Hereford United Way Over The Top

First 100% Goal Since Mid-1960's, Contributions Total $51,431.25

Hereford's United Way Drive ended Friday on the best note it has in almost 10 years - it topped the 100 per cent mark of its $50,925 goal.

As of late Thursday United Way workers had received either money or commitments for a total contribution of $51,431.25, which is 101 per cent of the goal.

- It marked the first time the Hereford United Way Campaign Drive has reached its full goal since the mid-1960's, before accurate records were kept. Closest year came in 1968 when 95 per cent of the goal was collected.

CAMPAIGN officials also announced the collections reached new records because this year's $50,925 has been the highest goal ever set for Hereford and also the drive presently has a tital of $38,100.91 in the bank, which is more than has ever been collected in a single complete year's drive before. The funds above the $38,100.91 remain out but have been committed to the United Way, either in pledges or through payroll deductions, which will come from employees payroll through the next several months.

'The $38,100.91 we have in the bank is cash money," said Mike Patrick, Hereford United Way President. "That is more money than has ever been raised in total contributions, both cash and pledges, ever before, I think that is just a tremendous part of this year's campaign - that we have collected that much cash money already.

PATRICK said he felt the goal was reached this year (when it had not been reached in the past many years) for four main reasons

"First I think the organization of the campaign had a lot to do with it," Patrick said. "Bud Eades just did a tremendous job: Bud started working with the United Way last year here and he and his wife. Helen, put in a lot of hours on the campaign. "Second, I think the team work in the campaign was just tremendous. We made an excellent choice of a campaign chairman this year in Lynton Allred. I think Lynton put together a team of what I would call 'poor losers.' The people he had just don't like to lose. They were people who were willing to work together and think of this campaign in terms of a success.

"NEXT. I felt the publicity we had helped a lot," Patrick said. "The publicity chairman was Mrs. Marc Hoelscher. She put a great deal of her time into this campaign and I'd like to thank The Hereford Brand and Radio KPAN for keeping the United Way Campaign before the public and being a very vital part of this year's success." Patrick said the final reason for the success of the campaign was the people of the county

"One of the real keys to the success was the awareness by the citizens of Deaf Smith County of where we had been as far as the United Way is concerned, where we needed to be and how to get there by way of fair share giving and payroll deduction."

"I WOULD like to thank the people who worked individually on the campaign," said Allred. "Their tireless efforts made making the goal a reality. It is good to be a part of a community that sees the needs of others and not only voices those needs, but expresses it in terms of monetary so that these needs can be met."

'Each division head and all their workers are what made this year's success a reality," added Allred.

THE LAST time the United Way got close to full completion of its goal was in 1968. In 1967 the goal was $32,465 and only 82 per cent was collected; the 1968 goal was $37,100 and 95 per cent was collected; in 1969 the goal was $38,000 and 87 per cent was collected; in 1970 the goal was $39,500 and collections reached 78 per cent of that; in 1971 79 per cent of the goal of $40,000 was reached; and last year the $41,450 goal was 69 per cent collected.

Because the United Way reached its goal, each agency represented will receive its full allotment of the funds. Breakdown of agencies in the drive and the percentage they each receive is: Camp Fire Girls 21 per cent; Children's Rehabilitation, 1 per cent; Boys Baseball, 13 per cent; Boy Scouts, 181/2 per cent; Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Hereford, 13' per cent; Council on Alcoholism, 3 per cent ; Red Cross, 19 percent; Salvation Army, 8 per cent; USO, 1 per cent; Texas United Way, one-half per cent; and 2 per cent for local expenses.

Bursts Over The Top

Hereford's United Way Campaign went up to the 100 per cent marker and burst over the top as total contributions reached to $51,431.25. Goal for the year was $50,925. United Way President Mike Patrick, center, has just finished filling in the chart as Bud Eades, left, and Lynton Allred, right, drive chairman, look on.

Herman Sifford, general manager of the J.S. Bridwell Ranch West, has been selected by the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District as Outstanding Conservation Rancher for 1973.

Sifford was selected on the basis of accomplishments made during the past year in conservation work. Interd completed a 10-year conservation project in 1971 which was administered by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

J.C. BROWN of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service said Sifford had installed several ponds and water storage facilities, brush and cholla cactus control and had carried out a range management program.

ALSO TO preserve the mule deer, antelope, blue quail and other wildlife Sifford does not allow hunting on the ranch. Accomplishments made toward conserving water and soil on the ranch include the building of eight ponds, three wells, nine water storage facilities, 28,234 feet of fence, 6,100 feet of diversion terraces and they carried out mesquite and cholla cactus control on 1,396 acres of the ranch.

WAYNE SIFFORD said one interesting and little-known aspects of the ranch was that it was part of the Caprock in Deaf Smith County. He said most people do not realize that there is a caprock in the county.

Tucumcari mountain can be seen from the caprock on the ranch, almost 50 miles away. Herman Sifford said, "Mr. Bridwell always helped in soil

CONGRATULATIONS are in order for the leaders of the United Way campaign in Hereford. The drive went over the top this year, and for the first time in a number of years. Much credit is surely due campaign president Mike Patrick and drive chairman Lynton Allred-two men who wouldn't give up the idea of attaining the goal.

All of the volunteer workers, as well as members of the community, are also in line for congratulations on a job well done! While some citizens voice criticism of the program, we believe the United Way is still the best method of rounding up community support of some very worthwhile agencies. We're sure volunteer workers-who would be called to serve each drive-would rather combine efforts for one campaign.

