The Hereford Senior Citizens Association goal for $500,000 to build a new center got a big boost Monday with the announcement of a $50,000 challenge grant from the Mabee Foundation of Tulsa, Ok.

The HSC has reached the $400,000 mark in cash and pledges since its capital drive began Feb. 20. If the association raises $50,000 by Aug. 31, 1984, the Mabee Foundation will contribute the final $50,000.

Homer Garrison, president of HSC, announced the approval of the challenge grant Monday. He had received word from Donald P. Moyers, vice chairman of the J.E. and L.E. Mabee Foundation, Inc., that the foundation board had approved the request.

Doug Manning, chairman of the fund raising committee, was highly pleased with the announcement. "We feel very optimistic about the campaign, and the challenge grant should provide the spark we need to reach our goal," he said Monday afternoon.

The new center is to be constructed at the intersection of Ranger Drive and Sycamore. It will have 12,500 square feet of space, compared to only 3,000 at the present facility which is housed at the old

Central School building. The proposed building will have a dining room large enough to accommodate 400 people, and there will be more rooms available for classes, projects and activities. There will also be a room for physical fitness and vast improvements in restroom facilities and entry ways.

The senior citizens group now has about 750 members. The present center has been providing meals for about 200 people a day, with patrons going in "shifts." Only 86 persons can dine at one time in the present facility.

Man charged with DWI after car strikes woman

Hereford Police made several arrests over the weekend and most appeared to be alcohol related.

Saturday's arrests included three for public intoxication and three for driving while intoxicated. One of the DWI arrests was made on a man who was found to be carrying an unlawful weapon.

A man who continually cursed at officers after they allegedly found him drinking in the back of a pickup was charged with five counts of disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and public intoxication. Saturday's arrests also included one for reckless driving and carrying a prohibited weapon.

On Sunday a man was arrested after he ran over the legs of a woman he had been arguing with. He was charged with DWI and assault with a motor vehicle. The woman was hospitalized overnight for observation.

There was also an arrest for public intoxication on Sunday and a man was picked up for assault and being drunk in a residence not his own.

There was one arrest for public intoxication on Monday and a man was picked up on an outstanding warrant for an alleged traffic violation.

Hereford Volunteer Firemen extinguished two dumpster fires on Sunday night and had an otherwise quiet weekend. They answered a call to Blue Water Garden apartments this morning but the fire was put out by the resident before they arrived.

Deputies probe rape report, thefts

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department was busy over the weekend, making several calls on Friday night.

A calf was reported missing from Barrett and Crofoot West around 5 p.m. Officers found the animal a few minutes later in the suspect's backyard. The investigation continues with no arrests made yet.

Deputies also broke up a family disturbance on Friday, and investigated a report of aggravated rape. They made no arrests during the domestic call and reportedly have a suspect in the rape case.

Steve Clements reported a theft from his farmhouse near Westway. He said a portable scale worth $500 and a television set valued at $50 are missing.

On Sunday, security guards at Swift Independent Packing Company on West Highway 60 reported two cases of meat were apparently stolen. The sheriff was not given a value on those items.

On Monday, a sheriff's deputy found a food truck that had been missing all weekend from Canyon. The truck was parked on 15th Street in Hereford and nothing appeared to be missing.

County to levy permit fee

In a special meeting Monday afternoon, Deaf Smith County Commissioners approved a resolution which would allow the county to collect certain fees on licenses and permits as authorized by the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The TABC code allows counties to collect up to one-half the amount charged by the state, but only on certain permits and licenses authorized by the state.

There are a wide range of fees for the various types of permits and licenses. On those which the county can levy a fee, it will be one-half the amount charged by the state. County Judge Glen Nelson and all four commissioners were present for the special session. The resolution was adopted by an unanimous vote.

US-60 due improvements

U.S. Hwy. 60 from the east city limit of Hereford and nine miles southwest to the Castro County line will be seal coated this summer at an estimated cost of $240,300.

A.L. McKee, Amarillo district engineer, said the work is included in the 1984 Winter Freeze Damage Program approved by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. Statewide, the commission allocated $45 million to repair more than 2,300 miles of roadways.

"Winter freeze damage in this area primarily results when water settles in small highway cracks," McKee said. "The water freezes and expands and widens the cracks and begins to deteriorate the riding surface."

Faced with cash-flow problems, the commission elected last year to skip the annual safety and rehabilitation program and had hoped to omit the work this year. Those hopes were dashed by one of the most severe Texas winters on record.

Monthly library report

The Deaf Smith County Library's total circulation for the month of March was 10,311, including 5,731 children's books and 4,580 adult books.

The family night movie was attended by 30 persons, and 456 persons participated in tours and story hours at the facility. There were 129 library cards issued during the month.

The library acquired 65 new hard-cover books and five paperbacks this month, bringing the total collection to 58,687.

Victim of hit-run accident in Amarillo

Local woman dies in mishap

An 18-year-old Hereford woman was killed by a hit-and-run driver Monday night in Amarillo.

Norma Jean Perez, who was living at 705 Thunderbird, was reportedly killed instantly when the car she was riding in was struck by a pick-up truck that had crossed the median as it approached them from the opposite direction.

A spokesman for the Amarillo Police Department said the accident happened about 1:40 a.m. on the Canyon Expressway just inside the southern city limits. He said Perez was riding in the back seat of a car driven by Dave Blea, 28, also of Hereford. Blea, 25, was also a passenger.

The older Blea suffered a knee injury but refused treatment, while his brother apparently escaped unharmed. An autopsy was to be performed this afternoon at an Amarillo hospital.

Beverage officials hold orientation

'Will enforce regulations'

To sell liquor in Deaf Smith County, a permit will be required. For beer, it's a license. There is a difference.

Clide Crain of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission's district office in Amarillo made that plain on Monday morning when he met at the courthouse with city and county officials, law enforcement officers and other interested members of the public.

Crain along with assistant supervisor Danny Williams answered questions pertaining to zoning, hours of operation, advertising and enforcement of the Alcoholic Beverage Code during the hour-long meeting that was attended by about 25 persons. Crain made it clear that a package store permit authorizes the sale of wine and distilled spirits—not beer. That would require another, completely separate license, he said.

He also explained the role the city and county will play in granting permission to sell alcoholic beverages, meeting afterward with courthouse personnel who will have the responsibility of collecting fees from approved permit holders.

