Texas Wedding

Deaf Smith County Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson, left center, officiates the wedding ceremony Friday night for Wanda Evelyn Tomlinson and Houston E. Wildmone, both of Tennessee. The couple wanted to be married in Texas and local officials planned it to coincide with Diamond Jubilee activities.

Tennessee Couple Wed Before Jubilee Crowd

The Diamond Jubilee festivities slowed to offer a few minutes of solemnity for the marriage ceremony of Houston E. Wildmone and Wanda Evelyn Tomlinson, of Tennessee, which was performed on the balcony of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse Friday night.

Justice of the Peace, Glen Nelson, officiated the service, as a crowd of 200 to 300 spectators gathered on the Courthouse lawn to watch.

AFTER the service, the reception was held in the Diamond Jubilee Headquarters, where the bride and groom cut the cake.

The Women's Division of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce provided the reception and the cake, and Helen Lee, president, served the cake, while Kathryn Kester served the punch.

The newly weds left Hereford Saturday for California. Mrs. Wildmone has a heart condition and is going to U.C.L.A. to receive special therapy for one to three months.

The Springfield, Tenn., couple decided to be married in Texas on their way to California because Mrs. Wildmone said "I love Texas".

WHEN asked why she picked Hereford, she said that she "picked a name at random", and decided "what better name than Hereford could fit a Texas town?"

She spoke of the sights in Hereford, and commented "I've never seen so many cattle in all my life". Later the new bride said "Here, everyone is involved and there is never a dull moment." Mr. Wildmone said there were "strong possibilities" they might return to Hereford. Her husband was a deputy sheriff in Tennessee.

"Judge Nelson and his wife are real nice and we wish to thank them," said Mrs. Wildmone. Glen Nelson and his wife showed the couple the sights of Hereford and entertained them during their visit.

The Hereford School Board of Trustees approved a $3.6 million budget for the 1973-74 school term Thursday night and then established a dress and hair code that "allows students to be stylish, but gives guidelines to control the extremes."

Trustees voted unanimously for both the budget and the dress and hair code, which were the main items of a long agenda which took the board about five and a half hours to cover.

Trustees also accepted resignations from 12 teachers and then hired another 20 in what is considered normal for the last month before the school term begins.

IN OTHER ACTION board members discussed the building plans for a new elementary school building; heard from a Hereford resident and school parent concerning a disciplinary policy of the school; discussed plans for the pre-school in-service program for teachers which begins Wednesday; and discussed the possibility that school lunch prices may have to be increased because of fast-rising food prices.

Total estimated expenditures for the coming school year were set in the budget at $3,687,000 with an estimated total revenue of $3,687,925. However, the budget also included an estimated carry over of $68,720 from this past year's budget.

REVENUE for the school is expected to be up about $146,925 over the past budget of $3,541,000. Revenue sources included property tax on a figured 93 per cent collection of the 106 million in property evaluation. Revenue was also included from state funds and other sources.

Expenses were up $100,600 over the last budget of $3,586,400. School officials estimate a carry over of $44,645 into the 1974-75 budget, which is considerably higher than earlier predicted.

THE ATHLETIC fund budget was down some from the previous budget. Revenue is expected to reach the $48,925 mark which is $1,030 less than last year's budget.

Expenditures have been set at $49,500 or $325 less than last year's $49,825.

Revenue in all sports is expected to be down from last year. Biggest change in expenditures is the $2,250 allotted for girls track which is $1,850 higher than the previous budget of $400.

BASKETBALL and track budgets for boys were both cut more than $1,000 because it was reported new uniforms purchased last year did not have to be figured in this year.

In approving the dress code, trustees first discussed the proposed changes with Jerry Don George, high school principal, and David Loerwald, Student Council President.

The new hair code states hair may not be worn past the eyebrows, longer than a dress shirt collar and must be trimmed whereby the lower half of the ear is exposed. Sideburns cannot be longer than the lower part of the ear lobe.

(See related story which carried the dress and hair code in its entirety.)

In approving the code trustees said it should be enforced for both students and teachers.

"We met with the student council to work out this dress code," said George. "I am going to be real disappointed if the members of the council don't help with the enforcement of it."

"I THINK you will have less trouble enforcing this hair code," said Loerwald. See NEW BUDGET Page 2

Details Of Dress Code:

Hereford School Trustees and Administrators approved a new dress and hair code Thursday night for all Hereford students and teachers for the coming school year.

In a unanimous decision of the board after much discussion with administrators and student leaders, hair length for boys will be allowed to be slightly longer than in past years. Also, changes in the dress code will give the principal's of each Hereford school authority to decide if the dress of a student or teacher is unacceptable.

HIGH SCHOOL Principal Jerry Don George said all students will be expected to conform to the new hair and dress code beginning with the 1st day of school (Aug. 22).

However, trustees decided to allow students and teachers to wear a beard or mustache during the first week of school, thus allowing them to participate in Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Celebration. Board members did specify that all other areas of the dress and hair code must be observed and that the beards and mustaches will be allowed only if students or teachers are "actually participating in the Celebration and are wearing a Brothers of the Brush button."

WHEN STUDENTS and teachers return to school Sept. 4, all will be expected to be clean-shaven, trustees added.

The new dress and hair code approved by the Hereford School Board is as follows:

GIRLS ACCEPTABLE ATTIRE

1. All types of wearing apparel, except shorts or tank tops, are acceptable as long as necklines are not lower in the back than the bottom of the armpit, and the midriff (front and back) is covered. When skirts are worn, they are not to be shorter than the knee.

2. In cases when dress causes distraction from a good learning atmosphere, the principal will have the responsibility to correct the situation.

3. All standard footwear is acceptable and must be worn during school hours.

Armour To Reopen

Hereford's Armour Meat Packing plant will resume operations Monday after having closed a week because of the beef price freeze, according to Tom J. Hamlett, general manager.

"All employees will be back to work Monday except those in cooler, loading, breaking and fabrications departments, who will be back Tuesday," said Hamlett. "All departments will be operating by Tuesday."

Hamlett said the company had been able to purchase a few head of cattle and would try to "maintain normal operations as long as possible."

More than 250 employees of the plant had been laid off last week when the company was forced to shut down operations at the plant because of the price freeze on beef.

Coaches Outline Prospects

By DON RICHARDS
Brand News Editor

District 4-AAAA football coaches gave more than 100 fans an idea of what to expect during this year's gridiron season during a district banquet here Friday night.

The banquet was the first of its kind ever held within the district was meant to give the coaches an opportunity to meet each other and to give the fans and news media a pre-season look at each team.

Most of the coaches seemed to favor the Monterey Plainsmen as the team to beat this year. Monterey is the past district champion, finishing the season with a 12-1 record after losing in state quarter-final action. The Plainsmen were 5-0 in district play.

However, each of the coaches of the six schools in the district said he felt the race would be close this year and that several teams stand good chances of winning.

"WE DON'T have as much size as we had last year," said Larry Dippel, Hereford coach, "but we are excited about getting started and we feel we have a good chance to be very competitive."

"The attitude among our players this year is good and the players really want to win," Dippel said. "Most of our players will be from the junior varsity of last year."

Dippel, as all other coaches preceding him at the banquet, outlined the players expected to be the team leaders this fall and gave what he said were the "promising" aspects of his team.

THE BANQUET was spiked with humor as coaches kidded among See COACHES Page 4

In The Tank

Jim Cherry, left, wrestles in the water tank as Keystone Kops Keith Munnerlyn, right, and Jay Spain, center behind Cherry, try to impose a Kangaroo Kourt sentence on Cherry by dumping him in the water tank. However, it was questionable as to who got the weffest. Cherry, a local barber, was convicted in the Kangaroo Kourt of "clipping the citizens."

Industry Plans To Be Told

Tentative plans for a Hereford-based cubing operation for cattle forage will be outlined when an information meeting is held Tuesday night at the Community Center. The meeting is set for 8 p.m. and all interested forage growers are invited.

Farm Products International is hosting the meeting, along with Grain Handling Corp. of Hereford, and is seeking to contract up to 125,000 acres of land with forage growers.

The forage to be grown will be Triticale, and FPI will have a representative from High Plains Research Foundation at the Tuesday meeting to answer questions concerning the crop. The company reports a guaranteed market for one million tons of cattle cubes.

If enough acreage is contracted, says FPI, a cubing plant would be located in Hereford — giving the community still another new industry.

Telling It Like It Is

New Budget, Dress Code Approved

"Of course, you will still have some trouble because you have some going to the extremes."

"I think we will have better attitudes with this hair code," George said. "The community had been divided over this, but I feel we have to give some consideration to the students."

Board member Danny Martin asked George if the code would be strictly enforced and if decisions would be made to decide exactly when a student's or teacher's hair is too long.

"THE PRINCIPAL is on the hot seat when you have any type of dress code," said George. "But he has to have some type of guidelines and then has to make some decisions. I know we will have some problems, but I think this code will minimize them some."

The principal then said the first day of school Aug. 22 will be a "tough, tough day."

Although students and teachers are to be clean shaven, trustees decided to allow beards and mustaches until Sept. 1 in order to allow participation in Hereford's Diamond Jubilee. However, trustees said students with beards or mustaches must be wearing a "Brothers of the Brush" button to indicate they are participating in the Celebration.

"Other parts of the dress and hair code will be strictly enforced beginning with the first day," said George. "And the clean-shaven part will begin Sept. 4 when students return to school."

BOARD member Ron Zimmerman said he hoped the changing of the code was not "just a stepping stone toward a time when there will be no code at all."

Lubbock Architect Herb Brasher appeared before the board with updated layouts of the planned elementary building which will be just south of Park Avenue and east of Park Avenue Cemetery.

Supt. Roy Hartman suggested during discussion of the new building that plans for major repair to parking areas of all schools in the system be postponed until cost of the new building is determined.

"Many of the parking areas are in bad need of repair, but I'm afraid this building plan may cost more than we have anticipated and I suggest we wait on these repairs until we let bids for the elementary."