HEREFORD'S Municipal Airport now has a courtesy car for the convenience of out-of-town passengers who fly into Hereford. It's the first time for such a service to be offered, and it has been provided by Caviness Packing Co. If you have friends who fly in, let them know about the courtesy car for transportation to town.

THE CHRISTMAS shopping is getting down to the final week and promises to be hectic around our town. Many merchants are experiencing their finest November and December months in many years. You'll find some great gift suggestions in the issues of The Brand!

Incidentally, we have decided not to publish The Brand on Dec. 27 in order that our employees might have some extra holiday time at Christmas. Tuesday is a bad day of the week for a holiday in the twice-a-week newspaper business, so we're going to skip the one publication. The newspaper office will be closed Dec. 24, 25 and 26.

THERE'S nothing like giving to really get the Christmas spirit. We've heard several Lions and Jaycees talk about the joy of Christmas since holding some projects for the less-fortunate children. The Lions hosted girls from Girlstown at their Christmas party, and the Jaycees sponsored a "shopping spree" for under-privileged children of the community.

The 34,800-acre ranch, along with another large ranch, was first owned by J.S. Bridwell but was made into an estate at his death with Sifford as the General Manager of the ranches. His son, Wayne Sifford, is foreman of the Bridwell Ranch West.

Brown said the most outstanding part of the program carried out on the ranch was the range management, where the grasslands are conserved by rotating the grazing.

This not only saves the grass, but increases the wildlife on the ranch.

HE SAID he tries to spray about 1,000 acres of mesquite each year, and that about 80 per cent of the cholla cactus on the ranch has been eliminated by chemicals.

He added that the grasslands are never overstocked as a further measure to conserve the pastures. The 6,100 feet of diversion terraces was constructed to control erosion of the soil

Herman Sifford will receive the award for Outstanding Conservation Rancher of 1973 sometime during the spring of 1974, and the plaque will be presented by the Hereford Lions Club

Deadline Set For Project

Final date for contributions to Project Christmas Card, in order to send holiday greetings to local friends via the special page in The Hereford Brand's Christmas edition, will be Monday.

Hereford Medical Auxiliary, sponsor of the project which each year raised funds to add equipment at Deaf Smith General Hospital, has set the deadline in order to allow time for listing all names and placing them on the greeting page. At Christmastime each year the Auxiliary asks area residents to contribute to the project the amount they would spend for greeting cards and postage in order to send holiday wishes to their neighbors in the community. Instead of by card, these greetings are conveyed on the page. Mrs. Howard R. Johnson is project chairman this year. The money given in this way buys equipment needed at the hospital but not allowed in the regular budget. From 1957, when $5,537 was raised for furniture in the children's wing, to 1972, when in-See DEADLINE SET Page 6

The Hereford Lions Club hosted some 90 girls from the Whiteface and Borger campuses of Girlstown at its annual Christmas party Thursday flight, presenting a check for $5,000 to Girlstown and showering the girls with personal gifts.

More than 500 Lions, their wives and guests, and the Girlstown group attended the annual party in the Bull Barn Thursday night. It marked the second year in a row for the Lions to play host to Girlstown.

Each of the girls were sponsored by a Lion member, receiving personal gifts from the individual as well as the club. All of the girls also received pendants from the Zale Corporation of Dallas, and candy bowls from the Camel Candy Co. of Amarillo.

IT MARKED the second year for Zale's to participate in the program. Last year the company sent a bracelet for each girl. The candy bowls, filled with candy, were donated by W.C. (Bud) Campbell, president of the candy com-. pany.

Lions Give $5,000 Gift

The Hereford High School cheerleaders also participated in the Christmas party, presenting an electric hair dryer and curlers to Girlstown. Sherry Hughes and Nancy Barrett made the presentation for the cheerleaders.

SANTA CLAUS also made an appearance at the party, making some "gag" presentations to some of the Lions and also presenting gifts to some of the club leaders and club sweetheart Debbie Hale.

Club president Jim Hale presented the $5,000 check to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cooper, executive directors of Girlstown, Other special guests included Bill Mc-Minn of Stratford, district Lions governor; Vi Williams, a Girlstown director from Hereford; residents of Kings Manor and wives of deceased Lions. Melvin Jayroe introduced other guests, including presidents of other civic clubs in Hereford.

MUSICAL entertainment was provided by groups from the two Girlstown campuses. "The Misty Futures" from Borger- sang several Christmas carols, and "The Girlstown Five" from Whiteface sang several popular tunes, as well as a special Girlstown song.

Byron Terrell' served as program chairman for the event, and Charlie Bell led-group singing of Christmas carols. The invocation was by Raymond White, past district governor, and the pledge to the flag was led by Nolan Grady, past president. Past presidents of the club assisted in the distribution of gifts, and decorations for the banquet were made by Lions' wives with Mrs. Ruth Black as chairman.

THE HEREFORD Lions had netted more than $2,500 from the recent Girlstown Auction project, and the club voted to'add enough money to present the $5,000 contribution to Girlstown ...

School, To Continue On Regular

Schedule Despite Energy Crisis

Hereford Supt. Roy Hartman said Friday he has learned from the Texas Education Agency that Texas schools will not be required to turn out each day early or go to a four-day school week because of the fuel shortage.

Early reports said Texas officials were considering the short school week and shorter school days in an attempt to conserve fuel. However, officials notified Hartman Friday that the action would not be necessary.

Hartman showed the School Board members Tuesday ight a copy of a letter from the Texas Commissioner of Education suggesting measures to conserve fuel. Part of the measures suggested in the letter gave authorization to all schools to shorten the school day for students and in emergency situations of extremely cold days to go to a fourhour mid-day schedule.

