Nicaraguan trade embargoed

Due to new ties to Soviet Union

BONN, West Germany (AP) — President Reagan ordered a total embargo on trade with leftist Nicaragua today and moved to deny U.S. access to Nicaraguan commercial airliners and flag vessels.

To counter Nicaragua's aggressive actions in Central America, Reagan also is abrogating a 27-year-old U.S.-Nicaraguan friendship treaty.

"The activities of Nicaragua, supported by the Soviet Union and its allies, are incompatible with normal commercial relations," presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said.

"The president authorized these steps in response to the emergency situation created by the Nicaraguan government's aggressive action in Central America," Speakes said in an announcement to reporters shortly after Reagan arrived in the West German capital for a seven-nation economic summit.

Speakes said the president was signing orders for the embargo today and sending a message on the action to Congress.

Speakes emphasized, however, that Reagan still would press Congress to provide aid for the Contra guerrillas battling the Nicaraguan government.

A week after congressional rejection of Reagan's request for aid to the Contras, Speakes said the president was imposing trade sanctions in view of "the new ties between Nicaragua and the Soviet Union" announced by the Soviet news agency Tass in connection with Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega's visit to Moscow earlier this week.

Speakes also cited the apprehension in Honduras of seven agents of the Nicaraguan state security service "who admitted that they had traveled to Honduras from Nicaragua in order to aid and assist Honduran insurgents."

In addition, Speakes pointed to the delivery of Soviet and East German military equipment to Nicaragua (See EMBARGO, Page 2A)

Nicaragua says embargo will backfire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nicaragua's minister of foreign trade predicts President Reagan's plan to impose a trade embargo on his nation will boomerang against the United States.

Alejandro Martinez, in San Francisco to address the Commonwealth Club today, said only 17 percent of Nicaragua's trade is with the United States.

"That is a relatively small percentage, particularly when you compare the rest of the trade carried out with Latin America, Western Europe, Japan and Canada," he said in an airport interview Tuesday night.

Martinez said Latin American nations will view the embargo as "another reflection of the aggressive attitudes that the Reagan administration has taken against our country."

"I think it will have more political repercussions which are going to be like a boomerang for the United States," he said.

Martinez, who was warmly greeted at the airport by a small crowd of supporters, is scheduled to address the club on the topic "Economic Policies and Nicaragua's Role in Central America."

Businessmen say Collazo used in exchange for partnerships

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — A Beaumont businessman testified that state Rep. Frank Collazo offered to "get the heat off" him in exchange for a partnership in the businessman's shipyard.

Chester Slay, a shipyard owner and former state representative, said Tuesday that Collazo promised to use his influence with the Texas Water Quality Board in exchange for an interest in the Golden Triangle Shipyard.

Collazo, 53, D-Port Arthur, was indicted by a Jefferson County grand jury March 21 on a single charge of bribery, a second-degree felony.

The indictment alleges Collazo in 1982 solicited partnerships in two of Slay's businesses — the shipyard and State Welding and Marine Works — in exchange for offering to influence the Water Quality Board and the state Department of Water Resources.

Slay last year lost a water pollution lawsuit brought by the state.

Slay said during the first day of testimony Tuesday that after a July 1982 oil spill, the U.S. Coast Guard and Texas water resources staff frequently visited his shipyard business.

Slay testified part of the business included buying waste oil from Elias Vasquez, owner of an oil reclamation business, treating it and selling it back to Vasquez.

About one month after the spill, Collazo called Slay and offered to use his influence as a legislator, Slay testified in state District Judge Leonard Giblin Jr.'s court.

"His reason for calling was point blank to offer a partnership agreement between us. He said he could remove pressure from the Texas Water Quality Board. In return, he wanted part of my shipyard," Slay said.

"He said he could help me with problems with the water quality board. He said he was on various (legislative) committees and could get the heat off," Slay said. "He said,

"I don't have to have half, just 40 percent."

Vasquez testified he met Collazo after a friend suggested the Collazo might be able to help him with "a position" he was in.

He said that during their first meeting Collazo told him that "people like me, he would put out of business ... that he done a lot of things for people and didn't get paid, so he wasn't going to help anyone else" without getting paid.

Collazo called Vasquez again later and the two men eventually became partners in Tejas Tank Co., a new business, Vasquez said.

Vasquez testified that Collazo later said he had offered to help Slay in exchange for the business partnership.

"He said he was going to give him

Reagan emphasizes reconciliation

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Emphasizing peace and reconciliation among former enemies, President Reagan arrived in West Germany today for a 10-day European tour and economic summit bedeviled by controversy over his plans for a 10-minute visit to a German military cemetery.

Reagan drew cheers from about 100 onlookers who came to Cologne-Bonn airport despite a chilly rain. He and his wife Nancy were given a 21-gun salute by a West German honor guard and waved to the crowd before walking to a helicopter for the brief flight to Gynnich Castle, the government guest house where they will stay.

West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher escorted the couple to the U.S. Marine helicopter as four West German jet fighters buzzed the field in salute.

Upon his departure from the White House on Tuesday night, the president said, "We leave tonight for a Europe rebuilt from the disaster of war and morally restored from the despair of 1945."

"We visit Europe determined to carry forward the spirit of peace and reconciliation among old adversaries and the power of our democratic ideals," he added.

"The friendship between the American and German peoples — a great blessing that has grown rich and strong over our three centuries of shared national experience — is dramatic proof of how former enemies can be brought together again," he added.

But bitter memories of World War II have focused attention on Reagan's scheduled visit Sunday to a cemetery containing Nazi SS graves.

Just hours before Reagan's departure, the House of Representatives voted 390-26 to urge Reagan to reconsider his visit to the cemetery at Bitburg, West Germany. Reagan, though, is standing fast, having insisted he will go through with the cemetery visit.

"The president has made a commitment and the president is going to stick by his commitment," White House spokesman Larry Speakes said late Tuesday aboard Air Force One.

West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl, meanwhile, said Tuesday he believes history will endorse Reagan's visit to Bitburg.

"This discussion is not at an end.

It's going to continue," he said in an interview with The Associated Press.

Following the overnight flight from Washington, the president and his wife were spending the day resting at Schloss Gynnich, a castle 25 miles outside Bonn that will be home for five nights.

