was a speaker for Youth Quake this week.

CRANBERRY FROST SALAD

1 c. fresh or frozen cranberries, finely chopped
¼ c. honey
2 medium oranges
1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 tsp. vanilla
1 medium apple, finely chopped
½ c. chopped dates
1 c. whipping cream
lettuce

Combine the cranberries and honey; let stand 10 minutes. Meanwhile, peel and section one orange. Finely chop orange sections; set aside. Squeeze remaining orange to make a total of one-third cup juice.

Beat together the orange juice, cream cheese, and vanilla until fluffy. Stir in orange sections, cranberries, apples, and dates. Whip cream until soft peaks form. Fold whipped cream into cream cheese mixture.

Turn mixture into a 5-cup mold, 8x4x2 inch loaf pan, or eight individual molds. Cover, seal, label, and freeze at least three hours or as long as one month.

Before serving, let stand at room temperature for 10 to 15 minutes to soften slightly. Unmold onto lettuce-lined plate. Garnish with additional orange sections if desired. Yield-serves 8 to 9.

CRUNCHY FOUR SEASON SALAD

1 c. coarsely chopped green pepper half of a 16 oz. can med. pitted ripe olives half of an 18 oz. jar med. size stuffed green olives
2 c. diagonally chopped celery.

1 c. fresh mushrooms (add just before serving)
3 stalks broccoli (cut into small florets)
1 medium head cauliflower, cut up
12 green onions, chopped

OPTIONAL: 1 medium zucchini, sliced ¼ inch thick or 1 large cucumber
Mix all ingredients in large bowl, together with one 6 oz. bottle of Italian salad dressing or one package dry Italian salad dressing (make according to directions on package). Best if allowed to marinate one half day. Makes approximately 20 servings.

Ann Landers

Man appreciates article

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You made my day when you gave us the article on sex, "How Often." I am 67 and belong to the Once-A-Month Club.

Here's the story with me, Ann. My wife allows me to go to the dances by myself once a week. But because we don't have sex more often, she thinks that I am getting some on the side at the dance halls. This accusation is totally false but I have stopped trying to disabuse her of the notion because the more I defend myself the more she insists I'm covering up. (She has a hot temper.)

P.S. If you are ever around Rootstown, Ohio, on a Saturday night, stop in at the dance—I'll do a couple of polkas with you, Annie.—The "Rootstown Hooper" in Youngstown, Ohio

DEAR HOOVER: Thanks a heap. Your hot-tempered wife suspects you are fooling around at the dance hall and you're inviting me to come around for a couple of polkas? I am not interested in getting my name in the Youngstown paper. I get enough visibility in my daily column.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 39 and faced with a serious dental problem. I was born with soft teeth and-or some deficiency in my body. When I was 13, the dentists gave up on me and recommended that all my teeth be extracted.
Like most denture wearers,

I must use an adhesive to secure my plates. After 26 years a gum ridge in my mouth is nearly non-existent. The lower dental plate is down to bone.

Three years ago when I needed new plates I was given an option—surgery in which a piece of my rib would be taken and the prosthodontist would make me a new lower jaw bone "stand" on which a denture would be attached. None of the work was guaranteed and the price was $6,000 up front. (Insurance companies are not even in the picture.)

So now my question: After having viewed numerous TV programs and seen the advances made in the medical field, replacing lost limbs, hips, reconstruction of faces and the like, I wonder if it might be possible to use a silicone-like form to create lost gum ridge. Thanks for your help. You have more top-notch contacts than anyone in the country, and I am depending on you.—An Admirer in Sacramento

DEAR SAC: I contacted Reuben C. Warren, dean of Meharry Medical College

School of Dentistry. He turned my letter over to Dr. Charles Williams, associate professor of oral surgery and anesthesia at Meharry.

Dr. Williams said, "Although the procedure described is relatively new, it shows great promise if correctly done. However, I'm sure you have heard the cliché, 'The operation was a success but the patient died.'"

If you wish to contact Dr. Williams for more information, the address is Meharry School of Dentistry, 1006 18th Ave., Nashville, Tenn. 37208.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have heard it said that cigarette smoking impairs a person's sex performance. Is this true?—Contrary Mary in Minn.

DEAR MINN.: Yes, it is true. Especially during.

