Bette Davis Tops Past Performances In Latest

The finely-etched portrait of a mischievous, shallow, albeit beautiful woman, which Bette Davis, the screen's most accomplished and versatile actress, brings to vibrant life in "Mr. Skeffington," the Warner Bros. adaptation of the best-selling novel by "Elizabeth," is surely one of the most important characterizations this fine star has yet vouchsafed us.

Hand Miss Davis a role into which she can sink her histrionic teeth and you are assured an entertainment of extraordinary calibre. In "Mr. Skeffington," which opened today at the Ritz Theatre, she is seen as Fanny Trellis, vain and gorgeous society queen of the years immediately preceding the first World War.

Claude Rains, in the title role of Mr. Skeffington, contributes a jewel of performance, many-faceted and resourceful, a gem of restraint and quiet dignity. Walter Abel as George Trellis, Fanny's insouciant, likable, well-meaning cousin, gives further evidence, if such is needed, of a fine talent. The newcomer Richard Waring, whose star is justifiably on the ascendency, handles the difficult role of Fanny's heartless, irresponsible brother, with great feeling, and there are still other outstanding characterizations by Marjorie Riordan as Fanny Jr., the charming, much neglected daughter of a selfish, unthinking mother; George Coulouris, seen briefly but tellingly in the role of an outspoken psychiatrist; John Alexander, Peter Whitney and Jerome Cowan, as suitors of the irrepressible Fanny; and Robert Shayne as a good-time Charlie of the colorful speakeasy era.

Against a backdrop of twenty-six highly eventful years, the fabulous Fanny Skeffington struts out her life: her roccoo, post-Victorian parlor is the gathering spot for 1914 society — for the women who come to stare and the men who gather to bask in her beauty. Then Job Skeffington enters her life — softspoken, adoring Job — whose animal-like devotion Fanny puts to clever and effective use. For Job, a power on Wall Street, has employed Fanny's reprobate brother, the chicken-livered Treppy, and Treppy has gambled away a small fortune in securities — Job's property. Fanny, herself penniless, campaigns for Job's affections, for as the well-married Mrs. Skeffington she clearly realizes that her waning fortunes would be bolstered and that, as Treppy's brother-in-law, Job must perforce drop all criminal charges against him.

The period of the Twenties — garish in its peculiarities of dress and mannerism — finds Job Skeffington at the end of his tether; the parting which was inevitable from the first finally comes to pass. Job and young Fanny Jr., between whom there has grown a deeply-felt attachment, depart for Europe, leaving Fanny to her vanity case and her suitors.

The years slip relentlessly by, and suddenly, to challenge Fanny's youth, her daughter, now grown to lovely young womanhood, makes an appearance, where her father has settled, and where, in this year of 1938, the air is thick with hatred for the liberal philosophies by which Job lives. He thought it best that she return to America. He did not reckon on Fanny, for by a strange alchemy, she has still maintained her girlish appearance and vigor, and Fanny Jr.'s presence is embarrassing testimony to her true age.

Then Job returns. And in the fashioning of the powerful denouement of this tragic-comedy, a significant point is made.

This stirring dramatic success is currently showing at the Ritz today and Monday.

Sherlock Holmes Scores Again At Musgrave Manor

This is the first of Universal's new series of Sherlock Holmes detecting stories and it measures up well with the best of the three turned out last season. Although it's a modernized version of the Sir Arthur Conan Doyle stories, it does not deal with Axis spies.

Brought up to date by placing the Doyle story, "Musgrave Manor," in the period of the present war, with the manor being used for a convalescent officers' home, the story sticks closely to the Doyle original.

The master unraveler of baffling crimes is called onto the scene when Dr. Watson's assistant surgeon at the manor is stabbed in what appears to be a murder attempt. In true Doyle character, Holmes arrives with the good doctor just in time to find the manor lord murdered.

Suspense is built up through the antics of the butler and his wife and the strange striking of 13 by the tower clock, marking a murder.

Holmes solves the motive for murder through deciphering the strange Musgrave ritual repeated at the funeral bier of each heir by the second in line.

Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce as the clever Holmes and blundering Watson turn in exceedingly smooth performances well supported by Dennis Hoey, the interfering Scotland Yard inspector. Hillary Brooke and Milburn Stone supply the slight romantic thread.

Producer-director Roy William Neill left nothing to be desired in suspense, action, and portrayal of the true Holmes and Watson characters in his direction from a screenplay by Bertram Millhauser, which adheres very closely to Doyle's story. Photography by Charles Van Enger was well done, as was the direction of John B. Goodman and Harold MacArthur.

This attraction appears at the Queen today and Monday.

Andrews Sisters At Lyric In Musical

The Andrews Sisters are the top names in this addition to Universal's string of correct answers to the second-act feature problem and they harmonize five songs during the proceedings. Grace McDonald and Patric Knowles perform the romantic chore in satisfactory fashion, and the comedy burden is carried by Billy Gilbert and Charles Butterworth, whose talents overcome in a measure the deficiencies of their material.

The picture concerns a Lonely Hearts radio program, featuring the Andrews Sisters, and the efforts of a confidence man to use the setup as a cloak for fleecing operations. It's played for comedy throughout and serves its purpose.

The Jivin' Jacks and Jills swing into the picture twice, giving it the liveliest moments it contains. Production by the late Ken Bette Davis and Claude Rains shown in their latest and greatest performance, "Mr. Skeffington," now showing at the Ritz today and Monday.

Wallace Beery As Marine Se Is Tops At State Today And M

This is another war story told in Technicolor with Wallace Beery cast in the role of a tough sergeant major of the Marines and brings to the screen a newcomer, Marilyn Maxwell, who reminds of Laura La Plante and Marilyn Miller. The story is set in the Philippines just before Pearl Harbor and marches on to the day the Japs blast the islands with overwhelming forces led by fifth columnists.

Beery as Serg. Maj. William William Bailey, is a typical Marine non-com with 30 years' service and resentful of being ordered to train men for the battle lines but never seeing active service himself. With Beery touches he plays the part to Beery perfection.

Beery's wife, Jennie, is sold on brotherly love stuff by a clique in Balligan where Bailey is sent to train the natives. When he promises to retire and does she is happy but not for long as his love of children leads him to teach them war games and how to use their fists in self defense.

The sneak attack of the Japs catches the village unaware on a Sunday morning, killing women and children indiscriminately and

Mr. Caspar, a leader of the local forces, as do the local takes over the defense with his native irregulars and children. He holds the bridge to safety, a Marine flier, and blows up the bridge.

He and his fighting hold the Japs back for the Marine regulars up the bridge. Bailey wife has elected to return to care for the wounded meet death under a bomb. In each other Helen becomes a Marine officer and receives the Medal of Honor, only awarded Bailey, money before the admission in America.

Beery's handling of leaves nothing to be desired. Fay Bainter as his excellent acting job, Maxwell is lovely as picture was expertly by John W. Conidine, Sylvan Simon doing job of the direction.

Panhandle Oil Field Has Colorful History And Many Top Claims

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles on Texas oil history in connection with the silver anniversary of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The greatest gas field in the world—
One of the biggest oil fields in the world—
The largest known reserve of helium gas—
These are the proud distinctions of the Panhandle field, a story that goes back to 1904 and '05 when Charles N. Gould, in making a study of the water supply conditions for the United States Geological Survey, became convinced that structures should be tested for oil and gas. The Amarillo Oil company was organized and, on Dec. 9, 1918, the Masterson No. 1 came in as a 10,000,000-foot gasser.

But there was little market in sight for gas and, even after the Gulf Production company's S. B. Burnett No. 2 proved to be a 190-barrel oil well on May 5, 1921, the region's development was slow. Drilling progressed, however, and for 1925, the Panhandle's output was 1,287,000 barrels—a figure which jumped the next year to 26,000,000 barrels.

The days of the big rush witnessed many exciting events. Borger was rocked by explosions twice within a week, one being the blowing up of a dynamite magazine when a rock killed a driller in the town, a mile and a half away, and the other blast being a 1,800-quart magazine of nitroglycerin. An explosion at a well tossed a man 20 feet into the air without hurting him seriously.

Trapped high in the derrick when a well caught on fire, a worker leaped through the air, caught a guy wire and slid safely to the ground.

Eight lives were claimed as a well spouted flames 200 feet into the air and 10,000 watched as Tex Thornton put out the fire.

Five thousand men armed with axes and buckets fought midnight flames that threatened the Borger business district and the fire died for lack of fuel after buildings in its path were dynamited.

Natural gasoline and carbon black industries have developed to great proportions in the Panhandle and latest figures of the Texas Railroad Commission show that the total output of gas is more than two billion cubic feet daily; there are 1,462,159 acres in the gas field, with an estimated reserve of fifteen trillion cubic feet.

The United States government acquired 50,000 acres embracing reserves of helium (non-inflammable gas used by lighter-than-air craft) and has a plant at Amarillo.

The oil fields of the Panhandle, to the end of 1943, had produced over 470,000,000 barrels and comprise approximately 260,000 acres productive, or potentially productive, of oil.