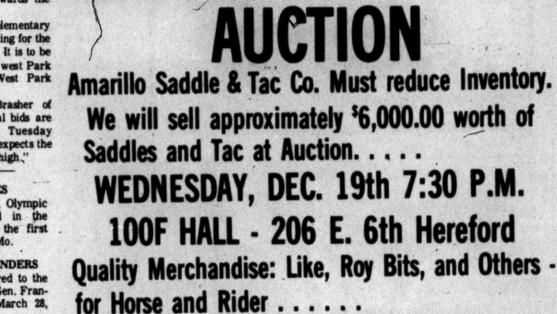

However, Hartman said he had received word from state officials to cancel those two options, saying the officials did not think the fuel shortage would be that critical. Trustees are scheduled to discuss energy saving plans in a special meeting at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the board room of the administration building.

Victim Of Gas Shortage

"Enjoy your own life without comparing it with that of another

Haste makes waste, or a fool and his money are soon parted or whatever ... I was a victim of the gas shortage this past week. But not the kind of victim you may think.

Ididn't run out of gas . . . in fact I found plenty of it . . . but I also found a station that will get very little of my business in the future.

HERE I was driving on the freeway in Lubbock and about ready to head back to Hereford. My gas tank was just below the half-tank mark and I decided I had better fill up.

Just over to the right was a small service station with a big sign with three-foot letters that read "32" and "39". Not many times these days do you get regular gas for 32 cents so I quickly jerked the car, and my wife's neck, across two lanes of traffic into the station.

Well, after I filled up and after I noticed the cost was unusually high I took a second look at that big sign in front of the station. Right above those three-foot letters that read "32" were two-inch letters that read "Bread." Then above the three-foot letters that read "39" were two-inch letters that read "Regular.

But that wasn't the end of my quick frustration. The cost of a loaf of bread at the station was 32 cents. But it was 32 cents only if you get gasoline. Otherwise it was 35 cents, the manager explained.

Needless to say I didn't buy any bread.

CONCERNING the fuel and energy crisis, it has really gotten down on the local level in Hereford. Both the County Commissioners and School Trustees have starting taking steps to conserve energy. And of course, the city Christmas decorations became a partial victim of the energy crisis this year.

The lights in downtown Hereford will burn only from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. this year instead of all night. They are being controlled by a time clock that turns them on and off automatically. Other decorations around the city normally hook directly to street lights and would have to burn all night. However, this year they are not even being lit up at all.

SHERIFF Travis McPherson and several other Panhandle officers and FBI agents got on the track of a con game this week and ended up arresting two men involved.

The sheriff received a complaint from a local resident about a man who was trying to get him to "put up" several thousand dollars in an attempt to get about $90,000 that was "hot" that a third man held. What it amounted to was a pigeon drop.

The local man informed McPherson about the scheme and the Sheriff, a detective from the Amarillo Police Department, FBI agents and agents from Metro Intelligence in Amarillo spent almost all day Tuesday investigating and hunting before they tracked down and arrested two Amarillo men and charged them with conspiracy.

THERE ARE about 160 farmers down in Gaines County around Seminole and Seagraves who appear to be in quite a bit of trouble with the government. The ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) has accused the farmers of manipulating so that they have received "inflated" government checks in relation with their cotton allotment

An ASCS official came in the county, suspended the local executive director and three members of the county committee and then notified the 160 farmers that they need to return the $6 million the government has paid them.

The ASCS says only about $1.5 million was due them but that farmers got $4.5 million. However, the ASCS says all $6 million will have to be repaid. Should the ASCS prove its case some of the farmers will owe upwards of $50,000 while only a few have amounts as small as $2,000.

If the ASCS can prove its case, something like this can put a bad light on all farmers in general. The news has already made big news there and several large financial newspapers and magazines.

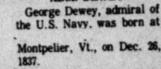

People in the East and Northeast already have enough antogonism toward the farmer. If things like this are proved it sure can hurt the farmer through Washington in the eyes of a lot of people who don't understand.

This marks the second year for the Lions to host the girls and present special Christmas gifts. A group from the Borger campus also presented music during the program. The Lions presented a check for $5,000 to the Girlstown program.

Firemen's Wives Thank Merchants For Project Help

Appreciation for assistance given the Hereford Firemen's Auxiliary in serving a hunters' breakfast Saturday morning is expressed by Mrs. Onias Carroll, president.

Merchants of the city cooperated in the project and the auxiliary members are very grateful, Mrs. Carroll said. The breakfast was served early on the first day of the pheasant hunting season. Women of the Auxiliary prepared the food at Com-munity Center.

Frank J. Bezner was honored this week for his work with the county Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service, being presented with a "Certificate of Service" award from the Texas State ASCS office.

The presentation was made at the Deaf Smith County ASCS office Wednesday by Billie C. Hodges, who will succeed Bezner as county committee chairman. Bezner is completing 14 years service on the county ASCS committee.

Along with the certificate, Bezner received a letter from the state committee expressing "sincere thanks for the many years of dedicated and constructive service which you have given fellow farmers and the nation as an elected ASCS county committeeman . . . Your record is one of true public service in the highest tradition for which you can be very proud."

Explains Tax-Free, Tax-Sheltered, And Taxable

By Bob Hill Lentz, Newton & Co. Members, New York Stock Exchange TAX-FREE. One of the most attractive investments available to the person seeking income is the tax-free bond fund. These are bond funds which invest in only the obligations of cities, states, school districts and other taxing or revenue authorities.

