Budget Forces in 'Disarray; Compromise Efforts Emerging

WASHINGTON (AP) - Efforts to find a bipartisan budget compromise are quietly emerging on Capitol Hill even though there is more disarray than consensus for the time being in the scramble to stitch together an election-year spending plan acceptable to both Democrats and Republicans.

"Our folks are all over the lot, the same as the Républicans," said House Budget Committee Chairman James R. Jones after the panel's Democrats met privately Tuesday.

Jones, D-Okla., called budget director David A. Stockman before the commitee today to lay out the Reagan administration's current position on budget

At the same time, Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan was to appear before the taxwriting House Ways and Means Committee to give the administration's views on various options for increasing tax revenues.

Meanwhile, the Senate Budget Committee was continuing consideration today of a proposal by Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., the committee chairman, that includes skipping this year's Social Security cost-of-living increase to help trim deficits. ther.

volving Senate Republicans, House Democrats and the White House.

This time, however, the White House seems to be on the sidelines-at least for the time being.

Senate majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., and House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., spoke twice by telephone about prospects for finding areas of bipartisan agreement on the budget, said a Republican source who asked not to be identified fur-

In a move to perhaps soften feelings and to remove some of the apprehension being felt by area residents concerning the storage of nuclear waste in Deaf Smith County, representatives of the Department of Energy (DOE), Battelle Memorial Institute and the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) met with area officials Tuesday.

DOE rep Linda McClain, Battelle rep Helen Latham, and TENRAC rep. Dr. Ted Taylor met with local officials in an informal gathering in the commissioner's courtroom at the county court house. Moderating the meeting was County Judge Glen Nelson, himself recently appointed by Gov. Bill Clements to the Advisory Committee on Nuclear Energy, which was created by TENRAC. Nelson also serves on that body's Subcommittee on High-Level Waste.

Ms. McClain and Ms. Latham told the gorup that the DOE and Battelle are looking at improving the dissemination of information about the progess of the site selection process for a national high level waste repository. Two test holes recently completed within Deaf Smith County are part of that search.

"We have intentions to implement three measures to help get information to the people in both Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties," Ms. Latham said. Test holes are also involved near Tulia in Swisher County.

The ladies said that they plan to open an information office in a local storefront as soon as approval is obtained from DOE officials and a lease can be secured on a nowvacant property.

The purpose of the office would be to house displays on the National Waste Terminal Storage program, and to provide for the dissemination of reading materials and documents about the program to store the high-level waste and the timetable established to do so.

'We would like to have available weekly updates on the progress and findings of drilling crews in the local area," Ms. McClain said. "And, we could also have some displays of core samples set up so that people could actually see them."

A second measure intended to help get information to the public is to "establish more regular communication with the news media to help them get status reports and to give them a phone number which they can call to get details and answers to questions," Ms. Latham said.

And, the ladies suggested a series of briefings dealing with the possible socio-economic and environmental impacts of a regional nuclear waste repository should the decision to build one here be made.

The local officials, which included chamber of commerce president Bill Johnson, agreed that the briefings would be a good move, provided that they bring out new information, and are not just a "re-hash," of information already received.

Ms. McClain reported to the group that "no surprises" were found as a result of the two test holes recently finished in this county. "They found what they expected to find," she said. "And, a press release on the results is now being prepared for release to the media."

A decision on an exploratory shaft to determine the location of what will be the first of several regional nuclear waste repositories will be made in May, 1983. At the present time the Deaf Smith and Swisher County loca-Britain suffered its first setback in the campaign to recapture the Falkland Islands, losing a destroyer, a jet and about 30 men in one day. Argentina said about 360 seamen were still missing from its sunken cruiser.

British press reports said a missile fired from a landbased Argentine fighterbomber 24 miles away hit the Sheffield early Tuesday afternoon, turning one of the Royal Navy's most modern warships into a raging infer-

The British Defense Ministry said the crew was ordered to abandon ship when there was no longer any hope of saving the ship," and Defense Minister John Nott told the House of Commons as many as 30 of the 270 crewmen may be lost.

Some British press reports said the ship, one of three destroyers in the British war fleet in the South Atlantic, had sunk. But a British reporter with the task force said it was still afloat and burning more than six hours after it was hit.

The Argentine government was silent about the Sheffield, although news of the attack was broadcast by Buenos Aires radio stations quoting foreign news reports. The communique early today that an "air incursion" against the British task force was carried out "with results that still are not known."

The communique said the attack occurred 60 miles southeast of the Falklands about 40 minutes before the Sheffield was reported hit.

British planes made two attacks Tuesday on airstrips in Defense Ministry said a Harrier jet was shot down and its pilot killed, while Argentina claimed two Harriers were downed.

The British said a longrange Vulcan bomber, presumably flying from Ascension Island, made a "successful" attack on the airfield at Stanley, the Falklands capital, in the morning and returned safely to its

The Argentine communique said the second attack was made in the afternoon by three Harrier jets on a dirt runway at Goose Green, 40 miles west of Stanley. Both airstrips were attacked by British planes Saturday in the first major strike of the airsea offensive launched by Britain to recapture the island colony Argentina seized April 2.

British Attitudes Change After Loss

LONDON (AP) - After three days of heartening battle dispatches from the Falklands, Britain's confidence was shaken by a two-minute announcement in the middle of the prime-time evening news.

Defense Ministry spokesman Ian McDonald grimly told the nation that British lives had been lost for the first time in the month-old war to regain control of the Falkland Islands from Argentina.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, known by supporters and critics alike as the "Iron Lady," was 'devastated" by the loss of the destroyer Sheffield and some 30 of its 270 crewmen, the British Broadcasting Corp. reported.

McDonald said the 3,660-ton destroyer was hit by an Argentine missile Tuesday and was engulfed in flames. Most of the crew managed to evacuate the burning hulk safely and were rescued, he said.

He also reported a British pilot killed when a Sea Harrier jet was shot down in a raid on an airstrip in the Falklands. Stunned members of the House of Commons demanded and got a statement from Defense Secretary John Nott, then bowed to the suggestion of an opposition member that Parliament adjourn out of respect for the dead.

"There are certain occasions when the fewest words are the most eloquent," said the Conservative leader of the house, John Biffen. Portsmouth, the Sheffield's home port on the south coast, was "in a state of mourning," reported a woman at the Keppel's Head Hotel.

"Many people in here have friends on the Sheffield, and we are waiting to find out the worst."

"We never expected this, although I suppose we should have," said Joan Verhees, head of a Portsmouth club for wives and sweethearts of men with the fleet.

The swift recapture of South Georgia, the bombing Saturday of the Port Stanley airfield and the sinking of an Argentine cruiser had cost only one British casualty, a seaman who suffered a shrapnel wound in his leg, the government reporter earlier.

Announcement of the loss of the Sheffield, followed by telephone numbers relatives could call to learn the fate of their men, was a rude awakening.

One Conservative member of Parliament, Alan Clark, said he thought the best course was to bomb the Argentine

"We've been too surgical so far," he said. "I don't believe in this delicate, tentative approach. Our own people's lives are the most important thing. I think that you have to take the same action against Argentine airbases that you took against the Port Stanley airfield five days

But the setback increased disenchantment in the opposition Labor Party with military action.

"This emphasizes the need to have peaceful negotiations," said Eric Heffer, one of the party's spokesmen in Parliament. "I think we have to have a cease-fire. We can't have more of our young people's lives lost. We can't have young Argentinians sent to the bottom of the oceans. The way we are going, we could end up having Falkland Islanders dead next.'