"The City can zone residential areas dry," Crain told the gathering. Hereford City Manager Dudley Bayne then announced that liquor stores, like any other business, could only be located in Zones E, F or G.

Crain made no bones about his intention to enforce ABC regulations. "A retailer can only buy from a wholesaler," he said in response to one man's query about distribution laws. "It's strictly a cash purchase, and if the check bounces we're gonna close you up."

Crain said "my men will be here all the time," and admitted. (See LIQUOR, page 2)

Walcott political forum draws attention to county, area races

The Messenger Extension Club raised $729.50 from a cake and pie auction after playing host Saturday night to around 20 political candidates running for county and state offices.

The 6 p.m. event at Walcott School was attended by approximately 220 persons, with supporters for Deaf Smith County sheriff's candidates traveling in caravans to the school located west of Hereford.

U.S. Congressional candidates Tom Richards and Gary Condra spoke first, along with Butch Preston of Friona who represented Dr. John Selby.

Richards spent much of his allotted time addressing federal deficit problems and how they relate to the farm and ranch industry, while Condra outlined what he feels are important criteria for the 1985 Farm Bill.

Preston, a Farmer County farmer, said Selby wanted the people to know that he will not let outside sources influence him if elected to office, and that he intends to listen to the people of West Texas.

State representative contenders Garth Thomas and Justin McBride of Hereford were the only ones representing that race. McBride listed his priorities as a long-range water plan, an education system that he said must be upgraded and "working together as a community in a sound frame of mind" to fight storage of nuclear waste in the county.

Thomas, who said he hopes his epitaph will say "he was not afraid to make improvements," said his doctor told him he could expect to live to be about 125 following his recent heart surgery. He emphasized water conservation, needed improvements in the criminal justice system and upgrading of highways in the state.

Leroy Johnson, who is challenging Mark Campbell in a race for the first office of Deaf Smith County Constable in about 30 years, listed his years with the sheriff's reserves as a qualification for the seat.

"I've found that the public is a lot more receptive to action an officer takes if he does it in a courteous way," he commented. "I know that the public has a low tolerance for a badge-heavy cop, speed traps and rudeness from an officer."

Nell Miller, who is unopposed in her bid for re-election to county tax accessor-collector, joked that "not having an opponent is a lot like taking your mother-in-law along on your honeymoon; it's just not as much fun." Miller thanked the Walcott community for its support since she first ran for the office 20 years ago.

Bruce Coleman, retiring this year as commissioner of Precinct 3, asked to take the stand and express his appreciation for "20 years of friendship and support."

"It's a strange job," he said of the post. "It can be about as small or as large as you want it to be." He added that a few people realize that a county commissioner is recognized by the U.S. Congress and state legislature as being the closest thing to the people.

Precinct 1 candidates making an appearance were Bussy Kaul, Nancy Hill and Tex Rhodes. Kaul said he will work for progress in the county; Hill indicated a need for some changes, and Rhodes (See WALCOTT, page 2)

Head of division arrested

DALLAS (AP) — The head of Dallas' building inspection division was arrested and booked into jail after being accused of soliciting and receiving a $18,000 bribe from an architect who was seeking approval of a building permit for an apartment.

Police officers watched as Robert A. Gahl, 50, accepted a certified check from the architect in a parking lot of the architect's office, authorities said.

Gahl, who had served as the city's building manager for less than five months, was fired immediately by Assistant City Manager Victor Suhm. Gahl was building official in Scottsdale, Ariz., before coming to Dallas.

He was booked into jail Monday on an investigative charge of bribery and was being held today in lieu of $25,000 bond, officials said.

Conservative practices promised

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Bill Loyd says lending decisions will be more conservative at the new City Bank than at its predecessor, Security National Bank, which was declared insolvent.

Loyd, a Dimmit investor, reopened the bank under the new name on Monday.

Security National was declared insolvent Friday by the acting Comptroller of the Currency, who cited a bad loan portfolio for the bank's failure.

Loyd, board chairman and president of the new bank, said he will "just completely change the way of doing business" at the bank.

"My philosophy of banking completely differs from theirs. It is more conservative," said Loyd, who added that he has a different approach to making loans and will not try to make the bank grow too quickly.

Weekend fire rages

NACOGDOCHES, Texas (AP) — A spark from a welder's torch was blamed for starting the second major fire in Nacogdoches in three days.

A Monday destroyed the International Paper Co. plywood plant, throwing 300 people out of their jobs.

Plant manager Mel Nobles estimated damage at between $5 million and $8 million from the windswept blaze.

An estimated $2 million loss resulted from a fire, believed deliberately set, that roared through a series of connecting two-story buildings in downtown Nacogdoches Saturday night.

The fire at the 160,000-square-foot paper plant in an industrial area southeast of downtown was reported about noon Monday. Firefighters said the plant was already engulfed in flames when they arrived. Flames shot as high as 300 feet, they said.

Retired general dead

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Retired Gen. Mark W. Clark, who led the U.S. 5th Army on its long fight from Africa to the liberation of Rome and accepted the German surrender that ended World War II in Italy, died today. He was 87.

Clark, a four-star general whose highly decorated military career spanned three wars, entered the Medical University of South Carolina for tests March 20, but by Sunday was listed in critical and deteriorating condition. He died shortly after 1 a.m. today.

Clark had heart trouble and used a pacemaker, but hospital spokesman Charles Gudaitis said in a statement that Clark's death "was related to the cancer of the pancreas, which spread to his liver."

Clark became the liberator of Rome in 1944, commanding the 5th Army as it chased German forces out of Italy.

Revenge possible motive

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have offered a $10,000 reward and opened a special phone line to help find whoever pumped bullets through the heads of two women and eight children, a massacre authorities believe may have stemmed from "bad blood" in drug dealings.

The slayings may have been drug-related because milk sugar used to cut heroin and foil often used to wrap narcotics were found in the blood-spattered apartment in a working-class Brooklyn neighborhood, police said Monday.

The women, ages 20 and 24; and the children, ages 3 to 14, were found Sunday in front of a blaring TV set like figures "in a wax museum" after what authorities called the worst mass killing in the city's history.

Gunman surrenders to officials

LONDON (AP) — A gunman firing from a window of the Libyan Embassy sprayed submachine-gun rounds today at Libyan students protesting against Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafi. Ten students and a policewoman were wounded, Scotland Yard said.