New officers installed by Alpha Alpha Chapter

Installation of officers for the new year was held when Alpha Alpha Preceptor Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met at the Reddy Room recently.

The new officers are Barbara Kendall, president; Geneva Summers, vice-president; Janey Allmon, recording secretary; Mary Jean Gore, corresponding secretary; and Alene Tindal, treasurer.

City Council representatives will include Karren Ruland, Lillie Shipman, and Barbara Kendall, with Janey Allmon as alternate.

President Toni Jones presided at the business meeting, during which a flyer from state convention was brought to the attention of the group so that those planning to attend could make reservations. The convention will be June 10-12 in Austin.

A thank you note was read from Roland Saul thanking the group for furnishing cookies for the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon held last Saturday.

A hamburger cook-out was planned for the end of the year social with husbands. It will be held at the home of Geneva Summers in Friona on May 21.

Toni Jones was congratulated for being elected Girl of the Year for Alpha Alpha Chapter at Founders Day.

At the conclusion of the meeting, members adjourned to the Flame Room, where they had been invited to a Tupperware party by Xi Epsilon Alpha Exemplar Chapter. The group played several games and enjoyed refreshments.

Alpha Alpha Chapter members in attendance were Barbara Burkhalter, Sharon Cramer, Bonnie Decker, Pam Fogo, Vida Grady, Jean Holbert, Katie Kendall, Mary Anna Laing, Jo Ann Richburg, Earline Schneider, Jan Walser, and Mmes. Jones, Kendall, Ruland, Shipman, and Summers.

Sundown reunion set

Sundown ex-students are planning to hold a reunion the 4th of July weekend. There will be a catered supper on Saturday, July 2, and other activities on Sunday, July 3.

Reservations will need to be made in advance and tickets should be purchased early.

"Remembrance Books" of each class will be on display at the reunion. Each ex-student is asked to write a letter on their life and-or a message from former classmates with a picture attached, if possible, and send it to Gaylene Fariss Helms, Box 433, Sundown, Tx 79372 soon so that it may be added to the book.

Meet Lakers Sunday

Spurs blow out Nuggets, 145-105

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The crowd started yelling it during the Spurs National Basketball Association playoff semifinal clincher with Denver and even San Antonio guard George Gervin, known as "Ice" for his cool demeanor, admitted he was thinking it.

"We want L.A.," the fans said. "We want L.A."

The Spurs got Los Angeles — by blowing out the Nuggets 145-105 Wednesday night to clinch their best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal series 4-1.

"I knew we had this game won after three quarters," said Gervin, who was the game's high scorer with 26 points.

San Antonio meets the Lakers in another best-of-seven series that begins Sunday in Los Angeles. The winner goes on to the NBA championship series.

"We feel very confident we can play with the Lakers," Spurs Coach Stan Albeck said. "Even in Los Angeles."

Johnny Moore, who scored 20 points Wednesday and wound up with an NBA playoff series record 71 assists, said the Spurs won by helping each other out.

"They had to score their points on the Spurs, not just individuals," Moore said. "It was a team effort."

That team effort added up to four playoff records for an NBA playoff five-game series — 181 total assists, 274 field goals made, 51.6 field goal percentage and 664 total points scored.

San Antonio set another playoff record, this one for a single game, with 51 assists Wednesday night.

Five other Spurs were in double figures besides Gervin and Moore and San Antonio outrebounded Denver 75-46.

"There was nothing we could do," Denver Coach Doug Moe said. "We really didn't want to get blown out as badly as we did."

"We got things going in the first quarter, but it wasn't enough," said Denver forward Kiki Vandeweghe, the league's No. 2 scorer in the regular season, who finished with only 13 points. "Once you start missing, it's contagious."

The Nuggets' only lead, 12-11, came early in the first quarter.

But San Antonio steadily pulled ahead and had Denver led 35-21 after the first period on nine straight points, including a three-pointer from Mike Dunleavy.

San Antonio scored 12 consecutive points in a two-minute stretch in the second quarter to build the margin to 67-38 with 3:12 left in the period. It was 72-46 at halftime.

San Antonio continued to dominate the Nuggets in the third quarter, leading 112-75 going into the final period.

Albeck emptied the bench in the last quarter — and his team still ended up hitting 54 percent of its field goals in the game, compared to 38 percent for the Nuggets.

