

For March 26

Public Jubilee Gathering Is Set

As the count-down date nears for Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Celebration, officials are busy making plans for the March 26 community wide meeting where it will be determined just how much interest there is in the celebration to observe Hereford's 75th anniversary.

The public is being urged to attend the March 26 meeting so officials can lay foundation work for the Aug. 25 through Sept. 1 celebration.

The meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

A representative of the Rogers Company, the firm hired to plan the massive celebration, will be on hand March 26 to give a run-down on the activities for the event. Pat Haggerty, who presented the initial program to start the community wheels moving, will be available, along with other individuals who have been assigned positions on the organizational chart.

Dale Young, general chairman of the celebration, issued a strong invitation for all citizens to attend the meeting.

"By participating in a celebration of this type, we will be telling our neighboring areas we are an aggressive community," he said. "By drawing crowds to our celebration we will create new prosperity that will benefit everyone."

"Everyone is invited to this meeting March 26—young, adults, business leaders, retailers, organization leaders and club members. The benefits, as well as the fun of such an undertaking, will be discussed."

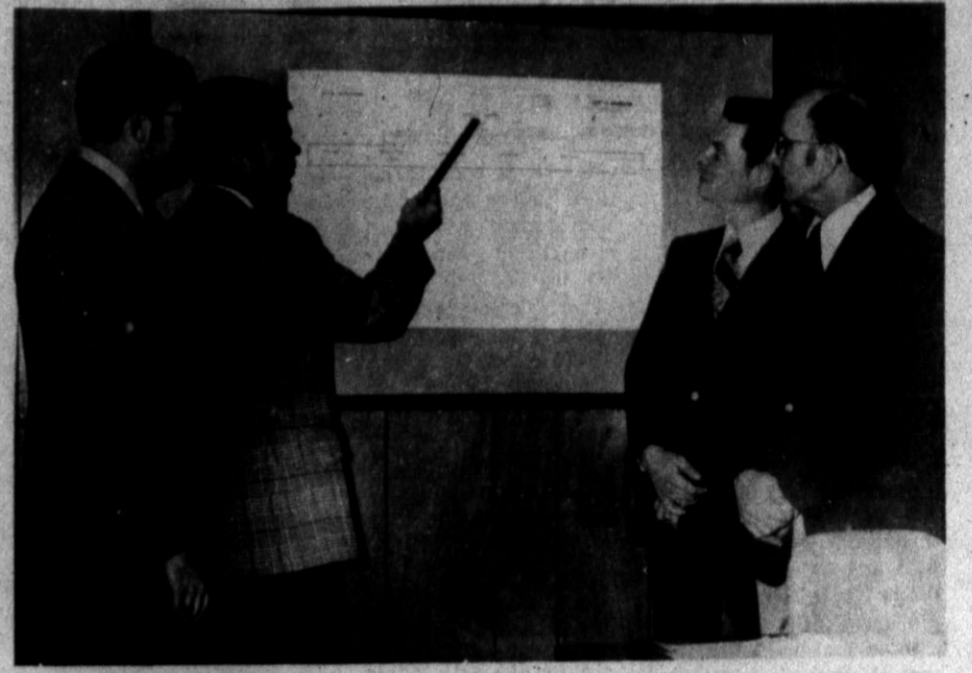

Executive committee members, selected to date, are: Young, general chairman; Earnest Langley, operating capital; Ken Rogers, insurance; Jay Swayze, decorations; Herschel Black, headquarters chairman; Bill Devers, spectacle division; Wayne Williams, treasurer; Eloise McDougal, secretary; David Loerwald, student coordinator; Bill Johnson, men participation; Melvin Jayroe, spectacle ticket division; and Rodney Laubhan, revenue division.

Four additional chairman positions will be filled soon.

Young pointed out the ap-

"I was taught when I was young that if people would only love one another, all would be well with the world. This seemed simple and nice; but I found when I tried to put it into practice not only that other people were seldom lovable, but that I was not very lovable myself."—G.B. Shaw.

Helen Lee, president of the Women's Division, told C of C directors at a board meeting Thursday that she had asked them for many things, "and now I'm asking for your blood!" She meant it, too. The women are sponsoring a special drive for the blood bank Wednesday, and hope to secure at least 100 pints. We hear all the women volunteered their husbands as donors!

Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union is planning a big annual stockholder meeting Monday night at the high school auditorium. The meeting has become a big event here, and the 36th annual party Monday night includes entertainment by the HHS Stage Band and prizes for some lucky members or guests.

It was a busy weekend for The Brand news staff with such "added attractions" as a baseball tourney, high school rodeo, track meet, and spelling bee going on here. Some of the final results will not be included in this issue, since the paper "goes to press" early Saturday afternoon. Look for more details and pictures Thursday!

At a recent press convention, editors and publishers were happy to hear Sen. Lloyd Bentsen take a strong stand on guarding the freedom of the press. "We cannot overestimate the importance of a free press to a free society—the two are inseparable," stated Bentsen.

A wave of recent incidents that threatens the freedom of the press to collect information and disseminate it to the public has brought about the question of a reporter's right to protect sources of information. Several reporters have been jailed by state judges for refusing to reveal sources of information.

Bentsen said he was presenting a bill to Congress which is designed to permit newsmen to protect their sources of confidential information—just as a lawyer protects his client, or a doctor protects his patients—except in cases that involve national security and national defense.

Buffer Blood Supply Is Women's Division Goal

Every member of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is asked to become a blood donor or to find a substitute donor, as the division sponsors this month's collection of blood for the "Hereford pool" at Coffee Memorial Blood Bank.

The blood bank's team will be here from Amarillo from 2 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, for blood collection at Community Center. If each woman in the C of C group is responsible for giving a pint of blood, the goal of a 100-pint buffer for use of Hereford residents will be passed.

A committee comprising Mmes. J.H. McCrary, Ken Rogers, Lynton Allred and Danny Martin is working on the Women's Division drive to reach the goal. A Woman's Division member who cannot give blood nor find a substitute donor, is asked to notify Mrs. McCrary for suggested names of donors.

The arrangement between the blood bank and Deaf Smith General Hospital has proved the most satisfactory yet tried for blood availability. All blood given by Hereford residents is counted for the pool which is available for local residents needing blood transfusions.

Donations from Hereford in the past have just about kept up with the demand for blood in the hospital here, and the current drive is aimed to get ahead and to establish the 100-pint buffer.

This buffer would protect the local blood pool in case of a disaster or any occasion which would cause an unusually large demand for blood.

Anyone who gives blood may specify that it go toward an individual blood debt, or toward someone's anticipated need, the committee announces.

Tammy Fischbacher, sixth-grader at Aikman Elementary, was crowned champion of the Deaf Smith County Spelling Bee Friday afternoon when she outspelled Tony Albracht—last year's champ—and three other junior high students. Tammy, 11, had captured the junior division Thursday, qualifying her to enter the senior division. She will advance to the Regional Bee in Amarillo April 28. Tammy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Fischbacher of Rt. 5.

Albracht, the runner-up Friday, was deflated by "acupuncture." He spelled the word with two c's (accupuncture) and Tammy spelled it correctly and followed with the spelling of "annihilate" to claim the county title.

The bee went 19 rounds to eliminate three of the contestants—Danny Husemann and Billy Payne of La Plata, and Debra Livingston of Stanton. Then, Tammy and Tony went 12 more rounds to determine the champion. Debra was an alternate for Becky Friemel of La Plata, who missed the bee due to illness.

Albracht, 13, is an eight grader at La Plata and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Albracht of Rt. 3. The contest Friday used only 103 words from the "Words of the Champions" book, according to Mrs. Helen Rose, pronouncer. Judge H.C. Williams was meet director, and judges were Mrs. Johnnie Turrentine, Bill Austin, and O.G. Nieman.

The Regional Bee is sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University. The regional champion will be sent to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C. the week of June 11-15.

BLOOD DONOR COMMITTEE—Their goal 100 units of blood for the "Hereford Pool" in Coffee Memorial Blood Bank, this committee from the Women's Division, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, has asked each member of the division to give, or send a donor of, a pint of blood for the collection to be made at Community Center Wednesday afternoon. From left are Mmes. Lynton Allred, Danny Martin, Ken Rogers and J.H. McCrary.

C OF C MEET—Some of the action at the second annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce track meet is shown here, with HHS senior David Varner competing in the shot put event. Results of the meet will be carried in the Thursday Brand.

Registration Up Somewhat

Vehicle registration in Deaf Smith County is about "100 ahead of what it was last year at this time" with 6,032 vehicles registered as of Friday afternoon, according to Nell Miller, Deaf Smith County Tax assessor-collector.

By the end of March last year, there were approximately 12,000 vehicles registered in the county.

"Each year, we usually pick up anywhere between 200 and 300 vehicles," Mrs. Miller explained.

Mrs. Miller urges all residents to get their license plates early and to bring the renewal slips for easier, faster registration.

The tax assessor-collector's office, located on the second floor of the county court house, is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., including the noon-hour, five days a week.

No Soliciting

The annual Easter Seal campaign is underway in Hereford, but no door-to-door solicitations are involved, it was announced this week by Waldo Baxter, treasurer.

The Easter Seal drive is handled by mail only, although donations can be made at either bank in Hereford. No one is authorized to make house-to-house calls.

Jury Returns Life Sentence

A life imprisonment sentence—believed to be one of the first assessed in Deaf Smith County—was given to Paul Marroquin in 6th District Court Thursday on robbery by assault charges stemming from an August 1972 incident.