The 10-day trip includes state visits to West Germany, Spain and Portugal; an address to the European Parliament in Strasbourg, France,

Some never knew fathers

Vietnam vets' children honor dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jeff Smith, one of roughly 50,000 American children left fatherless by the Vietnam War, never knew the dad he came to honor at the black granite Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

"I was only 5 months old when he died," said the 18-year-old Fairfax, Va., youth as he and four others held a simple ceremony for their fathers Tuesday on the 10th anniversary of the fall of Saigon.

"My mom says we look a lot like our father, and what a brave guy he was," said Smith, one of late Lt.

Cmdr. James Smith's four sons. Mike and Pat Smith, 21-year-old twins, were also there.

The children, all members of a group called "No Greater Love," arranged the ceremony at the V-shaped memorial with 58,022 names of dead Americans etched in it. "No Greater Love," a non-profit organization, helps the children of parents killed in wars.

The five walked slowly past the names, almost brushing the wall. They planted 10 small American flags in the ground, and then laid a wreath of red roses at the apex of the

V. "Taps" was played. Patricia O'Grady Aloat, 32, said she was there to represent the families of men whose names on the wall were marked by a cross. That meant they were missing in action.

"For me, the war is not over," said Mrs. Aloat, a college professor from Marymount College in Arlington, Va. "All I want to know is what happened to him," said Mrs. Aloat of her father, Col. John O'Grady. O'Grady was reported missing April 10, 1967, when his parachute was found on the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

TV broadcast helps locate missing girl

DENTON, Texas (AP) — A 9-year-old girl whose picture was shown on the "Missing" broadcast that followed Monday's reshooting of "Adam" was found in Denton Tuesday afternoon with her 7-year-old brother and her mother, police said.

The mother, identified as Terry Lanotte-McDonald, 34, was arrested about 4 p.m. on a Fresno, Calif., warrant that alleged child abduction, and the children were placed in the temporary custody of the Texas Department of Human Resources, Denton Police Lt. Joe Waddill told The Associated Press.

Teresa McDonald, 9, had not been seen since her abduction in Fresno on Aug. 1, 1983, California authorities said.

Denton Juvenile Officer Dennis Baker located the woman and her children after receiving information earlier Tuesday from Fresno authorities about the possibility they were in Denton, Waddill said.

Ms. Lanotte-McDonald was taken to Denton County Jail, and bond was set at $8,000, Waddill added.

Placed in temporary foster care along with Teresa was her brother, Edwin, 7, but it was uncertain whether he had been abducted in what apparently was a custody dispute.

An aide to California Assemblyman Gray Davis, D-Los Angeles, who has spearheaded missing children activities, said the arrest followed an anonymous tip to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, who referred the tip to the district attorney in Fresno, who forwarded it to Denton police.

Davis had worked with the missing kids center to get Teresa featured on the "Missing" program, said the aide, Steve Glazer.

Teresa's picture had been featured on posters on the Bay Area Rapid Transit system in San Francisco, as well as on products.

According to Glazer, the girl's father told Davis late Tuesday night that he was on his way to Denton for a hearing today.

In New York, it was announced Tuesday that two teen-age sisters missing for seven years and an 8-year-old girl missing since July were reunited with their mothers after viewers of the telecast about missing children called authorities.

SIPCO shuts down for day

Swift Independent Packing Company of Hereford shut down operations temporarily today, but plant manager Bud Nary said he anticipated "things being back to normal" by Thursday.

Nary said the temporary shutdown resulted from a USDA inspector's decision "concerning a technical matter on which we disagreed."

The plant manager said they hoped to work out the problem today and re-open full operations Thursday.

Preschool screening set Friday

A free screening to determine if preschool children may need help with developmental problems will be held Friday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center. The screening will be done by specialists sponsored by the Hereford Cooperative for Special Education which also served Adrian and Vega schools.

The screening is open to any child between three and five years old who may be having developmental problems with hearing, speaking, muscle skills, social skills; or who have a physical handicap. For more information contact Marjorie Lasiter at 364-5941.

County unemployment rises

Preliminary figures show that unemployment in Deaf Smith County rose to 10.2 percent during the month of March, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

TEC said that of the civilian labor force of 8,357, a total of 853 were unemployed.

March unemployment was at 8.0 percent in Castro County, and stood at 5.1 percent in Parmer county. All three counties are served by the Hereford TEC office.

Several domestic disputes reported

Hereford police were asked to investigate several reports of domestic disputes Tuesday, with assault alleged in two of those cases.

They also responded to two minor theft reports, and two complaints of criminal mischief resulting in broken car windows.

A prowler was reported in the 800 Block of Irving Street, and a man frightened away two juveniles apparently trying to steal a tire from a bicycle parked in his yard.

The glass door of the Planned Parenthood building on S. 25-Mile Ave. was discovered broken Tuesday, police said.

There were no arrests, and one non-injury accident at Park Avenue and Miles Streets.

Officer admits to shooting

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston homicide sergeant has confessed to last week's shooting at the Houston Police Officers' Association building, an incident initially blamed on militant homosexuals, the police chief says.

Police Chief Lee P. Brown said Monday that the officer, whom he did not identify, came to his office Friday afternoon and admitted he had fired six shots into the building, adjacent to the Houston Police Department, at about 5 a.m. Thursday.

The officer was relieved with pay pending an internal affairs division investigation, Brown said.

Three other officers were present during the shooting and any disciplinary action against them will be decided when the investigation is complete, Brown said.

All four officers were on duty at the time of the shooting, he said. HPOA president Mark Clark originally suggested members of the city's gay community shot at the headquarters in response to an anti-gay flier the association started mailing out last week.

Gay leaders had denied any knowledge of the shots.

Two child abuse bills proposed

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Bill Blackwood, R-Mesquite, has two legislative proposals he says will protect parents accused of abusing their children after being "outraged by cases of parents' rights being violated in suspected child abuse cases."

"Child abuse is indeed a shocking crime, but equally disturbing is the fact that innocent parents have been harassed and even had their children taken away without knowledge of who took them and why," Blackwood said in a statement Tuesday.

"Taking a child from his or her parent without notifying the parent of who took the child or why is a clear and blatant violation of the parent's right," Blackwood said.