Prosecutors Ready to Rest Case in Hinckley Trial When the government last scene in a love fantasy;

WASHINGTON (AP) - Prosecutors, ready to rest the first stage of their case against John W. Hinckley Jr., are taking less than two days to re-create what they portray as his cross-country odyssey to plot a presidential assassination.

Chief prosecutor Roger M. Adelman said he would show a videotape of Hinckley shooting President Reagan and call seven additional witnesses today before ending his presentation.

Then it will be the defense team's turn.

Nine witnesses were summoned Monday to trace Hinckley's nine-month journey from a Lubbock, Texas, pawnshop, where he bought ammunition, to the gruesome scene outside the Washington Hilton Hotel last March 30 when he shot Reagan and three other men.

Services are pending with Rix Funeral Directors for Alfonso Gamez, 52, of 228 Avenue A, who was killed in a head-on collision three miles east of Pampa Tuesday night. Larry Dyess of Miami was also killed in the accident.

DPS officer Norman Rushing said Gamez was westbound on U.S. 60 in a club cab pickup when the Dyess car, eastbound, veered into the westbound lane.

Gamez was born in Winters, Texas. He was a cement contractor and a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and the Sheriff's Association of Hereford.

Survivors include his wife, Esther; four sons, Mario, Alfonso Jr., and Thomas, all of Hereford, and Mark of Amarillo; six daughters, Odelia Brock of Amarillo, Sylvia Norris and Barbara Gamez of Dallas, and Linda Garcia, Adela Zanbro and Rosa Luna, all of Hereford; his mother, Juanita Gamez of Eloa; two brothers; six sisters and nine grandchildren.

Three Iranian Airmen Defect To Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) - Three Iranian airmen flew their helicopter across the border and sought asylum in Turkey after taking a deputy foreign minister and other officials to northwest Iran to investigate the plane crash that killed Algerian Fareign Minister Mohamed Benyahia, Turkish officials said.

The Turkish government was expected to return the helicopter to Iran. There was no indication of its reaction to the request for asylum.

The Iranian investigating team included Deputy Foreign Minister Ahmed Aziz as well as police and army Benyahia was on his way to Tehran from Algiers with eight other Algerian officials, an Algerian journalist and the four-member crew of the Algerian government executive jet. All 14 were killed, the Iranian government said.

There was no word on the progress of the investigation.

The Iranian Foreign Minister charged Tuesday that two Iraqi jets attacked the Algerian plane and brought it down. But the official Algerian news agency said Iran's ambassador to Turkey told Algerian officials early Tuesday morning Benyahia's plane was caught in a dogfight between an Iranian Phantom and an Iraqi Mirage.

Secret Session Shows Little New Information

WASHINGTON (AP) - Amid security that extended even to yanking telephones from a sealed-off press gallery, the Senate watched a Defense Department slide show depicting a Soviet military buildup. Some viewers said they saw little that was new.

Republican members of the House gathered in the House chamber under equally tight guard today to view the same presentation today, as the Reagan administration and its allies lobbied for passage of a record $180 billion defense authorization bill in the face of budget-cutting efforts.

With material supplied by the Defense Intelligence Agency, Sens. John Tower, R-Texas, the Armed Services Committee chairman, and Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., chairman of the Intelligence Committee, ran the 21/2-hour briefing and question period Tuesday.

Under Senate rules, only members may speak on the floor, but DIA Deputy Director John T. Hughes was the briefer today at a meeting of the House Republican Conference, composed of all GOP House members.

Much of the House side of the Capitol, including press work areas, was closed during the morning presentation. Protests by the Standing Committee of Correspondents. which represents newspaper and news agency reporters, were unavailing. Congressional officials blamed DIA security regulations.

UPS-Teamster Contract Awaits Ratification

WASHINGTON (AP) - A tentative three-year contract to head off a threatened strike against United Parcel Service awaits ratification by some 80,000 Teamster drivers and package handlers working for the nation's largest package carrier.

The accord was reached Tuesday evening, less than 30 hours before tonight's midnight strike deadline set by the union. The Teamsters continued talks with UPS after the old contract expired last Friday.

Nicholas A. Fidandis, a federal mediator, announced the agreement but declined to provide details.

The two sides hammered out the agreement in more than 10 hours of bargaining at the federal agency's headquarters here this week.

Both sides temporarily withheld details of the settlement, which would ensure labor peace for the Greenwich, Conn., company until 1985 if approved by the rank and file.

Postal Service spokesman Lew Everhardt said the independent government agency handled about 595 million parcels in 1981, compared to an estimated 1.5 billion packages moved by UPS.

Defense Department To Pay $46 Million For Shuttle Cargo

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) The space agency will charge about $46 million for launching its first cash cargo on the space shuttle Columbia's next mission, a mathematcian says.

A secret Department of Defense cargo - possibly a spy satellite or a communications satellite - will be the only item carried in Columbia's 60-by-15-foot payload bay, officials said. The launch is set for Nov. 11.

Ralph Schomburg, mathematician for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said a commercial user would pay $64 million for exclusive use of the ship's cargo area. But the Defense Department will pay $18 million less because it is paying only for the hardware necessary to make the trip, he said.

Costs include the external tank on which the orbiter rides; the two solid fuel rockets on either side of the tank, and refurbishment of them after the flight; and post-flight maintenance work of the orbiter's main engines and orbiter space parts. Schomburg based his figuring on the size and price of one of the first commercial payloads to be launched, a 9,745-pound business satellite. He said a commercial customer would pay $13.9 million to launch a 10,000-pound satellite from the orbiter.

Since Latest Falklands Development

State Department Remains Silent

By GEORGE GEDDA Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -The State Department is remaining silent on a new diplomatic development in the Falklands crisis that prompted Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. to hold an unscheduled three-hour meeting with British Ambassador Nicholas Hender-

Haig met with Henderson late Tuesday after cancelling a dinner engagement in New York. The State Department said only that Haig "wanted to stay in touch with the Falklands situation at an extremely delicate and critical phase.

Both the State Department and Henderson refused comment on the meeting, leaving open the possibility a new peace initiative was under way. Officials had no comment on speculation that Britain, after two days of escalating military hostility in the South Atlantic, is proposing a cease-fire. Haig had gone to Andrews Air Force Base for the flight to New York, where he was to have received an award from the Irish Fund. After taking a telephone call at the airport, he returned to the State Department.

It seemed likely Haig received word that Henderson wanted to relay a personal message from British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, but this could not be confirmed.

Emerging from the meeting at 9 p.m. EDT, Henderson said, "I have nothing to say, I'm afraid."

destroyer, the HMS Sheffield, was reported sunk by an Argentine war plane in the South Atlantic. As many as 30 of the 270 crewmen were feared killed. On Sunday, a British submarine had sunk the General Belgrano, an Argentine cruiser. Argentina reported on Tuesday at least 680 survivors had been rescued, leaving about 360 still unaccounted for.

With the collapse of Haig's mediation effort last week and an Argentine rebuff of a Peruvian peace initiative over the weekend, the only visible activity toward ending the conflict was taking place at the United Nations.

U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar said

The meeting took place just Tuesday he had given both hours after a British sides ideas of his own for settling the conflict and was expecting replies today.

The two countries remain divided over Argentina's demand for sovereignty over the Falklands and Britain's insistence that the inhabitants of the islands - virtually all British descendents - be allowed to determine their own fate.