The five-woman, seven-man jury deliberated for 40 minutes before reaching the guilty verdict and returned to the jury chambers for 30 minutes to reach the life imprisonment sentence. The two day trial was presided over by District Judge Archie McDonald.

Marroquin, along with another man, allegedly hijacked Billy Hightower of Bovina after Hightower picked the two up on Highway 60 just outside of Hereford on Aug. 9, 1972. After being joined by two other persons, the four reportedly held Hightower at a local motel where they bound him with bed sheets, took his clothes and $1,900 in cash.

Marroquin, defended by Hereford attorney J. Edward Line, was the first to be tried for the incident, and the other defendants are expected to face trial later this year.

Third In A Series

Drug Use May Be On Decline, Pastor Believes

(Editor's Note: The following is the third in a series of articles dealing with the drug problem in Hereford. This interview with Rev. Gene Brink, indicates there are some people who feel the drug problem may be on the decline.)

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

Rev. Brink expressed a belief that drug abuse in the city had declined slightly over the past two years, ruling out the need for a program he and District Attorney Andy Shuval attempted to organize about two years ago.

"We had hoped to develop a program with ministers, lawyers and school leaders in the area, which would be recognized by the police forces and the community," he said.

According to Rev. Brink, the purpose of the program would have been to make it possible for youngsters who had "gotten hold of drugs but didn't really want them" to turn them into committee members without the fear of prosecution.

"In other words," he said, "we felt some kids were getting hold of things they really didn't want and were afraid to get rid of them. We thought it would be a helpful program."

He added that the program was never presented to the public, and failed to get off the ground because "a lot of people felt that there were other ways of getting rid of drugs, throwing it in the garbage, and just about any way."

"The problem was more with the people we approached to be on the panel. It would just have taken the drugs from whoever turned them in, and turned the drugs over to the police. We were also to be informed about treatment possibilities in case of drug addiction, and facts about drugs, in case the person needed some information which might be helpful."

Brink said that he thought there has been a "switching back to drinking" in the past few years.

"This may solve the drug problem, but it puts one just as serious in its place. I would guess that there is less drug use now than there was then," he said.

Rev. Brink said that, in his opinion, the drug abuse problem might be solved three ways.

First, he said, people need to be informed about drugs and drug problems, and second, suspicious activities should be reported to the police.

The third idea he expressed was that of people seeking counsel, who had family members involved with drugs.

"It seems to me we have a great deal of educational material available, but as long as people are scared or unhappy, they will use alcohol and narcotics to escape. Ultimately the only answer to the drug problem is living a more meaningful life."

"Education could help to some extent," he added, "but it isn't the only answer. Knowing the dangers of something doesn't prevent the use of it. For example, most people know that cigarette smoking is dangerous, but that doesn't prevent them from smoking."

Brink added that he felt the present laws concerning the possession of marijuana are too severe.

"I support the governor's attempt to make first offense possession a misdemeanor. The law is so severe now, that juries will ordinarily not convict. They are not inclined to send a person to prison for two years just for having a marijuana cigarette."

Services Held For Mr. Carver

Funeral services for Russell E. Carver, 59, of 4908 Erick, Amarillo, a longtime Panhandle banker who was president of Hereford State Bank from 1959 to 1967, were conducted in First Baptist Church of Amarillo Friday morning.

A graveside service was held Friday afternoon in the cemetery at Canadian, where he was buried. His death occurred Wednesday evening in an Amarillo hospital where he had been treated after being injured in an automobile

Small Talk

IT'S NOT NECESSARY to have the name on the calendar to let me know next month is April; a mere glance at all the activities scheduled in Hereford is enough.

Somehow it happens like this every year, maybe because everybody gets a spring-is-here-let's-do-something feeling, or else program planners realize that here it is almost vacation time and we'd better do this before May brings all those end-of-school doings.

So clubs break out with special programs and benefits and guest days to go along with weddings and showers, not to mention community programs, Easter observances and the growing list of school contests and entertainments.

IF YOU WONDER what I mean, here is a sampling from the calendar on by desk, just of events open to the public, and not guaranteed to be anywhere near complete:

A benefit style show will be staged by Church Women United in the garden room at Kings Manor April 5, funds going to Meals on Wheels; that evening and the next, Dawn Music Club presents its annual comedy song mixture, this time a Wild West Medicine Show, in the community building at Dawn.

(That weekend, garden clubs will send delegates to a district convention at Big Spring, while Federated Women's Clubs here will help Canyon clubs entertain their district convention).

Friday the 13th has been picked by the Community

Players as opening night for their chilling whodunit, Dial M For Murder. It is a part of the annual Finne Arts Festival set for the 14th and 15th in Community Center, overlapping the April 15 opening of the Easter Art Festival in First United Methodist Church, sponsored this year by Church Women United.

THREE WEDDINGS, maybe more, are scheduled here that weekend. Eastern Star members will be hosted April 18 and 19 for a district school of instruction.

On the Easter weekend, the Miss Hereford pageant will be held April 21. Of course there are numerous church services during Holy Week, and three more weddings.

Nearing the end of the month, Merry Mixers Square Dance Club has scheduled its Spring Fling in the mall, inviting dance clubs from over this whole territory for the evening of the 28th.

That doesn't even count Spring Clean Week which the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division will promote, nor any school activities. Anybody think there never is anything to do in Hereford?

CONGRATULATIONS to the Fred Rattliffs on their new daughter, Amy Catharine, who arrived in their home, 106 Ave. B., Wednesday, their's by adoption.

She was born March 5, weighing 6 pounds 15 ounces, and Rattliff says she has already tried out for Hereford High School choir, which he directs. A mezzo-soprano, he classes her voice, with plenty of volume.

collision March 9. Born in Canadian, he married Virginia Wilbur there in 1937, the year he began his banking career. He served the European Theater during World War II and returned to Canadian to become a partner in a farm implement dealership.

He became assistant cashier of First National Bank there in 1951, then cashier of an Austin bank in 1957 before he came to Hereford. He left this city for the vice presidency of a Fort Worth bank and a year later went to Amarillo National Bank as vice president.

Mr. Carver was active in civic and church affairs, was a deacon in First Baptist Church at Amarillo, a past president of Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and of the Texas unit of the American Contract Bridge League.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son, Randell, who now resides in Studio City, Calif., where he has a leading role in a Billy Graham movie production, Time To Run.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Ted Hobdy of Canadian, Mrs. Bergie Spencer of Pampa and Mrs. Verna Joske of Houston, and a brother, John, of Andover, Mass.

PHONOGRAPH PATENT

A patent for the invention of the phonograph was issued to Thomas A. Edison on Feb. 19, 1878.

Minor Items Dot Chamber Meeting

The annual audit report and routine committee reports headed the agenda of the monthly directors meeting of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning.

The meeting also marked the final day for Jim Lindsey, executive director, who has resigned the manager's post here and is moving to Santa Fe, N.M., to accept the C of C director's office there.

Jim Conkwright, president, reported that the selection committee has interviewed several applicants for the manager's job here and is still screening candidates. A decision is expected to be made by the board in the near future, however.

The sports committee reported on the sponsorship of the track meet and baseball tournament which were held over the weekend. Members of Larry Dippel's committee will assist in the track meet.

Helen Lee, women's division, reported on the special blood bank drive to be held Wednesday, March 21. The women are seeking to have 100 pints of blood contributed that day.

The board approved the annual audit, which was presented by W.C. Russell of Brown, Graham & Co.

Whitefaces Fall In Link Play

The Hereford Whiteface golf team, in the second match of the district race Friday, fell into the cellar as a result of a 337 showing at Meadowbrook Golf Course at Lubbock.

Monterey is leading the district with a team total of 617 for two meets and is nine strokes ahead of second place Snyder.

In the varsity squad standings, it is Monterey, Snyder, Lubbock High, Plainview, Lubbock Coronado and Hereford.

In the B-team standings it is Monterey, Snyder, Plainview, Coronado, Hereford and Lubbock.

Hereford's Keith Kitchens led the locals with a round of 80, followed by C.V. Seamonds, 93; Bill Carruthers, 80; Tom Conway, 81; and John Martin, 83.

The teams will meet again Friday in Plainview for the third round of district play.

pointment of Loerwald as the student activities coordinator, explaining that since the young people will have a large part in the celebration, some type of coordination was needed between them and the planning committee.

"Community response has been real encouraging," Young said. "We hope to find out a lot more from this meeting March 26."

Ranch Is Subject

Continuing a series of programs on ranching in West Texas, a discussion of the Slaughter Ranch near Post was presented by Mrs. J.E. Sorrells and Mrs. Paul Rudd for Farm and Ranch Club Thursday.

A covered dish lunch and program had Mrs. J.B. Odum as hostess in her home. Members named western cattle trails in response to roll call.

A coffee tasting session ended the luncheon, as coffee made in the style of various foreign countries was served for sampling.

Plans were made for a guest day trip to Colony Catherine near Amarillo for April 5, and the next luncheon in the home of Mrs. W.W. Thomas April 19.

Present were Mmes. W.W. Gilbreath, J.V. Perrin, Jack Weaver and those on the program.

Home-Grown Food From Gardens Is Topic For Club

A program on varieties of vegetables grown in this area was given by Mrs. Leroy Bodkin and Mrs. Ira Ott to the Wyche Extension Club which met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. L. Word.