Police rushed to the embassy, on fashionable St. James's Square a few blocks from Buckingham Palace, and sealed off surrounding streets. A dozen sharpshooters were dropped by helicopter.

A short time after the mid-morning shooting, a man emerged from the embassy and surrendered to police, witnesses said.

Princess expects baby in summer

MONACO (AP) — Princess Caroline of Monaco, 27, is expecting a baby, to be born at the Royal Palace "this summer," the official press service of the principality confirmed today.

French and Italian newspapers had carried such reports in recent weeks.

Caroline married Italian Stefano Casiraghi, 23, in a quiet civil service at the palace last Dec. 29. She is still seeking a Vatican annulment of her first marriage, to Frenchman Philippe Junot, from whom she was divorced in November 1980.

No official announcement of Caroline's pregnancy was made in Monaco, but in answer to questions, the press service said she was in excellent health, but might curtail her official duties.

She has been Monaco's first lady since the death of her mother, Princess Grace, of a stroke provoking a car accident in September 1982.

Crowing For Rocky

A skit at the Hereford Lions Club election party Monday night featured the "Henhouse Four," strutting and crowing to the tune of "Rocky." The demonstration was for Rocky said he feels the county is in great need of new industry. The three are among those challenging incumbent Bill Bradly for that post.

Precinct 3 contenders included George Zetsche, Troy Don Moore, Lynn Jones, Bill Allen, Larry D. Bain and Ron Crist. Zetsche called for completion of roads that would have trucks away from downtown and the building of a larger community meeting facility. Moore said he wants "to be aggressive and pursue means of getting other businesses into the community."

Jones announced that the basis for his campaign has been "economic revitalization for the county," while Bill Allen, the only Republican candidate for commissioner, announced that he "had to come out of the closet (as a Republican) and couldn't hide it any longer." Allen said "all of us have a heart and we need one another."

Bain, promising only to do his very best, said he will stand boldly for and promote social and economic progress in the county. Crist offered his experience as a farmer and businessman as qualifications and said the commission is "a very big job."

Sheriff Joe Brown used his 6-minute allotment to talk about fighting drug and child abuse and the importance of having qualified deputies. He commended the reserve deputies for qualifying with firearms four times a year and said he will emphasize that criteria for regular officers.

Dean Butcher, former chief deputy who resigned to run for sheriff, said he will make drug abuse a priority and beef up the metro squad. He also announced he would implement a sheriff's advisory board.

Paul Ramirez, the third candidate for sheriff to speak, said "I'm not a politician, I'm a policeman."

He concluded his remarks by saying "I'm a policeman, and a good policeman. And I want to be your sheriff."

Wayne Tate of Broadview, N.M. served as auctioneer while members of the audience bid on two dozen or so cakes and pies created by members of the Messenger Club.

B.J. Gililand is new Lions boss

B.J. Gililand was elected president of the Hereford Lions Club for 1984-85 when the local civic organization held its annual election party Monday night at the Community Center.

The election party featured speeches and skits for the top officer candidates, and Lion wives were special guests. The new officers and directors will assume office June 1, when the club year begins.

Other officers elected included: Philip Shook, secretary; Fred Fox, treasurer; Chris White, first vice president; Rex Lee, second VP; Julius Bodner, third VP; Wayne Amstutz and Harold Brigance, Lion tilters; Frosty Blaylock and Robert Mercer, tail twisters; and Ken McLain and Lester Wagner, directors.

Club sweetheart Dana Cabiness provided musical entertainment at the dinner meeting. Outgoing president Ed Line presided over the election party.

areas, but even there we will do all right," Dwayne Holman said.

Mondale will be in Texas on April 26, and other members of his family are scheduled to be in the state several times before Texas' May 5 primary election. Mondale's aides have been having seminars across the state to line up strong representation for Mondale in the precinct caucuses across the state.

Among the races on the ballot, it is the battle for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination that is shaping up as one of the biggest fights.

Hance, who is from Lubbock, said the way to offset the projected federal budget deficit of $150 billion to $200 billion is to cut government spending and take action to ensure the economy grows.

"Even though $150 billion to $200 billion deficits are bad, something that would be a lot worse is a $200 billion tax increase," he said. "This shows a clear-cut distinction between me and the two other candidates."

On proposed amnesty for illegal aliens, Hance said the six million to 12 million illegal aliens in the country are allowed to remain, it would take jobs from American citizens, cost $25 billion the first year the illegals became eligible for federal programs and encourage other people to break the law.

"The first thing we have to do is enforce the present law. We need more border patrol agents. That's one of the few areas of spending I think we need to have an increase in," Hance said.

Bayne said at Monday night's city commission meeting that the city secretary had verified three applications that day, two from existing convenience store businesses.

Deaf Smith County residents voted the county "wet" in Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 by 218 votes on April 7.

Senator Sarpalius calls for meeting

AMARILLO — State Senator Bill Sarpalius of Amarillo has called for a meeting of Panhandle teachers and administrators for April 19th in Amarillo to discuss a controversial proposal to institute a career ladder for public school teachers.

Sarpalius said the meeting will be at 6 p.m. at the Caprock High School Auditorium at 3001 East 34th in Amarillo.

During the two hour meeting, the consultants responsible for developing the career ladder will present their findings. Included on the agenda will be a discussion of other educational proposals of the Select Committee on Public Education headed by H. Ross Perot.

"The Select Committee is nearing completion of its report to the Legislature concerning proposed improvements to public education. While many of the recommendations may become the law in Texas, I have strong reservations to several of the proposals."

Plans underway, deadline nears to enter Miss Hereford Pageant

By LINDA CAUDLE
Lifestyles Editor

The Miss Hereford Pageant, scheduled Aug. 4, is becoming more of a growing and learning experience, to build poise and confidence, rather than just another beauty pageant, according to Keith Ann Gearn, pageant director, and Lanette Leasure, chairman of the Miss Hereford steering committee.

Both of these women have been involved in the Miss Hereford Pageant before and have entered pageants themselves, and they stressed the experience of participating in this type of event, rather than focusing on winning.

"A lot of girls don't enter to win, but for the experience they gain and just for the fun of being in a pageant," noted Keith Ann. "I don't think there's anything more fun than putting together a full day's entertainment like this, and I think it's something a lot of girls want to be involved in."