Gene Banks scored 23 points for San Antonio, Edgar Jones 14, Mike Sanders 10 and Roger Phegley 12, including two three-pointers. Artis Gilmore had 17 points, 15 rebounds and blocked five shots.

Billy McKinney led the Nuggets with 20 points, while Alex English and Rob Williams added 18 apiece.

Sutton made proper choice

WOODLANDS, Texas (AP) — Hal Sutton reached a point in 1981 where he had to make a decision about tagging along after his father, learning about the oil business.

Now Howard Sutton occasionally follows his son around the golf course watching Sutton become the No. 2 money-winner on the PGA tour going into today's first round of the $400,000 Houston Coca Cola Open golf tournament at Woodlands Country Club.

Sutton, with $471,397 in career earnings in less than two years on the tour, clearly made the right decision.

"I was more or less goofing off and working a little for my Dad," Sutton said. "At the same time I was not really going anywhere in life an I finally decided that I had devoted a lot of my life to golf to that point and there was no need in throwing that away."

Sutton won the U.S. Amateur Championship in 1980 after a college career at Centenary College and thought of remaining an amateur and following in his father's footsteps.

"I followed him around trying to learn some of the decision processes that he went through and made," Sutton said. "Well, I guess I (enjoyed it) but at the same time I missed golf and golf is what my life is all about."

Sutton had a memorable rookie season in 1982, capped with his first victory in the Walt Disney Classic.

Sutton has six top 10 finishes and a victory in the Tournament Player's Championship this year and is one of the favorites here along with defending champion Ed

Sneed, Hale Irwin, Tom Kite and Gil Morgan.

"The biggest reason I started clicking was I just devoted my life to golf," Sutton said. "I do other things but everything is predicated by golf."

"I don't practice any more than the average pro but when I'm on the course my concentration is there."

Marfa interested in Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Late Saturday afternoon the town of Marfa, Texas, will switch its attention from doggies and cow ponies to a 3-year-old thoroughbred racehorse named Marfa.

At 5:38 p.m., EDT, Marfa, the colt, will race in the Kentucky Derby.

"Yes, there's definitely interest in the horse," said Bobby Martinez, 36, the $1-a-year mayor of the West Texas ranch town from which the colt gets his name.

"It's created a lot of national publicity," he said during a telephone interview Wednesday from Marfa, where he owns a food store. "Because of it, a lot of people are coming in for the celebration and we're full," he said, referring to the packed local motels and hotel.

The town and its 2,500 residents will begin a centennial celebration Friday. On Saturday, the big event will be a rodeo for ranch hands, but the competition will be halted so folks can watch the Derby on television.

"They're going to set up TV screens," said Shelley Gilbert-Allison, a staffer at the weekly Big Bend Sentinel newspaper. "Interest is very high. We've gotten calls from everywhere...from Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Lexington."

A crowd in the neighborhood of 125,000 is expected at Churchill Downs Saturday to watch Marfa run in the Derby.

The colt was named by two of his three owners, Bob French, who owns a large ranch near Marfa, and Barry Beal, a Midland oilman. They also have named other horses after Texas towns.

Terlingua, a daughter of Secretariat who won important 2-year-old filly stakes in 1978, was named for a town about 100 miles southeast of Marfa, which is the site of an annual national chili contest.

Ft. Davis, another 3-year-old colt, trained by Wayne Lukas, who trains and also co-owns Marfa, is named for a town about 25 miles from Marfa.

Marfa's interest in Marfa began "about the Christmas holidays when a local fellow saw him race in California," said Martinez. Marfa finished second in a six-furlong maiden race at Santa Anita Jan. 1.

Marfa really began following Marfa when the gray colt won the Jim Beam Spiral Stakes at Latonia and the Santa Anita Derby April 16.

In his last start, the Blue Grass Stakes April 28 at Keeneland, Marfa interfered with two horses and was disqualified from second to fourth.

But he remains a strong Derby contender and probably will be the favorite as part of a Lukas-trained entry with Balboa Native and Total Departure.

Should Marfa win the Derby, there is one drawback. The Big Bend Sentinel won't be able to run a story about it until it comes out next Thursday.

Carew raises average to .489

Angels batter Birds, 16-8

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

Doug DeCinces didn't have his own number — but he sure had Baltimore's. And so did the rest of the California Angels.