Mrs. Bodkin and Mrs. Ott pointed out that a large garden is not needed to feed a family; much can be grown in a small plot if properly planned. They also made it clear that mini-gardens can be part of landscapes.

Mrs. Bodkin and Mrs. J. W.

Duncan directed recreation, having the group identify various seeds. Mrs. J. H. Holden presided over business.

Members present were Mmes. Norman Hodges, Bob Thuett, Paul Jones, L. B. Wortham, Frank Duncan, C. F. Newson, E. C. Hewitt Jr., Wayne Jones, Larry Bigham and Harley Ward.

GAS Central AIR Conditioning

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out — so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Call one of our air conditioning specialists this week — before the summer market becomes really active. He'll make a free, no obligation, survey of your home and give you a quotation on the cool investment.

HISTORY OF PLEDGE

The pledge to the Flag, according to a report of the Historical Committee of the United States Flag Association (May 18, 1939), was written by Francis Bellamy, (August, 1892), a member of the editorial staff of the Youth's Companion, in Boston Mass.

It was first repeated at the exercises in connection with the celebration of Columbus Day (October 12, 1892). The idea of this national celebration on Columbus Day was largely that of James B. Upham, one of the junior proprietors of The Youth's Companion.

FIRST FLIGHT

Herd Plays For Third

Big Spring's Steers put a 12-2 damper on the Whitefaces' bid for the championship game Friday and put the locals into the third-place game against Levelland Saturday afternoon. Levelland dropped a 7-2 decision to Pampa and the Harvesters and Steers were scheduled to meet for the championship at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. Hereford met Levelland at 1 p.m.

Results of the games were not available due to the early press of the paper.

Hereford got into the championship bracket with an opening round slug-fest win over Canyon, 12-11.

In opening round action, Levelland dropped Dumas, Pampa stunned Borger, Hereford clipped Canyon and Big Spring went into the championship bracket via a bye.

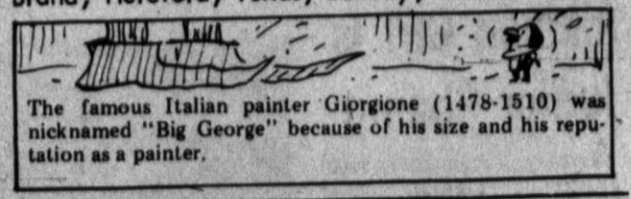

On the consolation side of the tournament bracket, Dumas clipped Borger Friday, 8-3 and set the stage for Saturday morning's 10:30 game against the Canyon Eagles for the consolation title.

Friday's 12-2 loss to Big Spring dropped the Whitefaces to 2-5 for the season. In that game, play was called after five innings on the 10-run rule.

Hereford committed six miscues in handing the game to the visiting steers who banged out only six hits in the game.

The Steers got four runs in the opening frame and added seven in the fourth and another in the fifth for their 12 runs.

Hereford got one score in the third and another in the bottom of the fifth. Singles by Duane Davison and Ricky Locke set the stage for the first score

Along The Frio

BY MRS. OWEN ANDRES

Frio W.M.U. met Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Weldon Stephan for a Bible study. The women have been meeting weekly for several weeks for study with "A Gracious Woman" by Mrs. David Stuart. Next week's meeting is scheduled for Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. James Bullard. Also, recently the W.M.U. observed Home Missions week with a series of mission studies and concluded with a Wednesday evening supper, followed by a review of the book "No Man Goeth Alone", by Thomas Starks, given by Mrs. Clark Andrews.

The church is planning a Revival meeting for the week of Mar. 25 to Apr. 1, with Rev. Clyde Hankins, of Calhoun, Ky. as evangelist. He and his wife were missionaries in Brazil for several years. Jessie Sutton, of Trinity Baptist Church, Amarillo, will be guest music director.

Mrs. Homer West was hostess at a "Come as You Are" party on Saturday morning. Guests included Mmes. Earl Harkins, Richard Price, Kerry Struve, Rick Hutson, Dick Hill, Clark Andrews, Tommy Sparkman, Eugene Baldwin, Don Baird, Dale Wright, Weldon Stephan, Gerry Hathaway, Floyd Cole, Ronnie Andrews, and Chesley Johnston. A book review given by Mrs. Bud Eades on "Fascinating Womanhood" by Helen Andelin was the feature of the morning meeting.

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Tommy Sparkman. The program was given by Mrs. Ronnie Andrews who discussed "Poisonous Snakes." She used charts to illustrate points about identifying the various types, and displayed two different kits for emergency treatment.

Others attending the meeting included Mmes. T.L. Sparkman Jr., W.A. Springer, Laura Littrell, Frank Robbins, Eugene Baldwin, Owen Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews.

Mrs. Lloyd Shultz went to Tucson this week to visit her brother, Ollie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews and Holly have been on a several days trip to visit relatives. They included Stephenville, Austin, and Marlowe, Okla. among places visited.

The children of the Herbert Bruns visited their grandparents, the Owen Andrews and their aunt, Mrs. George Zetzach and family, this week while the Bruns were at Wichita Falls to be with his father, Mr. Harry Bruns. Mr. Bruns, underwent surgery on Wednesday. He was progressing on recovery the last of the week.

The Lindleys great granddaughter, who recently underwent surgery in an Amarillo hospital is recovering satisfactorily. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Potts. She is the former Judy Shirley, daughter of Mrs. Jack Shirley. The baby had surgery on her back and was in serious condition for several days, but is now at home, west of Frio.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dean Harder are making arrangements to move to Colby, Kansas, where he is to be transferred. He is employed by Imperial Livestock, a supply house for livestock raising. The central office of that area is Garden City, Kansas.

Mr. J.H. Dobbs is in Hereford hospital for treatment for Pneumonia. She was also injured in an automobile accident several days ago—at first she only suffered seemingly minor bruises but had not recovered as she had expected, when the pneumonia developed. She sustained rib and some head injuries. She was improving the last of the week.

Summerfield Club Hears Book Review

Review of Dr. William Glasser's book, Reality Therapy, was presented by Mrs. Ray L. Johnson to Summerfield Study Club Thursday afternoon, at a meeting in the home of Mrs. J.R. Euler. Mrs. Mack Noland was co-hostess.

Mrs. Johnson discussed the book's outline of an effective treatment different from that generally accepted to achieve mental health. The author writes that everyone who needs psychiatric treatment suffers one inadequacy, the inability to fulfill his basic needs to love and to be loved.

Reality, responsibility, right and wrong were presented as factors in mental health.

Summerfield Club's part in playing hostess to the spring convention of Top of Texas District Federation of Women's Clubs was planned. The meeting is scheduled April 6 and 7 in Canyon, with local federated clubs assisting in hostess duties.

Members will make decorations for the Saturday night banquet at the convention. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Thurman Atchley, George De Lozier, Earl Lance Sr., Earl Lance Jr., L.H. Lookingbill Sr., J.B. Noland, Clayton Sanders, Guy Walsler and Johnson.

Dinner Will Celebrate Anniversary of Legion

Hereford Post of the American Legion and Auxiliary will celebrate the organization's 54th birthday at 8 p.m. Tuesday, starting with a covered dish dinner.

The legion will provide meat and dessert and Auxiliary members are asked to bring a salad or vegetable.

Benny Womble, Deaf Smith County Service Officer will be guest speaker at the dinner. His topic will be on Widows and Veterans Benefits.

The American Legion extends a special invitation to Gold Star parents and Vietnam veterans to attend the dinner, also to any other interested veterans and their families.

The American Legion was organized in Paris, France in March of 1919, before the U.S. soldiers were returned home after World War I. The local post was organized in 1929.

Membership in the American Legion is open to veterans of World War I, World War II, Korean and Vietnam, who served during hostilities and who hold an honorable discharge.

Doll Show Features Guest Day Program

With 28 dolls displayed by members and guests of North Hereford Extension Club, a special program Thursday in Mrs. Roger Williams' home featured a doll show and a program by a guest speaker.

Oldest of the dolls brought for display was one more than 60 years old, owned by Roberta Campbell. Mrs. Paul Hoff showed one in boy dress, 30 years old, and Argen Draper, county agent, had a 50-year-old doll dressed in high style, including a purse made from a pillbox.

Mrs. C. J. Mountz, a guest, brought the prettiest doll, which was made by Mrs. Phill Radovich, a teacher in Hereford many years ago. Mrs. Gaylon Bryan's rag doll made by her grandmother was judged most original.

Another from Miss Campbell's collection, a baby doll, wore the prettiest old-style dress and Mrs. Williams' doll the prettiest modern outfit.

Judges were guests, Mrs. Bill Gentry and Mrs. Ron Bridges. Mrs. Gentry who is president of Bud To Blossom Garden Club, gave the program on Mini-Gardens, which she said meet the need to grow something, for people living in apartments where space is limited.

Even a tiny corner can be used, or vegetables may be grown in beds with flowers, she said, adding that more ingenuity than work is needed for this type of gardening.

Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr. and Mrs. Rick Cross were other guests at the meeting; members present included Mmes. Iva Salzman, Mack Tucker, Butch Haggard, A. E. Hodges, Tony Hoffman and J. A. Crofford.

Miss Brisendine Bride In Florida

A wedding in Eglin Air Force Base Chapel at Fort Walton, Florida, was read at the noon hour Friday for Miss Oleta Diann Brisendine of Hereford and Robert Emmett Burns of Mary Esther, Florida.

Both are in United States Air Force service with the rating of sergeant. After next weekend the couple will make their home on Rt. 1, 8 Roby's Drive, Mary Esther.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Brisendine, 805 South 25 Mile Avenue. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clement J. Burns of Glen Gardner, New Jersey.