The interest from these bonds, which the bond fund owns, is free from all federal taxes and the investor does not even have to declare the interest he receives from these bond funds as income on his tax interest earned into income. The most attractive yield available in this type investment is currently 6.54 percent, tax-sheltered. There is no commission or sales charge to the investor. The investor can get all or a portion of his funds on 24 hours notice and there is no market risk in this investment. Interest accrues daily up to the day you withdraw. There is no withdrawal penalty. This is an excellent place to put aside educational and retirement dollars while you are working. Since there is no tax on the interest earned while it is accumulating in the account, you can withdraw the original amount investment plus any additional investments, or a portion there of, and still not have to pay any tax on the accumulated interest.

TAXABLE. For persons who need the maximum taxable income from their dollars with a minimum of risk, take a look at utility common stocks at the time rather than corporate bonds. You lock your money up for 25 or 30 years in corporate bonds and lose liquidity of your investment that you have in utility common stocks. Today, the common stocks of major utility companies are yielding anywhere from 8 percent to 9.3 percent.

That's more than the yield you can get on the mortgage bonds of the same companies. Although the earnings of the utility companies will increase very slowly over the next several years, you will at least participate in those increased. earnings as a common shareholder. You will usually be docked substantially when you get ready to sell them unless the bonds are listed on the New York Stock Exchange where a ready market exists. If you are determined to own corporate bonds, you might look at several of the numerous corporate bond funds which are available.

It is now obvious that the stock market will build a base at the 800 level for a lengthy move upward. It is also apparent that the oil embargo is beginning to embarrass some of the Arab leaders who are now realizing that economic blackmail will inevitably fail, while creating in the meantime, strong antogonism toward the Arabs and sympathy toward Isreal.

The Bear Trap we mentioned in our last column caught some over-eager investors when the Dow Jones Industrial Average dropped 50 points last week. The market got a lift Friday with the news that the Arabs were willing to partially lift the oil embargo if the U.S. would publically request Isreal to withdraw to the 1967 boundaries.

Regardless of the outcome of negotiations in the Middle-East, the year 1974 will suprise most people with a much stronger economy than expected. We will cover the subject in a later column.

The stock market closed out the week at 815.65 on the Industrial Average; a net change of -22.40 points. Average daily trading volume was 19 million shares.

Burglary, Theft Reported

By STEVE CONNELLY Staff Writer

A pick-up was reported stolen from Milburn Used Cars sometime between Monday night and Tuesday morning, but was found Wednesday by Hereford police officers.

Nick Milburn, owner of the car lot, reported the pick-up missing at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday and could not give police officers any definite clues.

An officer found the pick-up near the A & P potato shed but no suspects have been found or arrested.

Rodriguez, 198 Higgins, was burglarized between Dec. 7-8 of about $475 worth of merchandise.

Entry was apparantly gained by breaking a window and a padlock hinge off the door. Rodriguez reported at 4:30 a.m. Dec. 9 that a television set valued at $350 and a cashmere coat valued at $125, were also missing.

Officers are still investigating the burglary and no suspects have been arrested.

A TRAFFIC accident occured at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the 200 block of Avenue J involving a car and a pick-up.

A 1966 Ford pick-up,owned by Homer A. Speer, 422 Ave. J, was parked at the curb of Avenue J with a two-wheel utility trailer attached when a 1960 Buick, driven by Scottie L. Clark, 316 Buick driven by Louis W. Kinsey, 218 Douglas, was Ave. J, struck the parked vehicle while going south on Avenue J.

AN ACCIDENT was reported at 3:55 p.m. in the 300 block of McKinley when a 1970 Oldsmobile, driven by Leta R. Poarch, Rt. 3, was going south on McKinley, and a second car apparently pulled partly into the intersection. The Poarch car swerved, jumped the curb, and collided with two trees, knocking one THE HOME of Domingo over and causing slight damage to the other. Mrs. Poarch received slight injuries from the accident, but medical treatment was not necessary at the time.

A SECOND accident Wednesday took place at 7:30 p.m. in the 300 block of Park Avenue involving two cars. A 1973 Volkswagon, driven by Darwin M. Wilbanks, 706 E. 5th St, stopped behind a car making a left turn on Park Avenue, when a 1969 Buick, driven by Mary F. Shipp, 221 Star attempted to pass the Wilbanks car on the right. At the same time, another car attempted to pass the Shipp car on the right. The Shipp auto pulled to the left, striking the Wilbanks car.

Annual Skate-A-Thon Planned December 26

Second annual Skate-a-Thon to benefit a Muscular Dystrophy Association fund is announced for Dec. 26 by the Hereford MDA. It will be held at Playhouse Skating Rink on West Highway 60, beginning at 7 p.m.

All proceeds will go for research on the disease and for patients' medical fees. Cash prizes will be awarded to those skating the longest, $50 for first place, $25 for second and $10 for third.

Skating will be in two-hour sessions with 15-minute breaks, continuing until only one person is left skating. Entrance fee will be $3 for contestants. For regular skating, unlimited time, the fee will be $2 for those over 12 years, $1 for under 12.

Those planning to enter the contest are asked to be at the skating rink by 6:30 p.m. to sign up and receive tags.

There will be a charge of 50 cents for spectators, but parents bringing food to their children in the contest will be admitted free. Sandwiches and other refreshments will be available for skaters.

Marriage Vows Repeated In Afternoon Ceremony

guests to register.

December 18 in Amarillo.