HARTMAN also announced that in-service for teachers will begin Wednesday morning and that school will begin the following Wednesday (Aug. 22). He said all new teachers will be in an orientation session at 8 a.m. Wednesday and will join all the teachers in a coffee reception in the high school cafeteria at 9:30 a.m.

"We will then have a general faculty meeting in the auditorium at 10:15 a.m. before teachers go to their individual classroom buildings," he said.

Larry Wartes, administrative assistant, told board members "the next three months will be real critical for the cafeteria. Food prices are going up and we will just wait and see what we have to do about the price of lunches."

The school has a surplus in the cafeteria budget which could rapidly deplete if food prices continue to rise.

Hartman also announced that the federal milk program has been discontinued by the Nixon Administration. He said if a milk program exists this year the school will have to charge students for the full price of the milk.

CHARLES SCHLABB appeared before the board to protest a school policy concerning disciplinary procedure. Schlabb said he hated to see the school "blackball" a student as a means of punishment.

Schlabb was referring to a policy in the student handbook that states that any student which brings discredit to himself or to the school will be put on probation for one term in which he will not be allowed to participate in extra-curricular school activities.

"I would like to see the board review this policy and make a definite decision," Schlabb said. "This rule may apply to other kids in the school but it will not apply to my kids again. I will pull my kids out of school and go someplace else."

Hugh Clearman, board chairman, said the board would write Schlabb a letter in the near future and give him their feelings on the matter.

Teachers resigning at the meeting were Lynette Barefield who is moving to Childress; Larry Hampton; Roy Ann Bomar; Jim Brink, moving to Portales; Willie Weaver, moving to Amarillo; Evelyn E. Rollins and Richard Rollins, moving to Hong Kong, China; John and Teresa Copeland, moving to Wheeler; Larry Kennedy; Elizabeth Holt; and Jon Birdsong, who is resigning to devote full time to a professional career as an artist.

New teachers hired by the board include: Donna Martin, high school; Diana Reese, high school; Linda Williams, high school; Mel Witte, high school; Connie Sublett, Aikman; Jean Hancock, Tierra Blanca; Juanita Stinnett, special education; Judith Jackman, Central; Keith Criner, Central; Jose Griego, special education; Frances Farr, Shirley; Terry Russell, high school; Kathryn Jackson, La Plata; Dorothy Szydoski, La Plata; Debbie Brooke, Central; Robby Sheffy, La Plata; Andrew Wilks, Stanton; Linda Faye Vestal, Shirley; Leslie Paschel, Bluebonnet; and George David Ashby, Stanton.

Absent from the board meeting were members Hilrey Aven and Bobby Viegel.

4. Extravagant hairdos and excessive make-up (especially eye make-up) often hide a girl's best features and make her look ridiculous rather than interesting and attractive. Bangs must be trimmed to the top of the eyebrows. Girls do not attend classes with their hair rolled up or tied in a scarf nor do they apply make-up in the classroom.

BOYS ACCEPTABLE ATTIRE

1. A shirt must be buttoned with the exception of the top button.

2. Any shirt tailored to be tucked in must be worn tucked in.
3. All shirts and sweaters worn alone must have sleeves.

8. Full length trousers must be worn.

BOYS HAIR

Hair must be clean.

New Hair Code

Hereford School officials released this drawing Thursday night showing the "acceptable" length for boys hair. Small Incidents Keep Local Officers Busy

By STEVE CONNELLY
Staff Writer

Only two wrecks, a few family disturbances, and petty thefts have been reported by the Hereford Police Department since Tuesday, although the many small incidents kept them busy.

An accident in the 400 block of Avenue H near 13th Street occurred Tuesday at 8:10 p.m., involving a parked car.

A 1973 Plymouth, owned by Alvin Anstey, 418 Ave. G, was parked in the 400 block of Avenue H, while a 1966 Chevrolet, driven by Juan Jesse Valle, Box 217, Hereford, was backing from a private drive and collided with the Anstey car.

AN ACCIDENT at the intersection of Park Avenue and Avenue C occurred Thursday at 10:45 p.m.

A 1973 Chevrolet, driven by Janna Lynn Balden, 328 Centre, was going east on Park Avenue and stopped behind a row of stopped cars.

A 1970 Plymouth, driven by Jimmie Leon Weddel, 210 Grand, was also going east on Park Avenue, behind the Balden car, and collided with the rear of the car.

About $100 worth of tires, and a wheel were stolen this week, and two men were arrested. Charges are pending.

One man was arrested for Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) during the week, and several calls to family and neighbor disturbances were answered by the police.

The Hereford Fire Department answered calls to two fires, and one call for a man that had been shocked by electricity at a local feedyard, Wednesday at 5 p.m.

JOE FARLEY, 133 Ave. K, was working at Big Tex Feed Yard when he came in contact with a 110 volt wire, and was standing in water. The shock knocked him unconscious, and he was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital for treatment. He received minor injuries, and was released Thursday from the hospital.

A fire at 112 Catalpa, owned by Burke Inman, burned the vacant lot, and firemen doused the fire extinguishing the hazard. The fire occurred Thursday at 12:30 p.m.

ANOTHER fire occurred Thursday at 5:45 p.m., and was caused by a five gallon gasoline can in a pick-up.

Charlie Brown, Walnut Road, was loading flat iron in the back of a pick-up, when one of the pieces punctured a hole in a 5 gallon gasoline can in the bed of the pick-up, causing it to ignite.

No serious damage resulted from the fire, and no injuries were reported.

CONTINENTAL SINGERS AND ORCHESTRA
... To Appear At First Baptist Church

Internationally-Known Singing Group To Appear In Hereford

The Continental Singers and Orchestra, an internationally-known musical group headquartered in Los Angeles, Calif. will be appearing in a live concert of contemporary Christian music Aug. 20, at 8 p.m. at the 1st Baptist Church in Hereford.

Their two hour performance includes concert anthems, spiritual and folk adaptations, hymn arrangements and contemporary gospel music. In addition, they will be featuring the premiere of "The Apostle"—a dynamic, musical witness based on the life and ministry of the apostle Paul.

Selected by audition from thousands of high school and college age young people across the nation and around the world, the members of the Continental Singers are highly trained and talented musicians. Consisting of 25 vocalists and a 12-piece orchestra, they are completely equipped with sound and lighting for the staging of their performance.

Rather than being paid, each member raises approximately one-half of what it costs to send him on tour. The remainder of the cost is raised as a result of the concert appearances.

Their exciting, but exhausting, summer tour begins with an intensive ten day rehearsal in the Los Angeles area. Traveling from 100 to 500 miles daily by bus, boat or plane, they will perform nightly during their 75-day tour. Concerts are held at military bases, hospitals, churches, auditoriums, outdoor pavilions and literally anywhere where people will gather to hear outstanding music and to meet these exciting young people.

The Continental Singers have performed on local and national television both in the United States and overseas. They have recorded nine record albums on the Word and Light labels, the latest being "It's Getting Late" and "The Apostle." In addition, they are featured in two documentary films.

themselves and to the audience about individual teams. Master of ceremonies Tom Simons also ribbed the coaches during his introductions and summaries of each's talks.

Tommy Stone, coach of Lubbock High, said the good news for his team this year is the "two or three college prospects we have who are quality athletes."

Stone said Eric Felton, David Blaylock and 6-5, 270-pound Ricky Garcia are the three players that "make things happen."

Lubbock returns seven starters on the defense team and six offensive starters. Stone said his bad news was lack of depth.

PRENTICE Williams, assistant coach at Lubbock Coronado and appearing for head coach Jimmie Keeling, said he thinks Coronado will be much better than last year. Williams said the Mustangs have more quickness and speed and a great attitude.

Coronado returns 14 lettermen and all are expected to be starters this fall.

"Our spring game turned out real well and things are promising," Williams said.

JIM POLLARD, head coach of the Plainview Bulldogs, said he lost 19 of his 20 starters by graduation and that his first half season would be "tough."

Pollard said mental toughness of this year's young team would make the difference.

"We do not have a lot of experience and we will be real young," Pollard said. "We are going to be slow at first and may have trouble during the non-conference portion of our schedule. But if the kids are as mentally tough as I think they are then we plan to be much more developed by the time district games start."

SNYDER Head Coach Maurice Hodges joked with other coaches about "being the friendly team."

"We have made many friends this past year and we really had a great time," Hodges said. "If the season is good for us this year then it will be the coaching. If it's bad then we are probably going to have another coach."

Snyder spent its first year in Class AAAA division and will return to Class AAA after this season.

"We won't be with you but one more season but we have some quality athletes we hope will help us this season," The Snyder coach said. "We have an outstanding defensive tackle in Welton Cobb who made 200 tackles last season. If he hadn't been there it would have been a disaster."

MONTEREY Coach James Odom said he doesn't win "anything on the polls," referring to the picking of the Plainsmen to win the crown.

"We have four defensive starters returning and three offensive starters," he said. "All our returning starters are linemen, so we will have trouble in the backfield of both offensive and defensive units."

Odom said a big question will be at his quarterback position where his expected starter has "never thrown a pass in a varsity game."

"Our running back will be small and we will be running from the dead-T formation," Odom said. "The district winner this year will probably have a loss on his record. I feel the teams are more matched and it should be a good season."

The banquet came Friday night after the coaches and news media held an informal golf tournament earlier in the day at Hereford's Pitman Municipal Course.

Don Lowder entertained the crowd with a short skit concerning the Hereford team after Simons introduced him as "Hereford's newest coach — Jack Ferrett."

District 4-AAAA Coaches

District 4-AAAA coaches were in Hereford Friday night for a banquet to give area football fans an inside look at each team before the season begins this fall. Coaches in the district are (l-r) Tommy Stone, Lubbock High; Maurice Hodges, Snyder; Jim Pollard, Plainview; Prentice Williams, Lubbock Coronado assistant; James Odom, Lubbock Monterey; and Larry Dippel, Hereford.

Beef Shortage Causes More Problems

It seems that the beef shortage has caused more problems than people buying in quantity in grocery stores — they've started stealing in quantity.