Chaplain Joseph C. Matthews III of Hurlburt Field, where the bride is stationed, officiated for the marriage ceremony.

Attending the couple were Miss Jeanne M. Healey of West

Palm Beach, maid of honor, and Douglas L. Wheeler of Upperco, Maryland, best man. George L. Ingram of Buffalo, New York, served as usher.

Wedding music was by Jimmy Sanders, organist, who played a medley including Walk Hand In Hand, Twelfth Of Never and Wedding Prayer.

On either side of the chapel altar were baskets of white and yellow gladiolas and pompon mums with green foliage, and yellow tapers burning in candelabra. Family pews were marked with bows.

Miss Brisendine, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta. It was fashioned with empire waist, long sleeves fitted to her arms and pointed at the wrist, a high neckline and skirt formed of lace tiers. Satin ribbon circled the high waistline and was tied in streamers.

Tiny pearls trimmed the lace caplet which held her elbow veil of nylon illusion. She carried a bouquet of daisies—and babybreath.

A floral print in many colors made her attendant's dress, floor length with empire waist, scooped neckline and long sleeves. Collar and cuffs were of lace-trimmed satin.

Her arm bouquet was of orange-tipped carnations on green leaves, with green ribbon streamers. She wore a headband of the carnations.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception and luncheon was held in the NCO Club at Eglin AFB. Miss Vickie Dawson of Daytona Beach registered guests at the chapel, and served the wedding cake and punch.

The two-tiered cake was ornamented with yellow flowers and greenery and topped with a miniature trellis of daisies over bride-and-groom figurines. Bouquets of the bride and maid of honor made the centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns left on a trip to Florida resort spots including Disneyworld. She was dressed for travel in a grey sleeveless A-line frock with stand-up collar, accessorized in red. Her corsage was taken from her wedding bouquet.

She entered USAF service in 1968, the year after her graduation from Hereford High School. Burns has seen duty in Vietnam, Thailand and Cambodia since his military service began in 1967. He is a graduate of Plainfield, New Jersey, High School.

Parents of the couple were among wedding guests. The bride's brother, Trent Brisendine, also went from Hereford; the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Gerald Kaminski, from South Plainfield, and his aunt, Mrs. Carl Hull, and family from Essex Falls, New Jersey.

Wild West Theme For '73 Show

When the lovers of fine music who make up Dawn Music Club turn each spring to much-less-serious music and comedy to match, residents of their community look forward to a hilarious evening at their show benefiting the Dawn Community Building fund.

It is scheduled this year for April 5 and 6 in the present community building, and the stage will be set as a covered wagon for the Wild West Medicine Show. Tickets go on sale soon by club members.

This theme will permit all new songs and skits by club members and others recruited among Dawn residents. The show is planned for about an hour and a half, with an intermission when refreshments will be available.

The past two years the club has presented take-offs on the television show, Hee-Haw, with a variety of humorous dialogues mixed with popular songs. Stage settings and costumes are all made by members, helped by their husbands and other neighborhood volunteers.

Lung Cancer Is Discussed

Dr. C. E. Rush, local physician, presented a program on lung cancer at the monthly meeting Friday of the local board of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Rush explained the symptoms of lung cancer and showed several x-rays of persons who had developed the disease.

"Lung cancer is a very common tumor, probably the most common and some people feel it is related to smoking. But, there are other causes of lung cancer — asbestos inhalation, pollution — lots of things. In Finland it seems people who take sauna baths tend to have cancer more often than those who do not," he told the board.

Some of the noticeable signs of possible cancer, he said, are coughing, spitting up blood, chest infection, chest pains, weight loss and, of course, abnormal patterns on x-rays.

Depending on the location of the cancerous growth in the lungs, other symptoms might be club fingers, hoarseness or a swelling of the face, Dr. Rush said.

The outlook for persons who have lung cancer is not good, according to Rush. He said "8 per cent of all tumors cases have a five-year survival," and if the lung can be removed, there still is only a 28 per cent chance of five-year survival.

"Surgery is the best treatment we have and this sometimes means the entire lung might have to be removed. We have drugs for the treatment of lung cancer, but this is usually reserved for people who are beyond other help," he said.

"But, at all times, we must maintain hope." The board meeting Friday was the final one before the April 2 drive.

The board heard a report of progress with the drive and learned that some 13,953 pamphlets have been distributed, 4,063 persons have seen films on cancer, and some 3,000 church bulletins have been distributed, reminding persons of the local drive.

Garden Club Slates Spring Activities

Bud To Blossom Garden Club's display for the community Fine Arts Festival April 14 and 15 will consist of artistic flower arrangements and an array of books on gardening and flower arranging, from shelves of the County Library.

Plans were reported by Mrs. Bill Nelson to members meeting Friday morning in SWPS Reddy Room, where Mrs. Sam Long was hostess. Participation in the arts festival is an annual project of the club.

Books on the subject of ecology will be given to schools here, it was decided in the business session. Mrs. Gaylon Bryan reported work in gardening to begin next month by a group of Campfire Girls she directs.

Cooperation in a tree-planting on Arbor Day, April 30, was planned. Representation at the District I Garden Club convention at Big Spring early in April was arranged; Mmes. Bill Gentry, Jess Robinson, Long and Nelson plan to go from Bud

To Blossom Club.

Mrs. Gentry was the program speaker Friday on Mini-Gardens. She talked of growing plants in containers, both indoors and outdoors, or in small spots of ground where they may be cultivated both for appearance or to produce vegetables for the table.

Roses, shrubs and annuals may be grown this way to satisfy the gardening urge of those who have not space for a conventional garden, Mrs. Gentry pointed out.

Underwater wedding unites skin divers

Club president Nolan Grady announced that the annual "election party" has been scheduled for March 29 at Civic Club Center with ladies invited. The club will not meet on March 28.

Several new members and guests were introduced at the meeting Wednesday. New members listed by the club are Ronald Wiewel, Bill Kester, Sid Shaw, Conney White Jr., Phil Sciumbato, Paul Jones, and Don Heh.

The church was decorated with three bouquets of white snapdragons and daisies, two candelabra centered with a kneeling bench, completed the scene.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Barbara Anstey was maid of honor and Loyd Johnson of Hartley was best man.

Miss Kathleen Funk was the bridesmaid and Clarke Shrauner of Hartley the groomsmen.

Ushering guests to their seats were John Martin and Bill Martin, both brothers of the bride, Hayden Thompson III, brother of the bridegroom, and Bill Siddens of Amarillo.

The dress had wide full sleeves with cuffs of lace. The tiered veil forming a train edged in lace, accented the dress. The bride carried a bouquet of casading daisies and sym-bidium orchids.

As a luck charm, the bride wore her great-grandmother's cameo.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length dresses with rainbow colors of lavender, mint green, turquoise and pale yellow. They carried nosegays of daisies, each matching her dress.

A reception following the ceremony, was held in the Pioneer Gas Company Flame Room, with Mrs. John Kuper of Dalhart and Mrs. Toby Tucker of Amarillo serving the bride's cake, which was four tiered, white with pastel butterflies and flowers on the corners and bride-and-groom figurines centering it.

Dupree ladled punch; both are Amarillo residents.

Toth was sent to a mental home for two years by a Rome magistrate.

Varieties Make Up Program

Things they didn't know about Texas, or had forgotten, were revealed to Hereford Study Club members in a program by Mrs. Merlin Kaul at the meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Bob Posten. Officers for next club year were elected to feature the business period.

Mrs. Art Stoy was chosen president to succeed Mrs. Don Robinson, Mrs. Joe Story was named vice president, Mrs. Melvin Thompson secretary, Mrs. B.F. Cain correspondent, Mrs. Cawthon Bryant treasurer, Mrs. Roy Hartman historian and Mrs. Robinson parliamentarian.

Guest night was planned for the next meeting, April 5, in a change from the club's yearbook schedule. Mrs. T.E. Braddy will be in charge of a program by the high school stage choir in First United Methodist fellowship hall, with Mmes. Labry Ballard and Hartman as hostesses.

Mrs. Kaul enlivened the flood of information she gave about Texas, by humorous interpolations, tales, legends and skits she had arranged for her primary grade pupils at Walcott School.

She listed historic spots from the widely-known Alamo to almost-forgotten forts at Nacogdoches in East Texas and Ft. Davis in the far west; reminded members that the name, Texas, means friendship.

Also among her facts she told a legend of the bluebonnet, state flower; named annual events in the state including the Palo Duro Park musical, Texas; and said the state's independence from Mexico was won in 18 minutes at the Battle of San Jacinto in 1836.

In spite of the speed of modern living, wise men save enough time to plan their next move.

Among New Residents

Internationals Appear To Spice City's Scene

BY CORINNE NEELY

HEREFORD'S POPULACE, with incoming new residents, is being spiced with Internationalism.

Perhaps the first to notice this trend was the Newcomers Club. Several of the newest residents who have joined the club in order to feel more at home by meeting other late-comers and members already established here, are from other countries.

They hope with membership and its form of contacts to find their niche in the community. It is said by one of its members that with a short period in the club they begin to make friends and find other opportunities to join clubs, organizations and churches.

This opinion of Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, an active member of the Newcomers and other clubs, is of special value since she, a native Texan, has moved to and out of Hereford four times. She says she hopes to stay this time.