Girls who are sophomores in high school through age 20 may sign up to enter the annual pageant until the May 1 deadline. Applications are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, Hereford State Bank, or from members of the Miss Hereford steering committee.

Sponsor fees are $45 per contestant, but Keith Ann and Lanette stressed that the steering committee will find sponsors for each entrant and the girls need not worry about locating their own sponsors. Any questions regarding sponsorship or any other aspect of the pageant may be addressed to either of the women.

"We want the girls or their mothers to feel free to contact us if they have any inquiries," said Keith Ann, whose number is 364-5655. Lanette can be reached at 364-5045.

The steering committee, also composed of Francine Bromlow, Patti Brown, Cindy Burnam, Marilyn Culpepper, Dee Anne Trotter, and Arvella Lauderback, finances activities for the entrants during the summer, so really all the girls will need to buy is their costumes for the pageant, according to Lanette.

The committee hosted a style show last week at the Community Center, raising $221.56 to help fund the pageant. "The event went real well," said Lanette. "We were pleased with the participation by local merchants."

Gladys Cavines won the featured door prize of the evening, a free night for two at the Royal Motor Hotel in Amarillo, and Hereford bucks were awarded to Carolyn Kirschke in the amount of $25; Rita McLain, $15; and Glen Powell, $10.

"We hope that the style show will become the number one money-making project for the steering committee, and that it will grow each year," said Lanette. This year was the first time to hold such an event.

The steering committee is also selling Hustlin' Hereford buttons to raise funds for the pageant.

"We encourage all girls to enter, and we don't want them to worry about preparing for the talent portion of the pageant either," said Keith Ann. "We have a list of ladies in town who would like to help the girls with their talent presentations, either in deciding on a talent or in putting it together, with music, lighting, costume or whatever."

"Any music they need for accompaniment can be recorded over the sound system, so they won't have to worry about having an accompanist present all day Saturday," said Keith Ann.

"We want them to feel as comfortable as possible with it, and certainly not hesitate to enter because they don't feel like they have a talent. Everyone has a talent, and many of the girls do things all the time that they don't even think of as a talent."

"In the past there have been presentations including singing, dancing, instrumental numbers, pantomime, dramatic readings and demonstrations, chalk drawings, twirling, and ventriloquism, plus many others."

The talent portion of the pageant, which is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. Aug. 4, is worth one-third of the judges' total tally sheet. The judges are to select the top talent presentations to be performed along with the evening gown competition, set to begin at 7:30 p.m. that day.

Evening gown is also worth one-third, and the remaining one-third is based on interviews with the judges, which are to begin at 10 a.m. the morning of the pageant at the E.B. Black House.

Interviews with the judges are short and the girls should not be afraid of them, stressed Keith Ann and Lanette. The conversations will just allow the judges to become better acquainted with the contestants.

Judges for the pageant are to be Mr. and Mrs. Bud Joiner of Levelland, both of whom have worked with pageants in the past, and Diane Dick, owner of a modeling agency and dance studio in Amarillo.

Emcee for the evening will be John Dawson of KGNC Radio in Amarillo. He has been emcee for the Miss Hereford Pageant twice in previous years.

The theme for the 1984 pageant will be "At the Hop" carrying out the idea of a '50s party. A big production number including singing and dancing is scheduled, with all the contestants participating.

The week of rehearsal is to begin Monday, July 30, and is something to look forward to. "It is hard work, but we have a good time," agreed Lanette and Keith Ann. Lanette helped with the stage production last year, and Keith Ann has directed the pageant four years, as well as working in all areas of stage production.

"The girls usually develop very close relationships with the other contestants during that week, and really work together to present a polished production," noted Keith Ann.

"We've been excited about the number of girls who've returned a second or third time to be in the pageant; and the improvement in their appearance, poise and confidence over a year's time is quite noticeable. It really gives us a sense of accomplishment knowing we're helping these girls grow and become more confident," she continued.

All the contestants will receive a memento of the pageant, and the three winners will be awarded cash scholarships. Miss Hereford will be given $600, the first runner-up is to receive $300, and second runner-up will receive $200. The awards are in cash so the winners do not have to be college-bound, stated Lanette.

Other recognitions include a talent award for the contestant receiving the highest overall score in the talent division, and the Miss Congeniality award, in which the girls vote for their fellow contestants.

In preparation for the pageant, the steering committee is planning several get-acquainted gatherings for the entrants. In fact, more activities are scheduled this year than ever before.

In May, after all the girls have entered, the committee will host a get-acquainted coke party, with mothers of the contestants invited as guests.

A hot dog-hamburger cookout is scheduled in June to give the contestants a chance to visit with each other about their planned talent presentations. Also in June, The Vogue is to hold a clothing seminar to help the girls put their wardrobes together and coordinate colors.

A poolside party at the Country Club is planned in July, and also a makeup demonstration by Touch of Class.

Carmen Flood plans to work with the girls on stage appearance and modeling, according to Keith Ann.

The contestants are to be introduced at the July quarterly meeting of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, which has sponsored the Miss Hereford Pageant since 1972.

All of the Miss Hereford contestants are to be featured on a float in the Town and County Jubilee parade, which follows the pageant in August. The Women's Division will also sponsor the float. Miss Hereford traditionally reigns as queen over the Jubilee festivities.

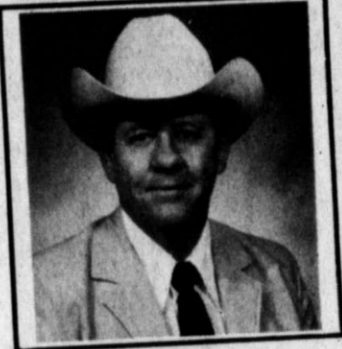

Planning Pageant

Local girls who plan to participate in the 1984 Miss Hereford Pageant are reminded to sign up at the Chamber of Commerce office or Hereford State Bank before the May 1 deadline. Discussing plans for the annual event are Keith Ann Gearn, pageant director (at left), and Lanette Leasure, chairman of the Miss Hereford Pageant steering committee.

"If you have read about jail standards lately, you know that the changes DSC will make in its jail are mandated by the Texas Jail Standards Commission. Those changes planned for our jail are the result of careful research in which I have participated. We must make the changes and the changes must be right. I believe I can do the job efficiently."