There also were signs that President Reagan was attempting to ease negative reaction in Latin America over his decision last Friday to side with Britain.

Panamanian President Aristedes Royo said he received a letter from Reagan asserting that the U.S. move was based on Argentina's use of force to retake the Falklands from Britain.

Royo, who disclosed the letter to a meeting of the diplomatic corps, was one of several Latin American heads of government who received letters from Reagan. The others were not identified.

The letter was sent on May 2, two days after Haig announced U.S. support for the British cause and the imposition of sanctions against Argentina.

Royo, whose government has staunchly supported Argentina in the crisis, read the letter in Spanish. According to an unofficial translation, Reagan said the United States "understands perfectly the deep national commitment of Argentina to recover the islands as well as the frustrations that follow long years of fruitless negotiations."

The letter was sent a day after several Latin American nations had criticized the United States for siding with Britain.

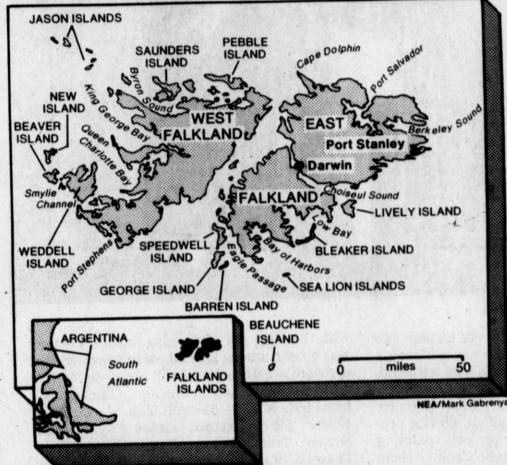

Venezuela, another outspoken supporter of Argentina, said the U.S. move "breaks inter-American solidarity" on the issue and contravenes last week's resolution approved by Organization of American States foreign ministers. The backed resolution claim to Argentina's sovereignty over the islands.

Ecuador made a similar accusation and Mexico said the Reagan administration's pro-British policies will aggravate the conflict.

In response to a statement that news that Deaf Smith County has already been chosen as a site for the exploratory shaft, Ms. McClain said, "the selection process is not an easy thing to do, and we (DOE) wouldn't be surprised to hear all sorts of rumors." "We need to remind you that the selection of a exploratory shaft site will be the result of an accumulation of some 10 years of research, and will not be based on a couple of test holes," Ms. Latham added.

Dr. Taylor announced that a tour of other site location work and a look at government installations in New Mexico and Washington state is being planned for the first week of June.

Judge Nelson and Johnson have indicated that they will attend the tour, along with two officials from Swisher County. The tour will last some four days, and will give more insight to the overall waste storage problem, Dr.

Dear Editor: What a great BIG RED BAND! I am a Hereford High alumni. I was in band my three years there, so I know what an accomplishment it is to EARN a I rating. First I want to go back to this years marching band. What a group of kids. Not only did they sound great they also looked great. The drills they tackled were exceptionally difficult but they performed them beautifully.

They had to memorize their music and the drills and then put everything together without a flaw. And believe me thats not as easy as it may sound. But they did a great job. This year was the 24th year in a row that the Hereford High Band was awarded a I rating at UIL marching contest.

The past four months the band has been working very hard to get ready for the UIL Concert contest. April 22 the band showed everyone just how hard they have worked. For Concert contest they divide the band into two separate bands. The Symphonic band which earned a I in concert and a II in sight reading. The Honor band earned a I in concert and sight reading. They were also awarded Sweepstakes band. This makes over 20 years the Hereford High Band has been awarded I ratings at UIL.

DEAR FRIEND: Thank you for those kind words, but I don't believe I deserve special praise for that answer. Although I do not happen to believe the woman will have any further use for her gold crowns, who am I to try to persuade her otherwise? She could be right and I could be wrong. Then wouldn't I look foolish? The following letter may be of interest to you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I couldn't believe that letter from the woman who didn't know whether to include her gold crowns in her will. She was afraid when she was resurrected she might need them and dentistry would be more expensive and appointments harder to get.

All this is in the Bible, Ann, if she will only open it up and read it. I'm signing myself-Heaven-Bound And Praised Be His Name

DEAR HEAVEN-BOUND: Thank you for sharing your knowledge with us all. I hope, however, your letter will not discourage people from taking care of their teeth while they are here. Even though the Bible says a lifetime on earth passes like the blink of an eye, an hour in a dentist's chair getting a root canal can seem like an eternity.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I can't face another letter about the neighbor's dog who did do-do on the lawn, a jerk who refused to help a woman out of his car, the bride who didn't send a thank-you note and the clods in Cleveland who don't RSVP.

'Texas' Prepares To Open June 16

On the evening of June 16 the lights will go up on the 17th season of the musical drama "Texas." Six veteran lead players will greet and support a new Elsie, Penny Pennington, who is beginning her first season with the Elsie will be weighing the courtships of Calvin Armstrong (Royal Rugel Brantley) and Dave Newberry (Lee Kendle). She will be visiting with her Aunt Anna and Uncle Henry (Lois Hull and Gene Murray), and will be amused and supported by her friends Kate Lucas (Robin Goodhue) and Tucker Yelldell (Jerry Williams).

Miss Pennington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pennington of Dumas, and while in high school, she had numerous leading roles in both singing and acting parts.

Miss Pennington is a graduate student in music at West Texas State University where she received her bachelor's degree. She brought great pleasure to audiences at WTSU with her interpretation of Magnolia in "Show Boat," Edith in the "Pirates of Pennzance," and Ann Edgarman in "A Little Night Music." As a member of the New Day Singers, at WTSU, Miss Pennington traveled on a USO tour of the Far East. She is a member of Mu Phi Epislon and WTSU

Royal Rugel Brantley is returning to "Texas" for the tenth season. Brantley has parked cars, appeared as a Tatum child, sung in the chorus and the quartet, played the role of Flip, and finally, in 1979, played Calvin.

Since that time, he graduated from West Texa State University, and won two years scholarships at the Dallas Theatre Center to work on his Master's degree. He was also admitted to the professional company at DTC and is now playing Antonio in "Tartuff."

Last summer he played the younger of the two leading roles in "Death Trap." Among his other credits were leads in many productions for Magic Turtle Childrens' Theatre, work on sound for "Mice and Men," and understudy for the lead in

"Tin-Types." The other man courting Elsie will be Dave Newberry, played by Lee Kendle who grew up in Amarillo and returned this fall to be choir director at Tascosa High School. This will be his eighth year with the show. He has been in the chorus, in the light and sound booth, and assistant musical director. He played Dave in 1978.

Until he received his master's degree in music, Kendle earned many wards for his work in WTSU productions, both in acting and singing. After graduation he directed the choir at Borger High School for three years, co-directing such musicals as "Hello, Dolly," "Pippin,"

"The King and I." He sings with the Amarillo Symphony

Since playing in "Texas" in 1979, Mrs. Goodhue has directed the Children's Drama Workshop in Panhandle at the Square House Museum, played in "And Killes" at the Country Squire Dinner Theatre and written two novels.

is an actor, businessman, speech pathologist, potter, church layman and booster of the area. He is also a member of the Appraiser's Association of America and evaluates estates in his spare time when he is not busy teaching at the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center. He has appeared in dinner theatre productions, done local radio and TV commercials, and appeared as an extra in movies filmed in this area.