P. N. Rhodes, 303 Ave. J, reported to the Hereford Police Department that someone had stolen the meat from his freezer. The steak, chicken, and bacon that was stolen was valued at $83.

The theft occurred sometime Tuesday or Wednesday, according to Rhodes, from his freezer in the garage.

Rhodes said "I never locked anything in my life and always, trusted everyone". He also said that they were very upset when the theft was discovered.

However, they both tried to see the funny side of it, and Mrs. Rhodes said "They made me feel real bad when they didn't take my spaghetti sauce. They just don't know how good my spaghetti sauce is!"

H³ HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President Deaf Smith County Chamber Of Commerce

It was really good to welcome Bill and Pic Thompson back to town this weekend. Bill was the Chamber Manager in Hereford till June 1971, when he went to Leavenworth, Kansas where he is the Executive Vice President of the Leavenworth Area Chamber. Pic taught English at the High School and is now teaching at Lansing, Kansas High. I know from personal experience that the Leavenworth Area is a better place since the Thompsons arrived there.

As a continuation of our "orientation series" let me tell you a little about the day-to-day operations of our Chamber of Commerce and some of the policy which guides that operation. Remember that the policies are set by the Board of Directors and it's the responsibility of your Executive Vice President to see that they are implemented.

Much of the daily traffic or routine of the office involves requests for information, distribution of maps, brochures, and other material, and notification of meetings and coordination of the many activities, projects and events which the Chamber sponsors. Visitors to the office are numerous and require a sizable portion of the available time.

Reservations for the production "Texas" are made at the office and registration for the Selective Service is also handled. Both incoming and outgoing mail requires a good share of the effort. Measured over a 90-day period, we averaged each day, 74 phone calls (both in and out), 27 visitors, 32 pieces of incoming mail and 48 pieces of outgoing mail.

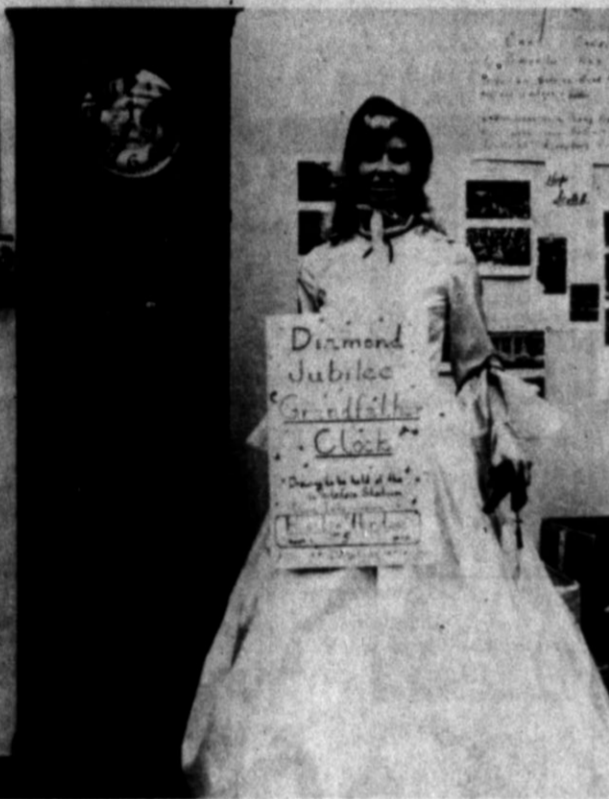

We receive many questions in reference to our recommendation for a "good place to buy" goods or services. It is the policy of the Chamber to provide a listing of those members who provide the requested goods or services but to refrain from recommending one member over another regardless of personal feelings or experiences.

The Chamber office has on file copies of city directories of many Texas communities and some of the larger cities out side Texas — we also have some of the most often requested phone books and we are beginning to acquire some interesting government publications. While the office is a very busy place with several simultaneous actions going on we are always happy to welcome visitors and spend a few minutes telling them about HOSPITABLE HUSTLIN' HEREFORD.

This might be a good time to announce that our "HUSTLE PINS" have arrived and they are available at the Chamber office, the First National Bank and the Hereford State Bank on a first-come, first-serve basis, $1 each. And finally, let's all get behind the clean-up campaign in preparation for our Jubilee Celebration.

Featured at Jubilee Headquarters, this hand-made grandfather clock will be the prize in a raffle at the September 1 performance of "Hustling Heritage '73". The 75 year-old German timepiece was purchased from J. E. Sorrells' Antiques and is valued at $500. An unlimited number of raffle tickets may be bought for $1. each at Jubilee Headquarters.

Jubilee Spectacle Explained To Kiwanis Club Thursday

The Hustlin' Heritage Spectacle to be staged in Whiteface Stadium Aug. 29, 30, 31, and Sept. 1 was explained to Hereford Kiwanians during their noon luncheon Thursday by officials of the Diamond Jubilee headquarters.

Ed Lyons, chairman of the Spectacle, Dale Young, general chairman of the Jubilee, and Bob McCreary, representative of the Rogers Company, which is staging the Spectacle, each told the club members about the expected plans of the show.

Lyons urged the club members to be a part of the show because more men participants were needed for show parts.

"Most of the revenue for the Jubilee is expected to be derived by the Spectacle," said

Lyons. "We need full participation of all citizens if it is to be successful."

Lyons said the men will not have speaking parts and only a few dancing parts.

McCreary showed club members slides from other celebrations staged by the Rogers Company to show members just how the Spectacle is planned and produced.

"We have about 65 different committees here in Hereford planning this celebration and we certainly want it to be a success," said McCreary. "Right now it looks as if it will be the biggest parade in the history of the Panhandle of Texas."

McCreary also said a "cow chip throwing and tobacco-spitting" contest is planned during Celebration week and said a big birthday cake will be cut the day of Hereford's birthday, Sept. 1.

McCreary also said a time capsule will be buried and that different persons will be allowed to put items into it.

SMALL TALK

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

WHAT WITH ALL the current flurry over meat shortages, real and maybe-so, Susie Curt-singer's eye was caught by the title, Menu For Meatless Meal, on a small article in a 1928 newspaper when she was looking over some old issues the other day in search of Jubilee data.

Neither Susie nor I, who can remember 1928 clearly, have any idea why a meatless meal would have been apropos at that date; it wasn't a time of war or depression, when meat shortages usually occurred.

Anyhow, if you are interested, the menu included creamed carrot and pea soup, vegetable cutlets, cauliflower au gratin, tomato sauce, egg salad, prune pie and non-stimulating drink.

There was no recipe for the vegetable cutlets, but they probably were related to the soybean steak we hear about today.

ANYWAY, I REFUSE to get excited about the meat shortage until our markets start advertising jackrabbit steaks. Come to think of it, jackrabbits aren't as thick as when they were the Panhandle pioneer's mainstay; wonder if there is a shortage of them, too.

Someone else who isn't excited; Roberta Campbell says she is going into the famine with a can of tuna and a pound of sausage in the larder, but she is thinking of making it plain to her flock of hens that they'd better get busy laying some of those 90-cents-a-dozen eggs or prepare for the stewpot.

pounds, 7 ounces.

The J. P. Jones are maternal grandparents, Bessie L. Smith and A. T. Jones are great-grandparents. Mrs. J. P. Jones went to Jacksonville last weekend to be there when the baby arrived.

THE VERY FIRST 1973-74 club yearbook to reach my desk is that of the Ceramic Art Club, with a handsome sky-blue and jonquil yellow cover, and a program outlined to begin Sept. 12. Leona Seavey is this club's president.

Every year I urge, appeal and beg on bended knee for women's clubs to send us their yearbooks before the club year begins. If the club reporter only knew how much that would help her, I'm sure more would respond. Please, please, ladies!

Oh yes, the main thing I like about the Ceramic Art program is the title for their April meeting, Goofs. A note reminds each member to bring goofs she has made, for display. If more clubs featured members' goofs, I'll bet this would be a better world.

AUTHENTIC APPAREL — Mrs. J. L. Davis, left, and Mrs. R. E. Curt-singer dress for the Diamond Jubilee Celebration Days in some of the original clothing of the early pioneer period. Mrs. Davis, who will also be observing her 75th birthday August 16, is wearing shoes that are estimated to be over 67 years old. The bonnet Mrs. Curt-singer is wearing was also worn by her great-grandmother over 90 years ago and the purse she is carrying dates back over 60 years.

Young Jubilee Belles Set Hop-Scotch Contest

A Hop-Scotch contest has been added to the list of events for Youth Day, Aug. 28, in Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Week. It will be conducted by the Sugar 'n' Spice Belles, a chapter composed of sub-teen girls.

Open to persons of all ages, the Hop-Scotch tournament will be held at 4 p.m. on the east side of Community Center parking lot. Entry fee will be 10 cents, and prizes will be awarded to entrants who hop without mistakes.

The young Jubilee belles will also enter a float in the parade Aug. 25 and chapter members in costume are taking part in the weekly Jubilee promenades.

This week the girls were guests of Elks Lodge members for a swimming party at Denton Park pool.

In the group are Kelly Blessing, Diane Warden, Paula Word, Shelly Blessing, Eugenia Combs, Cheryl Nielson, Reshell Bryan, Rebecca Combs, Pam Word, Shelly Bryan, Regina Bryan and Judy Blessing.

Esther Pierson Receives Church Contest Scholarship

Esther Pierson, of Hereford, received a scholarship from the West Texas District Christ's Ambassadors for a contest held by the Assemblies of God Church.

Contestants are judged on the basis of character, academic achievement, and participation in church and community activities. Winners may elect to attend any Assemblies of God Bible institute, Bible college or college of arts and sciences.

The Department of Education underwrites scholarships to the national winners. Awards to district winners are made from funds contributed by Assemblies of God districts, colleges and churches, and interested individuals.

Esther is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley W. Pierson, Rt. 3, Hereford. She graduated from Hereford High School and ranked ninth in a class of 299.

She plans to attend Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, Tex.