MRS. RONALD BRIDGES is the president of the club and is very active in promoting its projects, which are numerous, and the growth of its membership.

Irene McKinster is given credit for establishing the Newcomers Club in Hereford, but because of her five years here as a resident is no longer a member.

When Mrs. McKinster was asked what motivated her to organize the club she replied that she had belonged to one in La Platte, Neb. before coming here. It is generally agreed that two years is the average limit to a membership and she said in La Platte they then went into a Residence Club.

But Mrs. Bryan says by this time in Hereford most members have already become interested in other organizations, often along with their husbands.

MRS. JOE RAILEY also became aware of these new residents from other nations, because she too had once lived in a strangeland. There she did not know the language, just as some newcomers here do not. She remembered how lonely she had been in a South American city where her husband's work took the couple.

Because of this memory she was inspired recently to promote a recognition of several by giving a tea for them. It was held with the aid of Deaf Smith County Museum personnel in the museum.

Among the guests were members from the Newcomers Club with others who are located in the area. These included Mrs. Chuck Stanton, Mrs. Gene Batterman, Mrs. Rodrigo Elizondo, Mrs. Frank Bethune and Mrs. Jamie Cuellar.

THESE WOMEN REPRESENTED Italy, Germany, Korea, British Guiana and South America. Some of them are here as students or workers for the government of their countries.

Others attending the tea were Mrs. Bill Kester, who has lived in Hereford some time now; of lesser time were Mrs. Bill Emmons and Mrs. Thomas Baldarez.

Without doubt there are more or ones who have husbands from other lands. Every war brings servicemen home with war-brides from England, the Orient, Germany and other countries were they are stationed, either during a war or for guard service.

Maybe, as earlier suggested by The Hereford Brand writer and columnist, Sue Coleman, an International Club for men and women with their families could be organized here. One which both those from other countries or ones who had lived in other lands could be members. They would have much in common and to share.

SOME PEOPLE THINK Hereford is overorganized, and have so thought, for several years, but when the growing population is considered and the fact that most clubs have a limited membership this may not be true. Only civic clubs as a rule do not limit their membership.

Not to be forgotten our Mexican-Americans, who for many years have settled here since the early 1940's. They came with the growing industry of vegetable farming.

But this group has been here long enough to be a part of the community and our way of life. They have already influenced and contributed to our culture.

As Hereford grows through the location of big industries like Holly Sugar and Armour Packing Co., the cattle feeding industry and its sidelines, the area will further be aware of internationalism.

From this the community can benefit, business-wise, socially and educationally if the people so chose. We residents of longer stay here can be of aid to them by recognition and they can benefit from us. Both will be gainers personally, educational-wise and socially it seems.

Electricians Meet Here

Harvey Milton of Owens Electric of Hereford, received an appreciation plaque for work done as past president of the Electrical Apparatus Servicemen's Association at the association's quarterly meeting Thursday evening.

The presentation was made by Merle Terry of Crown Electric of Clovis, president of the association.

Approximately 25 members attended the Region IV meeting, representing electrical shop owners and managers from Lubbock, Clovis, Amarillo, Muleshoe, Pampa and Borger with Owens Electric Shop of Hereford being host.

David Pruitt of Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative presented the program on life-saving procedures. He showed a film with examples of what to do in case of an electrical shock. The association's next meeting will be held May 11 in Amarillo.

VAN GOGH SOLD

A record price of $1.3 million was paid for a Van Gogh painting at a New York auction on Feb. 25, 1970.

Colonial Cookery In U.S. Studied

A program on Colonial Cookery was given by Mrs. J.J. Durham and Mrs. Jess Robinson, who also were hostesses when Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in the home of Mrs. Durham Thursday evening.

Mrs. Robinson talked on the Northern Colonies and displayed a piece of homemade lye soap along with some homespun material. She also displayed copies of different recipes used in those American colonies.

Mrs. Durham discussed Southern Colonists and their cookery. She made it clear that no matter what region or colony one lived in, the kitchen was the center of the home and made it a home.

Even in early days, American cookery was so varied because of the background of the people. Dutch cooks in New York area brought doughnuts, cheeses and sour salads; coastal colonies enjoyed seafoods; Georgians served lots of peaches.

A brief business session was presided over by Mrs. Earl Holt, regent. Mrs. L.W. Norvell, national defense chairman, discussed the Equal Rights Amendment, Post-War Reconstruction of North Vietnam and the Foundation School Experiment That Failed.

Mrs. Norvell will attend the state conference for Texas Society DAR in Houston, March 19-21, representing the local chapter.

Members present were Mmes. Sue James, Norman D. Bartlett III, Carroll Newsom, T.J. Carter, Jeff Smart, Stan Knox, Leroy Davis, Joe Reinauer and Miss Mildred Elliott.

Lessons In Tole Painting Given

Teachers for a session of tole painting in the Ceramic Art Club Wednesday afternoon were also the hostesses, Mrs. Leland Shelton and Mrs. Melvin May. The meeting was in SWPS Reddy Room.

Each member painted a plaque as she practiced technique learned on the program. Coffee and cake were served in an informal social period afterward.

In the group were Mmes. Joe Booser, O. H. Culpepper, Marcel Fischbacher, W. S. Fluit, W. C. Hromas, Helen Kirkaby, Velma Kuykendall, Leona Seavey and J. W. Stengel.

Comings and Goings at King's Manor

Kings Manor Auxiliary held open house at Westgate the afternoon of March 11. Announcements and invitations had been given out at Hereford First Methodist Church and many neighboring churches in the area.

Mrs. W.L. Davis Jr., president of Auxiliary had organized well for the occasion as follows: publicity, Mrs. Don Martin, chairman, also Mmes. Hilton Higgins, David Gibson, and Robert Strain.

Refreshments (punch and cookies) chairman Mrs. J.J. Durham, helpers Mmes James Bookout, Dale Tinnin, and J.B. Noland. Residents aid committee, Mrs. Earl Harkins, chairman and her committee, Erma Walker, Della Stagner and Gladys Setliff, who directed traffic in the corridors.

A feature of the program was the presentation of new staff members by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Don Davidson. Introductions were to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snow, new administrator and wife, from Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ray Johnson, director of nursing and wife and Mrs. Joyce Lyons, assistant administrator.

Over 200 guests attended. Kings Manor residents played hosts at what was termed an after-glo service in the Garden Room Tuesday. The after-glo name was used because it followed United Methodist Church's service downtown, part of a preaching mission series featuring Dr. Paul Bumpers, pastor of Lubbock First Methodist, as speaker.

Guests were Dr. Bumpers, the Rev. A.W. Apple, the Rev. Bill Norred and the Rev. H.L. Thurston and their families, plus church members who cared to attend. We served punch and cookies after which we all visited hob-nob style until we ended the evening with the singing of two hymns and prayer by Dr. Bumpers.

Residents of Westgate were delightfully entertained Wednesday-afternoon with a birthday tea party. Those having birthdays in the month of March were special guests. Those who received this honor were Mmes Clara Fry, Vee Faircloth and Della Osborn and Mr. Jack Gandy.

A beautifully decorated cake graced the table around which were seated the honored guests. A photographer was on hand for pictures.

A most pleasing program was rendered by the Music Study Club. Those participating were Mmes. Allen Cansler, W.T. Carmichael, Dale Young, Joe Reinauer, Paul Lyons and Wes Fisher.

Attractive and delicious refreshments were served consisting of punch, cake, pastry and sweets. For those are indebted to Mmes Paul Scott, Roland Otteson, G.W. Newsom, C.E. Hicks, Frank Barrett, Wes Fisher, S. Clements, Bob Josseland, J. Arney and C.E. Rush.

Soft music by the pianist Mrs. A.J. Schroeder, added warmth and pleasure for the fellowship hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thomas from Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Brandon from Clarendon were Sunday guests in the home of the Otis Naylors.

Mr. and Mrs. Swain Burkett of Dimmitt attended a meeting of the Kings Manor Auxiliary committee Sunday. Mrs. Burkett is a committee member. While here they visited Mrs. Pearl Mapes, formerly of Dimmitt, who is now a resident of the Manor.

Mrs. Don Davidson attended a dedication service at Asbury Methodist Church in Lubbock, March 4. She also visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt. Mrs. H.J. Guggel returned with Mrs. Davidson, having visited in Lubbock for a week.

Mrs. Louise Vaughan was in Amarillo several days recently and attended the workshop for officers of AARP at Villa Inn Thursday. She went from there to Wellington for the rest of the week.

Dinner guests March 11 were: Mrs. Mary Christian of Abilene; Mrs. and Mrs. Otis Naylor's guests, Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Naylor of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Naylor of Panhandle; Mrs. Bessie Lee Petty's guest, her son-in-law, Dick McGrew; Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson's guests, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Whittest of Dalhart.

Those having birthdays in March at Kings Manor were Roberta Wilson, Bessie Lee Petty, Elizabeth Hicks, Gladys Lair and William Payne. The birthday cakes were from the Sweet and Fancy Club.

'Spiritual Explosion'

Film Presentation Set

A film entitled "Spiritual Explosion," will be presented Wednesday at the Assembly of God Church, 606 E. Fifteenth.

The film will be shown at 7 p.m. and the public is invited.

Percy Mays, a Hereford native active in the Campus Crusade for Christ organization, will present the film.

Emperor Titus of Rome once gave an exhibition of gladiators, wild beasts and sea fights that lasted 100 days and in which 10,000 men fought.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Observance

Hundreds of Hereford girls will be participating in various activities this week in observance of Camp Fire Birthday Week, marking the 63rd anniversary of the existence of the national organization.