They battered the Birds 16-8 Wednesday night, two of the big shots homers by ex-Oriole DeCinces, wearing a numberless, nameless uniform for the second night in a row. "My jerseys were either stolen or weren't packed," he said. "It doesn't make any difference."

It also didn't make any difference who was pitching for the Orioles or batting against them. The Angels pounded out 18 hits against Scott McGregor and three relievers. Rod Carew had four of them to raise his batting average to .489. Juan Beniquez also had four hits and Tim Foli three. Carew, Bob Boone, Brian Downing and Bobby Clark each drove in two runs.

Elsewhere in the American League it was Boston 7, Oakland 1; Toronto 7, Texas 1; Cleveland 11, Minnesota 7; Chicago 3, Milwaukee 2; Seattle 5, Detroit 1, and New York 8, Kansas City 1.

DeCinces' homers, his seventh and eighth of the season, tops in the majors, were a solo shot off McGregor in the first inning and a two-run blast off Sammy Stewart in the sixth. Ford, incidentally, drove in three runs for Baltimore. Ken Singleton had the Orioles' hot bat with four of their 13 hits, two runs scored and two RBI.

Red Sox 7, A's 1

Southpaw Bruce Hurst, who underwent surgery on his left elbow last winter and had to battle his way back onto Boston's pitching staff, stymied Oakland with a five-hitter, the first complete game for the Red Sox this season and his first in 36 starts since he first joined the team in 1980.

"I just wanted to go nine in the big leagues," he said. "It's been over a year, with Pawtucket in Triple-A, since my last complete game."

The Red Sox put the game away early, scoring four runs against Rick Langford in the second inning, two of them on Dwight Evans' single. Tony Armas homered for Boston in the seventh inning, his first hit in 21 at-bats in Fenway

Park this year. Rick Miller had three hits for the Red Sox. Blue Jays 7, Rangers 1

Like Hurst, Luis Leal of the Blue Jays pitched a five-hitter. And like Miller, Alfredo Griffin had three hits for Toronto in the romp against the Rangers. But unlike Hurst, who lost his shutout bid in the eighth inning, Leal took his string of goose-eggs into the ninth before being tagged for a run.

Indians 11, Twins 7

Mike Fischlin drove in three runs for Cleveland and Chris Bando hit a tie-breaking grounder to spark a four-run ninth inning that beat the Twins. Fischlin had a sacrifice fly and two RBI-singles and Pat Tabler added a two-run homer for the Indians.

White Sox 3, Brewers 2

Rookie Lorenzo Gray's first two major-league RBI capped Chicago's three-run burst in the second inning that sent winless Bob McClure down to his fifth loss of the season.

Tom Paciorek doubled, Carlton Fisk singled and Rusty Kuntz singled for the first run by the White Sox. An infield hit by Mike Squires loaded the bases wd up the middle.

Mariners 5, Tigers 1

Todd Cruz' two-run homer and Pat Putnam's solo shot boosted the Mariners past Detroit, which got a solo homer from Alan Trammell.

Jim Beattie scattered six hits in seven innings and Roy Thomas earned his first major-league save. Both of Seattle's homers came off Jack Morris, who has given up eight in 471-3 innings.

Yankees 4, Royals 1

Dave Winfield and Don Baylor slugged solo homers, Shane Rawley scattered nine hits and Kansas City catcher Don Slaught gave the Yanks three runs with a wild throw.

Winfield singled, Baylor was hit by a pitch and Steve Kemp walked to load the bases in the eighth inning, then Lou Piniella grounded to third baseman Greg Pryor. His throw home forced Winfield, but Slaught, trying for the double play, threw wildly past first and three runners sprinted home.

Controversy running high

McEnroe seeking quarterfinal berth

NEW YORK (AP) — With controversy swirling around him as strong as the winds that have plagued the West Side Tennis Club this week, second-seeded John McEnroe

Weekly scrambles slated Tuesday

A weekly scrambles event for women will be held at the John Pitman Course each Tuesday, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Some 14 women competed in the first tourney this week. Golfers are requested to be at the course by 5:15 p.m. on Tuesday, if they wish to play.

Scrambles prizes will be awarded at the monthly meeting of the Hereford Women's Golf Association.

was to finally make his debut in the $500,000 Mercedes Tournament of Champions.