Amarillo had 15,000 inhabitants when the 1920 census was taken and its population jumped to 50,000 as the result of the oil rush. Pampa made one of the most astounding gains in percentage in the nation when the 1930 census showed 10,479 residents, compared to less than a thousand in 1920. Panhandle and other towns were given great impetus, too, by the oil development—but the most spectacular was Borger.

Highway Travel Is Dangerous In Wartime France

By KENNETH L. DIXON
WITH THE AEP IN FRANCE, Sept. 24 (Delayed) (AP)—A grim looking top sergeant stood in front of a company of quartermaster truck drivers, looking them over.
Behind, their trucks were lined up, ready to roll.
Ahead, a long curving highway stretched into the distance.

"Men," the sergeant said crisply, "some of you may not return from this mission—we have had reports that there's a French convoy somewhere along the road."
Now, this was only a cartoon in a recent issue of "Stars and Stripes," a cartoon which caused howls of hilarity from Marcelles to Paris. And while it exaggerates one road hazard—the different driving habits of different nationalities—it still serves to underscore the actual dangers of highway travel in France these days.
In the first place, the swiftness of the entire Seventh army campaign plus the acute supply situation has resulted in pulling out all the stops so far as the speed of military traffic is concerned. Trucks hauling supplies toward the front 24 hours a day not only have been forced to operate on a never-stop basis, but it has been found necessary also literally to double the ordinary convoy speed.
When you get a convoy of hundreds of six-by-sixes rolling better than 50 miles an hour along a highway, it constitutes a considerable menace even under the best possible conditions. And we haven't had the best possible conditions in this French campaign.
The roads have been wet and muddy constantly, with rain making even the best macadam highways slick and dangerous. In addition, the never-ending curves of the sharp and tortuous mountain trails put new skids into the slipperiness.
The great distances which have been traversed mean that, besides the supply convoys, the roads are jammed with countless operational, liaison and other vehicles—also running day and night.
The results of these circumstances alone would be enough to account for a lot of the damaged and wrecked machines you see dotting the major roads and highways.
But the final point of the cartoon concerns the varying nationalities of the drivers. Despite their origins and their former habits, it's official that all Allied drivers proceed down the right side of the road—one major American victory.
But any doughboy will tell you that while the Americans drive on the right side of the road, the British—official or not—often drive on the left as of yore, and the French drive down the middle.
Bunched together, all these hazards make the highway problems of other campaigns seem trifling by comparison. Said one artillery sergeant, after his outfit had been on the move for a solid week: "I'll be almost glad when we get back to the front again. We've had more casualties on the road in the past week than we had in six months at Cassino."

Three local churches will join together for a religious training course which is to be taught here October 9-13 by Dr. H. L. Pritchett, who for a number of years was head of the department of sociology at Southern Methodist University.
"Designs of Personality" will be the subject of his training course which is to be sponsored by the First Methodist, First Christian and First Presbyterian churches.
Rated as an expert in matters of personality and social problems, Dr. Pritchett has spent much time counselling young people. Visiting here two years ago, he spoke at the meetings of three civic clubs, and is well known in this area.

Inauguration Of Tech President Held Saturday

LUBBOCK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Dr. William H. Whyburn, speaking today at his formal inauguration as fourth president of Texas Technological College, said post war education must prepare "for life as it actually is in our complicated world."
"This will naturally lead to continued emphasis on those portions of all school subjects, hard or otherwise, which have returned to prominence under the war program, but which in reality are as indispensable in peace as in war," he said in an address prepared for delivery at ceremonies in the college gymnasium at 3 p. m. (edt).
In Lubbock to witness the investiture of Dr. Whyburn by Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of the college's board of directors, were many college presidents. Among them were Gibb Gilchrist, Texas A&M College; Sam H. Whitley, East Texas State Teachers; L. W. Harshfield, Hillsboro Junior College; N. S. Oland, Lee Junior College; Harold G. Cook, McMurry College; G. C. Boswell, Ranger Junior College; Umphrey Lee, Southern Methodist University; and C. O. Smith, Oklahoma City University.

Whyburn, born near Lewisville, Denton County, Tex., is 43. He was chairman of the mathematics department at the University of California at Los Angeles, on leave with a special government mission, when he was elected president of Tech to succeed Dr. Clifford B. Jones of Spur, Tex. Jones

Olin Culberson, Railroad commissioner of Texas, is to be guest speaker at the meeting of the Big Spring Rotary club which convenes Tuesday, at noon at the Settles hotel.

Brewer Sparks Westerners To 25-0 Victory Over Steers

Johnny Sherrod Leads Frogs To Easy Victory

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH, Sept. 30 (AP)—Johnny (on the spot) Sherrod cut some fancy capers with a football today to send Texas Christian University to a 34-0 victory over an outclassed but game South Plains Army Air Field team.

A shirt-sleeved crowd of 3,500 saw the teams battle scoreless through the first quarter but things started happening in the second. With the ball on the South Plains 15-yard line to open the period, TCU had a touchdown in five plays. Rogers cracked over. Harry Mullins added the extra point. In two minutes TCU had another score. A fumble by Gene Leroy was recovered by the brilliant Mullins on the South Plains 29. On the first play, Sherrod rammed into right tackle, then lateraled to Rogers who raced across for a touchdown. Mullins missed the conversion.

California Upsets Favored Bruins 6-0

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 30 (AP)—One of the thundering upsets of the 1944 football season was written into far western records today when the University of California Bears posed a 6 to 0 victory over the highly favored University of California at Los Angeles Bruins. Roger Harding, center for the home town eleven, blocked a punt eight minutes after the opening kickoff, recovered the ball on the run, and charged 22 yards to score. The Bears failed to placekick the extra tally but the damage—to UCLA—was done.

"Single" Boarder Has Plenty Of Company

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 30 (AP)—A protesting landlady in rental appeals court related the following story to Judge Bruce Boyd: A "single" man paid a five dollar deposit on a room. He moved in—with a wife and a baby. The next day two daughters arrived. A fourth child came, 24 hours later. A grown son, his pet dog and a puppy followed. The man neglected to repay the five-dollar deposit which he borrowed a few days after his arrival. A net yardage gain of 215 to 33 for their rivals. They tackled up 14 first downs to 3 for the Bears.

Lubbock Star Scores Three Times; Passes To Lowery For Other Tally

By BILL BARNETT
Swivel-hipped George Brewer showed Big Spring Steer-tacklers a clean pair of heels Friday night at Steer Stadium, and led his Lubbock Westerner teammates to a not-so-surprising 25-0 victory over an outclassed local eleven. Brewer scored once in the first period, once in the second, passed to Jim Lowery for a 52-yard scoring sprint right before the half, and then romped over again in the fourth to end the scoring. On the second touchdown for the Westerners Brewer also added the extra point by passing again to Lowery for the tally.

The local eleven could never solve the tricky Westerner offense which sparkled with wide runs, shovel-passes into the line, and wide lateral plays. With Johnny Davis and Brewer doing most of the ball-lugging Coaches J. "Mule" Davis and Dixie White placed some fine interference out in front and literally swept the Steers off their feet.

In the second half, where only one touchdown was scored, the Steers stopped the Lubbock ground game fairly well. The last quarter saw Westerner reserves in action most of the time. It was the first chance the Lubbock coaches had been afforded to use their reserves to any degree, meeting and detaching Odessa and San Angelo in their two previous games, and they uncovered some promising talent in Noel Sikes and Johnny Trout, two diminutive backs who showed lots of speed and ability both defensively and offensively.

Navy Zoomers Tip Sooners 28-14

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 30 (AP)—A bigger, more experienced Navy Zoomer eleven defeated the University of Oklahoma Big Six conference football champions today before 15,000 persons, 28 to 14, gaining revenge for a 22 to 6 beating a year ago. Derald Lebow of Oklahoma scored first, plunging the final yard after the Sooners had a 54-yard march down the field. Dub Wooten kicked the goal. But before the first period ended Emil Sitko from Notre Dame and Great Lakes made a 40-yard sprint over the goal line and Dick Miller added the point to tie the score at 7-7.

Dick Miller booted a second period field goal to put the Navy boys into a lead they never relinquished. They added three more touchdowns in the second half. Just before the game ended Oklahoma's Lou Dollarhide raced 18 yards for the Sooners' second touchdown.

There is no parking problem in a town where merchants do no advertising.

Previous to that play the Steers had held the ball on the seven with first and goal but four plays failed to net them a score. Then a Lubbock punt blocked by Leo Rusk behind the opponent's goal, but Sikes scooped it up under the noses of Big Spring linemen and raced back to the two before he was hauled in by tacklers. After the next punt Barron passed to Richardson as the game ended and stopped the Steer scoring threat. The Steer defensive play looked much better than previously with Cunningham showing much improvement and turning in one of the best games of the evening at his end post. Time and again as Lubbock blockers swept his end he blocked the interference down but slow secondary work left part of his play unnoticed by fans. Bobo Hardy, at his blocking back post did a fine job in defensive play and showed up very good in offensive work, while Ladd Smith figured to a great degree in stopping the victors the last half, and intercepted one Lubbock aerial during the second half play.