March 17, Saturday, was observed as Founders Day in connection with the founding of the organization in 1910 by Dr. Luther Gulick.

The observance actually begins today when girls will attend church services dressed in their organization's uniform. The national celebration also is being used as the foundation for the Hereford organization which was founded in 1928 and the Camp Fire Council, which was chartered in 1945.

The objective of Camp Fire is to inspire in the community, the belief of values held by Camp Fire.

Other activities planned for the observance week include displays, flag-raising ceremonies at the various schools, and others.

The final goal of girls in Camp Fire is to receive the Wo-He-Lo medallion—the mark of the highest rank in the organization. Nine girls in the local organization were recognized recently at the Father-Daughter Banquet for attaining that goal.

They were Cheryl Smith, Libby Word, Pam Lindsey, Sheila Lea, Carolyn Langley, Nancy Brink, Susie Hickman, Debbie Smith and Linda Collins.

The presentation of the Wo-He-Lo medallion represents 11 years of individual achievement for the girls in community as well as Camp Fire service.

The goal of the medallion program is to produce a well-rounded girl who will be an asset to the community, and to develop that girl's potential, regardless of her background.

Girls work on the highest ranking for two years. They cannot begin work before the second semester of their sophomore year in high school and they must meet high standards in 12 areas before they are considered for the medallion.

Each girl selects a committee of three citizens and, along with the Camp Fire advisor, they judge the girl's activities throughout the two-year period to determine if she has achieved the goal.

Each girl submits a written report of her services rendered and studies accomplished during the two-year period. These are reviewed by the committee for the final judgement.

Marriage to cannibal 'one for the book'

Mrs. Wyn Sargent, an explorer who married a cannibal chieftain in Indonesia, did so "simply to gain material for a book on primitive customs," her 17-year-old son Jmy (pronounced Jimmy) said in Huntington Beach, Calif., recently.

He confirmed that his mother, who is 42 and twice divorced, had become one of the wives of Chief Obaharok in the Indonesian province of West Irian.

Potato Word Is Going Out

Sixty million U.S. households are now getting the new word about potatoes through a nationwide campaign launched in February by the National Potato Promotion Board in Denver, Colo.

Howard W. Gault of Hereford is a member of the Board. He said the NPPB goal is to increase potato consumption and to improve consumer attitudes about potatoes by advertising and publicizing facts about the potato's low calories and high nutrition.

The promotion is being carried largely through television and magazine ads. These ads are aimed at making Americans aware of how and why potatoes should be in their diets.

An extensive research confirmed that most consumers consider the potato as a fattening, starchy food. The ad promotion explains that the potato is a food product that contains important nutritional values, and that a medium-sized baked potato contains only about 90 calories.

The board will also promote the potato story to newspaper and consumer magazine editors by showing how potatoes can be prepared to retain their maximum food value. They are also planning a new diet booklet featuring potato recipes.

Chamber Progress Told At Meeting

Jim Conkwright was the speaker at the Thursday luncheon meeting of Hereford noon Kiwanis Club, where he gave an activities and progress report on Chamber projects for the coming year, and a summary of 1972 programs.

Conkwright also gave a brief summary of changes at Kings Manor-Westgate, where he is chairman of the board of directors.

Conkwright told the club of long term plans by the chamber for a civic center complex in the downtown area of the city, which he said is still a vital need of the community. He said that the proposed complex would probably include one or two auditoriums, a coliseum, and meeting rooms for clubs and civic organizations.

Conkwright said that building the complex downtown would hopefully prevent Hereford from experiencing a deterioration in the downtown area, which other cities have suffered.

"Another aim of the chamber this year," he said, "is to involve more people in the chamber and in promoting the growth of the city."

He added that the chamber hoped to promote and supplement the economic growth of the city, "but not at the expense of the quality of living Hereford citizens have grown accustomed to."

Conkwright stressed the upcoming Diamond Jubilee celebration is a major project of the chamber, and described it as an "opportunity for new civic awareness in the city."

Conkwright said that a source of pride for the local chamber is its status of one of five in the state with U.S. Chamber of Commerce accreditation.

Other chamber activities stressed were the search for a new chamber executive, due to the resignation of Jim Lindsey, whom Conkwright said has served the chamber well; and recommendations on official holidays, passed by the chamber board. He also encouraged the support of members in the chamber-sponsored track meet and baseball tournament held here over the weekend.

In discussing Kings Manor and Westgate, Conkwright said the retirement home complex has recently undergone a structural change, which includes the combining of the posts of administrator and executive director. He said the board of directors has also established the position of chaplain for the complex, which will be filled later by a new pastoral assignment.

Other activities during the Thursday meeting included the installation of two new members to the club. One is Pat Hanlon, dispatcher at REA, who resides with his wife, Nola, at 506 Schley. Hanlon was sponsored for club membership by Bub Sparks.

Sponsored by Kiwanis president Don Lane, another new member installed in the club was Earl Yocum of 201

Class To Begin Wednesday

A senior life saving course in preparation for water safety instructors' training will be held at the YWCA in Amarillo, open to Hereford residents who wish this training in order to serve as instructors in the summer swimming program here.

Those interested are asked to notify Mrs. Richard Zinser of the water safety committee of Deaf Smith County Red Cross Cherokee. Yocum is the owner of Yocum Decorators, an upholstery and decorating firm. His wife's name is Linda.

Chapter, which conducts the annual summer program at the municipal swimming pool. The class in Amarillo begins at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Zinser urges persons eligible for senior life saving instruction to enroll, so there will be enough teachers for the local classes this summer.

Immediately after the close of the course, April 18, the class for water safety instructors will begin so members may complete their training in time to teach this summer.

A Feeble Effort

Underdog of all political entities is the small rural town's government. In the first place, the town—such as Tulia, Kress or Happy—has little if any outside financial assistance. Almost all its income is raised by local taxation and utility fees designed not to make money but just to pay the actual cost of water, garbage collection, sewer service. The one-cent sale tax rebate is a feeble effort to tap a new source of income...but only a feeble one. If streets are to be paved, the entire cost is borne by the community.

By contrast, the county has in addition to its ad valorem tax, part of the income from auto tags, state and federal assistance for rural roads, and other miscellaneous outside income. The hospital district received Hill-Burton funds. The school district has state and federal assistance. But not so with the city! It has the least opportunity to receive income—and the most calls to provide public services.

Why is it that the county assumes responsibility for law enforcement in the rural areas but not in town? Why is it that the county assumes responsibility for maintaining rural roads, other than the FM roads, but no responsibility for city streets?

Why should a county virtually mark off its obligation to a town once it is incorporated? The town resident continues to pay the same county taxes...and at a disproportionate assessment! The town resident pays at a far higher rate of taxation on his town home than on his farm...yet, his farm his afforded road and law enforcement service while his home is not. He has to pay the city to protect his home.

We are not criticizing individuals but the system! Almost everytime some project, such as a public library, ambulance subsidy, or any other needed project is mentioned, suggestion is immediately made that the city and county share the cost equally.

That may sound fair on the surface, but it is not fair! Since every town resident is also a county resident, it means that the town resident pays double his proportionate share.

We are not suggesting that the sheriff's department is shirking its duty by any means. There is simply no need for county law enforcement within Tulia since the police department assumes that responsibility. Rather, we should say, there should be no need for a police department when we already have the sheriff's department which is charged by law with keeping the peace throughout the county. Tulians simply pay twice for law enforcement.

Since the state is in the process of writing a new constitution, this is the time to make some provision for, to give relief to the forgotten political entity—the small rural town.

What are we trying to say? Simply that the small, rural towns...Tulia, Happy and Kress...are not getting their share of the county tax dollar; they are paying county taxes at a disproportionate rate, and it is high time that the county assumed greater responsibility for public service, in view of the fact that it has more avenues for acquiring funds than does the city!

(From portions of a column by H.M. Baggarily, Tulia Herald)

HI, PA, OK, MA; Letters Say It All

BY BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—HI is our most Western state, AK our most Northern. MA alone voted Democratic in the 1972 Presidential election while PA went Republican. Also on the roster are an OH, an OK, and an OR.

This is not gibberish but part of the official list of two-letter state abbreviations adopted several years ago by the U.S. Postal Service and being used widely by others, particularly for mailing addresses. Some publications also use the abbreviations in their editorial pages.

All Postal Service abbreviations are expressed in capital letters, without periods.

Thus HI is Hawaii, AK Alaska, MA Massachusetts, PA Pennsylvania, OH Ohio, OK Oklahoma, and OR Oregon. In only 16 cases are the two-letter abbreviations the same as those in common usage for many years except for the use of two capitals and no periods.

The new list of abbreviations was developed for ZIP Code purposes. By using city as well as state abbreviations, it is possible to get the city, state and ZIP Code within 22 spaces, allowing 13 positions for the city, a space between the city and state, two positions for the state, another space, and then the five-digit ZIP Code.

Why a maximum of 22 units in an address? Because the computer says so, that's why.

The Postal Service is planning what is known as an "advanced letter mail code-sort system" to expedite the machine sorting of outgoing mail. This will necessitate the use of city and state abbreviations plus ZIP numbers.

Not All Abbreviations Are Obvious

While most abbreviations in the postal dictionary are simple and logical, some are not. Usually the first and second letter, or first and last letter, make up the shortened version. However, that is not always possible because there can be no duplicates and some ingenuity had to be exercised.