The bill proposes requiring the agency to present written notice to the parents explaining why the child was taken, who reported the case, who to contact in the agency for information and a summary of the parents' rights.

The second bill would hold people who make a false report of child abuse liable for damage to the child and any other person affected by the report.

Delivery to inmate foiled

MADISONVILLE, Texas (AP) — The mother and brother of a Texas Department of Corrections inmate were charged with sneaking alcoholic beverages to the prisoner by leaving them outside the warden's house, authorities said.

Dorothy Sheppard, 40, and her son, Paul Thomas Sheppard, 20, both of Dallas, were released Tuesday after posting $10,000 bond each, said Madison County Sheriff Ed Fannin.

Each had been charged with furnishing alcoholic beverages to a prisoner, the sheriff said.

TDC spokesman Phil Guthrie said the two were arrested Sunday after Charles Blanchette, warden at the Texas Department of Corrections' Ferguson Unit, saw a car pull up to a barbecue pit near his home.

When the car drove into the unit parking lot, Blanchette checked the pit and found a brown paper bag with two half-pints of bourbon, several small packs of jams and jellies and a box of pills, Guthrie said.

Stun guns stir controversy

Stun guns are new additions to police arsenals, but they have already generated a civil rights conviction in San Antonio, allegations of torture in New York City and questions about the safety and effectiveness of weapons that disable with an electric shock.

Police and sheriffs departments around the nation have purchased the pocket-size weapons, which temporarily immobilize people with a touch. On the market for two years, stun guns send a 5,000-volt jolt that "can cause an attacker to fall to the ground and result in some mental confusion," according to the manufacturer, Nova Technologies of Austin, Texas.

The City Council of Baltimore, where police do not use stun guns, banned the sale of the weapons to the public Monday night. Council members cited the recent controversy in New York City, where some police officers were accused of torturing suspects with stun guns, which are not police issue.

Nova, which says it is the only U.S. manufacturer of stun guns, contends the device has been widely used without problems. Clinton Giles, vice president of law enforcement marketing for the company, said there has not been a decline in sales since the New York allegations.

In San Antonio, Texas, a Bexar County sheriff's lieutenant was convicted last month of using a stun gun on a handcuffed man and was sentenced to two years probation. The county has since banned the use of the weapons by officers.

Two people in Los Angeles died after being shocked by police with a weapon similar to the stun gun, including a man who died April 11 after being shocked five times for five to eight seconds each time.

Man free on bond during appeals

CHICAGO (AP) — Gary Dotson, who has spent six years in prison for a rape his accuser now says never happened, was impassive but relieved by an Illinois Supreme Court ruling that he can be released on bond during appeals, officials say.

Dotson's mother, Barbara Dotson, said she had arranged a $10,000 bank loan to meet the cash requirements for the $100,000 bond ordered Tuesday and that she planned to bring her son home today for the second time in a month.

"I'm a little scared, but I just don't feel they can do it again to him," Mrs. Dotson said. "I just know in my heart they aren't going to take him back again."

Dotson said, "Oh, fine," when told by Dixon Correctional Center Warden Linda Giesen, said corrections department spokesman Nic Howell. Ms. Giesen described Dotson as impassive but "relieved," Howell said.

"I think it's the correct decision," said Warren Lupel, Dotson's attorney. But, "after what has happened in the past, it's difficult to be confident."

The supreme court overturned an appeals court's denial of bond, but postponed a decision on Dotson's request that it hear an appeal of Circuit Judge Richard Samuels' April 11 ruling upholding Dotson's conviction.

If it heard the case, it would bypass an intermediate appeals court. Samuels in 1969 sentenced Dotson to 25 to 50 years in prison on a conviction of aggravated kidnapping and rape on the basis of testimony from a teen-ager, Cathleen Crowell Webb, now married and living in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Webb in March recanted her testimony, claiming she had concocted the 1977 rape because she thought a boyfriend had impregnated her and she wanted to keep her foster parents from learning of the affair.

55-year-old Dick Bass

Dallas man oldest to climb Mt. Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A 55-year-old businessman from Dallas has become the oldest man ever to reach the top of Mount Everest, the world's tallest mountain, the ministry of tourism reported today.

The ministry said Dick Bass reached the top of the 29,028-foot peak on the Nepal-China border at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday after a 10-hour climb from his highest assault camp.

Bass, part of a Norwegian Everest expedition, reached the top with American filmmaker David Breashears, 29, of Newton, Mass.; and Nepalese Sherpa guide Ang Phurba, 25.

The three men went up the traditional southeast ridge route pioneered by Sir Edmund Hillary of New Zealand and sherpa Tenzing Norgay in the first successful scaling of Everest in 1953.

Bass, an entrepreneur who has developed ski resorts in Snowbird, Utah, is five years older than Chris Bonington of northern England, who reached the peak on April 21, and Jozef Psocka of Czechoslovakia, another 50-year-old who climbed Everest last October.

Bass has been on three previous expeditions to the Himalayan peak, but was stopped short of the summit on each of these occasions.

Bass, Breashears and Ang launched their summit bid at 2 a.m. Monday from from camp four at 26,174 feet, the ministry said, quoting radio reports from the team's base camp.

The base camp said the weather was clear through the morning hours while the three were on the summit, but snow fell as they descended.

During their 15-minute stay on the pinnacle, the three hoisted flags of the United States, Nepal and of the seven continents. Breashears filmed their activities during the summit climb, the base camp said.

All three used oxygen during the final stages of the climb.

Ang made it back to camp four at 2:15 p.m., followed 30 minutes later by Bass and Breashears, the only Americans in the Norwegian expedition. The three men slept at the camp Tuesday night.

Four Norwegians and four sherpa guides used the same camp four as a starting point in making their successful climb to the peak on Monday.

Breashears was making his second trip up Everest, following a first conquest of the mountain on May 7, 1983.

Bass previously had failed in attempts from both sides of the mountain. In 1982 he joined an American team stopped by bad weather as it tried to scale Everest from the northern Tibetan route. Bass reached 25,000 feet in that assault.

In the spring of 1983 he made it to the 28,000-foot level with a West German team, but turned back because of bad weather and a sick colleague.