Lubbock kicked to Big Spring to open the game and the Steer offensive went right to work moving downfield until a fumble cost them the ball. Then they (the Steers) proceeded to throw the Lubbock ground game into reverse and backed the favored Westerners into the hole. A fumble then cost Lubbock the ball. After they had marched to the 11 yard marker.

After the Steers punted the Brewer-Davis combination began marching and did not stop until Brewer drove over from the four. Cole missed the crossbar in his attempt to convert.

Early in the second quarter Rusk kicked to the Lubbock 25 but it was run back to the 45 before Davis was hauled in. Then the Westerners marched to the 20, and Brewer stepped through the forward wall, shook his hips at the Steer secondary and raced up the middle to score standing. Again the Lubbock star accounted for a score by passing to Lowry for the extra point.

After the kick-off the Steers were forced to punt and one play placed the ball on the Lubbock 48. Then Brewer dropped back and uncoiled a pass to Lowery who gathered it in on the Steer 45 and raced across the double-stripe for the last of 19 points scored during the first half. The pass netted a gain of 56 yards, which accounted for most of the ground gained by the Westerners during the night, by passing.

The third quarter went scoreless with the Steers dominating the field during the period stopping the Lubbock offensive and outgaining them on the ground and in the air. In the final quarter Brewer again scored running this time from the 10 after Lowery had set up the play with a drive over left guard from the 45. This ended the night's scoring, and an exhibition of some of the trickiest and smoothest offensive play local fans are apt to see on the field this year, from the winning Westerners.

Starting lineups were: For Big Spring: Huett and Cunningham at ends; Bryan and Harris at tackles; Clinkscakes and Rusk at guards; Smith at center; Hardy, McLaren, Cochran, and Cook in the backfield. For Lubbock: Benefield and Davis at ends; Giles and Foster at tackles; Crawford and Wall at guards; Presley at center; Cole Brewer, Davis and Lowery in the backfield. Substitutions for Lubbock were Harless, Sikes, Trout, Gamble, Collier, Price, Jones, McKowan, Bailey, Reed, Etz, Sanders and Booker.

For Big Spring were Barron, Robb, Richardson, Miller, Cooper, and Warren.

St. Louis Downs Yanks To Retain First-Place Tie

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns maintained their first place deadlock with the Detroit Tigers today, by taking their third straight game from the New York Yankees 2-0. Denny Galehouse, outpitching Walt Dubiel, gave up five hits, to stretch the New Yorkers scoreless string to 26 innings.

DETROIT, Sept. 30 (AP)—Hal Newhouser kept the Detroit Tigers in a first place tie with St. Louis by notching his 20th victory today on an eight-hit job against the Washington Senators for a 7-3 triumph. The Tigers and Browns each have one more game to play.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox clinched fourth place today by pouncing three Chicago White Sox pitchers for 17 hits and an 11 to 2 victory. First baseman George Metkovich scored five runs after making a double, three singles and surviving on an error.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians 5 to 1 today behind the five-hit pitching of Russ Christopher. It was their second straight victory in the four-game series.

Mississippi Trounces Jackson Army 41-0

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Sept. 30 (AP)—Mississippi State opened the football season today and defeated Jackson army air base team 41-0 before 2,500 fans at Scott Field.

Using three full teams, Coach Allyn McKee's Maroons scored in every quarter. The first string played less than half the game. In the game approximately 18 minutes, "Shorty" McWilliams, running back, spearheaded State's State's offense, scored three touchdowns, two on runs of 65 yards.

ARMY ROLLS OVER TARS

WEST POINT, Sept. 30 (AP)—Army's power and T formation trickery provided entirely too much for North Carolina today as the Cadets opened their season with a 46 to 0 victory. Speedy Glenn Davis racked up three of the touchdowns, one on a 73-yard run that opened the third quarter.

Ponies Smother NT Ags 49 To 0

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs, playing almost errorless football in their initial game of the season, ran over the North Texas Aggies from Arlington, 49 to 0, before a crowd of 5,000 here today. The game was only a few minutes under way when the Mustangs started their scoring spree.

E. P. Dasher, forced to kick for the Aggies, got off a bad boot and the ball rolled backward to NTAC's 14. Two plays later C. D. Allen plunged over from the 3 for SMU's first marker.

Colored Bombers To Try Football

Big Spring sports lovers may see some slam bang football here this fall if the colored Bombers of the Big Spring Bombardier school are successful in their negotiations to draw up a schedule.

The Bombers, who were plagued by bad weather in two appearances before local fans last year, have resumed practice under the coaching of Cpl. Elmer Henderson, burly 203-pound tackle who starred at Le Moyne college at Memphis.

Already a game has been booked for Oct. 28 with the colored Basic Flyers from Goodfellow Field at the San Angelo Army Air Base, but place of the contest has not been decided. The Bombers, who claim the colored football championship of West Texas, won a 27-0 victory over the San Angelo team at Steer stadium here last January.

Gophers Have Easy Win Over Nebraska

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Minnesota's line play and running attack was too much for a green Nebraska Cornhusker eleven today and the Gophers romped to a 39 to 0 victory in their annual game.

Again in the first period, Dasher, standing just behind his goal line, had his kick blocked and a teammate, E. E. Eberhardt, fell on it to give the Ponies two points. Seconds later, Bob Folsom blocked another NTAC kick, then fell on it behind the goal line for a touchdown.

Early in the second period Johnny Powers plunged over from the Aggie 3 for another touchdown. The thrill of the first half was L. B. Cox's 58-yard run, carrying to NTAC's 23. Pony passes, however, failed to click and the Aggies took over, only to have Leon Schultze intercept one of his own and race 23 yards for a Mustang touchdown.

In the third, Ivan Cunningham raced 18 yards for a Pony touchdown. Later in the same period Cunningham plunged over for another counter. The Mustangs were content with one touchdown in the final period, Jimmy Kendrick, subbing for Ruthstrom, intercepting a NTAC pass and racing 40 yards for the six points.

The accurate toe of Left Tackle Pete Kotlarich accounted for most of the Methodist's conversions.

Gophers Have Easy Win Over Nebraska

Using a single wing formation with a modified T, the Bombers of Section F will have an eleven that has tremendous speed. Fastest on the 21-man squad is Sgt. Paul Blanchard of Little Rock, veteran 158-pound scat halfback who can run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat in a football uniform.

Governor Joins In Antelope Hunting

ALPINE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson will join hunters trekking through the Big Bend-Davis Mountain country for a shot at a buck antelope when the season on that elusive game animal opens Monday for the first time in 40 years. The governor's party will hunt on the H. L. Kokernot ranch which stretches from near Alpine in Brewster county into Jeff Davis county. With Ernest Boyett, his secretary, and Kenneth McCalla of Austin, Stevenson was enroute to the ranch today.

Cardinals Loom As Series Favorites But AL Entry Still People's Choice

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—It makes no difference whether the Tigers or Browns are the rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals are the betting favorite in the 40th world series opening at Sportsman's Park Wednesday but the American league entry is the "people's choice."

Battling neck and neck down the American league stretch in race that cannot be settled until the end of the season tomorrow, St. Louis and Detroit have captured the fancy of the average fan with support about evenly divided.

Luke Sewell's Browns, who went out and won their first nine starts after being overlooked in the pre-season picking, have been the big surprise of the 1944 campaign. Although it was openly predicted they would find themselves in over their heads by mid-season, they refused to be ousted except for a 15-day interlude in May, until they had their first real slump during the final eastern tour in August.

Counted out once again when the Yankees went into first place, the Browns refused to give up and caught the New Yorkers only to be passed by the Tigers but stuck right to their coat tails and went into a tie for the lead again Friday night.

Detroit's followers have not had as long to gloat but they are more rapid because of the spectacular rise of their favorites since Dick Wakefield joined the seventh place club on July 13. With Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout working in and out of turn, the Bengals came up the hard way to rouse those who love a strong finisher.

If a tie results in the Junior loop, the Browns will head for Detroit Sunday night for the first playoff game in the league's history Monday while the Cardinals are riding the train home from New York.

Ward School League To Open Thursday

The Big Spring ward school football league swings into its third season Thursday with three games booked at Steer stadium starting at 3:45 p. m.

No change in the roster will be made this year, the list including College Heights, South, East, Central, North and West Wards. Squads are noticeably larger this year, the smallest having 18 aspirants for places.

UTAH WINS FIRST

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 30 (AP)—Utah's victory-hungry civilians won their first game in eight starts today, blanking Navy-bolstered University of Idaho, southern branch, 24-0 on a rain-soaked field.

The Utes lost seven straight last season, won none.

Irish Show Power In Winning 58-0

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30 (AP)—Notre Dame's Irish, striking with unexpected speed and power, today served notice they'll again be very much in the running for the mythical national collegiate title they won last year as they smothered the University of Pittsburgh's Panthers under a barrage of aerials and a varied running attack, 58-0.