Olympic Games

Russians may boycott

MOSCOW (AP) — A top Soviet sports official has accused the Reagan administration of "evil intent" in its handling of the Summer Olympics in Los Angeles. Marat Gramov, chairman of the Soviet National Olympic Committee, also claimed at a news conference Monday that the White House backs groups opposing Soviet participation in the Games. Gramov made his comments while raising the possibility that his nation will refuse to compete in the Summer Olympics unless the United States satisfies Soviet complaints about the Games. He said it is up to the United States to create "normal conditions" for the Olympics and that this would be a major factor in the Soviet decision on whether to compete.

Gramov said that the Soviet National Olympic Committee will not decide whether to send a team to Los Angeles until the end of May. The notification deadline is June 2. Gramov made clear that a Soviet pullout from the Olympics would not constitute a boycott. "We never use the word 'boycott' and we will never use it," he said. "We will never boycott. We make a distinction between boycotting and not attending." Gramov skirted a question from a reporter who asked him to explain the distinction. Should the Soviets decide not to go to Los Angeles, they are likely to base the move on their list of complaints and allegations of U.S. violations of the Olympic charter. The argument might be that refusing to compete is not a boycott in the Soviet view, and that the alleged violations forced the move. For years, the Soviet Union has criticized the United States over its boycott of the Moscow games in 1980 because of Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan. Gramov, however, denied that the Soviets are delaying their decision to exact revenge for the U.S. boycott. Gramov did acknowledge that U.S. Olympic and government officials have satisfied some Soviet complaints and demands about the Games. He also said the Soviets have paid an unspecified portion of their $3 million television contract and made a "contribution" required by the Olympic charter. Soviet athletes are also continuing to train. But Gramov pressed what he called "major" complaints about arrangements for the Games. They include procedures for the entry of Soviet athletes, plans to accredit Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, arrangements for docking a Soviet ship near Los Angeles, planned protests against Soviet participation, and involvement of U.S. government officials in Olympics arrangements.

Dodgers nip Astros in ninth

HOUSTON (AP) — Everyone thought Los Angeles' Mike Marshall was in control of the situation when he faced Houston reliever Frank DiPino with the game on the line in the ninth inning. The Dodgers had the bases loaded and Marshall was facing three balls and only one strike. But the Astros were ahead 4-3 and Marshall said he figures that means DiPino was in command. "I didn't work him at all," Marshall said. "He had the lead, so he had the upper hand." Marshall changed that, doubling to left-center field, to chase in two runs and lift the Dodgers to a 5-4 victory Monday night. DiPino, 1-1, had to pitch down the middle.

"He's got to throw a strike in that situation," Dodger Manager Tommy Lasorda said. "He can't go for the corners. He can't go high. He can't go low. He can't walk the guy. He's got to come in with the ball." Marshall admitted he was guessing fastball. "I was looking for my pitch," he said. "I wasn't going to hit his pitch. I pretty much knew what was coming with a 3-1 count. I was thinking fastball all the way." The outcome ruined an Astro rally which saw Houston score four runs in the sixth inning to erase a 3-0 Dodger lead. "We battled back and they battled back," Astros shortstop Craig Reynolds said. "If we hadn't lost some tough games early, this one wouldn't feel so bad."

Jerry Reuss, who had won 10 of his last 12 decisions against Houston, had things well in hand through 5½ innings. Ken Landreaux's RBI ground out and Pedro Guerrero's sacrifice fly gave Los Angeles a 2-0 edge in the third inning, and Reuss' third hit of the game, a run-scoring single in the sixth inning made it 3-0. The Astros, who had scored only two earned runs off Reuss in 37 previous innings.

Houston downs Invaders in USFL

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Houston Gamblers came out throwing, as usual, and another high-scoring game was under way. But the first 20 points went on the Oakland Invaders' side of the scoreboard Monday night. "I've never thrown four interceptions that quickly in my life. I think our offense gave them a few more points than we should have," Gamblers quarterback Jim Kelly said after his team's come-from-behind 35-27 United States Football League victory, one which gave the Gamblers a 5-3 record. "But we kept our poise. We did what we had to do," added the rookie who went over the 300-yard mark for the fourth time as a pro, passing for 304, and threw his 15th and 16th touchdown passes, both to Richard Johnson. "Our offense can score 40 points in a quarter. We weren't worried," Johnson said. The Houston comeback also featured two touchdown runs by Sam Harrell, who totaled 154 yards rushing. The Gamblers, highest scoring team in the USFL, finished with 504 yards on offense and held Oakland's offense to 242. A few minutes later, lineman Don Drake picked off a Kelly pass and ran 84 yards for what could have been another Oakland touchdown.

Oakland, a winless team outscored by a 152-38 margin in its first seven games, led 20-0 after Martin's play early in the second period. The Invaders' smallest home crowd ever, a gathering of 18,320, was thinking runaway.

Smith wins marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Rainy-day runner Geoff Smith, the winner of the 88th Boston Marathon, thrives on wet, windy days in the fall and spring. But what about steamy Los Angeles in the thick of its Olympic summer?

No problem, says the confident Englishman who splashed through puddles and crushed the competition Monday to capture the Boston Marathon by four minutes, 15 seconds, one of the widest margins in the event's history.

"I think I'm all right," he said. "I intend to come back and train under those (warmer) conditions."

Last Oct. 23, another cool and rainy day, Smith led for much of the New York City Marathon only to be passed by Rod Dixon 385 yards before the end. Smith finished second in two hours, nine minutes, eight seconds, the fastest debut marathon in history.

His time of 2:10:34 Monday in his second marathon was only the 79th fastest in history and the slowest winning time here since 1980. But he was running into an often stiff headwind.

Smith also was trying to overcome the resistance of the British Amateur Athletic Board, which is scheduled to choose on May 15 its country's three marathoners to compete in the race Aug. 12, the last day of the Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

Board members were upset that Smith chose to run here instead of in the London Marathon on May 13.

"It should impress them. I know it impressed me," Smith said of his performance. "If the wind had been in my favor, I think I could have run two or three minutes faster," possibly challenging Alberto Salazar's world best time of 2:08:13.

Before the race, the 30-year-old Providence College student had said, "I'm an experienced track runner. I think Los Angeles will be a tactical race. I'm a 3:55 miler and I'm capable of sprinting at the end. I don't see anybody in the pack going out at world record pace in 85 degrees."