Then last August he joined a Nepalese police Everest cleaning expedition, but was asked to leave the mountain by the Nepalese government, which accused him of paying the police for a place on the team in order to get ahead of other climbers waiting for their chance on the mountain.

The Norwegian expedition, which concluded its climbing Tuesday, put a record 17 men on the peak, including Sherpas Dugndare, who Monday became the first man to scale the mountain four times, and Ang Rita, who climbed Everest for the third time without oxygen.

The expedition, led by Arne Naess, 47, of Oslo, was the 37th to challenge Everest since Hillary and Tenzing made the first climb more than three decades ago. A total of 177 climbers, including five women, have reached the summit.

Combest selects summer interns

Congressman Larry Combest has announced that six college students from the 19th Congressional District of Texas have been selected as 1985 summer interns. The individuals who will assist Congressman Combest in the Washington, D.C. office include: Scott Petit, Chris Traylor and Suzanne Griffin of Lubbock and Susie Furman, William Kohler and Lisa Steen of Odessa.

"I welcome these bright, energetic young people to the nation's capital and look forward to their assistance here in our Washington office. The internship program is a valuable learning experience allowing these college students to see firsthand how their government works," Congressman Combest said.

From opening the mail to researching issues, the interns contribute to a smooth running office while watching their government in action on Capitol Hill. In addition to handling their share of the office workload, the interns will be able to attend programs on issues and problems facing the federal government.

"The Intern Selection Committee received numerous applications from highly qualified individuals seeking internship employment. I only regret that space and budget restraints limit the intern selection process to a few participants," the Congressman said.

Pilot aimed at vacant lot

GRAND PRAIRIE, Texas (AP) — A Navy pilot, his F-4 Phantom fighter crippled by an engine explosion, aimed the jet at a vacant lot surrounded by houses before he and his co-pilot ejected to safety Tuesday night, officials said.

The Dallas Naval Air Station jet, already ablaze and upside down when the two men ejected, smashed into the lot and scattered across 300 square yards of land, NAS spokesman Chief Wayne Mishler said.

The wreckage injured no one and damaged no property even though the lot was surrounded by houses, Mishler said.

The pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Tony Cook of Duncanville, suffered slight injuries and was in good condition in a Dallas-area hospital, Mishler said. The co-pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Dave Jaggers of Arlington, was not injured.

Moments after the jet took off from the air station at 6:39 p.m., one of its engines burst into flame, he said.

"The pilot and co-pilot stayed with the aircraft for five minutes looking for a vacant spot," Mishler said.

The girls' fathers were arrested, officials said. They were living with their father, who was being held on Illinois felony warrants for abduction, authorities said. The girls were recognized by school authorities in Ohio, who alerted police.

Alex Ferguson, deputy director of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, said the girls' father had taken them from his ex-wife's home while on a visit.

Another missing girl, abducted in Ohio, was found at a Harbin Springs, Calif., commune Tuesday. Her father was arrested and held without bail pending extradition to Ohio. He was arrested for investigation of taking his daughter from his parents' home in Springfield, Ohio, in July 1984, the sheriff said.

NBC spokesman Stan Appenzeller said 32 other children have been recovered as a result of two earlier broadcasts of "Adam," which was rebroadcast Monday before the "Missing" documentary.

"Adam" is based on the true story of Adam Walsh, a 6-year-old Florida boy kidnapped in 1981 and murdered. His parents, John and Reve, started an outreach center in his memory.

People's Choice

"The Lord's Table" was the theme for the table setting which won the People's Choice award during the "Tour of Table" event held Sunday. The setting was submitted by Father Joe Egan (pictured), Father Charles Threewit and Janie Banner. Approximately $450 was raised from the benefit and will be given to local community projects and organizations. The event was sponsored by St. Thomas Episcopal Church Women.

Alexander awarded scholarship

Eric R. Alexander of Hereford was among 111 West Texas State University students who recently received awards and scholarships at the Spring Awards Convocation for the School of Business.

Alexander was awarded a $1,000 scholarship by the National Association of Accountants.

Scholarships totaling $37,500 were awarded by 37 different corporations and organizations.

A wall was also dedicated at the Spring Awards Convocation. On the wall was placed a plaque honoring Malouf and Iris Abraham, and one honoring Gene Edwards.

Three plaques containing the names of outstanding MBA graduates, BBA graduates, and members of the Hall of Fame were also placed on the wall.

Bride-To-Be Honored

Twice Honored

Two unexpected awards were bestowed on Hereford Key Club President Don Flood during the district convention in Ft. Worth. He was named Outstanding Club President and "Leader of Leaders."

Club meets in regular session

Marie Thames presented the opening exercise entitled "Cultivating Thankfulness" when members of Cultural Extension Club met recently in her home.

Roll call was answered with "What 4-H means to our community" by those present.

Several 4-H members presented the program to the group. Susan Rickman spoke on "Carving on Cowhide," Pamela Price, "From Flappers to Flash Dancers," and Camille Betzen, "Gift of Life."

During the business meeting, the council report was given by Bertha Dettmann in the absence of delegate Jewell Hargrave. President Nell Pope announced that National Homemakers Week is scheduled for may 5-11 with a tea to be held from 2 to 4 p.m. May 7 at the Community Center.

It was also announced that Deaf Smith County Club members brought home the traveling trophy from the district meeting held recently in Canyon in which 34 members attended.

A brief report was given on the recent Appreciation Tea which was held at King's Manor Retirement Home. Several Cultural Club members attended.

Those visiting with the 4-H group were Gina Alley, Amanda Rickman and Martha Rickman. Club members present were Jewel Rogers, Edith Hunter, Fannie Townsend, Carrie Mae Doak, Winnie Wiseman and Mary Lou Spinhirne.

At all-sports banquet

HHS athletes are honored

Seventeen Hereford High School athletes received special awards Tuesday night at the school's all-sports banquet in which all teams and athletes were recognized and introduced.

Lee Brockman and Stacie High were named athletes of the year, and Stacey Sanders and Augustine Castillo received the Fighting Heart awards.

Also, a member of each HHS team was named as outstanding athlete for that sport.