The Irish, slow in getting their offensive rolling, completely disintegrated the Panther defense as they rolled up 45 points in the second half. What semblance of defense Pitt had shown against the attack during the first two quarters fell to pieces when the Irish struck in the third period with such suddenness and sheer power it left the crowd of 50,000 breathless.

Overseas Troops Will Hear Series

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Troops in all overseas theaters are going to hear the world series games by radio.

The war department said today that the baseball broadcasts will have top priority on short-wave transmission facilities. For soldiers who are unable to hear the play-by-play direct from the ball parks, transcription rebroadcasts will be provided at later convenient hours.

Preflight Upsets Navy Team 21-14

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 30 (AP)—There was a mighty thud on the banks of the Severn today as North Carolina Preflight's Cloudbusters smashed Navy's potentially great football machine, 21-14, to dispel any hopes the Middies may have had of unchallenged 1944 rule.

It was the passing wizardry and all-around brilliance of Otis Graham, Northwestern's one-time scourge of the Big Ten conference, that brought about the Navy's downfall.

WISCONSIN WINS 7-6

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 30 (AP)—Freshman Earl Girard of Wisconsin lived up to all his advance football notices today and at the finish it was his perfect kick from placement that enabled the Badgers to nose out Northwestern, 7 to 6, in the opening Western conference game for both teams.

Chapman Leads Bums To Win Over Reds

BROOKLYN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Ben Chapman pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds today, making it necessary for the Reds to win tomorrow, with the Pittsburgh Pirates losing both games to Philadelphia, for the Redlegs to finish in second place.

BOSTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Jim Tobin chalked up his 18th victory of the season today when the Boston Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs 5 to 2 in the second of their four-game series.

If poverty is a blessing in disguise, the disguise is perfect.

Forsan Captures Coahoma Game

Forsan's Buffaloes displayed a marked improvement over their opening game performance and soundly drubbed the Coahoma six-man team 32-12 Friday afternoon on the loser's home field.

Forsan scored 25 points in the first half and seven more in the last, while Coahoma was tallying 12 points in the third period for their only scores.

Woodson, Coahoma star end, took two passes for the only scores of the losers.

Painter, right end for Forsan, took the ball across the double-stripe three times for 18 points, for the first three tallies made by the winners. Patterson, a substitute back shifted from end, swept across for the fourth tally, while fullback Gresset moved off left end for the final score. He also scored the extra point, while Milliken added the other point after touchdown earlier in the game by taking a pass from Painter.

Wash. Milliken and Painter stood out for Forsan defensively. Gresset and Bronaugh turned in several nice runs for the winners.

Forsan moves to Garden City Friday afternoon for a game with that team on home grounds.

Trojans Win 18-6 From Stagg Eleven

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30 (AP)—Southern California used its superior manpower and capitalized on the breaks to beat Amos Alonzo Stagg's College of the Pacific eleven today, 18 to 6.

The Trojans had the power and reserve strength to outlast the clever and resourceful Tigers from Stockton, Calif. The Stagg attack, based on a flanker either to right or left, bothered Southern California no end, and it kept high the interest of the crowd of 32,000.

The bumps along the highway of life are to keep us within the speed limit.

Bobby Layne Leads Longhorns In 20-0 Victory Over Southwestern

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Dashing Bobby Layne of Dallas gave the University of Texas a first period two-touchdown lead over Southwestern of Texas today and the Steers had to battle hard thereafter to win another marker and a 20 to 0 victory over the Pirates.

Layne retired after the first half and only in the final minutes of the game was substitute Leroy Anderson, a naval trainee from Pleasant Prairie, Wis., able to reach paydirt for the Longhorns.

Layne, clearly the sparkplug of Texas' running attack, went over first after Texas moved from the Pirates' 22 to the 13. Layne scooted end for three. Then he went to within inches of the goal. On fourth down he plunged over.

Soon after the initial score Texas, taking over deep in Pirate territory as the result of a back kick, moved from the 31 to the 5 from where Layne again crossed the goal. This time he converted.

Texas, generally expected to take to the air, was harassed by Pirgates who kept the Steer pass receivers blanketed. Not until the final minutes of the game were the Texas substitutes ready for their big show. The ball had seawaved across the grid and Texas helped itself greatly with a punt that rolled out on the Pirate 4.

Maxie Bell of Vernon received the Pirate kick and ran it back to the 35. Anderson carried around end to the 10. Bell dashed to the 4 and then Anderson went over.

Billy Andrews, Texas' manager and drop-kick specialist, took to the field and made his performance count an extra point for the Steers.

Indiana Rolls Over Michigan 20-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 30 (AP)—A powerful Indiana University football eleven rolled over favored Michigan today, sunning the Wolverines with a 20 to 0 setback in the first conference contest for the 1943 co-champions.

The Hoosiers took control of the game after a shaky start and scored in each of the last three quarters on drives of 56, 67 and 65 yards.

Back-To-Farm Movement Forecasted By Department Of Agriculture After War

By ROBERT E. GEIGER... DENVER, Oct. 1 (AP)—America's greatest back-to-the-farm migration is in full swing; the United States department of agriculture says more people are buying farms, all over the U. S., than ever before.

To O. C. Samuel, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association, it seems that everybody has the urge to own a little gray home in the west.

Soldiers want to buy farms with money they anticipate the government will pay or loan them after the war; war workers want to invest their savings in farm property where they can live after the war.

Real estate dealers tell the same story. There is a heavy demand for small places such as suburban property and summer vacation spots. But dozens of the west's greatest properties, involving ten of thousands of acres of land, have changed hands.

It's a seller's market. One appraiser estimates land prices in the midwest and west are up as

Bureau Of Mines Reports On Crude

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported today that stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum totaled 221,490,000 barrels on Sept. 23, a net decrease of 499,000 barrels for the week. Domestic crude decreased 54,000 barrels; foreign crude decreased 445,000.

Average daily production was 4,744,000 barrels, a decrease of 2,000. Runs to stills averaged 4,808,000, an increase of 25,000.

Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels) included: Arkansas, 2,864, inc. 6; Kansas, 8,439, dec. 63; Northern Louisiana 3,241, inc. 105; Gulf Coast Louisiana 9,819, inc. 335; Mississippi 1,011, dec. 8; New Mexico 6,668, inc. 137; Oklahoma 30,610, dec. 98; East Texas 19,678, inc. 228; West Texas 31,850, inc. 201; Gulf Texas 29,900, dec. 647; other Texas 27,055, inc. 67.

Department of agriculture statistics show that prices of farm products have declined after virtually every war and notably after the war of 1812; the Civil War and World War I.

Officials Warn Of Water Usage

City officials warn the people of Big Spring that too much water is being used and their cooperation is requested in reducing the amount.

Big Spring uses 1,300,000 gallons of water a day and officials request that this amount be cut at least 100,000 gallons or more. The field at section 33 should produce 500,000 gallons and 800,000 gallons are being pumped daily. This means that 300,000 gallons from the reserve are being used daily.

PARIS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Navy Minister Louis Jacquinot, in an interview today in the newspaper Liberation Solr, said "the rehabilitated French navy will participate in cooperation with the Allies in the Pacific war and it will certainly have the enthusiasm to participate in a big way."

ROBOTS HIT LONDON

Texan's Book Considered Best Of All Dealing With Returning Vets

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—"A civilian can be licked into shape as a soldier by the manual of arms and a drillmaster," says Dixon Wexler, "but no manual ever has been written for changing him back into a civilian."

Wexler wrote "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," the book hailed as the best summation to date of our No. 1 domestic problem. Aside from the pages of that volume, he has some pungent opinions about the soldier-to-civilian process and how it can be eased for all concerned. Wexler hails from Houston, Tex.; Baylor University at Waco, and later was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford.

People always have thought about the returning soldier too late to do anything for him, Wexler says, and so sometimes the soldiers do something for themselves as did the blackshirts of Italy, or, in singular number, Hitler in Germany.

Wexler, a college professor very unlike the traditional model, is a young man, and his teaching at the University of California (southern campus) has kept him close to young men. His idea that the GI "Bill of Rights" is the best plan up to now therefore carries weight.

"But we must be very careful that the bill is not emasculated," warns Wexler.

"I can see a few loopholes ready-prepared, too. There is the matter of ensuring the soldier his old job 'if he is capable of performing it.' That is susceptible of interpretation, and that means that a shyster can sometimes dodge it. The educational provisions so far made also are a little dubious.

"We civilians have got to understand the soldier. We must understand that after war people sometimes tend to repudiate wars and war things; we must be sure we don't shrug off the soldier, too.

"Certainly we must understand that the returning GI will detest spoonfeeding. He doesn't want to be regimented too much. He will want to be let alone, not made over too much, and not subjected to endless fetes and well-meant bores of that kind.

"And we must recognize a fundamental difference between our boys and the enemy. I have found that almost without exception, when the German counterpart of our GI talks seriously, he insists that he's just a little man without opinion—'Who am I, a man of no importance, to talk?'