The tempestuous left-hander was looking for a spot in the quarterfinals of this champions-only event when he took on Jan Gunnarson of Sweden today.

McEnroe, who has never won the $100,000 first-place prize here at Forest Hills, received a first-round bye and then advanced into the third round when Jairo Velasco of Colombia failed to make an appearance Wednesday. Velasco also received a first-round bye.

Although McEnroe has yet to get on the court for a singles match, he already is embroiled in yet another controversy. Top-seeded Ivan Lendl made it very clear Tuesday night that he felt McEnroe's on-court actions in their last meeting — in the title match of the WCT Finals in Dallas last Sunday — was responsible for McEnroe's five-set victory.

"He's trying to take away from my victory," said McEnroe, who was subdued when he answered Lendl's charges at a news conference on Wednesday. "I feel bad that he's got to resort to something like that."

"All I have to say on that subject is the grapes are pretty sour right now . . . That shows you what a classy person he is. What more is there to say?"

Among other things, Lendl charged that McEnroe's continual challenging of line calls intimidated the officials and caused them to make calls in McEnroe's favor. The New Yorker disagreed.

"Not one call was changed because I questioned them," he said. "Maybe that's a lesson I should learn from."

Baker shoots 83 in junior high golf vs. Bovina

Bobby Baker's 83 paced Hereford junior high golfers against Bovina players earlier this week at the John Pitman Course.

In the dual match between the two schools, Hereford also got an 87 from Heath White, 92s from Jason Bullard and Johnny Urias and a 93 from Casey Daniels.

Golf coach Mike Fields said Hereford golfers will be divided into teams next week for a scrambles tourney.

McEnroe did see action in doubles Wednesday night, teaming with Peter Fleming to oust Jose Luis Clerc of Argentina and young Manuel Rodriguez of France 6-3, 6-0.

During the match, trainer Steve Parker was called onto the court to wrap McEnroe's right thigh. However, the leg didn't appear to hamper McEnroe's movement nor his racket touch.

Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, the No. 3 seed, made his first appearance at Forest Hills since capturing the U.S. Open in 1977, the last year America's premiere tennis event was played at the famed West Side Tennis Club. He fought back from a 2-5 first-set deficit to defeat Van Winitsky 7-5, 6-2 in a second-round match.

"I always liked Forest Hills, even before I won the Open," Vilas said. "It has more personality than Flushing Meadow (the present U.S. Open site). It has tradition."

Moving into the quarterfinals was fifth-seeded Vitas Gerulaitis, who downed 1981 T of C champion Eddie Dibbs 7-6, 6-4.

Gerulaitis won this event in 1980.

In other second-round matches Wednesday, Scott McCain upset sixth-seeded Wojtek Fibak of Poland 7-5, 7-5; No. 4 Kevin Curren of South Africa defeated Jaime Fillol of Chile 7-5, 0-6, 6-2; No. 8 Paul McNamee of Australia downed Larry Stefanki 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 and No. 13 Henri Leconte of France stopped Bolivia's Mario Martinez 6-4, 6-2.

Schmidt, Diaz power Phillies past Reds; Show blanks Cards

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

For the second straight night, it was the Mike and Bo Show in Philadelphia...while in San Diego, it was strictly Show's show.

Mike Schmidt and Bo Diaz accounted for seven runs between them for the second straight game to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 9-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday night.

Eric Show, meanwhile, blanked St. Louis on seven hits to pitch the San Diego Padres to a 10-0 decision over the Cardinals.

"They're knocking in runs when they're supposed to," said Phillies Manager Pat Corrales of his hottest hitters after Schmidt knocked in four runs and Diaz three.

"It's at the right time," Corrales added, "because we're going into a key series

Giants 7, Cubs 4

Jack Clark's two-run single keyed the San Francisco attack as the Giants defeated Chicago behind left-hander Atlee Hammaker.

Hammaker, 3-1, lost his bid for a third shutout in the seventh inning when the Cubs scored all of their runs, two of them on a single by Jerry Morales. Only one of the runs was earned, though, and Hammaker kept his National League earned run average lead at 1.24.