An afternoon ceremony was read for the matriage of Miss Linda Sciumbato and Tim Northcutt Saturday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, with the Rev. Arthur Newell, associate pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sciumbato of Route 5 and Northcutt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Blakey, 510 McKinley.

White gladiolas arranged on either side of the altar decorated the church.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Leaton Noyes, served as matron of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Janie Northcutt, was bridesmaid. Best man was Jerry Johnson and groomsman was Chris Doss. Ushers included Marty Means and Tony Gilkerson.

Ben Gollehon of Amarillo, formerly of Hereford, sang traditional bridal marches, All 1 Know, Twelfth of Never and We've Only Just Begun. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floorlength gown of candlelight satin and re-embroidered Venice lace designed with a high neckline. The full back of the princess silhouette gown extended into a chapel length train. Long sleeves were gathered to tight wristband.

Her elbow length veil of imported illusion fell from the headpiece of candlelight lace and fowers with floral tendrils falling about the face.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses surrounding a single blue carnation. As a good luck piece, she wore a heartshaped diamond necklace belonging to her mother.

Bridal attendants wore floorlength dresses of azure blue crepe trimmed with white lace. Each carried a single longstemmed American beauty rose.

Early shutdown on the Christmas greeting list will give the women in the Auxiliary time to compile all the names from various collection spots, type the list and double check to see that names are spelled correctly, then read proof on the page and check again to see yes, that names are spelled correctly, and no names are left

Miss Melida Garza, daughter of and white and yellow ribbons Mr. and Mrs. Oresimo T. Garza, 412 Barrett, became the bride of George Pacheco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pacheco Sr., 425 Avenue C, in a morning wed-ding Saturday at the Garza home.

Glenn Nelson, justice of the peace, officiated for the ceremony as the wedding party stood under a canopy of daisies centered with a white bell. Mr. Garza gave his daughter in marriage. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pacheco Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Diaz. Lace over bridal satin made the bride's portrait gown, with figurine bodice, Sabrina neckline and puffed long sleeves. The spreading skirt was fashioned of lace tiers and shaped in the back to a slight train.

Extending from a caplet of lace to match the gown, her illusion veil, bordered with lace scallops, formed a longer circular train. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with touches of yellow.

A reception after the home wedding was held in the REC Medallion room, where Miss Rebecca .Garza poured punch and Miss Mary Pacheco served the wedding cake. It was baked in three tiers, ornamented with yellow daisies. On the front was a doorway with bride-andgroom figurines underneath. Mr. and Mrs. Pacheco left the reception for a trip which will take them to Harlingen and then into Mexico. They plan to return to home in this city by Christmas.

Ford Next President?

The arrival of Congressman Gerald Ford on the scene as Vice President, the overwhelming vote of approval given him, the investigation preceding confirmation which showed him to be "clean," all add to speculation he will become President before 1976.

President Nixon's current intention is to remain on the job, do the job he was elected to do and restore his and the office's image. It's unlikely, moreover, that threats of impeachment will force Mr. Nixon to resign.

On the other hand, Ford's favorable press, his positive national image, make him a contender for the G.O.P. nomination in 1976-should he wish to make a run for it. If President Nixon should want to help him, he could resign six months or a year before his term expires--in late 1975, for example. A Nixon resignation would allow Ford to serve more than a year in the White House.

The late Lyndon Johnson served as President about that length of time after the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and won overwhelming victory at the polls in November, 1964. Of course, he had a wave of sympathy and sentiment going for him Ford may not have.

On the other hand, voting for the President or against him is different from voting for a candidate. And therein lies the chance that Nixon will seriously consider that choice, for the good of the party in 1976, if unable to recover at least a major segment of the support he has lost in the Watergate fiasco between now and then.

December Dates

The last half of December brings us winter, at 7:08 in the evening on the 21st, the shortest days and longest nights of the year, Christmas Eve, Christmas and New Year's Eve, among other memorable dates.

The anniversary of the Battle of Trenton falls on the 26th, dating from 1776. It was the turning point of the Revolution; Washington gathered his men together Christmas night, secretly ferried them across the Delaware River at Taylorsville and surprised a British force of some 1500 men (mainly Hessians) on the morning of the 26th, reaching picket lines just outside Trenton before his force was discovered.

Woodrow Wilson, 28th President and son of a Presbyterian clergyman, was born at Staunton, Virginia, on the 28th in 1856. (South Carolina in 1928 made the anniversary a holiday, which few still observe.)

Andrew Johnson, 17th President, was born on the 29th in 1808, at Raleigh, North Carolina, but moved to Tennessee at the age of eighteen. Though Congress tried to impeach him, historians have been kind to him; the emotional, vindictive effort to impeach him failed, in 1868, by one vote. By that slender margin the presidential power and arm of American government were saved from destruction. (Again in 1973, the talk of impeaching a President is being heard.)

Johnson, who had succeeded Lincoln at his death, believed, like Lincoln, that the Southern States had never left the Union, thereby making it easier for them to resume their former roles. But as a Tennessean, he was suspect and many of his vetoes were overridden by a victorious, vindictive Congress.

Kennedy's Death

In all that is now appearing in the press about John F. Kennedy's assassination ten years ago, one theory put forward by doubters of the one-man killing conclusion seems

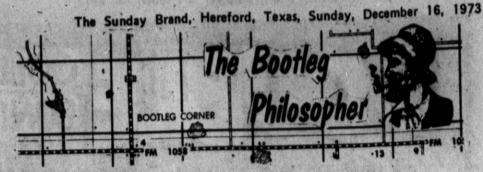

Congressman Talks About Problems Of Gas Shortage

By BOB POAGE U.S. Cong.