"Our boys are not like that. Before induction, our boys did not consider themselves nonentities; either we do a good job for the GI, or he'll do it himself."

R Stamps Good For Off-Highway Uses

Effective Sept. 22, all gasoline filling stations began accepting off-highway "R" coupons. The Office of Price Administration emphasizes that "R" coupons may still be good only for non-highway purposes.

Acceptance by most filling stations of five-gallon "R" coupons was prohibited by amendment to OPA ration order 5-c, in effect since April 1, 1944. OPA claims that in national operation amendment 111 has not accomplished its intended purpose and has resulted in discrimination among various retail gasoline outlets. Consequently, the OPA has decided to revoke amendment 111.

Well, Maybe He Was Her Brother

"All Aboard" exhaled the conductor and the girl still clung to the soldier who was about to get on the train.

The engine exhaled a steamy "All Aboard" and the girl grabbed the service man, kissed him soundly and then stood near the track waving until the train was out of sight.

Presently, the west bound train chugged in, and the girl looked up and down the line of cars as passengers alighted.

A clean cut officer wearing European combat ribbons stepped from the train and the girl ran into his arms, sobbing his name and smothering him with kisses. He cried a little himself maybe and they disregarded those who stared.

At last they walked from the station arm in arm, and a negro porter who had seen the episode scratched his stubby temple and mumbled, "Well, the first boy COULD have been her brother."

USES Service Head Returns From Meet

Henry A. Clark, manager of the U. S. Employment Service in Big Spring, returned Thursday after a three day meeting of USES managers in Abilene.

USES managers from Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo and Big Spring discussed all phases of manpower utilization and the effect of predictions of Germany's capitulation by October 31 on the manpower situation. Optimistic outlooks have caused many war-workers to return to pre-war jobs, Clark said.

September Gone With No Proof Of Early Victory In European Battle

Associated Press War Analyst
September moved off the European war scene this weekend leaving behind it no conclusive evidence either way on whether struggles could reach a decisive stage on any front, east, west or south, before winter set in to checkmate Russian and Allied hopes of a quick victory.

Both President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reflected that in specifically refusing to guess when or how German collapse might come. Had the Arnhem bridge across the Neder Rhine, seized, then lost with heavy British "Red Devil" casualties, been held like those over the Maas and the Waal-Rhine it is probable that neither man would have voiced his warning against over optimism.

Both know, of course, what Eisenhower is now preparing in the west. Everybody, including the Nazis, knows that the directives under which he is operating call for victory at the earliest possible moment to cut Allied battle losses. That sufficiently dismisses the thought that a west front stalemate has yet been reached, or that the limited present Allied activity from Holland to the Swiss border is mere jockeying for position for a winter sit-down campaign.

It is anything but that in fact. It requires no inside information nor more than a layman's knowledge of the military art to be certain that Eisenhower and his Anglo-American subordinates are as eager now to force a decisive break - through into Germany before bad weather sets in as they were in June to force their way onto the continent via Normandy. Bad weather did not stop them then. The Arnhem disappointment, an operation that by every military criterion was 80 percent successful, will not halt them now. It only delayed them.

Nor should it be forgotten that there is another vitally important factor in Europe to be heard from as to the probable duration of the war there. That is Moscow. Neither Stalin nor any other accredited Soviet spokesman has had a recent say on that. Events in the east from the Baltic to the Danube gateways to the Balkans indicate that Russian thought on that point will be said in action, not words.

Infantry Badge Is Given Colorado Boy

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 30 — The combat infantry badge awarded Pfc. William L. Neff for superior performance of duty in the front lines of France has reached his family here to be added to what begins to resemble a collection of citations and medals. Already Pfc. Neff, runner with the Ninth Infantry and twice wounded since the invasion began, had been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds in the back and arm received ten days after the invasion of the French coast, the Silver Star for heroism and obedience to orders under rifle and machinegun fire and the bronze oakleaf cluster.

He speedily recovered from the wounds received June 16, rejoined his outfit and was severely wounded in the foot Aug. 12. His family has learned that he is recuperating in a base hospital somewhere in England and expects to be sent back to the states for treatment of a nerve severed by shrapnel.

Annual Hereford Show In Dallas In November

DALLAS, Sept. 30—The Texas State Fair grounds in Dallas will be the site of the greater Pan-American Hereford exposition slated Nov. 11-19. Instead of Arlington Downs as was first planned, Jack Frost, president of the Texas Hereford association, announced this week.

Difficulties in transportation of an expected attendance of possibly more than 100,000 or more can be met far better to the fair grounds than to Arlington site, association officials believe.

From the opening on Armistice Day, to be featured by a patriotic program, to the closing night, a continuous round of events has been planned and in addition to the exhibition and judging of Herefords, a rodeo will be held and a Palomino show, a quarter-horse show and a number of top flight entertainment events will be staged.

The $20,000 premium purse is the largest offered for any Hereford show in the country this year. Entries are coming in from many states and from Latin-American countries as well.

The show is under the direction of the association executive committee which includes James M. Brook, John C. Burns, Jack Frost, Wayne H. Hammon, W. P. Luse and Harrie Winston.
Entries for the 20 classifications of the show will close Oct. 20th.

Milk Shortage Is Investigated Here

Big Spring dairymen will meet Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the county courthouse, City Manager B. J. McDaniel said Saturday. The meeting has been called in an attempt to ascertain reasons for a milk shortage.

At a meeting of city officials and officials from the Big Spring Bombardier school last Thursday it was revealed that this area is furnished with only half of the supply of milk it needs. The meeting of creamery and dairymen has been called in attempt to bring the supply up, but if local producers are unable to meet the needs, it may become necessary to import condensed milk and cream to be diluted here and sold as ungraded milk.

Live Hog Ceiling Not To Be Lowered

The Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration with the approval of the director of economic stabilization have announced that ceiling prices on live hogs will not be reduced from present levels prior to June 30, 1945.

Ceiling prices are $14.75 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing 240 pounds or less and $14.00 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing more than 240 pounds. The War Food Administration also stated that the support price of $12.50 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, for good to choice butcher hogs weighing 200 to 240 pounds, which becomes effective on Oct. 1, as heretofore announced for the period ending March 31, 1945, will be continued until June 30, 1945.

Billy Bob Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rogers, who was inducted into the navy recently, has reported for boot camp training at San Diego. He formerly served as drum major at Big Spring High school two years.

Gillette Accuses Petroleum Industry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) accused the petroleum industry today of trying to "squeeze out" the farmer and get a "postwar synthetic rubber monopoly."

The senator, chairman of a special committee which has fostered the domestic synthetic rubber business, said in a statement that oil interests are trying to get the monopoly by diverting premium gasoline components to synthetic rubber, at the expense of civilian gasoline supplies and, possibly, at the expense of high-octane aviation gasoline for the armed forces.

Dixon Tells Graduating Bombers Of Flier's Reactions In Combat

"There are two kinds of men in combat—those that are eager and those that have been there before," said Lt. L. E. Dixon, a veteran bombardier with 10 months action in Africa and Italy, in addressing the graduates of class 44-13 Saturday morning at the Big Spring Bomber School post theatre.

Now a bombardier instructor here, Lt. Dixon was wing commander of the second class of bombardiers to finish training at the school.

"All men are scared in combat," he declared, "and over enemy territory you begin to sweat—even though the temperature is fifty below zero."

As a member of replacement crew 13, Lt. Dixon made his first raid on Friday 13th, but nothing particularly exciting happened and it was on his third raid that he got his first real scare. The black cloud that is a flak burst enveloped the nose of his bomber, and when he had time to realize what had happened he found himself in the navigator's lap. Reaching up to scratch his head, he discovered blood on his hand. "I thought I was dead," he said. But back at his base a thorough examination revealed the blood came from a scratch caused by two little pins on the navigator's lieutenant bars. The flak had missed again.

However, it failed to miss every time during his 62 missions over Italy, Greece, Austria and Germany, and Lt. Dixon, whose home is in St. Louis, Mo., brought home a Purple Heart and two clusters to go with his Air Medal and six clusters and Presidential group citation.

In concluding he reminded the graduates that their job was destruction and repeated a tribute once paid by a General:

"The whole mission depends on the bombardier. In his hands in thirty seconds he holds the success or failure of that run." Lt. Col. Gerald F. Keeling, deputy for training and operations, awarded the silver bombardier wings after Capt. Pierre W. Curie had administered the oath of office.

Second Lt. R. J. Willhite of Mission, Kans., cadet wing commander and president of the honor council, responded for the class, the largest ever to finish here, comparing the position of the graduates to that of a boxer who must be thoroughly trained in the art of boxing before he is ready for the big bout that can make him a champion.

"Each of us will do our very utmost to return a champion," he promised. Cadet awards went to Lt. Lester D. Warren, McLemoresville, Tenn., best bombardier and best scholar, who made the highest academic record in the history of the school, which has graduated 4,000 bombardiers, in spite of the fact that he has never attended a high school; Lt. Fred Cobb, Jr. of Norman, Okla., outstanding athlete; and Lt. Willhite, best soldier.