Smith had predicted he would beat the relatively weak field over the 26-mile, 385-yard course here. After he did it by taking the lead from Arega Abrahama of Ethiopia between the fifth and sixth mile and never losing it, he was asked who will be the hardest runner to beat in the Olympic marathon.

"Me," he said without hesitation.

Little-known Gerry Vanasse of New Milford, Conn., finished a distant second in 2:14:49, out of a total of about 6,800 entrants. It was not known how many actually ran in the nasty weather.

The winning margin in the women's competition was even greater and enhanced winner Lorraine Moller's chance to make New Zealand's Olympic team.

She finished in a personal best time of 2:29:28, nearly seven minutes slower than the world record of 2:22:42 set here last year by Joan Benoit. Midde Hamrin of Sweden, also fighting for an Olympic berth, was second Monday in 2:33:51.

"I think I will be selected now. I hope so," Moller said.

A qualifying time of 2:35 was required to be eligible for selection to the New Zealand team. Anne Audain, Mary O'Connor and Glenys Quick already have done that. The addition of Moller means one of them will be left off the squad.

Allison Roe, the 1981 Boston Marathon winner, seemed well on her way to joining that group. She had a two-minute lead on Moller, then in second place, 15 miles into the race.

But Moller surged ahead near the 19-mile mark, and Roe dropped out after 25 miles due to a hamstring problem.

Moller expected Roe to start fast and said, "I thought she was going to go out and steal it."

"After I passed her I thought she'll probably respond and run with me for a while," added Moller, who already has qualified to represent New Zealand in the 3,000- and 1,500-meter Olympic races. "But I found myself just moving in front. From that point on I thought the race was probably mine."

Sisel Grottenburg of Norway, also hoping to make her country's Olympic squad, came in third in 2:36:13.

While foreigners hoped the Boston Marathon would improve their Olympic prospects, Americans, busy preparing for next month's Olympic trials, stayed away in droves. The women's trials are May 12 in Olympia, Wash., and the men's trials are May 26 in Buffalo, N.Y.

CAMPAIGN COMMENTS

LYNN JONES DEMOCRAT for PRECINCT 3 COMMISSIONER

Frequently we see in the news media announcements of multi-million dollar shopping and apartment complexes being built in neighboring counties, such as this week's figures for building permits in Amarillo for the week of April 3-10th of a total of $8.7 Million. Don't you wonder why no such announcements are made here? Is it because our community is not aggressively pursuing economic development? Could it be that our rightful economic growth is being funneled away to Potter & Randall County because we aren't willing to develop it? What natural attributes do they have that Deaf Smith County doesn't have? I for one am tired of seeing these announcements of growth and prosperity somewhere else! We can grow here if we want to! Our county can and should appoint an active, funded INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION for the purpose of promoting new business and industry. As your commissioner I intend to take action to create this COMMISSION, which is authorized by state law! We cannot afford to ignore this means of working for a growing and prosperous Hereford & Deaf Smith County. Rural and city residents alike would potentially benefit from this expanded tax base. A VOTE FOR JONES IS A VOTE FOR PROGRESS. Together, We Can Have PROGRESS THROUGH SOUND LEADERSHIP".

Mavericks finally make playoffs

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

Although the Dallas Mavericks are in the playoffs for the first time in their four-year existence, they didn't need the expanded format to back into a National Basketball Association postseason berth.

Led by forward Mark Aguirre, the No. 2 scorer in the league, and a supporting cast including guards Roland Blackman and Brad Davis, the Mavericks finished with the fourth-best record in the Western Conference. Eight teams from each conference made the NBA playoffs this year, two more than last season.

"It wouldn't have meant much if we had made the playoffs because of the expanded list of eligible teams," Dallas Coach Dick Motta said. "Our record would have put us in the playoffs last year and that means a lot. It just wasn't given to us."

The Mavericks play host to the Seattle SuperSonics tonight to begin a best-of-five series. The second game will also be in Reunion Arena Thursday night.

In other first-round games tonight, Washington is at Boston, New York at Detroit, Atlanta at Milwaukee and Denver at Utah.

On Wednesday, Kansas City is at Los Angeles, Phoenix at Portland and New Jersey at Philadelphia, the defending champion.

Motta would have preferred a Wednesday night opener after closing the season at Golden State Sunday, but he's happy to be playing three games of the five-game series in Dallas.

"It's better than opening in Seattle," Motta said. "The home-court advantage is fun for us and fun for our young ballclub. It's a heck of an accomplishment."

Nevertheless, since 1966, four of five NBA expansion teams making their playoff debuts have lost the series. "I have spent the last month trying to prepare the team for the playoffs and I hope they are ready," Motta said. "I think they will respond."

Boston, which posted an NBA-best 62-20 record in the regular season, faces a Washington team that had the worst mark, 35-47, of any playoff participant.

But Bullets Coach Gene Shue believes his team can derail the Celtics' drive for a 15th championship.

"Our players believe we can get to the Celtics, and I think the Celtics think we can beat them," Shue said.

Ann Landers

Freedom from clutter

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read several letters in your column from mothers who keep immaculate homes and wonder why their daughters or daughters-in-law are such slob. I have also read defensive letters from women who say they think it's ridiculous to spend hours scrubbing and polishing when there are so many things to do that are far more important.

I was one of the most shameless slob in the world and everyone knew it. One day, at age 27, I realized there must be a reason I was satisfied to live in a pigpen. I began to delve into my mind (couldn't afford a counselor) and discovered a clutter that took six years to tidy up. My problems ranged from being abused as a child to a total lack of self-esteem.

The more I came to terms with myself the cleaner my house became. Today I am a better mother, better wife, better friend and better housekeeper.

No, I don't enjoy cleaning, but I have learned to return things to their rightful places and clean one room thoroughly every day. I feel as if I've won some sort of victory.

More important, I am free. If you visited my home you would feel the freedom. I hope you will print this letter because I am sure there are many slob out there who don't know why they are slob or how to change. To all of them, I say: I did it. So can you.—Eureka, Calif.

DEAR EUREKA: The most remarkable aspect of your story is that you made the change without professional help. Thanks for sharing your experience. I'm sure your positive attitude will be contagious.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A while back you printed a letter that bothered me. I should have written then but didn't. Now I must get it off my mind.