Brockman was named the outstanding athlete in boys' track in addition to his athlete of the year honors. The rest of the outstanding athletes, and their sports, are:

David Parsons, football defense; Mike Scott, football offense; Chet Bunch, baseball; Kevin Redus, boys' basketball; Darla Alford, girls' basketball; Cindy Pruitt, volleyball; Lisa Redmon, girls' track; Whitney Drake, girls' golf; Matt Albracht, boys' golf; Francisco Saucedo, boys' cross country; Selma Moreno, girls' cross country; Blair Rogers, boys' tennis; and Connie Zinser, girls' tennis.

The Booster Club selected Dave Hopper as the Fan of the Year, and presented him with a plaque at Tuesday night's banquet.

Lee Brockman, the recipient of the male athlete of the year award and the outstanding athlete award in boys' track, has a football scholarship to the University of Texas at Austin.

His all-district honors were first team linebacker and guard, and defensive player of the year. Brockman was a two-year starter in football.

In track, Brockman is a regional qualifier in the shot put after winning the event in the district meet. The regional meet is scheduled Friday and Saturday in Lubbock.

He won five of the seven meets he entered this season, and has a best throw of 52 feet, 10 inches in the shot put—two feet off the school record.

Brockman, who also ran on the sprint relay and mile relay teams, was a starter on the basketball team his junior year. He did not play basketball his senior year because of an injury.

When he was presented with the athlete of the year award, it was noted that Brockman has a 94.67 scholastic point average in high school.

The female athlete of the year, Stacie High, averaged 10.4 points and 5.0 assists during the 1984-85 basketball season.

A three-year starter in basketball, she played in Golden Spread all-star games. In track, Miss High ran on a sprint relay team that broke a school record.

Augustine Castillo, the male recipient of the Fighting Heart award, was a two-year starter in football.

In his first season, he received honorable mention honors on the all-district team, and then was named to the all-district second team after the 1984 season.

Castillo was team captain for the Herd football team.

A three-year letterman in track, Stacey Sanders, received the female Fighting Heart award.

Miss Sanders is the only member of the HHS girls' track team this year who competed in five events—and she placed in all five events in the district meet.

She set a school record in the triple jump and tied the school record in the long jump. Miss Sanders, who also ran on the 400-meter relay and 800-meter relay teams, played basketball her sophomore year.

Dave Hopper, who received the Fan of the Year award from the Booster Club, has lived in Hereford 26 years.

During the first school year that he lived in Hereford, Hopper went to the state tournament to watch the Hereford High School boys' basketball team.

Hereford lost in the 1959-60 state championship game to Smiley High School of Houston.

"I can't think of any way I would rather spend my time than to watch out young men and women participate in athletics," Hopper said.

David Parsons, a senior and outstanding defensive player on the Herd football team, was named to the all-district first team at nose guard this past season.

Parsons, the second leading tackler on the team, was also named to the all-district second defensive team last year, also at the nose guard position.

Mike Scott, the outstanding offensive player in football, was named the all-district quarterback and offensive player of the year in his junior season.

Scott led the Herd to a playoff berth against Permian. He was selected again as the all-district quarterback this past season, and led the team to six consecutive wins after he recovered from an early season injury.

Kevin Redus, named to the third team in all-district selections, is the outstanding athlete on the boys' basketball team.

Redus, who was selected for all-tournament honors in Borger and Clovis, is a two-year starter for the Whitefaces. He averaged 13.8 points per game and 6.2 rebounds per game this past season, and made more than 50 percent of his field goal attempts.

The outstanding member of the girls' basketball team, Darla Alford, was a three-year starter. She was named to the all-district third team in both her junior and senior years.

Baseball player Chet Bunch, winner of the outstanding athlete award in his sport, led Hereford High School's baseball team in batting with a .460 average.

He had 29 hits in 63 at-bats this season, and led the Herd with seven extra-base hits, including six doubles.

Bunch also led Hereford in runs scored with 22, in stolen bases with four and in runs batted in with 14. He played five different defensive positions.

A three-year letterman, Bunch had the best pitching record for the Herd with a 4-1 record and a 3.85 earned run average.

Cindy Pruitt, the recipient of the outstanding athlete award in volleyball, was both a hitter and a setter as a varsity volleyball team member.

She received honorable mention all-district honors, served for 125 points this past season, and was high point team member against Melrose with 15 points.

Matt Albracht, the outstanding member of the boys' golf team, is a three-year letterman and a three-year recipient of the outstanding athlete award.

Albracht averaged 78.5 in his four fall tournaments, and placed fifth this spring in the Lubbock Invitational Tournament.

Albracht also placed sixth in the Fort Stockton tournament and led his team to the consolation title of the Amarillo Relays.

The HHS boys' golf team finished second in the district and will compete this Friday and Saturday in the regional rounds in Lubbock.

Whitney Drake is the outstanding athlete on the girls' golf team. She averaged 94.5 strokes per district round, and placed sixth in the district.

Miss Drake, a junior, placed ninth in the Lubbock Invitational Tournament, ninth in the Big Spring tournament, and was eighth in the weather-shortened Amarillo Relays.

Francisco Saucedo is a three-year letterman and captain for the boys' cross country team. The winner of the outstanding athlete in boys' cross country has consistently placed high in meets during his high school career.

A member of the Hereford team that won the district championship in 1982, Saucedo placed second twice that season, was seventh in the

Outstanding Athletes

Fourteen students at Hereford High School were named outstanding athletes Tuesday night at the school's all-sports banquet. district meet and 33rd at regionals.

In his junior year, Saucedo was tenth in the district and the team was fourth.

He was sixth this past season in the district meet, and the team finished fifth.

Selma Moreno, the outstanding athlete in girls' cross country, is a junior, two-year letterman and captain of the team.

Miss Moreno placed first in the district meet, and helped lead the team to a second place finish.

She went on to place fifth in the regional meet and 29th in the state meet. She was named to the 15-member all-state cross country team for class 5A schools.

Miss Moreno competed in six in-

Rogers reached the quarterfinals in the district tournament before losing to the district runner-up. He played as number one in singles and doubles for Hereford High School.

The outstanding girls' tennis player, Connie Zinser had a 4-4 singles and doubles record last fall. This spring she and her partner won 12 matches and lost six.

The doubles team won the Hereford five-team tournament, placed third in the Hereford four-team tournament, and placed seventh in the Abilene tournament.