Chaplain Thomas J. McDonald gave the invocation and benediction, and the post orchestra played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "La Marseillaise" in honor of the Frenchmen graduating with the class.

Regular Hours Scheduled Here For Rationing

With the rush of gasoline rationing applications and quarterly office reports, the Howard county rationing office will observe regular hours starting Monday.

For the past three weeks the office has been open only in the afternoon. Effective Monday, said B. F. Robbins, general chairman, it will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. Clerks will be on duty during the noon hour.

Sam Goldman, chairman of the gasoline panel, Saturday called attention to an important resolution adopted by the group which set the policy that all gasoline ration applications must be turned into the office.

In the past, in emergency cases, applications were submitted to board members, but under the new rule, all applications must first be submitted to the ration office. In cases of emergency, the office will contact board members, but otherwise, the application must await turn on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Veteran Fund Drive Has Good Beginning

Campaign sponsored by the Ray E. Fuller post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the purchase of an iron lung for Big Spring was off to a good start at the end of the first week with a total of $491 reported to date.

Money collected will be held separately until enough has been collected to secure an iron lung for emergency services in this area.

Additional donors to the fund, previously reported at $201, are: Dr. E. H. Hapell $2.00, Mrs. Louise McClinton 1.00, W. J. Garrett 2.00, Mrs. Dora Roberts 250.00, Shine Phillips 1.00, Mrs. Shine Phillips 1.00, Bill Daves 1.00, Agnes Currie 5.00, Judge and Mrs. James T. Brooks 25.00, W. J. Broadus 2.00. Total $491.00.

Local Men Visit Von Roeder Farms

Representatives of several West Texas towns visited the Von Roeder farms in southern Borden county last Friday.

The group saw 2900 acres of cotton in cultivation. Owners predicted that they would get 30,000 bushels of planting seed.

Fred Keating, superintendent of the Big Spring U.S. Experimental Farm, T. S. Currie and J. H. Greene were representatives from Big Spring. Other West Texas towns represented were Winters, Coleman, Ballinger, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Lorraine, Hermleigh, Snyder, Dunn, Colorado City, Westbrook, Tahoka, Lamesa, Brownfield and Coahoma.

should awaken more people to the surprising operations the Von Roeder brothers have in southern Borden county. Besides 2,900 acres of cotton, much of which will average out a bale to the acre, the farm has returned heavy grain yields. Also on the place is an orchard with 3,000 fruit trees, about 80 per cent peach, 15 per cent plum and the rest miscellaneous. It is a revelation to see this place.

More women are needed to help with the folding of surgical dressing in the Red Cross room. In the name of love and humanity, aren't there enough women to step in and help the faithful few do the job.

The pretty young woman crowned queen of the Big Spring high school band Friday evening at the football game was Miss Bobby June Bobb. A junior in high school, she won the post in spirited voting last week. At the game, the band formed a big arrow-shaped heart with Bobby June in the center. Henceforth she will march with the band.

Location of a wildcat oil test near Cosden refinery calls to mind the "air well" several years ago when 285 million cubic feet of almost pure nitrogen gas roared from a 10-inch hole with such force it demolished a derrick, defied all efforts to shut it in and created a din audible in Big Spring for weeks.

Decision Coming On Juvenile Trial

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30 (AP)—Juvenile Referee Albert L. Doyle said tonight at the end of a two-day closed hearing that he would render a written verdict Monday or Tuesday in the case of former Actor Jack Cooper and three other persons charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors at a hotel party last July.

"The amount of evidence is too voluminous and the possibility of error too great to warrant a hasty decision," Doyle said after hearing three of the defendants take the stand to deny the charges categorically. Tried with Cooper, a 22-year-old Navy V-12 student stationed at the University of Notre Dame, were George Bender, 24, of Sheffield, Ill., also a V-12 student; Miss Pauline Frederick, a 19-year-old South Bend girl, and Ollie Lowery, 49, a bar waiter employed by the hotel where the defendants admitted a party was held in three rooms the night of July 22.

Let's Demand Justice

The Weak Nations

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Writer

It would be extraordinary indeed if the blueprint of a workable scheme for the management of world peace should spring out of the Dumbarton Oaks conference of the U. S., Great Britain and Russia, with a vacant chair representing China, and that this blueprint should immediately be welcomed with shouts of delight from all the other nations, United and axis, with nary a dissenting voice.

We all know this isn't possible, and if you think it through you'd agree it isn't desirable. Great movements of this kind do not spring, like Minerva, full-paneled from the brow of Jupiter. They are the product of toll, sweat, blood and tears pretty much the same as war.

We failed in 1919, but mankind did not lose hope. We will not fail this time, at least not with the same degree of completeness. As a matter of historic fact the 1919 failure was not complete by a long shot. Where we failed was in not creating a league that would prevent or quarantine war.

America failed the world in 1919, due almost entirely to unregenerate partisan forces representing the hermit or isolationist school of statecraft. We would make a fatal mistake to imagine that these forces are dead in America; they are not dead, only sleeping.

It is unfortunate that as Dumbarton Oaks proceeded with its deliberations—deliberations that promise so much to mankind—that certain terms terminology should be created and thrust into the public ken from a purely selfish political motive. These dissident forces have not the political guts to come out in the open; that would be politically fatal. So they adopt veiled words and the burrowing tactics of the mole.

A good example of this type of sabotage was the cry that went up about the Big Four nations planning to shut the little nations out in the cold.

"Hold! You shall not crush the little nations and deny them a voice in management of world peace!" these agonized voices cried. The implication was that the U. S., Britain, Russia and China, like four bad wolves, were preparing to gobble up the universe.

There is not the slightest shred of credible evidence that anything of the sort was even contemplated at Dumbarton Oaks, much less plotted; but the saboteurs of strong peace had the satisfaction of knowing their baseless protest created suspicion of the conferees throughout the world. It was much more effective than a blast from Goebbels' propaganda agency.

When these gentlemen shout that the big strong nations mustn't use their strength to a greater extent than the little weak nations are allowed to use theirs, just what little weak nations are they talking about? When this war is over, Germany and Japan are going to be little weak nations. Do these viewers-with-alarm mean to insist that Germany and Japan should have as much voice in creating and managing cooperative peace as even the littliest of the United Nations? Do they mean Italy should have as much say as the United States, or Romania as Great Britain, or Japan as Russia? If they do, they are crazy with the heat.

Meantime, if they need stepping on, or if any other obnoxious though "weak" nation needs

Time is ripe for planning a vigorous campaign for constitutional justice when next the legislature convenes.

At that time, Governor Coke Stevenson is due to not only renew his appeal for obedience to the constitutional mandate for redistricting of the state for representative purposes, but he also may give it a "preferred status and thus cut much legislative red tape.

While this will be encouraging, it will be no sort of assurance that the job will be done. Indeed, the mandate has been ignored by successive legislatures since 1920 in open violation of the state constitution, and there is no reason to believe that anything short of a powerful exertion of public sentiment will swing the deal now.

Long a champion of the redistricting cause, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is about to renew its drive in concert with the South Texas Chamber of Commerce. The redistricting proposal is on the WTCC referendum ballot and it goes without saying that it will be approved unanimously. An increasingly militant move for representative justice has been developing in the fast-developing section from Corpus Christi to the lower Rio Grande valley.

By invigorating our own demands, joining with South Texas and enlisting support of those neutral areas, we may be able to force the issue, which has been dodged solely out of selfishness and unfairness for the past 20 years.

Certainly, some representatives may be unseated by the change. Some sections will find themselves with less voting power in the legislature. But if that is the way the chips fall, then it is right.

Ours is supposed to be a representative form of government. To continue to allow the older and originally settled sections of the state a disproportionate share of representation and at the same time deprive the newer and growing sections of a just share is to make a mockery of representation.

We've put off a showdown fight on this long enough. Let's roll up our sleeves now, draw our plans and be ready to fight to victory next January.

You Can Help With This

Every day the American public is impressed with the fact that mail is of utmost importance to the serviceman's morale, and that what the serviceman thinks is due to have an important bearing on what takes place after the war.

The Big Spring chamber of commerce wants to do something about these angles by writing to the approximately 3,000 servicemen of this section to give greetings and get their ideas or plans on post-war activities.

The task has become almost hopeless as a result of lack of cooperation by parents and friends of the servicemen in sending addresses of the men to the chamber of commerce.

The Business and Professional Women's organization has volunteered to get these addresses by obtaining the names of relatives and requesting them directly. An attached card will be handy for mailing the name, serial number and complete address of the serviceman to the chamber of commerce.

You don't have to wait to be asked however. Won't you drop a card today to the chamber so that your son or husband may be contacted for his ideas too?

stepping on, we hope the new and better league of nations will be so geared that it can step on them and mash them as flat as a flitter. Not perhaps, but absolutely and quickly.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Ernie Pyle: Eye-Witness Account Of Artillery Battle Sees Little Actual Fight

By ERNIE PYLE

AT THE FRONT LINE IN TUNISIA, Feb. 1943—We drove our jeep under a tree, camouflaged it by covering it with limbs, and then walked up the side of a hill for about 500 yards.