She was a member of the National Honor Society, "Learn and Live" team (appears on television for quizzes on the driving laws of Texas), Thespian play, Future Homemakers of America, choir, and band. She also participated in a solo and ensemble contest, receiving first division on solo.

Her church activities include attending the First Assembly of God, Rev. H. T. Goodwin, pastor, where she is a substitute teacher for the primary Sunday school class. She is the pastor's secretary and a member of the choir and orchestra.

She has filled the offices of president, vice-president, and secretary of the Christ's Ambassadors, and Assemblies of God youth organization. She has participated in the Teen Talent Search (music) and has been a member of the Bible Quiz team. During the 1971 Christmas vacation she went to Mexico as a member of the Ambassadors in Mission team, a witnessing program for Assemblies of God youth.

Band Rehearsals Begin Monday

Summer band rehearsals are scheduled to begin Monday night for Hereford High bandmen, according to Randy Vaughn, band director.

All high school sophomores who will participate in the marching band are expected to report at 7 p.m. Monday for the first two and a half hour session. Rehearsals for the sophomores will also be held Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The full band of sophomores, juniors, and seniors is due to report next Monday, Aug. 20, at 7 p.m. and will practice again Aug. 21 and 22.

Vaughn also urged all band members who will be playing a school-owned horn to come by the band hall early in the day Monday to check out a horn.

Vaughn said rehearsals were beginning early this year because the band was scheduled to march in the Diamond Jubilee parade Aug. 25 and also would have an early halftime show at the Hereford-Pampa football game.

Ceremony Is Conducted For Hereford Couple

An evening ceremony in St. Anthony's Catholic Church Saturday united in marriage Miss Leticia Zamora and Joe C. DeLaCruz, with the Rev. James Puglisi conducting the nuptial mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Zamora, 818

Irving, and Mr. and Mrs. Jose DeLaCruz, 714 South Texas. The bride's father gave her in marriage at an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums.

Her younger sister, Miss Gloria Zamora, was her maid of honor. Juan Medina, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

Other attendants were Messrs. and Mmes. Demetrio Zuniga, Guadalupe Zuniga, Ruben Flores, Hilario Fuentes, Juan Jackson, Reyes Cano, Guadalupe Vallejo and Valentin Garcia.

Junior bridesmaids and groomsmen were Mary DeLaCruz, sister of the bridegroom, Chila Zuniga, Sylvia Hernandez, Ruben Griego, Abraham Vallejo and the bride's brother, George Zamora. Lucy Ramirez and Lauri Stokes were flower girls.

Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist, played a medley of wedding songs and the marches.

Miss Zamora's gown, with fitted bodice and flaring skirt which rounded into a chapel train, was of snowflake crepe, with pleated ruffles of the fabric at the high V-neck and the wrists. Insets of ribbon-run lace marked the front panel of the skirt.

Her lace-bordered veil fell below the waist from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried white cushion mums with English ivy tendrils in cascade style.

Feminine attendants wore lime green chiffon dresses with butterfly sleeves and high waistline circled with white velvet ribbon.

The wedding reception was held in First Baptist Fellowship Hall, where Mrs. Gerald Wilson and Mrs. Francisco Vallejo served the four-tiered cake decorated with lime green chrysanthemums, as Mrs. Wally Gamboa and Mrs. Tina Valdez poured punch.

Mrs. Jesse Salazar, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLaCruz will be at home on Route 1. She has been a student in Hereford High School, where he was graduated. He is presently self-employed as a truck operator.

Guests from other cities at the wedding include Mr. and Mrs. Ovido Zamora of Eagle Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Homero Zamora, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Zamora of Houston; Gloria DeLaCruz and Mrs. Gerald Askew of Dallas.

Also Juan and Gregorio DeLaCruz of Matamoras, Tamp., Mexico; Mrs. Pedro Vasquez of Harlingen; Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Mancha of Ault, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Perfecto Mancha of McAllen.

Connie Rigby Is Feted At Shower

A bride-elect whose wedding is planned for Sep. 1 in her home town, Hays, Kan., Connie Rigby was honored at a shower in SWPS Reddy Room Friday evening. She is the fiancée of Tommy Davis.

Guests at the shower were seated to inspect the contents of gift packages opened by the bride-to-be, who was assisted by the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. James P. Davis. The evening was spent in informal visiting, and refreshments were served from a table covered with a hand-crocheted cloth over blue, with a central bouquet of daisies, white verbenas and delphiniums in varied shades of blue. Blue tapers burned on either side.

Miss Rigby and Mrs. Davis were presented white rosebud corsages.

Shower hostesses were Mmes. Calvin Mitts, Lloyd Rickman, Jimmy Jobe, Doug Caldwell, Lynn Arnold, Joe Hysinger, John Arnold, L.W. Norvell, Audrey Powell and Evelyn Blankenship.

Class Of '28 Sets Reunion

The 1928 graduation class of Hereford High School will have its second reunion in five years during the Diamond Jubilee Celebration week.

The reunion is scheduled for Sept. 1 at the Civic Club Center in Jim Hill Hotel, 141 East Third St.

Reservations for the reunion, which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., may be made by contacting Mrs. J. R. Allison, 113 N. Texas in Hereford.

An estimated swarm of 250,000-million locusts once covered an area of 2,000 square miles.

HARVEST DINNER FOOD—Fresh vegetables from Deaf Smith County gardens will be featured on the menu of the annual Harvest Dinner to be served Tuesday by American Legion Auxiliary members, some of whom are inspecting ingredients at the Legion Hall where the public is invited to dine between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Ira Ott, left, general chairman of arrangements, shows a loaf of homemade bread to Mrs. J. D. Love, while Hazel Sparks begins shucking a roastin' ear. Meat, bread and desserts for the meal are all made of foods grown in this county.

Quilt Show Is Feature Of Diamond Jubilee Week

By Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

PLANS ARE COMPLETED for the Old Fashioned Quilt Show during the Jubilee. The quilts for display will be accepted beginning at 1 p.m. Aug. 27 at the Yardstick building at Sugarland Mall. The quilts may be left half a day or the full week. Quilts are to be checked out on Saturday September 1 at 4 p.m.

The quilts do not need to be old or antique but we do hope some will be old ones.

The information we need will be the owner of the quilt, the person who made it, the pattern, if known, or if it is an original pattern, the age of the quilt and anything else of interest.

If anyone wants to learn to quilt, bring a thimble that fits and come on out. Mrs. Frank Duncan with others will be quilting during the week of the Jubilee. She is a good teacher as she has held a class for quilting this spring.

MEMBERS OF the Legion Auxiliary are making plans for another Harvest Dinner.

Just think, for the past 12 years they have served the good meal from locally grown products and the members all seem to have so much fun doing the preparation and serving the delicious food to everyone; especially do they like to visit with their customers.

I wonder how many people have been to each dinner that the Auxiliary has served.

Ruth Gandy and Pet Ott tell me they still need green beans and a few other things. So if you have green beans give one of them a call and see how fast they will be there as they really are in a very receptive mood. Remember August 14, Legion Hall, 11:30 until 1:30 for lunch. The meal is $2 and certainly will be worth it. Too, it goes to the scholarship fund.

IF AND WHEN YOU folks have surplus vegetables, please put the ad on the KPAN Trading Post at noon. So many people listen to this and it will get the news out while the vegetables are at their prime.

Just-Wed Couple Going To Make Home In Nevada

Miss Dee Dee Walden and Ray Ferguson of Fallon, Nev. exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Doug Manning of First Baptist Church officiating.

Miss Walden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walden, formerly of Fallon, now residing at 511 W. Fifth, and Ferguson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ferguson of Fallon.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Tandy Walden and the bride's brother, John Walden, was best man. Ushering guests to their seats were Jim Bob and Jeff Walden and Wade Easley.

Janice Sterling of Lubbock, sorority sister of the bride at Texas Tech, sang Wedding Song.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore gown of white imported organza with a panel of chantilly lace down the front. Her bouffant veil was attached to a headpiece of beaded lace, and she carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Her attendant wore a floor length peach-colored dress designed with empire waist and trimmed in white eyelet.

Miss Teri Beth Line invited guests to register at the reception held in the Walden home.

Mrs. John Walden served the traditional wedding cake with Miss Nancy Fowlkes of Marfa, a sorority sister of the bride, serving punch and coffee from the table decorated with white daisies and candles.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Nev. and will be at home after Aug. 17 in Fallon where the bridegroom's parents will honor them with a reception.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School and attended Texas Tech University at Lubbock two years. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, a social sorority. She is currently studying special education.

Ferguson is a senior student at the University of Nevada majoring in civil engineering. Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans of Tahoka, the bride's grand- parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rob King of Galveston, Mrs. H. L. Stafford of Lubbock and Dave Evans of Tahoka.

Preceding the wedding, a shower complimenting Miss Walden was given Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. A. Cavness. With her mother and sister, Tandy, the honoree received guests.

Misses Beverly Cole, Cheryl Cole, Teri Beth Line and Nelda Norton were in the houseparty. Blue daisies decorated the table, which was covered with a sheer white cloth.

Hostesses were Mmes. Elmer Kimball, Clint Formby, Gene King, Jim Easley, Ron Crist, Joe Reinauer Sr., Orpha Click, Palmer Norton and Floyd Cole.

Former Hereford Resident Buried

He held membership in First Baptist Church of Hereford. Survivors include his wife and a daughter, Christi, of Dallas; his parents, Elma Norwood of Ardmore and Dick Norwood of Hereford, and a sister, Jane Norwood of Shawnee, Okla.

Bride In Amarillo Is Known Here

An evening wedding in Amarillo Friday is of interest to Hereford friends of the bride, who is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. James and of Matt Jesko and Ed Jesko, and has frequently visited in this city.

She is DeAnna Mae Jesko, daughter of Mrs. George Jesko and the late Mr. Jesko of Amarillo; the bridegroom, Jimmy Dale Little, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Amarillo.

Parents of the bride are former Hereford residents; her mother was Iona Mae James when she lived here before her marriage.