Miss Zinser, who also reached the semifinals of the Midland tournament, played as number one in singles and doubles for Hereford.

Cowboys take gamble on Herschel Walker

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys might have a problem if Herschel Walker and Tony Dorsett actually do end up in the same backfield some day, the team's player personnel director joked.

"Who would block?" Gil Brandt asked.

The Cowboys drafted Walker, a former Heisman Trophy winner from Georgia, in the fifth round of Tuesday's draft as a longshot gamble. Walker is with the New Jersey Generals of the United States Football League and has a contract that runs through 1988.

"It's a gamble," club president Tex Schramm said. "If things work out, he's ours. We had an extra draft pick in the round, so we decided to go for it. We're just kind of gambling with another team's pick. You never know it might work out."

Schramm and Gil Brandt, the Cowboys' director of personnel, talked by telephone with Walker. Brandt said Walker told him "It's an honor to be drafted by the Cowboys."

Brandt said, "When you have an extra choice like this, it's a good gamble. He may never play for the Cowboys, but it's exciting to think he may. He was as excited as we were."

Dallas coach Tom Landry noted, "If the USFL does go under, we will someday have a chance to get him. It's a longshot. But stranger things have happened."

The Cowboys weren't bothered that Walker might not be available until 1989, Brandt said.

"He'd just be in the prime of his career," said Brandt. "He's played great in the last five weeks."

Now, what will Dale Murphy do in May?

"He had better cool off or he will end the season with 200 RBIs," Cincinnati player-manager Pete Rose said Tuesday night after Murphy belted a two-run double that capped a five-run seventh inning and carried the Atlanta Braves past the Reds 8-4.

Murphy finished an incredible opening month with 29 runs batted in, which tied the major-league record for most RBIs in April, set by Ron Cey in 1977. Murphy batted .380 (27-for-71) with nine home runs during the month.

Murphy had one last chance to break the RBI mark, but struck out in the ninth.

"I was thinking about it. It crossed my mind," he said. "But I know when I think like that, it affects my swing."

Murphy does not know exactly how to explain his April barrage.

"I don't know what it is but I am getting a lot of chances to drive in runs," he said.

Rose went 2-for-4 and raised his hit total to 4,112. He needs 80 hits to break Ty Cobb's all-time hit mark of 4,191.

Phillies 11, Expos 0

Hayes went 4-for-5, including a double, while scoring two runs and driving home two more. He is 20-for-41 in his last 10 games with 11 RBIs during that stretch.

The Phillies banged out 16 hits against four Montreal pitchers.

Koonsman, 1-1, struck out three and walked one.

Cardinals 6, Dodgers 1

early-season success with a seven-hitter that raised his record to 4-0. Andujar extended his scoreless-inning string to 19 before Terry Whitfield homered with one out in the ninth.

St. Louis scored in the second inning when Ozzie Smith hit a bases-loaded drive that Los Angeles starter

Jerry Reuss knocked down but then threw wildly to first for an error.

The host Cardinals put the game away with five runs in the sixth.

Mets 4, Astros 1
Dwight Gooden pitched a four-hitter and struck out eight to help New York win at home.

Loser Joe Niekro, 1-3, had allowed only one hit and took a 1-0 lead into the seventh before the Mets scored twice. George Foster and Danny Heep singled home the runs.

Gooden, 3-1, yielded a first-inning home run to Denny Walling, his first homer of the year.

Pirates 6, Padres 2
Jason Thompson got Pittsburgh off to a good start with a two-run homer in the first inning and Steve Kemp doubled home two more runs in the sixth for insurance.

Thompson's second home run of the season capped a three-run outburst against LaMarr Hoyt, 2-2.

Cubs 3, Giants 1
Ryne Sandberg showed more signs of breaking out of the 1985 doldrums by going 3-for-4, including two doubles. Sandberg, who entered the game batting just .159 — higher than he's been hitting most of the month — doubled home the tying run in the third inning and then scored on a wild pickoff throw.

Winner Steve Trout, 4-1, gave up nine hits in 6 2-3 innings. He was helped by four Chicago double plays.

Bill Laskey, 0-3, took the loss for visiting San Francisco.

Twins blast Tigers, 11-2

By DICK BRINSTER

AP Sports writer

Remember that skinny kid who went to the beach every day and got sand kicked in his face? Remember how he bulked up and returned to chase the bullies away from the girls?

Well, the Minnesota Twins certainly have begun to flex their muscles, and they aren't doing it against the undernourished.

Their latest show of strength, a 10-run fourth inning, came at the expense of the Detroit Tigers, who showed off their biceps all last season en route to winning the World Series.

"I'll tell you, it was a bunch of guys hitting their heads on the roof," said Kent Hrbek, whose leadoff homer began the outburst which resulted in an 11-2 victory at Tiger Stadium. "During our (nine-game) losing streak, we couldn't score a run if we tried."

In losing nine straight games immediately preceding their current nine-game winning streak, the Twins were limited to 27 runs. In the last nine games they have scored 67.

Orioles 9, White Sox 7
Gary Roenicke hit a two-run homer and Rick Dempsey a two-run single in a five-run fourth inning as Baltimore, withstanding a five-run ninth, held on to beat Chicago.

Roenicke has five homers among his seven lifetime hits off loser Floyd Bannister. Dempsey has 17 runs batted in after driving in 34 all of last season.

Rangers 8, Yankees 4
Former Yankee Cliff Johnson keyed a five-run, six-hit first inning off Phil Niekro, 3-2, with a two-run double as the Rangers again denied Billy Martin his first victory in his fourth go-round as New York's manager.

Dickie Noles, 2-1, pitched five innings to pick up the victory for Texas, which dropped Martin to 0-2 as successor to the fired Yogi Berra. The Yankees, last in the AL East, have lost five straight games.

Royals 5, Indians 1
Steve Balboni, who had just one hit in his previous 18 at-bats, hit a grand-slam homer after rookie Jose Roman had walked four batters in the third inning.

"As bad as I've been going I just wanted to hit it pretty good and avoid the double play," Balboni said.

Blue Jays 4, A's 3
Tony Fernandez lashed a run-scoring single with two outs in the ninth inning to lead Toronto past Oakland and into first place. The hit scored Manny Lee, who pinch ran for Jeff Burroughs, who had opened in the ninth with a double off loser Jay Howell, 0-1.