Aunt Anna is played by another friend of "Texas" audiences, Lois Hull. This will be her seventh season in the role, Daughter of two San Antonio natives who met while studying opera in Italy, Mrs. Hull inherited a fine voice and stage presence. She is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Among her civic responsibilities have been the presidencies of the South Randall County Hospital District Board of Directors, Lone Star Ballet, Inc, University Study Club, Canyon Fine Arts Club, and the Friends of the Canyon Library. In 1974, she was chosen Citizen of the Year by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Gene Murray, who will play Uncle Henry, is a veteran of early "Texas" productions, as he was in four of the first five seasons of "Texas" as a dancer and singer, and played many parts, among them, that of the Indian medicine man. Murray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Murray of

A SENSE OF HUMOR

By Bob Wear

We must be serious about life; however, this does not eliminate the need for a sense of humor-good humor. There are some people who make life seem so very harsh, severe and even cruel.

If life is taken too seriously, it is soon burdensome and unwholesome. When we develop and maintain a right concern for what really matters, we have met all requirements of seriousness. This does not exclude a sense of humor. Of course, a wise view of living does, very definitely, shut out a shallow and frivolous attitude.

A sense of humor is a stabilizing factor in both our self-concept and in our interaction with others. Without it, we become cranky, easily irritated, and we develop conflicts, serious conflicts, within ourselves; and in our associations with others.

Many of the inevitable shocks of life will be absorbed by a good sense of humor, and the strain of our anxieties will be lessened. If we cannot laugh at ourselves and our mistakes, we are doomed to a life of misery and unhapbest thing to an abiding faith in providence."-Cheever.

Good humor is a boon to both mental and physical health. It is the lubricant which prevents the machinery of life from becoming overheated. It aids the smooth working of all the parts, and will prevent many of the fatal collisions in the traffic of human associations.

"Good humor is a tonic for mind and body. It is the best antitode for anxiety and depression. It is a business asset. It attracts and keeps friends. It lightens human burdens. It is the direct route serenity contentment."-G. Kleiser.

A sense of humor is acquired. This may be an easier accomplishment for some than for others, but it is possible for all of us. This desirable quality of life is a natural fruit of a good sense of values. Therefore let us be busy choosing the best value system. In doing this well, we will have done our best.

Harding Withdraws From Treasury Race

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — He began this year unopposed for re-election, but State Treasurer Warren G. Harding now says he cannot take any more and has withdrawn from the battle.

Harding, 61, made the announcement to a surprised Capitol press corps Tuesday. He said he could not continue to campaign and "subject my family to further hurt and grief."

Four candidates lined up to challenge Harding just days before the Feb. 1 filing deadline after news broke that a grand jury was investigating the treasurer's office.

Indicted April 23 on two felony counts of official misconduct accusing him of having two state employees work on his campaign, Harding polled a poor second in last Saturday's Democratic primary.

But he did squeeze into a runoff with former Travis County Commissioner Ann Richards.

Harding's withdrawal hands the nomination to Mrs. Richards. The incumbent's withdrawal means the race won't appear on the June 5 runoff ballot.

An hour after Harding announced at the Capitol news conference he was pulling out, Mrs. Richards was in the same room saying, "It feels good to be the first woman in 50 years to hold a statewide office in this state."

That was a little premature, since she still must face a Republican opponent. Millard Neptune, 71, was presumed to be a stalking horse for a stronger candidate who would step in later, but Neptune says he now likes the idea of staying in the race.

Harding, accompanied by family members, read a brief statement and left without answering questions. He just pointed to a lapel pin and saying, "The flag of Texas—long may it fly." He would not say if he was resigning, but no letter of resignation was submitted to Gov. Bill Clements on Tuesday.

In his statement, Harding said, "While it is yet still possible for me to win, I cannot and will not engage in the kind of bitter campaign it would require.

"I would not subject anyone, opponents or otherwise, to what I and my family have been subjected to."

Travis County District Attorney Ronald Earle issued a statement saying Harding's decision "was not part of any plea negotiation" and that it "does not affect" an ongoing investigation of Harding's office, which prosecutors say includes allegations of sexual harassment of treasurer's office employees by Harding.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — He ficial misconduct count ranges up to 10 years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

At her news conference, Mrs. Richards said that when she heard Harding had withdrawn, she "just couldn't believe it." About 20 of her supporters stood in the back of the room and broke into applause several times.

She read a telegram she sent Harding:

"Dear Warren," it said, "I read your statement with understanding and sympathy. I pledge to you that as state treasurer, I will serve in that office in a manner that will be a source of pride to you and to all Texans. Your withdrawal today will help to unify the Democratic Party, and I am grateful to you for this act of dignity which means so much to me and my family."

Mrs. Richards said Harding should not have feared personal attacks in the runoff campaign.

"I insisted from the outset that this was going to be a clean campaign," Mrs. Richards said. "We were not going to get into what I call 'mudslinging' politics. I have never known from the very beginning the extent of Warren's problems. I just said I was not going to campaign on his indictment."

She suggested Harding's decision might have been a practical one, based on Saturday's results.

Harding received 34 percent of the vote Saturday to Mrs. Richards' 46 percent. Waco busnessman Lane Denton was third with 13 percent. John Cutright of Austin received the remaining votes.

"Unquestionably, you could look a the numbers and know it was going to be virtually impossible for him to defeat me in June," Mrs. Richards said.

After already spending $600,000 in the primary race, Mrs. Richards said she would save about $500,000 from not having to wage a runoff campaign

Judge Refuses To Release FBI Report In Wood Case

SAN ANTONIO, Texas
(AP) — Making public a statement El Paso attorney
Joseph Chagra gave to FBI agents investigating U.S.
District Judge John Wood's murder would prevent Chagra and four other defendants from getting a fair trial, according to a ruling by a federal judge.

Chief U.S. District Judge William S. Sessions issued a nine-page ruling Tuesday that a federal magistrate was correct in closing to the public and press parts of a bond-reduction hearing for Chagra April 22 and 23.

"In conclusion, the court finds at this early stage of the proceedings that the rights of the press and public of access to this particular information at this time must yield to the superior right of the defendant to be tried by a fair and impartial jury" Sessions rul-

Attorneys for The San Antonio Express, The San Antonio News, The San Antonio Light and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram successfully delayed the bond hearing until Sessions conducted another hearing required by the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Gannett Co. versus DePasquale.

The Gannett decision requires parties moving to close court proceedings to prove three elements: that an open hearing would create a

Prisoners May Transfer To

Federal Prisons

HOUSTON (AP) — A judge says six inmates who recently testified against the Texas Department of Corrections may transfer to federal prisons.

Inmates Benny Earl Hudson, Chester Smith Jr., Robert White, Jack W. Thompson, Kelso Haynes and Donald R. Beasley testified at hearings earlier this year that "building tenders," or inmate guards, had been used at the prison.

U.S. District Judge William
Wayne Justice, who ordered the TDC to stop using inmates in supervisory positions, gave the group the option of transferring.

In his order issued Tuesday, Justice said a meeting would be called to explain the terms but set no date.

Attorney Donna Brorby, who represents the inmates, said an order allowing inmates to transfer from a state to a federal prison is TDC spokesman Rick Hartley said prison officials had not seen the order and could not comment on it.

Two Arrested After Grocery Truck Hijacked

WINNIE, Texas (AP) — Two Houston-area men were jailed on $150,000 bonds each in connection with the hijacking of a tractor-trailer rig loaded with groceries and bound for a Port Arthur food store.