Mr. James gave his niece in marriage in the ceremony at Bykote Baptist Church, with the Rev. Michael D. Lucas officiating. Miss Tammy Jesko was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Beth McLaughlin bridesmaid.

Jerry Little, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Pete Ward was groomsmen, Leon Hall, Ricky Mason and the bride's cousins, John Bagley and Bill James of Hereford, were ushers.

Green foliage and white carnations were arranged with candelabra as a background for the ceremony. Miss Jesko's empire gown of white organza and her illusion veil which extended into a train were trimmed in wide lace studded with sequins. She wore the pearl necklace which was her father's wedding gift to her mother. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white carnations with a frill of red lace and red ribbon streamers.

Her attendants wore red sheer over taffeta, with matching bows in their hair, and carried peppermint carnations.

At the reception in the church fellowship hall, Mrs. Kenneth Justice of Hereford served the clover-leaf shaped cake which was decorated in red and white.

After a trip to Red River, N.M., the couple will be at home at 3617 N.E. 22nd, Amarillo. Both are 1973 graduates of Palo Duro High School and are employed in Amarillo.

Martha Choate Is Bride Of Lawrence Paetzold

The marriage of Miss Martha Choate and Lawrence E. Paetzold was solemnized Friday evening in First Methodist Church at Trinidad, Colo., where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Choate, reside.

The bride is a student in West Texas State University. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paetzold, Route 3.

Reading the ceremony was the Rev. Wesley T. Logan, pastor of the church. The Rev. Clarence J. Ceswonke of St. Joseph's Rectory in Trinidad gave the blessing.

Rainbow colors appeared in altar bouquets and in dresses of the bridal attendants. Miss Marsha K. Hickam of Ogallala, Neb., maid of honor, was gowned in yellow. Miss Patsy Paetzold of Hereford, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in blue. Mrs. Andy Archuleta of Arvada, Colo., in green and Miss Rita Choate, the bride's sister, in violet. Pink frocks were worn by the flower girls, Rene and Rachelle Choate.

Wayne Schilling of Hereford acted as best man, with Ray A. Choate, Corky Paetzold and Gerald Paetzold as groomsmen. Dennis Paetzold, son of the James Paetzolds, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Clyde Dickerhoof played organ selections including "Somewhere My Love and Sunrise-Sunset."

Bonded lace scattered with 500 seed pearls was styled on simple lines to make the bride's gown, its skirt extending into an eight foot train. Lantern sleeves of chiffon ended in deep cuffs fastened with tiny pearl buttons.

A bandeau of the dress material held her brief illusion veil. She wore pearl earrings given her by her father, and carried white roses in a colonial bouquet.

Attendants' dresses were in similar design, also of lace in the different colors. Their bouquets of carnations were in pastel shades, each to match the dress. They wore short white gloves and pearl chokers, gifts of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a blue dress, street length, accented with a corsage of yellow and white blossoms, while Mrs. Edward Paetzold chose a violet costume and a pink corsage.

They received guests with the just-wed couple in the church reception hall after the wedding. Fresh garden flowers and candles decorated the table where the three-tiered cake, all white, was served.

Miss Cathie MacDonald of Lockney, Mrs. Charlene Dussart and Miss Cheryl Dussart were at the refreshment table.

Leaving on a week's trip through northern Colorado, Mrs. Paetzold had changed to a blue jacket dress for travel.

After next Sunday the couple will be at home here. The bride, a graduate of Trinidad Junior College, is a student in the WTSU school of nursing. Paetzold received a degree in drafting from Oklahoma State Technological School; he completed high school studies in Hereford.

Members of the Carlyle-Bryant families, totaling 56, met in the home of the Cawthon Bryants for their annual reunion last weekend.

Mrs. Flora Bryant, 95-year-old resident of Westgate unit at Kings Manor retirement home, was the oldest of the Carlyle children; L. W. Carlyle, also of Hereford, was the youngest son.

Mrs. Bryant's children at the reunion, with members of their families, were Mrs. Orion Carter of Plainview, Mrs. Francis Burgess of Tulla, the Rev. Noel Bryant of Wichita Falls and Cawthon Bryant.

Attending with the L. W. Carlyles were their daughter, Virginia, with her husband, Gaylord Newell; also their granddaughter, Dana Calloway of McAllen. Other Carlyle children are Mrs. Lois Greer of Amarillo and H. H. Carlyle of Muleshoe.

Atchley-Stephens Vows Are Repeated In Church

Summerfield Baptist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Kay Atchley of that community and John L. Stephens of Groom. The Rev. Bill Webb, Baptist Student Union director at West Texas State University in Canyon, conducted the Friday afternoon ceremony.

Miss Atchley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Atchley of Summerfield and Stephens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stephens of Groom.

Decorating the church were two arrangements of white and orchid garden flowers in white vases on either side of the main altar. These were centered with large orchid bows and streamers draped from the vases and cascading to the floor.

Mrs. Arnold Powell served her sister as maid of honor and Brent Stephens of Groom, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Dr. Charles Atchley of Wichita Falls, the bride's brother, and Lanny Frederiksen of Plainview, ushered guests to their seats.

Kristi Powell, daughter of the Arnold Powells, was flower girl and carried a basket of white and orchid daisies and babybreath accented with an orchid bow.

Mrs. Gene Streun, organist, accompanied Mrs. Charles Atchley as she sang Wedding Song and Wedding Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a selfbelted white dotted swiss gown with a gathered skirt. Ruffles trimmed the wrists of the long full sleeves, neck and hemline of the dress.

The two-tier veil of bridal illusion was bordered at the edge of the top tier with daisies and was gathered to the daisy-clustered headband. She wore a diamond pendant that was given her by the groom and carried a cascade of white carnations and babybreath.

The matron of honor and the flower girl wore dresses of orchid dotted Swiss with short sleeves and fashioned after the bridal gown. Mrs. Powell carried a nosegay of white carnations, babybreath and orchid daisies backed with white lace.

At the wedding reception Miss Brenda Saul served the two-tier wedding cake iced in orchid daisies with darker centers. Miss Vicki Smith and the bride's sister, Mrs. Ronald Perry of Ellsworth, Neb., served punch and coffee from the reception table.

The table was decorated with two orchid candles and the flower girl's basket, and covered with white net over orchid.

Miss Martha McBride registered reception guests in the education building of the church. The table was covered with a round white cloth edged with lace. A milk glass bud vase with orchid gaidias was used as a centerpiece.

Leaving for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a two-piece pantsuit of hot pink and orchid plaid with bone accessories and the daisy corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Canyon after August 14.

The bride graduated from Hereford High School and is active in the Baptist Student Union at WTSU. Stephens attended school in Groom and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, an honor society at Clarendon Junior College. He has served in the U.S. Army including active duty in Viet Nam.

Out-of-town guests that attended were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. P. O. Rily, and Miss Esta Lou Riley of Hays, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley, Vicki and David of Lakewood, Colo.; Mrs. Robert Rainey; Newport News, Va.; Mrs. Ben Cramer, Gordonville; Mrs. C. W. Lawrence, Pampa; Mrs. Lanny Frederiksen; Mrs. Cecil Metcalf and Miss Goldie Riley of Dodge City, Kan.

The Cure That Kills

The Nixon administration's ill-starred price freeze is taking this country straight toward a time of food scarcity, eventually higher prices, and a certain black market.

The administration knows by now that it was a mistake to slap a ceiling on processed foods and do nothing about the price of food at the farm level.

Apparently the experts figured that by putting the pressure on the top, prices would be forced downward all the way, but it just hasn't worked out that way.

Partly because of a strong demand for food exports and bidding for foodstuffs by foreign buyers with plenty of dollar bills earned through selling goods to the U.S., the demand for grains in particular has remained high.

All that the price freeze has done is to put an unbearable squeeze on those producing foods for wholesale and retail levels.

Obviously no company can continue in business if it has a lid on what it can sell goods for and no restriction upon what it must pay for raw materials.

It has been concluded that the answer to the plight of the cattle feeder and the chicken farmer is to lower the price of the grain that they must have to feed their animals.

This overlooks the fact that grain prices are not too high. In fact, they are still low if one takes into consideration the prices that farmers must pay for their machinery, their fertilizers, their fuel and their other expenses. An artificial pushing downward on grain prices would certainly result in less grain being produced and an eventual situation just as bad or worse than we now have.

We Americans have come to believe that cheap food is an American right and that whenever food prices rise, the government must intervene.

It just may be that we will have to accept the fact that food will not be cheap. The main reason it has been cheap for all these years is because farmers produced too much of it, and then the government kept food prices low at the consumer level through a subsidy system which was actually as much an advantage to the consumer as to the farmer.

All this has changed, and it changed in a hurry. A year ago we still nurtured the thought that America had a surplus of food. In a span of a few short months, we have seen a situation develop that most of us never figured would happen.

None of us like to see food prices rise when we have to buy food for our families. But it may be that the best course would be to let meat prices alone until the price reaches its natural level.

We say that people can't or won't pay $2.50 per pound for steak, but as long as people do, perhaps this is not too high a price. When meat prices get too high, people will stop buying, and prices will have to come down eventually. This may be preferable to an artificial price freeze that will give us less food at higher prices much faster.

Campaign Law Reform

"I wouldn't even give a nickel to Abe Lincoln, if he were running for office today." The man who said that is an acquaintance of mine who holds a high-level post with a very big corporation.

His words express a widespread reaction that has swept the board rooms and executive suites of America since the deplorable Watergate revelations of illegal corporate campaign contributions and the use of contributions for illegal purposes. The feeling is that now any form of political activity will cause a businessman to be viewed with suspicion, so the best solution is just to stay away from the whole mess.

That's an understandable feeling, but I think it's an unfortunate one. All segments of American society should participate in the political process. When one important "interest group" drops out, then the strength of its traditional opponents is magnified. That is seldom a healthy situation.

But how do we correct the abuses of our system of campaign financing.

THERE IS certainly no shortage of suggestions. I have on my desk a memo prepared by the National Chamber's public affairs experts. It is a tight summary of the major campaign reform proposals. It is 16 pages long. And more are coming out every day.