Oakland's Dave Kingman drilled a two-run homer, his fourth of the season, in the first inning.

Mariners 4, Brewers 3
Alvin Davis slammed his first home run of the season in the first inning and a throwing error by catcher Charlie Moore led to two runs in the fourth as Seattle handed Milwaukee its fifth straight loss.

Davis, last year's American League Rookie of the Year, has 10 hits in his last 21 at-bats after a slow start. Davis connected in the first inning off loser Bob Gibson, 3-1, for a 400-foot homer to straight-away center field.

Angels 3, Red Sox 2
Dick Schofield drew a bases-loaded walk with two outs in the bottom of the 15th inning to give California the victory over Boston.

Left-hander Bob Ojeda, the third Boston pitcher, issued the walk — the 10th by the Red Sox. Rod Carew, who led off with a walk, scored the winning run.

Here's Why To Subscribe To Cablevision...

Satellite Scrambling

It's a Fact NOW!

HBO and Cinemax are currently testing their satellite scrambler on Galaxy I transponders 19 and 23. In the upcoming week, Cablevision subscribers will see a small "T" in the upper-right corner of their television screen. All satellite dish owners will receive a scrambled picture and audio.

SKEPTICAL? Well, you check it out for yourself. Here are the dates and the times for the test scrambling.

	Mon.	Tues.	Wed.	Thurs.	Fri.
HBO	8:21 am 2:42 pm	10:45 am 2:40 pm	8:38 am 2:37 pm	8:35 am 1:24 pm	8:41 am 12:45 pm
MAX	8:53 am 2:44 pm	8:08 am 3:08 pm	8:53 am 2:44 pm	8:34 am 3:15 pm	10:36 am 3:15 pm

Showtime and The Movie Channel have also announced they will scramble their signal by the end of the year with CNN, ESPN and Headline News planning to do the same in 1986.

First Place Winners

theme "Breakfast Alone" in the formal category and Elaine McNutt was first in the novelty division for her setting entitled "Four of a Kind." Other first place winners not pictured were Diana Ford and Sandy Slentz in the holiday category using the theme "Memorial Day Picnic."

Clements, Don Flood, Dago Valdez, and Kurt Simon. (Back row) Walter Brockman, Lee Brockman and Nathan Flood.

BIRTHDAY ALMANAC

Compiled by the editors of The World Almanac Book of Who

May 1 — Kate Smith (1909-), the singer who was known as the first lady of radio in the 1930s and 1940s. She is known for singing Irving Berlin's "God Bless America."

May 2 — Lorenz Hart (1895-1943), the lyricist who is noted for witty, literate lyrics and his successful collaboration with Richard Rodgers. His songs include "Manhattan," "My Funny Valentine," "The Lady is a Tramp" and "I Didn't Know What Time It Was."

May 3 — Sugar Ray Robinson (1920-), the boxer who was the world middleweight champion five times between 1951 and 1960, as well as the welterweight champ from 1946 to 1951. Many experts rate him as the best fighter, pound for pound, of all time.

May 4 — Audrey Hepburn (1929-), the Belgian-born star who won a 1953 Oscar as best actress for her performance in "Roman Holiday." Her other films include "Breakfast at Tiffany's" and "My Fair Lady."

May 5 — Tyrone Power (1913-1958), the handsome Hollywood leading man in films from the 1930s through the 1960s. His films include "In Old Chicago," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Jesse James" and "The Sun Also Rises."

May 6 — Willie Mays (1931-), perhaps the most talented and exciting baseball player of his era. He hit 660 home runs in his career and was the National League's most valuable player in 1954 and 1965.

The first woman to receive a Nobel Prize for literature was Swedish novelist and poet Selma Lagerlof.

Ann Landers
Share all emotions

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your answer to the woman whose mother was terminally ill was right on the mark. How I wish I had the benefit of your wisdom when my father (age 49) received the same diagnosis.

His physician advised us not to bring up the subject. He said it should come from Dad. For three agonizing months everyone played games. We skirted the issue, talked about everything but what was important — for example, how much we loved him, what he meant to us and how lucky we were to have had him, even though it wasn't nearly long enough. We couldn't even let him see us cry, even though our hearts were breaking as we watched him slip away.

The day before Dad died he took my hand and whispered, "Please take good care of your mother." It was the last thing he said before he went into a coma. I don't believe he heard me reply, "Don't worry Dad, I'll do exactly as you say."

Now, 19 years later, I still break in to sobs when I think of all the things that went unsaid. If any of your readers are faced with this decision, I hope they won't ask a doctor or anybody else. They should be guided by their instincts. It is so much better for the patient, as well as the family, to be open and honest and talk, talk, talk.—A DEDICATED READER IN D.C.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am so glad you told the woman whose mother was hopelessly ill that the patient should be told.

Our only child died of bone cancer two years ago. He was 15. He had his leg amputated above the knee and then had three operations to remove tumors from his lungs. He went through extensive chemotherapy and never once complained. What a terrific fighter he was!

He knew from the beginning that his illness might be fatal. When the doctors told us there was no hope, our son was sitting right with us. On the trip home we talked openly about death. He planned his own funeral — told us what he wanted to wear, the music he wanted played and who should be the pallbearers.

He asked to die at home — no tubes, no artificial life supports. Of course we respected his wishes. The last week of his life he told us to whom we should give his favorite possessions. We wrote everything down. The day before he died he thanked us for not babying him and for being honest throughout his illness.

We don't ask "why?" anymore. We know he is in a better place and that someday we will all be together. If you think this letter will give strength to others, please print it, but no name, please.—A MOTHER parents. I wish I could print at least a dozen more of the magnificent letters I received from readers who said, in essence, "A terminally ill patient almost always knows the truth and doesn't need to be told. It is best to talk openly about the situation. Cry together, laugh together—share it all."

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. For a copy, send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Student council to assist U.S. Army

Hereford High School student council members will assist the U.S. Army in providing a children's fingerprinting service Saturday at Sugarland Mall.

S-P4 Joe Lozoya and Sgt. Joe Munoz from the Army's recruiting office at Canyon will fingerprint local children from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The event is called Operation Childprint.