Warner Foster, 33, of Houston and Fred McCormick Jr., 34, of Humble were charged with aggravated robbery and appeared before Justice of the Peace Mary Dugat Tuesday. The two were transferred to the Jefferson County Jail in Beaumont.

The driver of the grocery truck apparently was forced to drive toward Beaumont, followed by a car, said David Hawthorne, chief deputy for the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department.

Hawthorne said the truck was stopped about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday after a chase by sheriff's officers from Jefferson and Chambers counties at Texas 124 and FM 1985, eight miles south of Winnie.

"The vehicles headed south on Texas 124," he said. "The suspect in the truck jumped (from) the truck and ran and was apprehended on foot."

He said sheriff's department officials became involved in the chase after receiving a call from Port Arthur police about 7:30 a.m.

serious threat to the defendant's right to fair trial, that alternatives such as change of venue would not adequately protect a defendant's fair trial rights, and that closing a hearing would be effective in protecting against the perceived harm to a defendant's right to a fair trial.

Sessions ruled in favor of the defense and against the four newspapers on all three Gannett issues.

He concluded that public dissemination of the evidence

"would in reasonable likelihood create a serious threat to the fair trial rights of defendant Joseph Chagra and co-defendants."

Joe Chagra, 35; his brother, Jimmy Chagra, 37; Jimmy's wife, Elizabeth, 28; convicted hitman Charles V. Harrelson, 43, and his wife, Jo Ann Harrelson, 41, have been charged in connection with Wood's killing on May 29, 1979.

After Sessions ruled that U.S. Magistrate Robert O'Connor was correct in hearing the FBI statement in private, O'Connor finished the hearing in which the defense sought to lower Joe Chagra's bonds which total

$1.6 million. O'Connor asked news réporters to leave the courtroom during the last five minutes of the bond hear-

O'Connor said he would rule after he receives a prebond report from federal probation officers, perhaps later this week.

Dallas attorney Billy Ravkind, who said the sealed statement included dicussions Joe Chagra had with the FBI last year to try to prevent his indictment, told O'Connor the $1.6 million in bonds was excessive.

"I feel it's very likely that the defendant (Joe Chagra) is going to be acquitted," Ravkind said. "The indictment charges not one single overt act and I suggest it's not charged because it's not there. I think the court should consider a reasonable bond. It's not an easy decision and not a popular one, but a proper one."

"What could be more serious than one brother advising another brother to kill a federal judge?" Assistant U.S. Attorney Ray Jahn said in opposing any reduction in-bond. "The answer is, when the brother is a lawyer."

Id be more ne brother adbrother to kill be?" Assistant Jahn told O'Connor that Joe Chagra might try to flee if he were freed on bond.

Morning Newspaper Story Sends President To Suburbs

WASHINGTON (AP) - By the time he arrived for work in the Oval Office, President Reagan had already read the morning newspaper's account of how a cross-burning five years ago changed the life of a black family in subur-

Platform Said To Collapse Because Of Poor Welding

HOUSTON (AP) - The of different quality. hotel platform Alexander L. Kielland collapsed into the North Sea two years ago because of poor welding, an Norwegian engineer says.

Haagensen said investigators also detected a crack in the weld running the length of the mounting tube. An analysis indicated the expected life of the weld could have been as short as six months, while it should have been more than 20 years, he

The weld's failure caused excess stress on the brace and triggered the break.

The Kielland was towed to harbor at Stavanger, Norway, where it remains. Haagensen estimated it would cost about $20 million to turn the platform upright.

"It's a political question about what to do with it," he said. "About 35 people still are missing and their bodies are believed to be inside the Kielland."

Minister Says Setbacks Will Not Derail Goal

HOUSTON (AP) - Canada will become energy independent by 1990, despite the scuttling of a major synthetic fuel project and decreased activity by foreign-owned oil companies, a government official

"It will be from different sources than we originally anticipated, but we are still confident we will reach this goal," said Marc Lalonde, minister of Canada's energy, mines and resources.

Lalonde told the Offshore Technology Conference here Tuesday that production from the Hibernia oil field off the Newfoundland coast will help Canada become energy self sufficient.

Activity by foreign-owned oil firms also has dropped since the government of Prime Mininster Pierre Trudeau in 1980 imposed a policy designed to attain 50 percent ownership of oil companies operating in Canada.

Under the policy, taxes were based on the percentage of Canadian ownership, with the heaviest taxes falling on foreign-owned companies.

Monterey Takes Pair From Herd

The Monterey Plainsmen rolled to 10-6 and 12-2 Distarict 4-5A baseball wins over the Hereford Whitefaces at Whiteface Field Tuesday, dropping the Herd to 11-18 on the season.

The first-half district champion Plainsmen overcame a good start in each game by the Herd to scramble to the twin killings. MHS found itself tied with the 'Faces 4-4 after one inning in the opener, and held only a 3-2 lead after one frame in the nightcap, but the Lubbockites had too much firepower for their hosts.

Raymond Martinez gave the Herd its two final tallies in the opener with his fifth homerun of the season, a towering shot to right field. The four-bagger made it 9-6 in favor of the Plainsmen, who added a final insurance run in the top of the seventh for the 10-6 margin of victory.

Mike Mason took the loss on the mound for the Herd in the first game, despite giving up only six hits. He issued nine bases on balls, however.

In the nightcap, the Whitefaces trailed only 3-2 after one inning, but were to score no more as the Plainsmen put together all the offense the rest of the way. enroute to a 12-2 decision. Matt Collier started the game on the mound for the Herd, and was relieved by Robert Martinez in the fourth.

Bullets Attempt NBA Comeback

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

The Boston Celtics are always tough at home. Tonight they figure to be even tougher for the Washington Bullets.

"I hope they fall asleep and go off form," Washington guard Kevin Grevey says hopefully, "but I don't really think it'll happen."

Grevey reflects the popular opinion as the Bullets try to do the improbable - come back from a 1-3 deficit in their seven-game National Basketball Association Eastern playoff series.

If they are to overtake the league's defending champions, they'll have to start tonight at Boston Garden, where the Celtics had a 35-6 record during the regular season.

Ironically, the Bullets' only victory over the Celtics in this quarterfinal series - and their only win over Boston in the last 13 games - came in tactics. the Celtics' arena last Wednesday night.

A Celtics' win tonight will advance them to the Eastern finals, where they expect to meet the Philadelphia 76ers. The 76ers hold a 3-1 edge over the Milwaukee Bucks going into tonight's fifth game in Philadelphia.

In the other quarterfinal game, the San Antonio Spurs hope to clinch their Western series against the Seattle SuperSonics. A win tonight in Game 5 will put them into their division finals against the Los Angeles Lakers, which earlier swept the Phoenix Suns in four games.

"If we beat this team Wednesday," said Boston forward Kevin McHale, "I'll be very thankful. They're making us play our best basketball...That team is so much better now than it was two months ago."

The 76ers expect to see Milwaukee try to clog the middle and keep Julius Erving from driving. The Bucks have been double-teaming Erving and jump shooter Andrew Toney, who has done a fine job replacing the injured Lionel Hollins in the 76ers' starting lineup.

Caldwell Jones, the 76ers' 7-foot forward who is counted upon for rebounding and defense, upset the Milwaukee game plan by scoring 20 points Sunday in Game 4, most of them on 15-foot jumpers.

Jones said he expects the Bucks to employ the same

"If I'm hitting," he says, "it takes the pressure off everybody else."