Any discussion of the energy crisis is, 1 recognize, repetitious but I am afraid we are going to hear a great deal more on this before it is solved. We have a real shortage of available oil and gas. This is the result of a whole series of mistakes. Of course, the United States consumes about one-third (30.8 per cent) of the petroleum of the world and produces less than one-fifth (18.6 per cent). We could produce substantially more oil but we have deliberately removed the economic incentives that resulted in so much wildcatting and production over the past half century. pipeline, which in my judgment should have been built four years ago, can supply us with about two million barrels of oil per day — the cost of which would be a rather small scar on a vast uninhabited area.

At home, we have vast reserves of coal and lignite. The estimates are that we have enough coal to run all our industries for the next 500 years, but in an effort to protect our environment, many people have felt that, (1) we should not mine this coal by removing the overburden even though we replace it for fear that we would impair the beauty of the countryside, and (2) we should not burn the coal if mined because it would create smoke.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner gets off on a variety of subjects this week.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night during network cable trouble there is a move on in Congress to get a Constitutional amendment requiring the dismissal of any Congressman who's absent from his. job 40 per cent of the time.

As one Congressman pointed out, lots of fellow members just don't show up very often, and he said that last year the House was unable to function on 330 occasions because no quorum was present.

I have thought this over and I don't believe such a Constitutional amendment ought to be passed.

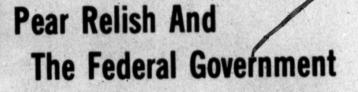

While I don't know what legislation was supposed to be voted on during those 330 times a quorum was absent, it's possible that if all members were on hand we would now have 330 new laws, and as everybody knows we've got more laws now than we can obey, as nearly any executive of a big corporation can tell you.

To change the subject, I've been speculating lately on the oil shortage and got to wondering what shape we'd be in now if the more rabid environmentalists had been organized millions of years ago when all our fossile fuel was being made. I mean, if they'd rushed in and saved the dinosaurs and other species from extinction, we wouldn't have had any oil to start with.

Another thing that's been puzzling me is a T.V. ad for a savings and loan association saying if you save $50 a month for 15 years, letting the interest accumulate and being added to the principal, at the end of the 15 years you could draw $50 a month in interest every month from then on, for ever.

But say instead of $50 a month you and everybody else put in say $200 a month. At the end of 15 years everybody would have enough interest coming in to live on and nobody would ever have to work again. I don't understand money. Yours faithfully,

J.A.

ARCH BOOTH Chief Executive Officer

One of the fringe benefits of this job is that I get to see some very interesting letters. Here is one of them I think you'll enjoy. A man from Arlington, Texas, wrote it to his congressional delegation.

"Gentlemen :

"On Thursday, Sentember 13, 1973, my wife and I were making pear relish, something we have done for many years. (It's wonderful on black-eyed peas.) She got carried away with quartering the pears and sliced the end of her left little finger — five "I admire the efficiency of a system that can get word to Washington and back in less than one week about our pear relish operation. Further, quite honestly, this is much more government than I am interested in, care to have or want to pay for and recommend that this is one place you can start balancing the federal budget by cutting down on employees and their accompanying expenses.

Yours very truly, W.A. Collins, Jr.

"D C In order to avoid duplication by this to have more credibility than others.

This theory holds that Kennedy was assassinated by Lee Harvey Oswald and at least one other person working with him, carrying out an assassination plot organized and financed in Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Bolstering this theory is the report (in Atlantic Monthly) a few months ago that the late President Lyndon Johnson, when in the White House, discovered a CIA-backed Castro assassination project which was thwarted in Cuba. The team assigned that deed was reportedly picked up by Castro police in Havana.

If this prompted a retaliation effort, one can at least understand it, for Kennedy was the President in power when the CIA launched an invasion of Cuba. If Castro's men then intercepted a CIA-backed assassination team in Havana, there was certainly provocation. This theory would also explain why the CIA was interested in having the one-man killer theory accepted—if the CIA did inject itself into this effort as charged.

Whatever the true facts, it's probably best for the nation that the one-man theory is accepted; if the assassination was indeed retaliation, it can't be proven. If the public had thought Kennedy's killing was that, a wave of anger would likely have resulted in an invasion of Cuba, which would have brought Cuban missiles down on U.S. cities and meant death for many. And if the CIA actually backed a plot to kill Castro, this nation's hands were certainly not clean.

Christmas Lights

There's no reason American families should not enjoy Christmas tree lights this year as usual. All that's necessary is that those using these decorations keep their thermostats a bit lower than usual and turn off other lights in the home to compensate for the small amounts of current Christmas tree lights consume.

Producing oil is a risky business and we must let these people make more than ordinary returns when they strike oil else they are not going to put their money out and take the chance of losing it in dry holes.

Surely we should give our own people every incentive that we give foreigners, but the Federal Power Commission has long been fixing the price of Texas gas at a much lower figure than the cost of gas which we are importing (in pressure drums) from Africa. Of course, the immediate crisis has been precipitated by the war in the Middle East. We are trying to get both sides to agree upon a peace settlement. Unless we succeed, we are wasting our time thinking of getting oil from our historic suppliers.

The Arabs don't have to supply us with oil and they are not going to until this war is settled. Were we to try to force them to do so, they could very easily destroy their wells and make the situation worse for the rest of the world and could quite probably involve the United States and Russia in the kind of war that we all know would be catastrophic.