Pipe-smoking is bound to give a person a contemplative look, caused mostly by wondering what garment will get burn holes next.

Why can't science come up with something to bond rust together so auto bodies will last longer?

According to the office of Army Public Affairs, more than 150,000 children are reported lost or missing in the United States each year. Positive and permanent identification, such as a fingerprint, can provide police with an investigative tool to help locate missing children.

While having a child fingerprinted does not mean police will always be able to locate a missing child, the office points out, it can help.

Parents are encouraged to accompany their children to the Army booth. The child's fingerprints will be recorded on a card and given to the parents or legal guardians free of charge.

According to Lozoya, who is a Hereford resident, children of all ages are welcome at the booth. He said if prints are taken when the child is quite small, they should be recorded again after the child's sixth birthday.

This Won't Hurt A Bit

A youngster at the Crossroads Mall in Oklahoma City was one of the first to take advantage of "Operation Childprint". The U.S. Army will provide the service locally Saturday, at the Sugarland Mall.

4-H members present program to Wyche Club

Susan Raney, assistant county extension agent, introduced several 4-H members who presented the program when members of Wyche Extension Club met recently in the home of Pet Ott.

Jim Erick Andrews and Thad Hill presented a demonstration on "Barbed Wire, Your Time Has Come" and Nathan Betzen and Patrick Mies gave a method demonstration on "Terrianiums are Terrific." The pair planted a terrianium and told how to care for it and the type of plants to use.

During the business meeting conducted by President Clara Trowbridge, committee reports were heard from Carol Odom, project chairman; and Argen Draper, program chairman. The council report was given by Esther Thuet. She announced that the extension council will participate in the Town 'n' Country Jubilee parade entering a float with the theme "Together Toward Tomorrow."

Also, it was announced that extension clubs will celebrate Extension Homemakers Week with a tea planned from 2-4 p.m. May 7 at the Hereford Community Center.

Draper gave a brief report on plans for the Sesquicentennial celebration planned in Deaf Smith County and the club voted to furnish man power for the committee at the Jubilee in August.

The club voted to donate $10 to the 4-H groups for the Wisconsin exchange trip.

Members present included Wynema Wheeler, Beverly Jesko, Draper, Camellia Jones, Esther Thuet, Odom, Louise Axe and Trowbridge.

MR. AND MRS. DWAYNE CASSELS

Silver anniversary observed by couple

A reception honoring Dwayne and Jenny Cassels, who recently observed their 25th wedding anniversary, was held Sunday afternoon in the couple's home, located on West Harrison Highway.

Receiving guests with the couple were their sons, Jeffrey Dwayne and Kelly Mac.

Dwayne Eugene Cassels and Jenny Lynne McCathern were married Sunday, April 24, 1960 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cassels of Amarillo.

Dwayne was born and reared in Hereford and he and his wife attended Hereford schools and have resided in the Hereford area since their marriage.

They have three children. Jeffrey Dwayne, a Hereford High School graduate, graduated from North Texas University in Denton. He is currently employed with Fast Tax in Dallas. Kelly Mac, also a HHS graduate, is completing his junior year at Texas Tech in Lubbock and their daughter Kristin Jill is a junior at HHS.

The centerpiece of silk orchids, blue tiger lilies, yellow daisies, peach miniature carnations and baby's breath was arranged on the main refreshment table covered with an ecru crocheted table cloth.

The three-tiered anniversary cake, adorned with pastel accents, was served by Joy Daniel, and Lisa Snyder poured punch and coffee to a host of friends and relatives. Others assisting included Kristen Cassels, Robin Hopper, Julie Simons, Natalie Sims and Shannon Morrison.

The couple's niece, Tammy Ramakers, registered guests.

Serving as hostesses were the couple's children and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. McCathern Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hargrave.

Others hosting were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Daniel and daughters Lauren and Jaelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pat Cassels and Lynda, and Mr. and Mrs. Kevi Cassels, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCathern, Jimmie and Jenny of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ramaekers and Cherise of Nazareth; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cassels and Brian of Guyton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Hendricks of Monahans.

Three of the grandparents that attended the wedding were also present. They included Mrs. Donnie Owen, Mrs. Nell Ball and J.E. McCathern Sr. Other relatives who attended were Mrs. J.E. McCathern Sr., Jau Don McCathern and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCathern.

Spring Tea slated Tuesday afternoon

Come to a "Spring Tea", sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council, Tuesday between 2 to 4 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center.

The tea is held in celebration of National Extension Homemakers Week, May 5-11, according to Gayle Carter, chairman of Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council.

The tea is intended for all former Extension Homemaker Club members, those wishing to become a club member, and all present club members, says Louise Walker, County Extension Agent.

The tea will feature exhibits of club projects, programs, and scrapbooks of past accomplishments. Terri Johnson, chairman, Young Homemakers committee, Texas Extension Homemakers Association, will have an exhibit on her state committee's work.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Baggin' the best means bringing home low prices that save you money. Bag & Save Warehouse Foods is your basic warehouse food store for your basic everyday grocery needs at very basic prices. In fact, our store is as basic as a brown bag!

What does that mean? It means, we have a warehouse full of groceries. You select what you need, bag it yourself and walk away with extra money in your pocket. We're nothing fancy because we want to keep your costs down! We have no sack or carry out service and that cuts down on personnel costs.

MAY 1, 1985 8:00 AM

Come in and get to know us today. For your first Bag & Save experience we have a coupon good for one gallon of milk and four loaves of bread FREE! And there'll still be room in your grocery bag for more real savings from "THE BAG."

Upward Bound Project set

A visit to San Antonio will be included in the cultural enrichment curriculum offered this summer by the Upward Bound Project at West Texas State University.

The project's summer academic camp is scheduled from June 3 through July 9 on the WTSU campus, with students to live in the dormitories throughout the session.

Enrichment courses will also be offered in math, science, English, computer science and study skills. Students will attend career guidance sessions to explore career opportunities.

All services offered by the project including the camp, are free to those accepted into the program. Upward Bound is for students from low income families, or those from families where neither parent has earned a bachelor's degree.

To attend this summer's camp, students must be of sophomore or junior standing as of June 3. Students will be covered by an accident insurance policy.

Applications are available from school counselors. For more information, call Roger Scott at WTSU, telephone 656-2737.