For example, there are four states which begin with the letter M, and two of them end with the letter I. So the abbreviation for Michigan is MI, Minnesota is MN, Mississippi MS, and Missouri MO. In the case of Tennessee and Texas, neither rates to be called TE. Tennessee is TN and Texas is TX.

Some of the abbreviations have to be memorized. CO is Colorado while Connecticut is CT. AR is Arkansas, not Arizona, which is AZ. NE is Nebraska, not Nevada, which is NV. VI is the Virgin Islands, not Virginia, which is VA.

The Postal Service also has a list of abbreviations for street designators and for words that appear frequently in place names. These are not limited to two letters and may include as many as five. Nor does the first letter of a name necessarily become the first letter of the abbreviation; because Crossing is XING.

ST is not only the abbreviation for Street but also for Saint, Saints, ans State. You need a bit of local knowledge to read some official abbreviations. There is a community in Kentucky called Thousandsticks which U.S.P.S. would prefer be written 1000 STICKS.

Publication 59 Tells All

While learning the postal abbreviations of the 50 states is relatively easy, not even the chief abbreviator at the Postal Service could remember all the official abbreviations. For that, he uses Publication 59, Address Abbreviations, which has just been revised and reissued. It is available free upon request to U.S.P.S., Washington, D.C. 20260.

Publication 59 includes not only the abbreviations for states and street designators but also the short versions of some obscure places most people never heard of, such as LS RANCHES ALB, which of course is Los Ranchos De Albuquerque, NM. Another that would baffle most postal clerks until they checked Publication 59 is FIG GDN VLG, which of course is Fig Garden Village, California.

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

CURSE THAT KILLED A TOWN—Texana instead of Houston might have been the state's largest city if the residents of the flourishing village had been willing to sell their town to a couple of New York promoters.

In the mid-1830's, Texana was a growing settlement in Jackson County, 27 miles northeast of Victoria. August C. and John K. Allen, two brothers from New York who wanted to develop a "dream" city in Texas, chose Texana as the site and offered to buy the village. When the residents refused to sell, the brothers put a curse on Texana and told the citizens that one day its streets would be inhabited by nothing but rabbits.

The Allen brothers moved on and bought a coastal swamp for $5,000. Houston stands there today. Meanwhile, the people of Texana also refused to back the building of the New York, Texas & Mexican Railway through their town. Count J. Telferner, the builder, ran his line north of Texana and founded a new town, Edna, named for his daughter.

The Edna townsite was surveyed in 1882. Soon the county seat was moved there from Texana. Within a short time, Edna was the largest town in the county and Texana was on a steady decline. Today the curse invoked on Texana is a reality and only rabbits run where streets used to be.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Circle Back, Bailey County, got its name because an early-day ranch branded a circle on the back of its steers.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE—Modern politicians might learn a thing or two from Jesse Grimes, one of the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. He was the state's all-time champion holder of public offices.

Grimes spent 48 years in government service of one kind or another. He held a total of 30 different offices by appointment or election under eight different governments in three nations—the Republic of Mexico, the Republic of Texas and the United States. He died in 1866.

Grimes County, for which he served as patriarch for most of his life, is named for him.

TALES OF THE TOWNS—Gladewater, Gregg County, is 100 years old this year. Or is it?

On December 30, 1872, property on the north side of the railroad tracks was deeded to the Texas & Pacific Railway for the purpose of laying out a town. That would make Gladewater's centennial year 1972.

However, another deed was discovered giving the railroad some additional townsite property on the south side of the tracks. The second deed was dated January 16, 1873. So Gladewater, either 100 or 101 years young in 1973, decided to celebrate its centennial this year.

HEAR THE TRAIN BLOW—Burt C. Blanton of Dallas claims to be the nation's No. 1 railroad fan. Blanton, who styles himself a "professional passenger" on trains, has ridden more than 400,000 miles in 60 years of railroad travel.

Teaching Johnny

Since World War II, the cost of education in America has been increasing at a rate twice that of the Gross National Product—the annual value of all the goods and services we produce. If this trend continues, by the year 2080 the entire GNP will be needed for education.

In terms of resources allocated, our public school system is the most expensive in the world. But what are we getting for our money?

An estimated 15 million students are functionally illiterate.

The dropout rate in poverty-stricken urban areas is 70 per cent.

The fifth-grade level Armed Forces Qualifying Exam is flunked by one third of those taking it.

Employers are confronted with job applicants who can't read, write or calculate.

Educators reply to these charges—with some justification—that they are being expected to deal with tough social problems which originate outside the school system; problems that nobody else has been able to solve, either. And it is true that there is much to praise in our educational system, as well as much to criticize.

Nevertheless, no matter who is to blame, we cannot devote the entire GNP to education. The problem demands some practical solutions, not a round of finger-pointing.

The easiest educational problems to solve are management problems. Schools are big business. But their overworked administrators often lack the sophisticated staffs that advise the heads of major corporations. And yet many of the management techniques which have been time tested and proven in the corporate world are directly transferable to school administration.

Wise school administrators and community-minded businessmen have been getting together in cities and states all over the country to take advantage of this fact.

Dallas, Texas, is a good example. The superintendent of schools there asked the Dallas Chamber of Commerce for help. A 50-man team of volunteer executives assembled by the Chamber studied the operations of the school system and made recommendations. They have saved that city $500,000 a year through such expedients as streamlined school purchasing, formal bidding and specification-writing procedures; a new office of school planning; use of a regional computer network; a central kitchen serving 13 schools.

Private consultants have estimated that the same kind of help will save 118 million a year for the Ohio school system, $28 million in Oregon, $100 million in Massachusetts, and $84 million in Indiana.

Such administrative savings make sense inherently. And they are also a good, quick stopgap measure to gain time against the rising tide of educational expense. But at the rate salaries and related benefits are increasing, every dollar in the school budget will soon be needed just to pay the teachers. Obviously then, we must also find ways to reduce instructional costs. The most enlightened route to this goal is through increasing the effectiveness of instruction.

"Accountability" will be necessary to accomplish that. This is a dirty word in some educational circles, but it shouldn't be. "Accountability" simply means that the effectiveness of the educational process should be gauged by its end product, rather than by "inputs" such as spending-per-pupil, the faculty-degree ratio, and so on.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Dear editor:

As everybody knows, Russia had a crop failure last year and consequently had to buy over a billion dollars worth of grain from the United States, and I have now found out another result of that failure.

Despite the fact the failure was caused by the weather, the Russian leaders took what for them was the logical step. They fired the Minister of Agriculture.

I don't know how such things work over there, but I have an idea the next candidate for the job, before he accepts, will be giving close study to the long-range weather forecasts.

And even then his future may be shaky. I was listening to a weather forecast out here the other day and the forecaster, in explaining why a cold front with rain didn't show up as he had predicted the day before, said "it didn't move in according to schedule."

That's one way of putting it. Whose schedule? Under that system no forecaster can ever be blamed for being wrong. All he has to do is set up a schedule and if the weather goes the other direction it's the weather's fault, not his.

But back to Russia. When she decided to buy all that grain from the U.S. she sent her buyers over here and they quietly and cannily bought up all they needed at modest prices before the world found out how bad the weather had been over there and how short their grain crop was and how much U.S. grain farmers could have gotten for it if they'd known about it.

This year, reports are that the weather again is off schedule in Russia and the grain crop again may be short.

But nobody knows, and this is what gets me. You mean to say that with our far-flung and expensive C.I.A. spy system we can't find out what the weather's like in a country that big? You mean the C.I.A. can tell us how many missile-firing submarines Russia has but can't tell us if she needs a rain?

What have our men been doing, listening to Russian weather forecasters instead of looking out the window?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

With Glad

By Mrs. Art Manjeot

also noted that many of the lawns now have a light spreading of well-matured barnyard manure.

In the bare spots remove weeds or other foreign grasses. Spade deep. Rake well and smooth soil. If humus is needed cover with a 2-inch layer of peat moss or other compost and re-spade the soil.

The same procedure is used to replant the bare places as that in putting in the original planting for the lawn. I would caution you to be sure and purchase the very best grade seed that is offered. Buy it in advance while selection is good, and put it away until after March 15 or longer if weather is not right.

Before applying the seed, rake ground again and add an inch of vermiculite or perlite, work this in well, and let it wait for a few days. Sow the seed carefully into the prepared soil which has good moisture content.

Don't plant until your schedule of activities is so that it has been properly prepared, and after seeding care given. It is very important that the seed be kept moist until the seedlings emerge. A fine spray of water is advised in watering the planted area.

Inquiries have also been made relative to the 1973 Almanac. For March the following are the moon changes.

Dark of moon 4th through 11th, quarter (first) 11th through 18th, full moon 18 through 26th, and the last quarter 26th through April 3.

I recall that my grandmother and mother taught me that plants which fruit underground should be planted in the dark of the moon and those which fruit above ground should be planted in the light of the moon. Since I am not familiar with other moon-signs-for-gardening, I leave this up to you.

First and foremost we must tend the soil well, use the best of seed and plants and follow with generous amounts of loving tender care...which calls for plenty of activity, which is really wonderful therapy for all.

In planning landscaping may I suggest that a screening of hedge plants or trees be used where noises of the street or highway are loudest. Such a screening will aid in alleviating these sounds and certainly will add an attractive note to the landscape design.