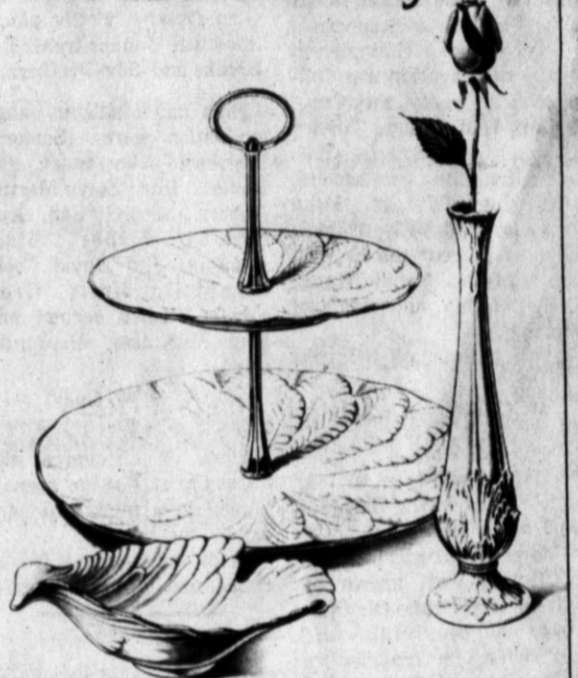

Dodgers 3, Pirates 2

Pedro Guerrero blasted his seventh home run of the season in the bottom of the ninth inning, leading Los Angeles over Pittsburgh. Guerrero picked on a 2-0 pitch from Pirate reliever Manny Sarmiento, 0-1, with one out and lofted it into the left field seats.

The Pirates had taken a 2-1 lead in the top of the eighth on a run-scoring grounder by Dave Parker. But the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning when Mike Marshall scored from third as Jose Morales struck out on a wild pitch from Pittsburgh reliever Rod Scurry.

Special observance to honor older Americans

COLLEGE STATION — "Since one in nine Americans is now over 65, and that number is growing, it's about time that we do away with some of the myths about aging," says Judith Warren, a family life education-aging specialist.

May has been declared "Older Americans Month," and in Texas, "Older Texans Month," to call attention to the needs, contributions, interests and problems of people over 65 as well as the myths about aging, says Warren, a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

One of the greatest myths we have about older people is that they are dependent, living mostly with relatives or in nursing homes, says Warren.

But according to figures from the Select Committee on Aging, more than 75 percent of older men and 38 percent of older women are married and live with their spouses in independent households. Most of those remaining are widowed, with only about 10 percent of older adults being divorced or never married.

Older people who don't live with a spouse, also don't live with other relatives, states

Warren. In fact, research shows that most older adults do not want to move in with adult children, although they do want emotional involvement with their families, she adds.

Those few aging parents who do move in with adult children are likely to be older and suffering from health or financial problems.

About 30 percent of those over 75, for example, live as a dependent with an adult child. Most often this is accepted as an intermediate step between living independently and requiring nursing home care, she notes.

says Warren. As greater numbers of Americans become aged, we will need to find more ways to make independent living possible for those who desire it, she adds.

Water ways

The first known system for delivering water to cities was built by the Phoenicians. The Greeks copied the Phoenician system of digging water tunnels. Next the Romans developed aqueducts 50 to 100 feet high, bringing water to Rome from more than 60 miles away through the force of gravity.

WOULD YOU BE THE ONE IN TEN?

As Jesus and His disciples continued onward toward Jerusalem, they reached the border between Galilee and Samaria, and as they entered a village there, ten lepers stood at a distance, crying out, "Jesus, sir, have mercy on us!" He looked at them and said, "Go to the Jewish priest and show him that you are healed!" And as they were going, their leprosy disappeared! One of them came back to Jesus, shouting, "Glory to God. I'm healed!" He fell flat on the ground in front of Jesus, face downward in the dust, thanking Him for what He had done. This man was a despised Samaritan. Jesus asked, "Didn't I heal ten men? Where are the nine? Does only this foreigner return to give glory to God?" And Jesus said to the man, "Stand up and go; your faith has made you well." One day the Pharisees asked Jesus, "When will the Kingdom of God begin?" Jesus replied, "The Kingdom of God isn't ushered in with visible signs. You won't be able to say, 'It has begun here in this place or there in that part of the country.' For the Kingdom of God is within you." Luke 17:11-21