The San Antonio-Seattle series has been a tight one. All three of the Spurs' victories have been by two points.

"We're playing well, just not well enough to win," Seattle center Jack Sikma says. "We still feel we can take three (remaining) games, but we have to concentrate on one at a time."

"There can be no coasting," San Antonio guard George Gervin says.

Hittin' The Dirt

Hereford's Ken Cosper has his eye on the plate as the Monterey pitcher awaits the throw from the catcher after letting loose a wild pitch. Cosper scored on the play, making the game a 3-2 affair in the first inning. The Plainsmen went on to notch a 12-2 win in the contest, however. (Brand Photo by Jeri Curtis).

Couples Takes Second Shot At Winning Hometown Event

HOUSTON (AP) Hometown favorite Fred Couples was just warming up to the professional golf tour a year ago during the tour's annual stop at Woodlands Country Club for the Houston Open.

Couples also finished second to Dan Pohl in the driving distance category with an average of 277.1 yards.

"Last year I didn't make the cut. The rough was a little. too high, but it's not too bad this year," Couples said. "I got to play Saturday and they've got some good tees out there. If the weather holds up, who knows?"

Couples predicts low scores during the week and pointed to Skeeter Heath, who was the low qualifier with a nearrecord 63. Heath narrowly missed the course record of 62, shot in the final round last year by defending champion Ron Streck.

Not having to join Heath and other hopefuls in the Monday morning qualifying rounds has relieved much of the pressure most first and second year players must

"Last year, I had the pleasure of making the top 60, which is making this year easier though I'm not probably playing as good," Couples said. "I got started about this time last year and I played week after week. I'm playing pretty good right now, although I've taken a couple weeks off before last week. I'm not rusty, I'm just not playing as good as I can." Couples, who skipped his senior year at UH and earned his tour card on the first try, says life in the play-for-pay crowd is different from col-

Nahorodny Leads Tribe

Oakland Clips Yankees

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

Bill Nahorodny, 28-year-old journeyman catcher, says he can't get enough of baseball, but the California Angels probably have had enough of Nahorodny.

Acquired Sunday from Charleston of the Triple-A International League, Nahorodny rapped two of seven doubles by Cleveland hitters and collected two RBI Tuesday night as the Indians defeated the red-hot California Angels 6-5.

Nahorodny, a veteran of five major league seasons with four different clubs, was signed to replace the injured Chris Bando. He had been released last August by Atlanta after appearing in just 14 games and batting .231.

"There was never a doubt about coming back and playing ball," Nahorodny said. "Baseball's baseball, wherever you play it. I love the game.'

Nahorodny drove in both his runs with a double in the fifth inning, when Cleveland scored three of its runs. Toby Harrah and Mike Hargrove hit consecutive doubles to score one run, and after Andre Thornton walked, Nahorodny cleared the bases with a two-bagger.

The loss was only the ninth in 26 games for the American League West Divisionleading Angels.

Elsewhere in the AL, Oakland defeated New York 9-7 in 13 innings, Seattle edged Baltimore 4-3, Boston downed Minnesota 5-3, Detroit got by Texas 4-3, Chicago defeated Toronto 4-3 and Milwaukee beat Kansas City 9-5.

Lary Sorensen and Dan Spillner combined for the victory. Sorensen yielded seven hits in 72-3 innings, and Spillner two-hit the Angels the rest of the way. Spillner yielded a pair of unearned Grich's RBI grounder and an error by shortstop Jerry Dybzinski.

Indians Manager Dave Garcia said Nahorodny's performance was outstanding, "plus, he caught a great game. He was so intent out there, we were yelling at him from the dugout and he didn't hear a word."

Nahorodny has not played in the American League since 1978, when he was with the White Sox, He started his major league career with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Geoff Zahn was the loser for the first time in five decisions, giving up eight hits in 51-3 innings.

Tony Armas belted a tworun double in the top of the 13th inning off Dave LaRoche, snapping a 7-7 tie and giving Oakland its sixth straight victory.

Rickey Henderson started the winning rally with a leadoff triple to right-center, and Dwayne Murphy walked. Armas then doubled to rightcenter, scoring both runners and making a winner of Bob Owchinko, 1-0, who pitched 52-3 innings.

Owchinko allowed just one hit and one run for the victory, and Dave Beard pitched the 13th inning for his first save of the season.

The Yankees tied it 7-7 on Dave Winfield's three-run homer in the seventh. Pinchhitter Bobby Murcer was hit by a pitch, and after Willie Randolph walked, Winfield hit his third homer of the help from Ed VandeBerg. Red Sox 5, Twins 3 Glenn Hoffman ripped a two-run single in the third inning that snapped a 3-3 tie, and Bruce Hurst made the lead stand until getting eighth-inning relief help from Luis Aponte. The victory was the fifth in a row for Boston. Hoffman's single capped a four-run rally. Dwight Evans got it started with a single, and when Ron Washington threw wildly for an error on Jim Rice's grounder, both runners were safe. Carl Yastrzemski's grounder advanced the runners, and Carney Lansford singled in Evans. Dave Stapleton's double scored Rice with the tying run, and Hoffman then put Boston two runs up with his

Tigers 4, Rangers 3 Charlie Moore's two-run homer in the sixth inning erased a 5-4 Kansas City lead, and Milwaukee scored three more runs in the seventh inning to beat the Royals. Jim Slaton pitched 41-3 innings of one-hit relief, taking over from starter Bob Mc-Clure in the fifth after Jerry Martin homered to give the Royals a 5-3 lead. Ben Oglivie made it 5-4 with a fifth-inning homer, and the Brewers salted away the victory on a two-run error by Kansas City shortstop Onix Concepcion and an RBI single by Jim Gantner in the seventh.

NL Good, Bad Come To An End

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

All good things must come to an end...like the Atlanta Braves' unbeaten road streak.

And all bad things must come to an end, too...like Tom Seaver's winless skein.

After missing much of spring training with a pulled thigh muscle and a severe virus and then dropping his first three starts, Seaver finally recorded his first victory of the season Tuesday night, holding Houston to four hits and one run in seven innings as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Atros 5-2.

"I had some consistency. I had decent control and decent movement on the ball," said Seaver, who blanked the Astros on two hits until the seventh, using off-speed pitches early, then going to his fast ball. "I started to get tired in the sixth inning. I felt some fatigue setting in. I felt a little wobbly."

Group Wants End To SS Requirement

WASHINGTON (AP) - A public interest group has asked the Agriculture Department to stop requiring the Social Security numbers of needy families whose children get free or reducedprice school lunches.

Rodney E. Leonard, executive director of the Community Nutrition Institute, said the rule is an invasion of privacy and asked that states which comply with the order be told to cease gathering the information.

Leonard made his request in a letter to Agriculture Secretary John R. Block. The institute is a non-profit group

The department's Food and Nutrition Service's regional offices issued the order last December. There was no public announcement through normal Agriculture Department channels here.

Leonard said the rule sprang from a provision in last year's budget act, in which Congress decided that requiring the Social Security numbers as a condition for free or reduced-price school lunches would help curb abuses and track down violators.

"You have failed to act according to the law when you did not make known your intention to impose the disclosure requirement and aflow the people time to examine the proposal and to comment on its provision," Leonard wrote Block.

The institute said its action followed a lawsuit filed by California residents and the California Department of Public Instruction.