Had an extra thrill last weekend as I had my first arrangement of daffodils and specii iris. Nothing adds a bit of cheer more than daffodils when it's cloudy outside and the rooms seem dark and lonesome. Extra dividends can be enjoyed

Training Program Attendance Planned

The Spanish-speaking congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses of Hereford is now making plans to attend a two-day training program to be held in Albuquerque, New Mexico, March 24, 25, according to Mr. L. Montemayor, presiding overseer of the local group.

Approximately 25 delegates from this locality will be attending, he added, and the site for the convention will be the Youth Hall building of the State Fairgrounds in that city.

"The purpose of the program," said Mr. Montemayor, "is to equip each member of the preaching association of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a aid to strengthen the spirituality of the people they come in contact with in their preaching activity in the local community."

The sessions will be in the Spanish language and all interested persons are invited to attend. No collections are taken.

Golden sunshine
Suddenly flashes over all.

We know...beyond the horizon Spring is coming...
Yesterday morning as I drove across town, I saw many signs of spring. In Dameron Park a mocking bird in flight, a bluejay busily pecking on the bark of a tree searching for his breakfast, sir Robin Redbreast hopping here and there.

Forsythia flaunting its yellow branches, redbud trees with buds swelled to the bursting point. Sweet jasmine in full flower, like a golden yellow fountain in the sunshine, at the Stan Frye home.

Golden yellow crocus in mass planting and full bloom. Other crocus making splashes of spring's colors in many yards. The pretty daffodils adding beauty to the landscape at the post office. Their golden heads were bowed, as if waiting for the sunshine to beckon them up, to make their bow for their spring serenade.

Was refreshing to look about and seek out these symbols of springtime...we were made to know again that the earth was awakening after the long winter's sleep.

For your pleasure and inspiration drive to Dameron Park on Park Ave. and pause to see the lovely silverleaf maple tree in its winter dress. It is certainly one of the best grown trees in Hereford. I found its growth pattern most interesting, also the coloring of the bark. Is a good study for those who paint.

Garden work done in March, lays the foundation for summer's beauty and bounty.

Glad's telephone calls have greatly increased as we move into March and start planning.

for and doing the early tasks in the gardens.

Many have asked questions concerning the pruning of roses. The word is caution; don't rush into this garden chore. I talked with one of our best rosarians this week, Mrs. R.L. Wilson, and she stated that it was too early to do any pruning.

Pruning encourages the plants to put on new growth which may be caught in more freezing weather making it necessary to prune again to remove the damage.

To illustrate, she showed me some of the new growth that had been frozen during the first hard freeze last fall, also showed how it all should be pruned and what it would mean to the plant. Anytime a second pruning becomes necessary it weakens the plant, so the word is "not now," for pruning of the roses.

Patience should be exercised. If however you are real eager to get some of the work done before planting etc, then cut out the dead canes, and if climbing roses are being harmed by brushing on the fence or brick walls, remove this as it is too damaged to do well another season.

Then when the danger of killing freeze is past the balance of the job won't be so large, and some of the stickery canes will have been removed thus out of the way.

Again we should be cautious about pruning away the damaged euonymous japonicas. I conferred with a gardener in Amarillo this last week, and the advice was to wait until at least the middle of April to do this work.

However this bit of advice relative to the euonymous is pertinent: Check those in your landscaping for scale and other infections. Spray with a dormant spray. Choose a time when temperatures are above freezing and make applications as directed on the label of your spray material.

If in doubt as to this purchase, ask the advice of someone in your favorite garden shop. I have found those in our town are very cooperative and helpful.

While looking over the euonymous, take time to look over the trees carefully for breakage or other scars. The winter ice storms probably have caused some broken limbs and caused bark to be damaged. If this is left uncaared for it will prove a good place for insects to hibernate, or for diseases to infect wounds. If limb must be removed, use a sharp saw and cut smooth. Then on the wound apply an application of wound dressing and pruning paint. The garden shop attendants can again assist you in selecting the best product for this work.

I have noticed quite a bit of activity in the care of lawns. This is good. All lawns should be checked for bare spots, the dead grass should be removed, an application of a recommended fertilizer used. However I have

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story: IN THE DARK OF NIGHT CAPTAIN ALSADA SLIPS QUIETLY OUT TO SEA. HE IS GRATEFUL TO THE VIKINGS FOR SAVING HIS SHIP AND ITS RICH CARGO BUT HAPPIER IN BEING ABLE TO CONQUER THE UNACCUSTOMED FEELING OF GENEROSITY. HE REPLACES THE MONEY THEY DESERVED AS A REWARD AND LOCKS HIS STRONGBOX.

BOLTARSON SAILS ALONG THE CALEDONIAN COAST, THROUGH THE ORKNEYS, FILLS HIS WATER CASKS IN THE SHETLAND ISLANDS, AND THE LONG REACH ACROSS THE NORTH SEA BEGINS.

DAWN AND THE RISING SUN DISSIPATE THE MORNING MIST AND THE AWESOME COAST OF THULE APPEARS, BRINGING A GLAD CRY FROM THE HOMECOMING ADVENTURERS. NOW THE REST OF THE VOYAGE WILL BE IN THE SHELTERED WATERS BEHIND THE ISLANDS.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
I am the mother of two small boys and can't afford a lot of cosmetic luxuries. But I have been wishing for a facial sauna for a couple of years. I could have saved a lot of that wishing if I had used my brain a little sooner. I still have my baby bottle warmer that I felt I had no use for, but couldn't see throwing it away as it still works perfectly. I merely took a gallon-sized plastic milk jug (you could use a bleach jug), cut the bottom and part of one side out, copying the shape of the shield in a "store bought" sauna. Be sure to also cut the neck of the jug out larger in order to "take in" more steam. I then placed the jug upside down in the bottle warmer, added water and plugged it in. I'm sure the real thing couldn't work better! Mrs. Joyce Reed

Absolutely true... we tried it. We used a clean plastic bleach jug, following her directions, and it works great! Thanks oodles, you darlin'... And thanks for "dropping in" with your letter. Special love to you... Heloise

GET A GOOD GRIP!
DEAR HELOISE:
If your bathtub does not have hand rails, why not do this? Take some of the nonskid flowers or strips (the kind we usually put on the bottom of the tub) and put them on the edges of the tub. No more slipping when you grab the edge of the tub with wet hands. Mrs. James Batchelder

LETTER OF THOUGHT
DEAR HELOISE:
This small hint goes out to all young girls who just sit in front of the TV set when they get home from school: GET UP! Empty all the wastebaskets in the house, and/or empty the dishwasher and then load it up again with all the dirty dishes sitting on the kitchen counter. If you don't have a dishwasher, make some sudsy water and get those dishes washed! This will help your Mom a lot. Do it at least three times a week!

JOINT ACCOUNT
DEAR HELOISE:
May I submit some hints that I think might be helpful for those who suffer from arthritis? I am 76 and have been suffering with it for 25 years. My trouble is in the hip joints. I have used canes and walkers for years. To make it possible for me to go up and down stairs, I had a handrail installed on each side of the stairs. Then I had a carpenter make wooden boxes 1/2 the width of the stair tread and 1/2 the height of the stair rise. These were nailed to the right corner of each step. To go up the stairs I put my right foot on the first box

(this is on the floor), then my left foot on the stair itself. Then my right foot on the next box and my left foot on the next stair, and so on to the top. It means that you only have to lift your weight half as high as a full step each time. This makes all the difference in the strain on the muscles and joints. This has posed no problem for the other members of the family in going up and down the stairs. Another hint is to make a satin draw-sheet for the bed. Buy enough of satin for the full of your bed (twin or full). Sew a strip of terry-cloth (I used a bath towel) on both ends of the satin to tuck under the mattress. Use this as a draw sheet over the regular bottom sheet. The terrycloth, being rough, keeps the satin from slipping. You have no idea how much the slick satin helps when you want to turn over in bed! Mrs. I. K. K.

BOUND TO WORK!
DEAR HELOISE:
My little girl (age one) has several of the heavy cardboard books which are bound with a heavy plastic spiral. She was constantly unwinding the spiral and taking the pages apart and I was forever putting them back together. Finally I found the perfect solution. I used a piece of bright yarn and a crochet hook and chained the pages together. Then I made a single chain, a little longer than the book, and attached it to the top. The pages are together to stay, and she has a handle to carry and hang the books with. I store the books on an expandable tie rack in her room where she can reach them easily. -- Yvonne Humbold

THE SCRUB TEAM
DEAR HELOISE:
I know that making scouring pads out of those plastic mesh bags that some oranges, grapefruit etc., come in is old hat to you, but I think I've really discovered a new way to do it... see if you don't agree: Take one of the bags, lay it out flat on the table--rip open the bottom of the bag. (Now you have both ends open.) Fold the bag at the center and put a tight rubber band around this center fold. Now turn one-half of the bag over the other side, leaving the rubber band in between. Take a piece of twine and tie this portion about four inches down from the rubber band. Roll the two open ends of the bag under several times. Now pull the top half of the bag with the rubber band down over the bottom half, thus forming the stuffing. You have a quick, neat scouring pad, which does the trick without being so rough on your pots and pans. It also has enough body so that you have something to hold on to when scrubbing. Mary Brugnone

They are fantabulous--we've made a whole slew of them and just love them... they're really great! Heloise

Just for fun, set up a mirror as shown above. Place a sheet of paper before you, and, looking at the paper in the mirror, try to write your name.

Chances are that you'll be hard put to comply. Indeed, it is exasperatingly difficult to draw simple geometric figures such as triangles or circles. After you've tried it yourself, challenge friends.