CRITICS POLL

"Best of the year" nominees of the critics seldom match those of the public. Movie critics invariably choose some foreign film that never played in your town, while the top box-office grosser was a Clint Eastwood flick. Book awards go to something you'd study in school rather than a little off the best-seller list. It's not that critics are snobby, it's just that they're exposed to a greater quantity and variety of material than most, and tend to be impressed by things a little off the beaten track. Rock On's critics judge such qualities as intensity, originality and longevity. Here is Rock On's Critics Poll for 1982:

TOP FIVE ALBUMS:
1. "Love Over Gold." Dire Straits
2. "Big Science." Laurie Anderson
3. "All the Best Cowboys Have Chinese Eyes." Pete Townshend
4. "The Secret Policeman's Other Ball." Various Artists

Under New Management

Pat Walker's Beauty Salon is open under new management and the Hereford Hustlers held a ribbon-cutting ceremony here Tuesday to welcome the new owner. Becky Maxwell, center with plaque, is the new owner and manager. She is flanked by Susette Edwards, left, and Connie Baker, staff member. The Hustlers serve as goodwill ambassadors for Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Spring luncheon is enjoyed by members

A spring luncheon was held by members of La Afflatus Estudio Club recently in the home of Mrs. Pett Ott. Tables were decorated with spring flowers and lunch was served by the social committee, Emily Suggs and Jennie Terrell.

Eleven members and one guest, Jean Holden, enjoyed the meal. After lunch, Ms. Ott, president, called the meeting to order. Club collect was led by Ms. Terrell and members answered roll call with "A Thought for Today." Minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

After some discussion, the club voted to make a $50 donation to Prairie Acres Nursing Home in Friona to be used toward buying a van for the home. Several residents of the home are from Hereford and the van will be used to take residents to the doctors and for other errands.

Others present were Opal Elliston, Tresa Hale, Alberta Higgins, Lydia Hopson, Lucille Hughes, Allyene

Johnson, and Mary Williamson.

The next meeting will be Sept. 6 with members of the yearbook committee serving as hostesses.

May Fellowship Day observance tomorrow

The Hereford unit of Church Women United will celebrate May Fellowship Day on Friday with a covered dish luncheon at 12 noon in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church. Working people, and men as well as women are encouraged to participate in this ecumenical experience. Women are asked to bring dishes large enough to serve eight or ten people.

A nursery will be provided. Mrs. Brenda Reinauer will lead in a Bible study and Johnny Ray Watson will minister through music following the meal.

This year's services was written by women of Black denominations related to Church Women United. They take their theme from the spiritual, "There is a Blam in Gilead," and their inspiration from the lives of Black women who have left their mark on this country's history.

The offering taken for May Fellowship Day will go to help support Operation Good Shepherd.

Rebekahs honor mothers at recent salad supper

Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 met in regular session Tuesday evening at Odd Fellow Hall. Following a short business meeting led by Noble Grand Lavita Fitzgerald, mothers and guests were honored with a salad supper and games of bingo.

Honored guests included Karen Haigood, Gladys Merritt, Revella Skypala, Pauline Albright, and Doris Wilson.

Members attending were Irene Merritt, Kee Ruland,

Ursalee Jacobsen, Verna Sowell, Ada Hollabaugh, Edna Mathes, Dorothy Lundry, Stella Hershey, Gene Bishop, Helen Bishop, Karrol Rettman, Lydia Hopson, Beth Hall, Fred Ruland.

Also, Elmer Combs, Roberta Combs, David Rettman, Ben Conklin, C.D. Fitzgerald, Susie Curtsinger, Bessie Lawrence, Sadie Shaw, Anna Conklin, Guy Lawrence, Kaye Bell, Peggy Fitzgerald, Faye Brownlow, and Lavita Fitzgerald.

Frederick receives scholarship

Brian A. Frederick of Hereford has been named a recipient of a college-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarship to Texas A&M University in College Station, where he plans to study civil engineering.

Frederick has also received a Lechner Fellowship Award, and has served as church pianist and student counselor. He has been a member of honor society, was basketball starter on the Nazarene district champion team, and was a member of the district all-star basketball team.

The approximately 5,300 Merit Scholars named this year were selected from over one million high school students who took the qualifying test. Scholarships presented through the National Merit Scholarship Program are sponsored by 190 U.S. higher education institutions, as well as corporations and company foundations.

In 1943 Georgia became the first state to grant 18-year-olds the right to vote.