Half a mile to the south of us the battle for Ousseltia Pass in Central Tunisia was going on.

We stopped in what is known as a forward command post, from which a battle is directed. This one consisted of a sort of 20 foot square, well hidden under a tree. However, the whole tent had been dropped down and simply lay like a tarpaulin covering the officers' bedrolls and bags. All the work was being done around two field telephones lying in their leather cases on the ground ten feet from the tent.

The rocky hillside was covered with little bushes and small fir trees. The sun was out and the day was rather warm. There were no papers or desks or anything standing and sitting on the ground. One officer had a large map case. That's all the paraphernalia there was for directing the battle.

Our troops were on top of a ridge about a quarter of a mile above us. The enemy was in the valley beyond, and on a parallel ridge a mile farther on. We could walk up and look over, but we couldn't see anything. Both sides were well hidden in the brush.

Every minute or two our nearby artillery would fire, and then half a minute or so later we could hear faintly the explosion of the shells far away.

"Nobody's doing much damage right now," an officer said, "but at least we're getting in ten shots to their one."

Now and then a louder and much nearer blast interrupted us. When I asked what size gun this was, an officer said it wasn't a gun—it was enemy mortar shells exploding. I supposed they were three or four miles away, but he said they were falling only 800 yards from us.

Once in a while we could hear machine gun fire in the distance. A young lieutenant stood near the phones and did all the talking over them. In fact he appeared to be making all the decisions. And he impressed me as knowing his business remarkably well.

The highest officer around was a lieutenant colonel, but he seemed to leave everything to the lieutenant, and at every signal of approaching planes he ran to a nearby foxhole and stayed there 'til the planes had gone.

The phone rang every few minutes. Other command posts would be calling in to report or to ask instructions. Now and then the chief post, some 15 miles back, would call and ask how things were going.

Officers and enlisted men kept appearing from down below or over the hill asking about things. One sergeant came to inquire where a certain post was, saying he had two jeep tires and a tire for an anti-tank gun that he was supposed to deliver.

Another sergeant, wearing an overcoat, came up the hill, saluted formally, and reported that a certain battery setup was ready to fire. They told him to go ahead.

A phone rang. The captain of an ack-ack battery said the enemy had his range and asked permission to move. He was told to go ahead. All the conversation was informal and unexcited.

A phone rang again. An officer at another command post was asking for a decision on whether to move forward. The young lieutenant, apparently not wishing to give direct orders to a higher officer, solved the problem by putting his words in the form of advice, sprinkling two or three "sirs" in every sentence. I thought he handled it beautifully.

Now and then the lieutenant would phone some other post. All the posts have code terms such as "hatrack" and "monsoon" and "Chicago." I've just made those up as examples, since naturally I can't print the real code names.

town where two tanks had been disabled that morning. Several times he phoned other posts to check up on a colonel who was wandering around the battle area in a jeep. You could tell they were very fond of the colonel, and that he apparently paid little attention to danger.

There were no planes in the sky when we arrived, but that morning the Germans had been over and bombed and strafed our troops badly. The command post had called for air support, but somebody at the other end said the planes were busy on other missions and "You'll just have to grin and bear it."

The men around our post spoke cynically about that remark all afternoon. "Grin and bear it, eh?" they would say. "Well, we'll bear it but we won't guarantee to grin."

But in the late afternoon our planes did come. First we didn't know they were ours, so we all took to the foxholes. Finally, after they had flown overhead a couple of times without doing anything, somebody yelled: "They are definitely ours!"

So we came out. The planes circled for about ten minutes hunting for the correct spot in the bush-covered mountainside. They seemed to take their time at it, to make sure, and then finally they started peeling off one at a time and came diving at a hillside a mile away.

They'd dive and then wheel back high into the sky and dive again.

Apparently there was no enemy attack, for there were no black puffs around the planes. We could hear their machine guns, and their cannon shells bursting.

They kept on diving and shooting for about 15 minutes. Pretty soon an officer came running up the hill to say:

"Do you see that? Those damned Germans are mixed up and strafing hell out of the Italians!"

When we told him they were our planes he said "Oh!" and went back down the hill.

Today And Tomorrow

ALL THAT GLITTERS

By WALTER LIFFMANN

There is in the making a very serious misunderstanding over "what kind of peace," as Mr. Roosevelt said in the Senate the other day, "the organization now being discussed at Dumbarton Oaks is being set up to enforce."

The text of the Senator's speech shows that he is talking about the covenant of the old League and not about the charter which has begun to take shape at Dumbarton Oaks. For Article X of the Covenant was generally interpreted as an undertaking to guarantee by force the status quo — the boundaries, the colonial possessions of 1919.

Senator Bridges objects to such an undertaking. But so does every one else who has thought about it: it would make it practically impossible to carry out peaceably any changes, however just or necessary they might be. There has been no suggestion, quite the contrary in fact, that the new charter would contain any such guaranty. Thus the object of the new organization is to make it possible to effect peaceable change and to outlaw war as a method of bringing about change.

Senator Bridges contends, and there are a number of senators who agree with the senator, that unless the affairs of Europe and Asia are first settled to his satisfaction, the United States should not participate in the organization of world peace. As the price of American participation he demands that the Soviet Union scrap its policy toward Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia; that Great Britain revamp, or perhaps abandon, her colonial empire; that France, the Netherlands and Portugal do something—just what he does not say—about their colonial empires. Then when everything is as he thinks it should be, he is willing to make the effort to prevent another world war.

Yet surely the senator must know that all the affairs of the world will not now and cannot now be settled to the satisfaction of Senator Bridges and of all the other inhabitants of the globe. That is the very reason for trying to organize against another war. If omniscience backed by omnipotence could now make a peace that every one will like, we could spare ourselves the trouble of trying to preserve peace. We should have a lasting peace, and we could turn over in bed and go to sleep.

So when Senator Bridges says there must be a perfectly satisfactory settlement before we organize to prevent war, the next thing we know he will go back and tell the people of Concord, N. H., where he lives, that they must not have a fire department until every building in town is fireproof.

The senator, speaking as an expert on the long and tangled history of eastern Europe and the Balkans, has reached and pronounced judgment: the Soviet Union is perpetrating "cynical outrages against the small nations of Europe." The test of the value of such a judgment is to ask the Senator whether he proposes to have the United States forbid these eastern European settlements, and if the Soviet Union backs down, whether he will then vote to get together with America and tell the people of Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Romania.

Senator Bridges has no intention of doing anything of the sort.

On the contrary. He is saying to the small nations; refuse to come to terms with your big neighbor. He is saying to the Soviet Union: if you do not back down in eastern Europe, we shall back away from all of Europe and all the world, and incidentally from all the small nations of which we are the champions — the champions in principle, mind you, but not in fact.

The senator imagines that he is promoting moral principles by uttering a tremendous threat — the threat that the United States will withdraw into isolation. He ought to lose no time in realizing that you cannot control other great powers by threatening to withdraw — that is to say to run away from them.

I wonder if he has ever stopped to think what could happen in the world if the other nations became convinced that the United States was going to withdraw into isolation if they did not permit us to lay down the law to them on the affairs of Europe and Asia and Africa. Does he think that the Soviet Union, for example, would take, while she has the power to take it, more strategic security, or less strategic security, in eastern Europe, in the Balkans, in Germany, in the Mediterranean, in the Middle East, and in the Far East? If we withdraw into armed isolation having challenged her interests throughout the world, does he think Great Britain would do nothing to find other allies and to make other arrangements? Does he not realize that if we now choose isolation unless we can dictate, the other great powers are more likely than not to take measures to see that we remain so thoroughly isolated that we cannot dictate?

It is about time we learned to stop debating the moral currency by issuing promises and threats we cannot and will not redeem. In international affairs it is not moral but immoral to announce principles and to deliver moral judgments which the nation is unable or unwilling to back up. When we promise what we shall not fulfill, when we denounce what we shall not resist, we are weakening the moral law by bogus moralizing. We are, though we present ourselves as the guardians of morals, teaching mankind that we do not mean to do what we say and that we do not say what we mean to do.

The power of this nation which is now very great has been won with the heart's blood of our people, and to possess such power is an awe-inspiring responsibility. We must not diddle it away but must jealously and scrupulously conserve it, so that in the eyes of mankind our power may long command their trust, their affection, and their respect. When we speak, they must know we have realized the consequences, and that what we say is to be believed. In this way we can be honest servants of the moral law, preaching to others only those principles we ourselves mean to observe, promoting those principles elsewhere only when we have realized the costs and are prepared to meet them.

Then our diplomatic promises, our senatorial utterances and the utterances of public men will not tokens but solid gold and truly valid. And though we issued fewer promises and threats, those we did issue would command instant and complete respect. Copyright, 1944, New York Tribune Inc.