These proposals range all the way from changing the terms of office of the President and members of congress to financing all campaigns with government funds. Most of them center on limiting the amount of money a candidate may receive, or the amount a donor may give.

The trouble with such limits is they usually invite a search for ways to get around them. And the search is usually successful. It must be remembered that at the heart of the present scandal is the fact that existing campaign finance laws were evidently violated.

The key terms are not as easy to define as might be supposed. For example, Senator Foghorn receives a $1,500 "honorarium" for addressing "The Annual Conference of Red Tape Manufacturers." Is that a legitimate lecture fee or a contribution?

Or the rising young executive becomes very active in the affairs of the Bullmoose Party, and makes some big personal contributions. Later, his annual company bonus turns out to be larger than usual. Is his contribution a personal contribution (legal) or a corporate contribution (illegal)?

Such are the myriad difficulties encountered in any attempt to regulate campaign contributions. It may be worth trying, but I am not optimistic about the results. I wish I could be.

ONE OF the ideas with a good chance of success is a shortening of the official campaign period. Of course, there is no way to stop public speculation on who will run, and there is no way to stop the media from discussing such possibilities with whom they choose. But the expensive, highly visible activities like paid advertising, and the occasions for its use, such as the primary elections — are easier to get a handle on.

Campaigns have certainly become too expensive, and any means for reducing both cost and corruption would be welcome, provided the cure isn't worse than the disease. But in the final analysis, the best defense against bad men in politics is — and will always be — good men in politics. It's up to us to put them there.

Backs Off Pay Raise

By BERT MILLS

Irate voters appear to have scared Congress away from giving itself a fat pay increase next October, via a back-door method which would allow legislators to raise their own income without a record vote.

Members of Congress are now paid $42,500 a year and a jump to as much as $55,000 was in prospect until many voters protested. Then the House overturned its leadership and voted 237 to 156 to refuse to consider a Senate-passed bill which would have expedited a pay raise for both members of Congress and top government officials.

Federal wage controls now limit annual pay increases to 5.5 per cent. A Congressional pay increase from $42,500 to $55,000 would be 29.4 per cent. The last time pay of legislators was raised, in 1969, the rise was from $30,000 to $42,500 — a jump of 41.7 per cent. That boost was achieved without a direct vote, on recommendation of President Lyndon Johnson.

BACK IN 1967, Congress arranged for its future pay increases to be made by indirection, so its members would not be embarrassed by having to vote to feather their own nests. A law was passed to empower the President to set pay scales subject only to a Congressional veto. Even at that time, this was a touchy issue and the bill passed the House by only 12 votes a late-at-night vote.

When the 1969 increase went through, the Senate did vote to accept the $12,500 increase but the House allowed a 30-day period to expire without action, which meant the pay boost took effect automatically.

THE RECENT House vote merely delayed a pay hike for Congress. An increase is still in prospect in 1974, an election year. The move that failed would have advanced the raise and made it less politically sensitive. The old law remains in effect and calls for President Nixon to recommend a new salary scale next January.

The law calls for a commission of nine private citizens to recommend to the President pay levels for members of Congress, Federal judges, Cabinet members, and top bureaucrats earning $36,000 a year. The President may accept the commission's recommendations or scale them down.

TODAY'S situation is that the commission has made its recommendations, but the White House has not revealed the amounts. Therefore the $55,000 amount is a rumor widely accepted in and out of Congress, and President Nixon could reduce that figure. In 1969, an earlier commission suggested a $50,000 salary and President Johnson scaled it down to $42,500.

The Senate-passed bill which the House refused to consider in July would have cut the interval between commission recommendations from four years to two. This would have meant more frequent, and presumably smaller and therefore less politically sensitive raises. And they would have come in odd years, between election years.

A few days before the House vote, the Senate spent four hours wrangling over the Congressional salary issue. Senator James B. Allen (D., Ala.) led an effort to hold increases to the Federal wage limits so long as economic controls are in effect. After nine rollcall votes, the Senate finally passed an amendment to the campaign spending bill, 49-43, staffing the "sense of the Congress" that salaries be held within the limits that apply to other wage-earners.

That amendment will probably never become law. The campaign bill still must run the gamut of the House, which is expected to kill the rider on Federal pay scales. In any event, a "sense of the Congress" clause is regarded as meaningless.

SENATORS and Representatives are affected by inflation like everybody else, and they have not had any increase in four years. It is possible to argue that $42,500 is a handsome reward for holding public office, particularly with all the other emoluments that go with being a member of Congress.

However, a modest raise would seem to be justified. A possible solution is for President Nixon to determine to observe the 5.5 per cent wage guideline, for legislators, judges and bureaucrats. That would mean a $2,337.50 increase for members of Congress, or $44,837.50 annually.

That would not satisfy those legislators who think they are worth $55,000, but it would please the voters who have protested fat increases for a group generally regarded as on the fat side now.

Talk Of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY—Because an alumnus turned an "impossible dream" into reality, The University of Texas at Austin is one of the most richly endowed schools in the world.

He was Rupert Ricker, a Big Spring lawyer and Reagan County rancher, who decided that his mission in life was to replace the pine shacks that served as classrooms on the University campus. He wanted permanent buildings of brick and stone.

Having little money himself, he knew that he had to find the necessary funds elsewhere. His only hope lay in the more than three million acres of almost worthless land which the State of Texas had given to "endow" the school.

Ricker believed that the lands would produce oil, although almost nobody else did. At his own expense, he went to Austin, wheedled permits to drill for oil on 431,360 acres of University lands and then tried to find someone to finance the venture. Finally he was forced to sell the rights for $2,500. Ricker barely recovered his out-of-pocket expense.

However, his confidence in the land had not been misplaced. On May 28, 1923, the Santa Rita No. 1, the discovery well, came in as a gusher. Ricker's dream had come true. The "worthless" lands were to produce a permanent endowment for his alma mater that now exceeds $650 million and is still growing.

Ricker never received anything from the oil development that was to make many others wealthy. He died March 26, 1965, satisfied because he had achieved his goal of providing a

The Bootleg

Philosopher

Dear editor:

As I understand the operation of government in Washington after listening to a lot of the Watergate hearings, nearly everything is done by memos and logs.

That is, if you leave your office a secretary writes it down in a log, and when you get to somebody else's office his secretary writes that down in her log. If anything happens at such a meeting you leave, get logged, return to your office where you're logged back in, and then dictate a memo, either to your superior, to a co-equal, to an underling, or, if you can't think of anybody else, to yourself.

ALL these memos are then filed away and at the end of the year are counted I guess and the one with the most wins.

I got to thinking, how would such a system work out here on this Deaf Smith grass farm? I tried it for a day and it went like this:

7 a.m.: thought about getting up.
7:45 a.m.: got up. 8 a.m.: breakfast conference. 9 a.m.: logged self out the back door, noticed a flat on my tractor, wrote a memo to have it fixed. 9:15 a.m.: read newspaper. 10:30 a.m.: examined tractor, noticed tire still flat, wrote a back-up memo to have it fixed. 10:35 a.m.: logged self back in the house to get a drink of water. 11 a.m.: had telephone call. Told banker I had no recollection of signing note. John Dean must have done it.

11:30 a.m.: recessed for lunch. 12:30 to 2 p.m.: nap. 2:15 p.m.: wrote memo on plans for next day's work. 3:45 p.m.: coffee break. Reviewed international and domestic situations with fellow coffee-drinkers. Wrote memo deploring both. Read newspaper. Discovered an article saying perjury before an investigating committee can cost $2,000 in fine for every case. Figured government can net 14 million dollars at least just from the Watergate witnesses.
5:30 p.m.: logged self back into house listened to evening news. 6 p.m.: supper conference. 7 to 9 p.m.: watched re-runs. 9:15 p.m.: shredded memos, went to bed. Dreamed government was in as bad a shape as this farm.

Yours faithfully,

way for his old school to replace its wooden classrooms with buildings that would be the envy of the educational world.

THE BIG RACE—Sometime between August 3 and 5, the world's fastest terrapin will be crowned at Athens, Henderson County.

The occasion will be the Blackeyed Pea Festival which Athens, as the self-proclaimed pea capital of the world, stages each year to promote the sale of this variety of legume. The terrapin races are an extra added attraction sponsored by the National Association of Terrapin Owners. The organization is headquartered in Black Jack, another Henderson County town.

The Athens 500, as the big race is called, will be over a 500-inch course. It will be open only to registered terrapins (those with papers approved by the NATO). The present champion made the course in three minutes, 37 seconds, but a new world record is expected to be set at the 1973 grand prix of terrapin racing.

NOTE TO TOURISTS—Texas barbecue ranks among the world's most succulent foods, but it's well to know in advance what kind of meat has been smoked.

Beef and pork are the staples, but cabrito (young goat) and armadillo are sometimes served to the unsuspecting. One specialty of the border country is "barbacoa de cabeza."

The latter is beef, but a very special kind. Barbacoa de cabeza is meat cut from a cow's head which has been barbecued whole. It's a delicacy much favored in Mexico.

and Mason is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.M. Mason. Both families reside west of Hereford.

The bridal couple stood beneath an archway of greenery in the living room. Candelabra on either side held pink tapers and a cluster of wedding bells was tied with pink ribbons at the top of the arch. Miss Dollie Hothouse, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and best man was Ross Baird. The bridegroom's nephew, Chad Mason, was ringbearer and the bride's sister, Litty Hothouse, served as candlelighter.

Recorded bridal selections, Bridal Chorus, Bless This Home and Wedding March were played.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a white empire styled dress with lace down the front of the gown and on the floor length train.

Her elbow length bridal veil was attached to a flower and pearl trimmed headband. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations on a white Bible.

Her attendant wore an empire style dress of pink double knit edged in white lace around the neck and sleeves.

Mrs. Kenneth DeHart served the three-tier white colonial wedding cake trimmed in pink roses and topped with figurines of a bride and bridegroom.

The reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents where Miss Denise DeHart invited guests to sign at the registry table.

A light green knit dress and a corsage of pink and white carnations were worn by the bride as she left for the wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M. The couple will make their home west of town after August 16.

The bride is a student at Hereford High School and the bridegroom is a 1971 graduate of HHS. He is presently engaged in farming.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ponder and Linda Ponder of Forresterburg and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Dick Tomlinson of Lubbock.

Comings And Goings At King's Manor

By FAY GAUGGEL

Mrs. Don Davidson and Fay Gauggel were visited Aug. 3 by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Winchester of Enid, Okla. The Winchesters were en route to Albuquerque.

Mrs. Gauggel and Mrs. Davidson entertained cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown of New Paris, Ind. and Nokomis, Fla. last weekend.

Recently the Stevensons, our own Ruby and John, carried us deep into the land of Aloha (interpreted as greetings, Hello, Goodby, So Long, Love, Au Revoir, Adios, Bon Voyage or whatever). We traveled by way of slides and comfortable armchairs.

Our stay was mostly in Honolulu, Island of Oahu. We feasted our eyes on colorful hibiscus, bougainvillea and poinsettias, trees of palm, banyan, jacaranda, and papaya all tropical growth.

Ruby was colorful in Mau Mau and John executed the hula in gay costume. We saw pineapple, sugar cane, and taro plantations. From the latter is made their bread called poi which is thick like paste, tastes like paste and is eaten by the licking of fingers dipped in the dish. (Be sure to smack daintily).

We saw famous Diamond Head, Pearl Harbor and Waikiki Beach and watched the surf riders go thru their paces.

Stevenson's brother lives in Honolulu and was host to the visitors. A Japanese friend invited them to a luau, which consists of the entree and all trimmings. The meat is pig baked in the ground and treated with hot ti leaves - a gourmet's delight they say.

By a combination strategy of finesse and a bit of chicanery the Stevensons were lucky enough to be allowed to board the famed liner, Lurline and tour through it.

The Stevensons soaked up much knowledge and they have relayed it to us beautifully. All through the show many of us were hearing the strains of Bali Hi and Some Enchanted Evening. We think James Michner himself would have approved the presentation.

Parsonage Newcomers

Two New UMC Pastors Bring Wives To City

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

CHANGE OF PASTORS in United Methodist Church here brought to Hereford this summer two women as newcomers, Mrs. Jordan Grooms as the gracious mistress of First UMC parsonage and Mrs. DeWitt Seago of the chaplain's residence at Kings Manor.

Both have lived in various other West Texas cities while their husbands served in pastorates. Both are vitally interested in their husbands' work and in the travel and entertainment of visitors connected with that work.

Both talk proudly of their children, now grown up and in homes of their own, and of their grandchildren.

But in personality and background they are quite different, each displaying her own tastes and mannerisms.

AS ROBERTA KIRK, Mrs. Seago has lived in West Texas since she was only a year old when her family moved from her native state, Arizona.

She grew up in Lamesa and graduated from high school there, then was a student in McMurry College at Abilene until she married.

The Grooms were not Texas residents until after their marriage. Gladys Grooms lived in Oklahoma, the daughter of a Presbyterian minister, and received her education in that state through the earning of an MA degree from the University of Oklahoma.

She was teaching in a Presbyterian college in Tennessee when she met her husband, who had grown up there; they were married while he was at work in Missouri.

VEGA AND AMARILLO are other Panhandle cities where Dr. Grooms had been a UMC pastor, and they came here from Big Spring.

Travel is an enthusiasm shared by the couple, and they had one period of residence in England when Dr. Grooms exchanged pulpits for a time with a pastor at Wolstanton, Staffordshire, about 90 miles from London.

They had toured England briefly on a previous trip which took them to several European countries and the Holy Land. Impressions at that time made them eager to accept the exchange pastorate and they had pleasant memories of association with English people.

OTHER TRIPS HAVE been to Mexico and Cuba. Mrs. Grooms believes travel experiences were good for her children, and so were the meetings with visitors from other countries and other religious faiths whom they often entertain in their home.

They have cultivated friendships on an ecumenical basis, not simply as an expression of the church's broadening program but by their own inclination.

Mrs. Grooms treasures a collection of almost 100 madonna figurines, which she has been accumulating for more than 30 years, partly because the appealing little figures represent friendship all over the world.

THE COLLECTION BEGAN with a gift from a friend at Vega of a small, hand-carved wooden figure bought in Oberammergau, Germany, on a trip to see the famed Passion Play.

One, more than a century old, was a gift from a group of nuns at Beaumont; another was brought by a bishop from Rome, where he attended a Vatican council. Each has a story that recalls a friend.

For pastime Mrs. Grooms likes to read, partly for reference material in her work with women's organizations in the church. She enjoys cooking, which she associates with hospitality as she says she can prepare a meal for visitors at a moment's notice.

The Grooms' children are a son who is a doctor in Amarillo and a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Hewett of Big Spring. They also count as their children three who are actually children of her sister, but who have spent much time in the Grooms' home.

WHEN THE SEAGOS talk of travel, they usually mean camping trips which has always been their chief family recreation.

They began camping with borrowed equipment when they were first married, effervescent Roberta Seago says, and gradually accumulated essentials for outdoor living as their family grew.

The natural next step was a trailer-camper; the one they now own is their second. They had sold their camper and gone back to tenting, but since the children now live in other cities the couple decided it was too difficult for just two persons to set up camps.

TRIPS TO NATIONAL parks and cities from the east to west coasts are in their experience. And with their twin daughters living at opposite extremes of the nation, they have also been from north to south.

One of the twins, Cathryn Von Ende, will come up from McAllen to join them later this summer on a camper trip to Virginia, Minn., where the other twin, Carolyn Risse, lives.

The other Seago children live in Arlington. There is another daughter, Linda Connor, and the son, Robert. The family includes seven grandchildren now.

Overseas travel has been in the picture for the couple, too. When Linda was living for a time on Okinawa, they visited her and then went on to Japan and other places in the Orient. And they made a trip with a church group to England.

KNITTING AND SEWING are favorite occupations for Mrs. Seago, who collects different kinds of bells.

She learned to sew for her daughters, she says, and climaxed that phase of the needle art by making wedding dresses—only two, because one of the girls wore a sister's bridal gown.

She makes many of her own smart clothes and some for the grandchildren.

Perhaps the Seago's dog should be listed as a hobby of its mistress, since she especially likes pets. At present the pet is a Chinese pug, named for an ancient Chinese empress and called Chi for short, who is now the mother of five cute week-old puppies.

Noon Guest Speaker

Mrs. Carl Mountz, pioneer Hereford resident, was guest speaker for the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at the Civic Club Center.

Mrs. Mountz, second in a series of pioneer speakers for the August Lions' meetings, was introduced by program chairman Wayne Thomas. Highlights of Mrs. Mountz's talk appeared in the Thursday Brand.

Benny Womble was presented a special "Key Member" award at the luncheon for signing up six new members in the club. Milton Adams made the presentation.

Ed Line issued an appeal to Lions for participation in the "Hustlin' Heritage" pageant which will be presented here during Diamond Jubilee week. More men are needed to portray characters in the historical pageant. He pointed out there were no lines to learn—the pageant will be narrated with players "walking through" the scenes.

Jim Hale presided at the meeting, with a number of guests and visiting Lions being recognized.

By the Garden Gate

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

The past few days the garden gate has been opened wide for several visitors, friends and loved ones. Each guest added much to the beauty and interest of the garden, and the fragrance of their visits will be cherished. You'll come to see me . . .

One of the guests I enjoyed so very much was a young lad who had recently returned from Switzerland. He was a fine looking blond, with beautiful blue eyes and a winning personality.

After we had visited a bit, and looked at the flowers, examined the water fountain, and looked at the apple tree, he asked me if I would go to the garage with him. I readily agreed, and followed him.

He went directly to where I stored the U.S.A. flag, and looked at me and said, "May I carry the flag." I told him I would be happy for him to. I thought he wanted to take it and place it where I put it on holidays.

So he led the way, and when we reached the place to place the flagpole, he said, "really I did not want to place it here; I just wanted to carry it."

That pleased me and I said, "Sure you can if you will be careful and not let it drag on the walk or the soil." He quickly said, "Oh! I know how to carry the flag."

So we went marching along and as I followed him I could hear him saying softly, "I love the United States of America, and I think the flag is beautiful. Oh! how much I do love the United States, and am glad I am here." Each time he spoke he lifted the colors a bit higher and seemed to step a bit livelier.

Sometimes he would speak in his native tongue. As he did his eyes sparkled and he very carefully carried the flag of the U.S.A. Never will I forget the fine blond haired, blue eyed boy who marched along the driveway and proudly carried our national emblem. It is things like this that make life more precious, and love of one's country deeper.

AUGUST GARDENING CHORES . . . The summer days are fast coming to an end. Really it would be wonderful just to sit in a comfy chair or swing slowly and just enjoy the fruits of our gardening. It is too hot to do much gardening but there are chores which must be done.

Chrysanthemums must be watered consistently, and fed (remember they are the pigs of the garden) if large blossoms are wanted. Pinching should be done. Dahlias should be fed so the blossoms will have good qualities and the plant will be kept in growing condition.

August is the last month in which the roses should be fed. Check rose bushes for black spot, mildew and on the tender buds you will probably find some aphids. If color of foliage does not measure up, it should be treated either with sulphur or iron. Foliage feeding is the best method if iron is used.

All plants which have more than a half day exposure to the hot sun should be mulched. Old hay, dried lawn clippings or peat moss are good for mulching. If lawn clippings are used be sure they are free of weeds and foreign grass seeds. Mulching keeps the soil cool, and if used will cut down on the watering. It is really good maintenance practice for all plants.

During the last days of summer many trees fall prey to webworms. When web-like nests appear in various shade trees (often our very favorite one) you can rest assured that the fall webworm is present and is eating the foliage.