Leonard said the state had refused to implement the Social Security requirements and filed the suit "to forestall USDA action to withhold federal funds for child nutrition services."

As the market prices of live animals rose, the middleman margins - also called the farm-to-retail price spread became smaller. Meanwhile, according to the economists, retail meat prices are expected to rise through mid-summer, with beef and poultry prices probably stabilizing by August and September as supplies increase.

For the year, consumers probably will pay 3 percent to 4 percent more for beef and poultry than they did in 1981 and 10 percent to 12 percent more for pork, the report

Farm Report Service To Begin Interviews

AUSTIN - The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin interviewing Texas farmers and ranchers in mid-May on 1982 crop acreage and midyear livestock inventories, State Statistician Doug Murfield has announced.

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted through the mail or in person by field enumerators, will be published in June.

Murfield is urging farmers and ranchers to complete and return mail questionnaires promptly. Information will be combined for state and county estimates.

Murfield said estimates give Texas farmers and ranchers planning information for planting, breeding, feeding, storing, producing, and marketing. "Without these reports, most producers would have to depend on trade and other sources for information on crop and livestock prospects," he said.

Reports are also used by farm organizations and legislatures to plan and develop farm programs, extension economists and farm and ranch management consultants to advise farmers and ranchers, and exporters to plan and promote sales of Texas agricultural products in foreign markets. Estimates are published annually for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, small grains, vegetables, fruits and pecans, and cash receipts from the sale of Texas farm commodities.

PPC Announces Natural Gas Discoveries In Basin

AMARILLO - Pioneer Production Corporation announced today two natural gas discoveries in the Anadarko Basin of western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle. One well is in Roberts County in the Texas Panhandle, two miles southeast of the city of Miami. The discovery well, the Gill No. 1-41, found gas in the Morrow Chert Conglomerate. The well is three miles south of a Morrow Chert Conglomerate field that has produced 57 billion cubic feet of gas from 16 wells since its discovery in the mid-1970's.

The well is perforated from 11,067 to 11,096 feet. Gas was tested at a rate of 3.6 million cubic feet per day through a 20-64-inch choke, with a flowing tubing pressure of 1,300 pounds per square inch.

SeedTec D701G Versatile sorghum hybrid tops independent yield trials.

During the past three years, SeedTec D701G has become one of the topyielding hybrids in independent performance trials throughout the Sorghum Belt. In the Texas A&M Coastal Bend Extension District 14 grain sorghum trials. D701G produced the highest average yield over the past three years combined. The same holds true for extension service trials in Calhoun and Victoria counties. In fact, this medium-late sorghum finished among the top five hybrids in 41% of the yield trials in which it was entered.

Results from yield trials in Kansas and Nebraska prove that SeedTec D701G adapts to a wide variety of growing conditions. In the 1981 Kansas grain sorghum tests, D701G tied for first in the Thomas County (fallow) trial and ranked among the top five hybrids in Brown, Ellis, Ford, Reno, Republic and Stafford counties. Even as far north as Auburn, Nebraska, SeedTec D701G placed second in the extension yield trial while recording the lowest moisture content of all hybrids entered.

Consistent performance like this is no accident. It reflects the fact that D701G is adapted to both dryland and irrigated conditions. Resistance to downy mildew and Biotype C greenbugs, plus tolerance to smut and MDMV, also enable SeedTec D701G to produce heavy yields of high test-weight grain.

SeedTec 652G ranks high in state performance test.

Over the past four years, SeedTec 652G has compiled an impressive record in the Kansas grain sorghum trials. In Greely and Thomas counties, 652G produced the highest average yields during the past four years combined. Four-year yield averages also show that this mediumearly sorghum finished among the top four hybrids in Ford, Finney and Republic counties.

Year in and year out, SeedTec 652G has what it takes to make the most of a little water. Even in hot, dry weather, 652G comes through with big yields of bright red grain. Its other strong points include excellent seedling vigor, fast-drydown, and tolerance to smut, MDMV and Biotype C greenbugs.

Disease-resistant SeedTec 710DR produces healthy sorghum yields. SeedTec 710DR offers the kind of disease resistance a sorghum hybrid needs to produce consistently high yields. With resistance to downy mildew and head smut, as well as tolerance to MDMV. this medium maturity hybrid performs well under most growing conditions. These features, plus strong emergence and excellent standability, make 710DR a wise choice for growers who want truckloads of attractive, bronzecolored grain.

So call your SeedTec dealer today and ask him about the complete line of SeedTec sorghum hybrids.

Reagan Moves Against Imported Sugar

President Reagan is declaring "an emergency import quota" to stem the entry of low-priced foreign sugar into the United States in an effort to avoid huge government acquisitions of sugar under the new price support program.

Critics of the price support program, which Reagan accepted in a political trade last year, say American consumers will pay $3 billion as a result of the quota forcing domestic sugar prices above the world level.

When domestic sugar producers can't sell on the open market at a preset, minimum price, the government is obligated by law to buy their

Agriculture Secretary John Block, in announcing the decision late Tuesday, said a quota was needed to "avoid a massive flow of sugar imports into the United States, which could disrupt the commercial market for domestically-produced sugar."

The United States gets about half its sugar from overseas, importing some 4.5 million tons last year.

USDA spokesman Gene Hemphill said the quota will be based on each country's average yearly imports from 1975 through 1981, excluding the highest and lowest years.

The quota will take effect as soon as Reagan signs the presidential proclamation imposing it.

Block said world sugar prices have plunged 30 percent in the past four months amid the prospect of a large world sugar crop. He said the problem has been exaggerated by European government subsidies that assure export of their sugar no matter what the world price, now about nine cents a pound.

Because of the sugar support program's potential cost

WASHINGTON (AP) - to the government, Reagan had initially opposed it last year. There had been no price support program for sugar since 1979.

But Reagan dropped his opposition last summer in return for the votes of sugarstate southern Democrats for his budget proposals, and the price support program ultimately was included in the four-year farm commodity package approved by Congress.

"MEMBERS ARE NOW more concerned about image and less about substance," says Majori-ty Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas, of his House colleagues. He says that today's representatives have far surpassed their predecessors in educational attainment but have fallen behind in "basic integrity and

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

SPECIAL SESSION

AUSTIN - The Legislature will meet again beginning May 24 to repeal the state property tax and provide funding for schools that formerly benefited from it.

The state property tax was used to finance state colleges and universities that were not members of the Permanent University Fund (PUF). These are all of our state colleges except the University of Texas and A & M. There are 17 of them, Including West Texas State and Texas Tech.

The tax was reduced to practically nothing in 1979. Midwestern State University, which was a beneficiary of the old tax, filed a suit to force the state to collect the tax at its pre-1979 level. Midwestern the claimed Constitution requires taxes to be abolished by constitutional amendment, not through statute. They also claimed the Legislature's reduction of the tax to practically nothing was the same as repeal.

Many legal experts feel Midwestern has a good case and is very likely to win the lawsuit. If this happens, the state would have to collect back taxes from every landowner in the state. These back taxes probably would total about $779.2 million. If we pass a constitutional amendment to abolish the tax during the special session, and the voters approve it in November, then the state will not have to collect the tax.

Any proposed constitutional amendment we pass during the special session not only will have to abolish the tax, but also forgive back taxes. However, it will not authorize refunds. Also, we will have to find alternative financing for WT and the other 16 schools that are not in the PUF. This money will be used for college construction, and should be in the neighborhood of $100 million. Resolutions to abolish the tax, appropriate the money, and forgive the back taxes already have been introduced by Speaker Clayton. However, we do not know for sure if the proposal to forgive the back taxes is constitutional.