Washington— Government Faces Demobilization

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Without any fanfare, Director Harold D. Smith's Budget Bureau has gone to work on one of the most important of our postwar problems—demobilization of our wartime government.

The enormous size of wartime government (nearly three million full time employees in the United States and approximately 400,000 working in foreign lands) has been a political football for a long time.

Economy-minded Sen. Harry F. Byrd thinks we could lop off something short of a half a million employees right now without impairing the efficiency of our government. Numerous anti-administration members of Congress, up for reelection, are predicting or promising there will be a cut-back of up to two million employees as soon as the war is over on both fronts.

So far as the coming elections are concerned, there can't be very much political about the Budget Bureau survey and its blueprints for demobilization. It isn't likely that the report can possibly be made public before the country goes to the polls in November.

The general feeling here is that we will be only minor cutbacks in European personnel when the war in Europe is over and that after the end of global war, our reduction won't equal anything like two million. In other words, big government is here to stay.

Arthur S. Flemming, who is the Republican member of the Civil Service Commission, virtually assured government workers of this the other day when he told a group that although there would be some reductions after V-E-day and some reductions after V-P-day, that government probably would be larger than it ever was in pre-war times.

Although Flemming emphasized that neither he nor any one else could foretell the size of postwar government, the problems of demobilization, almost world wide rehabilitation, and our virtually certain greater participation in world affairs will necessitate far more employees than before World War II.

More than two million workers have joined the government rolls

That's why the Budget Bureau blueprint, next to that for demobilization of the armed forces, is likely to be one of the most vital of our domestic peacetime plans.

Washington is particularly interested. Government employment here has pumped from around 130,000 to more than 270,000. When the men and women in uniform leave the capital, a drastic cutback in federal workers probably would create a private depression for the city.

Worrell Scores As Yearlings Lose 13-6

George Worrell, back, scored the only touchdown for Big Spring as the Yearlings absorbed a 16-6 drubbing at the hands of the Tahoka B in Tahoka Thursday evening.

The victory was a costly one for the Yearlings, for it cost them the services of Jim Bill Little, who went out with a broken leg. Jim Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Little, was resting well Saturday at the Malone & Hogan hospital.

Andrews Devonian Test Holds Area Spotlight

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, Sept. 30 — Improvement of the oil showing in Stanolind No. 1-D University, southwestern Andrews county wildcat, as it deepened in line identified by the operator as Devonian, held the top spot in West Texas development this week.

Wildcatting accounted for two locations in Andrews county and one each in Terry, Martin and Crockett counties.

In the outstanding sale, Permian Oil Corp. of California was reported reliably, but without official confirmation, to have sold its stock to Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. for between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. Its holdings included 58 wells and some undeveloped acreage in the Slaughter field in Hockley county and scattered wildcat leases in Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, Garza, Gaines and Scurry counties.

Stanolind No. 1-D University, indicated Devonian strikes in Andrews county, recovered 60 feet of oil and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test to 8,150 feet and 540 feet of gas-cut mud on a drillstem test from 8,144 to 8,251 feet, after which it unloaded five stands of oil and mud and yielded 90 feet of free oil testing 42 gravity and oil-cut mud.

Stanolind picked the top of the Devonian at 7,965 feet, 4,638 feet below sea level. Location is the C SE SW 8-11-U, five miles northwest of the Embar Ellenburger field.

British American No. 1 McCrea, C SE SW 1-A-48-Psi, seven-eighths mile southwest extension to Clear Fork lime production in the Rullerton field in northwestern Andrews, flowed 50 barrels of oil hourly after retreating the entire pay section to total depth of 7,043 feet with 10,000 gallons of acid.

Magnolia staked No. 1 C. E. Summerlin C SE NE 2-A-48-Psi, quarter mile north and one-half mile west of the British American well.

Shell and Cities Service spotted No. 1 Ratliff and Bedford, probable 11,000-foot wildcat in southwestern Andrews C NE NW 4-73-Psi, and Magnolia staked No. 1 Jos. Martin, slated Fullerton pay wildcat C NW NW 13-A-47-Psi, six miles south of Mid-Continent No. 1-7 University, Siluro - Devonian discovery 1-2 miles south of the Fullerton field.

Leland Fikes and John Marchison of Dallas started No. 1 C. R. Alexander, proposed 5,500-foot wildcat in northwestern Terry county 670 from the north, 542 feet from the west line of section 18-K-Psi, eight miles southwest of the Slaughter field.

Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth staked No. 1 E. W. Hyatt, slated 6,500-foot wildcat in northwestern Martin county, 4,417.5 from the north, 8,345.62 feet from the west line of league 247, Hartley county school land survey.

Richfield Oil Corp. will drill 8,000 feet if necessary to explore the Ellenburger on the central Crockett county ranch of Archie Bean of San Angelo, C SW NW 13 - UV - GC & SF, six miles east-southeast of the Todd Deep field, which has crinoidal and Ellenburger pays.

Magnolia No. 1 State - O. Z. Flood in southwestern Crane county, in section 20-3-H & TC, was abandoned at 6,181 feet after encountering sulphur water in the Ellenburger. It had failed in the Waddell section of the Simpson, the producing horizon in Continental No. 1 Jones, opener of the McKee Simpson pool, one mile to the north.

First well on the Upton county side of the Crossett field, Texas' first Devonian producing area, Atlantic No. 1 fee, C W W 47-35-H & TC, flowed 15 barrels of oil hourly after acidizing with 1,000 gallons through upper perforations from 5,370-96 feet. It was to complete after retreating this zone and perforated section from 5,400-20 feet from which it flowed 12 barrels hourly. The well is a quarter mile northeast of Texas No. 1-A C. W. Hobbs estate, the discovery, in southeastern Crane county.

Humble No. 1-B O. W. Williams in northwestern Pecos county, in section 20-19-GC&SF, became the second completed producer in the Fort Stockton field, pumping 143-22 barrels of oil in 24 hours from the Yates sand at plugged back depth off 2,945 feet.

The best oil showing yet encountered in the Silurian in the Wheeler Ellenburger field in eastern Winkler county was credited to Stanolind - Shell No. 1-C Wheeler, C SE NW 12-B7-Psi. The northwest outpost, drillstem testing to 9,346 feet, flowed eight stands of oil-cut water blanket and recovered considerable oil-cut mud.

Hollywood— Movieland Love Flops Off-Stage

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Not long ago RKO threw a party to welcome Cantinflas, Mexico's comic, and among the guests were a young movie couple who held hands and looked adoringly at each other — and next day Lucille Ball, the girl, was heading for court to divorce Desi Arnaz the boy.

Ordinarily, Hollywood is alleged to be "surprised" by the collapse of one of its "perfect" marriages. As a matter of fact, Hollywood isn't surprised by anything in the romantic line any more, and neither should you be, unless you're an unured romanticist, in which case you'll be knocked groggy instantly.

When movie mamas cry at their darlings' weddings, you don't know whether they're weeping because it's the thing to do or because they're wondering how many more times they'll have to stand around solemnly while daughter takes some man for better or for worse, till death does them part or they tell it to a judge.

This deathless love you see glorified in the movies is fine for the boxoffice, but most of the folks who purvey it can't seem to find it. Maybe they spend so much time in the purveying they haven't time for practice, or maybe they're just acting.

Acting. Brother, some of the best is done off-screen. That's why magazine editors get gray. They get a story in type and on the presses about the "perfect marriage" of this star or that, and by the time the yarn is on the stands the divorce petition is on the files.

The "perfect marriage" angle took its biggest nosedive that time Mary Pickford and Doug Fairbanks hit the rocks, which should have been a lesson to everybody but wasn't. Recently it was Jennifer Jones and Robert Walker — ah, what a romantic pair! Weathering a long uphill pull together, getting their big breaks almost simultaneously, mamma and papa to two sturdy, cherubic boys — what a set-up to beat the old Hollywood two-career jinx! So what? You guessed it.

The Hollywood girls make beautiful brides. Ann Sheridan, Joan Fontaine, Anne Shirley, Veronica Lake, Ilona Massey, Esther Williams, Martha O'Driscoll and Lana Turner were beauties. Even some of the currently happy marriages (as of today only) are second, third, or fourth tries for one or both principals.

Age seems to have little to do with the longevity of the vows. Mickey Rooney, Jerry Garland and Deanna Durbin (and Deanna had such a purty wedding, too, with flowers and wedding cake and flowing champagne) all have "exes" now. Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, solid citizens both, had one of those "marriages that worked" — until suddenly it didn't.

Ida Lupino and Louis Hayward, despite the movie-favored tradition that war heroes come home to romantic bliss ever after, are at odds. And at the far end of the age-scale it's Louis B. Mayer, the boss man himself, demonstrating that a 30-year carriage can crack up as finally as a gin-struck elopement. And here's an item about Donald Crisp, 64, and his parting from scenarist Jane Murnin.

Of course there are some couples out here that stick it out for years, and maybe will prove it was for keeps. But we old cynics aren't believing anything, not even when they play "Hearts and Flowers" for background music.

Man was created with two ends: one to think with and one to sit on. His success depends on which he uses most.