We are confident that 1983-1984 will be years of great economic significance for all of West Texas.

More people will learn of God's plan of economy and will begin to use it and appropriate God's Blessings upon themselves, their businesses, their farms and their cities. Let me share God's plan with you Give to others, and God will give to you: you will receive a full measure, a generous helping, poured into your hands - all that you can hold.
 The measure you use for others is the one God will use for you.

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

When we see this and know God means it, then we are ready to accept the fact that anything we can dream, pray to God about and believe in, can and will become reality.

Jesus answered them: "Remember this! If you have faith in God, you can say to this hill, 'Get up and throw yourself in the sea'. If you do not doubt in your heart, but believe that what you say will happen, it will be done for you. For this reason I tell you: When you pray and ask for something, believe that you have received it, and everything will be given to you.

Then we can stand in awe as we watch Him work in our lives, in our businesses and in our economy. Try Him. He stands true to His word.
 We will see you soon in one of Looney and Sons Family Restaurants enjoying God's Blessing upon you.

Senate approves revisions

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — Texas farmers and residential users of natural gas would be affected widely by a House-passed bill that still needs one more approving Senate vote.

If finally approved by the Senate, the measure goes back to the House for approval of Senate amendments.

The major Senate amendment, by Howard, to deregulate trucking for agriculture products was approved Wednesday by the Senate, the measure goes back to the House for approval of Senate amendments.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Vitamins for the heart
DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 69-year-old male in good health except for atrial fibrillation. On my annual physical the electrocardiogram showed a bundle branch block for the first time. I have been taking one and a half Lanoxin tablets daily for the past 16 months. Did the Lanoxin cause the bundle branch block?

Also I read a book on vitamin E for hearts. Do you think that vitamin E would be beneficial for my heart? I'm 5-foot-9 and weigh 176 pounds.

DEAR READER — In your age group the most likely cause of your atrial fibrillation is fatty-cholesterol blockage of the arteries to your heart. That does not mean complete blockage but some changes, enough to irritate the heart and cause fibrillation. There are other causes of atrial fibrillation which your doctor has probably ruled out.

And the most likely cause for a bundle branch block developing in your age group is also coronary artery disease. Your doctor may be giving you Lanoxin to increase the strength of the heart contractions to improve its function or he may be giving it to control your heart rate in the presence of atrial fibrillation.

While vitamin E has some very good uses, such as in controlling leg cramps in some people and in newborns, there is no reliable evidence that it is beneficial in either preventing or treating heart disease, notwithstanding the comments in the book you read.

The use of vitamin E in treating heart disease has been investigated by many different medical university research groups and has never been found to decrease heart pain or otherwise improve a heart patient's condition. Of course, many people with heart disease do improve

"You have made some far-reaching changes today, and I think there will be some far-reaching results for the people of Texas," said Sen. Ed Howard, D-Texas.

proved 19-12. "This just says that a farmer or rancher can haul his livestock or farm crops anywhere in the state without having to get a regular trucking permit," Howard said, "as long as he retains title to the products he produced."

Current law limits trucking agricultural products within a 75-mile area. Outside that limit truckers must have a regular state trucking certificate from the Railroad Commission.

"This is completely unrealistic to people in the trucking business to have two sets of rules," said Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo.

Sims said he would be able, under Howard's amendment, to take a load of lambs to market, but if he bought a load of sheep there he would have to pay a regulated trucker to return them to his ranch.

Sen. Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall, offered an amendment to give farmers free trucking until "the first point of manufacture," but it was voted down 21-10.

Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin, was successful in deleting from the bill a provision that natural gas for irrigation wells would be regulated by the Railroad Commission. Such gas is unregulated now.

Another much-discussed provision would create a separate Gas Utility Regulatory Act covering rate setting and regulation of intrastate gas utilities in Texas.

Each municipal governing body would have original jurisdiction in setting gas rates but would have to use uniform standards in setting the rates. All appeals would be handled by the Railroad Commission.

"This allows a utility a reasonable opportunity to earn a reasonable return," Howard said.

An amendment was added that would allow public counsel to represent ratepayers, if ratepayers asked for such help.

An effort was made by Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, to transfer regulation and rate-setting of natural gas utilities to the Public Utility Commission if the Railroad Commission abused its authority. It failed 21-10.