The young woman who wrote was annoyed at her mother's poor self-image evidenced by the fact that she always took the shriveled-up pork chops or burned potato and left the better stuff for other members of the family.

In my mind's eye, I saw the grown daughter sitting down to supper and grabbing the largest, juiciest pork chop on the platter—nothing wrong with her self-image.

My second thought was that the daughter was the one to be pitied, but actually, the tears should be shed for the mother for raising such ungrateful and selfish children.

The mother in that letter is much like our own and we consider ourselves fortunate. We have all learned by her example that love is putting others first.—Proud Of Mama

DEAR ANN LANDERS: So many readers clip your columns so they can read a special message again and again. Eventually the paper ages, turns yellow and falls apart. Tell them to spray the clipping lightly both sides with hair spray and it will last a long, long time.—Julie B. In Houston

DEAR JULIE: I tried it and it seems to give the clipping more body. Thanks for the hint. I'll let you know in six months if it holds up.

Is pot a drug? Can LSD, PCP, cocaine and pills open the new worlds for you? Stop guessing. Get the facts in Ann Landers' all-new booklet, "The Lowdown on Dope." For each booklet ordered, send $2.00, plus a long, self-addressed stamped envelope (37 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Third graders pay tribute to 'Deaf' Smith Thursday

The public is invited to a special program entitled "A Salute to Erastus 'Deaf' Smith" at 10 a.m. Thursday in the gymnasium of Northwest Primary School.

Third graders from Northwest are presenting the program as a tribute to Erastus 'Deaf' Smith on the day which is being proclaimed "Deaf Smith Day" in Hereford. The students are presently completing a study of Texas history.

Extension Service sponsors new series

Consumers interested in projecting a positive self-image, feeling good about their appearance and improving their wardrobe may sign up for a new letter series entitled "Create the Look you Like," according to Deaf Smith County Extension Agent Louise Walker.

The series contains information about:

- How to use clothing lines to one's advantage,
- Creative use of fabric and interesting facts about the life of the famous Texas scout for which Deaf Smith County was named, as well as special presentations to the school and county, including the unveiling of a portrait of Deaf Smith. Donita Rule, a teacher at Northwest, wrote and will direct the program.

Smith, a New York native, came to Texas in 1821 and made his home near San Antonio. Although he was still a young man he was partly deaf and soon became known as "Deaf" Smith.

He was among the first to join the Texas forces in the state's fight for independence and was assigned to scout duty. In March 1836 he was put in command of scouts under General Sam Houston and became a hero in the battle of San Jacinto. He was later made captain of the Rangers.

An additional highlight of the celebration will be the introduction of Smith's great-great-granddaughter from Canyon, who has played Aunt Anna in the "Texas" show at Palo Duro Canyon the last nine years.

The program is scheduled to last approximately 30 minutes. The 10 a.m. presentation has been designated strictly for the public. Other students will view the program at another time.

4-H Around the County

By SUSAN RANEY
County Extension Agent

Students from every state will be put on the podium to "speak for 4-H" as National 4-H Ambassadors.

The National 4-H Ambassadors program, which will replace the "4-H Report to the Nation," will train 4-H members to represent the Cooperation Extension Service and 4-H both within the government and to the public at large.

The 4-H Report to the Nation team began 30 years ago to use the talents and experience of 4-H members to increase 4-H visibility and understanding of 4-H programs. However, team members received little training.

Since 1975, an increasingly successful portion of the National 4-H Conference has prepared delegates to serve in a public relations capacity for the organization. So the decision was made to begin the Ambassadors program to train members in public relations and to prepare them to implement an ambassador-reporter program in their home states.

Each state will name one 4-H member to serve as a National 4-H Ambassador and to be a delegate to the National 4-H Conference. At the Conference, Ambassadors will receive training in interpersonal communications, public speaking techniques and public relations. They also will be provided with materials to enable them to help train members for an in-state program.

Texas' 1984 ambassador is Tammy Knox of Crockett.

During the National 4-H Conference, each Ambassador will deliver a brief talk and take part in an interview, which will be videotaped for later study. Each will also have appointments with one or more Congressmen, USDA and other agency heads, 4-H donors, and officers of national associations and groups important to 4-H.

Ambassadors will represent 4-H at events and occasions in their states as well as take part in regional and national opportunities, up to a maximum of 10 days during the year.

The program has been implemented to help 4-H "polish its public image" and to provide outstanding members the opportunity to receive intensive training and professional skills in public relations. The program will expand as private sector funds become available and should be fully implemented by the end of this year.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Bryan gives craft program

Mrs. Gaylon Bryan gave a craft program on making silk flower corsages during a recent meeting of the Kingdom Seekers Sunday school class in the home of Mrs. Jack Gray.

Members made corsages for Mrs. Ray Phillips, class mother, and Mrs. Buster Grigg, teacher.

"Friends" was the subject of the devotion given by Mrs. Bill Wall and was also the title of a poem shared with the group.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Velma Carroll, Don Houle, R.C. Bain, Homer Thomas, and one guest, Mrs. James Cooper.

NEW YORK (AP) - The chancellors of the Academy of American Poets recently named Philip Bunting the 45th recipient of a $10,000 fellowship for "distinguished poetic achievement."

SPIRITUAL FLAME BARTLESVILLE, Okla.

(AP) - Natural gas, which since World War II has been increasingly used as a fuel, was once considered a spiritual substance.

Ancient temples were built to worship the gods of fire at locations where seeping gas had accidentally ignited, according to Phillips Petroleum. Julius Caesar, the Roman emperor, knew of such a "burning spring" near Grenoble in southeastern France.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Top three risks

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm 54 and have high blood pressure and cholesterol. My cholesterol is 425. I'm 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 150 pounds.
My doctor told me to lose weight, but he didn't tell me what I shouldn't eat. He didn't give me a diet or help me to stop smoking. I'm having a hard time. I'm home all day with my retired husband.

DEAR READER - Your first priority is to stop smoking. You might check with the nearest chapter of the American Heart Association or American Cancer Society to find out about local programs to help you kick the habit. I know it's hard. After all, it's a drug addiction. And for some reason, women seem to have a harder time than men. No one knows why.