We are not, however, without the ability to supply our energy needs if we will make some slight concessions in regard to what we would like to have in our environment. The Alaskan

The War Goes On

Readers who rejoiced at the signing of a ceasefire in Vietnam are often puzzled today by reports of new fighting in South Vietnam. In recent days, for example, enemy tanks have overrun several South Vietnamese units and captured a number of outposts on the Laotian border.

The salient fact about this fighting is that North Vietnam and the United States are not directly involved. While there are suspicions and even reports that North Vietnamese troops are involved, the official view, based on the best intelligence, is that North Vietnamese forces are not.

This, then, is the old war between the Viet Cong and Saigon's forces; in other words, a civil war. The ceasefire signed by representatives of the United States and North Vietnam provides that neither side inject its forces into South Vietnamese actions.

Considering the fact that a few years ago the Saigon regime's forces would have been overwhelmed by the enemy without the presence of strong U.S. forces, it is obvious that the situation is vastly improved today-though U.S. forces have been withdrawn. For this Americans can be thankful, even though there can be no permanent assurance the present Saigon regime can prevail over its South Vietnamese opponents forever.

I would like to prevent any unsightly scars on our countryside, but I am told that we have deposits of coal so rich that were we to strip the overburden of one section of land (640 acres) per year, we could run all of our public utilities on coal. This would greatly relieve the pressure on our oil and gas supplies and allow them to be used for transportation, agriculture, etc. I think we are going to have to accept some less desirable fuels, and allow the use of cars without all of the modern emission equipment we have expected.

Finally, there is the much misunderstood problem of petroleum exports. I am advised by the White House that we are exporting less than .2 (two tenths) of one per cent of our production and that most of that is going to areas from which we are receiving far more petroleum products than we are sending.

While I recognize that we must make every effort to conserve what fuel we have, I think that we can contribute much more to meeting this crisis by accepting a reasonable use of less desirable fuels than we can by denying our people the full use of our modern petroleum based technology.

Certainly it is not going to help us a great deal to have a completely smog free atmosphere if we starve for the lack of tractor fuel.

all over the country, it's highly desirable that parents teach children good habits of driving and traffic safety. The following rules may be helpful in this connection: 1. Parents should set a good example, insist on obedience to crossing guards and traffic signals.

2. Children who walk to school should go by the safest route, be sent early so that they need not hurry. 3. Before children are permitted to ride bicycles they should carefully be taught traffic rules.

Children by nature are impulsive and unpredictable. Adults must keep thin mind if traffic accidents a 'o be prevented. stitches worth. She was well taken care of at the emergency room of the Arlington Memorial Hospital.

'I am sure you are wondering why I'm taking the time and trouble to inform you of the foregoing. Read on.

'On Wednesday, September 19, 1973, my wife received a long-distance telephone call from what she thinks was the National Electronic Injury Surveillance System of the Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission asking if a product was involved. The person seemed to have considerably more interest in the product than in the state of my wife's health. My wife informed the person calling of the item involved, namely a kitchen knife. She also informed the person that she could lay no blame on the product; the operator was solely to blame. "P.S. in order to avoid dupication by this note, I am requesting Congressman Dale Milford if he would secure a ballpark estimate of the annual cost of this program for my information i.e. the number of employees, total salaries, watts line and office space cost, etc.

There were at least five emergency cases during the hour we were in the waiting room at the hospital and from observation at least three of these involved a product. I shudder to think how many inquiries this program might entail, even if only a sampling is made of the injuries reported on a nationwide basis."

Mr. Collins got his answers. The "Electronic Injury Surveillance System" is budgeted at $500,000 a year. The average salary of its staff is $15,000.

Talk Of Texas

FACTS TO FORGET — During World War II, Crystal City, Zavala County, was the site of an internment camp in which hundreds of native citizens were kept behind barbed wire and under guard by their fellow Americans.

As many as 3,800 were interned at Crystal City at one time. Two-thirds of these were people of Japanese ancestry whose only crime was that of having been born in the United States. Their internment was ordered after Japan attacked Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, and the United States declared war.

The Crystal City internment camp was designated for enemy aliens. Its population did include German aliens and one Italian family. However, most of those • imprisoned there were American citizens who were Japanese.

IT TAKES ALL KINDS — Clint W. Murchison, Sr., the late Texas multimillionaire who controlled dozens of corporations ranging from railroads to book publishing, admittedly had only two consuming interests: oil and gin rummy.

He made his fortune with the former and spent much of his adult life playing the latter. His partner in most of the games was Sid Richardson, his friend of boyhood, who reputedly was one of the world's richest men. They always played for high stakes.

Murichson's interest in his favorite card game was so intense that he is said to have gained control of Henry S. Holt & Co., the publishing firm, with only one purpose in mind. He wanted the company's editors to compile the most authoritative book possible on how to win at gin rummy!

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW — Texas' new champion hushpuppy chef is Virgil Tullos, 61, of Longview, Gregg County.

He won the title at the annual Southern Hushpuppy Olympics in Lufkin, Angelina County, earlier this year by competing against 20 contestants from all over. The judges gave Tullos the title when they discovered that he had flavored his recipe for the fried cornbread patties by adding a clove of garlic to the batter.

Readers interested in improving their own talents at hushpuppymaking can get a copy u. the winning recipes by writing the Angelina County Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1606, Lufkin, Texas 75901.

She lifted her hands, said something soft and low (which I could not make out) then returned her attention to the bright colors in the display, the glittering gold and jewels.

She seemed so unaware of the greeting I mentioned last week relative to the French, such a picture was embossed.

We owe much to France in the keeping of these and other treasures. Also we should be ever mindful of the little children, which have been intrusted into our care and keeping. Let us keep this in our hearts and teach them the true meaning and significance of Christmas.