Soon they can make great inroads on the beauty and usefulness of the tree. The damage caused by these pests weakens trees, but if attended to thoroughly and carefully the tree will soon be restored to its original beauty and usefulness.

Not only does the fall webworm attack trees, but the tent caterpillar does like damage and makes its appearance in practically the same way.

Webworms make their web next at the end of the branches, and the caterpillar nests at the crotch of limbs or branches.

The forest caterpillars do not make webs.

If the tree is not badly infested webworms can be removed by hand or by a pronged stick. If badly infested the nests can be burned with a torch made from oily rags tied to a pole. Use care so that the foliage or bark of tree is not singed.

If removed by first method, then burn or destroy the webs. Malithion is an effective spray if a chemical means of control is desired. If the latter is used be sure directions on the container label are carefully followed.

Do not put off this garden chore, it should be attended to as soon as the first web nest appears. Remember if left to spread, the wind can blow worms etc. onto the neighbors' trees or gardens, and the infestation spread. They will destroy vegetables as well as trees.

Another use for styrofoam: When potting plants, crush styrofoam, pack into the bottom of the pots in place of pebbles or small rocks for drainage. This works real well and makes the pots much lighter to lift.

If you have potted poinsettias sunk in shady places in the garden, now is the time to pinch for the production of colorful bracts and to make a more compact plant.

Remove two-thirds of the new shoot growth. This method of pruning will aid in producing nicely developed plants. Do not prune later than September 15 for you may interfere with the plant's flowering cycle.

Plant and pot should be lifted several days before it is taken into the house for winter. Plant should be groomed, and the container well cleaned.

In preparing for other plants to be potted, the following will be helpful! Wash carefully and sterilize all pots you plan to use. When completely dry, dip the rims of the new or freshly cleaned pots (clay) into polyurethane varnish to keep them free of salt deposits.

This protects plants such as African violets from having stems and foliage burned by the minerals accumulating at the rim. The varnish should be about 1/4 inch in depth on the rim of pot. Such varnish is available at all plant or hardware stores or departments. The varnish can be brushed on if desired.

VISITS: On my visits this week to various gardens to see special plantings, it was very rewarding. The moss rose (portucula) at the King home 903 15th, is very beautiful. The range of color is lovely and the quality of plants is excellent.

There is also a very beautiful planting of verbenas underneath the picture window at the front of the mobile home. While visiting with Mrs. King, she told me how they plant moss roses.

She selects a salt cellar with good openings, pours the seed into it and then adds cream of wheat (about equal amounts) and when soil is carefully prepared (it should be very carefully raked and entirely free of clods or other debris) she takes the shaker and carefully plants the seed by shaking it over the soil. Covers very lightly . . . this is a must.

At the Caddell home the dahlias were very lovely, well grown and a good selection as to colors and varieties. I especially admired the dark red ball type and a decorative dahlia in a soft blend of orchid and pink. Beautiful.

Dahlias at the Carter home were also very pretty. I noticed they had my very favorite, the red and white maroon-tipped variety which grows well here. One of the most striking and well done examples of espaliering is at the Dick Barnard home, 212 Ave. B. Make a special effort to see this: it is interesting and pretty.

Flower Show Theme Related To Jubilee

Our Heritage — Then And Now will be the theme of Hereford Garden Club's annual fall flower show Aug. 29, in keeping with the city's Diamond Jubilee celebration of which it will be a part.

Fir Street Boasted As 'Friendliest'

"The smartest, friendliest, best street in town" is the way residents of Fir street describe their long, two-block area.

The boast came during a "Fir Street Party" at Dameron Park Thursday night, when residents turned out for home-made ice cream, cake and fellowship.

"If you don't think Hereford is growing, just look at our street," reported Mrs. Irene McKinster Thursday night.

"We held a street party in 1968 and had only seven homes in the 200 block of Fir; now we have 34 homes in the block!"

One reason the street claims to be "the smartest" in Hereford lies in the fact that 21 teachers, four coaches, one principal and one assistant principal reside on Fir Street. The street, with a total of 53 homes, also claims 17 slaves (housewives), as well as farmers, salesmen, secretaries, nurses, beauticians, and "many beautiful children."

Mrs. McKinster said several neighbors noted in 1968 that they were losing out on hospitality as new families moved in and old ones moved out. The idea for a street party started, and the residents got together for an ice cream and cake social.

"We thought it was about time to have another party and count noses on the street," Mrs. McKinster said this week.

One family — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bolinger — came from Siloams Spring, Ark., to attend the party. The Bologers are former Fir street residents. He is a retired Baptist minister.

Mrs. McKinster prepared a "Fir Street Directory" in mimeographed form to give to all residents. It includes the names of all members of each family, along with the jobs of the husband and wife and the ages of the children.

Good intentions are usually sincere, but too often they're outdistanced by human frailty.

Weapons come and go, but the most potent weapon in life will always be public opinion.

Women's Football Clinic Planned At 2 p.m. Today

Hereford Head Coach Larry Dippel will conduct a women's football clinic at 2 p.m. today in the auditorium of Hereford High.

Dippel will explain the basic formations of plays of football and interpret many of the football terms for the women. A question and answer session will follow.

"We especially would like to invite the mothers of our players to attend," said Dippel, "but would also like for all women in the area who are interested in knowing more about football to come and join us."

Gun Club To Meet Sunday

The Hereford Gun Club will host a practice trap shoot Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Hereford Airport.

Ammunition will be available for sale, and every one is invited to attend the practice session. The Hereford Gun Club holds a practice trap shoot every second and fourth Sunday of each month.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I am a grandmother who has read and enjoyed your column for years.

Hubby and I have a "growing" family now that our three children have married.

We have a dining room in which there was a 63"-long buffet on one wall and a 48"-long china closet on another. With the increasing size of the family, our dining room was crowding out some of our happy faces who had to eat in the kitchen when we celebrated birthdays and holidays.

We could not stretch the walls. With the many necessary

We now have ample room for a double leaf in the table—and sitting space for all of us—together!

We have received so many compliments on our breakfast that we thought it might be a helpful hint to others who might be crowded for space.

Kathryn O'Connell

You are a lucky gal to have that wonderful man who "saw" that fabulous solution to your problem.

I could not have thought of a better way myself. And the best part of it all was that it was all for free except for a little effort.

Heloise

A MERRY GAME

DEAR HELOISE:
At a bridal shower recently,

we played "musical presents." And it was hilarious!

The hostess supplies small items that she knows her guests will appreciate.

Then she starts them all around the group, each person passing her gift to the next.

It's just like musical chairs—only when the music stops, whoever is holding a gift gets to keep it.

It's great fun, 'cause no one wants to be caught without something when the music stops.

Mrs. J.A.B.

GRANNY'S DELIGHT

DEAR HELOISE:
My 3-year-old son loves to water-paint and it is impossible to save all his pictures. Yet I hate to burn them, so I furnish him with plain white paper to paint on and by using the other side as stationery, I solve an ecological problem (double use of the paper).

I avoid burning his pictures, and all the people with whom I correspond may view and save (if they wish) his precious works of art.

This is especially nice for writing to grandmothers and aunts.

Mrs. A. Thomas Turner

BUYING A BED?

DEAR HELOISE:
If you are planning to purchase an extra-large bed and have a move in your future, consider the size of the box springs.

The queen-size springs (not being in two sections as is the king-size) are much more difficult to handle—especially if you have to navigate them through a winding narrow staircase as we did.

Had our ceiling been one inch lower, it would have been impossible to get our queen-size springs to the second floor bedroom. Since the mattress is pliable, it didn't pose a problem.

Mrs. Terry Jones

THAT'S MY DOG

DEAR HELOISE:
Sometimes our dog gets out at night and we're always afraid of him getting hit by a car or something, so here is my idea that keeps him out of trouble.

Buy some reflector tape and put it on your dog's collar so that when he crosses the street he can be seen by all cars that have their lights on.

Now we don't worry any more. This also works on cats.

Michele
Age 13

A SMILE TO MATCH

DEAR HELOISE:
We live in an older apartment and the bathroom is pretty drab. Our landlord doesn't allow anything on the walls that could cause holes.

So I cut out jokes and cartoons and other interesting articles (short ones!) and taped them onto the wall.

Now we have a "conversation piece" bathroom and are never bored when we are brushing our teeth!

Helen

JUST DESSERTS

DEAR HELOISE:
When my children were small I let them use any leftover cake icing this way, and we still enjoy it.

Just spread the icing on graham crackers. Stack them three or four high. Wrap in wax paper and put in the refrigerator for at least 24 hours.

Serve with a dap of whipped topping or some chocolate sauce and a few chopped nuts or a scoop of ice cream.

The possibilities are endless, and it's a dessert fit for a king.

Mrs. Rose Bush

A STITCH IN TIME

DEAR HELOISE:
I ordered my husband some slacks, and now the company sends me small sample cuts of material along with their advertising leaflets.

I had been tossing them in the trash until my 10-year-old son said: "Mother, you can use these to fix my shirts and pants."

Just today, I received eight sample cuts. In them, I found just the right shade of brown to mend a pair of his slacks.

These are small sample cuts and are just right for patching.

Molly Hill

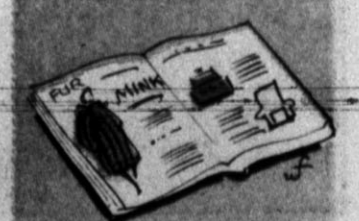

CASUAL COVER-UP

DEAR HELOISE:
My husband had extra winter robes, so I took the two oldest ones and cut them off just below the pockets allowing enough for a 2-inch hem.

They are like a smoking jacket—great for relaxing in the evening.

Mrs. K.

THE HOURS FLEW

DEAR HELOISE:
When my 10-year old girl was absent from school with the flu, she became bored with the usual things, so I brought in all the department store catalogs to look at.

We circled all the things we liked along with our sizes. It was lots of fun and whenever anyone in the family wants to get us a gift, all they have to do is thumb through the catalogs and see just what we want.

This will also make it easier for me to decide what patterns to buy for my daughter, now that I know the styles she likes.