The tax was written into the constitution about 100 years ago, and schools like WT have been relying on it ever since. Some supporters of these schools say they need a guaranteed source of revenue, not a one-time stopgap measure. This issue could cause a sticking point in the session.

Of course, the timing of the session may cause it to go smoothly and quickly. Many legislators doubtedly will be preparing for the June 5 runoff, and will be in a hurry to get home and campaign.

Whatever the duration of the session and the issues involved, our concern will be for the schools in our district. We represent the Panhandle and the South Plains, and those areas will be number one this month in Austin.

We know many of you claim WT or Tech as your alma mater. We would like to hear your opinion of what we should do to make sure these schools have enough money to finance all the construction projects they need. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas

Panel Votes 'Yes' To Demand Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) -The House Agriculture Committee, trying to force the administration to keep financially struggling farmers afloat, has voted to give farmers a right to demand postponement on repayment of their federal loans.

Without repayment deferrals, says Rep. Byron Dorgan, D-N.D., "We're going to see a lot of young farmers who are farming today, not farming in five years, and the country will lose a valuable resource."

Dorgan and other committee members, concerned over reports of increasing farm liquidations amid high interest rates and depressed farm prices, have been fighting for months to impose a full-scale moratorium on repayment of loans issued by the Farmers Home Administration, the Agriculture Department's credit arm.

While they lost that battle Tuesday when the committee approved renewal of the FmHA's basic lending authority, they easily won the repayment deferral clause.

They said it will effectively halt any federal effort to foreclose on or force repayment of FmHA loans before October 1983.

The Congressional Budget Office, in an unofficial analysis, said criteria for deferral are so broad that as many as 96,000 farmers holding $7.7 billion in FmHA loans could qualify. FmHA has about $23.1 billion in outstanding loans.

"We got what we wanted." Dorgan said, but he predicted a major battle over deferral in the full House. The Reagan administration opposes the deferral clause as well as a formal moratorium.

In addition to the deferral provision, the legislation approved by the committee calls for FmHA lending ceilings generally higher than President Reagan wanted and retains lending programs and subsidized interest rates the president targeted for elimination in his drive to curb federal intrusion in the credit market.

FmHA handles about 12 percent of all farm credit, serving as a lender for farmers who cannot obtain credit through traditional channels.

Administrator Charles

Schuman said the depressed farm economy has pushed deliquencies on FmHA loans 10 percent above last year's tevel. At the beginning of this year, farmers holding more than 66 percent of FmHA's four basic agriculture loans were $4.3 billion in arrears.

Under the bill, repayment deferral must be granted to any farmer showing he has demonstrated good management practices, can't repay because of circumstances beyond his control and has a reasonable chance to eventually repay

Border Patrol Now Walks The Beat

EL PASO, Texas (AP) -The U.S. Border Patrol is now walking the beat in downtown F El Paso with members of the local police department, and authorities said the doubleteamed patrols are having a chilling effect on crime.

"For March, as compared to March 1981, we had a 32 percent reduction in reported crimes in the downtown area (during daylight hours)," said acting Border Patrol Chief Dale Cozart. "We don't claim credit for all of that, but we think the foot patrols have been a big factor." For the first 10 weeks of the joint foot patrol operation there have been 299 misdemeanor arrests and 24 felony arrests, said Capt. Bill Long of El Paso Police Department, The Border Patrol footmen also apprehended 2,931 illegal aliens during that

The patrols are unique because they team one Border Patrol officer with one local policeman. Border officers usually patrol by car or helicopter, officials say.

"Of course, the El Paso sector itself is unique..." Cozart said. "It's the only place along the border that has such a large population and large residential and business areas right on the border."

El Paso, with a population of more than 400,000 people, is separated from Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, by the Rio Grande. Juarez boasts nearly 1 million residents and the cities are so interrelated that Cozart refers to them as an "international metroplex."

The downtown areas of the two cities, pressed against the river, are directly across from one another, making it easy for illegal aliens to cross from one to another simply by wading or walking across on stones.

Cozart said many of the crimes in the downtown area, the section of the city with the highest crime rate, are committed by illegal aliens who can easily escape across the border.

"Foot patrol arrests way more than car patrols," Long said. "With seven officers on the street, we're arresting 9 to 10 people a day. And that's not counting the Border Patrol guy who might be picking up illegal aliens."

Cozart said the seven border patrolmen on the beat apprehended more than 2,200 illegal aliens since the program began in early February.

Although the combined program has been under way for less than three months, foot patrols downtown are not new, Long said.

In the 1970s, the police department, using federal grants, kept as many as 30 officers on downtown beats. But the money eventually ran out and the city couldn't afford to keep them going.

"Immediately after we did away with it, we had a different type of crime in the downtown area," Long said. "We started having aggravated robberies in downtown businesses - robberies at gunpoint. In downtown during the day, we usually didn't have that type of crime."

The Downtown Merchants Association demanded that foot patrols be resumed.

Last November, the merchants convinced the city council to have the patrols during the December holiday season when business - and traffic across the border - is at its peak.

"After we started the foot patrol again, the robbery problem stopped," Long said.

But the overall problem remained - there was not enough manpower to keep the foot patrols going. Then Long decided to rotate his tactical units so that each of the three seven-man squads spend a month on foot in the squaremile downtown area. Those patrolmen were joined by the Border Patrol officers and the new patrols were born in February.

Downtown is divided into seven sections, which means a lot of territory for each twoman team, said Border. Patrol officer Jim Duff, a former policeman who volunteered for the duty.

"We figured it out once and we average about eight or nine miles a day," Duff said.

"We get a lot of public intoxication arrests, a lot of arrests for minor drug possession," Long said. "They also pick up quite a few wanted people, people who are wanted for crimes in other jurisdictions."

The worst crime, a stabbing incident, occurred early last month. Long said the patrol spotted a fight on a downtown street and rushed

"It turned out that one guy was stabbing the other," he said. "They actually witnessed an attempted murder. The guy had already been stabbed couple of times. They literally saved his life."

"The foot patrol is a funny phenomenon," he said. "You might not call in a report on a broken window if you know all you'll get is an officer in a car who will drive up, take the report and drive off into the sunset. But if you see this officer walking past your business every day, you might report it to him." Duff said the patrolmen even spend their coffee breaks on the beat because their high visibility helps deter crime and they can familiarize themselves with the downtown crowd.

"Knowing who belongs to which store helps us spot people that aren't supposed to be there," he said.

If you wash dishes, clothes or yourself, use RID-X in your septic system.

Every time you do a wash, your detergent, soap and bleach wash away some of the bacteria your septic tank or cesspool needs to work. That can mean back up and break down. And costly repairs. Rid-X helps prevent all of that by putting back the bacteria. Rid-X and one extra flush of your toilet a month may be the only attention your septic system needs.

ended March 31.

During the first quarter of 1981, the company had a loss of $64,000 or 12 cents a share, but the airline did not begin operations between Dallas and Houston until last July.

President Michael L. Muse attributed the figures to a weak economy that depressed airline traffic in general.

The company's load factor decreased from 40.1 percent during the fourth quarter to 36.1 percent.

In April, Muse flew 40,442 passengers on 658 flights and had a load factor of 39.7 percent.

DALLAS (AP) - Trinity Industries Tuesday reported decreased sales and net income for the year ended March 31.