DECORATING: FOR Christmas is an outward expression of inner joy. Many fresh cut Christmas greens, potted plants, fruits and flowers will be used in decorations. Please exercise care and caution in their use.

Some of the Christmas plants are poison; the following is taken from a botantical garden bulletin:

Don't become alarmed about this. Just be careful in selection of greens used.

1. Buxus (Boxwood). Boxwoods are favorites for garlands, do not throw the trimmings where they can be reached and eaten by animals. Death can result if animals eat such. clippings. Place arrangements out of reach of children, and watch carefully that they do not chew the stems or leaves.

2. Euphribia pulcherima (poinsettia) The leaves are poison, especially the milky substance which cozes out when stems are cut or crushed. Check plants and remove any damaged leaves or stems. Use the beautiful plants, placed where the small fry cannot reach them.

3. Hedera helix (English ivy). If a child or an older person should chew on the stems or foliage they will become ill and should have the attention of a physician. In using the ivy for garlands or arrangements, be cautious that they are well fastened together, and that all crushed or straggly leaves or stems are burned. 4. Phoradendron (mistletoe).

The beautiful little white berries are very poisonous. If

Several Christmas parties have been held and others scheduled for the next few days, in keeping with the holiday spirit.

Sunday school groups have had suppers at local restaurants. The Frank Robbins were hosts at a supper for a attending.

One group had supper at a restaurant and then went to the Homer Wests and had an evening of fellowship. Another group of young couples had a 42 party at the Flame Room Friday evening.

Lynette and Kirk Andrews were hosts to about 35 young people last week. After a supper the group went on a hayride and then finished the party with music and talk in their home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews, as assisting hosts.

Frio Homemakers Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Weldon Stephan for the Christmas party Tuesday evening. Assisting Mrs. Stephan was Mrs. Lloyd Shultz. Exchange of gifts, revealing secret pals and drawing new ones, carol singing and visiting entertained the women, after serving of holiday refreshments Others attending included Mmes. Frank Robbins, Carlton Dobbins, Harlan Barber, Owen included Mr. and Mrs. Glen Andrews, Jack Andrews, Sam Ogan, T.L. Sparkman Jr., Harder, Al Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Baldwin, Tommy Homer West.

A SENSIBLE SAVING

DEAR HELOISE:

Here is an economical tip for smelling good after one's bath. I purchased a six-ounce bottle of cologne when they were having one of those inventory sales, at a reduced price of one dollar.

Next, I added a small vial of good perfume (in the same scent) to the cologne.

This way I had a good supply by cereal companies. Usually, it requires the proof-of-purchase seal from the box.

I keep asking my mom to save them, but with so many other things to do, she forgets.

So, I went out and bought a 3" x 6" file box. Now when I get the purchase seal from the cereal box, I just file it alphabetically. This way they're right at my fingertips when I need them. Linda

AND LOTS OF SYRUP!

DEAR HELOISE:

For maple syrup lovers, I've flavoring to plain white corn syrup is very tasty and economical, too.

I put a bottle of white syrup in a pan over low heat, then add maple flavoring and a dab of butter. It makes maple syrup just as good as the best on the market, only not as expensive. By heating the syrup a little, is easier to mix in the flavoring and butter - and it pours back into the bottle easier, too.

SUNDAE SPECIAL!

DEAR HELOISE:

My family likes homemade ice cream. There are just three wearing neck scarves (for me) of us so I always put part of it in a container in my freezer. But I would lose my temper and get a bent spoon when I tried to scoop it out to serve, so I hit upon this idea.

I fill paper cups (the size of serving I want) with ice cream We get a lot of compliments, and we have colors you could and cover them with plastic never find or buy in a readywrap. If the ice cream is too hard to eat when first set out, it I also made him a tie in his takes but a few minutes to zodiac sign and that makes a soften. conversation piece every time.

DEAR HELOISE:

Thoroughly enjoying your helpful hints, I have one to share, hoping that it will help someone else

I was asked to supply little table bouquets for an early breakfast at our church. I had to have them at the church Saturday evening. What to put them in'

I put the plastic lids on twelve little margarine tubs that I had been saving. Next, I heated a large nail and, holding it with pliers, burned holes all around in the lid. It made a perfect frog to hold the flowers.

After putting water in the tubs and arranging the flower's, I put these finished bouquets on a tray in the refrigerator. They were fresh as a daisy the next morning!

You are a dreamboat to think of using those little tubs. They could be used many times for something like this. I'll bet they would be darling filled with those velvety pansies!

SHAPE 'EM UP!

DEAR HELOISE: I use many ideas taken from your column, but I have been sort of selfish and haven't taken the time to send any to you. So here is my contribution: Boot trees that shape and make boots stand up in the stores sell for three and four dollars a pair.

A fairly large plastic bag makes a great substitute! Stuff it loosely with newspaper and close it with a tie from a loaf of bread.

Now my boots stand up straight and the price is right! Gladys Weber •

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you find them? Check answers with those below.

Differences: 1. Garage window is smaller. 2. Light fixiure is missing.

SET UP a hand mirror behind the drawing above. What do you see in the mirror? Why, an upside down tree. Now, place the point of a pencil on the black dot at the tip of the tree. Peering into the mirror, see if you can trace your way through the channel around the tree.

Very few persons are able to keep a freehand pencil line entirely within bounds. If you can do it, you have more than the normal amount of "mirror sight."

As a second test, see if you can color the outer channel green and the inner portion red, using the same method. • HO! HO! HO!