Your second priority is to lose weight. If you can do that at the same time you quit smoking, so much the better. Exercise helps you do both. A good rule is when you feel the urge to smoke, go for a short walk or do some form of physical activity. Make it a point to not smoke while walking.

I'm sending you the Health Letter 15-4, Diet to Prevent Heart Attacks and Strokes. Others who want this plan can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

It's based on controlling calories, limiting your total fat intake - especially saturated fat - and cholesterol. If you follow such a plan you'll probably lose weight. I'd recommend taking a walk after each meal. New evidence shows that exercise just after eating uses more calories than exercise done before eating. That may help you to be more successful with your program.

After demonstrators rally President offers compromise

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) - As shouts of "The dictatorship will end" echoed from a rally of more than a million people, the military regime offered to compromise on demands to speed up the timetable for direct presidential elections.

The issue has sparked mass protests in cities nationwide, including a rally Monday evening by an estimated 1.3 million people clogging streets in downtown Sao Paulo, Brazil's largest city and its financial center.

The turnout, as estimated by police, topped the 1 million reported to have participated in a similar rally in Rio de Janeiro last week that was described as the biggest demonstration in Brazil's history.
The Sao Paulo crowd jeered when they heard the compromise proposal by President Gen. Joao Figueiredo, who went on television and radio to address the nation shortly after the demonstration began.
Figueiredo, after an emergency Cabinet meeting Monday, sent a proposed amendment to Congress calling for direct elections for president in November 1988 - two years sooner than previously proposed. Opposition leaders are demanding that direct elections be held in time to select the successor of Figueiredo, whose term runs out March 15, 1985.
The current system calls for an electoral college - in which the government's Social Democratic Party is assured a majority - to choose Figueiredo's successor.

The armed forces have controlled Brazil since a coup in 1964 against an elected government.
Referring to opposition leaders' proposed constitutional amendment calling for immediate direct elections, Figueiredo, a retired army general, said his proposal was "an invitation to negotiate" and an offer of "conciliation and compromise."

In his broadcast address, Figueiredo said: "Direct elections are not the only remedy for our ills." He said the government would not cave-in to "the radicalism of some."
He has said previously that he supports direct elections for his successor's successor. It was not known when Congress would vote on the proposal he made Monday night. The bill needs a two-thirds majority to pass.

At the rally, demonstrators carried banners and wore T-shirts saying "Direct Elections Now!" and "Figueiredo, Your Time Has Come."
The protesters made their way from the main Roman Catholic cathedral to a wide avenue a mile away, where the rally was held.
"If the government feels direct elections in 1988 are a good thing, then why don't they want a good thing right now," Gov. Leonel Brizola told the crowd.
Rep. Ulysses Guimarães, president of the largest opposition party, the Brazilian Democratic Movement, told The Associated Press that "direct elections represent an immediate cure for problems that require immediate solutions."
Many of Brazil's 131 million people suffer from the 230 percent rate of inflation. Brazil also is struggling to repay huge foreign debts.

longer, thus negating whatever risk reduction these cigarettes might offer.

ANSWERline: It may slightly. But this does not compare to the benefits of quitting smoking. When some smokers switch to cigarettes containing less tar and nicotine, they compensate by smoking more or inhaling deeper and

Save a child's life

DEAR READERS - Today, let's try to avoid a problem (and a potentially fatal one!) instead of having to solve one. This is the accidental poisoning of a child.
If you keep all prescription medicines locked up and cleaning products stored on the highest shelves, you assume your child is fairly safe from being poisoned, right?
Not necessarily, warns Jacquelyn Lucy, coordinator of education for the Maryland Poison Center. A surprising number of items not usually thought of as poisonous are easily accessible to small children in many homes. Check your cupboards and countertops for these potentially dangerous substances:
ASPIRIN SUBSTITUTES: Most people know that an overdose of aspirin can be dangerous. Don't forget that aspirin substitutes also can be harmful; keep them out of reach.
VITAMINS: While a child may be able to swallow a few plain multivitamin tablets without ill effects, iron-fortified vitamins can be extremely dangerous. Even a small overdose of such vitamins or of an iron supplement can cause poisoning symptoms in a child.
OVER-THE-COUNTER DRUGS OF ALL KINDS: These include cough syrup, laxatives, cold medications and other seemingly "harmless" non-prescription remedies. Many of these are candy-flavored, making them even more tempting to tots.
ALCOHOL-BASED COSMETICS, such as perfume, cologne and aftershave.
POWDER: Easily inhaled, this can interfere with a child's ability to breathe.
PLANTS: A few of the more commonly found poisonous plants in and around homes are azaleas, philodendrons, mistletoe and yew. Ordinary acorns can also be harmful. - POLLY

HOUSE DESIGN
by Larry Farnsworth

*SLIGHTLY SPANISH, SIMPLY CHARMING *BIG BACK-OF-THE-HOUSE LIVING ROOM *CLOSETS! CLOSETS! AND MORE CLOSETS! *PRIVATE BEDROOM LOCATIONS

We like Model FC1393's variation of the traditional rectangular floor plan and so does everyone who sees it. Its slightly Spanish accents on the end wall lines, garage door treatment and wrought iron window trim add to its charming exterior. And note how the generous overhang of the garage provides shelter for the walkway leading to the recessed double doored front entry, and that bedroom wind extension adds to the charm.

Inside, a formal entry takes you into the central hallway which works so beautifully to channel household traffic exactly where needed while preserving the privacy of the lovely living room at the back of the house. Big to begin with, the living room has an extra air of spaciousness thanks to its view of the adjacent dining room through a graceful Spanish archway. And note that cozy fireplace, too.

The dining room, in turn, gains extra spaciousness of its own because of its sliding glass doors and the kitchen situated just across the handy counter. And any homemaker need only look at the practical arrangement of that kitchen work area and its proximity to the big double garage to know that groceries can be easily brought home and just as easily utilized in these pleasant and convenient surroundings.

That central hall mentioned earlier provides more than traffic control, too. Just see that laundry alcove next to the kitchen and all of the closets along the living room wall.

At the far end of the hall the bedroom wing offers two baths and three rooms for restful sleeping. Note the master bedroom's extra private back-of-the-house location, its big walk-in closet and its separate dressing area adjoining the private bath.

Homemakers with an eye for the practical and the pretty find a winning combination in Model FC1393. Optional basement plans available too.
